Two Bodies Recovered From River

Pike Victim Found Here; Emma Man Is Victim Friday

The Big Sandy river in a period of two days last week yielded the bodies of two who had drowned in boating accidents.

First recovered was the body of 16-yearold Robert Wayne Newsome, Prestonsburg High School student, who was drowned May 2 when a 12-foot boat capsized in Pike county with him and five other members of a fishing party. His body, the object of a long and frustrating search, was sighted by two fishermen, Gary Shepherd, of David, and Raymond Goble, of Dwale, shortly before 1 p.m. last Thursday at Ball Alley here. The two men brought the body to shore and called the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad, one of the groups which had had a part in the long search.

The second victim was Charles Lee Hall, 21, of Emma, who drowned Friday night near Emma when a boat capsized with him and two others while they reportedly were raising a trotline in the river. Members of the rescue squad said they were told that the accident occurred when Hall stood erect in the boat. His companions struggled with him a distance of some 300 feet downriver before losing contact with him, it was

The drowning occurred at about 9:50 p.m. The rescue squad searched through the night, and was joined by rescue squads from Johnson and Magoffin counties. The Floyd squad and a unit of the Prestonsburg fire department recovered the body at 10:30 Saturday morning, approximately 300 feet downstream from the accident scene.

Arrest of Four Follows Probe Of Home Blaze

The months-long investigation of the home at Teaberry of Grant "Duke" Newsome, 29, resulted in the arrest last week of Newsome and three others by James B. McKenzie, state arson in-

The officer did not divulge evidence on which warrants for arrest of the four were issued, explaining only that he finally "got enough information" for the issuance of warrants.

In addition to Grant "Duke" Newsome, Larry Newsome, 33. Danny Newsome, 31, and Estalene Hall Newsome, 28, all of Teaberry, were named on second degree arson counts. Grant "Duke" and Estalene Newsome also were charged with defrauding an insurer. The officer said $10,000 bond was asked for release of the prisoners from jail here on the arson charge and $5,000 for the two accused of defrauding the insurance company.

Kenneth and Danny Mullins Hite brothers, were returned from Florida to jail here Monday by Deputy Sheriffs Phillip Neeley and Randall Lewis to answer to the charge of first degree armed robbery in the recent holdup here of Kitten's Truck Stop.

Although the number of those booked over the week-end at the county jail was well above normal, no major crime was involved, and the holiday passed without

NOONDAY TRANQUILLITY of Wheelwright's Hall Hollow belies the anxiety created there in recent weeks by intruders reportedly driving through at night, shouting threats and racial slurs and, on one occasion, firing shots.

W'wright Troubled By Recent 'Incidents'

"If we don't get some law enforcement, someone is going to get seriously hurt,' warned Bob Terry, of Wheelwright's Hall Hollow section this week. Terry was commenting on a series of incidents that have shaken the city's black community in re-

Black residents there tell of white men riding through their community at night, shouting threats and racial epithets, a ballpark scuffle between black and white youths, threatening phone calls, even an exchange of gunfire

'You'll hear 35 different stories about how it all started, said Wheelwright policeman Roger Anderson, who attributes the disturbances to a small group of troublemakers, mostly from out of town and frequently drunk

Others point to a reported dispute between black and white youths over a drug transaction, and suggestive remarks allegedly made by a white man to the white wife of a black Hall Hollow man, as causes of the unrest.

Blood Drive Slated Here on June 11

All who want to see the Floyd county blood program be successful are being urged to donate blood Wednesday, June

The blood drive will be held at the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company building here and will be jointly sponsored by the gas company and the Prestonsburg office of the Department for Human Resources.

It is pointed out that the Floyd county blood program makes blood available to those to whom it may mean the difference between life and death.

booked at the county jail on charges of wanton endangerment and drunk driving following the incident. A warrant was also issued for Gary Meyers, said to be from the Jack's Creek area, also accused of wanton endangerment

Butler said he was threatened at work three days later by an unidentified telephone caller who said, "We're going to kill all you niggers." Butler works at the Beth Elkhorn mine at Jenkins. The couple have been married five years. have two small children, and say they have had no trouble prior to the present

Another black resident of Hall Hollow, who declined to be identified publicly, saying he "did not want to become a target," told of several obscene telephone calls to his wife and of mounting anxiety in the normally quiet community has been a peaceful camp. There has been nothing like this since the '60's, when they integrated the schools, and we thought that was all over and forgotten. But now you can feel the tension," he said.

"It's changing everyone's lifestyle," he added. "People are staying in more than hours so she can get home before dark. The older people are frightened."

Arguing that the black community is largely the reason for the current influx of federal housing dollars into Wheelwright, he urged a halt on rehabilitating houses until the civil rights of blacks are adequately protected. "Before they hammer another nail, they should get protection for blacks," he said.

"I did my time in 'Nam. Then I laid my gun down. Now I just want to live and raise my family in peace," he said.

Several residents echoed his call for increased police protection for the harrassed community. State police are unable to respond quickly enough to catch the intruders, they said, arguing that the town needs 24-hour protection by local police. City Councilman Alfred Rhea confirmed

Jury Quizzes Former Heads Of Dept. Here

Two former department heads in the Prestonsburg mine reclamation office appeared last week before the federal grand jury in Lexington which is investigating reports that they had been ordered to "hit" certain Martin county mines whose ownership had supported candidates opposing Terry McBrayer, administration favorite in the 1979 race for governor.

The two, Gene Stewart, former engineer in the office here, and Nevard Wells, former senior inspector, had earlier told a newspaper reporter they had received orders to that effect from Gene Brandenburg, who at the time was commissioner of the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement. Thirteen mines were on the alleged "hit

But Governor Is Optimistic, Says Report

"The state giveth and state taketh away" seems accurately to describe the situation pondered by county officials in recent weeks as they prepared the 1980-81 county budget. And, as usual, the giving and taking of road monies proved a major area of concern.

Commenting on a press release this week in which Gov. John Y. Brown defended his gas tax revision and the economic assistance plan which replaces the former coal severance tax allocation. Floyd Judge-Executive Bill Wells made it clear he has misgivings about the changes.

"Most counties will receive more than twice the sum for road construction and maintenance during the 1980-82 biennium than they would have received under the former program," Gov. Brown wrote. But the figures for the biennium mask the fact that 1980-81 will be a lean year, Wells responded.

Gone, he noted, are the old energy road fund, which could have been expected to yield half a million dollars for state and county roadwork here, and the cooperative program by which the state reimbursed the county for use of its labor, materials and equipment on roadwork. A total of some $650,000-$700,000 has been lost with those two programs, Wells estimates.

In return, $401,541 will come to the county from the nine percent fuel tax, compared to the $198,671 which the old nine-cents-a-gallon tax would have produced. And the new economic assistance program will bring in $237,000. compared to the $181,000 the county received this year out of coal severance

The economic assistance monies, Wells concedes, come with fewer strings attached than did the former severance tax allocation-counties and cities can decide how they will be spent, for the most part. But the additional $258,870 for 1980-81 which will be yielded by the two new programs still needs to be measured against the $700,000 lost to the county, he

As for the promised increase in economic assistance funds in future years. Wells intimated that he will believe it when he sees it.

Average Floyd Teacher Pay Better than in 98 Districts

Floyd county's teachers averaged less, salary-wise, than the state average of $14,520 for the school term now ending, but at that they fared better than those who taught in 98 other school districts.

The average salary paid teachers in this county was $13,869, according tofigures released by the state Department of Education. Floyd county ranked he Assai among the 181 counties and independept districts of the state.

Area Cities Nervous About Revenue Cuts

Small-city mayors and managers are nervously eyeing Carter administration proposals for a redistribution of revenuesharing monies that threatens to hurt them badly. Prestonsburg and Pikeville city managers fired off letters to Congressman Carl D. Perkins this week protesting the most recent proposal, which, they say, would unfairly penalize rural cities.

In general, the proposal would alter the formula by which federal revenuesharing monies are distributed, from one based on population to one based on per capita income. The redistribution is designed to assist urban areas, especially in the northeast and midwest, with large low-income populations.

Under the most recent proposal Louisville stands to gain an additional $2 million next fiscal year, a 24 percent increase, while Prestonsburg would lose $74,627, a 59 percent decrease.

Larry Wingate, a public administration specialist in the Big Sandy Area Development Area office here, said the redistribution would unfairly affect smaller cities, since revenue-sharing monies make up a considerably higher proportion of their budgets than is the case in the larger cities.

Revenue-sharing, he said, is the one substantial allocation on which small cities have been able to rely. Cuts in the allocation could mean a "real reduction in services" in those cities, he said.

Prestonsburg's allocation of $126,183 last fiscal year represents about 12 percent of the city budget and finances four street department workers, the summer clean-up program, and part of the purchase of vehicles for the police and fire departments. Under the Carter proposal, the allocation would be cut to $51,556 next fiscal year.

Under the proposal, Wheelwrigh would see a reduction from $25,008 to $10,304 (down 50.2 percent), Martin a cut from $9,200 to $4,600 (down 50 percent), and Wayland a cut from $5,987 to $2,979 (down 50.2 percent). While Floyd county, excluding its municipalities, would realize an increase from $239,531 to $287,069 (up 19.8 percent), the county and its municipalities would face a net reduction of $45,000 (down 11.2 percent).

In his letter to Congressman Perkins, Prestonsburg City Administrator David Evans said the proposed cut in revenue-

Steadiness like his is not always reckoned virtue, he understands, in a world of shifting values and more militant postures, but for the Rev. Eldridge Hobert Terry, pastor of Wheelwright's Friendship and Jenkins' Mt. Olive Baptist churches, it is the steadiness of faith-and the rest, mere worldliness.

Even as Miami erupted in racial violence and, less than a block away, angry shots rang out in Wheelwright's black community, Rev. Terry affirmed that faith confidently last week in the teeth of more worldly analyses of the cur-

Although the first pioneers never saw one, covered bridges are just old enough to be an important link in American Hillsboro Bridge which was built around history. They seem to mark the difference 1870. Now closed to traffic, the bridge is 86 between the day of the horse and buggy and the automobile.

Covered bridges came much later than located five and one-half miles west of US the first barns. But they are not as old as 68 at Millersburg on the Cynthiana Pike, many people think. The first American then four miles south on the Colville Road bridge patent was for a covered bridge over Hinkston Creek. The 124-foot-long and was issued on January 21, 1797, to Charles W. Peale, the famous painter of George Washington.

Recognized as a great artist and designer, Peale was asked to plan a bridge in Philadelphia. Eight years later, a bridge was built by Timothy Palmer on the site suggested by Peale. However, Peale's bridge never got beyond the Kentucky is one of the 33 states which, altogether, have about 2,000 covered bridges. Kentucky now has 16 bridges remaining of the more than 300 which once stood in the state.

Fifteen of the bridges have been placed on the National Register of Historic Places, and all are identified by historical highway markers processed by the Kentucky Historical Society.

During the 1980 legislative session, House Bill 245 was passed, but no money was attached. However, the bill does allow for the creation of covered bridge authorities to restore, maintain and administer the bridges in certain defined areas, according to Eldred W. Some restoration work has been done by Louis "Stock" Bower, a third generation bridge builder and restoration expert who lives in Fleming county.

In 1968 Bower helped to restore the White Bridge, located off KY 32 at Goddard across Sand Lick Run leading to the Goddard Methodist Church. It is thought to be the oldest remaining bridge in the state. Private funding helped finance the Fleming county's other three covered bridges are Ringo's Mill Bridge, Sherburne Bridge and Hillsboro Bridge. Ringo's Mill Bridge is located east of Hillsboro on KY 158, across Fox Creek adjacent to 158. It was built in 1869-70 and is 81 feet long. Although it has been closed to traffic, an old U.S. flag still hangs over the west entrance.

Sherburne Bridge is the state's only suspension covered bridge. It is located on KY 11 at Sherburne on the Bath and Fleming county lines above the Licking River. The bridge is 253 feet long.

Council Balks at Stumbo Bid To Halt Nursing Home Building

The Statewide Health Coordinating Council deferred final action last week concerning moratoriums on nursing home bed and hospital bed construction. The council sent the proposals to the state's three regional health planning agencies for public comment and approval by the agencies.

Human Resources Secretary Grady Stumbo, who argued for the nursing home moratorium at a meeting of the Floyd County Medical Society here recently, made the same pitch in a brief appearance before the council. He said a one-year construction halt is needed for two reasons: lack of money and an existing surplus of approved beds.

