This Town... That World

Maybe the Reds should start their relief pitchers.

So many were watching this building going up across the street from us that when a piece of steel fell, the other morning, I felt like yelling, "Is there a doctor under the house?"

Watched one of these youngsters approach the courthouse this afternoon. He seemed to be eyeing his reflection in one of the doors, all the way, and was busy with his shock of hair. Apparently didn't want a single hair to be in place.

LETTER FROM A SUBSCRIBER

Years ago when a dollar bill was hard to come by and worth all the effort, my friend, James Morell, "took out" the only life subscription ever issued for this newspaper. As I recall the transaction, he paid $20 or $25, with the understanding that if he passed on, the next day, the subscription was cancelled; otherwise, that the paper was to keep coming.

I wisely removed myself from the circulation department, sometime ago, and my successor recently came upon Mr. Morell's name plate which had an "L" after his name. I put it there to indicate, "life subscription." But (See Story No. 1, Page 5)

His examining trial has been set for Saturday in Magistrate Dewey Roberts' court.

ARCHER PARK GETS $42,939 IN GRANT

OPEN-SPACE FUND COMES AS SURPRISE

Camping Area Next For Development In 32-Acre Park

Development of 27-acre Archer Park here received a shot in the arm last week with the approval by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development of a $42,939 grant under the Open-Space Land Program.

Announcement of the grant was made by Congressman Carl D. Perkins last Friday. Mayor George P. Archer, under whose leadership the park has been developed, said application for federal help had long been on file and that its approval came as a surprise.

The grant will help the city install utilities and establish ball-fields, tennis courts, a camping area, children's play areas, hiking trails and a fairgrounds with riding ring and field meet track.

Much of this development has been begun, with the help of unemployed fathers. An Open-Space Land Program grant such as approved for the park may not exceed 50 percent of the cost of acquiring undeveloped land in an urban area, or developed land in a built-up area and converting it to open space. Purpose of the program is to help prevent urban blight through sound, balanced community growth and development by providing needed open space in urban centers of the nation.

Archer Park, which has attracted wide attention, has been developed on land acquired from the Hiram Harris estate and the C. & O. Railway Company. The work was started when funds were lacking, but City Manager Curtis Clark has used the services of unemployed fathers to real advantage, and much of the materials used came from the old courthouse here which was acquired by the city in its urban renewal development work.

The park has an Olympic-size swimming pool, now in use its second season. Two large brick buildings are completed, or nearing completion. Development has been steady on recreational aspects of the park. Access roads into the park are scheduled soon (See Story No. 2, Page 5)

FEST HELD A SUCCESS

Music, Dances, Crafts Features of Second Annual Folk Festival

Mrs. Edith F. James, director of the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival, this week pronounced the festival staged last week-end at the Jenny Wiley amphitheatre "definitely a success," with a wealth of talent on display.

She was particularly impressed by the interest of persons from a wide area in preserving the old ballads of the mountains, the hymns, early forms of music, traditional dances and customs that could be lost.

Literary talent was emphasized in last Thursday's Poet's Corner at Prestonsburg Community College. Friday's opening session at the amphitheatre featured the Jenny Wiley Chanters, the Hindman Settlement School and Decoy Community Dancers, bagpipe music and the special presentation of a scene from the "Legend of Jenny Wiley."

Saturday night's program of dances and music played to a near-capacity audience.

The festival closed Sunday afternoon with the stirring program of religious music, featuring a number of individual singers, choirs and smaller groups. Perhaps the most-discussed festival attraction was one which was not at the amphitheatre but at nearby May Lodge. This was the exhibit of weaving presented by Mrs. William C. Allen, of Prestonsburg, representing the Paint Creek Weavers, and Mrs. Ed Hicks, Hueysville, representing the Hindman Settlement School's Quicksand Crafts. Rugs, draperies and other fabrics woven with great skill drew the attention of many visitors at the festival as well as of lodge guests.

Service Forester Is Assigned Here

The Eastern district, Kentucky Division of Forestry, has added another service forester with the assignment of Herbert Crase to its division office at Lancer.

Mr. Crase is a native of Whitesburg and was graduated from North Carolina State University. His work with the division will include servicing ACP referrals for "needs" and "performance," examining timberlands and preparing management reports for timberlands. He is residing at 502 North Arnold avenue here and may be reached by telephone at 886-3814.

The Division of Forestry provides free forest management assistance to private forest landowners and small wood-using industries in the state.

POLICE HEAD RESIGNS POST

Burchett, Floyd Native, Retires After Serving Under Five Governors

Col. W. E. Burchett, the native Floyd man who served West Virginia as its superintendent of state police under five governors, retired at 69 on advice of his physician.

Born on Buffalo Creek, this county, Burchett taught school at Banner two years but in 1918, at the age of 20, he went to Williamson, W. Va., where he at first worked as store manager for a Norfolk & Western Railway commissary. From that start he moved steadily upward.

Now retired to the quiet of his farm, Burchett said that he intends to relax "and take things easy."

"It's a sad thing to leave here. I've enjoyed it," he commented when he announced his retirement. (See Story No. 5, Page 5)

$112,000 APPROVED TO TRAIN WORKERS

Congressman Carl D. Perkins last Friday notified Burt Spurlock, president of the First National Bank, that a grant of $112,000 has been funded for the training of an additional 60 stitichers for future employment by the U. S. Shoe Company here.

In addition to this, another fund of $32,804 has been provided, Perkins said, to give additional training to a class of 53 stitichers who already have had some training.

