THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

If you're handy with figures you might help me out. I've been trying to figure how much a deer would cost the hunter if it cost, as much per pound as every bass caught.

After studying a photograph of the Kennedy family, I've finally learned why they kept Old Man Kennedy in the background during the campaign. The rest of 'em have hair.

There ought to be an item in this column about the weather, but my upper plate is chattering too loudly to let me think about it.

WE'VE COOLED OFF SOMEWHAT

Last week this column promised, in an off-hand sort of way, that Vester Fraley and I would report on our last fishing safari at Dewey Lake when we cooled off a bit. Well, we've cooled and have finally toned our comments down to yelling nothing worse than "Jonah" at each other. If I had been Isaac Walton's fishing buddy "The Compleat Angler" would never have been written. The poor fellow would probably have spent his time muttering in his beard, or he might have beat Ed Zern to that pillaxed volume entitled, "To Hell with Fishing."

The other night when I told my daughter about Raymond Copley landing a 9-1/4-pound bass, she exclaimed, "How in the world do you manage to miss all of them?" There was no answer coming to that one. This is the same Mr. Copley with whom I trolled on a certain afternoon not too long ago till we were black in the face, and many a nibble did either of us get. If ever it becomes against the law for a fisherman to gripe, I shall quit and take up snipe hunting.

Perhaps I should get off the subject, but I must admit that Sgt. Craft's big bass is one that lost weight. This very newspaper reported last week half a pound lighter than it really was, and the Sarge has already seen a lawyer. (See Nov. 24, Page 6)

2 Pen Terms, Shuttling from Jail To Jail in 2 Counties--All this In Day's Work on "Blue Monday"

It was "blue Monday" indeed for Jack Caldwell.

At 9 a.m., Monday, he was given a two-year pen term by the Pike circuit court for breaking and entering the Pikeville Country Club. An hour later, he was in the Floyd county jail and after a stay there of only a few minutes he was in the Floyd circuit court, pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and entering Hall's store at Boldman. For that offense he received another two-year term.

Then back to Pikeville he was

OPERATION BOOTSTRAP NEARING $30,500 GOAL

"Operation Bootstrap," the drive launched recently to raise funds for construction on the Prestonsburg high school grounds of a complete athletic field, drew within $9,235 this week of its $30,500 goal.

As of Tuesday afternoon 155 sales of Youth Confidence bonds and certificates had realized a total of $21,265. Byron M. Thompson, chairman of the Parent-Teacher Association's building and improvements committee, said,

When the fund thus raised reaches the $30,500 mark and that sum is deposited in a local bank, the Floyd County Board of Education will add its check in the amount of

6-CENT BOOST IN GAS RATE IS ACCEPTED

City Council, Gas Firm Effect Compromise Pact At Last Friday Meeting

An agreement effected between the City Council and the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company last Friday set the gas rate to be paid by the city at 31 cents per 1,000 cubic feet—a raise of 6 cents above the contract rate previously in effect here.

The company as wholesale supplier of gas to the city had originally asked an increase of 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Recently it lowered this figure to 7 cents, the city meanwhile offering 5 cents.

During these negotiations the city of Paintsville, whose contract with the gas company will expire in April, was an interested spectator. Mayor Edward B. Leslie said Paintsville officials are hopeful they will be able to negotiate a contract as satisfactory as Prestonsburg's.

The new rate pact is for a period of five years. It is cancellable at the end of any year, however, and so is subject to renegotiation.

As a consequence of the wholesale rate increase, a top rate of 60 cents per thousand will be charged the consumer here, with a sliding scale of rates applying to heavier consumers. The minimum also will be reduced to 2,000 cubic feet, it was said.

Adrian Collins, a member of the Municipal Gas & Water Commission, said the Commission has figured on maintaining present earnings of the system at the least possible increase in rates to the consumer. An accountant's services were employed in computing what the new rate must be, he said. Taking into consideration were the approximately 11% line loss under old streets here and free gas supplied to five city-owned buildings or installations.

Ranier Office Building Damaged By Fire Here; Few Records Are Lost

Fire, its origin tentatively attributed to a gas furnace, gutted the four-room office building of the Harry Ranier Construction Company on Lake Drive at 2 o'clock, Friday morning.

The Prestonsburg fire department checked the flames before the building, of frame construction, was completely destroyed. Only a few records were lost but many were impaired by water. Some furniture was saved from the blaze, it was said.

Loss was estimated at $30,000. It was not learned whether there was any insurance coverage.

The damaged structure here was the main office of the construction firm. A branch office is maintained at Sassafras, Knott county, at the site of the coal-stripping operations of the company.

CHILD HEALTH IMPROVEMENT

Noted In Floyd County; Infant Mortality Drops, National Survey Shows

Special to The Times

New York, Nov. 28—A significant improvement in child health has been achieved in Floyd county in recent years, according to latest government figures.

A child born in the county today has a much better chance of coping with the hazards of life than did his father or his grandfather when they were born.

Compared with the situation 50 years ago, the infant of today has a five-times better chance than he would have had then of getting through his first year successfully and then going on to reach maturity.

The nationwide figures, released by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, reveal that there has been a drop of 34.4 percent since 1948 in the annual mortality rate among Floyd county children under the age of one.

At that time, not counting stillbirths or deaths of non-residents, 35.2 out of every 1,000 local children died before reaching their first birthday.

By contrast, the figures just released show that by 1958 the rate was reduced to 23.3 per 1,000.

For the rest of the country, the rates vary over a wide range. The state with the lowest mortality is Rhode Island, with 21.3 per 1,000. Mississippi is highest, with 41.0. The United States average is 27.1.

Despite the gains we have made we are still lagging behind nine nations, notes the government report. They are Sweden, with 15.8, Netherlands, 17.2, Australia, 20.5, Norway, 20.5, Switzerland, 22.2, United Kingdom, 23.3, Denmark, 23.4, New Zealand, 23.4, and Finland, 24.5.

Pointing out that not one of our states was able to match Sweden's record, Mrs. Katherine Oettinger, head of the Children's Bureau, warns against complacency, stating that in some directions the United States has made little or no progress recently.

Specifically, she cites the "insignificant reduction since 1950 in the mortality rate among infants less than one day old."

The 34.4 percent reduction in child mortality achieved in Floyd county in the 10-year period is found to be relatively good. It compares favorably with the results attained in the United States as a whole, where the drop was 15.3 percent among children under one year of age. The state of Kentucky's improvement was 26.8 percent.

Mrs. Lilly Kilgore, 69, Of David, Dies Monday At Paintsville Hospital

Mrs. Lilly May Kilgore, 69, of David, died Monday at the Paintsville hospital following several weeks illness. She was a victim of cancer.

Mrs. Kilgore was a native of Tracy City, Tenn., a daughter of William and Martha Layne. Her husband, Oliver William Kilgore, preceded her in death in 1940. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving sons and daughters are Dallas Kilgore, Hueysville, Dillard Kilgore, Garrett, Harley Kilgore, Mrs. Beatrice DeBoard and Mrs. Leona Clark, all of David, Glenn Kilgore, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Lillian Cunningham, Farmington, Mich. Surviving are two brothers, Henry Layne, Palmer, Tenn., and Oscar Layne, Whitwell, Tennessee.

Funeral services were held at the home at David, Tuesday evening, and the body taken to Tracy City, Wednesday, where final rites were conducted at Oak Grove Church. Burial was made in the church cemetery under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

STUMBO PICKS PARIS CONLEY

Library Board Member Succeeding Lon C. Hill; Mrs. May, New Chairman

The Floyd County Library Board met at the office of County School Superintendent Charles Clark, Monday afternoon with a new chairman and a new member as a result of the recent resignation of Lon C. Hill, chairman of the board.

Paris Conley, of Cliff, veteran teacher and a former Bookmobile driver-librarian, was named by County Judge Henry Stumbo to fill the vacancy created on the board by Hill's resignation.

Mrs. R. V. May, of Prestonsburg, who was named to the board several months ago to fill a vacancy resulting from the resignation of Mrs. J. C. Wells, of Estill, was elected chairman. Mrs. May's connection with the library movement antedates the Bookmobile program in this county, since she was associated with the Friends of the Libraries before the present program was instituted.

Supt. Clark, ex-officio member of the board, explained to members that remodeling and renovation of the old high school building and the future transfer of the County Board of Education offices to that building will in no way interfere with the county and regional libraries already located there. Instead, he said, the change will complement the library work.

The Superintendent's office will be on the first floor, a part of which the two libraries occupy, but other offices will be on the second floor. The old gymnasium part of the building will be used for storage of textbooks and other materials.

Leaky condition of the roof which has caused interior damage has already been repaired. Clarke said plans call for beautification of grounds as well as of the building itself.

