This Town... That World

The trees on that hillside are green—if you can see them through the smoke.

FOR THE RECORD

There seems to be some misunderstanding even yet about my driver license trouble. Just to set the record straight, I was required to take the written test. It was the road test—thank goodness—that I was by law permitted to skip, since I had my old license.

WANTED—WATER

Dewey Lake has been let up and down, like a yo-yo, since the March rains began. The only trouble now is, the string has run out, and it won't go back. There isn't enough water coming in to restore the seven feet or so that was let out for the placing of old car bodies as cover for fish.

I read, somewhere, that to be a good newspaper editor one must rise each morning, angry at the world. So equipped, one would blast away in a fine frenzy, find little to praise and be a power to make strong men tremble. That lets me out—I ain't mad at nobody.

WHAT OTHERS RECEIVE

Before me lies a mimeographed paper from the North-South Mountain Parkway Committee, Middleboro, Kentucky, which recites these interesting facts:

In the month of March the United States announced loans, as follows: Argentina, $322 million; Brazil, $398 million; Costa Rica, $250 million.

The same committee then wonders if, maybe, the needs of Eastern Kentucky couldn't be recognized by our generous Uncle Sam. Not that the United States would be expected to reduce foreign aid but that it should recognize poverty and depressed areas in our own country.

FOOD STAMPS ASSIST AREA

Three Eastern Kentucky Counties Participating; 4,000 Families Aided

Nearly 4,000 Eastern Kentucky families participating in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's food stamp program received more than $225,200 worth of food stamp coupons during March.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reports that 3,979 low-income families in Floyd, Knott, and Perry counties representing about 21,090 persons received $160,594 worth of coupons free of charge after purchasing $64,623 worth. The bonus coupons were issued to the needy families to help them buy more and better food.

The recipient families who normally would have averaged spending about $16 a month for food were able to spend nearly $57 during March at their local foodstores. They were able to buy any food of their choice, except for a few imported items.

Representatives of the Agricultural Marketing Service and Kentucky Department of Economic Security supervising the three-county food stamp project are pleased with the initial success of the new food program in Knott and Perry counties. Floyd county has had the program since June 1, 1961, after it was designated as

POSITIONS ARE DRAWN BY FLOYD CANDIDATES

HILL PAPERS LEGAL, SAID; FEW APPEAR

45 Candidates Register For May Primary Polling; 2 Quit Race for Council

Before the Saturday midnight deadline had passed 42 Floyd county men had filed for office at the County Clerk's office here as candidates.

Failure of Judge Edward P. Hill, candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge, to have his signature acknowledged by the County Court Clerk created considerable interest. It was later decided, however, that his declaration was in order.

Tuesday afternoon, the draw for position on the ballot was held. Only two candidates, Henry Stephens and Thomas Leo Music, candidates for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Clerk, appeared for the drawing. The drawing for position on the ballot for city elections, which do not come till November, was held.

RECREATION PROGRAM SET

At Jenny Wiley Park; Hiking, Nature Study, Archery Plans Are Made

The season's recreation program at Jenny Wiley State Park is well-nigh completed, with horseback riding preparations farthest behind, Robert Wise, park recreation director.

A location for the stables has been made near Goble Branch, but the horseback riding part of the program has advanced little further than that.

Hiking and supervised nature study are all set, with the last of three hiking trails now being completed. The longest of these, an elliptical mile and a quarter trail, begins and ends at the water reservoir on the hill, near the lodge. Another extends along the lake from the lodge to a point near the cabin farthest up the lake, and the third extends from Goble Branch to Arrowhead Point.

Other supervised recreation will include an archery range, swimming and swimming instruction and movies.

Free movies are being shown at 7 p.m., Fridays, at the Pro Shop at the golf course. The public is invited, Mr. Wise said.

Boating and fishing are behind schedule, with the lake level down and the dock not installed. The lake level was let down to permit the placing of old car bodies as fish shelters most of the car bodies are not in, and lack of rainfall keeps the lake from filling back to the conservation pool. While it remains at this low level, it was said, the dock cannot be restored. Meanwhile boatowners and others have been inquiring in vain about when they can find a berth for their boats at the lake.

Some of the "keeper-size" bass promised by the Division of Game and Fish were released in the lake last week. How many there were of these is not known.

Area Development Group To Hold Meet At Lodge

The next meeting of the Big Sandy Area Development Council will be held Tuesday, April 23, at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, it was announced this week.

The enterprise development meeting will begin at 4 p.m., with the dinner meeting of the Council at 6 p.m.

Dinner reservations should be made with Marvin Music, of Prestonsburg.

ORGANIZATION STUDY SLATED

Watkins Invited Here To Discuss Community Betterment, Development

Thomas N. Watkins, director of research, Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, will speak at a meeting of business, professional and civic leaders at noon next Wednesday at the Kentucky Motel clubroom here, it was announced this week.

Mr. Watkins comes here in answer to an expressed desire for an organization of leaders to plan a united and continuing effort for community betterment and development. Organization of a Chamber of Commerce here is seen as a possibility. Mr. Watkins will outline steps necessary to the organizing of a local unit.

Next Wednesday's meeting was arranged by a committee formed during last summer's trip made to Gatlinburg, Tennessee by Prestonsburg business and professional men. A special meeting of the committee formed on that trip will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday to consider plans to submit to the noon meeting.

OBSERVANCE FEATURES TO ENLIGHTEN PUBLIC

Observance of Library Week, April 21-28, in this county will be marked by features designed to acquaint Floyd countians with the extent library services have been developed for their benefit. Mrs. Frances Sherman, M.D., of Martin, Library Week chairman, said Monday.

Mrs. Sherman sketched the scope of the library movement in the county, beginning with the first Bookmobile put into service in 1954. Three Bookmobiles now operate out of the county library here, ranging into every community where a car can be driven. The regional library serving a five-county area is also located here.

From a small beginning the Floyd County Library, she said, has grown till it has more than 40,000 books for circulation. Other services offered by the library include reproductions of famous paintings, musical and language recordings. Records as well as books are loaned. Reading matter offered also includes

P.E.O. SISTERHOOD MEETS

MRS. HELEN F. EVERS

Mrs. Helen F. Evers, Recording Secretary of Supreme Chapter, P.E.O. Sisterhood, of Winfield, Kansas, will be guest of honor at the Kentucky State Chapter meeting of the organization to be held at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Thursday and Friday.

A pre-convention meeting of the Sisterhood was held yesterday. Mrs. W. E. Reid, Lexington, president of the Kentucky State Chapter, is presiding at the convention.

Mrs. Evers, whose mother is a native Kentuckian, is enjoying her first visit to the state. She has had an outstanding career in the Sisterhood and was elected to the executive board of the Supreme Chapter in 1961 at the biennial convention held at Washington, D. C.

She was named to the executive board of Kansas State Chapter in 1960 and served in all state offices except one; being president in 1955-1956. She was appointed to the board of trustees of the P.E.O. Educational Fund, serving as chairman in 1959-1961 and during that period she had the privilege of granting 899 loans, totaling $516,195.52 from one of the largest revolving loan funds for women in the United States.

Miss Evers was a professor of Foods and Nutrition in Southwestern College, Winfield, Kansas, for 20 years. During this time she served as sponsor of Kappa Omicron Phi and chairman of the Natural Science Division for a number of years. She has degrees from Southwestern College and Kansas State College with graduate work in Colorado State College and Oregon State College. At Kansas State College, she was elected to Phi Kappa Phi and Omicron Nu.

ATTENDANCE RATE HIGH

In Floyd-Co. Schools; Pike, Jefferson Exceed In Average Attendance

Floyd and two other Eastern Kentucky counties are among the top six in average daily attendance figures, the Department of Education announced this week.

"That may be a surprise to many people," said Dr. Frank Bean, director of statistical services. "They don't realize there are such populous counties in the mountains."

Such statistics are far more important and valid than enrollment data, Bean said. The pupils in average daily attendance—those who actually show up for classes, not merely enroll—determine in part the state aid for a school district under the Minimum Foundation Program.

The list for the first two months of the 1962-63 school year—the latest available—shows Jefferson county first with 56,765 A.D.A. in elementary and secondary public schools.

Louisville had 46,814, Pike county 17,349, Fayette 15,842, Floyd 11,894, and Harlan 10,079. Lexington was seventh with 9,334 and Covington eighth with 7,667.

There were 620,510 pupils in average daily attendance in all 206 districts compared with 609,955 in the first two months of 1961 school year.

Although the statistics are more than a year old, Bean said, they would not change much in the current year except for probable heavier growth in populous counties such as Jefferson.

The bottom end of the A.D.A. scale for the districts includes—from last place upward—Southgate in Campbell county with 115, Science Hill in Pulaski county with

AID PROGRAM ACCELERATED

Appalachian Governors Confer With President; Roosevelt To Direct Job

President John F. Kennedy put federal projects for Eastern Kentucky and other Appalachian areas into high gear during a White House meeting with Gov. Bert Combs and other Appalachian governors last week.

