SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1965

This Town ... That World

I suppose I am in the worst fix imaginable for anybody who pretends to do a bit of fishin', now and then. I have not caught a big one, I have not lost a big one, I have not even—and this is the bad part—fished enough to tell a lie about it.

IN BEHALF OF PLAIN ENGLISH

The Legislative Research Commission has, if it does nothing else, justified its existence by suggesting plain English (and commonsense) for the wording of bills to be offered the General Assembly and possibly to become law. Here are a few samples of the good work:

Avoid "and the same hereby is" and simply say, "is."

Use "final" instead of "final and conclusive."

Instead of saying, "In the event that, in case," simply say, "if."

"Is defined and shall be construed to mean" should be reduced to plain "means."

Other changes in behalf of the rapidly deteriorating language are:

"Null and void and of no effect" becomes simply "void;"

"and the same hereby is" becomes "is;" and "until such time as" is just plain "until."

Now, if somebody will change "the party of the first part" and so on to read, "No. 1" and "No. 2," the shackles of legal phraseology will be shaken and become "null and void and of no effect," as they say, or once did say.

MAY'S TRIAL LAST SLATED

For November Term Of Circuit Court; 63 Cases Docketed

Among the 63 cases docketed for trial at the criminal term of circuit court which will convene here Nov. 8 are two against Headmon May, who already is serving a life pen term for the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. A. B. Hobson, at Harold.

He is slated first for trial for shooting and wounding his wife, but the trial which is more certain to be held is the murder charge against him in the slaying of Mr. Hobson. The defense has demanded a speedy trial of this charge. Scheduled for Nov. 29, it is the last case docketed.

The second trial of Catherine Martin on a falsifying charge has been set for Nov. 15. Her first trial, held at the September court term, resulted in a "hung" jury. Also set for trial on the same day is Mrs. Maude Fitzpatrick, who is accused of aiding and counseling in the near-fatal assault made on Catherine Akers, on Middle Creek, several months ago.

Mrs. Akers, who lay unconscious for weeks following the assault, is recovering. Willie "Jap" Harris was convicted of the assault on Mrs. Akers and was penned for 21 years.

Seven liquor cases are among those docketed for the term.

Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo said this week that persons interested in the prosecution of cases docketed for trial should contact him at his office here, well in advance of the trial date.

SPONSOR CARNIVAL

The Harold P.-T.A. will sponsor a Halloween carnival on October 23, 1965, starting at 6:30 p.m. at the Harold elementary grade school, Harold, Kentucky. The public is cordially invited.

US ATTORNEY DROPS FIGHT IN SPAN SUIT

Floyd Man, Grandchild Get $158,400 Damages In Bridge Drop Deaths

The $168,400 judgment awarded Greeley Stephenson and his granddaughter, Deborah Vanhorn, for injuries suffered by the girl and for the deaths of Mr. Stephenson's wife, his daughter, Mrs. Naomi Vanhorn, and his son-in-law, Phenious Vanhorn, in the collapse of a bridge at Knotley Hollow near Lancer, will be paid.

Joe P. Tackett, one of the attorneys representing the plaintiffs, said Wednesday that he received this week a copy of the motion of the U. S. district attorney to dismiss the appeal filed by the United States after the judgment was granted.

Greater part of the total will go to 10-year-old Debbie Vanhorn. She will receive $75,000 damages for the death of her father, divide with a half-sister $45,000 for the death of her mother, receive $12,500 for her own injuries, plus $2,400 for hospital bills. Mr. Stephenson will receive $30,000 for the death of his wife.

Attorneys are entitled under federal law to 15% of the total as their fee.

The suit against the United States grew out of the collapse beneath the weight of the Vanhorn car, July 16, 1962 of the Knotley Hollow bridge which had been restored by the federal government following the 1957 flood. Negligence on the part of the U. S. Corps of Engineers was alleged.

Lake Lanes Bowler In District Finals On Way to Lansing

John Allen, Jr., of Prestonsburg, is one tournament away from the all-star bowling tournament sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors Association of America and a shot at the $25,000 championship award.

The Prestonsburg bowler began, as did bowlers all over the country, with an elimination meet at his own lanes. He won at Lake Lanes here with a 210 average, and two other Prestonsburg bowlers, Ray Wilcox and Jimmy Sword, advanced with him to the district semi-finals. Last Sunday, he finished at Pikeville among the top four in the semi-finals, Wilcox and Sword being eliminated.

Next stop will be Ashland, Kentucky, where the top four bowlers from Eastern Kentucky—Allen, John Ratliff, of Pikeville, and two Ashland bowlers—will meet the top four from Northern Kentucky, November 6-7. The winner there will go to Lansing, Michigan for the so-called "World Series of Bowling" in which the greatest names in the sport will compete.

Estill Lee Carter, manager of Lake Lanes, said Allen has bowled 24 games in reaching the district finals and has displayed such consistency that he has an excellent chance of earning a place in the all-star meet at Lansing.

SLONE, ONE OF 3 KILLED

Hueysville Youth, 19, Fatally Hurt Saturday As 3 Die in Michigan

Nineteen-year-old Homer Lee Slone, of Hueysville, was one of three persons fatally injured Saturday night in an auto wreck near Pontiac, Michigan.

Young Slone died 24 hours after the wreck at Pontiac General hospital. A fourth is believed to have been fatally hurt.

Slone was a passenger in an auto which, reportedly driven at high speed, dipped into a depression in the highway, then hurtled into a tree.

The victim was a son of Johnny and Frona Slone, of Hueysville. Besides his parents, he leaves three brothers and four sisters, Mrs. Truda Patton, of Eastern, Clarence, Jimmy Dean, James, Shirley, Brenda and Cathy Slone, all of Hueysville.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday morning from the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church, ministers of that church officiating. Burial in the Manns cemetery at Hueysville was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Clinic Set Tuesday To Benefit Cripples

The Commission for Handicapped Children will hold a clinic at the Floyd County Health Center here next Tuesday.

The clinic is for examination of the crippled under the age of 21. Dr. William Roland, Ashland, orthopedic surgeon, who treats the patients of the commission from this area, will examine patients from Floyd, Johnson and Martin counties from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Prestonsburg Kiwanians and the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, as well as women of the various churches, will assist the Health Department and the Commission staff with the clinic.

