Geo. Evans To Be Coal Firm Prexy

Beaver Cr. Consol, Huge Coal Acreage Involved in Merger

The National Steel Corporation has acquired Evans Industries of Kentucky and its associated companies, George A. Stinson, National Steel president, announced last week.

The acquisition, for National Steel capital stock, approximately doubles National's holdings of coal acreage in Eastern Kentucky and brings to it an operating organization to manage and expand the company's growing coal operations in this area.

In 1969 Evans Industries and National Steel organized Beaver Creek Consolidated Coal Company, of which Evans held 10 per cent, to open two new mines in the Elkhorn seam, Knott county, and to build a coal washing plant for their 1.5-million-ton annual output. National now has acquired complete ownership of Beaver Creek.

The coal acreage and leases all are in eastern Kentucky and are almost completely contained in a block contiguous to coal land already owned by National Steel. "Combining the acreage of this transaction with that we already owned will give National Steel almost 130,000 acres of high-grade metallurgical coal and low-sulphur steam coal," Richard E. Thompson, vice president-purchases and traffic for National Steel, said. "In addition, the Evans organization, which has opened both the Stinson and Jones Fork mines and is building the Stinson preparation plant for third-quarter (1971) start-up, will join National Steel as a group. As officers of Beaver Creek, now a wholly owned subsidiary of National, they will continue to manage and supervise existing leases and production and to plan development of the low-sulphur steam coal properties for which there is a growing electric utility demand."

Mr. Evans will continue as president of the merged properties. Other Evans officials who will join National include David (See Story No. 6, Page 10)

Prestonsburg Child Accidentally Shot

Judy, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Colvin, was listed in satisfactory condition Sunday evening in a Lexington hospital where she is recovering from a wound suffered when her sister accidentally fired a .38 caliber pistol at their home near here. The gun was found in a drawer in a bedroom by the girls who thought it was a toy.

Members of the family said the child was shot in the upper left chest.

This Town . . . That World

The germ has already been planted. There's no serum, no preventive step to be taken. It's inevitable. Spring fever.

FOILED AGAIN

I am not wise to the ways of nature, but I have read that the arbutus comes to life earliest in Spring, blooming into delicate flower even beneath a blanket of leaves with a layer of snow for a "comforter." Meanwhile, the frog comes early, croaking his head off. For a moment there I thought I might have a right pretty conclusion to reach—namely, that beauty comes in silence while the ugly makes the welkin ring, so to speak. But then I am reminded of the beautiful robin and the lowly worm—and is there anything more silent than a worm?

BOOK OF MEMORIES

Forgot what a "Mother Hubbard" was? Or how went the old game, "Grandmother Hobble-Gobble," and a lot of other things you shouldn't be forgetting? Then read Bess Bradley Quillen's "In the East Kentucky Hills."

This work, which amounts to the Book of Memories of a fine, Christian woman, might be as interesting to some of our youngsters as to us of the Square generation.

One of more humorous spots in the book is reached when Mrs. Quillen writes of how women of that era rode, sidesaddle. She tells the story of the young lady who thus made her way to church and in dismounting caught her skirt on the horn of the saddle while certain bold, young men ogled. Reminded by the preacher that "the Lord might strike them blind," all but one turned their backs. The one who kept vigil on the young damsel's predicament covered half his face and said, "Believe I'll risk one eye."

WE'LL STAY WITH THE OLD

Why destroy the Establishment? Sure, it's old. So are Plymouth Rock and "Amazing Grace." But it works—not perfectly, but it works.

Beaver-Elkhorn Water System Work Slated

Approximately 5,000 tons of 12-inch pipe were being unloaded at Martin this week by the B. and B. Construction Company in anticipation of the beginning of work next week on the laying of water mains for the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District into both Beaver Creek sections and the area between Allen and Martin.

First work on the $2-million-plus water system, the most extensive to be undertaken in Eastern Kentucky, is already under way, with construction begun at Allen on the water plant to serve the system.

Ditching work for the laying of water mains will start next week between Allen and Martin. After that is completed, work on the system will branch out from Martin into Right and Left Beaver Creeks.

B. and B. Construction Company, headquarters here, is sub-contractor on this phase of the project. The low bidder was C. F. W. Construction Co., Fayetteville, Tennessee, which contracted to do the work for $1,641,197. Frye Engineering Co., Winchester, Ky., is constructing the water treatment plant for $579,150. Storage tanks will be constructed by the Continental-Fremont Corp., Fremont, O., for $115,023. The contractors have 540 working days in which to complete the project.

PTA at Martin Protests Plans For New Bldg.

State and county school officials have received from the Martin Parent-Teacher Association a recommendation that the Floyd County Board of Education revise its plan for a seven-room school structure at Martin and that a new plan be initiated, looking toward the construction of an 18-room grade-school building there, plus a physical education facility.

The letter, addressed to Supt. of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler, Sam Alexander, secretary, Kentucky Board of Education, Floyd Supt. Charles Clark and members of the Floyd board of education, (See Story No. 5, Page 10)

State and Federal Agencies In Joint Park Cleanup Effort

Supreme Court Refuses Review Of Floyd Case

The Supreme Court declined Monday to hear the appeal filed by Appalachian Volunteers, Inc. and Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) from this county from the decision of lower federal courts on the status of a Kentucky court injunction against them.

The case at issue involved the barring by court order of the two groups from Floyd school grounds. The AV's and VISTA's claimed they were barred after they pressed school officials about administration of the school lunch program. U. S. district court and the U. S. Court of Appeals refused to act in the case which had originated in circuit court here on the ground that the case had not been appealed to the state Court of Appeals and that no effort had been made to have the (See Story No. 4, Page 10)

Schechter's Firing May Be Definite

Health Affairs OK Given New Budget; 'Team' Visits Floyd

"Ifs" and "buts" continued to surround the affairs of the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Program this week, although it has apparently been funded through next July 31 and the discharge of Dr. Arnold Schechter as director of the program was approved last Thursday by the Office of Health Affairs.

The "if" remaining about funding lies in the approval of the budget by Governor Louie B. Nunn.

The unsettled question surrounding the dismissal of Dr. Schechter lies in the determination by OEO that the directors have complied with the provision of CA Memo 23-A which directs that employee grievance shall be given prompt and fair consideration and provision for review if personnel actions must be made in any case in which there is a claim of unfair treatment or of dismissal without cause.

