

Proposed Changes for Program Stirs Health Services Ruckus

Schechter Seeks To Add Doctors, Stop Referrals

Changes proposed by its director, Dr. Arnold Schechter, for operation of the multi-million-dollar Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program has precipitated a battle, the echoes of which are being heard more clearly in Washington than here in Floyd county.

The fighting has been kept quiet, for the most part, here at home. Not much has been said for public consumption. But it isn't news to OEO in Washington, or Congressman Carl D. Perkins and others.

Comprehensive Health's own board is divided on the subject, but the main contention is between Schechter and members of the county medical and dental societies.

The friction arose over Dr. Schechter's proposal to recruit doctors and dentists—he says the program needs a dozen of the first and half as many of the latter—and add pharmacists, laboratory and X-ray technicians and other specialists to the staff, bring the program under one roof and conceivably add other counties to the overall health effort.

Dr. Schechter says he wants the program's outposts to be "more than taxicab stations," that the program as a mere referral system is inadequate and fails to meet the needs of those whom it is intended to help.

"If we don't change," he says, "we're going out of business." He explained that unless changes are made to conform with OEO guidelines, the program cannot be expected to extend beyond the five years for which it was originally planned. The expiration date would be a year and five (See Story No. 2, Page 8)

ARTHRITIS CURE?

This column has no intention of bowing to superstition or promoting quackery. For this reason we have resisted every temptation to discuss those old remedies which feature the buckeye, magic potions and the like.

But now comes from three separate sources, each of which we respect, news of an arthritis cure—or, if not a cure, certainly a palliative—that we cannot ignore. These men tell me of their suffering from this ailment about which medical science can do no more than prescribe aspirin, and of their great, good fortune in learning of a remedy.

And the remedy is nothing more than a copper band or chain, worn snugly against the skin of the wrist, ankle, or wherever. They don't attempt to explain it, but each solemnly avers that it routed their arthritis—and that's what counts.

P. S. I do not sell copper bands or chains.

"SCRATCHES" CURE

There may be a scientific reason for this effect of copper on this malady—and if arthritis isn't a malady, what is it? I can remember when a farmer, if his horse turned up with a case of the scratches, would confidently predict, "Soon as we start plowing, he'll be all right." And he was. The animal's hooves sank into the newly turned earth, and, presto! scratch one case of the scratches.

It wasn't till some years later that men learned that a source of penicillin is the good earth.

Democratic Factions Organize For May Primary Campaign

May and its balmy climate drew a lot nearer within the week as opposing factions of Democrats organized for the fight for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

A gathering of Floyd Democrats which packed the county courtroom here last Friday night named County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson chairman of the Bert Combs campaign for Governor in this county, with Circuit Clerk Frank DeRossett and Jailer Lawrence Hale as co-chairmen.

Mr. Robinson later commented: "It is a privilege to represent Bert Combs to the people of Floyd county. He was a great governor and can be depended upon again for the leadership Kentucky needs. I can't see anybody from Floyd county as being against him."

Mrs. Jeannette McCauley, of Prestonsburg, was named Combs finance chairman. A chairwoman and other organization leaders will be chosen at a meeting scheduled for Thursday night.

Approximately $2500 worth of tickets to the coming Combs dinner at Lexington were quickly purchased by those attending last Friday's meeting.

Floyd countians for Wendall Ford for Governor moved early to organize for the May Democratic primary. A. M. "Allie" Howard, of Allen, former owner of Howard Wholesale, was named Floyd county campaign chairman. David Hereford, of Prestonsburg, was named co-chairman.

Mr. Howard said, "My association with Ford leads me to believe that he has the knowledge and experience to make a great Governor for all the people. Kentucky needs a new image at Frankfort. . . Ford, as Governor, will provide the statesmanship and wisdom that the people of Kentucky need."

Mrs. Scott Collins, of Prestonsburg, was named county chairwoman, and Miss Catherine Ellis, court reporter, of Prestonsburg, co-chairwoman.

Ford's campaign dinner will be held at Convention Center, Louisville, Saturday, January 30, at 7.

Vietnam Veteran Seriously Shot, Kin Suspected

The shooting and wounding Jan. 11 at Teaberry of Jink Johnson, 29-year-old soldier home on furlough after service in Vietnam, has been investigated by state police, but no probe of the case has been made at the county level and nobody has been arrested.

Johnson, who was wounded in the side and lower abdomen by a .38-caliber revolver bullet, was described Monday as being in "fair" condition at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin. Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo was told Johnson is expected to recover.

State Trooper Gary Rose, who made an investigation of the Mud Creek incident, named as suspects in the shooting Willie and Cleveland Johnson, father and brother, respectively, of the wounded man. He was told that the shooting occurred at the home of the brother while Jink Johnson allegedly was attempting to force his way into the house. The shot which struck Johnson apparently was fired through the door.

Sheriff Frank Leslie said his office did not investigate the shooting because he had understood that state police were handling the case.