ALUMNI, STUDENTS GATHER FOR ALICE LLOYD COLLEGE FOUNDERS DAY, HOMECOMING

Pippa Passes, Ky. — Gracious helpings of barbecued chicken and oratory highlighted last weekend's Founder's Day-Homecoming celebration at Alice Lloyd College.

Saturday, before a crowd of about 600 students, alumni and friends of the college, Senator John Sherman Cooper keynoted activities marking the 49th anniversary of Mrs. Lloyd's arrival on Caney Creek from Boston.

Education must not forget the example of Mrs. Lloyd's school and other institutions begun through individual initiative, the senator said. "Education cannot depend wholly on the strength of federal and state governments. It also needs the variety and strength that comes from private sources."

Paying special tribute to the school's founder, Cooper noted that Mrs. Lloyd saw in mountain citizens a potential for development and leadership which graduates of her college have since proved.

Completing the day's proceedings, students and guests picnicked on barbecue chicken, prepared by Albert Stamper, Knott county agricultural agent, and participated in folk dancing directed by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Whitaker, of the college staff.

Sunday, alumni of the school returned for annual homecoming.

HEAVY BEER HAUL MADE

P'burg Man Arrested By Trooper at Lackey; U. S. Prisoners Here

State Trooper Larry Hatton confiscated 195 cases of beer and 15 cases of wine from a truck being operated by Charles "Onion" Osborne, of Prestonsburg, early last Thursday morning in the vicinity of Lackey.

Osborne pleaded guilty in a Knott county magistrate's court, was fined $100 and costs, and his 30-day jail term was suspended. The arrest was made near the Floyd-Knott line, in Knott county.

Two men convicted in U. S. district court of possessing untaxed liquor, were brought to the county jail here last Wednesday to serve their four months' jail terms. They are Crockett Slone and Henry Wolford.

Five other federal prisoners are in jail here as prisoners in transit after conviction. They are Floyd Wireman, Jonah Blankenship, Millard Preston, Charles Daniels and Carl L. Ferrell. All but Ferrell, it was said at the jail, are under one-year prison sentence for possession of untaxed liquor.

Silas Muncey, of Wheelwright, was jailed, early last week, by Deputy Sheriff Marion Martin on a warrant sworn out by his 13-year-old step-daughter, who alleged that he had raped her.

Others jailed within the week, charges on which they were booked, and names of arresting officers follow:

Truman A. Medcalf and Joe Parson, a.w.o.l. from the Army, by Sgt. Berry; Wesley Hall, driving while intoxicated and no operator's license, by State Trooper Harmon and Constable Gillis Conn; Virginia Hines, drunk driving, by Policemen Ray Click and Woodrow Salyers; Elmer Bradley, no operator's license and driving while intoxicated, by Trooper Harmon and Constable Conn; Arthur Spriggs, possessing moonshine whiskey, Deputy Sheriff Marion Martin; Turner Laferty, no operator's license, State Trooper Don H. OHIO CORONER SAYS ELKINS WAS SLAIN

A Floyd county native who was found fatally hurt early Sunday on Route 133, in Clermont county, Ohio, near Batavia, is believed to have been a murder victim.

The victim, Robert Elkins, 20, formerly of Tram, apparently had been struck with a heavy object and left to die at the roadside. His skull was crushed, and he died Monday without regaining consciousness.

Clermont county Sheriff Donald Watkins said his department is trying to trace Elkins' activities since December. He added that the former Floyd man had apparently found employment, somewhere in southwestern Ohio.

Surviving the victim are his parents, David E. and Maggie Dale Elkins, of Tram; two brothers, Charles and Jerry, and two sisters, Brenda Louise and Cassie Elkins, all of Tram.

The body was brought to the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home here, Tuesday morning, and later was taken to the home of Elkins' grandmother, Mrs. Jim Elkins, at Coal Run. Funeral services will be held there this afternoon (Thursday), and burial will be made in the family cemetery at Coal Run.

SNAKES MORE PLENTIFUL! - SIX FLOYD-CO. RESIDENTS KNOWN BITTEN THIS YEAR

At least six Floyd countians have been bitten by poisonous snakes this year, a survey of Floyd hospital records showed this week. (Pikeville and Paintsville hospitals were not queried.)

Some argue that there has been a "population explosion" in the reptile family. Others claim the snakes aren't more plentiful than in other years, only more have left the hills for the bottomlands to make painful contact with humans.

At the Prestonsburg General hospital alone this year Dr. James Holbrook has treated four snakebite sufferers, one of whom, Clarence Stephens of Lancer, is now a patient.

The Beaver Valley hospital at Martin and the Daniel Boone Clinic at McDowell treated one case each. That others may have been bitten and trusted their recovery to home remedies is held possible, since at least one of those treated at a hospital

CRASH KILLS ESTILL MAN

John H. Green Victim As Small Car, Truck Collide Near Wayland

John H. Green, 45, of Estill, was instantly killed Wednesday morning, near Wayland, when his compact-model auto collided with a coal truck.

Green, a repairman for Inland Steel Co., Wheelwright, had worked during the preceding night and was en route home when he met death. A relative said he may have fallen asleep at the wheel, since his car appeared to have swerved into the path of the truck. The small car was almost demolished.

The driver, a Letcher countian, was not held by officers. Green was a repairman for the Wheelwright coal firm, and was a son of Mrs. Albert Green, Sr., of Estill, and the late Mr. Green. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Naomi Allen Green, a son, David, and a daughter, Stephanie Ann, all of Estill, one sister, Mrs. Dorothy Gayheart, Tiffin, Ohio, and a brother, Albert Green, Jr., of Estill.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete Wednesday afternoon, it was said at the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

WORK AT CITY PARK SEEN THRU WINTER

Although time for outdoor outings and play is almost over for the year, work continues at the new city park here toward its completion and its outfitting for the 1966 season.

Big changes in the park area have resulted from landscaping, the construction of two large buildings and preparation of playgrounds. But the smaller, yet important work of preparing play equipment for children is a job which is getting attention now and will continue to require much work during the winter months.

