Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30 and 20 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(March 8, 1935)

Alex H. Spradlin has been named police judge here to succeed E. P. Arnold, who resigned. Quarantined in his home when his young son Billy became ill of scarlet fever, the Rev. Harry F. King, pastor of the Methodist Church, preached to his congregation Sunday via public address system installed by R. H. Koch, local radio repairman. His sermon topic—"Church Attendance"—Ora Lee Brown, 17, formerly of Prestonsburg, was shot and killed Sunday at Neon. Betsy Layne and Prestonsburg high schools will represent Floyd county in the regional tournament which begins here Thursday night. Construction by relief employees will start Friday on the Abner Fork and Left Beaver roads, the latter job to extend from Hunter to McDowell. Sixteen pairs of jackrabbits caught in a Kansas drive were shipped here and released last week by L. C. Keeling (anybody know what happened to them?). Milford Hicks was shot through his leg Monday at "Greentown," near Garrett. There died: The Rev. M. T. Murphy, 78, February 14 at Hager Hill; J. Marvin Fairchild, 37, Floyd native, February 24 at London, Kentucky; Mrs. Emma Mosaleete Ferrell, formerly of Boldman, February 27 at Louisa; the eight-month-old baby of John H. Shepherd, February 24 at Dock.

Twenty Years Ago

(March 8, 1945)

The casualty list of nine Floyd county soldiers reported this week: Killed in action—Pvt. Curtis Conn, of Dana; wounded (The first four men listed here had been previously wounded and returned to action)—Pvt. Clarence Adkins, of Risner; S/Sgt. Elmer Nemet, of Wheelwright; S/Sgt. Richard McGuire, of Water Gap; Roy Mullett, of Bonanza; Pfc. Teddy Stumbo, of McDowell; S/Sgt. Harrison Stephens, of Risner; Pfc. Lewis J. Knott; Pvt. John W. Burke, of Cliff. Wounded Saturday morning by a bullet from a .22-caliber rifle which was accidentally discharged as her children played with the weapon, Mrs. Fanny Francis Derossett, 47, died a few hours later at the Prestonsburg General hospital. The bullet first hit Mrs. Reynold Derossett, daughter-in-law of the victim, inflicting a flesh wound, then struck the elder woman. Purchase for $40,000 of gas holdings in Floyd, Pike and Magoffin counties and in West Virginia which include approximately 20 producing wells was made Monday by Ex-Magistrate W. A. Wills, Commonwealth's Attorney John Allen, Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, Otis Cooley and Ken Sparks, all of Prestonsburg. Garrett high school's Black Devil basketball team won the Floyd county district championship in last week's tournament at Maytown. Two Floyd county fathers were serving 10-day jail terms here this week following conviction as second offenders in failing to send their children to school, county attendance officers said. Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Collins, of Minnie, a son, Clinton Ray, February 28; to Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGuire, a son, Frank, Jr., January 22 at St. Armes hospital, Columbus, Ohio; to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Callihan, Jr., a daughter, Mary Jo, January 31 at Ft. Thomas, Kentucky; to Mr. and Mrs. Merle J. Keirn, of Columbus City, Indiana, a daughter, Sharon Kay, January 13 at Wolf Lake, Indiana. There died: Alex Crider, 92 years old, at home on Copperas Creek, Monday; Mrs. Mary Ann Branham, 81, at the home of a daughter, Tuesday; Mrs. Louraney Shepherd, 73, at home at Lancer, Sunday; James E. Amburgy, three years old, of Maytown, Wednesday at the Martin General hospital.

