

This Town-- That World

This fellow Schirra picked the wrong day to orbit the earth six times. The Giants and Yanks were playing, and most of us were in orbit, tagging right along with him.

Is this Indian Summer or just plain summer? If the legend that Indian Summer is hazy because of spirit campfires built along the warriors' way to the Happy Hunting Ground is to be preserved, we must decide either that the season is yet ahead or that Big Chief has tired of rubbing sticks together.

LIFT UP YOUR EYES These are troublous times, at home and abroad, we all must admit. Castro to the South, Khrushchev's hand casting shadows all around, trouble in Mississippi and trouble at home—but bump the raveled sleeve of care in the nearest waste basket and turn your thoughts to more pleasant things. A look at these hills around us and their kaleidoscope of color will help.

POTENT PARAGRAPHS Russell Harman, formerly of David, now of Huntington, West Virginia, favors me with some journalism tips. He sends along an example of English as she is written in the form of a clipping from a M. Sterling paper. It is the "Colored News" column, which apparently is printed by that newspaper as it comes from the writer's pen or typewriter. The items which follow give me an idea that maybe some of us who attempt to publish newspapers are editing the poor things to death. Consider these paragraphs:

"Sister Callie Asberry, much of same is she." "Brother Harold Taul seems not to be a speedy salubrious." "Sister Euphemia Mymhier is becoming a peripetetic." "Brother Sadalia Groves grows more potent." Congratulations, Brother Groves! (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

TIPPLE FIRE, BLASTS HIT FLOYD COAL AREA

SUIT SEEKS $106,500 IN DAMAGES IN MISHAP NEAR LANCER IN MAY

A total of $106,500 is asked in a damage suit filed last week by Walter Horn, of West Prestonsburg, against Palmer Herbert Hoover, of Opelika, Alabama, and the Superior Trucking Company, Hoover's employer.

Horn claims that carelessness and negligence of Hoover as he drove a tractor-trailer west on Ky. 304 at or near Lancer, last May 4, caused a collision with Horn's approaching car.

HALE SAYS HIS DUTY IS TO CURB VIOLENCE

Sheriff Henry C. Hale said in a prepared statement this week that he is "emphatically and positively" in favor of the constitutional right of the laboring man to picket, peacefully and lawfully, but that he will perform his sworn duty to protect personal property and the personal safety of Floyd citizens.

HALE SAYS HIS DUTY IS TO CURB VIOLENCE

Federal aid to education has always been supported by Senator Morton, the speaker said, but Senator Morton believes that this aid should always be handled in such a manner that the federal government will never gain control over the operation of our schools.

REED HOME IS SHAKEN BY DYNAMITE

At least three dynamites and destruction of a coal tippie by fire were reported within the week as violence flared up in the dispute over operation of small coal mines in this county.

REED HOME IS SHAKEN BY DYNAMITE

The chain of violent events began early last week with the dynamiting of two coal hoppers at the tippie of Ralph Moore, operator of a truck mine on Jake's Branch, near Printer.

REED HOME IS SHAKEN BY DYNAMITE

Thursday night of last week, the service station operated by Rudolph Howell, across the highway from the McDowell Memorial hospital, was partially wrecked by a dynamite charge which is believed to have been thrown from a passing car. Mr. Howell estimated the blast caused damage of $200 to $300. A door was blown away, a plate glass window was smashed, a sign and the gasoline pumps were damaged.

REED HOME IS SHAKEN BY DYNAMITE

While these outbreaks were marked mainly by silence, charges and counter-charges arose from the hurling of a stick of dynamite over the heads of pickets at the truck mine of Curt Tackett on Little Mud Creek. Tackett told authorities here that he had closed his mine, along with others of his kind throughout the county, but that he was getting some coal for his own home use when pickets approached him Monday afternoon. He said the pickets were advancing toward his mine when he lighted the dynamite fuse and hurled it above the heads of the men. The charge exploded in air and nobody was hurt.

HALE PLEDGES COMPLETE SHERIFF'S AID IN CURTAILING VIOLENCE AND LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Seeks Citizens Support

Picketing in Floyd county which began as a peaceful, lawful activity has erupted into violence and threats, resulting in damage to personal property and probable danger to the lives of our citizens. Most of those engaged in this activity are life-long residents of Floyd county, interested in gaining an end through their constitutional right to assemble and to express their aims in a lawful manner. However, there are those who have resorted to mob hysteria and have attempted to force the issue by unlawful activities.

As your duly elected Sheriff and as one who has been selected by the people to preserve law and order, it is necessary that the peace and quiet be preserved.

It is regrettable that any action on the part of law enforcement officers is necessary.

I have always been a working man and have been a member of the United Mine Workers of America. As such, I have served as a member of the Legislature for a number of terms. I am justly proud of a legislative record which has always supported labor and of the support which labor has given me from time to time because of this record. Let me say also that I am emphatically and positively in favor of the constitutional right of the laboring man to peacefully and lawfully picket. It is his constitutional right and I have always and shall always support the principle.

However, when there is violence, when there are dynamitings, when there are threats, when the life of our citizens are endangered, it becomes my sworn duty to protect the personal property as well as the personal safety of Floyd county. This is the solemn and binding obligation that I knowingly took upon myself and which I shall fulfill to the best of my ability and which I expect my deputies to do the same.

In the performance of my duties in these matters I shall never knowingly take sides in whatever differences may exist between management and labor, but I shall expect both and all to lend me their fullest cooperation in keeping law and order in Floyd county.

I say this and mean it at a time

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Dora B. Cole, who died Oct. 15, 1961:

"The oldest university was not on India's strand,
Nor in the valley of the Nile,
nor on Arabia's sand;
From time's beginning it has taught and still it teaches free
Its learning mild to every child—
the school of Mother's Knee."
"The oldest school to teach the law,
and teach it deeply, too,
Dividing what should not be done
from what each one should do,
Was not in Rome nor Ispahan
nor by the Euxine Sea;
But it held its sway ere history's day—
the school of Mother's Knee."

"The oldest seminary, where theology was taught,
Where love to God, and reverent prayer, and the Eternal Ought
Were deep impressed on youthful hearts in pure sincerity, Came to the earth with Abel's birth—the school of Mother's Knee."
"The oldest, and the newest, too,
it still maintains its place,
And from its classes, ever full,
It graduates the race.
Without its teaching, where would all the best of living be?
'Twas planned by heaven this earth to heaven—the school of Mother's Knee."

the courts. Their interpretations establish as much law as does the Legislature.

