Story Says Hunger Defies Aid Effort

AV's Blame Aid Failure On Politics

Official Interference Denied by Dept. Head; Judges Talk Situation

A copyrighted article published last week in The New York Times and The Courier-Journal alleged that many are hungry in Eastern Kentucky. Among the reasons given for the situation were these:

Welfare in this section is dominated by county political machines and eligibility for food-stuffs is conferred as a political favor.

The same article quoted Appalachian Volunteers as reporting they found many residents of the area ignorant of their rights to share in welfare payments and food programs. They claimed that when parents were rejected by county officials in their first bid for welfare they returned to their homes without first demanding a hearing.

Asked by The Times if county officials interfere with the work of the Department of Public Assistance in its work of determining who is eligible for aid, Ronald Wright, head of the Prestonsburg Public Assistance office, said:

"No, sir—never. The county officials call on us only when somebody wanting relief help comes to their offices. Then they call us for an appointment for these people, and we take it from there."

Mr. Wright said workers are sent out from his office to the homes of some who are unable to come to Prestonsburg to apply for help. Complete data is gathered, then it is sent to Frankfort where a medical review team decides on the matter of the eligibility of the applicant, he said.

"We work by established rules and regulations," Wright explained, "We don't bend them."

A Russell Johnson was cited by an Appalachian Volunteers representative as a case where the aid program has failed one in need. The AV claimed Johnson, father of seven small children, has silicosis and that a doctor had said that "any type of exertion causes shortness of breath and smothering." Yet, according to this source, Johnson has been refused help by the welfare board because he was not considered totally and permanently disabled.

A Russell Johnson has been a beneficiary of the food-stamp program, it was later said.

County judges of the area commented this week on the situation. County Judge Henry Stumbo expressed the belief that a more generous distribution of food stamps would help many of the needy. He added:

"Many of our hungry people just don't get enough," he said. "I know it would be good if we had somebody to tell them how to make their stamps go farther." (See Story No. 2, Page 7)

Floyd Schools Head Hurt in Auto Wreck Monday, Near Allen

Charles Clark, superintendent of Floyd county schools, suffered a severe back injury Monday morning when his auto left KY 80, near Allen, and plunged over an embankment.

Mr. Clark is at the Prestonsburg General Hospital, suffering from a cracked vertebrae. He will be able to leave the hospital within 10 days, it was said.

The wreck resulted when wheels of his car ran onto the soft shoulder of the highway, then struck a rock, bouncing the auto across the road and over the bank into a strip of bottom land near Beaver Creek. Mr. Clark was driving from his home at Hueysville to his office here when the accident occurred.

POPULARITY REPORT

One of my publisher friends did a bit of celebrating by listing all those who remembered him on Valentine's Day. My list is real short. I received one Valentine... from my granddaughter—bless her!—and she's too young to know better.

Row Ramey descended at some length the other day, about a parent's hopes for his children and how he hopes always for the best, though never knowing, and so on. Then he announced that he is much encouraged by his teen-age daughter. She just recently has called on him to get her a fishing outfit and tackle box.

No kidding—all these outdoor sports are great for youngsters as well as for some not so young. I've never heard of a boy or girl staging a demonstration or setting the schoolhouse afire while enjoying these peaceful pursuits.

DAYON CITED ON 3 COUNTS

Narcotics Charge Is Latest Lodged As Man Held Here

Stanley Martin Dayon, the Louisville man who is held in jail here on a charge of attempted robbery of the West Prestonsburg postoffice, now faces two additional counts.

A warrant alleging illegal possession of narcotics was served on him at the jail Tuesday, and he was marked to be held to answer to that count in Louisville. Earlier, a forgery warrant issued from Guilford county, N. C., was served on him.

Claude Greer, Wheelwright man who was booked at the jail Tuesday on a charge of attempted murder, was returned the following day to Eastern State Hospital, Lexington. Authorities said he had only recently escaped from Eastern State.

Clarence Martin, of Drift, was jailed Saturday by ABC agents after they had confiscated 16 cans of beer and 22 half-pints of whiskey at his premises. Constable Gillis Conn jailed Trent Woods and Robert Workman on robbery counts last Saturday, and Bee Bofin was booked on a drunk driving charge, the same day, by State Trooper E. B. Allen.

Booked in Prestonsburg police court were Arnold Edward Prater, who was arrested by Trooper Allen on a drunk driving charge, and Jim Crow Morgan, also accused of drunk driving, arrested by Trooper Allen. Chief of Police Bill Potter and Policeman Sam Hale.

Regional Hospital Fund Reaches $70,000 Total

Dr. Wells' was the second $6,000 pledge made Tuesday. The other contribution consisted of a $1,000 pledge from Mr. and Mrs. R. V. May, of Prestonsburg, for the building fund and $5,000 by the R. V. May Company, distributor of oxygen and oxygen equipment, for the purchase of inhalation therapy equipment to be placed in the new hospital.

Major pledges already have passed $70,000, the Rev. Skiff said. A total of $150,000 must be pledged from the four-county area which the hospital will serve before construction can be done under federal grants and loan.

The proposed hospital will be built on a site fronting on US 23, between Prestonsburg and Paintsville, and its regional nature is stressed.

The general fund drive to give all residents of the area an opportunity to have a part in the hospital will be launched, early next month.

Figures Prove NYC Benefits to Pupils

The Neighborhood Youth Corps program in all eight Floyd county high schools is an outstanding success, says the county's NYC director, Estill Hall—and he has the figures to prove it.

The data Mr. Hall has accumulated for the first semester of the 1968-'69 term covers school attendance, grades, economic improvement and dental care.

In each of the eight schools the attendance of NYC students was above the average attendance by all students in the school. The 236 NYC pupils enrolled had an attendance percentage of 96.5 as compared with the 94.8 for all pupils of the participating schools.

And the improvement in scholastic standings was even more pronounced. At the end of the first six weeks of school last fall 44 NYC students were on the honor rolls of their schools. By the end of the second six weeks the number of honor students had risen to 53, and at the end of the semester the total was 61.

Overall, grades of NYC students improved through the semester by 84.7%. Twenty-seven students had improved grades at the end of the first six-weeks period, and this number grew to 47 by the end of the second period. At the end of the semester 77 students came up with improved grades.

Meanwhile, the number on probation showed a big drop—from 47 at the end of the first six weeks to 21 at the end of the semester. In one school 13 were on probation after six weeks of school. By the end of the next six weeks this number was seven and at semester's end only three were on probation. In only two schools was there an increase in the number of those with a probationary standing.

Money-wise, the status of NYC enrollees also improved. By the end of last semester, 119 of the 236 students had bank accounts.

Coal Company Wins Legion Award

Beyer, Department adjutant; standing — Jack Blair, Ed Smallwood, both of the Wheelwright Legion Post; James Morrison, Wheelwright, Tenth district commander, American Legion, and Charles Hughes, director of industrial relations for the Elkhorn Division.

The Elkhorn Division of the Island Creek Coal Co. at Wheelwright, was the recipient Saturday of a Certificate of Appreciation from the National Employment Committee of the American Legion. This recognition was accorded Island Creek as an employer in the state of Kentucky which had an outstanding record last year in advancing the employment of the older worker, especially war veterans. The Elkhorn Division was se-

WET FORCES TO ASK VOTE

Petition Circulation Under Way in County For Poll This Year

Circulation of a petition to request Floyd county's second local option election within a period of little more than two years has been started in the county.