The library board voted unanimously to express to Mr. Hill its appreciation of the splendid service he has rendered as member of the board since its beginning and as chairman for a great part of that time.

Middle Creek Well, Drilled in "Big Six," Is A Strong Producer

A gas well drilled by the Inland Gas Corporation in the Big Six formation near Goodloe recently, came in at 800,000 cubic feet production, it was learned here this week. A second well in the vicinity, at the mouth of Caney fork of Middle Creek, is to be drilled.

The same company also has under way a well on the Richmond heirs' lease on the head of Brush Creek, near Hippo.

SCHOOL FOR THE RETARDED RECEIVES GRANT OF $1,000

The Floyd County Council for Retarded Children has received $1,000 in a grant from the 1960 WHAS Crusade for Children, one of three WHAS Crusade grants to Eastern Kentucky handicapped children's agencies.

Other grants include one of $5,000 to the Council for Retarded Children of Pike county and another of $3,500 to the Perry Association for Retarded Children.

The grant to the Floyd County Council is intended to insure the reopening in the fall of 1961 of schools for retarded children at Martin and Prestonsburg. It has been applied to the school's general operating budget. The $1,000 grant represented the total applied for by the Floyd Council, other operating funds having been raised by the WPRT Radio Auction and solicitation made during the auction.

The Eastern Kentucky grants were made possible by contributions totaling $208,174.27 from citizens of Kentucky and Southern Indiana to the 1960 WHAS Crusade for Children. The program was broadcast for 16 1/2 hours on WHAS Radio and

SCOUTS, JAYCEES COOPERATE TO COLLECT, REPAIR TOYS

Last year's Christmas toys can make children happy this Christmas, the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce is telling Prestonsburg residents. Only the cooperation of residents is necessary.

Monday, Dec. 5, beginning at 6:30 p. m., Boy Scouts will canvass Prestonsburg to pick up any used toys. Those items made available to the Boy Scouts will be repaired and painted by the Jaycees who, in turn, will give the renovated toys to the various churches for distribution to needy children.

If you have a toy, or many of them, to give for this purpose, you are asked to leave your porch lights burning next Monday evening.

BASS ADDED TO LAKE, SIZE LIMITS PLANNED

Heavy stocking of Dewey Lake and plans to revive size limits on fish taken from the impoundment in order to protect them till they can reproduce themselves were announced here this week by Bernard Carter, director of the Division of Fish, Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources.

The entire bass production of the Williamsburg hatchery — 19,659 largemouth averaging 5 1/2 inches — has been released in the lake with in the last two weeks, Carter said. These fish range from 4 1/2 to 9 1/2 inches.

Mr. Carter said he will recommend to the Game & Fish Commission that no bass may be taken from Dewey Lake that is less than 12 inches in length and that the size limit on walleye taken from the same waters be set at 15 inches.

His decision to make this recommendation, he said, resulted from an intensive study of fishing conditions there and from close creel checks which showed that more than 58% of the bass taken from the lake are less than 12 inches long and that approximately 55% of them are less than 10 inches.

"This means," he said, "that about 55% of the bass in the lake don't live long enough to spawn." The division's aim is to set the size limit at 12 inches and thus to keep the fish in the lake until they have reached spawning age.

Size limits already have been placed on Buckhorn Lake, although it is yet to be impounded. The muskie size limit there has been set at 24 inches. Studies of that lake have failed to show any largemouth bass population, although it has smallmouth, walleye and muskies.

The walleye prospect at Dewey is good, Carter said, and he described the white bass reproduction this year as the best ever for the lake. Walleye released early this year have attained a length of nine inches. The 1960 black bass spawn was "the best in a long time," Carter said. From 200 to 300 young bass per acre had survived up till October of this year, he said.

ZIMMERMAN HEADS GROUP

Inland Steel Manager Is Elected President Of Education Council

The Citizens Educational Council members, in a meeting at Allen, Wednesday evening, elected Harry Zimmerman, of Wheelwright, as president. The Inland Steel general manager was named without opposition.

The newly-elected president, in an acceptance talk, noted that the Council was the only one of its kind in Eastern Kentucky and that it had a great opportunity to contribute to an improved educational program. However, he envisioned no "startling" proposals.

Joe P. Tackett, Prestonsburg attorney, presided as temporary chairman in the absence of James Carter, who had heretofore been acting in the temporary capacity. The meeting was well-attended and representatives from all five educational districts, County Superintendent Charles Clark and several other key school personnel were present.

Clark, in a brief speech, welcomed the new organization to participation in school affairs and pointed out its opportunities but he also gave some advice.

"Stay clear of politics, keep your organization aloof from school board races," the county superintendent said. "They're as mean as old Goue."

He complimented the work of the Floyd County Parent-Teacher Council, spoke of the drive by the Prestonsburg P.-T.A. to provide improved athletic facilities. He voiced the hope that the action of the Prestonsburg group would stimulate like organizations all over the county.

Following adoption of the organization's by-laws and the election of the president, two other committees were named. These were the health and safety, and the resolution committees. Naming of the 13-member advisory committee was automatically deferred until the January meeting as directed by the by-laws.

Named to the health and safety committee were Dr. Russell Hall, Mrs. Regina Mayo, Mrs. Sylvia Newman, Paul Gearheart, Bill May, Wallace Frazier and Bill Lawson. Elected on the resolutions committee were Joe P. Tackett, David (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

To Be Guest Speaker Here Next Sunday

Dr. Lela G. McConnell, L.H.D., president and founder of the Kentucky Mountain Holiness Association, will be the guest-speaker at the Community Methodist Church, Sunday, in the 9:30 a.m. worship service.

Mrs. McConnell is an ordained minister in the Methodist Church who for 36 years has carried on her interdenominational work of faith in the mountain counties of Breathitt and Letcher. Her work includes the Mt. Carmel high school, Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute, many pastorates, and the Radio Station WMTC, claiming Josh. 17:18 as her promise: "The mountain shall be thine." Along with Dr. McConnell will come a boys' quartet to furnish special music for the service. A hearty welcome is extended to the public to attend this special service, the Rev. Charles Lake, pastor, said.

HIBBITS QUITS DIST. 30 POST

Retains Norton Position With United Mine Union; Beane Heads District 30

Carson Hibbits, who has been president of two districts of the United Mine Workers of America in two states, will relinquish one of the posts, Jan. 1, it was announced in Pikeville this week.

Mr. Hibbits will leave his District 30 office with headquarters at Pikeville, to devote full time to the presidency of District 28 in Norton, Va., it was announced.

He will be succeeded in the District 30 post by vice-president C. E. Beane.

Hibbits, who is president and secretary-treasurer of District 28, became president of District 30 in March, 1959, succeeding the late Sam Caddy.

Earlier this year Beane and two other officials of District 30, Secretary-Treasurer Matt Combs and Field Representative Joe Castle, all of Pikeville, were tried for criminal contempt in the dynamiting of the East Kentucky Coalfields coal ramp at Pikeville, Sept. 18, 1959.

The National Labor Relations Board had charged that the three were responsible for the dynamiting and that it violated a federal court non-violence order.

A federal court jury failed to reach a verdict in the case, and a second trial was scheduled this fall. The charges were dismissed, however, when N.L.R.B. attorneys told the court the government had no new evidence.

Hibbits was formerly district representative of District 30, which includes the Big Sandy coal fields. He is a former state representative, having served in the 1948 General Assembly.

Hibbits has been president of District 28 in Norton since 1954.

FLEMING GETS 2-YEAR TERM FOR SLAYING

Defendant's Wife Fails To Appear As a Witness; Woman's Trial Delayed

Ballard Fleming, Prestonsburg mine employee, was convicted of manslaughter Saturday for the slaying here last summer in a Prestonsburg hospital room of Don Woods, of Emma.

Although the defendant was the only eyewitness to testify, and he contended that he fired on Woods as the latter advanced upon him and while Mrs. Fleming tussled with him, the jury deliberated only a comparatively brief time in arriving at the verdict.

Mrs. Fleming did not appear as a witness.

Other witnesses were the defendant's son and five nurses at the hospital, none of whom saw the actual shooting.

Fleming's son told of visiting his mother at the hospital during the afternoon preceding the shooting and of being sent by her to their home to find a hospital insurance policy, since she expected to return home the next day. When his search was unavailing, he said, he told his father he did not want to return to the hospital for more specific instruction as to whereabouts of the policy, and so his father went to the hospital.

The defendant told of arriving at the hospital and of seeing his wife lying on one side of the bed and Woods on the other, of his wife rising to grapple with him, meanwhile tearing away a part of his shirt-sleeve which was used as an exhibit in the trial. He said he was attempting to back out of the room and that Woods leaped from the bed, advancing upon him. It was then that he fired one shot, he testified. But the defendant said the excitement he did not know many.

