

Grand Jury Reports Murder, Drug Bills

Jury Suggests Pollution Action, Narcotics Fight

The Floyd circuit court grand jury wound up its session with an extra day of work Monday and reported 42 indictments voted, including one for murder, two for involuntary manslaughter and four for illegal possession of narcotics.

In its final report to Circuit Judge Hollie Conley the jury urged citizens to work toward curbing illegal use and sale of dangerous drugs and said its inspection of garbage dumps in the county revealed that these create a health hazard. The jury asked that county and state agencies take corrective action.

The jury report, signed by Harry Vincel Cooley, foreman, recommended that the justice of the peace in Magisterial District 3 conduct his court "in a more proper manner." It did not make any other comment to explain the situation there. Eddie Caudill is magistrate in that district. The report also called for enforcement of the law against location of junkyards along highways. It recommended that the courthouse be cleaned, the roof repaired, the food stamp office moved to another location, the parking lot at the rear of the courthouse be marked off and water fountains repaired.

The murder indictment voted named Palmer Powers in the slaying of Paul Taylor at Auxier. The two involuntary manslaughter true bills were voted in deaths of two as a result of auto wrecks in which the drivers were accused of gross negligence. Indicted were Dennis Ray Price in the death on Left Beaver Creek of Donald Johnson and Earl Vanderpool, Jr., in the death near Hueysville of Kenneth Sparkman.

The two new narcotics indictments were (See Story No. 1, Page 10)

Tram Man Says Son Was Killed, Placed on Rails

Charles Thomas Stewart, of Tram, told The Times this week that he is convinced his son, Charles Edward Stewart, 26, was already dead when a train struck his body Sunday midnight, April 4.

Mr. Stewart did not go into detail to explain his reasons for suspecting foul play, but he did say his son's body was cold when found, soon after the train hit him, and that there was little blood at the tragedy scene. Sheriff Frank Leslie, State Detective Chester D. Potter and Coroner James J. Carter have not been satisfied, either, that the death has been fully explained. The investigation of the case continues.

"I intend to do everything in my power to learn who killed my boy," Mr. Stewart said.

C. and O. Engineer Belve Turner saw Stewart on the tracks but could not say if he was alive before the train struck him.

This Town . . . That World

Let's make this column as leisurely as possible. Spring fever and excitement make a poor mixture. The fact is, as of this moment, my stream of consciousness (if any) has still to a very small and quite stagnant pond.

FOR A HOT, APRIL DAY

From that we pass to this photo snapped by Sgt. Jerry Combs, of the Kentucky State Police, on Pound Mountain, near Jenkins, exactly a week ago—April 7, at 12:30 p.m. That snow, he tells us, was 2½ inches deep.

Sgt. Combs adds that he usually plants corn and beans by April 4 or 5, then waits till Good Friday to plant again. "No need to take chances," he says.

PREVIEW

Nevyle Shackelford has two sentences in the "lead" of his article, "Biology of Spring," which we like. They read: "Spring, like all other seasons, is born in the sky. But it is in the still depths of the earth where spring makes itself most manifest."

(We hope to print Mr. Shackelford's article next week.)

Floyd Spelling Finalists

BELINDA JARRELL

Fifth-grader Valerie Ratliff slipped on "toboggan," but the word wasn't too tricky for Belinda Jarrell in the Floyd county spelling bee held here April 3. Belinda also spelled the next word, "attainable," and so became the 1971 Floyd spelling champion.

Both girls will represent the county in the regional spelling bee at Huntington, W. Va., April 24. The winner there will go to Washington, D. C. for the national finals.

The Floyd winner, eighth grade pupil at Prater elementary school, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Jarrell, of Dana. The runnerup is the daughter of Mrs. Lois Ratliff, of Prestonsburg.

The new spelling titlist was coached for the bee by her teacher, David Hinchman; the runnerup, by her teacher, Mrs. Mary Scutchfield.

The spelling bee here was supervised by Marcus Owens, assisted by Mrs. Anna Sue Stumbo. Judges were Malcolm Hall, Pete Grigsby, Jr., Elizabeth Bailey, David Hinchman, Dave Flannery and Erna Grace Hartley.

2 Major Candidates In Addresses Here

On successive days last week the campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor centered on Prestonsburg and Floyd county, with Ex-Governor Bert T. Combs speaking at a fund-raising dinner Friday night and Lieut. Gov. Wendell Ford appearing at the same type of function, the following evening. Candidates for lesser offices, district and state, also focused their attention on the Floyd vote.

Wendell Ford, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, told an audience of approximately 500 at the high school cafeteria here Saturday night that if elected governor he would not impose any more taxes. At the same time he pledged massive aid to elementary and secondary education and a cost-of-living increase in teachers' salaries.

Ford endorsed the principle of revenue sharing by the federal government and said that present plans call for an allocation of $79 million for Kentucky per annum.

"But we can't look to Washington to solve all our problems," he said. "One of the best ways to solve problems is to return government to the people and let them have the money for their programs."

Dr. Edward B. Leslie, Ford campaign chairman, introduced the gubernatorial candidate. Introduced also were Edd Hahn, of Lexington, candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals; Delmas Inmon, of Garrett, candidate for State Senator; Pearl Strong, of Hazard, State Senatorial incumbent and a candidate for reelection; Claude Mollett, of Williamsport, candidate for State Representative; Dave Ward, of Auxier, candidate for Railroad Commissioner; and State Senator B. E. Billips, of Powell County. Beans and ham hocks were served at the fund raising dinner.

Ford charged that his opponent, former Governor Bert Combs, was being used by cronies to further their own political futures. He said that Combs had abandoned the Democratic party by resigning a $43,000 job in the judiciary and permitting President Nixon to appoint a Michigan Republican in his place.

The Owensboro Democrat pointed out that the mountain area needed access roads to the major highway arteries. He pledged that if elected he would rebuild Ky. 80 for its full length.

It was in the field of education that Ford tendered the greatest emphasis. He discussed education for exceptional children, said that the term covered bright children as well as the dull. "We have no (See Story No. 2, Page 10)

Two More Groups Planning Systems For Water Service

Two more Floyd county communities working toward organization of water districts and ultimately for water distribution systems have been encouraged by the interest of federal agencies, it was said here this week.

The Levisa Water Association, formed to serve the area along the Big Sandy from Allen south toward the existing Big Sandy Valley district, has applied to the Farm and Home Administration for a $661,000 loan, and was scheduled to meet Monday with Pikeville officials. The group, if the proposed project is completed, may buy water from the Pikeville system.

A second group, being formed on Bull Creek has been contacted by Hill Smith, EDA representative, at the request of Congressman Carl D. Perkins. Mr. Smith conferred with Jesse Wallen and Joe D. Weddington, members of the Bull Creek group. Both water distribution and sewer service are being talked there.

Water distribution systems also are being sought for the Abbott Creek and Middle Creek areas.

