

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1965

This Town ... That World

VOTE—OR SHUT UP!

There is no election story on this page, but, scattered through the paper, are facsimiles of the ballot as it will appear next Tuesday on the machine in your precinct, wherever you vote in Floyd county.

And please vote! Do you prefer one candidate above another; do you favor the bond issue or oppose it — whatever your sentiments, go to the polls and express them with your vote.

We prate of God-given rights and complain about the loss of individual liberties, and then deny our rights and liberties when we fail to vote.

"Jimmy" Goble, who died last Sunday, left this newspaper for The Courier-Journal, 26 years ago, but the pleasure it was to work with him is well-remembered and remains one of many things that I put down on the profit side of the ledger.

I should have told him this but didn't: On several occasions when the old job became a grind and I grew tired and wished I could toss it all overboard, I for some reason would recall the boyish enthusiasm with which he tackled each day's work, every story that was his to write—and I would then sail back into the drudgery as if every commonplace item was worth a banner headline.

And now, though by this reminded that I shouldn't, I will probably go on, neglecting to give credit to a lot of others who have given me, by their example, the pick-me-up that I need.

WHO MOVED?

You know, I have done my part of wading through literary filth that is literal filth—foul, gutter language that, as far as I have been able to discern, was filthy.

PRATER DIES OF INJURIES

Former Drift Man Louisa Wreck Victim; Rites Held, Monday

James Kelly Prater, 36, of Wellington, O., formerly of Drift, succumbed last Friday at Cabell-Huntington hospital to injuries suffered on the preceding Saturday in an auto wreck, two miles north of Louisa.

It was reported here that Prater's auto hit a fence, spun back onto the highway, throwing both him and his son, Donny, clear of the car. The boy was not seriously hurt.

The victim was a son of Mrs. Gracie Prater Boggs, of Ohio, and the late Eli Prater. He was employed by the Sterling Foundry at Wellington. Survivors, in addition to his widow, Mrs. Kathleen Stumbo Prater, and son, are a step-son, Danny Lee, of Wellington, and four brothers and two sisters: A. C. Prater, Gallon, O.; William, Alvie Eugene and Eli Prater, Jr., all of Mansfield, O.; Mrs. Carrie Edna Compton, Gallon, O.; and Mrs. Mary Catherine Yates, Wellington, Ohio.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the auditorium of McDowell high school by the Revs. Ollie Sammons, Bob Martin and Ted Shannon. Burial was made in the Lucy Hall cemetery under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

CONTRACT AWAITING OPENING OF PLANT

When the plant at West Prestonsburg of Kentucky Appalachian Industries, Inc. opens — and that event is scheduled for December 1, or soon thereafter — employees will immediately be put to work filling a contract.

The production contract already on hand for the plant is expected by that time to be joined by contracts for defense materials on which bids were recently submitted. Barkley J. Sturgill, secretary of Kentucky Appalachian Industries, said Tuesday.

Mayor George P. Archer was named president of the company at a meeting at May Lodge last week of stockhold-

WATER POLLUTION CLOSES ONE SCHOOL

MAYTOWN HI, GRADES WAIT PLANT WORK

Board of Education To Do Plant Repair; Reopening Scheduled

The Maytown schools were closed Monday morning by order of Dr. Russell L. Hall, Floyd county health doctor, after the water supply there had been found "dangerous for children to drink."

The water there had been subject to question and repeated testing during recent weeks, and the action followed tests and an inspection of the plant last Friday by a representative of the State Health Department.

It was said here Wednesday morning that the schools will reopen Monday if various corrective measures required by the State Department of Health and the Floyd County Health Department are completed this week. Some of the work required is the installation of new filters and new chlorinators.

Roland Burchett, who leased the water plant from the Floyd County Board of Education seven years ago, Wednesday morning surrendered his lease to the board.

Superintendent Charles Clark, of the county school system, said the board of education expects to install, later, its own water system, exclusive of whatever system that may serve the town itself.

It was estimated recently that between $20,000 and $30,000 would be required to make the present plant capable of supplying adequate and safe water.

The corrective measures required by health authorities for reopening of the school are:

Inspection of sand filters and replacement of media if needed; repair of the back-wash tank, installation of pre-chlorinators and post-chlorinators and use of positive displacement chlorinator; clean and flush mixing, settling and ground storage tanks; repair and put into use alum and lime feeders; replace manhole covers on top of ground storage tanks and place screens over other tank openings; maintain a residual chlorine concentration of a minimum of two parts per millions.

JAMES GOBLE DIES SUNDAY

Former C.-J. Writer, Native of Prestonsburg, Victim at Anchorage

James Ballard Goble, 52, who began his newspaper career with The Floyd County Times and who later was on the staff of The Courier-Journal for 20 years, died Sunday morning at his home at 204 Dorsey Way, Anchorage, Ky.

The former Prestonsburg man is believed to have succumbed to a heart attack. He, Mrs. Goble and their son had left Anchorage Saturday afternoon to drive to Prestonsburg for a visit, but he became ill at Frankfort and they returned home.

A son of Mrs. Edith Goble Kendrick and the late Ernest Goble, he was a native of Prestonsburg. He attended Alice Lloyd College at Pippa Passes and the University of Kentucky and began his journalistic career with The Floyd County Times in 1937. During the time he was employed here he was correspondent for The Courier-Journal and syndicated news services, and it was his reporting of Floyd county's sensational "Child Bride" story that opened the way to daily newspaper work.

Goble went to The Courier-Journal in 1939 as a reporter and became assistant state editor. When World War II broke out, he served with the public relations staff of the Armored Replacement Training Center at Fort Knox. Later, he transferred to Yank, the Army weekly newspaper, and became editor of its Western Pacific edition. After the war he returned to The Courier-Journal.

OK $687,661 FOR 42 UNITS

New Housing Project Here To Bring Total To 82; 20 for Aged

The Public Housing Administration has approved the Prestonsburg Municipal Housing Commission's annual contributions contract for 42 additional low-rent housing units which will be built at a total cost of $687,661.

Twenty of the units will be for the elderly. The 42 new units will bring to 82 the number of low-rent housing units in the community. The first 40 were completed at a cost of $652,622.

Clifford B. Latta, executive director of the housing commission, said work on the new project is several months distant. But construction cannot begin later than September 1, 1966 under the existing contract.

Several months ago, an option to buy 14.43 acres of land as the site for the new project was taken by the commission. The site, which is owned by the E. B. May, Sr. estate, is to be purchased for $38,352. The option will expire December 3, and the housing commission has filed requisition for this amount with the Public Housing Administration.

The new units will be built at the mouth of May Branch here, near the existing Green Acres housing development.

CLARK SAYS BOARD NOT RESPONSIBLE TO PUBLIC USING MAYTOWN WATER

The Floyd County Board of Education, to whose ownership the Maytown water system was returned Wednesday, cannot legally sell water to private citizens, and it will not be responsible for use of the water by any persons other than school people, County Superintendent Charles Clark announced.

Since Roland Burchett, who leased the system in 1959 for $1 a year, has surrendered his lease because he has been unable to collect income from its services in an amount sufficient to keep the plant operating efficiently, the board has assumed the responsibility of making certain specified repairs in order to re-open the Maytown schools.

LEFT BEAVER GROUP ASKS FEDERAL AID

The Left Beaver Community Development Association announced this week that it has applied to the Community Facilities Administration for federal matching funds toward construction cost of a $20,000 community center to serve the area.

Those attending the association's meeting Tuesday night at McDowell high school learned of the support being given by Congressman Carl D. Perkins and U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper of the move for snagging and clearing Left Beaver Creek as a flood control project. Senator Cooper wrote that he plans to visit the community upon adjournment of Congress.

Also discussed were these projects:

A day care center for McDowell; a sanitary landfill garbage disposal for the area; the need for the Kentucky Highway Department to declare a speedzone in front of McDowell high school.

The State Bond issue was discussed by the group, and the general opinion was expressed that Kentucky cannot afford to fail in securing the $685,000,000 offered in federal aid.

The community center proposed by the Left Beaver group would include a reading room where pupils could come at night

FIRE PROBE TO BE MADE

Forestry Division Adds Enforcement Officers During Fire Season

The Division of Forestry has employed several law-enforcement officers to enforce forest fire regulations during the present fall forest fire season.

Their duties are to see that all forest fires are investigated and the responsible persons prosecuted. Those officially employed by the Division of Forestry as rangers, guards and wardens have the same authority as the special law-enforcement officers in enforcing forest fire laws.

The law gives them the authority to issue citations to any person caught violating the laws pertaining to forest fires.

One of these, KRS 149.375 (setting fire on own land regulated) provides that it shall be unlawful for any person to set fire to any flammable material upon land owned or leased by him unless he previously shall have taken all reasonable precautions by having the material piled and a ring cleared around same to prevent the fire from spreading to the woods.

Another, KRS 149.400 (fire hazard season) provides that the periods commencing on March 1 and ending on May 15 and commencing on October 1 and ending December 15 have been established as fire hazard seasons. During these fire hazard seasons, even though the precautions required by KRS 149.375 shall have been taken, it shall be unlawful for any person to do any burning within 150 feet of any flammable material capable of spreading fire to the woods, except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and 12 o'clock midnight.

There are several other laws pertaining to fire. Those with questions should contact the Division of Forestry Personnel.

During the fall and the spring of 1965, Floyd county had 113 forest fires. A total of 4,990 acres was burned over. A prospect of these fires cost the state $6,750.82.

Twenty-four persons were brought to court or paid the state suppression costs resulting from (See Story No. 1, Page 8)

JAIL WIDOW FOR NEGLECT

Mud Creek Mother Of 8 Is Convicted; Topsy Drivers Jailed

Martha Harris, Mud Creek widow, is in the county jail here serving a six-month term upon her conviction in quarterly court on a charge of neglect of her children.

Court officials said she has eight children, the oldest of whom is 12, and that she has neglected to provide for them, although she receives Social Security benefits of around $125 a month.

Officers continued the roundup of motorists on drunk driving charges. Jailed within the week on this charge were: Gilbert Ray Baldwin, by Police-men Ray Click and Bill Booth, of Prestonsburg; James D. Collins and Garry R. Lester, by State Trooper Ray; Edd Branham, by State Troopers Ray and Roberts; Carl Adkins, by State Trooper O. B. Combs.

Harold J. Thornsby was jailed by State Trooper Don H. Goble on a charge of driving without an operator's license, and Lawrence Bentley was booked by Trooper Combs on charges of no operator's license and reckless driving.

Five men have been held here temporarily until claimed by military police as a.w.o.l. They were listed as Robert L. Salyer, John Redford, Russell Scram and Ronnie L. Sanders.

Lowell Thomas Moore was jailed Saturday by Troopers Ray and Roberts on a hit-run driving count, and Alex Lee Adkins was booked by Deputy Sheriff Virgil Porter for child desertion.

LEXINGTON FIRM GETS POOL WORK

First Typhoid Case In 10 Years Reported In Banner Community

The first typhoid case reported in this county in 10 years has developed at Banner where a housewife is ill of the disease, the Floyd County Health Department has learned.

The health department is having all sources of drinking water checked and also is seeking to determine if there is a typhoid carrier who might be responsible for the woman's illness.

Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health doctor, this week emphasized the need for continued concern on the part of the people about the dangers which lie in contaminated water and in unsanitary surroundings.

"Because we have had no serious outbreaks of typhoid and some other diseases many are prone to forget that the germs are still here," he said. "We can't afford to neglect to take every possible precaution or to stop the work of inoculation against typhoid and other diseases."

X-Ray Unit Slated For Wayland, Nov. 3, Martin, November 4

The mobile X-ray unit, donated by the Kentucky Elks Association, will be in Wayland Wednesday, November 3, and at Martin on the following day, Dr. R. L. Hall, Floyd county health officer, said Wednesday. The hours of operation will be from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Dr. Hall urges all citizens in the surrounding areas to take advantage of this opportunity to have chest X-rays. He especially urges all food-handlers, teachers, and known contacts of active tuberculosis cases to have X-ray examinations made.

