90% HUD Funds Seen for Work, Officials Told

Discussion of plans for a Prestonsburg-Pointsville regional water system were continued last Thursday evening at a meeting of Prestonsburg water system officials with Howard K. Bell, Engineers, Lexington, and Joe McCauley, executive director of the Big Sandy Area Development District.

The system, it was said, holds "high priority" for a 90 per cent Housing and Urban Development (HUD) grant. The proposed hookup if the two systems would involve the expenditure of an estimated $2,000,000.

The regional system would leave the Paintsville and Prestonsburg water systems operating as separate units, as at present, but would provide insurance against a water shortage in either, it was pointed out. Only a valve would separate the two, and this could be opened to provide help for either from the other system at any time of water shortage.

Prestonsburg water now goes in Auxier Water Company lines as far as the new Porter school, north of the Combs Airport at Blockhouse Bottom. Paintsville water extends in the direction of Prestonsburg as far as the American Standard area. Union of the two systems would possibly be made in the vicinity of those two points without interfering with the Auxier system.

Capacity of the plant for the system would be 3 million gallons a day, and the system would serve areas along the route of the mains. Salyersville and Allen could be included in the hookup, if interested, it was said.

Bell Engineers made the preliminary study for the project two years ago.

Bill Harvey Howard, superintendent of the Prestonsburg Water & Gas System, said this week that preliminary engineering work has been completed for a new gas system in West Prestonsburg and that it is hoped bids can be asked on the work within the next two months. The project will cost an estimated $50,000. Gas lines in West Prestonsburg are about 40 years old, and the line loss of gas there is heavy.

Eventually, M.R. Howard said, (See Story No. 2, Page 2)

Among those arrested during the past week were three coal truck operators, charged with overweight loads by state Department of Transportation Division of Weights and Measures officers. Cited October 9, they include:

This Town . . . That World

Unless I am misinformed, we have no time change coming up. This should materially reduce the chance that I may mess up the deal again.

I do not think the man was being irreverent, although he was guilty of a pun, when he said:

"If it had not happened before the Fall, I would almost swear that when the Creator looked on his handiwork and saw that it was good, it was on a clear, bright-blue day in October."

That was a few days ago, before a cold, dreary rain seemed to be trying to wash the color from the leaves.

SO WELL REMEMBERED

"You can't go back," they tell us who hone for the old scenes and familiar faces of years ago. But Cleo Akers says this fellow from over in a nearby county was finding everything falling in place right well on this trip back to the county of his birthplace which he hadn't visited in 30 years.

He and his buddy were bowling along in his truck. They had consulted the bottle, two or three times, and the countryside seemed to be smiling on them. Pedestrians would step from the road and gesture. Approaching motorists honked. So did vehicles as they passed.

"Strange that so many know me after all these years," the driver commented. Then his buddy spoke. "You, my friend, are drivin' smack in the middle of the road, and here comes another car behind you, and this old friend will remember you, too. Only he's a state trooper."

A MATTER OF ECONOMICS

The rare sight of a mule on a Floyd county farm these days recalls the fix the owner of such an animal was in, some years back. Plowing the mule, he had raised enough corn to winter the critter, but no more. And he had other uses for corn. Sadly he reviewed the situation and (See Story No. 1, Page 2)

Kroger Employees on Strike, Gas Workers' Pact Near End

Prestonsburg's Kroger store was closed Monday as the company's employees here and at 52 other stores in Eastern Kentucky and parts of Ohio and West Virginia were on strike for higher wages and increased benefits.

The one-year wage contract expired Saturday midnight, and negotiations between union representatives and management broke down last Thursday.

George May, spokesman for Local Union 347, AFL-CIO, which represents the Kroger workers here, said the employees are concerned mainly with what he termed pay differences between this, the Charleston, division and other divisions. He said pay is lower in this division than in other areas. He added that this is the first strike involving Local 347 since its organization in 1943.

Meanwhile, negotiations between union representatives of employees of

Floyd Solid Waste Program To Open First Landfill, Oct. 21

Floyd county's solid waste program will become partially effective Oct. 21 when the first landfill established by the county will be opened on Turkey Creek, near Maytown.

Date of the opening was set Friday by the fiscal court in a special meeting at which rates for dumping were set to be effective until a countywide program can be developed.

The charge for dumping waste hauled to the site will be 50 cents per load for pickup trucks and $1.50 for dumptrucks. Scales may be installed later at the landfill for the weighing of loads, County Judge Henry Stumbo said.

The landfill will be open till 4:30 p.m. daily, it was indicated. Judge Stumbo said the county is preparing to erect a caretaker's building at the landfill site. A chain across the entrance will protect the site from after-hours dumping.

"We expect everybody who can get to the landfill to dump their wastes there and to end the use of unauthorized dumps," Judge Stumbo said.

Ready to receive the first loads of waste materials is a trench 80 feet long by 12 feet wide and 7 feet deep. County machinery is at the site to compact materials dumped, cover the refuse left there and keep the landfill in good condition.

Judge Stumbo indicated that the fiscal court hopes to prove by the operation of this first landfill that such a solid waste location is not a mere "dump" and that it (See Story No. 5, Page 2)

Workman Trial At Coming Term Not a Certainty

Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo said Tuesday that ability of the state to bring to trial Bobby Workman on a charge of murder in the slaying of James Chaffins at the November circuit court term here will depend upon the success of the extradition action he expects to take shortly to return Workman from Ypsilanti, Mich. to this county.

He said Workman's attorney has indicated he will fight extradition.

To Stumbo's request that Workman come to Frankfort for a polygraph (lie detector) test by a State Police expert, the accused man's attorney replied that Workman had already taken a test administered by the Marcy Consulting Service, Dearborn, Mich., and that it showed Workman had no knowledge of the crime. As an alternative to Workman's coming to Frankfort, the attorney suggested that Kentucky State Police send a polygraph expert to Michigan, at Workman's expense, for the test.

Stumbo said such an arrangement "is impossible," that the State Police will not send a representative to Michigan. Besides, he said, he has offered Workman immunity from arrest if he will make the trip to Frankfort for the test, and will permit him to return to Michigan and go through the regular extradition process.

Workman, who was indicted in the five-year-old case by the September grand jury, has not been arrested.

Loss of Guard Unit Said a Possibility

There is a definite possibility that Floyd county may lose the Kentucky National Guard installation planned for the Prestonsburg area because no site has been made available for the building, The Times learned this week.

Originally, General Frymire, commander of the Kentucky Guard, asked a site of 10 acres. This has been reduced to five acres, and still no site has been found.

The report received here says that a strong effort to locate the Guard unit in Johnson county is also possible.

Murder Case To Open Circuit Court Term

The first day of the November criminal term of circuit court will be marked by a trial growing out of one of Eastern Kentucky's most sensational murder cases.

The case of Robert Sykes, one of four men accused of the Pike county murder of Mrs. Boone Deskins, has been transferred to the Floyd court for trial, and the date has been set for court-opening day, Nov. 11.

Three of Sykes' alleged accomplices in the slaying of the woman have been convicted in Pike circuit court trials. Her husband is now serving a 21-year pen term.

The Floyd court has been plagued by continuances after cases have been docketed, and so Circuit Judge Hollie Conley has deviated from his regular procedure for the coming session. He has announced that he will have the entire docket called on the first day of the session, then set specific dates for trial in only those cases that are ready for hearing.

It is possible that the only other murder case to be heard here during the term is that of Bobby Workman, who is accused of the slaying on Arkansas Creek five years ago of James M. Chaffins.

While a Pike county case is being transferred here for trial, the murder indictments against Eddie Jones and John Martin in the separate slayings of Lawrence Conley at Garrett and James Clayton Conley, near Wayland, have been venue to the Pike circuit for trial. The September grand jury voted indictments against Jones, his father, Agnel Jones, and Martin. The new indictment against the Joneses has not been venue to Pike county. Circuit Judge Conley has disqualified himself for the trial if it is held here and has certified the case for a special judge.

Two other Floyd murder defendants, James and Otis Gibson, who are under indictment for the shotgun slaying of James Ollie Conley, has also been shifted on change of venue to the Magoffin circuit court for trial. Date of the hearing has not been set.

Sixty-three Floyd countians are listed for jury service at the November term of court. Their names and addresses are: Otis Johnson, Bevinsville; Rainley Boyd, Wheelwright; Adrian Blackburn, Prestonsburg; William Newsome, Jr., Grethel; Grimm Hall, Printer; Ike Woods, Emma; Tom G. Dingus, Prestonsburg; Ezra Mitchell, Hite; Dave Roop, Weeksbury; Franklin Honeycutt, Auxier; Paul Epling, Stanville; Bill Arnold Spradlin, Prestonsburg; Scott

Troopers Seize Two Suspects In Bank Cases

An attempt to force their way into the Hindman home of W. R. Smith, chairman of the board of the Bank of Hindman, and the subsequent holding of two of the Smiths' neighbors as hostages resulted Monday in the arrest of two men sought as robbers of banks at Sandy Hook and Salt Lick.

The two were arrested near the top of Pine Mountain by Kentucky state troopers after a wild chase from Hindman through Whitesburg, with helicopters being used to guide police cruisers. Held in jail at Hazard are Clifford Hall, of Whitesburg, and James Herbert Fultz, of Morehead.

The two men had inquired in downtown Hindman of the location of the Smith residence. Mrs. Marie Webb Smith, wife of the banker, was alone when one of the two men rang the doorbell. When she opened the door, he asked her if Bill Smith lived there, drew a revolver and with his left hand beckoned his waiting accomplice to join him.

Mrs. Smith slammed the door shut and it automatically locked. The frustrated visitor—it was not learned here which of the two first approached the home—fired three shots through the door as Mrs. Smith ran to lock doors at the rear of the house. Then a shot which may have been from a shotgun was fired through a bedroom window.

The two men then raced to the nearby home of Brode Duke, there forced Duke and his sister-in-law, Oma Smith, into (See Story No. 3, Page 2)

Szedon Thought Holdup Victim

James E. Goble, of The Times staff, and Mrs. Goble left Sunday afternoon for Jessup, Md., after having been notified that their son-in-law, Henry Szedon, 27, had been found shot to death there.

Presumably, Mr. Szedon was a holdup victim. He was employed at the new Holiday Inn there, and had extended his work-shift from midnight Saturday on to 6 a.m. Sunday in order to get time for a visit to his father who is seriously ill at Eighty Four, Pennsylvania. His body was found at about 6 a.m. with a bullet wound in his chest.

An investigation of the slaying disclosed that $163 had been taken from a cash drawer.

Mr. Szedon was a talented musician and while in military service was a member of the Army band. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lynn Goble Szedon, Jessup, Md.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Szedon, of Eighty Four, Pa., and one sister, Miss Andrea Szedon, at home.

The body was taken Tuesday to the Kennedy Funeral Home, Finleyville, Pa., where funeral rites will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday). Burial will be made in Monongahela Memorial Cemetery, Monongahela, Pa.

reached a decision. He announced it to the mule, by way of parting.

"The still is rustin' apart, it's been so long unused," he explained. "I'm gonna sell ye or give ye away. That cawn is with more to me in a jug than it is in you."

This fellow was complaining and an acquaintance asked him if he had tried the remedy prescribed, once upon a time, by the late Kendall Martin: Old Doc Pilgrim's Rascal Ball Remover.

NOOSEPAPER WEEK

We have been so busy with a newspaper that we simply let Newspaper Week get past us. My main observation of the annual call to all good citizens to remember that there are newspapers and to stop cussin' them for just seven days, pul-lease, was to swap tears, laments and the like with fellow-sufferer Bud Perry, of the Paintsville Herald. We are in rival towns, our politics vary somewhat and we may disagree on other matters. But we wound up harmonizing: "Who dropped us on our heads when we were young and left us so addled we staggered into this?"

offers no offensive characteristics.

Because of this "dump concept," the court has been months in getting a landfill established. "People don't want to sell or lease sites and many think a landfill would be a litter such as they have seen at these hilltop and roadside dumps," Stumbo said.

No other sites are now available, but the court continues to seek three more. When the landfill service is established countywide, a system of collection will be formed and rates established for homes, businesses, schools and others.

The Turkey Creek landfill has been approved by the fiscal court for opening Oct. 21, but the court still awaits its approval from state agencies which have had test results, soil samples and the like in their possession between two and three months, Judge Stumbo said.

"They haven't approved the site, but anything is better than the dumping everywhere, any time that has been going on in the county so long," he added.

Smith's car, and they drove away, leaving their own auto behind. Meanwhile, Mrs. Smith got word to the Knott county sheriff of the break-in attempt and the abduction of her neighbors.

The break-in attempt was made shortly after 11 a.m., and it occurred only a few minutes after Mr. Smith had gone to the bank which was closed for the Columbus Day holiday.