Stumbo said the state's Medicaid program, which spends 70 percent of its dollars for nursing home care, is headed for a $25-$30 million deficit if costs aren't contained soon. A moratorium also is needed, Stumbo said, because the state has approved construction of about 3,000 nursing home beds that have not yet been

The coordinating council's plan development committee recommended that the council impose not only a nursing home bed moratorium but a hospital bed moratorium as well. Stumbo told council members the department has not yet had time to study the hospital bed situation.

Both proposals ran into a snag when council members questioned whether the council had authority to impose moratoriums and whether the panel was required to get public comment on the matters. After brief discussion, the council voted to take the proposals to the state's regional planning agencies: Health Systems Agency-East, Health Systems Agency-West and CORVA, the agency serving Northern Kentucky. Until the coordinating council takes final action on the proposals, the state Certificate of Need and Licensure Board may continue to license beds, a council staff member said after the meeting.

In other action, the council approved the state's preliminary state health plan. The document sets forth goals for improving health services ranging from mental health to emergency medical services. The plan is a step toward the adoption of a final state health plan. That task is one of the major functions of the council, which was established in October 1979 to comply with a federal law. The 31-member panel also reviews all federaly-funded health

The one and only bid offered on construction of the Right Beaver school at Eastern was made last Friday by Akers and Akers, Dana contractors, who asked $1,018,780 for the work. The bid, opened by the Floyd fiscal court as agent for the Floyd County Board of Education, was $125,450 above the low bids submitted when the project was first advertised in early 1969. Commenting on the increase in bidding, Supt. Clark said, "The additional $125,450 is a matter of concern, because that is money that could well be spent at Martin as well as at other schools in the county. It probably would have paid for the complete renovation of the high school building at Martin...Contract for surfacing 36.5 miles of KY 122 from Allen via Martin and Left Beaver Creek to Virgie as a detour route while construction of the new four-lane US 23 is under way between Allen and Pikeville was awarded to Bush Contracting Company. The contractor will be paid $2,498,639... A second damage suit was filed last week as an aftermath to the recent wreck on the Mountain Parkway, outside Prestonsburg in which a young Salyersville couple was killed and a Prestonsburg woman was injured. There died: Marshall Mahan, 56, of Prestonsburg, at Prestonsburg General Hospital; Jack Dempsey Abrams, 37, of Chicago. He was a son of James William and Mary Vanderpool Abrams, of Wheelwright; Mrs. Viola May Stewart, of Langley, at her home. She was 72 years old; Mrs. Lulu Ousley Brown, 70, of Langley, at Our Lady of the Way Hospital at Martin; Mrs. Jinilee Powers, 84, of Van Lear, in a Paintsville hospital; Mrs. Louberta Dawson Allen, 59, of Prestonsburg, at Mountain Manor; Watt Conley, 76, of Prestonsburg, at Prestonsburg General Hospital.

Letters to the Editor

Freedom Is Free

Give us your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to be free.

These words represent the very foundation of this great country of ours. No other nation can boast of any principle equal to this delcaration of freedom for all men. This is what makes America great. This is what makes America the dream of so many oppressed people throughout the world. They do not come here just looking for handouts; they do not come here just to get on welfare. If there is fault here, then let's put it where it belongs. Let's put the fault on our government's "free-hand-out" programs. Many of those who've come to America recently are people who are accustomed to handing over most of what they earn to the government, and did not come here with the intention of being buried here. As appreciated as it is, America is only a refuge to those who plan on going home one day, and possibly dying for the freedom of their country. It is only on our government's instance that these people end up on assistance.

Our responsibility as a free nation is as clear as that inscription on the Statue of Liberty. It contains no "and or buts" about it, just a yearning for freedom. I, for one, welcome those who've come, not as aliens or foreigners, but as people who have the same basic right for freedom as

Now is not the time for us to close our doors (that is exactly what Castro would have us do). Now is the time for us to open our arms and welcome our brothers and sisters. Freedom cannot be hoarded; freedom must be shared. Freedom is being free, and freedom is free.

Coal Suppliers File Suit Here For $252,000

Two coal suppliers last week filed suits in circuit court here claiming a total of $252,083.99 from buyers in alleged unpaid debts for coal and attendant damages.

In one action the Simpson Coal Company claims it sold to the Ferrostaal Corp., of New York City, coal to the value of $202,482.06, but was paid only $150,750.16. To the balance claimed as due Simpson sued for $10,000 for expenses involved in the alleged breach of contract and consequential damages, plus $50,000 punitive damages.

In a second coal sales suit, the Black Diamond Energy Corp. and Simpson Coal Sales claim the Jno. McCall Coal Co., Baltimore, Md., owes them $75,352.09 for coal supplied under contract, plus $15,000 incidental damage and $50,000 punitive damage. Plaintiffs say in their petition that between July and November last year they sold defendant $780,319.40 worth of coal and of that total were paid

The Best Remedy: Prevention

Last week we stopped on old US 23 go up Abbott Mountain to inquire from young couple what they were doing. T couple told us that they were p ticipating in the Floyd County Clean-Campaign. They were bagging and bo ing the trash and garbage which had be dumped there over the last many mont and which has been an eye-sore to all of who live on the mountain. Too bad r more of us have this kind of interest cleaning up our community.

It is time that we ask ourselves why w even have this trash and litter problem i Floyd county. Perhaps the problem exist because the county does not offer alter native disposal means for those who can not afford regular pickup service.

There are other ways of disposing o refuse. Some ideas the county could ac upon are to provide county-owned dump sters at popular dumping grounds, and to encourage the recycling of aluminum, glass and newspapers by establishing recycle centers. Citizens could write their legislators to demand deposits on cans and bottles, and gardeners could compost their garbage.

Let's try to prevent the problem rather than only cleaning up the problem.

way, some of us are obscured."

Carrithers, a retired Louisvillian and Americanism chairman for Jefferson Post 15, of the American Legion, has begun a personal crusade of educating people how to display the flag. People are not really disrespectful, most simply cluding those who have died for their don't know what is proper, he said.

> The right, respectful way to display the flag follows these rules:

1. The flag should be displayed only from sunup to sundown on buildings and stationary flagstaffs. It may be displayed 24 hours a day if it is properly illuminated at night. The flag should be hoisted briskly, but lowered slowly and ceremoniously. It should not be flown in bad weather unless an all-weather flag is used.

2. When carried in a procession with other flags, it should be on the marching right, that is, the flag's right. If a number of flags are carried, the American flag may be in front of the center of a line of

3. When it is displayed against a wall with another flag, the Flag of the United States should be on its right (viewer's left) with its staff in front of the staff of the other mag.

4. If other flags are on the same halyard as the American flag, they should hang below the U.S. flag.

5. When flags of two or more nations are displayed together, they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and should be approximately the same size flags. One exception-The United Nations flag may fly from a taller staff than national flags, but only at U.N. headquarters in New York.

The United States Flag should always be displayed to its fullest, never bunched or gathered. Nothing should be placed on or in a flag.

7. If the flag is displayed otherwise than by being flown from a staff, it should be flat or suspended so that its folds fall as free as though it were on a staff. If it is displayed against a wall, the union (the blue star-spangled portion) should be uppermost and to the flag's own right (to the viewer's left). If it is displayed over a street, the union should be to the north in an east-west street or to the east in a north-south street.

8. When used on a speaker's platform, the union should be to the flag's own right, or to the viewer's left.

9. If the flag is to be flown at half-staff, it should first be hoisted to the top of the staff and then lowered to half-staff. It should again be hoisted to the peak before it is lowered at sunset. On Memorial Day, the flag should fly at half-staff until noon and then be raised to the top for the rest of

10. The flag should never be allowed to touch the ground or floor or trail in the water. It also should not fall onto a table or chair when it is displayed indoors.

11. The flag should never be used as clothing, bedding or drapery. The one exception to this is that a small flag may be worn as a patch on a military uniform or as a pin on the left lapel.

12. The flag must never be used in any form of advertising, nor should an advertising sign be posted to a pole from which the flag is flown.

Carrithers said if bunting is used, it should be arranged so the blue is on top and red on the bottom.

The proper form for saluting the flag is to come to attention, he added. People in uniform--military personnel, police, firefighters, scouts-should render the military salute. Men not in uniform should remove their hats and hold them over their left shoulders, so their right hands are over their hearts. Women not in uniform should place their right hands over their heart.

If the flag is displayed, the audience should stand at attention, facing the flag. and hold their salutes during the National Anthem or Pledge of Allegiance, Carrithers said.

Advertisements and offers for work-athome schemes are increasing, but few details concerning such work are explained in these ads. These offers are usually directed at housewives, senior citizens, or disabled consumers.

Unfortunately, many of these work-athome schemes can end up costing money instead of making money

The attorney general's office has recently received inquiries about answering ads to stuff envelopes at home in your spare time to make extra money.

False claims are usually made in these offers about the amount of money you will be able to make, the amount of time involved and the market demand for the

Typically, these work-at-home schemes suggest to consumers that hundreds of dollars of extra income can be made monthly. Many consumers never hear from the company once they have invested their money. Sometimes, the consumer will receive only the initial shipment of materials and never receive any other materials. The companies usually cannot be contacted concerning these problems once money has been sent.

Before sending any money to one of these companies, whether the scheme involves stuffing envelopes, folding T-shirts or another type of scheme, write the company. You need to find out who will be responsible for paying the postage of mailing the materials to the company or who will pay for the postage upon receipt of the materials from the company. Also find out how much total time and money will be required on your behalf. A reputable business will gladly supply you with this type of information.

Take caution before investing in a workat-home program. If, after getting more information from the company, you are still interested in the work-at-home program, you should at least do the follow-year, your tax bill was probably the biggest bill you paid all year. If you want to lower this year's tax bill, now is the time to start planning for it.

Tax planning is impossible without well-defined personal financial goals: knowing exactly how much you earn and spend, and having a clear idea of how you remember that a $1,000 contribution plan to use your money in the future. The Kentucky Society of CPAs advises you to keep up to date on your finances because a good deal of your spending has tax ramifications. Bills, receipts, appraisals, and cancelled checks should be kept in a simple, handy and orderly system. Set up a record book with current totals broken down into the categories on your federal income tax return. If you stay organized throughout the year, CPAs say, it won't be such a chore to prepare your 1980 federal income tax return.

Begin now by filling out a Form 1040 with your 1980 anticipated income, deductions, exemptions and credits. Tax rates for 1980 will probably be unchanged, so figure out what your tax bill is likely to be.

To reduce your taxes you can lump every available deduction into this year. or you can defer as much of your income as possible until future years---or you can do both this year. That might make next year's tax bill correspondingly higher, but you will have had the use of the money in the meantime. For instance, if you lump deductions into alternate years, you might be able to get, say, $4,000 of deductions in odd years and $2,000 in even years. This way, you itemize deductions in the odd years and deduct the zero bracket amount ($3,400 for a joint return) in even years. Otherwise, you would have $3,000 of deductions in each year and would never get any tax benefit from need a car in the future, buy it in the year when that substantial sales tax deduction will do you the most good. To add to the usual medical deductions, perhaps you can prepay 1981 medical expenses for an elderly parent in a nursing home.

In planning deductible contributions, lowers your tax burden by $500 if you are in the 50 percent marginal tax bracket. If you donate appreciated property, your contribution may cost even less, so ask your tax advisor whether it is better to sell the property and contribute the proceeds to charity, or to give the property

The "points" paid on a secured mortgage or home improvement loan are deductible in the year paid, so if you plan to buy a home this year, you may want to pay this amount by separate checkrather than having the bank withhold it from the loan proceeds.

If you pay estimated state income taxes, you may want to pay the final installment in December instead of January, so it will be deductible on your 1980 federal income tax return. This can also apply to accelerated payment of accrued property taxes, although you cannot deduct tax payments made to a mortgage company and held in escrow (until they are paid to the taxing authority.)

There may be deductions to consider in all plans you make during the year, CPAs say. Can you possibly combine a vacation with a tax-deductible business or househunting trip? Will you change jobs this year? Do you plan to support a foreign student in your home? (You may be able to claim expenses of up to $50 a month as a charitable contribution.) If deductions will not be substantial this year, consider postponing payment of some bills, until next year when the deductions will mean bigger tax savings.

coming year. Are you supporting a parent who does not qualify as a dependent because he earns more than $1,000 from interest or dividends? Perhaps that parent will consider transferring his funds into tax-exempt bonds, so that you can claim him as a dependent. If you have a multiple support agreement with other members of your family and you alternate the exemption for a parent each year, plan with them ahead of time as to who would most benefit by the exemption

What about credits for child care. energy-saving home improvements and political contributions? Like deductions, credits can be ganged up-and remember. credits are subtracted directly from your tax bill while deductions reduce your total income before the tax is figured. Thus, credits mean more money in your pocket.

