UNEQUAL TO THE TASK

We have been asked what we propose to use this week as a Father's Day tribute to that portion of the male species known as fathers.

I am one of those fortunate individuals who is convinced that he had the best father and the best mother in the world.

Besides, it occurs to me that the greatest tribute ever paid fathers has already been recorded.

ONCE A FLOYD COUNTIAN, ALWAYS

We still hear from folks who have read the READER'S DIGEST reprint of our item in this column about the trouble one of our erstwhile employes had, starting with a cornfield and winding up with its by-product.

They say that once you get ink in your blood you're tied to a newspaper or a print-shop for life.

OFFER REJECTED We have a rabbit which, ranging the basement, has developed a taste for electric power cords and has already crippled a washer.

COURT HOLDS VOIDING SUITS WAS CORRECT

Appellate Court Action Upholds Judge Grauman In Three Floyd Cases

Special Judge Lawrence Grauman was correct in his dismissal of three suits filed in the Floyd circuit court in 1952 to recover funds allegedly due the county by Floyd officials and former officials, the Court of Appeals ruled last Friday.

The appellate Court decision was made on the appeal of the plaintiffs in the three cases—Joe H. Cooley, et al vs. Troy Sturgill; Paul Saunders, et al vs. DuRan Moore, individually and as County Court Clerk, and the Good Government Taxpayers League, Inc., et al vs. A. B. Meade, individually and as Sheriff.

The suits were dismissed by Judge Grauman June 30, 1953 on the grounds that no demand had been made by the plaintiffs upon the fiscal court to bring an action to recover the amounts allegedly due, and that there had been no refusal on the part of the fiscal court to bring such an action; and that such demand upon the fiscal court, if it had been made, would not have been futile.

In other cases Special Judge Lawrence F. Speckman held that the League suits were valid because demand upon the fiscal court to take the necessary legal steps would have been in vain.

The first ground urged by appellants in seeking a reversal of the Grauman opinion was that as judge of the 30th judicial district, a court of continuous session, he was not qualified to sit as a special judge under provisions of Kentucky statute 23.220. The Court of Appeals held, however, that it is not necessary to determine whether or not the statute disqualified him as special judge, for no objection was made at the time of trial "and we have held that such objection cannot be made for the first time on appeal."

Turning to the question of demand upon the fiscal court to bring the actions against the officials and former officials, the Appellate Court noted that appellant sent a memorandum to each member of the fiscal court calling upon them "to take proper and immediate actions against all public officials or ex-public officials who have collected and received compensation in excess of the amount allowed by law and who have not refunded to Floyd county in excess of the compensation allowed by law."

LARGE CROWD AT OPENING

New Kroger Store Here Considered Most Modern Owned by Firm in Area

The newest and most modern Kroger store in Eastern Kentucky opened here Wednesday morning in a new brick building specially designed for its purposes. The opening was attended through the day by a throng of customers such as is seldom seen in this section.

The supermarket is completely self-service, with the exception of the poultry foods department, and the store equipment alone cost an estimated $120,000. This equipment includes, besides air-conditioning, conveyor system and numerous other items, three refrigeration rooms—one each for frozen foods, fresh meats and poultry, since each type of these foods requires a different temperature.

Work on the Kroger building was begun last August by the Home Appliance Co., contractor for Ed Music and associates, who own the structure. The store room itself is 60 feet wide by 150 feet long.

A parking lot at the east side of the building and its rear is adequate for 42 cars. This parking area will be given blacktop surfacing within the next few weeks, it was said.

Kroger's employ, in addition to the manager, Lakin Hensley, formerly of Cabin Creek, W. Va., 17 persons. As many of these as possible are local people, subject to seniority rights of the union with which Kroger employees are affiliated.

BARNES SAYS FIRING FINAL

Mrs. May Tells Attorney To Act to Establish Her Rights in Case

Mrs. Tribby May, wife of Magistrate John May, of Langley, has been notified that her dismissal as a public assistance social worker here by the Department of Economic Security is permanent, and she said a few days ago that she has instructed her attorney, Paul E. Hayes, of Prestonsburg to take whatever court action is necessary to establish her rights.

Mrs. May was fired on the grounds that she engaged in political activity during the gubernatorial primary last year, and she counters with the claim that her dismissal was politically inspired.

The Merit System Personnel Council ruled May 9 after a hearing on appeal of the Floyd woman's case in Frankfort that evidence against her was not sufficient to sustain her dismissal. Mrs. May had held the post of social worker seven years.

Saturday, Mrs. May received a letter from Vego Barnes, commissioner of economic security, stating that consideration has been given to the recommendations of the personnel council pertaining to her appeal, but that the final decision was that her dismissal would be permanent.

Mrs. May, who worked in the Prestonsburg office of the Department of Economic Security issued a statement which read in part:

"Mr. Barnes, in failing to follow the recommendations of the Merit System Personnel Council, has sacrificed his integrity and substituted his political judgment for the

BRIDGE FUND CONDITIONAL

At Tram; Court Makes Settlement with Sheriff On School, County Taxes

Settlement of Sheriff Gorman Collins, approved Tuesday by the fiscal court, shows that he collected $175,024.20 in county taxes and $454,818.67 for the schools on 1955 tax bills.

Statement of the auditors, Nat H. Hager and R. R. Allen, who made the settlement for the court with the Sheriff, said that their audit shows 667 poll tax bills due the county were expensed by the court, and that the total number of these bills is 667. Each, the auditors stated, represents a bill for school taxes.

The court also employed George H. Hager, a bridge across the river, on the cost of the project, and the state is to maintain $7,500 if the span are to be ordered pointed out in connection with the Highway Department. Charges may not exceed $4,500.

The court designated Josephine as the depository for the Sheriff's funds.

Blackburn Electric Working in Magoffin For Prestonsburg

Leonard Tracy Blackburn, 42 years old, of Zebulon, died almost instantly when 12,000 volts of electricity passed through his body while working on a Kentucky Power Company line for Harris Brothers Construction Company, Prestonsburg, contractors.

The tragedy took place at the mouth of Mash Fork of the Fork, Magoffin county. Blackburn was on a power pole attempting to remove a mechanical jump when he came in contact with the electric charge. His safety net prevented him from falling to the ground, and he was removed to a hospital by fellow-workers for resuscitation.

A native of the Brushy Mountain section, Blackburn was a son of John Blackburn, who was killed by Harris Brothers since 1911. His parents, his one child and four sisters

Entertainment Features Of Fourth To Be Varied

None of the traditional Fourth of July contests and entertainment features will be missing at the celebration planned here for that day, according to David Leslie, chairman of the celebration committee. It will be an all-day affair sprinkled with dancing, fireworks, movies and a watermelon feast.

The Independence Day observance is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, Jaycees, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Eagles. Local businessmen are financing the celebration.

Leslie advises all who wish to participate in the observance to register with Jesse Hagewood at The First National Bank. Advance notice of intention to take part is of great importance in some of the events scheduled, he added.

Slated for the day are these events:

Parade, 9:45 to 11 a.m., Independence Day oration, 11 to 11:30 a.m., watermelon feast from 11:30 to 12:30, fat man's race at noon, egg and spoon race, the largest family, the oldest man and woman, pie-eating contest, pretty girl contest, the tallest man and woman, the ugliest man, greasy pole, greasy pig, banjo and fiddlers' contest, checkers and chess game, horseshoe pitching, marble shooting, fireworks, square dancing, Little League baseball games, and free movies for children to age 12.