Ivan Childers, a business associate of Mr. Smith, expressed the belief that the men went to the residence, knowing of the holiday and with the plan to force Smith to go to the bank and open the safe on the threat of death to both him and his wife.

At the top of Pine Mountain the fugitives turned onto the Little Shepherd Trail, a narrow dead-end road. State troopers, apprised of the route the car had taken, blocked the entrance. Hemmed in, the two men put Mrs. Smith from the car, then drove back to the main highway and smashed into a police cruiser, badly wrecking the Duke auto and the cruiser. The heavily armed pair surrendered without further resistance. End of the chase came about four hours after it began.

Neither of the hostages was injured. Ironically, the accused robbers auto which they abandoned outside the Smith residence contained, in addition to a supply of whiskey and beer, $620 in $20 bills.

replacement of all gas lines in Prestonsburg will be made. This, at current estimates, would cost $500,000.

At last week's meeting of the Water and Gas Commission Bell Engineers were directed to proceed with final plans for upgrading the water system here to give the plant a filtering capacity of 2 million gallons a day and a plant capacity of 1 1/2 million gallons.

This can be done, Howard said he has been assured, for about $70,000 through use of a new filter and with the system's own employees doing the work. The new filter which would double the filtering capacity is a mixed media (anthracite coal) filter. The change would be made from the present rapid sand filters.

To bring the Prestonsburg system to a 2-million-gallon-per-day capacity, larger piping, another 100,000-gallon clear well, a larger quick-mix, plus a larger raw water intake and high-lift pump, would be required, Howard said.

The secondary sewage treatment plant now under construction here will be 50 per cent complete by December, and when completed it will increase the per capita capacity of the sewage system for 6,000 to 12,000. This increased capacity looks toward future sewer service to the Bull Creek, Auxier and Middle Creek areas, it was said.

Rescue Squad Works Two Hours To Free Pinned Truckdriver

Members of the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad worked for two hours last Wednesday morning in an effort to free Robert Hunley, 30, of Salyersville, from the cab of a coal truck after Hunley apparently lost control of the vehicle which ran over an embankment on the David Road.

A rescue squad spokesman reported that a break in the road near the accident scene, or foggy conditions that morning, may have caused the mishap.

The truck rolled onto the driver's side, pinning Hunley's foot under the door, and squad members found it necessary to place jacks under the cab before Hunley could be removed. Rescue efforts began at 7:30 a.m. and Hunley was taken from the scene to Highlands Regional Medical Center about two hours later. Hunley was released Monday after being hospitalized for a bone fracture and cuts and bruises.

To The Voters In Educational District No. 2 Which Includes The Following Precincts: (New) Allen-Dwale, Arkansas, Cow Creek, Drift, Halbert, Martin, Maytown, (Old Allen) Mouth of Beaver, and Prater Creek.

GENE D. DAVIS

Do You Really Care About The Education of Your Children, Future Children, and Grandchildren? Think About This Question!

The private and personal decision that you make when you go behind the curtain of your voting machine November 5, 1974, could be one of the most important decisions that you will ever make concerning our children's education for the future. Your right to vote a secret ballot on the voting machine is one of the most important freedoms that we have left in our country today.

I make this final appeal to all the voters in Educational District No. 2 and ask for your support as School Board Member because I am truly interested in serving you and our children.

I have had experience as a teacher at Betsy Layne High School and Lebanon High School, Lebanon, Ohio. I was Assistant Principal at Prestonsburg Grade School and Prestonsburg High School and served as Athletic Director. I was Principal at the following schools: Harold Grade School, Pikeville High School and Betsy Layne High School and Grade School.

I think Floyd County Needs an Educator on the Board of Education to serve as the people's representative. I am completely for any new buildings that we can afford to build but I say to you that the most important thing in education is the teacher in the classroom. Our children only get one chance to go through grade school and high school and if they do not get the proper training in the classroom their future will not be very bright for them.

I believe that if a man or woman wants to be a candidate for school board member that he or she should run their own race and not have to depend on our county and state officials and local school personnel to carry the load for him. So I make this promise to all teachers, principals, maintenance workers, central office personnel, janitors, cooks, and any other employee of the Floyd County School System that if I am elected to the Board of Education you will never be asked to work for me in an election. I respect your positions of work and think it is a disgrace to you to be asked to work in school board elections.

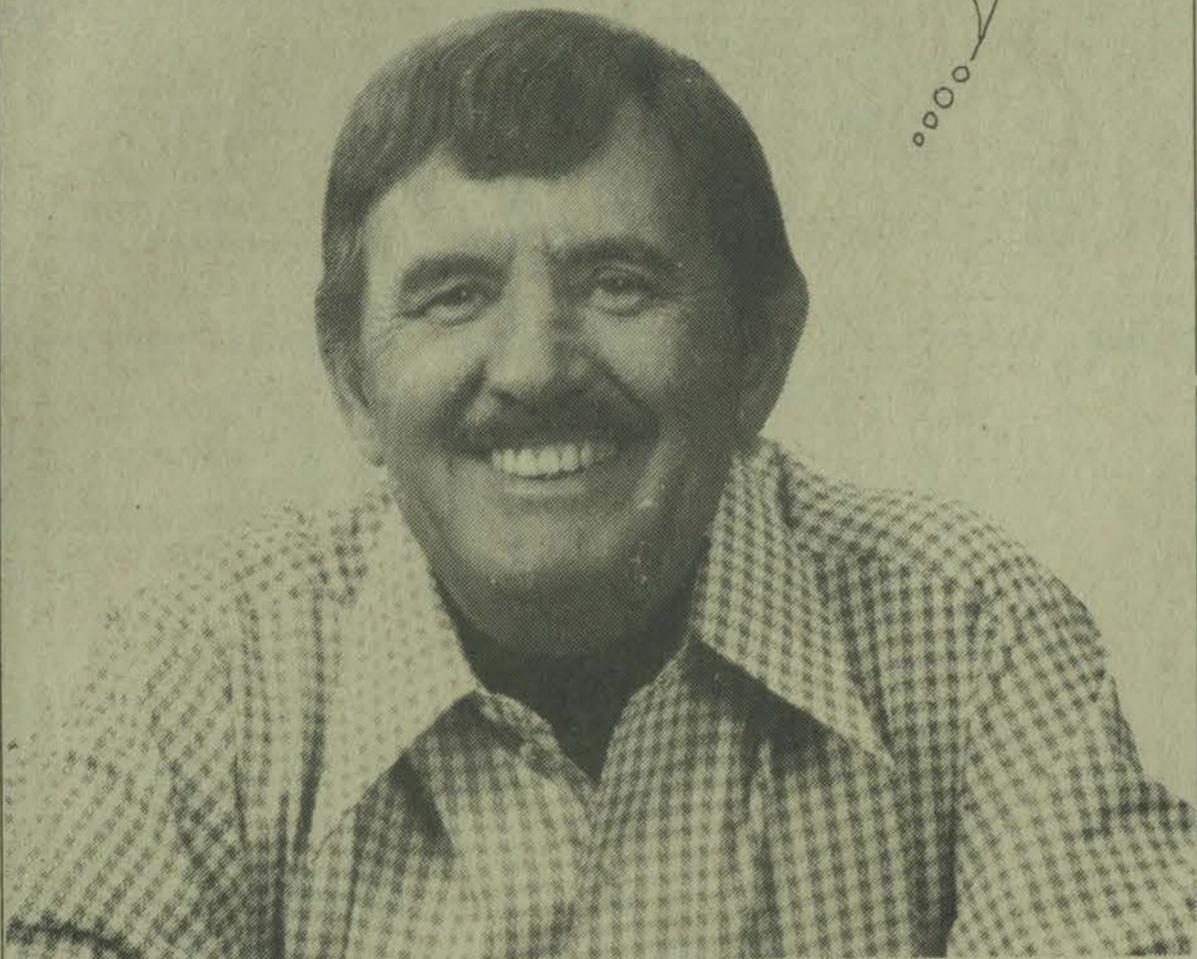

School board elections are supposed to be non-partisan so I welcome Democrats, Republicans, Independents, and any other qualified voter that is interested in education in Floyd County.

My wife and I have three children and two of them are presently in school and the third child will be in school in two more years. I am not seeking revenge toward anyone and I promise you that I will be my own man on all matters of decision making as your school board member. I will attend your P. T. A. meetings and listen to the problems that each school has and take your recommendations back to the superintendent and other board members.

I believe that I can win this election if all my friends and neighbors will pitch in and help me in this effort because I realize that I cannot do it alone. So if you know me, I ask for your help in this important matter. I have always taken pride in my work and you may feel free to check on my personal background.

The question that you as a voter need to ask yourself is who is the best qualified of the three candidates running for school board member in Educational District No. 2? This is serious business where honesty plays an important part in a five million ($5,000,000.00) dollar taxpayer supported budget. This is your tax money voters! Support me as your school board member and I will see to it that the job is done right.

Ford Says Cook Does Not Listen To Constituents

Governor Wendell H. Ford charged in a campaign appearance here last Saturday afternoon that his Republican opponent for U. S. Senator, Marlow Cook, has paid no attention to the people of Kentucky since he was elected five years ago.

The Democratic rally, which also featured talks by Ex-Governor Bert T. Combs, Lieut.-Gov. Julian Carroll and 20-year-old Chris Perkins, who was standing in for his father, Congressman Carl D. Perkins, was attended by a gathering which filled the circuit courtroom.

Here, he was in heavily Democratic territory. Earlier in the day, Ford had made a campaign stop in Barbourville where the political sentiment is the opposite of Floyd's.

One of the governor's statements which drew heavy applause was his announcement that construction of the bridge across the Big Sandy at Banner will be advertised for bids soon, with construction work scheduled to begin in December.

The governor accused Senator Cook of voting against tax relief and of voting for increasing the federal debt. "He stood up for the big corporations and fell down on the people of Kentucky," Ford said of Cook.

Ford said he favors a tax cut for those on pensions and persons in the low and middle-income brackets. "We've been talking about this a long time but it's the lowest priority in this (the federal) administration.

(Speakers had to take care to differentiate between the Ford administration in Washington and the administration of the same name in Kentucky.)

The Democratic candidate asked, "When are you going to tell Washington that there's too much favoritism with the multi-national corporations, the huge oil companies and privileged few? It's time to stop being the sugar daddy for all the big corporations and rich countries."

Lieut. Gov. Carroll and Ex-Gov. Combs joined in the attack on the Republican incumbent, and young Perkins urged a vote for the straight Democratic ticket.

Introductions of speakers were made by County Judge Henry Stumbo, Circuit Judge Hollie Conley and Barkley J. Sturgill.

Floyd Countian Wins 2nd Annual Boots Randolph Golf Tourney

Birchell Duff, right, accepts the first place trophy from saxophonist-entertainer Boots Randolph after winning the second annual Boots Randolph Invitational Golf Tournament, Oct. 4-6, at Lake Barkley State Resort Park, near Cadiz. Duff, an amateur golfer and resident of Garrett, shot a 145 to defeat 200 other participants in the 36-hole tournament.

When an amateur golfer attributes a low score to "some good luck," you can usually go along with that simple reasoning. But when he shoots a 145 in an 18-hole tournament, defeating 200 competitors, you can be sure that real golfing skill had a lot to do with it too.

Birchell Duff, of Garrett, showed that professional-type skill at the second annual Boots Randolph Invitational Golf Tournament, held Oct. 4-6, at Lake Barkley State Resort Park near Cadiz. In two rounds of play, Duff shot a 71 and 74, respectively, winning over his nearest opponent by four strokes.

Duff, who runs a service station and car lot, said he takes time whenever he can to practice golf "usually three or four times a week." The Boots Randolph Tournament, he added, was the second such event he's won this year.

The celebrity-amateur tournament at the scenic Western Kentucky resort was a vacation for the entire Duff family. Accompanying the winner was his wife Pat and children Sandy, 13, Sheila, 10, and Todd, 4.

Duff's teammates were fellow Floyd countians Clyde Woods, of Allen, and James Cecil, Prestonsburg.

In addition to the former Trigg County resident and now noted saxophonist Randolph, other golfing celebrities in the tournament were guitarist Chet Atkins and pianist Floyd Cramer.

Cats Regale Homecoming Crowd With 55-0 Win Over Whitesburg

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON
The Prestonsburg Blackcats treated a big Homecoming crowd to a real treat Friday night as they picked up their fifth win of the season by walloping Whitesburg, 55-0.

Durable Danny Layne scored 25 points as he scored three touchdowns, kicked a 32-yard field goal and four extra points. Layne now has scored 87 points and leads all scorers in the state for eight games. The Blackcats jumped off to a 35 to 0 lead at halftime. Dennis Walker, the Cats' wide receiver, caught one touchdown pass from quarterback Del Jagers. Walker was one of the many defensive stars of the night, picking off four Whitesburg passes. Harry Lee Burchett was Prestonsburg's leading rusher with 126 yards on nine carries and scored a touchdown, his second of the season. Coach Eddie Radjunas played his entire squad. Others scoring for the Cats were Greg Dixon, sophomore quarterback, on a one-yard plunge. Dixon relieved Jagers after the latter had suffered a shoulder injury. Jagers, however, will be in shape for the Boyd County game, this week-end. Steve Campbell finished out the scoring for the Blackcats in the fourth quarter on a four-yard run.