2 Others Sought In IGA Robbery At Paintsville

The temporary injunction issued against two poverty organizations which no longer are active in this county—the Appalachian Volunteers and the Volunteers in Service to America—was dissolved last Friday by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley.

The restraining order banned both groups from entering upon Floyd county school property. It was issued on motion of the Floyd County Board of Education following an altercation last year at the Board of Education building here in a controversy over the county school lunch program. The two groups asked the Supreme Court to rule on constitutionality of the restraining order but the high court refused to hear the case on the grounds that they had not used available state courts as a possible source of relief. After that, the court here was asked to dissolve the injunction.

At last Friday's hearing of the case Larry Norton, attorney representing the two groups, asked a ruling of the constitutionality of circumstances under which the restraining order was issued. The temporary injunction was issued by Circuit Clerk Frank DeRossett, in the absence of Judge Conley, and the attorney sought a ruling on the constitutionality of the clerk's action in the case, especially since it involved civil rights. Judge Conley made no ruling, remarking that it was a moot question, since no case was pending after dismissal of the injunction.

The camera of a young woman who was snapping photos during the courtroom proceedings was temporarily confiscated by the court, and the photographer was admonished.

LETTERS To The Editor

SAYS HIS POSITION THREATENED

While debating in Lexington recently with Mr. Luigart, official representative of the coal industry, I left out a very important item in which the citizens of Kentucky should be interested as it reveals what we are up against.

I was so preoccupied in defending the state and the people of my area I neglected to mention a strong attempt by the industry to take away my means of livelihood. My president reported to me that because of my fight for law in the area he had lost contact with several companies who own (?) minerals under the school (the result of some of the many land swindles in years past that have made paupers of the people and schools of eastern Kentucky). These companies assumed that since the college did not fire me my position was that of the school.

I was quite intrigued by their inability to comprehend the idea of freedom for which our flag supposedly stands.

HOWARD ONLY CO-OWNER

An article in the Floyd County Times incorrectly stated that Allie Howard was owner and operator of the Howard Wholesale Co. of Allen, Ky. He was only a co-owner and president of the company.

When the wholesale was established at Allen it was incorporated with a body of about ten people. Over a period of years the corporation bought out all the stockholders, except three, which were Allie Howard, Chalmers Whitt and Gern Howard.

The Howard Wholesale Co., Inc., was sold to the Hawkins Wholesale in 1969.

Conservation Group Sets Hazard Meet

Save Our Kentucky (SOK) will hold a meeting at Hazard Community College, Saturday, April 24, at 10:30 a.m. SOK is composed of people from all over the state interested in two issues:

1. The abolition of strip mining in areas where land reclamation is impossible, such as on the steep slopes of Eastern Kentucky.
2. The levying of an adequate severance tax on minerals mined in this state.

Wilson Death Held Suicide

Coroner James J. Carter held last Thursday that the death here of Fred Ray Wilson, 44-year-old Wayland man, was a suicide.

Wilson's body was found shortly before 1 p.m. Thursday in his room at the Kentucky Motel. He apparently had been dead since the preceding day. When efforts to reach him by telephone and otherwise failed, the door, which had been bolted, was broken open. A note leaving instructions as to disposition of Wilson's property and a quantity of vistaril tablets were found.

Friends of the victim said he had been depressed since the death of his wife, Cleo Mae Wilson, March 9.

The victim, a son of Mrs. Mamie Hergen Wilson and the late Luther Wilson, was a press operator and a veteran of World War II. He was a native of Indiana.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from his residence on Shop Fork at Wayland, the Revs. Harlan Page, Jr. and Wayne Blanton officiating. Burial was made in the Tom Martin cemetery at Garrett under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Kentucky coal production reached a record 125 million tons last year with auger and strip mining showing the biggest increase.

End the Hypocrisy, Birenbaum Advises

Pippa Passes, Ky.—"If you're content to just play the system for what you get out of it—damning it in public but going along with it in private—get out. Stop being a hypocrite. If you can see where the situation can be changed and should be changed, get in and work on it and take your chances. This is dangerous. It may cost your job or your support or even your life. But there is no other way to be honest with something which you know to be evil and oppressive."

Such was the advice given students at Alice Lloyd College Tuesday afternoon by Dr. William Birenbaum, president of Staten Island Community College.

Only First National offers a choice of 3 GOLDEN PASSBOOKS Just to create interest

GOLDEN PASSBOOK SAVINGS

5^{3/4}%
ANNUAL YIELD
5.92 PERCENT

5^{1/2}%
ANNUAL YIELD
5.65 PERCENT

5%
ANNUAL YIELD
5.13 PERCENT

Wouldn't you know that the House of Savings would be first to offer two more plans to make savings create more interest than ever? Now, in addition to our 5 percent, 90-day Golden Passbook Plan, we invite you to try our 5 1/2 percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan and our 5 3/4 percent, 2-year Golden Passbook Plan. We think you'll find them all very "interesting."

All three plans offer guaranteed interest rates, and interest is compounded daily and paid or credited quarterly with each. Any of the three may be opened with a $100 minimum deposit, and additional deposits of $100 or more may be made at any time.

Here's the interesting difference

With our new 5 3/4 percent, 2-year Golden Passbook Plan, your funds remain on deposit for a minimum of two years, with an effective yield of 5.92 percent per annum.

Our new 5 1/2 percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan has an effective yield of 5.65 percent per annum, and your funds must remain on deposit only one year.

And our famous 5 percent Golden Passbook Plan makes your funds available four times a year—during the first ten days of January, April, July, and October—or anytime 90 days after a written notice is received by the bank. 5 percent Golden Passbook has an effective yield on 5.13 percent per annum.

How Interest Figured And Payment Dates

Interest compounded quarterly. Interest payment dates: April 1, July 1, Oct. 1 and Jan. 1. Deposits made during first 10 days of month bear interest from first day of that month.

For Floyd County's
State Representative

I am one of you.

May Democratic Primary

I, Jimmy "Gabe" Turner, was born and reared in Floyd County, Kentucky, son of Mae Burns Turner and Ernest Turner, of Drift.

