This Town— That World

If you think the melancholy days aren't come, just watch anybody raking leaves.

LOOKS COULD BE DECEIVING

And if you see some fisherman prancing into town with a feather in his cap, it doesn't necessarily mean he has caught the Big One at last. It may be that some archer deer-hunting at Dewey Lake hasn't been as accurate as he should have been.

DON'T FORGET EITHER

There is the rather sad story of the bow-and-arrow deer-hunter who stalked into town with the presence, armed with the accoutrements of his sport, and sought to get hence in the frivolous vein. Quoth he:

"Ugh! Squaw stay home, chop wood, fire stove, watch papoose. Brave, he go kill deer to fill yon yawning pot."

The resultant noise was like a herd of deer crashing through a junkyard as the pots and pans filled the air when they did not collide with Hiawatha's head.

And the moral of this story is: A married man must have two licenses for this kind of hunting—license to hunt deer; and a license to keep "deer" from hunting him.

THE SUNDAY SICKNESS

This started with the bulletin of St. Andrew's Church, Seguin, Texas, and it was picked up by the Houston Post, only this week to turn up in Allen Trout's "Greetings."

Mortuus Sabbaticus—Sunday illness peculiar to church people. Symptoms vary but never interfere with normal appetite. Attacks come on suddenly every Sunday morning. Patient sleeps well Saturday. (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

MORGAN MAN IS CHARGED

In Death of Helton; Blevins Posts Bond In Policeman's Death

The Morgan county grand jury returned a murder indictment against Blevins, Tuesday.

Darrell Blevins, 34, former West Liberty and Jackson policeman, has been charged with the fatal shooting of Harold Helton, 31, night policeman at West Liberty for the past two years.

Blevins, who has been operating a restaurant on KY 7 just outside town, was arrested Thursday night of last week on a murder charge. He posted $10,000 bond Friday, pending action by the grand jury which convened Monday.

No motive has been established, Sheriff James Phipps said, adding that Blevins had made no statement.

The men were reported to have been the best of friends, Phipps said.

Helton appeared to have been taken from his home early last Sunday morning after completing his tour of duty, driven to a spot on U.S. 460, and shot.

He was hit by seven bullets from a .45-caliber pistol and left dead in a ditch. There was no sign of a struggle.

The body was clad in pants and T shirt. Helton's shirt, coat and pistol were found at his home, where he was spending the night alone. His wife and children were away, the sheriff said.

Blevins left the Jackson police force about six weeks ago. He had also been a construction worker.

COURT ORDER ENDS STRIKE

Wheelwright Miners Return To Work; Sorg Authorizes Injunction

An indefinite stay of the Taft-Hartley injunction was granted by a three-man panel of federal judges today (Thursday). What effect this continuance of the steel strike will have on Inland Steel's coal-mining operations at Wheelwright had not been determined late this afternoon.

Anticipating a return-to-work under Taft-Hartley injunction for striking steel-workers, the Inland Steel Company's idled Wheelwright-Price operations returned to work Wednesday morning, ending the longest period of idleness for the company's Floyd coal mining operation in its history.

Since the 98-day steel strike Inland's mines had operated only about 10 days. The temporary resumption of steel mill operation returns upwards of 1,000 men to work at Wheelwright and Price.

The steel strike did not so effectively paralyze mining activities with other operations in this section but the overall effect on all mines and business in the area has been bad.

Federal Judge Herbert P. Sorg issued the Taft-Hartley injunction ending the strike, shortly after 2 p. m., Wednesday. The injunction ends the strike for 80 days. After that cooling-off period, the strike may be resumed if no settlement can be reached otherwise.

The injunction petition named the United Steel-workers and 97 steel companies. Since the strike began, July 15, 250,000 workmen in steel-related industries such as coal-mining, railroading and automobile manufacturing have been laid off from work.

The steelworkers and the steel companies began negotiations, May 5. They are still far apart.

VOLUNTEERS OFFER HELP

In Scout Fund Drive; Wood Named Chairman Of 1959 Council Effort

More than 500 citizens in this area have volunteered to help the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, conduct its 1959 fund-raising campaign which began Tuesday. It was announced this week by Walter P. Walters, of Pikeville, president of the Council.

The Council expects to expand the program and enroll more boys who want to be Scouts.

Mr. Walters said that Jarrett M. Wood, of Pikeville, has accepted the chairmanship of the campaign. Mr. Wood is industrial power engineer of the Kentucky Power Company.

Among those working with Mr. Wood in heading up the campaigns in communities are:

General Solicitations — H. L. Stuart, Andover, Va.
Leadership Gifts — H. O. Zimmerman, Wheelwright; George Wells, Pikeville; B. F. Reed, Drift; Walter P. Walters, Pikeville; W. J. Baird, Pikeville; R. A. Sult, Norton, Virginia.

Prospects and Rating — John M. Stephens, Pikeville; J. Lincoln Kiser, Appalachia, Va.
Publicity Chairman — S. W. Douthitt, Jackson, Ky.

Arrangements — G. W. Lockin, Wheelwright.

Auditing — George A. Sharp, Pikeville.

The Scout finance campaign opened October 20, with a breakfast at Louis' Cafe, Pikeville.

"The Boy Scouts of America is an independent national agency operating under a federal charter granted by the Congress of the United States in 1916," Mr. Walters said.

"In turn, the Lonesome Pine Council of the Boy Scouts of America receives its charter each year from the national council. We are responsible to see to it that every boy in Breathitt, Johnson, Knott, Leslie, Martin, Magoffin, Letcher, Pike and Perry counties in Kentucky and Buchanan, Dickenson, Lee, Russell and Wise counties in Virginia is given the opportunity of enjoying the 'game of Scouting'."

"Our council is made up of volunteers who have organized to bring Scouting to the boys of this area and give them a satisfying experience. The council elects officers annually, appoints operating committees, and maintains the local council office-service center at Pikeville, Kentucky. (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

Sheriff Warns Crossing May Spoil City Ballots; Correct Method Is Told

Ballots in city elections may be spoiled unless care is taken by the voter, it was pointed out this week by Sheriff Hershell Warrens. He cited the Prestonsburg city election as an example.

Here two tickets of eight men each are running for Council under separate devices. If the voter marks an "X" in the circle under one of the party devices, then crosses over to vote for one or more individuals on the opposing ticket, the ballot will be spoiled, he said. Effect of such a vote, the Sheriff pointed out, would be to vote for all eight men on the ticket marked in the circle, then to vote for one or more candidates on the opposing ticket, which would add up to voting for nine or more candidates when only eight are to be elected.

He suggested that if the voter wishes to "cross" his ballot in such races voting should be done in the squares opposite each name and that not more than eight squares be marked.

NEW HIGHWAY DEATH TRAP

Mishap Reports Indicate; Three Persons Injured In Latest Auto Mishap

The brand-new Prestonsburg-Auxier highway has a potential death-trap at the Auxier end, it was emphasized this week in reports that in the few weeks since the route has been surfaced and open to traffic 13 autos have wrecked there.

The wrecks have taken place at the unmarked end of the surfacing which points toward a cliff but merges into the loose gravel of the old road veering to the left.

Latest of the wrecks was last Sunday night's when two men and a boy were injured and a new Pontiac reduced to wreckage. Thirteen stitches were required at the Prestonsburg General hospital to close cuts on the face of J. C. Blackburn, of Betsy Layne. Charlie Adkins and his young nephew also suffered severe facial and head cuts.

Dr. George P. Archer, of the hospital, said he had treated victims of five of the wrecks and that Virginia, Massachusetts and Illinois cars were involved in three of the accidents.

He pointed out that tourists or other motorists who are unacquainted with highways here naturally take the new and broader Prestonsburg-Auxier route at night and that they encounter without warning the loose gravel and rough road at the end of the surfaced highway.

FANNIN CASE IS SHELVED

Son Of Floyd Native Released On Charges Of Murder Suspicion

Ray Mitchell Fannin, 30, Atlanta drug salesman and a son of Floyd native, Mitchell Fannin, for whom an extensive search ended last week at Solana Beach, Calif., when he appeared at a doctor's office, has been released from jail on a charge of suspicion of murder.

Fannin, whose blood-stained car was found at Panama City, Fla., Oct. 8, told the doctors he was a victim of amnesia but identified himself under sedation. Later he told officers he had killed an Air Force man, whom he had given a ride, in self-defense on a Georgia highway.

A bloody, open knife was found in the abandoned auto but an extensive search of the roads failed to discover a body. Fannin admitted in a subsequent story that he faked amnesia.

Under sedatives at the hospital Wednesday, he told officers his name and said he remembered picking up a hitch-hiker Air Force enlisted man. He added that the man attacked him, that they fought and that his mind blanked out after he was slugged on the head.

Sheriff's Lt. Fred Manin said that under further questioning today, Fannin admitted the amnesia story was faked.

