SOMETHING SPECIAL

This is Girl Scout Week. This year is the 50th anniversary of the Girl Scout movement.

OF WORDS AND THINGS

Ever daily with words, savor their taste and smell? It's a good way to while away time, if you have any.

Bemused with certain words, I wonder if Will Shakespeare wasn't a bit off base when he opined that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet.

For years I was prejudiced against petunias because of their name, and even yet they lose charm, beautiful as they are, when that word describes them.

Is there anything prettier than a redbird perched in an evergreen with a snow-covered hillside for a backdrop? A blackbird with the sheen of his feathers sometimes glistening green, or a bluejay, is pretty, too.

Empathy doesn't govern always. The characteristics of the thing bearing the name count heavily. The redbird connotes a wild, free, darling thing; the blackbird, a sly, mischievous thing.

But the bluebird! Drag out your word associations, your synonyms. You think of spring, of happiness, of a shy, gentle spirit -- a wild thing, true, but not wildly, violently so.

For all this I apologize, but Spring is only a week away and I've got the jump on the season.

HORN NOTES STAMP TOTAL

Program Total Reaches $731,000 In February; Dopson Warns Purchasers

Needy families in Floyd county receiving food stamp coupons from the U. S. Department of Agriculture are reminded that only food items can be bought with the coupons.

Arvid Dopson, USDA's representative supervising the pilot food stamp project in the county, said this week that onion sets, seed potatoes, tomato plants, and vegetable seeds are not considered as food items, and therefore cannot be bought with food stamp coupons.

Use of the coupons has been limited to food items since the beginning of the pilot program. He also reminded coupon recipients that alcoholic beverages, tobacco, pet foods, soaps, and other household supplies cannot be bought with the coupons.

The USDA representative suggested that recipients check with their grocers when in doubt about which items they can purchase with stamp coupons.

Carl R. Horn, head of the stamp issuance office here, said that the $193,442 worth of stamps issued during February brought

RECORD CITY BUDGET STUDIED BY CITIZENS

TAX NEEDS ANNOUNCED AT MEETING

City Officials Explain Huge Financial Problem Inherited by Councilmen

The Prestonsburg City Council, faced with a big fiscal problem, met with the taxpayers in a town hall meeting Monday evening to present a budget of $107,628, approximately $40,000 greater than the revenue last year.

In order to pick up this deficit Mayor George Archer announced that a 50 percent increase in assessment of real property is being continued to be required and a modified business and professional men's tax will be levied.

The mayor, councilmen and City Treasurer J. R. Spurlock reviewed the whole financial structure of the city, noted mistakes of the past, one of them being the refinancing of old sewer bonds, and pointed out that the city just isn't paying enough taxes to procure the many modern services it must have.

"The condition our town is in," Mayor Archer said, "is everyone's responsibility. We charge that you and we have not fulfilled our duties as citizens. You can criticize us, go home, lie down and forget it. We cannot. We have to wrestle mightily with the city's problems. They are so urgent that we can't lie down and forget them."

Mayor Archer noted how the precedent-breaking budget was prepared. Bankers, businessmen and experts in many fields had been asked advice. He paid recognition to Earle Flower, statistician of the United Fuel Gas Company, who had worked long hours to help evolve a realistic budget.

"Getting a college here is going to bring responsibilities," he said. "We have to provide services for students, we have to clean the town up, there'll be gas and water mains to lay to the college and the scheduled low-rent housing project."

CITY NEEDS $107,000 CITIZENS ARE TOLD

The record-making Prestonsburg city budget, presented for public discussion at Monday evening's town hall meeting at the grade school, will care only for essential services and put the city on a cash basis for the first time in decades, it is said.

The outlay of $107,628 for the ensuing fiscal year is $39,949 higher than the revenue of the preceding year, but the difference will be raised by car and truck stickers to yield $10,000, a raise of 50 percent in assessments and the business assessment values and a modified tax are expected to yield $15,000 each.

Equalization of taxes, agreed upon by the council as a matter of policy, will be delegated to a municipal taxation authority at Frankfort.

25 Methodist Churches To Be Represented Here Next Saturday Evening

The Ashland District of the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Church will feature a rally meeting for young people at the First Methodist Church, Prestonsburg, Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. Youth from several counties in the south end of the Ashland District are expected to attend.

This event will be the initial meeting of this sort for the simultaneous Methodist revivals which are to be conducted throughout the Kentucky Conference in March and April. This particular meeting (See Story No. 5, Page 5)

SBA ACCEPTS APPLICATIONS

Flood Relief Loans Expected To Total 30, Representatives Say

The Small Business Administration office temporarily set up in the Statewide Insurance Agency office here Monday morning closed at noon Wednesday, but will reopen next Monday to remain open through Tuesday and possibly for the same two days during succeeding weeks, it was announced by R. B. Blankenship, state manager for SBA.

Closing of the office temporarily was necessary, so that the two SBA representatives, Ralph Gibson and M. J. Ferguson, could render the same service in Pike county.

