

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1965

This Town . . . That World

Wonder how Alexander ever cut the Gordian knot or Washington managed to stand up in that boat without first taking a pill?

LOOK TO THE HILLS

All you Lowlanders and all who are away from home, come to the mountains, and soon. Make it not later than two weeks hence. The maples, sweet gums, oaks, poplars, sourwood and a host of other trees are just now giving a hint of the beauties they soon will be. Soon all this color will run riot, and away from the mountains you will miss the grandest sight nature has for eyes grown tired of fine print, TV screens, grimy streets and unending drabness.

SPOT OF COLOR

As you approach Ball Alley, at the upper limits of Prestonsburg, going south, you may, if you look, see a "chimney rock" on the hillside. And, just now, there's a treetop that's aflame with color, near its base. I have a title for that picture if you get one: "Fire in the Hearth."

UNDECIDED

I am between two straits as to what to do. The dog isn't content with one desk. Now he sails onto mine, with devastating results. I have considered spraying the desk with dog-repellant, but there are some who would say that would keep me away. Maybe the best prescription would be a dose of turpentine, which might be called a dog-propellant.

A little boy was just closing the deal for a newly-weaned puppy. He had picked the one he wanted from the litter and was prepared to depart when the kennel owner had a moment of doubt.

"Oh, dear," she said, "perhaps I shouldn't let that one go. I'm not sure if he is big enough to eat yet."

A look of alarm flashed across the boy's face. "Gosh, lady," he said, "I don't want to eat him. . . I love him!"

Wayland Child Dies Of 3-Day Illness

Imogene, six-month-old daughter of Earl and Clarinda Hall Lucas, of Wayland, died Monday at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, victim of a three-day illness. Surviving, besides the parents, are 14 brothers and sisters.

The funeral was held from the residence at Wayland Tuesday, and burial was made in the Pigman cemetery at Dema, the Hall Brothers Funeral Home directing.

NEW GROUP ORGANIZES

Fish and Game Club To Focus Attention On Dewey Lake Area

The Dewey Lake Fish & Game Club was formed at a meeting held last Thursday evening at Prestonsburg high school by a group of fishermen and hunters.

Robert L. Burchett was elected president; William J. Dingus, vice-president, and Russell Hage-wood, secretary-treasurer.

Objectives of the new club, its officers said, are to improve fishing at Dewey Lake and in nearby streams and also to work for better hunting in the northern section of the county.

It was emphasized that the organization has no intention of conflicting with any other similar group in the county; that, instead, it hopes to work in cooperation with other clubs and the various departments of state and federal governments which serve the interests of wildlife, conservation and the sportsman.

Next meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 p.m., October 21, at the courthouse.

CLARK TELLS PLAN TO ADD CLASSROOMS

Work Seen Next Year May Cost $200,000, Serve Rural Pupils

Construction will be begun next summer on a six-classroom addition to the Prestonsburg elementary school, County Superintendent Charles Clark told members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the school, Tuesday night.

Upon completion of the addition schools now operating on Bull Creek will be discontinued and their pupils transported here.

The building will cost between $180,000 and $200,000, the Superintendent said. It will include four classrooms, a music room and an art room, a multi-purpose area for physical education and lunchroom, a kitchen, lockers, showers and other facilities. The building will be erected on a part of what is now the school playground and will connect with the present building at its northern entrance by way of a canopied walkway.

Discussing what the new Public Law 8910 (the Education Bill) may mean to the school here and other schools of the county system, Clark said he hopes to maintain a physical education program, 11 months of the year, in all schools which are equipped to carry on such a program. He added that he hopes to place two physical education instructors here — one at the elementary school, the other to serve the high school and the new city park.

The building here will be paid for out of capital outlay, since the school system is bonded to near-capacity and no federal or so-called Appalachian funds are available for the undertaking, Mr. Clark said.

$180,000 MOTEL JOB PROJECT UNDER WAY

At Sugar Loaf, six miles south of Prestonsburg, Harry B. Ranier has under construction a giant 75x300-foot structure which will house the repair shop, supplies and parts department of the Ranier Construction Company.

Two miles from here, to the north, his foreman, Howard Doss Blackburn, is building a 24-unit motel which will cost an estimated $180,000.

Construction is well under way by Blackburn on a two-story, colonial-type brick structure which will house a restaurant, office and lobby on the first floor and apartments for himself and family on the second. Work has begun on the first 10 motel units.

Each of the 24 units will have colonial fronts, replicas in miniature of the main building. Ten of the units will front on U. S. 23, the remaining 14 extending at a right angle as a leg of the L-shaped plan. The first 10 are

Rev. Alex Stephens, Minister 40 Years, Victim at Age of 78

The Rev. Alex Stephens, of Cliff, a minister of the United Baptist Church for 40 years, died last Thursday night at the Prestonsburg General hospital at the age of 78. He had been in failing health for some time and seriously ill for the last several weeks.

A son of Henry C. and Fannie Hicks Stephens, he was a native of the Middle Creek section of the county. He served two terms (See Story No. 1, Page 3)

Lancer Baptist Chapel Revival Is Scheduled To Begin on Monday

The Rev. J. T. Ryan, pastor of the Salsersville Baptist Church, will lead in revival services which will begin Monday evening at Lancer Baptist Chapel, it was announced this week by the pastor, the Rev. Cohen Campbell.

Services will begin daily at 7 p.m. The Rev. Garland Wilkerson will serve as song leader. A nursery will be provided for smaller children.

61 LISTED FOR EXAMS

Three Doctors Among Those Notified; Call Six for Induction

A total of 61 Floyd countians, including three doctors, have been notified by the county's two Selective Service boards to appear for physical examination this month.

Dr. James Douglas Adams, of Prestonsburg, and Dr. Rondall Hall Leslie, of Salsersville, were notified by Local Board 25. Dr. Lowell D. Martin, of Martin, was called for examination by Local Board 166.

Six have been called for induction: From Board 166 — Russell Raymond Stone, Donald Gene Newsome, Robert Dale Moore and Billy Little; from Board 25 — Charles Douglas Dingus and Earl Ray Derossett.

Those notified by Draft Board 25 for examination:

Dr. James Douglas Adams, Dr. Rondall Hall Leslie, John Hillard Derossett, Donald Paul Sisco, Delmas Fredrick Saunders, Kelley Layne, Jr., Donald Ray Baldrige, Allen Darrell Adams, Elster Eugene Blackburn, Kenneth (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

TOWN WATER POLLUTED

Says Report Made On Maytown Sample; Schools Remain Open

The Maytown water supply was under attack this week after a report on a sample submitted to the State Department of Health had become known.

A water sample taken Sept. 19 showed, according to State Health Department laboratories, the presence of coliform organisms, indicating sewage or other fecal contamination. The report also was stamped, "Grossly contaminated."

Dr. Russell L. Hall county health officer, said no trace of chlorine was found in the water supply there for two days. Then, he added, "some claimed there was too much chlorine after we got after the situation real hot."

He said that he prepared an order to close the Maytown schools; this to be effective Monday, but the order was not carried out when a health department sanitarian reported work had been done to correct the situation.

The Maytown water system is owned by Roland Burchett. The source of supply is Right Beaver Creek.

Dr. Hall said consumers should watch for two qualities which indicate that water is safe for use: water which is perfectly clear and which has a detectible odor of chlorine.

He also pointed to the constant threat of contamination. "It takes only a lapse of an hour or two for enough harm to be done to cause an epidemic," he said.

Speaker At Convocation Hails Community Colleges

Dr. John W. Oswald, president of the University of Kentucky, is shown at left receiving from State Representative W. J. Reynolds, Jr. a deed to an additional 6.2 acres of land to expand the Prestonsburg Community College to 40 acres. HAHN SAYS MOVE MOST IMPORTANT

Centennial Convocation Draws Many Educators; Oswald Leads UK Group

The community college movement is the "most important trend in higher education today," Dr. T. Marshall Hahn, Jr., president of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Virginia, told a gathering of several hundred persons at the University of Kentucky Centennial convocation held Wednesday morning at Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre.

The convocation, which was under the auspices of the Prestonsburg Community College, was the eighth in a series of nine marking the university's 100th year of service.

The exercises, held in the sylvan setting which features the amphitheatre, was attended by Dr. John W. Oswald, president of UK, who headed a delegation of approximately 80 faculty members and administrators; presidents of four colleges and representatives of two others; educators and civic leaders of the area, plus a heavy addition of students.

Dr. Hahn, an alumnus of the University of Kentucky and the youngest man to become president of a land-grant college in the United States, described the community college as "an uniquely American development" and more than a junior college in that it not only provides two years of college training but also affords a wide variety of other educational services, including terminal courses.

Dr. Oswald, who introduced the VPI president, recalled that Wednesday marked the 773rd day of his work as president of the University of Kentucky and that (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

Draft Directors Name Mrs. Kaye A. Rowland State System Queen

Mrs. Kaye Archer Rowland, of Central avenue, Prestonsburg, clerk of Local Board No. 25, was selected Kentucky Selective Service Queen for 1965 last Thursday at a statewide conference of Selective Service System personnel at the Kentucky hotel, Louisville.

The meeting was held in honor of General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service, and to commemorate the 25th anniversary of Selective Service.

Mrs. Rowland was chosen from 12 contestants, judged on beauty, poise, personality and apparel by visiting directors of Selective Service systems of neighboring states.

Mrs. Rowland also serves as president of the Eastern Kentucky Clerks' Club.

6.2 ACRES OF LAND BOUGHT FOR COLLEGE

An unscheduled portion of the University of Kentucky's Centennial Convocation program at the Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre here Wednesday morning was the presentation to the University of a deed to an additional 6.2 acres of land, expanding the Prestonsburg Community College campus to exactly 40 acres.

The deed from Mr. and Mrs. Graham Porter and Mrs. Susan Elliott was presented by W. J. Reynolds, Jr., of the Big Sandy College Development Association, to Dr. John W. Oswald, University president.