Aged Dwale Resident Victim at Hospital; Funeral Set Saturday

Ralph Steel (Fisher) Lafferty, 86, of Dwale, died Wednesday morning at the Beaver Valley hospital. He had been seriously ill five days. Mr. Lafferty was a son of Robert and Mandy Prater Lafferty. His wife, Sarah Ann Lafferty, survives. He was a member of the Methodist Church. Surviving sons and daughters are Joe Lafferty, Cincinnati, Ohio, L. P. Lafferty, in Michigan, Mrs. Ida Calhoun, West Prestonsburg, Mrs. Susie Wells, of Water Gap, and Mrs. Lou Ellen Porter, of Allen. Brothers surviving are Jonah Lafferty, of Garrett, Marion Lafferty, of Cliff, Charles Lafferty, Prestonsburg, and Anderson Lafferty, of Lancer. Thirty-four grandchildren, 60 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild survive. Funeral rites will be conducted Saturday from the Dwale Methodist Church, the Rev. Claude Goble officiating. Burial will be made in the Dwale cemetery under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Risner Resident Dies At Martin Hospital; Pneumonia Is Cause

Mont Ousley, 84, of Risner, died Sunday at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin. He had been suffering since March 1 from a fractured hip caused by a fall. Death, however, was attributed to pneumonia. Mr. Ousley was a son of Bill and Betty Prater Ousley. His wife, Mima Ousley, survives. He was a member of the Regular Baptist Church. Surviving son and seven daughters are Oscar Ousley, Mrs. Goldie Hughes, and Mrs. Sylvia Crum, all of Risner, Mrs. Sarah Ousley, Hamlin, Ohio, Mrs. Betty Prater, Haysville, Mrs. Nora Bradley and Mrs. Sina Davis, both of Warsaw, Indiana, and Mrs. Arvilla Spradlin, of Bonanza. One brother, Monroe Ousley, of Risner, survives. Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Cold Springs Regular Baptist Church, the Revs. Henry King, Hershell Huff, Bert Howard and Banner Manns officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Revival of Dogwood Trail Sponsored by Woman Groups

Two Prestonsburg woman's groups—John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the Woman's Club—were reported this week as working toward revival of the Dogwood Trail movement which was begun here, several years ago. Because roads along which the dogwoods will eventually be planted are not completed or, in some cases, actually locate, the women are asking residents here to plant dogwoods in their yards as a means of community beautification and to keep alive the hope of a dogwood-bordered highway in the future. The idea of planting dogwoods along U. S. 23 began, several years ago, as a memorial to Floyd county's war dead, and was led by Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, of Prestonsburg, with Scout troops, school children and many citizens helping. Highway improvements and the work of right-of-way clearance destroyed the trees, however. It was pointed out that dogwoods should be planted by the end of March. Persons interested in procuring young trees for planting in their yards may procure prices and assistance by telephoning either Mrs. Lillian Pelphrey or Mrs. Edith F. James.

Making the Red Cross disaster-relief job possible, Seale observed, is the willingness of the American people to respond to an emergency with offers of assistance. "For example, in Kentucky last year," Seale said, "a total of $5,019 was contributed by citizens for the relief of disaster-sufferers during the Ohio Valley Floods. Another $852 was contributed toward the relief of Alaskans struck down during the Easter earthquake." "In the words of President Johnson," Seale said, "Americans have come to expect the Red Cross to be on hand in every disaster—whether local, national or international. But once a year we must remind ourselves that we must not let it down. The Red Cross depends on private contributions and volunteer efforts of private citizens."

Floyd Health Officer Emphasizes Prevention Of Poisoning In Family

National Poison Prevention Week is being observed March 14-20 this year, said Dr. R. L. Hall, Floyd County Health Officer. Floyd countians should be aware of the seriousness of accidental poisonings, especially to children less than five years of age, and should emphasize poison prevention in their homes and communities this and every week, he added. According to the U. S. Public Health Service, approximately 50 percent of all poisons swallowed involve internal medications, and half of these accidents involve aspirin. Other substances reported include cleansers, kerosene, lighter fluid, furniture polishes and waxes, bowl and drain cleaners, pesticides, insecticides, and disinfectants.