Fleming also testified that on a previous occasion he had taken him to his home, threatening to call the police.

He explained his presence in the gun on the occasion of the slaying, he had carried the gun with him from his work in the mine where several holdups had been reported to him.

PHONE BOOK READY, D Wayland Subscribers Will Be Able To Prestonsburg Loc

Distribution of one of Fayette's popular books, the directory, will start on Dec. 1. It was announced today by Simpson, local Southern Bell manager.

With this issue of the directory, Wayland will be able to call all of Floyd county without a long distance charge. Prestonsburg will also call Wayland without a long distance operator handling the call.

Something new will be seen in this directory. All telephone numbers in Wayland will consist of seven digits instead of two letters and five digits.

Dialing will be the same. The Wayland code is 358 and has the same pull on the dial as E18. The only change then is the number replacing the letters.

All Floyd county will be ANC (all numeral calling) by the end of 1961. This is another step in the nationwide numbering plan to eventually be able to dial your own long distance calls.

YOUR IDEAS WANTED

The Prestonsburg Community Development Council wants your judgment as to what are the three greatest needs of the town. The question as posed, "What, in your opinion, are the three greatest needs of our community, in the order of their importance?" may be voted on in the blanks below:

- 3.

If you have a solution for meeting these needs you are asked to write on a separate sheet of paper and enclose with the above ballot. Mail to Prestonsburg Community Development Council, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Miss Helen Price, sister of the groom, from Johnson City, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Mary Ellen Peckham, Miss Sharon Peck and Miss Betty Shultz. They were attired in dresses of orchid crystalline with puff sleeves and full skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations centered with lighted candles. The maid of honor was dressed identically but wore a pink dress.

Joy Lou Dudley served her sister as flower girl and Terry Dudley, of May, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Candelighters were Mary Cusing and Bobby Collins.

Roy Huffman served as best man and ushers were Bill Warren, Enid; Everett Morris, Jr., of Muskogee, and Lee Dudley, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Dudley wore a beige sheath with a brocade jacket and a corsage of white orchids. The groom's mother wore a gold sheath with a brocade jacket. She also wore a white orchid corsage.

The reception was held in the Central Christian Church loggia and was hosted by the bride's parents. Two small candelabra entwined with orchid mums and pink carnations decorated the room. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with wedding bells in pink with tulle and lily-of-the-valley in the background. Assisting at the reception were Miss Toni Ciardullo, Miss Sandra Heny and Miss Suzi Corporation.

For a wedding trip to Tennessee and Kentucky, the bride chose a beige two-piece suit of raw silk with button trim and brown accessories. The couple is now residing in Enid.

The groom is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sutphin, of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Sadie Price, of West Prestonsburg.

Miss May, 2 Others
Win With Their Design
Of a New Haymarket

A team of student-architects at the University of Kentucky composed of Miss Elizabeth May, Prestonsburg, Clay Downing, Lexington, and Charles Hanna, Elizabethtown, won first prize with their design of a new Haymarket for the city of Louisville.

Miss May is one of two women architecture students at the University. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. May.

The winning design featuring stalls with umbrella roofs, was selected Tuesday by a seven-man jury here. This and two other winning designs will be displayed at an A.I.A. regional conference in Lexington, February 9 to 11.

The present site of the historic produce market—between Jefferson and Liberty west of Floyd—is to be bought and cleared for a ramp of the North-South Expressway. Plans for the east downtown renewal area, including the Medical Center and the surrounding residential and commercial area, call for relocation of the Haymarket but exactly where has not been decided.

Addenda to Suggestions

This is not to disagree with suggestions already made for the improvement of Prestonsburg. Those offered are sound and should be adopted. Our suggestions, then, are offered to supplement those heretofore proposed.

We have an idea that possibly the greatest single need of Prestonsburg as it seeks a way out of its lethargy and cumulative backwardness is a need shared with all Floyd county. That is the spirit of cooperation.

It is true that good men and women of varying political affiliations are meeting together, and in a spirit of cooperativeness are talking progress, discussing our ills, our needs. Yet the deep-seated need is one more of the spirit than appears on the surface or is represented at public meetings.

We need to shed a few chips that are riding high on our shoulders. We need to look without bias on the suggestions offered by others. Perhaps most of all, we need to rid ourselves of the dark suspicions of the motives of others, suspicions that exist for no good reason except that these others have not always agreed with us in the past.

Opposition, expressed or secretly nursed for these obscure, belittling reasons, defeat all planning, regardless of its soundness, and we all need to do some soul-searching on the subject. Lack of faith in our leadership is of the same damaging nature.

These are things that are far from concrete, it is true, but if we are to get concrete results and not to wind up merely talking, talking, these basic needs must be given high priority in our thinking.

Mrs. Julia Osborne, 77, Of Allen, Dies At Home; Burial Made At Allen

Mrs. Julia Osborne, 77, of Allen, died Monday of last week at 3 a.m. at home following a long illness. She was a victim of cancer.

Mrs. Osborne was a daughter of Bill and Anna Baldrige Morgan and the widow of Henderson Osborne. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving son and daughters are Wyatt Martin, of Allen, Mrs. Audrey Young, Lexington, Mrs. Troy Reynolds, Edgewater, Fla., Mrs. Peggy Mellon and Mrs. Bertha Howard, both of Philadelphia, Pa. Also surviving are three brothers: Charles Morgan, in Alabama, Jimmy Morgan, Lexington, and Will Morgan, of Price.

Funeral rites were conducted at 1:30, Thursday of last week, from the Allen Methodist Church, the Revs. Isaac Stratton and James C. Stratton officiating. Burial was in the Dewey Martin cemetery at Allen under the direction of Turner & Ryan Funeral Home.

CORONER CARTER HURT IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Coroner James J. Carter is a patient in the Prestonsburg General hospital, suffering severe bruises incurred Sunday night in the wreck of his jeep on the Abbott road. Carter had driven to the home of Eddie Hackworth, whose son had been killed in a hunting accident earlier that day, and was driving home alone when an approaching car blinded him. His vehicle dropped over the hill.

CHILD DIES

Joyce Ann Harmon, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon, Jr., of Warsaw, Ind., died Sunday at home. Besides the parents, she is survived by a sister, Linda Kay, at home. Surviving also are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon, of Cliff, and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Stone, West Prestonsburg. Funeral rites were conducted at 2 p.m., Tuesday, from the Community Methodist Church at Cliff, the Revs. Charles Lake and Gabby Moyer officiating. Burial was made in the May cemetery under the direction of Carter and Callihan Funeral Home.

For a delicious dessert, mix two parts whole cranberry sauce with one part pineapple juice; add just enough peppermint extract to 'spice' the taste. Pour into trays and freeze. Serve in clear sherbet dishes, topped with whipped cream and a few sugared fresh cranberries.

ANIMALS THAT CRY LIKE HUMANS . . . There are some animals which cry like humans when in pain or distress. One of these is the big, green bullfrog. Once I saw some mischievous boys holding a big bullfrog and whipping it with a keen, willow switch. The animal humped up in the back and cried like a baby. It was a sound that brought pity to my heart.

Young weavers cry like a child when in misery. Another animal that cries like a child is the rabbit. It does this only when in severe pain or distress. Once some boys set a heavy steel-trap and caught a big rabbit by the hind leg. The stout jaws of the trap broke the rabbit's leg and the bone shot out. When the boys went to their trap, the rabbit was lying helpless, crying like a child in great pain.

Some animals also possess a strong curiosity. One of these is the beaver. The Indians took advantage of this bump of curiosity when hunting the beaver. In order to lure them from their underground retreats, the Indians would hide nearby and make hissing sounds, or toss stones into the water. Sometimes they would beat their canoes with the paddles. The strong curiosity of the beavers would lead them to come out to investigate the sounds. Then, of course, the Indians shot them with bow and arrow.

The antelope also has an almost overpowering curiosity about moving objects within its environment. This curiosity has led many of them to their doom. The Indians and pioneers would steal as close as possible to a herd of the wily antelopes, and then in order to bring them near enough for a dead shot, they would fasten a red rag on a pole, and when the antelope discovered it waving in the wind, they always ventured close to investigate—and met their death!

Teddy Roosevelt, the big game hunter, would lie down flat on his back, stick his legs in the air and make motions with his feet. This was one sure way of bringing the antelope within rifle range.

CALLS OF BIRDS AND ANIMALS . . . Most birds and animals are readily recognized by their calls, or songs, and a great many of them tell their own names in their songs and calls.

