CIVIL DEFENSE EXHIBIT WILL SHOW HOW TO ADAPT TO LIVING IN THIS NUCLEAR AGE

A mobile exhibit highlighting the "how to" facts of Civil Defense at home and in the community will appear in Prestonsburg, Friday, and on the following day at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

The nation-touring exhibit, ADAPTING TO LIVING IN THE NUCLEAR AGE, tells the important Civil Defense story with three-dimensional scenes, color motion pictures, photographs and original artwork.

Included in the exhibit are five-minute films depicting the nationwide system of dual-use fallout shelters and how these shelters could save millions of lives in the event of a nuclear attack.

The principles of radiation—in nature and in the fallout from a nuclear explosion—are graphically explained in one area of the exhibit.

In another area, a series of five-minute films demonstrates the importance of shelters in respect to natural disasters.

ADAPTING TO LIVING IN THE NUCLEAR AGE was produced by national Civil Defense authorities. It is being toured throughout the United States by the U. S. Army to stress the essential role of Civil Defense in the country's defense structure.

The exhibit will be manned by Floyd County Civil Defense representatives, who will answer visitors' questions concerning the exhibit and local Civil Defense matters. All showings are free.

burg recall the wily feudist, for it was during a revival here, perhaps the great evangelistic meeting conducted by the Rev. W. H. Sledge, that Clabe was baptized in the Big Sandy, on the outskirts of town.

This gun is but one of hundreds of items which Mr. May has collected during 40 years of work as an engineer for the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company and its predecessors. As he ranged far afield to make gas well locations, May kept his eyes open for those things which now are rare and valuable. He picked up, and later gave away, as many as 40 old "hawg rifles," the cap-and-ball variety. He still has a gun made in the Azores, in 1730. Indian artifacts in his collection number about 800 pieces. He has one of the finest rock collections in the country, all labelled.

And there are other items from an earlier day in the history of the section: a flax wheel, a gooseneck hoe, a hand-iron, a coffee grinder, a frow and a maul, and on and on.

Some of his collection will go to the museum being established at the Prestonsburg Community College. Among these are a 'sengin' hoe, the frow and maul.

But Old Phoebie is not for sale—or to be given away.

was on the same side, was the fact that Ward could not use to his advantage any national party leader as a speaker. Nunn, on the contrary, benefitted from the vocal support of a bevy of U. S. Senators and California's Governor Ronald Reagan.

The voting trend asserted itself, early Tuesday evening, as Nunn piled up bigger majorities in counties he had carried four years ago and cut deeply into Ward counties. The First district, traditionally a Democratic stronghold, for instance gave Ward a majority of less than 16,000 votes while the equally rock-ribbed Republican Fifth district was giving Nunn a lead of almost 30,000.

The vote by Congressional districts (all districts complete except the Third where eight precincts remained to be counted):

District	Ward	Nunn
First	68,613	53,066
Second	57,598	60,434
Third	34,230	85,771
Fourth	34,060	36,618

Sixth	63,499	62,427
Seventh	67,323	64,068
Totals	423,189	449,788

The near-complete vote for other state offices:

Lieut.-Gov.—Wendell H. Ford, 409,827; Thomas B. Ratliff, 396,400.

Secretary of State — Claude Reed, 379,605; Elmer Begley, 390,997.

NEW REGISTRATION MAY SOLVE THE PROBLEM

It should be obvious to just about everybody by this time that the only way to clean up the voter-registration lists of this county is to start all over again with a new registration for all voters.

Registration and purgation boards have made what appears to have been an earnest effort to get the voter-registration lists down to a reasonable and realistic figure. Hundreds of names are purged from the lists every year.

But purgation boards are having to run fast to stand still—the total number of registered voters doesn't show any marked decrease. A look at the current figures proves this point: 25,790 registered to vote, and that in a county which at the last census had only 41,642 inhabitants.

Can anybody believe there are only 15,852 residents of this county who are under the 18-year voting age?

Once a new registration is held, there must be legislation to curb those who would register in more than one precinct.

Fortunately, the number of registered voters does not require a county to undergo the expense of printing ballots for them all, now that voting machines are in use, but it is a ridiculous situation for voting lists to be padded, even if the padding does not result in election expense or fraud.