Kennedy invited the eight-member Conference of Appalachian Governors to meet with him and with the advisory policy board of the Area Redevelopment Administration.

The President also appointed Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., U. S. undersecretary of commerce, to direct a joint federal-state committee on the Appalachian region. Roosevelt's first job will be a comprehensive economic program for the area, Kennedy said.

He also directed the head of the Area Redevelopment Administration, William Batt, to work with state officials and university heads to establish an Appalachian Institute to coordinate research and training in connection with the long-range needs for economic development of the Appalachian region. Batt said that some state programs, such as Kentucky's wood-use demonstration center in Jackson, could be incorporated into the institute.

During the meeting, Governor

PARK FORCE INCREASED

By Commissioner Fox; Cleanup, Landscaping, Other Work Is Planned

Edward B. Fox, commissioner of Kentucky Department of Parks, authorized Wednesday the employment of 35 force account workers for a temporary period of two months at Jenny Wiley State Park.

"It is necessary to supplement the regular park crew with these temporary employees to get the essential cleanup and landscaping of park areas completed before the main tourist season begins.

"Inclement weather and the recent flood prevented this work from being done prior to this time. The vacation cottages were completed last fall but area clearing and landscaping were not possible, due to weather conditions."

The workers, he said, will also be utilized in clearing and developing horseback riding and foot trails. This will add two recreation activities at the park.

"The recent flood," Fox said, "damaged the boat dock and dock area facilities to such an extent that immediate repairs must be made. We expect to have all the accommodations, recreation facilities and the general park area in excellent condition when the main tourist season begins. This promises to be the biggest season ever at Jenny Wiley State Park and we want everything ready for the local citizens to enjoy and for the out-of-state visitors who will visit the park."

Perkins Receives Reply From Civil Works Head; Flood Control Studied

Congressman Carl D. Perkins last week announced receipt from Brig. Gen. Jackson Graham, director of Civil Works, a reply to Perkins' recent letter, accompanied by 46 telegrams and 25 letters, relating to the Paintsville reservoir and flood control problems along Right Beaver Creek, in the vicinity of Langley. Graham wrote that both forks of Beaver Creek and Pond Creek are among the tributary streams being considered for alleviation of floods by means of local protection projects and/or reservoirs.

FOREST FIRE THREAT RISES

Eight Floyd-Co. Blazes Out of Control, Noted; Burning Index Is High

Woodland fires which light sprinkles of rain had merely slowed down become a major threat again this week, and eight fires, whipped by a strong wind, were burning out of control in this county Wednesday afternoon, Don Graves, service forester, said.

Graves said there hasn't been a day without its forest fire in this county since the March rains. The burning index, he said, stood at 130 Wednesday afternoon, this index based on a 16-mile wind. The wind velocity on the points and ridges is about 30 miles an hour, however, increasing the index. When the index hits 100 it is termed "explosive," he added.

Mr. Graves said the situation is bad and that the wind makes firefighting an almost impossible task. "People continue to set fires during times of high wind. They don't try to help fight the fires, but sit back and criticize us for not putting them out," he commented.

The forester pointed out that there aren't enough men to meet every fire emergency and keep the situation under control. He said a fire near Martin was fought until 1 o'clock Wednesday morning when it was brought under control. In Wednesday's high wind, the same fire was burning as fiercely as ever by afternoon.

One fire on the hill overlooking the upper part of Prestonsburg was raging in the midst of a fine growth of young pine set a few years ago by the Richmond estate. Firefighters could not keep the flames out.

Approximately 450 acres of land was being burned over Wednesday, it was said. The situation is the same in other Eastern Kentucky counties where there has been only scattered light drizzle since the flood of the week of March 11.

Rain was predicted for Wednesday night, and therein lay firefighters' greatest hope.

STATE STAFF CONSIDERING ALTERNATIVES

Dirt Fill Or Columns To Be Used To Raise Building Above Floods

Special to The Times — Frankfort, Ky., April 16 — The State Finance Department is proceeding on schedule with plans to construct a Community College building for the University of Kentucky at Prestonsburg.

Finance Department officials said today that a decision would be made immediately by the state engineering staff on whether to plan for columns to support the building for the college or to use dirt fill. Either method would raise the building above possible flood level.

Architect for the project is Albert H. Harmon, of the Lexington firm of Construction Design Associates. His plans for the University's North-Central center at Elizabethtown will be adapted for use at the Prestonsburg site.

Harmon said Tuesday that he plans to hold a meeting with representatives from Parker J. White & Associates, Lexington, consulting engineers, for structural aspect, and with L. E. Gregg & Associates, Lexington, the soils engineers, in order to decide on a recommendation regarding the flood protection.

A representative of the state engineering staff said that final plans will be delivered to the Finance Department by May 15, if dirt fill is used, and by the last of May if supporting columns are to be used. Specifications and blueprints will then be prepared and the project will be advertised to prospective general contractors.

NLRB PROBES UNREST IN AREA MINE FIELD

The National Labor Relations Board hearing called to probe into the mine field unrest and activities of mine pickets began at Pikeville Monday.

Testimony heard this week was elicited by attorneys for the U. S. government in an attempt to show that the pickets are a labor organization and that the pickets, with the help of some members of the United Mine Workers of America, violated federal labor laws in a move to close, or organize, the truck mines of this section.

State police officers testifying for the government said there were periods when roving pickets blocked roads near coal mines, but also acknowledged that leaders of the pickets — when requested — cooperated in clearing of the pickets.

In other testimony the government entered into the record three identical letters written by two former officers of U.M.W. locals to the N.L.R.B. in Cincinnati.

The letters were in reply to communications from the N.L.R.B. notifying the officers that their locals had been named as among the defendants in the hearing. Two of the letters were mailed to the N.L.R.B. by Roy Tackett, East McDowell, former president of Local 8505. The third was sent by John C. Huff, of Drift, former president of Local 8915.

The letters denied that locals engaged in unfair labor practices, used coercion or intimidation during the picketing, or participated in "any trouble."

The government, however, in an effort to show the picketing had an organization system hammered away at one paragraph in the letters which read: "I also wish to state that the act by my local union started with the United Mine Workers itself and by members themselves and it is our collective desire and interest to force through collective acts the employers to comply with the terms of this U. M. W. contract in paying these royalties so that our hospital cards will be restored."

Tackett and Huff acknowledged they signed the letters, but stressed in their testimony they never used force against the coal operators during the picketing.

Defendants in the hearings also include U.M.W. Locals 5899, 7788 and 8161, as well as over 100 individuals, including the roving pickets and their principal spokesman, Berman Gibson, Hazard and Lee Howell, East McDowell.

The trial examiner, Horace A. Ruckel, withheld his decision on entering a fourth letter into the records after Harvey McKinney, of Printer, testified that it was not his signature which appeared on the communication. There was no elaboration on the content of the letter.

The government attempted to show from the testimony of a fourth union officer, Robert L. Carver, president of Local 8161, that the pickets had the support of some U.M.W. locals during the dispute.

"We agreed to help them in any way we could as individuals," Carver testified. "We had no authority to involve any locals in it at all."

Four State Police, Lt. Billy Lykins and Trooper Don Goble, of the Pikeville post, and Sgts. Willard Mitchell and

WHY DOES "HAPPY" CHANDLER HATE EASTERN KENTUCKY??

EDWARD T. "NED" BREATHITT For GOVERNOR

Editorial from the . . .

THE LEXINGTON HERALD

Former Gov. A. B. Chandler, running for the Democratic nomination for governor in the May primary, once more is shedding crocodile tears over the plight of Eastern Kentucky, hit by successive floods in the early part of this month. The Versailles man, bringing into play all his political arts and forensic twists, has pledged undying love for the people of the mountains and has given his "solemn pledge" that if elected he'll do something to stop the floods and aid "my people."

In 1957, when A. B. Chandler was governor of Kentucky, a flood just about as devastating as that which hit Eastern Kentucky this month, wrought death and destruction from Prestonsburg to Harlan. Now just what did Mr. Chandler do to help Eastern Kentuckians wearily mopping up mud from their homes and places of business? He visited them, expressed his great regret at their "plight"—and then boarded a steamship for a two-month vacation in Europe and Palestine!

The record does not show that he did anything about the floods that he now so glibly, as a candidate, promises the suffering residents of the mountains that he will do if they'll only send him back to Frankfort!

Attacking Gov. Bert T. Combs, who yesterday was in Washington meeting with Kentucky's congressional delegation and others who may have something to do with providing the state with flood control, Mr. Chandler Wednesday said: "I have access to more doors of importance in Washington in one day than the little judge will have during his lifetime." Can Mr. Chandler tell the suffering people of the mountains why he didn't use a single one of those doors back in 1957 when water stood neck deep in Hazard, Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Harlan and Middlesboro? Was he too busy packing for his luxurious trip to Europe and the Holy Land?