Contest Prizes Valued at $400

Prizes which the Dewey Lake Fish and Game Club is offering winners of its 1971 fishing contest are valued at around $400, it was said after the Jan. 4 meeting at which the prizes were announced and officers were elected.

New club officers are: Gerald Jones, president; Bill Pettrey, vice-president; Irvin Harris, second vice-president; William L. May, treasurer; Stephen Best, secretary. (See Story No. 5, Page 8)

Island Creek Sues To Halt Mine Strike

The Island Creek Coal Company filed separate petitions Monday for restraining orders against two local unions representing almost 500 of its striking employees.

One of the actions named as defendants Local Union 5899, its officers and members, representing all non-exempt hourly production employees at its Wheelwright-Price operations. The workers did not report for work on the 8 a.m. shift Monday, the petition for injunction said.

The other petition was lodged against Local Union 1373 which represents hourly production employees at the company's Spurlock mine. The work-stoppage there began with the 4 p.m. shift last Thursday.

The company said the Wheelwright-Price Employees number 277 and the operation produces about 3500 tons of coal a day. The Spurlock mine, employing 211 men, has a daily production of approximately 3000 tons.

All Island Creek operations in the county remained idle Tuesday, though notice of injunction was served on officers of the locals Monday night.

The separate petitions claim that the company has commitments for coal which it will be unable to fill, unless the workers are enjoined against continuing the strike and from future strikes in violation of the no-strike clause in the wage agreement. It also contends that a continued work-stoppage will lose the company contracts for coal.

Both local unions, the plaintiff alleges, are in violation of the wage agreement, since no grievance existed nor was any called to the attention of the company.

In a suit filed Tuesday, Sadie and Noah Martin, of Mud Creek, seek to recover from the H. B. Ranier Construction Company and the Big Sandy Water Company damages totalling $31,000. Plaintiffs allege that Ranier Construction while laying a water line through the farm of Kennis Tackett damaged a pipeline which conveyed a free gas supply to their home and store. They also claim that the attempt to repair the gas line permitted an improper volume of gas into plaintiffs' stove, resulting in an explosion and damage to their home. Damage also was claimed to the Martins' farm at Galveston as an alleged result of improper drainage after work on the water line.

Damages asked were divided into $10,000 decrease in value of plaintiffs' farms, $16,000 for future expense and inconvenience and $5000 punitive damages.

Prestonsburg Landmark Soon To Pass

This two-story residence, in other days known as the Albert Stephens home, will be levelled soon, perhaps to provide a site for a municipal building to house all departments and services of city government. The building and grounds were purchased a year ago by the city from heirs of Mrs. Annie Stephens, widow of Albert Stephens, for $80,000. The home was owned at one time by the late Prof. Walter M. Byington, noted area educator.

Mayor George P. Archer said this week that it will not be known till Thursday night's meeting of the City Council if the municipal structure can be built. At that time George Lee Shannon, architect, will submit cost estimates. If the cost runs beyond $300,000, the construction project will not be undertaken, Archer said. But, in any event, the lot will be cleared.

The proposed structure will house city hall and all municipal departments on the first floor. The second floor will be used for offices to be offered to rent. If building is undertaken, Mayor Archer said, the old City Hall lot on First street and the Fire Department property on Highland will be sold to help defray construction costs. The city presently is renting two buildings for its various offices.

Eight Years Set For Robert Hall In Deaths of 2

Robert (Bob) Hall will serve a maximum of eight years in the state reformatory for the slayings last Jan. 12 of his father, Edgar H. Hall, and his step-mother, Mrs. Willa Dean Hall.

The Banner man, a part-owner of the Hall Concrete Products Co., of Allen, last week entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the slaying of his father and was sentenced to eight years in the reformatory.

The term was based on the result of the earlier trial of Hall for the slaying of his step-mother, which ended in his conviction and sentencing to an eight-year term. The two terms run concurrently. The trial result had been appealed but the appeal now will not be continued and Hall will begin serving his sentence this week, perhaps Friday.

Grover Craft entered a plea of guilty, Monday of last week, to a charge of breaking and entering a meterhouse and was given a one-year pen term. After pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed deadly weapon, Edward Lee Jones was fined $50. James McKinney was held guilty by a jury of liquor possession for the purpose of sale and was sentenced to jail 60 days and fined $50.

Sixteen child desertion cases were dismissed. Of these, 14 of the defendants are out of the state and not under bond. Their cases are subject to being redocketed.

The malicious shooting and wounding case of Kenzie Tuttle was continued to Jan. 22, and the $500 bond of Millard Robinson, charged with deserting his pregnant wife, was forfeited when he failed to appear for trial.

The lone murder case remaining on the docket, that of Olen Shepherd, who is accused of the slaying of his wife, has been set for trial at the April term.

Moved on appeal to circuit court was the case of Damon Newsome, who was convicted on a liquor possession charge last Thursday in quarterly court where he was fined $50 and given a 60-day jail term.

Bullet Victim Believed Hall, Sheriff Told

A snow-covered body found Monday near Albuquerque, N. M. has tentatively been identified as that of Ellis (Rooster) Hall, formerly of Lackey.