Bobwhite (Quail) — Whistles his name, "bob-white!" accent on "white!"

Catbird—Reveals his name with his familiar, "Mew-ew!"

Ovenbird—Cries loudly, "TEACH—ER! TEACH—ER! TEACH—ER!" Goldfinch — When calling to its mate, the goldfinch says sweetly: "birdie! birdie!" which is said to be the most pleasing sound heard in all of nature. When making its undulating flight, the goldfinch gives a quivering cry, "per-chic-o-ree!"

Wood pewee — Whistles softly: "pee-a-wee!" John Burroughs called this whistle "a human sign of the deep woods."

Phoebe—Harshly cries its name: "fee-bee!"

Ruffed grouse — Drums like an outboard motor starting up: "Bup-bup—bup—bur—rr!"

Whippoorwill—Chants his name in a heart-tugging voice: "whip-poorwill!" with the accent on "will!"

Barred owl—He's known as the "eight-hooter," and always winds up his eight hoots with a "hoo-ah!"

Like, "hoo — hoo — hoo — hoo — hoo — hoo — hoo — hoo — ah!"

Great Horned Owl—Sends forth four or five deep-voiced, resounding "hoos" all in one key, as, "Hoo, hoo, hoo, hoo!" Also gives a blood-curdling squeal.

Canada Goose—A barking, "Honk, honk, honk!"

Saw-whet owl—Makes sound like a file rubbing on a saw.

Maryland yellowthroat — Sings a rollicking tune that goes: "Witchity, witchity, witchity, witchity!"

Mourning dove—Sings sorrowfully, "Oo-ah, coo, coo, coo!"

White-breasted nuthatch—Utters a nasal "yank, yank, yank!"

Fox—Yapping barks, like a pup, "yap, yap, yap, r-r-r!"

Woodchuck (Groundhog)—Sharp, rapid whistles.

Deer—Stamping hoofs, with loud snort and shrill whistle.

Bull mose—Defiant bellow, "Oo—wah!"

Rabbit—Thumps the ground with hind feet when disturbed.

Crow—"caw, caw, caw," and sometimes sounds like, "cow, cow, cow!"

Raven—Croaks, "Cr-r-r-ruk!"

Killdeer—Plaintive calls, "kill-dee, kill-dee!"

Common loon—Makes the lake-side ring with wild, unseemly laughter.

Chipmunk — Soft, melodious clucks; cries "cheep-cheep!" when disturbed.

Cooper's hawk—Gives loud, rapid "kek, kek, kek!" cries when molested about its nest.

Red-tailed hawk — A rasping squeak, "Kee-ye!"

Moore's Sudden Death Heart Attack Result, Report after Autopsy

An autopsy performed Wednesday at the Hall Brothers Funeral Home by Dr. Thorsness, Pikeville pathologist, revealed that the sudden death Tuesday night at Price of James Monroe Moore, 56, was the result of a heart attack. The Times learned Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Moore had been dead about two hours when found in the supply yard of the Inland Steel Company at Price, about 9 o'clock Tuesday night. He had been pumping oil by operating a hand pump when he died.

A son of the late Richard and Hannah Gayheart Moore, he was a native of the Price area and had been an employee of Inland Steel about 13 years. Mr. Moore had been a member of the Regular Baptist Church 27 years and was a deacon of Old Beaver Regular Baptist Church at the time of his passing.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Nannie Blankenship Moore, six sons and four daughters: Herschell Moore, Dayton, Ohio, Abel Moore, Monticello, Ky., John D., Roe Donald, Silas Everett and Ray Moore, all of Price, Mrs. Eell Moore, of McDowell, Mrs. Katherine Moore, Mrs. Mertie Stumbo and Miss Hannah Lee Moore, all of Price. He also leaves one brother, Everett T. Moore, of Price, two sisters, Mrs. Arizona Frazier and Mrs. Wyoma Tackett, both of Price; a half-brother, Elder Harry Moore, of McDowell, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Alice Hunter, of Minnie, and Mrs. Della Sward, of Elyria, Ohio.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m., Friday from the Pilgrim Rest Regular Baptist Church at Price, and burial will be made in the Orkney cemetery under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Lady Is Free of Rheumatic Pain

One lady told us she had rheumatic pain so bad she had to walk with a cane most of the time. The joints of her knees and ankles were stiff and sore. Recently she got RUGON and says the pains began to go within a few hours, and now after one week the pain is gone entirely.

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this New Liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Co.

LOGS ON THE BANKS OF THE BIG SANDY RIVER IN 1909

The above picture of logs at the river bank awaiting rafting for the "tram" to Catlettsburg was taken at the mouth of Cowpen Creek, Mossy Bottom, Pike county, in late 1909. The logs were brought down Cowpen Creek on a "tram" road, hauled by mules. The job was conducted by James H. Hatcher.

The old tram roads, the tracks made of wood and upon which a truck with steel wheels ran, were a hazardous method of transportation. Eddie Endicott, a logger and son of the late Sam Endicott, was killed in September, 1909, on the Cowpen operation when a truck loaded with logs turned over on him.

Shown in the picture is the Jacob Weddington home, built about 1860. It is still standing.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our historic region as a bit of its friendly service with the hope they will contribute to your understanding of our historic heritage.

Achievement Night Set At Allen Grade School; Recognition Is Planned

The climaxing event of the 4-H club year will be the annual county achievement night, to be held Thursday night, Dec. 15, at the Allen grade school auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

4-H leaders will be recognized for the good job they have done this past year as project and club leaders for their clubs, and club members will be honored for the project work they have completed during the club year.

Both club members and leaders are encouraged to attend and receive their due recognition for a job well done, County Agent Robert M. Jones, said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ASKS BOOTLEGGING INVESTIGATION

EDITOR, The Times: Now that there is a full-term Mayor elected, I beseech his Honor to investigate the flagrant abuse of the local option law by municipal bootleggers. They ply their trade in a serene and undisturbed manner, un molested by any police action, under the will of the law-abiding citizens of this city who voted it dry and desire that it be that way.

ANSWERS TO YOUR TAX QUESTIONS
BY WILLIAM E. SCENT
KENTUCKY'S COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE

The Kentucky cigarette tax rate is 2½ cents per package of twenty cigarettes or a fraction thereof. It is unlawful for anyone except a licensed wholesaler to have in his possession cigarettes on which the tax has not been paid.

Q. How can I tell whether or not the tax has been paid on a package of cigarettes I purchase?

A. If the tax has been paid on a package of cigarettes there will be on the package the phrase, "Kentucky Cigarette Tax Paid," either stamped in ink or on a cigarette tax stamp similar to a small postage stamp. If the package is not marked "Tax Paid" in one of the above ways the cigarettes have been sold illegally and the matter should be reported to the Department of Revenue, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Q. Has the tax rate always been 2½ cents per package of twenty cigarettes?

A. No. Until June 30, 1960, the tax rate was 3 cents per package of twenty cigarettes. Effective July 1, 1960, the rate was reduced to 2½ cents per package of twenty cigarettes, because of the sales tax.

Q. Do I have to pay Sales Tax on cigarettes?

A. Yes. You pay Kentucky sales tax on cigarettes in the same manner you do on other items subject to the sales tax.

Q. Doesn't this mean I am paying two taxes on cigarettes?

A. Yes, but the tax reduction of ½ cent per package of twenty cigarettes effective July 1, 1960, keeps the tax rate at just about the same rate it was before the sales tax became effective.

Q. Is there a state tax on tobacco products other than cigarettes?

A. No.

Q. How does the Kentucky Department of Revenue collect the cigarette tax?

A. The Department of Revenue has two ways to collect it. One way is to sell cigarette tax stamps to the cigarette wholesaler. The other way is for the wholesaler to use an automatic stamping machine, similar to a postage meter stamping machine. The department resets the machine and the wholesaler pays for the number of tax impressions purchased.

Q. How much money does the State of Kentucky collect a year on the sale of cigarettes?

A. From July 1, 1959, to June 30, 1960, the State of Kentucky collected $9,693,016 in cigarette tax money. This money was deposited in the Kentucky General Fund.

Alcohol Study At School Level Important, Said

By Louis M. Foltz, M.D.,
Chairman, Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

Education about alcohol in beverage form is important at the school level.

Kentucky has a law requiring mandatory instruction on alcoholism in the public schools. Due to the controversial nature of this subject, it has been confused as a "Wet" or "Dry" issue, and many teachers because of poor information have either ignored it or confined their efforts to meaningless gestures once or twice a year.

In an effort to develop a program of instruction which would be acceptable to teachers, parents, "wets," "drys," school boards, etc., the Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism has consulted with educational parents, teachers, state administrators, and school administrators. A printed folder, "What Shall We Teach About Alcohol," by Professor Raymond G. McCarthy, Yale University, has been furnished to 700 chairmen of Kentucky P.-T.A. groups.