If your year is likely to be limited in deductions, credits or exemptions, plan to reduce your tax bill by deferring some of your income. The most obvious way, if you qualify, is to invest some of your income in an Individual Retirement Account or a Keogh Plan. Interest on municipal bonds is tax-exempt so you may want to invest money there, depending upon your marginal tax bracket.

It's been estimated that three out of four families pay more federal income tax than necessary, so it pays to plan ahead for your tax bill. Always keep your current financial situation in mind, CPAs say, and keep abreast of constantly changing tax regulations, so that you'll know how to make decisions and choices that will affect you tax picture-in your

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Bizwil, Inc., P. O. Box 814, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 intends to file an application for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 152 acres located north of Lancer in Floyd county. The proposed operation is approximately 1 mile northwest of State Route 1428's junction with State Route 3 and located north of Levisa Fork of Big Sandy River, latitude 37°40'50", longitude 82°44'55". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by: J. B. Clark Heirs, Woodman and Marie Crider, Phil and Norma Fraley, Dewey Lake Fish and Game Club, S. P. Davidson Heirs, Jonah ple G. Stepp, W. P. Mayo, L. H. Mayo, Jr., F Elson and Ruth Kendrick, Sally and John, Jr. Goble, W. B. Williams Heirs, and Opal May. A brief description of the kind of mining activity proposed is: contour strip and mountaintop removal with spoil disposal areas. The application will be filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Prestonsburg Area Office, South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Persons wishing to file written objections and-or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. A copy of the newspaper clipping must be attached to the written objection. The objection or request for a hearing will reference application number 036-0034. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2) and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601

Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 30 CFR 715.13 (d) (10) and KRS 350 that the proposed post mining land use does not constitute a change from the pre-mining land use. Public comment regarding a proposed change in land use may be submitted to the address listed above.

Child Care Program Enrolling Children

The Rural Child Care Project is recruiting handicapped children to take part in the program.

The childen are being enrolled to use the full range of Head Start education, health, and other program services under a Congressional mandate providing 10 percent of Head Start enrollment nationwide for the handicapped.

The mixing of handicapped children is expected to give all the children a valuable experience in learning to understand and respect differences among peo-

For more information or to enroll a child, call 886-3548 or come by the Rural Child Care Project Floyd County Office, Box 285, Prestonsburg, second floor, Floyd County Rescue Squad building.

In the program, a handicapped child is encouraged to think less about his disability and more about his strengths as he relates to other children. By learning and playing with children who are not handicapped, the child improves his selfimage, overall development, and sense of Rural Child Care Project staff workers are trained to work with handicapped children and their families. The program also works with other agencies in the community to providce the full range of services a handicapped child may need.

The Congressional directive defines handicaped as "mentally retarded, hard of hearing, deaf, speech impaired, visually handicapped, seriously emotionally disturbed, crippled, or other healthimpaired children who ... require special education and related services.

Head Start began in 1965 under the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare as a program for preschool children of low-income families.

Energy Update

Checklist For Savings

The General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC) has started a program aimed at the consumer. Its purpose is to instruct homeowners on an effective yet relatively inexpensive way to save money on cooling and heating costs by making some important home improvements. For best results, the club has compiled a checklist of five areas in the home to concentrate on:

• The Attic-Insulation: Measure the depth of the insulation found between the supporting beams in the ceiling. The map on this page tells you the amount of insulation required. (R-Value represents the amount of insulation your house needs-in numbers.) A building supply dealer can instruct you on installation and cost. Vents: Proper venting cuts down on the accumulation of moisture in winter or heat in summer. Approximately 1 sq. ft. of venting is desirable for every 150 sq. ft. of attic.

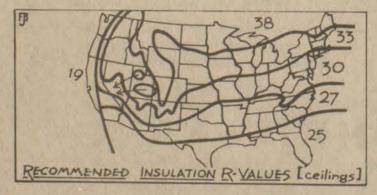

• The Living Areas—Air Leakage: A simple test for leaks can be done by holding a lit candle in front of a window, door frame, or window air-conditioner. If the flame begins to flicker, you should install weatherstripping, caulking, or storm windows. (Once again, talk to a building supply dealer.) Wall Insulation: Check insulation by shutting off all your electricity; then take off the plate of an outlet from an outside wall. If you see insulation there, it's probably adequate—and usually it costs too much to add more.

• The Kitchen-Seals: Check for leakage by placing a dollar bill in the freezer, refrigerator and oven doors. If the bill pulls out easily, you'll have to replace the seals. Appliances: Where utility companies charge higher rates for peak hours, use you major appliances in the morning, evenings or on weekends.

• The Furnace-Heating and Cooling Systems: Replacing or cleaning air filters once a month helps the system to work more efficiently. In addition, the system should be serviced once a year. Water Heater; Since this is the No. 2 energy user in the home, it is important to keep temperatures set between 140-160° and to drain sediments 3-4 times a year.

. The Outside-Windows: Energy waste can be cut by using storm windows or double-paned glass. Let in sunlight during the winter, while keeping it out during the summer with drapes or shutters. (Also, consider storm doors, which create an air space between your door and the storm door, thus providing insulation.) Weatherstripping and caulking: You can caulk windows and weatherstrip doors to lower your

Humidify For Comfort

During the winter months, what device will keep your comfort at a maximum, while keeping your energy consumption at a minimum? A humidifier, of course.

The amount of relative humidity is called R.H. and describes how much water vapor is in the air, in comparison to how much the air s capable of holding. In an average home during winter, the R.H. s approximately 10-15%. With the installation of a central-system numidifier, the R.H. of a home would be about 30-40%, the maximum omfort level. And, once the R.H. of your indoor air is increased, your el savings could be as high as 15%.

These are some other facts about the humidifier:

Whatever method you use to heat your home-hot water, tricity, gas, oil, or solar—there is a humidifier for you.

A heating and air-conditioning contractor can install a power differ in your home. Installation is on either the furnace or d-air ducts.

CHURCH GROUP TO MEET

The Annie Allen Circle, W.M.U. of the home of Mrs. Beatrice Collins, at the High would be no charges for incoming calls. Rise Apartments, Monday evening, June

South Central Bell Telephone Co., of Louisville has filed a request with the state Regulatory Commission for authority to implement a billing system that could cut some consumers' phone bills by as much as 15 percent.

ASKS NEW BILLING SYSTEM

The system, known as residence measured service, is an optional pricing plan for local telephone service. If the commission approves the plan, it will be offered in Frankfort late this fall. Under the proposed plan, residential customers could choose measured service and pay a reduced basic charge that includes an allowance of local calling and then pay additional charges only if their First Baptist Church, will meet at the calling exceeds the allowance. Born August 3, 1922, at Dony, she was a daughter of Mrs. Ollie Johnson Orsborn, of Jackson, Ohio, and the late Joe Orsborn. She was member of the Primitive Baptist Church of Columbus,

She is survived by her husband, Lee Howell; three sons, Homer Howell, of West Jefferson, Ohio, Harold Howell, of Galloway, Ohio, and Jimmy Darrell Howell, of Plain City, Ohio; two daughters, Mrs. Cristine Browning, of West Jefferson, Ohio, and Mrs. Betty Stumbo, of London, Ohio; six brothers, Estill Orsborn, of Ligon, Carmel Orsborn, of Circleville, Ohio, Victor Orsborn, of Indianapolis, Ind., Rex Orsborn, of Jackson, Ohio, Virgil Orsborn, of Hilliard, Ohio, and Vivle Orsborn, of Johnstown, Ohio; one sister, Mrs. Tinie Royster, of London, Ohio; 10 grandchildren and one greatgrandchild.

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Betty Stumbo by the Rev. Rufford Howell. Burial was made in the Plumwood (Ohio) cemetery under the direction of Geer-Eberle Funeral Home.

The total number of businesses in the U.S. is 13.9 million, and 10.4 million are considered small by U.S. Government standards. These small businesses are being honored during National Small Business Week, May 11-17.

The percentage of Kentucky manufacturing firms involved in exporting is more than three times the national average, according to the state Department of Commerce. Although only 7 percent of the firms in the United States export products to other countries, one out of every four Kentucky businesses export.

Named Outstanding Floyd 4'Hers

Connie Gray and Todd O'Brien were selected recently as the Outstanding Floyd County 4-H Girl and Boy for the 1979-80 club year. The competition for the honor is sponsored by the Courier-Journal.

Connie has been a 4-H club member for eight years and has won numerous championships in speech and demonstrations. She has served as a teen leader in both junior and day camp. She is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, Langley, and is a member of the Allen Central Teen 4-H Club.

Todd has been a club member for seven years and is a three-time state champion in poultry judging. He represented the state at the National Poultry Contest in 1979, has been county and area champion in both demonstrations and projects and serves as a teen 4-H leader. He is the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob O'Brien, of Stanville, and is a member of the Betsy Layne Teen 4-H Club.

BAROONS GET THE DROP ON HIKERS IN SOUTH AFRICA

CAPE TOWN, South Africa-Vernon and Michele Wicomb were hiking in the hills near Cape Town recently when they were waylaid by a gang of huge, hairy, chattering thieves, the South African darter, arrow darter, popeye shiner, bar-Press Association reported. Their cheek darter and telescope shiner. assailants were a half-dozen baboons.

The over-curious simians made off with a knapsack containing two car keys,a pack of cigarettes, two cans of beer and a purse with an undetermined amount of money inside. The Wicombs were unhurt in the encounter.

"Be on the lookout for a group of rich, drunk, cigarette-smoking baboons jingling a set of car keys," the association deadpanned.

In Memoriam

In memory of Debra Jo Clark, loving wife of Gregory Clark, mother of Stacy Lynn Clark, by her mother and father, Clay and Donna Wells Blair, her brother, Danny Clay Blair, and all her relatives and friends.

We must trust God's Promise and doubt him never, for only through death Can one live forever. Death just another step along life's changing way, No more than just a gateway to a new and better day. And parting from our loved ones is much easier to bear When we know that they are waiting for us to join them there-For it is on the wings of death that the living soul takes flight

Into the promised land of God Where, there shall be no night. So death is just a natural thing, Like the closing of a door

As we start upon a journey to a new and distant shore-

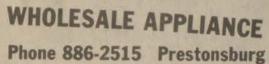

And none need make this journey undirected or alone, For God promised us safe passage to this vast and great unknown. So let your grief be softened and yield not to despais.

You have only placed your loved one in the loving Father's care.

Something Old And New In Wedding Trends

By Catherine Winters

Wedding bells have been pealing for centuries, and they'll be ringing for quite some time to come. Though divorce rates are rising and premarital living arrangements are in vogue, the traditional wedding survives.

Of course, some aspects of the traditional wedding ceremony have changed, but it's not an exaggeration to note that weddings have come full circle. The barefoot, outdoor weddings have moved back into candlelit cathedrals. The Indian peasant dress has changed to lace and orange blossoms once again. Not surprisingly, though, some of the more traditional weddings of today still manage to retain something of the non-traditional flavor of the '60s. Anything—as long as it's done with taste and sincerity—seems to go.

Below, a breakdown of some of the new wedding etiquette:

Ceremony. Whether you opt for a civil or religious ceremony, you shouldn't encounter too many problems finding someone to help you tie the knot.

Don't shy away from thoughts of a religious ceremony if you're a Catholic, for example, who wants to marry a Protestant. Catholic canon law, like the laws of other religions, has softened during the years. Interfaith marriages are much more easily performed.

Should your clergyman be unable to help you, consult another one. Sometimes what one clergyman can't do, another can. Talk to a chaplain at a nearby college; sometimes they're much more sympathetic to your point of view.

If you want a ceremony that is strictly by the book, fine. But, don't be afraid to write your own vows. Many clergymen are only too willing to accommodate the imaginative couple.

Maiden Name. About half the states don't legally require a woman to assume her husband's name upon marrying him. Doing so has been a matter of conforming to custom, pure and simple. If the woman chooses to retain her maiden name or to use both her maiden name and her husband's surname, it's up to her.

However, bear in mind that some state affiliated groups do require the name change. Check your state's laws for more details on this question. Whatever your decision, always use the same name for legal purposes.