Interest in SBA loans, which were made available as a part of the federal flood-relief program, has been higher than expected, representatives said. In the two days the office was open this week 18 applications were made for loans and numerous inquiries were made. The state office expected 20 applications in all but now believes the total will be nearer 30.

Newman's Name Omitted From All-District Team

The name of Gary Newman, of the Betsy Layne high school Bobcats, was inadvertently omitted from the all-district basketball team selected on conclusion of the district tournament held here last week.

PICK P'BURG DIST. WINNER

In Development Contest; Top State Recognition Sought by Ten Entrants

The district community development contest has been won by Prestonsburg, it is announced by Rufus Thomas, Ashland, district contest chairman, and the city is one of eight now being considered for state honors.

The competition among Kentucky communities for top recognition in the areas of city beautification, certified surveys, economic development and organization is sponsored by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Prestonsburg won in the district over 10 other communities which entered the competition. A cash award to the district winner will be announced later, it was said.

The scrapbook which told the Prestonsburg story in competition with the other communities was prepared by the Prestonsburg Community Development Council.

CHILD CLINIC AIDS 31, SAID

Hall Notes Services Given by Specialists; Immunization Initiated

Services which otherwise would have cost many thousands of dollars were rendered without charge to 31 children at the pediatric clinic held Tuesday at the Floyd County Health Department, Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health doctor, said.

All the children examined were from this county. One was hospitalized and two others are scheduled for surgery. All patients were referred to the clinic by physicians, and complete reports of the specialists' findings will be mailed to the family physician of each child examined.

Six specialists, two laboratory technicians and two social workers comprised the clinic staff. The clinic was sponsored by the Floyd County Health Department and the State Department of Health's Bureau of Maternal and Child Health Services.

The clinic staff included Dr. Fred Horner, Dr. James Wilhite, Dr. William Hathaway and Dr. C. Charles Mabry, pediatricians; Dr. Jacquelin Noonan, cardiologist; Willis Todd and Louis Newby, laboratory technicians; Julia High and Ruth Pitman, social workers.

A similar clinic to serve patients under 15 years of age from Floyd and Martin counties will be held here May 15.

To meet the health threat posed by the recent flood, health department personnel has been engaged in pumping out and chlorinating flooded wells in both Floyd and Martin counties and has initiated a wide program of immunization against typhoid. Approximately 4,000 persons in Floyd and 2,800 in Martin had received "shots" as of Tuesday.

QUESTIONS, ANSWERS FEATURE TOWN HALL MEETING MONDAY. INTEREST SHOWN BY PUBLIC

Questions posed and answers given by city officials at Monday evening's town hall meeting revealed a wide interest in certain phases of government.

Several of these follow:

Gene Hager: "How many persons have bought automobile stickers?"

Mayor George Archer: "There are approximately 1,000 vehicles in the city that must have stickers under the ordinance, and 771 have been purchased."

Ray Howard: "What bearing will the equalization program have on personal property assessments?"

City Attorney Fred Francis: "Personal household property under the law is exempt from taxation but stocks and bonds are not. Automobile assessments will probably be made from a blue book. (The book used by automobile dealers to determine the value of a car)."

Dallas Sammons: "Isn't $3,000 a small amount to be budgeted for an equalization program in the city?"

Mayor Archer: "It is only part of the cost. The city puts up $3,000, gets $18,000 worth of service from the state."

Gene Hager: "Why haven't back taxes been collected?"

Mayor Archer: "A lot has been collected. If we hadn't collected some back taxes, we couldn't have operated the city government. Paintsville and Pikeville collect something like 95 or 97 percent of taxes. We collect much less. We have given orders to Tax Collector Scott Collins to collect back for five years."

Hager: "Have any car stickers been given out without cash received?"

Archer: "Absolutely no."

Frank Harmon: "Why are county officials exempt from car stickers?"

Archer: "Unless they reside in the city the courts have held that they cannot be required to buy stickers. Several have bought them."

Hager: "How many tracts of land in Prestonsburg are listed as farm land for assessment purposes and if taxes are equalized will these listings be eliminated?"

Archer: "There are four pieces of real property in Prestonsburg listed as farm land and under an equalization program these listings as such will be eliminated."

Mrs. R. V. May: "Is there any law to force landowners to keep their lots cleaned up?"

Fred Francis: "There is a law to that effect. The city can clean up the property and bill the owner for the cost."

Mrs. Regina Mayo: "Isn't there something that can be done about junk cars on our streets?"

Mayor Archer: "If you see a junk car on the street, call the police department and they will have it removed."

Unidentified: "When is the next meeting of the City Council?"

Mayor Archer: "The Council meets every first and third Thursday of each month, and everybody is invited to come."

YOUTH CASE TRANSFERRED 73 FAMILIES ASK RC AID

Wheelwright Boy Admits Shooting Father; Mother Agrees To Accept Tests

After his case had been transferred Tuesday to circuit court following juvenile proceedings, James Edward Hall, 14-year-old Wheelwright boy who has admitted shooting and killing his father, John M. Hall, Jr., was admitted by Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill to $2,500 bond.

