Nunn didn't quite make it, but that fellow No. down at the bottom of the ballot won, going away

A DILLY

This election was one to remember. It's early Tuesday evening, and the Republican candidate concedes his opponent's election, goes on to tell what defeated him and draws cheers with his announcement of plans for next year's fight.

WHAT MAKES AN EXPERT

Our friend Jake Akers, of Dwayne, owns a geiger counter which he used out west during a period of several months while we were trying to keep up with him and get his paper to him.

THE BIGGEST?

Getting away from politics and back to something more in my line (or on the other fellow's line); John Warrick reports catching a 51-pound yellow cat on a trollin' set in one of his favorite spots in Dewey Lake.

HOW ABOUT "THRENOUDY"?

Words can literally play "Yankee Doodle" on my tympana, and sometimes I run on some which play havoc. These I ran across, not long ago; they're said to have come from Johnson's dictionary, published in 1775: clapperclaw, huzz, flesh.

CANEY SUED BY TEACHERS

Former Instructors Seek $216,800 Total; U. S. Court Trial Set

Scheduled for trial in U. S. district court this month is a suit filed by two former Caney Junior College instructors who seek to recover from the college, the Caney Creek Community Center, Inc., and William S. Hayes, executive director of the Pippa Passes institution, a total of $216,800.

The complaint was filed by George J. Loeser, Jr., Vernon Center, New York, and Raymond Packard, Medina, New York, each of whom claims that a statement made by Hayes damaged him to the extent of $160,000.

The two plaintiffs claim they were wrongfully discharged and that their contracts as teachers there were broken to their damage. Loeser claims $3,600 due him on his contract, and Packard claims $3,200. Each asks an additional $5,000 for past and future expenses.

The two say they were employed in June and July of 1961 and that their contracts were breached on or about October 17, that year. This followed a student walkout at Pippa Passes.

The statement alleged to have been made by Hayes and for which each defendant sues, asking $100,000 damages each, is quoted in the complaint as follows: "That Mr. Loeser and Mr. Packard had gathered the students together to incite them to riot against the school... had counseled the students for rebellion."

The famed Knott county school is represented by Joe Hobson, Prestonsburg attorney.

BREATHITT ELECTED GOVERNOR

FLOYD MAY BE BANNER COUNTY FOR BREATHITT

COUNTY VOTE TOTAL 13,146 DESPITE RAIN

ETB Majority Is 5,700 Over Nunn; Waterfield Lead Is 56 Votes Higher

Floyd county turned in a majority of 5,700 votes for Edward T. Breathitt, Democrat, for Governor over Republican Louis B. Nunn during rain-soaked Election Day.

Although the official returns from all counties are not in, Floyd's majority is believed to be one of the largest, if not indeed the largest, given Breathitt by any county.

Although the majority was not as big as Democratic leaders had expected, it was not as low as their Republican counterparts had hoped.

The former had hoped for a 7,000-vote lead; the latter had hoped to cut it to 4,500.

A total of 13,146 votes was cast in the county—1,401 fewer than four years ago when Governor Bert T. Combs piled up a record Floyd majority of 9,129 votes over John M. Robison, Republican.

Although 712 fewer votes were cast in the race between Harry Lee Waterfield, Democrat, and H. Bemis Lawrence, Republican, for the office of Lieutenant-Governor, Waterfield polled a majority in the county which was 56 higher than Breathitt's.

Tickey, in the Mud Creek section, was the only precinct of the county's 38 to give Nunn a majority.

Election Day itself was quiet, a steady drizzle cutting into the total vote and reducing the gatherings at the voting places. All precincts voted by machine, and the results were known early Tuesday evening.

All local Democratic candidates won easily—Frank DeRossett for Circuit Court Clerk and W. J. (Bill) Reynolds, Jr. for Representative from Legislative District No. 5. The other Democrats—Faircie Johnson for State Senator, Fred Gearheart for Representative in District 96, Hollie Conley for Circuit Judge, Har-

AREA COUNTY VOTE NOTED

Breathitt Survives Smash Of Pike Demo Candidates; Knott Lead Substantial

Edward T. Breathitt, Democratic candidate for Governor, who came out of the Pike county political turmoil with only a moderate majority of 541, rolled up a commanding lead of 1,778 votes in Knott county. He lost neighboring Johnson county, however, to Louis B. Nunn by 1,730 votes.

The G.O.P. gubernatorial candidate carried Magoffin county by 743 votes and squeaked through in Lawrence by 241 votes. Harry Lee Waterfield, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, received a few more votes in these counties than Breathitt.

Lawrence county, which has no voting machines, was not expected to complete its tabulation until late today (Wednesday). Only 16 precincts out of 23 had been counted as of early afternoon when Breathitt had 1,234 votes and Nunn 1,475. Returns from Knott, Magoffin and Johnson are complete.

On the face of the returns of 16 precincts counted in Lawrence, Nova B. Wellman, incumbent Republican, was defeating Chesley Wright, Democratic candidate for Circuit Court Clerk. Mrs. Wellman, a former G.O.P. State Treasurer nominee, had 1,556 votes and Wright 1,083. Glenn B. Wells, Republican candidate, was unopposed.

In Magoffin county, which gave Nunn 2,477 votes to Breathitt's 1,734, Judge John Chris Cornett, Democratic incumbent of the Magoffin-Knott judicial district, was re-elected without opposition. James E. Allen, Republican, defeated Ray Arno, Democrat, by 2,621 to 1,504 votes for Circuit Clerk. Lawrence Watts, representing Magoffin and Knott in the General Assembly, was unopposed.

Afton Smith, Democrat incumbent, was re-elected Commonwealth's Attorney in the Magoffin-Knott district, and Carlos Huff, Democrat, was re-elected Knott county Circuit Court Clerk.

Nunn received 4,052 votes in Johnson county to 2,322 for Breathitt. Waterfield did a little better, losing the county to H. Bemis Lawrence by a vote of 2,233 to 3,942. W. D. Sparks and W. B. Hazelrigg, Democrat (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

HHFA AWARDS MARTIN FUNDS

For New Sewage System; Big Sandy River Survey Allocation Is $40,300

The Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Community Facilities Administration last week approved $81,000 for construction of a new sewage collection system at Martin. Congressman Carl D. Perkins notified The Times last Thursday.

This is in addition to the grant of $31,640 made available to the community by the U. S. Public Health Service, last August. The overall project will be done at a total cost of $298,900 and will provide 197 man-months of work, which is to begin within 120 days.

Next day, Congressman Perkins announced that the Public Works sub-committee of the House Appropriations committee had approved funds for 15 river projects affecting Eastern Kentucky. The projects were listed, as follows:

Preconstruction planning for the Red River Reservoir on the upper Kentucky River, $50,000.

Preconstruction planning on Carrs Fork Reservoir on the upper Kentucky, $150,000.

Completion of planning on the Cave Run Reservoir on the upper Licking River, $220,000.

