

CONSTRUCTION SLATED TOTALS $15 MILLION

LOCAL WORK ANTICIPATED THIS SUMMER

Roads, Bridges, Housing, Other Jobs Contribute To Improvement Picture

A construction and improvement program which may cost as much as $15,000,000 will be under way in and around Prestonsburg by mid-summer, Mayor George P. Archer said this week.

Projects under way and soon to start include work on bridges, highways, Jenny Wiley State Park, low-rent public housing, water and sewer system extension.

Construction is already under way on a sector of the Prestonsburg extension of the Eastern Kentucky Turnpike, the four-lane highway bridge across the Big Sandy here, the new U. S. 23 from Auxier toward Paintsville and the lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Major highway construction projects which are anticipated this summer are widening of U. S. 23 from Prestonsburg to the park entrance and possibly on to Knotley Hollow and extension of the Prestonsburg arm of the highway up Middle Creek to the Magoffin county line.

Right-of-way from the end of the Middle Creek road sector already under construction to the Floyd-Magoffin line is being purchased, and it is expected to be advertised for construction within the next two or three months. U. S. 23 through Prestonsburg will be revised to eliminate the Richmond street corner-curve and also the curve a block farther south. Because the highway cannot be widened through the center of the business district here, parking will be prohibited on the highway there, it is said. The road is expected to be of four-lane width, once the route leaves the restricted area in Prestonsburg proper.

Widening and straightening of the road from Lancer to the state park will be a work to be done next fall, after the tourist season ends. Work is now under way to extend the new road at the boat dock on to the lodge which is under construction.

Opening of the 35-room lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park is now set for July 1. The swimming pool for lodge guests is 90% complete.

JUDGE URGES CRIME PROBE

Joe I. May Named Grand Jury Foreman; Collins Meted Term

When Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill had empaneled the grand jury at the opening of circuit court here Monday morning and prepared to instruct the jury, he found his subject matter was an oft-repeated story.

"I hesitate to mention the same things again," he remarked, prefacing his instructions. But the same offenses remain—and mention them he did. He pointed to bootlegging, breaking and entering, other offenses which have long plagued the county, and asked the jurors to do their full duty in investigating all crime without fear or favor.

Joe I. May, of Harold, was named foreman of the grand jury. No indictments had been reported as of Wednesday morning. The first conviction of the term came Wednesday morning when, by agreement of all parties concerned.

Jaycees Sponsor Drive During Seat Belt Month; Proclamation Is Issued

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a sale of automobile seat belts through the month of April, it was announced this week. The drive coincides with Gov. Bert Combs' proclamation making April Seat Belt Month.

The promotion here is a part of a state-wide project, Cal Herrick, Jaycee president, said. Part of the sale price of the belts will go to the Chamber to liquidate its pledge of $500 to the college site fund. The belts may be purchased at Cox's Department Store, Francis Store or the Thomas Hereford Company store.

Martin Named Executive

Appointment of Donald G. Martin, of Allen, as a district Scout executive of the Lonesome Fine Council, Boy Scouts of America, was announced this week by Byron F. Pennebaker, Scout executive of the council. Mr. Martin assumed his new post on March 19.

Martin will be responsible for the administration of the Pike, Breaks and Letcher districts. He will coordinate the training and activities of the volunteer leaders who work directly with the boys in units.

The three districts comprise all Scouting units in three counties—Pike and Letcher, in Kentucky, and Buchanan, in Virginia.

Pennebaker said, "We are confident that our volunteer leaders in these districts will enjoy working with Mr. Martin, whose previous Scouting experiences will be of great value as he meets his new responsibilities."

Martin entered Scouting in 1957 as a volunteer leader of Troop 56 at Allen. As Scoutmaster his success was marked by a record in Eagle Scouts and full participation in the program.

He will attend the 240th National Scout Jamboree.

MAY CLEANUP IS DISCUSSED

At West Prestonsburg; Sidewalk, Curb Needs Studied Tuesday Night

Planning for the May cleanup campaign in Prestonsburg continued this week with three meetings held and others scheduled.

In a meeting of residents of the West Prestonsburg area the use of vacant lots as dumping grounds was discussed. Police Judge Watt Hale suggested the "adopt a lot" plan whereby responsibility would be fixed for keeping the adopted lot clean. It also was suggested that the C. & O. Railway Company be petitioned to clean up and make more attractive its railway station there.

The need to close old cisterns and to remove old refrigerators or to render them harmless to children by removal of their doors was talked at the Floyd County Library area meeting Tuesday night. That group is yet to select a definite project. The need for sidewalks and curbs was also discussed.

The third meeting was a general committee gathering. Other area meetings will be held to plan for next month's intensified cleanup effort.

8 SURVIVE BUS PLUNGE

No Fatalities Result From Wreck At Endicott; Loose Tie Rod Is Cause

Seven pupils and the bus driver, who survived a plunge over an embankment near Endicott, Thursday evening, were given first aid treatment at Prestonsburg General hospital and the driver and four pupils discharged soon afterward as not seriously injured. Three of the students were detained until the next day and discharged.

Floyd Burdett, contract school bus driver, says that a loosened tie rod was the cause of the accident. The bus turned over five times as it rolled over the embankment.

The driver comments that a short distance from the scene he struck a rough place in the road and he believes this loosened the tie rod.

An investigation of the accident by the office of the county superintendent of schools agrees with the statement of Burdett that a loosened tie rod was the cause.

sem also will judge vocal solos, ensembles, and choruses, and Koenigstein will be judge of brass-instrument solos and instrumental ensembles.

Teater To Moderate Discussion by Panel; Awards Are Scheduled

The annual spring conference of the Ninth district, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be held at Allen grade school, April 14, with the district president, Mrs. N. H. Lanthorne, Ashland, presiding.

A panel discussion, "Better Communication for Education through the Home, School and Community," with Oran Teater, superintendent of Paintsville schools, as moderator, and the P-T-A film, "Where Children Come First," will be presented during the morning session of the conference.

Registration is scheduled for 9:30 a.m., with the opening session scheduled to convene at 10 o'clock. A meeting of the district board of managers is also scheduled for 9 a.m.

Luncheon will be served at noon, at which time the district will present a member with a life membership in the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers. Reservations for the luncheon must be made by Tuesday, April 10, with Mrs. Ethel Johnson, of Allen.

Contributions Noted To Easter Seal Drive

Floyd county has raised $219 to date in its 1962 Easter Seal drive, which opened March 22.

N. D. Howard, of Wayland, chairman of the local drive, urged residents to mail their contributions this week to: Jack Lyon, treasurer, Floyd County Crippled Children Committee, P. O. Box 22, Wayland.

The total reported represents contributions received by mail. Money contributed to Easter Seals is the principal means of support for the varied program of care and treatment carried out by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children at its seven facilities in the state.

"Ninety per cent of the money you contribute to Easter Seals remains in Kentucky to care for Kentucky's physically handicapped boys and girls," Mr. Howard said.

The 1962 Easter Seal Appeal will continue through Easter Sunday, April 22.

LEGAL ACTION THREAT MADE TO OFFENDERS

Epidemic Danger Seen In Garbage and Trash; Plans Systematic Survey

"Retribution for unsanitary practices too long endured" was the promise made this week by Dr. Russell L. Hall of the Floyd County Health Department to those violating sanitation regulations and ignoring notice to cease such violations.

Prestonsburg and the adjacent area were specifically mentioned for action.

"Within the next few weeks," said Dr. Hall, "Health Department personnel will begin a systematic and continuing survey of unauthorized dumping of trash and garbage and other unsanitary practices. Persons found violating sanitation procedures will be given notice, and if corrections are not made within a specified time, legal action will be taken to bring offenders before a court of law."

No exceptions, the county health doctor said, will be made. He pointed out that warning on corrective practices needed was given a year ago.

"If we expect to have a college in the near future, let's begin to look like a college town," Dr. Hall urged. "We hope for new industry here to provide jobs for some of us and our children. But industry will not come here unless we rid ourselves of the eyesores and make our area clean and neat. No outside agency will do this for us. No outside agency should. This is our home-town problem, and it should be solved by home-town residents."

