

Engineers To Limit Lake Camping Areas

2 Sites Reached By Boat Listed; State Has Two

Water level at Dewey Lake will be raised by the Corps of Engineers, beginning April 1 in preparation for the summer recreation season.

The lake will be raised five feet. The time required for it to reach that level will be determined by rainfall.

Improvement will be made to boat launching ramps at German Bridge and Goble Branch before the lake level is raised. The planned improvement will permit easier launching of boats while the lake is at winter level. The work on launching ramps will be done jointly by the Kentucky Department of Parks and the U. S. Corp of Engineers.

Due to the limited camping facilities in the area supervised by the Parks Department, the Corps of Engineers will permit camping in two designated areas, on the eastern shore of the lake, which will be for primitive camping only, and will be equipped with a minimum number of tables, trash receptacles and vault type toilets.

Access to these areas is by boat only and camping will be limited to 14 consecutive days. Camping equipment may not be left unattended for more than 24 hours in camping areas. The two designated camping areas will be opposite Terry's boat dock and opposite Stratton Branch.

The Corps of Engineers acquired 271 acres of additional land in Goble Branch at the request of the Kentucky Department of Parks. This additional acreage will be added to that already under control of the Department of Parks for use of a developed camping area.

Camping in the primitive areas under control of Corps of Engineers will be permitted only until suitable and adequate facilities are developed by the Kentucky Department of Parks. No such facilities are expected this year. A spokesman for the Department of Parks said camping again will be permitted this season in the Stratton Branch area and at Goble Branch where primary development was begun last year.

Wounded Knott Man Believed Recovering

Clarence (Hootie) Moore, who was at first reported in critical condition after having been shot in the chest early last Tuesday night on Rock Fork Creek, near Garrett, is now believed recovering at Our Lady of the Way hospital, Martin.

State Trooper Tom Wright arrested Kendall Chaffins and booked him at the Knott county jail, Hindman, with shooting and wounding with intent to kill. Moore was wounded by a bullet from a .22-calibre pistol.

The arresting officer quoted witnesses as saying that the trouble between the two men began in a dispute over a bottle of whiskey.

Martin School Case To Get Early Ruling

At the conclusion of an all-day hearing Friday of one phase of the long-standing Martin school case, Special Judge W. Major Gardner, of West Liberty, directed attorneys to file briefs within five days and announced that he then will promptly hand down a decision.

At issue was the temporary injunction procured by Everett Akers and others restraining the Floyd County Board of Education from reviewing plans for a six-room school addition at Martin and from instructing its architect to advertise for bids on the construction project. The petition for injunction was an amendment to a prior action in which the court was asked to mandamus the board to build an 18-room school and a gymnasium. The board's motion that the injunction be dissolved was denied by Judge Gardner, earlier in the month, and he set Friday's session here to hear the case on its merits.

Confused Scale On Wages May Delay Contract

Although advertising for bids on construction of the Prestonsburg-Allen sector of US 23 is scheduled for next month, and the probable letting date is in May, Bruce Hadley, information officer of the department of Highways, points out that unsettled wage scale conditions could delay the project.

The move by President Nixon, made recently to relieve federal wage rates, has muddled the situation. Contractors must know the prevailing wage rate before they can submit bids.

Mr. Hadley said consideration had been given to a court action to determine if federal wage rates will supersede state regulations on highways involving federal funds.

If the situation is not resolved, he said it is possible new highway construction could be delayed all summer.

As the state schedule now stands, the Prestonsburg-Allen portion of four-lane US 23 is slated for letting, May 14.

Officers Probe Stories of Rape

State and county officers continued Monday investigations begun the previous day after receiving reports that two young Floyd girls had been raped.

One of the cases involved a 12-year-old Prater Creek girl who, officers were told, was raped late Sunday afternoon within a few hundred yards of her parents' home. She told officers she knew neither of the two men who detained her but gave fairly

Students Pitch In To Save Contents Of Garfield Place

While smoke continued to pour from second-floor rooms of Garfield Place, the Second Avenue home here of Mrs. Claude P. Stephens, Prestonsburg students worked in bucket brigade fashion last Tuesday afternoon to empty the home of its contents which included prized antiques and items of historic interest. All the contents were saved, although some were damaged in moving and also by smoke and water. The blaze was confined mainly to two rooms on the second floor. Other rooms were damaged, mainly by smoke and water. Mrs. Stephens expects to repair the damage to the home. One student, Helen Ann Francis, was injured during the removal of the household furnishings.

State Police Report Crime Rise Slowing Most Rum Cases Reported in '70 From This Area

Crimes reported to the State Police last year, although still on the rise, were up by only seven per cent as compared with a 25 per cent hike at the end of 1969.

In a study just released by Col. Larry G. Boucher, Kentucky State Police director, the number of criminal offenses reported to state troopers and detectives during 1970 was put at 10,392. During 1969, 9683 offenses were reported.

Violations of the state's narcotic and dangerous drug laws, up by 271 per cent, showed the biggest jump in frequency during 1970.

With 16 State Police posts contributing to the annual report, Post 10 (covering Harlan, Bell and Knox counties) turned in the highest number of narcotic and drug cases (25). Next in line was Post 12 (Franklin, Shelby, Scott, Spencer, Anderson, Woodford and Fayette counties) with 23.

