

THURSDAY

This Town— That World

Eastern Kentucky—the Dark and Muddy Ground.

Things are getting back nearer normal. Not all the news in this week's paper is about the flood.

But this '57 flood will be something for our children to talk about, years from now. We can see those future oldtimers yanking at their goatees and remarking to some young whippersnapper, "My boy, if you think this is big water you should have seen the flood of '57." And if the flood story grows as others grow in these parts, by that time they will have the water level just shy of the courthouse belltower.

We are reminded that integration took another step forward a few days ago when Don Adams, of Wheelwright, became the first Negro to be appointed a Floyd county deputy sheriff.

NOT SOLD

A correspondent who signs his contribution, "Mumpsimus," writes to say he has been approached since the recent flood by several firms in the field of hydraulic engineering. Says the best proposal he has had the misfortune to receive came from a company that deals in hydraulic jacks.

"If every house had been equipped with our hydraulic system," he quotes this firm as proposing, "all would have been completely safe from water. If a house had had our hydraulic jacks installed under it, all the owner would have had to do as the water rose would have been to push a button, the house would rise in the air and everybody inside would be high and dry."

Still Mumpsimus isn't sold on the plan. He wonders what sort of person would go about setting hydraulic jacks under every nook and cranny of his house in order to take to the air when the water got too near.

WE CAN'T IMAGINE

Wonder why Mrs. Naomi Goble Gagle thought of her desk when she read this in The Journal-Gazette, Ft. Wayne, Ind.?

Someone—it could have been Elbert Hubbard—once said a clean desk is the sign of an orderly mind. Someone else said a clean desk is the sign of a lazy occupant.

Norman Hoemig, Churubusco patrolman, gave no thought to such deductions that night he found the back door open at the Tri-County Truth Publishing Co. and took a look inside. He immediately telephoned Publisher Jim Kirtley.

Kirtley found Patrolman Hoemig waiting for him. "Look at this mess," he said. "I found the door open, the light on and all this stuff strewn over your desk. I guess whoever did it really ransacked the place."

Jim pawed through the papers on

NOT QUITTING, FIRM DECIDES

Only One Business Here Not To Reopen; Moves To New Sites Planned

One Prestonsburg business, the Bargain Store on Court street, managed by George Smith for a London (Ky.) owner, will reopen soon, thus reversing an earlier decision to move away after it had suffered heavy losses in the recent flood. Only the Turner Department store will not reopen and its remains the lone business fatality due to the flood.

Other items on the business front include plans for the moving, the first of next week, of Curtis May's market from its Lake Drive location to the building occupied for years on Court street by the late Roy Perry and subsequently by Mrs. Perry. Mr. May has purchased the Perry property and plans to open for business Monday.

Marvin Music, Gulf Oil products distributor, bought the Leader store building on Court street some time ago after it was damaged by fire. The Leader, now in the Harlowe building on First avenue, will move back to its former location when remodeling is completed.

John Collins, manager for the Jackson Furniture company on North Lake Drive, has leased the E. B. Brown building formerly occupied by Meade Hardware Company on Lake Drive and will conduct a general furniture business there. Collins plans to open his new place May 15.

Heber Burke, owner of Nunnery's grocery store, is converting his business into a self-service store. Krogers is completing repairs made necessary by the flood, and will reopen soon.

$52,294 Road, Bridge Aid Sought by County

CIVIL DEFENSE HELP SOUGHT FOR REPAIRS

Schools Suffer Damage Estimated at $308,000; Engineer Studies Loss

County-owned roads and bridges suffered damages totaling $52,294, according to estimates made by Northcutte Rawlings, Pikeville Engineer.

The engineer made the flood damage survey for the county to enable county officials to present their claims for state and federal aid.

The figures were presented Tuesday by County Judge Henry Stumbo and County Attorney Hollie Conley to Adj. Gen. J. S. Lindsay, Civil Defense administrator for Kentucky.

At the same time Virgil O. Turner, superintendent of Floyd schools, and Wayne Ratliff presented to General Lindsay figures showing the county's school damage totals $308,000.

"Floyd county is going to have a tough time of it, and the people will have to be patient about their roads and bridges," Judge Stumbo said. "We will get things done as quickly as possible."

The Rawlings survey shows that Magisterial District No. 1 had the heaviest flood damage to county bridges and roads—$21,482. Biggest single item was the Knotley Hollow bridge across the Big Sandy. Estimated cost of construction of a new bridge there was placed at $18,000. Other District 1 damages:

Timber bridge on Abbott Creek, three miles west of the junction with U. S. 460, and 36-inch pipe in Church Hollow Branch on Little Abbott, $200; 24-inch pipe at Marion Neeley, property, $140; removal of slide on Little Abbott road, $222; 24-inch pipe on Little Abbott road, $196; slide on Little Paint-Whitaker road, $900; 36-inch pipe with 200-foot fill on Lower Bull Creek road, $924; repair of suspension walk-bridge at Dwaile, $400.

District 2 had $13,392 estimated damages, listed in these items:

Double string of 48-inch pipe under Buck's Branch road and approach over pipe, $732; repair of swinging bridge across Beaver Creek at Hueysville, $100; low water bridge over Beaver Creek, 5 mile north of Bosco, $5,000; approach to bridge over Beaver Creek at Welco station at Garrett, $300; low water bridge over Right Beaver Creek at Wayland, $2,000; low water bridge on Collins Branch, 5 mile north of Dema, $5,500; Hayes Branch road off of Turkey Creek road, fill section badly damaged, $300.

District No. 4 total damage $12,100, including these items:

Washed-out sections of road along Tinker Fork, $600; washed-out

Rites for T. J. McCoy, Aged Thomas Resident, Conducted Last Week

Funeral rites for T. J. McCoy, 82 years old, well-known Floyd man who died Feb. 12 at his home near Thomas, were conducted Friday and burial was made in the family cemetery at Thomas.

His death followed a long illness and confinement to a wheel chair for years. He was a son of Andrew and Louise Fraley McCoy. He was a retired farmer, and was a member of the United Baptist Church.

Mr. McCoy's wife, Celia Cornett McCoy, preceded him in death. Survivors include seven daughters and two sons, Mrs. Anna Collins, Slagle, W. Va., Mrs. Nancy Nickles, Inez, Mrs. Maggie McCoy, Thomas, Mrs. Carrie Taylor, Ironton, O., Mrs. Opal Fields, Moree, Ky., Mrs. Pearl Hensley, Maher, W. Va., Jemima McCoy, of Thomas, Bill McCoy, Prestonsburg, and Reuben McCoy, of Thomas. He also leaves 46 grandchildren and 37 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was conducted by the Revs. Billy Nickles, Blaine Fraley, Jim Howard and Johnny Nickles. Burial was under the direction of the Moore Funeral Home.

STATE POLICE SUSPEND TRIO

Watts, Howard, Taylor Accused of Misconduct During Flood Emergency

Alleged misconduct during the recent flood emergency has resulted in three officials of the Pikeville state police troop being suspended pending investigation of accusations made against them, it was announced last Friday.

The three officers who were suspended are:

Capt. John P. Watts, 48, of Muldraugh, the Pikeville-area troop commander.

Lt. Homer Howard, 53, of Royaltown, second in command.

Cpl. Ira Taylor, 35, of Pikeville.

Director Smith said the suspensions are indefinite, pending the preferring of formal charges after which the men will have five days in which to respond, should they care to contest them.

Transferred to Pikeville as acting troop commander was Capt. Vernon Sanders, of London. Sanders formerly was Pikeville area commander. This leaves Sgt. Jack Cobern in charge of the state police troop area at London.

Captain Watts has been a member of the state police, and its predecessor, the old state highway patrol, since 1942.

Lieutenant Howard has been with state police since March, 1948. Corporal Taylor has been a member since August, 1948.

Flood Protection for Three River Valleys Asked of Congress by Senator Cooper

Senator John Sherman Cooper announced last week that he has represented both immediate and long-range recommendations to the President, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, and the Chief of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for action designed to provide flood protection for the Big Sandy, Kentucky and Cumberland river valleys in Kentucky.

His recommendations, Cooper said, had been presented also to the Senate Committee on Public Works.

Cooper said his views were based on a combination of past studies of the river systems, his observations during a three-day trip through the flood disaster area last week, and extensive discussions with top officials of the Corps of Engineers.