The petition later is expected to be submitted to the County Judge to set a date for the election. It was said here this week that an August date will be asked by "wet" forces.

Approximately 3,200 signatures will be required on the petition. Sponsors of the movement for a wet-dry vote were quoted as saying this week they will attempt to collect 7,000 signatures as a show of strength.

The hard-fought 1968 local option election was won by "dry" forces, and this was followed by a lengthy contest suit, which the drys also won.

The most recent local option election in Eastern Kentucky was held in Boyd county, which again voted dry.

SEXTON DIES OF GUNSHOT

Magoffin Countians Are Held in Death Of Former Floyd Man

Chester Arthur (Bill) Sexton, 58, former Garrett man, was slain at the trailer located on Howard Branch, across the mountain from David, Sunday night by a shotgun blast.

Scene of the shooting was where liquor raids have been made in recent months.

Jailed as suspects by State Trooper Donnie J. Phipps and Deputy Sheriff Professor Jackson were James Riffe and Ellis Ingram, both of Fredville, Magoffin county, for whom examining trial has been set Friday by County Judge Hager Watson.

It was reported here that Sexton was alone at the trailer at the time of the shooting.

Magoffin County Coroner Ishmael Caudill said he and the officers who accompanied him found Sexton sitting on the trailer floor, leaning against a sofa, with a wound from a .20-gauge shotgun in his abdomen. The coroner said a constable from another county drove past the scene, saw a man run into the trailer. When he turned his

State funds will be used to help finance construction of an additional to the Floyd County Library, with some remodeling of the existing building planned at a total estimated cost of $159,000.

Miss Margaret Willis, state librarian, presented the first check in the state's participation to a delegation from this county in Gov. Nunn's Conference Room at Frankfort last week.

Amount of the check was $7,276, the first year's payment of the state's contribution toward the cost of the construction.

The state grant will be applied toward new construction costs as well as toward payment on a federal loan for the present structure.

Plans for the new construction were prepared by George L. Shannon, Prestonsburg architect.

With the new addition, the library will contain 8,328 square feet.

The state will provide approximately two-thirds of the total cost of the library project over a 20-year period. Its planned annual contributions will be in the same amount as the initial $7,276 check received last week.

Gov. Nunn said, "The expanded library facilities at Prestonsburg will be a great asset to Floyd county. The new addition will be modern and well-equipped and provide educational and cultural opportunities for the entire community."

"Floyd was one of seven counties selected to receive state aid by the State Library Board of Review. Selections were made on the basis of need for library facilities and other priorities."

Council Authorizes Plans for Building

The Prestonsburg City Council last Thursday evening employed the Lexington firm of architects, McLoney & Tune, to prepare plans for the municipal building proposed here.

Two designs—one with colonial front, the other more contemporary—were inspected by the council but no choice was made, pending more definite information on the cost differential between the two designs.

The proposed two-story structure is intended to house every department and office of the city, and second-floor office space will be available for lease by private individuals or interests. Cost of the building, which may approximate $300,000, will be amortized by rentals. Financing will be made by revenue bond issue which will not affect taxation, it was explained.

The site for the building, already purchased, is the property on North Lake Drive owned by the Anna Stephens estate.

At last Thursday's meeting the council also adopted new gas and water rates which had been recommended by engineers as needed to retire present indebtedness and make proposed improvements.

In planning is an extension of the Prestonsburg water system's service to the community of Emma. This extension is intended to serve an area which may afford one or more industrial sites.

Howard K. Bell, Inc., Lexington engineers, were told to determine cost of the undertaking. Application will be made to EDA for financial assistance on the undertaking, if engineers' plans are finally adopted.

E. Kentucky CEP Lauded At Meet Held At Hazard

Inter-agency coordination was the theme at Hazard last week during Eastern Kentucky Concentrated Employment Program's Introduction and Dedication Days which was attended by local and regional representatives of various concerned agencies.

The celebration was indicative of the program itself, which is the largest of its kind in the nation and started operations last July 1, in that several agencies were represented, and coordination and elimination of duplication was the main topic of discussion both by the speakers and in general conversation among guests.

The main speaker was Lewis Niccolini, regional director of the Manpower Administration, U. S. Department of Labor, whose office funds and monitors the program. Mr. Niccolini commented in his speech that although some of the Concentrated Employment Programs in the nation were not successful and the nature of the program was experiential (See Story No. 5, Page 7)

SUMMA GETS PRISON TERM

Long Jury Search In Magoffin Ends In Short Sentence

The Magoffin circuit court's heavy murder docket was reduced by one case last Friday when a jury gave Oscar Summa, 56-year-old Royalton man, a three-year pen term for the slaying last November of his nephew, Warren Summa, 49.

The trial did not get started Thursday and then only after 245 prospective jurors had been summoned at different times for service. The regular panel was exhausted on the first day, Feb. 18. Next day, 176 talesmen were examined but the trial panel picked two of being complete at the end of the day. Fifty-seven more prospective jurors were called to appear for the next day.

Trial of Sammy Jackson Pinks, charged with the fatal beating last October of Arnold Miller, was continued from last Thursday because of the Summa case.

Matthews-Gayheart

Mrs. Maude Clark Hundley of Lexington, announces the engagement of her daughter, Wanda Clark Matthews, to Ralph Channing Gayheart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Critt Gayheart, of Eastern, Kentucky.

Miss Matthews is the daughter of the late Lucien Clark, of Lexington, Ky. She is employed at Square D. Company, Lexington.

Mr. Gayheart is a graduate of Maytown high school. He served a tour of duty with the United States Army, and is now employed at Square D. Company, Lexington.

The wedding will take place June 6, after which the couple will reside in Lexington.

KEA TO ASK LAY BOARDS FOR TEACHER CERTIFYING

Kentucky's teaching profession is calling for a legal tie-in with the system whereby lay boards determine all matters relating to the education and certification of teachers.

Establishment of an independent Council on Teacher Education and Certification to recommend teacher education and certification standards to the State Board of Education will be sought by the Kentucky Education Association (KEA) as part of its 1970 legislative program.

Under the proposal the principle of lay citizen control of education would be preserved, since the powers and duties of the two lay boards now charged with the assignment—the State Board of Education and the Council on Public Higher Education—would remain unchanged.

The role of the proposed Council on Teacher Education and Certification would be advisory only.

"One hallmark of a profession is that it sets the standards of preparation for and regulates the processes by which the members enter the profession," said Mrs. Beulah Fontaine, KEA director of program development and secretary of the KEA Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards (TEPS), which originated the proposal.

"But the fact of the matter is that the teaching profession in Kentucky now has no legal way to participate in the decisions that affect the members in teacher education and certification."

All such decisions are vested by law in two lay boards—the nine-member Council on Public Higher Education, on which the presidents of the state's six public colleges and universities are non-voting members, and the seven-member State Board of Education.

The State Board of Education establishes provisions relating to certification of teachers and other professional school personnel. The Council on Public Higher Education approves teacher-education curricula prior to adoption by the State Board of Education.

Historically, the two lay boards have sought the counsel of teachers and other professional school personnel. Through ad hoc committees appointed by the superintendent of public instruction, the State Board of Education has received advice and recommendations on many subjects. The Council on Public Higher Education has appointed an advisory committee on teacher education and certification. But a legal tie-in has been lacking.

