

County Fair Opening Set On Sept. 20

Rules for Exhibits Told by Callihan, Fair Board Chm.

End of the summer and the beginning of autumn on Sept. 22 will be marked next week by the annual Floyd County Fair at the Fairgrounds in Archer Park here.

The fair will begin next Wednesday (Sept. 20) and continue through Saturday. Exhibits representative of all age groups have been sought for this year's fair. In addition to the array of prize specimens from field, garden, orchard, home and schoolroom, the fair also will feature entertainment in the form of the Kissell Bros. Amusement Company shows.

W. R. Callihan, chairman of the Floyd County Fair Board, said all exhibits, except livestock, poultry and flowers, must be entered on Wednesday, Sept. 20, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. These exhibits include adult field crops, vegetables and fruits; 4-H projects, clothing, cooking, garden products, canning, woodworking; Future Farmers of America clothing, foods and cooking projects; adult home economics, including canning, cooking, sewing, textiles, needlework, antiques, hobbies, art and handicrafts, and school exhibits, which annually comprise the largest number of individual items on display.

Flowers are to be entered at the fair on Friday, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Livestock and poultry must be on the fairgrounds and entered by 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 23.

Friday, from 3 p.m. till closing, will be Kids' Day in the amusement section of the fair, with rides offered at reduced prices. Two bicycles will be given away to as many lucky youngsters at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Allen Hardware Robbed Sept. 7; $900 Loss Seen

The Sandy Valley Hardware Company at Allen was burglarized last Thursday night and a minimum of $900 worth of items were taken, Larry Short, owner of the business, said. State police are investigating the break.

Mr. Short said access to the interior of the building was made via a window, near the roof. Power tools, shotguns and ammunition were apparently handed out to an accomplice through a screen door or a crack in a side room of the store. Short indicated the loss may not yet be fully determined.

An escapee from LaGrange reformatory was jailed here on Labor Day by Deputy Sheriffs Isaacs and Rackey. The prisoner was listed as Jimmy Johnson. Others booked at the jail within the week, charges lodged against them and names of arresting officers follow:

Pearl Lane Oney, destroying private property, arrested by Constable Gillis Conn; Hillard Branham, child desertion, by Deputy Sheriffs Younce and Napier; Quinton Case, drunk driving, by State Trooper Danny Stumbo; Herman Conn, Drunk driving, by State Trooper Dennis Williamson; Oscar Rice, drunk driving, by Troopers Estep and Williamson.

Refund of $4,882.75 Made by Co. Judge

County Judge Henry Stumbo has refunded to W. J. May, county treasurer, $4,882.75 for excess fees collected during the calendar year ending Dec. 31, 1971, it has been announced.

Judge Stumbo said approximately $1,000 of that amount represented fees due Former County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill.

Reception Honors Fest Performers

Performers at the seventh annual Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival were guests at a reception given in their honor at May Lodge Sept. 2 by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club. Shown in photo are Mrs. Edith F. James, founder and director of the festival, with a group of musicians from Ashland who performed with handcrafted instruments.

US 23 Link Nearing Completion

This view of new four-lane US 23 shows a section near the forks of Bull Creek on which base coating has been applied, preparatory to surfacing. The John Stephens home is at right.

A spokesman for the Kentucky Road Oiling Co., which has the contract on the new highway from the intersection with the Mountain Parkway at the mouth of Katy Friend, near here, to the forks of Bull Creek, said base has been laid on both lanes from the forks of Bull to the top of the hill between Bull Creek and Katy Friend, that grade and drain work will be completed Friday and that surfacing is expected to be completed within the next 30 days.

On the sector from the forks of Bull Creek to Allen the contractor is the Winston Ford Company. Winston Ford, Jr. said Tuesday that grade and drain has been completed and that the road is ready for the base coat all the way to Dwale.

Bridge construction on that sector is farthest behind. One pier and one abutment on the bridge spanning the river between Dwale and Allen are almost complete. One of each remains to be done.

The Dixie Bridge Company, contractor on the river bridge and one crossing the railroad at Dwale, is shooting for completion by Christmas, Mr. Ford said.

GREETINGS

Frank Preston, of Allen, has been superintendent of the Sunday School of the Allen United Methodist Church for years, and much of his worth in that capacity has been his ability as official greeter of all who come. His handshake comes firm, friendly and often. A friend recently recalled the time when Mr. Preston's collie, Lassie, followed him to church. While Frank was inside the church, shaking hands with members of the congregation, Lassie sat outside on the church steps, extending her paw to every person who came.

HOW TO CURE WARTS

Watt Hale and Lennie Moore haven't picketed the place yet, as Manis Gray has suggested, but they apparently are on strike, nevertheless. The last contribution dropped by the former, and that was several weeks ago, had to do with the esoteric matter of removing warts.

He said he and some friends had pursued the matter pretty thoroughly. He started them off with the suggestion that cutting the wart and letting it bleed on nine gravels was as far as his scientific mind had led him toward a cure. John Warix, he said, offered a remedy which included tying six knots in a twine string. Another spoke of the tried-and-true method of spitting on the blade of a Barlow knife and rubbing it a given number of times on the wart to the accompaniment of a chant.

What's your remedy?

Tom Sawyer's is the best I can recall. It runs, as I recall, to this effect:

You go to a graveyard at midnight, dip some water out of an old stump and rub it on the wart, then say:

Stump water, stump water,
Injun meal shorts;
Stump water, stump water,
Swaller these warts.

Enrollment in County Schools Shows a Loss Again This Year

Floyd county's new Allen Central high school at Eastern is second in enrollment to Prestonsburg high, but its student-body of 638 is about 50 pupils short of the total enrolled last year at the four schools which it eliminated by consolidation.

The 1970-71 enrollment at Wayland, Garrett, Maytown and Martin high schools, all of which are now merged with Allen-Central, was 690. Some of the enrollment loss is perhaps accounted for by the larger number of students in the Allen area who formerly attended Martin high but who now attend Prestonsburg high school.

The enrollment this year for all schools in the county is 9,369—92 below the enrollment total at the opening of the schools last year. The enrollment drop is a continuance of the trend which began a few years ago. The high school enrollment loss is 32; for the grade schools, 60.

Both Prestonsburg high and elementary schools had substantial gains this year. The high school enrollment of 843 was 30 above that of last year, and the 954 at the grade school reflected the same enrollment gain.

Betsy Layne high school shows a gain of 8 with an enrollment of 531 this year, and its elementary school, which has 420 pupils, had an increase of 17. Wheelwright gained two in high school with an enrollment of 353, but Osborne elementary, which serves the grade school pupils of that area, had an enrollment loss of 20 with 448 enrolled this year. McDowell high school had a loss of 25, with 423 enrolled this year. Its elementary school has an enrollment of 623.

Other schools which had enrollment gains this year:

Daniels Creek 28, gain of 2; Dwale 29, up 2; Prater Creek 129, plus 1; Drift 84, up 4; Harold, 266, gain of 5; Martin 527, gain of 6; Melvin 226, up 3; Weeksbury 139, gain of 12; Wheelwright 353, gain of 2.

Enrollment losses were recorded this year in the following schools (figures in parentheses indicate loss):

Bonanza, enrollment of 61 (10), Home Branch 58 (6), Lackey 70 (14), Spruce Pine 57 (16), Allen 353 (3), Auxier 180 (13), Clark 458 (6), Garrett 326 (5), J. M. Stumbo 662 (19), Maytown 264 (1), Osborne 448 (20), Wayland 248 (2).

In the total enrollment figures this year there were included 13 in home instruction classes, 10 in the Spradlin branch trainable class and 6 in the Allen trainable class.

Folk Fest Brought Together Those Proud of 'What Is Ours'

No protest, no "rock," no "hard stuff," or drinking. The only participant representing the law or security forces was a Prestonsburg policeman, and he was there to perform with his own string band.

This was the seventh annual Kentucky Highlands Music Festival at Jenny Wiley State Park, Labor Day week-end.

They came here, those who had played at other festivals and many for the first time, from California, Florida, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia and Tennessee, as well as from various sections of Kentucky, to renew friendships and to hear the music and see the dances that are part and parcel of the Old World culture being preserved by the festival. Family groups found the peaceful environment and dignity of the entire festival particularly inviting.

Among the participants were ministers, doctors, educators, business men, craftsmen—all proud to be a part of this continuing effort to keep alive the music, traditions and customs which were handed down by the pioneers who, to begin with, had brought them, or received them, from Old England.

Many of the old ballads told stories of tragedy and suffering and reflected the isolation and hardships endured by the early settlers. The tunes often were doleful. But no protest. The singers were proud to be a part of it all.

The groups included the Hack Thornsbury string band, of Prestonsburg, the Asa Martin string band from Irvine, Ky., the Carl Clark Dancers from the University of Kentucky, the Powell County Promenaders from Stanton, the Dennis Sinnett Family from Detroit, Mich., the Fraley Family from Rush, Ky., the Homer Ledford Family from Winchester; Emma Lou and Jackie Martin, mother and son; Jo and Ronnie Spriggs, mother and son, of Paintsville; the Dulcimer Group, two sisters from Frankfort; Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Prestonsburg, and numerous solo performers, including Rev. Buell Kazee, of Winchester, a famous banjo player; Bettie Lee Hannah and Goldia Swain, mother and daughter; Banjoplayers, Town Hall from Floyd county and Florida; and from this area, Dannie Slone and George Tucker. Fiddlers were Dr. Paul B. Hall with Mrs. Mary Grace Garland, accompanist, from Paintsville; Peter Rolland, Alfred Bailey, Fiddlin' Dewey Shepherd, Dave Sizemore, J. P. Fraley; singers, Sue Peterson, Dianna (See Story 1, Back Page, Sec. 1)

Ousley Is Killed In Pkwy. Wreck; Dotson Injured

A single-car accident on the Mountain Parkway, near the mouth of Katy Friend, early Saturday claimed the life of one Floyd county man and seriously injured another.

Dead on arrival at Prestonsburg General hospital was 25-year-old Roger Dale Ousley, of Risner. A passenger, Ronnie Dotson, of the Middle Creek road, sustained five broken ribs and a broken breast bone. Dotson is recovering at Prestonsburg General hospital.

The mishap was said to have occurred when Ousley, attempting to pass another car, hit a patch of wet mud and lost control of his vehicle, striking a parked water-tank truck.

