

THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

A jet almost shook our windows out as it broke the sound barrier, the other day, but we were unable to get the license number.

Eastern Kentucky can pull itself upward by its own bootstraps. This is the land of opportunity. Prosperity is just around the corner. The Big Sandy will be canalized. Fishtrap and other dams will be built. . . all's well. We will no longer be given a stone for bread; the Great White Father will not let the Indians have the place back. . . Politics will be restored to a place of dignity. The public debt, the county debt, the city debt, even private debts will decrease. Yea, even taxes. . . Khrushchev is a liar—he likes Ike. . . So saith the Class Optimist.

GOODIE—THEY DID IT

The Charleston Daily Mail did the other day, something The Floyd County Times has considered doing for years. That little stint was a report showing not the seamier but the seamier side of those cities whence emanate all those newspaper and magazine articles about the Mountains.

The Saturday Evening Post did a piece on West Virginia, its poverty, illiteracy, unemployment, bias, low living conditions, etc., etc. So The Daily Mail sent a reporter and a photographer off to Philly. They went to the City of Brotherly Love, but not to Independence Hall; they went into the slums, to "Skid Row" and other spots the city would like to hide or maybe forget. And they got a story that is as fair to Philadelphia as are all those yarns and photos you've seen depicting log huts as "typical mountain homes."

We congratulate The Charleston Daily Mail. Sorry we were beaten to the draw.

COURT RULING BLOCKS ROAD

East Kentucky Highway Is Temporarily Stymied By Louisville Injunction

A Louisville circuit court ruling Saturday threw at least a temporary roadblock across the four-lane highway from Winchester to Campton which Gov. Bert Combs proposes to build as a part of a giant, two-pronged traffic artery from the Blue Grass to the Mountains.

Circuit Judge Macauley L. Smith held that two sections of the 1960 legislative act creating the Turnpike Authority of Kentucky are invalid. He enjoined the state from implementing these two sections of the new law.

One section deemed unlawful would make the proposed bonds a lawful trust investment.

The second section ruled unconstitutional would permit the state to pledge gasoline taxes or other highway funds to supplement toll charges for the purpose of paying off the bonds used to finance the turnpike.

The suit in Jefferson circuit court was brought by former Louisville Alderman Thomas H. Wall to test the validity of the legislation.

Judge Smith noted the act contains a separation clause which permits any part of the act to be declared invalid without injury to the remainder.

In his opinion, the judge declared:

"The issues involved are serious and deserve a much fuller treatment than in this brief memorandum. However, time is of the essence."

4 SCHOOL PRINCIPALS TO BE IN NEW POSTS

TURNER LIST IS APPROVED BY 3-2 VOTE

Hall, Howard Oppose Teacher Placements; Mrs. Best Transferred

Changes in the principals of four high schools were made by the Floyd County Board of Education at its Tuesday meeting, which was the annual "teacher-hiring day."

Schools affected were Prestonsburg, Maytown, Wayland and Garrett. Charles Clark, present principal at Garrett, will become Superintendent of Floyd schools July 1, and the vacancy faced by the Garrett school as a result of that event touched off the shifting of other principals.

Burnice Gearheart was transferred from Maytown to fill Clark's shoes at Garrett. Claude May was shifted from Wayland to Maytown, and James V. Bolen, principal of Prestonsburg high school, was named to take May's place at Wayland. Woodrow Allen, principal of the Prestonsburg grade school this year, was named principal of the high school here. A successor to him in the grade school has not been named.

The teacher-appointments, as recommended by Superintendent Virgil O. Turner, were approved by the support of John M. Stumbo, chairman of the board, and two other members, Mrs. W. D. Osborne and J. E. Campbell, except in those instances in which relatives of board members were being employed.

Ray Howard and John G. Hall, the other two members of the Board, opposed the entire list as submitted by the Superintendent for approval, including the office personnel, bus drivers, maintenance workers and janitors. They succeeded in effecting a 2-2 tie on the vote when one of the other members abstained from voting for relatives, but Chairman Stumbo declared the vote was sufficient to hire. This ruling was upheld last year when the same situation prevailed.

Transfer of Mrs. Frankie S. Best, a former president of the Floyd County Education Association and present teacher of art in Prestonsburg high school, to teach art in the Betsy Layne and Allen schools was preceded by considerable discussion. Jerry Hall, husband of Phyllis H. Hall, who was named to the art department post here, protested that his wife would not accept the Prestonsburg position if it meant the transfer of Mrs. Best.

Explaining his recommendation of the employment of Mrs. Hall and the transfer of Mrs. Best, Superintendent Turner later said Mrs. Hall had applied for the art teaching post here, that she was certified to teach art in high school while Mrs. Best's certification is for grade school art. He added that if Mrs. Hall will resign from the Prestonsburg position Mrs. Best will be retained.

Mrs. Best has won recognition for the work of the art department here under her tutelage. Mrs. Mary Auxier Hale was re-employed as art teacher in the Prestonsburg grades.

Unanimous approval was given the purchase of a tract of approximately 9 acres from T. N. Newsome and Cline Mitchell as a site for a new 24-room school on Big Mud Creek. The Board voted to pay $2,000 an acre for the site. At the May meeting of the Board Ray Howard and John G. Hall opposed the purchase. Howard at that time said he had been told the gift of a site was possible.

The State Department of Education and the Floyd County Health Department described the Newsome-Mitchell holdings as "one of the nicest sites in Eastern Kentucky."

THIEVES TAKE HEAVY TOLL

Auxier Store Burglarized Of Merchandise, Cash; One Held In P'burg Break

Thieves continued to take a heavy toll of Floyd businesses over the week-end as one business place here was burglarized Friday night and another at Auxier lost heavily Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Ezra Marsillett, of West Prestonsburg, was jailed here Saturday by Prestonsburg police who said they found in his home loot taken the preceding night from the Colonial House, West Prestonsburg. Ray Howard, owner of the business, listed the items taken as a small electric organ, a radio and sofa covers. Officers quoted Marsillett as saying he found the stolen articles, took them home and was waiting for the owner to claim them. He executed $2,000 bond.

One of the biggest hauls taken in the long series of Floyd breaks was taken from the Mallory Store at Auxier, late Sunday night or early Monday morning, with the stolen merchandise being valued at $3,244. Also taken was $369.50 in cash from the store safe.

Darwin Wells, manager of the Auxier store, said entrance was effected through the front door of the building. It is believed that a truck was used in hauling away the loot, which included five new television sets, seven shotguns and rifles, four Smith & Wesson revolvers, a Magnum organ, four transistor radios, two electric razors and four Timex watches.

Investigation of the robbery has failed to uncover clues of value, it was said. It was the first time the Auxier store had been burglarized.

Burle Yates was booked at the county jail Saturday on a charge of possessing moonshine whiskey and later was taken before the U. S. commissioner at Pikeville. Virgil Rogers and Bert Moore were booked here the following day and, the

TECHNOLOGICAL ADVANCE NOTED BY COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER HERE

The years slipped away for Dr. Louis Harkey Mayo, professor of law at the George Washington University, Washington, D. C., Tuesday night as he stood in Prestonsburg's 3,500-seat gymnasium and addressed the high school's record graduating class of 141.

He had inspected the new high school building and the huge, new gymnasium before beginning the commencement address and was thinking back to the old high school he attended, the old, frame gym where he played basketball and the small senior class with which he graduated.

Dr. Mayo did not offer advice, remarking, "If I knew specific things to tell you to do, I would put them into effect for myself." Instead, he pointed to trends of modern-day life, to the problems to be met and solved, and to individual responsibility.

All is not well in the field of education, Mayo admitted, and he cited disturbing weaknesses among law-students as an example. "Who is falling down, I think universities are, to some extent, but I don't think the blame rests with schools. The responsibility rests on you. There are too many soft-hearted teachers. It is your responsibility—not the teacher's, not the school's, persistence and a disposition to show a little backbone are mighty important."

Out of his experience the speaker gave the class a "tip." "You cannot overstress scholastic records. There

RUSH FOR BONUS FORMS HERE CONTINUES HEAVY; SUPPLY TEMPORARILY EXHAUSTED

Floyd county war veterans had as of this week used 2,000 bonus application forms, and the demand still was as heavy as ever.

The County Clerk's office exhausted its supply Monday, and as of Wednesday only the Amvets Club at Martin had any of the applications on hand, it was said.

Another shipment of application forms is expected this week.

The rush at the County Clerk's office continued Monday morning, but tapered off during the week. Certified copies of discharges kept the office force busy. The work of filling out the application forms was being done mostly by veterans' organizations, which were allotted forms on request, by Floyd Chapter, American Red Cross, and individuals.

It is calculated that 6,551 Floyd veterans are eligible for the bonus.

Bonus-application facts have become known as the work of filling out forms has been done. They include answers to the questions:

1. What is the cost and procedure for getting certified a discharge recorded with a county clerk?
2. What is a Korean Medal and how does it affect bonus applicants?
3. Is an affidavit really necessary for proving the veteran was a resident of Kentucky for at least six months before his entry into service?