"Stumpy," a climber for children, age 1-6, is being completed by the Community Development committee of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club. "Stumpy" was built by workmen supervised by City Manager Curtis Clark. The club has requested Mr. Clark to build, this winter, an "Elephant" sliding board and "western" climbers.

E. R. Burke will build, during the off-season, a playhouse which he will contribute to the smaller tots' playground area.

Tennis courts, basketball courts and baseball and softball fields already have been prepared. By next year a fairground for the Floyd County Fair will be ready, it was said.

While all this work is being done, contributions continue to be received. J. D. Bond, former Prestonsburg attorney, now of Derwood, Maryland, read in The Times of the park effort and sent a cash contribution. B. F. Reed, of Drift, contributed steel, the value of which was estimated at $300.

Showings will be at 1 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The circus is being sponsored by the Athletic Department of Prestonsburg high school.

SEVEN DAMS IN AREA GET MORE FUNDS

Senate-House Group OK's Channel Project At Martin, Is Report

Funds for construction or planning of seven reservoirs in the Big Sandy-Eastern Kentucky region are included in the $4.2 billion public works appropriations bill which the Senate sent to the President last Friday.

The bill provides $59.6 million for Kentucky, with these appropriations made for projects in this area:

Fishtrap Reservoir construction, $5.5 million; John Flanagan Reservoir construction, $2,625,000; Carr Fork Reservoir construction, $2.2 million; Cave Run Reservoir, $3 million; Grayson Reservoir, $6.95 million; Booneville Reservoir planning, $150,000; Red River Reservoir planning, $105,000.

Senator John Sherman Cooper wired The Times that as a member of the Senate-House conference on the omnibus public works bill he insisted that authorization for channel improvement of Beaver Creek at Martin be retained in the bill.

"I am glad to report," Cooper said, "that the conference approved the authorization . . . also glad to tell you that we fought successfully to maintain the new Senate provision for 50-year loans to non-federal public bodies required to put up cost of non-flood protection facilities included in project."

The Senator added that the bill must finally be voted by both House and Senate but that he is confident the Beaver Creek channel improvement will be authorized before adjournment of the Congress.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins has nursed the Martin channel-deepening project through the House, and Senator Cooper has "carried the ball" for the project in the Senate.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT HEAD WARNS AGAINST DANGERS OF HEPATITIS INCREASE

Dr. R. L. Hall, health officer of the Floyd County Health Department, has suggested that Floyd countians should be on the lookout for an increase in infectious hepatitis, now that the school year has begun. Special care should be taken at this time, because the majority of cases of infectious hepatitis has been found to occur among school-age children during the fall and winter months, he said.

Infectious hepatitis is a common, contagious disease caused by a virus. Statistics show it to be a cyclic disease, with peaks occurring every ten years. Kentucky's peak year in the current cycle was 1961. At the end of September, 1965, 639 cases had been reported to the State Department of Health.

The disease is spread when a virus from the feces of a patient is transferred, usually by unclean hands, to another person or to some object which will eventually come in contact with a person's mouth. Epidemics have frequently been related to contaminated water, food and milk.

The beginning symptoms are similar to those of many other infectious diseases. Fever, loss of appetite, "runny" nose, fatigue, nausea, headache and chills are common. These symptoms may occur from 10 to 40 days after exposure to the disease. The fever usually abates after a few days and other symptoms develop and become noticeable to the patient, jaundice, for one. This yellowing of the patient's skin and the whites of the eyes is caused by bile which escapes into the blood from the infected liver, which is greatly altered in its normal function. Dr. Hall warns that any person having these symptoms should contact a physician immediately.

In infants and children the disease is usually mild. However, older people and pregnant women experience symptoms of greater severity and usually require six to eight weeks to recover. Treatment consists of special diet and bed rest. A relapse may occur if normal activity is resumed too early and can be more damaging than the original illness.

Unfortunately there is no vaccination for the prevention of hepatitis, but an injection of gamma globulin may be given to provide immunity for several weeks. When an outbreak threatens a community, the American Red Cross, through the State Health Department and county departments of health, furnish free gamma globulin for persons living in the same household with an infected person.

Dr. Hall said that good personal hygiene is the most important factor in preventing the spread of infectious hepatitis. Hands should be washed thoroughly after each use of the toilet and before eating. Children should be cautioned against placing objects or fingers in their mouth. Community sanitation, high standards of sewage disposal, and proper purification of water are necessary if this disease is to be eliminated.

Teachers and other school personnel should be acquainted with the early symptoms of the disease in children and, if suspected, should tell the parents of the suspected children that they be examined by a physician immediately. Dr. Hall said. All children having hepatitis should remain away from school as long as the symptoms remain and should be examined by a physician before returning to school.

"I Don't Like The Catholic Church BECAUSE..."

Ask many non-Catholics to finish this sentence in 25 words or less, and their answers might surprise you.

Some of them, no doubt, would attribute their opposition to doctrinal differences. They might be critical of some or all of the Seven Sacraments accepted by Catholics. Others might not like the Church's ritual and devotions, or even the Catholic attitude on social questions.

But none of these is the dominant reason for the opposition of some people... and the unwillingness of others to inquire into the truths of Catholicism.

The great stumbling-block is the unwillingness of many people to believe that Priests and Bishops and a Pope... all men like themselves... are vested with divine authority to speak for God.

They refuse to believe that another human being has the authority to forgive sin, even though Christ told the Apostles: "Whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." They reject the idea that God delegated any of His powers to mere men, even though Christ gave Peter the power "to bind or loose on earth," and promised the disciples: "He that heareth you, heareth me."

Those who reject the discipline of the Church will contend, at times, that God would not have delegated His powers to any but the spiritually perfect... and there are no such people. In contradiction of this, Christ clearly did appoint deputies to teach His gospel and... though He did

FIRST METHODIST W. S. C. S. MARKS 25th ANNIVERSARY

October 16 marked the 25th anniversary of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church here. At 2 p.m. members, friends and visitors called at the church where a welcome was extended by Mrs. Carl Horn, president of the Woman's Society, and Mrs. Robert Hughes, president of the Wesleyan Service Guild. Mrs. John Roberts, first president of the Woman's Society, interested the group with the many things that happened and were accomplished by the Society in the quarter-century of its history. She told of the first communion service administered in the home by the Rev. W. B. Garriott. Mrs. James Carter told of the progress and achievements during the years. The closing remarks by Mrs. W. B. Garriott, pointed out the organization of the Society really began 140 years ago.