MERGER SUGGESTED FOR STATE AGENCIES

The State Commission on Economy and Efficiency has recommended that the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources be combined with the Department of Parks, but the latter apparently wants no part of it.

Said a Parks spokesman at a recent meeting at Jenny Wiley State Park here:

"We have our hands full with parks without taking on any other work."

Others have taken shots at the suggestion, contending a merger would return the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources to politics. And there were those, on the other hand, who argued that the bitter fights which have on occasion developed among sportsmen are worse than partisan politics.

The merger plan would throw parks and fish and wildlife into one new department, which would be called the Department of Outdoor Recreation.

The commission also recommended to Governor Breathitt that:

1. The Department of Natural Resources and the Department of Mines and Minerals be combined in a Department of Natural Resources Development.

2. A Natural Resources Use and Development Commission be created and composed of seven citizen members, the directors of the University of Kentucky Experiment Station and the Agricultural Extension Service, and the commissioners of Highways, Health, Outdoor Recreation and Natural Resources Development.

3. The beautification program, now in Natural Resources, be shifted to the new Outdoor Recreation Department.

4. Mine safety enforcement, now in mines and minerals, be shifted to the health department.

5. Air and soil pollution programs be created in the division of environmental health, Department of Health.

PARK POOLS TO BE OPEN NEXT SEASON

$32,826 Job Planned To Round Out Program For 34-Acre Facility

Contract for construction of a junior Olympic swimming pool and a wading pool for younger children at the new Prestonsburg city park was awarded Monday to the only bidder on the project, Gay Young Pools, Inc., of Lexington, on its bid of $32,826.

The main swimming pool will be 42½ by 87 feet and 12 feet at its deepest point with two diving boards and a guard tower. The bid includes all work except construction of a bath-house, the walk around the perimeter of the pool and fencing — work which can be done under a city-sponsored public works project.

It was said this week that the pools will be completed by the opening of next year's season.

This park feature will be located on a high strip of land acquired from the C. & O. Railway Company, near the second park building now under construction.

Approximately half the contractor's bid will be paid in cash from government credits earned on past work here, and the remainder will be financed through the First National Bank and the Bank Josephine and amortized out of pool earnings.

Mayor George P. Archer, who conceived the park development idea, said the pool will cost the taxpayers nothing. The Junior Woman's Club already has voted to guarantee payment of $200 a year on the note principal, and the senior Woman's Club and the Kiwanis Club here have indicated an interest in doing likewise.

The entire park area, most of which is owned outright by the city, includes 34 acres of land lying on both sides of Middle Creek at the upper limits of West Prestonsburg. Using materials from the old courthouse, which was razed for an urban renewal development, the city has utilized the labor of dependent fathers in the construction of two brick buildings at the park.

One of these structures, already under roof, will be completed this winter and will house a maintenance garage for both the park and the city, a storage room, a concession stand, a caretaker's apartment, a Boy Scout meeting room and two other apartments for park employees.

The second, which yet lacks a roof, will be 40x120 feet and will house a community center with stage for presentation of plays or other entertainment, a junior basketball floor, a picnic shelter, concession stands, showers and restrooms.

A bridge across Middle Creek to connect the divided areas of the park has been completed. Also ready for use — most of these supplied through the efforts of local clubs, lodges and other groups — are tennis courts, open-air basketball courts, a playground for small children, a second playground for junior children and a baseball field.

One section of the park which will be ready for use next year as a fairground and for horse shows has been seeded to grass.

Here shown are the 35 scholarship winners at Prestonsburg Community College for the first semester of the academic year, 1965-1966. Recipients of scholarships varying from $50 to $300, they are: First row, from left—Rheda Rice, Marcia Lynne Carter, Jeanne Gearheart, Nova Shannon, Glenda Hall, Barbara Goble, Jeanette Vaughn, Carolyn Ratcliff, Gwen Conn, Carolyn Ison, Rose Ellen Wells; second row—James Stratton, Judy Ward, Flora Belle Church, Doris Ann Ward, Kathleen Reynolds, Emma Marcum, Anne Laferty, Judith Ratliff, Judith Calhoun, Dahlia Jones, Marylyne Hall; third row—David Miller, Dennis Henry, Ronnie Carter, Donald Blair, Kenneth Kinder, Bill Kreitzer, Ernie VanHoese, John Hardwick, Rondall Lawson, bursar-recorder, Prestonsburg Community College, Deloren Collins, Gary Goble.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Certain species of Florida fish lend themselves to sport with a fly rod. Here are six noted down by Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

BASS—Florida bass differ from northern bass in that they're likely to average considerably larger. They also seem to take topwaters far more often—making them, of course, more suitable for poppers. Some anglers use a fly rod that is far too long, heavy, clumsy and tiring—with the so-called bass action. "I use an eight-foot rod with medium trout action and sufficient bend down near my hand for pleasant all-day fishing," reports Lucas.

CRAPPIES—You'll get some of these, but you'd catch still more with even smaller poppers, and usually most with underwater fly-rod lures — wretched things to cast with any fly rod. Usually, you can do much better on crappies with an open spinning reel and small sinking lures than with any fly-rod stuff.

BLUEGILLS—You'll get an occasional one of these on the size poppers you use for bass. By changing to a tiny bluegill popper, you can often get oodles of them—but it's too small to do well with those other species.

SNOOK—In some parts of Florida, these fish easily replace bass as top favorites with advanced fly-rod anglers. Although they are generally regarded as sea fish, recent research seems to show that many snook spend practically their whole lives in fresh water. They're subtropical fish, so they must have quite warm water. Fish your popper for snook as you would for bass, except that a faster retrieve is usually (not always) better for snook.

SPECKLED TROUT—This name is commonly given to the spotted weakfish, which, through the use of quite a bit of imagination, might be thought to bear a slight resemblance to a real trout, to which he's no more related than a snook is to a wall-eye. Many expert anglers consider the spotted weakfish at best only fair sport and eating. Some think him better than that—some worse. You may catch spotted weakfish in strictly fresh water, while casting for other species, but this occurs very rarely.

A BOND ISSUE WAS NEEDED THEN - IT IS NEEDED NOW

Six years ago this month, The Floyd County Times gave its full editorial support to the road bond issue then so enthusiastically sought by Governor Chandler and his lieutenant-governor, Harry Lee Waterfield.

The Times thought that bond issue was needed and that it would serve a good purpose, and time vindicated our judgment.

The Times now supports the State Bond Issue proposed by Governor Breathitt's administration, and the reason is the same as in 1958.

In this newspaper's edition of October 11, 1958, we wrote:

"What is good for Kentucky?"

"That is the only question the voter should consider . . ."

"Old grudges, unsettled scores, have nothing to do with the right or wrong of this bond issue."

We stand on that statement. The settling of "back accounts" with political foes has no place in our thinking, if Kentucky is to be a progressive state rather than a political "dark and bloody ground."

This 1965 bond issue is needed in order to get the benefit of $9 of federal money for $1 of ours, or, in some cases, $7 for $3, for the construction of those highways which are needed to attract new industry, get more young people to high school and college, save more lives from the narrow, twisting trails that now exist in too many places in this and other counties.

Lieutenant Governor Waterfield opposes the Bond Issue, and that is his privilege. But he does not say what Kentucky should do if it rejects it. Does he suggest that Kentucky forget roads, colleges, health, parks and all the other items in the program? Or would he suggest that Kentucky impose new taxes or increase old taxes in order to raise the state's share of the $860,000,000 that is proposed for Kentucky progress?

Please, let us not settle any old scores at the public expense. Let us try, honestly, sincerely, to vote and work for a better, greater Floyd county and state of Kentucky.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SPEAKS FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

EDITOR, The Times:
In a recent letter to the editor of the Floyd County Times I spoke out on the neglect of the mentally retarded children in our county. Perhaps some of our citizens and leaders read this. What effect it had on them, I will never know.

I still feel as I did and would like to know to what effect the $176 million bond issue will help to give schools and workshops for our mentally retarded children in Floyd county and the entire state. According to my information $2.5 million will be for mental health centers and the possibility of building a new facility to institutionalize some of these children. If all the future holds for my daughter is to be placed in an institution and not given the chance to become a useful citizen as she deserves, then I am against our state program for education. Governor Breathitt says, and I quote from the October 18 Huntington paper: "When you get into a war, you fight with everything you've got," when he spoke about the Anti-Pinball Bill. This is what parents with retarded children should do. Fight for the closest thing to their hearts, their children, to see that each and every county has a state and county supported program included with the regular school. I say again that our leaders who fail to furnish adequate schools for all our children, normal or handicapped and who fail to care for each and every citizen are not deserving to be our leaders. Out of an additional $500,000 allocated our federal government, nothing to date has been allocated to the county for our schools from the retarded schools, per the county superintendent's program listed in the Floyd County Times two weeks ago.

Our state officials are at the present time informing the general public of the allocations that will be made to the various schools and colleges and the allocations necessary to maintain our new road construction if the bond issue is passed in November. No allocation is mentioned for schools or training centers for the mentally retarded children, except the possibility of a new institution to place these children in. How would people with normal children feel if they were told the only place for their child would be an institution? I think our leaders should consider and support a program to be included with our county educational system. Also, I might add, I am not against the bond issue but think some consideration could be made for these schools.

INTERESTED IN POETRY

EDITOR, The Times:
A few months ago, a group of interested persons, met in Ashland and organized THE EASTERN KENTUCKY POETRY SOCIETY. The society meets on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Ashland Community College. At the present date, we have 21 members, including Jesse Stuart, poet-laureate of Kentucky.

Each month, a column appears in the ASHLAND DAILY INDEPENDENT, "THE WORLD OF POETRY" by Blanche Preston Jones, featuring one of the poems selected from the group.

As the name implies, our Society covers a large territory and we extend an invitation to all interested persons in the Big Sandy region to attend one of our meetings. This does not mean they would become a member but we are interested in securing new members in that section.

TIP FOR SAFER WINTER DRIVING

When temperature falls, car windows go up, and many motorists drive during cold weather with their vehicles tightly closed. This shuts out noises you should hear, such as horns of vehicles and whistles on trains, warns the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety. It also increases the threat of carbon monoxide, which induces drowsiness in the car's occupants. Drive with one window just "a little" open for entrance of fresh air; it's a good way to stay alive.

Public lands make up about one fifth of the land area in the United States. They also represent a tremendous area for public hunting, fishing and recreation.—Sports Affid.

FREE PARKING ARRANGED

EDITOR, The Times:
With less than a month to go prior to the annual fall convention of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association, to be held in Ashland, November 11 and 12, I wish you would please find a place in your paper for this welcomed news pertaining to E.K.E.A.

Again this year, during the Eastern Kentucky Education Association Convention, November 11 and 12, the City of Ashland, through the efforts and coordination of the Board of Directors of the E.K.E.A., the visiting teachers and professional people will be given "free parking" during these two days. They can pick up their decals for their automobiles at the Morehead or Eastern College display areas.

IN APPRECIATION

EDITOR, The Times:
The weeks immediately following the WHAS Crusade for Children are recuperation weeks for all of us at WHAS. After months of planning and finally programming the Crusade, we simply wilt for a while.

But we're back on our feet again now, and the first thing we want to do is offer heartfelt thanks to all the citizens of our broad community for the part they have taken in this all out effort to help our handicapped youngsters.

We are very much aware of the important participation by newspapers throughout the area in informing everyone of the Crusade itself, the visiting talent and the local organizations taking part. We also are grateful for the editorial endorsement which the Crusade has received.

Please know that we know of and appreciate your contribution. And please thank your readers on behalf of the children and us. I suppose pride is sin, but we can't help feeling a little proud to live among such wonderful people.

IN SUPPORT OF THE TEAM

EDITOR, The Times:
I enjoyed the recent letters in your column about the Prestonsburg high football team.