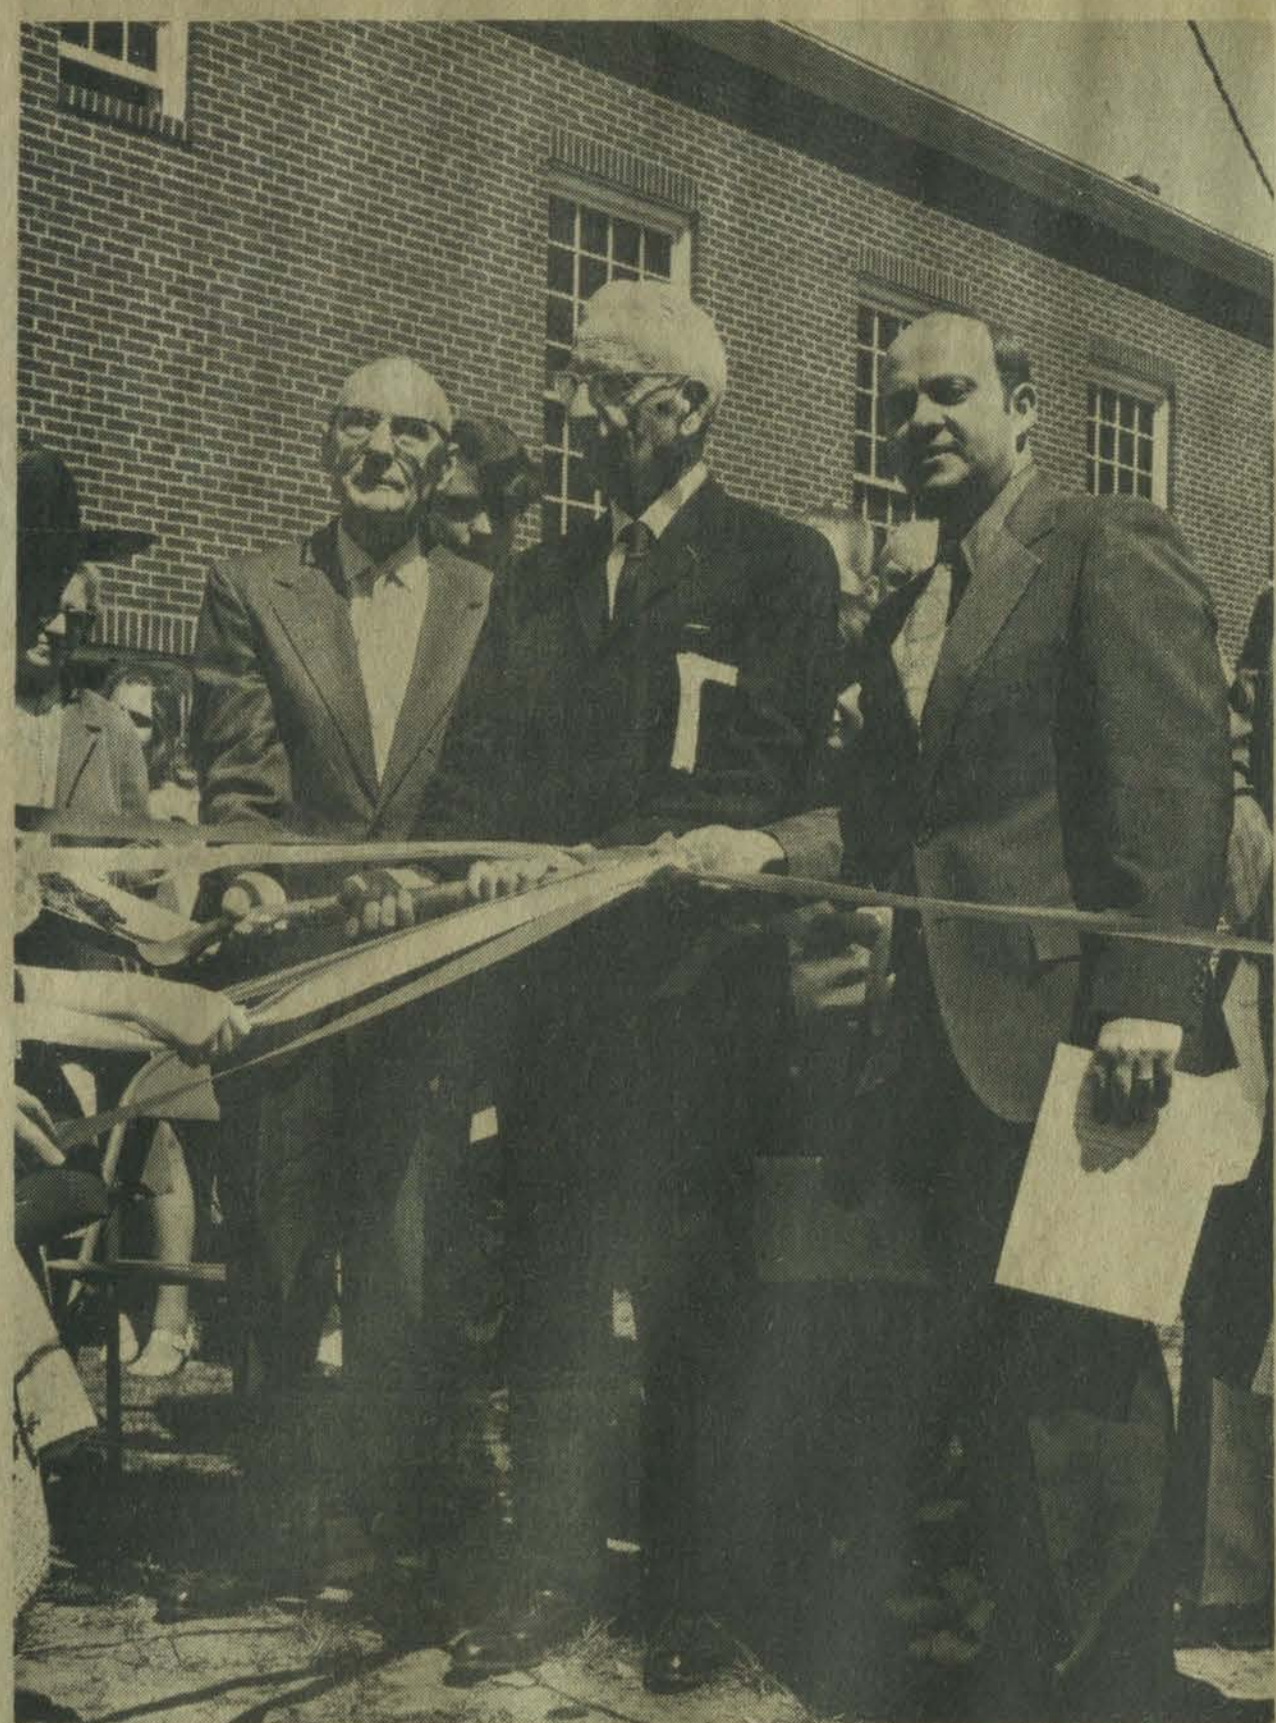

I am married to the former Donna J. Barnett, daughter of Rana Calhoun and John Quince Barnett. I am a graduate of McDowell High School, and attended Kentucky Wesleyan College.

My wife and I run the Triangle Drive Inn at the Y in Martin, Kentucky. I see and talk to a great many of my fellow Floyd Countians every day, and I know what kind of man they want to represent them in Frankfort, and I know that I am that man. As I said, I am in business for myself and have no connection with any company or firm, and I am not afraid to speak out for the people of Floyd County and our needs.

When I am elected I will prove this to the best of my ability. The people of Floyd County must and will come first.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the good people who voted for me two years ago, and I will appreciate their support this time also.