The boy had not executed bond late Tuesday afternoon. His mother's account of the shooting and events leading up to her husband's death on the night of March 4, as told Tuesday morning to County Judge Henry Stumbo, County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill, Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley and State Detective Chester D. Potter, is at wide variance from an earlier version which she gave Potter and Sheriff Henry C. Hale.

She said Tuesday that she had no recollection of seeing the shooting with which her husband was killed until after the shot had been fired. Reminded that she had on the night of the slaying told Potter and Hale of her young son's loading the gun in her presence and of his remark that "he'll never take another dime from you," she admitted that statement without further explanation, yet continued with her claim she did not see the (See Story No. 7, Page 5)

Those jailed were Mick Johnson, Myrtle Hall, Ida Jean Hall, Rosa Mae Thacker and Carl McKinney.

Used to be that people swore by V-8's and V-8's alone. And then along came Tempest's spunky 4 to steal their thunder. The hottest version* of this 4 (166 hp) puts out more horse-

Lady's Arm Bent Like Jack-Knife

One lady told us her arm used to be doubled up like a jack-knife because her muscles were stiff and sore with rheumatic pain. She said people would stare at her. Finally she got RUGON and now says she can raise her arm above her head and the awful pain and stiffness is gone entirely.

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this NEW liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Co.

WHY MY FAMILY AND I ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL REGULARLY

By E. B. May, Jr.
(Community Methodist Church)
In this modern age we find ourselves moving at a very fast pace but there is one very important factor in our lives that hasn't changed. That is Jesus Christ, our Saviour. He is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. Another phase of our life (or one which should be a very important part of our lives) which hasn't changed, is our worship of this man called Jesus. Today, as in the time of Christ, we find recorded Jesus' command to his disciples to go and to preach and teach. The second part of this commandment is what I am concerned about.

Why Sunday School? Well, first we think of the commandment above. We are obedient to the will of God, but do not attend Sunday School. We say, "I've been to church and my obligation to God has been fulfilled." What is our obligation to God? To do His will to preach, to teach, and to witness for Christ and to be willing workers for Christ and His kingdom. You may say, "I can't do anything." But you can fill a seat, and it doesn't take a special talent to do that.

Secondly, would we think of our modern world without schools for our children when they reach the school age? You would say, "No." Then how much do we think of our children, that we will not provide and take (not send) them to God's house for Sunday School, where they can be educated in how to find (through true repentance and complete surrender) the way of life eternal with Christ? Do we love them enough to want them to have the best? Then give them Christ.

Thirdly, Sunday School is not only for young ones but for all ages. I haven't attended any church that has not made provisions for all ages. After conversion, Sunday School provides many opportunities to broaden one's mind to enable them to eat the meat of the gospel and not stay on the milk, as Paul tells us in his writings. Sunday School also affords us another opportunity to be obedient to the Commandment of gathering ourselves together, and not only does it afford greater learning and fellowship, but gives opportunities for God to call laborers into the already ripening harvest. Many preachers of today were converted and called into God's full time service through attendance in Sunday School.

Sam Fraley, of Wayland, underwent surgery at the Good Samaritan hospital, Lexington, this week. His condition is fair, relatives say.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my husband, William G. Salmons, who passed away March 21, 1961. I try in vain to understand; Forgive me Lord, in tears I pray. As this ends one sad and lonesome year today. Memories are a heartache No one can heal. Some may forget you. Now that you have gone. I will remember Bill No matter how long.

will be an evangelistic meeting for youth.

All MYF groups are cordially invited to attend and are urged to bring their friends and neighbors. This meeting will take the place of the usual sub-district meeting for Floyd county.

Mrs. Hall readily agreed to submit to a lie-detector test. She agreed to examination of her shoulders to ascertain if they were bruised. There was no bruise, it was said. (This, presumably, was to attempt to determine if she herself might have fired the shotgun). A similar examination was made of the boy. Neither of his shoulders showed evidence of a bruise. He said he fired without throwing the weapon to his shoulder.

The woman said she and her children are penniless. The court appointed Joe P. Tackett to represent her.

CHANGE THE RECORD
A woman came to this desk today and handed me a slip of paper which stated that her home had burned to the ground two days ago. I have contributed to this "cause" on previous occasions, but, dumb as I am, I began to get suspicious when I noticed that the paper had worn through where it has so often been folded.

ADVANCE NOTICE
Not till the year 2000 will Easter ever again arrive as late as this year. We note this in advance for the benefit of many of us who, in all probability, will never have the opportunity to be in church on an Easter as late as April 22.

March is much like a human battling to stay young, yet in the inexorable grip of the years. Just be patient. Once the weather has made up its mind about remaining wintry or slipping over into the new season, things will quieten down—and then you can begin complaining all over again.

