Thanksgiving in a Park Builds Family Memories

Soft lights and glowing embers from logs in an open fireplace combine with food spiced with both a Kentucky and Bicentennial theme to make this Thanksgiving in a Kentucky state resort park a time to build family memories. If mothers and grandmothers do not want to spend hours in a kitchen this year, why not treat them and all the family to the holiday—or holidays—in a state resort park.

The Kentucky Department of Parks has arranged a holiday menu for its dining rooms. This menu features traditional roast young tom turkey, but a special filip has been added.

There will be Kentucky cornbread dressing, Kentucky wonder green beans, Bluegrass ham and Kentucky Rifle rum cake; then for Bicentennial flavor there will be Pilgrim roast round of beef and Mayflower whipped potatoes.

Along with a festive buffet at Natural Bridge State Resort Park served Nov. 25, Park Manager Dan Glass invites everyone to the second annual Thanksgiving Art and Crafts Show and Sale in the new activity building Nov. 27-28. Other parks have holiday festivities planned along with the following menu to be served in all parks: ("Serving," said Glass, "will be straight through on the 25th, from noon until 8 p.m.")

Entrees: roast young tom turkey with Kentucky cornbread dressing and cranberry sauce; baked Bluegrass sugar cured ham with holiday fruit sauce; Pilgrim roast round of beef au jus, "carved on the line." Vegetables: old-fashioned candied yams, Kentucky wonder green beans, Mayflower whipped potatoes with giblet gravy. Desserts: Kentucky Rifle rum cake, mince meat pie and pumpkin pie. There will be hot homemade rolls and assorted congealed and green salads.

"At Natural Bridge," Glass commented, "we will decorate with dried flowers, mums, corn shucks, pumpkins and horns of plenty spilling nuts and fruit. We also will have at each table folders listing artists and craftspersons who will exhibit works at the park Nov. 27-28."

Carole Bush, gift shop manager at Natural Bridge and coordinator of the arts and crafts events, announces that Harold Collins and Tom Armstrong, both of Lexington, are replacing Don Ensor of Louisville and Russell May, of Prestonsburg, in the show.

"Ensor," said Mrs. Bush, "is going to Moscow to sketch an antique car for a print to be released late in 1977, and May is recovering at his home from a heart attack."

Approximately 25 outstanding artists and craftspersons have been assigned space for the holiday week-end show. "We're proud to schedule this art and crafts program during Thanksgiving," Mrs. Bush said. "It is expected to attract a crowd of holiday visitors as well as those who want to purchase a piece of art or crafts item for Christmas giving."

For families who want to eat together without hours of baking and cooking, a state park might provide just the right homey atmosphere. Check with a park near you or one suitable for your family to see what has been scheduled. The food will be the same in all parks, but programs will vary.

Make it a time for pleasant memories with thankful hearts, harmony and warm friendship to go with the good food and entertainment.

Consumer Comments

By ROBERT F. STEPHENS

(Attorney General)

Would you like to save up to five per cent of the purchase price of some item by simply paying cash instead of using your credit card?

Each time an item is bought with a credit card, the merchant pays a percentage to the card issuer. This percentage that the merchant pays ranges up to six per cent of the purchase price of each item. Since October of 1975, merchants have been allowed by the Federal Fair Credit Billing Act to offer cash discounts to induce consumers to pay by cash, check or similar means rather than use a credit card. These discounts can be up to five per cent of the price of any merchandise bought.

To offer cash discounts a merchant must follow three procedures. First, notices informing consumers of the cash discount must be posted at all entrances and cash registers. Second, the discounts must be available to all prospective buyers—credit card holders and non-holders. Third, any advertising which mentions an acceptance of bank credit cards must also state that cash discounts are given. Any restriction on the extent of cash discounts must be disclosed. Consumers should note that merchants are not required to give these cash discounts. If you are in a store that honors credit cards, ask, each time you shop, about these discounts. Merchants will consider giving these discounts when consumers ask about them and when buying decisions are based on whether these discounts are given.

If you have a consumer complaint, write to the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, Frankfort, Ky., 40601. The office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write when you have a complaint. However, if you have an emergency situation, call the Consumer Hotline. The number is 1-800-372-2960.

Teacher of the Year

Marcia Sue Miller has been named Kentucky's Teacher of the Year, Dr. James Graham, superintendent of public instruction, announced recently.

Mrs. Miller, a Spanish teacher at Lafayette High School in Fayette county, was chosen by a selection committee drawn from Kentucky's educational community. As winner of the state award, Mrs. Miller becomes a nominee for the National Teacher of the Year title. The award is sponsored in part by the Council of Chief State Officers who will name their selection next April.

Mrs. Miller, who has her masters from U. K., is a native of Oklahoma City, Okla. She is a member of Beaumont Presbyterian Church.

The Beta Club of Prestonsburg High School will begin going door-to-door Nov. 10-Nov. 19, asking for contributions for multiple sclerosis.

Mrs. JoAnn Johnson and Mrs. Norma Neeley, sponsors of the Beta Club and coordinators of the MS Hope Chest Campaign for Prestonsburg, emphasize that "The importance of this year's drive cannot be overstated," a club representative said. "The research efforts to find the cause and cure of multiple sclerosis have brought us closer than ever before to victory over this cruel disease. Now we must accelerate those efforts to make that dream a reality for the thousands of MS patients across the country presently battling this crippling, as well as for future generations of Americans."

MS is a chronic disease of the central nervous system which is most frequently first diagnosed in young adults between the ages of 20 and 40 (but the symptoms start much earlier).

THE WORK INCENTIVE PROGRAM, administered by the U. S. Department of Labor's Employment and Training Administration, is designed to help recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children obtain employment and ultimately to become self-sufficient.

Peptic Ulcer Disease, Dinner-Lecture Topic Monday at Highlands

"Peptic Ulcer Disease" was the topic of a dinner-lecture for area physicians Monday, November 15, at the Highland Regional Hospital here.

Sponsored by the University of Kentucky College of Medicine and the Highland Hospital medical staff, the program included a 6:30 p.m. dinner, followed by a lecture on peptic ulcers by John Banwell, M.D., associate professor of medicine at UK.

Only 18% Get Flu Shots; Makeup Clinics Scheduled

Frankfort, Ky.—"If you missed your county's swine flu immunization day, the vaccine is still available in your county health department," said Dr. C. Hernandez, director of the Division for Preventive Services, Department for Human Resources.

Some counties will have make-up clinics. These will have to be scheduled as soon as possible to allow individuals to build up an immunity to swine flu before the tough flu months of December, January and February.

"If you plan to get the vaccine, don't put it off; get it as soon as possible," urged Dr. Hernandez.

About two-thirds of the state's 120 counties have held flu clinics so far. By Nov. 18 all counties will have had at least one immunization clinic.

Average turnout rates are running at a disappointingly low 18 per cent. This will barely provide protection to the population against a flu epidemic, said Dr. Hernandez.

Dr. Hernandez hopes that making the vaccine available in county health departments and through make-up clinics will increase the turnout percentage.

Some clinics are having as high as a 50 per cent turnout. About half a million Kentuckians have received the vaccine to date. There have been no serious side effects or problems, said Dr. Hernandez, and the clinics are running very smoothly.

People who received the flu shot are protected for approximately 16 months, which means they are immune through this winter and next winter from the swine flu, said Dr. Hernandez.

Prisoner Wins $5,000 Verdict

A jury in U. S. district court at Pikeville last week awarded $5,000 judgment for damages to a former Pike jail prisoner in his civil rights suit against Pike county officials.

The damage awards were made against County Judge Wayne T. Rutherford and Jailer Walter Burke, but it was indicated Judge Rutherford may not be penalized, since he was not directly responsible for the damages claimed.

The federal suit was filed by Dwight Copley, who now is a prisoner in the state reformatory at LaGrange. He asked $150,000 damages, alleging he had been denied appointed counsel and had suffered cruel and unusual punishment while a prisoner in the county jail. During the trial of the case the plaintiff claimed he was beaten about the head by a deputy jailer, but the defense claimed he was hurt when he butted the jail wall. Copley's court-appointed counsel, John Rosenberg and Pam Goldman, of the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund, maintained that in either case the jailer shunned the responsibility of providing the injured man medical attention.

VISITS PARENTS

Gorman Collins, Jr., who attends the University of Kentucky, was here during the week-end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Collins, Sr.