Beginning of construction on the Grayson Reservoir on the Little Sandy River, $1 million.

Continue construction on Fishtrap Reservoir on the Big Sandy River, $9.5 million.

HIGHWAYS AND BRIDGE DEDICATED BY COMBS

An estimated 5,000 persons participated in ceremonies in Prestonsburg and near Auxier last Thursday when Governor Bert T. Combs and other officials dedicated $8,770,000 worth of highways and bridges.

The first project dedicated is the three-mile section of Ky. 114 from Prestonsburg up Middle Creek and including the four-lane bridge across the river here. The second is a new five-mile portion of U. S. 23 from Auxier to Hager Hill, near Paintsville.

Less formal was the opening of a third project, the new $192,000 Prestonsburg-Paintsville Airport located in "Blockhouse Bottom," and paralleling the new sector of U. S. 23. Governor Combs and his pilot made the first landing on the new surfacing of the airport last Thursday morning. Greeted there by members of the two-community air board, Combs later said it was the 18th airstrip to be opened since he took office. He estimated that $6 million had been invested in building the 18 airfields and improving 14 others.

Highway Commissioner Henry Ward presided at the dedication of both highway projects. Lieutenant-Governor Wilson W. Wyatt spoke briefly at both dedicatory exercises, introducing Governor Combs.

A note of nostalgia was sounded by both Wyatt and Combs as they expressed the feeling that their appearances here would probably be their last meeting with many of those present during their terms of office.

Dr. Herbert G. Salisbury, mayor pro-tem of Prestonsburg, welcomed the big gathering on the new bridge here, in the absence of Mayor George P. Archer. He described the new highway and bridge as "a dream come true which helps Eastern Kentucky to Central Kentucky and Central Kentucky to Eastern Kentucky."

"We are proud," he added, "to have with us today Governor Combs and these other men whose fortitude made this dream come true."

Lieutenant-Governor Wyatt praised Henry Ward as "the outstanding highway commissioner in the United States."

Of Governor Combs he said, "Bert Combs is one of the greatest Governors of Kentucky in all the past and for all the future."

Mr. Ward commented: "The question of Bert Combs being the greatest Kentucky Governor will be decided by time and history. I will say this now, Kentucky has never had a governor who was more needed than Bert Combs has been during this administration."

Governor Combs himself commented, "I don't know who is the greatest or who is the least, but I think every governor should be greater than the one before him."

He told the big gathering here that time was when "the Mountain Brigade" was a term to which stigma was attached at Frankfort but that he is proud to be a member of it, "for it has got things done and has been recognized as such."

Governor Combs described the Mountain Parkway as "the most beautiful highway in America."

"We must not rest," he added, "until the Parkway is extended to Pikeville in this valley and on to Whitesburg in the Kentucky River valley."

Then a valedictory note: "If I leave office with your respect and a little of your affection, that is all I could ask."

Governor Combs was assisted in cutting the ribbon opening the road and bridge here by Leslie, young daughter of Winston Ford, Jr., member (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

DEMOCRATIC STRONGHOLDS VOTE DROPS

Jefferson-Co. Disappoints Republicans; Nunn Cites Widespread Irregularities

Edward T. (Ned) Breathitt, 39-year-old Hopkinsville attorney, has been elected Kentucky's 36th Governor, but his victory margin is the slimmest since Republican Simon S. Willis was elected to the state's highest office 20 years ago.

At 3 p.m. Wednesday, with 63 of the state's 2,964 precincts yet to count, Breathitt held a lead of 12,022 over Louis B. Nunn, of Glasgow, his Republican opponent. The popular vote at that time: Breathitt, 436,966; Nunn, 424,944.

Early election night, with Louisville and Jefferson county falling to turn up the heavy support he expected, Judge Nunn conceded Mr. Breathitt's election. At that time he was trailing by better than 30,000 votes.

Later, as the returns rolled in from all parts of the state—with Congressional District No. 1, the so-called "Gibraltar of Kentucky Democracy," adding a majority of only 21,000 to Breathitt's column and with the rock-ribbed Republican Fifth (old Eleventh) bettering that figure by adding a 20,000-vote majority to Nunn—the Breathitt lead began to erode. Shortly after 10 p.m., many analysts said he "was still in the race" and asked his adherents to stand by at the voting machines and ballot boxes.

Wednesday morning, he claimed "widespread irregularities" in the voting and announced that he would ask for a recount.

The election of Harry Lee Waterfield as Lieutenant-Governor may have been more easily won than Breathitt's. Other Democrats were leading for lesser state offices, but the leads of some had narrowed perilously.

Nunn whittled away at what appeared earlier in the campaign to be a commanding Breathitt lead by attacking Governor Combs' anti-Frankfort, alleging a "mess" at Frankfort, linking his opponent with the Kennedys and courting the support of disgruntled Democratic supporters of A. B. "Happy" Chandler whom Breathitt defeated in the May primary.

The Breathitt-Waterfield ticket, on the other hand, scorned what they termed G. O. P. attempts to inject the race issue into the Kentucky picture and concentrated on arguing a platform of progress begun by the Combs administration and to be continued by theirs.

Nunn polled a majority of less (See Story No. 5, Page 5)

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

Now - Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses! And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price! Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

When Fun Isn't Innocent

Fred W. Luigart, of The Courier-Journal's East Kentucky Bureau at Hazard, last week wrote an interesting if sweeping indictment of Eastern Kentuckians in their "celebration" of Halloween.

Apparently drawing on State Police records and the experiences of citizens, Luigart alleged that perhaps nowhere in the United States is Halloween "celebrated" in a more vicious manner than in the coalfields of the area. He told of a woman, driving from Florida to Morehead, being terrorized as boulders and smaller rocks were rained down on her car from an overlooking embankment in Magoffin county; of a state trooper smashing his car against a boulder left in the highway; of logs and trees cluttering roads, of adults joining youngsters in hi-jinks that long ago ceased to be funny.

In Prestonsburg, although there was no great property damage, the night took on an ugly air as grown men, masked, reportedly roamed the streets. One woman reported two or more of these apparently were intoxicated, using disgraceful and frightening language.

All of which should convince peace officers and citizens alike that Halloween, for all its traditions, is not a time when a moratorium is to be declared on law enforcement. We're all for the children having Halloween fun, but when men don masks, even as the Ku Kluxers do, and under the cloak of anonymity turn what could be an evening of innocent fun into a night of potential danger, or even horror, to others, the line should be drawn in unmistakable fashion.

The neighboring community of Paintsville is said to have adopted a commonsense policy this year. There no person above the age of 16 was permitted to wear a mask, and all, regardless of age, were forbidden the privilege of roaming the streets past 10 p.m.

Viciousness Of Area Pranksters

Imperil Life, Limb Of Autoists

BY FRED W. LUIGART, JR.
(In The Courier-Journal)

Hazard, Ky., Oct. 31 — Eastern Kentucky's Halloween pranksters are up to their old vicious tricks.