The Attorney General's office ruled in Frankfort that County Clerks may charge $1.50 for recording and certifying a discharge for bonus applicants.

Dan Stafford, a legal consultant to the State Veterans Division, pointed out that veterans may skip the County Clerk by having a photostatic copy of their discharge papers certified by a notary public. The notary will certify the photostat as a true copy after examining the original discharge papers.

This procedure, he said, saves time for veterans who have not already recorded their original discharges in County Clerk offices. In some cases, he pointed out, County Clerks require a week or longer to record a discharge, make copies, and certify them.

A Korean Medal is an award for service on Korean soil or surrounding waters from June 27, 1950, through July 25, 1954. The bonus will be paid to veterans who served from June 27, 1950, through July 25, 1953, and also to those who were on active duty until January 31, 1955, if they qualified for the Korean Medal.

The result is that a veteran who arrived in Korea by July 25, 1954,

FALL CLAIMS P'BURG YOUTH

17-Year-Old Workman Fatally Hurt Saturday In Fall from Rooftop

Elijah Baker, 17-year-old Prestonsburg youth, was fatally injured shortly before noon Saturday when he fell from a compressor station roof at Dwale and landed atop a pile of pipe approximately 25 feet below.

Young Baker's neck was broken, and he was dead on arrival at the Prestonsburg General hospital. He was employed by the Wood Construction Company, Paintsville, contractor on the job of painting the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company compressor station structure. He lost his footing as he was steam-cleaning the roof of the building prior to painting.

The victim was a son of Mrs. Rebecca Stephens Baker, of Prestonsburg, and the late Bill Buck Baker. Besides his mother, he leaves six brothers and six sisters, James and Jake Baker, both of Florida, Jasper Baker, of Cincinnati, Mrs. Ada Belle Goble, Lorain, Ohio, Mrs. Barbara Hardy, of Germany, Mrs. Stella McKenzie, Piercetown, Ind., Mrs. Elizabeth Endicott, Index, Ky., Bill, Jr., Glenn Otis, Buckley Ray, Patricia Ann and Gladys Mae Baker, all of Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted from the Baker residence here Wednesday afternoon by the Revs. Ira McMillen and Paris Music, and burial was made in the Stephens cemetery at Dwale, the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home directing.

On Distressed List; Seven Kentucky Areas Hit By Unemployment

The Prestonsburg-Pointsville area was one of 71 listed by the government Monday on a special list as hardest hit by long-term unemployment.

Seven other areas, Corbin, Hazard, Madisonville, Harlan, Morehead-Grayson, Pikeville-Williamson, were listed in Kentucky as distressed by unemployment.

Twenty major industrial regions in the United States were also named in the hardest-hit category. Labor Department officials said areas on the "worst-off" list might be in line for additional federal aid to help them.

There was a parade and singing from the group.

FIRM AWARDS SCHOLARSHIPS

Inland Steel Names Winners At Wheelwright And Virgie Hi Exercises

The Scholarship committee of Inland Steel Company's coal mining operations at Wheelwright announced the winners of the 1960 scholarships at last week's graduation exercises at the Virgie and Wheelwright high schools.

A four-year scholarship to the University of Kentucky valued at $500 per year was awarded to Thomas H. Forsyth of the Virgie high school who will study engineering at the university. Thomas' father, who resides at Robinson Creek, is employed by Inland Steel Company as an electrician at the Wheelwright mine.

Two other scholarships were awarded. One went to Francis E. Little, of Wales, also a graduate of Virgie high school, and the other to Raymond L. Baldwin, a graduate of Wheelwright high school. Raymond has made other plans for continuing his education and was awarded a $500 scholarship which was then awarded to Gary Vicars of Weeksburg, also a Wheelwright high graduate. These two scholarships are for two years each at Pikeville College and are valued at $200 per year.

Francis Little is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Little, and his father is employed at the Wheelwright mines as a maintenance foreman. Raymond Baldwin's father is also employed by Inland as a loading machine operator at the Price Mine No. 2.

Gary Vicars is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vicars.

Another scholarship remains to be awarded. This is for two years at the University of Kentucky, is valued at $500 per year and will go to the outstanding student at Pikeville College who has completed two years there on an Inland Scholarship or whose father is an Inland employee. The winner of this scholarship will be announced within the next few days, it was said.

AREA AIRPORT IS PLANNED

Commissioner Reveals Construction Intent Near Prestonsburg

An airport designed for twin-engine aircraft will be built somewhere between Prestonsburg and Paintsville, Phillip Swift, commissioner of the State Department of Aeronautics, said Monday evening at Paintsville.

The move to construct an airport serving the two towns has been underway for months by a joint committee. Site preferred by them is the Blockhouse Bottom near East Point, Prestonsburg committee promoting the project are Burl Spurlock, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., and James Camilla, all of Prestonsburg. Paintsville also has a three-man committee.

The Prestonsburg City Council adopted a program of cooperation with the state in advancing the project.

Swift's announcement came during brief remarks before about 200 people at an "appreciation banquet" at Paintsville Country Club. Long-range plans for the benefit of the entire Appalachian Mountain area were announced at the dinner by Lieutenant Governor Wilson W. Wyatt.

He said a three-point legislative program designed to help improve the area would be introduced in Congress. It will be sponsored by Representative Carl Perkins, of Hindman. "We are very hopeful," Wyatt said, "that all congressmen and all governors in the seven-state mountain area will support it."

FLOYD TESTS REVEAL HIGH POSITIVE RATE

Mobile Clinic Unit Work To Begin In This District; TB Rate High in Kentucky

A shocking 25% positive reaction among Floyd county high school seniors to TB tests means that this will be one of the first counties in Kentucky to benefit from new and concentrated attack on the disease by the State Department of Health. Announcement of the change in tactics in the war on TB was announced last week by Dr. Dorothy Magallon, director of the new program.

Kentucky ranks second in tuberculosis deaths and cases, and more effective control of the disease is in line with Gov. Bert Combs' program.

Strategy behind the new tactics, according to Dr. Magallon, provides that the department's TB fighters concentrate their main forces on the strongholds of the disease in the state.

Priorities have been established among the six tuberculosis hospital districts of the state, and the most seriously affected are marked for attack first.

Then, under the direction of a physician just assigned from the U.S. Public Health Service, Dr. Curtis Drevets, the Division of Tuberculosis Control will send a mobile clinic unit to follow up on the cases newly detected by the mobile X-ray unit and other case-finding programs in the district.

The mobile clinic, with Dr. Drevets in charge, will "verify" the possible new cases by "spitum" and other tests of "clinical" tests which was then awarded to Gary Vicars of Weeksburg, also a Wheelwright high graduate. These two scholarships are for two years each at Pikeville College and are valued at $200 per year.

Dr. Magallon said the district singled out for the first concentrated assault is Tuberculosis Hospital District 4, a 14-county area composed of Floyd, Lewis, Rowan, Menifee, Morgan, Magoffin, Pike, Martin, Lawrence, Boyd, Greenup, Carter, Elliott and Johnson counties.

MINE MISHAP KILLS HALL

Miner Electrocuted In Drift Truck Mine; Rites Held Tuesday

Denver L. Hall, 21, of McDowell, was electrocuted Saturday morning while working in the Stumbo & Hall truck mine, near Drift, and was dead upon arrival shortly thereafter at the McDowell Memorial hospital.

The tragedy occurred when he came in contact with a high-voltage wire as he cleaned away debris which had accumulated between the tracks inside the mine.

The victim was a son of Mrs. Ruby Stumbo and the late Anthony Hall. Survivors include his mother, a brother, Palmer L. Hall, of McDowell, two sisters, Mrs. Bernice Newsome, Ashabula, Ohio, and Miss Ruby Jean Hall, of McDowell, and two half-brothers, James H. Hall, of McDowell, and Jack Hall, Dayton, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday from the graveside in the Lucy Hall cemetery, the Revs. Willie Conn, Johnny King and Verlan Hall officiating. Burial was under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Miss Roberts, Mr. Collins Wed In Church Ceremony Held Here

The marriage of Miss Laura Virginia Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Roberts, of Prestonsburg, to Mr. Robert Arnold Collins, son of Mrs. C. S. Marsh, Redondo Beach, Calif., and Mr. John W. Collins, Homestead, Fla., took place June 3 at the First Methodist church here. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey before an altar decorated with candelabra, fern, ivy and baskets of pink-and-white pompons.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Harold Dorsey, organist presented a program of wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a costume suit of parchment white chiffon and raw silk. Her accessories were white. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. James Lewis Williams, Cynthia, Ky., matron of honor, wore a beige and white costume suit of silk, with a white organza over-collar. She carried a nosegay of white and pink carnations and baby's breath.

Mr. Robert E. Collier, Ashland, was Mr. Collins' best man.

Cochran Dorsey was taper lighter.

The mother of the bride was dressed in blue lace with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Collins is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school, where she also taught after receiving her A. B. degree from Eastern Kentucky State College. She attended Virginia Intermont College, Bristol, Va., and is presently completing work for the M. A. degree in English at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Collins, who is working toward a Ph. D. degree at the University of Kentucky, was graduated from Miami Seminar high, Miami, Fla., and from the University of Miami. He attended Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and holds the M. A. degree in English from the University of Kentucky. He has accepted the position of head of the English department of Midway Junior College, Midway, Ky., where Mr. and Mrs. Collins are at home at 222 Cross street.

