NEW PARK FACILITIES PLANNED THIS YEAR

NEW ROOMS, CAMP AREA ARE SLATED

Revenue Bond Issue Authorized by State; Higher Receipts Seen

A 12-room addition to May Lodge, new tent-camping facilities and expanded camping areas and an enlarged boat dock are planned at Jenny Wiley State Park this year, it was announced at Frankfort Monday.

To finance these and improvements are other state parks costing an estimated $2,314,720, the State Property and Buildings Commission authorized the sale of revenue bonds. Finance Commissioner Felix Joyner said he considers the estimates high.

The new facilities, it is estimated, will add half a million dollars in state parks' gross receipts annually, it is estimated.

Under the proposal, 88 new lodge rooms at six state parks, 640 new individual tent and trailer-camping sites at 10 parks and additional dock facilities at four parks would be constructed.

New overnight accommodations are planned at these existing lodges:

Eight rooms at General Butler State Park; 16 rooms at Kentucky Village, 12 rooms apiece at Jenny Wiley and Natural Bridge state parks; 24 rooms at Lake Cumberland and 16 rooms at Rough River State Park.

New tent-camping facilities or expanded camping areas would be added at Blue Licks, Jenny Wiley, Buckhorn Lake, Rough River, Carter Caves, General Butler, Pennyville, Levi Jackson, Natural Bridge and Lake Cumberland. (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

VERY VARIABLE

I've always heard that Kentucky has the most variable weather to be found anywhere, and now I believe it. This morning (if the reports received are true) the temperature within the city limits of Prestonsburg ranged from 2 degrees below to 9 above. And, according to another report, there was a variance of 6 degrees from a man's house on one side of the street to his neighbor's on the other.

REVENGE

I charged George Alley $5 for a year's subscription to The Times to be sent to him at Florence, Oregon, and I suspect he wrote this with the idea of getting even with me, since I'm snowbound.

"We have just moved over on the coast overlooking the blue Pacific, 300 feet from the water. Am trying to figure how I can sit on the porch and fish for salmon. The steelheads are coming in, and I have caught several 10 to 18 pounds. . . . And we have four fresh-water lakes within a radius of six miles—all loaded with trout, bass and crappie."

(There may be more to that letter but I haven't the heart to look.) (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

TRIAL JURY SEATED IN SALISBURY CASE

The jury for the murder trial of Roy Salisbury was completed at 4 p.m. Wednesday, with a 13th juror seated for service in the event that a member of the regular panel becomes incapacitated.

Officials said some testimony may be heard before court is adjourned for the day.

Snow-and-ice-covered highways interrupted Tuesday the attempt of the Commonwealth to empanel a jury for the murder trial of Roy Salisbury as court was adjourned for the day, but the task was resumed Wednesday morning.

An additional 150 names were drawn from the jury drum of the Pike circuit court, and Sheriff Henry C. Hale was directed by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley to summon them for their appearance here Wednesday. These bring to 750 the total number of

AREA MEET SCHEDULED

Distribution of Funds To Aid Tourism Slated For Discussion Feb. 16

A regional meeting to plan distribution and management of state matching funds to boost tourism will be staged at Jenny Wiley State Park, February 16. The session will open at 10 a.m.

Miss Cattle Lou Miller, commissioner of the Department of Public Information, will be present to explain in detail how the matching funds will be distributed.

The special travel promotion funds appropriated by the 1965 Legislature, will be available for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Under a formula devised by the Public Information Department, each multi-county region will receive $1,000 plus $415 per county, plus $,015 per resident in the region, based on 1960 census figures.

This, Region 12—Floyd, Boyd, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Letcher, Martin and Pike counties—can receive $3,044.24 in state funds, to be matched 50-50 by funds raised by the cities, counties, individuals or organizations within the region.

The state funds can be used to cover half the cost of radio, television, newspapers, magazines and billboard advertising; preparation and printing of press kits (See Story No. 6, Page 6)

OBSERVATION OF MAY SET

Accused Harold Man Sent To Louisville; Conley Issues Order

Headman May, who is accused of the twin slayings at Harold of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hobson, was taken Tuesday to Central State hospital, Louisville, for 35 days psychiatric observation.

The order for May's committal was made by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley after May's counsel, Francis Dale Burke, of Pikeville, had entered a motion for such action and after a doctor from the hospital had examined May at the county jail here.

The study to be made of May will be to determine his mental condition. A similar study was made of Roy Salisbury at the same hospital, a few months ago, as a preliminary to his trial on a charge of slaying three persons at Drift.

Judge Conley directed that the findings in the study of May's condition not be spread on the court records but that they be made available to attorneys of record in his case.

May also was indicted last month on a charge of shooting and wounding his wife, Ruth. Date of his trial has not been set.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has named Keith Alley, of Prestonsburg, supervisor of the food stamp program in Knott, Leslie, Letcher, Owsley and Perry counties. He will be stationed at Hazard.

The Kentucky food stamp program is part of an overall program of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service to safeguard the health of low-income families through better nutrition and to increase the flow of abundant foods from the nation's farms through normal trade channels.

The food stamp program in Kentucky is administered by the Agricultural Marketing Service in cooperation with the Kentucky Department of Economic Security. Knott and Perry counties have had food stamp programs nearly two years, while Owsley begins its program February 1 and Leslie and Letcher counties begin their programs March 1.

Prior to his employment by the Agricultural Marketing Service, Alley was a sales representative for seven years for Shedd-Bartush Foods, Inc., of Louisville.

HICKS ASKS HEART FUNDS

Junior Chamber Head, Other Local Jaycees To Solicit Businessmen

Ted Hicks, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will serve as chairman of Heart Days-for-Business in Prestonsburg for the 1965 Heart Fund, it was announced this week.

Heart-Days-for-Business, a solicitation of businessmen on behalf of the Kentucky Heart Association, will be held here from Monday, February 8, till February 13, Mrs. Harris Howard, Heart Fund chairman, said. In accepting the chairmanship, Mr. Hicks said:

"Heart and blood vessel diseases are a constant threat to business and industry, afflicting skilled workers and executives in their most productive years. Years of training and investment can be destroyed by these diseases.

"Medical research, helped by contributions to the Heart Fund, has produced new and improved methods of diagnosing, treating and controlling heart and blood vessel disorders. As a direct result, more lives are being saved and prolonged, and more cardiac and stroke patients are going back to work, often to the same job. Remember these important facts when the Heart-Days-for-Business volunteer visits your office or shop. Your Heart Fund contribution is one of the best investments you can make in your life and in the economic and social welfare of your community."

The following Jaycees will call on businessmen during the week of February 8-13: Albert Burchett, Vance Mitter, Roy Ramey, Ralph Davis, Jr., Ollie Watts, Estill Lee Carter, Ted Hicks,

Her condition is described as fair at the Cabell-Huntington hospital, Huntington, West Virginia. Her grandmother said she suffered a brain injury, a broken ankle and rib and numerous bruises, and that she is semi-conscious.

