SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1967

COURT SETS 1967 RATES FOR TAXES

Gross Receipts Seen For County, $217,414; For Schools, $633,217

The fiscal court last Friday established the 1967 tax rate for both county and school revenues, setting the stage for the preparation of tax bills and their collection by the sheriff.

Generally speaking, the rate was increased 10 percent over that of last year. The rate for health, library and extension taxes were unchanged, as also was the county franchise rate.

The new rates follow, the rate for last year appearing in parentheses in the case of changes:

County
Real estate 15.6c per $100 evaluation (13.5c); franchise companies, 20.4c; health, 2.3c; library, 1.5c; extension, 1c; bank shares, 19c.

The gym tax rate for the City of Prestonsburg was set at 7.1c. Last year, the rate was 5.8c. The gym rate for franchise companies was set at 12.3c, up from 5.8c last year.

School
Real estate, 46.8c (40.5c); franchise companies 59.9c (61c); bank shares, 33c.

The rate was based on properties assessed at $33,505,489. The total assessment for the county was certified at $95,643,674, but manufacturing machinery, stocks and bonds, annuities and one or more other classes of property are not subject to local taxation.

The rates, as established by the court, are calculated to bring the total tax bill for the county to $217,414 and for the schools to $633,217. These gross totals, however, are subject to discounts, exemptions and delinquencies.

The county gross collections are figured to come from these sources: Real estate, $99,174; franchise companies, $31,094; bank shares, $3,182; franchise companies, $77,418; poll, $6,546.

The anticipated gross for schools: Real estate, $297,522.66; tangible property, $93,283.02; bank shares, $6,364.09; franchise companies, $227,319.34; poll, $8,728.

Because of the delay in receiving certification of the assessment from the Department of Revenue, the tax rate was set about two weeks later than last year. Tax bills, however, are not expected to be as late as in 1966.

This Town . . . That World

It won't be heaven for some of us unless we are given a special visa to visit some of the brethren and say to them, "I told you so."

WURRA, WURRA

If one of these daily newspapermen were to prance in, just now, as they have in the past, and airily express the wish he could have the pleasure of operating a weekly newspaper and escaping the pressures of daily newspaper life, and be able to take off and go fishing when he wanted to, and so on and on, ad absurdum, ad nauseam—I tell you, he might be invited to go where the ink is blacker and the web tighter. We shall not attempt to recount our trouble, except to say that we have a plentitude thereof. (But they did not start in a cornfield, long ago.)

MURDER CASE MOVE PROPOSED BY JUDGE

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, in a rare judicial action, last week initiated steps which could result in the next trial of Roy Salisbury for the slaying of Malie Turner Demey being held in another county.

Notice that a change of venue will be considered was filed last Thursday by Judge Conley with Commonwealth's Attorney Harold Stumbo and Burnis Martin, defense attorney. It was contained in a "Findings of Fact, Rulings of Law and Order" in which Judge Conley cited his findings after a review of the entire record in the Salisbury case.

Martin immediately lodged an objection. Stumbo said that if a change of venue order is entered he will appeal. He explained that in this way he will have approval or disapproval of a Court of Appeals of the action and that the danger of another reversal from that court would be lessened.

The death sentence of Salisbury was reversed by the Court of Appeals on the grounds that "hearsay" testimony was permitted.

Findings cited by Judge Conley after his review of the case follow:

1. On November 11, 1964, prior to the first trial of the case here, the Commonwealth filed a motion for a change of venue, setting out as the reasons for such request the claim that a fair trial could not be had in Floyd or adjacent counties.

2. The court failed to qualify a Floyd county jury for the trial after 700 prospective jurors had been examined.

3. An unsuccessful attempt then was made to qualify a jury from Martin county, with 400 talemans summoned here.

4. After about 900 persons had been summoned from Pike county for jury duty in the case, a jury was empanelled and the trial was held "in a courtroom where an air of intense feeling was easily sensed by the Court."

5. The Court now has personal knowledge that the feeling among citizens of Floyd county is such, due to the widespread relationship of defendant and the persons whom he is accused of killing, that a jury from this or any adjacent county "may be deterred from fairly and impartially rendering a verdict."

A hearing of evidence for and against the proposed venue change will be held here at 9 a.m., next Wednesday.

In unofficial discussions of the next trial of Salisbury, it has been pointed out that if the trial is held here, the trial jury must be from this or an adjacent county. It is pointed out that Floyd, Pike and Martin counties are no longer considered jury sources for the case, and that both Johnson and Knott counties have strong ties with the Turner and Combs families which are involved in the case. If these four were eliminated, Magoffin county would be the only adjacent county which might be ex-

WOLCHIK ON NOV. BALLOT

GOP Committee Rules Loser of Contest Suit To Make Johnson Race

Fred Wolchik, of Paintsville, who was disqualified as the Republican nominee for 97th district State Representative, Sept. 15 by the Court of Appeals for violating the 1966 Corrupt Practices Act, is back on the Nov. 7 ballot.

Wolchik was reinstated by the vote of the Johnson and Martin county GOP executive committees to fill the vacancy.

According to a form filed with the Secretary of State's office, Wolchik received two of four votes cast in the special executive committee election.

Incumbent State Rep. Albert Dempsey, R-Inez, who sought to oust Wolchik after being defeated by him in the May primary election, received one vote, as did Marion Horn, Jr., of Inez, another candidate in the primary.

In the primary, Wolchik received 1,081 votes; Dempsey, 776, and Horn, 717.

The latest party action was attested by Hershel Pack, chairman of the committee.

In a 5-1 decision, the state's highest court had ruled that Wolchik's primary nomination was invalid because he failed to submit campaign financial statements with the Registry of Election Finances until after the election.

But the court specifically said its decision did not rule out the GOP executive committees from naming Wolchik to fill the vacancy. It merely invalidated the primary-election results.

BREATHITT REVIEWS ADVANCE MADE HERE

"The best anti-poverty program I know is a good, steady job," Gov. Edward T. Breathitt told members of his touring party and members of the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce at a May Lodge dinner, Tuesday evening.

The Governor's tour, composed of 113 Kentucky Chamber of Commerce members, spent the night at the lodge after an afternoon visit to Archer Park and a view of Prestonsburg civic and industrial improvements.

