Weeksbury community leaders were presented recently at Ashland signs proclaiming the former mining town winner of third place in the Northeast Kentucky Rural Community Development contest. These signs will be erected at the highway approach to Weeksbury as a welcome to visitors and as a tribute to the work done at Weeksbury to give it a high rating in rural community development. Shown standing, from left are Carl Miller, president of the Ashland Area Chamber of Commerce; Paul Williams, president of the Second National Bank of Ashland; Frank Smith, of Weeksbury; L. W. Pilstl, executive secretary, Ashland Area Chamber of Commerce; O. C. Hall, executive assistant, Kentucky Power Company; seated—Elbert Gibson and Homer Dobbs, both of Weeksbury.

Regulations On Streams Held Vague Explanation Slated Thursday Morning At Hearing Here

When representatives of the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission open their hearing at the courthouse here Thursday the first session beginning at 10 a.m. will be devoted to an explanation of the classifications assigned various waters in the Big Sandy, Licking River, Little Sandy and other basins of the area.

And those who have attempted to wade through the 69 pages of regulations which the commission has already adopted say a lot of explaining is needed, because they aren't able to understand what has or has not been done in the case of many streams.

For instance:

1. The Beaver Creeks, Left and Right, are in the "anything goes" agricultural classification all the way to where they unite in main Beaver Creek, a short distance above Martin. From that point on to where Beaver Creek joins the Big Sandy at Allen there apparently is no water quality classification.
2. The only mention of Johns Creek, which forms Dewey Lake, concerns a tributary, Brushy, and this item in the regulations provides an agricultural classification from the Brushy school to the point where the stream joins Johns Creek.
3. From Paint Creek to Stephens Branch, near Cliff, the Big Sandy is classed for recreation, one of the highest ratings, and from Stephens Branch to 1,000 feet below the Prestonsburg water intake the river the public water supply and recreation ratings apply. But from that point, say those who have read the regulations, little is understood about what is proposed. No classification is listed to Stratton Branch (this apparently is not the Stratton Branch which runs into Dewey Lake), but Stratton Branch to Chole (Chloe?) Branch a high water standard has been adopted.
4. Middle Creek from the Clark elementary school to the Big Sandy at West Prestonsburg is classified "agricultural." Upstream from the school no classification is mentioned. Prater Creek is in the same category. Mud Creek and many others aren't mentioned.

Approximately 2,000 miles of Kentucky streams are destined to be in the agricultural classification, and Eastern Kentucky streams apparently will contribute much of that total mileage.

The Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources has protested the classifying of

NATURE COMPENSATES

Nature plays no favorites. These mid-October days and nights emphasize that fact. Last spring, flowers and shrubs and a few trees burst into bloom while most of the trees were not distinctive with their dress of green. But now those which flowered early stand drab, and the maples and oaks and all those apparently penalized at the outset are closing out in a burst of colors that makes the beholder forget the blues and pinks of early spring.

AN INVITATION

Veterans Day, with all its fine associations, never amounted to much around here, but now that day is combined with an outburst of feeling for the old days and ways to such extent that Floyd county does itself proud in Red, White and Blue Day. It expresses a spirit America cannot afford to lose. It offers something we can't afford to miss. You-all come.

THE TROUBLE

Lenna Moore dropped by this morning, just to let us know he was still Republican and not mad. Some of his acquaintances have been wondering why he hasn't made this column in recent weeks, and I hereby explain. It's simply because Mr. Moore hasn't come up with a story that can be cleaned up enough to fit into this family-type publication.

Friday Raids Net Heavy Rum Haul; Lykins Arrested

Raids on Mud Creek and Left Beaver Creek last Friday netted 87 cases of beer and 202 bottles of whiskey, wine, gin and vodka and one prisoner.

Joe Lykins, of Mud Creek, was arrested by State ABC Agents Arvel Nelson and Bobby Vann, who said they confiscated 76 cans of beer and two half-pints of whiskey in a search of his premises. Lykins, who has been arrested several times on liquor charges, was booked to County Judge Henry Stumbo's court.

The heaviest haul was made in a raid staged the same day on Hunter Branch of Left Beaver by State Troopers Cantrell, Williamson and Bevins, but drivers of the truck and Pontiac station wagon from which the intoxicants were taken fled and eluded arrest. A truck licensed in the name of Gary Faine yielded, the officers reported, 84 cases and nine cans of beer. The station wagon, which was licensed in the name of Gloria D. Salisbury, contained, officers said, 37 "fifths" of wine, 24 pints of wine, 112 half-pints of whiskey, 19 half-pints of gin and eight half-pints of vodka.

The drivers were chased by Trooper Cantrell. Their identities were not reported.

Among those jailed within the week was Cleo Johnson, who was arrested last Wednesday by State Trooper Gary Rose on

Johns Named Educational Program Director

The Region 11 board of directors of the new Regional Organization for Providing Educational Services (ROPES) last week named, subject to the approval of State Supt. Lyman Ginger, W. Reo Johns, assistant superintendent of Pike county schools, regional director of the program.

Region 11, which Mr. Johns will head, consists of Floyd, Pike, Martin, Johnson and Magoffin counties. The offices of Region 11 will be in Floyd county because of this county's central geographic position in the five-county area, Floyd Supt. Charles Clark, chairman of the regional board of directors, said.

Purpose of the new organization, which has been a "pet project" of State Supt. Ginger, is generally to enhance and expand the opportunities of local educational agencies by providing education, program services and activities which otherwise would be impossible for local agency to provide. It is described as a decentralization of educational effort.

Mr. Johns has been with the Pike county school system since 1947, serving in varied positions as teacher, principal, supervisor and assistant superintendent. He left the school system in 1969 for a two-year period to serve as director of evaluation for the Pikeville Model City agency, but returned to the school system in 1971 to serve as assistant superintendent.

He has been a member of the Virgie Baptist Mission for several years, along

Saturday Event Again To Stress Tried Principles

What has become perhaps Kentucky's most unusual event will be staged here Saturday for the third consecutive year as the thousands join to observe Red, White and Blue Day.

The day is unusual because it serves in music, speech, costume and spirit to proclaim, unashamedly, God, home, country in distinction to the spirit of revolt often prevalent elsewhere. Last year, an estimated 30,900 gathered here for the observance. An even greater crowd is expected Saturday, Mrs. Marcella Bailey, Eastern housewife who conceived the idea of the celebration, predicts.

Schools of least three adjoining counties—Pike, Johnson and Knott—will be represented in the gigantic Red, White and Blue parade at noon. This parade will bring together the old and the new of America—the open Bible carried by a youth, leading it all...the Statue of Liberty...high school bands...floats depicting patriotic and religious principles, old customs and costumes... Scouts, both girls and boys in the line of march... pretty girls from the ranks of whom will be named Miss Red White and Blue...veterans' and church groups...pupils from every school in the county.

Pioneer days will be depicted. There will be a liberal sprinkling of poke bonnets, aprons and overalls in the line of march. A one-horse buggy, too, a wagon loaded with fodder, a mule laden with a "turn" of corn for the mill, an ancient sled hauled by a mule, wheelbarrows bedecked with patriotic colors—all "pulling for America," Mrs. Bailey said.

An one float will have a woman in old-time bonnet and dress, churning real milk in a real, oldtime churn, with handmade dasher and all; this to the accompaniment of dulcimer music. And when the churn-lids is lifted children will be waiting, ready to spoon the butter.

The day's program will begin with gospel singing, and for this leading vocal groups from Kentucky and perhaps other states are scheduled. The flag-raising ceremony will be at 11 a.m.

At noon the parade will move out from its base at the fire station on Highland avenue, down Court street to Third avenue, up Third to Graham, right at Graham to Lake Drive (US23) and thence to the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company building on US 23.

Prestonsburg City Manager Curtis Clark will be parade marshal. Following the parade, awards for floats and the crowning of Miss Red, White and Blue and a junior Miss Red, White and Blue will be held in ceremonies at the Prestonsburg high school

Energy Crisis Talks Scheduled at Lodge

"Our Energy Crisis" will be the theme of the Kentucky Development Committee three-day meeting to begin tomorrow (Thursday) at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Speakers from Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia will discuss the theme from the viewpoints of scientists, producers, environmentalists and economists.

Charlie Dixon, secretary of the state committee, said the meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m., Thursday, October 19, and last until noon on Friday. He said that visitors are invited. The committee is comprised of representatives of 55 state and federal agencies and private organizations and firms.

James E. Funk, dean of the U. K. College of Engineering, will give the keynote address on "Earth's Diminishing Resources" at 9:15 a.m., Thursday.

A symposium of producers will speak on "How Will the Energy Crisis Affect Kentucky and What are We Doing About It?" Fred Luigart, Lexington, will represent the Kentucky Coal Association. Olaf Walker of Charleston, West Virginia, will represent Columbia Gas Company. Frank Conneighton, Ashland, will speak for Ashland Petroleum Company. John E. Jones, Oak Ridge Tennessee will discuss Atomic Fuels and Solar Energy.

Spurlock, manager of the East Kentucky Power Company.

"Environmental Influences of Energy Production, Transmission and Use" will be discussed by Jack E. Ravan, regional administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, Atlanta, Georgia.

Damon Harrison, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Commerce, will speak Friday morning on the subject, "What Will Be the Effect of the Energy Crisis and Related Environmental Protection on the Economic Development of Kentucky?" He will be followed by a panel discussion on "Costs and Other Effects of the Crisis Upon Us As Citizens". Dr. Harold Charlesworth, director of the Office of Business Development and Government Services of the University of Kentucky, will preside. He will be joined by Prof. O. J. Hahn, of the UK College of Engineering; Carroll Tichenor, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Cumberland Chapter of the Sierra Club; and by Funk, Luigart, Walker, Conneighton and Jones.

Conley Orders Manual Revision On Med Expense

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley this week entered an order directing Gail Huecker, commissioner of the Department of Economic Security, to revise certain sections of the Kentucky Public Assistance Manual to insure that all medical assistance applicants are given appropriate income deductions before making a final determination of excess income.

The judgment was entered in the case of Robert L. Clifton, 65, and his wife, Maudie, 68, of this county, who last May filed suit against the then-acting commissioner, Garnett Johnson. They alleged that they were denied regular medical assistance benefits because the department had unlawfully determined that they fell within the excess income category instead of that providing regular medical assistance under the Kentucky Medical Aid Plan and Social Security.

Findings of fact by the trial judge showed that the sole income of the Cliftons was $172.60 per month; that the couple was under continuous treatment at the U. K. Medical Center, were required to purchase Prestonsburg Kiwanians, who have helped in the past, will again assist with this clinic. Public health nurses from the three counties will also assist the Commission staff.

Well-Known Man Is Victim Monday At Hite Crossing

Bobby Hall, 49, well-known McDowell man, was killed shortly after noon Monday when a truck which he was driving was hit by a C. & O. Railway coal train at a rail crossing near the Hite coal preparation plant.

Mr. Hall, former owner of a service station at McDowell, was employed at the preparation plant as a check-weighman and at the time of the tragedy was hauling slate to a dumping site.

The train struck the rear of the truck and spun it around. Mr. Hall was thrown from the truck which toppled onto him. He apparently was instantly killed.

Coroner James J. Carter conducted an inquest at the site of the collision. The jury held that the death was the result of the train accidentally striking the truck. Lowell Marcum, of Allen, brakeman on the train which was hauling 54 empty coal cars, said at the inquest that he was in the front portion of the train and saw Hall about four car-lengths from the crossing. The engineer, Don Hutchinson, of Hunter, said he threw the locomotive into "emergency reverse" but was unable to avoid the crash. The train did not stop until about 18 car-lengths past the point of contact, Coroner Carter said.

The victim was a son of Bill and Minnie Vanderpool Hall, who survive. He was a World War II Navy veteran and for 16 years was a Gulf dealer at McDowell. Other survivors are his widow, Mrs. Audrey Turner Hall, of McDowell; one son, Steven Hall, McDowell; two brothers and two sisters, Vernon and William E. Hall, both of McDowell, Mrs. Vada Reed, of Ashland, and Mrs. Ada Russo, of Louisville. One grandchild also survives.

The funeral will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 11 a.m. from the Hall Brothers Funeral Home chapel, the Rev. James Clark officiating. Burial will be made in the Lucy Hall cemetery at McDowell.

Cliff Man Dies On Tracks Here

George Shell, 53-year-old Cliff man, was killed when struck by a coal train here early last Saturday evening.

It was said that he was hit by the train after he had fallen asleep on the tracks, across the Big Sandy from here. The tragedy occurred at 6:55 p.m.

The victim, a World War II veteran, was a son of the late James and Martha Adkins Shell, and was a native of Martin county.

Survivors include a daughter, Miss Martha Josephine Shell, of Paintsville; five brothers, Frank and Luther Shell, of West Prestonsburg, Henry, Roosevelt and Jerry Shell, all of Cliff; and four sisters, Mrs. Lee Miller, of Cliff, Mrs. Angeline Howell, West Prestonsburg, Mrs. Doris Baker, Nancy, Ky., and Mrs. Mary Baker, Sandusky, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday from the Carter Funeral Home here, the Rev. Alex Patton officiating. Burial was made in the Bays Branch cemetery.

Judge Restrains
Turner Project,
Orders Refunds

Dare To Be Great, Inc. was permanently enjoined last Friday by Circuit Judge L. T. Grant, of the Fayette circuit court, from operating in Kentucky.

Judge Grant also ruled that the Florida-based company must refund all money invested by Kentuckians in the program since last June 18, the date when Kentucky's consumer-fraud law became effective.

Charles Calk, Lexington attorney who defended Dare To Be Great in the trial of the case, indicated an appeal from the decision will be made. He expressed the belief that Judge Grant erred in allowing the permanent injunction to apply to the parent company and its founder, Glenn W. Turner, as well as to Dare To Be Great.

The judge's opinion gives Dare To Be Great 15 days in which to furnish the court the names, addresses and Social Security numbers of each person who invested in the plan on or after June 16. It also requires the amount paid by each investor.

The program has been attacked in the courts in more than 30 states, and Turner is on trial in Florida at this time on charges of violating the state's security laws in the sale of Dare To Be Great courses, but a spokesman for the Better Business Bureau in Washington, D. C. said the Fayette court decision is the first he knows of which permanently enjoins both the program and Turner Enterprises from operating and orders a refund of the money invested.

Coal Association President, Attorney Argue Strip-Mining

Two men representing at opposite poles of the highly charged strip-mining issue enlivened last Thursday evening's meeting of the Prestonsburg chapter of the American Association of University Women. Fred Luigart, president of the Kentucky Coal Association, spoke in defense of the controversial method of coal production; J. T. Begley, attorney for the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund, stood for the abolishing of strip-mining.

Luigart's main point was based on economics. Begley argues from the point of pollution. The coal association president pointed to the importance of coal to the production of electric power and to the fact that strip-mining is faster and cheaper than underground mining. He argued that most Eastern Kentucky counties are one-industry counties and that if strip-mining is abolished underground mining would suffer as well, because the cheaper strip coal blended with underground coal enables coal producers to lower the price of their product enough to compete with other states whose production expenses are lower.

Stressing the pollution threat, Begley said that the water runoff from strip-mining areas has an iron and manganese content which at least in some cases is above the level of human tolerance and kills all plant and animal life. He also noted the lack of proper reclamation and contended that reclamation of steep slopes such as are found in Eastern Kentucky is practically impossible.

A question-and-answer period followed. The meeting was held in Prestonsburg Community College auditorium. Mrs. Helen Ankrom, Prestonsburg AAUW president, presided and welcomed guests from various civic groups of the county. Mrs. Donna Brown, program chairman, gave a brief explanation of the origination of the program.

