

GREER FAMILY HISTORY TRACED TO ANCIENT CLANS OF SCOTLAND

BY HENRY P. SCALF

In late October, 1861, Samuel K. Greer, East Point resident and Union sympathizer, rode horseback into Catletsburg and guiding his horse through a milling throng of refugees from Confederate occupation in the upper Big Sandy valley, sought out the recruiting officers.

The 37-year-old Little Point Creek farmer and landowner had pondered at length on his course. A native of Washington county, Virginia, he had married Ara Greer, distant relative and a native of Ashe county, North Carolina, May 12, 1842. They had come to the Little Point Creek section in 1837 and built a house near the Johnson and Floyd county line. Ara had borne him 10 children by the time Civil War had erupted.

Refugees had been pouring into Catletsburg for weeks, driving their livestock, carrying their children or transporting them on wagons loaded with household furnishings. The area between the Boyd county seat and Ashland was preempted as a camping ground and Union leaders, under the direction of Senator Garrett Davis and others, were enlisting recruits. Samuel Greer joined Company H, 14th Kentucky Infantry. The date was October 25, 1861, two weeks before the Battle of Ivy Mountain, in Floyd county.

Thus began a military career for Greer that led him to a colonel's commission. He participated in battles at Cracker's Neck, Paintsville, Half Mount, Mt. Sterling, Cynthiana, Salville (first battle), Marion, Virginia, Pikeville and Saltville (second battle). He was wounded but not seriously. Midway his service he was transferred from his original command in the Fourteenth to the 89th Kentucky Infantry. His eldest son, William Webster Greer, joined the Thirty-Ninth and served until the war ended.

The military career of Col. Samuel K. Greer and his son, William Webster, were continuations of a tradition that began hundreds of years earlier when the clans fought in Scotland, for the modern Greer family was founded by the McGregor clan. The name has been alternately Grierson, Grego, Grier, Grear and Greer.

One of the family, Moses Greer, huge and corpulent but patriotic and trusted by the leaders of the Continental government, carried news of George Washington's appointment as head of the Revolutionary forces. Moses had fought a few days earlier at Bunker Hill and the new Continental general asked:

"Did the militia fight?" General Washington, being as-

Francis (Bud) Elliott, Dies At Home, Sunday; Burial At East McDowell

Francis (Bud) Elliott, 87, well-known Floyd man, died at his East McDowell home Sunday, following an illness of a month. Mr. Elliott, a retired farmer, left more than 100 descendants — 18 children, 70 grandchildren and an undetermined number of great-grandchildren.

He was married three times. Following the death of his first wife, Mary Newson Elliott, he married Victoria Hall Elliott, who also preceded him in death. His third wife, Darkie Allen Elliott, survives. He was a member of the Regular Baptist Church for 10 years.

Surviving sons and daughters are James Elliott, of Ligon, Monford Elliott, address unavailable, Minus Elliott, Ray Elliott and Mrs. Oma Moore, all of Ashbula, Ohio, John Elliott, Wyandotte, Michigan, Curt Elliott, River Rouge, Michigan, William E. Elliott, Topeka, Kansas, Andrew Elliott, Chicago, Illinois, Hershel Elliott, Francis Elliott, Jr., and Mrs. Harmon Mitchell, all of East McDowell, Mrs. Ed Lambert, Minford, Ohio, Mrs. Kansas Joanson, Avon, Ohio, Mrs. Lona Martin, of Eastern, Mrs. Leona Mitchell, Belleville, Michigan, Mrs. Lucy Wakefield, and Mrs. Hazel Elliott, both of Melvindale, Michigan.

A brother and sister surviving are Sherd Elliott, East McDowell, and Mrs. Ida Elliott, of Price.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday at 10 a.m. from the Little Rosa Regular Baptist Church at East McDowell, the Revs. Ross Hopkins, Mitchell Chaffins, Homer Elliott and others officiating. Burial was made in the Mack Hill cemetery at East McDowell under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

sured they had fought well, noted the size of the messenger and observed, facetiously:

"If all of the army was of your size this war would be over in 30 days."

The remark of Washington's has been a Greer tradition for near two centuries and is often retold when some one comments on the family obesity.

John M. Greer, historian of the Greer family, has authored a book, A GREER FAMILY RECORD, in which he picks up the origin of the name in the clans of Scotland. Greer is a contraction of Grierson, which derives from Gregor, a family descended from the MacAlphin clan. This clan overran and absorbed the MacGregors of early Scotland. The MacAlphins were kings of Scotland for hundreds of years. Last of the MacAlphin kings died in 834 A.D. but he left three sons, Kenneth, Donald and Gregor. Prince Gregor had a grandson, Gilbert, who assumed the name Grierson. He married the heiress of Lag Castle in Dumfriesshire, dropped the "son" from his name, became plain Grier. The modern spelling is a variation of his name.

The Greer family historian, notes that not only Moses but other Greers served in the Revolution. There were Lieut.-Col. James Greer, Lieutenant John Greer, and Col. David Greer, all of Pennsylvania, who fought in the Continental Army. Men of the Greer name continued this family tradition in the subsequent history of the country. Rear Admiral James Augustine Greer (1812-1885), of Ohio, had an outstanding career in the U. S. Navy. Other professions called them, too. David H. Greer (1844-1919), was a Methodist bishop of West Virginia. Hon. Robert C. Greer became an associate justice of the United States Supreme Court.

The Eastern Kentucky Greers trace back to Gilbert Grierson or McGregor, who married the heiress of Lag Castle. A picture of the ancestral castle hangs in the home of Mrs. Alka Greer Music, widow of Jeff Music, on Bear Branch near here. A carved shell of mother-of-pearl depicting the Lord's Supper, is a prized memento of the castle. Other family heirlooms, many over a century old, keep the Lag Castle picture company.

Gilbert Grierson died in 1457 A.D. and since he had no children, was succeeded by a nephew, Vedost, who became Sir Vedost Grierson, laird of Lag Castle. On the Greer family ladder was Benjamin Greer, of Scotland, and in line of descent from Sir Vedost, Benjamin married Elizabeth Bell, Dungannon, Scotland, and after a son, Thomas, was born she became ill and lingering for awhile died. Benjamin and Thomas migrated to America. Thomas died soon afterward. The elder Greer remarried. His will, dated December 28, 1787, was made in Franklin county, Virginia.