And for the uninformed motorist this can mean a trip to the hospital, a smashed car, even the loss of life.

Probably nowhere in the United States is Halloween "celebrated" in a more vicious manner than in the mountain coalfields.

A motorist rounds a curve, and there, across the highway, is a huge log or tree, a giant boulder, or a chain of old rubber tires doused in gasoline and set afire.

Tuesday night, "pranksters" in Magoffin county rained boulders and rocks down an embankment onto the car of a woman driving from Florida to Morehead. A pickup truck tried to run her off the road.

"She was scared to death," said State Police Lt. Billy Lykins, of Pikeville. "Things are real bad in Magoffin county this Halloween."

In Perry county, a State Trooper damaged his car when he smashed into a boulder left in the highway by Halloween "celebrants."

And east of Hazard, along Ky. 15, a car was damaged when the driver stopped suddenly for a log across the road and another car crashed into the rear of his.

Vandals also have been known to set off charges of dynamite that leave gaping holes in the highways and tie up traffic for hours while repairs are made.

Or, as happened last year, vandals may release the tail gates of loaded coal trucks and leave the highways blocked by a 30-ton pile of coal.

"Incidents like these are no trick or treat for motorists," said State Police Sgt. J. A. Murphy, of Hazard.

The State Police and State Highway Department dread Halloween. For days before and after they're kept busy removing obstacles left along the roads by pranksters.

The worst period is from dusk to midnight when vandals can operate under the cover of darkness. Not infrequently they block the roads by felling huge trees growing on cliffs along the highways, letting them fall across the roads.

Along one stretch of Ky. 15 between Hazard and Jackson last year, one motorist counted 16 logs across the road. Already this week, State Police at Hazard with the help of highway crews have removed several hundred logs from main highways and rural routes.

Passenger buses and trucks traveling into Eastern Kentucky during Halloween week often run hours behind schedule.

"Actually, these pranks are organized hoodlumism," said Sgt. Murphy. "Things like this happen all over the state, but it's worse up here. Halloween is just a good time for some teen-agers and adults to be mean."

The practice of blocking roads in Eastern Kentucky during Halloween got started in the Horse-and-Buggy days. Back then, it caused little more than inconvenience. The horses would pull up when they came upon a log.

But with the advent of high-powered automobiles, the Halloween vandals who block mountain highways with logs, boulders and burning tires are making it extremely dangerous for motorists to drive at night.

Most Eastern Kentuckians are conscious of the problem and during Halloween week don't drive after sunset unless they have to.

The real threat to life and limb comes to unsuspecting tourists and salesmen.

Forestry Employee Charges Assault By Trio While Investigating Fire

Curtis Goodman, William Keene Goodman and Jack Lewis, who are charged in an alleged assault on Rev. Earl Lawson, Division of Forestry employee, October 26, have been released on $2,000 bond by Trial Commissioner Glenn Burchett. Trial date set is November 25.

As an aftermath of the incident that occurred on Buck's Branch, Curtis Goodman has charged Lawson with hit and run driving. A warrant for Lawson was sworn out in Magistrate Zeb Ousley's court.

Lawson, who is a minister of the Regular Baptist Church, says that he went to Buck's Branch to investigate forest fires. He added that his wife and six-month-old baby were with him in the pick-up truck which he drove.

He alleges that when he parked near the head of a hollow Curtis Goodman broke the window out of his truck and struck him in the face. Lawson said he then locked the truck and drove away.

Thirty Years Ago

(November 3, 1933)

Charlie Smith, 45, of Ivel, succumbed to a bullet wound in his head, Tuesday night at the Beaver Valley hospital. Twenty-two crippled children of this county were taken Friday in a bus chartered by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club to the crippled children's clinic in Ashland. Frank S. Parrigan, Paintsville engineer, is promoting a new sanitary sewer system for Martin. Two homes destroyed by fire this week were the old James Salisbury home at Allen, Saturday morning, and the residence of Buck Morris at Maytown, Monday. J. C. Ward, manager of the Unique Theatre, announces that he has purchased the Warner-First National product, which includes all of the biggest musical hits of the year. One is "Gold Diggers of 1933." Wow! The big show at the Unique this week is "What Price Innocence?" a picture which is, it explains, "endorsed by the Ministerial Association." Strange that today you never see a film flaunting its endorsement by the Ministerial Association. Married: Miss Ruth Francis and Mr. S. L. Isbell, both of Prestonsburg, October 25, at the parsonage of the Methodist Church, Prestonsburg; Miss Mattie Franklin, and Everett Hall, both of Wheelwright. There died: Mrs. Zella Martin Estep, 62, at her home at Garrett, Friday; Mrs. Mary Calhoun Owens, 32, at her home in West Prestonsburg, Monday; Lewis Parker Mayo, 60, at his home near Martin, Wednesday; Charlie Frazier, 58, at the home of his daughter at Martin, Thursday.

Twenty Years Ago

(November 4, 1943)

With only 435 precincts yet uncounted in the state, the election of Judge Simeon S. Willis, Republican, of Ashland, as Kentucky's next Governor appeared certain, while Prestonsburg's W. H. (Bill) May had a slight lead over his Republican opponent for Lieutenant-Governor, but is expected to be hard-pressed before the count is completed. The United Mine Workers and Secretary Ickes agreed Wednesday night on a wage contract ending the nation-wide coal strike, and providing $1.50 a day earnings increase for soft coal miners. Big Ray Patton, 23-year-old Floyd countyman, in his first year of organized baseball, pitched 17 victories for Roanoke in the Piedmont League, and was the subject of a recent feature yarn in The Sporting News. Six-year-old Adrian Newman, of Pikeville, formerly of Hi Hat, was asphyxiated, Saturday, by gas leaking from a living room stove in the Newman home. The Office of War Utilities acted Monday to reduce natural gas consumption in the Appalachian area by ordering all industrial consumers who have facilities capable of burning residual fuel oil to operate those facilities to the limit during the coming winter. Dr. S. E. Burgess, of the Prestonsburg General hospital staff, returned Monday to resume his duties at the hospital after studying at Cook County hospital, Chicago, Illinois. Floyd county road machinery is being rented to citizens and private companies for public improvements at the expense of those who lease the machinery. First services were held, Sunday, in the new Baptist Church at Allen. Married: Miss Mary Alice Bayless, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. John Lee Mumsey, of Lexington, October 24, at Lexington; Miss Ruth Pratt, of Martin, and Ensign R. L. Craig, of Benham, Kentucky, October 23, at Benham. Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Claybourne Stephens, of Prestonsburg, a son, Claybourne, Jr., at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, last week; To Pfc. and Mrs. Glenn McNaughton, of Martin, a son, Glenn Joseph, III, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin. There died: Miss May Baldrige, 22, of Goodloe, at the Prestonsburg General hospital, Monday night; Cleve Isbell, 60, last week at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey.