Repertory Company Reception To Have Effect on Theatre

The Jenny Wiley Repertory Company continues its run of Neil Simon's "Star Spangled Girl" with special hold-over performances Saturday at 8:30 p.m., and a matinee performance Sunday, October 15, at 4 p.m. at the Prestonsburg Community College Theatre.

The Rep Company, the area's latest cultural addition, has played for the past three week-ends to minimal audiences due to the heavy volume of area activities, and the two-performance extension is to insure that all persons who have been previously committed will have the opportunity to enjoy the smash comedy hit.

Governor Wendell Ford this week awarded Kentucky Colonelships to several of the company members, based on contribution to furtherance of theatre in Kentucky. Those receiving the award were Thomas Cavano, Adrienne Doucette, Stephen Hale, Barbara Mappus, Vicki Perry, Bonnie Stuart and Jack Wicker.

Manager-Director Wicker said, "The future of not only the Repertory Company but of the entire summer music theatre program hinges on our success, and no matter how artistically successful our shows may be, it is the audience that keeps us alive." Mr. Wicker has been guest-speaker at the Kiwanis Club and the Prestonsburg Woman's Club in an effort to solicit audience support from those groups. In addition, the company is presently engaged in taking the show on tour to high schools and community colleges in the Eastern Kentucky area.

The company's next offering, "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," will premiere in an all-new dinner theatre setting at May Lodge, November 2. Advance reservations may be made by calling the Lodge reservation desk at 886-2711.

RETURN TO FLORIDA

Richard M. Nixon—A Great President Needs

Louie B. Nunn For A Great Senator

It has been reported in the news media that George McGovern has sent $120,000 to his "Strong Supporter" Dee Huddleston, Candidate for United States Senator. Dee Huddleston plans to use this money to perpetuate the radical policies of George McGovern—policies that are repugnant to Floyd County and all of Kentucky. Louie Nunn does not want to legalize abortion. He does not want to legalize Marijuana nor increase the welfare "giveaways" at your expense. Louie Nunn would not have us throw our weapons into the ocean and beg for our prisoners' mercy. Friends, this will be a close election, the good people must unite. The hippies, Communists and the outlaws will be out in full force to defeat president Nixon and Louie B. Nunn for United States Senator.

President Nixon, the Nation and Kentucky need Louie B. Nunn—a man that will work for Kentucky and fight the radical policies of George McGovern.

Ford Slates Meeting Here On Federal Revenue Sharing

One of a series of regional meetings scheduled by Governor Wendell H. Ford to help local officials with the new federal revenue-sharing program will be held at Jenny Wiley State Park, it was announced in Frankfort Friday. The meetings will be held between Oct. 30 and Nov. 2, but the exact date of the meeting here had not been set at that time.

The allotment for the entire state is $87.3 million, with local governments to get $58.2 million of that total and the state $29.1 million, but Otto Stolz, special counsel to the under-secretary of the Treasury, said in Frankfort Thursday that as the situation now stands the General Assembly will have to meet before expending or obligating any revenue-sharing funds.

The special session would be necessary because the federal revenue-sharing act provides that state governments appropriate and spend these funds by the same method as their own revenues are handled, which is by legislative appropriation.

Governor Ford is hopeful that a special session can be avoided. After learning that Kentucky's is the only state Legislature that meets on even-numbered years, Stolz said a request for an exemption for deciding how to spend the money will be made to the Treasury.

The first revenue-sharing checks will go to the states, Oct. 27, and others between Jan. 2 and Jan. 5 next year. After that, checks will be mailed quarterly. Stolz said Treasury Department regulations will require that funds obligated for capital expenditures must be used in five years and all others in 18 months.

Senator Marlowe Cook released revenue-sharing allocations to the various Kentucky counties and cities recently, but it later was indicated these may be subject to revision.

These figures allocated to Floyd county $319,080, of which $162,850 is to go to county government. Of the total, the city of Prestonsburg was allocated $44,413.

REV. TACKETT HONORED

Rev. Floyd Tackett was honored Sunday with a surprise birthday dinner at the United Methodist church at Garrett, hosted by the United Methodist church of Wayland and Garrett. Many members and friends from both towns attended. A gift of money was presented to him, and a cake in the shape of the open Bible decorated his table.

Castle-Home of Floyd Native, Car-Stopping Bluegrass Scene

Rex Martin, Lexington builder and native of Floyd county, has under construction between Lexington and Versailles a structure that not only is eye-catching but car-stopping.

The country place which Martin is building takes on the form of a medieval castle—high walls, complete with lofty towers, a scene out of Old England, with only the moat and drawbridge missing.

Martin, who has been very successful as a builder and developer in and around

Lexington, isn't too enthusiastic about publicity dealing with his castle. It has interfered with work, drawing swarms of the curious to the scene.

Why build a castle? Martin says he "just wanted a Gothic-type residence," and he thinks it will be right livable.

Before October is out he expects work to move ahead more rapidly. That will result from getting massive cypress gates in place. When they're locked, visitors will be kept out.

Mr. Martin doesn't like photographs of his castle, particularly at this time, because, he explains, the uncompleted towers "look like silos."

"They'll look like towers later, he said. When finished, each will have a 36-foot aluminum spire, made on the site. The walls, which have a perimeter of 1,200 feet, will enclose a courtyard in which will be a formal garden, a swimming pool and tennis courts. The residence itself will be of native stone. Two of the towers will be guest apartments, one will serve as a cabana for the swimming pool, dressing rooms, a grill, small bar and an efficiency apartment for household help. The fourth tower will house Martin's office.

He plans 16th Century Gothic furniture throughout when the job is completed. When completion will come, and how much this castle-home will cost he doesn't say—if he knows.

Five acres of land were given Breckinridge county by the federal government for use by the County's Board of Education.

Introducing the 1973 Beetle:

Re-introducing the 1972 price:

With the price of our new Beetle still under $2,000,* the Volkswagen Beetle is a bigger buy than ever before.

More warranty, for instance, than you get with any other small car. Twice more: 24 months or 24,000 miles.**

More attention to specific details than ever (and that's quite a lot). More than 1,000 inspectors meticulously scrutinizing more than 5,000 parts. Some two or three times. For us, it's not enough to get it right, we want it perfect.

Volkswagen also has the most advanced automotive service system in the world. A brand new computer is, or soon will be, waiting in our service area. We simply plug it in to your VW, and it checks, via sensors and probes, vital service parts and spells out the results in plain English. That's service.

Maybe all of this explains why VW owners have gotten more resale dollars after three or four years than the owners of any other comparable car.†

Obviously, it's not only the price of the '73 Beetle that reminds you of the good old days. It's also the quality.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.

*1973 Volkswagen Sedan III suggested retail price, P.O.E. local taxes and other dealer charges, if any, additional.
**If an owner maintains and services his vehicle in accordance with the Volkswagen maintenance schedule any factory part found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first (except normal wear and tear and service items) will be repaired or replaced by any U.S. or Canadian Volkswagen Dealer. And this will be done free of charge. See your dealer for details.

A brief religious program led by a child—the reading of the 23rd Psalm, followed by the Lord's Prayer will conclude the program at the fieldhouse.

At the municipal parking lot opposite the courthouse Saturday evening at 6 o'clock a new feature will be introduced to the celebration. An old-fashioned bean-stringing will be held there, and when the work is finished the stringed beans will be presented to a rest home for food during the winter ahead. Darning needles is the standard equipment for this event, it is pointed out.

Then at 8 p.m. will come the climaxing square dance, with dancers in varied costumes.

The committee passed a motion to that effect after being told that the Stae Police issued 17,000 citations last year for vehicles that did not have valid inspection stickers.

IMAGINE!

Speaking of the old days to which we shall return, come Saturday, I heard an acquaintance from Illinois, the other night, tell of an elderly aunt of his. Said the old lady told him, in a half-whisper sort of tone: "You know, there are some people these days who buy their bread!"

One youngster wanted to know what you did for bread if you didn't buy it.

COMPLAINT DEPARTMENT

I am in receipt of an anonymous letter from a Kansas City woman who says she is a former resident of this county. I shall not print it, since it is unsigned, but will tell you that she dwelt at some length on the garbage-dump appearance of certain parts of the county. She winds up by writing:

"No name, please. Who knows?—when I die I may get buried in your dirty city."

I wonder if the lady ever looked for dirt in dear, old Kansas City. I also wonder if the lady ever lifted her eyes above ground-level when she was back among us. I would invite her back to take a look at these hills of ours, these autumn days, but beauty is in the eye of the beholder, and she probably would see nothing but a dead snag on a hillside.

SPELL IT EITHER WAY

The report comes from New York City that they're having a time there with their offal truck. With three months to go, it has already hauled away the carcasses of a herd of horses, four lions, three bears, three llamas, two calves, a cow, a polar bear, a donkey, a buffalo and a yak—not to mention smaller things that have escaped this vale of tears. It's awful, you might say.

Science Center Dedicated

Dr. Robert S. Cope, president of the college, cited Dr. Armington's faithfulness to the college and to humanity and awarded him an honorary doctor of science degree.

Dr. Armington was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and is a graduate of Case Engineering School. He was founder of Armington Engineering, which is now a part of General Motors Corp.

Tours of the multi-million dollar Armington Center were conducted after a ribbon-cutting ceremony. The tour included a view of a lunar rock sample brought back from the Apollo 15 space mission which is on loan from the National Aeronautics Space Administration.

At an afternoon convocation, Dr. Cope, named a lecture auditorium for a former chairman of the board of trustees and his late wife, Norman A. and Loraine B. Chrisman.

Building of the Armington Science Learning Center required three years at a cost of $3.9 million. It increases the former science facility tenfold. The center, funded both by the college and by a grant from federal government, houses 10 classrooms, 17 laboratories, and a lecture auditorium, with a botanical plaza on the roof. The building contains the chemistry physics, mathematics, and biology departments and the new mining technology program.

Atty. Gen. Asks Probe in County

Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo said this week that Attorney General Ed W. Hancock has acknowledged receipt of a copy of the recent Floyd grand jury report and that he immediately contacted Col. Larry G. Boucher, State Police director. He added that he has asked Boucher to institute an investigation.

The attorney general explained that he considered the need in the matter to be investigation rather than legal and that for this reason he had asked State Police action. He added that he has requested Col. Boucher to provide all necessary personnel for the investigation and to keep him informed of the progress of the probe.

A copy of the grand jury report also was sent to Governor Ford.

Variety of Materials Used for Covering Greenhouses Listed

What is the best type of covering for greenhouses—glass, film plastic, or fiberglass? This question confronts both longtime greenhouse operators and those who are thinking about building their first greenhouse.

Glass has long been the old reliable greenhouse covering and the standard to which all other materials are compared, says George Duncan, Extension agricultural engineer at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Glass-covered houses 30 to 40 years old still have light transmission and serviceability which are almost as good as new, provided that dirt is cleaned from the glass periodically.

Duncan says the main objections to glass are the amount of maintenance required and the higher initial cost. Newer types of glass panes such as the double and triple strength, frosted, and jumbo-sized panes, have improved the performance of glass houses. Glass panes require proper sash bars and glazing and therefore are generally limited to specially manufactured greenhouse structures.

The introduction of film plastic in the mid-1950's pioneered a new international era in greenhouse coverings. Clear film plastic has the lowest initial cost but has a short life span in the sun. For example, the regular 4 or 6-mil type (0.006 inch thickness) costs 0.7 to 1.0 cents per square foot and lasts only about nine to ten months. The ultraviolet resistant film lasts one to one-half years but costs 1.5 to 2.0 cents per square foot. Thus, it is necessary to recover a greenhouse every year or perhaps every other year when using the ultraviolet resistant film.

Duncan says folded sheets of plastic split more easily at the folds, so he recommends using the unfolded or lay-flat. Installation of film plastic is much easier and the plastic is more resistant to wind flap when the newly-developed double-layer-on-top, air-inflation method is used.

"Fiberglass," short for "fiberglass reinforced rigid plastic," has more recently come into use. This product generally comes in corrugated sheets two to four feet wide and precut in lengths up to 30 feet.

Fiberglass is two to three times stronger than glass, and this strength along with its durability are advantages over both glass and film plastic. However, the resistance of fiberglass to weathering varies considerably among brands, according to Duncan. He notes that there have been many grades and qualities of the materials on the market. Some brands yellow in two to four years, and most are readily flammable.

"You get what you pay for," is the general rule when buying fiberglass, Duncan points out. The newer "Tedlar" coated panels have promise of lasting 15 or 20 years but cost 40 to 45 cents per square foot. Cheaper panels costing 15 to 20 cents per square foot may be useful only four to eight years before discoloring or other deterioration render them unsuitable for optimum plant growth.

More information on materials for covering greenhouses can be obtained from the UK Agricultural Engineering Department of local county Extension agents.

Gov. Wendell Ford announced the purchase of 963-acre Walnut Hall Stud Farm near Lexington as the site of a new state park honoring Kentucky's horse industry. The $2.7 million purchase includes barns, tenant houses, a half-mile training track and a lake. State Parks Commissioner Ewart Johnson said the new park hopefully will be open in time for Kentucky's bicentennial celebration in 1974.

U. S. Court Plans Watch on Election

In accordance with the policy announced by Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst, the office of the United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky in Lexington will be kept open during election day, November 7, until all polls are closed in the district.

Eugene E. Siler, Jr., U. S. Attorney, emphasized that general supervision of elections is a state and local responsibility. He added that, since this will be an election of federal officials, certain federal laws will apply. The Justice Department through the Federal Bureau of Investigation will investigate any reported violations promptly and impartially.

Federal election laws make no provision for enjoining illegal acts which may take place at the polls. The only remedy available is criminal prosecution after the election.

The United States Attorney's office will receive any complaints concerning possible criminal violations, such as allegations of vote buying, ineligible persons voting, and the like at area code 606, number 252-2312, extension 2661, between 8 a.m. till 5 p.m., and at 606-252-2313, between 6 a.m. and 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. till 6 p.m., both Lexington telephone numbers. Complaints will also be received on dates after the election.

Amblyopia, or "lazy eye," is among common children's vision problems which to be most successfully treated should be detected before age six. The Kentucky society for the Prevention of Blindness urges all parents to have children's eyes professionally examined early in the preschool years, preferably by age four, to catch possible vision defects before they become serious.

Several cooperative academic programs do operate in Kentucky, but none of them are as centralized as the program outlined by Cope.

Black Cats Long on Defense In Homecoming Grid Victory

Homecoming seems to bring out the best in a team. Everyone seems to carry an extra incentive into the game at homecoming. Even the fans take an extra interest. These things were evident last Friday night as the Blackcats defeated a tough Whitesburg eleven, 13-0. This victory left the Cats' record at five wins and four losses.

The Cats played a fine defensive game that never allowed Whitesburg to mount much of an offensive threat. Neither team allowed any points in the first quarter.

Both teams played "gutsy" football until late in the first half when the Cats scored with Jim Blackburn going over on a two-yard sneak. Robert Tackett kicked the conversion.

Heads-up defensive play was turned in by John Heinze, who had three interceptions; Ronnie Burke had one. The Blackcats added the final touches to the Yellow Jackets and Dell Jagers tossed a halfback pass to Dennis Walker for the Cats' final touchdown. The fourth quarter was scoreless.

Next week, the Cats travel to Hazard to try to avenge a 14-12 homecoming loss last season.

At the halftime homecoming ceremonies, Miss Sue Jett Jagers, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Jagers, was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Wheelwright Ups Record with Win Over Mullins High

The Wheelwright Trojans upped their seasonal mark to four wins and five losses last Friday as they defeated Mullins, 36-0. But the Trojans suffered a loss even in victory as they lost Tippy Moscript on a sprained ankle. It is doubtful if he will return to action this week for the Trojans' last game. Coach Daniels once again was very pleased with the play of his young players. Injuries this season has forced him into using several inexperienced starters.