The overnight stop at Jenny Wiley State Park ended a day which took the party to Lexington, Winchester, Natural Bridge, Salyersville, Paintsville and Prestonsburg.

At Archer Park the Governor and his party toured the training project which is preparing workers for the opening, early next year, of the U. S. Shoe Company plant, near Lancer.

"Education and jobs are meaningful in measuring the progress of a community," he said at the dinner, that evening. He pointed to these evidences of progress along different fronts:

1. Existing industries, including Kentucky Appalachian Industries, Inc., and the U. S. Shoe Company which will open next year with 400 to 500 employees.

2. Higher education brought to the community and area by the Prestonsburg Community College, and the vocational-technical training available at Mayo Vocational School, Paintsville, and its branch schools.

3. The new Mountain Comprehensive Care Center located here by the Regional Mental Health-Mental Retardation Board.

4. Major highway improvement plans that are impressive: almost $14 million to be spent on a new section of US 23 from Prestonsburg to Allen and reconstruction of that highway on to the Pike county line, plus $2,600,000 to be spent on a bridge across the Big Sandy at Lancer and reparation of the Bull Creek road to connect with new US 23 at Water Gap.

5. Ten new vacation cottages to be built next year at Jenny Wiley State Park, a community-size swimming pool under construction there and other facilities planned.

From here the touring business men went to Pikeville, Elkhorn City, Shelby Gap, the Breaks Interstate Park, Whitesburg and Hazard. They will return to Louisville today (Thursday).

Norman Lee, Jr., 17, College Student Here, Is Apparent Suicide

The gunshot wound which Sunday night caused the death of 17-year-old Norman Lee, Jr., of West Van Lear, was apparently self-inflicted, James R. Preston, Johnson county coroner, said.

The youth, a recent graduate of Meade Memorial high school, had been attending Prestonsburg Community College. He lived with his mother, Mrs. Dessie Lee, who was in another room of the home when the fatal shot was fired. There was no official explanation of the shooting.

His father, Norman Lee, Sr., preceded him in death. Besides his mother, young Lee is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Betty Ruth Blair, in Germany, and Mrs. Norma Jean Wells, Ypsilanti, Michigan.

SCHOOLS HIT IN PIKE-CO.

600 Teachers Strike For Higher Salaries; 56 Schools Closed

Pike county teachers went on strike last Friday for higher salaries, and almost 17,000 students are on holiday while 56 schools are closed. Almost 700 teacher-members of the Pike County Education Association are striking.

The Pike County Board of Education held a special meeting Tuesday night, but the walkout by teachers was not to be discussed.

Board Member Russell Johnson, Jr. said the strike could not be discussed because the meeting was a specially called session to act on the budget and only budget matters could be discussed.

He said, however, that another special meeting had been called for Wednesday night to "decide what to do" about the strike.

Johnson said the board will decide at the meeting whether to take court action based on Atty. Gen. Matthews' opinion that the teachers do not have the right to strike for higher wages.

However, the teacher walk-out could indirectly be affected by the budget meeting, since the board's action was expected to indicate whether the teachers will receive the pay raise they are seeking.

Johnson said he doubts that any more money will be approved than the average $401 pay raise already planned for teachers this term. The teachers claim all of the increase comes from state funds. They are asking $99 additional from the county.

Johnson said the $401 pay increase "was arrived at by the state Board of Education, and we took it in good faith that this was what was due the teachers."

Of the Pike situation Attorney General Matthews said, in response to a question from Board Member Johnson:

"While teachers may organize and bargain collectively as to pay and working conditions which it may be within the power of a board of education to grant, 'they may not do so under threat of strike.'"

He said the National Labor Relations Act, which gives employees the right to strike, specifically excludes public workers—as do most state labor laws.

As for the termination of a teacher's contract, Matthews said it could come about for insubordination, conduct unbecoming a teacher, physical or mental disability and inefficiency, incompetency or neglect of duty.

Matthews said, "If the superintendent or other prescribed official orders a teacher under contract to conduct classes on a duly designated teaching day and such teacher in failing to report for duty wilfully refuses to recognize or obey the authority of the superintendent or other prescribed official, the wilful refusal may be considered by the board of education as a possible ground to contract termination under hearing procedures."

RETURN FROM TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. Blaine R. Hall returned here Sunday from a vacation tour of the New England states and a visit to Expo '67 at Montreal, Canada.

UNION WINS IN KAI POLL

Workers To Affiliate With Dist. 50, UMWA; 137 Ballots Are Tallied

Employees of Kentucky Appalachian Industries here voted last Friday to affiliate themselves with District 50, United Mine Workers of America.

The election, held at the plant in West Prestonsburg under supervision of the National Labor Relations Board, resulted in 117 votes for unionization by District 50 and 87 against.

An official report from NLRB has not been received locally, and plant officials made no comment on results of the poll.

It was said that approximately 40 employees who were most recently hired were not eligible to vote in the election.

Work at the plant continues.

BID OPENING IS DELAYED

Water Dist. Contract Awaits New Wage Rate; Work Here Is Discussed

Opening of bids on construction of the Sandy Valley Water District's system to afford water service to sections of Floyd and Pike counties was postponed from Tuesday of this week till Oct. 3 because a new federal wage determination is going into effect.

The new wage scale for various types of labor is necessary for contractors to bid on the work, which involved the laying of mains and construction of reservoirs.

The delay will not require re-advertising of the project, it was said.

Another water development project, the extension and improvement of the Prestonsburg system and the construction of an additional reservoir, was talked at a pre-planning conference here Tuesday by George Buzzard, field engineer, Economic Development Administration, the City Council and the City Utilities Commission.

The Prestonsburg project, which will extend water service northward along new US 23 to the state-owned property, approximately a mile from Auxier, is expected to be ready for bids soon after Jan. 1. The work will be financed by an EDA grant and loan totalling $684,000.

4 from Floyd Attend Dedication Last Friday Of Center at Quicksand

The new Plant Materials Center at Quicksand, one of 20 in operation over the nation, was dedicated last Thursday, with D. A. Williams, administrator of the Soil Conservation Service, the principal speaker.

Attending the dedication from Floyd county were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Lloyd Wells and Harold R. Wallace. Fitzpatrick and Wells are supervisors of the Floyd County Soil Conservation District, and Wallace is its work unit conservationist.

