This Town— That World

A fisherman who was dragged from the lake, spouting water, is said to have been heard mumbling something about if you can't lick 'em jine 'em.

THIS HELPS

Councilman Watt Hale has been just about ready to give up on the human race again, his faith in mankind shaken to the foundations, and all that, but now everything is all right, his faith is restored and he beams benignly on homo sapiens again.

What put him in good shape again, he says, is a touching little family scene he witnessed, the other morning. He stood watching a man harnessing his mules so that his wife could get started early on the day's plowing. "And, you know," the Councilman reports, "that man didn't use one word of profanity all the time he was doing that hard work for his woman!"

GO, YOUNG MAN

A press bureau sends us a "suggested editorial" on vacation plans that has a paragraph reading like this:

"Don't drive 5,000 unnecessary miles to find a lake where the fishing is always 'good.' You can fail to catch as many fish 50 miles from home as you can 2,500 miles away. And it isn't as expensive and nerve-racking."

PARTY PEACE DOUBTED HERE

Clements And Chandler Reported in Agreement For November Election

The Courier-Journal story reporting statements from informed sources to the effect that Senator Earle C. Clements and Gov. A. B. Chandler may have reached some sort of agreement on Kentucky politics for the coming November election was read with skepticism here this week.

Although no Floyd county source professed any intimate knowledge of the state of affairs between the two men, one said he saw no prospect of compromise. He pointed out that Ex-Governor Wetherby and his Louisville friends will never accept any "arrangement" with Governor Chandler.

For whatever the story is worth, The Courier-Journal reported that the names of former Governors Wetherby and Keen Johnson were mentioned at a meeting of Chandler and Clements last week as Democratic candidates for the Senate seat held by the late Alben W. Barkley.

The newspaper said this was what happened at a meeting last week between the two Democratic factional enemies:

Chandler asked for the chairman of the Democratic delegation to the national convention at Chicago, the Democratic national committee man's post from Kentucky, and the Kentucky delegation's support for president for a few ballots.

In return he agreed to appoint to the Barkley senate seat right away anyone the Democratic State Central Executive Committee nominates to run for the unexpired four years in November.

The newspaper said Chandler would not appoint Wetherby, a Clements ally, so Clements is willing to put up Johnson in the interest of party harmony. The committee.

Hill Announces Rule For Liquor Probation

RUM OFFENSE GUILTY PLEAS TO CUT TIME

Of First-Time Offenders But Probation Officer To Scrutinize Record

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill said this week he has decided upon a probation plan in some liquor cases which he thinks will serve to prevent future violations by those convicted.

The plan applies only to first-time offenders. Briefly, it is this: If the defendant enters a plea of guilt, sentence will be passed and after not less than 10 days nor more than 15 days of serving a jail term remainder of the term will be remitted under probation, with the remaining 15 to 20 days held over the head of the defendant for a period of five years. The probation order would provide that probation would be revoked if the probationer violates the liquor laws within this five-year period. In addition, the probationer would be required, as usual and according to law, to execute a peace bond for a period of 12 months.

Judge Hill said he proposes to include in each order of probation of directive to the state probation officer in this county to report on each person under probation every three months. If the reputation of the

Kentucky Newsmen Rate High on Picking Winners In May Primary Election

Kentucky's editors did better than Dr. Gallup and other better-known prognosticators have been known to do when they were polled on the political situation, including the May primary in this state.

The poll, conducted by the AM-TV staff of WHAS, elicited the opinions of 63 newspapers representing all parts of the state.

Forty-seven of the 63 picked Senator Clements to defeat Joe B. Bates; seven picked Bates, and three others indicated the race

Masons of District 36 To Meet Here, June 16th; Grand Master To Speak

James E. Goble

Zebulon Lodge No. 273, F. & A. M., here, now in its 102nd year, will be host on Saturday, June 16, to the 13 lodges of District 36, of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, in the annual district meeting. The district is composed of the Eastern Kentucky counties of Floyd, Pike, Johnson, and Martin.

Most Worshipful Grand Master Fred B. Layman, Harned, Ky., will deliver the principal address. Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master J. W. Hall, Martin, Ky., and other Grand Lodge officers are expected to attend. District Deputy Grand Master James E. Goble, Prestonsburg, will preside at the business meeting.

Opening event of the meeting will be a dinner at 6:30 p.m., at Masonic Hall. The Lodge will be opened by Estill Howell, Master of Zebulon Lodge. All Master Masons are invited.

District Deputy Grand Master Goble is a Past Master of Zebulon Lodge, is present King of Prestonsburg Chapter No. 182, R.A.M., and a member of Pikeville Commandery.

NEW BUSINESS HOUSES BEGUN

Prestonsburg Concerns To Occupy Court Street Structures Being Built

Two business buildings on Court street were nearing completion this week, and construction of a third was being started on lots formerly occupied by old, frame structures.

The three new buildings will have attractive brick fronts, with concrete block side and rear walls and will be of almost fireproof construction. The structures now being completed are the Tom Oak McGuire building which will be occupied by Castle's Jewelry Store and the William Young Building to house Young's Shoe Shop. Each is 14 x 42 feet.

Being started is the Curt Homes building which will be occupied by his tailoring shop. Of construction similar to the other two, Mr. Homes' building will be 16 1/2 by 68 feet.

The three structures will occupy lots purchased from Mrs. Josephine Harkins Browning, opposite the Bank Josephine.

DISPUTE HITS GYM BUILDING

Architects' Firm Hassle Prompts Checkup Order; Walk Easement Granted

A row between members of the firm of architects which planned the auditorium-gymnasium here caused the Floyd County Board of Education this week to direct that the foundation footer be checked before construction begins.

The County School Superintendent's office said a break between H. Clell Hayes, Ashland architect who planned the structure, and his engineer, Payne, was followed by a statement by Payne to the effect that the footer ought to be checked, that he did not want to be responsible.

"We feel," said Superintendent Virgil O. Turner, "that the footer is all it should be, but we can't afford to take a chance; so the Board has ordered that an independent and reputable engineering firm check the strength of the footer and the soil beneath it, just to be certain. He added that this will be done at the architect's expense.

In another action the Board voted an order to conform with the State Department of Education rule that a school principal must have an A. B. degree, plus 15 hours of graduate work and also have an Administration certificate.

Although the prospects are that few emergency teachers will be needed, the Board asked the State Department for permission to employ emergencies. The number of these will depend upon acceptance of positions by the teachers who were employed at Tuesday's Board meeting.

Summertime janitors for the larger schools were employed at half-pay. They are: Noah Forter, Auxier; Harold Sammons, Prestonsburg high school; Mont Gibson, Prestonsburg grade school, effective July 1; Flora Gray, Allen; Allfair Flanery, Martin; John Newt Patton, Maytown; Claude Pack, Garrett; Ballard Hughes, Lackey; Marion Martin, Drift; Johnny Caudill, McDowell; Robert Burke, Wheelwright high school; Farris Branham, Wheelwright grade school; Grover Sammons and Henry Harmon to alternate at Betsy Layne; Ab Hopson, Harold.

PHS SENIORS HEAR CLARK

Professor Reminds Class College Education Is Not Necessary in Every Case

Not all of the 101 seniors graduating Monday night from Prestonsburg high school were urged by the Commencement speaker, Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the history department, University of Kentucky, and widely known author, to go to college.

The speaker expressed the hope that "several" of the graduates would go to college, but he said he is one of those persons who does not believe a college education is in every case necessary.

By 1970, he predicted, five million farmers will feed the nation.

Floyd Education Board Employs 361 Teachers

BANKS NAMED SCHOOL HEAD

Former Floyd Teacher, Prestonsburg Man Hired As Pikeville Principal

Harry Banks, principal of the Pikeville College Training school and a native of Water Gap, this county, has been hired as principal of Pikeville high school, it was reported from Pikeville this week.

Mr. Banks has served as the principal of the Pikeville College Training School during the past term. Previously he served as the principal of the Napier high school in Perry county, and also as instructor in the U. S. Air Force.

It was also reported that Bobby Phillips, of Pikeville, was being considered as the new football coach at Pikeville high school to replace Clayton Powers, who resigned.