He said he did not know where he had shoved the hitch-hiker from the car, except that it was along a stretch of road with hanging trees beside it.

His story, as related by Manin, was that he picked up the hitch-hiking airman, who attacked him with a sock made into a sap. (See Story No. 6, Page 5)

MRS. R. V. MAY

CLUBWOMEN IN 41st MEET

Prestonsburg Woman 7th District Governor; Succeeds Mrs. Bradbury

Mrs. R. V. May, president of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, which is observing the 40th year of its founding, was elected Governor of the Seventh District, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, at the 41st annual meeting of clubs in this district last Saturday at Wheelwright.

The annual meeting was held at the Community Church, with members of the Wheelwright Woman's Club serving as hostesses. Women from almost every club in the district attended the meeting.

The district governor, Mrs. Arthur Bradbury, president.

Mrs. R. L. Hall, president of the Wheelwright Woman's Club, welcomed the clubwomen to Wheelwright. In her welcome address she said, "Each community in every district overlaps in the work carried on by any club. The achievements of these clubs help make better communities, and then, all together, make a better state. Women are a lot of spokes in the wheel of progress of our nation; and through Women's Clubs, we can keep that wheel rolling."

The response was given by Mrs. Oscar Sowards, of Pikeville.

Mrs. Arthur Bradbury gave a report on her past year as Governor of the Seventh District. She said that one of her greatest joys was early this spring when she was called upon to install the newly elected officers of the new Junior Woman's Club at Pikeville.

Mrs. Bradbury stressed the importance of entering the community achievement contest.

Presidents of the various clubs gave reports on their clubs' activities for the year. (See Story No. 2, Page 3)

COMBS PLANS CAMPAIGN END

Democratic Nominee To Tour Home District In Race For Governor

Bert Combs, who was born and reared in Eastern Kentucky, will spend the final days of his campaign for Governor in that section, describing his nine-point program for helping the region and its people.

The Democratic candidate for Governor contends that immediate action is necessary to attract new industry to Eastern Kentucky to provide more jobs, promote more tourists, encourage reforestation and protect property against flood damage.

Combs, a Prestonsburg lawyer who became a judge of Kentucky's highest court, said, "Action will not be delayed pending more surveys. We already have a room full of surveys in Frankfort. We must get to the business of helping Eastern Kentucky."

"The people of Eastern Kentucky realize that the election of Bert Combs and all my friends on the Democrat ticket is their greatest hope of lifting their area from the depths of economic decay and placing it on the road to recovery."

With the Nov. 3 election almost at hand, Combs will devote Saturday, Oct. 31, and Monday, Nov. 2, to campaigning in the counties of the Seventh Congressional District. The nine points of the program which he and Wilson Wyatt, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor have for-

CLERKS TALK MOTOR LAWS

East Kentucky Clerks Meet At Prestonsburg; Law Changes Are Noted

County Clerks and their assistants from Eastern Kentucky counties met here Monday to hear representatives of the Motor Vehicle Division, Department of Transportation, discuss changes in the motor registration laws.

The clerks agreed the new law will make their work more exacting. Explanation of the new requirements was made by Morton Brashers, director, and C. W. Williams, supervisor of the Motor Vehicle Division.

Several changes in procedures were noted, the two most important being these:

1. The seller of a motor vehicle is under the new law responsible for getting title to the vehicle transferred from his name. (Formerly, this was the purchaser's responsibility.)

2. Any motor vehicle coming into Kentucky from another state, whether new or used, must be inspected by a peace officer before it can be licensed. The exception to this provision is when the vehicle is being sold by a licensed dealer.

The inspection is to be made without charge, and county clerks were left wondering how such services would be made available at all times in the absence of remuneration.

Children's Clinic Slates Examination

The annual Floyd county crippled children's clinic will be held in the Health Department offices Tuesday, Oct. 27, from 8:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. The clinic will serve Floyd, Johnson and Martin counties.

Examination will be done by Dr. William Roland, orthopedic surgeon, and Dr. Guy Cunningham, pediatrician, of Kings Daughters hospital in Ashland.

This clinic is for the examination of children and others under the age of 21 who are suffering from bone and joint diseases or deformities. It is held under the auspices of the Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission.

SHADES OF THE PIONEERS ...

THEY'RE USING ARROWS IN DEWEY DEER HUNT

The arrows began to fly Wednesday in the Shawnee country.

That is to say, the archery deer season began that day in the Dewey Lake game refuge, once the hunting grounds of the Shawnees.

Hunting with bow and arrow began at Dewey concurrently with the opening of the archery season elsewhere in the state. The day saw the first legal hunting for deer in this county since the days of the pioneers.

The Dewey Lake refuge also will be open to would-be deerlayers, armed with guns, Dec. 4-6.

Those going after deer with bow and arrow may not carry a firearm of any kind, it was emphasized this week by Conservation Officer Raymond Copley. Only long bows may be used, and arrows must be barbed, the deer-hunter must have a deer tag which costs $10.50 for residents as well as non-residents. This tag permits the bearer to hunt during the gun season, but only if he has not killed a deer during the archery season. The limit is one deer per hunter for the entire season.

The goose season at Dewey Lake will open Oct. 31 and the duck season on Nov. 30. No waterfowl hunting will be permitted in the restricted area extending from Dick's Creek to the German bridge, Copley said. He asked that sportsmen take care not to shoot pinioned geese and ducks which have been released on the lake to serve as live decoys.

The conservation officer said 2,400 bass ranging in size from 8 to 12 inches were recently released in Dewey Lake.

GIRL SCOUTS WIN AWARDS

150 Members of 8 Troops Attend Court of Awards; Rally Day Is Held Here

One hundred fifty Girl Scouts ranging in rank from Brownies to Senior Scouts took part Tuesday night in the Prestonsburg neighborhood Court of Awards, held at the First Methodist Church.

The Court of Awards was the second Girl Scout function to be staged here this month. The first was Rally Day, held Oct. 10 at Prestonsburg high school where 250 girls from Paintsville, David, Drift and Martin gathered to display crafts learned and work achieved during the year. Games and folk-dancing were featured parts of the program.

Mrs. Byron Nunnery, neighborhood chairman, presided at the Court of Awards which saw each troop recognized, the Curved Bar, highest rank in Girl Scouting, presented to eight girls, and 10-year service pins awarded to nine others.

Troop 40 conducted the flag ceremony, and the address was made by the Rev. Paul Bingham, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here.

Ten-year service pins were awarded to Sally Burchett, Martha Ann Burchett, Betty Galt. (See Story No. 7, Page 4)

BOTH PARTIES SET EFFORTS

At Prestonsburg, Friday; Democrats Slate Dinner, Republicans To Rally

Both the Democratic and Republican parties will concentrate campaign efforts here Friday evening when the former holds a dinner meeting at the high school and the Republican nominee, John M. Robison, Jr., appears at the courthouse.

Both events are scheduled at 7:30. The Democrats will seek funds at $10 per plate and the Republicans will seek votes with a Robison speech.

State Senator Wayne Freeman, of Mayfield, will address the scheduled Democratic party rally dinner at the high school auditorium, it was announced Wednesday. Senator Freeman will appear in place of Wendell Butler, who was originally slated to address the group.

Senator Freeman, a Mayfield attorney, has long been associated with the so-called "rebel" group of the General Assembly. A former member of the Kentucky House of Representatives, he defeated Harry Lee Waterfield for the state Senate in 1954.

The political pot was boiling a bit more in the state by mid-week, it seemed. Bert Combs, Democratic party nominee for governor, pledged in a Frankfort speech, Tuesday, that he would give the state a "fear-proof" merit system and Harry Lee Waterfield, defeated by Combs in the primary, refused to introduce former president Harry Truman at a scheduled Paducah speech, Saturday, Waterfield charged. PUPILS VOICE SUGGESTIONS

Opinions of 15 Students Gathered On Citizenship, Religion, Other Matters

Fifteen students representing four schools last Wednesday in a meeting at Prestonsburg high school voiced their opinions about institutions and relationships which affect their young lives.

The meeting was the first to be held by the Floyd County Youth Committee for the White House Conference to be held next March in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Regina Mayo, Floyd county chairman of the Little White House Conference held recently in Frankfort, called the group together and monitored the discussion.

These suggestions and comments were made by members of the group:

On relationships with parents and other adults: Children and their parents should talk things over; they should work and play together; parents should give their children enough responsibility; teachers should not expect too much from their pupils.

On citizenship: School and family units are small governments, and if you don't abide by rules there, you will not in later life; many clubs teach youth the workings of government, and club projects help develop better understanding of the community; youth should have more respect for constituted authority. BROOM FACTORY NEAR HERE IN OPERATION

BY QUENTIN ALLEN

Lee Roberts, of the Goble Roberts Addition, near Lancer, wanted a business that he and his sons could run—so he got into the broom business.