Mr. Williams said the new center will be used to aid in the search of new and better plants to help solve the special conservation problems of the Appalachian region. SCS plant specialists will study native plants, as well as plants from other areas, to develop better varieties especially suited for improving the agricultural and wildlife resources of Appalachia.

The Quicksand Center occupies 34 acres of land on the University of Kentucky's Robinson Agricultural Experiment Sub-Station. It will serve primarily the Appalachian portions of Kentucky, Alabama, Georgia, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

Carew Shepherd, Former David Man, Is Fatally Burned

Carew Shepherd, 60, of Route 2, Claypool, Ind., formerly of David, died last Thursday at Mercy Medical Center, Warsaw, Ind., of 3rd and 4th degree burns suffered when bottled gas he was using at his home exploded. The gas apparently had leaked from the tank, filling the house and resulting in the explosion. The house was wrecked.

An employee of the Nickle Plate Railroad Co. at Claypool, the victim was a son of the late Jake and Peggy Hale Shepherd. He was never married.

Surviving brothers and sisters are Rockie, Talt and Sweetie Shepherd, all of Claypool, Ind., Roby Shepherd, of Warsaw, Ind., Denver Shepherd, of Rensselaer, Ind., Mrs. Elizabeth Helton, of Chebanse, Ill., and Mrs. Katy Arnett, of Sidney, Indiana.

Funeral rites were held Sunday at the home of Jay Shepherd at David, the Revs. Wallace Calhoun and Richmond Shepherd officiating. Burial in the Shepherd cemetery at David was directed by the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Drive-In Conference Held Here Is First In Promotion Series

The Kentucky Education Association's annual series of drive-in conferences began with a conference at Prestonsburg high school, focussing on promotion of KEA's 1968 legislative program and related activities of local education association committees.

More than 2,000 elected and appointed leaders of local associations will attend similar sessions over the state, according to Mrs. Beulah Fontaine, KEA director of professional services and coordinator of the conferences.

Twenty-two of the meetings—two each evening—will be held throughout the state over a three-week period. Candidates for the Legislature, plus incumbent senators, are being invited to join conference participants for dinner and the concluding session of the program in sections of the state that have not already planned special legislative meetings.

Nine designated individuals from local associations took part in the meeting here. They are the president, president-elect (or vice-president), superintendent, education reporter, and chairman of committees on teacher education and professional standards, professional negotiation, finance education and salary scheduling, professional rights and responsibilities, and legislation.

SLONE HELD FOR SLAYING

Of Wife at Mousie; High Feeling Delays Preliminary Hearing

Feeling ran so high in Knott county this week against a man who is accused of slaying his wife by shooting her seven times that County Judge Merd Slone announced a postponement of the Wednesday hearing set for him at Hindman.

The accused man, Robert "Cotton" Slone, was taken to the Perry county jail at Hazard for safekeeping.

Judge Slone said some of the seven bullets fired into the woman's body entered her back. Her husband, it was said, claimed she shot herself.

Knott county officials traced the family tragedy from 30 days ago when the husband allegedly set fire to their home. Jailed, he set the jail on fire. His wife fled for a divorce, but after he had paid the jail damages and effected his release their marital difficulties apparently were patched up.

What precipitated Sunday night's shooting is not definitely known. The couple had three children, ages 2, 3 and 5.

CHILD DEATH DRIVER GETS SIX MONTHS

Court Term Extended To Include Friday; Kidd Case Continued

Maude Fitzpatrick won an acquittal Monday in circuit court at the conclusion of her trial on a charge of aiding and counseling another to commit a felony.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick was accused of counselling "Jan" Harris in the near-fatal bludgeoning in January, 1965 of Mrs. Catherine Akers outside a tenant house owned by the defendant on the Middle Creek road, near here.

Harris, who is serving a pen term for the assault on Mrs. Akers, was returned here as a witness. The defendant denied any part in the attack, and Jim Miller said he was driving past the scene and was hailed by Mrs. Fitzpatrick. His testimony tended to absolve the defendant.

He said he saw Harris, armed with a 2x4-inch timber, pursue Mrs. Akers into the yard.

Judy, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Akers, testified she saw Mrs. Fitzpatrick hit her mother with a lump of coal and a table leg while they were inside the house.

Mrs. Akers, who for weeks was near death, later recovered and was returned here but now is reported in critical condition in a Lexington hospital.

Arthur Lyle was given a six-month jail term Tuesday by the jury which heard testimony in his trial on an involuntary manslaughter charge. Commonwealth attorney claimed he was driving on the wrong side of the Left Beaver Creek highway at a speed of 75-80 miles when his car struck that of Paul Layne, killing Layne's young daughter. The defendant claimed his car was out of control and that he was not driving at the high rate of speed alleged.

Bryce Sanders pleaded guilty to a charge of fraudulent use of a credit card and was fined $500 and given a 12-month jail term. The jail sentence later was probated. The conspiracy to commit a felonious act which had been lodged against him, James Harold Myhand, Billy Ray Litch children, ages 2, 3 and 5. (See Story No. 1, Page 3)

COLLEGE PLANS CAMPUS CENTER TO PRESERVE EAST KY. HERITAGE

Prestonsburg Community College is working on plans to develop an Early American Traditional English Commons Area which would include a museum, an early colonial home furnished with furniture of that era, and a memorial chapel dedicated to the families who helped to develop Eastern Kentucky area.

Announcing plans for the development, Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr., director of the college, said:

"We are going to select a group of outstanding citizens of the Eastern Kentucky area to assist us in the collection and identification of materials that would be of value in preserving our early Eastern Kentucky heritage. We will be asking families of the area to donate to the collection materials of all kinds. We will display these materials with plaques containing the name of the donor and the history connected with the material."

The college will be interested in folk-songs, dances, games, tales, both written and recorded, and in musical instruments of all kinds. The archives section will seek documents, books, pictures, coats-of-arms, furniture, Indian relics, sermons, etc.; the music and arts section, in old hymn books, programs, copies of music, paintings and carvings; the crafts section, in old silver, lace, shawls, dresses, old glass, china, etc. In addition to these, the college would be interested in wills, diaries, old ledgers, rare books or any written material that would have historical significance.

No federal or state funds can be used in the construction of the three buildings. The college hopes that interested citizens in the area will donate windows, doors, ancestral coats-of-arms, chimes and furniture for all three buildings.