Mr. Chandler served four years as governor, from 1955 to 1959, and so far as we have been able to learn he did absolutely nothing to aid Eastern Kentucky economically or to advance the flood control plans for that area. Why would any right thinking voter believe for a minute that his crying today over the plight of Eastern Kentucky is anything more than a vote-getting play?

Upon his return in the summer of 1957, Mr. Chandler was met by a huge crowd of "well-wishers," newspapers reported. Mr. Chandler, deeply moved by the demonstration, "told the crowd that he could not look at the plight of other peoples in the world, as I have in my time, without coming home in a spirit of deep humility." Apparently he could not look too closely at the "plight" of his own people, either.

It ill becomes the former governor to ridicule the efforts that Gov. Combs is making and has been making day in and day out to do something to lift the economy of Eastern Kentucky and to get that area the flood control that Mr. Chandler so easily put out of his mind as he waved goodbye to Kentucky's problems and set sail for Europe!

HAPPY CHANDLER CONTINUES TO MAKE BAD STATEMENTS ABOUT EASTERN KENTUCKY

1. Happy makes fun of the Mountain Parkway. He says, "The new highway goes uphill to nowhere." He is against this new road. Our mountain people have been landlocked for over 100 years and this new road gives us modern transportation. This is the biggest breakthrough in history. Ned Breathitt has promised to complete our parkway! Happy Chandler does nothing but criticize us and the new road.

2. Happy Chandler says that "if the schoolteachers don't think they are getting paid enough they can go somewhere else, you understand?" This is what Happy thinks of education and our children. Ned Breathitt sponsored the Minimum Foundation Law for Education. Ned Breathitt has promised to continue and expand the educational program of Kentucky. Ned Breathitt does not want our teachers to go somewhere else. Ned Breathitt wants to pay our schoolteachers a decent wage. Ned Breathitt is for education.

3. Happy Chandler makes light of our park system. Happy Chandler, during his last administration, did nothing for our parks. Not a single park expansion was made. Under the Combs administration a new park facility has been built in Floyd county. This will mean more to our economy. Tourists by the thousands will come here and spend money with us. Ned Breathitt has promised to expand our park program. Ned Breathitt will continue this great program that will mean more to Eastern Kentucky.

4. Happy Chandler would destroy our Welfare Program! In Eastern Kentucky our welfare program means everything to our Old Age Pensioners, Needy Blind, Aid to Needy Children, and Permanently and Totally Disabled. Under the Combs Administration our Welfare people are getting more money than ever before in history. Our people under the present Welfare Program are getting 10 times the amount they would pay in Sales Tax. Happy Chandler would destroy the present tax system that makes our Welfare Program work. Ned Breathitt has promised he will expand our Old Age Assistance Program and continue to help our senior citizens and recipients of our Welfare Program.

Newstory from the Courier-Journal . . .

BREATHITT PLEDGES $180 WELFARE PAY INCREASE

Paducah, Ky., April 15—An additional average increase of $180 a year in payments to Kentucky's aged, blind and disabled persons, was pledged here Monday by Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt.

The candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination said during the past four years payments to the aged, blind and disabled have risen on the average by $104 a year and his platform calls for an additional average increase to $70 a month.

The increase, Breathitt said, will compensate by more than 1,000 percent the burden placed on the aged, blind and disabled by the state sales tax, and most of the money will come from the federal government.

He also said he would increase medical, hospital and other benefits for those eligible under the Kerr-Mills Act.

He also said his administration would:

Provide the state's unemployed with additional skills and resources.

Oppose any attempt to saddle unjust tax burdens on low-income groups.

Breathitt charged that aid to the aged, blind and disabled was inadequate under the administration of his opponent, former Governor A. B. Chandler.

Breathitt branded Chandler's claim of friendship for the little man as a sham and stated that Chandler's tax program would soak the poor, just as he soaked the poor in 1956."

FLOYD COUNTY BREATHITT FOR GOVERNOR CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30, 20 and 10 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago (April 14, 1933)

J. A. May has resigned his post as a member of the Floyd County Board of Education, and his son, Frank May, has been named his successor. Three members of the Mills family, of Martin county, were convicted at Inez Wednesday of the "human sacrifice" slaying of Mrs. Lucinda Mills, 67, near Tomahawk, February 28 last. One received a life term; the others, terms of 21 years each. The Red Cross supply of clothing for the aid of Floyd needy is exhausted. Miss Ella Noel White, Red Cross chapter secretary, said this week. Ishmael H. Triplett was re-elected superintendent of Prestonsburg schools for a three-year term at a meeting Monday night of the City Board of Education. There died: Lewis (Tom) Stumbo, 76, April 3 at a Martin hospital.

Twenty Years Ago (April 15, 1943)

The Selective Service system underwent another revamping this week as preparations were made to induct into the armed services this year every able-bodied man between the ages of 18 and 37. Caught beneath a heavy fall of slate in the mines of the Inland Steel Company, at Wheelwright, Noel Bates, 32-year-old Wheelwright miner; was instantly killed early Wednesday morning. For bravery during the submarine attack on the merchant ship on which he was serving and the subsequent sinking of the vessel, Spency Cook, 19, seaman first class, U. S. Naval Reserve, of Gearheart, has been awarded a letter of commendation by the Chief of Naval Personnel. The West Prestonsburg home of Mrs. Sadie Price was destroyed by fire at 5 a.m. Wednesday. Lt. L. A. (Jack) Donoho, formerly of Wayland, is missing after his plane crashed in Chesapeake Bay. Ray Patton, of Estill, former pitcher for the Prestonsburg team, is with the Louisville Colonels this spring. Last Sunday he hurled three innings against the Chicago Cubs in an exhibition game, allowing one harmless single. Another Floyd county boy, Joe Weddington, of Emma, is on the Colonels' roster as a catcher. Staff Sgt. Walter L. Goble, of Lancer, has been hospitalized in North Africa with a slight wound. He has been in six separate engagements in North Africa. A teacher in the Floyd county schools eight years, Miss Grady Flanery, of Martin, will return to college herself, next Monday—to prepare for service in the WAAC. There died: Emma Dell Prater, 17, of Gio, Monday at a Paintsville hospital; Wilson Clark, 71, Tuesday at his home here; Mrs. Violet Pauline Price, 27, Sunday at Wheelwright.

Ten Years Ago (April 16, 1953)

The grand jury here Tuesday indicted three members of the Louisville accounting firm of the W. M. Ootton Company, charging them with falsification of the audit made of Floyd county officials' receipts and expenses. Extensive development of the Stratton Branch area for the convenience of campers and picnickers at Dewey Lake is being planned by the Huntington district office, U. S. Corps of Engineers. Burtis Wicker, 33, former Floyd countyman, was killed last Wednesday when a bridge spanning the Big Sandy on a link in the Paintsville-Inez road, collapsed as Wicker was crossing it on a tractor pulling a trailer. The Prestonsburg-West Prestonsburg bridge on which an eighteen load limit has been placed will undergo repairs starting within the next few days. Julia Ann Derossett, 6, died Monday, April 13, at King's Daughters' hospital, Ashland, of burns received in an accident, February 5, when her clothing caught fire at an open fireplace at the home of her parents at Dock. Last Thursday night's windstorm hit Prestonsburg and vicinity with near-tornado force, causing damage of several thousand dollars. After being under the water of Beaver Creek for ten minutes and apparently drowned, Greg Myshier, six-year-old Martin child, was rescued from the stream and restored to life minutes after artificial respiration was administered by Red Ison, also of Martin. Two Floyd county high school graduates, members of the Morehead State basketball squad honored by the Morehead Kiwanis Club recently, are Jim Duff, of Garrett, and Russell Hunley, Jr., of Prestonsburg. Married: Miss Alka Lanette Dingus, of Alpharetta, and Mr. Don Smith, April 4. There died: Isham Webster Hughes, 56, formerly of Prestonsburg, Tuesday, in Sacramento, California; Mrs. Dave Prater Hoover, 92, former Garrett resident, at the home of a son at Carlisle, Kentucky, April 14; Wilson H. STATE SCHOOLS TO RECEIVE ADDED $1.4 MILLION FUND

Frankfort, Ky., April 12 (Spl.)—Kentucky's school districts, to which the Legislature appropriated $108.7 million for the current fiscal year, will receive an additional $1.4 million in state funds, Finance Commissioner David H. Pritchett has announced.

The action, "to keep Kentucky's common schools completely in tune with the Minimum Foundation Program for education, is being taken for two reasons," Pritchett said. They are: (1) Kentucky school teachers, by taking further college training, are qualifying for salary increases faster than ever before; and (2) local revenue from franchise company properties, which are taxed by school districts, has declined because of a 1959 Court of Appeals ruling.