Twenty-five years ago, the M. E. Church came together in three divisions. Out of this came the W.S.C.S. It has two million members today. Ten million dollars has been given to mission work. After Mrs. Garriott's remarks, "Time and Things To Remember" was illustrated in a "fashion parade" of dresses and costumes worn by members of the church in the past, narrated by Mrs. John F. Brown. "Our Yesteryears" models appeared in costumes of Mrs. K. J. Whaley of more than 55 years ago; a white lace dress of Miss Dorothy Davis, first organist of the church; a dress of Stella Spurlock worn at Virginia Beach, and shoes worn by Peggy Wells at the same time. Mrs. Burl Spurlock wore her dress of green lace that she wore in her freshman year of high school, also a blue velvet dress with a long black velvet coat worn by her at college. Mrs. Mary R. Webb's brown velvet dress and long, amber beads also were modeled. The wedding dress made of accordin-pleated georgette crepe with wide lace and long blouse of Mrs. Luther H. Shivel was in splendid condition. Mrs. Inez May Hereford wore the wedding dress of Mrs. Mary R. May. A large, black hat worn with a black dress was modeled.

The chemise of the period of 1917 with deep crochet lace yoke and trimming was worn by Sally Ligon Clark. Mrs. Regina Roberts wore a complete Hawaiian costume. Mrs. Katherine Frazier wore a long, black sheer dress with taffeta bands and high-heeled slippers worn by her in 1940. A navy-blue accordin pleated silk costume suit of Mrs. B. F. Combs and hat was modeled.

Heirlooms of old lace, antique silver, dresden china, hand-painted pictures and many other items were on display. Among them were a silver communion pitcher and silver cups given by James Trimble, of Cadletsburg, over 60 years ago; a gold-headed cane given by the Sunday School to Isaac Richmond for his service of 25 years as superintendent of the Sunday School; the gold watch given by the Sunday School to Charles Oppenheimer for his services, also interesting pictures of children, in the early church days.

The refreshment table was covered with an Italian cut linen, centered with a low arrangement of white mums brushed with blue and flanked by branched candelabra holding white candles. Mrs. Carl Horn presided at the silver tea pot and Mrs. Robert Hughes poured coffee from a silver coffee urn. Mints, cookies, sandwiches and nuts were enjoyed. Mrs. W. B. Garriott gave the benediction.

Young women who modelled the fashions were Susan Carter, Melissa Francis, Pam Goble, Ginny Archer, Rita Goble, Meg Marshall, Sharon Roberts, Dianne Allen.

Mrs. Maude Langley Succumbs, Tuesday At Paoli, Indiana

Mrs. Maude Spurlock Langley, 63, wife of Irvin Langley, and a native Prestonsburg woman, died Tuesday night at Paoli, Indiana, following a long illness. In failing health for several years, Mrs. Langley had been seriously ill the last six months.

She was a daughter of the late B. M. and Julia Langley Spurlock, of West Prestonsburg, and was a member of the Methodist Church. She and her husband had lived at Paoli, the last 19 years.

Survivors, besides her husband, are two brothers, Richard and R. L. Spurlock, both of Prestonsburg, and one sister, Mrs. Mabel S. Fannin, of Paoli. Her funeral will be conducted Friday at Paoli, and burial will be made there.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my mother, Judy Collins, who passed away October 19, 1964:

Deep in our hearts lies a picture more precious than silver and gold; it's a picture of you, dear mother, whose memory will never grow old. Yes, God wanted you for his angel—Oh, how happy you must be in that beautiful heaven, at rest and sleeping peacefully. The world's weary troubles and trials past.

In silence you suffered, with patience you bore, Until God called you home to suffer no more. Memories are treasures no one can steal, Death is a heartache nothing can heal.

Some may forget you, now that you are gone, But we will remember, no matter how long.

JACK HYDEN PLEDGES GOOD LAW ENFORCEMENT, COURTEOUS TREATMENT, SECURITY AND SAFETY

Dear Citizens of Floyd County,

This is a humble appeal for your support and vote in the coming sheriff's race, so that we together can make Floyd County a better place to live — a better place to raise our children. I want to make it safe for Mother to drive anywhere she pleases in Floyd County, safe for our young people to travel to the lake, Prestonsburg College, drive-in, or anywhere they desire in Floyd County. In one section of our county, there is a lot of reckless and drunken driving. When I am sheriff, this will stop!

