This Town-- That World

Now I know why I wait till the last minute to do this column. I wait all week for an idea . . . and usually in vain.

Believe it or not, some folks ask us about the absence, some weeks, of an editorial in this sheet. Here's why: We get crowded for space, and the editorial usually is the first thing that gets left on the dump . . . The boys know the world will war along for another week, even though it isn't aware of our ideas about how it should war. And I usually agree with them.

BEWARE!

It has at last dawned on me that Sunday is the "unhealthiest" day of the week, and so I hasten to warn all my friends to have a care. This fact becomes apparent when you go down the list of those who were unable to attend church and Sunday School because they weren't feeling up to par on this particular and very special day. But there is some balm in Gilead. The sad fact about Sunday causes one to look a bit further and to learn that Monday is the most healthful. If you don't believe it, look around you and see how many of those Sunday invalids made remarkable recoveries and were blithely at work or otherwise engaged on Monday morning.

SOUND APPRAISAL

Some folks hereabouts have an idea The Courier-Journal never has anything good to say about anybody. They are referred to Kyle Vance's excellent appraisal of Chester Patton, foreman of the special grand jury now in session here. Wrote Vance in Tuesday's C.J.:

"Chester Patton, Allen . . . with a reputation for unquestioned integrity among neutral Floyd countians, was named foreman of the grand jury."

We agree with Mr. Vance. But somebody still may want to know where you'll find a neutral Floyd countian.

COURT SETS TAX LEVY, APPROPRIATES FUNDS

Annual appropriations made by the fiscal court at its June 2 meeting and the tax levies voted for the coming fiscal year stand unchanged from the 1960-'61 figures, with one lone appropriations exception.

The appropriations follow: For the Floyd county bookmobile, $2,000; Betsy Layne Fire Department, $500; Youth Authority, $500; Soil Conservation Department, $2,700; Civil Defense, $1,100 (last year's appropriation was $1,000); Agricultural Extension Department, $6,400.

The appropriation for the Extension Department was broken down into $2,400 for secretary's salary, $900 county agent's salary, $900 for home agent, $900 for assistant county agent, $900 for the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service and $400 for miscellaneous office expense. The $900 appropriated for the U. K. Cooperative Extension Service went last year to the pay of a second assistant county agent.

The levies made were: Health tax, 8 cents per $100 valuation; 50c per $100 for general fund; $1.50 poll tax, 20c per $100 cash value of bank shares, 1% of market value of crude oil

SPECIAL GRAND JURY PROBES MAY PRIMARY

JUDGE ASKS FRAUD RUMOR INVESTIGATION

Floyd Election Scandal Deplored by Hill; Study Is Entering Third Day

The special grand jury convened Monday morning by Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill to delve into rumors of extensive election law violations at the May 23 primary was in its third day of work Wednesday, questioning witnesses, studying affidavits and probing patiently into the activities of candidates, their workers and the voters themselves.

After the jury of eight men and four women had been empanelled, Judge Hill started to read prepared instructions, explaining that he wanted to be careful not to make any statement that might be prejudicial to any potential defendant and result in a reversal of a later jury verdict. But as he spoke he referred to his manuscript very little, preferring, he said, "to talk off the cuff."

"The people of this state read the newspapers and learn about all this election scandal, and they must wonder what kind of people we are," he said, "I don't think the rest of Kentucky should look down on all of Floyd county because of the actions of a few. We ought to do something about it—it's past time."

He spoke of the sacrifices made to win freedom and the system of majority rule. "If we are going to sit here and let election fraud destroy this system, we don't deserve our democratic way of government . . . I know lots of people will say, 'The election is over, so let the best man win,' regardless of the means used in winning, and forget it."

Adult Art Students Have Library Exhibit

Members of the adult art class, which meets two nights weekly at the Prestonsburg grade school, are exhibiting their work in pastels and watercolors at the Regional Library this week.

Mrs. Mary Ford Hale, instructor of the class, said that with the exception of one none of the class-members had ever before had any formal training in the basic principles of drawing, shadows or media. The group began with charcoal, developing the contours by shadows and highlights. The study continued with charcoal and pastels and class-members used watercolors in still-life subjects and landscapes. Now they are exploring the medium of oils.

VALLEY'S ILLS, CURE TO BE TALKS SUBJECT

Needs of the Big Sandy valley and plans to cure the ills of the area will be studied here next Wednesday by valley and state leaders in a 1961 Program 60 Area Development Workshop at the high school cafeteria.

The workshop, a sequel to the Program 60 meeting held in Paintsville last June, is expected to draw leaders from every community in the area. It is being co-sponsored by the Prestonsburg Community Development Council and the Eastern Kentucky Regional Development Commission. Its purpose is to give immediate consideration to a Big Sandy area program and the founding of a Big Sandy Area Development Council.

Program 60, the outline for action recommended by the Eastern Kentucky Regional Development Commission, has had as one of its major objectives a valley-wide program. Mrs. R. V. May, chairman of the Prestonsburg Community Development Council, pointed out recently that such an objective becomes even more important now because of the new federal programs for distressed and undeveloped areas.

Clifford B. Latta, of Prestonsburg, is chairman of area workshop which will convene at 9 a.m. After an address of welcome by Mayor Edward B. Leslie, brief talks will be made from 9:15 till 10:10 by B. F. Reed, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Development Commission, Mrs. R. V. May, chairman of the Community Development Council here, Mr. Latta on the purpose of the meeting, John Whisman, special assistant to Governor Combs, and Jerry Albright, small industries consultant, U. S. Department of Commerce, on the federal area redevelopment program.

These will be followed by forums conducted by discussion leaders and concluded with group discussions. Area development, tourist

SENIORS HEAR WYATT SPEAK

Opportunity Is Offered Only After Hard Work, Graduates are Advised

Wheelwright, Ky., June 7 (Sp.).—Lieut. Gov. Wilson Wyatt addressed a crowd estimated at 1,500 persons at the high school gymnasium here, the night of May 29, when 90 Wheelwright high school seniors and 164 eighth-graders from the Wheelwright, Melvin and Weeksburg schools received diplomas.

"Keep Kentucky," Wyatt advised the seniors as he discussed the Commonwealth's bright future. He also urged those who desire to attend college to do so and thus increase their opportunities in the future. "The next few years," he said, "should be the planning stage in your lives. Opportunity presents itself only after hard work has been done."

A feature of the evening was the presentation by Arthur Bradbury, of the Inland Steel Company, of two-year scholarships to Pikeville College to Douglas Sword, of Weeksburg, and Ellsworth Collins, Jr., Wheelwright.

LAYNE VICTIM OF INJURIES

Swimming Hurts Fatal To Dema Youth In Dive Into Shallow Water

Richard (Dickie) F. Layne, 17, of Dema, succumbed at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, at the Beaver Valley hospital to injuries received last Friday while swimming near his home. The Layne youth and a few others were in swimming in Beaver Creek and it is said he dove into shallow water and struck his head against the bottom. It was at first thought the head injury was not serious but he later suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was a son of the late Eva Terry Layne and Buck Layne, of Dema. Surviving brothers and sisters are Ellis Layne, Buck Layne, Jr., Mrs. Jean Persinger, and Claude Carroll Layne, all of Marion, Ohio, Ernest Layne and Mrs. Ella Rae Harmon, both of Butte, Montana, Jimmy Darrell Layne, with the armed forces in Texas, and Mrs. Lola Faye Baston, Dayton, Ohio.

BOARD PLANS NEW SCHOOL

Two-Two Vote Features Most of Board Meeting; Gas Order Is Rescinded

The Floyd County Board of Education at its meeting here Saturday reaffirmed its intention to purchase the proposed 19.5 acres of land upon which it plans to build a consolidated school on Middle Creek. The Board had voted in April to purchase the land for $39,000.

Purchase of the Middle Creek site is contingent upon approval by the State Department of Education and the conveyance of title in fee simple. It was noted by Superintendent Charles Clark that the state has already indicated approval of the site.

Action was deferred on the purchase of the site for the proposed new Cow Creek school building. Clark said that he had been told the recent survey team here from the Department of Building and Grounds would not approve a site at Cow Creek unless the necessary land borders on U. S. 23.

Several motions of the Board members or suggestions by Clark died for want of a majority when a tie vote of two-two was recorded. Board Chairman Ray Howard was not present, and Vice-Chairman John G. Hall presided. The move to approve teacher recommendations of Clark met a similar fate. (See separate story).

Other actions of the Board were: 1. Rescinded the order to use gas for heating in the Garrett, Lackey and Wayland schools. The vote was unanimous.

2. Received from Lee Shannon, architect, plans to remodel the old Prestonsburg high school building. Cost of materials was estimated at $14,000. Bill Blair moved to accept and John M. Stumbo offered a second. Hall and Ross Cooley opposed. Chairman Hall declared the move failed for lack of a majority.

3. Voted unanimously to pay Gilley, Chrisman and Millers, architects, the sum of $7,416 for fees due on preliminary plans for the proposed Big Mud Creek building.

4. Approved, at the recommendation of Clark, Mrs. Katherine Blackburn as substitute teacher at Betsy Layne.

5. Opened bids on school supplies for the ensuing year and awarded it to A. B. Dick Company as the low bidder.

6. Voted to employ Lee Shannon, at Clark's recommendation, as architect on the proposed Middle Creek building. His fee was set at five per cent of construction cost.

7. A move to pay Mary Irene McIntosh and Judith D. Archer for stenographic work done several months ago for the Board failed with a deadlocked vote.

At one point, near the close of the meeting, a parliamentary motion was made.

FOOD STAMP USE STARTED

Combs, Welch Attend Office Opening Here Thursday Afternoon

The Floyd county pilot food-stamp program was inaugurated last Thursday, strictly on the schedule set weeks before by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and state officials.

Use of stamps by relief clients in the purchase of food is expected to bring into the county's economy within the next 12 months between $2 and $5 million dollars.

Taking part in the inauguration of the program at the food-stamp office in Town Center here were Governor Bert Combs, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Frank J. Welch, former dean of the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture, and others.

HALE FILES CONTEST OF GOBLE NOMINATION

West Virginia Miner Is Slatefall Victim At Topmost, Monday

C. P. Hudnell, Jr., 40, of Oak Hill, West Virginia, was fatally injured in a mine at Topmost, Knott county, at 1 p.m., Monday. A slatefall was given as cause of the tragedy.

Mr. Hudnell was dead when a Hall Brothers ambulance arrived to take him to a hospital. He suffered injuries of the legs, head and chest.

The body was flown to Charleston, West Virginia, Tuesday by Hall Brothers Flying Service and burial will be made there.

2-VOTE LOSS FOR JAILER CHALLENGED

Leslie Sait Expected Before Deadline; Hale Alleges Irregularities

First of two contest actions expected as an outgrowth of the recent primary election was filed around noon Wednesday by Scott Collins, attorney for Lawrence Hale.

A second, in which David B. Leslie would contest the nomination of Henry C. Hale for Sheriff, is expected to be filed before the Wednesday midnight deadline.

Hale, who lost the Democratic nomination for Jailer to Dan Goble by two votes, the slimmest margin known to have been recorded in a Floyd election, attacked the handling of absentee by the County Clerk and the Board of Election Commissioners and assailed the validity of a large number of ballots.

He led in the voting as recorded on the voting machines by 32 votes. The delayed count of absentee ballots changed the tide in favor of Goble.

It was alleged that the election laws were violated by the contestee or by others on his behalf, with his knowledge, and stated that Hale did not violate any section of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Hale's petition asked that all absentee ballots cast in the race be voided, contending it is impossible to purge the fraudulent votes "on account of the fraudulent conduct of contestee, the voters, the clerk and the Board of Election Commissioners." Hale also asked that all votes cast after 5 p.m. be declared illegal.