Let me correct two statements made last week in the sports articles written about the Prestonsburg-Belfry game. The article said Belfry took the lead in the game, scoring on a field goal. This was an error as Prestonsburg took the lead on the field goal kicked by John Clark, and held Belfry scoreless the first quarter.

The other error was the statement that this was the first field goal kicked at Prestonsburg since "the Hughes boys booted them back in the early fifties." This is incorrect as the field goal in the Belfry game was the first one ever kicked at Prestonsburg high school by anybody, if the records are checked. The Hughes boys kicked points after a touchdown, but never a field goal.

While I am speaking my piece I would like to say that Coach Bert Dixon seems to be getting the job done. Prestonsburg has had some good players but hasn't been able to win in recent years. For the first time in eight years they seem to have become a team. They do have the best record so far this season that Prestonsburg has had in eight years, with a good chance of doing well their remaining three games. But if they do lose, will the recent exuberant fans remain faithful, or start criticizing again? Now is the time to support the improving team!

TIDBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College, Bowling Green, Ky.

In my long years of teaching I warned my students against starting a speech on any subject with the time-worn "Never before in the history of the world." Nine times out of ten the incident that a student would relate after such a sweeping statement was so commonplace that anyone who had lived two dozen years or had read a very little bit would have known better than to place the happening as something phenomenal. After many of our modern inventions came to be, I relented somewhat and allowed my students to use the famous phrase when talking about these gadgets but not about human thinking in general. It is typical of the folk to imagine that whatever happens up some hollow, the one where they and their ancestors have lived for years, is universal; and, conversely, if it didn't happen up Greasy Creek Hollow, then it just didn't happen.

Human history has repeated itself so many times that any statement about it is liable to error, even if the speaker or writer is widely read and eager to chronicle only historical fact. When younger people have said that modern politics have gone beyond all bounds, I have often told the story that a prominent educator in Kentucky told many years ago about this very subject. He said that some pious person, not too well read, had said that in older times elections were ever so much cleaner than they now are. "My grandfather,"

"aid this friend of mine," "used to boast that he voted seventeen times in one election for Andy Jackson." I doubt whether the person who was praising the glorious past was convinced, even though the educator had somewhat marked down his own stock to tell the truth and nothing but the truth.

Here is another phase of life that should make us think twice before we make some of our generalizations. I have always opposed juvenile delinquency and expect to keep on doing it. But I have no Good Old Days to quote, for my memory is long. In a small village where I taught very early in this century, Hallow'en was a terror, for no merely horse play but serious damage to property was regular. And the mature inhabitants of the place who would be truthful said that it was equally bad as far back as they could remember. A middle-aged man of property in the village was said as a boy to have led a gang of Hallow'en pranksters for years, one of whose acts was to cut down all the trees that had been planted around the railroad station; and not a single arm was raised by any one to apprehend the rascals, the "juvenile delinquents."

Horse play at Fidelity in my youth was bad enough, but my parents said it was ever so much rougher and more destructive of property in the years before my day. And some very stern fathers, like mine, didn't waste any words in announcing what might happen to us boys if we sneaked out, under the guise of Hallow'en or Christmas, the great time for pranks at Fidelity, and injured someone's property. And we boys, whether we wanted to or not, knew that our fathers were not "just fooling."

In our very stirred-up times I am hearing again and again that this is it; we've never had such times before. Maybe not with the specific slant that modern times can give to events, but, fundamentally, the same stir-ups of human emotion, the same wild feeling that are as much a part of human nature as hunger and sleep. Of course, we need to watch ourselves to keep from going too far off the reservation, but we ought to tell ourselves again that our conceptions of history need some revisions. It is downright comic to find well-heeled folks prating about the marvelous poise and morality of times that they know nothing about and have made no effort to know about.

PAY WAS LOW, TEACHERS FEW IN COUNTY 75 YEARS AGO

By HENRY P. SCALF

Saturday, June 6, 1885, the Board of Examiners, appointed by Floyd County Superintendent of Schools F. H. Morell, began at Prestonsburg a series of teachers' examinations to qualify aspiring men and a few women to fill 77 teaching positions in the county.

The examination was presided over by Morell, ex-officio member of the board. The questions had been prepared by him in consultation with the other two men of the board. When the tests were over the board would grade the papers to determine if an applicant was entitled to a first, second or third-grade certificate. A first was good for four years, a second for two years, but a teacher could teach only one year on a third-grade certificate. In the next year's exams he had to raise that qualification to at least a second-class certificate or drop out of the profession. Many did.

Albert Stephens, later a Floyd county official, and father of the late C. P. Stephens, long Commonwealth's Attorney and for years an assistant United States district attorney, passed the examination as the applicant with the highest scholastic honor. He had an average of 88 percent. Others becoming eligible to teach but with lesser averages were Venia Trail, J. J. Sturgill, Jennie Mayo, James Salisbury, P. W. Spradlin, Samuel Spradlin, J. W. Auxier, J. H. Bays, W. J. Martin, George Archer, Allie Spradlin, J. F. Robinson, M. T. Allen, L. D. Keathley, Marion Crider. Within a few weeks Morell found it necessary to revoke a certificate of a successful applicant but the old records fail to show the reason.

In later years the examinations were held in May and July and under the strict supervision of examiners with the state "looking down their necks," as the late Harry N. Cooley, Floyd county superintendent, once said. Back in the 1880's, however, the board, could roam around the county and hold examinations. If the entire board could not be present the superintendent could hold one himself.

That was what Superintendent Morell did on July 1. He held an examination at the mouth of Brush Creek. Becoming eligible to teach at this countryside examination were Ad Gearheart, Marion Martin, J. M. Flanery, Robert Harmon, I. N. Flanery, William A. Steward, Jeff Justice, E. P. Carter and R. V. Spencer. Two days later, July 3, Morell went to "the Mouth of Mud" and held an examination. He qualified W. K. Elliott, Willis J. Keathley, E. S. Robinette, W. G. Mead, W. J. Roberts, H. C. Akers and Malone Hall.

The next day, July 4, notwithstanding it was Independence Day, Morell returned to Prestonsburg and held still another examination. Here he granted certificates to Laura A. Conley, M. L. Robinson, William H. Vest, Webster Greer, J. F. Hackworth, N. G. Grizzle, M. F. Spradlin, Maggie Ford, J. G. Hutton, and G. M. F. Parker. Twelve days later, July 18, Morell found he needed more teachers and he held another examination and qualified John M. Latery, James H. Powell and Belle Ritchie. Five days following that he held still another examination at Prestonsburg. This time he granted certificates to A. J. Coburn, W. J.

5-Yr. Rest, Prescription Issued to 'Dr.' Stahls For Impersonating MD

The second "medical career" of Ernest W. Stahls was interrupted by Federal District Judge James F. Gordon in Louisville yesterday.

Stahls, 57, was given three years in prison for impersonating a federal officer (a doctor), Stahls, of the 1300 block of Vine, pleaded guilty.

This is the second time Stahls has been sentenced here for impersonating a physician. He drew a five-year term in 1955.

Stahls' latest venture took place June 2. Posing as a Social Security doctor, he examined Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Smith at their home, 1031 E. Chestnut, and sold them a bottle of pills for $20.

He was picked up by city police after they received a complaint. Court records show that Stahls was arrested in 1955 for impersonating a Veterans Administration physician. The indictment charged he examined several elderly persons and sold more than $200 worth of prescriptions.

NOTICE

Leonard J. Sturgill has filed application with the Floyd County Court for permit to operate a place of entertainment, a restaurant known as The Fountain, on U. S. 23, Betsy Layne, Kentucky. C. OLLIE ROBINSON, Clerk Floyd County Court 10-14-35

Collinsworth, G. W. Hall, A. J. Stratton, J. W. Herald, A. O. Burchett and Emma Rice.

It would seem that six teachers' examinations in one summer for the 88 schoolrooms would suffice but Morell found it wouldn't. He held an examination August 15 at Prestonsburg. W. L. Mayo passed with an average of 92 percent. John Hamilton also was a successful applicant. In September, the exact date not entered on the records, Morell held an examination at Prestonsburg. G. W. McClung and Augusta Hurt applied. The former made the high average of 96 percent. Miss Hurt was close behind with an average of 94 percent. November 26, 1885, Morell ended the granting of certificates when he issued one to J. B. Keathley. This was probably done to fill a vacancy.

Several of the schools to be taught by these teachers would have terms of three months, most of them four and a very few, including Prestonsburg, five months. Attendance of the 2227 students fluctuated greatly. Many of the schools had only a single pupil in attendance for days.

Of the 75 schoolhouses used in Floyd county in 1885, 64 of them were the pioneer log structure, and in Morell's report to the state superintendent he listed all of them as in bad condition. Their value was low, dozens of them he stated not worth more than $25. The best log structure was valued at $175. Two districts had no buildings at all and where the teachers taught was not reported. Number 9 district, which was Prestonsburg, had a frame building valued at $2,500. Several school buildings were erected from raw lumber. Their "boxed" construction allowed the planks to spread apart and the cracks created between the boards admitted wind and snow. Total value of all the buildings in the county in 1885 was only $8,440. The county spent $77.05 in 1885 on new construction and expended $122.70 for repairs.

Total value of all the furniture in the school system was $373.25. The county expended $8.65 for buckets and brooms. Under a heading, "Furnishing school houses with seats, desks, blackboards, globes, maps, chairs and apparatus," the sum of $57.90 was entered.

Teachers today talk of being underpaid but if they had been in the profession in 1885 they would have found salaries pitifully small, even after taking into consideration the comparably lower prices of the period. In several districts teachers received $18.41 per month, the lowest paid. Salaries ranged from that to $30 per month, excluding Prestonsburg. In the county seat, the two teachers, a man and woman, received much more. The male, probably as principal, was paid $45 per month. His associate was paid $32.

It was not a woman's profession in 1885. Of the 77 teachers laboring to educate Floyd county pupils, 63 were men and 14 were women.

Morell's problems, and they must have been large and diverse, were encountered by other county superintendents of the period. Struggling to conduct an educational program in log houses, with minute salaries for teachers, very little money for supplies, furniture and equipment, all compounded by a general lethargy toward common school education, were dedicated men like J. N. Harris, D. M. Allen, Henry Patton and M. C. Spencer.

Years ago the late Joe N. Harris, superintendent back in the waning years of the last century, discussed the problems of education of his term and remarked:

"We had little to do with but we had dreams. I have lived to see a remarkable change for the better. Many dreams are coming true."

Today, the Floyd county school system with its multi-million-dollar budget, its vast complex of buildings, and more adequate salaries, all shored up by the Minimum Foundation Program, is the fruition of the dreams of many dedicated men and women of the past.

A VOTE FOR THE BOND ISSUE IS A VOTE FOR PROGRESS

YOU BE THE JUDGE

I have run a clean campaign free of mud slinging and other low type political tricks.

I believe, if the people of Floyd County want an Efficient Law Enforcement administration, I am best for the job.

