

Work Timetable Told On US 23 in County

Allen-to-P'burg Work Scheduled Next Summer

Construction of US 23-US 460 through Floyd county is expected to begin next spring with the letting of the first contracts, according to the Highway Department's five year road program.

Total length of the projects in this county will be 16.1 miles, and cost of the projects is expected to total almost $30 million.

The new road, which is part of the Appalachian Development Highway Program, will be funded by 70 per cent federal money and 30 per cent state money. Its route will be essentially the same as the present road, but the particularly curvy section for Prestonsburg to Allen will be straightened, following a new course via Katy Friend and Bull Creek.

All sections of the road are in the right-of-way acquisition stage. Once the right of entry is established, grade, drain and surfacing contracts will be awarded according to the following tentative schedule.

Sections from Dawson Branch to KY 80 at New Allen and from Water Gap to KY 114, near Prestonsburg, will be let next summer.

Sections from west of Coldwater Branch to Mare Creek, from Mare Creek to Dawson Branch and from KY 80 at New Allen to Water Gap will be let during the fall of 1970.

Section from the Pike-Floyd county line to Coldwater Branch will be let during the first three months of 1971.

Speaker for the evening meeting will be Frank J. Groschelle, administrator of the Kentucky Program Development Office, Frankfort.

Individuals who are interested in attending this meeting are requested to contact their local County Agent's office prior to 11 a. m. Monday, November 17 for reservations.

This Town . . . That World

ALL'S QUIET . . .

Armistice Day, alias, Veterans Day, was almost any other day in Floyd county this year. Just as other years have since the drums ceased to rattle. Here, the postoffice was closed, so were the banks, schools and courthouse offices. But there was no flag-waving, no speech-making. The Silent Majority remained silent because the Strident Minority kept quiet. A safe, sane procedure which we highly recommend to a country that appears to be ready to be torn apart by militants who call themselves doves and by the over-reaction of the rest of us who prefer to be just plain Joes.

MAKE THE REFUGE REAL

On one of my too infrequent visits to Dewey Lake I saw, late the other afternoon, three deer peacefully grazing in an open space along the shore. Our boat moved along, not far away, but the deer were not interested. These were young deer which never had heard the roar of a gun at close range.

Beautiful things, these—and the pity of it is that they, innocently unaware, will be the first to fall, once the deer season opens.

I do not begrudge any hunter his sport. But I do wish all the Dewey Lake area was truly what it is sometimes called—a game refuge; that one place in this little corner of creation where wild animals of all kinds could find sanctuary. I would like to see the area go back as near to what the pioneers saw as possible, a place where all wild life could live and multiply to delight visitors who, as conditions now are, wonder why they see nothing of this sort in an area that seems made for the wild things.

Think this would deprive hunters of their sport? On the contrary, hunting would be better in surrounding areas. As the game population increased in the refuge, deer and other animals would range out to other feeding grounds. Thus hunting might even be improved, and still there would be one area where wildlife would provide a showplace that could be a major attraction.

CONFESSION OF A DROPOUT

The Kiwanis Club here is—very properly, I think—encouraging the formation of a Dale Carnegie class. I'm all for the idea, but that's as far as I'll be able to go. I don't expect to enroll, and here's why:

Revenue Program For Prestonsburg May Tax Payrolls

Plans for a new tax program for Prestonsburg are still under study, but it was said this week that a decision must be reached shortly.

And chances are, according to this report, the decision will be to levy a payroll tax. The same tax is in effect at neighboring Pikeville, where a tax structure change was dictated by revenue needs.

It was said that if this form of taxation is adopted property taxes will be reduced and automobile stickers and privilege licenses will be eliminated.

Council met in a long session last Thursday night, with the meeting devoted entirely to taxes, but not to the proposed change. Old, unpaid tax bills and the mixup in categories of property assessed for street and sidewalk improvement claimed the attention of council members.

A project to be conducted at Northeast Kentucky Area Development Council, Inc., Olive Hill, will provide training in various occupations for 200 persons. MDTA funds, $99,115. Mr. Austin will coordinate this training.