- As part of your own Poison Prevention Week, observe all of the following precautions, Dr. Hall urges:
1. Keep medicines and household products out of reach and out of sight of children, preferably in locked cabinets or closets.
 2. Clean out your medicine cabinet regularly. In discarding old medicine, flush medicine down the drain, rinse container with water, and then discard container.
 3. Never call medicine candy. When deceived in this matter, children may locate the bottle and eat or drink its contents.
 4. Be sure all medicines and household products are properly labeled, safely stored, and always read the labels before using.
 5. Keep all medicines and household products in their original containers. Cups, drinking glasses, and soft-drink bottles mean food and drink to children.
 6. Keep food and household products separated. Cleaning fluids, detergents, lye, soap powders, insecticides, and other everyday household products should be stored away from food.
 7. If your child is in the crawling stage, arrange to keep household products in places other than below the kitchen sink unless the cabinet is locked. If he is able to climb, find a shelf that is completely beyond his reach or, better yet, lock these products in a cabinet or closet.
- Call your physician immediately in the event of accidental poisoning. Speed is essential, Dr. Hall said. Save and give the physician or hospital the poison container with its label intact and any remaining contents. If the poison is unknown, bring along the vomitus for examination. Accidental poisonings can be prevented by proper precautions in the home and by careful instruction on the part of the parents. Poison-proof your home today.

Lexington, Ky.—Farm and garden crops depend on proper amounts of water for good growth. Most of this, says Lyle Leonard, UK Ag Extension Service conservationist, comes from water stored in the soil.

Miss Tackett served on the Administrative and Finance committee for the Central African Republic delegation. A freshman at Berea College, she is also a member of the college debate team. She was graduated from Prestonsburg high school last year.

These are the Palmer-Dunbar elementary school at Wheelwright and the Rosenwald elementary school at Tram.

Palmer-Dunbar high school for colored pupils has already been eliminated, pupils attending the Wheelwright high school, and Negro high school pupils at Tram attend Betsy Layne high school. But crowded conditions at Wheelwright elementary prevented merging the Palmer-Dunbar grades with that school this year. Five Negro pupils and one white attend the Rosenwald school.

The new Wheelwright elementary school, which will open next fall, will accommodate the Palmer-Dunbar pupils, and either Betsy Layne elementary or the Tram rural school (District 43A) will accommodate Rosenwald's.

The board set the merger of the two schools for the beginning of the 1965-'66 school year and notified parents and children of the action.

The resolution pointed out that the action was taken to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act which requires complete integration to be effected before any further expenditure of federal funds is permitted in the Floyd school system. It also points out that the pending Federal Aid to Education legislation requires the same compliance.

The Floyd school system has already been denied matching funds for National Defense Education on the ground that Floyd county has these two schools where integration has not been effected.

The five projects in Eastern Kentucky announced by Secretary Wirtz will provide job and work experience for 1,550 young men and women 16 through 21 at a total cost of $371,400, of which the federal government will provide $233,000. The funds are made available under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

NEW CARPET COLORS

Soon, you may not have to worry too much about the children tracking mud on your living room carpet, for the carpeting may have the color of the soil in your area woven right into it so the mud won't be too noticeable. Carpet manufacturers have asked USDA soil scientists for help in determining the general soil colors in different geographic regions of the United States with the idea of including these colors in their carpet patterns.