HOMEMAKERS MEET
The Maytown Homemakers Club held the November meeting in the school lunchroom. The president, Helen Boyd, presided. Alda Gibson gave the devotion on Faith and Prayer. Imalee Spillman read a poem entitled, "Not for Me". Plans were made for the things the club does for the Golden Years Rest Home at Christmas. Members will also do something for the mentally retarded school at Maytown. The lesson on Master Mixes, or mixes to be made at home, was given by Alda Gibson and Helen Boyd. Mrs. Boyd showed how to make orange pinwheels from the master mix and they were enjoyed, along with the refreshments, served by the hostesses, Imalee Spillman and Carol Puckett. Present were Thelma Hicks, Carol Puckett, Alda Gibson, Sandy Bradley, Minnie Gearheart, Helen Boyd, Imalee Spillman, Kitty McCann, Sandy Lowe, Trilby May, Betty May, Paige Bradley, Charles Bradley and Chasity Lowe. The next meeting will be a covered dish dinner in December.

KET To Feature Governor's Views On Special Session

Governor Julian M. Carroll will appear on Kentucky Educational Television's (KET) weekly news and public affairs program, "Comment on Kentucky," Friday, November 19 at 7 p.m. to discuss the upcoming Legislative Interim Session.

The primary topic of the session is expected to be reorganization of the state's judicial system.

Livingston Taylor, Louisville Courier-Journal, Frankfort, Bureau; Malcolm Jewell, University of Kentucky political science professor, and, Al Smith, "Comment" host and Russellville newspaperman, will question the governor about the judicial reorganization and other topics he expects to place on the agenda for the legislative session.

A sign version of "Comment on Kentucky" is aired each Saturday at 4:30 p.m. (ET), for those whose hearing is impaired.

HAVE SIMILAR INJURIES

Similar injuries were suffered last week by Mrs. Lillie Mae Price, of David, and Mrs. Eva Hobson, of Little Paint, who have broken bones in their feet. Mrs. Hobson is recuperating at home, and Mrs. Price is at the home here of her daughter, Mrs. John Evans, and Mr. Evans.

The best milk and ice cream you can get is labeled Pet.

Better taste is one good reason why. To many people, Pet Fresh Milk and Pet Ice Cream taste better than other brands.

Others put their faith in the famous Pet name and Pet reputation for honest, quality dairy products. They know - from good experiences - that everything named Pet has passed the toughest tests, met the highest standards for quality, freshness and taste.

At the dairy case and at the ice cream cabinet, the very best you can get is always labeled "Pet."

State PSC Grants Kentucky Power Rate Adjustment Increase

The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) has granted a $9,965,621 rate adjustment increase to Kentucky Power Co., effective for service rendered on and after Oct. 19.

The commission's action was in response to a request by the firm to increase their rates by approximately $17,185,009.

According to the Oct. 19 PSC order, the approved increase will produce revenues sufficient to permit the company to pay its operating expenses, service its debt, pay a reasonable dividend on its stock and have a reasonable amount remaining for its supplies.

Kentucky Power, a subsidiary of American Electric Power Company, Inc., distributes and sells electricity in some 20 Eastern Kentucky counties.

Machines in Some Counties May Not Handle Ballots

Frankfort, Ky.—Members of the Interim Joint Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments toured a large assortment of voting machines assembled in the Senate chamber of the Capital recently.

The demonstration of machines by several manufacturers was held Tuesday in conjunction with a meeting of the committee.

At its meeting the committee passed a resolution asking Gov. Julian Carroll to include in his call of the special session the subject of alternative voting methods and clarification of Kentucky laws relating to alternative voting methods. They also asked the committee staff to draft bills to be considered at the Nov. 23 meeting of the committee.

Bremer Ehrler, Jefferson county clerk, told the committee about problems Jefferson county is having with voting machines. He expressed "grave" concern that the county may not be able to get all the candidates in the May primary on the ballot. He said he was "begging" the committee to "amend the statute regarding the use of lever machines only."

Martha Moloney, Legislative Research Commission staff member, also expressed worry about the future of voting machines in Jefferson county. "The lever machines presently being used in Jefferson county no longer appear to be adequate," she said.

"The present machines cannot accommodate the large number of candidates seeking numerous public offices. With the addition of approximately 30 district judges on the ballot, the situation will be critical in Jefferson county," she pointed out.

"It is obvious that the present statutes must be amended to allow Jefferson county to adopt a new voting system or to experiment with a system to work in combination with the lever machines during primary elections rather than employing the use of hand counted paper ballots," she said.

Representatives of some smaller counties also said they had had difficulty including all candidates on their lever machines.

The display which members of the committee had the opportunity to view included the more conventional lever-type of voting machines, as well as computerized voting machines. The computerized systems ranged from a type which utilizes an old-fashioned paper ballot to a more elaborate device which allows voters to select their choices from a machine resembling a television screen.

Currently there are no computerized voting machines in use in Kentucky. There is some question whether Kentucky law allows paper ballots or restricts counties to the lever voting machines.

Original Smokey Bear Dies

The original Smokey Bear who was brought from New Mexico in June of 1950 to serve as the first living symbol of the Smokey Bear forest fire prevention program in the U.S.A., died Nov. 9 in his retirement cage at the National Zoo in Washington, D. C.

The original Smokey Bear served for 25 years at his post before being retired and replaced by a similar bear at ceremonies at the National Zoo in May of 1975. As required by a Joint Resolution of Congress on August 29, 1974, the remains of the original Smokey Bear will be transported to Capitan, N.M. He will be buried in several days at the Smokey Bear Historical Park at Capitan, not far from where he was found in 1950 as a cub, badly burned from a forest fire that swept through a portion of the Lincoln National Forest. A short burial ceremony is now being planned by the New Mexico State Park Commission.

The current living symbol, Smokey Bear, lives on happily at the National Zoo in Washington, D. C., carrying on the work of forest fire prevention.

The Smokey Bear forest fire prevention campaign is a cooperative program of the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Association of State Foresters.

EMPLOYMENT OF URBAN planners is expected to increase faster than average for all occupations through 1985, according to the 1976-'77 edition of the Labor Department's "Occupational Outlook Handbook in Brief." Best opportunities are predicted for graduates with advanced degrees.

APPROXIMATELY 1 MILLION employers listed nearly 8 million job openings with the U. S. Employment Service in fiscal 1975, according to the 1976 "Employment and Training Report of the President."

Art and Nature To Be Studied At Carter Caves State Park

Watching an artist re-create some of nature's most appealing scenes will be part of an Art and Nature Workshop to be held November 19-21 at Carter Caves State Resort Park, Olive Hill, Kentucky.

Chuck Ripper, outstanding illustrator, author and lecturer, will conduct demonstrations, drawing classes, and informal sessions on how to develop a better understanding of drawing and painting from nature with specific attention to birds and mammals.

Carter Caves is one of the best locations for nature study in the Eastern United States. It offers over 100 species of wildlife, and a great amount of natural phenomena such as natural stone arches, formed eons past by the earth's changing seasons and dating as far back as the great ice age.

A walk on the trails in the park also reveals a broad showing of wild flowers and relic plant life unique to the area . . . and as if the surface history and geography were not enough, there are caves to explore with the guidance of an experienced naturalist.

Those planning to attend should bring their cameras for an instructive session on the use of a camera for collecting reference material. Each person should plan to draw or paint something and should be equipped with notebooks and art materials, Ripper said.

Chuck Ripper brings a broad background of experience to the park's Art and Nature Workshop. Among other honors, his paintings have been used on 77 magazine covers and in Audubon and National Wildlife magazines.

Registration begins at 3 p.m. Friday, November 19. For more information interested persons may contact Carter Caves State Resort Park, Olive Hill, Kentucky 41164, phone 606-286-4411; or they may dial the parks Central Reservations Service, toll free from any point in Kentucky, 1-800-372-2961. Persons in surrounding states may dial toll free, 1-800-626-2911.

IN FISCAL 1975, the state employment services referred 2.5 million women to jobs and placed almost 1.3 million—40 percent of the total for both referrals and persons placed.

In 1907 they scoffed.

When the first Christmas Seal was issued, many laughed at the idea of fighting disease with a piece of paper. Today, no one need fear TB, and millions of concerned, generous Americans share in that triumph. Now, the Christmas Seal People work to bring emphysema, asthma and frightening infant lung diseases under control. You can help.

More than 11,000 Benefit From ALC Summer Activities

Pippa Passes, Ky.—During the summer, Alice Lloyd College served more than 11,000 students and area residents with classes, workshops, institutes, theatre groups and outreach workers.