"In the present situation," Dr. Thomas E. Bryant, director of the Office of Health Affairs, wrote County Judge Henry Stumbo, chairman of the Big Sandy CAP board of directors, and Mrs. Eleanor Robinson, chairman of the Comprehensive Health board of directors, "the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Corporation has informed us that it has exercised its discretion in discharging its program director." the dike, from which point gravity will take care of the load into the Prestonsburg system.

And, since the lake area is being cleaned up, there is a strong possibility that camping along its shores during the coming season will be limited to two central areas—across the lake from Terry's boat dock and an area with limited facilities between that dock and the dam.

Lack of toilet facilities and garbage disposal may cause the Corps of Engineers to prohibit all camping elsewhere, it was indicated.

Hospital Chapel Fund Gets $2011

Ruling Elder Rainley (Snow) White, of the First Presbyterian Church here, is shown at right presenting a check for $2011 to Chalmers H. Frazier, administrator of the Prestonsburg General Hospital, to be used toward furnishing a chapel in the Highlands Regional Hospital now under construction on Route 23, between Prestonsburg and Paintsville.

The Chapel will be in memory of a young, Christian girl, Alana Reed, Alana was the daughter of Mrs. Vada Reed and the late Alan Reed. She was a member of the Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church as a young girl and later transferred her membership to the First Presbyterian Church, Ashland, Ky. Alana was killed at the age of 19 in a plane crash on her way back to college. The late E. R. Burke, of Prestonsburg, initiated this fund through the Presbyterian Church here.

Christians of different denominations contributed to it. It is the hope of the Session of the Presbyterian Church that this Chapel will be a Christian source of comfort for those who seek spiritual and physical healing in the new hospital.

House Bill Would Divide County

Floyd and 30 other counties, most of which are in Eastern Kentucky, will be split if the House redistricting bill introduced last week wins approval of the General Assembly at its current special session.

The Senate redistricting bill splits seven counties.

The old 96th House district which mainly embraced the Left Beaver Creek and southern (upriver) Floyd section, according to the new bill, would wind up far away—in the area covered by Lewis and Carter counties.

Neither Floyd county Representative was happy about the proposed changes. Representative T. P. Reynolds' 96th district travels north, and his Mud Creek section apparently will go into Pike county to provide enough population for a second House district for Pike. Representative W. J. Reynolds is opposed to the cutting away of any part of the county into another.

Meanwhile, Senator Clifford B. Latta is unhappy with the Senate redistricting bill which would add Perry county to the present 29th district composed of Floyd, Knott and Martin counties.

The proposed new 29th would begin with the Tug River in Martin and extend across the Kentucky in Perry. "Many rivers to cross," was the dejected comment heard in Frankfort.

The 96th House district (what remains of Floyd after a part is cut off to Pike), and each of the two Pike districts will have an estimated population (average) of 32,316.

Other districts, as proposed, and the population of each:

- 92nd—Knott, Magoffin, Wolfe and the northeast section of Letcher (33,410 population).
- 91st—Remainder of Letcher and part of Perry (33,565).
- 89th—Breathitt, Lee and remainder of Perry (33,522).
- 97th—Johnson, Martin and part of Morgan (32,135).
- 71st—Remainder of Morgan, Menifee, Rowan and Elliott (31,793).
- 99th—Lawrence and southern section of Boyd (31,551).
- 100th—Remainder of Boyd (31,551).
- 98th—Greenup (33,192).

Traffic Offenders, Drunks in Majority Of Week's Arrests

Reed, FBI Agents McGinty and Adams; Guy Jones, no operator's license, by Deputy Sheriffs Virgil Conn and Grady Skeens; Kenneth Hall and Carmol Howell, escaping custody, by Deputy Sheriffs Dester Hamilton and T. MISS RICE, MR. KING WED

Barbara Ann Rice exchanged nuptial vows with Thomas Ervin King December 26, 1970, at a 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony in the United Methodist Church, Newell, Iowa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Rice, of Newell. Mr. King is the son of Mrs. Blanche A. King, of Pullman, Washington, and the late Mr. King.

Rev. Lloyd E. Brockmeyer officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mr. Bill Henrich, Jr., organist, played Beethoven's "Ode to Joy" as the processional and recessional and accompanied soloist Wayne Kischer as he sang "One Hand, One Heart" after the couple had spoken their vows.

Escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father, the bride wore lace around the high neckline, down the front, encircling the empire waist and edging the full circular chapel train. Long, full sleeves were gathered into deep cuffs edged with Venice lace. The elbow-length veil of illusion was held in place by three satin flowers, the petals trimmed with pearls and jewels. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, pink sweetheart roses, and ivy entwined throughout. Her jewelry included pearl earrings, a coventry cross necklace, gift of the groom's mother, and a star sapphire and diamond ring, wedding gift of the groom.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her friend, Reva Arends, Cedar Falls, Iowa. Miss Susan Rice, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid. They wore magenta velvet, A-line floor length gowns, fashioned with scoop necklines and short sleeves. In their hair they wore pink satin bows with streamers hanging to the floor. The attendants carried nosegays of pink carnations with pink streamers. Serving the bride as personal attendant was Mrs. Rolan Gibbons, of Newell.

The flower girls, both cousins of the bride, Cathy Reed of Alta, Iowa, and Tresa Booth of Tracy, Minnesota, wore identical pink velvet A-line gowns with long bell sleeves.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Mr. Robert King, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Mr. Leonard Booth, Tracy, Minnesota, cousin of the bride, was groomsman. Todd Hatch, of Cherokee, Iowa, cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a lace pillow, made by Susan Rice.

Ushers were Mr. Steve Booth, of Bemedji, Minnesota, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Dale Arends, a friend of the bride, of Newell, Iowa.

Candlelighters were Alan Rice, brother of the bride and Tracey Booth, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore an olive green knit dress and the groom's mother wore a blue lace dress. Both wore pink carnation corsages. Mrs. Hilda Booth, Storm Lake, Iowa, grandmother of the bride, wore a lavender dress and a corsage of white carnations. Since the groom's grandmother was unable to attend, flowers were wired to her in Pullman, Washington.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Arends and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eisenhauer, both of Newell, serving as hosts and hostesses. The guest book was attended to by Miss Mary Lynn Rice, sister of the bride, and the gifts were cared for by friends of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cork of Galva, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Allen of Des Moines, Iowa. The cake was cut and served by aunts of the bride, Mrs. Hester Smith and Mrs. Harold Boyce, of Storm Lake. Presiding at the punch bowl and silver service were cousins of the bride, Mrs. Ronnie Hatch, Cherokee, and Mrs. Robert Reed, Alta. After the bridal table was served, the new Mrs. King surprised her groom by singing "More" to him, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Eisenhauer. Waitresses were Mary Lynn Rice, and cousins, D'Ann Booth, Minneapolis, Minnesota, Nancy Rice, Lakefield, Minnesota, Patty Rice, Elizabeth Rice and Janiece Otto, all of Storm Lake.