A meeting will be called Oct. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 112 at the college for interested persons who would like to help the college in the collection of such materials. Robert Wallace, Sam Bitman, Mrs. Laura Weddle and Mrs. Joseph Jeffries will constitute a faculty committee to work with a citizens committee in the research and cataloging of materials.

Mrs. Edith James is currently working with the college in helping to make some of the early planning for the selection of materials for the first display.

The college is asking for a foundation grant to finance research and travel for participants. Further information on the project will be available early in October.

Miss Judy Howell, of Prestonsburg, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length dress in cottilian blue chiffon over taffeta, styled with an empire waistline, long full sleeves, and a softly flared skirt. The bodice and sleeves had an underlay of English net with daisy design. The back skirt fell with fullness from the waistline. Her headpiece was a large bow in matching fabric of her dress with a full veil.

Miss Pamela Hall, of Morehead, cousin of the bride, Miss Nancy Kooz, of Louisville, and Mrs. Larry Howell, of Ashland, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor. Their headpieces were open-swirled circlets in matching fabric of their dresses with full veils.

Prenuptial organ music was rendered by Mrs. Robert Pruitt, of Louisville, cousin of the bride. Randall Wells, of Cynthiana, soloist, sang "We'll Walk With God," "More," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

IAN, a newspaper published at Catlettsburg, dated Dec. 12, 1871. Neath the masthead, it is described as "A Wellspring of Joy," but, like most newspapers, the joy appears to be so deep in the well that it isn't visible. Hope you're interested in what was happening 95 years ago, for you're going to get it, as recorded by this Wellspring of Joy.

The Legislature had been organized, a few days earlier, and J. M. Davidson, of Floyd county, received a respectable vote for Speaker . . . "William Jones, coal digger in Rush bank, was killed by the bank giving in on him, on Monday week."

"We have had what is popularly called a spell of weather. As a consequence, the river, being very low, soon became filled with ice and was not long in blocking up. In that condition it remained until the 8th, when it broke up. Monday night 'The Favorite' became icebound near Bloomer bar, and as she is not arranged for keeping travellers overnight, and the passengers were compelled to seek shelter on shore. This, we are credibly informed, was denied them, although two ladies and one or two small children were among the party. It was a terrible night to turn even a dog from the door . . ."

Turning to police court, this early purveyor of the news reported that the honorable court had had its hands full. "We heard," the scribe reported, "of one fisticuff in which the parties were locked up and permitted to pummel each other until one cried, 'Take him off.' This is commendable. It shows a spirit of accommodation and Christian philanthropy which should be fostered by all proper means."

Two marriages were reported: Miss Amanda Davis and T. J. Fortune, both of Catlettsburg, and Miss Fedelena Wernet and Frederick Bluh, both of Boyd county. Deaths: Florence Lenora Miller, 8, Nov. 28 in Ashland; Napoleon B on a parte (Pole) Davidson, about 22, Dec. 8 at California Rocks, Ohio; Freddie Hylton, near Paintsville . . .

In the ads Wait's Baking Powders and Wilhoft's Anti-Periodic were mentioned. Some of the advertisers were Robert B. Rigg, A. H. Clawson, P. P. Shaver, John B. Wellman & Co., William Burns, Kinner, Merrill & Smith and Joseph Newburgh.

One of the last items on Page 1 reads:

"We hope THE LITTLE SAND-IAN may prove a 'Thing of Joy.' All are doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances."

(And that expresses it pretty well for us, 95 years later.)

The action initiated by Judge Conley, it is pointed out, is unusual, inasmuch as he will preside at the hearing of testimony for and against his own proposed change of venue. The Attorney General's office has said that he may have inherent power to make the change, and most attorneys here agree.

Mrs. Alka G. Music Victim In 71st Year; Funeral Held Saturday

Mrs. Alka Green Music, 70, of East Point, died last Thursday in a Paintsville nursing home after an extended illness.

A native of East Point, Mrs. Music was a daughter of the late Webster and Malissa Hall Green and was the widow of William Jefferson Music. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are three sons, Roger Music, of Oil Springs, Ky., Morris Jefferson Music, St. Petersburg, Fla., and William James Music, of Dayton, Ohio; three daughters, Mrs. Libby Weisnewski, of Huntsville, Ala., Mrs. Frank Jennings and Mrs. Anna Margaret Stapleton, both of Lexington, Ky.; a brother, Charles Green, of East Point, and four sisters, Mrs. Edith Burchett and Mrs. Irene Bowling, both of East Point, Mrs. Gladys Blair, of New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; and Mrs. Priscilla Johnson, of Sylva, Georgia. She also leaves 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Preston Funeral Home at Paintsville, the Rev. Tommy Reynolds officiating. Burial was made in the Richmond cemetery Sunday at Paintsville.

CATS DEFEAT PIKEVILLE FOR FIFTH STRAIGHT WIN

The Prestonsburg high school Black Cats annexed their fifth victory in a row last Friday night when they downed the Pikeville Panthers on the losers' home grounds, 26-0.

Again Prestonsburg's defense effectively contained the opposition, and Pikeville offered no real threat. The attack was featured by two touchdowns each from Mark Miller, quarterback, and fullback Mike Castle.

Miller touched off the Prestonsburg offensive with a 23-yard scoring dash in the first quarter through the middle of the Pikeville defense. Late in the second quarter, Miller passed to Castle for the second t.d., and the half ended with Prestonsburg ahead, 12-0.

The third quarter was scoreless, but in the final period both Miller and Castle scored on plunges from about a yard out. Haywood kicked two extra points to bring the score to 26-0.

Coach Bobby Crager was pleased with the team's defensive play. Although the offense looked better than against Jenkins, a week earlier, injuries suffered at Jenkins by the two halfbacks slowed the offense. The defense was led by John Webb, Steve Collins, Eric Ousey, Darrell Leslie and Allen Zeno.

Crager also expressed his pleasure at the support fans have given the team at games away from home.

This Friday night, the Cats go to Leslie County at Hyden, looking for Victory No. 6.

The College of Dentistry at the University of Kentucky was authorized in 1964 by action of the board of trustees of the University.

