This Town-- That World

Don't boys play marbles, any more? Or have they taken all the marbles and put them in pinball machines?

Or is the whole passel of us losing our marbles?

The weather has been so hot that anybody wearing a coat around here was accused of packin' a gun. Preachers excepted.

NOW FOR RESULTS

Now that the sales tax is here, there will be a certain amount of griping. We do not promise that we will not do some of same, ourselves, but we do say we will patiently await the results before venturing our spleen or crying out in travail of soul and pocket-book.

JAIL HUBBARD FOR FORGERY

Indiana Authorities Want On Two Counts; Hamilton Is Arrested

Albert Hubbard, Jr., was jailed here this week by Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Herald on two counts of forgery and also is marked at the jail to be held for Indiana authorities.

Tavis Hamilton was jailed last Friday on a charge of robbing partially paralyzed Ed Wright, who claimed Hamilton took approximately $800 from his billfold.

Richie T. Ambury was booked the same day by State Trooper Williamson on a charge of breaking and entering the Jim Hall Service Station in the Maytown vicinity.

Black Widow Spider Bites Woman At Auxier Road Home; Immediate First Aid May Have Saved Life

Mrs. Maude Clark, 69, of the Auxier road, sat at home Wednesday of last week, unaware that death lurked under her chair.

Suddenly she felt a sting on the leg, like the bite of a wasp or bee. Retreating unseen to its hiding place in the recesses of the chair bottom was a black widow spider.

Mrs. Clark, not knowing what had bitten or stung her, went to a medicine chest and massaged the injured leg with alcohol.

When the pain increased it became necessary to take her to a doctor at 6 p.m. The victim was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, at 11 p.m.

MACHINERY PACT MADE AS ROAD PLAN VIEWED

STATE HELP WITH ROADS CONSIDERED

Rental To Help County Pay for New Machinery If Plan Given Approval

The Floyd fiscal court met today (Thursday) to approve a contract with the state and its Division of Rural Highways which envisions wide-scale rural road-building in this county.

The plan involves a dual arrangement:

1. The county leases new road-building machinery, with an option to buy, and all lease-payments made prior to purchase to apply against the total purchase price.

2. A contract with the state under Kentucky Revised Statute 177.330 whereby the county rents the services of the machinery to the state, thus cutting to a minimum the cash outlay by the county.

The fiscal court at last Friday's meeting leased, with option to buy, $73,601.40 worth of new machinery from the Wayne Supply Company, and assigned to Whyne as advance rental payment $7,360.14 out of the license distribution from the state.

New machinery thus made available for rural road work in the county includes the following:

One Caterpillar Model 12 motor grader with tandem drive and 12-foot blade; two Caterpillar Model D6 tractors, 74-inch gauge, 18-inch grouser tracks, hydraulic track adjusters, etc.; two Caterpillar Model 6A hydraulic angledozers, 24-inch each with hydraulic control unit; two Caterpillar Model D6C towing winches; one Jaeger 125-foot rotary compressor; two Gardner-Denver 558 drills; 26 ft. drill steel and 160 rock bits of varying sizes, plus air hose and fittings.

If the rental agreement is approved today as expected, Floyd county will employ operators of the machinery, pay all fuel and maintenance costs and indemnify the state against damages arising from operation of the machinery.

On Model 83 motor graders (equipment already owned by the county), $2.50 an hour and $2.50 an hour for the operator; $3 an hour for the driver.

Leslie Is Employed As Night Watchman By Merchants Here

A group of Prestonsburg merchants this week announced they have employed a night watchman to guard their places of business against late-night looting.

David B. Leslie has been employed by the business men, and he will work from 10 p.m. till daybreak, watching only those businesses contributing to his $150-a-month salary. He also will take note of late stragglers, particularly the license plates of prowling cars late at night.

WARRIX GIVES $15,000 BOND

In Roe Layne Death; Evidence of Mrs. Layne Given At Hearing Here

Zean Warrix, of Water Gap, was held under $15,000 bond Wednesday at the conclusion of an examining trial held before County Judge Henry Stumbo in the pistol-slaying of Roe Layne, 64, former Prestonsburg city official.

Layne was shot June 17 at the home on Abbott Creek of his wife, Mrs. Virgie Layne, who is the ex-wife of Warrix. He died Monday morning at the Paintsville hospital after apparently winning his fight for recovery. He had shaken off the effects of a pneumonia attack and at the time of his death was sitting up in bed, it was said.

A blood clot was blamed for Layne's sudden and unexpected passing. One bullet from a .25-caliber pistol struck Layne, a former Prestonsburg City Councilman and policeman, in the chest, barely missing the heart and passing through his body.

Principal witness at the hearing Wednesday afternoon was Mrs. Layne, who under cross-examination admitted she and Mr. Layne "in a way" had separated. She said she had moved from her husband's home at Lancer to her own home on Abbott Creek but that her husband had visited her several times and that their relationship was amicable.

On the day of the shooting, she testified, Warrix came to her home and she and her young daughter hid in a clothes closet when they saw him alight from a taxicab. They emerged, however, when Warrix was heard to remark that he had come to see his child.

They were sitting on the porch, she said, when Layne arrived. He took from his truck a stick which appeared to be a shovel handle, she added, and approached them, chiding her for wearing shorts, then engaging in a heated verbal exchange with Warrix who left the porch to go inside a bedroom.

In this bedroom, she said, was her .25-caliber automatic on a table beside her bed, where she usually left it. After a lull in the argument, the two men began arguing again, Layne picking up a weed-cutter and laying aside the shovel-handle as he moved toward the bedroom door, the woman said. She said she pleaded against trouble and that Warrix begged Layne not to enter the room, warning him that if he did he would shoot him.

"I begged them both. Roe said, 'Mamma, he's got your gun.' I heard a shot fired. I looked at Roe but saw no blood." She added that Layne cursed Warrix and said, "You've shot me—I'm going to kill you." Two more shots were fired and Layne fell, the weed-cutter in his hand, according to this testimony. Mrs. Layne said she kicked Warrix.

In the meantime Thurman Clark returned to the Auxier road home (See Story No. 6, Page 5)

TWO KILLED IN BEDROOM

Coroner Rules Murder, Suicide In Dual Deaths Of Right Beaver Couple

Bodies of a former Wayland woman and her husband, a native of the upper Right Beaver section of Knott county, were found in the locked bedroom of an apartment in Strongsville, a Cleveland, Ohio, suburb, Monday afternoon, and the two were later ruled by a coroner's jury to have been murder and suicide victims.

The dead are Marcus Stone, 35, and his 25-year-old wife, Shelby Jean Lykins Stone, parents of four young children. Circumstances leading up to the double tragedy are not known here.

Officers said the children, aged 1 to 6, were in the home when the two shots from a .38-caliber revolver were fired, some time after Monday midnight.

The family had resided in the Cleveland area since the end of the Korean War in which Stone served with U. S. forces. He was a plant employee there. The husband was a son of the late Kit Stone and Lydia Belle Blankenship, of the Caney Creek section of Right Beaver. Mrs. Stone was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lykins, formerly of Wayland, now residents of the Cleveland area.

COAL FACILITY AUTHORIZED

Research Is Planned On Coal Uses; House Concurrence Needed

Kentucky and other coal-producing states won a two-year battle Monday as the Senate passed a bill setting up a coal research facility. The measure, passed by a voice vote, goes back to the House of Representatives for action on Senate changes.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins, of Hindman, in writing The Times of the Senate action, said that the bill was passed "without limitation as to funds or time. For all intents and purposes it is the same bill the House has passed."

The research facility office will be operated by the Interior Department. The Senate authorized up to $2,000,000 to operate it during the fiscal year starting July 1.