"Barbers, plumbers, beauticians and other groups determine the qualifications by which their members are licensed—not to mention professional groups such as doctors, lawyers, dentists and so forth," said Mrs. Fontaine. "It seems to the TEPS Commission that it is high time the education profession had some say in how its members should be prepared and certified."

The proposed Council on Teacher Education and Certification would have 27 members, 15 of whom would be selected from a list of nominees submitted by the governing board of KEA. Four of the 15 would represent elementary education, four would represent secondary education, four would represent higher education, and three represent the academic disciplines or specialists in given areas.

The 12 other members would include one representative from each of the six state universities and colleges, selected by their presidents; three representatives of private and municipal colleges and universities, also selected by their presidents; one representative of graduate education, selected from nominations by presidents of institutions with approved graduate programs; one Department of Education member representing elementary, secondary and vocational education; and one Department of Education member representing the division of teacher education and certification. The latter would serve as executive secretary.

All 27 members would be appointed by the state superintendent of public instruction.

PLANNING THEIR STRATEGY

It's not only basketball teams that are practicing for the district tournament which begins here next Wednesday.

The Prestonsburg high school majorette corps is shown rehearsing for their Wednesday night half-time show.

Miss Patti Marshall, Miss Floyd County, will narrate a Hawaiian number as the Prestonsburg band plays "Waikiki Wahine," and as the majorettes perform with coconuts instead of batons.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

A meeting of the Drift Woman's Club was held February 17 at the Turner-Elkhorn building. Mrs. Nick Cooley served as hostess. Devotions were read by Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo. The president, Mrs. Bill Hoffman, read the minutes of the last meeting and some correspondence.

The club voted to enter a girl in the Floyd County Beauty Pageant and to donate to the Keith Williamson Fund.

Members attending the meeting were Mrs. McKinley Little, Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Nick Cooley, Mrs. William Pratt, Mrs. Ward Reed, Mrs. Donald Meade, Mrs. Sophia Cahill, Mrs. Byron Beard, Mrs. Bill Stumbo, Mrs. Bill Hoffman and Miss Ruby Akers.

The next meeting will be held on March 5 at the Turner-Elkhorn building.

Future Homemakers To Seek $6,000 Fund For Annual Grants

Some 16,000 Future Homemakers in high schools throughout Kentucky will attempt to raise $6,000 within the next few months for their annual scholarship program. The Future Homemakers, who are in 261 chapters, hope to award 20 scholarships worth $300 each at their annual meeting in June at Western Kentucky University, according to Dorothy S. Oatts of the Division of Home Economics, State Department of Education. The scholarships are awarded, according to Mrs. Oatts, to those members who have contributed in an outstanding way to the Kentucky Association of Future Homemakers of America and are intended to promote, among other things, interest in home economics, home economics careers and related occupations. The scholarship funds are to be raised through various projects carried out by chapters and members at the local level. The association began its drive Feb. 14. Mrs. Oatts emphasized, though the Future Home-maker program is an integral part of high school work, the members are providing the scholarships through their own efforts. In the past 20 years, the association has awarded 257 scholarships.

Prestonsburg high school won top honors at the regional Drama Festival Saturday at Pikeville College. The school's production of "The Lottery" was judged superior and tied with Balfy high's production for the best one-act play presented. Three members of the cast — Johnny Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Griffith, of Prestonsburg; John David Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Preston, of Allen, and Donna Goble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goble, of Prestonsburg — were named Festival All-Stars, an array of the best actors chosen from all participants. Other members of the Prestonsburg high school cast included Phil Bradbury, Marc Bolding, Vickie Burke, Valerie Crass, Kelly Shepherd, Floyd Davis, Bill Frazier, Charles Neeley, Rebecca Haywood, Pam Goble, Marilyn Rose, John Leach, Margaret Popp, Mitchell Dotson, Archie Burrus, Jr., Hershel Ray Griffith, Debbie Cesco, Dinah Sparks, Lynn Weddington, Regina Cowan and Dena Bartley. The stage manager was Karen Evans. The make-up crew consisted of Karen Evans, Faye Conley, Susan Hale and Linda Davis. Sandy Garrett was in charge of costumes. The superior rating qualifies the Prestonsburg high school Drama Club to participate in the Kentucky Drama and Speech Festival to be held at the University of Kentucky this spring. Sponsors of the Drama Club are Mrs. Norma J. Neeley and Mrs. Sarah B. Allen, Carlos E. Neeley is the art director.

HUNGER IN THE HILLS

Are Eastern Kentuckians hungry? If so, why? A New York Times writer implies that much of the blame rests upon elected officials at the county level who penalize the poor, or reward them, according to how they have cast their votes.

The fact that most of us aren't hungry doesn't mean that the spectre of hunger has been banished. It is quite possible that, despite all the millions spent on food stamps, school lunches, employment for the poor and a multiplicity of other programs which are a part of the War on Poverty, people yet may starve in this land of plenty.

People may be hungry for a number of reasons, and none of them are based on any individual's desire to see anybody starve. Dependent children go hungry because strumpet mothers neglect them and spend the money on themselves and their consorts, for instance. Fathers spend on whiskey and beer the money that should be spent for food.

There is a sizeable gap between starvation and malnutrition, but one may be mistaken for the other. Malnutrition is a fact, almost a way of life for many. Ignorance of food values, carelessness, plain laziness may result in many the child becoming undernourished. And even the child from a comfortable home may wind up in the same category if he isn't discouraged when he would prefer a soft drink to milk or a candy bar to a wholesome meal. A survey by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1965 showed that a number of families with incomes of $10,000 a year were still suffering from dietary deficiencies. One comment by USDA is apropos:

"Above all, we need nutrition education, particularly for low-income groups. If families don't know how to use donated foods or the food they buy with stamps—if the youngsters fail to translate the meaning of the Type A lunch and breakfast programs into their own dietary habits and patterns, they will simply perpetuate poor nutrition into the next generation. This is particularly true where the very poor are concerned. Instead of improving the quality of their diets, they often prefer to eat more of the same poor diet. More of the same is just not good enough."

Then there is a deeper cause of malnutrition. A form of starvation gnaws at the vitals of a larger group because of the intestinal parasites which infest a large part of the population. This very real threat to the public health and the development of many thousands of young Americans is emphasized by every study. But the sufferers are merely studied to death—little has been done.

Many literally are starving because intestinal parasites—the worms—get the food before those who ate it does.

All of which reminds us—it's going to require more than recriminations voiced against a few officials to reach and serve those who most sorely need help.

To the Editor

A NURSE'S CHALLENGE

EDITOR, The Times:
As a pioneer public health nurse of Floyd county, I wish to commend Dr. Donald E. Gateh for challenging the medical profession for its indifference to persons infested with intestinal parasites; also for the facts made known by Mrs. Mary Jane Dunn, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity for Breathitt, Owsley and Lee counties.

Since 1937 we have had three screening programs in Floyd county that revealed 65 percent to 80 percent of persons living with poor sanitation being infested with one to four types of intestinal parasites. The first OEO project funded for Floyd county made possible a treatment program after finding this situation. Environmental changes were made, wells were chlorinated. For a year an educational program teaching prevention was carried on.