DR. MAIDEN IS SPEAKER

Refreshments were served to the following members and guests:

If you're just looking for looks, you won't give us a second glance.

But then if you're looking for a station wagon in the first place, maybe you're more interested in how much it can hold.

In which case you ought to take a look at ours. Admittedly, the Volkswagen isn't beautiful. It's tall, it's plain, and it's boxy. Which is why it holds about twice as much as handsomer wagons do. Nine passengers instead of the usual six. 170 cu. ft. of carrying space as opposed to as little as 70 cu. ft. or perhaps 107 if you're lucky.

Which makes us look pretty good after all.

THE STRANGER

Dr. Henry Martin, of Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, admitted during a visit with us this week that he has been away from Floyd county too long. Said he arrived at that conclusion when, a year or so ago, an old acquaintance introduced him to Mrs. Hollie Conley. "When you stay away so long your friends introduce you to your own sister, strikes me it's time to get back at least often enough for your friends to know who you are," he concluded.

He was a son of the late Joel and Mary Ows Slone and was married to Lora Little, who survives.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two sons and a daughter, Leonard and Douglas Slone and Mrs. Beulah Mae Martin, all of Shelby, Ohio, and three brothers, Paul and Roosevelt Slone, both of Dema, and Anton Slone, of Marion, Ohio. He also leaves five grandchildren.

CATS WIN BIG ONE,
ENDING GRID SEASON

The Prestonsburg Black Cats closed out their 1967 football season last Friday night in the rain and mud with their 10th victory of the season by defeating arch-rival Paintsville high, 12 to 6. The Cats lost only to Belfry.

Paintsville led at halftime, 6-0, scoring in the first quarter when Ronnie Wells ran eight yards for the touchdown.

The Cats shed their mud-laden uniforms for new gear during the halftime intermission and left behind any semblance of a beaten team. They received the kickoff and controlled the ball for more than 10 minutes, grinding out yardage till Darrell Leslie took an eight-yard scoring pass from quarterback Mark Miller.

After an exchange of punts, Prestonsburg settled down to a ground offense in the slippery going, with Mike Castle going over from the one after a pass from Miller to Terry DeRossett had placed the ball in scoring territory.

Coach Crager said the playing conditions were as miserable as any he could remember. "We just couldn't get our sweeps and power plays going because of the footing," he added. He commented on the defense which held a good Paintsville team, the blocking of the offensive line and the good job the backs did in holding onto the slippery ball. Only two fumbles were made by the team, all evening. The coach praised the play of fullback Mike Castle, the passing by Miller, despite the wet ball, and the pass receiving by Darrell Leslie and Terry DeRossett.

GRADUATE WORK
The University of Kentucky began offering graduate work in 1870 and awarding graduate degrees in 1876, although the Graduate School as a distinct unit was not organized until 1912.

"This win," said Crager, "turned a good season into a great one. It has been most rewarding and satisfying."

The coach praised the attitude of the team, the pride shown by the boys in themselves and the team, and their determination to win. He also expressed appreciation of the support given the team by fans, especially at games away from home.

The Black Cats lose 11 seniors this year, and that means a big rebuilding job is ahead.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A TRIBUTE
EDITOR, The Times:
I would like to pay this tribute to the memory of one who has departed this life, and whose spirit has entered the kingdom of eternal bliss and joy.

Mrs. Ella Sturgill was a friend to all in need. She would prepare meals for those who were hungry and find clothes for those who were cold and ill-clad. Her life was typical of the Golden Rule, a pattern all people should live by and die by.

For her work and goodness in this life her soul has now found peace and comfort in eternity.

REDS' RECORDS FOR 1967 SHOW ABERNATHY TOPS

Lanky Ted Abernathy, recently selected by The Sporting News as the National League's top relief pitcher of 1967, established a pair of records for Cincinnati, set a National League standard and topped the Senior circuit in two pitching categories, according to final statistics.

The 34-year-old veteran, who the Reds drafted from Richmond of the International League last winter, contributed to 32 victories for manager Dave Bristol's crew by virtue of 26 saves — a National League record — and six additional wins.

The "saves" mark erased the previous high of 23 set by Pittsburgh's Elroy Face five years ago.

Abby appeared in 70 games last season to tie the Dodgers' Ron Perranoski for most appearances by a pitcher and set a Red record in the process. He holds the all-time major league mark of 84 appearances which he set while a member of the Chicago Cubs in 1965.