Banks, who received his masters degree from the University of Kentucky, attended Pikeville College and Morehead State College, where he was awarded his A. B. degree. He is a former teacher in the Floyd county schools.

Banks is married to the former June Fannin, of Charleston, W. Va. At present he is employed as a teacher at Pikeville College in the biology department.

Bernard Mims, who has served as principal of the high school may be replaced in a teacher's capacity.

First Floyd Court Agrees To Open with Devotionals

The suggestion made by the Prestonsburg Council of Churchwomen that local governmental units and courts begin their session with prayer has met with quick compliance, it was said this week.

Latest of the officials to adopt the suggestion is County Judge Henry Stumbo, who said this week the next quarterly court session, June 25, will be opened with a devotional period.

The Floyd circuit court began its session Monday with prayer, and the same practice was adopted several weeks ago by the City Council. The Prestonsburg fire department even before that named the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of the Methodist Church, its chaplain.

FINAL BALLOT TAB REPORTED

Clements Gets 800-Vote Majority; Perkins Polls 3,460 in Floyd Counting

After the absentee ballots had been added last week to the regular ballot count here, the Floyd county lead of Senator Earle C. Clements over his major opponent, Joe B. Bates, in the Democratic primary stood at an even 800 votes.

And Congressman Carl D. Perkins' lead in the county over George Glenn Hatcher, his main opposition in Floyd, was boosted from 3,421 to 3,460.

Absentee voters gave Bates 6 votes, Clements 46 and Delk none. In the Democratic Congressional race these same voters cast 45 ballots for Perkins, 1 for Pruitt, 6 for Hatcher and none for Sherman and Walters.

This left the Floyd totals in these two races at 3,219 for Bates, 4,019 for Clements and 60 for Delk; and in the Congressional race 5,117 for Perkins, 117 for Pruitt, 1,657 for Hatcher, 30 for Sherman and 150 for Walter.

Only three absentee votes were cast in the Republican Senatorial primary and all were for Thurston B. Morton. In the Republican Appellate Judge voting the absentees

TURNER SAYS STATE RULES FIX POLICIES

Emergency Teachers Not Considered Hired; Certificates Necessary

The Floyd County Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday employed 361 of the teachers needed for the county's schools during the 1956-57 school year. Several vacancies exist in consolidated as well as rural schools.

County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner recommended the teachers to the Board for employment on the condition that they have by the opening day of school certificates to teach "in the particular position they are recommended for and otherwise complying with all regulations of the State Department of Education and the State Board of Education."

"In other words," Mr. Turner said in a formal statement addressed to the Board, "emergencies are not to be considered as employed under this recommendation. Certificates must be obtained by the opening day of school. Otherwise, this recommendation for employment is of no force and effect."

In the case of high school teachers, the Superintendent pointed out, an attempt has been made to place them in their major and minor fields so as to comply with State Board regulations. "If, however," he wrote, "it is impossible for teachers to have a schedule in their major or minor fields, the Board of Education and Superintendent do not accept responsibility for the teacher being placed on an emergency basis."

The Superintendent and the Board of Education reserved the right to transfer "any and all personnel as good professional procedure dictates."

Workmen Begin Tearing Down Harkins Home, Landmark Here

A Prestonsburg landmark was on its way out this week as the old Harkins home on Second avenue was being torn down to clear the lot for possible future construction by its new owner, Winston Ford, Prestonsburg contractor.

Mr. Ford purchased the property from John Allen and Byron Nunery for a reported $20,000. The lot is 130 feet wide by 140 feet deep. Razing of the three-story brick residence is being done by workmen employed by Bill Williams, who is doing that work for the materials in the building.

Home of the late Walter S. Harkins, early Prestonsburg lawyer and banker, it was the only residence of the "mansion" type in the Big Sandy valley approaching in size and elegance that of the late John C. C. Mayo at Paintsville. Distinguishing features were massive brick walls, foundation and facing from native stone, spacious rooms with hand-painted murals and a general plan of luxury in design and appointments.

The building was completed in 1904, and was occupied by members of the Harkins family until the deaths two years ago of Joseph D. Harkins, Jr. and Walter Scott Harkins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Harkins.

Kentucky Physicians Plan Better Rural Distribution of Medical Care for People

Representatives from the Kentucky Physicians Placement Service and the Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund met in Frankfort May 31 to work out plans to provide better distribution of medical care for the people of rural Kentucky.

John Guy Miller, field secretary of the Kentucky State Medical Association, was named field secretary of the two groups. His official task will be to keep in close contact with each beneficiary of the Fund while he is a student and during his hospital training. Then Mr. Miller will be able to bring together needy communities and physicians seeking locations.

According to a joint announcement made by Dr. Ralph D. Lynn, Elkton, chairman of the Physicians Placement Service and Dr. C. C. Howard, Glasgow, re-elected chairman of the Scholarship Fund, the Fund and the placement Service are sponsored and supported wholeheartedly by the KSMMA.

The Fund has two programs aimed at getting more physicians into areas most in need of medical care. One allows a student to borrow up to $3,200 over a four-year period if he agrees to practice in an area approved by the Fund for as many years as he received assistance and make cash repayment of the amount borrowed plus two per cent interest.

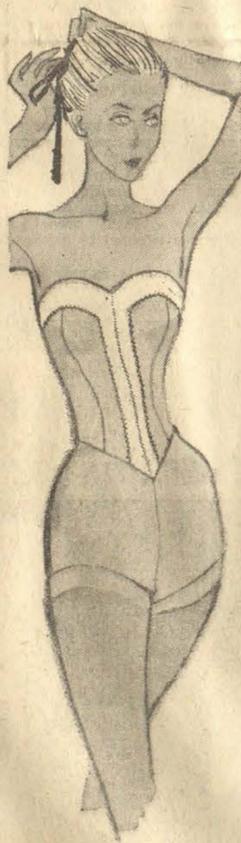

The other plan, which was recently put into effect, permits a student to borrow $3,200 if he will agree to practice in one of Kentucky's critical counties for a period of four years. This will automatically wipe out his debt to the Fund.

The critical counties are Powell, Knott, Martin, Rockcastle, Magoffin, Elliott, Knox, Cumberland, Leslie and Breathitt.

Recently the University of Louisville School of Medicine adopted a new plan whereby a student pays his $3,200 tuition and then if he practices in any of the 10 critical counties the money will be refunded to him. This plan was announced after the University received a contract giving it $500,000 a year in state funds.

Thirteen medical students were awarded scholarships for the 1956-57 school year at the Frankfort meeting. Thus far, according to Dr. Howard, 87 students have been granted loans. Of these, 82 were Kentuckians.

Where the Slide-Rules Fail

What is the cost-benefit ratio on foreign relief, on all the billions spent to feed hungry people in less fortunate countries and to arm those nations which are considered friends of the United States and at least covertly unfriendly to Soviet Russia?

Nobody, of course, can perform such slide-rule magic as to come up with a definite figure in answer to that question. It can't be answered, for here we are dealing in more than dollars and cents; we are considering the defenses of the free world against Red aggression; we are feeding hungry people, partly out of the goodness of our hearts and more particularly because we know that if we do not feed them they will turn Communist as so many other underprivileged peoples already have done.

We have no argument to offer against this costly program. In fact, we believe in it. We believe that for this nation with all its surpluses to withhold from hungry mouths the food that would keep human beings alive would be a heathen act. We also believe that for this country, the world's bulwark against Communism, to desert any nation that is willing to stand up against Communism would be the height of folly.

Yet, agreeing as we do with such a policy, we wonder why the cost-benefit ratio of projects on which this country's money is proposed to be spent here at home cannot also be considered from the purely human angle and also from that of national defense.

The Big Sandy river valley is a case in point. This area has been studied for more than half a century now, surveyed, measured and gauged from every angle every time talk has risen about canalization of the river to open up the valley as an industrial region. While cost-benefit ratios have been studied and while a few inimical forces have used cold figures to defeat canalization, the valley has lost thousands of its people, has lost millions in its economy, and has been held in thrall, as helpless as if were under an evil spell.