Acceptance of this responsibility is gradually growing at both the secondary and collegiate levels. Interest shown, especially in colleges, has been amazing. Discussion periods, after talks by representatives of this commission, have disclosed a genuine seeking after knowledge on the subject of alcoholism.

The commission is beginning to expand its public education program through the cooperation of the Division of Public Health Education, in the State Department of Health. A health educator, recently employed by the commission, has responsibility for organizing and carrying out alcoholism education programs throughout the state, and for coordinating the work of other health educators, all of whom will spend part of their time in this program.

The programs present focus is the school population and those groups which most influence the growing child, parents and churches. A pilot study is being planned which the commission believes will give a firm basis for a state-wide educational effort aimed at these and other groups.

IT'S THE LIE THAT HURTS

Fishing and lying are not disparate topics, but this has naught to do with the former. I am thinking of a statement made by a friend, the other night, to the effect that if everybody told the truth on every occasion, reputations would be ruined, neighbors would be feuding and husbands would be falling like flies as their wives learned what they had really been up to. The friend had an idea that a "white lie" could be a great peacemaker or preserver of the peace.

After thinking it over, I've decided this isn't correct. If everybody told the truth, nobody would be hurt. You tell the truth not only with the tongue, you know; there's the matter of living a lie or the truth, too. Let all of us stick to the truth and not pretend to be something we're not, and our wives can hear all about us and there will not be a rolling pin thrown.

Tidbits Of Kentucky Folklore

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"SCARED COWS"

To a folklorist the most primitive people are no more folkish than the up-and-coming ones among us. The chief difference, folkishly speaking, is in the things that each group swears by or at. For every primitive superstition there is a healthy, modern one, often as inexplicable and as laughable. What most of us know of drugs, for example, would not crowd a postal card to set down. Older people worshipped at the shrine of Granny This or That or revered the old family remedy that tasted bitter or smelled bad or burned like fire. Descendants of these funny old-timers swear by this or that modern practitioner of the healing art, often with no more actual knowledge of drugs than our ancestors had. If the advertisements say that Vitamin Q or Mineral Z is a "must" in the diet, we buy some prepared food that contains it, assuming that we have suffered all these years because of this fearful deficiency in our diet. Many of us will spend twice as much for a bottle of sweetened water with a minimum of bitter herbs in it as for a prescription written for us by our family physician. Since the actual doctor does not elaborate on the cure-all nature of the stuff that he prescribes, we listen to the blurb of the patent medicine.

the ground." My, what fine fellows they were! Of course, I left Fidelity when I was only eighteen and should not be regarded as a judge of the achievements of these fellows fresh from having taken a law examination with no actual schooling other than "reading law" under some practicing attorney. However, I cannot recall that any hornier of the ground who so impressed us then ever become known outside the county; not one went to the state General Assembly, even. But the way the county folks at Fidelity looked at the orators would have made a temperamental actor happy. Whether such a sacred cow still performs at Fidelity I must leave to Fidelity people of this time; I left there more than a half century ago.

Pork Storing Discussed By Floyd-Co. Home Agent; Freezer Tips Are Given

Home-killed pork stored in the freezer will keep its high quality for six months if handled properly, says Miss Frances Howland, Floyd county home agent.

What does "proper handling" include? Miss Howland gives a few tips.

The first rule is "keep it clean." Second comes thorough bleeding. Pork that has been well bled "keeps" longer and tastes better. It's also less likely to strain and soften the wrapper and leak into the freezer when stored.

Meat for freezing should be chilled quickly and thoroughly. Then package the meat carefully and label it with "what" and "when frozen."

Wrapping paper used to package meat for the freezer should be moisture-proof to keep the meat from drying out; it should also resist absorbing blood and fat. Use strong paper that will not tear while the meat is being wrapped or that bones will not puncture. However, the paper should be pliable enough to mold closely around the meat being wrapped, so that air pockets will not be around the meat.

After wrapping the chilled meat, freeze it quickly at a temperature below zero. If freezing is done at home, be careful not to overload the quick-freeze or sharp-freeze section of the freezer. Do not stack packages together until they are hard frozen.

When the quick-freeze section is overloaded, meat freezes more slowly, causing large ice crystals to form in the meat. Large ice crystals puncture the meat cells; this means greater loss of juice during thawing and cooking.

After pork has been hard-frozen, store it at zero degrees or below. Do not store pork in the freezer for longer than six months. Sausage shows loss of flavor after four month storage; however, you can add one teaspoon of monosodium glutamate to the seasoning for each 10 pounds of sausage; this helps the sausage keep its good taste for longer than four month.

One of America's first oil gushers was brought in March 11, 1829, near Burkesville. The well proved to be a great disappointment for Dr. John Croghan, who was drilling for salt.

Thanks to machines that make artificial snow, America's three million skiers are assured more sport this winter than ever before, reports the December Reader's Digest. First developed by Philip and Joe Tropeano in Lexington, Mass., the machines produce snow that packs more tightly and lasts longer than the natural product. Resorts from New Hampshire to California and Minnesota to Virginia have them.

BOOKS AND ARTICLES ON EAST KENTUCKY

Perhaps no section of the state is less documented by articles and books than Eastern Kentucky and no section deserves more because of its rich history.

This columnist, through the years, has sought to gather the printed story of our region offered in newspaper articles, manuscripts, pamphlets and books. For the information of those who would familiarize themselves with the history and genealogy of our region, the books herein listed are a must.

"My Own Story," by Caleb Powers. Written by Congressman Caleb Powers, of Barbourville, Ky., while in prison charged with complicity in the murder of Governor William Goebel at Frankfort.

"A Colorful Career of a Miraculous Mountaineer," by Judge Willis Staton. A short biography of Sam Hurler who founded the Mountain Mission School at Grundy, Va.

"Life of Garfield," by John Clark Ridpath, LL.D. The story of the twentieth President of the United States who successfully fought the Battle of Middle Creek and the Battle of Pound Gap. Published in 1882.

"The C. & O. Mounds at Paintsville," by William S. Webb. A publication of the Department of Anthropology and Archeology, University of Kentucky, 1942. An account of the excavations at Paintsville of Indian mounds.

"The Big Wells Family," by J. W. Wells. The author was an authority on the Wells family of Eastern Kentucky. He served at one time as County Judge of Cumberland county, Ky. He resides at Burkesville, Ky.

"History of Logan County, West Virginia," by Henry Clay Ragland. This book, while full of errors, gives many clues to the history and genealogy of the Big Sandy valley.

"Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church," by Irma Wicker Haney, in Filson Club Quarterly, Jan., 1958. Being an account of one of the oldest churches in Eastern Kentucky by a descendant of a founder. The church is located at Garrett, Floyd county.

"John Graham of Virginia and Kentucky, 1765-1835," by Willard Rouse Jilison, in the Filson Club Quarterly, April, 1939. History and genealogy of John Graham who pioneered Floyd county and surveyed the site of Preston's Station, later Prestonsburg, for Col. John Preston, in 1797.

"Floyd County Marriage Records," by Willard Rouse Jilison, in Register of Kentucky Historical Society, Sept., 1927. Also, Register, Jan., 1928.

"Floyd County Tax Lists," in Register of Kentucky Historical Society, Sept., 1927. Tax lists of that part of Mason county, Ky., that later became Floyd for the year 1790. Also the act creating Floyd county in 1799.

"Early Kentucky Maps," by Willard Rouse Jilison, in Register of Kentucky Historical Society, Oct., 1949, and subsequent article on same subject, same author, Jan., 1950 issue.

"Governor Bert Thomas Combs," in the Register of Kentucky Historical Society, Jan., 1960. A brief genealogy and biography.

"Young Mundy, Guerrilla," by Young E. Allison, in Register of Kentucky Historical Society, Oct., 1959. Sue Mundy claimed that he enlisted in the Confederate service

INVITATION FOR BIDS

Floyd county will accept written bids for the following described road equipment at the office of Honorable Henry Stumbo, County Judge, Courthouse, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, until 10:00 a.m., Dec. 5, 1960.

One (1) Crawler Traxcavator, 60" gauge, including crankcase guard, non-swinging drawbar, blower fan, full flow hydraulic oil filter, 1-1/2 cubic yard general purpose bucket, (hydraulically operated), electric starting for gasoline starting engine, 15" triple grouser track shoes, battery, generator, lights, rain trap, 70 Flywheel H.P.

One (1) D4D Towing Winch installed on the above traxcavator.

