This Town-- That World

Who can say that the Russian interest in Cuba is defensive? As far as we are permitted to see, the word for a Communist, under any condition, is "offensive."

I GET INTRODUCED

The Woman's Club flower exhibit at the First National Bank last week-end was beautiful. I managed to identify one variety of flower on exhibit, but the name escapes me, just now. I'm one of those guys, you know, who loves flowers but hates botany. Why, I had to be introduced to one bloom which is on most folks' tongues, or up their noses, these days. One of the ladies, who was either immune to allergy or had had her shots, walked me over to a pretty array of yellow flowers, let me get my generous beak within a few inches of it, then calmly announced, "That's goldenrod."

How could anything so lovely make life miserable for so many? This reminds me that just about everything in creation has its points as well as its faults. Name me a prettier animal in the woods than a skunk (never mind the smell). I'm told that if you look closely enough you'll find that a toad's eyes are like diamonds. We judge by exteriors, by reputation, often falsely. Time was when what we called a devil's darning needle (a dragon fly) was to us boys a thing of horror. They said if one should sting you, it would be curtains. Maybe so. Only they don't sting. When I discovered that fact they became darting, graceful things of sheer beauty.

Why do I ramble on about things of this sort? I certainly am no naturalist. My father spent hours with me, trying to teach me how to identify various trees by their bark. I learned the buckeye, chestnut, beech, sycamore, haw, hickory, apple, plum, etcetera—all by their fruit.

Wonder if Ferdinand ever sniffed goldenrod?

TWO OFFICERS NAMED IN JOHN MAY DEATH

JURY VOTES THREE BILLS IN SLAYINGS

Mullins, Martin Remain Under Original Bonds; Mrs. Little Trial Set

Deputy Sheriffs Troy Mullins and Marlon Martin were named by the grand jury last Friday in an indictment charging them with willful murder in the slaying of Ex-Magistrate John May, August 28 at his place of business on Cow Creek.

A third willful murder indictment named Mrs. Ruby Little for the slaying at Wheelwright, May 3, of her father-in-law, Andy Little. Mrs. Little also was accused in another true bill of shooting and wounding her sister-in-law, Mrs. Maggie Sammons.

Three murder indictments at one session of a Floyd grand jury is a rarity, court officials recalled this week. At several jury sessions in recent years there has not been a murder case to investigate, and on few occasions have there been more than two.

Bond has not been set for Mullins and Martin. They remain under the $5,000 bond which each executed following examining trial here. Witnesses listed on the indictment are Coroner James J. Carter, Kathryn Martin, Deputy Sheriffs Lonnie Herald, Willie Johnson and Sam Hale. The case has not been docketed for trial.

Trial of Mrs. Little has been set for November 12. Her bond was set at $10,000 in the slaying of Little and $2,000 for the wounding of Mrs. Sammons.

The grand jury, which recessed Friday, is expected on its return Monday for an additional three days of work to take a close look into the bootlegging situation in the county.

In all, 21 indictments accusing 26 persons were reported by the grand jury prior to recess. Names of others indicted and the charges lodged against them follow:

Edford Hicks, Bill W. Knight, Hershell Shepherd, Junior Scabo, Troy Baker and Ben McKinney, each for child desertion; George Howell, striking and wounding Martin Policeman A. J. Reed; Joe Martin, striking Elizabeth Wells with a mattock; Victoria Collins, striking and wounding Ernest Elswick, of Pikeville; Robert Craft, Jr., breaking and entering the premises here of Dr. John G. Archer; Harrison Reed, breaking into the residence of Jack Fitch, also accused of choking Fitch's daughter; Paul Burke and his wife, Grace Burke, breaking and entering Wright's Grocery at West Prestonsburg; Bob Byrd, grand larceny, accused of signing checks on a joint account with Paul Hopkins, of executing a $400 bank note, of stealing or otherwise making away with $100 worth of tools and a 1953 model truck—all valued at approximately $1,000.

ASKS $9,750 AS DAMAGES

Gooding Amusement Sued By DeRossett As Result Of Accident Near Here

First of what could be a flock of damage suits resulting from one highway wreck was filed in circuit court here last Thursday when James DeRossett asked a total of $9,750 from the Gooding Amusement Company, Inc., and its driver, Thomas William Bowman.

DeRossett was injured, he alleged, as a result of the carelessness and negligence of the driver. At least four other occupants of the DeRossett vehicle were severely hurt. He asks $8,000 for injuries, $750 for hospital and doctor bills and $1,000 for the total loss of his truck. The wreck occurred on Abbott Mountain, near here.

Suing by her mother, Mrs. Marie Combs, Pamela Allen Combs, 19, asks $9,500 damages for injuries and $500 hospital bill in a suit filed this week against Rondel Prater, his father, Perry Prater, and the Kentucky Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company. She alleges that the carelessness and negligence of Rondel Prater, driver of the car in which she was a passenger, caused it to collide, May 18 last, with a coal truck at White Oak, Kentucky. The $500 hospital claim is a part of the insurance firm.

Courses Slated Here By Morehead College

Morehead State College will organize extension classes here, Monday, at 6 p.m. at the high school, it was announced this week by Walter Frasure, assistant county superintendent of schools. Classes will be offered on the freshman and sophomore levels.

Classes will be organized in Intermediate typing, English 101, literature 201, fundamentals of geography, U. S. history and community recreation.

Classes on the junior, senior and graduate levels will be organized at Martin high school, Thursday, September 20, at 6 p.m., Frasure said. Classes to be conducted will be determined by those present at the organizational meeting.

INTOXICANTS CONFISCATED

Sixteen Cases Whiskey Taken from Ratliff Car; Judge Levies $20 Fine

Approximately 30 cases of whiskey were confiscated from two automobiles at Allen, early Wednesday morning, and Tony May Ratliff, driver of one of the autos, was arrested by ABC Agent Claude Flanery, of Martin, and State Trooper Elmo B. Allen, of Banner.

The auto occupied by Ratliff contained 16 cases. The arrest was made around 3 a.m. Shortly afterward, Trooper Allen followed the second car, which was abandoned around 4 a.m.

The abandoned auto, a 1954 Buick, was registered to Billy Stratton, papers in the car showed. Allen said he would undertake to find the owner at once. Flanery loaded the entire haul into a car and took it to Frankfort.

Ratliff entered a plea of guilty before Allen Police Judge Chester Porter, who fined him $20 and costs and suspended his 30-day jail sentence.

Jailed here within the week were:

Ray Clifton, drunk and resisting arrest, booked by Constable Gory Porter; Billy Tackett, no operator's license, Adrian Martin, drunk driving, and Columbus Compton, driving while under the influence of alcohol—all arrested by Sheriff's deputies; Ollie Lewis, booked by State Troopers E. B. Allen and L. Hatton on a drunk driving charge.

CONTRACT LET ON SPUR ROAD

Parkway Connection Here Bid by Mattingly Bridge At $491,576, Announced

Largest of 26 highway projects on which contractors' bids were opened Friday is the spur road connecting West Prestonsburg with the Salyersville-Prestonsburg extension of the Mountain Parkway.

Grade, drain and bituminous concrete surfacing of the 27-mile spur includes a bridge spanning Middle Creek. The Mattingly Bridge Company offered the low bid of $491,576 on the project.

Construction of the bridge and earthmoving involved in a high fill added to cost of the job, it was said.

Other area highway projects on which bids were opened are:

Magoffin county—Litelral Fork road from Rural Highway 1081 to southeast, one mile, bituminous surface; Kentucky Road Oiling Co., Frankfort, $19,639.

Breathitt county—Beck-Kays road from Ky. 15 northeast for two miles; seal on rock base; Kentucky Road Oiling Co., Frankfort, $26,038.

Johnson county—Group including parts of Nippa-Thealka, Hammond, Two Mile River, Fishtrap, Lincoln, Walnut and Auxier roads, total of 16.9 miles; surface patching and seal; Adams Construction Corp., Pikeville, $31,343.

Labor Relations Board Sets Hearing for Firms At Pikeville, Oct. 30

The National Labor Relations Board Saturday scheduled a hearing, at Cincinnati, on October 30 of unfair labor charges against three Eastern Kentucky coal mining firms.

The firms are the D.J.E. Collier.

CHANGE COLLEGE NAME IN HONOR OF FOUNDER

Alice Lloyd College, at Pippa Passes, is the newest name among Kentucky colleges today.

Caney Junior College was renamed for its late founder and first director by its board of trustees last Saturday.

This action followed Alice Lloyd's death by four days, but it had been in the thinking of the board for several years. William Hayes continues as director of the college.

Alice Lloyd College is a department of Caney Creek Community Center, Inc., which was founded by Mrs. Lloyd in 1916 to provide needed educational opportunity, rescue talents of mountain youth for leadership and service. Caney Creek Community Center's president is June Buchanan.

Charles H. Houghton, chairman of the board of trustees, expressed the board's gratitude that "Alice Lloyd has been lent us for even so short a space of years from the Divine Source of Love," and indicated the college should work as a memorial to her life.

The college will continue to work within the known wishes of its founder. Education will be free to a selected enrollment of 200 mountain boys and girls the college expects to be able to house and educate this fall.