Mullins played the Trojans a fine first half with neither team able to cross the opponent's goal line. In the second half, Wheelwright charged out and took the lead as Darrell Branham scored from the three-yard line on a run that ended a 60-yard drive. Clifford James provided the conversion for an 8-0 lead. James then came back with another tally as he rambled 102 yards with an intercepted pass. Darrell Branham teamed up with him for the conversion and all of the Wheelwright points. Clifford James added one more score in the third quarter from the 10-yard line for a 22-0 lead at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Clifford James added 14 points for the Trojans as he returned a 60-yard interception for one touchdown and he also gathered in a punt and scampered 70 yards for the final Wheelwright marker. He also tacked on the lone conversion for the Trojans in the last quarter.

Wheelwright closes out the season Saturday as they visit Jenkins Saturday at 2 p.m.

Morehead State U. Golden Anniversary Supplement in Times

This week's edition of The Floyd County Times contains a 16-page tabloid supplement devoted to the 50-year development of Morehead State University.

Provided by MSU as part of its Golden Anniversary celebration, the publication reviews the chronological history of the school's academic, athletic and physical growth since its creation in 1922. The supplement is being used in 25 newspapers in the region with a circulation of more than 120,000.

"We are exceedingly grateful for the splendid cooperation given Morehead State University by the publishers of The Floyd County Times," MSU President Adron Doran said. "Their public spirit has enabled us to tell the story of Morehead State University throughout the region."

The supplement, which contains no paid advertising, was prepared by MSU's Bureau of University Affairs under the supervision of Dr. Ray Hornback, vice president for university affairs and chairman of the Golden Anniversary Committee.

New Bill Provides Lower Age Limits On Social Security

The Senate last week passed an amendment to the Social Security law to make men eligible to receive actuarially reduced benefits at age 60, and in the case of widows at age 55. Under current law, men are eligible for actuarially reduced benefits at age 62 and full benefits at age 65, and widows are eligible for full benefits at age 62 and actuarially reduced benefits at age 60.

The amendment, introduced in the Senate by Senator Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.), was co-sponsored by Senator John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky).

The amendment would permit recipients to choose to accept their benefits at an earlier age, on an actuarially reduced basis.

The Social Security Administration estimates that approximately 1,040,000 persons would claim benefits the first year, including roughly 310,000 widows. In Kentucky, upwards of 5,500 widows would become newly eligible when the provision would become effective in January 1973.

The provision was attached to H. R. 1, the Social Security Amendments of 1972, which is now before the Senate. When the bill is passed by the Senate, it will go to a Senate-House conference to work out the differences between the Senate bill and the already-passed House bill.

Senator Cooper explained that many women who have lost their husbands are in dire straits as they have been unable to obtain social security benefits due to the age requirements. Benefits applied for before the age of 62 would be reduced according to the widow's age at the time of application.

Is 'Big Foot' of West for Real?—Prestonsburg Man Thinks So

By CHARLES M. McCOY

I get the bug to go west again, so I up and decide to go. This time it is more to explore northern California, which is a very interesting place. So to save time I get a plane to Sacramento. I'm there in one day. The next morning I rent a car and head out for the gold fields which are east and northeast of Sacramento. My first day out is spent visiting old mine towns and sights and asking questions about the best place or places to go prospecting.

I had done some gold panning in 1933 when I was in the C. C. C. (Civilian Conservation Corps), up in the Yuba River. The Yuba is a good place to prospect. This fever never did leave me, and if you ever get the bug or fever you're hooked; you'll always have the desire to go back and try again, you always think you are going to do better, next time.

I was told to go over in the Pi-Pi Valley where there was running water, as all the streams nearby were dry. So, next morning, I head out for Pi-Pi, and the same day deer season opens up, and I am a little afraid of that, because if them fellers are like they are back home they'll shoot at anything that moves. I follow a narrow blacktop for several miles, then onto a log road which I follow, winding over the high mountain through the giant forest, down to the valley far below. It looked good down in there and it sure enough was good prospecting country. It was a good stream to work in, but I didn't get anything but a couple of odd stones. The next day, I decided to go take a look in two of the most famous old mine dumps and I dug out some very interesting quartz. I have one piece that is pretty rich with gold and silver. You can easily see the gold and silver in the quartz, without a mag glass, which means it's pretty rich.

After three days sightseeing and working in the gold field area I headed up Route 4 from the golden Road 49, named after the 49er's, I headed eastward approximately 150 miles across the mountains toward Nevada, destination Carson City. Route 4 is a narrow, back-country road, and the higher you get in those mountains the narrower and rougher it gets, turning into a one-lane road with turnouts for passing. Sixty-seven miles of this was really bad, slow traveling and I got caught in the highest pass, 8,750 feet, that night at 11 o'clock. Talk about scary country! Just you try a place like that miles and miles from nowhere, in the middle of the night, going up and down and round and round. I was driving a Pinto, thought at times I'm gonna have to get out and push. I made it to Carson next morning I headed toward beautiful Lake Tahoe. I also stopped by the Bonanza Ranch.

At the Bonanza, I meet several interesting people, take a lot of pictures and eat a Hoss-Burger from the chuck wagon, which was a big one and pretty good, with all the trimmings. I had a good chat with a stunt actor who is stuntman for Maverick, Colt 45 and Lawman. He did a few fast draws for me, I asked him to do one in slow motion so I could actually see how he did it, such as clearing the holster and making the draw so quickly. There's sure an art to it, that's why some of the old timers lived longer than others, in the days when the lightning draw with the Graveyard Specials was law.

Leaving Bonanza, I headed on toward Reno, "the biggest little city in the world," a big, arched sign that's across the main street says. It is alive with the gambling casinos. I do not go for the gambling, as I know they have me beat before I start. I saw them, young and old, fighting those one-arm bandits, pretty ones, ugly ones, real old ones and young ones feeding coins into those slots, one after another, small winnings occasionally dripping out in the pan, just enough to keep 'em sucked in, an occasional jack-pot alarm here and there in the house. It's amusing to watch them. It's kinda like gold panning. You keep on tryin', thinking the next one will be better, or a nice big shiny nugget might show up in the next pan and you've hit it rich. Like I say, that's part of the west.

Next morning I head out from Reno to go visit Lear Motors Company, which is nine miles north of Reno. As some of you may know, they are developing the steam engine for the automobile, and they are really getting close to having it ready for commercial use. They have already had a bus in use in San Francisco for some time. They used the bus a while, bringing it in and making alterations and improvements and sending it back again for service. In this way they keep on improving the operation of the vehicle. Their turbo-steam engine is practically smog free; I believe the man said, 98 or 99 percent free. The chief engineer took me on a personal tour of the whole plant. I asked them if they were building them so they would be adaptable to any make or model car. They said they were. In that event, when their engines are ready for market, we can throw out these old smoke pots and put in an economical smog free source of power. The advantages and performances of the engine is astounding, the potential is really wonderful.

After leaving the Lear plant, I came back to Reno, took 80 west up the Truckee river, turned north at Truckee City on 89, heading for Route 49 at Sattley, then west to Downeyville, then took a dirt road for 16 miles up over a high mountain to where old CCC Camp 597 was. This is the camp where I was, in 1933, high onto 40 years ago, so you see I'm no spring chicken.

It was getting near dark and misting rain with fog so thick in those mountains you could almost stir it with a stick. I got within six miles of the old camp location and turned back, as I was afraid if I got in there and got stuck, I would be there for keeps for some time, as it was seldom any one traveled that trail. I drove halfway down the mountain and ran into a hard-rock miner, (that's a miner who gets gold from quartz). I told him why I was in that country. He lived 35 miles away in Nevada City California, said he was doing pretty good with his mine. He was 64 and has been in that country 42 years, I told him he hadn't beat me much, as I had been there 39 years ago. I went on to Nevada City. The next morning I headed out toward a real adventure, a much more exciting one than I had anticipated. I headed for Redding and the Trinity Mountain area, which is known as the Trinity Alps—one whopping big wilderness. There is a wilderness country in northern California and southern Oregon which comprises a 56,000 square mile area, the roughest and most dense wilderness in the United States, mainly in northwest California and southwest Oregon.

And in this area is the surprise of surprises. It's Big-Foot Country. Big-Foot is the legendary ape-like man that has been sighted several times the past 12 to 14 years. Some of you have probably read about him in various papers. I had read about him, and thought while in that area of the country I would check on the story. I talked with a lot of people, including Indians and a ranger. No one refuted or scoffed at the story, many are strong believers that there is a very strange and powerful creature in the wilds there. Many footprints have been seen which measure from 15 to 17 inches long and 9 to 10 inches across. The creature is believed to weigh about 1,000 pounds, the way the footprint mires in the ground as compared to the way a man's foot mires in the same soil. I saw casts of the footprint.

Albert Hodgson, who has been quite a hunter for evidence of Big-Foot, showed me three different casts which he took himself, and several people there know that he took them. Two hunters sent me to see Mr. Hodgson, that he could give me loads of information about the weird creature, and sure enough Mr. Hodgson laid it on the line. He was very very much enthused about it. He laid out names and records of different sightings by people who had seen first-hand evidence of the creature, the markings and signs it had left, as well as the footprints and what it had done to supplies left in the logging woods, such as throwing almost a drum full of diesel over in a ravine. Also a big earth moving machine tire and wheel were thrown over after it had been dragged and carried quite a ways. Dogs have been mauled to a splatter by the creature. It has been shot at several times. They say it is very fast and very clever and shy.

The height of the creature has been estimated from the different sightings to be from seven and a half to ten feet. I would say that is big enough to get my attention, should I meet him face to face or a hundred yards away. I prefer the hundred yards. You could hardly call it face to face, six feet compared to ten feet, it would be more F to A. It's a chiller to think of meeting that monster on a lonely road or in the brush of his wild kingdom.

After hearing all these stories and seeing the evidence, I was so intrigued that I stayed overnight at Willow Creek, with the intention to go to Bluff Creek the next day where the sightings had been made, and see for myself if I could spot any signs and, much better, to be so fortunate as to get sight of the wild creature. So next morning, Friday September 29, I had breakfast at a little logging restaurant, told them I was heading for Bluff Creek. The waitress said she wouldn't go in there at all. She just shook her head, but curiosity had me, hook, line and sinker, I had made up my mind to go and see what I could find.

I headed out. It is several miles of narrow treacherous road to Bluff Creek, then it is a long ways up the creek to the area of the sightings. I got to the mouth of the creek by noon, drove as far as I could up the road which was about seven miles to where the road had completely broken off and I could not get any farther. I took pictures of the area and turned back, which I hated awfully bad to have to do. There was a log trail about three miles from me that went up across the mountain (remember, those mountains are high ones). I could have tried it and would have, if I had the time to get another 20 to 30 miles and back before dark. Furthermore, my plane schedule was for 8 o'clock Sunday morning and I would get fouled up and miss it, and I had a long ways to go out of that country to drive back to Sacramento.

I said, in my mind, there will be another day for me. I sure hope so. There is too much evidence and sightings have been made by too many people for it to be a hoax. If it is a hoax or proves to be, it still is a very interesting story. Should it prove to be true that there is primitive man in that great wilderness eight to ten feet tall, wouldn't that be the most exciting news? It would be as exciting as John Glenn's travels to the moon. My thinking is, if there is one, there are more than one. And remember the 56,000 square miles of that area is practically one and a half times as big as all Kentucky, so I would say there is plenty of room for Big-Foot, and there's plenty of it man has not set foot on. Very exciting, I am thrilled to think of such an exciting story, and the thought of venturing into Big-Foot's homeland.

There are many reasons why the great west of our country is of extreme interest to me. It is a land of spectacular beauty, of great mountain ranges that stand so high and majestic, with deep valleys and gorges below, where you can get high up from seven to twelve thousand feet, breathing a fresh crisp air, and looking over panoramic views of thousands and thousands of square miles of snowcapped mountains and valleys below, see the beautiful rivers far below winding their way through the canyons and gorges tumbling over large boulders and cataracts, you can hear the roar if you are not more than two or three thousand feet above the floor. Some places you see the giant trees that seem to touch the sky and in all this God seems to be present, you hear the waters below. All other is silence except the sounds of nature, the sounds of the breeze passing softly through the great forest, the sound of a bird or squirrel, the occasional sight of a deer or some other wild creature as they scamper around in their wild kingdom, it is a wonderful feeling to stand alone in all this grandeur. California, Colorado, Oregon, Washington and Idaho have these places. Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Nevada are beautiful with their canyons, gorges, painted deserts, beautiful rock formations of all colors and shapes of high walls of two thousand feet, with cathedral shaped spires and domes I would never get tired of seeing all its magic beauty, and studying the history of it all, as it seems it all just happened yesterday as it looks so new and fresh. In the old mining towns it looks so realistic, as if some old timer is going to pop around the corner and say, why hello there pardner. Seems as you can almost shake hands with the old true blood Americans of yester year that helped to build our great country, just like the ones we had here in the east a hundred and fifty to two hundred years ago. We of course have a lot of real good people today that love our country, and that would do anything to preserve our way of life, and of course there are a lot that is blurring the scene. Lets hope they come to their senses. As for me I think there is not better place on earth to stay than the good old U. S. A. I love it all. But the great west is magic with its grandeur of beauty and historic lore of gold strikes, wagon trains, buffalo herds, cattle herds, ranch empires, cattle drives, cattle rustling, stage coach lines, gold shipments and holdups. Battles with the Indians and Mexicans, the romantic Spanish settlers of the west. And the mixture of the Indians, Mexicans and whites, which really turned the steam on and made a picturesque scene. And of course Hollywood made its fame and fortune from the history of it all.

Who knows, I may go back again some day, for a visit or to stay.

TUTTLE-ROELLE WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Kathy Gay Tuttle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Tuttle, Plymouth, O., and Mr. Joseph Lee Roelle, of the U. S. Air Force, Denver, Colo., and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roelle, Galion, O., was solemnized Saturday afternoon, Oct. 16, at the South View Baptist Church, Galion, O.

Rev. Donald Wake of Worthington read the double-ring rites. Richard Ness of Galion provided nuptial music. The church altar was decorated with pink beauty baskets with arrangements of white daisies.

Wearing a bridal gown of candlelight bridal satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The bodice of Chantilly lace over satin was styled with long fitted sleeves and high scalloped neckline. The full skirt featured a panel of lace down the front and fell into a natural train. She wore a bouffant fingertip veil of bridal illusion and carried a cascading bouquet of pink roses, white daisy mums and baby breath. Diamond earrings were her only jewelry.

Miss Susan Tuttle, of Plymouth, served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a lilac empire waisted gown featuring short bell sleeves. A matching bow held her two tiered veil and she carried white daisies with baby breath accent.

Misses Janet and Teresa Tuttle, of Willard, cousins of the bride, Miss Sharon Waddles, of Plymouth, another cousin, and Miss Dana Tuttle of Plymouth, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Their pink gowns were styled like that of the honor maid, and they carried long stemmed white roses with pink streamers.

Foresters Urge Care As Fire Season Begins

By PAUL HOWARD

Frankfort, Ky.—Most of us probably have a tendency to relax a bit during the last quarter of the year. We've worked hard all year, the holiday season is approaching, and, besides, we're going to buckle down again comes the new year.

But for the state Division of Forestry the last quarter of the year is not time for relaxing. The state's fall fire season falls between Oct. 15 and Dec. 15 each year, because of the dry conditions that usually exist during that period.

During the fall period, and the corresponding spring season (March 1-May 15), state laws prohibit persons from setting fire to "any flammable material capable of spreading fire, located in or within 150 feet of any woodland or brushland, except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and 12 midnight, or when the ground is covered with snow."

Forestry Fire Control Director Maynard Marcura urges all Kentuckians to be especially fire conscious during the fall months.