WCS HOLDS MEETING

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Eddie Worland. The program theme was "Set Apart for Me." Mrs. Carl Horn was the leader. Mrs. Arnold Compton led the devotionals.

At the business meeting the time for the Mother and Daughter banquet was decided, June 14th. The rummage sale which is held annually is to be held from Sept. 6-12. A membership drive is to be culminated by a pot luck picnic. Each woman of the church is invited.

Those present were Mesdames Ray Stephens, Fred Cottrell, James Carter, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Virgil Warrick, Richard Spurlock, Carl Horn, Green Allen, Earl Stumbo, Arnold Compton and B. F. Combs.

PORTRAIT OF MRS. BROWNING UNVEILED BY EASTERN STAR

Adah Chapter No. 24, Order of Eastern Star, recorded on the evening of May 31 one of the most memorable events of its history when the portrait of its most illustrious member, Mrs. Josephine Harkins Browning, now of Ashland and Henderson, was unveiled.

Mrs. Browning is the only person from Adah Chapter ever to hold the office of worthy grand matron of Kentucky, and now holds the office of right worthy grand conductress of the General Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. She is the second Kentuckian to hold this post, and in the order of succession will at the end of the next four years become most worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter, the highest title in the world O.E.S. organization which has a membership of more than 3,000,000 women and men.

Preceding the unveiling of the portrait, a banquet attended by 74 members and guests was held at the Wise Restaurant. As the Grand Chapter officers entered the dining room Mrs. Lack Roberts played "Oh What a Beautiful Morning." The Rev. Harold W. Dorsey served as toastmaster. The invocation was given by the worthy matron of Adah Chapter, Mrs. Patsy Evans. A vocal solo by Mrs. Irene Dorsey and a performance by a group of majorettes, daughters of Eastern Star mothers, were featured part of the program.

Following the banquet, the scene shifted to Masonic Hall. The chapter room was beautifully decorated in keeping with the worthy grand matron's emblem, the lamp, representing the light of the world, and her motto, "Service to Others." An archway laden with yellow roses adorned the front of the room.

The unveiling ceremony opened with prayer by the Rev. Dorsey. The worthy matron, Mrs. Evans, instructed the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Margarie Wilder, to present Mrs. Browning. Mrs. Evans spoke on behalf of the chapter, paying tribute to Mrs. Browning for her many years of service and loyalty to the Order of Eastern Star and pointing to her record of high achievement.

The former Prestonsburg woman who is in line for the top post in the world O.E.S. organization, is a member of the Board of Governors, is an honorary member of the Jurisprudence committee of the Grand Chapter, past right worthy grand trustee of the General Grand Chapter, past worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter and past matron of Adah Chapter.

After the unveiling of the portrait, which was the work of the Martin Studio, Henderson, Ky., tribute was paid the honored guest by the following: Mrs. Margarie Wilder, Boonesville, Ky., worthy grand patron; L. Terry Johnston, Covington, member of the Charters committee, General Grand Chapter; Irvin Arrowood, Paintsville, past grand patron; Mrs. Lenore Gullett, Paintsville, associate grand conductress.

The Rev. McMullen read a congratulatory telegram from Mrs. Browning's sister, Mrs. Walter F. VanLandingham, Miami, Florida. Mrs. Browning expressed to the Chapter her grateful appreciation for the honor and its courtesy.

Parker-Staggs Wedding Solemnized Here, May 24, At First Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Joyce Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parker, Prestonsburg, and Mr. Robert Bruce Staggs, son of Mrs. L. C. Legers, of Pikeville, took place at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, May 24, at the First Methodist Church in Prestonsburg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey.

The bride wore a ballerina-length dress of pale pink silk organza fashioned with fitted lace jacket with tiny collar and elbow-length sleeves, with bouffant skirt with deep hemline. She wore a pale pink headpiece with tiny silk illusion veil and matching accessories. She carried roses on a pink lace prayer book.

Miss Peggy Lee Parker, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a pink embroidered batiste ballerina-length dress with matching headpiece. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Dr. L. C. Leger, of Pikeville, Ky., step-father of the groom, served as best man.

A reception was held, immediately following the ceremony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Latta on Second avenue, after which the couple left for a short wedding trip.

Wyatt said the program involves roads, water, and jobs.

Swift said the airport project would be financed half by the state and a fourth each by Prestonsburg and Paintsville. He said his department hoped to have the project completed by the end of this summer.

If the 4,000-foot runway is black-topped, the field will cost about $80,000, Swift said. If it is grass, the cost will be around $50,000.

Wyatt told the Paintsville Chamber of Commerce and the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission that the greatest need of Eastern Kentucky and the Appalachian region is roads.

But because federal assistance is based on traffic counts, and the area lacks good modern roads, very few highways can be built with federal aid.

Wyatt said he had no quarrel with the standard formula for determining federal participation. But he said it should be modified so that 9-to-1 matching federal-state funds could be used.

The same is true of the water situation, he said.

Federal money is made available only when the so-called "cost-benefit ratio" shows there is enough development to warrant flood protection.

But he said development cannot occur until there is flood protection.

If Congress acts with boldness, Wyatt said, and authorizes special road funds for the Appalachian region and special water-impoundment funds, "it will pay handsome dividends to the American taxpayer through the saving of relief payments in the future as well as dividends in the creation of opportunities for the Americans in the Appalachian region to be able to help themselves."

curity issued the list in line with the Eisenhower Administration's definition of a depressed community. It said their plight stemmed chiefly from declines in locally-important industries such as coal mining, textiles, machinery, or autos.

Major areas named included Ashland, Ky., Huntington, W. Va., Detroit, Providence, R. I., Evansville and Terre Haute, Ind.; Atlantic City, N. J., and Charleston, and Wheeling, W. Va.

The Bureau of Employment Security said reports every two months will "identify those areas where high unemployment has been a relatively persistent problem over most of the last few years."

The bureau said listed areas must have at least six per cent current unemployment and meet one of the three tests on the severity of past unemployment.

These tests are that average past unemployment must have been, 1. preceding four calendar years, or 2. at least 75 per cent above the national average for two of the three preceding calendar years, or 3. at least 100 per cent above the national average for one of the two average for one of the two preceding calendar years.

The bureau at the same time announced that its most recent survey of major industrial areas shows employment conditions have improved moderately this spring, although mostly seasonally in construction and other outdoor activities.

Declines in employment and working hours in some durable-goods industries were reported, but the bureau said employers indicated "some stabilization," that is, a lessening of layoffs, in these industries over the next few months.

COMBS, NOTED AUTHOR, DIES

Knott Native Claimed At Fort Worth, Texas; Brother of Floyd Man

Dr. Josiah H. Combs, 74, noted authority on languages and folklore, died at Fort Worth, Texas, Thursday evening of last week. A native of Cody, Knott county, he was the author of several volumes on Kentucky, among which were "The Kentucky Highlanders," and "All That's Kentucky—An Anthology."

Dr. Combs, a son of John W. and Tina Cody Combs, was graduated at Transylvania University at Lexington, and did post-graduate study at the University of Paris, Paris, France. Some of his books were originally written in French.

Teaching posts held by Combs were at West Virginia University, the University of Oklahoma, Martha Washington College and Texas Christian University. He held the position of head of the department of languages from 1927 to 1947 at the latter institution.

Dr. Combs was a brother of the late A. B. and B. F. Combs, of Prestonsburg, and is survived by his wife, Charlotte; a brother, Monroe Combs, of Garrett; and two sisters, Mrs. Allie Daniel, St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Dora Holcomb, of Detroit, Mich. He had no surviving children.

Funeral rites were conducted at Fort Worth, Monday, and burial was made at Fort Sam Houston, at San Antonio, Texas.

sence if the project promoted by the Governor is to get off the ground this year.

"Although the Court of Appeals gives great weight . . . to the chancellor's finding of facts, it has no difficulty in disagreeing with him on questions of law. The constitutional law of this case will be declared by the Court of Appeals . . . in a considered opinion. Nothing I could say here would alter the ultimate result."

On a number of technical points, Judge Smith upheld the law as written.

Governor Combs ordered immediate work on the turnpike project on January 8. Plans as announced call for a four-lane section from near Winchester to Campton. It would be a toll road.

From Campton, a two-lane arm would extend to Prestonsburg and on to Pikeville, and another to Hazard and Whitesburg. Both would be toll-free.

PIKEVILLE SPEAKER NAMES FOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

Pikeville, Ky., June 9 (Spl.) — Graduating classes at Pikeville College Sunday were told that progress depends on adapting their thinking to changes in the present or in the future.

William H. Lowe, treasurer of Inland Steel Company, Chicago, named this among four responsibilities of college graduates in his talk on "Commencement—of What?"

Some 130 candidates for graduation crossed Pikeville's platform, 50 to receive diplomas for their bachelor degrees at this commencement and the others planning to complete the requirements for theirs during this summer. Of the degrees given Sunday, 42 were degrees of Bachelor of Science in Education and eight of Bachelor of Arts.