Mrs. Hall said young Salisbury stepped following the accident and remained at the scene until an investigation was made. He is the son of James Salisbury, of Martin, director of pupil transportation for the Floyd county school system.

Harris Held in Jail Without Bond; Woman Freed on $5,000 Bail

Beaten about the head with a heavy timber at her home on the Middle Creek road, near here, last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Catherine Coffey Akers, 29-year-old mother of two, hovered between life and death this week at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington.

Willie "Jap" Harris, who had returned a week earlier to the neighborhood where the attack took place, was jailed later in the afternoon and charged with striking and wounding with intent to kill.

Mrs. Maude Fitzpatrick, owner of the separate dwellings occupied by Harris and the injured woman, was also jailed. She was charged with aiding, counseling and advising a person in the commission of a felony. She executed $5,000 bond Tuesday to appear later for examining trial.

Harris, who maintained his innocence of the striking and wounding charge, waived examining trial and is being held without bond.

The injured woman was first taken to the Prestonsburg General hospital where she was treated by Dr. J. D. Adams. Her injuries were briefly described as a fractured skull and numerous, severe scalp lacerations.

Surgery was performed at the Medical Center and her condition was listed as critical.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Hale went to the scene after having been notified by telephone of a disturbance at the woman's home, which is on old Ky. 114, a mile out of West Prestonsburg. Arrived there, he said, he was told by both Harris and Mrs. Fitzpatrick that nothing had happened except that a woman had fallen and "burst her head." By the time of his arrival at 4:10 p.m., an ambulance had taken the woman to the hospital here, and Hale left the scene, unaware that any extraordinary circumstances attended her injury.

Jim Miller, 35, later gave authorities a detailed statement, claiming he was an eyewitness. He said he was driving toward his home, up Middle Creek, with his 10-year-old son and that as he passed the cluster of houses occupied by Mrs. Fitzpatrick, the Akers woman and Harris he saw Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who called to him and hailed him with her hand to stop.

Miller added that he stopped and that as he backed his truck he saw the Akers woman run from a house, with Harris in pursuit, armed with a 2x4 timber.

"They ran a little way and got behind Maude's car," Miller's statement said. "Jap hit the woman with the board and knocked her down. He kept on hitting the Akers woman and must have hit her 10 or 12 times. Maude Fitzpatrick was standing at the back door. After Jap stopped beating the Akers woman, he started toward Maude's house. Maude met up with him and they started back toward the house."

Miller said he then started driving on up the road and that his son looked back and saw Mrs. (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

MAYOR ARCHER CITES PROGRESS OF CITY

Dr. George P. Archer, mayor of Prestonsburg, reported to the Kiwanis Club here in a "State of the City" address last Thursday evening, describing Prestonsburg as having been "in a state of turmoil for the past three years" because changes—changes for the better—were being made.

Prestonsburg only recently won the annual Opportunity for Progress District title for the third year in a row, he pointed out, "because a lot of people worked very hard for our town."

Mayor Archer said during the past year the city government spent $131,361.07 and wound up "in the black" with a cash balance of $18,826.63. But, he warned, the 1965 budget on which work has begun must be cut more severely than before.

This need arises from the fact that the city will have a loss of $10,500 from parking meter revenues which now are pledged toward the amortization of bonds issued to finance the construction of two municipal parking areas. In addition, he said, two men must be employed to take care of the parking lots, and their salaries must come out of the budget. Instead of having $131,000 in the budget this year, the figure will be cut to about $112,000.

But all is not dark. He pointed out that there are delinquent taxes due which amount to about $7,000 and that property will be advertised and sold to collect. "There is no reason why the citizens who pay their taxes should carry the load for their neighbors," he added.

Dr. Archer also pointed out that, in addition to the $18,826 cash balance on hand at the end of '64, all sinking funds have been fully funded and up to date. All debts are paid within 30 days of receipt of a statement and that the only account owed by the city is a note executed for the purchase of the site of the city park. Half of that note, he said, will be paid in March and the remainder next September.

The budget will be trimmed this year, Dr. Archer declared, because he and the City Council are not in favor of deficit spending and will not do so. "We stated," he said, "when we ran for office we would not borrow money or spend money we did not have, and we have not done so."

He expressed pride in the equalization program carried out here this year and said this has provided Prestonsburg the most equitable tax base it has ever had.

Pointing out that, although many things have been done, he declared the city administration has done everything possible "to conserve your tax dollars." Archer said, "We think the citizens of Prestonsburg have been very gracious."

Prestonsburg College, Morehead State, Sites For Feb. 9 Examination

State Revenue Commissioner J. E. Luckett has announced that the qualifying examination for examination for candidates for the office of county tax commissioner will be held February 9.

Kentucky Statutes provide they be held in at least one location in each Congressional District. Luckett said, but because of the large areas covered by the Second, Fourth and Seventh districts, the examination is being held in two locations in each of those districts.

Notices of the examination have been placed in all local newspapers and mailed to all county attorneys for posting in the courthouse as provided by law, Luckett said.

All the examinations are scheduled at 9:30 a.m. in the Seventh district, examinations will be held in the auditorium of the Prestonsburg Community College and in Room 413, Business building, Morehead State College.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN

One hundred years ago this week, Confederate Major Gen. John C. Breckinridge of Lexington became Secretary of War in the cabinet of President Jefferson Davis. He succeeded James A. Seddon of Virginia, who resigned because of ill health. With the appointment of Breckinridge, Kentucky had a cabinet member in each of the warring capitals, for James Speed of Louisville had been Attorney General in Lincoln's cabinet since the previous year. Since early in the Civil War, the Commonwealth had had senators and representatives in both the United States Congress and the Confederate States Congress—and both flags had a star to represent Kentucky.

In Breckinridge and Speed the law school of Transylvania University at Lexington similarly had representatives in both cabinets. Speed was 52 years old and Breckinridge was 43. Breckinridge had been vice-president of the United States from 1857 to 1861, under President James Buchanan, had been the Democratic nominee for President in 1860, losing to Lincoln, and had been United States senator from Kentucky from March 4, 1861, until he entered the Confederate States Army that fall as a brigadier general.

During the week the notorious Missouri-Kansas guerrilla and marauder, William C. Quantrill, crossed the Mississippi River into Kentucky, in the vicinity of Hickman. He and his outlaws were disguised in Union Army cavalry uniforms. They rode hard and were in the Salt River country south of Louisville before military authorities were aware that they had entered the state. It was Quantrill who in August of 1863 had captured and plundered Lawrence, Kansas, killing about 150 men and boys and destroying property worth a million and a half dollars.

With Quantrill when he came to Kentucky were the James brothers, the Halls, the Pences, the Longs and other cutthroats who had a reputation for ferocity and cruelty. It was said that Quantrill when he left Missouri gave it out that he and his men were on their way to Washington to kill President Lincoln. But Quantrill was destined to be killed in Kentucky.