Other Red team leaders included rookie pitching sensation Gary Nolan, Milt Pappas, Pete Rose, Vada Pinson and Tony Perez.

Nolan, the 19-year-old right-hander from Oroville, Calif., was the workhorse of the staff. He pitched 227 innings, tied Pappas with 32 starts, struck out 206, tied Sammy Ellis when he pitched eight complete games, hurled five shutouts and had the lowest earned run average at 2.58.

Pappas registered the most wins with 16 and had the dubious distinction of being charged with the most losses—13.

Rose captured the Reds' batting championship for the third consecutive season with a .301 average. Pete led the 1965 club at .312 and in 1966 with a .313 mark. His 32 doubles and 56 walks were also club highs.

Pinson, who appears headed for almost every all-time Cincinnati offensive mark, led in seven categories — games (158), runs (90), hits (187), singles (128), triples (13), total bases (295) and stolen bases (26). The 13 triples marked the second time he has topped the league in that department.

Perez supplied the big punch for the Reds attack with 26 homers and 102 runs batted in.

STATE COAL FUTURE IS BELIEVED BRIGHT

FLOWERS

For Every Occasion

LEETE'S

WE DELIVER

A bright future for the coal industry in Kentucky — and elsewhere — was forecast by two speakers at the 1967 annual meeting of the Kentucky Coal Association in Lexington, November 3 and 4.

"The United States will be dependent for many years to come on our billions of tons of coal reserves," said U. S. Senator Thruston B. Morton.

"Coal is a vital factor in our future. Not only is it our largest fossil-fuel resource, it will be an essential source of electric power for many decades," said

George Fumich, Jr., director of the Office of Coal Research in Washington.

Senator Morton declared that the national security involves coal, because "the United States has an insatiable demand for energy, and coal is a primary source of energy."

He said that government and private authorities agree that the nation's requirements for electricity will be almost doubled by 1980. He added:

Morton expressed the opinion that "most coal producers are doing a good job of land reclamation." He urged that the coal industry put together a comprehensive proposal for voluntary action in reclamation by all producers. Without voluntary action, he cautioned, "we will wake up to very rigid federal standards."

Director Fumich stated that the nation's vast resources of coal could be "unlocked" to perform many wonders besides stimulating expansion of electric power output. These wonders, he cited, include fuel for automobiles, synthetic pipeline gas, and even dresses for women.

Other speakers included Joseph E. Moody, president, National Coal Policy Conference, and Robert E. Lee Hall, senior vice-president, National Coal Association, both from Washington; James R. Jones, chief combustion engineer for Peabody Coal Company and a member of the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission, Chicago; Ted D. Haley, associate professor of mining engineering, University of Kentucky; Robert F. Matthews, Jr., attorney general of Kentucky; and W. A. Lamberton, executive director, Kentucky Science and Technology Commission, Lexington.

Fred B. Bullard, president of the Kentucky Coal Association, said the 1967 meeting was perhaps the most successful in the organization's 40-year history. He and George E. Evans, Jr., of Wayland, chairman of the KCA board of directors, agreed that the heavy turnout for the meeting was evidence of the industry members' intense desire to solve existing problems and encourage greater development of Kentucky's coal resources.

PLUMBERS TO CONSIDER LAWS VITAL TO INDUSTRY

Announcing a meeting scheduled at Paintsville next Tuesday evening at 7 as important to plumbers and plumbing contractors, the Floyd County Health Department pointed out that proposed new legislation vital to the industry will be considered at the meeting. Next Tuesday's meeting will be held at the Johnson County Health Department.

At the same time the Floyd Health Department explained the Floyd plumbing code for all public buildings under existing state law. The provisions follow:

A public building is any building other than a residence. Any person or persons who plan to construct or remodel a building for any purpose other than for a residence must submit plans to the Floyd County Health Department in the following manner:

1. Plans shall be submitted to the Floyd County Health Department in triplicate, with three copies of survey sheet and three copies of percolation test. (The survey sheet and percolation sheet can be procured at the health department).