President Eisenhower vetoed last year's coal-research bill because it would have set up the office outside Interior Department. The new measure eliminated this objection.

Senator John Sherman Cooper, of Kentucky, one of the bill's lead (See Story No. 9, Page 5)

Subscription Rate In State To Remain At $3 Till August 1

The Kentucky sales tax goes into effect tomorrow (Friday), and the tax will apply to subscriptions and job printing. Advertising is exempt from the tax.

Because The Times failed to notify subscribers of the tax on subscriptions, we will continue the subscription rate in Kentucky at $3 a year until August 1, absorbing the cost of the tax ourselves. After August 2, however, the tax will be charged.

There is no sales tax on subscriptions mailed outside Kentucky. The rate per year for out-of-state subscribers is $4.

AMVETS PICK STATE HEADS

At Louisville Meet; Patrick and Branham Elected From Floyd

Two Floyd county veterans were named to state positions in the Kentucky Department of AMVETS at Middlesboro last week. The 15th annual convention of the veterans held at the Cumberland Hotel, June 24 to June 26, elected Glenn C. Patrick junior vice-commander and picked Earl Branham as assistant legislative officer. Both are residents of Martin.

Thirty-five delegates were present to elect the entire slate of officers for the Kentucky Department. The Martin AMVET post No. 27 sent a delegation of five members composed of Patrick, Branham, Hubert Frye, of Martin, Ashland P. Compton, of Price, and Roger Turner, Pikeville. Members of the AMVET Auxiliary attending were Mrs. Elliott B. Skeans, of Martin, and Mrs. Ashland P. Compton, A (See Story No. 8, Page 6)

TRANSMISSION LINE SLATED

Expenditure of $597,000 Will Effect Replacement Of Bull Creek Gas Line

A 6 1/2-mile section of large gas transmission line located along Bull Creek will be replaced this summer at a cost of $597,000, J. R. Hussey, Charleston, W. Va., superintendent of transmission lines for United Fuel Gas Company, said this week.

Mr. Hussey said a contract for the project has been awarded to Pipeline Maintenance and Construction Co., of Charleston, and work got under way this week.

He said the 20-inch pipeline section is located in an area in which quicksand, high water and landslides cause maintenance costs to be above average. Another problem experienced with the present line, he said, is corrosion, which is accelerated by water from abandoned coal mines and sulphur water springs.

The new line will be installed in locations free from landslides and congested areas, Mr. Hussey said. It will be welded and coated to minimize deterioration.

Constructed in 1927, the section is a part of United Fuel's Line P which extends from Beaver Creek compressor station, near Langley, to the Kenova compressor in Wayne county, W. Va.

Work is expected to be completed in September. The project will be under the supervision of Camden Garrett, Huntington, superintendent of United Fuel's central transmission division. Max Breedlove will be the chief inspector in charge of construction.

VISITS HERE

S. W. Allen, of Covington, spent a few days with relatives here this week. Mr. Allen is employed by the Cincinnati Enquirer.

CHARLES CLARK TO BEGIN TERM FRIDAY AS SCHOOL SYSTEM HEAD

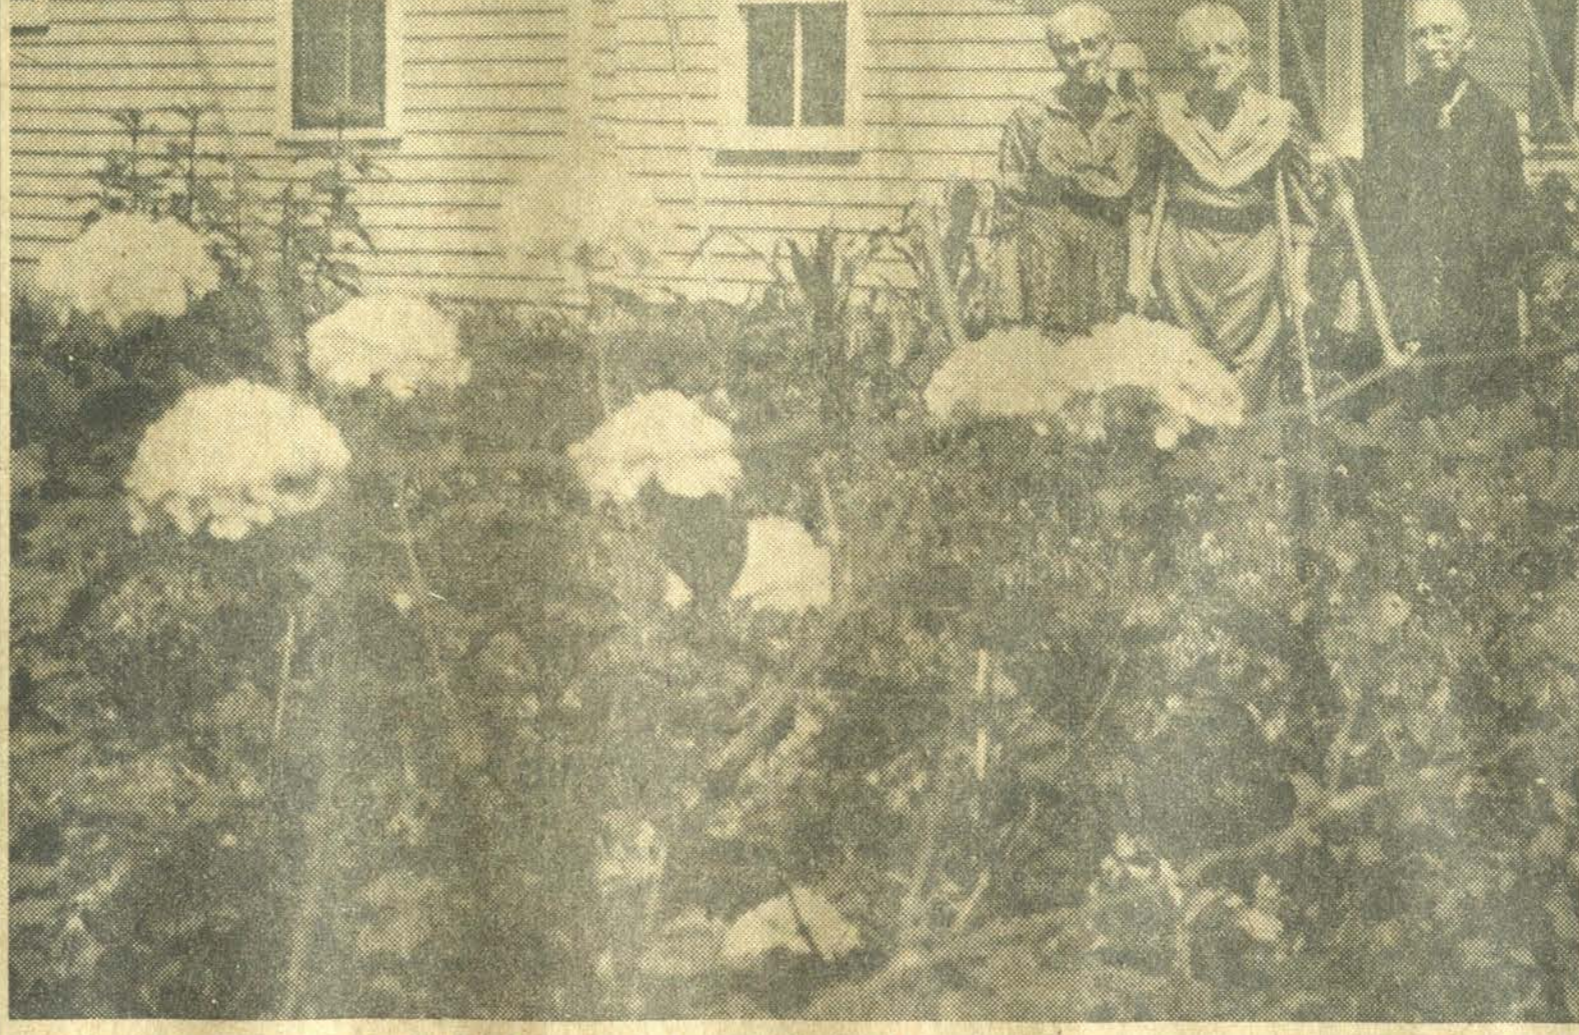

Charles Clark, Garrett high school principal, will be inducted as Floyd county superintendent of schools tomorrow (Friday). Mr. Clark will take the oath of office in an informal ceremony at the courthouse.

