This Town-- That World

Floyd county will use voting machines this year. But machines do not vote; they are mere vote registers. It takes human beings to make a choice between issues and candidates. Interested human beings, we might add.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE PICTURE

Have you ever had a desire to leave these hills for other climes, and fallen under the spell of travel literature? Beautiful Hawaii, for instance?—the languorous, romantic life of the islands, palm trees waving as if in invitation, the waves lapping gently on inviting beaches...

Don't be a ninny, says Mrs. Jay Hicks Belcher, who is in this beautiful Hawaii with her husband, T/Sgt. Joe Belcher. This is what she writes (subscribing for The Floyd County Times): "We are on a three-year tour of duty in beautiful Hawaii, but still I like a little of Floyd county coming in each week. When I said, 'beautiful Hawaii,' I was kidding. There is far more beauty in Floyd county alone than there is on this island, and I'm not saying that because I am prejudiced."

"It's true they have pineapple fields but no corn or tobacco fields. They have a few banana trees but no paw-paws. They have coconuts but no walnuts, hickory nuts or 'haze'nuts' as mother called hazel nuts."

"Another thing: the beautiful Hawaiian girls. There aren't any. My husband walked for an hour on Waikiki Beach, trying to find one to make a movie of. No luck. You can see more beauty at the David pool than you will see on this island, unless it's a woman tourist from the States or a service man's wife."

"That does it! I'll never waste time again mooning over Waikiki Beach and soft breezes and—oh, what's the use!"

GOP MEETING HEARS COOPER

Legislative Record Reviewed By Senator; Travels By Charter Bus

Senator John Sherman Cooper reviewed the record of his legislative work in the national Congress at an informal reception here Wednesday and called attention to his support of flood control measures in the Big Sandy valley and his opposition to rigid federal requirements for operations of small truck mines.

Cooper, Republican nominee for the Senate opposing Keen Johnson, the Democratic nominee, spoke to a sizeable gathering at republican headquarters on Court Street at 10 a.m. The Cooper party, traveling by chartered bus, arrived from Paintsville and left at noon for Pikeville.

A recorded question-and-answer interview program was broadcast over Radio Station WDOG at noon, with Cooper assuring his listeners of his continued interest in Big Sandy flood control projects.

At the reception here were U. S. District Attorney Gene Auxier and Herbert Rowland, of Paintsville, Republican nominee for Congress. Following a speech and reception at Pikeville, Wednesday afternoon and in the evening, Cooper went to Belfry where he will meet Republican leaders of that section.

Cooper noted here that the United Mine Workers of America has endorsed his opponent and said: "I think you have a right to ask Keen Johnson if he has promised to support the bill that would, I think, destroy the small mining business in Eastern Kentucky." He said the U.M.W. and the big (See Story No. 4, Page 3)

ATHLETIC FIELD FUND DRIVE STARTS TODAY

P.-T.A. GROUP OFFERS BONDS ON PROJECT

Athletic Facility Here To Cost $40,000, Plan; Floyd Board Approves

"Operation Boot-Strap" will be kicked off here Monday to raise $30,500 to finance the athletic field project of the Prestonsburg high school Parent-Teacher Association. Sparked by a pre-drive sale of $8,500 worth of Youth Confidence bonds and certificates to 17 persons and four financial institutions, the Association will offer to the public repayable bonds or certificates of contribution. Princess Elkhorn Coal Company gave the drive powerful impetus with the purchase of a $2,500 bond before the sales campaign got under way.

The project, promoted for a year by the Building Improvement committee of the P.-T.A., envisions a modern and complete athletic field, consisting of a permanent stadium to seat 1,970, built of concrete blocks and pre-stressed concrete decking, grading, tiling and fencing of the required area, erection of power poles, scoreboard and other necessary installations.

The Floyd County Board of Education voted several weeks ago to appropriate $9,500 as its part on the total cost of $40,000. The board cannot legally build the facilities but can contribute to the project. The entire proposal has received the approval of the State Department of Education.

"This is a real opportunity to help the community and county in a great non-partisan and non-commercial effort to provide an athletic program and the necessary facilities second to none in the area," Byron Thompson, secretary of the Prestonsburg high school P.-T.A., said as sales kits for the drive were being given out to authorized salesmen of the bonds and certificates.

Thompson pointed out that the bonds, although repayable, bear no interest. The holders will receive, in lieu of interest, an investment in youth that will benefit the entire schools attendance area.

Liquidation of the bonds will be made through the concessions operated without cost by the P.-T.A., post-season football game receipts and the gate from two or more annual professional entertainment functions. The bonds will be repaid partially each year on a pro-rata basis. The bonds and certificates are to be in any amount requested by the investor.

Receipts from the promotion events will be deposited by the P.-T.A. in the three Floyd county banks and the Floyd Federal Savings & Loan Association. An annual audit and its publication is scheduled, Thompson said. No member of the P.-T.A. will receive any money for his or her services, he added.

Construction will begin "the first pretty day next spring," according to the group's secretary. Estimated time to complete is set at 45 days. (See Story No. 3, Page 3)

David Bookmobile Station Opens

In photo at right is shown Mrs. Thomas Cole eagerly examining the shelves of new books deposited under Mrs. Wills' supervision for adults and young people of the David Princess Elkhorn Coal Company area. Mr. Jones reports that some books were checked out even as he was setting up the station. Photos by Lon C. Hill, chairman of Floyd County Library Board.

FIVE MURDER CASES SLATED

For November Trial; Criminal Case Dates Released By Clerk

Five murder cases are slated for trial here during the November term of circuit court, a part of which will be devoted to the trial of civil cases.

In all, 47 criminal cases are set for trial, beginning with Nov. 14, when Mrs. Cora Stone is slated for trial on a charge of slaying her husband, Allen Stone, near here. The other murder defendants and dates set for their trials are:

Bennie Blackburn, slaying of Bill Buck Baker, Nov. 23; Ballard Fleming, fatal shooting here of Don Woods, Nov. 25; Zeon Warrick, slaying of Roe Layne on Abott Creek, Nov. 28; Corby Francis, slaying of her husband, A. B. Francis, near here, Nov. 29.

Other criminal case defendants and dates set for trial are: Nov. 14—Luther Keene, Ronnie Neeley, Nov. 15—Russell Jarrells, Brady Edwards and Jane Sexton Goble, Sadie Click, Sadie B. Click, M. V. Click; Nov. 16—Tommy Ratliff (two cases), Thomas H. Meadows, George Newsome, Banner Hall, Willie Baldrige, Burlie Yates; Nov. 18—Ronald Gene Stone (two cases), Jimmy Branham, Oris Hall and Ronald Stone (two cases), Jimmy Branham, Effert Reynolds; Nov. 21—James Stone, Eva Halbert, Earnest Reynolds, Earnest and John Reynolds, Estill Newsome, Grady Osborne, Jake Moore, Purvis Martin and Edsel Osborne.

Nov. 22—Russell Lee Hall, Glennford Higgins, Profit Moore, Curtiss Carroll, D. M. Parsons; Nov. 23—Bud Simpson; Nov. 25—John Ed Carroll and Jack Caldwell, Claude Johnson; Nov. 28—Hobart Howell, Halbert Howell, Bennie Blackburn; Nov. 29—Tivis Hamilton, William Lee Hamilton and Kendall Mitchell; Nov. 30—John Keens, Dora Keens and Earl Walters, Jake Moore, Purvis Martin, Grady Osborne and Edsel Osborne, Russell Branham, Jake Halbert.

The two new historical markers authorized for this county several months ago by the Kentucky Historical Markers committee will be erected Friday and dedicated Sunday afternoon, it was announced this week by a member of the markers committee.

The two markers will commemorate the Battle of Ivy Mountain and the James A. Garfield headquarters house here. Both markers will be erected on U. S. 23, the former at the mouth of Ivy Creek and the other marker here one block west of the Garfield Place now occupied by Mrs. C. P. Stephens on First Avenue. The Battle of Ivy Mountain was fought Nov. 8, 1861, with the Union troops commanded by General W. O. Nelson. The Confederates under Col. Andrew Jackson May were defeated. Garfield maintained his headquarters at the John M. Burns home in Prestonsburg following the Battle of Middle Creek when he defeated Confederate General Humphrey Marshall.

Taking part in the dedicatory ceremonies will be members and officers of the markers committee. (See Story No. 7, Page 3)

TWO MARKERS AUTHORIZED

Frankfort Historians To Attend Dedication; Commemorate Civil War

The couple, residents of Toledo, Ohio, for the last 17 years, were en route to Cincinnati to visit a daughter and planned to continue their trip later to this county. They formerly resided at Martin, in Toledo, Mr. Jones was a railway employee.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jones had been married previous to their union. She is survived by a son, C. W. Clark, Walbridge, Ohio, one daughter, Mrs. Clara Root, of Cincinnati; two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Mullins, of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Josie Goble, of Lancer, and three brothers, Everette, Garland and John Kendrick, all of Lancer. Mr. Jones leaves three sons and one daughter, Tivis Jones, Jr., Toledo, Ohio, Troy Lee Jones, Lima, Ohio, Mrs. Margaret Rosenstein, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Theodore Jones, Lima, Ohio. He also leaves two brothers and four sisters: T. N. Jones, Wheelwright, Tim Jones, of Drift, Mrs. Lizzie Meade, of Dema, Mrs. Martha Gearheart, Ft. Myers, Fla., and Mrs. Lona Dean, of Ashland.

Funeral rites for the victims were held Tuesday afternoon from the chapel of the Worth W. Craig Funeral Home in Toledo, and burial was made at Walbridge, Ohio.

Rights-of-Way Sought On Rerouted U. S. 23; Paintsville Work Set

Landowners on the proposed reroute right-of-way of U. S. 23 from Auxier to Van Lear have been contacted this week by the Highway Department relative to acquisition of properties to build the road, it was learned. Four Johnson county landowners have granted right-of-ways, it was said.

Work and proposals to rebuild sections of U. S. 23 through the Big Sandy valley were making progress this week. The Highway Department is calling for bids on surfacing of a 2.47 miles from the Tan Vat Branch to Hager Hill in Johnson county. In addition bids are asked on grading, draining and surfacing of a section through the Stafford Addition in Paintsville.

Rights-of-Way from Hager Hill to the proposed bridge across Big Sandy River have been acquired, it was also learned. One landowner on the east side of the river has granted a right-of-way. Contract on the new bridge will be let this year but two years will be required for completion.

VETERAN EMPLOYEES HONORED

Four eastern Kentucky gas workers were presented engraved gold watches and service emblems at a luncheon Tuesday evening at the Wise Restaurant here for completing 25 years' service with their companies.

The honorees were George W. Belcher, of Allen, and Jim Steele, of Mare Creek, both employed by United Fuel Gas Company, and Delmon G. Lowe, of Broad Bottom, and Ireland Blackburn, of Meta, both employed by Atlantic Seaboard Corporation.

Also honored were Willie Mellon, of Prestonsburg, who received a 30-year service emblem, and Wilson Stepp, of Prestonsburg, who received a 40-year service emblem. These two United Fuel veterans received gold watches at 25-year ceremonies in years past.

DEFENDANTS WIN SUITS

Hill Directs Verdict In Two Cases; Jurors Deny Damages To Spears

Three damage suits have resulted in verdicts for the defendants during the October civil term of the Floyd circuit court.

Two of the cases—Parsie Moore, suing Our Lady of the Way hospital for $10,000, and Ralph Hamilton, who sought to recover from State Trooper Elmo Allen $2,000—ended with Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill directing verdicts for the defendants. The other, in which Donald Spears sued State Police Detective Chester D. Potter for $10,000, ended with the jury deciding in Potter's favor.

The plaintiff in the hospital case claimed damages because she fell and broke her hip while a patient at the hospital in April, 1959. After the plaintiff's testimony had been heard Judge Hill directed the verdict, holding that there was no evidence of negligence on the part of the defendant and that a hospital is not an insurer.

Suits against the two state officers grew out of arrest and imprisonment of the plaintiffs, who contended the officers did not take them before a judge or magistrate so that they could execute bond. Judge Hill held in directing the verdict for Trooper Allen that the law does not require an officer to procure bond for a person under arrest. Several Pike county officials appeared as witnesses for Detective Potter.

Francis Is Appointed Constitution Revision Campaign Chairman Here

Fred G. Francis, Prestonsburg attorney, has been named Floyd county chairman of the Bipartisan Committee for Constitution Improvement.

He is one of the 120 county chairmen appointed from a list of outstanding Kentuckians by the state committee headquarters in Louisville.

The state organization is headed by Edward T. Breathitt, Jr., Hopkinsville Democrat, and Representative Marlow Cook, Louisville Republican, who are serving as co-chairmen.

"Our local organization will seek to inform every citizen of Floyd county and urge them to vote 'Yes' on the question of calling a limited constitutional convention on the November 8 ballot," Francis said. "Many people, we've found, think they will vote in November to actually change the Constitution. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The vote in November is only to approve calling a convention to study limited areas that are now restricting the development and progress of our state."

"The people will be called on twice after the November election to approve steps leading to any change. They must elect delegates at the 1962 general election, and they must (See Story No. 8, Page 2)

INADEQUATE SEWERAGE TERMED 'TIME BOMB'

Clinic For Handicapped Children Is Available At Prestonsburg, Oct. 25

The Commission for Handicapped Children will hold its annual clinics at the Health Department here, Oct. 21, it was announced this week. Dr. Roland, orthopedic specialist, and Dr. Cunningham, pediatrician, both of Ashland, will be in charge of the clinic.

Referral to the Commission may be by physician, health department, civic group or any interested individual. If the patient's family is indigent, there is no charge for treatment; if the family can pay a part, the parents are asked to do so. Children of Floyd and surrounding counties are eligible to examination or treatment.

The agency conducting the clinic was formerly known as the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission.

CLINICS HUNT TUBERCULOSIS

X-Ray Examinations To Intensify Search; Schedule Is Announced

The Floyd County Health Department this week announced a series of X-ray clinics under the new State Department of Health program intensifying its search for tuberculosis.

Floyd county is one of the Kentucky counties having a high incidence of the disease and is among the first to benefit from the new program.

The mobile unit which will begin work in this county is equipped to go, when necessary, into communities where electric power is not available, since the unit has its own generating equipment.

Two-hour stops are planned at most places to be visited. The first day of work will begin November 1 when Weeksbury, Melvin and Bevinville will be visited. Remainder of the clinic schedule follows:

- Nov. 2—Upper Jack's Creek school, Mouth of Clear Creek, Tackett Fork; Nov. 3—McDowell, Drift and Martin; Nov. 4—Mouth Branham's Creek, Toler Creek school, Little Mud (below Honaker school); Nov. 5—Prestonsburg (all day); Nov. 9—Dana school, Betsy Layne; Nov. 10—Wayland, Garrett and Maytown; Nov. 11—Allen.

Former Resident Here Dies in Portsmouth

Funeral services for Mrs. Sadye Levison, 70, of Portsmouth, O., who died last Thursday, were conducted Friday in Portsmouth and burial was in Ashland cemetery.

Mrs. Levison was born at Cincinnati, a daughter of the late Nathan and Anna Pressman Albert.

She was a member of Agudath Achim Jewish Temple, Ashland and the Agudath Achim Sisterhood. Survivors include four daughters, two sisters, two brothers, 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Levison was widely known here many years ago and attended the Prestonsburg schools. Her father, Nathan "Poohay" Albert, had a mercantile establishment here.

STATE TO RESURFACE P'BURG STREETS, PLAN

Prestonsburg's City Council last Monday night turned over to the state the city streets as alternate highways, and thus was set in motion the machinery which is expected to bring about the resurfacing of practically every street here.

