FEBRUARY 2, 1961

This Town-- That World

Twenty years from now listen for those who were youngsters in 1961 to swear the winters are not as severe as they were in the old days. If you're not too busy making the same sort of declaration to hear them.

The beautiful, beautiful snow has lain for two weeks now and it may last several days longer.

PREDICTIONS
The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club has dubbed Woodrow Burchett its Old Man Mose. He is official club prognosticator and is said to have batted .999 last year with his predictions of things to come. So we list some of his forecasts for 1961, as reported by the Kiwanis Bulletin:

The United States will be on the brink of war several times but the times will not come in '61 when we make swords out of plowshares.

There will be some new faces in the courthouse.

There will be new city government officials.

The East-West highway will be started.

The Browns and Dodgers will have a better season.

Prestonsburg high school will have a new football stadium.

The groundhog will see his shadow.

There will be more defeated candidates in '61.

(To which we might add: There will be more candidates period.)

STATE SLATES LODGE BIDS

At Jenny Wiley Park; Second Dock Planned On Lake, Is Report

Gov. Bert Combs announced last week that the state will advertise for bids for construction of a 35-room lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park, Dewey Lake, by March 15.

Bids will be asked on lodges at seven other state parks at the same time, the Governor added.

The new lodge at Dewey Lake as well as the other similar projects will be completed in time for the 1962 tourist season, it was said. Plans for the Jenny Wiley State Park lodge are now nearing completion.

The lodge will be built on Hemlock Point, near state boat dock, and will overlook the lake.

Also to be built this year at Jenny Wiley State Park will be 10 additional vacation cottages, a nine-hole golf course, a swimming pool for lodge guests and an amphitheatre for presentation of the Jenny Wiley outdoor drama.

A second state dock on the lake, to be located at or near Goble Branch, has been reported.

GOVERNOR COMBS HERE FOR PLANNING MEET

ROADS, PARKS AMONG TOPICS TALKED HERE

Hedgehopping Operation On Big Highway Arm In Plans, Group Is Told

The Prestonsburg Community Development Council had an interesting and interesting guest at its Wednesday luncheon meeting at the Wise Restaurant.

The visitor was Gov. Bert Combs, and after hearing committee chairman report on work being done he told the gathering: "I think you're on the right track. I want you to keep strong and active."

Highways, parks, employment—these were the main topics discussed by the Governor during his brief talk and later in answer to questions.

Of the East Kentucky toll road he said the bonding company's representative was expected in Frankfort Wednesday afternoon. "Tomorrow we expect him to make an offer." He expressed the hope that the offer would be acceptable. Then he added in jest:

"I'm going to Florida anyway—if we don't sell these bonds, I may just stay."

Governor Combs said the toll road section, Winchester to Campton, had claimed most of his attention because of the task of making the bond sale. When the bonds are sold, work will begin immediately on that part of the Bluegrass-to-the-Mountains highway. Then more attention can be turned to the two prongs on into Prestonsburg and Hazard and Whitesburg in the other.

He said he could not give a definite timetable on work on these two prongs of the big undertaking.

FARM OUTLET PLANS MADE

Two Story Structure Envisioned By Promoter As Agricultural Assist

If plans developing here fully mature, a building to centralize all phases of agricultural development and to house a strawberry processing plant and possibly other farm products outlets will be constructed here.

The structure would be 70x100 feet and of two stories. The first floor would be used for the strawberry processing plant assured Prestonsburg if a sufficient acreage in Floyd and adjoining counties is devoted to strawberries. This first floor also may be used for 4-H Club events and other farm gatherings and perhaps as an outlet for hand-craft and farm products. The second floor would be devoted to office space for the several agencies serving Floyd farm interests—the County Extension Department, the Agricultural Stabilization Committee (ASC), the Soil Conservation Department and perhaps others.

Rental of office space would amortize over a period of years the cost of the building, according to this plan.

Work toward such a center has been undertaken by C. B. Latta, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee of the Prestonsburg Community Development Council, and County Agent Robert Jones. The Kentucky Industrial Finance Authority, Frankfort, will advance 30% of the building cost. Mr. Latta was told in an interview with its director, Richard Houpe. More encouraging still was the offer of 10% advance of the total cost made by Robert K. Landrum, Louisville, director of the Kentucky Business Development Corporation, a private organization formed to provide capital for industrial and community development.

The proposed structure had its origin in the Prestonsburg Community Development Council, and Latta became interested as chairman of the Council's committee on Industrial Development.

Cunningham Family Injured In Accident In Ohio Tuesday Night

Mr. and Mrs. August Cunningham and their two children were injured—two seriously—in Columbus, Ohio, Tuesday night of last week when their auto was rammed at a traffic light. Mrs. Cunningham is the former Alta Alene McGuire, daughter of Gyp McGuire.

Condition of their three-year-old daughter, who suffered a skull fracture, was critical last week. Mrs. Cunningham was unconscious for a time following the crash but was believed out of danger. Injuries to Mr. Cunningham and their son were not so severe.

It was said here that their car was hit by a drunken driver who ran a red light.

REPORT NOTES COAL DECLINE

Production Is Down First January Week; Decrease Continues

Production of coal in the field represented by the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association skidded as expected the first week in January due chiefly to New Year's holiday but it had not fully recovered by the week ending Jan. 21.

Tonnage was off 14.55 percent during New Year's week but approximately doubled the next week. However, the loss in production was still eight percent for the week which ended Jan. 14. This loss amounted to 37,470 tons compared to the corresponding period last year. The loss of 11 percent during the Jan. 21 week represented 77,480 tons.

No reason is assigned by the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association for the decline in production compared with last year but sources close to the mines cited the inclement weather as a factor.

Only three mines have worked a full five day week since Jan. 1, the report shows. None put in a full week ending Jan. 7 but for the next week Princess Elkhorn No. 2, at David, and Stephens Elkhorn at Manton had full weeks. For the next week ending Jan. 21, only Island Creek Coal Company worked full time. Some of the mines were down to one day per week.