Miss Holbrook Earns Eastern Fellowship

Richmond, Ky., May 31 (Spl.) — Fellowships were awarded this week to two Eastern Kentucky State College students to serve as senior counselors for the residence hall for freshmen women.

Misses Gail Holbrook, of Wheelwright, and Betty Lucille King, Paris, were the recipients of the fellowships. Both are completing their junior years at Eastern.

Miss Holbrook is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holbrook, of Wheelwright. She is a 1957 graduate of Wheelwright high school. This year at Eastern she is a member of Pi Omega Pi, honorary society for commerce majors, Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, president of Burnham Hall House Council. On Honors Day for Women, she was tapped for membership in Collegiate Pentacle, senior women's leadership honorary. She was also voted the ideal co-ed of the junior class.

Reunion of the 149th Stated in Louisville

A comprehensive display of combat photographs and maps tracing the history of the famed 149th Infantry Regiment will be featured in Louisville, July 15-16, at the Kentucky unit's 12th annual convention.

Reunion planners said popular music of the World War II period also will be a highlight of the two day meeting.

The 149th, composed mainly of Kentuckians, was part of the 38th (Cyclone) Division that fought through seven campaigns in the South Pacific.

All Kentuckians who served in the regiment are issued a cordial invitation to attend. Families and friends also are invited. For reservations or details, veterans should write or call Warren Rowe, 321 Monahan Drive, Louisville 7, Kentucky, TW 37066.

TEST WELLS ARE DRILLED

Prestonsburg Geologist Notes Commercial Finds Not Made In East Area

Deep-test drilling in five Eastern Kentucky counties over the past two years produced no commercial oil finds, George R. Thomas, of Prestonsburg, stated in a paper read Thursday of last week before the 24th annual meeting of the Kentucky Oil and Gas Association at Lexington. Thomas is a geologist for United Fuel Gas Company.

He said the giant-ring test borings cost nearly $2,000,000.

The first of the deep tests—9,432 feet down—was drilled with rotary tools in 1958 in the northern part of Leslie county.

Another test drilled that year went down 11,130 feet on Quick-sand Creek in Breathitt county.

And one year inez in Martin county was bored to the 13,172-foot level.

Regarding the oil potential of Eastern Kentucky, Thomas noted that prior to 1932 Pike county was considered dry-hole territory by most production companies and added: "I don't think it is necessary for me to point out to most of you here that Pike county is today the richest gas producing county in the state of Kentucky."

Other papers read Friday included "Recent Trends of Water-flooding in Eastern Kentucky," by W. H. Litton, Paintsville; "Kentucky Sales and Use Tax," by W. E. Chelgren, Ashland; "St. Peter Possibilities," by William O. McGuire, Stanton.

Also "An Interpretation of Recent Discoveries in Kentucky's Allen County Area," by Reid Patterson, Bowling Green; "The Green and Taylor County Oil Field," by Harvey C. Young, Greensburg, and "Recent Oil Developments in Spencer county, Ind.," by Dan M. Sullivan, Bloomington.

Leading a panel discussion were Earl Foster, Oklahoma City, Okla., and John Knodell, Jr., of Mattoon, Ill. Forster is general council of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

FORMER TEACHER HERE DIED IN LOUISVILLE

Miss Lucy Lowry, 77, former teacher here, died May 31, in Louisville. Her funeral was conducted from the Lazear Funeral Home in Ashland on June 3.

She was a native of Catlettsburg and is survived by a brother, Col. Ben H. Lowry, of Lexington, and a niece, Mrs. Iley B. Browning, Jr., of Henderson, Ky.

Miss Lowry will be remembered here by a large group of students who attended her English classes at the Prestonsburg Baptist Institute when Prof. H. H. Harris was principal of the school. After leaving Prestonsburg, she attended Mary Baldwin College at Stanton, Va., for a year. She received her bachelor's degree in 1909 at Oxford College for women, now a part of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. She held a Master's Degree from the University of Louisville and attended summer sessions of the University of Kentucky. She belonged to the Filson Club and the Kentucky Historical Society. She was a member of Church of Christ Scientist, Louisville. She taught at Shawnee high school in Louisville from 1929-1947, when she transferred to Atherton high school, Louisville. In the 1920's she was instructor in English at the old Louisville Girls high school. Before that she taught in high schools in Arkansas and Tennessee.

the collection of funds to aid in the new program for the National Foundation. Money collected goes to the program initiated two years ago to combat polio, birth defects and arthritis.

Wheelwright's contribution was $1,034.29. Mrs. Stumbo said. Chairmen of the drive there were Mr. and Mrs. H. Wakeland. The Prestonsburg-David sectional drive under the chairmanship of Ray Howard, realized $813.91. The community with third place was Martin with a total of $186.11. Eleven other communities in the county had collection less than Martin.

One-half of the money will be retained in this county for use in the March of Dimes program, Mrs. Stumbo said.

Revenue Team Slates Prestonsburg Meeting To Discuss Sales Tax

Revenue Commissioner William E. Scent reminded Floyd counties this week that a revenue team will be at the courthouse at 7:30 p.m., next Tuesday, to explain the new sales tax to retailers.

At Wayland, a similar meeting will be held the following day at 2 p.m.

The sales tax goes into effect July 1. Income from the new tax will finance the veterans' bonus and provide for increased services and expanded facilities.

Scent said a better understanding of the new tax at the outset would make it easier for retailers.

There will be made available to those attending the meeting all the necessary forms and instructions to be used in reporting and remitting the tax.

Specific topics for discussion will be: the sales tax permit and who will obtain one, receipts taxable under the new law, means of reporting the tax and the tax form to be used, the sales tax bracket and records the merchant will keep.

The team will then answer retailers' questions.

Employer Report Forms Available At Cleveland; Disclosure Act Requires

New employer report forms are available at the Cleveland Area Office of the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports for use in reporting certain arrangements, payments and agreements as specified by the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act.

Issued by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell under provisions of the new law, the report (Form LM110, must show in detail the date and amount of each of certain specified payments, loans, promises, agreements, or arrangements, including the identity and address and position, if any, in any firm or labor organization of the person to whom it was made.

Jerome Braun, Area Director in Cleveland, said the report forms must be filed as soon as possible by employers whose fiscal years have ended since September 14, 1959, and who are affected by the provisions of the Act.

Forms may be obtained from the Bureau's offices at 602 Engineers Building, Cleveland, Ohio. Area Director Braun said his office was ready to give assistance to anyone who had to file such a report.

Telephone Talk
By BYRON SIMPSON
Your Telephone Manager

FATHER'S DAY is just around the corner—Sunday, June 19 to be exact. Maybe you've already planned how to "wow" Dad, but if you're stumped here's help. Now's the perfect time to give Dad an extension phone of his own. A gift of a handy extension phone would sure make life easier for any man. Private conversations in private—not to mention the nice, lazy feeling of a phone at his elbow after a hard day at work. Extension phones come in so many lovely colors, masculine ones included! Just give our business office a call and we'll give you all the details.

SHHHHHHH-H-H-H . . . Approaching the outskirts of a small town, a motorist stopped to use an outdoor telephone booth. He was startled to read this sign on the door: "Please don't use this phone booth until the eggs are hatched!" When he peered into the booth, our friend saw two tiny eggs sitting inside a ready-made hummingbird's nest—the coin return slot. With an understanding grin, he returned to his car and drove on to the next telephone booth.

GOING PLACES and doing things seems to be on everybody's mind now that summer's here. But planning the perfect vacation takes some headwork. One thing I'd like to remind you of before you hit the road—Long Distance calls can certainly make traveling a lot more carefree. For instance, call ahead and be sure of reservations where you want to stay. Coming back—you can save time by booking your overnight stops before you take to the road. And while you're gone, Long Distance is a good way to keep in touch with home or office—make sure things are O.K. The cost is small for Long Distance convenience. After six and on Sundays, even smaller.

Certificates Are Given To "A" Students; Jaycees Spearhead Recognition

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce participated this year in the Scholastic Achievement Recognition program in an effort to focus greater emphasis on high school education. David Hereford, president, explained that the Prestonsburg Jaycees, who co-sponsor the program with Minute Maid Corporation, presented certificates of achievement to all Prestonsburg high school seniors making straight "A" or honor roll grades.

The names of students eligible for the certificates were obtained from the local high school principal. Delmar Baldrige, education chairman, said. The certificates were presented to these students at the high school awards program prior to the end of the academic year.

The program was started four years ago in Florida by Minute Maid Corporation, Baldrige said. Last year Jaycees in seven states participated in the presentation of more than 55,000 certificates to deserving students. "Despite the comparative newness of the program," Baldrige said, "high school principals already are reporting a decided improvement in over-all grades as a direct result of the program."

PRELIMINARIES

Preliminaries are already under way and should be completed by late summer, Dr. Magallon said. Her division will be conferring with health officers and private physicians in the district, and equipping the mobile clinic.