A parasitologist from Atlanta, Ga. visited us and told us it would take five years to eliminate this situation that is sapping the blood and energy from these victims. An average of seven and one half pounds was gained by the school children after treatment. A teenage girl gained 17 pounds; a 10-year-old girl, 15 pounds.

One of our aides gained 23 pounds in the year she was working and was so gratified she said, "Mrs. Roberts, I will work for my community the rest of my life in gratitude for what has been done for me." This woman and her family had been seeing their family physician for several years, one child receiving tonics for anemia, another for a lifetime allergy. After the elimination of parasites, the blood count became normal and the signs of allergy disappeared.

At the April, 1967 meeting of the Big Sandy Area Development Council, we heard Harry Essburn, area director, make this statement: "Because of the success of the Ligon Project the government is offering Floyd county a Comprehensive Health Project." However, after the Hospital Committee got through with the project screening and treating for intestinal parasites was deleted. It was a referral project, depending on the hospital laboratories to find these parasites. Only in our state health laboratories equipped to find the 13 different types that were found during the Ligon Sanitation Project. Our Health Department is treating indigent T.B., heart cases and venereal disease—why can't we find a way to treat for worms that could be found by our State Health lab?

We would find the underlying cause of most malnutrition. Eleven other counties in Kentucky have Comprehensive Health Projects that include a screening project.

We treat our dogs, the sheep of the fields, and the hogs for worms. Why can't we find a yearly treatment for people?

It will be many years before all our people can have sanitary environment.

I expect to continue to alert state and federal agencies until this situation is corrected.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNER

Julia Fern Pratt, center, Garrett high senior, Floyd county winner of the Soil Conservation Essay contest, is pictured here with Leona V. Fouts, left, English teacher, and Burnice Gearheart, right, principal.

Miss Pratt's essay was judged best of the 4,283 entries in the county. She is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Pratt, of Garrett. The county winner receives a $25 bond from Louisville Courier-Journal & Times and WHAS, Inc., also a trophy from Floyd County Soil Conservation District. Grade winners throughout the county receive from the SCD cash awards totalling more than $160 each year.

Again this year Floyd county led the state in total participation.

In March

"In March, people begin to look for the first robin as a sign that spring really has come. Early songbirds appear," the World Book article continues.

The Book of Ecclesiastes in the Old Testament reads, "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

"A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted."

March is a time to be born and a time to plant, as it seems the earth itself is being reborn.

look, close-up, at faraway Mars. Clear out, space, here we come! Science, it's wonderful. But, back on terra firma, man has a whole passel of matters he seems unable to do much about. Mainly himself.

And the little thing that threatens to delay the takeoff of Apollo 9 this week is another matter science hasn't been able yet to conquer. The crew of Apollo 9 has the sniffles, and there isn't a thing all our know-how can do about a runny nose till it runs dry.

DIPLOMACY?

Former President Eisenhower, who is gamely fighting back against the ravages of age, was no Lincoln in the humor department but the anecdotes about him were numerous.

"Terrible," remarked his caddy. On the next drive the President's shot took off in a sweeping curve for a couple of trees.

"You goofed again," said the caddy.

Another boy drew the caddy aside and whispered, "Do you know that's the President of the United States you're talkin' to?"

The flabbergasted caddy wobbled to the next tee and saw Ike get off a long, low, straight drive. He beamed at the president.

"You sho' is improvin', Mistuh Lincoln!"

Three from County Have Top Standings; ALC Cites 8 Others

Alice Lloyd College has named three Floyd county students to the Dean's List of Distinguished Students on the basis of academic achievement during the past semester.

They are Sandra Kay Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bates, of Halo; Jane E. Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Burke, of Halo; and Claude E. Conway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Conway, of Bypro.

All completed the semester with a grade point average of 3.5 or more, based on a 4.0 grading system. The college also recognized eight Floyd county students who achieved averages between 3.0 and 3.5.

They are Carolyn Sue Gearheart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gearheart, of Hi Hat; Lillie Lynn Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warnie Hale, of Hueysville; Zelma B. Johnson, wife of Otis D. Johnson, of Halo; Sarah Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manis Shepherd, of Garrett; Michael R. Caudill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Caudill, of Bevinsville; Pat Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shelton, Drift; Jeffrey Lynn Smallwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smallwood, of Wheelwright; Delmas Glenn Presley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Presley, of Prestonsburg.

A total of 37 students attained eligibility for the two lists. Harold C. Doster, executive dean, said that "these students represent the academic elite of Alice Lloyd College." Their scholastic attainment, he said, "is indicative of great ability coupled with hard work."

Baldridge-Potter Vows Solemnized Feb. 18

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Baldridge, of Prestonsburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Harolotta, to William Dennis Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Potter, also of Prestonsburg.

The marriage was solemnized February 17 at Clintwood, Va., by the Rev. Elder H. Osborn.

Mrs. Potter is a senior at Prestonsburg high school. Mr. Potter is employed in Lexington, Kentucky.

After Mrs. Potter's graduation, the couple will reside in Lexington.

Announce Engagement

Mrs. W. M. Sinclair, of Paris, Ky., announces the engagement of her daughter, Sue Sinclair Bates, to Paul Gayheart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crit Gayheart, of Eastern, Kentucky.

Miss Bates is a graduate of Cardome Academy, Georgetown, Kentucky, and was presented to society as a debutante at the Blue Grass Charity Ball in 1961. She is currently employed at American Tree and Wreath, Lexington, as a cost accountant and assistant office manager.

Mr. Gayheart was graduated from Maytown high school. He served eight years with the United States Air Force and is currently employed at Square D. Co., Lexington.

The wedding will be an event of April 3, after which the couple will be making their home in Lexington.

Favorite Teacher In Michigan School

In the month-long "My Favorite Teacher" contest conducted by The Detroit News a former Floyd county woman was the winner in her school.

In all, 1854 teachers in the Detroit area were honored.

Mrs. Betty Meade Breeding, formerly of East McDowell, was voted favorite teacher by students of the Keppen school at Lincoln Park. She is a daughter of Sam T. Meade, of East McDowell.

She and her husband, Lester Breeding, are both graduates of McDowell high school and earned their master's degrees from Morehead State University. Mr. Breeding is principal of two Lincoln Park elementary schools, Hamilton and Foote, and is working toward an educational specialist degree at Eastern Michigan University.

Boggs Hayes, 64, Retired Miner, Dies At McDowell ARH

Boggs Hayes, 64 years old, of Lancer, died last Thursday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional hospital following a lingering illness.

Mr. Hayes was a retired miner and was a member of UMW Local Union 5899 at Wheelwright. Born Sept. 18, 1904 at Jackson, Ky., he was a son of the late Peter Ralph and Caroline Davidson Hayes.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Alta Eversole Hayes; four sons, Boggs Hayes, Jr., of Topococa, Fla., Edward Hayes, of Xenia, Ohio, Bill Hayes, of Burlington, N. C., and Pete Hayes, of Lancer; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Farrow, Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Mrs. Betty Osborne, Xenia, and Mrs. Freda Hicks, of Mt. Rest, S. C.; three brothers, Carl Hayes, of Hazard, Ky., Miles Hayes, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Ishmael V. Hayes, of California; two sisters, Mrs. Jewell Sewell and Miss Sarah Hayes, both of Waynesville, O.

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday from the Lancer Baptist Church, the Rev. Cohen Campbell officiating. Burial in the Riverside cemetery at Hazard was directed by the Merion Funeral Chapel.