The latter included Colonels E. J. Stann, H. F. Skidmore and E. D. Comm, district engineers, respectively, of the Nashville, Huntington and Louisville offices of the Corps having jurisdiction over the Cumberland, Kentucky and Big Sandy rivers, respectively, as well as Washington headquarters officials. The district engineers accompanied him on his tour of the disaster area, he said.

"While the Corps of Engineers cannot make surveys, plans, or construct flood works except by authority of the Congress," Cooper explained, "there are certain steps that can be taken under existing legisla-

APPLY NOW, NEEDY TOLD

Rehabilitation Phase After Flood Under Way; 1,000 Expected To Apply

Now in the rehabilitation phase of its work following Floyd county's recent flood disaster, the American Red Cross is urging flood-sufferers who have not applied for aid to do so at once.

J. B. Green, Jr., area director, American Red Cross, said applications would be filed at disaster headquarters at the First Methodist Church here. The pastor of the Church, the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, is county Red Cross disaster chairman. Already about 800 applications have been received, and the total is expected to rise to a thousand.

"We want to get needed help as quickly as possible to the people," Mr. Green, Nineteen case-workers from all parts of the county are located here now to help speed up the investigation of each case. The work should be finished in about six weeks, he said.

The county Red Cross advisory committee met for the first time last Friday night and has set up future weekly meetings for Thursday nights. Individual cases will be presented to members of the committee. Another meeting, this with Red Cross officials and workers conferring with about 25 flood merchants, was held Monday night.

Mr. Green corrected misinformation as to materials which should be returned to disaster headquarters here. A report spread to the effect that the Red Cross is demanding that mattresses and other materials it had furnished be returned. "That isn't correct," Mr. Green said, explaining: "The only things we have

Strawberry Group Picks New Directors, Manager; Specialist At Meeting

Two meetings of the directors of the East Kentucky Strawberry Growers Association were held recently at the courthouse to elect officers, transact business and employ a manager. The Monday evening meet, reemployed Harold Rice as manager.

Russell Meade, president of the growers' group, was reelected and E. B. May, Jr., was named treasurer. A meeting Tuesday, Feb. 12, named Virgil Smith, of Allen, and E. B. May, Jr., of Prestonsburg, as the two Floyd county directors. Johnny Laferty, Sr., of Cliff, was named alternate director.

The Friday evening meeting of last week heard W. I. Farmer, strawberry specialist with the University of Kentucky's Extension Service, point out that this year was expected to be a good year in strawberry growing profits as the bottom of the cycle was reached last year and prices would improve this season.

The Association is buying crates again for Floyd growers and will distribute to the farmers. Orders are being accepted for two weeks yet for strawberry plants and Robert M. Jones, county agent, urges prospective growers to order at once.

One daughter, Mrs. Irene Stephens, of Prestonsburg, survive as do the following sisters: Mrs. Mary Hale, Cody, Neb.; Mrs. J. M. Hamilton, Wenatchee, Wash.; Mrs. Harry Neeley, Bruni, Tex.; Mrs. Fred Patrick, Portsmouth, O.; and Mrs. Marvin Matthews, Ponca City, Okla.

Funeral rites were conducted at 1:30 p.m., Sunday from the First Methodist church, the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor, officiating. Burial was made in the Mayo cemetery under the direction of Carter & Callahan Funeral Home.

Fallbearers were Chalmer Frazier, Dr. George Archer, William Arrows, Tom G. Dingus, William Dingus, Norman Martin, Newton May, Tom Fields, Sam Hatcher, Jimmy Hatcher, George T. THREE NABBED FOR LARCENY

Men Named in Robbery Of Lackey Store Owned By Mother of Sheriff

Two men and a juvenile have been arrested in the looting Friday night at Lackey of the oft-burglarized store of Mrs. Mary Collins, mother of Sheriff Gorman Collins. An estimated $1,000 worth of groceries, drygoods and cash were taken.

One of the two men arrested, Berlin Jacobs, escaped from the Wayland city jail after his arrest and was a fugitive Tuesday. The other, Clyde Hicks, is in the county jail here where he was booked on breaking and entering and grand larceny counts. The boy implicated with them had not been booked at the jail Tuesday afternoon.

John Henry Keathley was jailed here Friday and held for Ohio authorities in connection with an automobile case. It was said that he had brought to this county an auto on which payments were due. Others jailed within the week on major charges:

William O. Stith, of Martin, cutting and wounding; Norman Hamilton, conversion; Jerry Stone, attempting to rape; Jimmy Ray Frasure, drunk driving.

BOOKMOBILE ORDER MADE

New Unit and 500 Books Expected in Few Weeks, Miss Willis Announces

Floyd county is getting a second Bookmobile—and it will be one never used before.

This, Representative Lon C. Hill, who is a member of the Floyd County Library Board, was told Monday in a telephone conversation with Miss Margaret Willis, acting director of the Library Extension Division.

The new Bookmobile has been ordered and delivery is expected within six to eight weeks, Miss Willis said.

With the new unit will be coming also a compliment of 500 completely catalogued books.

And, if the use of second Bookmobile is desired before the new unit arrives, Miss Willis said, a used unit, two or three years old and completely overhauled, is available to Floyd county now. The supply of 500 books could be brought here with this Bookmobile, then transferred to the new machine when it arrives, Miss Willis told Hill.

The Library Board will probably meet within the next few days to decide if the older machine should be put into immediate use.

Mrs. Bertha Patton, 70, Of Prestonsburg, Victim Following Long Illness

Mrs. Bertha Carpenter Patton, of Prestonsburg, died at 2 p.m. Friday following a long illness. She was the widow of Henry F. Patton, former county superintendent of schools, who preceded her in death several years ago.

Mrs. Patton was born May 23, 1886, in Magoffin county, the daughter of George Carpenter and Darcus Stephens Carpenter. She was a member of the First Methodist church here.

One daughter, Mrs. Irene Stephens, of Prestonsburg, survive as do the following sisters: Mrs. Mary Hale, Cody, Neb.; Mrs. J. M. Hamilton, Wenatchee, Wash.; Mrs. Harry Neeley, Bruni, Tex.; Mrs. Fred Patrick, Portsmouth, O.; and Mrs. Marvin Matthews, Ponca City, Okla.

Bondholder Files Action Against Floyd Officials

POWER LINE WORK BEGUN

Line from Hi Hat, Part Of $2 Million Project To Plant in Virginia

A contract has been awarded the Fossier Engineering Company, Columbus, O., for construction of the Kentucky portion of a 132,000-volt transmission line from Beaver Creek station at Clear Creek to the Clinch River plant at Carbo, Virginia.

F. M. Baker, Kentucky Power Company vice-president and general manager, in making the announcement last week, said that the Kentucky portion of the line will be 17 miles long, running from Beaver Creek, about 15 miles west and south of Pikeville, to the Kentucky-Virginia border. There it will tie into the Virginia portion, being built by the Keystone Construction Company of Huntington, West Virginia to the plant.

The entire line will cost more than $2 million and will be a double circuit on steel towers. Mr. Baker said that the Clinch River plant, now under construction, is owned and operated by Appalachian Electric Power Company, which, like the Kentucky Power Co., is affiliated with the American Gas and Electric Company System.

Construction work on the line began Friday. Right-of-way clearing has been under way for some time. Steel delivery is expected by March. This line is one of several which will link the 450,000-kilowatt plant with the power company's present network of high voltage lines.

Right-of-way clearing is being done by Charles and Thompson, Pikeville contractors, and the Ohio Timber Company, Dayton, Ohio.

JURY ROSTER INCLUDES 36

Civil Session To Begin March 4th; Mrs. Allen Admitted to Floyd Bar

Names of 36 petit jurors, drawn from the jury wheel for service at the March civil term of the Floyd circuit court, were released this week by Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley. The term will convene Monday, March 4.

The current month is being devoted to the hearing of equity cases in which a jury is not required.

In court Tuesday morning a new attorney was added to the list of practicing members of the Floyd County Bar Association when Mrs. Cassie P. Allen, wife of Former County Clerk Jarvis Allen, was sworn in as an attorney by Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill. Mrs. Allen, who was admitted to the Florida bar following her graduation from the University of Miami law school about three years ago, recently passed the Kentucky bar examination.