COMBS PAYS TRIBUTE TO AREA GIRL SCOUTS
Governor Bert T. Combs paid tribute to Girl Scouting on its 50th anniversary and to the Sandy Valley Council at the annual Council dinner held Tuesday evening at the Paintsville Country Club. The Governor's talk, which was heard by about 200 persons, not only congratulated Girl Scouting on 50 years of progress but also included a resume of the achievements of his administration. Mary Ann Kawaja, Paintsville Girl Scout, presented Governor Combs a citation in recognition of his interest in Girl Scouting. The Thank You Badge, which is presented annually to the person whose contribution to Girl Scouting during the preceding past year has been greatest in the Council, was awarded to Mrs. Edward P. Hill, president of the Council. The award was made by Mrs. J. R. Camelia, who also presented service badges to Scouters. Names of "Round-Up Girls," the Girl Scouts selected by a committee to attend the national Girl Scout Round-Up next July at Button Bay, Vermont, were announced. They are: Donna Ann Meade, Prestonsburg; Barbara Jane Safriet, Paintsville; Jamie Fields, Wheelwright; Barbara Yinger, Whitesburg; Pamela Pinson, Williamson, W. Va.; Boyeta Hoover, Pikeville; Sharon Layne, Pikeville; Sharon Wilson, Pikeville. Mary Jane Capone, of Williamson, and Nell Arnett Price, of Whitesburg, were named alternates. Service numerals were awarded to a number of leaders in the Girl Scout work. Recipients were: Five-Year Pins — Mrs. Virginia Benedict and Mrs. Harrison Sparks, both of Wheelwright; Mrs. J. R. Camelia, Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Dahlin, of David; Mrs. Belford Reitz, of Martin; Ten-Year pins—Mrs. W. W. Burchett, Prestonsburg; Anna Branham, Ruby Garrett, Sarah McQueen, Gonvill McClure, Mrs. J. B. Fields, Mrs. Minor Pace and Mrs. Carrie Sanders, all of Wheelwright. The eight girls named to attend the Round-Up were selected from a list of 21 applicants. After their selection had been announced they gave a program of ballads taught them by Mrs. Edith F. James, of Prestonsburg, for presentation at the Round-Up. Mrs. Hill, winner of the 1962 Thank You Badge, will receive her Fifteen-Year pin next year. She has been troop committee member, neighborhood chairman, district chairman, day camp director and chairman, training chairman and chairman of public relations. She is now in her second year as Council president. Scouting personnel introduced included these board members, officers and committee chairmen: Mrs. Hill, president; Mrs. J. R. Camelia, Prestonsburg, first vice-president; Mrs. Elson Hedges, Paintsville, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank Medaras, Hazard, secretary; Mrs. Winston Ford, Prestonsburg, treasurer; Mrs. W. R. Burgess, Pikeville, chairman of District No. 1; Mrs. Oliver Marshall, David, chairman of District 2; Mrs. Hal Kawaja, Paintsville, chairman of District 3; Mrs. Everett Thompson, District 4, and Mrs. W. B. Sturgill, Hazard, District 5. Mrs. Hill presided at the meeting and introduced Governor Combs. The Sandy Valley Council embraces the Kentucky counties of Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Breathitt, Magoffin, Martin, Knott, Perry and Letcher, and Mingo county, West Virginia.

Archer announced that the council had been organized in committees of two with each group responsible for some phase of city administration—the Fire Department under Dr. Edward B. Leslie and Byron Nunnery; taxation, zoning and housing, under the supervision of Herschell Tackett and Tom O. McGuire; the Police Department, by a committee headed by E. B. May, Jr. and Dr. Herbert Salisbury; streets, under Clifford Wright and Theodore (Jody) Fannin.

Each council committee discussed problems pertaining to its field and explained the new budget as it affected them.

Since Dr. Leslie and Byron Nunnery were not present, Mayor Archer discussed Fire Department problems. He pointed out that a new fire truck must be purchased to enable the city to retain its seventh class rating for insurance and that a new fire station may be required at Lancaster.

Councilmen Wright and Fannin explained that a decision had been made to put two additional men on the street and sanitation work and that a new packer-type garbage truck will be bought from the added garbage fees. They said the new-type garbage vehicle can be operated with fewer men.

Mayor Archer and Treasurer Spurlock explained the problem incurred by refinancing of old sewer bonds back in the 1940's. They are non-callable and it is necessary to provide a sinking fund of $3,600 annually. Total indebtedness on these bonds which are held by a Maysville bank, is $46,500.

A parking meter problem, discussed by Dr. Salisbury and Mayor Archer, is the high interest rate of 12 percent the city pays on this indebtedness. Payments have defaulted twice in the last three years. This is a "fantastic" situation, the mayor said, and he proposes to refinance the parking meter debt at a local bank at six percent interest.

The city defaulted twice recently on the payments to the state on the planning and zoning services, but these services have now reinstated. At this point the mayor announced that the bids to construct the low-rent housing units will not be opened until April 3.

Councilman Tackett, in discussing the proposed assessment raise, said, "Remember what we do to you we do to ourselves." He reminded the gathering of approximately 100 citizens that city taxes are due April 1, after which a penalty will be added.

Following the presentation of city problems, a question-and-answer period was held. No audible opposition to the new budget was voiced, and it was the consensus of opinion that it was realistic and much needed.