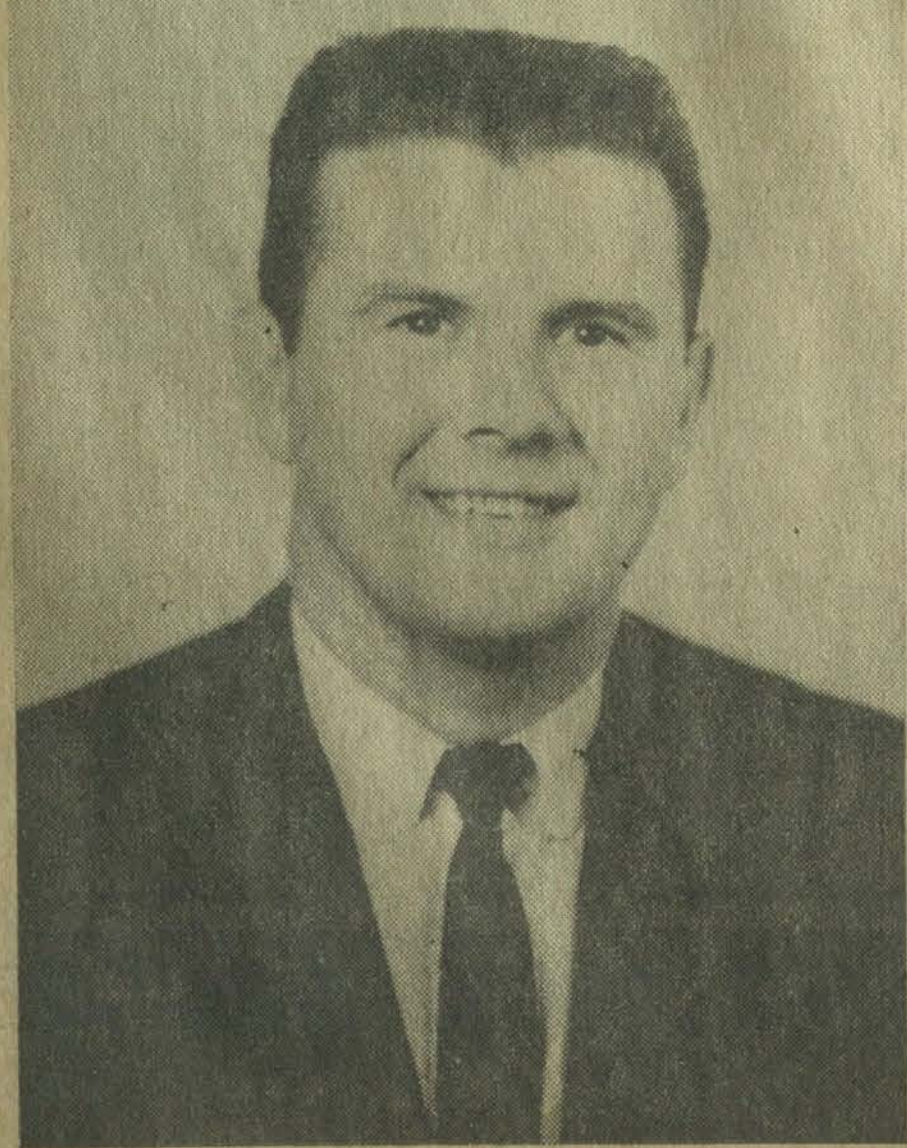

I believe in strict law enforcement, but I am opposed to the unmerciful beating of people for no reason at all — particularly beatings in many cases after the prisoners are subdued and handcuffed.

I will choose my deputies with care, and no one known to be unnecessarily brutal to prisoners will serve under me. I will tolerate NO BRUTALITY from my deputies when sheriff. I believe the sheriff should only be sheriff — not the Judge, Jury and Executioner. We have courts to handle the punishment if people are found guilty of crime.

I am opposed to bootlegging, and will do everything in my power as sheriff to stop it. I promise no miracles — only to do my best.

Your sheriff should be a person you consider a friend and protector, someone you can call in your time of need, not someone you fear and dread. Please vote for me for sheriff. Your confidence in me will be a sacred trust.

Yours for a better Floyd County,

JACK HYDEN

AUTO LIABILITY, COLLISION RATE BOOST PROPOSED FOR FLOYD; HEARING SLATED

Public hearings will be held in Frankfort, beginning November 9, by the Kentucky Department of Insurance on adjusted automobile insurance rates requested by two national rating organizations for their affiliated companies.

The rating groups are the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters (NBCU) and the National Automobile Underwriters' Association (NAUA).

The proposed rate changes include increases for liability insurance, increases in most counties for collision insurance, and increases in some counties and reductions in others for comprehensive insurance. Based on adult driving late-model passenger cars, with no youthful male drivers in the household, and with a good driving record, the proposed premium changes for Floyd and other Eastern Kentucky counties are:

Liability, up $7; comprehensive, down $3; $50 deductible collision, up $8; $100 deductible collision, up $6.

Insurance Commissioner William E. Bivin said that the NBCU has filed for a liability increase averaging 16.8 percent for private passenger cars. For basic liability protection, this would mean an annual average premium increase of $8.50.

The NAUA seeks an average increase for collision coverage on private passenger cars of 11.8 percent for $50 deductible, and 17.7 percent for $100 deductible. A statewide average reduction of .04 percent is proposed for comprehensive insurance.

The NAUA's private passenger car revisions would mean average annual premium increases of $8.24 for $50 deductible collision and $8.42 for $100 deductible collision. For comprehensive insurance, there would be an average annual premium reduction of 10 cents.

Bivin said liability insurance covers the motorist against financial loss due to his legal liability to others whom he injures or whose property he damages due to his negligence.

Collision insurance reimburses the policyholder to his own car because of collision or upset, regardless of fault. Comprehensive coverage concerns loss to the policyholder because of theft, fire, storm, flood and allied perils.

For commercial vehicles, the NBCU seeks an average increase of 8.4 percent on liability coverages and the NAUA an average increase of 10.6 percent on physical damage insurance.

The rate changes proposed vary for different areas of the state. Bivin said Kentucky, as is the case with other states, is divided into rating territories according to traffic congestion and population density, which affect a motorist's risk of having an accident. McCracken, Jefferson and the North-Central counties may get the heaviest increases.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On and after publication of this notice I will not be responsible for any debt incurred by any person other than myself.

GET IN ON THIS!

It has come to my attention that what a good part of the world waited for has been supplied by a group headed by a Kentuckian, one Bailey Root, of Newport. It is the U. S. Duffers Association, at last report had 175 members (add another, please), and had issued a rules book which is plumb tolerant of all lovers of wildlife who never shot a birdie. Says USDA President Root:

"All we've done is take the things we all do—like changing to a new ball on the greens or fairways, improving your lie and ignoring the two-stroke out-of-bounds penalty—and make them legal."

If USDA's rule on getting out of the rough suits me, think I'll organize a chapter here and return to the ancient and honorable sport.

Father Time is taking his toll, me laddies, if it takes you longer to rest than it did to get tired.

I have been dipping into theology, a bit of late, and have by dint of much cerebration decided I wouldn't give one trusting soul for all the Pikes, Tillichs, Bultmanns and so on down the line that you could round up from now till doom's-day.