Of all age categories, the greatest number of male drug offenders arrested by State Police fell into the 25-29 age group. Arrests of female violators were heaviest among the 20-year-olds.

Among other reported offenses showing heavy increases over 1969 were:

Unlawful possession of stolen property, up 87 per cent, with the highest number reported in the Post 7 area (Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln, Jessamine, Garrard, Clark, Madison, Estill, Jackson, Lee and Owsley counties).

Martin Housing Bid $200,000 Too High

Bids on construction of a five-story, 32-unit housing facility for the elderly at Martin have for the second time been rejected as too high.

Mrs. Helen Ison, director of the Martin Housing Authority, has been notified by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Atlanta, Ga., that the low bid submitted by J. T. Groggans, Danville, Ky., was almost $200,000 above estimates. The Danville firm offered a bid of $668,000.

McDowell May Have Barely Missed Finals

McDowell high school's Daredevils upheld the prestige of 15th Region basketball in strong fashion at last week's Kentucky state high school tournament which was won for the second year in a row by Male of Louisville.

The Floyd county team missed a place in the semi-finals by an eyelash in its overtime game against Anderson county and quite possibly a spot in the championship game.

With the score knotted in regulation time against Anderson County last Friday night, McDowell stalled for a last-second shot. The team's star forward, Glenn Turner, Unlawful Possession of Liquor, up 84 per cent, with the greatest number coming out of the Post 9 area (Floyd, Magovern, Pike, Johnson and Martin counties).

Drawing a deadly weapon, up 32 per cent, Post 13 (Breathitt, Perry, Leslie, Knott and Letcher counties) topped the list for that offense.

Breaking and entering, although heading the list of all reported crimes with a total of 2331 complaints during 1970, dropped three per cent below the 1969 figure. By contrast, this offense was up 27 per cent in the 1969 report.

Auto theft, second on the list with 1193 complaints, also fell off during the year. During 1969, State Police received 1457 reports of stolen vehicles.

Officers Book Park Campers On Drug Count

Two 18-year-old Cincinnati youths, arrested Sunday night at a Dewey Lake camping area by State Trooper A. C. Cantrell and Park Rangers Cantrell and Penley, were booked at the county jail on a charge of possessing marijuana.

Jailed were Gregory D. Kuhn and James Minshall. Trooper Cantrell said the two had an ounce of marijuana in their possession.

State police arrested two men Sunday and booked them on charges of transporting illegal intoxicants. Herman Conn was arrested on Prater Creek by Trooper Kenneth Frost, who confiscated approximately 50 cases of intoxicants found in Conn's possession. The arrest of Willie Tackett on Tackett Fork of Mud Creek, the same day, by Troopers Rose and Cantrell involved the confiscation of two and a half cases of beer.

OEO Director Calls For Program Changes

Frank Carlucci, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), has written County Judge Henry Stumbo, chairman of the Big Sandy Area CAP board of directors, and Mrs. Eleanor Robinson, chairman of the board of directors of the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program, that Dr. Thomas E. Bryant, director of the Office of Health Affairs, has reported "a number of serious deficiencies" in the program after his recent survey of the Floyd situation.

"The gravity of the matters discussed in Dr. Bryant's memorandum requires a prompt response and immediate corrective action," the OEO head wrote. He indicated that some of the alleged "deficiencies" involve "serious violations of OEO directives and of the approved work program of the OEO grant."

Mr. Carlucci also said it is critical that prompt progress be made "to move to the development of a comprehensive health services program is continued OEO financial assistance is to be made available."

He requested that a detailed report as to steps taken, or to be taken immediately, be sent to him not later than April 15.

In his report to the OEO director Dr. Bryant listed six "major" problems:

1. The Floyd project has failed to develop a health-care program but continues to utilize, basically, a system in which patients are referred to private physicians and dentists.

2. Many low-income residents of the county are dissatisfied with "the sporadic, inefficient health services" provided. Dr. Bryant added that he had been informed that the reaction of the directors to this dissatisfaction has been an attempt to suppress dissent rather than to institute reforms.

3. The reports that various members of the board of directors have sought to intimidate other members and those who desire to restructure the program.

4. Serious dissension exists between members of the board of directors and the staff.

5. The program has not in its three years of operation developed any program for training and utilizing poor professional manpower so as to alleviate the shortage of physicians in the county.

6. Members of the board are violating the OEO conflict of interest regulations.

Bryant concluded his report by saying that unless "significant reforms" in the conduct of the program are made, he would be unable to recommend that the current grant be refunded.

When the Big Sandy Area CAP board recently approved the contractual agreement with OEO for operation of the Floyd program through July, John Burton, who has been acting director of the health program in this county since the dismissal of Dr. Arnold Schecter, offered a motion which asked that any questionable debts incurred by the program and uncovered during the current audit be referred to the Office of Health Affairs before approving them for payment. Burton implied that several such items had been found. His motion was approved.

This Town . . . That World

The frogs back of our house have been having a time of it, these early spring days, trying to decide whether to wear a choir robe or ice skates.