The University of Kentucky began offering graduate work in 1870, and awarding graduate degrees in 1876, although the Graduate School as a distinct unit was not organized until 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newsome of Grethel, Kentucky, installed electric baseboard heat in their new 8-room home. Their average monthly electric bill for heating and all other uses of electricity is just $26.55. Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Newsome were asked the following questions about their heat:

- Q: Does total electric living with flameless heating cost any more than you were paying in your previous home for both fuel and electricity?
- A: You really can't compare the two houses. But if electricity costs more, it certainly isn't much more.
- Q: Do you think the difference in cost is worth it?
- A: Yes, because of the cleanliness and comfort of electric heat. The house is never too hot or too cold. We can't tell what the outside temperature is. We wash or dry-clean drapes very seldom, where with gas heat we did so frequently. The time saved from constant cleaning is worth a great deal to my wife.
- Q: Why did you choose baseboard units over other types of electric heat?
- A: Thermostats in each room are a great convenience.

Like the Newsomes, you can modernize your home with flameless heat. A Reddy Kilowatt Recommended Dealer or Kentucky Power Company will help you select the type heating that best suits your home and your preference.

No Guesswork on costs

Your dealer or Kentucky Power will accurately figure your monthly electric cost in advance. Then, compare for yourself the cost of safe, cleaner, more comfortable electric heating with what you are presently paying for fuel and electricity.

The State Fish and Wildlife Resources Department is excited over prospects of hybridized rockfish, with one new species now being clinically studied at Lake Malone where it was introduced this year.

Charles C. Bowers, Jr., assistant director of the division of fisheries, reported 150,000 fry—a cross between the small yellow bass and the large rockfish—were released in the 800-acre state-owned lake last spring. At the same time, 100,000 fertilized eggs ready to hatch were also placed in Lake Malone.

"What we hope to achieve," Bowers said, "is a golden rockfish—a fast-growing, meaty and very tasty fish."

Bowers said Lake Malone has a heavy gizzard-shad population and he hoped the new crossbreed would "develop a taste for the shad and feed on them."

Experimentation is under way on other rockfish hybridization, with emphasis given to a new species involving the rockfish and white bass. Bowers reported that one 14-pound hybrid of this type was taken from Kentucky Lake and "was apparently the result of a natural cross-breeding of the two species."

Rockfish or striped bass is a large salt water fish that can also live in a fresh water environment. A few sub-adult fish were introduced into Lake Cumberland and Kentucky Lake in 1957. As methods of raising the young fry from eggs were developed and improved, great numbers of pure rockfish were directly stocked in many Kentucky reservoirs.

More than one-half million fry were released in Lake Cumberland in 1965. These "very palatable" fish are now being caught as four and five pounders, Bowers reports.

In 1966, a total of 3.2 million fry were placed in Lake Barkley. Substantial catches are now being reported weekly, both in Barkley and Kentucky Lakes, according to Bowers. Another half-million young rockfish were released in Dewey Lake last spring.

Governor Orders Raise In State Trooper Pay

Frankfort, Ky. — Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has ordered a pay raise for all state policemen.

The order asks that all troopers be advanced one pay grade, increasing the starting salary from $415 to $457 a month. Each trooper gets a salary boost of 10 percent.

Cost of the pay raise, about $250,000, will come from the Department of Public Safety's existing budget. Sergeants and officers are not affected by the order.

Inadequate salaries have been one reason for the difficulty in recruiting new troopers, Breathitt said.

The force now numbers 359, with about 45 cadets expected to begin training soon. The current budget authorizes 401 troopers now and 426 by the end of the year.

Greenwade-Patton Vows Exchanged

Miss Jan Greenwade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis P. Greenwade, Mt. Sterling, became the bride of Roger Dean Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Patton, of Auxier, in a ceremony solemnized Wednesday, Sept. 6 at 5 p.m. at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Edward Music, and Mr. Music.

The Rev. T. W. Farmer, pastor of the Church of God at Little Paint, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride chose for her wedding a three-piece white knit suit, with pale-green accessories, and wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Jerald Greenwade, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor.

Jerald Greenwade served the groom as best man. Following a short wedding trip, the groom left for San Antonio, Texas, where he is stationed with the U. S. Army. Mrs. Patton, a graduate of Camargo high school, and member of Gamma Delta, Mt. Sterling Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, will join him there shortly.

Mr. Patton, a graduate of Auxier high school, has been in the service for eight years. He holds the rank of staff sergeant and has recently returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Child Welfare Workers Seeking Foster Homes For Teen-Age Groups

Frankfort, Ky. — State child welfare workers are looking for foster homes big enough to care for from four to eight youngsters.

These would be "group foster homes"—a new concept in caring for dependent children with special problems, initiated by the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare this year.

A group foster home is half-way between a foster home and an institution. Children placed in these homes would usually be teenagers with difficulty adjusting to a close family life. They would benefit from living in a home environment.

A couple willing to provide such an environment—in which the youngsters would learn to live with others, themselves, and the community—would be paid on a scale ranging from a minimum of $100 to $200 a month, depending on the number of children.

Since the number of children in the homes would vary according to the demand for homes, the department expects this payment to average at least $2.50 a day for each child—the guaranteed minimum for foster care, according to Child Welfare Commissioner Maurice A. Harmon.

Rainbow Trout Added To Kentucky Waters, Most in Cumberland

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 22 (Spl.) —Nearly 50,000 rainbow trout are scheduled for stocking in Kentucky waters during the next two weeks.

The bulk of the trout stocking—almost 44,000 rainbows from six to 10 inches long—will go into Lake Cumberland south of Jamestown, reports the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Trucks from the state's Fisheries division will pick up the trout at the National Fish Hatchery in Erwin, Tenn., and deliver them to Cumberland on Sept. 26, 27 and 28.

During the first week of October more of the cool water game fish will be added to Herrington Lake in Central Kentucky and the tailwaters of Buckhorn Lake in Eastern Kentucky. Herrington will get 5,000 rainbows and 1,000 will go into the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River below Buckhorn dam.

More than half of the Cumberland release—24,900—will be of catching size, 8-10 inches, when put into the lake at the former site of the Rowena Ferry. The other 19,000 will be from 6-8 inches long.

OUTSTANDING EXHIBITS MARK MAYTOWN'S 16th FLOWER SHOW

The 16th annual Maytown Fall Flower Show, held on the Maytown school campus Sunday, Sept. 17, was perhaps the finest of the long series of exhibits, and it was marked by exceptional public interest.