Wendell H. Butler, state superintendent of public instruction, said,

"The first of these reasons is highly gratifying and shows that the program to provide Kentucky's children with better schools and better teachers is working well." He pointed out that 23,413 teachers now have college degrees, an increase of 4,000 in the last two years. When the minimum foundation program was established in 1954, Butler added, "less than half of our teachers had college degrees. Now 86 per cent have them."

Commissioner Pritchett said that, on his recommendation, Gov. Bert Combs had agreed to allocate the $1.4 million to the schools from his General Contingency Fund, effective July 1. Superintendent Butler concurred in this procedure.

Pritchett said the general fund will contain a surplus of $2.7 million at the end of this fiscal year. The 1962 legislature directed that $1 million of any surplus should go into the contingency fund.

When a similar situation involving the schools arose in 1957, Pritchett said, the needed additional funds were not appropriated until the 1958 Legislature met. "An allocation on July 1 will spare the school districts the inconvenience of waiting six months until the 1964 Legislature convenes," he said.

ell and J. A. Murphy, of the Hazard post, were questioned closely about the daily activities of the pickets from September through November. That was the period when the labor unrest was at its height.

Goble testified that one picket, Lowell Sammons, identified himself early during the unrest as "treasurer" for the pickets.

Other testimony by troopers was that the pickets sometimes used abusive language and once threatened to rush State Police after they had arrested a picket.

Testimony that pickets used violence to close the region's nonunion truck mines was introduced during the hearing Tuesday.

The pickets were accused by coal operators and their employees of whipping mine employees and threatening them with "bloodshed."

Jack Hall, an employee of Utilities-Esko Coal Company, Pike county, testified he was beaten by several pickets when approximately 250 pickets descended on the firm's property last September 20.

Another employee said he was struck on the head the same day. Other testimony was that one picket threatened a third employee of Utilities-Esko with a knife during the disturbance.

Hall, a truck driver for the coal company, testified the man who threatened him said "he'd cut my guts out."

Mosey Johnson, of Garrett, president of Utilities-Esko, testified the pickets threatened to turn over the firm's office building after his employees sought safety there during the outburst of violence.

Most of the evidence heard Tuesday related to incidents involving the pickets and coal firms operated by Johnson and his son, Farris.

The Johnsons testified the pickets trespassed at mines they own in Pike and Knott counties on three days in mid-September, although the property was "posted" against trespassers.

They identified Lee Howell and Odell Cravens, both of Floyd county, as spokesmen for the pickets. Howell was accused of encouraging the violence at Utilities-Esko.

"Bring 'em out. Bring 'em out rough," the younger Johnson quoted Howell as saying during the violence.

He and his father testified the pickets chased employees of the coal company from the tipple. "They (the pickets) were carrying 2-by-4's, iron pipes, and crow-bars," the elder Johnson testified. "I saw one fellow (employee) hit on top of the head."

Hall testified he was first warned by the pickets not to haul coal when the pickets visited the Johnsons' King Branch Mine in Knott county, September 14.

A second warning was allegedly issued to him during picketing at the Johnsons' Pike county mine September 18, he implied.

"They said if I was caught back there it would be bad for me," Hall testified.

He quoted Howell as telling a picket to beat him (Hall) up and "make the blood come" during the trouble September 20. Attorneys for the pickets brought out in their cross-examination of the Johnsons and their employees that possibly a "shot" had been fired during the trouble September 20. The witnesses acknowledged hearing "something," but denied that the owners of the firms had guns on them or in their trucks during the violence.

Other testimony introduced by the government was intended to substantiate the charge that the pickets forced coal companies in the area to close temporarily, blocked roads leading to and from mines, trespassed on private property and threatened employees. All are violations of labor laws.

The Johnsons testified their property was posted with "No Trespassing" signs when the pickets came.

Another witness, David E. Bayer, of Wayland, testified about picketing October 23 at Right Beaver Coal Company. Bayer is an engineer for the firm and an officer in Evans Elkhorn Coal Corporation, Floyd county.

He was cross-examined closely by Dan Jack Combs, attorney for the pickets, about whether Right Beaver Coal Company was not in arrears to the U.M.W. welfare and retirement fund throughout September and October, the period when labor unrest was at its peak.

Bayer in direct testimony had identified Right Beaver as a union mine that was paying the union welfare fund the 40-cent-a-ton royalty required in U.M.W. contracts.

Former Floyd Woman, Husband Make 'Second Career' Helping Others; Send Aid To County

Those visited by disaster and tragedy almost invariably learn the lesson that the heart of America is big and warm as sympathy and help come from the most unexpected sources and from all parts of the country.

Victims of the March flood in this and other counties learned the lesson well as individuals, schools, clubs, churches and business firms came to their aid with food and clothing.

Of all those who helped, none, perhaps, has made a "second career" of helping others as have Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Thomas, of Pasadena, Calif., who sent more than 300 pounds of good clothing to the Harold school and shipments of about the same size to Clintwood, Virginia, Harlan and Hazard, and through whose solicitation one of Los Angeles' largest department stores sent to the area a truckload of new shoes.

Mrs. Thomas is a native of Big Mud Creek. Her husband formerly was in show business, a musician, and later in the printing business.

The Los Angeles Times said of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, recently:

"An urgent appeal for clothing for homeless victims of the devastating floods and tornadoes hitting some Southern states has been made by a Pasadena couple.

"Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Thomas, 203 Sierra Madre Blvd., who have made the work of helping others almost a second career, said the need for shoes and clothing, particularly children's clothing, is immediate for the residents of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky.

"Thousands of donated garments, almost all of which are cleaned and pressed by Mrs. Thomas, have been packed and sent on to Indian reservations, local needy and others throughout the country.

"This current need for clothing has found our racks almost empty, Thomas said. We can use any kind of wearing apparel offered.

"Mrs. Thomas, who lived in Kentucky as a child, said, 'I know the cold and poverty there. It can be miserable even without these floods they have now.' During the bitter cold spell there recently the Thomases sent numerous boxes of warm clothing.

"Some Pasadena visitors on New Year's Day may have noticed the Thomas residence. Its wide boulevard frontage was filled with crippled children and their families who might not otherwise have had an opportunity to see the Rose Parade.

"Awaiting the parade with doughnuts and milk, the children were entertained by Thomas, a magician in Vaudeville for 30 years. For 20 years, as long as they have been married, Mrs. Thomas was his stage assistant, being "cut in half" at each performance and catching the rabbits and doves her husband pulled from his sleeves."

Mr. Thomas tells more of his wife's Floyd antecedents and of their work. He writes:

"My wife, Stella Mae Younce

Development Group Sets New Hindman Conference; Sociologist Plans Speech

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. The morning session will be presided over by Rev. Vander Meer. A welcome will be extended by Raymond K. McLain, director of Hindman Settlement School. Earl Mayhew, rural sociologist of Lexington, will deliver the morning address.

William R. Miller, vice-president of the regional group will preside at the afternoon session. The chief address will be delivered by Earle V. Powell, Commissioner Department of Economic Security, Frankfort. The youth group will meet separately with James Gearheart, youth president, in the library.

P. F. Ayer, Berea executive secretary of the Council, will close the meeting with an address at 2:30 p.m.

ANNOUNCES MEETING

Burnis Jones, local overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses at Beaver, announced that the Watch Tower Society has chosen Harlan for its next circuit assembly, May 10-12. Mr. Jones said more than 15 delegates from Beaver and surrounding areas will attend the three day convention to be held in the Harlan high school auditorium.

Thomas, was born on Big Mud Creek, near Harold, March 10, 1915. Went to Harold school from 1921 to 1927. One of her teachers was Mr. Mallie Conn whom we visited in 1959, 1960 and 1962. Naturally, when we heard of the flood in Kentucky, we were aware of the distress and hardships that always accompany a disaster of that kind which touched us very deeply. That "good old Kentucky hospitality" is just born in Stella, and I have the same sentiments.

"Stella came from a broken home. Her father and mother separated when she was but two months old. Her mother remarried but separated in 1927. Then they moved to Clintwood, Virginia, here Stella's mother died within a few weeks. Then Stella went to live with her father but she was out on her own at twelve. Went to work for a family with six small children, did the cooking and all the washing and ironing, all for her board and room, attended school when she could.

"A few years passed and she finally obtained a job working in a boarding house 15 hours a day for only $3 a week. Stella has often told me that she asked the lady for five cents for a pack of gum and when Saturday night came she received two dollars and ninety-five cents. This job was regular, seven days a week.

"Stella and I were married in Dayton, Ohio, April 11, 1944. I was in show business (magician). I cut her head off and sawed her in two twice a day. She didn't like the grease paint and we went into the printing business but sold out in 1956 and landed here in Pasadena the first part of September.

"Bought property and have been fairly successful, we don't have much but we are comfortable and extremely happy.

"Hardly a day passes that Stella doesn't tell me about something during her girlhood days around Harold and the neighboring town of Betsy Layne. Me both try to share what little we have with others, and ever remembering that the teachings of Christ should linger in the hearts of us all."