For the corresponding period last year ending the third week of January the Association operators produced 13,916 cars of 50 tons average each. For the same period this year the tonnage dropped to 12,366 cars.

BOWLING CENTER HERE IN LOCAL GROUP PLANS

Construction will begin within the next few days here on a building which will house the largest bowling center east of Lexington, it was announced Tuesday.

The center will offer 24 bowling lanes with automatic pin-setters and other modern equipment, it was said by Roger Colvin, one of a group of Prestonsburg men who will install and operate the recreation equipment.

The building will be constructed by Dr. George P. Archer and Ed Music on their lot at Lancer. The structure is planned to cover 75x250 feet and to have both central

SUITS FILED ASK $20,500

And Increased Damages; Negligence, Carelessness Alleged In All Cases

Two new damage suits filed within the week in circuit court here ask a total of $20,500, and an earlier suit was amended to almost double the amount of damages originally sought.

Mrs. Dess Bolen Lee's damage suit against Radford K. Barnett in the automobile death near here of her husband, Norman Lee, was amended to ask a total of $102,500 damages. The action originally asked $51,500.

In one of the two new actions Emma Lou and Arlen Isaac seek to recover $10,000 from Wayne Salisbury for injuries suffered by both Dec. 28. Their petition, prepared by Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley, contends Salisbury so negligently operated his truck as to cause the collision which destroyed their car, broke Mrs. Isaac's ankle and her husband's hand.

Mose Evans, in the other action, sues Jink Johnson, Bill Evans and Indemnity Insurance Company of North America for $10,500. Negligence and carelessness of Johnson, employee of Bill Evans, caused the auto of the latter to collide with another car near Grethel, October 29, injuring Mose Evans, the petition claims. The insurance company was named a defendant as insurer of Bill Evans not to exceed $500. The suit was prepared by Atty. W. W. Burchett.

CLASS WORK STUDY SET

Project 500 Envisioned Opportunity To Observe Classroom Techniques

Teachers from six Floyd county schools will leave by buses for Morehead State College Monday and upon arrival there will assemble at Breckinridge Training school building to officially launch Project 500.

Project 500, named for the approximate number of teachers in the county system, is the beginning of fulfillment of the desires of the vast majority of teachers. They want to see teaching practices by highly qualified specialists in the classroom. Teachers going Monday are but the first contingent of those participating. Before the week is out all in this county will have gone.

Walter Frasure, assistant county superintendent, and Clem Martin, supervisor, have been working on Project 500 for weeks. Teachers have been expressing for a long time a wish to see it done and as a first step they were polled by the supervisory staff. The teachers voted three to one in the affirmative.

Consultants and specialists are easy to get to demonstrate teaching skills in the elementary and intermediate grade fields but higher than that they were unavailable. Since it was impossible to bring these teachers to the Floyd county instructors, Frasure made a Mahomet-mountain decision. He would take the teachers to Morehead.

Frasure pointed out that Project 500 will offer the system's teachers an opportunity to observe the best techniques in the classrooms in grades one through 12.

Bus service is free to the teachers who will be paid for their day. Schools will be closed only for the teachers the day of the Morehead visit. Other schools will remain open until the day

State Police Alerted To Maintain Lookout For Stolen Chevrolet

State police and other officers were alerted Wednesday morning to maintain a lookout for a 1959 Chevrolet sedan stolen from the B & D Motor Company's lot at Allen during Tuesday night.

Theft of an automobile battery from a Martin man resulted in the jailing here, January 22, by Policeman A. J. Reed, of Martin, of six men on grand larceny charges. One of the six, booked as Allen Quinn, is being held for Alabama authorities. Others in jail are Bill Wallen, Richard Wallen, Jackie Wallen. Charges against two others were dismissed.

Glidden Wallen, who was jailed here Saturday on a forgery charge, is being held for Michigan officers. He was arrested by State Trooper E. Allen and Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Herald. The same officers also arrested and jailed Elmer and Chester Fields on grand larceny warrants, the same day.

Vernon Robert Hudnal was booked Saturday by State Trooper Don Lafferty on a drunk driving charge.

Methodists Slate Film On Communist Activity; Moran Conducts Crusade

The film, "Operation Abolition," will be shown Saturday night at 7:30 as part of the evangelistic crusade now in progress at the First Methodist Church and being conducted by evangelist Edie Moran. This film is a documentary release of communistic activities and riot incitations among teenagers, "beatniks," and university students.

"All parents and youth will be awakened by such scenes as portrayed in San Francisco riots at the Un-American Activities Committee meetings led by key communistic party agitators," Rev. Moran says. "The film has drawn much national criticism and aroused interesting opposition most of which is directed by the communistic agitators. J. Edgar Hoover corroborates the authenticity of the film," he added.

Following the film Rev. Moran will speak on "Can Krucev Bring an Armageddon?" All are urged not to miss this film and message.

Friday night, Rev. Moran will relate the story of his airplane crash May 14, 1959, and his miraculous

ROAD BOND SALE SLATED

Mountain Toll Road Moves Nearer Reality; Seek Low Interest Rate

The Eastern Kentucky toll road from which two feeder highways will delve deep into the Mountains, linking this section with the Blue Grass, moved nearer reality this week as $38,000,000 in bonds were reported ready to go on the market Wednesday.

The date is apparently a week or more earlier than state officials had expected. Governor Bert Combs last week had predicted "a firm offer" within 10 days.

"If we accept the offer," the Governor said, "work will start almost immediately."

The road, linking central and Eastern Kentucky, will extend from Winchester to Campton and connect at its eastern end with feeder routes to Pikeville and Whitesburg. It will connect with Interstate 64 near Winchester.

"When the offer is received," said Combs, "state highway officials and state finance and legal officials will examine it carefully to determine whether it serves the best interests of the state." Combs is chairman of the Toll Road Authority. "The state's primary aim of course, is to assure that the bonds are sold at the lowest obtainable interest rate," he said.