A goodwill offering of $20 a semester is made by each student or his family. Average families' incomes are below $2,000 a year, according to Director Hayes, with 80% below $3,000.

The finer offering will be made by most students when they graduate into lives of service in their mountain area. The founder is quoted as saying: "Education cannot be paid for in money like food and shoes. The world would still be in ignorance today if men and women had not repaid their school-of-learning in more precious coin than was ever stamped in metal: the coin of service."

Students selected for the Alice Lloyd College's liberal arts curriculum will continue to be of high rank in ability, earnestness and dedication, Hayes said.

Attending the September 7-8 meeting of the board of trustees at Pippa Passes were Charles H. Houghton, chairman, Lancaster, Pennsylvania; Dr. Kenneth Kurtz, Dayton, Ohio; Dr. George A. Chandler, Elmhurst, Illinois; Dan T. Martin, Dr. J. S. Bell and Dr. Denzil Barker, all of Hindman; June Buchanan, of the Caney Creek Community Center, Pippa Passes; William Hayes, director of the college.

CHURCH TO OBSERVE TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Arnold Avenue Church of Christ here will observe the 10th anniversary of its founding Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It is announced by the pastor, Harold C. Dicks.

During this week, as a prelude to the "Decade of Dedication" observance, revival services are being held nightly by Evangelist E. W. Dameron. The services will continue through Sunday morning.

As a result of Sunday's observance, the pastor may trundle a barrel of coin to a Prestonsburg bank, Monday morning. He has challenged his congregation by promising to take the barrel, if it is filled with coin Sunday, to the bank by wheelbarrow. It has been suggested that each member give $1 for each year of his or her age and convert the sum into pennies, the better to fill the barrel. Offerings from others also will be welcomed.

Prior to the Decade of Dedication service, dinner will be served on the grounds from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. as a part of the annual meeting of the Churches of Christ and

FLOYD STORES LOSE RIGHTS

Food Stamp Program Participation Denied; USDA Issues Charges

Special to The Times

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 13—Two Floyd county (Ky.) retail grocery stores have been disqualified from participation in the Federal Food Stamp program, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today. Floyd county is one of the eight pioneer areas in the nation where USDA's food stamp program has been in operation since mid-1961.

The two stores disqualified by USDA are Scott's Market, Martin, Kentucky, and Laven's Grocery, also in Kentucky. Scott's Market is operated by Mrs. Lawrence Scott, and Laven's Grocery by Mrs. Daisy Laven McGuire.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service in Atlanta in a "letter of charges" to each of the operators of the two stores listed specific violations of federal regulations governing the operation of the food stamp program in Floyd county. Also named in the letter of charges to Mrs. Lawrence Scott was her husband.

The letters from the Agricultural Marketing Service charged specifically that in April, 1962, operators of the two stores violated regulations by accepting food coupons for non-food and other restricted items, giving cash in exchange for coupons, and accepting coupons that had been previously detached from the official books issued to eligible coupon recipients.

The letter to Mrs. McGuire also charged that she gave change in cash in a food coupon transaction. Regulations require that coupons can be exchanged only for eligible food items, and that cash not be given in change.

Operators of the two stores and Mrs. Scott's husband were given an opportunity by USDA to present written or oral information, excepted.

DEDICATION PLANNED FOR NEW PARK LODGE

Floyd Men Inducted Into Armed Services

Six Floyd county men were inducted into or volunteered for the armed service September 11, it is announced by Gloria W. Hager, clerk of Draft Board No. 166, Prestonsburg.

Those inducted are Lowell Thomas Meade, of Amba; Tandy Moore, of Garrett; Hallard Meade, Bevsinsville; Eddie F. Roberts, of Harold; Ralph Steele, of Honaker, volunteer; and Joe H. Ward, Bevsinsville, volunteer.

The men were forwarded to the induction center by bus.

WOMAN FINED FOR SHOOTING

New Trial Is Denied Mrs. Challen; Witness Is Ruled in Contempt

Except for the conviction of a woman, who had been indicted on a shooting and wounding count, and of a man for contempt of court, little action has resulted within the week in circuit court.

Mrs. Ella Challen was convicted of a misdemeanor in the shooting case. She was fined $500 and given a six-month jail term. Her petition for a new trial was denied, and an Appellate Court appeal is expected to be filed.

Columbus Compton was fined $10 and given a six-hour jail sentence for his failure to appear as a witness in a breaking and entering case.

Other items of court action: Leonard (L. B.) Howard, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, filed away subject to redocket; Paul Parsons, breaking and entering, dismissed because he had been given a trial and had been convicted in a companion case; James E. Rogers, Cobble (Taulbee) Rogers and Kelly Keathley, breaking and entering and unlawful sale of liquor, continued till September 17; Venis Hall and Denver Coburn, breaking and entering, bonds forfeited; Tommy Burke, child desertion, continued till September 17; Fred Little, reckless use of a deadly weapon, not guilty; Berlin Jacobs, Venis Hall and Denver Coburn, breaking and entering, dismissed for lack of evidence; Ralph DeBoard, child desertion, continued pending payment of $15 per week to supplement the $24.75 already being paid; Charles Don Hoover, child desertion, bond forfeited; David B. Mullett, child desertion, continued, pending payment of $10 a week; Tyrone Smith, child desertion, dismissed because defendant in service and allotment is being received.

UMWA VOIDS MED CARDS

Union Members Working For Delinquent Firms Lose Welfare Cards

Members of the United Mine Workers employed by coal companies which do not pay the 40-cent per ton royalty into the welfare fund of the union are having their cards voided. The new policy, inaugurated recently by the UMWA, is regarded as a move to force coal firms to pay.

Several miners reported this week that their cards entitling them to medical service have been voided. C. E. Beane, of the United Mine Workers' Pikeville office, said this week he did not know how many members would be affected in District 30. It is reported that 70 miners have had their cards withdrawn in the McDowell area.

Notices of the voiding of the welfare cards are being sent from the national office of the welfare fund in Washington, D. C.

The sudden decision of the welfare fund officials has thrown hundreds of employed miners without adequate hospitalization and medical service, it is said. One miner at Betsy Layne, whose wife has been suffering from leukemia for years, reports that his card was withdrawn this week.

The new policy does not effect the membership of the miners in the union, Beane said.

Fire Razes Structure Of 1,000-Ton Capacity Thursday of Last Week

The tipple of the Hi Hat Elkhorn Coal Company was razed Thursday morning of last week by a fire that raged unchecked for several hours. The fire was discovered at 5 a.m. in the top of the structure and it is thought the blaze had been going two hours.

Harmon Snyder, office manager of the firm, said the building was partially insured. He did not estimate the damage and added that he had no idea as to the fire's origin.

The tipple served approximately 25 truck mines employing about 300 miners. It had a capacity of 1,000 tons daily.

Mr. Snyder said the firm had plans to rebuild, at least temporarily, and that it would be back in production in approximately three weeks.

Miners served by the tipple were operated in the Left Beaver Creek and Big Mud Creek sections.

TALKS SPARK FUND DRIVE

Combs, Others Speak At Annual Dinner Event; Future Plans Announced

Governor Bert Combs was the principal speaker at the kickoff dinner held at Prestonsburg high school Monday evening as a prelude to the radio auction staged this week by the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children.

A capacity gathering of 220 friends and supporters of the Council and its work attended the $5-per-plate dinner, and this was the largest attendance recorded since the annual event was inaugurated in 1957 when Governor Combs was president of the Floyd Council for the Retarded.

E. H. Roberts, of Wheelwright, president of the Council, presided at the dinner. In addition to Governor Combs, speakers were State Representative John Young Brown, of Lexington, and Miss Stella Edwards, special education director in the State Department of Education.

Governor Combs, who was president of the Council from March, 1956, to May, 1953, has returned here every year since he became Governor to appear as a speaker at the annual dinner.

Funds raised by means of the dinner and the radio auction comprise the local contribution which makes the Council eligible for financial help from the Crusade for Children which also is staged annually by The Courier-Journal and Times and WHAS.

MUSIC URGES ATTENDANCE AT CEREMONY

Combs, Others Slate Speeches At Opening; Music Program Is Set

The welcome mat is out for everybody, and especially for Eastern Kentuckians, at Jenny Wiley State Park when the new lodge, vacation cottages and other facilities of a million-dollar development program are dedicated to the public use Saturday, September 22.

This was emphasized Tuesday Marvin Music, of Prestonsburg, a member of the Kentucky Department of Parks. Next to Governor Bert Combs, Mr. Music has been instrumental in effecting the changes at the park which visitors term "almost unbelievable."

Said Mr. Music: "I know I speak for Governor Combs and all connected with parks when I urge all the people to come to Jenny Wiley State Park for this dedication. This is a facility created for the people to enjoy, and this dedication day also is for them, to see what has been done and to understand more thoroughly what the park can mean to Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky."

The dedicatory exercises will be at 2 p.m. The lodge and its adjacent rooms, as well as the new woods-cloistered vacation cottages, will be open all day for public inspection. Prior to the dedication, music will be provided by school.

