It will soon be time to summarize your family's spending records for the year. This will help you to make better plans about family money management next year. If your family hasn't kept records this year, plan to start January 1 keeping simple records of family income and expenses.

A contract for construction of a science building at Mayo State Vocational School, in the amount of $308,350, was awarded last week to the G. Marus Jones Company, of Morristown, Tennessee. The project is to start within the next few days, George L. Ramsey announced.

The project is scheduled to be completed in 320 calendar days from the date of the work order which is expected to be issued this week, Ramsey said.

The new building will consist of a two-story classroom-laboratory unit and a one-story library wing. The new building will contain 22-839 square feet of space. It will be built of brick.

The physics laboratory for which equipment has been purchased, will be the most modern in the state, and will offer opportunities to Mayo for scientific studies not now available. The library is planned along the rear of the building on Church street, and will have space for 10,000 volumes.

The air conditioned assembly and demonstration room will seat 196 persons.

The soldier stammered that he had never prayed, had never learned to read or write, didn't know how to pray.

"All the more reason you should," said Jackson, "The Lord might harken to you better than us."

The Kentuckian bared his head and began. This was his prayer:

"God, if you've a mind to, give us Your blessing this day and help us to whip the tar out of them... uh... onery redcoats! But, if You can't help us, then please stand aside, oh, Lord—and watch the gold-dangest fight that was ever fit. Amen!"

MORE ROOFING NEEDED

Any person who has ever traveled by train through the Breaks of Sandy will appreciate this story, which also is told as true. The train had ducked in and out of tunnels, all the way, and when it finally pulled into the Virginia station where she was going a passenger asked an elderly mountain woman how she like the trip.

"Fine, fine!" she exclaimed. "And it'll be even better when they get the rest of the roof on."

CHARITY

The people of the western world are reminded that starving Chinese need food, and if we let our hatred of Communism blind us to the plight of starving human beings there's something terribly wrong with us. But we are reminded of the irony of some facts:

In the face of famine at home, Red China has shipped more than 100,000 tons of rice to Cuba; 150,000 tons to Guinea and what amounts to millions of dollars in foodstuffs to Ceylon. And from Ceylon they're getting in exchange rubber, which will not fill an empty stomach—but which is very valuable when a nation begins stockpiling for war.

The biblical meaning of "charity" is "love." In that case, charity certainly should begin at home for the Chinese.

Martin Citizens Group Holds Community Meet; From Is Guest Speaker

The Martin Citizens Advisory Committee met Dec. 4 at 7:30 with about 30 interested citizens present. The purpose of the meeting was three-fold: (1) To emphasize the importance of citizen participation in a community improvement program. (2) To elect officers and set up sub-committees for 1962. (3) To set up a tentative schedule of program activities including meeting dates and topics.

To emphasize citizen participation there was a short talk by William D. Froman, of the Department of Economic Development, Frankfurt, in which he outlined the major components of citizen participation. He concluded by showing a film illustrating the many methods applicable to urban renewal.

Further emphasis came in the form of a short talk by Rev. Harold Dicks, of the Arnold Avenue Church of Christ, at Prestonsburg, in which he gave his experience in working with our neighbor community.

T. J. Allen and Mrs. Dorothy Allen were elected to serve as vice-chairman and secretary, respectively. Sub-committees were established, and a program agreed upon.

situations arise those handling the department controlling any individual matter may take action without awaiting a Council meeting. Individual problems, under the system, would go to the Council as a whole only if they could not otherwise be handled.

Mrs. R. V. May, Council president, received achievement reports from chairmen of the Park Development, Transportation, Recreation, City Beautification, Industrial Development and Utilities and City Services committees.

Reviewing the Jenny Wiley State Park development, Marvin Music said 10 additional vacation cottages have been approved there and that it is hoped to have the road from U.S. 23 to the park widened and improved by the time the lodge now under construction is ready for opening about June 1.

The Rev. Harold Dicks reported on highway construction, and Burl Spurlock and C. B. Latta reviewed the work toward an airport, pointing out that the hilltop site in the Dewey Lake area is highly acceptable to both state and federal agencies. Money, however, is the big problem. Federal aid will not be available until after the airport is completed. Latta said the establishing of the Prestonsburg Development Corporation, an original aim of the Development Council, has been effected and that another, the strawberry processing plant, will be a reality next season. A part of the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad building here has been leased to house the plant.