At Church Groundbreaking

Attending last Sunday's groundbreaking for the new sanctuary of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church were two former pastors, here shown with the Rev. W. D. Jagers, the present pastor (right). At left is the Rev. M. Robert Regan, of Prestonsburg; center, the Rev. L. W. Benedict, of Ashland.

The program included prayer by Pete Jarvis, chairman of the church building committee; reading of the Scripture by John Evans, chairman of deacons; recognition of guests by "Huck" Francis, chairman of the finance committee, and responsive reading by the pastor and congregation.

Mayor George P. Archer spoke briefly at the service. Others recognized were City Manager Curtis Clark, Irvin Akers, contractor, and Mrs. Akers, and George Lee Shannon.

County Escapes Worst of Fires Besetting Area

The forest fire situation in Floyd county is pretty well in hand, but the picture in adjacent Johnson county is discouraging, Price Moore, district forester, said Tuesday.

Mr. Moore said he has been with the Division of Forestry 17 years and that it is more difficult just now to hold a fire line than at any time in his experience. "These fires simply explode," he said.

Bulldozers were used in fighting a fire in the Red Bush section of Johnson Monday night, but firefighters' efforts were almost wasted till an hour before midnight when dew dampened the leaves. Three new fires broke out Monday in Johnson, and two old blazes broke out anew.

In this county one small fire broke out Monday at Ball Alley here, and another was reported at Weeksbury. But the county, Moore said, is under no present major threat, although timberland and fields are tinderbox dry. The biggest fire this county has had this season, Moore said, was obviously caused by diesel locomotives and this blaze extended at one time last week almost from Prestonsburg to Allen.

Floyd county has two fulltime forestry division employees. Nelson program men, equipped with forestry-owned radio trucks, are used. Pickup firefighters are used in emergencies.

"Our pickup labor in Johnson county is dead—we killed them fighting fires last week," Moore said.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry pays such workers $1 an hour. West Virginia pays only 25 cents.

W. M. U. MEETS

The WMU Women of the Irene Cole Baptist Church met for their monthly meeting at the home of Miss Ella Faye Hayes at Allen. The president, Mrs. Alice Gray Buchannon, opened the meeting with prayer by Mrs. Bill Jagers and Mrs. Patsy Evans gave the prayer study. Mrs. Buchannon presented the program on Jewish Baptists, Communication. The ladies also decided to bring a gift of linen, sheets, pots and pans to the church for the George Marsillett family of Auxier, whose house was destroyed by fire recently. Members were reminded of the Back to Bethel Crusade dinner scheduled for May 8. Enjoying dessert were Helen Clark, Maman Leslie, Dollie Pettrey, Patsy Evans, Patty Minns, Dodie Jagers, Olga Latta, Melinda Conley, Ruth Tiller, Rebecca Rasnick, Opal Dingus, Eva Collins, Lillie Mae Price, Julia Harrington, Alice Gray Buchanon, and the hostess Ella Faye Hayes, and Mrs. Ellen Hayes.

In 5 minutes it had better turn into a station wagon.

When something tells you to break camp fast, the Volkswagen Campmobile is an easy camp to break.

The tent folds up in four minutes and the roof clamps shut in 10 seconds. Which leaves you 50 seconds to tidy up inside. Before the tide comes in outside.

Time enough to open all the curtains. Put the milk in the ice-box. Rinse your coffee cup in the sink. Make the dining room table disappear. Turn the full-length double bed into a seat.

And that's it. You're ready to head for higher ground in a VW-type station wagon with all the VW-type virtues:

An air-cooled engine that presses down on the rear wheels, giving you extra traction in snow. And sand. (We got you into this mess. And we'll get you out of it.)

Gas economy. Up to 23 miles on a gallon of regular.

And space. More than you'd get in any conventional station wagon.

So if you go home empty-handed in a Campmobile, you're really empty.

Smile When You Buy Your Poppy

When you are asked to buy a Buddy Poppy during the coming sale in this community, do it with a great big smile on your face. And remember that it is the most grateful investment of your loose change you can ever make! Across America tens of thousands of men and women volunteer poppy sellers are offering you a once-a-year opportunity to personally thank the uniformed lads who have made the supreme sacrifice and those countless men in hospitals who may never again be physically fit. Maybe the government does give a few bucks a month to their survivors and maybe the disabled are given free hospitalization, but the help you can give them through the Poppy sale conducted by their own organization comes from your heart—not through what you are forced to pay in taxes. If your gratitude means more than lip service, buy and proudly wear your Buddy Poppy when it is offered by a Veterans of Foreign Wars volunteer.

NOW IN ITS THIRD RECORD BREAKING WEEK AT STRAND THEATRE

He Broke the Shackles Free!

As Governor of Kentucky, Bert Combs boldly initiated a PROGRAM OF PROGRESS that liberated the state from generations-old Do-Nothingness.

- He established the great Community College System — now a model for other states.
- He gave Education the support it so badly needed.
- He built the Mountain Parkway and other arterial highways to connect Kentucky with Kentucky.
- He substituted voting machines for the antiquated ballot box.
- He gave the State Park System new life.

For the first time in history, Eastern Kentucky Was given a chance —
— AND BERT COMBS WAS RESPONSIBLE.

Re-elect Bert Combs . . . Governor

The Killer Among Us . . .

Let's get rid of the drunken driver! He causes 50 per cent of highway fatalities and three-quarters of a million injuries a year. Will the next fatality be you? Drunken drivers killed 55,000 people last year. Compare this with the number of fatalities in Vietnam over the last 10 years.

Former Grid Star To Lead Revival At Baptist Church

REV. AND MRS. ROMEO

Tony Romeo, football player turned preacher, will be the evangelist during the revival at Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, beginning Wednesday, April 21 and continuing through the following Sunday. Mrs. Romeo, a former member of the nationally known Baptist Hour choir, will have a prominent part in the revival music program as vocal soloist.

The evangelist was an all-American gridder at the University of Florida and for seven years played tight end for the Boston Patriots. He received his master of divinity degree from Southwestern Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth, Texas, has led revivals in many states and currently is student minister at Western Kentucky State University, Bowling Green. An active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Rev. Romeo has had distinctive success in his work with young people.

Friday, April 23, will be Youth Night on the revival schedule, and the youth choir of the church will present the folk musical, "Tell It Like It Is," at that service. Services will be held daily at 7:30 p.m., and the pastor and congregation extend a welcome to the public to attend.

Meeting Develops Plans for Retreat

Plans for the Back to Bethel spiritual retreat for laymen to be held May 8 at the Prestonsburg high school cafeteria in preparation for the Ford Philpot Big Sandy Valley Crusade to be held here this summer were developed at a meeting of the executive committee April 6 at the Crusade office at Green Acres here.

The Rev. W. D. Jagers, co-chairman of the committee, presided. The Back to Bethel retreat will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and will be led by Jimmy Sowders and members of the Philpot team.