A.A.U.W. CONVENTION HELD

"EDU-ACTION," or applying dynamic learning, was the theme of the Ky. Division of A.A.U.W. Convention held recently in Georgetown. Helen Ankrum, president of the local group reported at the branch meeting held at the Floyd County Library, Oct. 10, saying that action learning projects were emphasized at the Sept. 20 and 21 convention. The program was planned around the idea that topic study should be translated into action—"EDU-ACTION." The highlight of the convention came Saturday night when the guest speaker, Dr. Mary F. (Marty) Beasley, spoke on the possibilities for women in the future. The young professor of English at Louisiana Tech emphasized the importance of the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment and urged the members of the American Association of University Women to be prepared to defend the amendment in the face of anti-ERA criticism.

Another interesting feature of the convention was a report by a member of the Louisville Branch on a research project dealing with the subject of women and the doctoral degree. Nancy Roles said the conclusion reached by the researchers was that women are not receiving Ph.D.'s in great numbers because they are not applying for the degree. The research, which was a project of the Louisville Branch and is soon to be published, included data gathered from colleges and universities all over the U. S.

The local Branch heard a report from the Art Festival Committee and it was announced that another committee meeting would be held on Oct. 28 at the library, this meeting to include the school chairmen.

The next regular meeting of the Prestonsburg Branch will be held at the library on Nov. 14, and will feature a discussion of community problems with Carolyn Francis in charge. Members are urged to come prepared to enter into the discussion.

Nurse Finds New 'Bed Sores' Remedy

A Veterans Administration nurse has discovered a cure for skin ulcers, or "bed sores," by combining the skills learned both as a nurse and a housewife.

Gladys C. Wallace, of the Louisville, VA hospital, had tried every recognized method of dealing with a gunshot wound in the abdomen of a 21-year-old Vietnam veteran paraplegic. When the wound refused to heal despite the best of care, she sprinkled him liberally with karaya vegetable gum powder and wrapped him in a well known plastic kitchen wrap. Healing started the next day and was complete within a week.

A surgeon and Mrs. Wallace then treated the young veteran's leg ulcers and a deep ulcer over his spinal cord with karaya gum in the form of rings. All healed. He has gained 60 pounds and is active and happy.

The hospital has since used karaya vegetable gum and powder for more than 100 patients, including paraplegics and quadriplegics with decubitus ulcers, amputees with infected leg stumps, and diabetics.

The average times for complete healing have seen seven days for the more superficial ulcers and widely affected skin areas, 14 days for ulcers extending down to the muscle, and 75 days for wounds involving muscle.

The karaya treatment is now being used in other hospitals in Kentucky, with results comparable to those at the VA hospital. No untoward effects or complications have been reported.

The Louisville VA hospital has undergone a deluge of requests for information on the treatment from medical and nursing professionals both in the U.S. and foreign countries.

Describing the therapy in an article in the June 1974 issue of the American Journal of Nursing, Mrs. Wallace says no single reported method for treatment of chronic skin ulcers has proved as a successful as this.

Statewide Contest Is Now Under Way For FFA Members

The 1974 Future Farmers of America Contest, sponsored by The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times, is under way throughout Kentucky, and $1,500 in U. S. Savings Bonds await the top winners.

The annual contest, designed to recognize outstanding achievement by Kentucky FFA members, is a public service of the two Louisville daily newspapers and is conducted in cooperation with the Kentucky Department of Education's Division of Vocational Agriculture.

The FFA member named state champion in the contest will receive a $500 U. S. Savings Bond. Ten regional runners-up will each receive a $100 savings bond.

The 11 winners, their parents and FFA advisors will be guests of honor at the newspapers' annual Farm Awards Luncheon in Louisville next March. The winners will receive their awards at the luncheon.

Each FFA chapter in Kentucky is to choose its top member in the contest. Each chapter winner will receive a wooden plaque symbolic of his achievement. Chapters with 100 per cent member participation will receive special recognition certificates.

The deadline for entering the competition is Nov. 1, 1974.

Donkey Basketball Game

The "CRAZIEST SHOW ON EARTH" comes to town Thursday, Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m., when it's men vs. donkeys, at McDowell high school gym. The opposing teams will be participating in a game sponsored by the McDowell Athletic Department.

The donkeys will be stubborn, as usual—sometimes a little contrary, and to put it mildly, sometimes a bit uncooperative. The rules of the game are that you can only shoot while sitting on the donkey and recover loose balls while holding on to the donkey. This is where the fun comes in. About the time a player goes to shoot, the donkey decides he has been on his back too long. The local "cowboy" will then show his skill as a rodeo star. Trying to move the donkey two or three inches when going after a loose ball, can sometimes seem like a city block. It will be a real challenge to the local men of strength. There will be thrills, spills, laughs, and more laughs. The local drug stores will sell their liniment stocks the day after the game. It's fun for members of the entire family. It's the basketball game of the year, where everyone goes home laughing. You won't want to miss it! Plan now to buy your advance tickets, from the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders at McDowell.

Historical Photos Of East Kentucky In Louisville Show

Life in Eastern Kentucky between the 1880's and the 1930's is the subject of an exhibit of photographs scheduled to open Sunday in Louisville.

Entitled, "From the Mountains," the exhibit of 30 photographs from the Alice Lloyd College photographic archives will be held at the Junior Art Gallery in the Louisville Free Public Library.

Donald R. Anderson, photographer for the college's Appalachian Learning Laboratory, is responsible for the exhibit. He said the photographs "are a cross section of the college's archives and show scenes of mountain families, logging, mining, railroad construction and early views of county seats in Eastern Kentucky." Anderson said that he wants the photographs to remind the people of Kentucky of their heritage.

During the year Anderson has been at Alice Lloyd College, he has collected and copied more than 3,000 photographs. He now is on leave from the University of Louisville where he teaches photography.

The Kentucky Arts Commission is sponsoring the exhibition and plans to place the exhibit on tour throughout Kentucky. The exhibition has an unusual catalogue, which partially is financed by the Arts Commission.

"We wanted a catalogue which would live on after the exhibition was over, to save as a reminder of Kentucky's heritage, so we decided to produce it in the form of a 1975 wall calendar," said Anderson. The calendar will be used as a project of the Knott County Bicentennial Committee.

Asks Needlecraft, Art Work for Thursday Meet

Shirley Thompson, contest chairman for the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, has asked all club members to bring their needlecraft and art to the monthly meeting, Thursday night. This is the 7th District contest which will be held October 26 at Jenny Wiley State Park. The divisions to enter are: applique, crochet, embroidery, knitting, quilting, macrame, rug-making and weaving.

There will be two categories in the art contest: professional, which is for teachers, commercial artists and experienced painters; the other, for students and hobby painters. They include oils, acrylics, water paints, collage, drawings, and sculpture.

Total enrollment in the U. S. Labor Department's Job Corps during the 1973 fiscal year was 43,394 youths.

Center Schedules Open House

The children here pictured, pupils at the Baptist Day Care Center sponsored by Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, and the staff of the school invite the public to its open-house program at 7 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday). Children of the center will present musical selections and display art work in the classroom.

In operation since Sept. 3 for children, ages 2½ through 5 years, the center has an enrollment of 22. Director-teacher is Margaret Jeffries McGrew, a recent graduate of California University, Los Angeles, with a major in early childhood development and has had several years' experience working with pre-school children. Mrs. McGrew is a daughter of Mrs. Virginia M. Jeffries, of Prestonsburg, and the late Rev. Campbell Jeffries, a former pastor of the Baptist Church here. Her husband, Dan McGrew, is administrator of the center, and Mrs. Barbara Mercer is also teaching there.

The center offers a curriculum of pre-kindergarten readiness in language development, math concepts and reading readiness, and the pupils are also given guidance in art, music and rhythm activities.

Donald L. (Donnie) Lafferty

School Board, District 2

Donnie Lafferty is worthy of reliance and confidence as to truth and correctness; he is upright in mutual dealings.

Donnie Lafferty has no wish to use School Board membership for personal gain, power, etc. He is making a personal sacrifice to give the people of School District 2 the opportunity to vote for a man who wants to serve the children by working to affect a CHANGE in Floyd county school policies.

Besides being legally qualified, he also offers as a qualification, an appreciation of freedom gained through the experience of crawling on his belly in Korean mud to fight for the freedom of others. He is also A VETERAN OF THE RESISTANCE OF CHARLES CLARK SCHOOL POLICIES WHICH, HE CLAIMS, ARE ENFORCED THROUGH FEAR.

He is the best-qualified candidate to serve the people because of his EXPERIENCE, INTEGRITY and CREDIBILITY.

A vote for Lafferty is a vote to end what he considers tyranny in Floyd county schools, a vote for a man who has the courage to stand alone, if and whenever necessary, to represent the wishes of the people who elect him. Electing Lafferty is not his gain, but ours and our children's. He will owe no debt to the politicians when he is sworn in as School Board Member.

Our Fragile Earth

By DR. JERRY HOWELL
Director of Environmental Studies
Morehead State University

The energy crisis will be discussed in the next few articles. A very complex problem, the energy issue is certainly the environmental issue of the '70's.

How did the U. S. and most of the rest of the world get into this predicament? Although the current crisis was precipitated by international happenings, the roots were many and varied. In the first place, more than 95 per cent of our energy is supplied by what we call "non-renewable" resources—oil, coal, natural gas. These fossil fuels were produced through eons of time by the deposition and decomposition of plant and animal remains in the earth's crust.

It has been estimated that world coal reserves are sufficient, at present rates of use, to last for more than 1,500 years. An estimated lifetime as low as eight years has been made for natural gas supplies. Oil reserve lifetimes have been estimated as short as 25 years and as long as 75 years. Unfortunately, these estimates can give a false sense of security.

Ordinance No. 8-74

An Ordinance of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky establishing Dingus Street from North Lake Drive to Central Avenue in an eastern direction only as a one-way street.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY:

SECTION I: That Dingus Street from North Lake Drive to Central Avenue in an eastern direction only be, and it is, hereby established as a one-way street of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

SECTION II: This ordinance takes the place of a resolution adopted by the City Council identified as Resolution No. 10-74.

SECTION III: All other ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed.

PASSED AND APPROVED, this September 19, 1974.

WILLIAM O. GOEBEL, JR.
Mayor, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.

ATTEST:

BEVERLY M. HACKWORTH
Clerk, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.
10-2-3t.

Most energy production brings detrimental environmental side effects. The production of oil involves environmental risks such as oil spills at sea and pipeline breaks. The use of oil and its products contribute to air and water pollution. Electricity usage encourages strip mining. Petroleum is used in the production of materials such as plastic which release dangerous pollutants when burned. Mercury is released in the burning of coal for electric power production. Power-producing dams have been condemned as destroyers of beauty and natural ecosystems.

Energy production and use are becoming more expensive. It costs much more to drill for oil offshore than on land. A tremendous increase in offshore drilling is occurring because land supplies are depleted.

Oil reserves are not evenly distributed worldwide. This not only causes international political problems but is a factor in crude energy transportation and distribution. Europe and the Middle East have most of the reserves. The U. S. even with discovery of the Alaskan field still controls only about five percent.

Next: Oil Uses.

Floyd Store Removed From Stamp Program

ATLANTA, Ga.—A Floyd county, Ky., food store—Slone's Grocery, of Tramm—has been removed from the federal food stamp program for one year because of violations, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) reports.

The grocery, which was formerly owned by Robert Slone, was disqualified, beginning Sept. 28, after being charged with redeeming USDA food coupons that had been accepted in violation of the food stamp regulations.

Robert L. Cunningham, in charge of the Prestonsburg field office of the Food and Nutrition Service, explained that the store will not be allowed to accept food coupons during the disqualification period.

Opinions from Office Of Attorney General

Among opinions released last week from the office of Atty. Gen. Ed W. Hancock were the following:

Robert L. Bertram, of Jamestown, requested an opinion regarding a proposal by a private individual, the owner and manager of a local radio station, that he provide dispatch service to the law enforcement units of Jamestown, Russell Springs and Russell county. The Attorney General's office replied that the proposal was legal because the general emphasis of such a dispatch service is for the public safety of the citizens of Russell county.

Phillip R. Hodges, of Owensboro, indicated that the city of Calhoun presently is drawing up a new zoning ordinance, but the City Commission has not felt that an ordinance with strict ruling on the rebuilding of nonconforming uses is required. He asks whether a city with a low rate of growth, still is required to include any certain level of restrictive rebuilding classifications. The Attorney General's office answered in the affirmative. Kentucky law states that when cities and counties exercise the power to zone, the regulations must contain, among other things, a provision for nonconforming use of land and structures.