Whether the blacktop resurfacing of the streets will be begun this fall or will be delayed till the proposed sewer system work is done is a question that has not been settled. Mayor Edward B. Leslie said the state prefers to wait, since the sewer work will tear up various streets. Similar repair work already has been done at Pikeville, it was said. Streets listed for resurfacing here are:

LOCAL HEALTH THREAT TOLD BY DR. HALL

Health Doctor Claims Disease Outbreak Cost To Dwarf Cash Outlay

Asked last week to comment on the recent grand jury suggestion that the Floyd County Health Department take action against the city of Prestonsburg because of offensive sewage odors, Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health doctor with the department went farther than the matter of any mere offensive odors.

"Speaking from the health angle, I say this flatly," he said. "We are sitting atop a time-bomb here that could explode today, next week, next year, flaring up enough infectious disease to paralyze the entire immediate area."

He referred to the lack of adequate sewerage and the total absence of sewerage in some parts of the community.

"This," he continued, "could close every business, would leave no other course of action but to institute a strict house-quarantine, city-wide. Only God could foresee the number of lives it could cost. The dollar cost of such an outbreak would be a hundred times more than the amount that would repair every defect, including an adequate sewerage plant, new sidewalks on every street, complete resurfacing of every street and alley and the installing of odor-proof traps in every manhole within the city limits."

Dr. Hall listed the breeding sites which pose the threat of viral hepatitis, typhoid, rat-bite fever and other infectious diseases as:

- 1. Open breaks into sewer line flooding surface areas with a sewage-fecal-waste mixture in which disease germs can multiply at the rate of a billion and more a minute.
- 2. The stealth-of-night dumping of trash and garbage inside the city limits.
- 3. Open-pit, over-filled, unsanitary outside toilets in numerous places inside the city limits.
- 4. Improvised, portable-type toilets, used inside the house, then dumped over the fence or over the bank.
- 5. Unkempt, unsightly vacant areas covered with briars, knee-to-shoulder-high weeds, and dotted with uncountable foreign, castaway material of every shape and type—"peacetime mine fields that could cause tetanus and blood-poisoning."
- 6. Open and deep stagnant ditching, breeding beds for mosquitoes, flies and other insects.

Health department employees have admittedly "looked in the other direction," at times when drastic action could have been taken. Dr. Hall explained this forbearance had (See Story No. 6, Page 6)

ADVICE GROUP HOLDS MEET

County Leaders Slate Complete Organization; Tackett Named Chairman

Progress was made at the Allen grade school Thursday evening Oct. 6, in the organization of an advisory committee to the Floyd county Board of Education and school officials.

Approximately 60 leaders in several fields from all over the county met at the invitation of Walter Frasure, assistant county superintendent, to plan the organization and formulate the program. Frasure briefly addressed the meeting and Joe P. Tackett, Jr., was named chairman. James Carter, Prestonsburg, presided.

A 20-man committee, representative of all sections of the county, was appointed to complete organizational work at a future meeting. Tackett was directed to have by-laws prepared and ready for submission at the next meeting in the near future. Mrs. Tackett was elected secretary.

Appointed to the committee are Alvin Reed, John Snodgrass, Mrs. Rufus Sturgill, Mrs. Belford Reitz, Mrs. Ward Reed, Mrs. Olga Trusty, Mrs. Delores Messer, Mrs. Roberta Stone, Mike Little, Carl Hogsed, William Reynolds, Jr., Lon C. Hill, Mrs. Regina Mayo, Mrs. Glenn Ward, Mrs. Wallace Frasure, Mrs. Sylvia Newman, H. O. Simmerman, Steve Clark, Joe Periano, B. H. Roberts and James Evans.

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, under the act of March 3, 1879.

A Sunday School publication recently supplied some startling statistics. It told of a survey made to determine the extent of voting by class-groups.

We are interested in two groups—ministers and tavern-keepers, at opposite poles as they are. Their record?—only 33 of 100 ministers had voted at the last election; 98 of 100 barmen had voted at the same election.

This is not to assail the preachers of the land by saying that barkeepers are better citizens. It just goes to show who they thought they had a bigger stake in the election. The liquor boys knew that their future in business depended upon electing the "right" man; the preachers were not sufficiently aware that anybody's future would be clouded by electing the wrong man.

And this is the story all over America, all up and down the social scale. Solid citizens, staunchly believing in the right, teaching it and even willing to fight for it, desert it on election day. On the other hand, those who often do not deserve the name, "citizen," go to the polls and exercise their suffrage in the most accepted manner—because the election is important to them.

Perhaps more of us should be asking ourselves, "Is not every election important to good citizens, too?"

Salary Limitation Can Be Fatal

(McLean County News)

REMEMBER A FEW WEEKS ago, when a little girl was killed across the river in Indiana, her body cut up and thrown in the Ohio? The headless crime was committed by a mentally sick man who had spent most of his adult life in confinement for similar but less dramatic crimes. He had been paroled a few months before on his last sentence because he was supposedly normal enough to be returned to society.

It wasn't until after this last sad crime was done that the parole commission fully realized that the man's record should have been warning enough to a competent psychiatrist that he might commit a murder.

Immediately there was a loud hue and cry that the parole board should have known better than to release such a man with a long and alarming record. But the trouble was that only a competent psychiatrist could have known that the man was likely to commit such a crime. And Indiana didn't have enough state psychiatrists to study all parole cases.

Shortly after this incident, I asked Judge Tom Hennessy how Kentucky's parole program compared with Indiana's. He immediately replied, "Kentucky's is much worse!"

Under the present legal limit of $7,200 on most state salaries, Kentucky can never hope to hire enough psychiatrists to properly staff the mental hospitals and penal institutions. And a few good psychiatrists in these institutions could not only save the state hundreds of thousands of dollars—they could also prevent crimes such as this one from happening.

Under the present constitution, with its salary limit, we can't hire these men. A good psychiatrist can probably make $20,000 to $30,000 in private practice. How can the state hope to hire him for $7,200?

Not only that: We can have little hope of training new psychiatrists in Kentucky to do the job. For at $7,200, we can't hire the teachers for the new medical school where psychiatrists might be trained.

When the saddening murder was committed a few miles away, many people asked: What can be done to prevent such things happening in the future? Suppose that were to happen to my daughter?

Well, there is an answer. You can do something. You can vote "YES" on November 8 for a limited revision of Kentucky's gay nineties constitution. With the salary limitation relieved, Kentucky can train and hire the type of men it takes to discover, discipline and treat the mentally ill with homicidal tendencies.

It's good sense to vote "YES."

Tidbits Of Kentucky Folklore

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

WHO LIVES THERE?

Today when I went to the bank to cash a check, banker friend and I got talking about how ignorant both of us are in our older years. He used to live twenty miles from Bowling Green, and a trip to the big town was a real event in his young life. It was a very long journey in those days of horse-drawn vehicles, but there was a thing that must strike young people of today as unbelievable. He knew who lived in every house along the way. Many of the people he knew so well that he rather expected, if the weather were cold to be invited to stop, warm, and "set a spell." And that is exactly what he did, many, many times. Such things as gingerbread and fruit and other things that boys like would be available, too, and he would go away and full, with a kindly feeling toward his fellowman, especially the humanity he knew along his Allen-Warren county roads. But today he hardly knows anybody along that road or the other roads that lead back to his old home. Imagine counting on stopping to warm at this or that house when you do not know anybody there! And hundreds, almost, of houses have grown up along those roads, so that "the Old Jones Place" would sound like something out of another era or language.

And that set me to thinking, too. Why I do not know everybody who lives on the block on which I live, with Chestnut and Park Streets running in one direction and Fourteenth and Fifteenth in the other; and even though many houses, relatively speaking, have been built on this block since I moved to it in 1918, I have never known all the people whose houses are bounded by these streets. Maybe I am to blame, but I would wager a few dollars that nobody else, now or back to 1918, could have named all the people in this small nook of a good-sized town. Nobody that I now know has tried to avoid knowing the neighbors; our different interests and our different ways to go to town just have prevented our getting together. Now wouldn't that seem funny to Fidelity, even now, and how funny it would have been in the early years of this century, when I was living in my native community.

The banker's recalling his knowing so many people along the road brings back two of my favorite stories, told several times in this column. My great-grandfather Wilson lived by the side of the road, like Sam Walter Foss's man in the poem, and his "being a friend to man" took the form of having his well dug right by the roadside, so that any traveler, whether a friend or a stranger, could stop, draw a bucket of cool water for his own use and water his horse. Somehow that very act softens the many stories told about the old man's harsh upholding of his convictions, even when they disagreed with those of nearly all his neighbors, as when he remained to the end of his very long life an ardent Yankee, though his family espoused the other side in the century-ago tragedy. The other story has to do with Old Man Hiram Campbell, a simple old soul with few means and not too high a rating in his little world. His humble house, again by the side of a road, probably not a tenth as important as the Murray-Mayfield Road, by which lived by hard-hitting ancestor, became famous for a strange custom of his, as everybody called him. All winter long he and his weather-beaten old lady kept a coffee pot boiling on the hearth; when anybody came by, Hi hobbled out and asked, even urged, the traveler to come in and have a cup of hot coffee. Now isn't that a neighborly act that sounds strange today? Many of the people of Fidelity regarded Uncle Hi as "teched in the head," but they drank his coffee somewhat shamefacedly and wondered at his unusual neighborliness. Whether it was cold water from the well by the roadside or a draft of hot coffee, each man in his way lived his odd life, probably never suspecting that he had done anything out of the ordinary.

National Coal Group Sets Out To Educate Engineers, Architects

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 20 — (Special To The Times)—The National Coal Association's Marketing Department has set out to "educate" engineers and architects on "the use of coal the modern way," vice-president W. W. Bayfield, said here today.

"Few if any architects graduating from college in the past quarter-century learned anything about designing for coal," Mr. Bayfield said. His department's field engineers are "taking aim at this information vacuum" through direct contact with consulting engineers and architects responsible for new construction projects, he told the Kanawha Coal Operators' Association.

"Until recently consulting engineers seldom considered a coal plant because the client did not request it; it was easier to propose gas and oil since those industries provided all the needed technical help," Mr. Bayfield said.

In addition to consulting engineers, central engineering offices of multiple plant corporations are called on by the NCA field force in an effort to "be in on the ground floor" when additions to existing manufacturing facilities or modernization programs are being considered. Mr. Bayfield explained. He also described the industry-by-industry market research study being conducted by the NCA Department of Economics and Transportation in the drive to capture business currently going to competitive fuels.

"We know that many plants which abandoned the use of coal five, ten or more years ago have never since been contacted by a representative of our industry," he declared. "This is equally true of plants that have always burned gas or oil. Nobody has told them of new development in coal utilization; no one has delineated for the mth change in the economic relationships between coal and its competitors.

"Our new program calls for coal to romance all susceptible customers of the gas and oil industries just as vigorously as they court ours."

The Marketing Department's other functions were also explained by Mr. Bayfield. He said that the Engineering Division last year distributed more than 250,000 copies of technical pamphlets and brochures, all of which are available to personnel of member companies.

"The job of expanding coal's markets is and must be a cooperative one," he told the Kanawha group. "Some of the most notable promotional successes for our industry have resulted from the cooperative action of your salesmen, your engineers, and that of our railroad friends.

"Pooling our resources, pooling our activities makes a strong team. Only through unity of effort can we most effectively bring to fuel users the full story of what our products can do for them. Only through close cooperation can the Marketing Department, Can NCA realize its goal and attain its objectives?"

McGuire Alleges Suit Inspired By Politics; Statement Is Issued

School Superintendent Heman H. McGuire said recently a suit filed against himself and others was an obvious effort to influence the upcoming school board election in Carter county.

He issued a prepared statement in answer to the action filed by Lexington attorney Jesse K. Lewis for the Carter County Citizens League for Good Government.

The suit asked recovery of money which it said had been spent from school funds through irregular purchasing and contracting practices.

"There is no basis in fact or in law for such a suit," McGuire's statement said. "Mr. Lewis knows there will be no term of court between now and the election, and no opportunity for the defendants to vindicate themselves, or even be heard prior to the School Board election.

"People resent this type of unfair conduct and unwarranted allegations, even in a political campaign. On November 8, they will show their indignation."

McGuire said he could not understand why Lewis, whom he had befriended in the past, "would listen to a group belonging to the so-called Good Government League, when some of this group have court records themselves."

"I was one of the few people in Kentucky who sympathized with Mr. Lewis when he was suspended as an attorney for unethical conduct," McGuire stated.

Half Nation's Voters To Use Machines, Said; Kentucky Leads States

The percentage of voters casting ballots by machine November 8 will be greater in Kentucky than in the nation as a whole.

A voting machine manufacturer estimates that half the nation's 60 million voters will use machines election day. Kentucky has voting machines in 53 counties which represents 70 per cent of the state's population. Floyd county will have 34 machines in operation Nov. 8.

Thirteen Kentucky counties have bought machines under the state's new lease-purchase plan in time for use in this fall's election. This brings to 42 the number of Kentucky counties completely equipped with voting devices.

Forty-four states use voting machines to some extent, but only 21 have them in more than half their election districts. Kentucky has joined New York, Connecticut, Maryland, Delaware, Rhode Island and Louisiana with legislation making voting machines mandatory.

Carrying out campaign pledges of Gov. Bert Combs and Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt on election reforms, the 1960 General Assembly passed a law requiring all counties with 21,000 or more population to purchase machines no later than the primary next May. Deadlines for smaller counties, depending on size, are May, 1962, and May, 1963. Cost of the machines to the counties will be almost offset by several factors.

The new law increased state aid to counties with voting machines from $20 to $50 per precinct for each election. Use of the machines eliminates the cost of printing paper ballots and reduces the number of precincts generally by half, a further saving of election expense.

The State Property and Buildings Commission entered a contract with the Shoup Voting Machine Co., New York, N. Y., to furnish 296 machines, costing $1,743.60 each, to 13 counties. Under the lease-option agreement, the county may purchase the machines over a 12-year period with payments of $190 each the first year and $189.13 a year thereafter. Payments include insurance and 5 per cent interest. The machines carry a 5-year maintenance warranty. The counties have the option of buying the machines outright by paying the balance of the cost any time during the 12 years.

This plan gives the counties more favorable terms than direct purchase from the manufacturer. One advantage is the 12-year payment period; otherwise it would be a 10-year period, resulting in higher annual cost.

The 13 counties are Butler, Calloway, Carroll, Christian, Floyd, Greenup, Jackson, Marshall, Muhlenberg, Perry, Pike, Shelby and Whitley.

The 43 counties completely equipped with voting machines are Barren, Bell, Bourbon, Boyd, Butler, Calloway, Christian, Clark, Clay, Daviess, Fayette, Floyd, Franklin, Garrard, Graves, Greenup, Hardin, Henderson, Hopkins, Jackson, Jefferson, Jessamine, Kenton, Knox, Letcher, McCracken, McLean, Marion, Mason, Marshall, Muhlenberg, Nelson, Nicholas, Pendleton, Perry, Pike, Scott, Union, Warren, Woodford and Whitley.

Quarter Horse Unit Shown By University; Are Noted for Speed

The University of Kentucky Experiment Station, long noted for its prize-winning livestock, successfully entered the quarter horse field this year.

Two of the station's new herd of quarter horses placed high in the strong 1960 Kentucky State Fair quarter horse show.

Quarter horses are noted for quick speed, agility and stock-working abilities. The breed, long popular in cattle states, now is spreading all over the U. S. The station's herd presently includes a gelding, a yearling filly, a yearling colt, a two-year-old filly and an aged mare. The yearling colt was first in his hater class and the two-year-old filly third in her class.

W. P. Garrigus, head of the animal husbandry department, has more than a passing interest in the small but good herd. His son, Bob, a 24-year-old graduate student in animal husbandry, trained and showed the animals.

But the training and showing is only a very small part of the uses to which the horses are put. The livestock judging team and other animal husbandry classes use them in their training programs. Animal husbandry personnel also use them to work the herds of cattle at Coldstream Farm.