Wool Payment Program Deadline Told by Hill; Payment Plans Stressed

Tuesday, April 30, is the last day for filing applications for payment for the 1962 marketing year under the wool payment program, Harr T. Hill, Floyd county chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded growers today.

The payments—to be made this summer—will cover shorn wool on unshorn lambs marketed during the 12-month period, April 1, 1962 through March 31 of this year. Later marketings will be eligible for payments for the 1963 marketing year which began April 1, 1963.

The chairman stressed the fact that the program payments on wool and lambs will not be made unless the grower files an application which is supported with all the necessary sales records.

These sales records will be the basis for calculating the national average price received by farmers for wool during the entire 1962 marketing year, so it is to the grower's advantage to file his application early. When the average price can be determined, the payment rates for shorn wool and unshorn lambs sold during the 1962 marketing year will be announced.

CLEANING COOKING UTENSILS
Cooking utensils often present cleaning problems. Following are suggestions for care of cooking utensils:

Aluminum. Never store food in aluminum pans or leave food in them longer than necessary, as this causes pitting. Wash aluminum as soon as possible after use; if it is kept clean from day to day, drastic cleaning methods will seldom be needed. Clean with a fine steel wool or a mild scouring powder. When scouring is necessary, use 0000 steel wool or a mild abrasive such as whiting; rinse well and dry carefully. Alkali causes aluminum to turn dark and pit, so never use soda, lye, strong soaps or washing powders, or strong alkalis in aluminum.

If aluminum does turn dark, boil something slightly with acid in it, such as tart apples, tomatoes or rhubarb; this will not harm the food cooked. Or boil two teaspoons cream of tartar or one teaspoon vinegar to one quart of water in the pan for about 10 minutes. Then scour with a fine steel wool treated with soap. A paste of whiting and vinegar also helps remove bad discolorations.

Chromium. The chromium trim used on cabinets, ranges, etc., or the covering on small appliances such as coffee makers, toasters and waffle irons requires little care. Wash with soap and water; dry thoroughly. Avoid harsh abrasives. Burned-on fat can be removed with whiting, moistened with ammonia or denatured alcohol.

Stainless steel. Keep stainless steel clean with hot suds; rinse and dry carefully. Remove food that sticks with gritless cleaning powder or whiting.

Cast iron. Season cast iron pans and skillets by rubbing with unsalted fat and setting over low heat for half an hour; repeat if sticking occurs. To remove burned-on grease, scrub the pan or skillet and boil in a solution of three tablespoons soda to one quart of water. Use kerosene and fine steel to remove rust; then wash, rinse and dry.

Enameled ware. Handle enameled ware as you would glass. If food burns, boil a solution of three tablespoons baking soda to one quart of water in the container, or put a detergent solution in the container to help loosen burned-on food and allow to stand.

LIFE EXPECTANCY OF MAJOR APPLIANCES
How long can you expect to keep your new refrigerator or range?

About 16 years if you follow the pattern of the average owner. This means you may trade it in, sell it, or give it away before it is completely worn out.

Many things affect the service life of an appliance. One is how well it fits the owner's needs and preference. Research findings show, for example, that a range acquired with the purchase of a home may be kept a shorter time than one the homeowner chooses and buys separately.

Here are estimates of the "service life expectancy, purchased new, under one owner" of several other types of household equipment:

Electric washing machines, automatic and semi-automatic, 11 years; dryers, 14 years; wringer and spin-dryer washing machines, 10 years; freezers, 15 years; vacuum cleaners, upright, 18 years, or tank, 15 years; sewing machines, electric, 24 years; toasters, automatic, 15 years; television sets, 11 years; living room wool rugs, 14 years.

These statistics should help the homemaker plan her budget. Some appliances will last longer than the average and some not so long, but if the homemaker is wise she will provide for replacement as items approach their average life expectancy.

BAGWORMS

One of the most insidious pests we have is the bagworm. Annually, they destroy thousands of our ornamental evergreen deciduous plants. They are especially destructive to Junipers, Arbutus vitae and cedars. At this time of year their spindle shaped bags, one to two inches long, may be found hanging on our shrubs. Each bag contains a dead female bagworm and several hundred eggs. These eggs will hatch out in April or May and will develop into small caterpillars. The caterpillars begin to feed and to construct a bag around themselves. This bag is covered with bits of material from the shrub on which they are feeding. They carry the bag with them wherever they go and stick their heads out of the bag to feed. They are so well camouflaged that hundreds can be on a shrub without our suspecting it and can completely defoliate a shrub within a few days. Once an evergreen is defoliated it usually dies.

The easiest way to control bagworms, at this time of year, is to pick the bags off the plant and burn them. Remember that each bag that is burned means the destruction of hundreds of eggs. If these eggs are allowed to hatch in April or May it will then be necessary to destroy them by spraying. A good spray for killing young bagworms is 57% Malathion. Use one tablespoon of 57% Malathion to one gallon of water and spray thoroughly. This and other sprays are effective against young bagworms in late April, May or early June. However, if the worms are allowed to mature they are very difficult to kill.

GRUB WORMS INJURE LAWNS

Grub worms are the larvae of hard shelled beetles. They are whitish with brown heads and usually lie in a curled position in the soil around grass roots. The grub worms eat the grass roots. If a large number of grub worms are present they eat enough grass roots to kill patches of grass. These patches of dead grass usually are first seen in April or May or in October and November. However, most of the injury is done several weeks before the dead patch of grass is noticed.

A good way to test for grub worms is to take the bare hands and tear the dead grass loose from the soil. In event of severe grub worm injury the roots have all been eaten off and the dead grass can be rolled up like an old thick rug. After the dead grass is rolled up and removed look for grub worms on the soil. If more than two grubs are found per square foot, it will be advisable to poison them by using Aldrin, Heptachlor or Dieldrin. These may be used in either liquid form or as granules. The Aldrin, Heptachlor or Dieldrin must be applied exactly according to directions on the container and is best used in early March so the spring rains will wash it into the soil. In event the material is used in late March it will probably be necessary to water it thoroughly into the soil.

If any of these materials are used as a spray, be sure to water in thoroughly after spraying and see that pets and children are kept off the lawn until the spray dries. It is also necessary to avoid spray drift on yourself or on edible crops. The best time to apply to the soil is in late afternoon.

CLOTHES MOTHS, CARPET BEETLES

Clothes moths and carpet beetles like wool—that's the main reason they are troublesome. But did you know they also like hair and horns and feathers?

Clothes moths and carpet beetles have the ability to digest keratin, which is a major part of animal fibers such as wool and other animal hair, horns, hoofs, feathers, etc. Very few other insects—or anything else—can digest keratin. It's this unusual ability of the clothes moths and carpet beetles digestive system that causes all the trouble, for these insects will feed on anything that contains keratin.

Clothes moths often get the blame for damage done by carpet beetles, for the moths are more commonly known than the beetles as fabric pests. The beetles, sometimes known as "buffalo moths," are more plentiful in some areas than the clothes moths and they both like the same food. Four kinds of carpet beetles and two species of clothes moths commonly infest homes.

The youngsters are the trouble-makers—the adult carpet beetle or clothes moth does no damage. The moth or beetle passes through four stages of development—egg, larva, pupa and adult. The damage is done in the larva stage. As soon as they hatch, the larvae begin eating.

They feed on wool, mohair, bristles, fur, feathers, down, or any other animal fiber. Thus they attack clothing and a wide range of household furnishings, including blankets, carpets, drapes, pillows, hair mattresses, brushes, upholstery and hair padding in upholstered furniture. They also eat organic matter—hair that falls from pets, lint and dead insects—that collect in places not often cleaned. The black carpet beetle larva also feeds on grain products.

STATE TREE PLANTING PROGRAM PLANS MADE

Frankfort, Ky., April 12 (Sp.) — The state's crash program timetable for planting at least two million tree seedlings on bare hillsides in Eastern Kentucky by the end of April is being aided by the joint extra efforts of state and federal government agencies along with private firms and individuals, J. O. Matlock, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Conservation, has reported.

Gov. Bert Combs called for the special effort as the first step of an over-all long-range program to help prevent future floods in the mountainous area.

The Governor allocated $20,000 from his contingency fund for planting at least a million pine seedlings and the Kentucky Committee of the U. S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service followed suit by setting aside another $20,000 for forest tree planting in the headwater areas of the Cumberland, Kentucky and Big Sandy rivers.

"We're hoping to plant the two million seedlings by the end of April for flood control and expect to plant at least 10 million more within the next three years," commented Gene Butcher, director of the Kentucky Division of Forestry.

Matlock said that in addition to the trees being planted by state crews, many more are being planted by large landowners in the area. U. S. Steel Company, Lynch; International Harvester Co.; Eastern Coal Co., Bluefield, West Virginia; Kentland Coal and Coke Co., Charleston, West Virginia; and the Kentucky River Coal Company, Hazard, were among the first to announce a speed-up in plantings.