"It's a business without competition in this area," Roberts explained.

Roberts has been planning his broom enterprise since last winter. Since then he has constructed a 40 x 56-foot building and has bought several machines for forming and stitching the brooms.

"We can produce about 120 brooms a day and plan on more as soon as we can get our second machine to work," Roberts said last week. At that time one machine, faster than the one in use, was inoperable.

"We're going to produce two other brooms as soon as we can get our feet on the ground. That's children's brooms and whisk-brooms," Roberts raised six acres of broom corn this summer and thereby saved himself at least $2,500, he estimates. Broom corn sells for $400 a ton. Mr. Roberts noted that this year broom corn was underproduced by at least 100,000 acres, and the need is nation wide.

The Floyd man said that he is presently making two types of brooms. A $1.10 broom, which is a long, 16-inch broom; and a 85-cent, 15-inch broom, considered short.

His firm, known as the Big Sandy Broom and Mop Company, has employed a North Carolinian, S. B. York, who has been in the broom business most of his life.

York takes the shellacked hardwood broom handles and puts the "hurl"—or long stems—on them. The filler is bound tightly onto the handles by wire and the outside, then the longer "hurl" is bound onto the outside. The broom is then taken to be stitched and it is then that it takes its most definite form.

Cloth is applied to the outside layer of "hurl" to protect the broom from the wire.

Roberts is optimistic about his business and looks to his newly born factory with eagerness. He feels that he and his son, Joe Morris Roberts, will be capable of making a success of the enterprise. At present he has one salesman, Earl Hackworth, on the road.

Roberts said that he has written 50 or more letters trying to find a sample of white Italian corn and that he has finally received some from an Indiana farmer.

Now in the third week of actual production, Roberts is looking forward to the day he can cut costs by producing his own handles. Roberts is buying them from McMinnville, Tenn. "As soon as my boys and I get our feet on the ground, we'll think about other things," he said.

Drew-Baldrige Marriage Vows Solemnized at Gettysburg, S. Dak.

D., on Sunday evening, Aug. 23, Miss Mona Drew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Drew, of Gettysburg, became the bride of James D. Baldrige, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Baldrige, of Prestonsburg. The Rev. K. Oliver Brekke officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mary Lynn Collins, organist, presented the nuptial marches and accompanied Howard Lottwood, Jr., who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was dressed in a floor-length gown of nylon net over tulle with a chantilly lace bodice and overskirt. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline with flake-pearl trim and long sleeves coming to a point at her wrists. She wore a crown of seed pearls with fingertip veil and carried a cross of red roses surrounded with pink and white carnations. Her only jewelry was a cameo necklace belonging to her grandmother.

Her sister-in-law, Janice Drew, was matron of honor and Judith Miller, of Rapid City, S. D., and Karen Wise were bridesmaids. They wore identical floor-length gowns of ice and crystal blue crystalet with matching pearl trimmed veiled crowns and long saulets. The matron of honor carried a cross of peppermint striped carnations and the bridesmaids carried crosses of white carnations. Karole Neuberger, of Brookings, was flower girl. She was dressed in an identical dress and crown and carried a basket of rose petals.

Robert Drew, brother of the bride, was best man and James Holmes and Larry Potts were groomsmen. Clifford Neuberger, of Brookings, S. D., was ring bearer. Kenneth Brown and Richard Hicks seated the guests. The groom and his party were attired in black and white tuxedos.

The bride's mother wore a blue lace sheath with white accessories and a red rose corsage. The bride's grandmother wore champagne lace with brown accessories and wore a corsage of peppermint stripe carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the wedding. Following a wedding trip to the Black Hills, the couple will be at home in Gettysburg.

Allen, Stellar Fullback, Is Injured At Practise; Black Cats Tie Belfry

Just when John Gordon Goble's Prestonsburg Black Cats seemed ready to give a true accounting of their football abilities, the team Tuesday afternoon suffered a serious loss when James Allen, stellar fullback, suffered a broken arm in practice. He is lost to the team for the season. Allen is a senior.
The team misfortune came after the Cats had rallied from a stinging defeat at the hands of Pikeville to trounce a favorably regarded Louisiana team and to tie Belfry, an eleven that had lost only one game in five starts.
Allen suffered a broken bone, a short distance above the wrist, while practising in the line.
The Black Cats had all the better of it in the first half last Friday night, with Allen and Dennis Stephens the heaviest ground-gainers. They amassed 14 first downs to 11 for Belfry, piling up 229 yards on the ground to 20 for the visitors. Belfry took to the air to outgain Prestonsburg in that department, 95 yards to 85, however, and it was on a pass that the Pike countians scored and managed to gain an even 7-all break on the final result.

Mrs. Bradbury introduced Mrs. W. B. Frazier, president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, who in an interesting speech stressed the community achievement contest and urged club-members to be on the alert for obscene literature. In the event such literature is received, the recipient should take it at once to her postmaster, she said. "One of the most important issues that we are faced with today is the sending of pornography through the mail," she added. Mrs. Frazier recently visited in Washington and heard Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield give a talk on this subject. She said that clubwomen should wholeheartedly support Mr. Summerfield in his fight to rid the nation of this menace.
She reported that Miss Chloe Cifford, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, expressed the wish that her own state, Kentucky, would be a "100% state" this year.
Mrs. Francis Pennington spoke on club ethics.
Mrs. Cora McHone and the junior choir of the Community Church supplied the music for the meeting. Four members of one of the Girl Scout troops in Wheelwright served as pages. The Wesleyan Service Guild served a buffet luncheon.
Favors were donated by various businesses in the area. These businesses included the Citizens Bank of Pikeville, radio station WDOC, Inland Steel Company, and the Medical Arts Supply Company.
Awards were given for the best yearbook and best club reports. First prize for the best yearbook went to the Jenkins Civic Club, and second prize went to the Drift Woman's Club. First prize for club reports went to Wheelwright and second place was taken by Prestonsburg.
Guests at the meeting were Mrs. W. B. Frazier's daughter, Mary Elizabeth, and a cousin of Mrs. Arthur Bradbury from Sheffield, England, Dr. Rosemary Hulley.
Mrs. May was installed as Seventh district governor by Mrs. W. F. Frazier.
Mrs. Jimmie Davis was elected junior representative.
The Jenkins Woman's Club extended an invitation to have the next district meeting at Jenkins.

Little Court Action Noted By Commissioner; Wallace, Young Jailed
Either crime was at its lowest ebb or more lawbreakers were going undetected—that was the situation in Floyd county for the past week.
As of Wednesday afternoon, only six persons had been booked at the county jail since the preceding Wednesday.
"There hasn't even been a peace warrant called for this week," Trial Judge G. C. Burchett said. He added that he usually had at least one such case a day.
State troopers jailed two—Troy Wallace and William A. Young—on charges of driving while intoxicated. Wallace also was booked for driving without an operator's license.

An Opportunity of a Lifetime

Floyd county may not be a land of opportunity in the golden sense portrayed in Chamber of Commerce blurbs, but that does not remove the fact that this county has had its opportunities, nor does it eliminate the sadder fact that on too many occasions it has not answered when opportunity knocked.

Less than two weeks from this date, Floyd county will have another opportunity, one such as it has never had before and could conceivably never have again. If we fail this time, it will be to our shame.

For the chance to be offered this county on November 2 is that of taking the lead among the 120 counties of Kentucky in electing a Governor whose home is in Floyd county, whose future is bound by indissoluble ties to the future of Eastern Kentucky.

Bert Combs will be elected Governor of Kentucky at this coming election. Counties from all over the state will see to that. Floyd county will help, of course—but will it permit any consideration to keep it from standing at the forefront among all the counties in the Combs-Wyatt column?

That is a pertinent question, because Bert Combs wants more than anything else to do great things for Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky. Yet the possibility exists that other counties will be able to point an eloquent finger at the voting returns and say, "Here were your friends when you needed friends—where was Floyd county?"

We of Floyd county and all Eastern Kentucky know our needs. We have for years felt the need for more powerful official friends who shared our dreams and ambitions as well as our disappointments. Now we have the opportunity to have such a friend in the Governor's office.

Floyd county's economy needs bolstering. The county needs roads, its great potential as a tourist attraction needs quick and imaginative development, its park needs to become a park in reality rather than on paper, its coal business requires the benefit of research, its industry needs diversification. Floyd and other counties of this part of Kentucky have too long been a forgotten land. They share common problems which must be solved.

Already Bert Combs has spent long hours, traveled many miles in earnest, painstaking search for a solution to these problems as well as many problems common to all Kentucky. As Governor he will achieve much—not all, but much—that needs to be done.

How deeply, sincerely, unselfishly concerned are we about this place we call home? Are we interested enough to pull together for once in our lives?