"We feel you're going to need it," Mr. Reynolds remarked, referring to the additional acreage.

And Dr. Oswald later agreed he was correct.

Two buildings are proposed for construction on the campus here next year — a Student Center which will be paid for from student fees, and a technical building which depends upon passage of the State Bond Issue.

The Student Center will provide space for student meetings or relaxation, student-life programs and food service, and will release space now used for purposes in the main building for badly needed classroom facilities.

The 6.2 acres were purchased October 1 for $31,000. This amount had been held in escrow, bearing interest, from the fund raised by contributions from business firms and citizens when the original college site was being acquired.

At the time the first tract of 33.8 acres was purchased from Mrs. J. M. Porter, now deceased, a buyer's contract was executed providing for the purchase of the additional 6.2 acres when the owner or owners desired to sell.

The deed conveyed to Dr. Oswald provided that rentals paid by Radio Station WDOC, which has a lease on a part of the tract, and income from a gas well on the property are to go to the Community College scholarship fund. This will amount during the period of WDOC's lease to approximately $1,500 a year, Reynolds said.

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College, who was present at the convocation, and whose expanding college is having trouble finding room, told Reynolds later:

"This will be a precious 6.2 acres of land, 40 years from now."

Mrs. Susan Craft, 83, Passes Away Oct. 12 At P'burg Hospital

Mrs. Susan Harris Craft, 83 years old, of Prestonsburg, passed away October 12 at the Prestonsburg General hospital. She had been in failing health for some time.

She was the last of the family of Hiram and Jane Vaughan Harris, and was the widow of Israel T. Craft, who preceded her in death in 1935.

Mrs. Craft leaves one immediate survivor, a daughter, Mrs. Grace Craft, of Prestonsburg. Also surviving are two grandchildren, James T. and Harris Allen Craft.

Funeral services were conducted today (Thursday) at 1 p.m. from the chapel of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home, the Rev. Adrian J. Roberts officiating. Burial was made in the Harris family cemetery at West Prestonsburg, the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home directing.

POLICE NAB THREE HERE

Stolen Money Found In Prisoner's Shoe; 2 Perry Men Jailed

Three men were arrested after midnight Saturday by Prestonsburg police after they allegedly had burglarized the store of Bill Little in the Porter Addition here and stolen $140 in cash.

The prisoners, who were jailed by Policemen Ray Click and Bill Booth, are Bobby Dean Branham, 18, formerly of Bonanza, Benny A. Elliott, 22, and Melvin Seibough, about 21, both of Warsaw, Indiana.

Police said they recovered $93 from Branham's shoe.

Mr. Little said he heard the trio enter by breaking a window at the rear of the store and that he ran into the store and fired one shot. The men surrendered, he said, but he decided to let them go after he failed to find that any money had been taken, and to notify the officers as soon as they were gone.

Moments after the three had departed, Little found that his money was missing. Soon after his call to the officers, the three were captured.

A break into the magazine of Princess Coals at David Tuesday night was followed by the arrest, shortly afterward on the nearby railway tracks, of Willard Lee Childers and Lawrence Noble, of Perry county. The arresting officers, Deputy Sheriffs Sam Hale and Oak Mullins, said 4,500 blasting caps had been taken from the company's magazine.

An auto believed to have been used by thieves operating on Abbott Creek was confiscated by Deputy Sheriff Hale, Wednesday morning. The license plate had been removed.

Tommy Brown, Jr., who was named in a warrant accusing him of cutting and wounding Harold Lloyd Prater at a Hunter club, was jailed last week by Deputy (See Story No. 4, Page 3)

AREA HEALTH GRANT MADE

$684,000 for Massive Program with Poor Approved by OEO

A $684,000 grant to start a massive health program for Eastern Kentucky's rural poor was approved Monday by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

It is the beginning of a projected 10-year-long, $100 million program to give the remotest Appalachian dweller medical care as good as can be obtained anywhere.

The grant goes to the Kentucky area development office, headed by John Whisman. The Office of Economic Opportunity, the official agency for the war on poverty, informed Sen. John Sherman Cooper and Rep. Carl Perkins of its approval.

The Kentucky project is a "pilot program" to develop methods for handling the health problems of rural poor anywhere — lack of medical facilities, remoteness of those medical facilities which are available, and low awareness of health needs.

"The program will offer guidelines for completely reorganizing existing health services, for training and utilizing sub-professional health workers, and for enabling professional personnel to be used in the most efficient manner possible," the Office of Economic Opportunity said.

A combination of private and public services will be developed, the agency said.

The program was first disclosed in June, when ENCO and the Appalachian regional commission announced a $1.2 million grant to keep the Appalachian regional hospitals open.

There had been some danger that the hospitals would have to close or curtail activities because of a fund problem.

The grant put the hospitals in position to function, and to become the heart of the Appalachian (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

ORIENTATION FOR VISTA WORKERS was held here recently, with the volunteers becoming acquainted with various agencies of local and state government and the services needed by communities. COMBS NAMED KY. HEAD OF 1966 MARCH OF DIMES

Former Governor Bert T. Combs, of Lexington, has been named Kentucky state chairman of the 1966 March of Dimes, Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation — March of Dimes, announced in New York last Thursday.

Mr. Combs will lead in the organization and direction of thousands of volunteers throughout this state in the traditional January campaign to raise funds to fight birth defects. This is his second consecutive year in this position.

"This is a fight everyone should join," Mr. Combs said. "Birth defects are the nation's second greatest destroyer of life. Every year we lose half a million unborn babies as well as 60,000 infants, children and adults because of birth defects."

Mr. Combs explained that the voluntary health organization, which directed the successful fight against polio, now combats birth defects in part through the work of 57 March of Dimes centers across the country.

Returns From Trip Abroad

Langley, Ky. — Mrs. T. A. Combs has returned to her home here after accompanying her sister, Mrs. Carlo Bianchi, to Rome, Italy via Paris. In Paris they studied the works of art of the Louvre and the Jeu de Paume. They met for the first time their father's cousin, Dara Varajic, of Dara's Restaurant (near the Sorbonne) who entertained them to several excellent dinners. In Rome, Mrs. Combs made long and extensive visits to several museums and galleries. The highlight of her trip came when she was able to watch and hear Pope Paul open the Ecumenical Council from inside Saint Peter's Cathedral. While in Rome Mrs. Combs was a houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Bianchi. She also was a houseguest of her aunts, Signora Brinati and Signora Stella, in the medieval city of San Opera-

'START-IN-THE-BLACK' PROGRAM WORTH STUDY

South Carolina, they tell us, has a vocational training system which is serving the state in grand style. They call it, "Start-in-the-Black," and it is very attractive to new industry.

Our knowledge of the South Carolina plan is sketchy at best, but as we understand the Start-in-the-Black program it beckons to new industry with the invitation, "Come to South Carolina and start in the black from the beginning." And it works this way:

A manufacturer, say, decides on that state as the location for a new plant. He is invited to select his workers, then place them in one or more of the state's vocational schools and there have them trained to be ready to start production — no months of operational loss while workers are learning at the expense of the owner.

You may say that is a special favor to industry. But what are vocational schools for except to train men and women to do specific jobs, to become able to earn a living with special skills? And, besides, in this way those who are trained would have jobs ready for them at home.

We do not have all the details, and they would not mean a great deal to us if we had them. But it might be a good idea for Kentucky officials to go into the matter thoroughly.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SAYS TEAM
DESERVES SUPPORT
EDITOR, The Times:

Let me begin by saying that I am in full agreement with the letter placed in the Times last week (Oct. 7) concerning the view that our local football was "unimpressive."

Before last Friday's game with Belfry I heard a number of people say that our team might as well forfeit the game and not play it at all. But the team did not forfeit the game and went on the field that night with grim determination to show these non-supporters that they could play just as good a brand of football as Belfry, if not better.

I think that if these people would support the team and urge them on, instead of making them feel as though they were on their own, the team would win more games. I also think the team has shown us (especially after Friday's game) that they have a good team capable of turning out a winning season, if they just had more encouragement and support.

Mrs. Moses Frasure Dies at E. McDowell After Year's Illness

Mrs. Ruth Frasure, 36, wife of Moses Frasure, died Tuesday at her home at East McDowell, victim of an illness of a year.

Mrs. Frasure was a daughter of the late Dock and Elizabeth Tackett Osborne. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church. Besides her husband, she leaves one son, Elmer Frasure, a student at Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, and four daughters, Mrs. Buena Robertson, Waverly, Ohio, Misses Eugyle, Jewel and Cathy Ann Frasure, all of East McDowell. Surviving brothers and sisters are Mrs. Clairance Enas, Ashland, Ohio, Mrs. Aggie Page and Mrs. Maxie Tackett, both of East McDowell, Mrs. Rufus Osborne, of Montana, Mrs. Wanda Tackett and Mrs. Edgill Osborne, both of Osborn.

The funeral was held today (Thursday) from the residence by the Revs. Mitchell Short, Wayne Howell and Manuel Bartley. Burial in the family cemetery was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

MEET WHITESBURG FRIDAY

The Prestonsburg Black Cats travel to Whitesburg, Friday night in quest of their fourth football victory. Currently even with three wins, three losses and a tie, the locals have the best opportunity to finish the season above the .500 mark of any team in the past five seasons.

Aside from Friday's meeting, M. C. Napier, Louisa and archival Paintsville remain on the schedule. Whitesburg is now 3-5 after losing four games in succession. Their two latest setbacks were to county rivals—Jenkins, 47-7, and Fleming-Neon, 59-0.

William Wright, junior half-back, is tied for fourth place in individual scoring with 92 points, but the Whitesburg speedster has failed to score in the last two games.