Governor Combs has urged Eastern Kentuckians to plant another million seedlings during the same period.

Residents in the Cumberland-Benham-Lynch area formed the first crew to plant trees under the crash program announced in late March.

Added jobs are resulting as about 40 to 50 crews—each with 10 men—are setting seedlings during April. If the weather is favorable, tree planting could continue into early May, Butcher said.

Asks Eligible Workers Apply for Retirement; Suggest Contact Office

Many workers who are of retirement age are still working full time at regular employment. It is believed that a great number of these workers have not applied for their Social Security benefits because they are still working. If you are one of these workers, you should contact your Social Security office at your earliest convenience. It may be possible for you to work and still receive benefits for some months of the year. This will depend on the amount of your benefit and the amount of yearly earnings.

There are several reasons why a person of retirement age should contact his Social Security office even though he is still working.

1. A man or woman may, in some cases, continue to work full time and still be entitled to some benefits for the year.
2. A person can establish entitlement to benefits while he is still working, and his claim can be completely processed before he retires. This can be done even though his earnings, at present, prevent him from receiving benefits. This eliminates delay in receiving benefits at the time he finally does retire.

There is often a delay in payment when people do not have the necessary proofs and other required information available when they file their application. If an application is filed in advance of actual retirement, a person will have ample time to secure the necessary proofs for completion of his claim. This would eliminate the last minute rush to secure the needed information which might delay your benefit check.

The Social Security Administration is unable to take any action toward preparing a person for retirement until he has filed an application.

Be sure to contact your Social Security Representative in the Courthouse in Paintsville, Kentucky, any Thursday, if you are of retirement age and have not filed an application. This will help you to get your first check on time. Your Social Security Representative is at your service to help you with your Social Security problems. For further information you may call your Social Security District Office in Pikeville, Kentucky. The telephone number is 432-2177.

DeROSSETT

For CIRCUIT CLERK

In this, my first race for public office, I want to say that I believe the voters are entitled to know the platform upon which I appeal for support.

Many of you are acquainted with my background, qualifications and Christian training. A sense of service has ever prompted me to assist my fellow man. I shall carry these qualities of heart and mind into the office of Circuit Clerk.

I believe in giving our young people a break in life. One break they should have is adequate driver education. This is the day of modern traffic problems and proper training will save lives and money. I pledge you to initiate and promote a driver training program in every Floyd county high school. This program will save at least 30 percent on insurance protection and, what is more important, it will save lives on our highways. Floyd county is the only one in the state that doesn't have such a program.

Enquire about me from my neighbors, friends and associates. You will find that I merit your consideration and I pledge to make you an efficient public official.

Sincerely,

FRANK DEROSSETT

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK

one of the original eight pilot areas by USDA. The food stamp program replaced the old program of direct distribution of USDA commodities.

The Kentucky Department of Economic Security, which is responsible for certification of needy families, reports that 4,282 families, or about 22,270 persons in the three counties are certified to receive food coupons.

The Agricultural Marketing Service, which is responsible for authorization of food merchants and for overall administration of the food stamp program, reports that 570 retail food stores have been authorized to accept food coupons from the customers. Forty wholesalers have been authorized to redeem the coupons for local banks.

The Floyd county food coupon issuance office reported that $91,059 worth of coupons were issued to 1,611 families in March, bringing the total issued since the project began June 1, 1961, to more than $2 million. Of the total coupons issued in March, $67,032 were issued free of charge to the recipients. The county reports that 1,725 families, or 9,180 persons, are certified to participate in the pilot food stamp project.

The Knott county food coupon issuance office reports that $63,804 worth of coupons were issued to 1,124 families in March, bringing the total issued since the project started December 3, 1962, to $230,310. Of the total coupons issued in March, $42,940 worth were bonus coupons. The Department of Economic Security reports that 1,216 families, representing 6,190 persons, have been certified to receive food coupons.

The Perry county food coupon issuance reports $70,344 worth of coupons were issued to 1,244 families since the project started March 4. Of this total, $50,612 worth of coupons were given free to recipients. The Department of Economic Security reports that 1,341 families, or about 6,900 persons, are certified to receive food coupons.

alleviating flood dangers short of construction of dams. Among these are stream clearance, straightening and dredging as well as flood-walls.)

Wrote General Graham, in part:

"The two matters are being investigated as a part of our Big Sandy survey presently under way and scheduled for completion in 1963. The present schedule of operations for the Big Sandy River Report by our District Engineer at Huntington, West Virginia, and our Division Engineer at Cincinnati, Ohio, proposes submission of two reports in response to survey authorizations for the Big Sandy River Basin. One report covering flood control, hydroelectric power, water quality control, water supply and recreation is scheduled for submission to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in the late summer of 1963, and the other report, covering the navigation aspects, is scheduled for submission in fiscal year 1964.

"The Paintsville project is one of several reservoirs now being considered in the initial report, as an addition to the present Big Sandy Basin system of the completed Dewey and the under-construction John W. Flannagan, Fishtrap and North Fork of Pound Reservoirs. Other potential reservoirs being considered are the Yatesville Reservoir on Blaine Creek in Kentucky, the Hays Reservoir on Russell Fork in Virginia, the Panther Reservoir on Panther Creek, a tributary of Tug Fork, in West Virginia, and the Yukon Reservoir on Big Creek, in West Virginia.

"Flood control benefits creditable to the Paintsville Reservoir would be largely along Paint Creek. The other potential reservoir projects being considered in the present report would effect benefits over all or parts of Levisa Fork, Big Sandy River and Ohio River. The reservoirs, including the Paintsville project, must be considered for their effect both singularly and as units in system in order to properly evaluate the projects for flood control."

Congressman Perkins was told by General Graham that flooding during the week of March 11 will be taken into account in the study to determine the amount of damages that can be prevented. He added that the survey is being expanded to include additional flood problems emphasized by the recent flood.

No immediate work is seen, however, for whatever projects are undertaken must first follow a tortuous trail of reports and, finally, Congressional authorization and appropriation of funds.

Dr. Charles Wilson, of Pikeville, will be the speaker at the associational youth rally to be held Friday, April 26, at the Lancer Baptist Chapel. The meeting, which is for all Baptist youth in Enterprise Association, will begin at 7 p.m.

Combs commented, "I hope we're not talking about another study or survey. We've been surveyed to death in Kentucky." The Governor added that the federal agencies represented at the meeting have the power to make "substantial improvement" if the entire joint committee will act as a task force to push projects through.

Governor Combs served as chairman of the Conference of Appalachian Governors until December, 1962 when West Virginia Governor W. W. Barron became chairman. Other states in the Conference are Tennessee, Virginia, Maryland, Alabama, North Carolina and Pennsylvania. Besides Combs and Barron, other governors present were J. Millard Tawes, of Maryland, Frank G. Clement, of Tennessee, and Albert S. Harrison, Virginia.

A report on recent flood damage in five of the eight states was given by Edward McDermott, chief of the U. S. Office of Emergency Planning. McDermott said emergency flood rehabilitation, such as debris cleanup and road and bridge repairs, would total over $3.5 million in Kentucky alone. In Tennessee, the total would be something over $1 million, he said, and in West Virginia, Virginia and Alabama, less than a million.

After meeting with Gov. Combs and Kentucky's Congressional members in Washington on March 29, McDermott recommended that President Kennedy create the special Appalachian body.

To give immediate priority to federal projects in eight states, President Kennedy told the heads of federal agencies and departments present to "make appropriate changes under present authorities and budgets" and to look ahead to budget requests which will be made soon for the 1963-64 fiscal year. He also directed each agency involved to appoint an official "to see to it that these things are accomplished" and to submit a progress report by May 15.

Present were Luther Hodges, Secretary of Commerce; Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Stewart Udall, secretary of Interior; and Willard W. Wirtz, secretary of Labor. Agency chiefs represented the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Small Business Commission, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Council of Economic Advisers, Budget Bureau, and the Defense Department.

John Whisman, special assistant to Governor Combs and staff director of the Appalachian Governors' Conference, met with Undersecretary Roosevelt following the White House meeting.

Whisman and the other representatives of the eight governors echoed the encouragement felt by those present at the White House meeting. "This is our strongest commitment to action yet," Whisman declared.

The initial discussion with Roosevelt laid plans for the undersecretary to visit each Appalachian state at a later date, after each federal agency has appointed a representative for the special Appalachian body.

The winning gBlack Cats scored 77 points, Oil Springs 44½ and Pikeville 14½. Don Patton, Prestonsburg senior, set a new mark for Eastern Kentucky with a throw of 129 feet, 11 inches in the discus, and low hurdler Chalmers Howard bettered his regional record in the low hurdles with a time of 22.9.