The Garrett high school principal was elected superintendent at a meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education several months ago. He succeeds Virgil O. Turner for a four-year term. "My sincere wish is that we can all work together for the Floyd county school system with the children uppermost in our minds," Clark told The Times this week. "There is no reason that our school system cannot be one of the best, if not the best, in Eastern Kentucky."

The board of education will hold a special meeting this evening (Thursday) when additional teachers will be employed to fill vacant positions. It will be the last meeting presided over by the outgoing superintendent.

The next regular meeting of the board is scheduled July 5. Clark said he will have a statement on his projected school program ready for release soon.

MRS. MAYO GROWS GARDEN AT 87

THREE SISTERS AND A GARDEN. Mrs. Malcolm James, of Gulnare, and Mrs. Ruth O'Neil, Ashland, inspect the garden of their sister, Mrs. Addie Mayo, 87, during a reunion here this week.

The seemingly never-ending work that a garden requires doesn't faze one Prestonsburg citizen, a woman well on the way to 90.

Mrs. Addie Mayo, 87, is keeping a large garden behind her Third street home. Her neighbors are thankful that Mrs. Mayo is inclined to such labor, since she gives away a large quantity of garden-stuff each year.

One neighbor said of her garden, "You can't find a weed in it." Mrs. Mayo's garden has beans, tomatoes, Irish potatoes, lettuce, beets, cabbage, onions, cucumbers and mustard. The garden is decorated by bright, blooming flowers.

"I've kept a garden when I could," the sprightly looking Mrs. Mayo said. "I've had a garden for the last eight years."

Mrs. Mayo, widow of G. W. Mayo, moved to Prestonsburg in 1952 from Brandy Keg. Two of her sisters, Mrs. Ruth "Granny" O'Neil, of Ashland, and Mrs. Malcolm James, of Gulnare, were visiting Mrs. Mayo this week. It was the first reunion in several years for the sisters.

Mrs. James, after walking about the garden, commented with a smile that she hasn't gardened in a long while. Mrs. O'Neil replied that she has quit gardening, but spends her time quilting. So far this year, she said, she had picked 12 quilts for her grandchildren.

Although her garden is a model of perfection, Mrs. Mayo takes care not to overwork.

"The doctor has said that it is all right for me to work as long as I don't get too hot. I work in the early morning and the late evening."

Mrs. Mullins Appointed Parole Office Secretary

Mrs. Oak Mullins, of David, has been appointed secretary to the probation and parole office in this county, it was announced this week by James A. Duff, parole officer. Mrs. Mullins succeeds Mrs. Lucy Stephens.

DEMO GROUP UNINSTRUCTED

Sen. Johnson, Favorite Of Kentucky Delegation; Unit Rule Is Abolished

A Democratic convention at Louisville named 60 uninstructed district delegates to the national party convention to be held at Los Angeles July 10. Although the delegates were not instructed it was conceded that all with possibly a few exceptions would support Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas for the presidency.

Selected as delegates from the Seventh Congressional district R. V. May, Prestonsburg, Russell Reynolds, of Jackson, Wallace Williamson, III, Ashland, F. M. Burke, Pikeville, J. L. O'Brien, Greenup, and Woodrow Stamper, West Liberty. Paul Combs, of Prestonsburg, was named one of the six state-at-large alternates.

The 60 delegates will cast 30 or one-half vote each of the state's 31 votes at the Los Angeles convention. The remaining vote will be split by Gov. A. B. Chandler and Mr. William B. Arbery, of Paris. They are national committeemen and committeewoman whose terms do not expire until after the conclave ends, making them eligible as delegates.

Saturday's Louisville meet was one week following the county conventions held at the 120 county seats of the state. The Combs administration had demonstrated (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

CONSTRUCTION FUNDS VOTED

For Fishtrap Reservoir; Conference Disagreement Or Veto Possible Hazards

Hope for early construction on the Fishtrap dam, one of the Big Sandy River headwaters impoundments proposed for flood control and water conservation, rose this week as the Senate sub-committee on appropriations added $300,000 for that purpose to the appropriations bill.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins said, in a telephone conversation with The Times, that the appropriation will be in the bill when it leaves the Senate but that trouble may be encountered in the House-Senate conference. The $300,000 Fishtrap appropriation is an item not included in the President's budget, and opposition among House conferees is a possibility.

Perkins said, however, he is hopeful that the conferees will leave the item in the bill and that it will win final passage. "We lost in the House committee," he said, "because we didn't get a Republican vote."

Congressman Perkins later said Senator Robertson (D-Va.) added $25,000 for the beginning of planning of the North Fork of Pound River reservoir. "We also expect to hold this sum in the bill in conference," Perkins added.

The Library Services Extension Act, which is now bottled up in a House committee by two Democrats and five Republicans, will finally emerge the winner, Perkins predicted. He said House Speaker Rayburn will suspend the rules in closing days of the session and also predicted that the bill will receive the required two-thirds vote for passage. Failure to enact the legislation would result, it was said here, in collapse of the regional library work that has been developed in Kentucky.

The library act has already passed the Senate. House Speaker Rayburn wrote those who wired him from this county, asking his help: "I am very conscious of the worthiness of this bill, and I am hopeful that we may be able to work it out before the end of this session."

FRANCIS SHOT OUTSIDE HOME OF WIFE'S KIN

Warrix Jailed in Death Of Roe Layne; Woman's Bond Is Set at $10,000

Three men have died since last Friday night of gunshot wounds suffered in this county, and their deaths bring to four the number of Floyd bullet victims in a period of less than five weeks.

The first to die was Allen Stone, 56, of Sugar Loaf, near here. While his body lay at the home of his son, James Stone, Angelo B. Francis, 67, of Cromona, Letcher county, was fatally shot during an altercation with his wife who at the time was attending the wake of Stone, who was her uncle.

The third victim was Roe Layne, 64, of Lancer, who died at the Paintsville hospital Monday morning, victim of a bullet fired by Zean Warrix, of the Bull Creek section, June 17.

Murder warrants were issued Monday morning for Mrs. Crosby Hughes Francis, 39, wife of Angelo Francis, and for Warrix. The latter, who was at the courthouse here at the time, was jailed by Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Herald and he was held in jail till Wednesday afternoon after the funeral of Layne, when examining trial was scheduled to be held by County Judge Henry Stumbo.

Mrs. Francis was arrested in Letcher county Tuesday, and brought to jail here by State Trooper Don Goble. By agreement with Floyd relatives of the victim her bond was set at $10,000 for her grand jury appearance.

Allen Stone was shot at his home during an altercation with his wife, Cora Ratliff Stone, and died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, at 8:35 p.m., Friday. Mrs. Stone has not been charged with the shooting. She herself was a hospital patient here, having been hit on the mouth by a small hatchet said to have been hurled by her husband. Stone died without making a statement as to the altercation, although Mrs. Stone had insisted his version of the trouble should be taken by authorities.