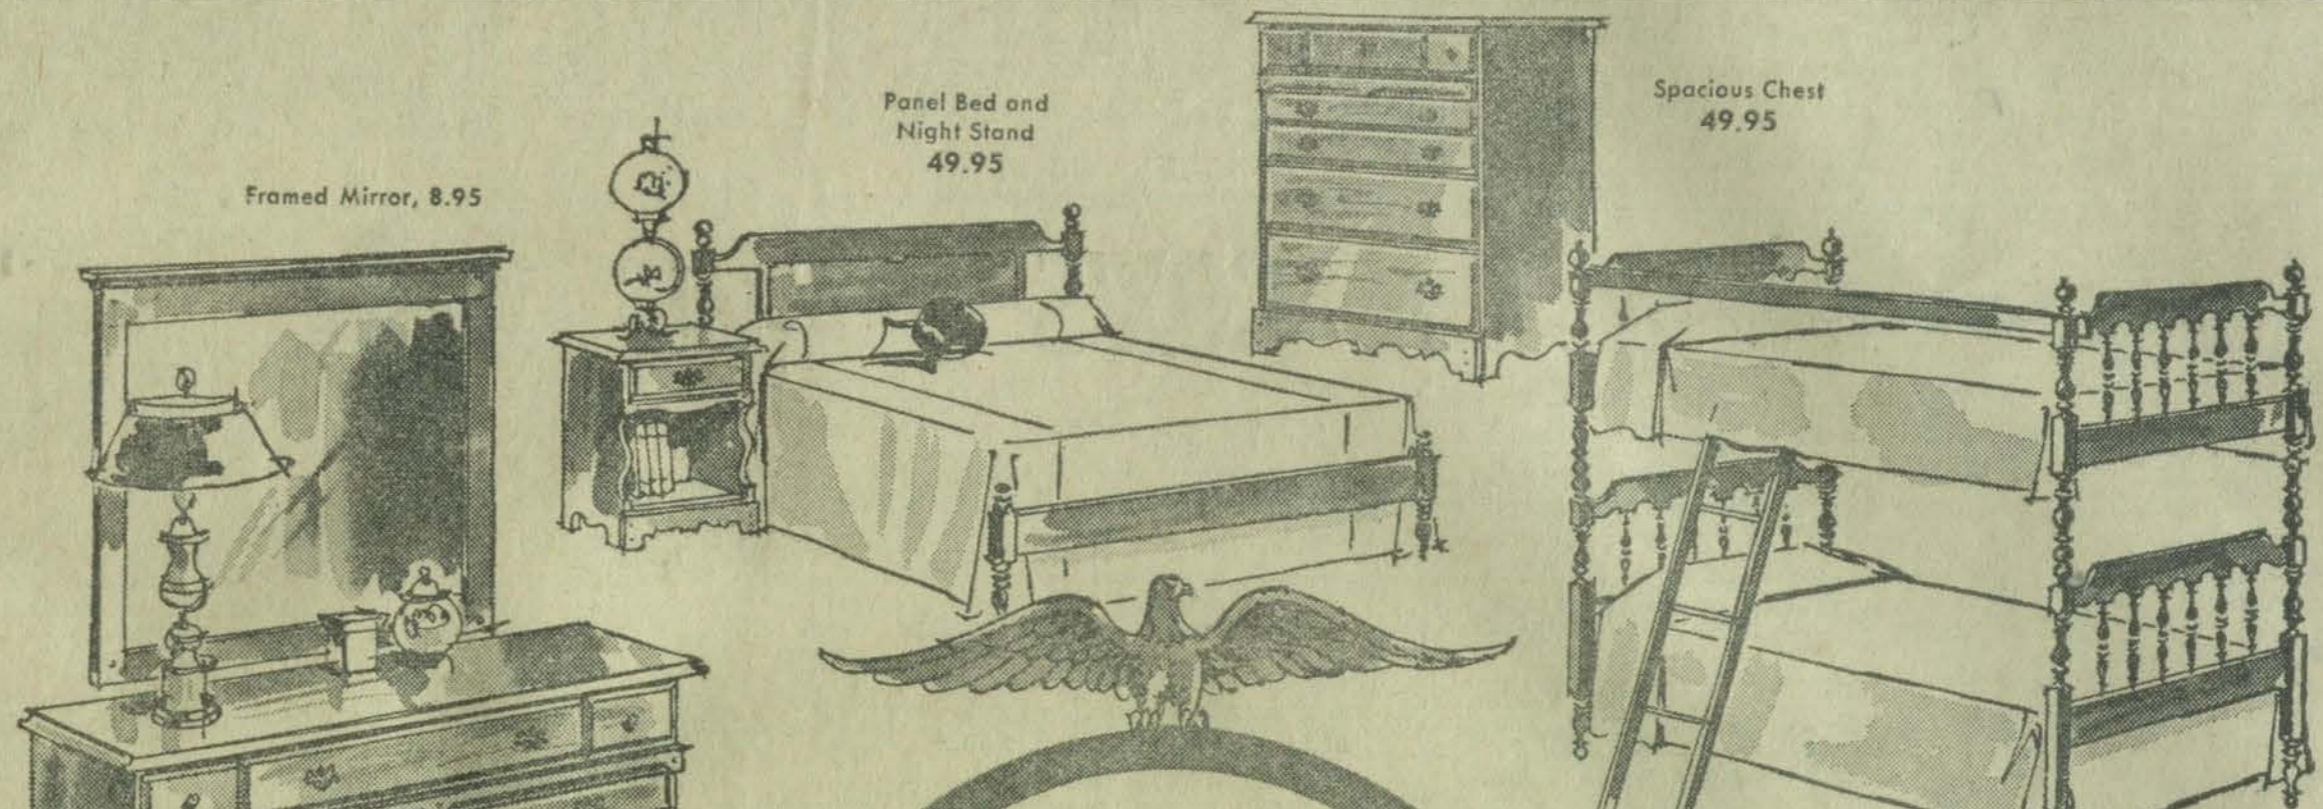

No stones of gem quality have been reported but synthetic diamonds for industrial purposes, according to Reader's Digest, are now made in the United States, South Africa, Ireland, Sweden, Japan and the U.S.S.R. Originally they cost more than natural stones of the same grade but are now priced the same in the United States.

When clothes are washed in water containing dissolved iron, the iron may combine with the soap or detergent used, forming iron soap or some other iron compound that is not soluble in water. The build-up of this iron compound on clothes results in a yellow stain. You can remove the stain by using a water conditioner on the clothes.

District Court Orders Salyersville Trucker To Pay Minimum Wages

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has obtained a court order in the U. S. District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky at Pikeville, permanently enjoining and restraining Salyersville Trucking Company, Inc., and Smith Patrick, individually and as president of Salyersville Trucking Company, Inc., and doing business as Patrick Trucking Company, a proprietorship, from violating the minimum wage, overtime and recordkeeping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The order was approved by Federal District Judge Bernard T. Moynahan, Jr., following the filing of a complaint based upon an investigation conducted by personnel from the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, located at 402 Cowden Building, 121 Walnut, Lexington, Kentucky.

In addition to banning further minimum wage, overtime and recordkeeping violations, the injunction obtained by the Labor Department specifically orders the defendants to pay to the government the sum of $1,477.19, from the proceeds of which restitution will be made to each of the 35 employees found to have been inadequately compensated.