REHASH OF TOURNAMENT

During last week's 15th regional basketball tournament Eastern Kentucky fans poured $10,020 into the bill to watch the affair, making it the richest tournament of all time in the region. Last season's record $8,900 was bettered by $1,700.

Each participating school realized a share of $931.70, as compared to $740 a year ago.

As long as the schools in the region are treated with courtesy and respect, Prestonsburg will continue to serve as host to the tournament, since the facilities are here and this is the exact center of the region.

Friday night's session attracted possibly the largest crowd ever to see a game in the fieldhouse. Various estimates range from 4,600 to 5,100. With four bands admitted free, 637 passes, etc., several "free-loaders" and a $3,560 gate, one person's guess is as good as another's.

The Floyd county Sheriff's department did an excellent job handling the crowds in and outside the fieldhouse; the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad did their usual fine work handling traffic, and the Boy Scouts and city police department came in for their share of praise.

The local Kiwanis Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce assisted in ticket collection.

Virgie should represent the region well in the state tournament. Virgil Osborne's Eagles were impressive in the Ashland Invitational as well as in the 12-team Louisville meet in January. They have been in fast competition on big floors and are expected to down Lone Jack, 13th region winner, in their first-round game at 3:45 p.m. Thursday.

Virgie made its first trip to the state tournament in 1932 and lost to Hazard in the first round by a 27-10 margin.

The regular spring meeting of the four-sport Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference will be held in Hazard on Friday, March 23. Business on the agenda will be the election of officers, naming the basketball champion, choosing the all-conference cage team and planning of the spring sports program.

A football clinic will be held throughout the day in Memorial gymnasium with the entire University of Kentucky coaching staff on the program.

KY. PROGRAM BRIGHT SPOT

Peabody Report Lauds State Vocational Work; Mayo School Mentioned

Frankfort, Ky., March 9 (Sp.)—Kentucky's state and area vocational schools are a "bright spot" in a generally dim southern picture of vocational training, so says a report issued by the center for Southern Education Studies at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee.

The report, "Southern High Schools and Jobless Youth," points out that the need for vocational guidance and education among high school students is increasing each year.

A rising industrialization in the south and a growing tendency of youth to move from farm to city, makes it imperative for Southern youth to learn specific skills in order to get and hold jobs, the report says.

Kentucky's vocational program is described in the report as "a challenging example of initiative and improvement both on the state and local levels."

The three state-operated vocational schools—Mayo at Paintsville, Northern Kentucky at Covington and Western Kentucky at Paducah—are discussed in the report, as well as the nine area vocational schools financed by the state but operated by local board of education. A vocational school operated by Western State College at Bowling Green is also discussed.

The state vocational school at Paintsville "provides one of the best examples in the rural south of what can be done on the local level with appropriate assistance and leadership from the state," the report declares.

Mayo's program of operating extension centers in nearby counties is noted as having "practical merit." The vocational school operates extensions at Belry, Prestonsburg and West Liberty.

America's oldest stakes is the Phoenix Handicap, first run in Lexington in 1931 and now contested at the Keeneland Race Course, Lexington.

Boat Registrations To Expire April 30 And Must Be Renewed

Frankfort, March 9 (Sp.)—Registrations of boats on Kentucky waters expire April 30 and must be renewed by that date at circuit clerks' offices, State Boating Director Scott Barbour reminds Kentucky boat owners.

A registrant, Barbour said, is issued a wallet-size card which must be kept on the boat at all times. If the owner sells the boat he transfers ownership by signing the back of the card and the new owner must apply to the circuit clerk to re-register the boat.

When an owner registers his boat, it is assigned a number which must be painted on each side of the bow in figures at least three inches high and in a color contrasting to the hull.

NOTICE

On and after this date I will not be responsible for any debts incurred by anyone other than myself.

Why The Catholic Church Says "INVESTIGATE!"

Probably not more than a handful of people hate the Catholic Church as it really is.

But many have heard anti-Catholic calumnies from sources they have been taught to respect, and have come to fear and suspect the Church as it has been falsely represented to them.

It is hardly reasonable to believe that 35 millions of Americans would remain in the Catholic Church if the rumors circulated against the Church are true. Nor would thousands of others become Catholics every year if they believed such things—without inquiring into the facts.

That is why the Catholic Church says again and again to people everywhere: "Investigate! Investigate!"

The Church makes this appeal not merely to settle an argument, nor primarily to win the good-will of the non-Catholic people, although this is a hoped-for result.

Its more important aim is to invite people to inquire into Christ's truth as taught and preserved by the Catholic Church down through the centuries. For no man, seeking the salvation of his own soul, can conscientiously discount the Catholic claim to be Christ's Church on the basis of mere rumor and slander when the truth is so readily at hand.

The Catholic Church therefore invites you to inquire into its teaching and practices...to find out for yourself if what you believe about the Church is true or false.

Learn for yourself, for instance, if it is true that Catholics give divine worship to Mary, the Mother of Christ...or if this is not just another calumny. If you have been told that Catholics worship statues...buy and sell the divine worship of the Mass...are opposed to the religious freedom granted all religions by our Bill of Rights, then you have been deceived and misled.