MUSIC PINPOINTS REASONS ROAD BONDS MERIT SUPPORT

In accepting the appointment as chairman of Floyd county for the Highway and Park Bond Issue, I feel it is a challenge and a non-partisan issue, a most important step for all Kentuckians in a program to develop better jobs and better living in a greater Kentucky.

The people of Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky, with Jenny Wiley State Park and Breaks of Big Sandy in our section, are looking forward to the day when we can have parks and roads developed to the extent of better business and industry.

We are all interested in industry. Where does industry settle and why? (Where there are Good Roads and Surplus Labor. We have Surplus Labor.)

First, industry creates jobs, and jobs make for better business in our farms and in all our local businesses—which mean better communities and better living for all Floyd county and eastern Kentucky.

I am proud to be living in Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky and what we need is TRADE not AID. With our parks improved and our roads brought up to standard we will have industry and give our people jobs. We have an abundance of natural resources, coal, gas, timber, clay, shale and many others. Why not bring industry to our natural resources? We are educating our young people and sending them North to find jobs. I am sure 95% of them would return home if good jobs were available for them here. We need industry for women. We are at the bottom of the ladder in this field. I feel special emphasis should be placed on employment for women.

FIVE REASONS WHY WE NEED TO VOTE "YES":

- 1. Good Highways are vital to Business and Industry.
2. Good Highways are vital to Agriculture.
3. Good Highways are vital to Education.
4. Good Highways are vital to Public Safety.
5. Good Highways are vital to Greater Tourist Travel.

With our Road and Park Bond Issue on November 8th, the answer as I see it is up to you. Do we want to move forward? I think we do and on November 8th will all join in making it one of the biggest majorities in Floyd county's history. VOTE "YES" NOVEMBER 8th—FOR BETTER ROADS.

It will be impossible for me to see everyone between now and November 8th. If you are willing to help, please contact me or other members of the committee at once.

do, then drove to the nearby home of Detective Sgt. Chester D. Potter and, seeing that he was not at home, decided to drive to Sheriff Warren's home. About that time, she said, the woman who had been involved in the quarrel with Vanhoose arrived, asking permission to go with them but was refused. As they drove up U. S. 23, between the motel and Crum's Service Station, she said she saw Vanhoose's car overtaking them and told her husband Vanhoose was going to shoot. She said she obeyed her husband's suggestion to get her head low, and that in moments she heard a shot. Other shots were fired when the two cars were at the service station, but she said she could not tell who fired them.

Vanhoose's statement, made to procure the warrant for Branham, claimed the latter fired four or five shots at him and that he was shot while sitting in his car. In his damage suit, which was prepared by Jack L. Lewis, Paintsville attorney, Vanhoose claimed Branham fired his first shot through the window of the left side of the Vanhoose car, the bullet passing out the other side and striking a telephone company truck. He claims great pain, permanent disfigurement and loss of his job as assistant manager of a Pikeville finance company.

Vanhoose was placed under $2,000 peace bond, $1,000 bond to answer to the charge of shooting at another wounded and $100 bail on the drunk charge. Branham's bond on the shooting and wounding charge was $2,000.

Fire Prevention Week Points Up High Losses

So you thought the 1871 fire in Chicago caused a tremendous loss when the total money damage was announced at $168,000,000?

Then look at this, says the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service, as a reminder of why the current Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15 is a valuable observance:

Every six weeks in the United States, property loss from fire is as much as the Chicago fire, or $168,000,000. Each day fire destroys or damages 1,525 homes, 105 industrial plants, 149 stores, 11 churches, 11 schools and 4 hospitals.

Each year 11,000 U. S. persons lose their lives in fires. Of this total, 750 of these persons are farm folk. Farm losses from fires annually runs about $175,000,000.

Yet there is nothing mysterious about fires. Fire itself is one of man's greatest allies—when properly used and controlled.

TO THE PARENTS AND VOTERS OF EDUCATIONAL DIVISION NO. 4

I became a candidate for member of the Board of Education at a meeting of representative citizens who were opposed to the present school administration. On this occasion I endorsed the "For the Children" program of Ray Howard and John G. Hall, and they in turn endorsed my candidacy.

Mrs. Osborne, the incumbent Board Member, later decided to withdraw from the Board race, and stated in her withdrawal announcement that she favored my candidacy. I then decided the sensible thing to do, since it appeared I would not have opposition, was to run an independent race—a quiet race without controversy, but this I have not been able to do, because I now find that certain people are using my name (unauthorized, I might say) in such a way as to distort my beliefs as to a good school program. In order to clarify the issues I make this statement—

I stand now, as I have always stood, for the program of Ray Howard and John G. Hall, and if elected will vote with them for the adoption of this child-centered program.

I also endorse the candidacy of Emmitt Conn, Educational Div. No. 3, and Ross "Bud" Cooley, Educational Division No. 5, and we stand together for better schools, and I ask the people to disregard any handbills or posters which they may have received associating my name with any other candidates other than Emmitt Conn and Ross "Bud" Cooley.

I will appreciate your vote on November 8, 1960.

THE WATCHMAN SPEAKS

(1) COMMUNISM: State over Church.
 (2) ROMANISM (or CATHOLICISM): Church over State.
 (3) AMERICANISM (or PROTESTANTISM): Co-operation of Church and State.
 (QUOTES FROM AWAKE, Oct. 8, 1960)
 (A) 1953 Pope Pius XII: "What is not in accord with the truth (Roman Catholicism) has objectively no right to existence, propagation or action."
 (B) CIVILITIA CATTOLICA of Rome April, 1948: "The Roman Catholic Church must demand the right of freedom for herself alone."
 (C) DECEMBER, 1959, France: General De Gaulle, favoring a bill to increase state aid to Catholic Schools from 12.3 millions to 41 million dollars a year, threatened to "reform" the constitution if the bill didn't pass. Under that kind of pressure from a Roman Catholic president—the bill passed.
 (D) DO YOU BELIEVE THAT COULD HAPPEN HERE IN AMERICA?
 (E) IT COULD: In 1954 when Edmond Muskie was elected the first Roman Catholic governor of Maine, the Roman Catholics immediately stepped up their demand for bus transportation to Roman Catholic Schools—at public expense.
 WHEN Albert D. Rosellini was elected governor of Washington, the first Roman Catholic governor of that state—the Catholic lobby immediately descended on the state capital, pushing a legislative program calling for various kinds of subsidies to parochial schools and proposals to revise the state constitution.
 ONE of the first bills to be presented to the Colorado lawmakers after the election of the first Roman Catholic governor of that state was a bill for free transportation to parochial schools—paid for, of course, out of the tax funds.
 IT HAS been estimated that Congressman John W. McCormick (Democrat, Massachusetts) who is a devout Roman Catholic, has been personally responsible for legislation which, under various categories, has brought public funds of more than thirty million dollars to the institutions of his church. AS SOMEONE SAID, "IF A MERE CATHOLIC CONGRESSMAN CAN DO THAT, WHAT COULDN'T A CATHOLIC PRESIDENT DO?"
 OHIO: With the second Roman Catholic governor in its history, approval has been given to place garbed nuns on the public payroll as teachers in public schools.
 THERE are now over 2,055 nuns and priests teaching in public schools in the United States. 19 states now give free transportation to parochial school pupils. Five states furnish them free text books, all at public expense—AND ALL A CLEAR VIOLATION OF THE FIRST AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.
 (F) Eleanor Roosevelt said, "Senator Kennedy knows what courage is, but free to exercise it."
 (G) Al Smith defeated for his bid for the presidency in 1928 said the time "had not yet come when a man could say his heads in the White House."
 (H) THE ROSARY is more than a chain of beads with which a Roman Catholic prays; it is a symbolic chain binding every true Roman Catholic to Rome—to Rome's purposes—to Rome's pressure—to Rome's "infallible Pope."
 (I) BOOK APOLOGETIQUE, published UNDER CATHOLIC SUPERVISION IN FRANCE: "The ideal arrangement that the church wished (Roman Church) is a regime in which the rulers would be inspired by her doctrine, and would give her a privileged position, insuring the only true church (Roman Catholicism) the protection she is entitled to."
 (J) THE VOICE OF THE WATCHMAN (October, 1960): "MY IDEA OF AN IDEAL REGIME IS OLD-FASHIONED AMERICANISM AS WE HAVE ENJOYED HERE IN AMERICA FOR AROUND 200 YEARS. THIS REGIME HAS BEEN TESTED AND TRIED AND FOUND TRUE, WITH THE GREATEST FREEDOM, THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE, AND THE MOST TOLERANT UNDER THE SUN. I'M AGAINST THE MAN AND THE THING BEHIND THE MAN that raises a little finger against this blessed freedom; the freedom of speech, press, assembly, worship—free to go to any church, or all the churches, or none of the churches—free to vote for, or against, any man under any banner, without batting an eye."
 (K) The evidence is in, you are free to make the verdict, I warn you, if uninformed, undecided, or just don't know, the stakes are high, the situation is grave, this is the beginning of the end—end of everything worthwhile—if we—lose. Then ask, and ask again, be informed before you VOTE.

This is the VOICE of the Watchman.

LaViers Protests Name Of Anti-Revision Group In Letter To Chairman

Harry LaViers, Paintsville industrialist, has called on the Committee of 1,000 to change its name. He was a charter member of the original committee in 1947 but is now supporting limited revision of Kentucky's seven-decade-old document.
 LaViers stated his views in a recent letter to Edward C. O'Rear, Versailles, who is honorary chairman of the newly-recognized group.
 "I wish to voice a strenuous protest over the use and abuse of the original committee name," said LaViers, president of the South East Coal Company and a member of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission.
 LaViers said the 1947 Committee of 1,000 was organized to oppose an unlimited constitutional convention. It was designed to preserve the Bill of Rights and the basic freedoms embodied in the State's 1890 Constitution.
 But LaViers said that the convention call which will be voted on November 8 protects the Bill of Rights and the basic freedoms, since the convention would be a limited one.
 "May I suggest that in all honesty and fairness your group adopt a new name. I do not quarrel with your right to take a position on the proposal, but I do object to the deception involved," LaViers wrote O'Rear.
 O'Rear, a onetime Court of Appeals judge, was also an active member of the 1947 group. He is joined in the fight against the present revision proposal by Circuit Judge W. B. Ardery, of Paris, who is another honorary chairman of the group.

New Voting Machine Law Makes Elections Costly

Everyone seems to have a strong opinion or two just before an election. Most of us would be most offended if asked "ever buy a vote?"
 Yet, we pay for votes. Every election costs the state money (about $20 per precinct and we have over 4,000 precincts in Kentucky) and costs the county even more. Exact figures are hard to come by, and the recent voting machine law steps up the cost to the state in the encouragement of more voting machine use.
 One CAN make an educated guess as to overall costs. Elections cost Kentuckians somewhere between $750,000 to a million dollars a year. It may cost more in some years, depending on local circumstances.
 That can be cut in half simply by following the pattern that most states follow (including those wealthy states that can afford the price more than Kentucky can) by holding elections every other year instead of every single year.
 This is just one of many areas where limited revision of our constitution could save us money, big money. We have a chance to approve a limited revision this November 8th, and a "YES" vote would permit a Constitutional Convention to revise those matters that hurt us in the pocket book and others which hinder Kentucky progress in dozens of ways.

ANOTHER FINE RECORD

This column recently noted the perfect Sunday School record of Mrs. Mae Ford Hyden. Now we are equally glad to report that Miss Aileen Branham, of West Prestonsburg, on a recent Sunday received her 17-Year Pin for perfect Sunday School attendance at the First Methodist Church here.
 Any more such records? Send them in. We are not afraid of being swamped with such reports.

IN THE WAY

Hents Pinion was forced to leave the Buffalo section of Johns Creek when Dewey Lake covered the area. Now his farm at Blockhouse Bottom may be a part of the Prestonsburg-Pointsville Airport, in which case moving-day may come again. "Looks like I'm always getting in the way of progress," wryly comments Mr. Pinion.

R. T. EQUALS

"RARELY THINNED"
 Roland Allen continues to express considerable doubt about any corn-thinning activities in which either Jack Howard or I engaged in our younger days. My reply to such an attack on our veracity is this: I hate spinach so thoroughly that I can't imagine anybody liking the stuff, and this to me explains why this other Mr. Allen is so skeptical about other folks thinning corn.

Taulbee Leedy, of Stanville, had two problems recently. He wanted to modernize his home but he didn't want to move out while doing the work. He moved, but not away from home.

Leedy, a carpenter, moved his furniture about, most of it to the center room of the house. He tore up floors, reroofed a room at a time. When it came to expanding the house by erecting new walls, he shifted furniture again, tore down and replaced the wall to make a wider room or another room.

One day last week he shifted the furniture again—to its permanent position in the house, for the newly modernized home was finished.

Which proves that if you have a hammer and a yen to remodel, you can do it without even moving out of the house.

Do you plan to buy a coat this winter? Have you considered different coat materials and their qualities?
 Remember to check the label. Outer coating materials are required by law to carry labels giving the fiber content, naming any fiber that makes up at least five percent of the total.
 Mos cloth coats are made of wool. Good quality wool fabrics feel alive and springy as you crumple them in your hand. Wool materials that are poor quality feel heavy and boardy, look dull and matted, having little springiness.
 Fabric labeled, "wool" "all wool or 100% wool" is made of new fibers. "Reprocessed wool" is made from reclaimed wool that has never been used or worn.
 The terms "worsted" and "woolens" refer to the length of fiber used and to yarn construction. "Worsteds" wear well; they are of long fibers, tightly twisted, and the fabric often shows a clear, definite weave. Smooth-textured worsted fabrics may become shiny with long, hard wear. Gabardine and wool shark-skin are examples of fabrics made from worsted yarns.
 "Woolens" are made from shorter, less tightly twisted fibers. Woolen materials are softer than worsted and the weave is less distinct. The fabric may be napped for added warmth or variety. Good quality woolens wear well and do not become shiny, but they may require more up keep in cleaning and pressing. Wool broadcloth is one example of a woolen fabric.
 For long lasting beauty as well as long wear, choose a closely woven material. Heavily-looped textures are apt to snag and pull easily.

Do you plan to buy a coat this winter? Have you considered different coat materials and their qualities?
 Remember to check the label. Outer coating materials are required by law to carry labels giving the fiber content, naming any fiber that makes up at least five percent of the total.
 Mos cloth coats are made of wool. Good quality wool fabrics feel alive and springy as you crumple them in your hand. Wool materials that are poor quality feel heavy and boardy, look dull and matted, having little springiness.
 Fabric labeled, "wool" "all wool or 100% wool" is made of new fibers. "Reprocessed wool" is made from reclaimed wool that has never been used or worn.
 The terms "worsted" and "woolens" refer to the length of fiber used and to yarn construction. "Worsteds" wear well; they are of long fibers, tightly twisted, and the fabric often shows a clear, definite weave. Smooth-textured worsted fabrics may become shiny with long, hard wear. Gabardine and wool shark-skin are examples of fabrics made from worsted yarns.
 "Woolens" are made from shorter, less tightly twisted fibers. Woolen materials are softer than worsted and the weave is less distinct. The fabric may be napped for added warmth or variety. Good quality woolens wear well and do not become shiny, but they may require more up keep in cleaning and pressing. Wool broadcloth is one example of a woolen fabric.
 For long lasting beauty as well as long wear, choose a closely woven material. Heavily-looped textures are apt to snag and pull easily.

JOHN GRAHAM CHAPTER HOLDS MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR MRS. SPRADLIN

Mrs. Joe A. Spradlin was hostess to John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at her home on Lake Drive October 11. Mrs. Edward May, the regent, presided. The ritualistic service was conducted by Miss Alice Harris. Following the business session, C. Kilmer Combs spoke on "Revising the Constitution." The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. O. Goebel on Arnold avenue, with Mrs. W. W. Cooley the leader.