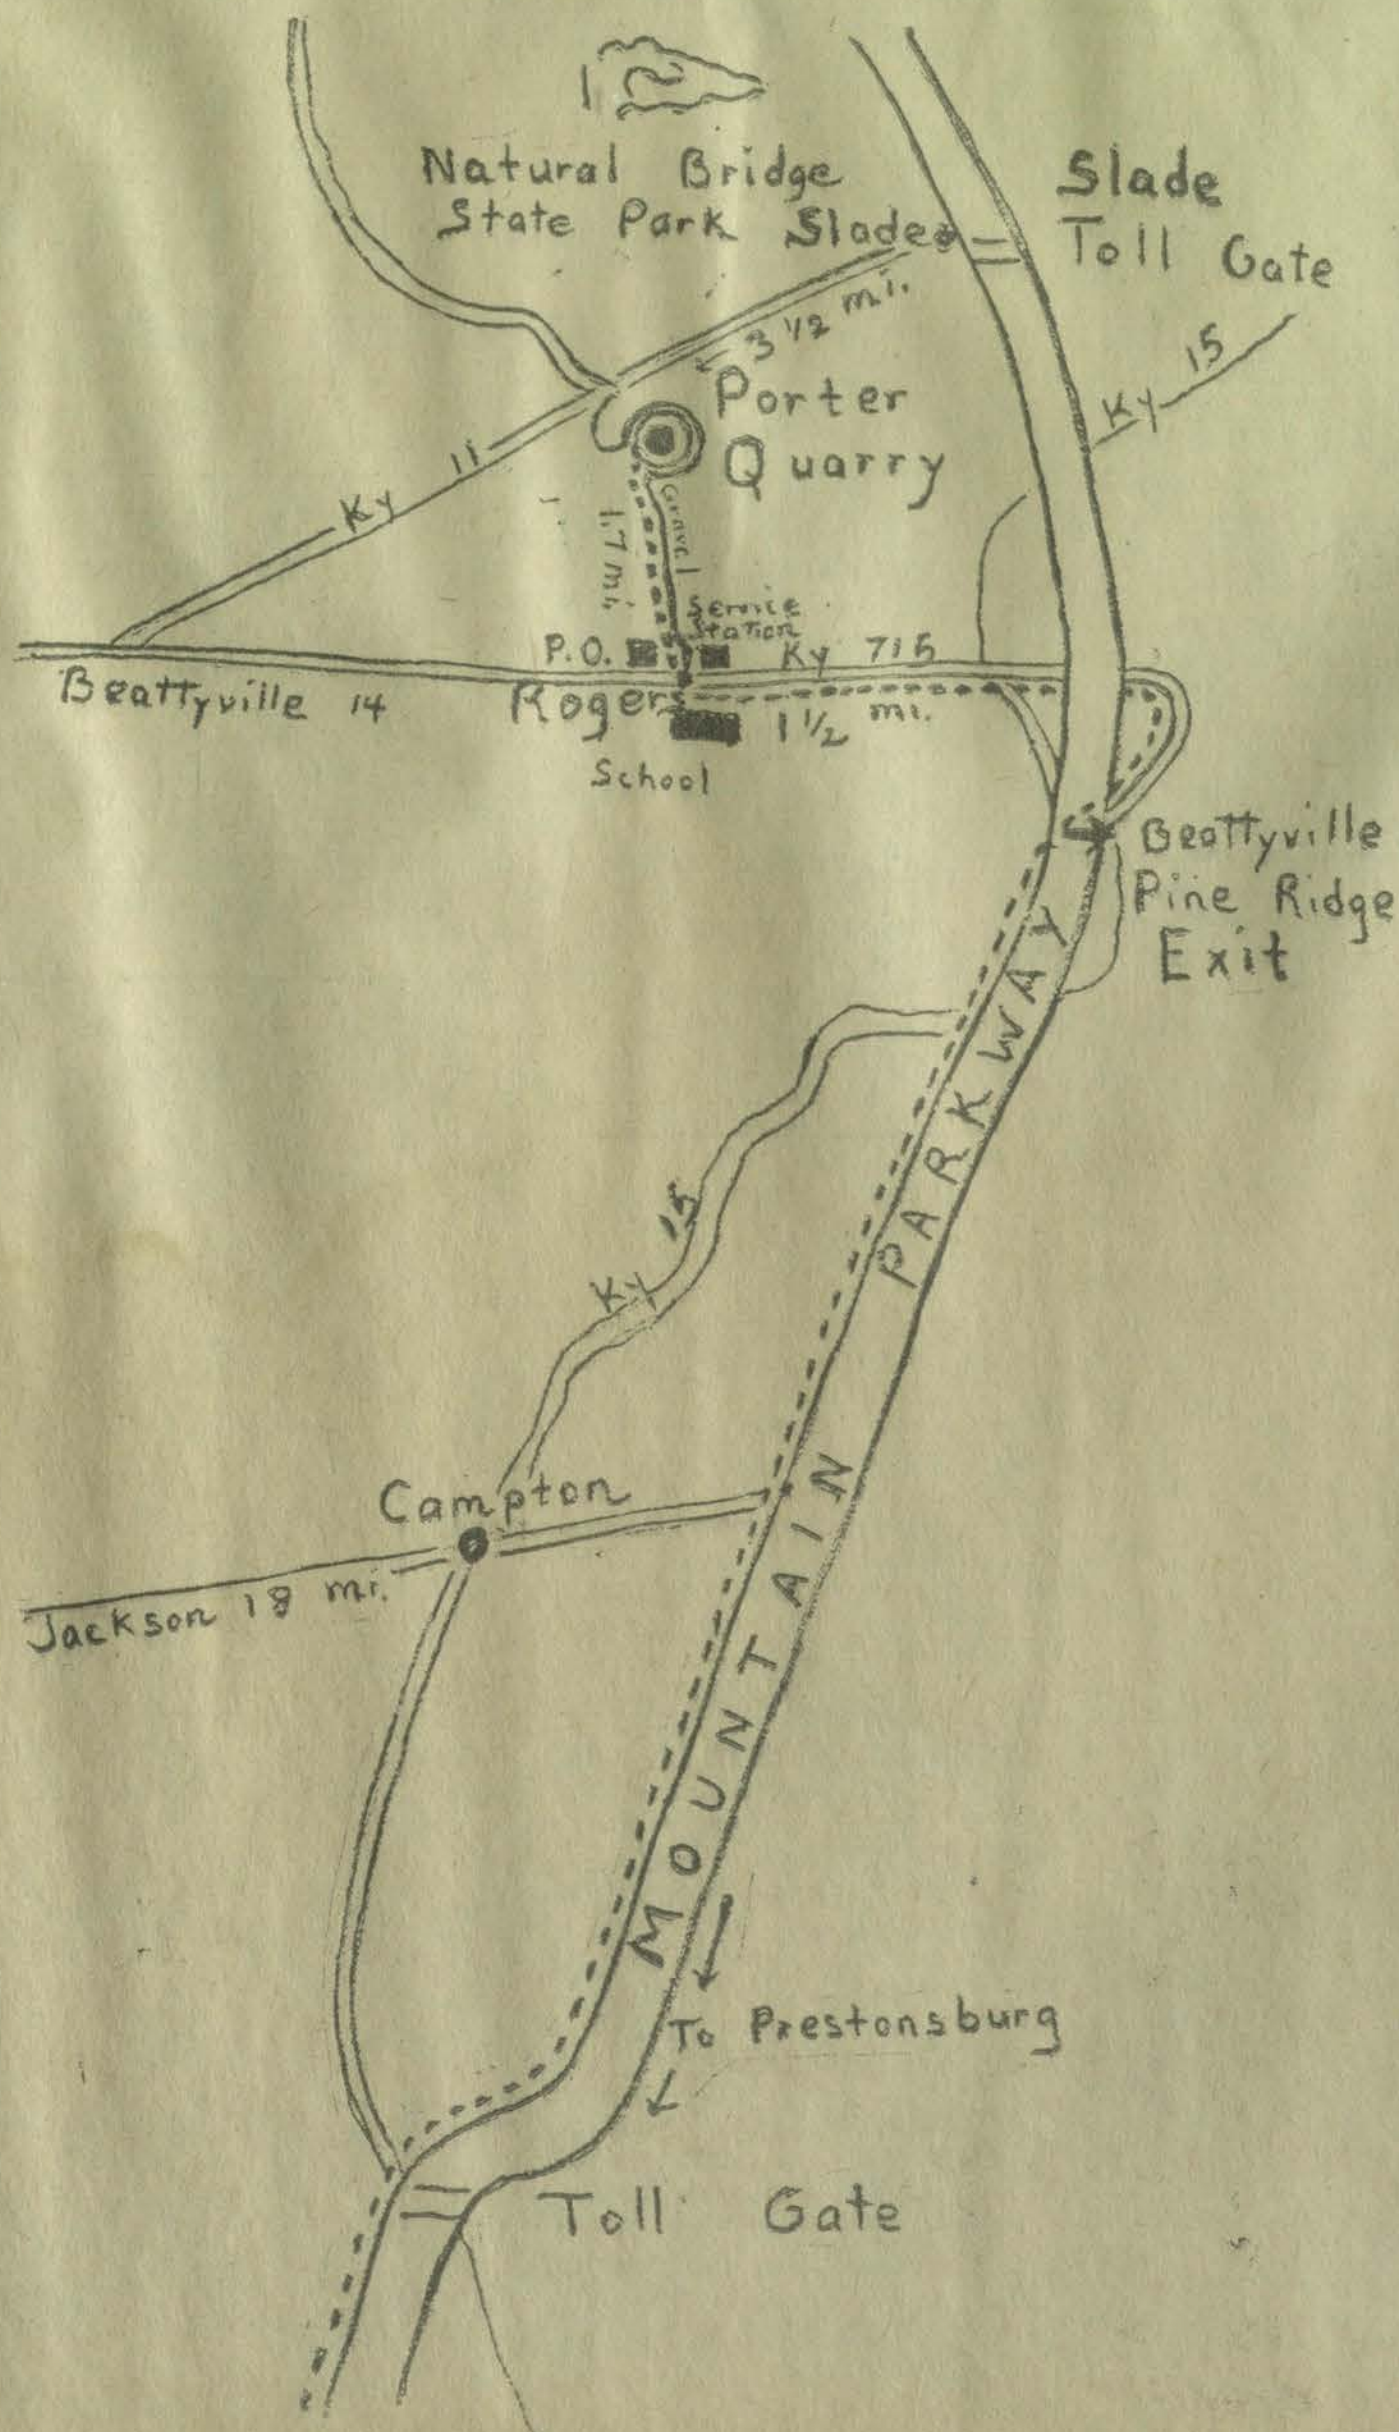

My opponent was tried for 7 years as a Deputy Sheriff, 3 of those as Chief Deputy. He has PROMISED MIRACLES if elected. He performed none of these miracles while he was Chief Deputy, although he had full authority to try and perform these miracles then; so how can you believe his MIRACLE PROMISES now.

I promise no miracles, only EFFICIENT LAW ENFORCEMENT WITHOUT BRUTALITY.

Regardless of who endorses a candidate, he must run on his own record, and not the record of those who endorse him. They do not have to answer for his ACTIONS, if he is elected.

State Sues Justice, Pike-Co. Magistrate, To Collect $12,982

The state filed suit in Franklin circuit court last Friday against Pike county Magistrate Taylor (Doc) Justice to collect $12,982.20 in fines, taxes and penalties.

Named defendant with Justice was the Maryland Casualty Co., the surety on his official bond.

An official audit of Justice's court records by State Auditor Henry H. Carter for the period October 10, 1962, to February 28, 1965, listed some 300 cases in which fines and state fees allegedly were assessed and collected by the magistrate, but not remitted to the state.

Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs was asked to compel Justice to pay the state $12,982.20, plus interest until paid, plus court costs.

The suit was filed by Harold T. Hotopp, assistant attorney general.

Justice, a Republican seeking reelection, has charged that "the unverified charges" in the state audit were a part of a political conspiracy to defeat him at the polls November 2.

FOX TELLS BENEFITS BONDS WILL BRING

Since it became a part of the state parks system $2,282,000 has been spent on Jenny Wiley State Park, Edward V. Fox, assistant commissioner of the Department of Parks, told a gathering of representative citizens and business leaders at May Lodge last Thursday night.

And, Mr. Fox added, half a dozen other projects involving major expenditures are planned at the park, one of the state's top tourist centers, if the state bond issue is approved by the voters.

Mr. Fox addressed delegations from Pike, Martin, Johnson and Martin counties.

Travel studies made by D.

Lewis Copeland, of the University of Tennessee, were reviewed to convey some idea of the value of the tourist industry to Kentucky:

In 1961, all travelers spent $290 million in Kentucky; in 1962, $304 million; and in 1963, $320 million. In 1963, $220 million of the total $320 million were spent by out-of-state tourists. In 1964, all travelers spent $346 million with $328 million of expenditures by out-of-state visitors. State taxes on this revenue from out-of-state visitors in 1964 amounted to $21 million.