His petition said the polls were kept open in certain precincts until 8:15 p.m., and it particularly cited Cow Creek precinct where, it is alleged, 23 persons voted illegally for Goble.

The suit set out these contentions, also:

That 20 absentee ballots were cast by persons who were not legal voters of the county or precinct; that 13 voted by absentee ballot who had not applied for such a ballot; that 47 made application for absentee ballot without a reasonable business or duty excuse for expecting to be outside the county on election day; that 50 applications for ballots were not made by mail; that 44 absentee ballots were not voted by the voters but by some other person; that 40 ballots were cast so as not to conceal from the election officer how the ballot was voted; that two affidavits were acknowledged by notaries or deputy clerks who themselves were candidates, and that 78 persons who voted by absentee ballots were in their precincts on election day.

The County Clerk and the Board of Election Commissioners were attacked on their handling of absentee ballots—the clerk for alleged failure to provide a legal ballot box for absentee ballots and for failing to lock the box in the presence of the election commissioners and to give each of them a

HOUSING SITE DEED MAILED

Paperwork Is Approved By FHA On Project Here, Director Hobson Says

Joe Hobson, executive director of the Prestonsburg Municipal Housing Commission, has received word from the Public Housing Administration that preliminary documents for the Prestonsburg housing project have been approved, with minor revisions, and that the architect should now be authorized to proceed with the next stage of design, which is the interim submittal of working drawings and specifications.

Mr. Hobson said the deed to the site for the housing project has been mailed to Joe M. May, Atlanta, Georgia, from whom the site is being purchased. The site embraces slightly more than six acres of land on the new Auxier-Prestonsburg road, at the mouth of May Branch.

The estimate submitted in the total development cost of the 40 housing units is $584,823, with a per double unit cost of $14,621 and a cost per room of $1,770 recommended in the aggregate.

FUNDS ARE ALLOCATED FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

Distribution of rural highway and rural secondary road funds by formula will be made, beginning July 1, and Highway Commissioner Henry Ward last week announced the amounts allotted each of the state's 120 counties.

Ward said this would be the first time that rural-secondary money has been allocated among the counties on an equitable basis.

The rural secondary fund was established by the 1948 legislature by earmarking 2 cents of the 7-cent gasoline tax. The rural highway fund is a $5,000,000 annual appropriation out of revenues from the 5-cent portion of the gasoline tax.

When the Legislature increased the gas tax from 5 to 7 cents a gallon in 1948 to provide for the rural secondary fund, it directed the Highway Department to prepare a scientific formula for distribution of the fund among the counties.

In the intervening 12 years, the fund was allotted among the counties without a formula.

The Department of Revenue has estimated officially that the 2-cent portion of the gas tax will produce $18,400,000 in 1961-1962. This sum, plus the $5,000,000 appropriated from the 5-cent portion of the tax, will make $23,400,000 available for rural and secondary roads.

Here are the distribution formulas:

Rural highway fund—one third equally among the counties, one third on the basis of rural population, and one third on the basis of area.

Rural secondary fund—one fifth on the basis of rural population, one fifth on the basis of rural-road mileage, one fifth equally, and two fifths on the basis of area.

The allotments for Floyd and other counties of this area:

	Rural Secondary	Rural Highways
Floyd	$214,116.73	$ 64,940.26
Pike	368,496.50	102,882.09
Johnson	150,201.02	41,163.07
Knott	151,494.97	43,042.54
Maggoffin	137,366.89	35,722.88
Martin	107,793.61	31,929.93
Perry	169,640.18	51,951.94
Lawrence	172,217.46	41,623.09

CLARK NOMINATES TEACHERS, BOARD SPLITS ON APPROVAL

Recommendations for employment and placement of teachers and janitors in the county's schools were made Saturday by Superintendent Charles F. Clark, but these failed of approval as the Board of Education deadlocked in a 2-2 vote with the chairman, Ray Howard, absent.

John G. Hall presided as acting chairman of the meeting, and when the teacher nominations were presented the Board members he moved that the hiring be deferred till a special meeting. Ross Cooley, also an anti-administration member, seconded this motion.

"You know the alternative, Mr. Chairman," said Clark.

"I do," Hall replied.

The alternative referred to, Clark later explained, is for the nominations to be certified to the State Board of Education whose decision is final.

It was explained that members of the Board may question individual teachers on their moral fitness and other qualifications.

When the voting was over a 2-2 deadlock remained on both the motion to defer hiring and the move to employ at that time.

Clark said letters notifying teachers of their employment and placement had been prepared, adding: "It's regrettable that they find out only through the paper. This time, I have asked that letters be sent to each teacher with a blank for placement. I'm going to release these letters this afternoon—I didn't do so before the Board met because I feel it would have been presumptuous, but now they are going out."

The list of teachers was not released to The Times till Tuesday noon.

"John Hall and I have counted about 60 changes made in teacher placements, and we and Ross Cooley have agreed we will, under no circumstances, agree to this wholesale shifting of some of the best teachers in the county from schools where they were satisfied and doing good work," Ray Howard, chairman of the Board, said this week.

Howard added that he will ask the State Board of Education to have a representative at the next meeting, when teacher placements will be discussed, and that he will ask The Courier-Journal to cover the entire matter.

Recommendations for teacher employment were conditioned on teachers earning certificates to teach in the particular position for which recommended and otherwise complying with all requirements of the State Department, State Board and County Board. Persons eligible for emergency permits only must have proper certification by the opening of school; otherwise, the recommendation of their employment is null and void.

The Superintendent also recommended that all principals of 12-grade schools in the county be employed on a 12-month basis, with two months during the summer to be used on various assignments such as supervision of rural schools, work in the central office, keeping up with correspondence in their own schools, work on surveys and statistical reports and such other work as the Superintendent may direct.

The high school principals affected by this recommendation are James V. Bolen, Burnice Gearheart, Boone Hall, George L. Moore, Carl T. Horn, James W. Salisbury, D. W. Howard, Claude May, Woodrow Allen.

Clark's recommendation also pointed out: "It is understood that the above people (those listed in the preceding paragraph) and all other 12-month employees are entitled to two weeks' vacation with pay, time for which is to be arranged by the Superintendent. It is also understood that the above principals will be allowed the salary increase, if any, that comes with the regular salary schedule to be submitted and approved later."

He recommended that Carl T. Horn, who was named principal of Auxier high school to succeed John C. Wells, who will come to Prestonsburg as principal of the grade school, shall assume his duties at Auxier as of the beginning of the new school term, and that Mr. Wells be retained at his regular salary until the beginning of the regular term of the grade school here.

Another recommendation provided that fully certified, fulltime guidance counselors be employed for 10 rather than 9½ months. It was explained that the reason for this extension of time is that much of the counselor's time is of necessity devoted to closing out the school term and beginning the new. This extra work, it was specified, is to be under the direct supervision of the school principal.

Student-Led Service To Mark Student Day

Sunday is Methodist Student Day, and at the First Methodist Church here graduates of the eighth grade, high school and college will be recognized at the morning service which will be conducted by students.

BREAKFAST HONORS GUESTS

Mrs. Ruth Isbell entertained to breakfast Sunday morning guests here for the wedding of her son, Samuel Joseph Isbell, and Miss Rebecca Conley. Guests were: Samuel Joseph Isbell, Miss Barbara Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Isbell, Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Watt Curnutte, Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Todd, Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Homes.

KITCHEN SHOWER

Miss Rebecca Conley, bride-elect of Mr. Joe Isbell, was honored with a kitchen shower Monday evening, May 29, at the home of Mrs. Chester Wechsler, Catlettsburg, Ky. The hostess was Mrs. Watt Curnutte, Jr., who was Miss Conley's college roommate. The guests were Mesdames Charles Robinette, Willena Taylor, W. E. Workman, Margaret Collins, Janet Kirk, Patty Wechsler, Emma Rice, Meta Curnutte, Tally Wechsler, Margie Edison, Cora Brown, and Misses Karen Curnutte and Patty Workman. Gifts were sent by Miss Peggy Maynard and Mrs. Joe Damron. Miss Conley gratefully acknowledged the many remembrances.

MRS. BALDRIDGE ENTERTAINS

The Ladies Missionary Society of the First Church of God met at the home of Mrs. Clifford Baldrige, Thursday, May 25, for its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Garland Vaughan, president, called the meeting to order with the group singing the chorus, "For God So Loved The World," followed with prayer led by Miss Myrtle Pugsley.

Miss Pugsley gave an interesting program on, "New Things We Have In Christ." The devotional was taken from Psalms.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Grace Hubbard. A business session followed the program. Minutes were read of the previous meeting by Mrs. George D. Brown and the financial report was given. Plans were made to have a mission table at the Eastern Kentucky Camp Meeting, July 5 through July 9.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. A. Baldrige, June 22. The meeting adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Peggy George.

 Initiation of the program here drew keen interest because upon the success or failure of the food-stamp system in Floyd county and seven other selected spots in the country will depend the future handling of relief for the needy. All news media were represented as the first stamps were issued here.

Red-haired Roxie Meade, wife of Woodrow Meade, of Town Branch, was the first to receive stamps. And Mrs. Minnie Minix, of Prestonsburg, who was the second to be issued stamps also was the center of interest as she exchanged stamps for foodstuffs at the D. & D. Market here.

Governor Combs flew here from Richmond, where he accompanied Vice-President Johnson to Eastern State College for its commencement exercises, and the program here was delayed till 2 p.m. to permit him to be present. "I know," he said in a brief talk, "our people will work, but if they have no jobs nobody can blame them for being idle." He read a telegram from the Secretary of Agriculture hailing the Floyd program.

Dean Welch spoke of the trial program being undertaken at strategic spots in the United States. "The stamp program will cost more but it will do more," he said.

Others who spoke briefly were John Whisman, special assistant to Governor Combs, Marvin Music, Prestonsburg business man, County Judge Henry Stumbo and Carl R. Horn, manager of the food-stamp office. Attending the opening ceremonies were Mancil Vinson, representing Kentucky's Commissioner of Agriculture Emerson "Doc" Beauchamp; Economic Security Commissioner Earle Powell, Public Assistance Director Aaron Paul, Miss Isabel Kelley, of the food-stamps division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and other USDA representatives.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
 The Floyd County Board of Education will accept sealed bids for the furnishing of material required for plumbing and sewage treatment work at Dwale Elementary school and for sewage treatment plants at McDowell and Betsy Layne high schools, until 10 a.m., June 24, 1961. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of George Lee Shannon, Architect, Prestonsburg, Ky.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

CHARLES CLARK Superintendent, Floyd County Schools 6-8-3t.

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky
 (No. 145 in a Series)

GENERAL JOHN HUNT MORGAN, CONFEDERATE LEADER

Gen. John Hunt Morgan, intrepid Confederate cavalry leader, was in Eastern Kentucky several times during raids incident to his harassment of Union armies.

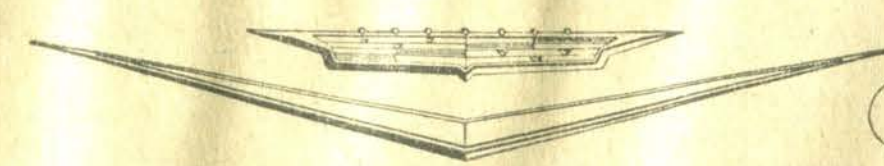

Following the Battle of Cynthiana, June 11, 1864, he retreated with his shattered forces by way of Flemingsburg, West Liberty, Prestonsburg and Pikeville, back to his Virginia base. His troops were fired upon while passing through West Liberty but tradition has it that when he stopped at Prestonsburg he was hospitably received. He was betrayed and killed at Greenville, Tenn., three months later.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our past in recognition of Eastern Kentucky's rich historical heritage.