"Everybody in Floyd county is invited to this Independence Day celebration here," Leslie says. "We want it to be an all-Floyd county affair."

FIRE LEVELS STEPPE CAFE

Frame Building Burned Late Saturday Night; Loss Believed $12,000

Steppe's Cafe at the top of Abbott mountain, near here, was leveled by fire late Saturday night, and with the building were destroyed all its contents.

The loss, exclusive of fixtures, was estimated at $10,000 to $12,000. The building, a two-story frame, was partially insured.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined. Victor Steppe, who with his wife, Nola, purchased the property about two years ago from J. E. Conley, said he locked up about 10:30 p.m., went to his home near Cliff and first learned about the fire when he returned the next morning. He said a cooler had not been working properly but that he pulled the power switch before leaving the place Saturday night.

Members of the family of Bee Daniels, whose home across the highway from the razed building was damaged by the heat, said the flames were first seen by them at the rear of the building. Prints of dual truck tires were found back of the building, but nobody who had seen a truck there has been found.

The building had been occupied at different times by various tenants, all of whom engaged in the restaurant business. The property, formerly was owned by W. J. Turner, of Drift, who sold it several years ago.

JUNE NAMED IN POLIO WAR

By Three Proclamations; Chandler, Stumbo, Sandige Urge Polio Immunization

June is Polio Prevention Month according to a proclamation issued May 31, by Gov. A. B. Chandler, County Judge Henry Stumbo and Mayor Harry Sandige, of Prestonsburg, issued complementary proclamations soon afterwards.

Gov. Chandler in his proclamation "urges all Kentuckians to see that every child under twenty and every expectant mother in the State is protected with at least one injection of polio vaccine during the month." The Governor requested the support of doctors, health officials and the general public in a state-wide immunization program before the polio season begins in July.

M. V. Clarke, Floyd county health administrator, said this week that there is an adequate amount of Salk vaccine on hand to care for the program in this county. No mass immunization program is planned here at this time however, Clark added. Immunization may be received at the health department or from private physicians.

BUS COMPANY TO BE SOLD

Sparks Brothers Company To Liquidate All Assets At Public Auction Friday

All assets of the Sparks Brothers Bus Co., Inc., including its franchise to operate, will be sold at public auction Friday morning at 10 at the company's garage on South Lake Drive here.

The sale was decided upon jointly by the present ownership, headed by C. W. Alley, president, and Oakley Sparks, of Paintsville, founder of the original Sparks Brothers Bus Company. Decision to liquidate assets of the company was made almost two months after it had suspended operation. Earlier negotiations by employes of the company to buy its rolling stock and to operate the bus line were fruitless.

Among the items of equipment to be sold for cash to the highest bidder are 10 buses, ranging in capacity from 25 to 29 passengers, garage and bus station equipment.

The bus line was bought from Sparks Brothers in 1951 by Mr. Alley, Fred G. Dickerson and other local associates. It operated from Prestonsburg to Wheelwright and through the Right Beaver Creek section to Hazard.

Since the line suspended operation, Prestonsburg has been without bus service. Service was restored to Allen and a part of the Left and Right Beaver sections recently when Delbert Ison, of Martin, began operation under a 90-day permit.

2 P'BURG MEN INVENT DEVICE

To Safeguard Drivers Against Brake Failure; Get Patent Protection

H. Press Hughes and N. M. White, Jr., Prestonsburg businessmen, have acquired patent protection on their invention, a safety device for hydraulic brakes, on which they have been working for the last two years. The original model has been tested on operating equipment to the complete satisfaction of the two men who designed and made it. Hughes and White claim their device, which has been patented under the name, "Hydra-Fill Safety Gauge," is the greatest safety improvement for motor vehicles since the introduction of hydraulic brakes.

Principal feature of the device is a small auxiliary fluid container with float inside, the container to be attached to and above the master cylinder. In case of minor leaks in the hydraulic system, additional fluid is supplied from this auxiliary tank and registered on the gauge on the dashboard. If a major or minor leak in the hydraulic system develops, using considerable pressure, a red light will show on the gauge, flashing to the driver, warning that his brakes need attention.

The auxiliary container, is easily filled and cleaned and just and dirt out of the system, thus prolonging the life of the master cylinder cups.

The patent says the device is inexpensive in both cost and installation, and provides safety protection for the driver to assure it an emergency in the event of a single accident. The National Safety Council reported on Pine

TRUCK KILLS BOY AGED 7

Jimmy Craft Is Victim On Way To Bible School Here From Little Paint

A seven-year-old boy was fatally injured this (Thursday) morning when hit by a truck soon after he and other children had left their homes on Little Paint Creek to attend vacation Bible school at the Church of God in the Porter Addition here.

The victim was Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Craft.

Charles Nelson, of Paintsville, shop foreman for the Valley Motor Company here, was the driver of the truck which hit the child. No formal charge has been filed against Nelson.

Deputy Sheriffs W. B. Boyd and Silas DeRossett investigated the tragedy. They said the children came down a path on the driver's left side of U. S. 23 in the vicinity of Petty's Meat Market on Little Paint, and that the Craft child was hit on the driver's right side of the road. The truck, they said, skidded 45 feet before hitting the child and about 75 feet afterward.

Nelson picked up the little boy and drove to the Prestonsburg General hospital, but the child was dead on arrival, it was said. Head and internal injuries resulted in his death.

The investigating officers said the path followed by the children onto the highway was grown up in weeds to such extent that Nelson's view was obscured.

Surviving, besides the parents, are seven brothers and sisters, Mrs. Phyllis Joseph, Van Lear, Donald Craft, Prestonsburg, Johnny Lee George William, Mary Helen, Doris Jean and Kenneth Ray, all at home.

The body is at the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements had not been completed this morning.

SURVEY FUNDS ARE APPROVED

By Senate, Wednesday, Clements Wires Times; Flood Wall Funds Voted

The Senate by full vote Wednesday approved, as Senator Clements had predicted, the $76,000 Big Sandy survey fund, and also voted $1,000,000 each for the Buckhorn reservoir and the Catlettsburg flood-wall.

The appropriation bill will now go into House-Senate conference to reconcile the difference between the bills as voted by the two legislative branches.

Senator Earle C. Clements said in a telegram to The Times late last week that he believes the full appropriation of $76,000 needed to complete the survey of the Big Sandy river during the next fiscal year by the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers is in sight.

Clements' confidence rose with the action taken by both the Senate Appropriations committee in approving the appropriation of that amount.

"I am confident of obtaining approval of the full Senate on this action taken by my fellow-members of the Senate Appropriations committee," Senator Clements said. Clements pressed for action by the two committees after the Big Sandy survey appropriations was cut last month.

KY. DEMOCRAT BATTLE NEXT AT CAUCUSES

No Compromise Seen Between Two Factions; Chandler Group Meets

There were strong indications this week that there will be no truce between warring factions of the Democratic party and that a stiff fight is in prospect June 30 for control of the county Democratic conventions.

"No action having the semblance of a 'deal' is planned," The Times was told this week in a discussion of the party's efforts to present as strong a front as possible this fall to Republican opposition in the race for the two U. S. Senatorial posts.

This source said the state Democratic Central Executive committee will perhaps, purely as a gesture of courtesy, name Governor Chandler head of the Kentucky delegation to the Democratic national convention. Governors of states are usually accorded this honor, it was explained.