Sheriff Frank Leslie said he was told by Sgt. Ulibarri, of the New Mexico state police, that the victim had been shot in the forehead. FBI fingerprint classification of Hall is awaited for comparison with the victim's to make positive identification.

The New Mexico officer called Sheriff Leslie after the telephone number of a Floyd deputy sheriff, Troy Mullins, had been found on the slain man's person. Near the body was a 1970 gold-color Chevrolet bearing West Virginia license plates, which he had rented from the Tri-State Airport, Huntington, W. Va. Relatives at Lackey told Sheriff Leslie that Mr. Hall had visited there in September and at that time was driving a car of the same description.

Circumstances of the slaying were not given Sheriff Leslie.

Hall has two brothers, Robert, in Columbus, O., and Sam Hall, Jr., of Richmond, Indiana. He was a son of Sam Hall and was an Army veteran.

Workshop Study Here Embraces Culture, Poor

The complex problems of poverty and the qualities of the Appalachian culture are objects of study at a workshop which began here Jan. 5 at the Appalachian Ecumenical Center, to continue through Jan. 25.

The workshop also has the aim of promoting an exchange between members of differing social backgrounds.

The workshop, it is explained, is based upon two basic convictions: 1. that the issue of poverty is of consequence, not only to the poor, or to Appalachians, but is of the highest import for all economic levels and all parts of America; 2. that professionals working in the field along with spokesmen for the poor, middle-class and rich have a significant contribution to make to the intellectual community concerning poverty and its implications.

Participants in the program are nine students from St. John's and St. Benedict's University in Minnesota. The students' schedule includes:

A day at Alice Lloyd College, with Miss Ruth Ann Schwyer, coordinator of religious activities; William Cohen, poet-in-residence; Mrs. Delores Cohen, instructor in Appalachian dance and music, and J. R. Hirsch, Public Relations Department; and a day at Lees College with Michael Smathers, assistant professor of sociology.

Scheduled lectures are by James Klein, director of the Day Care Center, Mountain Mental Health Services; Rev. Jack Weller, author of "Yesterday's People," and (See Story No. 6, Page 8)

System Sought For Same Area In Water Dist.

A sewer system and sewage disposal plant to serve the same area of the county into which the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District will lay 82 miles of water mains within the next 18 months is envisioned in an application for federal funds filed Jan. 10, J. C. Wells, of Estill, leader in the huge improvement program, said last week.

Mr. Wells said the application is for a $3,060,000 Economic Development Administration (EDA) grant and a loan of $765,000 from FHA.

Wells said sewage disposal, long needed, becomes more essential than ever with the extension of water service into the Right and Left Beaver Creek sections. Completion of the water system, he said, will add to water pollution, which already is high, unless a sewer system is provided.

Work on the $2-million-plus water system has been delayed because of easement problems, but these have been pretty well settled and the laying of the 12-inch mains may begin within the next two weeks.

Right-of-way problems forced a condemnation action for a site at Allen of the water preparation plant. Cooperation of the Department of Highways and the C. and O. Railway Company have been assured, affording right-of-way for water mains where private landowners balked, it was said.

The C. F. W. Construction Co., Fayetteville, Tenn., low bidder on the water mains, has sublet this work to the B and B Construction Co., Prestonsburg. The bid on (See Story No. 4, Page 8)

Commission Seeking Names of War Dead

Development of a War Memorial area at Archer Park here has advanced to the point that work may be begun soon on the bronze plaque bearing the names of Floyd county's war dead, and for this phase of the memorial the Prestonsburg Park Commission this week asked contributions.

It was explained that none of the recreation development funds made available through federal grant, on a matching basis, may not be used for this purpose, inasmuch as a permanent memorial plaque does not fall within the purview of recreation. The Park Commission hopes to complete the War Memorial, including the permanent record of the county's war dead, this summer, but the plaque depends upon the interest of residents of the county in such an undertaking.

The Park Commission has contacted the War Department for the list of the dead in World Wars I and II, the Korean Conflict and Vietnam but, fearing the list provided is not complete, is publishing the War Department's list elsewhere in The Times and is asking relatives of servicemen who lost their lives in these wars to report their names to the board if they are omitted from the published list. The War Department list includes 20 who died in World War I, 130 in World War II, 25 in Korea and 11 in Vietnam.

The federal recreation grant, made on a matching basis, may be applied to landscaping, ball parks and work allied with recreation.

The memorial, of which the plaque bearing the names of war dead will be a part, includes development of a table-like elevation of approximately one acre in area. Dominating almost the entire 32-acre park scene, it will have a stadium from which action on three ball fields may be viewed, a fountain and floral plot.

The entire memorial area will be encircled by flags of the 50 states, and the U. S. flag.

Much of the work on the memorial has been completed by D. H. Holbrook Construction Co., contractor. Grading is practically complete, the brick wall which will support the war-dead plaque and be a part of the stadium has been completed, and flagpoles have arrived. The Park Commission expects the entire project to be completed next summer, if cost of the plaque is subscribed.