Rev. Roberts To Speak At P'burg Church

The Highland Avenue Free Will Baptist Church, of Prestonsburg, is inviting the public to hear Rev. "Payday" Roberts speak. Services begin at 7 p.m., Saturday.

Religious music is presented by various groups representing the church over WPRF radio here at 3:05 p.m. each Sunday.

but we don't have that, and so the stamps last about three weeks and there is hanging the rest of the month.

"We have some who won't come in to get their stamps. They are backward about it. Some families are charged too much for their stamps. And then, of course, everything is so high that you can't buy much anyway."

Pike County Judge Bill Pauley said he comes up against the problem "almost every day of the week," and "I am no closer to a solution than anybody else." He cited a case in his court in which four children were taken from their mother "because she just plain wasn't competent enough to care for the children."

"She was the type who would buy cakes and goodies with her food stamps and have nothing left to feed the children when the goodies ran out," he said. "The children will be better off in foster homes."

More irritating is the father or mother who cashes a public assistance check and uses most of the money for whisky. And what, Judge Pauley asked, do you do with an unwed mother who spends her dependent-children checks on her boyfriend?

"I can think of one case in particular where the woman supports her sweetheart with her assistance check," he said. "She uses the money to buy him a cheap car and put gasoline in the car. Her children go hungry, and, my goodness, are they horny!"

"And the courts tell us we can do nothing about it. If she has dependent children, she has to be paid for them."

Judge Pauley said good results are coming from the emergency food and medical program sponsored by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) and administered locally by the Community Action agencies.

"A lot of hungry people come into my office, and all I need to do is call the OEO people and they get free food stamps. Maybe we need more of these free stamps, because I do know that they are being put to good use."

As far as advising the heads of households how to use the stamps, Judge Pauley said, "You can't put somebody with everyone of them and tell them the best way to spend their money."

Harrison County Judge Hugh Hall said the same situation exists in his county "where the mother is wasting it or the father is drinking up the money."

"I have no doubt," Judge Hall said, "that some people are hungry, children and grownups, too. In most cases I know about, it is a matter of bad parents."

189,173 KENTUCKY NEEDY RECEIVE USDA FOOD AID

U. S. Department of Agriculture food programs aided 189,173 needy Kentuckians during December. 5,953 persons more than the number that took part in the programs in November.

In Floyd county 5,105 persons were recipients. This is about 12 percent of the county's population.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said 67,945 persons in 65 counties took part in its commodity distribution program, and that 121,228 persons in 52 counties took part in its food stamp program. December's increased participation is attributed to a seasonal slack in employment.

In Kentucky, the food stamp program is administered by the Kentucky Department of Economic Security and the commodity distribution program is administered by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, both in cooperation with the Consumer and Marketing Service. Foods distributed during Deember to needy Kentucky families had an estimated retail value of $747,335. These foods included dry beans, canned chopped meat, canned fowl, cheese, dry milk, evaporated milk, scrambled egg mix, instant mashed potatoes, lard or other shortening, peanut butter, flour, butter or margarine, rolled oats, rice, raisins, syrup, juice, grits and canned vegetables.

Low-income families taking part in the food stamp program during December exchanged $953,457 of their own money for $1,805,699 worth of USDA food stamp coupons. Then, these families received $847,232 worth of free, bonus coupons they could spend at their local grocery store to buy more food.

My Mother Vada G. Meade

An angel came one day in May,
And took my mother far away.
God knew her illness and what was best;
He took her home to be at rest.

Mother, whom all loved so dear,
Met God's angel without mortal fear.
She knew Heaven would be her home;
She'd be with God 'round His great throne.

We're hoping to be with Mother again,
We're trusting God and fighting
sin.
God loves and wants His children to live right,
So let's all be ready for that great flight.

Oh, how happy our mother would be
If in Heaven her family she'd see!
She would look at each one with a smile,
And say, "My work on earth was well worthwhile."

Written December 30, 1958, by one who loved her dearly and misses her so much.

30 MILLION WHO SPENT $345 MILLION VISITED KY. LAST YEAR, HOST REPORTS

Kentucky had 30 million visitors in 1968 and they spent $345 million during their stay.

These figures were announced by James Host, state commissioner of public information, at the Kentucky Travel Conference February 18 in Louisville. Standing in for Governor Louie Nunn, Host addressed a group of about 200 business and civic leaders. He noted that tourism is already the state's second largest industry, providing 26,000 jobs.

Two million more visitors came to Kentucky in 1968 than in the previous year and the $345 million they spend is nine percent above the 1967 figure.

Plans were also announced for the 1974 bicentennial celebration marking the 200th anniversary of the settling of Harrodsburg. Host said a statewide committee to direct bicentennial plans will be chosen soon. He said that a minimum of 43 million visitors could normally be expected in 1974 and added to this would be 6.5 million more attracted for the bicentennial celebration.

Also speaking to the conference group was Elliott L. Lewis, month study of the anniversary who reported on his firm's six-observance, Lewis is president of Leisure Systems, Inc.

Lewis proposed that the state plan a six-month celebration from April of September of 1974. He predicted that as many as 11 million tourists might spend one night or more during the anniversary year compared to the 4-million-a-year current figure for overnight out-of-state guests.

MAYTOWN

James E. Allen and Leonard Rice were business visitors in Cincinnati last Thursday.

Roy M. May was honored with a birthday dinner at Adkins Steak House last Sunday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Roy May, Beverly and Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. May, Mrs. Trilby May and Mrs. Amanda Sutton.

Larry Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hicks, is home on leave from the U. S. Navy. Jimmy Lynn Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Allen, is now in Phu Tai, Vietnam.

Mrs. Luna Halbert accompanied Herman Halbert, Sherry, Dennis and Connie to Lexington Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Larry Leslie and their new baby daughter. Mrs. Leslie is the former Lynn Halbert.

Nelson Hagans, of Louisville, spent last week-end here, guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Bud) Hagans.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hewlett and children, of Lexington, were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Champ Gibson, here last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ramey and Timothy, of Alexandria, spent last week-end here and at Eastern, visiting relatives.

Bess Ratliff and Mrs. John N. Patton were called to Columbus, Ga. last Thursday by the death of their brother, John Ratliff, who had resided there several years. He was a former resident of Maytown.

Mrs. Hugh Rowland spent several days last week in New Lexington, Ohio, visiting her sister, Mrs. Orville Horner, and to attend the funeral of Mr. Horner.

Mrs. Claude Webb and Mrs. Ed Stewart attended the funeral of their uncle, Orville Horner, in New Lexington, Ohio last Thursday.

Mrs. William Barry Click (nee, Deborah Hicks) was honored last Friday evening with a miscellaneous shower in the recreation room of the United Methodist Church. The bride's table was covered with an arrangement of pink gladioli and white mums in a silver bowl.

The silver tea service was presided over by Mrs. Wanda Hamilton and Miss Valenta Frazier.

Mrs. Click received gifts of silver, china, linens, kitchenware and small appliances. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Gail Osborne, Mrs. Alta Jean Gibson, Mrs. Betty Lou Brasure, Mrs. Kitty Rowland, Mrs. Wanda Hamilton, Mrs. Janet Halbert, Mrs. Nadine Hicks, Mrs. Doris Robinson, Miss Cathie Thornberry, Miss Valenta Frazier and Miss Jamie Elizabeth Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Robinson, Sr. went to University hospital, Lexington, last Wednesday for a checkup. They were accompanied by their son, Donny Robinson.