Proclaims Constitution Week

Governor Bert Combs proclaimed September 17-23 as Constitution Week, marking the 175th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States on September 17, 1787, and called upon all officials as well as all religious, civic, educational and other organizations to hold appropriate ceremonies and activities to inspire all citizens to rededicate themselves to the ideals upon which this nation was established.

of the proclamation are from left, these officials of the Daughters of the American Revolution: Mrs. Clara Clendenin Davis, press relations, Eminence; Mrs. Robert C. Hume, state regent, Dry Ridge; Governor Combs; Mrs. Charles Knapp, state chairman of Constitution Week, Pikeville; Mrs. Marvin Graves, Third district vice-chairman of Constitution Week, Georgetown.

Observance of Constitution Week is special project of the Daughters of the American Revolution to recall to the American people the true significance of the events that occurred during the week of September 17-23 in 1787, and to revitalize appreciation of our great heritage which is the Constitution.

Local chapter plans for the week are:

John Graham Chapter's first meeting of the year will be held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Stepp, on September 11. The emphasis of this meeting will be Constitution Week. Mrs. Charles Knapp, state chairman of Constitution Week, will be the guest speaker. All DAR members are being urged to fly flags during Constitution Week.

Mrs. Dolly Mellon, 80, Dies At Hospital Here; Burial Made At Ivel

Mrs. Dolly Lafferty Mellon, 80, of Prestonsburg, died Monday at the Prestonsburg General hospital following an illness of a month. She was the widow of James Mellon who preceded her in death in 1925 and last of the family of Former Sheriff Hiram Lafferty and Emma Banks Lafferty.

Mrs. Mellon is survived by three sons: Willie Mellon and Bart Mellon, both of Prestonsburg, and H. M. Mellon, Frankfort. Surviving also are eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. She was a member of the Methodist Church from childhood.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Arnold Chapel here, the Revs. Orin Simmerman and Jonas Miller officiating. Burial was made in the Davidson Memorial cemetery at Ivel under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Bart Mellon, Charles Mellon, Paris Crace, Michael Crace, Lucien Lafferty, Sr., Lucien Lafferty, Jr., James William Lafferty, Sr., James William Lafferty, Jr., Don Lafferty and Epp Lafferty, Jr.

Art Workshop Planned For Teachers At Allen; Service Free, Announced

Fifty teachers from Floyd county schools will attend an art workshop, September 24-25-26, at the Allen Baptist Church educational building, it was announced recently by Walter Frasure, assistant superintendent of schools. Classes will be held from 4:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

A free educational service provided by Binney & Smith, Inc., manufacturers of "Crayola" crayons and other school art supplies, the workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Jane Callaway, who has taught extensively and holds a master's degree from Columbia University.

The teachers will spend 15 hours of their own time learning more about modern creative art education and some of its materials and tools. They will learn by doing, rolling up their sleeves and trying out the art techniques presented by Mrs. Callaway. These techniques will include some of the uses of water colors, poster paints, finger paints, colored chalks and modeling clay, in addition to crayons. Simple creative craft techniques will also be presented, giving teachers an opportunity to work with paper, paste and other materials to gain three-dimensional effects. All of the art workshop activities will be experiences which the teachers can relate to their own classroom teaching.

SHEEPMEN VOTE
Lexington, Ky. — The Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee (state ASC) announced this week that Kentucky and U. S. sheep producers vote between September 10 and September 21 on whether or not to continue the industry's deduction plan to promote use of lamb meat and wool.

JUDGE RULES BALLOT RIGHT

Carter Told To Certify Henrickson As Candidate In Democratic Primary

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 7.—A former Morehead State College professor won the first court round today in his effort to get on the November ballot as an independent candidate for Congress in the Seventh District.

Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs ordered Secretary of State Henry Carter to certify Dr. Rex Henrickson of Morehead.

But Meigs also allowed Carter the right to appeal—and an appeal automatically stays an order.

Carter's attorney said he would take the case to the Court of Appeals which reconvenes Monday after a summer recess.

Carter had refused to certify Henrickson on grounds his petition did not meet legal requirements, Henrickson then sued.

In a brief hearing today, Asst. Atty. Gen. Walter Herdman, attorney for Carter, said the petition, although it contained lists of signatures, did not specifically state the post Henrickson sought.

It said "office of Congress" instead of either the House or Senate, Herdman argued.

Ben Fowler, of Frankfort, attorney for Henrickson, said the office for which Henrickson is running was easy to identify.

The law requires that all signers of the petition must list their names and addresses, including home county, Fowler said.

It was therefore no struggle for Carter or anyone else to determine that the signers were qualified to vote only in the Seventh District, he said.

The stocky, bespectacled Henrickson taught economics for a year at Morehead. He resigned at the end of the summer term to run for Congress.

Democratic Rep. Carl Perkins, of Hindman, is the incumbent. Alex Parker, of Maysville, is his Republican challenger.

Henrickson previously taught at Kent State University and the University of Toledo and was a Naval officer in World War II.

Decisions To Facilitate Business Loans Are Made By Joint Group Action

Small businessmen in the Ohio and Kentucky areas should find it easier to get a bank-Small Business Administration loan as the result of a new lending program now in effect, James G. Garwick, SBA regional director, said this week.

The new program was developed jointly by SBA and the American Bankers Association, Garwick said. SBA Administrator John E. Horne and Sam M. Fleming, president of the American Bankers Association, have urged all of the nation's commercial banks to participate.

"This loan plan has the full and enthusiastic backing of the American Bankers Association," Mr. Garwick said. "I believe the banks in the Ohio and Kentucky areas will find it offers them substantial advantages and will help them do a better job of meeting the term credit needs of their small business customers."

"Under this new program it should be easier for small businessmen to obtain secured term loans—up to 10 years—from their banker, with the Federal Government underwriting a large part of the transaction."

"In essence," Garwick said, "the program is this: The banks will make and service the loans and provide at least half of the loan funds, with SBA providing the remainder. The bank's share of a loan will be repaid before SBA starts collecting a cent on its share of the loan principal."

As explained by Mr. Garwick, here is the way the program works: If a small businessman needs, say $100,000, for qualified business purposes—and can repay the loan in 10 years—SBA will advance up to $50,000 of the money, with the bank taking a corresponding share. All repayments on the principal of the entire loan will go to the bank for the first five years. The SBA will defer collection on its share until after the bank's share has been retired.

"Under this program the small businessman needing a loan will deal entirely with his bank," Mr. Garwick said. "He need never visit an SBA office."

An unprecedented 75 new classroom units for teachers of exceptional children have been approved this year by the State Department of Education. Children suffering from physical and mental limitations are designated as exceptional.

Chicago, Ill.—Albert B. Osborne, Jr., Floyd county, (Ky.) native who is assistant administrator of Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, Ill., will be advanced in the American College of Hospital Administrators, a professional society, to Fellowship at its 28th annual convocation ceremony Sunday afternoon, September 16, in the Arie Crown Theater at McCormick Place in Chicago.

The College, now in its 29th year, was founded for the purpose of providing recognition to men and women who are doing outstanding work in their professional careers as hospital administrators.

At the same ceremony, the College will confer its highest commendation, Honorary Fellowship, upon these three distinguished leaders in their fields: Mother Anna Dengel, M. D., founder of the Society of Catholic Medical Missionaries, Rome, Italy; Robert Wood Johnson, chairman of the Board, Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, New Jersey; and Foster G. McGaw, founder and chairman of the Board, American Hospital Supply Corp., Evanston, Ill.

The son of the late Albert Osborne and Hattie Osborne, of Martin, Osborne attended Pikeville College and Eastern Kentucky State College, receiving his B. S. in Commerce there in 1951. Graduate work was done at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., and there he was awarded a Master of Hospital Administration degree in 1953.

FACE-FLY BUILDUP NOTED

Don't let the calorie-countdown keep potato salad off your summer menu. Potatoes themselves aren't very fattening, it's what you put on them that adds extra pounds.

Here is a recipe for a home-cooked salad dressing that contains only 20 calories per serving.

In the top of a double boiler, mix together two tablespoons flour, one tablespoon sugar, one teaspoon powdered dry mustard, one teaspoon salt, and a dash of cayenne. Gradually stir in one cup of milk. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture begins to thicken. Cover and cook 10 minutes, stirring often.

Beat one egg slightly and stir a little of the hot mixture into the egg; then add this to the rest of the mixture. Cook three minutes, stirring constantly. Add one tablespoon salad oil. Remove from heat. Slowly blend in 1-3 cup vinegar.

Pioneer Heroine Grave Site Work Is Lagging, Commissioner Told; Completion By Spring Promised

The sub-committee of the Jenny Wiley Marker committee, which has been in charge of the Johnson county arrangements in marking the pioneer heroine's grave, made an appeal last week to the Division of Parks that the work begun at the site several months ago be started again.

The marker, provided by the state and a few fence posts have been erected but for a year nothing has been done.

Herman F. Wheeler, Paintsville, wrote Edward Fox, Commissioner of Parks, Frankfort, recently in regard to reinitiating the work, urged that it be completed by fall. He noted that people "are continuously making inquiry as to why this project has not been completed and I should like to urge that you give every consideration possible to the completion of same."