John (Wimpy) Clark's successful 30-yard field goal against invading Belfry last Friday night was the first successful kick from that distance since Lowell Hughes and Delmar Hughes booted 'em back in the early '50's. Since the goal posts are ten yards back of the goal line, the ball actually traveled 40 yards.

In response to several queries concerning selection of the "Black Cat Player-of-the-Week," a five-man secret committee, which changes each week, makes the selection, in writing, to Huck Francis after each week's game. Linemen are given as much consideration as backs, according to Mr. Francis, as evidenced by the fact that selections of each have been even this season.

Donnie Ratliff, junior guard, was named Player-of-the-Week in the Belfry game.

The winning recipient of the weekly award has his photo displayed in the showcase in the high school lunchroom for the week following the game and is presented awards from businessmen.

The metropolitan newspapers stated Wednesday morning that Dewey Lake was the best fishing lake in the state this week. We do not know on what basis this statement was made, but if it is catching fish, please advise who is catching them and where. Tuesday's effort on the part of several local anglers produced little, if any, results.

Morehead State Prexy
Writes Alumni That College To Profit

Lexington, Ky. — Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College, has urged alumni of that institution to support the $176 million bond issue on the November ballot, the Committee for Public Higher Education reports.

The Morehead executive, in a letter to graduates, said that the bond issue allocation for his institution will enable it to obtain federal funds to build additions to the Breckinridge Training School, Lappin Science Hall, the physical education plant, the administration building and two dormitories.

Of the funds to be voted, $1,630,000 is allocated to Morehead, he said, and will enable the school to get federal funds for the various projects.

The over-all allocation for higher education in Kentucky is $17.1 million which, in turn, will enable the schools to obtain a capital construction program of more than $87 million with a large share coming from federal funds.

In other developments on the bond issue the Kentucky Better Roads Council reported the outcome of a survey in Fayette which shows 69 percent in favor of the program.

Kentucky's 434 miles of Appalachian road mileage

Coal and concrete highways are partners in progress for Kentucky's Appalachian region

Coal mining is the greatest single potential source of jobs and income in the Appalachian area. Paving Kentucky's 434 miles of Appalachian road mileage with concrete means greater use of coal—more work for miners! And this increased activity benefits other businesses and industries, too.

Concrete on these highways not only will mean more work for the coal miner—it also will provide a first-class road system that attracts new industry and tourists to boost local business even more. Concrete stays solid and smooth-riding, lasts 50 years and more with little maintenance. Based on actual Kentucky records, upkeep expense runs 75% less than for asphalt.

Today in Kentucky's Appalachian region, coal and concrete highways are partners in progress. With miners, businessmen, and everyone concerned with the future of this area, the choice for highways is modern concrete.

This message sponsored jointly by:

GROUP OK's WATER PLAN

Flood Control Work For Left Beaver-Cr. Also Being Sought

The Left Beaver Community Development Association at its October 1 meeting at McDowell endorsed the plan of the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District for water service to the McDowell-Drift section of the county. The overall plan of the water district also includes a sewage treatment plant to serve the communities of Wayland, Esill, Lackey and Garrett on Right Beaver Creek.

John Milton Stumbo, president of the association, read a letter received from Congressman Carl D. Perkins in response to the association's letter discussing flood control for Left Beaver. Perkins said he recognizes the urgent need of work toward widening, dredging and deepening of the stream, adding that he was contacting the U. S. Corps of Engineers and asking its favorable consideration of such a project.

The Left Beaver Community Development Association has been incorporated, with John Milton Stumbo as president; Ivel Moore, vice-president, and Mrs. Sophia Cahill as secretary-treasurer. The board of directors, which was named at the October 1 meeting, is composed of Pete Grigsby, Jr., of East McDowell, chairman, Stallard Clark, Ed Patton and Arnold Turner, all of East McDowell, Simon Moore and Blaine Hopkins, both of Price, and Glenn D. Burton, of Minnie.

The Association's next function will be a "box social" to be held Saturday at 7 p.m. at the McDowell school, with a sock hop to follow.

Wayne Scaif Dies At Endicott Home

Wayne Scaif, 76, of Endicott, died October 8 at the home of his sister, Columbia Scaif, of Endicott. He had suffered a stroke a month prior to his death.

Mr. Scaif was a son of John B. and Belle Jackson Scaif. He was never married.

Surviving, other than his sister, are two brothers, H. Scaif, of Endicott, and Rush Scaif, of Hazel Park, Michigan.

The Revs. Henry Crider and John Conley conducted the funeral services October 11 at 11 a.m. from the home of Mr. Scaif's sister at Endicott. Burial was made in the Scaif family cemetery at Endicott, under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Anderson Keen, 90-year-old Warco man, died last Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, the victim of a lingering illness.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Keen, he was married to Pollie Bailey who preceded him in death in 1962.

Mr. Keen was a native of Knott county but had resided most of his life in Floyd. Before retirement he was a farmer and coal miner.

Survivors include three sons, Luther Keen, of Langley, Mitchell and Noah Keen, both of Martin; two daughters, Mrs. Bertha Osborne, of Martin, Mrs. Rhoda Justice, of Utica, Ohio, and one sister, Martha Keen, of Wayland.

Woman's Club Speaker At Meeting Thursday Urges Bond Approval

Kentucky will lose millions of dollars in federal grants if the $176 million bond issue is not approved, members of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club were told at their regular meeting held last Thursday at the Floyd County Library.

The speaker was Herschell Tackett, who urged approval of the issue at the November election.

He pointed out that $139 million will bring in $397 million in federal highway funds alone.

"If Kentucky is unable to match the allocation, Kentuckians will continue to pay their federal gasoline taxes but the money will go to other states," he said.

Mrs. Joe Buchanan, club president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Hal Midkiff gave the devotional. Mrs. Marvin Ransdell, program chairman, introduced Miss Stella Elkins, of Pikeville, who gave a book review on "The Man," by Irving Wallace.

New members of the club are Mrs. E. B. May, Jr., Mrs. Joe Burke and Mrs. John G. Heinze.

The club voted to hold a spaghetti supper, November 6, at the high school. The Christmas Tour to be held December 4 and 5 will be at the homes of Mrs. Ed Leslie, Mrs. William O. Goebel and The Garfield Place owned by Mrs. Claude P. Stephens.

The club through its Public Welfare Department chairman, Mrs. Regina Mayo Roberts, is trying to improve the sanitary conditions of the county.

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club will participate in the Junior Woman's Club Christmas Parade. Chairmen of the committee are Mrs. Helen B. Wells and Mrs. Herschell Tackett.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ed Leslie, Mrs. Clyde Burchett, Mrs. C. E. Roberts, Mrs. Lee Shannon, Mrs. Helen Wells, Mrs. Hardin Short, Mrs. Grayce Golden, Mrs. Howard D. Blackburn, Mrs. Adrian Lafferty.

the very first day of that tenure was devoted to a trip to Prestonsburg with Governor Bert Combs to break ground for the Prestonsburg college.

"I look back to that day as a happy day," he said. "Looking backward is appropriate," he added, "but it is much, much more appropriate to look forward to service to the state . . . to the young people . . . how this job can be done well . . . how to do a good job while doing a bigger job."

Reviewing the progress made at Prestonsburg Community College, the dedication and ability of its faculty, the high quality of its students and the support of the people, Dr. Oswald commented, "What has happened didn't just happen. There was vision, hard work, dedication on the part of many."

Dr. Hahn, whose address was the keynote of the convocation, declared that one of the most important functions of the community college is the stimulation it provides to young people by its presence. Virginia Tech operates community colleges at Roanoke, Danville, Wytheville and Clifton Forge-Covington.

With the development of a community college, "going to college and pursuing higher education becomes a part of the accepted code of values," he said. The resulting changes in community attitudes about education can galvanize a community, especially Appalachian communities, into action and go a long way toward solving some of their problems, he added.

Virginia Tech's president said community colleges in Virginia have doubled their initial enrollment in their second year and tripled it in their third. (This is slightly lower than the increase here in the second year of Prestonsburg Community College, and, if continued, would mean an enrollment of more than 800 next year, its third.)

"Of one thing you can be certain," he told the convocation gathering, "This community college will continue to grow."

Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr., director of the Prestonsburg college, presided. Dr. Oswald paid tribute to Dr. Campbell's leadership in developing the college here beyond all expectations.

Dr. Campbell welcomed the gathering, and greetings were brought by Dennis Henry, a Minnesota student who is president of the college student body here; R. V. May, chairman of the Advisory committee of the college, and Dr. Ellis F. Hartford, dean of the Community College System, University of Kentucky.

The processional and recessional were played by the Paintsville high school band. Vocal music was provided by Miss Shari Hall, with Mrs. Lynne Bonnett, of Pikeville, as accompanist, and by the Prestonsburg Community College chorus directed by Gus Kalos. The invocation was said by the Rev. T. W. Chisholm, pastor of First Presbyterian Church here; the benediction, by the Rev. William Pool, of St. Theodore Catholic Church, Prestonsburg.

The convocation was followed by a luncheon at May Lodge with Ex-Governor Bert Combs, who instituted the Community College system in Kentucky, as the speaker. An afternoon seminar was moderated by Dr. A. D. Albright, UK executive vice-president, and the evening seminar was led by Dr. Oswald.

Military Attache At U. S. Embassy Dies in Belgium

Sp./7 Donald Ray Collins, 35, Floyd county Army veteran of 17 years, and military attache to the American Embassy at Brussels, Belgium, died October 4 in a Brussels hospital following an operation.

A son of Albert and Maggie Spradlin Collins, he was graduated from Prestonsburg high school. He had served as military attache to American embassies in Thailand two years, at Teheran, Iran for 28 months and at Brussels until his last illness. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides his parents, are his widow, Mrs. Martha Frances Compton, and two sons, Donnie and Terry; two brothers, John A. Collins, of Cliff, and Haskell Glenn Collins, Washington, D. C.; and four sisters, Mrs. Carl Bingham, Mrs. Herschell Howell, Mrs. Scott Howell and Mrs. Otis Jarrell, all of Cliff.