The 880-yard and mile relay team of Howard Castle, Paul Carter Tackett, Chalmers Howard and Ken Allen copped both relays in times of 1:38.1 and 3:48.2, which is better than both regional marks.

The Black Cats will meet Paintsville and Morgan County on the local track at 7 p.m. next Tuesday.

On the baseball scene, the Black Cats travel to Inez on Thursday, on Saturday meet Williamson, West Virginia there in a doubleheader, and on Sunday afternoon play a return doubleheader with the Wheelwright Trojans at Wheelwright.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

In Indiana they limited hunters to six shells apiece in the goose pits. Result: the largest kill for any one day occurred the day the new rules went into effect. Moral: when you hear someone say, "They're not high; they're just small," remember it pays to wait 'em out before you shoot.—Sports Afield.

Breaking 100-straight doubles at trapshooting is comparable to pitching a no-run, no-hit baseball game. Merle Kemmerly of Bossier City, Louisiana, is the only amateur who has broken 100-straight doubles at the 63-year-old Grand American trapshooting classic.—Sports Afield.

The common sunfish ranges from the Great Lakes to Maine and south to Florida, west to the Dakotas and southward. The sunfish tends toward sluggish, weed-choked, muddy-bottomed habitat.—Sports Afield.

Underneath Vast Stephens Farm
Lay Huge Reserves Of Minerals

(This is the third article in a series on the Stephens family.)

John Stephens, one of the sons of Samuel Stephens and Florence Patton Patton, who went heading for California in the Gold Rush, had no inkling that underneath land on the waters of Beaver and Middle Creek lay a fortune at home in coal and natural gas.

John, who never married, returned from the west, a bit disillusioned about far-off wealth and knowing nothing of "black diamonds" and the other hidden minerals of the mountains, sold his part of his father's estate to one of the other heirs.

But whether John Stephens or any of the heirs of the Stephens estate knew of it or not a vast storehouse of mineral wealth, awaiting development, was under the 16,000 acres of the Stephens barony, Stephens Branch, approximately three miles long, all of the Caney Fork of Middle Creek down to what oldsters called the Cold Spring, and hundreds of acres of bottom on main Beaver lay under a title to Samuel and Florence Stephens. They, too, had little conception of the vast resources under their land.

Decades later the Bailey-Ferguson Coal Company and soon afterward the May Coal Company began development. Today the Stephens Elkhorn Fuel Corporation, successor of the May Coal Company, is exploiting part of the original Stephens farm. It is said that none of Samuel Stephens' heirs reaped any large reward from the land. Most of them were restless and, people said, stubborn. They wanted to leave the old home site, look for wealth and a good life elsewhere.

Development of the natural resources of Big Sandy was coming, though, before Samuel and Florence died. In the eighties a railway was pushed up the valley to Peach Orchard, finally to Whitehouse. Timber merchants swarmed on the main stream and looked up into the tributary valleys. Giant walnut trees were bought for a song. In a few years other buyers returned to dig up the stumps. While Samuel Stephens was approaching the last years of his life, logging became the concern of many prominent Big Sandians and Catlettsburg grew to the largest hardwood market in the world. It held that lead for a decade or more.

All of the many sons and daughters of Samuel Stephens were married before 1880, with the exception of John who had none west. The Stephens Branch home was never empty, though, for grandchildren were constant inmates.

Samuel Stephens, after a vigorous old age, died, July 24, 1887. His widow survived until 1890. Both were buried in the cemetery that bears the Stephens name, on a point near the residence of the late B. L. C. May, who married a granddaughter. In this pine-covered cemetery, others, who like Samuel and Florence Stephens pioneered the development of homes in the community, lie buried. A black-topped road trails along now at the foot of the hill, going up Stephens Branch and down Caney Fork. In Samuel's day it was a wagon-rutted trail.

Eight children of the old pioneer whose marriages and children were not listed in former articles of this series are Thomas, Samuel A., Mary, Cynthia, Andrew, David, Morgan G., and Darcus P.

Thomas married Nancy Jane Bradley, March 15, 1852, and had 12 children. They were Susannah, married Isaac F. Flannery, April 13, 1876, and upon his death married Sam England; Florence married David A. Canady, November 30, 1871; Isaac married Malinda Yates; Samuel married Rebecca Castle, November 19, 1890, and after her death married Sophie Whitaker, December 22, 1919, and following her death married Mary Salmon, June 2, 1923, and later married Rosa (Wireman) Handshoe; Reuben A. married Nancy Haywood, December 23, 1881 and upon his death she married Thomas Ratliff, September 25, 1894. She died in Utah. James B. married Lurania Haywood, November 14, 1882; William D. born October 14, 1859, died January 19, 1926, never married; J. R. (Riley) married Margaret Baldrige; George H., about which no information is available; Rebecca A. married Sandy Vaughan, November 30, 1887, and after his death married B. B. (Doc) Porter; Lee married Susan McKnight; Elizabeth married John McGann and later, March 25, 1869, married Vinson Bentley.

Samuel A. Stephens, born April 30, 1831, died May 30, 1890, married October 10, 1856, Sarah Osborne, born March 27, 1839, died June 19, 1904. Their 11 children were David married Louisa Martin, February 10, 1903; D. B. married Myrtle L. Hall, January 22, 1903; B. B. married Rosa Martin, March 4, 1905, and following her death married Virgie Ratliff, May 29, 1909; Ed L. married Grace Adams, of Magoffin county and upon her death married Lilly May, also of Magoffin county; Susan married June 24, 1886, Thomas G. (Bringe) Allen; Ferdinand married Fanny Howard and later January 17, 1894, married Lydia Crisp; Monroe married Reecie Crisp and later Allie Adams; Rhoda married S. B. Osborne; Mary married A. L. Osborne and later was married to John Johns; Irvin, not known as to whom married, but it is said he went to Oklahoma; Florence married Bill Flannery; Dollie G. married February 5, 1906, Elbert Pratt; Sidney married Logan Dingus; Margaret, died in infancy.

Mary Stephens married David Osborne, October 11, 1855. They had eight children: Albert married Ella Prater and after her death married Hattie Preston Allen; Samuel married Susan Osborne; Matt married Darcus Patton; Ewing married Stella Chapman; John D. married Ella Hall and later Cara Hall; Rebecca married Joe Salisbury; Cynthia married Jacob Crisp; Rhoda married Logan Dingus. Cynthia and Rebecca Osborne were twins.

Cynthia Stephens married Samuel Hale and to them were born only one child which died in infancy. This was a second marriage of Samuel Hale, he having married Eda Helton whose mother was a Wireman, before his marriage to Cynthia Stephens. There were eight children born to this first marriage of Samuel Hale. The eldest, James Hale, emigrated west where the nearest railway to Big Sandy was Cincinnati and it was necessary to go there by steamboat. Arriving in Kansas City, Missouri, the western railway terminal, he found himself with only fifty cents. James Hale, the oldest, died a few years ago in Waynoka, Oklahoma, possessed of vast real estate holdings, one ranch alone having 35,000 acres on the Cimarron River. He survived all of his brothers and sisters. In 1926 he returned to the Big Sandy to visit his relatives, the only time he ever came back.

Other sons and daughters of Samuel Hale and Eda Helton Hale were A. J. Hale, died at Verdigris, Oklahoma; B. B. Hale, died at Cody, Nebraska; John who emigrated to Missouri, but returned to die in Floyd county; Vinson Hale, who went to Oklahoma but had his legs broken in a wagon wheel and died from the effects of the injury; Delilah born 1875, died August, 1933, married Alexander Stephens, born July 15, 1865, died December 30, 1953, having married in 1889; Mary married Samuel Stephens and died in Webster county, Missouri. Samuel Stephens was killed in an automobile accident near Salyersville, Magoffin county, and his body was returned to Missouri to be interred by his wife; Martha Hale married Paul Shepherd (Hale) and they moved to Seymour, Webster county, Missouri, where they died.

COOPER REQUESTS FUNDS TO SPEED FLOOD CONTROL

Senator John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) last week gave his specific recommendations for appropriations this year to speed the completion of permanent flood control projects in Eastern Kentucky "by at least one year."

Cooper said: "I have written today to the President, asking that he recommend to the Congress increased appropriations for flood control projects in the Big Sandy, Upper Kentucky and Upper Cumberland River Basins. The increase of $14,920,000, added to the $14,279,000 presently in the budget, will enable the Corps of Engineers to undertake work this year, which I believe will shorten the time by at least one year—in which flood protection can be provided for Eastern Kentucky."

"My first recommendation is that budgeted funds for projects now under construction be increased and that funds be placed in the budget for projects now ready for construction. The projects and additional funds recommended are as follows:

"Big Sandy River: Fishtrap Reservoir, increase from $8,250,000 to $16,500,000; Flanagan Reservoir, increase from $4 million to $8 million; Pound Reservoir, increase from $1,600,000 to $3,200,000—all under construction. Corps of Engineers should be directed to take immediate steps to settle with the C. & O. Railroad and if settlement fails, to condemn, as location of railroad is a chief problem in speeding up Fishtrap completion.