The returns from the November election will answer those questions in a way which can never be denied.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY LEADERS NAMED BY CHAIRMAN WATTS

A Democratic Campaign Advisory Committee, composed of 69 party leaders from throughout the state, has been appointed by Congressman John C. Watts, of Nicholasville, Democratic State Campaign chairman.

The committee members will lend their counsel and efforts to the campaign to elect Bert Combs, nominee for Governor; Wilson

Wyatt, nominee for Lieutenant Governor, and the seven other Democratic candidates for state office in the Nov. 3 election.

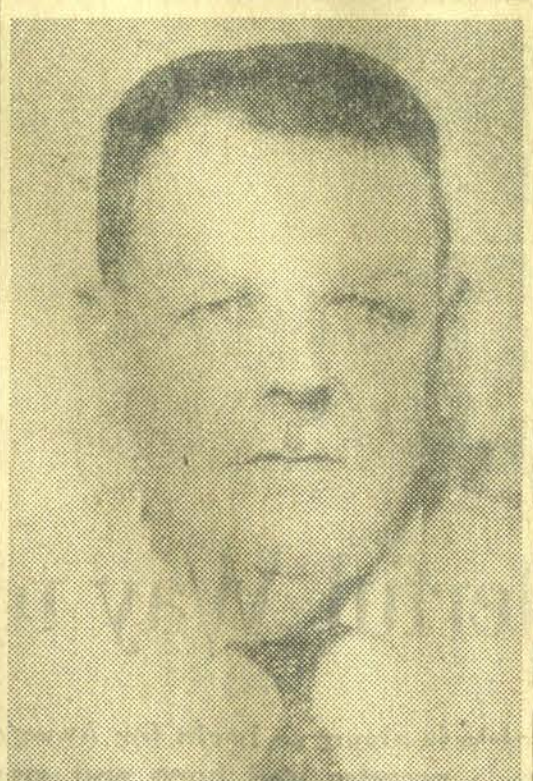

The membership represents a welding of the party elements which supported opposing candidates in the primary election campaign. The co-chairmen are former Governor Keen Johnson, of Richmond and J. Members of the committee from this Congressional district are: Davis Geiger, Ashland; Curtis K. Stacy, West Liberty; Dr. B. F. Wright, Seco; John Paul Runyon, Pikeville; H. K. Taylor, Morehead; Dr. Paul B. Hall, Paintsville; Judge Ervine Turner, Jackson.

Sixty women leaders have been appointed to a Women's Advisory Committee to help direct the campaign of Combs, Wyatt and their fellow candidates for state office.

Seventh district committee members are:

Rev. Warrix, In Need Of Training, Builds Furniture At Clear Creek To Pay For Christian Service Study

Pineville, Ky., Oct. 19 (Spl.) — When the new $30,000.00 Student Industries Building is dedicated at Clear Creek Baptist School, October 27, many students and former students will attend. These men have come in large numbers from Kentucky and 31 other states including Alaska.

Among them will be the Rev. Floyd Warrix, of Allen. Like many of the students at this school, he works his way by making church furniture in the Clear Creek church furniture factory which is housed in the modern, new building.

Warrix felt the need for special training when he was called to preach long after he had passed high school age. But for a man with family responsibilities, going to school seemed well-nigh impossible. Then he heard of Clear Creek, the school designed for adults and offering a three-year course in the Bible and related subjects to prepare men for special Christian service.

It wasn't easy to pull up stakes and move his family to a school campus where his income would be very limited, but with the help of

He attends classes four mornings a week and works on the afternoon shift at the Clear Creek factory, making church furniture for a living while studying to be a minister.

Fleeing Paintsville Man Shot By Pursuing Police On Pennsylvania Road

A Paintsville man and his companion engaged in a 90-mile an hour race with Pennsylvania police Tuesday. It ended when C. Ray Arrowood, 31, was shot in the head and was taken to a Lewiston, Pa., hospital.

Arrowood was the driver of an auto that sped out of Lewiston after Patrolman Robert W. McCormick chased him from a restaurant. McCormick said Arrowood and his companion, James P. Boyd, 25, of Columbus, Ohio, had attempted to ruin a pinball machine in the restaurant.

Arrowood and Boyd ran from the restaurant to their car. McCormick requested aid from a passing motorist and pursued Arrowood and Boyd.

Two miles east of Lewiston the patrolman fired warning shots. Both cars continued speeding down U. S. 22 toward Mifflintown. Nine miles west of Lewis-town McCormick fired four shots at the fleeing auto. All four hit the car and one struck Arrowood in the back of the head. He immediately stopped the car and was taken to the hospital. Extent of the wound was not learned.

First Avenue Building Damaged By Fire; Wiring Thought Blaze Cause

Defective wiring caused a fire which damaged the Harlowe building on First Avenue here several hundred dollars, Wednesday morning.

The fire started in a second-floor apartment, and most damage resulted when firemen were forced to tear out plastered walls to reach the source of the fire. The wiring system of the building is believed to have been ruined.

C. Dale Burchett On Winning Team Before High Court

C. Dale Burchett, of Guilford, Pike county, and Perry R. White, Jr., Lexington, won the University of Kentucky's Moot Court competition before the Court of Appeals, Friday.
 The winning team, appellee in the competition, defeated Julius B. Rafter and Charles E. English, both of Bowling Green, by a 3-to-2 decision of the judges.
 Chief Justice Morris Montgomery, commended both teams for excellent presentation and briefs.
 "This court would be much happier if all briefs we received were as good as the ones in this case," he added.
 Burchett and White now are eligible for National moot-court competition at St. Louis next month.

FLOYD COUNTY BOARD Of REGISTRATION and PURGATION
 Prestonsburg, Ky.

 He said he fought back and stabbed the hitch-hiker with his pocket knife in self-defense and later pushed him from the car.
 After abandoning the car at Panama City, he said, he took a bus to Pensacola, Fla., then traveled by plane to New Orleans and made his way to Dallas, Texas. There he threw away his identification papers.
 Fannin, a salesman for the Lederle Drug Co., of Pear River, N. Y., was on a selling trip out of his headquarters at Atlanta when he disappeared after checking out of a motel in Hawkinsville, Oct. 7.
 His father, offered a $1,000 reward in the case.
 Georgia and Florida officers are being notified, the sheriff's department said.
 At Hawkinsville, Sheriff J. A. Hill said there is "a lot more to Fannin's story that hasn't come out. I still believe he is not completely telling the truth."
 The sheriff pointed out that if a body had been dumped along a public highway it would have been found, particularly in the extensive search for Fannin.
 Hill also noted that Fannin said he threw the knife away in Texas, but Florida officers reported a blood-stained knife was found on the seat of Fannin's car. The sheriff said Florida officials told him Fannin's wife said the knife resembled her husband's.
 "Until we come up with something definite," Hill added, "Pulaski county is not placing any charge against Fannin."
 In Atlanta, Fannin's 50-year-old father said:
 "It (the stabbing) didn't happen. My son didn't do anything like that. I think they interrogated him to the point that they got him to admit something that never happened. There may have been some struggling in the car, but as far as him killing anybody, it just didn't happen."
 The elder Fannin, who reported his son had a habit of picking up hitch-hikers, said California officials would not let him talk to the salesman.
 The father, a native of Betsy Layne, is a former Kentucky state representative who owns an auto accessories store in Whitley City.

Florence Allen Portrait Given To U. S. Courtroom
 Judge Florence E. Allen, the only woman ever appointed to the U. S. Court of Appeals, who has retired after 25 years of service on the federal court bench, was honored Oct. 15, when her portrait was presented to the U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, at Cincinnati. The presentation was made by U. S. Senator Frank J. Lausche, of Ohio, and a reception and luncheon in her honor followed.
 Judge Allen is the aunt of Mrs. Lon C. Hill, of Prestonsburg, and a daughter of the Hills is named for the famous woman-jurist.
 Although in retirement, she will remain on call in the Sixth Circuit for the remainder of her life as a senior judge. A colleague, Judge Thomas McAllister, Grand Rapids, Mich., said of her: "Her contribution to the law is imperishable."
 In her column, "My Day," Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt wrote, a few years ago: "... if a President of the United States should decide to nominate a woman for the Supreme Court, it should be Judge Allen."

Can We Afford To Lose This?

The above pictures illustrate the same type of units which are located in Mt. Sterling, a central Kentucky town with a population of approximately 5,500 people, 500 less than the city of Prestonsburg.

At the October 3rd meeting of the Prestonsburg City Council under the leadership of men comprising the Progressive ticket, a resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor of this city to execute a cooperation agreement in conjunction with the Prestonsburg Municipal Housing Commission and the Federal Government for a maximum of 100 low rent public housing units. Prestonsburg has already been certified by the Federal Government as being eligible for 40 such units. In simple terms the passage of this legislation by the City Council makes possible the following:

1. Construction of 40 housing units at an average rent of $30.00 per month INCLUDING ALL UTILITIES.
2. Providing safe, decent and sanitary living quarters for families whose gross annual income is less than $2,400 per year.
3. The payment to the City of Prestonsburg by the Federal Government of a certain amount of money which would be determined by the gross rent collected from the housing project, which payment shall be compensation to the city for the loss in tax dollars normally collected.