WELCOME THIS FRIGHT

Does the sight of a praying mantis give you the willies? Get with it!—these creatures, admittedly not nature's most charming, are now sold to gardeners who want to get rid of certain destructive insects without resorting to the use of DDT. That critter may look like an unctuous nightmare, but it will not bring on the horror that Rachel Carson called "Silent Spring"—that morning, some day, when man will arise to deathly silence, not a bird trilling, not a cricket chirping, all dead at the hand of man.

TROUBLE, TROUBLE

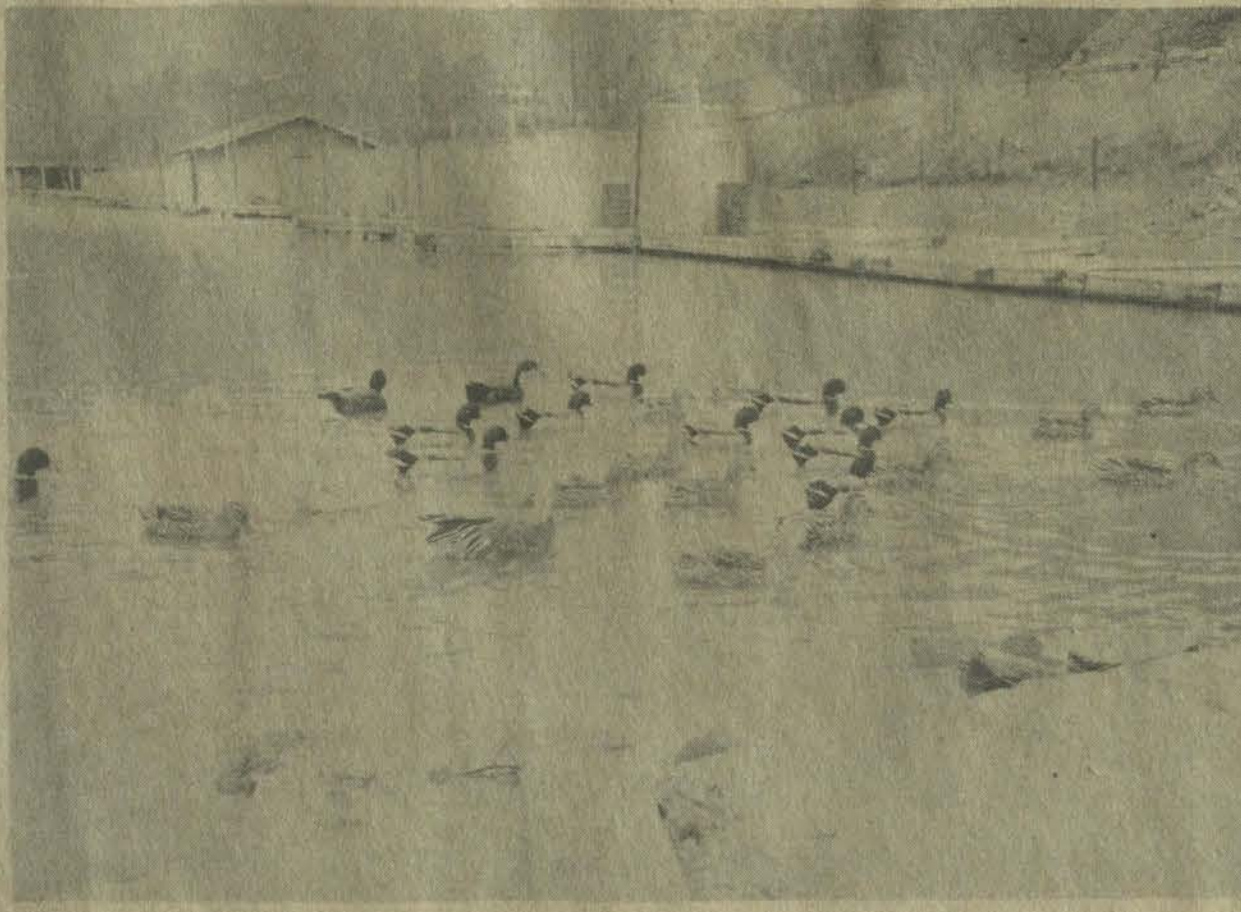

Our schools always are beset with concerns—one of the most serious just now being the number of star basketball and football players who will graduate this year.

DIDN'T WANT THE BOY DISGRACED

As a rule, parents are insufferably proud of the intellectual accomplishments of their offspring. Fathers have been known to pay Junior off handsomely for every A on his report card. The old dud is always anxious to prove to the world that the age of miracles is not past—that he produced a Brain.

But not so, the father of this story. His Johnny was setting the academic woods afire, so to speak. He had got into high

2 Sought After Widow Robbed

State police and Knott county authorities are seeking the identity of two men who allegedly stole $160 from the home of a Kite, Ky. widow and under false pretenses cheated her of $80.

Representing themselves as employees of the Kentucky Power Company, the two men went to the home of Mrs. Della King, March 11, told her they would have to change her electric meter and that this service would cost her $80. She paid them that amount.

That part of the "transaction" completed, they told Mrs. King the company proposes to run a new power line through her property and would pay her $1800 damages for damages caused by the setting of two new poles. While she and one of the men were checking the location of the poles, the other went inside her home and took $130 in cash and a $30 Bellas Hess and Co. check from her pocketbook.

The two promised to return, the following day, to complete the right-of-way contract. Soon after they had left, Mrs. King found that her money was missing.

