

Self-Study By Schools Begins Here

Work of Evaluation Involving Teachers In 2-Day Workshop

Floyd county's schools took a long, hard look at themselves through the eyes of their teachers during two days of in-service workshops held here Monday and Tuesday prior to the beginning of classwork for pupils today (Wednesday).

The self-study work precedes next spring's scheduled evaluation of every school in the county by a committee composed of State Department of Education personnel, representatives of various colleges and universities and perhaps a select group of laymen. The evaluation for all schools will hereafter be done every four years, and Floyd county's will be among the first because it requested the service last spring, Woodrow W. Allen, supervisor of instruction, said.

Evaluation every fourth year will be a prerequisite to accreditation. Resource people from the Department of Education were here to acquaint teachers with the criteria used. D. C. Anderson, director of the Division of Supervision, Accreditation and Organization, State Department of Education, was the principal speaker at Monday's workshop.

Also considered by teachers is the computerization of monthly and annual attendance records by the Eastern Kentucky Educational Development Corp., Ashland, which is funded by Title III monies and headed by county school superintendents of the area.

Approximately 9,200 pupils were expected to return to the classroom in this county today. Supt. Charles Clark said.

County Clerk Makes Second Fees Return Of Current Year

County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson this week announced his second return of excess fees for 1972.

His first return of $4,999.97 was made in June. This week, County Clerk Robinson returned $4,432.93, for a 1972 total of $9,432.90. This is the 11th consecutive year that a return of excess fees has been made by the clerk, and during this period more than $125,000 has been returned.

Mr. Robinson has no opposition in his candidacy for re-election this year.

Two Floors Where One Was Expected

Clearing of the lot on which The Floyd County Times building stood before last February's fire began Monday for new construction, and workmen ran into what might be called an archeological situation. When they bulldozed loose one concrete floor, they found a second below. The first floor was poured more than 40 years ago for an auto agency. That building burned, and another floor was added to the original when another structure was erected on the site.

EXPLAINING THE SITUATION

This newsprint situation is not—repeat, is not—funny. It leaves us pretty much in the unenviable situation of a lion-hunter down to his last cartridge, or a politician at a loss for words.

Ralph Parrott, one of our favorite paper salesmen, was by, the other day, and he spent some time recounting the woes of the newsprint industry, what said woes were doing to his nerves and all the rest of us, and so on. It was enough to make a strong man let down his hair and burst into maidenly tears.

But there came blessed relief. Somebody chimed in with the question: "Generally speaking, what would you say the prospects are?"

That did it. Mr. Parrott's eye brightened. He recalled a story.

"Your question reminds me," he recalled, "of the stupid question asked Mrs. Lincoln by a reporter after the unfortunate Ford Theatre incident. He asked the widow, 'everything considered, what did you think of the play?'"

Floyd May Lead Job Of Vote Registration

With the Sept. 24 deadline for voter-registration only a month away, County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson said Monday that this county may be ahead of all other Kentucky counties in preparing for voter reregistration compliance with the new state law.

As of July 31, 11,240 persons had reregistered. The count was not exact this week, but the county clerk estimates that the total now stands at around 13,000. He expects between 18,000 and 19,000 to register before Sept. 24.

"I think," Mr. Robinson said, "that the total registration is going to prove the last census far below the actual number of people living in this county."

County Clerk Robinson delivers, each week, to Frankfort the registration cards filled out by voters. He said five counties have yet to get a registration card into Frankfort.

To speed up registration, the county clerk and members of his office staff have been going into the various precincts, often from door to door.

Beginning this week, the clerk's office will remain open till 6 p.m. for the convenience of persons who wish to register. The clerk also said the bedridden and others who cannot come here to register and who have not yet been reached by office personnel will be called on at their homes if they will make a request for the service.

Robinson said it is important that voters know into whose hands their registration card is placed. "If anybody comes to your home, representing himself as being from the clerk's office, be sure to get the name of that person," he advised.

He said voters should be able to supply their social security number when registering but that this is not mandatory. The post office zip code, however, is a "must," and this has already caused some confusion. It happened in this way:

Some Middle Creek voters' cards were taken into Frankfort. These cards bare the Salyersville zip codes, since the voters mail service is on a Salyersville route—and the computer promptly kicked them out.

County Clerk Robinson pointed out that it is important that the voter's registration card show his or her precinct rather than the mailing address.

Small identification cards are issued each voter-registrant, but the clerk said their possession at the time of voting is not an absolute requirement, if the voter is properly registered.

Although the new voting law has in the reregistration requirement given him and other clerks their toughest job, County Clerk Robinson said he is convinced it will serve a good purpose. But he was not so complimentary in his discussion of the section of the new law which pertains to absentee voting.

This section does not require that a request for an absentee ballot be notarized or submitted to the clerk by mail. "As it stands," he commented, "anybody could bring into this office a bushel of absentee ballot requests, and I would have to accept them."

Council Marks $44,142 Toward Municipal Bldg.

Biggest portion of the $103,109 revenue sharing funds received by the city of Prestonsburg for the current fiscal year was earmarked by the City Council at its meeting last Thursday night for a special sinking fund established to provide Prestonsburg its long-planned municipal building.

The amount set aside last week out of revenue sharing for the city building is $44,142. From earlier revenue sharing funds $30,000 had already been marked for that purpose.

The municipal building, as originally conceived by the late Mayor George P. Archer, would house all city departments on its ground floor and provide offices for rent in its second story.

Funding of the project, for which a site on North Lake Drive (the former Anna

Warrant Hints Officers' Plans Known by Radio

A warrant of arrest issued this week from County Judge Henry Stumbo's office uncovered a practice which may be thwarting efforts of peace officers.

The warrant, issued on an affidavit made by Willie Hall, alleged that Orville Tom Hall, of Branham's Creek, has used equipment which monitors state police radio messages and that bootleggers are being given advance warning of impending raids.

Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo later discussed the use of such equipment with Capt. Billy Lykins, of the Pikeville Post, Kentucky State Police, and Capt. Lykins told him he is aware that such devices are being used in violation of the law.

Capt. Lykins was not explicit as to the steps to be taken but he indicated that corrective measures are being considered.

Hueysville Man Wins Fight for State Aid

Willie Burchett, of Hueysville, last week won his 17-months-long fight for a declaration that he is 65 years old and is entitled to the aid to the aged for which he first applied in March, 1972.

The Appeal Board of the Department of Economic Security had upheld findings made at a hearing which held that Burchett was from three to six years short of the age at which he would be eligible for benefits. But Circuit Judge Hollie Conley last month ruled on a brief filed for Burchett by the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund, holding that prime evidence at hand showed that the petitioner was born Sept. 23, 1906 and was thus eligible for benefits.

Judge Conley directed that the appeal board set aside its order denying benefits and directed it to grant Burchett aid to the aged, retroactive to March 7, last year.

The Appeal Board complied, making March 1, 1972 the effective date for the benefits sought.

In support of his claim to being 65, Burchett submitted a military registration record, dated Oct. 16, 1940, which listed his age as 33 years and the date of his birth as Nov. 23, 1906.

To this was later added a delayed birth certificate issued by the State Registrar,

No Murders Are Listed For Session

Largely because at least four of the slayings that have occurred within the last two years remain in the classification of "unsolved mystery," the Floyd circuit court will not have a murder case on the docket when it follows up the Labor Day holiday with its criminal term.

The court term will begin Tuesday, Sept. 4, with 93 cases booked for trial. Others may be added to the docket through grand jury action in the early days of the session.

Three defendants are slated for trial next month on charges of wounding others, by cutting, striking or shooting. The docket ranges through offenses, in this fashion:

Possession of narcotics, three cases; pollution, one; grand larceny and breaking and entering, 11; robbery and armed assault, four; rape, two; non-feasance-malfeasance, one; local option (dry) law offenses, three; auto theft, one; hit-run and drunk driving, 11; arson, two; robbery, three.

Names and addresses of jurors drawn for service at the coming court term follow:

Billy D. Branham, Prestonsburg; Maggie Prater, West Prestonsburg; Ray Patton, Estill; Elizabeth Howard, Dwayne; Dow Webb, Prestonsburg; Jack DeRossett, Water Gap; Paris Bartley, Prestonsburg; John D. Tufts, Wayland; Audrey Scott, Hi Hat; Julia Akers, Melvin; W. B. Day, Langley; W. B. Boyd,