Mrs. Archer Becomes Dist. KFWC Governor

Mrs. Zella S. Archer, of Prestonsburg, was installed October 9 as governor of the Seventh district of the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs. Mrs. Archer is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky State College, has served her local club as secretary for several years, and was vice-president one year. She served four years as secretary of the Seventh district, K.F.W.C. An active member of the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, she has taught Sunday School and is presently vice-president of the Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. Archer is a social worker for the State Department of Education as a rehabilitation counselor providing special services to the children of the county. She has previously taught school and been Girl Scout executive for the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council. Mrs. Archer has a married daughter living in Florence, Alabama.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my husband, Billy Joe Perkins, who passed away September 29, 1965:

It's fall now and the leaves are turning brown,
And the one I love so much is asleep beneath the ground;
God took his spirit home to heaven, just two weeks ago today,
And he said good-bye, the last words I heard my darling say.
And, standing by his bedside, He was holding me close and said,

"Don't worry darling, God forgave me my sins, and that same day my darling was dead.
And my heart is so broken,
And my life is, oh, so sad,
And in all my trials and troubles, I never knew nothing could hurt so bad.

But my darling has crossed over Jordan's chilly tide, and Jesus was standing waiting, for him on the other side.

So, darling, now that you are safe on the road that leads to everlasting life,
Just stop and wait for me, my darling,
Till I have finished God's work in this life.

And He will let me come to meet you,

And we will rejoice together in our blessed Savior's light,
And in that home up yonder there won't be death or pain any more.

And we will both set down together with our Lord forevermore.

And I know you are up there my darling,

Where the pastures are green all year round,

Even though your body is asleep here in this cold, cold ground.
And, my darling, to the Lord I will be true.

It won't be long till I can join you, in heaven,
Where all will be made new.

FORECASTER OF WEATHER NEW FIREFIGHTER WEAPON

The State Division of Forestry will face the fall fire season with a new weapon in its arsenal of fire-fighting equipment.

State Fire Control Chief Maynard Marcum has announced that a forecaster of fire weather for Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio has been stationed with the U. S. Weather Bureau at Cincinnati by the U. S. Forest Service.

Marcum said the Cincinnati station will provide area forecasts to the division each afternoon for both the eastern and western sections of the state.

"We are hoping to cut the size of forest fires during the fall season from an average 25 acres to 15," Marcum said.

The division of forestry in the State Natural Resources Department, operates 10 weather stations in nine forest districts across the state.

Marcum said these stations will feed local weather information to the Cincinnati office where it will be correlated and fed back to the division.

"We previously received forecasts from Asheville, N. C.," Marcum said, "but feel this new station, being closer to Kentucky, will be a greater advantage for the division in planning our suppression forces to cope with predicted problems in fire occurrence and suppression."

Marcum said the Cincinnati station will operate six days a week, the year round, and will issue seven-day forecasts during the spring and fall fire season. Forecasts will be available to the division of forestry by request at other times.

MATLICK STRESSES FOOD, WATER NEED

"The greatest problem in the world today is how to meet the challenge of the rapidly exploding world population," said State Natural Resources Commissioner J. O. Matlick as he opened the fifth annual Conservation Congress in Louisville last Thursday.

"The human race is doubling in numbers every 35 years," Matlick said. "That means the world food supply must be doubled."

Matlick also said the demand for water in the U. S. will double by 1980. "By the year 2000 we will be using 900 billion gallons per day, or 90 percent of the then-available total national supply."

About 500 people attended the two-day congress at the Sheraton Hotel. Theme of this year's meeting was the social and economic aspects of natural resources development.

Matlick said the biggest population increase—more than 100%, will come in "the less-developed nations where they don't have adequate food supply today."

He noted that the vast increase in food production must be achieved at a time when nearly all of the virgin lands of the world already have been brought into production.

"A dilemma facing the Western world," Matlick said, "is that the Communist countries, including Red China, face a smaller population explosion than do the non-Communist countries."

He added that current population trends indicate that the population in the Communist world will grow by only about 49 percent while the population of the free world will grow by 98 percent between now and the year 2000.

Matlick told of a trip through Russia where he saw signs in the villages and on the farms that stated: "Surpass America in food production and Communism will win over capitalism."

Matlick said the No. 1 goal of the Communist countries is to surpass America in the production of food.

Matlick also expressed concern about the nation's dwindling water supply. "Water in the crowded world of the future looms as a problem almost as serious as that of food."

"What we do in the next few years to develop the water supply to meet the needs of our expanding population and industrial development will determine our future."

Referring to the prolonged drought in the Northeastern states, Matlick said "We here in Kentucky have always felt secure by the fact that we have an annual rainfall of 45 inches and 11,000 miles of streams. It is only when we stop to consider that should we experience a drought in the headwaters of these streams, similar to that being experienced in the Northeastern states, that the wheels of industry could grind to a halt."

He pointed out that the city of Lexington now uses more water daily from the Kentucky River than the average flow of the river in the 1930 drought.

"In August, 1963 65 percent of all the water flowing by Louisville in the Ohio River came from man-made reservoirs, and when we stop to think what the pollution buildup (in the Ohio River) would have been if this low-flow augmentation (reservoir water) had not been available, then we can understand that Kentucky, as the rest of the nation, must face up to . . . the necessity for increased production of food and the preservation of our land, water, forests and mineral resources."

Matlick said Governor Edward T. Breathitt has asked the Department of Natural Resources to "study and develop long-range plans for the orderly development of our natural resources, especially in water resources, to meet the needs of the future."

Breathitt is chairman of the natural resources committee of the National Governor's Conference.

BILL WELLS SPEAKS TO HIS FRIENDS

To my friends and neighbors of Magisterial District No. 1:

I deeply regret that I must use the newspaper to come into your homes for our visit before the November election, but this is my only chance, it seems.

Many of you already know that I have suffered a severe back injury that has had me confined to my home for some time. This has been very hard on me. As all of you know, I like people and like to meet and talk with them face to face in their homes. However, the choice is not mine at this time. The choice is that of the doctors and in order to try to be able to see you and perform my normal duties I must submit to their advice, and do it now. Beg as hard as I may to wait until the campaign is over, they won't listen, and I suppose they know best.

My visits before the primary were pleasant visits. At that time I stated my platform in the simplest form—to do my best for all the people and their children in all the ways possible in order to make Floyd county a better place to rear our children. I will remember that many of you were perfectly honest with me and told me that you had another choice that you would have to support in the primary. For this straightforward honesty, I shook your hand, thanked you, and asked your support if I were the lucky one and got the nomination. This, many of you promised me. For this I was thankful then and am thankful now. I had hoped to see you and renew that honest promise. Seeing all of you is now impossible and for that reason I take this means of renewing that promise.