I can more easily understand the criticism of citizens who may really not realize fully the help which they can give to the Sheriff than I can forgive the criticism of other public officials who would shove their responsibilities upon others. I call upon all good and reliable citizens, the clergy and our own Floyd County Times to lend this office the fullest cooperation and can humbly say that they will in turn receive the fullest cooperation that my office with its limited staff is capable of providing. Remember I am only your elected official who is a law enforcement officer and repeat that there are certain laws by which I must abide in order to fairly perform my duties.

HENRY C. HALE
Sheriff of Floyd Co.

"All I can promise you is your money's worth"

LOOKING FOR a used car? Well, there is probably someone looking for you. He's just got in a 1960 Frabjous 8. It's been chauffeur-driven for a nervous old lady and has no more miles on it than from here to the post office. He'll avert his eyes and let you steal it from him for a measly $499. He admits he's crazy to sell it at this price, but his whole family is mad — mad — mad. That's your good luck, neighbor. Step right in.

Me — I'm afraid I don't operate that way. You see, I'm an ordinary businessman. A merchant. I'm franchised to sell the new products of one of America's great corporations. I meet their sales and service standards in every way.

The cars I take in trade I thoroughly inspect, recondition, and put my guarantee on. I move them out just as fast as I can at a very modest profit — very. All I can promise you is your money's worth. If that's what you are looking for, I hope you'll come in and see us.

In Pike county last Wednesday three Floyd men were held to the November grand jury and placed under peace bonds on assault and battery charges stemming from picketing at a Pike county coal installation.

County Judge Ervin Pruitt said Lee Howell was placed under bond of $5,000 for the grand jury appearance and a similar amount on a peace bond.

Lonnie Jones, Jr., was placed under bonds of $2,500 each for the grand jury and to keep the peace and Curtis Tackett was put under bonds of $1,000 each for the same purposes.

(The Curtis Tackett here referred to is not the man of the same name who operates a mine on Little Mud Creek.)

Judge Pruitt said Jim Tackett and Paul Willis Johnson each were put under $500 peace bonds. Charges against Hershel Slone and Milt Hunt were dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

The warrants charged the men with threatening or striking three workers during a demonstration two weeks ago at Utilities-Esco Coal Company at Esco.

A restraining order restricting the activities of about 200 specific persons, most of them Floyd countians, and "all persons acting in connection with them, and all other persons having notice of the order" has been issued by Pike Circuit Judge James E. Stephenson.

Plaintiffs in the action asking the restraining order were various independent coal operators or individual employees of those operations.

Howell, the leader, after the restraining order was served last week said he would obey the court's orders and that he would halt the picketing if at any time it became apparent that picketing would cause violence or danger.

Senate is best qualified by ability and experience to cope with the international communist conspiracy and with the economic conditions we now face."

"We read in the newspapers that the Reds are pouring men, goods and military hardware into Cuba, ninety miles off our shore. We are told that within a matter of months the Chinese Communists will have the 'bomb'. Kruschew is rattling the saber in Berlin. We have troubles in Africa, in South America, in Indonesia and in India."

"The big issue—the big question for the Kentucky voters is whether they want a sound, responsible, courageous man like Thruston Morton assisting on these problems in Washington, or whether they want the first national chairman of the A. D. A., a spender and taxer like Wilson Wyatt, to help in these decisions."

It was pointed out that men like Arthur Schlesinger and Adlai Stevenson, old friends of Wyatt's in A. D. A., have been charged with giving President Kennedy the advice which resulted in withholding air support from the Cuban invasion at the Bay of Pigs.

Photostated copies of documents were exhibited by the speaker to substantiate all charges made against the Democratic candidate. It was stated that these will remain here until after the election, and voters are invited to inspect them and see the record.

CONTRIBUTIONS SOUGHT

Letters in the interest of the Kentucky Young Men's Christian Association, which serves more than 160,000 boys and girls of the state, are being mailed Floyd countians by Marvin Music, chairman of the Floyd YMCA fund drive.

ANOTHER PASSENGER

I know that folks around this town have, on occasion, wondered if I had nothing better to do than to haul a spotted dog around. The truth of the matter is, I hauled the mutt home to keep him from harm after he had caught up with me. Now I'm wondering what Roland Scalf was doing with a pet crow teetering on the back of his car-seat, the other morning. (This bird—not Roland—I must write up.)

The boys are bringing the big fish around again. Sunday it was Elmer Music with a 34-pound yellow cat, caught on a trotline in Dewey Lake. This fish had a mouth on him which could be described only by one word—"maw."

AD ABSURDUM

Read, the other day, one of the most amusing pieces I have seen in a long while. It had to do with bureaucracy as embodied by the Federal Trade Commission and the Southern manufacturer of Red Fox overalls. The Trade Commission contended the manufacturer was guilty of false advertising by calling the overalls Red Fox, inasmuch as they contained no fur or any other part of Sir Reynard. The embattled manufacturer called on his U. S. Senators, but they couldn't budge the Commission an inch from its position. The August solons pointed out that a certain cigarette has no part of a camel about it but is still being made, sold and smoked without federal interference.

But, said the federal boys, in effect, don't argue the facts with us—our mind (if any) is made up. This is alarming, men. They may next adopt a rule making it illegal to nibble on Sun-Kist raisins in the dark of the moon!

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN MEET

A meeting of the Democratic Women's Club of Floyd county was held at Democratic headquarters, Tuesday, with the president, Mrs. R. V. May, presiding. Mrs. May suggested that the offices of secretary and treasurer be combined and those present approved. Discussion was held about a dinner to honor Mrs. Wilson Wyatt.

Plans were discussed for publicity for the November election. Membership cards have been mailed to numerous women in the county. Proceeds from this will be used to finance publicity.

The president stressed the importance of the committee women in the county to have precinct meetings, and to appoint a telephone committee in their communities to call and urge people to get out and vote. Charlotte Mullins was appointed telephone committee chairman.

SAYS WYATT HAS DECIDED TO TELL ABOUT THE A. D. A.

Senator Thruston Morton in a statement dictated to his Campaign Headquarters over the telephone from Barbourville, Kentucky today said that his opponent Wyatt has finally decided to tell the people of the state of Kentucky about his political organization known as the A. D. A.

The Senator said that he is going to aid Wyatt in getting the facts across to the voters. "On Tuesday night, October 9, at 7:30 p.m., local time, in every county in the state of Kentucky, 120 fine citizens, both Democrats and Republicans, are going to inform the people about A. D. A. I urge our citizens of whatever political faith to attend these meetings to see and hear the facts."

"My opponent in a radio question and answer program over WHAS last night said that he is 'very proud' of his leadership of the Americans for Democratic Action. Is he proud of A. D. A.'s hands off policy regarding Cuba, A. D. A.'s efforts to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities, A. D. A.'s support of the rights of Communists to be school teachers, and A. D. A.'s opposition to loyalty oaths? Is he proud of A. D. A.'s 1962 platform, which says that federal spending must be raised by several billion dollars a year?"