The Department of Highways announced Friday that the Winston Ford Company, Prestonsburg, had been awarded the contract on grade, drain and bituminous surfacing of 2.8 miles of the Dewey Lake road from Goble Branch to the Stratton Branch recreation area. The Ford bid was $220,368.

Contract for the lake construction job was awarded the Prestonsburg firm three days after the sudden death at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., of Winston Ford, head of the company. The construction company, it was said this week, will continue operation under the management of Mr. Ford's widow, Mrs. Vera Ford, and his son, Winston Ford, Jr.

Indications are that the bond prices will be substantially better than the more optimistic had dreamed.

An issue of $22,000,000 in term bonds with a maturity of January 1, 2000, will go for an interest rate of 4 7/8 per cent. Serials with expirations ranging from 1965 to 1985 will bring from 3.50 to 4.60 per cent.

The serial issue will be between $16,000,000 and $17,000,000. L. Felix Joyner, co-ordinator of the transaction for the Kentucky Turnpike Authority, was unable to turn the information from New York, but he said he would not be surprised if it were true.

"Our calls from people who might be potential purchasers have been picking up," he said. "They have been asking for engineering information and such, indicating a genuine interest."

Joyner said the reported interest rates were "extremely pleasing." "Anything I hear under 5 per cent tickles me to death," he said. "Some revenue bonds are selling for well over 4 per cent. I don't see how we could expect much better than that."

STORE SALES $11,027,000

Floyd County Consumers' Spending Habits Shown By National Reports

Special to The Times
New York, Jan. 26—Just how the average Floyd county family spent its retail dollar during the past fiscal year, trimming on some kinds of purchases and expanding on others, is revealed in the latest market data findings.

All in all, it appears, local residents did not become so disturbed at signs of the current recession as to curtail their purchasing generally. As a result, most retail lines stood up well.

The details are from the comprehensive study of consumer buying made by the Standard Rate and Data Service on the basis of federal, state and local reports. All sections of the country are covered.

The study shows that the nation's consumers, despite considerable unemployment, spent $218 billion in retail stores in the year as against $209 billion in fiscal 1959.

In Floyd county, a major portion of the retail dollar went for food and for automobile purchases and operation. This combination received 51 per cent of the dollar.

The total so spent in local stores in the 12-month period was $11,027,000.

A breakdown shows that $6,031,000 of that amount was spent for food locally. This is exclusive of expenditures made in restaurants.

Dealers selling cars, trailers, boats and other automotive equipment of a non-industrial nature had sales of $2,983,000.

Gasoline service stations accounted for an additional $2,013,000 in the year.

The rest of the retail spending picture in Floyd county appears in the totals recorded by the other types of stores. Most of them compare favorably with the national picture.

FIELD NAME IS SUGGESTED BY SPEAKERS

Clark Delivers Check As Board's Contribution On New Athletic Stadium

"Tying of the Bootstrap," commemorative of the successful conclusion of Operation Bootstrap, was effected at the Prestonsburg high school gymnasium Friday evening, with approximately 150 persons braving near-zero weather to see the finishing touches added to the community effort which will mean a complete athletic field at the school.

And, as was the story during Operation Bootstrap itself, everybody was in almost complete unanimity. But not quite.

More than one speaker suggested that the project be named Thompson Stadium, or Thompson Field, in honor of the man who had refused to be discouraged in the drive to raise the $30,500 necessary to qualify for $9,500 in Floyd County Board of Education aid. And, each time, the crowd roared its approval. But there was a dissenting voice.

Byron M. Thompson rose to say that the field should not be named for him. He was promptly ruled out of order by Earl McDonald, president of the high school Parent-Teacher Association, who presided at the meeting.

The Bootstrap was officially tied by Mr. McDonald and Charles Clark, superintendent of Floyd schools, after Clark had presented the Board of Education's $9,500 check to go on deposit in Floyd banks alongside the $21,036 raised during Operation Bootstrap through the sale of Youth Confidence bonds and certificates.

Mr. McDonald's effort at raising effort as "something unprecedented in our community." He read telegrams congratulating the organization on the success of its undertaking. Senders of these included State Superintendent Wendell P. Butler, David L. Francis and William Crawford, the latter two officials of Princess Coals, Inc., a strong supporter of the finance drive. These and others had planned to attend the meeting but were prevented from doing so by treacherous driving conditions.

Mr. Thompson reviewed the work that has been done, acknowledged his own gratitude and that of the Parent-Teacher Association for all cooperation and assistance afforded, then read the list of 283 individuals, business firms and other groups buying bonds or certificates.

Then the Boot was produced—an Army-type item of footwear. The success emblem was received on behalf of the school by Woodrow Allen, principal. It and its mate will