SPARKS-WEBB VOWS SOLEMNIZED

Miss Dinah Lynn Sparks, daughter of Mrs. Jettie Sparks Shreve and the late Wm. McKinley Sparks, and Mr. Johnny Edward Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Webb, were married December 27 at 2 p.m. at the Arnold Avenue Church of Christ, Prestonsburg.

Evangelist Bennie Blankenship performed the double-ring ceremony. Mr. Bill Gilliland, minister, led the closing prayer. Nuptial music was rendered by Miss Pam Spradlin, organist. Mrs. L. B. Fairchild and Mr. Bill Gilliland were soloists.

Brass candelabra were decorated with Christmas holly and red berries, windows were decorated with floating candles in brandy snuffers and holly, and pews were decorated with holly and white satin grapes.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Oakley Sparks, chose for her wedding a floor-length paneled sheath of delustered satin with low scoop neckline and lily-pointed sleeves. The focal points of her dress were re-embroidered with aliencon lace and baby seed pearls. Her detachable train was held in place at the shoulder. Lace and seed pearls outlines the scalloped train, and her imported cathedral veil of illusion was held in place by a lily-petaled tiara trimmed in pearls and net.

The bride carried a white aliencon Bible covered with a white orchid and tied with lace-edge satin ribbon and stephanotis.

Mrs. Belinda Herald, niece of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length, ruby-red velvet sheath dress with a tulip neckline accentuated with tiny white pearl buttons ending at the empire waist, elbow-length sleeves and a tiny bow gracing the back of the dress. She wore white shoes and gloves, and carried a nosegay of a white mum, with white and green streamers.

The mother of the bride chose a pink-and-white dress, with black accessories. Her corsage was white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a light-blue dress trimmed in white, with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. John I. Jarrell, of South Gate, Michigan, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Donald and Ronald Merritt, of Bonanza.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The bride's table was covered with a white linen table cloth and decorated with Fostoria and red carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with wedding bell, also a bride and groom between layers. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Willis Sparks and Mrs. Oakley Sparks. Miss Glenna Fannin was at the guest register.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb will reside here.

Woman Dies, Two Charged With Murder

West Liberty, Ky.—Two Morgan county men, arrested near here Sunday night and charged with robbery, attempted rape and assault and battery with attempt to kill, were charged with murder Monday after the 75-year-old victim died.

The charge was amended following the death of Mrs. Rissie Steele Day in a Lexington hospital after what the police called a severe beating.

Earl Ray Perkins, 20, and Wesley Hibbins, 19, both of near West Liberty, were apprehended Sunday at the home of Perkin's father about three miles north of here.

Alonzo Hensley, detective in the state Bureau of Investigation, said two men gained entrance to the Day home, located on Day Hill, one mile east of here, about noon Sunday on pretext of using the phone. Mrs. Day, who lived alone, was a semi-invalid. The pair took about $6 from a cabinet, police said.

After the two fled, Mrs. Day crawled to the door where a passerby heard her cries and summoned help.

Hensley said Perkins and Hibbins have also been charged with the Saturday breaking and entering at the home of Mrs. Jessie Reed of White Oak, also a widow. Guns were taken in that robbery.

Mrs. Day, the widow of Ollie C. Day, was a daughter of the late J. Floyd and Kitisie Murphy Steele. A member of the Christian Church, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Herbert, of Austin, Tex., and Mrs. Ima Littrell, of Winchester, Ky.; a son, Eugene Day, of Jasper, Ala.; three brothers, Earl Steele, of Cincinnati, Ohio, Snowden Steele, of Nashville, Tenn., and J. K. Steele, of Louisville Ky., and two sisters, Mrs. Cal Jones, of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Donald Henry of Covington, Kentucky.

Welfare Recipients To Do 'Paper Work' on Applications

Welfare recipients in this county will be doing some of their own paper work soon, thus giving social workers more time to help people.

Economic Security Commissioner Merritt S. Deitz, Jr. said that, beginning Jan. 15, a "simplified method" system for applying for public assistance went into effect.

Deitz said the simplified system is designed to cut down on red tape involved in determining the eligibility of persons applying for aid.

"They fill out the forms themselves, return them to the public assistance office and then a social worker determines whether their personal and financial status makes them eligible for aid," Deitz said.

"The system is controlled by in-depth investigations of the information received," Deitz said.

"A substantial number of cases are validated much in the same manner as income tax returns are checked for accuracy," he added.

Deitz explained the simplified system was tested for more than a year in six counties.

"We found the results so satisfactory that we decided to implement the method statewide by February," Deitz said.

Deitz listed several advantages of the simplified method:

"It cuts the time between initial application for money and receipt of the first welfare check," he said.

"It also frees social workers from tedious paper work, allowing them to spend more time with recipients who need help for problems other than financial ones," he added.

White-collar workers will continue to outnumber blue-collar workers by more than 50 percent in 1980. However, 31 million workers will be employed in blue-collar jobs, an increase of more than 2 million over 1970.

who escaped from LaGrange reformatory last June 28. Smith, the sheriff said, was serving two pen terms totalling seven years after his conviction in this county on grand larceny charges.