Lake Littering Costs Pike Man; Drive Continues

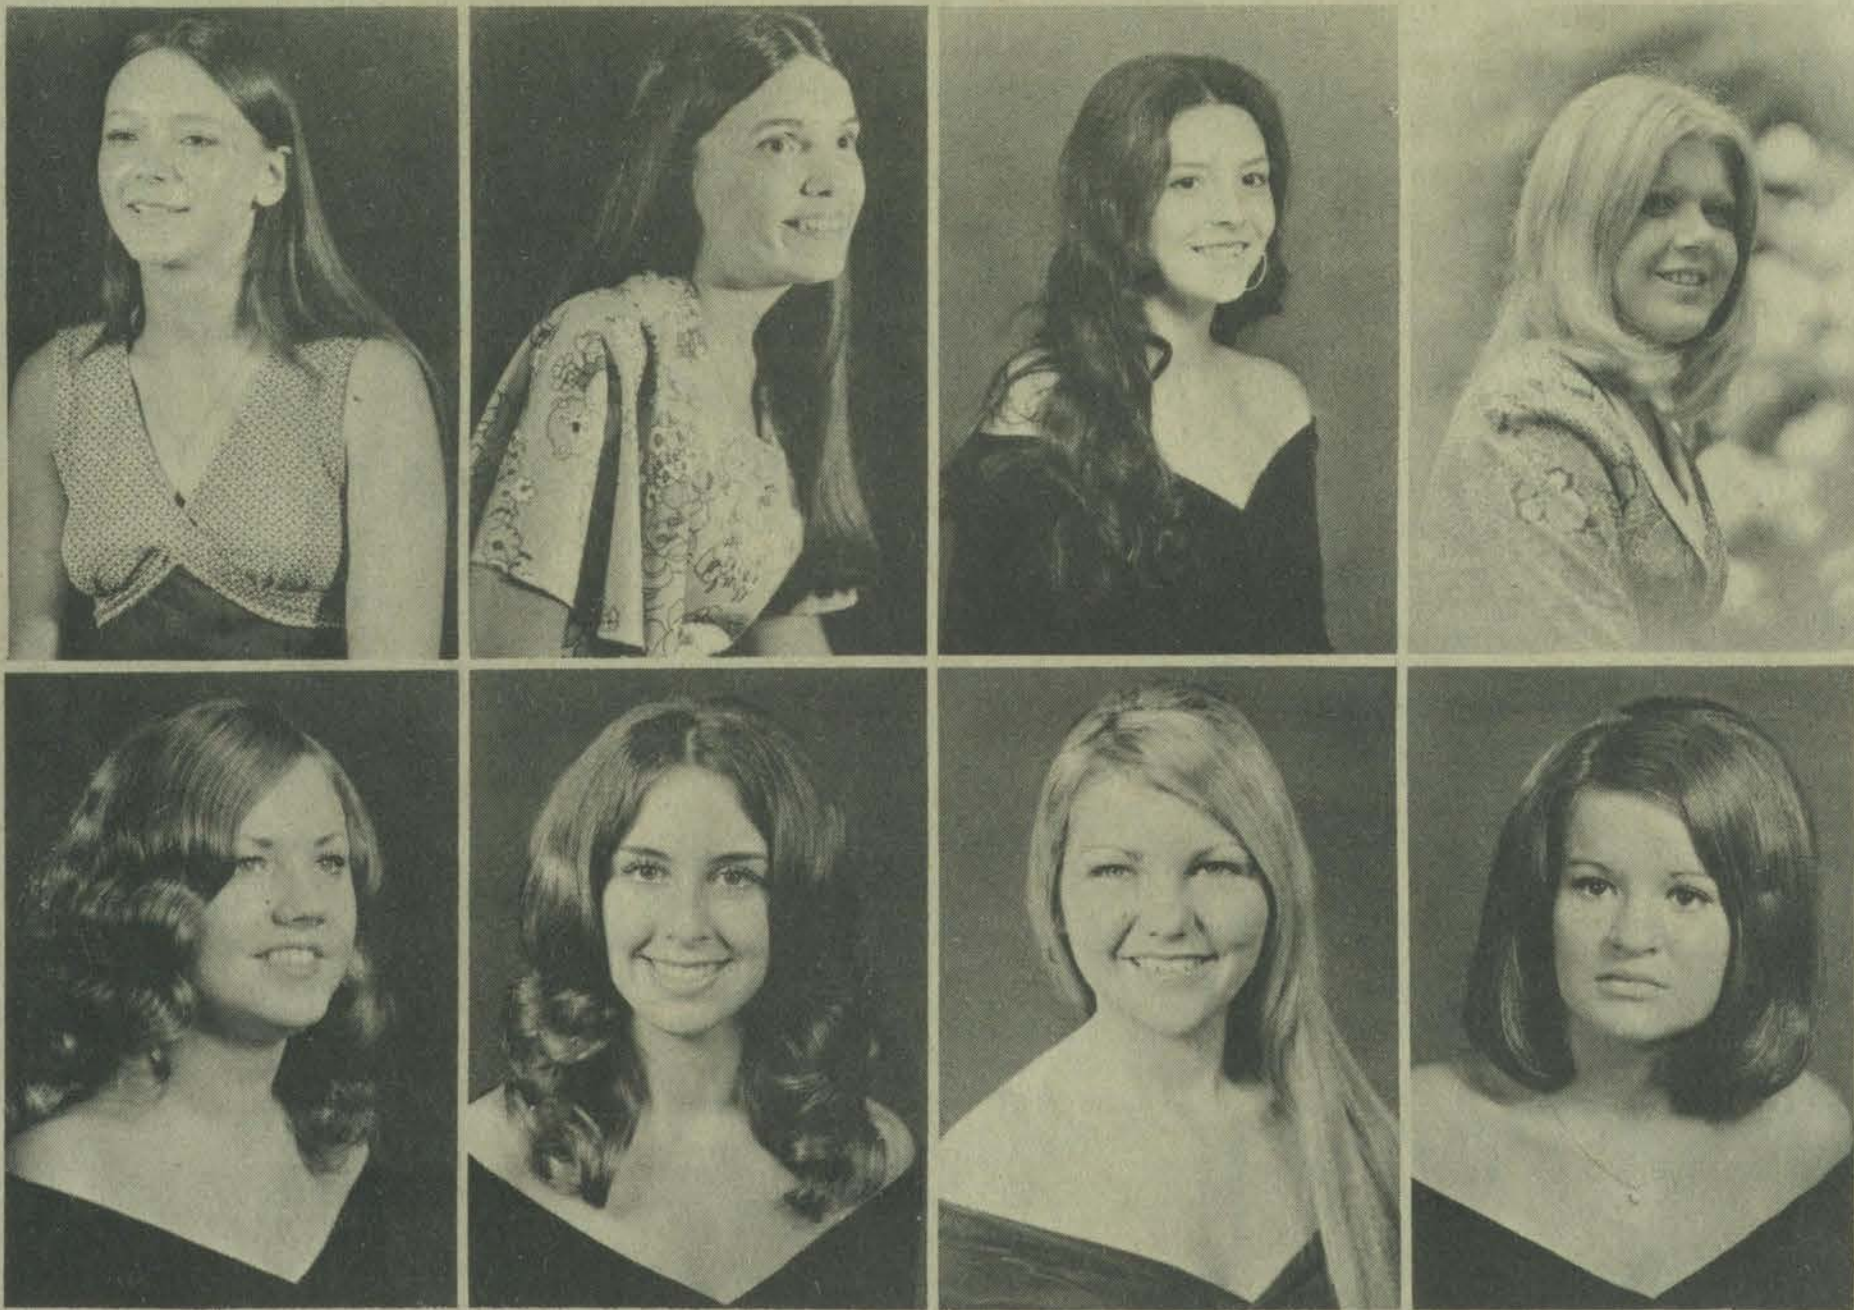

A beer bottle tossed into Dewey Lake will cost a Pike county man a mere $150, plus $14 court costs.

Conservation Officer Dalton Ray Conley arrested Larry Emerson Stratton, of Zebulon, the afternoon of August 4 when he saw him throw a bottle into the lake. The empty beer bottle was recovered, and Stratton executed $200 bond for his appearance in quarterly court last Thursday.

When the defender failed to appear he was given trial in absentia and convicted. Clarence Jackson, Jr., of Louisa, who was cited August 4 by Conley for throwing a bottle into the lake entered a plea of guilty and was fined $29.

The anti-litter drive at the lake was initiated May 1 by conservation officers and park rangers. Conservation Officer Conley said the enforcement work there will continue and that when the county has landfills ready and its solid waste collection program going, dumping along streams and other littering practices will result in arrests and prosecution.