Pay Up. The financial guidelines for paying for the wedding expenses

If you decide to wed in the year 2000, you just might walk down the aisle in a wedding dress like this, predicts Seventeen Magazine. You will glow with metallic make-up—not only eyes and lips, but the entire face! Some things never change, though; you will still be wearing white. Photo: Triangle Communications, Inc.

are fairly cut and dried, and haven't changed much over the years. It is tradition for the bride and/or her family to pay for the cost of the ceremony, reception, invitations, flowers for the church, church rental, and accommodations for the bride's attendants, among others.

The groom and/or his family shoulders responsibility for the marriage license, flowers for the men and women in the bridal party, the fee for the clergyman, the honeymoon trip, and the rehearsal dinner.

If you and your fiance want to pay for the wedding out of your own pockets, do so discreetly and diplomatically. You might suggest that your parents contribute towards a special gift for you. Whatever your choice, be careful not to hurt anyone's feelings; never leave the bride's family with the feeling that they weren't able to give their daughter the wedding she

Style Is All. Despite the changing times and trends, most weddings still come under four major headings: very formal, formal, semiformal and informal

At a very formal wedding, usually held at high noon, late afternoon or during the evening, the bride wears a long gown with a long train and veil. The maid-of-honor wears a floor length dress as well, as do the six to twelve bridesmaids. Morning clothes or tails should be worn by the groom and other male members of the wedding party. Two hundred or more guests are in attendance, and the ceremony is usually topped by a large reception.

Formal weddings also call for the bride to wear a long gown, but she might opt for a short train and medium length veil. The maid-of-honor and four to six bridesmaids wear floor length gowns while the groom and other males are clad in formal attire. There is a large reception, attended by about one hundred guests.

Semiformal weddings traditionally call for a short wedding dress or a long, informal dress for the bride and her maid-of-honor. A veil can be worn but so can flowers or hats. One or two bridesmaids wear short dresses and the men wear dark suits. Under a hundred guests are usually in attendance at the morning or early afternoon ceremony, followed by a small reception.

Informal weddings are just that. The bride and her maid-of-honor can wear informal dresses, either long or short, and the groom and best man wear suits or more casual clothes. The ceremony is held during the day and is followed by a small reception.

Invitations. Very formal, formal and semiformal weddings call for engraved invitations. Informal invitations can be handwritten. No matter what style wedding you choose, be sure your invitations are in the mail at least four weeks prior to the big day. It is no longer necessary to include reply cards, but you can still do so to make responding that much easier for your guests.

Michael Keith Bryant celebrated his seventh birthday Tuesday, May 20, at his home at Drift.

Cake and ice cream were served to his aunt, Liz Patton, cousins, Amy and Stevie, and brother, Patrick.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Bryant, and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper, of Drift, and of Mrs. Sadie Bryant, of Vineland, N.J., and Oliver Bryant, of Albion, Michigan.

Natural Bridge Park Area Dance Center

Richard Jett, who is in charge of square dancing programs at Kentucky's Natural Bridge State Resort Park, says, "I'll be happy to show everyone lots of easy-tolearn mountain and western squares, with waltzes, polkas and many other couple dances thrown in."

There is dancing at Hoedown Island, the park's big open-air patio, on Saturday nights from April 26 to Oct. 25 and on Friday nights, May 23-Aug. 22. "We usually have more than 1,000 attending on Saturday nights, with people from as far away as Indiana and Ohio," Jett says. Mountain-style dancing groups from nearby communities often give short exhibitions during each program.

Other dancing events scheduled at Hoedown Island are a 10th annual Shindig in the Mountains, featuring bluegrass music and mountain-style square dancing, May 24-25; the 14th annual National Mountain Style Square Dance Festival, featuring many of the nation's top clog teams, June 13-14; a Kentucky Square Dance Frolic, featuring both mountain and western callers and bluegrass music, July 3-5; the Square Circlers Club from Frankfort, July 12, and the 15th annual Western Square Dance Festival, Aug. 29-31.

To Recognize Volunteer Work

The Governor's Office of Volunteer Services is accepting nominations for the 1980 Volunteer Activist Awards, according to Norma W. Johnson, executive director of the office.

Presented since 1977 to honor individuals and groups for outstanding volunteer service, the awards are cosponsored by Stewart's, Germaine Monteil Cosmetiques and the Governor's Office of Volunteer Services.

"Kentucky's volunteers consistently continue to contribute to the welfare of the commonwealth. This then is an attempt to bring some small sort of recognition to them for their efforts," said Mrs. Johnson.

Any individual or organization involved in voluntary or unpaid activities that benefit the community, state or nation may be populated.

may be nominated.

Award winners will be chosen by the Governor's Volunteer Advisory Council. State award winners will be announced this fall in Frankfort.

Nomination forms with complete filing instructions may be obtained at the Germaine Monteil Cosmetique counter at all Stewart's stores, at Local Voluntary Action Centers and through the Governor's Office of volunteer Services, 903 Collins Lane, Suite 7, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. (502) 564-HELP.

All nominations must be submitted to the governor's Office of Volunteer Services and postmarked no later than July

Miss Williams-Mr. Collins Wed

In a double-ring ceremony, on Saturday, May 10, at 1 p.m., Miss Susan Elaine Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, became the bride of Mr. Gene Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Collins.

The marriage was performed at the Irene Cole Memorial (First) Baptist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Dean L. Pack, in the presence of the families and friends of the couple.

The background for the ceremony was a white arch covered with miniature white mums, intertwined with ivy, and two large urns holding pink flowering evergreens.

Prenuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Joe Buchanan, organist. Prior to the wedding vows, Mr. Gus Kalos sang: "The Wedding Prayer," by Faure; "One Hand, One Heart," by Rodgers, and "The Lord's Prayer," by Molotte. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a long, white taffeta and lace wedding gown. A white lace matching veil, interwoven with small flowers, attached to a rhinestone pearl cap, completed her attire. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace, with matching earrings, and her corsage was of rainbow-colored silk flowers, with long, white streamers. Miss Donna Marie Bassett, sister of the chid. bride, served as maid-of-honor. She wore pink, taffeta, pleated, floor-length dress, with matching hat. Her wrist corsage was of small, white dogwood and pink roses. Stewart, Miss Mary king and Miss Karen Ramey. Each wore a floor-length pleated dress, with matching hat, and a wrist cor-

BUSINESSMEN LOOK TO U.S. FOR GUIDELINES ON BRIBERY

An official of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce says the federal government must give businessmen a better idea of how to comply with laws on paying bribes in foreign countries.

John L. Caldwell, chamber international vice president, said business will be pressuring the Carter administration to 'develop clear guidelines" on the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act at a time when improving the U.S. balance of trade calls for expanding exports.

Many businessmen have complained that the law puts them at a competive disadvantage with other countries in exporting goods.

AUCTION CONTROLS

In an effort to place more effective controls on auctions of state surplus properties, Secretary of Finance George Atkins is implementing a set of recommendations he first proposed when he was Kentucky's auditor of public accounts.

Under the procedures anyone who wants to bid at an auction of surplus state property will be registered and assigned a ticket number, he said.

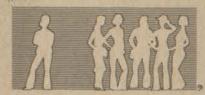

Immediately after each item is purchased a clerk will list the auction ticket number, item number and amount of sale on a standardized form.

After the sale, the clerk's list will be signed and certified. It will then be compared with the cashier's reconciliation of purchases providing an independent, item-by-item check on auction proceeds.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL Invites Whole Families

An exciting program has been prepared by Faith Bible Church for Vacation Bible School to be held Monday, June 2, through Friday, June 6. JESUS, I BELIEVE IN YOU is the theme for the school, to be held each weekday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Classes will be offered for all ages from beginner (age 4) through high school

The central goal of Vacation Bible School is this: That souls be won to Christ and grow in Christ. Bible-based lessons will be taught with excitement and variety through the use of many advanced teaching methods. Students will be challenged and involved through such activities as these: song time, Bible study, interesting visual demonstrations, classroom interaction, craft making, and many other innovative methods in keeping with the theme, JESUS, I BELIEVE IN YOU,

Workers in the school are needed and welcome. For information regarding attending and/or assisting, call 285-3446 - 285-9155 - 285-3381. Bring the family, friends, and neighbors. There is help (and fun) and spiritual growth for all at Vacation Bible School!

You and Your Car

A Lesson In Window Leaks

A leaky car window, if not corrected in time, will stain your car's interior and detract from its appearance.

If you have this annoyance corrected at a garage, the bill can be high, but if you are a bit handy with tools you can do this job yourself at a fraction of the cost.

The first step in the correction of a leak is to obtain the correct tools and materials. These are:

· A medium-sized screw driver.

. A caulking gun which can be purchased at a hardware or automotive store.

· Either a windshield moulding knife or a linoleum knife (which has a curved blade). Both can be purchased at a hardware store. · A windshield sealer cartridge, which can be purchased at an automotive store.

Remove the window moulding with your knife by slipping the blade under the moulding until you come to a clip. Then slip the point of the knife between the clip and moulding, and twist the tool. This will free the clip. Proceed along the moulding performing the same operation. The moulding will come off easily if it is properly done. When removing the moulding, take care not to bend it. If bent badly, it will be difficult to reinstall it neatly.

When all the metal moulding is removed, remove the old sealant from its channel, using the knife to clean out all the areas where you see a break in the old sealant. (That's where the window leaks.) Do all four sides of the window.

When this job is finished to your satisfaction, you are ready to caulk. Read and follow directions on the sealer cartridge. Place the cartridge in the caulking gun and spread a bead or line in the channel that you have cleaned out. You can smooth down the sealant with the tip

After you've finished the beading, reinstall the metal moulding. You should have little trouble if the moulding has not been bent. The moulding should look as neat as it was before you started the job, and your window will be waterproofed for several years.

The Price Is Right

Buying a car? The rising price of gas makes your car's mpg rating as important as it's sticker price. To find out what it will cost you in gasoline dollars to run your car for a year, estimate the number of miles you drive each year, then read across the chart until you find the number of miles your car gets per gallon of gas. The chart will show you how much you'll pay for gas in one year at an average cost of 70.5 cents per gallon.

Wendell Wallen Is Banquet Hit

By KENNY RICE

Can any 15th Region basketball fan ever forget a team coached by Wendell Wallen during a tournament? The teams were always going beyond their limits, always capable of winning the tournament no matter what the record was or what the true talent of the team was. Wendell Wallen was the master of generating pride and effort in his teams.

After hearing Wendell speak at the Allen Central High Athletic Banquet, May 20, it is easy to see how he was able to stir the emotions of his players, he retired from coaching last August to take an administrative position at Johnson Central Elementary. From what I heard of his speech to the near capacity crowd in the foyer of the high school, and from the reaction of the others in attendance, Wendell has launched a new career as a speaker (if he takes time out from fishing). To say the least, he was a hit.

Wallen's speech centered around enjoying high school sports and trying to gain from the experience to aid later on in life. he emphasized not placing too much on winning and losing on the high school level, pointing out that his main goal with every team was to make the game fun, and hope the players were able to become better men for having played basketball. The attitude of "winning is the only thing," Wallen noted, is for big-time colleges and professional sports.

Throughout his talk, Wendell's easygoing wit came through in some crisp jokes and anecdotes. His down-home charm brought his message across simple and direct. He is a natural.

Boys' Basketball (Coach Howard Wallen, record 30-6); most valuable player, Phil that basket." Slone; best offensive player, Phil Slone; best defensive player, Mark Martin; senior athlete award (for scholastic, athletic and civic achievements), Mark Martin; best all-around player, Jeff Bailey; top rebounder, Bruce Mullins; Mr. Rebel (based on scholastic, athletic and other achievements as voted on by the team), Randy Conley; assists leader Mark Martin; best free throw shooter, Phil Slone; 110 percent award, Greg Davis; Mr. Hustle, Claude Allen; most improved player, Wally Ridener.

Girls' Basketball (Coach Judy Eversole, record 28-6): most valuable player, Tammy Martin; best offensive player, Tammy Martin; best defensive player, Jalenda Howard; senior athlete award, Tammy Martin; most assists, Kristi Frye; best free throw shooter, Trena Hensley; top rebounder, Kim Shepherd; Miss Hustle, Romona Hall.

WELL COACH ..

Former Garrett basketball coach John "Doug" Campbell, Jr. recently told me this humorous story about coaching roundball in Floyd county.