Of the total training opportunities, more than half will be filled by disadvantaged jobless persons.

On-the-job training is provided by private firms, industrial associations, labor organizations and others, with Labor Department reimbursement for job instructor fees and instructional materials only.

Magoffin County Man Held in Slaying Here

Salisbury Booked After Second Raid

German Salisbury, former courthouse janitor here, was back in jail last Thursday, charged for the second time in the last few weeks with illegal possession of intoxicants. He was arrested when Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and State Troopers Rose and Bevins found five half-pints of whiskey and five cases of beer on his premises, near Knotley Hollow.

Charlie Flanery, of Price, was raided, the preceding day, by Deputy Sheriffs Claude Flanery and Bill Hall and an ABC agent. Three pints of whiskey were confiscated.

Dutch Clark was arrested on a breaking and entering charge, and Sammy Hall on a charge of receiving stolen property, by State Trooper Spurgeon. Others booked at the jail within the week, charges lodged against each and names of arresting officers follow:

Dewey Hall, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, by State Trooper Michael Angel; Green Howell, drunk driving and no operator's license, by Trooper Gary Rose; C. M. Whitaker, no operator's license, by special officer Mullins; Estill Yates, reckless driving, by Deputy Sheriff Bill Hall; Tommy Michael Terry, reckless driving, by Trooper L. Bevins; Jack Blair, driving while under the influence of intoxicants, by Trooper D. Sword.

Shepherd Fatally Beaten Near Club Here Late Saturday

Examining trial of Russell Arnett, 27, Royalton man, who is accused of the fatal beating here Saturday night of George Shepherd, 54, of David, was scheduled for Wednesday morning before County Judge Henry Stumbo. Arnett has been held in jail here without bond since his arrest at Royalton last Sunday afternoon.

Shepherd was found in front of the Eagles Club on South Lake Drive here, around 11:30 p.m. Saturday. His skull had been fractured by a blow from a blunt instrument and persons present at the time said he was dead when they examined him. The fatal blow or blows had been inflicted on the left side of his head, near the ear. The murder weapon was not found.

The warrant for Arnett's arrest was issued after witnesses had been questioned by state and city police. Arnett was not definitely identified as the man seen fighting with Shepherd, but witnesses told of seeing the two men leave the basement of the club and go outside together.

One witness, Ervin Shepherd, said that Arnett returned to the basement room of the club, five or 10 minutes after he and Shepherd had gone outside and that when Arnett was asked about the whereabouts of the other, he said, "He's outside." A few minutes later, according to this witness, Howard Rice rang the doorbell. Ervin Shepherd answered the door and was told by Rice, he said, of a man outside who was "hurt bad." Shepherd said examination of George Shepherd's body revealed that he was already dead and that he returned to the basement and broke the news to those in the room. Arnett, he said, was in the group, and immediately arose and started to leave, telling the others not to say anything about what had happened.

Howard Rice and Buford Fletcher, both of Magoffin county, told of seeing the fight outside the club. Their stories coincided, except that Rice testified that the man who was fighting with Shepherd struck the latter after he had fallen to the ground. Fletcher described the fight between the two men as "not much of a fight," that Shepherd didn't do much.

Authorities were interested in the expressed theory that the killing may have stemmed from Mogoffin county troubles. Shepherd was shot in the leg last March while operating a trailer on Howard Branch, across the mountain from David. Bill Sexton, owner of the place, was slain there earlier. One witness said Arnett told Shepherd at the Eagles Club Saturday night, "You're not going to tell anything on me."

It was reported to officials that Shepherd had told others, "They'll kill me."

Arnett was jailed Sunday afternoon by State Detective Jack Music and State Troopers Brenner and Sword. Joining state police in the probe into the slaying were Commonwealth's Attorney Harold Stumbo and Prestonsburg police.

Sheriff Joe W. Lewis said he has procured the names of those who were at the club at the time of the slaying. He said that of a total of 17 at the club, 11 were from the Royalton, Magoffin county area, with only six being from Floyd county.