Other mishaps in neighboring counties added to a tragedy-filled weekend. In Johnson county 15-year-old Rickey Hampton, of Wittensville, near Paintsville, was killed Saturday when the pony he was riding strayed into the north-bound lane of the highway there as a south-bound pickup truck attempted to pass another vehicle. Also, in Johnson county, Kentucky State Police were searching for a vehicle involved in a hit and run death near Tutor Key. Another fatality resulted near Williamson Saturday night when a car driven by Michael Dwain Ward, of Inez, left U. S. 52 and struck an embankment, throwing Ward from the vehicle.

Victim of the accident here was son of Alonzo and Rebecca Allen Ousley. He was born March 5, 1947, was never married, and was president of Local Union 8256, United Mine Workers of America.

Surviving, besides the parents, are four brothers, Albert, Richard and Denver Ousley, all of Mansfield, Ohio, and four sisters, Mrs. Alvin L. Ousley, of Risner, Mrs. Louise Britton, of Mansfield, Mrs. Betty Sue Ousley, Salem, O., and Mrs. Shirley Faye Crum, of West Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at the home with ministers of the Regular Baptist Church officiating. Burial was made in the Richmond cemetery here under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Similarity of Names In Item Confuses

The Ralph Owens mentioned in last week's Times as having been sued by the First National Bank is not the man of the same name who resides at West Prestonsburg. The bank gave the address of the defendant in this case as Galveston, Ky.

Witnesses Heard Three Days, Will Be Quizzed Again

The grand jury of the Floyd circuit court dug deep last week in the first three days of its September session for facts surrounding the mystery slayings of two men in the Right Beaver Creek section of the county.

The jury, Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo and County Attorney James R. Allen concurred in saying, is considering evidence that could result in one or more indictments in the slayings of Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Conley at Garrett and of Clayton Conley, near Wayland, shortly afterward.

"We want to make certain of our case before we act," Stumbo said.

Fifteen or more witnesses were questioned during the three days as the jury sought to establish a possible connection between the two slayings and to link individuals with the crimes. Many were called back for questioning each of the three days.

"They will be called again," Stumbo said.

The jury recessed at the conclusion of Thursday's session and will return here Sept. 19. Three days of the regular jury term remain but it is possible that Circuit Judge Hollie Conley will extend the session. Several indictments have been voted by the grand jury but have not been signed by the foreman and reported to the court. These will not be reported until the jury returns after its current recess.

In all indictments in five slayings are expected.

Petit jury trial work was negligible during last week, and no major hearing is seen for next week.

One Man Slain, Cousin Is Shot In Tram Fight

A shoot-out between two cousins at Tram early Sunday evening resulted in the death of one and the wounding of the other.

Sammy Lackey, 33, died almost instantly of a revolver bullet wound in his left chest. Ted Wilson, 32, was taken to the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville, with a flesh wound in his leg.

State Police Detective Richard Ray said Wilson would probably be dismissed from the hospital Tuesday and that upon his release he would be brought here for arraignment before County Judge Henry Stumbo.

Ray, who apparently made the only investigation of the shooting, said witnesses told him the two men, Negroes, became involved in a heated argument when Wilson, driving home, found the road blocked by Lackey and possibly others. Both went home, got their guns. Witnesses told Ray that Lackey came to the Wilson home and fired two shots from the yard, Wilson replying with one shot from inside the house.

Wilson and his wife lived with his mother, Mrs. Hattie Wilson. The Lackey home is nearby.

Lunch Charges Nil If Income Below $2,130

No Floyd county parent whose income is not more than $2,130 a year is required this year to pay for his child's meals at school, according to the new schedule of free and reduced-price meals released by the Floyd County Board of Education.

And a family with as many as four children in school is entitled to free meals at school for them if the annual family income does not exceed $5,329.

These isolated items in the schedule of prices for meals for pupils are included in the schedule released last week. (See Page 4, Section 1 for complete schedule.)

Those who pay the full price will be charged 30 cents for lunch and 10 cents for breakfast.

Pupils entitled to reduced prices will pay 20 cents for lunch and 5 cents for breakfast. Families falling within the prescribed income groups or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced price meals for their children, Blanche Dingus, lunch program co-ordinator, said. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year, she said. The form requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or

Drivers Not Only Slowed Down— They Came Back for Second Look

Morehead, Ky.—Motorists kept returning for a second look this summer when they realized the traffic flagman was an attractive young lady.

Donna Gulley, Sharpsburg senior at Morehead State University, spent the summer flagging cars for a road construction company on Interstate 75, south of Richmond.

A 5-foot, 4-inch brunette, Miss Gulley's interest in being a flagman began the previous summer.

"I was working in the company's office when I read some papers that said the company did not discriminate in hiring workers," she said.

"I decided I wanted to spend my next vacation working outside with a construction crew," she added. "It gave me a chance to get a suntan and earn money to return to school."

She spent 10 weeks working nine to 10 hours daily. Her "work uniform" included a construction metal helmet, a brightly-colored vest and a red flag.

"Working in the rain was the worst part," Miss Gulley said. "Sometimes this happened before we had completed a job, so I would just tuck my hair under my hard hat and keep on flagging."

She carried her transistor radio with her "to make things run a little smoother." "As long as I had my radio with me for company, I could do almost anything," she said.

The female flagger attracted more attention than the average flagman.

"One afternoon I became suspicious after watching the same car pass me several times," she said. "Finally, the car stopped where I was flagging."

"One of the nicely dressed gentlemen asked, 'Are you or aren't you?' I removed my hat and assured them that I am really a girl."

"Everyone was nice to me," she said. "A state policeman even bought me cold drinks on the hot days."

"It was one of my most enjoyable summers," she added. "I plan working as a flagman again next year."

Pike Rest Home Strike at End

Threat of a strike at Mountain Manor Nursing Home of Pikeville ended last week with the return to work of employees who had claimed they had been fired because they had asked union representation.

But the Methodist Hospital there continued to be strikebound.

Circuit Judge E. N. Venters ruled last Friday that a union and four of its members violated his restrictions on picketing at the hospital and fined them a total of $650.

Venters also told Local 10317 of Communications Workers of America that while it has the right to picket, it also has the responsibility to see that such activity is carried on peacefully.

He noted that on Aug. 27, rocks were thrown against a car occupied by Jerry Lakin, a hospital employee.

Venters pointed out that on June 14 he issued an injunction limiting pickets to eight on the line and said his decree was broken on Aug. 26 and 27.

Those responsible, the judge continued, were the local and the leaders of the striking employees: Peko Williams, Mary Ann James, Joe Dotson and Gregory McGuire.

They were fined $250 for the incident on Aug. 26 and $400 for the Aug. 27 incident.

The union has been seeking bargaining rights at the hospital.

During the six-day hearing, the union contended that some of the pickets were from the United Mine Workers.

The judge said, however, that "The actions of the defendants in accepting benefits of the other persons joining with them and helping them to picket... carries with it responsibility...to see that the persons carry on in accordance with and in obedience to court orders."

Venters also condemned the person or persons responsible for a dynamite blast near the hospital, Aug. 27. He called it a callous disregard for the safety and well-being of any person in the area and particularly the patients and hospital personnel."

VISIT AT HONAKER
Honaker, Ky.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patrick, of New Paris, O., formerly of Garrett, were Labor Day week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kidd, of Honaker.

Donna Gulley, Sharpsburg senior at Morehead State University, spent the summer as a traffic flagman for a highway construction company. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dunaway, of Sharpsburg.