Letters to the Editor

In Appreciation

Editor, The Times:

A big thanks to Mr. Billy Ray Collins for a job well done. With the efforts of many people, past and present, the Archer Park Softball League has grown to be very successful. I couldn't begin to mention everyone who helps out in the many things that have been done to make the men's softball field such a nice place, but I can't think of anyone who has worked any harder than Mr. Collins to make the league successful. He is the commissioner of the league, he umpires, helps prepare the field, manages concessions, and patiently hears any complaint from ball players, fans, etc. I marvel at how he can do all these things and still have a nice smile and friendly welcome for you, any time you see him. I have watched the crowds, and most certainly the interest in the teams really grow through his leadership. Those of us who watched the regional tournament, the 9th through 12th of August, were treated to some top caliber softball. The visiting teams of Ashland, Mt. Sterling, Winchester, White Oak, Paintsville, Sharpsburg, and the winner, Maysville, were really impressed with the playing field and courteous treatment they received from Mr. Collins and his staff of umpires, and all the fans in this area.

Proud of New Hospital

Editor, The Times:

After all these decades of staid and uneventful history, the people of Floyd county and Prestonsburg have something to be proud of and to take pride in, and that is the Highlands Medical Center. It has been humiliating and embarrassing to the people of this area to see Paintsville and Pikeville with first class hospitals while we had only a makeshift. . . The Medical Center has given much consideration to the well-being of patients while hospitalized. Every bed has a personal telephone and an instrument panel for large screen remote television, emergency call and radio. The nurses here perform their professional duties with skill. Not only this, they display that inherent quality all good nurses have, that intuitive psychological understanding of the suffering—sympathy and care. The nurses at University Hospital in Lexington, at Martin, and at the Medical Center have all been good to me. I put nurses in the category of angels of mercy.

I Could Walk on Wheels

(Editor's Note: Jerilleen Ritchie, of Harold, has spent 17 of her 32 years in a wheelchair, and she has a handicapped husband. In her own words, which follow, she adds it all up and decides that all isn't dark—that "my facial muscles were not warped; I could smile.")

Count Your Many Blessings
By JERILLEEN RITCHIE

This is a big, big world we're living in. So are our problems, simply because they're ours. Life wasn't meant, nor promised, to be easy. Please believe me, I should know. I am a physically-handicapped person, with a physically-handicapped husband. Some ten years ago, because of the death of a dear mother, I had to go to live some 300 miles from home, among afflicted people whose world was enclosed by four walls. When my mother became ill, the doctors shared the news of coming-departure with us. For the first time in my life, my concern was for someone other than myself. "God giveth and God taketh away." In my new home at first I was very dissatisfied. Then, I'd always heard that thoughts of others were the road to a peaceful land. So prayer was my next step. It works miracles once, now and always. I did not feel sorry for myself in the nursing home; my neighbors had only a tiny world, I could at least be cheerful for them. I was needed. My facial muscles were not warped; I could smile! I found life not so bad as a handicapped person, I could walk on wheels. That was better than not being able to walk at all. Of course, as always, life surely has its burdens, but the bright spots can be polished thru time, effort and tears to something pretty special!

Red River Gorge Plans Control Of 42,023 Acres of Forest

John E. Alcock, forest supervisor of the Daniel Boone National Forest, has announced that a Draft Environmental Statement and Unit Plan for management of the Red River Gorge unit has been completed and is available for public review. He said the statement and plan present the proposed 10-year management plan for 42,023 acres of national forest land, a portion of which includes the Red River Gorge.

The Red River Gorge Unit is located in parts of Menifee, Powell and Wolfe counties, immediately east of Stanton and approximately 50 miles southeast of Lexington, Kentucky. The area is accessible from Interstate 64 and the Mountain Parkway.

The plan proposes that 25,663 acres of this unit be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as a geological area. Alcock explained that the geological area would include 41 of the most spectacular and interesting arches in the Red River Gorge. The proposed management in the geological area would prohibit the harvest of timber on national forest land. The remaining 16,360 acres outside the geological area would be managed for the full range of multiple-use benefits, including timber management.

Alcock pointed out that there are only 13 geological areas on national forest lands in the United States, all of which total 57,563 acres. In comparison, the Red River Gorge geological area, with 25,663 acres, would be one of the largest areas given this designation. Also by comparison, the Gorge has the largest concentration of arches in the eastern United States. The Forest Service plan calls for a concentrated effort to acquire private land inholdings by friendly negotiation or condemnation, if necessary, to protect the Gorge from adverse development.

The Red River Gorge Unit supports an extremely complex and prolific plant community of hundreds of individual species. The area also supports a variety of forest stands, including mixed groups of white oak, yellow poplar, red oak, chestnut oak, shortleaf and white pines. Many other tree species also occur within these stands.

The proposed Red River Lake, a project of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, is located within the unit. Plans for recreation development, in conjunction with the lake, have been coordinated with the Corps of Engineers. Construction of facilities will be staged over a period of years and will be correlated with the carrying capacity of the area, while providing safe and sanitary conditions. With the exception of boat ramps, trails and existing roads, developments will be away from the Gorge. Alcock pointed out that nearly all of the management decisions being proposed by the Forest Service are needed independently of the proposed lake.

Wildlife management will be directed to maintenance of a broad range of game and nongame species, with special emphasis on viewing and photographing wildlife. Hunting and fishing are permitted in the entire unit under Kentucky laws and regulations, except in developed recreation areas.

Gov. Wendell Ford and commissioners of various state agencies conducted business in Northern Kentucky for two days as part of a program to bring government to the people. To "learn more of people's expectations from government, their complaints and problems," Ford is setting up a Governor's office booth at the State Fair this week in Louisville.

Garrett Wreck Fatal to Slone; Others Injured

A former Garrett man who apparently was on Army leave was killed last Thursday night in the wreck of his auto at West Garrett, and three persons who had been visiting in this county were critically injured last week in a Tennessee highway crash.

Victim in the West Garrett wreck was Pvt. Larry Slone, of Auburn, Ind., who had come to this county to visit relatives. His neck was broken and he suffered massive internal injuries.