Names of jurors slated to serve at the March court term follow:

Birkey Endicott, Banner; Marvin Marshall, Water Gap; Mrs. Bess Daniels, Prestonsburg; Mrs. Nannie Baldrige, West Prestonsburg; Ada

5-Year-Old Child Drowns Near Home While Playing; Is Recovered Downstream

A five-year-old child, Jeffrey Lynn Johnson, of Melvin, was drowned in Left Beaver Creek, Sunday, Feb. 10. The child, playing with another child near his home, fell into the water and was recovered over a mile downstream. He was rushed to the McDowell Memorial hospital but the doctors pronounced him dead on arrival.

The child was a son of Geneva Johnson and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Johnson, of Melvin. Surviving, besides the mother, are two brothers and a sister: Ronnie and Roger Johnson, both of Melvin and Glenda Johnson, of Bypro.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, of last week, at 10 a.m., at the home of the grandparents, ministers of the Regular Baptist church officiating. Burial was made in the Tackett cemetery at Melvin under the direction of Call Funeral Home.

3 FROM FLOYD GAS VICTIMS

Green Gearheart, 86, Daughter, Son-in-Law Found Dead Saturday

The bodies were found in the Sexton home, where Mr. Gearheart was visiting, at 1 p.m., Saturday. A police investigation was made, and it was later announced there was no evidence of foul play.

First knowledge of the tragedy was gained when a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sexton called at the home. According to reports received here, he found his mother lying across a bed, his father in the bathroom, and his grandfather in another room.

Mr. Gearheart was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bud Gearheart, pioneer residents of the Salt Lick section of the county, and had spent practically all his life in this county. He was a retired farmer. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ellen Huff Gearheart, two sons, Woods Gearheart, of Hueysville, and Bert Gearheart, of Columbus, and five daughters, Mrs. Ellen Martin, Mrs. Oma Mitchell, Mrs. May Wise, Mrs. Annis Holbrook and Mrs. Sally Cronin, all of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexton leave two sons, Ernest Hayden "Skeets" Sexton and Joe Sexton, both of Columbus. Mr. Sexton was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sexton, of Garrett. He was employed at a Columbus manufacturing plant. Besides his sons, he leaves five brothers, William Sexton, Corbin, Ky.; Bert and Edgill Sexton, both of Columbus, O.; Leonard Sexton, Garrett, and Lester Sexton, of Lackey.

Funeral rites for the victims were held Wednesday, and all were buried in Union cemetery, Columbus.

SUIT NAMES JUDGE, FOUR MAGISTRATES

Judgment of $198,000, Rate Increase Sought In Federal Court Suit

Suit was filed in U. S. District Court at Pikeville Feb. 11 by attorneys for U. H. Benderman, one of the holders of bonds issued by the Floyd fiscal court in the purchase in 1953 of certain Floyd county water and gas properties, and Benderman named as defendants county officials and others.

Plaintiffs were listed as County Judge Henry Stumbo, Magistrate Grover C. Holbrook, Ellis Martin, Edgar Howell and John May, all of whom were sued as members of the fiscal court and also sued individually; W. J. May as county treasurer, the First National Bank as depository, the Allen-Wayland Gas District and its manager-treasurer, John Allen.

The position, which was prepared by the Louisville law firm, Skaggs, Rays & Fahey, asks the court to:

1. Enjoin and restrain W. J. May, county treasurer, and the First National Bank from expending any revenues of the gas system for any purpose other than paying bonds and interest.

2. Enjoin and restrain the Allen-Wayland Gas District and John Allen from spending any revenues of the system for any purpose other than to retire bonds and pay interest.

3. Grant judgment against Floyd county in the amount of $5,255 past due interest on bonds.

4. Issue a mandamus requiring the fiscal court to make such rates and charges effective that will pay judgment, interest and principal of the bonds.

5. Direct a personal judgment against the County Judge and Magistrates in the amount of $198,000.

The judgment is asked as damages based upon depreciation of the value of the bonds issued, the depreciation allegedly resulting from the failure of the officials to perform their duties as to fixing rates sufficient to meet principal and interest.

The Allen-Wayland Water District is a non-profit organization effected for the operation of the several systems acquired by issuance of the bonds, and it was formed with the acquiescence of bondholders, it was said. The original bond issue totaled $226,000, and gas systems serving Wayland, Estill, Garrett, Bosco, and Allen, and the Weeksbury water system, were purchased with the proceeds from the bonds.

The federal court suit was viewed here by one defendant as a move to force the fiscal court to increase

VEHICLE LOSS IS $100,000

Flood Damage Locally To Cars, Trucks Told; Loss Partly Covered

Damage to automobiles and trucks in Prestonsburg and vicinity from the recent flood is estimated at $100,000. Most cars under water for two days are being considered a total loss, it was said this week.

Very little insurance covered losses due to the flood it was also pointed out. Most coverage was on automobiles or other moving vehicles.

One insurance agent said that many cars, including all with deferred payments outstanding and a few others insured by individual owners, were covered. Plate glass was one of the chief items covered, as were a very few building foundations, possibly no more than five in the county.

Flood insurance is one category of coverage that insurance companies think should be partially assumed by the government. It was pointed out that there is reason to believe the government will this year begin assuming 50 per cent of the losses from floods and if this federal action is taken the insurance companies will carry the remainder.

Some businesses, like chain stores, carry their own insurance against floods in a self-insuring fund that reimburses the losses to individual units of the system.

Long Jump in Education Made by Floyd Countian

It's a long jump from a teacher in the Floyd county school system to a state leader in In-Service Teacher Education with work centered in 38 Eastern Kentucky districts, but Harry A. Banks bridged that gap quickly.

In between the two jobs was a period of preparation filled with hard work and several academic honors. A military career interrupted the Bull Creek native's climb in the educational field but he has moved along until now he is an important cog in the state-wide machinery that assists teachers and principals with their problems.

Banks has an office on the campus of Eastern State College, Richmond, but is out in the field most of the time helping teachers, as Eastern Progress, the college paper, says, "to meet the challenge of the Minimum

GOVERNOR OKAYS MONEY TO BUILD HEALTH CENTERS
Gov. A. B. Chandler recently approved an allotment of $250,000 from the capital construction fund to be used for the construction of local health centers. These funds will be used in conjunction with the local and federal funds in an over-all 4-year plan to provide adequate facilities in every county of the State for the operation of a public health program. Dr. James W. Martin, Commissioner of Finance, said.
"The State plans to allocate $250,000 for the construction of health centers next year from the capital construction fund and to submit a request to the Legislature for $500,000 for the next biennium, Martin said.

Wednesday was Friendship Day in Prestonsburg as high school girls pinned on lapels of residents and visitors here paper pennants bearing the greeting, "Howdy! I'm Your Friend." The special day was conceived in connection with the revival service being conducted through the week at Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church by Evangelist Mel Dibble, former TV star. The first to get one of the Friendship Day pennants was the pastor of the church, the Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr. The pin-up job is being done by Miss Barbara Isbell.

'Teacher Views The School Crisis,' By Mrs. E. R. May, New Book on Sale

More complete instruction in the lower grades; less emphasis on the "social" aspects of school, and stronger pre-school preparation—these are just a few of the stimulating ideas discussed in A TEACHER VIEWS THE SCHOOL CRISIS, by Wilma Gunn May—an excellent new offering in educational literature just published by Pageant Press, Inc. of New York.

The author, a former Floyd county teacher and resident of Langley, now lives at Tollesboro, Lewis county, Ky.

Presenting vivid actual classroom incidents, Mrs. May, who has had many years of experience in the classroom, reveals a number of clearly defined themes and suggestions for relieving the weakness in modern "progressive" education. Highlighted are the dangers of the lack of competition stimulus; what happens when incapable students are "passed" just to prevent overcrowding of classrooms; why spiritual guidance is so necessary in the scholastic training program.

There are many comments from leading national educators in A TEACHER VIEWS THE SCHOOL CRISIS, which includes crystallizations of Mrs. May's discussions with parents and other teachers over a number of years. One parent, the Rev. J. E. Felty, Jr., of Ashland, Ky., says of the book:

"It should challenge parents, teachers . . . to a deeper sense of responsibility for the unquestionable decline in education."

Mrs. May has done extensive lecturing, writing and radio work on church, juvenile delinquency, world affairs and dhomemaking. She and her husband, E. R. May, moved to Tollesboro, Lewis county, early last year. They have two children and three grandchildren. Mrs. May has had previous works published in Home Life Magazine, Western Recorder and The Grade Teacher.