Cadillac presents the class of '73

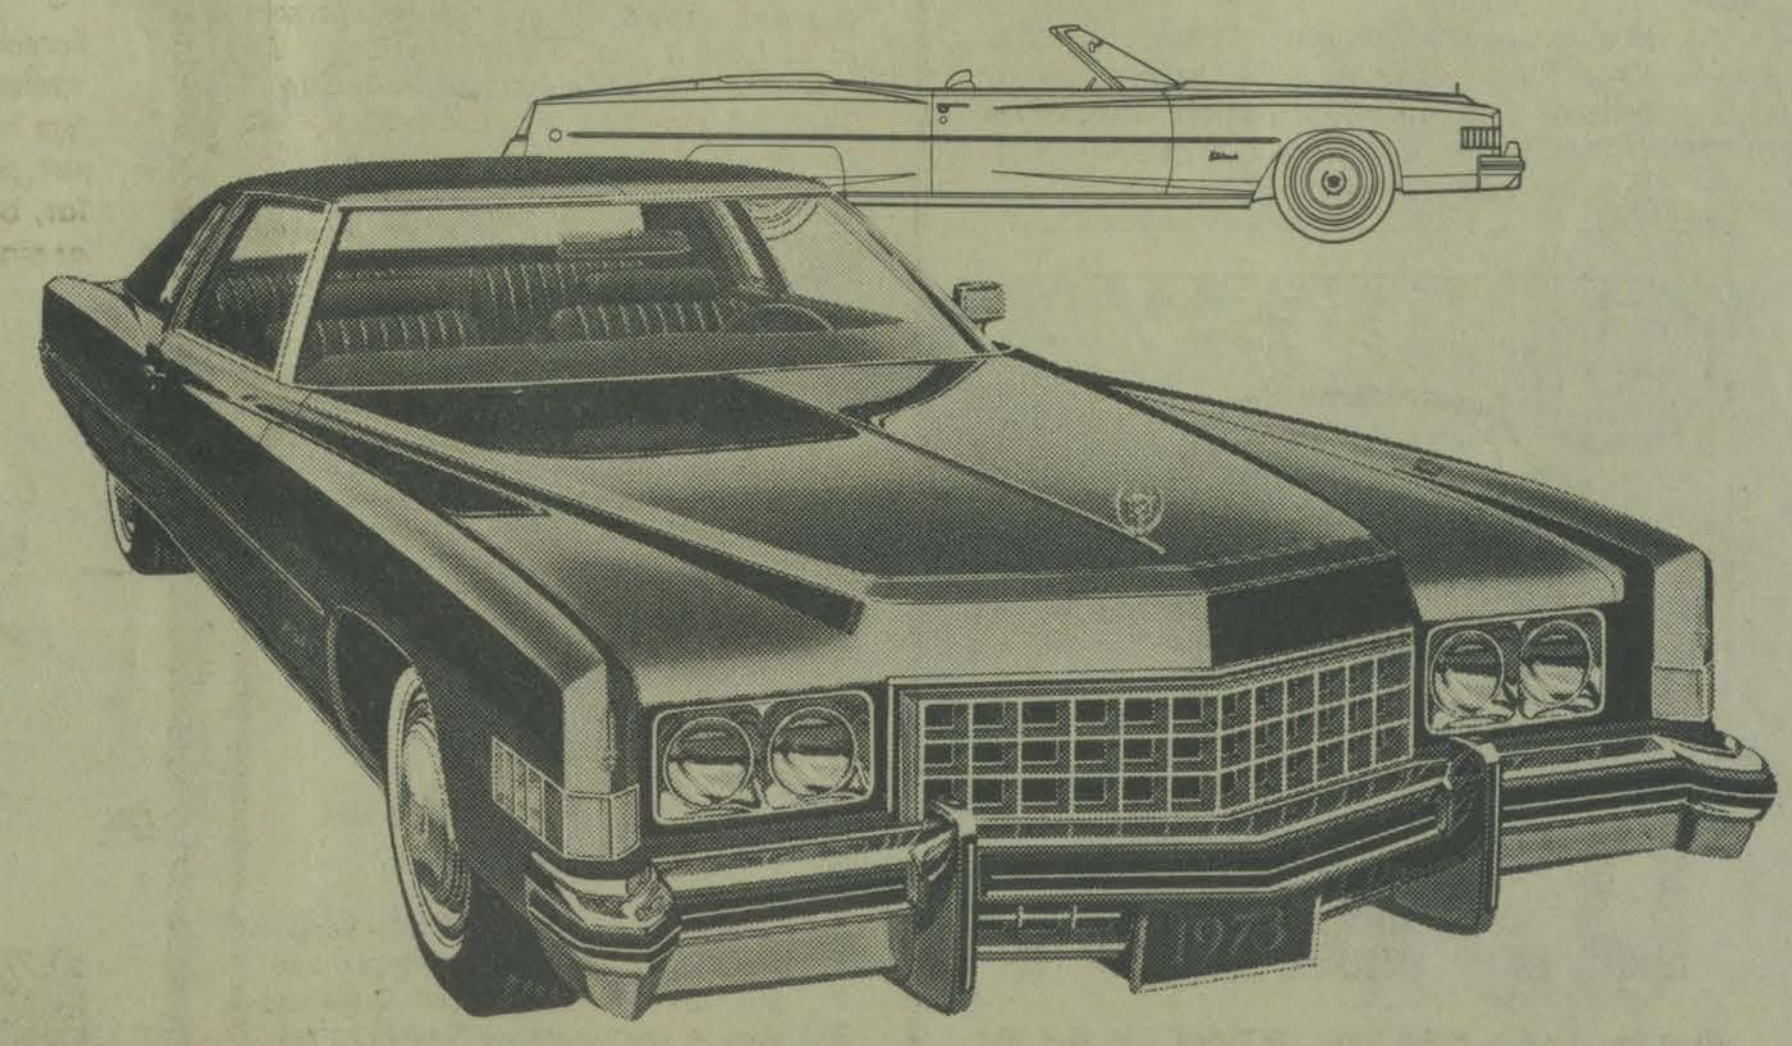

Clearly, these*are the most magnificent Cadillacs ever built. Not only for what you can see—the bold new exteriors and the plush new interiors—but as much for what you can't see.

You see here the new Sedan deVille, Eldorado Coupe and Eldorado Convertible. You don't see the six other new Cadillacs (more models than all other U.S. luxury cars have combined).

You see here the striking new styling outside—even more elegant for '73. You don't see the hundreds of innovations and refinements inside. To add new comfort and convenience.

And you don't see the many new niceties you may add. Like a lighted vanity mirror. A theft-deterrent system and steel-belted radial tires.

Clearly, you never had so many good reasons to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer. Cadillac Motor Car Division. The leadership shows.

Dare To Be Great Hearing Held At Lexington, Ends Sept. 1st

(Delayed from Last Week)

Two days of testimony which told the merits and demerits of Dare To Be Great, Inc. ended last Friday in Fayette circuit court at Lexington, and at the end of it all Judge L. T. Grant maintained the temporary injunction against the Florida-based firm, pending his decision. Attorneys were given 25 days for the filing of briefs, and after that the injunction will either be made permanent or dissolved.

Ten witnesses called by the defendant company testified that their purchase of the company's motivational courses improved shaky marriages, restored religious faith and cured problems with alcohol.

Most of the witnesses also said they had made money after buying the motivational course and winning the right to sell it themselves.

But under aggressive cross-examination by Asst. Atty. Gen. Laura Murrell, all but one admitted that their original investment and subsequent expenses exceeded the commissions they made by selling the course.

And Mrs. Murrell called a rebuttal witness who said his participation in Dare To Be Great hurt rather than helped his married life.

In Clearwater, Fla., last week Glenn W. Turner, founder of Dare To Be Great, was arrested on a warrant alleging violation of the state's securities law. He pleaded innocent and was released under $20,000 bond. The warrant was based on testimony of 40 or more Pinellas county (Fla.) residents who alleged they had invested from $2,000 to $5,000 each in the motivational course offered by Turner's company.

Later, Turner announced that within a week he would split Dare To Be Great into 500 companies and give them away, if necessary.

He made the announcement before a cheering crowd of perhaps 600 persons attending a leadership meeting. His statement followed a federal court ruling in Portland, Ore. to ban nationwide sales of two levels of the motivational series after Sept. 8.

Turner's attorney, Theodore Koskoff, said the adverse publicity Turner has received and the litigation in which he is involved has had two effects:

1. It has united the people who work with or for Turner.
2. It has increased business.

LETTERS To the Editor

IN APPRECIATION

The Jenny Wiley Council, an area chapter of the International Reading Association, has recently completed a most successful first year. This success, we feel, is due in part to the Floyd County Times which so generously devoted ample space to our cause.

The Jenny Wiley Council came into being with the presentation of its charter at the first meeting at McDowell school in October, 1971. Since that time we have enjoyed five scheduled meetings and increasing membership.

The purpose for the formation and existence of this council is to promote improvement of reading and quality of reading instruction, as well as to encourage greater public interest in reading in this area. Therefore, we urge all parents and classroom teachers to join with us in achieving this goal.

The Council members are extremely grateful to the Floyd County Times for its aid in helping to launch this program, and we would like to take this opportunity to commend the Times for its interest and promotion of education in this area.

WHEN A WINNER GRIPES

Editor, The Times:

What qualifications must one have in order to predict games (winners, plus margin) for your newspaper?

My honest opinion is that a 65 percent correct pct. would be outstanding, thus all predictions obviously won't be correct. But your paper's predicted 3 point victory of Pikeville by Johns Creek could be the 1972's biggest joke! In case you haven't heard. Final score 56-0, Pikeville. Thanks, though, it made betting easier for Pikeville followers. We were giving 3 TD's! (instead of the 5, before your outstanding prediction was printed).

CONDONED OR NOT CONDONED?

When one applies for a license to operate a taxi the vendor grants it with the assumption the applicant wants to convey people as a business. In most cases this is true, but in some instances it is sadly untrue.

For a long time the law-abiding citizens of Prestonsburg have been plagued by a perpetual bootlegger. The taxis are used as a cover-up or a semblance of legality but they also serve as an aid in the acquisition and distribution of untaxed authorities do not condone this illegal business, then it should be stopped. If it is condoned, then why not tax it as a dispensary for beer, whiskey and wine?

Pike Operators Groups Attack Kentucky Coal Severance Tax

Scheduled for filing Monday was a suit by Coal Operators and Associates, of Pikeville, challenging the legality of the state severance tax on coal.

The suit contends the tax discriminates against the coal industry because it isn't imposed on extractors of other minerals. If it fails to have the tax declared unconstitutional the group will ask that the state Department of Revenue be enjoined from enforcing the tax against "persons, firms and corporations not engaged in the actual mining and removal of coal."

Francis D. Burke, attorney for the coal operators and son of the organization's president, Francis M. Burke, said the department has violated the law by imposing the tax on the net selling price of coal after it is processed rather than on the gross price at the time it leaves the mine.

The severance tax of 4 per cent or 30 cents per ton, whichever is greater, was enacted by the 1972 Kentucky General Assembly and went into effect April 1.

"The department of revenue, by administrative regulation, has undertaken to change the statute to change the person responsible for payment of the tax and to change the amount of tax which will be realized," Burke said.

"The act clearly imposes the tax on operators producing coal and not on business enterprises engaged in buying coal on the open market and reselling it," he said.

What it all boils down to, Burke said, is that the price of coal is higher after it has been cleaned, sized and crushed than at the time it is taken out of the mine.

He also said the revenue department had threatened operators who failed to comply with the regulation with additional penalties including injunctions against doing business.

House Bill 337, which established the tax, defines "gross value" as the amount received or receivable by the individual... or corporation engaged in severing coal in Kentucky. Severance is defined as the physical removal of coal from the earth.

State Revenue Commissioner John Ross said Saturday his department issued the regulation being challenged for the purpose of determining the gross value of coal. He said the figure is computed by relating total mining cost to final selling price.

If mining costs represented 60 per cent of the total cost, for example, the tax would be levied on 60 per cent of the total selling price, he said.

Ross said the regulation was issued shortly after the tax went into effect and was circulated among operators beforehand to get their comments.

"We wouldn't have issued a regulation we thought was contrary to the law," he said.

Coincidentally Kentucky's coal production last April dropped 13.6 per cent from April 1971. Many coal operators blamed the loss on the severance tax, which they said kept Kentucky from competing with other states on the open coal market.

Last June Coal Operators and Associates said 30 per cent of the coal miners in Pike county or 1,814 miners were unemployed after most worked the previous year. Pike is the nation's largest underground coal producing county.

CARD OF THANKS

PRE-PUBLICATION SPECIAL!

JENNY WILEY COUNTRY

BY C. MITCHEL HALL

Two volumes filled with the story of Jenny Wiley and the history of the Big Sandy valley and counties of eastern Kentucky through which she travelled while in captivity by the Indians. In cloth.

In an effort to help preserve and to transmit to posterity the great heritage of eastern Kentucky in general, and Johnson County in particular, the author narrates a vivid account, from earliest recorded history to today, of the nearly forgotten brave families who stubbornly refused to let a wilderness rule them, and their movement across the Appalachians into 'Jenny Wiley Country', including its growth and development.