The initial training program has been under way for some time at Archer Park.

Beginning of construction of the shoe company plant structure in the mouth of Bull Creek vicinity, awaits the laying of a water main to connect the plant site with the Prestonsburg water system. The 12-inch main has been laid from the site to the top of the river bank, and on the east (Prestonsburg) side of the river the main has been extended to the river bank. But a river crossing must be effected to complete the job.

H. B. Ranier, contractor, is ready to do the crossing job for the City Water & Gas Commission, it was said this week, but Ranier also has the contract on construction of a sewer line for U. S. Shoe Company to the plant and has been awaiting arrival of sewer line materials so that both

ALC SUPPORT DRIVE BEGINS

Businessmen Meet At Lodge To Launch Campaign For Funds

Alice Lloyd College's second annual Prestonsburg Support Campaign got under way Friday morning with a meeting of local businessmen at May Lodge.

Blaine Hall, chairman of the drive and an alumnus of the college, said the purpose of the campaign is to gain continuing financial support for the college. Most businesses in Prestonsburg will be contacted by members of the campaign committee.

College officials said Prestonsburg contributed almost $2,500 last year, the first time the college ever sought local contributions to its educational program. This year they hope more businesses will participate in the campaign and former contributors will increase their gifts.

Besides Prestonsburg, support campaigns are conducted annually in Whitesburg and Hindman.

Anyone not contacted may send their contribution to Mr. Hall at Hall-Music Insurance Agency, Prestonsburg, or to the college itself.

J. R. CAMICIA IN NEW POST

Former Resident Here Leaves Princess Coals For Pittston Position

James R. Camicia, former Prestonsburg man, has resigned the position of secretary-treasurer of Princess Coals, Inc., Huntington, W. Va., effective July 1, to accept a position with the Pittston Company whose operating headquarters for all its coal mines is at Dante, Va.

At Dante Mr. Camicia will be assistant to the vice-president of finance for the Cliffside Coal Company, a division of the Pittston Company. He will begin work there July 1, and will move his family from Huntington to Abingdon, Va., the latter part of September.

The Pittston Company, which has varied industrial operations, has an annual production from its Virginia, Kentucky and West Virginia coal mines of 22 million tons. Its Kentucky operations are in Pike county.

Camicia was first employed by Princess Coals 26 years ago, and all but four years of that time were with the Princess Elkhorn Division at David, There, he was auditor. Upon going to Huntington, W. Va., he became secretary-treasurer of Princess Coals, Inc., and its subsidiary companies. One of these subsidiaries, the Sewell Coal Company, is being sold to the Pittston Company. Sewell, which has operations in Nicholas county, W. Va., produces two million tons of coal a year.

During the day, the variety of contests that are an Independence Day tradition will be staged, with prizes for the winners.

A feature of the evening will be a fireworks display, followed by a square dance beginning at 9 p.m. Prizes will be awarded in connection with the square dance, it was said.

City Manager Curtis Clark will be master of ceremonies during the celebration.

Two Stanville Men Die; One Found Dead, Other Is Heart Victim

A few hours after the body of a Stanville man was found Monday morning in a small house where he lived alone, another dropped dead at his home, apparent victim of a heart seizure.

Cause of the death of Leonard Adkins, 50, who was found dead, has not been defined. When efforts of relatives to gain admittance to his home failed, a neighbor, Jay Thompson, broke a window and entered to find him dead.

Later, Jake Stratton, 52, died suddenly at his home, reportedly collapsing as he walked across the room. His death was ascribed to a heart attack.

Adkins was a son of the late Roland and Mary Stephens Adkins. He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Lucille Justice and Mrs. Willavene Justice, both of Harold, Misses Jaralene, Ernestine and Loda Adkins, all of Prestonsburg; four brothers and two sisters, Charlie and James Adkins, both of Stanville, Robert Lee Adkins, of West Virginia, Tom Adkins, New York, Mrs. Carrie Steffey, of West Virginia, and Mrs. Kate Perkins, Tram.

Mr. Stratton was a son of the late James and Emma Stratton. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bertha Clark Stratton; five sons and four daughters, Billy Joe Stratton, Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Jeannette Harris, of Dayton, Ronnie, Danny, Ricky, Frederick, Juanita, Darlene and Loretta Adkins, all of Stanville. He also leaves two brothers and four sisters, James and Elbert Stratton, both of Stanville, Mrs. Cora Smith, of Caney Creek, Mrs. Tetora Dials, Sharples, W. Va., Mrs. Eloise Spradlin, of Stanville, and Mrs. Annie Nobbe, Richmond, Indiana.

His funeral was conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday from the residence, the Rev. James Harmon officiating. Burial was in the family cemetery at Stanville. (See Story No. 6, Page 5)

CLERK PAYS EXCESS FEES

Fifth Refund Made In County's History In Excess of $3,000

The recent refund to the county of excess fees by County Court Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson, is said to have been the fifth time in the history of the county for such payment to be made.

Excess fees returned to County Treasurer W. J. May this week by Robinson amounted to $3,197.79. The clerk made his first refund of fees in May, 1963, and the total of excess fees returned, including this year's, is near $25,000, it was said.

The $5,282.87 paid the county this year for occupational licenses brought the total of these licenses paid to the county during Robinson's term of office to $21,187.18, it was said. To the Floyd County Board of Education, Robinson paid $2,009.87 in delinquent property taxes recently.