Eighty-one-year-old Joseph Howell, of Steeli's Creek, was jailed here last week by Deputy Sheriffs Sollie Holbrook and Albert Salyers on a charge of reckless use of a deadly weapon, and warrants charging the aged prisoner with sodomy and threatening the life of a woman were later served on him by Constable Kenneth Roberts. Howell remained in jail Monday.

IT WAS ROUGH, DOWNWIND

Speaking of old wife's tales, ancient remedies and the like recalls the winter when Spanish influenza swung the scythe, reaping a grimmer harvest even than the bubonic plague. One woman who occasionally stopped at our gate wore a bag of asafoetida around her neck, and, so armored, defied the flu to do its worst.

She, of course, remained malodorously healthy through it all.

One man, who had caught a whiff of the magic potion she carried, explained that no decent germ with an iota of self-respect would dare tackle such counter-pestilence.

Another, who was not renowned for veracity, said he found two polecats 50 yards downwind from the lady and they paid him no heed as he approached—were too busy, each holding the other's nose, to pass the time of day.

ODOR GAUGE NOT RELIABLE

And now, to bring matters up-to-date, we record the fact that the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission has gone and got itself a Scentometer—why, I cannot with any degree of satisfaction to myself or anybody else say. The gadget merely regulates the amount of odorous air to be smelled. If one part of air with an odor is added to seven parts of pure air and it still stinks, that's too much to be within the limits set by the Commission.

The main weakness of the Scentometer, it seems, is, its measurement of odor still relies on the operator's opinion and sense of smell. And if the operator has a cold, he is advised to hang the Scentometer over the nearest fence-post and go home, take plenty of bed-rest and consume copious amounts of liquids.

Before you apply the Scentometer to this column, I will ask if you heard of the fellow's explanation of how-come he got himself arrested and was an overnight guest of the county. Said he: "They caught me drinkin' Christmas likker out of season."

months, hence. But, he claims, "If a good job could be programmed, the program could come under Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) and be a permanent fixture."

Opponents of Schecter's plan say it is impractical and wasteful of the taxpayer's money and that the recruiting of doctors and others into the county would make it impossible to attract professional people to private practice here in the face of such competition.

Dr. George P. Archer, one of those most outspoken against Schecter's plan, pointed out that already a dentist who is paid with public funds has been placed by the health program at Wheelwright, making survival in his profession impossible for the private practitioner who had located there.

"These people they would bring into the county," he said, "would stay just long enough to discourage the young doctors who are coming out of school and want to come back to this county. They would go elsewhere. And that is just what we have been doing, all along—sending our people elsewhere."

The competition program-financed pharmacies would create for pharmacies already established under private ownership also is under fire. And, say opponents of the Schecter plan, any medical specialists and others brought into the county would be without facilities.

One viewer wondered: "Is the health program having growing pains, or is it in its death throes?"

The program is financially pressed, just now. It was "supposed" to get funds for the period, November through January, but the work proposal submitted was turned down on what Dr. Schecter termed a technicality. Now, he says, there is a danger of having to suspend operations, though private interim financing in the amount of $180,000 is possible.

To get the program's finances squared away, the board of the Comprehensive Health Services Program met Monday evening at May Lodge with the Big Sandy Community Action Program (Big Sandy CAP), hoping to get its proposal for the nine-month period, Nov. 1, 1970 to July 1, 1971 approved.

Dr. Schecter said he found objectionable a provision written into the working arrangement with Big Sandy CAP. This provided that all policy and hiring by the health program must be reviewed by Big Sandy CAP.

Dr. Schecter claims that all comprehensive health programs in the country, with the exception of one or two, already are operating under a plan similar to that proposed for him for the Floyd county program.

this phase of construction was $1,641,197. Mr. Wells said that the laying of water main from Allen to Martin is expected to be completed within the next 60 days.

Also slated for early work is the water treatment plant at Allen by the Frye Engineering Co., Winchester, Ky. This work will cost $579,150. Storage tanks will be constructed by Continental-Fremont Corp., Fremont, O., for $115,023.

The contract calls for completion of all phases of the system within 540 working days.

State Would Save Passenger Service

The Kentucky Railroad Commission told U. S. Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe it is vitally interested in retaining the state's five remaining rail passenger routes, when the service begins operation under a new semi-public system May 1.

Volpe is now in the process of designating terminal cities to be served under the new plan.

Eight Kentucky cities are now included as stops along Louisville-Washington, Cincinnati-Nashville, Chicago-Louisville, Chicago-New Orleans and St. Louis-Atlanta runs.

Main Pollution Problems To Be Handled Regionally

The state's main air pollution problems—transportation, fuel combustion and industrial processes—will be handled on a regional basis as a result of a new federal law, according to Prof. Orville Stewart, chairman of the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission.

Addressing a meeting of the League of Women Voters in Louisville, Stewart said under the new edition of the Clean Air Act the state's 40,000 square miles may be covered with eight or nine air quality regions. Five regions—Paducah-Cairo; Henderson-Evansville; Louisville; Cincinnati, and Ashland-Huntington—have already been established.