Named Outstanding Teenagers

These Prestonsburg high school students—Mary Ruth Davis and Herbert Douglas Prater—have been selected as Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1971, according to James D. Hensley, principal.

Selection for the Outstanding Teenagers awards program automatically qualifies these students for further state and national scholarships and honors.

Nominated by their principals, the Outstanding Teenagers of America are chosen from individual schools across the country for excellence in community service and academic achievement. The local students will now vie for the Outstanding Teenager of the Year trophy to be presented to winners in other states. The state winners are selected by the Outstanding Teenager Awards Selection Committee, in cooperation with the board of advisors.

From among the 50 state winners, one boy and one girl will be chosen for the national scholarship prize of $1,000 to attend the college of their choice.

Miss Davis is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis, of David. Mr. Prater is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Prater, of Prestonsburg.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB CHANGES DATES OF SCHOLARSHIP PAGEANT

The Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club this week announced a change in dates for its two annual events—the Miss Floyd County Scholarship Pageant and the annual horse show.

The pageant will be held April 3 at Prestonsburg Community College, and the horse show will be on May 22 at Archer Park in conjunction with the official spring park opening.

Heretofore, the pageant has been held in May each year. Club officials held, however, that this late date gives the Floyd county representative too little time to prepare for the Miss Kentucky Pageant. The club decided to hold the pageant to name the 1971 Miss Floyd County at the college, and to stage the pageant production to name Miss Floyd County, 1972 in the early fall.

Because of the limited seating capacity of the college auditoriums, pageant reservations must be made by contacting Mrs. Cloyd Johnson or Mrs. Marvin E. Music, Jr.

The Junior Woman's Club's horse show has in other years been held in August, a date assigned by the Central Kentucky Horse Show Association. This date, however, has always conflicted with the National Walking Horse event in Shelbyville, Tenn. and the Kentucky State Fair, and so the local event was moved up to May this year.

Porter at Dwayne Sunday netted 34 half-pints of whiskey, six cans of beer and a churn of homebrew. The car in which the whiskey and beer were found was confiscated by the raiding party composed of Sheriff Frank Leslie and Deputy Sheriffs Claude Flanery, Otto Fannin, Grady Skeens and Virgil Conn. The homebrew was found near the Porter home. Porter was in Michigan at the time of the raid, it was said.

Other homebrew production was seen as a possibility after the luncheon of the Weeksbury school had been looted last Thursday. Among the items taken were yeast and sugar. The same day, tires and batteries were taken in a break into the Hamilton Auto Parts store at Price.

Other arrests within the week:

Bobby R. Hancock, drunk driving, arrested by State Trooper Wireman; Crit Butler, drunk driving, by State Trooper Bevens; Kirk D. Martin, reckless driving, by Eugene Mullins, of the Department of Motor Transportation; Frank Style, drunk driving, by Deputy Sheriff Sidney Caudill Allen; Estill Jones, drunk driving, by State Trooper Rose; Mary L. White, two cold check charges, by Officers Reed, Salyers and Conley.

Lawrence Goble, who was booked to Prestonsburg police court after his arrest by Policemen Potter, Nelson and Waddle, was fined a total of $134 on charges of drunk driving and no operator's license. Others booked to police court here:

Dennis F. May, drunk driving, by State Trooper Bevens; William Warrax, drunk driving, by Roy Rice of the Department of Motor Transportation; Wanda Thompson, shoplifting, arrested by Policemen Thornsby and Lafferty; Harry R. Slone, drunk driving, by Policemen Blackburn and Campbell.

The shoplifting case was the third recorded here in the last two weeks.

detailed descriptions of each. Both, she said, were between 5-10 and 6 feet in height. One was described as having long, blonde, curly hair and wearing a dirty t-shirt. The other, the child said, had long, black hair and wore blue jeans and a striped T-shirt.

The girl was taken first to the McDowell hospital, then to a Pikeville physician.

Investigation of the second case, that of a Manton girl, 14, disclosed that she had not been molested, Sheriff Frank Leslie said Monday afternoon.

Work Resumed After Shutdown At Am. Standard

The discovery of what was described as "foreign substances" in vital machinery necessitated a shutdown of the multi-million-dollar American Standard plant, near Paintsville, from 1 a.m., March 15, till the third shift the following night.

Clyde Hall, industrial relations manager at the plant, said the difficulty which interrupted operation, did not endanger either the plant or its employees.

His statement, released to the press last Friday, did not define the substance or how it reached the plant machinery. He said the temporary shutdown was necessary in order to protect certain machinery and processes.

When the problem was cleared up Monday, a meeting of all plant personnel was called to afford employees an explanation of the stoppage and the importance of care in the handling of specified equipment and processes.

Employees of IGA Vote, 15-7, Against Union in NLRB Poll

The Second National Labor Relations Board election held at Thompson's IGA Store here within the last six months resulted in rejection by a 15 to 7 vote of representation of store employees by Food Store Local 347, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen (AFL-CIO).

The first election, held last November, rejected the union by a single vote. Irregularities were claimed in that election, and this week's vote was arranged.

Paul Thompson, owner of the store, said five of the employees did not vote Monday.