George S. Lyon, director of Division of Construction and Maintenance, Frankfort, in answer to Wheeler's letter, said that he was asking the district engineer at Pikeville to give this project his personal attention and that he hoped the work could be completed by spring.

"I wish to advise," Lyon wrote Wheeler, "that we have been in contact with the Department of Highways, asking that all surplus dirt be placed in the parking lot at this point. As you know, this parking lot is rather low and a considerable fill is needed. An appropriation was made to cover this."

FOODS LISTED

Lexington, Ky.—You'll see plenty of beef on grocery meat counters this fall, according to Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension specialist in consumer marketing. Beef will be somewhat more plentiful than it was last fall, but less pork, chicken and turkey are expected on this fall's markets than a year ago.

HOME STORAGE SPACE

Lexington, Ky.—Do you have enough storage space in your home? Very few homemakers feel they have all the storage space they need. Of course, adding more closets or cabinets is the obvious answer to storage problems, but this is not always possible. More efficient use of the space you have may help solve your storage problems, says Mrs. Gladys Lickert, UK Extension housing specialist.

planation or evidence regarding the alleged violations.

USDA's action leading to disqualification of the two stores was based on evidence compiled by AMS investigators.

Effective today, both retail food stores and their owners or operators are prohibited from accepting or redeeming food coupons, and authorization cards and other materials identifying the stores as participants in the food stamp program must be surrendered. Authorization number C-333 for Scott's Market and number C-179 for Laven's Grocery have been permanently revoked by USDA.

Today's action by USDA is the first instance of food retailers in Floyd county being disqualified from participating in the program. Nearly 300 retail foodstores in the county are authorized to redeem food coupons.

USDA continually reviews program activities in all the food coupon areas. Volume of coupon redemptions is tabulated for all stores each month, and other individual records are maintained by USDA. Investigations are made periodically in all food coupon areas to insure compliance with regulations.

The state committee is composed of Scalf, chairman, Charles F. Hinds, and Paul Jordan, Frankfort. The committee in Johnson county that had been cooperating to get the project completed is composed of Rice, Wheeler, Mrs. Joseph Rappier and Mrs. Douglas Galbraith.

Aged Grethel Resident Succumbs At Son's Home; Rites Conducted Monday

Mose Evans, 94, of Grethel, was claimed Friday at the home of a son, Bill Evans, Grethel. He had been in ill health for two years from a stroke.

Mr. Evans was a retired miner, having worked in the mines for 55 years. He was a native of Carter county, a son of George Evans. His wife, Frances Hamilton Evans, preceded him in death.

Surviving sons and daughters are Charlie Evans, Mrs. Goldie Atkins, and Bill Evans, all of Grethel, John B. Evans, of Craynor, Mrs. Myrtle Martin, of Amba, and Mrs. Polly Tackett, East McDowell. He had no surviving brothers or sisters.

Funeral rites were conducted at the home of his son Bill, at 10 a.m. Monday, the Revs. Milford Adams, Butler Howell, Hershel Hamilton, Ross Hopkins, John B. Hamilton and McKinley Moore officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Church Leaders Urge Sunday School Day Set At Jenny Wiley Park

Plan now to attend the Prestonsburg Area Sunday School Day at Prestonsburg and Jenny Wiley State Park on Saturday, September 29—so urged church leaders here this week.

This will give the Christian forces of Floyd county and the neighboring area a chance to show their colors and their strength and at the same time enjoy a good time together, it was pointed out.

The parade will be at 10 a.m. and recognition will be given to the Sunday School having the most marchers in the parade and also the individual or Sunday School having the best religiously decorated auto.

The afternoon will be spent in picnics at Jenny Wiley State Park, games for the youngsters and an exhibit by the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad.

Registrations, to enable the committee to plan for the parade, and to provide numbers for the judging of the autos, should be sent to the Rev. LeRoy Sanders, Community Methodist Church, Cliff, Kentucky.

Mrs. Minnie H. Calhoun, Age 89, Dies Wednesday; Burial, Willis Cemetery

Mrs. Minnie Hignite Calhoun, 89, West Prestonsburg, died Wednesday at 9 a.m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Bess Porter, of West Prestonsburg. She had been in ill health for a year.

Mrs. Calhoun was a daughter of Levi and Arta Hale Hignite and the widow of John C. Calhoun who preceded her in death in 1941. She was a member of the United Baptist Church.

Surviving sons and daughters, besides Mrs. Porter, are Mrs. Jamie Collins, Mansfield, Ohio, Mrs. Rena Barnett, of Martin, Mrs. Roxie McGuire, of Allen, Tom Calhoun, Prestonsburg, Troy Calhoun, West Prestonsburg, and J. D. Calhoun, Detroit, Michigan. Three brothers and a sister survive: Joe Hignite, Olive Hill, Lee Hignite, in Indiana, John Hignite, Mayaville, and Miss Flossie Hignite, Catlettsburg.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Porter, and burial will be made in the Willis cemetery at Water Gap under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

FARM GAS TAX

Lexington, Ky. — Farmers have until September 30 to file for federal tax refunds on gasoline used for farming purposes during the past fiscal year (July 1, 1961 to June 30, 1962). This reminder comes from Stephen Q. Allen, UK Extension specialist in agricultural economics.

Highway Littering Fine Paid In Perry County; Montgomery Is Pleased

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 7 (Sp.) — Noting a fine levied in Perry county for highway littering, Robert K. Montgomery, director of the state "Make Kentucky a Cleaner, Greener Land" program, has called attention to laws that prohibit throwing trash on thoroughfares.

Montgomery said he had been informed by Steve Sandlin, Jr., State Health Department regional sanitation consultant in Perry county, that Chappell's Dairy and its driver, Raleigh Richie, were jointly fined $46.50 in magistrate's court after pleading guilty to littering Ky. 28 near Buckhorn.

Montgomery, assistant conservation commissioner, quoted Sandlin as saying, "I was tickled to know that we have a magistrate that believes in upholding the law."

State law, Montgomery said, provides that a person convicted of throwing trash on highways may be fined from $25 to $300.

MONON TOPS WINTER WHEAT

Lexington, Ky.—Of five recommended varieties of soft red winter wheat, Monon topped the list in yield during the 1961-1962 UK Experiment Station tests here.

All Kentuckians interested in conserving natural resources are invited to the second annual Conservation Congress at Louisville, October 17-19. Former U. S. Representative from Arkansas Brooks Hays, special assistant to President Kennedy, will be the principal speaker.

Peanut butter is still a favorite—in fact, youngsters seem to like it better than ever. According to the USDA's Economic Research Service, the nation's total consumption of shelled peanuts—including those used in peanut butter—will average about five pounds per person this year, slightly above that of last year.

Musick Dies At Norfolk After 3-Month Illness; Burial In State Park

William J. Musick, 35, Norfolk, Virginia, died August 29 at the Veterans Administration hospital near Norfolk. He was ill three months.

Mr. Musick, a television technician, was a veteran of the Coast Guard in World War II. He was a member of the Baptist Church. His wife, Janet Mayo Musick, preceded him in death in 1958. He was a son of Calloway and Eleanor Pierce Musick, of Norfolk.

Surviving children are Larry LeGrande Musick, Tommy Musick, Deloris Musick and Donna Musick, all at home. Surviving brothers and sister are Gerald A. Musick, of Norfolk, Richard O. Musick, Lancaster, California, and Mrs. Rose Marie Wray, Tacoma, Washington.

Funeral rites were conducted September 1 at 2 p.m., from the home of LeGrande Mayo at Auxler, the Revs. S. C. Honeycutt and Will Horne officiating. Burial was made in the Stratton cemetery in Jenny Wiley State Park under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Store eggs big end up, just as they come in the carton. This keeps the small air pocket in the large end and the yolk in the center—and keep the egg's quality up. When mixing beaten eggs with hot mixtures, pour the mixture slowly into the egg, stirring constantly. This avoids curdling and cooking the eggs.

Clothes dryers often must work overtime in summer. If you're having trouble with your dryer, check the line trap, it may need cleaning. A clogged trap cuts down air circulation and causes inefficient drying; and it can affect the controls. Give the trap immediate attention when you wash items that shed fuzz or lint; several loads of other clothes usually can be dried before cleaning the line trap.

AIR SHOW SET AT PIKEVILLE

By Civil Air Patrol; Sky-Diving Teams Plan High Level Performance

The Pikeville Civil Air Patrol squadron, has scheduled an all-day air show at the Pikeville airport for Sunday, September 16.

Featured in the show will be 16 sky-divers from the Ohio Wing Civil Air Patrol. The sky-diving teams will perform during "free falling" acts from 12,000 feet and will perform at intervals during the day. Also featured in the show is Charles "Bud" Igo, a stunt pilot from Louisville. Igo's act consists of slow rolls, snap rolls, inverted flight, the split "s" and loops in a stock steerman PT 17 World War II trainer. Comedy stunts by Kentucky pilots are also scheduled.

Persons attending the air show will have an opportunity to view Pikeville and the surrounding area from the air. Aircraft owned and operated by Pike Air Service will be available for those desiring rides. The Pikeville Squadron, which is sponsoring the air show plans to use the proceeds to expand its air search and rescue capabilities. The squadron saw extensive service during the recent search for Dana Byers, his wife and daughter who were killed in an air crash near Kite, Kentucky.