He explained that the federal government rather than state and local agencies control automobile emissions standards. "States may play only a monitoring and enforcement role," Stewart added. California, the leader in automotive pollution control, may set its own standards.

According to Stewart, the KAPCC's eleven regulations adequately cover fuel combustion and industrial processes at this time.

Pikeville College Enrollment at 867

PIKEVILLE, KY.—Pikeville College's enrollment for the winter semester, which began Jan. 4, is 867.

John Waddell, registrar, said the figure includes a full-time enrollment of 617, a night and Saturday class enrollment of 67, and a part-time enrollment of 183 in the Career Opportunity Program, a federal project for Pike county system teacher aides.

The teacher aide program is conducted through cooperation of the Pike County Board of Education.

Farm Crops' Value Declines in State

Southern leaf blight, which ruined some 35 per cent of Kentucky's corn crop this year, was the main cause of a $23 million drop in the state's total farm crop value according to recent projections from the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The projected value of tobacco, including dark types grown in Western Kentucky, was off about $9 million, or 3 per cent under last year, because of less production. Average prices, however, rose a little more than two cents per pound—70.2 cents for 1970, compared with 68 cents for 1969.

The value of corn for grain, not including silage, dropped more than $24 million.

Soybeans offset some of the losses to corn and tobacco by increasing in value to over $42 million, $11 million over 1969.

Processed vegetables more than doubled in value to $2.5 million.

The Department of Economic Security has agreed with a private agency in Jefferson Co. to plan day-care services for disadvantaged children of low-income families.

A feasibility study now under way in the Department of Natural Resources will assess the recreational and historical potential of 33 East and Central Kentucky counties, and may lead to their designation as a national recreation preserve.

The counties forming the outer rim of the proposed area are Owen, Franklin, Anderson, Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln, Rockcastle, Laurel, Jackson, Owsley, Breathitt, Magoffin, Morgan, Elliott, Rowan, Fleming, Nicholas and Harrison.

Governor Nunn has indicated he is hopeful of final action on the proposal during the upcoming session of Congress.

This new car is the best reason not to buy a Volkswagen Beetle.

In a year when every car maker seems to be giving you one reason or another not to buy a Volkswagen Beetle, it might be a good idea to listen to the best reason: Volkswagen's Super Beetle. It has almost twice the luggage space as the Beetle of yesteryear. It has a longer-lasting, more powerful engine. It has a new suspension system for a smoother ride. It has a flow-through ventilation system to bring in fresh air when the windows are closed. The interior is, to be honest, much nicer. The floor of the Super Beetle, for example, is fully carpeted. In all, it has 89 things you could never find on a Beetle. So of all the claims you'll hear this year by car makers that their cars are "better than a Beetle," there's only one car maker with 25 years experience in small cars to back it up. Volkswagen.

Mike Brown Speaks with the People

DEAR FRIENDS, NEIGHBORS and RELATIVES:

Upon making my announcement and declaration as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, many questions and possible answers have entered my mind.

One such question is: Are the Democrats of Kentucky ready to nominate a candidate of my age, which is 27? In contacting young people and Democratic leaders over the seven Congressional districts of Kentucky, I have the assurance that they wish to pass the torch to this generation of young people.

Are the Democrats ready to vote for a candidate who has served both the poor as a social worker, and the well-to-do as an auditor for Sears, Roebuck & Company?

I have talked with people at all economic levels and have been enthusiastically received and encouraged.

I have considered the matter of education. I am a graduate of Alice Lloyd College and attended Notre Dame University. Most of the people I have talked with have either attended Alice Lloyd or have relatives who have, and they know the qualifications of Alice Lloyd graduates.

I am a past youth co-chairman for two former great Governors of Kentucky, Bert Combs and Ned Breathitt, and most people consider my active part in these campaigns as having been in the best interest of the Democratic party and Kentucky as a whole.

I was born and reared in Floyd county and am proud to be a blood relative of these Kentucky families:

The Pattons, Browns, Hamiltons, Sizemores, Clicks, Stones, Praters, Mays, Manuels, Reffitts, Conleys, Robinsons, Allens, Halls, Neeleys, Hoovers, Coburns, Stephenses, Mayos, Osbornes, Johnsons, Halberts, Ratliffs, Hales, Hatchers, Combes, Scotts, Cases, Tacketts, Thomases, Bentleys, Wallens, Hicks, Triplets, Wickers, Smiths, Huffs, Gearhearts, Leslies, Martins, Ousleys, Moores, Stewarts, Montgomerys — from all of whom I have a heritage of which I am proud.

I humbly ask the people of our county to join in helping nominate me in May and elect me next November to serve the people of this commonwealth as Clerk of our Court of Appeals.

Club Honors Mrs. Pezzarossi With Title of 'Miss Democrat'

MRS. PEZZAROSS

(The following, first published in The Jefferson Reporter, Louisville, pertains to a former Floyd county woman, Mrs. Helen Pezzarossi, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pittman, resided at Wayland. Her husband is Johnny Pezzarossi, formerly a resident of Lackey.)