The story concerns Copper John Campbell who was coaching Wayland High in the 1950's. Wayland's center had a considerable height advantage over the tallest player for Auxier High but he had not been a factor in the game during the first half. At halftime Copper John asked the center why he couldn't score over the shorter foes? "Well, Coach," the center replied, "They're hindering me under

You and Your Car

Giving Your Car A Lift

Instead of exhausting resources you can now use exhaust as a resource with a new bag jack which inflates through a hose attached to your car's tailpipe. Just let the car run (no need to worry, there's an automatic shut-off valve) and the balloon-like mechanism will lift your auto into the air. Made of tough, mesh-reinforced material, the bag weighs only seven pounds and collapses into a container the size of an attache case. One advantage is that it won't slip and is therefore safe for snowy, icy or sandy roads where conventional jacks might be dangerous. Thus the manufacturer claims that the device will make all other types obsolete. The retail cost is about $100.

The Rewards Of Repair Insurance

If you're willing to spend $153 to $295, you can purchase a new option for your General Motors car: an insurance plan. (The prices vary according to the type of car you buy.) The policy includes the · Protection for 36 months or 36,000 miles, whichever arrives

· Reimbursement (less a $25 deductible) for repairs of the engine, transmission, front and rear drive systems, steering, front suspension, brakes, electrical and air conditioning, turbo charger and radiator. (The repairs may be performed anywhere.)

· Payment of fees for the rental of replacement cars while yours is in the shop (up to $15 daily, maximum $75).

· Reimbursement for towing fees (up to $25), even if the towing is necessitated by the driver's carelessness. Thus you're entitled to payment if you lose your keys.

In addition to the basic insurance, there's a more expensive policy which extends to 50,000 miles. You'll also pay more if your car has electronic fuel injection, a diesel engine, a trip computer or four-wheel

Getting Better Gas Mileage

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) now has a new method for computing gas mileage: it no longer measures highway or combined miles per gallon (mpg). Now only city mileage will be measured because the EPA believes that it reflects real performance more accurately than the others.

The booklet listing all the computations may be obtained by writing to this address: Fuel Economy, Consumer Information Center, Dept. 643G, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. This pamphlet also provides annual cost figures, based on 15,000 miles per year (a national average) at 70¢ a gallon. Thus if your car gets 20 mpg, you will spend $525 on gas during one year (assuming that you drive 15,000 miles.)

As the EPA suggests, however, these statistics are only guidelines and will be affected by any of the following:

• Temperature. Mileage is better in warmer temperatures. At 20 degrees Fahrenheit, for instance, you will get eight percent fewer miles per gallon than the amount listed for your car in the guide.

· Wind. An 18 mph tailwind will increase mileage by 12%, whereas an 18 mph headwind will decrease it by 10%.

· Precipitation. Wet roads will reduce mileage by 10%.

· Driving techniques. Run all your errands at once. One long excursion is better than several shorter trips, because you waste fuel each time you warm up your car. Warm motors are more gasoline-efficient, whereas cold engines squander fuel until they heat to optimal running condition. (In most climates, a car will stay warm for four hours.) In addition, try to drive smoothly-sudden stops and rapid starts require too much gasoline. Slower speeds (no more than 55 mph on the highway) are also recommended.

· Car maintenance. A well-tuned car with fully inflated tires will

This summer, Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr. will appoint three handicapped or disabled persons, a citizen-at-large, and the tee. This committee will recommend to have at least one unit made accessible standards of accessibility to the Board of for the handicapped. Housing, Buildings and Construction.

The legislation requires that by July 15, 1981, the state Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction issue regulations that set standards for accessibility in Kentucky.

The Protections and Advocacy Division of the Office for Public Advocacy has received many calls about the present accessibility standards. The division was set up to protect the rights of the developmentally disabled in Kentucky.

Marie Allison, legal services chief for the Protection and Advocacy Division, said many handicapped persons feel the standards presently in use don't address the needs of handicapped. "Many handicapped persons felt the ANSI (American National Standards Institute) standards weren't adequately designed for the handicapped," she said. "The AN-SI standards required public toilets to be CARD OF THANKS accessible by wheel chair and have grab bars on each side," she explained, "but the stalls aren't wide enough to allow the handicapped person to approach the toilet except from directly in front.'

With the new legislation, handicapped persons in Kentucky have the opportunity to help design standards more suited to their needs, she said.

With the expansion of the types of buildings the standards will apply to, the always be remembered. legislation will also create new housing

"The 1974 legislation regarding accessibility for the handicapped actually handicapped us in that it only applied to public buildings," he added.

The new legislation will apply to private head of the Justice Department's Office businesses and office buildings to be confor Public Advocacy or his designee to an structed or remodeled. It will also require Architectural Barriers Advisory Commitapartment complexes of 25 units or more

> Brown said the handicapped are not out to work a hardship on store or apartment owners. Gerald Williams, unit director for the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services in Lexington echoed Norton Brown's opinions on the legislation. "We hope that by the state developing its own standards, we can create a more reasonable and much more flexible approach to accessibility for the handicapped," he said.

> Since a representative of the state Office for Public Advocacy will be on the Architectural Barriers Advisory Committee, Marie Allison said that handicapped persons who want to make suggestions concerning accessibility standards should contact the office at the toll-free number, 1-800-372-2988.

Carbohydrates in our diets, along with fats, supply most of the calories needed by the body. Approximately two-thirds of needed calories should be supplied by carbohydrates. For the overweight person, excess carbohydrates supply calories which the body does not need. A wise practice relative to the choice of carbohydrate foods is to select calories on the basis of the vitamin and minerals supplied with them. Carbohydrate foods, such as whole-grain cereals, potatoes, starchy vegetables and ripe fruits supply calories and, at the same time, provide minerals and vitamins.

Sometimes when we don't get enough vitamins, minerals, and proteins, serious diseases can develop. Chemical Solutions For Pool Problems

A backyard swimming pool is a real summer treat, but pool maintenance is a constant requirement. In between spring cleaning and winter draining, daily chemical testing and maintenance will keep the water safe and clean for your family swimmers.

For the greatest bather comfort, pH level should be kept in the slightly alkaline range of 7.2-7.6 (on a scale of 1-14). When the water registers above 8.0 pH, disinfecting chemicals work too slowly. A reading below 7.0 will irritate swimmers' eyes and corrode pool equipment and piping.

To kill bacteria in the pool, you must maintain the proper chlorine level (residual.) 0.6-1.0 parts chlorine per million parts water (ppm) will disinfect the pool and prevent algae growth.

Use a pool test kit daily to measure the water chlorine and pH levels, and if adjustments are necessary, add the proper

Remember that the chemical level of your pool will be affected by the number of swimmers in the pool, the intensity of the sun, the water temperature, and the amount of wind and rain.

Lawn Party Pointers

An outdoor party is one of the delights of the summer season, but only if the host has planned ahead to make guests as comfortable outside as they would be inside. If you've scheduled a lawn party, be sure to anticipate problems-even if they're unlikely to occur. Here are some absolute "musts" for your pre-party agenda.

Keep some sort of seating on hand for those who prefer not to sit on grass or on stone walls, or arrange thick blankets or large cushions

Hang insect-repellant strips near the party area, or light citronella candles to insure that your visitors aren't bugged by bugs. If your party will begin in or extend into the evening, light it with more than candles. A heavy-duty extension cord and paper lanterns will keep people from peering through the dusk at each other or getting

Plan your menu with the outdoors in mind. If the meal will be served buffet-style, don't use flimsy paper plates which may bend under the weight of the food, showering people with their dinners. Even if you're providing tables and chairs, keep in mind that pre-cut, pre-portioned food goes down easier than entrees with elaborate sauces or unwieldy, hard-to-cut hunks of meat.

Above all, figure out what to do if it rains. Either include a rain date on the invitations, or don't invite more people than your house can hold. The only thing worse than a lot of wet people is a lot of wet people crammed into your living room.

Laws For Domestic Workers

Do you employ a domestic service worker (cook, housekeeper, maid, gardener, governess)? You must comply with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act if your employee receives more than $50 from you in one calendar quarter and works for more than eight hours a week in one or more households. Specifically you must;

· pay your domestic worker at least $2.90 an hour.

· pay time-and-a-half for working time beyond 40 hours a week (unless the employee lives with you).

You must record: the hour and day the workweek begins, the regular hourly pay rate for any week when overtime is worked, the hours worked each day, the total hours worked per week, the total daily or weekly straight-time earnings, the total overtime pay for the week, the total wages each pay period, the date of each payment, and the pay period covered.

J-Boy Sandwich n' Strawberry Pie Every J-Boy® is a hearty double-decker, with two beef patties, lettuce, melted cheese, and tasty sauce, all on a sesame seed bun. And Jerry's famous Strawberry Pie is made with fresh strawberries, our secret-recipe glaze, and real whipped cream topping. What a meal! Two Jerry's Originals for a very special price. Deciding On Day Care Is Not Easy

By Pat Tague

For many American families, there is no longer a choice: the woman HAS to go to work. The higher cost of living, divorce, and that intangible sense of fulfillment that a career brings-add them all together and the statistics show that nearly half of all mothers with children under 18 work, more than double the rate of the past three decades.

For mothers of children under six, the increase is even sharper. In 1950, only 14 percent of the mothers with pre-schoolers went to work. Today, about 40 percent of these mothers have jobs. The bottom line is that there are five million American children, under the age of 13, who spend 30 hours or more a week in the care of someone other than their parents or teachers.

Where are these children going? And how is it affecting their lives, now and in the future?

There are four basic kinds of day care facilities in this country, each with its own set of good and bad points.

The professional babysitter. Sometimes a relative or close neighbor, the babysitter often is someone close to home who is willing to take care of a child for a fee. The worked out in advance between the disadvantage is that some sitters charge enough to make working, at

The second type of day care facility is individually run (usually dren between 31/2 months and 29 at home) center, almost always months who attended a research day private. The third type of day care is the most prevalent: the day care center. It can be funded by the government, but many individual companies are beginning to set up their own centers during their lunch hours.

In actual practice, it's a little more complicated than that, of "day care clothes"—the additionbut you get the idea. The main drawback is for women who have full-time jobs. There is virtually no way they can even their balance of payments.

What To Look For

If you are a working woman and need someone to take care of your child, there are a number of things to look for no matter what kind of day care facility you choose.

Arrivals and Departures: Are children and parents greeted warmly by the staff, and sent off the same way? Does your child seem happy to Food: Are lunches provided, or should you pack one? Are the children expected to show good table manners, or are they taught good manners, including clean-up?

Activities: What do the children do during the day? Is it varied? Is it both indoors and outdoors? Are they encouraged to play with the other children, or is it individual activities? Discipline: Can one unruly child affect the rest of the children? How is a lonely or crying child

Age groups: Is the center for only three-year-olds, or six-year-olds, or all ages? Are the children allowed or encouraged to play with older or younger children?

Facilities: Are there enough desks, crayons, pencils, play materials? Is the room big enough to handle all the children who will attend? A single television set in an otherwise vacant room usually bodes ill for a constructive, learning environment.

The teachers: Once your child begins formal schooling, there is very little you can do about his or her teacher. But when you're choosing a day care facility, you can. Does the teacher seem interested in each and every child? Does she (or he) talk down to the children? Does the teacher appear to be overly nervous or anxious, or perhaps too calm? Does the teacher have any credentials or degrees?

Finally, in case of an accident, does the day care facility have a nurse on duty, or a doctor close by? What arrangements does it have to inform the parents about the emergency?

What About The Child?

No matter how good the day care advantages are flexible hours, center, there are still many parents who wonder if they are abandoning parents and the sitter, plus the their child. How will it affect the one-on-one relationship between the baby as he or she grows older? child and the sitter. The big Surprisingly, there have been very few studies done on how a day care environment affects a child's early least in terms of hard cash, a losing years. One study by Jerome Kagan, professor of human development at Harvard University, compared chilcare center with an identical group of children raised at home by their wasn't any difference in intellectual

But the majority of child psychologists argue that in most cases, it's better to have a child reared by its biological mother. The psychologists also agree that there's no hard evidence that a good day get along with other children-in care center will have a bad effect on other words, all the things a working a child. In other words, placing a child in a day care center does not sentence the child to a life of crime,

Common sense would argue that You drop your child off, and nothing a good day care center with happens until you return. In many innovative programs, interested states, these do not have to be teachers and good facilities would be a positive factor in any child's

Tax Deductions

Day care at federally subsidized centers ranges from $2 to $30 a week, depending on the parent's income. If the center is at a company and privately run, it may cost on the job so that parents can nothing to the employee. Some other actually be with their children day care centers run as high as $50 a week or more, up to and including One Alabama based company, day care centers that are actually Kinder-Care, franchises day care nursery schools, charging $1,000 tuition a year.