Mrs. King graduated from Newell-Providence high school and is a student at the University of Iowa, majoring in English. Mr. King graduated from Pullman high school, Pullman, Washington. He has a B. A. in communications from Washington State University and is doing graduate work at the University of Iowa. He is now teaching broadcasting and communications at Prestonsburg Community College.

Mr. and Mrs. King are making their home at Auxier, Kentucky.

Eyewitness Affidavit Not a Must, Is Ruling

The technicalities of a search warrant aren't so complex, after all, a letter from the office of Attorney General John B. Breckinridge in response to an inquiry from Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo indicates.

Stumbo recently wrote the Attorney General, enclosing a copy of an affidavit on which a search warrant was issued last July by County Judge Henry Stumbo. The prosecutor explained that he and other officials did not want "to flood the courts with invalid affidavits and illegal search warrants."

The affidavit submitted to Breckinridge was made by a state trooper who stated that he saw a man standing in the door of a Floyd county resident's place and saw him walk out with a brown paper bag in his hand. The trooper stopped the man and saw two cans of beer in the bag. He stated in the affidavit that the owner of the place had the reputation of being a bootlegger. This was followed by the usual description and location of the building for which the search warrant was to be issued.

The raid which followed resulted in the confiscation of a large amount of beer and whiskey.

Wrote Assistant Attorney General David E. Murrell response to the commonwealth's attorney's inquiry:

"Your basic question is whether or not the affiant or his informant needs to observe the actual commission of a crime before the affiant can make a proper affidavit. The answer is, No. The affiant or his informant only needs to observe events which would create probable cause in the mind of the issuing magistrate that a crime has been committed and that either contraband or evidence of that crime is harbored at the premises described in the affidavit."

Murrell cited the case of Beets vs. the Commonwealth in which the Court of Appeals upheld the validity of an affidavit for search warrant where the facts were only that an officer saw 20 persons go into a place, carrying no item when they entered; that through a window he saw persons walking about with beer cans in their hands and one at a table with a colored liquid in a glass. This, plus the statement that the owner of the property had a bad reputation as a bootlegger, was sufficient, the Appellate Court held.

In 1966 Attorney General Robert Matthews ruled valid an affidavit for search warrant which stated that as many as 75 cars were seen in a single day to stop at a private residence, that the visitors entered with nothing in their hands but left carrying paper bags. The reputation of the property-owner as a bootlegger was stated in the affidavit, and this with the circumstantial evidence related was held sufficient.

There is a concrete walkway in front of the building, and there is plenty parking room. Mr. Hall also sells Phillips 66 gas on the premises. This property has a road frontage of approximately 200 feet and runs to Beaver Creek.

The building was completed in November, 1970 and is well equipped with new fixtures, including chairs, tables, booths, stools and fountain counter. This business is well equipped in the kitchen part and is very modern.

The main dining room has hardwood floors and part of same is wall-to-wall carpeted.

Here is a new business in an excellent location, already in operation and ready for a buyer to take over AT ONCE a going business.

Hamilton with Chewin' Supply Departs for Spring Training

Morehead, Ky.—With his glove, his family and 30 packages of chewing tobacco, Steve Hamilton headed for Florida last weekend.

The 35-year-old lefthander reported to spring training at Sarasota, Fla. with other players of the Chicago White Sox.

Hamilton is an assistant baseball coach and physical education instructor at Morehead State University during the off season.

For the first time in eight years, the lanky southpaw didn't go to Fort Lauderdale where the New York Yankees hold spring work-outs. He was sold to Chicago late last year after wearing a Yankee uniform since 1963.

The former basketball All-American at MSU didn't have a signed contract with the White Sox when he left Morehead but had reached a verbal agreement with the Chicago front office.

Hamilton, heading into his 14th season in organized baseball and 10th in the majors, expects to continue being a relief pitcher. He was 4-3 last season with a 3.00 earned run average and his "folly floater" pitch was the talk of the American League.

"I'm optimistic about the coming season," said the 6-7 hurler. "Chuck Tanner, the new Chicago manager, is a fine baseball man and they have put together a young, talented club."

The move to the White Sox reunites Hamilton with Johnny Sain, one of his former pitching coaches at New York. "He's a great one," Hamilton said of his new bullpen boss.

Hamilton's tobacco-chewing exploits have been publicized frequently in the national press and he plans to retain his unofficial title as the "chewingist man in the majors." His regular supplier, a Morehead merchant, has ordered a fresh supply of "chewing" for the 1971 season and will be shipping him two cartons every two weeks.

"I'm taking 30 packages with me," Hamilton said. "That should last about three weeks." The popular lefthander uses "about a pack a day and more when it's real hot."

Plan Rummage Sale As Retarded Benefit

A rummage sale will be held Friday and Saturday at Martin, next to the fire station, proceeds to go to the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children, Inc.

Anyone having clothes to be picked up for the sale should call 285-3507.

Now Whom Shall We Blame?

As a rule, whatever happens officially in Kentucky can be blamed, by somebody, on one of the major political parties or on one or more political figures. But placing the blame for this redistricting of the state's Senate and House districts is going to tax the fault-finding capabilities of the most expert in the business.

To begin with, the redistricting is required by a Supreme Court opinion. Eastern Kentucky, which has lost heavily in population, is one of the big sufferers from this one-man, one-vote rule. Rural Kentucky loses while the urban centers gain.

The Legislature now has the task of reapportioning legislative districts to conform with the federal court directive. It has in its hands a very hot potato.

We shall not join the ranks of the faultfinders, but we, as most others, will not be satisfied with this splitting of counties to effect equality of population in districts. It appears that a sizeable portion of the Mud Creek section of this county will be cut off from the 95th House district to get that one district of this county down to the required population range and added to Pike county which needs a few thousand population to make possible a second district there.

A whole flock of questions arise from such a plan, and they, of course, apply to other districts where counties are divided. One of the most pressing of these is this:

Does such an arrangement provide proper representation for these people? They would be a minority group with a very weak voice in the face of the fact that most of the voters who elect their representative live in another county. Except for the natural interest of the Floyd representative in these people who would no longer be his constituents and for that of their Pike representative, they would suffer. For the present they may be in good position, but the situation could change in the future to their disadvantage.

But the courts have handed down their rulings. The Legislature must do the redistricting job, with all its inequities, or the courts will do it—and that could possibly result in even greater inequities.