The figures for 1965 are not in but will set a new record, Fox predicted.

Urging support of the bond issue because of the progress it will assure for parks, highways, higher education, vocational schools and other programs, the parks official pointed out:

"States bordering on Kentucky now are embarking upon massive park expansion programs, and most of these programs are being financed by bond issues. They know, as we do, that unless we take advantage of the federal support, these federal funds will be withdrawn and allocated to states which can provide matching funds. The federal government will not save your place."

Here are some of the major projects planned for Jenny Wiley State Park to be financed from bond funds:

Back-Beal Vows Said

With a candlelight setting at the Bethanna Baptist Church of Cornettsville, Ky., Miss Velva June Back and Pastor Alan Beal were united in marriage at 6 p.m. October 1. The Rev. Cletis Leverett, of Bunker Hill, Illinois, former pastor of the bride, performed a double ring ceremony and was assisted by Rev. Reevis Clark, of Cornettsville.

Wedding music was played by Miss Joyce Garrett of Appalachian Bible Institute, Bradley, West Virginia. Rev. Wm. Patterson, of Rogers, Ky., sang "O Perfect Love" and "Oh, Promise Me" before the ceremony and "A Wedding Prayer" as a dedication prayer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernis Back, of Ulvah, Kentucky and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phonso Beal, of Colchester, Illinois.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of satin with a white lace jacket with long lace sleeves which opened up the back and was tied with small bows. There was a detachable train which tied in front. The gown was made by the bride. Her elbow-length veil was secured with a sequin-trimmed band. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds trimmed with silver maple leaves and dainty pearls. Rosebuds were tied at the end of the streamers.

Miss Lois Wegner, of Appalachian Bible Institute, Bradley, West Virginia, was the maid of honor. She wore a light-blue, street-length dress with matching headdress and white gloves and carried a single white rose. The bridesmaid, Miss Eleanor Acker, wore a pink, street-length dress with matching headdress and white gloves and carried a single pink rose. Diana Adams, niece of the bride, was the flower girl.

Paul Back, of Indianapolis, Indiana, brother of the bride was best man. Another brother, Lundy Back, of Ulvah, and Steven Leverett, of Bunker Hill, Illinois, were the ushers.

Both mothers wore navy blue dresses with corsages of white carnations. Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held in the rooms of the church. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, centered the bridal table. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ray Caudill, of Cornettsville, Misses Beatrice Jenkins and Charlotte BeVier, of Bulan, Ky.

The bride chose a paprika red dress and matching coat with a corsage of white rosebuds for her brief wedding trip to Cumberland Falls and other places in Kentucky. They are residing at R.D. 2, Bunker Hill, Illinois, where the groom has been pastor of Calvary Baptist Church for two years.

The bride is a graduate of Letcher county schools and the Appalachian Bible Institute, Bradley, West Virginia. She has worked with Eleanor Acker, under Baptist Missions, at Dana, Floyd county, for almost two years. The bridegroom is a graduate of Omaha Baptist Theological Seminary, Omaha, Nebraska, also of Grace Gospel College, Winona Lake, Indiana.

Out-of-town guests were present from Colchester, Bunker Hill and other places in Illinois, Bradley, West Virginia, Varney and Indianapolis, Indiana, Dayton, Ohio, Pikeville, Grethel and Sharpshurg, Kentucky.

Only Woman Test Officer,
Wins Commendation Medal

First Lt. Brenda L. Salyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Salyers, of Eastern, has been awarded the U. S. Army Commendation Medal at Fort Lee, Va. This high peacetime award was presented to her for outstanding meritorious service while serving at Fort Riey, Kan., in successive positions as executive officer and company commander of the WAC detachment.

Although she was a second lieutenant at the time, she executed the duties of company commander which normally is filled by an officer of higher rank. Her efficiency as an administrator and her outstanding supervisory capabilities were immediately recognized by her superiors.

Now assigned to the General Equipment Test Activity at Fort Lee, Lt. Salyers is probably the only female test officer in the U. S. Army. Working in the Activity's Engineering Test Directorate, she is called upon to conduct tests and evaluations of Army women's dress and field uniforms, rainwear, handwear, footwear, and accessories. The General Equipment Test Activity conducts field evaluation tests of experimental clothing and equipment and is a major element of the U. S. Army test and Evaluation Command, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

The attractive WAC officer was graduated from Maytown high school in 1958 and received her bachelor of science degree in the field of home economics from Berea College in 1963. She has several graduate courses to her credit in the areas of human development and relationships which were acquired at the Merrill Palmer Institute, Detroit.

Reynolds Says He Will
Reintroduce Bill Lost
At the 1964 Session

State Representative W. J. Reynolds, Jr., of Allen, said this week that the plan proposed by State Superintendent Harry M. Sparks to provide free textbooks for high school students and to make school attendance compulsory through age 18 or completion of high school is the same plan embraced in the bill which he unsuccessfully introduced at the 1964 session of the Legislature.

Reynolds added that, although the free textbook-compulsory attendance plan is not officially slated for action till 1968, he will reintroduce the legislation at the 1966 session.

Ishmael Triplett, former superintendent of Prestonsburg city schools and now director of the state division of textbooks and instructional materials, has estimated that the cost to the state of buying textbooks for the present crop of high school pupils in Kentucky would cost $1 million a year. And that does not include the cost of books for the 19,000 or so high school pupils who are not now in school but would be required to enroll if the age 18 requirement were passed.

In 1960 the Legislature defeated a Combs-Administration bill to make high school textbooks free. The 1960 Legislature did approve the administration budget which provided for some free textbooks at the high school level. The appropriation for a two-year period was slightly below $1 million, but the program died when no funds for the purpose were set aside in the 1962-'64 budget.

Now, state school heads are convinced that it must come to compulsory attendance and free textbooks for all — or, the state must go to a textbook rental plan or to using cheap, paperback texts. And these latter alternatives aren't given very serious consideration.

Sparks, in developing his three-part proposal, reasons this way: "We ought to be thinking in terms of compulsory education through high school. Most people can't get decent jobs without a high school education.

"If we do that, then we must think of expanded academic and vocational programs for all young people. One part of this would be the vocational centers which pupils would attend half days after attending a regular high school the first half of the day.

"Then, if we require them to be in school until age 18, we should be willing to pay for their textbooks."

QUESTION:

Would You Refuse $9 for $1--
Or Even $7 for $3?

ANSWER:

The State of Kentucky Won't Either!

Then, if we do not approve the State Bond Issue, one of two things will be done in order to benefit from the federal funds offered Kentucky:

1. Kentucky will use all available highway funds to match the federal money, and this will leave rural secondary and other small roads out of the picture for the next five years.

Or

2. Kentucky will levy new taxes or increase present taxes in order to raise the matching funds to that federal money which, if not claimed by Kentucky, will go to other states.

IT'S THAT SIMPLE!

Officials of this state would be untrue to their trust and to the future of the state and its people, if they did not choose one of these alternatives if the voters should refuse to approve the Bond Issue.

Appalachian and other funds for roads, schools, colleges, health, parks and other facilities have been appropriated and await matching funds from Kentucky.

We have only until next Tuesday to decide.

The people of neighboring states have made their decisions—they have voted their bond issues and are ready to go ahead with their programs of progress.

TIP FOR SAFER WINTER DRIVING

Follow other cars at a safe distance, and that means a longer distance on snowy or icy roads, warns Charles B. Jones, Safety Coordinator of the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety. Stopping distance can be cut by use of snow tires, and made even shorter by use of anti-skid tire chains, according to National Safety Council tests. But even with tire chains, it takes longer to stop on snow and ice than on dry pavement.

CLARK MAY BE BEST P'BURG HI ATHLETE

By GORDON MOORE

Prestonsburg high school's versatile junior John Bascom "Wimpy" Clark, who won't be 17 years old till November 13, is destined to be the school's best all-time athlete.

The agile youth excels in four sports—football, basketball, baseball and track, with a full year of eligibility remaining.

A two-season veteran on the football team, the five-foot ten-inch, 180-pound halfback is the third leading scorer in Eastern Kentucky with 90 points amassed on 12 touchdowns, 15 extra points and a 30-yard field goal against undefeated Belfry.

Coach Bert Dixon terms the popular teen-ager as a real "hard-nose" footballer who gets the extra yardage when the Black Cats need it. He is averaging five yards a carry and leads the team in yardage gained.

From his centerfield position on the baseball team, he paced the team in hitting with a .365 batting average in his freshman year and last season hit .465 in 23 games, in addition to leading the team in stolen bases with 22.

During the past summer, he attended the Ted Kluszewski baseball school in Bainbridge, Ohio, and the former Cincinnati Reds' first baseman called the hard-hitting youngster a "definite major league prospect."

Although he will miss the school's early season basketball games, head basketball coach Jack F. Wells will be counting on Clark to man one guard position. He was the best outside shot and ball-handler on the Black Cats cage team at the close of last season.

He is adept with a long one-hander from back of the foul circle and tallied 25 points in the final two games last season to average 11.7 for the season.

Clark split time with the school's track team, along with his baseball, and hurled the discus in the 110 to 115-foot range and ended up sixth in the Eastern Kentucky regional track meet. After hours of summertime practice, he hopes to hit the 140-foot mark this season and next.

Principal Woodrow Allen terms Clark as a model student with a C-plus to B-minus average in courses such as geometry, trigonometry and physics.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ed Clark, of Prestonsburg.

2 TEAMS IN CONTENTION; CATS SWAMP NAPIER

Catlettsburg and Fleming-Neon remained in contention for the Class A, Region 4 district high school football crown as both romped to their fourth regional victories last week-end.

The Letcher county Pirates downed Paintsville, 26-7, for an overall 7-1 record, while Catlettsburg was also winning its seventh game in topping Pikeville, 34-7.

Fleming-Neon has yet to meet Wheelwright in its final regional test while Catlettsburg has both Morgan County and Elkhorn City remaining.

Frank Guyton, senior 205-pound fullback, raced for two touchdowns, and senior quarterback Bob Burgett threw for two more, Saturday night, as Belfry extended its winning streak to nine in belting Matewan, West Virginia, 46-13.

Bert Dixon's Prestonsburg Black Cats annexed their fifth victory by crushing winless M. C. Napier, 45-0, on three touchdowns by John Clark, one by sophomore Mike Castle, two by halfback Bennett Leslie, and one by quarterback Steve Clark.

Elkhorn City, behind 7-6 in the final minutes, returned a Whitesburg kick-off 75 yards to register a 13-7 verdict over the Yellow-jackets. Jenkins moved ahead of the .500 mark in drubbing Leslie County, 25-0, and Hazard fell before powerful Louisville Flaget, 29-6.

Willie Watson teamed with fullback Larry Rowe to pace Wheelwright over Fleming County, 53-6, for the school's fourth win. Watson raced for four six-pointers and Rowe, who scored the game's first marker, rushed for 203 of Wheelwright's 507 yards total offense.

Watson scored on runs of 12, 26 and seven yards from scrimmage, and 56 yards with an intercepted pass for another touchdown. In addition, he tossed touchdown passes of 14 and 20 yards to Garland Thornsberry and Claude Conway.

TIP FOR SAFER WINTER DRIVING

Winter's far different than summer, and the driving skills of all motorists meet their severest test in the cold weather months ahead, warns the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety. Winterize your car now, and also make a change-over in your driving habits. Reduce speed on snow and ice. Lengthen the interval between moving cars. Signal intention to turn well in advance. Avoid turning your automobile into a skidmobile.

TIP FOR SAFER WINTER DRIVING

Is your car heater and defrosting equipment in good working order? This precaution is essential to assure clear vision for winter driving, advises Charles B. Jones, Safety Coordinator of the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety. Also replace streaking wiper blades, and use a brush to remove snow from all windows of your car. Then you will see better. For your safety, you also must be seen clearly by others. Check your lighting front and rear for safer night driving in winter.