A Resolution by the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, accepting the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission's Report and a 29 Point Overall Plan for the Distressed Areas of Eastern Kentucky, Including the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

WHEREAS, the Special Commission appointed by the Prestonsburg City Council makes its first report, and submitted as a resume of an overall plan to the Council, which will aid and affect our city, based on years of experience and study by the Chairman of the Commission and by associates, and other members of the Commission, who are life-long residents of Floyd county in the Big Sandy Valley and Eastern Kentucky, at no cost to anyone other than themselves, and who as a Commission recommends that the requests included in previous resolutions by the official City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, and this report, be considered by the Federal, State and County Governments as suggested projects, or as an overall plan which, if adhered to and inaugurated, will benefit the City of Prestonsburg, and all areas, towns, and communities in the economically distressed Eastern Kentucky.

WHEREAS, the desire of the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission is to be fair, unselfish, unbiased, and cooperative with those who try to help us in our distressed dilemma, and offer the 29 points hereinafter set out to be pursued and developed so as to perfect the plan to aid and benefit everyone in Eastern Kentucky, if properly financed, and expedited by the powers that be, Federal, State, County, and to be accepted and finally approved by the governing body of our city, the duly elected City Council of the City of Prestonsburg,

WHEREAS, it is true that our economy suffered after World War I and through the depression, and we had a great exodus of workers to war plants, starting about 1940-1941, when World War II started. Our people sought employment in war plants away from Eastern Kentucky, although the coal mines were really producing during the World War II period, a natural slump came when the war was over. Then in 1947 the real devastating slump came, and since that time things were more or less at a standstill, or getting worse. Many more of our people left Eastern Kentucky to find work in order to exist. We must insist that this area as a whole be aided and benefited quickly. Studies and statistics won't feed the hungry and those who want work. Our situation is as it is. Let the funds enacted or appropriated be granted to our cities direct, and we who know our problems will expend it properly. We won't be able to tell the tale of our woes to outsiders much longer. Action now is our need.

WHEREAS, certain areas have been classified as distressed areas, regardless of any further surveys reclassifying us by statisticians and out-of-area personnel, this overall plan could be and should be inaugurated at once, because such a reclassification would not be pertinent in eliminating the need for our people in Eastern Kentucky. When coal mines were in full operation the miner and his family lived in close proximity to the mine. Each community as a rule had its own labor market. Alien ideas and programs for urban centers will not operate to relieve unemployment in Eastern Kentucky.

AND NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved: That we accept the 29 point plan report and recommend it to the Federal, State, County, Agencies, Committees, or any others who may be in a position to help us in the City of Prestonsburg, Big Sandy Community, and Eastern Kentucky area.

POINT 1. We are ready to act for Prestonsburg and Eastern Kentucky, with the aid and help of Federal and State Agencies.

POINT 2. The overall plan for Eastern Kentucky can best be inaugurated and expedited by causing money or funds provided by Federal Acts, and especially under public Law 87-27-87th Congress S. 1 enacted May 1, 1961, and state laws, and from any other sources, be given to the local Government by direct grants for expenditure by them for specific needs rather than top heavy, out-of-area bureaus or management set-ups. This is to cut red tape and wasted effort by repetition of studies, etc. Our people know what we need. Money first, then organized effort by our own people.

POINT 3. That personnel be procured from the depressed areas of Eastern Kentucky to administer any and all functions of any plans and financial programs, with minimum necessary supervision. This is proposed so that our area will receive full benefit from any available funds to eliminate unemployment.

POINT 4. That the Federal and State Governments immediately start construction of new highways, or reconstruction of all old highways in our areas, using as much manpower labor as possible, and where only state funds can be used start a program of taking out curves, building and repairing bridges, and elevating the roads to the above flood waters, and to provide escape for our people. To be specific, since the 1957 flood no construction has been started to provide a means of exit, or escape from floods, or to provide a means of getting out, or a way to receive help coming into the City of Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Hazard, and many other towns in our area. Bridge projects, guard rails of posts, rock or earth, fills on roadways certainly are projects for the use of all, and can be immediate.

Urgent need to let contracts on Pikeville-Prestonsburg and Whitesburg-Hazard ends of East Kentucky Toll Road to afford quick employment to these specific areas.

POINT 5. State institutions or branches of penitentiaries, T. B. Sanitariums, Laboratories, U. K., or Colleges, Fairgrounds, Big Sandy Museum, or a mountain museum to preserve antiques and mountain relics.

To locate Federal offices and work centers in our section and take crowded conditions out of populated centers to ease work load. This would also eliminate duplicated structures and expanded agencies as located, and give employment to new locations or areas. This is a wonderful place to live and we invite newcomers.

POINT 6. That the Federal Government and State Government develop the plan proposed in 1956 for 5,000 small dams and reservoirs, creating lakes in the headwaters of the Big Sandy, Kentucky River, Cumberland and Licking River tributaries to preserve our winter water supply, and prevent wasteful run-off, so that a year-round water supply will be available for use of industry locating in our area, and after we use it, it is still available for reuse down streams. At least five or six states are affected by this water run-off. Proof of the need for water preservation can be supplied by many Federal and State Agencies, and especially the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, with one-half of Kentucky in that District. This project would also help us muster support for such and could be classed as flood protection or water resources.

This would create lakes, and recreational facilities, access road building and a fisherman's paradise, a drawing card for tourists, and plant sites for industry. This would also help stop flood damage, and eliminate the dangers of floods. The immediate need is to create jobs and employment.

POINT 7. That an early move be made by the Federal Government to convert worked out coal mines to usable storage facilities for Government records, war materials, and valuables, and to create safety shelters for use in time of war, and the Civil Defense peace time uses for health and welfare. The development of this project would create jobs and cause a revitalization of our economy with payrolls immediately. Several states would be affected by this for shelter in time of war, even Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Louisville and Lexington population might find safety there.

POINT 8. That with the above a main line super highway be surveyed and built from Lexington to Roanoke and to Richmond to Newport hence on to Coast and from Richmond to Washington. This would be a real Defense road for transporting war materials and for use in protecting and saving human lives. This highway would bring commerce and trade from Roanoke and Eastern Virginia and Southern West Virginia areas which we get but little. This would create new business locations and cause employment.

POINT 9. That a determined effort be made to cover the rolling land and sun-exposed mountain sides with fruit trees—apple, peach, pear, plus cherry, etc. This program would create need for canning factories, other related industries.

Then plant hardwood saplings and other types of trees on the more rugged land for future timber needs. This would add a valuable project to the overall plan for the sake of employment.

POINT 10. That immediate action be taken to develop our natural resources. We are endowed with natural resources in abundant quantity. We have for the present adequate electric power, natural gas, coal and timber. Manufacturing plants needing to relocate or expand or divide operations, or develop new wood-working plants can find no better place to locate. We have a bountiful labor supply, and we are in the center of everything, with thriving areas all around us, the T.V.A. to the South, industry to the North, prosperous Virginia just up the rivers and over the mountains, and thriving Central Kentucky to the West. We need a redevelopment and diversion of those who have to us who have not.

POINT 11. That drainage projects be started to clean out the channels of streams and rivers by cutting unnecessary growth, and correcting the flow and drainage to prevent flood damage, and for the health and welfare of our people, and to promote and develop the employment of our people. Such are common even in West Kentucky.

POINT 12. That flood plain applications be submitted for projects to regulate the use of overflow land, to reduce the loss of life and property, from flood disasters, and to make safe and usable industrial sites. Nearly four billion dollars have already been spent elsewhere for levees, reservoirs and flood protection by the Army Corps of Engineers, etc. The cost of damage can be reduced from nearly one billion dollars a year by developing our proposed water projects.

POINT 13. That the canalization of the Big Sandy River is needed beyond question, to stimulate and provide a shot in the arm for the economy of Eastern Kentucky as has been shown in past efforts for the project to be granted by the Federal Government. It is possible that compromises can be made to eliminate opposition to construction of locks and dams on the Big Sandy. Acts of many Federal agencies may have to be used to assure construction of the Canal. This would create business, employment, extended transportation facilities, railroads, servicing our area in new coal fields being opened, et cetera. This would affect water resources and flood control also.

POINT 14. That a land fill project be immediately inaugurated to move earth from mountain sides to the valleys to fill in for embankments or levees to create new industrial sites from borrow pits on mountain sides and to protect existing sites from flood waters in the valleys. This would be done to attract industry and to create employment.

POINT 15. That immediate construction be started on a number of projects in this overall plan so as to make it possible for our people to organize themselves or solicit proper financing methods to create our own business plants, to result in general buildup of our economy in Eastern Kentucky.

POINT 16. That proper steps be taken at once to erect pulp wood plants or mills in various locations in Eastern Kentucky. This would help curb unemployment, and create a needed industry.

POINT 17. That the immediate construction of a "Skyline Highway" be started and completed from Cumberland Gap to the "Breaks" of the Big Sandy Park on Kentucky-Virginia State line. This project was suggested to authorities in Washington as early as 1950 by the Chairman of the Commission and is borne out by newspaper reports. This project would be similar to the Appalachian Skyline Drive in Virginia. Also this with adjacent spurs needed to make a network of ridgetop roads leading down between streams and rivers would be the greatest tourist attraction that could be built to connect all of Eastern Kentucky parks and other varied attractions developed or to be developed. This surely would be good for our economy in every way.

POINT 18. That new State Parks be developed in the cave sections of Letcher and Harlan counties, and in the wooded sections of other counties and expanding of facilities in existing parks. Create a park including acreage containing virgin timber so that it may be preserved for posterity.

POINT 19. That the State and Federal Governments make it possible to use native stone on a larger scale in road building in Eastern Kentucky, so that it will be cheaper to use in construction, and to start immediately to erect crushers in quarry sites, and start local employment to a greater degree on this basis. (For proof of permanency of native stone see Highway No. 23 on Shelby Creek in Pike county. Native Stone (Sand Stone) was used, and it has stood the gaff for nearly 35 years, and in fair condition now.) Native stone adheres to native soil, et cetera, as proved by W.P.A. 30 years ago.

POINT 20. That churches throughout Kentucky and the United States be solicited to locate orphan homes, rest homes, and like projects, including private schools and various training centers in our distressed areas of all of Eastern Kentucky, and that the vocational schools be expanded, and create occupational training centers. Many are here now and they have been successful. Expansion would help in many ways to train and employ people, and to aid us socially and religiously.

POINT 21. That the Federal Government under certain Acts create immediately a livestock feeding program by providing cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, et cetera by direct grant or gifts, or on some financial plan, to those who can care for the livestock on land provided by ownership or leased for such purpose, or by other methods, so as to help distressed people, to provide employment, or otherwise, as to be the best means of handling the project under controls. Thus the Government is to move surplus corn out of Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and other places, and other grain from the north and west where it is now classed as surplus, and much of it going to loss in storage bins at a high storage cost. This grain is to be transported to Eastern Kentucky to be fed to the livestock as provided above. This will create employment fast—(next week) if started, and no long drawn out training programs are necessary to know how to feed a bull, cow or hogs. This project would stop waste of grain, and the expense of storing it would about finance the livestock feeding program. The creation of food in the form of meat from the surplus grain is the major factor. At the same time the farmer could raise more grain and more cattle could be fed. This would stimulate labor, sales of fencing, barb wire, staples, posts and create transportation and allied payrolls.

POINT 22. That food canneries, processing plants, slaughter houses, refrigeration plants, transportation and storage facilities could be set up to care for the need created by activating Point 21 is without question, and can be accomplished. Discussion of this part of the overall plan has been acclaimed as feasible, and not a fantastic idea. It is as workable as shipping coal to steel centers "where coal meets iron" at Ashland, et cetera. Provide the livestock for Eastern Kentucky and ship grain to us and we will convert it to food. Eliminate surplus grain. Ship food where you want to. Start employment, and many profitable industries, and where people are not afraid of work and will perform it by "hand labor," if necessary.