HONORED NATIONALLY

Lexington, Ky. — Four Kentucky county agents last week were honored by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents at the group's annual meeting at Las Cruces, New Mexico. Those honored were Clint R. Collins, Monticello, Wayne county; Warren R. Gardner, Eddyville, Lyon county; W. R. Hoover, Mayfield, Graves county; and Hays R. Pigman, Campton, Wolfe county.

Kentucky, which manufactures 80 per cent of the world's Bourbon whiskey, was the birth-state of Carrie Nation, mother of the prohibition movement.

Floyd County Native Succumbs In Indiana; Resided There 39 Years

Mrs. Allen Maudie Hale, of Rensselaer, Indiana, died in Jasper county hospital at 7:45 a.m., August 23. She was in ill health for 20 years.

Mrs. Hale was born in Floyd county, December 8, 1893, the daughter of Morgan Helton and Mollie Parrot Helton. She was married to Allen Hale, March 13, 1913. The family moved to Jasper county, Indiana, 39 years ago, locating in the Newland area.

Mrs. Hale was a member of Newland Baptist Church.

The immediate survivors with the husband are the following sons and daughters: William, Mainsos and Johnny Hale, of Rensselaer, Woodrow Hale, of Warsaw, Indiana, Paul Hale, of Valparaiso, Indiana, Mary and Viola, of Walkerton, La. of Arlington, California, and Ruby, of Manchester, Connecticut, 21 grandchildren; five great-grandchildren, and the following brothers and sisters: Johnny, Ben and Anderson Helton, of Silver Lake, Indiana, Mrs. Sara Hall, of Portsmouth, Ohio, and Joe Helton, Mrs. Alice Hackworth and Mrs. Lila Prater, of Prestonsburg.

The funeral services were held from Jackson Funeral Chapel at 1:30 Monday, September 3, with the Rev. Jesse Bailey officiating. Burial will be in Barkley cemetery.

LEAVE PRESTONSBURG

Homer Wright, Jr. and family moved from Prestonsburg last week to their new home on "The Point," between Louisa and Fort Gay. They have sold their home on Dingus street here to Dr. H. E. Midkiff, and the Midkiffs will move from Central avenue to the former Wright residence soon. Mr. Wright is employed as a hospital administrator at Louisa.

The state's present records on mentally retarded Kentuckians embrace only about 2,500 patients in state institutions plus pupils in public school classes and private classes, the governor said.

The American Medical Association estimates three per cent of any state's population is mentally retarded. For Kentucky this would mean 91,000 persons.

"The master file," the governor stated, "will give us a comprehensive picture of the mentally retarded population in Kentucky and enable us to do a better job of planning care, treatment and education."

The file will cover patient backgrounds, diagnosis, recommended treatment and a record of the treatment. In addition, the Division of Mental Retardation will use the file to maintain a waiting list of patients needing care at state hospitals and institutions.

Rep. Brown said he wanted to learn how Floyd county financed its school for the mentally retarded so he could use the information in helping a Lexington group organize and finance a similar school.

les and Piccadilly Coal Companies No. 1 and 2, which are operating at Feds Creek, Pike county, under a lease agreement with D.J.B.

The charges were brought by Oliver Cantrell, a former Piccadilly No. 2 employee.

Cantrell charged that his employer refused to live up to the terms of a contract with Local 8691, District 30, United Mine Workers, and threatened to fire those employees who tried to get the contract terms enforced.

The dispute resulted in a strike that began last April 24 and ended June 4 when Cantrell and other strikers offered to stop the walk-out and return to their old jobs.

The hearing is to be held at Pikeville. D.J.B. Collieries also has an office at Grundy, Virginia.

STATE LIBRARY WORK REACHES 51 COUNTIES

Special to The Times

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 3—To many people, the term, "librarian," denotes a prim, desk-ridden individual who knows a lot about books. In a field given over largely to women the ideal is "Marian the Librarian," before she is exposed to the rascally "Music Man" in the Broadway show of that name.

But Kentucky's 10 regional librarians, each having shelf space stretching into three or more counties, cannot be said to be desk-bound.

The regional library is a state-administered, multi-county headquarters staffed by a regional librarian, with an assistant in some cases, plus clerical workers provided by the Department of Libraries. This headquarters library receives library materials from the division—books, records, films, periodicals, framed pictures—and distributes them to member-libraries of the region. The regional library contains a larger book collection, and more reference materials and periodicals, all of which are circulated among the other libraries as needs arise. A regional library board, usually composed of one member from each county library board, and the regional librarian act as a liaison between member-counties and the Department in Frankfort.

Key members of the Kentucky Department of Libraries' five-year-old regional program, these librarians—seven women and three men—do a constant selling and training job in the 51 counties they serve. All are professionally qualified people, but there is little of the book-circulation routine connected with their jobs.

The Eastern Kentucky Library Region includes Floyd, Morgan, Magoffin, Breathitt, Johnson and Martin counties. Regional librarian Robert J. Wallace has his headquarters at Prestonsburg.

Selling the library program locally is an important task for the regional librarians. State funds and state-administered federal funds that go into the regions must be met with local support, usually from the county budget or from a special library tax. Here the regional librarians must put over the library program with county officials and with the public in general.

Generally, these efforts have been successful. In many cases, there is tangible evidence of success, as seen in the four counties where voters last November approved a special library tax based on property assessments.

Eight counties put the library tax question on the ballot, asking voters to approve a tax from three to eight cents per $100 of assessed property valuation. Of the eight counties, voters in three in Eastern Kentucky—Floyd, Morgan and Clay—and in Nicholas county in the Blue Grass approved the measure.

(Floyd county gave the library tax overwhelming approval.)

Miss Margaret Willis, state librarian and head of the Department of Libraries, gives the regional librarians much credit for the affirmative votes.

Floyd and Morgan counties approved a five-cent vote.

Clay county, with a three-cent tax, joined the Valley of Parks region, where Miss Clo Era Sewell is the regional librarian.

In approving the tax, Nicholas county qualified as headquarters for the region which will go into operation next year. A library region must serve five counties or a minimum of 100,000 people.

Henry county was the first county to approve the special tax after the 1960 Kentucky Legislature granted counties the power to levy such a tax. Several other counties will put the question on the ballot in November, 1962.

But the regional librarians' duties range from pushing for more funds to pushing brooms. They frequently roll up their sleeves to clean up libraries and book collections which hadn't been touched in years. Just as a dust-covered shop won't sell much merchandise, an unattractive dark library doesn't inspire business either, says Robert Allender, regional librarian for the Lake Cumberland region.

Now the brighter, more inviting libraries, though still cramped for space, do a brisk business. Some in "store-front" buildings are opening their doors to borrowers who can window-shop for their reading material. In all libraries, borrowers are encouraged to browse among the collections of books and framed pictures and listen to recorded music.

Each regional librarian visits the one or more libraries in the region's counties several times a month and cooperates with local and county staffs.

Many small county libraries previously were poorly cataloged; some kept no records at all. Now the re-

A Decade of Dedication Arnold Ave. Church of Christ PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

Invites you to attend the observance of the tenth anniversary of its founding

Sunday, September 16th... 3 p.m.

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH

In the year 1950, a small group of Christians, led by S. C. Honeycutt and C. R. Halstead, met with the following people: Dan Nessler, Ethel Nessler, Tom Fields, Alvin Taylor, Estill Hyden, Eva Hyden, Pauline Sparks, L. B. Fairchild, Garnet Fairchild, R. A. Burke, Alfreda Halstead and Rhoda Brickley. This group met for the purpose of establishing a Church of Christ in Prestonsburg.

This small group of Christian workers, visualizing a need for New Testament Christianity for the community of Prestonsburg, continued to work, diligently toward this end. Although they were hampered by not having a permanent place to meet, they did not let this stop their progress, for they acquired the use of the Floyd County Courthouse, and with the assistance of the local Christian churches and ministers such as Harold Burnside, Joseph Zavadsky and S. C. Honeycutt, they continued to worship and plan for a Church of Christ in Prestonsburg.

They continued their worship in the County Courthouse until September 15, 1952. On this date a building on Arnold Avenue, owned by the Church of God, became available for purchase. Having a desire for a permanent place of worship, a meeting was called and temporary officers were elected. The following Christians were chosen to serve on the first official board: Elders, Dan Nessler, R. A. Burke, Tom Fields and C. R. Halstead; Deacons, Alvin Taylor, Estill Hyden, L. B. Fairchild. The first official act of this board was to negotiate the purchase of the property that was available on Arnold Avenue.

Realizing their prayers answered, this group of people organized the First Bible School on September 2, 1952, and on that same day, Alvis Ford delivered the first sermon in the newly acquired church building.

The first minister of the congregation was Hondel Adams, a student at Kentucky Christian College.

On January 1, 1953, the KYOWVA Evangelistic Association sent their evangelist, Joe Bronson, to Prestonsburg, to establish a permanent Church of Christ. Brother Bronson stayed from January 13 until March 1 and during that time conducted the first revival on February 1 during which meeting twenty-one new members were added to the church.