District 4 was singled out for the first concentrated assault chiefly because of the large number of cases of TB found by the mobile X-ray units man survey, still an important case-finding tool in Kentucky. Any county that finds one case per 1,000 persons X-rayed has a TB problem. Eleven of the 14 counties of District 4 exceed this figure and several counties during a good survey find over 5 cases per 1,000.

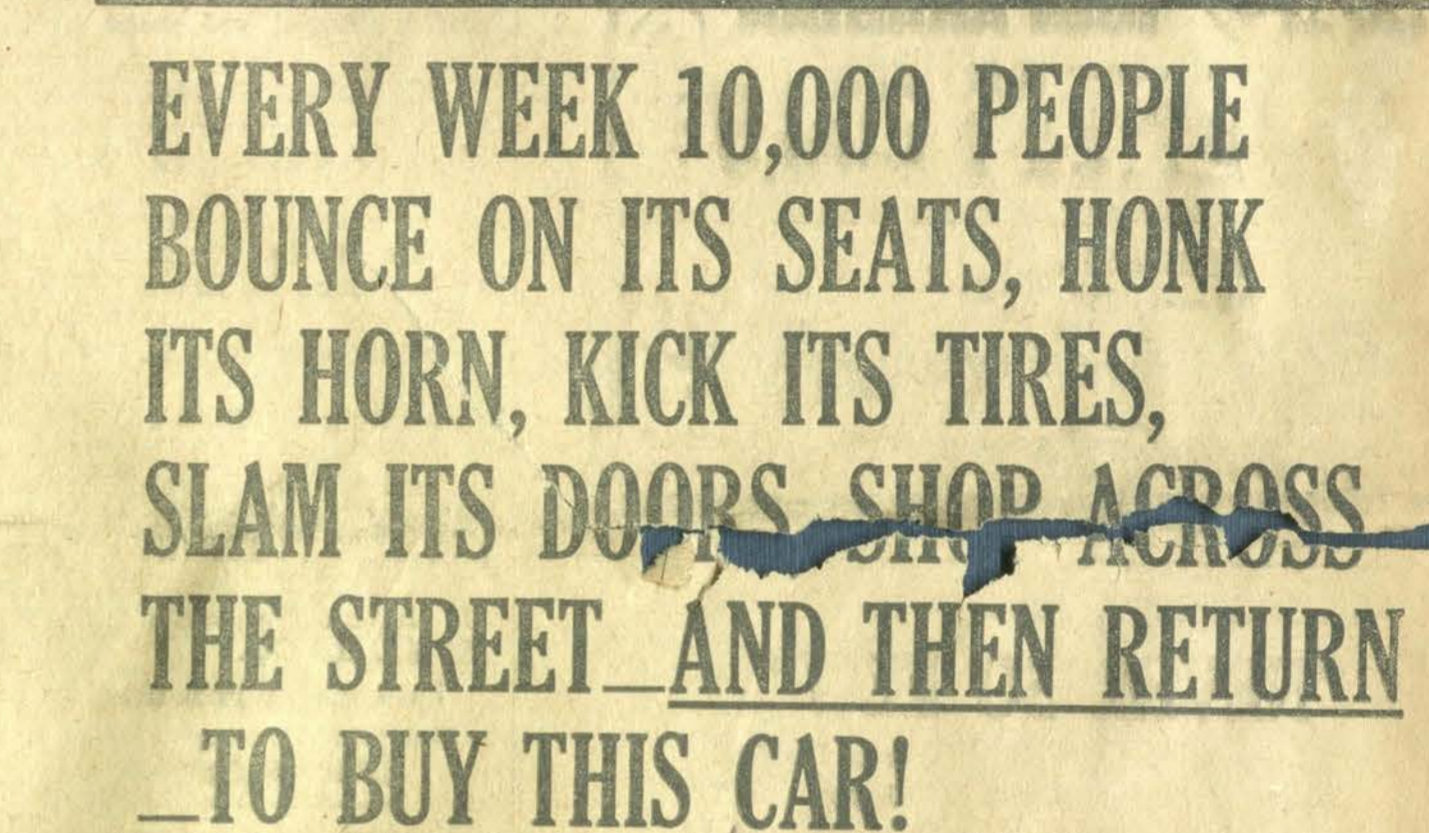

Another factor which pinpointed District 4 for the first concentrated assault was the high incidence of positive skin tests in the three counties that have conducted skin-testing programs in schools. Tuberculosis tests given to high school seniors in Floyd, Pike and Boyd counties showed increased sensitivity rates. A rate of 25% in Floyd county is considered extremely serious. A positive skin test indicates that the person tested has been in contact with someone who has active tuberculosis, not that he himself, necessarily, has the disease.

Dr. Magallon attributes the serious tuberculosis problem in District 4 to lack of health officer and private physician coverage and shortage of health department facilities. She said that the local health departments in District 4 do an amazingly fine job, considering their handicaps and problems.

WHEN MAKING SANDWICHES . . .

When making sandwiches for a crowd, allow two cups of filling for 12 slices of bread or two rounded tablespoons of filling for each slice of bread. A two-pound sandwich loaf will give about 28 slices of bread, one-half inch in thickness.

Falcon is having the best first year any car ever had . . . over 250,000 already sold since introduction . . . going at the record rate of 10,000 every week. What makes Falcon the world's most successful new car?

Economy!
To begin with, Falcon is America's very lowest-priced 6-passenger car . . . $64 to $154 less than the other compacts.
"Falcon delivers the best fuel economy of the three new compact cars," says Motor Trend magazine. Owner reports and fleet operator logs consistently show Falcon mileage figures of up to 30 miles per gallon with regular gas.
Falcon goes 4,000 miles between oil changes, costs less to service, less to license and in most places, less to insure.
Falcon saves you more and still gives you full room for 6 big people and all their luggage. Small wonder Falcon has become first so fast!

IN THE MAIL

A gentleman named William R. Sullivan, of Los Angeles, Calif., writes—why, we do not know—to express the following thought: "This world does not have an unlimited amount of space for an unlimited amount of people. The laws of nature have a statute of limitation; there are those who choose to ignore them, for which all of us have to pay!"

THE EASY WAY OUT

We see by the papers that a certain Judge Holt, down at Jamestown, Ky., has run afoul of the law after allegedly pocketing hundreds or even thousands of dollars in fines collected, and has wound up with five indictments against him. Now it also appears that the circuit judge at Jamestown, who sees eye to eye politically with the aforementioned Holt, has agreed to dismiss all five of the indictments on the condition that the accused man resign the office of county judge.

We expect to read, any day now, of a bank teller swiping $100,000 from his bank and going scot-free by agreeing to resign from his job.

Mrs. Elizabeth N. Tackett Of Hi Hat, Dies Saturday; Suffered Fractured Hip

Mrs. Elizabeth Newman Tackett, 87, of Hi Hat, died Saturday, at 3:40 a.m., at home. She suffered a fractured hip over a year ago and had never regained her health.

She was the widow of Bud Tackett and a daughter of Hogan and Judy Turner Newman. She had no surviving children. Surviving are a brother and two sisters: Morgan Newman, Ione, Wash., Mrs. Nancy Hall, of Lexington, and Mrs. Flora Branham, Beaver, Ohio.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m., Monday, at the Clear Creek United Baptist church, the Revs. Charlie Jones, Henry Blair and Jerry Hall officiating. Burial was made in the Newman cemetery under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Langley Woman Wins KFWC Art Competition

Mrs. T. A. Combs, of Langley, won the Sweepstakes Award Art Exhibit at the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs held recently at the group's state convention at Lexington. Mrs. Combs' painting, an oil, is an abstract work, titled "Eseencio."

Mrs. Combs, who is president of the Allen-Martin Woman's Club, also modeled a prize winning costume at the fashion show.

Woman Retiring After Serving Every Morehead College Prexy As Secretary, Is Recognized

Morehead, Ky., June 2—A woman who has dedicated her life to Morehead State College was honored last week at a reception on the campus.

Miss Anna Carter is probably the only person in the world who has served as secretary to every president of an institution of higher learning for a period longer than 25 years.

The personable "Miss Anna" has been secretary to Morehead's seven presidents since the institution was established by the state Legislature in 1922 and she is retiring this summer after a long and distinguished career.

Last week, hundreds of friends and admirers gathered to pay tribute to "Miss Anna" at a surprise reception.

Dr. Adron Doran, president, served as master of ceremonies and told the gathering that "Miss Anna has served loyally and faithfully and should be proud of her achievements at Morehead State College."

Dr. Doran awarded her a check for $370 which friends contributed for a trip of her choice and she also received a sterling silver serving dish.

Otto Razor, a graduate of the Morehead Normal School which preceded Morehead State College, spoke in behalf of the Normal school, and Russ Williamson, the first graduate of Morehead State College, spoke in behalf of the Alumni Association.

Dr. Warren C. Lappin, dean of instruction who has been at Morehead State College since 1923, spoke on behalf of the faculty, and Virginia Caudill, secretary to the Business Manager, represented the staff.

The hundreds of people who gathered for the celebration heard many glowing comments about the woman who was born in Rowan county and who graduated from the Morehead Normal School.