Edward F. Robinson spent three days last week in Cincinnati attending a postmasters' institute.

Mrs. Rosa Belle Hicks, who underwent surgery recently at University hospital, Lexington, is recuperating at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bailey and Janie and Bobby Rowe visited Jim Bailey at Georgetown College last week-end and also attended the basketball game between Georgetown and Sanford.

STUDENTS ARE SPEAKERS

The Maytown Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting February 20 at the home of Mrs. Hubert Allen, with Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Ed Stewart as hostesses. Mrs. George A. Patton introduced Pam Hicks, Randy Click and Tom Stewart, students from Maytown high school, as speakers. They expressed various views on education, insisting that students acquire the knowledge, information and skills that are important for an educated person in today's scientific world.

Committees were selected for the Spring Style Show which will be held April 5 in the Maytown lunchroom. Mrs. Melan A. Warfield will be the commentator for this year's show.

The nominating committee gave its report for new officers: President, Mrs. George A. Patton; vice-president, Mrs. Roland Burchett; treasurer, Mrs. Bonnie Spencer; secretary, Shirley Bradley. The installation dinner will be held in April.

Members attending were Mrs. Theodore Gibson, Mrs. Roy May, Mrs. Paul Spencer, Mrs. Hubert Halbert, Mrs. Paul Borders, Mrs. Roland Burchett, Mrs. Ron Warfield, Mrs. David Reed, Mrs. George A. Patton, Mrs. Kenneth Blevins.

TOP-RATED TEAMS DRAW IN OPPOSITE BRACKETS

Favorites on the basis of season won-lost records, the basketball teams of Maytown and Wayland high schools will play in opposite brackets in the 58th district tournament which will begin at the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse, March 5.

Winners of the several district tournaments will go to Paintsville, a week later, to compete for the right to represent the 15th region in the state tournament. Johnson Central high school will be host to the regional.

The move to the Johnson county school for the regional will mark the first time in years that the event has not been held here.

Wayland high school will be host to the district meet. In the first round Prestonsburg will meet Betsy Layne, and Wayland will face McDowell. On the following evening lower bracket play will pit Martin against Wheelwright and Maytown vs. Garrett. The semi-finals will be played Friday evening, March 7, and the finals on the following night.

Officials named for the district tournament are Herbie Triplett (Inez) and Goebel Ritter (Whitesburg), referees; Frank Heinze (Prestonsburg), timekeeper; Johnny Ellis (Prestonsburg), scorer.

Housing Meeting Set To Help Homebuilders

By FRANCES H. PITTS

A meeting has been scheduled for March 4 at 7 p.m. at the courthouse here for families interested in building or remodeling their homes.

The program is to be presented by a University of Kentucky Extension service specialist, and will include information about new building materials, home finances, selecting a good house plan, furnishing and decorating the home and landscaping of ground. A folder of leaflets will be presented on the topics discussed.

Appearing on the program will be Gladys Lickert, Kermit Mills, Beth Burr and David Gillespie—all specialists with the University of Kentucky Extension Service.

Any person interested in home building or remodeling is invited.

ORDINANCE NO. 1-69
AMENDED RATE ORDINANCE
Ordinance of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, Amending the Existing Water, Sewer and Natural Gas Rate Ordinance of Said City.
WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, is in the process of arranging to finance extensions, additions and improvements to the existing municipal waterworks system portion of the combined and consolidated public water, sewer and natural gas project, including a new water storage tank, new water distribution lines and appurtenant facilities, as contemplated and recommended in a report of Howard K. Bell, Consulting Engineers, Inc., Lexington, Kentucky, now on file with the City Clerk of said City, and WHEREAS, it is necessary in connection with said plan of financing that the existing water, sewer and natural gas rates of the City be increased.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:
SECTION 1. That the previous Water, Sewer and Natural Gas Rate Ordinance of the City, fixing the respective water, sewer and natural gas rates applicable to water, sewer and natural gas services furnished by the combined and consolidated municipal water, sewer and natural gas systems of the City, which Water, Sewer and Natural Gas Rate Ordinance was enacted on December 20, 1962, is hereby amended so as to increase the water, sewer and natural gas rates for services furnished by said combined and consolidated systems, as follows:

SECTION 2. NEW WATER, SEWER AND NATURAL GAS RATES.
That the rates and charges for water service, for sewer service and for natural gas service furnished by the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, are hereby fixed and established on a monthly basis as follows:

SECTION 3. RATES ARE EXCLUSIVE OF SALES TAX.
The foregoing rates are rates to be charged by the City of Prestonsburg, and any applicable sales tax shall be added to each bill as a separate charge.

SECTION 4. REVISION OF RATES.
The schedule of rates and charges prescribed by this Ordinance shall be revised from time to time, and whenever required shall be increased, so as to produce income and revenues from the municipal waterworks, sewer and natural gas systems adequate to comply with such covenants and agreements as may be made by the City in connection with any revenue bonds issued by the City.

SECTION 5. ALL OTHER PROVISIONS OF PREVIOUS RATE ORDINANCE RATIFIED AND CONFIRMED.
That all provisions of the Water, Sewer and Natural Gas Rate Ordinance enacted by the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg on December 20, 1962, except to the extent amended herein, are hereby ratified and confirmed; all City ordinances, orders, resolutions, motions, or parts thereof, insofar as same may be in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed; and this Ordinance shall take effect from and after its enactment, approval and publication as provided by law.

Enacted and approved on this 26th day of February, 1969.

LABOR DEPARTMENT
FOUNDED IN 1913
The Labor Department was founded the same year that President Nixon was born—1913. In those 56 years, the number of wage earners in the United States has risen from 21 million to 77 million; the average wage, from 21c to $3.10 per hour.

'FISHING UNLIMITED' SET AT CUMBERLAND IN MARCH

'Fishing Unlimited'—that's the good news for anglers just announced by the Kentucky Department of Parks. Three such fishing events, at special package rates, are scheduled this spring, the first two at Lake Cumberland on the week-ends beginning Friday, March 21, and Friday, March 28.

Running through Sunday noon and open to all interested anglers, Fishing Unlimited features clinics, displays and films about fishing, as well as free time for recreational experience on Lake Cumberland.

The Governor's Cup trophy will be awarded for the largest largemouth bass caught during the week-end. Other trophies will be given for the largest crappie, largest smallmouth bass, largest trout and the biggest strings of crappie and largemouth bass.

'Whatsoever Things'

By DONALD E. WILDMON

I wish to dispute something you have heard all your life about the Galilean. And I want to do it in such a manner that you cannot possibly misunderstand me. I wish to make myself explicitly clear on the subject. I don't want you to think there is a misprint or that I don't mean what I say.

Now, with that as a foundation, brace yourself for the statement I'm about to make. The Galilean did not come to get us into heaven. There, now, I have said it. And I mean exactly what I have said. He did not come to get us into heaven.

I know what you have heard all your life. I know what you have been led to believe. I know what some well-intentioned fellow has spent much time trying to tell you. But I still want you to know that this much is true—He did not come to get us into heaven.

I had heard that this was the reason He came. I had heard that, all the days of my life. Every fellow on the radio, every fellow in the church building, every fellow bringing me literature has been telling me that this was the reason He came—to get us into heaven.