On the 10th day of February, 1953, the Commonwealth of Kentucky issued a charter to the Arnold Avenue Church of Christ making it a legal non-profit organization.

The following ministers have served this church since it was organized: Hondel Adams, Clarence Mansfield, Robert Ellenburger, Robert Booth, Joe Chenault, and the present minister, Harold Dicks.

The following growth has taken place: in 1957, an addition was added to the present building consisting of Sunday School rooms, a kitchen, a parsonage, and a baptistry; in December, 1959, the church purchased the adjoining property to the church consisting of a house and lot.

From this small group of 10 members, the church has grown to a present membership of 82.

PIRATES MOVE TO LIMELIGHT

Belfry Whips Pikeville; Prestonsburg Defeated By Hazard On Week-End

Belfry's Pirates moved in for their share of the Eastern Kentucky high school football limelight last week-end as they whipped Pikeville, 21-6. Hazard and Whitesburg, tabbed as the two best clubs in the mountains, both coasted to easy victories.

Jack Hall's Elkhorn City Cougars downed Wheelwright, 28-0, behind the running of halfback David Belcher. The Pike county school, by winning two consecutive games, is off to its best start in recent years. Jenkins fell before Corbin, 21-0. Fleming-Neon finished behind, 13-7, at Everts, and Morgan County nipped Buckhorn, 17-7.

Al Vipperman's club, with veteran Floyd Hatfield at the helm, overcame a 6-0 first period deficit to register its first league victory. Hatfield scored two touchdowns, ran two extra points and kicked another. Sophomore halfback Darryl Bogar returned a kick 70 yards for another six-pointer. Junior quarterback Jimmy Moore plunged over from the two for Pikeville's only score.

Paintsville's Tigers bounced a weak Paris Western, 54-0, as fullback Johnny Porter breezed to three touchdowns and kicked six extra points. D. B. Kazee scored on runs of 25 and 34 yards. Also entering the scoring column were Dewey Williams, Jim Allen and Paul Pack.

Gardner Bates' Whitesburg Yellow Jackets added victory No. 3 at the expense of Hall, 34-0. M. C. Napier suffered a 34-0 setback from Lynch East Main.

Hazard took advantage of three Prestonsburg mistakes to roll up a 20-0 halftime advantage and poured it on in the final half as the Black Cats folded on the short end of a 48-7 count.

Following the opening kickoff, Prestonsburg fumbled on its own 20 on the first play from scrimmage, and two plays later Butch Green sped 18 yards around end for the touchdown, and guard Richard McGee kicked the first of six extra points for a 7-0 lead after only two minutes of play had elapsed.

Prestonsburg then marched to the Hazard 7, but failed to move in for the score. Hazard was held on downs and Prestonsburg muffed the kick and the Bull Dogs took over on the Black Cats' 39. Three plays later junior halfback Jack Robinson went seven yards for the score.

A poor kick gave Hazard the ball on the Prestonsburg 40 later in the second period and quarterback Ken Tate climaxed a nine-play drive by plunging over from the one.

In the final half, halfback John Stone registered two six-pointers. Butch Green another on an 85-yard jaunt and halfback Fred Barnett also hit pay dirt. Prestonsburg's lone tally came in the final minutes on a 10-yard pass from halfback Paul Feuster to end Lonnie Prater.

THE FEMININE SIDE OF BOWLING NEWS

By IMA BOWLER

League play has begun for most of our fall leagues, and in most cases things are rolling along swimmingly.

The meetings for the officers, were not well attended and, as a result, there are a few leagues which have not yet received their supplies. They are available at my home, because I have not been able to find out who these secretaries are; so, if you are a secretary, please come and get your supplies. There are some duties which must be done right away and the material is waiting for you.

I would like to mention again that it is the duty of the league to handle their money, and it must not be let at the desk. Our managers are trying to be helpful to us, but it simply isn't fair to them to ask them to keep up with wandering team funds. If your officers aren't there, find out who is to collect and give your money to that person. Do not leave it with managers or anyone who is not responsible for it. This is foolish, since it is your prize money, and you should see to it that it is well cared for.

High bowler of the week at Crown Lanes was Ova Cole with a 191. Crown Lanes announces that they have set up a weekly honor roll for all women bowlers in league play who bowl over 180. Their names will appear in the paper each week. This past week the following women bowled over 180 in league play: Martha Cox, 181; Ova Cole, 191; Laura Bevins and Madonna Adkins. The honor roll for high series is 540, and at present there are no names listed. This is something to shoot for, girls! Any women interested in the BPAA all-star tournament, check with the manager at Crown Lanes for further details.

Lake Lanes' high bowler of the week—Mary Zemo with a 206. Lake Lanes reports that this Tuesday and Wednesday there was held a resident certified instructors' school, with Bob Mason, one of three AJBC field representatives in charge. There were men and women in attendance from all over the Tri-State area, including Cincinnati, Bellevue, Logan, Beckley, Louisville, Ft. Thomas, Dayton, Pikeville and many others.

Lake Lanes organized their junior leagues last Saturday and had very good turn outs for them. They will start bowling this coming Saturday. They would like to especially have some more boy bowlers from 13-14-15 age group but would welcome any junior bowlers who are interested. You do not have to belong to a team. If you would like to have your child bowl in these fine, supervised junior leagues, please call the manager, Estill Lee Carter, at Lake Lanes.

Lake Lanes also has a few more openings on the 3-lady team, Coffee and Do-Nuts league on Tuesday mornings at 9:30. Lake Lanes' men's team went to Ashland to play a four-game match and lost by only nine pins and one mark. Lake Lanes' ladies' team will travel to Ashland this Sunday for a match with their ladies' team, and then sometime within the next few weeks the two teams from Ashland will return the visit by playing at the local establishment.

BETSY LAYNE

Rev. R. C. Layne has returned to his home in Clermont, Florida, after a month's visit with his sister, Mrs. T. J. Stratton, of Betsy Layne. He also visited other relatives, Mrs. Hans Ramussen, Mrs. Dolores D. Hicks and Mrs. Virgil Hinchman, of Tram.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Stratton and son, of Indiana, were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stratton, over the week-end.

Archie Boyd is back in school after being a patient at the Miners' Memorial hospital for two weeks.

SPORTS CHATTER
 By GORDON MOORE

FOUR LEFT

Whitesburg, Hazard, Paintsville and Morgan County remain the only undefeated high school football teams in Eastern Kentucky, although the season is only two weeks old.

Whitesburg is the pace-setter with three consecutive victories, while Hazard leads the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference and Class AA Region IV standings with a 2-0 mark.

Walter Brugh's Paintsville Tigers head the Class A Region III division with a 2-0 mark. Elkhorn City, also in the class with Pikeville and Paintsville, has a 1-0 record within its region. The Cougars, under new coach Jack Hall, are enjoying the finest start in the school's grid history. They have yet to be scored upon and hope to attain their first football victory over Prestonsburg, this Friday night.

Every member of this season's Hazard high school football team, except all-state candidate Butch Green, has played at least three seasons in the city's fine Little League football program. Green was a transfer from Leslie County. The Boosters' Club fund in that city is near the $9,000 mark, and virtually every supporter feels he is a part of the team. Mayor Willie Dawahard, five-time president of the Boosters Club, says, "We don't plan to lose, since the whole community has a part in making the team a success."

Whitesburg fans feel that their Yellow Jackets will bounce Hazard when they tangle in the Perry county seat, September 21. This edition of the Yellow Jackets is the best club since 1956 when they last conquered Hazard. Whitesburg is host to Cumberland, Saturday night, while Hazard tangles with cross-town rival M. C. Napier. Hazard has walloped M. C. Napier every year and the Navajoes have scored only one touchdown in five meetings.

Prestonsburg copped the annual Floyd county Babe Ruth baseball championship by downing Wheelwright, 6-4, in Wheelwright, Saturday night. Righthander Freddie Setser was the winning pitcher for the Black Cats. The Cats also won the division title by defeating David, 14-6, and Martin, 9-0. Coach Paul Hager would like to extend his thanks to all the parents and businessmen who supported the team's entrance into the league.

PARK LODGE DEDICATION

Slated Here, Sept. 22;
 Carter Caves Park Lodge
 Dedicated At Olive Hill

Olive Hill, August 25—The new Carter Caves State Park lodge was dedicated here today marking another major step in Kentucky's $18 million park expansion program.

This is the second dedication of new Kentucky state park lodges this year. The first was "The Village Inn" July 7 at Kentucky Dam Village State Park. Jenny Wiley Lodge, at Jenny Wiley State Park, Prestonsburg, will be dedicated Sept. 22.

Gov. Bert Combs said the completed lodge and other general improvements have transformed Carter Caves State Park into a principal vacation resort.

Combs cited the 29 beautiful lodge units, the ultra-modern lobby, the 10 vacation cottages, 200-person dining room and tent and trailer camping facilities with central service building. A swimming pool will be added in 1963.

Kentucky Parks Commissioner Edward V. Fox, Kentucky Highway Commissioner and Park Board member Henry Ward and Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt also appeared in the dedication ceremonies.