Dr. Edward B. Leslie, present mayor who will be a member of the new City Council, reported that the contract on construction of low-rent public housing units here is scheduled for letting, February 20.

Lloyd Warns Claimants Application For Bonus Must Be Made by Dec. 31

Kentucky Adjutant Gen. Arthur Y. Lloyd, administrator of the state's veterans' bonus, has warned bonus claimants that time is running out for filing applications.

"The deadline for filing application for the Kentucky veterans' bonus is December 31, 1961," Lloyd said. "That means that applications postmarked later than midnight, December 31, cannot be accepted. They will have to be returned to the sender if they are postmarked in 1962."

Application blanks may be obtained at most courthouses, at most veterans' service posts and at local Red Cross offices, or by writing to the Veterans Division, Kentucky Department of Military Affairs, P. O. Box 600, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Applications received as of last week totalled 381,284, and of these 262,691 had been paid by December 1.

VICTORY over fuel system icing

NEWS ITEM: Washington—The Air Force has approved the use of a new chemical additive to prevent in-flight difficulties from ice formation in jet aircraft fuel systems. This additive is an exclusive development of Phillips Petroleum Company.

In your car Phillips 66 also provides anti-icing protection with a specially developed additive

Flying miles high in the stratosphere, where temperatures can drop to 70° below zero, SAC bombers will rely on a Phillips Anti-Icing additive to guard against in-flight fuel system freeze-ups. This additive is approved for use in all military jet aircraft.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goble are parents of a daughter, born in Sacramento, California, on Oct. 6. The babe has been named Erin Jeanne. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bresee, of Kansas City, Kansas. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Larcy Goble, of Emma.

The Kentucky legislature 100 years ago this week elected Garrett Davis of Bourbon county to the United States Senate to take the place of John C. Breckinridge of Lexington, who had become a brigadier general in the Confederate States Army—and was destined to be promoted major general and eventually to be Secretary of War in President Jefferson Davis's cabinet. While Breckinridge was still serving as vice president of the United States, in the administration immediately preceding Lincoln's, the legislature then sitting had elected him to a six-year Senate term to begin March 4, 1861.

Thus Breckinridge, who had been elected vice president at 35, when he was defeated for the presidency by Abraham Lincoln in the fall of 1860, had a six-year term in the U. S. Senate awaiting him, to begin at the expiration of his term as vice president. He took his seat and remained in Washington several months, but resigned that fall to enter the Confederate Army. Thereafter, he was "expelled" by the Senate.

Garrett Davis, a former Whig congressman, had been the leading civilian co-operating with Gen. William Nelson in smuggling 10,000 "Lincoln guns" into Kentucky during the period when the Commonwealth was officially neutral and distributing them to Union sympathizers. In a caucus of Unionist members of the legislature to elect a successor to Breckinridge, Davis won over James Guthrie of Louisville, 46 to 45. He was then elected over William Johnson of Scott county, 84 to 12.

George W. Johnson, who had been named provisional Confederate governor of Kentucky by the Russellville convention, wrote a letter to the Louisville Journal saying he would gladly resign "whenever the regularly elected governor (Beriah Magoffin) shall escape from his virtual imprisonment at Frankfort." Governor Magoffin, although he was a Southern sympathizer, repudiated this suggestion and condemned the acts of the Russellville convention, saying, "My position is and has been and will continue to be, to abide by the will of the majority of the people of the state."

Kentucky having been admitted to the Confederacy, Thomas B. Monroe and Henry C. Burnett took their seats in the C. S. Senate at Richmond as the state's senators.

In an amazing example of reckless reporting, the Louisville Journal printed an unfounded rumor under the headline, "Insanity of Gen. William T. Sherman." Until Nov. 13, Sherman had been commander of all Union forces in Kentucky, with headquarters at Louisville. The Journal said he had "evinced evidences of insanity before he left this city" and "at one time he telegraphed the War Department three times in one day for permission to evacuate Kentucky and retreat into Indiana. . . . When relieved of the command in Kentucky, he was sent to Missouri . . . where the shocking fact that he was a madman was developed . . . He has, of course, been relieved of all command."