FINAL ASSESSMENT FIGURE $96,364,224

Owners of Floyd county real estate and other holdings will pay taxes this year on a total evaluation of $96,364,224—slightly more than $2½ million over that of last year.

DEATH PROBE TO CONTINUE

Teen-Agers Allege Tackett Fired Shot That Killed Bryant

Two Commonwealth witnesses were heard Friday in the examining trial here of Cecil Tackett, the Pike county man who is accused of the fatal shooting at Melvin last month of Charlie Bryant, but further testimony will be heard before a court decision is reached.

Additional testimony, expected to be taken by deposition, will include that of doctors and nurses at the McDowell Regional hospital where Bryant died, a few days after the May 21 shooting. Meanwhile, the defendant remains at liberty under the $5,000 bond executed soon after his arrest.

Marie Tackett, 16, and her 14-year-old brother, James, niece and nephew of the victim, testified Friday that they saw Tackett shoot Bryant. Their testimony closely concurring, the two said they saw Tackett with a revolver in his hand, saw Bryant raise his hand and heard him say, "No," then heard the shot.

Joe "Brother" Johnson, one of four witnesses questioned prior to Tackett's arrest, has since died. In his statement he said Bryant had his back to him at the time the shot was fired and that he could not say who pulled the trigger. He said he heard the shot and, immediately thereafter, saw blood issue from Bryant's back.

HOSPITAL AT MARTIN TO QUIT OPERATION

Head of Mud, Newest Floyd Voting Precinct

Creation of a new voting precinct out of a part of Antioch precinct was ordered by County Judge Henry Stumbo last week. The new precinct is Head of Mud No. 42.

Division of Antioch precinct was made, the court order stated, because it included all of the head of Mud Creek and Tackett Fork and the distance required for voters to travel to reach the polls created a hardship.

The new precinct begins with and includes all the farm of Dude (Critt) Mitchell, then follows the course of Mud Creek to its head and to the gap of the mountain at the Clear Creek precinct line, and includes Tackett Fork and all voters of the Dude (Critt) Mitchell farm on both sides of Mud Creek.

CLOSING DATE FOR HOSPITAL NOT DEFINITE

Beaver Valley Building To Be Used as a Clinic By Drs. Allen, Martin

The Beaver Valley hospital at Martin, oldest institution of its kind in Floyd county, will close its doors to hospital services soon after August 1, Dr. C. L. Allen, co-owner of the hospital, said Wednesday.

Dr. Allen and Dr. Lowell D. Martin, co-owners of the hospital, will continue to operate a clinic on the first floor of the three-story structure.

Dr. Allen said the decision to close the hospital stems from several things, the most vital of which is a lack of technical and nursing help.

He said Beaver Valley will close within two weeks after the opening of the new Our Lady of the Way hospital now under construction at Martin. This opening is expected around July 21.

Although the new Our Lady of the Way will be among the most modern hospitals in the section, it does not include enough beds to offset the loss to be incurred by the closing of Beaver Valley. In fact, Dr. Allen said, the net loss in beds will be 25.

The Beaver Valley hospital was built in 1921 by Drs. Edward and W. L. Stumbo. Dr. Allen has been associated with the hospital since 1945. Dr. Martin joined him in ownership and operation of the facility in 1962.

It at one time afforded 45 beds but currently is being operated at only near-half capacity because of an acute help shortage.

After the opening week-end, the productions will be held every Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. (See Story No. 4, Page 5)

COURT LOSES BID TO HOLD TAX LINE

County Judge Henry Stumbo said Wednesday that he and the fiscal court apparently have lost in their attempt to hold the tax level at last year's figure.

The court had proposed to set the levy at the 1966 figure and not avail itself of the additional 10 percent possible this year under Kentucky law. But when the Budget Commission met Tuesday it was found that a deficit will exist unless the levy is increased.

The county's participation in certain federal-aid programs, one of which is the comprehensive health program, will require more money than was collected last year. The loss in franchise taxes also continues.

Finally, the Budget Commission decided to notify taxpayers of a meeting at the courthouse next Thursday at 10 a.m., when comments and complaints may be voiced on a proposed 10 percent increase of the budget, which means a 10 percent increase in the tax levy.

An extra 10 percent will add approximately $17,000 to tax revenue in the tax levy.

The Floyd County Board of Education has requested the court to add 10 percent to its levy. A hearing will be held at the board's offices here, July 8 at 1 p.m.

At the June 23 fiscal court meeting a $10,450 budget for the Floyd County Extension District Board was approved. Of this amount, $9,450 will be realized from the special extension tax, the remaining $1,000 to come from the general fund. The total amount will be distributed as follows: $2,700 to pay the salary of a third extension agent, $2,700 for the travel of three agents, $3,300 secretarial salary, $450 for an electric typewriter, $650 for social security for secretary, office expense and telephone, $650 for treasurer's salary, publishing cost, bond, etc.

The report of the Extension District showed a $1,700 surplus, and the district was authorized to purchase an air-conditioner for its office at a cost not to exceed $400.

The tax settlement of Sheriff Joe W. Lewis was approved. The settlement showed that Lewis had overpaid $851.52, and this amount was refunded to him.

At a previous meeting the court authorized County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill to institute condemnation proceedings to acquire right-of-way for the Corn Fork road.

The vows were said in a double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with greenery, with standards of gladioli and mums. The officiating minister was the Rev. Frank DeClue, pastor of the church.

THIS IS A MAJOR VICTORY

The Beaver Creeks of this county last week received the good news that the federal government is interested in their improvement and continued economic and community life to the extent of more than two million dollars.