Two dozen Alice Lloyd College students, working through ALCOR

(Appalachian Leaders in Community Outreach), reached 7,400 children and adults. ALCOR student workers ran health fairs, medical screening clinics for children, plus dental, hearing and vision checkups. In addition, the program sponsored community productions of three ALC Summer Theatre productions, cookouts, community improvement projects, and many recreational, arts and crafts activities.

More than 4,000 residents enjoyed productions of Appalachian Summer Theatre. This summer, ALC students in the program worked with artist-in-residence John Camera on a series of plays and sonnets entitled "Shakespeare's World." Camera is with the National Shakespeare Company. In addition, the students produced children's theatre on campus and in 27 nearby communities and rural areas.

ALC students, armed with tape recorders, spent the summer contacting some 240 area residents of the Eastern Kentucky mountains and recording their recollections about the past. After tape-recording, the students typed transcripts and cataloged their work.

"The traditional role of the Appalachian family as its own entertainment medium—stories, riddles, ballads and so on—is fast disappearing. But the Appalachian Oral History Project, begun at ALC in 1971, is preserving the rich heritage, history and folklore of the Eastern Kentucky region," says Mike Mullins, director of ALC's Appalachian Learning Laboratory.

The better to share resources of the Appalachian Learning Laboratory, Alice Lloyd College has developed special terms for visiting students. This summer, groups participating in Appalachian Term were from West Virginia University, Central Christian Church in Lexington, and the University of Cincinnati. Other individuals attended Appalachian Institute II, a workshop focusing on communication and social interaction in the culture of Central Appalachia.

Some 100 high school students spent six weeks on the ALC campus, enrolled in the Upward Bound program. This educational program supplements the cultural and academic background of selected youngsters. Many students improve academic performance so much that by their senior year they can qualify for college scholarships.

In addition, 76 students were enrolled in the College's regular summer classes.

MORE THAN 10,000 handicapped persons were enrolled in training programs during the first nine months of the 1976 fiscal year, according to the U. S. Labor Department.

By LARRY BURKE

Did you ever stop to think what causes an earthquake? Well, it is simply the result of accumulated strain. Things geologically get out of balance; first a little, and at last sufficiently that something has to happen to restore balance. Results: Catastrophe!

The same is true in the life of a nation. Historical change may appear to take place rapidly, but the actual earthquake is made up of long accumulated strain.

The same is true in the nature of man. Crises do not arrive suddenly in our lives. They are the result of what we have been doing, thinking, wishing for, for many years.

Maeterlink once said, "Nothing ever happens to a man which is not of the nature of himself."

Take a good look at the stress and strain of your own personal earthquake.

Our Thought To Remember: Look deeply into your past—you're likely to find your future.

Cancer Answer Line

A reader explains: "I would like to know just how effective X-ray mammography is in finding breast cancer in women under 50."

ANSWER line: Out of 129,000 symptom-free women between 35 and 50, enrolled in breast cancer screening demonstration projects sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute, 223 women were found to have breast cancer on the initial screening. Of these, 100 breast cancers were found by mammography alone. Of great importance is the fact that the great majority of these 223 breast cancers were found in an extremely early stage when the probability of cure is excellent in most cases. And this mammography involves very low doses of radiation: an average of nine-tenths of a rad exposure to the center of each breast (a rad is the standard unit of measure.)

A woman writes: "Several members of my family have had a colon-rectal cancer. I am concerned not only because I am afraid of developing the disease, but because I would rather die than have a colostomy."

ANSWER line: A family history doesn't mean that you will ever actually develop colon-rectal cancer or even if you do, that you will require a colostomy. A colostomy is an operation in which the diseased portion of the bowel is removed, and an opening is created in the wall of the abdomen for the elimination of natural waste. A colostomy can rightfully be considered a symbol of life rather than death from untreated cancer. Today's medical rehabilitation techniques mean that the colostomate is better able to work, enjoy sports, and have sexual contact. Without minimizing the personal effort it takes to overcome the trauma of any cancer surgery, people who have had colostomies have formed self-help clubs (United Ostomy Association) throughout the nation, and many are American Cancer Society volunteers eager to help the new colostomate adjust in a positive way. The ACS also supports the training of specialists, called enterostomal therapists, who are able to teach new patients how to be comfortable and confident. Colostomy may not yet be an easily-discussed topic, but there has been tremendous change.

The owner of a health food store writes: "When are they going to stop fluoridating our drinking water? Why should we be exposed to cancer just to prevent a few cavities?"

ANSWER line: In a report that was issued by the National Cancer Institute in June, it was once again reaffirmed that fluoridation of drinking water does not contribute to cancer. The American Cancer Society fully agrees. And, further confirmation of this well-established fact comes from the Royal College of Physicians of London as well. Cavities are hardly a paltry problem, dental caries is one of the most prevalent of human diseases!

Consumer Comments

By ROBERT F. STEPHENS
(Attorney General)

Have you ever needed the services of a repairman, asked for an estimate, agreed to have the work done for what seemed to be a reasonable figure, and then were presented with a bill which was two, three, or five times as much as the estimate? This problem is one of the more common complaints received by the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection and it is one which can be avoided if certain precautions are taken before you do business with a repairman.

You should have a good idea of what you want done and how much you can afford to spend. When you ask for an estimate on the work, ask for a written estimate and ask if the estimate itself will cost you anything. Make sure the estimate includes parts, materials, labor and the length of time needed to complete the work. It is a good idea to get written estimates from several reputable businesses so you can compare the services and prices they offer.

Since your time, money, and maybe, your peace of mind will be involved in the work you need done, the reputation and reliability of the companies you approach should be carefully considered. If a company refuses to give you a written estimate, you should be hesitant about doing business with it. Also, if one of several estimates is extremely low, you should ask a lot of questions about the reasons why the company can do the work so much more cheaply than its competitors. The price of quality work is usually competitive among reputable companies.

Sometimes, an estimate can only be made after the repairman has had a chance to examine the item that needs repair. Find out how much this will cost. Remember that people in business cannot afford to work free of charge. Frequently, the time and work necessary to gain an insight into the problem will be costly. Don't accept any estimate made by a person who does not personally assess the extent of the work which may be needed. It is important that you know exactly what every aspect of a repair job will cost, and that you get all these terms in writing.

When you finally decide to have the work done, be sure that the estimate includes a written statement that no work will be done beyond that which is set forth in the estimate and that no charges will be made except those specifically described in the estimate. Ask all the questions and get all the terms in writing before you agree to have any work done.

An agreement to have repair work done should be no less formal than any other contract. Both parties should know exactly where they stand and what responsibilities they have assumed. It is too late when you are asked to pay a huge bill and your only response is that you thought he said it would be much less.

If you have a consumer complaint regarding an estimate given by a repairman or any other consumer complaint write to the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. The office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write when you have a complaint. However, if you have an emergency situation, call the consumer hotline. The number is 1-800-372-2960.

Hall Is Co-Leader of Band

The Les Hall of the Les Hall and Bobby Williams Show is pure Floyd county. He is a son of Hollie Hall, of Printer, and before his Air Force service attended Martin High School. The Ohio Country and Western Music Association voted at its Awards banquet, Oct. 21, this group No. 1 in Ohio for 1976. The band will appear as regulars on the Cavalcade of Stars at Columbus, O. on the second Saturday night each month through December next year and guest shows on the WWVA Jamboree, Wheeling, W. Va. The group records for Robin Records, Hollywood, Calif. Its current album is titled, "Kentucky Parkway." Mr. Hall is seated left in photo. Mr. Williams is at right. Standing, from left, are Don Smedley, Danny Davis, Zeke Elek, Elzie Davis and Charlie Shelton.

IN FISCAL 1975, the state employment services referred 2.5 million women to jobs and placed almost 1.3 million—40 percent of the total for both referrals and persons placed, according to the 1976 "Employment and Training Report of the President."

APPROXIMATELY 1 MILLION employers listed nearly 8 million job openings with the U. S. Employment Service in fiscal 1975, according to the 1976 "Employment and Training Report of the President."

Rogers, 93, Says He 'Never Had A Doctor, Never Missed a Meal'

George W. Rogers, of Galveston, on Mud Creek, is what you would call a friendly sort of man, but nobody could say he has ever in all his 93 years had any great affinity for the medical profession.

"Never been in a hospital, never had a doctor and never missed a meal," he told The Times on a Prestonsburg visit last week.

Castor oil, turpentine, Epsom salts and staple drugs which he buys at pharmacies without prescriptions, plus a strong constitution in a body that for all its years is still wiry, have carried him through years of coal mining, several flu epidemics and a bout with smallpox.