HOW MUCH DOES A PROJECT OF THIS NATURE COST THE TAXPAYER?

The total project cost of these units would be approximately $450,000.00, none of which is borne by the taxpayers of the City of Prestonsburg. The money for the construction of these units is advanced by the Federal Government and this indebtedness is retired through the issuance of revenue bonds amortized over a period of 40 years. At the end of any one calendar year if the rental receipts from the units are not sufficient to retire the bonds due for that calendar year, the Federal Government pays the balance owed in order to retire the bonds. At no time does the redemption of the bonds become an obligation of the City of Prestonsburg or the taxpayers thereof.

The Progressive Ticket heartily endorses a program such as this which is designed to benefit the less fortunate people of our community. This endorsement is evidenced by the recent vote at the October 3 meeting at which time the low rent public housing legislation was passed. Six members of the Progressive Party voted for low rent public housing and one representative of the opposition party voted against it.

The campaign seeks to raise $63,132.20, to continue Scouting for another year and extend its programs to a growing number of boys who want them.

Lonesome Pine Council has 662 boys enrolled in 29 Cub Scout packs. Mr. Wood said, "Cub Scouting has earned its laurels as the most popular program for younger boys of America."

Wood said that in Boy Scouting for boys 11 through 17 there are 1,858 boys active in 91 troops. They learn democracy by electing their own boy leaders and planning patrol and troop programs. They camp, hike, learn first aid, and become expert in woodcraft and cooking.

There are 372 enrolled in the new Explorer program for high-school age boys. They are members of 14 Exploring units. Their program includes a personal fitness emphasis social, vocational exploration, outdoor citizenship, and service experience.

"The Scouting programs provide activities and skills to meet the needs of growing boys," Mr. Wood said. "Membership gives boys ready-made atmosphere in which to develop democratic ways of living," he added.

These programs, he points out, are made available to all boys through the sponsorship by churches, schools, veterans' posts, service club and many other local institutions.

"All this is provided," Mr. Wood said, "under the leadership of 230 men and women, in the case of Cub Scout Den Mothers, who give of themselves voluntarily to the service of boyhood through Scouting. We owe a great debt of gratitude to these devoted leaders."

When Fuse Blows, Something's Wrong

Never replace a blown fuse with a coin or a larger fuse. When a fuse blows, it means something is wrong. Some of the common causes are too many appliances on the same circuit, causing an overload; a short circuit caused by two bare wires touching; defective cords or wiring on appliances; or worn or broken insulations allowing bare wires to touch grounded metal such as a radiator. If a fuse blows the second time after you think you have corrected the trouble and replaced the fuse, call a repairman to find what is wrong.

Democratic Nominees, Banking Group Head Endorses Amendment

The campaign for legislation to allow Kentucky sheriffs to succeed themselves has received strong backing from Bert T. Combs and Wilson W. Wyatt; Lee P. Miller, Louisville banker who now is president of the American Bankers' Association; and from the Kentucky Peace Officers' Association.
Ratification by Kentucky voters of the No. 1 amendment on the ballot for the November 2 general election would clear the way for Sheriff Hersell Warrens, of Floyd county, to run for re-election. The Kentucky Constitution since 1792 has prohibited a sheriff from seeking re-election, or even serving as a deputy to his successor.
Supporters of the mounting drive to remove the constitutional restriction argue that this is a waste of valuable experience in an office that has become increasingly complicated in law-enforcement, court-administration and tax-collection responsibilities and requires an experienced and efficient official.

Scriptwriting Contest Slated In Schools Here; Lloyd Wells Is Sponsor

The 13th annual Voice of Democracy broadcast scriptwriting contest will offer high school students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades of all public, private and parochial schools in Floyd county a chance to compete this fall for a $1,500 college scholarship, a free trip to Washington, D.C., and other awards.
For details on entering the Voice of Democracy, students should contact their high school principal or Lloyd Wells, sponsor of the local contest.
School winners must be determined by Nov. 1 and the county winner by Nov. 11, Mr. Wells said.
Contestants write and deliver three-to-five minute scripts on the theme, "I Speak for Democracy." Scripts should be in the style of radio or television commentaries. The winner in each school competes in a countywide contest. A tape-recording of the local winner's script is judged in a statewide competition. The state winner's tape-recording competes in the national contest.
The top winner in each of the 50 states will receive a free trip to Washington, D. C., next February, for the national awards ceremonies and four days of activities around the nation's capital. At that time, the national winner will be announced and will receive a $1,500 scholarship to any accredited college the winner chooses. Four national finalists receive gold recordings of their scripts. Winners at all levels of the contest receive Certificates of Merit.

REBECCA WITTEN GRAHAM (1775-1843)