The cost often has nothing to do with quality of care. It remains up to the parents to check and compare Again, the quality of day care the programs at the day care centers

Cost, however, does become a factor, even if most parents don't want to admit it. If the day care There are a few that will teach your center is going to cost more than the working woman's salary, then it doesn't pay. Budgeting the cost of The fourth option is the the day care center becomes

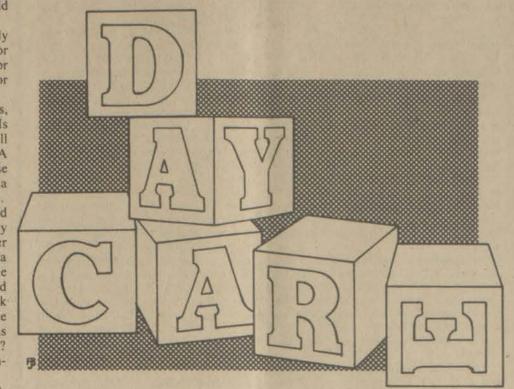

> When figuring out the cost of the day care center, be sure to include transportation costs to and from the center, the cost of packing a lunch if that's included, and also the cost al expense of providing some new clothes your child will wear to the day care center.

You may be entitled to a tax credit for at least part of the cost of household help for child care, if you have a dependent child under 15. The credit is equal to 20 percent of the first $2000 you spend on the child. The maximum is $400. If you have two or more children under 15, you can take a credit of 20 percent of the first $4000 you spend on them to a maximum of $800.

The expenses that you can take credit for fall into two categories: household expenses that cover the operation of your home for the benefit of the child, and the direct expenses for your child's care.

Telephone Repair Time Loss Reduced

The days of waiting at home for a repairman's visit may be over-at least if it's your telephone set that doesn't work. According to Phil Scott, local South Central Bell manager, now you may be able to unplug your phone and take it to the Phonecenter store or other service location at your convenience.

"We'll take care of repair or exchange," he said. "Defective conponents, such as cords, will be exchanged for new

This program saves time and money for both the customer and the telephone company. Bringing the equipment in rather than waiting for a repair visit saves the customer's time. "Arranging a repair visit is sometimes hard for a customer,' he said. "This program helps eliminate those problems

"To take advantage of the plan, telephones must be the plug-in type," Mr. Scott said. "You can check your phone by looking for a little plastic clip on the receiver cord. If it unplugs, your telephone does, too. It doesn't matter whether the phone has a rotary dial or touch-tone dialing, or whether it's a desk or wall

Scott said there are certain phones you should not take in. If you are on a party line, call the company's repair service. If you have more than one phone in your home and none are working properly, chances are the problem is in the telephone company lines. You should call repair service then, too.

There is a Phonecenter store at 118 Main Street in Paintsville. If you have questions, call Bell's Repair Service at

Memorial Day, Time Of Highway Tragedy

Last year's Memorial Day Weekend was no holiday for state police troopers in Kentucky

According to Lt. Ernest Bivens, public affairs officer for the State Police, 1,061 accidents occurred over the holiday weekend last year. Ten persons were killed.

Two-thirds of the accidents occurred on local and state numbered roads. More than three-fourths of the drivers involved were local residents.

Bivens said the worst Memorial Day Weekend on record was in 1966. That year 15 fatal accidents happened in which 20 persons died.

Bivens noted that in 1974, the first year of the nationwide 55 mph speed limit, the weekend death toll was three, the lowest number since Memorial Day was made a three-day weekend.

The first U.S. women to participate in a strike were female weavers in Pawtucket, R.I., who were resisting increased hours and reduced wages. The event took place in 1824, according to a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Three area high school pianists have qualified to perform in an honors recital to be held in Heeren Hall of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, in Louisville.

Paula Meek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meek, of Boons Camp, Karen Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frazier, of Paintsville, and Carolyn Click, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Click, of Garrett, have all received superior ratings at the area Keyboard Festival held at Pikeville which is the first step in qualifying to perform in the honors recital.

For students to qualify, they must be in grades 10, 11 or 12, must have received a superior rating at their area festival and must be studying with a teacher who is a current member of the Kentucky Music Teacher's Association. Karen Frazier and Carolyn Click are students of Nancy L. Hale, of Harold; Paula Meek is a student of Terrie Wells, of Paintsville.

According to the state Office of Crime Prevention, 73,000 Kentuckians received crime prevention services from 391 participating police departments last year.

About the House

Insuring Your Home Against Theft

Basic homeowners insurance covers theft of personal property from your house. However, unless you can prove the value of the stolen items, and the fact that they are gone, none of this coverage is worth a cent. Proof means you must report the burglary or theft to the police immediately, so that there is an official record for the insurance company. The next step is to produce your household inventory, which · brand name, model number, and serial number of your personal property.

· photographs of items.

· when and where purchased.

· purchase price (including receipts, if available) or estimated

Standard homeowners policies limit the coverage on furs, jewelry, and certain other valuables to $500. You can increase these limits by endorsements to your policy. Burglary and robbery insurance through the federal government is available in about 20 states. For information on these policies (which go up to $10,000) write: Safety Management Institute of Washington, P.O. Box 41033, Washington, D.C. 20014.

Ready, Set-Remodel!

With the price of new houses sky-high, many homeowners are finding that enlarging and remodeling their present houses meets their needs for extra and better arranged space. Taking on a remodeling job, however, should only be done with a clear idea of what you want, how much you can afford to spend, and who is equipped to do the job. Here are some pointers to keep in mind:

· Start out with a sheet of graph paper and draw a sample floor plan of the changes you're making, including specific measurements. Cut out furniture patterns to size and rearrange them within the remodeled area. Such a plan will familiarize the contractor with your thinking and help him estimate costs.

· Decide whether you're qualified to handle any of the remodeling tasks; be honest about the amount of time they will take. For safety and legal reasons, leave complex heating, plumbing, and electrical jobs

. If you know the architect or builder of your house, ask him for any original drawings that may have included plans for adding a bedroom/bath combination or for finishing the attic or lower

· Arrange with your local building inspector for a building permit, which is generally necessary if structural work is planned or if the basic living area is to be changed. Also, check local building codes thoroughly before working out the details of a major remodeling

. To save money and trouble, locate new plumbing and heating so that it can tie into present pipes, drains, and vents. Remember, too, that the standard square and rectangle are the easiest and least expensive shapes to work with—ovals and circles are costly and less efficient.

Eleven Stores Lose Stamps

Eleven East Kentucky grocery stores have been dropped from the federal food stamp program for periods ranging from 90 days to three years because of violations, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service

The stores, which had been charged with selling various ineligible items for food coupons, were listed as follows:

A. Duff Grocery, Ricetown, owned by Adron Duff; disqualified for three years. Elizabeth Pelfrey Grocery, Olive Hill, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Pelfrey; disqualified for a year.

Taulbee's Grocery, Beattyville, owned by Harold Taulbee; disqualified for a year

R.T. Little and Son, Pomeroyton, owned by R.D. Little; disqualified for six mon-

Campbell's Market, Hazard, owned by Denver C. Campbell; disqualified for six months.

Dilley's Grocery, Clifford, owned by Earl Dilley; disqualified for a year. C.B. Caudill Store, Blackey, owned by Joe T. Begley; disqualified for a year.

Carol Lee Combs Grocery, Ned, owned by Carol Lee Combs; disqualified for a

J&M Market, Nippa, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Butcher; disqualified for six

Charles Smith Grocery and Fruit Market, Clay City, owned by Charles R. Smith; disqualified for 90 days.

Sammons Store, Louisa, owned by Mrs. Anna M. Hammond; disqualified for a year.

Robert L. Cunningham, who is in charge of the Prestonsburg field office of the Food and Nutrition Service, explained that food stamps, by law, can be used only to buy food. The only exceptions, he said, are garden seed and plants to be used to produce food.

Health Line

Recognizing Parkinson's Disease

A shaky hand, stiff movement, bent posture—these are signs of Parkinson's disease, a progressive neurological disorder affecting the parts of the brain which control movement. In most cases, exactly what causes the disease is unknown. What is known is that parkinsonism is associated with brain cell loss and damage, as well as low levels of dopamine in the brain. The transmission of nerve impulses requires dopamine, and drug replacement can help relieve this shortage disorder. The disease rarely leads to death, but it does weaken the body and make it susceptible to other ailments. None of the drugs now in use will stop the disease's progression, but prompt treatment, continued medical supervision, and exercise can help control symptoms.

Good Habits Prevent Constipation

Constipation is a condition, not a disease. Illness, emotional stress, travel or improper diet can cause a slowdown in the large intestine, where the last steps of the digestive process take place. Weak muscular contractions fail to move fecal matter on its way. Through the large intestine's walls, water is constantly absorbed from the waste material, leaving it hard and dry.

The best "cure" for constipation is good diet and body maintenance:

· Eat a variety of fruits, vegetables and whole grains. Eat at regular hours and chew food well.

· Drink plenty of liquids.

· Exercise daily.

· Respond promptly to the urge to evacuate your bowels.

· Avoid straining when evacuating. It can cause irritation and · Do not use fast-acting chemical laxatives to achieve a daily bowel movement. The bowels may become dependent on the laxative, and become chronically irritated.

Although simple constipation is not a disease, chronic constipation can lead to more serious problems. See your doctor if the condition persists.

Getting The Facts On Artificial Insemination

Artificial insemination has been practiced in the U.S. for many years, yet many people have little or no knowledge about the specifics of the procedure. How successful is it? Who are sperm donors? Can husband's and donor's sperm be mixed? Who will perform the procedure, and how much does it cost? What legal aspects are involved? The American Fertility Society has published a booklet, "Artificial Insemination, An Accepted Medical Technique", to fill you in on the facts. Single copies cost 50¢ each, or 25¢ each in quantities of 25 or more. Write to the American Fertility Society, 1608 Thirteenth Avenue South, Suite 101, Birmingham, Al. 35205.

Help For Hair Loss

If you worry about baldness, hair experts suggest special care to slow the loss of hair:

· Use baby shampoo. It's mild, yet cleans thoroughly.

· Massage your scalp gently; rough scrubbing may pull out

To make the most of what you do have, the experts advise: · Shampoo frequently. Clean hair fluffs out and looks fuller.

· Wear a short hairstyle. Long hair tends to lie flat against the head, while shorter hair fluffs up and helps conceal thin spots.

New Line To Take Over Pikeville-Ashland Bus Route

State Representative Greg Stumbo this week told the Times that although Greyhound Bus Lines will discontinue service between Ashland and Pikeville, another line, the Bristol-Jenkins Bus Line, will take over the route.

In response to a letter submitted by Rep. Stumbo expressing his concern that discontinuation of service along the route would constitute a blow to an already troubled regional system of mass transportation, R.L. Wilson, a Greyhound traffic official, explained that ridership along the route had decreased over the past few years to the point that operation of the route had become a losing proposition. "Obviously, sound business practice requires that we make some attempt to discontinue what has become a losing operation," Wilson stated.

"However," the Greyhound official continued in his letter, "we were fortunate enough to locate Bristol-Jenkins Bus Line which is capable of operating our Ashland to Pikeville route profitably, and is will ing to take over that operation.

Wilson assured Rep. Stumbo that the Bristol-Jenkins line's service will be "more than adequate to satisfy the transportation requirements of individuals residing at points between Ashland and Pikeville.

The first pension was established by the Plymouth Colony for disabled soldiers in 1636, according to a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

On the sunny side of Pine Mountain trees and shrubs are in bud and leaf and the path to Laurel Cove is starred with pink laurel bloom in a frame of soft green.

This year's 50th Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival is May 22-25 at Pine Mountain State Resort Park, and the Pineville area will find Kentucky's loveliest young women and past queens participating in festivities. The festival program is designed to entertain the throngs of visitors from throughout the commonwealth and other states.

The festival has taken place every year since 1931 except the World War II years

Queen contestants as well as last year's queen, Dana Reasons, of Kentucky Wesleyan College, will join the many visitors and special guests at grand balls, concerts, a gala parade, special worship services, art exhibits, princess coronation, tournaments, banquets and recep-

Potter Assigned To Co. Schools

The academically-gifted will have to wait and see, but there is good news this week for artistically-inclined students in this county. Asst. Schools Superintendent Ronald L. Hager announced Monday that Floyd schools will be the site next school year for a "potter-in-residence" sponsored by the National Endowment for the Arts and the Kentucky Arts Commission.