Libby Flanery, a first-time exhibitor, won Best in Show and her son, Kent, won the Best in Show for children. Mrs. Irma Tallent won the Sweepstakes Award with nine blue ribbons.

Mrs. Flanery's arrangement was entered in the class, MORNING'S FIRST BEAM, a composition using any yellow flower with any accessory permitted. Her container was a silver composite with three small yellow cactus dahlias, spikes of swamp grass and acuba leaves, with a round mirror for background and matching silver candleholders with yellow candles.

Kent Flanery's display was a Chinese garden scene of hillside moss, a plastic Ming tree, a tiny pond and figurines in keeping with the Oriental theme.

The theme of this year's show was AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL, and one spot in the land, the Maytown gymnasium, was indeed beauty filled. Handmade quilts from Anna Ousley, Daisy Hayes Day, Altonette Bentley, Alva Flanery, and Gail Osborne decorated the length of the gymnasium on the left side. Fifteen table arrangements by the Maytown Home Economics Department (Mrs. Joyce Stewart, teacher) were displayed the length of the area on the right side. Exhibits included hand-crafted dulcimers of Lily Branham, Julia Huff and Marina Meadows, of the Alice Lloyd College Upward Bound Program, and a rug by Bobby Meadows, of the same program; a collection of Indian artifacts by Miss Harriett Allen, of Langley, and Mrs. Peggy Jo Vaughan, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; the ceramics display by Mrs. Dianna Branham, of Langley; the collection of dolls belonging to Mrs. Jean Wallace, Wayland; a hand-crocheted spread and other items of Mrs. Edna Webb Click, Langley; the crafts of Mrs. O. A. Alley, Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Manda Sutton, Langley; hand-crafted Christmas trees by Mrs. Bonnie Spencer and Mrs. Elizabeth Allen; the antiques of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stephens and the Frank Stewart family, and the 400-year-old pepper mill owned by Mrs. Duna Combs.

Paintings and other art works were displayed on other available wall space. The entrance to the gymnasium proved to be a good gallery with hangings by Doris R. Prater, and Mrs. O. A. Alley, of Prestonsburg, the art class of Garrett high school, Mrs. Virginia Draughn, teacher, and the seed paintings of Mrs. Bonnie Spencer, Langley, and Mrs. Maude Chaffins, Garrett, paintings from Alice Lloyd College, the pupils of Walt Pritchard, Debbie Sammons, Morehead State University, Mrs. Duna Combs, Angela Combs and Mrs. Edgar May, Langley, were displayed on other wall space.

Only flower arrangements were judged on quality of arrangement, not in competition within the class. Ribbons given were:

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR YOUR CHILD?

Realizing that our children are Kentucky's most valuable resource and that their educational opportunities are made possible through the efforts of our state government, it should be the deep concern of all of us who love them most as parents and teachers to elect officials to represent us at Frankfort who will work hard and faithfully to provide the educational advantages that our children deserve.

We who are engaged in the instruction of our young people sincerely believe that their greatest interest will be served by electing the GROUND BUILDER HENRY WARD as governor and the ENTIRE DEMOCRATIC TICKET on November 7.

The teachers and school people of this county know that more progress has been made in education during the past two Democratic administrations than has been made in its history. We know, also, that those parents who have observed this advancement will fully agree.

We believe the Democratic party has an excellent ticket for our choice on November 7, and we are confident that they will make education the Number One priority on their list of accomplishments.

We believe our children deserve this opportunity, so we are asking you parents to join us in WORKING FOR and ELECTING on November 7 the true friends of education—HENRY WARD and the ENTIRE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

It's the things we leave out of a Volkswagen that make it work so well.

We leave out the radiator. So the engine will never boil over or freeze and leave you stranded somewhere. (Don't worry. It's air-cooled.)

We leave out the water hoses and water pump, too. Still fewer parts to break down and leave you stranded.

We leave out the drive shaft. You know: the long bulky thing that transfers power from the engine up front to the drive wheels in back. (Always losing a little power along the way.)

Instead, we put the engine in back, right over the drive wheels. Where it'll put its power right to work moving the car.

As soon as we can think of something else to leave out, we'll leave it out. Just as soon as we can decide on the best place not to put it.

CARR CREEK MARKSMAN
SHATTERS WORLD RECORD IN NATIONAL TRAPSHOOT

Carr Creek, which 40 years ago won national fame through feats of its gymless basketball team, now has a marksman in the national limelight.

Hiram Bradley, a Carr Creek product, now a Greenville, Ohio teacher, set an all-time record at the recent American Trapshooting Association's Grand National at Dayton, Ohio, when he broke 1,469 targets in a row without a miss.

Bradley, who had never seen a "clay pigeon" till he moved to Ohio, says "hitting them now comes as easy as shooting a squirrel off a log at 50 yards."

His record, compiled from the 16-yard mark, was set during an early round of the Grand National, the nation's largest meet. His string started in June at the Ohio state trapshooting meet held at Dayton. He entered the national with a string of 1,350 pigeons, and just kept his perfect skein going.

Questions Answered

Q. On Sept. 5, I will enroll in a trade school. How will I be classified?

A. Pending identification of the critical skills and other essential occupations as provided for under Selective Service Regulations, local boards may consider for II-A classification those registrants who are pursuing a full-time course of study in a trade or vocational school.

Q. I have a chronic skin disorder that requires frequent hospitalization. Will I be drafted?

A. Under current medical standards of fitness you are probably not acceptable for induction.

Q. I enlisted in the Army for three years. After two months and 14 days I was discharged for medical reasons. Can I be drafted?

A. If you were given a medical discharge under Par. 3a (6) of Army Regulations 635-205 (SPN 375) under current standards you are not eligible to be processed for induction.

Because score sheets of the Ohio state meet were missing, it could not be determined which bird he had missed there, so he was obliged to enter the national with only 25 pigeons to his credit. Unshaken by the loss of birds that really were his, he rattled off a string of 1444 before missing to break a record that had stood since 1959.

BOOKS ON HOW TO STUDY ARE POPULAR AT LIBRARY

With the arrival of fall and the return of students to school across the state, interest has stepped up at the Floyd County Library in books on how to form effective study habits and perform well in school. A child possessing ability may not be a good student because he is unaware of the proper methods of studying or how to organize his time.