More than community pride and economic gain is involved in the urgent need for a cleanup, Dr. Hall emphasized. "There are the dangers of epidemic diseases arising from these conditions. We are pushing our luck dangerously far," he said.

THE CHILDREN CARED ENOUGH TO GIVE

Did you read on this page last week of the difficulties faced by the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad? And did you merely remark, "Too bad," turn to another part of the paper and give the matter no further thought?

Well, the youngsters in Mrs. Frankie Best's home-room at the Prestonsburg grade school aren't old enough to get caloused. Their sympathies were touched, and they did something about it. The letter is here.

STUDENTS HERE WIN OFFICES IN ASSEMBLY

One of the four state officers elected by the Kentucky Youth Assembly in its 1962 session at Frankfort last week was Miss Lynn Salisbury, Prestonsburg high school student, who was named speaker of the House of Representatives.

Miss Elizabeth Dings, also of Prestonsburg high, was earlier elected assistant clerk of the Senate.

Both girls are members of the 1963 governor's cabinet. The Youth Assembly Saturday elected for the first time a "woman" governor—Miss Susan Kumphe, of Beechwood, Joan Landrum, South Ft. Mitchell, was named lieutenant-governor, and Jackie Stull, Dayton, secretary of state.

Attending the Assembly, which is sponsored by the state Y.M.C.A., were 646 delegates from Hi-Y, Y-Teens, Tri-Hi-Y and Co-Ed-Y clubs.

In its Friday session the Assembly rejected a bill to exempt food and medicine from the sales tax and a proposal to amend the Constitution to permit appointment of the state superintendent of public instruction. The House defeated bills to issue permits to operators of pin-ball machines and to require teachers to take refresher courses in their fields of teaching every three years.

The House passed bills to prohibit junkyards near public highways and to extend Social Security coverage to all public employees, including teachers. The Senate approved a bill to permit the state superintendent and the state board of education to recommend in writing the removal of any public school official or teacher guilty of immorality, misconduct or willful neglect of duty.

Campaigning for state offices began soon after registration was completed last Thursday morning. The Assembly banquet was held that evening, with State Superintendent Wendell Butler as the speaker.

Friday, the candidates for state Youth Assembly office made their campaign speeches. The same day, they heard two who are more seriously campaigning—Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt and Harry King Lowman, opponents for the Dem-

Kentucky's No. 1 City To Be Selected April 10; Prestonsburg In Contest
Seven Kentucky towns are in competition to be designated "Kentucky's Number One City" for 1961 through the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Community Development Program.

The winning city will be named on Tuesday, April 10, at the Awards Luncheon during the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce annual meeting in Louisville.

The seven towns—Prestonsburg, Corbin, Covington, Franklin, Greensburg, Liberty and Marion—have all been declared winners in their respective Congressional districts, according to Smith D. Broadbent, Jr., Cadiz, president of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. He noted that 93 Kentucky communities had entered the 1961 competition.

"With every section of the state properly represented, it should be one of the most interesting of the contests held through the years by the State Chamber," Broadbent added.

This year, Broadbent said, communities were judged one-half on beautification and one-half on other aspects of community development.

EAST KENTUCKY'S INDUSTRY

Practically all of the income of Eastern Kentucky is derived from the mining of coal. A lot of us think that our mining industry is a declining industry. But, tonnage-wise, this is not true. In 1959, Kentucky produced 64,990,298 tons of coal. During 1960 the state produced 67,067,740 tons of coal, or a gain over 1959 of 3.2 percent.

There are two types of mines in our section of the country: rail mines and truck mines. The 179 rail mines during 1960 produced 46,124,948 tons, employing 15,103 men for a tonnage per man of 3,243 tons, whereas 2,707 truck mines produced 17,941,792 tons, employing some 19,760 men for a tonnage per man of 903 tons.

Rail mines have the latest coal-cleaning, washing and preparation plants and are in position to prepare the coal for premium market. In many cases the truck miner, being limited to a one-tract tippie, must crush all his coal together and because he lacks modern cleaning, screening and other coal preparation equipment he must sell on a very low market what may otherwise be a high quality coal.

While the rail mines gained 3.2 percent between 1959 and 1960, the truck mines lost 3.9 percent in their production. This is a slight trend but in thinking of the over-all economy of Eastern Kentucky, this is of grave concern. As noted from the above figures, the rail miner produced some three times as much coal as the average truck miner. The reason for this is that the rail mines are highly mechanized. They have machines that will gulp out several tons per minute without drilling, blasting or any pick and shovel work.

As these machines continue to develop in efficiency this situation is not going to improve as far as the truck mines are concerned. In other words, Eastern Kentucky stands to lose some 19,000 jobs. Naturally, we cannot afford this. This is the problem. What is to be the answer?

At this time a parallel can be drawn to Steinbeck's characters in "The Grapes of Wrath." Many of you who have read this book will remember how the Oklahoma sharecroppers were displaced by the large combines and other farm machinery which became available during the last few decades. When those machines first appeared on the farming scene, they, of course, displaced a lot of farmers and sharecroppers and it looked like the small farms were going to be put out of business. However, there appeared on the market compact types of farm machinery such as cub tractors and other small farm machinery that could be mass-produced and priced at what the small farmers could afford to pay. This gave the small farmers a new lease on life, because there are thousands of small farms that are prosperous today. This is what it will take to save the truck mines for Eastern Kentucky.

However, this is not enough potential market to interest the inventive geniuses of the automotive industry and other machinery developers to get them to work on this problem. We are going to have to attack this from a local level. Out of the thousands of people in Eastern Kentucky how many are now working at drafting boards, designing and developing products that could be locally manufactured and used in our area?

We shall have to form an Eastern Kentucky Development Association in which some of our best minds can be organized and made to focus on this problem—to explore the possibility of designing and developing low-cost machinery that would take the heavy work out of the production of this coal; small loading machines, cutting machines, drilling machines, and low-cost portable coal preparation methods that would allow our truck mines to compete in the higher priced coal markets.

A large number of truck mine operators say that they are not able to secure enough men to work their mines at the wages they can afford to pay. There are several thousand potential jobs available but because of the low wages no one wants these jobs. As we know, in this economy the only way wages can be raised, realistically, is to increase the productivity of the wage-earners.

This is a problem that can be solved only by the combined effort of all the people of Eastern Kentucky. Those who are not qualified by training or otherwise to work at drafting boards will have to contribute their ideas and their financial support, so that we may have products developed that will not only assist our present economy, but will furnish employment in their manufacturing and merchandising.

The White Sisters, Singing Stars, Schedule Church Appearance Here At Opening Of Post-Easter Crusade

The White Sisters, singing stars of radio and television, will appear here when the First Methodist Church opens its post-Easter crusade on Sunday morning, April 29, it was announced this week by the pastor, the Rev. Orrin M. Simmerman.

The crusade will begin with the Sunday morning worship and services will be held nightly at 7:30 for eight days.

The White Sisters, Faye, Janet and Joyce, in 1952 won the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout program which launched them into the broad spotlight of success and fame.

By the time the girls joined the Ford Philpot evangelistic team, a little less than two years ago, they had spent half their lives in show business. Yet, their success marked a turning away from the bright lights.

"For three years we had sung in top hotels and night spots across the country," they will tell you. "We made a trip to Europe for Ted Mack, we appeared on coast-to-coast television programs, but in spite of the glamour of success we felt a deep lack in our lives."

"About this time," said Faye, "Joyce began showing signs of deep unrest. During a month's vacation, Janet and I finally realized Joyce's trouble was within her soul. When a night club in Boston invited us for a two-week return engagement, she balked, but we finally persuaded her to accept."

But Joyce was uncooperative, she wouldn't smile while on stage for their number, and backstage she would insist the trio make it the final appearance. Subsequently, the girls came to an agreement with the club management on breaking

These new additions to the attraction of the park and the Eastern Kentucky area will use water from the Prestonsburg Water System, it was learned this week. Soon to be started by the Prestonsburg system will be a six-inch water main from the end of the city's present main at Lanier to the dike at the park entrance, from which point the Division of Parks will connect with a line to the lodge and other state-owned structures. The line extension will permit city water service to homes along the route up Brandy Keg.