According to the complaint filed by the Secretary of Labor, the defendants are subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act by reason of the fact that they and their employees are engaged in transporting and delivering asphalt, stone, gravel and other road building materials to various job sites for use by others engaged in the construction, reconstruction and repair of various roads, streets and highways, including U. S. and state highways, which are instrumentalities of commerce.

Our Historic Heritage

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky
(No. 321 in a Series)

A Picture From Yesterday

Family group pictures of our yesterdays were often made by itinerant photographers who went from place to place visiting homes, church affairs or political events. This picture of the Bailey family was made in 1918 on Brush Creek, Hippo post office, Floyd county.

Left to right are Minnie Bailey, who married Harry Ousley; Bub Bailey, who died Dec. 10, 1918, approximately seven months following the taking of the picture; Bennie Bailey, Mrs. Bub Bailey, now in her eightieth year and the widow of Bill Arnett; Margaret Bailey. In the rear, standing, is Anna Vanderpool.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of the past in recognition of our historic heritage.

THE POOR HUCKSTER

There was once a poor man, a huckster, who used to go round the country villages selling his little goods. This poor creature, in going round on his journeys, heard some old women singing the simple little ditty:

"I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all, but Jesus Christ is my all in all."

Jack recollected that "Ah!" said he, "that just suits me!" So he began to hum it himself as he went on his huckstering expeditions, and by God's good grace that little ditty burnt its way into poor Jack's heart. After sometime he became a converted man, gave up his swearing and drinking, and began regularly to attend the house of God.

At last he determined that he would join the church; so he went to the minister. The minister said, "Well, friend, what can you say for yourself?" "Not much," said he. "Only this:

"I'm a poor sinner, and nothing at all, but Jesus Christ is my all in all."