Reported critically injured in a middle Tennessee wreck are Mary Frances, Otis and Geraldine Bradshaw, who were driving home after visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Scott, in the Hueysville vicinity.

Kentucky state troopers said the soldier's death apparently was the result of driving at high speed. His car was unable to negotiate a curve. The body was taken to the Merion Funeral Chapel at Martin and later removed to Indiana for burial.

Slone was a son of the late Ambrose J. and Bessie Mullins Slone and was born in the Garrett vicinity. After his parents' deaths he was reared by his grandmother, Mrs. Nannie Slone, of Indiana. Surviving him are two brothers, Denver and Darrell, both of Indiana, his stepmother, Mrs. Bessie Slone Moore, two half-brothers, Jimmy and William Moore, and three half-sisters, Kathy, Wilma and Ethel Slone, all of Garrett.

A six-year-old child was severely hurt and four others suffered lesser hurts in a two-car collision late Saturday afternoon on KY 80, near the Almar Theatre, Allen. The child, six-year-old Amy Mayo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Mayo, of Arkansas Creek, was taken to the McDowell Appalachian Hospital and is reported recovering. Others hurt were Mrs. Glenda Frye, driver of the car in which the child, her niece, was a passenger, her sister, Mrs. Phyllis Gearheart and daughter Kay; Mrs. Frye's daughter, Kristi, and her niece, Debra Frye, and Namon Samons, driver of the second car.

State Trooper Elmo Allen said the wreck apparently took place as Samons was driving on the wrong side of the highway.

Clear Cr. Man Hired To Head Waste Program

Town Newsome, of Clear Creek, will supervise the Floyd county solid waste collection program, once it gets into operation, the fiscal court decided at its Aug. 15 meeting.

Mr. Newsome was employed to supervise the countywide program at a salary of $600 a month, plus expenses. His employment will become effective Sept. 4.

Although details for the program operation have not been worked out completely, County Judge Henry Stumbo said recently he is hopeful that the collection and disposal system can be made effective within 30-60 days.

Three or four landfill sites remain to be approved and leased. The fees charged householders and businesses are yet to be set, and contracts with individuals for collection of wastes and their transport to the landfill sites are yet to be executed.

The court granted the request of William Martin, administrator of the estate of Noah Martin, and Jack Lawson, overseer of the Simp Martin farm, that the old county road leading to the Simp Martin property near Drift, be closed. It was pointed out to the court that there are no dwellings or other buildings on the farm and the road has not been used by the public in the last 20 years. It, on the contrary, the petitioners said, has been used to create a health hazard as some have hauled their garbage over it to a dumping ground.

The court also authorized County Detective Sam Hale to carry a concealed deadly weapon.

Consumer Comments

By ED W. HANCOCK (Attorney General of Kentucky)

It is that time of year again, time to be preparing the home for fall. Consumers should beware of fly-by-night con-artists offering to waterproof basements, seal leaking roofs, or pave driveways at great savings.

Check out the effects of all such procedures before granting individuals the right to do this sort of work. But just as important, check out the individuals. The con-artist may work alone or he may be part of a team.

Use caution when someone offers guaranteed satisfaction, the guarantee may be worthless. Remember a guarantee is only as good as the person behind it. Never pay money in advance, or sign contracts with individuals that you have not checked out thoroughly. If you do happen to advance these persons money, the work may drag on indefinitely. The materials you thought you paid for, may not be paid for at all.

Your home represents a large investment, so it is better to be safe than sorry. The following are some hints to help you save your money and possibly the deterioration of your home:

Make sure you are dealing with a reputable person; Don't let an individual talk you into any unnecessary improvements; Never sign a contract without first getting at least one other estimate; Be cautious about extremely low bids; Remember to get all terms and agreements in writing; Shop carefully; And know the needs of your family and your property.

For answers and suggestions to aid consumer problems, Kentucky residents may call the Attorney General's Consumer Hotline, toll-free, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., EDT, Monday through Friday, at 1-800-372-2960, or write the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, 309 Shelby Street, Room 110, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Stephens property) has already been purchased, has presented problems and they have not gone away. So Mayor Burl Wells Spurlock was authorized by Council to negotiate with George Lee Shannon, architect, on completion of the plans which would provide alternates. One of the plans would embrace the structure as originally conceived; another would provide for only the police and fire departments.

Remainder of the current revenue sharing was allotted as follows:

Street department, $25,000; balance on new fire truck, $15,960; environmental control, $10,000; recreation, $5,000; new police car, $3,000.

Advertising of four proposed street-surfacing projects failed to draw a bid, and the work will be readvertised next week for a Sept. 6 letting.

The council approved the expenditure of $999 toward the purchase of rubberized litter containers, cost of which is to be funded by revenue-sharing money, in cooperation with a cleanup project initiated by the Prestonsburg-Inter-Club Council.

Gold Slone was promoted to the rank of Fire Department captain, and Policeman Tommy Woods was granted a two-year leave of absence to complete law enforcement training at Eastern Kentucky State University. Nobody was hired in his place.

certain bit of hanky-panky was reported from Washington, stopped by, the other day, long enough to give a dissertation, accompanied by a case in point, on what literally sat at the master's feet.

"Now," said he, "you tell something that isn't the truth and tell it so big that everybody knows it's not true, and it's not a lie. For instance, the preacher visited on my street, the other day, and I was warned to be on my good behavior. I was, but I told him I had sent to him, by Snow White, a mess of beans, fresh corn, tomatoes and other edibles. Of course, I had done no such thing, but it wasn't a lie. That preacher knew, to begin with, that I hadn't robbed myself of all that to send to him, and he knew, in the second place, that I wouldn't have trusted Snow White with it in the first place."

HATE HURTS

Not every stripmine operator is a vandal, bent on the destruction of the good and the beautiful. Not every ecologist is a long-haired radical, an enemy of private industry, or a dreamer who can't get down to the realities of life. They are poles apart, and the name-calling resorted to will never get them an inch nearer together. The hate surfaces too often, and that is bad for everybody. One of the "hate slogans" appearing locally, these days, reads:

"The ecologists: May the bastards freeze in the dark."