But the possibility is dim indeed, it was said, that Senator Clements and Governor Chandler will agree on the Senatorial candidate to be named by the Central Executive committee next Tuesday, on the person who will be appointed by Chandler to serve in the stead of the late Senator Barkley till the November election, and on the matter of the Kentucky delegation's support of the Governor as a "favorite son" candidate for the Presidential nomination.

Ben Reeves, Courier-Journal political writer, reported from Frankfort on a meeting of about 50 of Governor Chandler's top county-organization leaders Monday, and that report, apparently based on direct information from the meeting held behind closed doors, confirms the claim that there is no settlement of issues between the Clements and Chandler forces within the party. County leaders, Reeves said, were warned not to be misled by reports of "deals" and "unions."

NEW LOCATION SET FOR RING

Conferees Recommend Ponies At Swimming Area Be Removed Above Dock

Removal of the pony ring operated at the picnic and swimming area of Stratton Branch on Dewey Lake to another site, to eliminate conditions which have drawn criticism, may be effected soon, it was said this week.

The change was discussed at a conference of state park and U. S. Corps of Engineers and county health department representatives with Bill Hines, concessionaire-owner of the pony ring and stables at the park.

Reporting on the conference at the lake, June 6, Harvey G. McAndrews, director of the Division of Public Health Sanitation, Division of Parks, wrote Mrs. Ben Kilgore, commissioner of parks, that location of the pony ring and stables near the swimming beach and picnic grounds, presence of flies and surface drainage from the ring and stables had been objected to by the public, and that he found the complaints justified.

It was recommended that the pony ring be moved as soon as possible so as to eliminate drainage and surface wash directly into the lake above the beach, that ground from the stable area on the hill overlooking the beach be sloped away from the swimming area and a tile drain be laid to collect drainage and discharge it into the lake well below the beach. Fly-tight manure pits at the stables and a daily spraying program also were recommended.

It was said that the pony ring will be located in the hollow above the Brandy Keg boat dock but that the stables will, for the present, remain in their original location. Removal of the stables from the beach area was advised for future consideration.

"The recommendations were given with the idea in mind," McAndrews said, "to remedy complaints already received to the best of our ability; and at the same time try not to work too much hardship on the concessionaire involved."

"Mr. Hines, the concessionaire," McAndrews added, "was very courteous and indicated his willingness to cooperate in any plan that would improve the area."

Records Show Arrests On Increase; 48 Jailed, Mostly for Drunkenness

A marked increase in the number of persons arrested in the county has been recorded at the county jail during the last two weeks, with 23 jailed Saturday night and 25 on the preceding week-end. Most of those arrested were charged with drunkenness.

These did not represent all the arrests made by deputy sheriffs, however, since some of those captured executed bond before Magistrates. One of these was Willard Hamilton, of Mud Creek, from whom 28 quarts of beer and eight half-pints of whiskey were taken Saturday night by Deputies Al Patton, Ed Ambury, Kelly Prazier, Silas Derossset and Grant Akers. One of the officers quoted Hamilton as saying, "I've got out of it before; I'll get out again."

Four were booked at the jail here Saturday night on drunk driving charges. They are: Charles T. Hamilton, Charley Fife, Willie Stone and Fred Hayes. Fife, Hamilton and Hayes also were accused of liquor possession. Ed Martin was named on charges of possessing moonshine whiskey and drunkenness.

James Hayes was jailed Tuesday by Deputy Sheriffs A. J. Reed and Ed Ambury, and is accused of breaking and entering.

Chandler himself paid a visit to the meeting later in the afternoon. Others attending the meeting were Robert Humphreys, chairman of the Democratic State Central Executive Committee; Rural Highway Commissioner J. B. Wells, and Deputy Highway Commissioner Bert Kiser.

The chairman of the Democratic Party in Kentucky is with us and it is mighty nice to have a fellow like Bob Humphreys on our side," Waterfield said.

He added that the Chandler Democrats must win control of the party machinery "so we can keep him (Humphreys) on as chairman." Humphreys told the group upcoming county conventions are more important than many persons realize.

Control of the county organizations will determine control of the the district and state central executive committees in Kentucky for the next four years.

Capture of the county machinery may "mean that Harry Lee Waterfield will be the next governor," Humphreys said.

The veteran party chairman said it is important that Chandler Democrats not allow themselves to be misled by rumors of intraparty deals.

"This thing is all important," he said.

Humphreys noted that large numbers of present Democratic county chairmen are "not our friends" and that it is "extremely important" that they be replaced by party officials favorable to the Chandler faction.

Wells said the job to be done by the Chandler forces at the June 30 county conventions "will separate men from the boys."

Members of the group from the meeting saying there was to raise funds to bid for the Democratic nomination by Governor Chandler.

At the general meeting, the group broke up into district huddles to discuss several local situations.

Some of the participants in the powwow included:

Thomas P. Fitzpatrick, Covington, speaker of the State House of Representatives; William L. Sullivan, Henderson, Administration leader in the State Senate; Jerry Howell, McDowell; A. J. Jolly, Campbell county; William O. Miller, Maysville; William F. Foster, Mayfield; J. Beasley Davenport and Tom Mobley, Bowling Green; Ralph Creal, Hodgenville; W. E. Crutcher, Morehead; Sam Sternberg, Nicholasville; Robert B. Hensley and Robert Hatton, Louisville; former Attorney General J. D. Buckman, Frankfort; John DeMoisey, the Governor's administrative assistant, and Harry G. Davis, executive secretary to the Governor.

to do everything possible to comply with the recommendations."

M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department to whom most of the complaints heard were directed, said the stables and pony ring were installed without the health department being consulted. An agreement was made last year which provided that all installations in the lake area affecting sanitary or health conditions be approved by the health department, the State Department of Health and the Corps of Engineers before work was begun.

Attending the recent conference, in addition to McAndrews and Clark, were Mr. Childs, Fred Martin, superintendent of Dewey Lake State Park; J. R. "Red" Weaver, Dewey reservoir manager, U. S. Corps of Engineers; John M. Stumbo and Earl Compton, health department sanitarians, and Mr. H. Nes, concessionaire.

Some Problems Are Listed

Some problems to be overcome in competition for world markets include: increased agricultural production in other countries, high prices for some U. S. products in comparison with prices offered by foreign producers, shortage of dollars in many countries, and international trade barriers.

Method of Control

Another method of control developed by recent research is poisonous baits. These combine poisonous compounds—malathion is one of the best—with sweetening agents that attract the flies and cause them to feed on the bait.

COAL MARKET RATED BETTER

Demand for More Services Creates Fuller Market For Bituminous Coal Industry

The bituminous coal industry can expect to share fully in the rapidly expanding energy market created by ever-increasing demands for goods and services, Tom Pickett, executive vice-president of the National Coal Association said in Washington Wednesday.

"Coal may well be entering its golden years," said S. C. Campbell, NCA president.

Mr. Pickett spoke at the opening session of the 39th anniversary convention of NCA, following the keynote address by Mr. Campbell, NCA president and vice-president of Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates, Pittsburgh.

"Coal's vast reserves, far exceeding those of competitive fuels in this nation, are expected to supply an increasing share of the energy requirements to power the nation's progress," Mr. Pickett declared. "This is testified to by government and industry as they analyze future demands."

The future of coal is brightened, the convention session was told, by the growing need for energy for electric generation, for steel production, for general industry, and the need for coal as a raw material for chemicals and synthetics, and for conversion into liquid and gas.

But no one should expect an undeviating, unbroken expansion of coal production in the future, the speaker warned. There will be peaks and valleys, he said, "but it would be unreasonable" to anticipate new lows "in the foreseeable future."

