

First Job Corps Group Due Soon

Final preparations are being made at the Prestonsburg Job Corps Center in anticipation of the first intake of trainees, probably in the first week of February.

A team from the Job Corps' Washington headquarters will be inspecting the center this week to determine that it is ready to receive trainees, said Center Director Jim Smith. The building, in the Goble-Roberts Addition, has been extensively remodeled since its use as a shoe factory some years ago.

Assuming it is cleared by the inspection team, the facility should receive its first intake of 22 trainees February 3, Smith said, with 22 to follow each week until the full complement of 165 is reached.

Trainees will be referred by the Division of Employment Services and will be drawn from surrounding counties, according to the director.

Smith said he has so far hired a local staff of 47. Health care for the trainees has been contracted out to Big Sandy Health Care, Inc. Only two staffers, Smith himself and the center's manager of residential living, have been hired from outside this area, he said.

An "open house" is being planned, to which the public will be invited, hopefully on Sunday, February 1, he added.

P'burg Eligible For Block Grant But OK Unsure

While federal funding for the restoration of downtown Prestonsburg is by no means assured, at least the city's application for a $500,000 community development block grant meets eligibility requirements, a state official confirmed this week.

"There is no problem of eligibility as far as HUD (the federal Department for Housing and Urban Development) is concerned," said Sally Hamilton, of the state Department for Local Government, which shares responsibility for screening grant applications.

Questions as to the eligibility of the city's grant application centered on the economic circumstances of those expected to benefit by the downtown renewal project. Federal community development monies are intended primarily to benefit lower-income persons, defined for this area as those earning less than $10,200 annually.

It was at first unclear how the beneficiaries of an economic development project, such as that proposed here, should be reckoned. Are they the customers of the downtown stores, the store owners, or their employees? And, if the employees are reckoned the beneficiaries, should their individual wages or their family incomes be the basis for determining their financial status?

According to HUD authorities, whom she asked to clarify the issue, it is legitimate to calculate the benefit of such a project in terms of the jobs that will be affected and to reckon the workers' income levels on the basis of their individual wages rather than family income, Hamilton said.

Prestonsburg Mayor Harold Cooley said this week he would be open to any suggestions for broadening the number of lower-income persons who might benefit from the renovation project.

W'wright Bank Manager Is Seriously Injured

Richard E. (Dickie) Allen was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when he fell from a ladder at the Wheelwright City Hall where he and others were taking down Christmas decorations. Allen, who is manager of the Bank Josephine branch bank at Wheelwright, and brother of former State Representative James "Jitter" Allen, is a patient at UK Medical Center where he remains in a coma. His condition, however, is said to be stable.

To Ask Order Halting Raises In TV Charges

The Floyd fiscal court is seeking a circuit court order this week which would enjoin Mike Little, owner of the Burton Antenna and TV Company, from raising his service rates or from cutting off any customers who refuse to pay the higher rate. Little has charged his subscribers in the upper Left Beaver section an additional dollar a month, beginning this month.

Overruling a recent decision of the county's cable TV commission, the fiscal court in its regular meeting last Wednesday rejected Little's argument that he is entitled to the rate increase under terms of his franchise. To raise fees, the operator is required to make formal application to the TV commission and justify the increase, according to County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr.

While the procedure rather than the merits of Little's bid for a rate hike is all that is strictly at stake in this instance, some members of the fiscal court used the occasion to criticize recent rate increases granted by the TV commission. "Every operator wants a raise," complained Magistrate Kenneth Roberts, who moved to seek a restraining order against Little.

Interest in Airport Said Only Financial

A question concerning the state's interest in the site of the Prestonsburg-Pointsville airport has received a clarification of sorts from Frank Metts, secretary of the state Department of Transportation.

The question surfaced last month when Dr. David White, a member of the airport board, informed the city council here that the state apparently claimed ownership of the property.

The dispute came to light, he said, when the airport board sought reimbursement from the state for fencing recently installed on the airport perimeter. State authorities balked at releasing funds until the question of title could be clarified, White said.

In a letter to City Manager David Evans last week, Metts disclaimed any state interest in title to the property. Nevertheless, the state has "a very real and distinct financial interest" in the airport since virtually all the money spent on it has come from the old Department of Aeronautics and, more recently, the Department of Transportation, he said.

A question of title persists, moreover, since some of the original owners of properties condemned for the airport construction still claim an interest in the property and have suits pending in the state Appeals Court.

The airport board was created in 1959 and sought to acquire nine tracts of land in Block House Bottom. Four tracts were granted clear fee title by federal district court in 1972; the remaining five rest in Johnson circuit court. While the question of title to those properties was adjudicated in favor of the airport board in 1975, the case remains on appeal and titles to the properties have never been transferred to the board.

Concern about ownership of the land has been heightened by the recent designation of a Martin county property as the site for a new regional airport and the question this raises about the future of the existing airport.

The concern is apparently not unfounded. "We believe it only reasonable and economically prudent to suggest," wrote Metts, "that neither the Commonwealth nor the communities in the Big Sandy area could financially support two airports so closely located."

Obviously, the existing airport will be needed for the several years it will take to develop the new facility, Metts concedes. However, he notes, "it seems equally obvious and appropriate that the equity in the existing facility could logically be devoted to the larger, more safe, installation."

Court Session Has Few Major Cases Docketed

One of the few criminal cases of interest to be heard at the current circuit court session this month is expected to go to trial today (Wednesday). The defendant is Tommy Cisco, who is charged with first degree arson in the burning of the home of Robert D. Blair.