Benjamin, who had remarried to a Miss Wilcox, lived many years following the execution of his will. He removed to the South Fork of the New River in North Carolina but later, restless like his frontier compatriots, moved to Green River in Kentucky, where he died in 1810. They were the parents of 11 children, many of them moving to Kentucky. Thomas, a son, married Hannah Ketron. A son of this union was Isaac Greer, who married Nancy Norris, April 14, 1823. Isaac and Nancy were parents of Ara Greer, wife of Col. Samuel K. Greer. Ara was a relative of her husband but in what degree we do not know.

Although Samuel Ketron Greer was born in Washington county, Virginia, July 7, 1824, he must have lived for several years in North Carolina for he was named captain of the 80th North Carolina militia, and manifesting military leadership, was promoted to major, then to a colonelship. When he and Ara became the first settlers on the Bear Branch of Little Point Creek there were or would soon be ten children born to them. They were Nancy, Benjamin, William Webster, Margaret, Alvira, Robert, Mary, Francis, Lucy and Amanda. William Webster, born in Ashe

EDUCATION LEADERS ENDORSE CLARK PROGRAM

We, the undersigned school principals and administrators, are in complete agreement on the following statement:

(a) We feel that the Floyd County School System has had more than enough fussing and fighting, so we say, let's go forward in harmony to make ours the best school system in Eastern Kentucky.

(b) A great deal of progress has been made in the last two years, although Superintendent Clark has had to work hard to even hold the school system together.

PROGRESS MADE RECENTLY:

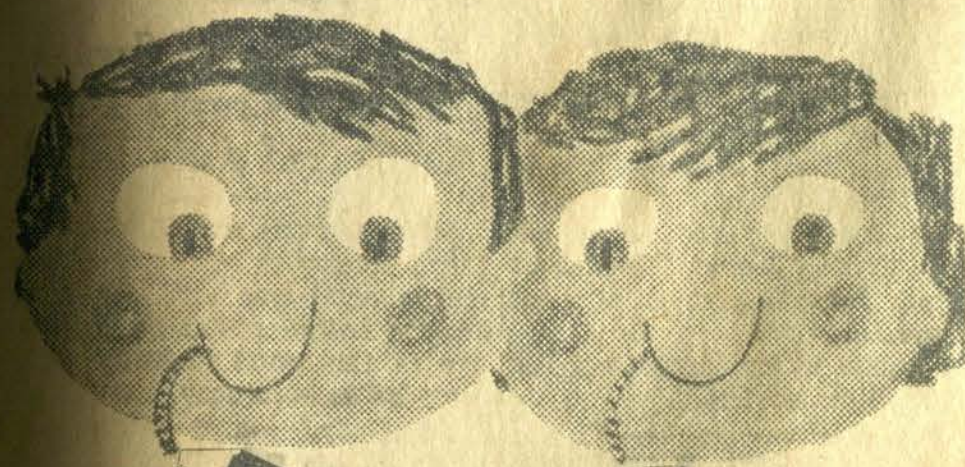

1. The highest teacher salaries paid in history, and paid on time.
2. Eight new contract runs to transport children who have heretofore had to walk great distances, as well as adding five additional school buses to our fleet.
3. The rural school lunch program which will start again next month, and which insures for each child a good lunch whether he has the money to pay for it or not.
4. A good start has been made on an ambitious building program. Additional class rooms have been constructed at Betsy Layne, Martin, McDowell and Prestonsburg. Let's go forward to finish the new building program as outlined by the State Department of Education: Mad Creek Elementary, Middle Creek Elementary, Vocational School at Garth, Wheelwright Elementary, and others as money is available.
5. Floyd county was selected as a pilot county for an adult education program. The board of education accepted the program on the recommendation of Superintendent Clark.
6. Two traveling teachers employed to instruct physically handicapped children in their homes.
7. The Board of Education and Superintendent Clark have worked very closely with the various colleges to encourage extension classes for our high school graduates and teachers.

Superintendent Clark has kept his eyes open to every opportunity to improve the Floyd County School System, and we believe he is determined to continue to do so, no matter what the odds. We know that Clark is a sober, dedicated and honest school man who deserves a chance to finish the next two years of his contract with a board willing to cooperate. It makes sense to us to elect board members who are willing to work together for the sake of our children, and for that reason, we, having looked over the board candidates, urge all Floyd countians to support and vote for Bill Wells, District No. 1, and for Dr. J. H. Allen, District No. 2. We are sure they are willing to support all the progress which has been made and that they feel, as we do, when we say, we need less "fussing and more schooling."

Development of Region On Governors' Program; Bert Combs Is Chairman

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 1 (Spl.) — A proposal for an intensive campaign to promote more highways, public works projects and waterways developments in the eight Appalachian states will be presented to a meeting of the Appalachian Governors Conference to be held October 4 at Hollywood, Florida, in connection with the annual meeting of the Southern Governors Conference.

Kentucky Gov. Bert Combs, Appalachian Conference chairman, and West Virginia Gov. William W. Barron worked with conference staff members to develop the program which is designed to aid the underdeveloped areas of low income and high unemployment in the eight states.

Besides Kentucky and West Virginia, other states in the Appalachian Conference are Alabama, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Combs, Barron and the staff members agreed that the eight Appalachian governors could exercise a powerful influence to gain advantages for their states if they put up a united front.

"We have a potent organization if we use it properly," Governor Combs said.

The program to be submitted to the full conference has five major points. They are:

1. The draft of an amendment to the Federal Highway Act which would provide funds for a regional system of highways in underdeveloped areas.

2. A petition asking President Kennedy, in administration of the new $900 million public works program, to give special consideration to the needs of small communities in underdeveloped areas.

3. Creation of a committee, backed by the Appalachian governors, to work with federal water resources agencies and speed up waterways projects in the Appalachian region.

4. Call upon all state agencies in the conference to work with the Stanford Research Institute in formation of a complete development program for the Appalachian region.

5. Select specific projects, such as the proposed Allegheny Parkway stretching from Maryland to Tennessee, and unite to make them a reality.

Dr. Paul Miller, president of the University of West Virginia, told the Appalachian conferees that the talents of the state-supported colleges and universities should be used more effectively to solve problems of underdeveloped areas.

ALFALFA CUTTINGS Lexington, Ky.—Four cuttings a year of alfalfa fields is the best system for Kentucky if state farmers want to get the maximum benefit from this hay crop.