A total of $2,790,000 has been earmarked for a water system which will afford communities in both valleys an adequate and safe water supply. Out of this undertaking may be developed a major recreation facility, since a lake of 125 acre-feet, averaging 40 feet in depth, will be created.

And better still is the promise—not yet spoken but, in the natural sequence of regional development, almost a certainty—of more to come. A sewer system and one or more sewage treatment plants, for instance, as a part of the national effort to fight stream pollution.

All this will make this section of the county more liveable, more productive. Those who are there will be glad they stayed; those who have moved away will have a desire to return that is even greater than the longings that now torture them.

The Times does not congratulate these important sections of the county alone. A "well done" belongs more particularly to two individuals—"Crit" Wells, who conceived the overall plan, to start with, and who admittedly "didn't have sense enough to give up," and Congressman Carl Perkins, whose ability in an official capacity was bolstered by a resolute tenacity that never let the project go for a moment until he had won for it the financial support it had to have.

In Prestonsburg

Miss Kathryn Lauranne Frazier became the bride of Mr. Robert Fay Ecroyd, of Haverstraw, N. Y., in an afternoon ceremony at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist Church here. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers H. Frazier, of Prestonsburg, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ecroyd, of Haverstraw.

Father William G. Poole and Rev. William Pope officiated at the double-ring ceremony which was performed before an altar decorated with baskets of gladioli, palms and candelabra.

A program of wedding music preceding the ceremony was presented by Mrs. Joe Buchanan, organist, and a quartet including Mrs. James Carter, Mrs. Betsy Lambert, Bill Fannin and Philip Haywood. Selections included "O, Perfect Love" and "O, Love Divine and Golden."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of misty white organza in a skimmer silhouette fashioned with a scooped neckline and long sleeves. The bodice was accented with Peau d'Ange lace appliques encrusted with pearls and crystals which also highlighted the sleeve points. The wattleau train was embellished by a yoke of Peau d'Ange medallions ending in a wide band of scalloped lace and a deep border of lace scalloped the hemline. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion fell from a bridal cap of d'Ange lace, accented by a cluster of traditional orange blossoms dusted with fairy glitter, and she carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids with stephanotis and sanderiana.

Mrs. John W. Sutherland, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a full-length gown of pale blue chiffon with an A-line front silhouette and a full cage back. The bodice was fashioned with a scooped neckline and the elbow sleeves were edged with Venise lace which also defined the empire waistline. Her headress was a matching short bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink rubrum lilies and sanderiana.

Bridesmaids were Misses Ann Sullivan, of Annapolis, Mrs. Ann Kirkland, Judy Sanders, and Betty Stehle, of Lexington, Nancy Jane Geohagen, of Lawrenceburg, and Linda Holcomb, of Cincinnati. Their gowns were identical to that of the honor attendant and they carried pink lace fans decorated with rubrum lilies and ribbon streamers.

College Students Find Fulfillment in Teaching Roles

Some quarter million college students throughout the country have added a new role to their multi-sided, complex lives — tutoring.

At Lexington, about 150 University of Kentucky and Transylvania College students tutored over 200 children last year — children from the Pralltown, Davis Bottom, Taylortown, Pleasant Green and Manchester Street areas.

Tutorial projects are growing throughout the state. Students at Catherine Spalding and Ursuline Colleges in Louisville, and Eastern Kentucky University have programs under way. A few are run by community action groups; others are born each summer, with the backing of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The complexion of the program is changing from simple tutoring to more individual attention (which many children never get at home), giving them confidence necessary to overcome defeatism that poverty instills.

"A cultural enrichment influence" is cropping up, as tutors take the time to accompany children on field trips, to museums, movies and art exhibits.

One student tutor said: "The whole movement represents an influx of sympathetic manpower and concern for children who need attention a lot more than they need experts."

The OEO has awarded $191,000 to the National Student Association to act as a clearing house for the programs. This is in addition to a $55,000 contract for conducting a summer institute for tutorial development at NSA headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Altogether OEO has contributed more than $5 million toward tutorial programs. To run them, tutors have turned to churches, schools and private sources for money.

As the movement grows, it is becoming apparent that tutors are having a major effect on education. Some educators believe it is the greatest power force for education reform on the current American scene.

The world of education is taking a new look at teacher training and finding an advantage in combining tutoring with theory for teachers-to-be rather than isolating them for four years in the classroom. Educators also are discovering more about how youngsters learn. Students say that children from poverty backgrounds learn more quickly from doing, rather than by just listening.

Richard Yoder, assistant director of the Lexington Tutorial Assistance Center, predicts that "what is happening in the inner city is the vanguard of change for American education systems."

He explains that the community concept of learning governing most of the tutorials is that learning is not necessarily equated with school. Instead, it is a process that continues from the day a child is born until he reaches senility.

"Schools, particularly those of higher learning, exist as resource centers—not as the sole location where learning can take place," Yoder said.

Beauty Contestant

One of the contestants for the title of Miss Big Sandy RECC in the beauty contest to be held at the electric cooperative's annual meeting at Archer Park, July 13, is Miss Nida Gale Moore, 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Tom G. Moore, of Cliff. Miss Moore was recently graduated in cosmetology from Mayo Vocational School, Paintsville.

HEALTH OFFICER URGES CHILDREN IMMUNIZATION

Floyd County Health Officer Dr. R. L. Hall this week urged all mothers to see that their children are immunized according to Kentucky law before the start of the new school year.