When George Rogers was born in 1883, on Island Creek, Pike county, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Rogers, had no pharmacopia. In those days infant mortality was high, because the antibiotics and other medicines which now can carry a child through childhood diseases were not nonexistent. But those who survived were a hardy lot. And Rogers was among them.

Mr. Rogers admits he had been lucky to escape serious injury in two "spells" of working in the mines in days when safety was a minor item in everybody's thinking and in 30 years' service carrying the mails over rough, mountain roads. He began work as a miner at Jenkins in the days before electric power was available, and, he says, "I made about $1.50 a day."

But all hasn't been luck. "I trust my Maker—if I hadn't, I wouldn't be here." Although he is not a member of any church, he says, "I'm a peaceable man. Don't reckon I ever had a lawsuit in my life."

Mr. Rogers has no particular recipe for longevity. He says he has chewed tobacco all his life, "but cigarettes and chewing gum are two things I left off." Till about 10 years ago, he added, he drank some—"sometimes too much"—but about that time "I got whipped out with it, and no more for me."

It was while he lived at Weeksbury and worked in the coal mines there that Mr. Rogers says both flu and smallpox hit the community and included him. Still no doctor. "I worked as long as I could and took care of the rest and didn't get too sick," he said.

That was the year of the Killer Flu. "Bet I helped bury 15 to 20 people who died of flu," he said. Among these was his mine foreman.

Admittedly an oldtimer, the grizzled Mr. Rogers holds to the old ways and old remedies. He points out, for example, that none of his eight children ever had a doctor until after they had left home. "And all were breast-fed," he adds. "That was why the arrangement was made for feeding babies, to start with."

Mr. Rogers, who walks without a cane despite his years, lives alone (his wife died 28 years ago), although his children have insisted that he live with them. "I stay at home, but I do let the children feed me," he said.

One concession he has made to the years. He no longer braves all weathers, barehead.

Census To Sample November Balloting

Did you vote November 2? Were you registered but did not vote?

The Bureau of the Census will ask these and other questions about voting activity in the 1976 national election of persons 18 and older in a sample of households in this area during the week of November 15-20.

Joseph R. Norwood, director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Charlotte, N. C., stressed that no questions will be asked about party affiliation or for whom a person voted. The survey will provide a profile of the typical American voter and non-voter: age, sex, residence, education, labor force status, and family income. These voting questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor. Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Interviewers who will visit households in this area include Mrs. Caulene B. Martin, of Garrett.

Retired Teachers In Fall Workshop

The Kentucky Retired Teachers held their fall workshop November 4-5 at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, with Clyde Lassiter as manager-coordinator, assisted by Leon T. Smith, presiding president of the Eastern Kentucky Association.

Mrs. May K. Roberts and Mrs. Grace Conley, of Prestonsburg, served as hostesses, took care of the registration of retired teachers and visitors, and welcomed those attending at May Lodge and Jenny Wiley Park. Nineteen of the 31 counties in the area were represented, with a total number of 82 present.

Each retired teacher, as well as visitors who attended the workshop, received information concerning the retirement system.

Title I Teachers And Staff Members Attend Conference

Frankfort, Ky.—Title I teachers and Central Office staff of Floyd County School System attended the fourth annual Compensatory Education Conference for teachers of educationally disadvantaged children. The conference was held recently at the Galt House in Louisville.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Ruth Bowdoin, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, developed a project which was selected by the U. S. Office of Education for national dissemination on the basis of her innovative and creative teaching methods. It was one of 3,000 entries. The same project later won the Educational Pacesetter Award.

Brown Is Assigned To Frankfort Post

Clennon Ray Brown, Kentucky State Policeman and former Floyd countian, has been assigned to Post 12, Frankfort, where he works in the Woodford county area.

Formerly employed by the Fayette County Police and the Lexington Metro Police, he was with the Division of Safety and Security. A graduate of McDowell High School and Alice Lloyd College, he received the A. A. and B. S. in law enforcement degrees from Eastern State University, Richmond, in 1971. He is a veteran of the Marine Corps and is a member of the Baptist church.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, of Price, he resides in Lexington with his wife, the former Nancy Marie Moore, and son, Timothy.

No-Tillage Method Regarded Best Way to Control Erosion

By JENNY PULLIAM

Frankfort, Ky.—Farming in Kentucky isn't what it used to be. According to the state division of conservation, the no-tillage method of erosion control is replacing other conservation practices used in farming.

Some soil conservationists say no-tillage is the best erosion control found so far. Bob Sommers, who is a soil scientist with the division of conservation in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, is one who agrees. He said that crop yield with the method is slightly higher and cost per acre less than with conventional tilling practices, such as terracing and contour strip cropping.

Kentucky conservation districts first used the no-tillage method in 1969, farming an estimated 150,000 acres. Sommers pointed out that this increased to 420,000 acres in 1971, and the estimated no-tillage acreage grew to 1.5 million acres by the end of June, 1975.

Sommers explained the no-tillage method: "A farmer initiating the process begins by spraying herbicide on the existing ground cover. The plant growth dies leaving a mulch of dead plant material. Seed planting is accomplished by use of a no-till planter which utilizes a coultter, a kind of plow, to open a narrow band of soil of sufficient width and depth for proper seed germination. At the rear of the planter is a packer wheel that covers the seed."

By using a groundcover this way, Sommers said, the farmer helps retain moisture for his crops and reduces the erosion on his land. The thick mat of dead plant cover keeps down the weed growth and when the crop grows, it doesn't have to compete with the weeds. After using the method for about five years, the farmer must cultivate the land to break up the dead roots under the ground.

According to Sommers, a farmer who uses terracing as an erosion control builds up humps of land—each with a gentle 12 degree slope. Those humps of land—by breaking the water as it comes down off the hill—slow it to prevent the soil from being carried along with it. Although the method was used prevalently by farmers in the 1930's and 1940's, the amount of terracing has decreased in recent years.

"The latest annual record for parallel terracing done in Kentucky," continued Sommers, "showed 108,819 feet of land using the method, while gradient terracing, which follows a slope contour, covered 11,692,243 feet during that same period."

The soil scientist said that when contour strip cropping is used, the farmer plants the seeds in steeper sloping ground. "Alternating 10-foot strips of plowed and unplowed land descend the hillside," said Sommers, "giving the land the look of a topographic map. The grass of the unplowed portion slows the water as it flows down the hill and catches the soil particles in it." The most recent estimate available from the conservation division indicates that the state's total contour strip cropping is 35,987 acres.

Several crops including corn, tobacco, soybeans, sorghum, and truck crops, such as cucumbers and peppers, can be grown using the no-tillage method. Sommers explained that one result of the method, especially for truck crops, is a cleaner product—when it rains, the mud won't splash on the vegetables.

"Another way farmers and conservationists utilize the no-tillage method," Sommers added, "is for pasture renovation. Using a single disc, a farmer makes a furrow the width of a pencil and drops seed and fertilizer into it. Because the sod isn't broken, there's less erosion, making it a better way to renovate pastures.

The farmer gains other advantages with the no-tillage practice, such as spending less time in cultivation and putting more acres into production, he said.

Additional information on how to reduce or prevent erosion is available by contacting the division of conservation, Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, Pine Hill Plaza, Louisville Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Marching Maroons Band Includes 3 from County

Richmond, Ky.—When the 180 member Eastern Kentucky University marching band takes the field for the halftime program at football games, three of its members are from Floyd county.

They are Darryl C. Greer, of Martin; Jonell Tackett and Holly Leach, both of Prestonsburg.

Cats Lose? . . .

Coach Haywood Praises Cats' Control in Face of Pressure

"We didn't win, but we really didn't lose either—we just weren't allowed to play," the Prestonsburg Blackcats' head football coach, Philip Haywood, said following his team's 17-13 setback to Whitesburg in the Region IV championship game here last Friday night.

This year's Blackcat team was the first ever to advance to the state playoffs since the playoff system began in 1959. The Blackcats finished the regular season with an impressive 8-3 record against some stiff competition.

On the Cats' first possession they drove to the Whitesburg 20 but were forced to punt from the 40 following two penalties. Whitesburg then drove to the Prestonsburg 1-yard line but was stopped by a great effort from the Cats' defensive unit.

Prestonsburg then punched out a first down to the 12, and at that juncture William Goebel exploded off-tackle 88 yards for the first TD. Greg Dixon kicked the extra point.

The Blackcats forced a turnover at the Whitesburg 34 and four plays later Dixon scored on the option from 14 yards out. The extra point attempt failed.