ACHIEVEMENT IN READING OBJECT OF STATE STUDY

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 1 (Spl.) — A study of the reading achievement of fourth and eighth grade students in Kentucky schools indicates eighth graders' reading ability is well below national norms.

The study, made by the Kentucky Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, has just been published by the Kentucky Department of Education.

Reading achievement in the fourth grade, the study says, is a fraction below national norms but the difference is not considered significant.

The study is based on three reading achievement tests widely used in Kentucky schools. They are the California, Metropolitan and Stanford achievement tests.

Test scores of 29,608 fourth graders and 31,288 eighth graders in 135 of Kentucky's 209 school districts were used in the study. This is more than half the total enrollment in the state for each of the two grades.

The tests were given in the fall and spring to each grade. The fall reading mean for Kentucky fourth graders is 4.0 years; the national mean in the fall is 4.3 years.

The Kentucky mean for the fourth grade in the spring is 4.7 years; the national mean is also 4.7 years.

Thus reading achievement of Kentucky fourth graders increased 7 years from fall to spring, while the national increase for the same period was 3 years.

The Kentucky and national means for the eighth grade in the fall are 7.5 and 8.15 years respectively. In the spring they are 8.25 years and 8.8 years respectively.

Though it has no data to support them, the study lists three factors that might account for the lag in eighth grade reading achievement in Kentucky. They are:

1. There may be a difference in practices used in teaching reading in primary and intermediate levels, or it may be that reading is not generally taught above the fourth grade in Kentucky.

2. The deficiency may be caused by the sum of incremental summer lags from the fourth to eighth grade. The study suggests the lags may be caused by culturally impoverished environments in some sections of the state. This theory is based on results of the study, which show that Kentucky students are above the national mean in reading progress made from fall to spring, but below the national mean in progress made from spring to fall, or during the summer months.

3. The lag may be caused by the nature of the tests. The theory is that the tests might measure other factors as well as reading achievement, and those other factors might affect Kentucky scores more at the eighth grade level than at the fourth grade level.

LIMESTONE APPLICATION

Lexington, Ky.—Fall is the good time to apply limestone to fields, says George D. Corder, UK Ag Extension Service soils specialist. Autumn is usually a slack labor time; the ground is usually dry and firm to accommodate heavy lime spreading equipment; and lime applied in the fall has the winter months to react with the soil.

FEED TEST

Lexington, Ky.—UK Ag Experiment Station swine researchers said this week that four of nine feed additives tried last year in growing-pig rations performed very satisfactorily.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week a Union army under the command of Major Gen. Don Carlos Buell arrived at Louisville, its base of supplies, with its wagon trains empty. A Confederate army under Gen. Braxton Bragg, which could have reached Louisville first and thus have cut Buell off from his base, instead had turned off the Munfordville-to-Louisville road and marched to Bardstown.

Besides having access to supplies at Louisville, Buell had the further advantage of being across the Ohio River from Indiana and thus being able to draw reinforcements from that state and from Illinois and Ohio. And he added to his army the troops with which Union Major Gen. William Nelson had been preparing to defend Louisville if Bragg attacked there.

Nelson, during his desperate efforts to make Louisville defensible in case Bragg got there before Buell did, had rebuked Brig. Gen. Jefferson C. Davis, of Indiana, for what Nelson considered negligent or inefficient discharge of duty and ordered him to report to Major Gen. Horatio G. Wright at Cincinnati, commander of the Department of the Ohio. Upon Buell's arrival at Louisville, Wright ordered Davis to report to Gen. Buell. Davis first went to Indianapolis and got Indiana Gov. O. P. Morton to go to Louisville with him. In the lobby of a Louisville hotel, the Galt House, Davis renewed his quarrel with Gen. Nelson and killed him with a pistol. He was never prosecuted for the slaying, either in the civil courts of Jefferson county or by an army court-martial. (General Nelson was the victor at the Battle of Ivy Mountain in Floyd county several months earlier.—Ed.)

At Augusta, during the week under review, Col. Basil W. Duke with about 450 of Col. John Hunt Morgan's Confederate cavalry troopers encountered desperate resistance from Union Home Guard soldiers who were firing from brick houses in the Ohio River town. It was necessary to take the houses by forcing entrance and overcoming the defenders in hand-to-hand combat. "I never saw them fight with such ferocity," Duke said of his men. "Few lives were spared in the houses into which they forced their way." Some houses were burned.

Some of the best officers in Morgan's command were killed in the Augusta fight. One of them was Capt. Samuel D. Morgan, a cousin of the cavalry commander. Another was Lt. William Courtland Prentice, a son of George D. Prentice, the strongly Unionist editor of the Louisville Journal. Still another was First Lt. Greenberry Roberts, 19, described by Duke as "gay, handsome and a universal favorite."

Duke had intended to cross the Ohio River at a ford near Augusta and approach Cincinnati, creating an alarm which he hoped would cause Union troops in the vicinity of Walton, Kentucky, to be recalled to defend the city. After suffering such heavy losses at Augusta, Col. Duke had to call off the project.

HAZARD HONORS SPORTSMEN AT RECENT MEETING THERE

Kentucky sportsmen were made honorary citizens of Hazard as they met at La Citadelle Motel and resort atop the mountain overlooking the coal field city recently. The official citizenship document, signed by Mayor William C. Dawahare and delivered by Roscoe Davis and Sam Garnett, was a gilt-edge parchment bearing the city's gold seal and blue-ribbon compliments of Perry county.

The meeting was the beginning of the second phase of the sportsmen's ambitious program under the leadership of President Henry V. Pennington, Danville attorney. In attendance were representatives from all sections of Kentucky.

From reports and plans made in the business session, the months of October and November promise to be the busiest and most important in the history of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen. From now until Thanksgiving the sportsmen will be receiving donations and delivering numbered tickets on the 1962 air-conditioned Cadillac automobile which is to be the grand prize in the League Motto Contest. The Cadillac was on display at the Kentucky State Fair and will be seen in various Kentucky cities while the campaign is in progress.

Attending from this county were Vice-President Dr. C. L. Allen and George Allen.

The Floyd County Fish and Game Club is an active member of the League.

Why Democrats Are Voting For Morton

During the last two years, Wilson Wyatt, with much ballyhoo, spent five million dollars of Kentucky taxpayers' money under the pretense of bringing new industry to Kentucky.

The facts show that he has failed except in his effort to build a favorable image of himself.