Paul M. Baker, prosecuting attorney for the city of Jeffersonton, asked for an interpretation of the words, "other public places," as it appears in Kentucky laws concerning drunkenness. His specific question refers to a case in which an intoxicated man was arrested in a parked automobile in a parking lot of an establishment which was closed. The Attorney General's office found no Kentucky precedent which would be dispositive of the exact question, but a case in New York would be quite applicable. In a similar case, the New York Court of Appeals ruled that an intoxicated person found in a restaurant after closing hours was indeed in a public place. The Attorney General's office concludes that a service station and the parking lot of a restaurant are public places and that a drunk person sitting behind the wheel of a parked motor vehicle in such a place is in violation of the law.

Wilderness Road Girl Scout Notes

The Oct. 3 Service Unit meeting of Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council was held at the courthouse here recently. Novella Froman, 1974 day camp director, reported that 73 Girl Scouts and six non-scouts attended day camp this summer at Camp Chatterawha. There were 11 adult helpers and seven mothers who spent the night with the juniors and cadettes.

Mrs. Mary Hinchman reported that the "Cadette Carry-On" at Camp Judy Layne, Sept. 27-29, was an enjoyable learning and fun week-end for her and Troop 228. Thirteen Cadettes from Allen attended this session.

Action, Sept. 27-29, at Camp Chatterawha, was the junior encampment. Director Novella Froman reported that 56 junior scouts from Pike and Floyd counties spent the week-end there.

A date for planning the Girl Scout float for the Red, White and Blue parade was set for Oct. 8, at the Allen Elementary School. Each leader in the Floyd county service unit was asked to come and present her ideas. Mrs. Dolores Smith, of Allen, was chosen as director.

The service unit chairman reported that Mrs. Lois Marshall, of Allen, has been appointed public relations chairwoman. She asks that all leaders get any news item they may have to her by Wednesday of each week.

A songs and games workshop has been set for Nov. 23, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Camp Chatterawha.

A patrol leader workshop is scheduled for Nov. 2, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Camp Chatterawha. These two workshops are for the Scouts instead of the leaders. Each leader is asked to send five members of her troop to the workshop.

A Brownie leader meeting is scheduled for Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. in Prestonsburg at the Library.

The leaders who attended the service unit meeting are: Mrs. Jennifer Wells and Mrs. Eula Ferguson, Auxier; Mrs. Novella B. Froman and Mrs. Naomi A. Greene, of Wayland; Mrs. Sue Frost, Mrs. Dolores Smith, and Mrs. Mary Hinchman, of Allen. Mrs. Lila F. DeRossett, service unit chairman, Allen, conducted the business session.

The Wilderness Road Scout leaders of Floyd County met Oct. 8 at Allen Elementary School to plan for a float for the Red, White and Blue Parade, Oct. 26. R & S Truck Body Co., Inc. is letting them use one of their flat trucks for the float. Each troop will have a representative on the truck with her own troop number displayed. The other scouts will march behind the float in this order: Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes, and Seniors. All troops are urged to participate, even if they have only one Scout to march. Attending this meeting were Mrs. Mary Hinchman, Cadette Troop 228, and Dolores Smith, Junior Troop 227, both of Allen; Mrs. Jennifer Wells, Cadette troop, Auxier; Mrs. Naomi Greene and Mrs. Novella Froman, Junior Troop 864, of Wayland; Mrs. Lila F. DeRossett, S. U. chairman, Allen.

The Auxier Cadette Troop and their leader, Mrs. Jennifer Wells, wish to thank David Marcum, of Allen, of Woodman of the World Insurance, for the American Flag he presented to them, Oct. 9.

Troop 227, Allen Junior Girl Scouts, held its Court of Awards dinner October 4 at the Allen Methodist Church. The girls prepared a national dinner for their mothers. Those attending were Mrs. William Smith and Annitta, Mrs. Robert Marshall and Renee, Mrs. Ed Hall and Thelma, Mrs. Rodney Hutchinson and Lois and Lisa, Mrs. Dean Ward and Deena, Mrs. Joe Reynolds and Missy, Mrs. Charles Phillips and Karen, Mrs. Milford Tackett and Millie, Mrs. Paul Compton and Christene, Mrs. Dalton Conley and Janet, Mrs. Jackie Gayheart and Johnene, Mrs. Wilma McClure and Carla, Mrs. Delbert Claxton and Sheena, Mrs. George Hal and Tammy, Mrs. Marvin Rice and Ann and Karen, Mrs. Delbert Ison and Pam, Mrs. Lowell Sammons and Janelle, Cindy Walters and Sister. ### Floyd Funds To Carry On Unemployment Battle Increased

By JAN CONNOLLY

The new Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) is helping combat rising unemployment rates in pocket areas of Kentucky, Governor Wendell H. Ford said recently.

In Floyd county, fundings for CETA public service employment have recently been increased to $74,441.

The monies are part of Kentucky's total $3,237,153 grant to hire unemployed in areas with over 6 1/2 percent unemployment. Statewide, Kentucky's unemployment rate has been consistently below the national level. However, there are counties with limited job opportunities which are being assisted by CETA.

Latest figures show that Kentucky's unemployment rate is 5.1 percent as compared to the national average of 5.6 per cent.

CETA is a public service employment program which adds to and provides employment as does the Emergency Employment Act (EEA), administered by the state Department of Personnel under the direction of Personnel Commissioner Cattie Lou Miller.

Here's how CETA works. The highest locally elected official, usually the county judge, determines the need for certain public services and related job positions. Then he requests the necessary funds through DHR's Manpower Services.

$500 Reward

The undersigned will pay a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person of persons who on the night of Saturday, Oct. 5, 1974 stole from his farm on the headwaters of Mud Creek 200 pounds of Ky. 31 fescue seed and 150 pounds of nails in sizes varying from 20 to 40.

EMMETT LAWSON
 R. 1, Box 1, Harold, Ky.
 10-16-3t.

In Floyd county, among the first group to phase in the new CETA, funds for these positions are being made available for one year: county detective, director, heavy equipment operator, laborer and probation officer. The increased fundings will make more jobs available soon. The number of individuals who fill the actual job slots will depend on the turnover rate.

CETA is not a permanent public work program like those of the 1930's, said Willard. The difference is the goal—which is training through temporary employment for future unsubsidized jobs and permanent employment.

"There is a commitment on the part of the local public official to transition at least 50 percent of these employees into unsubsidized jobs each year," the commissioner said.

Miss Howard Is Nominee U.K. Homecoming Queen

Miss Barbara Lynn Howard has been nominated a candidate for Homecoming Queen at the University of Kentucky where she is a junior majoring in psychology. She is being sponsored by Delta Gamma sorority of which she is a member, and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. The Homecoming Queen will be chosen from a number of candidates and honored at ceremonies at the U. K. Homecoming game in Lexington, November 9.

Miss Howard is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill H. Howard, of Prestonsburg.

The placement rate for youths leaving the U. S. Labor Department's Job Corps during the 1973 fiscal year was 84.7 percent, with 57.7 percent entering jobs paying an average of $2.06 an hour or more.

COLONIAL DAMES MEET

Eastern Honors Dr. Hogg, Others

RICHMOND, Ky.—Dr. Emogene Moore Hogg, native Floyd county woman who is professor of Business Education and Office Administration at Eastern Kentucky University, was one of 345 graduates honored by ECU at its recent Centennial Awards Program for Excellence in Teaching.

The honorees received personalized copies of a special edition of Jesse Stuart's "The Thread that Runs So True," printed by the University Press of Kentucky to commemorate Eastern's observance of the Centennial Year of Higher Education on its campus. All the book awards were signed by the author.

Addressing the crowd of about 650 gathered in the Keen Johnson Building for the event were Stuart, Kentucky's poet laureate, and Charles Scribner, Jr., president of Charles Scribner's Sons, book publishers, New York.

Stuart told the honorees that they were members of the "world's greatest profession . . . education," and that no other profession has more influence on the shaping of the future than education.

Dr. Martin said the university's Centennial Committee "very carefully reviewed hundreds of nominations for this very meaningful award."

Dr. Hogg, who lives in Berea, is a native of Harold, Kentucky. She holds the B. S. degree from Berea College; the M. A. from ECU, and the doctorate from the University of Tennessee.

THE ANSWER

In answer to the statement in last week's Times regarding the proposed school in the south end of Prestonsburg.

The reasons for my proposal to construct this foundation is as follows:

- (1) It would provide a neighborhood elementary school for the children of Goble Roberts, Lancer, Brandy Keg, Cow Creek, and Bull Creek. I was hoping for an enrollment of between 400-450—something similar to Clark Elementary. Are the children here, not entitled to such an institution?
- (2) It would alleviate overcrowding at Prestonsburg Elementary and allow us to take 275-300 students out of the basement.
- (3) It was not intended to be a large consolidated elementary program, because our neighborhood schools at Auxier and Bonanza are desperately needed. I do not believe in transporting young children long distances, unnecessarily.
- (4) Its construction was advocated by Booker and Associates in the planning survey of our city in 1970.
- (5) It will not replace the Junior High which one day will be needed and land is available in our city for this project.

In conclusion, if my opponent has some questions as to where I stand on issues, I would suggest that he consult me first. SOME people may mislead you or give you information that is NOT TRUE.

Front Drive Subaru

The Subaru Quadrozontal Engine has a funny name. But it gives you very serious performance.

It's called "Quadrozontal" because it's a four cylinder, liquid cooled, horizontally opposed engine. If you're not an automotive engineer, it means that the Subaru Quadrozontal engine effectively reduces vibration, which cuts down wear and tear. Less wear means fewer repairs. And that's yet another good reason to test drive a Subaru today.

(Attorney General of Kentucky)

For persons trying to fight rising building costs and inflated interest rates, a mobile home may seem very attractive. But before sinking thousands of dollars into a mobile home, take some precautions.

It is very important to do business with a dealer who will honor a warranty or guarantee when and if repairs are needed. To find out about a dealer, you may check with the Consumer Protection Division and the Better Business Bureau. Ask the dealer to give you the names of some of his customers; their experiences might be very helpful in making your choice.

When you inspect a mobile home, check for damages or faulty workmanship. Check the exterior for dents or for joints which do not fit tightly. On the inside, look for water spots on the ceiling or on the floors that might indicate leakage. And while you are inside, look at the appliances. Check each one, making sure they all work properly. Notice the brand or brands of the appliances so that later you may find out if servicing is available and convenient. Ask the dealer if all items within the home are included in the purchasing price.

Shoppers frequently compare mobile homes by length. If you do this, take care that the length of the hitch or an awning or any overhang is not included in the length stated by the dealer.

As in all consumer purchases, it pays to study the contract very carefully. If there are any terms you do not understand, don't sign the contract until you have discussed it with someone who does understand it. Insist that any oral promises made by the dealer are put into writing and will not be excluded by the general warranty on the contract.

Study the warranty to determine what the actual coverage is for the mobile home. Does the warranty become void if the mobile home is ever moved from its original location? Will damages that occur during the delivery be repaired by the dealer? Depending on your answers to those questions, you may decide to insure a mobile home for damages such as these.

Where are you going to put your new mobile home? Consider the location before you buy. Check several sites in a desired area. Ask others who live there about the conditions. Investigate the possibility of flooding, high winds or other locational hazards. Inquire about entrance and exit fees, fees for garbage disposal or utility fees.

If you have suggestions to aid in consumer problems or if you wish to make a complaint, Kentucky residents may write to the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, Room 34, Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601—or call 1-800-372-2960, toll-free

Junior Club Aids Federation Project

The Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club is participating in the General Federation of Women's Clubs Junior Project "Children With Learning Disabilities." It is estimated that as many as 20 percent of the school population may have specific learning disabilities; approximately 7 percent have severe enough problems to require special intervention. These statistics have been determined by the Association for Children With Learning Disabilities. These handicapped children have for years been labeled underachiever, slow learner, brain damaged, retarded, immature, lazy.

The Junior Woman's Club set up a display table at the Floyd County Teachers' In-Service Day at the Prestonsburg High School gymnasium October 8, from which they distributed some 2,000 copies of free materials regarding various kinds of learning disabilities. Copies of these materials are available from members of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club.

ENERGY CONSERVATION TIP

Believe it or not, a leak of about one drop of water per second adds up to about 650 gallons of water a year, and when it is a hot water faucet, you're wasting both water and gas. Replacing a bad washer promptly not only saves you money, but stops that steady drip, drip, drip...

MUSTANG II GHIA shown with optional V-8 engine.

The success car of '74 is doing it again in '75. Ford Mustang II.

Look close at Mustang II's new standard features.