Old Fort Harrod Was Kentucky's First Settlement

A visit to the state park at Harrodsburg, Ky., is a step into pioneer days.

So authentic is the reproduction of Old Fort Harrod, the first settlement in Kentucky, and therein so many the crude utensils and pieces of furniture actually used by the first settlers, that the visitors easily can imagine the stockade is still surrounded by a wilderness.

Pioneer Memorial State Park includes the replica of the fort, the George Rogers Clark Memorial, the Pioneer Cemetery, the Mansion Museum and the Lincoln Marriage Temple.

In this fort, Ann McGirtly operated the first spinning wheel in the West; John Lythe preached the Gospel; Squire Boone, brother of Daniel, walked about with a Bible in his hand; the first white child in Kentucky was born, and George Rogers Clark prepared to march into the Old Northwest.

Blockhouses at the southwest and southwest corners of the log stockade are connected by cabins with roofs sloping inward. Within the cabins and blockhouses are pioneer relics — homemade wooden utensils, hand-made furniture, crude agricultural tools, lanterns, dishes, spinning wheels, copper kettles, beds, and many other items preserved by descendants of the early settlers. A cabin represents the first schoolhouse in the West.

In another section of the park, a cruciform brick temple shelters the cabin in which the parents of Abraham Lincoln were married.

Near the fort's entrance, fronted by a large bluegrass lawn, is a heroic granite bas-relief, a memorial to George Rogers Clark, showing Clark and his horse in a setting of pioneers. The memorial was dedicated by Franklin Roosevelt.

The Mansion Museum is a post-colonial two-story brick house built in 1830 by Major James Taylor. On the first floor are the Lincoln Room, the Confederate Room and the George Rogers Clark Room, all with relics. On the second floor is the Shaker Room, the Gun Room and the Music Room. Throughout the museum are displays of Indian relics, historical and public documents.

Studies show that about one-fourth of the total calories of the teenage girl may come from snacks.

Base for Furniture Springs, Important

The base on which the springs rest is important. Various types of webbing, such as linen, jute, etc., are interlaced across the base, supporting hand-tied springs. Other base constructions use a web of steel lace fastened to the front and back of the base, with the sides free for maximum resiliency. Marshall spring units (where the individual springs are enclosed in cloth pockets) are used on top of the steel lace web. Some manufacturers use a separate spring unit under each cushion of the sofa.

4-H CLUB WEEK

About 1200 4-H Club members from all over Kentucky will attend 4-H Club Week, June 7-11, on the University of Kentucky campus. Five boys and five girls from almost every Kentucky county have been selected for their outstanding work to represent the 80,000 4-H'ers in the state at the 37th annual 4-H Week.

This year's program emphasizes leadership development, with the 4-H members themselves taking part in many discussions. Among those who will speak on this subject during the week are: Governor Bert Combs; Dr. Frank Dickey, president of University of Kentucky; Coach Adolph Rupp of University of Kentucky; and Dr. Charles Irvin, public relations director for General Motors, Miami, Fla.

The club members from Floyd county selected to attend 4-H Week are: Melanie Conley, Joan Hicks, Clara Ann Allen, Mae Rita Gayheart, Ruby Mae Gayheart, Dana Jack Hicks, Delbert Ousley, Mike Brown, Frer Martin and Randolph Hicks.

Clara Ann Allen will participate in the state style revue on Friday night, June 10.

CAMP

This year two 4-H camps will be held for club members in Floyd county. The camp will be divided into Junior and Senior camps. The Senior camp will include those club members 14 years old as of January 1, 1960, and will be held the week of June 20-24. Senior club members from Johnson, Pike, Magoffin, Morgan, Menifee, Elliott, Lawrence and Martin counties will join Floyd club members at this camp.

The Junior camp will include those club members from 9 to 14 and will be held the week of June 27 to July 1. Counties included in this camp will be Johnson, Martin and Floyd.

The camp fee will be $8.25 and will include transportation insurance and one free craft.

CORN PROJECT WINNERS

The announcement was made a few weeks ago from the state 4-H department that Floyd county club members were district winners in both the Junior and Senior division of the corn project.

Barbara Lafferty, county club, was named district winner of the Senior division. Barbara averaged 98.1 bushels per acre on her project. She has been the senior district winner for the last three years.

Roger Merritt, Bonanza club, is the Junior district winner. Roger has been a club member for two years. Last year Roger won the county Corn Derby with an average of 129.7 bushels per acre.

chase the bulk of supplies you need. You can use the fresh form in various dishes or plain with sugar and cream and also freeze and preserve them for later use during the short time they are available from local fields. Fresh strawberries are especially rich in vitamin C, to go along with their fine flavor and color appeal. One cup of raw berries will more than furnish a days recommended supply of ascorbic acid and only 55 calories when eaten with sugar or cream.

Remember that for best quality strawberries, select those that are bright, fresh appealing with a solid red color. Berries that have white spots are under ripe and will not have a good flavor. A shiny gloss on the berries is a sign that they are freshly picked. Bright green caps should be attached because when they are missing indicates that the berries are ripe and probably mushy. It is a good idea to pick up berries just before going to the check out counter in the store. They should be refrigerated until ready for use.

Like all perishable foods strawberries require special handling. Do not wash strawberries until just before you intend to serve them. Mold and decay may grow rapidly when there is moisture on the berries. When working use cold water and do it quickly and easily. Then remove the caps after the berries are clean and dry. If caps are removed before washing, there will be a color and flavor loss from the berries.

One quart of fresh berries equals three cups of washed, capped berries ready to eat.

SWISS FARM DEVELOPMENT OFFERS VISION TO WRITER

By W. C. Johnstone

United States looked mighty good to this country boy when he returned home in mid-May after an auto trip through seven European countries. The farm homes, villages and countryside on this side of the Atlantic were just as beautiful—or even more so—than those over there. But, I did not go to Europe to find things in which we excel. I went to see customs and practices which would benefit us and make our country even greater than it is. In this I was successful because I saw many things there we could well emulate. Among the things that appealed to me most was the excellent training of the British and Swiss children; the care and management of the Swiss and German forests; the industrial development of the Rhine Valley and the cleanliness of the homes and highways in the areas I traveled through.

As we drove through the Black Forests of Germany and crossed Switzerland our thoughts turned constantly to the hills and mountains of Kentucky. The combination of pasture and forest farming in those areas, and their supplementary dairy and wood-working industries, are far advanced of anything we have and could well serve as a guide to our future development. I wished that hundreds of Kentucky farm leaders could have made the trip with me so that they could share my enthusiasm for pasture and forest farming. It is impossible to describe the wealth of the forestry and wood-using industry of mountainous Switzerland, but I can imagine the same development here in Kentucky if our public and private leaders can inspire the proper vision and desire on the part of the masses.