Using Wyatt, 1st Chairman of the left-wing A.D.A., to head our manufacturing development can scare the daylights out of business executives who might have considered Kentucky for a new plant.

Large and questionable expense accounts and increased personnel used to advertise Wyatt personally, have taken their toll of the taxpayers' money. Wyatt's false image and his past record are beginning to be exposed. A favorable press and paid publicists on Wyatt's staff have helped to create this image.

Now, the true facts are being made known and many Democrats are voting for Morton. Democrats regard Morton as a statesman, a man of honor and integrity more concerned about the people of Kentucky and the nation than he is with political expedience.

A billion dollars of Federal money budgeted for Kentucky last year is evidence of what Morton is doing in Washington without a lot of ballyhoo and self-glory.

The above is a paid political advertisement sponsored by Democrats for Truth and Honesty, Reid Martin, Chairman.

BLACKCATS LOSE

Hazard and Paintsville remain undefeated among Eastern Kentucky high school football teams as Elkhorn City and Morgan County bit the dust over the past week-end.

The Perry county Bulldogs had their closest game of the season in edging Belfry, 20-12, and Walter Brugh's Paintsville Tigers relinquished their first t.d. in pasting Catlettsburg, 20-7.

Pikeville downed Prestonsburg, 19-0. Wheelwright won over Buckhorn, 33-0, and Frank Asbury's Jenkins Cavaliers turned the tables on highly regarded Lynch, 7-6. Whitesburg had little difficulty disposing of Napier, 53-0.

Morgan County dropped a 20-7 decision to Harrison County, and Elkhorn City saw its unbeaten string stopped at four as the Fleming-Neon Pirates stayed in the E. K. M. C. with a 13-0 win. Fleming has a 3-0 league mark as compared to Hazard's 5-0.

Butch Green and Floyd Hatfield, two of the area's most renowned high schoolers, staged a personal battle in the Hazard-Belfry fray as the defending champs took another step toward their sixth consecutive mountain title.

Green scored all three touchdowns—on runs of 75 and 80 yards and grabbed a 40-yard pass from Ronnie Joseph.

Hatfield whipped one scoring pass to end Sonny Phillips for a 90-yard-plus six-pointer, and he returned a kick-off 81 yards for the other marker.

Senior halfback John Marvin Ratliff paced the Pikeville Panthers to the conquest of Prestonsburg by scoring two touchdowns on jaunts of 40 and 8 yards. Halfback Virgil Honaker also plunged over from the two for the final tally in the closing seconds.

The victory was the first in 18 years for a Panther team in Prestonsburg. The Blackcats marched to the 10-yard stripe the first time they had the ball, but their own mistakes quelled the threat. Ratliff gave Pikeville a 7-0 command with 48 seconds left in the second quarter and a 13-0 margin midway the fourth frame.

Wheelwright added its second victory of the season by tripping Buckhorn, 33-0. End Glen Keaton scored on a 24-yard run for the Trojans. Doug Hall moved over for 1 and 2 yard t.d.'s, and Vernon Hall and tackle John Vansodol each hit yard.

LITTLE LEAGUE TONIGHT

Thursday's offering in Little League football at the high school field at 6 p.m. should be one of the best games of the season. Don Graves' Eagles looked impressive in belting the Cardinals, 34-0, in their opening game while the Browns opened with a 27-0 conquest of the Colts, defending champions.

Hazard high will carry the hopes of the mountains Friday night when they meet the Ashland Tom Cats in Ashland. Both clubs are undefeated, and both have rolled over five consecutive opponents.

The Bull Dogs have possibly met lesser opposition than Ashland, but the same theory was advanced last season and when the game was over Hazard had won, 40-0.

The latest statewide ratings have Ashland 14th in the state, one touchdown better than Hazard at 21st. Whitesburg, who fell before Hazard, 19-6, is listed as the 16th best team in Kentucky, and Belfry is in 31st position.

Deer hunting with bow and arrows only opened Monday in the Dewey Lake Refuge and will remain open until October 31. Only three hunters were sighted throughout the day.

The gun season does not open until November 7 and will continue through November 10. Only one deer may be taken by either gun or bow and arrow.

Paintsville high is one game in front in the Class A, Region Three high school football race after belting Catlettsburg, 20-7, last Friday. The Tigers had been tied for the leadership with Pikeville and Morgan County. M.M.I. looms as the biggest threat to keep the Tigers from grabbing the title.

Sophomore halfback Gary Goble sparked the Prestonsburg junior varsity football team to a 34-6 conquest of Paintsville, Monday night. Goble returned a kick-off for 55 yards, and sped 12 and 14 yards in registering three touchdowns.

The local Black Cats will play their third successive home game Friday night at 8 p.m. when the Louisa Bull Dogs come to town. The visitors fell before undefeated McKell, 21-6, last week-end. Fullback Terry Kinzer is expected to return to the Cats' line-up after a three-week absence.

WELLS MAKES STATEMENT

Because there are some stories making the rounds that Bill Wells favors this person or that person as superintendent, or favors certain changes in the administrative setup in the Floyd County School system, I feel it necessary to make the following statement:

I shall, as a member of the board of education of Floyd county district No. 1, promote harmony and cooperation because it is only through this manner that our schools will move forward. I feel that Charles Clark has been a fine superintendent and that our school system has made great progress during his two years in office. If Mr. Clark has a cooperative, open-minded board in the future, I am certain that greater progress will result in better education for our school age population. In the interest of harmony and greater progress, may I also urge my friends, relatives and persons interested in better schools to support Dr. J. H. ALLEN in District No. 2.

DODGE PRESENTS THE DEPENDABLES FOR 1963!

Dodge Polara 2-door hardtop

1963 DODGE... BEAUTIFUL NEW ENTRY IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

Compact Dodge Dart GT 2-door hardtop

1963 DODGE DART... A FRESH NEW COMPACT IN THE LARGE ECONOMY SIZE

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

Now a complete new line of cars in the low-price field. The 1963 Dodge! People who see it just naturally get carried away. Reasons? 1. The looks: Great! 2. The price: Low! Wouldn't you rather own a Dodge than other low-priced cars? 3. The room: Big! Notice how the roofline sweeps straight back. That means ample headroom for the people in back, not just the ones in front. Seats? Your choice of models with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest. 4. The upkeep: Low! Dodge is rust-protected. The body unitized. The brakes self-adjusting. A major grease job lasts 32,000 miles, an oil change 4,000. 5. The feel behind the wheel: Like nothing else! Five engines to choose from. Smooth-going torsion-bar ride. Low-friction steering. Chair-high seats. Nylon, leather-grained vinyls. There are several hundred more reasons why you'll be carried away. Your Dodge Dealer has 'em all. See him and drive the beautiful new 1963 Dodge.