Senator Morton said that, "I strongly oppose the efforts of the A. D. A. to further socialize and control the lives of our citizens." He said that, his opponent's ad-

TOM RANEY SALARY CASE STUDIED BY HIGH COURT

Was Tom Raney, Pikeville, a member of the 1952 State Senate under one section of the Constitution or was he a false claimant to his seat under another section?

That question was put to the Court of Appeals Friday as opposing counsel argued Raney's appeal of Treasurer Thelma Stovall's refusal to pay him $1,852.50 in salary and expenses on grounds he was not a member of the Senate.

On May 4, Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs agreed with Mrs. Stovall, ruling that Raney vacated his seat April 1, 1960, when he took the oath as deputy sheriff of Pike county. Raney had been elected to a four-year term in November, 1959.

But the circuit judge erred, William A. Logan, Frankfort attorney, said to the Court of Appeals. He cited Section 38 of the Constitution which makes each branch of the General Assembly the sole judge of qualifications of its members to sit.

And the Senate, Logan went on, did just that, last February 13, by vote of 25 to 6, it declared Raney legally entitled to his seat from the 31st District of Pike county.

But how is the high court to ignore Section 165, asked Tom Marshall attorney arguing for Mrs. Stovall. And he read it: "No person shall, at the same time . . . be a member of the General Assembly, and an officer of any county, city, town . . . or an employee thereof . . ."

Logan argued there is no question but that Raney was a senator because the Senate, under Section 38, had declared him to be one. And Marshall argued there is no question but that Raney was an interloper because, under Section 165, he vacated the office of senator when he was sworn in as deputy sheriff.

In reply to a question by Commissioner Watson Clay, Logan said that the power to determine its own membership is so broad the Senate could seat "Sonny Liston (new heavyweight boxing champion if it wanted to)."

Two other divergent views were urged upon the high court as to the legal power of Mrs. Stovall to question the orders of Commissioner of Finance Robert F. Matthews, Jr., to pay certain sums to designated people. Matthews is on Raney's side in the lawsuit.

Matthews' counsel, Assistant Attorney General Hunter B. Whitesell, said the law gives Mrs. Stovall ministerial duties only. That is to say, he explained, she may examine the surface of warrants for errors, and the like, but she has no right to question the commissioner's decision to pay out the money.

Not so, replied Marshall. Under the law since 1934, the treasurer is an instrument in the three-way check that is maintained on paying out money—the other two being the state auditor and the commissioner of finance.

The three must check continually on each other, he said. Hence, Mrs. Stovall pays out money at her own peril—criminal peril if she pays a questioned claim without obtaining advice from the attorney general, civil peril if she pays it with his advice. If not, asked Marshall, why trouble to bond the treasurer for $300,000?

Chandler Names Walters
His Campaign Manager

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 6—Former Governor A. B. Chandler has named his former commissioner of rural highways, Mack Walters, Simpsonville, as his 1963 campaign chairman.

In announcing the appointment at a press conference at "ABC Club" headquarters in Frankfort, Chandler said:

"Mack Walters is skillful in the ways of government, dedicated to the welfare of his state and determined to devote a considerable amount of his life to the improvement of the affairs of government in Kentucky."

Walters, 45, a farmer and tobacco warehouse operator, said that state campaign headquarters in the old Watterson Hotel (now the Sherwyn) in Louisville would be opened informally in a short time.

makes STATEMENT

Because there are some stories making the rounds that Bill Wells favors this person or that person as superintendent, or favors certain changes in the administrative setup in the Floyd County School System, I feel it necessary to make the following statement:

I shall, as a member of the board of education of Floyd county district No. 1, promote harmony and cooperation because it is only through this manner that our schools will move forward. I feel that Charles Clark has been a fine superintendent and that our school system has made great progress during his two years in office. If Mr. Clark has a cooperative, open-minded board in the future, I am certain that greater progress will result in better education for our school age population. In the interest of harmony and greater progress, may I also urge my friends, relatives and persons interested in better schools to support Dr. J. H. ALLEN in District No. 2.

Murder of Pike-Co. Man Confessed At Charleston; Served Kentucky Sentence

A Charleston, West Virginia man awaiting transfer to the penitentiary to serve a forgery term told Kanawha county police Friday last week that he had killed a man in Kentucky in 1954.

Jailers Percy Forster and W. T. Nelson said the prisoner, Harold M. Kidd, 30, of Dry Branch, passed a note through his cell bars in which he said, "It's going to run me crazy if I don't make a confession."

Kidd said one afternoon in 1954 he and Willie Kinder got into an argument at Kinder's home in the community of Tunnersville, Pike county, while drinking moonshine whiskey.

"He threw a bottle at me and I hit him with a hammer," the jailers said Kidd related.

Kidd left the next day for Florida, where he was arrested for contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old girl and sentenced to six months in jail. Later he was extradited to Kentucky to face a nonsupport charge brought by his wife.

Kidd said he learned of Kinder's death only after his return to Kentucky. He added that he was questioned by Pike county authorities about the slaying, but was released. He served two years in Kentucky for nonsupport during which time his wife, who now lives in Delbarton, Mingo county, divorced him.

Kidd recently completed a 17-month term in the Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, federal prison for breaking into the Cabin Creek, West Virginia post office in 1960.

He was arrested in Charleston earlier this year on the forgery charge and was sentenced July 27 to one to 10 years in the Moundsville penitentiary.

Bob Kennedy, author and historian of Kenova, W. Va., will address the Johnson County Historical Society, Friday evening, Oct. 12, at 8:00, in the Johnson county court house in Paintsville. Mr. Kennedy, who has written the "River Roundup" column for The Ashland Daily Independent for nine years, will speak on the subject, "The History of the Big Sandy River." The address will include the legendary steamboating era on the Big Sandy, one of the most interesting river stories in Kentucky history.

Mr. Kennedy's newspaper column has drawn favorable comment from writers, historians and boating fans in several states.

For the past 16 years, the speaker has been an employee of the Ashland Oil and Refining Company's Marine department, first as a towboat mate, later being transferred to shore as a terminal operator at Ashland Oil's giant Kenova Terminal.

His first venture into the field of writing was a column known as "River Ramblings" for The Boyd County Observer, of Catlettsburg. The column was popular from the start and after a while the Ashland Daily Independent asked him to do a column in similar vein for its Sunday edition.

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 216 in a Series)

EARLY EXPLORATION FOR EAST KENTUCKY COAL

Northern capitalists, becoming aware of the huge coal and mineral reserves in Eastern Kentucky, began a mad rush around the turn of the century to secure control of as much of this vast natural wealth as possible. Leading the move in this region on the local level was John C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville. It was due to his foresight that exploitation of the coal was made possible and industrialization broke the century old isolation.