There are people here who have the habit of eating, too. This is where they were born, where they were reared, where they would like to stay. But forces beyond their control and the unimaginative demand for a quick dollar profit those who look to the figures and the slide-rule rather than the needs of good American citizens have driven them elsewhere. Here, too, is a region far removed from the more vulnerable coastal regions and from the great population centers that will be the target for enemy attack when war comes. Its coal is important, in war or peace. The materials that need coal for their production could be produced here at great profit and to the stabilization, economically and socially, of a strong, freedom-loving and loyal people—if the water resources of the valley were developed and conserved.

So... won't somebody, please, consider the Big Sandy in the light of its people and of its great potential to the nation, even as people and areas overseas are considered in relation to our military strength?

You know, some of these opponents to opportunity for many thousands of Americans and to development of an area that has been vital in the past and could be even more vital in the future, might do well to leave their slide-rules at home. A less tarnished Rule is much the better measure.

But what's a-boddy to do about alibis if you don't put a lot of distance between yourself and home base? Try traveling only 50 miles, or even a hundred, and then come in without any fish, and see if somebody from home isn't standing there to yell, "Same old Allen (or Jones or whatever you happen to be called)—no fish again!"

That's one of the objections I have to boat docks in general; you have to come in, sometime. My experience has been that if I come in with a fish worth showing everybody has gone home, and on the other occasions, which come all too often, when the old stringer dangles empty, everybody is on hand, and maybe there is a camera or two in the crowd.

If they ever take a picture of me on such an occasion, they can call it "Blue Boy the Second."

DOG-GONE TOUGH SITUATION

The Post Office Department is slightly disturbed by the fact that 3,000 postmen were bitten by dogs last year, and the powers that be aren't in agreement as to what should be done about the situation.

Sixteen experts, including a dog psychologist, tackled the subject behind closed doors. They yapped considerably about the matter, with each group claiming the other was barking up the wrong tree. One suggested the friendship idea, gentle pats on the head if there's a hand left to pat with, dog candy, dog biscuits, cooing noises, etcetera. Another advocates the cold and icy stare as the postman's defense against belligerent canines; cross the arms on the manly chest, draw yourself up to full height, mall-bag and all, and give the advancing mutt the old eye, Fleagle-like. Another faction, chemically minded, suggests that each carrier be armed with a bottle of dog repellent which he should carefully and liberally spray on his trousers. This may be hard on the creases, of course, but it may save the trousers.

We have a suggestion to offer, and we base it in part on the theory that "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast." We suggest that the Post Office Department do the country a favor and take some of these singers off television and radio and provide one of these crooners for each postman, then let him sing to the dog that indicates a taste for leg-o-mailman. Then, if that does no good, the mailman can always feed the crooner to the dog.

CHILD DIES

Kathryn Collins, one-year-old daughter of Virgil and Grace Storer Collins, of Ligon, was found dead in a crib-bed, Monday at 1 p.m. Mrs. Collins had placed the child in bed and was out of the house only a few minutes. The cause of death was not listed. Two sisters survive. Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday at the home, the Rev. Sherman Stone officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

AIRLINE PURSER WINS ACQUITTAL

New York A federal court jury acquitted a 44-year-old airline purser accused of smuggling $4,659 worth of watch movements into the country.

The purser, George Michael Haag, of Levittown, N. Y., contended during his trial that he was arrested before he had a chance to declare the watch movements.

The duty on them would have been over $500.

Tractor accidents accounted for a large number of farm families. Of 317 such deaths, 89 of the persons involved were below 20 years of age; 104 were from 20 to 49 years old; and 114 were 50 years old or more.

Remainder of the population will be employed in professional and technical jobs, and from that situation, he added, the graduates may draw their own conclusions as to their need for higher education.

"I would be dishonest if I gave you the illusion that this is an easy world," the author-historian told the youngsters. "It is a world of high tensions. . . You should be prepared for a depression or at least a recession. Your generation already has gone longer than any other in American history without suffering the shock of economic depression."

The speaker reminded the graduating class and the big gathering of their friends and relatives at the Strand Theatre here that the real assets this country has are not economic or financial but that the nation's enduring assets are of the spirit and the mind. The struggle between "freedom and totalitarianism will be fought on the battlefield of the mind, he declared.

Drawing upon his travel experiences abroad, particularly in Austria, which he described as "the first layer of the Iron Curtain," Dr. Clark told of sensing the fear of the people in Austria. They had economic benefits and other material advantages and were secure enough in their homes, but they were filled with fear, he said. "I found the same fear in Mississippi," he continued but did not expand on that subject except to say that such fear may be attributed to poor leadership and lack of courage. Dr. Clark is a native of Mississippi.

Commenting on the fact that thousands of young people leave our state, taking away their brains, their abilities, their tax dollars and productivity, Clark said, "Nobody is coming into the state to solve our problems." He described Eastern Kentucky as the last real frontier where the "settlers must face their problems courageously and together."

College scholarships were awarded by J. R. Camacia, representing the donor, the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, to Phyllis Hammond, Toby Bussey and Randall Honeycutt. A fourth scholarship from the company went to Bob Bollen, of Garrett high school. Lowell Hughes, Prestonsburg high school senior, received from the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce Reatherford-Salyers Award presented annually to the outstanding senior in the school here. The presentation was made in behalf of the Jaycees by Barkley J. Sturgill. Paul C. Hager, band instructor, presented to Janet Sue Whitten and Mabra Newman certificates the girls earned as members of the All-State Band and All-State Chorus. Otis D. Spurlock, principal of the high school, announced that Dolores Ann Hughes, valedictorian of the class, had been awarded a scholarship by Pikeville College and had been tendered a scholarship by the University of Kentucky. He added that her sister, Dawn Elaine Hughes, has been offered a U-K scholarship and that Morehead State College has made the same offer of a grant to Betty Jewel Sizemore.

JUDGE TO RULE

Frankfort, Ky. — Franklin Circuit Judge William B. Ardery said he will decide from briefs whether Gov. A. B. Chandler's 1957-58 budget and income-tax measures were legal. The acts were challenged in a suit filed by Dr. E. L. Schiflett, Louisville, on the grounds they were not submitted together at a regular session of the Legislature.

Two Floyd Teachers Enter Summer Term At Pikeville College

Pikeville, Ky., June 4 — Lewis Campbell, of Allen, and Earl Martin, of Harold, are among the 30 teachers in public schools who completed the first week of an intensive course in the supervision of student teaching Friday at Pikeville College.

The workshop-type class, an extension course from the University of Kentucky, is the first ever taught on this subject by a University faculty member outside Lexington. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said. Those completing the course successfully will be qualified to take into their classrooms college students who are ready to do practice teaching, a fourth-year course, and direct their required work.

All 30 members of the class—eight administrators and 22 classroom teachers in both grade and high schools—are from schools within a radius of 37 highway miles of Pikeville. They should be able to care for the college's student teachers on both elementary and high-school levels after Pikeville's four full years of work are opened in September, Dr. Page said.

Only the first week of the intensive 2 1/2 -week course, which is being taught by Dr. Helen M. Reed, coordinator of student teaching in secondary schools at the University, will be given this summer. Those who are enrolled will complete their work in five Saturday sessions in September and October at Pikeville.

Alexandria, Egypt, June 5—Five persons were reported killed and 86 injured today when a boiler exploded at the Alexandria Salt and Soda Co. plant.

Statistics on age groups of farm persons killed (exclusive of transport and home accidents) show that the 55-to-64 age group has the highest rating, 13.63 percent.

It's a dear bargain to buy any kind of insurance on the basis of price alone, without considering all the many other important factors that may affect your financial security.
We have a hunch you'd rather BUY FROM AN AGENT whose expert knowledge assures you of getting the best available protection and whose friendly assistance is yours when you have a loss, or when a claim is made against you.
That's how this Agency conducts its business.

RETURNS FROM PHILADELPHIA
The Rev. Orville Pearson returned last week from the 188th annual meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., held in Philadelphia. The meeting was in commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the first Presbytery in the United States and concurred with the 250th birth anniversary of Benjamin Franklin. Congress this year ordered 71 commemorative Franklin medals struck, and because of his connection with the Presbyterian Church one of the medals was presented to the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.