"It is very important that every child's immunization record be brought up to date, so that he is protected against the diseases to which he is exposed in the classroom," he emphasized.

Kentucky law requires that children shall be immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox and polio before one year of age.

"We recommend that a baby three months old receive a triple vaccine which protects against whooping cough, tetanus and diphtheria. Polio immunization should be started at the same time, and the first smallpox vaccination should come before one year of age," Dr. Hall added.

Although not required by law, it is now advised that all youngsters who have not had red measles, or "the bad measles," be vaccinated against the disease at 12 months of age or as soon thereafter as possible.

According to the Kentucky State Department of Health, parents should consult with their family physicians about each child's possible need for "boosters" or reinforcing doses of immunization before school starts.

It is wise to check on the immunization record of pre-schoolers at this time, too, the health officer advised.

Immunizations and pre-school physical examinations should be given by family physician. The Floyd County Health Department will assist those children who cannot obtain a physician's service.

the other fellow didn't understand, and so it was that James got a statement for his subscription. His letter in reply from San Angelo, Texas makes me glad he got the bill. It reads, in part:

"As this was a lifetime subscription I sure hope you are in error on your assumption that I am due to expire in June of this year. Am most anxious to postpone it a while yet if at all possible. However, in the event your crystal ball may be correct I don't see any point in wasting money on a renewal, as it is doubtful that any quality of paper used could withstand the intense heat at my new address."

AT THE POSTERN GATE

Mr. Morell doubtless recalls the gentleman who related the story that follows. I refer to our Mr. Lenna Moore, who keeps the "postern gate" at the municipal parking lot here.

Lenna says that this toll-gate is where anybody and everybody who has the least gripe to make sounds off longest and loudest. They're through, leaving, know the attendant hasn't a gun on him, and so they just naturally let off any steam they may have accumulated.

He tells of the day when a certain man came to town with his wife. He had business at the courthouse; she, at the stores. He gave in his assessment, which was no mean chore; he paid his taxes. Then he waited on his wife. She stayed longer than he had reckoned, and when she finally showed up he "reckoned" she had stayed longer and spent more money than he had expected. Finally, they loaded up and stopped at the gate to pay the parking toll, which, also, was more than the man had calculated.

And the ebullient Moore had the nerve to inquire in blindest fashion, "Have a good time today, folks?"

The man looked deep into the void that was his pocketbook, glanced up. His lips moved as if to make sharp retort, then his spirit failed him. "I reckon," he quavered, "they done it legal."

CURRENT NEWS

Writes Orville Stephens, of Hi Hat:

"The other day I was looking up curious facts in the Bible which insinuates it was speaking of airplanes in Isaiah 31:5: "As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending, also He will deliver it; and, passing over, He will preserve it."

"This is current news which was written over a few thousand years ago that is coming to pass today."

Appearing in the title role of LEGEND OF JENNY WILEY will be Carol McKay, of Tampa, Fla. The play, an original drama written especially for the association by Mrs. Jeanne Jerrems, concerns the pioneer woman who was captured by the Indians, escaped and after a long journey returned to her own people.

The second production, SING OUT, SWEET LAND, by Walter Kerr, is a musical biography of American songs. Burl Ives played the title role in the Broadway production in the mid-1940's.

To complete its summer productions, PLAYS OF THE PEOPLE will open its third show, the Broadway musical BY HEX, on July 20. BY HEX is a musical based on the Amish people around Lancaster, Pa.

Martin D. McKay, of Tampa, Fla., is the director for the summer productions, which will be enacted by a resident repertory company of drama students and teachers.

At Williamson the Floyd county became a traveling salesman for a wholesale grocery firm. In 1934 he was appointed postmaster at Williamson and two years later was elected sheriff of Mingo county. From 1936 to 1939 he dabbled in the printing business, and in 1937 entered the business of drilling for oil and gas, an enterprise in which he still has interests.

In 1942 he was elected state senator from Mingo and McDowell counties, and his first appointment to the West Virginia state police superintendency was made in 1945 by Gov. Clarence Meadows. His subsequent career in that post included service under Governors Patterson, Barren, Marland and Smith.

Now, Mr. Burchett is enjoying his farm, near Huntington. His most recent Floyd county visit was to get records needed for a birth certificate.

His record as superintendent of West Virginia police shows, as he says, that the department now "is better in everything."

Strip Mine Compact Set for Discussion At July 13-14 Meet

It isn't on the agenda, but the Interstate Mining Compact proposed by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt nearly two years ago is sure to be discussed during the Kentucky strip mine symposium in Owensboro July 13-14, says State Reclamation Director Elmore C. Grim.
He notes that "the governor will probably bring it up himself when he addresses the symposium."

Proposed by Breathitt at a 1965 meeting in St. Louis of the National Governors' Conference committee on natural resources, of which Breathitt was chairman, the compact would establish minimum uniform standards and controls for all forms of surface mining.

By adopting the compact, a state agrees that it will carry out an effective program for land use of mined areas by establishing standards and, where necessary, enacting laws. Thus the compact, itself, serves in an advisory capacity rather than a regulatory one.

All states with surface mining were invited to join the compact. Thus far, only Kentucky and Pennsylvania have joined.

The major responsibility of the University of Kentucky Health Service is to provide medical care for students while they are enrolled at the University and away from homes, parental advice, and personal physicians.