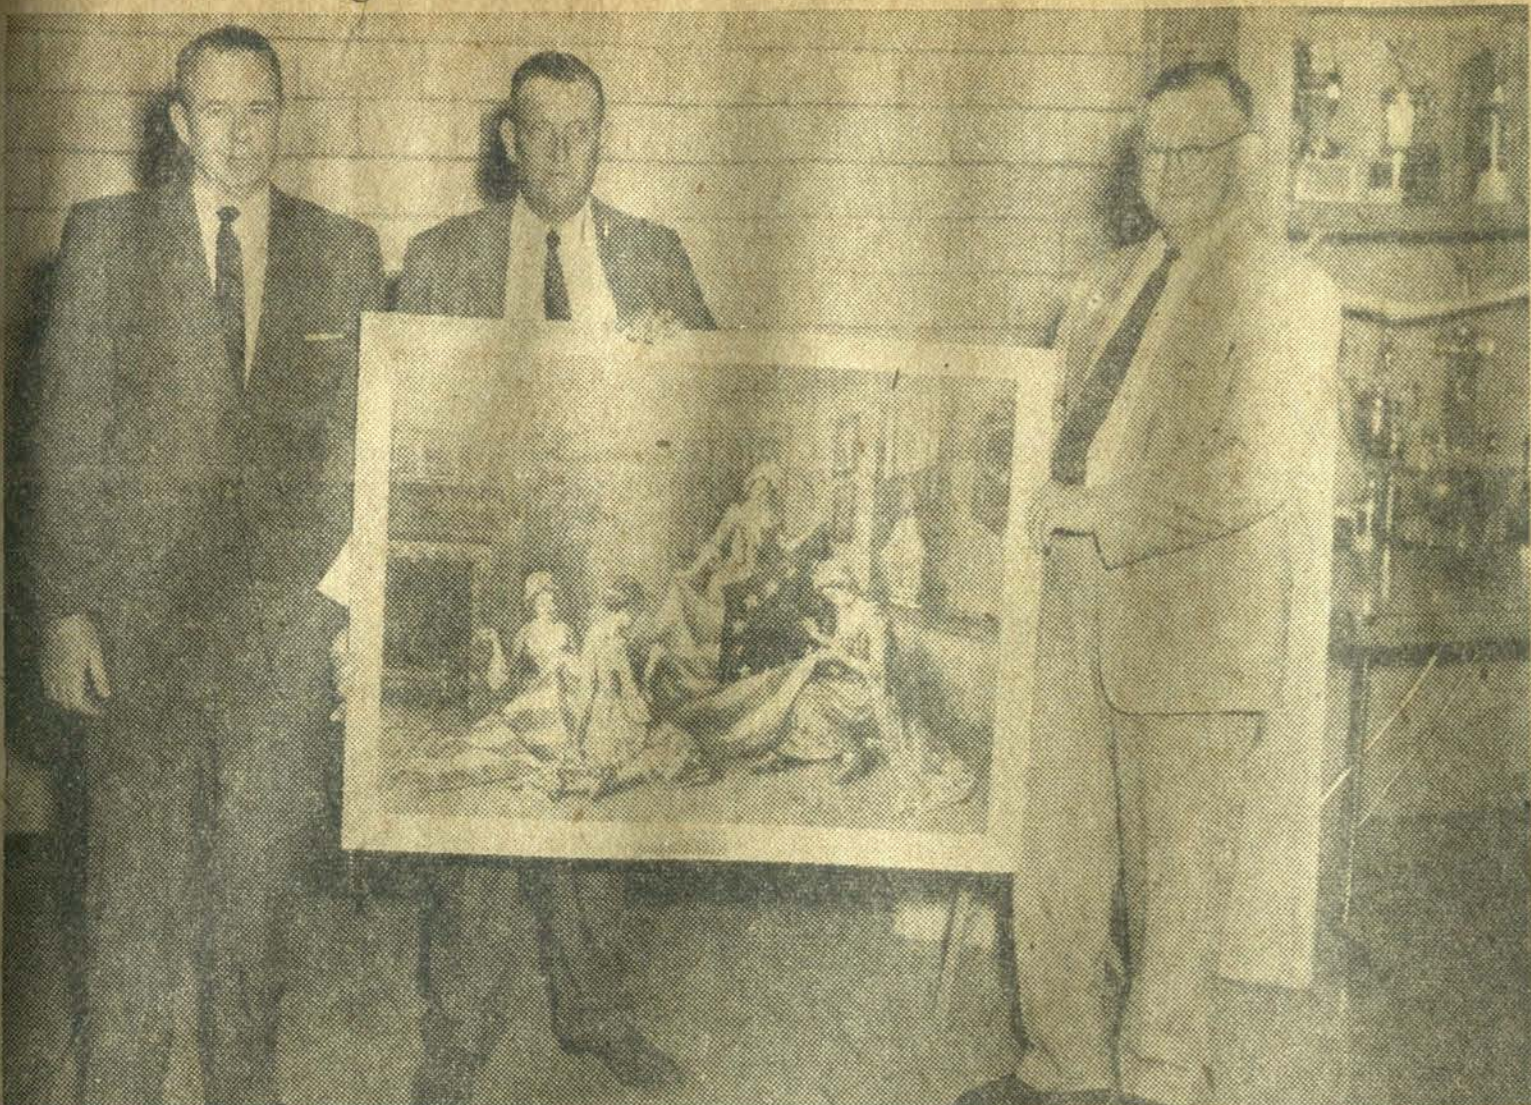

Johnny Shepherd, 18, Of Water Gap, Claimed; Burial, Hale Cemetery

Johnny Shepherd, 18, of Water-gap, died Tuesday at 9 a.m. at the home of his parents, Andy and Susie Stephens Shepherd. He was a victim of a heart ailment from which he had suffered since birth. Surviving, besides the parents, are the following sisters: Mrs. Dania King, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Ellen Taylor, in Virginia, Mrs. Ida Justice, in Indiana, Nolene and Sara Shepherd, both at home.

Funeral rites will be conducted Friday at 1 p.m. at the graveside and burial will be made in the Sam Hale cemetery at Blue River under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

WRITER'S FACETIOUS COMMENT ON QUAKE SCARE IS RECALLED

Devoutness, it seems, was the spirit of the day at Louisville after the earthquake of 1811 had destroyed peace of mind and nearly caused a panic.

But residents declared that a facetious writer in the Bedford, Pa., Gazette displayed more wit than fact when he described the quake's effect upon the city. He wrote:

"At Louisville in the state of Kentucky, a town about four times as large as Bedford, they have no church. When the earthquake gave them the first shock, they grew very devout in one night; and on the next day with long faces they subscribed a thousand dollars to build a house of public worship.

"Thus the matter rested until the second quake came when another devout paroxysm produced another thousand dollars.

"It rested again until a third earthquake and devout fit produced another subscription to the same amount.

"There was no more of the matter. The earthquake did not return and the Louisvilleans concluded the devil would not send for them for a few years more and, in the meantime, determined to be merry. They immediately built a theater which cost them seven thousand dollars.

The earthquakes have lately begun to shake Louisville again, but whether they laugh or pray, I have not heard."

Miss Reynolds Receives Nurse's Cap, May 30th

Memphis, Tenn.—Miss Lucille F. Reynolds, daughter of Clifford Reynolds, of Allen, Ky., received her nurse's cap in an impressive ceremony May 30, in the chapel of the Baptist Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Drexel Toland, assistant administrator, addressed the class. Caps were awarded by Mrs. Nina M. Basham, director of nursing.

The traditional candlelight ceremony marks the end of the first nine months of study in the School of Nursing and signifies entrance into the clinical phase of their training.

Foam Rubber Is Expensive

Foam rubber, often used for cushions, is more expensive than down-and-Marshall-springs construction, but foam rubber's superior qualities outweigh the extra expense. Foam rubber is good for curved sections and for lightweight furniture. Plastic polyether foams are less expensive than foam rubber. Plastic foam often is used in the sides and backs for more economical construction, with foam being used in the cushions. Since the plastic foams are not damaged by most dry cleaning chemicals, they are easy to clean.

BOAT LAW QUESTIONED

Very few boat owners are fully aware of the new, complicated boating law that complies with the federal boater act effective July 1. The biggest discrepancy in the new law is that a fellow who owns a 10' or maybe a 12-foot fishing boat powered by a 2, 3, or 5-horse power motor. He plies the waters at a slow rate of speed, yet his craft is taxed the same as the fellow who rides or skis for pleasure in a boat pushed by a 35, 50 or even 80-horse power motor plies the waters at swamps his small fishing craft. This is ridiculous, but all must pay.

In complying with the Coast Guard regulations under the new law, if your boat is cast upon the waters after darkness falls there must be a light both fore and aft—the former red, the latter white. There must be a life preserver of Coast Guard approval for each person aboard. After securing the costly license it must be placed on the bow of your boat before July 1. It is a good idea to familiarize yourself with all the lengthy regulations. Failure to comply with these regulations may result in arrest, impoundment of your boat and a stiff fine.

The regulations are new and complicated, so get prepared.

Licenses may be secured from the Floyd Circuit Court Clerk's office.

There is now little doubt that the 1961 Kentucky high school state basketball tournament will be held in Lexington, so now is the time to make your hotel reservations.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

The beginner at bass fishing sometimes thinks that all he needs to be successful is to discover some great secret which some veteran could impart to him in half a minute, if he would.

The truth is that it doesn't take very long to become a successful bass fisherman, if one goes about it right, using his head. If one doesn't, it would take a shade longer than forever, says Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

The first and most important thing you must learn if you're to be a consistently successful bass fisherman is to change lures frequently. With almost all other species, one lure and one method is all you need; if they're feeding you catch some; if they're not, you don't—add that's that. But the man who sticks to one lure and method for bass will catch them only on occasions, sometimes rare, when that method happens to suit their finicky fancy.

So keep changing types of lures (not merely changing one for another of similar type) and methods. Unless the place is about completely fished out (which a larger lake practically never is), you can always make at least a fair catch of bass if you strike on the right method for the time.

Just throwing out and reeling in is about invariably the worst possible way to try to catch bass. A slow, varied retrieve will nearly always catch a lot more.

A surface lure affords the most sport. Occasionally bass will suck such lures down quietly; more often, they'll hit with a good splash; and frequently they hit with an unbelievably tremendous splash for their size—its' those dynamite strikes that really send a quick tingle down the angler's spine.

The best way, as a rule, is to cast the surface lure out and not reel in—that is, not until the ripples sent out by the dropping lure have completely disappeared; and some foxy anglers often wait several times this long before beginning to retrieve. Then, you can be scarcely said to retrieve, for all you do is twitch the lure very gently, with long pauses between most twitches (a mechanical monotony should be strictly avoided here as in all other retrieves for bass). You're trying to make the lure resemble some half-drowned or injured creature that is putting up a rather feeble struggle, often having to rest. A bass, of course, will almost never bite any object unless he thinks it's alive—but, smart as he is in ways, he thinks that anything moving even a little, apparently of its own volition, must be alive.

Surface lures are likely to do best just after daylight in the morning and again close to dusk—when bass fishing is at its best anyhow in a great majority of places and times.

Idaho School Pupils Hail Combs As Best

Fifth graders at an Idaho school have selected Kentucky as their favorite state and Gov. Bert Combs as the best governor in the United States.

This occurred after Stephanie Wolfe at Heyburn school in St. Maries, Idaho, had received some requested information on Kentucky from Combs. With the material, she made such a compelling speech that her class of 27 students voted for the Commonwealth and its chief executive.