This is the sort of thinking, or lack of thinking that creates problems rather than solves them.

MORE OF SAME

After reading the weekly fishing report in the daily newspapers, week after week, I have a suggestion for those newspapers: Instead of wasting five lines on Dewey Lake, simply advise: "See last week's report."

Watch for next week's—see if it doesn't read, "Crappie on minnows around submerged cover; bluegill on worms along shallow banks; clear to murky to muddy, stable and 82."

If there's any change, it will be the water temperature.

Floyd County Library Notes

It's Fall and time for outfitting the family in new fall fashions for school. And since clothing prices have raised nearly as much as meat prices, why not try sewing simple clothes for Fall?

The Floyd County Library now has books on sewing displayed in the main lobby of the library.

Beginning seamstresses may choose such books as Hollis' "Successful Sewing" which offers up-to-the-minute instructions and illustrations specifically for the beginner; or Leighton's "Sew Simply, Sew Right," with step-by-step instructions for clothing construction.

Better Homes and Gardens offers a 5 volume "Creative Sewing Library" which includes such topics as pattern adjustment, professional sewing tips, tailoring, and sewing children's clothes. McCalls and Singer also have a good series of books for the beginner.

A large number of books are available for those more advanced in the art of sewing as well as books on other crafts, including embroidery, weaving, quilting, knitting, crocheting, crewel, etc.

So stop by now and check out some of the books on display and begin sewing!

Decorated cakes and green punch were enjoyed by 50 or more. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Edna Carol Greenwade, Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey, Mrs. Dorothy Harris, Mrs. Fanny Rannels, Mrs. Mabel Brown.

Miss Coleman, Mr. Vance Wed

The marriage of Miss Jeanne Claire Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller Coleman, Pikeville, Ky., and Mr. Stuart Edwin Vance, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edwin Vance, Lexington, Ky., was solemnized at Pikeville, on Friday, Aug. 3.

The vows of the double-ring service were exchanged at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Pikeville, with the Rev. Jack Stephens, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Mission at Coal Run, officiating.

The altar was flanked with tree candelabra holding lighted bridal tapers and entwined with smilax. A large standard of white gladioli and greenery were at the back of the altar. The apex of the church and bridal aisle were laid with snowy white crash. White tricorn floor-standards, each holding three lighted bridal tapers and accented with white large satin bows, marked the family pews.

Mrs. Burton Robinson was at the organ to play a program of nuptial music and to accompany the vocalist, South Whitt, who sang: "The More I See You" and "Till," before the ceremony and the Lord's Prayer during the ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore gardenia-white floor-length gown of white crepe maracaine with empire bodice and split mandarin neckline trimmed in venise lace. The long tapered sleeves were banded with matching venise lace. The gathered skirt fell to the floor and into its own sweep train. Her chapel-length veil of filmy illusion was edged in venise lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of red rosebuds, stephanotis and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Jimmie Joe Amick and Mrs. Leslie Tackett, both of Pikeville; Miss Susan Childers of Hazard; Miss Cynthia Kay Harbett and Miss Mary Lee Vance, sister of the bridegroom, both of Lexington and Miss Marla Kay Moore, of Louisville.

Richard Van Hoose and Earl Roop lighted the tapers.

Frank Ramsey, of Pikeville, served as best man. James Robert Vance, brother of the bridegroom, Eddie Venters, Bobby Hurt, Teddy Colley, Roop and Jimmy Blair, all of Pikeville, seated the guests and served as groomsmen.

Mrs. Coleman attended her daughter's wedding in a pale yellow floor-length gown of rayon and linen. The short-sleeved jacket was of matching lace. Mrs. Vance, mother of the bridegroom, wore a floor-length princess-style beige gown of lace, styled with a stand-up collar and long sleeves. Both had corsages of white rosebuds attached to their purses.

Mrs. Masten Childers was the wedding director.

Mr. Vance is a grandson of Mrs. Mary B. Vance and Mr. and Mrs. George C. Billips, all of Martin.

THE FUTURE OF TENURE

New Jersey's Bloomfield College, a 125-year-old private institution, wants to drop 18 professors from its 73-member faculty without giving job preference to those who hold tenure. To accomplish that Bloomfield has decided to abolish tenure, in what is believed to be the first move of its kind at a four-year college.

GIRLS WIN

A federal appeals court has recently ruled girls are entitled to participate in non-contact sports where no comparable girls team is provided. Two Minnesota girls had challenged a state league rule prohibiting them from participating in programs such as cross-country, skiing, and tennis.

AKERS CABLE SYSTEM'S NEW 587-FT. TV TOWER
(WITH 30-FT. DISH ANTENNA)

Three TV Channels for 20 Years . . .

OR

NOW?

If cable systems are franchised, as proposed, on August 22, no provision would be made requiring more than the present three channels.

If franchises are not granted and the TV subscriber is left free to choose the cable service which would bring programs into his or her home, all cable systems will seek to improve their services—and Akers Cable System can give them 12 channels now.

Chester Layne, of Ivel, known to most people here in Eastern Kentucky as the "Friendly Tom's Man," announces that he has sold his Tom's Distributorship to Richmond Tom's Distributor of Richmond, Kentucky.

Chester Layne has provided the people of Floyd, Pike, Knott, Magoffin, Johnson, Martin and Lawrence counties with Tom's peanuts, nabs, potato chips and other candy products for the past 22 years. During this time, he has driven more than 2,000,000 miles and has made more than 200,000 personal friends.