Also scheduled for construction by the state will be a sewer line from the lodge to end in the vicinity of Bald Alley here, with this sewer eventually to be connected with the sewerage facilities planned for the city of Prestonsburg.

Construction of 10 vacation cottages in the vicinity of the new lodge is expected to be begun by April 15, and these will be ready for occupancy this season, making 14 such housing units available in addition to the facilities at the lodge itself. Marvin Music, member and secretary of the Kentucky Park Board, said these cottages will have two bedrooms, a living room and kitchen and will be similar to those being built throughout the parks system this year. Also to be built this spring are a beach house at the Stratton Branch recreation area and a pro shop at the park's new golf course.

The cottages, beach house and pro shop are being built by employees of the Division of Parks.

Final draft of plans for the amphitheatre planned for the 1963 showing of a pageant written around the life of Jenny Wiley is now at Frankfort, Music said. He said the project should be ready for advertising for bids by May 1.

Originally scheduled for surfacing this year, the highway from Auxier toward Paintsville has been badly damaged by breaks in the roadbed following the recent flood. The contractor has been instructed to do excavation work to take the roadbed farther back into the hillside, and as a consequence almost as much earth remains to be moved as when the work was first begun.

Opening of contractors' bids on the low-rent housing project here has been delayed till April 17 because of wage regulations which threatened to skyrocket cost of the units past the architects' estimate.

Men will look taller this spring, according to male fashion experts. Of course, nothing can make a five-footer look like a basketball player, but tricks of line and design slim down and stretch out the short or well-fed figure to help give the tall look that is popular this year.

HATTON FAMILY
The Paintsville Herald in a March issue notes the death of Mrs. Margaret Hatton Wallace, 87, of Buchanan. The new story contains data on the progenitor of the Hatton family.

Mrs. Wallace was born March 7, 1880, at Buchanan, a daughter of the late Dr. Joseph P. and Mary Wheeler Hatton. She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Ashland.

Mrs. Wallace, historian of the family, was a descendant of Samuel David Hatton who was born at Stony Stafford, Buckinghamshire, near London, England, in the year 1728. He came to the United States and enlisted as a private in the Revolutionary War in March, 1777, in Capt. William Haffer's Regiment of Virginia. It was the first Virginia State Regiment commanded by Gen. George Gibson.

He was present at the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. He also fought in the War of 1812.

He died at the age of 111, and was buried at Round Bottom, near Prichard, West Virginia.

MCGUIRE FAMILY
A letter from Mrs. Mintie Marshall, 702 N. Jefferson, Elk City, Oklahoma, offers information on the McGuire family. Mrs. Marshall sets us straight on the genealogy of the McGuires.

"Just received a clipping from the Prestonsburg paper wanting to locate the grave of John P. McGuire, who was killed in the Civil War on Johns Creek. Mrs. Carrie Allan, of Frankfort, who seeks information, is a second niece of Sol and John P. McGuire and her mother is the daughter of Ester McGuire Ritchie. I think she is still living. Her name is Florence Ritchie. I do not recall her last name. She is a niece of Sol and John P. McGuire.

"All of Sol McGuire's daughters are living. Six of them. I am the oldest. I was 82 February 11 and Opal May Spears' mother, Nina McGuire Spears, is next to me. Cora McGuire Crider lives on Tandy's Branch near Dewey Lake, Lula McGuire Epling lives in LaGrand, Oregon. Fanny McGuire Spradlin resides in Lexington, Kentucky, and Lydia McGuire Porter, lives in Prestonsburg. Tom McGuire is the only son of Sol McGuire living. He resides in LaGrand, Oregon.

"My father told me John McGuire was killed in the month of July and father was the only one of the family who went to the funeral. Father wanted to bring John home but the weather was too hot. Father said that there had never been anything growing on John's grave. (The legend in the Johns Creek section has it that nothing ever grew at the spot he fell).

"I never heard the name of the graveyard. (It is the Jackson cemetery, near McCombs, Kentucky). I think John P. McGuire's widow married Tom Fraley. John P. McGuire had three daughters. Each or as nicknamed, Sack, who married Barney Foley, used to come to Sol McGuire's when I was a little girl. She is the only one of them I ever saw. There was Rosa McGuire who married Zeek (Ezekiel) Damron and Mintie McGuire who married a Roman, Barney Foley's children may be still living on Johns Creek. They were John P. McGuire's grandchildren."

Thanks, Mrs. Marshall, for a very informative letter.

While we are writing of John P. McGuire it will be a good place to note his Civil War service. The office of the Adjutant General, Frankfort, says he enlisted October 26, 1861, at Prestonsburg. Mustering out date is not shown on the Adjutant General's record. This information was taken from the roll of Company E, Fifth Regiment Infantry, Kentucky Volunteers, Confederate States Army.

ELLEDGE FAMILY
A letter from Mrs. Mary H. Smith, 750 Oak Drive, South Ogden, Utah, is relayed to this column by Mrs. Ova Haney, Hodgenville, Kentucky.

Mrs. Smith writes: "Our library here has a great many records on Kentucky, one of the best states to do research in."

"I am trying to find someone in Montgomery county, Morgan county or Floyd county who can do research for me on the Elledge line and a Thomas Wamsley line. These people were in Montgomery county from 1794 to 1814, then Floyd county, later Morgan county until 1829. I have exhausted the library sources and need someone to search the courthouse records. Perhaps you know someone who could help me."

Attorney Hobson Resigns From Director Position On Housing Commission

Joe Hobson, former Prestonsburg City Attorney, has resigned his position as executive director and secretary-treasurer of the Municipal Housing Commission, effective Saturday. Mr. Hobson tendered his resignation Monday to W. A. Spradlin, Commission chairman.

It is said that the Commission will meet Saturday to name a successor to Hobson.

Hobson, who has been director of the Commission since it was formed under the preceding city administration, has been occupied with legal and other work incident to the low-rent housing project. Bids on the construction of the project, which were scheduled for opening at several dates in the past few months, will be opened in the near future.

BABE DIES
Barbara Jean Bentley, one-day-old daughter of Burt Rand and Louise Combs Bentley, formerly of Wayland, died at Lakewood hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday of last week. Besides the parents, two brothers and a sister, survive. Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday of last week from the home of Bob Bentley, at Wayland, and burial was made in the Chandler cemetery at Lackey under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Revival Is Slated By Allen Baptists
The revival at the First Baptist Church at Allen, scheduled to begin April 16, will continue through April 27, it was announced this week by Rev. Cohen Campbell, pastor. Rev. Lewis Ader, Williamson, West Virginia, will preach at the services, it is said.

Sunday School—The First Step

By JONAS L. MILLER (Church of the Nazarene)

All parents are alike in the fact that they want the best for their children. The best, the VERY best, you can give them is a good Christian upbringing. If they have this foundation, you can expect your children to want the same for their children. The first step on the ladder is Sunday School, for the parents as well as their children.

Sometimes a parent may want very much to be a good Christian

Feed Grain Program Deadline Extended; Diversion Explained

Because of adverse weather conditions in Kentucky, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has extended the final date of filing 1962 Feed Grain Program applications through April 14 so all farmers will have an equal opportunity to participate in the program, according to Daniel Akers, chairman of the Floyd County ASCS committee.

Farmers may participate in this program by diverting from production at least 20 per cent of their average plantings of corn and grain sorghum for the 1959 and 1960 crop years. The land diverted from production must be seeded to grass or put to other good conservation use. Farmers may receive 50 per cent of the payment earned at the time they file their applications.

Four Road Employees Hired by Magistrates; Geophysical Survey Set

The Floyd fiscal court at its meeting last Friday employed four new road department employees and voted to permit a geophysical survey to be conducted along county roads.

Blaine Hopkins was hired as bulldozer operator, Fred Jarrell as loader operator and Loren Stumbo and Adrian Ousley as truckdrivers. Their rate of pay was not stated in the order.

The geophysical survey is to be made within a period of six months from the March 30 date of the order permitting it. The Petty Geophysical Engineering Co., which will do the study, specified that it will drill holes 4 or 5 inches in diameter, approximately half a mile apart, to a depth of 70 or 80 feet and that a charge of dynamite will be set off in each hole to pick up ground vibrations. The county is committed to fill the holes with gravel and to assume all responsibility for damage or injury. The court employed George Conn to repair the Knotley Hollow bridge across the river, replacing all wooden beams with steel for $40 each.