"As we participate in the nation's progress, we must seize the opportunities offered, and work cooperatively to secure impartial treatment from government and consumers," Mr. Pickett asserted. The industry must strive for greater efficiency and economy of production to keep costs competitive, but at the same time "establish and maintain a reasonable return and fair profit for its product."

Marking the rise in coal production from 392 million tons in 1954 to 470 million in 1955 and prediction of a 500 million ton total for 1956, Mr. Campbell called increasing demands for coal a "challenge to the industry" but gave a warning against any "tendency to over-optimism."

"There is need for caution," he said, "only to the extent that everyone understands that in a vast extractive industry like the coal business, replacement of plant, of obsolescent equipment, and expansion of capacity, must be met with adequate financial return."

"I believe that we can indeed look forward to an ever-improving position for coal that ought to be pleasing to the industry; to the railroads and other transportation which moves the coal; and to the customers in their expanded use of coal; as well as to a comfortable feeling to those in the Federal Government who appraise the ability of our vast industrial machine to carry on, not only in times of peace but in times of war."

the approximate amount claimed to be due. The court ruled that the special judge properly held that such demand was insufficient and had not met the minimum standards set forth in a previous case (Land vs. Lewis).

Appellants contended that even though there was no demand made on the fiscal court, the provisions of Kentucky statute 63.00 (2) dispense with the necessity of any demand if the County Attorney fails to institute action for six months. The Court of Appeals opinion held, however, that this section of the statute applies to cases where taxes have been levied for one purpose and diverted to another by the fiscal court, and has no application to allegedly unauthorized or excessive payments. "We have held many times," the opinion said, "that where it is alleged that county officials have received unauthorized compensation taxpayers must first demand that the fiscal court maintain the action, unless such demand would be futile."

On the claim of appellants that demand on the fiscal court would have been futile, the Appellate Court pointed out that the trial judge heard oral testimony on this issue for a period of three days, and found that a demand would not have been futile. "We have reviewed the record, which includes the entire transcript of evidence and the trial judge's findings, and we cannot say that his ruling was clearly erroneous," the Appellate Court opinion concluded in affirming Judge Grauman's decision.

One suit sought to recover $1,504.80 from Troy Sturgill, sheriff from 1946 to 1949, on the ground it was due the county and he had not paid it.

Another sought to recover a part of County Clerk DuRan Moore's salary on the grounds fiscal court illegally raised it from $750 to $1,200 a year.

The third sought to recover from A. B. Meade, former sheriff, certain expense accounts allowed him by fiscal court, including $75 a month for his private automobile.

The cases for the Tax League and its directors were filed by Jesse K. Lewis Lexington attorney. Attorneys for the officials in the three cases included C. Kilmer Combs, James Wine, J. B. Clark, Joe Hobson and Paul E. Hayes.

Efforts of Lewis to disqualify Judge Grauman in 1953 included an affidavit in which he charged that then Chief Justice Porter Sims of the Court of Appeals appointed Judge Grauman in a mutual conspiracy to decide the cases in favor of the officials.

This was the action that led to the disciplinary charges against Lewis which resulted in his suspension from practice for a period of six months.

The Appellate Court opinion was written by Commissioner Beverly Waddill. Justice Sims did not sit in the opinion handed down last week.

AN INDIAN PRAYER

O GREAT SPIRIT, whose voice I hear in the winds, and whose breath gives life to all the world, hear me. I come before you, one of your many children—I am small and weak. I need your strength and wisdom.

Let me walk in beauty and make my eyes ever behold the red and purple sunset. Make my hands respect the things you have made, my ears sharp to hear your voice. Make me wise, so that I may know the things you have taught my people, the lesson you have hidden in every leaf and rock.

I seek strength not to be superior to my brothers, but to be able to fight my greatest enemy—myself. Make me ever ready to come to you with clean hands and straight eyes, so when life fades as a fading sunset, my spirit may come to you without shame.

"Our Home Town Jubilee," a local talent comedy being sponsored of presentation here by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, June 15-16, has been indefinitely postponed. Miss Hilda Darnell, director of Kansas City, Mo., says. The veterans organization thought the play could not be successful due to the revival by Rev. Vince Cervera coinciding with the date scheduled by promoters, of the show.

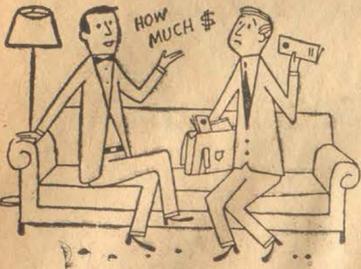

Herbert Patton, VFW member, and one of the play's promoters, says that right now the new date for the play cannot be scheduled for several reasons. Miss Darnell returned to Kansas City Wednesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Blackburn, Floyd Native, Is Killed On Ohio Farm by Tractor

Mrs. Elizabeth Collins Blackburn, 52 years old, former Floyd county woman, was instantly killed Saturday when a tractor on which she was practicing driving overturned, crushing her body between the seat and ground on the family farm near Jackson, Ohio.

Mrs. Blackburn and her 18-year-old son, Jacob Blackburn, were operating the tractor while her husband, Moses Blackburn, was on a trip to London, Ohio. The son, who was riding the tractor while his mother operated it, suffered internal injuries and broken ribs. More than an hour elapsed before help arrived and the efforts of 14 men were required to free the woman's body, it was said.

A resident of this county for 35 years, the victim was a daughter of Glover and Rilla Carter Collins and was a native of Thomas, near the Floyd-Pike line. She was a member of the Baptist church. Surviving, in addition to her husband, are eight sons and daughters, John Wheeler Blackburn, Jackson, O.; Mrs. Olive Garrett, Albion, Mich.; Mrs. Martha Bradley, Woodstock, O.; Mrs. Brakes, North Lewisburg, O.; William E. Blackburn, of the U. S. Army, James Everett Blackburn, Oak Hill, O.; Jacob and George Arnold Blackburn, both of Jackson. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Corey, of Ashland, and Mrs. Exie Jarrell, of Cow Creek. Roland Collins, Arcadia, O., and Jake Collins, of Greenup.

Burial was made Monday in the family cemetery at Oak Hill, Ohio.

Mountain several months ago with the loss of 11 lives, could have probably been avoided, had the driver received due warning of the condition of his brakes," Mr. White said in discussing the inexpensive safety factor involved in the invention.

Hughes and White are negotiating with several companies for the manufacture and marketing of the device which, they believe, will eventually be accepted as standard equipment on all cars.

Two Forestry Law Cases Settled Out of Court; Spring Fire Season, Over

Two forestry law violations were settled out of court in this county recently, according to Roe Turner, ranger. According to law they were allowed to pay the suppression cost, which was $10 each. They were David Collins, of Printer and Homer D. Neeley, of Bonanza.

There have been no fires in this county since May 6 and none in Magoffin county since May 11, Turner says. He has jurisdiction over both areas.

"The spring fire season is over," the ranger pointed out. "Farmers have about all burned their trash and brush and the woods are getting green. However the public is asked to remember that a summer fire, when dry days come can be just as disastrous as any other."

The Division of Forestry will be busy this summer even if there is no woodland blazes, Turner explained. There are the towers, four in this county and two in Magoffin, to repair and paint. In addition to that the personnel will carry on a program of education on forest fire prevention.

Tower observation was discontinued May 15 but will be resumed in September.

TAX LIABILITY RETROACTIVE ON STATE RETURNS TO JAN.