"There are a greater number of fires in the spring than in the fall, but the fires that do get started this time of year are more apt to spread and are more difficult to control," he said. "In the fall, there is more fuel (dry leaves) on the ground to feed the fires, and the strong winds that are prevalent at this time of year help spread the flames. Also, the leaves are flurry—not compact like they'll be after the first snowfall—and, therefore, they'll burn fast."

Acting Forestry Director Harry Nadler said the division is hoping for its best forest fire record ever this year.

"This spring, we had a lot of damp weather which helped keep the loss of Kentucky's timberland and wildlife due to forest fires to a minimum," Nadler said. "If the number of fires during the fall season is comparably low, 1972 will be the most successful year for forest fire prevention in Kentucky's history."

"However, this goal can't be attained unless everyone who frequents the forests is conscious of the fire hazards that exist and does his part to insure that the potential fires don't become actual fires."

The Danville residents, on September 19, approved the extension of a 15.9 cents school tax for ten years beyond expiration in 1981.

Statewide, Kentucky's sales for the month were $5,694,289 and cumulative sales for the first eight months reached $46,495,106. The state goal for this year is $60,300,000.

Citizens and volunteers of Knott, Letcher, Boone, Boyd, Edmonson, Hancock, Hopkins, Jackson, Kenton, Pulaski, Warren and Woodford counties have exceeded their annual goals since the last report. This brings to 14 the number of counties already exceeding their goals.

Could ads like these ever run in this newspaper?

These ads by electric power companies ran this year in newspapers across the country. We've deliberately covered the names. It would be unthinkable to capitalize on their problems, and the discomfort and anxiety of their customers, when it could happen here someday—if you and we allow it to happen.

IF WE HAVE AN ELECTRICITY SHORTAGE, IT WILL BE MAN-MADE. You have one of the strongest generating and transmission systems in America supplying your electric service, backed with plenty of reserve generating capacity. We can deliver all the electricity you can use for the foreseeable future, IF we're allowed to burn coal to make it.

GAS AND OIL ARE IN SHORT NATIONAL SUPPLY and are being used faster than new reserves are being discovered. We can't rely on these fuels for electric power generation. Nuclear and hydro plants represent only 5% of all electricity produced. Neither can be developed fast enough to meet the energy needs of the 70's.

THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE IS COAL. We have enough coal to make electricity to meet current and future needs for hundreds of years . . . if we're allowed to burn it. There's a hitch, though. When coal is burned it produces sulfur oxides. New government regulations for their removal from flue gases by 1975 can't be met. Millions are being spent on continuing research and prototypes to find a way. Ultimately it will be found. In the meantime, we need realistic regulations that will allow us to burn coal to meet your power needs. Anything less could, in future years, result in a power shortage.

Hallowe'en Is Time To Help UNICEF Help

If a child here in Prestonsburg is orphaned or sick or hungry, we all rush to help him. UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, provides the opportunity to give the same kind of help to children all over the world. Some of these children are the victims of war or natural disasters; others live in countries where malnutrition, disease and illiteracy are rampant.

We can't rush over with a meal, or take these children into our homes, but we can make a contribution on Halloween which will alleviate some of the misery in which they live. Even a quarter goes a long way to help. For 25 cents UNICEF can provide:

- ...Enough antibiotic ointment to cure five children of trachoma; or
- ...Enough seed to produce 3,000 tomato plants; or
- ...Enough BCG vaccine to protect 25 children against tuberculosis; or
- ...A basic education kit for a primary school child.

Help our children help other children this Halloween. Teach them that we care about all children by giving generously when you hear, "Trick or Treat for UNICEF".

United Methodists To Honor New Bishop

BISHOP ROBERTSON

Several thousand United Methodists are expected to gather in Richmond, Sunday October 22, at 4 p.m. at Alumni Coliseum on Eastern Kentucky University's campus, to hear and witness the presentation of Bishop Frank L. Robertson, the newly elected bishop of the Louisville area.

The Kentucky Conference, which touches 70 counties in Central and Eastern Kentucky, has a total of 494 churches with a membership of 82,000. The Red Bird Missionary Conference will join in this service of presentation.

Ministers and lay persons from the churches will gather to honor Bishop Robertson who will be presented by Bishop Arthur J. Moore, of Atlanta, Georgia.

State Suspends 2 More Permits Of Surface Mines

Permits for two auger-mining operations in Eastern Kentucky were suspended last week, and a lawsuit was filed against a third on the ground that it had operated without a permit.

The coal companies whose permits were suspended are:

Card Creek Coal Co., Mouthcard, charged with working outside the permit area and failing to build adequate silt structures at an auger-mine site off KY 1499 near Feds Creek, Pike county; ordered to apply for permit, build approved structures and pay a $5,000 penalty. Cecil Cheney was listed as company representative.

Kentucky River Mining Co., McRoberts; charged with working outside permit area at auger mine site off U. S. 119 near Jenkins, Letcher county; ordered to build approved silt basins, pay a $5,000 penalty and comply with permit law. Robert Barnett was listed as company representative.

The Appalachian Land and Fuel Co., Paintsville, was charged with operating without a permit on Broad Hollow near Paintsville in a suit filed in Franklin circuit court and is under a temporary restraining order banning further work until permit obtained. A $1,000-a-day penalty was requested.

The Johnson company had applied for a permit but started work without permit approval, Reclamation Director John Roberts said.

The company, listed on the permit application and lawsuit as Appalachian Land and Fuel, according to Roberts, is apparently the same as Appalachia Fuel and Land Co., Paintsville, incorporated last July by W. B. Hazelrigg and C. O. Wheeler Jr., both of Paintsville. Roberts said both Hazelrigg and Wheeler are associated with the defendant company.

Roberts also said another of the 10 permits in Pike county suspended last month during a publicized crackdown has now been reinstated.

Island Creek Coal Co.'s permit for auger mining near Elkins Branch was restored after the company did grading, built silt structures and paid a $2,000 penalty, Roberts said.

Another firm whose permit in Pike county was suspended earlier — Mary Mounts Coal Co., Freeburn — has paid a $1,000 penalty. The company has indicated it plans no further work in the permitted area because the coal seam is too small, Roberts said.

The Mary Mounts suspension order had called for a $5,000 penalty. However, such orders usually state the maximum possible penalty, which is sometimes lowered after the operator presents his side of the case. In all, six of the 10 Pike county permits suspended earlier have now been reinstated, Roberts said.

Another recent permit suspension, previously unreported, has already been lifted, although the company has not yet paid the penalty called for in the order, Roberts confirmed yesterday.

The permit of Southwest Energy Corp., Pennington Gap, Va., for auger mining off KY 38 near Everts in Harlan County was suspended Sept. 7 by former acting Reclamation Director Buddy Beach.

Senate Bill Would Increase Social Security's Benefits

The U. S. Senate last week took final action on the comprehensive 1000-page social security-welfare bill.

In addition to the amendment co-sponsored by Senator John Sherman Cooper, which would allow a person to receive actuarially reduced retirement benefits at age 60, and in the case of widows at age 55, Senator Cooper listed other amendments which he had supported that are of particular interest to Kentuckians. The following amendments were passed in the Senate:

1. An increase of $1680 per year to $3000 which a person may earn and still receive full social security benefits. Senator Cooper was a co-sponsor.
2. Increase of widows and widowers benefits from 82½ percent to 100 percent of their deceased spouses insurance benefit.
3. Provides a person who has worked in social security-eligible employment 30 years a minimum benefit of $200 a month.
4. Entitles a social security disability beneficiary, after two years of disablement, to Medicare benefits.
5. Reduces the present 6-month period throughout which a person must be disabled before he can be paid disability benefits to four months.
6. Voluntary enrollment for Part A of Medicare (hospital insurance) at $33.00 per month for those 65 years of age or older who have been previously ineligible.
7. Certain prescription drugs to be covered under Medicare for the treatment of the most common, crippling or life-threatening chronic disease conditions of the aged. Beneficiaries would pay $1 toward the cost of each prescribed drug.
8. The inclusion of chiropractic services under Medicare.
9. Children's social security benefits would not be taken into account in determining whether their parents could claim them as tax deductions. Senator Cooper was a co-sponsor.

Under another provision, State Public Assistance Programs for needy individuals who are aged, blind and disabled would assure those with no other income a monthly assistance payment of at least $130 for an individual and $195 for a couple. In addition, $50 social security and $85 of earned income plus one-half of any earnings above $85 would not cause any reduction in these minimum assistance payments.

Earlier in the week, the Senate approved an amendment which would provide that persons suffering from chronic kidney diseases be considered disabled and that dialysis treatment or transplantation be covered under Medicare (six months after the onset of their condition).

The bill now goes to a House-Senate Conference where the two versions of legislation will be resolved.

IMPROVED VENTILATION CONSIDERED NO. 1 WEAPON TO CURB FATALITIES; BURGESS DETAILS WORK PROCEDURE

Improved ventilation is the No. 1 weapon to improve health and reduce death in coal mines. This statement was made by Donald P. Schlick, deputy director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines at a training program for new mine inspectors at Beckley, West Virginia.

Mr. Schlick said that a revolution in coal mine health and safety has occurred as a result of strict enforcement of ventilation requirements of the Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969.

The importance of coal mine ventilation systems and changes made in them as a result of new regulations has resulted in the lowering of respirable dust to levels that virtually eliminates the threat of black lung to new miners which will result in the elimination of death due to occupational caused diseases of the lungs and has significantly reduced the number of ignitions and consequent underground explosions.

Spearheading the Bureau of Mines efforts for improved ventilation is a special group formed by the Bureau under the direction of Ross Wayment, assistant director—Technical Support. The purpose of this group is to assist the district ventilation technical specialists in conducting ventilation surveys in the coal mines to:

(1) Insure compliance to the 1969 Health and Safety Act

(2) Provide technical expertise in correcting inadequacies in the ventilation system.

All mines are required to submit a ventilation and methane and dust control plan for approval. This plan must show the type and location of mechanical ventilation equipment installed and operated in the mine and the quantity and velocity of air reaching each working face. Ray G. Ross, district manager, has the direct responsibility for approving ventilation plans in District 6.

William R. Burgess, supervisor in Prestonsburg, said that the inspection of ventilation in a coal mine is a complicated and arduous task that must be made frequently to insure the health and safety of the miners.

A typical day for Billy Haywood, mine inspector doing ventilation work out of the Prestonsburg office, begins with an early arrival at the mine to check the records of daily fan inspections and fan pressure recording sheets. Mr. Haywood then enters the mine to measure the air quantities and check for noxious gases on each working section. Sealed off areas and stoppings are monitored throughout the underground workings to insure that dangerous contaminants or methane are not allowed into the air.

If any inconsistency is encountered in any phase of the ventilation system, the inspector issues a notice of violation giving reasonable time to abate the conditions, or a withdrawal order if the conditions create an imminent danger which closes the mine down until the air requirements are restored and the danger eliminated.

Constant vigilance by the Bureau of Mines, Union officials, State mine inspectors, and coal operators have reduced the ignitions in the mines from 31 in 1971 to 10 in 1972. The goal is the elimination of any possible chance for a fire or explosion to occur.

Mr. Burgess said, "The country's coal extraction may be important to our standard of living, but the Bureau of Mines will continue to push for strict enforcement of the Law to preserve the life and health of the men who work underground to mine coal."

DR. ADRON DORAN (1954- )

Dr. Doran, the seventh president of Morehead State, was appointed in 1954. He is a graduate of Cuba High School, Freed-Hardeman Junior College and Murray State University. He holds an M.A. from Murray and an Ed. D. from the University of Kentucky. His early educational experience included 15 years service as teacher, basketball coach and high school principal. Before coming to MSU, he was Director of the Division of Teacher Education in the Kentucky State Department of Education. Dr. Doran also served four terms as a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives and was Speaker for one term. He is a former newspaper editor and past president of the Kentucky Education Association and of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association. Both Murray and UK have recognized him as a "Distinguished Alumnus." He holds three honorary doctorates and was named by the Kentucky Press Association in 1959 as "Kentuckian of the Year." Gov. Edward Breathitt selected him for the "Distinguished Kentuckian Award" in 1966. Dr. Doran's supreme honor came last spring when he joined a select group of about 200 Americans chosen as recipients of Horatio Alger Awards.

Dear Friends of Morehead State University:

On behalf of the faculty, staff, students, alumni, and friends of Morehead State University I take great pleasure in extending greetings to the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky on the occasion of our Golden Anniversary.

Morehead State University is a people's University. Her early predecessor, the Morehead Christian Normal School, which was founded in 1887 by the Kentucky Christian Missionary Convention, came into being to fill a great educational and cultural void in the region. From its inception in 1922 as a state-supported institution, Morehead State University has consistently upgraded the educational, economical, and cultural levels of the region as the university has developed its missions of teaching, research and public service.

The impact of the University upon the life and affairs of every family, community and county in the region has been immeasurable. Not only has Morehead State University made great contributions to the region, but her influence has been felt throughout the Commonwealth and the nation.

This Golden Anniversary year is a unique one in the history of Morehead State University. Through such publications as this supplement and through the planned activities on the campus, much attention has been drawn to the many significant contributions made by the University in her first 50 years. But the completion of the first 50 years should be but a reminder that the second 50 years can be even more notable in achievement and in service to the people.

One's imagination is greatly excited by the challenges of the future which face Morehead State University. As we look to the future, the goals of this University must continue to be to help in building an educational system which will aid our young people in reaching their fullest potential; an economy in which everyone will find full employment; an environment both beautiful and protected; a culture of great fulfillment; and a social harmony in which we all may live in peace and understanding.

We therefore look forward to the next 50 years with great expectations, just as we look to the past with justifiable pride and satisfaction. When Morehead State University was founded 50 years ago, and when her predecessor was founded 85 years ago, little did her founders realize the level of achievement she would attain in these few years. Morehead State University must continue to soar as a Bald Eagle to even greater heights of accomplishment in the days ahead.

Golden Anniversary Homecoming Schedule

MSU's Golden Anniversary Homecoming has something for everyone this week, including appearances by U. S. Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo.), famed comedian Victor Borge and pop singer Stevie Wonder.

Add to their appearances the popular candlelight dinner, a reception for former Gov. and Mrs. Louie B. Nunn, various receptions and open houses, the tremendous smorgasbord luncheon, the Morehead State-Tennessee Tech football game and the annual dance. Anyone can readily see why this is being labeled the greatest homecoming celebration in MSU history.

Record crowds are expected to return for the three-day festivities set among the magnificently-colored foothills of the Daniel Boone National Forest. Young and old will gather to hear music and entertainment of their choice and governmental figures representing both major parties, magnificently prepared food will abound, MSU's "Big Blue Band from Daniel Boone Land" will perform, the football team of Coach Roy Terry will take on the conference favorite and everything concludes with the traditional dance.

The opening night features Stevie Wonder and his troupe in concert in the Fieldhouse at 8:30 on Thursday. The show is sponsored by the MSU Student Government Association.

Sen. Eagleton will speak at a 2 p.m. convocation in the Fieldhouse on Friday. Gov. Wendell Ford will present the senator. Others in attendance will include Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll, U. S. Rep. Carl Perkins, and other members of the Kentucky congressional delegation, members of the governor's cabinet, State Sen. Walter (Dee) Huddleston and other members of the Kentucky General Assembly.

On Friday evening, the always popular candlelight dinner has been scheduled from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the Adron Doran University Center.

The traditional homecoming football game is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. with pre-season OVC favorite Tennessee Tech providing the opposition. Morehead State will be shooting for its fifth straight homecoming victory.

A colorful half-time show has been planned to feature the marching band with a show built around the 50-year development of Morehead State University. Incorporated in the show will be vehicles representing the years the institution changed names. Riding in these vehicles will be persons dressed in apparel of the period.