"Well," said the minister, you must tell me more than that." "No," said Jack, "I can't. For that is my confession of faith, and that is all I know."

"Well, friend," said the minister, "I can't refuse you church fellowship, but you will have to come before the church meeting, and the members will have to see you and judge you."

Jack accordingly went to the church meeting, and there sat some good, old-fashioned deacons, some of whom began to see whether they could not find fault with him. Jack stood up, and on being requested to state his experience, simply said—

"I'm a poor sinner, and nothing at all, but Jesus Christ is my all in all."

So one old deacon said, "Is that all you have to say?"

"Yes," said Jack, "that's all."

The minister said, "You may ask my friend some questions if you like." So one says, "Brother Jack, have you not many doubts and fears?"

"No," said Jack, "I never can doubt but that I'm a poor sinner, and nothing at all, for I KNOW I AM; and I cannot doubt that Jesus Christ is my all in all, for He says He is, and how can I doubt that?"

"Well," said another, "but sometimes I lose my evidence and my graces, and then I get very sad."

"Oh," said Jack, "I never lose anything, for in the first place, I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all — no one can rob me if I am nothing at all — and, in the second place, Jesus Christ is my all in all, and who can rob Him? He is in heaven; I never get poor, for I am always nothing, but I always have everything."

Then another began to question him thus: "But, my dear friend Jack, don't you sometimes doubt whether you are a child of God?"

"Well," said he, "I don't quite understand you; but I can tell you I never doubt but that I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all, and that Jesus Christ paid it all."

"Ay, ay," said the other one, "but some times I make great advances on the road to heaven, and then I feel a great deal better, but I often go back again, and that causes me trouble."

"But," said Jack, "I never go forward, for I'm always a poor sinner and nothing at all, but I cannot go back, for Jesus Christ is my all in all; and blessed be God, He will not go back, and I am safe."

Always after that in the villages they used to call him, "Happy Jack," for he was always happy, and the reason was that you could not drive him from that simple standing point— "There is nothing in me; I believe in Jesus Christ; I deserve punishment; I am lost in myself, but I trust in Him who came into the world to save sinners, and He will NOT LET ME PERISH."

CAMPING PERMITS ISSUED BY PARKS DOUBLED, SAID

The number of camping permits sold by Kentucky State Parks last year was nearly double the 1963 total. Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell has announced.

Last year 61,491 camping permits were issued, representing more than 239,000 actual campers. This was an increase of nearly 22,900 over the 38,594 permits issued in 1963 for 186,000 campers.

In addition, during 1964 an estimated minimum of 20,000 campers used the facilities at Jenny Wiley State Park and Rough River State Park, which did not issue permits.

Bell said the figures reflect the increasing popularity of state park camping sites and the rapid growth of this mode of family vacation.

Camping facilities at the parks will open April 1 this year. The start is early for the second year because of a large advance demand from campers, Bell said.

All of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign countries and territories were represented among the campers last year.

Ohio, for the third straight year, sent the most campers to Kentucky state parks, Bell said, with 63,500 people from the Buckeye state, or 26.6 percent of the entire year's total.

Ohioans topped even the number of campers from Kentucky itself, with home-staters numbering more than 43,000, or 20.1 percent of the park's camping business. Indiana followed behind Kentucky with 31,900 campers, or 13.4 percent of the total.

Other states, in order, from which campers came to Kentucky last year included: Illinois, 29,400; Michigan, 11,650; Missouri, 8,300; West Virginia, 7,450; Tennessee, 4,700; Florida, 4,670; and Wisconsin, 2,840.

This was exactly the same order of rank by the states as in 1963, Bell noted.

From other countries, the 1,360 campers from Canada was by far the largest number. Twenty came from England, 10 each from Japan and the Philippines, and nine from Puerto Rico.

Campers also came to Kentucky from Mexico, New Zealand, Korea, France, Denmark, the West Indies, and the Panama Canal Zone.