Justice Black and an Old Stain

Justice Hugo L. Black, of the U. S. Supreme Court, observed his 85th birthday last week and announced his plan to continue his work on the bench.

What makes Hugo Black and the respect he has earned as a Justice the more remarkable is the fact that this is a man who at one time was a member of the Ku Klux Klan. As most Americans now know, the Klan, clothed in secrecy, operated then and now outside the law and mainly as a militant racist group.

The fact that Justice Black has become known not as an ultra-conservative member of the Supreme Court but as a middle-of-the-roader, with liberal leanings, is not so remarkable. The fact that he was ever given a chance to prove his worth is what makes his story unusual.

Today, as a Southerner and a former Ku Kluxer, Justice Black would never pass Congressional muster. Judge Carswell was rejected last year for less. The Congress of today apparently has forgotten that few, if any, mortals have lived their lives without some stain, at some time, besmirching the 'scutcheon.

It is good to know that the life and work of this man Black has served as an effective stain-remover.

To The Editor

SAYS KINDNESS HELPED

On a recent Saturday night, February 20, a bus loaded with Cumberland College students was involved in a collision with an automobile near Prestonsburg. Fortunately, no one in either vehicle was killed or hurt seriously in the accident.

I was the faculty sponsor on the bus and wish by the medium of your newspaper to thank those folks from your town and county who made a near-tragic situation as pleasant as possible for those involved. One usually fails to obtain names at times like these, but one does not forget the efficiency of the state policeman who investigated the accident, those who stopped to direct traffic, those of the rescue squad and the fire department who came out into the cold to give their assistance, those who manned the ambulances, and those at the hospital who ministered to the needs of those who were injured in the accident.

Your town is fortunate to have a hospital (ours does not) and you should be thankful for physicians like Dr. Minix and those who work with him at the hospital. And after losing our game with Pikeville College, then having a wreck which hurt some of our kids and delayed us three hours, what could have helped the feelings of our students more than to have Mr. Hughes, one of your merchants, open his establishment and donate candy enough for everyone on the bus? For these and other considerations, I thank you, our kids thank you, and Cumberland College thanks you.

DR. JOHN D. BROOME

APPRECIATES WAR MEMORIAL PLAN

As a combat veteran of World War II and one who lost close relatives and friends in that conflict, I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the Archer Park Commission's plans to build a Memorial Garden dedicated to Floyd county's war dead.

The commission's patriotic gesture can be construed in bolder and more meaningful terms when viewed in the light of what is happening in America today.

But even more significant is the belief of most of us that if Charles E. Jordan (my uncle), Frankie B. Hughes (my cousin), and their fallen comrades in arms could speak to us now, they would say, simply, "Thanks for remembering."

Floyd '71 Mine Toll At 5 as Two Killed

The deaths of two miners in a Little Mud Creek coal mine Monday morning brought to five the 1971 mine death toll in this county.

Last year, only five deaths were reported in the entire Martin district which includes 14 Eastern Kentucky counties.

Killed in the Mary Jean Coal Company mine, near Honaker, Monday were Frank D. Compton, 36, of Coal Run, and Noah Hall, 53, of Hurricane, Pike county. The two were crushed to death by a roof-fall approximately 700 feet inside the working where the two men were operating a loading machine.

State and federal mine inspectors began an investigation of the tragedy, Tuesday morning.

A native of Floyd county, Hall was a son of Fed Hall and the late Tannie Osborne Hall. He had been a miner for 33 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Damron Hall; a daughter, Mrs. Alice Caldwell of Miami, Fla.; two brothers, John Hall, of Harold, and Elisha Hall, of Grethel; three sisters, Mrs. Nancy Newsome and Mrs. Pearl Mitchell, of Grethel, and Mrs. Melvina Cruse, of St. Louis, Mo., and two grandchildren.

Mr. Compton was a son of the late Wallace and Ida Adkins Compton. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Neva Jo Crum Compton; a son, Frank Lee Com-ton; two daughters, Misses Loretta and Patty Jo Compton, all of Coal Run; three brothers, Adam Compton of Coal Run, Melvin Compton, of Pikeville and Albert Compton, of Wyandotte, Mich., and six sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Smallwood and Mrs. Hazel Justice of Wyandotte, Mich., Mrs. Verla Crum of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Elmer Kendrick, Mrs. Nellie Meade and Mrs. Bertha Meade, of Ousley, Ky.

Ministers' Workshop On Drug Abuse Slated At Methodist Church

Ministers of all church groups in Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Pike and Magoffin counties have been invited to attend a workshop on drug abuse next Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the First United Methodist Church, here.

Among those participating on the program will be college students, a pharmacist, a doctor, a psychologist, a state trooper and a minister.

Main purposes of the workshop are: 1. To enable to minister himself to be better informed about the drug scene; 2. To ascertain together what the local church can do in combatting drug abuse.

W. D. Jagers, drug abuse coordinator for the Region 11 Mental Health Comprehensive Care Center, announces that there is no fee involved.

Schools To Train Family Specialists

The medical schools at the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville are moving toward the establishment of departments of family practice after trustees at both schools recently approved the action.

At least 25 UK medical students have expressed interest in the program, and officials there hope to initiate the three-year residency program for family specialists by the beginning of next fall semester. Only a one year internship is required for medical graduates to become general practitioners.

The family specialist is viewed as more prevention-oriented, focusing on long-term health care for patients instead of episodic treatment when a particular disease must be remedied, a UK spokesman said.

Such a doctor might be more suitable for small-town practice than the more restricted specialist who can be supported only by a large population.

The V. F. W. Buddy Poppy is a symbol of the sacrifices made by the nation's war dead in the great conflicts for peace.

Damage is estimated at $10,000 resulting chiefly from high temperature which melted part of the roof of the adjacent building now owned by Betsy Ross Bakery.

Candidate Operating Taxicab Is Injured In Beaver Cr. Wreck

Mike Brown, of Garrett, who recently announced that he would be a Democratic candidate for the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals, was described Monday afternoon at Our Lady of the Way hospital, Martin, as being in "fair condition" following the wreck earlier in the day of taxicab which he was driving.

A report that Mr. Brown's legs were broken could not be confirmed. The Rector's taxicab which he was driving left KY. 7 near Wayland, and plunged approximately 20 feet down a steep declivity onto railway tracks. Cause of the wreck had not been definitely established Monday afternoon. The cab was reduced to wreckage.