Time was when politics was a man's game, but those days are long gone.

Women have stormed every bastion of the once forbidden political ivory tower, and their participation ranges from elected office to local election work.

One of the hardest workers on the precinct level must be Mrs. Helen Pezzarossi, 1620 Rangeland.

A Democratic precinct captain in her B25 area for 19 years, Mrs. Pezzarossi recently has been named "Miss Democrat of 1970" by the Spirit of '46 Democratic Club.

Her award is a trophy crowned with the Democratic rooster.

When asked why she was chosen for the honor, Mrs. Pezzarossi said, "I guess because I never lose my precinct," meaning Democratic candidates always win there.

She has been interested and active in politics all her life, and has passed at least some of her zeal on to her three sons who've "never missed voting."

Of her choice of the Democratic over the Republican party, Mrs. Pezzarossi said she feels the Democratic Party is for the "working man."

"I think most all of the (Democratic) elected officials see the needs of the working class." She also said she thinks it is the more democratic of the two parties because it chooses "a man for his own merits." But, she added, "I'd be lying if I said we didn't get a few cracks in it (the party) once in a while."

Mrs. Pezzarossi is a strong advocate of youthful participation in politics. "They are the leaders of tomorrow."

As for women in politics, "It's very important!" The woman knows the obligations of the home, and is aware of the needs of the children, the schools, and the consumer, she said.

"Every housewife can be politically active," she said. She can have teas to talk about candidates, and invite the candidates to speak before women's groups, "or any groups," she said.

Her advice to the voter?

"Get out there and talk to the candidates. Get his point of view. It's very important to understand the person who is running, to know the person you vote for."

And if you feel strongly about a candidate, feel he is the best for the community or the state, "Get active. . . even if it's just to talk to others about your choice."

Mrs. Pezzarossi is active in many areas of her community, and, having a son who is deaf, she said she works a lot with the deaf. "They are often a forgotten people."

"Involved" is the word best describing Mrs. Pezzarossi. "I've always been a fighter for the community," she said and "taking it easy" seems to have no place in her future.

1970, State's Best Investment Year

Commerce Commissioner Paul W. Grubbs last week called 1970 Kentucky's best year in history in terms of private industrial investment.

He said new industries in Kentucky this year will invest more than $504 million into the state's economy.

Grubbs termed it significant that nearly 87 per cent of the total is private taxable investment—that is, not financed by the tax-free revenue bonds which were used heavily in the mid-1960s.

A total of 72 new industries were announced this year, providing 6556 new jobs for Kentuckians, while major expansions by 92 existing industries will add an additional 3061 jobs.

Van Horn, Speaker As Floyd Council For Retarded Meets

A regular meeting of the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children was held January 12 in the lunchroom of the Martin school. The president, Rev. Lawrence Baldridge, of Alice Lloyd College, announced to the members that the Council has received its membership from the National Association for Retarded Children. The Council is also a member of the Kentucky Association for Retarded Children.

The guest speaker was Ray Van Horn, co-ordinator for the Regional Mountain Mental Health and Retardation Association. Mr. Van Horn came to the county from Louisville and has had a wide experience in regular as well as special education for exceptional children. He also has been the director of a sheltered workshop. Mr. Van Horn's remarks were directed towards acquainting council members with what a comprehensive program for the retarded is. He presented 10 guidelines for implementing such a program. Though quite idealistic, each comprehensive retardation program should strive to meet these guidelines, Mr. Van Horn said. It would be difficult, he added, to select the most important goal, but one that is most vital and attainable is the need for the retarded to be accepted by the community in which he lives to the extent that he be allowed to participate in the affairs of the community.

More program meeting will be planned for the Floyd County Council in the future, and advance notices will be sent out. All members are urged to attend these meetings and become an active part in this program.

Mail Contractor Barred from Work

Robert Gillespie, of Pikeville, has been debarred from government contract work for three years for alleged violation of the Service Contract Act.

Gillespie had a contract for transporting mail between Pikeville and Ashland. He failed to pay $2,279 in required minimum wages and fringe benefits to six drivers subject to the Act, and did not keep proper records, the government claims.

Violation charges were brought after investigations by the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division. The investigations were conducted under the supervision of Area Director Ernest C. Orr, Lexington.

Insurance Department officials expect to receive some 100 applications for bail-bonding licenses, as regulation of the bail bond business by the state began Jan. 1.

Perry County Ghost Town Showing Signs of Revival

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

HAZARD, KY.—About four miles south of here, where KY 15 crosses the North Fork River, sits the once-thriving coal camp of Glomawr.

Some 30 years ago this little mountain metropolis, whose genesis was occasioned by coal, mushroomed into full development. According to the 1940 census, it boasted a population of 1,000 persons, with all enjoying the blessings that came with full employment and prosperity.