Among the Floyd countians mentioned in the book are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hatcher, Bob and Maude Ellen Hatcher, Kelly Coleman, Mrs. Austin Rector and Annette Rector, Jack Stanford, Mrs. Hazadore Gibson, Archie Beverley, of Wayland; Mrs. Kathryn Morgan, and son Charles, and Oakie Smith, of Estill; James Sallsbury, Denzil Halbert, Sherill Frazier, Dortha Allen, Grace Allen, Sonja Greer, Ena Straub, Iola Crisp, of Martin; Thomas Clark May, Violet Allen, Nickie Turner, Olive Tingle, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hagans and Paul Hagans, Libby Ree Flannery, Maytown; Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. Frank Layne, Blanche Dingus, V. O. Turner, Ottis Spurlock, Bob Wallace, of Prestonsburg; "Copper" John Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Martin, of Garrett; Mr. and Mrs. Cletis Setser, of Woods; Alex Spencer, Jr., of Eastern, and others, including some former citizens of the county. A number of distinguished educators are quoted in the book, which is based on a four to five-year study of school problems now confronting parents and teachers throughout the country.

NEW FACES In The COURTHOUSE

In making my announcement for County Judge of Floyd county I wish to make it clear I am a bonafide candidate and expect to win—by the Grace of God and the help of the people who want their courts to dispense justice instead of politics, and to give all decisions according to the letter of the law tempered with mercy. My decisions in your court will never be made by the yardstick of political prestige or the number of votes in your family, or whom you are related to. I will not hamper every effort made by the officers of the county to enforce our laws. I will not bow and scrape to the lawless element. I will not be a buddy to the bootlegger. I will not expect any contribution from the lawless element for the next election. I will fight to make Floyd county a clean county.

I feel that my opponents may be well qualified but not worthy of this high office. For the most part they have been tried and found wanting. The time has come for the people of Floyd county to take the deed that the courthouse gang has had for your offices away from them and give one of your young men an opportunity to dispense justice with equality to all.

You have had eight years without a Judge—now try four years with one. LET'S HAVE A NEW DEAL AND A FAIR DEAL WITH EDD AMBURGY FOR COUNTY JUDGE, Democratic Primary, May 28, 1957. (Pol. Adv.)

We Are Optimistic

Our guess is that Floyd county's and Eastern Kentucky's greatest days are ahead—the recent flood and threats of future flood notwithstanding.

Our confidence in the area is founded in its people and the sheer courage they have evinced under the most trying conditions. Had they reacted to disaster as snivelling weaklings, looking for an easy way out of the mess, there would be no cause for optimism such as we express here.

We think of many instances of the quiet sort of heroism that does not make news, that few hear about, although such unassuming courage that springs from the very souls of men is of the highest importance.

We recall the merchant who was literally wiped out, all his savings gone, and his decision to stick it out. "If I hadn't owed anything, I might have left, but I have to pay my debts." This man isn't young any more, he could have taken the easy way out as so many in the past have taken and resorted to bankruptcy proceedings—but he did not. And there were many others who faced the same plight in the same way.

And another who said: "I believe in Floyd county, the people are my friends and they've been good to me. Why shouldn't I stay?"

Another: "I'm not downhearted. Things will work out all right."

Then there were those whose homes were literally looted by the water of everything worth having, those who were left without even a bed, and without money to buy new furnishings. Help came to them, giving them a glimmer of hope, but without help most of them, we are convinced, would have dug out of the ruins and continued as best as they could to live in Floyd county.

Surely such courage, such a people, will not go unnoticed by the federal government as it works for the common welfare in this country of ours. If flood control and river navigation are brought to this valley—if the federal government will tug at one side of the boot while we tug at the other—this land of a great and courageous people will amaze a lot of people who cannot see beyond the skyline created by the first hill or mountain that rises before them.

We and the Doctor Disagree

An Eastern doctor predicted last week that in a matter of ten years or so seventy-five per cent of the young men of this country will be failing physical tests for the armed forces.

This sad deterioration of the young American male is now in the process of taking place as a result of chemical fertilizers and insecticides used by farmers and gardeners, the doctor avows.

We were at the point of agreement with this prophecy of physical weakness, but we disagree about the cause. The good doctor apparently has developed a phobia about chemicals and their effect on foods, and he could indeed be on sounder ground than we think, but it strikes us that something less esoteric than chemical formulas may be the cause.

Sleeping and eating habits, for instance. And, maybe, a lack of physical exercise.

The youngsters are burning the midnight oil, all right, these days, but the oil that's being burned is in the family car which doesn't come to rest till far past midnight. Unable to walk a block to the grocery store, total strangers to hoe or axe, they suffer from want of exercise. Loath to go to bed, they rise in a Dagwood-like rush, skip breakfast and scurry off to school.

The vitamin bottle does not restore those things the adolescent thus loses. We somehow have an idea the loss of these ingredients to good health—sleep, regular meals and appetite-creating exercise—may have more to do with present and future physical weakness than any chemicals that may remain in vegetables after Mother Nature gets through with them.

FLOODS ALONG KENTUCKY'S WATERWAYS ARE 200-YEAR-OLD SOURCE OF WORRY

By JOE CREASON (In The Courier-Journal)

What to do with or about its rivers—and there are 81 such streams inside the state or on its borders—isn't a problem that only in modern times has troubled Kentucky.

Sometimes one tends to assume, for instance, that floods are a threat inherited by modern generations because in years past timber along the watersheds was slashed away, removing Nature's most effective deterrent to the fast runoff of water.

That we may be a major factor in floods like that which struck Eastern Kentucky last month. But it isn't the only factor.

For floods were rolling down Kentucky's rivers when the region was a trackless land of forests so dense the treetops cut off the view of the sky.

In the journal he kept of his exploration in Kentucky in 1750, Dr. Thomas Walker told of a "frightening tide of water" on the river he named for the Duke of Cumberland. One entry pointed out that for several days the valley between present-day Pineville, where Dr. Walker first saw the river, and Barbourville, near where he built a cabin, was so flooded that it "resembled most the sea in width," and the force of the water was so strong "it uprooted giant trees of oak and hemlock and carried them along on its crest."

Daniel Boone, after an extended visit to Kentucky in 1770, returned to his home with tales about "mighty forests that teem with game" and rivers which at certain times became "raging torrents that are swole far from their natural banks and strive to wash away the very hills" between which they flowed.

The first flood on the Ohio River of which there is any known account came in March, 1774, a year before there even was a permanent white settlement in the state. Trappers and explorers, including Boone and James Harrod, told of a "remarkable high freshet" on the river from Fort Pitt to the falls.

Other Ohio floods, according to early historians and journals, occurred in 1789, 1817 and 1832.

The breaking up of winter and long, heavy February rains caused the flood of 1932. The Ohio flooded to a width of several miles in spots. Water rose steadily from February 9 to February 16 in Louisville until it created 63 feet above the normal low-water mark. Nearly all the frame buildings along the river in Louisville were destroyed and business was halted for days.

On December 9, 1847, the Licking River rose so fast along nearly all its course that people were forced to flee from their homes in their night clothes.

The Licking went on another rampage in March, 1854, when it rose more than 20 feet in 15 hours. At Sherburne, Fleming county, the Post Office and some 10 frame dwellings were lifted from their foundations and washed away.

Stages between Mount Sterling were halted for four days, and for a week trains were unable to move on the railroad between Lexington and Covington. Eight persons drowned. In those early times, as today, the Government took official notice of the rivers and the recurring flood threat they posed. The very first act passed by the Kentucky Legislature on December 15, 1792, pertained to rivers. Many other early acts were along the same line.

The first company chartered to improve any river was the Kentucky River Company in 1801. It was authorized to clear the river, from its mouth to its South Fork, of all obstructions which "they may judge will obstruct the passage of boats or which may impede the free flow of water in times of flooding."

Between 1808 and 1839, surveys were made of the Cumberland, Red, Rockcastle, Big Barren, Salt, Rolling Fork, Little Sandy, Big Sandy and Kentucky Rivers. In each instance, attention was given to the desirability of maintaining navigation and also to the necessity of cutting down the danger of floods.

For instance, in 1835 the Big Sandy and its Levisa Fork were surveyed from Pikeville to the mouth, a distance of 116 miles. The survey showed that the descent of the river for that distance was only 146 feet, a little more than 15 inches to the mile. It concluded that such a gradual fall made the river highly vulnerable to floods, a fact that Pikeville, Prestonsburg, Paintsville, and Catlettsburg know only too well.