Presbyterians Complete Study Program Series

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church has recently completed five study programs centering on the Christian home. Purpose of the course was to make members more aware of the need for church and home cooperation. The home was pictured as God's first unit of creation and shun the place where Christianity begins. The church, the study program developed, can do very little for today's youth without help from the home unit, since the individual in many cases spends 187 hours a week in the home as compared to only one hour in the church. Constant prayer, study of God's word, and daily practice were emphasized in the course as answers to the questions that face parents and families daily. Regular family worship, wholesome literature in the home, regular church attendance with parents and children going to church together, and putting first things first were among marks of a Christian home as defined in the course. The study also covered attitudes of the individual at church and at home, meeting the questions that arise and other topics.

Master Commissioner's Sale FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

Lillian Hatcher Plaintiff
Vs: NOTICE OF SALE
Stanley Hatcher Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the May term, 1956, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 25th day of June 1956, at 10 o'clock, a.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

One house and lot No. 33 situated on the hill west of the Harold Depot and on the north side of the county road. A plat or map of said addition is filed in the County Court Clerk's office of Floyd county, and to which map or plat reference is hereby made for a more complete description of said property.

Said property will be sold to satisfy a judgment of this court in favor of plaintiff against the defendant for the sum of $1,600.00 and the costs of this action.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 5th day of June, 1956.

J. B. CLARKE,
Master Commissioner
Floyd Circuit Court
6-7-3t.

Valedictorian of the Maytown high school was Linda June May, (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher May of Langley. Named Salutatorian was Carleen Howard, (right), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Howard also of Langley. Miss May was awarded the W.O.W. Award in American History at the graduation exercises. She was chosen runner-up at the Floyd County Music Festival this year. Both girls finished high school in three years.

Pullet Flock Management Requires Close Attention

Proper management of the poultry laying flock will pay dividends if certain practices are observed now, says J. E. Humphrey, field agent in poultry for the Kentucky Agriculture Extension Service.

Humphrey asks: Did your pullets start laying at around four months of age last year? If so, the chances are they laid small eggs over a long period of time. They possibly molted around the neck, and perhaps some of them went through a complete molt in the early winter months when eggs were at the highest price.

It has been found that pullets should be five months old or older before they lay many eggs. This usually can be accomplished, Humphrey says, by buying good clean chicks from high egg-producing strains; putting the chicks in a clean brooder house; feeding a good, well-balanced ration; regulating the brooder house so that it is comfortable to the chicks all the time; separating cockerels and pullets at six weeks if housing facilities permit, since management for the two sexes is different from there on.

After the first six weeks, Humphrey says, management is very important in the life of the pullets. About this time, grain should be given with the growing mash; the latter should have replaced the starter mash around the fifth week. Oats are excellent for grain purposes, as are corn and wheat. Feed the grains whole, he says, and give grit, not oyster shell or limestone, until the pullets start laying. The grain may be fed in hoppers or on the floor.

If good clean pasture, on which no chickens have ranged for two years, is available, put the pullets on it when they are eight to 10 weeks old. As the weather warms up, shade and plenty of fresh water should be provided. Also, if the pullets seem to be developing too fast, cut down on the amount of growing mash and feed more grain.

It is advisable to restrict mash consumption during the growing period so that roving around the range is encouraged, particularly when good pasture is available. Humphrey notes good pastures would reduce feed costs as much as 20 per cent in producing pullets.

If the range is bare, Sudan grass and rape may be sown now for use five to six weeks later. Soybeans also have been used as quick-growing pasture. Sudan takes about 15 pounds of seeds an acre, rape about five pounds. Soybeans usually are drilled in, with from a half bushel to a bushel of seed per acre.

Cooking Unnecessary In New Recipe for Jam

Strawberry jam in January, with the delightful flavor of fresh berries in June, has at long last become possible. The surprising secret lies in not cooking the jam. Instead, the crushed berries, sugar and powdered pectin in water are combined and allowed to jelly; then the jam is sealed and frozen.

This unusual jam has the flavor and color of fresh fruits plus an attractive jellied texture that makes it spread well. It will keep in the refrigerator for a few months, or in the home freezer for as long as a year. To enjoy the jam at its best, it should be eaten promptly after the jar is opened.

If the jam is too firm when the jar is opened, stirring will soften it. If it tends to separate, stirring will blend it again.

As in making cooked strawberry jam, sound, ripe fruit should be used. To wash the berries, place a few at a time in a pan of water, then carefully lift them out and remove the stems.

This recipe comes from home economists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

Add 5 cups of sugar to 3 cups of crushed berries. Mix well, and allow to stand 20 minutes with occasional stirring. Dissolve 1 package of powdered pectin in 1 cup of water, bring to a boil and boil 1 minute. Add this liquid to the berry mixture and stir two minutes.

Ladle jam into jelly glasses, filling to within half inch at the top. Cover and let it stand until jellied, 24 to 48 hours if necessary. Seal with hot paraffin and cover with metal lid. Put in refrigerator or home freezer at once. Makes 9 six-ounce glasses.

Raspberries or blackberries may be substituted for the strawberries, using the same amounts. Peeled crushed peaches also may be used, about 2 1/2 pounds being necessary.

Home accidents led in non-fatal accidents of farm residents in 1954, the study showed. This category accounted for 530,000 injuries. Motor vehicles caused 210,000 injuries, work accidents 310,000 injuries, and miscellaneous accidents about 160,000 injuries.

Hughes, Second Recipient Of Annual Jaycee Award For Athletic Achievement

Lowell Hughes, Prestonsburg high school senior, was named the second recipient of the Reatherford-Salyers Award, given annually by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to the outstanding senior athlete.

The award is named in honor of Donald Gene Reatherford and Woodrow Salyers, two Prestonsburg youths who lost their lives in a locker-room accident two years ago.

This award is given not only for outstanding athletic achievement but is considered on the basis of scholarship, character, citizenship and other attributes to well-rounded individual.

The selection committee follows the progress of all candidates for the honor throughout their senior year of school work and makes their selection the final week of school. A layman, minister, school superintendent, principal, teacher and Jaycee member comprise the secret committee.

Hughes, an outstanding student, re-wrote all football, basketball and baseball records in four years at the local school. For the past two seasons he has been named quarterback on the all-state high school football teams, and currently has two professional baseball offers.

In addition to the plaque, emblem of the Reatherford-Salyers Award, Hughes' name will be engraved in on a large plaque to be placed on the wall of the new Prestonsburg gymnasium along with the name of last year's winner, Bert Dixon.

Hughes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thurman Hughes, Prestonsburg.

STREET FUNDS BEFORE VOTERS

Ronceverte, W. Va. — Ronceverte's municipal election—one of 28 in the state today—gave citizens an opportunity to vote on street improvements for the first time in 30 years.

State Police Stress Firmer Enforcement

Frankfort, June 4 (Spl.) — Kentucky's Department of State Police will join enforcement officials and safety coordinators from eight states for a firmer traffic law enforcement policy in the Midwest.

The action took place following a recent meeting of the Midwestern Region, National Conference of State Safety Coordinators held in Springfield, Ill. The meeting was a part of the 24th annual conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

The enforcement stand taken by the safety officials was based on a "stepped-up" Illinois traffic enforcement program which has increased since "Black Christmas" of 1955 when hundreds of midwestern travelers lost their lives in traffic accidents. Full support for the program was given by authorities from Iowa, Missouri, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, Kentucky and Illinois.

Non-fatal home injuries' locations were distributed as follows: steps and stairs, 13 percent; bedroom and bath, 21 percent; living room, 20 percent; porches, 13 percent, kitchen and dining room, 26 per cent, and basement and laundry, 7 percent.

FATHER, SON AND HOLY SPIRIT

TO ALL FATHERS AND MOTHERS AND 18-YEAR-OLD VOTERS:

I wish to thank God and you all for the landslide vote as God spoke to me in a vision before I had heard any vote count for my special friend and true-blue Democrat, Senator Earle C. Clements.