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICE

An impressive memorial service was conducted by Miss Alice Harris in memory of Mrs. Minerva H. Spradlin, the chapter treasurer, who passed away in April, 1960. The call to remembrance was read by Miss Harris. The photograph was unveiled by Mrs. H. L. Mayo, who lighted a memorial candle in the tall, branched candelabra. Mrs. Joe A. Spradlin played on the piano, "Ivory Palaces," lighting the second candle of love and affection. Mrs. Edward May read the resolution of respect, lighting the third candle. Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" was read by Mrs. W. W. Cooley, who placed the last candle. Prayer closed the beautiful service. Flanking the picture was a tall vase of red roses given by Mrs. Spradlin, and these were placed on her grave the following day. Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mesdames Lida D. Spradlin, John R. Clark, A. C. Harlowe, Everett Sowards, Joe M. Davidson, W. W. Cooley, Grace D. Ford, Winnie F. Johns, Edward May, H. L. Mayo, Osa F. Ligon, Claude P. Stephens, Joe A. PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Owsley and son Scotty, of Wellington, Ohio, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Derossett over the week-end.

Ralph C. Derossett, of South Lake Drive, is visiting this week in Lexington and Paris, Kentucky. Dicky Leslie, David W. Allen and Bill Baker Burke, students at Morehead State College, spent the week-end here with relatives.

Mrs. G. R. Allen went to Ashland Saturday on business. She visited her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Points, and Mr. Points.

Mrs. Tom G. Dingsus has spent several days with her mother, Mrs. Troy B. Sturgill, at St. Joseph's hospital in Lexington this week.

Miss Nelle Music entertained Mrs. Walter Van Landingham, of Miami, Fla., to lunch Thursday at the Wise Restaurant.

Mrs. Joe Layne, of Olive Hill, and her brother, Stallard Blankenship, of Van Lear, were here Monday, calling on relatives.

Mrs. Lena S. Brown and daughter, Mrs. James Hartley, of Sandwich, Ill., have been here visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Joe Wheeler Harris, of Emma, was guest of her cousin, Mrs. Rebecca Dingsus, last Thursday.

Mrs. Lula Lafferty and Mrs. Gene Lafferty were in Huntington last Thursday.

Mrs. Osa F. Ligon entertained to lunch Thursday, Monte Scott Harkins, Mrs. John R. Clark and Mrs. Walter Van Landingham.

J. W. Howard and Joe Hobson attended federal court in Pikeville, last week.

J. O. Webb was in Lexington last week on business.

ENTERTAIN WITH SUPPER BRIDGE

Mrs. F. L. Heinze entertained to supper at Opal & Joe's Saturday evening Mrs. Walter Van Landingham, Miami, Fla., Mrs. John R. Clark, St. Albans, W. Va., and Mrs. Osa F. Ligon.

TEA FOR MRS. MAYO

Mrs. Frank Harmon entertained a small group of friends of her aunt, Mrs. Alice M. Mayo, of Ashland, at a tea at her home on Trimble Branch last Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock. Flower arrangements designed by Mrs. R. H. Messer, of Garrett, were used in the spacious living room and bedrooms. The tea table was lovely with its appointments of silver candleabra holding pink candles and flanking the low arrangement of varicolored mums in a silver bowl. Mrs. Noah D. Howard, of Wayland, served coffee; Mrs. Francis Harmon served tea. Cakes, mints and nuts were served by Mrs. Alice M. Mayo, Mrs. Jackie Perry, Mrs. Noah Howard, Mrs. Francis Harmon, Mrs. Joe M. Davidson, Mrs. Mrs. Everett H. Sowards, Mrs. Olga May Latta, Mrs. C. L. Huisiniller, Mrs. R. V. May, Mrs. Burl Spurlock, Mrs. Fred Francis, Mrs. Walter Van Landingham.

ATTEND MEETING IN HUNTINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Layne returned home Monday from Huntington, where they spent the week-end with friends. They attended a special meeting of A. A., Saturday evening.

VISIT HERE LAST WEEK

Dr. Joe Taylor Hyden, of Martin, was here the latter part of the week on business.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Dexter Dean McCarty was taken to a hospital in Anderson, Ind., and was operated on at 6 p.m., last Monday for a ruptured appendix. He is doing fine.

RETURNS TO SALT LAKE CITY

Mrs. Grace Watson left last week for her home in Salt Lake City, Utah, after spending the summer here with her son, Carl Watson, and family.

ENTERS BUSINESS COLLEGE

Miss Bonnie Gayle Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Arnett, of West Prestonsburg, has enrolled in the Fugazzi Business College, at Lexington, it was announced recently. Miss Clarke attended Prestonsburg high school. Enrollment at the Lexington school has increased 18 per cent, it was noted.

SKUNKS LOSE OUT AS CANADIAN PETS

Ottawa, Oct. 3 (W.N.S.)—Canadian mothers are pleased with the latest report on household pets, which indicates that skunks are losing popularity. For the first time in Ontario not a single applicant for a license to keep wild game owned a skunk, although there were plenty of applications for red foxes, raccoons, porcupines and cottontail rabbits.

CALLING ALL VOTERS

These are hectic times. There is no denying this TRUTH. Here is a thought that might help you if you're a "conscientious objector." Don't vote! The Conscience is God's vice-regent upon earth. Do not violate it in anywise. Do not be afraid of wrecking this greatest of all nations upon earth. If you are a Democrat, march to the polls on Nov. 8th and vote "straight" Democratic, if you feel duty-bound to do so. Likewise, if you are a Republican go to the polls and vote "straight" Republican, if you feel duty-bound to do so.

All free men should do this. The wheels in a watch or a clock move contrary one to another, some one way, some another, yet all serve the intent of the workman, to show the time, or to make the clock strike. So, in the world, the providence of God may seem to run cross to His promises; one man takes this way, another runs that way; good men go one way, wicked men another,—yet all in conclusion accomplish the will and centre in the purpose of God, the great Creator of all things.

In my "strait" last November I could not conscientiously vote "straight," so I chose to obey my CONSCIENCE, and I am still happy over it. This choice, in a very small way, has helped to begin, educationally, to brighten the FUTURE of millions of little Tommies, Johnnies and Sallies.

"Of what avail the plow or sail
Or land or life—if freedom fail?"

Yours in Him,
A CHRIST-ian

Amvets Post Elects Patrick Commander; Others Are Named

Glenn Patrick, of Martin, was elected commander of Amvets Post No. 127, of Martin, at the annual election of officers of the post held last Sunday. Patrick, an employee of the Turner-Ryan Funeral Home, succeeds Chiles Stanley as commander of the World War II and Korean War veterans' organization.

Other officers elected are: John R. Moore, Price, first vice-commander; Ashland Compton, Price, second vice-commander; Everett Moore, Price, third vice-commander; Hubert Frye, Martin, adjutant; W. E. Hall, Martin, public relations officer; James Keathley, Martin, finance officer; E. B. Skeans, Martin, service officer; John M. Hall, Allen, membership director; Earl Branham, Martin, legislative officer; William Wohlford, Martin, provost marshal; Chiles Stanley, Martin, chaplain.

The new commander cited work of the Amvets during the past five years in the community and, speaking for himself and the new slate of officers, said, "We are not merely a social organization but a real part of the life of this city and state. We pledge ourselves again this year to continue our community service and to make Amvets of service to all veterans of this county and their families."

Three from County U. K. Fraternity Pledges

Three Floyd county young men recently pledged to fraternities at the University of Kentucky, Lexington. All are upperclassmen.

Ira Frazier and Carlos Blankenship, both of Weeksbury, pledged Kappa Sigma; Ronald Stricklin, of Allen, pledged to the Triangle fraternity.

Under a new UK policy, only upperclassmen who have maintained at least a "C" average in all previous college studies are eligible to pledge to fraternities at this time.

 been exercised, to date, mainly for these reasons:

Health employees are faced with a health menace of this magnitude in dozens of varieties in a score of separate areas in these counties; Prestonsburg "is a city full of wonderful people who have faced up to wars, battled to get rid of depressed areas and given freely of their money and time to charitable projects and to the needy," and these people are the logical force to correct the health hazards, initiate improvements and to request firmly of their neighbors that hazards must be corrected.

The situation here, he pointed out, will keep industry away as well as endanger lives. Of the need for concerted local action starting with the people themselves, he said: "Meet, organize, take a stand for the right and begin on a course of constructive corrective action . . . This is a much, much better way than to have some agency or governmental department step in to force obedience to a regulation or a statute."

Prestonsburg was recently allocated $128,000 for a sewerage disposal plant, but this amount still leaves the city approximately $450,000 short of the total needed. Engineering on the project is now nearing completion at a cost to the city of about $30,000.

Complex New Machines Sorts, Records Checks Faster Than Ever, Said

Complex new machines which can sort and record 20 checks a second are helping speed the 12 billion checks which Americans write each year from bank to bank faster than ever before, writes J. D. Ratcliff in an October Reader's Digest article. "The Way Your Checks Get Back Home."

"If you tend to grumble at the amount a bank charges to handle your checks," he says, "have a second thought. You are getting one of the greatest bargains in the world today."

With the new system each check contains a code printed across the bottom in magnetic ink. Machines "read" this magnetic message. As it reads, the machine feeds information into a computer, and the computer activates a printer. Each check is routed to its proper destination, and in its lightning-like passage it leaves a complete record of its value, the bank on which it is drawn, the account number of the check writer, etc.

Checks are the lifeblood of business, Ratcliff points out in an intriguing behind-the-scenes account of how the 14,000 banks in the U. S. swap checks through about 300 clearing houses. Ninety percent of all transactions in the country are by checks and their total annual value is $2.3 trillion, or 70 times all the coin and currency in circulation.

The New York Clearing House is the nation's oldest and the world's largest. It handles some 2,500,000 checks a day, and is open every day of the year, Christmas included. The final check exchange of a business day, covering the activities of the previous 24 hours, takes place at 10 a.m. When a gong sounds, messengers move from one desk to another, each bank having its own desk.

HEPATITIS HITS FLOYD

State Faces Epidemic Of Disease, Announced Hall Issues Warning

Kentucky faces its worst epidemic of hepatitis in years, according to the Communicable Disease Control Section, Division of Preventive Medicine, State Department of Health.

Cases for 1960 have already more than doubled the 1959 record high, and the most dangerous months, November through February, are still ahead, this statement continued.

Floyd county is one of the three counties in the state that are in the "epidemic" class, Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health doctor, said.

Infectious hepatitis, more commonly known as yellow jaundice, is a virus disease affecting the liver and is accompanied by fever, vomiting, abdominal pains, loss of appetite and a jaundiced condition. There were 16 known deaths last year from hepatitis.

School children between the ages of 5 and 9 are most vulnerable, and Dr. Hall said most Floyd county cases have been in this age group. The disease is more prolonged and serious with adults, and cirrhosis of the liver is a possible complication.

Hepatitis is spread by inadequate sewage facilities, poor drainage, polluted water supplies, and personal contact with an infected person. After exposure to the disease, 10 days to three months may be required for it to develop. Infected persons may spread the disease to others several days before symptoms appear. The only cure is long bed rest and proper diet.

Temporary immunization can be achieved through injections of gamma globulin, but the current supply is insufficient for all contacts throughout the state. Last year there was only enough gamma globulin available to use in counties which reported cases of hepatitis in epidemic proportions.

The local health department cannot combat hepatitis without the full cooperation of all county residents. Inadequate sewage systems or polluted water and drainage facilities are sources of hepatitis. School superintendents, principals, teachers and parents should insist on cleaning up classrooms, school rest rooms, and playgrounds and should encourage the students' care for personal hygiene, Dr. Hall said.

Clara Messer Smith Wins Case Before ABC; Damage Suit Is Hinted

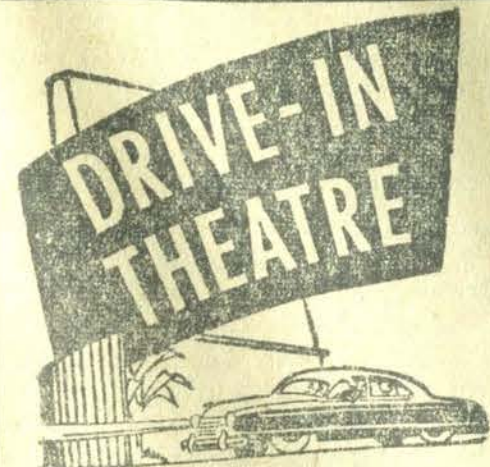

The Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in Frankfort this week dismissed a citation against Clara Messer Smith, of Dwarf, charging her with selling malt beverages after closing hours at her licensed premises in Perry county.

The case was dismissed after the witness for the state testified that the alleged transaction occurred at 12:45 E.S.T., last April 15. Orders of the Perry fiscal court were introduced showing that in 1957 the county had adopted Central Standard Time and had not altered this time order since April 3, 1960, when the I. C. C. placed Perry county in the Eastern Time Zone. Perry county contains a city of the third class and as such its fiscal court has by statute exclusive jurisdiction to set closing time.

The A.B.C. Board concluded that the sale must have been made at 11:45 C.S.T., 15 minutes before the official closing time.

Miss Smith said she was checking with her attorneys to determine if damages for the wrongful citation might be sought against the responsible Perry county officials.

Attorneys Calvin Manis, of Hazard, and Paul E. Hayes, of Prestonsburg, represented Miss Smith at the hearing.

Lady Is Free of Rheumatic Pain

One lady told us she had rheumatic pain so bad she had to walk with a cane most of the time. The joints of her knees and ankles were stiff and sore. Recently she got RUGON and says the pains began to go within a few hours, and now after one week the pain is gone entirely.

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this New Liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Co.

new Princess phone!

There are so many reasons why this lovely new extension phone fits gracefully wherever you put it in your home. One is that it's modern—styled for the modern taste that likes beauty with simplicity.

Another, it's small—to take less room on table or desk or kitchen counter. So you can have a phone where one is needed but space is limited.

And the dial lights up. It glows in the dark so you can find it quickly and, when you lift the receiver, lights up brightly to make dialing easy.

Your choice of attractive colors helps you decorate, too. You can order the Princess phone in white, beige, pink, blue or turquoise.

Just call or visit our business office or ask any installer-repairman.

SEVEN REASONS

WHY YOU SHOULD ELECT

DR.

EDWARD B. LESLIE

FOR MAYOR OF PRESTONSBURG

1. He has promoted the Low Rent Housing project and construction of these homes will materially aid in the development of Prestonsburg.
2. He has been instrumental in obtaining the Prestonsburg-Paintsville Airport to be built soon at Blockhouse Bottom.
3. The city is being cleaned up. Vacant city lots are no longer filled with weeds and debris. The job will be completed soon.
4. Dr. Leslie has made many, many trips to Frankfort at his own expense to obtain the $148,000 grant for sewage disposal in Prestonsburg.
5. He is a progressive man who will handle your tax dollars in a conservative manner.
6. He has been a consistent watch dog over the City Treasury and at all times he has guarded the taxpayer's interest.
7. He now has Prestonsburg on a practically Pay-As-You-Go basis without any additional taxes.

NO ADDITIONAL TAXES NECESSARY!

FLOYD COUNTY BUSINESSMEN AND FIRMS TELL YOU WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU...

APPROVAL OF THE BOND ISSUE WILL MEAN

Better Roads and Parks for all of Kentucky
 With No Increase in Taxes Necessary!