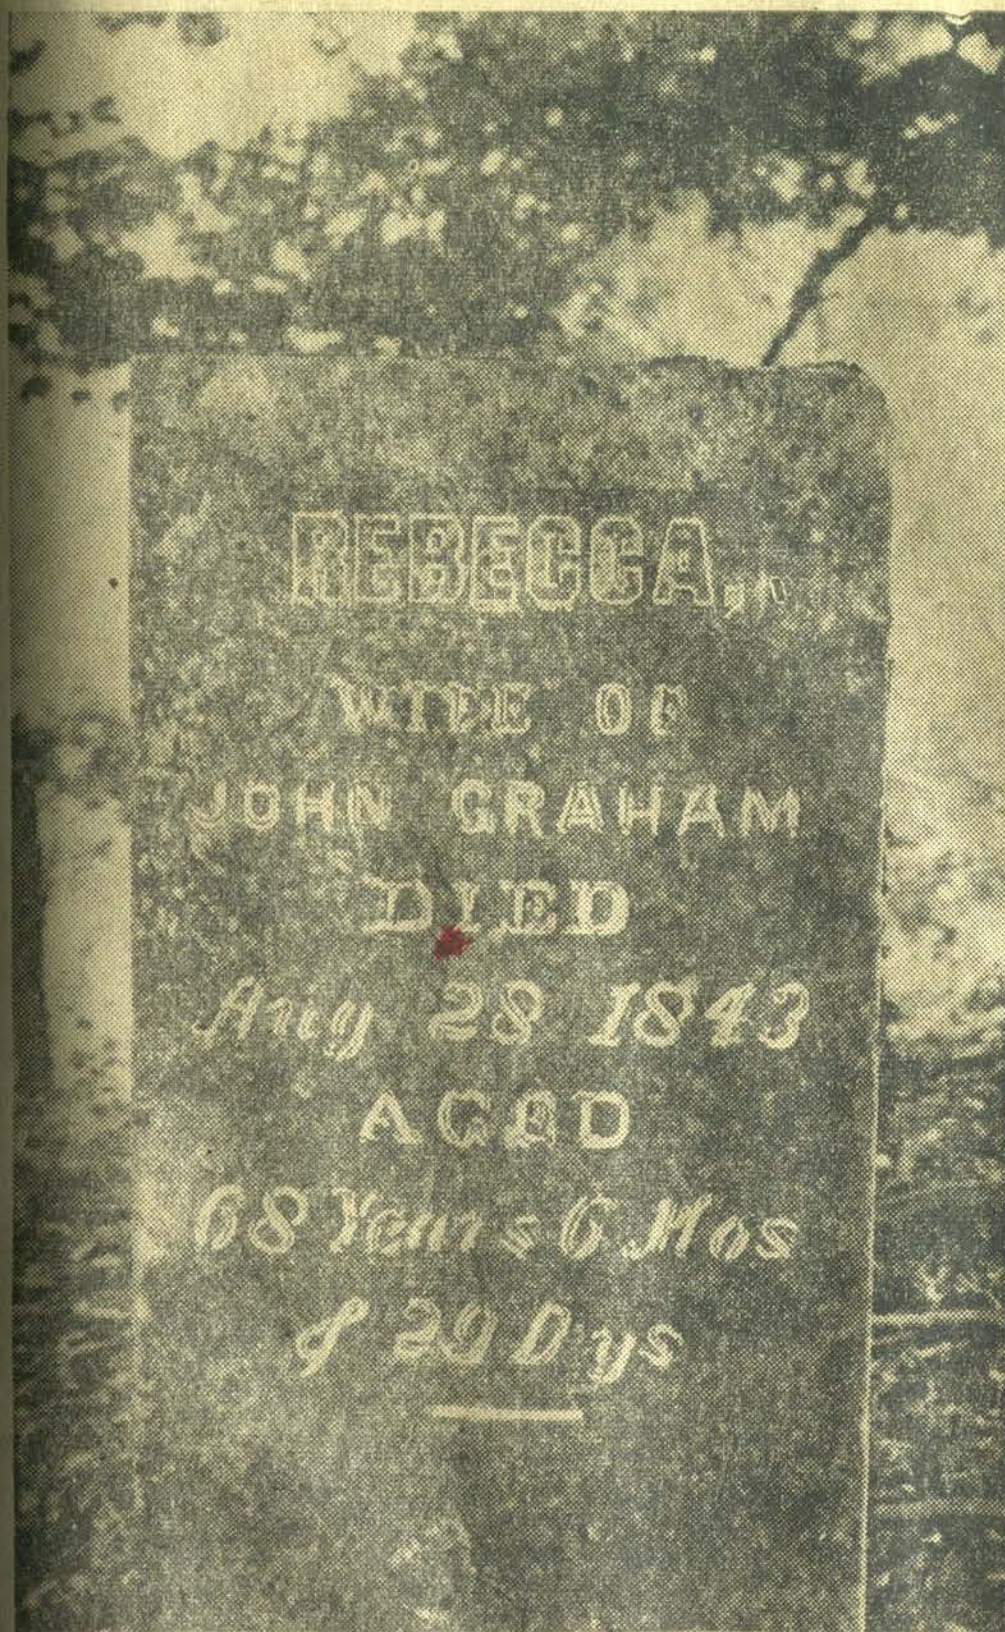

Rebecca Witten Graham, wife of Judge John Graham, pioneer Big Sandian, was a daughter of Thomas Witten, Jr., of Washington, now Tazewell county, Virginia. Her grandparents, Thomas Witten, Sr., and Elizabeth Cecil Witten, moved from Maryland to Southwest Virginia in the 1770's, becoming one of the region's first pioneer families.

Judge John Graham and Rebecca Witten were married, Feb. 10, 1803, in Tazewell county. They moved to the Big Sandy in 1805, settled at the present Emma. Her husband was judge, landowner, banker, surveyor and merchant. Their home, completed in 1807, consisted of 12 rooms, and was for many years the finest in the valley.

Coming from a prominent and well-educated Virginia family, Mrs. Graham contributed much to the success of her husband. It was she who gave the Graham manse a background of refinement and culture and made their home a center for the social activities of the period.

Judge Graham died at home, April 20, 1835, aged 70 years. His wife survived until August 28, 1843. She and her husband are buried beside a son, Thomas Witten Graham, in the family cemetery overlooking the present Emma, but known then since settlement days as Graham's Bottom.

The First National Bank salutes the pioneer women of Big Sandy valley. They contributed greatly to the security of the settler homes.

Complaint and Petition Seeking Reduction of the Boundaries of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, Striking Off Certain Territory Lying on the Southern City Limits of Said City.

To HON. EDWARD P. HILL, PRESIDING JUDGE OF THE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT.

The petitioner, City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, for its complaint and petition herein states that it is a municipal corporation of the State of Kentucky, and a City of the Fourth Class.

1. Petitioner further says that on the 2nd day of August, 1959, at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, held at the City Hall, the said City Council duly adopted and enacted an ordinance which was later advertised in three consecutive issues of the Floyd County Times, a weekly newspaper published in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, directing that there be stricken from the southern limits of said City certain territory, thereby reducing the boundary of said city, and which ordinance also directed the City Attorney to take the necessary steps including the filing of this suit, to strike said territory from the city limits of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

2. That the aforesaid ordinance was duly advertised and published in the Floyd County Times for three consecutive weeks commencing with the issue of September 9th, continuing with the issue of September 16, and concluding with the issue of September 23, 1959. A copy of said advertisement is filed herewith and marked "Exhibit A" for identity.

3. The said territory, proposed to be stricken off from the boundary of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, is bounded and described as follows:

"BEGINNING at a post on Big Sandy River at low water mark on the line of Mrs. G. W. Rhorer; thence with her line to U.S. Highway 23 and across said highway to the lower line of Goldie Layne 300 feet to the line of the city limits; thence up Big Sandy River with said line of the city limits to the L. V. Goble line 20 feet above his residence; and with said line to low water mark at the Big Sandy River; thence with the river to the beginning."

WHEREFORE, plaintiff, City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, demands: FIRST: That this court enter a judgment striking off the above described territory from the boundary of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and that the same be no longer considered as part of the boundary of said city, or within the same.

SECOND: That said territory shall thereafter be treated and considered for all purposes as outside the boundaries of said incorporated city.

THIRD: That if any defense is made hereto that petitioner recover its costs.

Southwestern Kentucky Was Confederate

The approaching centennial of the War Between the States is a reminder of the split in sentiment in Kentucky between North and South during that war.

The strongest Confederate sentiment was along the Commonwealth's southwest border. Many southwest Kentuckians still talk with a distinct southern accent.

Jefferson Davis, the Confederate president, was born at Fairview in this region. A 351-foot obelisk, highest in U. S., marks the birthplace. Other points of interest to travelers in the Confederate region of Kentucky include:

Confederate fortifications — Trenches and breastworks on hilltop which today is campus of Western State College, Bowling Green, which was Confederate capitol of Kentucky.

Confederate Convention House — Building at Russellville which housed convention that declared Kentucky a Confederate state.

Kentucky Woodlands — 60,000 acre wildlife refuge.

Pennyrile State Park — Offers overnight accommodations and fishing and swimming facilities, during season.

Jesse James Bank — Old bank building, now a library, at Russellville, where Jesse James staged first bank holdup in 1868.

Stagecoach Inn — Spot near Guthrie where Jesse James and part of his gang supposedly went into hiding after robbing Russellville bank.

Jackson Duel Site — Marker points out place where Andrew Jackson killed Charles Dickinson in duel.

Red River Church — Site of revival of 1800 which spread throughout state.

Shaker Village — Remains of village erected by Shakers around 1820.

Inland Club Delegates To Attend Convention

Paul C. Linkous, Harold Wakefield, and E. H. "Buster" Roberts, of the Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright are attending the 38th National Conference of the national Management Association in Detroit, October 21, 22, and 23, as delegates, representing their club at the annual meeting on Wednesday. CONCRETE can save Kentucky $20,200,000 on its new Interstate Highways in 20 years!

A study of Highway Department records for the heaviest traveled roads built in Kentucky since 1936 proves concrete costs 75% less for upkeep than asphalt.

The same rate of savings can be applied to our state's new Interstate Highways. In 20 years concrete can save $31,600 per four-lane mile, or a grand total of $20,200,000 on the System's entire 640 miles.

Remember, too, while the Federal Government pays 90% of the original construction cost, it does not pay one single penny for upkeep. You pay it — along with all the other Kentucky drivers. The money comes from the state road fund that is financed by the tax on every gallon of gasoline you buy.

That's why concrete's true economy and quality are so important — why every mile of Kentucky's Interstate System should be paved with modern concrete.

PENNINGTON FAMILY

A letter from Mrs. Veda F. Pennington, 9824, West 53rd Street, Merriam, Kansas, to Mrs. Evelyn Salisbury, treasurer of the Floyd County Historical Society, Prestonsburg, is an inquiry on the Pennington family.

Mrs. Pennington says the family settled in Kentucky about 1810 and notes that there are several early Floyd county marriages of the family.

The Pennington marriages referred to are those of James, John and William Pennington. Names of the brides of James and John Pennington are illegible on Floyd records but William Pennington married Martha Blanton, Dec. 8, 1836. John married Sept. 16, 1819, and James, Dec. 19, 1819.

The Kansas correspondent would like information on her family in Kentucky and would exchange data.

THE FORREST DISAPPEARED

Again we excerpt a bit from Logan Ewell's stories in the London (Ky.) Sentinel-Echo. Ewell writes about a giant hickory forest that disappeared in Laurel county many, many years ago.

"Some months ago I was invited to appear before the London Kiwanis Club to tell what title, if any, I knew of the folklore of the county and at that time I told of the strange disappearance of a virgin forest on the waters of Little Laurel River. Today I read in the Courier-Journal under a Denver, Colo., heading of a similar occurrence in the government forests in that state.

"Reading this article has prompted me to retell the story told to the club; it was told by Gen. Jarvis Jackson to my father and from him to me. The General's version was that on approximately 150 acres of land near Lily (once owned by me and now carrying the name of the Ewell place) stood the choicest boundary of hickory timber he had ever seen.

"It was visited by himself and a group of prospectors when he was about eight years of age, he then being a resident of Madison county, Kentucky, in the 1790's. Hickory being to the pioneers what steel is to the present generation, the boundary was noted by the party for future use.

"Gen. Jackson served in the War of 1812 and did not again visit this region until some time after the war, Jackson and father had moved to London in the meantime. After coming here he went on to the boundary with intention of making survey for patents which he would apply for.

"To his astonishment not one of the giant hickory trees was to be found and all traces including stumps had vanished. In their stead he found a flourishing growth of young pine growing. He could offer no explanation.