Attending the meeting were the Rev. Jagers; Walter Reid, Jr., youth chairman; James Lafferty, labor union chairman, Gus Kalos, music chairman; Rev. H. L. Duncan, spiritual preparation and conservation committee; Rev. Arthur Conaway, spiritual preparation; Delmas Saunders, Sunday School chairman; Printess Ball, local church general committee co-chairman; Frances K. Pitts, nursery committee; Pearl Crum, telephone committee; Christine Ball, office secretary, and Rev. J. A. Dickerson.

The local church general chairman meeting held at the same time was attended by Joe H. Arnett, Bill Fannin, Dr. H. E. Midkiff, Peggy S. George, and Alma Collins.

Immediately following Vice President Spiro Agnew's recent address at the Kentucky State Capitol promoting President Nixon's revenue sharing plan, Gov. Louie B. Nunn announced he plans to launch a statewide effort in the near future to mobilize citizen support for the program.

A school to train compliance officers, who will be responsible for inspecting workplaces covered by the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act, is being conducted by the U. S. Department of Labor. The law goes into effect on April 28.

schools for the exceptionally gifted nor are we challenging them by our support," he added.

Ford noted that 275,000 people of the mountain region were drawing welfare checks each month and he commented: "The people of these mountains are a proud people and I know they would rather draw a paycheck than a welfare check.

"I believe that educational opportunities must be provided here and throughout the rest of the Commonwealth so that all Kentuckians will have the chance to earn a good living for themselves and their families," he said.

"But along with education to provide the skills, knowledge and training, state government has an obligation to make sure that once people are trained, are educated, that the jobs are there," Ford added. "This I will do during my four years as your governor."

38 State Doctors Set for Induction

The Department of Defense has requested the Selective Service System to call for induction 1531 doctors of medicine, 77 doctors of osteopathy and 536 dentists.

Doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy will enter on active duty from July, 1971 through January, 1972. Dentists will be on active duty, July through October, 1971.

Kentucky's proportionate share of the national call is 28 doctors of medicine, one doctor of osteopathy and nine dentists.

The Kentucky Medical Advisory Committee has considered cases of doctors of medicine, doctors of osteopathy and dentists necessary to fill this special call, who are eligible for military service under the amended Military Service Act of 1967.

The President's executive order of April 23, 1970, with respect to the phasing out of occupational deferments applies to doctors of medicine, dentists and allied specialists.

"Governor Combs has proved himself . . . will lead us to a better tomorrow." He spoke of the need for action to preserve a livable environment: "We must start today for there to be a tomorrow . . . Governor Combs believes in us, and we believe in him . . . will listen . . . comes straight to the point. We like him—we young people must be levelled with."

County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill spoke a brief eulogy to Emerson "Doc" Beauchamp, Democratic stalwart and former lieutenant-governor, who died last Thursday.

Turning to his opponent in the Democratic primary, Ex-Governor Combs said Wendell Ford has a "sweetheart contract" with Governor Nunn, explaining: "Ford does his thing, Nunn does his thing—and the people get NO thing."

Of the current campaign Combs said, "I'm running as good or better than in 1959 when I won." He pointed to polls at Eastern Kentucky State University and Morehead State University, reporting 398 votes for Combs to 221 for Ford at Eastern, and 309 to 77 for Combs at Morehead.

County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson, one of the three co-chairmen of the Combs campaign in this county, presided at the dinner. Mayor George P. Archer, of Prestonsburg, in his first public appearance since his recent illness, spoke briefly. Candidates for various district and state offices, as well as present and past county and district officials, were recognized during the program.

said, "I'm still young. I have discovered that the only old men are at least 10 years older than I. That has been true ever since I was 10 years old, and so I at least keep comparatively young."

I remember, in particular, one birthday my father had—his 42nd. And I recall thinking sadly at the time that he hadn't long to live.

It is, I suppose, true of all of us that we think of our parents as old and as old at 30 as at 70.

RERUN

The following has appeared at least one time, perhaps twice, in this column, but in keeping with our thought of keeping everything on the placid side this week we reprint it, especially since we have been asked to do so:

GRANDMA'S "RECIPE"

To wash clothes, build a fire in the backyard to heat kettle of rain water. Set tubs so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is peart. Shave one whole cake of soap in bilin water, sort things, make three piles—1 pile white, 1 pile collord, 1 pile britches and rags. Stur flour in cold water to smooth, then thin down with bilin water. Rub dirty spots on board, scrub hard, then bile, rub collored but don't bile—just reneh and starch. Take white things out of kettle with broomstick handle, then reneh, blew and starch. Spread tee towels on grass, hang old rags on fence, pore reneh water in flower bed, scrub porch with hot, soapy water.

Then turn tubs upside down, go put on cleen dress, smooth hair with side combs, brew up a cup of tea, set and rest and rock a spell and count blessings.

continued through Monday. There was no trace, however, of either of the wanted men or the automobile.

Federal officers are expected to join state police and other officers in the search for the unnamed men who robbed the Paintsville store, since federal foodstamps were in the loot. The two men entered the store around 8 p.m. Friday while two employees were preparing the day's receipts for a bank night depository. They fled the scene in a dark-colored pickup truck. Their haul included $2000 in cash and $22,000 in checks.

One of the two in the Paintsville holdup was described as being about 40 and weighing between 160 and 180 pounds.

Authorities are convinced there is no connection between the two robberies, since the two suspects in the Auxier holdup were in the correctional institution at the time of the Paintsville robbery.

The truck used in the Paintsville robbery was last seen travelling south on US 23. State troopers are convinced that their roadblocks are so tight that the two in the Auxier case must still be in this immediate area.

Miss Burke 18, is a senior at Prestonsburg high school and will attend Prestonsburg Community College this fall.

Scan Mountains for Telltale Smoke

Mrs. Alta Jobe (above) and Mrs. Joanne Taylor (below) help prevent forest fires by serving as tower watchers in Boyd County for the Kentucky Division of Forestry. At Laurel Ridge Tower Mrs. Jobe uses an alidade to pinpoint the location of a suspicious smoke while at Argillite Tower Mrs. Taylor radios a fire report to district forestry headquarters in Morehead.

Women Mount Towers, Watch Over Woodlands

By JIM WARREN

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Like most rural northeastern Kentucky housewives, Mrs. Alta Jobe, of Boyd county, awakens early to cook breakfast for her husband and begin her housework. But there, the similarity with her contemporaries ends.

In spring and summer she usually finishes her housework around 10 a.m. and, accompanied by her dog Boxie, climbs to the top of a nearby hill where a gleaming metal tower thrusts high into the mountain air.

It's a 50-foot climb to the small cab atop the tower but Mrs. Jobe has been making it every fire season since the tower was built on Laurel Ridge in 1952.

Mrs. Jobe is a forest fire lookout for the Kentucky Division of Forestry. She is one of 14 tower operators in the 15-county Northeastern Kentucky Forestry District, helping protect some 1.25 million acres of forest land.

In all, the division operates some 155 towers across the state protecting almost 11 million acres of forest from the ravages of fire.