To the already long and impressive list of Mustang II features—features that include 4-speed transmission, rack-and-pinion steering and front disc brakes—we've added two very important improvements. Gas-saving, steel-belted radial ply tires and solid state ignition on all Mustang II engines.

Look close at the engine choice, too. This year the Ford Mustang II offers a choice of three engines. The standard 2.3 Liter 4-cylinder, or an optional 2.8 Liter V-6 (standard Mach 1) or the new 302 CID V-8, for exciting performance.

MUSTANG II 2+2 shown with wheel trim rings, WSW tires.

Look close at Mustang II's Silver Ghia.

Introducing the new Silver Ghia. Conceived and created to be a classic in its own time. Every inch of its gleaming silver exterior and richly upholstered interior confirms this "classic" impression. And the beautifully functional instrument panel includes tachometer—standard.

You get beautiful performance, too, with the new 302 CID V-8 engine option. Sunroof and SelectAire Conditioner are other popular options. See the new Ghia and special Silver Ghia... make this the year you own a Mustang II.

The closer you look, the better we look.

To Vie for Scholarship

James David Flanery, Prestonsburg High School senior, is Floyd county's only semifinalist in the competition for a 1975 Merit Scholarship, it was announced this week by Ronald L. Hager, principal of the school.

As a Merit Program semifinalist he was among the highest scorers in the nationwide aptitude-qualifying test administered to more than a million students in about 1700 schools.

According to Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), "The approximately 15,000 semifinalists represent the top one-half of one percent of the nation's most academically talented young people. The students bring honor to themselves, their families, their teachers, and their communities. Many of these students, those who make the best use of their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels of which they are capable, will be future leaders in business, industry, and the professions."

Semifinalists must qualify as finalists to advance in the competition for Merit Scholarships. To become Merit Program finalists, the semifinalists must be endorsed by their schools and recommended for scholarship consideration, confirm their high PSAT-NMSQT scores with an equivalent performance on a second examination, provide evidence of high academic performance, and supply information about their other accomplishments. Over 90 percent of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists. Each finalist will be considered for Merit Scholarships and will receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of distinguished performance in the competition.

Every finalist competes for one of the National Merit $1000 scholarships, allocated on a state basis according to each state's percentage of the total U. S. graduating high school seniors.

The Floyd county semifinalist is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave M. Flanery, of Allen.

He Looks Like Other Kids, But . . .

Is HE:
Failing in reading, spelling, writing or arithmetic—but teacher insists he could do the work "if he'd only try"?
Poor in coordination? Disoriented in space?
Easily distracted, impulsive or over-active?
Confused in his language or speech—or fails to understand what you tell him?
Often anxious or angry, because he cannot cope with the requirements of school, or of social situations?
Usually forgetful, habitually inattentive?
Is your child—or a child you know—"often", "sometimes", "always," "usually" or "habitually" any combination of these?

These are the children with special learning disabilities on whose behalf the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities was established. ACLD's position is that thousands of our school children are experiencing failure because of such special learning disabilities. "Learning disability" is a newcomer among the handicaps classified as affecting children. It has become more and more noticeable as the educational requirements for most occupations have increased.

The Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club is currently assisting the ALCD in an awareness program. For further information, contact the club or Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, 5225 Grace St., Lower Level, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15236.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM HERSHEL JOSEPH

Candidate For School Board Member, District 1

DEAR SCHOOL PATRONS OF EDUCATIONAL DISTRICT NUMBER 1:

Visiting you to discuss the concerns, issues, and interests of parents, students, teachers, and administrators of Auxier Elementary, Bonanza Elementary, Clark Elementary, Prestonsburg Elementary, and Prestonsburg High School is a pleasure and satisfaction to me, and I do appreciate the tremendous support you are showing me for my candidacy for school board member in District 1.

I have served the youth, my community, my county, and my country in the past, and I am asking you for a further opportunity to render service that is vital to your children and you, as well as to my own children, for I know that an effective board member is extremely vital to the present and future welfare of the youth of this district and Floyd County.

My intention is to speak of the problems of our schools and to offer practical, feasible solutions. I am not attacking anyone in this campaign, nor do I intend to be bogged down with personality issues.

The present board member of District Number 1, Dr. J. D. Adams, listed six major objectives when he campaigned for this office in 1970. (Floyd County Times, October 29, Section 2, p. 7.) His top priority objective was and I quote: (1) "The construction of a Junior High School to lessen overcrowding in our school building" (unquote).

Did Dr. Adams EVER introduce a resolution to build this Junior High School in Prestonsburg? In inspecting the Board Minutes of the Floyd County Board of Education, the minutes show that he did introduce a resolution to start a search for property located on Bull Creek to build an elementary school. Why this change from his Number One priority? And where would the children come from to fill a large multi-million dollar elementary school on Bull Creek—Auxier, Bonanza, Clark, Prestonsburg, and Allen? Is it practical and wise to transport young children miles away?

To make this point clear, I must state that I am not against building new schools, and I look forward to the day that all our children shall have fine school facilities, but at the present time I take the stand that improvements and additions to the existing schools would be a sounder and more practical solution to our facility problems in District Number 1.

Support A Candidate Who Has The Time and Interest to Serve All The Schools In Educational District No. 1.

"I Fought for You—Please Vote for Me"

HERSHEL JOSEPH

Smith Honored for 57 Years Of Preaching in East Kentucky

By GENEVIEVE J. ROUS
(In The Ashland Daily Independent)
Cattlettsburg—A minister who has preached 57 years, retiring in 1960 at the age of 64 only to take up his work again in a country Methodist church, was honored by that church last week with a "This Is Your Life" presentation.
The Rev. O. P. Smith of Rush has served as pastor of the Cannonsburg United Methodist Church for the past seven years. He retired for the second time in June.
During his first ministry, the Rev. Mr. Smith served churches in Cattlettsburg, Maytown, Ashland, Russell, Salyersville, Lawrence County and other places in the Methodist conferences.
More than 300 people heard the 78-year-old minister recall that he once preached 99 successive nights during his early ministry.
He founded Aldersgate Camp, now a conference-wide meeting place for Kentucky Methodists. In its early days, those attending the camp ate food prepared by the minister and his wife.

At Cannonsburg, he was instrumental in building the new church into which the congregation moved in February, 1972. He had also been influential in the building of three other churches and a parsonage in addition to expansion of church facilities where he has served.
The Rev. Mr. Smith is the only Methodist minister to have been graduated from Christian Normal Institute, a Christian Church school at Grayson.
There, he received a teaching certificate and then taught school at Star Branch and at Upper and Lower Wilson, often getting up at 5 a.m. and traveling miles over many a snowy road to build a fire in a pot-bellied stove so the school would be warm when students arrived.
After three years of teaching, he moved to Columbus and worked as a motorman on a street car for three years, but left that job when it required he work on Sunday—a day he wished to give to God.
After leaving Columbus, the Rev. Mr. Smith went to Hopewell and lived on a farm purchased by his brother and served as pastor of Hinchins Methodist Church at an annual salary of $300.
He married the former Rebecca Woolen in 1918 and the same year joined the Methodist conference and was assigned to the South Portsmouth-Mt. Zion-Bethlehem-St. Paul Circuit. The Rev. Mr. Smith attended Mayo College, leaving home on Mondays and returning on Fridays.
His second conference pastorate was the Allen Circuit and he and his wife resided in Maytown. He attended Vanderbilt University and during his residence in Maytown went to Pikeville College.
Acting as pastor of ceremonies for the program was Eugene Tackett. Also participating were delegations from several of the churches which the Rev. Mr. Smith has served; a son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Orson Smith and their three daughters, from Louisville; a brother, P. E. Smith; a step-brother, Ernest Martin; and Mrs. Field Scott. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Smith also are the parents of two other children.
During the presentation, the couple was presented gifts from members of the church.

First Black Mine Inspector Assigned to Martin Office

H. N. Kirkpatrick, commissioner, Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, has announced the appointment of Richard A. Watts, of Wheelwright, as senior mining inspector for the department.

Watts is the first black to assume such a position in the department's 94-year history.

As mining inspector, he will inspect underground mines for safety and compliance with state mining laws. He will work in the department's Martin district office.

Watts, 47, began his mining career in his native state of Alabama 30 years ago. There he worked as a cutting machine operator, motorman and drillman.

As a Kentucky miner, Watts has worked for Inland Steel Co. and Island Creek Coal Co. in Wheelwright, where he was captain of the first aid team for 20 years. His previous duties include brakeman, trackman, mechanic, electrician and maintenance foreman. Before accepting his new job, Watts was maintenance foreman for National Mines Corp.

The qualifications for the job include passing a rigid examination covering mining laws and safety, first aid and mining rescue procedure. This is in addition to 10 years experience as an underground miner.

Watts is one of 22 inspectors in Kentucky who are based in five district offices across Kentucky. He has had courses in mining electricity and ventilation at Mayo Vocational School in Paintsville. He is married and has four children.

Floyd County Health Notes

By CONNA J. GRIFFITH
(Health Educator)
Not enough children are being immunized to assure that epidemics will not occur. Last year, there were over 400 cases of measles and of rubella, or three-day measles, in Kentucky.
One of the main problems is that many parents wait until their children approach school age before having them immunized. This leaves the child unprotected during the first four or five years of his life. Children should be immunized against polio, measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus and whopping cough by the time they are two years. Statistics indicate that the percentage of young children immunized against these diseases has been declining at an alarming rate in recent years. As a result, diseases that were once well controlled are becoming a problem once again.
Last year, only 78 per cent of Kentucky's two-year-olds had completed their oral polio vaccine series. Anyone who remembers the polio epidemics of the 50's, when thousands of children were permanently disabled, knows this disease is very serious.
Polio isn't the only problem. Kentucky's statistics for rubella and measles show that 22 percent of the two-year-olds have not been immunized against rubella and 20 per cent have not been immunized against measles. Some people still regard measles as a harmless disease but before vaccines were available, hundreds of children died each year from the disease.
The Floyd County Health Department urges parents to check their records to make sure their children are fully protected. Parents whose children have not completed their immunizations, or parents who aren't sure whether their children have received all their immunizations, should check with their own doctors or here at the Floyd County Health Department right away. Seeing that every child is fully protected will help prevent epidemics.

October is designated as Immunization Action Month. The Floyd County Health Department offers free immunizations, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Monday, October 21, the Floyd County Health Department will hold two clinics. One clinic will be held at Ethel Osborne's Store in Bypro, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with the following services being offered: TB skin tests, blood pressures, immunizations and diabetes screening.
The other will be a pap smear clinic from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the old high school building in Wayland. The public health nurse reminds all women that they should have a pap smear at least once a year. The services at both of these clinics are free and open to the public.
The Floyd County Health Department will be holding a glaucoma clinic Friday, October 18, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Glaucoma is a serious disease that can cause blindness slowly and painlessly, and it usually occurs in persons over 35 years of age.
The public health nurses urge all persons age 35 and over to take advantage of this free service, since glaucoma can be prevented by early detection and treatment.

Headstart Gets $908,630 Grant

Congressman Carl D. Perkins announced last week that a grant by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has been awarded to the Big Sandy Community Action Program for Headstart. The $908,630 grant will serve the counties of Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike, and will provide for 44 children for one year, full day; for 1017 children, part day; and for 741 children during the summer.

"This is certainly a worthwhile program," Rep. Perkins said, "and I am happy the Big Sandy CAP has received this grant. I will, of course, work hard to provide more funds to insure that our young children continue to receive these pre-school educational opportunities in the future," he said.

Smith, technical supervisor with Halliburton Services in Duncan, Okla., and a 1974-75 Distinguished Lecturer for the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME, will be the guest speaker at the October meeting of the East Kentucky Section of SPE. The meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 24, at 6:30 p.m. at the Paintsville Country Club in Paintsville.

Smith's speech, entitled "Cementing—The Foundation for Successful Oil and Gas Recovery," will assess cementing processes used by the industry over the past 60 years.

A 1943 graduate of Oklahoma Baptist U., Smith joined Halliburton Services in 1946 where he has served as an advisor for the first commercial hydraulic fracture treatment and for materials and techniques in the cementation of large diameter shafts in the mining industry and thermonuclear holes. An author and co-author of 18 technical papers and the SPE "Cementing" Monograph and holder of seven patents, Smith is also a member of the National API Mud and Cement Standardization Committees and chairman of the API Arctic Cementing Task Group. He is an active guest lecturer in adult education schools at Oklahoma U., U. of Texas, Texas A&M U., and various adult education groups throughout the world.

Ext. Service Offers Fall Coin Drying Tips

If you are planning long-term storage of your 1974 corn crop, you should dry the corn to a 13-13.5 percent moisture level. That is the recommendation of Otto Loewer, Jr., Extension agricultural engineer at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Loewer says higher rates may be acceptable if you plan to feed the grain before spring. Of course, grain which is to be sold immediately should not be dried lower than the base moisture level specified by the buyer.