Shown here is Milt Mayo, brother of John C. C. Mayo, measuring one of the early-opened coal seams on Johns Creek in 1903.

The First National Bank presents these pictures in recognition of our historic heritage.

WYATT BACKGROUND MERITS SUPPORT

The background and accomplishments of Lt. Governor Wilson Wyatt entitle him to support in his battle for the United States Senate, it was declared today by Harold Stumbo, local campaign chairman.

Wyatt is the Democratic nominee for the Senate.

"Governor Wyatt," the local party leader said, "worked his way up the ladder. He worked his way through night law school. He worked to help out his family."

He also said that his enthusiasm, his devotion to his job, first as mayor of Louisville, and then as lieutenant governor, is proof of his ability to get the job done.

"Kentucky has had remarkable progress in the past several years. We can see it on every side, in new roads, new parks, new factories, expanded plants. To Wilson Wyatt must go a great share of the credit," he said.

In contrast he pointed to the Republican candidate and his record of absenteeism in the House and Senate. Morton was also charged with siding with the wealthy and big business when he did actually cast a vote.

JENKINS SHARES SPOTLIGHT WITH HAZARD IN EKMC RACE

The Jenkins Cavaliers, although out of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference and the Region 4 race, are stealing the area football limelight from leader Hazard high. Frank Asbury's underdog eleven stopped Lynch East Main, 7-6, a week ago, then over the past weekend battled favored Whitesburg to a 5-6 tie as both teams scored in the second period.

Halfback John Fleming ran two yards for the score and the attempted extra point kick was blocked. Jerry Coots retaliated with four minutes left in the period from three yards away. The run for the point failed.

Paintsville's undefeated Tigers won their sixth straight game at the expense of Morgan County, 27-0. Hazard, leading 20-13 at half-time, was tied 20-20 by Ashland. Both teams remain unbeaten. Prestonsburg nipped Louisa, 13-7, in the final 40 seconds. Belfry defeated Wheelwright, 33-7, and Elkhorn City overpowered weak Leslie County, 55-6.

Pikeville, set to meet undefeated Paintsville at home this Friday night, dealt Fleming-Neon its first loss inside the EKMC in a 20-14 win that was earned in a steady rain.

Ace halfback John Ratliff figured in all the Panther scoring as he posted one touchdown on a run, passed for one and caught a pass for another. Burley fullback Claude Tolliver plunged over for one Fleming frequently fumbled.

Jack Hall's Elkhorn City Cougars became the winningest team in the school's history by belting hapless Leslie County. Eight players had a part in the scoring for the victors with fullback Donnie Phipps leading the rout with three touchdowns.

A 45-yard pass from junior quarterback Mike Wells to junior end Lonnie Prater set up the winning touchdown for the Prestonsburg Black Cats in the final minute of the nip-and-tuck fray with Louisa. With 40 seconds left, halfback Paul Fuester ran over untouched from the two-yard stripe and the winning touchdown as the Cats overcame a 7-6 deficit. Prestonsburg took a 6-0 command

WHY VETERANS ARE VOTING FOR MORTON

When war was declared in December, 1941, Thruston Morton gave up his job as President of Ballard and Ballard Flour Mills — and joined the U. S. Navy.

For four years, he served his country with distinction in active duty in both the Pacific and the Atlantic. He is still serving in the Naval Reserve.

During his three terms as Congressman, four years as Assistant Secretary of State and six years as your U. S. Senator, he has fought to keep America strong — so we could keep the peace.