J. A. Richards "How to Make Better Grades," gives advice to the student entering college about the importance of high marks and suggests methods by which the student can obtain them. He concentrates on the problem areas of the student: how to make the best use of resources such as the library; what factors influence the teacher in giving a grade; how to prepare the papers and research that is expected of the student; and how to get the most from the time spent in lectures.

"How to Study Better and Get Higher Marks," by Eugene H. Ehrlich offers actual tests and step by step guides to the student and deals with the methods that should be used in studying particular subjects.

Other books available at the Floyd County Library are "Learning to Study," by William W. Farquhar; "Study and Succeed," by Lyle Tussing; "Study is Hard Work," by William Armstrong, and "How You Can Be A Better Student," by Rudolf Flesch.

Also available are books dealing with improvement of reading which is one of the most important factors in a child's success in school. Ruth Strang's "Helping Your Child Improve His Reading," and the well-known "Why Johnny Can't Read," by Rudolf Flesch are valuable to the parent in helping the child before and during his first years in developing the proper skills and attitudes toward reading. Mortimer J. Adler's "How to Read a Book," is designed for the high school and college student who not only is required to do reading but enjoys it as well. The book shows ways in which the most can be received from the reading process. It is also valuable to the adult who takes pleasure in reading by enriching his understanding. Other books available to increase reading speed and efficiency are "Blueprints for Better Reading," by Florence Cleary; "A New Look at Reading," by Willard Abraham; "Develop Your Reading," by Pearl Knight; and "A Parent's Guide to Children's Reading," by Nancy Larrick.

Numerous books are available for tips on preparing for college entrance examinations, special examinations and aptitude tests.

Visit the Floyd County Library and use all the available free services.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ASKS HELP FOR MEMORY BOOK

EDITOR, The Times:

We are among those stupid people who never kept a diary upon entering their life's work; so now I am asking your readers if they will assist me in compiling a record of our 25 years in Floyd county.

In October, 1967 (the third week, I believe) it will be 25 years since we arrived at Dock, Ky. by the invitation of Will Haywood. In those years Bob has built three churches and pastored five. I am wondering if anyone has the exact date of our arrival here and of our first meeting in Dock, Ky. I would like some reminiscences and stories connected with my husband and his (our) work here in Floyd county. Things that happened in or out of church; funny, sad, interesting. Things said or done that have long been lost from our memories will be appreciated. Notes, a postal card, from those who have found a Saviour through the ministry of my husband. I'd like to collect and keep these as "memories that bless and burn." An account of things done wisely — or foolishly. Things that made you mad, or made you glad.

Will you help me with my book of 25 years of memories? I can't invite all with whom we have worked to a Silver Anniversary celebration but I do invite you to help me make a memory book.

FIVE SEDITION DEFENDANTS FREED, AV and OEO IN TIFF

Appalachian Volunteer field representative Joe Mulloy has won out over Pike county courts through a decision by a panel of three federal judges that Kentucky's sedition law is unconstitutional, and now the Volunteers and the Kentucky OEO are having at it.

Albert Whitehouse, director of the Kentucky Office of Economic Opportunity, last week hit hard at AV for what he described as "lack of cooperation and in many cases open rebellion" against the OEO-Community Action agencies.

Last week-end, the AV information office at Whitesburg declared:

"Our organization is continuing its program in Kentucky and our Pike county representative, Joe Mulloy, will continue to work there. But we still have two major problems to contend with — rumors and continuing criticism from the director (Mr. Whitehouse) of the Kentucky Office of Economic Opportunity."

The federal panel composed of Judge Bert Combs, of the U. S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, Judge James Gordon, of the U. S. District Court for Western Kentucky, and Judge Bernard Moynahan, of the U. S. District Court for Eastern Kentucky, held by a 2-1 vote that:

1. The federal government preempted the Kentucky law with the enactment of the Smith Act, the federal sedition law.

2. The Kentucky statute is "upon its face, overbroad, so vague and of such sweeping application as to run afoul of the U. S. Constitution, which requires narrow and specific regulation in the field of protected activity."

Effect of the decision was to free from Pike county prosecution not only Mulloy but also Mr. and Mrs. Carl Braden and Mr. and Mrs. Alan McSurely.

In a lengthy statement criticizing the Appalachian Volunteers, the Kentucky OEO head said, in part:

"To our knowledge the Appalachian Volunteers have worked in only six of the state's 27 multi-county Community Action agency areas. All of these quite naturally are in the Eastern or Appalachia area of our state. There have been numerous and repeated complaints from all of them during the past two years over the lack of cooperation and in many cases open rebellion of the Appalachian Volunteers against the O.E.O.—Community Action Agencies. Many complaints have been made by individuals and other citizen groups.

"These complaints became too voluminous to ignore in the summer of 1966, and the first hearing because of them was held in an all-day meeting at Jenny Wiley State Park; called by the Regional O.E.O. in November of 1966 and was attended by all the leading officers of the Appalachian Volunteers and the CAP Directors of five or six Community Action Agency areas.

"At this hearing, I stated very emphatically that the Appalachian Volunteers and the CAP would have to get together and cooperate fully if we were ever to make any headway in winning the War on Poverty.

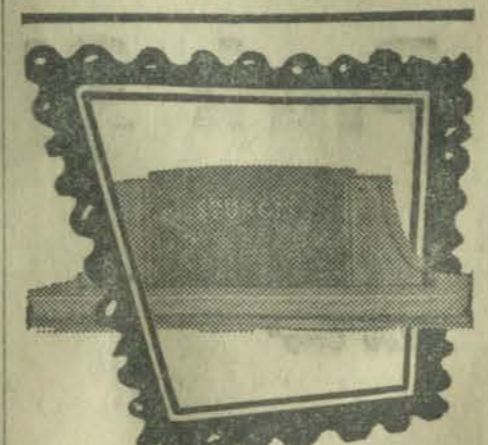

Further, I listed three specific complaints which had been made and which I considered very serious against the Appalachian Volunteers and stated that any and all groups funded by O.E.O. to work in Community Action areas obviously must work together or else would not work at all. Our chief aim or job is to unite the entire community—the rich, the just well-to-do and the poor — to work together against poverty; and if we who were funded by O.E.O. couldn't get together, how in the world could we expect to unite entire communities."