Full military honors were accorded at his funeral, which was held Tuesday at Horn Methodist Chapel, the Rev. Adrian J. Roberts officiating. An honor guard and Army chaplain took part in the service. Burial in the Collins family cemetery on Spradlin Branch was directed by the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. Charles Collins, nee, Miss Donna Ball, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Friday, October 8 at the home of Mrs. Harold Baldrige on Friend street.

The home was arranged with floral arrangements of early fall flowers. The display of items of china, linens, crystal, silver and many miscellaneous household gifts were on display in the family room. Mrs. Baldrige invited the many guests into the dining room where refreshments were served. A handmade lace cloth covered the table centered with a low arrangement of yellow and white mums flanked by candelabra holding yellow candles.

Mrs. Baldrige served punch, nuts and mints, which were accompanied to cake.

Mrs. Collins graciously expressed her appreciation to the hostesses: Mesdames Delois Conley, Mae Martin, Libby Shell, Mervie Onley, Stella Copley, Betty White, Audrey Hall, Nelva Lewis, Barbara Hignite, Alberta Baldrige, Christine Litteral, Joan Burchett, Berdell Cecil, Jean Halfhill, Jean Milligan.

2-DAY PROGRAM TO MARK ALICE LLOYD COLLEGE'S ANNIVERSARY ON WEEKEND

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Alice Lloyd College, born as Cane Creek School in 1916, marks its 49th anniversary, October 16-17, with a Founder's Day Homecoming week-end on the campus here.

Heading the activities will be a visit to the two-year college Saturday by Kentucky Senator John Sherman Cooper, who will speak on the need of education and the responsibilities of colleges in Appalachia, and addresses Sunday by Congressman Carl D. Perkins, a graduate of the college, and Monroe Wicker, director of school relations at Morehead State College.

The two-day program also will include a barbecue chicken supper Saturday, a square dance, group singing and the annual meeting of Alice Lloyd alumni.

All graduates and friends of the school are welcome to both days' activities.

Week-end proceedings will carry through the general theme that education is the key to Appalachian development, the conviction that originally spurred Mrs. Lloyd to found and develop the institution.

When Mrs. Lloyd and her mother made their way into Eastern Kentucky, only about two in every 100 persons could read and write. Unable to overlook so blatant a need for education, the woman wrote New England friends, asking for aid. Back came funds, clothing, supplies. A school was born.

From that terribly inauspicious beginning has grown a tradition that continues to inspire Alice Lloyd graduates to remain in the mountains and seek to help their neighbors. Today the college is represented throughout the region by legislators, doctors, judges, dentists, teachers and businessmen.

Currently the accredited, coeducational institution has an enrollment of 287 and a budget of $425,000.

THE 10 MOST COLORFUL AUTUMN TREES

1. The sweetgum or star-gum. Liquidambar styraciflua. So named from the sweet gum the bark exudes. The star-shaped leaves of sweetgum are even beautiful in summer, with their five lanceolate, serrate lobes and their long, yellowish-green petioles and the palmate veins. But the autumn sweetgum is a color show! It bursts out in many glorious colors. Some leaves appear in bright gold; others don a purple robe for autumn and some take on a bronzy hue. I have also seen some autumn sweetgums in almost solid lavender. It depends upon the type of soil in which they grow. Those in light, sandy soils seem to have the most gorgeous colors. 2. The scarlet oak. Quercus coccinea. This tree is known locally as "spotted oak," or "speckled bark oak." Despite the untidy appearance the dead and broken limbs of this tree often show, it is one of our most brilliant autumn trees, and is outdone in flamboyant color only by the red maple. The scarlet oaks on the higher ridges and spurs of the Appalachians flame in glorious scarlet long after other trees have shed their leaves. When the morning sun lights up a blood-red scarlet oak in autumn, the flames seem to leap through its branches and the whole tree comes alive with dazzling color. This tree is often planted in parks for its brilliant autumn foliage. The bark shows many prominent grayish-white spots and the summer leaves are deeply cut and lobed, with rounded, u-shaped sinuses. This tree's preferred habitat is mainly high up on points and ridges. 3. The sugar maple. Acer saccharum. The leaves of the sugar maple are beautiful in summer green, with their long, red petioles and their 5 to 7 sharp-pointed lobes. But in autumn, the leaves turn to gold and deep crimson. Sometimes both colors appear on the same leaf. Underneath, the leaves sometimes appear in light pink. The sugar maple

DELAY NEW MINE RULES

Tighter Controls Seen For State Strip Mining, But Testimony Studied

Frankfort - The State Strip Mine and Reclamation Commission is expected to adopt new regulations tightening controls over the strip mine industry later this year. The commission will act on the proposed new rules after it studies testimony given at a public hearing here. Witnesses for the commission as well as opponents of the proposed regulations testified at the hearing. The State has proposed regulations that would require more grading in the Western Kentucky coalfield and in effect prohibit mining on many steep slopes in Eastern Kentucky. Both the grading requirement and the steep-slope-mining prohibition were sharply attacked by strip mine operators and witnesses called to support their testimony. Dr. A. G. Chapman, a Southern Illinois University professor formerly with the U. S. Forest Service, said the proposed grading would cause erosion and water pollution and would hamper reclamation. Extensive grading will compact the soil, he said, and result in poor water absorption. Taking the opposite view was Woodrow W. Smither, a staff member of the State Water Pollution Control Commission. He said water running off ungraded slopes would cause pollution. Dr. S. A. Braley, Pittsburg, Pa., disagreed. "Acid water from strip mines is a very minor factor as far as water pollution is concerned," said Braley, a former member of the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission. Another area of contention in the Western Kentucky coal field was the salt-marsh mosquito problem. Charles R. Page, Jr., a Chattanooga, Tenn., forester and entomologist called by the strip mine operators to testify, said his studies in Western Kentucky showed that strip mine pits produce fewer mosquito larvae than either nearby farms ponds or marshes. Strip mine pits have steep sides that inhibit growth of vegetation in the water, he explained. However, Smither said the salt-marsh mosquito seems to prefer acid water created by strip mining. He claimed the mosquitoes, native to the Gulf Coast, were "not in abundance" in Kentucky before the spread of strip mining. Vigorous objection was also voiced against the prohibition of steep-slope mining in Eastern Kentucky. The basics of the State proposal calling for the prohibition are: Stripping would not be allowed on slopes steeper than 58%. The "bench" width on slopes that steep could not be more than 95 feet. The "bench" is an area created on a slope where equipment can be maneuvered and the spoil piled. The highwall on a slope steeper than 20%, and where a bench is produced, may not exceed 48 feet. A "highwall" is the perpendicular face of a mountain overlooking the area exposed for stripping. Five Eastern Kentucky witnesses backed a 175-foot maximum bench width on a slope higher than the State-proposed 58%. They said the State's narrow bench widths would not allow operators to expose enough coal to be profitable, and would not allow room for piling spoilbanks and moving equipment. However, only 22 out of 112 Eastern Kentucky strip mine operators surveyed last month failed to meet the stiffer conditions of the proposed regulations, Roy Mullins, area supervisor in Eastern Kentucky for the State division of Strip Mining and Reclamation, said. State Natural Resources Commissioner J. O. Matlick said the Strip Mine and Reclamation commission is likely to make some changes in its proposed regulations. He said it would be three weeks before the transcript of the hearing would be available for study. Other members of the commission are Mines and Minerals Commissioner Ambrose Mandt and Strip Mining and Reclamation Director Elmore Grim.

WIDOW OF JUDGE LESLIE DIES AT EASTLAND, TEXAS

Mrs. Rosalie Allen Leslie, 75, widow of Chief Justice William Pharnor Leslie of the Texas Court of Civil Appeals, and a native of this county, died at 12:30 a.m. Friday at Memorial hospital, Eastland, Texas, after an extended illness.

A daughter of Thomas George (Bringe) Allen and Susan Stephens Allen, she was born on Goose Creek, near Eastern, April 29, 1887. She had resided in Texas since 1908.

While still quite young, she evinced a love for reading, studying and "learning new things," which remained with her all her life. One of her teachers, who had interrupted his studies at the University of Texas Law School to return to his native Kentucky to teach in order to continue his education, was later to become her husband. After receiving her education at the University of Valparaiso, in Indiana, she was married at her home on January 5, 1908, and went with her husband to Odessa, Texas. Later that year, an attractive offer from a lawyer in Colorado City, Texas of $30 a month to take care of his office while he was away, together with what practice he could get, persuaded Mr. Leslie and his wife to move to that city. Soon thereafter, Mrs. Leslie became a member of the Hesperian Club — an association she cherished all her life. Her husband, through his ability and courageous stand on law enforcement, won the respect of the people, who elected him to public office — first, as County Attorney, then as District Attorney and District Judge of the 32nd judicial district and then to the Court of Civil Appeals of the 11th supreme judicial district of Texas.

In January, 1927, the Leslies regretfully left their friends and neighbors in Colorado City to move to Eastland, Texas. Judge Leslie served on the Court of Appeals bench for 18 years, until his death on July 31, 1945.

Mrs. Leslie was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church. She served in many capacities —

CAPTAIN'S DIARY SPARKS WOLFE TREASURE SEARCH

Campton, Ky.—For many years now, the journal of an 18th century ship captain has made interesting reading for treasure hunters.

It tells of silver coins stashed near creeks and in caves in Eastern Kentucky and through the years, Capt. John Swift's journal has prompted hundreds of explorations.

The latest attempt to find the legendary silver cache is being made by the Mountaineer Mining & Exploring Co., of Clarksburg, West Virginia. It is concentrating its efforts in Wolfe county near the county seat of Campton, derived from "Camp Town." Swift's legendary camp in the then unexplored forests of Kentucky.