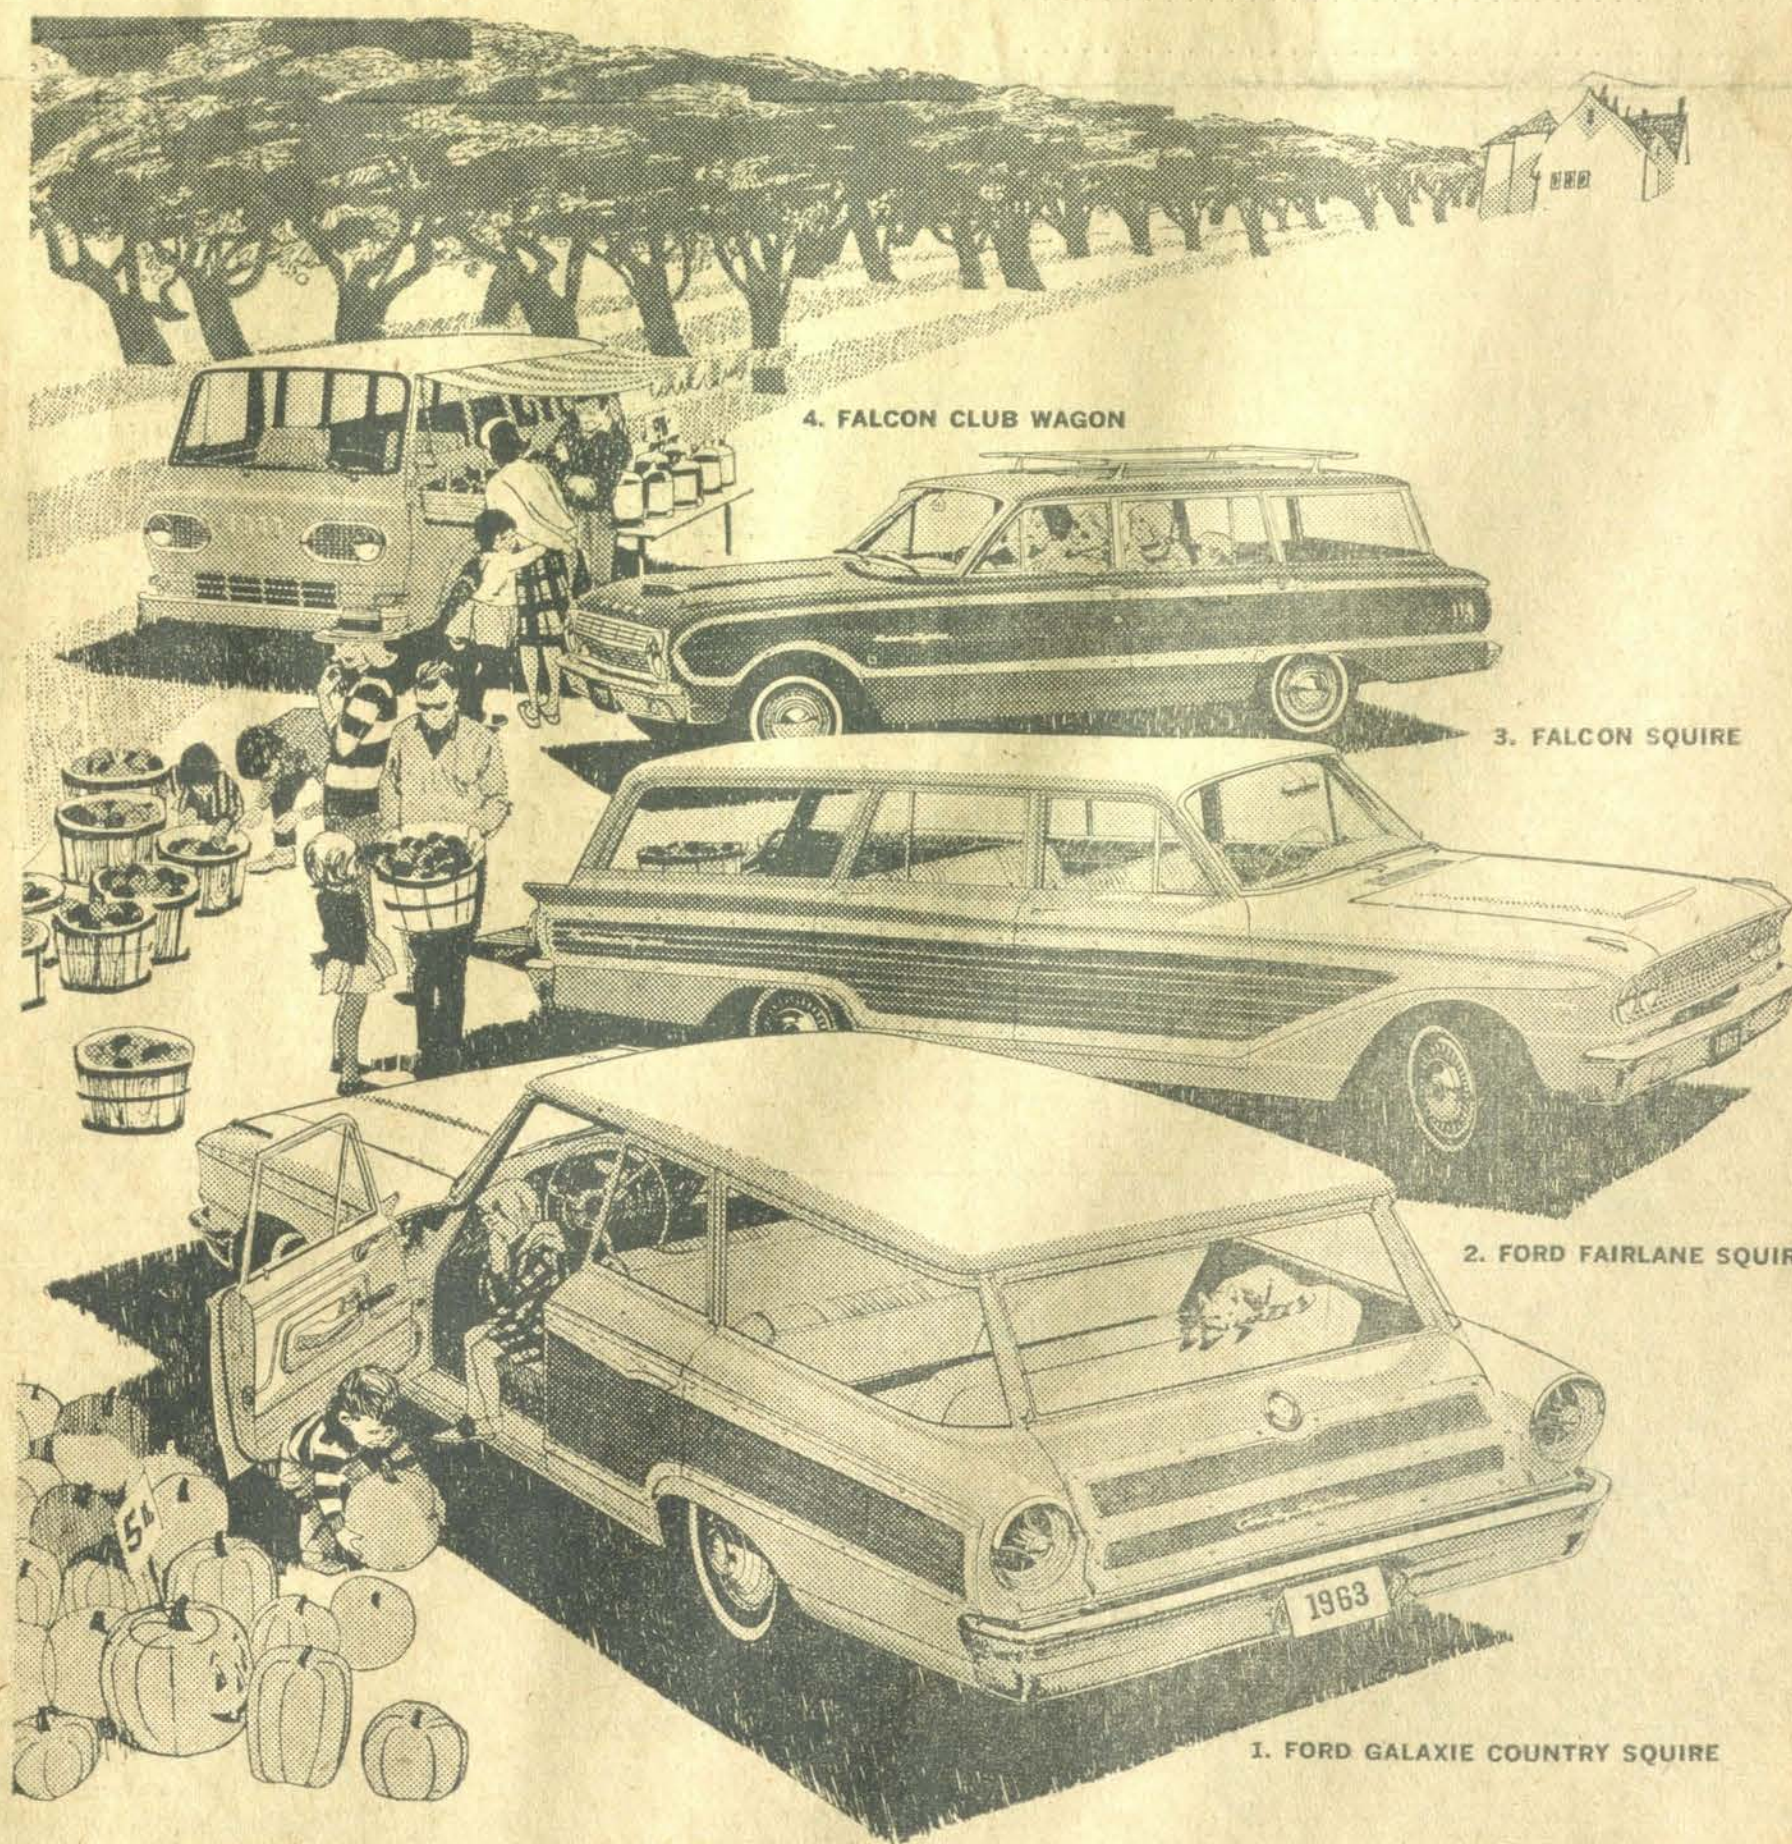

His outstanding record has gained for him the support of other veterans and all citizens who know that the way to keep the peace — is to keep America strong.