Before the week was out, Midway, in Woodford county, was looted by about 25 outlaws who robbed the citizens, burned the railroad station, and then rode to Woodburn, a noted horse-breeding farm a few miles away, and stole 15 blooded horses. At the time it was reported that this gang was led by Quantrill and "Sue Mundy," but on the same day it was also reported that "Sue Mundy" was within two miles and a half of New Castle, Henry county—and New Castle is sixty miles from Midway.

Lt. Gov. Richard T. Jacob, who had returned from exile the previous week, presided in the State Senate and made "a thrilling, indignant and patriotic address," of which 1,000 copies were ordered printed for the use of the senators.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

Lexington, Ky.—Traffic safety is the topic being discussed at a National Leadership Conference in East Lansing, Michigan, January 25-27. Two state board members of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers are representing this state at the conference.

KEEP WALKS CLEAR FOR SAFETY

Many accidents result from ice-covered steps and walks, warn UK Extension Service specialists. Remove the ice when possible. When it can't be done, treat the area with sand or salt—use ashes or cinders if neither sand nor salt is available.

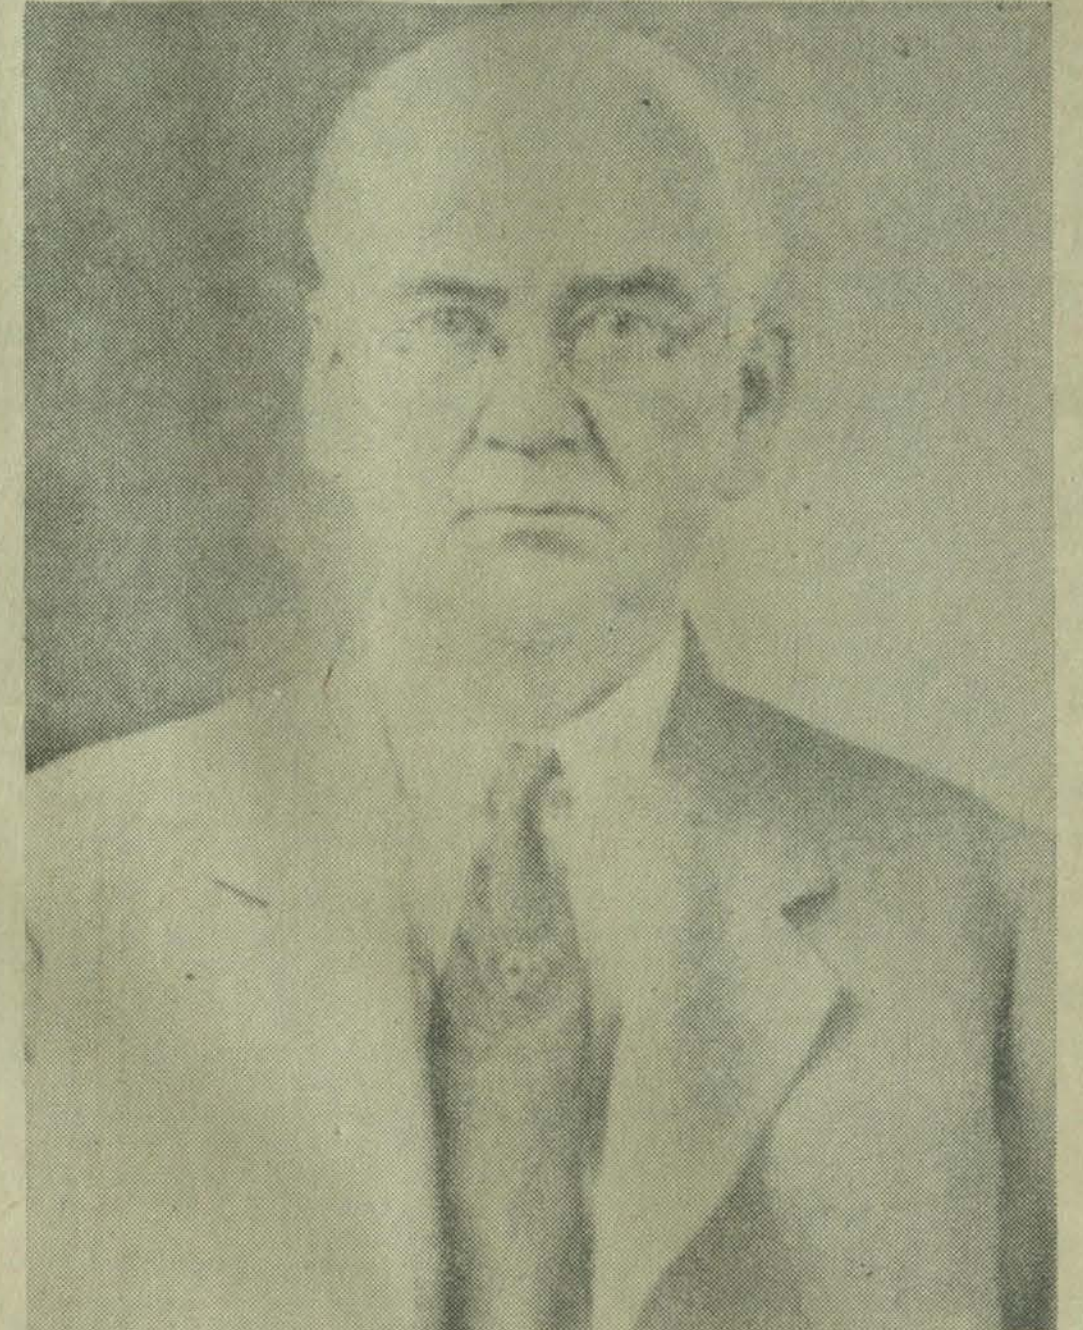

TART CHERRIES

Both canned and frozen red tart cherries are plentiful now, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. Try topping a cake with red tart cherries made into a colorful sauce. Or use drained cherries in cake batter for an extra special touch of color and flavor.

4 COUNTIES CERTIFIED

Food Stamp Coupons For Needy Increased In Eastern Kentucky

Needy families in four Eastern Kentucky counties—Breathitt, Johnson, Martin and Owsley—who have been certified as eligible by the Kentucky Department of Economic Security will begin receiving food stamp coupons next week under the U. S. Department of Agriculture's expanded food stamp program.

The Department of Economic Security reports that nearly 1,235 households in the four counties, representing 6,107 persons, have applied to participate in USDA's food stamp program.

Three other Kentucky counties—Leslie, Letcher and Magoffin—plan to begin their food stamp programs March 1. The seven counties will join Floyd, Knott and Perry counties, which have been participating in the food stamp program for some time. Carl R. Horn, of Prestonsburg, is the U. S. Department of Agriculture's representative in the multi-county program.