In another highway accident Harmon Leedy, of West Prestonsburg, drove 12 miles Saturday, though himself severely injured, to reach assistance after his auto had careened down a mountainside near David. Ronnie Jarrell, also of West Prestonsburg, a passenger, was injured and it was to get help for himself and Jarrell that Leedy drove the damaged car till he reached an Appalachian Ambulance Service driver, who took them to the Prestonsburg General Hospital. Both men suffered back injuries.

IN MEMORIAM

In remembrance of our son, James Thomas Ousley, who at the age of 15 years, 2 months, 5 days was drowned Feb. 28, 1958 in the school bus tragedy, near Lancer, Ky. Although it has been 13 years ago, to us it has been only a few days. Never a day goes by that we do not think of him or wonder just what did cause the accident. But we are trusting in the good Lord that we will meet again where there will be no heart-aches, nor separations.

The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh; Blessed be the name of the Lord.

New Program Planned To Help Those Not To Enter College

The Floyd county school system has just completed organizational data on another innovative program, Superintendent Charles Clark said Monday.

"This program—one of four experimental units added this school year—will involve 40 students from Martin and Maytown high schools and is designed for seniors who do not plan to attend college," he said.

"We are applying to the State Department of Education for additional units to serve other schools in the county as units become available."

Using the Vocational Education Department guidelines for students who have academic, social or financial disadvantages, the Floyd system is attempting to accomplish several objectives by creating a program of this nature, he said.

The fundamental principle is to have the student succeed in his world of work. The program will attempt to appraise the interests, abilities, aptitudes and values of each student, then have him study many occupational fields to determine which is most appropriate for himself.

State Police Told To Take Look at Highway Fatalities

Frankfort, Ky.—The number of drivers finding themselves forced to answer criminal charges arising out of their involvement in fatal highway accidents is likely to take a steep slant upward this year.

According to a State Police order issued just days ago, Kentucky's troopers will be taking a much harder look at fatal accidents to determine "if sufficient evidence is present to substantiate criminal charges" against the driver or drivers involved.

"And, if so, it will be the responsibility of the trooper on the scene to contact appropriate authorities with the intention of initiating such charges," said State Police Director Col. Larry G. Boucher.

Boucher said the order was prompted by a State Police survey which showed that last year only 44 State Police-investigated accidents resulted in any criminal action against the drivers.

"But the total number of fatal accidents in which we found clear-cut evidence of traffic violations was 447," he said.

Drinking cropped up as a contributory factor in 184 of the accidents where drivers were found to be at fault, he added.

"I am of the opinion that we have been negligent in our responsibility concerning criminal charges resulting from traffic accidents," he said, "and, although the outcome of such a procedure depends largely on the courts, grand juries and other circumstances, it does not excuse us from meeting our obligations."

The Killer Among Us...

Let's get rid of the drunken driver! He causes 50 per cent of highway fatalities and three-quarters of a million injuries a year. Will the next fatality be you? Drunken drivers killed 55,000 people last year. Compare this with the number of fatalities in Vietnam over the last 10 years.

restraining order dissolved under Kentucky law.

Supt. Charles Clark and the Floyd County Board of Education in their answering petition claimed the groups "led a charge to interfere with and interrupt the operations of the Floyd County Board of Education."

Commenting on the decision, Supt. Clark said, Tuesday:

"These young idealistic, 'outside' attorneys, based at Prestonsburg on College Lane, spent thousands of taxpayers' dollars pushing this case through every court in the land, including the Supreme Court, only to discover what I, as a layman, already knew, that they didn't really have a case. Could these dollars not have been better spent for meeting the needs of our poor?"

Revenue-Sharing To Mean $35,745 To Co. Annually

If President Nixon's plan to share $5 billion with the states—which, in turn, would share with their counties and cities—Kentucky would receive $78,194,129, Floyd county would get $35,745, and Prestonsburg's share would be $16,134.

The revenue-sharing plan, which is meeting opposition in Congress, would provide funds for other smaller towns in this and other counties—how much, is not known, because the amount for each is arrived at via a complicated formula involving the amount raised locally in taxes.

Revenue-sharing looks toward the phasing out of the present Appalachian Program, and that is a change which Congressional leaders strongly oppose.

Amounts other counties and cities of the area would receive:

Breathitt, $9,875; Johnson, $22,393; Paintsville, $26,148; Knott, $13,352; Lawrence, $19,333; Letcher, $30,877; Jenkins, $28,930; Magoffin, $20,168; Martin, $14,882; Perry, $38,249; Hazard, $47,290; Pike, $85,678; Pikeville, $19,750; Morgan, $9,319; Boyd, $66,762; Ashland, $326,263; Catlettsburg, $26,148.

More than 200 orphans of veterans are being cared for in the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home in Eaton Rapids, Michigan. A portion of the cost is raised through the annual sale of V. F. W. Buddy Poppies.

claims the proposed seven rooms will not adequately house the grade school enrollment of more than 500 and would necessitate the continued use of eight temporary classroom units and two two-classroom buildings. Use of these, it is claimed, violate State Board regulations.

The recommendation, signed by Jake Layne, PTA president, and Rita P. Laferty, secretary-treasurer, also claims the physical education program at the school has been "practically non-existent" since September, 1968, when the gymnasium was destroyed by fire—a lack, they claim, which is in violation of State Board regulations and which "constitutes a daily threat to the health and well-being of the Martin children."

Approval of the plan for a seven-room building would add to the list of violations of State Board regulations and would remove any possibility for the children there to share an equal opportunity, the communication added.

Superintendent Clark commented on the letter, pointing out that the Floyd circuit court ruling of 1939 has not been upheld by the Court of Appeals. He said Special Judge Stephenson held the injunction valid only because it had not been contested. "We are appealing to the Court of Appeals," he said.

Clark agreed that seven rooms will be inadequate for the grades at Martin, but said the new seven added to the 12 in the present high school would make 19. This statement was based on the superintendent's belief that Martin high school will join others at the new Eastern center.

Final plans for the Martin school addition are expected to be submitted to the board of education Saturday, and if they are approved George Lee Shannon, architect, will be authorized to advertise for bids, Clark said.

A Health Affairs team composed of Dr. Leon Cooper and Miss Wendy Wheat was scheduled to attend a meeting at the courthouse here Tuesday evening following a visit to health program outposts in the county.

Although the situation may be stabilized for the present, its future may become real cloudy after July 31. Dr. Thomas Bryant told the group meeting in Washington last Thursday at the office of the director of Health Affairs:

"If we have this squabble again next year, I will have to recommend that OEO not fund the program."

Dr. Bryant insisted the Floyd county program is not meeting guidelines established by Congress. He pointed out that objectives of these programs should be to find new and, hopefully, better ways to provide health services to the poor and not merely services.