The man who is accused of the slaying was jointly charged with Jimmy Arnett, also of Magoffin county, of the slaying some months ago in Magoffin of a man named Adams. Their first trial resulted in a hung jury. The case has been transferred on change of venue to the Knott circuit court for the second trial.

Funeral rites for the victim of the altercation here were conducted Tuesday morning from the home of Babe Shepherd, near David, the Rev. Birdie Hicks officiating. Burial was made in the Darb Shepherd cemetery under direction of the Carter Funeral Home.

HUD Approves $1,306,421 For 78 New Housing Units

The Prestonsburg Municipal Housing Commission was notified Friday by the Housing and Urban Development Administration that its application for 78 low-rent housing units has been approved for letting to contract, Dec. 30.

The housing complex will involve the expenditure of $1,306,421, including site and construction cost, architect's fees and other items.

The 78 units, 30 of which will be specially designed for the elderly, will be erected on a 10-acre tract acquired by the Housing Commission in the Goble-Roberts Addition and in the same community where 75 rent-supplement housing units are nearing completion for the Prestonsburg Ministerial Association.

The new project will give Prestonsburg a total of 160 low-rent housing units. The first 40, in Green Acres, were opened to occupancy in Oct., 1963. The second complex, Indian Hills at the mouth of May's Branch here, comprising 42 units, received its first tenants in March of this year. Twenty of the Indian Hills units are for the elderly.

Twenty-four of the 75 rent-supplement units now nearing completion in the Goble-Roberts Addition are expected to be occupied this month. Applicants in the low-income range are being sought.

Perkins and Nunn: Eyeball to Eyeball— And Apparently Neither Man Blinked

Congressman Carl D. Perkins and Governor Louie B. Nunn stood, eyeball to eyeball, at a Washington hearing last week, and the record fails to show that either blinked.

Governor Nunn appeared before the Perkins-chairman House Education and Labor Committee to attack the so-called war on poverty, particularly that part of the war being waged in Eastern Kentucky.

He produced affidavits which alleged various sorts of wrongdoing and misuse of federal funds which were designed to aid the poor.

He assailed, in particular, the Middle Kentucky River Community Action Program, based at Jackson and headed by Mrs. Treva Howell.

The governor attacked, among other projects, the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Program, alleging that nearly $1 million has been spent here on other than medicine and services for the poor.

He asked an investigation.

And Congressman Perkins agreed to consider sending a task force to Kentucky to look into Nunn's charges. At the same time Perkins announced that the probe would look into every aspect of wrongdoing—including some that he laid at the door of the Kentucky Highway Department.

Perkins specifically charged that Highway Department employees have been taking affidavits for Nunn and that federal money provided for technical assistance in anti-poverty programs has been used by state OEO Director Lynn Frazer to gather affidavits for the governor.

The task force, it was later said, will probably come to Kentucky, late this month. Affidavits from which Nunn read alleged that in many counties bribery, vote fraud, threats of death, misuse of federal funds, intimidation and other offenses were committed.

That drew from Rep. Patsy Mink (D-Hawaii) the question, "Who's responsible in your state? Why have you not brought these things to the attention of your law-and-order officials?"

Nunn said the Turner family's domination of Breathitt county is so complete that it would avail little to bring charges there.

Perkins challenged Nunn's remarks about threats on human life. "I don't think," he said, "anyone will harm anybody else over a poverty job or over an OEO decision; those are patriotic people out there. In Breathitt county the sheriff is your friend," he told Nunn. "You have the state police; a majority of the state police are your friends; there's no harm in these people, and I don't want to leave the impression that lives are in danger."

Before the governor reached the hearing floor the committee had completed action on the bill to extend the life of OEO two years. Congressman Perkins was joined by Congressman Ford of Michigan in arguing that the two-year extension was precisely what President Nixon had asked.

"I can't be his (Nixon's) slave," Nunn countered. "He's wrong on this. . . doesn't have the knowledge. He may have more knowledge on this in a few days."