If you have harbored these or any other false beliefs about the Catholic Church and its teachings...and if, above all, such misunderstanding has kept you from examining the Catholic claim to be the Church established by Christ Himself...you owe it to yourself in good conscience to seek the truth.

We shall be glad to send you free on request, a booklet dealing with the points mentioned here and many others...including the attitude of the Church toward Birth Control...secret societies...the salvation of non-Catholics...why Catholic priests are called "Father"...

the Inquisition, and the alleged goings-on behind convent walls. It will come to you in a plain wrapper—and nobody will call on you. Write today...ask for your copy of Pamphlet No. KC-7.

Former Martin Man Succumbs in Indiana On February 26th

Aito Bradley, 38, a resident of Auburn, Indiana for 18 years, died at 12:15 a.m. Monday, February 26 in the Garrett Community hospital. He was a former resident of Martin.

In failing health for the past three months, he had been admitted to the hospital four weeks earlier. His death was attributed to a stroke and complications.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday, February 28, with the Rev. Ray Turner officiating.

Burial followed in the Swan cemetery at Swan. A native of Guage, Kentucky, Mr. Bradley was the son of Pearl Bradley and Emma Rowe Bradley, who survive. He was born June 27, 1923. For the past 14 years, he had been employed at the Auburn Junk & Paper Co. on South Wayne street in Auburn, Indiana.

Surviving are the parents, a sister, Mrs. Merle Keirn, of Columbia City; a half-brother, Ben Carpenter, of Jacob street, Auburn; two nephews and a niece.

Travelers of all classes spent $280 million which amounted to 8.8 per cent of the sales and receipts of all Kentucky retail trade and consumer services in 1960.

DECLINE OF POLIO PROBLEM NOTED IN UNITED STATES

New York, N. Y., March 1 (Spl.)—Polio has ceased to be a significant public health problem in the United States, but it is now each person's responsibility to keep the disease in check.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation, issued this statement today after studying all available data concerning the present status of polio in this country.

Only 864 new cases of paralytic polio were reported in 1961. This is a rate of less than five cases per million population, as compared with an estimated yearly average of 162 cases per million persons in the period immediately preceding the advent of the Salk vaccine, from 1949 to 1954.

"This 97 per cent reduction in the annual toll of paralysis," Mr. O'Connor declared, "is a tribute to the Salk vaccine and to the millions whose support of the March of Dimes made this preventive possible. If paralytic polio had persisted at its 1949-1954 pre-vaccine level, there would have been at least 100,000 more paralytic cases in the past seven years than the number actually reported.

"Instead," Mr. O'Connor said, "the general level of paralytic polio has been reduced to that of typhoid fever, diphtheria and other once rampant diseases. This has resulted in preventing at least 7,000 polio deaths and an estimated savings of $300 million in polio medical care and personal income losses in the seven-year period that the Salk vaccine has been available.

"Even more significant," said Mr. O'Connor, "is the fact that all polio, whether paralytic or not, including so-called 'unspecified' cases, also has been reduced by 97 per cent, due to the use of the Salk vaccine. And all this has occurred despite the fact that in the age group 0 to 59, totaling 158 million, 38 per cent of the total group received no Salk vaccine at all. In these circumstances, the efficacy of the Salk vaccine in eliminating the polio virus from the community in this country is proven if the facts are recognized and the subject is considered from a scientific point of view. There is no reason to doubt that all public health officers at all government levels will

Soil Conservation

By L. R. JOHNSON,

The tree orders for Floyd county have reached 792,800, and are still coming in. We had hoped we would reach at least the million mark. Last year we set 1,035,000 trees.

We still have several planting bars to lend to those who plan to set trees.

Already seven farmers have signed up to do 62 acres of TSI. This is done by deadening or removing worthless trees to give the desirable species a better chance to make growth.

We have begun staking tile; however, the rains and wet weather have slowed down operations.

Tiles have been staked on the following farms: James E. Webb, Dwale, 440 ft.; W. C. Adams, Middle Creek, 180 ft.; Alex George, East Point, 1,065 ft.; G. B. Laferty, Water Gap, 1,385 feet.

There still is time to sign up for a soil conservation practice.

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky's recommended alfalfa varieties differed very little among themselves, with one exception in yield or stand during a six-year test. That's the statement of William Stroube, UK Experiment Station agronomist. He reported this week at the end of the six-year trials.

Farmers can divert the entire acreage to soil conserving crops 60 percent of the normal yield for and get a payment based on 50 to the farm. To participate in the program they must divert 20 percent of their base acreage.

RESERVOIR WORK URGED

By Senators, Perkins; Army Engineers Asked To Study Large Streams

Kentucky's Senators Cooper and Morton and Seventh District Congressman Carl D. Perkins have urged on the Army Corps of Engineers the urgent need for construction of reservoirs, pointing to the lesson taught by last week's floods.

Cooper and Morton specifically urged consideration of Haysi, Paint Creek, Walkers Creek on the North fork of the Kentucky, and Tygarts Creek in Greenup county.