CONLEY FURNITURE SALES

Phone 874-2116 • Allen, Kentucky

Miss Melanie Ann Conley and Mr. Ronald Ralph Warfield exchanged marital vows in a Saturday evening ceremony, June 10, in the First Presbyterian Church, Prestonsburg.

The bride is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Hollie Conley. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Warfield, of Gibson City, Illinois.

The double-ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. W. D. Jagers before an altar enhanced with baskets of white mums and gladioli. Mr. Doug Smith, of Allen, Ky., was soloist and Mr. John Pope, of St. Louis, Mo., was organist for the occasion.

The bride wore a gown of Irish linen styled with a modified empire bodice over an A-line skirt. Heavy Madeira lace accented the bodice and added large cuffs to the kabuki sleeves. The lace was repeated in a band circling the skirt and at the back neckline releasing the chapel-length wateau train. A tiara released a bouffant veil which fell to shoulder-length. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and gardenias.

Miss Judelle Conley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Danise Conley and Mrs. John Pope served as bridesmaids. The bridal attendants were attired in identical full-length yellow gowns with empire bodices, short sleeves and matching trim. Their yellow organza veils were gathered to a circle of petals of the same material. They carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies.

Attending Mr. Warfield as best man was Doug Pool, Melvin, Ill. Joel Hertz, of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, and John Revell, of Princeton, Ill., served as groomsmen. Ushers were Richard Nagle, Gibson City, Ill., Wayne Johnson, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Marshall Danker, Dwight, Ill. Hollie Martin Conley served as junior usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Conley selected a gold silk linen dress with jeweled collar and matching accessories. Mrs. Warfield, mother of the groom, chose pink lace with matching accessories.

The bride is employed as occupational therapist in Champaign, Ill. The groom is a student at the University of Illinois where he will receive his Master's degree in Agricultural Economics in August. They will make their home in Urbana, Illinois.

More Roads, More Jobs Seen by Commissioner; Job Peak To Hit 9,000

Frankfort, Ky.—Increased highway construction in Kentucky means more Highway Department employment this summer says Mitchell W. Tinder, State Highway Commissioner.

Highway jobs will reach a peak of about 9,000 this year, Tinder said. This is some 400 above last year, and includes a yearly group of summer employees drawn mainly from college engineering ranks.

Kentucky is constructing 294 miles of expressways this year, Tinder said, including both interstate and toll roads. This compares with 135 miles under construction in the same period last year.

In addition, maintenance will be done on about 15,000 miles of roads this year.

Tinder said the percentage of personnel increases in a year's time "is not nearly as great as the percentage of work increase."

The last bid opening was for work totaling $19.5 million—largest single letting in the Highway Department's history.

Tinder also announced that revenue from Kentucky's highway toll facilities totaled $853,301 in May—$23,876 above May, 1966.

Evangelism in Depth Blessing Is Evident

By REV. DAN HEINTZELMAN

One of the biggest blessings in Evangelism in Depth has already started to be evident. This is the way in which Christians of all groups are coming to know one another and to trust and even love each other.

In the mountains our attitude has traditionally been one of suspicion, accusation, and animosity. For the first time the members of various groups are finding that others are really Christian, they love God, and they care for those who are without Christ. In EID these of the different denominations have met and accepted each other and, even more wonderful, they have become acquainted with the "Independents" for the first time and each has learned from the other. The very spirit of separation and suspicion has contributed to the confusion in many people's minds regarding the claims of Christianity and has hindered the work of evangelism. The willingness to accept each other and to work together in love is in itself a breakthrough and it gives the evangelical forces their greatest opportunity to make Evangelism in Depth a true success.

Revival becomes possible because Christian people have learned they can stand together on the most basic of things, their common concern for evangelism.

HALF OF ALC FACULTY TAKING SUMMER STUDY

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Almost half the Alice Lloyd College faculty is engaged in graduate study this summer at universities throughout the nation and, in one case, abroad.

In Norway for summer study is Abner H. Greider, director of music at the college. He is participating in a seminar at the University of Oslo, studying the music of Edvard Grieg. His work is financed by a Norwegian grant. While in Norway, Greider also will visit the ancestral home from which his grandparents migrated to America in 1853.

Three faculty members have been awarded National Teaching Fellowships and will continue their summer study into the regular academic year, with leaves of absence from Alice Lloyd. William H. Cohen, assistant professor of English and humanities, will study at Southern Illinois University; Harlan Douglas, instructor in history, will attend Colorado State College, and Benjie Moore, instructor in mathematics and sociology, will study at the University of South Carolina this summer and the University of Kentucky in the fall.

Other members of the ALC faculty who will take graduate work this summer are Alfred Godfrey, instructor in history and French, who will attend the University of California; Shu Fang, catalogue librarian, University of Kentucky; Gerald Kritzer, instructor in Latin, University of Minnesota; Earl McDaniel, instructor in German, University of Colorado; Roy Reynolds, instructor in science and mathematics, University of Illinois, and Arenemann Greider, assistant in mathematics and science, Texas A. & M.

One member of the ALC administrative staff, Roberta Jo Hern, assistant to the dean of students, will take summer work at the University of Kentucky.

The remainder of the faculty and staff will be engaged in the regular summer school program at the college.

Miss Davis Receives U. of L. Fellowship

Miss Charlene Davis, a teacher at Filson elementary school, Louisville, has been awarded a fellowship for graduate study in the General Electric Guidance Fellowship Program at the University of Louisville summer session this summer.