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL FOR BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY. Consumer goods, supplies, repair parts, service men and salesmen, all move by road. Over 65,000,000 consumers, and a great part of the nation's business and industry, are located within one day's delivery from Kentucky. Only good highways can link us to this market and source of industrial expansion.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO AGRICULTURE. Access roads to individual farms, area feeder routes and major highways—all link the farmer to markets and sources of supply and service.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO EDUCATION. Buses carry 53% of Kentucky pupils to school. Pupils get better education when brought together in modern consolidated schools. Better education must be financed by the expanding economy and revenue dependent upon highways.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO PUBLIC SAFETY. The death rate on all roads in 1959 was 6.4 per 100 million vehicle miles—adding up to 750 Kentucky deaths in the year. On our truly modern roads (the completed interstate turnpikes) there were no traffic deaths. Better roads are safer roads. The annual economic loss in highway accidents is $100,000,000—equal to the Bond Issue.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO GREATER TOURIST TRAVEL. Tourists select the best roads for vacation travel—and tourist dollars brought to Kentucky help all Kentuckians. In 1959, out-of-state tourists spent $165,000,000 in Kentucky. This spending alone, contributed over $7,500,000 in gasoline taxes (to build more highways), and would have created over $4,110,000 in sales taxes for Kentucky education and other tax support services.

WITHOUT THE ROAD BOND ISSUE KENTUCKY LOSES FEDERAL AID

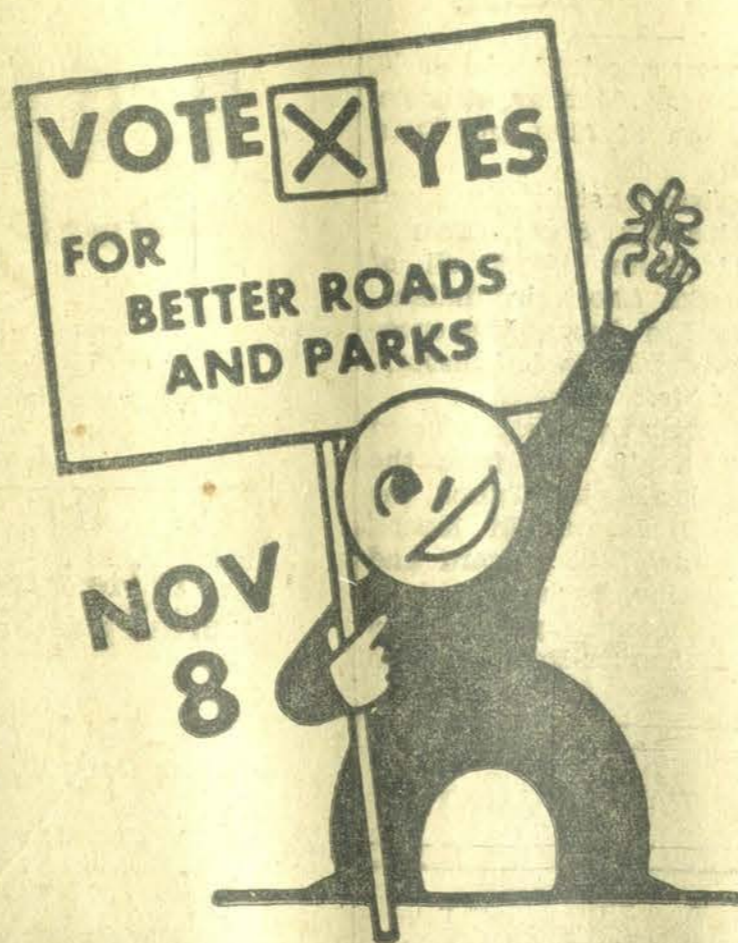

There is absolutely no other alternative—we must vote yes November 8 for the bond issue whereby $90 million will go to roads and $10 million to parks which will enable Kentucky to take full value of the opportunity to match and obtain Federal Aid. Without the increase of present motor vehicle taxes, this can be accomplished.

'Tis seldom we receive something for nothing. Through federal aid we gain in four areas of road building provided voters approve the bond issue in November. Study closely the Federal Aid Road Systems in Kentucky, each of which shares in the allocation of funds provided by Congress:

1. Federal Aid Primary System consists of 3,600 miles of important trunk line highways throughout the Commonwealth. This is Kentucky's major network of roads serving the main flow of individual, farm, and business traffic. Although it comprises less than 6 per cent of the State's total road mileage, it carries almost one-half of all rural traffic. Federal funds are matched by State funds on a 50-50 basis.

2. Federal Aid Secondary System of 15,239 miles, serves the same needs as the primary system and is secondary only in that the traffic flow is not so great. Nearly all major farm-to-market roads are included in this system. The fund matching basis is 50-50.

3. Federal Aid Urban System of 252 miles consists of the urban links and extensions of both Primary and Secondary systems into and through the cities. The matching basis is also 50-50 State and Federal Funds.

DO YOU REALIZE that the highway construction program (which depends on approval of the bond issue has a most favorable benefit-cost ratio of 3 to 1? In other words the public, of which YOU are a part, gets back at least $3 in benefits for every $1 invested in better roads.

That the money obtained from the bond issue must be used only on the Federal-Aid systems, to match money put up by the Federal Government? It cannot be used for any other purpose.

DO YOU REALIZE NO NEW TAXES ARE NEEDED TO RETIRE THE BONDS?

The 1956 Legislature placed additional levies on heavy commercial trucks. This, plus normal expanding revenues on increasing traffic, will meet bond retirement costs.

WHY IS A SECOND BOND ISSUE NECESSARY?

In 1956 Kentuckians approved the first $100,000,000 Bond Issue. The last $30,000,000 worth, sold this year, is being applied to construction. The first $70,000,000 paid for more than 776 miles of construction throughout the state.

More federal aid funds have now been set by Congress. Kentucky must match these funds or lose highway dollars. No Bond Issue means simply this stark choice—Kentucky will either lose federal funds or will almost stop construction on the many roads financed entirely by state funds. Proper maintenance on existing roads would virtually come to a halt. To meet this challenge, the 1960 Highway Bond Issue must be approved.

GARRETT

GARRETT P.-T.A. MEETS
The Garrett P. T. A. met for the second time this school year last Thursday night. Twenty-eight parents and teachers attended the session which was devoted mostly to arrangements for the Halloween carnival which the group will sponsor Monday night, October 31. Mrs. Wiley's sixth grade and Mrs. Clark's fifth grade tied for the Attendance Banner which is awarded each meeting to the room with the most parents and teachers attending.
At the group's first meeting on September 22 new officers were elected and installed for the 1960-61 school year. Elected were: President, John Calvin Martin; vice-president, Shelby Draughn; secretary, Edna Gearheart, and treasurer, Roberta Sloan. Shelby Draughn was named to head the publicity committee again this year. Selected to head the Membership committee were Bessie Draughn, Roberta Sloan and Jean Hornsby.
The group recalled the many things it had accomplished during its first year of operation, some of which were the purchase of chains, brackets and seats for 12 swings for the playground at a cost of $158.00; paid more than $90.00 on the bumper stickers that urged passage of a bill for better schools, and numerous other things.
Next regular meeting of the organization will be Thursday, October 27, at 6:30 p.m., in the school building. All parents and teachers are urged to attend.

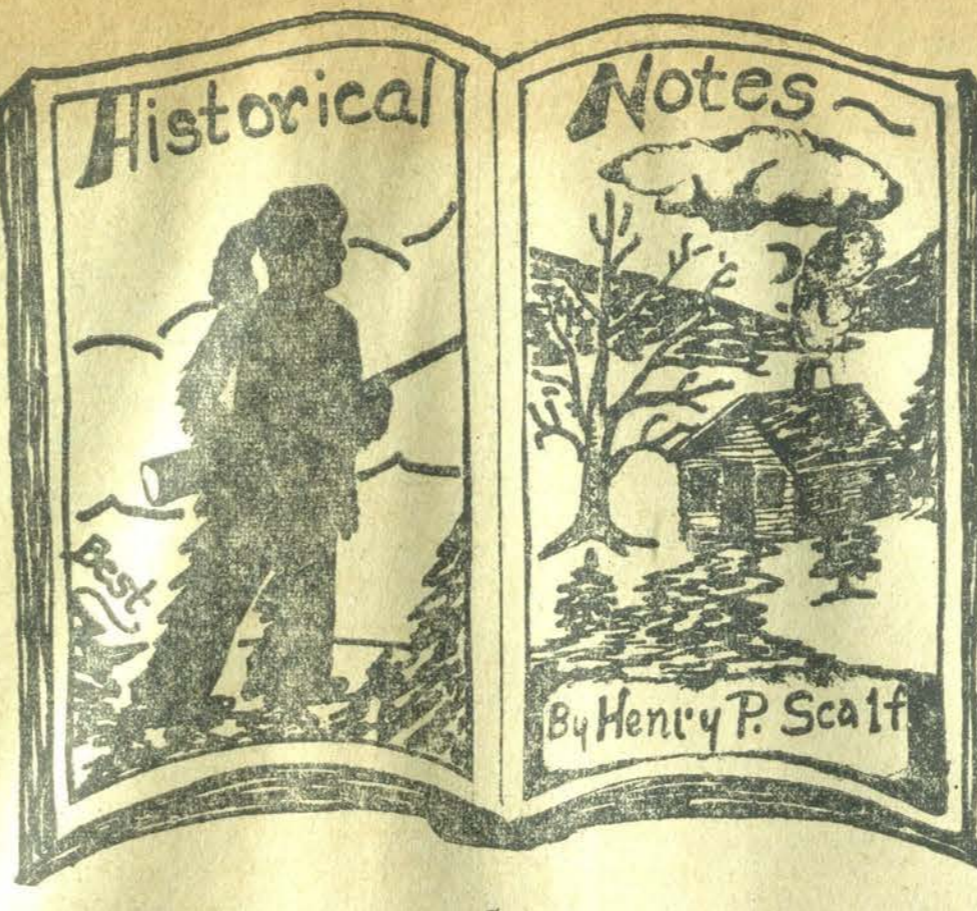

Judge Parker W. Duncan, of Bowling Green is chairman of the Constitutional Revision Committee.

The present State Constitution of Kentucky is about five times as long as the U. S. Constitution.

Add chives to vegetable salads, egg dishes and cottage cheese for a very delicate onion flavor.

If a constitutional convention is November 8 election its debates will be authorized by Kentuckians at the be widely publicized and the people should be well informed on the issue by the ti mtehey vote—probably in 1963—on whether to adopt changes.

ROSE FAMILY
The Eastern Kentucky Roses are descended from John Rose and his wife, Rebekah Bowen Rose, who settled in the region in 1802. The date is fixed by their purchases of land in what is now the present Breathitt county.

Both were natives of Ireland. John was born in 1761, died in 1835. His wife, Rebekah, was born in 1763, died in 1835. These are the dates on their gravestones in the old Rose cemetery on Main Lacy's Creek, Wolfe county, Kentucky.

Seven sons were born to this union of John and Rebekah Bowen Rose. They were David Rose, born in Virginia, 1785, died in Kentucky, 1871; John Rose, born, Virginia, 1791, died in Kentucky, 1843; Robert, Samuel, Israel, Bowen and Powell Rose.

There is some confusion as to which state John and Rebekah Rose came from when they migrated to Kentucky. The birthplaces of two sons listed above as being born in Virginia is attested to by the Census records but there are traditional accounts that they came from Ohio, others say Pennsylvania.

Tradition avers, also, that John Rose was a son of David and Martha Rose who came to America in Colonial days and settled in Pennsylvania with ancestors of President William McKinley. The McKinleys and Rose families moved from Pennsylvania and settled near each other in the vicinity of Canton, Ohio. Researchers are convinced that John Rose moved from Ohio to near Old Port, Va., where a number of his children were born. It was probably from there that he moved to Kentucky.

President McKinley's grandmother was Mary Rose, daughter of Andrew Rose, Jr., and his wife, Hannah. Mary Rose married James McKinley, ancestor of the President.

One biography of William McKinley says that the first Rose to come to America was Andrew Rose and that he was one of the company that settled with William Penn in Pennsylvania. Andrew Rose fought and also made weapons in the Revolutionary War, according to the biography.

John Rose, son of John and Rebekah Bowen Rose, was born May 1, 1791, died in September, 1843. He married Polly Morrow, March 10, 1814. She was born Feb. 23, 1794.

Issue of John and Polly Morrow Rose were William B. Rose, born Dec. 1, 1814; Joseph Rose, born March 14, 1819; Rachel Rose, born Nov. 7, 1822; John D. Rose, born Dec. 21, 1825; Robert J. Rose, born Feb. 28, 1828; Elijah C. Rose, born Dec. 29, 1830; Polly Rose, born June 26, 1837; Jeff M. Rose, born Feb. 15, 1846. William B. Rose, married Nancy Williams. They had nine children: Elizabeth, Powell, Sally, Isaac, John M., Silas H., Polly Ann, Gillie Ann, and Arzella.

Powell Rose married Margaret Cundiff, August 18, 1867. They were the parents of nine children: Sarah, Nanny, Dora, Sam Chandler, Elizabeth (Lizzie), Lula, Arzella and Isaac. Nanny married Grant Brown, Sarah married William Lewis, Rinda married Will Collins, Dora married Richard Elkins. Sam Chandler Rose was twice married, his first wife being Cora Brewer. Elizabeth Rose married Bud Chrisman, Arzella Rose married Robert Hobbs, Lula Rose married a Mr. Wentworth, Sally Rose married David Hogg.

Isaac Rose, son of Powell and Margaret Cundiff Rose, was born May 4, 1847, married Darinda Pieratt, Jan. 18, 1871. Children of this union were Thomas, John, Raleigh, Florence, Ollie and Henry. John is the father of William Allen Rose, of Prestonsburg.

WILLIAM PRESTON TAULBEE
A newspaper clipping of several years ago, date not given, from the Salyersville, (Ky.) Independent titled "Blood of Kentucky Congressman, Shed in 1890, Still Stains Steps of Capitol."
It is reprinted here:
The blood of William Preston Taulbee, congressman from this district in 1890, still stains the steps of the National Capitol in Washington, although he was slain there on February 28th, 1890. That's what the old timers say, anyhow. You can see for yourself that there are stains-dark ugly stains besmirching the well worn marble. And, like the blood on a murderer's hands, they won't come off.
"Everybody says it's blood," says Capitol Architect David Lynn. "All I can tell you is that the stains can't be removed. We've tried almost millions of times."
Lynn, a courtly man who operates from quite old fashioned offices in the basement of your Capitol, seems to put more stock in the bloodstain theory than he lets on. He's made himself some thing of an authority on the shooting of Congressman Will Press Taulbee of Kentucky, and has established that Taulbee was shot on the stairs that bear the stains today.

Newspaper accounts which Lynn has collected tell this story. Taulbee had a grudge against Charles Kincaid, correspondent for the Louisville Times. Kincaid had written some pieces for his paper that Taulbee didn't like—pieces linking him with a patent office scandal.

One day, just as the House of Representatives was about to start its session, Taulbee encountered the correspondent outside the chamber. One word led to another and the congressman, a brawny fellow, pulled the nose of the slight, sickly Kincaid.

"I am in no condition for a physical contact with you—I am unarmed," the newsmen protested.

"Then you'd better be armed," Taulbee told him.

So Kincaid went back and got a six-shooter, came back and met Taulbee just as the ex-congressman came down the stairs that led from the House floor to the House restaurant. One shot was fired. Then, as the Washington Post reported next day:

"Soon there was an excited crowd surrounding a man holding his head from which blood was gushing in a steady stream."

And that, the old-timers say, is the blood that tourists can see on the Capitol steps today.

What happened to Kincaid, by the way?

Oh, he had to stand trial, but the jury acquitted him. After all you can't have congressmen going around pulling newspapermen's noses.

RURAL SCHOOL IN FLOYD COUNTY IN 1908

Taking the rural school picture was a big event for the pupils and teacher several decades ago. These old pictures, by amateur photographers, are among the carefully preserved souvenirs of the past decades.