A post-game buffet is scheduled from 5:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the ADUC and MSU's award-winning jazz ensembles will provide music for the dances to be held in the health building and the fieldhouse beginning at 9 p.m.

Reunions are scheduled by the classes of 1935, 1945, 1955, and 1965 and special invitations have been directed to all former homecoming queens, previous editors of The Trail Blazer and Raconteur, past presidents of the Student Government Association (formerly Student Council), former cheerleaders and all former athletic letter winners.

Anniversary Festivities Planned Last January

Morehead State University's Golden Anniversary Celebration began quietly in late January when President Adron Doran announced that the 50th anniversary of the school's founding would be marked with "an appropriate observance."

Dr. Ray Hornback, vice president for university affairs, was appointed chairman of a 14-member executive committee to plan and conduct the year-long festivities.

"Morehead State University has a rich heritage of service to the people of Kentucky and we feel our 50-year anniversary is a fitting and proper time to commemorate these contributions," said Dr. Doran.

"The celebration will take many forms and we hope to involve all elements of the University community, local citizens and other persons of state and national prominence," he added.

Student members of the executive committee are Morehead junior Mike Mayhew, former president of the MSU Student Government Association, and Greenup senior Ann Leslie, president of the MSU Panhellenic Council. Added this summer was Pete Marcum, Louisville junior and the current SGA president.

Faculty members on the executive committee are Dr. M. E. Pryor, professor of biology; Dr. Norman Roberts, head of the Department of Industrial Education; Dr. John Kleber, associate professor of history; Don Young, assistant professor of art and director of alumni affairs; Dorothy Conley, assistant professor of education; and Clyde James, instructor of business.

Administrative staff representatives are Dr. Hornback; Dr. Paul Ford Davis, vice president for academic affairs; Russell McClure, vice president for fiscal affairs; Dr. Gene Scholes, assistant to the president; Dr. Harry Mayhew, director of university services; and Buford Crager, dean of students.

Chairmen of general committees include:

McClure, finance; Mike Mayhew and Ann Leslie, students; Harry Mayhew, speakers bureau; Emmett Rogers, publications; Dr. Morris Norfleet, conferences; Young, exhibits and alumni;

Dr. Glenn Fulbright, fine arts and entertainment; Dr. Davis, professorships and artists-in-residence; Dr. Morris Caudill and Dr. John Duncan, symposia; Dr. Roberts, design; Keith Kappes, publicity; and John Collis, special items.

Detailed planning began quickly and the celebration got its official opening less than six weeks later when President Doran traveled to Frankfort to accept a joint resolution from the Kentucky General Assembly.

The resolution marked the 50th anniversary of the founding of Morehead State and Murray State in 1922. Gov. Wendell Ford gave Dr. Doran the House copy of the resolution in honor of the president's former service as a House member and as Speaker of the House.

Dr. Doran, in turn, presented the Governor with a print of the MSU Bald Eagle, the University's official symbol.

The president rushed back to campus for a gigantic outdoor birthday party where he read the resolution to a cheering throng of more than 2,000 persons and then used a military sword to cut a 12-foot-high birthday cake. Free refreshments were served to most of those who jammed the intersection in front of the Adron Doran University Center.

The celebration took on an academic flavor a few weeks later with the campus appearances of Dr. Huston Smith, Golden Anniversary visiting professor of philosophy, and Arthur J. Goldberg, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

In connection with the Goldberg visit, the Golden Anniversary Committee sponsored a high school leadership conference and more than 200 students from 40 schools heard four MSU professors give some good news and some bad news.

The afternoon investigation of "Our World Tomorrow" featured two biologists foretelling doom unless environmental pollution and overpopulation are brought under control, and two political scientists expressing optimism for U.S. relations with Russia and Red China and for the fate of America's cities.

The weighty problems of the world were forgotten one Saturday night when young and old alike gathered on campus for the Golden Anniversary Ball.

Dance and costume contests, old and new music and a narrative history of MSU produced a flashback through the 50 years since 1922.

The university's award-winning Jazz Ensemble drew a strong ovation for its masterful handling of music popular before most of the student musicians were born.

Other events in the spring included a concert by famed pianist Peter Nero, an alumni meeting at Jenny Wiley State Park which attracted more than 200 alumni, a superb career education conference on campus, and the Golden Anniversary Alumni Awards banquet which was attended by more than 800 persons and saw the following people honored:

- Distinguished Faculty Award - Julia D. Webb
- Outstanding Alumnus Award - Custer B. Reynolds
- University Special Service Award - Mrs. Adron Doran
- Public Service Award - B. F. Reed
- Governmental Service Award - Otto Ingram

Another facet of the celebration - a colorful "Eagle-Mobile" made its debut this summer at several fairs and festivals around the state as MSU continued to mark its "Half Century of Service" to Kentucky and the nation.

A gold-colored station wagon with a roof-mounted Eagle with a 15-foot wingspread, the "Eagle-Mobile" provides its own march music, interspersed with the MSU Fight Song.

The vehicle is scheduled at several more outdoor programs this year and will be a featured attraction at the Golden Anniversary Homecoming, Oct. 20 and 21.

Five Different Names

MSU has had five names in its 50-year history. It began as Morehead State Normal School, became Morehead State Normal School and Teachers College in 1926, shortened to Morehead State Teachers College in 1930 and abbreviated again 1948 to Morehead State College. Morehead State University came along in 1966.

WE'RE REALLY PROUD . . . Such were the sentiments of the friends of Dr. Adron Doran who assembled in New York City in the spring of 1971 when the popular Kentucky educator received the coveted Horatio Alger Award. Among the other recipients were news commentator Lowell Thomas, famous architect Edward Durell Stone and financier Charles Stewart Mott.

Outstanding Fall Events On Schedule

The fall semester is witnessing a continuation of the outstanding events held during the spring semester of the Golden Anniversary celebration. The first event of the fall Golden Anniversary calendar was the Religious Emphasis Week planned and conducted by the MSU Campus Ministry during mid-September. Grady Nutt, noted humorist, appeared at a convocation and each of the religious centers on campus conducted events of their own.

Sept. 28 found governmental and civic leaders on the campus for a "Government and Rural Development Conference." Former Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, now a Hopkinsville attorney, was the featured speaker.

A conference on "Environmental Problems in Rural Development" was conducted earlier this month.

"Sciences in the 70's - A career opportunities day for selected high school students" was staged Oct. 11 and featured an address by Dr. Madison Pryor, professor of biology in the MSU School of Sciences and Mathematics.

This week is the super Golden Anniversary Homecoming Weekend which is discussed elsewhere in this publication. Principal events include Stevie Wonder Concert, Oct. 19; U.S. Sen. Thomas Eagleton Convocation, Candlelight Dinner and Victor Borge concert, all on Oct. 20; and reception for Governor and Mrs. Louie B. Nunn, other receptions and open houses, smorgasbord luncheon, MSU-Tenn. Tech. football game and dance, all on Oct. 21.

Next Thursday (Oct. 26) will find the Oxford University debaters on campus to appear in a general session open to the public. These widely renowned youngsters from Great Britain will also participate in the annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Communication Arts which is being held at MSU Oct. 26 and 27. Teachers and students in the communication arts from throughout Kentucky will attend.

The dates of Nov. 1 and 2 have been set for the Golden Anniversary Personal Enrichment Program (PEP) directed by Mrs. Adron Doran. Youngsters from throughout the region will spend two days on the campus participating in a concentrated period of personal enrichment. The event will conclude with a banquet in the Adron Doran University Center.

Another highlight of the Golden Anniversary celebration will be the two-week appearance of popular television and movie actress Ann B. Davis as MSU's Golden Anniversary Actress in Residence. Miss Davis, who starred in the "Bob Cummings Show" as "Schultze" and now appears in the "Brady Bunch," will play the lead in Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker." The performance will be seen on November 2, 3 and 4. MSU faculty and students will play supporting roles.

The Kentucky Academy of Science will hold its annual statewide meeting on campus Nov. 3 and 4. A Friday evening banquet will feature a speaker of national renown.

The final rural America conference will be held on Nov. 9 when education leaders from throughout the state will be on campus for a conference entitled "Education in Rural America." The keynote speaker will be Gene Hoyt of the Appalachian Regional Commission. Others on the program include Dr. Lyman Ginger, state superintendent of public instruction; U.S. Rep. Carl Perkins; and Dr. Maurice Seay of Western Michigan University.

The widely acclaimed Preservation Hall Jazz group will appear in concert on Nov. 10, the same weekend selected high school seniors will be invited to spend the weekend in a series of specially designed events for high school students.

The year of celebration will conclude with a banquet on Nov. 17 with the city fathers and citizens of Morehead saluting the University for the great contributions the institution has made during the past 50 years. A parade and other features of the downtown salute to MSU are in the planning stages.

Dr. Button was born Nov. 19, 1863 at Oquawka, Ill., and first came to Morehead in 1887 to help his mother found the Christian Normal School. He was educated in Illinois public schools and Transylvania University and received a theological degree from the College of the Bible there in 1887. He received an A.M. degree from Bethany College, W. Va., in 1908. From 1911 until 1923, Dr. Button served as state supervisor of rural schools under the sponsorship of the Rockefeller Foundation. He returned to Morehead as first president of the Morehead State Normal School in 1923 and continued in this capacity until his retirement in 1930. He died in 1933. Dr. Button also served as mayor of Morehead, as a newspaper editor and as pastor of the Christian Church. Button Auditorium was named in his honor.

Dr. Frank C. Button (1923-30)

DR. JOHN H. PAYNE (1930-35)

Dr. Payne, the second president of Morehead State, served from 1930 until 1935. He had previously been a public school administrator and superintendent of several city school systems. He resigned in 1935 because of ill health. Later, until his death, he served for many years in the Kentucky Department of Economic Security at Frankfort and was widely known as a public speaker. Dr. Payne was, during his presidency, appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to a committee to study education in Germany when Hitler was in power.

DR HARVEY A. BABB (1935-40)

Dr. Babb, Morehead State's third president, came to the college after 16 years as superintendent of schools in Mt. Sterling. He was born in Crittenden, Ky., in 1884 and received a B.A. degree from the University of Kentucky in 1911 and an M.A. from the same institution in 1923. After his graduation from college, Dr. Babb taught high school at Springdale, Ark., for two years and at Henderson (Ky.) High School for three years. He was principal at Henderson for a year before assuming the superintendency at Mt. Sterling. In 1946, he was director of unemployment compensation in Kentucky.

DR. WILLIAM J. BAIRD (1946-51)

Dr. Spain, Morehead State's sixth president came to Morehead from Peabody where he was dean of instruction. He was graduated from Bethel College, Tenn., and earned a master's degree from Peabody and a doctorate from Columbia. He began his educational career in his native Carroll County, Tenn., where he was a teacher and then a principal. Later he taught at Arkansas State and at Florence State and was a faculty and staff member at the University of Kentucky from 1946 to 1949. Dr. Spain resigned the Morehead presidency in 1954 to accept a position as dean of the College of Education at the University of New Mexico. He later became superintendent of the Albuquerque public school system and died there.

DR. WILLIAM H. VAUGHAN (1940-46)

Dr. Baird, Morehead State's fifth president, served from 1946 until his death in 1951. A native of Knox County, Ky., he spent much of his life in Berea and was a graduate of the Berea Preparatory and Berea College. He was on the staff of Berea schools from the time of his graduation in 1927 until he left to join the faculty of the Berea Schools in Rome, Ga., in 1942. In that same year, he was awarded an honorary doctorate by Berea College. Dr. Baird's education also includes graduate work at Columbia University, Cornell University, the University of Wisconsin and the University of Kentucky.

During a leave of absence from Berea in 1940, he visited 56 campuses in the United States as a representative of the Danforth Foundation. Baird Music Hall was named in his honor.

DR. CHARLES R. SPAIN (1951-54)

From This Campus Of 1924 Grew The Great Morehead State University Of 1972

This panoramic view of the MSU campus in 1924 shows all four of the first buildings with Dr. Frank C. Button, the first president, standing in the foreground. From left are Withers Hall, men's dormitory; Burgess Hall, administration and chapel building; Hargis Hall, classroom building; and Hodson Hall, women's dormitory. Button Auditorium

now occupies the site of Withers Hall. Johnson Camden Library was built on the site of Burgess Hall. Hodson Hall stood in the area of Allie Young Hall. Hargis Hall stood in the open area west of the existing Administration Building.

MSU Is 50 Years Old, But Dates To Event In 1887

The year 1887 saw the arrival from Midway Junior College of Mrs. Phoebe Button and her son, Frank C. Button, in the Eastern Kentucky town of Morehead — a town with no streets, no sidewalks, no electric lights, no churches, and less than 1,000 people.

Mrs. Button and her son enrolled an orphan girl, Anna Page, as the first student in the Morehead Normal School housed in their small home located where the Adron Doran University Center now stands.

Among the first students were a young man named George Johnson, who now lives in Ashland and is the father of former MSU coach and athletic director Ellis Johnson, and another young fellow named Herb Bishop, who was the uncle of Roberta and Bob Bishop — residents of Morehead.

For 13 years the school was under the control of the Kentucky Christian Missionary Convention and on July 31, 1900, was placed under the control of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, St. Louis, Mo.

Three wooden structures and Burgess Hall, a brick and stone building costing $10,000, formed the nucleus of the campus. Hodson Hall, one of the three wooden structures, was the last to be torn down.

Mrs. Button died in 1892 and her son carried on the operation of the Normal School until 1911 when J.M. Robinson became principal. Dr. J. Wesley Hatcher served as principal from 1913 to 1919 and his protegee, Harlan Hatcher, an outstanding student in the Normal School, went on to become president of the University of Michigan.

W.O. Lappin, the father of Dr. Warren C. Lappin, became principal in 1919 and served until the school closed its doors in 1922 when only three persons received diplomas at the last graduation exercises.

In the meantime, at its regular session in 1920, the General Assembly of Kentucky authorized a study of the educational needs and facilities of the Commonwealth. The commission appointed to make the study recommended that two new normal schools be established — one in Eastern Kentucky and one in Western Kentucky.

On March 8, 1922, Gov. Edwin Morrow signed the act of the General Assembly providing for a special commission charged with the task of locating the two new normal schools. The members of the commission were appointed by Lt. Gov. S. Thurston Ballard of Louisville and Speaker of the House James H. Thompson of Bourbon County.

Allie W. Young, who ably served as a State Senator from the 31st District during the period from 1924 to 1935, contributed immeasurably to the decision to establish a new college in Eastern Kentucky and to locate it in Morehead.

Dr. Button Elected First President

The doors of the Morehead State Normal School opened for the first time on Sept. 23, 1923, and all that remained of the "Old Normal School" were the products and memories of an educational enterprise which for 35 years had served the young people of the region and had made a major contribution to advancing the cause of Christian education.

Dr. Frank C. Button was named the school's first president and the Morehead State Normal school began operations during the period of post-war prosperity.

The sum of $30,000 was appropriated by the 1922 Session of the General Assembly to hire a faculty, provide the necessary supplies and "put the school in working order." Using the buildings which had formerly housed the old Normal school, Dr. Button began the 1923 year with eight faculty members — Dean Charles D. Lewis, C.O. Pieratt, Miss Inez Faith Humphrey, Miss Evelyn Royalty, Ruby Vansant, Miss Emma Shader, Henry C. Haggan and Dan Holbrook.

Miss Anna Carter served as Dr. Button's secretary and Warren C. Lappin joined the faculty in the spring of 1924 as baseball coach.

Three college students and 70 students in the secondary school greeted the original faculty. By the end of the decade, the enrollment had grown to more than 350 college students representing 31 Kentucky counties and two states.

First Five Buildings Erected

In 1925, the first college newspaper — the More-Head Light — was published and two years later the name was changed to the Trail Blazer, a name it proudly bears today. In 1927, the first yearbook — The Raconteur — was published and in that same year, Morehead's first four graduates went out into the world with proudly-earned diplomas.