Drift Club Slates April 2nd Meeting On Drug Problem

A meeting open to the public will be held April 2 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the McDowell high school on drug abuse and the problems of young people. The program will be sponsored by the Community Improvement Committee of the Drift Woman's Club. A movie will be shown and samples of drugs will be displayed. Speakers will be Dr. Ralph Allen, Pikeville; Commonwealth's Attorney, Harold Stumbo; Circuit Judge, Hollie Conley; County Judge, Henry Stumbo; State Trooper, John Brenner.

The Drift Woman's Club will give a prize of $10 for the schoolroom responsible for most attending. The contest is restricted to the Drift and McDowell schools.

school early, romped through his freshman, sophomore and junior years, racking up A's right and left, and here he was a senior and still going strong.

The old man was troubled, and he told his wife that he was. "Got to slow that boy down," he grumbled. "We've got to keep him in high school another year."

"I know, dear, it will be hard to have him leave home for college, but—"

"But his leaving's not the trouble," the old man interrupted.

"Then what is?"

Why, Ma, it's this—if that boy graduates from high school this year, he'll be in college before he can grow a beard!"

QUESTION

Speaking of such matters as A's, why is it that you can go so much farther on midnight oil than you can on gasoline at midnight?

CANDIDATE MAKES A MISTAKE

A candidate for one of the lesser state offices has made a terrible mistake. Along with his announcement he has sent me two pocketcombs. Now, this gift cannot by the widest or wildest stretch of the imagination be construed as constituting violation of the Corrupt Practices Act. I may be being little about this matter, but this fellow has as much chance getting my vote as that door-to-door salesman had of making a sale, a few years back, after blandly inquiring if my wife was my daughter.

WISER...SADDER

I am not a bit wiser than I was last year, or the year before, but the debilitating influences of the years now protect me from the follies that have been peculiarly mine so long. When Bee Hayes hustled down from Betsy Layne, wild-eyed and rarin' to go to Cherokee Lake last week after receiving reports of great catches there, I was unavoidably detained that day. But I decided, then and there, I would be along in a day or so. The weather turned cold that night. Next day was worse, but there was Thursday. Then came those weather forecasts which I usually hold in the highest contempt. But this time I listened. So it is that for the first time in years I have to date missed putting together a springtime fishing trip and an old-fashioned storm featuring snow, wind, rain, or hail, or all four.

P. S. Now, I wish I hadn't been so all-fired smart... This Hayes fellow landed a seven-pound hybrid, along with a sizeable collection of other fish.

Former Floyd Countian To Head Exceptional Children Task Force

Richard D. Howard, professor of special education at Pikeville College, has been appointed by Gov. Louie B. Nunn to serve as regional chairman of the Kentucky Task Force for Exceptional Children for the Big Sandy Area Development District.

Howard, one of 15 regional chairmen, has been chosen to assist the 11-member state task force mobilize plans for a survey focusing on Kentucky's exceptional children, their required services and needs.

Governor Nunn has described the study "the most comprehensive program ever undertaken by any of the states. It is essential for improving the future of 285,000 young Kentuckians and their families."

"Only when we enable all Kentuckians to reach those goals of which they are capable, to fulfill their greatest potential as men and women, will we have met our responsibilities to the brotherhood of man," the governor said.

The Kentucky Task Force for Exceptional Children, an arm of the Human Resources Coordinating Commission, was created by the 1970 legislature. The legislation charges the members of the task force, appointed by Governor Nunn, with "surveying needs and resources available for special training and related services for exceptional children in this Commonwealth."

Two specific objectives of the task force are: to provide an information base citing both the scope of required services and the nature of services available for Kentucky's exceptional children; and to evaluate alternatives utilizing the resources necessary to meet desired services.

Regional chairmen from areas corresponding to Kentucky's Area Development Districts will assist the 11-member state task force in the collection of data and survey organization in their respective areas. They will also consult and advise the state task force in preparing the study's final report.

The results of the survey will be directed to Governor Nunn, the State Board of Education and the Legislative Research Commission for possible legislative action in the 1972 General Assembly.

Howard was selected regional chairman for the Big Sandy Area Development District for proven interest and dedication to the needs of exceptional children.

A member of the Kentucky and Pike County Association for Retarded Children, Howard is a consultant to the Floyd County, Pikeville and Pike County Boards of Education in mental retardation.

A meeting of the Kentucky Task Force is scheduled for March 17 at 10 a.m. in the state Highway Department auditorium, Frankfort. All interested persons are invited to join task force members, regional chairmen and citizen volunteers at the meeting.

Second Ruling By High Court Poses Problem

Closely following the Supreme Court decision holding that a defendant who is unable to pay a fine may not be jailed, the Kentucky Court of Appeals last Friday held that a motorist is entitled to a hearing and an opportunity to present evidence before suffering the loss of his driver's license.

Both court rulings have lower court officials and enforcement officers wondering. The Appellate Court decision was based on another Supreme Court ruling, this to the effect that an individual's welfare benefits may not be terminated without a hearing.

In the Kentucky case, Kenneth E. Thomas, a Kentucky resident, pleaded guilty in New York in February, 1968 to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

Notice of his conviction was sent to the Kentucky Department of Public Safety, and the department informed Thomas that his license was suspended for six months as of the date of the conviction.

Thomas appealed to quarterly court in Jefferson county, but the suspension was not withdrawn until the quarterly court ruled that the suspension was void.