More and more, the division is relying on women as tower lookouts. Of the division's 155 towers, 60 are operated by women.

Mrs. Jobe takes pride in her work but sees nothing unusual about the job. It's just part-time work during the fire season, about 2½ weeks in spring and 2 weeks in the fall.

"When they leased the land to build the tower from my father John Muser they said they needed someone to work up here so I took the job," she said. "They finished the tower about 1952 and I've been working here ever since."

Mrs. Jobe's only complaints about the job are high winds which rock the tower and electrical storms which have caught her several times in the tower. Only once has she ever been in danger from a fire—one started by her brother-in-law.

"He was burning leaves a few years ago in a field nearby and the wind whipped the fire up out of control. In about an hour it was all over this hill and I had to leave the tower because of the smoke. Of course I called district headquarters for a fire fighting team first."

A few miles away at Argillite, Mrs. Joanne Taylor also is keeping watch over Kentucky's forest lands from a perch high over the countryside.

Mrs. Taylor is a comparative newcomer to tower watching, having been assigned to Argillite tower only three years.

Northeastern District Forester Charles Prather noted women make good tower operators—perhaps better than men.

"They seem to be more patient than the men and they don't get bored as quickly," Prather said. "The girls we have working for us do a really fine job as do all our tower operators."

The ladies usually spend about seven hours a day on watch during fire season depending on conditions in the woods. When a smoke is spotted, its location is pinpointed with the help of an alidade, an instrument for determining direction, and reported to district forestry headquarters at Morehead.

"An experienced tower operator can tell what kind of fire is involved by the smoke, how big, how hot," prather said. "Thanks to their work we usually get most fires under control within three or four hours after they are spotted."

Both Mrs. Jobe and Mrs. Taylor enjoy their work and neither feels it interferes with housework.

"I can do almost all of my cleaning and put out a big wash before coming up in the morning," Mrs. Jobe said. "After I come down I work in my garden so it all works out pretty well."

"It's nice and quiet up here and there's plenty of time to think," Mrs. Taylor said of her elevated work station. "Sometimes I bring my dog up with me and maybe a book to read when I take a break. And you can see everything for miles and it's always very pretty."

What do the husbands think? Their only complaint seems to be relieving their wives in the towers when housework piles up and they have to take a day off.

State Hunting Season Dates Fixed for Most Game Species

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky's 1971 hunting seasons are all but complete, with only the waterfowl and dove seasons yet to be set. All other seasons and bag limits have been determined for this year but, it is pointed out, the season for the migratory birds must await action by the Department of Interior.

Basically, the seasons are the same as for last year as far as length is concerned, with only the opening dates varying, but with practically the same number of hunting days per species and the same bag and possession limits.

The gun deer season this year will be open in all 120 counties. Opening date is November 13 and it will extend five days through November 17. In 117 counties only bucks with forked antler or antlers will be legal game, while in three counties, Hart, Barren and Edmonson, deer of either sex will be legal. The bow and arrow season is open throughout the months of October and December and either sex deer is fair game. Hunters may bag but one deer, either by gun or bow and arrow, for the entire year.

Squirrel hunting kicks off the seasons, opening on August 21 and continuing through October 31. The second phase opens on November 18 and continues through December 31, the same season, with the exception of the opening day, as for last year. The bag limit again will be six and the possession limit 12.

Since 1964, the National Urban League, under Department of Labor contracts, placed 33,265 minorities in on-the-job training projects at a Federal cost of $31.5 million and 3,021 minorities in apprenticeship through outreach efforts at a Federal cost of $4.8 million.

Almost 71,000 workers have been found due more than $26 million in unpaid wages by the Labor Department's Wage Hour Division since 1964 when the Equal Pay Act became effective. During 1970 alone, $6.1 million was found due 17,719 workers, most of them women.

The number of subprofessional jobs requiring less than a bachelor's degree has grown by 200 percent since 1950, according to the Labor Department's Occupational Outlook Quarterly. Requirements for these workers are expected to jump 72 percent from 1967 to 1980.

What One College Means to Area As Economic Asset Told by Cope

Pikeville, Ky.—The economic role of Pikeville College in the area it serves, as outlined by Dr. Robert S. Cope, college president, shows a budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1971 at $1,900,000, an increase over the past fiscal year when the budget was $1,872,000.

Dr. Cope said the budget figures for a particular year represent the total estimated income and expenditures for that year.

The president pointed out that the budget figure quoted does not include the expenditures connected with the $3.4-million-dollar Pikeville College science building now under construction, or any other capital improvements on the campus.

The science building is one of the most expensive and progressive building programs ever launched in this area.

Dr. Cope noted that the figures mentioned are in addition to funds brought to the community by out-of-area students and spent here for personal expenses.

Ralph Kilgore, vice president of business affairs for the college, pointed out that the 1970-71 budget is more than twice that for 1965-66, when it was $942,000. It is approximately 13 times as large as the $165,553 listed for the 1947-48 fiscal year, and more than 50 times the 1923 budget figure of $37,963.

The number of personnel employed and the teachers' salaries paid have increased accordingly. Some of the figures for the current fiscal year include teachers' salaries of $550,000.

Martin Hospital To Dramatize Care As Week Observance

The growing role of the hospital as a community health center will be highlighted by Our Lady of the Way hospital at Martin National hospital Week starting Sunday, May 9, Administrator Harold McAlindon announced.