Med Care Group Plans Prestonsburg Campaign; State Medicos Approve

A Blue Cross-Blue Shield group enrollment campaign will be conducted in Prestonsburg and Floyd county during the period of April 9-21, according to Clifford B. Amos, district director of Blue Cross-Blue Shield in Eastern Kentucky.

During this enrollment, Blue Cross-Blue Shield enrollment representatives, Amos, Anthony J. Lesch and Charles D. Fain, Jr., will call on all business groups in Prestonsburg and Floyd county having five or more employees. In addition, individuals and those employed in firms having less than five employees may apply for membership if under age 64 and in good health.

Blue Cross, the plan for prepaying hospital bills, is approved by the American Hospital Association. It is a community service organization which is governed by a board of directors composed of hospital administrators, doctors and civic leaders who give their services free of charge.

The board sets up the plan's rate schedule and service benefits in such a way that they will meet local health needs and still be within the area's economic standards, Mr. Amos said. The Kentucky Blue Cross plan has been active for approximately 24 years.

A Jaycee spokesman, in urging motorists to install belts for safety purposes, notes that the belts offered meet all federal specifications. Installation will be made at any of several garages in town at a special price.

Herrick said the great majority of serious auto accidents occur at speeds under 40 miles per hour and 70 per cent of the fatalities happen within 25 miles of home.

The belts are fastened in seconds and released with a flick of the finger, he noted.

During 1961, 7,774 handicapped children received treatment through the Kentucky Handicapped Children Commission, an increase of 1,000 over the previous year.

BEAUTIFUL STREAM AND A GARBAGE DUMP... This scene of a garbage dump is at the mouth of Henry's Branch on Right Beaver Creek. People swam and fished here before the dump was started. This dump is typical of many others on the sides of streams in Floyd county.

BY JOHN P. BENTLEY

Keep Floyd County Green! It should read, "Keep Floyd County Clean, And It Will Stay Green."

First, let me make it clear that I was born in Floyd county and have lived here all my 39 years. So, you see, that makes me a natural-born, full-blooded Floyd countian. But at last I have come to the conclusion I am almost ashamed of the people in Floyd county. If you don't think I have a right to feel that way, just take a look around you. I'll bet you a dollar to a doughnut that the first thing you will see is a pile of tin cans, paper boxes and hundreds of miscellaneous items. In short, a plain garbage dump. This makes our county very unattractive. It gives outsiders a very bad impression of us. Also such things are a menace to health and conservation.

You can find them all over the county — along our streams, state and county roads, especially along our scenic Route 80, as the tourist guides say. U. S. 23 and 460 lack a lot of being immune to this treatment. Here's the best one. You can see trash dumped just over the bank or around some of the new signs that were put up about a year ago. You know—the ones that read, "$300 maximum fine for littering the right-of-way."

It's no joke. Just take a look. But there is one thing though. We are raising some of the biggest rats in the state.

Our roads are coming out second best in this trash collecting contest. The first place must fall to our streams. I've seen Beaver change from a beautiful, tree-lined stream to a stinking, open sewer. It has completely lost its value for anything but a place to dispose of garbage. At least, as far as the community is concerned.

But all the blame cannot be put on the people around here. I know of a party that hauls truckloads every day from the City of Martin and dumps it in and around the creek and rural roads at Maytown. So you see that Martin is drinking water polluted by its own garbage. I've noticed wherever people can get access to our streams they will dump their trash. The community must take the blame for doing and allowing this. To show you how bad it has become: Only last July I tried casting for bass in Beaver Creek (Fish & Game Club, take note). To my disappointment I found the water a little above my knees, when, only a year or two before it was chest high. I didn't have to be an expert to see what had happened. Within the 300 yards that I tried to fish here are some of the things I saw: Twenty-seven truck and car tires washed full of sand and sunk to the bottom of the stream, 17 lead cans, and it was impossible to count the bottles and tin cans. Even the tree limbs were loaded with trash as they are now where the water had been up a few months before. Not to mention the poultry and animal remains. (Sanitation and Health Department, take note). So you can see it's no mystery what is happening to our streams. It's no wonder the recent and past floods have raised havoc with us. A shallow ditch cannot carry as much water as a deep one.

Will this ever stop? Not unless the people of Floyd county start some action and clean up this disgraceful situation. Let's put a little pressure on our local government. On second thought, let's put a lot of pressure on them. Let's have some action instead of promises. We've had too many broken promises now. We must have public garbage dumps—whatever it takes. Tracks of land can be purchased at strategic points all over the county, away from streams and populated areas. There are many small unpopulated hollows that can be purchased for this purpose. Money? Sure, it's going to cost money. But we should be good for it. We have been good for a lot of less useful things in the past. In the meantime, drastic measures will have to be used on some people. By this I mean our law-enforcement officials will have to start enforcing our sanitation and conservation laws. You'll be surprised how fast we learn after a few instances of enforcement. I personally don't think they would lose many votes in doing so. We should start a county-wide clean-up campaign. We can form citizens' groups in all communities and have contests, if necessary, or just anything to clean up our county. And, above all, let's not let visitors go away and say we are the laziest people in the state. (Oh, they talk about us all right!)

In the Veterans Administration at Louisville, I had the privilege of meeting one of the National Guardsmen who was assigned to the school bus disaster. He said he had been assigned to several unfortunate accidents all over the state but Big Sandy River was the filthiest and dirtiest that he had ever encountered. I'll have to agree with him. It wasn't all coal dust, either. For everyone knows there is plenty of that. The gas and coal companies have done their part in polluting our streams. But we can't say much as long as we set an example.

I've just been reading a Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce pamphlet that says, "Prestonsburg — a thriving city with modern motels and excellent restaurants. Within short driving distance, many scenic and historic wonders may be visited. The mountain beauty of this area is breathtaking." It goes on to speak of a proposed municipal airport, swimming pool, also one of the finest football stadiums in Eastern Kentucky; about churches, hospitals, recreation, etc.

We have plenty to be proud of but with all of this the county doesn't have anywhere to dump garbage. So the next time we start to dump our garbage in streams and along our roads, just think: What am I doing to my county's and to my children's future?

For we must remember it's later than we think. In order to keep Floyd county green we must keep it clean.

FOLLIES REHEARSALS BEGIN WITH ARRIVAL OF DIRECTOR

With the arrival this week of Ed Cotter, director, casting was completed and rehearsals begun for the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club's "Follies of '62." Mr. Cotter represents the Jerome H. Gargill Producing Organization, Inc., New York City.

The Follies presentation is being offered for the second year, and Mrs. Betty Latta, general chairman, points out that this year's Follies will serve a special purpose—help raise the $500 pledged by the Junior Woman's Club toward the purchase of a site for a junior college here.

The Follies will be staged Thursday and Friday nights, April 12 and 13, at the Strand Theatre.

Jenkins Library Award Presentation Scheduled; Brown Speech To Feature

A literary touch will be added to ceremonies Sunday for presentation of an award to the Jenkins public library.

The library was judged the most progressive small library with limited funds. It will receive the Dorothy Canfield Fisher award of $5,000 to buy more books.

Principal speaker will be Kentucky-born author and lecturer John Mason Brown. He will speak at 2 p.m.

Also in attendance will be novelist Kathleen Windsor, whose novel "Forever Amber" rocketed her to fame in 1944. She will accompany her husband, Washington attorney Paul Porter, a former Lexington newspaperman.

Janice Holt Giles, whose novels paint a picture of pioneer Kentucky life, also will attend. She and her author-husband, Henry Giles, live at Spout Springs, Kentucky, near Columbia.

Also expected to be present is Catlettsburg author Bill Clark, a protégé of Jesse Stuart. Clark's children's books recall his boyhood days along the Big Sandy River.

"Miss Kentucky Library User" will be crowned during the presentation. She will enter The Miss Kentucky pageant in June.

Author and television personality Bennett Cerf will judge the contest.