If you use an in-bin drying system, Loewer recommends keeping the system running continuously until the grain is dry. He says the drying process will continue even when it is raining, although high humidity will slow down the drying process somewhat.

If you use a batch-in-bin or portable drier, you should cool the grain before putting it into a storage bin, according to the UK ag engineer.

He also recommends cleaning grain either before or after drying and before it goes into storage. If grain has not been cleaned before it is put into a bin, a spreader system should be used in the bin to keep fine particles from building up and blocking air movement in the grain.

Poisonous Plants of our Region

(Concluded)

POISON IVY . . . POISON OAK . . . If you are allergic to ivy poisoning and get a good rash of it, you may have to go to the hospital. I've seen this poison raise blisters on people the size of a hen's egg. Those with sensitive skin seem most susceptible. Some persons who have thick, tough skin can handle poison vine without any ill effects. You don't have to come in direct contact with the vine to get the poisonous oil sprayed on your skin. If you should disturb it or cut the vines with a hoe, they splatter the misty oil on you. A dog wading through a patch of poison ivy can transmit its poisonous oils to persons. A good rule to remember is: "Leaves of three, let it be; leaves of five, let it thrive."

Poison ivy, or poison oak, has three leaflets, with the end leaflet on a longer stem. The pretty vine called Virginia creeper, or "sour vine" by some, has five beautiful leaflets, which are not poisonous. In autumn, its leaves turn a glowing purple.

What is the difference between poison ivy and poison oak? They are essentially the same; they have different forms but the same poison, which is called "toxiodendrol." When the ivy climbs a tree or fence post it is simply "poison ivy;" when it stands upright with no visible support, it is called "poison oak." That's all the difference there is and both are equally dangerous to persons who are susceptible. Poison ivy climbs trees by means of aerial roots, which fasten on the bark with a firm hold. Its greenish blossoms produce white berries, which are eaten by many birds; these scatter the seeds over a wide area. Birds and animals can eat the leaves or seeds without harm. I've seen mules eat a big bait of poison ivy and they seem to like it. The Indians ate the leaves in the spring as a way of immunizing their skin against the poison. If you are overly sensitive to poison ivy, no doubt your doctor can give you injections to render you immune. I know they are effective, as I took them once and have never been seriously poisoned since. Caution: Do not scratch the blisters, as this tends to spread the infection and risks more infection.

Antidote: Laundry soap and warm water; or a strong solution of baking soda; also the application of Calamine lotion is good. Severe cases should be treated by the doctor.

Poison Ivy is a member of the Cashew Family and is distantly related to the poison sumac.

Cocklebur . . . In sandy soil, cockleburs often spring up as if by magic. They have hardy seeds, which may lie dormant in loam for many years, then at the right time, sprout and produce the young plants, which are deadly to livestock, especially hogs. The early spring shoots are the most poisonous. I've seen hogs lying down in great misery after eating a bait of young cockleburs. Their belly turns a greenish-purple from the poison, and they vomit and froth at the mouth. The poisoned animal soon gets too weak to stand but lies on its side, moving the legs rapidly with a running motion until exhausted.

Antidote; for cocklebur poison mineral oil is a good treatment; also whole milk given by a stomach tube if necessary.

The ripe burs of cocklebur are obnoxious to persons and livestock. They have barbs like a fishhook for fastening onto hair or clothing. They often cause mats to form in a horse's mane or tail, and are a menace when matted in sheep's wool.

Cocklebur is in the great family of Composites, the stems are red-spotted and the leaves are large, hairy and rough; they are heart-shaped, toothed and lobed. The only good feature about the cocklebur is, it holds the soil from washing and helps to enrich it. Soil is always loose and loamy where the cockleburs grow.

Boaters Are Urged To Play It Safe

Frankfort, Ky.—Records of the state Division of Water Enforcement show a substantial decrease in the number of boating fatalities on Kentucky's waters so far in 1974 in comparison to last year's totals.

The number of boating fatalities which occurred in the state through Sept. 30, 1973 was 47. Through that date in 1974, the number of boating fatalities was 30.

Water Enforcement Administrator Doug Shoulders said that the decline is especially encouraging because it has occurred during a year in which there has been a greater volume of recreational boating activity on Kentucky's waters than during any previous year.

"Now that the weather is starting to get cooler, most of the boaters on the lakes will be fishermen," said Shoulders. "They should be aware of some additional problems which the fall months bring to their sport.

"For instance, fishermen normally go out in the early morning or late evening when it is especially cool and, therefore, they will have on heavy bulky clothing."

"This heavy clothing would make it especially difficult for them to swim if they fall overboard. It is highly desirable for anyone on the water at this time of year to wear their life preservers," Shoulders said.

Shoulders said that fog is especially bad on the lakes in the early morning during the fall and this presents another problem.

"Boaters should be extremely cautious when traveling on the water during heavy fog. Speed should be reduced because other boats, debris and stumps are not seen as readily as under normal conditions," said Shoulders.

"Boaters should also be aware that Kentucky law requires that when their boat is anchored or in operation in open water during hours of darkness and other periods of poor visibility, they must display a white light visible to a boat approaching from any direction."

Grass Roots Policies Plea Made at Prayer Breakfast

Frankfort, Ky.—Addressing an audience of over 55 Kentuckians at the second annual Governor's Leadership Prayer Breakfast recently, featured-speaker General Harold K. Johnson called for introspection, self-examination and a renewing of contacts with God.

The nondenominational and non-partisan breakfast is patterned after the National Prayer Breakfast held annually in Washington for the last 22 years. The prominent theme was one of more active participation in government by the citizens and a return of morals and ethics to politics.

"This is the tip of an iceberg," Johnson said. "It shows that small groups in prayer can solve the world's problems."

The West Point graduate and former Army chief of staff has earned 17 military decorations and seven honorary degrees. Johnson is a survivor of the infamous Bataan Death March, three years in Japanese prison camps and is active in many business and religious groups. Soon he will enter the hospital for cancer surgery.

"People may say, 'how can a military man believe in God?'" said Johnson. "How can a military man not believe in God! A soldier undergoes enormous risk and to do that he must have infinite faith."

O. T. Dorton, of Paintsville, president of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, presided over the service, which included prayers and Bible readings by Gov. Wendell H. Ford, Lt. Gov. Julian M. Carroll, former Governor and U. S. Senator Earle C. Clements, Senator Eugene Stewart, Senator Tom Garrett and Justice Samuel Steinfeld of the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Former U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper was unable to attend due to preparations for his trip to East Germany as the first American Ambassador to the Iron Curtain country. Mr. Cooper sent his deep regrets that he couldn't attend but indicated that he would be "participating in spirit."

To close the service, Ford presented General and Mrs. Johnson with an oil painting, "The Family at Prayer," by Haddon Sundblom.

Hallowe'en Has Competition—
There Are Modern Monsters, UFO's

By HELEN PRICE STACY

During this season of goblins, witches and warlocks, there is much to learn about ghosts, spirits and "haints" and not all of it is something to laugh about.

One Eastern Kentucky family experienced moving objects a few years ago. In a Western Kentucky home lived an attractive woman, with flowing hair and gown, but she was nothing but a willowy, wispy ghost. A Floyd countian remembers a disappearing tree. A Morgan county woman still is reluctant to discuss the galloping horse that made nightly runs to a tree that figured in a Civil War incident. She vows she heard the horse, but never saw it, even though she was at her window when it raced by.

Yes, this is the time of fodder shocks and jack-o'-lanterns—a time when most people find someone to take along when they must be about after dark.

What family is there who does not recall dark nights when everyone sat around listening to ghost stories. Often, the subject was not intentional but would get started with someone commenting, "That reminds me of an experience I had about 20 years ago. It was a dark night and a slow rain had started to fall. I had been across the hill to call on a sick neighbor and was on my way home when I had to pass this woods near a cemetery . . ."

In Lee county's Devil's Creek area, people still talk about the Eversole ghost. A man had been hanged, and when a haunt began frequenting the hanging spot, it was taken to mean the man was innocent and his spirit was not at ease. However, as it turned out, this ghost was aided and abetted by a man named Eversole, who took advantage of the stories by using a sheet on a wire to terrify the neighborhood.

But there are modern monsters too. A Texas man in 1969 said a monster over seven feet tall picked him up, sleeping bag and all, but dropped him when he saw a piece of chicken and grabbed it to eat. This hairy monster was both apelike and manlike.

There also have been sightings of flying saucers, weird creatures and strange ships.

Much farther away are the sightings of Big Foot, the Abominable Snowman, the Lochness Monster and other creatures.

Alcohol Driver Education
Clinics Begin in State Cities

Frankfort, Ky.—Alcohol driver education clinics held by the Kentucky Department of Transportation began in 10 Kentucky cities during the period Oct. 7-10.

Enrollment in the clinics, according to Driver Licensing Director F. E. Hodges, consists of first offenders convicted of driving while under the influence of an intoxicant. With an average of 25 in each clinic—and 10 clinics now in session—approximately 250 first offenders have embarked on an educational course which seeks to prevent their becoming second offenders.

The ADE clinics came about as a result of the passage of House Bill 190 by the 1974 General Assembly. That law amended former legislation which required that the Department of Transportation revoke for six months the license of any driver convicted of operating a vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicant.

Traffic judges are now allowed to recommend that the person convicted of drunken driving keep his operator's license if he is a first offender and if he agrees to attend the ADE clinic in his area.

"Due to the existence of the ADE clinics," said Hodges, "we will now have a valuable opportunity to identify and to educate drinking drivers."

Hodges said the ADE clinics are modeled on the Driver Improvement Clinics which the Division of Criver Licensing has administered since 1965. "However," added Hodges, "the ADE clinics deal specifically with attitudes concerning drinking and driving. We believe the drinking driver to be a special problem because national traffic safety statistics indicate that a drinking driver is involved in over 50 per cent of the accidents in which a fatality occurs."

In order to complete the 10-hour ADE course, the enrollee must attend the two-and-one-half hour sessions four successive weeks. No test is given at the completion of the course. Class participation is encouraged, however, and officials believe that attendance in itself will cause the person to absorb enough information about drinking and driving to make him less apt to be a repeat offender.

The following are some points discussed during the sessions:

DWI is driving while under the influence of an intoxicant. An intoxicant can be alcohol (which it is in 90 per cent of convictions; or drugs (illegal or legal, they result in 10 per cent of the cases.) "Under the influence" means that a person's decision-making abilities and reactions are impaired to the point where driving is affected.

A person is legally "under the influence" when a breathalyzer test indicates a reading of .10 or above. A reading of .10 means that a person has onedrop of alcohol in their bloodstream for every 1,000 drops of blood.

What is a drink? What one person might think is one drink, might actually be four or five drinks. For example, a water glass full of whiskey might contain six ounces. That would be six drinks since 1 ounce of whiskey (or bourbon, scotch, etc.) is considered one drink.

The human body is capable of metabolizing one drink per hour. The following constitutes one drink (one ounce of such things as 100 proof whiskey, gin, scotch (mixed or straight), twelve ounces of beer (the standard size of a bottle or can), two ounces of fortified wine (alcohol content of 18-22 per cent), four ounces of regular wine (alcohol content of 12-14 per cent) or five ounces of pop wine (alcoholic content of 9-11 per cent based on body weight and average body chemistry).

At the clinics, charts were handed out from which the class could estimate how many drinks it would take for them to be over the line (.10) on the breathalyzer. For example, a person who weighs 180 pounds can have 9 drinks in four hours and would register .104 on the breathalyzer and therefore be considered under the influence of an intoxicant. Another person weighing 200 pounds could have the same number of drinks in the same amount of time and would register .094 on the breathalyzer and, therefore, not be considered under the influence.

The ten clinics had their first sessions last week. Eight additional clinics will get under way in November at Pikeville, Cynthiana, Glasgow, Harlan, Hazard, Mayfield, Owensboro and Winchester.

Bob Tallent Era
As GW Coach Begins

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Bob Tallent coaching era at George Washington University officially got under way Tuesday when the new GW head basketball coach greeted 17 candidates for this year's varsity in the opening practice session at 9 p.m. The lateness of the practice is due to class schedule conflicts among many of the players on Tuesdays.

Tallent, native of Langley who served as assistant coach at GW for five years, was named head coach in mid-August to replace Carl Slone, who resigned to return to his alma mater, the University of Richmond, as head coach.

Practice for the 1974-'75 season will run for nearly seven weeks before the opener on December 3 at Fort Myer against the University of Delaware. Tallent is anxious to get started as expectations are high for a banner year.

In contrast to many coaching situations where a new coach is brought in to rebuild a program, Tallent steps into a ready-made position. With 10 lettermen back, including five players who have been full-time starters, GW is anticipating its finest basketball campaign in years.