The yellowjackets almost scored on the following kickoff, but Goebel saved the touchdown on the 20-yard line. He was also called for a personal foul, however. "The officials never told us what it was for. I guess he just tackled him too hard," commented Coach Haywood. Whitesburg had to settle for a field goal as the Cats' defense stiffened again. Prestonsburg began a drive of its own and finally Kerry Slone broke loose on a 40-yard scamper to the Whitesburg 5-yard line but this was called back on a penalty. Slone had two long gains called back in the first half. The half ended with Prestonsburg on top, 13-3.

The second half began with a 15-yard penalty against Prestonsburg for coming out of the dressing room late. According to Coach Haywood, the officials are supposed to give the teams a six-minute warming before the start of the half. "They did not. One of the officials stepped in and said everybody was waiting on us, but we had no six-minute warming," the coach explained. "We came out no more than a minute later and they had already marked off the penalty."

Prestonsburg fumbled on the first play from scrimmage on their own 25 and Whitesburg recovered. Then on nine plays the yellowjackets scored and followed with a two-point conversion, making the score 13-11.

On the Cats' next series they punched out a first down but the drive was halted with another penalty and Prestonsburg had to punt. It took Whitesburg 19 plays and two key penalties to go 86 yards and finally take the lead, 17-13. The Cats could not muster any offense for the remainder of the fourth quarter.

"We couldn't move the ball because every three out of four plays they (the officials) threw a flag," Coach Haywood explained. "William Goebel had two long runs called back. He and Kerry broke into the secondary five or six times and then the officials would blow their whistles and drop a flag. They said we were lining up offside, but we have some intelligent people on our offensive line. I could understand it once or twice but not 14 or 15 times."

Haywood continued:

"I know our players and coaches felt helpless. Whitesburg's defense was unable to stop us. Statistics showed we averaged almost 7 yards per carry against them (when it wasn't called back), yet we couldn't get a first down. That fact alone speaks for itself. It was a nightmare."

A questionable call at the end of the game concerning the running of the clock after a delay of game penalty had Coach Haywood standing in the middle of the field with three seconds left. He was finally assessed a 15-yard penalty for being on the field and the game ended with three seconds still left on the clock. "I only wanted an explanation and they certainly weren't going to come over and tell me," he said later. "The main reason I went out there, however, was that I felt our players had been subjected to enough and I couldn't stand to see them hurt any more."

"Everything that happened out there went against everything I stand for and everything our team believes," the coach added. "I don't know if any team in the state could have handled the pressure and constant frustration like ours did. They didn't holler at or abuse the officials, they didn't get mad at the other team, and they didn't lose their composure. Had it not been for this self-discipline, this ability to handle pressure, to act like a winner even in defeat, and the strength of God, there could have been trouble. I am really proud of our players and I love each one of them. This is a tough way to end the season, but praise the Lord!"

Wheelwright Girls Win Season Opener

By ERNIE JOHNSON

Girls' high school basketball got under way in the county two weeks ago and for the Wheelwright Trojanettes the start was a successful one.

The team defeated the Salyersville Hornets, 48-23 in the Trojanettes' season opener played at Wheelwright, November 4.

The girls, who are said to be much improved since last season took the lead in the first quarter and the game never got in reach of the Hornets. At the end of the first quarter the Trojanettes led, 13-4, and the score at halftime was 23-11. The Wheelwright girls outscored the Hornets 12-5 in the third quarter and by six points in the fourth period.

High scorer for the Trojanettes was Kathy Hall with 16, followed by Kim Hall with nine. Jo Howard and Tammy Hamby hit for eight points each, Monica Jones had five, and Kim Curry connected for two.

Salyersville scorers included Myrtle Johnson 4, Debbie Bradley 3, Diann Arnett, Jean Collinsworth, Brenda Campbell, Leatha Borders, Karen Smith, Bonnie Deuse and Katy Loper 2 each, Pam Wages and Elaine Howard 1 each.

COON HUNTERS SCHEDULE THANKSGIVING DANCE

Local Sports

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON

The 1976-'77 basketball season is under way in the 58th district (Floyd county) with the usual surprises.

The McDowell Daredevils have rolled to five straight wins without a loss while the defending regional champions, the Betsy Layne Bobcats have a 1-2 record and the Allen Central Rebels have a 1-1 mark. Prestonsburg and Wheelwright will open their seasons later.

David Turner's Daredevils picked up their fourth and fifth wins over the weekend by defeating the Bobcats at the new Pete Grigsby Fieldhouse at McDowell in an overtime (story of this game elsewhere in the sports). Saturday night, the Daredevils won over Dorton, 75 to 62.

Coach Howard Wallen's Allen Central Rebels opened their season with a loss to Magoffin County, 57 to 56. Then the Rebels traveled to Betsy Layne and surprised the Bobcats, Allen Central coming from behind in the fourth quarter to nip Betsy Layne, 61 to 60. The Rebels trailed 52-47 after the first three periods. Senior Ricky Pack paced the Rebels, with 23 points and Jack Holthouse added 17. Top scorer for Betsy Layne, was Jimmie Rose with 23 points.

Scoring: ALLEN CENTRAL (61)—Pack 23, Ellis 4, Holthouse 17, Bailey 7, Slone 8, Howard 2; BETSY LAYNE (60)—Ferrell 4, Rose 24, Cecil 10, Lykins 8, Sammons 8, Akers 6.

This Week's Schedule
Friday night—Magoffin County at Wheelwright, Mullins at Dorton, Sheldon Clark at Lee County.
Saturday night—McDowell at Feds Creek, Allen Central at Sheldon Clark, Mullins at Pikeville.

Eight Teams Listed To Play In Jenny Wiley Tourney Here

Wells Easy Winner For Morehead Council

Prestonsburg native Randall Wells, Democrat, was reelected recently to Morehead's City Council with almost a 3-to-1 victory over Larry Herrington, who ran under the Progressive Party emblem.

Wells was appointed to Council by the other five members last year when Jo Ann Needham resigned before being sworn in. He was elected to serve the remainder of the term, until Jan. 1, 1978.

With a majority of 806, Wells led in every city precinct and the absentee ballots.

Four Floyd county high school teams will compete with four from other counties in the Jenny Wiley basketball tournament over Thanksgiving week-end at the Prestonsburg fieldhouse.

First-round play next Wednesday and Thursday nights will pit Floyd teams against teams from Johnson and Pike counties. In the top bracket first round, starting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Allen Central will meet Johnson Central, and in the second game of the evening Betsy Layne will play Pikeville. Thursday, in lower bracket first-round play, McDowell and Phelps will play at 7, and Prestonsburg will meet Elkhorn City in the nightcap.

The semi-finals will be played at 7 and 8:30 p.m. Friday. The finals will be at 8:30 p.m. Saturday following a consolation game at 7.

Directors Discuss Teachers' Leaves

Several matters were resolved at the November meeting of directors of the Floyd County Education Association, despite the fact that the major portion of the session was devoted to a discussion on teachers' leaves. The meeting was held at the Martin Elementary School.

Tackling the weighty agenda were President Edgar Bingham, Vice-president William Patton, President-elect John Maddox, Secretary Shirley Stewart, and educational directors Joyce Watson, Blanche Dingus, Shelby Draughn, Forrest Curry and Phillip Chafins.

Following reports from the individual Building Representative Committees as to the membership's choice of location for the annual FCEA meeting, the executive board voted to use the Martin Elementary facilities, if renovation is completed. The meeting will be held in April.

The board of directors agreed to instruct the chairman of the Education Finance and Salary Scheduling Committee, Nadine Hicks, to select two committee members from each salary rank with an attempt to get representation from all parts of the county. This nine-member committee will include the local association's president and vice-president, who are automatically members in view of their positions.

The president noted that the KEPAC committee to be established is extremely significant, since it will be involved in various elections. The board was unanimous in its decision to have all educational districts represented. In addition to Edgar Bingham and William Patton, who will serve the Prestonsburg and Martin districts, the committee will be composed of one member from each of the other three districts. These representatives will be selected by popular vote with each director conducting the election in his district. The KEPAC Committee will become operative in January.

The possibility of sending delegates to the NEA convention to be held in Minneapolis in July was discussed with the decision to resolve the matter at a later date, possibly at the annual FCEA meeting.

The FCEA executive board conducted an in-depth investigation on the subject of teachers' leave with an emphasis on personal leave days. A recent state law provided for an additional leave of three personal days which may be granted at the option of local school boards. Thus far, this practice has not been initiated in Floyd county.

A suggestion was made to the effect that a teachers' protection committee be established for the purpose of investigating any complaints or problems teachers may have. Discussion revealed that such a committee does exist within the FCEA and the decision was made to enlarge and reactivate this group. Should a need arise, teachers may contact either President Bingham or Forrest Curry, chairman of the Professional Rights and Responsibilities Committee.