Ten Years Ago

(November 4, 1953)

In defeating Democratic nominee Bill Hall, of Betsy Layne, in last Tuesday's election, Gorman Collins, of Lackey, became the first Republican in 16 years to be elected sheriff of Floyd county. Negotiations are under way to procure a court order freeing the Elk Horn Coal Corporation of receivership. The Floyd County Board of Education in an Election Day meeting purchased from Roe Fannin the Betsy Layne theatre building which it will convert into a school lunchroom and kitchen. Billy Carr, race driver from Huntington, received a broken collar bone, Sunday, when his car was one of ten in a pile-up during a heat at the Allen race track. Sale in Floyd county of Borden Milk, from Huntington, under a Grade A label was halted Monday by the county health department on the grounds that the firm's milk does not meet the maximum bacteria count permitted under this rating. The first earth to be moved, Sunday, in ground breaking ceremonies for the Methodist Church school building, in Prestonsburg, will be shoveled by Dr. C. L. Huismpiller, it was announced by the pastor, Rev. Harold Dorsey. Six Floyd countymen, veteran employees of the United Fuel Gas Company, recently honored by the firm are Glover W. Spencer, Martin, who received a 30-year service emblem, and these five others, all recipients of a watch and emblem for 25 years' service: E. R. May, of Lansley; Troy P. Allen, of Martin; Pete Dawson, Hi Hat; D. S. Montgomery, Prestonsburg, and J. Kendall Stumbo, of Printer. Coal production in the Big Sandy-Elkhorn area is above the tonnage mark achieved in the corresponding period last year, with 215,819 more tons having been loaded this year by October 24. Married: Miss Edna Jean Shepherd, of David, and Mr. C. E. Westfall, October 31; Miss Sylvia Jean Hamilton, of Waverly, Ohio, formerly of Martin, and Mr. Ora Perry, of Hi Hat, August 6. There died: S. ## Combs Opens State's Forests to Hunting As Fire Danger Past

Governor Bert Combs Monday reopened the remainder of Kentucky forests and woodlands closed 18 days ago because of fire danger.

He had reopened forests in 84 counties Saturday.

"The forest-fire hazard which had prevailed since October 18 has been reduced in all counties to the extent that emergency measures are no longer required," the Governor said.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife reported the order permits archery deer hunting in 48 designated counties until November 15.

The shutout season for coon hunters extends until November 20. This season permits a training period for coon dogs. A coon is freed and shaken out of the tree to train dogs.

The Fish and Wildlife Commission will meet later this week to consider extending time lost during the squirrel and dove season. The squirrel season ended October 31 and the forest ban resulted in a season two weeks short of normal. The dove season ended October 29 and only two days were lost to dove hunters.

Tent camping and fishing in state parks, restricted after the forest closings, are now permitted.

than 5,000 in Louisville and Jefferson county (the Third Congressional district) where heavier support was expected. He also led in Fayette county, carried Woodford, home county of Ex-Governor Chandler, and reduced Democratic margins in most parts of the state.

The heavily Democratic Seventh, led by Floyd county, gave Breathitt a possible 10,000-vote margin.

Politicians of both parties now will make a close study of the results in an effort to determine trends, the public reactions to certain issues and the temper of election as a Presidential election is less than a year away.

Letcher county early last Wednesday morning, officers said. Pickets stopped cars driven by coal miners en route to work that day, pistol-whipped and intimidated some miners, stole guns from them, and shot into at least one car, police said.

They also said Gibson allegedly served as spokesman for the roving pickets at the time.

Gibson, Engle and seven other pickets are under indictment in federal court at Jackson on charges of attempting to dynamite a Louisville & Nashville Railroad bridge in Perry county during the labor-management unrest.

TIP TO PARENTS OF TEEN-AGERS: Your teen-agers have their own room. Why not their own telephone?

THE WORK OF BELL TELEPHONE LABORATORIES is one big reason why your telephone service gets better, more efficient every year. At the Laboratory, over 13,000 engineers, scientists and researchers study the art of communications, devise ways to improve telephone facilities, increase the speed and efficiency of telephone service. The result of their work is the world's finest telephone system, and more telephones in the U. S. than in all other countries combined.

IF YOU'RE BEING VERY EFFICIENT and planning your Christmas giving list now, why not consider giving telephones. Moms, dads, teen-agers all need a phone of their own. Phones come in many pretty styles and colors, are sure to be enjoyed all year 'round. Sound like a good idea? Then why not talk it over with your telephone serviceman or call our business office.

THE RING OF YOUR TELEPHONE IS A HAPPY SOUND, particularly when you're home alone. . . . kept indoors by the rain . . . celebrating a special occasion . . . waiting for important news. Isn't there someone, somewhere who would welcome the sound of your voice? Call now. You'll both be glad you did.

Alice Lloyd Students Attend College-Business Symposium

Nine Alice Lloyd College students attended a special regional "College-Business Symposium" in Louisville Monday as guests of the Kentucky Power Company.

The students, with their sponsors, Arlie Barker, Hazard, district manager for Kentucky Power, and William Hughes, Alice Lloyd dean of students, explored Kentucky's present economic problems and exchanged thoughts and opinions on them with the state's business leaders. The symposium is designed to give college students an opportunity to hear the views of businessmen on economic issues.

REPORTS ON MEETING

Pippa Passes, Ky.—John Combs, Alice Lloyd College sophomore from Hazard, and newly elected president of the Kentucky Regional Group, Council of the Southern Mountains, reported at Monday's student vespers on the organization's fall meeting held at Buckhorn, October 21.

Combs reported that discussions were conducted on regional hospital services and the problem of teacher loss within the mountain area. John C. Campbell, Yerges, Kentucky, and Christine Stamper, of Blackey, were elected regional vice-president and secretary, respectively.

Alice Lloyd College faculty members and students who attended the meeting were introduced. They included Mildred and Christine Stamper, Barbara Baek and Jerry Whitaker, of Blackey; James Gayheart, Dwarf; Gail Lawson, Orkney; Bert Layne, Manton; Glen Marshall, Martin; Burl Scott, Garrett, and Joenella Singleton, Cordia, Kentucky.

ON FINE ARTS TOUR

Five Alice Lloyd College students and their faculty sponsor, Prof. Abner Greuder, enjoyed Louisville's cultural activities, Wednesday and Thursday, this week, during the college's fall fine arts tour.

Four members include Christine Stamper and Barbara Baek, of Blackey, and Donnie Mosley, Tommy Boyd and Ancil Nickels, all of Wayland.

TO PRESENT SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY

The 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare will be celebrated on the Alice Lloyd College campus, Thursday, November 21, with a performance of his "King Henry the Fourth, Part I." Prof. James H. Herr, director of the Alice Lloyd Theater, this week announced the names of a 23-member cast.

American Education Week Observance Is Scheduled At Maytown, Nov. 10-16

"Education Strengthens the Nation," is the theme for the week-long American Education Week to be observed in the Maytown schools, November 10-16.