DRIFT

CLUB DISCUSSES CAREER DAY

The Drift Woman's Club met at the Turner Elkhorn office building, December 4, with Mrs. James Reed as hostess. Mrs. C. J. Cahill, president, presided. Mrs. Kenneth Taber gave an interesting report on her committee's Career Day at McDowell high school on November 23 where 16 professions were discussed by professional men and women.

The proposals to donate money to the T.B. fund and the McDowell Boosters Club were voted on and passed. Plans were made to display the Nativity Scene at the Drift ball park again this year.

The roll call was answered by the following: Miss Ruby Akers, Mrs. Bobby Hall, Miss Josephine Knox, Mrs. B. F. Reed, Mrs. Isabelle Reed, Mrs. Glenn Ward, Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. Sam Martin, Mrs. Clyde Moore, Mrs. Ward Reed, Mrs. McKinley Little, Mrs. Bill Lawson, Mrs. Clarence Turner, Mrs. Katie DeVeechio, Mrs. Kenneth Taber, Mrs. C. J. Cahill, Mrs. Jim Reed, and guests, Mrs. Bernard Huss, Miss Lucy Barnes and Mrs. Fein.

The next meeting will be the Christmas party held at the office with Miss Grace Reeder as hostess.

Prelegislative Meet Hears Governor Combs State Kentucky Needs

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 8 (Sp.) — Gov. Bert Combs called the next session of the Kentucky General Assembly "the most important in a quarter of a century" as he previewed it with state senators and representatives in two prelegislative conferences.

Combs said measures adopted by the last Legislature are "hanging in the balance." He went on to call the sales tax, adopted at the outset of his administration, necessary for continued progress. Combs backed his plea to retain the tax by pointing out that eight states enacted, increased or removed exemptions from sales taxes last year.

Then Combs asked General Assembly members to make sacrifices and "even risk political oblivion" to protect Kentucky's new progressive programs when the session convenes January 2.

He met with members of the Senate at Cumberland Falls last weekend; the previous week-end he was at Kentucky Dam Village in Western Kentucky to meet with members of the House of Representatives.

Both two-day meetings were highlighted by discussions of measures which Combs expects to arise during the session. This included legislation on restricting, more regulation for industrial loan companies, changes in the absentee voting law, control over automobile junkyards and aid to the Kentucky Training Home for the mentally retarded in Frankfort. He called the present condition of the home "a disgrace to Kentucky."

Robert F. Matthews, Jr., Finance Department commissioner, presented a tentative budget picture for the next biennium. He praised the current budget as one that has "done more to improve the quality of our state-supported programs than any other budget in the history of Kentucky."

Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt also was on hand to describe the workings of the Legislative Research Commission.

Fallout Shelter Plan Outlined by Engineers;
Shannon Attends Meet

Frankfort, Dec. 8 (Sp.)—The United States Army Corps of Engineers will soon award the first contracts in a program to pinpoint buildings, mines, quarries, caves and similar sites throughout Kentucky which may be used as fallout shelters.

Kentucky Adjutant Gen. Arthur Y. Lloyd, who has charge of the State's civil defense program, said the Louisville District of the Corps of Engineers has been assigned responsibility for supervising the survey in Kentucky and Indiana.

For purposes of the survey Kentucky is divided into 14 areas, each of approximately 200,000 population. Kentucky architect-engineer firms will be awarded contract to carry out the work. The firms will usually work in their own geographical regions. Personnel of firms awarded the contracts will take a two-week training course at Fort Belvoir, Va., before beginning the survey.