In growing up I read it in some of the literature. Becoming an adult I continue to read it in some of the literature. Some fellows have made an extensive search and have even listed the things I have to do if I want to go there. Without these things, they say, I can never make it to heaven. Despite what they have written, despite what they have said, I still want to make one thing clear—He did not come to get us into heaven.

Now somebody is heading to get their Good Book and are about to take pencil in hand and write and straighten me out. I already got quite a bit of their

MOTOR TRAVEL PROBLEMS WORK TROOPERS OVERTIME

Statistics released by Public Safety Commissioner William O. Newman disclose that highway travel and all its resulting problems created a major workload for the Kentucky State Police during 1968.

With more motorists than ever before travelling more and more miles every day over a steadily increasing network of roads, death and injury by automobile, enforcement of traffic laws and promotion of driver safety programs increased total working time for the KSP some nine percent over 1967.

The first half of 1968 found 332 troopers patrolling Kentucky's roads and highways with an increase to an all-time high of 359 men by the year's end. Driving in excess of 10.3 million miles, state troopers, contacted through arrest, accident investigation or related activities better than 280,000 motorists—an increase of 11 percent over any previous year.

An average of 60 accident cases was investigated daily during the year, six percent more than during 1967. Slightly more than 360 traffic citations a day were issued for an increase of 18 percent over the previous year's activity. Highest traffic arrest rates were scored in radar detection, up 22 percent over 1967, and moving hazard violations which rose 18 percent.

Enforcement of the "implied consent" law led to more than 2,100 blood-alcohol examinations, 66 percent more than were arrested during 1967 for driving under the influence. The problem of the drinking driver assumes particular seriousness for everyone. A 1968 Report on Alcohol and Highway Safety, submitted to Congress by the Secretary of Transportation, disclosed alcohol is the direct cause of some 25,000 highway deaths and an additional 800,000 vehicle crashes annually in the United States. At least half of all highway accidents involves the drinking driver.

KSP enforcement of the Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Law resulted in the arrest of about 8,000 drivers between July and December of 1968—better than 1,300 citations a month. Although hotly contested and strongly criticized, vehicle safety inspection is an essential part of the overall highway safety program. US News and World Report in a recently published study conducted during 1968 in which more than 1.3 million vehicle owners voluntarily submitted their autos for inspection, revealed that one out of every four motorists was operating an unsafe vehicle. Most frequently uncovered defects were faulty headlights and taillights, worn signal malfunctions, faulty windshield wipers, unsafe tires and bad brakes—nearly all of the same points now checked under the Kentucky law.

In addition to enforcement activities, the KSP also expanded their driver safety education program. A preventative measure, designed to aid and educate every motorist, the program enlisted widespread assistance of radio, television and other news media throughout the state. Personal contact was also made with more than 600 civic and educational groups by KSP speakers who presented the safety message to an estimated 68,000 citizens.

In the area of driver testing, 139,419 written examinations were given during the year; 4,358 of those applicants were disqualified, either on the vision or signs and rules of the road sections of the test; 106,269 applicants took the actual driving test with 33,151 being rejected on one through five attempts to pass it. Written testing of 7,147 motorcycle permit applicants disqualified only 318 operators. Outside skill testing of motorcycleists passed 6,646 out of 6,739.

A study conducted by the KSP between January and August of last year indicates safety efforts are beginning to have a favorable effect on the problem.

Gasoline sales during the interval showed motorists drove 11.8 billion miles in Kentucky, a seven percent increase over a comparable period in 1967. An exact mileage figure, if available, would undoubtedly be higher since, with present day vehicles, it is possible to traverse the state without ever stopping for fuel.

By comparison, the fatality rate increased about two percent (from 1,028 to 1,050) between 1967 and 1968. And the 1968 death rate remained below 1966, Kentucky's worst year, when 1,036 people died on the highways.

MAYTOWN

JANUARY CLUB MEETING

The Maytown Woman's Club met January 23 at Adkins' Steak House, with Janet Sue Halbert and Judy Kettle as hostesses. Earl Compton, health educator, Floyd County Health Department, was guest-speaker. Films were shown on narcotic drugs, such as marijuana and LSD. Mr. Compton explained that his program is set up to acquaint clubwomen, youth and members of all communities with facts about the magnitude of the spread among teenagers of these dangerous and undesirable habit-forming drugs.

After the program a business meeting was held with Mrs. Kenneth Blevins, president, presiding. Letters were read and reports given on past projects. The club voted to send a representative to the Floyd County Pageant this year, and to enter some of the K.F.W.C. Club contests.

Mrs. Billy Joe Patton, Mrs. Hubert Halbert and Mrs. Claude Halbert were selected on the nominating committee for the new club year.

Members attending were Mesdames David Reed, Roy May, Billy Joe Patton, George Patton, Theodora Gibson, Kenneth Blevins, Paul Spencer, Judy Kettle, Roland Burchett, Hubert Halbert, Claude Halbert and a new member, Melanie Warfield.

LABOR FORCE YOUNGER

The United States labor force keeps getting younger. In 1968, 13.2 million individuals under 25 were in the labor force, compared to 13.3 million in 1961. The ratio of under-25 workers was one in four in 1968 compared to one in five in 1961.

Notice of Public Hearing

Notice is hereby given, upon recommendation of the Prestonsburg Planning Commission, that the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg will conduct a Public Hearing at the Municipal Building, in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, on March 6, 1969, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., for the purpose of hearing pertinent evidence concerning the following application:

Application of Dewey Sammons, for rezoning of an area of land from Jackson Street, South following US 23 to the intersection of US 23 and Route 1428 (University Drive; North along Route 1428 (University Drive) to the intersection with Jackson Street, from B-2 (General Business) to B-3 (Central Business).

literature in the mail. Now I am about to be deluged with it. It will come in bundles. Letters telling me what I have to do, what steps are necessary, what rules I have to follow to get there. They are already quoting from the Good Book some words that they are going to put down on paper and help me get straightened out on this matter. But it matters not if I get ten thousand letters, it will not change the truth. Nor will it keep me from making one thing crystal clear—He did not come to get us into Heaven.

Some of them are boiling now. Their faces are turning red. Their blood pressure is going way up. They are wishing they could stand in my face and quote it to me. Despite that, I wish to say once again that He did not come to get us into Heaven.

You see, there is one fact that we always overlook. That is that we cannot get into heaven unless heaven first gets into us. And that's the reason He came—to get heaven into us!

Husband-Wife Mission Team Explain Services Of Church

Wayland, Ky.—The organization and services of the Mennonite Church were explained to members of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club last Monday evening at the February program meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. John Reed, Wayland.

Tom and Kathy Smucker, husband and wife Mennonite missionaries working in this area, were the speakers.

Mr. Smucker explained that the Mennonite Central Committee in Ohio (MCC) has charge of disbursement of all funds in the Continental United States and overseas, including 32 countries. He further added that this religious group has built more than 100 homes in Haiti, The Mennonite Church also has an organization known as T.A.P. (Teacher Abroad Program), sending 80 percent of its teachers to Africa. There is also the Mennonite Disaster Service, which operates similarly to Civil Defense.