Four of the starters will be playing together for the fourth year while the fifth played nearly the entire season a year ago as a freshman. Leading the returnees are senior Clyde Burwell, Haviland Harper and Keith Morris along with junior Pat Tallent, younger brother of Coach Tallent. Tallent is in his fourth year at GW but had to sit out all but three games last year because of knee surgery. He regains that year of eligibility. Also back is sophomore guard John Holloran, who stepped in for the injured Tallent and did an outstanding job in the backcourt, finishing his first year with a 10.1 average and second-high assist man with 78.

Area School Boards
To Meet at Lodge

School board members and administrators from six area school districts will meet at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Wednesday, October 23, for the annual session of the Eastern Kentucky (South) region of the Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA).

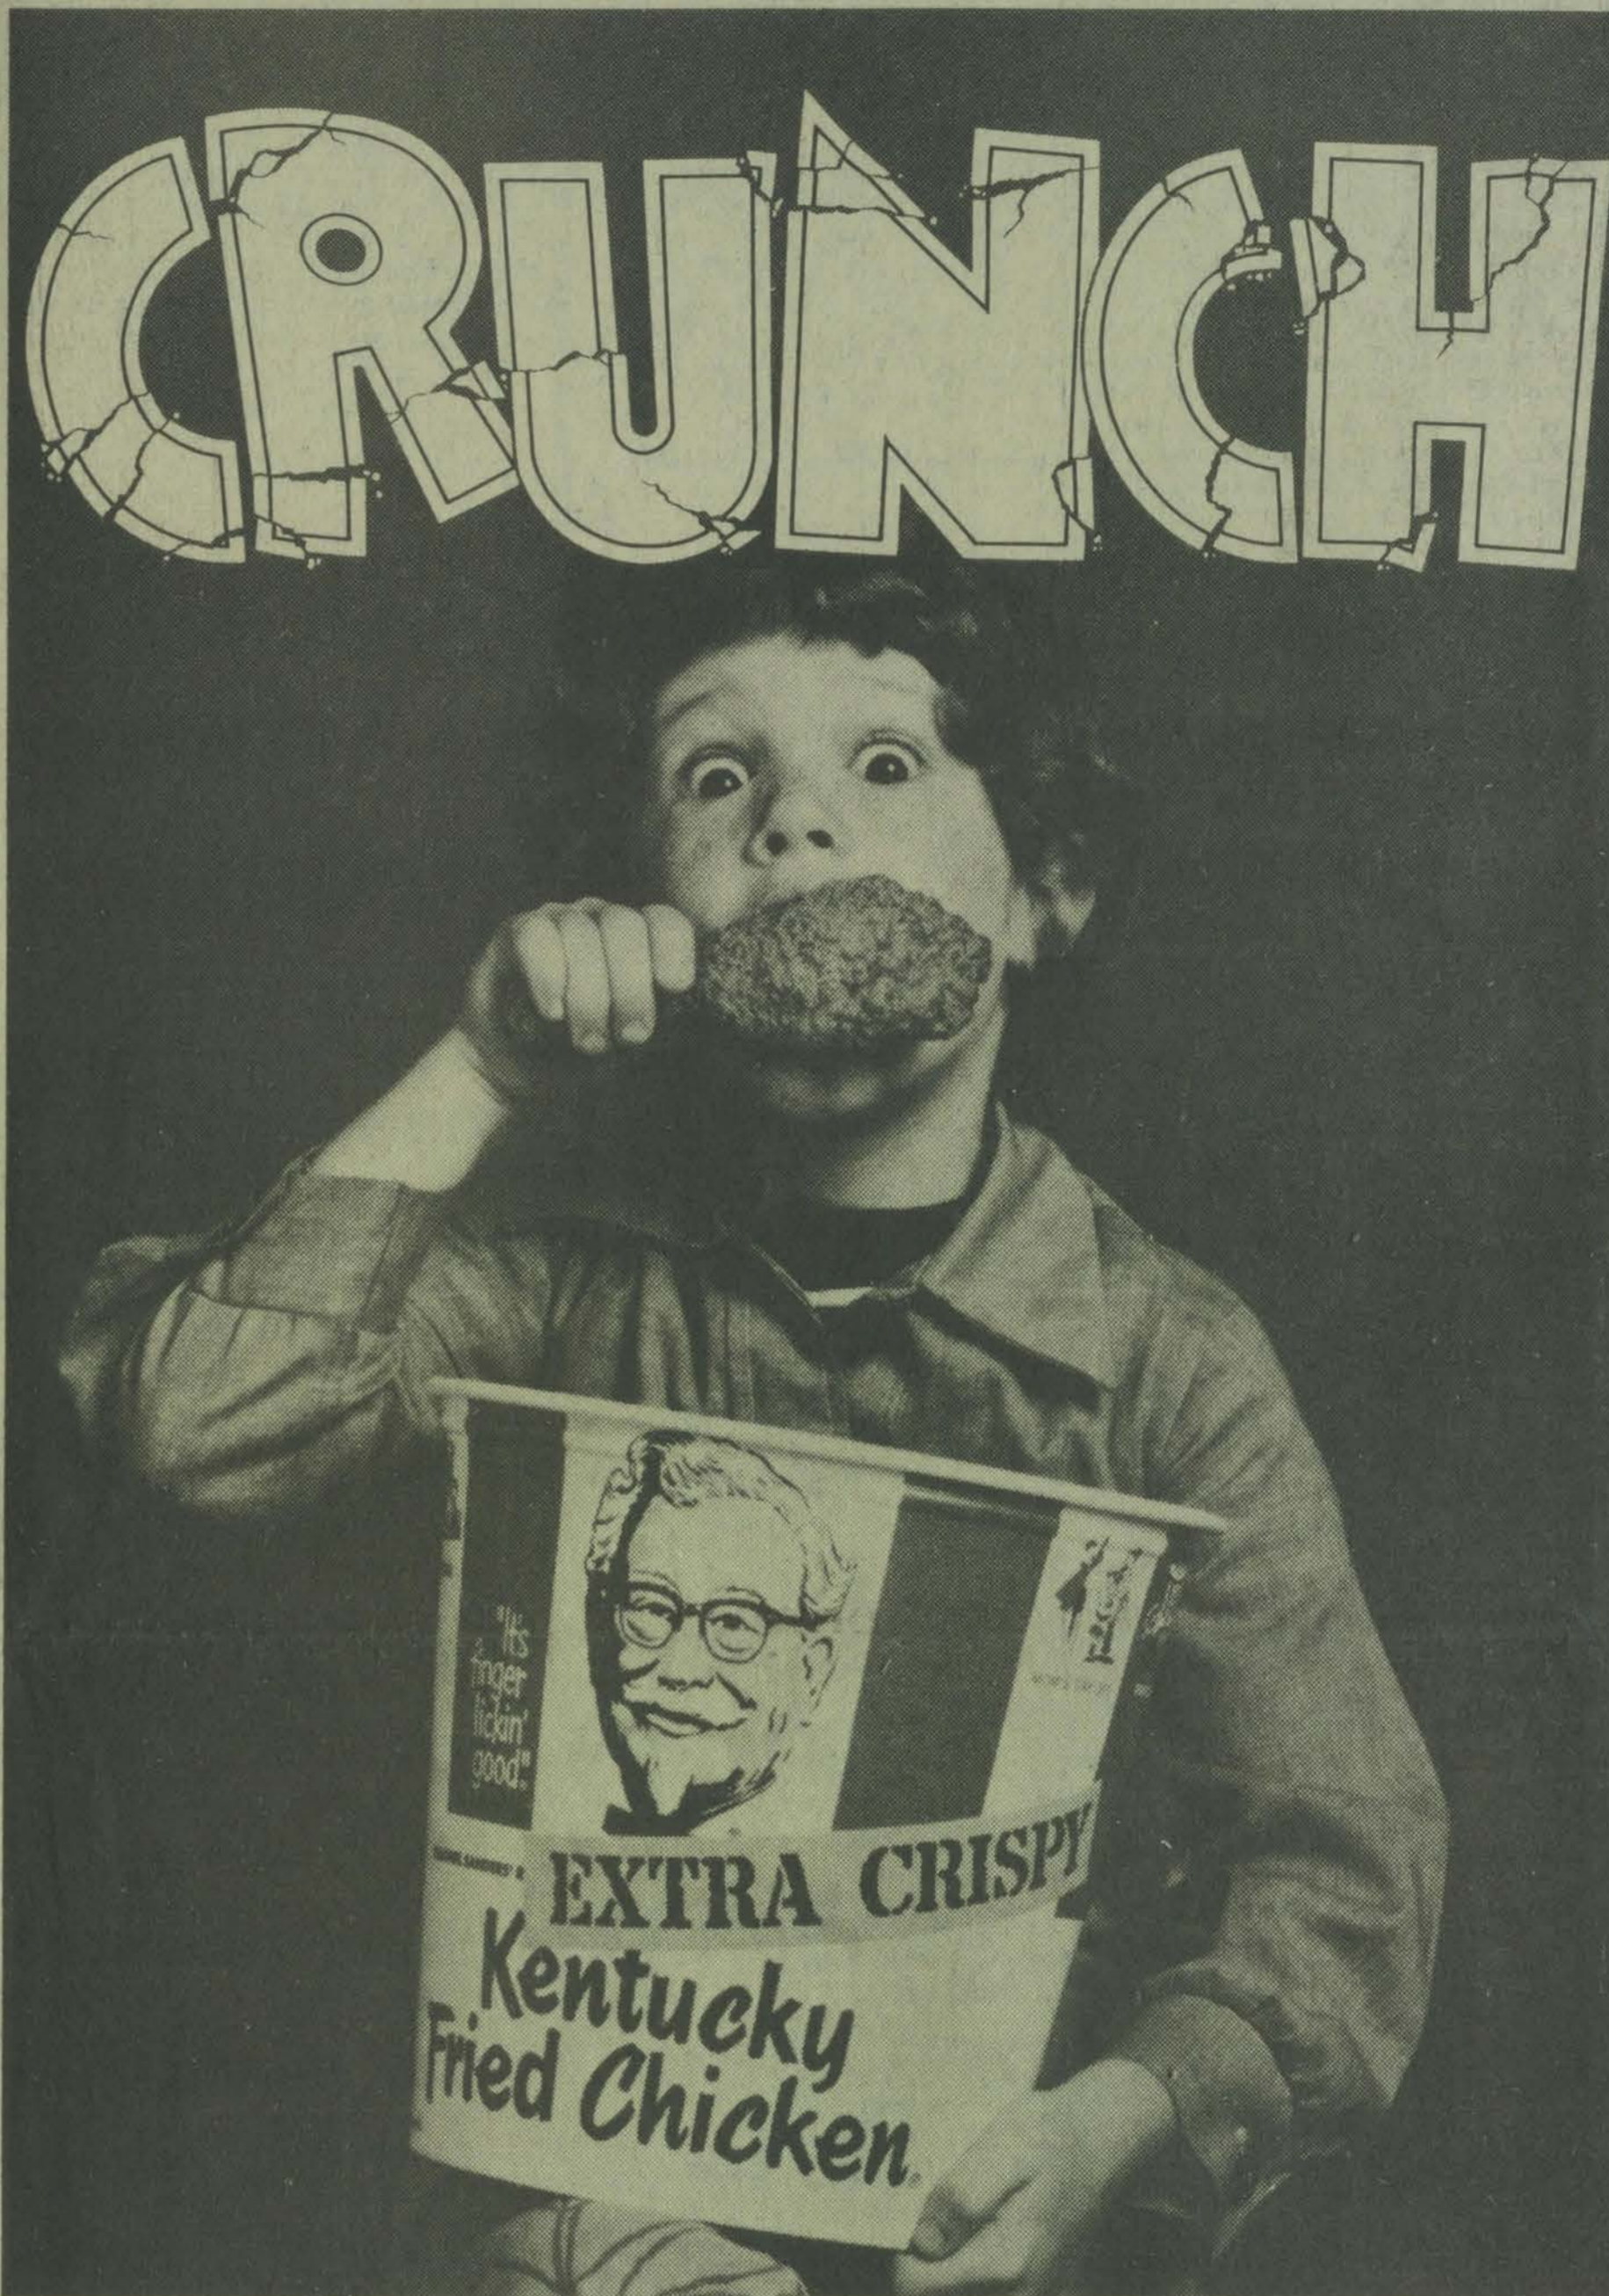

Wendell Knight, member of the Paintsville Independent Board of Education and chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Region Association, will preside at the dinner meeting, scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

John M. Stumbo, chairman of the Floyd County Board of Education, is vice-chairman, and Paintsville Independent School Superintendent Oran Teater serves as secretary.

Meeting agenda topics will include presentations on personnel services, school insurance, legal issues, and other matters of interest and concern to school boards of the Eastern Kentucky Region.