THE STEPHENS FAMILY

Salt was a vital commodity to early Kentuckians. As late as 1813, lands were granted to individuals in Pulaski and Wayne counties at 10 cents an acre, provided the purchaser would establish saltworks.

emptied their pockets and by the help of our teacher, too, we were able to get together $3.50. We hope this small contribution will help a little. We plan to have a bake sale to raise further money for the Squad. May God bless you all."

It may be that such an example set by children will lead some of us oldsters to part with a little money.

If any April Fool's Day pranks were perpetrated last Sunday, we haven't heard of them—unless the capers the weather cut are to be counted.

A MATTER OF DIRECTION

Laugh if you will at those weird figures of speech, such as, "She cast her eyes to the ceiling," and wonder what happened to them when they came back down. You might also try this figure from an actual incident.

The man was drunk and he heard a remark at which his temper boiled higher than the proof of his liquor. "Way, I'll take my pistol, ram it down that so-and-so's throat and blow his brains out!" he blustered.

HOP-SCOTCHING ALONG

Ever see things through a stranger's eyes? Try it. But, if you want to be happy about the result, pick your spot.

Last Friday, I walked from this office down Third street, up Court to the corner of Lake Drive and on for a "coffee break" with a visitor from Atlanta. The day was dark, drizzly, and as we hop-scotched along the sidewalks, dodging puddles of water and hoping to land on dry, solid footing I began to see our streets and sidewalks as I imagined this visitor was seeing them. He was very polite, and I was very discreet. Neither commented on the situation.

WHO? ME?

The other morning, I almost worked myself up to the point of writing something about the nation's newspapers, since they had given Liz Taylor and her latest love affair and run-out on her husband so much Page One space. But just as I was about to rise, pound my chest and roar, "O, temporal! O, mores!" I was brought up short. "Look," said I to myself—"look who's been reading all this guff about the aforesaid Liz and her loves."

TAKIDEEZY

I have a feeling I've reprinted what follows, some months or years ago. But, since I found it amusing again, we repeat with this conversation which took place when two fishermen met:

"Hiyamac . . . Lobuddy . . . Bin-earlong . . . Cuplours . . . Ketchan-ey . . . Goddafew . . . Kindarthay . . . Bassencarp . . . Ennysizetoom . . . Cuplapovms . . . Hittinard . . . Sordalite . . . Walchocozin . . . Gob-bawurms . . . Fishanonaboddum . . . Rydonnaboddum . . . Igoddago . . . Tubad . . . Seeyarun . . . Yeah-takideezy . . . Guluk."

THE DISAPPEARING WAGON AND MULE TEAM

The wagon and mule team, for many years the chief means of farm and industrial transportation in the mountains, is fast disappearing on the roads and at the mines. Modern gasoline and diesel-powered vehicles are supplanting them.

Shown at work in 1915 when the mining development was being initiated at Weeksburg, Floyd county, are John Compton, now 90 years old and a resident of Hite, who was a teamster hauling lumber to construct the barn in the background, and Willie Milles, the brakeman. Mr. Compton is still active as a farmer.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our past in recognition of our historic heritage and trusts they will contribute to your reading pleasure.

MARTIN, KENTUCKY SUBDIVISION REGULATIONS ARTICLE I PURPOSE, AUTHORITY AND JURISDICTION DEFINITIONS

Once land has been divided into streets, blocks, lots and open spaces, a pattern has been developed which may determine how well community needs for residence, business and industry are to be met. It will also determine how the city can handle its traffic problems, its need for home sites, and how economically it can provide the many services demanded of it.

The Major Street Plan of which certified copies are filed in the office of the County Clerk of Floyd County, Kentucky, and the following regulations are designed to provide for the proper arrangement of streets, for adequate and convenient open spaces for traffic, utilities, access of fire fighting apparatus, recreation, light and air, for the avoidance of congestion of population, including minimum width and area of lots, and for adequate provisions of water drainage sewer and other sanitary facilities.

These Subdivision Regulations are adopted under the authority granted by the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100, Sections 100.720 through 100.730. The Planning Commission, established under the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100, Sections 100.610 through 100.630, has fulfilled the requirements set forth in these acts as a prerequisite to the adoption of such regulations.

These regulations shall govern all subdivision of land within the corporate limits of the City of Martin, Kentucky, as now or hereafter established, and within the unincorporated area for which a Major Street Plan has been adopted, provided, however, that the area of subdivision control under these regulations shall not extend more than (5) miles beyond the corporate limits of said city. Any owner of land within this area wishing to subdivide land shall submit to the Martin Planning Commission a plat of the subdivision according to the requirements defined in these regulations.

For the purpose of these regulations, which shall be known and may be cited as "Subdivision Regulations of Martin, Kentucky," certain words used herein are defined as follows:

The term "subdivision" means the division of a tract of land into two (2) or more divisions for the purpose, whether immediate or future, of sale or of building development, and includes re-subdivision, provided that a division of land for agricultural purposes into lots or parcels of five (5) acres or more and not involving a new street shall not be deemed a subdivision. The term, when appropriate to the context, shall relate to the process of subdividing or to the land subdivided.

The term "street" means a way for vehicular traffic, whether designated as a street, highway, thoroughfare, parkway, thoroughway, road, avenue, boulevard, lane, place or otherwise designated.

ARTERIAL STREETS and highways are those which will be used primarily for high vehicular speeds or heavy volumes of traffic.

COLLECTOR STREETS are those which carry traffic from minor streets to the major system of arterial streets and highways, including the principal entrance streets of a residential development and streets for circulation within such a development.

MINOR STREETS are those which are used primarily for access to the abutting properties and which will carry limited volumes of traffic.

MARGINAL ACCESS STREETS are minor streets which are parallel to and adjacent to arterial streets and highways, and which reduce the number of access points to the arterial street for the purpose of increased traffic safety.

ALLEYS are minor ways which are used primarily for vehicular service access to the back or the side of properties otherwise abutting on a street.

ARTICLE II ADVISORY MEETING WITH PLANNING COMMISSION A. PROCEDURE 1. Previous to the filing of an application for conditional approval of the Preliminary Plat, the subdivider shall meet with the Planning Commission for the purpose of ascertaining the location of proposed major streets, parks, playgrounds, school sites and other planned projects which may affect the property being considered for subdivision.

The subdivider may review with the Planning Commission the minimum standards of design for the subdivision as specified in Article III. Such informal review should prevent unnecessary and costly revisions.

This step does not require formal application, or filing of a plat with the Planning Commission.

ARTICLE III GENERAL REQUIREMENTS AND MINIMUM DESIGN STANDARDS The Subdivider shall comply with the following principals of design in the layout of the subdivision.

A. STREETS.

1. Conformity to the Major Street Plan. The width and location of all streets in a proposed subdivision shall conform to the Major Street Plan.

2. Street Extension. a. The proposed street layout shall provide for the continuation or projection of existing streets in the surrounding areas unless the Planning Commission deems such extension undesirable for specific reasons of topography or design.

b. Where it is desirable, in the opinion of the Planning Commission, to provide street access to adjoining property, proposed streets shall be extended by dedication to the boundary of such property.

c. Minor streets shall be so laid out that their use by through traffic will be discouraged.

3. Dedication of Right-of-Way—New Streets. a. The dedication of right-of-way, measured from lot line to lot line, for new streets shall be as shown on the Major Street Plan, or if not shown thereon, shall meet the following standards:

Table with 2 columns: Street Type, Min. Dedicated Right-of-Way Width. Rows include Mayor Street (80 feet), Secondary Street (50 feet), Minor Street (36 feet), Alleys (20 feet).

The Major Street Plan may indicate greater right-of-way widths for certain arterial streets, but in no case shall the subdivider be required to dedicate more than eighty (80) feet for any one street.

Alleys shall not be permitted in Residential Subdivisions.

4. Dedication of Right-of-Way—Existing Streets. Subdivisions platted along existing streets shall dedicate additional right-of-way if necessary to meet the minimum width requirements as specified in Section A, 3, of this Article.

a. The entire minimum right-of-way shall be dedicated where the subdivision is on both sides of the street.

b. When the subdivision is located on only one side of an existing street, one-half of the required right-of-way measured from the center line of the existing roadway shall be prohibited.

5. Intersections. a. Street intersections shall be as nearly at right angles as possible, and no intersection shall be at an angle of less than sixty degrees.

b. Street curb intersections shall be rounded by radii of at least twenty (20) feet. When the smallest angle of intersection is less than sixty (60) degrees, the above minimum radii shall be increased.