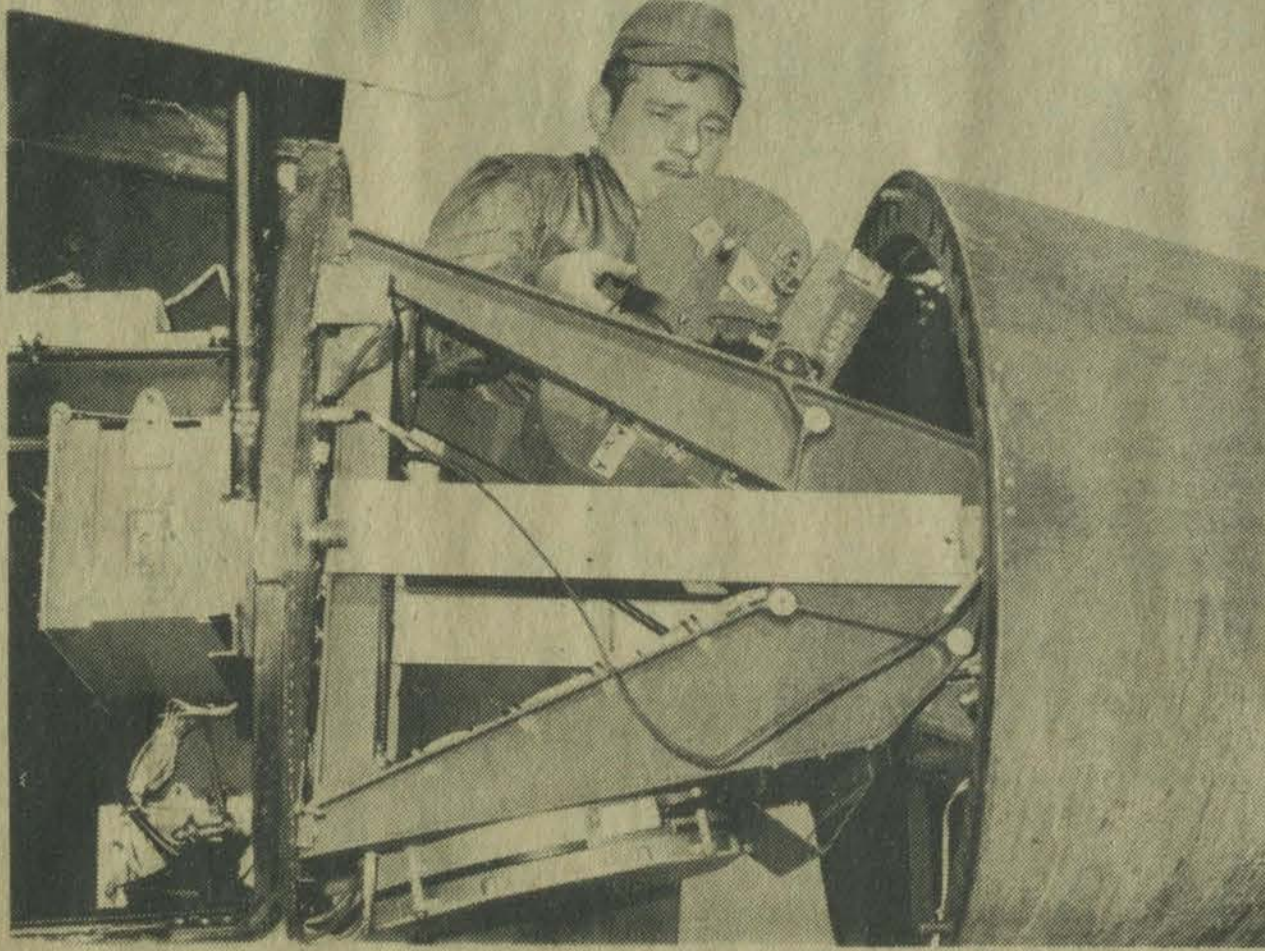

Mr. McAlindon said Our Lady of the Way hospital observance will begin on Sunday, Mothers' Day, with a special salute to all mothers in the hospital. On Monday the hospital will give special recognition to all out-patients. This will include refreshments and gift certificates donated by local merchants. Tuesday will be Employees' Day with a special buffet luncheon and presentation of the Employee of the Year Award. Wednesday, being Florence Nightingale's 150th Anniversary, the hospital will give special recognition to nursing personnel and inpatients. The hospital will observe open house on Thursday with tours of the hospital from 2 till 4:30 p.m., and free blood-typing for those interested.

In explaining the theme for the observance, "Your Hospital Cares—But Who Loves a Hospital?" Mr. McAlindon said, "We think this question is a natural one for the public to ask and we intend to answer it by dramatizing the concern we have for individual and community well-being and the ways in which this caring is involved in our 7-day-a-week, 24-hour-a-day activity."

CARD OF THANKS

We acknowledge with deep appreciation the kindness of friends and relatives for everything that was done in our hour of sorrow. We thank those who brought food and flowers and offered words of comfort or helped in any way. Our special thanks goes to Rev. Woodrow White and Rev. Ellis Cornette and Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

State Attacks Drunk Driving Problem through Special School

By JAMES D. SEWELL

FRANKFORT, KY.—One of the commonwealth's most comprehensive and innovative efforts to date to alleviate the drunk driver problem—a special school for offenders of the drunk driving law—is in full swing at Richmond.

The program is the result of efforts from four of Kentucky's brightest young minds: Dr. Jerry L. Miller, 28, associate professor of traffic safety at Eastern Kentucky University's widely acclaimed Traffic Safety Institute; W. Kent Jessee, 22, Miller's assistant and co-formulator of the program; Paul E. Fagan, 30, police court judge for the city of Richmond and a practicing attorney there; and Arthur E. Beard, 28, executive director for the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee.

The school consists of 10 hours of education on alcohol and how it affects the body. The "students" attend four two-and-a-half hour sessions held on four consecutive Monday nights, and leave with a broadened knowledge in alcohol education.

Miller and Fagan believe this type of approach offers "substantial hope for reducing the incidence of driving while impaired by alcohol and, in addition, furnishes encouragement to problem drinkers to seek rehabilitation as the only realistic countermeasure to their personal difficulties."

Openly inviting inquiries on the program from anyone who might be interested, they would like to see the program spread to every court in the state and are working toward that end. Judge Fagan has already explained the project to several of his colleagues in the Richmond area and has received favorable comments and a desire to participate from many of them.

The project has the backing of the Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, which is eyeing the program closely. If the success is significant, Beard says the committee will push for a largescale implementation of the program.

Miller and Jessee say the course is not aimed at preaching the evils of drink, rather it is designed to teach the "students" about the use of alcohol and how it affects the human body, emphasizing coordination as related to driving.

"We don't expect those who complete the course to run down to the local tavern, hand out Bibles, and begin preaching the evils of John Barley Corn, but we do hope they will help us get the message across to those who drink with them before they climb into a car after excessive drinking," Miller said.

Judge Fagan says that about 60 per cent of the individuals convicted of drunk driving who have their licenses suspended or revoked continue to drive without them. "Obviously, we have a serious social problem and the present system doesn't seem to be doing the job."

Reluctantly admitting he has a reputation for being tough on drunk drivers, Judge Fagan said that, although he cannot require offenders to take the course, he strongly recommends attendance and few have refused.

Upon completion of the course, the offenders are directed to re-appear in court for disposition of their charges.

Three Floyd 4-H'ers To Leave April 10th For Capital Parley

Three Floyd county 4-H Club members will join 4-H'ers from every area of the state, leaving April 10 for the annual Kentucky 4-H Older Youth Conference in Washington, D. C.

Selected to attend from Floyd county are Janie Bailey, Teresa Osborne and Jan Draughan.

Miss Bailey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bailey, Langley, and is a sophomore at Prestonsburg high school. Miss Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osborne, Hueysville, is a sophomore at Garrett high school. Miss Draughan, also a sophomore at Garrett high, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Draughan, of Garrett.

Attending the conference will be some 200 young people and 16 adults. The group will travel to and from the conference on chartered buses, returning home on April 17. In Washington, they will stay at the National 4-H Center, where most of the conference sessions will be held.

Planned especially for Kentucky 4-H'ers who are freshmen or sophomores in high school, the conference will give these young people advanced citizenship-leadership training that they can pass on to other 4-H'ers and to their high school classes.

Conference speeches and discussions are planned to give the delegates a deeper understanding of their heritage as U. S. Citizens. As background for their citizenship studies, the 4-H'ers will take field trips to national memorials and government buildings in the Washington area.