"As stated, we once owned this property and were the owners when the pine forest which grew up on this land was cut and sawed into lumber. It yielded 750,000 board feet of as fine pine as ever produced in Laurel county. In company with my father we counted the rings of growth of several stumps and logs and we found they indicated an age corresponding to the General's story.

"August 28, 1958, The Courier-Journal cited an event in Colorado's White River National Forest. Winds once blew down some of the forest's spruce trees, which are preyed upon by the tiny bark beetle. The fallen trees could not withstand the beetles, and the tangle of branches kept away beetle-eating woodpeckers. They ate the fallen trees, then turned to the standing timber which they consumed in just a few short years.

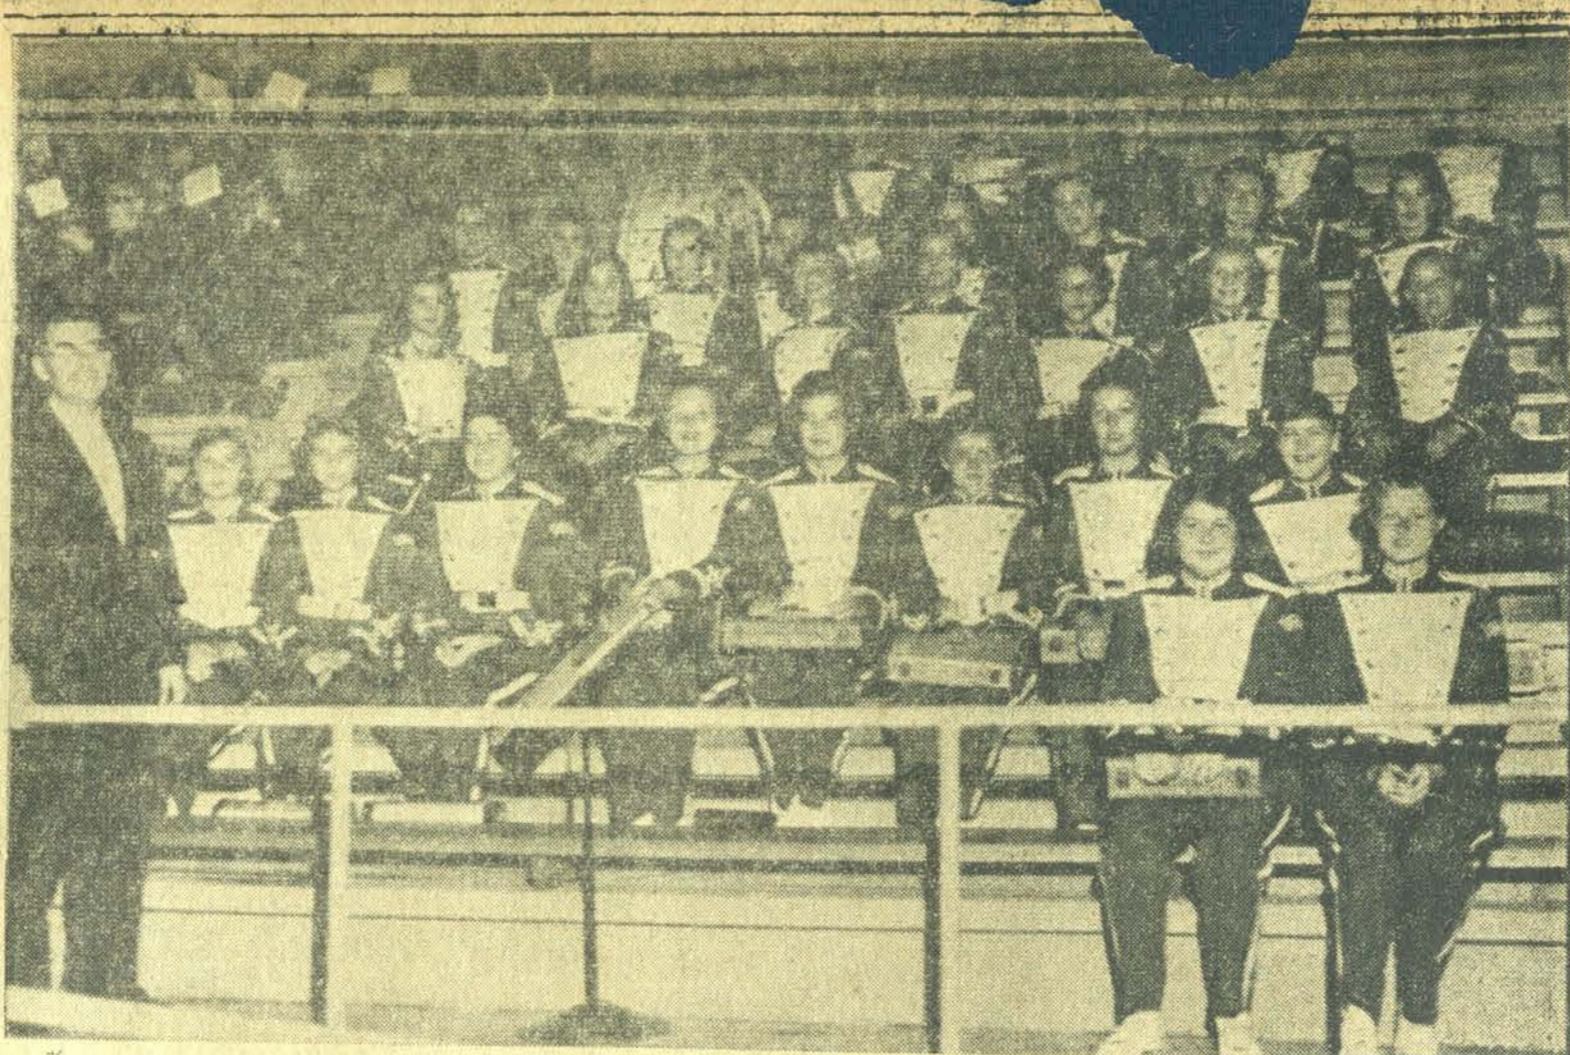

"Maybe this is what happened to our vanished forest."

Then by slow and painful degrees I degenerated into a college professor and writer, thus becoming the black sheep of my family which leans toward jurisprudence.

OBITUARY

ELZA DOTSON

Elza Dotson was born in Magoffin county on the third day of June, 1878 and departed this life October 15, 1959 at the age of 81 years, 4 months, and 13 days. He was the son of Bill Dotson and Nancy Richardson Dotson.

On January 1, 1903, he was united in marriage to Josie Conley. To this union ten children were born, five of whom preceded him in death. Those who remain to mourn his passing are:

Mrs. Elsie Prater, Brainard, Ky. Mrs. Elzie Hackworth, Tecumseh, Michigan; Mrs. Ethel Salyer, Ashland, Kentucky; Mrs. Delmer Patton, Detroit, Michigan; Mrs. Venus Patrick, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

He also leaves fifteen grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren.

One grandson, Albert Stone, spent much time with his grandparents until the death of his grandmother, and loved and respected them very much.

The following brothers and sisters survive his passing: Amos, Silver Lake, Ind., Bascom, Alger, Ohio, and Clara Hall, Ada, Ohio.

In addition to his children, grandchildren, brothers and sisters he leaves a host of and friends relatives. Elza was a quiet, soft-spoken man, who worked hard to earn a living for his family. When he was a young man he taught school for some time but later turned to farming and seemed to throw himself completely into this occupation. He always took great pride in his crops, livestock, and other farm interests. He enjoyed the fruits of success that come only to those who strive with patience, love, and labor to reach their goal.

Elza joined the United Baptist Church in 1940, and remained a faithful member and devout Christian until his death.

During their long married life, he and his companion, Josie, were inseparable and after her death it seemed that he could not be contented anymore. With her passing he had lost something dear to every soul, the desire to live and work and face the future.

The remainder of his life was spent mostly in the homes of his daughters, Ethel and Elsie, and even though they gave unselfishly of their time to meet his every need he still seemed to live in the past and was not able to reconcile himself to circumstances as they were.

He now has passed beyond the vale of human tears and sorrows. His children and loved ones should seek consolation with the fact that Elza not only has gone to be with his dear wife, but also to spend an ageless eternity with his Saviour who doeth all things well.

"What know we greater than the soul? On God and Godlike men we build our trust.

He is gone who seemed so great. Gone, but nothing can bereave him of the force he made his own. Being here, and we believe him something far advanced in State.

And that he wears a truer crown Than any wreath that man can weave him.

Speak no more of his renown, Lay your earthly fancies down, And in the vast cathedral leave him, God accept him, Christ receive him."

Seven State Miners Die During September, "No Accident Month"

James H. Phalan, chief of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, recently pointed out a grim irony concerning safety in the state's coal mines.