Miss Eloise Allen, chairwoman of the American Education Week committee there, said that the theme is highly appropriate in the light of current world conditions. Not only has education contributed directly to the technological changes which annually increase the standard of living and wealth of the nation, but it stands as a primary bulwark in the ideological battle between East and West.

Every year, during the week in which Veterans' Day occurs, American Education Week is held to put the spotlight on what the schools are doing. National sponsors are the National Education Association, the American Legion, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education.

In Maytown, American Education Week is expected to draw parents into their local schools to see for themselves what's going on. The school will observe American Education Week by holding open house, November 11, 12 and 13.

Parents of the children in grades 1-6 will be invited to visit the school and attend an assembly with Charles Clark, superintendent of Floyd county schools, addressing the group on Monday, November 11.

On Tuesday, November 12, parents of the children in grades 7-12 will be invited to visit the school and be a part of school assembly at which Wayne Ratliff, assistant superintendent of Floyd county schools, will make the address.

Wednesday, November 13, parents of juniors and seniors will be invited for the day, and the assembly program will consist of representatives from the various colleges speaking to these parents and the high school student body.

Colleges which will participate in this program are Morehead State, Alice Lloyd College, Pikeville College, Eastern State, Mayo State Vocational School and the University of Kentucky.

Although invitations to parents for special days are being sent, any parent or interested citizen is welcome to visit the school for any of these programs and spend any part of the day with us.

At the conclusion of each day Mrs. Joyce Stewart, home economics teacher, and her pupils will be serving tea to teachers and visitors in the home economics department. Students will serve as guides and be at the registration desk in the entrance of the main building.

Detection of Diabetes Planned by Med Group; Proclamation Is Issued

"Finding unknown diabetics and helping them to live longer, more useful lives is the goal of the annual Diabetes Detection and Education Drive during the week of November 17-23," according to Robert S. Tillett, M.D., Louisville, chairman of the Kentucky State Medical Association's Diabetes Committee.

Sponsored by the KSMA in cooperation with the American Diabetes Association, the drive will be held during the period officially proclaimed as Diabetes Week in Kentucky by Governor Bert T. Combs.

"In 12 previous public service campaigns, nearly 2,000 persons who were unaware they had diabetes learned of their condition. These individuals now have the necessary knowledge to enable them to use the proper precautions," Doctor Tillett said.

Every physician, hospital and laboratory in the state has been asked to cooperate in the drive by giving a free urine sugar test to anyone requesting it. All Kentuckians are urged to take advantage of the drive, which is unique in that it is strictly a public service effort and not a fund raising campaign.

TOUGH TIMES AHEAD

Kentucky has one of its best offensive football teams in years; and probably its worst on defense.

Here at the mid-way point in the 1963 schedule, the Wildcats have been able to outscore two of their five opponents, but in their own Southeastern Conference the Cats have gone zero for three.

This is supposedly the point in the schedule where Kentucky would come into its own. The SEC big guns, Ole Miss, Auburn and LSU, are behind them and traditionally at Kentucky the second half of the slate has been much kinder to the Wildcats.

With Kentucky's leaky defense, such does not seem the case this fall. It's Homecoming Day this Saturday afternoon in Lexington, Georgia is paying a visit to Stoll Field and the Bulldogs have been a consistent dweller lately in the SEC's second division. But things may have changed! Larry Rakestraw virtually rewrote the record book last Friday night as he passed for over 400 yards and led the Bulldogs to an astonishing 31 to 14 win over a favored Miami team.

After Georgia the Wildcats entertain Miami and a gentleman that was almost unanimously selected on the pre-season All-American teams. He's quarterback George Mira who is probably the best combined runner and passer in college football.

The week before the Tennessee game, Kentucky normally schedules a breather. This time Baylor occupes that position on the slate. Don Trull is the quarterback for the Baylor Bears, and he is passing the Southwest Conference dizzy. His coach calls him the top passer in collegiate football, and last year he led the nation in his speciality.

This may be the half of the schedule Kentucky was looking forward to at the outset of the 1963 campaign but it may not turn out that way. Three of the nation's best will take aim at the Wildcats in their final five games. There is indeed no rest for the weary.

STEAMBOATING

Bob Kennedy, who writes River Roundup, in The Ashland (Ky.) Independent, writes often of the almost forgotten steamboat era in Eastern Kentucky. One of his columns, December 30, 1962, is a rehash of items appearing in The Big Sandy Herald of the years 1872-1875.

He excerpts from the old newspaper the following item:

"The Steamer Telegraph left this place (Ashland) Tuesday morning (1872) of last week with the largest amount of produce shipped from this port at one time. It consisted of ginseng, beeswax, feathers, wool, dried fruit and etc., and filled almost all the available space."

"Another item lifted by Mr. Kennedy from the October 22, 1872, issue is about Capt. O. C. Bowles, of Pikeville:

"Capt. O. C. Bowles says he brought the best load of produce out of Sandy last week on the JERRY OSBORNE that he has brought out since he has been engaged in the steamboat business."

Mr. Kennedy writes of the Big Sandy steamboat owner in the same column:

"Capt. Bowles was one of the best known of the early Big Sandy boat owners and owned the TOM HACKNEY which was considered one of the wildest looking and noisiest operating boats on the Big Sandy in the early days and was named for a mountain man named Tom Hackney who was reputed to be about of the same appearance and characteristics of the boat named to honor him. Capt. Bowles also built the JERRY OSBORNE which was reported to be a rather nice looking boat as Sandy River steamers went and she, too, was named for a mountain man named Jerry Osborne of the section near Pound Gap. This boat was about as nearly the opposite of Hackney as two boats could be and the two men whose names the boats took were about as nearly opposite in appearance and other characteristics as two men could possibly be. Even their homes in the mountains were as opposite as the boats and the men in appearance and location."

The late Joe M. Davidson, Prestonsburg, was clerk on the JERRY OSBORNE, we are informed.

Another interesting item plucked from the Big Sandy Herald, date not given, but presumably in 1872, is a news story about "huge grindstones." The story notes: "The BELLE VERNON put off four huge grindstones at this place for the Norton Iron Works, weighing 4,000 pounds each."

The Ashland newspaper columnist adds:

"The BELLE VERNON was built at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in 1867 and operated between Pittsburgh and St. Louis until about 1873. The 'huge grindstones' which she put off at Ashland probably came from the vicinity of Marietta, Ohio, where there has been for many, many years a number of stone quarries from which these grindstones were made. There are yet in the vicinity of Marietta one or two of these companies still making the stones for use in all kinds of industry."

ELLISON MOUNTS HANGED

We are indebted to Mrs. Bruce Evans, Pikeville, for a newspaper clipping from a Pikeville newspaper of 1889 with the story of the hanging of Ellison Mounts for the murder of Allifair McCoy in the bitter days of the Hatfield-McCoy feud.