Dr. Graham Resting, Preps for Crusade At UK's Coliseum

Lexington, Ky.—Dr. Billy Graham is looking forward to the Central Kentucky Crusade to be held at the University of Kentucky Memorial Coliseum, April 25-28. At present he is following doctors' orders for a complete rest from recent surgery. This enforced period of rest is allowing him to do a good amount of study and preparation of messages, as well as spending time with his family. Exercise also occupies a part of the day and "jogging" is Dr. Graham's favorite method.

Accompanying Dr. Graham to the Crusade will be Music Director Cliff Barrows, Soloist George Beverly Shea, Pianist Tedd Smith and Organist Don Hustad. Ethel Waters and Norma Zimmer will also take part in the Crusade music program. The first meeting at the Coliseum will begin at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 25, with services each evening, Monday through Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Traffic Death Rate Continues Downward

FRANKFORT, KY.—Arthur E. Beard, executive director for the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, announced that the state's highway death toll for the first quarter of 1971 was down 13 per cent from the same period during 1970, and 20 per cent from the first quarter of 1969.

Beard said the toll for the first three months of this year stands at 181, as compared to 207 at the end of the first quarter of 1970, and 226 for the first quarter of 1969.

The safety official said the decrease is particularly significant, since last year's drop probably was due in large part to heavy snows that kept motorists off the road.

Public Safety Commissioner William O. Newman announced the State Police will continue making arrests for alleged overwidth coal trucks despite a recent unfavorable verdict in Perry circuit court.

I am Pearl Strong. My home is at Ary, Ky. in Perry county. I am married to Orlena Combs. We have three sons and one daughter. My father was the Rev. Tom Strong. I have worked at Drift and played a lot of baseball in this county. So, I am no stranger in Floyd county. I am an ex-professional baseball player and I have worked in the mines. I am one of the four sponsors of the Kentucky Black Lung bill. They say it is the best in the nation but I want you to know that the U.M.W. worked as hard as anybody on this bill. I am proud of this bill.

I have served as State Senator for the past three years and I have tried to serve in the best interest of all the people in Eastern Ky.

I helped sponsor and voted for many bills in the Senate, including such bills as Senate Bill No. 18, requiring the availability of physicians at hospitals for emergencies; Senate Resolution No. 34, honoring Earl Combs, the famous baseball player from Kentucky; Senate Bill No. 195, increasing the pay of certain magistrates, many labor bills, and the bills calling for pay raises to jurors and election officers (the pay raise to jurors was vetoed by the Governor).

I have always been interested in better education for our children in Eastern Kentucky.

If elected, I will certainly represent you with a sober mind.

Maytown's Tallent Signs Pact
To Join His Brothers at GWU

Maytown high school's Pat Tallent, one of the most sought-after high school basketball players in the country and a pre-season All-American selection last Friday signed a grant-in-aid to attend George Washington University next year. The signing was held at the Touchdown Club in Washington during a press conference called by the university.

Tallent, acclaimed by many as the finest high school player in the nation this year, will join his two older brothers, Bob and Mike, at GW in the fall. Bob will continue as the Colonials' freshman coach while Mike will be a senior on the varsity.

"We are extremely delighted that Pat Tallent has chosen to attend GW and join our basketball program here," said Colonial head coach Carl Slone. "I have said on many occasions that Pat is the best player I have seen in high school since Jerry West.

Pat, like his brothers before him, was Mr. Everything for Maytown high this year. He almost single-handedly led Maytown into the regional playoffs. He averaged 36.8 points per game, 22 rebounds and nine assists. The 6-foot-2 guard (tallest of the Tallents) scored over 60 points twice, went over 50 three times and over 40 11 times. In one game, he pulled down 35 rebounds. His team finished with a 21-11 record and compiled a 101-27 record over the four years that Pat played.

He was named to the All-State team during his junior and senior years. As a junior, he averaged 30.2 points, 16 rebounds and nine assists. As a sophomore he averaged 17 points and 12 rebounds. Maytown finished third in the state that year. In his four years at Maytown, Pat scored 2,880 points.

This past fall, the All-American High School Basketball Year Book named him as one of the five best players in the country. The magazine said, "Last of three Tallents and the best."

Asked to compare Pat with his older brothers, coach Eugene Frasure, who has coached all three, said he preferred not to make a comparison as the three each did things differently. But Ed Stewart, principal of Maytown high, was more outspoken. "Pat is the best high school guard I have ever seen," he said. Brother Bob says, "Pat will definitely be an All-American before he finishes at GW."

"Pat's biggest game came late in the season this year when he scored 65 points against Carr Creek to break Bob's school scoring record of 52. Pat scored 53 and 62 in other games that week. At GW, he will have a number of his brother's records to shoot at as Bob set or tied six Colonial marks during the one season he played (1968-69) after transferring from Kentucky. Bob was the nation's fifth leading scorer and a Helm's Foundation All-American that year.

Besides being an outstanding basketball player, Pat is also superior in the classroom, ranking first in his class. He is also an accomplished golfer.

Pat was recruited by over 200 schools and had narrowed his choices to GW, Morehead State, Vanderbilt, Georgia and Florida. He will major in engineering at GW.

Tallent also has been chosen to play with the Kentucky-All-Sars in their annual two-game midsummer basketball classic against the classiest of the Indiana graduating players. The first game will be held June 19 at Indianapolis; the second, June 26 at air-conditioned Freedom Hall in Louisville.

Joining Tallent are George John Smith, a 6-7 center from Laurel County; Jim Dan

Conner, 6-4, guard from Anderson County; William Gordon, 5-10, guard from State champion Louisville Male High; Lawrence Haralson, 6-9, center-forward, also from Male; Randy Waddell, 6-3, guard from Pleasure Ridge Park; John Luster of Louisville Central, who is a 6-5; Joe Johnson, 6-5, Todd County Central forward; Norton Fleming, 6-2, from Shawnee high in Louisville, and Henry Haskey, a 6-4 forward-center from Male.

Alternates are Male's Robert Shackelford, 6-2 guard, and Ronald Redman, 6-5 forward from Valley high in metropolitan Louisville.

Two ridiculous gimmicks of the 1940's.

Everyone laughed when they came out with the television.

A box that could show pictures from 3,000 miles away? Absurd. But everyone really cracked up when we came out with the Volkswagen.

A car with its engine in the back? Its trunk in the front? And its radiator in neither the front nor the back? It even looked like a joke.

But time marched on. The television clicked. The Volkswagen accelerated. People liked the idea of a car that didn't drink gas like water. Or oil like water. Or, for that matter, didn't even drink water.

Some strange people even liked the idea that it was strange looking.

In fact, Detroit car makers now like the idea of a Volkswagen so much that they decided to make their own.

And even with all those new small cars around, the fate of the bug is still secure.

This is the first year for all of the others. We've had 23 years of re-runs.

Going to Europe? Take delivery there. Ask about it now.