There is no substitute for experience.

BURDSAL

McKINNEY

Two promotions in the Pikeville district of Kentucky Power Company have been announced by H. H. Kincaid, district manager, effective October 1.

James R. Burdsal, district supervising engineer, was named to the district superintendent position, succeeding C. A. McKinney, who has retired from that position. William Ward Zoellers, senior distribution engineer, has been named district supervising engineer to succeed Mr. Burdsal.

Burdsal was graduated from Prestonsburg high school and attended Caney Junior College and the University of Kentucky Engineering College. He graduated from U. of K. with a BSEE degree. Mr. Burdsal began his career in the electrical industry with the Hazard district of Kentucky Power Company as an engineer, junior, in the T & D department on September 16, 1947. He was promoted to substation foreman in 1951, and became district supervising engineer of the Hazard district January 1, 1953. He was transferred to the Pikeville district, September 1, 1955, as district supervising engineer.

Burdsal is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers. He is an active member and past president of the Pikeville Rotary Club. He, his wife and three daughters belong to the First Baptist Church, of Pikeville.

Mr. Zoellers attended and graduated from Hazard high school and attended the College of Engineering at the University of Kentucky. He was graduated from the engineering college of U. of K. with a BSEE degree in electrical engineering. Mr. Zoellers began his career upon graduation with the Pikeville district of Kentucky Power Company as a distribution engineer in the T & D department in 1951. He was a distribution engineer with the T & D department and the engineering department until promotored to senior distribution engineer on July 1, 1960. In 1961 he was made a power sales engineer, senior with the commercial department, and was transferred back to the engineering department last February as senior distribution engineer.

Zoellers is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Eastern Kentucky Electrical and Mechanical Institute. He is an active member and has served as president of the Pikeville Junior Chamber of Commerce. He and Burdsal both are now members of the Pike County Chamber of Commerce.

Zoellers, his wife and two sons attend the First Presbyterian Church of Pikeville.

Mr. McKinney retired October 1 as district superintendent of transmission and distribution department after 37 years with the Pikeville district of the power company.

McKinney was born in Fayette county, West Virginia, near Oak Hill, on October 7, 1897. He worked for several coal companies as an electrician and coal mine superintendent before joining the Pikeville district of Kentucky Power Company as a substation man, September 24, 1925.

McKinney was promoted to substation foreman in 1925. He was one of the men who worked to build most of the major substations in the Pikeville district, including the Beaver Creek and Betsy Layne stations in this county. He also served as operator in these stations.

On August 1, 1945, he was promoted to general or district superintendent and held that position in the district until retirement. As substation foreman and district superintendent, McKinney aided in the building of the present district facilities both for stations, transmission and distribution lines.

Mr. McKinney's hobbies are auto racing as a spectator, golf and Scouting. He has been president of the Pikeville Rotary Club two times and has served in the various other offices in the club. He has been active in and has had various offices in the local country club. He played a large part in the organizing and building of the present Green Meadows Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney are members of the Pikeville Baptist Church. They have five children and several grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney are not definite about their future plans but plan to stay in Pikeville for a while.

EDUCATION LEADERS ENDORSE CLARK PROGRAM

We, the undersigned school principals and administrators, are in complete agreement on the following statement:

- (a) We feel that the Floyd County School System has had more than enough fussing and fighting, so we say, let's go forward in harmony to make ours the best school system in Eastern Kentucky.
- (b) A great deal of progress has been made in the last two years, although Superintendent Clark has had to work hard to even hold the school system together.

PROGRESS MADE RECENTLY:

1. The highest teacher salaries paid in history, and paid on time.
2. Eight new contract runs to transport children who have heretofore had to walk great distances, as well as adding five additional school buses to our fleet.
3. The rural school lunch program which will start again next month, and which insures for each child a good lunch whether he has the money to pay for it or not.
4. A good start has been made on an ambitious building program. Additional class rooms have been constructed at Betsy Layne, Martin, McDowell and Prestonsburg. Let's go forward to finish the new building program as outlined by the State Department of Education: Mud Creek Elementary, Middle Creek Elementary, Vocational School at Garth, Wheelwright Elementary, and others as money is available.
5. Floyd county was selected as a pilot county for an adult education program. The board of education accepted the program on the recommendation of Superintendent Clark.
6. Two traveling teachers employed to instruct physically handicapped children in their homes.
7. The Board of Education and Superintendent Clark have worked very closely with the various colleges to encourage extension classes for our high school graduates and teachers.

Superintendent Clark has kept his eyes open to every opportunity to improve the Floyd County School System, and we believe he is determined to continue to do so, no matter what the odds. We know that Clark is a sober, dedicated and honest school man who deserves a chance to finish the next two years of his contract with a board willing to cooperate. It makes sense to us to elect board members who are willing to work together for the sake of our children, and for that reason, we, having looked over the board candidates, urge all Floyd countians to support and vote for Bill Wells, District No. 1, and for Dr. J. H. Allen, District No. 2. We are sure they are willing to support all the progress which has been made and that they feel, as we do, when we say, we need less "fussing and more schooling."

Fralely-Laferty Vows Solemnized Sept. 8th At Dungannon, Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Fraley, of Dungannon, Virginia, announce the marriage of their daughter, Carol Jean, to A-C Donald Laferty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Laferty, of Martin, Kentucky.

The double-ring ceremony was performed Sept. 8, at 2 p.m. at the Dungannon Methodist Church by the Rev. John M. Watkins, of Parrottsville, Tennessee.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and chantilly lace. It featured a fitted bodice of lace over satin, with long, pointed sleeves fastened with tiny satin buttons, and a bouffant, ballerina-length skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of white braid and iridescent stones. She carried a white orchid with stephanotis and white satin streamers atop a white satin and lace covered Bible.