POINT 23. That garden projects be started immediately for the raising of garden products, such as beans, corn, cucumbers, tomatoes and other needed food products. These products which every mountaineer knows how to raise can be produced in larger quantities. This garden project will operate frozen food processing, canning factories, refrigeration facilities, and allied employment.

POINT 24. That in connection with Point 23 a plant raising industry can be created to provide the general need for plants over the United States, such as tomatoes, sweet potatoes, peppers, cabbage, and all other kinds which grow in our climate. The resulting employment from the above and from hot houses and allied industries, would be a great contribution to our area.

POINT 25. That poultry and broiler and rabbit industry be created to supply the growing markets with needed products all over America. This can be done in many ways to provide employment for the old age pensioner, Social Security recipient, able-bodied, and younger people who want to work.

POINT 26. That immediately the Federal and State Government employ people from the distressed area of Eastern Kentucky to make the policies, and inaugurate the plan for the overall good of Eastern Kentucky, with of course any cooperative help necessary under Federal and State laws.

POINT 27. That we as a governing body insist that funds be granted to each county and city in Eastern Kentucky in as direct a channel as possible, to cut the red tape. Our people already know what they want and need. Money is needed first. Then from there our own people can act and do for all. We insist that the so-called "Dinner Meetings" and wasted time be stopped by our leaders in Washington, Frankfort, and others, and start doing something for those in need. We can do it now if money is advanced.

POINT 28. That this report is made without expense to the taxpayer, and is a contribution in the form of an overall plan for Eastern Kentucky by the members of the Prestonsburg Redevelopment Commission. There are many more projects which can be developed. The previous resolutions adopted by the City Council naming the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission, and the requests specifically made for the City of Prestonsburg can be, in most all instances, applied to all cities and towns in Eastern Kentucky.

POINT 29. The City Council of the City of Prestonsburg accepts this constructive report in the form of 29 Points, commends the Commission for their efforts, and recommends the plan to the President of the United States, the Federal Agencies affected or involved, to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky and State Agencies involved. We pray that this plan, created by native sons, be followed and made workable for the good of the City of Prestonsburg, Big Sandy River Valley, Eastern Kentucky, and for the good of Kentucky as a whole and our nation.

We, therefore, submit the 29 Point overall plan for Eastern Kentucky, together with specific requests for the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, made in Resolutions adopted April 17, 1961, and readopted May 1, 1961 and as per Resolution adopted May 15, 1961.

And further, the City Council is ready to take proper lawful steps to act in behalf of the people of our City to consider acceptance of aid in these requests, and plans so proposed by the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission under existing Federal and State laws or Acts. Further, if there are no Acts or laws broad enough to cover these specific requests and overall plan hereby submitted, we urgently request that amendments be made, or new laws be passed or enacted by Congress and the State of Kentucky to meet our Eastern Kentucky requirements as a depressed area.

The City Council, City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, directs and instructs the City Clerk to have this Resolution published in the Floyd County Times and to forward copies of same to the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, the Lexington Herald, the Huntington Herald Dispatch and Advertiser and the Ashland Daily Independent, and to the cities in the counties of Eastern Kentucky distressed area, and to the Honorable John F. Kennedy, President of the United States, Honorable Bert T. Combs, Governor, Commonwealth of Kentucky, Hon. John S. Cooper, United States Senator, Hon. Thurston B. Morton, United States Senator, Hon. Carl D. Perkins, Representative in Congress, Hon. Luther Hodges, U. S. Secretary of Commerce, and Hon. William L. Batt, Administrator ARA. Further, that printed copies of same shall be delivered to the members of the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission, namely, George Glenn Hatcher, Chairman, Samuel W. Hiele, H. B. Ranier, Harris S. Howard, Attorney, Alex H. Spradlin, Attorney, Dave Stephens, and Henry P. Scalf.

Further we direct the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission to immediately name additional committees representative of the citizenry of Prestonsburg and Floyd county and members if necessary, from other adjoining counties to serve on special committees to cooperate with the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission on inter-county projects or Big Sandy Valley improvements.

That the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg further pledges its aid and assistance through the Prestonsburg Municipal Redevelopment Commission to its sister towns, communities and counties throughout Eastern Kentucky in furtherance of this 29 Point plan. Passed and Adopted June 5, 1961 about it as soon as possible. But I don't subscribe to that philosophy. I hope you will look into this situation and do something about it."

Hill explained that he called the special grand jury before the election, so that nobody could say it was being done at the instance of disgruntled or defeated candidates. "My only purpose in calling you here at this time is to investigate and determine whether there is competent evidence that our election laws have been violated, and if so to return indictments against any and all persons who have violated such laws."

He also made clear that references to absentee voting did not mean to imply that the jury should not investigate any other election law violation. "It is rumored there has been widespread vote-buying and vote-selling. I think the voter-buyer is the worse of the two. Do what you can to indict any and all persons found by you to have attempted to corrupt the election." Urging the jury to "do your whole duty under the law," Hill promised the jurors the full protection of the court against interference with them. "If any person attempts to influence or control you, or to embarrass or threaten you in any manner, I assure you now it will be a pleasure for me to protect you to the full extent of my power under the law." He mentioned contempt, 30 hours' imprisonment, a $30 fine.

Before sending the jury off to work with Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley, Hill added: "These folks want to know what kind of people we are. I tell you, as far as I am concerned, we are going to show them—we are going to clean house . . ."

Chester Patton, of Allen, office employee of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David, was named foreman of the jury. Other members of the panel are Mrs. Cora Osborne, Harold L. B. Moore, Prestonsburg; Mrs. Lula Harris, Prestonsburg; Sammy Bayes, East Point; Mrs. R. L. Pitts, West Prestonsburg; Harrison Hunsley, Betsy Layne; Richard Moles, Justell; Deale Lafferty, Garrett; Fred Wells, Lencer; Will Bingham, Cliff, and Harry T. Hill, Prestonsburg.

Some of the rumors being probed by the jury are that applications for absentee ballots were signed in blank by notaries, then sent or taken to voters; that some voted by absentee ballot, then voted at other precinct polling places; that names were forged.

First work of the jury was to examine absentee ballot applications and the envelopes used for absentee voting. An order entered by Judge Hill directed County Court Clerk DuRan Moore to make available to the grand jury all such affidavits and envelopes and all records of his office that pertain to the primary election under investigation. Another order directed the Board of Election Commissioners to turn over to the Circuit Clerk for use by the grand jury the envelopes and applications for absentee ballots.

As of Tuesday afternoon about 35 persons had been questioned by the grand jury. The first day of its session, David B. Leslie, who on the final count lost the race for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff to Henry C. Hale, appeared voluntarily before the jury.

He said he presented 75 affidavits from people who allegedly voted by absentee ballot although they were not absent from the county, as well as other material deemed by him to be pertinent to the investigation.

Leslie obtained assurances from Commonwealth's Attorney Conley that witnesses recommended by Leslie will be called to testify.

Conley said he felt sure the full six days prescribed by law will be needed to complete the jury's business. They will not necessarily be six consecutive days, he said. Nine days may be used if needed, Judge Hill said.

A total of 407 absentee ballots were cast in the primary, but 19 were rejected by the County Election Commission as being improperly submitted. The 111 brought to the attention of the jury were voted by persons who reportedly were not entitled to absentee-voting privileges.

In addition to the reversal in Leslie's race, the absentees gave Dan Goble a two-vote victory over Lawrence Hale in the race for jailer.

BIGGEST MAY SINCE THE MODEL "A"...

THE MONTH OF MAY WAS THE BIGGEST FOR FORD CAR SALES IN 32 YEARS—SINCE THE HEYDAY OF THE HOT MODEL "A" IN 1929. MORE THAN 143,000 FORD CARS WERE SOLD.

THIS MEANS THAT EVERY SIX SECONDS OF EVERY EIGHT-HOUR DAY, SOMEONE BOUGHT ANOTHER FORD, FALCON, THUNDERBIRD, OR FORD WAGON.

WHY?
PERHAPS THOSE 143,000 AMERICANS FOUND OUT SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW. THEY DID ALL THE SHOPPING, DEALER BY DEALER; THEY MADE ALL THE COMPARISONS, CAR BY CAR. BUT THEY BOUGHT FORDS!

WHY?
SOONER OR LATER YOU'LL GET A NEW CAR. WHEN YOU DO, TRY YOUR FORD DEALER FIRST—HE WILL GIVE YOU AN ABSOLUTE YARDSTICK OF VALUE IN EVERY PRICE RANGE FROM A TUDOR FALCON TO A THUNDERBIRD CONVERTIBLE.

HERE'S WHAT TO LOOK FOR. IN THE GALAXIE PRICE RANGE, DON'T SETTLE FOR LESS THAN A CAR THAT'S BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF... THAT GOES 30,000 MILES BETWEEN CHASSIS LUBRICATIONS... 4,000 MILES BETWEEN OIL CHANGES... WHOSE BRAKES ADJUST THEMSELVES AUTOMATICALLY... WHOSE MUFFLER IS BUILT TO LAST THREE TIMES AS LONG AS ORDINARY ONES... WHOSE BODY IS SPECIALLY TREATED TO RESIST RUST AND CORROSION... WHOSE FINISH NEVER NEEDS WAXING.

IF YOU WANT RECORD ECONOMY LOOK TO THE FALCON... THIS IS THE ABSOLUTE RUN-AWAY BEST SELLER OF ALL COMPACT CARS... WITH THE GAS MILEAGE RECORD OF 32.6 MILES PER GALLON, PROVEN BY AN EXPERT DRIVER IN A FALCON WITH STANDARD SHIFT, UNDER THE CROSS-COUNTRY TEST CONDITIONS OF THIS YEAR'S MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN.

OR COMBINE ECONOMY WITH A TOUCH OF THE THUNDERBIRD, IN THE ELEGANT NEW FALCON FUTURA... BUCKET SEATS AND ALL.

TAKE A LOOK AT THE TWELVE FORD WAGONS, EVERY ONE IS DESIGNED AND BUILT TO GIVE YOU MORE SOLID ROOM-PER-DOLLAR, POWER-PER-DOLLAR OR STYLE-PER-DOLLAR VALUE THAN OTHER WAGONS. SEE THEM ALL—FROM THE CRISP SMARTNESS OF THE FALCON WAGON, ALL THE WAY UP TO THE INIMITABLE FORD COUNTRY SQUIRE.

FOR PURE PLEASURE, SEE THE SENSATIONAL NEW THUNDERBIRD FOR 1961, UNIQUE IN ALL THE WORLD—A CAR THAT BECOMES MORE DESIRABLE EACH MONTH AS THE IMITATIONS COME OUT, AS OTHER CARS COPY ITS FAMOUS ROOFLINE, ITS FOUR-SEAT INTERIOR, ITS CONSOLE—YET MISS THE SECRET OF THE THUNDERBIRD SPIRIT.

THE THING THAT SELLS FORDS IS SIMPLY THE PRODUCT—IT STARTS WHEN YOU TAKE A CLOSE LOOK AT FEATURES OTHER CARS ARE ONLY DREAMING ABOUT. IT GETS CONVINCING WHEN YOU SEE AND FEEL THE HONEST QUALITY OF ITS CRAFTSMANSHIP—AND IT'S ALL OVER WHEN YOU LEARN THE PRICE.