Police Court Trial Right Challenged in Action Here

Right of the Prestonsburg police court to put him on trial was challenged last Wednesday by Henry Clifton, who asked the Floyd circuit court to issue an injunction restraining Police Judge Earl Blackburn from bringing his case to trial.

The trial, Clifton's petition said, was slated for that day. He pointed out that his conviction would result in loss of his operator's license and that, as a consequence, an appeal to another court would provide him little or no relief.

Clifton contended that Prestonsburg police court is not a constitutional court and cannot render him due process of law because any jury empaneled by the court would have a pecuniary interest in his conviction. This contention was based on the claim that the city of Prestonsburg and its police court have no fund for the payment of jurors and that jurors are paid only in the event of a conviction, in which case jury fees are taxed as costs and paid by the convicted defendant. In the event of an acquittal, the suit claimed, there is no provision for payment of jurors.

Coal Men Say New Bill To Damage Area Mining

What will be the effect of the new mine health and safety bill on Eastern Kentucky coal mining?

Coal leaders aren't agreed on the total effect of the "blow," but all view it with a certain amount of alarm.

Fred W. Luigart, Jr., the former newspaperman who now is president of the Kentucky Coal Operators' Association, isn't so pessimistic, probably because he takes the broad, statewide view which involves the larger operators as well as the small.

Robert Holcomb, of Pikeville, president of the National Independent Coal Operators' Association—a group which mainly represents smaller operations—takes the dark view and stresses economic ruin for small mines and consequent chaos for the area economy.

Similar bills, requiring stringent new measures to protect the health and safety of underground miners, have now been passed by the members of Congress. Differences in the bills will be ironed out in conference.

Spokesmen for the operators are in general accord that compliance with the new law will be expensive at best and, at worst, ruinous for some operators.

In the next five years you will see hundreds, maybe thousands, of bankruptcies filed by small coal operators," Holcomb said.

"This bill will hurt most the Appalachian region, which needs help most. It will destroy the economy of Eastern Kentucky."

Luigart was less concerned. His group represents more of the larger operators and about 70 per cent of the state's coal production.

"I won't be a prophet of doom," Luigart said. "We will have to adjust to the requirements the best way we can. I feel the public has spoken and we shall have to make the necessary adjustments."

"I hope we have the technological skills to find ways so that all our mines can live with it (safety bill)."

Holcomb said the pain of compliance among small operators will be felt at once, even though the coal market is at its best in many years.

"The more affluent small operator will see the futility of trying to live with the law, and he will pull out," Holcomb said. "He will know he can't make a profit from his coal after paying for the new equipment he will have to use."

"Others more in need of what they can scrape out of the business will try to stay as long as they can."

Holcomb said about 1,500 small mines with an employment of 15,000 men "surely will have to close because they won't be able to comply."

Opposition to the bill was concerned chiefly with a provision that all mines be classified as "gassy" whether or not they hold pockets of gas. All mines, therefore will be required to use new machinery which will not spark and set off an explosion.

Holcomb said that sparkless machinery which cost $15,000 two years ago now sells for $40,000 and "the price is going up." An average small mine would have to pay $75,000 to stay in business today, he said, "even though he has a gas-free mine."

He said there are even more serious objections to provisions of the bill than the "gassy" clause. He listed one as the outlawing of fuse and cap explosives at the coal face.

The alternative, he said, would be the use of cutting machines which cannot be delivered on short notice by manufacturers, even if financing is available.

Holcomb said a recent search of the market showed that only 12 such cutting machines are now available for purchase.

"What this bill does is create impossible conditions for small operators," Holcomb said. "And instead of adding to the safety of miners, just wait and see, it will create unsafe conditions."

"During the experimental phase of compliance, nobody can predict what will happen in the mines."

Holcomb also predicted that the present coal shortage will worsen to the extent that makers of electricity in the East and Southeast will have to limit the use of power by industries.

"What happens then?" he asked. "More than coal mines will be closed down."