The department then appealed to circuit court and obtained a reversal of the quarterly court ruling. The circuit court ruled that Thomas' license be suspended for 45 days.

The department then went to the Court of Appeals on the question of whether the court had any other choice than to either affirm or deny the department's six-month suspension.

The high court did not answer this question, but it pointed out instead that a statute dealing with discretionary license suspensions "provides that the department may deny or suspend a license . . . with or without a hearing . . ."

"It is our conclusion that to the extent that the statute authorizes such a denial, suspension or withdrawal without affording the opportunity for a hearing, it is unconstitutional as denying due process," the opinion said.

The high court also decided that such hearings must include the taking of evidence and the compiling of a record on which appeals to the court would be based, instead of requiring each court to hear the evidence anew.

Although none directly criticized either court, officials here were in a head-shaking mood when asked for their reactions. They answered with questions of their own.

Of the Appellate Court decision:

"With drunk drivers in every county, and 120 counties in the state, how many judges or examiners will it take to conduct all the hearings this decision promises? . . . Couldn't a man convicted of drunk driving appeal through the local courts and on to a hearing at Frankfort and string his case out five years without losing his license?"

One question arising from the Supreme Court opinion protecting the individual who claims he is unable to pay a fine:

"Will there be more poor people than there are people?"

Others asked:

"If lower courts eliminate fines and stress jail terms, how, under Kentucky's fee system will the courts be able to operate? And if they don't go to jail term's instead of fines, how will a jailer stay in business?"

A spokesman at the Sheriff's office said he had heard some deputy sheriffs remark that they would shun drunks and perhaps other "minor" offenders. "Think we're going to lie out in the rain and cold to make arrests, then take prisoners to jail at Prestonsburg at our expense and see them out as soon as they sober up, paying no fine because they say they haven't got the money?"

Meanwhile, pending some action to make effective locally the Supreme Court opinion, fines will continue to be imposed and collected, as usual.

Dr. Ratliff Gives Transy 139-a. Form

Transylvania University has been given 139 acres of farm land in Fleming county by Dr. Rigdon Ratliff, a 1924 alumnus, for use as a biological research and undergraduate teaching facility.

Transylvania President Irvin E. Lunger, in announcing the gift of the land by Dr. Ratliff, who is formerly of Pike county, and now a resident of Ann Arbor, Mich., said the land is ideal for use by Transylvania's science faculty for ecological and natural history studies.

The Ratliff farm is located one mile north of the Licking River, extending from Route 111 to Fox Creek, and is about five miles northeast of Owingsville.

Quarterly Publishes

Miss Rarick's Comments

Miss Louise Rarick, Prestonsburg Community College history instructor, has had two short novel theory statements published in the winter 1971 issue of the Community College Social Science Quarterly.

The Social Science publication printed the short comments in the interest of fellow instructors teaching courses in Western Civilization and the Humanities.

Miss Rarick has been a faculty member of Prestonsburg Community College since fall 1969. She is a native of Central, Indiana.

Exploring To Admit Girls To Membership, April 1st

After two years of research and field experience, the Exploring Division of the Boy Scouts of America is going co-ed. As of April 1, it will admit teenage girls to full membership in Exploring, its high-school-age action program.

The announcement was made Monday, by F. Marvin Barber, Lonesome Pine Council Scout executive, after word was received that approval has been given by the national Executive Board of the BSA.

Barber said that the action taken nationally was in recognition of the chartered requirement to serve boys and young men, and it would enable Exploring to more effectively carry out its mandate to meet the needs and interests of today's youth.

Until January 1970, Exploring had been an all-male program. Acting on research studies and recommendations of business, education, religious and youth leaders, Exploring began a one-year trial of admitting young women to participate in the program. Participation was restricted to special-interest Explorer posts organized around a career or vocational interest.

The national Executive Board's action now makes it possible for coeds to become full-fledged members and for adult women volunteers to act in leadership capacities.

Membership in a post or Sea Explorer ship would be entirely at the discretion of the sponsoring organization, Barber explained.

Age requirements for girls are the same as male members. Members may enroll upon reaching 15 years of age and may remain through their 20th year.

This does not mean that girls are becoming Scouts—they will be Explorers. Members of Explorers Posts are not Explorer "Scouts". Exploring is a division of the Boy Scouts of America, which has two other programs, Cub Scouting and Boy Scouting.

These mountains have been surface mined

Can surface-mined land be restored to use and beauty? Of course it can. Such land is being reclaimed successfully . . . right now . . . in eastern Kentucky. But many of our successes go unnoticed. Many people see reclaimed land and don't know it.

Take the scene shown here, Fishtrap Lake in Pike County. The mountains you see in the background were surface mined and reclaimed in 1968.

Reclaimed land can deceive you. You can look at it and never recognize it for what it was. But that's the way it should be. If we do our job properly, restored land looks just like the rest of the countryside. Chances are you won't even know we've been there.

Our new "Questions and Answers" booklet about surface mining is yours for the asking. Write for it.

$5,000 Gulf Check Goes to ALC

Dr. William S. Hayes receives on behalf of Alice Lloyd College a $5,000 check presented by Marvin Music, (right) Gulf distributor, and Raymond Zemo, (center) retail marketer, on behalf of the Gulf Oil Foundation.