July 1, is the date set for 150,000 Kentuckians to start paying their part of the State income taxes for the first time. It is on that date that withholding of the higher income taxes enacted by the 1956 Legislature will start.

Here is how it works. If you are single and earn $12 a week or more, taxes will be taken out of your pay check by your employer. A married man with no children will be subject to withholding if he earns $24 a week or more.

But for these new taxpayers—as well as for the 450,000 persons who already have their taxes withheld—the new, higher tax rates are retroactive to last January 1.

This means that when you file your State income-tax return next year (before April 15,) you will have to figure your tax liability on all of the money you earned during 1956.

The higher tax rates actually will apply only to that portion of your income earned between April 1 and December 31. The old, lower tax rates will apply to income earned between January 1 and March 31.

Heretofore, you were required to file a tax declaration if you expected to receive during the year $1,000 or more from which no State tax was withheld.

Now, any Kentuckians who expect to receive $100 or more in 1956 from which no State tax will be withheld must file a tax declaration on or before next July 15.

These declarations are the taxpayers estimate of how much income he will receive during 1956, and how much State income tax at the higher rates he will owe. On July 15, the taxpayer is required to have paid in to the State at least two thirds of this estimated tax bill—either in studied and considered verdict of five men...

"I have requested my attorney, Paul E. Hayes, Prestonsburg, to inform the federal authorities concerning... my unauthorized dismissal and to take whatever court action is necessary."

Hayes said he is not certain what action he will take in Mrs. May's behalf. He said he understood that the merit system covering department employees has to be approved periodically by the federal government if the department is to get federal aid.

He said Mrs. May might achieve some redress through appeal to the federal government.

Dr. Louis C. Wesselman, acting chairman of the council when Mrs. May's case was heard, said last Saturday that no evidence was found against Mrs. May "that showed any violations of the Hatch Act or our own rules."

"Basically, the problem seemed to be that Mrs. May's husband was active in politics," Kesselman said.

Kesselman said that in almost all instances, a state government department head will follow the recommendations of the merit-system council.

Barnes this week rehired Mrs. Letha C. Eaton, who had been dismissed on charges of inefficiency. He made no comment on Mrs. May's statement terming her dismissal "purely political."

Just Graduated... To a Cadillac!

It's graduation time! And this happy gentleman — appropriately enough — has just gone through some important graduation exercises of his own.

It was just a few minutes ago, in fact, that he stood in his dealer's showroom and accepted the keys to his first Cadillac car.

But even though he now holds his final degree, so to speak, in motor car ownership, his education in all the good things of motordom is only beginning.

Take performance, for instance. The car is so smooth and powerful, and so nimble and obedient that it automatically revises a man's standards of automotive performance.

Consider comfort. Rolling along the broadest boulevard or taking the roughest bylane, the car is incredibly smooth and level in ride.

And think about pride and satisfaction. What an extraordinary feeling it is to sit in command of the "car of cars"—and find yourself the subject of admiring glances on every hand.

Have you ever considered how wonderful it would be to "graduate" to Cadillac? If you have, then this is a marvelous time to make the move.

Certainly, it has never been easier to sign your name to the title. We are, happily, in a position to offer you prompt delivery on your favorite model—and we know you will be pleased to learn how practical Cadillac ownership has now become.

Why not stop in while the springtime is still with us—and spend an hour at the wheel?

It's a wonderful season and a wonderful car—and a wonderful opportunity to enjoy them both!

Local Folklore Authority Invited to Participate In All-American Chorus

Mrs. Edith F. James, Prestonsburg singer, music teacher and folklore authority, has been invited to American Chorus as a charter member and possibly to make the 1956 European tour with the chorus as a means of focusing international attention upon the remarkable development of the art of choral performance in the United States.

The idea of the All-America Chorus was conceived by Dr. James Allan Dash, who presented his plan to the State Department. The mixed chorus will be composed of about 100 singers drawn from all parts of the nation. Outstanding soloists chosen from the chorus will be featured at all concerts. In addition, there also will be radio and television appearances.

Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France and England will be visited this year.

The Chorus, it is hoped, will be an effectual means of developing friendship between the American people and the peoples of countries visited. Music by American composers will be used exclusively.

Courts Holds A Wife Adopted by Husband Can Inherit As Child

Lexington, Ky., June 10—In an opinion in a will case, Circuit Judge Chester D. Adams said yesterday that a wife adopted by her husband as his daughter may inherit over blood relatives an estate held in trust.

The opinion said she would be considered "his natural, legitimate child."

The ruling came in a suit involving the estate of Mrs. Luella Graybill, who died in 1923. The petition said her will specified that her $64,000 estate be placed in trust for her son, Robert, with the balance left after his death to go to his heirs at law. He died last October 28.

His wife, Mrs. Louise Graybill, who was married to him in 1922 and adopted as his child in 1941, was among defendants. The suit asked if the wife was an heir at law of her husband and eligible to share in the trust.

The judge said arguments that the adoption was void as against public policy were "ingenious." He called "intriguing" the arguments that Graybill's widow "cannot occupy and take under the dual and inconsistent roles of wife and child."

He ruled Mrs. Graybill, as heir at law of Robert Graybill, was entitled to inherit the balance in the trust fund.

Judge Adams mentioned Graybill's attempt to "divert the course" of succession from the blood relatives to the wife.

The judge wrote, "He only did what any other man might do under the circumstances, when the ties of wedlock are stronger than those of blood, which is frequently the case."

Buick SPECIAL
6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

This '56 Buick is packed with new features—and priced
close to the smaller cars!

WANT SOME QUICK FACTS on the big news in automobiles today—news that can guide you to a smart move and a real smart buy?

Then listen—it won't take long.

The 1956 Buick has so many new developments—in styling—in power—in performance—in ride and handling—that it is, literally, the best Buick yet. That's Fact No. 1.

And Fact No. 2 proves it: Buick today is more strongly entrenched than ever in the top three of the nation's best sellers—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller cars.

One big reason for this success is the strapping new Buick SPECIAL—like the one pictured here.

It's priced right close to those smaller cars—but, like every '56 Buick, it's a whale of a lot more new car for the money.

It cradles a big, new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that's record-high in power and compression, and crammed with engineering news even the costly cars can't claim.

It makes the most of every bit of power with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that's the most efficient yet. With a new development the engineers call "double regeneration," Dynaflo gives you great new acceleration from the first thrifty inch of pedal pressure. Even before you switch the pitch.

And this '56 Buick cushions you in the softest ride ever. Shows an uncanny sense of direction on every curve and turn. Puts a whole new feeling of safety, security and solidity into every mile you drive.

So before you buy any car—catch up on the latest news. Come try a '56 Buick. When you see how much new automobile your money can buy, we don't think you'll ever settle for less.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Applications Approved For Scholarship Loans

Frankfort, June 14 — Thirteen applications for loans granted by the Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund were approved at a meeting here, according to Dr. C. C. Howard, newly re-elected chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Students may borrow up to $800 a year for four years if they agree to practice in an approved area, Dr. Howard said. If the student agrees to practice in Powell, Martin, Knott, Rockcastle, Magoffin, Elliott, Knox, Cumberland, Leslie, or Breathitt counties for a four year period, his loan is cancelled.

The Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund was established in 1945 and is sponsored by the Kentucky State Medical Association and the University of Louisville School of Medicine.

The 1956 General Assembly voted $50,000 for the fund for the next two years. Since 1946, approximately $173,350 has been contributed by individuals, organizations and physicians throughout the state.