Said the AV statement from Whitesburg, in part:

"Rumors travel fast and far in Kentucky, and there are many people who do not know our staff personally and who will be more affected by the original groundless charges of sedition than by the action of the federal court. With these rumors, the problem is mostly a matter of time. The people with whom we have been working in Kentucky have stood by us and backed us up throughout this month of controversy. They have not been stampeded by charges that were politically and economically motivated. We are grateful to them and we hope to continue to deserve their trust and support. The longer and harder we work together, the less rumors will be a problem.

"As for the criticism from the director of the Kentucky Office of Economic Opportunity, this is a different kind of problem. The director, Mr. Whitehouse, this week expressed his continuing criticism of the Appalachian Volunteers in a long statement which contains a number of remarks so misleading that they can only be considered irresponsible. We do not intend to answer all of Mr. Whitehouse's criticisms in this brief statement; we are preparing a more detailed report on the events of the past month — including the confusion over the termination of AV programs in Kentucky, the sedition charges, the working relationships between the AV's and the Community Action Agencies in Kentucky, the role of the AV's in such apparently controversial areas as strip-mining and welfare rights—and there will be room in that report for very thorough answers to Mr. Whitehouse's charges."

A late summer wedding was that of Miss Dianna Jean Puckett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy (Buddy) Puckett, of the Mullins Addition, Pikeville, and Avery Lee Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hydrac Harmon, of Stanville.

The ceremony took place in the Boldman Free Will Baptist Church, the afternoon of Sunday, Aug. 20, with the Rev. A. B. Johnson, pastor of the church, officiating at the double-ring service.

The chancel of the church had been turned into a bridal bower of emerald foliage and pristine blossoms. The entire apex of the church was covered in white and banked with southern smilax. Greenery cascaded from the cathedral candelabra, holding bridal tapers, and from the piano. Baskets holding gladioli and single tapers, encircled with greenery, centered the windows of the church. Large white satin bows, with gladioli spears, marked the family pews.

Miss Anne Wade, of Hixon, Tenn., was at the piano to play a program of nuptial music, the traditional wedding processional and recessional, and to accompany the vocalist, Jerry Douglas, who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. Boe Burton, of Paintsville, uncle of the bridegroom, sang "Because," preceding the ceremony, and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Brenda Boyd, of Paintsville.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She appeared in a custom-made gown, which was designed and fashioned by her grandmother, Mrs. Soja Puckett, of Paintsville. The beau de soie gown was overlaid with imported lace on the bodice and long sleeves which came to points over her wrists. The sabrina neckline and bodice were enhanced with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Embroidered lace flowers, centered with sequins and pearls, were applied in a floral design on the full skirt. Her cathedral-length train was of imported lace and, being removable, was caught in a wristlet at the reception. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was secured to a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds, stephanotis and ivy streamers with a white prayer book.

Mrs. Mary Sue Cook, of River Rouge, Mich., was matron of honor. Miss Dora Cottle, of Lincoln Park, Mich., Miss Rosemary Campbell, of Virgie, Miss Junella Ramey, of Prestonsburg, and Miss Betsy Goble, of Auxier, were bridesmaids. Their beau de soie frocks were in collision blue and light blue, floor-length and were styled with empire waists, scooped necklines and bell sleeves. Their circle veils of net illusion were of matching blue and were adorned with sequins and pearls and caught to blue satin roses. They carried carnations tied with blue and ribbon streamers.

Miss Martha Lynn Smith, of LaGrange, was the flower girl. Miss Kimberly Clark, of Harold, was the train bearer. Master Timothy Wallen, of Zenia, Ohio, was ring bearer. Gary Puckett and Mike Puckett, brothers of the bride, lighted the tapers. Jack Stanley, of Zebulon, served as best man. Ushers were Roger Burton, cousin of the bride, of Athens, Ohio, Donald Hunt, cousin of the bridegroom, of Logan, W. Va., and Kenneth Osborne and Larry Joe Osborne, both of Harold.

Mrs. Puckett attended her daughter's wedding in a powder blue imported lace cage over silk ensemble and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a three-piece ice-blue lace ensemble and white accessories. Both had shoulder corsages of large white orchids and matching blue ribbon.

A reception was held in the Mullins high school cafeteria immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was highlighted with white net bows laid with a white imported linen on the sides and centered with a tall wedding cake with the tiers separated by pedestals and topped with white wedding bells entwined with lily-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Linda Ward, of Lexington, registered the guests.

Mrs. Sharon Burton, of Athens, Ohio, cousin of the bride, presided at the punch service. Miss Jamie Lilly, of East Point, cousin of the bride, served the cake. Reception aides were Mrs. Ernestine Spears and Miss Diane Blair, both of Paintsville. Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey, of Prestonsburg, and Miss Shirley Harmon and Miss Betty Harmon, both of Stanville.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception included Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Johnson, of Charleston, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cottle, of Huntington, W. Va.; Miss Barbara Jackson and Miss Jeanene Porter, both of Knightstown, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Wade, of Hixon, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, of LaGrange; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook, of River Rouge, Mich.; Ronald Preston, Lincoln Park, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Blair and Miss Peggy Blair, both of Williamsport.

Mr. Harmon graduated from Betsy Layne high school and is a senior at Pikeville College.

The newlyweds are at home to their friends at Stanville.

A University of Kentucky associate professor of mining engineering believes that by converting coal to gasoline the Kentucky coal industry can market a product that will enable it to attain full value from its production.

Prof. Ted Haley said that if a pilot plant nearing completion in West Virginia performs as expected, "the conversion process may not be too far away."

He said the Kentucky coal industry, and that of West Kentucky in particular, "would richly benefit from an economical process for turning coal into gasoline. It would certainly upgrade the consumption of our coal and lead to greater income for the state."

The U. S. Department of the Interior Office of Coal Research does not anticipate the replacing of petroleum by coal. They say it will add a supplemental source of energy.

"We believe that in a relatively few years, at least a portion of the 'tiger in your tank' will be made of coal," Prof. Haley quoted George Fumich, Jr., of the Office of Coal Research, as saying.

"A further benefit of gasoline from coal would be its contribution to the war on air pollution," Prof. Haley said. "During the conversion process, sulphur would be removed, thus putting less sulphur into the atmosphere."