6. Curves in Streets—Horizontal and Vertical. a. A tangent of at least one hundred (100) feet long shall be introduced between reverse curves on arterial and collector streets.

b. Where a deflection angle is more than ten (10) degrees in the alignment of a street, a curve with a radius adequate to insure adequate sight distance shall be made. The minimum radius of curves shall be:

Table with 2 columns: Street Type, Minimum Curve Radius. Rows include Major Highways and Arterial Streets (300 feet), Secondary Streets (200 feet), Minor Streets (100 feet).

c. All changes in grade for arterial and collector streets shall be connected by a vertical curve of a minimum length equal to twenty (20) times the algebraic difference in the rates of grade; the length of curve for all other streets shall be ten (10) times the algebraic difference in the rates of grade.

"Suggested F.H.A. Requirements." 7. Street Grades. a. Street grades should not exceed the following:

Table with 2 columns: Street Type, Percent Grade. Rows include Major Street (5%), Secondary Street (7%), Minor Street (12%).

b. For adequate drainage, the minimum street grade should not be less than one-half of one percent.

8. Marginal Access Streets. Where a subdivision adjoins or contains an existing or proposed arterial highway on which traffic volumes and vehicular speeds warrant special safety considerations, the Planning Commission may require marginal access streets.

9. Street Jogs. Street jogs with centerline offsets of less than one hundred and twenty-five (125) feet shall not be allowed.

10. Dead-End Streets. Dead-end streets, designed to be so permanently, shall not be longer than five hundred (500) feet and shall be provided at the closed end with a turn-around having a radius at the outside of the pavement of at least fifty (50) feet, and a radius at the outside of the right-of-way of at least sixty (60) feet.

11. Street Names. Proposed streets which are obviously in alignment with others already existing and named, shall bear the names of existing streets. In no case shall the name for proposed streets duplicate existing street names, irrespective of the use of the suffix street, avenue, boulevard, driveway, place or court. Through its index list of street names on file, the Planning Commission can assist the subdivider in avoiding duplication. Street names shall be subject to the approval of the Planning Commission.

12. Private Streets and Reserve Strips. a. There shall be no private streets platted within a subdivision.

b. There shall be no reserve strips except where their control is definitely placed in the city or county under conditions approved by the Planning Commission.

B. BLOCKS. 1. Length. Blocks shall not be less than four hundred (400) feet nor more than twelve hundred (1200) feet in length, except as the Planning Commission considers necessary to secure efficient use of land or desired features of street pattern. In blocks over eight hundred (800) feet in length, the Planning Commission may require one or more public cross walks of not less than ten (10) feet in width to extend entirely across the block and at locations deemed necessary.

2. Double-fronted lots shall be prohibited unless the lots are more than two hundred (200) feet in depth.

C. LOTS. 1. Relation to Streets. a. All lots shall front upon a public street or road.

b. Double frontage and reverse frontage lots should be avoided; except where essential to provide separation of residential development from traffic arteries or to overcome specific disadvantages of topography and orientation. A planting screen easement of at least ten (10) feet and across which there shall be no right of access, shall be provided along the line of lots abutting such a traffic artery or other disadvantageous use.

2. Arrangement. a. Side lots lines shall be substantially at right angles to straight street lines or radial to curved street lines.

b. All lots must front on a street not less than twenty (20) feet in width and which is connected with city street system.

3. Dimensions. a. Lot dimensions shall conform to the requirements of the zoning ordinance, except that residential lots not served by public sewer shall be at least seventy-five (75) feet wide at building line and seven thousand five hundred (7500) square feet in area.

b. Where no zoning ordinance is in effect, residential lots served by public sewer shall be at least fifty (50) feet wide at building line and five thousand (5,000) square feet in area.

c. A greater area than specified above may be required for residential lots if, in the opinion of the City (or County) Health Officer, there are factors of drainage, soil condition or other conditions to cause potential health hazards.

4. Side Yards. a. Side yards shall conform to the requirements of the zoning ordinance where the zoning ordinance is in effect.

b. In unincorporated areas, where no zoning ordinance is in effect, the side yards shall conform to the same requirements as set forth in the Martin Zoning Ordinance.

5. Building Setback Line. The minimum building setback line from the right-of-way shall be at least one-half of the total width of the street right-of-way on which the building fronts.

6. Corner Lots. Corner lots shall have sufficient extra width to meet the minimum building setback line established on each street.

7. Flood Hazard. a. In areas subject to flood conditions, subdivisions will be permitted only if flood-free housing sites can be provided.

b. The Planning Commission may require special provisions and controls to assure healthful, safe housing sites in such areas.

D. OFF-STREET LOADING AND PARKING FACILITIES. a. Size of properties reserved or laid out for commercial or industrial uses shall be adequate to provide for the off-street service and parking facilities, as now proposed or hereafter adopted.

b. Where deemed necessary by the Planning Commission, alleys shall be provided for service access.

E. EASEMENTS. 1. Easements across lots or centered on rear or side lot lines shall be provided where necessary for utilities and shall be at least twelve (12) feet wide. Above ground utilities shall be located within such easements where possible.

2. A storm water easement or drainage right-of-way may be required by the Planning Commission where necessary for proper drainage within or through a subdivision.

F.H.A. suggests that at least twelve (12) feet is generally found necessary.

F. PUBLIC SITES AND OPEN SPACES. 1. Where a proposed park, playground, school site, or other public use, as indicated on the city's master plan, or any part thereof, is located completely or in part in a subdivision, the Planning Commission may require the dedication or the reservation of such area as may be deemed reasonable by the Planning Commission for a period of one (1) year from the date of approval of the final subdivision plat by the Planning Commission, during which time the affected public agency may acquire the reserved area in a manner which is agreed upon between the agency involved and the owner.

2. After the one (1) year period has elapsed, if the public agency affected has not acquired such land area or arranged with the owner for an extension of such period, the owner may dispose of the property in conformance with law.

G. COMMUNITY ASSETS. 1. In all subdivisions due regard shall be shown for all natural features such as large trees, water courses, historical spots, and similar community assets which, if preserved, will add attractiveness and value to the property.

H. ZONING OR OTHER REGULATIONS. 1. No final plat of land within the force and effect of an existing zoning ordinance will be approved unless it conforms with such ordinance.

2. Whenever there is a discrepancy between minimum standards or dimensions noted herein and those contained in zoning ordinances, building codes, or other official regulations, the highest standards shall apply.

ARTICLE IV PRELIMINARY PLAT APPROVAL After meeting informally with the Planning Commission as recommended in Article II, the Subdivider shall cause to be prepared a Preliminary Plat prior to the making of any street improvements or installations of any utilities.

A. PRELIMINARY PLAT DATA. The Preliminary Plat shall meet the standards of design as set forth in Article III and shall conform to the requirements and supply information as follows:

1. Scale of two hundred (200) feet to one (1) inch or larger.

2. Name of subdivision, names and addresses of the owner, the engineer or surveyor, and owners of adjacent property.

3. Date, approximate north point, and graphic scale.

4. Acreage of land to be subdivided.

5. Contours at an interval of not greater than five (5) feet or lesser interval if deemed necessary by the Planning Commission.

6. Boundary lines of area to be subdivided and their bearings and distances.

7. Existing and proposed easements and their location, width, and distances.

8. Streets on and adjacent to the tract and their names, widths, grade profiles, and other dimensions as may be required.

9. Utilities on and adjacent to the tract showing proposed connections to the existing utility systems.

10. Lot lines and lot numbers.

11. Sites, and their acreages, if any, to be reserved or dedicated for parks, playgrounds, or other public uses. Sites, if any, for semi-public, commercial or multi-family uses.

12. Minimum building setback lines.

13. Location sketch may showing relationship of subdivision sites to area.

14. Show the present zoning classification, if any, both on the land to be subdivided and on the adjoining land.

15. Copies of the proposed deed restrictions, if any, shall be attached to the Preliminary Plat.

B. PROCEDURE. 1. The Planning Commission shall hold a hearing to consider each Preliminary Plat submitted to it.

2. Six copies of the Preliminary Plat and supplementary material specified shall be submitted to the Chairman of the Planning Commission with a written application for conditional approval at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing at which it is to be considered.