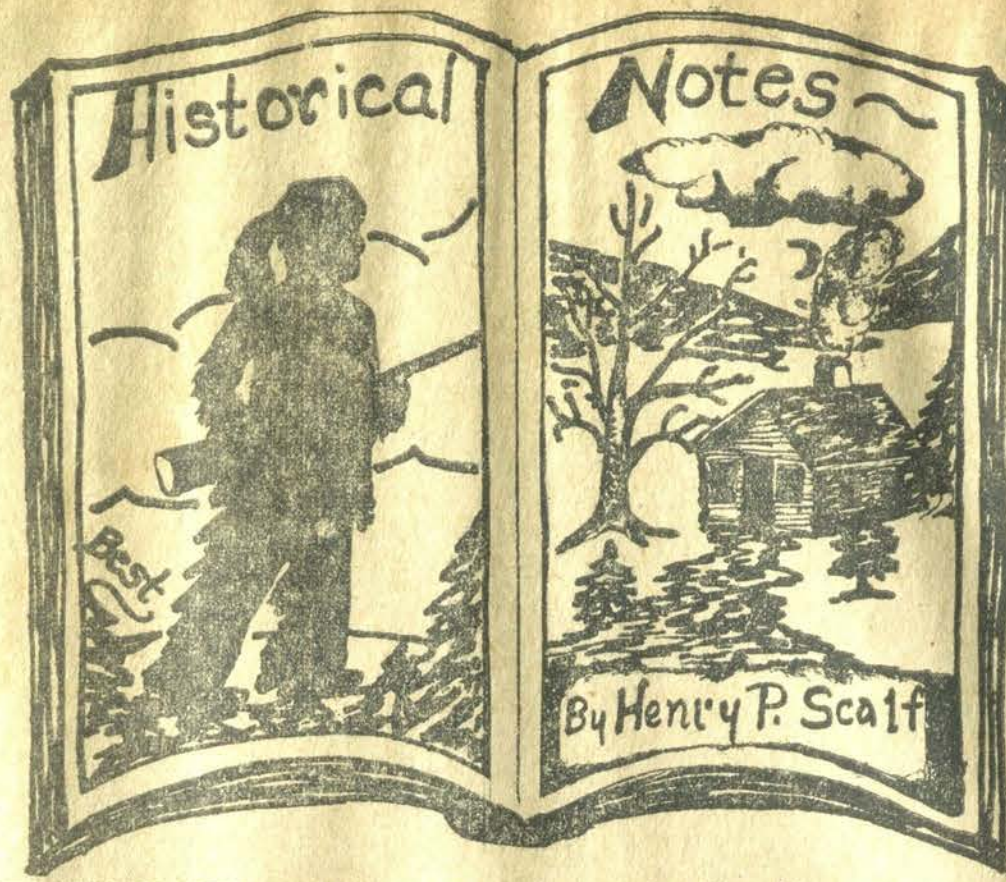

(George Lee Shannon, of Prestonsburg, and T. A. Combs, of Langley, will attend the Ft. Belvoir training sessions.)

Similar surveys are being made in each state. Results of the surveys, after processing by electronic computers, will be a detailed appraisal of each locality's fallout shelter possibilities.

The whole project, for which Congress has appropriated $93 million, will have three phases: 1. locating suitable buildings and natural shelters; 2. marking each location and determining what changes, if any, are needed to bring it up to the required standard and 3. actual adaptation of each site to its shelter requirements. The Army Corps of Engineers hopes to complete the project in 1962.

ENJOY TURKEY

Early American settlers enjoying turkey meat even before the first Thanksgiving dinner, but the native American bird made a round trip to Europe and back before it became a favorite food on New World tables. The name "turkey" arose from the mistaken idea in England that the bird came from Turkey.

FERGUSON CEMETERY

The Ferguson cemetery at Boldman, established following the Civil War on the lands of Dr. S. M. Ferguson, is high above U.S. 23 and from the site a beautiful view may be had of the surrounding countryside.

Many families of the area have availed themselves of this place of interment. Here are buried, besides the Fergusons, many members of these families: Cecil, Stone, Spears, Ratliff, Dameron, Foley, Thompson, Hopkins, Marrs, Hall, Branham, Sturill, Akers, Porter, Burchett, Daniel, Duvall, Beckelheimer, Ferrell and many others.

Here is the grave of Tandy M. Layne, with no date, but the inscription notes the following: "R. Q. M. Sgt. 39th Ky. Inf." He served under Dr. Ferguson in the Civil War when the physician was lieutenant colonel of the 39th Kentucky Volunteer Infantry of the Union forces.

More recent are the graves of Rev. Carl Leyna, revered minister of the area, born 1903, died 1958. His son Roy, is buried nearby. He was born 1928, died 1951.