The above picture is of the Mare Creek rural school in 1908. The building was of logs and was built by the Methodist Church in the 1880's. It yielded to the march of progress under the school administration of Floyd county Superintendent Oma Preston who had it replaced by a frame structure.

Ballard M. James, afterward a Prestonsburg attorney, was the teacher and is shown standing in the doorway. Others identified in the picture are Isaac Davis, patron, and students: James Crum, John T. Scalf, Robert Stratton, Dewey Harmon, Lee (Dock) Harmon, Henry Harmon, Mabel Harmon, Mary Scalf, Jane Scalf, Mandy Taylor, Minnie Taylor, Bertha Gunnell, Daisy Gunnell, Sterling Scalf, Emily Scalf, Cora Stratton, Henry Stratton, Millard Stratton, Alonzo Davis, Alex Davis, Victor Clark, Emery E. Clark, Otto Stratton, Cinda Mollett, Tetora Stratton.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our historic region as a bit of its friendly service with the hope they will contribute to our understanding of our historic heritage.

ELECT-- A WELL QUALIFIED PERSON FOR Board Member

I, Ross (Bud) Cooley was born at Northern, Kentucky, the son of Jobe and Myrtle Martin Cooley. I attended school at Wayland and graduated from Maytown High School. I entered Morehead State College and graduated in 1953 with a B.S. degree in Commerce. I have met all the requirements for a teacher in the field of business education. I served two years in the Army, nineteen months of which was in Japan as Chief Administrator of the Kokura Sub-Depot, where some 65 personnel worked under my supervision. On being discharged I accepted a position at Garrett, Kentucky as Accountant and Billing Agent for Johnson Mining Company.

Floyd County Board of Education needs someone well qualified in Business Administration and with an understanding of the problems and needs of education to look after the interest of the children and teachers of Floyd County.

I would like for you to consider my qualifications, experience, and interest in an improved school program. Think carefully and vote for a man with a COLLEGE DEGREE, a QUALIFIED TEACHER, with ADMINISTRATIVE and SUPERVISORY EXPERIENCE. A person with WIDE BUSINESS TRAINING and acquainted with BUDGETING and CONTROLS, is the TYPE OF PERSON you need for this important position.

Dewey Harmon, 62, Dies At Owingsville; Former Floyd-Co. Businessman

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in Owingsville, Ky., for Dewey Harmon, 62, who died Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. He was a native of Stanville, this county, and at the time of death was owner and operator of a grocery and laundry at Owingsville.

He was a son of the Rev. Aquilla Harmon and Cynthia Stratton Harmon.

Mr. Harmon was a former Floyd county teacher and was for years manager of the Pike-Floyd Coal Company store at Betsy Layne. A former member of the Owingsville City Council, he was a member of the Bath Lodge 55, F. & A. M., a charter member of the Owingsville Lions Club. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Owingsville.

He is survived by his wife, Maxie Layne Harmon, and a niece, Mrs. Harold Smith, of Lexington. Surviving also are two brothers, Lee Harmon, Stanville, and Henry Harmon, of Betsy Layne.

The last services were held at the Kead Funeral Home, the Revs. F. C. Tuggle and Elmer N. Lee officiating. Burial was made in the Owingsville cemetery with Masonic rites.

Palbearers were James D. Davis, George Latham, Earl Toy, Burl McGlothlin, W. C. Lacy and Robert Gilmore.

BUTTER TESTING

The Federal grade shield tells you that the butter has been tested by an experienced government butter grader, that it was packaged by modern automatic machines in a government approved plant, and that it measures up to a certain set of standards.

The U.S.D.A. grade shield is almost as good as a taste of the butter when it comes to knowing what is inside the package. If you buy butter at the grocery, learn to recognize the U.S.D.A. grades. Grade A.A. on the butter package means the butter was made from high quality, fresh, sweet cream. It has a pleasing aroma and a delicate sweet taste flavor. Grade AA has a smooth, creamy texture and spreads well.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mayo, of Morehead, were visiting here over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Humble have moved into the property here of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lafferty. They were living in Michigan.

Mrs. Goldia Westfall has been removed from the Prestonsburg General hospital to her home here. She was hurt in a fall at her home recently.

Bennie Lafferty entered the Prestonsburg General hospital Monday afternoon, and will undergo surgery, Tuesday.

W. A. Malone will enter a Lexington hospital Tuesday, and will undergo surgery.

Mrs. Berdell Cecil, of near Allen, underwent major surgery at Our Lady of the Way hospital in Martin, Tuesday of last week. She is reported in fair condition.

Mrs. Josie Frazier, Mrs. David Louder, Mrs. Everett Tackett, G. L. Grey and J. B. Lafferty, last week visited Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lafferty who are ill at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ashland DeRossett, and Mr. DeRossett.

Mrs. George Gray, of Water Gap, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Rose Mary Ousley, and Mr. Ousley, in Warsaw, Indiana.

If the proposal to call a constitutional convention wins approval November, 1963, election—on the same day Kentuckians would be choosing a successor to Governor Bert Combs. Thus the present state administrations could not be hurt or helped by any changes made.

Kentucky has the only stat constitution which limits to two the amendments that may be submitted at one election.

Anyone qualified to vote in the Kentucky general election November 8, can vote on the proposal to call a limited constitutional convention.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Handle grapes with care as they are a fragile, highly perishable fruit. Buy them in small quantities and use quickly; if you must keep them a few days, sort carefully and refrigerate. Grapes do not improve in color or flavor after harvest so there's no ripening advantage in keeping grapes after they're bought.

Any cooked fish or seafood product—whether canned, freshly-cooked, or a leftover item that has been flaked—can be combined with other foods to make a delicious, attractive salad. Brightly-colored salad greens perk up a fish or seafood salad; a tart dressing compliments a mild fish salad.

SUCCESSFUL DEBUT
Little League football made a successful debut in Prestonsburg, Monday night as approximately 750 fans were on hand to see the Browns rally in the last half to nip the Colts by 7-6.
The Colts took a 6-0 halftime lead on a ten yard pass from quarterback Freddy Newsome to end Roger Barnett, however, the try for the all-important extra point failed.
In the third quarter, the Browns came roaring back after a recovered fumble on the twenty-yard line. After two successful gains by quarterback Homer Wright, Jr., Larry Lafferty whipped a nine-yard strike to end David McMillan and Ronnie Harris plunged over for the extra point.

Thursday night the Cardinals and Eagles are scheduled for play. Next week's schedule . . .
MONDAY
Browns vs. Eagles, 7 p.m.
THURSDAY
Colts vs. Cardinals
STANDINGS

| Team | W | L |
|-----------|---|---|
| Browns | 1 | 0 |
| Eagles | 0 | 0 |
| Cardinals | 0 | 0 |
| Colts | 0 | 1 |

In the future all games will start at 7 p.m. and all parents and spectators are requested to sit in the stands opposite the grade school building.

One of the leading contenders for the Berea College baseball team in future years, should be Jackie Howard, Dwayne. In last week's varsity-freshman games, Howard was the star for the freshmen squad in a losing 7-4 effort. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Howard, Dwayne.

The Prestonsburg Black Cats will close their home football season Friday night at 8 p.m. when they meet the Whitesburg Yellowjackets in a Homecoming tilt.
In last week's loss to Betty senior fullback Bob Smith was named the Player-of-the-Week. The 185-pound workhorse set up both touchdowns on runs of 45 and 55 yards and in one stretch was in on seven consecutive tackles.

Wheelwright's Trojans, tied last week 6-6 by Leslie County, return to their home field Saturday night at 8 p.m., with a meeting with Benham of the Cumberland Valley Conference.

JUNIOR 4-H ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Floyd County club members received six district project championships at the Junior Achievement Day held in Pikeville, October 15. The club members also received six blue awards, two red awards and one white award.

Club members receiving District Championships were Burgess Lowe, garden and farm labor; Steve Hunter, woodwork; Debbie Sammons, housekeeping; Gaylord Martin, rabbits; and Ossie Spencer, strawberries.

Blue ribbons were awarded to Debbie Sammons, clothing; Luther Kidd, Jr., electricity; Lynn Halbert, foods; Paula Banks, Porter, yard improvement; Bar-good grooming; John Richard ron Combs, entomology. Red awards were given to Kenneth Gayheart, beef; and Keith Salyers, poultry. Carolyn Lafferty received a white award in canning.

Deep, loosely-twisted carpet yarn in tufts set far apart can mat down no matter what the fiber. Tightness of twist and permanence of twist are more important for durable carpets than ply of the yarn.

Studies Cryptography

Airman 3rd Class Bill Tom Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Turner, of Wayland, has completed a course in teletype at Sheppard Technical Training Center in Texas. He entered the Armed Forces, May 2, 1960, is a graduate of Wayland high school. He is stationed in Germany and will enter school in cryptography.

Ky. Power Employees' Children Are Eligible For Education Grant

Sons and daughters of Kentucky Power Company employees are eligible for one of the 1961 American Electric Power System's educational awards amounting to $500. F. M. Baker, Kentucky Power Company vice-president and general manager, announced this week.

A total of 14 awards will be made this year by the American Electric. This is the same number as offered in 1960. Kentucky Power Company is a subsidiary of the American Electric Power Company. The children of Kentucky Power employees will be in competition with the children of Kingsport Utilities, Wheeling Electric Company, Philip Sporn Plant and Beech Bottom Power Company. They will also be eligible for an additional award for either the above group or the AEP Service Corporation based on an evaluation of the contestants from both, taken as a single group.

Any employee's son or daughter who will graduate from high school this year and intends to enter the freshman year at a degree-granting college in the fall is eligible to compete for these awards. Participants must take an examination and the winners will be determined on results of these exams, plus school record and additional information presented by each contestant.

The examination will be given on December 3, in Pikeville, and in Ashland. The deadline for registration is October 21.

Kentucky Power Company employees' children have won the award for their group for the past four years.

Mrs. Ann Harmon Horn, Of West Prestonsburg, Victim At Paintsville

LITTLE LEAGUE FOOTBALL OFF TO PROMISING START

Little League football got off to a rousing start Monday evening when approximately 710 fans watched the Browns edge the Colts, 7 to 6.

Two games will be played each week, on Mondays and Thursdays, at 7 p.m., till an eight-game schedule has been completed by each team. The other two teams of the league are the Cardinals and the Eagles.

This program is financed wholly by parents of the players, civic clubs and other interested individuals, with no funds asked from the school. It is explained. Approximately 100 boys are participating in the program, and they are being coached by Prestonsburg business and professional men. Referees are local men who have donated their services, and most of them are registered high school football officials.

The program, it is pointed out, is under the direct supervision of the school and its athletic department, but neither has any connection with the coaching of the teams or their financial support. The school has charge of the eligibility of players, requirements being that the player must maintain an average of "C" or better and attend school five

Fewer Accidents Goal Of Area Mine Operators; Eight Classes Scheduled

The first in a series of eight classes in an accident prevention course for small mine operators and men employed in small mines was held Friday night, Oct. 14, at the McDowell high school auditorium. The classes are being sponsored by Turner Elkhorn Mining Company in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Making short talks during the program were B. F. Reed, of Turner Elkhorn Mining Co., Willard Stanley, inspector in charge of the Prestonsburg district of Kentucky Department of Mines & Minerals, Jack Clawson, Norton district of the Bureau of Mines, and F. A. Kress, of the Norton district, presented the highlight of the program—a film on the prevention of roof fall accidents in coal mines. Kress will teach the remaining seven classes of the accident prevention course.

Frank Heinze, for Turner Elkhorn Mining Co., presented awards to several small mine operators who had gone an entire year without a single lost time accident in their mine.

There were 142 men in attendance at the meeting. Several door prizes were awarded to lucky ticket holders. The second meeting in this course will be held Friday night, Nov. 14, at the McDowell school.

NOTICE

The Floyd County Farm Bureau will hold its annual meeting at 7 p.m., Oct. 22, at the courthouse in Prestonsburg. All members are urged to attend.

Already, every county in Kentucky . . . including yours . . . has benefited from the Road Bond Issue you voted for in 1956. See map above.

Very soon all of the 1956 Road Bond Money will be allocated and spent. Yet, there's much more to be done! Today there are 3,852 miles of Primary & Urban Roads, and 15,239 miles of Secondary Roads (farm-to-market) that criss-cross Kentucky and extend into every county and practically every town in our state. These roads are eligible to participate in the new Federal Aid Program. These are also the roads where the vastly greater portion of the new proposed Road and Park Bond issue will be spent! Remember, too, that no additional taxes are necessary if the majority of voters say "yes" on November 8th.

Grade A is almost as good as AA; although it ranks second to the top grade.

If the calling of a limited constitutional convention is approved November 8 by the voters, the delegates will be barred from considering any change in the terms or tenure of the governor or lieutenant governor. They could not propose limiting the number of terms one man could serve as governor, or altering the present rule that a governor may not succeed himself.

Nine Extension Staffers Getting Study Assistance

Lexington, Ky. — The University of Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service has nine of its members studying this year for advanced degrees.

Two of the staff members are studying out of the state; the other seven are at the University of Kentucky.

Those out of state are Miss Helen Horton, associate home agent in Fayette county, at Michigan State University, and James I. Stephens, Scott county agent, studying at Cornell University. Both are on fellowships.

At the university are Josiah Hoskins, Jefferson county associate agent, with an assistantship in agricultural economics and Wilson Hourigan, area extension agent, Warren county, also in the economics department with an assistantship; Z. L. Newsome, associate agent in Mason county, Clint Collins, agent in Wayne county, Eugene Ball, agent in Martin county, all studying for their master's degree, and Leroy Travis, assistant agent in Breckinridge county and Harry White, assistant agent in Perry county, both of whom have assistantships in agricultural economics at the university.

Completes Course

Miss Vera Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Patrick and a graduate of Wayland high school in the class of '59, completed a private secretarial course at the Spencian College, Louisville, Sept. 30, and is going to work in Louisville. She took a Nancy Taylor charm and modeling course with her business training, and is a Nancy Taylor secretary.

DRIFT

CLUBWOMEN HEAR SENATOR CONLEY

The Drift Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. W. L. Reed Sept. 6, with Mrs. McKinley Little as hostess. Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo introduced the speaker, Senator George Conley, of Ashland and also Fred Johnson, of Tennessee, and Ed Gunther of West Virginia. Senator Conley explained the importance of supporting the proposal for the calling of a convention for the limited revision of the Constitution.

A short business meeting followed. The president, Mrs. W. L. Reed, reminded the members of the district convention at Jenkins, Oct. 8.

Three new members were welcomed: Mesdames Clarence Turner, Everett Jones and Paul Patton.

Members present included Mesdames W. L. Reed, Clyde Moore, Sam Martin, Lloyd Stumbo, Ben Martin, B. F. Reed, C. J. Cahill, Bobby Hall, G. W. Showers, Glen Ward, McKinley Little, Bill H. Stumbo, I. E. Reed, Hugo Miller, Harry Martin, Clarence Turner, Paul Patton, Everett Jones and Miss Ruby Akers.

Two-thirds of our modern technical advances were unknown when Kentucky's present constitution was adopted in 1891.

Combs-Griffith Vows Solemnized In Ohio

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Franklin, Ohio, Oct. 8, was the scene at 2:30 p.m. of the wedding of Miss Lynda Sue Combs and John Norman Griffith. Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Elmer J. Gregg.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton W. Combs, of Franklin, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Stanley H. Nichols, of Franklin, and the late J. F. Griffith. Both bride and groom are formerly of Floyd county.

Decorations for the candlelight ceremony included arrangements of fall flowers and tiered candelabra. Vocalist was Marilyn Gephart and Jerry Combs served as organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street-length gown of heavy white satin. The basque bodice featured a scoop neckline outlined with chantilly lace scallops and buttoned to below the waist in back with satin-covered buttons. The long sleeves tapered to bridal points over her hands. Her imported Chantilly lace motifs enhanced the bouffant softly-pleated skirt. Her imported French tulle shoulder-length veil, edged in sheer lace, fell from a pearl-crowned tiara. Pink and white rosebuds made up her bouquet.