During Dr. Button's administration five buildings were constructed. The old administration building (now Rader Hall) and Allie Young Hall were built in 1926 followed by Thompson Hall and Fields Hall in 1927. The President's home was completed in 1930 and Button Auditorium was constructed in 1929.

In 1926, Morehead Normal School became Morehead State Normal School and Teachers College and was admitted to membership in the Kentucky Association of Colleges.

Dr. Button resigned the presidency on July 24, 1929, but remained on the staff as chaplain and assistant field representative for a year before being named President Emeritus.

Dr. John Howard Payne who was serving as superintendent of Maysville City Schools was named the college's second president on Aug. 1, 1929.

The "Roaring Twenties" came to a close with the dark clouds of the great economic depression casting their shadows over the entire nation which had enjoyed the fulfilled days of post-war prosperity.

And so the stage was set for the Morehead State Normal School and Teachers College to begin its second decade of operation.

Accredited In The 30's

Morehead State Normal School and Teachers College became Morehead State Teachers College in 1930 and graduated 11 seniors that year. Sixty-five different courses were offered, the faculty numbered 22 at the beginning of the decade and the total student body numbered 256. By the end of the decade, the enrollment had grown to 585 and the faculty had increased to 58.

During the 30's, Morehead State Teachers College was admitted to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the American Association of Teachers Colleges and the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

The sabbatical leave program was initiated on the campus, correspondence courses were offered, off-campus teaching programs were organized, industrial arts and commerce courses were added, and the debating team won all 25 of its scheduled meets in 1935.

The Campus Club brought the "Hawg Rifle" into the scene in 1936 and Tim Wyant raced 99 yards with an Eastern punt to help give MSU possession of the rifle in the first year of its existence.

Earl K. Senff's "Fight, Fight, Fight for Morehead" caught on and became the official college fight song and the music department got its first practice room in the basement of Fields Hall.

Dr. Payne left the presidency on Sept. 13, 1935. Dr. William H. Vaughn served as acting president from Sept. 13 to Oct. 7 prior to the naming of Dr. Harvey Babb as the institution's third president on Oct. 7.

Four major buildings were constructed during the decade of the 30's as well as Jayne Memorial

Distinguished Faculty Award Recipients Listed

The Alumni Association presented the first annual "Distinguished Faculty Award" to Dr. Wilhelm Exelbirt, professor of history, at the 1964 spring alumni banquet.

He was chosen by nominations from alumni at large with the concurrence of an alumni committee and the executive council of the Alumni Association.

A native of Austria, Dr. Exelbirt joined the MSU faculty in 1948 and served until his retirement in 1971. He resides in Morehead and maintains an active interest in the university.

Criteria for the "Distinguished Faculty Award" are a minimum of five years' service at MSU, contribution to the field of education, professional and instructional growth, pursuit of excellency, appreciation for anonymity, adaptability and responsibility to the campus community, versatility, ethical attitudes in accomplishments and cooperation with faculty and students.

Other recipients of the "Distinguished Faculty Award" are currently on the faculty. They include:

1965 — Dr. Margaret B. Heaslip, professor of biology.
1966 — Dr. J.E. Duncan, dean of the School of Humanities.
1967 — Dr. Mary Northcutt, professor of education.

1968 — Dr. Madison Pryor, professor of biology.

$70 Million Campus

It would cost upwards of $70 million to replace the land and more than 50 major structures which comprise the MSU campus. Nearly $60 million has been expended in capital construction since 1954. Including the university farm, MSU's real estate holdings consist of more than 700 acres.

One Living Ex-President

Dr. William H. Vaughn of Nashville, Tenn. is the only living former president of Morehead State University. He served from 1940 until 1946. Now a retired professor from George Peabody College, Dr. Vaughn was MSU's fourth chief executive.

MSU Alumni Awards

In 1966 the MSU Alumni Association initiated an annual "Outstanding Alumnus Award" to be presented to an alumnus who has rendered outstanding service to the University and its alumni association.

Initially the association named 10 persons to receive the award: Sherman Arnett, Clearfield; Anna Carter, Morehead; Lloyd Cassity, Ashland; Harlan Hatcher, Ann Arbor, Mich.; the Rev. Clyde K. Landrum, Winona Lake, Ind.; Dr. Paul Maddox, Campton; Cloyd McDowell, Harlan; J. Phil Smith, Jackson; Dr. Robert Stewart, Boston, Mass.; and Russell Williamson, Inez.

Billy Joe Hall of Mt Sterling and State Rep. Terry McBrayer of Greenup were the recipients in 1967. Others receiving the award are Ted Crosthwait of Frankfort, 1968; Fola Hayes of Nashville, Tenn. 1969; Lucien Rice of Cranbury, N.J., 1970; Ruth Reeves of Ashland, 1971; and Custer Reynolds of Wilmore, 1972.

Public Service Awards

The Alumni Association in 1966 presented the first "Public Service Awards" to persons who have served MSU and the region.

The original "Public Service awards" were presented to:

Sherman Arnett of Clearfield, Thomas E. Chapman of Boyd County, Mitchell B. Denham of Maysville, Fairis Johnson of Martin, Ed J. Kelly of Flemingsburg, James E. Lewis of Sandy Hook.

Terry McBrayer of Greenup, Mrs. Nell Guy McNamara of Mt. Sterling, W.J. Reynolds of Allen, Wayne Secrest of Vanceburg and John R. Turner of Jackson.

The first recipients were members of the legislature when Morehead State received its university status in 1966.

SERVED ALL SEVEN . . . Miss Anna Carter, retired secretary to all seven MSU presidents, and Lucien Rice, a Boy Scout executive now based in New Jersey, have been recipients of MSU's Outstanding Alumnus Award. Miss Carter was picked in 1966 and Rice in 1970.

Dr. Harry Sparks, who was then Kentucky superintendent of public instruction and a member of MSU's Board of Regents, received the 1967 award. He now is president of Murray State University.

W.E. Crutcher, publisher of the Morehead News, received the award in 1968 and Morehead Mayor William H. Layne was the 1969 recipient.

Dr. W.H. Cartmell, chairman of MSU's Board of Regents and a Maysville surgeon, was honored in 1970. Gov. Louie B. Nunn received the award in 1971 and B.F. Reed of Drift, Ky. was the 1972 honoree. Mr. Reed is a member of the Board of Regents.

COOPER HONORED . . . Senator and Mrs. John Sherman Cooper were honored at a reception soon after Cooper Hall was occupied in 1966. Senator and Mrs. Cooper are shown here with President and Mrs. Doran and a charming coed at the reception. Senator Cooper, who is retiring at the end of his current term, has long been a friend of Morehead State University.

The colorful history of intercollegiate sports at Morehead State University spans 45 of the institution's 50 years, encompasses three athletic conferences and involves thousands of contests in 10 varsity sports.

George D. Downing might well be called the father of intercollegiate athletics at MSU. He came to the campus in 1924 as the institution's first athletic director and head coach in all sports. The athletic residence hall today bears his name as the university's tribute to his early leadership.

Football began with the arrival of Coach Downing but official intercollegiate play in the sport didn't begin until 1927. Baseball was in and out from the beginning and finally was reinstated for good in 1934. Basketball started with the 1929-30 season.

First Joined W. Va. Conference

Other sports and year of adoption include swimming, 1936; track, 1937; tennis, 1938; cross country, 1951; golf, 1960; wrestling, 1963; and soccer, 1966. Of the 10, soccer is the only sport which has never had a losing season and has done so without the benefit of scholarship aid.

The University's affiliation with athletic conferences began in 1928 with the West Virginia Conference. MSU became a conditional member of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association (SIAA) in 1933 and gained full membership in 1935. At the time, the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC) was a subsidiary of the SIAA. The KIAC became an independent organization in 1938.

ALL-AMERICANS . . . John (Buck) Horton, top left, became MSU's first All-American when he was named to the elite football squad in 1938. Four Eagle gridders have followed with the most recent being Dave Haverdick, top right, in 1969. Haverdick now is playing Canadian football. Horton was from Mount Sterling and played center. Haverdick, a defensive tackle, is from Canton, Ohio.

Morehead State and four other KIAC members broke away in 1948 to form the Ohio Valley Conference. The OVC began its 25th year of competition in the fall of 1972 with a membership of eight state universities, four in Kentucky and four in Tennessee. Morehead State is among the five remaining charter members.

Basketball has been MSU's main vehicle to national prominence. The Eagle cagers have appeared nine times in two post-season tournaments. They have won eight championships, six in the OVC and two in the KIAC, and produced six All-American players starting with Earl Duncan in 1943. In 43 seasons of varsity basketball, MSU has a cumulative record of 516 wins and 409 losses.

Football put MSU in the national spotlight in the years just prior to and shortly after World War II. The 1950's brought problems and three coaching changes before MSU's grid fortunes began to improve in the decade of the 1960's. In the ensuing 11 years, the Eagles have produced eight winning seasons and two OVC championships. The school's cumulative record for 42 seasons is 146 wins, 180 losses and 17 ties. Two championships also were won in the KIAC. Five Eagle gridders have won All-America recognition since John (Buck) Horton became the first in 1938.

Facilities Far Different

MSU has won other championships in baseball, track, swimming, soccer and cross country. Nearly three dozen individuals have signed professional contracts in football, basketball, baseball and golf with seven former Eagles active in the pro ranks today.

From the first crude playing fields, MSU's athletic facilities have been developed through the years to stand today as the equal of those at any similar institution in the country. Included are a 10,000-seat football stadium with an enclosed eight-lane, quarter-mile Grasstex track, a 5,000-seat fieldhouse for basketball and wrestling, eight all-weather tennis courts, a modern baseball park, a nine-hole golf course, an indoor swimming pool, a lighted soccer field and numerous practice fields.

ALL-AMERICANS . . . Earl Duncan, top left, became MSU's first basketball All-American in 1943. A forward from Georgetown, he ranks among the top 10 Eagle scorers. The most recent of the four MSU cagers who have followed Duncan to All-American recognition is Leonard Coulter, top right, a forward from Danville who was selected last season as a sophomore.

Morehead State University athletic teams have won 18 championships in four sports in two leagues, the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC) and the Ohio Valley Conference (OVC).

The first conference title was the KIAC basketball crown in 1940-41 under Coach Ellis Johnson. The most recent championship was OVC basketball last season under Coach Bill Harrell.

Eight titles have been won in basketball, two in the KIAC and six in the OVC. Coach Len Miller's Eagles took the second KIAC crown in 1943-44. Coach Bobby Laughlin's teams won the OVC four times: 1955-56, 1956-57, 1960-61 and 1962-63. Bob Wright coached the OVC champs in 1968-69.

The basketball Eagles have appeared seven times in post-season tournaments with a 5-8 record. They are 3-4 in three NCAA tournaments. Play in the now-defunct SIAA tourney produced a 2-2 mark. MSU is 0-2 in the NAIB tourney, now the NAIA.

Four crowns have been won on the gridiron, two in each league. Coach Ellis Johnson directed the Eagles to KIAC championships in 1942 and 1946. Coach Guy Penny was the OVC's championship mentor in 1962 and 1966.

MSU has copped four baseball championships. Stan Radjunas coached the KIAC winner in 1947. Coach Sonny Allen guided the OVC titlists in 1957 and 1969. Dr. Rex Chaney coached the 1963 champs in the OVC.

Dr. Nolan Fowler's teams won the OVC track championship in 1955 and 1956.

Bill Spannuth, now a professional, won the OVC's individual golf title in 1970.

to be on the way up during a period of post-war prosperity. But such was not to be the case.

In December, 1946, charges were filed with the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools against Morehead State because of political interference in the administration of its affairs. The college was removed from the association's list of accredited schools and the darkest days in the school's history were ahead.

The enrollment dropped to 435 students in the fall of 1947 — 179 fewer than the previous fall term — and the college faced a gigantic rebuilding program.

The governor named a new Board of Regents composed of outstanding business and professional men from the region and the association was convinced that the days of political interference had ended. Thus, the college was re-accredited in 1948.

Morehead State Teachers College became Morehead State College in 1948 and, by the end of the decade, the enrollment was hovering at the 600 mark — a level which had been established previously in 1940.

"The Dark Forties"

The decade of the 40's ended with the college static — the enrollment had not increased, no new buildings had been erected and the academic programs remained relatively unchanged.

The "Dark 40's" saw Morehead State College survive occurrences which might have ruined a less dedicated institution of higher learning and the "glorious 50's" were just around the corner.

On Jan. 9, 1951, Dr. Baird was granted a leave of absence for health reasons until September and Dr. Lappin was again named acting president. Dr. Baird died on Feb. 19, 1951, and Dr. Charles Spain was named the college's sixth president on May 28, 1951.

Dr. Spain officially resigned the presidency on April 6, 1954, and Dr. Adron Doran was named on the same day as the seventh president of Morehead State and is currently serving his 19th year as president longer than any of his predecessors.

The Morehead Christian School was started in this (the only) building back in 1887. F.C. Button and his daughter lived downstairs and taught school upstairs. This building was located on the corner of the lot on which now stands the Adron Doran University Center.

The 1950's witnessed the Korean Conflict and the growth of Communist influence throughout the world. In Kentucky, the passage of the foundation program for education and the development of a sound plan for financing education aided by the passage of the general sales tax were the big items of news affecting education at all levels.

The mid-50's saw Morehead State truly break through in a dramatic fashion. An enrollment at the beginning of the period of just over 600 doubled, then tripled, then quadrupled — until the enrollment was eight times larger than 10 years earlier.

New Approach To Teacher Training

During this period, modern facilities were provided for programs in business, foreign languages, music, industrial arts, home economics, and special education. Programs in pre-veterinary, pre-veterinary medicine, medical technology, nursing, foreign languages, and philosophy were added.

Off-campus student teaching and the professional semester was developed in the teacher training program and the guidance and testing services were integrated with the total social, recreational program.

This decade saw MSU become one of the first institutions in the South to fully integrate and become the first state-supported college or university in Kentucky to have integrated dormitories.

Marshall Banks became the first black to play on a varsity athletic team in the Ohio Valley Conference and Howard Murphy was the first black to play football in the OVC.

During the decade the faculty increased to 160. A director of graduate studies was named for the first time in 1957, an alumni director was named and the administrative organization of the college was modernized in 1960 with the arrangement of seven academic divisions as the result of a comprehensive self-study.

Admitted to NCAA

The sound philosophy of service to the region was greatly strengthened by an action program during this period and Morehead State College became the center of regional activities for many varied and diverse groups and organizations.

During this period Morehead State College received recognition as a major college in basketball by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Morehead Has Hawg Rifle

In Johnson Camden Library, there hangs a muzzle-loading rifle covered with brass plaques bearing football scores. Until 1963, the old gun traveled between Richmond and Morehead.

It is the traditional "Hawg Rifle," which MSU and Eastern Kentucky football teams fought for on the gridiron from 1936 until 1963.

The Campus Club brought the "Hawg Rifle" on the scene in 1936 after club members voted to establish a prize for the winner of the annual gridiron battle between the Eagles and the EKU Colonels.

Mountain lore of Eastern Kentucky is steeped with stories and traditions involving the use of this type of weapon. The club chose it as being typical of the section from which the two schools primarily draw their student body.

On Friday, Oct. 30, 1936, the battle cry was "Let's use the rifle and bring home the bacon."

Tim Wyant raced 99 yards with an Eastern punt, a school record which still stands as MSU took a 19-7 victory and possession of the rifle.

MSU retained the rifle with a 26-0 win in 1937 and followed with a scoreless tie in 1938. A 7-6 victory in 1939 gave the Eagles four consecutive years of winning the trophy.