Food coupons will be issued to families determined by the Department of Economic Security to be in economic need of food assistance. Families receiving some type of public or general assistance under Kentucky's welfare program are considered to be in economic need.

Other families may also receive food coupons provided their family income does not exceed specified amounts. The amount of income permitted to such families is worked out by the Department of Economic Security with USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. It is in line with the standards used by the state to determine eligibility for its welfare programs.

Participating families will exchange the amount of money they could normally be expected to spend for food for coupons, and will then receive additional coupons free of charge. The value of bonus coupons issued to families will vary. It will depend upon such factors as normal patterns of food consumption, family size, and income.

USDA pays for the difference between the amount each family pays and the total value of the coupons it gets.

Families use the coupons to buy food in authorized retail stores at existing prices. Except for imported meats, and other food items clearly identified on the package as imported, the coupons may be used to buy any food.

Coupons may not be used to buy alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, soaps, pet food and similar non-food items. These items were taken into consideration when the purchase requirement was determined.

Community College, Auditorium, at 9:30 a.m., local time, Tuesday, February 9, 1965.

AREA HELP BILL VOTED

Senate Passes Measure By Landslide; Cooper, Randolph Co-Sponsors

The U. S. Senate this week rushed through the $1,092,400,000 Appalachian Recovery Act by a landslide vote of 82 to 22.

Voting for the bill were 51 Democrats and 11 Republicans; 7 Democrats and 15 Republicans opposed it.

The House will get on with it immediately. Committee hearings began Wednesday and are to be completed by the week-end. By April 1, Senator Jennings Randolph, of West Virginia, predicted the legislation will be on the President's desk for signing. Randolph and Kentucky Senator John Sherman Cooper were the shepherds for the legislation in the Senate.

The Appalachian program is to be a five-year undertaking that may involve several billion dollars before it is ended. The heart of the plan is to break down the region's geographical isolation with a modern network of roads. Financed with $840 million from the federal Treasury and $360 million from the 11 states in the region.

Hopefully, the highways will open up a major recreational area for the Eastern seaboard's crowded cities. They are also intended to stimulate commerce and industry.

The bill provides money and legal authority for a federal-state effort to improve and intelligently exploit Appalachia's rich natural resources—water, timber, coal and agricultural land. Regional health centers and vocational schools will be built. There will be a major attack on water pollution.

Finally, the legislation creates a regional agency that will develop long-range plans for economic development and growth.

Toodles Wells For SHERIFF DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

At this early date in the campaign I am appalled at the number of good men and women who are disillusioned and disgusted at the whole lot of candidates for the office of sheriff of Floyd county.

One frequently hears such comments as, "We have no choice," or "Why doesn't someone with an unblemished record seek this important office?" The simple truth is, there are no such men. If they never made a mistake, the sum total of their accomplishments equals 0.

I have been active in the Democratic Party all my adult life. It has trusted me with some important positions and I have never once failed that trust nor hedged its responsibilities. I have tried to give rather than get, to lead rather than merely show the way.

This is my first time to seek a county office and I'm begging for your support. Together we can make Floyd county a safer place to raise and educate our children. We can never stop all law violation but we can bring to a screeching halt the prevailing sentiment that some can do it with impunity.

I PROMISE NO MIRACLES -- ONLY MY VERY BEST.

Thirty Years Ago

(February 1, 1935)

Dr. W. L. Stumbo has sold the Beaver Valley hospital at Martin to a group of Pikeville doctors—Paul Gronnerud, R. S. Johnson, M. D. Flannery, A. G. Osborne, S. B. Casebolt and R. W. Raynor. Thirteen converts of the Free Will Baptist Church here were baptized in the Big Sandy river here last Sunday. The fire which destroyed the barn of John (Cat) Cahoon Friday morning in the Porter Addition here may have been of incendiary origin. Mr. Cahoon said. Miss Mabel Porter, Floyd circuit court reporter, was seriously injured Friday when the auto driven by her brother, Paul, skidded on icy pavement at East Point. Jarvey Hamilton, night watchman for the Pike-Floyd Coal Company at Betsy Layne, was killed by a revolver shot Sunday night. There died: Mrs. Sally Davidson Fitzpatrick, 78, widow of H. H. Cox Company and Schwaceter's, both in Williamson, W. Va. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and belonged to the Eastern Star.

Survivors include her husband, Bruce Evans, three sons, J. L. Williamson, of Seattle, Wash., Willard Evans, of Norfolk, Va., and Louis B. Evans, of St. Augustine, Fla., a daughter, Mrs. Doris Williamson, of Pikeville, 18 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Boy Scouts Schedule Attendance At Church During Observance

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers in Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, will fulfill their obligations to be "faithful in their religious duties" by attending religious services in connection with Boy Scout Week which observes the 55th anniversary of the national boys' organization.

Services were conducted by the Rev. C. L. Neikirk at 2 p.m. Friday at the Eastin-Rickey Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling. Burial was made in Machpelah cemetery.

Palbearers are Vimont Layson, Roger Womack, David Howell, John T. Petro, Thomas D. Grubbs, Dr. Frank Sewell, Andrew Cline and Dr. Harold Malone.

Scouts of Jewish faith will attend Sabbath services on Friday evening, February 5, and Saturday, February 6, while other Scouts in uniform will attend their own churches with their parents on Sunday, February 7.

Many churches plan to use the Boy Scout Week theme, "Strengthen America's Heritage" and to recognize their leaders and Scouts as part of services or special programs, according to George F. Leatherman, of Wheelwright, chairman of the Scout council's camping and activities committee.

While not a religious teaching movement, the Boy Scouts of America believes that no boy can grow to a successful manhood without a firm belief in God, Leatherman said.

"No matter what the boy may be—Catholic or Protestant or Jew—this fundamental need of good citizenship should be kept before him," Leatherman said. "The Boy Scouts of America recognizes the religious element in the training of the boy, but it is absolutely nonsectarian in its attitude toward that religious training. Its policy is that the organization or institution with which the Boy Scout is connected shall give definite attention to his religious life."

Floyd county churches in the council that are chartered to use the Scouting program include: Auxier Free Will Baptist Church, Auxier; First Methodist Church, Prestonsburg; Vogel-Day Methodist Church, Harold; Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Martin; David Baptist Church, David; Garrett Baptist Church, Garrett; Saint Mark A. M. E. Church, Wheelwright; Calvary Baptist Church, Betsy Layne; First Presbyterian Church, Prestonsburg; Methodist Church, Wayland.

There are 401 Cub Scouts registered in the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, F. B. Fowler, council president, reported on the occasion of Boy Scout Week.

"Cub Scouting is a home-centered program," Fowler said. "The Cub Scout pursues activities in his own home under the guidance of his parents. His program consists of simple skills and group activities carefully chosen to challenge him at the eight-through-10 level."

The Cub Scouts belong to 22 Cub Scout packs sponsored by churches, P-T.A.'s, and other community groups, Fowler said.