Such bids may provide for sale to the County or for lease to the County with option to purchase. Equipment must be made available for inspection in Floyd county, by 10:00 a.m., on Dec. 5, 1960. The Floyd County Fiscal Court will accept the lowest and best bid, and reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, IMPOSING A LICENSE TAX ON FIRE AND CASUALTY INSURANCE COMPANIES ISSUING INSURANCE ON PROPERTY AND RISKS WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY:

SECTION 1. On or before 2nd day of January of each year, each fire and casualty insurance company doing business in the city of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, shall file in the office of the City Clerk a statement of the total amount of direct premiums received by it or its representatives during the preceding calendar year for insurance on property or risks located within the corporate limits of the City, less, however, premiums returned to policyholders and premiums on policies not taken, and less dividends paid or credited to policyholders.

SECTION 2. The word "premiums" as used in this ordinance shall include any assessment collected by any said insurance company on or any payment made to it as herein provided for insurance on property or risks within the corporate limits of the City, but the word "premiums" shall not be construed to include any return premium paid to a policyholder, nor to include premiums received for insuring employers against liability for personal injuries to their employees, or death caused thereby, under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

SECTION 3. At the time of filing said statement, said company shall pay to the City Treasurer a license tax equal to eight percent (8%) of the said premiums received, less the deductions hereinbefore set out; provided however that the minimum annual license tax so paid shall be the sum of Five ($5.00) DOLLARS.

SECTION 4. However, if any said insurance company has not issued any insurance on property, or covered any risk, within the corporate limits of the City during the preceding calendar year, then at the time it appoints an agent to write insurance on property or covers risks within the corporate limits of the City, or if it does not write said insurance through an agent, then at the time it writes any insurance on property, or covers any risk, within said corporate limits of the City it shall pay a license tax of $5.00 which shall be credited upon the amount of license tax due and payable when said company files its report for said calendar year as hereinabove provided.

SECTION 5. A penalty of ten percent (10%) of the total tax payable as aforesaid is hereby imposed upon any company failing to make said report or pay said tax when due, and upon failure of any such company to make the said report or pay the said tax, as required by this ordinance, upon the due date aforesaid, all of such tax and such penalty shall immediately become due and payable.

SECTION 6. The money derived from the license tax, herein levied, shall be used for the operation and maintenance of the Fire Department of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

SECTION 7. All ordinances heretofore enacted imposing a license tax upon the companies covered by this ordinance are hereby expressly repealed.

SECTION 8. This ordinance shall take effect on January 2, 1961.

Passed and approved this Nov. 21, 1960.

DR. EDWARD B. LESLIE Mayor

ATTEST: LORRAINE J. HATCHER City Clerk

When planning your food budget, keep in mind the resources you have available — time; money; energy; skill in meal planning, buying and preparing food; and equipment for preparation space and refrigerator space for storage. These factors will enter into the type of food you buy, notes Miss Elizabeth Helton, University of Kentucky Extension specialist in foods and nutrition.

Here's a rule for buying that women usually remember when buying hose but men forget when buying socks—get it important in both cases. Purchase two pairs of the same color; then when one wears out, you'll still have an undamaged pair, points out Mrs. Rachel Wallace, University of Kentucky specialist in clothing.

COMBS IN GERMANY

Stuttgart, Germany — Army Pvt. Okie Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Combs, Dema, Ky., recently arrived in Germany and is now a member of the 97th Signal Battalion.

Combs, assigned to the battalion's Company B in Stuttgart, entered the Army in June, 1960, and received basic combat training at Fort Knox, Ky. He was last stationed at Fort Gordon, Georgia.

The 23-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Wayland high school.

FRALEY IN MARINES

Paris Island, S. C.—Marine Pvt. Ronald G. Fraley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fraley, of Wayland, Ky., completed recruit training Nov. 7, at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Paris Island, S. C.

Relatives and friends of many of the new Marines were on hand to witness the graduation ceremonies.

Three weeks were spent on the rifle range where the recruits fired the M-1 rifle and received instruction in basic Marine infantry weapons.

This recruit training prepares young Leathernecks for further specialized infantry training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

ROSES AND CHRYSANTHEMUMS

The large and rugged climbing roses need little if any winter protection in Kentucky. All other roses should get protection in early December. About the best protection is a mound of dirt, eight to ten inches deep around each plant. Don't hoe this dirt up from around the plant, this will damage roots. Bring the soil in from another location.

Hardy chrysanthemums should be cut back to six inches in height and be mulched with either hay or straw in December. A cover of burlap makes a satisfactory winter protection. Forest leaves are not satisfactory for winter protection as they tend to pack down and smother the plants.

MULCHING STRAWBERRIES
Many people are getting anxious to mulch their strawberries. Hold off until Dec. 15. Mulching now will cause damage, because the plants are not in a dormant stage.

Recent experiments conducted at the University of Kentucky has proven that one and one half tons of straw is the correct amount. Either more or less amounts has resulted in reduced yields. Be sure to weight straw to get on the right amount.

STRAWBERRIES

Farmers have been looking for ways of making more money for several years. The latest census figures show that only sixteen farmers in the county had gross farm sales of $2,500 or more. A strawberry market for the county, open up new opportunities for every farmer in the county. This is not being offered as a get rich quick program, neither is it something that can be carried out without some effort. It is an opportunity for those willing to work, follow recommendations and with enough foresight to keep their production steady over a long period.

Strawberry production is different from the crops that are now produced. To be successful, growers must change their habits and do those practices necessary for success. We can't change the strawberry crop to make it easier. Anyone that does not do a better than average job will not make any money. A grower in Floyd county would be competing with those from Tennessee, California, Missouri and all other states.

For the farmer, willing to put out the extra effort to produce high yields, a golden opportunity is available for the asking. Anyone interested, can get further information at your county agent's office.

Floyd Countians Drew $82,500 Public Assistance Benefits During October

Commissioner of Economic Security Jo M. Ferguson announced this week that October payments to persons on public assistance in Floyd county totaled more than $82,500.

The county's aged received $37,217; dependent children received $34,382; the needy blind received $2,690; and the permanently and totally disabled received $8,600.

The Commissioner said this is the fourth month in a row that payments have exceeded the 1959 level. He said the increase is due to new money appropriated from sales tax revenue and matching federal funds for public assistance.

Ferguson pointed out that since the sales tax went into effect in July, the state has paid needy persons a total of $20,485,956—an increase of more than 2.5 million dollars for the same four month period in 1959. At the same time, the number of people who are receiving public assistance has decreased by 2,145.

Statewide public assistance payments totaled $5,121,835 in October.

NATIONAL JUNIOR VEGETABLE GROWERS

Four 4-H Club members from Floyd county entered garden or strawberry records in the 1960 National Vegetable Growers Association contest. These club members were Ossie Spencer, Burgess Lowe, Freer Martin and Gaylord Martin. Ossie Spencer owned the record rated highest by the state judging committee. His record along with the record of Burgess Lowe will be entered in the national competition.

HOG KILLING TIME

There may be colder jobs on the farm, but hog killing is nominated by most as being the coldest. Most people wait until freezing weather, but a temperature of 36 to 38 degrees is cold enough to prevent any spoilage.

It is time now to get the meat house in order and to come by or telephone your county Extension office for a copy of our free bulletin, "Hog Killing and Cutting and Curing the Meat." You will get thirty pages of pictures and suggestions that will make the whole job easier.

PATTON IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Parris Island, S. C.—Marine Pvt. Bert R. Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Patton, of Estill, Ky., completed recruit training Nov. 7 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

Relatives and friends of many of the new Marines were on hand to witness the graduation ceremonies.

The 12-week training schedule included drill, bayonet training, physical conditioning, parades and ceremonies, and other military subjects.

This recruit training prepares young Leathernecks for further specialized infantry training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

HENRY SERVES

Camp Lejeune, N. C.—Marine Pfc. Kenneth W. Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry, of Drift, Ky., participated in field firing training at Fort Bragg, N. C., Oct. 24, to Nov. 4, with the Tenth Marine Regiment from Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The regiment, an artillery unit of the Second Marine Division uses 105mm howitzers for shock power in support of the division's infantry troops.

Combined with other East Coast marine and naval units, the Tenth Regiment forms a part of the nation's force-in-readiness.

SAMMONS IN KANSAS

Fort Riley, Kansas — Army Pvt. Vernon Sammons, Jr., 20, whose parents live in Martin, Ky., completed eight weeks of advanced individual training with the 1st Infantry Division at Fort Riley, Kan., Nov. 18.

Sammons entered the Army last July, and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He attended Martin high school.

Collier's Corner

Our boys weren't hungry enough. Tennessee simply wanted to win worse than we did, at least in the first half. We thought we wanted to win, but we didn't put our thoughts into action; as a result we weren't knocking people down and looking for more people to knock down.