Dr. Ferguson, his grave and that of his wife marked by imposing stones, is buried in the older section of the cemetery and others of the Ferguson family are buried nearby. Ferguson's stone has an inscription informing us that he was born in 1822, died 1904. He was a native of Russell county, Virginia, although that information is not on the stone. His wife, Lucinda Weddington Ferguson, was born 1830, died 1893.

Other Ferguson graves with stones and the information gleaned from them: J. Cam Ferguson, born January 27, 1850, died January 10, 1905; Benjamin D. Ferguson, born March 23, 1855, died February 4, 1915; and "Jane, wife of J. C. Ferguson," born March 2, 1858, died March 13, 1886.

FARMER AND GEAN FAMILIES

This is a continuation of information on the Farmer and Gean families of Kentucky, the data furnished by Oliver Haight, East St. Louis, Illinois. The first installment was published last week. Some of the members of the family were born at McDowell, Floyd county, Kentucky.

Mr. Haight's letter continues:

"It seems Harding Gean was born in South Carolina. They may have married there but the death certificate of the youngest child, Adeline Gray, says her father Harding was born in Virginia and her mother, Mary Painter Gean, was born in Germany. We have no proof of it yet but they (according to the 1860 Census) came to some place in Tennessee where the son Henry was born. The last two, John and Adeline, were born in Kentucky. It (Census) stated Adeline was born at McDowell, Kentucky.

"We have never before heard where in Kentucky the Farmers and Geans lived but felt it was close together as neighbors. Three of the Gean girls we know nothing about. Seems the oldest child, born 1825, would have been about 17 when son John was born in Kentucky, 1842. We know nothing of son Harry but he would have been the only one to carry the Gean family name if he had a family. We do know Sarah, Efferela, Henry, John and Adeline came to Illinois but nothing of the others. We know about their families here.

"We have no proof about old Acie Farmer and his wife except the stories their descendants tell. He still has a granddaughter living at age of 90. She was born in 1871. Acie's wife Hallie must have lived until near 1877. We know the family of John I. and James M. and of Mary Ann Aldener but we are not sure of the rest. I

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 172 in a Series)

THE EASTERN KENTUCKY MARTIN FAMILY

The Eastern Kentucky Martin family was founded in the Right Beaver Creek area in the first decade of the nineteenth century when William Martin settled near Wayland. Many of his descendants have lived on the ancestral land for generations.

Shown here is the late Walter Martin, of Wayland, and members of his family. The picture, made several years ago following a family picnic, shows, left to right: Mrs. Mary Ellen Morris, Winford Morris, Gilbert Williams, Walter Martin, Mrs. Archie Beverly, Mrs. Nancy Harmon, Mrs. Anna Williams, Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Rosezell Collins Martin, George Palmer Martin, Mrs. Phyllis Lockhart.

The First National Bank presents these pictures in recognition of our historic heritage and salutes the founding families that contributed much to the development of our section.

three nights a week...

Rural Electricity keeps this store's lights on!

This supermarket is located in a fairly large town in one of Kentucky's southwestern counties. In this town most of the housewives do their shopping in the daytime. But still the supermarket stays open three nights every week. Why?

Because farmers from the near and not-so-near rural areas like to shop at night... and the supermarket wants their business. And what makes the farmer such a "good" customer that supermarkets stay open extra hours just to get his business? There are many reasons... but one of the most important is low cost rural electricity.

When Kentucky's farms were first electrified a complete change in the farm's operation came about. Rural electricity lightened the farmer's work load... made his farm more efficient and profitable to operate... gave him more money to spend. And he spends it for goods and services sold in Kentucky's cities and towns.

Kentucky's farmers originally built their rural cooperatives for one purpose only... to get the electric power they could not buy elsewhere! Out of their cooperation has grown a force powerful enough to keep Kentucky's prosperity growing.

Martin Edges Prestonsburg, 60-58

Jesse Sammons, David Butler and Earl Collins paced the Martin Purple Flash to a 16-1 first quarter lead and then fought off a three-quarter rally by stubborn Prestonsburg to defeat the Black Cats 60-58 here Friday night.