THOSE THOUSANDS OF AMERICANS WHO BOUGHT A GLITTERING NEW FORD EVERY SIX SECONDS IN MAY REALLY DID KNOW SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW—THAT NOW IS THE TIME TO STOP IN, SWAP, AND SAVE PLENTY AT YOUR FORD DEALER'S SWAPPING BEE.

The Prestonsburg high school coaching staff underwent a complete change, according to Clark's recommendations. John Gordon Goble was replaced as football coach by Hade Durbin, Jr., former freshman coach at Eastern State College, Richmond, Ky., and Bill Goebel, Jr., was transferred to Auxier high school as basketball coach, his place here being taken by Jack F. Wells. Wells, a former basketball coach here, has been coaching at Auxier the last few years, and his place there is being taken by Goebel who himself is a former Auxier coach. John Gordon Goble, Prestonsburg high school football coach, was transferred to Betsy Layne high school.

Big Sandy Plant

Kentucky Power's $39-million power plant being built near Louisa on the Big Sandy River is scheduled for completion in late 1962. The 265,000-kilowatt Big Sandy Plant will boast the first natural-draft cooling tower of its kind (shown above at right) in the Western Hemisphere.

From COAL to KILOWATTS

Yes, coal is used to make electricity. And Kentucky Power's Big Sandy Plant will use lots of coal — about 750,000 tons each year.

That's over 2,000 tons a day for every single day in the year. You can see why we say, "Electricity is coal — Coal by Wire."

All of this coal will come from the mines of Eastern Kentucky.

This new plant will do more than bring a "new look" to the area. While contributing to our area's economy by using coal, by furnishing employment and by paying taxes, Big Sandy Plant will provide "power for progress in Eastern Kentucky."

MEMORIAL MEETING

A Memorial Day meeting and picnic were held Sunday at the Tom Fraley farm on Johns Creek. Participating with others in this family meeting were the Avery Folups, of Pikeville; the Bill Foleys, of Prestonsburg, Sylvia Purdy and son, Jimmy, of Portsmouth, Ohio, and Martha Bevins, of Stanville, Ky.
It was agreed that the participating families would try to meet yearly on Sunday before Decoration Day for the purpose of decorating and clearing of the graveyard.
Clearing and decorating the graves was activated by the adults, with the youngsters boat riding on Dewey Lake.

The Voting Machines Help—Give Us More of Them!

The voting machines introduced to Kentucky counties at state government urging and with its financial support remove most of the festering sources of election fraud.

Floyd county needs more voting machines, true, but that need can be filled. Kentucky needs its absentee voting law changed to restrict the absentee-ballot only to service men, and that can be done, too.

There are those who do not like the machines. Some of these are voters, some are politicians. The two groups have different reasons for their dislikes. Some voters find them a bit baffling at first, but so did millions when the automobile was introduced to the country. But most learned how to operate the horseless carriage, and few would now return to the horse and buggy.

The voting machine eliminates the chain ballot. This, in turn, curbs vote-buying, for the buyer can never be certain, with the voter un-chained, that he will get "value received." It also eliminates the long count, long days and nights of ballot-guarding, days of tabulation and the opportunity for the unscrupulous to steal ballots, even ballot boxes, or to count out the real winner. The fact that the signature of election officers on the back of the voter's ballot is no longer necessary is another point in favor of the machine. Time was, we recall, when some election officers suffered peculiar lapses of memory when voters who did not favor "their man" asked for a ballot.

The voting-machine will not supply all the answers, but it removes most of the opportunities for fraud. Scheming minds will continue to invent ways to win, or attempt to win, elections in the absence of their own merit, but this new voting device which many are finding a bit vexing temporarily will make the going harder for them in future elections.

Then let Floyd county voters forget the old paper ballots and accept the machine way. If we must gripe, let's gripe about the number of voting machines—let's demand more, so that every voter will have an opportunity to express his or her preference by the exercise of a free, unbought, well-earned ballot.

TRY THIS!

This kind appraisal of a Floyd county man reminds us of a suggestion we read recently. It asked that the reader count all the people about whom he had said a kind word and to credit himself with 10 cents for each, then count all about whom he had had something bad to say and charge himself 5 cents each. The idea was to determine if the reader would come out ahead or in the hole on the transaction.

A CAPITAL IDEA

Governor Combs made a statement at Paducah, the other night, which should immortalize him, when he declared, "Commencement speeches ought to be abolished." The Governor pocketed his prepared speech, congratulated the graduating class, wished them God-speed, and told the graduates' parents he knew they were anxious to get home and take off their shoes. And thereupon adjourned, sine die.

Not many men who reach the office of Governor have the humility to realize that impatient youngsters and tired parents will not hang with bated breath onto every word they say in a long and formal address . . . We recently heard C. Hunter Green, Kentucky president of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company, and he attacked his subject much after Combs' style. He registered with us, because he was not filled with his own importance as so many of us are tempted to be.

He arose when two motions were before the Board. The motions were to employ the teachers as recommended by Clark and a motion to defer employment. Board Attorney W. W. Burchett was asked for advice on the wrangle and he said that it seemed to be "a stalemate" to him. Assistant Superintendent Wayne Ratliff, who was taking the minutes, observed: "I want it distinctly understood that I record only the actions of this Board. I don't want my integrity questioned."

At the end of the discussion on the employment of teachers Ross Cooley made a motion to adjourn. It was seconded by Hall. Ratliff asked that the Board continue in session to approve closing orders so the bills could be paid. Burchett advised, contrary to Hall's ruling, that it would be necessary to have a vote on adjournment. With another 2-2 vote the chair ruled the motion to adjourn had died for want of a majority and it continued in session to finish the necessary routine business.

SHORT FEATURES SOUGHT BY TOURIST DIVISION

Frankfort, Ky., May 27 (Spl.) — The Division of Tourist and Travel Promotion of the Kentucky Department of Public Information is offering $10 each for original stories about Kentucky suitable for use in a new radio series.

The radio series for Kentucky stations, "Exploring Kentucky," features anecdotes and stories about Kentucky people and places, each about one minute in length.

These are the requirements for the story search:

1. The story idea and a brief synopsis of not more than 25 words should be submitted first.
2. If the story is not already in the Division's files, the entrant will be asked to submit it in full—not less than 250 or more than 350 words in length. Complete stories should not be sent until requested.
3. All stories must be the original writing of the person submitting them. They must not be copied from copyrighted books or articles.

Entrants will be asked to sign a release for their use and a certificate that they are the original writers.

4. Stories should have dramatic impact or an unusual twist. The Division is looking for stories which caused things to happen, stories with catch endings, the believe-it-or-not and strange-as-it-may-seem type.

The state reserves full rights to all material accepted and reserves the right to revise and rewrite all copy.

Story ideas as described in item 1. should be submitted in writing to Mrs. John W. Beauchamp, Jr., the Mullican Company, 310 West Liberty, Louisville 2, Kentucky.

Here is a typical "Exploring Kentucky" story already in production:

"There are those in Kentucky who say that if the tombs of Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis were opened, it would surely be found that both gentlemen had turned over in their graves. And here's the reason why.

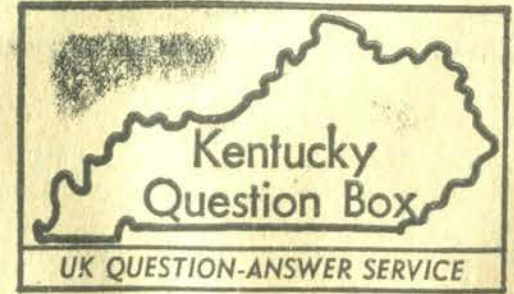

"As you know, Abraham Lincoln was the northern president during the great Civil War. Jefferson Davis was president of the Confederacy. Ironically, both men were born in Kentucky—just 80 miles apart . . . Lincoln at Hodgenville . . . Davis at Fairview. At the end of the war, the nation was swept by a great wave of interest in the lives of these opposing presidents. And so, an enterprising promoter purchased each of the cabins in which the men had been born and moved them from city to city across the nation for display at fairs, expositions and similar functions. Eventually, the novelty wore thin, the cabins were dismantled and stored in an eastern warehouse. Then, in the early 1900's the drive to create a national park at Lincoln's birthplace was started. The cabin logs were located, returned to Kentucky, and the best of the lot used in piecing together the birthplace replica—now to be seen near Hodgenville. But . . . according to legend—the logs had been stored unmarked. And so, it is possible that logs from the birth cabin of Jefferson Davis are today part of the national shrine erected to the memory of his most bitter enemy . . . Abraham Lincoln. Fact . . . or fancy . . . it's a Kentucky story that many vow is true."

Named Beauty Queen

Miss Margaret Collins, 18, of Honaker, was named Beauty Queen at a recent pie social sponsored at the Spruce Pine school by the Little Mud Creek softball team.

Miss Collins has been a member and worker in the Honaker Church of Christ for four years.

(Dr. Frank G. Dickey, President of the University of Kentucky, uses this week's Question Box space to answer a few of the many questions he gets from parents and prospective students throughout the state.)

Are all freshmen required to live in dormitories?

All freshmen are required to live in the residence halls unless they reside at the home of their parents or near-relatives, or are given permission to live elsewhere, e.g., a student who has an essential job for which his room is a part of his remuneration.

About how much does it cost to attend UK per year?

State students living away from home need from $1,200 to $1,300 for the regular school year. Students living at home where they are furnished room and board need from $500 to $700 per academic year.

Can a student have a car at the University?

Students registered as freshmen and sophomores cannot possess or drive a automobile, unless given permission for essential need based upon commuting, health, required work, or serious family problems. Sophomores who have an overall "B" or better grade average may be given permission.

Do you have to take a test to get in UK?

Every applicant to the University is required to submit to the Admissions Office the results of either the College Qualification Tests, the American College Testing Program, or the College Entrance Examination Board Tests.

What courses should I take in high school to prepare for UK?

The University faculty recommends a strong background in English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, and Foreign Language.

What is the last date to apply for admission to the fall term?

The last date on which a student may apply for admission for the fall term of 1961 is August 14. Transcripts must also be submitted by this date.

Where can I get information about the University?

Write to the Department of Public Relations, University of Kentucky, Lexington. They will either send you materials or refer your question to the appropriate office.

Can a student borrow money to attend UK?

Yes, however, it is advantageous to apply for loans as early as possible. You should contact Dr. Elbert Ockerman, Director of Loan Fund, for further information.

Who is eligible for the Honors Program at the University?

All interested high school seniors who feel qualified and want to work hard in a difficult and competitive program are eligible and welcome to apply for admission. Selection is based on examinations, grades, recommendations, essays, and interviews.

PLAN AWARDS FOR LEADERS

Of EKRD Commission; Dr. Doran Announces Merit Certificates

Members of the nine-man Eastern Kentucky Regional Development Commission and its executive director will receive certificates of merit from Morehead State College at the 38th annual commencement exercises today (Thursday).

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College, said the Commission members will be honored for their tireless efforts on behalf of the Commonwealth and the Eastern Kentucky region in particular.

The certificate of merit is the highest honor which can be bestowed upon an individual by Morehead State College.

Dr. Doran said, "The members of the Commission and its executive director have spent three years developing a blueprint for a better Kentucky and we feel it is only fitting that Morehead State College, located in the 32-county region served by the Commission, should honor these outstanding citizens."

Dr. Doran added, "Many of the recommendations made by President Kennedy to Congress originated in the planning by the Commission."

Members of the Commission are: B. F. Reed, chairman, Drift; L. O. Davis, Hazard; Cloyd McDowell, Harlan; Rexford Blazer, Ashland; W. M. Huie, Corbin; Harry LaViers, Paintsville; Dr. Alec Spencer, West Liberty and R. H. Worden, Pikeville. John D. Whisman, Frankfort, is executive director of the Commission.