It was while relatives, neighbors and friends were at the home of James E. Stone where Stone's body lay awaiting burial that the shooting of Francis, Cromona (Letcher county) furniture dealer, took place. The shooting took place around 11 p.m., Saturday, and Francis died soon after his arrival after midnight at a Pikeville hospital. One bullet from a .22-caliber revolver entered the left side of his chest.

Methodist Conference Slated At Lexington; Bishop Harmon Heads

The Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Church opened its 140th annual meeting in Lexington Wednesday at First Methodist Church.

Some 500 delegates from churches in 60 Eastern Kentucky counties are meeting through Sunday to conduct conference business and hear reports by boards, commissions and committees.

Presiding over the sessions is Bishop Nolan B. Harmon, Charlotte, N. C., who has headed the conference since last October when Bishop William T. Watkins, of Louisville, retired.

One highlight of the conference will be a description of action taken by the church's highest legislative body which met in May, at Denver.

In addition to mapping major goals for 1960-64 the General Conference increased the Kentucky Conference's share in the denomination's new $15 million budget by 35 per cent, $108,375 annually as compared with $80,225 last year.

The meeting is scheduled to close about noon Sunday following the reading of ministerial appointments for the 1960-61 church year. The final session will be held at the University of Kentucky's Memorial Hall.

The conference includes 470 churches with a membership of 75,921.

NAVAL ENGAGEMENT

The greatest naval battle fought since the Bon Homme Richard and the Serapis fought it out was waged on Dewey Lake, Wednesday afternoon. John Warrix tossed out a doll-fly with a pork rind as its caudal appendage, a monster grabbed it, and the fight was on. We have his word for it that this went on for 25 to 30 minutes before the doughty Warrix brought the enemy aboard and did him in.

The "enemy" was a yellow cat which measured 44 inches and weighed 41 pounds.

This guy Warrix is just plain lucky. Here I go around, all year long, just spilling for such an encounter, and not once does a fish of that calibre have the nerve to accept the challenge.

IN THE MAIL

Donald Music writes me from Plymouth, Mass.:

"Saw this card and thought of you."

Hm-m. On the reverse side was what caused Don to think 'way back to Prestonsburg, Ky.:

"WARNING—Fishing Pox. Very contagious to adult males. SYMPTOMS—Continual complaint as to need for fresh air, sunshine and relaxation. Patient has blank expression, sometimes deaf to wife and kids. Has no taste for work of any kind. Frequent checking of tackle catalogues. Hangs out in sporting goods stores longer than usual. Secret night phone calls to fishing pals. Mumbles to self. Lies to everyone. NO KNOWN CURE. TREATMENT—Medication is useless. Disease is not fatal. Victim should go fishing as often as possible."

So hubby has the fishing pox. Wife says, "A pox on fishing!"

Hall Endorses Program To Eliminate Garbage Alongside Highways

The move initiated by the Drift Woman's Club to rid Floyd road-sides of garbage dumps received enthusiastic approval from Dr. Russell L. Hall, of the Floyd County Health Department, and others at the June 20 meeting of the club.

Representatives from three other Woman's Clubs—Allen-Martin, Maytown and Wheelwright—attended the meeting. The Drift club expressed the belief that if a satisfactory garbage disposal method can be established in a central location citizens will use it instead of cluttering the roadsides.

Discussed was a trench-type dump at or near Drift, this site to serve communities along Left Beaver Creek. It was explained that low-lying land can be improved by the dumping of the refuse with the garbage covered over periodically.

Speakers at the meeting included Dr. Hall, Clarence H. Sites, sanitary engineer, State Department of Health, John Milton Stumbo, sanitary inspector, Floyd County Health Department, Magistrate Johnnie Caudill and B. F. Reed, Drift coal operator. The club was promised all possible help on the project.

Dr. Hall said at least one such dump for each magisterial district in the county would go far toward solving a troublesome problem. Several sites are under consideration in the Drift area.

A committee composed of Mrs. Ben Martin, chairman, Mrs. Glenn Ward, B. F. Reed, Magistrate Caudill and John M. Stumbo was named to meet and get the sanitation project under way immediately.

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, under the act of March 3, 1879.

No Juvenile Crime Wave

If juveniles had taken the four lives that have been claimed by gunfire within less than five weeks and in a radius of five miles of Prestonsburg, adults would have gone about screaming for something to be done. They would have been horrified, no less.

But it was not juveniles, it was adults, who pulled the triggers.

We cannot inveigh against "juvenile delinquency" in this matter. Then what shall we inveigh against?

It wasn't juveniles who sold the whiskey that figured in these tragedies. Nor were they involved in any domestic wrangles that resulted in the taking of human lives.

Nor can we blame the pitiful laxity of law-enforcement upon teen-agers. That has been entrusted to us adults. And it is we adults who have viewed with sanctimonious horror the carryings-on of youth, meanwhile keeping our eyes carefully turned away from those basic conditions which create both juvenile and adult delinquency.

Almost any normal twelve-year-old of this younger generation of ours knows the sordid story. Most of them know where whiskey is being sold, and most of them wonder why officers of the law do not know as much—and, if they know, why nothing can be done about it. These who yet are "at mother's knee" have heard of "respect for the law," but they have been taught little by precept and example.

Most of them have thought of Floyd county as a peaceful land where murder is the exception, not the rule, but they have in their short years seen a law which curtailed the carrying of concealed deadly weapons gradually sink into disuse. Now they see the weapons in use. And they wonder why this law which cut deeply and quickly into the death-rate by violence came to be ignored.

They wonder why the "good" citizens do not become as alarmed at conditions in general as they do about a few young delinquents whose folly tarnish the reputation of an entire generation.

And we wonder, also. It's "their" job to enforce the law, we say, but we pay the bill—and do we pay workers on our farms or in our places of business without demanding that they work? "Their job?" Whose is the job of rendering jury service—real jury service, to the end that law and order may prevail, and not merely to draw a daily stipend? And how many of us dodge such service? The duty-dodgers are not juveniles; the weaklings who pity the criminal and have not a tear for his victims are not adolescents, they're adults—or at least are old enough to be.

The only blame we adults can conceivably attach to the youngsters for this tragic situation may be found in the adage, "The boy is the father of the man." Otherwise, we—all of us—must accept our full share of responsibility because we have fallen so far short of facing up to a situation that we have long known has all the components of rottenness, death, even murder.

home reached him about 11 p.m., while he was in the vicinity of the Prestonsburg police station, was the first officer to reach the scene of the second shooting. He said he later was joined by State Troopers Goble and Allen.

Although Mrs. Francis did not admit firing the shot which hit her husband, according to the officer, she did say he was shot during a tussle over the revolver. Her hand was powder-burned and was slightly cut, between the thumb and forefinger, the deputy sheriff said.

Deputy Sheriff Herald said the first report received here from a woman informed him a man was trying to kill his wife and that an officer was needed at the Slone home at once. Herald said that on his arrival there Mr. and Mrs. James Slone told him they thought a man had been shot and that he had been taken away in a Chrysler. Francis was first taken to the Beaver Valley hospital at Martin, then to Pikeville.

The victim was well-known in Eastern Kentucky as a successful business man. He was a son of the late Dominic and Phileman Francis and was a native of Uniontown, Pa. He was a member of the Whitesburg Presbyterian Church and of the Masonic order. He had no children. One of his two brothers, Bill Francis, is a Garrett merchant. He also leaves one sister.

The body was taken Wednesday to the Garrett home of the victim's brother, and funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) from the Garrett Methodist Church, the Rev. C. L. Montgomery officiating. Burial was made in Davidson Memorial Gardens, Ivel, under direction of the Craft Funeral Home.