Volume I contains 756 pages illustrated with more than 100 maps and photographs. It is a revised edition of the work originally titled Johnson County, Kentucky and introduces the reader to the origin, background, and progress of mankind prior to and a continuation of their history after the period covered in the 1928 edition.

Volume II, with 820 pages including some 42 photographs, has three new sections with records of deaths of those named in the original genealogies and occurring since 1928.

Trojans Drop Third Game Of Young Season to Pikeville

The Wheelwright Trojans last Friday evening dropped their third start in four tries. The 33-8 loss came at the hands of the strong Pikeville Panthers.

Coach Don Daniels was still optimistic. "I thought we played a good game, but Pikeville shut off our strength in the middle," he commented. Bright spots were evident for the Trojans as Lowell Parker made a partial comeback. Coach Daniels feels he should be able to go all the way next week against Virgie. Rod Thornsby, top defensive end for the Trojans, and Gary Issac, stand-out tackle, are also expected to return to duty shortly.

The only Trojan score came in the first quarter when Glenn Thornsby recovered a blocked punt in the Pikeville end zone. Darrell Branham scored the conversion on an off-tackle power play.

Even though the game was not close after the first quarter, speculation arose on both sides concerning the amount of penalty yardage assessed. Pikeville was penalized 45 yards and Wheelwright 275 yards.

In the previous week, September 3, Wheelwright ran past Fleming-Neon, 44-22, for their only win of the season. The game was never very close with the halftime score at 16-6, Wheelwright.

Mike Armour and Darrell Branham provided most of the scoring punch as Armour scored three times on runs of 96, 35, and 15 yards. Darrell Branham reception from Clifford James. Darrell Branham collected three conversions while Mike Armour scored one conversion. Tippy Moscrip tallied the other touchdown on the return of a 70-yard pass interception.

This week, Wheelwright goes against Virgie.

Cats Defeat Elkhorn City In Games Marked by 'Breaks'

Breaks and the "big play" offense dominated the game as Prestonsburg outdistanced Elkhorn City, 33-18, last Friday night. The Cats raised their record to two wins and one loss.

Ronnie Burke started the fireworks as he turned a broken play into a 44-yard touchdown jaunt in the first quarter. Early in the second quarter, Burke went in from the four-yard line to widen the Cats lead to 13-0.

Elkhorn City finally got on the board as Roger Sweeney went over from the three-yard line. The final score of the half came when Jimmy Blackburn guided the Black-cats downfield, where Paul Pelphrey hauled in a pass on the three-yard line. Danny Wells carried the ball in to make the half-time score 20-6, Prestonsburg.

Both teams scored twice in the second half, with Earl Stephens getting the first marker on a well executed option play. The play covered 23 yards and the conversion attempt failed. A few minutes later Roger Sweeney rambled 65 yards for Elkhorn City's second touchdown.

Prestonsburg drew first blood again in the fourth quarter as Robert Tackett bolted 47 yards down the sideline with the game's final touchdown. Ronnie Burke then connected for his third extra point of the evening.

The Cats will be at home this week in their first Class AA game of the season against M. C. Napier.

Charles M. Tackett Named by Governor New Fayette Judge

Charles M. Tackett, Prestonsburg native, is one of two Fayette circuit court judges named by Governor Wendell Ford last Friday.

Tackett and George Barker, both of Lexington, were appointed to fill two new judgeships created in the Fayette judicial district by the 1972 General Assembly. Their appointments are for the period ending with next year's general election.

Barker was commonwealth's attorney for the district, and Tackett was his assistant at the time of their appointment to the bench.

A son of Mrs. Joe P. Tackett, of Prestonsburg, and the late Mr. Tackett, Judge Tackett was graduated from Prestonsburg high school and the University of Kentucky Law School. He has been a practicing attorney in Lexington since 1957. His wife is the former Emmalene Hall, and they have three daughters.

Hall To Protest Rate Increases

Magistrate Denzil Ray Hall, of District No. 4, announced Monday that he will protest rate increases proposed by the Harold Telephone Company and called on any others who are interested to contact him at Grethel.

The telephone company recently notified subscribers that a public hearing has been scheduled on the company's application for rate raises before the Public Service Commission, Frankfort, at 2 p.m., Sept. 19. The Harold system includes not only its original area along the Big Sandy in southern Floyd county and in Mud Creek but also communities in the upper Left Beaver Creek section.

Magistrate Hall said one reason for his protest is that Left Beaver Creek subscribers may telephone other parts of the county, toll-free, but that none of the subscribers in his magisterial district enjoy that reduction in cost of service. An increase in rates for them would be unfair, he claims.

Robinson Says Mail Register Is Poor Method

County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson is accepting voter registrations by mail, but he doesn't like it and frankly says so.

"This is a bad law," he said. "We have a good purgation board, and they work hard to rid the voting lists of those who have died or otherwise become ineligible. But four purgation boards won't be able to keep up with the mess this registration by mail could cause."

The law, most county clerks hold, affords an opportunity to "load" the voting lists. Only eight persons had registered here by mail as of Monday morning. All are Democrats.

County Clerk Robinson said it is important for voters who are already registered and have been voting to understand that they do not at this time have to re-register. That will come later, perhaps next June, when everybody must register. The complete new registration of voters will follow the May, 1973 primary and must be completed before the November election, next year.

Miners' and Widows' Claims in Floyd Co. At $217,000 a Month

More than $20 million has been paid in benefits to miners and widows serviced by the Pikeville Social Security office through the Black Lung benefit program, Daryl Ratliff, district manager, said last week.

Miners and widows claims have been allowed for 1,340 persons in Floyd county, with monthly benefits amounting to $217,000. Since December, 1969, $5.6 million have been paid to miners and widows in this county.

It is anticipated the number of miners and widows eligible for Black Lung Benefits will double during the next several months. The increase will result from the liberalization of eligibility requirements enacted by Congress in May of this year.

PRODUCTIVITY RISES

Productivity in the nonfinancial corporate sector rose at an annual rate of 6.1 percent in the second quarter of 1972 as output continued to increase sharply, reports the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Christopher C. DeRossett

Christopher C. (Lum) DeRossett, of East Point, died last Tuesday at Prestonsburg General hospital after a long illness. He was 84 years old.

Born at Water Gap, Nov. 12, 1888, he was a son of the late Jim and Victoria Grey DeRossett. Mr. DeRossett was a retired farmer and is survived by his wife, Minnie Lee Sizemore DeRossett.

Survivors, other than the wife, include six sons, Fred, of Pomans, Calif., Joe, Christopher C. Jr., and Theodore R. DeRossett, all of East Point, T. J., of Prestonsburg, and Hillard Eugene, of Martinsville, Indiana; five daughters, Mrs. Alka M. York, of Metamora, O., Mrs. Victoria Meade, West Prestonsburg, Mrs. Ruth Newton, of Louisville, Mrs. Velvea Compton, East Point and Mrs. Virginia Whitt, of Ashland, and a brother, Clell, of Ashland. He also leaves 40 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted Friday at 11 a.m. at the Regular Baptist Church at Water Gap, of which he was a member. Ministers of the Regular Baptist Church officiated. Burial was made in the Richmond cemetery at Prestonsburg under the direction of Floyd Funeral Home.

Curtis Cook

Curtis Cook, of Cincinnati, Ohio, formerly of Halo, died last Tuesday at Bethesda North hospital, Cincinnati. Stricken by an apparent heart attack, he was 49 years old.

A diesel mechanic and a member of the Missionary Baptist Church for 17 years, he was born June 15, 1923, at Halo, a son of Willie Cook, of Sandusky, O., and the late Lina Cook. His wife, Willa Dean Fraley Cook, survives.

Also surviving are two sons, William E. Cook, of Wheelwright, and Curtis Lee Cook, Louisville; two daughters, Mrs. Donna Fay Johnson, of Lexington, and Mrs. Jessa Lyn Ray, of Cincinnati; a brother, Spencer Cook, Sandusky; a sister, Emaline Michaloh, of Toledo, O.; three half-brothers, Raymond E. Everett, and Earl Thomas Cook, and two half-sisters, Mary Alice and Rowie Ann. One grandchild also survives.

Funeral rites were conducted Friday at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church at Wheelwright. Burial was made in the Boyd Cemetery at Price under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

William Lewis Miller

William Lewis Miller, 50 years old, formerly of this county, died last Sunday at his home in Warsaw, Indiana.

A son of Clara England Miller and the late Raymond Miller, he was born July 27, 1922. He was a veteran of World War II and was employed by Weather Head Co. at Syracuse, Indiana.

Survivors include the widow, Mary Cox Miller; two sons, James Miller, of Lafayette, Ind., and Danny Miller, at home; two daughters, Mary and Donna Miller, both at home; three brothers, Morris Ray Miller, of Piercetown, Ind., Luther Eugene Miller, of Braybill, Ind., and Larry Miller, Prestonsburg, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Conn, Detroit, Michigan.

Funeral services were conducted last Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the Free Will Baptist Church at Katy Friend, the Rev. Henry Crider officiating. Burial was made in the Spurlock Cemetery under the direction of Floyd Funeral Home.

Mrs. Lou V. Daniels

Mrs. Lou Vernia Daniels, 83, of McDowell, died Saturday at the University Medical Center, Lexington, after an extended illness.

Born September 21, 1889, at Sitka, she was a daughter of the late C. P. and Amanda Slone Fitch. She was a member of the Regular Baptist Church for 55 years. Her husband, John H. Daniels, preceded her in death.

Surviving are three sons, Edgel Daniels, of Tampa, Fla., Edgar Daniels, of McDowell and Cecil Daniels, of Beaver; three daughters, Mrs. Eva D. Young, of Wooster, Ohio, and Miss Shirley Daniels and Mrs. Berlie D. Ward, both of McDowell; six brothers, Sampson Fitch, of Sitka, Lloyd Fitch, of New Boston, Ohio, Dennis Fitch, of Wilbur, Ohio, Homer Fitch, of Springfield, Ohio, and Selcie Fitch, of Ashland; two sisters, Miss Neba Fitch and Mrs. Eula Burchett, both of Sitka; 18 grandchildren; 33 great-grandchildren, and 17 great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Old Regular Baptist Church at Minnie, with Regular Baptist ministers officiating. Burial was made in the Lucy Hall cemetery at McDowell, under the direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Delzie Boyd, 66 year old, of Harold, died last Tuesday at his home after an extended illness.