More than 120 high school age boys in Lonesome Pine Council are taking part in the Exploring program of the Boy Scouts of America, Fowler said.

"Exploring is a program of action," Fowler explained, "doing a wide variety of activities that interest the majority of the members in each Explorer post. Some Explorer posts specialize in specific vocations such as science, auto mechanics, or different fields of business; but all emphasize the six areas of vocational, fitness, service, social, outdoor, and citizenship skills."

Explorers in the Lonesome Pine Council belong to nine Explorer posts sponsored by religious bodies, service clubs, business and industry, and other community groups.

More than 1,750 boys are Boy Scouts in the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to F. B. Fowler, council president.

In connection with Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13, with its theme Strengthen America's Heritage, Fowler explained that Boy Scouting is a game with a purpose for boys 11 years of age or older.

"The purpose of Boy Scouting is to help boys become men and to train them for citizenship," Fowler said. "Each boy, through the give-and-take of group living and doing things that appeal to him, has the chance to develop himself into a man—strong in character, healthy in body, skillful with his hands, and keen of mind, ready to be of help to other people," he continued.

There are seventy-nine Boy Scout troops in the Lonesome Pine Council sponsored by churches, service clubs, and other community groups, Fowler said.

Her husband was president of the Mt. Sterling National Bank for 30 years and director of that institution for half a century. He also served in the state legislature.

Mrs. Pieratt, a native of Morgan county, was a daughter of Congressman John Wickliff Kendall, who died in office while in Washington, and Martha Davidson Kendall, members of prominent pioneer families of Eastern Kentucky.

A member of the First Methodist Church, she had been a resident of Montgomery county since 1906.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. James M. Nesbitt, Mt. Sterling, and Mrs. N. M. White, Jr., Prestonsburg; a granddaughter, Mrs. Ann White Meade; a great-grandson, Steven Lee Meade and two great-granddaughters, Donna Ann and Martha Noel Meade, all of Lexington.

Services were conducted by the Rev. C. L. Neikirk at 2 p.m. Friday at the Eastin-Rickey Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling. Burial was made in Machpelah cemetery.

Lady's Arm Bent Like Jack-Knife

One lady told us her arm used to be doubled up like a jack-knife because her muscles were stiff and sore with rheumatic pain. She said people would stare at her. Finally she got RUGON and now says she can raise her arm above her head and the awful pain and stiffness is gone entirely.

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this NEW Liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Store.

It says here:

LEGAL TERMINOLOGY

My legal education was extended a bit this week by a lawyer-friend. We talked of cases in which a juror feigned illness or made himself ill in order to get a mistrial of a case which appeared to be lost.

That, I now learn, is in some parts known as a "Mountain demurrer."

CORN—NOT "CAWN" MAN!

Now, this column does not propose to become a repository for every joke told pertaining to churches, preachers, and so on, but this one somehow struck me as right funny.

It has to do with the young fellow who had just completed his seminary training and was invited by a certain church to come, preach a "trial sermon." He showed up at the appointed time, preached his best sermon and was highly complimented for his effort. He talked with members of the congregation, then had lunch with the deacons. All this went smoothly, apparently, and he returned home with the feeling that the church would call him as its pastor.

But no call came. Days went by, and finally he decided he would make a call on the chairman of the deacons and learn just where he stood and why.

And he got his explanation. "Your sermon was fine," said the deacon. "Our people liked you very much. And our deacons enjoyed fellowship with you at our luncheon. But when I asked if you would have some corn and you handed me your glass instead of your plate—Brother, we for some reason got just a little bit suspicious."

MEASURES OF SUCCESS

Going up the ladder or sliding down? Difficult to say? Here are a few guides that might help.

You are probably getting to be a poobah in the firm if—

You get your haircut on company time without a feeling of guilt . . .

You spend more than an hour at lunch and no longer bring it to work in a paper bag . . .

The guy who once was a rung or so above you no longer steals your ideas and calls them his own. (Now you steal his) . . .

You get sealed memos, marked, "Important," and they're not from a friendly loan company . . .

The office boy replies, "Yes, sir," instead of whining, "For Pete's sake, what do you want now?" . . .

The fellow office workers who used to think you were a dope now ask you what is the dope.

Later, when told that warrants charging him with carrying a concealed deadly weapon and possession of homebrew had been sworn out for him, he pleaded guilty to these counts.

But, he maintained, "I'm not guilty of killing anybody. If I do anything, I believe in doing fair. But I won't plead guilty to something I didn't do."

(Shortly before Harris was questioned, a report saying that the woman had died had been received at the courthouse.)

Harris said the revolver taken from him was Mrs. Fitzpatrick's but that she did not know that he had it in his possession.

Harris admitted to the group that he had, earlier Saturday, killed a five-week-old puppy which had been given him. "I warped it against the ground and threw it over the bank," he said.

Asked why he killed the dog, he explained that it whined so much he couldn't sleep.

Authorities hold that the woman was first struck with a piece of coal while inside the house she occupied. Heavy bloodstains were on the wall and floor of a room of her home and on a block of coal found there, they said. A length of 2x4 to which blood and hair clung was found outside the house.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick did not make a statement to officials, upon advice of the attorney, Burnis Martin. Her examining trial has tentatively been set for February 22.

Harris talked freely after having been advised by both Judge Stumbo and County Attorney Sturgill of his rights. He at first considered undergoing examining trial on the striking and wounding charge but later changed his mind, waiving all the charges to the April grand jury.

He admitted having served five prison terms, one of which was a federal sentence.

The injured woman, officers said, is the wife of James Akers. Her children are aged 4 and 2.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY . . . Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm T. George celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary Jan. 28 at their home on North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg. Mr. George is a retired C. & O. Railway Company employee. Mr. George observed his 74th birthday, Nov. 15, and Mrs. George observed her 74th birthday, Dec. 3. Children of this union are Douglas George and Clyde E. George, both of Prestonsburg. Johnny M. George, of David, Thomas E. George, of West Van Lear, Otis Melvin George, Adrian, Michigan. They have 14 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Fitzpatrick and Harris scuffling on the porch. He quoted his son as saying he saw Harris take something from Mrs. Fitzpatrick's hand and then shove her from the porch.

Harris was arrested here by Chief of Police Bill Potter and Policeman William Booth after they had been told Harris was drunk and armed. He had come here in a truck driven by Oscar Wallen, it was said, and was refused admittance to the Fountain Korner Drug because of his drunken condition. Halted at the rear door, he went to the front and again was refused admittance by Hern Burke, one of the owners of the store. Burke said Harris then told him he wanted a pack of cigarettes and that he took the 35 cents Harris gave him and went back inside the store to get them for him. Meanwhile, Wallen had entered and warned those inside that Harris had a gun.

When Burke turned, he saw Harris with a revolver in his hand, but he pocketed the weapon, took his cigarettes and left. Shortly afterward, he was arrested at Ball's Restaurant, a short distance away.