COURT SETS EQUITY CASES

Blackburn Is Sentenced As January Term Ended; Yancey Horn Is Jailed

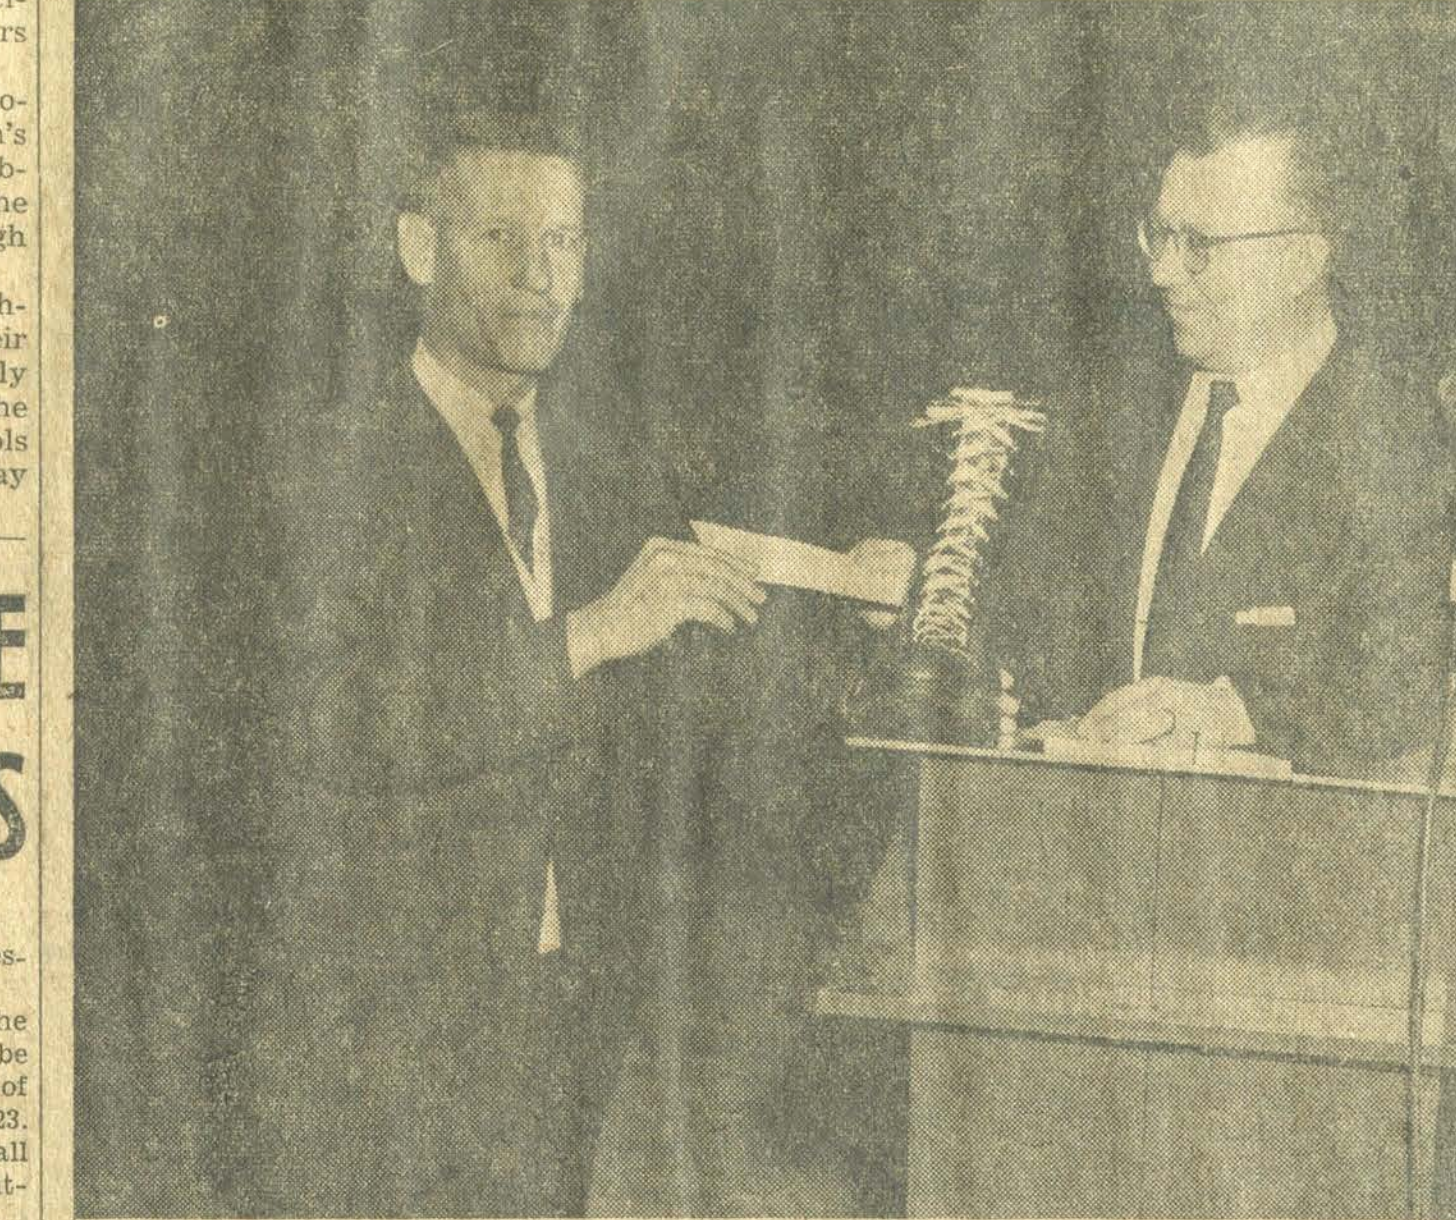

The Floyd circuit court ended its January session Saturday and will begin its equity term Feb. 8. The February term will hear only equity cases, which means that a jury will not be empaneled.

Charles Sexton entered a plea of guilty last Wednesday to two grand larceny indictments and was given a one-year pen term on each count. He immediately filed his motion for probation, but was later sentenced.

Sentence also was pronounced on Bennie Blackburn who was recently convicted on a charge of shooting and wounding James "Red" Stone, with his pen term fixed at two years. Judgment was suspended, however, while Blackburn is appealing the verdict to the Court of Appeals. He also has filed an appeal from the 21-year term given him in the slaying of Bill Buck Baker.

The jury in the trial of Ezra Marsillett on a charge of knowingly receiving stolen property failed to agree last Thursday. Yancy Horn, a witness in the case who had failed to answer a subpoena, was held in contempt of court, fined $30 and given a 30-hour jail sentence.

Several old whiskey cases were continued till the April term of court.

Charles F. Clark, county superintendent of schools, delivers a check for $9,514.16 to Earl Macdonald, president of the Prestonsburg high school P.T.A., as the Board of Education's contribution to the projected $40,000 athletic facility here. The check was delivered at the "Tying of the Bootstrap" at the high school gymnasium, Friday evening.

in the planning stage but this report has not been confirmed. Construction of the "missing link" in the lakeside road from the dam to Stratton Branch is expected to begin with the coming of better weather.

At least a million dollars is planned for development of the park, Governor Combs told a Prestonsburg audience recently.

Buckhorn Lake in Breathitt county will get a lodge this year, the first of its existence.