Constance Ann Combs attended her sister in a peppermint pink sleeveless chiffon gown. The bouffant dress featured a pleated cummerbund in back and a selfsash in front with streamers to the hemline. Full length gloves, a pink sash in and tulle hat and matching slippers completed Miss Combs' ensemble. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Robert DuChemin served as best man. Ushers were Larry Seearce, David Arbaugh, Danny Robinson and David Bowermaster.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with Miss Carma Allen, Miss Joan Becraft and Mrs. E. J. Schmier, of Cincinnati, as assisting hostesses.

The couple will make their home at 294 McKinley Street, following a brief wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith were graduated from Franklin high school. The bride is employed at Economy Savings & Loan Company and the bridegroom is an employee of Black-Clawson Company.

PUCKERING SEAMS

Puckering of seams on synthetic fabrics usually is caused by too high tension on both the upper and lower settings of your sewing machine. If you use mercerized thread on man-made fabrics, the puckering also may be caused by some shrinking of the cotton thread in washing.

Resolutions of Respect

In Memory of BROTHER B. M. SPURLOCK, who died October 6, 1960.

Once again hath death summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls, and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit "well done" from the Supreme Master.

WHEREAS, The all-wise and merciful Master of the Universe has called our beloved and respected Brother home, and he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That Prestonsburg Lodge No. 293, I.O.O.F., of Prestonsburg, Ky., in testimony of its loss, drape its Charter in mourning for thirty days, that we tender to the family our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

Meet '61's new-size sizzler!

Gives you more pow per pound of engine than the compacts... more even than many full-size cars!

Now you can have gas savings and go... easy handling and all-day comfort... all in this luxurious new Buick Special.

Where did this Buick pick up all its pep? From its zippy new aluminum V-8 that delivers twice the pow per pound as the engines of most compacts! From its new aluminum transmission*—the liveliest automatic in any car! Together they give the whiz which normally would have meant adding 500 pounds more weight.

And, for ride... the Special is host to the most. The Big Comfort Zone gives you more total head, hip and leg room than the compacts. The 4-coil Control Arm suspension is the same kind as on full-size '61 Buicks so you ride "on velvet." The Hide-Away drive shaft gives more flat floor space.

When you gift-wrap all this with Buick's Clean Look of action... then tag it just a whisper above the compacts, it's no wonder the world's out... '61 is BUICK'S YEAR!

Kentucky Press Is Giving Aid On Alcoholism

By Louis M. Foltz, M.D., Chairman, Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

In the program of Kentucky's state supported Commission on Alcoholism, newspapers are giving generously of their space to news about this problem, its treatment and prevention.

Five Kentucky industries have become interested in establishing educational programs on alcoholism within their own organizations. In several instances this has led to early detection of problem drinking among employees and corrective measures were inaugurated. Using the existing facilities and skills of the Department of Public Relations, Frankfort, has made much of this educational progress possible.

In furthering this educational program, a film, "To Your Health," an animated color movie prepared by Dr. Edward M. Jellich, of the World Health Organization, has been shown to an aggregate audience of more than 5,000 persons in the state. This film is available at the central office of the commission, Room 815, First National Bank Building, Lexington, and may be had on loan by request.

A booklet, "Some Facts About Alcohol and Alcoholism," has been prepared and published by the Kentucky Commission and is now being circulated. Requests for this 44-page brochure have come from physicians, clergymen, judges, law enforcement officials, teachers, members of Alcoholics Anonymous, welfare workers, students and many individuals. All Kentucky physicians, libraries, schools and selected organizations have been furnished copies of this booklet.

The Commission is especially seeking the aid and cooperation of all doctors, clergymen and teachers in its continuing and expanding effort to have alcoholism recognized as a treatable disease and special emphasis is being placed upon detection of symptoms of alcoholism in early stages, when its development may be best prevented.

ATTEND CHICAGO MEETING

Chicago, Ill., (Special)—Don C. Sullivan and Roger L. Wilhoit, of the Department of Public Safety, Frankfort, attended the fourth annual conference on Motorists' Vision and Highway Safety sponsored by the American Optometric Association, October 14-15, here at the Conrad-Hilton hotel.

This annual meeting is held yearly to discuss how vision deficiencies, in many instances are responsible for the large death toll on the nation's highways.

DIST. 7 CLUBS IN 42nd MEET

Speakers at Jenkins Urge Clubs To Support Constitutional Revision

The 42nd annual meeting of the Seventh district of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs was held Saturday, October 8, at the First Baptist Church, Jenkins, with the Jenkins Woman's Club playing host to the following clubs: Allen-Martin, David, Drift, Jenkins, Lackey-Garrett-Wayland, Langley-Maytown, Magoffin, Pikeville, Prestonsburg, Wheelwright, Whitesburg, Jenkins Civic, and Pikeville Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. R. V. May, governor of the Seventh district, presided at the meeting. Mrs. May expressed her thanks and appreciation for the fine work which the clubs of the district are doing. She said that the Seventh is the smallest district in the state with only 14 clubs and 631 members, yet it had the greatest percentage of 100% clubs in Kentucky, with only one not meeting the requirements to become 100%.

Mrs. May expressed her thanks to Mrs. Arthur Bradbury for presenting the district with a gavel to be used at the district meeting.

Mrs. Carl Robinson, president of the Jenkins Woman's Club, welcomed the clubwomen to Jenkins. The response was given by Mrs. H. K. Gillis, president of the Wheelwright Woman's Club. Presidents or their representatives from the various clubs gave reports of their previous year's activities.

The state president, Mrs. C. B. Morgan, was introduced by Mrs. May. In her opening remarks Mrs. Morgan stated that she was no authority on what to do about the world's problems but that, in her opinion, if communities are a good place in which to live, democracy will survive to the end of time. She said it is up to us as good citizens to shoulder our responsibilities. Mrs. Morgan advised, "Go to the polls, serve on juries; we can't go on saying, 'Let someone else do it.'"

Mrs. Morgan also spoke of the problem of education in Kentucky. She said Kentucky has asserted itself by raising the salaries of teachers and by demanding that they have more credits. She said, however, that this did not solve our problems, but that it is a step in the right direction. Teachers can go into almost any other field and make more money with less training and education. Our teachers should be better paid, and they should not only know how to teach but have a solid subject that they can teach. Mrs. Morgan said, "You will get the kind of schools and teachers that you demand."

Mrs. Morgan said that Kentucky faces other problems, and to solve them we need to change our outmoded constitution. She went on to say that the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs went on record to change the constitution. She urged the clubwomen to go to the polls on November 8 and vote "yes" for the constitutional convention and a more progressive Kentucky.

Mrs. Morgan encouraged the clubwomen to aid in the clean-up campaign now going on in Kentucky. The state is spending half a million dollars a year just to pick up the litter on the highways.

Mrs. James H. Dickinson, woman's director of radio station WTLO in Somerset, gave a short talk on the call for the convention for revision of the constitution. Mrs. Dickinson said that the state government is run by an antiquated constitution that hasn't been revised since 1891. She asked every clubwoman to vote for the call for the convention. If it passes, representatives from each district will be elected by the people to go to the convention for the purpose of revising it, then will have the opportunity to accept or reject the proposals. She said the first two steps had been completed and we are now ready for the third. She urged the clubwomen to tell people about the constitutional convention.

After Mrs. Dickinson's talk, Mrs. Ann B. Hall, former representative from Floyd county and now associate state tax commissioner, answered questions concerning the convention. Mrs. Hall stated that the most progressive states are those that have changed their constitutions. She said that the people wouldn't have anything to lose by voting for the constitutional convention.

Mrs. J. H. Keenon, vice governor, gave a resume on the music contest and the sewing contest, which is (See Story No. 1, Page 3)

COOPERATION is a Kentucky tradition!

MENDING FENCES... OR POWER LINES!

Back in Kentucky's early days you could pretty well measure a man's wealth and community standing by his livestock holdings. That's why a broken fence was such a serious threat. In a matter of hours livestock could stray off, and their loss might ruin a well-to-do farmer. As a result it became traditional for neighbors to help one another to keep fences in constant good repair. It's a neighborly habit still observed in our state.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops... created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves... are a good example of how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in cities and towns.

$83,300 Given In Assistance In Floyd County

More than $83,300 in state aid was given to public assistance recipients in Floyd county last month.

According to Commissioner of Economic Security Jo M. Ferguson, September marked the third straight month in which funds to the county were increased over the 1959 level. He said sales tax appropriations plus matching federal funds brought about the increase.

The total funds given to the county include payments to the aged, dependent children, needy blind, and the permanently and totally disabled.

Ferguson said county payments to the aged averaged $46.65 in September; dependent children payments averaged $85.70 per family; average payments to the needy blind were $89.81; and average payments to the permanently and totally disabled were $50.71.

Total public assistance funds paid throughout the state in September totaled more than $5,000,000, Ferguson said. The 1959 figure was $4,444,890.

Grownups forget that a child experiences fear, disappointment and despair even more often than they.

Experience prepares the adult for sudden shocks. A child stumbles upon them unaware.

And each will breed more bitterness in his heart, if he has not found firm foundation for his courage, perseverance and hope.

But when a boy or girl has been given the undergirding of religious faith, the dreadful moments challenge rather than destroy.

Our children pray more often than we realize. They believe more confidently than we suppose. Life teaches them to draw strength from their faith . . . self-confidence from their trust in God.

But you and I must provide them opportunity to acquire faith. And our own example in worship and life must inspire their trust in God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

sponsored by Vogue patterns. She mentioned that one new thing had been added to the sewing contest, a fashion contest among Home Economic students.

Mrs. Arthur Bradbury, state chairman of U. S. Savings Bonds, gave a short talk on what she would like to accomplish in the coming year. She would like to start a savings bond program by getting school children interested in buying savings stamps. She said this would stimulate and encourage thrift, as well as help toward their education. Mrs. Bradbury hopes clubwomen will encourage this program in the schools in their communities.

New officers elected at this meeting were Mrs. David Reed, of Maytown, vice governor, and Miss Ruby Akers, of Drift, recording secretary. Mrs. Morgan installed the new officers.

Music for the meet was furnished by Mrs. S. O. Polly.

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club extended an invitation to have the next district meeting in Prestonsburg.

After the meeting was adjourned, the Jenkins Woman's Civic Club was hostess to a tea in the Library Clubroom in honor of Mrs. Morgan.

3,802 RECEIVE S. S. BENEFITS

From S. S. Program In Floyd; Official Total $2,079,000

(Special to The Times)

New York, Oct. 11 — Money set aside for the benefit of Floyd county workers during the past 25 years, through Social Security taxes that they and their employers paid, is now coming back to them like manna from heaven.

As of the beginning of this year, some 3,802 local residents were receiving monthly pension or disability insurance checks.

These beneficiaries were retired workers, disabled workers, their wives, children and other dependents.

Their number is far greater than it was a few years back, the result of liberalization of the Social Security program which has enabled many more people to qualify for pensions.

In 1955, for example, there were only 2,452 residents of Floyd county receiving checks. The rise, since then, amounts to 55 per cent.

There has been an equally impressive increase in the volume of money received locally.

The grand total in the past year, the official figures show, was approximately $2,079,000. It was considerably more than in 1955, when it amounted to $1,090,000.

Most of this pension money soon finds its way to the cash registers of the local retail stores. It has grown to such size as to be considered a significant factor in the economy.

An analysis of the payments to Floyd county residents, contained in the annual report of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, shows just how much the average local person is getting.

Per recipient, it amounts to $546 per year, which is 22.9 per cent over the $444 paid in 1955.

The rise is greater than that recorded in the rest of the United States, 19.3 per cent, or in the East South Central States, 17.8 per cent.

The amount will become still larger next year because of the new legislation, which will expand the scope of the system.

The changes provide for bigger benefits for children of former workers, elimination of the 50-year age limitation which has prevented many disabled workers from getting insurance benefits, and an easing of the work requirements that govern eligibility.

The additions have brought Social Security to the point where nine out of ten workers in the United States are now enrolled.

CLUBWOMEN HEARS SENATOR CONLEY

The Drift Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. W. L. Reed, Sept. 6, with Mrs. McKinley Little as hostess. Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo introduced the speaker, Senator George Conley, of Ashland and, also Fred Johnson, of Tennessee, and Ed Guenther, of West Virginia. Senator Conley explained the importance of supporting the proposal for the calling of a convention for the limited revision of the state Constitution. A short business meeting followed. The president, Mrs. W. L. Reed, reminded the members of the district convention at Jenkins, Oct. 8.

Three new members were welcomed: Mesdames Everett Jones, Clarence Turner and Paul Patton.

Miss Cottrell Graduated

Mrs. Bola E. Cottrell, of Winchester, formerly of this county, has graduated from the Appalachian School of Practical Nursing, Friday, Sept. 30, at Maxwell Street Presbyterian Church, Lexington.

Mrs. Cottrell was awarded a silver cup which the school gives each year to the most outstanding honor student.

The Appalachian school is operated by Lafayette Area Vocational School in connection with the Department of Vocational Education at Frankfort. Courses are organized every eight months and are twelve months in length. The last months are spent in instruction and supervised experience at Good Samaritan hospital at Lexington.

GOBLE URGES EARLY ORDERS

For Tree Seedlings; Cost-Sharing Plans Explained by Manager

Orders for trees for 1961 planting are now being received by the Agricultural Stabilization Committee here and will be received until Dec. 31, Elder Goble, ASC office manager, said this week.

Goble said the program will be handled differently this year. The new procedure will be:

The farmer or farm-owner will make his request for trees at the ASC office here; the ASC then refers the request to the Division of Forestry, a forester will visit the farm and discuss with the owner the proper species for specific sites. Only after that is done is the order final.

The farmer's cost-sharing payment will be $1.60 per 100 acres, as before. Farmers who have bad stands from their 1960 planting may benefit from cost-sharing for replacements. Unfavorable conditions at planting time this year reduced stands of trees to 10 to 60%. Mr. Goble said. Some of the young trees froze, delivery and planting of others were delayed by snow and ice, and when they did get planted they were hit by a drought of about three weeks.

BELFRY EDGES CATS, WHITESBURG IS NEXT

BY GORDON MOORE

Fleming-Neon high school moved to within one game of Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference leader Hazard, Saturday night, in whipping arch-rival Whitesburg, 34-19, and Belfry dropped Prestonsburg, 20-12, in the major loop games.

Independent Paintsville continued its unbeaten string in making Pikeville its seventh consecutive victim. Jenkins was tied by Wise, Virginia, 6-6; Elkhorn City dropped a 14-13 decision to Dilce Combs, and Cumberland outlasted M. C. Napier, 48-28.

Walter Brugh's Paintsville Tigers sent Mike Minix over the goal line four times as they downed the Pikeville Panthers, 27-13, before the largest crowd in the Big Sandy valley this season.

In the opening period, the aggressive Tigers grabbed the opening kickoff and marched 61 yards in 11 plays, with Minix moving in from the two. Fullback Johnny Porter kicked the first of three conversions.

The halftime margin was increased to 14-0 after Minix raced 21 yards for the tally, following long gains by Porter and Mike Lyons.

Pikeville narrowed the gap to 14-7 in the third period as all-around halfback Bill Baird scampered 48 yards through the entire Tiger eleven for the six-pointer and he also annexed the extra point.

On the ensuing kickoff Minix, who is one of the best halfbacks ever to play in the region, sped 65 yards. Four plays later, the Panthers retaliated as Baird whipped a 25-yard pay-off toss to Bobby Vonters.

Minix closed the scoring with a one-yard plunge in the final canto.

Belfry's Pirates, leading 13-12 in the final two minutes, intercepted a desperation Prestonsburg pass, then marched 50 yards in three plays to throttle Prestonsburg, 20-12.