Mrs. Diana Hodges Rogers, of Gate City, Virginia, was matron of honor. She wore an emerald green chiffon dress with matching accessories and carried white roses.

Bridesmaids were Judy Fraley, sister of the bride, Jane Ann Sandige, Gate City, Virginia, and Betty Jane Buchanan, Benham, Kentucky. They wore matching ballerina-length dresses of organza in pastel tints of blue, green and yellow. Their bouquets of white carnations had matching net and ribbon streamers.

The altar was decorated with large baskets of white gladioli and carnations. Seven-branched candelabra with burning white tapers formed an arch in the background, flanked by branches of greenery.

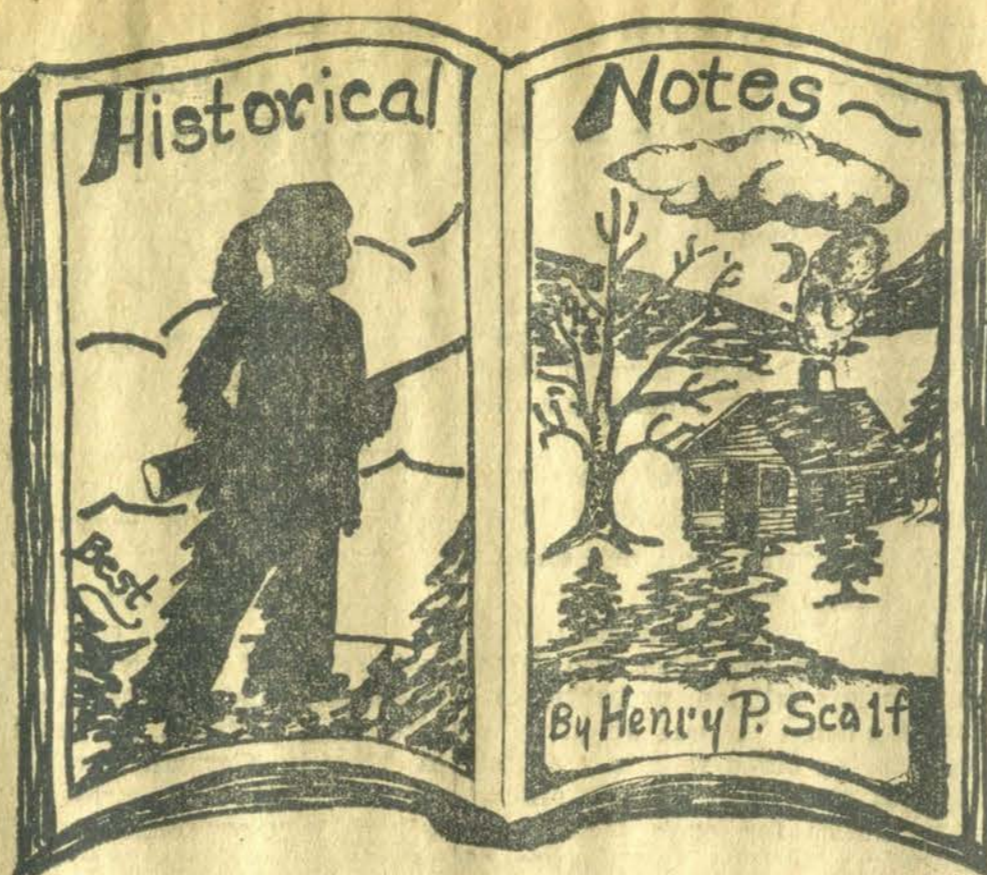

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Carrie Addington at the piano. It included "I Love You Truly," "Because," "Whither Thou Goest" and traditional wedding marches.

Serving as best man was Herman Laferty, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Eugene Buchanan, of Benham, Kentucky, and East Tennessee State College, and Don Blevens, of Dungannon, Virginia, who attends Clinch Valley College at Wise, Virginia.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and held a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by pale blue wedding bells. The cake was served by Mrs. O. E. Buchanan, Benham, Kentucky, aunt of the bride. Assisting at the two punch bowls were Mrs. Jack West and Mrs. Monroe Blevens, both of Dungannon.

The bride is a graduate of Dungannon high school and attended Milligan College, Johnson City, Tennessee. The bridegroom is a graduate of Martin high school, Martin, Kentucky, and is pursuing a career in the U. S. Air Force. He is currently stationed at Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base, near Goldsboro, North Carolina, where the couple will make their home.

The home of Confederate General Albert Sidney Johnson at Maysville is open as a shrine.

BATTLE OF PERRYVILLE

The Battle of Perryville was the most important Civil War engagement fought in Kentucky. In fact, some historians have come to believe that this battle was as decisive as any other during the entire four-year conflict, for it marked a fatal loss of Confederate initiative during 1862. After Perryville, Southern fortunes in the West declined steadily.

Briefly, the picture was this. Lt. Gen. Braxton Bragg, in command of the Army of Tennessee, CSA, launched a coordinated campaign to "free" Kentucky, a key border state. One army of 12,000 men under Maj. Gen. E. Kirby Smith, moved northward from Knoxville, Tennessee, and by the end of August controlled Lexington and the central part of Kentucky. Bragg then marched his army out of Chattanooga and moved toward Kentucky with the intention of linking forces with General Smith's men, thereby gaining command of the entire state.

The Union commander, Maj. Gen. Don Carlos Buell, was outflanked initially and Bragg's army could have beaten Buell in the race for Louisville, a major Union supply base. Bragg, however, moved slowly and a series of forced marches by Buell's Army of the Cumberland saved the city for the Union cause.

Thwarted momentarily, Bragg moved into the central portion of Kentucky to join Smith, and Buell followed close behind. The opposing armies met in battle on October 8, 1862, clashing at Chaplin Hills near Perryville. One Union general described the action as "the bloodiest battle of modern times." It was, for casualties exceeded 7,500. There were nearly 40,000 men directly involved in the fighting.

The weather had much to do with the intensity of the battle. A summer-long drouth had stretched into fall, and creeks, and rivers had become "either totally dry or shrunken into little, heated tired-looking threads of water, brackish and disagreeable to taste and smell." Soldiers of both sides had keen, personal interests in winning water rights to Doctor's Creek, scene of some of the most bitter fighting of the entire battle.

As a result of the battle, Gen. Bragg concluded that he could not press his Kentucky campaign any further, but should return to Tennessee. For some reason, Gen. Buell permitted the Confederates to withdraw unmolested, an action that resulted in his being replaced as Union Commander.

The Perryville Pilgrimage Trek is conducted once each year on the Saturday nearest the anniversary of the battle which was fought October 8, 1862. The 1962 observance is scheduled for October 6 and is sponsored by the Louisville Civil War Round Table.