"Less than two months ago," Combs said in a recent discussion of parks development plans, "we announced the inauguration of the greatest parks expansion program ever undertaken by any state at any time. Today the program is well under way."

"We are proceeding as rapidly as possible in order that many of the benefits will be available to Kentuckians and visitors from other states this spring when the 1961 tourist season starts."

"Meanwhile," he continued, "our engineers, architects, and draftsmen are designing other parts of the program which, I believe, will give Kentucky the finest system of parks in the nation."

"The program, as you know, also embraces five new parks plus improvements in existing parks, such as swimming pools, beaches, docks, golf courses, additional cottages, riding stables, camping and picnic facilities."

Combs said the $10,000,000 in bonds, authorized by voters to help finance the parks program, would be sold within the next 90 days.

So there will be no delay in starting the building program, he added, the State Department of Finance has advanced more than $1,000,000 to the Department of Parks.

"We expect to sort of hedgehop—to start sections of the road here and there—and get things moving so every area will know it's going to be built," he explained.

The Governor pointed out that the traffic count on the toll road sector of the route failed to show that the road will pay the first year, or perhaps for a few years. "We anticipated that, and so we came up with a legal gimmick whereby the state in effect subsidizes the project."

He explained that the Turnpike Authority bonds cannot be sold at a rate of interest as low as voted bonds and that if they had been advertised for bids and no bids had been received financing of the road would have died a-borning. So the bonds sale is by negotiation rather than on bids.

Governor Combs told the gathering that the lodge and vacation cottages at Jenny Wiley State Park will be let to contract next month; that an extensive highway program is planned for Floyd county, and that the approach to the road leaving U.S. 23 at Lancer for Jenny Wiley State Park will be widened and modernized during his term of office.

Urging a continuing clean-up program here he said: "We've got to clean up Eastern Kentucky before we get the things we want and need." A case in point was cited—the town of Elkton, Ky. The Governor described it as one of the "worst-looking places" he saw when he first visited it two or three years ago. Now he said Elkton is probably the best example of community cleanliness in the state. Within the last year two small factories have located there.

Arbor Jones presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. R. V. May, Council president. Committee reports were given by C. B. Latta, Dr. George P. Archer and "Huck" Francis. Mayor Edward B. Leslie spoke briefly of Prestonsburg's sewage disposal problem.

Numbering Regulation Violated By Boatmen; Warning Is Issued

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1 — Many motorboats on Kentucky rivers and lakes are displaying identification number of the wrong size, type or color contrast, according to Scott Barbour, director of the Division of Boating, Kentucky Department of Public Safety.

The new state agency has adopted federal numbering regulations that have been in effect for more than 40 years. They require that boat identification numbers be at least three inches high, block characters of good proportion, and of a color that contrasts with the background to which they are affixed.

The boat owner is responsible, Barbour said, for being sure that the numbers can be read easily so that his boat can be quickly identified.

Dark numbers need to be used on light-colored boats, and light figures on dark-colored craft, the director pointed out. A contrasting border around numerals is not satisfactory, because it allows them to blend with the background when viewed from a distance, Barbour said.

Although some numerals may be advertised as "Coast Guard approved," Barbour said, that agency does not grant specific approval to products of this type.

The number assigned by the state in accordance with the Federal Boating Act of 1958 must be located on each side of the forward half of the boat as near the front as practical, and where it can best be seen, Barbour said that to make the number easier to read, a hyphen or space is needed between each part of the number, as in "KY-1234-AA" or "KY 1234 AA."

Motorboats may not be operated on the waterways of Kentucky unless they are properly registered and numbered. Issuance of 1961-62 registration certificates will begin May 1. Anyone wishing to use his boat in Kentucky before that date must have a 1960-61 registration, Barbour said.

Pikeville, Ky., Feb. 1 (Spl.)—Martha M. Osborne, Bevinville, Ky., has been named secretary of Pikeville College's student council for the spring semester.

Miss Osborne, who was elected by the members of the council, also will act as secretary of the Pikeville College Student Association. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, announced.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Osborne, of Bevinville, she is a 1958 graduate of Wheelwright high school, where she was salutatorian of her class and also received the music medal. She was a member of the library club and the annual staff, and also was active in musical organizations at Wheelwright.

Leaving Monday will be the teachers of Prestonsburg high and grade, and at Allen, Auxier, David, and Dwale. Teachers making the educational safari Tuesday will be from Bosco, Garrett, Lackey, Maytown and Wayland. Traveling to the college Wednesday will be teachers of Drift, Martin, McDowell and Weeksburg. Going on Thursday will be Betsy Layne, Harold, Melvin, Palmer Dunbar and Wheelwright teachers. One day has been reserved for rural teachers. They will visit the college Friday.

Frasure pointed out this week that this project is the first of its kind in this county although it has been done in other counties of the section.

Indicative of the interest by teachers in increasing their educational qualifications was the number who assembled at Garrett high school Monday evening. Nearly 100 teachers were there to confer with Monroe Wicker, Director of School Services of Morehead State College on extension work.

It was the largest group ever to meet in this county for extension classes, it was noted by Walter Frasure, assistant county superintendent.

Wicker organized classes in the Teaching of Reading and in Geography of South America for undergraduate students. Graduate students were enrolled in a class in Guidance.

The classes will meet for the first time Friday of next week at 6 p.m. at the Garrett high school building.

Second Trial Continued In Train-Wreck Charges; Witness Disappears, Said

Pikeville, Ky., Jan. 24—The second trial of four Letcher county men in Federal Court was continued here Tuesday because a key witness for the Government has mysteriously disappeared.

The Government lost contact with the witness, Silas Young, 32, late of Louisville, in July, United States Attorney Jean L. Auxier, Lexington, told the court.

Until then, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other Government agencies were in direct contact with Young, Auxier said.

Auxier called Young's disappearance a "good deal more than ordinary." He did not elaborate.

Auxier's request that the trial be continued until the next term was granted by Federal Judge Mac Swinford moments after court convened Tuesday morning.