To express Kentucky's gratitude, Combs appointed the class' teacher, Mrs. Ida Wanamaker, a Kentucky Colonel, and sent to each pupil a miniature flag and a dinner plate bearing Kentucky scenes.

EAST-WEST ALL-STARS AT W'WRIGHT TONIGHT

By GORDON MOORE

The opening game of the 11th annual Pikeville East-West high school basketball series will be played in Jackson Tuesday night.

The second game will be staged in Wheelwright, Thursday night, and the finale in Pikeville, Saturday night.

Twenty of Kentucky's outstanding cage stars of this past season will perform for the two teams that are divided into an East and a West unit.

Five all-state players will be in the events. Tom Finnegan and Ted Doeken, who paced Louisville Flaget to the state championship, are the all-staters on the West team.

On the East team are: Don Frye and Gene Pendleton, Monticello, and Tommy Harper, of Clark County. Monticello high was runner-up to Flaget in the state tournament.

The line-up for the West team: Ted Deeken and Tom Finnegan, Flaget; Bill Akridge, Louisville Butler; Jan Alderman, Owensboro; Charles Marshall, Henderson Douglas; Larry Stewart, Hickman County; Doug Walsh, Madisonville; Walter Gee, Hopkinsville Attucks; Jim Ricketts, Manual, and Billy Briscoe, Anderson.

For the East team: Don Frye and Gene Pendleton, Monticello; Roy Ware, Camargo; Charles Ishmael, Mt. Sterling; Tom Harper, Clark County; Richard Weems, Pikeville; Cecil Tuttle, Hazel Green; Don Ratliff, Pikeville; Bobby Vicars, Wheelwright; Paul Setser, Meade Memorial.

White Bass Fishing Good In Kentucky

Frankfort, June 3 (Spl.)—Many white bass are caught during the summer in Kentucky by fishing the deeper confines of lakes and streams, advises the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The department's biologists point out that these fish make their trip back down the lakes and streams after spawning. They travel deep and are hungry.

Many fishermen descend on the lakes at night with gas lanterns, rods and reels and minnows. On Herrington Lake, one of the first producers of the white bass, many fishermen seek a dead snag and tie up to it for a night of fishing. At most other lakes, these snags are not present, and so a deep rocky bank usually serves.

The gas lantern not only furnishes light for the fisherman but also serves as an attraction to the fish. Most fishing is done from 15 to 40 feet.

Later in the summer, after the shad have grown to one to two inches, the angler will meet with much success by using a different method.

Since white bass prefer small food, anglers have devised small dummy casting plugs onto which is attached about three feet of leader material. At the end of this a small feathered hook is attached and used to cast into the jumps when the bass congregate to feed near the surface of small minnows and shad.

In Western Kentucky, below Kentucky dam on the Tennessee River, another method is used. Here the fishermen stand on the bank and cast a small jig into the fast waters. While fishing this way many jigs are lost on the rocky bottom of the river but in the process many strings of white bass are caught.

A Times Want Ad will serve many of your advertising needs.

JUNE, DAIRY MONTH

June is Dairy Month, so use plenty of dairy products this month—and every month, recommends University of Kentucky Extension food specialists. Considering its cost per pound, you can buy more food for the money when you buy milk than any other food material available.

The recommended daily quota of milk is 3 to 4 glasses for children, 4 or more glasses for teenagers, and 2 or more glasses for adults. Milks used in cooking and other dairy products can supply part of this quota.

The kind of padding and filling used in a piece of upholstered furniture affects its comfort, durability and shape-holding power. Down still is used but other fillers are preferred for resiliency and lower costs. Other paddings used are curled hair, rubberized hair, cellulose pads and fillers, and vegetable fiber. Vegetable fibers might be spanish moss or blends. Palm fiber and excelsior, used in low-priced furniture, should be avoided.

The type of construction you buy in upholstered furniture should depend on your budget, what kind of wear the furniture will get and how long you expect to use it.

Ernest (Yankee) Wells, Age 54, of Auxier, Dies At Huntington, Friday

Ernest E. (Yankee) Wells, 54, of Auxier, died Friday at St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, after a hospitalization of ten days. He was a victim of heart disease.

Mr. Wells, formerly well-known as an amateur baseball pitcher, was a son of the late Willie S. Wells and Mrs. Rosa Collins Wells. Surviving is his wife, Zella Webb Wells, and a son and two daughters: Paul Wells, and Mrs. Chester Wells, both of Auxier; and Mrs. Robert Walters, Erlanger, Ky.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 10 a.m., from the Auxier Methodist church, the Rev. S. C. Honeycutt officiating. Burial was made in the Wells cemetery at Auxier under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

FURNITURE SPRINGS

Horizontal link-type springs often are used on slimmer, lighter-weight furniture; being self-supporting, these are sometimes used as webbing. Casual furniture often uses zig-zag wire, rubber webbing or fabric suspended in various ways from an exposed wood or metal frame.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT CR2742

First Federal Savings & Loan Association — Plaintiffs,
Vs.: NOTICE OF SALE
Clifford Brown, Shirley Brown, Howard Osborne and Harweda Osborne, Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the May term, 1960, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 27th day of June, 1960, at 10:00 a.m., the same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land lying in Floyd county, Kentucky, on Left Beaver Creek, containing 1/4 acre, more or less, and more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a culvert and corner to L. G. Frazier's; thence an east course and with Ky. State Highway 75 feet to a locust post; thence across the bottom to center of Left Beaver Creek; thence with creek down to the line of Malcolm Little; thence across the bottom with said line to the line of L. G. Frazier and up the creek with L. G. Frazier's line to near culvert and place of beginning so as to include all inside this boundary.

This being the same property conveyed to the defendants by Rex Gearheart and his wife, Alice Gearheart, by deed dated December 28, 1953, and recorded in Deed Book No. 155, Page 372, records of the Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

This sale is pursuant to the said order in order to make the sum of $1,553.27, with interest thereon from October 31, 1959, until paid, together with its costs herein expended.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Teaching About Alcohol Is Big School Problem

By Louis M. Foltz, M.D., Chairman
Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

Not every Kentuckian knows that for more than two generations schools of the state have been required by law to teach boys and girls about alcoholic beverages. But there is evidence in later years that a steadily increasing number of our younger citizens has better realization of the dangers inherent in ignorance of this subject than ever before.

"The whole problem of what to teach about alcohol has perplexed school administrators and teachers for some time. Ever since 1945, there has been a strong, new interest in preventing alcoholism, spurred by establishment of treatment programs for alcoholics in most states," says Raymond G. McCarthy, in a publication of the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies.

A major stumbling block in teaching about alcoholism in schools and elsewhere is in gaining general acceptance of the now established fact that alcoholism is a disease and that victims deserve to be treated as such, rather than as criminals.

"Try as we will in our teaching to alleviate or to prevent the problems of alcohol, our attempts will have little effect until society itself looks into community attitudes and practices toward the use of alcohol," says Mr. McCarthy, who recommends:

"This much we can do in our public schools: We can provide a channel for communicating present knowledge of alcoholic problems, that is, what scientists know and what all sorts of people believe and do. We can tell then that the school does not offer judgments or define rules of behavior in respect to alcohol but that every student derives these from his or her home, church and associates.

"And we can express the hope that as the facts become better known, they will gradually moderate attitudes and influence behavior for the best interests of society, as well as of the individual," this authority concludes.

Liberty Hall Historic Spot

Some of Kentucky's proud heritage is preserved in Liberty Hall, an historic Georgian house at Frankfort.

Built in the 1790's by Kentucky's first U. S. Senator, John Brown, the house has the finest Palladian window in the Commonwealth. Tradition has it that some architectural plans suggested by Thomas Jefferson, under whom Brown read law, were incorporated into the house.

The bricks for the structure were burnt on the estate. The timber, including walnut trim and blue ash flooring, was cut from a nearby forest. The window glass was brought by pack mule over the mountains from Virginia.

The interior woodwork and architectural detail show Federal influence, but the exterior of the house is definitely Georgian, with a well-proportioned frontal motif crowned by a pediment, a graceful portal and the Palladian window.

To Liberty Hall Senator Brown welcomed such notables as President Monroe, Lafayette, Aaron Burr, Andrew Jackson and Zachary Taylor. The walls hold portraits by famous artists such as Gilbert Stuart, James Sharpless, Matthew H. Jouett and John Trumbull and show the interesting personalities of stately Kentuckians, whose descendants continued to occupy the house for four generations.

Today the National Society of the Colonial Dames in Kentucky is preserving the home and keeping it open for the public to see.

CORVAIR GIVES YOU BOTH!

The same Corvair that rolled up a whopping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run turned around to scale snow-glazed Pikes Peak earlier in the season than any other car has ever dared to try. What better proof could you ask (official United States Automobile Club observers were aboard every mile of the way) of Corvair's rare combination of light-fingered steering, sure-footed traction and tight-fisted economy? Drop down to your dealer's and see for yourself what it took to make a gallon of gas look so big and 14,110 feet of mountain look so small!