A variety of comic races—three-legged, balloon, sack, wheelbarrow and potato—entertained early park guests. The Ashland high school band gave a concert performance at 2:30 p.m., followed by open house at 4:30 p.m. and a showing of Kentucky park movies at 8 p.m. (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

The marriage of Miss Doris Ann Maggard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arnold Maggard, of Lexington, and Mr. Billy Dean Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stanley, of Martin, was solemnized at 3:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, August 25, in the Park Methodist Church, Lexington. The Rev. C. Nevil White officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and a program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Martin L. Click, organist.

The bride wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace, styled with a scalloped neckline, embroidered with sequins and pearl beads, long pointed sleeves and an empire waistline. The full skirt of Chantilly lace and net over silk taffeta had Chantilly lace motifs embroidered with sequins. Her full-length veil was attached to a headpiece of white satin and pearl beads embroidered on a lace-over-satin crown. A bow and streamers were attached to the back of the crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

The altar decorations consisted of ferns and palms with white wedding tapers centered around baskets of white gladioli.

Miss Linda Sue Maggard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and was the bride's only attendant. She wore a full-skirt peony pink dress. Her flowered headdress was of peony pink tulle. She carried a colonial bouquet of pastel pink carnations.

Serving as best man was James Harry Carothers, Jr., Lexington. The guests were seated by Paul Nelson Maggard and Larry Arnold Maggard, brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Malabee Road. Mrs. James H. Carothers, Jr., and Mrs. Vernon Maggard, sister and aunt, respectively, of the bride, assisted in serving.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and will begin teaching duties at Warren county elementary school, Bowling Green, this fall semester.

The groom will resume studies in higher accounting at the Bowling Green College of Commerce where he will be graduated in January, 1963.

Carter Caves is citadel of Kentucky history and a phenomenon of natural geology. Legend has it that the fabulous Swift silver mine existed in this area. It is certain that counterfeiters were very active in Carter Caves and that they had access to pure silver. At least one trial resulted in acquittal when it was proven that the silver dollars in question were cast of virgin silver.
As late as 1922 a group of Indians from Oklahoma tried to locate a silver mine from a map belonging to their tribe. And although geologists say there is no silver vein in Kentucky, the legend is deeply rooted. In fact, James Harrod, founder of the first permanent white settlement west of the Alleghenies, was murdered by his companion while hunting for the Swift mine.

Carter Caves State Park has more than a thousand acres of unspoiled natural beauty within its boundaries. Tourists are fascinated by the planned nature trails that take them past sparkling mountain streams, soaring cliffs, three superb natural bridges and the historic caves. The natural bridges were formed by nature over eons of time. They are now graced by lofty trees that tower over wildflowers and shelter the brilliance of songbirds.
Today's lodge dedication marks the development of Carter Caves from a local curiosity to a national vacation resort. The caves were known to pioneers and Indians, of course, but it was not until 1929 that a road gave access to the caves from the Midland Trail.

Civic clubs in Olive Hill and Grayson joined forces in 1946 and obtained an option to purchase the property for $40,000 on condition that it become a state park. Public spirited citizens throughout the area raised $36,000. The Courier-Journal donated $1,000 and the Louisville Board of Trade produced the remaining balance of $3,000. On May 15, 1952, Carter Caves State Park was formally opened.
Since then, the 50-acre Smokey Hollow Lake has been added, the summer cottages built and the Cascade Cavern property acquired. With the new facilities and the other modern improvements now planned, Carter Caves State Park will be a most important factor in the economic life of the Eastern Kentucky area.

EAST KENTUCKY FAMILIES

A letter from Mrs. Sorina Busch, 165 Howard Avenue, Vallejo, California, inquires about several Eastern Kentucky families. Particularly, she is interested in the Justice, Hall, Tipton, Rice, Brammer, Gorman, Lusk, Morris and Clark families.

She writes:
"I am interested in Alison Justice, Floyd and Carter counties, Kentucky, from Tennessee; Elijah Hall, Floyd county from Virginia; John C. Tipton, Floyd county to Carter county about 1877, formerly of Virginia and North Carolina; Sherrod Rice, Carter county; William H. Brammer, Carter county from Lewis county about 1860; Gorman, Carter and Greenup counties; Lusk, Greenup, Carter and Lawrence counties from Virginia; Morris, Lawrence county; Clark, Pike and Floyd counties.

"All of these names are from the mid-1800's except Gorman and Lusk and they were in Kentucky before 1835 . . . All of my mother's family came from Carter and Floyd counties and printed material on Eastern Kentucky is difficult to come by, at least in this section of California."

If anyone has information on any of these families, would they write Mrs. Busch?

LAYNE FAMILY
This letter from Floyd Benjamin Layne, 2236 San Marco Drive, Los Angeles 28, California, is self-explanatory.

The letter, dated August 26, follows:
"Some time ago copies of two obituary notices of Laynes that appeared in Floyd County Times were sent to us here.

"We have been unable to place these two different families with their groups, and are turning to you again for help. They no doubt belong among the descendants of James Shannon Layne, but might be part of the Goochland county, Virginia, family, as some of them did get down into the Big Sandy country.

"Type is set on most of our forthcoming book, LAYNE GENEALOGY and we expect to have it published in about two months. I am sure it will be much appreciated by Big Sandy Laynes.

"A new addition was added to the courthouse at Amherst, Virginia, and in moving some old court order books were found stored away. These court orders reveal much data on the forebearers of James Shannon Layne and corollary families. James Shannon's father was William Lain (Waggoner) and his grandfather was William Layne who married first Susannah Porter and second Hannah Garvin. James Shannon Layne's great grandfather was William Layne who was born c. 1700.

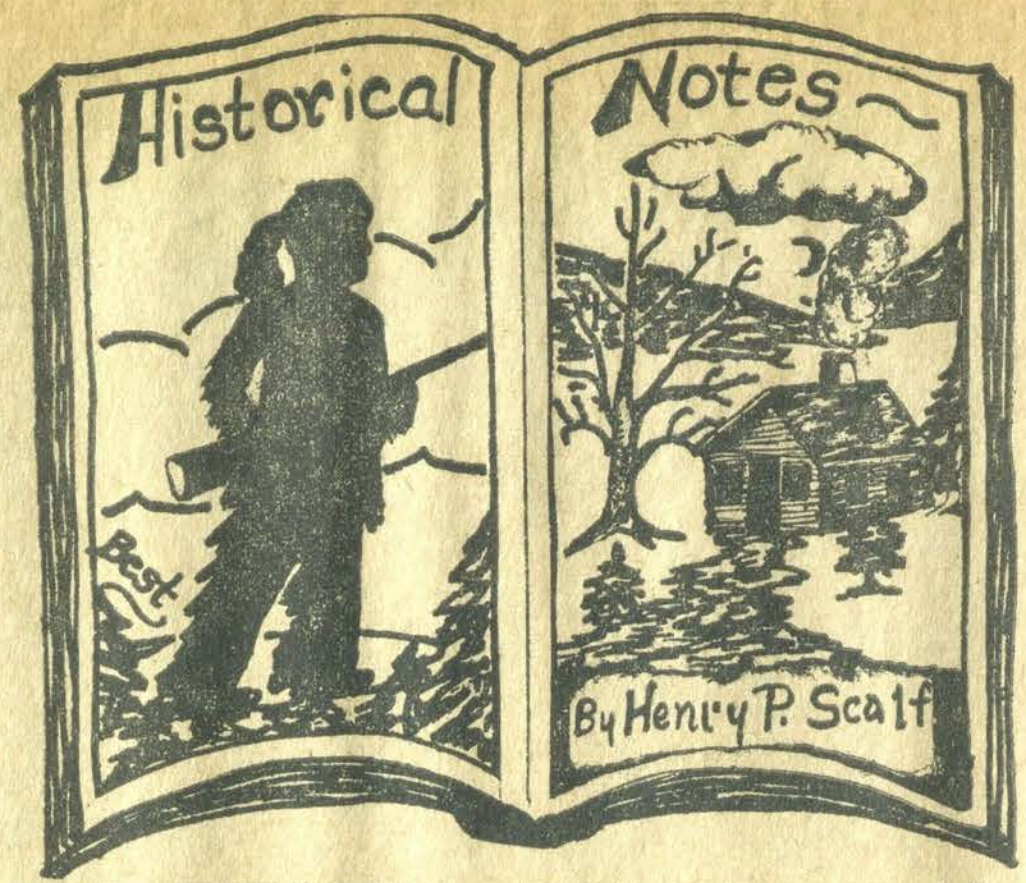

"What we need is data on the parents, brothers and sisters of Floyd Layne so we can connect them up with their proper group. Also we need data on the family of John M. Layne, husband of Elizabeth Elliott, who died March 13, 1962.

"Perhaps there is some source from which this data could be had. We are far along with the book and unless data is forthcoming within three weeks, we will have to leave them out of the book. Do you know of any member of these families who might assist?"

JUDGE SUTHERLAND WRITES
A letter from Judge E. J. Sutherland, Clintwood, Virginia, is in appreciation for this column's comments on his new book, SOME SANDY BASIN CHARACTERS. His letter reveals a historian's dedication and is excerpted here.