The next meeting of the executive board will be at the Martin Elementary School on the first Monday in December.

Our Fragile Earth

By DR. JERRY HOWELL
Director of Environmental Studies
Morehead State University

A recent article discussed the ecological damage caused by the importation of the Russian boar to the United States. The English or house sparrow has a similar history.

In 1850 the Brooklyn Institute appointed a committee, headed by Nicholas Pike, to plan for the introduction of the English sparrow, prized by recent U. S. immigrants for its song. The committee imported and released eight pairs in 1851, but they did not thrive. But in 1852 about 100 English sparrows were released in New York City and began to successfully reproduce. From then until the 1880's the bird was introduced to every corner of the U. S.

The importing had scarcely gotten underway before control measures were investigated. The ecological damage caused by the bird was so great that a variety of control measures were necessary. They were used as food in the finest restaurants for a time, appearing on the menu as "reed birds." They were poisoned, trapped, frightened, shot at and sometimes used as targets for trapshooters.

The factors inspiring this wrath were numerous. The sparrows had driven out native birds, such as martins, swallows, wrens, and warblers, in many areas. They had also begun to destroy decorative plantings around buildings with their droppings. In some areas the birds had been imported to rid the landscape of caterpillars, but instead of controlling the insects, they drove out birds which already were feeding on the bugs and ate native grains instead. Their voracious appetite for wheat was the

New Greenup Bank Is Granted Charter

Frankfort, Ky.—Approval has been granted for the charter of a new bank in Greenup county by the state Department of Banking and Securities.

In announcing the decision, Commissioner John Williams said the department, through its field investigation, had determined that the county could support another financial institution. He cited Greenup County's substantial population growth in the past few years and projections that this growth will continue for the next 16-year period.

The new banking facility will be the sixth bank office in the county.

The state department's approval is subject to the new facility's obtaining federal deposit insurance prior to its opening for business.

cause of bankruptcy for many farmers. Sparrows also destroy the buds and blooms of some varieties of fruit trees in the spring and the fruit itself in the fall. In cities the birds destroyed the aesthetic appearance of buildings and statues.

What the importers did not realize was that the sparrow and its cousin, the starling, are among the most adaptable birds known. They have the capacity to live in the wild and in our cities and do not fear humans. The birds have no natural enemies in the city, and they are prolific, reproducing in and on man-made structures. Soon after birth, the young are able to fend for themselves.

The failure of our control methods illustrates our helplessness against this bird. Pesticides do not seem to affect the bird and grain poisoning is indiscriminant. Noise is only temporarily effective and shooting them only affects a small proportion of the total population. The answer may lie in the development of a sterility drug added to food and this possibility is currently being researched.

The real lesson to be learned, though, is that an attractive animal in one habitat will not necessarily be attractive in another habitat. The result of importation is usually an ecological disaster.

Stumbo Hollow on Middle Creek

Thanks for the letters and phone calls from the ads I had placed in the Floyd County Times a few weeks ago concerning the Triple Elkhorn Coal Co. and Reclamation Division. Seems to me that Reclamation wants to keep this thing quiet.

I have been waiting for an answer from them, but can't get one. So I have a few more things I would like for you people of Kentucky to know.

I received a letter from some one. They would not sign their name. They seemed to be praising Harry Hale Ranier for what he is doing. They stated Triple Elkhorn had worked so many people and that coal was what make this county, so it would look like people like you that got paid well for your coal would shut up and let him do his job.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF THE INTENT TO REQUEST THE RELEASE OF TITLE I COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT FUNDS FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT BY THE FISCAL COURT, FLOYD COUNTY, KENTUCKY

The Fiscal Court, Floyd County, Kentucky, will, on Thursday, December 16, 1976, request from the Department of Housing and Urban Development the release of $183,200 Title I Community Development Block Grant Funds and the certification by the Department of a Comprehensive Recreational Facility portion of the Floyd County Community Development Project.

The Floyd County Fiscal Court made application for Community Development Block Grant Funds on April 15, 1975.

The proposed project will develop an 85-acre tract of public land currently developed with a nine-hole golf course which is located approximately .5 mile south of the city of Allen on Kentucky Highway No. 80 in Floyd County. The land will be redeveloped to provide public outdoor recreation facilities to satisfy the needs of all age groups.

The County has prepared an environmental review record of the area to be affected by the construction: said record is on file at the Office of the County Judge, Floyd County Court House, and may be examined during the hours between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Floyd County Fiscal Court will undertake the project described above with Block Grant Funds from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The Floyd County Fiscal Court is certifying to HUD that the Fiscal Court, Floyd County, Kentucky, and Henry Stumbo, in his official capacity as County Judge, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the Floyd County Fiscal Court may use the Block Grant funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: (a) That the certification was not in fact executed by the chief executive officer or other officer of applicant approved by HUD; or (b) that the applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD at the Louisville Area Office, 601 Floyd Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 40202. Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after December 9, 1976 will be considered by HUD.

Henry Stumbo, County Judge

I don't know if this person works for Triple Elkhorn or not, but this is something that I can't be quiet about. In the first place, I think this person thinks Triple Elkhorn had a lease on my land, but he did not. He tried to get my lease from me but I had heard how he left people's land and would not let him have a lease.

Yes, I agree Harry Hale Ranier employs a lot of people and I say that is good for this country and I also know coal is our source, and I got no kick about Triple Elkhorn getting coal for our country. But you are forgetting that he is getting rich out of this coal. (Pardon those words—he is already rich.) This land we are talking about, I don't know how much it is but I think about 10 to 12 thousand dollars, this is to fix back the land, and if he don't have to fix this land back, then he gets his money back, I think. Or maybe he splits with somebody. There is one man who works for Reclamation here in Prestonsburg, said that the way Triple Elkhorn left that land was wrong. He had written them up, two or three times, and sent it to Frankfort and that was all he could do. I do believe the boy was telling the truth about this. His name is Bobbie Whitaker. I will swear to this and take a lie detector test that this is true what he said. He will have to swear to this or swear a lie. Will he take a lie detector test? I will.

By the way, I have a letter from Michigan saying he owned land here in Floyd county. He is praising what I said. I will not mention his name, but if he wants me, to write me again if he sees this letter. There are lots of people in this area who have talked to me or called me on the phone, want this straightened out, meaning that people in this country should think about this thing that is happening, what they are doing to our hills.

I know coal is our source, but, since they make so much money out of this, why can't they fix the land back? Some day when the coal is gone and no money is here, what have we got?—a lot of land that is tore all to hell. I'm not going to give up because I think everybody should stand up to what is right. I know some people can't say anything in this but I need lots of help to fight this thing which I believe in. Lots of people are laughing at me, but I don't believe it is a laughing matter for the people that are interested in helping straighten this out (not only my land but yours and others and for our future).

I don't know what kind of law Reclamation has. I'm not very well educated, either. But I have common horse sense. I will say there isn't one of them that would swear that was the right way to leave the land in Stumbo Hollow and take a lie detector test. The streams are still stopped up. Is that a good reclamation job or not. Come and see for yourself. I saw in the Floyd County Times where three men had quit or got fired. The way they are leaving the lands, might as well get rid of the rest of them. No need to pay big money for nothing. The ones who are interested, call or write me and we will get together.

Sisters Killed Boarding Bus

Two young sisters died early last Thursday when they were struck by an automobile as they attempted to board a school bus on Ky. 194 at Phyllis, Pike county.

Betty Sue Justice, 7, and her sister, Sandra Lynn, 6, were killed about 7:45 a.m. in front of their home.

State police charged Steve Mastin, 21, of Kimper, with reckless homicide in the incident. He was taken to Pike county jail, pending a hearing.

Officers quoted Mastin as saying his brakes failed and that he tried to go around the bus on the right side to get into a ditch. Instead, the car struck the children, carrying them some 45 feet, before hitting a junked parked vehicle. Both girls were pinned between Mastin's car and the unked vehicle.

An investigation is continuing into the incident.

The only daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Justice, Betty Sue and Sandra Lynn were first and second graders at Grapevine Elementary School.

Joint services for the sisters were held at 11 a.m. Sunday at Miller's Creek Church of Christ.

Nazarene Church Pastor

The Rev. Gene Brugger recently assumed pastorate of the Church of the Nazarene located opposite Moore Brothers Oil Company on old U. S. 23, between Sugar Loaf and Cow Creek.