All-state candidate end Eric Kestner, 6-2, 190-pounds junior, grabbed a 35-yard heave from quarterback Floyd Hatfield to score the third tally. He had caught a pass from Hatfield in the second quarter that was good for a 59-yard trek to paydirt.

After a scoreless first period, Belfry raced 55 yards in nine plays and sent junior halfback Jim Hunt in for the marker from the one-yard stripe.

Two minutes before the half, the Black Cats broke fullback Bob Smith loose for a 55-yard run to the eight, from which point Bobby Marshall scooted around end for the tally.

Smith, who had the best game of the season on offense and defense, again went off tackle for a 45-yard gain in the third period as his mates trailed 13-6. Marshall picked up the score from the two to close the margin to 13-12.

John Morgan's Jenkins Cavaliers tied favored Wise, with a first period score after the visitors scored in the first ten seconds of the game. Quarterback Russell Adkins picked up the six-pointer after halfback John Lequire put the oval in scoring position on five carries to the two-yard line.

Fleming-Neon struck for three touchdowns in the first period to grab a first period 20-0 margin over Whitesburg, but the Yellow-jackets cut the deficit to 20-19 in the third period before Jan Anderson paced the winners with two touchdowns in the final period.

TIMES WANT ADS PAY!

Collier's Corner

BY BLANTON COLLIER

University of Kentucky

The big difference Saturday night was in the fine determination and effort of our boys. They wanted to win, and showed their desire where it counts, on the field. I was proud of the way they charged and pursued on defense.

The statistics prove the effectiveness of our defensive play. It's not often that you hold a South-eastern Conference team without a first down through three quarters. L. S. U. got three first downs in the first period, and that was all for the night.

We also had that indispensable ingredient—luck. On two of the most crucial plays of the night, good fortune was ours. John Ram-pulla's fourth quarter punt rumbled dead on the L.S.U. 4-yard line and they never were able to get out of the hole.

You try for the high punt that will roll dead near the goal, but you need a bit of luck to get it in that close.

The other play was the "fake" quarterback sneak on fourth down at the L. S. U. 25. Jerry Woolum, stopped cold, twisted amid Tiger linemen and pitched the ball out to Gary Steward, who ran the end for the vital first down.

At Knoxville in 1956, Tennessee tackle John Gordy caught teammate Johnny Majors' fumble in the air and carried over for the touchdown that led to our defeat. Some of their boys kidded Kentucky tackle Lou Michaels later, saying, "Why, that wasn't luck; we practice that play all the time."

In the same fashion, we work on that fake sneak a lot.

Seriously, though, you have to give credit to Woolum and Steward for the quick thinking and alertness necessary to carry off such a play. I'm thankful I didn't know what was coming.

While our defensive play was excellent, offensive work left something to be desired. Our passing attack had set up L. S. U. for the running game. They were vulnerable. But we failed to deliver the necessary execution.

The films show our offensive mistakes clearly. It's a standing joke in the coaching profession that when you think your team has turned in a great game, don't look at the films, because they will invariably show how far shy of perfection your boys were.

But there's a reason for more offensive mistakes. Defense is the more natural part of the game. There is less to learn; determination and effort have a greater effect. Offense is more complicated, with the defense shifting alignments and changing the charging angle. Inexperience shows up more on offense. There's a lot to learn, and a lot of time is needed to teach it.

Against L. S. U. not only was our rushing defense good, but we also did a good job of blunting their passing attack. True, they got only two passes into the air, but there were undoubtedly several pass calls that turned into runs. Our good coverage was certainly a factor.

Some of our runs were pass plays, too. In fact our very first play of the game—from our own 14—was a

Soil Districts Given $50,000 By Gov. Combs

Kentucky's 121 soil conservation districts have received a $50,000 allocation from Governor Bert Combs' emergency fund.

Combs announced the additional appropriation during the 17th annual convention of the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

The Governor said the money would be used by districts to hire clerical help and relieve technicians for more important conservation work.

The $50,000 is in addition to $48,000 previously allocated to the districts.

Other highlights of the convention included the announced retirement of Augustus Threlkeld, Corinth, as the association's first and only president.

Threlkeld received the conservation group's distinguished service award for his 19 years as president of the organization.

He was succeeded as president by Sam Clay, 43-year-old Bourbon county dairy farmer.

J. C. Beckett and Grover Hart received pins honoring their 20 years of service as supervisors of the Pendleton county district. Pins also were awarded for 15 and 10 years of service.

A resolution was adopted calling for stricter enforcement of laws controlling strip mining. Promise of wider enforcement was made by Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick.

Farm and government officials discussed 1960 legislation allowing counties to set up planning and zoning boards for supervising future developments.

THIRTY-SEVEN COUNTIES OPEN TO WINTER DEER SEASONS

From the era of the old "Long-Tom" rifle to today's sleek shotgun and rifle, Kentucky has reigned supreme as a mecca for small-game hunters. But into this nirvana's paradise has stepped a new monarch to challenge the supremacy of the small game—the graceful white-tail deer.

Kentucky for the first time in 43 years held an open season on deer in 1956, with 27 counties open to the hunters. Each year new counties have been added until the state now boasts 37 counties which will be open this year.

The counties holding open seasons this year are: Floyd, Crittenden, Livingston, Lyon, Caldwell, Hopkins, Christian, Trigg, Meade, Breckinridge, Hardin, Bullitt, Nelson, Hart, Edmonson, Barren, Metcalfe, Cumberland, Pulaski, McCreary, Laurel, Jackson, Clay, Leslie, Perry, Breathitt, Knott, Fleming, Lewis, Rowan, Letcher, Rockcastle, Estill, Lee, Powell, Greenup and Harlan.

The impact of this long-awaited deer season on Kentucky hunters has been terrific. And for good reason. With the deer herd ranging over the 50,000 mark, both the amateur and the veteran hunters are assured of a good chance at the trophy buck this fall.

Last year's kill numbered over 2,000, and with the increase in the

MAMMOTH CAVE

Mammoth Cave, one of nature's most awesome wonders, is one of the largest caves in the world. Containing five different levels, the cave has over 175 miles of chartered avenues. Discovered in 1799, the cave first gained national fame during the War of 1812, when it was a major source of salt petre to supply gun powder for the American soldiers.

NO ADDITIONAL TAXES NECESSARY!

We, the undersigned Floyd county business firms, endorse the Road and Parks Bond Issue.

This is our hope. Talk later will not do the job.

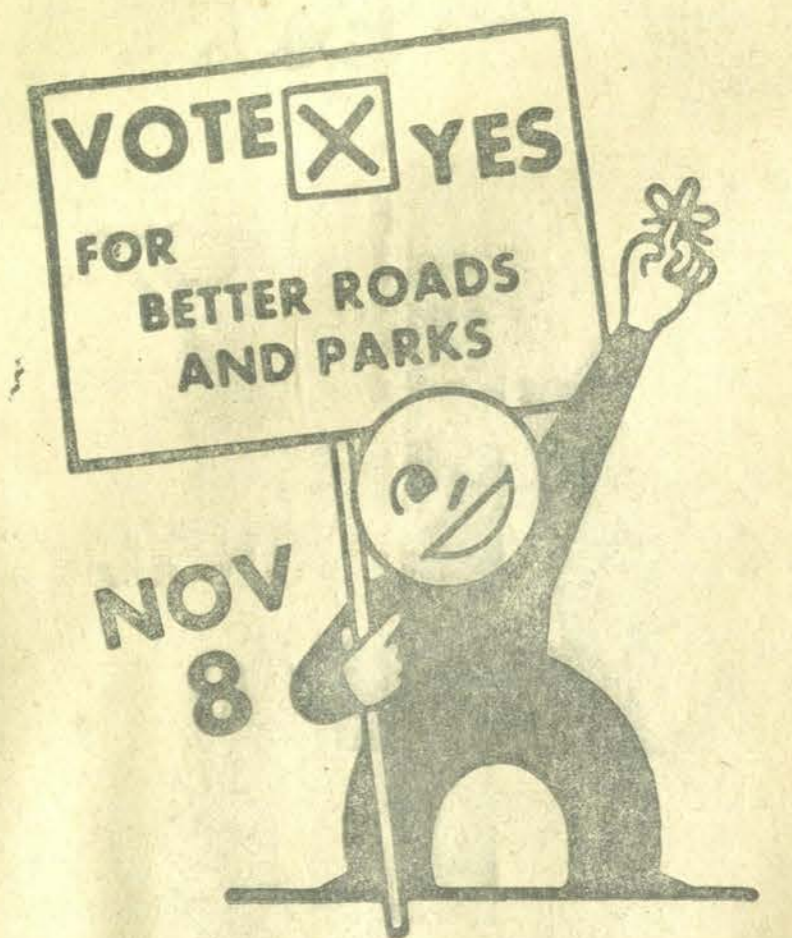

Only by voting this bond issue can the people of Kentucky see that their state has the funds needed to benefit from Federal Aid on highways.

This Bond Issue will not add to our taxes—the gasoline tax, users of the highways pay the bill.

We are unwilling to let our gasoline tax and other present revenues planned for good roads fail of their purpose. $1 now will get us $9 from the Federal government on Federal Aid highways. $1 later will be just $1—and the Federal Aid will not be available.

The help Kentucky can thus get from the Federal Funds will leave most of our other highway funds untouched and available for improvement of rural roads and state-highways that are not eligible for Federal Aid.

This Bond Issue makes sense—let's be sensible, too—let us all work for and vote, "Yes," on the plan to get Kentucky and our own part of Kentucky on the road to progress.

Auxier Man Says 'Good Fortune' Prediction Cost Him $100 Bill

An elderly Floyd county man has lost any faith he may have had in fortune-tellers, and the husband of such an alleged seeress is probably wishing she had engaged in some other profession.

This new outlook for the two resulted when R. F. Crider, of the Dewey Lake vicinity, lost $100 last Sunday morning and when a man listed as Pet Green later wound up in the county jail here.

Mr. Crider told County Judge Henry Stumbo this story:

Last Sunday morning he and his wife left their home near Goble ranch to walk to Auxier, and en route a shower drove them to shelter at Terry's boat dock. There they met a man and a woman whom Crider described as looking "like a gypsy." When the Criders were ready to resume their trip the couple offered them a ride to Auxier. On the way the woman told Crider she told fortunes and said if he would let her hold two $1 bills in her hand she would tell his fortune, then return the bills to him.

Crider said he had two $1 bills and a $100 bill in his pocketbook and that the woman, somehow, gained possession of all three bills. She told him she foresaw for him good fortune, and that not far away, and admonished him not to tell anybody of her prognostication. Then she returned two bills to him.

It was not until he and his wife had left the car at Auxier and the other couple with their two children had driven away that Crider discovered that the $100 bill was missing and that he had—the woman had promised him—received back from her two $1 bills.

Upshot of the matter was, Judge Stumbo issued a John Doe warrant, the man listed as Green was arrested at Frenchburg and was returned here by Policeman Kelly Frasure, of Prestonsburg.

The prisoner's arraignment has been set for Friday. Meanwhile, the woman remains at liberty.

Mayor Francis Named To Serve As Chairman Of National Observance

Mayor David L. Francis, of Huntington, president of the Princess Coal and Sales Co., will serve as an industry chairman for the 20th annual observance of National Bible Week, October 17-23.

He will be one of 150 executives over the country who will aid Edward C. Werle, chairman of the board, New York Stock Exchange, and national chairman for this year's observance, who made the announcement.

Theme for National Bible week this year is "The Bible—Strength of our Nation." The observance is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., an interfaith organization whose purpose is to reawaken religious thought, to conduct a campaign of Bible reading and study and to encourage church, synagogue, and Sunday School attendance.

This year also marks the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Laymen's National Committee. The first observance of Bible Week was on Dec. 7, 1941.

Tracy Clifton, 58, Dies In Michigan; Was Floyd Native

Tracy Clifton, 58, 1840 VanWert road, R.D. 1, Albion, Mich., and a native of this county, died suddenly Sunday, Oct. 2.

Mr. Clifton had been working in the yard at his home and complained of feeling ill. Mrs. Clifton drove him to Sheldon Memorial hospital, where he was pronounced dead by Dr. Ralph A. Cram, deputy county medical examiner.

Born at Emma, on April 13, 1902, he was the son of George W. and Mary Patton Clifton. He attended the Emma public schools and on April 1, 1937, was married to Mrs. Sullia Ousley at Pikeville.

For 31 years prior to coming to Albion on July 27, 1943, Mr. Clifton was employed by the Elkhorn Coal Co., at Wayland. At Albion he had been employed at the Albion Malleable Iron Co., as a machinist.

Surviving besides his widow, are a son, Arthur Clifton, Garden City, Mich., two daughters, Mrs. Byron Hannah, Englewood, Calif., and Mrs. William F. Hoag, Springport, Mich.; a brother, Thomas Clifton, Baltimore, Md., three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Smith, Banner, Mrs. Lula Gilbert, Soldier, Mrs. Sally Ratcliff, Martin, and nine grandchildren.

A son, Pfc. John Clifton, died May 31, 1948, while serving with the armed forces in Berlin, Germany.

Funeral rites were held at the King and Herigel Funeral Home at Albion, the Rev. Floyd E. Northrop officiating. Burial was made at Clarence Center cemetery.

Keep a Tried & True Friend of the Farmer in the Senate

Kentucky farmers know Senator Cooper's record—his farm votes, legislation he has successfully introduced for them, and his leadership to protect them and help them. Here is part of that record:

Senator Cooper works for tobacco growers

● Author in 1948 with Senator Barkley of the amendment which gives tobacco growers their fixed 90% of parity support prices. This law has added millions of dollars to Kentucky farm income—benefiting also hundreds of businesses in tobacco counties.

● Author in 1960 with North Carolina's Senator Jordan of the successful bill—introduced at the request of the Kentucky Farm Bureau and all tobacco organizations—to promote larger sales of burley and dark leaf at home and abroad. This law keeps tobacco supports at 90% of 1959 parity—a good year—with higher support prices when farmers' costs go up.

● Co-author of Public Law 480—under which 280 million pounds of tobacco have been sold abroad, and new markets created for Kentucky leaf. Senator Cooper has worked with the burley and dark leaf cooperatives to increase tobacco exports, and is fighting restrictive duties by foreign countries against our tobacco.

Senator Cooper's work, and the willingness of tobacco growers to keep their program sound, have made our tobacco program the best farm program—and have raised the average price farmers receive for their burley from 50¢ a pound in 1952 to 61¢ last year.

Senator Cooper works for all the farmer's programs

Senator Cooper has secured needed funds for the ACP conservation program, Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, Forest Service, small watersheds agricultural research, brucellosis eradication, corn soil bank, bookmobile and other farm programs.

He has successfully worked, spoken and voted for higher dairy price supports, the school lunch and school milk programs, protection of the small-farmer exemption from wheat quotas, the wool program with incentive payments, the new farmer's choice cotton program, and farm credit programs for small farmers.

Senator Cooper works for REA & TVA

The Kentucky REA co-ops adopted a resolution at their last annual convention declaring: "Outstanding in his leadership in the Senate has been Senator John Sherman Cooper." They did so because Senator Cooper has fought for REA, stood by their 2% interest rate, helped secure loans to build their two power generating plants, and loans for local rural electric cooperatives. And Senator Cooper's initiation of the successful TVA self-financing bill has assured Kentucky REA co-ops adequate direct and exchange power.

Senator Cooper can protect and help farmers

Because of his leadership for farmers, Senator Cooper was made a member in 1960 of the Senate Committee on Agriculture—and its Subcommittees on REA and Farm Credit. All farm and REA legislation must come before this important committee for its decisions. That is why Senator Cooper says:

"I am in the best and strongest position to protect our tobacco and REA programs—and to do more than ever to advance farmers' income."