"I don't know what I'm charged with—I'm not guilty," was Harris' reaction when questioned Monday by County Judge Henry Stumbo, Commonwealth's Attorney Harold Stumbo, County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill, State Detective Chester D. Potter and Deputy Sheriff Hale.

Later, when told that warrants charging him with carrying a concealed deadly weapon and possession of homebrew had been sworn out for him, he pleaded guilty to these counts.

But, he maintained, "I'm not guilty of killing anybody. If I do anything, I believe in doing fair. But I won't plead guilty to something I didn't do."

Additional boat slips and docks would be provided at Kentucky Lake, Rough River, Lake Cumberland and Jenny Wiley State Parks.

New housing facilities at the state colleges authorized are:

Murray, 400-bed men's dormitory and 320-bed women's dorm.

Morehead, 204-bed men's dorm and 202-bed women's dorm.

Eastern, two 400-bed men's dorms, a 400-bed women's dorm, and 150 additional units for married students.

Western, two 400-bed men's dorms, one 400-bed women's dorm.

Kentucky State, 200-bed men's dorm; 29 units for faculty housing.

No cost estimates were given on the projects, which are in programming or the initial phases of planning. They are expected to be completed by the fall of 1966.

The college housing facilities will be financed by federal loans to be repaid from room rentals to students.

The lodge and vacation cottages at Jenny Wiley State Park were booked "solid" throughout the tourist season last year, and a need for more cottages as well as additional rooms has been seen. But it was said unofficially recently that construction of more cottages will depend upon passage of a voted bond issue.

Officers Are Elected By Presbyterians Here; Installation Slated

Officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Church held in the circuit courtroom, Sunday evening. Reports from the various officers and organizations of the church were given.

James E. Goble and Frank H. Layne were elected elders for a three-year term, and Edmund R. Burke, Sr., was elected an elder for two years to fill the unexpired term of Earl Flower, who moved from the city.

Fred James and Mrs. Vada Reed were elected deacons for three-year terms.

Frank H. Layne and Mrs. Vada Reed will be ordained and installed at the morning worship on February 14, and the others, having served previously, will be installed at that service.

Plans were announced for another meeting soon to consider plans for the new church building, and for the breaking of ground as early in the spring as the weather will permit.

James E. Goble and Rainley White were re-elected representatives to the Big Sandy Parish, and will serve for another year.

Earlier, the Session of the church reelected Miss Alma Collins as financial secretary, and elected Mrs. Ray Howard as treasurer.

other mineral elements, thanks to modern technology and science.

And, while no diamonds have ever been found in Elliott's Kimberlite dikes, exploration operations over the years have found minerals that now are very valuable in industry.

For instance, a company of Eastern Kentucky geologists and attorneys who leased the area in 1955 and core-drilled a part of it, sent samples to Denver and Germany for testing, and received assay reports that some 18 other minerals and elements.

Tungsten is used for hardening steel and for abrasive tools and now is quite valuable in the industrial world.

But most valuable is titanium. This is the white element now used to fuse into molten metal to make titanium sheets and high heat-resistant metals for the supersonic jet airplane industry. The element is highly resistant to acids and heat. Titanium plates withstand heat up to 1,700 degrees.

When the United States decided to subsidize the building of supersonic jet planes to compete with the French and English Concordie supersonics, the American commission stipulated that the new planes must be built to exceed the speed of the Concordie, 1,400 miles an hour. The U. S. plane is projected to travel at least 1,550 miles an hour.

Steel-aluminum gets white hot at this speed. Thus the decision to use titanium for fuselage and wings and for lining the jet engines.

Titanium, a white element, is quoted at over $6 a pound now. I. J. Farber Industries, of Germany, made assays of cores from the Elliott dikes in 1956 and reported a titanium content of 19.7 percent.

Iley G. Browning, Jr., said the gravity concentrate plant which his company will erect on Hamilton Branch will be used in the first operation of separating the ore and earth into its component parts.

Products from the gravity extraction plant will be hauled either to Ashland or Lexington for further separation, he said.

The local plant separates the earth and ore through a complex process into component minerals. Further processing will be required to produce the purified product, Browning said.

Browning said Thursday his company's first operation will be to extract industrial abrasives from the area. It is presumed that this means tungsten, the metal used to harden steel and die cutting tools.

He said also that the firm was interested in extracting titanium. Then he added, "We plan also to extract several other minerals such as cerium concentrate and fibrous minerals."

Bulldozers leveled the plant site last week on Hamilton Branch. This is a tributary of Little Fork in eastern Elliott not far from the Lawrence and Carter county lines. It is on nearly the exact spot where an English company did mining operations in 1910 and 1911, and just over a hill from Ison Creek where the Kimberlite Diamond Mining Company did exploratory mining in 1932.

The area first drew attention in 1890 with publication of the first geological survey. It showed the dikes and described the formation as similar to those in South Africa.

The land was soon leased or purchased by eastern interests. One Matthew Sellers, of Baltimore, purchased a 400 acre tract that includes most of the dikes.

Mr. Browning said Kentanna Minerals, Inc., has the Sellers lease and also the Rathiff-Warlock tract adjacent. It is on these tracts that minerals will be extracted separated by gravity and sent to market if they are found to be in paying quantities.

Both tungsten and titanium are among the highest priced metals used in industry, and both are in great demand.

Fibrous minerals also are in great demand in modern industry.

Science and industry may make the area more valuable than even the English or Kimberlite prospectors imagined back in 1932 and 1910 when they prospected for diamonds.

PERSPECTIVE
BY ROBERT J. HASTINGS
This time of year the minds of many Kentuckians go back to that snowy day on February 12, 1809 when Abraham
Lincoln was born in a log cabin near Hodgenville.
One of Lincoln's assets was his ability to express profound truths in simple language. On this 156th anniversary of his birth, we do well to recall his famous house-divided speech in 1858:
"If we could first know where we are, and whither we are tending (going), we could better judge what to do, and how to do it."
This is a question on many minds today; who are we, and where are we going? We may not always say it that way, but that's the sentiment of our hearts. As one teenager asked,
"What do good grades mean?
And what if I go along, get married, have a good job and raise kids? Do we know what it is all about?"
Compare the teenager's question with that of Lincoln asked over a century ago and you note they are very similar, who are we, where are we going?
One explanation of Jesus' popularity with the common people was his ability as a teacher to help each listener feel he was somebody. On one occasion he reminded them that God knows even the number of hairs on a man's head, and that not a sparrow falls without his knowledge.
When you and I grasp the fact that man is more than a mere speck of cosmic dust in a universe void of feeling or purpose, we are on the way to self-realization and self-fulfillment. Not all the way, mind you, but on the way!