According to the terms of the grant, the sponsors will provide the artist with a studio at Prestonsburg Community College, a stipend, travel and materials allowances, funds to bring in visiting artists, a partial cash match of $3600, and the cost of any materials required by

Half of the artist's time will be spent on his or her own work and the other half working with students, teachers and the community. The potter is being furnished as part of the Arts Commission's 'Artists-in-the-Schools" program.

"We feel good about the program, for the exposure it will give students to the visual arts and the interest it can stimulate in the community," said Hager who, together with James Ratcliff, director of PCC's community services division, initiated the grant application.

The school district is also applying for a teacher for 75 of the county's academically-gifted grade school students, under the state Education Department's Gifted and Talented Program, Hager said.

Over the next two years, $3.2 million has been set aside for the program and 63 projects out of an estimated 110 applications will be funded next year. The Floyd school district, in cooperation with interested parents of Prestonsburg, Clark, McDowell and Osborne elementary school students, has applied unsuccessfully for the program the past two years.

There has been some criticism of awards under the program as allege favoring those already receiving program funds to the disadvantage of new applicants. This year's applicants will be notified June 13 of the results of their ap-and recalled the special friendliness of that year's queen, Mary Evelyn Walton. The Pattersons attended the festivals through the years. He, his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Perry, of West Liberty, will be present again this year. Perry is on the festival board.

From the official opening of the 1980 Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival and welcome by Dan Stewart through Sunday's special worship services, the 50th will be filled with interest and beauty. There will be golf and tennis tournements, art shows, a Boy Scout Spring Camporee and other events to make this festival one for the entire family.

The coronation of the 1980 festival queen will take place at 2 p.m. May 24 in Mountain Laurel Cove Amphitheatre.

Freebies In the Mail

Wondering what to do with merchandise that arrived, unordered, one day with your mail? Wondering what to do with the bill for these unordered goods? Relax. According to the Federal Trade Commission, the merchandise is yours. You don't have to return it and you can not be billed for it!

Only two types of merchandise are sent legally through the U.S. mails without the consent or agreement of the recipient:

· Free samples which are clearly marked as such; and

Merchandise mailed by charitable organizations seeking contributions

If you receive unordered, unwanted merchandise by private delivery service or some manner other than the mail, notify the sender in writing, keeping a copy for your records. Give him a reasonable amount of time to pick up the product or to have it returned at his expense. Tell him that after the specified time, you reserve the right to dispose of the goods in any way you see fit. This includes keeping

If you give the sender an opportunity to reclaim his merchandise, he won't be able to claim that you implied acceptance of a sale by keeping the product. Do not hesitate to report any company that harrasses you with bills for unordered goods to the FTC at 6th Street & Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580. The company may be liable for fines of up to $10,000 per violation!

All About Aerosols

The term "aerosol" is used to describe all sorts of products available in pressure-packed cans. The can contains a product, like air freshner, mixed with a compressed gas. When you push the button on the can, a valve is opened. The gas is released, bringing the product with it. To get the most value from aerosol products, follow these suggestions:

- · Read the label thoroughly before using the product.
- · Follow the instructions carefully.
- Store aerosol cans away from potential heat sources.
 For safety, store aerosol cans out of children's reach.

Probably the most common problem with aerosols is loss of propellant before all the contents have been used. Avoid this by holding the can in the position recommended on the label, and by pressing firmly on the button to fully open the valve.

Many people assume that aerosols are more expensive than non-aerosol pump-sprays. This is not always true, so check prices of comparable items before jumping to conclusions.

More Than a Lot of Hot Air

Because of the link between asbestos and cancer, most manufacturers have stopped producing hair dryers containing asbestos insulation; but many of the older models with asbestos remain on store shelves.

If you are shopping for a new dryer and the model you are considering does not state that it contains no asbestos, you can check it yourself. Look for a grayish-white fibrous material in the barrel. That is asbestos. You may also get a free list of hair dryers that were made with asbestos by writing to: Hair Dryer Consumer Kit, Environmental Defense Fund, 1525 18th Street, NW, Washington, DC 20036, or call the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's toll-free Hot Line: 800-638-8326.

When buying a new blow dryer, you should also look for the "UL" approval seal. This means that the dryer has been tested by the Underwriters Laboratory for safe air temperature so that you will not be burned. Be sure to compare the overall size and weight of different models. Some of the newest compacts offer the same power as larger, heavier models. One new model is even made especially for curly hair. It generates 1200 watts of heat without a blower, so curls stay in place.

Follow these simple safety tips and enjoy your new dryer:

• Never use a hair dryer in the bathtub.

If your dryer falls into water, unplug it before touching to avoid shock. Do not use it until it has been checked by an expert.
Never poke hair pins or wires through the grill work.

 Never set a hair dryer down while it is operating. The vibration can cause it to fall off the table, risking injury to legs, feet and the dryer itself.

 If the cord or plug are damaged, do not use until they are repaired. SOUTH HOMEMAKERS MEET

The South Prestonsburg Homemakers Club met in the home of Joyce Allen Monday night. The meeting was called to order by the president, Vivian Fraley, and devotionals were given by Joyce Allen with "A Mother's Prayer for Her Children." The minutes of the previous imeeting were read and approved, and treasurer's report was given by Theckley Short. Bonnie Hale invited the club to her home for our annual picnic June 15. Frances Pitss announced there would be a work shop for needlepoint May 27 at the Ky. Power Co. building and a work shop on yeast breads, June 5. Both workshops are scheduled at 10:30 a.m.

The meeting was opened for election of officers for the coming year, and the following were elected: President, Bonnie Hale; vice-president, Grace DeRossett; secretary, Ora Bussey; treasurer, Vivian Fraley; devotional chairman, Theckley Short.

The lesson on skin care and makeup was given by Ora Bussey, and Frances Pitts showed interesting slides on make up and hair styles.

The September meeting will be at the home of Vivian Fraley. Refreshments were served by Joyce Allen and Theckley Short to Bonnie Hale, Grace DeRossett, Vivian Fraley, Frances Pitts, Joyce Allen, Theckley Short, and Ora Bussey.

Wise Saw

Chain saws, gasoline or electric-powered, make the chore of cutting firewood a snap in these energy-conscious times, plus aiding in yard clean-up and rough carpentry. In home use models, look for features that really promote safety and efficiency, like these:

· Controls for dangerous kickback. This occurs when the saw hits an immovable object and is thrown upward and backward toward the operator. A safety chain, chain brake, or protective safety tip will each prevent this, although only the latter is immune to mechanical problems.

· Good balance. Pick up and handle the chain saw. The way it functions depends in part on how comfortable you feel using it.

· Rubber-like coating on the handle bar to prevent slippage. · Throttle interlock, to prevent the throttle from being advanced unless the operator has a good grip on the rear handle. · Vibration isolation system, to reduce vibration effect on the user's

· Large noise-reducing muffler.

· Electronic ignition system.

· Features to prolong the useful life of the saw, such as a sprocket at the guidebar tip to reduce friction, a chromed saw chain, and an automatic chain oiling system.

· A reliable dealer who can provide service and spare parts promptly.

Keeping Cool By The Rules

If you're ever pressured into an unplanned purchase by a smooth-talking door-to-door salesman, you may want to take advantage of the "Cooling Off Rule." This Federal Trade Commission regulation gives you three days to change your mind ("cool off") about purchases of $25.00 or more which are made in your home or any location other than the seller's normal place of business. Also covered are sales made in rented hotel rooms, restaurants or at consumer product "parties" in private homes. Even if you invite a salesperson into your home, you're entitled to your cancellation rights.

The seller must inform you of those rights and supply two copies of a cancellation form. The contract or receipt must be dated and show the full name and address of the seller. You are not required to give a reason for cancelling.

Just sign and date one copy of the form. Keep the second copy. Hand-deliver it to the seller any time before midnight of the third business day after the contract date, or send it by certified mail with a return receipt requested to serve as proof of notification within the three-day period.

Within ten days, the seller must cancel and return any papers you signed, refund your money, inform you whether any product left with you will be picked up, and return any trade-in. Within 20 days, the seller must pick up any product left with you or, if you have agreed, he must pay shipping costs for you to return his product.

Be careful, though. The Cooling Off Rule does not cover all sales. Some exceptions are sales made at the seller's place of business, sales made totally by phone or mail, emergency home repairs and insurance.

Terry-ific Cotton Towels

Terry cloth towels made of 100% cotton are more expensive than towels made with synthetic fibers, but they are well worth the extra cost. Why?

Cotton fiber absorbs water away from your body. Synthetic fibers on the other hand, can't absorb water, so they don't make effective towels. Terry cloth loops increase the surface area of the towel, making it more absorbent, so towel thickness is also a good measure of drying

Velour towels are made by cutting the loops on one side to produce a lustrous finish. The towel's absorbency is reduced in the process, however, and most people can tell the difference. The terry side dries easily, while the velour side seems to spread water.

When buying towels look for:

· 100% cotton for drying ability; · A large number of terry loops for greater absorbency;

· Towel thickness and weight, usually an indication of high

BOONE DAY CELEBRATION SET

The Indians called him "Wide Mouth" and "Big Turtle," but they regarded Daniel Boone as their friend. They captured him many times, just for fun, and called him a "good catch." Today Boone is called the "great explorer who was largely responsible for the settlement of Kentucky," according to Col. George Chinn, deputy director of the Kentucky Historical Society.

Saturday, June 7, the society will hold its annual Boone Day celebration at the Old Capitol, continuing a tradition more than 100 years old. When Boone's diary was found in the 1800's, the society began the tradition of celebrating Boone's discovery of the Bluegrass at Pilot Knob (Powell county) on June 7, 1769.

Daniel Boone was born Nov. 2, 1734, in Reading, Pa. When he was 12 his father gave him a rifle, and his career as a hunter began. He and his family later moved to the Yadkin Valley in North Carolina where he married Rebecca Bryan when he was in his early 20's.

Boone first saw Kentucky when he camped at Prestonsburg in 1767. Two years later, he returned with John Finley, an old military friend.

"On the seventh day of June, we found ourselves on Red River, and from the top of an eminence saw with pleasure the beautiful level of Kentucky," wrote Boone in his diary in 1769.

This year's Boone Day program features Dr. Lowell Harrison history professor at Western Kentucky University, who will talk about "Confederate Governors of Kentucky." Entertainment will be provided by the Leestown Singers, who performed at Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr.'s Derby Breakfast earlier this month.

Receives Scholarships

Karen Jean Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frazier, of Paintsville, has been offered scholarships from the University of Louisville and Morehead State University. Both have offered Karen four-year scholarships as a piano performance major. Karen has also been accepted into the University of Kentucky's performance degree program.

A senior at Paintsville High School, Miss Frazier is still undecided about which offer to accept. However, she feels she will probably accept Morehead's offer as they have also awarded her with the Presidential Academic scholarship along with the most substantial music scholar-

Kentucky Afield

By John Wilson

There's no reason why your archery gear should remain stored in the closet until deer season rolls around again. Many archers have already discovered that spring is an excellent time to enjoy some fine sport with bow and arrow.

The addition of a bow reel and a special fishing arrow is all that's needed to convert your deer hunting outfit to a bow fishing rig. Carp should be spawning in the shallows about now and they offer a challenging target for the bow fisherman.

Bow fishing regulations are few and simple. Any bow (or crossbow) is legal, but their use is restricted to daylight hours only. Closed waters in Kentucky are those one mile below Wolf Creek Dam (Lake Cumberland), 700 yards below Kentucky Dam and 200 yards below any other dam in the state.

Only rough fish may be taken, and there are no creel or possession limits. Rough fish are all species except the black basses, rock bass, crappies, walleye, sauger, rockfish, white bass, yellow bass, musky, northern pike, chain pickerel, trouts or any hybrids of the above. A valid fishing license is required for bow fishing.

A bow and arrow may also be used to hunt frogs. The frog season, which opened May 15, will run through Oct. 31. There is a daily (noon til noon) limit of 15 frogs and a possession limit of 30.

Those who hunt frogs with a bow and arrow (or with a firearm) must have a hunfing license. (Giggers and hand grabbers can get by with either a hunting or fishing license, but those who "fish" for frogs with rod and reel or pole and line must have a fishing license. The best bet is to buy a combination license in the first place and not worry about it.)