Chester Layne, the "Friendly Tom's Man," says that he has enjoyed his relationships with the friends that he has made and that his friendships are the most rewarding possessions that he has. He also says that he wants to thank each and every one who has bought from him over the years and that the many friendships that he has made will get stronger over the forthcoming years.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the passing of Dr. George P. Archer, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Highlands Regional Medical Center, has grieved and saddened the members of the board and the staff of the hospital and left a void that cannot be filled in the hearts of his patients, and

WHEREAS, his leadership and determination were instrumental in providing a Regional Medical Center which offers modern facilities unsurpassed, and

WHEREAS, his encouragement, leadership, and good deeds will long be missed by this board, the Medical Staff, his fellow townspeople, and the entire citizenry of the region, and

Gets Engineering Degree

CLEMSON, S. C.—Clemson University awarded 510 degrees at summer graduation exercises Aug. 11, and among the graduates was Mabry Everette Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Martin, Wayland, Ky.

Mr. Martin received the bachelor of science degree from the College of Engineering.

The 291 advanced degrees awarded were the largest number ever granted at a single Clemson graduation and marked the first time in Clemson history that more graduate degrees than undergraduate degrees were conferred at a graduation ceremony.

Southern States Names Wells At Annual Membership Meet

Lloyd Wells, of Auxier, and William J. Wills, of Prestonsburg, were elected to the local Advisory Board of the Prestonsburg Farm & Home Store at the Southern States annual membership meeting held in the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria, August 3. More than 100 stockholder-members and their families attended the session.

James R. Shepherd, of West Prestonsburg, was named chairman of the Advisory Board and William J. Wills of Prestonsburg, Ky. was elected secretary.

Elected to the local Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee were Mrs. Jesse Wallen, of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Wes Campbell, of Water Gap. Mrs. Junior Wells, of West Prestonsburg, was chosen as chairman of the Farm Home Advisory Committee and Mrs. Grace Conley, of Bonanza, secretary.

William J. Wills was selected as a delegate to represent the local membership at the Southern States Cooperative's 50th Annual Stockholders Meeting in Richmond, Va., on November 13, 14 and 15. Lloyd Wells, of Auxier, was named alternate.

One of the highlights of the session was the observance of Southern States Cooperative's 50th anniversary year of service to farmer-members. L. L. McClure, Huntington, W. Va., a member of the cooperative's regional staff, presented a color movie, entitled, "The Seed That Really Grew," commemorating the organization's Golden Anniversary. Past members of the local board and the Farm Home Advisory Committee were also honored for their services over the years.

Reporting on the overall Southern States operations for the fiscal year ended June 30, Mr. McClure told the session that volume was over $176 million and that Southern States would pay a 2 percent refund on patrons' purchases for the year.

Another highlight of the meeting was a report on local operations and services by Kenneth Meade, manager of the Prestonsburg Farm & Home Store. He gave the total volume for the agency for the past fiscal year.

New board members received lapel pins. Retiring members were presented the cooperative's Leadership Award in recognition of their service. There was also a ceremony honoring retiring members of the Farm Home Advisory Committee.

Other highlights of the meeting included entertainment by eight local musicians led by Ollie Wallen, with string band music; door prizes and refreshments.

Goble To Receive Certificate as CPA

Joseph P. Jones, Jr., president of the State Board of Accountancy, announced last week that 69 candidates passed the May, 1973 Certified Public Accountant examination, and those having completed the experience requirement will receive certificates at the September 21 dinner meeting of the Kentucky Society of CPA's at Bluegrass Convention Center in Louisville.

Among those successfully completing the examination was Gary L. Goble, of Auxier.

Kentucky was host this week to national leaders in Labor and the area of vehicle driver records. Governmental leaders from throughout the United States attended the two conventions held in Louisville.

Hayes-Christian Vows Said

Emerald palms, an arch entwined with daisies and greenery and arched candelabra holding lighted tapers decorated the altar of the Second Baptist Church, Ashland, Ky., July 28 for the wedding of Miss Nancy Susan Hayes and Stephen L. Christian.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 6:30 p.m. by the Rev. William Vallance. A program of piano and organ selections, including "Theme from Love Story," "Somewhere, My Love" and "The Lord's Prayer," was presented by Mrs. Harriet Payne.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hayes, Jr., of 4917 Williams Ave., Ashland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Christian, of 517 Hunt St., Ashland.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilace over taffeta fashioned with a high ruffled neckline, empire bodice accented with white satin ribbon and long bishop sleeves extending into wide cuffs edged with self ruffles. The princess skirt was enhanced with a deep ruffle at the hemline. Her chapel length mantilla of silk illusion was attached to a puffed cap accented with lace rosettes and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and ivy tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Lindsey Cossett, Jr. was matron of honor in a formal gown of orchid bonded lace, styled with a scooped neckline and short bell sleeves. The softly gathered skirt featured a satin ribbon at the empire waistline.

Miss Cathy Franz of Flatwoods, Misses Lynn and Becky Hayes, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids in gowns of green, blue and pink fashioned identical to that of the honor attendant and carried long-stemmed white roses.

Bobby Clay served Mr. Christian as best man and the ushers were Joe, Tim and Dick Christian, brothers of the bridegroom.

Other members of the wedding party were Miss Becky Caudill, flower girl, and David Hagans, of Martin, cousin of the bride, ringbearer. The bride and bridegroom's sisters, Miss Sandy Hayes and Miss Janice Christian, were taper lighters in gowns of yellow flockd dotted swiss and headdresses of baby's breath.

Assisting at the reception in the social room of the church following the ceremony were Mrs. Tom Scalf, Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Lyndon Langley, Pittsburgh, Pa., aunts of the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Lawrence Wallace, Mrs. J. D. Baer, Mrs. Charles Daniels, Jr., Mrs. Jim Jordan and Miss Nanette Webb. The guests were registered by Miss Kathy Wilson.