Sammons with 19 points, Butler with 14 and Collins with 12 led the Flashes to a seemingly comfortable lead in the opening minutes, but the three top scorers soon saw their margin clipped to 27-23 at halftime and 43-42 at the end of the third quarter. But the victors managed to edge the Cats 17-16 in the finale for the triumph.

The Cats, who have won one game, have lost their last three by a combined total of 13 points. Bill Blackburn led the victims with 20 points and teammate James Ousley dumped in 13.

Wayland Clips Maytown, 83-77

Wayland took advantage of some poor Maytown first quarter shooting here Friday night and with Phil Coleman leading the way, notched its eighth win of the season, 83-77.

Maytown found the range in the second half and outscored the Wasps, 48-44, but Wayland had done too much damage in the first two periods. Coleman, who finished with 30 points, was not in the second and fourth quarters, netting 12 and 10, respectively. Bronley Williams scored 21 for the winners. INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT
Prestonsburg high school's second annual invitational basketball tournament promises to be a gala affair, with four of the state's top-ranked teams and 15 trophies to be presented in connection with the event.

In Wednesday's opening game at 7 p.m., Paintsville (2-1) clashes with Oil Springs (4-2), and in the second, host Prestonsburg (1-2) vies with Ashland Fairview (8-3).

Thursday's games have Newport Public (4-0) set to meet the Purple Flash of Martin (5-3) at 7 p.m., and in the final game of the first round Meade Memorial (6-1) squares against McDowell (11-1).

Newport Public is rated one of the ten best teams in the state and is tabbed as the best team in the ninth region.

Pete Grigsby's McDowell Dare Devils are the winningest team in the state with a 11-1 record, and Meade Memorial has suffered only a two-point loss in seven games.

Fairview is listed a notch behind Ashland and Holy Family in the 16th region. Defending P. I. T. champion Martin has not jelled to the extent coach Denzil Halbert would like at this stage of the season.

The semi-finals will be held at 7 and 8:45 p.m. Friday and the finals at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Official timer is Frank Heinze and scorer Johnny Ellis, both of Prestonsburg. Two of the referees will be Foster Meade, South Portsmouth, and E. B. May, Jr., Prestonsburg, with two more to be named this week.

The trophy list is elsewhere on the sports page.

The second statewide high school basketball ratings have two 15th region teams in the top ten. Arthur Mullins' Elkhorn City Cougars are second, and Virgie is ninth. Both are in the 57th district.

After Elkhorn City and Virgie in the region, Wayland, McDowell, Meade Memorial, Martin, Prestonsburg and Inez follow in that order.

TIME-SAVERS

Much of today's food cost goes for "built-in" services—things that save time in the kitchen. According to one study, about 8 percent of our evening meals are table-ready in less than 15 minutes; 30 percent take 15 to 30 minutes; and 35 percent take from 30 to 60 minutes. Truly, a lot of the work has been taken out of meal preparation, but we pay for the added convenience.

FRESH PORK

Many farmers are now preparing to kill hogs. Everyone looks forward to a mess of good fresh pork. Nothing is better than a plate of fried pork loin.

A good recipe to use in dry sugar cure of hams, shoulder and bacon is made of 7½ pounds of salt, 2½ pounds of sugar, and 2 ounces of saltpeter. This amount of mixture will cure 100 pounds of meat. For best results weigh meat and mixture. Divide the mixture in three parts. Rub ⅓ of mixture of the cuts and pack in a box or on a table. Three days later rub on another part of the mixture. Let it cure three more days and rub on the remaining curing mixture. After the cuts have been in cure 10-12 days remove the shoulders, bacon, and all lightweight cuts. Remove 10-12 pound hams in two weeks and larger hams in three weeks. No piece of less than twenty pounds need be left in cure longer than twenty-one days. Pieces weighing more than twenty pounds should be left in cure 1½ days per pound. After curing, remove the meat, wash it in lukewarm water, then smoke.

For more information on "Hog Killing and Curing," get a free copy of our circular at the Extension office.

STRAWBERRIES

Anyone planning to set strawberries next spring should plow their ground this winter. If manure is to be used, this should be spread before plowing. Leave the land rough after plowing, which will help to conserve the soil and increase the amount of water soaking into the soil.