In all my handbills that I mailed only two were returned in a very offending way. One said I could not hold up Senator Clements and Governor Chandler in the same picture. The other said, in part, that they did not want any picture that showed Earle C. Clements. The one, "God, Governor and Government," was all right and it was not returned. I put them both back in first-class mail to legal friends of mine.

God knows, I know and all readers of The Floyd County Times know my work is divinely guided, neither self-styled or man-made.

As May 13th was a man-made Mother's Day and 13 is my Lucky Number and June 17th is Father's Day, I am praying for Bible-proved fathers. St. Luke 11:11, 12, 13, "If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? Or if he ask a fish will he for a fish give him a serpent? Or if he shall ask an egg will he offer him a scorpion? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?"

I wish to thank our Governor, Hon. A. B. Chandler, for his personal letters and approval for my Christian work. I have never had so many prayers answered and rewards of my work with my grandchildren as this year. I used part of my love offering to test them. One granddaughter, Karen Behymer, age 7, of Latonia, Ky., made best grades and received many prizes. I have her picture with her prayer book and rosary. Two grandsons, John L. Meade, 8, and Eddie Meade, 6, of McDowell, both received certificates for perfect school attendance, grades O and S, and you see I have been a rewarded grandmother.

Thank all God-fearing fathers to pray for my work.
Sincerely and prayerfully,
EVA MEADE HALL

might be close. (These three joined Gallup, et al.)

Only 14 of the editors commented on the Republican Senatorial race, and 12 of these picked Morton with the other two guessing Golden would win.

In the Seventh district five of the six editors replying picked Clements and only Carl Perkins was mentioned in the Congressional race on the Democratic side.

In the Sixth none of the 13 editors quizzed gave Joe Arnold, Gov. Chandler's choice, a chance against Congressman Watts, and that's about what he had. Congressman Siler was the overwhelming choice for Congress in the Eighth on the Republican ticket and on the Democratic side it was an even split between Willis and Scaif. (The voters gave it to Scaif.)

The newspapermen also picked Brent Spence in the Fifth district, Philip Ardery in the Third, William Natcher in the Second and in the First they were split between Noble Gregory and Elwood Gordon. (Gregory won.)

Thirty-eight of the 63 editors predicted the Republicans will not be able in November to carry the areas served by their newspapers, while 16 said the G. O. P. could, and seven looked on it as a possibility. Thirty of the editors said Eisenhower could carry their areas, but nine of the 30 are in the heavily Republican Eighth district; 26 said "no," and seven said it was possible but at this time a bit uncertain.

The poll of newspapers showed that Adlai Stevenson is Kentucky's choice on the Democratic side for the Presidency. On the question of the Democratic aspirant most likely to win the support of people in their areas, 26 named Steevnson, 16 picked Ke-fauver and there were six who favored Harriman. There were two votes for Senator Stuart Symington and one for Governor A. B. Chandler.

One editor wrote, "Personally would nominate Liberace or Clark Gable as best bets to beat Eisenhower."

tee is dominated by Clements supporters.

The newspaper said both Wetherby and Johnson are believed willing to take the nomination.

But Wetherby said he wasn't running for the Senate and asked about the interim appointment until November's election, said, "I'd rather not discuss that at this time."

Clements' campaign manager, William A. Young, didn't throw any light on the matter, except that he said, "As far as I know there were no blueprints. They just explored areas of agreement."

Clements later issued a statement saying neither he nor Governor A. B. Chandler of Kentucky made any commitments during their conference.

The two men met in Frankfort, Ky., for what both termed "a very cordial and pleasant visit."

Clements said that they discussed the upcoming senatorial and congressional campaign "through which we hope that the full Democratic ticket will be elected in November."

The Senate majority whip added that neither made any expression of bitterness toward any Democrat.

Sen. Clements won Democratic renomination in the May 29 primary, defeating former congressman Joe B. Bates, who was supported by Chandler by 81,386 votes.

Clements termed the newspaper story very interesting and said he recognized the right of a newspaper to speculate. He also said he was sure newspaper writers recognized the right of two members of a political party to discuss the future of that party.

In Frankfort, Chandler's press secretary, Ed Easterly, said the press could speculate but that "it would not be in the public interest" for the governor to comment.

Those who have a reputation as bootleggers over a long period of time will not be granted probation, even though convicted for the first time, the Judge added.

"My experience has been," Judge Hill said, "that with perhaps one exception probation with these strong curbs on future behavior works, and I believe I can help control bootlegging in this way by probation first offenders with strong restrictions and regular reporting on their conduct by a probation officer."

Seaman Little Killed In Auto-Truck Smash; Burial Made at Melvin

Seaman John W. Little, 17, formerly of Wheelwright, died on his way to an Ohio hospital, at 10 p.m., Thursday of last week, the victim of an automobile-truck collision. He was home on leave with his father at Rosford, and was expected to join the aircraft carrier, USS Randolph, Saturday.

It was said that Seaman Little was driving east on Ohio 29 near Rosford and in attempting to pass a semi-trailer truck loaded with steel he met the vehicle head on. The driver of the truck, Charles W. West, 34, of Canton, O., was uninjured. Little's death was attributed to a fractured skull.

Seaman Little was a son of Walter Little and the late Mildred Kiser Little, formerly of Wheelwright. One sister, Mrs. Glenda J. Bailey, of Rosford, survives.

The body was removed to this county for burial and the last rites were conducted last Sunday at 2 p.m. at the home of Ed Smallwood, Wheelwright, and burial was made in the Tackett cemetery at Melvin under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

Loading Floyd county's quota of the 960 crates of strawberries shipped Wednesday of last week by the East Kentucky Strawberry Growers Association, are: left to right, first three men are drivers for the co-op; fourth man is Harold Rice, Paintsville, manager of the Association; Ellis Boggs, Floyd county agent; Kermit Howard, vice-president of the Association; Ballard Gunnells, Banner grower, and Robert M. Gov. Chandler Seeking To Aid Civil Defense

Frankfort, June 4 (Spl.) — "It is my desire that every effort be made by all the departments of the state government to implement the provisions of the Kentucky statute covering Civil Defense." Governor Chandler said in a recent letter to all department heads. He urged each administrator to use available facilities to support the efforts of the Kentucky Division of Civil Defense in establishing local Civil Defense programs in every community in the Commonwealth.

Citizens of Kentucky have been slow to recognize the urgency of a local Civil Defense program, Chandler said. He asked each commissioner to solicit the aid of State employees in an all-out effort to stimulate the program.

Civil Defense not only functions in the event of a military disaster, the Governor said, but is vitally concerned with any catastrophe — such as flood, fire or tornado — in the Commonwealth.

Should disaster strike an area of Kentucky, surrounding communities would be faced with an immense problem of evacuation, emergency shelter, feeding and medical care. "This is what the Civil Defense program would aid our people," Chandler said.

"All departments of the state government should have the responsibility of assisting, in every way possible, in fulfilling the concept that disaster relief is a major function of state government. I hope you will render all possible assistance in this effort," the Governor's letter said.

The Division of Civil Defense is preparing a Natural Disaster Relief Plan. A draft of the plan has been submitted to those departments of state government whose services and facilities are projected for possible use in disaster relief, the letter continued.

Acting to carry out Chandler's request, Vego E. Barnes, commissioner, Department of Economic Security, instructed Public Assistance offices in each county where no director has been appointed to call a meeting of state employees in the area. Every employee will be familiarized with a job in the operation of the local Civil Defense program. In addition, city and county officials, civic clubs and all interested citizens will be invited to attend the meetings and participate in the formulation of their Civil Defense program.

Home Treatment Given For Control of Termites

Termite trouble develops where wooden supports from buildings touch the ground and allow the insects a chance to get into wooden structural members.

They also can get into wooden portions of buildings by making covered mud tunnels from their deep subterranean nests along concrete foundations until the wood on which they feed is reached.

Sever the wood-ground connections where they exist, says W. A. Price, University of Kentucky Experiment Station entomologist, and watch for mud tunnels on concrete or stone walls, and two big steps have been taken toward termite control.

Then trench around foundations and apply recommended poisons, he says, for the other big step in a control program. All wooden supports in contact with the ground should be replaced with concrete or steel. If porch lattice work or siding touch the ground, remove the three or four inches closest to the ground.