Impala's hidden persuaders:

- ① 350-cu.-in. engine
A new more powerful standard 250-hp V8 makes the 1970 Impala move with all the more assurance. On good ol' regular gas.
- ② Anti-theft column lock
A locking system is built right into the steering column. When you take your key with you, you lock not only your ignition but your steering wheel as well.
- ③ Aluminized exhaust system
It simply means that your original muffler, tailpipe and exhaust are going to last longer than you'd probably expect them to. Fair enough?
- ④ Side guard beams
They look like highway guard rails, and they're built into both sides of the car for extra protection in case of impact. Not too many cars have them.
- ⑤ Inner fenders
Up inside every fender is another fender to protect against slush and mud and help keep your Impala looking young.
- ⑥ Flush and dry
We build the car so that rain and wash water can run down through the inside of the rocker panels, then out. Air follows to do the drying.
- ⑦ Full Coil suspension
Huge coil springs at all four wheels are four big reasons why a Chevrolet Impala rides smoother and quieter than a low-priced car has any right to.

NASA DISPLAY MAY VISIT UK IN MID-FEBRUARY

A mobile display of moon rocks and soil, plus other paraphernalia related to the flight of Apollo 11 will visit the University of Kentucky early in 1970, according to Dean Robert M. Drake of the UK College of Engineering.

Dean Drake requested in a letter to NASA headquarters that the touring display visit UK during the week of February 22, 1970. UK Founder's Day will be observed during that week and the President of the United States usually proclaims Engineers' Week during the same period, Dean Drake noted.

EDA Grant Given To Breaks Park

Breaks Interstate Park has received $135,300 from the Economic Development Administration (EDA) as the second installment of a $556,200 federal grant for park improvements.

The EDA, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, gave the first installment of $72,400 in August.

Virginia and Kentucky together are carrying out $1.2 million worth of improvements. The two states own and operate the park through the commission.

The improvements include doubling the restaurant capacity to 200 seats, constructing an Olympic-size swimming pool and bathhouse, adding six motel units, and building two vacation cottages.

Other new facilities are a boat dock and snack building at Laurel Lake, two picnic shelters, a campground utility building, electric and water connections at all camping sites, a sewage disposal system, new electric power lines, and a park maintenance building.

In addition, new access roads are being built into recreational areas, existing roads are being improved, and parking areas are being added.

In the contracted work, the Breaks Interstate Park Commission is developing 35 new campsites with water and electric connections, plus sanitary dumping facilities for trailers. The new sites will double the park's camping capacity to 70 units.

Cats Lose Final Game To Paintsville, 16 to 8

Prestonsburg's Black Cats ended their 1969 football season on a sombre note, even if Friday night was Homecoming. They lost to their old rivals, the Paintsville Tigers, 16 to 8.

Paintsville did all its scoring in the second quarter after both teams had failed in their scoring efforts through the first stanza. The first Tiger marker came on a pass play, Williams to Lemaster, that was good for 82 yards. Later in the quarter, on fourth down at the Prestonsburg 38, Conley, fullback, broke clear for the full distance. Williams passed to Preston for two extra points after each of the touchdowns.

Prestonsburg got on the boards in the final quarter when Brown raced around end for 21 yards and the marker. Miller plunged for the extra two points.

the inside story

on why electric dryers cost up to $37 less.

The real low-down on the lower price is very simple. Electric dryers need up to 35 fewer parts. For example they don't need a fuel control valve. Or flame switch shield. Or pilot burner assembly. Or 32 other things to go wrong. That's why they're so carefree. And why they deliver so many more years of perfect clothes drying at an average operating cost of about $1 a month. Look into it at your electric appliance dealers.

Move UP to flameless electric clothes drying

Grubbs Attacks Federal Standards On Air Pollution

Frankfort, Ky.—Running roughshod over staff objections, the state Air Pollution Control Commission voted 4-3 Tuesday to adopt a regulation on pollution from boilers which was eased to suit industry.

State Commerce Commissioner Paul Grubbs led the attack against a version of the regulation presented by the staff — which had been strengthened over earlier drafts to meet federal objections.