The General Electric Foundation sponsors the program in recognition of the importance of secondary-school guidance. The 50 fellowship recipients are experienced counselors from public, private, and parochial secondary schools in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, North Carolina, Virginia, and Wisconsin. They were chosen from approximately 250 applicants.

Miss Davis was graduated with the B.A. degree in elementary education from the University of Kentucky in 1964. She received the M.A. degree in guidance and counseling in 1966. Miss Davis also is an active member in such professional organizations as Chi Delta Phi literary honorary and the American Personnel and Guidance Association. She was a counselor at the Atterbury Job Corps Center in Edinburg, Ind. for three months last summer.

Abandoned Mines Not a Safe Refuge From Summer Heat

Frankfort, Ky.—Taking refuge from the summer heat in abandoned, unsealed coal mines is both hazardous and unlawful, Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals Commissioner A. H. Mandt warns.

"State law requires the approval of the Department of Mines and Minerals for anyone wishing to enter an abandoned mine," Mandt said. "Many of these old mines are susceptible to cave-ins and some still contain poisonous carbon monoxide."

Mandt noted that youngsters like to play in the mines because the normal year-round temperature in them is between 60 and 70 degrees. Several youngsters have lost their lives in freak accidents in the past.

He said several Eastern Kentucky coal operators are participating in a program to seal the openings of abandoned mines. But there are still a lot of them around.

TOO MANY ADMINISTRATORS OF ESTATE, SUIT CLAIMS, ASKING ONE BE ENJOINED

With two administrators apparently acting for one estate, suit was filed in circuit court here June 17 to restrain one from acting and to ask the court for a declaration of rights.

The action involves the estate of William T. Carpenter, who also is referred to in the action as W. T. Carpenter and T. Carpenter, and was filed by Russell Hagewood, of Prestonsburg, administrator named by the Floyd county court, and Carpenter's two sons, Leonard K. and Marcus Carpenter.

Hagewood was appointed and qualified as administrator on a petition filed by Leonard Carpenter, one of decedent's sons. But on or about June 6, the suit points out, George Carpenter was appointed administrator by the Magoffin county court, allegedly without notice to the two sons who claim to be their father's only heirs at law.

George Carpenter also has in his possession, it was said in the suit, what purports to be the last will and testament of W. T. Carpenter. Plaintiffs say they have requested a copy of this instrument but none has been provided, nor has the will been offered for probate in this, the only county where probate may be legally executed.

Mr. Carpenter died in Prestonsburg, and it is argued that the Floyd county court had sole jurisdiction in naming an administrator of his estate. The estate includes a total of $42,697.50 on deposit in the First National Bank and Floyd Federal Savings & Loan Association here.

Plaintiffs' petition asks that Hagewood be declared the duly appointed administrator, that George Carpenter be restrained from acting as administrator, and that a mandatory injunction issue requiring him to surrender all funds, assets and documents of the estate to Hagewood.

Cox Stores Begin Giving Green Stamps, Effective Monday

Wilbur E. Cox, president of A. W. Cox Department Stores, has announced that the Cox Stores began giving S. & H. Green Stamps, June 26.

Mr. Cox said, "Our decision to adopt the S. & H. Trading Stamp plan was based on two things—the effectiveness of stamps as a promotion tool, and to offer an 'extra' in the way of stamps, to our customers who patronize our stores. We investigated many methods of thanking our customers and we found the S. & H. plan to be most beneficial to the shoppers."

S. & H. Green Stamps will be given out in all 20 Cox's Department Stores in West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, and The Hinton Furniture Store in Hinton, West Virginia. Although official kick-off days for Green Stamps varied from store to store during the week, stamps became available at all stores on June 26. The Cox Department Store enterprise was founded in 1909 and has long been identified as one of West Virginia's most progressive retail operations.

The Sperry and Hutchinson Company is the oldest and largest trading stamp company in the United States. S. & H. maintains a huge distribution center at Cincinnati, Ohio from which it serves stores in West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio.

Cox's will issue S. & H. Green Stamps with all cash purchases, regular charge accounts (30-day accounts), continuous budget accounts (with downpayments and monthly payments), lay-a-way's (given at the time of final payment) and on C.O.D.'s.

HOWARD'S COMPILED ESSAYS, 'DOWN A DUSTY ROAD,' TELL OF NATURE, LIFE ON FARM

"Down A Dusty Road," the second book of a series issued by Hilltop Editions, Pikeville College Press, was written by Quentin R. Howard, Route 1, Pikeville. The volume is a compilation of 26 essays concerning nature and small-farm life in one section of the vast Appalachian area.

The Christian Science Monitor, one of the world's leading newspapers, has published 25 of the essays, and The Nashville Tennessean Magazine published the other.

Since the first essay, concerning button boxes, was published in 1954, Mr. Howard has received hundreds of letters from people all over the world, particularly former Kentuckians, who complimented him on capturing the small incidents, moods and memories of rural life.

Howard, who is assistant principal of Johns Creek high school, writes for The Monitor, The New York Times, and many of the south's newspapers. He has published in The Reader's Digest, Cornet, The Laurel Review, Our Heritage, Bitterroot, Twigs and dozens of "little" or literary magazines.

The jacket of "Down a Dusty Road" was designed by T. Butcher, who also did the illustrations. Dr. LeRoy Lindsay and Bruce B. Brown, of the Pikeville College faculty, are editors of the Press.

Alice Lloyd Personnel Make Trips To Plan New Science Building

Preliminary planning for a new science building at Alice Lloyd College sent faculty and staff members traveling both north and south last week.