Here's how trenching is done. Dig a trench about three feet deep and of shovel-width around the outside foundations of houses which have full basements. These trenches should be closed to the outside foundation wall.

After all dirt is removed, treat the bottom with one of the recommended poisons. Fill in six inches of dirt and repeat the poison application. Repeat this until the trench is filled, treating of every six-inch layer of earth.

Apply the poisons around supports under the house, and to the soil generally under the house, if there is a partial basement or no basement. Watch the filled-in, porch type construction, where there is a concrete slab cover. It may be necessary to drill 3/8-inch holes, vertically in these slabs, so poison can be poured down them to get around foundations under the slab. The holes should be six inches away from the house and 18 inches apart. About a gallon of insecticide per hole is administered.

Recommended poisons are Dieldrin emulsion concentrate at the rate of one gallon in 60 gallons of water; chlordane emulsion concentrate (75 per cent) at the rate of one gallon in 50 gallons of water; or sodium arsenite, one pound of powder in one gallon of water.

Officers Raid Seven Last Saturday Night; 3 Jailed on Week-end

Of seven places raided Saturday night by Floyd deputy sheriffs, four reportedly yielded whiskey or beer, or both, and the haul at none of these places was heavy.

Jailed were Ballard Gibson, of Clear Creek, and James Kelly Blair, operator of the Roundhouse, near here. Sheriff Gorman Collins said some beer and whiskey were found in a raid on Norman Shepherd on Middle Creek. Joe Slone was arrested for interfering with searchers.

Constable Johnny Caudill and Deputy Sheriff Green Johnson recently captured a complete moonshine still, 13 60-gallon barrels of mash, sugar, corn and other equipment on the head of the Simpson Martin Branch, near Drift, as a result of a tip given them by three boys. The youngsters, Stanley McClell, 11, Royce Case, 11, and John Ed Hunt, 13, came upon the still by accident, then notified the officers. The owners were not at home when the officers called.

Others jailed last week included: Worley Ratliff and Lester Mitchell, drunk driving; Ivel Reynolds, possessing moonshine.

Baptist Revival Slated By Rev. Vince Cervera In Tent on Playground

Upwards of 50 men of the Baptist Church here are expected to join late Friday afternoon in erecting on the Playground at the grade school building the 1,000-seat-capacity tent in which a revival will be conducted by the Rev. Vince Cervera, of Greenville, S. C. Included in the big job of preparation will be construction of a speakers platform, installation of 1,000 seats, wiring for both illumination and sound and the placing of an organ and a piano for the music programs during the series of meetings.

The revival will begin in the tent at 8 p.m., Sunday, and will continue at the same hour each evening.

The Rev. Cervera conducted a revival at Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, three years ago, which drew crowds beyond capacity of the church. Because of this, the pastor of the church, the Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr., decided to put into use the tent so that all who will come may be seated. "We want this revival to reach all Floyd county, and we welcome not only the people of this county but also those of surrounding counties," he said recently.

The first revival conducted here by Mr. Cervera was perhaps the most successful held in Prestonsburg since the days of the Rev. Sledge. He has a wide reputation over the country as an evangelist. Joining the Rev. Cervera for the revival here as musicians are Al and Ivy Walsh, of Chamblee, Georgia.

Aromatic Tobacco Man Visits Floyd-co. Fields; Massie Joins in Radiocast

John S. Wilkins, representative of the Southeastern Aromatic Tobacco Company, of South Carolina, is here this week inspecting fields of aromatic growers. His company, he says, is very interested in getting production from this area as the required tobacco, mostly imported, is a necessary "seasoning or leavening of the American cigarette."

Speaking of production here, he said he could see no reason this section could not successfully grow the tobacco with the right quality. "The acreage in Floyd and Johnson counties are pilot projects to determine if the tobacco is of good quality. The climate and altitude are alright. We just have to wait and see what the soil will do."

Wilkins, I. E. Massie, Extension tobacco specialist and County Agent O. E. Boggs, were speakers on a radiocast Wednesday noon at which time aromatic production was discussed.

'Buy Auto Insurance With Caution'—Thurman

Frankfort, June 4—The State Department of Insurance today urged Kentuckians to be extremely cautious when buying insurance, particularly automobile coverage.

Recently, a member of unethical practices were discovered by the Kentucky Commissioner of Insurance, C. P. Thurman, an dhis staff. As a result, regulations are being strengthened for the protection of all Kentucky citizens, especially for the surplus line brokers.

These brokers must see that their companies have the minimum capital and surplus before being placed in the Commonwealth.

The Department of Insurance requires a certified copy to the amount of trust funds. A separate attestation will be required from the non-admitted company certifying that its capital and surplus is not less than $200,000.

In a recent example, the Department discovered that one agent had placed coverage on a Kentucky automobile with a company considered unacceptable. The agent of this Indiana company was ordered to cancel all such policies and withdrawn and the unearned premium refund to the policy holders. Less than a week later, the company was placed in receivership.

WEST VA. OHIO STARTS SWEEP SERIES

In the first two games of the annual summertime cage series, the West Virginia-Ohio group whipped a similar group of Kentuckians, 78-73 in Ashland last Friday, then, on Saturday night, drubbed the same team, 73-54, in Huntington, W. Va.

Prestonsburg's Lowell Hughes flipped in 14 points in the first tilt, but failed to score in the second.

This week the all-star series shifted to Whitesburg, Tuesday, then to Paintsville, tonight (Thursday). Saturday night, the group will battle for the third time in Pikeville, home of the sponsors of the East-West series.

These annual summertime all-star games offer little if any interest to the cash customers. The players, first of all, are not in shape, second it's too hot in the gyms at this time of year, and, finally, the players are not particularly interested in winning—just having a good time.

The sponsors of the games are interested in making money, as the prime purpose; some seek athletes for a particular college for the following season, and others for numerous reasons.

Occasionally, a sponsoring group will provide the player with a jacket or watch, or name him to this and that without any great reward. We wonder if it's worth it both to the sponsor and the player.

STEWART SCORES FIRST WIN

Melvin Stewart, of Allen, scored the first win in the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce Golf tourney by eliminating Paul Hughes, Prestonsburg, one up in the first round of the tourney. Stewart won third place, good for a $25 Savings Bond, in the Jaycees Teen-Age Road-e-o last week.

POWERS LEAVES FINE RECORD

Clayton Powers, who resigned last week as football mentor at Pikeville high school, had one of the better football coaching records in the state in compiling a 50-12 and 1 record in six years at Pikeville. His teams always played Prestonsburg close games, as five of the six frays were decided by one point or one touchdown. Only the 1954 game which the Black Cats won 33-6, was a run-away.

BOLIN TAKES MILLERSBURG JOB

Herman Bolin, former Oil Springs cage tutor, has resigned to take a similar job at Millersburg Military Institute. He has been at the Johnson county school for two years.

MARTIN OPERATES LITTLE LEAGUE AND PONY LEAGUE

The city of Martin, under Commissioner and Mayor Denzil Halbert, is doing an excellent job in Little League and Pony League baseball while Prestonsburg is floundering around trying to revive the Pony League. As far as the Little League is concerned, Commissioner Mack Harmon has been the workhorse while fathers of the Little Leaguers pat him on the back for a well-done job, but refuse to donate their time to assist him.

The Prestonsburg Pony League has some $900 worth of uniforms and equipment, 65 interested boys, and little if any cooperation from the fathers of these youngsters, who appear to be too busy to aid the community and their sons in this wholesome, body-building program.

A Pony League would help keep these youngsters off the streets and out of the poolrooms; it would give them something to do, rather than take the other road. How many parents of teen-age boys in the vicinity of Prestonsburg have ever donated one hour of time and effort to the Pony League ? ? ?

Last 4 Basketball Games Are Slated At Pikeville Gym

The last of four basketball games during the week will be staged in Pikeville's spacious gymnasium, Saturday night at 8 as graduating stars of high schools are divided into the East-West series.

For the second successive year the Pikeville Senior Explorer Scouts, annual sponsors of the summertime games, have games scheduled in Paintsville on Thursday, then on Friday a combined team of the East-West squad will match baskets with a similar group of West Virginia graduates in Memorial Field House, Williamson, West Virginia.