INTRODUCING COMPACT '63 DART

At last. A compact that doesn't give anyone the sardine treatment. The 1963 Dodge Dart! Now everybody gets a fair shake on room. Note the roofline. It goes straight back. Result: Even rear-seat hat wearers are treated with deference. And so are those who like some action for a change. Dart's standard Six leaves run-of-the-mill compacts waiting and wheezing. Its optional engine (just a few bucks more) is the same way, only more so. Economical? Like you'd expect a compact to be! That's the whole idea. Dart's too roomy to be a compact, too darned thrifty to be anything else.

Few compacts cost less than Dart. None offers the value. A unitized body, for example, that's rust-protected. 32,000 miles between major grease jobs. Smooth torsion-bar ride. An alternator. A high-speed starter for fast, sure starts. Two series. Nine models, including two pizzazz converts. See your Dodge Dealer.

NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY! Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts, transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

prosecution expected to rest its case Wednesday afternoon.

3. An appeal for additional State Police from the Pike County Chamber of Commerce was denied Wednesday of last week by State Police Director David Espie, Frankfort.

4. Spokesmen for the pickets announced their intention to seek an injunction restraining the city of Pikeville from enforcing an ordinance requiring picket licenses.

5. An inspection of labor management conditions in the Pikeville area was launched last week-end by Major Charles B. Crutchfield, State Police executive officer.

6. Six Harlan county truck mine operators asked the Harlan Circuit Court to issue an injunction against interference of operations by mine pickets. The suit named 40 men and asked $15,000 damages from each. A temporary restraining order was issued Saturday.

7. An estimated 300 pickets, identified as union miners from a large Perry county operation, visited coal tipples and ramps in Perry county Monday. Many mines were closed.

8. A UMW representative from Tennessee was arrested Friday in Harlan county and charged with breach of peace. An operator alleged that the representative, Bill Prater, used abusive language in ordering him to close a mine.

for the work exceed the community's ability to finance, and inasmuch as engineering work and other details have already been completed.

Urban renewal and courthouse construction, which are almost interdependent, also have bright prospects, but before an application for aid may be filed the county must acquire a new courthouse site, it was pointed out that, if 75% federal aid is granted, the help available through the Urban Renewal Administration could reduce cost of a new courthouse to a minimum, with the possibility existing that it would cost the county nothing.

A site for the library structure also is necessary before filing of an application, but this is no problem, since the lot owned by the Floyd County Board of Education adjacent to the old high school building (the present offices of the board of education) is available. Immediate action on all projects was urged.

county, North Carolina, March 17, 1847, married Sarah Robinson, who died in 1896. Four children were Laura, Emma, Samuel and Sarah Frances. Following the death of Sarah Robinson Greer, he remarried to Malissa Hall. Ten other children were Alka, married William J. Music, who died three years ago; Kate, Gladys, Benjamin, Priscilla, Edith (Mrs. Theodore Burchett), Irene and Charles, all living, and Daisy and Malta, who are deceased. All of those living now reside on the ancestral Greer land with the exception of Gladys who married Herman Snyder, and resides at New Smyrna Beach, Florida.

Mrs. Alka Music, widow, who lives alone, recalls with pride the family history. Her grandfather, Col. Samuel K. Greer, was detailed at first in the Fourteenth as a forgesmaster but later was assigned as a scout leader by Col. James A. Garfield to operate between Paintsville and Pikeville.

William Webster Greer, son of the Union colonel, following his discharge, increased the Greer land holdings until he was possessed of one of the largest farms of the region. He built his home on the Floyd and Johnson county line, slept in Johnson county and ate his meals in Floyd. Admitted to the bar at Paintsville, he became widely known and was elected as a member of the General Assembly from Johnson county in 1897.

His Bear Branch farm was a huge, self-sufficient establishment on which he operated a wheat threshing machine and a cider mill. There were many other agricultural installations or pieces of equipment that are now relegated to history. At one time he took a fling at speculating in Oklahoma oil lands.

Mrs. Music, although she looks back on the family history with justifiable pride, is also proud of her eight children and in-laws. Helen married Frank C. Jennings, a racing journalist whose contributions have appeared in The Thoroughbred Record, Turf, and Sports Digest. He authored FROM HERE TO THE BUGLE, a biography of Arthur C. Hancock, owner of a famous Kentucky horse farm. She notes, too, with a mother's pride, that her son, William James, won the national marbles championship in 1940 at Wildwood, New Jersey. Exhibiting the marble crown of her then 13-year-old son, she recalls that he practiced for hours in the back yard perfecting a "shot" in which the marble would strike and return to him like a boomerang.

Col. Samuel Ketron Greer yielded to the hand of time, May 16, 1903, at the age of 87 and was buried on the farm overlooking the acres he and Ara had acquired 50 years earlier. His wife survived until February 6, 1919, and their son, William Webster Greer, soldier, farmer, landowner, attorney and legislator, followed two years later, February 3, 1921.

Between the Little Paint Creek valleys and their ancestral castle in Scotland is a wide ocean and a great segment of a continent but the traditions and history of half a millennium binds the Eastern Kentucky Greers and the McGregor clan.

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

Rev. Garnett To Head Scouting Committee

At a recent meeting of ministers in the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America area, the Rev. William B. Garnett, pastor of the Eskhorn City Methodist Church, was elected chairman of the Protestant Committee on Scouting. He succeeds Dr. Harold Dorsey, of Pikeville, who has held that position for the past four years.

Rev. Garnett and his committee have taken the responsibility of emphasizing the spiritual phase of the Scouting program as contained in the Scout Oath and Scout Law by furnishing ministers for chaplain service and spiritual leadership in all Scout meetings, campfires and summer camps, and training Scout leaders and ministers in the use of the God and Country awards program.

The Rev. Garnett has served a number of pastorates in Harlan, Floyd and Pike counties, and in each position has been active in many community and civic affairs. He holds an AB degree from Asbury College and the B.D. degree from Asbury Theological Seminary. He is a native of Ashland.