Visiting at St. Andrew's College in North Carolina to study one of the most modern science facilities in the nation were Academic Dean William R. Hughes, Mrs. Alza Meatz, science instructor; Mrs. S. Clayton Ackley, executive secretary; Jasper Ward, ALC architect, and Richard Sames, advisor from Transylvania College.

Dean Hughes, Ward, Sames, and ALC President William S. Hays also visited Richmond, Ind., to study the progressive science program of Earlham College.

From such visits Alice Lloyd hopes to gain insights that will contribute to the development of its own science curriculum and facilities.

Through a federal loan and grant, the college has funded two-thirds of the cost of its proposed $380,000 science building. The remaining $113,000 will be raised from private sources.

"Ruined my new outboard"

...and what are you going to do about it?" the man wrote. Our laboratory experts discovered the outboard engine had been fueled by an inferior pre-mixed product—not with "GO-MIX".

WARNING! There is only one real GO-MIX—it is made by VALVOLINE. Beware of imitations... they can foul plugs, clog carburetor and combustion chamber, stall your engine, make it hard to start. Yes, inferior pre-mixed fuel can even ruin your engine.

GO-MIX is a refinery blend of high octane, unleaded Ashland gasoline and Valvoline Super Outboard Motor Oil (not ordinary oil). The gasoline and oil are homogenized, assuring a stable, uniform blend that will not settle out. Clean-burning GO-MIX keeps carburetors gum-free, minimizes spark plug fouling, exhaust port plugging. Motor starts faster, performs better. And there's no messy hand mixing.

Beware of imitations! For longer engine life and carefree boating, use GO-MIX, world's finest outboard fuel.

Dempsey Files Suit To Void Wolchick's Win in May Primary

Frankfort, Ky. — Rep. Albert Dempsey, of Inez, has asked Franklin Circuit Court to disqualify Fred Wolchick, of Paintsville, as Republican nominee from the 97th House District — Johnson and Martin counties.

Wolchick defeated Dempsey and two other candidates in the May 23 primary.

In his suit, Dempsey said Wolchick didn't file required information on his expenses and campaign treasurer with the state Board of Election Registry until after the primary.

A new state law calls for submission of such information before the primary. Dempsey asks that Wolchick's name be removed from the November ballot.

The case is similar to one decided recently by Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs in a Republican Senate primary.

Sen. Durham Howard, of Pineville, contended an opponent had filed the required election data too late—although still before the primary.

Meigs ruled the deadline was directory rather than mandatory and dismissed the suit.

Howard lost—but to a third foe.

UK Alumni Oppose Any Change in Name of the University

The University of Kentucky Alumni Association Monday expressed firm opposition to any change in the name of the University of Kentucky.

The association made public a resolution, adopted unanimously at a meeting of the Alumni board of directors at Lake Cumberland over the week-end, which stated: "The University of Kentucky Alumni Association hereby resolves that the corporate name of the University of Kentucky be retained as an honored name in our Commonwealth."

The resolution was adopted after Dr. Ralph J. Angelucci, Lexington, who also is a member of the University board of trustees, explained that current talks about the relationship between UK and the University of Louisville could involve a name change.

Alumni board members, who provide their time and pay all their own expenses to attend the meetings, also:

—Agreed to encourage more contributions to the University through the association, but to recognize as "active association members" anyone who makes a contribution to UK through any channel.

—Voted to make faculty awards of $500 each to the four members of the faculty who contribute the most to teaching.

—Heard reports on the progress of the UK community colleges and expressed general agreement that these colleges have valuable programs which will benefit all of Kentucky.

—Agreed that Association Scholarships to community colleges will be increased as alumni giving warrants.

—Expressed the hope that there should be a closer relationship between alumni and students and explored ways in which this might be accomplished.

—Heard from Ervin J. Nutter, president of the association, that he had appointed David C. Scott, of Hartford, Conn., and Elgan B. Farris, of Lexington, as new members of the association board.

—Elected Newton W. (Red) Neel, of Henderson, an honorary life member of the board.

—Voted to hold 1967-'68 alumni seminars not only in Lexington but in other Kentucky cities.

—Agreed to continue the program of high school achievement awards and to feature an autumn breakfast for this year's recipients.

—Designated Saturday, Nov. 4—the date of the UK-West Virginia football game—as Homecoming Day.

While the aides prepared the children for the presentation of the diplomas, the parents and members of the community were entertained by several of the undergraduate children with songs they had learned during the past year.

FLOYD COUNTIANS WERE PAID SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS TOATLING $369,963 IN '66

Social Security benefits paid to residents of Floyd county last year totalled $369,963—an increase of 4.6 percent from the year before.

At the end of 1966, 6,713 men, women, and children were receiving benefits at an average monthly rate of $54.90. Daryl Ratliff, social security district manager, reported. Of these, 3,260 were older people, receiving benefits as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers and as the surviving widows or aged dependent parents of workers who have died.

"But social security is not just for older people," Ratliff said, pointing out that 1,363 young widows and children in Floyd county were receiving benefits amounting to $66,700 at the end of December, and 1,807 disabled workers and dependents were receiving benefits at an average monthly rate of $51.30.

Practically every young family in Floyd county has survivors protection under social security that can be worth $75,000 or more, and equally valuable disability insurance protection, Ratliff said.

Monthly payments to the family of a worker who dies, leaving two or more children, can range from $66 to $368 a month, depending on the worker's average earnings under social security.