Allen Slone was a son of the late John D. and Anna Hall Slone and was a native of Hollybush, Knott county. He had resided at Lackey before moving to the vicinity of the old Winchester coal mining camp, five miles south of here. He was first married to Lizzie Hall, who preceded him in death. Besides his widow, he leaves two sons and seven daughters: James E. and Foster Slone, both of the Lancer community; Miss Joy Lee Slone, of Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. Verlie George and Mrs. Veeda Ford, both of Forest, Ohio; Mrs. Jolene Bingham, Anna Rose, Gertrude and Billie Jo, all of Lancer. One brother and two sisters also survive: Harmon Slone and Mrs. Nancy Sexton, both of Whitesburg, and Mrs. Martha Hughes, of Cronoma.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Old Drift Regular Baptist Church by the Revs. M. C. Wright and Kendall Moore, and burial was made in the Lucy Hall cemetery at McDowell, the Turner-Ryan Funeral Home directing.

the weed-cutter from the porch into the yard.

Mrs. Layne said Warrix had been at her home on two previous occasions and that she had told him not to come often, that his presence there would cause talk. She said neither man was drinking but that after the shooting Warrix drank some whiskey that was in the house.

Three deputy sheriffs, Harold Lewis, Paul Lucas and Wesley Pan-nin, testified Warrix was drinking when they arrived. They told of finding the stick referred to as a shovel handle under a chest inside the bedroom. Lewis quoted Warrix as saying Layne came in, armed with a stick, Lucas said he "believed it was the woman" who mentioned the grass-cutter to him.

The defendant did not testify. Mr. Layne was a son of the late James S. and Jenny Dillon Layne and had been a lifelong resident of Prestonsburg. He had been for years an employe of the Pure Oil Company, and was widely known. Surviving are two foster-daughters, Mrs. Doris Lyday, Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Ruth Ann Gibson, Matewan, W. Va.; one brother, George Layne, of Prestonsburg, and two sisters, Mrs. Cynthia Crabtree, of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Doll Calhoun, of Ashland.

His funeral was conducted at 2 p.m., Wednesday, from Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, the Revs. M. Robert Regan and Ira McMillen officiating. Burial was made in the Mayo cemetery under the direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

After a few moments devoted to maneuvering the insect, he captured it by capping a mason jar over it. Taken to Huntington, it was identified as a black widow, or, as it is sometimes called, an hour-glass spider.

Mrs. Clark was sufficiently recovered to be returned home Sunday and she is convalescing nicely.

The delegates will not vote as a unit at Los Angeles as one of the platform commitments of Gov. Bert Combs was that the group should be free to vote as it wished.

Speakers at the convention were Gov. Combs, Lieut.-Gov. Wilson Wyatt, former Governor Lawrence Weatherby, Highway Commissioner Earle Clements and others.

Lieutenant Governor Wilson Wyatt was chosen to succeed Chandler as national committee man, and Mrs. J. Murray Blue, Providence, was selected to replace Mrs. Ardery as national committee woman.

Leadership of the Democratic State Central Executive Committee will be taken over November 2 by Clarence Moloney, Madisonville, chairman; Mrs. Maurice Kaufman, Lexington, vice-chairman, and Wetherby, secretary.

Robert Humphreys, Frankfort, longtime committee chairman, joined forces with Chandler and served in his Administration after the 1955 election. Former Lieutenant-Governor Harry Lee Waterfield is the outgoing secretary.

Our Historic Heritage

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 97 in a Series)

GRAVE OF WILLIAM ROBERT LESLIE, PIONEER

William Robert Leslie, founder of the Leslie Settlement on Johns Creek in 1790, was probably the first permanent settler in Eastern Kentucky. Coming to America from Scotland in 1755, he was wounded in the throat by a barber in New York City.

He built a cabin on Johns Creek, at the present Gulnare, and resided in it until his son, Robert, and his family arrived to aid in the settlement in 1802.

The pioneer Leslie was never able to eat solid food after his throat injury in New York and one evening in 1802, while his wife was out of the house, he attempted to eat vension. He choked to death.

There was no lumber in the valley when Leslie died and the family improvised a coffin from a huge, hollow poplar tree. He lies buried beside an old pioneer road on the Garland Hurt farm at Gulnare, overlooking the land he pre-empted two years before Kentucky was a state.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our region as a bit of its friendly service with the hope they will contribute to your understanding of our historic heritage.

Bookmobile Driver Job Available At Library

Because of uncertainty as to the fate of the Library Service Extension Act, which has been bottled up in a House committee, the Floyd County Library Board did not employ a Bookmobile driver-librarian at its meeting last Friday evening. The Board decided, instead, to continue to receive applications for the post till 6 p.m., July 5, when it will again meet. The need for driver-librarian was created by the recent resignation of Paris Conley. The Board accepted Mr. Conley's resignation with regret, and commended him for the splendid work he has done in promoting the mobile library work in the county. Three points to consider when buying a child's first shoes are safety, balance and support.

Florida Educator Says Kentucky Progressing In Educational Matters

"I know of no other state in the nation which has made greater educational progress in the year 1960 than the state of Kentucky," a nationally known authority on school legislation said this week.

Dr. R. L. Johns, head of the Department of Education Administration at the University of Florida, told members of the Southern States Work Conference at Daytona Beach, "Kentucky should be congratulated for the excellent Foundation Program of education which it has established."

Johns' remarks followed a report from the Kentucky delegation on the state's new revenue program and its effect on the Foundation Program.

"Kentucky has one of the best foundation programs of any of the Southern states," he added.

Dr. Johns, who has written foundation program laws for many states, continued, "It is interesting to note that the Kentucky program has evolved through the process of making many studies over a period of years. Thousands of lay people as well as professional educators have been involved in these studies."

He added, "The example of Kentucky could well be followed by many other states throughout the nation."

Wendell P. Butler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who attended the conference, commented, "It is certainly gratifying to those of us in education to hear such glowing remarks made about the progress of education in Kentucky."

"The state's new revenue program, derived in part from the sales tax," Butler said, "is making it possible to fully finance the Foundation Program which was started in 1952."

Butler added that the next step in the further improvement of education in Kentucky is to improve instruction in the classroom and to eliminate any waste and inefficiency in administration.

Notice

On 10th day, June, 1960, Kentucky Power Company filed with the Public Service Commission of Kentucky, an Application (1) for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity authorizing it to construct a 265,000 KW Generating Plant on the Big Sandy River in Lawrence County and to construct transmission and substation facilities to connect said Generating Plant to the present transmission system of the Company and of Appalachian Power Company, (2) for authorization for the issue of notes and (3) for authorization to modify the forms of fuel clauses.

The Application, which is available for inspection at the office of The Public Service Commission of Kentucky, at Frankfort, Kentucky, contains a description of the Plant and other facilities for which a certificate is desired as set forth in (1) above, together with approximate cost and other appurtenant data.

In connection with (2) above, the Application requests authorization to issue notes to, and borrow up to $40,000,000 from, four banks, the proceeds of which borrowing would be used to cover part of the cost of the construction hereinbefore referred to and partly to repay presently outstanding notes. A copy of the agreement with the banks has been attached as an exhibit to the Application.

In connection with (3) above, the Application contains the proposed revisions in the fuel clauses of the Company, which revisions are requested because of the change in the Company's source of power which will result from the construction of the aforementioned plant. The revised fuel clauses are in two forms, one for Tariffs DS, GS, MW, CL, SP-17 and SP-18, and one for Tariffs LP, CPO, LCP, IP, PSH, CP and GSO. Under the proposed revisions, beginning with the sixth month after the aforementioned plant goes into service, the fuel cost in effect during the fourth month of said plant's full scale operation will be treated as the base for fuel costs and, therefore, any variations in rates will be based on the cost of fuel at said plant instead of on the weighted average cost of fuel of the Company's present supplier of power.