A camp or trailer site for six persons or less is rented at $2 per day, Bell said, with 25 cents per day charged for each additional person in the party.

Central service facilities for the sites provide toilet facilities, showers, and water. Electricity is furnished free.

Tent sites are available at 16 state parks, primitive camping (no central services) at two others, and five camp sites are provided by the U. S. Corps of Engineers on Rough River Reservoir at Falls of Rough.

Trailer sites are available at 15 state parks, Bell said.

The most popular camping site in 1964 was Kentucky Dam Village State Park, near Gilbertsville, where more than 9,900 permits were issued for 54,870 campers. Second highest permit total was the 7,200 at Cumberland Falls State Park, near Corbin, for almost 30,000 campers. Carter Caves State Park, near Olive Hill, advanced last year from the fourth to the third spot, with 6,400 permits issued there for nearly 27,900 campers.

Following these in order, with their location, and total number of campers were these state parks:

Levi Jackson (London), 26,100; Lake Cumberland (Jamestown), 23,500; General Butler (Carrollton), 23,900; Kenlake (Hardin), 15,800; Natural Bridge (Stade), 13,500; Pennyrite Forest (Dawson Springs), 13,200; General Burnside Island (Burnside), 12,200; Greenbo Lake (Ashland), 9,900; Pine Mountain (Pineville), 9,400; My Old Kentucky Home (Bardstown), 7,300; Audubon (Henderson), 8,000; and Columbus-Belmont (Columbus), 1,500.

ARH HEAD SAYS CHARITY WORK TOTALS $412,441

The 10 community hospitals in the Appalachian Regional Hospitals system have given $412,441 worth of free hospital care to charity patients.

This contribution was reported to the board of trustees of the non-profit organization by Dr. Karl S. Klicka, president of ARH, at a board meeting in Lexington, Kentucky, this week.

Dr. Klicka said the $412,441 "represents more than 9,800 days of free service donated to people who were too poor to pay for hospital care."

Appalachian Regional Hospitals began operating five of the hospitals October 1, 1963, and the remaining five July 1, 1964. Seven are in Eastern Kentucky, two in West Virginia and one in Virginia.

Dr. Klicka reported that Kentucky indigents received from ARH $399,279 worth of hospital care without charge; West Virginians, $21,720; and Virginians $2,441. He pointed out that "this free care represents the dollar value of hospital services which we gave to indigent patients over and above those services paid for by the states of Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia."

Under Kentucky welfare programs, the state pays only for the first 10 days of hospital care for an indigent.

Garvice D. Kincaid, Lexington insurance company executive and chairman of the ARH trustees, explained, "We certainly cannot refuse to continue treating those persons if they require additional care, even though their welfare benefits are exhausted. Therefore, we must absorb the cost of their hospital care beyond 10 days."

Kincaid added, however, that "ARH finds it difficult to carry such a heavy financial burden. That is why we will soon launch a campaign asking the public to share this burden through philanthropic contributions."

The heaviest charity load was carried by ARH's 179-bed Harlan, Kentucky, hospital. It provided free care which cost the hospital $192,845. Ranking second was the Whitesburg, Kentucky ARH hospital, which donated to indigents $76,967 worth of care.

The indigent care provided without charge by ARH's other Kentucky hospitals was: Hazard, $50,264; McDowell, $30,638; Middlesboro, $32,393; Pikeville, $596, and South Williamson, $12,471.

Indigent care donated by the other ARH hospitals: Wise, Virginia, $2,441; Beckley, West Virginia, $13,073; and Man, West Virginia, $747.

Two Kentucky ARH hospitals—at Pikeville and South Williamson—do not benefit from the Commonwealth's MIP (medically indigent person) program, under which the state is paying $600,000 for hospital care in the current fiscal year.

The ARH hospitals formerly were owned by the Miners Memorial Hospital Association, a subsidiary of the United Mine Workers of America.

Adoptive Procedures Relaxed by Kentucky

Not enough Kentuckians know of the relaxed requirements for adopting children, Child Welfare Commissioner Richard Clendenen said recently.