Harry Eastburn, director of the Big Sandy Community Action Program, told Washington officials Dr. Schechter had been discharged for insubordination, and presented written evidence of expenditures since he became director of the program last October. One single phone bill totaled over $453, and included calls to Lima, Peru, Santiago, Chili, and 11 different states. Two months' telephone bills at the Floyd health center totaled over $1,200 each, he said. Also presented at the Washington meeting was an expense voucher for a chartered airplane flight from Prestonsburg to Louisville for $114. Such flights are not approved in federal expenditure funds and would have been allowed only if transportation for an emergency patient.

Dr. Schechter said this week he did not believe one cent above the telephone allowance has ever been spent in any month and pointed out that the $114 plane bill was "my bill." He added that charter flights have frequently been made to Washington and that these have had Washington's approval.

Commenting on his contacts with doctors, he said one pediatrician had come to this county from Korea to view the health situation.

In last Thursday's session, some $47,000 in salaries was deleted from the budget. Cuts in services, however, were not changed, although Washington said a supplementary grant might be possible if the local program officials could substantiate the need in this area. Dr. Leon Cooper, director of Comprehensive Health Services, and Dan Zwick, chief of the program management division, again pointed out services and medical referrals were not the objective of comprehensive health programs.

The budget cut was not removed from the project, but the money was left for the rewriting of the environmental health portion of the program. Washington is to send an engineer to this county to do survey work on establishment of a rural-area landfill and garbage pickup operation, such as originally outlined in the budget.

The program will then be rewritten and any funds needed and approved for this project will be taken from salary cuts made.

Also at major issue was the "standard contract" used by Health Affairs between a grantee (agency receiving the money) and a delegate agency (the actual program operators). Eastburn said the contract proposed bypassed Big Sandy CAP, the grantee, and made supervision, of the program directly in the hands of the office of Health Affairs in Washington. He charged most local problems had resulted from the inability of the CAP organization to supervise the Floyd county program properly.

Dr. Bryant said there were 70 programs representing over $110,000,000, in operation in the nation and all were using this contract.

Finally, however, Washington officials agreed to changes which gave Big Sandy CAP officials permission for intermittent checks of personnel files, bookkeeping records, a monthly financial statement, and a review of credentials of employees at the time of their hiring.

No Spring Vacation, Vote of Teachers

Superintendent of Schools Charles Clark announced Monday that teachers of the county have voted by a margin of more than 2 to 1 to forego spring vacation this year. Their decision, he said, was influenced by the fact that considerable teaching time already has been lost to bad weather.

Vacation this year would have been March 17-19, to coincide with the state basketball tournament.

ONE REASON FOR A BEARD

A book which I read, the other day, shed some light on this matter of beards. The likeable, young character who wore one explained that he grew a beard because it gave him a feeling of invisibility—that he felt he could look from behind his hirsute facade on others without himself being beheld. . . Now, if I prance onto the scene some day, looking like a fugitive from the House of David, don't shoot. Just be reminded that at last I have achieved what I've been seeking, all my life.

Instant Water Monitors Now on State's Streams

By KATHY ZACHEM

FRANKFORT, KY.—The Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission has combined the moonlighting talents of seven robot monitors with the Watts telephone network and a central receiving station to keep constant tab on the water quality of streams and rivers.

Performing a job overnight that once required as many as 60 days, the automatic receiving station "phones" the streamside monitors throughout the state, and records and processes data for prompt evaluation by the Water Pollution Control staff each morning.

According to Ralph Pickard, executive director of WPCC, there are many advantages to this system. The monitors measure and record several properties of water including pH (which indicates acidity or alkalinity of the water), dissolved oxygen, conductivity, chloride content, and temperature.

These measurements are analyzed and evaluated to determine if the water is suitable for the support of aquatic life or other legitimate uses and if the measurements meet the water quality standards of the commission.

"Accurate information received every 24 hours," he said, "enables us to pinpoint origins of pollution, whether industrial discharge, municipal discharge, or natural occurrence—and to take immediate steps to abate the problem. Warnings can be given to downstream industries and communities to prevent possible health hazards or serious damage to industrial plants."

Pickard added that, "...even if it were feasible to send men out to make the analysis now being performed by the equipment, the cost would be extremely great compared to the new system."

Among the first to develop a monitoring system was the Ohio river Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO), a commission made up of eight states, including Kentucky. The system encompasses 29 monitoring stations along the Ohio River.

"The system being set up by the Kentucky commission will be tied into the ORSANCO system," said W. W. Smither, assistant executive director of WPCC, "to give the commission access to monitor information obtained from the Ohio River. I know of no other state that has developed a system of this type utilizing existing resources at a comparable cost."

In Kentucky There's Always Something for Visitors to Do

By Helen Price Stacy

A visitor from another state was spending the weekend recently at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park near Prestonsburg and happened to be included in a group discussing park activities. The visitor was impressed with the success of a recent weekend schedule that featured art and artists, with Saturday night dancing, with the recent appearance of former Parks Commissioner James Host, with a rook tournament—and other activities.

"Don't forget about our turtle races," laughed a park employee, remembering the fun many people had last summer at those events.

Even the losing turtles won, for they were fed and pampered and after a short "run" were turned loose on the banks of Dewey Lake.

The visitor was emphatic in a statement that showed a bit of envy. "We have the parks, but we don't use them—except in summer, and then they're too crowded."

One of the best vacations a family can take is one at a park within the commonwealth. It can mean a minimum of family planning, a minimum of packing, and a maximum of entertainment. It's also easier on Mom, Dad and the pocketbook, even the family car. Once on the park grounds the car goes on vacation, too.

From now through the last of May would be an especially good time to retreat to a place of ease, relaxation and pleasure. After that, you take your chances on room and cottage reservations, as the vacation season begins.

Did you know that you can call free of charge, for reservations at any Kentucky State park? In Kentucky, call 1-800-372-2961. If you live in West Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia or Alabama, call 1-800-626-2911.

Those who live in Louisville can dial 583-9796; Lexington, 252-4913, and Covington-Cincinnati, 261-2643.

Back in January there were bridge tournaments, now it's rook. Rook enthusiasts at General Butler and Jenny Wiley State Parks play the first round Feb. 27. Players in the Carter Caves area will play March 6 in Caveland Lodge. At Cumberland Falls, Lake Barkley, Kentucky Dam Village, Natural Bridge and Lake Cumberland State Parks, the Rook Tournament will be played March 13.

On March 27 the winners from the various area tournaments will meet at General Butler State Resort Park, Carrollton, for a championship playoff.