Kentucky's juniors and seniors had never lost to a Tennessee team, either varsity or freshmen. This sated a victory they weren't hungry, and you must be. Victory over a worthy opponent is never cheap, and the price is hunger, desire, need.

The handwriting was on the practice field last week. Our squad seemed flat; the three practices from Tuesday through Thursday were not as spirited, did not have the zip and go one would expect in getting ready for Tennessee. There is an adage that says: "Practice the way you intend to play." That miserable first half Saturday was the result.

I am disappointed in the extreme that we didn't win; I thought we had the necessary equipment. But I suppose we were fortunate to tie—although I want to emphasize as strongly as I can that we at no time even considered settling for a tie.

The Tennessee boys outplayed us; they hit harder, wanted to win more strongly. We let them carry the fight to us. Our players weren't reckless with their bodies; they didn't rip and charge and knock as you must if you want to win.

Largely because of our poor defensive play, Tennessee was able to get the ball in good position time after time. They were able to drive far enough to keep us deep in our own territory even when they didn't score. Then when we did get the ball we missed blocking assignments all over the place and weren't able to do anything.

We executed our plays a little better in the second half, and also showed a little more aggressiveness. That's all that saved us from getting beat.

That touchdown drive was a credit to the boys. That's a long, long way to go against a tough Southeastern Conference team. And the drive was made without benefit of a long gainer. Jerry Eiseman deserves a lot of credit for this 94-yard march. His final game at Kentucky was a good one. Also Jock Steward and Tom Hutchinson caught clutch passes to keep the thing alive.

Our second drive went 70 yards before stalling on the 8. That brings up the field-goal business.

We doubted whether to try for a touchdown or a field goal and finally made a decision on this basis: We had made only two yards in three plays and the chances of getting eight yards on one play didn't appear too bright. On the other hand, we thought we could kick the field goal, tie up the game and put pressure back on Tennessee.

With 7 1/2 minutes to play, we figured to get the ball and take it over or kick another field goal. In other words, we considered the field-goal try the better route to victory. At no time was a tie game even considered. We predicated all our thinking on winning. If the fourth-and-eight situation had been our last chance in the game, then we would have gone for the touchdown.

The trouble was that they brought the kickoff back to the 30 and then were able to drive with the ball. By the time we did stop them and get the ball, we had too far to go in too little time. It was the same story—our defense couldn't contain them, particularly their running game.

You should have seen our dressing room after the game. If you hadn't known the score, you would have sworn that we lost. The place was like a wake. The boys were disappointed; I was disappointed. A tie is just no substitute for victory.

For fear of leaving out someone deserving of praise, I generally don't like to single out individuals. However, some of our boys stood out in a game that wasn't one of our better team efforts.

John Mutchler was outstanding, possibly our best for the day. Tom Simpson was tough and aggressive; Bill Ransdell and Wayne Dixon played very well. And the aforementioned Elsam, Steward, and Hutchinson.

Cawood Calls
BASKETBALL

by Cawood Ledford

Two of basketball's most colorful and successful figures lead their forces out of the Blue Grass state each winter in an effort to conquer the round-ball world.

Western Kentucky's Ed Diddle begins his 39th season as head coach of the Hilltoppers, and "Uncle Ed" is jubilant over his chances for the coming campaign. Nearly 150 miles east on the University of Kentucky campus, Adolph Rupp, the "Baron of Basketball," is drilling a host of cage talent, forming it into a unit that could make the top powers in the nation before March has come and gone.

Basketball, Kentucky-style, has reached a point of great respect across the land, and the best two reasons I can think of are Coaches Rupp and Diddle.

Diddle is the only active coach to have won over 700 games, and the only coach in cage history to win them all at the same school. His trade mark is the oversized red bath towel that he waves in jubilation or twists in frustration, depending on how the Hilltoppers are performing at that particular moment. Mr. Diddle is the master of the malaprop. He has been known to toss out such frustrating instructions as: "Line up alphabetically according to sizes," or, "Put off in threes." Once spotting a player gulping a quart of milk during a road trip, Mr. Diddle reprimanded, "A quart of milk is too much—two pints are plenty for anybody." But he's no clown. Mr. Diddle is a gentleman of great dignity. His own career started on the outdoor courts of Adair county, then to Centre College where he played basketball as well as football with such stars of the game as "Bo" McMillan, "Red" Roberts and "Red" Weaver.

His first win at Western was a 103 to 7 victory over an independent team, Adairville—and the Hilltoppers have been rolling ever since. Uncle Ed's teams have left the courts the victors 716 times.

Adolph Rupp arrived on the Kentucky campus 31 years ago in a second hand automobile. His only experience was as a player at Kansas under Phog Allen and as a high school coach in Illinois. Since then Coach Rupp has accumulated both fame and fortune. His 627 wins at Kentucky against only 112 defeats gives him the best winning percentage in the history of the game. Four times under the magic hand of the Baron, Kentucky has won the

HAZARD AGAIN CHAMP;
3 FROM FLOYD NAMED

The Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference football championship was officially awarded to defending champion Hazard here last night as representatives of all ten schools attended.

Paul Wright's Bull Dogs finished the league season with a 6-0 mark for the second consecutive year, and Pikeville's Panthers were awarded the runner-up trophy on the basis of a 6-1 loop mark. Fleming-Neon and Belfry tied for third place with identical 4-2 slates.

Named to the all-conference team were three players from champion Hazard, two from Pikeville, two from Prestonsburg, and one each from M. C. Napier, Belfry, Jenkins and Fleming-Neon.

Bobby Venters, Pikeville, end, and William Stambaugh, Fleming tackle, were the only repeaters from last season's first team. Bill Baird, Pikeville, and Napier's Jerry Brewer were second team-choices a year ago.

Prestonsburg's Black Cats placed two players on the all-conference eleven—Paul "Red" Minix, guard, and Bob Smith, fullback. Wheelwright placed its stellar guard, L. B. Spradlin, on the second team.

The group voted to hold the spring meeting in Hazard in conjunction with a high school coaching clinic to be sponsored by Hazard high school.

The fall meeting date was changed to the Wednesday evening prior to Thanksgiving each year.

The all-conference team this year was the most representative the league has selected in the seven year history of the loop.

CHATTER
By GORDON MOORE

One of the outstanding linemen on the field in Kentucky's and Tennessee's 10-10 tie in Knoxville was Prestonsburg's Wayne Dixon, former tackle who earned three letters at the local school. The burley 235-pound junior played more than three-fourths the game on offense and defense and was credited with eight tackles and several assists.

Fairlie Woods' Breathitt County Bob Cats, of the 14th region, posted the first defeat of the season on the Martin Purple Flash in Prestonsburg, Nov. 12. The defending regional champions downed Denzil Halbert's unit, 68-62, in winning their fifth consecutive game. The defeat was Martin's first in four games.

In the other half of the bargain bill, Betsy Layne over-ran Garrett, 69-54.

Deer season for gun hunters opened Wednesday in the Dewey Lake refuge and will run through Sunday, Dec. 4. One buck or doe per hunter may be taken.

Nineteen former Region 15 high school basketball players are expected to command considerable interest from Eastern Kentucky fans this season as they are members of ten different Kentucky college varsity squads.

Twenty-three other ex-region cake performers are playing on out-of-state varsity squads. One of the most notable out-of-state players should be Orbie Bowling, former Sandy Hook 6-10 center, who is a sophomore center at the University of Tennessee.

As would be expected, Pikeville College has the greatest number of area high schoolers on its varsity with six. They are: Ronnie Francisco, Helliwell; Donnis Butcher, Meade Memorial; Paul Setser, Auxier; John Will Hunt, Feds Creek; Everett Horn, Inez, and Gerald Preston, Meade Memorial.

Berea College is next with four, including Everett Varney, Belfry; Phil Haney and Don Alley, Paintsville, and Clark Stumbo, McDowell. (Continued on Page 6)

Yes, faces are different the world over. But hearts have a common hunger. For Hope... Life... Truth.

Therefore, expressing the fervor of the citizens and churches of this brave, free land, the American Bible Society has sought for 144 years to translate and distribute the Scriptures for every nation and tribe.

Many local congregations, directly or through their denominations, are supporting this vital work. In addition, the suggested readings which appear regularly in these advertisements are provided by the American Bible Society, and reach you as another contribution of American citizens and churches to this important cause.

You see, worldwide Bible reading is the simple, practical expression of one of our fundamental convictions: The Bible IS the Book for Everyone. Tonight—at the dinner table or in a quiet moment—millions of American homes will put that conviction into earnest, reverent, daily practice! Will yours?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

200,000 SEEK BONUS; SUITS DELAY PAYMENT

Some 200,000 veterans have applied for bonus payments, according to Major General Arthur Y. Lloyd, Kentucky bonus law administrator. He said litigation against Governor Bert Combs and other state officials is holding up payment to the war veterans.