2. Plans shall not be less than 11 x 17 inches, blueprints or white. Scale drawings are preferable.

3. Site and topographic plan showing size of entire plot, buildings and parking area, and showing ground elevation.

4. Floor plan layout of the establishment showing overall dimensions; size of various rooms; location of outside doors and windows; toilet rooms; partitions and door openings; location of equipment, machinery, wash vats, hoods, lavatories, etc.

5. If city water and sewer are available, so state on plans and show where they abut the property.

6. If water supply is other than a city supply, indicate type and location on plan. All hospitals, schools, motels and tourist camps not served by city water supply shall submit to the Division of Engineering at the time plans are submitted, a gallon of water proposed as the supply for the chemical analysis and such other samples as required by the State Health Department.

7. If a sub-soil disposal system is to be used indicate the location on the plan showing the size of the septic tank and the length of the drainage field. A Percolation Test as referred to in number one (1) is required. If some other type of sewage disposal system is to be used separate plans must be submitted. If a privy is used, the location and type of privy must be noted on the plan.

8. Plumbing installations must be made in conformity with the requirements of State Plumbing Code. The plumbing system shall be shown in plan and in elevation, including location of all fixtures soil and waste pipe, floor drains, vents (Riser Diagram). The size and kind of material used for soil, waste and vent piping must be stated on the plans.

9. If an existing establishment is being remodeled, plans shall show new partitions, plumbing, etc., with full lines; showing the partitions, plumbing, etc., that are not to be changed, by broken lines. Three copies of all plans shall be submitted to the County Health Department prior to the time of construction.

If any contractor needs any assistance in drawing plans or has any question about the State Plumbing Code he may come to the Floyd County Health Department any time, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. State Plumbing Inspector Norman Hedrick may be consulted at the health department, any Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

ALICE LLOYD RESUMES 50-YEAR-OLD PROJECT

Pippa Passes, Kentucky — For the 51st year Alice Lloyd College and Caney Creek Community Center are preparing to help the children of Appalachia have a happy Christmas.

Through its traditional Christmas Pretties program, the college will send gifts to school children throughout the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. Under the direction of Mrs. William S. Hayes, wife of the college president, work already has begun on sorting, wrapping, and tagging toys, books, games, caps, scarves, and mittens.

The gifts are donated for the program by hundreds of college friends across the nation, and distributed through schools.

Last year, packages went to 323 classrooms, where they were given to more than 10,000 children. Already this year Mrs. Hayes has received requests from teachers in 50 schools, although she says most requests will arrive in November and December.

The tradition of playing Santa Claus to the children of the mountains began when the late Mrs. Alice Geddes Lloyd first arrived on Caney Creek in 1916. In recent years, the program has grown to such proportions that the college has had to limit its giving to only one, two, and three-room rural schools, and to the first four grades of the consolidated systems.

Mrs. Hayes said many gifts are still needed to assure each child a merry Christmas. She said she especially needs groups of small toys, books, or games of equal value so that children in the same classroom will receive similar presents.

The trend is clear!

More than 3 million American homes are heated electrically. The Federal Power Commission forecasts 19 million families will convert to or build electrically heated homes within just 12 years! Why?

Ben Franklin's stoves sold like hotcakes because they were more efficient than an open fire. The pot bellied stove was replaced by central heating systems. Today's big home-heating trend is another vast improvement . . . flameless electric . . . because it offers such a wide choice of systems and so many more advantages that it makes other methods of heating seem clumsy and old-fashioned. More convenient, more comfortable, more versatile, electric heat gives you more for your money. And you can enjoy it now, in your present house. Any home can be converted to clean electric heat, easily and economically. Let us prove it. Call us . . . or mail this coupon.

1966 COAL PRODUCTION IN KY. AT ALL-TIME HIGH

Kentucky coal production reached an all-time high in 1966 while the coal industry had its third safest year in history.

These are the highlights of a special report to Governor Edward T. Breathitt from the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals.

Coal production in the state totalled 93,240,675 tons last year, an increase of 6.47 per cent over the 1965 total of 87,207,039 tons, the report states.

The previous all-time high was in the post-war boom year of 1947 when 88,695,527 tons were produced. The report notes that a "gradual increase of production since 1947 has brought the coal industry's contribution to the economy of Kentucky to a point near $400 million annually."

Fatal mining accidents during 1966 totalled 40, only one more than in 1965 and just seven more than the 33 fatal accidents in 1963 which was the safest year in Kentucky's history.