Eastern Kentucky won the rifle for the first time in 1940 and kept it in 1941. Morehead State shut out the Colonels 20-0 in 1942 to gain possession of the rifle throughout the war years.

When football competition was resumed in 1946, Morehead State held the rifle with a 12-6 win, but Eastern won the 1947 and 1948 games.

In 1949, the Eagles won the rifle for the last time in an 11-year period.

The Eagles reclaimed the rifle in 1960 with a 21-9 victory but it returned to Richmond the following season. MSU's 20-12 win in 1962 retook the trophy and a 6-0 victory in 1963 kept the rifle in Morehead.

Eastern Kentucky requested in 1963 that the traditional battle for the rifle be discontinued.

The retired rifle remains in the possession of the MSU Campus Club, which became Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity in 1971. The fraternity has loaned it to the library for display during the Golden Anniversary Celebration.

WHAT A FLOAT . . . Homecoming in the 1940's saw this "Hawg Rifle" float designed by the sophomore class. Today the "Hawg Rifle" has been retired following Eastern's withdrawal from participation in the colorful trophy which once was the symbol of football supremacy between the two universities. Morehead State has won the last three football battles between the old rivals and seven of the last 12 games.

This Was The Campus At Morehead In 1930 — Boulevard Ended At Far Right

This panoramic view of the MSU campus in 1930 shows three of the first permanent buildings to be constructed. From left are Allie Young Hall, women's residence hall; Administration Building (now Rader Hall); and Thompson Hall then a men's residence hall and now used by women. Out of range on the left are Fields Hall, a women's residence hall; Button Auditorium, a combined gymnasium-auditorium; and the school's power plant.

Kozee, Whitt, Composed MSU Song

MSU's present Alma Mater was written in 1952 when Elwood Kozee won a song contest sponsored by the then Student Council. Betty Jo Whitt, a 1952 graduate, composed the music to accompany Kozee's lyrics.

Kozee's winning entry was: "Far above the rolling campus Resting in the dale, Stands our dear Ole Alma Mater, Her name we'll always hail. Shout in chorus, lift our voices, Blue and gold praise thee, Winning through to fame and glory, Dear Old MSC. May her name e'er be a leader Through the years to come. See, above, the waving banners For a victory won. Shout her name, all you Eagles: Blue and gold will be Winning through to fame and glory For Old MSC."

When the institution attained university status in 1966, "thee" was changed to "you" and MSC became MSU. However, Kozee's version of the Alma Mater was not the original school song. Prof. Lewis Henry Horton, who headed MSU's Department of Music from 1930 through 1942, had written words and music for "A Song to Morehead" in 1930. The Alma Mater written by Kozee, who is now an Ashland psychiatrist, was written after the "Teachers" was dropped from the school's name.

FIRST LADIES . . During her two-year term as president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, Morehead State University First Lady Mignon Doran had as her featured speaker at the annual KFWC convention the nation's first lady, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. The two are shown here in the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington prior to the banquet.

faculty members. More than 4,000 persons have completed PDI since Mrs. Doran began the pioneering venture in early 1969. Earlier this year, she was named "Outstanding Woman of the Year" by Cardinal Key national honor sorority. Mrs. Doran is a member of the board of trustees of Pikeville College.

Mrs. Doran Performs Beyond Call Of Duty

Mrs. Mignon Doran, wife of Morehead State University President Adron Doran, goes far beyond the traditional role of a campus First Lady.

She directs a unique service, the Personal Development Institute, which offers a non-credit course designed to develop individual qualities ranging from manners to vocabulary.

Classes are voluntary and each student receives a handsome certificate upon completion of the five-week course. Additionally, PDI is recorded on the student's permanent transcript for the benefit of prospective employers.

Mrs. Doran founded PDI nearly four years ago after recognizing that public education lacked any emphasis on personal development. The Institute's purpose is to identify and understand the forces that affect the personal potential of students and adults on the MSU campus.

Inner And Outer Beauty

Changing social, economic and political climates are considered in the instruction aimed at improving confidence, poise, personal appearance, health and self-assurance.

"The enhancement of the inner as well as the outer beauty of young people at Morehead State is the major thrust of PDI," said Mrs. Doran. "We are vitally concerned with preparing the total person for rewarding professional life and citizenship."

PDI students explore the various social processes through experiences and instruction. She stresses the importance of personal appearance, diet, wardrobe, manners, grooming and certain other personal protocol.

Mrs. Doran, by her personal example, has been teaching the social graces since coming to MSU in 1954. Among numerous other things, she has supervised festive dinners and parties for students and faculty members. The popular First Lady started teaching the social arts professionally after launching PDI and now operates in two studio classrooms which provide a "living room" environment for PDI.

A former speech and music teacher, Mrs. Doran has spent many years collecting and writing materials which students use in their studies. Her classes involve various visual aids, role-playing, discussion techniques and demonstrations. She is assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Flatt.

The Institute encompasses a broad scope, including on-campus classes and workshops for student teachers, ROTC cadets, community leaders, secretaries, sororities, fraternities, public school teachers and MSU

Alumni Association Grows With University

The goals of the Morehead State University Office of Alumni Affairs are to protect, support and generally promote the interests of the University and its alumni.

The Alumni Association strives through its activities to keep an up-to-date relationship with the 13,732 graduates of the University as well as former students who have not been graduated but have associate status.

Of the University's 13,732 graduates, 11,870 have graduated since President Adron Doran was inaugurated in 1954. Dr. Doran has personally awarded degrees to 86 percent of the University's alumni.

Prior to 1954, the Alumni Association was a caretaker organization. It did not possess widespread interest or support and did not have significant programs as compared to current alumni activities. However, there was a limited number of devoted individuals, most of them from Morehead, who kept the organization alive until it could blossom into a thriving association.

The first graduating class of Morehead was in 1927 and there were only four members of the class. During 1928, an Alumni Club was in existence and was the forerunner of an alumni association. Russell Williamson, who was a member of the first graduating class, served as president of the Alumni Club and Alumni Association from 1928 to 1932.

The name of the Morehead State Normal School and Teachers College Alumni Club was changed in 1930 to the Morehead State Teachers College Alumni Association. Hubert Counts of Olive Hill served as president of the Morehead State Teachers College Alumni Association during 1932-33. Best Allen Hurst of Miami, Fla., served as president of the organization in 1934 when the alumni charter and constitution were first written and approved.

Presidents of the Alumni Association from 1935 to 1949 were Dennie Caudill, 1935; Roy Cornette, 1936; Ova Haney, 1937; Malcolm Holliday, Jr., 1938-39; Lester Oxley, 1940; Bob Sanidford, 1941; Ashton Denton, 1942-43; Grace Crosthwaite, 1944; Heman McGrife, 1945; Emery Rogers, 1946; Walter Roushi, 1947; Gordon Moore, 1948; and Ted Crosthwait, 1949.

The institution was known as Morehead State College from 1948 to 1966.

The first salaried executive director of the Alumni Association was named by President Doran on Sept. 8, 1959, with the appointment of Billy Joe Hall who served until June 1, 1963, when Harry Mayhew was named to the post. Mayhew was alumni director until 1972 except for a three-year period from 1967-70 when Rondal Hart served while Mayhew was on sabbatical leave. Don Young was named alumni director this summer.

Presidents of the Alumni Association since 1952 were Collie Cornett, 1952; John Collis, 1953; Beula Williams, 1954; Fola Hayes, 1955-58; Robert Warnock, 1959; Don Holloway, 1960; Lloyd Cassidy, 1961; George Jackson, 1962; J. G. Gibson, 1963-65; Lucien Rice, 1966-68; Dr. Ted Crosthwait, 1969-70; and Dr. Larry Hillman, 1971 to the present.

'Allie Young' - The Sage Of Morehead

Much of the credit for locating MSU at Morehead is due the late Allie W. Young, statesman, leader and benefactor.

Judge Young, who was born in Fleming County in 1865, began his fight for the school in 1923, during his first term as a Kentucky state senator.

He played a major role in influencing a state commission to locate the school at Morehead. He was appointed in 1924 as one of the original members of the Board of Regents and served until his death in 1935.

During this period, the promotion of the school's interests was his major concern.

At the first meeting of the Board on April 15, 1924, Sen. Young volunteered to loan the school any sum up to $10,000 without interest to pay expenses for the remainder of the school year.

He taught school in Rowan County and studied law in the office of his father, Col. Zachary T. Young, before entering public service.

His first public office was county attorney of Montgomery County. He was later appointed master commissioner of Montgomery County Circuit Court.

Young was elected circuit judge before joining the Consolidated Coal Company as a general counsel.

Area voters urged him to run for the state senate and he was serving his third term as a state senator from the 31st District when he died.

An eloquent debater, Senator Young quickly emerged as a leader of the legislators. A champion of the common man, he was called "The Sage of Morehead."

When Rowan County celebrated its 100th birthday in 1956, Senator Allie W. Young was selected as the person who contributed the most to Morehead and Rowan County during the first 100 years.

MSU's Allie Young Hall, a women's residence hall constructed in 1926, was named in his honor.

HORATIO ALGER WINNER . . In the spring of 1971, great honor was brought to Morehead State University and to Kentucky when, for only the fourth time in history, a native Kentuckian was named a recipient of the Horatio Alger Award. MSU President Adron Doran was one of 10 men to receive the award and is shown here making his acceptance speech at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

MSU Prospers In Recent Years

The total athletic program reached an all-time high in 1962-63 when MSU's football, basketball and baseball teams captured championships in the rugged Ohio Valley Conference.

Baird Music Hall, constructed in 1953, became the first major structure to be built on the campus in 17 years and was part of a $10 million building program which mushroomed between 1953 and 1963.

Buildings constructed during this period were Laughlin Fieldhouse, 1956; Doran Student House, 1957; Lakewood Terrace, 1960; Waterfield Hall, 1960; Butler Hall, 1961; Bert T. Combs Classroom Building, 1961; addition to Button Auditorium, 1961; Industrial Arts and Home Economics Building, 1962; Wilson Hall, 1962; Mignon Hall, 1963; Administration Building, 1963; and 11 faculty duplexes.

The Doran Student House was named for President Adron Doran and Butler Hall for Wendell P. Butler, who has served three terms as state superintendent of public instruction.

Waterfield Hall was named for Harry Lee Waterfield, two-time lieutenant governor of Kentucky. The Combs Classroom Building was named for Gov. Bert T. Combs.

Palmer House Innovation

Wilson Hall was named for Roger L. Wilson, dean of students since 1953 and Mignon Hall for Mrs. Mignon Doran, wife of the Morehead State president.

During this period, a 25-bed infirmary was built, the Palmer House, a 12-room home management house was purchased, and there was extensive remodeling and redecorating of numerous buildings.

As spectacular as the growth at MSU was during the decade from 1953-1963, it was overshadowed by the tremendous expansion yet to come.

1964 was the year which saw construction of Breathitt Sports Center and West Mignon Hall.

East Mignon Hall, Cooper Hall and the W.H. Rice Maintenance Service Building were constructed in 1965. WMKY, an FM radio station, began broadcasting from the Combs Building with 10 watts of power.

The school's crowning achievement came in February, 1966, when the Kentucky General Assembly granted university status. Five academic schools and a graduate division were formed and the first vice presidency was created with the appointment of Dr. Lappin in academic affairs.

Breck was renamed "University Breckinridge School." Four major construction projects — Mignon Tower, Alumni Tower, Normal Hall, Downing Hall and Laughlin Health Building — were completed in 1967 the same year.

Bought University Farm

Opened in 1968 were the Claypool-Young Art Building, Lyman V. Ginger Hall (Education Building) and the remodeled Button Gymnasium. Army ROTC began the same year. Three more vice presidents — Dr. Raymond Hornback, university affairs; Dr. Morris Norfleet, research and development; and Roger L. Wilson, student affairs — were appointed. A 212-acre farm was acquired in rural Rowan County.

Added to the campus skyline in 1969 were W.H. Cartmell Hall and Nunn Hall. The Doran Student House was enlarged and renamed the Adron Doran University Center. The fall enrollment was 6,460, MSU's highest.

Construction began in 1970 on Boyd F. Reed Hall which will house the Appalachian Technical Institute. Russell R. McClure was named to the new position of vice president for fiscal affairs. Student Council became the MSU Student Government Association.

Rader Hall was reopened in 1971 after an extensive remodeling project which transformed the oldest campus building into an ultra-modern classroom and office structure. WMKY increased its power to 50,000 watts and moved to an 18-hour-a-day broadcasting schedule.

The most notable recognition of Dr. Doran's career came in May, 1971 when he received the Horatio Alger Award in New York City. He became only the fourth Kentuckian so honored.

MSU's sixth academic school, Business and Economics, was created in 1971.

The 1972 session of the Kentucky General Assembly removed the state superintendent of public instruction from MSU's Board of Regents, expanded the board's lay membership to eight persons and gave full voting rights to the student and faculty representatives.

By mid-1972, MSU's practical, yet imaginative building program had produced more than $50 million worth of new facilities and won four awards for architectural excellence since 1954.

BIRTHDAY EAGLE . . . Morehead State University President Adron Doran and Kentucky's First Lady, Mrs. Jean Ford, inspect an MSU Bald Eagle painting which Dr. Doran presented to Governor Ford in Frankfort to open Morehead State's Golden Anniversary Celebration. The governor presented Dr. Doran with copies of a legislative resolution honoring the university on the 50th anniversary of passage of the bill which led to MSU's creation in 1922. Dr. Doran returned to the campus and cut the first slice of a 12-foot high birthday cake at an outdoor party attended by more than 2,000 students, faculty members and other friends of MSU.

Morehead Bald Eagle Conceived In 1970

Year after year, Morehead State University President Adron Doran said to members of his staff, "We need a beautiful, accurately portrayed symbol of Morehead State University." But no one came up with an acceptable solution — that is no one until Dr. Doran called together a group in January of 1970 and said, "I think maybe I have the answer."

His proposal to the group was to commission wildlife artist Gene Gray to paint the American Bald Eagle and make a limited edition of prints available to alumni and friends of the university. It didn't take the group long to agree to the plan, and the following week found the Lexington artist and his associates from Animal Graphics, Inc., on the campus for a luncheon meeting. The Board of Regents unanimously approved the idea and commissioned Gray to do the painting.

An agreement was soon reached to send Gray to Central Florida where he would spend two weeks studying the American Bald Eagle in its natural habitat. In early March of 1970, Gray journeyed to the Ocala National Forest in Florida and spent 12 to 16 hours a day observing and sketching this nearly extinct bird.

He returned to Lexington, armed with his sketches and color slides, and began the creative process of transferring his image of this great American bird to canvas. The work was completed by mid-June and he delivered the painting for approval.

Project Financially Successful

When unveiled, viewers saw a magnificent painting of a noble bird in an attack position. University officials were astounded at the beauty and vividness of Gray's painting. President Doran to say, "The portrayal of the eagle pleased me." The eagle weighed 22 pounds, appears at all home basketball and football games.

official Morehead State University Bald Eagle." A limited edition of 2,000 prints of the Morehead State University Bald Eagle was available originally and all proceeds above costs are being used by the Alumni Association for scholarships to needy students. The Alumni Association gladly agreed to handle the sale of the prints and no funds of the Commonwealth of Kentucky have been involved.

Gray and President Doran signed each of the Morehead State University prints and other members of the faculty and staff signed prints when requested by the purchaser.

President Doran's original idea blossomed in a most fruitful fashion and as a result Morehead State University, whose athletic teams have long been called the Eagles, today has a majestic painting which will forever stand as the official Morehead State University Bald Eagle.

The Eagles

In the fall of 1926, J.M. Clayton, a Morehead businessman, announced he would sponsor a contest to select a nickname and a song for the athletic teams at the town's new state college.