"I am happy that you like my book of brief biographies — SOME SANDY BASIN CHARACTERS. For years I have felt that our mountain sections have been neglected by historians, and that the only way to remedy this unfortunate situation would be for local historians to produce books about their own sections—counties, cities, etc. It was for this reason that I spent much time and money to produce a book—however inadequate—for my native section of the Appalachian mountains. I hope it will make other citizens of the hills appreciate what their forefathers have done for our communities, and that much interesting and valuable historical material be preserved for future readers."

"We have been unable to place these two different families with their groups, and are turning to you again for help. They no doubt belong among the descendants of James Shannon Layne, but might be part of the Goochland county,

MONTGOMERY GRADUATED

Kitzingen, Germany—Army Specialist Four Bill H. Montgomery, whose mother, Mrs. Janie Moore, lives at West Prestonsburg, Kentucky, recently was graduated from the 3rd Infantry Division's Non-Commissioned Officer (NCO) Academy at Kitzingen, Germany.

During the five-week course, Specialist Montgomery received training in small unit tactics, map reading and the principles of leadership.

The 19-year-old soldier, regularly assigned to Company A of the 3rd Division's 38th Infantry in Germany, entered the Army in April, 1961, and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He was graduated from Prestonsburg high school in 1966.

gional librarians are helping library workers to catalog their collections and are aiming for a composite catalog listing all books in each region. This union catalog will enable the libraries and Bookmobiles to exchange books and offer readers a larger selection.

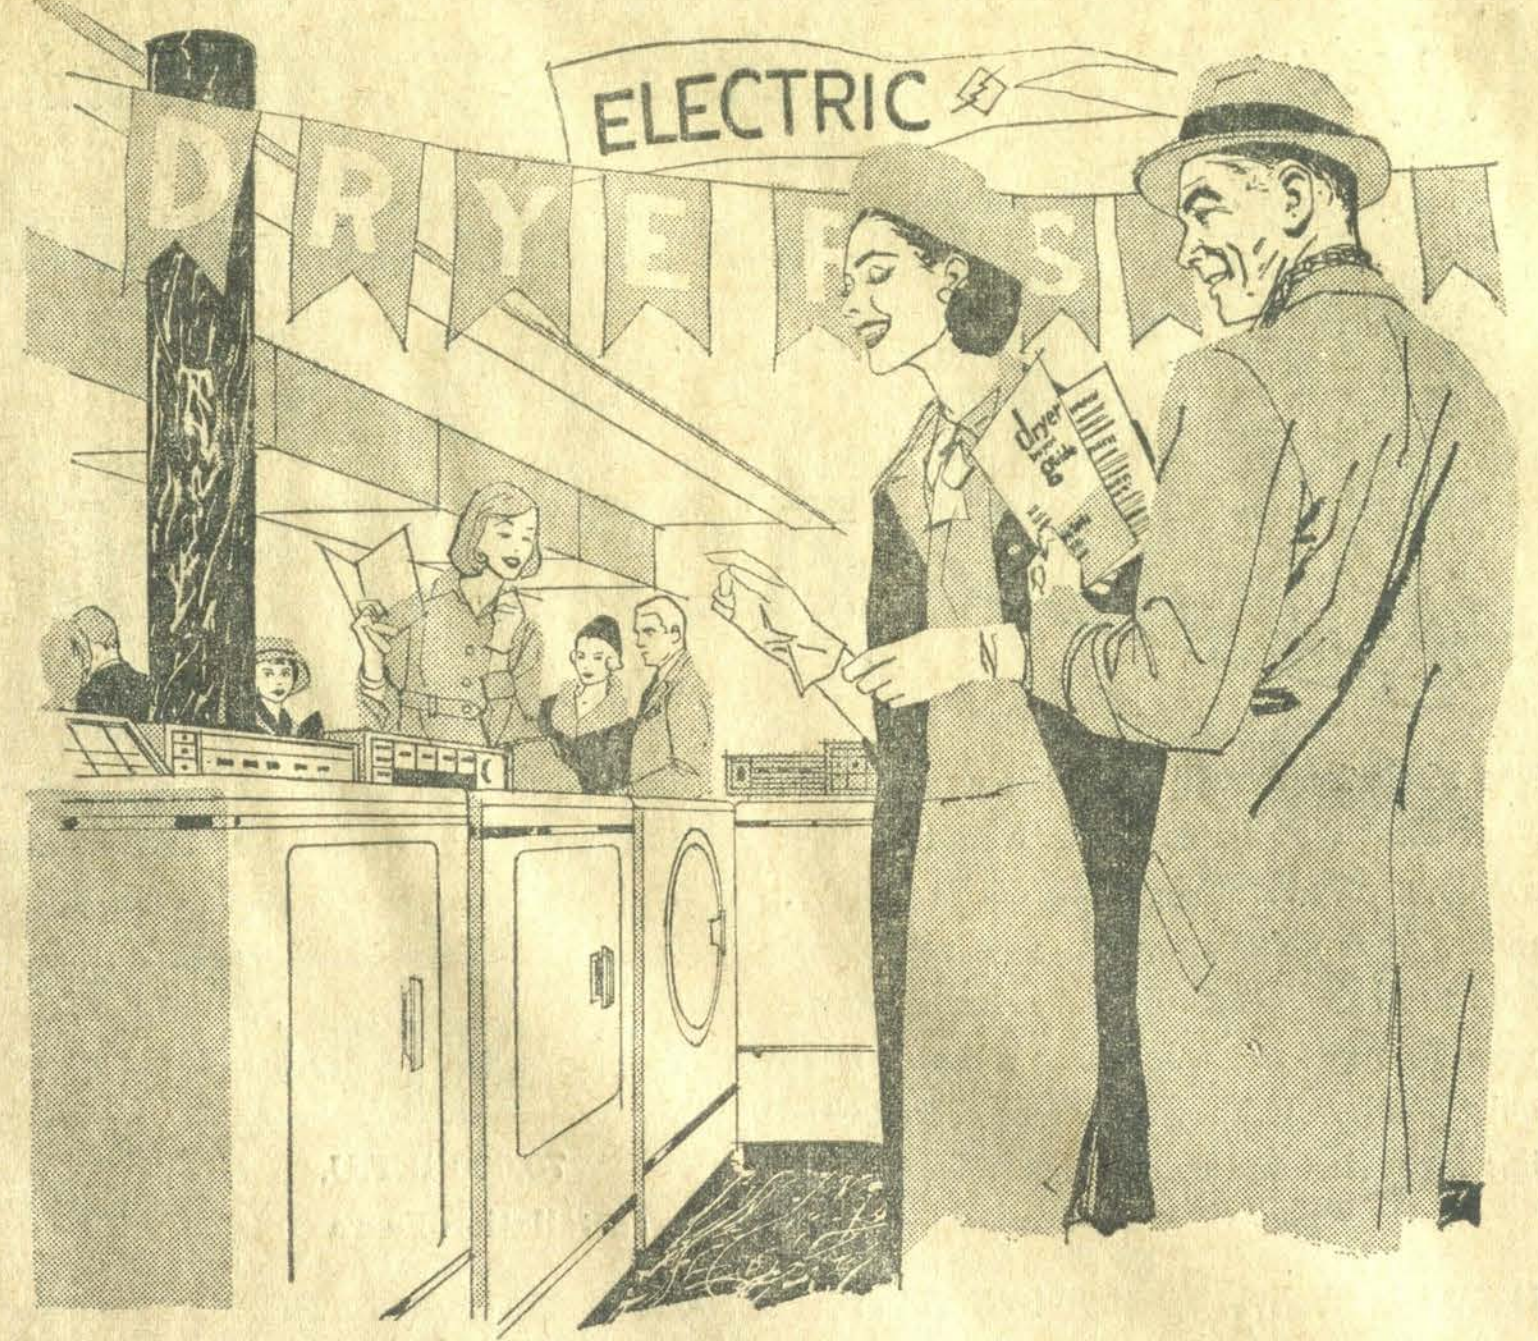

Many counties cannot afford a professionally trained librarian. To these counties the regional librarian lends professional experience and training with a generous hand. Workshops are held regularly in each region for library and Bookmobile workers. Instructions on cataloging, noting borrower requests, selecting new books, housekeeping, meeting the public and using reference materials are given to make these people more effective.

A significant comment on Kentucky's regional library program came recently from Miss Evelyn Day Mullen, library extension consultant for the Office of Education of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"The regional library program that has been built in Kentucky in the past five years, the outstanding support of the state government and the tireless efforts of regional supervisors reflect the great enthusiasm of the people for improved library service," Miss Mullen said during a visit to the Department of Libraries in Frankfort. She covers the state and local library programs of 16 states.

Two new regions and regional librarians will go into operation during the next biennium. One of these will be centered around Nicholas county with Carlisle as headquarters. Organization of the second new region will be determined in November by voter-approval or disapproval of the prerequisite tax to qualify as regional headquarters. Three or four counties will be trying for the headquarters status.

The Kentucky Department of Libraries envisions most of the state's 120 counties organized eventually into 20 library regions.