Judge Swinford warned, however, that the defendants were entitled to a speedy trial and the Government should take every step possible to locate Young immediately.

The defendants — Wid Page, 28; Troy Holland, 35; Irvin Napier, 31, and John Stidham, all of Marlowe, Letcher county—are charged with violating the federal train-wreck law.

An earlier trial last February ended in a hung jury. The men are accused of dynamiting a railroad bridge leading to a nonunion mine in Letcher county in June, 1959.

The incident occurred during the height of violence that marked the strike of the United Mine Workers of America and their attempt to organize operators in Eastern Kentucky.

The Government's case against the four defendants at the initial trial was largely based on Young's testimony.

GRADE SCHOOL PROJECT

Now that the Prestonsburg high school Parent-Teacher's Association has "Tied the Bootstrap" and presented the school district with a new athletic field for the high school, a worthwhile project for the grade school P.-T.A. and the community to undertake would be to secure an Army surplus airplane hangar, or "hut," to be erected near the grade school building to provide some 650 youths of the school a place for physical education, a vital part of the school program that is sadly lacking.

This project would not be involved as the athletic field, not take as much planning and overall work, and could be accomplished with a spirit of community cooperation.

Representing the ten-team Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference in the annual East-West high school coaches' all-star football game in Lexington this August will be: End Bobby Venters, Pikeville; center Major Hall, Wheelwright; halfbacks Mike Minix, Paintsville; Darwin Turpin, Hazard, and quarterback John Davis, Hazard. Others will probably be named at a future date. As is the case every year, more than half of the first selections do not play in the game.

Belfry's all-state football end Ricky Kestner continues his athletic prowess on the hardwood as he has paced his team to 109-85 and 126-37 victories in their last two games. The agile junior has tallied 36 and 34 points in the two games.

Maytown's Bill Tallent still vans the 58th district in individual scoring with a 23.9 average in 15 games. His latest tally was 27 over Van Lear.

The 58th district tournament (Floyd county) will open in Prestonsburg's spacious gymnasium.

pared well with the fiscal 1959 figures. The principal ones, as shown in the SRDS report, are: General merchandise stores, with a sales volume of $4,103,000; apparel shops, $1,135,000; home furnishings stores, $1,536,000, and drug stores, $423,000. The overall total of retail sales locally was $21,477,000. It was $19,354,000 in the previous year. It was equivalent to $2,363 per household as against $2,027 in 1959. According to a recent consumer-interview survey made by the University of Michigan, while people are uneasy about current business they are not alarmed. They are confident that an upturn cannot be too far away.

be bronzed, inscribed, "Operation Bootstrap" and permanently displayed in the school's trophy case. Before presenting the Board of Education's check, Superintendent Clark told of the early beginnings of the project and of his own personal reaction to the plan. "I was struck by the seriousness and the determination of Byron Thompson. It was not a question with me, 'Can we afford to do this?' My conclusion was, 'We can't afford not to do it.'"

"I am convinced," Clark added, "that the same spirit displayed here could accomplish anything in Eastern Kentucky... We have lost many things because we still have a lot of the Hatfields and the McCoys in us." Both Superintendent Clark and George Lee Shannon, architect-member of the P.T.A.'s Building and Improvement Committee which planned and helped carry out the athletic field project, frankly confessed that they had doubted the plan to raise funds would succeed. In the gathering at the gymnasium there were more one-time doubters than believers.

Superintendent Clark spoke of another Floyd school project which has also claimed his interest. He told of a school lunchroom at Hi Hat having been housed in two old bus bodies till these are no longer usable. Patrons of the school district have subscribed $1,200 toward a lunchroom building, and have asked Board of Education help. "I'm going to leg for that lunchroom, and I look for great things to happen," Clark added.

Mayor Edward B. Leslie and Mr. Shannon then presented to Mr. Thompson a Kentucky Colonel's commission as an honor accorded him by Gov. Bert Combs, one of the early subscribers to the athletic fund.

Introduced at the meeting were Ray Howard, chairman of the Floyd County Board of Education, and Board Members Bill Blair and John G. Hall. Two other members, Ross Cooley and John M. Stumbo, were unable to be present, as also were former board members, Mrs. W. D. Osborne and J. E. Campbell, who also had a hand in making the project possible.

A metal plaque in the stadium wall will bear the names of these board members, officers of the Parent-Teacher Association and each purchaser of a Youth Confidence bond or certificate.

Operation Bootstrap—the sale of bonds and certificates—began October 24, last, with a deadline of 90 days set in which to raise $30,500. That goal was passed three days before the midnight, January 24 deadline. Of the $31,036 thus raised, $5,523 was from the purchase of Youth Confidence certificates which are not to be redeemed.

The Parent-Teacher Association will soon name committees to stage a bowl football game, handle concession stands and professional entertainment at the gymnasium—all this looking forward to making the first payment on outstanding Youth Confidence bonds next December. These bonds are redeemable but are not interest-bearing.

The concrete stadium, which will rise 29 rows for a distance of 130 feet along one side of the athletic field, will seat approximately 2,000 persons. Work on the stadium and field is scheduled to begin in mid-April and to be completed in time for use this fall.

The entire athletic field, which will be 312 by 420 feet, will include a gridiron, a baseball field, a 100-yard cinder track and facilities for a complete outdoor physical education program. The field will be enclosed by an eight-foot aluminum cyclone fence and will be lighted for baseball. Concession stands will be located beneath either end of the stadium.

THE THING
(I swiped the following story from my No. 2 son.)
It came walking slowly in the early morning through the cold, drifting fog, out of a dark wood, among its dripping trees. Padding softly through the rotted leaves, its eyes were gleaming slits. The thing carried one leg rather awkwardly as if it had perhaps been injured, but still it moved with agility and speed. Suddenly it stopped at the top of the hill, threw back its head and gave a blood-curdling howl, an unearthly sort of sound that seemed to tear from the creature's throat. There was a flash of lightning, the sky flared brightly, and the shards of mist were almost golden as they rose from around its paws.