Area Alcoholism Group Organizes Here; Layne Urges Membership Aid

An organizational meeting for a regional alcoholism committee was held Thursday of last week at the Floyd county health department. A group of sixty people, representing the counties of Pike, Floyd, Letcher, Knott, Martin, Magoffin, Lawrence and Johnson, attended. A film, "For Those Who Drink," was shown, and a talk was made by John S. Dawes, administrative director, Division of Alcoholism, State Department of Health. A short talk was also made by Omar Greeman, director of health education, Division of Alcoholism.

Both speakers emphasized the magnitude of the program of alcoholism, and the great need for a public program of education on alcoholism. Both stressed the fact that alcoholism is a disease, and is treatable. A program for the prevention of alcoholism, as well as one which will provide treatment for the victims we now have was advocated.

Sub-groups were formed with committee chairmen as follows: City-county administrators, Ray Howard; education, Joe Jarrell; clergy and church group, Harold Dorsey; industry, Garland Dixon; health & welfare agencies, Earl Compton.

All people in the area are urged to join the subcommittee for which they may feel suited, says Frank H. Layne, area alcoholism control representative.

IFYE CANDIDATES

In Kentucky, young people who wish to be IFYE's must be nominated by their home counties; application blanks are available at each county Extension office.

Miss Carolyn Mae Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Sanders, formerly of McDowell, this county, now of Ypsilanti, Michigan, and Mr. David Edwin Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermie Gilliam, also of Ypsilanti, were united in marriage August 4 at the Ravensville, Michigan, Community Church.

The Rev. Clinton Manning, former pastor of the church and now of Chicago, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Dewey Ehle and Mrs. Oliver Albright were soloists in selections of "The Wedding Prayer" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Dewey Ehle, organist.

The gleaming glow of candelabra illuminated the altar when the bride approached with her father.

Miss Sanders' floor-length bridal gown was of pure Chantilly lace. It featured a sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves, and a bouffant skirt of pleated tulle. The back featured a chapel train.

A three tier crystal crown secured the fingertip veil of silk illusion and a single white orchid on a Bible with streamers was carried.

Wearing a two-piece teal blue dress for her role as matron of honor was Eloise Martin, sister of the bride.

The dress of delustered satin featured an overskirt and Mrs. Martin wore matching accessories. Her bouquet was of white carnations and yellow tea roses.

Judith Anderson, Carole Beeman and Barbara Branham were bridesmaids who wore matching dresses of peacock blue. They wore matching accessories and carried the same style bouquets.

William Stuedorf acted as best man. Ushers were Oliver Albright, Richard Sanders and James Huff.

Flower girl, Teresa Lynn Sanders, a niece of the bride, was escorted by Bobby Allan Martin, ring-bearer and nephew of the bride.

Attractive in a two-piece beige silk organza dress with brown accessories was Mrs. Sanders. The groom's mother wore navy blue satin and white accessories for the wedding.

Following the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Gilliam changed into a two-piece blue traveling suit and wore the orchid detached from her bouquet for her honeymoon in Canada.

She is a 1952 graduate of Willow Run high school and is employed with the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Helicopters are working on American Electric Power System lines as go-anywhere trucks...as flying cranes...as high-speed cable stringers.

Your service is better, your rates are lower because Kentucky Power Company is a part of the American Electric Power System. Supplying more electricity than any other investor-owned utility, AEP aids the economic growth of 2,350 communities in seven states. HOLDING POWER LESS IN FLOYD HI SCHOOLS

Special to The Times

Frankfort, Ky. — A six-year study just completed on the holding power and whereabouts of recent graduates of all Kentucky high schools shows Floyd county high schools ranked below the state average in terms of low average drop-out rate.

The study, made by the research division of the State Department of Education, shows that of 917 students who entered the ninth grade during the 1957 school year, 544 or 60.4 percent were graduated from high school in 1961.

The state average of students who entered the ninth grade of public high schools in 1957 and went on to be graduated in 1961 is 61.4 percent. The average for both public and non-public schools is 63 percent.

Figures for the 1961 graduating class are the latest available. The whereabouts of 1962 graduates will be included in an annual report all school principals make to the Department of Education in October. This annual report is the primary source of data for the study.

The study also shows that county schools were below the state average in the percentage of 1961 graduates who entered college. Of the students who were graduated in 1961, 171 or 30.9 percent of the class entered college during the fall of 1961. The state average of 1961 graduates who entered college during 1961 was 36.7 percent.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler said the drop-out problem is one that must be faced squarely by individual school districts. "There is a high degree of correlation between the quality of a school's district educational program and the number of students who drop out," Butler said.

"The best recipe for eliminating drop-outs is a good teacher in the classroom," he said.

The study, which covers a six-year span of high school graduating classes, was published this week in the State Educational Bulletin. It shows the impact on improving the state's educational level that has resulted from the Foundation Program. The classes of 1960 and 1961 had the benefit of four years of schooling under a fully-financed Foundation Program.

Butler noted that although many factors influence the number of drop-outs in a school, much credit must be given to the Foundation Program for increasing the holding power of state schools.

"There is a reward now for good attendance in a school district. Money is awarded on the basis of good attendance," Butler said.

Before the Foundation Program was enacted, state funds were distributed on a head-count basis. That is, on the number of school age children living in the district, not on the number of children who were attending school.

Under the Foundation Program state funds are distributed on the basis of the average number of children who attend school during the year.

These significant facts were recorded in the report:

In 1960-61, from the 394 public high schools, 29,913 students were graduated, or 61.4 per cent of the 48,864 ninth grade enrollment in 1957-58.

For the six-year period beginning in 1956, ninth grade enrollment increased 8,389 or 23.6 per cent; the number of high school graduates increased by 7,224 or 36.7 per cent; and the holding power of schools increased by 1.9 per cent.

The increase in holding power for 1961 over 1916, from ninth grade to high school completion, accounts for 2,568 or 35.5 per cent of the increase in the number of high school graduates.

In 1960-61, the total graduates of all public and non-public high schools reached a record high of 20,612—an increase of 3,047 over the 1956 class.

In 1952-53, a total of 39,262 students were enrolled in the ninth grade in all Kentucky high schools. For each 1,000 students enrolled in the ninth grade, 943 entered the tenth grade; 721, the eleventh grade; 621, the twelfth grade, and 573 were graduated in 1956.

In 1957-58, a total of 48,533 students were enrolled in the ninth grade in all Kentucky high schools. For each 1,000 enrolled in the ninth grade, 849 entered the tenth grade; 648, the eleventh grade; 656, the twelfth grade, and 630 were graduated in 1961.