3. The Chairman or Secretary of the Planning Commission shall notify the subdivider by certified mail of the time and place of the hearing not less than five (5) days before the date fixed for the hearing. Similar notice shall be mailed to the owners of land immediately adjoining the area proposed to be platted as shown on the proposed subdivision.

4. Copies of the Preliminary Plat shall be forwarded by the Planning Commission prior to the hearing to the following persons:

a. City Planner contracted by the City to advise Planning Commission.

b. County Engineer.

c. County Health Officer.

d. Such other municipal, county, or state official as directed by the Planning Commission.

5. Within thirty (30) days after the hearing on the Preliminary Plat, the Planning Commission shall approve, disapprove, or approve subject to modifications, the said Plat. Failure of the Planning Commission to act on this Preliminary Plat within thirty (30) days shall be deemed approval of the Plat. If a Plat is disapproved, reasons for such disapproval will be stated in writing. If approved, subject to modifications, the nature of the required modifications shall be indicated in writing.

6. The action of the Planning Commission shall be noted on two (2) copies of the Preliminary Plat with any notations made at the time of approval or disapproval of the specific changes required. One copy shall be returned to the subdivider and the other retained by the Planning Commission.

7. Approval of the Preliminary Plat shall not constitute acceptance of the Final Plat.

8. The approval of the Preliminary Plat shall lapse unless a Final Plat based thereon is submitted within one (1) year from the date of such approval. An extension of time may be applied for and granted by the Planning Commission.

ARTICLE V REQUIRED IMPROVEMENTS PREREQUISITE TO FINAL APPROVAL The following improvements are required, as specified, before final approval may be granted by the Planning Commission. The subdivider shall provide a base and permanent hard surface acceptable to the Planning Commission according to good engineering practice for streets and alleys, install curbs, gutters and sidewalks, monuments, sewers, storm drainage, and water mains in accordance with any additional specifications of the City or County Engineer, City or County Health Officer, or other City or County official having jurisdiction.

A. MONUMENTS. 1. Two (2) concrete monuments at least thirty-six (36) inches in length and four (4) inches square with a suitable center point shall be set at each street intersection on the street right-of-way line. Such monuments should be described in relation to the located section corners of the coordinate system of the State of Kentucky.

2. Iron pin monuments three-fourths (3/4) inches in diameter and twenty-four (24) inches long shall be placed at all points on boundary lines, where there is a change of direction, and at all lot corners.

B. MINIMUM PAVEMENT WIDTHS. 1. Widths shall be measured between curbs and shall be as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Street Type, Width. Rows include Arterial Streets (42 feet), Collector Streets (42 feet), Minor Streets (36 feet), Marginal Access Streets (20 feet), Alleys, Industrial or Commercial (18 feet).

The subdivider will not be required to grade or provide a pavement base or surface in excess of that required for collector streets since such additional construction is required for the benefit of the general public. The Planning Commission will aid subdivider with specifications for construction, placing and setting of such signs.

J. ACCURACY. All boundary traverses shall close to an accuracy of at least one part in 5,000. All lot dimensions shall be shown to the nearest 100th of a foot and angles to the nearest minute.

K. RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS. Although not required by these regulations, the planting of street trees is considered a duty of the subdivider as well as good business practice.

1. Street Trees. Street trees are a protection against excessive heat and glare and enhance the attractiveness and value of abutting property. The Planning Commission will assist the subdivider in location of trees and species to use under varying conditions.

It is recommended that trees be planted inside the property lines where they are less subject to injury, decrease the chance of motor accidents and enjoy more favorable conditions for growth. If trees are to be planted within a planting strip in the right-of-way, their proposed locations and species to be used must be submitted for the Planning Commission's approval.

L. COMPLETION OF IMPROVEMENTS PRIOR TO APPROVAL OF FINAL PLAT. 1. Approval of Improvements. No Final Plat shall be approved by the Planning Commission or accepted for record by the County Clerk until the improvements listed are constructed and approved by the appropriate city (or County) officials having jurisdiction.

2. Security Bond or Certified Check. In lieu of such prior construction, the Planning Commission may accept a security bond or certified check running to the City (or County) sufficient to cover the estimated cost of the required improvements. The bond or check shall be subject to the conditions that the improvements will be completed within one year after approval of the Final Plat.

ARTICLE VI FINAL PLAT APPROVAL The Final Plat shall conform substantially to the Preliminary Plat as approved, and it may constitute only a portion of the Preliminary Plat which the subdivider proposed to record and develop.

A. FINAL PLAT DATA. 1. The plat shall be at a scale of one hundred (100) feet to one (1) inch or larger.

2. Date, title, name and location or subdivision, graphic scale, and true north line.

3. All dimensions, angles, bearings and similar data on the plat shall be tied to primary control points as approved by the City (or County) Engineer. Location and description of said control points shall be given.

4. Tract boundary lines, right-of-way lines of streets, easements and other right-of-way, and property lines of residential lots and other sites with accurate dimensions to the nearest one hundredth of a foot; bearings or deflection angles, radii, area and central angles of all curves with dimensions to the nearest minute.

5. Name and right-of-way width of each street, easement, or other right-of-way.

6. Lot numbers.

7. Purpose for which sites, other than residential lots, are dedicated or reserved.

of storm water and where all lots have a width of 100 feet or more.

G. SIDEWALKS. Sidewalks shall have a minimum width of four (4) feet and shall be required on both sides of streets in all subdivisions. The Planning Commission may waive the requirements of sidewalks where all lots have a width of 100 feet or more. In any case sidewalks shall be constructed on all collector and arterial streets.

H. UTILITIES. 1. Water Supply System. Where public water supply, in the opinion of the Planning Commission, is reasonably accessible, the subdivider shall construct a complete water distribution system, including a connection for each lot and appropriately spaced fire hydrants; or with an alternate supply approved by the City (or County) Health Officer where public water supply is not within a reasonable distance.

2. Sanitary Sewers. Where the public sanitary sewer system, in the opinion of the Planning Commission, is reasonable accessible, sanitary sewers shall be installed to adequately serve all lots with connections to the public system after approval of the size of the lines by the City Engineer. Where lots cannot be served by the extension of an existing public sanitary sewer, the subdivider shall obtain an approval of lot sizes from the City (or County) Health Officer for individual septic tanks and disposal system.

3. Installation of Utilities. After grading is completed and approved and before any base is applied, all of the underground work—water mains, gas mains, etc., and all service connections shall be installed completely and approved throughout the length of the road and across the flat section. All driveways for houses to be built by the developer shall be cut and drained.

I. STREET NAME SIGNS. The Planning Commission shall require the installation of street signs at all intersections. Upon request, the Planning Commission will aid subdivider with specifications for construction, placing and setting of such signs.

J. ACCURACY. All boundary traverses shall close to an accuracy of at least one part in 5,000. All lot dimensions shall be shown to the nearest 100th of a foot and angles to the nearest minute.

K. RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS. Although not required by these regulations, the planting of street trees is considered a duty of the subdivider as well as good business practice.

1. Street Trees. Street trees are a protection against excessive heat and glare and enhance the attractiveness and value of abutting property. The Planning Commission will assist the subdivider in location of trees and species to use under varying conditions.

It is recommended that trees be planted inside the property lines where they are less subject to injury, decrease the chance of motor accidents and enjoy more favorable conditions for growth. If trees are to be planted within a planting strip in the right-of-way, their proposed locations and species to be used must be submitted for the Planning Commission's approval.

L. COMPLETION OF IMPROVEMENTS PRIOR TO APPROVAL OF FINAL PLAT. 1. Approval of Improvements. No Final Plat shall be approved by the Planning Commission or accepted for record by the County Clerk until the improvements listed are constructed and approved by the appropriate city (or County) officials having jurisdiction.

2. Security Bond or Certified Check. In lieu of such prior construction, the Planning Commission may accept a security bond or certified check running to the City (or County) sufficient to cover the estimated cost of the required improvements. The bond or check shall be subject to the conditions that the improvements will be completed within one year after approval of the Final Plat.