Perkins called on the Corps of Engineers to expedite studies of the Big Sandy, Tygarts Creek and Yatesville reservoirs.

All three asked the engineers to investigate the upper Licking river survey to determine the feasibility of construction that might prevent a recurrence of last week's severe damage to Salyersville.

In addition, Perkins urged the engineers to expedite the current study of the Salyersville local flood protection project. "The severe damage occasioned by this community in the current flood illustrates without a doubt that the damage savings which would result from its construction would far exceed the $700,000 the Corps of Engineers estimates that it would cost," said Perkins. Currently, the Salyersville project is involved in the completion of the Licking River survey not scheduled until sometime in 1963. Perkins said, however, that valuable time could be saved by spurring this aspect of the study so that the advanced planning and design of the project could be begun in the coming fiscal year.

Perkins said that for the past several days severe flood conditions throughout the Seventh Congressional District have caused him to contact emergency relief agencies in Washington including Civil Defense, Red Cross, the military, and the Small Business Administration, to urge prompt action in alleviating suffering and hardship for the flood victims.

Perkins said it was a tragic commentary that tremendous losses of soil, damage to businesses and homes as well as public facilities such as roads and streets should come about again and again in areas struggling to overcome economically depressed conditions.

Wedding Vows Said At Lexington Church

The marriage of Miss Carol Sue Whitaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Whitaker, of Lexington, and Eldred Michael Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred H. Porter, of Lexington, was solemnized at 7 p. m., February 2, at the Woodland Christian Church, Lexington, Kentucky.

Dr. Raymond L. Alexander officiated at the candlelight service before a background of white chrysanthemums and magnolia leaves, interspersed with tapers in candelabra. The wedding music was provided by Miss Margaret Shannon.

The bride wore a street-length dress of off-white wool with matching accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and a white Bible.

Miss Delores Miller was the bride's only attendant. She wore a pink wool sheath dress with matching headband and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Malcolm Lyle Warford served his cousin as best man. The guests were seated by Tom Jones.

The reception was held at the church. Mrs. M. B. Warford and Mrs. Ed Williams assisted in entertaining.

The bride is a graduate of Lafayette high school and attended the University of Kentucky.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lafayette high school and is employed by the Dixie Cup Company.

Forest Product Prices Listed by Publication

A publication listing the prices of various forest products will be available about March 1, it is announced.

Main use of the report is to let landowners know the value of their standing timber and cut products such as logs and stove bolts, says James Newman, University of Kentucky Extension forester. The report is issued twice a year by the Kentucky Division of Forestry and the University of Kentucky's forestry section.

The report is entitled Forest Utilization Report No. 12. Copies can be obtained from the Extension forester, University of Kentucky, Lexington, or the Kentucky Division of Forestry, Frankfort. A copy will also be sent to each county agricultural agent in the state.

Price reporting is done by marketing area. The state is divided into seven market areas according to Newman. Price information was obtained for each major product purchased or sold in each area by foresters of the Division, Newman added. Examples of products listed in the report also include veneer logs, handle-stock, posts, poles and piling, dogwood bolts and charcoal wood.

A price report can be accurate for cut and delivered products, but can only be a guide for standing timber sales, the University of Kentucky forester warns. Value of standing timber varies with stand quality, difficulty to log, amount of road building needed, amount of timber for sale, and many other factors.

EXPANDED BASIC PROGRAM IN RESOURCES REPORTED

Frankfort, Ky., March 8 (Sp.)— In a report to Gov. Bert Combs on the new Conservation Caravan, a mobile conservation exhibit in a special trailer put on tour through the state, was seen by thousands at county fairs, the state fair, colleges, high schools and a special "Conservation Days" at local courthouses, Matlick called the Caravan the "most complete conservation exhibit of its kind in the United States."

The community improvement program to "Make Kentucky a Cleaner, Greener Land" was well received through the state, Matlick said. About 100 communities conducted clean-up campaigns. Litter barrels and signs reminding motorists to keep Kentucky clean were placed on major highways.

Conservation Department officials worked with timberland owners and organizations to find better and more profitable markets for Kentucky's timber. Within a few years this project is expected to result in an estimated income increase of 300 to 400 per cent from forest land for Kentucky timberland owners, Matlick said.

In a major drive on forest fire prevention, 170 fire prevention meetings were held, attended by an estimated 10,000 persons. Erected during the year were 32 new fire lookout towers. Ten more are under construction.

Twenty-one additional counties were provided with a system of forest fire protection. This involves detection of fires from lookout towers equipped with radio to relay fire locations to county fire wardens who have organized volunteer fire fighters in each of the counties.

The Department, through the Division of Soil and Water Resources, administered $527,400 in loans to soil conservation districts to assist in purchasing heavy or specialized equipment. To further the conservation program throughout the state, the division allotted $50,000 to conservation districts on a matching basis to provide clerical help in local offices, permitting technicians to spend more time assisting farmers in carrying out soil and water conservation practices.