Recently I have gone over a number of geological maps that were made from surveys that took place in the 1920's. What struck me most forcibly, for I had experienced the changes from that older time, was the smallness of communities, as revealed by country schools. On one such map I measured and found that many a schoolhouse was less than three miles from its nearest neighbor, some of them much less than that. I took some study of existing roads, of hills and valleys and rivers to determine why these centers were so close together. Some of the older politicians used to speak of walking six miles to school; they certainly did not live in the immediate area of Bowling Green and other neighboring county seats, for they could have run across some of the school districts in a single game of Hare and Hounds. Even now, near my seventy-fifth birthday, I walk many times a year and in all seasons much farther than most children used to walk to school, even the ones who lived down in the bend of the creek. Of course, in some of the mountain counties, distances were greater, but I have not had much contact with mountain politicians and others who used to walk so far to get an education. Similarly, rural churches, even of the same denomination, were often relatively close together, and I am thinking now, not of modern roads and cars, but of horses and buggies and wagons. Just before my own bow to the world there had been a great building of small community centers, whether of religion or education or government. It was no great task for most of the people in this part of the world to get to church or to school or to a place to vote or to a cross-roads store to exchange gossip with fellows from the other side of the small worlds that then existed. Denominationalism was so rampant that often several small churches of different beliefs grew up in the same community and occupied buildings across the road from each other, as many older churches still do in my territory of observation. And post offices were a dime a dozen. At Fidelity, where I grew up, there had been a post office since the very first years of settlement of the Jackson Purchase. Within a ten-mile diameter, with Sulphur Springs as a center, there came to be eight or ten small post offices, three or four of them established after I could remember. So, when the horseback rider from Murray came bringing the mail to New Concord, he brought, also, the few letters and pulp magazines and catalogues for people who got their mail at Lax or Hamlin or Hyman, etc. Democracy, in its institutions, was then in its scattered-out era.

But it would be well to look at roads a little before making too abrupt a judgement about the smallness of communities. Our house, the very one in which I was born, was, as we learned decades later when cars came into use, eleven and three-tenths miles from the courthouse, again a distance that I can walk now with no practice. But driving a horse attached to a vehicle, especially in winter, was hard work. Deep mud in winter, especially in the Flatwoods, where the land is so flat that water hardly runs off but just stands, made the going an adventure, sometimes a very dirty one. In order to get to town and back the same day, it was necessary to arise like the woman in the Proverbs, "while it was yet night," and start on our journey. Three hours, at least, and usually more than that, had to be spent in making this one-way journey. Fortunately, to me, when I was old enough to make it, there was a lot to see along the way, particularly the queer people who did not look exactly, I thought, like the ones at Fidelity. It was to be a long time before those miles grew shorter.

COOKING APPLES
When cooking apples, use only enough water to prevent them from sticking or scorching. Apples have a high natural water content and will become too soft and lose their form if too much water is used, according to UK Extension food specialists.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky
By JOE JORDAN

One hundred years ago this week the Louisville Journal published a letter from Lt. Gov. Richard T. Jacob, who had just returned to Kentucky. He had been arrested in November by order of Maj. Gen. Stephen G. Burbridge, the Union Army's military governor of the state, and exiled to Confederate territory by being put through the Federal lines in Virginia. He said he had been warned that the penalty would be death if he returned to the Commonwealth during the war.

Jacob, who had been a Union Army colonel prior to his election as lieutenant governor and had been wounded in battle, had campaigned for President Lincoln's Democratic opponent, Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, and had criticized as "military murders" Burbridge's having innocent persons shot to death in reprisal for guerrilla slayings of Union sympathizers. He charged in his letter to the Louisville newspaper that his arrest the previous November 11 at his home on the Ohio River, 25 miles above Louisville, had been ordered by Burbridge at the instance of the Rev. Dr. Robert J. Breckinridge of Lexington "for the latter's revenge, not patriotism." (Burbidge later denied that Dr. Breckinridge, a clergyman and a strong Lincoln supporter, had anything to do with Jacob's arrest; the army officer said he alone was responsible.)

Upon being put through the lines, Jacob said, he had asked the first Confederate sentry who challenged him to send him to the Confederate commander in that area, Maj. Gen. John C. Breckinridge of Lexington, with whom he was acquainted. Breckinridge gave him a pass to Richmond, Virginia, and from the Confederate capital he conducted negotiations which resulted eventually in his being passed through both Confederate and Union lines on the eastern front in Virginia. He then went to Washington and obtained permission from President Lincoln to return to Kentucky in safety.

A Federal scouting party routed some guerrillas near Mt. Eden, in Spencer county, killing one and capturing another. The prisoner was executed on the spot.

A story said guerrillas had "recently" burned the Clinton county courthouse at Albany, the Crittenden county courthouse at Marion, and the Spencer county courthouse at Taylorsville.

DOUBLEHEADER FRIDAY NIGHT

Martin and Prestonsburg, idled by inclement weather in recent scheduled games, will return to action Friday night in the local fieldhouse.

Denzil Halbert's Purple Flash test Paintsville in the 7 p.m. opener, and the Black Cats meet Oil Springs in the second game.

Many schools in the region are running two to three basketball games behind on their schedules, and this is the only month in which they can be made up. The district tournament starts March 3 and this will force several clubs to play as many as ten games in February.

Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Pikeville and West Liberty will be the sites of the four district tournaments in the 15th region.

Last week the Kentucky High School Athletic Association named the host schools for the tournament; however, this does not necessarily mean that the tournaments will be held at these schools.

Since the schools need revenue to finance their respective athletic programs, all in the 15th region play the tournaments at the largest gymnasium in the district.

The 57th district (Pike county) will be held in the Pikeville high school gym, with Belfry serving as host school. The 58th (Floyd county) has been held in Prestonsburg's spacious fieldhouse for the past eight years and again will be this year. McDowell will be the host school.

The 59th district (Martin, Lawrence and Johnson counties), is set for Paintsville's gym, with Flat Gap as host school, and the five-team 60th district (Elliott, Morgan and Oil Springs from Johnson county), is carded for West Liberty, with Morgan County the host.

Martin high, since winning four tournaments, has been forced to cancel three games to stay within the 30-game limit. Flat Gap, Warfield and Virgie have been cancelled and the Purple Flash, 24-2, have only five games left in regular season play.

They will meet Paintsville in Prestonsburg, Friday night, then tangle with Garrett, Meade Memorial, Jenkins and Maytown, in that order. The Maytown game has been shifted from February 6 to February 26 in the Martin gymnasium.

Two young Prestonsburg officials, Paul Phillip Hughes and Harry Burke, are receiving considerable praise from the region's coaches as top-flight officials in both basketball and football. The Floyd county grade school basketball tournament will open in Prestonsburg's fieldhouse, February 8, and will continue with play on February 10, 11. The winner will enter the regional tournament at Morehead State College, later in the month.

Black Cats Win, 70-66, Over Yellow Jackets

Prestonsburg outscored Hindman's Yellow Jackets on the Knott county floor by six points in the final quarter to pull out a 70-66 triumph Friday night, its 10th in 16 games.