ARTICLE VII VARIANCES A. EXCEPTIONAL CONDITIONS. The Planning Commission may grant a variance to these regulations whereby reason of the exceptional topographic conditions, or whereby reason of the exceptional shape of a specific piece of property, the strict application of these regulations would result in extreme practical difficulties and undue hardship upon the owner of such property; provided, however, that such relief may be granted without detriment to the public good and without substantially impairing the intent and purpose of these regulations. In granting such variances or modifications, the Planning Commission may require such conditions as will substantially secure the objectives of the standards of requirements so varied or modified. Financial disadvantage to the property owner is no proof of hardship within the purpose of these regulations.

B. GROUP HOUSING DEVELOPMENTS. A comprehensive group housing development, including the large scale construction of housing units together with necessary drives and ways of access may be approved by the Planning Commission although the design of the project does not include standard street, lot and subdivision arrangements; provided that departure from the standards of these regulations can be made without destroying their intent.

C. PROCEDURAL VARIANCE. Where a proposed subdivision would contain five or less parcels or plots of land and no new streets, the procedure of preparing a Preliminary Plat may be waived by the Planning Commission.

ARTICLE VIII ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS. A. ENFORCEMENT. 1. No Plat or plan of a subdivision of land located within the jurisdiction of the Planning Commission shall be admitted to the records of Floyd County or received or recorded by the County Clerk until said Plat has received final approval in writing by the Planning Commission as provided in the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100.730.

2. No board, public officer, or authority shall accept, lay out, improve, or authorize utilities to be laid in any street within the territory for which the Planning Commission has adopted a Major Street Plan unless the street has received a legal status of a public street prior to the adoption of the Major Street Plan; unless a street corresponds with a street shown on the Major Street Plan; or unless a street on a subdivision Plat or a street Plat has been approved by the Planning Commission as provided in the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100.760, (1).

3. After the adoption of the Major Street Plan by the Planning Commission, no building shall be erected or building permit issued within such territory unless the requirements as provided in the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100.760, have been fulfilled. If any building is erected in violation of these regulations, the Building Inspector or other appropriate official may cause the building to be vacated or removed as provided in the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100.770.

B. PENALTIES. 1. Any County Clerk who receives, files or records a plat in violation of the provisions of these regulations shall be fined not less than one hundred (100) dollars or more than five hundred (500) dollars as provided in the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100.990, (5).

2. Any person who transfers or negotiates to transfer any lot in a subdivision before the plat of said subdivision has been approved by the Planning Commission and recorded in the County Clerk's office, or attempts the description of land by metes and bounds in violation of these regulations, shall pay to the City of Martin a penalty of one hundred (100) dollars for each parcel of land so transferred as provided in the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100.990 (6). The City may, by action in the Circuit Court, enjoin the transfer or agreement to transfer land as provided in the Kentucky Revised Statutes, Chapter 100.990 (4).

ARTICLE IX ADOPTION AND EFFECTIVE DATE A. Before adoption of these Subdivision Regulations or any amendments thereto, a public hearing shall be held by the Planning Commission; a public notice of the time and place shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city and county for two successive weeks with the final publication appearing no later than two days before the date of action by the Planning Commission.

B. These Subdivision Regulations shall take effect and be in force immediately upon adoption thereof.

To Whom It May Concern:

After this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by any one other than myself.

Highway Conference Series Is Conducted

The fourth in a series of 12 scheduled highway conferences to discuss rural road building with the citizens of Kentucky will be held April 9 and 10 at Pikeville.

Emphasis of the two-day conference will be on closer cooperation between county fiscal courts and the Division of Rural Highways in planning and establishing priority on road work in a county. All interested citizens, as well as county officials from the seven-county Twelfth highway district, have been invited to the first-day general session. It will be held in the Pike county courtroom at 10:30 a.m.

Individual sessions with county representatives will be held in other courthouse rooms in the afternoon and on the second day, according to Rural Highway Commissioner T. R. Marcum who is directing the conferences.

"Revenue for the rural secondary program in Kentucky comes from two cents of the state gasoline tax," Marcum explained, "and although this brings in approximately $18 million annually, when it is distributed among 120 counties there is never enough to do all of the road work that is needed."

"These conferences should allow us who have to make the final decisions as to what roads it will be spent for to hear from more persons about where they feel the money can be spent," Marcum said.

Separate sessions with Floyd and Pike delegations are planned at 10:30 a.m., April 10. Other counties will be heard at appointed times during the two days. A general session for all counties will open the conference at 10:30 a.m., April 9.

HAMILTON SERVES IN GERMANY

Goppingen, Germany — Army Specialist Five Tolby Hamilton, son of K. F. Hamilton, Beaver, Kentucky, recently participated in a combined arms phase of the five-week 4th Armored Division field training exercises in the Grafenwohr-Hohenfels area of Germany.

The exercises stressed the ability of infantry, artillery, armor and logistical support units to work together under combat conditions. Training of this nature is designed to maintain a constant state of combat readiness essential to a modern Army deployed to maintain the defense of the free world.

Specialist Hamilton, a tank crewman in Company B, of the division's 66th Armor in Ilshelm, entered the Army in February, 1941, and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in November, 1960.

His wife, Anna, is with him in Germany.

Plentiful Foods Named For April; Food Guide Is Service for Buyers
The U. S. Department of Agriculture says eight foods will be plentiful at Floyd county food stores during April, and will be wise buys for food stamp coupon recipients. The foods which USDA lists as plentiful in its April food guide for Floyd county grocers are cheese, eggs, honey, margarine, milk, canned peaches, potatoes and turkeys. Other wise buys in April will be ground beef, all cereals, canned corn, canned grapefruit sections, and locally grown fresh greens. The foods listed in the monthly food guide — a special service for food distributors in food stamp project areas — are particularly recommended for food stamp coupon recipients to help them stretch their food buying power. The list of foods contains the best buys within the four basic food groups — meats, milk and dairy products, fruits and vegetables, and breads and cereals. Servings from each of these four food groups daily, according to USDA, will insure more adequate nutrition.

Other wise buys in April will be ground beef, all cereals, canned corn, canned grapefruit sections, and locally grown fresh greens. The foods listed in the monthly food guide — a special service for food distributors in food stamp project areas — are particularly recommended for food stamp coupon recipients to help them stretch their food buying power. The list of foods contains the best buys within the four basic food groups — meats, milk and dairy products, fruits and vegetables, and breads and cereals. Servings from each of these four food groups daily, according to USDA, will insure more adequate nutrition.

THE FEMININE SIDE OF BOWLING NEWS

By IMA BOWLER

Further plans have been made for our annual banquet, and in case some of you haven't heard I'll try to explain a little. The annual banquet is customary, and usually each team is represented and their sponsors are invited.

This year, at our first annual banquet we are going to have as guest-speaker Mrs. Helen Komorski, the director of field representatives for the W. I. B. C., who is coming here for the purpose of answering questions and helping us get rules straightened out. This is to be an area meeting with the city associations all over Eastern Kentucky participating. Don't let your team be the one not represented. The banquet is to be held April 25, at the high school cafeteria at 6 p.m. Other speakers at the banquet will be Dr. George P. Archer, mayor of Prestonsburg, and the Rev. Harold Dicks.

At the first of the year, when we all started bowling, most of us didn't realize that there was anything else to bowling but just the game. Now, I think most of the women are beginning to realize that there is much more to it than that. We are part of a national organization, and we have had some difficulty with the rules, which is natural, but we now must realize that these rules govern all women's bowling, and if we decide in the future to participate in tournaments or events other than those here, we will have to join with the W. I. B. C. in observing their rules. They are very fair, very explicit, and cover all situations. It is for your own protection that they have been made.

The officers of the City Association are for your benefit, and it has occurred to me that some of you might be interested in knowing who they are, so I will list them:

President, Mary Auxier Hale; secretary, Earlene Daniels; Treasurer, Turp Combs; first vice-president, Verbal Meeks; second vice-president, Pat Greene; third vice-president, Ruthie Goebel; fourth vice-president, Joan Gibson; sergeant-at-arms, Jane Layne.

At our annual meeting of the City Association, there will be another election of officers for the following year. All of you be thinking of who you want to represent you, for the whole City Association will vote on them.