This was the second high school graduating class to benefit from four years of schooling under a fully-financed Foundation Program.

Butler said the drop-out problem is not as serious now as it was before the Foundation Program was enacted. He predicted the drop-out rate will decrease even more in the future because of an increase in state funds being given schools and the improving quality of teachers being employed in Kentucky schools.

"A sound, progressive educational program is the only way to eliminate the drop-out problem," Butler says. "The worst way to attempt to solve the problem is through enforcement of truancy laws."

TRADITIONAL EASTERN KENTUCKY "MEETIN' ON THE HILL"

The traditional custom of holding annual church services on Eastern Kentucky cemeteries began a century and a half ago when church buildings were almost non-existent in the region. Today, with churches dotting the land, the meetings continue as memorials to the departed and as homecomings for the families.

Shown here is a church service held on the Apple Orchard Church cemetery on Johns Creek approximately 50 years ago.

The First National Bank presents these old pictures in recognition of our historic heritage.

CALIFORNIA CONDORS, LARGEST OF ALL BIRDS, DOOMED TO EXTINCTION

The California condors, largest birds known, have been on this planet ever since the Pleistocene age many millions of years ago. Their fossil records indicate there were multiplied thousands of them on the earth during the great Age of Mammals, and they no doubt helped to keep the earth cleaned of their huge carcasses, like those mastodons. They have lived and survived for eons, and it seems were in small danger of becoming extinct until man encroached upon their domain, about 100 years ago.

In 1890, after years of searching for the condors, to number them, only 80 of the big birds were found living in their retreat in the Sespe Mountain Range, about 40 miles north of Los Angeles. Their number has not increased since then. Rather it has decreased to about 50 now.

So anxious are the naturalists, and the conservationists of California to save these giant relics of the prehistoric ages, the state of California set aside the Sespe Mountains as a preserve for the sole use of the condors. The preserve is kept under such rigid restrictions and no person is permitted to go near the nesting places of the big birds—not even ornithologists with binoculars are allowed to enter their sacred domain. This is because the presence of a man fills the condors with such panic they will let their eggs perish and their young starve rather than risk disclosing to a man the location of the nest. Their eyes are so sharp, their hearing so acute, they can detect the presence of a man while he is yet miles away, and they have a mortal fear of him!

There was a time when they didn't fear man. They would keep on feasting on a carcass while men walked up close. Sometimes they would eat so much dead flesh they would become gorged and unable to lift their heavy bodies from the ground. Men would capture them at will.

Then something happened to fill the condors with the terror of men. Ranchers and sheep herders began ranging their stock back in the mountains where condors lived. They began to put out poison to kill the coyotes and wolves. The condors feasted upon the poisoned carcasses and died by the thousands. It wasn't long until these wise old birds laid the blame at man's door, and they began to have such a fear of him, they flocked back to the highest mountains.

The California condors are huge birds—standing about four feet high and with a wing spread of 12 feet! Seen perched in a dead tree, the condors look gruesome, grotesque, and yet they have such a deep fascination their presence holds the onlooker spellbound. Men have been known to search for years, to get a close-up view and a picture of a condor perched in a tree. Their heads are naked and the neck is bald; head and neck glow in a deep fiery orange-red, their eyes are also red and their knees are red. They wear a black ruff about their ungainly necks; their feet and legs are like horn and their whole bodies are sooty black. Their under wings are snow-white, and the white can be seen when the condor is soaring overhead.

These huge birds are beyond doubt the most majestic flyers in the far, deep blue of all the birds. Their flight is unhurried and graceful, and they keep on soaring higher, ever higher, in wide, sweeping arcs until their reddish eyes can take in miles on top of miles of the horizon far below. They move in the deep blue yonder as if manipulated by some hidden power. They can soar easily and effortlessly for hours on end, and when they finally swoop down to light in a dead tree, they perch on its boughs in a most solemn and dignified manner, their faces looking like those of bald old men lost in melancholy introspection. When they perch, their tails assume a square shape, and the tips of their five-foot wings are folded beyond the end of the tail.

Naturalists have small hope of preserving these most unusual bird as a part of the picture of our wild life. Condors are slow breeders. The female lays only one large greenish-white egg, rarely two. And since man has put such a fear in their breasts, interfering with their nesting and rearing their families, it is believed it is only a matter of a few years until these birds will completely disappear from the picture, victims of the encroachment of man upon their domain.

SENATOR MORTON IS BETTER QUALIFIED TO REPRESENT YOU IN THE U.S. SENATE

Senator Morton's views are the views of Kentuckians from all sections of the state and all walks of life. His views are founded on valuable experience as a businessman, an employer, a congressman, a veteran, and as a senator in time of great national peril. There is no substitute for experience!

REVIEW SENATOR MORTON'S RECORD

As a BUSINESSMAN, Senator Morton successfully led Kentucky's Ballard Mills' expansion and increased use of farm products.

As a true friend of LABOR, Senator Morton guaranteed his employees a full 40-hour week when at the depth of the depression, only 25 hours production were needed to meet demand.

As a SERVICEMAN and VETERAN, Senator Morton has served his country well. 51 months of active naval duty—mostly at sea in the Pacific. He is a member of the American Legion, V. F. W and Naval Reserve.

As a CONGRESSMAN, Senator Morton was acclaimed by the COURIER-JOURNAL as an outstanding leader... and was re-elected twice.

As ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE, Senator Morton helped shape our nation's foreign policy and made us all proud of his face-to-face negotiations with the Russians and other communist nations.

As your U. S. SENATOR, Senator Morton has served you admirably. He is a member of the two important Senate legislative committees: Finance and Commerce.

You are going to hire a United States Senator November 6. One of the applicants is Thruston Morton, your present senator. Senator Morton is for the American way of life, the free enterprise system, he is against socialized medicine, socialized business, he is against Communism. He is not a member of A. D. A. He is for the Monroe Doctrine, he is for getting the Communists out of Cuba, he is not a Left-Winger, he is a businessman, he has met a payroll. Senator Morton is a man of integrity — ability — experience.

'REBEL' BILL SMITH

A letter from Homer Alley, of the Huntington (W. Va.) Advertiser to the Big Sandy News, Louisa, Kentucky, inquires about one of the area's most dreaded and colorful Civil War figures — "Rebel" Bill Smith.