The headlines were fantastic by today's journalistic standards but was the usual in 1889. It had 17 lines: THE DROP, Ellison Mounts Goes Into Eternity From the Scaffold in Expiration of a Crime Unparalleled! The Murderer of Allifair McCoy Executed Today. The First Legal Death connected with the Celebrated Hatfield-McCoy Vendetta. A Victim of the Treachery of His Chief, He Dies on the Scaffold, While Others More Guilty Go Unpunished; History of His Crimes."

The headlines took seven and one-half inches of space! The story itself only 11 inches of reading matter.

The clipping follows:

"Ellison Mounts was the first of the Hatfield outlaw gang to die on the scaffold. Sixty guards, heavily armed, accompanied the condemned to the instrument of death which was situated in a valley near the city. Thousands of people witnessed the execution. Sheriff Maynard conducted the affair. Rev. J. W. Glover offered prayer on the scaffold.

"Garnet C. Porter, of the Catlettsburg Republican, representing the New York Sun and S. X. Swimme of this paper, were the only members of the press permitted on the scaffold.

"The death of Ellison Mounts today on the scaffold marks the first decisive effort of the law to avenge one of the most horrible outrages that was ever perpetrated on a peaceful people. On New Year's night of 1888, Rand'l McCoy, his gray-haired wife, Calvin and Miss Allifair, their children, and an orphan boy of ten years, were peacefully sleeping in their humble home on the west bank of Tug River in this county. Suddenly the stillness of the night was broken by the rapid discharge of firearms. The inmates of the cabin sprang from their beds to find the house surrounded by armed men. The fusillade continued. Father and son were making a gallant effort in defense of the family when a new enemy appeared on the scene. Suddenly the darkness was dispersed around the besieged home.

"The fiends had set fire to the building. The scene that follows beggars description. When morning dawned, the daughter lay dead near the dying embers of the house. A gaping hole in the young lady's bosom indicated the bullet's course.

"The gray-haired mother lay a short distance away with her face horribly lacerated though not fatally injured. In the shadow of the shade . . . (paper torn) . . . the edge of the cierring (sic) the son's body was found. A Winchester rifle ball had pierced his brain. The father and the orphan boy alone escaped injury.

ATTENDANCE IS URGED AT PIKEVILLE HEARING

Congressman Carl D. Perkins this week emphasized the importance of attendance by officials and citizens of the public hearing to be held November 22 at Pikeville by the U.S. Corps of Engineers on the advisability of providing improvements for flood control, hydroelectric power, water supply and transportation.

The first public hearing on these improvements was held at Pikeville, December 3, 1954. Since that time two interim reports were made, one recommending a local flood protection project for Williamson, West Virginia, the other giving preliminary consideration to flood control work and allied purposes for the entire Big Sandy River basin and recommending the North Fork of Pound reservoir.

Studies for all purposes except water transportation are nearly complete, and tentative conclusions can now be drawn on the projects studied. The November 11 hearing has been scheduled so that the required survey report may fully cover these projects.

The Pikeville meeting will be held at 1 p.m. in the Pikeville high school auditorium.

Interested persons are invited, said Col. Harrington W. Cochran, district engineer, Huntington, West Virginia, to discuss the needs for new projects as well as for those already under consideration. Opposing interests also will be heard.

Oral statements will be heard but Col. Cochran suggested that, for the accuracy of record, all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing. These written statements may be mailed to Col. Cochran or handed to him at the meeting.

Those desiring to make an oral presentation are asked to notify Col. Cochran of their intention and of the specific area of interest of each not later than November 19.

BABE DIES

Besides the parents, one brother survives. Funeral rites were conducted Saturday at home and burial was made in the Ike Roberts cemetery under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Under study are the Paintsville and Yatesville reservoirs in Kentucky; and, in West Virginia but yet in the Big Sandy basin, the Dismal Creek, Big Creek, Panther Creek and Knox Creek reservoirs.

Channel improvement projects studied are at Martin, three other towns on Right Beaver Creek, Meta on Johns Creek, Inez, six towns on Pond Creek, Welch and Grundy. Levees for Crum, Chattaroy, West Williamson and Julius Branch in West Virginia are on the "potential" list.

GETTYSBURG ADDRESS MYTH IS EXPLODED BY MAGAZINE

It is widely believed that President Abraham Lincoln made his great speech at Gettysburg, 100 years ago this November 19, with little or no preparation; that on the train he jotted a few notes on an envelope or a scrap of paper. It is also believed newspapers largely ignored the speech.

These beliefs are explored and exploded in a November Reader's Digest article, "A Few Appropriate Remarks at Gettysburg," by Tom Mahoney. Neither is true. Lincoln worked hard on his immortal 10 sentences. They had prompt notice and acclaim. Lincoln wrote half the speech in Washington, had no chance to work on the train, completed a first draft in the Wills House at Gettysburg that night and finished another the next day just before going to the battlefield.

He changed "this we may in all propriety do" to the more forceful "it is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this." He made changes even as he spoke, forgetting "poor" in "our poor power" and adding "under God" for a total of 270 words. Of these 190 are one syllable. He spoke less than five minutes.

An Associated Press reporter, Joseph L. Gilbert, who worked earlier in Harrisburg and later in Philadelphia, stood just in front of Lincoln, borrowed the draft that he held in his hand and telegraphed the complete text. Many newspapers published the speech in full next day.

The Library of Congress has two early drafts of the address. There are other copies in Lincoln's own hand in the Lincoln Room of the White House, Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., and the Illinois State Historical Society at Springfield, Ill. The last named was sold by Thomas Madigan, New York autograph dealer, in 1930 to James C. Ames, Chicago investment banker, for $150,000. A sixth copy is missing.

Simmons Family of Floyd County

Many elderly residents recall with fond memories the Simmons family of the Katy Friend section of West Prestonsburg. Mrs. Vicie Simmons, widow of Harrison Simmons, a road contractor, was noted for the hospitality of her home, kindness to neighbors and friends in death and illness.

Assigned Risk Plan For Auto Insurance Alteration Is Slated

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 5 (Sp.)—Kentucky's "assigned risk" plan for automobile liability insurance, whereby all companies writing this coverage must insure a number of high-risk drivers in proportion to the amount of business they do, will be altered effective January 1, 1964, to eliminate these high-risk drivers from the over-all loss-ratio experience which ultimately determines the rates for average drivers.

Insurance Commissioner J. Elliott Flanery said that the new arrangement would tend to lower rates for the average driver, although the effect will not be felt for some two years. Similar plans to separate the two types of experience in rate-making have been adopted in approximately 20 states, he said.

The latest study of assigned-risk drivers in Kentucky disclosed that these motorists cost $129 in losses and other expenses for bodily injury and property damage for each $100 taken in as premium. In the vocabulary of insurance actuaries, this means a loss ratio of 129 per cent, Flanery said.

Rates for these assigned risk drivers have also been standardized so that any of the approximately 250 companies which might be assigned the application will charge the same rate, he said. Drivers with the worst of the poor driving records will pay proportionately more, based on the number of points accumulated for accidents and traffic violations during the preceding three years.