The revisions of the fuel clauses will not of themselves result in a change in any rate. Changes in rates will occur only if the cost of fuel is greater or less by specified amounts than the specified base fuel costs. The precise text of the proposed revisions in addition to being incorporated in Exhibits to the Application is also on file at each of the offices of the Company.

The Public Service Commission of Kentucky has set this matter for public hearing on 7th day, July, 1960, at 9:00 a.m., EST, at the Commission's offices in Frankfort, Kentucky.

Med Care Offered To Aid Recipients Under New Enactment

Among the 20 bills relating to public health adopted by the 1960 Legislature, the most far-reaching measure was the one providing medical care to persons on public assistance rolls, observes the Kentucky Department of Health.

The legislation creates a Division of Medical Care within the health agency and assigns the Department of Economic Security general and fiscal administration, including certification of eligibility. From the state's budget will come $100,000 and $135,000 in the next two fiscal years for administration of the program. For financing the program, the Legislature appropriated $1,402,000, to be matched with $2,500,000 of federal funds.

For operation of the health department the Legislature increased appropriations for the biennium over the previous two years by $1,465,450 for county health work and by $1,215,750 for general operations. This will enable the agency to expand the public health foundation program, increase environmental health services, establish divisions of radiological health and research and behavioral sciences, and a new air pollution section.

Other appropriations include: $25,000 for preparing a five-year index of all births and deaths for statewide distribution; $223,115 for water pollution control; $50,000 for the rural medical scholarship fund and $30,000 for the rural dental scholarship fund.

Two measures altered the state and local boards of health to include dentists. Three laws give added protection to consumers of drugs, food, cosmetics, health devices and hazardous substances, bringing Kentucky laws into compliance with federal acts.

Other new laws modernize the plumbing act, raise the status of sanitarians, give the governor powers in regard to nuclear energy, create a Commission for Handicapped Children, and supplement and replace old laws, bringing better health to Kentuckians.

Dixon, seat of Webster county, was named for Archibald Dixon, lieutenant governor of Kentucky and member of the U.S. Senate, who filled the unexpired term of Henry Clay after Clay's death.

FRALEY WINS WHEELWRIGHT TOURNAMENT

The champion and runner-up in the eighth annual Wheelwright invitational golf tournament last week was strictly a family affair, as Carl Ray Fraley edged his father, Ray, by two strokes to cop the championship.

The younger Wayland automobile dealer fired a 54-hole total of 192 in nipping his dad, who posted a respectable 194. Carl Ray also was the tournament's medalist with a 2-under par 60, a new tournament record.

Third place went to Harold Vanhoose, Paintsville, who is a sophomore on the University of Kentucky golf team. Richard Carleton, Georgetown College student, finished fourth, and David Butler, Paintsville, and U. of K's No. 1 golfer, grabbed fifth place. Bill Fraley, Paintsville, was sixth.

Despite a heavy downpour Friday, the tournament had 72 entries in the three-day event.

One of the requirements of the new boat law, which is about as complicated as one can get, is that the person applying for the license must produce a certificate of title or some proof of ownership. Virtually no boat owner has this and it is highly doubtful if one can be secured. The Floyd Circuit Clerk's office has yet to receive any information on the subject, nor has it received the licenses.

TVA Assures Sen. Morton Area Coal Acquisitions For Private Development

The Tennessee Valley Authority has assured U. S. Senator Thruston B. Morton that any coal properties it might acquire in five Southeastern Kentucky counties will be developed by private mining companies.

Senator Morton said TVA Chairman Herbert D. Vogel has informed him that the public power agency "is definitely not getting into the coal mining business" in one of Kentucky's major coal-producing areas.

TVA announced recently that it had taken options on the coal minerals and mining rights in two ownerships totaling approximately 70,000 acres in Bell, Clay, Harlan, Knox and Leslie counties. Inquiries criticizing TVA's action as indicating the agency would mine its own coal prompted a clarification from General Vogel.

The TVA chairman wrote that "if acquired, the coal lands will be made available, on a competitive basis, for development by private mining companies." He further explained, "This will be consistent with the policies we follow regularly. TVA's local requirements are purchased from private industry through competitive bidding procedures."

"First it should be pointed out that TVA is the nation's largest user of coal for production of electric power. Our coal consumption this year will be very near 20 million tons. We expect in the next ten years it will be something like 300 million tons. This large and growing need for coal has prompted TVA to examine the possibilities for assuring the future availability for some of the coal reserves it expects to call upon."

He said TVA hoped current explorations will disclose "substantial economical coal reserves" on the 70,000 acres and on other properties in the vicinity. "If so, we plan to acquire them and to use them as may be necessary to meet TVA's long-term needs for coal from this general area," he said.

Additional Compensation Available To Veterans With High Disabilities

Veterans with severe service-connected disabilities who have more than three children will be entitled to additional compensation payments under a new law signed by President Eisenhower, Olney B. Owen, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional office, Louisville, said.

The prior law did not authorize payment for more than three children.

Owen said he additional amount will range from $12 monthly for each child after the first three in cases where the veteran's service-connected disability is rated at 100 per cent — down to $6 monthly where his disability is rated at 50 per cent.

Between the two extremes, proportionate amounts will be payable according to percentages of disability.

In cases where the veteran's disability was due to peacetime service, the payment rates would be 80 per cent of the amounts payable for wartime disability.

Until now, a veteran with a service-connected disability of 50 per cent or greater could get additional compensation for a wife, dependent parents and a child, up to a total of three children. The new law, P. L. 86-499, adds the above payments for additional children.

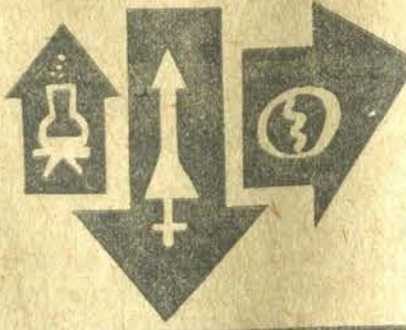

Veterans with less than 50 per cent of rated disability receive no additional compensation for a wife, parents or children.

Bluegills Scrapy Catch On Fryrod, Popping Bug, And Most Delectable Dish

During hot weather when most fish are lazy, the bluegill is active and gets the attention of many mid-summer fishermen in Kentucky, reports the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The bluegill, or bream, is caught from all types of water and in all sections of the state—rivers and creeks, farm ponds, major lakes.

As he spawns throughout the summer, the bluegill is a battler. When he is on the spawning bed, he is a voracious fellow and will hit hard and often. When the angler locates a bed, he may pull a sackful of bluegill from this one spot.

Several methods of fishing hook the bluegill. The flyrodder can find no better sport than casting flies, just after sunrise or at sunset, for this fish. He strikes with vengeance, but his fight is brief, after which he may be glided safely in.

The cane pole fisherman uses a long pole and a very light line attached to the very tip. The smaller the hook the better and the best bait is the red worm, but crawfish tails and peeled shrimp are palatable to the bluegill. A small cork is used and the very smallest sinker. A couple of hooks may be used.

Also rods and reels and spinning outfits obtain big catches of this fish. The lighter the tackle, the more fight the bluegill will offer. Avoid splashing the water too much to prevent scaring the bluegill away; move lures slowly.

The bluegill is lots of fun and is good to eat, say the Kentucky fishing experts.

NOTICE

The Floyd County Board of Education will accept sealed bids on paper, fluid, master copies, and other materials, until 1:00 p.m. July 5, 1960, to be supplied to Floyd County Board of Education and various schools—delivered to each and billed to each.