SEASON TO OPEN SATURDAY

Martin, defending 15th Region basketball champion, opens its 1965-66 basketball season at home Saturday night with the Wayland Wasps, then on Election Night (next Tuesday), Denzil Halbert's Purple Flash have Betsy Layne as its home opponent.

BLACK CAT PLAYER-OF-THE-WEEK

Steve Clark, senior Black Cat quarterback, was adjudged "Black Cat Player-of-the-Week" in Prestonsburg's 45-0 conquest of M. C. Napier. The three-sport star scored one touchdown and passed for two more. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Clark, Jr.

COACHING CHANGE

Charles Francis, former assistant basketball coach at Breathitt County and Garrett high, has switched from Wayland high to Jenkins as head basketball coach. Jenkins mentor Virgil Osborne resigned to accept a National Youth Corps position with the Pike county school system.

David Hensley, Eastern Kentucky State College graduate and a member of the Wayland faculty for the past nine seasons, has been named to replace Francis at Wayland high.

BELFRY, OFFENSIVE LEADER

Belfry is the leading offensive high school football team in Eastern Kentucky with 285 points in eight games for a 34.3 per game mark. Fleming-Neon's Pirates are the top defensive team with only 37 points relinquished in seven games. Four opponents have failed to score against the Pirates. Only five of the area's 12 football teams have won more games than they have lost; Belfry leads with a record of 8-0, Fleming-Neon 6-1, Prestonsburg 5-3, Hazard 5-3, Morgan County 5-3.

NEW BASKETBALL LINEUP

The new cage alignment in the 15th region this season is: 57th district—Paintsville, Van Lear, Flat Gap, Oil Springs, Louisa, Blaine, Inez, Warfield, Salyersville and Meade Memorial; 58th district—Betsy Layne, Garrett, Maytown, Martin, McDowell, Prestonsburg, Wayland and Wheelwright; 59th district—Dorton, Hellier, Mullins, Pikeville and Virgie; 60th district—Belfry, Elkhorn City, Feds Creek, John's Creek, and Phelps.

McDowell high school is installing a new floor in its gymnasium. Meanwhile, Pete Grigsby's team is practicing at Wayland high.

LET US STOP FALSE RUMORS CONCERNING BRUTALITY

AFFIDAVIT

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF FLOYD

I, JAMES E. SLONE, after being duly sworn make the following statement of my own free will and accord.

My name is being used over the county in connection with the Sheriff's race. Sometime ago I had some trouble with Joe Wheeler Lewis. I was indicted by the Floyd Circuit Court and pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting and wounding with intent to kill. I pleaded guilty and paid a fine to the Circuit Court. I told the Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley and Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill that this trouble was my fault, and I paid my debt to society.

At no time has Joe Wheeler Lewis mistreated me nor do I know anybody he has mistreated as an officer of the law. I have no ill will toward him and I am sure he doesn't toward me. He only did his duty.

I make this statement so that my name will not be used in false rumor to hurt anybody in a political campaign.

EARLY PRESTONSBURG STORE

A letter from Charles L. Rosenback, 2534 28th Ave., San Francisco, California, notes that his ancestor, George M. Hanson, operated a store in Prestonsburg in 1821.

Mr. Rosenback writes:

"It is my understanding that Mr. Hanson operated a store in Prestonsburg in 1821 and that the old building still stands. A cousin of mine, who visited your town in 1941, contacted a pioneer banker and received directions as to how to locate the old building. The store has been described to me as being a log building with foot-thick walls, weather-boarded, sealed and made into a comfortable dwelling."

In a subsequent letter, dated June 15, Mr. Rosenback contributed additional information on Hanson and the store.

"It seems that the home now occupied by the Salisburys may have been the one in which Hanson operated his store. From family records I get the impression that his mercantile business was in the town proper.

"Hanson was born in Russell county, Virginia, and was married in 1819. One report is that he arrived in Prestonsburg two years after his marriage. Another, however, claims 1825. A son, William P. Hanson, was apparently born in your town in August, 1826, prior to the family's departure for Illinois.

"A distant cousin once told me that my ancestor's aunt, Sarah Hanson, married a Mr. Todd from Kentucky who was a relative of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln but I have been unable to evaluate the assertion thus far. The couple supposedly lived in Tennessee during the years that followed."

PRISCILLA MEAD

Mrs. Efonda S. Doughton, 704 West 3300 South, Bountiful, Utah, writes about her ancestor, Priscilla Mead (e).

"Priscilla Mead married James Elijah Sturgill, May 4, 1826, in Floyd county. They are my great-great-grandparents. In one reference I found Priscilla's father named as Robert and in another I found her parents were Samuel Mead and Kate Goodbeard. I believe Prichard (author

WHEELWRIGHT

The Wheelwright Woman's Club held a special meeting October 4 in the Woman's clubroom. Business and program preparation were discussed.

Three members attended the Seventh district meeting at May Lodge, October 9. They were Mrs. Arthur Bradbury, Mrs. J. H. Cantrell and Mrs. Steve Clark. On October 11, Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club members and their wives, and Woman's Club members had dinner at Caney Junior College at Pippa Passes, and toured the campus.

TIP FOR SAFER WINTER DRIVING

Have you checked your windshield wipers lately? They are mighty important for safe driving in bad weather, says Charles B. Jones, Safety Coordinator of the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety. Dead wiper blades, dried out from summer heat, should be replaced with "live" rubber blades. Wiper arms should exert sufficient pressure to clean windshield glass effectively.

HAROLD

The Harold Homemakers Club met in the basement of the Vogel-Day Methodist Church, October 19. Mrs. Pearl Meade, president, presided.

Mrs. Carma Sturgill led the club in devotionals, taken from John, first chapter.

Mrs. Frances Pitts gave an interesting lesson on "When to Wear What and What to Wear When." Club members also learned how to judge the way they are dressed by the point system.

Lunch was served at noon. The next meeting will be held November 16, at 10 a.m.

Those attending were Mesdames Bessie Cecil, Delpha Hale, Anna Katherine Burroughs, Pearl Meade, Kate Robinette, Carma Sturgill, Dorothy Sturgill, Della Stumbo, Helen Ferrell, Frances Pitts, Bernice Mason, Maudie Hill, Nell Harvey, Ricky Ferrell, Joetta Hill, Lynette Hill.

SCD NOTES

By GERALD HART
Soil Conservationist

Soil and capability maps have recently been completed for the following cooperators in the Floyd county soil conservation district: Fred Francis, Wayne Ratliff, Monte Harkins, J. H. Fitzpatrick, Penn Fitzpatrick, Sam George, Alka Miller, H. C. Church, Maggie Holmes, Tom Hereford, Ollie Hill, Lonnie George, T. J. Leake, Claude Robinson, Curtis Hatfield, Virginia Reffett, Marvin Music, Russell Rice, John W. Rice, Joe Derosssett, Thomas Lemaster, Johnnie Jones, Mrs. Ted Akers, Vanie Akers, Ursal Wilcox, Dr. M. T. Johnson, W. E. Welch, Ed Hall, Gerinimo Martin and Pet Salisbury.

Soil and capability maps tell a landowner the type of each soil, what the degree of slope each soil is on and the amount of erosion that has taken place. Knowing the name of the soil, the landowner is enabled to determine what crop is best suited for his land, what species of trees to plant, the average rate of growth for different trees, what type of drainage is needed, if any, and if the soil will respond to fertilization.

These maps are the base for any landowners to start developing a complete conservation plan on their farm or track of land.

Any cooperator of the Floyd County Soil Conservation District can receive one of the surveys free of charge from the Soil Conservation Service in Prestonsburg.

Historical Notes

of MEAD RELATIONS) says they are Samuel Mead and Kate Goodbeard. I would like to clarify this. Priscilla died around 1840 and James Elijah (Ely) Sturgill married Delinda Clark, May 28, 1845.

MEAD RELATIONS, by A. M. Prichard, 1933, has much information on the Mead(e), and other Eastern Kentucky counties. He says that Priscilla Mead was a daughter of Samuel Mead and Katy Goodbeard Mead. Samuel was married ca 1789 in Bedford county, Virginia, where the Meades lived prior to migrating to Floyd county in 1801. Priscilla's brothers and sisters were Samuel, Robert, Thomas, Rhodes, Elizabeth, Kisiah, Isabell and Kate.

Grandparents of Priscilla Mead(e) and parents of Samuel Mead were Robert Mead and Hannah Rhodes Mead, Bedford county, Virginia. They left Bedford county for the Mud Creek section of Floyd county in 1801. He was a prominent man in Bedford county and dealt considerably in real estate. He resided on Goose Creek in that county on a tract of 850 acres. He owned one tract of 1,600 acres that he acquired from his brother, William Head for 16,000 pounds of tobacco. Another Goose Creek farm of 636 acres he sold to his brother-in-law, Joseph Rhodes, in 1786.

Robert Mead built his home near the mouth of Little Mud Creek in 1801. He brought slaves from Virginia to build the necessary plantation buildings before bringing his family to the new land. He died in 1825.

Another inquiry on the Mead family is from Mrs. George Rydings, 4220 Wiedemann Place, Kansas City, Mo.

She writes: "Hannah Mead, born August 10, 1770, died August 30, 1850, married December 24, 1793, to Isaac St. John, Jr., born December 1, 1764, died December 24, 1834. His father was Isaac St. John, Sr., of Norwalk, Connecticut.

"A daughter of the above mentioned couple, Julia Ann St. John, born March 4, 1807, died July 30, 1855, married May 3, 1834, to John Dunham, Jr., born 1799, died July 26, 1855. Hannah Mead was reputed to be from Virginia."

Mrs. Doughton and Mrs. Rydings invite correspondence.

RUTH ANN SPEARS
Mrs. Mary Ruth Cooper, 419 Blondell Ave., Appalachia, Virginia, inquires for information on Ruth Ann Spears, daughter of Joshua Spears and Mecca Graham Spears, of Scott county, Virginia. He was from North Carolina and was authorized to operate a ferry in Scott county in 1833. Many members of the Spears family migrated to the Big Sandy valley.

Mrs. Cooper notes that her father was Isaac Patton Thomas; his parents were William Gregory Thomas and Ruth Ann Spears. Brothers of Joshua Spears were Robert, Asberry and Andrew.

The name, Ruth Ann, was a favorite of the old Spears residents of this region. One Ruthie Ann Spears, daughter of Spencer Spears and Rosa Wells Spears, married first to John P. McGuire, of the Johns Creek section of Floyd county, who was killed in the Civil War at McCombs, Kentucky. His widow remarried to John W. Fraley and resided in Johnson county on the Big Sandy River opposite the mouth of Bobb's Branch. John W. Fraley, born 1807 in Russell county, Virginia, migrated to the Big Sandy valley when a young man. He had previously been married to Lucy Lauhorn.

LISTEN EVERY MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY TO THE 8 O'CLOCK NEWS OVER RADIO STATION WPRT BROUGHT TO YOU BY B. & D. MOTORS.

Young Kentuckians can enjoy a prosperous future in our state if we act now to build the new roads, schools, parks and health facilities we need. A lot depends on the Kentucky Bond Issue which we will all have an opportunity to vote for on November 2nd.

How your "Yes" vote for the Kentucky Bond Issue will help you and help keep Kentucky taxes low

If the Kentucky Bond Issue is passed on November 2nd it will entitle our state to take advantage of $685 million in Federal Matching Funds and money from other sources, so that we can meet the needs of our state while keeping Kentucky taxes low. It will enable us to build the primary and secondary roads we need as well as the new Appalachian and Interstate systems. We will be able to provide new facilities at our schools, colleges and universities to meet the demand for better education and job training.

We can provide much needed public health facilities, new parks, community libraries, child welfare centers.

So let's not miss the boat. This Bond Issue will benefit all parts of our state, and it requires no increase in taxes. The Kentucky Better Roads Council.