TREES

Don't wait until it is too late to sign up for trees this year. The deadline for signing up for trees is December 31. Go to the ASC office now and fill out the necessary forms. A little over 1,000 acres were set to trees last year. There are still several thousand acres of abandoned farms, eroded hillside and brush cover fields that should be set to trees.

RICE, CASSEROLE FOODS

Rice is a good teammate for other tasty and colorful foods, especially in a casserole. Fluffy rice is a perfect background for all casserole-bound foods—meat, fish, poultry, cheese, eggs and vegetables. Since casseroles are easy-to-serve fall favorites, and since rice is plentiful at groceries now, why not have a casserole with rice often? Many different kinds of casseroles can be made that will please your family. For example, here's the recipe for a cheesy rice and meat ball casserole, as given by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

For serving four, season one pound ground beef with salt, pepper, chopped onion, and nutmeg. Shape into meat balls. Brown the meat balls in a small amount of butter. Remove the meat and pour the remaining butter into a 1½ quart casserole. Add 2½ to three cups cooked rice and stir in one cup of graded cheddar cheese and one cup of sour cream. Place the meat balls on top, cover and bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

Lexington, Ky.—Do you know the best home storage methods for foods? Different foods keep best with different kinds of care. A new U. S. Dwarfism Becoming Problem In East Kentucky Beef Herds

BY NEVILLE SHACKELFORD

Quicksand, Ky. — Until recently the incidence of "dwarfism" among beef cattle herds here in Eastern Kentucky has been extremely rare. According to livestock authorities, however, the defect has shown up in all breeds for many years.

But now, according to Dr. Charles Martin, livestock specialist for the Eastern Kentucky Resource Development Project here, "dwarfism" is becoming so prevalent as to constitute problems for Eastern Kentucky beef producers.

Dwarf or midget calves are produced by normal appearing cows and bulls which may also produce normal offspring. This ability of dwarf production is transmitted from one generation to the next and the only way to prevent such occurrences is to eliminate "carriers" or animals which have produced midgets.

Dwarf production, says Dr. Martin can not be corrected by feeding or medication. It can be defeated only through "progeny testing" or by using "sons of sires" that have been progeny tested and found to be dwarf free.

Progeny testing is mating a bull to a specified number of cows which have produced dwarf calves or twice the number of unselected daughters of bulls or cows which have produced dwarfs.

A dwarf calf is somewhat of a curiosity. It may be a "long-head" or a "shorter". In either case, such a freak is undesirable. The snorter is extremely blocky, low-set, with heavy-boned legs. Its movements are wobbly and uncoordinated, and it wheezes or snorts because breathing is difficult.

The long-head has a long narrow head and a thick compact body, but appears to breathe normally. Both have a slow rate of growth and are short of life. Each birth of a dwarf calf means a reduction in profits from the herd and with a dwarf producing sire, these births happen frequently.

Dr. Martin says that now all breed associations have a program to combat dwarfism. They are urging all breeders to be completely honest in dealing with fellow breeders and not to sell "carrier" animals or calves from known "carriers" for breeding purposes.

The more progressive purebred breeders, Dr. Martin says, are progeny testing and cleaning up their herds and offer for sale only those bulls with which they can supply a dwarf-free guarantee.

Dr. Martin warns all Eastern Kentucky beef producers to secure such a guarantee with any breeding stock they may purchase.

CORN PRODUCTION

Lexington, Ky.—Is there a possibility that Kentucky farmers could benefit by producing more white corn? Yes, say D. M. Shufflett and Clyde T. Bates, UK Experiment Station economists. For instance: In a 20-year period, Bates discovered in a check of price records, white corn ranged anywhere from 20 cents to 30 cents a bushel higher in price than yellow corn.

CEREALS IMPORTANT

Cereals provide more than a third of the thiamine (vitamin B-1) in average U. S. diets; a fourth or more of the niacin (another essential B-vitamin), iron and calories; and a fifth of the protein—and cereals are economical, too. Getting enough thiamine is difficult unless some enriched or whole grain breads and cereals are eaten daily, according to USDA nutritionists.

KNOX WINTER WHEAT

Lexington, Ky. — Monon winter wheat variety was top yielder of six such recommended varieties in tests last season at Bowling Green, the University of Kentucky Agriculture Experiment Station agronomy department said this week.