"Upper Cumberland River: Local flood protection for Cumberland, Kentucky, to start construction, $470,000; Laurel River Reservoir, to start construction, $1 million.

"Upper Kentucky River: Carr Fork Reservoir, to start construction, increase from $100,000 to $1,500,000.

My second recommendation is that the President request funds for the Corps of Engineers, to dredge upper reaches of the three rivers, where Corps determines justified; and, very important, to dredge their small tributaries, which have recently flooded many communities. I estimate the cost at $100,000.

My third recommendation is that the President request funds to enable the Corps of Engineers to review reservoirs and flood protection facilities previously disapproved, to determine if they can now be approved on the basis of new information secured by reason of recent floods. The resolution, which I introduced on March 15, has been adopted and forwarded to the Corps of Engineers. It directs the Corps to undertake this work but funds must be provided by appropriation. I estimate a cost of $100,000.

"Examples of projects which I believe could now be approved are:

"Haysi Reservoir and Paint Creek Reservoir, and local flood protection at Martin—Big Sandy River Basin; Line Fork Reservoir and Walker's Creek Reservoir and local flood protection at Whitesburg — Upper Kentucky River Basin; and Martin's Fork Reservoir — Upper Cumberland River Basin.

"My recommendation would double construction funds for Fishtrap and Pound Reservoirs and adds $2 million for Flanagan Reservoir in the Big Sandy River Basin. It adds to the budget $14 million to commence construction of Carr Fork Reservoir on the Upper Kentucky River. It recommends $1 million to begin construction of Laurel Reservoir and $470,000 for local flood protection for Cumberland, Kentucky, in the Upper Cumberland River Basin. And, it adds $100,000 for dredging and $100,000 to review surveys in the Upper Kentucky an Upper Cumberland Basins.

"Thus, the program I recommend would add $14,920,000 to the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1963—and it can be commenced this year.

"Flood control projects costing approximately $13 million have been completed in the three Eastern Kentucky valleys in the last ten years. Additional projects, whose total cost when completed, approximates $87 million, have been placed under construction since 1957. And projects costing $33 million are now ready for construction.

"The provision of an additional $14,920,000, to expedite the completion of these projects, is small compared to the flood losses suffered by the people of these valleys. Preliminary estimates by the Corps of Engineers indicate flood losses in the Kentucky River Basin to be $10,698,000; the Big Sandy Basin, $19,798,000; and while the losses have not been computed, we know that there is substantial damage in the Upper Cumberland Basin."

Welcome To Asheville
Visitors approaching Asheville, N. C. are greeted with a sign in several languages informing them that if they need an interpreter, one can be obtained by telephoning 253-3351. It is part of the national campaign, Reader's Digest reports, to make travelers from abroad welcome.

What About Ameche?

Before he invented the telephone, Alexander Graham Bell was a teacher of the deaf and married one of his students, Mabel Hubbard, the completely deaf daughter of a Cambridge, Mass., lawyer. It proved an unusually happy marriage. After nearly fifty years together, the Reader's Digest recalls, they died within five months of each other.

Shoplifters Are Amateurs

Between 80 and 85 percent of all shoplifters are "amateurs." They do not resell the items they steal, according to the April Reader's Digest. Women constitute two-thirds of the shoplifters. Seven out of every ten foreign travelers who have toured America would like to come back again, according to the April Reader's Digest.

USE TIMES WANT ADS FOR AMAZING RESULTS

Eels are the champion migrants of marine life, says the Reader's Digest. American and European eels meet every spring in the Sargasso Sea. Miraculously, they sort themselves out and take the right current to the right continent. American eels take one year to get home, European eels two years.

TO SPIKE A FALSE RUMOR

Last Sunday, my opponent, Hollie Conley, and some of his supporters spread a false rumor pertaining to my nomination papers. They rumored that I would not be on the ballot on account of a defect in my papers. These rumors are false and without foundation in law or in fact. The County Court Clerk, possibly through unintentional oversight, did not sign my papers on the proper line after administering an oath. This oversight is unimportant, and can be and will be corrected in due time. In fact, the law does not require an oath at all.

My opponent did not believe these rumors himself. Otherwise, he would stop campaigning if he thought he was getting elected your judge that easy.

What do you think about a crowd that will resort to false rumors in an effort to get the highest and most important judicial office in our county?

I ask my friends to spike these false rumors, and continue to wage the good fight against the forces of evil.

Faithfully yours,

EDWARD P. HILL

Their twelve children were Samuel, who married Cassie Allen and later Sally Pratt; Kate married Morgan Hamilton; Alex, died at age 18 of typhoid; Florence married Dudley Howard; Mary married Ben Hale; Morgan married Nora Owens and later Maxine Arnett; Cornelia married first to Isaac Prater, second to Ray Barrack, and third to Harry Neeley; Johnny, died at one year of age of measles; Will Press married Rose May; G. Justice for all, with partiality to none, is the greatest of all qualities which your judge can offer. When partiality creeps into decisions of a court, when judgments are tempered by political considerations, you may be the one who suffers. As a candidate for the high office of Circuit Judge, I pledge prompt, courteous action based upon the facts and the law as I see it.

Respect for the dignity of your court and a belief in the justness of its decisions depends entirely upon the mentality, the experience and the personal traits of the person who holds the position. As a husband, as the father of four children, as a businessman, as County Attorney and as Commonwealth Attorney, as a citizen, I have ever attempted to be sober, honest, discreet and courteous—in short, I have shunned evil as well as the appearance of evil. I shall keep this attitude throughout my public service to you.

As your Commonwealth Attorney I have prosecuted with vigor those whom the facts indicated were guilty. Despite our best efforts, there is still much to be done in our county in eliminating crime. Perhaps the illegal liquor traffic lurks in the background of most criminal activities in our county. I have never flinched as Commonwealth Attorney in prosecuting those charged with this evil offense. It is my thought that our Grand Juries may have been unable to completely investigate this particular type of crime because of the many other crimes coming before them. I WOULD PROPOSE TO

54 Eastern Patients Are from This County, Superintendent Says

Dr. Logan Gragg, superintendent of Eastern State Hospital, announces that there were 1,267 patients in the hospital as of March 25, and that 54 of these were from Floyd county. Attending one of the five hospital out-patient clinics during the month were 56 patients from this county.

On the rolls of the hospital out-patient clinics are 1,012 patients and an average of 500 patients are seen each month. Ninety per cent are receiving medication and only 10% have never been hospitalized. In July, 1960, there were 1,612 patients in the hospital and approximately 1,200 were being admitted each year.

Dr. Gragg said he hopes the people in the hospital's 39-county district will assist in helping the hospital by following the plan listed about the admission to out-patient clinics. The clinics are staffed by hospital physicians, nurse, social worker and operated each month in the following schedules:
Ashland: first Thursday, 10:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., in King's Daughters hospital; first Friday, 8-12 noon.
Campton: last Monday, 9:30-3:30 p.m. in Wolfe County Health Department.

The office of Circuit Judge is one of the most important offices in our system of government. Its powers, duties and responsibilities affect the lives, liberties and property of the people as no other office. The legal qualifications of one aspiring to be Circuit Judge equal or exceed those for any other office.

I believe your Circuit Judge should not get involved in political obligations.

I believe any boy or girl has a right to seek a job or position upon his or her merits, without having to go through a political boss.

I believe liquor violations should be prosecuted beginning with the top operator, who is getting rich at the expense of the small ones.

I believe in equal justice, to the little man as well as to the powerful.

I believe your Circuit Judges should not encourage one class against another. We need unity, for in unity there is strength.

Upon these fundamental principles I base my plea for your support for reelection to this office. In this case you are the JUDGE. I trust your decision.

Respectfully yours,
EDWARD P. HILL

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

YOU'LL KNOW WHY SHE DOESN'T FEEL THE BUMPS...WHEN YOU TEST-DRIVE FORD'S NEW $10,000,000 RIDE

The 1963 Ford gives you a ride every bit as smooth as cars costing hundreds more, and for two reasons: a revolutionary new suspension system . . . and added road-hugging weight.

It took ten million dollars to develop the new Ford ride. We designed a revolutionary new suspension system for the '63 Ford. Where ordinary suspensions move only up and down to absorb road shock, the Ford suspension moves backward as well. In this double-action suspension system, coil springs up front and leaf springs in the rear combine to give you firmness in cornering and a special smoothness over the road.

We added weight, strength and stability. The new Ford is now actually hundreds of pounds more car than any other car in its class. This remarkable weight advantage is in the suspension, frame, and body. And, as you know, this added weight means a more stable ride.

But a solid, road-smoothing ride is only part of Ford's total performance story for 1963. Look how Ford swept the field this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control, braking power and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive a Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance . . . total performance.