He said although the department placed 442 children in adoptive homes last year, at least that number now are waiting for a home and family.

"The wage earner may not be too poor; the husband and wife in their mid 40's may not be too old; the working wife and husband may not be too busy," Clendenen said. "If the essential desire to give love, affection and emotional stability to a child is there,"

if interested, call or write the local Department of Child Welfare in the Ford-Ranier building, Prestonsburg. Phone 886-2949.

MRS. HEN HALL URGES HER PEOPLE TO VOTE FOR DAVID B. LESLIE

Before his death February 5, 1965, my husband, Hen Hall, was actively supporting David B. Leslie for Sheriff of Floyd county. He always stated that David B. Leslie would make a good Sheriff and urged our friends and people to vote for him.

I want to now do the same and I am asking my friends and people to support David B. Leslie in any way they can. I earnestly solicit them to continue the fight my husband was making. I am a relative of the Hamilton, Tackett, Mitchell, Hall, Akers, Elliott, Parson, Jones, Stewart and many other good old Floyd county families. Your support of David B. Leslie for Sheriff in the Democratic primary would be appreciated.

SPORTS AFIELD

You are not through playing a fish until you've boated him. And this can be the critical moment. Veteran anglers have methods of landing various fish by hand—but they're tricky and not recommended for the average angler.

The best, easiest and safest way to land any fish, for veteran or novice, is with a landing net. If a guide or companion lands your fish, he should use a long-handled net. But the experienced angler objects strongly to having another net his fish; he wants to net it himself. For netting your own fish, the short-handled type of net used by those wading for trout is best. Have it plenty large for the species you're fishing for. And it should have a deep bag, square on the bottom; some landing nets are made too shallow and are pointed at the bottom.

There's a right way of netting a fish—and a wrong way that will lose some good ones for you. Thrust the net into the water at a downward angle toward its front, the rear part of the frame perhaps a trifle above the surface. And don't move it! Lead the fish gently into it—and if he won't lead in the first time, what of it? Bring him around again. When his front part is in, you may gently raise the net. When the frame touches his belly, he'll probably lunge—but since he can't swim backwards, he'll just net himself safely.

"Under no circumstances pull the novice's trick of jabbing with the net, trying to scoop the fish into it before he comes over the frame," points out Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. That's one of the best known ways to lose fish, and perhaps break some tackle—for a touch of a moving net against his tail will galvanize into fast action a fish that's otherwise practically exhausted. And never try to net one tailfirst—it's the inept angler wading for trout who's particularly likely to try that.

The Martin Purple Flash was easily the class of the 58th district basketball tournament held here last week, and was never pushed in the three games leading to the championship.

Martin defeated the Wayland Wasps, a team which was the surprise of the tournament, in the finals Saturday night. Both teams will represent the district in the regional tourney which began at the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse Wednesday night.

The district meet was almost devoid of thrills for the big crowds which attended it. Only the Wayland-McDowell squeaker, which the Wasps won, 56-55, in the semi-finals, was close enough to create genuine excitement.

In the first round Prestonsburg topped Maytown, 44-36 and Martin eliminated the Garrett Black Devils, 53-45. Next night, Martin swamped Prestonsburg, 76-54, and Wayland sank McDowell's hopes with a come-from-behind effort.

In the finals Martin took Wayland easily, 60 to 47.

The regional tournament schedule:

Wednesday—Warfield (RU, 18-14) vs. Salyersville (RU, 19-12), 7 p.m.; Morgan Co. (W, 23-5) vs. Mullins (RU, 21-9), 8:45 p.m.

Thursday—Martin (W, 33-2) vs. Meade Memorial (W, 20-10), 7 p.m.; Belfry (W, 19-8) vs. Wayland (RU, 13-20), 8:45 p.m.

Friday—Upper-bracket semi-finals, 7 p.m.; lower-bracket semi-finals, 8:45.

Saturday—Finals, 8 p.m.

Officials—Goebel Ritter, Whitesburg; Bill Wise, Lexington; Howard Rogers, Winchester; Don Sullivan, Frankfort.