Mr. Alley, in his letter, writes: "I am currently doing some research in preparation for a story about a raid near Louisa during the Civil War. On November 5, 1864, guerillas under "Rebel" Bill Smith raided Peach Orchard near Louisa and captured the steamers U.S.S. Barnum and U.S.S. Fawn on the Sandy River at Buffalo Shoals. Information on the raid is scarce and if either you or anyone on your staff know of information on the raid, or know of anyone who does, I would appreciate your letting me know. I would also like to know if the Big Sandy News has ever published anything on the subject and if so, are any copies available. Any guidance you can give will be appreciated."

BATTLE OF RICHMOND

"The Battle of Richmond, where the Confederates gained their most decisive victory on Kentucky soil, will be commemorated October 3-4-5 as historic Madison county, Kentucky, observes the Civil War centennial.

A big street parade on October 3 will kick off the activities and a cast of 100 persons will present an original pageant, which has been entitled, "Echoes of the Past." The pageant, consisting of seven colorful episodes depicting the period from Daniel Boone through the Civil War era, will be held nightly. The pageant was written by Eben Henson, director of Pioneer Playhouse, Danville. Townspeople and students of Eastern State College will make up the cast.

Although the Battle of Richmond was fought August 30, 1862, the observance was postponed from the actual centennial date to October because Eastern students, who will have important roles, were not in school until the middle of September.

THE BURNS FAMILY

Mrs. Oscar Jennings Vinson, Vinson Apts, 1126 13th Street, Huntington, West Virginia, writes of her grandmother, Kizzie Clay Burns, wife of State Senator John M. Burns, the Prestonsburg attorney who built The Garfield Place, now occupied by Mrs. Elizabeth Leete Stephens.

Mrs. Vinson was here for the second annual presentation of THE PROUD HERITAGE, which depicted the escape of Mr. and Mrs. Burns from the house when it was being commandeered by Col. James A. Garfield in 1862.

The play had Mrs. Burns' name as Elizabeth. Mrs. Vinsons corrects us by saying it was Kizzie Clay. Her letter, complimentary of the play, follows:

"I talked with you in Prestonsburg last Sunday after THE PROUD HERITAGE. It was just splendid, so touching that I couldn't keep back the tears at times. The music was lovely, too. I loved the song selections. In fact, I thought the play was perfect.

"As I told you at Prestonsburg, I am grandmother's namesake, Kizzie Clay Burns. She was a Clay before marriage but it has been used as a double-name, Kizzie Clay. I have heard my father speak about it with tears. . . . When we were in Prestonsburg he showed me the very room where he was born. He said his father, John M. Burns, was in Mt. Sterling on business. (When Garfield occupied the Burns house, which is contrary to the play story). I am sure that is correct for he was really a fearless man — was called "Scorcher" Burns. I've heard father say he was small but not afraid of Satan himself. Grandmother's grave is in the grounds. . . . I have a silver coffee and teapot, with the ivy leaf decoration and a few pieces of lovely jewelry which belonged to her."

The Huntington (W. Va.) Advertiser, in its August 17, 1962, issue had an interesting item relative to the Burns family of Prestonsburg. It appeared in MISCELLANY-TALK OF THE TOWN by Catherine Bliss Enslow.

The column is excerpted here: "According to a story which appeared in a 1956 issue of the Courier Journal's magazine section: 'Mrs. Burns lay critically ill in bed the night Colonel Garfield moved in. According to history the Union troops came looting into Prestonsburg. A group of blue-clad soldiers barged into the Burns house, appropriating Mrs. Burns' gold watch and $17 before Garfield arrived. "That night her son, Rowland Burns, 16, and another youth, working in silence, carried Mrs. Burns on her mattress down to the river bank, placed her on a flatboat and pushed off from shore. The boys poled the boat all the way downstream to Louisa, taking advantage of a swift current, and the Burns family took up its permanent abode at Louisa."

The column in the Huntington newspaper notes that John M. Burns moved to Ashland after the Civil War, later became Circuit Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial District, which included Floyd, Pike, Boyd, Carter, Lawrence, Martin and Johnson counties.

One of his sons was Milton Sidney Burns, attorney and banker and father of Mrs. Vinson.

Look around you, friends. We know that every citizen of FLOYD COUNTY

Republican, Democrat, or Independent — will agree that Lt. Governor Wyatt has failed us miserably in his efforts to bring new factories and new jobs to this area. In fact, Mr. Wyatt has failed the whole State of Kentucky. As certified figures show, Kentucky last year realized the fewest new factories of any year since the end of World War II . . .

YOU FAILED US, MR. WYATT!

Of course, Mr. Wyatt continues to make extravagant promises. But, we, the people, won't be fooled again. He hasn't gotten results — we all know that. Perhaps because neither business people nor workers trust his left-wing, A.D.A. ideas. Whatever the reason . . .

WYATT HAS FAILED

Appeals Court Orders Dr. Hendrickson Name To Appear On Ballot

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 28 — The Court of Appeals issued an order today placing Dr. Rex Hendrickson, of Morehead, on the ballot as an independent candidate for Congress in the seventh district.

Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs previously had ordered the name of the former Morehead College professor placed on the voting list for November, but Secretary of State Henry Carter appealed that decision.

The high court said a written opinion will be handed down later. Carter had refused to put Hendrickson on the ballot on grounds of technical irregularities. Then Hendrickson went to court.

He now will run against incumbent Rep. Carl Perkins, Democrat, and Republican Alex Parker.

The home of the Marine Corps Commandant, built in 1804, is known as the oldest building in Washington, D. C.

District No. 2

November Election, 1962

MORTON voted AGAINST

Local supporters of Lieutenant Governor Wilson Wyatt, candidate for the United States Senate, today challenged his Republican opponent to explain his votes against aid to the needy blind, the permanently disabled and needy children.

The challenge came from Harold Stumbo, Floyd county Democratic campaign chairman.

He cited the record of the GOP nominee, Thruston Morton, as taken from the Congressional Record.

He charged him with opposing a $5 a month increase in payments to the needy and the blind. He also said that Morton had opposed a program which would have provided new jobs in the depressed areas of the state.

"The Morton Record," he continued, "needs a lot of explaining and he has only a few more days to supply his excuses. Up to now, he has demonstrated a complete lack of understanding of the problems of Kentucky. Our state needs and will get a Senator FOR Kentucky—not FROM Kentucky."