A capital grant of $5,000 was received last week, by Dr. William S. Hayes president of Alice Lloyd College from the Gulf Oil Foundation.

School officials said the grant will be applied to aid in equipping the new Science building.

The grant is part of more than $3 million that Gulf will distribute this year to students and institutions of higher education for a variety of purposes.

The capital grant phase of the program is an effort to assist institutions in meeting anticipated growth requirements, to replace obsolete buildings and equipment and/or to expand services.

Institutions eligible for capital grants are those which are privately operated and controlled, and which obtain a major portion of their financial support from non-tax sources.

The check was presented to Dr. Hayes by Marvin Music, distributor of Gulf Oil Products, and Raymond Zemo, retail marketer of Gulf.

Presidential Class Includes McDowell Hi School Student

Chairman Charles G. Allison announced in Washington, D. C. last week that Miss Lillian Frances Johnson, a senior at McDowell high school, has been selected to participate in the 1971 secondary high school program of a Presidential Classroom for Young Americans. As one of 350 selected seniors from high schools throughout the United States, U. S. Territories and the Department of Defense and Department of State dependent high schools abroad, Miss Johnson will spend a full week studying government under the tutelage of high ranking government officials.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, she is attending class No. 6, March 20-27 in Washington, D. C.

Presidential Classroom will hold six 1971 classes which will serve 1,920 students. All American high schools were invited, through their principals, to participate in Presidential Classroom, as were all schools in the U. S. territories and the Defense and State Department schools abroad. Because of space limitations, approximately four high schools per U. S. Congressional district could be chosen to select and send a student.

While attending the Classroom, students stay in specially-prepared quarters of Washington's Shoreham Hotel. One entire floor has been rebuilt to house students, staff, section classroom space, administrative offices, an infirmary and small student store. Students follow an academic course of 24 seminars, seven units of study, numerous "question-and-answer sessions", and group discussions. Students have question-and-answer sessions with leading administration, congressional, agency and military officials. City mayors and members of Washington's diplomatic and press corps are also included. Many of the seminars are held at such on-site locations as the Department of State, Department of Commerce, Department of Health, Education and Welfare and Capitol Hill. The week concludes with a final examination and a graduation banquet, featuring a major speaker, musical entertainment and a dance. Students successfully completing the course are awarded "Certificates of Achievement."

MENTAL HEALTH DRIVE BEGINS

The membership drive of the Floyd County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Association opened with the first two memberships sold to County Judge Henry Stumbo and County Court Clerk C. Ollie Robinson, by Mrs. Stanley Combs, president of the association (see photo above).

Main thrust of the drive for new members is planned for April and May, Miss Ruby Akers, of Drift, Membership chairman, said.

At least one person in each community in the county will be helping with the drive to enlist others in the effort to aid those with mental disabilities and emotional problems, to help others understand mental illness and retardation. The association's aim is to provide close-to-home services for all who need help.

Among those who will be directing the drive are Mrs. Clifford B. Latta, Prestonsburg, Membership-campaign chairman; Frank Layne, Prestonsburg, Mrs. George E. Allen, of Langley, Mrs. Marvin Music, Sr., of Prestonsburg.

Individual voting memberships cost $2; non-voting membership in a group of up to 25 members, $5; membership for groups of over 25 members, $10.

John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in Prestonsburg is the first group to join for 1971-72.

Kentucky Farmers Concerned About Corn Seed Situation

As planting time grows nearer, Kentucky farmers are becoming more and more anxious over the availability of seed corn resistant to the Southern Corn Leaf Blight.

The disease which struck Kentucky cornfields last year is expected to return again this season, and, according to J. Kenneth Evans, agronomist for the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, seed corn with the 100 percent blight-resistant normal cytoplasm is "pretty scarce."

In fact, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, supplies of seed corn consisting of a blend of normal cytoplasm and the blight-susceptible Texas male sterile cytoplasm is also getting scarce.

"Kentucky farmers who haven't purchased their seed corn yet should take extra precautions when they do buy," Evans suggested.

"Farmers should read the tag on the seed bag—and be sure they know what it means," he said. "All companies have agreed to label their seed showing the type of cytoplasm, or if the seed is a blend, the percentages of normal and Texas cytoplasm in the seed. Second generation seed corn tags also show the type of cytoplasm present—and the percentage of its cytoplasm, if the seed is a blend."

Evans listed the following priorities farmers should follow when buying corn seed:

The first choice, naturally, is seed containing 100 percent normal cytoplasm.

The second, a blend of normal and Texas cytoplasm, and the higher the percentage of normal cytoplasm, the better.

The wonder drug that prevents babies from being born blind, deaf, mentally defective and dead from German Measles.

The wonder is people won't use it.

Women who get German Measles while they are pregnant may have only a 50-50 chance of having a normal baby. Not very good odds. During the last major German Measles epidemic in 1964, more than 30,000 babies died and at least that many more were crippled for life. The real tragedy is all this doesn't have to happen. Most of the virus is spread by young children of school age who can be immunized with a safe, effective vaccine. But the vaccine is useless unless we use it. The list of excuses is long. But time is short. Another big outbreak is expected this year in Kentucky. All children desperately need to be vaccinated if the epidemic is to be stopped before it can begin. Because once it starts, there's no stopping it. Your help is needed. Now, if you have young children, see to it that they are vaccinated against German Measles. Ask your family doctor. Or the board of health. What you do after reading this could make a lot of difference. The difference between life and death.