Miss Peaches Ellis, now Mrs. Jack Cecil of Morehead, submitted "Bald Eagles" as a name suggestion and won the $10 first prize. A song was also chosen but it since has been changed.

"Bald Eagle" was used for a few years but it eventually was shortened to "Eagles" for the sake of convenience.

Eagle athletes have proudly worn the name for more than 46 years. An MSU student, dressed in a "Fightin' Eagle" costume which weighs 22 pounds, appears at all home basketball and football games.

Adron Doran: He Led The Fight

By W. E. CRUTCHER
Publisher, The Morehead News

Throughout this special Golden Anniversary supplement there are references to and articles about the magnificent building program undertaken at Morehead State University during the past two decades. Much has been said about the almost unbelievable growth in students and faculty during this same period. And much has been said about the growth and development of the academic areas and the unprecedented increases in state funding.

To say that Adron Doran played the major role in all of these developments is at best an understatement. Everyone knows that this former Western Kentuckian has worked 25 hours a day to bring Morehead State University to her current level of high acceptance in the region and throughout the state and nation.

But there are a number of things about this tall Kentuckian, who came to Morehead State University as president in 1954, which many people may not know. It is with this thought in mind that the remaining paragraphs in this article will not deal with buildings, programs, finances, and personnel at MSU—but rather will deal with Adron Doran, the man.

Little is known of the financial help which he personally has made available to countless hundreds of students during the past 18 years. Never has a needy youngster been turned away from his office. Records have not been kept, but the successes of those students who were able to stay in school through his personal generosity have been more than ample reward to Adron Doran.

Financial help has been but one way he has helped needy students. One observer once said, "He would have made one whale of a counselor." And many students with weighty problems who have emerged from his office with much lighter hearts will testify to the validity of this observation.

For Adron Doran has always had an open door policy, particularly when it comes to students. Another observer claims that "A student can get into the president's office easier than anyone else. Just let Adron know that there is a student with a personal problem, and everyone else will have to wait while he helps solve the student's problem."

His humble childhood and early struggles probably conditioned him as much as anything else to want the youth he comes into contact with to have an easier time of things. One of the things he can point to with great pride is the large number of students he has helped get into medical school, law school, dentistry, veterinary medicine and other professional schools. And legion are the number of students he has helped find jobs for in the past 18 years.

This great personal interest in youth goes way back to his days as a principal in Western Kentucky. In his first job he had a youngster who just didn't have the financial resources to finish high school but did have the ability to make a car run like a clock. The youngster's father had died and the boy came into Adron's office to say goodbye.

Young Doran, who was making $64 a month at the time, just couldn't let the talented youth quit school. So he took him into town, bought a broken down

Model-T Ford for $35 and gave it to the youngster to repair. He did and began hauling other farm youth to school for a small fee, and not only graduated but went on to become highly successful. When he graduated from Boaz High School, the Dorans sent him to a school for mechanics in Nashville. He is now an instructor in a technical school in Houston, Texas, and two of his sons have been students at MSU.

Religious activities have always been in the forefront in Adron Doran's life. In fact, had it not been for the church (he has been a life-long member of the Church of Christ), Adron Doran would never have gotten beyond high school. Members of his home church in far Western Kentucky saw great promise in the gangling youngster and sent him off to a two-year church college in Tennessee. He began preaching and singing in gospel quartets and today is considered one of the outstanding ministers in the church.

When he and Mrs. Doran came to Morehead in 1954, the community had no Church of Christ. Thanks to their leadership and financial backing, Morehead now has a strong Church of Christ. Dr. Doran also has encouraged other churches to establish in Morehead and provide student centers near the campus.

For years, the only vacation Adron and Mignon Doran took was a week in the summer when he would go to a small church in Western Kentucky or Northwestern Tennessee and conduct a revival. Whatever the church would pay him, he would always use for some church-related activity with the money often going to Freed-Hardeman College, the two-year institution where he got his start.

Many more stories could be recited by this publisher about Adron Doran the man, but space just doesn't permit. History has already recorded the many unprecedented accomplishments of this man and I would like to devote the rest of this article to an enumeration of just a few of the honors, awards and accomplishments which have come his way.

DISTINGUISHED KENTUCKIAN AWARD . . . Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, Jr., presented MSU President Adron Doran with the "Distinguished Kentuckian Award" in 1966, recognizing the significant contributions made by the MSU chief executive. Mrs. Doran was a proud first lady at the award ceremony.

TED KENNEDY HERE . . . Homecoming '66 style found young Ted Kennedy as the featured speaker and the member of the famous Kennedy family attracted a full house in the Fieldhouse. Sen. Kennedy was several hours late in arriving due to bad flying conditions but the more than 5,000 people in attendance waited patiently. The Massachusetts senator is shown here with President and Mrs. Doran at a reception following the convocation.

Leading off the list would probably have to be his recognition in 1971 as only the fourth Kentuckian in history to receive the coveted Horatio Alger Award which has been awarded to just 200 great Americans.

Other top awards and achievements include:

- * Election to four terms in the Kentucky House of Representatives.
- * Speaker of the House of Representatives for one term.
- * President of the First District Education Association.
- * President of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association.
- * President of the Kentucky Education Association.

- * Member of the National Advisory Council on Education Professions Development, appointed by President Lyndon B. Johnson.
- * Member of the Education Commission of the States.
- * Recipient of the Outstanding Civilian Service Medal by the United States Army.
- * Named Kentuckian of the Year by the Kentucky Press Association.
- * Recipient of the Distinguished Kentuckian Award presented by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, Jr.
- * Recipient of the Lincoln Key Award Presented by the Kentucky Education Association and the Lincoln Foundation.
- * Named Outstanding Alumnus of the University of Kentucky.
- * Named Outstanding Alumnus of Murray State University and served three terms as president of the Murray Alumni Association.
- * Gov. Louie B. Nunn declared "Adron Doran Day in Kentucky" on Sept. 1, 1970.

I could go on and on with an almost endless list of achievements recorded by this complex, yet down to earth man who has meant so much to Morehead State University, Rowan County, the whole region, the Commonwealth and the nation.

But suffice to say, this is a much better community and a much better world because Adron and Mignon Doran came our way

Doran Tenure Longest

Dr. Adron Doran has served nearly three times as long as any of his six predecessors in the presidency of Morehead State University. He was inaugurated in 1954 and is in his 19th year at the MSU helm.

Early Curricula Limited, Offer Many Classes Now

The 1922 session of the Kentucky General Assembly appropriated $30,000 for the new school at Morehead "to hire a faculty, provide the necessary supplies and to put the school in working order."

Using the campus of two formerly private schools, Morehead State Normal School began the 1923 school year with nine faculty members, an enrollment of three college students and 70 students in the secondary school.

At first, the Morehead State curriculum consisted of two divisions: the normal school program and the college program.

No drastic program changes were made until 1926. Prior to this time only two years of college work were offered. Every student entering the institution on the college level had to take education courses since no program leading to a liberal arts degree was available.

Students were required to select three fields for emphasis. One was designated a major field and the other two were minors. Students could elect a major from nine fields.

Majors were offered in chemistry and physics, biology and botany, geography, mathematics and physics, English and expression, English, history and political science, history and sociology and foreign language. Minors could be picked from any available field.

The Board of Regents were authorized by a legislative act in 1924 to issue three types of teaching certificates: college elementary, standard elementary and college certificate.

Each teaching certificate was valid for two years with 16 hours of college-level work and could be renewed only on the completion of 16 or more additional work. Each certificate was valid for three years with 64 semester hours of college-level courses.

Each certificate was valid for three years with 128 hours of college work and was renewed for life upon completion of three years of successful teaching experience.

In 1930, the college was accredited by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges and one year later by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. The Normal School was discontinued during the 1931-32 academic year.

Four Departments Added

At the beginning of the 1930-31 school term, a program of study leading to either the Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts degree without a teaching certificate was offered.

During the 1930's the college expanded its course offerings and added several new areas of study. Four new departments: speech, commerce, library science and industrial arts were added to the 12 existing departments.

By the 1936-37 academic year, 180 courses were offered with the greatest increases occurring in the Department of Science which offered 45 courses. Social sciences had 35 and education 30.

By 1939, a student could select a major from 14 areas. A graduate program leading to master's degrees in education and to the provisional certificate began in the late 1930's.

By 1949, a total of 501 separate courses were offered. This number had increased to 644 courses by the 1963-64 school year.

Became University In 1966

In the 1960's the curriculum was reorganized by grouping related disciplines into broad fields called divisions.

In 1966, the institution was granted university status and in 1967 its eight divisions of study were merged into five academic schools: Education, Sciences and Mathematics, Applied Sciences and Technology, Humanities and Social Sciences. Under these five schools were 24 divisions and departments.

In the fall of 1968 military science was offered for the first time and in 1971 it was placed on a voluntary basis.

An additional school, Business and Economics, was formed in 1972 with the departments of accounting, business administration, business education and economics.

MSU currently offers five bachelors degrees in 60 areas, eight master's degrees in 16 areas, specialist degrees in three areas and associate degrees in 24 areas.

In the 1972 fall semester the university offered nearly 1,400 separate classes. There are now more than 350 faculty members.

BEFORE AND AFTER . . . Rader Hall, formerly known as the MSU Administration Building, is shown in the top photo as it appeared originally. Constructed in 1926, it was the first permanent campus building. Remodeled in 1971 at a cost of $1.8 million, Rader now serves as a classroom and office building for the School of Social Sciences. The bottom photo shows how the three-story building's front has been extended toward the street with a change in architectural style.

GIANT BIRTHDAY PARTY . . . Morehead State University observed its 50th birthday in early March and more than 2,000 persons jammed the intersection in front of the University Center to witness the cutting of a 12-foot high cake. MSU President Adron Doran read solutions adopted that morning by the Kentucky General Assembly commemorating the 50th anniversary of passage of the bill which led to creation of Morehead State and Murray State in 1922. The day's events in Frankfort and Morehead officially opened MSU's year-long Golden Anniversary Celebration.

61 Have Served On Board Of Regents

With the appointment this summer of two new members, Morehead State University's Board of Regents has involved 61 persons in voluntary service since the first board was formed in 1924.

The total membership has included 43 private citizens, 11 state superintendents of public instruction, five students and two faculty members.

Dr. W.H. Cartmell, the current chairman, is the first layman to head the board. His 11 predecessors served by virtue of their elected position as state superintendent of public instruction.

The Kentucky General Assembly recently expanded the board to eight citizen members and removed the state school superintendent from membership.

Dr. Cartmell, a Maysville surgeon, is in his 17th year on the board and has served longer than any other person. B.F. Reed of Drift, a coal executive, ranks second in length of service with 16 years. He was appointed in 1953 for one year, renamed to the board in 1958 and has been reappointed every four years since.

Other members of the current board and year of appointment include Lloyd Cassity, Ashland dairy executive, 1963; Cloyd McDowell, Harlan coal operator, 1966; Jerry F. Howell, Jackson banker, 1968; Charles D. Wheeler, Ashland businessman, 1969; Crayton (Bo) Queen, Mt. Sterling auto dealer, 1972; and William E. Justice, Pikeville realtor and banker, 1972.

Dr. M. E. Pryor, professor of biology, is the faculty representative. He was elected in 1971. The board's other faculty delegate was Dr. Frank Mangrum, professor of philosophy, who served from 1968 until 1971.

The current student member is Pete Marcum, Louisville junior and president of the MSU Student Government Association. SGA presidents serve as board members if they are Kentucky residents. If not, another person is chosen by the student body.

Quentin Hatfield of McCarr, Ky. was the first student member, serving briefly in 1968. Others and their academic years of membership were W.A. (Bill) Bradford of Russell, 1968-69 and 1969-70; Jack Sims of Munfordville 1970-71; and Mike Mayhew of Morehead, 1971-72.

Both the student and faculty representatives now have full voting rights as a result of the new law which became effective this summer.

The board's membership of private citizens has included four women. Mrs. W.J. Fields of Olive Hill was appointed to the original board and served a four-year term. Mrs. S. M. Bradley of Morehead was a member from 1928 until 1932. Mrs. Allie W. Young of Morehead had three terms, starting in 1936. The most recent woman member was Mrs. E.E. Shannon of Louisa, who served from 1958 to 1960.

Morehead State showed its appreciation to those who have served on the board when, in 1963, it named Regents Hall, a four-story men's residence building, in their honor.

Of the 11 state superintendents of public instruction who have served as board chairmen at MSU, only one has had more than one term. Wendell P. Butler, for whom MSU's Butler Hall was named, has held the office three times and has 12 years as chairman. His terms were 1952-56, 1960-64 and 1968-72.

Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, the current state superintendent, served earlier this year before the reorganization law became effective.

Other chairmen and terms have included McHenry Rhoads, 1924-28; W. C. Bell, 1928-32; James H. Richmond, 1932-36; Harry W. Peters, 1936-40; John W. Brooker, 1940-44; John F. Williams, 1944-48; Boswell W. Hodgkin, 1948-52; Robert R. Martin, 1956-60; and Harry M. Sparks, 1964-68.

The 35 private citizens who have served on the board in the past came from 22 cities and towns, mostly in Eastern Kentucky.

Morehead has had five members with Olive Hill, Ashland and Paintsville contributing three each. Maysville, Hazard and Louisa each have had two.

The list of former members includes:

First Budget Had $500 For Library

MSU's library began in 1922 with 4,360 books donated by the Christian Church and with a book budget of $500.

In the past 50 years, the volume has risen to 235,157 books and a budget of about $263,000.

The library was first located in Burgess Hall, a building which stood on the site of the present Johnson Camden Library and housed the chapel, music rooms and the home of President Frank C. Button.

Burgess Hall, which was named for Mrs. A.O. Burgess, national president of the Christian Church Women's Organization, was torn down in 1929.

The new library opened on Jan. 22, 1931. It was named in honor of Johnson N. Camden, Jr., a U.S. Senator from Versailles.

Mrs. Nannie G. Falconer served as librarian for seven years as the first professional staff member. Miss Edith Fullen, a graduate of Columbia University, was librarian from 1929 to 1931.

At the time of its opening, Johnson Camden Library was considered one of the finest in the South. At first, only the second floor was used as a library. This floor contained two reading rooms, a stack area, a cataloging room, office and circulation desk.

The first floor housed the Department of Art and the third floor consisted of faculty offices, study rooms, and conference rooms.

By 1932 the number of books contained in the library had increased to 15,225, the book budget was $1,250 and the professional staff had increased by one. Mrs. Alice Palmer Morris was librarian and Miss Marguerite Bishop was assistant librarian, a position she held until 1971.

Miss Ione M. Chapman became librarian in 1946 and began teaching classes on library usage that year. In 1958, Mrs. Dorothy Conley joined the staff and started the Materials Center, a combination of curriculum, illustrative materials and audio-visual aids. Miss Clarica Williams became fulltime library science teacher that year and Mrs. Suzanne Boggs took over the Breck Library.

By this time, the art department had moved to Allie Young Hall and the library had the entire use of the building.

Construction began on the new wing of the library in 1964. Completed in 1965, it now houses the periodical department and humanities collection.

In 1965, microfilm service was initiated and a photocopier was added. In 1970, the TWX (teletype) system and the Dial Access Center were added, the teletype machine permits the library to borrow books from universities throughout the United States and Canada. The Dial Access Center, located in the Combs Building, permits students to hear sound tapes or selected studies automatically.

The Johnson Camden Library professional staff now numbers 22 and 16 clerk-typists and four graduate assistants also work there.

Dr. Jack D. Ellis is director of libraries. He succeeded Miss Chapman in 1968.

The library subscribes to almost 2,000 professional journals and magazines and 40 daily and weekly newspapers. It has 12,000 recordings, films, filmstrips and tapes and 70,000 microfilm and microcards.

Some of the services the library provides to faculty include type and recording conferences.