The survey pointed out that the towns had been built where they were in order to be near the river and because the only flat land to be found was adjacent to the streams. Two recommendations were made: 1. The removal of "rocks, snags, and leaning trees and the excavating of a channel through the main shoals and ripples to aid navigation and give excess water unimpeded passage."

2. A study be devoted to the "reasonableness of erecting small dams on tributary streams as a means of retaining excessive water . . . which would be retained until the main stream no longer is in flood . . . or the water is needed to aid navigation in period of low water."

Which is exactly what Eastern Kentucky folks have been suggesting for years.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

Your County Court Clerk's Office was re-opened for business as usual Wednesday, Feb. 6. The water got in the office 40 inches deep. I stayed with the office almost continually for two days and nights. I got cut off by the water and couldn't get back home, but I could get in sight of the house where I could see that Kathleen and the children and our neighbors whose homes were flooded and were staying with Kathleen were doing alright.

When the water began to get close to the Courthouse, I started carrying the records up to the second floor in the County Courtroom, and when I got out the last load the water was deep enough in the office until the boat would just go under the door. Nothing in the County Clerk's Office was damaged. Everything was kept perfectly dry. The records are all in fine shape. Come in and see us when we can be of any help. We will be glad to see you.

FLOYD COUNTY REGISTRATION AND PURGATION BOARD

The Floyd County Board of Registration would like for all persons whose names appear in the following list to know that they have been sent at least one notice, and in many cases two notices that they should have their voting places changed. The reasons, their having moved into another precinct, have re-registered since their voting registration, and should re-register, have moved out of the county. Many deceased persons' names appear on the list also.

The only way the Board has to compile an accurate list is to have the co-operation of the Election Officers in checking your voting record each time you vote, which we shall endeavor to have done in coming elections. The returned envelopes are marked by the postmaster, "Moved, Left no address," "Unknown", or "Unclaimed." According to the law these persons are automatically subject to being purged from the voting records.

We sincerely hope that no person is inconvenienced in any way to vote, and if any member of the Board can be of any assistance to you, please let us know, whether the Board is in session or not.

It looks like Judge Hill is doing a lot of apologizing over his official conduct as judge during the past 20 years. Well, maybe he thinks he should apologize, especially, at election time. To me, Judge Hill seems to be apologizing for his record instead of running on his record, as you would expect him to.

Foundation Program." In addition to this duties as an In-Service consultant, he is a member of the board of directors of the Student National Educational Association and organizes new chapters over the state.

There are aside activities of Banks, though, that must be compensating for his grind in the educational field. He accompanied two education supervisors from Egypt on a trip around the state not long ago and was delegated to accompany a cabinet member from Iran on his visit to Eastern Kentucky. The Iranian, a Mr. Gafari, visited Prestonsburg with Banks. Gafari, of course, was telling Banks nothing he didn't know, Banks being a Floyd countian, when he said the people were sincere, friendly and hospitable.

Other jobs, too, claim Banks attention besides his work as a faculty member at Eastern which takes him out into the 22 counties of Eastern Kentucky. Recently he assisted in the evaluation of the Winchester school system and more work of that kind is planned for him. One recent educational event planned by the former Floyd county teacher was an area conference on in-service training held on the campus at Eastern, Jan. 12. He is assisted in his work by such leaders in education as Drs. D. T. Ferrell, J. D. Coates, R. E. Jagers, D. T. Carty, and Henry Martin, another Floyd countian who is Eastern's Training School principal.

Banks' rise in the educational field may be said to have started when he began to work with Dr. Lyman Ginger as a coordinator of the Legislative Research Committee while at the University of Kentucky. The work, directed by Dr. Ginger, was part of the preliminary phase of launching the Foundation Program for Education in Kentucky.

Banks earned his A. B. and M. A. at UK, after studying at Pikeville College and at Morehead State College.

It was his fellow students at the University that first surmised he was on the road to a successful career in education. They voted him, two years in a row, "The Teacher Most Likely to Succeed."

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT OPENS MONDAY

The annual 58th district tournament (Floyd county) will open at McDowell next Monday night, with two games scheduled for Monday and Tuesday nights, then one game for each of the remaining four nights of play.

Host McDowell and Garrett will meet in the first game, and Prestonsburg and Betsy Layne will tangle in the second game. In other opening round games, Tuesday, Maytown vies with Auxier and Wheelwright squares off with Wayland. Wednesday, Martin enters action against the winner of the McDowell-Garrett fray.

BEST IN REGION

The Courier-Journal has asked us to name the 15 best high school basketball players in the 15th region; so we are listing our selections here. The order of listing does not necessarily indicate standard of ability.

Bryan Hall, Paintsville, 17-point average; Edgar Rister, Garrett, 34.4; Porter Powers, Auxier, 38; Charlie Osborne, Flat Gap, 35; Carroll Burchett, Flat Gap, 22; Tommy Adkins, Pikeville 22; Charles Blevins, Betsy Layne, 21; Ray Clarke, Betsy Layne, 19; Bill Caudill, Maytown, 20; Bill Elliott, Maytown, 25.4; Tommy Daniels, Paintsville, 16; Howard Hatfield, Belry, 23.4; Junior Horn, Inez, 22.8; Murvil Blair, Oil Springs, 18; Darwin Smith, Pikeville, 15.

All are seniors except Powers, Burchett and Clarke, who are juniors, and Blair a sophomore.

LACK OF GYM FORCES CANCELLATION

Each basketball season, oddities crop up as coaches sometimes mix up their schedules, forget to hire officials or have two games scheduled on the same night, but Prestonsburg's mentor, Jack Frost Wells was forced to cancel a game last Saturday night with Lucasville, Ohio, since he was unable to obtain a gym in which to play the game. The game was originally carded for Martin, but the flood forced a transfer to Paintsville. Then Paintsville forgot the commitment, and had another game scheduled and wouldn't let Prestonsburg in as part of a twin bill. McDowell, in addition to being used by the home school, was serving Betsy Layne and Martin and, playing Martin on that night, did not want to share a good game with non-drawing Prestonsburg. So Prestonsburg cancelled the game.

REGIONAL AT PAINTSVILLE

For the second time in the past four years, the 15th regional tournament will be held in the Paintsville high school gymnasium, possibly March 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. Rumor has it that several hopeful coaches, who expect to be in the tournament, favor playing one semi-final game on Thursday and one on Friday. Others want to play one game in the afternoon and one at night and make it a three-day affair.

Oddly enough, Pikeville won the tournament when it was held in Paintsville two seasons ago, beating 32-game Meade Memorial to win the highly prized trip to the state tournament. In the '54 and '56 tournaments, held on the Pikeville floor, Inez and Wayland advanced to the state tournament.

FOOD NOTES
By Dixie Trapp
Home Demonstration Agent

TOP OF THE MORNING

February has been officially tabbed as "Better Breakfast Month." That makes it a good time to take stock of your morning eating.

Longest span of time is between the evening meal and breakfast. The most work, mentally or physically is done during the morning hours. So it adds up that you should eat breakfast. A well balanced breakfast will provide one-fourth to one-third of the whole day's food requirements.

Today fixing a good breakfast is easy. Set the table the night before. Take advantage of the modern timesavers—prepared mixes, ready-to-eat cereals, canned and frozen fruits and fruit juices.

Plan the breakfast to satisfy your family depending on the type and amount of activity. Include a fruit, cereal or bread, and milk. A heavier breakfast will call for eggs, meat, or specials like pancakes, french toast, etc.

A well balanced breakfast regularly makes you work better, play better, feel better, and it keeps you more cheerful all day long. Are you eating one?

For those who have little time to prepare breakfast, here is a suggestion. Keep extra spread in the refrigerator.

HONEY NUT ROLLS

Combine 2T. Honey, 2T. Sugar, 2T. Soft Butter or Margarine and 2T. Flour. Spread on top of 8 brown-and-serve rolls. Sprinkle 1/4 c. Broken Nuts over. Place on greased baking sheet, and bake in moderate oven (375° degree) till lightly browned, about 15 minutes.

his desk and broke down laughing. He had to admit no intruder had been there. His desk always looks that way.

WARNINGS

The following is a collection of safety signs seen at danger points along North Carolina highways:

"From one friend to another; Slow down brother!"