The loss dropped Hindman below the 500 mark at 8-9.

Freddie Setser led the Black Cats and all scorers with 28 points and John Turner hit 23 for Hindman.

Morgan County High Downs Betsy Layne

Betsy Layne, Ky.—Morgan County got off to an eight-point first quarter lead and hung on to nip Betsy Layne, 57-55, Tuesday night.

The Bobcats, dropping their 12th game in 18 starts, pulled within two points at intermission and matched the visitors point for point the rest of the way, but could never catch up.

Carter King and Harold Adkins led the Bobcats with 21 and 16 points, respectively.

DR. HYDEN A VETERAN

100 YEARS AGO TODAY...

Our country was involved in the most devastating of all wars—the Civil War. Had there been only one County Judge election every 25 years, then there would have been only four judges in the past century.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY...

Our country was once again involved in a vast and devastating war—namely, World War I. Had there been only one County Judge elected every 25 years, then there would have been only two judges in the past half-century.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY...

War clouds can be seen hovering on the horizon. On December 7, 1941, the Japs pulled their sneak attack and here again the declaration of war is upon us—namely, World War II. In July, 1943, Dr. Hyden enlisted as a private in the United States Marine Corps, and he served continuously for 43 months—27 of which were spent overseas.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY...

For your life we had to pay, soldiers, sailors and marines, one and all.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY...

Others were at home serving as elected officials—today some of those same people are asking you to re-elect them.

Dr. Hyden served almost four years in defense of his country, over half of which was overseas in the combat zones. Dr. Hyden doesn't want a dead to the office—he only wants to serve four years as your County Judge.

WITH YOUR VOTE YOU CAN HELP HIM TO HELP YOU.

BROWN FAMILY

A memorandum on the Brown family and a request for additional information comes to my desk this week. The request is from Mrs. Lorraine Prater, of Brainard, Mrs. Walter Ward, West Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Ed Moore, West Van Lear, Kentucky.

The memorandum follows:
"I'm writing about the Brown family from Asheville, Ashe county, North Carolina.

"My grandmother's father and some of his brothers and one sister came from North Carolina and settled at the foot of Abbott Mountain, Floyd county, about 100 years ago.

"Ben, Bill and Larkin Brown were brothers. Larkin Brown was married to Elizabeth Lewis and had thirteen children: Dilson, Serena, Maddy, John, America, Sarah, Abby, Aaron, Bill, Lona, Katherine and Andrew.

"Larkin Brown was my great-grandfather. My grandmother, Mrs. Lona Brown Moore, now lives at West Van Lear, Kentucky. She has one sister, Abby Hickot, Ashland, Kentucky."

Our correspondents also note that they are interested in Mitchell Hall's History of Johnson County, Kentucky. This volume may be seen at the Floyd County Library.

Anyone having information on the above Brown families are requested to write either of the three persons named.

COLVIN FAMILY
A letter from Oliver Haught, 200 Abend street, Belleville, Illinois, contains information on the Colvin family origins.

"I recently found an old friend of 65 years ago, now of Tioga, Louisiana, near Alexandria. He is 33 and I am 78. He is a disabled man but his son, Glenn Colvin, has explained the family history. I knew the family in Wayne county, Illinois, in the nineties. He, Aden Colvin, and his brother Charles and sister Lena were the children of Tom Colvin merchant and postmaster, Cisne, Illinois, Tom was a Civil War veteran. He was a son of Amos Colvin. Amos, born in Highland county, Ohio, early in 1800, was a son of a Thomas Colvin. Evidently Thomas married Hannah Ashcraft, likely in Fayette county, Pennsylvania. After his service in the Revolutionary War he moved to probably Mason county, Kentucky.

"About 1804 Thomas Colvin moved to Highland county, Ohio. He lived there nearly 40 years and became successful. Two brothers, John and James, Jr., followed him to Kentucky and Ohio. We think they were sons of a James Colvin who was known in New Castle in 1740. We have much on his military career but none on his family or all of his children. We find many Colvin families. One found recently is in Bedford county, Pennsylvania."

NEW KENTUCKY BOOK
Warren S. O'Brien, 315 Oakland Avenue, Waukesha, Wisconsin, advises that his book, "Adventures Along the Cumberland," will be issued soon. It has been under preparation for years.

Mr. O'Brien is a professional photographer and writer and has long been interested in the Cumberland River section of Kentucky. The author doesn't say but it is presumed that it will be illustrated with some of his excellent photography.

The author was recently awarded one of the coveted awards in professional photography. He was given the Qualified Rating by the Professional Photographers of America, Inc. (P.P.A.) at a luncheon in Chicago. The Qualified Rating is the most sought after classification in professional photography. Only 426 in America are so listed.

PAMPHLETS FOR SALE

This columnist has recently completed an 18-page booklet on the life of Jenny Wiley, pioneer mother and borderland heroine, for whom Jenny Wiley State Park was named. All the traditional stories have been removed and the small biography written from the records. Much new material is included. It can be purchased for $1.50 postpaid. Write Box 421, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Three other pamphlets on the history of our area are also for sale. One, "Four Men of the Cumberlands," is getting scarce. It is the story of Devil John Wright, Big Ed Hall, Bad Tait Hall and Dr. M. B. Taylor, the latter called Red Fox of the Cumberlands, by John Fox, Jr., in his book, "Trail of the Lone-some Pine."

The second pamphlet, "Lieut.-Col. Stephen M. Ferguson, U.S.A.," is a biography of Floyd county railway promoter and Union soldier. The third pamphlet is titled, "The Overland Letter," and is a biography of Elias Barnett, Prestonsburg native, who carried the first overland letter from Independence, Missouri, to Capt. Sutter in the California gold fields. Barnett traveled with the Bartleson-Bidwell immigrant party and the adventures of this group is one of the most interesting sagas of the West.

Any of the pamphlets may be procured by writing Box 421, Prestonsburg. Price is $1.50 each, postpaid.

Miss Ferguson Selected

Miss Amber Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ferguson, of Wheelwright, has recently been selected to attend the Kentucky Youthpower Conference to be held at the Sheraton hotel, Louisville, Kentucky, on January 29 and 30. Amber will be one of four Senior Girl Scouts representing the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council at this annual conference sponsored by the food industry of Kentucky.

With the theme, "Food Comes First," delegates from the Girl and Boy Scouts, 4-H, Future Homemakers groups of Kentucky will seek to improve dietary standards and knowledge of the food industry. The program will include keynote speakers, tours of food processing plants and discussion groups acquainting delegates with career opportunities. The conference will also feature a banquet and dance for the group.

Amber is a junior at Wheelwright high school. She is a member of Troop 316 whose adviser is Mrs. Bobby Grimm.

WHAT'S IN AN EGG?

The egg shell doesn't tell us much about what's inside, but the carton label does, says Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension marketing specialist. Carton information includes the size, grade, brand name, and the name of the producer, packer, or retailer.