Twenty-two of Kentucky's top prep stars will battle in the Series. Heading the list for the East team may be Wayland's "King Kelly" Coleman, Kentucky's greatest scorer of all time, and Prestonsburg's Lowell Hughes, who averaged 41 points a game during the season.

Others on the East squad are: Bob Shepherd and E. A. Couch, from the state championship Carr Creek five; Ralph Davis, Vanceburg; Charles Hall, Paintsville; Kenny Cornelius, Mt. Vernon; Don Mills, Berea; Rex Polly, Whitesburg; George Carroll, Ashland; Kenny Myers, Montgomery County; and Everett Varney, Belfry.

The West will have the height with such standout stars as Central City's All-American center, Corky Withrow and Heath's great six-foot seven-inch center, Martin Holland. Their teammates are: Louis Crigler, Florence; Pascal Benson and Bryon Pinson, from runner-up Henderson; Barry Gager, Holy Name; Roger Newman, Greenville; Dave Denton, Bowling Green; Rex Story, Mayfield; Jimmy Mitchell, Valley Station; Hervey Jay, Shelbyville; and Fred Luigs, Paducah Tilgham.

John Bill Trivette, successful Pikeville high school mentor, will guide the East team for the sixth consecutive year and T. L. Plain, who coached his Henderson team to the finals of the 1953 state high school basketball tournament, will tutor the West squad.

In addition to the basketball games, the players will be guests of honor at several banquets in the various cities during the week, climaxed by an affair at the Green Meadows Country Club in Pikeville, Saturday evening.

There were seven new deep mines opened in Kentucky in 1955 and these mines will produce almost 9,000 tons a day. In all, 30 new deep mines were opened in the United States in 1955.

POWERS QUILTS COACH POST

At Pikeville, Last Friday; His 6-Year Tenure There Created Outstanding Team

Clayton Powers, head football coach at Pikeville high school resigned that post last Friday to accept the athletic directorship and head football coaching job at Union City high in Tennessee.

Powers, in six years at Pikeville, made the Panthers one of the state's annual grid stalwarts and during the past season his team won 11 and lost 0 in a bid for the mythical Kentucky high school championship. Included in the victory skein was a victory over Harlan in the annual Big Sandy Bowl, and the grid championship of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference.

Three times, previous to last season's champs, Powers' team were runners-up to the E.K.M.C. champs, and his overall coaching record while at Pikeville was 50 victories, 12 defeats and one tie.

Some of Powers' outstanding grid stars were Billy Wheeler, Clark Rattliff, Bobby Phillips, all of whom played at U. of K., H. L. Justice, Everett Justice and James Coleman. A native of Frankfort, Powers attended the University of Kentucky, where he earned letters in football before coming to Pikeville.

Tough jobs demand a Universal 'Jeep'

Traction. 4-wheel drive gives the extra traction for traveling up steep grades or broken ground. The 'Jeep' is built to stand up and take it in tough usage.

Mobile power. With power take-off, the Universal 'Jeep' provides mobile power for operating welders, compressors, generators and many other kinds of specialized equipment.

Hydraulic lift. With hydraulic lift, the 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' operates graders, scrapers, post hole diggers and most 3-point hitch implements.

Now a 'Jeep' with longer wheelbase—the new model CJ-5. Carries larger, bulkier loads; has all the features that made the 'Jeep' famous.

A 4-Wheel-Drive Universal 'Jeep' takes you to the job, wherever it is—on the road or off! This rugged performer carries men and equipment over the highway in conventional 2-wheel drive. Then, when work calls for travel off the road—through mud, sand or snow, up hill or down—you shift a single lever for the extra traction of 4-wheel drive. With power take-off, or hydraulic lift, the Universal 'Jeep' does an almost endless variety of jobs. To find out what it can do for you, ask for a demonstration.

The world's largest power shovel, The Mountaineer, recently went to work in surface coal mining operations of the M. A. Hanna Co., at Cadiz, Ohio. In operation, this 2,750-ton machine uses enough electricity to furnish all the power needs of a city of 20,000.

State Police Head Cites Motor Bike Laws

Frankfort, June 4 (Spl.) — Kentucky law prohibits a person under 18 years old from driving any type of motor vehicle. P. A. B. Widener, commissioner of State Police, brought attention to the law today while discussing the dangers of motor bike riding.

The commissioner said Kentucky law also provides for the arrest of parents of an underage child found driving a power propelled vehicle.

"Warm weather always brings a series of motor bike accidents. Law enforcement alone will not prevent such traffic tragedies—the answer lies with the individual parent and youngster," Widener said.

The nation's three leading commercial producers of bituminous coal dug almost 52,000,000 tons in 1955, or more than 11 per cent of the national total of 470,000,000 tons.

IT'S SWITCHCRAFT

— that's what it is !

You'll see when you try Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo!

IT TAKES a new word to describe the magic at your command when you drive a '56 Buick — with the newest transmission of them all.

It's full power go-ahead on the instant. You can get where you were just looking in a shaved second's time — with the most modern and most thrilling surge of safety acceleration in the land today.

It's smoothness, too. Complete freedom from the "bump" and lag of gears shifting. Only with Dynaflo can you go winging away with so smooth a sweep.

And only with a '56 Buick can you enjoy Dynaflo's newest marvel. It's something the engineers call "double regeneration." Lets you start off like an Olympic sprinter, with the pedal pressed just an inch or less. (And driving that way, you get better gas mileage.)

There's more big news, too, that goes with this new Buick magic. And that covers a lot more than styling.

Sure — you'll like the graceful new beauty of the V-shaped prow and sweep-ahead look. And you'll like the extra room inside.

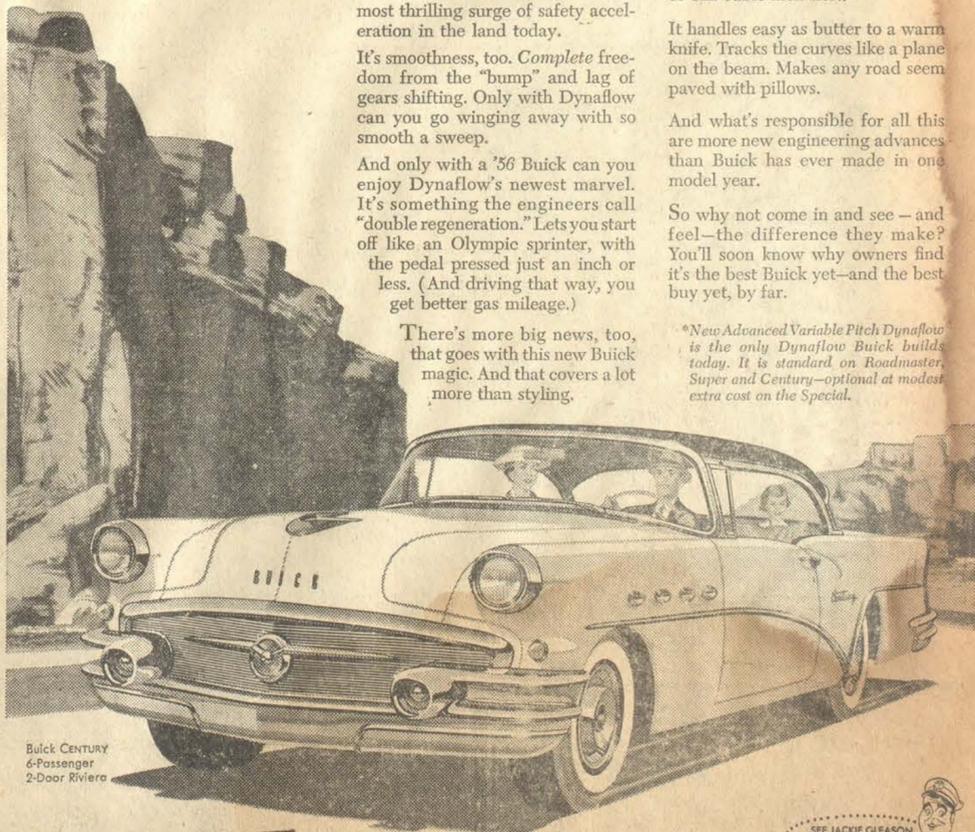

But as you drive you'll find that this Buick responds with the new might of a big, record-powered V8 engine of 322-cubic-inch heft.