A son of the late Noah and Serrilda Smith Boyd, he was born July 13, 1906, at Dana. Survived by his wife, Emma Hall Boyd, Mr. Boyd was a retired coal miner.

He also leaves two sons, Dawson and Ray, both of Amherst, O.; two daughters, Mrs. Glema Collins and Mrs. Brenda Justice, of Frankfort; a sister, Mrs. Mary Akers, of Dana and a brother, Audra Boyd, also of Dana. Eight grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Little Salem Church at Prater, with ministers of the Regular Baptist Church officiating. Burial followed in the Boyd cemetery at Dana under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home at Martin.

Clarence Reed

Clarence Reed, 45, of Battle Creek, Michigan, formerly of Handshoe, died Friday in Oaklawn hospital, Marshall Michigan, after a four months illness.

A veteran of World War II and a member of the United Baptist Church, he was born December 29, 1926 at Handshoe, a son of Myrtle Handshoe Reed, of Shelby Ohio, and the late Tobe Reed. His wife, Oma Conley Reed, survives.

Also surviving are two daughters, Debbie and Dianne, both at home, and a brother, Rufus Reed, of Battle Creek.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 10 a.m. at the Salt Lick United Baptist Church. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Handshoe under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Albert L. Lewis

Albert Lee (Shine) Lewis, 57 years old, of Wheelwright, died last Monday in Bessemer, Alabama, while visiting there with a brother, John. Cause of death was an apparent heart attack.

A disabled miner, he was born in Alabama, April 23, 1915, a son of the late John and Ida Ward Lewis. Mr. Lewis was Floyd county district chairman, United Mine Workers of America. His wife, Nell Branham, survives.

Other survivors include two sons, Albert, Jr., a student at Tennessee Tech, and Samuel R., of Wheelwright; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, of Shreveport, La.; another brother, Cleophus, of Detroit, Mich., and four sisters, Mrs. Cora Jenison and Mrs. Viola Pleasant, both of Chicago, Ill., Mable Lewis, of Bessemer, and Mrs. Ida M. Davis, of Inkster, Michigan. Also surviving is one grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Wheelwright Friendship Baptist Church, with E. H. Terry officiating. Burial was made in the Wheelwright Community Cemetery under the direction of Merion Funeral Chapel.

Active Pallbearers were: Bill Worthington, Nick Frazier, David Blair, Grover Meade, Ballard Bertley, Kim Meade, Phil Smith and John Thomas.

Lester Ellen Wright

Lester Ellen Wright, 65 years old, of Martin, died Monday at McDowell Appalachian Regional hospital.

A daughter of the late George and Etta Rose Wright, she was born Feb. 15, 1907, at Letcher.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Sarah Tackett, of Martin, and Mrs. Alpha Allen, of Printer; a brother, Frank Wright, of Dorton, and three sisters, Mrs. Della Adams, Robinson Creek, Mrs. Mattie Nitch, Belleville, Mich., and Ms. Rhoda Mitchell, of Delbarton, West Virginia. Ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were conducted today at the Left Beaver Regular Baptist Church, with ministers of that church officiating. Burial was made in the Allen cemetery at Printer under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Donahoe, Thelma Music, Robert Rennick, Bobby Ranier, Barbara Edwards, Marcus Owens. Dr. Leonard Roberts contributed his specialty, folk tales, to the program.

The "Poet's Corner" on Saturday afternoon at May Lodge was presided over by Mrs. Lillie Chaffin, of Meta. The Prestonsburg Woman Club was hostess to a reception. On display were early crafts furnished by Mrs. Winnie Johns, a display of handcrafted musical instruments by Herald Greene, of Ashland, and an art display by Russell May and Neal Davison. Books of poems were displayed by Helen Price Stacy.

The closing Sunday program, "Music of the Churches," was moved to the First United Methodist Church because of rain. It included a rhythmic choir from the First Methodist Church here; a youth handbell choir from the First Baptist Church of Ashland, directed by Charles Tidd, minister of music; Gregorian Singers from St. Theodore Church, Prestonsburg, Rev. William Pool, narrator; contemporary Gregorian Chant, by the Sinnett Family; Kentucky Mountain modal hymns, sung by Robert Rennick; lined hymns, led by John Warrick; hymns with banjo, guitar, and dulcimer accompaniment; the First United Methodist Church Choir, led by Mrs. Carlos Haywood.

The invocation and benediction were pronounced by the Rev. Howard Coop and the Rev. Earl Pennington.

The Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival was jointly supported by the Kentucky Highlands Vacation Region 11 and the Jenny Wiley Drama Association, Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr., president. Mrs. Edith F. James, founder of the festival, was program director, and Mrs. Joe Buchanan served as committee chairman.

BEATS ME!

Vester Fraley has beaten the wolf to my door again. This time he brought three squirrels, a dozen pawpaws and some apples. All of which I appreciated. But, you know, there are some people whose tastes I do not understand. The rest of our bunch turned up their noses at those pawpaws. I was outraged and said as much, adding, "What kind of taster has a-body got that he can eat spinach and refuse pawpaws?" I ask you.

THE LIGHT ALMOST GOES OUT

The Olympic torch has been borne by faithful hands since the days of ancient Greece, but it flickered badly last week. The games, which so long have been dedicated to honesty, sportsmanship and the finest in amateur athletics, were struck by the horror of mass murder. The sportsmanship of the past died in political connivance, and the 1972 brand of honesty permitted a Russian basketball team extra time in which to scramble back from defeat at the hands of the U. S. team. A 16-year-old boy who made no secret of the fact that he had to take a preparation containing ephedrine to combat an asthmatic condition had the gold medal he won as a swimmer taken away from him. And yet that basketball decision stood. And those boxing decisions! One was so outrageous that Howard Cosell, U. S. TV commentator, yelled, "Willie Sutton rides again!"

As the old woman said, "What in tar-nation is the world coming to?"

Health Board To Take Plans To Washington

The board of directors of the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Service met here Friday night for work on the "job description" of a program director, but the outline will not be official until it is submitted, early next month, to Health Affairs in Washington.

Dr. W. P. McIlwain, Kentucky commissioner of health and chairman of the comprehensive health program's board of directors, told others attending the meeting he hopes to have the board here attend the Washington meeting with him.

Funding of the program, which is planned for resumption after reorganization and remodeling, has already been made, but its activation will not be begun until a director is named. With the naming of a director, other staff members will be employed and work on dividing a workable program satisfactory to Health Affairs, OEO and the program board of directors will be undertaken.

An election will be announced later to fill the vacancy created on the board by the resignation of Joe Ratliff, of Hueysville, a consumer representative.

The U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that youth employment in the summer of 1972 rose to an all-time high of 12.7 million. The youth civilian labor force in the summer of 1972 was 15.0 million. The summer youth labor force and youth employment were both 1.2 million higher than in the summer of 1971.

Parents of Tot Sue Med Center, Asking $701,500

A Floyd county couple filed last Saturday a Fayette circuit court suit for $701,500 damages against the University of Kentucky Medical Center and Dr. Richard Montara, alleging that negligence of defendants resulted in, or contributed to, the death of their seven-year-old daughter.

The allegations made in the action, filed by Forrest McCown, of Melvin, and his wife, Mable, developed from the death at the Medical Center last Feb. 15 of plaintiffs' daughter, Elizabeth.

Mr. McCown, who is administrator of his daughter's estate, gave The Times this account of events preceding his daughter's death:

The child had been treated at the Medical Center since infancy and had undergone surgery there. On the day preceding her death she attended school, became ill and was taken to the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital. From there she was sent to the Lexington hospital. At the Medical Center she was assigned a room but was not seen by a doctor, despite requests of the parents for such attention. During the night a nurse discovered that the patient's temperature was rising but no doctor was called.

When a doctor did arrive at about 6:15 the following morning, he found the child dead.

Minister Installed In Service Here

The installation of the Rev. William H. Thomas as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here and the Drift Presbyterian Church was held at the Prestonsburg church Sunday evening, Charles M. Hanna, general presbyter, Lexington, presiding. Assisting in the installation service were Dr. Richard O. Comfort, of Marshall University, Huntington, W. Va.; Frank Heinze, ruling elder, Prestonsburg; William J. Murphy, Jr., pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Old Greenwich, Greenwich, Conn.; Dr. A. A. Page, ruling elder, Mt. Sterling; James Reed, ruling elder, Drift; Frank Sargent, ruling elder, Ashland; Jack E. Weller, associate general presbyter, Hazard.

Special music was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. James Ratcliff. A reception was held, with approximately 150 attending.

Community Chorus To Meet Monday

Gus Kalos, director of the Community Chorus, announced Tuesday that the chorus will begin its fall semester next Monday at 7 p.m. at the Prestonsburg Community College. The choral group will be comprised of interested adults and students who would like an opportunity to sing and perform good choral literature.

The chorus will begin its work with Handel's "Messiah," which will be presented in December. All singers are invited to participate.

Plain Popcorn Exempt, But . . . New Sales Tax Exemptions, Effective Oct. 1, Perplexing

The confusion surrounding the Kentucky sales tax will become even worse, come Oct. 1 when new exemptions on certain foodstuffs become effective. Grocers, in particular, are concerned with a circular released recently by the Kentucky Department of Revenue defining which of their items will be exempt from the 5 percent tax.

Only foods and cooking materials sold for use of consumption in the home are to be exempt from the tax. The exemption will not apply to such items as candy or soft drinks.

Cooking chocolate, ice cream and ice cream toppings, powdered drink mixes and fruit-based drinks will be non-taxable but cocktail mixes, dry or liquid, will be taxed.

The department said that, generally, any drink containing carbonated water would be subject to tax. However, it added, some drinks that do not contain carbonated water but are normally purchased for consumption from "soft drink" bottles or cans also will be taxed.

Fruit and vegetable juice mixtures sold in larger containers will be tax-exempt.

Plain popcorn and plain or salted nuts will be tax-exempt but caramel-coated popcorn and chocolate-covered nuts will be taxed.

The removal of the sales tax from take-home groceries was part of Gov. Wendell Ford's tax package enacted by the 1972 General Assembly. That package also included imposition of a severance tax on coal, raising the gasoline tax two cents a gallon and removing the federal deductibility on the state corporation income tax, all of which already have gone into effect.