The first Conservation Congress in Kentucky, held in Louisville, drew some 500 people. To coordinate efforts with other agencies, Commissioner Matlick helped form the Natural Resources Development Committee, with a membership representing Federal, State and private groups concerned with conservation.

What's Going On in FISH & WILDLIFE

by MINOR CLARK, Commissioner

Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources

Q. I made application to have my farm pond stocked last fall. So far I have not received my fish. When will they be delivered?
H. S., Corinth.

A. The delivery date to you will depend on the region in which you live. Bluegill delivery is scheduled to begin during the week of March 12. It will require about three weeks to cover the state. Bass delivery will depend on the weather but usually occurs in the early part of May. Each applicant will be notified of the time, date and place of each delivery. It is important that the applicant meet the fish truck at the appointed time.

Q. I understand that there are a number of bobcats in Kentucky. I would like to hunt them. Where would I find the largest concentration? R. K. R., Louisville.

A. The bobcat population is scattered generally and there are no places in Kentucky where they are found in great abundance. Few people hunt them whereas they were formerly sought by many dog hunters. They may be found scattered throughout the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, especially in the Beaver Creek Area of Cumberland National Forest. Perhaps, the largest concentrations in the state would be found in the western Kentucky lowlands, in such counties as Ballard and Hickman and in the Mayfield Flats.

Q. The state stocked my small farm pond about six years ago. For two or three years I had excellent fishing and still catch plenty of fish but they seem to become smaller from year to year. How can I make this pond more productive of bigger fish?
H. E., Bryantsville.

A. Ponds frequently, after several years, become overstocked, especially if fish other than those stocked are added. When this occurs the fish cannot grow because there is insufficient food for them. What probably needs to be done in this case is for all the fish to be eliminated from the pond and a fresh stocking planted there. The Department offers the services of its conservation officers in this respect. When a pond quits producing good fishing the owner should contact his conservation officer who will check the pond to determine its fish population. If the pond is found to be overstocked the officer will chemically treat the waters to eliminate the fish at no cost to the owner other than the cost of the chemicals used. The pond then will be restocked. If the owner is unable to get in contact with the officer he should notify the Division of Fisheries, Frankfort, Kentucky.

WHAT'S YOUR question about the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources? Send it to Minor Clark, commissioner, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort, Kentucky, and it will be answered in the near future in this column. All questions must be signed by the sender but initials only will be used in this column, if requested.

2. Don't waste time by useless waiting until everybody else is off the approaches.
 3. Stay on your own approach at all times.
 4. After making your delivery, step back off the approach so your neighbors will know you have bowled.
 5. Don't stand at the foul line.
 6. Never use another player's ball without her permission.
 7. When a player is ready to bowl, let her do so without interference. Courtesy demands that "bench talk" be confined to the bench.
 8. Respect the equipment.
 9. Play to win, but be a gracious loser if you are on the short end of the count when the game is over.
 10. Do not bring food to your seats. Spilled food can cause dangerous falls.
 11. Body English should be confined to that which is necessary to deliver your ball.
 12. In short, most of the common, everyday courtesy rules are necessary.
 13. Get a rule book. Read and study it and follow it. Then when something comes up you will be in a better position to know what is right and wrong.
 14. Above all, a lady is a lady, whether bowling or engaged in some other activity.

Public Relations Firm Retained by Kentucky To Publicize State

A New York public relations firm experienced in the travel field and familiar with Kentucky has been retained by the state's division of tourist and travel information to assist in publicizing Kentucky's outstanding vacation attractions, Charles Warnick, director of the division, announced today.

The firm, Austin Hamel Associates, will publicize all aspects of Kentucky's vacation attractions but will concentrate on promoting Kentucky's expanding park system, Warnick added.

The Hamel firm will be paid $600 per month for its service under terms of a contract signed between Department of Public Information, Commissioner Cattle L. Miller and Austin Hamel, president of the firm. The contract extends through June, 1962.

"Kentucky will have the best state park system in the nation when the multi-million-dollar expansion program now well under way is completed," the director explained. "It is, therefore, vital for us to make this information known to as wide a group of Americans as possible."

New York is the hub of the communications industry. Headquarters for television and radio networks, national magazines which count their circulations in the millions and important newspapers are located there. It is to Kentucky's advantage to have a representative in frequent and easy touch with these publications and networks."

During the last decade, Warnick noted, the tourist and travel business in Kentucky has been growing faster than in the nation as a whole. Out-of-state travelers spent $187,000,000 in Kentucky in 1960, an increase of $7,000,000 over the previous year, he added.

"But competition for the vacation dollar is growing keener," Warnick warned. "Neighboring states are putting more emphasis on attracting vacation-bound families and on keeping them within their borders longer. Mr. Hamel's services will be of important aid to us in meeting this competition."

Mr. Hamel's firm also handles public relations for Auto-Europe, Inc., an international car travel firm, but he holds no accounts which conflict with Kentucky's interest.

Mr. Hamel gained a knowledge of Kentucky and its attractions as a public relations consultant with the Columbia Gas System and through other research, Warnick said.