Insurance agents who submit a driver's policy application to the Kentucky Automobile Assigned Risk Plan will be able to quote the premium cost to the customer immediately under the new arrangement. Since rates now vary from company to company, they presently can be quoted to the customer only after his application is assigned to a particular company.

Flanery pointed out even the assigned risk pool is not open to all drivers. Some with extremely bad driving records are disqualified, he said.

Some drivers, because of their age or other factors, may be considered poor risks even though their past driving records may be spotless. These drivers are insured under the assigned-risk plan at the same rates as those drivers insured by the companies voluntarily, Flanery said.

Flanery urged all insurance agents to contact their companies for details of the new plan, before the effective date of January 1.

AWARDS IN TREE PLANTING SLATED IN COMPETITION

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 5 (Spl.)—A free convention trip and a plaque will be the top awards for the best tree planting in a Kentucky county next spring, State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlack has announced.

In re-activating a contest last held in 1938, Matlack said he hopes the state's reforestation program can be increased to 20 or 25 million new seedlings planted a year. The Forestry Division now provides about 18 million seedlings annually to state tree farmers.

The award program is being sponsored by the Department of Conservation in cooperation with the Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts, U. K. Extension Service, U. S. Forest Service, State Bureau of Vocational Education and Kentucky Division of Forestry.

State Forestry Director Gene Butcher said representatives from at least three of these agencies in a county must form a team and take an active part in tree planting in order for a county group to qualify.

Each member of the winning team will receive an expense paid two-day visit to Louisville to attend next year's Conservation Congress or a comparable conference. A plaque will be awarded at the Congress to the winning county and to each of the winning team members.

Butcher said the county teams must submit a report of their efforts to the Forestry Division by next May 1. The information should include the methods used to get trees distributed to individual landowners, information and education activities, number of landowners planting trees and total number of trees planted, an outline of plans for the fall 1964 season and other data.

The contest, which Butcher hopes to make an annual event, is now open for the spring planting season only, and tree planting on state, federal or other publicly-owned land will not be counted.

He pointed out that judging of the entries will take into consideration the opportunity for planting that exists in each county at the present time.

Additional information can be obtained from the Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry, Capitol Annex, Frankfort, Butcher said.

Mrs. Georgia A. Cline, Age 41, Dies Oct. 24; Native of Floyd-Co.

Mrs. Georgia Annalee Cline, 41, Wilbur, Kentucky, died in a Louisa hospital, October 24. She was a native of this county.

Mrs. Cline was a daughter of Kenis and Myrtle Crider Spears, formerly of German, but now of Blaine. Her husband, Crawford Cline, survives. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Besides the husband, four daughters and five sons survive.

Graveside services were conducted October 26 at 1 p.m., the Rev. John Birch and Gallie Isaac officiating. Burial was made in the Cline cemetery at Cordell, Kentucky.

Metropolitan markets in Kentucky, as well as other states, have been captured by the Scotch pine. The pine's popularity will probably continue in the future because the percentage of wild trees on the Christmas market is dropping rapidly. It is down 12 percent now from the figure of five years ago. High quality plantation trees are pushing the wild trees off the market.

Cawood Calls Football

Cawood Ledford, WHAS sports director

"A terrific little guy," is the way Kentucky football Coach Charlie Bradshaw describes his right halfback Darrell Cox. A native of Miami, Florida, the Wildcat senior is a small package as far as major college football players go. Darrell stands only five feet, seven and tips the scales at barely over 160 pounds. While the sophomore-dominated Wildcats were turning in a lackluster performance in losing, 20 to 14, to Miami last Saturday, Cox was tremendous—and that's the opinion of Bradshaw! Darrell gained 130 yards on the ground and caught one pass for eight yards. He gained all but 15 of the yards that the entire Kentucky team collected on the ground.

Before the game Miami Coach Andy Gustafson called Cox, "the best little player in the country." Said Gustafson, "Cox can do so many things well. He is a dangerous open field runner. He is Kentucky's best pass receiver. He can pass, punt, and is, despite his size, a fine defensive back."

I asked Coach Bradshaw why Cox, a tiny man in a big man's game, was a good football player. "Well," he explained, "Darrell has tremendous ability to start with. He has good speed, quickness, and he has the excellent balance all good runners have. And Darrell is an intelligent young man. He has tremendous pride in himself, and wants to be a good football player." Bradshaw added with a smile, "I wish we had a few more like him."

With only three games remaining on the 1963 schedule, Kentucky has no chance for any kind of a season. But Bradshaw is going with sophomores in one of the toughest football leagues in the nation. Darrell Cox is one of a few seniors on the squad, and in Kentucky's final three games

Rural Service Leader Urges Participation
The "Keep Kentucky Cleaner, Greener" beautification program is in its fourth year, said Earl Martin, Prestonsburg, rural service chairman of the Ninth District, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, recently in urging all units in the district to participate in the program and to report on their accomplishments. This is a five-year, state-wide, continued program plan under the direction of Mrs. J. T. Vertees, rural service chairman of Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, in co-operation with Mrs. Connie Quinn, assistant director of Beautification, Frankfort. A winner is chosen from each of the 12 PTA districts, and then an overall state award is presented each year.

Hatcher School was the recipient of the beautification award of the Ninth district for the second consecutive year. The award was presented at the fall conference, held recently at the Centenary Methodist Church in Ashland. Hatcher also tied with Wylie, the first year of the program. Mrs. Eliza Cooksey, principal and school education chairman of Hatcher PTA, headed and outlined the plan of Hatcher participation, with every grade in the school submitting something for the clean-up program.

Rules for the school clean-up and beautification contest are: Each school will be allowed one entry, a written report covering each of the categories listed on the outlined plan or a scrap book and pictures may be submitted to supplement the written report, received by the unit presidents. Judging will be on a point system: School Plant, 400 points; School Grounds, 400 points; Written Reports, 200 points. Deadline for submitting an entry is May 1, 1964, and must go to the Ninth District president, Mrs. Clyde E. Blevins, 144 Main Street, Paintsville, Ky.

Leading the Bellefonte (Mich.) high school majorette corps this year is senior Bettie Layne.

"Really!" is the way she put her surprise on the last day of school when Mr. Downing, the band director, announced his choice for head of the 1963-'64 corps. This is her second year to serve on the senior corps, and it has afforded her many opportunities. Last year the band played for Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson, October 27, they played at the Detroit Lions' football game. Bellefonte high has approximately 2,500 students. Upon graduating Bettie plans to attend college in Kentucky.

She is the daughter of Earl Layne, of Bellefonte, formerly of Floyd county, and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Layne and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perkins, of Mantion.

She introduced Mrs. Archie Craft, of Whitesburg, who in turn presented Mrs. Breathitt, Mrs. Waterfield, Mrs. J. Murry Blue and Miss Frances Peden to the gathering.