THE LITTLE CHIPMUNK'S FIRST LESSON

The other day I picked up an acorn that had just dropped and looked at the sharp tip on the front end. Then I thought of the first lesson the mother chipmunk teaches her little ones. She shows them how to cut off the sharp tip of the acorn before putting it in their jaw pouches, to keep it from piercing their tender mouths.

Chipmunks, wise and alert little fellows, help to save the lives of gray squirrels, as well as other animals. When they see a hunter coming through the woods, they give a quick, shrill cry of "cheep-EEp!" and dart into their burrows. Gray squirrels and other animals hear this warning cry and know it means danger. They also run and hide from the hunter's gun.

THE BLACK BEAR

The black bears are now going into winter hibernation, to snooze the winter away. The mother bear produces her young ones while in winter sleep, about February. One main reason the black bear has become so scarce, is its slow rate of breeding. The mother bear rarely has over two cubs. Sometimes there are three, but usually two, and she gives birth only every other year. In the state of West Virginia, which has the black bear for the state animal, there are only 500 black bears left in the entire state.

The young cubs are almost naked, toothless and blind at birth. They are very small for such a large animal as the bear. The young ones weigh about one pound at birth.

Bears eat almost anything they can find. Their choicest foods consist of fruits of all kinds, berries, rodents of many kinds, dead bodies, fish, nuts, grubs, and all kinds of insects. Bears are quite fond of ants and their larvae. When a bear finds a colony of ants, he gets sweet honey dew on his paw and sticks it into the den of ants. It isn't long until the hungry ants swarm all over his paw. Then he lifts it up and licks them off with a "yum-yum," to let you know ants are delicious. Bears also rob bee hives if they get a chance. They will push over the beegum and claw out the honey. They also rob the wild bees of their honey and don't seem to mind the stings they get. Their hair is thick and heavy and stings seldom go through.

Many now think the black bear is on the way to extinction, and that it needs more adequate protection and more forest preserves where they can live and multiply without interference from man.

HOW THE SYCAMORE HIDES ITS BUDS

If you break off the limb of a sycamore tree before it has shed its leaves and look for the buds, you will not be able to see a single bud, no matter how hard you may look. The sycamore hides its precious buds for the next year's leaves and protects them against all injury by keeping them covered. To find the winter bud, you will have to break off one of the big leaves. If you look at the swollen base of the leaf stalk, you will see that it is hollow. When it breaks off, it exposes the bud, which was concealed all summer and fall inside the hollow leaf stem.

The American sycamore is the largest hardwood tree in North America. It is a member of the Plane Tree Family. It is also called the buttonwood tree, and some call it "the tree with the winter-swinging pendulums." The small, round seed balls, about the size of a large marble, hang on the tree all winter and swing like a pendulum when the wind blows.

In the spring, the balls burst open, to discharge the fuzzy seeds, which are made for being carried by the wind.

Several features set the sycamore apart, in a class by itself. One is the large leaves, which are broader than long. They turn dark brown in autumn and the big leaves lying under a sycamore look like cast-off brown dinner jackets.

The leaves have three to five palmate lobes with several smaller, toothed lobes. Another interesting feature of the sycamore is the sheathing leaflike stipules, which surround the stem and appear opposite to the main leaf petiole.

Another interesting feature of the sycamore is its habit of shedding its outer bark in late autumn, which comes off in long, thin strips, leaving the tree standing white and stark through the winter. A sleek, white-bodied tree standing like a white goddess beside a stream is bound to be the tall and stately sycamore.

The wood of the sycamore is white with a beautiful cross-grain. The wood cannot be split, as it is too tough and cross-grained. It is used for making butchers' blocks and interior finish.

JACK HYDEN for SHERIFF

In my race for Sheriff of Floyd county I want to appeal to many hundreds of relatives to support me in the campaign. To you and to the general public, I pledge an honest, efficient law enforcement administration, that will not tolerate BRUTALITY from any of my deputies in any form (pistol whipping, blackjacking, etc.)

My parents were the late C. L. "Jonsey" Hyden and Clora Adams Hyden. My father was the son of Lay Hyden and Alice Banks. His grandparents were Bill Hyden and Lou Ann Hackworth of the Abbott Creek section. His mother was Martha Alice Banks, the daughter of Joe Banks and Martha Hubbard.

My mother, the late Clora Adams, was the daughter of John P. Adams and Rhoda Brown. Her grandparents were Billy Adams and Peggy Bayes, David Brown and Izana Pitts.

My wife, Doris Anne Clark, a Floyd county schoolteacher, is a daughter of Curtis Clark and Judy Salisbury Clark. Her grandparents were Cal Clark and Hettie Jones and James P. Salisbury and Chaddie Halbert.

We are therefore of relation to the following fine Floyd county families: Stumbo, Banks, Adams, Hackworth, Brown, Bayes, Pitts, Clark, Jones, Salisbury, Halbert, Allen, Sizemore, DeRossett, Martin, Spurlock, Begley, Dingus, Horn, Slone, Patton, Vaughan, Prater, Hale, Blackburn, Lafferty, Green, Harmon, Holbrooks, Collins, and many other families.

I earnestly solicit your support and ask that you join the others in Floyd county working to elect a Sheriff who will give you an HONEST and EFFICIENT LAW ENFORCEMENT Administration without BRUTALITY.

Sincerely yours,

JACK HYDEN

WAS IT BRUTALITY?

What do my neighbors who know me best say about brutality?

Did they vote for brutality or did they vote for peace and quiet?

Did they vote for drinking and driving on the highways or did they vote for the interest of themselves and their children?

Do they think it's cheaper to pay a fine than to buy a casket? Would they rather get their boy out of jail or follow him to the graveyard?

SMALL-MINE GROUP USES MOBILE 'CLASSROOM' UNIT

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 14 — What has been described as an historic new program of small mine safety instructions has been initiated here under the direction of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, in cooperation with the National Independent Coal Operators Association (NICOA).

The heart of the new program is the use of a 34-foot mobile training vehicle which conducts safety classes at small mine sites. Reaction to the first series of sessions of the new program was termed "most promising" by J. S. Malesky, acting manager of District "C" of the Bureau, located in Norton, Va. Mr. Malesky said, "The new program has come about in large measure because of the strong efforts of Robert Holcomb, president of NICOA, to extend small mine safety principles and practices."

Holcomb said that he hoped that the training sessions would be "the forerunner of a long and constructive relationship between the small mine industry and the Bureau. We all are grateful to the Bureau for this welcome concern for miners' safety. If only one life is saved the whole program will be worthwhile." The Bureau has outfitted three other mobile training vehicles which have been sent to small mine centers in Pittsburgh, Pa., Mount Hope, W. Va., and Jellico, Tennessee.

Each training course takes two weeks to complete. The mobile training vehicle is geared to serve two shifts of 20-25 students daily. The prime elements of the safety course are: Emphasis on the key accident causes, primarily roof-falls; use of demonstrations, motion pictures and other visual aids in place of straight lectures; encouragement to miners to relate their own experiences to established safety principles.

The mobile vehicles were said to cost between $25,000 and $30,000 each. They are heated and air-conditioned for year-round service and are equipped to handle a wide range of audio-visual teaching devices, both inside and outside the vehicle.

PERKINS SCHOOL BILL PASSED BY SENATE

Congressman Carl D. Perkins' disaster school legislation has been approved and sent to the White House by the United States Senate.

The legislation was the subject of hearings conducted by the House general subcommittee on education, chaired by Congressman Perkins, in May of this year. The measure passed the House of Representatives on August 30 and the final touches were put to the legislation in the House and Senate last week.

The bill would provide federal grants to public school districts for the construction of school facilities damaged or destroyed in a major disaster such as flood, hurricane, or fire. In addition, the bill would provide school operating funds for up to five years following the disaster to enable the community to adjust to normal school support and operation. The measure also amends Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, of which Mr. Perkins is the author, to provide grants to state educational agencies operating or supporting programs in institutions for handicapped children including the mentally retarded, deaf, speech-impaired, blind, crippled, seriously and emotionally disturbed, or other health impaired children who, because of such handicap, require such education. The grant for each such child would amount to approximately $150 in Kentucky. Grants to state institutions for this purpose would be used to meet the special educational needs of such children.

Perkins said that this broadened concept of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act was essential if the nation were to meet its responsibilities for assuring educationally disadvantaged children full opportunities which modern teaching techniques and educational media could provide.

In connection with the disaster assistance, Perkins emphasized that the frequent flooding occasioned by the Big Sandy, the Kentucky, the Licking, Little Sandy, and Ohio rivers and their tributaries made the legislation extremely important to Eastern Kentucky in assuring another substantial source of support for needed public services following such disasters. The new legislation not only will assure the funds to resume normal school operation following floods but will allow for the first time, permanent facilities in lieu of temporary facilities to replace those destroyed by flood.

Perkins said that the grants for school operation purposes for a five-year period following the disaster were necessary in many instances because floods impaired property values thus reducing property value which is a major source of financial support for local school systems.

JACK HYDEN PLEDGES GOOD LAW ENFORCEMENT, COURTEOUS TREATMENT, SECURITY AND SAFETY

Dear Citizens of Floyd County,

This is a humble appeal for your support and vote in the coming sheriff's race, so that we together can make Floyd County a better place to live — a better place to raise our children. I want to make it safe for Mother to drive anywhere she pleases in Floyd County, safe for our young people to travel to the lake, Prestonsburg College, drive-in, or anywhere they desire in Floyd County. In one section of our county, there is a lot of reckless and drunken driving. When I am sheriff, this will stop!

I believe in strict law enforcement, but I am opposed to the unmerciful beating of people for no reason at all — particularly beatings in many cases after the prisoners are subdued and handcuffed.

I will conduct my deputies with care, and no one known to be unnecessarily brutal to prisoners will serve under me. I will tolerate NO BRUTALITY from my deputies when sheriff. I believe the sheriff should only be sheriff — not the Judge, Jury and Executioner. We have courts to handle the punishment if people are found guilty of crime.

I am opposed to bootlegging, and will do everything in my power as sheriff to stop it. I promise no miracles — only to do my best.

Your sheriff should be a person you consider a friend and protector, someone you can call in your time of need, not someone you fear and dread. Please vote for me for sheriff. Your confidence in me will be a sacred trust.

Yours for a better Floyd County,

Baptist Girls Hold Meet at Salyersville

The Missionary Baptist Girl's Auxiliary of Enterprise Association was held at the First Baptist Church of Salyersville, Friday, October 15, with a good representation from three of the churches: Allen, Irene Cole, of Prestonsburg, and Salyersville.

The meeting was opened by Miss Ella Faye Hayes, G.A. Director leading the group in singing, "We've a Story to Tell," with Miss Susie Lyon at the piano. The group then repeated the Watchword, "Arise, Shine for thy light has come," Isaiah 60:1. As this was the first meeting of the fiscal year, election of officers was held. Officers for the new year are president, Gwendolyn Estep, Salyersville; vice-president, Pat Terry, Prestonsburg; secretary, Susie Lyon, Salyersville, and assistant secretary, Diana Arnett, of Salyersville.

A devotional was then given by the girls from the Lancer Baptist Mission and the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church: Misses Freda Campbell, Pam Terry, Pat Terry, Dixie Goff and Karen Evans. Miss Freda Campbell led in prayer and the group retired to the basement for refreshments, games and songs.

Those present from Allen were Misses Cathy Westfall, Donna and Barbara Webb, Susie and Donna Watts, Vivica Kidd, Lonnie Elliott, Lynn Wright, Sharon Goble, Patty Kidd, Rita Faye and Ramona Lynne Hall, Sheila and Belinda Goble, Janice Porter, Kathie Shepherd, Burnetta, Shirley and Janice Hall, Mesdames James H. Porter, J. M. Johnson, Bernice Porter, Raymond Hall and Jimmie Goble. Attending from Prestonsburg were Misses Freda Campbell, Pat and Pam Terry, Dixie Goff, Karen Evans, Sarah Buchanan, Sue Jagers, Sharon Robinson and the leaders, Miss Ella Faye Hayes, Mrs. Patty Minns and Mrs. Cohen Campbell.