In general, the Revenue Department is taking the position that fruits, nuts or popcorn preparations, including chocolate, sugar, honey or other confectionery, will be taxable unless they are sold for cooking purposes. The method used in packaging and distributing the preparations will be considered in determining their primary use it says.

Food sales by retailers who ordinarily sell for consumption on or near the premises are to be taxed even if they are take-out orders. That would even apply to pints or quarts of ice cream and quantities of such items as doughnuts or hamburgers.

On the other hand, certain foods that have been prepared for immediate home consumption will be tax-exempt if they are sold in a store that is engaged principally in selling non-taxable food. For example, chickens roasted on a rotisserie in a supermarket will be tax-exempt.

But if a store has facilities for eating prepared food on the premises, such food will be taxed, whether it is eaten there or sold on a "to go" basis.

A combination business at one location, such as an eating place having a doughnut or pastry shop or grocery line, will not have to charge the sales tax on food sold for home consumption, the department advises.

Sale of prepared meals will continue to be taxable whether the meals are served on or off the premises of the retailer.

Taxable items

The items listed below will continue to be subject to Kentucky sales tax after taxes on food are lifted:

- | | | |
|---------------------------------|---|---|
| Alcoholic beverages | unless sold for cooking purposes | Pet foods and supplies |
| Candy & confectionery | Household supplies (brooms, mops, etc.) | Soap & soap products |
| Candied apples | Ice | Soft drinks, sodas & similar beverages |

| Chocolate covered nuts | Non-prescription medicines | Toothpaste |
| Cocktail (dry or liquid) mixes | Paper products | Vitamins |
| Dietary supplements in any form | | Water, including mineral, bottled carbonated & soda |
| Glazed or crystallized fruit | | |

Nontaxable food

Following is a list of food items that, according to the Kentucky Department of Revenue, will be exempt from the state's 5 per cent sales tax effective Oct. 1 when purchased at grocery stores:

- | | | |
|---|--|---|
| Baby foods | Fruit juices | Popcorn |
| Bakery products | Gelatin | Potato chips |
| Baking soda | Health foods | Powdered drink mixes (pre-sweetened or natural) |
| Bouillon cubes | Honey | Relishes |
| Cereal & cereal products | Ice cream, toppings and novelties if sold by grocery | Salad dressings and dressing mixes |
| Chocolate (for cooking purposes only) | Jams | Salt |
| Cocoa | Jellies | Sauces |

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hall, of Wheelwright, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Glenda Jean Hall, to Mr. Donald Wayne Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Johnson, of Hi-Hat.

Miss Hall is a graduate of Wheelwright high school and Mayo State Vocational School. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of Wheelwright high school and is presently employed at Rockwell Standard in Winchester, Kentucky.

The wedding has been set for September 16.

Children's Theatre To Sponsor Tea

The Prestonsburg Children's Theatre is appointing committees, making plans and gathering ideas for the production of "The Wizard of Oz."

The production will be directed by Stephen Hale, and produced by Jack Wicker, two well-known actors who have played several performances at the Amphitheatre at Jenny Wiley State Park.

The Children's Theatre hopes to make this one of the most interesting and exciting productions done by the children in this community. Not only is the organization interested in creating acting ability by the children, but it also seeks to educate them in all phases of the theatre, such as lighting, stage managing, costuming, directing and producing.

A tea at the Arts & Crafts building at Archer Park will be held Sunday, September 17, at 3:30 p.m. All adults interested in helping the Children's Theatre are urged to attend.

U.S. Engineer Tells Aim To Dam Major East Kentucky Streams

Catlettsburg, Ky.—By the end of the 1970's Eastern Kentucky should be a recreational haven with emphasis on fishing, Catlettsburg Rotarians were told recently.

The speaker was Edward J. Goodno, U. S. Corps of Engineers fish and wildlife biologist and recreational planner for the Huntington District.

The largest flood control project, which will be the focal point for fishing, wildlife management, and various types of recreation, will be at Cave Run near Morehead, the West Virginian said.

It will cover more than 40 miles and contain 8,200 acres of water. A million-dollar fish hatchery is under construction which will stock Eastern Kentucky's growing number of flood control projects, he said.

This project, which is in the Louisville District, he continued, will be finished by 1973 or 1974.

Goodno, whose jurisdiction includes 27 flood control reservoirs in the Huntington District, said Grayson Reservoir's recreational facilities are being developed rapidly. Nearly completed are 71 class A campsites.

Also in the planning stages are a swimming pool and lodge for Grayson.

Paintsville Dam, to be located on Paint Creek four miles west of Paintsville, was authorized by Congress in 1965. It will contain about 1,140 acres of water, comparable to the size of Dewey Lake, another flood control project.

Completion date is 1977 or 1978, the speaker added, with total cost at $31 million.

Yatesville, Dam, to be located five miles west of Louisa on Blaine Creek, will be 1,375 acres of water, with completion by early 1980.

Another proposed recreational facility is Keyhoe Reservoir on the Carter-Greenup County line. It will be 845 acres with completion date about 1981.

All projects include wildlife management sections and will be developed recreationally, Goodno pointed out.

With Dewey Lake and Fish Trap in Pike County, Eastern Kentucky should be a fishing and recreational paradise he said. With these flood control projects along with East Lynn, Beech Ford, and others in West Virginia, less water will flow into the Ohio, which will further control flooding, he added.

Goodno, explained that the U. S. Corps of Engineers consists of 12 River Divisions in the United States. The Ohio River Division is headquartered in Cincinnati and is responsible for entire drainage into the Ohio River. This district encompasses five states and 45,000 square miles.

The corps, he continued, has been criticized in the past for constructing too many dams especially in Arkansas.

The corps was originally responsible for navigation, but has branched out to include many other duties. These include assistance to homeless families and cleanup in the Buffalo Creek, W. Va., tragedy and cleanup and assistance coordination in the Silver Bridge tragedy.

Ecology, recreation, and clean water are being emphasized, he continued along with preservation of the cultural values of heritage, conservation of natural resources, restoration of man made and natural environment, and to create new activities.

To alleviate navigation on the Ohio River, 46 dams were built beginning late in the 19th Century, to be completed in the 1920's. With the river traffic increasing in volume, another system was devised—high lift dams. They speed up traffic, aid flood control, and created recreational sites along the river, the speaker added.

The corps' 1960's philosophy was to create "super" recreational sites at the various flood control sites, but recently this philosophy has been revised and the theme is to have more projects, but let them be somewhat primitive.

Objectives of the corps are to promote national and regional economic advancement, and for the preservation and enhancement of the environment, the engineer added.

CARD OF THANKS

The R. S. Slone family wishes to thank all those who sent flowers and helped in any way and special thanks to Bob Martin, L. P. Tussey, the Grand Ole Lodge 293 and the Carter Funeral Home.

Dorton To Head Tourism Group

The Region 11 Tourism Committee elected officers for the fiscal year last Thursday evening at May Lodge.

Elected chairman was O. T. Dorton, Paintsville; Burlin Coleman, Pikeville, vice-chairman; Marvin Music, Jr., Prestonsburg, treasurer; and Nell Ruth Davis, Meally, secretary.

The Region 11 Tourism Committee is responsible for raising funds to advertise the tourism and recreational facilities and opportunities in the Eastern Highlands which covers the five-county Big Sandy area. With these funds the committee provides for the printing of a regional brochure and the placement of advertising in both TV and newspapers. The Department of Public Information, Frankfort provides 50 per cent matching funds to assist the local group in its promotion of the Big Sandy area.

Dr. George P. Archer, chairman of the Big Sandy Area Development District Board, said that the board recognizes the Region 11 Tourism Committee as its official planning committee for developing ways and means of promoting tourism in the area.

Dr. Archer added that the district highway office at Pikeville had greatly assisted in promoting tourism for the area by taking excellent care of the grass and shrubbery around the Tourist Information Center here. "Mr. Gail Mullins, district engineer for the Department of Highways, has been most cooperative in providing services to the Center," he said.

The Big Sandy Board, in cooperation with the State Department of Public Information, operates the Tourist Information Center.

Pryor Discusses 'Junker' Disposal

Regulations affecting abandoned junk cars have been forwarded to the Legislative Research Commission by the Highway Department.

Commissioner Charles Pryor, Jr. last week explained that the regulations are based on an act of the 1972 legislature allowing his department to remove and dispose of junk cars left on the state's right-of-way. The proposed regulations, which the Commission has been asked to register, provide for pick-ups either by the Department's own forces or by contractors. They allow the same options for disposing of the junkers.

The new statute assigns responsibility to the State Police for identifying abandoned vehicles and to the Highway Department for getting rid of them, Pryor said.

He commented, "The regulations we have proposed will allow the Highway Department to undertake an aggressive campaign for eliminating these eyesores from Kentucky's roadsides. However, the 1972 Act does not extend beyond the public right-of-way. We will not be able to remove junkers from private property, however offensive they may be visually."

He said the Department is also developing plans to extend its control of roadside advertising to more than 3,700 miles of primary highways. The roads involved are those included in the Federal Aid Primary System. Advertising devices on Interstate Highways and Parkways have been regulated by the Department since 1962.

Federal authorities have recently given notice that penalty clauses of the 1965 Federal Highway Beautification Act may be invoked if the Commonwealth does not take effective steps to come into compliance with the Act which covers primary highways. The penalty provided is ten percent of the state's apportionment of federal aid. For the current year this could amount to $5.8 million in Kentucky.

An investigation is now under way to determine the number of signs involved and to appraise the extent of non-compliance. Regulations based on this study will be sent to the Legislative Research Commission later this year.

Earlier federal legislation provided bonuses for states regulating signing on Interstate highways. To date Kentucky has received, or is eligible for, bonuses totaling more than $1.5 million.

Pryor said, "The programs which we are developing will result in safer and more attractive roadsides on our highway system. We recognize that advertising controls on primary roads will create problems for some businesses and institutions. We intend to deal with these problems sensibly and with full regard for the various interests involved."

CLUB TO MEET

The Floyd County Democratic Woman's Club will hold its September meeting at noon Sept. 20 at May Lodge, according to its president, Mrs. Tom G. Dingus. All members are urged to attend.

Damron, Fitzpatrick Join Law Firm Here

Clifford B. Latta has announced that he has been joined in the practice of law by Mr. Phillip D. Damron and Mr. Richard E. Fitzpatrick.