The Trek includes two hiking trails—the "Dry Canteen Trail" and the "Dug Road March." Hikers may take only one of the trails each year, and it strongly recommended that the "Dry Canteen Trail" be hiked first.

The route followed by the "Dry Canteen Trail" is, essentially, the same as that followed by Union forces under Maj. Gen. Alex McDowell McCook in their hurried march from Mackville to their battle stations. At the battle site, each hiker will take part in a conducted tour of the battleground, moving from check point to check point until he has visited the entire area. Members of the Louisville Civil War Round Table will be at each check point to explain the history and significance of his particular area. Total length of this trail is approximately 15 miles.

The "Dug Road March" brings hikers to the battleground via an important Confederate Army route. It starts at the Mercer County Fairgrounds in Harrodsburg, follows a little-traveled secondary road to the Chaplin River, which marked a northern border of the action. In order to move their cannon and other supplies into position, troops under General B. F. Cheatham hastily carved a road from the bluffs overlooking the river. Portions of this road are still intact and are used today, and it still is identified on maps of the area as the "Dug Road." After entering the State Park, hikers again will tour sections of the battleground, this time visiting check points located principally in the area where Confederate forces had command posts. This trail, too, is about 15 miles in length.

This column has a number of Kentucky Civil War maps for free distribution. If you are interested in the Civil War as it was fought in Kentucky, write this column, Box 421, Prestonsburg. A copy will be sent post-paid.

The map was prepared by the Kentucky Tourist and Travel Division, Department of Public Information, Frankfort, in cooperation with Kentucky Civil War Commission. Text is by Joe Creason, of the Courier-Journal staff.

The map locates all major Eastern Kentucky battles and a nice picture, among others, is of the Battle of Ivy Mountain marker, erected two years ago at Ivel.

POISON GASES

Many fire victims are killed by the gases which flood up through the house with the rising heat. Often, the gases are more deadly on the top floor than on the floor where the blaze is burning. The first victims are those in rooms with the doors open, since closed doors serve as a barrier to the gases.

Nothing goes up this chimney but water vapor and air another new way AEP keeps your electric costs low

First time in the Western Hemisphere! Going up on the Big Sandy River in eastern Kentucky is this 320-foot-high water cooling tower. Operating much like the radiator in your car, it will vastly multiply the cooling capacity of Big Sandy, permit the installation of 20 times more electric-power generation capacity. Result: Low-cost power can be produced where low-cost fuel is available, even if cooling-water supply is limited. Doing things in new ways to improve service and efficiency is one big reason why the average unit price of electricity, for customers of Kentucky Power Company, has not gone up during twenty years of inflation.

Your service is better, your rates are lower because Kentucky Power Company is a part of the American Electric Power System. Supplying more electricity than any other investor-owned utility, AEP aids the economic growth of 2,350 communities in seven states. Through integrated operations, progressive engineering, research and coordinated management, the six member companies of AEP bring you lowest cost power with greatest dependability.

Tidbits Of Kentucky Folklore

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

ONE EXTREME FOLLOWS ANOTHER

The favorite saying of one of our Fidelity neighbors, especially about weather and emotional people, was "One extreme follows another." He was a stern, rather hard-featured man, not very much liked by his contemporaries, but, in the words of some character in John Fox, Jr.'s stories, "He said a mouthful." Probably no better saying could describe the semi-pioneering way of life, the way that I knew in Fidelity.

Side by side in our community, and all other primitive communities, lived the good and the bad, sometimes extreme types of each. Puritanical codes of morality were believed in and practiced by most of the best people at Fidelity; even those who hardly lived up to their practice to their codes of conduct still upheld the ideal. On the other hand there were those who seemed to have no fear of moral laws and who were as unrestrained as animals. It was not necessary for our parents to quote some instance from literature or even the Bible to drive home a great truth; not far away would be someone who illustrated some horrible violation of decency and morality. Just what the other group said about the ones of us who tried to be a little better than the ordinary I never learned; they probably held us up to their brats as horrible examples, too.

But, in spite of the two extremes, my father had to be the doctor of them all. He delivered the legitimate and the illegitimate; he was the family physician of the orderly and the disorderly; he gave his services to the poorest and the most worthless, it always seemed to me as willingly as to the better-fixed families. And when the humblest or the most ornery fellow came after the doctor, Father saddled his old yellow horse and rode away, for a suffering human being is a sad spectacle, regardless of his morals or lack of them.

At our school at Fidelity we had absolute democracy, no matter how things might go in our social life outside the school. No teacher that I had at Fidelity ever showed any public partiality to some boy or girl merely because of family prominence or slighted others because they came from questionable surroundings. When we played Dare Base and Town Ball or Stealing Goods, no questions were asked about the moral code of one's log cabin or shack or better house. Startlingly, some of the second generation of those lowest families have advanced farther in material things and even in education than lots of the children from homes that were above average.

Though nearly every boy took a fling at going to parties or other social events in homes that were below one's own social level, in general a few such excursions cured the wandering boy, and he returned to the more select group that his parents and his best neighbors approved of. Not much was said about this, but community feeling somehow determined one's ultimately going with his own crowd. In my time, at least, there was no obvious ill feeling between one social group and another, through there was probably some quiet sneering and tooth-gritting.

Though our churches were supposed to be very democratic, they were far less so than our schools. Of course, everybody went to church and were too much tied to one to scorn the other two. Some of this was religion, probably; certainly much of it was an effort to avoid being bored with life; church services at or near Fidelity offered some outlet for one's feelings or prejudices or even one's sense of humor; besides, a church service offered a fellow a chance to catch up on the news and the gossip. Only once in my whole career did anything occur at Sulphur Springs Church that somewhat shocked the more staid Methodists. On a farm near by lived a bearded tenant who was a great shouter and a would-be singer. One night at our church the fellow got emotionally out of control and began to shout and sing some songs that were hardly dignified enough for church; in fact, some of his songs had drifted into our neighborhood from wild places in the big towns to the north of us, songs that were slightly suggestive and worldly. I cannot recall now how the good brother was finally silenced, but this never occurred again. Otherwise we went on our way at Sulphur Springs in our own fashion.

how's this for exploding the myth that cars have to be expensive to look it! Tempest '63

Maybe you can tell the difference between Pontiac's Tempest (especially that Le Mans) and the high-priced jobs. Besides having a 4 that acts like a V-8, Tempest sports a new 260-hp V-8* that acts like nothing you ever got your hands on before. And besides its beautiful balance, Tempest has Wide-Track this year. And self-adjusting brakes and a tachometer* and fetching style and all kinds of niceties that'll make your Tempest smoother and tougher. About all it doesn't have is a big fat price tag. Vive la difference! Pontiac Tempest