This area is particularly aware of what Tom Smucker designates as the "Pig Chain." A Mennonite Church in Indiana contributed 10 pigs to be given to needy families in this area, one to each family, with the understanding that as the pigs reproduce, from each litter another pig is to be passed on to another family.

Kathy Smucker has a portable sewing machine which accompanies her on trips into the homes of needy families in this area. She teaches the housewife how to sew and assists her to purchase a sewing machine, with the understanding that the one assisted is to help another to learn to sew and to obtain a sewing machine.

The speakers were introduced by Mrs. J. T. Spillman, program leader, who also gave the devotions prior to the program.

At a business meeting Mrs. Mervil Dixon, club president, announced that $15 has been contributed by the club to the Keith Williamson fund and that $55 had been collected for polio. A contribution of $20 was voted for the Heart Fund.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
The Bank Josephine, A Corporation, Plaintiff
Against NOTICE OF SALE
CR NO. 4135
Ben Martin and Mary Martin, Drift, Ky., Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the December 9th term, 1965, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 14th day of March, 1969, at 10 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property to-wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land situated in Floyd county, Kentucky, on the waters of Left Beaver Creek and is bound and described as follows:

"Beginning on a stake in upper edge of the county road, a corner to the land of W. J. Turner, then running up the center of the county road S 40 E 667 feet to a stake in upper edge of the road near where Ben Martin now lives, S 18-10 E 212 feet to a fence post in upper edge of the road, thence leaving the county road and land of W. J. Turner and running up the hill N 87-00 E 600 feet to hickory on top of point between a fork of Frozen Branch of Left Beaver and Left Beaver Creek, a corner to the land of A. L. Martin; then running down the meanders of the point with the land of said Martin N 73-00 W 184 feet to a hickory N 62-10 W 370.7 feet N 50-00 W 578.4 feet to a cross on a large rock; then leaving the point and the land of Alex Martin and running down the hill with the land of W. J. Turner, S 40-30 W 157.5 feet to the beginning, containing 6.2 acres.

This being the same property conveyed to Ben Martin by Martha Martin by deed dated Oct. 28, 1939, recorded in Deed Book 112, Page 288, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $1,823.00 with interest thereon at 6 percent annually from the 23rd day of November, 1968, until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or securities, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 25th day of February, 1969.

The reason the 20-gauge shotgun has become so popular on the upland scene: It is light and handles with a crisp, sure feeling; the standard ammunition is light, easy to carry and plenty powerful for small game; and the two- and three-quarter-inch magnum and three-inch magnum loads give the 20 as much sock as a standard 12-gauge load, when needed. — Sports Field.

SHERIFF'S SALE

The Bank Josephine, Plaintiff
Vs.: NOTICE OF SALE
Taulbee and
Daisy McGuire, Defendants

By virtue of execution to me directed, which issued from the office of the Clerk of the Floyd Circuit Court on December 17, 1968, in favor of The Bank Josephine against Taulbee McGuire and Daisy McGuire, in Civil Action 6516, formerly pending on the Civil Docket of the Floyd Circuit Court styled, The Bank Josephine, a corporation, plaintiff, vs. Taulbee McGuire and Daisy McGuire, defendants, for the sum of $700, together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from September 21, 1967, until paid, together with court costs of said action amounting to the sum of $39.80, in addition thereto any costs incurred by the Sheriff of Floyd county, Kentucky, in connection with the levying of said execution and the collection thereof, and by virtue of an execution to me directed, which issued from the office of the Clerk of the Floyd County Court, on December 17, 1968, in favor of The Bank Josephine against Taulbee McGuire and Daisy McGuire in Civil Action 6811, styled The Bank Josephine, a corporation, plaintiff, vs. Taulbee McGuire and Daisy McGuire, defendants, for the sum of $2,458.57, together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from September 12, 1968, together with court costs of said action amounting to the sum of $42.20, in addition thereto any costs incurred by the Sheriff of Floyd county, Kentucky, in connection with the levying and collection of said execution and each of them, I will, on the 3rd day of March, at the hour of 10 a.m. at the courthouse door in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, expose to public sale, to the highest and best bidder, three tracts of land, together with all improvements thereon, situated in Floyd county, Kentucky, and identified as follows:

TRACT NO. 1. is located on the waters of the Righthand Fork of Bull Creek, and is described as follows:

BEGINNING on a white oak and point between Rock Lick and the right-hand fork of Bull Creek; thence down the hill with the cross fence crossing the creek and a straight line to the top of the point; thence down the hill to a hickory near the corner of the fence below old John Wallens near the branch; thence with the fence to Fountain Warrix line; thence with said Warrix line down the hill to the Warrix Mill tract; thence with the Mill tract line around to the old Warrix former line and with that line to the top of the main big ridge on to the old back line of Isaac McGuire; thence with the old back line of Isaac McGuire to the place of BEGINNING.

TRACT NO. 2. is located on the waters of Big Sandy River and is described as follows:

BEGINNING in the Easterly right-of-way line of U.S. Highway No. 23, at a drain on the property line of Riley Hall; thence running up said drain with the orchard fence just above the end of the old haul road; thence running with the fence to the top of the hill, north with the paling fence to a small sycamore in the branch; thence in a southerly direction running with said highway right-of-way line to the place of BEGINNING.

I will proceed to sell said lands or so much of them as will be necessary to satisfy said executions and each of them, and the costs above referred to to the highest and best bidder on a credit of six months from the day of sale.

The purchaser shall give bond with approved surety to have a force and effect of a judgment on which execution may issue if the same is not paid at maturity, when and where due attendance will be given by me.

The amount to be raised by these executions are as follows:

(1) The sum of $700 together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from September 21, 1967, and the Court costs of Civil Action 6516, amounting to the sum of $39.80.

(2) The sum of $2,458.57, together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum, from September 12, 1968, together with the Court costs of Civil Action 6811, amounting to the sum of $42.20.

(3) And in addition thereto, any costs which may be incurred by the Sheriff of Floyd county, Kentucky, in connection with the levying and collection of said executions and each of them.

Given under my hand as Sheriff of Floyd county, Kentucky, this 10th day of February, 1969.

JOE W. LEWIS
Sheriff of Floyd
County, Kentucky

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

Mary Alice Coal
Company, Inc., Plaintiff
Against: NOTICE OF SALE
CR NO. 6370
Sermit Billiter, Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the December 27 term, 1968, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 1st day of March, 1969, at 10 o'clock, a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property to-wit:

One (1) 35L Jeffery cutting machine; one (1) Kersey model tractor with two sets of batteries, including one charger, 100 K.V. Rectifier with booster transformer; one (1) tippie with crusher and electric motors; one (1) conveyor from tippie to mine car dump; one (1) 48-inch fan, with five horsepower motor; two (2) mine cars with wheels-end dump; two (2) mine cars without wheels-end dump; approximately 1,800 feet of 4 FO aluminum power line and 1,800 feet of No. 6 wire, all switch boxes and electric hookups.

These items will first be sold separately and will then be sold in the aggregate and if the bid for the items in the aggregate be the higher and better bid than the aggregate of the individual bids, it will prevail. These items are available for inspection by prospective bidders; some are located on the premises of Mountain Metal Company, West Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and the remaining items are located near the housing project, May Branch below Prestonsburg, in Floyd county, Kentucky.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $10,000.00, less $200.00 payment, with interest thereon at 6 percent annually from the 27th day of December, 1968, until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 5th day of February, 1969.