HIT'S A LIE!
Legends that President Lincoln wrote his famous Gettysburg Address on the back of an envelope on a train and that Civil War newspapers failed to publish it are false, according to Reader's Digest. Two early drafts, with no irregularity in the handwriting and the testimony of one of the secretaries who accompanied him refute the train legend. Many newspapers published the text next day.

Teachers Working With Students Not Physically Able To Attend School Reached 26 Last Year

The two teachers, who began work last year with students who were confined to their homes because of physical inability to attend schools, reached a total of 26 pupils, it was said here by County Superintendent Charles F. Clark. Provision was made for the employment of the teachers in the 1962-'63 budget at the request of Clark.

It was pointed out that children eligible to have home instruction must be physically unable to attend, and have the mental ability to learn. The program does not propose to instruct the mentally retarded since these pupils are cared for in separate institutions. The handicap must be one that prevents the child from attending school for at least 30 days. The child's parents must provide a doctor's certificate attesting to the student's inability to attend.

College Choice Assist Offered by University; Advisers To Come Here

Kentucky high school seniors who are pondering the choice of a college or university will get information in November that should help them make a rational decision.

The information will be disseminated through the University of Kentucky's annual Visitation Program, which this month will provide high schoolers in 104 Kentucky counties with authoritative answers to their questions about college life in general and UK in particular.

Half a dozen UK representatives, each an authority on some aspect of college activity, will present an information program at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 21, in Prestonsburg for residents of Floyd, Pike, Magoffin, Johnson, Martin, Morgan and Wolfe counties.

All high school seniors in the seven-county area along with their parents, teachers, counselors and others interested in learning more about higher education in Kentucky, are invited to attend the meeting here. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of Prestonsburg high school.

The program will include a brief talk by one of the UK representatives, a longer question-and-answer period, and an informal social hour. It's the question period which gives the student and his parents all the information they could obtain in a personal visit to the UK campus in Lexington.

Questions dealt with by the visitation team usually cover such subjects as financial aid and school costs, academic requirements and expectations, housing, admission procedures and student activities.

INTRODUCING THE DEPENDABLES FOR '64

We have designs to get you in our power

Our engineers are a wily group of guys who spend most of their time dreaming up ways to win your approval. Take the Dodge Polara 500. You'd be hard-pressed to find a car that's got more going for you. Deeply-padded, contour-formed bucket seats. All-vinyl upholstery. Sill-to-sill carpeting. Padded dash. Center console. And lots of other trimmings. But that's only the half of it.

Perhaps our approach to power will further illustrate the point.

With the Polara 500 you aren't baked in on a certain engine. You can choose from a standard 318 cu. in. V8 up to a street-version of our wallowing, all-out 426 cu. in. Ramcharger V8. Compromise? Nope. We just feel that a freedom of choice is the surest road to your approval.

That's our way of doing business—giving you lots of car and lots of satisfaction at a price that's hard to quarrel with.

Your Dodge Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the point.

TWO TEAMS YET HOPEFUL

Of Reaching Playoffs; Last Games of Season Slated for Week-End

Three high school football games in the Eastern Kentucky area this week-end close out the regular season, but Paintsville and Elkhorn City are still hoping for a berth in the KHSAA playoffs.

Walter Brugh's Tigers have a regional test with Mt. Sterling and must win it to stay alive for the District 2, Region 3, Class A championship and then hope that M.M.I. defeats Bellevue in its Friday game. Paris has already won its district, and Elkhorn City nipped Catlettsburg, 12-7, for its fourth consecutive district win. The Cougars will take the title if either Mt. Sterling or Bellevue wins.

The Hazard Bulldogs, idle last week, will meet the Lynch Bulldogs in their season finale, Friday night, while Morgan County and M. C. Napier tangle on the Perry county field.

Elkhorn City closed out its season with the best mark of any area club with a 9-1 overall slate. Fullback Derek Potter scored the winning touchdown in the final two minutes by plunging over from the two-yard line.

The Cougars tallied late in the initial period as quarterback Bobby Brooks hit Norman Powell with a pass covering 55 yards. Catlettsburg's Phillip Caldwell intercepted an Elkhorn City pass on the 45 and sped 55 yards for Catlettsburg's t.d., and Ken Robinette then ran the ball over for the extra point to give the visitors a 7-6 margin until Potter's winning plunge.

Quarterback Fred Oakes passed for two touchdowns at Williamson Saturday night to lead West Virginia's fifth-rated Wolfpack to a 19-7 win over the Belfry Pirates.

Oakes tossed for the Wolfpack's winning touchdown in the third quarter when he hit end Cecil Scott with a five-yard pass. Halfback Darryl Bogar ran a kickoff 90 yards for Belfry's six points in the first frame.

Paintsville mauled Prestonsburg, 26-0, as rangy end Jim Allen scored two touchdowns and quarterback Bobby Porter passed for two.

Allen, a 6-5 end, grabbed Prestonsburg's first offensive pass and raced 35 yards for a t.d. with the game only two minutes old. In the fourth period, Allen took a nine-yarder from Porter and tallied the game's third marker.

On the basketball scene, the Martin Purple Flash won games on successive nights as they panted Betsy Layne, 94-66, and on Saturday night whipped the McDowell Dare Devils, 65-58. The Wayland Wasps also copied victory No. 2 with a one-point win over Maytown. Bob Tallent, the area's leading individual scorer a year ago, put on a tremendous one-man effort for the losers as he tossed in 46 points and bragged 20 rebounds.

JENKINS COPS '63 GRID TITLE

Cavaliers End Season With a Record of 6-1-1; Elkhorn City, Second

The Jenkins Cavaliers were officially awarded the 1963 football championship of the ten-team Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference at the fall meeting of the schools in Hazard Tuesday night.

Jenkins finished loop play with a mark of 6-1-1 as compared with a 6-1 Elkhorn City slate. Thus, under the Dickinson system of ratings, which the conference uses to select a champion, the schools tied with 125 points each.

During the season, Jenkins downed Elkhorn City, 44-12; therefore, under Item 2, Section 4 of the system applied: "If two teams have the same average points for the entire season, the victor in the game played between them during the regular season shall be ranked above the loser."

Whitesburg finished in third place with a league mark of 5-3.

Jenkins and Elkhorn City also dominated the all-conference team with seven of the 11 players; the Cavaliers had four players named to the first unit and Elkhorn City three.

Phil Greer, senior Cavalier quarterback, and Butch Greene, senior Hazard halfback, who paced the loop in scoring, were the only unanimous choices for the select team. Greene was also voted by the coaches as the league's outstanding player, and Jack Hall's fellow-mentors tabbed his work as the best coaching job accomplished in the circuit this year.

The loop will conduct its spring meeting in Hazard the first Friday following the state high school basketball tournament.

The league championship was the first for the Cavaliers, since 1957, and they also won the Class AA, Region 4, District 2 title, and will meet Cumberland on November 15 for the regional championship.