The commission's staff said federal air pollution officials had indicated informally that they were satisfied with the draft which Grubbs took apart Tuesday and which industry has said was too stringent.

Grubbs' Chief antagonist was Att. Gen. John B. Breckinridge, who declared he was "deeply disturbed" by the day's proceedings.

Breckinridge asserted he could "see no greater affront to the staff" than for the commission to reject recommendations resulting from two years of work by the staff and substitute those of a non-staff member (Grubbs).

Voting in favor of accepting the staff's recommendation were Breckinridge, Health Commissioner Russell Teague, and Mrs. Richard Swigart of Louisville, the only board member specifically representing the public.

Playing a key role in the vote against adopting the staff recommendation was Fred B. Tetzl of Louisville, who was just appointed to the board by Gov. Louie B. Nunn. Tetzl replaced Ralph Bourne of Louisville, whose resignation from the agency last week was not disclosed before Tuesday's meeting.

Also voting against the staff's draft were Grubbs, Deputy Natural Resources Commissioner Kenes Bowling, and James Jones Louisville, a member representing industry.

Breckinridge later cast the sole "no" vote against adopting the regulation as amended by Grubbs.

Frank Partee, Director of the commission's staff, declared prior to the adoption of Grubbs' amendments that they differed "substantively" from the draft on which public hearings were held around the state.

David Short, staff attorney for the commission, declared it was his personal opinion the public should be given an opportunity to be heard on the new form of the regulation. "All the changes today were on the side of industry," he asserted. "The public's health was ignored."

But Breckinridge said that, as a matter of law, new hearings would not have to be held.

With adoption of the regulation as amended, it will go into effect 30 days after it is filed with the Legislative Commission.

But it still has to be approved by the national air pollution control agency insofar as it affects air pollution control regions crossing state lines. The staff's comments suggested there might be some difficulty there as a result of the changes in the document.

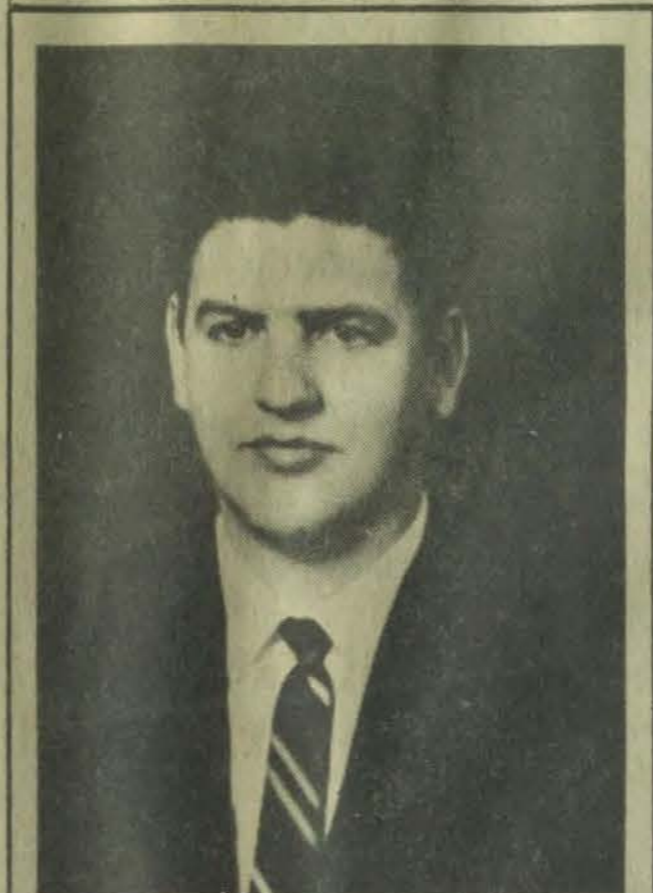

Partee argued Tuesday that Grubbs' amendments weakened the regulation without cause because they did not grant the relief to industry which apparently was their intent.

The Senior Services Center of West Prestonsburg dressed its best recently for the visit of Roger Daughtry, representative of the National Council on Aging, and John Burton, representative of the Big Sandy Area Community Action Program.