BE READY
St. Matthew 25:

1. Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.
2. And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.
3. They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them;
4. But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.
5. While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.
6. And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom commeth; go ye out to meet him.
7. Then all those Virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.
8. And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out.
9. But the wise answered, saying, not so; lest there be not enough for us and you; but go ye rather to them that sell; and buy for yourselves.
10. And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage; and the door was shut.
11. Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.
12. But he answered and said, verily I say unto you, I know you not.
13. Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of Man commeth.

Romans 12:
1. I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice; holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.
2. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the reviewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.
3. For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself, more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

Praise His Holy Name. He is All in All.

When they're looking up to you, are they really looking down at you?

The station wagon on the left is known in some circles as a status symbol. The station wagon on the right is known in the same circles as a mistake. Now the status symbol is long and low and really quite beautiful. Whereas the Volkswagen is short and high and really quite ugly. The status symbol features a powerful engine. A Volkswagen engine is not as powerful, but it'll go a whole lot farther on a gallon of gas. The status symbol boasts roughly 88 cubic feet of carrying space. The Volkswagen has twice that amount. 176 cubic feet. Conclusion: If you're looking for something to show how big you are, then we suggest you get yourself a status symbol. But if you're looking for something that's just plain big, then maybe it wasn't us who made the mistake after all.

Cost of Living Hike Slated For State Welfare Benefits

Frankfort, Ky.—The state Department of Economic Security is recomputing aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) grants by a formula which takes into account higher living costs.

The department said yesterday that the new formula for determining the grants will mean a $1 to $15-a-month increase for 68.6 per cent of the 38,252 AFDC families, a $1-to-$5-a-month decrease for 27.7 per cent, and no change for the rest.

Included in those who will receive decreased payments are an estimated 800 AFDC families who will be removed from the welfare rolls because their incomes are too high. The 800, however, will continue to be eligible for medical assistance, a spokesman said.

The department said the monthly checks to the 800 range from $1 to $5.

The change will be effective with the May 1 checks.

The department said that welfare grants are now computed on the basis of standard-of-living costs that have not been increased for several years. But a federal regulation now requires the state to update that standard to reflect a 22 per cent increase in the cost of living.

The change in computing the payments involves changing the complex formula of considering an AFDC recipient's income.

Under the present formula, an AFDC grant is computed at 86.5 per cent of the family's needs, less income.

Under the new computation, the grant will be based on higher costs of such basic requirements as food, shelter and clothing. The need figure will be reduced by 73.1 per cent before income is considered to compute the payment.

The current payments amount to 71 per cent of the new standard, a department spokesman said.

In computing a family's income, the first $30 and one-third of the remainder is disregarded. Earnings by children also are disregarded.

Closing Open Dumps is Topic At Lake Cumberland Seminar

By Kathy Zachem

The problem of solid waste disposal was the topic at a "Mission 5000" seminar, conducted by the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state Division of Solid Waste, at Lake Cumberland State Park recently.

Mission 5000 is an EPA project aimed at closing 5000 open dumps in the U.S. by 1972.

The purpose of the seminar was to inform the group of 127 sanitarians, local health authorities, and public officials in attendance procedures for closing the undesirable dumps in Kentucky.

"We are on a collision course toward environmental degradation," said Ralph C. Pickard, the state's deputy commissioner for Environment, in his opening address.

"The public may be running faster with the ball than we are," he said, "and we must catch up. However, some are going in the wrong direction and those persons need our guidance."

DeVon Bogue and Elmer Cleveland of the EPA's Atlanta office, pointed out that people don't want to give their dollars to eliminating garbage and that no one wants to think about solid waste.

"We must tell the truth," Bogue said, "about the cost of environmental control. The people of local communities do not see where their tax dollars go once it leaves their hands."

Other speakers on the agenda were Sam Johnson, acting director of the Division of Solid Waste, Rufus Miller, also with the division, and Jack Abney and James Carpenter of the Appalachian Demonstration Project.

Johnson discussed legal steps that may be taken in the closing of some locally operated dumps.

"The pressure will be on sheriffs to enforce the anti-litter law," he said, "...and help is also needed from county attorneys."

The sanitary landfill was agreed upon by the experts as the best method of disposal in lieu of the open dump with incineration as the second choice.

According to Abney, the cost of a landfill operation is much less than that of incineration.

Emphasis was placed on the open dump as a health hazard, and the fact that the elimination of open dumps would reduce the amount of air and water pollution as well.

HARDWORKING WIRING SYSTEMS NEED REGULAR CHECK-UPS, TOO.

Electric power does so many jobs so well. That's why most families add new appliances and equipment every year — and use more electricity as a result. Sometimes, a wiring system has so many chores to do that it gets overworked. And then, appliances and equipment may not work properly... lights may dim occasionally... TV pictures flicker.

Think about it. Was your home wired to provide as much power as you're using now? For safety's sake, let one of our experts give your wiring system a safety check-up. Call us or drop by.

Be certain your home has adequate electrical entrance equipment (fuse box) for your current use of electrical power. If lights dim or motors start slowly, you should have your system checked so you can make full use of rural electric power.