Lloyd explained the bonus cannot be paid until bonds are sold to finance it. Prospective bond purchasers will not pay until all legal questions about the bonus have been settled.

Sale of bonds, backed up by sales tax money, was specified on the ballot of the referendum in which Kentuckians voted to pay the bonus.

Lloyd said both he and the Governor are "anxious for the bonus to be paid as soon as possible."

Now awaiting decision by the Kentucky Court of Appeals is a ruling by Warren circuit court that it is constitutional for the Commonwealth to pay a bonus to veterans who have moved to other states. The appeal was filed by attorney Paul R. Huddleston for two Bowling Green doctors.

They had attacked the bonus law after a special session of the Legislature, called by Governor Combs, amended it to authorize payment to out-of-state veterans.

Also pending decision by the appellate court is a petition for rehearing filed by Huddleston on a previous ruling by the high tribunal. This opinion upheld the residency requirement, later eliminated by the special session, and also upheld the bond sale procedure.

Huddleston has indicated he would take the cases to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Due to the number of applications already distributed under the old law, bonus director Norbert Rechlin said new application forms would not be printed leaving out the section concerning state residence. He explained applicants will continue to use present forms without being required to fill out this section.

Application forms may be obtained at county clerks' offices and from veterans organizations.

Eight other Kentucky colleges have one player each on their respective squads for this region: Carroll Burdett, Flat Gap, University of Kentucky; Harry Williams, Paintsville, Centre; Phil Estep, Paintsville, Eastern State College; Larry Phillips, Pikeville, Georgetown College; John Gibson, Prestonsburg, Morehead State College; Paul Phillip Hughes, Prestonsburg, Transylvania College; Glenn Anderson, Jr., Prestonsburg, Union College, and Charlie Osborne, Flat Gap, Western State College.

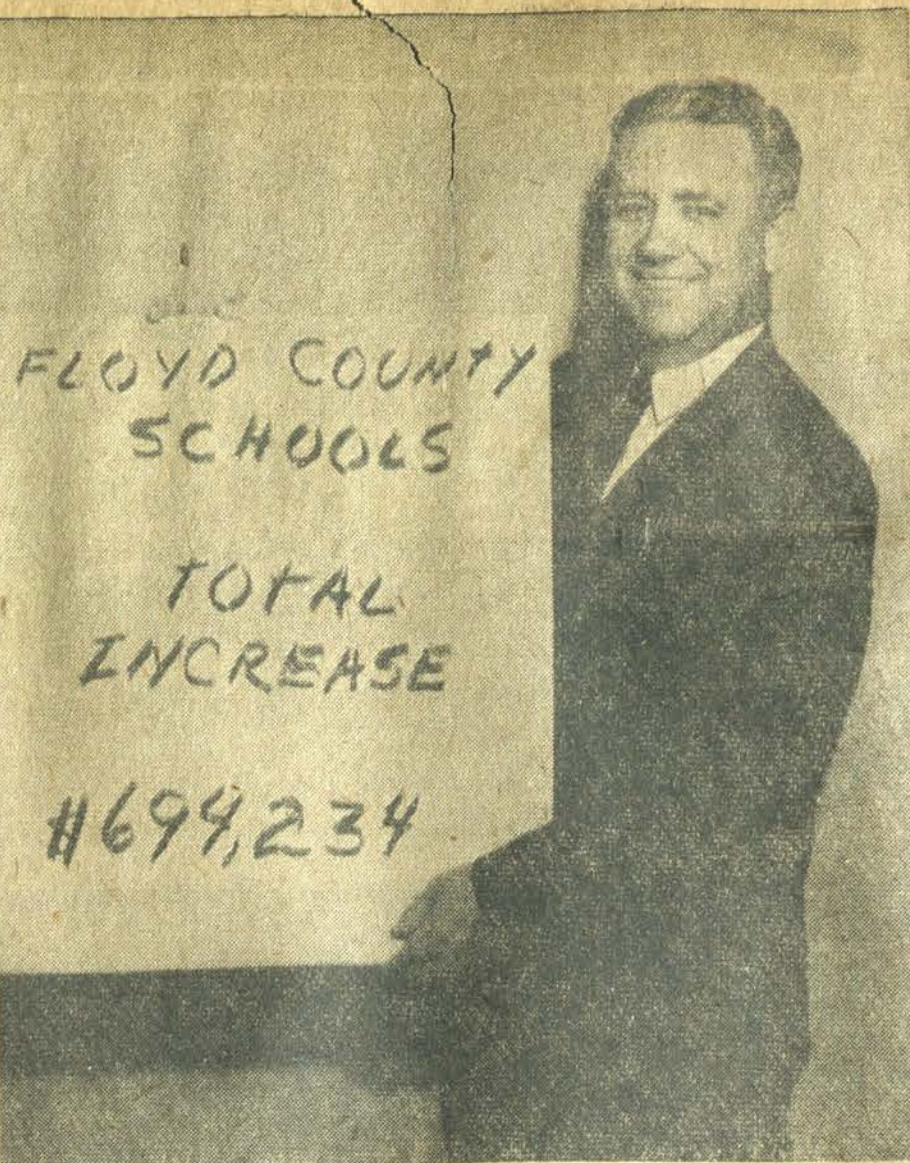

Pre-district high school basketball tournaments in the region will be plentiful this season as five have been scheduled to date. The 14th annual Floyd county pre-season tournament involving nine teams, is currently under way in Prestonsburg. The four-team Johns Creek invitational is carded for Dec. 16-17. Prestonsburg's eight-team field, including some of the state's top teams, opens December 20 and runs through December 23.

Eight teams are featured in Paintsville's annual invitational affair, Jan. 18-21, and the Foothills Tournament in Menifee county, January 25-28, has seven teams.

Throughout the regular season, Paintsville and Prestonsburg will offer six high school doubleheaders. In addition, Prestonsburg will be host to three college games and their attractions, while Wheelwright has five high school doubleheaders on tap.

Undeclared Virgie high school has been named as the eighth team in the Prestonsburg invitational tournament.

Raymond Copley, Floyd county conservation officer, made the biggest haul of this season and many others, Monday afternoon, on a fish and not law violators, as he landed a 9-pound, 24 1/2-inch largemouth bass from Dewey Lake. He used a doll-fly to lure the "whopper" from the lake. This is the largest bass ever caught at the 10-year-old lake.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler displays the total increase in funds allotted to Floyd county's education program this year. The increase, which includes any independent school districts in the county, was made available by new sales tax funds. It provides the county's program with a total fund of $2,202,114 for the 1960-61 school year.

TOWN HALL MEET SET

Combs Is Scheduled To Discuss Proposals; Mitter Makes Report

Governor Bert Combs has accepted an invitation to meet with civic leaders here Dec. 16 to discuss community and area improvement proposals. It was announced at the regular meeting of the Community Development Council, Wednesday noon.

The "Town Hall" meeting scheduled to promote community progress will be held at the grade school cafeteria. It is planned to discuss the proposed Jenny Wiley Drama with the Governor later in the evening. Proponents of the outdoor drama will be invited to meet with the chief executive at the offices of Marvin Music, oil distributor, and president of the drama group.

Vance Mitter, chairman of the Prestonsburg Businessmen's Association, discussed the cash awards city merchants have been making to retail buyers here. Plans of the association envision awards of $500 on Christmas Eve with an award of $200 the week before Christmas. Thirty-one merchants are participating in the program, he said.

"The amount of money we have to award depends on the merchants' sales," he told the development group.

Other projects tentatively scheduled by the businessmen's organization call for extension of the Pikeville-Allen bus line to Prestonsburg, promotion of a Dollar Day event here in stores and the procurement of a permanent army exhibit.

The Community Development Council meets each week at noon at the Wise Restaurant.

William Whitley House Famed Kentucky Shrine

A prominent Kentucky shrine is the William Whitley house—first brick house built west of the Allegheny Mountains.

The thick-walled structure was erected in 1792 by Colonel William Whitley, famous Indian fighter and frontier leader. The main part of the house contains three rooms and a hall on the first floor, two rooms and a hall on the second and a large attic.

The home, which has been completely renovated and refurnished in the period of 1792, is famed for being the lodging place of many pioneer leaders.

Theodore Roosevelt in his book, "The Winning of the West," describes the house as the center of the religious, political and social life of the Transylvania region and the aristocratic home of the Wilderness Road.

The shrine is located eight miles southeast of Stanford and two miles from Crab Orchard off U. S. Highway 150.