Also to be honored on June 1 will be S. C. Van Curen, a former member of the commission from Harlan.

Mr. Reed, the Floyd county member of the Commission, is also vice-president and director of the Big Sandy Elkhorn Coal Operators Association and has been active in the Boy Scouts of America.

Miss Osborne Re-Named Student Council Member

Pikeville, Ky., June 7 (Spl.)—Martha M. Osborne, of Bevinville, will be a member of the Pikeville College student council next year for the third year in succession.

Miss Osborne was one of three members of the present junior class elected by her classmates to represent them on the body in their senior year, starting next fall. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, announced. She has served as secretary of the student council since last January.

Salutatorian of her class on her graduation from Wheelwright high school in 1958, she is an honor student at Pikeville, and prominent in literary activities on the campus. She has been a staff member of both the student newspaper, THE RECORD, and the annual HIGHLANDER, and for the last year has been employed part-time as a secretary in the college's public relations offices.

Nature Trails
BY RUFUS M. REED

IN DEFENSE OF THAT NOBLE ANIMAL, THE GOAT

In the very dawn of history, that noblest of animals, the goat, got a bad send-off and earned a reputation for devilment, which he has never seemed to outlive. I think it got started when he was first made a "scapegoat"—one of our most colorful words, by the way. A scapegoat is now used to indicate any person or thing that takes the rap for the sins and mistakes of others.

Consider the poor goat. Back in the early days of the children of Israel, the goat had to bear their many sins and iniquities. In the 16th chapter of Leviticus, we are told how Aeron, the high priest, put his hands upon the head of a goat and transferred to him all the sins of the Israelites. The poor old goat was then driven away by some selected man to the uninhabited wilderness, and there he was left all alone. I have often wondered what happened to the scapegoat. Did he pine away and die because of his great burden of sin? Or did he roam around and starve to death? Or was he maybe devoured by a lion or a tiger? Anyway, I have always felt this was a pretty bad deal for the goat. Yet even today this animal has done little to live down his bad reputation.

My long-time friend, James S. Hardy, Matewan, W. Va., wrote me recently about one of his neighbors grabbing a shotgun in a rage at his goat and blasting him dead.

This is what Mr. Hardy wrote: "Tuesday the goat ate part of the seat of the automobile; Wednesday he ate the hollyhocks in the flower yard; Thursday he chewed up the day's mail; Saturday, he raided the hens' nests and ate up all the straw in them; Sunday he devoured my neighbor's prayer book, and Monday he ate three rows of assorted flowers; then he started in on the pea patch, and the incensed neighbor grabbed his shotgun and killed him."

In conclusion, he asks: "Should the goat do his own thinking? Or must he allow himself to form the dangerous habit of letting his owner or his superiors do it for him? Give us something on goats!"

One might say a goat is a goat, and a sheep is a sheep. And the sheep were used by Christ to represent the righteous, while the goat was used as a type of the unregenerate sinners.

So I suppose the goat is a sort of renegade at that. And yet many people do not know that goats belong to the Cattle family, BOVIDAE, and that the female goats are widely known as "the poor man's cows." Male goats wear beards, and some men wear chin beards like goats do, and we have another colorful term, "goatee," chin beard. Goats are hardy creatures, can survive on dry, barren land, can eat and digest most anything—except tin cans. Here again the poor old goat is maligned as an eater of nails, tin cans and the like. But this isn't true. The goat loves the minerals of all kinds and will eat anything that has a taste of salt, sodium, iron or copperas, or any kind of mineral.

While the male goat is called, "billy," the female, "nanny," the proper name for these is, "buck," and "doe," and young goats are "kids."

Despite his bad rep and his penchant for mischief, the goat's face wears a look of childlike innocence. And goat's milk is the best of all. It is often fed to the sick, and to those recovering from T.B., and is said to heal stomach and bowel troubles. Strangely the people throughout the world use far more goat's milk than cow's milk, since goat's milk is far easier to digest. A female goat will give from four to six quarts of milk daily, and a yearly average is about 175 gallons.

In the west we have the wild Rocky Mountain goats, which are said to be the most agile cliff climbers in the world. They escape their enemies by scaling cliffs and walking around high, dangerous ledges, or leaping across chasms, and they are never seen to lose their footing.

The Angora goat, raised mostly for its wool, was much in use back in the days of Abraham. In view of the usefulness and intelligence of the goat, I feel he deserves a better rep among mankind.

The annual junior-senior banquet for area teen-agers at the Wise Restaurant here May 5, was attended by 50 persons, it was said by the Rev. Dan Heintzelman, of Martin. The event is sponsored by the Kentucky Mountain Evangelical Fellowship, of Martin.

Purpose of the annual banquets is to provide spiritual entertainment for teen-agers, according to Rev. Heintzelman. "You can be a good Christian and have a good time," he said. "We are trying to prove it. Many teen-agers who attended the May banquet commented on the good time they had."

Shown here in the six-person picture are, left to right, Rev. Heintzelman, Mrs. Heintzelman, Mrs. Martha Childress, Rev. Ray Childress, vice-president of the Southland Bible Institute, of Pike county, Mrs. Robert Dennison, Rev. Robert Dennison, of the Southland Bible faculty.

JOHN C. BOWMAN

A letter from John C. Bowman, 130 Maxwell Place, Tampa 7, Florida, to a local minister, is self-explanatory.

It follows:

"In 1922-23, I was engaged, with others, in mining coal from a deposit on Beaver Creek, approximately two miles from Martin Junction. I was called by business associates to Virginia on a mining installation and while ill our mining plant was levied on and put up for auction. Our personal effects and property were sold in the auction. But the worst blow was the sale of our family Bible, containing many valuable papers, and the birth and death records of my father, mother, sisters, brothers and myself. I need that record to prove my birth. One of the Salisburys wrote me in 1924 saying that he tried to save the Bible. It has occurred to me that the Bible might be found and purchased. If owner refused to sell, then permission be given to have a photostatic copy made of my birth record, and, or affidavit made relative to the entry in the Bible.

"The state of Tennessee demands that I produce a person ten or more years my senior who can swear to my birth. There is no one, it seems, that can qualify. But an authentic, notarized copy, or page from same will be accepted.

"I hope, sir, that I have not taken too much for granted in asking your aid; my grandfather was a minister, also my uncle, and now a son-in-law, so I've heard somewhat of demands on the "man of the cloth."

"If your time will not permit in this regard, will you kindly refer me to some citizen that wants to lend a helping hand?"

Who would or could lend this helping hand to Mr. Bowman?

CATHERINE MEADE FERRELL
An inquiry received from Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrell Tilden, 83 Rutgers Avenue, Berkeley Heights, New Jersey, is relative to Catherine Meade, a Floyd county native who died in Missouri. Mrs. Tilden is a descendant of Catherine Meade and her husband, Enoch Ferrell.

She writes:
"I am seeking information about Catherine (Katie) Meade one of my forebears . . ."

"Catherine Meade (Katie Mead) was born in 1807. She was from Floyd county, Kentucky, or from West Virginia. She was the daughter of Col. Rhoades Meade of the War of 1812. She married Enoch Ferrell in 1825. She died in Maries county, Missouri, August 24, 1897.

"I have no information at all on her father Rhoades Mead, except family tradition that his mother's maiden name was Rhoades (Rhodes)."

MUSICK REUNION

Rev. J. J. Musick, 119 Neal Drive, Bristol, Tennessee, has kindly extended an invitation to this columnist to speak at the Musick family reunion this year. The annual affair for many years, will be at the Lebanon (Va.) high school, August 6.

"The subject of my paper will be "The Musicks, Hatfields and Related Families."

THE DARK AND BLOODY GROUND

Through the kindness of Mrs. Gloria Osborne, of the Regional Library, I have a copy of The Dark and Bloody Ground, by Samuel D. Osborn. It is 13 pages of humor and poetry, was published in 1907.

Typical of Osborne's style is this bit about settling Kentucky:

"Kentucky was first settled in 1774 and has been unsettled ever since. I know of several things in this section which are unsettled, such as feuds and board bills. The Indian lived in Kentucky long before 1774, but some how or other he could not settle it. But this is not to be much wondered at, when you consider that they had only bows and arrows, for we all know that it takes gunpowder to settle a thing right. White of an egg may be alright for settling coffee but when it comes to settling a state, give me gunpowder . . . After the white men had sacrificed much time and ammunition in order to settle Kentucky, the ungrateful Indians would unsettle it every time they turned their backs. The patience of the white men was severely tried and it is almost a miracle their love for the Indian did not grow cold, but they trusted in a kind Providence and said one to another, "We will send the Indian on where the Lord can deal with him personally. He knows more about them than we do."

"So they carried out this plan but strange to relate, the Indians would not go unless accompanied by some of the white men. This made the rest of the people lonesome and unhappy. But love gained the victory, as it always does in the Indian wars and they loaded their guns and made ready for the next attack."

Lexington was the birthplace of the first newspaper published in Kentucky. John Bradford, without any previous experience as a printer or editor, published the first edition of The Kentucky Gazette Aug. 11, 1787.

AUXIER MAN TO BE NAMED

Wells Appointment Set, Is Report; Will Succeed A. B. Chandler Appointee

James Milford "Toodles" Wells, Auxier native and well-known basketball referee, is slated to be chief probation and parole officer of Kentucky. He will succeed Elmore Ryan today (Thursday), it is said.

Ryan, self-styled "political embarrassment to Gov. Combs," told the press Friday he was resigning, effective today. He was appointed in 1956 to the $9,360 Welfare Department post by Gov. A. B. Chandler.

The new chief officer is a graduate of Morehead State College. He was employed by the department in 1946 and has received two promotions to his present position. He was formerly associated with an automobile agency in Prestonsburg. He now resides at Morehead.

Ryan, who announced that he had been asked to resign, is a native of Boone county and a former minister. He will accept an executive position with Fielder Enterprises in Kentucky.

DeRossett Is Thankful

I take this means of thanking each and everyone who supported or voted for me for the Democratic nomination for Magistrate in District No. 1. Your whole-hearted support at all times made my victory possible.

My opponents and I ran a clean race, saying or doing nothing that would stir controversy or ill feeling. I hold nothing but good will for all my opponents and those who voted for them. They were but exercising a right.

I solicit the support of all my opponents in the race this fall. United we can win.

Sincerely Yours,

BRYANT DEROSSETT

Four Floyd Students Graduate from Berea

Four students from Floyd county—two of them winners of honors—were among the 170 seniors who were graduated from Berea College, June 4.

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic, and a brother of Berea President Francis S. Hutchins, delivered the commencement address. He is a former president and chancellor of the University of Chicago, and his concentrated study of American schools has created an educational revolution with its re-defining of the philosophy of education.

Floyd students who were graduated: Patricia Sue Coburn, Garrett, bachelor of science in home economics; Paul Gene Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Jones, McDowell, bachelor of arts in psychology; John R. Preter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Preter, Hueysville, bachelor of arts; Goldie Jean Salisbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lackey Salisbury, of Salisbury, bachelor of arts in elementary education.

Mr. Preter was named to the Dean's Honor List during the last semester of his work at Berea, and he was also on the Dean's List during his second semester at Sue Bennett College, London, Kentucky, in 1959.

Miss Salisbury, who was valedictorian of her graduating class at Martin high school, was the winner of a Danforth Creative Effort Prize at Berea College in 1960. She also has been named to the Dean's Honor List.

Tidbits Of Kentucky Folklore

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D. Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"ONE TO GROW ON"

From time out of mind it has been a custom for children—and sometimes older people—to spank a person on his birthday—one lick for each year and "one to grow on." Unless you have been a victim of this custom, you will never know how hard some of those hands were that laid on the ordinary licks and especially the supernumerary one. It sometimes seemed a pretty hard thing to face another year on that last lick. Many a children's group that otherwise was decorous, if any ever were, suddenly turned into a madhouse when it came time to spank. I never knew a person celebrating his birthday who got off with a mathematically correct number of spanks. And I have known some pretty severe fights to result when the celebrators of this modern burning at the stake laid on too many licks while they had a good chance.