On a tons-of-coal-mined-per-fatality basis, the 1966 record of 2,331,017 tons per fatality was second to the 2,367,850 tons per fatality in 1963.

Loan Entitlements Extended To 1970

Only those World War II veterans whose G.I. home loan entitlement did not expire before July 26, 1967 have additional time in which to use their loan entitlement. Olney B. Owen, manager of the Louisville Veterans Administration regional office reiterated this week.

He said that the Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967, which President Johnson signed recently, extended the cutoff date for the use of unexpired loan entitlement by World War II veterans from July 25, 1967 to July 25, 1970.

However, Owen said, individual entitlements are still determined on the basis of the veteran's active service in World War II and may expire prior to July 25, 1970.

A "savings clause" in this new law provides that any World War II veteran having unexpired entitlement as of last July 26 will have until Dec. 30, 1967 in which to use his entitlement even though, under the length of service formula, it may expire at an earlier date.

ALL WELCOME

We are proud to announce that our new 1968 GMC pickup comes with features you can't even order on most pickups.

- Double-wall cab construction with a thick slice of insulation sandwiched between.
- Four headlights. Most pickups come with only two.
- A selection of seven engines, V6's, In-Line Sixes and V8's.
- Color-keyed interiors. A wide choice of combinations you'd only expect to find in passenger cars.

If you want to know what a difference a GMC Truck makes, just ask. We'll tell you about our quick new pickups that have an independent front suspension and leaf springs in back. And about our Toro-Flow diesels that turn a handsome profit for medium-duty haulers.

And about our vans that have a 108-inch wheelbase, the longest of any van going. The good features GMC's offer convinced us that there's a big difference in trucks. We bet they can convince you. Stop in. Tour our place. Visit our service department and meet the crew (the experts) who will keep your truck in prime shape. Drop by the sales department and talk to us about the edge GMC's have over their competition. After all, if we didn't think GMC Trucks were better, we wouldn't be in the business of selling them.

If you think trucks are pretty much alike, ask us why we picked GMC Trucks to sell.

200 AT UK TRAINING
FOR TECHNICAL JOBS

Nearly 200 University of Kentucky students on the Lexington campus will earn a degree after two years and go to work as technicians in Kentucky industry and professional offices and laboratories.

Students enrolled in the Lexington Technical Institute, which is operated within the UK Community College System, comprise a separate entity within the boundaries of the Lexington campus.

Unlike students attending one of the nine community colleges, LTI students are working toward an associate or terminal degree rather than fulfilling the first two years of college, the primary concern of the Community College System.

Dr. G. R. Boyd, new LTI director, explained that Technical Institute courses are designed "to prepare the student for immediate employment on a technical or semi-professional level." He said formal training is completed after two years' study.

LTI students prepare for careers in nursing, dental technology, civil, mechanical and electrical engineering, forestry, general education, and professional legal, medical or general secretarial work.

"Because of increasing demands for technicians to work directly with professionally-trained persons in a semi-professional capacity, the college offers an associate degree curricula of 64 hours. At least 32 hours is in general college education," Dr. Boyd said.

Dr. Boyd, former dean of Alabama's Troy State College, succeeds Dr. Charles Wethington, now director of Maysville Community College, as LTI director.

Besides the technical courses, LTI students are required to take such basic subjects as two semesters of freshman composition, basic public speaking, principles of accounting, typing and introduction to psychology.

The Lexington Technical Institute was established in 1965. Graduates of the two-year program are prepared for occupations ranked between the craftsman and the professional. The dental technology graduate may work in an independent dental laboratory, with a general practitioner, a hospital or a dental school.

Some health services technology programs prepare students to operate X-ray equipment, oxygen apparatus, and other technical hospital equipment.

Students preparing for a career in either forestry or wood utilization take a year of general education at LTI and a year of technical studies at the Forestry and Wood Technician School at Quicksand.

"Kentucky, a long-time leader in the production of timber and other forest products, is third largest producer of hardwood lumber, contributes large quantities of pulp-wood for papermaking, and processes an increasing amount of charcoal," Dr. Boyd said.

Trends toward fewer and larger farms call for more scientific knowledge, management skills and knowledgeable utilization of mechanical equipment, he said.