Detailed lists of information may be secured at the Superintendent's office.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

TAX ACCOUNTING METHOD TO ASSIST RETAILERS

The Revenue Department gave relief this week to retailers who have elected to report their sales tax collections by the "cash collection method" and who have a large amount of "exempt sales on account" when the sales tax goes into effect July 1.

Revenue Commissioner William E. Scent said his department has worked out an accounting aid for those merchants who make credit sales on a crop to crop basis, such as sales to tobacco farmers of exempt items of feed, seed and fertilizer on which payment is made once a year, upon sale of the crop. Scent said the merchant would receive a credit on his pre-July accounts when he files his report in either December or January—the month he makes the adjustment depending on the month he makes the largest number of collections.

Scent said the merchant can do this only in the following manner: "Total your accounts receivable as of the close of business on June 30, 1960. From this figure, subtract your accounts receivable as of the close of business on December 31, 1960, or January 31, 1961. Take the resulting figure as a deduction in computing taxable receipts on either your December, 1960, or your January, 1961, return."

Scent gave the following example: A grocer sells mostly on credit, (including feed, seed and fertilizer), and collects from customers when they sell their tobacco crops. The amount owed to the grocer is greater on June 30, 1960, than on December 31, 1960, because customers settle up in November and December.

On June 30, 1960, the total amount (accounts receivable) owed to the grocer was $6,000. On December 31, 1960, the total amount owed (accounts receivable) to the grocer was $2,000.

On his December return, which he would file by January 20, 1961, the grocer would claim $6,000 less $2,000 or $4,000 as a deduction.

He said it is necessary for the taxpayer who desires to make this adjustment to get the total of all accounts receivable outstanding on June 30, 1960, and again on either December 30, 1960, or January 31, 1961, depending on which month's return he is to make the adjustment.

This adjustment can be made only one time—on either the December, 1960, return or the January, 1961, return.

Vast Mountain Estate Disappears After Taxes Paid In Year 1890; Coburn Family Information Asked

Seventy years ago John Coburn paid taxes on 21,475 acres of land in Floyd county, according to microfilm records in the University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Not only did he pay taxes on this huge barony of land but he paid on 5,790 bushels of corn, 280 bushels of oats, 211 pounds of tobacco, 150 bulls and steers, 21 horses, 53 sheep and 93 hogs. His tax bill specified he had 102 acres planted in corn.

The years before 1890 Coburn paid taxes on very little real estate and no personal property of any consequence. His tax bill in 1890 was on an assessment of only 300 acres of land. After 1890 there are no listings.

John Coburn disappears to history after 1890 and with him that vast mountain estate of land and plantation property. His descendants do not know whether he sold the land or not. In fact, they believe he didn't, for no Floyd or Knott county deed to it is on record.

There is a little biographical information extant on Coburn. It is thought that he lived in the section around Salt Lick Creek, near the present Hueysville, or perhaps on Ball Fork of Troublesome, Knott county. He married twice, his first wife being Mary Emmaline Morris, daughter of William Morris. They separated and his wife died in 1883, at Coalton, Boyd county. Coburn's second wife was named Synthia, maiden name not available.

Children of Coburn were Polina, Jack, Rebecca, James, Harvey and David. A great-grandson, George A. Moore, of Lexington, found the names in an old family Bible.

According to Moore, a tradition has always existed in the family that Coburn never alienated his estate and that it was lying there, awaiting only legal action to recover it. In the interest of his fabulous estate he came to Prestonsburg last week and initiated an investigation. A Knott county investigation has been under way for some time under the direction of Attorney Cordell Martin, of Hindman.

"I heard the tradition that we owned this land all my life," Moore said here. "If it exists I intend to find it. If it doesn't, well then the traditional story will be killed."

The microfilm record of the 1890 tax bill notes that the land lay in three precincts on Beaver Creek, and another peculiarity of the assessment would seem that a greater area than this must have been forested.

Moore would like to know where his ancestor lived, where he is buried. More than anything else he wants to know what became of that vast estate of land Coburn paid taxes on in 1890.

It is vaguely recalled that the Morris family and others engaged in litigation over a large landed estate decades ago but no Floyd county record shows any lawsuit of importance. Members of the Morris family, traditionally linked to Gouyernor Morris who financed Washington in the Revolution, were early settlers in the Right Beaver Creek area and assisted in founding the Stonecreek Regular Baptist church in 1808.

The land upon which Coburn paid taxes in 1890 may have been an old Morris land grant that he considered the property of his wife, Emmaline. Maybe, like castles in Spain, this will-o'-the-wisp estate is nothing more than an entry on a 70-year-old tax record.

POINTS ON KEEPING BUTTER

Butter that is allowed to become soft before returning to the butter-keeper in your refrigerator becomes grainy in texture and stale in flavor. If you use unsalted, sweet cream butter, freeze all except the amount that can be used in a day or two; otherwise it may mold and develop off-flavors.

One extra frying chicken for each member of your family—that's the amount of chicken that will be on the market during July. Farmers are raising about 13 per cent more frying chickens to go to market in July than were marketed last July.

To Whom It May Concern

I am writing to ask for a favor concerning my Kentucky State Bonus. As you know last November 3, 1959, the people of Kentucky were asked to vote on paying all war veterans a State Bonus, this Bonus to be financed from a 3% sales tax which you will be paying July 1, 1960.

Now my problem is this, the present administration using this bonus bill as an aid to secure office, has decided there will not be enough money for all of their pet projects if they pay Kentucky Veterans living out of the state. To make everything nice and neat they passed House Bill No. 85 which excludes Kentucky Veterans who were not a resident of Kentucky on last November 3, 1959, from the bonus.

However, the present administration will be using less than 1% of this tax for the entire bonus. Why then do they need to tax the people 2 1/2% more than the required amount to pay for the bonus.

I urge you to give great thought to this miscarriage of justice when you go to the polls in the general election in November this fall.

Ask yourself this question, can your future be secure in the hands of an administration and their supporters who will use such methods to secure office?

We are now fighting the legality of this bill in the state courts of Frankfort, Kentucky, to have the resident clause declared unconstitutional and ask that it be removed to make all veterans of Kentucky eligible to receive the bonus regardless of where they now live.

We believe the people of Kentucky intended for all veterans to be treated equally when they voted for the bonus last November 3, 1959.

Please help us to gain our rights as Kentucky veterans and write to your representatives giving them your views.

Please pass this letter and information on to your friends.

CONTROL POISON IVY

Knock out poison ivy when the plants' leaves are well developed in early summer.

The plant pest can do damage almost any time of the year but is particularly bothersome in summer. Some materials and methods that can be used to kill poison ivy in residential areas and farm fields, as recommended by James Herron, University of Kentucky Experiment Station weed-control specialist.

For home lawns, use a material called Ammate as a spray. If spraying foliage, dissolve from 3/4 of a pound of the material in one gallon of water. Cover leaves and stems thoroughly with the spray. If spraying bark and stumps, use 4 pounds of Ammate in a gallon of water; spray or paint lower 15 inches of trunk or stem until the solution runs off. The material can be used safely near such crops as tobacco, tomatoes, grapes, cotton and ornamentals.

Another good material for residential areas is Amino triazole. It is applied as a spray to the vine or creeping forms of poison ivy at the rate of 1 pound of the 50 per cent wettable powder in 25 gallons of water, or for smaller areas, three tablespoonsful in one gallon of water. It is effective, however, only as a foliage treatment. Apply when plants are in full leaf. It also can be used safely near such crops as tobacco, tomatoes, etc., and ornamentals.