At Fidelity and elsewhere it used to be the custom to roll or push or shove the person on his birthday under his bed. That, too, sometimes ended in a free-for-all that somewhat marred the dignity of the day. That custom lasted down into folding-bed days, when it took several hands to hold the victim while others let down the bed, often a bit hard, on the fellow who had committed the sin of getting one year older. At one of the country schools where I taught, the boys "bumped" the victim, usually against a sharp-cornered house or foundation. In order to be a regular fellow, I allowed the boys of my school to bump me on my twentieth birthday and almost got beaten up for being so undignified. The next year at the same school I kept my dignity and also several square inches of skin.

Whether bumping still goes on, away down in the country in Western Kentucky, or not, I do not know and would hardly be justified in wishing I could arrange to visit some of the bumpings on the fellows who held high carnival with me in 1908. Why, those boys with voices that were in unstable equilibrium then are old men now, a few years below the Biblical three score and ten. There are probably not two dozen teeth among them, and there must be enough stiff joints to start a museum. If any of them read this, I wish them all the joys of old age and wish, too, that they may never feel any less gay than they did in 1908, when they bumped their teacher against the brick-foundation corner of the little schoolhouse.

Birthday parties, as I said long ago in this column, were not common in Fidelity. One's birthday was largely a family matter, with Mother cooking something special—like sweet muffins or some sort of favorite pie or cake. But a fellow like me, born in October, just had to have his birthday while school—August to December—was going on. News, then and now, travels fast; memories, too, were long. Therefore, it was nearly impossible to get by a birthday without its being celebrated by the rough-house gang. If they forgot for several days, they could give more than "one to grow on." But this dainty sort of birthday party, with children scrubbed and fancily dressed and smelling of perfumed cake-soap rather than Big Deal or home-made lye soap, did not arrive until after I had become almost old enough to sell my red mule and my tobacco crop and go away to school. In my old diary is an account of the biggest one ever staged in our neighborhood, and it got into the county paper, for I was by that time a weekly correspondent (Say, what am I now?) of the paper that told who visited whom and who had been born or had got married or had died. Whether this great party caused others to spring up I never knew, for I went away, and the later Fidelity belongs to someone else, some boy or girl not born in 1906, when I caught the train at Murray and, amid a surge of smoke-filled air and the grinding of wheels, headed away from Fidelity for ever.

MARTIN

(Last week's correspondence)

Miss Amanda Lafferty is spending a short vacation in Columbus, Ohio, visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Conley, of Louisville, were here visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Crisp, and other relatives, the week-end of the election.

Rt. Rev. Servan R. Braun, vicar delegate from the diocese of Zacapa, Guatemala, was the guest here last week-end of the Rev. John Shea, Pastor of St. Juliana Church. Rev. Braun made an appeal to the people of the parish in behalf of the children in his parish.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Terry and children have moved from their place in New Martin to Old Post-Office street.

Mrs. Rebs Osborne and daughters, Ruth Ann and Sue, and some friends have been visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, at their home in Fairborn, Ohio.

Mrs. Rose Lynch spent the past week-end in Simon, W. Va., visiting relatives. She attended the graduation of two nieces in Logan, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickman and children spent Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. Geneva Rickman.

Mrs. Ann Scutchfield, Pina Click, Hazel Robinson, Sandy Blevins and other friends gave a bridal shower Friday evening at the school lunchroom here for Mrs. Marcella Ramsey. Mrs. Ramsey is the former Marcella Akers, of Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Francis and son Fell and daughter Edith, of Dayton, Ohio, spent Memorial Day week-end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Maggard.

The Ladies' Altar Society held its May meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. T. A. Combs, of Langley. The Moderator, Rev. John Shea, and several members were served refreshments by Mrs. Combs. Officers for the coming year were elected: Mrs. Sophia Cahill, president; Mrs. Jo Evans, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Brashear, vice-president. A summer picnic will be held soon.

Mrs. Anita King and daughter Sandy, of Louisville, spent Memorial Day week-end here with her father, Oscar Goodin.

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Patton are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Gail Lynn, to Sgt. Arnold Ray Beckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold N. Beckett, May 6.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the Holiness Chapel of Lebanon, Virginia, by the Rev. Roby K. Rasnake. The young couple spent their honeymoon traveling through various parts of Virginia.

Mrs. Beckett wore a morning suit of ivory with matching accessories, and carried a prayer book. Her gift from the groom was a ring and pendant of turquoise, set in gold, and brought from Iran.

Mrs. Beckett is an honor graduate from Our Lady of the Mounts Academy. She attended Marshall University as a music major and was soloist for two years with Marshall Women's Glee Club.

Mr. Beckett was graduated from Logan high school. He was a member of the football and track teams and the Glee Club. He is serving in the armed forces as a member of Signal Research Unit and intends to make the Army a career.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckett will reside at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. Both will continue college classes on the base. The Patton's are former residents of Prestonsburg.

FORT HARROD

A replica of Fort Harrod, the first permanent white settlement in Kentucky, is in Pioneer Memorial State Park at Harrodsburg. Also inside the park is the Lincoln Marriage Temple, which shelters the cabin where President Lincoln's parents were married.

Lake Cumberland is 105 miles long and has 1,335 miles of shoreline.

DRIVING TIP

Ever get statted off in the wrong direction, or make a wrong turn in a strange town? That sort of thing is more likely to happen this time of year. The Kentucky Department of Public Safety reminds you that Kentucky law prohibits turning around on any curve or near the crest of a grade unless it can be seen for a distance of 500 feet by the driver of any other vehicle approaching from either direction.

Floyd arrow Race Squeaks Repeated In Magoffin-co.

The narrow squeak of several successful aspirants for party nomination for office in Floyd county was repeated at primaries in adjoining counties. In Magoffin county it took the entire count to decide who was the nominee for county judge on the Democratic ticket.

Bessie Riddle Arnold was again successful in seeking the Democratic nomination for County Court Clerk in Pike county. She defeated her closest opponent, Lucille S. Smith, present Pike county tax commissioner, by 566 votes. Harold Edmonds, a third candidate, trailed by approximately 3,000 votes. Mrs. Arnold will oppose Cleo Justice Chaney, the Republican nominee, in the final election.

One of the most bitterly contested races in the region was between Mrs. Margaret Stacy, of West Liberty, and John R. Turner, of Jackson, for State Senator. The 34th State Senatorial district is composed of Morgan, Magoffin, Lee and Breathitt counties. The official and long-delayed count declared Turner the winner of the Democratic nomination.

Final count in Magoffin county's primaries found Clyde Salyer winner over Ray Holbrook for the Democratic nomination for county judge by a few votes. Roy Holbrook, brother of Ray's, won the nomination for sheriff. Opposing Salyer on the Republican ticket in November will be D. T. Montgomery and nominated on the Republican ticket for sheriff is Ben Patrick. Nominated for county court clerk were Woodrow Arnett, Democrat, and H. Green Rudd, Republican.

Winning the Democratic nomination again in Fike county was Irvin Pruitt who received the highest number of votes of any candidate in either primary. He will be opposed in November by Charles F. Trivette. Thaddeus Scott was nominated on the Republican ticket for sheriff and Charles F. Keese by the Democrats.

Wince Trimble, Johnson county sheriff, failed in his bid to defeat Joe E. Radcliff for the Republican nomination for county judge. Radcliff will face Bill Ward, Democrat incumbent, in the November finals.

Other Johnson county nominees are: sheriff, Ray E. Preston, Republican, and George W. Davis, Sr., Democrat; for county court clerk, Charles O. "Buzzy" Wheeler, Republican incumbent, Walter L. Hooper, Democrat; jailer, Paris Blevins, Republican incumbent, and Raymond Brugh, Democrat. R. B. Harrington, Republican nominee for county attorney, will have no opposition in November.

Not present for the picture was board member J. Ervin Sanders, Pikeville. The board will review all appeals of any veteran or beneficiary whose application for a bonus has been disapproved. Approximately 3,000 disapproved notices will be mailed out during the next six weeks, and each will be accompanied by the necessary forms for a veteran to appeal to the Board if he desires. The law allows the veteran only 30 days in which to appeal.

In last week's article on the District 4-H Rally the names of three Floyd county district winners were omitted. These club members were Linda Layne, of Wheelwright, senior sewing; Joan Hicks, of Maytown, senior breadmaking; and Debbie Yates, of Betsy Layne, junior girls' electric demonstration.

4-H WEEK DELEGATES

Ten delegates have been selected to represent Floyd county at the 38th annual 4-H Week to be held on the University of Kentucky campus, June 13-17.

The delegates selected were Linda Layne, Joan Hicks, Clara Allen, Melanie Conley, Pam Combs, Randolph Hicks, Delbert Ousley, Dana Jack Hicks, Burgess Lowe and Gaylord Martin.

GARDEN INSECTS

During the week the Colorado potato beetle, Mexican bean beetle, flea beetle, and plant lice were observed destroying vegetables in the gardens. In most instances all these insects were found in the same garden. Without control measures, a garden can be almost destroyed in a few days.

D.D.T. is probably the best material to use on potato and sweet potatoes. A mixture of Malathion and Methoxychlor should be used on the rest of the garden except for vine crops, where Methoxychlor should be used alone, for first two weeks.

Every gardener should invest in a pressure sprayer. A good job of spraying is much more effective than a good job of dusting. Vegetable powders are cheaper in the long run and time will be saved by spraying.

SHEEP

This should be the year to increase the number of sheep flocks in the county. The price of western breeding ewes is the lowest in several years. The people who should know, say that this is the bottom of the sheep price cycle and that prices will start up next year.

The prices now quoted are $9 for aged white face ewes and $15 for white faced yearlings. The transportation charges usually run $2 per ewe, delivered to the county.

There are some advantages and disadvantages to buying aged ewes instead of yearlings. The decision would be based on experience of the farmer with sheep, money available, replacement ewes or starting a new flock, and quality of feed available.

Miss May Earns Degree

Charlottesville, Va., June 4 (Spl.)—The University of Virginia conferred degrees on 875 students here Sunday, the climatic event of the 1960-1961 school year.

Dr. Edgar F. Shannon, Jr., president of the University, exhorted the graduates to continue throughout their lives the pursuit of excellence and never forget the integrity of honor. The latter is particularly important in a time such as the present when honor is sometimes not respected.

One of the 139 who received degrees from the University's School of Law was Miss Julia M. May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. May, of Prestonsburg.

100 YEARS AGO
THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week, although Governor Beriah Magoffin's proclamation of Kentucky's position of armed neutrality continued to get the praise and support of a large part of the press and the public, there were signs of feverish activity among both Union and Confederate partisans in the state.

Union sympathizers were organizing companies known as "Home Guards" to offset the strength of the pre-war militia called "State Guards," the latter composed mostly of Confederate sympathizers and commanded by Simon B. Buckner, who was outspokenly for the South. (During the war, Buckner became a lieutenant general in the Confederate Army. He was the only officer appointed from Kentucky who attained that high rank during the Civil War, on either side. His son, bearing the same name, reached the same rank in the U. S. Army and was killed on a Pacific island during World War II. Father and son were both West Point graduates, and each had served as superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy.)

In Louisville, where there was considerable Union sentiment, five Home Guard companies were sworn in on a single night during the week under review. In the early days of the war, volunteers felt obliged to pick impressive names for their units. One Home Guard company in Louisville, oddly enough, elected to be known as the Union Grays.