The next meeting will be held at Prestonsburg, January 7, at 6 p.m.

Medicare Kits Mailed To All 65 or Older Deadline Set March 31

Social Security headquarters in Baltimore has completed the mailing of Medicare information kits to all of the 15½ million persons 65 and over on the Social Security and railroad retirement rolls.

By now, all elderly social security or railroad retirement beneficiaries in Floyd county should have received their kits and the enclosed application for the supplementary medical insurance part of "Medicare," Thomas L. Read, Social Security district manager, said.

Many other older persons—those not on the social security or railroad retirement benefit rolls—have already been in touch with the Social Security District Office in Pikeville, he reported. But many others still need to take action to protect their Medicare rights.

Eight out of 10 aged persons will be reached through the mass mailing, he noted. About one-third of those who will not be reached this way are receiving old-age assistance payments and will hear directly from their local welfare agencies.

Another third are still working, fulltime, and will need to file Social Security applications. About one million will also have to get in touch with their local Social Security district offices.

The enrollment period for those who will be 65 or over before the end of the year closes March 31, 1966, Read pointed out.

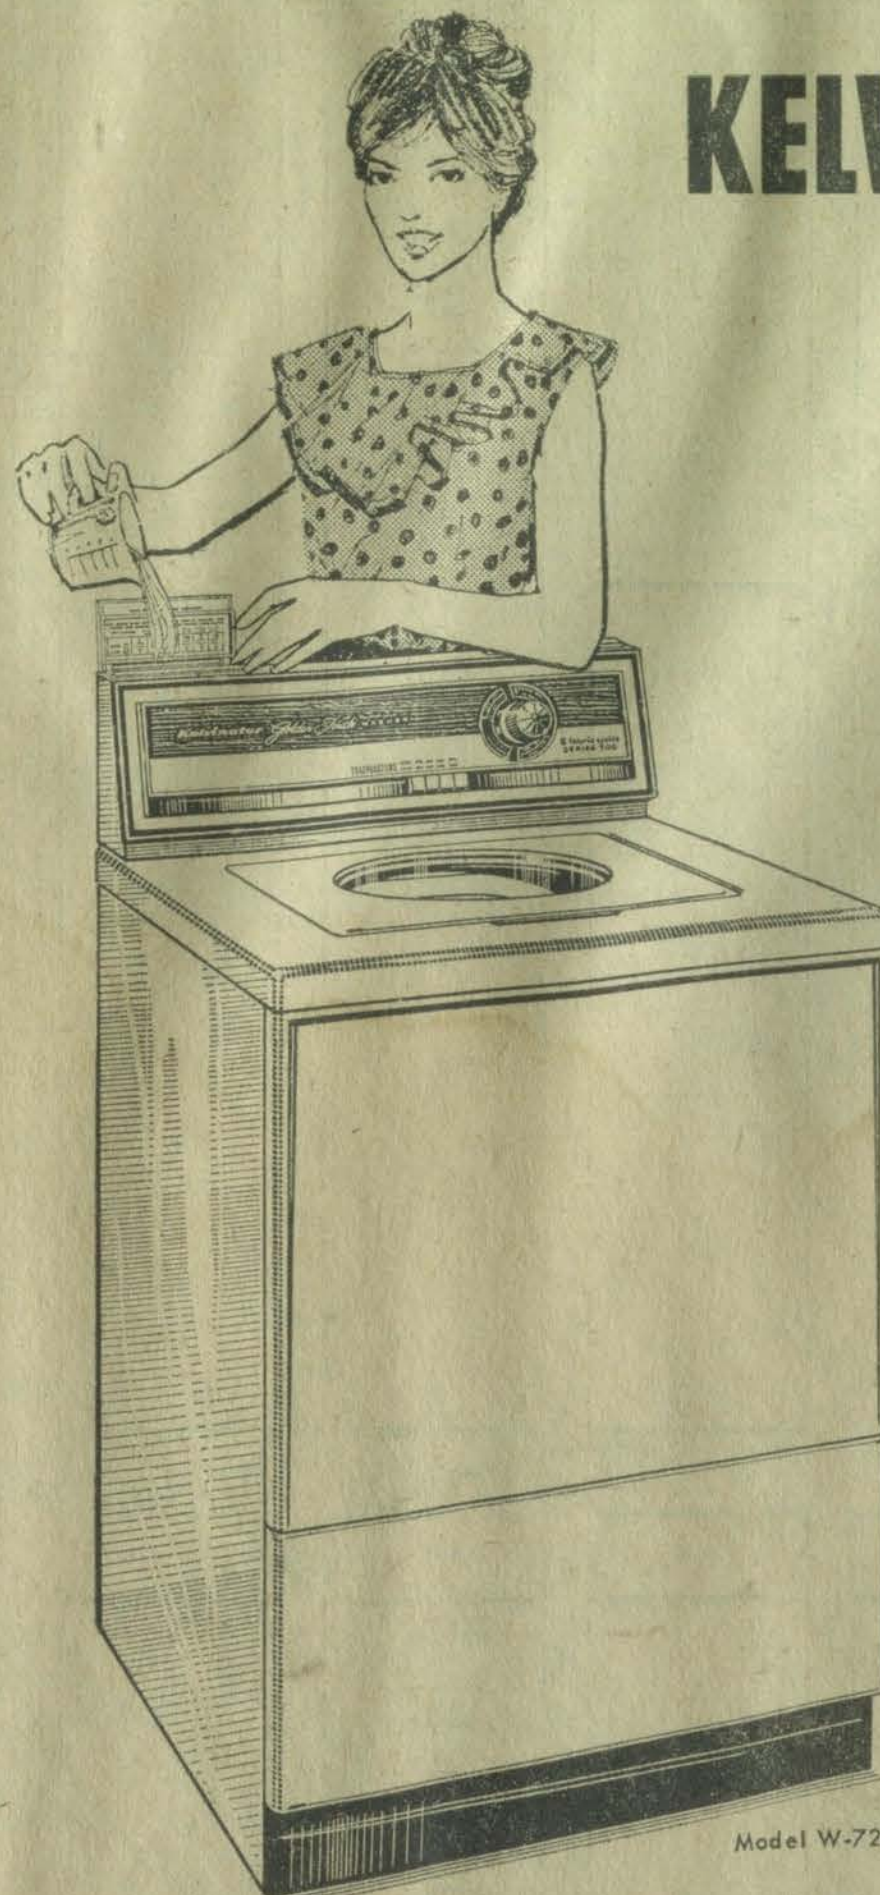

The March 31 deadline is very important, Read said. Everyone who is 65 or will be by January 1, 1966, must return the medical insurance enrollment card by that date—whether received in the mail or picked up at a Social Security district office, if he or she wants full protection when the program goes into effect July 1, 1966.

A Modern Allegory

BY HERNDON J. EVANS Editor, The Lexington Herald

A farmer friend of mine, looking over his property, decided that he needed some new main roads over his farm. He also decided he needed some capital improvements, such as a new barn, henhouse and an addition to his home which his children could use as a study room to advance their education.

"I decided that I'd just go to the bank and borrow $1,000 to make the necessary improvements as I wanted to keep up with my neighbors who were making my place look a little shabby," he continued. "I went into the bank and stated my case. I thought I made a pretty good presentation but was surprised at the answer I got."

"Here's what we'll do," said this sound banker after I made my pitch. "We're going to lend you the $1,000 you need but we don't think that this amount will bring your property up to the place it should be. Your neighbors have been investing more than you and we want you to keep your farm in line with their progress. You may not know it but Farmer A has just borrowed $10,000; Farmer B $5,000, and Farmer C $25,000. So you see your modest request for $1,000 doesn't alarm us even though you still are paying on some old loans."

Bankers are known as shrewd businessmen and when they see a good thing they offer encouragement. "Now here's what we're going to do to help you," the banker continued. "Because we recognize the need of these big improvements, we're going to add something to your plans. For every dollar you borrow we're going to give you nine for your main farm roads. For some of the other roads we will allow you seven dollars for each three dollars you borrow. Even on some of the least necessary ones we will meet you 50-50. On your capital buildings, because they will help with your children's education, we're going to match your borrowings by about seven to one.

My friend felt that there must be some sort of catch to the whole deal but the banker asured him that everything was clean and aboveboard. "You have a good credit rating," he said, "and we know that from your income and the increased income that will come from better farm operations due to these new roads and new buildings that you will be able to pay off the $1,000 note in due time. What's more, we won't ask you to pay back by yourself a single tax dollar of the additional $9,000 we're letting you have. On this $9,000 we have worked out an arrangement whereby all the people of the United States will join with you in amortizing this sum, so just forget it as your personal debt. Because all the people benefit by these loans we want all to share in paying them back."

"It seems downright foolish for me to turn down this sort of an offer," my farmer friend said. "I'm taking him up. Wouldn't you do the same?" And I had to agree that any time a banker offered to match $9,000 with every $1,000 I wanted for improvements such as outlined by my farmer friend I'd simply have to go along.

As they say in books and magazines, the aforementioned characters are fictional and represent no person living or dead. If you think that there is no allegorical connection with the question to be decided November 2, you certainly are entitled to your opinion.

BILL WELLS SPEAKS TO HIS FRIENDS

To my friends and neighbors of Magisterial District No. 1:

I deeply regret that I must use the newspaper to come into your homes for our visit before the November election, but this is my only chance, it seems.

Many of you already know that I have suffered a severe back injury that has had me confined to my home for some time. This has been very hard on me. As all of you know, I like people and like to meet and talk with them face to face in their homes. However, the choice is not mine at this time. The choice is that of the doctors and in order to try to be able to see you and perform my normal duties I must submit to their advice, and do it now. Beg as hard as I may to wait until the campaign is over, they won't listen, and I suppose they know best.

My visits before the primary were pleasant visits. At that time I stated my platform in the simplest form—to do my best for all the people and their children in all the ways possible in order to make Floyd county a better place to rear our children. I will remember that many of you were perfectly honest with me and told me that you had another choice that you would have to support in the primary. For this straightforward honesty, I shook your hand, thanked you, and asked your support if I were the lucky one and got the nomination. This, many of you promised me. For this I was thankful then and am thankful now. I had hoped to see you and renew that honest promise. Seeing all of you is now impossible and for that reason I take this means of renewing that promise.

To my Republican friends, may I say that I have some pleasant recollections. In the primary, as now, I wanted the support of all, and not knowing how they were registered, I asked many of my good Republican friends to vote for me. You told me then that if I were there in November you'd be with me. I sincerely appeal to all my Republican friends for their support. I will be Magistrate of all the people; therefore, I want the support of all the people.

If my stay in the hospital is not too long, I may still be able to see many of you. If not, again may I say that I want to be your Magistrate in District 1. I want to give the same devoted service that I gave on your Board of Education, which I feel has helped to fit me for the office I now seek. I want to give more service to the youth of our county as I have with Little League for the past several years. In short, without glowing promises, I want to make you the best Magistrate you have ever had.

VISTA Sends Doctor For Service in Floyd; 15 Workers Assigned

The Floyd County Community Action Office has been assigned a Vista doctor to work in the county for a year, it was announced this week.

Dr. Sophia Locke, of New York City, arrived here October 2, to begin her work in the field of public health. For the past week she has traveled extensively with Dr. Russell Hall, county health doctor, and public health nurses, to become familiar with existing health facilities and clinics in this county.

Dr. Locke has been working as a public health doctor in New York City since 1924. She is a very energetic doctor of 69 and is eager to begin work in the Mud Creek area to which she has been assigned.

At the same time Dr. Locke arrived, a young couple, Jim and Patricia McLean, were assigned to Floyd county. The McLeans come to the county from a suburb of Chicago and they are already settled and working in Ligon.

This brings the total number of Vistas assigned to Floyd County to 15.