Began last January in the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church's Goodwill Mission building in "Happy Hollow", West Prestonsburg, through the sponsorship of the Big Sandy Area CAP, Inc., the Senior Services Center is now staffed by three senior citizens, Mrs. Esta Crum, Mrs. Stella Shepherd, and Mrs. Nora Blackburn. They keep the center open from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., five days a week.

The center is designed to provide social, recreational, educational, counseling, employment, and voluntary community services to the elderly people of the community. Examples of handicrafts fashioned by the women are shown in the picture (above).

Mr. Daughtry said the center was one of the best of its kind that he had seen.

Participating in the day's program were Mrs. Eva Meadows, Mrs. Esta Crum, Mrs. Leon Younce, Mrs. Ocie Shepherd, Mrs. Stella Shepherd, Mrs. Virginia Hopkins, Mrs. Bill Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Ora Blackburn, Mrs. Nora Blackburn, Mrs. Anna Hale, Mrs. Lawrence Bray, Oliver Tackett, Mr. Castle, Mrs. Jesse Daniels, Miss Jo Ann George, Mikie Daniels, Mrs. Sam George, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Green, Roger Daughtry and John Burton.

The public is invited to visit the Service Center at any time.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEET

The Presbyterian Woman's Society met at the church, last Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Marvin Music, president, presiding. Mrs. Ernest Osborne led the devotional, and special prayers were offered for missionaries in India and California. The least coin offering was dedicated by Mrs. Nelle Howard to missionary work, and money was given to the Rose Ann Home in Louisville and for the sewing assessment. An interesting program on church plans and work was given by Mrs. Ray Howard. The Christmas program will be held December 2 at the church. Mrs. Burl Spurlock will show colored slides of her recent trip to the Holy Land. Reports were given on the recent Presbyterian meeting in Lexington by Mrs. Marvin Music, Mrs. Ernest Osborne, Mrs. Rainley White and Miss Daisy Miller. Rev. Evan, of Pikeville, spoke to the group of the missionary work in Brazil. The society presented a gift to Rev. and Mrs. Van Demer, who are retiring after 40 years of service in Eastern Kentucky.

The hostess, Mrs. Glenn Anderson, served a salad course to Mesdames: Meta Sizemore, Ruth D. Soward, Frank H. Layne, Nelle Howard, Ernest Osborne, Marvin Music, Rainley White, Daisy Miller, James Lafferty, James Goble, E. R. Burke, Milton Skiff, Mary E. Powers.

Hunters Warned Season-Opening Is November 20

(NOTE: Publication of this story has been requested, because a national magazine recently published the wrong hunting dates for Kentucky.)

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 7 (Special)—The third Thursday in November! To hunters of rabbits and quail that means the opening of the season.

It was decreed by the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission several years ago that the season for these two small game species would open on the traditional third Thursday in November. This year that date falls on November 20 and so, contrary to published reports in some magazines, the opening date is November 20 and anyone who hunts before that date is in violation of the law.

The closing date for these two seasons, which is not of too much interest to hunters right now but which will be vital later on, is January 31.

Bag and possession limits for each species are unchanged this year at six rabbits per day or 12 in possession after two or more days of hunting, and 10 quail per day, or 20 in possession.

In Appreciation

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to each and every one of our many friends and relatives who in any way helped and expressed their sympathy, who sent food and so many floral tributes upon the passing of our dearly beloved Dad, Morgan M. Layne, of Ivel, Ky.

Thanks to Rev. Bob Martin, Rev. James Harmon, Rev. Clyde Layne, Rev. Wallace Lewis and Thelma Conn for their comforting words. Thanks to the Betsy Layne high school choir and Serena Layne for their lovely songs. A special thanks to Carter Funeral Home of Prestonsburg for their kindness, patience and efficient service.

THE MORGAN M. LAYNE FAMILY

Thanks Voters

I deeply appreciate the support given me by the voters of Legislative District 96 for the office of State Representative. I promise the people now, as I did during the campaign, to do everything possible to represent them at Frankfort as I think they should be represented.