Suddenly the thing dropped to the ground. The eyes fixed on an automobile. A human-being-type organism had just entered the automobile. Now the car had started and was moving slowly down the hill... The creature crept nearer, its muscles taut and quivering... ready... Then the auto flashed past, and the creature sprang, moving up-swiftly behind it.

Then the car stopped. The driver got out, waited for the charging beast. But as the pursuing thing drew nearer it slowed up, then stopped, paused uncertainly and walked up to the man, wagging its tail... Its white body with black spots twitched, and it licked its whiskers nervously.

"So help me!" the man said as his temper boiled. "I'll kick you clear into the next county!" And, true to his word, he walked back to the creature, which was a jake-legged Dalmatian, and kicked at him with such abandon that, missing, he lost his balance and came a cropper in the snow... Then he put the dog in the car and took him back home, as usual.

Thus ends another episode of tail-tingling terror.

Washington Businessman, Native of East Kentucky, Dies on Christmas Day

An Eastern Kentuckian who emigrated to the West coast and from a homesteader became a business leader died on Christmas Day in Wenatchee, Wash., relatives have learned. Death followed his 68th wedding anniversary by only one day. The victim was 89-year-old Joseph G. Debord, a native of Lowmansville, Johnson county. In 1902 he went to Wenatchee where he homesteaded Number Two Canyon. Three years later he moved to Leavenworth where he served two terms as deputy sheriff and town marshal. Later he engaged in the hardware, feed and grocery businesses. Until 1954 he headed the Debord Fruit & Produce Company. He was a member of the Missionary Alliance Church.

Willard Debord, of David, is a nephew. Survivors include his widow, five daughters, a brother and a sister, Borders Debord and Mrs. Lyda Chandler, both of Lowmansville.

The Eastern Kentucky bonds, which will be used to finance a 40-mile toll road from Winchester to Campton, lack the attractive features of revenue bonds. Kentucky's obligation will be limited to leases which will become subject to cancellation at the end of each two years at the whim of the Legislature. FAMOUS LANDMARK ON THE WILDERNESS ROAD

Flat Lick is now an almost forgotten historical spot in Knox county but nearly two centuries ago it was an important way point on the Wilderness Road. A salt spring here was much used by the Indians long before Daniel Boone camped at the place. Here at Flat Lick the Warriors' Trail intersected with Boone's road. The creek was named by Dr. Thomas Walker in 1750 but about 1775 the stream became known as Yellow Creek but the way point of Flat Lick retained its name.

Lord Henry Hamilton, Detroit commandant, who was captured by George Rogers Clark at Vincennes during the Revolution, was carried a prisoner over the Wilderness Road and while stopping at Flat Lick inspected the salt spring. Union army troops encamped at Flat Lick during the Civil War; in 1885, James Lane Allen, Kentucky writer, stayed at a tavern there.

Today the modern highway by-passes the historical spot but a marker erected by the D. A. R. commemorates the site. The marker is shown here and the inscribed plaque is enlarged and shown at the bottom of the picture.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of Eastern Kentucky's past in recognition of its heritage and trusts they will contribute to your understanding of our colorful history.

Novelist John Hersey's dramatic account of how President Jack Kennedy saved nine crewmen of his Patrol Torpedo Boat 109 after it was rammed by a Japanese destroyer in World War II is reprinted in the February Reader's Digest. He and his crew had been listed as dead and mass said for their souls when they returned to their base in the Solomon Islands in 1943.

All of the survivors attended President Kennedy's inauguration as his guests and rode in the parade in a boat marked PT-109. They are: John Maguire, Jacksonville, Fla.; George Ross, Barrington, Ill.; Charlie Harris and Bill Johnston, Waltham, Mass.; Roy Starkef, Garden Grove, Calif.; Gerald Zinser, Winter Park, Fla.; Edgar Mauer, Kahokia, Ill.; Maurice Kowal, Grafton, Mass., and Patrick McMahon, Cathedral City, Calif.

Hersey, author of "The Wall," "The Child Buyer," and other novels who now lives in Southport, Conn., wrote his account in 1944 and it was published that year by

The New Yorker and Reader's Digest under the title "Survival." President Kennedy's supporters distributed more than 3,600,000,000 reprints of it last year.

What more pleasant place to sit on a summer day or to have the picture made than the old spring wagon seat in the yard? Here, in this 51-year-old photograph, Taylor Osborne, now deceased and brother to the late Bee Osborne, of the Stamper Branch section of right Beaver Creek, Bill Osborne, center, now a Prestonsburg postman, and Bill's sister, Alma, all gaze expectantly at the photographer.

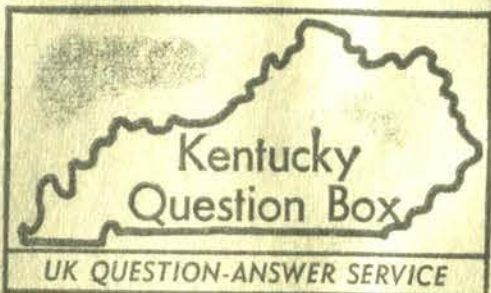

Bill and Alma Osborne are son and daughter of the late Bee Osborne and Mrs. Sallie Allen Osborne, of Hite, and grandchildren of Buck and Julia Martin Osborne.

The Osborne homestead was an 800-acre estate in the Shop Fork and Stamper Branch section.

BRIDGE TO GOD'S WORLD

The bridge, what a miracle! Tons of steel hanging in air . . . spanning miles of water . . . supporting an unending line of cars like so many ants.

And what a boon to man! The bridge saves untold hours and opens up new vistas of life.

The bridge of prayer, what a miracle! Spanning Heaven and Earth . . . carrying the needs and hopes of believing hearts. What a boon to man! The bridge of prayer opens up new paths of creative living and vistas into the realm of Heaven.

In Church you can discover prayer—the bridge which leads to God's world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TO THE EDITOR

IN APPRECIATION

EDITOR, The Times:

It would be impossible for me to thank personally everyone who helped to make "Running Wild" the happy success it was in Prestonsburg. Nor could I express to the town of Prestonsburg my gratitude for making my too-short visit such a pleasant and memorable one. Therefore I am taking the liberty of asking you to do it for me.