"Driving speed, 55; Social Security, 65."

"Heavy foot, light head, bad curve, stone dead."

"If you must kill yourself, get off the highway."

"Don't be impatient, it's a short hill."

"Are you driving yourself to death?"

"Centerline is your lifeline."

"A minute you spare will get you there."

"Are you tail-gating?"

"If you're in a hurry, it's later than you think."

"Our kids we need. Check your speed."

"Take your time. The judge can wait."

"Careful with a car full."

"Highways and graveyards both crowded."

BAPTISTS TO AID FLOODED CHURCHES

Kentucky Baptists have contributed $11,430 so far toward a fund of help flood-damaged Baptist churches in Eastern Kentucky.

A spokesman for the General Association of Baptists in Kentucky said it expects more contributions.

The appeal for help was made February 5 by the association's executive committee and many churches took a special offering last Sunday.

The executive committee will decide March 5 at its regular meeting how the money will be used. At least 10 Baptist churches are known to have suffered extensive flood damage.

Why Go To Church?

The big new Ford
-with a little low price!

The new '57 Ford Custom 300 Tudor.

It's the longest, lowest, liveliest and loveliest Ford ever... yet it's yours at low Ford prices!

New! You bet! There's nothing newer at any price. To begin with, the "Inner Ford" is completely new. The wheelbase is longer. You get a choice of two big new Ford sizes. The frame is wider. The inside is roomier.

And the big new Ford is big in V-8 GO! You have a wide choice of Silver Anniversary V-8's for every horsepower need... or a new Mileage Maker Six. One of the biggest things about Ford is what it did at Bonneville, Utah. Here, the '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than twenty days! Need any more proof that the new '57 Ford is rugged?

Best of all, big as this new Ford is, the price is still Ford-little. You can see why more than ever it's a car that will stay worth more. Why don't you try the new Ford soon... and see how much you can get for so little.

Try the new kind of FORD that makes luxury a low-priced word

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SALUTES POWER COMPANY

The people of Eastern Kentucky who were momentarily stunned by the magnitude of the recent flood disaster are all to be commended as they are rolling up their sleeves and diving into the mud and cleaning up the debris. They are beginning to rebuild their homes, shops and industrial installations. Among the many groups who deserve special mention are the people of the Kentucky Power Company. Although many of them suffered great personal damages to their homes, by some miracle that can only be explained by hard work under hardships by long hours they kept the magic lamps burning. I know that the morale value of being able to turn on a lamp seems to erase the darkness of this disaster. When I realize the vast, complete nature of your installations, I can only say I don't see how you did it but I am glad you did. A. E. HAYES

I GOT HIM OUT!

I hear that recently, my opponent, Burnis Martin, has been showing to a select group of people a picture of himself, taken in the Floyd county Jail. I do not know why he would want to inject such a thing in this campaign unless it would be to mislead some person, or appeal to the sympathy or emotion I understand the warrant was issued by the County Judge, on affidavit or request of Doug Hays, and that Mr. Martin was arrested and taken to jail when the county judge was out of town or could not be found. Dan Martin, brother of Burnis, came to my home the same day Burnis was put in jail and I accepted a bond and released him and turned the bond over to the county Judge the following day. Now, if this picture has anything to do with the question of who would best serve you as Circuit Judge the coming term, I cannot see it. If the showing of the picture is intended to deceive some voter, then I would think an attorney wanting to be Circuit Judge, would not try to deceive, but would be interested in coming out four square with all the facts. Anyway, Mr. Martin will have to admit I accepted bond and released him from jail. If he was unlawfully imprisoned he has a remedy against the proper person. I had nothing whatever to do, with his imprisonment. His jail picture has no place in this campaign. Respectfully yours, EDW. P. HILL (Poll. Adv.)

asked that folks return to us are Army cots and blankets which we loaned the people during the emergency period. If these aren't returned, the Red Cross will have to pay the Army for them. It was explained that the aim of the Red Cross is to restore householders to their pre-flood status, not to attempt to put them in better condition than they were before their belongings were damaged. "If, for instance", it was explained, "the flood-victim used a small refrigerator before the flood and it was ruined, we want to replace it with a refrigerator of the same size and quality." It was pointed out that if a householder is given an order for $199 refrigerator, say, and he applies that $199 on a costlier model, with the dealer accepting that amount as the down-payment and carrying the remainder on instalments, prosecution of the dealer may result. 18-Year-Old Voters were not born when Banner Meade first went into office. National Constitution Used As Kentucky's Model

Kentucky's first constitution was modeled to some extent on the National Constitution. All white males over 21 years of age were permitted to vote, the Governor and Senators were elected by an electoral college, slavery was protected and a bill of rights of 27 divisions was attached.

Tax Post Test Results Given

Frankfort, Feb. 24 — Revenue Commissioner J. E. Luckett has announced the results of the examination of applicants for county tax commissioner given Feb. 5.

Of 315 persons from 104 counties who took the examination, 214 successfully qualified and have been mailed certificates. Of the remainder, 99 persons either failed or did not complete the examination and two were below the legal age limit. The percentage of persons qualifying and failing was approximately the same as in 1953 when 185 qualified and 91 failed out of a total of 276 taking the examination.

The examinations were given by eight teams of Revenue Department employees. Kentucky law requires all candidates for county tax commissioner to pass this examination, except that incumbents may seek reelection without examination.

The law also requires that records relating to the examination be kept in the Department of Revenue files for one year, and anyone who took the examination may review his own record.

Qualifying in Floyd county, for the office of Tax Commissioner, besides the incumbent, Clive Akers, are Manis Conley, Harry Gordon Allen and Jerry Ponce Howel.

Daniel Boone Ran Tavern
In 1786, Daniel Boone and his wife operated a tavern at Maysville for three years. Mrs. Boone conducted the hostelry, while Daniel hunted, trapped and traded up and down the Ohio River.

Capitol Notebook

Kentucky folklore is the theme of a new play to star Beulah Bondi, noted Broadway and Hollywood actress.

Miss Bondi will use Kentucky homespun products in her costumes. She collected these products during recent visits to the Kentucky hills to see local crafts and attend folk song festivals.

The play will be first produced at the University of Denver.

NEWS SERVICE OFFERED

The State Agriculture Department is considering establishment of a placement service for veterinarians similar to the one serving physicians.

Graduate vets seeking communities in which to set up practice would be advised of locations lacking such services.

The Commonwealth maintains no school for veterinarians. But it grants the Auburn, Ala., Polytechnic Institute $40,000 annually to accept 10 Kentucky students a year at regular tuition fees rather than out-of-state charges.

FARM NOTES

By County Agent Robert M. Jones

STRAWBERRY FIELDS

Strawberry fields should receive the spring application of fertilizer before March 15. This spring application is most important. Strawberries have to make relative fast growth between now and May. In order to get this growth, the soil should have an abundant supply of plant food.

During last picking season, farmers that fertilized in February and March had yields above average and the quality of their berries were good. Those that did not fertilize found that their berries kept getting smaller as the picking progressed. The reason for this is that the available plant food ran out and the berries were unable to mature properly.

The fertilizer to use should contain no nitrogen, that is the first number in the formula should be 0. If nitrogen is added the berries will be soft and mushy and of poor quality. Do not apply manure in spring as it is high in nitrogen.

To receive maximum results use 1,000 pounds of 0-12-12, 600 of 0-20-20 or 400 of 0-30-30 fertilizer should be broadcast over the entire patch. If this fertilizer is applied before new growth starts there will be no damage to the strawberry plant.

To obtain best results strawberry plants should be set in March. If anybody would like to order plants they will have to act now, before the available plants are all sold. Contact the county Extension office in the post office building, at Prestonsburg, for more information.

The outlook for strawberries next season is very good. Reports show there will be a light setting this spring which will reduce production next year. If your farm and labor supply is suited to strawberry production this offers an opportunity to have a good income for you and your family next year.

Brucellosis Eradication Program Being Pushed

Kentucky's brucellosis-eradication program is getting a big push this year from state and federal authorities, who have set January 1, 1960 as the date when it is hoped the disease will be under tight control.

Brucellosis is also known as Bang's disease, or in humans to whom it is transmitted, as undulant fever.

Kentucky has appropriated a considerable sum for the fight; about 1,000,000 cattle in Kentucky breeding herds will be affected by the drive. About 70 per cent of the number are dairy cattle, the remainder, beef. In addition, there is an annual calf crop of about 1,000,000 head.