If Rook is not your game, maybe you'd rather learn about "Reptiles and Amphibians" at a field naturalist workshop March 26-28 at Kentucky Dam Village. For art enthusiasts, there's an Artist's Retreat the same weekend at Natural Bridge.

On April 24-26, the subject at a Cumberland Falls State Resort Park naturalist weekend is "Ornithology" and on May 7-9 it's "Wildflowers Weekend" at Pine Mountain. The latter weekend will see Morgan county's first annual Dogwood Festival in West Liberty, with handcrafts, arts and farm and home products made in Morgan county offered for sale.

Other non-park events include Holiday On Ice, Louisville, March 2-7; State Music Festival, Bowling Green, March 26-27, April 23-25 and May 7-8; Appalachian Art Festival, Ashland Community College, March 31-April 4; Mountain Folk Festival, Berea College, April 3; Tater Day, Benton, April 5; Mountain Dew Festival, Prestonsburg Community College, April 8-10; Cloverlick Arts Festival, Cumberland, April 19-25; Kentucky Derby Festival, Louisville, April 22-May 2.

Owensboro will sponsor a Festival of the Arts May 2-12; Benton a Big Singing Day May 23; Pineville its famous Laurel Festival May 27-30; Olive Hill the Jean Thomas American Folk Song Festival at Carter Caves State Resort Park June 12; Harlan the Poke Sallet Festival June 25-July 1.

Kentucky Mountain Style Square Dancing begins May 8 at Natural Bridge State Resort Park, with a Kentucky Mountain Shindig set May 29. Just don't let anyone hear you say there's nothing to do.

Former Floyd Teacher Honored on Birthday

Belated news of interest has been received of a recent birthday tea honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Hayes of Los Angeles California, formerly of Langley, on the occasion of her 60th birth anniversary.

Approximately 100 guests called to extend greetings to Mrs. Hayes who is a native of Floyd county and a former teacher in the Lackey and Maytown schools for years. For the past 16 years she has been a sixth-grade teacher at Rhoda Street elementary school in Encino, Calif., and has held several offices in the Professional Education Organizations of the Los Angeles city public school system.

The party was hosted by her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Laymon Armstrong, of Medford, Oregon, who traveled south to hold the event at the home of the Nate Allens in Tayzana, Calif.

Red roses and white carnations set the decor for the occasion. The birthday cake was decorated with 60 red roses and white candles.

Among the out of town guests were former Eastern Kentuckians, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Allen, Lona Beach, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Stewart, Huntington Beach, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ratliff, Los Angeles, Calif., Ira N. Morgan and his daughter, Adrienne Hawn, a girlhood friend of Mrs. Hayes at Wayland, and now of North Hollywood, Calif. Mrs. Hayes is the former Elizabeth Sexton, and 16 members of her family were in attendance, all of whom are originally from Floyd county.

Registering the guests was Miss Bicky Backus, Mrs. Hayes' niece who heads the speech department at Santa Barbara City College. Serving the punch were three other nieces, Mrs. Richard Casten, Chula Vista, Calif., Mrs. Jack Church, of National City, Calif., and Mrs. Cliff Fauble, Tarzana, Calif., and close friends, Mrs. Harry Goodwin and Mrs. Malcolm Neal.

Mrs. Hayes received approximately 200 calls, telegrams and cards from distances ranging from South America to Canada and from Seattle to Boston.

The occasion was climaxed by the presentation of a strand of 96 matched pearls to Mrs. Hayes by the group of invited guests—60 of the pearls representing each year of her life, and 36 representing the 36 years of her public service to youth where she has taught. Making the presentation was Dr. John Wright, assistant superintendent of Los Angeles schools, and a longtime family friend.

Following the tea, the family and close friends and out-of-town guests were entertained at the Cliff Fauble home for dinner and re-union.

Even Mother Nature cooperated—the earthquake waited till the following Saturday.

MONTGOMERY WARD
HAS COMPLETED
ITS MOVE-OUT . . .

NEW LOCATION: Corner of Patton Street & North Lake Drive, Two Blocks Up from Mountain Parkway Intersection

This just-completed move was made necessary because of the tremendous growth of our business . . . our former store simply was not large enough to meet our present needs. We owe the success of our agency, of course, to you, our customers, and in appreciation of your patronage we would like to say a most sincere "thank you".

At this time we are extending an invitation to one and all to come in and visit us at our new location. All our usual services remain in effect — you may place orders either here at the store or by telephone, and we assure you these orders will be processed immediately. We definitely have two "pluses" at our new site — our larger floor space now allows us to display a greater amount of in-stock merchandise, and much of this is now at special sale prices, and, too, we have PLENTY of FREE PARKING in our big lot fronting the store. You'll find shopping here at Ward's much more convenient than before, and no more feeding the meter. So, won't you drop by and pay us a visit? We'll be looking forward to seeing you.

Many Ethnic Groups Blend To Form Today's Kentuckian

Frankfort, Ky.—Throughout the years, Kentuckians have always regarded themselves as a single group. Many different ethnic groups, however, have blended together to form the single concept: "Kentuckian."

The first white men to settle Kentucky were Eastern Seaboard colonials—Pennsylvanians along the Ohio River and Virginians and North Carolinians by way of the Cumberland Gap. Most of these first settlers traced their backgrounds to England, Ireland and Scotland.

The English influence is still evident today as the dialect of the people in Eastern Kentucky points directly to the language of Shakespeare. A part of Kentucky's most notorious history—the Kentucky mountain feuds—can also be traced to the clan culture of the Scotch and Irish.

A major immigration of "city" Irish, attracted to building and industry, arrived in Louisville in the late 19th Century. Another wave of English immigrants arrived in the Eastern Kentucky mountains in 1888 as part of an attempt by English capital to develop an $80,000 purchase of coal, iron and timber lands. These Brits brought golf to America, and built in Middlesboro what is today the oldest golf course in the country.

Another custom introduced to Kentucky by the English settlers was racing and the raising of thoroughbreds.

The Huguenot refugees were the first body of exclusively French settlers to the commonwealth. These traders and emigres from the French Revolution were welcomed with open arms because the French government had given aid to the colonies during the Revolution. Evidence of the French influence is apparent today in the many place names traceable to Gallic origins: Versailles, Louisville, Fayette, Paris and others.

Notable French settlements in Kentucky were at Shippingport and Portland below the Falls of the Ohio River. Others are along Grier Creek and the Kentucky River in Woodford county and in Boyle county.