Swift, an adventurer—and, as contemporaries whispered, a pirate who scoured the Spanish Main—was one of the most colorful figures in Kentucky's colonial era.

He and a group of foreigners, either French or Spanish, and Indians are known to have made frequent forays into the then unknown Appalachian area from 1760 to the 1790's.

They went in with pack trains carrying supplies and came out with the animals staggering under bulging bags — reportedly filled with silver coins.

Some said Swift had found silver veins, but modern geologists say no workable silver veins ever have been found in the Bluegrass State, and add that "metamorphic and igneous rock which might contain silver are rare in Kentucky."

So treasure-hunters have another theory to explain the bulging packs. They think Swift and his companions took in silver plate from his admitted "seafaring interests," melted it in the wilderness of what was then western Virginia, and brought out counterfeit coin by pack train.

Swift's journal, left with a Mrs. Joseph Renfro when he was old and blind, just before he disappeared forever from the 18th Century Kentucky frontier, has been copied and recopied.

One entry reads:

"On the 1st of September, 1769, we left between 22,000 and 30,000 in dollars and crowns on a large creek running a south course, and close to the spot we marked our names Smith, (Shadrach) Jefferson, and (Jonathan) Munday."

Other journal entries describe stuffing other thousands of coins in the cracks in a "rockhouse" and burying additional treasure at still other sites, including the larger part in a "Shawnee cave."

The cave location sounds very much like the Breaks-of-the-Sandy — Pound, Virginia, area where Indians are known to have conducted religious ceremonies in caves up to the time of the famed long hunters.

Over the past 200 years, Swift's "mine" has been variously placed in Eastern Kentucky, West Virginia, southwest Virginia and northeast Tennessee.

Every now and then, a discovery is made to set new groups of treasure hunters heading for the hills. In the early 1800's Josiah Sprinkle, of Washington county, came into Springfield with a buckskin pouch filled with silver dollars.

The coins bore a crudely stamped owl on one side and a 6-pointed star on the other. Sprinkle assured doubters that the coins were good "except they weren't made by the U. S. Mint."

Arrested on charges of counterfeiting, he was acquitted when it was determined the coins contained purer silver than those of the government.

Sprinkle even paid his attorney with the silver coins. Questioned as to their source, he would say only, "Oh, never you mind—there's plenty of it left."

And Salyersville, Kentucky, residents tell of a 19th century farmer who plowed up a gray metal bar one spring and gave it to the village blacksmith. The smith used the dull gray metal—later found to be nearly pure silver—to braze church and farm bells.

First Christmas Tour Of Homes Here Planned

The Prestonsburg Women's Club, Arts and Crafts committee, Mrs. Clyde Burchett, to plan for its first annual Christmas tour of homes, tea and bazaar.

The president, Mrs. Joe Buchanan, met with them to help in their plans. The committee is composed of Mesdames George P. Archer, Ernest Jenkins, Bill Rose, Victor Hale, Barkley Sturgill, Bill Goebel, John Pitts and James Donahoe.

The homes to be on the Christmas tour are those of Mrs. Claude P. Stephens, which will open the tour; Mrs. Ed Leslie, tour and bazaar, and Bill Goebel, tour and tea. The dates chosen for the tour are December 4, afternoon and evening, and December 5, in the afternoon.

ian health program. At that time, Sargent Shriver, director of OEO, said the Appalachia hospitals "and other multi-county demonstration health centers to be brought into being by the efforts of public and private agencies in the area would be the core of programs to devise and demonstrate new ways to bring health services in these remote areas."

With the grant, the state's area development office can start planning and developing the program.

The key to the program is expected to be multi-county, regional centers. From these centers, medical teams are to travel into the remote areas with portable health services.

And in these centers will be laboratories and other diagnostic facilities, rehabilitation clinics, mental health facilities and an organizational setup to handle the troublesome health problems peculiar to rural poor areas.

D. A. R. CHAPTER OBSERVES ITS 40th ANNIVERSARY

John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, celebrated its 40th anniversary Sunday afternoon with a silver tea at the "Garfield Place," home of Mrs. Claude P. Stephens.

Large, American flags outside the historic, ante-bellum home, marked the anniversary scene for guests and out-of-town D.A.R. members who called from 2 until 5 o'clock.

The Chapter was organized June 12, 1925 at the home of Mrs. Joe M. Davidson on Court street, with Mrs. Eugene H. Ray, D.A.R. state regent, as organizing regent. Mrs. John Graham Johns, of Winchester, was an accompanying companion to Mrs. Ray. It was she who suggested the name, "John Graham," for the Chapter. Charter members were: Mrs. George P. Archer, Mrs. W. R. Callihan, Mrs. Joe M. Davidson, Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Grace D. Ford, Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, Mrs. Charles Humphreys, Mrs. Will H. Layne, Mrs. C. Y. Ligon, Mrs. Sally F. Ligon, Mrs. A. J. May, Miss Maurine Mayo, Mrs. Homer Salisbury, Mrs. O. W. Van Patten and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Wells.

Mrs. Arnold Compton and Mrs. Victor Hale received guests, inviting them to the register presided over by Mrs. Sally Ligon Clark. Mrs. Tom James, chapter regent, presented Mrs. Joe M. Davidson, the organizing regent, and her chapter officers, Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, Mrs. Claude P. Stephens, Mrs. Sally Ligon Clark and Mrs. J. G. Stepp. During the afternoon a musical program was presented by soloists, Mrs. John Ellis, of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Margaret Arnett, of Indian Mound Chapter, Salyersville. Mrs. James accompanied Mrs. Ellis at the piano. Mrs. Virginia Prater was Mrs. Arnett's accompanist. Mrs. M. J. Leete invited the guests into the dining room. The table, with an overlay hand-made ceru-cloth, was centered with a tall, antique cut-glass compote, filled with roses and flanked by triple-branched silver candelabra holding white candles. Large silver trays held individual cakes with the numerals, "40," on them, and hand made mints, with a red rosebud in the center, nuts and fancy tortes. Mrs. Herbert Salisbury poured tea, Mrs. Everett H. Sowards served punch.

Members of Jane Owen West D.A.R. Chapter at Stone who called were: Miss Ruth Smith, Mrs. George T. Pinson, Mrs. Helen Williamson; from Indian Mound Chapter at Salyersville: Mrs. D. W. Gardner, Mrs. Elizabeth Marcum, Mrs. Bess Mann, Mrs. Virginia Prater, Mrs. Margaret Arnett, Mrs. Harry Ramey, Mrs. E. L. Stephens, Mrs. D. B. Howard, Mrs. Luther Dunn, Mrs. Lily M. Henry, Mrs. Forrest Frazier, Harmon Station Chapter, Paintsville—Mrs. G. H. Rice, Mrs. Vertice Price Jones, Mrs. Fanny Archer, Mrs. J. B. Wells, Mrs. Herman Wheeler. All watches are obsolete

Accutron® is not a watch

All the parts that make a watch fast or slow have been left out. In fact all the mechanical parts that make a watch tick. Anything can upset them; a speck of dust; congealed oil; ordinary normal wear.

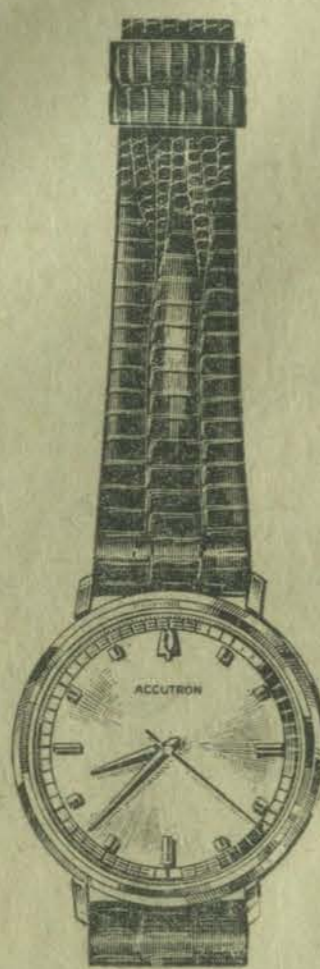

Then what makes Accutron tick? It doesn't. It hums. Instead of the usual watch parts that run down, there's a tiny battery powered tuning fork that keeps time through vibrations. No grinding of part against part.

Accutron time is so precise that we guarantee average monthly accuracy within 60 seconds, which averages out to about 2 seconds a day.

With Accutron you can forget about checking your time to see if it's right.

In fact you may find you'll become smug being this sure of anything these days.

FORMER FLOYD MAN GETS PROMOTION IN VIET NAM

Despite the activity prevalent since the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) arrived in Viet Nam, time was taken September 28 for the promotion of Sgt. Jess W. Boyd, Company A, 2nd Battalion, 5th Cavalry to the rank of first sergeant.

Fifteen days after arriving in Viet Nam, Battalion Commander, Lt. Colonel Robert B. Tully, flew to A Company's defensive perimeter position to provide the orders and congratulations for the new first sergeant.

Sgt. Boyd entered the Army in July of 1949 and completed his basic training at Fort Knox. The Hueysville native is a graduate of the Army's Combat Arms Light Weapons School, the CBR School, the 1st Cavalry Division's NCO Academy and Fort Benning's Personnel Records Course.

Boyd served with the 16th Infantry Regiment, 1st Infantry Division, from 1950 until 1953 in Germany.

From 1954 until 1958 he served with the 87th Infantry Regiment, 10th Infantry Division at Fort Riley and again in Germany. He then spent two years at Fort Benning with the 1st Battle Group, 87th Infantry, 2nd Division, until 1961 when he went to the 1st Cavalry Division's 15th Administrative Company in Korea. He returned to Fort Benning and the 38th Infantry, 2nd Infantry Division, now redesignated the 2nd Battalion, 5th Cavalry in September of 1962 and has served with this unit to date.