Mrs. Hayes, mother of the bride, received guests in a pink floral dress worn with a short-sleeved, white jacket, black patent accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink polyester knit dress, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Paul Blazer High School and King's Daughters' Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Christian is also a graduate of Paul Blazer High and Ashland Area Vocational School and served a tour of duty with the United States Army. He is now employed by Armco Steel Corporation.

Following a wedding trip through Kentucky and Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. Christian are residing at 1703 1/2 Harlan St., Ashland.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hagans, Mr. Alan Hagans and Lynda, of Martin; Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Langley and Mary Lynn, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wheeler and Susan, Mrs. Larry Wheeler, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Scalf, Kevin and Lisa, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Marie Stelbasky, Mr. and Mrs. William Tipkemper of Cincinnati, O.; Larry See, of Louisa; Mrs. E. D. Cornwell, Mitchie and Doralyn, of Catlettsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Christian and Michael, of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hall and Suzanne, of Flatwoods; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Oziomek, Akron, O., and Mrs. Judy Blevins, Dayton, O.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hagans, of Martin, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Marion (Bud) Hayes, Sr., of Langley.

TEACHER STRIKES, NEAR-RECORD

As quoted in the "Wall Street Journal," a preliminary report by NEA shows there were 145 teacher strikes in the 1972-73 school year. This was a 63 percent increase over the 1971-72 year, which had 89 strikes. NEA affiliates called 112 of the strikes this past year, while the AFT called 23. The remaining 10 strikes were in New York State, where NEA and AFT units are merged. NEA said more than 75,000 persons and 1.1 million man-days were involved in the strikes. Pennsylvania had the most teacher strikes with 34. Illinois was second with 19 strikes.

ASK CLEMENCY

The executions of fines and jail sentences of teacher union officials in St. Louis has been delayed to give attorneys time to ask the judge for clemency. After the union ignored a temporary injunction halting a 23 day teachers strike, fines of $140,000 were assessed along with a 60 day sentence on criminal contempt charges for the local teacher association president.

The proportion of U.S. high school graduates going on to college soon after graduation has dropped sharply since the peak of 55 percent in 1968, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

SERVE TERMS FOR STRIKE
 Eleven Freehold, New Jersey teachers cited for violating a 1972 no-strike order have surrendered to authorities to begin serving 30 to 60 day jail terms. A move to keep them from going behind bars failed when a Federal Appeals Court in Philadelphia failed to stay their sentences.

The proportions of Negro and white graduates from high schools who enrolled in college were approximately equal for the first time in October, 1972—48 percent for black graduates and 49 percent for white graduates, according to the U. S. Department of Labor.

What Must I Do To Be Saved?

The New Testament makes it decidedly plain that there is something that man must do. "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven" (Jesus Christ—Matt. 7:21).

1. The first step, hearing. Man must hear God's word. Refusal or neglect to hear—in other words, willful ignorance—will not constitute a sufficient excuse. "Faith cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

2. The second step, faith in Jesus Christ with the whole heart. That is to say, sincere belief of God's word. "Without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him; for he that cometh to God must believe that he is and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him" (Heb. 11:6). Faith is not a mysterious and impossible thing. It is simply the whole-hearted belief of testimony. This testimony that Jesus is the Christ is given in the New Testament, God's word.

3. The third step, repentance of sin against Christ. One might be sorry for and repent of wrong against some one else, and yet go on refusing to treat Christ right. "The Times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now He commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent" (Acts 17:30). Repentance is not an impossible thing to any man. It simply means to make up the mind to quit rejecting Christ the Saviour, and to accept and acknowledge Him whole-heartedly and sincerely. This you can do now.

4. The fourth step, confession of faith in Christ with the mouth before men. See Rom. 10:10 and Matt. 10:32.

5. The fifth step, burial with Christ by baptism or baptism into Christ. See Rom. 6:3, 4; Col. 2:12. "As many as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (Gal. 3:27). "There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus" (Rom. 8:1). "Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38).

6. Sixth step, living the Christian life. The New Testament has one book to tell how to become a Christian, and twenty-one books of instruction on living the Christian life. Romans 12 and 2 Pet. 1:5-11 are perhaps the best examples of this instruction. "In your faith add virtue and knowledge and self-control and patience and godliness and brotherly kindness and love" (2 Pet. 1:5-7). "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life" (Rev. 2:10).

Pike Native, 105, Says She Rode Covered Wagons, Prefers Jets

Mrs. Sarah Chapman Blackburn, whose life has spanned the era of the covered wagon and the jet age, was in Newport, Ky., last week from Hollywood for the celebration of her 105th birthday. And the native of Pike county said she didn't feel old.

"Let me tell you, honey, I ain't no dead person," she said. "I'm alive."

Mrs. Blackburn was born in Pike county in 1868. Although she said she can remember riding in covered wagons, she added that she prefers riding jumbo jets, on which she is a frequent passenger.

To reach her birthday party at her daughter's home in Newport last Wednesday, Mrs. Blackburn had to come from her home in Hollywood, Calif.

When she arrived in Kentucky, she became short of breath which required a short hospital stay, but she expects to be "up and going any day now."

"I never give up. I get up in the morning and go, go, go," she said. "I just love to travel, go places and see things."

She said her trip to Northern Kentucky was her seventh on a jumbo jet. "They all know me," she laughed. "They even gave me a birthday party on the plane, complete with champagne and cake."

Mrs. Ruth Griffith, of Newport, Mrs. Blackburn's eldest daughter, was the birthday hostess. Mrs. Blackburn has had 14 children, six of whom are still living.

Despite her deep roots in the steep hillsides of Kentucky, Mrs. Blackburn said she gets intense pleasure from hobnobbing with the Hollywood stars she sees daily near her home.

"That's a show in itself, honey," she said. "I just sit in my yard and watch the stars come and go at the studio."

Mrs. Blackburn pleaded that she did not want ever to be an old-fuddy-duddy. "I'm alive and goin'," she said. "Everything has been first class. I've had a good time."