In 1956, blood tests for presence of brucellosis were run on 188,270 animals in Kentucky. Of this number, 5,939 were reactors; in addition, 37,175 calves were vaccinated.

Ring tests of milk, a special method of locating brucellosis, were run last year on 23,217 herds in the state, on about 336,000 cattle. About 7,553 "suspicious" herds were found.

Officials point out that eradication of brucellosis grows more important every year. The disease is dangerous to cattle and humans; it is a production-reducer in dairy herds; it has great effect on breeding capabilities of the animals, and at least 26 Kentucky cities have milk ordinances requiring that cows furnishing milk to those cities be negative in brucellosis tests.

The 1956 testing figures indicated that about one-third of the cattle in the state were tested that should have been. A step-up in this testing figure is one of the 1957 goals of the anti-brucellosis drive.

Airlift To Be Staged In Membership Drive By American Legion

The Kentucky Department of The American Legion will conduct an airlift on March 9 and 10. The purpose of the airlift is to round up 1957 Memberships.

The Airlift will get under way at Owensboro-Daviess County airport, Owensboro, at 8:30 a.m., Saturday March 9, when Department Commander Harold S. Dodson, Commander of the organization, will take to the air on a tour of Kentucky.

Commander Dodson will land at some 20 airfields where colorful ceremonies will attend his arrival, which will be conducted by the Posts that have been scheduled to greet him and that will present him with those 1957 Memberships secured by their respective Posts.

Help in Solving the Money Problems of the Flood Disaster

THE BANK

The Bank Josephine is ready, willing and able to help you—from direct loans and aid in completing application forms to serving as a clearing house for information that will direct you to the most prompt source of help.

Do not decide everything is a total loss. Losses may not be as great as you feared. Your bank undoubtedly can show you that you have resources you may not have counted—insurance and refunds of 1956 income taxes paid, for example.

Job No. 1

Prepare the most accurate possible estimate of the damage you have suffered in home, farm or business—both real and personal property. Make sketches and maps of the damaged premises and furnish any picture you may have. Prepare lists of damaged property with age and cost of items.

All banks under the new SBA disaster regulations can and will make direct loans. No need to go direct to the Small Business Administration office—go direct to your bank first.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT!

OUTSTANDING GRANTS

What the Red Cross Can Do . . .

The Red Cross is the ONLY official agency that can make outright grants to help individuals or families to pre-disaster status—or to help small business and farms to meet hardships. It may assist you in repairing or rebuilding or refinishing your home, farm or business premises.

LOANS

What the SBA Can Do . . .

Makes disaster loans to both business and individuals through banks and local field offices for replacement and rehabilitation of damaged business or residential properties. Also, it may replace inventories or repair leased premises where the applicant is required to do so.

What the Farmers Home Administration Can Do . . .

The Farmers Home Administration can help farmers whose crops, livestock, barns or homes have been damaged or lost. Loans can be used for repair, replacement to purchase livestock, or for crop production.

Companies Asked To Return Cards

Frankfort, Feb. 21 — Manufacturing plants and minerals-industries located in the State have until March 1 to fill out and return to Frankfort questionnaire cards for the 1957-58 edition of the Kentucky Industrial Directory.

In setting the deadline, the State Department of Economic Development said about 2,000 of the 5,800 companies contacted for information during the past six weeks have failed to return questionnaires. Publication of the new directory is scheduled for early summer.

The directory is sold and distributed to private and governmental purchasing agents throughout Kentucky and other states as a means of promoting the sale of Kentucky-made products. It is published jointly every two years by the Department of Economic Development and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The directory contains addresses, employment figures and products of manufacturing and mining companies operating in the state, and supplemental information on transportation and utility companies, warehouses and community facilities. The 1957-58 edition will contain, for the first time, the names of key executives of each company listed.

No charge is made for company listings.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Bank Josephine Plaintiff
Vs.: NOTICE OF SALE
Clell DeRossett, etc. Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court at its January Term, 1957, of the Floyd Circuit Court, in the above styled cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction on the 4th day of March, 1957, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., upon a credit of six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

Situated on the Left Fork of Bull Creek in Floyd county, Kentucky, Beginning at a gate post between F. A. Hopkins' line and I. N. Stephens; thence running up the hill with the fence and a marked line to the top of the hill to Nathan Ousley's line to a wire fence; thence down the hill with the wire fence to a rail fence marked line; thence running with said rail fence to the branch to a gate; thence across with the line marked and rail fence to the top of the hill to Joel Crisp's line (and the corner of the ridge) to C. H. Peters' line; thence to F. A. Hopkins' line; thence down the hill with a marked line to a fence; thence with the fence to the beginning, containing 75 acres, more or less.

Also a second tract located on the left fork of Bull Creek, in Floyd county, Kentucky, Commencing at the gate post, near the branch; thence with the fence and the old F. A. Hopkins' line to the top of the hill to Joel Crisp's line; thence up the ridge with Joel Crisp's line to a small pine; thence a straight marked line down the hill to a forked dogwood bush in the field; thence a straight line to a white oak tree near the road; thence with the fence to a marked line tree; thence a straight line to the upper corner of the Isaac Hunter's garden; thence with the fence to a chestnut tree near the branch; thence from the chestnut to a bunch of willow stumps; from the willow stumps to a stake in the fence near the branch; thence with the fence a straight line to the top of the hill to Bob Ousley's line; thence running with Bob Ousley's line and the center of the ridge to the top of the knob to Nathan Ousley's line and the center of the ridge to two chestnut stumps; thence down the hill with the wire fence to the graveyard; thence with the rail fence to the beginning at the branch, containing 70 acres, more or less. The graveyard is excepted and the road over this land where it is now is excepted.

Said property will be sold to satisfy a judgment in favor of plaintiff against the defendants for the sum of $1,000.00 with interest from Oct. 8th, 1956, until paid and the cost of this action.

For the purchase price the purchaser will be required to execute bond with approved surety bearing interest from date of sale until paid with a lien retained on the property for further security.

Kentucky Bids For Vacationers

Frankfort, Feb. 21 — Kentucky will participate in four national travel shows during February and March, according to W. L. Knight, deputy commissioner of the State Department of Public Relations.

A panel display featuring Kentucky's vacation attractions was constructed by the Department of Public Relations for the February show at St. Louis and the March shows at Chicago, Milwaukee and Cleveland.

Attendance at the shows is one of the functions of the State publicity agency designed to encourage show patrons to spend their vacations in Kentucky. Personnel attending the shows will distribute literature and answer any questions prospective visitors may have concerning Kentucky.

Sales of chicken meat increased from 13 pounds to 21 pounds per person annually between 1935 and 1955; in the same period, turkey sales jumped from less than 2 pounds to 5 pounds per person.

Appreciation Expressed

The citizens of Betsy Layne and nearby communities want to take this means of expressing our thanks to the Betsy Layne Volunteer Fire Department for the excellent job it rendered during the recent disastrous flood. To the department and its efficient personnel we are indebted for the prevention of much damage and for valuable aid in pumping water from our homes and for many other services freely given. We are indeed, indebted to a fine group of civic-minded persons.

the BIG BUY
(You can boss this Buick Special for little more than the price of a smaller car!)

ONE LOOK at that price figure and you'll know that—again in 1957—if you can afford a new car you can afford a Buick.

And look what you get for so little extra money. You get the most completely new Buick in years. Not just brand new in styling and brand new in body design.

But new in features that make this the dream car of the year to drive.

You get brand-new performance because the engine is literally new from the crankshaft up.

You get a brand-new instant response because we engineered brand-new torque into Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

And to give you the new sure-footed safety of a lower center of gravity—we built a brand-new frame—which lowers the car, but keeps the headroom, legroom and footroom that a big car should have.

Fact is, there are more than 150 other chassis changes in this '57 Buick—waiting for you to try them. Do that soon—at your Buick dealer's.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick build today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Floyd County Chapter and the National Organization of the American Red Cross join in expressing sincerest thanks to the many wonderful volunteers who assisted the Red Cross during the emergency period of the flood disaster operation.

Many good citizens, too numerous to name, gave many volunteer hours in making it possible to get needed assistance to the flood victims immediately. Volunteers operated the warehouses, provided transportation, distributed food, clothing, and other essentials. Volunteers acted as interviewers, answered the phones, ran errands, and really made it possible to help those who were unfortunate in being affected by the flood. The "teenagers" really did a swell job and gave the adults a lesson in service to others.