The new first sergeant was a Company's acting first sergeant for 19 months. He is a graduate of Maytown high school. His wife, Cecilia, and their daughter, Iona, reside at 1119 5th Avenue, Columbus, Georgia.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to send our thanks to our many friends who came to us in our deepest sorrow upon the death of our beloved father, Tan Williams. Many thanks for the beautiful flowers and for kindnesses shown to us. Our sincere thanks to the ministers, Erschel Huff, Banner Manns, Mitchell Chaffins and Troy Nickles for their kind words, also our thanks to the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its wonderful help and service.

NOW! A WHOLE NEW SERIES OF ULTRA-LUXURIOUS CHEVROLETS

'66 CAPRICE

BY CHEVROLET

Caprice Custom Coupe—with exclusive formal roof line that comes on no other Chevrolet.

Caprice Custom Sedan—with superb new Body by Fisher elegance inside and out.

Caprice Custom Wagon—with fine new look of hard-wood paneling on sides and tailgate.

A new choice of superbly crafted Chevrolets above and beyond anything else in the line. If this is your year to move up, you just can't move up to much more car than this.

Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.

Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find the richness of thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels.

They're custom cars in every sense. In the Custom Coupe, you can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats. In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagons, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.

Each model, with its own specially tailored suspension refinements, rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version. Some 200 custom features are also available, including front-seat headrests, AM-FM stereo and a Tilt-telescopic steering wheel.

The price of it all? Somewhat more, naturally, than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less—surprisingly less, as your dealer will happily confirm—than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with in every detail.

See the new '66 Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvair & Corvette at your Chevrolet dealer's

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

The Eastern Kentucky regional high school cross-country meet will be held at 11 a.m., Saturday, October 30, over a two-mile area on the Paintsville Country Club golf course.

Orville Hamilton, Paintsville high school coach, will serve as the meet manager, and all schools expecting to enter teams should apply for entry blanks.

A school may enter five, six or seven boys and teams finishing first and second will receive trophies. The top five individuals will qualify for the state meet, along with the first and second place teams.

Belfry high school football fans are still fuming over Tuesday's Lit-ratings, since their favorite Pirates dropped out of the top ten into 14th place. They have good cause for concern as they whipped M. C. Napier, 47-7, last Saturday night for their sixth consecutive victory without a loss. What is more confusing is that Hazard won over Lafayette and moved in front of Belfry to 11th place, and Belfry downed Hazard 20-14 two weeks ago. The Associated Press state-wide poll placed Belfry in the eighth position in the state.

Fleming-Neon high school is expecting the largest crowd in its football history, Saturday night, when the Hazard Bulldogs come to town. Although in different classes, the Pirates hope to record their first win over the Bulldogs. Fleming boasts a 5-1 mark as compared to Hazard's 5-2 slate.

Undefeated Belfry, apparent winner in the Class AA, Region 4 district runoffs, closes out regional play Saturday night, against the Jenkins Cavaliers. Al Viperman's club then has only two games left, both against West Virginia neighbors, Matewan and Williamson.

High School football officials are in abundance in the area for the first time in several years. One team of brothers, Frank and Johnny Heinze, and father-son, E. B. May, Jr. and Charles, will work 22 area games before the season closes. Paintsville's team of Bobby E. Mullins, Henry L. Mayo, Jr., Jack VanHoose and George Carroll also will work a 20-game schedule.

In the individual area football scoring race, Whitesburg's junior halfback William Wright leads Belfry's Frank Guyton by 92 to 86. Wright has played seven games to Guyton's six.

The Continental World-Wide Circus will make its first appearance ever in Eastern Kentucky when it comes to the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse for afternoon and evening performances on Monday, October 25.

Garrett Art Student Tri-State Show Winner

Terry Prater, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Feeley Prater, exhibited several art works at the Tri-State Art Show in Ashland, Saturday. There were two divisions: under 16 and adult. Terry, however, was the double winner for the day with two third prizes for a water color of Spring in the Mountains and for a charcoal drawing of Princess Elkhorn's coal tippie. Terry's art instructor at Garrett high school is Duna Combs.

A $25.00 Reward

On Sunday morning, October 11, 1965, two men were squirrel hunting on Bull Creek, Floyd county, Kentucky. My dog, a shepherd, went into the woods where these two men were hunting.

I heard a rifle shot. About 15 minutes later my dog returned to my house with a bullet hole in his left side. A few hours later, he died.

I will pay $25.00 to the person or persons who can identify the person or persons who shot and killed my dog.

In the future I will not be responsible for anything that may befall any one hunting on my premises.

CATS THROW SCARE INTO UNDEFEATED BELFRY

Belfry's undefeated Pirates end Class AA, Region 4, District 2 play Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. when they meet the Jenkins Cavaliers in quest of their eighth consecutive victory.

Al Viperman's hefty club received its first major scare of the season over the past week-end when they came from behind to down improving Prestonsburg, 19-3.

The Black Cats took a first period lead of 3-0 on John Clark's 30-yard field goal.

Belfry iced the game in the final minute of the fourth quarter by returning an intercepted pass 30 yards for a touchdown.

Fleming-Neon primed for its all important Saturday night clash with Hazard by thumping neighboring Whitesburg, 59-0.

Walter Brugh's Paintsville Tigers recorded their first victory of the season in their own Big Sandy Bowl by outlasting Pikeville, 32-7, Rowan County nipped Morgan County, 20-12, and Elkhorn City shut out Wheelwright, 32-0, to even its season's mark at 3-3-1.

Hazard scored twice in the final six minutes to register its fifth win of the campaign by overpowering Jenkins, 21-0.

Prestonsburg, playing its best game of the season, muffed a second quarter scoring effort and visiting Belfry capitalized on the penalties to march 70 yards in nine plays, with halfback Gene Isom going over for the score from six yards out.

The Pirates added another marker before the half as rampaging halfback Frank Guyton raced 10 yards for his 15th touchdown of the season. The clubs battled on even terms until Bob Burgess picked off a Steve Clark pass in the final minute and raced 30 yards to pay-dirt.

Marty Tackacs, Paintsville's senior quarterback, scored two touchdowns and passed for another in leading Paintsville to its first victory.

Tackacs tallied on a three-yard run to put his team ahead in the initial period, but the Panthers bounced back to tie the count as Sid Trivette blocked a punt and recovered it in the end zone.

In the second canto, Tackacs sped 63 yards for a six-pointer that gave the Tigers a 13-7 half-time margin. He fired a 13-yard touchdown to Harold Taylor in the final period, and Paintsville scored twice more on a six-yard run by Gary Wakeland and a 30-yard pass from Jim Brugh to Harold Taylor.

Mr. Leach Speaks At Club Meeting

David, Ky.—The David Woman's Club met October 1 at the home of Mrs. A. C. Wilson. Mrs. Royce Mayo, program chairman, introduced Arthur Leach, administrator of the Dewey Lake State Forest. Mr. Leach spoke on "Conservation." He said that Kentucky was very fortunate in having an abundant supply of water, and pointed out that conservation should not be considered only in terms of conserving resources. Conservation also includes planting trees and evergreens to improve the appearance of unattractive areas, he pointed out.

The business portion of the meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Horace Tiller. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Lillia Mae Price. Members were urged to attend the district meeting which will be held on October 9 at May Lodge.

Mrs. Ora Howard gave a report on the Girl Scout meeting which was held September 30 at May Lodge.

Mrs. E. R. Spears announced that the club will serve a luncheon on Thursday, October 7. This will be a "turkey with trimmings" plate.

The club regrets the loss of a member Mrs. Francis Harmon, who has moved to Benton, Illinois. Mrs. Harmon was first vice-president and a very active member of the club. Mrs. Lillia Mae Price was appointed to fill the unexpired term as first vice-president.

Mrs. Tiller asked the clubmembers to begin taking orders for the recipe books which are now being printed.

Hostesses, Mrs. A. C. Wilson and Mrs. Pete Capell, served a dessert course to the following members: Mesdames Harry Clay, Royce Mayo, James Cavins, Ora Howard, Ray Spears, Joe Tussey, Lloyd Hale, Lillia Mae Price, Hoyace Tiller, Oak Mullins, and guests, Miss Mary F. Stambaugh and Arthur Leach.

WAYLAND CLUB IS HOST TO 7th DISTRICT CONVENTION

"Service to mankind is what God put us here for," said Mrs. W. Ed Hamilton, president, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, speaking Saturday on "The Choices of Women" to 108 women present for the annual meeting of Seventh district Women's Clubs at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Assisted by her aide, Mrs. Oscar Sowards, of Pikeville, with the use of slides and projector, Mrs. Hamilton explained the aims and projects of the K.F.W.C., stressing particularly the organization's current project, the Rehabilitation Center for girls from ages 10 to 18. She reported that over $50,000 has been raised, but that approximately $55,000 is still needed.

Mrs. Hamilton also reported on current state and federal legislation on which the Kentucky Federation took a stand at the fall board meeting; namely, for the Bond Issue in Kentucky, against the repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Law which refers to Right-to-Work, and against Home Rule in Washington. She explained the Federation's reasons for these views, but reminded her hearers that as individuals they should think and vote as they choose.

Other highlights of the morning session were vocal solos by Mrs. Lynne Bonnett, mezzo-soprano, dean of women at Pikeville College. Mrs. Bonnett accompanied herself at the piano, two selections of which were "In the Still of the Night" and "Spirit Flower."

Miss Lena Porter, governor, Seventh district, presided. The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and invocation by the Rev. James Burge, of the Wayland Methodist Church. Mrs. J. C. Wells, president of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club, and one of the hostesses for the meeting, gave the welcome, with response by Mrs. Joe Buchanan, president of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club. Following this was the governor's report by Miss Porter.

Clubwomen were reminded by Mrs. Hamilton of the General Federation's Diamond Jubilee Anniversary this year, to be celebrated by its 11 million club members throughout the world. In Kentucky a Charity Ball will be held at the Capitol building December 3, at which Governor and Mrs. Breathitt will be present. All club women were urged to attend. Also, the search is on for the club member with the longest continuous service and the living member with the longest and most outstanding service.