But, as in the case of so many other entities whose destinies have been tied to a nonrenewable resource subjected to exploitation, the rich veins of coal played out. Then in direct proportion to the speed of its earlier growth, the town sank into deterioration and decay. Economic gloom settled down like smog over the little community and the population swiftly faded away. Where once there had been several hundred families, only about 50 remained to maintain watch over the dying town.

But about two years ago in the spring of 1968, sparked into action by the University of Kentucky's Appalachian Community Impact Project, the remaining families decided to do something about the situation. With community contact, Mrs. Lorinda Fugate, serving as counselor, and community development specialist, William R. Bridges, acting as a resource person, the people organized themselves into a working group which they called the Glomawr Community Development Association.

Through this organization, the people first identified their most pressing needs and then devised means for meeting those needs. The road back has been difficult and fraught with disappointments, but there has been progress and important gains.

They have regained a significant measure of self-respect and much confidence in their own ability. They have improved the road into the community, expanded the water system until now more than half the families have city water, graded down a lot for a community playground, renovated and added to the lunchroom equipment of their school, organized a very active Parent-Teacher Association, and encouraged and made it possible for several residents to attend and take part in adult education classes and senior citizen programs.

In addition, this development group, now headed by Carl Smith, has organized homemaker clubs, home garden projects, and set up a youth group to promote inter-community sports.

Considerable attention has been given to community clean-up activities and 29 of the 50 families have completed home improvement projects.

All these programs and projects have required something more than just group and individual effort and work. Some money was necessary, and here again they looked to their own resources and initiative. Through shooting matches, community carnivals, box suppers, food sales, and other traditional money-raising events, they raised substantial amounts of funds so desperately needed.

Of course all this effort has not brought in new industry and no factory wheels are spinning as a result. But one thing is certain: Glomawr has become a much more pleasant and attractive community. And that isn't all.

Questions and Answers

about surface-mining activities in eastern Kentucky....

FACTS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW ABOUT SURFACE MINING...

Q But what about reclamation? Isn't this just a "hit-or-miss" proposition?

A Definitely not. Reclamation is just as important to responsible operators as the mining phases of their operations. And they're doing a good job of it. It must be remembered, however, that there's no such thing as "instant" reclamation. Successful restoration of mined land takes time... time for seeds to germinate... for root systems to develop... for vegetation to take hold and thrive.

Reclamation of mined land in mountainous terrain is a relatively new science. But much progress has been made. Hydroseeding techniques are now commonly used to seed and fertilize graded slopes and benches. Experiments have been undertaken with state and federal conservation agencies to determine the advantages of various seeds and legumes for specific reclamation needs: for restoring aesthetic beauty to the land... for stabilizing the soil against erosion... for quick cover while residual grasses and shrubs develop... for attracting wild game and bird life.

Q What are some of these experiments?

A

In one surface-mined area of eastern Kentucky, for example, experimental plantings have been made of the following grass covers: Crown Vetch, ideal for cattle forage and especially suited to mine spoils; Kentucky 31 Fescue, adaptable to semi-arid conditions with a fibrous root system for soil stabilization and providing good winter forage; and early spring pasture; Kobe and Korean Lespedeza, excellent as hay and pasture; Bi-Color Lespedeza, primarily as food for game birds and for pedera; primarily as hay and winter rye, to provide quick cover and allow residual grasses to develop; Millet and Sunflower, to provide food for game birds and small animals such as squirrels, rabbits, and chipmunks.

Memorial Garden To Honor War Dead

The Archer Park Commission plans to build a Memorial Garden dedicated to Floyd county's War Dead. A knoll of land in the center of the park is to be landscaped with walkways and flower gardens. A large fountain is to be in front of a long, brick wall on which a bronze plaque bearing the names of all Floyd countians killed in World War I, World War II, Korea and Vietnam. Flags of all fifty states will surround the Memorial Garden.

Below are listed names we obtained from the War Department. We would appreciate your notifying us of any names we have failed to list or any that are misspelled. The cost of the bronze plaque will be approximately $15.00 per name. Anyone who wishes to help defray the expenses of this memorial should make their check payable to the Archer Park War Memorial.

We, the members of the park commission, hope that this small plot of land will serve to remind our people of the sacrifice made by the young men for our country. It is our prayer that, as Abraham Lincoln said, "... those dead shall not have died in vain and that this nation under God shall not perish from the earth".

Pick up a good second car from Volkswagen.

Somebody traded in a Rolls-Royce for a Volkswagen? Yes, somebody traded in a Rolls-Royce for a Volkswagen. It happened in Texas, of course. But even in average states some pretty fancy cars show up on a VW dealer's used car lot. And some not so fancy cars. And some quite practical cars. Like Volkswagens. But no car, Rolls or VW, gets that guarantee on the windshield automatically. First it goes through a rigorous 16-point inspection.

If anything needs fixing, it gets fixed. Only then does the dealer guarantee the free repair or replacement of every major working part* for thirty days or a thousand miles. Whichever comes first. So when a Volkswagen dealer says that a used car is as good on the inside as it looks on the outside, you don't have to trust him. He'll put it all down in writing for you.