The local governments, the cities and county, assisted no end, and for this we are grateful. In fact, all of Floyd county really showed that the people here could meet any emergency.

Since we cannot show our appreciation in any tangible way, we hope that this public acknowledgement of your fine service will in some way convey our deepest thanks.

Rev. Harold Dorsey,
Disaster Chairman, Floyd
County Chapter, American
Red Cross

J. B. Green, Jr., Area Director,
American Red Cross, Disaster
Headquarters, Floyd county,

Registration and License
Deadlines Announced

March 30 is the last day for voters to register, and March 1 is the deadline for getting new motor vehicle licenses. County Clerk DuRan Moore said this week.

An extension of time in which to buy 1957 auto and truck licenses was sought from Frankfort but the request was not granted, it was said.

Fourteen Meetings Held

Fourteen meetings held with other agencies dealing with community improvement and agricultural programs in Floyd county last year.

SPEARS FOR COUNTY JUDGE

I was born on Buffalo Creek and have made my own living since I was 12 years of age. I don't feel a candidate for office should start making promises in order to win votes but I do promise, now, to make you a good, honest county judge.

I will not at the beginning of the four-year-term start spending your tax money in order to make another race. I am not interested in anything but Floyd county and the spending of the tax money in such a way that it will benefit the taxpayers and not a few politicians.

I am interested in the man who works for a living as I have labored hard all my life. I believe I have given more laboring men work than any individual in the county. And as all of them will say I don't owe a man anything for his hire.

I have been in the lumber business for 45 years. I believe I have donated as much lumber for churches and burials as any man. Always I have tried to contribute to my community and to my fellow man in need.

I served one term as Magistrate. Many people in my old district are coming to me and recalling the many good things I did for my district while in office. I pledge to you to make as good a county judge as I did as magistrate.

I believe in good roads. We need roads up the creeks, along the many little by-paths that people use to get to the main highways. On these roads live people who must have access to schools, churches and to places of employment. For them I pledge a dedication of my efforts.

Too long this county has been neglected in the matter of roads until it is shameful that in this day and time we still have a wholly insufficient system of roads. We have the resources, we pay our taxes and it is time we receive something besides mere promises.

A little change won't hurt! Vote for me and I will work for you!

New DODGE
PowerGiants

OF THE
Low-Priced 3

You get a power reserve in a Dodge Power Giant that pays off every mile you drive. From 204-hp. pick-ups to giant 232-hp. tandems, Dodge gives you the most power of the low-priced three... actually as much as 31% more.

Extra power means faster acceleration, safer passing... cuts your time costs every trip. It cuts operating costs, too, because it lets your Dodge engine loaf under loads that make less powerful engines whine with strain. Less strain means less wear, fewer repairs. And the special design of these Power Giant V-8's delivers full-powered performance on regular gas.

More power lets you haul bigger loads. That's why Dodge can offer bigger payload capacities in every weight class. For instance, the Dodge 300 pick-up packs up to 73% more payload each trip than comparable competitive makes. And that's the kind of payload advantage that many times means one trip instead of two.

Dodge is the easiest handling truck on the road — with the shortest turning radius for easier parking and quicker zip-in-and-out maneuverability. Power steering is available for most models. And, for the first time on any truck, Dodge offers the extra convenience of a push-button* automatic transmission for the easiest driving ever.

MOST PAYLOAD

200,000,000 BAGS
of PURINA CONCENTRATES stand back of our New grain mixing service

We have just taken on the new Purina CHECK-R-MIX Service. This means we have back of us the Country's largest and most experienced grain balancing program. We feel it will mean top quality livestock and poultry rations from your grain.

For example, we mix your grain with Purina Concentrates. Over 200,000,000 bags of them—far more than any other brand—have been used for this purpose in all parts of U. S.

Next, we use Purina Approved Mixing Formulas—each one approved by actual testing at the Purina Research Farm.

And finally, our grinding and mixing accuracy is tested regularly by Purina Laboratories. With Purina Micro-mixed Concentrates and our very accurate mixing, we can make rations that get the best possible results from your grain.

Bring in a load of grain and you'll quickly see how fast and accurately we handle your grain. Pick out the rations you want from our list of Purina Approved Formulas. Feed them and SEE the top profit job they do for you.

Flood-Area Banks Get State Money, Finance Head Says

Frankfort, Feb. 21 — The state is depositing $2,275,000 in 13 eastern Kentucky banks to relieve "the difficult situation confronted there," Finance Commissioner James W. Martin said.

The area was hit by devastating floods recently. Martin said he and State Treasurer Henry Carter had arranged to deposit the money.

A finance department spokesman explained that the flood disaster had caused many eastern Kentuckians to withdraw their savings from banks to meet the expense of clean-up and repairs made necessary by the flood. Others need to borrow money for this purpose and "the more money a bank has on hand the State funds that would have been deposited elsewhere had it not been for the flood situation.

Martin listed the banks and the amounts to be deposited: Citizens Bank of Pikeville, $200,000; Bank of Neon, $100,000; Citizens State Bank, Hazard, $400,000; Corbin Deposit Bank, $5,000; First Guaranty Bank, Martin, $100,000; First National Bank, Corbin, $87,500; First National Bank, Pikeville, $200,000; First National Bank, Prestonsburg, $75,000; Guaranty Deposit Bank, Cumberland, $62,500; Peoples Bank of Hazard, $600,000; Peoples Exchange Bank, Beattyville, $100,000; Pikeville National Bank, $200,000; Union National Bank, Barbourville, $100,000.

Strip Mining Report Given By Director

Frankfort, Feb. 21—Licensed strip mining operations in Kentucky now total 167, according to a report filed with the Department of Conservation by Paul P. Gannon, director of the Division of Strip Mine Reclamation.

Gannon advised strip operators in Eastern Kentucky that T. T. Colley, of Pikeville, has been appointed field agent for the division in the southeastern part of the State, and applications for permits in that area should be submitted to Colley or Redwood Taylor, Sr., Ashland, before operations are begun.

The strip mine reclamation act requires operators to obtain a permit and post a bond with Gannon's agency, in addition to obtaining a license from the Department of Mines and Minerals.

At the same time last year, 107 strip mine operators were registered with Gannon's division. The report reveals 103 licensed strip and sizer mines are operating in Eastern Kentucky and 64 are located in Western Kentucky.

Gannon said the increase in number of licensed operators is the result of increased effort on the part of the division's field agents to investigate reports of new strip operations in their assigned territories.

Copies of the strip mine reclamation law have been sent to county attorneys in the 28 Eastern Kentucky and nine Western Kentucky counties where licensed strip mines are operating.

Future outlook for coal is bright due to sound condition of the nation's economy and higher tonnages from Kentucky fields are expected during the next year, Gannon said.

Flood Counties Get Feed Corn For Stricken Farmers

Frankfort, Feb. 21 — The State is making available to eastern Kentucky's flood-stricken farmers about 16,000 bushels of feed corn, donated by the U. S. Agriculture Department from surplus commodity stocks.

The State Agriculture Department has shipped the first several thousand bushels of the corn. Gov. A. E. Chandler has turned over money from his emergency fund to pay for the cost of trucking the feed grains into the flood areas.

The first shipment went to farmers in flood-damaged areas of Pike and Floyd counties.

The nine counties qualifying for such aid are Breathitt, Perry, Harlan, Floyd, Pike, Letcher, Bell, Knott, and Leslie. Local distribution communities allocate the feed from a central point in each county.

Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler named W. L. Rouse, assistant director of administrative services for the State agency, to serve as coordinator of the emergency feed program. He will allocate feed to the distressed counties on the basis of needs established by an investigating committee.

The U. S. agriculture agency plans to donate eventually 175,000 bushels of corn for distribution under the federal-state program.

Disaster Plans Are Discussed

Frankfort, Feb. 21 — Civil defense officials in Kentucky are making plans to relocate the State government in event of enemy attack or natural disaster at Frankfort.

This was announced at a governor's cabinet meeting recently by Maj. Gen. Jesse S. Lindsey, Kentucky Civil defense director. He said the command and control plan will be prepared by his department of Kentucky's bureau of government research. Federal officials will help.

Finding a temporary location for the government will be the major problem, officials said. The site would have to be adaptable to a communications network.