The firm will be known as Latta, Damron & Fitzpatrick, and will continue to be located at Mr. Latta's present offices in the Ligon building on Court street.

Mr. Damron has been associated with Mr. Latta since June 1. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Atha Damron of Weeksbury, he is a 1965 graduate of Wheelwright high school and received the J. S. degree from the University of Kentucky Law School in 1971. He is city attorney for Allen, and is presently Prestonsburg city judge pro-tem. He is also president of the Floyd County Young Democratic Club.

Mr. Damron and his wife, the former Martha Ann Archer, of Prestonsburg, reside on North Arnold avenue.

Mr. Fitzpatrick joined the firm on September 5. A 1962 graduate of Prestonsburg high school, he received the J. D. degree from the University of Kentucky Law School in 1970. Mr. Fitzpatrick served as law clerk to Court of Appeals Judge Edward P. Hill, Jr., from 1970 to 1971, and was an assistant attorney general during the past year.

The son of Mrs. Opal I. Fitzpatrick and the late Richard C. Fitzpatrick, West Prestonsburg, he and his wife, the former Maria Parente, reside on First Avenue here.

Mr. Latta was graduated from Washington & Lee University and the University of Kentucky Law School and has practiced law in Prestonsburg since 1954. He is currently president of the Floyd County Bar Association.

Announce Engagement

Judge and Mrs. James A. Wise, Denton, Maryland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gaye Robinson, to Mr. Daniel Edward Wallen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis L. Wallen, of Stanville, Kentucky.

Miss Wise, a resident of Frederick, Md., graduated from Shepherd College and is presently teaching first grade in Frederick county, Maryland.

Mr. Wallen, also a resident of Frederick, was graduated from the University of Kentucky and is employed as a systems engineer at East Alco Aluminum Company in Frederick.

An April wedding is planned.

Average salaries for selected white-collar occupations in private industry rose 4.4 percent over the 9-month period from June 1971 to March 1972.

To Whom It May Concern:

According to the Sept. 6 edition, page 5, of the Floyd County Times, it is claimed B & D Motor Company of Allen, Ky. repossessed a 1968 Cadillac from me, Charles O. Webb. This is a false statement. This car was returned to them by me, personally because, I was misinformed about the mechanical condition of this car. When I purchased it. However, there was no default on my part about the car at the time of its return, because, during the four months this car was in my possession, I had approximately three hundred dollars of mechanical repairs done to the car.

I cannot stand idly by and let people be led to believe I have been dishonest about this matter.

HOLDS FELLOWSHIP PERIOD

Eastern-Maytown Baptist Chapel complimented representatives of their sponsor church, First Baptist of Allen, Sunday afternoon, with a fellowship hour in the chapel. Rev. Earl Waugh, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Allen, and members of its Mission Committee, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pritchard, Gene Davis, and John Snodgrass, together with their families, attended. Rev. Waugh was welcomed and introduced by the director of the chapel Sunday School. After talking briefly he presented members of his committee. The Allen Baptist Church trio, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Davis and Mrs. Earl Waugh, also the chapel choir, rendered special music for the occasion. The visitors then were conducted on a tour of the chapel rooms, leaving the nursery until last because a surprise stork shower for Mrs. Waugh was exhibited there. Mesdames Roland Burchett and Howard Ramey were co-chairmen of the event, with several committees assisting. Refreshments were served in the social room.

Chapel services are conducted each Sunday at 9:30 a.m., with Sunday School immediately afterward. Glenn Mollette, 17-year-old student-minister of Inez, is presently doing the preaching. The chapel is located in the Maytown elementary grade school building. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Republican Women To Meet, Sept. 16th At State Park Here

Mrs. W. P. Jones, president of the Kentucky Federation of Republican Women's Clubs, this week announced the call for the September board meeting to be held at Jenny Wiley State Park, September 13. The Johnson County Republican Women's Club will be the host club for the meeting.

Mrs. Jones said this will be the first meeting of the newly elected state board since the state convention, which was held in June, also that this will be the only meeting of the state board before the election, November 7.

The morning program will include addresses by Mrs. Richard Carter, vice-president KFRW, on "How Important Are the Special Groups?"; "The New Voter and the Youth Vote," by Phillip Dunnigan, president of the College Republicans; "The Senior Citizen," by Mrs. Lewis Epstein, Lexington; "The Ethnic Group," by Mrs. Howard Williams, KFRW historian.

The public is invited to attend. Luncheon reservations should be sent by September 8 to Mrs. J. W. Adams, 604 Frank Street, Paintsville.

ALLEN NEWS

Michael Gene Halfhill, stationed at a U. S. base Istanbul, Turkey, was promoted to sergeant, Sept. 1. Mrs. Halfhill is there with him and will be there for a year. Mrs. Halfhill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Pruitt, of Allen.

Mrs. Frances Maggard, of Lexington, and her grandsons visited Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Crisp on Saturday. They were dinner guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Allen, of Martin, and also visited Alice Harris, of Prestonsburg, and other friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Crisp were shopping in Huntington last Thursday.

Louisville and Jefferson county officials are planning to file companion suits in circuit court to determine the powers of cities and counties under the home-rule law passed by the 1972 legislature. Jefferson county officials contend the law gives them "responsibility to govern all the inhabitants of the county."

Making of Cider Ancient In Origin

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD (UK College of Agriculture)

With apples now ripening on the trees, that time has come to practice the ancient art of cidermaking. Who first pressed juice from apples for drinking purposes is unknown, but according to the botanical writings of the Greek philosopher, Theophrastus, his countrymen were making and imbibing it as early as 400 B. C.

In the United States, up until about 1930, apple cider was made and consumed in greater quantities than any other juice, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. The decrease after that date was partly attributed to the rapid increase in the commercial canning of other fruit and vegetable juices.

But cider is still a very popular beverage—a drink with a taste appeal that is distinctive and, according to medical lore, very healthful. In the old days apple cider, especially cider vinegar, was used to treat a wide variety of ills ranging from chronic fatigue to obesity, shingles, and broken bones.

Young maidens were advised to use it on their faces as a treatment for pimples and to prevent wrinkles, and farmers drenched their horses with it to keep them from gnawing the woodwork of the stables.

Making homemade apple cider can be a relatively simple affair and there are no hard and fast formulas to follow. The two most important things to take into consideration are maturity and variety of the fruit, says C. E. Chaplin, horticulturist with the UK College of Agriculture.

There was a time when most of the cider consumed was homemade. A few farmers and small orchardists used inexpensive patented cider presses ordered from a mail-order house, but most merely filled a barrel or keg with apples, pounded them to pulp with a wooden maul, let the whole mess set for a couple of days, and then drained off the tangy juice through a spigot or small hole in the bottom of the container. The containers, of course, were first carefully cleaned, the apples washed and selected to see that they were free from worms. The drained-off cider was stored in jugs or sealing jars and placed in spring houses or other cool places until it could be used.

Commercial cidermaking firms preserve cider in several different ways but mostly by pasteurization, adding chemicals such as potassium sorbate, or subjecting the juice to ultraviolet irradiation. But for cider made on the farm, refrigeration is the most practical and economic method of preservation. Strained and stored in glass containers at a temperature between 32 and 36 degrees Fahrenheit immediately after being pressed out, cider will usually keep for two weeks without fermentation.

State Health Dept. To Assist Coroner

The state Health Department has launched a medical assistance program to help Kentucky coroners in determining causes of death.

Kentucky statutes do not require coroners to be physicians or even to have medical training, although medical examination or autopsy often may be necessary to determine how a person died.

The 1968 General Assembly authorized the state to provide assistance to coroners in such matters, but funds were never allocated.

Last year, the Kentucky Crime Commission allocated $41,666 to get the program started and the Health Department has been working to make medical assistance available to all Kentucky coroners.

A coroner may use the program whenever he believes a death may have resulted from foul play. A local physician may be consulted about the death, with the state paying the bill. The Health Department also will pay fees for a pathologist and is contracting with 10 of them in as many regions of the state.

Health Department figures show about 33,000 deaths annually in Kentucky, with autopsies needed in about 1200 of the cases.

However, actual autopsies are performed in only about one-third of the cases, an official said. Some deaths that occur with no medical examination afterward may involve undetected crimes.

"Really what we are trying to do is make it a little more difficult for people to get away with murder," said Dr. B. F. Brown, director of Laboratory Services in the Health Department.

Mrs. Stacy Stricken At Bank Hearing

(Delayed from Last Week)

The 78-year-old mother of State Sen. Joe D. Stacy (D-West Liberty) collapsed and was hospitalized last Thursday shortly after testifying against her son's application to start a second bank in West Liberty.

Mrs. Margaret Stacy, chairman of the board of Morgan county's only bank, was admitted to Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington where her condition later was, listed as satisfactory.

The episode was the latest in a family dispute over control of banking in West Liberty which followed the death of Mrs. Stacy's husband and Sen. Stacy's father, C. K. Stacy, in 1969. C. K. Stacy was president of the Commercial Bank until shortly before his death, when he was succeeded by his son.

According to the testimony of Dr. Charles B. Stacy of Pineville, a brother of C. K. Stacy, Sen. Stacy resigned as president in June 1969 because he was unable to "take over the bank at his price."

Sen. Stacy led a group which applied in 1970 to the state Banking Department for approval of a second bank in West Liberty. That application was denied on Dec. 6, 1971, the last day in office of former Banking Commissioner E. G. Adams, a Republican. Stacy has attributed the denial to "politics."

Sen. Stacy then filed a new application under the current Democratic administration to establish a Bank of the Mountains, of which he would be president.

Sen. Stacy testified Thursday that in 1972 out-of-county lending institutions have made $1.1 million in real-estate loans in Morgan county compared to $508,950 by the Commercial Bank and that bank's loans included $205,000 made to bank directors.

Testimony by Dr. Jack Hopper of Lexington, a Spindletop Research economist, and Calvin Schneider, Lexington, executive director of the Gateway Area Development District, also was presented in support of the application.

The Commercial Bank called Charles Haywood, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Business and Economics, in opposition. Dean Haywood said the economic base of Morgan county is "insufficient to support two banks."

State Banking Commissioner Lenvil Hall said he will rule on the application in about two weeks.

Eagleton To Speak At Morehead State

Morehead, Ky.—U. S. Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo.) will appear Oct. 20 at Morehead State University as part of the Golden Anniversary Celebration, it was announced this week by MSU President Adron Doran.