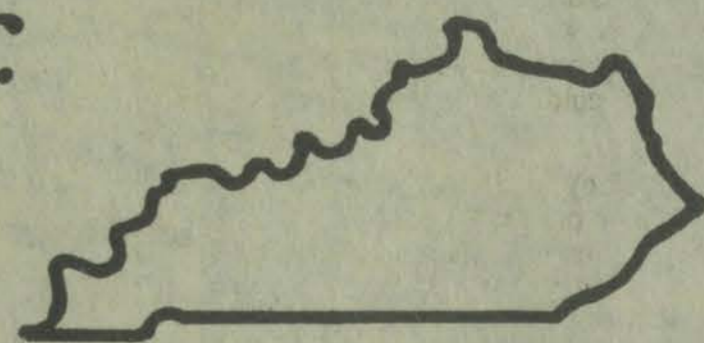

School officials attending the meeting will elect officers of the Eastern Kentucky Region for 1975.

Attending the meeting will be school board members and administrators from the school districts of Floyd, Johnson, Martin and Pike counties and the city school districts of Paintsville and Pikeville.

What Folk Lore Signs Indicate For Winter

By BOB WATSON

The folk lore signs are confusing this year and its difficult to tell if Kentucky will have a hard winter, but if you believe in the age-old indicators, get ready for plenty of snow.

Author-naturalist Neville Shackelford of Beattyville says according to the old timers "the number of fogs in August indicates the number of snows for the following winter. A few fogs or small fogs mean few snows or small snows."

The National Weather Service here reports there were 14 fogs in August. On one foggy day, the visibility was one-quarter mile or less while visibility on the other 13 foggy days was better than one-quarter mile.

On that basis, it would appear there will be 14 snows this winter but only one hum-dinger.

Another snow indicator according to folk lore author William E. Collins, Sr. of Liberty is found inside the persimmon.

According to legend, says Collins, if the germs within the seed of a persimmon is shaped like a spoon there will be plenty of snow. If the germ is shaped like a knife, a sharp, cutting winter is ahead but if the germ looks like a fork, an open winter with mild conditions should occur.

Farm Director Barney Arnold of WHAS radio says "I pitched that out on the air and a lady said she opened a persimmon seed while I was talking and the germ inside was shaped like a spoon which means we're going to be shoveling a lot of snow."

Perhaps the most well known sign of a hard winter ahead is, as Shackelford notes, "When the Woollybear caterpillars have more black on their backs than brown."

Arnold says Wolleybears with black bands on their backs are indeed showing up this year.

University of Kentucky Entomologist Rudy Scheibner says the Woollybears "They always do have black bands and there are a couple of different species. There's yellow Woolleybear and there's a typical Woolleybear that is orange with the black band in the middle and there's one that is halfway between this yellow and chestnut-brown color — sort of a fawn brown."

Scheibner says "I think maybe this might be sort of a confusing thing that the average person thinks this is a color phase of the Woolleybear. They're all caterpillars in the larval stage of the Arctid moth."

Shackelford says a traditional sign of a hard winter ahead "is when the fur is extra thick on the belly of a coon, bear or fox." Collins agrees and adds "That would apply to cattle and horses too." He says extra heavy coats on animals early in the fall, whether on the belly or elsewhere, designate a cold winter coming up.

Richard "Red" Bayer, curator of the Louisville Zoological Gardens, says the fur-bearing animals "are starting to fill out now."

"The wolves I believe we've noticed more than anybody else. We have Arctic wolves that we just got in the spring. About two weeks ago they got their full coats back and it was just incredibly fast the way it occurred," Bayer said.

Bayer notes that the fur on most of the zoo animals is going to be thick in comparison with past years but he says there hasn't been much change with the raccoons yet although "the goats and sheep are taking on coats pretty heavily now."

Shackelford and Collins say a large production of acorns and walnuts is a prelude to exceptionally cold weather.

Collins says he hasn't seen many acorns or walnuts in Eastern Kentucky and Shackelford agrees "In this part of the country there are not many walnuts and no acorns."

In Spencer county, Kenneth Milburn says "We've got 25 or 30 walnut trees and I've noticed only four or five trees with any walnuts on them."

The folk lore experts also claim that if the husks on ears of corn are tight and thick and if the ears of corn are heavy there will be a hard winter.

Shackelford says "I had one farmer pull back the shuck and I noticed they were thin and loose." Tommy Mayes, a Simpson county corn grower says "Its about medium heavy— really about average."

Shackelford says he's always heard if the Bald-faced hornet builds his nest high in the trees, a bad winter is ahead. Collins says he heard it the other way around, "When hornets build their nests near the ground its a sign of a cold or severe winter."

Scheibner says "They'll build in hedges, any kind of leafy protection and more or less hidden. I would guess it would have something to do with the current growing season. If the leaf growth is higher in the trees, they'll go higher. In any one year you can find them almost anywhere but I usually find them fairly close to the ground, not more than a foot to six feet above the ground."

A sure sign of harsh weather ahead says Shackelford is "When cherries and spring flowering bushes bloom late in the fall."

University of Louisville Botanist Prof. Varley Wiederman says "Now a lot of the spring flowering plants will bloom a second time around because of their day-length responses. If they've had a particularly favorable summer in respect to the amount of moisture and a number of things, they'll go ahead and bloom in the fall. Forsythia is famous for that."

Shackelford says "One of the farmers around here told me he found a black-berry briar had three or four ripe berries on it and two or three red ones. Its just one of those anomalies of nature. Sometimes a plant, when there's a long summer season and excessive rainfall—sometimes trees will bloom twice. Fruit trees and some berries will have fruit on them. I have raspberries in my garden yet, but of course they're everbearing and you can expect that."

Kentucky folk lore also predicts a hard winter when the leaves are thick in clumps.

Wiederman and Schnieder say they have not noticed the leaves to be particularly thick. Collins says he has noticed the trees and shrubbery have "unusually heavy foliage—the heaviest I ever saw."

Collins says if Kentuckians had been alert earlier in the season they would have been given a sign of what kind of winter to expect.

"From the time the first catydid holler its three months to the first frost. They hollered pretty early this year," Collins said.

Collins says "When large flocks of geese fly south in the early fall" its a sign of a bad winter ahead. Mayes says he hasn't noticed any geese but "I've spotted some early flocks of ducks flying south over Simpson County."

Can you take folk lore forecasts as accurate indications of what the weather will be?

"There are a lot of these signs and you never know," Schnieder says. "I remember they used to put a grape leaf in pickles and it did help prevent softening because the grape leaves have an enzyme in them. You can't poo-poo some of these things."

"Whenever I hear these superstitions," Scheibner says, "I try to account for them in some way. Its like the story of the Indian who was always an expert on what the severity of the weather would be. Some skeptic found there was going to be a hard winter by reading a forecast and asked the Indian what to expect. The Indian confirmed the forecast and added 'I know because white man hauling in lot of wood.'"

Shackelford, who says the only way to find out for sure what kind of winter is coming is to see if the wishbone of a goose is black, confesses—

"I don't put much stock in these signs—I put more stock in the weather bureau."

Mrs. Tom G. Dingus was elected state treasurer of the Democratic Women's Club of Kentucky at the 49th annual convention held at The Galt House in Louisville, October 4 and 5.

Mrs. Dingus has been active in the Democratic party most of her life and has held a number of offices locally. She has been a member of the board the past six years as associate director of the Seventh District. At the present time she is also co-chairwoman for Governor Wendell Ford, the Democratic nominee for United States Senator.

Region 11 Inservice Meet Draws 1609

Teachers in Region 11 were exposed to a new concept in inservice training October 7 when personnel from all seven school districts in the region attended a regional inservice meeting at Paintsville and Johnson Central high schools. The conference was attended by 1609 teachers and administrators representing Floyd county, Paintsville independent, Pikeville independent, Pike county, Martin county, Magoffin county, and Johnson Central schools.

The opening session, held at Johnson Central High School, featured Samuel Alexander, deputy superintendent of public instruction, Billy Hunt, educational aide to Governor Ford, and William Bordwell, director of the Division of Regional Services. Also appearing on the program were Harold Lloyd Preston, principal of Johnson Central High School; Oran Teater, superintendent of Paintsville independent schools; Reo Johns, executive director, ROPES Region 11; Charles F. Clark, superintendent of Floyd county schools and chairman of the ROPES board of directors; Frank Ratliff, assistant superintendent, Pike county schools, and Bronelle Skaggs, assistant director, ROPES Region 11.

Kentucky Educational Media Association provided 35 exhibits at Paintsville High School, and members of the association donated instructional materials as door prizes. Exhibits were also provided by Kentucky Educational TV, Mayo State Vocational-Technical School, Central School Supply, and the Department of Education's Division of Surplus Property. The Department of Education provided consultants.

Mr. Johns expressed his satisfaction with the inservice meeting and his belief that the regional inservice concept has validity as a vehicle for providing beneficial inservice training. Johns said, "Although a final tabulation of the evaluation forms has not been completed, those forms counted have given all phases of the meeting high ratings. As soon as all forms have been tabulated, the results will be given to the board of directors, the advisory council, the Department of Education, the Division of Regional Services, and the Appalachian Regional Commission."

If Kentucky Can do it... America Can do it.

There are millions of Americans who believe our government can't stop inflation. Millions more are frustrated by a federal government which costs more to run every year . . . a government that puts more people on the payroll every year.

Wendell Ford believes in America . . . its past . . . its present . . . its future. He knows we can fight inflation. As Governor of Kentucky he did it. He took the sales tax off food, medicine and farm machinery.

Wendell Ford knows, too, that Washington can do more than it's doing. He knows government doesn't have to get bigger and more expensive every year. Kentucky's government under Wendell Ford has proven that. There are fewer state employees this year than last . . . this year's budget was underspent by $25,000,000.00. Wendell Ford's program of consolidation and efficiency is working.

Think about the kind of government you want in Washington. That's what this year's race for United States Senator is all about. We've got a choice between the Wendell Ford kind of government, or the kind of Washington government we have now. Think about it . . . if Kentucky can do it . . . America can do it.

Selective Service Booth Is Planned

Selective Service System will have an information booth October 21 as part of "College Career Day" at Prestonsburg Community College. The booth will be located in room M110 and personnel on hand to aid students will be Anna Forsyth, Carole Wolfe and Martha Johnson.

Students visiting the booth will have an opportunity to win a prize, a free airplane ride, by filling out a card with name, address and name of high school. The cards will be mixed during the day with two winners being drawn—one for female student and one for a male student. Students are urged to have written permission from parents to take an airplane ride in case they are one of the lucky winners.

Other services available to students visiting Draft Information Center will be an opportunity to request a duplicate registration card in cases where the card has been lost. A student eligible to register—that is, within 30 days of 18th birthday—may stop by the booth to register. The registrant should have with him either a birth certificate, driver's license or Social Security card as verification and identification.

There will also be information on the recently announced "Reconciliation Service Program" for certain Vietnam-era draft evaders and military deserters.

Any interested registrant may learn what his lottery number is by checking at the information booth. Registrants born in 1956 have not been assigned lottery numbers yet but will know their numbers sometime in the spring of 1975.

The places of registration for young men nearing 18 years of age is at the following places in Prestonsburg: Donald Baldrige at B & F Casual Shop and Terry Webb with Kentucky National Guards. Young men are encouraged to register early, within the 30 days before they reach their 18th birthday or 30 days following their 18th birthday. The draft is on a standby-status and not calling men for military service at the present time but it is important that they register on time.

Members of Local Board 25 who have served Selective Service and the county through the years are Dr. Herbert Salisbury, chairman; O. C. Howell, vice-chairman; Ervin Akers, James Fitzpatrick, William O. Goebel, Jr., Mike Little, Lloyd Stumbo and Cecil M. Sturgill.

A voluntary tutor reading program was introduced by the U. S. Labor Department's Job Corps during the 1973 fiscal year.

HERSHEL JOSEPH

Candidate for

School Board

Member

Educational Dist. 1

School board members are elected to protect the interests of citizens, to serve as the ears, eyes and voice of all district residents. I want the public to know that my first and greatest concern will be in the best interest of each and every one of the young people involved in our schools, and as a candidate for your local board of education in District 1, I am asking you to entrust to me the educational development of our elementary schools and our high school.

As Your Board Member I Shall Be Available:

1. To devote full attention to each school in District 1.
2. To visit schools when they are in session.
3. To talk to concerned and interested parents.
4. To attend faculty meetings as needed.
5. For 52 weeks of the year for 4 years to devote my time and interests to your concerns and questions about the operation of schools in your district.
6. To offer a policy that would bring school leaders and citizens closer together in defining priorities.

I ask you, also, to examine my volunteer and civic work—work which was done as a service to my community without expectation of pay. I have worked with the Little League Programs, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Prestonsburg High School football team, and a number of fraternal organizations because of a desire to be of service to our youth and to our community. Another service given to my community and country was as a soldier in Vietnam where 100 percent disability resulted of 3rd degree burns, and this choice, in its way, has made me available to offer my FULL TIME to be board member in District 1, without depriving people of any needed service.