A large display of arts and crafts were viewed and judged, with blue, red and white ribbons being awarded in a number of categories. Mrs. Regina Mayo and Mrs. Ora Howard served as judges.

Mrs. M. M. Collins, of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Club, gave two readings during the afternoon session.

Just prior to adjournment, Mrs. Hamilton installed the newly elected district officers, Mrs. Zella Archer, Prestonsburg, governor, and Miss Wilnah Hobbs, Pikeville, junior representative.

Visiting state officers and chairmen besides Mrs. Hamilton, were: Mrs. Oscar Sowards, aide to the president; Mrs. Paul R. Garnett, fourth vice-president and junior director; Mrs. R. V. May, chairman, Rehabilitation Center; Mrs. Clara Shaw, chairman, Libraries; Miss Lois Leslie, senior news editor; and Mrs. James D. Adams, junior news editor.

Visiting district officers and chairmen besides Miss Porter, were Mrs. Ora Howard, vice-governor; Mrs. Glenn Ward, recording secretary; Mrs. N. D. Howard; corresponding secretary; Mrs. Chester Smith, publicity; and Mrs. Katie Hinton, chairman, Mrs. C. J. Cahill, membership, Rehabilitation Center.

During the luncheon door prizes were distributed to lucky guests by members of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland club.

TO GO TO VIET NAM

Marine Lance Corporal Bobby D. Blankenship, formerly of Wayland, is spending a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blankenship, of Mt. Sterling, Ohio, after which he will fly to Camp Pendleton, California, September 16, then on to Viet Nam. He served one year in Cuba and was to be discharged October 30, but was given a nine-month extension for service in Viet Nam. He was stationed, the past six months, at Quantico, Virginia.

Donald Lloyd Turner To Study, Teach Abroad

Donald Lloyd Turner, a May graduate of Union College, Barbourville, Kentucky, will study at the University of Munster and teach at the Walram Gymnasium (high school) in Menden, Germany, this year.

He sailed August 12 for his year abroad on a German Academic Exchange Service scholarship.

Turner will teach English 12 hours a week at the boys' school (enrollment 611) and live with a family in Menden. Two days a week, he will commute to Munster to study German literature.

During the year he will visit several German friends whom he met in Kentucky, and at Christmas hopes to go to Zurich to see a former visiting professor at Union before returning to the States to continue study for his Master's.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Turner, of Louisville, is a grandson of Mrs. Harvey Patton, of Prestonsburg, and the late "Bud" Turner, of Hueysville, and of Mrs. Mousie Jones, of Louisville.

Resolutions of Respect

In Memory of Brother Henry Taylor Merritt who died September 23, 1965.

Once again death has summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit "well done" from the Supreme Master.

AND WHEREAS, the all wise and merciful Master of the universe has called our beloved and respected Brother home, and he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the charter of Prestonsburg, Kentucky Lodge, No. 293, I.O.O.F., of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, in testimony of her loss, be draped in mourning for thirty days and that we tender to the family of our deceased Brother our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Attend Convention

Burnis Jones, local congregation overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses at Beaver, said this week that 15 delegates from this area are expected to attend a three-day circuit convention to be held in the Elizabethton (Tenn.) senior high school, October 16-17.

Mr. Jones said that the highlight of the convention will be Sunday at 3 p.m. when a public discourse will be given, entitled, "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean for You and Yours?" Paul R. Ruggles, a special representative from the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses, New York City, will deliver the address.

Some of those to attend from Beaver are Mr. and Mrs. Burnis Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mitchell, Mrs. Goldie Akers, and children, Mrs. Pearl Ward.

NEW COLLINS' HISTORY TO BE AVAILABLE SOON

Frankfort, Ky.—The first edition of COLLINS' HISTORY OF KENTUCKY to be published since 1924 will be released soon by the Kentucky Historical Society.

Col. George M. Chinn, director of the Society, said that the two-volume work, regarded as the most authoritative account of Kentucky's past, will be reproduced from an earlier edition. The page size will be enlarged about one-fourth, to 8½-by-10 inches, making the type more readable, he said.

"Small print has set the study of history back more than anything else," Chinn commented.

He said the two volumes, totaling over 1,200 pages, will be priced at near cost, about $25 a set. Exact price of the two volumes and other details will be released to the public in ample time to place orders with the Society, Chinn said.

The books will be boxed as a set and have durable cloth bindings. All illustrations, including a multi-color map, will be reproduced, Chinn said.

Older sets of COLLINS' HISTORY are hard to find and demand prices of $125 a volume or more, Chinn said.

The history is the work of Lewis Collins, a Mason county judge and long-time editor of the old MAYSVILLE EAGLE, and his son, Richard H. Collins, an attorney and newspaperman. The elder Collins wrote the first volume and published it in 1847. His son enlarged and brought the history up to date and the two-volume work was first released in 1874.

The complete edition covers Kentucky's history from explorations during the late 1600's through December, 1873.

The last re-printing of the complete work was done by John P. Morton and Company, Louisville, in 1924.

We Can't Afford To Refuse The Opportunity Offered Us

PASSAGE OF THE $176,000,000 STATE BOND ISSUE WILL MEAN, IN FLOYD COUNTY --

1. ROAD CONSTRUCTION, INCLUDING U.S. 23 FROM OHIO, ACROSS EASTERN KENTUCKY INTO VIRGINIA, AND EXTENSION OF THE MOUNTAIN PARKWAY AS A PART OF THE APPALACHIAN HIGHWAY NETWORK.
2. $350,000 FOR THE PRESTONSBURG COMMUNITY COLLEGE.
3. OUR SHARE IN $17,110,000 TO BE SPENT FOR EDUCATION IN CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION, STATE COLLEGES, VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS, ETC.
4. OUR SHARE IN $8,500,000 TO BE SPENT FOR MENTAL HEALTH and FOR HEALTH CENTERS.
5. OUR SHARE IN $11,000,000 TO BE SPENT ON PARKS AND AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT.

AND, EQUALLY IMPORTANT, THE FUNDS WHICH THE BOND ISSUE WILL AFFORD FOR ARTERIAL HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION WILL FREE REGULAR STATE ROAD FUNDS FOR RURAL SECONDARY AND COUNTY-AID HIGHWAY WORK ON FARM-TO-MARKET AND ACCESS ROADS TO FORM A HIGHWAY NETWORK EXTENDING ALL OVER OUR AREA.

These and other things can be done through this Bond Issue because the $176,000,000 in bonds will be "matched" by Appalachian Program and other federal funds in the amount of $684,000,000 — thus bringing improvements to Kentucky which will total $860,000,000 in cost.

The state of Ohio has already voted a $300,000,000 bond issue in order to benefit from federal funds . . . West Virginia has voted $200,000,000 . . . North Carolina, $300,000,000. Virginia proposes $250,000,000 . . . Pennsylvania $1 BILLION over a 10-year period.

Moreover, these bonds can be retired without adding one cent to your taxes or ours. We have every assurance of this.

Other Appalachian states are not going to be found wanting at this time of opportunity—KENTUCKY CAN'T AFFORD TO BE!

$350,000 FOR COLLEGE SEEN IN BOND ISSUE

Lexington, Ky.—Sixteen Kentucky communities, including Floyd county, are due to get new college buildings if the $17 million bond issue is approved on November 2.

The breakdown was reported last week by the Committee on Public Higher Education composed of leading alumni from the University of Kentucky, University of Louisville, and the state colleges of Murray, Western, Kentucky State, Eastern and Morehead, Max Hurt, Kirksey, Kentucky, is the committee chairman.

The breakdown is by cities:
ASHLAND: A total of $1,350,000 to rebuild the University of Kentucky Community College to replace the present facility.

BOWLING GREEN: A total of $1.8 million which in turn will generate a capital construction program of $8.6 million to help meet the need for dormitories, classrooms, libraries and other facilities.

COVINGTON: A total of $350,000 to construct a technical school to supplement existing facilities at the University of Kentucky Northern Community College.

CUMBERLAND: Also a total of $350,000 for technical school facilities to add to the present structure at the University of Kentucky Community College.

ELIZABETHTOWN: Also $350,000 for technical facilities at the University of Kentucky Community College.

FRANKFORT: A total of $1.4 million which, in turn, will generate a building program of $3.1 million for a dormitory and academic additions at Kentucky State College.

HAZARD-BLACKEY: A total of $1 million to construct a new University of Kentucky Community College at a site to be selected.

HENDERSON: $350,000 for technical school addition at the Henderson University of Kentucky Community College, adding to existing facilities.

HOPKINSVILLE: Another $350,000 for technical school facilities at one of the University of Kentucky's newest community colleges.

LEXINGTON: For the University of Kentucky, Lexington campus, a total of $5.7 million which will develop, through federal grants and other funds, a building program of $35 million for dormitory and academic building construction.

LOUISVILLE: A total of $3 million to enable the University of Louisville to obtain in federal funds and other sources approximately $24 million for an expanded medical center.

MOREHEAD: A total of $1.6 million. This will generate sufficient funds for a capital construction program of $2.2 million needed to aid in the building of dormitories, science laboratories and other facilities at Morehead State College.

MURRAY: An allocation of $1.4 million which will create a fund of $6.5 million to aid in dormitory, library and other facilities at Murray State College.

PRESTONSBURG: The University of Kentucky Community College is allocated $350,000 for technical school construction.

RICHMOND: Eastern Kentucky State College is allocated $1.8 million which, in turn, will develop a $7.7 million building program for dormitories, science building and laboratory additions.

SOMERSET: A sum of $350,000 for a technical school facility to add to the new structure recently dedicated.

In addition to the buildings listed, the various community colleges now in existence are to get new student center buildings. Those structures, however, will be financed out of student fees and are not part of the bond issue.