86 Students from This County Enrolled at Pikeville College

Pikeville, Ky., June — A record 239 students, including 86 from Floyd county, are enrolled for the first term of summer school at Pikeville College.

More than half the number—182—are classed as juniors at the college, having completed more than two minimum years, or 55 semester hours of study. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, announced today. Of these, some 80 are prospective schoolteachers working beyond their "temporary" certificates, earned with two full years of college work, toward the provisional elementary certificate, which requires four full years.

The first students enrolled at Pikeville in several years from Leslie County, Kentucky, and Dickenson county, Virginia are in the group, which is the largest to register for summer classes there in the school's history. Also included are representatives from ten other Kentucky counties and the states of West Virginia and Ohio.

The previous record summer enrollment was 256, at the first summer session in 1950, Dr. Page said.

Third-year classes were opened only last fall at Pikeville, which had been a fully accredited junior college for 24 years. A full four-year course, leading to A. B. and B. S. in Education degrees, will be offered for the first time in September.

Each student can earn up to six semester hours in each of the summer's two five-week terms, it was said. The present term, ending July 8, will be followed July 8 by the opening of the second summer session, which will close August 10.

Other Kentucky counties represented are Breathitt, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Perry, Pike and Warren.

The Floyd county Girl Scout candidates elected to attend the National Roundup in Michigan in July attended the week-end encampment held at Camp Miriam Houston, near Kimball, in McDowell county, W. Work Deaths Highest In Farming Industry

An estimated 14,000 farm residents lose their lives in accidents each year and an additional 1,000,000 are injured seriously, says the National Safety Council and the University of Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service.

The two agencies point out that more work deaths occur in farming than in any other major industry, with an economic loss of about $1,500,000 annually.

These facts point up the need for safety programs and habits.

Oddly enough the age group from zero to four years of age accounted for nearly 8 per cent of the total, while the 15-to-19 age group totaled 9.49 per cent. But, the 20-to-24 year-old-group had the lowest rate, 4.72 per cent.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Some Fusses Faked, Says Leo Durocher

Dallas, June 9 — Leo Durocher, former manager of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, admitted today some of the arguments and rows he took part in while in the major leagues were for the benefits of the fans in the stands and those watching television.

"Sometimes I would be shaking my fist at Pinelli (an umpire) (and would be saying 'Babe, tonight you pick up the check,'" Durocher said.

Durocher, now a radio company executive, was in Dallas recently to speak at a dinner of the Dallas Friends of the National Jewish Hospital at Denver.

Ottawa, June 9 — Enough polio vaccine for the first inoculation of about a million Canadian children has been tested and approved by the Federal Hygienic Laboratories.

LADY GOLFERS IN TOURNEY

Paintsville Club Course Slated Scene of Annual Women's Group Meeting

The Paintsville Country Club course will be the site of the 13th annual championship tournament of the Women's Kentucky State Golf Association, June 18-23.

More than 100 feminine golfers from all parts of Kentucky will vie in the first women's meet held in Eastern Kentucky since 1928.

Charlene Gross, 1955 state champion, has agreed to defend her title, although this year she will be playing as a representative of the Owens Country Club rather than her native Winchester club.

Two other semi-finalists from the 1955 playoffs, Katty Wylie, Richmond, and Lois Straus, Louisville, both have notified club officials of their intentions to play in this year's meet.

Phyllis Kloecker, Lexington, another semi-finalist in 1955, has dropped from the picture in this event to enter the field of matrimony.

Elsie Johnson, playing out of the Ekhorn Country Club at Jenkins, will carry the hopes of Eastern Kentucky for claiming the '56 championship. She reached the finals of the '53 title chase at the Lexington Country Club.

Qualifying rounds are set for Monday, June 18, and the 32 low scores will form the championship flight in the battle for the big silver cup, emblematic of the Kentucky State Women's championship.

Match play will begin Tuesday morning, June 19, and end with crowning of the champion on Saturday, June 23.

In addition to the tournament, the visiting ladies will be guests of honor at a buffet supper in the clubhouse on Sunday. On Monday, June 19, the executive committee of the Paintsville Country Club will be host to a reception and the following night the association's annual banquet will be held.

The semi-final matches in the championship and first flight and the finals of all other flights will be staged Friday, June 22. Also, on the same day, non-winners may compete in an 18-hole medal event, and a putting contest is also scheduled.

Martin Wins First Game To Even Record, 1-1; R. Turner Hits Homer

Martin's first win of the newly begun Big Sandy League resulted in Drift's fall to last and fourth place as Martin won at Martin last Sunday, 11-7, behind the seven hit pitching of Hall, Martin hurler.

Collins, catcher for the Martin team, led the victors with three hits in six tries, while Allen, a teammate, also connected for three hits.

Ray Turner led the losers at bat while smacking out a homer and a single in four times at bat, McSurley, who was relieved by Collins, a left-hander, was the starting pitcher for the Drift team.

Little League Without Home-Plate and Backing Of Prestonsburg Parents

Little League officials say that home plate was really stolen the other night—and not in a ball game. During the night it was swiped by an unknown thief who did not stop with the home plate but continued his stealing ways around the bases.

This adds to the current woes of the Little League which is critically undermined. The players perform on a rocky field with deep ruts running between shortstop and third base. Dave Leslie says that he expects at least five or six bloody noses can be expected from existing conditions.

Asked why conditions aren't corrected, Leslie was quick to add that, as long as he has directed farm team practice thus far this year, there has been little to indicate that parents are overly concerned about the ball field.

Two plans have been mentioned to correctly maintain the field for safe usage for the Little Leaguers: (1) The parents can get together with the managers who will coordinate their efforts in maintaining the field or (2) they can, in the same meeting, fix an amount of money which will pay for the maintenance of the field.

Among the other needs of the Little League is a fence which will designate homeruns and enable the boys to play outfield as it should be played, a manager said.

Little League baseball is a civic effort, not a product of a few enthusiasts. The failure of boys to participate in on a Little League team can be traced directly to the backing of the boy's parents, it was said.

For the boys who are not playing, Commissioner Mack Harmon said "we could organize two more teams, but, with the kind of support we get from parents, we are doing well to keep the present four teams."

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Did you ever try stalking a bunch of crows as they foraged in a field? If you can do it, you are a master stalker indeed. You may put a rise between between you and the crows and approach with the greatest caution—but you won't surprise them. Their lookout will spot you every time. If you don't have a gun he allows you just so much distance before he signals a warning to the brethren. If you have a gun, the watchbird invariably sees it and doubles his caution.

Getting close enough under these conditions to shoot them with a shotgun is next to impossible. A 22 rimfire sometimes works, if you know your trajectory and have a lot of elevation in your sights. You'll be lucky to get within 150 yards of the birds, and that's a long shot with a rimfire. Pete Brown, arms and ammunition expert of Sports Afield magazine, thinks one of the high-powered centerfires is the best medicine. If a flock of crows hasn't witnessed the effects of high-powered rifles too often, a shooter can sometimes get field shots at 200 yards and frequently between 200 and 300 yards. This type of shooting calls for telescope sights.

Hunting crows with a shotgun is a completely different type of

The 1956-57 crop of Eastern Kentucky high school football and basketball coaches will be virtually the same as last season, but their faces will show up in different schools.

In a surprise move, the Floyd County Board of Education transferred Prestonsburg's basketball coach, Bill Goebel, Jr., to Auxier, the smallest school in the 15th region, and moved Auxier cage mentor, Jack Frost Wells, to Prestonsburg.