At the same time I congratulate my opponent, Mr. Ferguson, on his gentlemanly conduct of his campaign.

THE AMAZING MARCH

The march of the seasons intrigues the mind of man not only because of the seemingly endless parade of life and death and change of form and color but also because it all is a part of his environment.

Colorful autumn now bows out, making way for the bleak days of winter. And the new life that is springtime will be all the more amazing because of these months of winter that precede it.

For every season build well . . . use those materials that the seasons have already tried and found not wanting.

Simple solution to rising car prices.

The Simple Machine. Ford Maverick. Still $1995*

Our small car has scored a big success. And the reason is simple—solid value. Now, with other car prices going up all around it, Maverick is going its own Mavericky way. It still costs $1995* and that's still a small price to pay for a car that's simple to drive . . . simple to park . . . simple to service . . . simple to repair . . . and simple to own.

Simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage.

Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. It can nip around corners and slide into tight parking spaces with amazing agility.

Simple to service. Maverick is easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications, too. You save time and money.

Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself like change spark plugs, adjust ignition timing, and more. Fenders and grille can be replaced in a matter of minutes.

Simple to own. The simple machine can start solving money problems for you right now. Check it out at your Ford Dealer's. The price that made it famous now makes it a better buy than ever.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the car. White sidewall tires are not included; they are $32.00 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.

For more information about Maverick see your Ford Dealer or write: Maverick Catalog, Dept. N-1, P.O. Box 1503, Dearborn, Michigan 48121.

THE GREATEST NAME IN SOCKS...
THE GREATEST NAME IN COLOR.

There's something about an Interwoven Sock that brings out the best in the morning. Things seem brighter and more cheerful. Happier and more colorful. Just like our socks. We think that since the rest of your body is usually covered with colorful suits and colorful shirts and colorful ties, your feet should be covered with colorful socks.

The world is serious and somber enough as it is — Right? Tomorrow morning, take your feet out of mourning, and put them into Interwoven... the lively sock.

2 Graduate Students At WVU Get Training With Mental Health

Richard T. Stai, executive director, has announced that Mountain Mental Health Services is again participating with West Virginia University by offering field work training experience to two graduate students. The program is to allow students who are pursuing a master's in social work to obtain actual experience under intense supervision. The current students, Carol Lynn Penney and Mary K. Hyer, will complete their training program in the agency here by 1970. Miss Penney is a native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. She received a bachelor of arts degree with majors in sociology and psychology from Slippery Rock State College in May, 1968. She is a member of West Virginia University's Social Work Student Organization and the National Association of Social Workers. Upon graduation, she will be employed in the Allegheny County Department of Public Welfare, Pittsburgh.

Company Drops Plan To Convert Area Coal to Oil

"Because field work established that Eastern Kentucky coal deposits offered were unsuitable to the project," Oil Shale Corp. of New York said, it has dropped plans to acquire control of those deposits from Rice Coals Co., Atlanta. In a letter of intent, Oil Shale had agreed to give Rice $600,000 in cash and $3 million of convertible preferred stock if proper technology could be developed for extracting oil there in commercial quantities. Oil Shale, which was incorporated in Nevada and has a research center in Rocky Flats, Colo., has been engaged since 1955 in development of processes for extracting oil from shale and other solid hydrocarbonaceous materials. The letter of intent that Oil Shale signed had provided for a prospective 15-year sales agreement with an undisclosed utility for a total of about 20 million tons of coal from Eastern Kentucky.

Miss Hyer is a native of West Virginia. She has a bachelor's degree with a major in psychology from West Virginia State College, Charleston. She has worked as a statistician, was employed by the Bell Telephone System for several years and has done considerable public speaking.

She is a member-at-large of the American Business Women's Association, also of the Kanawha, West Virginia Ski Club, West Virginia Welfare Conference and West Virginia State College Alumni Association.

Misses Penney and Hyer work out of the outpatient service office in Prestonsburg.