District KWA Meeting Slated at Paintsville

Final meeting of District 18, Kentucky Welfare Association, prior to the conference will be held Friday at 6:30 p.m. at the Paintsville Country Club.

The program will relate to "The How and Why of Area Development." Speakers will be O. T. Dorton and others.

The annual K.W.A. conference will be held at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington, November 3-5.

COOPER OK'S BOND ISSUE

Senator Says Issue Necessary If State To Continue Program

New York—Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., called for support of Kentucky's proposed $176 million bond issue Monday, explaining that it is one way to obtain more federal funds for highways.

Cooper told the annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials that federal aid for highways alone has gone from $875 million in 1956 to $4 billion this year.

"The expenditures of states have increased correspondingly through the levy of user taxes and the necessary approval of bond issues," he said.

Pointing out that Kentucky will have a bond issue on the ballot next month, Cooper said approval is necessary "if our state is able to meet the apportionments of the federal government and continue its progress in road building."

Henry Ward, Kentucky highway commissioner, applauded Cooper's stand. He noted that Cooper is a member of the Senate Public Works Committee and added:

"He wrestles daily with highway legislation and sees the nationwide trend toward highway financing."

Vs.: NOTICE OF SALE
Cr. 5,122

J. H. Osborne, Lenore
Osborne, R. R. Osborne
and J. W. Osborne, &
The Bank Josephine,
Prestonsburg, Ky. . . . Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court, rendered at the September 23rd, term, 1965, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 1st day of November, 1965, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

That certain tract of land lying and being in the Town of Martin, Kentucky, on the waters of Beaver Creek in Floyd county, Kentucky, and being the same land conveyed Lenore Osborne, defendant herein, by Eva Crisp by a deed of March 12, 1945, as recorded in Deed Book 125, at Page 326, in the Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, to which reference is here made for a more particular description and being more particularly described as follows:

"Beginning on a stake on corner, East side of Cross Street on West side of Second Street and with Second Cross Street 30 feet to a stake to corner of lot No. 38; thence turning a right angle and with line of lot No. 38, 50 feet to corner of lot No. 31 to the corner of said lot on Second Street; thence turning right angle and with Second Street to the beginning, and known as lot No. 30 in South Martin, Kentucky."

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the amount of $2,480.00 with interest thereon at 6% per annum from the 30th day of August, 1964, on $1,280.00 and from December 17, 1964, on $300.00 and with interest thereon at 6% per annum from the 12th day of August, 1964, on $900.00 until satisfied, and the sum of $1,609.38 with annual interest of 6% thereon from November 10, 1964, and $226.40 with same interest from December 5, 1963, and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 4th day of October, 1965.

MEDICARE INFORMATION SENT THOSE AT AGE 65

The first mailing of informational leaflets explaining supplementary medical insurance for the aged is now being made to people who will be 65 or over before January 1, 1966, and who receive monthly social security or railroad retirement benefits. Thomas L. Reed, social security district manager, Pikeville, reported this week.

An enrollment card is included with the leaflet so people can tell the Social Security Administration whether or not they wish to enroll in the voluntary medical insurance plan. Instructions for completing the card are in the leaflet. An addressed envelope requiring no postage is enclosed for the convenience of beneficiaries in promptly replying.

Not all beneficiaries will receive their enrollment cards and leaflets at the same time. Mr. Reed advised people not to be concerned if they do not receive their leaflets and enrollment cards immediately. It will take several weeks to mail the leaflets and cards to the more than 15 million social security beneficiaries 65 and over. Everyone will receive information in time for them to make their decision about enrollment in the medical insurance plan before the end of the initial enrollment period, March 31, 1966, Reed said.

The leaflet contains complete information about the benefits offered by the supplementary medical insurance plan. Anyone having a question about medical insurance after reading the leaflet should get in touch with the Pikeville social security district office, Second and Division streets, Reed said. The telephone number is 432-2177.

DRIFT

The Drift Woman's Club met October 4 at the Sanora Restaurant. The president, Mrs. Ben Martin, presided, and Ruby Akers led the devotional and the pledge to the flag.

Members present were Mrs. C. J. Cahill, Mrs. I. E. Reed, Mrs. Ronald Turner, Mrs. B. F. Reed, Mrs. W. L. Reed, Mrs. Sam Martin, Sr., Miss Ruby Akers, Mrs. Ben Martin, Mrs. Belford Reitz, Mrs. William Hoffman, Mrs. Glenn Ward, Mrs. Nick Cooley and Jane Hoffman. We were pleased to welcome three new members to the club, they are Peggy Jones, Shirley Vanderpool and Laura Rowlett.

Delegates and alternates were selected by the president for the Seventh district convention at May Lodge, October 9. Delegates were Jane Hoffman and Sophia Cahill; alternates, Anna Hoffman and Rebecca Reed.

Barbara Lydon and Elizabeth Kirkland were guests. They are VISTA volunteers working in this area.

Mrs. I. E. Reed served as hostess.

The next meeting of the club will be October 18, and will be the annual inner-club dinner.

Development Council Votes To Hire Three

The Big Sandy Area Development Council executive body met October 4 at the Citizens' National Bank, Paintsville. Harry Eastburn, director of the Community Action Program, presented the names of Virgil Osborne, Everett Horn, Jr. and Jimmie Blanton for employment with the Council, and the board voted unanimously to employ them.

Discover why only Electric dryers dry clothes "Flameless-Fresh"

Fall is the perfect time to buy a modern electric dryer. You'll be all set for those winter washdays, when cold, bleak and blustery weather makes outdoor clothes-drying a dreaded chore.

With a flameless electric dryer you'll "Waltz Through Washday" because clothes come out "flameless-fresh" . . . pure as the crisp fall air. There's no harsh heat to discolor or damage even the most delicate fabrics. No fumes. No annoying by-products of combustion to leave an unpleasant odor. Your just-washed clothes dry down-soft and sparkling white!

And . . . you save with a modern electric dryer! Costs less to install . . . helps cut down on the family clothing bill, because winter-dampened garments can be quickly dried and ready for wear again! End the back-breaking drudgery of old-fashioned winter washdays! Move the sun inside with a new electric dryer!

SAVE $15 NOW

If you see your Electric Living Dealer now . . . during his "Harvest of Values Festival" you'll save $15 on the installation of an electric dryer.

Betsy Layne Postmaster Appointed To National Convention Committee

Salt Lake City, Utah—David R. Trevithick, president of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States, announced the appointment this week of Postmaster Aileen Hall, of Betsy Layne, to the Credentials committee for the 61st annual national convention to be held in Omaha, Nebraska, October 10-14. "Because of the national significance of these programs, it is necessary for our working committees to be staffed by the finest talent available among postmasters," he said. "It is therefore a pleasure to announce the appointment of Postmaster Hall. She is not only an outstanding postmaster in her own community, but has proved an important asset in lending talents to our National Association." Mrs. Hall became postmaster at Betsy Layne in 1962, and is active in postmaster affairs throughout the state and nation. Positions of leadership she has held include county chairman, district director, state convention planning chairman, state chairman for publicity, and she is presently vice-president of the Kentucky chapter. She has served as a trainer for several newly-appointed postmasters as part of the Post Office Department's orientation program. Prior to her appointment at Betsy Layne, she served for 13 years as postmaster at Stanville.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends and relatives who came to pay their last respects to our beloved wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Pricie Hall. Also for the many beautiful flowers sent. We send our sincere thanks to Rev. Jerry Hall and others for their comforting words, and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficient services.
THE HALL FAMILY

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS OF FLOYD AND SURROUNDING TERRITORIES:

We truly want to thank each and every one of you for making our new car showing a wonderful success on Friday, October 1. Retail sales were 17% higher than on any announcement day in our history. Without question, the car buying public has confirmed our belief that the 1966 cars are the finest Ford has ever brought to market.

If you have not seen this line of Fords please come in and look them over — You will not be sorry!

THANKS AGAIN FOR THE WONDERFUL
RECEPTION GIVEN US.

Two Floyd Students Fraternity Pledges

Two Floyd county students, Robert Jones Tallent and Jimmy Martin Hammond, have pledged to a social fraternity at the University of Kentucky.

Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hammond, of Martin, and Tallent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tallent, of Langley, both chose Sigma Chi as their fraternity.

Hammond is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences at UK and a graduate of Martin high school.

Tallent, a sophomore in the College of Engineering, was graduated from Maytown high school.

MRS. HORNSBY DISCUSSES DEVELOPING LEADERSHIP

Wayland, Ky. — The new club year of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club was launched last Monday night at Wayland with the first program meeting, conducted by Mrs. Ellen Hornsby, on the subject, "Developing Club Leadership."

"A good club leader constantly asks herself, What is the public image of my club? She knows that she cannot fight apathy and indifference on the part of members with entertainment and more social affairs, because she has learned that real dedication comes only from the personal satisfaction derived from the giving of one's self to a worthy cause," said Mrs. Hornsby. She listed a number of suggestions for leadership development, and also named several ways that past presidents can continue to serve their clubs.

Mrs. J. T. Spillman gave the devotional, stressing the need for preparedness in this life.

Following the program, the president, Mrs. J. C. Wells, conducted a business meeting in which plans were completed for the Seventh district convention. The Wayland club is host this year to this annual meeting, which will be held Saturday, October 9, at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Mrs. Earl Castle and Mrs. Ellen Hornsby were appointed delegates to the convention, and Mrs. Eugene Mullins and Mrs. Otto Martin, alternates. Other committee appointments were announced for registration, hospitality, coffee hour, etc.

Mrs. Wells reported the amount of money made on the sale of flowers during the past year and announced that she had peacans to be distributed for sale by the club members.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, Mrs. Mike Staley, and Mrs. Charles Collins.

Introducing the tuned car.
1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. Le Sabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special. Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.