Kentucky newspapers discovered, and revealed, that thousands of muskets, with bayonets and ammunition, had been brought across the Ohio River and into Kentucky. These weapons, promptly dubbed "Lincoln Guns," were distributed quietly and as secretly as possible under orders from Washington that they be given only to "true, faithful and reliable Union men." By the first part of June, it was established that 5,000 muskets had been passed out and a second shipment of 5,000 was on the way. Charges were made that this amounted to a violation of Kentucky's neutrality.

For some time there had been rumors that a secret political organization favorable to the South was being formed in Kentucky. During this week, 100 years ago, a man who identified himself as the Grand Commander of the Knights of the Golden Circle confirmed reports, and said of the Knights: "There are now nearly 8,000 in the state, distributed through every county, and the organization is growing daily in favor and importance. The work will be pushed with the utmost vigor until the tricolor flag of the Confederate states floats in triumph from the dome of the Capitol at Frankfort."

Specialist Notes Need Of Proper TV Lighting;
View Suggestions Given

Lexington, Ky.—If your eyes get tired when you watch TV, perhaps the room does not have enough light. Watching television need be no harder on the eyes than any other "close work" if the room is properly lighted, according to Beth Burr, University of Kentucky Extension specialist in home furnishings.

If you look from a very light area to a dark one, your eyes must adjust to the change. When you watch TV in a darkroom, your eyes must make a big adjustment each time you look away from the screen—no wonder the eyes get tired.

Lots of light isn't necessary for television watching, but you do need some light throughout the room, Miss Burr says. Try to have the wall softly lighted behind the television set to avoid great contrast between the screen and wall. A lamp over or beside the screen will light this wall without reflecting on the screen.

For television viewing—and for general use, too—have lamps with shades that allow light to pass through without a bright spot showing. A "three-way" bulb also may be useful in the television lamp; such a bulb can be dimmed for watching TV and brightened for activities that need more light.

Remember that when you watch TV, you're looking into the end of the picture tube on a 17-to-20-inch screen; this area is about 10 times brighter than the average movie screen. For this reason, you should be from eight to 10 feet away from the screen; and make sure the children do not sit very near the screen, she warns.

Finally, Miss Burr suggests that you look off into the distance every now and then as you watch television. As with reading, sewing, or doing any other "close work," your eyes need a rest sometimes. Looking away will be restful for your eyes if the entire room has enough light.

ALL YOUR SHOPPING LOCALLY

When you buy from your hometown merchants you get:

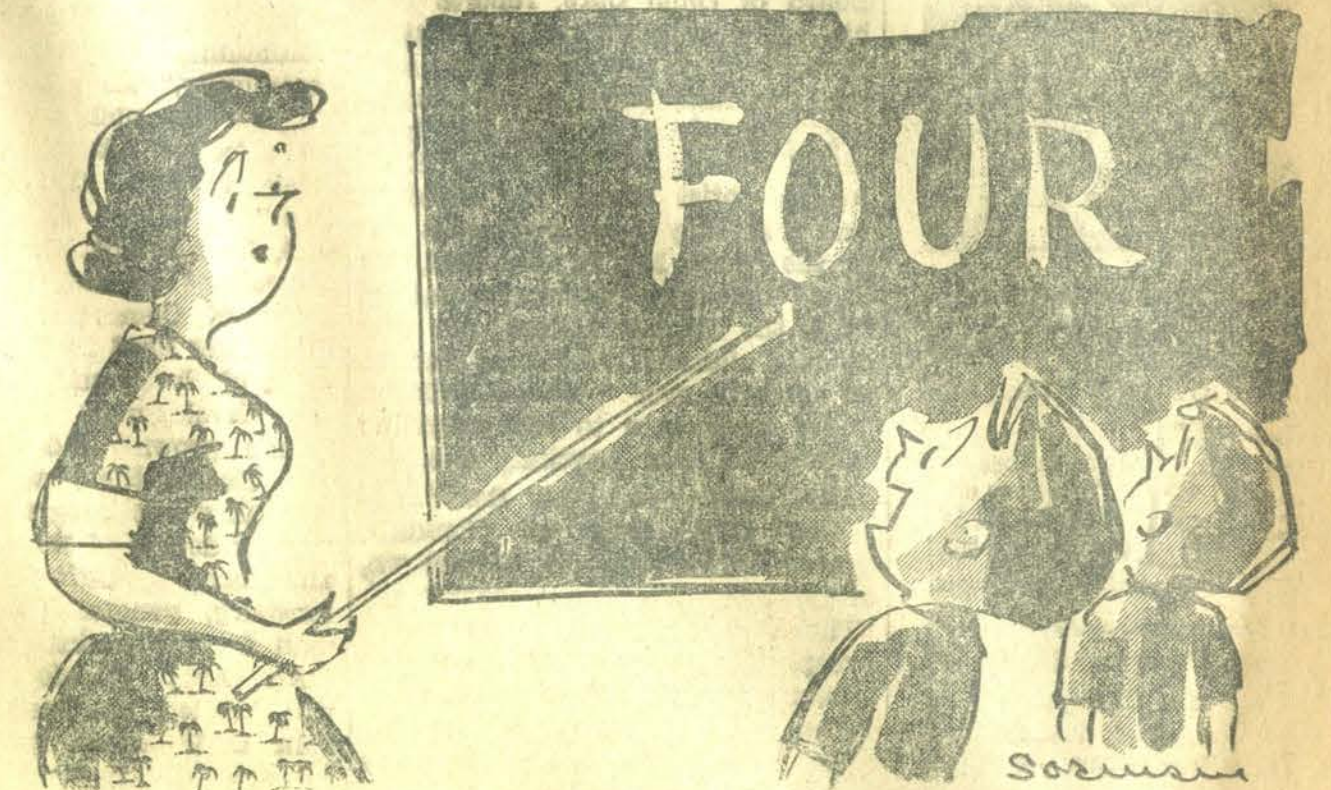

1. HONEST VALUES
2. AMPLE SELECTION
3. INSTANT DELIVERY, SERVICE AND ADJUSTMENT
4. MORE PERSONAL AND FRIENDLIER TREATMENT
5. SAVING OF TIME
6. RELIEF FROM COSTLY TRAVEL
7. FREEDOM FROM ROAD HAZARDS
8. ELIMINATION OF COSTLY PARKING PROBLEMS
9. AVOIDANCE OF JOSTLING CROWDS
10. THE CHANCE TO BUILD A BETTER COMMUNITY BY PUTTING YOUR DOLLARS TO WORK HERE

We don't believe you gain anything at all by driving long distances to shop at BIG CITY stores. Our local sources have merchandise that's just as good and costs no more.

But merely for the sake of argument, suppose you do save a few dollars on a time-consuming trip many miles from home. And suppose you don't even count the cost of gasoline and oil, car wear, parking fees, etc. Forget, too, if you like, the hazards of driving in today's heavy highway and city traffic.

But don't overlook these things: What you buy here can be in your home in a few minutes—no waiting several days for delivery. And if the merchandise doesn't give full satisfaction, any needed service or adjustment of the purchase can be made without shipping the items back to the BIG CITY or being forced to make a second trip yourself.

Why drive scores of miles looking for trouble? Shop right around the corner and be safe and satisfied.

JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET

(and that's the car more people are buying!) Take those June skies and breezes. Add a spanking' new Jet-smooth Chevy. Presto, you've got all the makings of a roamin' holiday. That low-loading deep-well trunk swallows up most everything you'd want to pack along. The carefully crafted Body by Fisher has you livin' in luxury (and in comfort-high seats where the sight-seein' comes easy). That Jet-smooth Chevy ride, with a sinewy Full Coil spring at each wheel, gentles you past all the wrinkles and ruts in the roads (there's even a team of over 700 behind-the-scenes "shock absorbers" to hush up road surface mumbblings and grumbblings). All in all, Chevy's light-steerin', easy-go'in' ways just don't leave much for you to do but feel good. And that's exactly the way your Chevrolet dealer wants you to feel—as you can plainly see in those beautiful June buys he's got bustin' out all over.

Topala Convertible—just as savvy as you please and wide open for fun.

DEVELOPMENT MEET SLATED

Reed, Others To Lead Forum Discussion Here; Gov. Combs To Speak

"Home grown industry," the workings of the new federal distressed areas program and the tourist industry will be featured topics of forums at the "Program 60" Area Development Workshop to be held here June 14. Principle purpose of the meeting will be the formation of a Big Sandy Area Development Council.

Governor Bert Combs will make a luncheon address to participants, who will represent each community in the Big Sandy valley, according to Mrs. R. V. May, chairman of the Prestonsburg Community Council, and B. F. Reed, of Drift, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Development Commission. The two groups will co-sponsor the meeting, scheduled to last from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

"Program 60," a comprehensive outline of recommendations for regional development by the Eastern Kentucky Commission, stresses the importance of area and community councils to plan and coordinate overall action programs, Reed pointed out. He indicated that the area council could play a key role in area planning called for by the new federal program.

"Our Community Council was organized as the basis of the program of the Kentucky Division of Community Development in our community," Mrs. May said, "and we feel that such a council can do an effective job on a valley-wide basis to help all our communities."

G. F. Albright, Small Industries Consultant of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will explain techniques used in the special program of North and South Carolina for development of community "home grown" industry. He will also discuss the new federal area redevelopment program.

Other details of the program were announced by Cliff Latta, of Prestonsburg, general program chairman for the workshop.

An Area Development Forum will be led by Reed and Latta, John D. Whisman, special assistant for area development to Governor Combs, and James L. Patton, assistant superintendent of public instruction and chairman of the Kentucky Rural Development Program.

Community Development forum leaders are to be Mrs. May, Donald Webb, Kentucky Community Development Division representative, William Miller, Eastern Kentucky Resource Development Project specialist, and Milton Ogle, Community Development Counselor, Council of the Southern Mountains.

Leading the discussion on the Tourist Industry forum are to be Gilbert Kingsbury, director of the vision; Paul Grubbs, director of Travel Promotion, Kentucky Chamber of Commerce; Lon Rogers, member of the Breaks-Interstate Park Commission; and Malcolm Mason, Kentucky Utilities Development Engineer and Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Tourist Committee co-chairman.

In addition to Albright, the Community Industries panel will include Paul Hadley, director of the Kentucky Division of Arts and Crafts, and Rufus Thomas, Industrial Development representative, Kentucky Power Company.

Kick-Off Banquet Held For U.K. Fund Drive

The kick-off banquet for the University of Kentucky alumni fund-raising drive will be held on Saturday, June 3, in the ballroom of the UK Student Union building.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr, former dean of UK's College of Law.

Funds raised during the drive will go toward providing UK alumni scholarships, faculty teaching and research awards, a proposed alumni building, an annual alumni seminar and other projects.

Chairman for Alumni District XI is Richard Wells, Pikeville. Floyd county is in District XI.

Fake Magazine Crews Operating in Kentucky

Sam Ed Bradley, general superintendent of the Kentucky Baptist Board of Child Care, reports that his office is receiving information that members of magazine subscription sales crews are representing themselves as having been raised in one of the three Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children and that they have been sent out by the Home. Mr. Bradley said this is a deliberate misrepresentation, since the Baptist Homes, nor any other Children's Home, so far as he knows, ever permits children under their care to sell magazine subscriptions, or anything else.

Mr. Bradley said his Board operates Glen Dale at Glendale, Spring Meadows at Middletown, and Pine Crest at Morehead. "These young people usually tell prospective buyers of magazine subscriptions that their mother and father are both dead and that they have been in the Home for years and that they want to be a doctor or medical technician and if they sell enough subscriptions they will be given a year in college," Bradley said. "People should buy magazines directly from the publisher or from local representatives whom they know and trust," he added.