Wells, ex-Lincoln Memorial University cager, spearheaded Auxier to the best season record in the school's history last season in compiling an 18-10 record, although he had only 14 candidates for the team.

At present, Wheelwright does not have a football team, but it is expected to be added to the curriculum in the near future. Jamerson will guide the baseball and basketball teams next season.

BRUGH AT PAINTSVILLE

Walter Brugh, former assistant grid chief at Paintsville high to Jim Wheeler, has been elevated to head football coach and Wheeler will devote full time to his basketball duties.

Herman Bolin, two-year basketball tutor at Oil Springs in Johnson County, has taken a similar position at Millersburg Military Institute. Clayton Powers, recently resigned Pikeville football instructor, has been replaced by one of his former pupils, Bobby "Hooker" Phillips, two-letter halfback on the University of Kentucky grid teams for the past two seasons.

Rex Miller will guide the Ashland Tomcats on the gridiron next season, replacing Denver Ball, who is returning to Raceland after a five-year absence. For the past two seasons Ball has been at the helm of Ashland's grid forces. Ball replaces Paul Adams, who moved to Morehead State College, last spring.

In Letcher county, Ray Pigman, athletic director and head coach in both basketball and football at Whitesburg high for many years, has re-entered the coaching field and will take over at Jenkins high school. Pigman has not coached for the past two years.

hunting from start to finish. In the first place, it is wing shooting. When shotgunning the crow, it is largely a question of maneuvering the crow himself, and this requires some knowledge of crow psychology and crow language. You must make the crow a victim of his own devices. Where shooting crows with a rifle demands skill, mainly in rifle marksmanship, shotgunning them requires even greater skill in crow lore. Until one has mastered this, ability with the shotgun is of little consequence. Once crows are in range, however, they provide a tricky and usually long wing shot. The shotgunning must excite the crow's curiosity and natural love of a fracas in order to lure him away from his feeding. A good call, and knowledge of how to use it, together with an owl decoy, sets the perfect stage.

The Sea Bees made a successful assault, thanks to the big bat of Wendell Jones, who, when his outfit traveled recently to Long Beach, Calif., to meet the USS Frontier team, crashed two long homers over 400 feet with the bases loaded each time.

Jones, a southpaw first baseman who also swings from the port side, lined out his first homer in the first inning and the second in the fifth inning to down the opposition, 19-3.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Jones, of Maytown, Jones starred as both a prep cager and baseball player while attending Maytown high school. Later, after graduating from high school, Jones attracted considerable attention from big league scouts while he played in the Elkhorn League.

BIBLE QUIZ

By A. F. BARKER
(508 Euclid Ave., Bristol, Va.)

Q. Why is the name of Abraham of great importance in Bible history?

A. It marks the beginning of the Hebrew nation. God called this nation "ISRAEL." "I will make of thee a great nation . . . and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed." (Gen. 12:1-3).

Q. Where and when do we find the name of Abraham first mentioned in the Bible?

A. In his genealogy or family tree dating back to the Flood. He was a descendant of Shem, one of the three sons of Noah who came out of the ark. (Gen. 10:10-26).

Q. What was the plan and purpose of God in creating this new nation?

A. To set up His Name in the earth and to prepare for the coming of Jesus Christ the savior of the world. "And she shall bring forth a son and thou shalt call his name Jesus; for he shall save his people from their sins." (Matt. 1:21).

Q. From Abraham to Jesus Christ what three important periods of time are marked equally by generations?

A. "So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations." (Matt. 1:17).

Q. In the biblical usage of the word "generation" how many years go to make up that period of time?

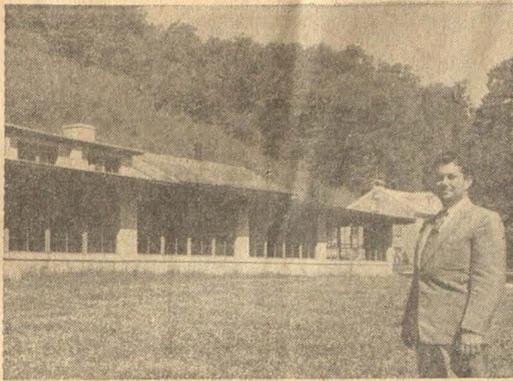

A. Probably around 40 years. For example, "And He made them wander into the wilderness forty years, until all that generation had done evil in the sight of the Lord was consumed." (Numbers 13-32).

Q. Said the Jews to Jesus "Art thou greater than our Father Abraham who is dead?"

A. Said Jesus, "Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day; and he saw it and was glad." (John 8:53-56). "As touching the dead that they rise . . . I am the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, not the God of the dead but the God of the living. Ye therefore do greatly err." (Mark 12:26-27).

Rev. Gordon Duncan, president of Magoffin Institute, and the new classroom-administration building which will be completed this summer.

Mountain Valley, Ky., June 1 — (Spl.) — The building of one and one-half miles of highway here this summer will complete a gap in State Highway 378 and make some of the most remote sections of the state available to the traveling public, the Rev. Gordon Duncan, president of Magoffin Baptist Institute, has announced.

To illustrate his point, Mr. Duncan said that the actual highway distance from his school to Salyersville will be 19 miles when the road project is completed as compared with 50 miles now.

Completion of the road will make it possible for the institute, which includes grades one through twelve, to serve many additional pupils who are not now attending school anywhere, Mr. Duncan said.

Anticipating an increase well beyond the 80 students who were enrolled at Magoffin during the school year just closed, the board of trustees has appropriated funds to complete construction of a new classroom and administration building which has stood unfinished for the past two years.

The new building will include eight classrooms, the school library quarters, a gymnasium-auditorium, and administrative offices. It is valued at $100,000.

Eighteen families in the vicinity of the school have petitioned the Bell Telephone Company of Jackson for telephone service and have been assured that there is good prospect telephone service can be extended to the community in the next few months, Mr. Duncan said.

HEALTH NOTES

By Floyd County Health Department

NEW RESPONSIBILITY FOR FAMILY DOCTORS

In the past the family doctor was seldom thought of in connection with treating tuberculosis. This highly complex disease was left to specialists specifically trained to fight the "great white plague."

Although it was always important for the family doctor to be able to recognize tuberculosis in his patients, today he is being brought more and more into the treatment as well as the diagnosis of the disease.

What has happened to bring about this change? The discovery of drugs to treat tuberculosis and the medical advances of recent years mean that, under certain circumstances, victims of tuberculosis may go home to continue their treatment after an initial period in a hospital. Because these patients must take good care of themselves and often must follow prescribed treatment for a long time after leaving the hospital, the family doctor becomes very important as the guardian of their health.

Since he has greater responsibility for caring for tuberculosis patients, the family doctor must know more about the disease than ever before. This situation may require some important changes in the teaching of tuberculosis in the medical schools, with greater emphasis on diseases of the chest than ever before.

Tuberculosis associations are encouraging the teaching of tuberculosis in medical schools on a broader scale so that the young men now training to become doctors will be able to care for the tuberculosis victims they will find among their patients in the years to come.

The Symbol of an Age Stands Guard Across America

Who hasn't seen the high voltage towers, carrying the electric power that means life to the steel mill, assembly line, community and home? These towers are the symbol of an age and their numbers indicate the strength of America.

Fifty years ago, when the American Gas and Electric Company was founded, there were no such towers. America had known of electricity for only a quarter of a century. Methods of producing and delivering it were crude and inefficient, and its uses—even in industry—were limited.