For fence rows and such areas in fields, 2, 4, 5-T or combination of 2, 4, 5-T and 2, 4-D can be used. These are volatile materials, however, and should be used carefully to avoid drift on tobacco and other crops.

Extension Leaflet 207, "Controlling Poison Ivy," gives full information on control of the poison oak and ivy pests. They are available at county agents' offices.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS WILL BE INCREASED IN JULY

Commissioner of Economic Security Jo M. Ferguson has announced an increase in Public Assistance payments in Kentucky, beginning July 1.

The higher benefits for public assistance recipients are another dividend from the state's new revenue program, which includes the sales tax. The legislature appropriated a record-breaking $15,806,490 for the public assistance program in the year beginning July 1. This amount will be matched by $47,843,755 in federal grants, providing a total of $63,650,245 for public assistance in the new fiscal year.

Approximate average monthly payments will be: Old-Age assistance, $50.41, an increase of $5.56; aid to dependent children, $86.28 per family, an increase of $13.79; aid to needy blind, $51.62, an increase of $8.16, and aid to permanently and totally disabled, $53.03, an increase of $8.78.

The individual maximum grants will be: Old-age assistance, $69; aid to dependent children, $36 for the first child, $36 for the specified relative, $27 for each additional child and a maximum of $160 per family; aid to needy blind, $69; aid to permanently and totally disabled, $69.

A total of 86,925 persons are receiving payments under the state's public assistance program.

State Estimates Total Of $4 Million Receipts From Out-of-Staters

Kentucky should receive $4,000,000 a year in sales tax revenue from out-of-state tourists, according to the Kentucky Research Foundation.

The estimate is based on preliminary figures prepared by Dr. Lewis Copeland, a tourism economist from the University of Tennessee, who was retained by the Foundation to conduct a survey of tourist expenditures in Kentucky.

Dr. Copeland estimated that out-of-state travelers spent $169 million in Kentucky in 1959. Of this amount, $32 million was for gasoline, leaving $137 million spent for other items.

If tourists spend $137 million a year for other items in Kentucky after July 1—and the state's tourist industry is expanding—the amount will be subject to the three per cent sales tax.

The main corridors at Mammoth Cave occur at five different levels, the lowest some 360 feet underground.

Knott Theft Report Incorrect, Says Combs

That portion of last week's Times story of new burglaries which referred to the theft of typewriters from the Knott County Board of Education was without foundation, according to Beckham Combs, superintendent of Knott county schools. No such event occurred, said Mr. Combs.

The report of the Knott county breaks was published on the basis of what was considered reliable information. The Times is glad to correct the error.

SPEAKS FAMILY

Several months ago this column excerpted from The Logan Ewell Stories, in the London (Ky.) Sentinel-Echo on a Jonathan Speaks who played Santa Claus to a snow-bound Swiss family in Laurel county. Since then a request or two has arrived asking about the Speaks family.

Ewell himself contributes more on the Speaks family. In The Sentinel-Echo, March 10, 1960, there is printed a letter from Charles A. Speaks, 8081 Woodbine Avenue, Cincinnati 16, Ohio. It was written to Mr. Ewell.

It speaks for itself on the Speaks family.

"The descendants of Jonathan Speaks are grateful to you for the heart-warming story of There is a Santa Claus. I had never heard the story before and I shall always be grateful to you for printing it as a Christmas story.

"Jonathan Speaks was born in Lee county, Virginia, on Oct. 8, 1844, and was married to Rachel Whitson in 1886 in Laurel county, Ky. Apparently he settled first on Powder Mill Creek and continued the operation of both corn mill and the lumber mill for some time. Later he moved to the Old Mize Place on Rockcastle River near what is now Highway 80. Here, too, he had a water mill and continued to grind corn.

"Born to Jonathan and Rachel were eight children. The eldest child was a girl and there were seven boys.

"In 1901 Jonathan with the entire Speaks clan—except my father, Jesse Speaks—moved to Montana. They settled at Livingston, Clyde Park and other places close by. At present our relatives are scattered all over the West.

"My father, Jesse E. Speaks, was born Feb. 4, 1872, in Laurel county, and was married to Carrie F. Jones, Dec. 26, 1895. For many years he was in the lumber and sawmill business. Later he worked for the L. & N. R. Co. at Corbin. He was known as "Laughing Jesse." He was widely known and loved by hundreds of people.

"T. Charles A. Speaks was born Jan. 31, 1898, only a few miles from the Swiss Colony. I was reared among and associated with the Swiss people for many years. Ott's Store brings back many fond memories. It was a big day in my life when my mother gave me a basket of eggs and sent me to the store to exchange them for a few groceries. And when I heard Mr. Ott addressing Mrs. Ott in German, I was astounded and felt sure that even Mrs. Ott could not understand a word he had said.

"Most of the original Swiss settlers in the Swiss Colony were still in the prime of life when I was a boy. I knew them all. Many of the Swiss people were and are sturdy, thrifty, hard working people who developed into good citizens. They have contributed much to our country.

"July 8, 1922, I was married to Sue Wilson. Finding the salary of a school teacher inadequate, we came to Cincinnati and eventually began to work in the postoffice. Now for 36 years I have been on the same job. At present I am working in the Inquiry-Dead Letter division but intend to retire soon.

"After the French Normans had conquered the British Isles under the leadership of William The Conqueror, the Normans intermarried the English women and eventually lost their identity. One of these Normans was a Richard Espec from whom we are descended. The name ESPEC was corrupted and evolved around to SPEKE. English history refers to "THE HONORABLE and ANCIENT HOUSE OF SPEKE." In 1639 Thomas Speke settled in Maryland, later moving to Virginia. It was 1660 when we find the first Thomas Speaks.

"Therefore, whether the name is SPEAK, SPEAKS, SPEAKE, or SPEKE it is all the same name."

CLAN MAP

Ever see a Clan Map? Homer Wright has one in his shop and it depicts in color on the map of Scotland the territory in which the clans resided.

The map, titled Johnston's "Clan Map of the Scottish Highlands," portrays in color the tartans, chiefs' arms and illustrations of highland dress, ancient and modern. It was printed in Scotland.

The names on the map read like a roll of the pioneers who settled in Eastern Kentucky.

Familiar names are Buchanan, Campbell, Davidson, Leslie, Ferguson, Hamilton, Fraser, Gordon, Graham, Maxwell, Grant, MacKenzie, Hays, MacDonald, MacIntosh, Murray, Sutherland, Robertson, Stewart, Rose, Ross, Morgan, Elliott, Scott, Kennedy, Montgomery, Cunningham, Morrison, Cameron, Keith, Burnett and many others.

MRS. PATTON WRITES

The nostalgia for Eastern Kentucky by the natives who left here for other parts is reflected in a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth H. Patton, 4719 North Kostner, Chicago 30, Ill.

"I am a native of Prestonsburg. My sister, Mrs. Jeff Vaughan, of Cliff, subscribes for The Times for me every Christmas. . . She has been doing this for the last ten years. I have lived in Chicago. That way I get all the news, except the personal family news she writes me. I love to get the paper and read your articles as well as all the other things, including the want-ads. The want-ads make me envious of their low rent rates and articles we pay high for here. Keep up the historical articles because they are of great interest to one who lived there for the first 25 years of life."

We say to Mrs. Patton, that wherever she may go, it is our wish that the love for the hills remain ever with her. It is a priceless heritage.

When you select head lettuce, choose one that is fresh-appearing and crisp. The outer leaves should be free from wet or translucent areas, and the core firm and light in color. Discolored leaves, leaves with brown edges, or russet spots indicate the head will not keep well.

conventional about Corvaire. Look at its practically flat floor, four-wheel independent suspension, fold-down rear seat.