An honor graduate of Ohio University, the Rev. Brugger attended God's Bible School, Cincinnati, and was associate minister of the First Church of the Nazarene in Erlanger before coming here. He and his wife, Dianne, have three children, Kelly, Karen, and Kraig.

The Rev. Brugger extends a welcome to all to attend Sunday school at 10 a.m. and church services at 11 a.m.

Withdrawal of Red Cross Not to Affect Blood Supply

The American Red Cross termination of participation in the American Association of Blood Banks (AABB) Clearinghouse has no effect on the availability of Red Cross blood, according to a local Red Cross spokesman.

Announcement of the Red Cross pullout of the Clearinghouse has caused some concern among residents in the Tri-State Red Cross Blood Center region. Roy L. Thomas, administrative director of the center, said. The center will continue to be the main source of safe blood for the 92 hospitals it serves, he said. He added that the center will continue to meet the growing demands for blood and blood products by increasing its collections.

As of Oct. 19, the American Red Cross began a Blood Assistance Plan and discontinued membership in the Clearinghouse. Under the plan, each of the 57 Red Cross blood centers in the United States claim responsibility for supplying blood to hospitals in a specific geographical area without the assistance of the Clearinghouse which the American Red Cross has termed "complex and ponderous."

In 1960, the American Red Cross joined the AABB Clearinghouse which was designed to transfer paper credits for blood used by patients hospitalized out of the local Red Cross jurisdiction. The Clearinghouse was used as a method for accounting for the blood a person used at an out-of-town hospital.

The American Red Cross says the major stumbling block in the Red Cross and AABB Clearinghouse association has been one of philosophical differences. Where it is now considered by Red Cross a community responsibility to donate blood, AABB places the responsibility on the individual patient who is also requested to replace the blood he has used or pay a replacement fee.

A number of problems arose while Red Cross was participating in the program. Some hospital AABB members require the recipient to replace on transfused unit with two, three or more units; sometimes Red Cross blood sent as replacements ended up on the shelves of commercial blood banks and other practices and paperwork involved in the system were unequitable and costly, according to the Red Cross.

At Tri-State Red Cross Blood Center in Huntington, patients in hospitals in a four-state region continue to receive their blood needs which are made available through the volunteer blood donations, said Thomas. Thomas added that blood will be shipped directly to hospitals in and out of the region and asked that persons needing blood contact their local center or chapter so that arrangements can be made for out-of-region blood coverage.

Martin County Mining Blasted Bring Charges

By BRYAN WILKINS
(In The Lexington Herald)

Davella, Ky.—Complaints relating to dynamite blasts from residents in this Martin county community have resulted in charges being brought against a mine supervisor overseeing strip mine operations at a site above their homes.

The complaints came after an Oct. 30 incident when a dynamite blast sent a shower of rock raining into a creek bottom and hurled one rock through the roof of a house trailer.

Despite the action of the Department of Mines and Minerals in bringing charges against the supervisor, residents say they are fearful for their lives because the blasting continues.

They recall the recent deaths of two Martin countians when a large boulder rolled down a hill and crushed the trailer in which they were sleeping. Although subsequent investigations revealed the boulder's dislodging was not related to blasting at a nearby strip site, the residents here compare their situation with that of the two crushed victims.

The Oct. 30 incident has not caused any of the residents living in the 10 houses below the strip site at Davella to move, even though they contend the blasts have been showering rocks into Rockcastle Creek since last summer and, they say, once threw a rock across Ky. 3, about 100 yards from the houses.

The owner of the damaged trailer, however, says she has retained a lawyer to present her case.

According to documents on file at the Martin county sheriff's office, the mine supervisor, William M. Rowe, posted $500 bond after he was served with an arrest warrant by a blasting inspector on Nov. 1.

A hearing has been set for Dec. 14 in Martin county court on the charges that Lee Mining Co. used "too much explosive, throwing rock."

Principal owner of Lee Mining Co., James Robert Vance... contended that "everything was legal in the blast. We didn't know that area had been deep-mined and was hollow under the shot. It flew out because the ground was loose."

Vance said charges by the residents that blasting had been showering rock on them over a period of time were "purely false."

He added that he has offered to pay the trailer owner damages.

"I'm sure everything will be taken care of before the court hearing," he said, referring to the mobile home damages.

The owner of the trailer, Barbara Howard, was not living in the trailer at the time the rock went through the roof. The mobile home was rented and Mrs. Howard said the renters moved out the day after the incident.

Mrs. Howard and her half-sister live directly underneath the bench of the strip mine and both recount experiences of the past summer when rocks showered family members working in their vegetable gardens.

"There was one time when a good-sized rock landed on my car, denting it," Barbara Howard said. "When the ground starts vibrating I get scared just waiting for the blast to come. At night I can hardly sleep just thinking about what could happen."

The mobile home owner added that she has had some difficulty alerting state mining officials to the dangers she claims the mine is creating.

"I've been calling Mines and Minerals and the Department of Reclamation and I tell them in Frankfort that I can't get anybody up here to do anything," she says.

Small Game Season To Open Nov. 18; Duck Season, Nov. 20

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 10—Kentucky's small game seasons will open Nov. 18, and hunters can expect quail and rabbit populations to be slightly higher than last year, according to a survey conducted by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The survey, based on sightings made by rural mail carriers during June, July and August, reveals that statewide quail numbers are up 2.2 per cent over last year, with the largest increase in the far western part of the state.

Rabbit populations are up slightly over last year—93 per cent statewide, with the best population increase in the Hills of Bluegrass region.

In addition to quail and rabbit, seasons will also open for grouse, squirrel and furbearers Nov. 18. All small game seasons will close during the Dec. 4 through Dec. 8 gun deer season, except on selected wildlife management areas.

The squirrel season will then run through Dec. 31, while the seasons on rabbits and furbearers will remain open through Jan. 31. The last day for quail and grouse hunting is Feb. 28.

The daily bag limit on squirrels is six, with a possession limit of 12 after two or more days of hunting. Limits on rabbits are also six daily and 12 in possession. Quail hunters may take 10 birds daily and possess 20, while grouse hunters are limited to 4 daily, with 8 the possession limit.

A new regulation this year places a daily limit on raccoon of one per hunter or three per party of three or more hunters while in the field. As in the past, there is no maximum possession limit on raccoons.

Small game hunters should also be reminded of a regulation adopted last year which makes it illegal for them to have shotgun slugs or buckshot in possession while small game hunting.

The statewide duck season will open Nov. 20, and waterfowl hunters will be using the point system to determine daily and possession limits again this year.

Under the point system, different species and sexes of ducks are assigned point values. A hunter reaches his daily limit when the point value of the last duck taken, added to the total point value of other ducks already taken during that day, reaches or exceeds 100 points.

The possession limit under the point system is the maximum number of those species and sexes which could have legally been taken in two days.

This year's point values are as follows: Canvasback—100 points; hen mallard, black duck, wood duck, hooded merganser and redhead—70 points; pintail, blue-winged teal, green-winged teal, cinnamon teal, gadwall, shoveler, scaup and all mergansers except hooded merganser—10 points; drake mallard and all other species of ducks not mentioned above—25 points.

Coots are assigned a point value of zero, but there is a daily limit of 15 and a possession limit of 30 on coots.

After the Nov. 20 opening, the duck season will continue through Dec. 2, with the second phase of the split season opening Dec. 11 and running through Jan. 16, 1977.

Hindman Child, Hit By Automobile, Dies

HINDMAN, Ky.—A six-year-old Knott county child became the state's 754th traffic fatality of the year after being struck by a car late Saturday.

State police identified the child as Francisco Alberto Schindler, son of Carl and Betty Schindler, of Leburn. Police said the boy ran into the path of a car on Ky. 80 and died of multiple injuries at Appalachian Regional Hospital, Hazard, shortly after the mishap.

The driver of the vehicle was identified as Orville Hall. No charges were filed against the driver.

Services were held 10 a.m. Tuesday at New Home Regular Baptist Church here.

Salisbury Lecture Is Institute Feature

Two Floyd county social workers recently participated in Appalachian Institute III held recently at Alice Lloyd College. They are Drue Rice, Mud Creek Health Clinic, Wheelwright, and Gwen Miller, Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin. The workshop was designed for educators and professionals in health care working in rural Appalachia. The purpose of the three-day institute was to help participants to develop an awareness of and sensitivity to the Appalachian culture.

Participants viewed several films on the area and met with resource people, including workers at the Hazard Family Health Services, East Kentucky Health Services Center and the Mud Creek Health Clinic.

According to Mike Mullins, director of the Institute, the tour of an underground mine at Isom, owned by Southeast Coal Company, and a lecture by Ted Salisbury, of Martin, on "Politics, Bootlegging and Moonshine" were highlights.