The Prestonsburg Jaycees are without a doubt one of the finest groups of fellows I have ever been privileged to work with. Their unflagging enthusiasm and cooperation throughout the many hours of effort the show required were beyond my expectations. Impressive when you consider they were working to benefit another organization. The P-T-A's support and genuine interest made it worthwhile. I am sure, Miss Stephens and Mr. Allen gave us full school and personal support. The merchants who helped to back us financially with their advertising and even those who could not, showed me the utmost courtesy and all evinced their interest. The townspeople who braved the nasty and unexpected weather to fill our audience to overflowing, too was gratifying.

Last but not least by far, the entire cast of businessmen and women, housewives, who gave their time and contagious enthusiasm, the teenagers who gave up their after-school activities, the little children who made our show a family affair, —all made "Running Wild" not a chore but a continuous round of pleasant get-togethers which culminated in a riotous two hours for the audience and a time to remember for me.

Nor can I forget the cooperation of the radio stations and your own paper's genuine help and interest. The best way to sum it up would be to tell you that I left Prestonsburg with a warm feeling for its people and with much reluctance.

Please extend my sincere thanks to all and tell them I'll be back.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation to everyone who helped in any way during the illness and upon the death of my beloved brother, Willard Hamilton. We are grateful to the many friends and relatives who sent food and flowers, also to the ministers and others for their consoling words; and to the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

REPORT SUCCESSFUL YEAR

EDITOR, The Times:

We of the Betsy Layne Volunteer Fire Department feel we have had a very successful year. We have received and answered 11 alarms, two which were false, one the fire was extinguished when we arrived. There were eight calls in which we played a very important role. Estimated value of loss to property $19,000.00; of this amount, insurance covered approximately $10,550.00. Total value of these properties are estimated to be $64,400. Had nearby homes been included in this estimate, the value would be about doubled. Our department has saved the people from Ivel to Blairtown on the highway and up creeks more than $45,000 in fire losses in the past year. There were no casualties. We answered each call with an average of a chief or assistant chief and four men, all of whom are volunteers. Distances of fires from the department were from 2,000 feet to four miles (seven of the eight more than one mile); average time consumed by the department arriving on scene of fire, from time call was received was six minutes. We feel this would be a record, even for a fulltime, paid department.

New York Woman Recalls Bravery Of Edith Cavell Facing Firing Squad

A New York woman, Jacqueline van Til, who as a young Dutch girl studied under Edith Cavell in Brussels, after 45 years recalls vividly the calm bravery with which the famous English nurse faced a German firing squad in World War I.

In the February Reader's Digest, Miss van Til, a retired nurse, pays tribute to Miss Cavell as "The Most Unforgettable Character I've Met." Besides working and studying with her, Miss van Til, originally from Hillegom, Holland, visited the Cavell family in England.

"At her trial Edith Cavell would not lie," says Miss van Til. "In a calm, clear voice, she admitted that she had cared for, and helped escape, over 200 English, French and Belgian soldiers. Her duty as a nurse was to save lives," she said.

Miss van Til glimpsed Miss Cavell "a flash of blue uniform" in the early morning as she was driven to a rifle range. A few days later the nurses received her clothes, 50 francs and a letter reading: "I hope you will not forget the little talks we had each evening. I told you that voluntary sacrifices would make you happy; that the idea of duty before all else will give you support in the sad moments of life and in the face of death. I know that sometimes I have been harsh, but never have I been voluntarily unjust. I loved all of you more than you will ever know."

ANSWERS TO YOUR TAX QUESTIONS BY WILLIAM E. SCENT KENTUCKY'S COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE

A recent subject of this column was the requirement that all persons having taxable property in Kentucky list such property with the county tax commissioners between January 1 and March 1. Questions and answers on this requirement follow:

Q. When do you list real estate and tangible personal property with the county tax commissioner for assessment?

A. All real estate and tangible personal property, except motor vehicles, must be listed for state, county and school taxation between January 1 and March 1. The Jan. 1, 1961, value of the property must be listed except in the case of tobacco in storage, which is listed at its September 1, 1960, value.

Q. When do you list motor vehicles?

A. It will not be necessary for motor vehicle owners to list their vehicles since the new law author-

Sullivan Warns Drivers Of Unrenewed Licenses; Check Periodically, Told

Records of the Division of Driver Licensing, Kentucky Department of Public Safety, show that several thousand persons have let their operator's licenses expire in recent months.

Don C. Sullivan, Director of the Division of Driver Licensing, said that a license which has expired is worse than no license because it gives a driver a false feeling that he is driving legally. To avoid this, the director asks that every person who holds a Kentucky operator's license, look at it from time to time to make sure that it is still valid.

Every two years, a license must be renewed in the driver's birth month, Sullivan said. The renewal year is printed in the upper right hand corner of the license. If a driver waits to renew his license, it may be necessary for him to be re-examined before he can be issued a new license.

Drivers may make application for renewal of their licenses at the office of the circuit court clerk in the county where they live.

To help drivers keep tab on the date their licenses are due for renewal, the Division of Driver Licensing is beginning a program of periodic reminders, which are being distributed to newspapers, radio and television stations.

izes the county tax commissioners to list motor vehicles from 1960 registration receipts. The tax commissioners will receive a copy of the registration when you purchase your 1961 license plate. The assessment date for motor vehicles has been changed from January 1 to March 1.

Q. What are some examples of tangible personal property?

A. Examples of tangible personal property that must be listed between January 1 and March 1 are merchants' inventories and equipment, house trailers, tractors, farm machinery and livestock. Manufacturers must list manufacturing machinery, raw materials, goods in process and finished goods. Household furnishings used in the owner's home are exempt; however, household furnishings used in rental property must be listed.

Q. Should any other property be listed at this time?

A. Yes. Intangible property must also be listed for assessment during this period.