For the first eight months of 1959, said Phalan, mine safety showed marked improvement, with 10 fewer fatal accidents than in the same period in 1958.

But during September, he said, which had been proclaimed "No Accident Month," there occurred seven fatal accidents.

"Why?" asked Phalan. "Did we take it for granted that September would be a month of no accidents, just because our governor proclaimed it such? No, safety doesn't come that easy. It cannot be proclaimed. It cannot be taken for granted. Safety is something that comes only from the combined efforts of everyone."

However, said Phalan, we still have nine less fatal accidents (30 through September) in 1959 than for the same period last year.

He urged coal miners and operators to use the remainder of the year to make 1959 the safest 12 months in Kentucky's mining safety.

The Washington county courthouse at Springfield, erected in 1812, is the oldest courthouse in use in Kentucky.

One grandson, Albert Stone, spent much time with his grandparents until the death of his grandmother, and loved and respected them very much.

The following brothers and sisters survive his passing: Amos, Silver Lake, Ind., Bascom, Alger, Ohio, and Clara Hall, Ada, Ohio.

In addition to his children, grandchildren, brothers and sisters he leaves a host of and friends relatives. Elza was a quiet, soft-spoken man, who worked hard to earn a living for his family. When he was a young man he taught school for some time but later turned to farming and seemed to throw himself completely into this occupation. He always took great pride in his crops, livestock, and other farm interests. He enjoyed the fruits of success that come only to those who strive with patience, love, and labor to reach their goal.

Elza joined the United Baptist Church in 1940, and remained a faithful member and devout Christian until his death.

During their long married life, he and his companion, Josie, were inseparable and after her death it seemed that he could not be contented anymore. With her passing he had lost something dear to every soul, the desire to live and work and face the future.

The remainder of his life was spent mostly in the homes of his daughters, Ethel and Elsie, and even though they gave unselfishly of their time to meet his every need he still seemed to live in the past and was not able to reconcile himself to circumstances as they were.

He now has passed beyond the vale of human tears and sorrows. His children and loved ones should seek consolation with the fact that Elza not only has gone to be with his dear wife, but also to spend an ageless eternity with his Saviour who doeth all things well.

"What know we greater than the soul? On God and Godlike men we build our trust.

He is gone who seemed so great. Gone, but nothing can bereave him of the force he made his own. Being here, and we believe him something far advanced in State.

And that he wears a truer crown Than any wreath that man can weave him.

Speak no more of his renown, Lay your earthly fancies down, And in the vast cathedral leave him, God accept him, Christ receive him."

FOOD STUFFING
Americans enjoy the most abundant and varied food supply found anywhere in the world; for this we can thank our farmers. And we buy food in more forms, in handier packages, and in more convenient places; this is due to our marketing and distribution services, according to Mrs. Letta Jasper, University of Kentucky Extension specialist in marketing and consumer education.

Mrs. Jean Montgomery, Native Of Missouri, Passes in Kansas

Mrs. Jean Bryant Montgomery, 32, wife of W. J. (Bill) Montgomery of this county, died at an Olathe, Kans., hospital, at 5 a.m., Sunday, a few hours after arrival. The cause of death was not known but was thought to be a heart ailment.

Mrs. Montgomery was a native of Missouri, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Henry Bryant. She and her husband, an officer in the U.S. Navy, had been living at Olathe for a year where he was stationed.

Surviving besides the husband, are two children, Janice and Jimmy, both at home.

Funeral rites were held at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, at Paynesville, Mo., and burial was made there.

Relatives attending the funeral services from this county were Mrs. Thelma Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Dayrus Montgomery, all of West Prestonsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Montgomery, of Cincinnati, and Mr. and Mrs. Bun Montgomery, Ada, Ohio.

MUCH FILMING

A look inside the Microfilming Center in the Journalism building at the University of Kentucky will reveal that the first three and one-half years of operation have been busy ones. Since the Center began to function as a complete unit in December, 1955, it has filmed thousands of newspapers, books, and personal papers for the University and subscribing newspapers.

Only Nine More Days!

Look at the date opposite your name on this copy of your paper. It indicates when your subscription to The FLOYD COUNTY TIMES expired or will expire.

For example: If the date reads "May 60," that means that your subscription will expire May 31, 1960. In all cases the expiration date is the last day of the month given.

THIS IS IMPORTANT

It is important that prompt notice be taken of subscribers' expiration dates for two reasons: (1) To check for a possible error in the date; (2) To make certain the expired subscription will not be cancelled.

Cost of production. — wages, high newsprint costs and other factors — makes it necessary that all subscriptions be paid in advance. It is not of our choosing, the present situation, but the cost of producing a newspaper under present conditions is such that we will not be able any longer to "carry" subscribers, however well we know them or however much we would like to do so.

Please remember this. Your credit is good, but our credit may become bad if we do not collect for subscriptions.

For this reason alone on and after November 1, 1959, all subscriptions in arrears will be dropped from our mailing lists.

Subscription rates: In Kentucky, $3 a year; Outside Kentucky, $3.50.
On and after Jan. 1, 1960, the rate for subscribers outside Kentucky will be $4 a year.

DOPE BUCKET UPSETS SCORED IN CONFERENCE LAST WEEK

A wave of upsets marked play on the Eastern Kentucky high school grid front at the beginning of the second half of the season.

Both Hazard and Pikeville fell from the unbeaten ranks, and Prestonsburg surprised Belfry with a tie while Whitesburg's Yellow-jackets soundly trounced Fleming-Neon.

Prestonsburg's Blackcats pushed Belfry around with surprising ease through the first half, and had a big edge in all statistics except scoring.

In suffering their first defeats, Pikeville and Hazard still retain leadership in Region 4, Class "AA," with identical 4-0 records, since Somerset is in Region 3 and Paintsville is Class "A," Region 4.

Paintsville's easy 32-6 conquest of Pikeville virtually knocked the Panthers out of any hopes for the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference title since Jim Caudill's Hazard Bulldogs own a 5-0 league record.

Edd Moore's Whitesburg Yellow-jackets moved into their spot in the league standings with a 3-1 mark after downing arch-rival Fleming 51-7 in the widest scoring margin in the area this season.

Roger Kincer, Eastern Kentucky's leading scorer and probably Number One in the state, tallied five touchdowns and an extra point to give him an eight-game total of 137 points.

Bow, Gun Deer Hunting Slated In 34 Counties

Kentucky will have gun and archery deer hunting in 34 counties this year.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources said open season for gun hunting in specified counties is Dec. 4-6, with certain exceptions. Archery open season is October 21-Nov. 19.

The department said persons hunting deer must have a $10.50 permit plus a valid hunting license. When a hunter bags a deer he must cease hunting for the rest of the season.

Resident landowners and tenants will not be required to have a deer hunting permit while hunting on land on which they live.

Three new counties—Floyd, Harlan and Crittenden—have been opened for hunting this year. Of the old deer hunting counties, a two-day season was decreed for Pulaski, McCreary and Laurel counties, December 5-6.

The October issue of "Outdoor Life," national hunting and fishing magazine, reported on the upcoming Kentucky hunt:

"Kentucky, with a herd of about 30,000 whitetail, expects a kill of around 2,500, up 50 percent from last fall when 10,400 hunters took 1,750. Kentucky had its first season in modern times in 1956. The herd is growing, 34 counties will be open this year, and unless bad weather interferes hunting will be better. Hunter success runs higher in the west, but the heaviest hunted counties are Bullitt and Nelson, south of Louisville, and Pulaski and McCreary in the southwest."

The Eastern Kentucky regional high school cross-country run will be held on the Paintsville high course Saturday morning, October 31. These area high schools are expected to compete.

Ezel, Meade Memorial, Paintsville, Warfield, Wurtland, Virgie, Flat Gap and Johns Creek. The winner will advance to the state meet in Lexington, in November. Interested schools should contact Billy Ray Cassidy, manager of the regional meet.

Wheelwright high is highly elated this week as the school won its first football game in three seasons' last Friday night in pasting Leslie County, 20-0, and found an indication of more wins to come in the play of fullback Perry Taylor, who is playing football for the first time this season. The 180-pound junior entered Wheelwright this September after two previous years at Palmer-Dunbar. He has scored seven touchdowns of the 66 points scored by his team, gained more than half of the team's total yardage and is improving with each game, according to Coach Ray Brackett.

James Mahan, veteran Jenkins quarterback, broke his hand in the Clintwood, Virginia game, and is out for the season. This was a serious blow to the Cavaliers, since Mahan was regarded by many coaches as the best in the league. He is a 6-1 senior with two years of experience behind him, and is one of the top runners in the region.

Wednesday marked the opening of the archery deer season in the Dewey Lake Refuge. Hunting with guns will not be permitted until December 4, 5 and 6.

The archery season will remain open until Thursday, November 19, and only one buck or doe may be killed per hunter.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman — even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.