Dutch settlers from the Yadkin Valley of North Carolina came to Kentucky in 1782, settling near Fort Harrod at Harrod's Station in Mercer county. Evidence of the Dutch—a traveling church group—is present in the Old Mud Meeting House and the many Dutch names that still abound in Mercer county, including Van Arsedale, Van Fleet, and Van Dyke.

The main influx of German immigrants occurred between 1848 and 1867, with most settling in Louisville and Covington. At the end of the Civil War, 14 per cent of Louisville's population was German in origin. There is still a section of Louisville known as Germantown.

Covington today shows the influence of this migration, resembling a city on the Rhine with many church spires rising above the narrow brick buildings built by Germans. The brewing industries in both cities were launched by German settlers.

The Swiss colony of Bernstadt in Laurel county was one of the most unusual ethnic settlements in the commonwealth. Established in 1881, the colony furnished leadership throughout Eastern Kentucky because Bernstadt settlers brought with them great technical education and advanced agricultural methods. The Laurel county area today is still noted for its Swiss cheese.

Smaller numbers of other ethnic groups have found a good home in Kentucky. Black Africans, both slave and free, accompanied Kentucky's first settlers. The state was a big slave market in the last century, with Lexington and Washington (Mason county) serving as two major centers. Harriet Beecher Stowe was inspired to write "Uncle Tom's Cabin" while on a visit to Washington.

After the Civil War, another influx of Negroes arrived in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky as railroad workers when lines were extended to the coal country.

Italian immigrants settled in Louisville and parts of Eastern Kentucky in the early 19th Century. Louisville is also the home for small numbers of Syrian, Lebanese and Greeks—many of whom aided in the growth of the city's produce center in the former Haymarket.

Today's Kentuckian is indeed a blend of many groups. The traditional Kentuckian may have been a man who "killed a bar" with a dead eye shot but today the term "Kentuckian" can apply to almost anyone who gets a lump in his throat listening to the nostalgic strains of "My Old Kentucky Home."

Gas Firm Refund To Customers OK'd

The Public Service Commission has approved a $516,000 refund to customers of Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., mostly in Central and Northeastern Kentucky.

The refunds, resulting from purchased gas adjustments and a smaller rate increase than Columbia Gas requested, will be made as credits on bills to customers over the next four months.

The refunds are: $463,192 to general service customers in the firm's Lexington and Ashland divisions. Cities on the outer edge of the Lexington area include Frankfort, Georgetown, Mount Sterling, Lancaster and Stanford. The Ashland division extends mainly south from Greenup and Boyd counties to Johnson county.

$12,314 to general service customers in the Maysville and Paris areas. $40,784 to commercial customers throughout the firm's service area.

The best way to personally show our gratitude for the sacrifices of our disabled veterans is to buy a Buddy Poppy.

Druggists Must Sign Narcotics Orders

Attorney General John B. Breckinridge has ruled that it is illegal for pharmacists to type information in filling prescriptions for narcotic drugs.

The date the prescription is filled, along with the pharmacist's signature, should be written in ink to make it more difficult to erase, the opinion said.

The ruling was sought by a Louisville hospital pharmacy which said it is common practice to type the date of filling and the pharmacist's initials.

The opinion held the information must be handwritten on the face of the prescription to cancel it according to the law.

Bardstown, Ky.—The trial of Marion T. Seay, former Nelson County clerk who is accused of embezzlement and misappropriation of public funds, was continued until May 26. Seay has pleaded innocent to the charges, which were made last summer after an audit of the clerk's office showed a deficit of more than $66,000.

Dimes March Help Sought

Hope and help for children with birth defects can be sent through the mail, Ruby Akers, 1971 March of Dimes campaign director for Floyd county, said this week.

"Our mail appeals will be making their traditional appearance in homes here this month," she said. "Every person who sits down and writes a check for this cause should realize that a check can help create a whole new life for one of the nearly 250,000 children born with birth defects every year."

Money received by the March of Dimes supports continuing programs in research, education, patient care and community service aimed at prevention and treatment of birth defects, according to Miss Akers. Here in Kentucky, the voluntary health agency maintains Birth Defects Centers at Louisville. They are part of nationwide network of more than 100 such Centers.

"I urge my fellow residents of Floyd county to put their stamp of approval on the March of Dimes return envelope," she asks.

KEA Report Compares Salaries of Teachers

LOUISVILLE, KY.—Starting salaries this year for Kentucky's public-school classroom teachers with bachelor's degrees and no experience range from $5200 to $7200, according to a new Kentucky Education Association (KEA) research division bulletin.

The publication, "Salary Schedules of Kentucky Public-School Teachers, 1970-71" shows the $5200 minimum salary is in effect in the Clinton and Morgan county systems. The top minimum of $7200 is scheduled in the Beechwood independent system in Kenton county.

The majority of Kentucky's public-school classroom teachers are in the Rank III category, which means they have a bachelor's degree. The state-mandated minimum this year for Rank III teachers with no experience is $5158.50.

For Rank III teachers at the maximum level of experience, the KEA research bulletin points out, the highest scheduled salary ranges from $6843 in Monroe county after 10 years of experience to $10,226 in the Louisville school system after 15 years of experience. (Jefferson county and Anchorage schools pay $10,008 after 13 years of experience.)

Starting salaries for Rank II teachers—those with master's degrees—range from $5600 in Morgan county and Russell county to $7500 in Beechwood.

At the maximum level of experience Rank II teachers receive $7290 in Monroe county after 10 years and $10,786 in Jefferson county and Anchorage after 14 years.

For Rank I teachers—those with a master's degree plus 30 approved college-credit hours beyond the master's—starting salaries range from $5896 in Jackson county to $7800 in Beechwood.

The highest salary a Kentucky teacher at the Rank I level can earn in a local school system this year ranges from $7700 in Bracken county and Lewis county after 10 years of experience to $11,501 in Jefferson county after 15 years.

They laughed all the way to the bank.

Transferring securities from one bank to another can be a costly business.

But in 1966, Federal Armored Service, Inc. of Michigan found a way to cut the cost of driving.

They bought a Volkswagen Squareback to handle their non-negotiable securities.

And what better car for the job:

While the average armored car gets only 5 mpg, our Squareback gets about 27.

It doesn't waste time or gas hunting for a place to park. Because outside, it's about as small as our little bug.

Inside, though, it has just about 50% more carrying space than the biggest domestic sedan. (Over twice as much with its back seat down.)

So it can carry in one trip what takes most other cars at least two.

Of course, in the beginning there were those who laughed at Federal Armored for using a Volkswagen.

But once the savings started to add up, it became Federal Armored's turn.

And he who laughs last, laughs best.