It handles easy as butter to a warm knife. Tracks the curves like a plane on the beam. Makes any road seem paved with pillows.

And what's responsible for all this are more new engineering advances than Buick has ever made in one model year.

So why not come in and see — and feel — the difference they make? You'll soon know why owners find it's the best Buick yet — and the best buy yet, by far.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Gibson To Graduate From Virginia Tech

Blacksburg, Va., June 4 (Spl.) — Approximately 637 are candidates for degrees to be conferred at graduation exercises concluding Virginia Tech's 84th year to be held here in Burruss Hall Sunday afternoon, June 10.

Of this number, 52 are candidates for the bachelor of science degree. The others are candidates for graduate degrees as follows: 14 master of education; 78 master of science; and 13 doctor of philosophy.

Virginius Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, will make the graduation address at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

The only Kentuckians slated to receive degrees are from the eastern section of the state—William E. Gibson, of Floyd county and Franklin Robertson, Pike county, both to receive degrees in mining engineering.

Independent Colleges Furnish Club Programs

Frankfort, June 4 (Spl.) —Clivic clubs, church groups, and other organizations desiring a speaker or a narrated color-film are invited to contact Bruce Dudley, executive director of the Kentucky Independent College Foundation, Louisville Trust Bldg., Louisville.

The film, immediately available, tells the Foundation's story and presents many scenes of college activities.

Musical entertainment also may be provided if the mileage to be travelled is not too distant from one of the Foundation's colleges which are Bellarmine, Berea, Centre, Georgetown, Wesleyan, Transylvania, Union and Villa Madonna.

Presidents of these colleges and foundation officials accept all programs requests circumstances permit.

POLAROID Land CAMERA WITH Bounce Flash

Now, the makers of the famous 60-second Polaroid Land Camera have made "bounce flash" really practical. If you can take an ordinary snapshot you can take a marvelous "bounce flash" picture. All you need is the new, easy-to-use bracket and the new fast Polaroid Land film.

The "bounce flash" technique—long a favorite of the big name photographers—is pretty much self-explanatory. Instead of aiming the flash head-on at your subject, you bounce it off the wall or ceiling. This gives your pictures an even, natural lighting much like sunlight.

SNAP IT! PULL A TAB! There's the best flash picture you've ever had!

Reflecting the confidence of the industry in the future, bituminous coal producers in 1955 opened 30 new deep mines with a capacity of 500 tons or more per day. Total planned daily production of these 30 new mines is 63,200 tons.

A leading coal-carrying railroad recently placed orders for 11,250 hopper cars of 70-ton capacity, said to be the largest such order ever placed. West Virginia, America's first state in production of bituminous coal, led the nation again in 1955 with output of 142,000,000 tons, a 32 per cent gain over 1954.

50 years of progress in electric power...

To our Customers—

In 1906, the American Gas and Electric Company was founded to provide people with dependable electric service for their growing needs.

From this beginning has grown a seven-state network of plants and transmission lines known as the American Gas and Electric System, of which this company is a part.

To operate this electric system nearly 15,000 people are devoting their many skills to assure you of:

1. Dependable Service—backed by modern facilities of a seven-state network.
2. Low-Cost Electricity—because of increased usage and highly efficient generating and transmitting equipment.
3. Power Aplenty—through continuing development, research and advanced engineering.
4. Better Living—through greater use of electricity in home, farm, industry and community.

As we start the next fifty years we foresee an even greater role for electricity in the economy of America. Our job will be to stay ahead of the growing needs of all our customers.

Former Floyd Sisters Are Killed Instantly In Ohio Train-Car Crash

Two sisters, former residents of this county were killed instantly in a train-car collision May 23 at Greenwich, Ohio.

Killed were Mrs. Billie Jean Deskins, 26, wife of Ernest Deskins, of Glo, and Mrs. Yvonne Slone, 21, wife of Charlie Slone, of Garrett. Both were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Music, of Greenwich, Ohio.

Mrs. Deskins, elder of the two, was born August 3, 1929 at Van Lear. Her parents later moved to Glo, where Mrs. Slone was born July 23, 1934. Mrs. Deskins had one son, Kenney Kay, 9. Mrs. Slone leaves a son, Eddie Ray, 5. Both were members of the Freewill Baptist church and were active workers in the church at Greenwich, Ohio. The victims are survived by their husbands, their children and parents, two sisters, and six brothers.

Burial was made in Greenwich cemetery, Greenwich, Ohio.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received for the construction of the extension to the Sewer line of the City of Martin, Kentucky, extending from a point on the property lines of J. H. Osborne and Sumpter Tackett, Jr., along the East side of State Route 80 to a point on the property line of Mrs. Georgia S. Davis, so constructed as to connect with the present sewer line by a T connection across State Route 80, and comprising seven sewer entrances and approximately 400 feet of sewer line about 340 feet of six inch pipe and about 60 feet of four inch pipe, as described and proposed in Ordinance No. 93 of the City of Martin, Kentucky published on or about June 6, 1956. These sealed bids are to be mailed or otherwise delivered personally to Mrs. Anna Griffith, Clerk of the City of Martin, Kentucky on or before Monday, June 18, 1956, until the hour of 7:30 p.m., EST, at which hour the bids will be publicly opened by the Council in the Martin Municipal Building.

Those contractors submitting bids will examine the ordinance and the locality where the work is to be done so as to judge for themselves the circumstances and conditions that will affect the cost and nature of the work. Each contractor must be prepared to furnish a performance bond to guarantee execution of the contract. The contractor who is awarded the contract and performs same shall be paid sixty days after the inspection and final acceptance of the work. The Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Kentucky Farmers Are Shortweighted On 63 pct. of Feeds

Frankfort, June 4 (Spl.) — A check-weighing campaign by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture's Division of Weights and Measures indicates that the farmers of this state are being shortweighted on 63 per cent of the commercial feeds they buy. This information has been developed since the Division began its program of check-weighing feed offered for sale at wholesale and retail outlets.

Division Director George L. Johnson said he has 19 inspectors checking feed stores and warehouses in the Commonwealth. These men have checkweighed 43,653 bags of feed and found 23,058 of them to be shortweighted. These deficient bags have been condemned and ordered off sale. On a poundage basis, 3,043,795 pounds have been weighed and 1,791,183 found shortweight and condemned. The shortage on the condemned bags is averaging about three pounds for a 100 pound sack.

Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler said the close inspection program would continue. When evidence, is found to indicate that the miller or packer has willfully and intentionally shortweighted the packaged commodity, his Department will press for prosecution, Butler said.

"We will not tolerate the sale of commodities that are shortweighted. This Department is aware of the problems confronting millers and dealers, but I feel that our primary responsibility is that of protecting the interests of the consumer. We shall proceed along these lines. I have advised Mr. Johnson to instruct his inspectors in the field to condemn any commodity offered for sale that has an actual net weight less than that indicated on the bag or container," he said.

Johnson said his inspectors could complete their checking of commercial feed in six weeks. Then the Division will make periodic checks of the various commercial feed outlets, he said.

youth, beauty,
Chevrolet,
action!

The new Bel Air Convertible—one of 20 sassy-styled new Chevrolets.

Want to take the wheel of one of America's few great road cars? Want to send pleasant little tingles up and down your spine? Then hustle on in and try out a new Chevrolet V8!

Now showing—the happiest "double feature" of the year! One part is bold, new Motoramic styling. The other is record-breaking V8 action. Hollywood has a heap of words that describe it: colossal, stupendous, magnificent. We'll settle for just the name—Chevrolet.

Because once you've driven this sweet-handling showboat, the adjectives will take care of themselves. Horsepower that ranges up to 225 makes hills flatter and saves precious seconds for safer passing. And the way this Chevrolet wheels around tight turns would gladden the heart of a dyed-in-the-wool sports car fan.

Stop in sometime soon and highway-test this new Chevrolet.