To my Republican friends, may I say that I have some pleasant recollections. In the primary, as now, I wanted the support of all, and not knowing how they were registered, I asked many of my good Republican friends to vote for me. You told me then that if I were there in November you'd be with me. I sincerely appeal to all my Republican friends for their support. I will be Magistrate of all the people; therefore, I want the support of all the people.

If my stay in the hospital is not too long, I may still be able to see many of you. If not, again may I say that I want to be your Magistrate in District 1. I want to give the same devoted service that I gave on your Board of Education, which I feel has helped to fit me for the office I now seek. I want to give more service to the youth of our county as I have with Little League for the past several years. In short, without glowing promises, I want to make you the best Magistrate you have ever had.

Would a Vote Against The Bond Issue Save You Money As a Taxpayer?

The answer is—"No."

On the contrary, defeat of the Bond Issue could cost each of us.

Without matching funds, Kentucky could lose $684,000,000 in federal money that lies waiting to be spent on Kentucky roads, schools, parks and other items vital to our progress.

Without the matching funds this Bond Issue will provide, Kentucky will have only one of two choices to make on the matter of roads—1. Forget about new highways for the next several years; or, 2. Spend all existing highway funds to match the federal money, thus build the new highways, and forget all other road construction and maintenance until new funds can be raised, by taxation or otherwise.

Without this Bond Issue, whatever is done for education, parks, mental health, the Prestonsburg Community College and other colleges will not be done with the help of the $684,000,000 offered now by the Federal Government—it will wait, and we, you and the rest of us, will find other means to do the job, if it is ever done.

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO BE PENNY WISE AND POUND FOOLISH. Opportunity knocks at Kentucky's door. Neighboring states have answered by voting their own bond issues—their progress is assured.

Floyd county has come a long way in the last five years, as witness the Mountain Parkway, the Prestonsburg Community College, Jenny Wiley State Park, a new Library, a new Courthouse and other notable advances. Now, with this Bond Issue, we can look forward to other marks of progress:

1. Road construction, including U. S. 23 from Ohio through the Big Sandy section of our state into Virginia, and the extension of the Mountain Parkway.
2. $350,000 for construction at the Prestonsburg Community College.
3. Our share in $117,110,000 to be spent for education in construction of buildings, also for state colleges, vocational schools, etc.
4. Our share in $8,500,000 to be spent for mental health and for health centers.
5. Our share in $11,000,000 to be spent on parks and airport improvement—a big item toward development of our tourist business and toward attracting new industry to our section.

Besides, the Bond Issue would free existing road funds for the building and improvement of rural secondary and farm-to-market roads, thus developing a network of highways to serve all Kentucky.

AND ALL THIS CAN BE DONE WITHOUT ADDITIONAL TAXES. Increased travel over more and better roads, new business attracted to a progressive Kentucky mean more gasoline taxes, more industries paying taxes—and the best financial minds in the state assure us this increased income will pay off the bonds.

KENTUCKY CANNOT AFFORD TO DENY ITSELF THIS OFFERED FEDERAL AID IN THE AMOUNT OF $684,000,000. IF IT DOES, ALL OF US AND OUR CHILDREN'S CHILDREN WILL PAY THE PRICE IN THE YEARS AHEAD.

JACK HYDEN for SHERIFF

In my race for Sheriff of Floyd county I want to appeal to many hundreds of relatives to support me in the campaign. To you and to the general public, I pledge an honest, efficient law enforcement administration, that will not tolerate BRUTALITY from any of my deputies in any form (pistol whipping, blackjacking, etc.)

I earnestly solicit your support and ask that you join the others in Floyd county working to elect a Sheriff who will give you an HONEST and EFFICIENT LAW ENFORCEMENT Administration without BRUTALITY.

Sincerely yours,

JACK HYDEN

SCD NOTES

BY GERALD N. HART
Soil Conservationist

Sediment damage to streams, lakes, water supply reservoirs, road culverts, and other community facilities throughout Kentucky is a growing public concern, according to information released by Homer A. Taff, head of the USDA Soil Conservation Service state office at Lexington.

"Outmoded farming methods that allow soil to wash off of the landscape create part of the problem. The trouble becomes acute where builders and developers expose large areas of raw earth without providing adequate safeguards," the SCS official said.

Investigations show that soil allowed to wash or blow away can cost the taxpayer as much as $1 a cubic yard in sediment removal operations. The same cubic yard can be held in place harmlessly for as little as three or four cents, according to conservationists.

Taff said that SCS has set up technical means of aiding developers seeking to control sediment. Assistance is available through offices of Kentucky's 121 soil conservation districts. It includes help in planning protective vegetation, soils and topography examinations, often caused by construction.

Responding to public interest in the increasing rate of land and water damage, Taff announced that SCS has prepared a picture booklet entitled "Sediment Is Your Problem", the publication may be obtained at all district offices in Kentucky.

the more of these we have the more of these we need

Kentucky's universities, colleges and vocational schools must expand to meet the need for better education and job training for our people.

Modern highways attract tourists and new industry . . . create more jobs . . . help our rural economy.

Our new parks attract visitors and stimulate our economy. We need to continue the successful state park development program now under way.

Health facilities must be expanded to take better care of our mentally ill and to provide new or expanded county health centers.

Your vote on November 2nd can help pass the Kentucky Bond Issue which will raise the money we need for new highways, schools, parks, hospitals. Passing the Bond Issue, which amounts to $176 million, will enable us to get a total of $685 million in Federal Matching Funds and money from other sources, so that we can meet the needs of our state while keeping Kentucky taxes low. The Kentucky Better Roads Council.

Let's not miss the boat!

The $139 million of highway money provided by the Kentucky Bond Issue will entitle us to $597 million in Federal Matching Highway Funds for the building of primary and secondary roads, as well as the new Appalachian system and Interstate system. Other surrounding states have already passed bond issues entitling them to federal grants. We must pass the Kentucky Bond Issue if we are to get our fair share of federal money.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION EXPANSION IS APPROVED

Frankfort, Ky. — Governor Edward T. Breathitt has announced approval by the Appalachian Regional Commission of a $6,880,000 expansion program for vocational education in Eastern Kentucky.