DECOR CHANGE CAN MAKE ROOMS FEEL COOLER

Changing your decorating scheme can provide a cooling effect for the warmer months ahead. Studies have shown that people feel cooler in some rooms than others, even though the temperature is precisely the same. The difference is in the decorating.

Simplicity is the key to decorating your Begin by eliminating clutter to create a soothing, streamlined look. Too many knick-knacks can make a room seem stuffy and small.

Now is a good time to pack away your afghans and throw pillows and stitch summertime slipcovers for your sofas and

Replace heavy draperies with simple curtains or window shades. Roll up your rugs, and instead, use mats made from natural materials or leave your floors

A bedroom will feel cooler if you remove heavy bedspreads and expose crisp sheets in summery patterns.

Fill your home with greenery. Potted plants and cut flowers can freshen a room in an instant.

Never underestimate the power of color. Substituting light tints and pastels for dark shades wherever possible.

Awarded Scholarship

Clyde Ollie Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Porter, of Prestonsburg, has been awarded a $2,400 music scholarship to Morehead State University covering a period of four academic years.

Young Porter, who graduated Monday from Prestonsburg High School, has been a member of the Prestonsburg High School band five and a half years, during which time he attended the all-state chorus in 1979, played three solos at Pikeville with a Superior rating, sang with various choral groups, attended band camp for three years, and with the All-Regional band and chorus. He received an award for outstanding senior band member and as best musician, and was elected to Who's Who in Music for 1979 and '80. He has been a Boy Scout six years, is a member and lay speaker of the Trimble Chapel Methodist Church, also a member of the Gospel singing group, "The Christian Edition," formerly known as "The Trimbleaires." OSM Proposes Rule Change On Excess Spoil Disposal

A modified rule being proposed by Interior's Office of Surface Mining (OSM) would allow a major variation to the current regulation on the disposal of excess spoil for coal operators using the multiple seam method on steep slopes.

The proposed modification, published in the May 16 FEDERAL REGISTRAR, would encourage the reclamation of preexisting benches by allowing the disposal of the excess spoil on natural benches using backfilling and grading requirements.

A public hearing on the proposed change will be held Wednesday, June II, at the Holiday Inn, Broad and Washington Streets, Charleston, West Virginia, starting at 9:30 a.m.

The modification applies to the disposal of excess spoil in a valley fill structure and is less stringent than normal fill requirements. The change, if approved, would apply to OSM's interim and perma-

"This change in the rule would have positive environmental effects," said Walter N. Heine, OSM Director. "We believe that using excess spoil to fill in a pre-existing bench would lessen erosion, reduce degradation of surface water and flood hazards and provide better protection for fish and wildlife.

OSM seeks written comments on the proposed rule change as well. They should be sent to OSM, U.S. Department of the Interior, South Building, Room 153, 1951 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington,

To be considered in the final rulemaking, the comments must be received not later than 5 p.m., Thursday, June 12.

State Colleges Join Elderhostel Program

Governor John Y. Brown has proclaimed May 25-31, "Elderhostel 1980 Week" in the state.

Kentucky has entered the national Elderhostel network with six universities joining more than 350 participating schools in 38 states. The Kentucky schools are Eastern Kentucky University, Lindsey Wilson College, Morehead State University, Murray State University, Union College, and the University of Ken-

Eastern serves as state coordinating office for the program for persons 60 and over and their spouses and will present an Elderhostel on its campus July 6-12 and July 13-19.

Alice Brown of the EKU Special Programs Division, who is state Elderhostel coordinator, said Eastern's program will include three non-credit classes which require no previous academic credit, no tests and no assignments. These will be Backyard Wildlife Management, Hawthorne: The Blithedale Romance, and Southern Protestant Preaching

Participants will stay in a dormitory and eat meals in the Powell cafeteria. Their recreation will include picnics and a banquet and visits to Shakertown, the Cane Ridge Meeting House, and Wilderness Road," the outdoor drama at Berea College

To register for the program at any of Kentucky's participating schools, call Alice Brown in the EKU Special Programs office, telephone (606) 622-1444, or apply by mail.

National Guard Trains Nearer Home

The first group of Kentucky Army National Guard Units will head for annual training May 24 as part of a new training program designed to conserve fuel. Virtually all Kentucky units will train within the state for the first time, according to Major General Billy G. Wellman, Adjutant General.

In the past, Kentucky units have traditionally trained with their active Army counterparts at such locations as Fort Hood, Texas; Fort Benning, Ga.; and on National Guard training sites as far away as Mississippi.

This year, most Kentucky guardsmen will train at Fort Knox or Fort Campbell. Some will travel to Camp Atterbury, In-

The fifth annual Kentucky Folksong Festival will be held at Grayson Lake, June 14-15.

The festival will kick off at 10 a.m. Saturday and close at 10 p.m. On Sunday it will begin at noon and last until 6 p.m. The event, sponsored jointly by the Kentucky Folksong Festival, Inc. and the Huntington, W. Va., District of the Army Corps of Engineers as an interpretive program, will be held at the dam site of Grayson Lake. The lake is easily accessible by taking Kentucky Route 7 south from the Grayson exit of Interstate 64.

Lonzo and Oscar, longtime comic country singers with the Grand Ole Opry, will be among the participants. They will appear Sunday, June 15, at 1 and 4 p.m. An old-fashioned square dance will be held Saturday night, June 14, at 7 o'clock.

Exhibitors from Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and West Virginia will display their wares in ceramics, needlecraft, jewelry, leathercraft, musical instruments, macrame, shellcraft, dolls, photography, silk flowers, wood-working, glass blowing and candy making. Crafts will be open to the public all during the festival. In addition, music will be played by various area groups during the entire weekend.

QUEEN TO BE CROWNED

Several hundred dollars in prizes will go to the winner of the Yankee Baseball Queen Pageant scheduled for June 18. The pageant is being held in conjunction with the Yankee Baseball Day celebration, June 18-19, in Paintsville. The festivities will mark the season opener for the Appalachian League champion Yankees on the 19th against Kingsport, Tennessee.

The pageant is open to women, 18-25, who have never married and reside in Boyd, Lawrence, Martin, Magoffin, Johnson, Floyd or Pike counties. The deadline for entering the pageant is June 1, 1980. Registration information may be procured by calling the Yankee office at 789-7234.

Brown Names May Head Start Month

May, which marks the 15th anniversary of the Head Start program, has been proclaimed Head Start Month in Kentucky by Governor John Y. Brown, Jr.

In the proclamation, Gov. Brown said, 'Head Start programs serve some 13,000 children in Kentucky...and not only focus on the needs of the children but also involves the parents by implementing the Parent Advisory Council.

In this county, the Drift and Dwale Head Start centers will join more than 9,000 such centers across the country in observing the program's founding.

The program has received considerable attention recently due to new research findings on its lasting effect on children. Twelve major studies have shown that children enrolled Head Start and similar programs 10 years ago are far less likely to be held back a grade or assigned to special education classes than lowincome children who did not attend an early childhood program. Head Start children also scored higher in math, had stronger self-concepts and their parents had greater expectations of their poten-

Since 1972, the Head Start program has made a major effort to serve handicapped children with enrollment of 41,000 handicapped pre-schoolers last year.

MAYTOWN COMMUNITY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Patton spent a week at Myrtle Beach, S.C. prior to Mrs. Patton's starting her new position as assistant director of the respiratory department at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Jones were hosts to a dinner given at a Pikeville Steak House honoring their son, Thomas Jeffery, who earlier in the day had taken part in the Pikeville College commencement exercises at the Faith Bible Chapel in Pikeville. Mr. Jones is a 1980 graduate receiving his bachelor's degree in accounting. Other members of the family attending his graduation and dinner were his wife, Sharon Lynn, his sister, Belinda Halbert, and his grandmother, Mrs. Alva Flanery. Also attending the graduation exercise were Mr. and Mrs. Alroy Click, of Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Moore, of Waverly, Ohio, were the weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mander Moore. They also called on other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Webb, Matthew, Jeremy and Jason, of Springfield, Ohio, were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Prater and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb.

Joey Stephens and a group of friends from Michigan were camping at Jenny Wiley State Park over the holiday weekend. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb and Katina, of South Charleston, Ohio, were holiday weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Howard, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb

Ned May, of Grosse Ile, Mich., spent the holidays here visiting his mother, Mrs. Bradas May, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy May. Alonzo Dixon, of Mousie, filled the pulpit at the Maytown First Baptist Church, Sunday morning. His wife and children accompanied him and were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willard

Mrs. Sandy Bradley, Dana and Charles, Jr., of Paintsville, spent the weekend here as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hicks.

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Janet Shelton, bride-elect of Ronnie Halbert, was held at the home of Mrs. Virgil Halbert, Sr., Saturday evening. Miss Shelton received many nice, useful gifts. Hostesses were Mrs. Virgil Halbert, Sr., Mrs. Virgil Halbert, Jr., Mrs. Donny Robinson, Mrs. Howard Lykens, Miss Phyllis Ousley and Mrs. Edgar R. May.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fannin, of Findlay, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Baldridge, of Prestonsburg, Mrs. Irene Clark, of Lexington, Mrs. Dee Burchett and Mrs. Mike May and Chris were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Baldridge. They also visited the family cemetery. Mrs. Fannie Hyden is a patient at the McDowell Regional Hospital suffering from a severe heart condition. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Gibson, of Ypsilanti, Mich., Mrs. Tom Wash, Mrs. Martin Rice and Franklin Hyden, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Claude McCown, of Astor, Fla., have been here due to the illness of Mrs. Fannie Hyden. Raymond Hopson, of Prestonsburg, formerly of Maytown, will undergo triple by-pass heart surgery at Jewish Hospital in Louisville. His many friends wish for him a speedy recovery Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Flanery have been visiting friends in Xenia, Ohio, Mt. Vernon, Montezuma and Indianapolis, Indiana. Mrs. Ina Rowe, of Lexington, visited relatives here over the weekend. David Webb and son, Davie, of Lexington, were Memorial Day weekend guests of Mrs. Gertrude Webb and other relatives, here. Mrs. Bertha Gibson is a patient at the McDowell Regional Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Gibson and son, David, of Mt. Orab, Ohio, visited her there over the Gary Michael Webb, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Webb, celebrated his third birthday with a lawn party and cookout at the home of his parents, Sunday afternoon. He received many nice gifts, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Webb to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb, Mrs. Lula Webb, Mrs. Agnes Woods and Steve, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hicks, Amy and Maria, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb and Katina, Don Cooley, Mrs. Cleatis Howard and Angela, Mrs. Darrel Patton, Stephanie and Jimmy Darrel, Lisa, Gina and Matthew Slone, Edna Click, Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Webb, Mecca, Jennings and Gary, Dawn Dingeldein, Delbert Milton Goins, Jack Webb, and Mrs. Lou Turner. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Goins spent the Memorial Day weekend in Corbin.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Gibson, of Lexington, spent the holidays here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mile Gibson.

WATER QUALITY MEET

Staff members from the state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection will review the status of water-quality planning, data collection and mangement in Kentucky at a symposium at the University of Kentucky Student Center, Lexington, June 2-3.

The symposium is sponsored by the Kentucky Water Resources Research Institute of the University of Kentucky, the UK College of Engineering and the U.S. Office of Surface Mining.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Bizwil, Inc., P. O. Box 814, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 intends to file an application for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 152 acres located north of Lancer in Floyd county. The proposed operation is approximately 1 mile northwest of State Route 1428's junction with State Route 3 and located north of Levisa Fork of Big Sandy River, latitude 37°40'50", longitude 82°44'55". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by: J. B. Clark Heirs, Woodman and Marie Crider, Phil and Norma Fraley, Dewey Lake Fish and Game Club, S. P. Davidson Heirs, Jonah G. Stepp, W. P. Mayo, L. H. Mayo, Jr., Elson and Ruth Kendrick, Sally and John, Jr. Goble, W. B. Williams Heirs, and Opal May. A brief description of the kind of mining activity proposed is: contour strip and mountaintop removal with spoil disposal areas. The application will be filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Prestonsburg Area Office, South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Persons wishing to file written objections and-or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. A copy of the newspaper clipping must be attached to the written objection. The objection or request for a hearing will reference application number 036-0034. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2) and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits. Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 30 CFR 715.13 (d) (10) and KRS 350 that the proposed post mining land use does not constitute a change from the pre-mining land use. Public comment regarding a proposed change in land use may be submitted to the address listed above.