The Missouri senator is scheduled to address a 2 p.m. convocation at Laughlin Fieldhouse during the homecoming weekend. He will be introduced by Gov. Wendell H. Ford.

"We are honored to have Senator Eagleton visit the campus to help us observe our Golden Anniversary," Dr. Doran said. "He is an outstanding young man whose courage has endeared him to millions of Americans of all ages."

The 43-year-old Eagleton was nominated for Vice President at the Democratic National Convention this summer but he resigned from the ticket soon afterward in the wake of his voluntary disclosure that he had undergone medical treatment.

Higher Retirement For Black Teachers Not Legal, Opinion

Kentucky's Attorney General has advised that retired black teachers can't be paid higher retirement benefits than whites to make up for past inequities in their teacher pay.

The opinion, issued by Assistant Attorney General J. T. Frankenberger, was requested by Charles Whaley for the Kentucky Education Association's Commission on Human Relations. Whaley, staff consultant to the commission, is KEA director of public relations and research.

Whaley said William E. Dixon, vice-chairman of the commission and mathematics teacher at Barret Junior high school in Henderson, had raised the question, noting that retired black teachers had been discriminated against in the past by being paid on lower salary schedules than their white counterparts.

Dixon pointed out that lower salary schedules in the past now result in lower retirement allowances. But he added that separate salary schedules were optional and that "some school districts with few black teachers, and others for moral and sundry reasons, rejected the plan."

In response, Frankenberger said present state law and regulations do not authorize higher payments, even though black teachers admittedly were paid less than whites in the early part of the century. For that reason, he said, there is no fund from which such payments could be made.

Director of Play Opening Sept. 22nd

Howard G. Allen, West Prestonsburg native, founder and director of the N. Y. C. League of Playwrights, announced this week that he is opening a new season Sept. 22 with the play, "You're Immoral, Nelly Lockridge," by Nick Cosentino. The play will be in a month's experimental run and after that, hopeful, shift to Broadway.

Mr. Allen, who has been in television, motion pictures and stage productions for almost 10 years, will direct the play. Mr. Cosentino is a veteran playwright, was a major TV writer in the 1950's and more recently has been engaged mainly in motion pictures.

Art Works Loaned By Floyd Couple For MSU Exhibit

Art works from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. T. Allen Combs, of Langley, have been loaned to Morehead State University to be a part of the exhibit of religious art this month at the Claypool-Young Art Gallery.

These works include "Head of Christ As a Child," by Desiderio Settignana, early 15th century, a sculpture reproduction from the original; a terra cotta bas relief of Durer's "Praying Hands"; a small sculpture by A. Santini, copied from Michelangelo's "Pieta," and an abstract oil painting, "Ascencio," painted by Duna Combs in 1960.

The exhibit was planned in conjunction with Religious Emphasis Week at the university. The official reception will be held Sunday, Sept. 17, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Brown Winner Of Recipe Contest

Winner of the fifth anniversary Weight Watchers' recipe contest in Prestonsburg is Patsy Brown.

Her winning entry is called, "Tomato Cucumber Aspic." She now becomes eligible for the "Weight Watchers Area Bake-Off" to be held during the week of September 17-23 in Lexington.

Runnerup in the contest was Lenora Gearheart, of Prestonsburg.

The recipe contest is only one of many special events planned for that week, W. W. Director Kay Morrissey announced. Highlight in all Weight Watchers classes throughout Kentucky and Southern Indiana will be "Open House Week."

Mrs. Morrissey explained: "Everyone is invited to attend any of our classes that week. September 18 marks the fifth anniversary of the opening of our first class."

Here is the winning recipe:

- 2 envelopes gelatin
- 3 1/2 cups tomato juice
- 3 tablespoons milk vinegar
- dash garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon onion salt
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon dehydrated onion flakes
- artificial sweetener to equal 2 teaspoons sugar
- 3/4 cup chopped cucumber

Sprinkle gelatin over 1/2 cup tomato juice in small cup or bowl. Let stand 5 minutes to soften. Heat remaining 3 cups juice. Add softened gelatin: stir till dissolved. Stir in vinegar, garlic powder, onion salt, salt, pepper, artificial sweetener, dehydrated onion flakes, and cucumber. Turn into 5 cup mold. Chill several hours.

Allen Central High Boosters Organize

Approximately 40 persons attended the first meeting of the Allen Central Athletic Boosters' Club held at 7 p.m. August 31 in the library of the new high school at Eastern.

Among those on hand to greet the "boosters" were Superintendent Charles Clark, Principal David Hensley, Athletic Director Denzil "Hoss" Halbert, Coach Gene Frasure, Assistant Coaches Rondel Prater and Steve Halbert.

Superintendent Clark addressed the group briefly, outlining plans for the present athletic program and presenting plans for the new athletic facilities to be constructed during the coming year.

Reginald Rice was chosen as temporary chairman and presided over the meeting. Officers for the coming year were chosen as follows:

Bud Reynolds, president; Miles Gibson, Jr., vice-president; Glenna H. Cooley, secretary; Renaldo Frasure, treasurer.

Publicity, finance, and liaison committees were established. Chosen to head these committees were Alta Jean Gibson, Reginald Rice, and Dennie Gibson, respectively.

The new president announced that the next meeting is to be held at the school at 7 p.m., September 14 and urged all members to invite interested parents and citizens to attend.

Education Association Executive Committee In Meeting at Martin

The Floyd County Education Association Executive Committee met recently at the Martin grade school cafeteria. Executive committee members present were Virginia Jamerson, Shirley Stewart, Joyce Daniels, Sarah Clay Stephens, Neil Watson and Ralph O'Quinn.

Mr. O'Quinn, association president, discussed a new statewide organization called KEPAC (Kentucky Educators Public Affairs Council), an independent political organization created by Kentucky educators to support education. Mr. O'Quinn explained how KEPAC will operate and its connection with both local and state political races.

The committee discusses the teacher parking difficulty that exists in the city of Martin. More than 20 teachers are parking daily at parking meters on the city streets since no other provisions have been made.

The following appointments were made by the president for the coming year.

Parliamentarian, Edgar Bingham; committee chairmen: Professional Rights and Responsibility, Neil Watson; Teacher Education and Professional Standard, Sherrill Frazier; Professional Negotiation, Shelby Draughn; Program Planning, Sarah Clay Stephens; Legislation, Eugene Blackburn; Membership, Anna Sue Stumbo.

The committee voted to meet on the third Thursday of each month at the Martin school cafeteria.

Loses Food Stamps

A Roxanna, Letcher county food store has been disqualified from the federal food stamp program for violations, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service reports.

Amburgey Grocery, owned by Ted Amburgey, was disqualified from the food stamp program for one year, starting Aug. 24, after being charged with redeeming USDA food coupons accepted in violation of the food stamp regulation.

Food stamps, by law, can be used only to buy food, he added.

Announces Workshop

Supt. of Schools Charles Clark announced this week that a training workshop will be held at 3:10 p.m. Thursday at Prestonsburg high school. The workshop, which will cover computerized grade reporting, will be presented by the Eastern Kentucky Development Corporation (EKEDC), of Ashland.

Slone Named to College Post

Seated around Gene A. Slone (center), newly appointed director of Alumni Affairs at Alice Lloyd College, are two alumni also on the college staff: Philip Handshoe (left), director of admissions, and Mrs. Emma Lois Pigman (second from right), assistant to the comptroller. Two future alumni are ALC Freshman Brenda Newsome (second from left) and Forrest Hughes (right).

Gene A. Slone, 29, lifetime resident of Pippa Passes, has accepted the post of director of Alumni Affairs at Alice Lloyd College, according to an announcement by William S. Hayes, College President.

Mr. Slone worked for nine years as a social worker for the Department of Economic Security Division of Public Assistance in Hindman, and for the ALC Security Department. He is married to the former Ruth Gibson, and they have four children.

The first full-time person in this post, Mr. Slone plans to develop a communications program for the more than 4,500 Alice Lloyd alumni. "There are basically two reasons for this program," he says. "The college wants to learn from alumni how it may best continue its educational service, and how it can best utilize the interest and good will of its alumni. My presence on the college staff is a sign of the high regard the college has of its alumni."

EAST POINT CLUB MEETS

The East Point Area Development Club met Tuesday evening, Sept. 5, at the Masonic Temple. The guest for the evening was Mr. George Chidester, director of Boy Scouts in this area.

Plans were also completed for the preparation of apple butter to be sold, along with that of the co-sponsor, the Paintsville Garden Club, at the Johnson County Apple Festival, October 6 and 7.

Winner of the hand-crocheted afghan, made and donated by Mrs. Sola Blackburn, was Lonnie Burchett.

VISIT AT MARTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Al Klements and children, of Kensington, Maryland, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Allen, of Martin. Mrs. Klements will be remembered as Frances Bralley, formerly of Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Maggard and daughter, of Lexington, visited Mr. Maggard's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Allen of Martin, recently, and attended the outdoor drama, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," at Whitesburg.

Jenny Wiley Group To Continue Work Thru the Season

The Jenny Wiley Drama Association, producer of the area's outdoor musical theatre, has assembled a small professional company to perform through the remainder of the regular season this year.

The company, called "The Jenny Wiley Repertory Company", will open at the Prestonsburg Community College with Neil Simon's "The Star-Spangled Girl," Friday, Sept. 22.

The company is comprised entirely of members of this season's summer theatre. The director-company manager is Jack Wicker, assistant manager of the First National Bank here. He is remembered for his roles as Black Wolf in "Jenny Wiley" and as King Sextimus the Silent in "Once Upon A mattress."

After the comedy, "The Star-Spangled Girl," the Jenny Wiley Repertory Company will produce "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," a musical based on Charles Schultz's comic strip, "Peanuts". This will be staged at May Lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park. Wicker hopes to take both productions on tour during free afternoons and evenings to schools and colleges in the eastern Kentucky area. "Our future depends on our audience response," Mr. Wicker said. "If the response to our first two shows is good, we plan future shows, such as "The Apple Tree," "The Owl and The Pussycat," and "The Boys From Syracuse."

Other members of the Jenny Wiley Repertory Company are Bonnie Stuart, Victoria A. Perry, Stephen A. Hale, and Thomas Cavano.

"The Star-Spangled Girl" will be enacted at the college on Sept. 22, 23, 28, 29, 30, and Oct. 5, 6, 7.