OUTDOOR LORE

by Nevyle Shackelford
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY • COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

However fond we may be of the migrant birds that come and sing to us in spring and catch our bugs in summer, most of us have a deeper affection and appreciation for the ones that stay with us and bravely endure the rigors of winter.

One of the most beloved of all these little feathered comrades of the country dweller is the chickadee. This fascinating little ball of feathers has been rightly credited with the Spartan virtues of an eagle, the cheerfulness of a thrush, the nimbleness of a honeybee, the endurance of a starling and the courage of a kingbird. Something else that might be added is that its curiosity is immense, and it has more good nature than all other birds put together.

The Chickadee often travels with the nuthatch and downy woodpecker. It works on the twigs and end of branches while the other two birds usually mine the coarse bark of the trunk and larger branches. The chickadee hunts insect eggs, and the nuthatches and woodpeckers search out hibernating insects. When the chickadee is prospecting for eggs, it looks the twigs over, first from above and then, hanging head down, from below. It is a thorough worker and doesn't overlook a single spot that might hide a tidbit. Not unlike a happy, busy housewife, it sings as it works and goes. Whether flitting from tree to tree, perched on a fence post or swing head down from a twig like an acrobat, it continually voices a happy little "chickadee" to assure winter wayfarers that no matter the state of the weather, this old world is still all right and good enough for anybody.

A strange thing about the chickadee's song is that it changes in February. The "chickadee" changes to a seductive little "fee-bee," giving a rising inflection to the first syllable and a long, sliding inflection on the last. It also has some chatty, conversational type notes and now and then gives voice to a bewitching little yodel like no other music ever heard in this world. I have heard chickadees voice these notes while sitting in my hand and, as the great ornithologist Frank M. Chapman once said, the sound was reminiscent of "angel voices."

The chickadee is indeed an endearing little wild thing and one of the easiest birds with which to make friends and establish a close relationship. For several years, I had a flock of these little birds that would fly down from the trees, perch on my outstretched fingers and take food from my hand. Sometimes two or more would alight in my hand at the same time and engage in the little conversational warbles just mentioned.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all who helped us in any way during the illness and at the death of our husband and father, the Rev. Troy Shepherd. No one could have been kinder nor more helpful than Dr. Roger Jurich and the nurses at the Highlands Regional Hospital. To them we offer our heartfelt thanks. We also want to express our gratitude to the Rev. Lee Caudill and the singers of the Lancer Baptist Church, and to the Rev. Rudolph Lewis and the Rev. Jake Jarvis, of the Baptist Fellowship Church of God, for the songs and messages during the funeral. We appreciate the services and the kindness of the Carter Funeral Home, and we want to offer our thanks to all the neighbors and friends who brought food, sent flowers, and helped in any manner, at a time when we needed help most. May God bless everyone of you.

Observes 80th Birthday

Mrs. Elmer Rice observed her 80th birthday, November 5, at her home at Banner. She was born in 1896 at Dana, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Conn. On Sunday, Nov. 7, Mr. and Mrs. Rice's family had a birthday celebration at their home. The guests included their daughter, Catherine Sanderson, her husband, Bill; their sons, Charles and Lee Rice, and his wife, Maxine. Five grandchildren were present—David Rice and his wife, Judy, Stephen Rice and his girl friend Tammy Cordial, Delilah Rice, Barley Lutton and her husband, Craig, and Linda Noble and her husband, Ryan. Also at the celebration was Mrs. Rice's brother, Henry Conn, and one of Mrs. Rice's seven great-grandchildren, Matthew Noble, age six months.

NEWS OF THE ALLEN COMMUNITY

Mrs. Virginia Music and daughter, Kathy, of Ada, Ohio, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Russell Laven.

Mrs. Mildred Hall has returned to her home here after spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Elzema Gallup, of Catlettsburg. Mrs. Gallup came here with Mrs. Hall for a visit.

Mrs. Daniel Smith and children, Lana, Virgil Alex and John Thomas, and Mrs. Clark Marshall, of Wayne, Michigan, were here last week-end to attend the funeral of Mrs. Marshall's brother-in-law, Doc Maddox, of Martin. They also were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith, of Allen.

Mrs. James Riley Hall and Mrs. Russell Laven were business visitors in Pikeville, Wednesday.

Miss Laura Brackett, accompanied by Miss Mary A. Stephenson and Mike Dixon, students at the University of Kentucky, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brackett, recently. Miss Stephenson visited Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Preston and John David at Ulysses, and Mike visited parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Dixon, of David.

Mrs. Allie Howard, of Owensboro, formerly of Allen, visited friends and former neighbors here Wednesday.

Mrs. Bill Ratliff, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Laura Chandler, of Roanoke, Va., who has been visiting here for several months, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and daughter at Rural Retreat, Virginia. Mrs. Miller and baby daughter returned here with Mrs. Ratliff for a visit.

Miss Donna Clark, of Morehead, accompanied by several friends, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Clark, over the week-end.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hall was hostess to the Baptist Women meeting, Monday evening, in the educational annex of First Baptist Church. Mrs. Rosemary Frasure, WMU director, presided as she called the meeting to order by repeating WMU watchword from Ephesians 9:13. Mrs. Ethel Johnson led the group in prayer. After a short business session, Linda Mulford taught the foreign mission study book, "Stronger Than Mushrooms." Mrs. Hall served refreshments to Gertrude Clay, Pearl Watts, Alta Malone, Ruby Imes, Berniece Porter, Sarah Laven, Rosemary Frasure, Dorothy Harris, Goldia Westfall, Bonita Porter, Ethel Johnson, Shirley Williamson, Judy Short and Clarissa Short.

Out-of-town relatives here for the funeral of Mrs. Polly Ann Jones, of Banner, were Mr. and Mrs. Si Reynolds, South Rockwood, Michigan, Mrs. Rebecca Crisp, Lexington, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Metzger and children, Teresa, Lori, and Mike, of Cincinnati, Ohio. They were guests Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Obie Crisp and Mrs. Dora Nelson, of Dwayne. The late Mrs. Jones was the aunt of Mrs. Crisp.

Mrs. Stephen Ray Brackett was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower given Saturday evening, November 13, at the Allen United Methodist Church Recreation Room, where she received many gifts. Hostesses were Mrs. Kenneth Donta, Mrs. James Riley Hall, Mrs. Bill Ratliff, Mrs. Russell Laven, Mrs. O. B. Crisp, Mrs. Don Prater, Mrs. Tommy May, Mrs. Darrel Jones, Mrs. Clarence Stephens, Mr. Paul Lemaster, Mrs. Donald A. Willis, Mrs. Ray Crisp, Mrs. Leeman Bevins, Jr., Mrs. Margaret Rae Hicks, Miss Laura Frances Brackett, and Miss Mary Avonne Stephenson. Mrs. Brackett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leeman Bevins, Sr., of Banner, and former residents of Pike county.

Mrs. Menda Mullins, of Printer, was the overnight guest Friday of her daughter, Mrs. Don Prater, Mr. Prater and children.

Mrs. Kenneth Donta, accompanied by her son, James, was a business visitor in Huntington, Wednesday. They also visited relatives in Flatwoods.

Visiting Mrs. Goldia Westfall over the week-end were C. L. Cook, Frenchburg, Mrs. Lois Thomas, Dayton, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cook, Clarksburg, Ohio, and Mrs. Thelma Sturgill and son, Larry, of Versailles, Indiana. Saturday, the group visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Cook, of Topmost.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lemaster and Herbie were in Huntington Saturday on business.

MARTIN MASONIC LODGE TO CONFER M. M. DEGREE

John W. Hall Lodge No. 950, F&AM, Martin, will confer the Master Mason degree upon six candidates at a special meeting to be held Saturday evening. The first section of the degree will begin at 5 p.m., with a dinner to follow. The second section will follow the dinner. All Master Masons are invited to attend.

Disabled Vets Limited To Free License Plates

Frankfort, Ky.—Disabled veterans are entitled to only one free registration certificate and two license plates, according to an opinion from the office of the Attorney General.

The opinion, written by Carl Miller, assistant attorney general, was in answer to a letter from Bruce Simpson, legislative analyst for the Interim Joint Commit on Health and Welfare.

Simpson had asked whether a disabled veteran could purchase a second certificate of registration and a second set of "Handicapped Veteran" license plates.

Miller said that the privilege was confined to cars provided by the Veterans' administration and owned by handicapped veterans. Since veterans are only given one vehicle, they should only be allowed one set of plates, Miller said.