The 12-state commission awarded Kentucky $5,450,000 in federal funds from the Appalachian Regional Development Act and the Vocational Education Act of 1963. The remaining $1,430,000 will be put up by local groups and by the state.

Breathitt co-chairman of the commission, said the application was approved "exactly as we submitted it."

"Approval of this proposal represents a big forward step for Kentucky," Breathitt said. "By further uplifting the technical capabilities of our Eastern Kentucky people, the overall economic level of the entire area will be raised. This is the first proposal of its type approved by the Commission."

The funds will be used to finance the first phase of a three-phase program for the development of vocational education facilities in Kentucky's Appalachian area.

CLARK'S SCORES

John (Wimpy) Clark, junior Black Cat halfback, scored four touchdowns last week as he and his mates bested Whitesburg, 47-7. The agile youth raced 35, 25, 20 and one yard for his markers. This moves him into third place in the Eastern Kentucky individual scoring race with a total of 90 points, based on 12 touchdowns, one field goal and 15 extra points.

For his feat, he was adjudged "Black Cat Player-of-the-Week" for the second time this season.

Others entering the scoring column were end Claude McKenzie, Bennett Leslie and Mike Castie.

Friday night, the Black Cats travel to Hazard for a test with M. C. Napier, a team that has lost eight consecutive games.

The Kentucky-West Virginia second annual lefty-righty amateur golf tournament will be held at the Paintsville Country Club golf course on Sunday, October 31.

Two-man teams—one lefthander and one righthander—will vie for merchandise prizes in the 18-hole handicap affair.

Monday's twice-a-day performance of the Continental Circus will be the largest attraction of its kind ever to appear in Eastern Kentucky. The 7:30 night performance will consist of more than 20 acts, including elephants, wild animals, aerialists, acrobats, etc.

The annual Hallowe'en Carnival of Clark Elementary school will be Saturday, October 23, 1965. It will begin at 7 p.m. and last until 12 midnight. There will be dancing, fun and games for everyone. Everyone welcome.

The gala show will be in the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse at 1 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Trolling is the best method of producing a good-sized bass at Dewey Lake. Two good catches were recorded Saturday by local anglers, Irvin Harris and Conservation Officer Raymond Copley. Harris pulled in a five-pound largemouth bass and Copley a six-pounder. Both used a Bomber lure.

Fleming-Neon whipped Hazard, 38-7, last Saturday while Belfry was walloping Jenkins, 38-13, for its eighth consecutive victory. Thus Fleming-Neon jumped ahead of Belfry to 15th place in Tuesday's statewide high school football ratings. Belfry fell to 24th position. Prestonsburg moved out of 105th position to 86th, and Wheelwright dropped to 130th.

Two Morehead Students Do Practice Teaching

Morehead, Ky., Oct. 18 — Two Morehead State College students are doing student teaching at Prestonsburg high school and Clark elementary school this semester.

They are among 164 Morehead students at 42 student teaching centers throughout the state. Dr. Lawrence Griesinger, Director of Student Teaching at Morehead, said the students will do four weeks of student teaching and return to Morehead for four weeks of on-campus work. The students will then return for four more weeks of student teaching and will complete the semester with the remaining four weeks on campus.

"We are greatly pleased with the student teaching centers throughout the state," said Dr. Griesinger, "as they provide excellent opportunities for our youngsters to prepare for the teaching profession."

The Morehead State College student who will do his training at Clark elementary is Billie Hughes. Kenneth Prater is doing his student teaching at Prestonsburg high school.

Questions and Answers By and to Veterans

Q. In World War II, I was a Catholic chaplain attached to an Army unit in the South Pacific. I left the priesthood shortly after the war. Am I entitled to any veterans benefits?

A. You would be entitled to the same benefits as any honorably discharged World War II veteran. See or write your VA regional office for specific information on any benefit in which you are interested.

Q. I am a disabled veteran and am receiving additional compensation for my 17-year-old son. He has enlisted in the U. S. Navy. Must I report this event to the VA, and will this action stop the additional compensation for my son?

A. The answer to both questions is "no," as the additional compensation will continue until your son reaches 18, regardless of his military service.

Q. How much longer do I have to apply for reinstatement of my GI insurance under the new program for disabled veterans.

A. You have until midnight May 2, 1966. However, you should keep an eye on your own next birthday. Since insurance premiums are based on the age nearest your birthday, you may wait too long and find that for insurance purposes you are a year older than you really are and the premium will be higher.

BLACK CATS ROMP, 47-7; BELFRY CLINCHES TITLE

By GORDON V. MOORE

Belfry, Eastern Kentucky's largest rural high school, has dethroned Hazard as Class AA, Region 4, District 2 champions.

Al Vipperman's Pike countians downed Jenkins Saturday afternoon, 38-13, for its sixth regional win and eighth overall win to remain as the only unbeaten club in the mountain area.

Thus the Pirates will probably meet Middlesboro in the district finals and the right to enter the state semi-final playoffs.

Frank Guyton, 190-pound senior halfback, tallied four touchdowns on runs of 11, 70, 2 and 6 yards to run his season's total to 117 points, highest in the area.

John (Wimpy) Clark, Prestonsburg's stellar halfback, equalled Guyton's output of touchdowns as he scored four and kicked five extra points in pacing Prestonsburg to a 47-7 romp over home-standing Whitesburg.

Fleming-Neon recorded its biggest win of the season and sixth of the year in blasting Hazard, 38-7. The Class A Letcher county school is tied with Cattlettsburg at 3-0 for the district title.

Louisa ran its record to 5-1-1 in pasting Morgan County, 39-20. Halfback John Shellcraft sped for four touchdowns.

In other area action, Pikeville picked up its second win of the season by tripping neighboring Elkhorn City, 10-7; Wheelwright added its third victory, defeating Leslie County, 33-0, and Paintsville lost for the fifth time, bowing 19-13 to Russell. M. C. Napier dropped its eighth consecutive game in falling to Hazel Green, 34-13.

Belfry, now tied with Fleming-Neon at 5-0 in the nine-team Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference, has completed its Kentucky schedule and now tangles with Matewan and Williamson, West Virginia, in their trek toward an undefeated season.