To improve service, increase the supply, and lower the cost (which was four times higher than it is today) this company embarked on a full-scale development and research program. This has resulted in many technological advances in our industry and will continue to do so at an ever increasing rate.

For example, in 1916, as a result of this research, the first 132,000-volt transmission lines in the world were pioneered by our System and became the standard throughout America. Another great stride came in 1953 when the highest voltage lines in the U. S., carrying 330,000 volts, were put into service on our System.

Today, as a company in the seven-state American Gas & Electric System, we are proud of this "50 Years of Progress in Electric Power"—progress that has enabled us to give you better service at lower rates.

"Wilderness Road" Goes Into Second Season
 The dramatic production "Wilderness Road" which depicts man's struggle with complexities caused by living in a community divided on a vital issue, begins its second season June 30 at Berea. The play was seen by approximately 60,000 persons in its first season and won for Paul Green, author, the George Washington Medal of the Freedoms Foundation as the outstanding American play of 1955.
 In an outdoor theatre, this new drama recreates the Kentucky of 100 years ago. It portrays a long wilderness road—which has nothing to do with Indians and bears—that men travel toward peace and understanding. It has ballads, bow ties, calicoes, the every-day routine of mountain people, war, victory and heartbreak.
 Action of Wilderness Road centers around fictional brothers, John and Davie Freeman. Davie, a mountain farmer, became a Confederate lieutenant in General Bragg's Confederate Army. John, a pacifist, was a school teacher who wanted to see his neighbors' children learn to read and write regardless of their race, color or creed. He taught his school until it was destroyed by night-riding neighbors. He refused to fight but cared for the wounded and buried the dead. He witnessed his Union and Confederate neighbors praying for peace and he heard them utter the same words to the same God. "Destroy them, O Lord, for our cause is a just cause."
 "Wilderness Road" was commissioned and produced by Berea College in celebration of the College's centennial year. It will be repeated annually at the Indian Fort Theatre which was made especially for this presentation.
 The 1956 performance will be held at 8:15 (C.D.T.) each night except Sunday until September 1. There will be a special Sunday performance July 1. For reservations and information contact "Wilderness Road," Berea, Ky.

June Frankfort Fete Set To Honor Boone
 Frankfort, June 14 — On a June 7 many many years ago, a man by the name of Daniel Boone climbed Pilot Knob in Powell County. From his lofty perch the leader of Kentucky pioneers first feasted his eyes upon the great Kentucky Meadow—the Bluegrass region.
 In memory of the day, the occasion and the consequences of that June 7, the Kentucky Historical Society holds an annual observance, "Boone Day," at the Old State House here.
 Dr. Philip G. Davidson, president of the University of Louisville, will be the main speaker at the June 7 fete this year. His topic will be, "Our Colonial Heritage." George Fowler, Frankfort, will preside during the festivities.
 A portrait of Governor George W. Johnson, Confederate governor of Kentucky, will be unveiled by Court of Appeals Judge Porter Sims, of Bowling Green, where Johnson had his state capitol.
 The Frankfort members of the society will serve a buffet luncheon to the visitors. Later in the afternoon the society members will attend an open house at the Lt. Governor's new home.
 Purpose of the Kentucky Historical Society is to collect and preserve documents and artifacts on Kentucky history. The society maintains the museum at the Old State House.

5-State Areas Undergo Studies in Truck Farming
 Frankfort, June 14 The University of Kentucky Agriculture Experiment station will undertake pilot studies in five sections of the Commonwealth to determine their suitability for truck crop production.
 Dr. C. D. Phillips, agricultural economics professor, and Frank Lebus, chief of the agricultural development division of the State Agricultural and Industrial Development Board, said a meeting of various state and federal agencies was held recently to discuss the program.
 Lebus said food processors have been showing increasing interest in obtaining fruits and vegetables from within the Commonwealth in commercial quantities.
 "As a result of federal government cutbacks in tobacco acreage, there is a definite need for alternate farm enterprises to supplement income to Kentucky farmers," Lebus stated.
 Dr. Phillips said soils, irrigation facilities and other conditions would be taken into consideration in exploring the possibility of profitable truck crop production. The test areas are: Clinton, Fulton, Hickman, Hartford, Frankfort, Morehead and Somerset.

Cities May Impose License Tax on Cars
 Frankfort, June 14 — The City of Danville may impose a license tax on every automobile owned and operated within the city, but no discrimination may be shown as between resident and non-resident operators, Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman ruled. If the license is confined to residents "there is a possibility that the ordinance could be attacked on the grounds of class discrimination, without a valid basis for a difference in classification between non-residents and residents."

Water Survey Report Available from Agency
 Frankfort, June 14 — An average of approximately 150 gallons of water a minute is available to wells of industries and public water systems located on the northern border of the eastern coal field region according to a U. S. Geological Survey report prepared in co-operation with the State Agriculture and Industrial Development Board.
 The report estimated the total pumpage of water in the 29 counties covered by the survey at approximately 115 gallons a day; about 14 million gallons is used for public supply and the remainder for industrial needs.
 The survey is one of five covering the industrial and public water supplies of the entire State. The studies are jointly financed by the A. and I. D. Board and the Federal government.
 A copy of the report entitled "Public and Industrial Water Supplies of the Eastern Coal Field Region, Kentucky," may be obtained free from the Geological Survey, General Services Administration Building, 18th and F. Sts. N. W., Washington, D. C.

School Board Must Pay For Services
 Frankfort, June 14 — School funds may not be used to maintain a county health department R. E. Devis, superintendent of Carlisle Public Schools was thus informed recently by R. F. Matthews, Jr., assistant Attorney General.
 The school board had desired to contribute towards the salary of a county sanitary inspector and other expenses connected with the maintenance of the Nicholas County Health Department. Matthews said the Commonwealth's Constitution prohibited such allocations of school funds.
 He, however, suggested the board might employ the county sanitary inspector for a certain specified time, at a definite salary, to inspect property and premises with regard to the maintenance of certain sanitary requirements.

FLOYD RANKS NEXT TO PIKE

Nineteen Floyd Students At Pikeville College On Year-End Honor Roll

Pikeville, Ky., June 11 (Spl.) — Nineteen Floyd countians, including four members of this year's graduating class at Pikeville College, are on the year-end honor rolls at Pikeville, made public today.

"As in the past, Floyd county ranks second only to Pike county, from which most of our students come, in the number of students making honor grades," Dr. A. A. Page college president, said in making the announcement.

Floyd county placed 11 among the 51 freshmen, two of the 15 non-graduating sophomores, and two out of 19 juniors making honor standings, Dr. Page said. All were ranked by their last year of work.

The graduating class was composed of those completing two years of work in the junior-college department of the Pikeville school, which offered third-year classes for the first time this year and will become a four-year college next fall. Out of the class of 70 graduates, 23 qualified for the honor roll by making grades averaging B or better—two grade credits per semester hour—in their second year of work at Pikeville.

Two young Pikeville women, both preparing to be teachers, took top honors in the graduating class. Ruth Redwine (Mrs. Charles Redwine) won the major commencement prize, the Dr. W. E. Condit award of a gold watch, with a perfect all-A record, a standing of 3.0 credits per hour. Evelyn Sue Howard won the Margaret E. Record prize of $20 in cash with a standing of 2.88.

The Floyd countians on the honor roll of graduates are Danese F. Amburgey, Allen; Emma Grace Hartley, Betsy Layne; Pauline Hicks, Hippo, and Patsy Ruth Webb, Auxier.

Also receiving honor listing are juniors Adrian N. Collins, Prestonsburg, and Andrew J.