On the whole, the court term has few major cases. The only manslaughter case docketed will not be heard till March 3 when John Henry Newsome's retrial for the slaying here of Gerald McBryer is scheduled. Newsome, who won a reversal of his earlier conviction and was returned here from the state reformatory, remains in jail, but his attorney, Rick Burmeister, of the Public Defender's office, said Tuesday he expects to file a notice that the defense may rely on an insanity plea and will also file a motion to have defendant committed for psychiatric evaluation.

Trial of Ben and Olive Meade on second degree assault charges connected with the death of their daughter will follow the Newsome trial but the exact trial date has not been set.

The third degree burglary charge against Douglas Sexton has been

Stream Work In County Cost Nearly $500,000

Although not expected to be a cure-all for flooding problems along the Beaver Creeks and other sections of the county, the recent completion of a large-scale snagging and clearing project by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers may at least give residents cause for optimism.

Between October 26 and December 30, 60 pieces of heavy equipment including bulldozers, log skidders, front end loaders, dumps and backhoes, and about 35 Floyd county workmen concentrated stream clearing efforts along Right and Left Beaver Creeks, Middle Creek and on the Big Sandy at Harold under the direction of Corps of Engineers personnel from the Huntington, W. Va. office.

The work, part of a larger Corps project which has focused on snagging and clearing in the drainage basins of both the Levisa and Tug fork of the Big Sandy River, was accomplished in this county at a cost approaching half a million dollars, according to Capt. William Radebush, project engineer for the work in this section.

On Right Beaver Creek, where residents have voiced concern that work on new KY 80 would intensify flooding, especially in the Garrett vicinity, work was done at Midas in Floyd county, and farther upstream at

'Little Floyd' Residents Say Two Counties Neglect Road

"It was the end of a dream for Tandy R.—and the beginning of a nightmare for his descendants." So wrote the late Henry P. Scalf, in 1972, of the ancient legislative maneuver that put the Mare Creek farm of Tandy Richard Stratton in Floyd county though it lies within the boundaries of Pike.

A good many Mare Creek residents would agree. Whatever the moral victory enjoyed by Stratton when he persuaded the state legislature in 1845 to include his thousand-acre property in Floyd, they claim, the ensuing and still unresolved boundary dispute has given officials in both counties all the excuse they need to ignore them.

The most obvious sign of this neglect is the Mare Creek road, which is paved for about a mile from the mouth of the creek—up to the undisputed Floyd-Pike line—and continues the remaining two miles as a narrow, eroded trail that is the bane of local residents and, they fear, a threat to the safety of their children.

"We're heading for a tragedy," said Julian Scalf, a son of Henry P. Scalf and great-great-grandson of Tandy Stratton, this week. "Bringing a busload of 60 or 70 kids over this road every day is inviting disaster."

A schoolbus carrying 19 children toppled off the road and rolled down a 40-foot embankment in 1968 and late last year, near the same spot, a schoolbus slid backwards into a drainage ditch, Scalf said. Neither incident resulted in serious injury but some residents fear their luck may not hold much longer.

"We've asked repeatedly to have the road repaired and a guardrail installed. We get promises but nothing else," Scalf complains. "No county claims us except at election time and tax-paying time—and then everyone claims us."

Mrs. Norah Scalf, Henry Scalf's widow, produces tax bills from both Pike and Floyd counties to confirm the point. Like most residents of the disputed section, she pays her taxes and votes in Floyd county. Not that it seems to do her much good. "They take our money all right," she commented, "but we don't get anything for it."

The Mare Creek dilemma dates back to the early 19th century, when Pike county was sundered from Floyd and

Building A Nest Egg For Your Child

By Nancy Ciolino

If you intend to help pay your children's education expenses or start them out in business, you should start a regular savings program as early as possible. Several plans exist to help you save. They differ in the amount of control you retain over your money and in possible tax benefits.

A bank account in your name with your child named as beneficiary is the simplest plan. You could also buy stocks and bonds in your name. Either way, you retain complete control over your money. A drawback to these arrangements, though, is the lack of tax benefits.

A life insurance or endowment policy will guarantee a set amount of money at some future date. The premiums you pay to the insurance company may be a convenient "forced-savings" plan. However, the rate of return for this kind of investment is generally lower than you would get on bank savings certificates. You should compare rates of return before deciding on an investment plan.

If you are in a high tax bracket, you may want to shift income to your child. Under gift-tax laws, you and your spouse are entitled to give up to $6,000 a year (or $3,000 per parent) to your child without paying gift-tax laws. Once the income is in your child's name, the taxes on the interest and dividends will be taxed at your child's rate. (A child may earn up to $1000 in interest and dividends without paying taxes. The child pays taxes on any amount over that but at a much lower tax rate than his or her parents.)

While an outright gift of money to your child—by setting up a bank account in the child's name, for example—might save you tax money, neither you nor the bank might wish to give a child complete control over large sums of money. A custodial trust fund modifies this arrangement: You would control the money until your child reaches the age specified in the trust (usually 18 or 21). The interest income would still be taxed at your child's rate.

You could also buy stocks and bonds in your child's name and manage the securities until the child reaches majority. The one disadvantage to this plan is that you cannot revoke the gift. When the child reaches the specified age, he or she has complete control of the money.

The Clifford trust may be overall the best investment vehicle, providing you are in the 30 percent tax bracket or higher and you have sufficient assets. To form this trust, you set aside some securities in trust for your child. You specify that the trust remains in existence for at least ten years and one day. The income from the trust goes directly into a custodial bank account for your child. When the trust dissolves after the specified amount of time, you get back your initial investment. Your child keeps the bank account which is now generating its own interest and which will be taxed at the child's rate.

Note that if a Clifford trust is started early enough, it will be dissolved before the child goes to college. Thus, the income is not used directly for the child's college costs because the trust no longer exists. The Clifford trust is, no doubt, a complicated matter and you should consult a lawyer before setting one up.

Whatever plan you choose, the essential thing is to estimate how much your child will need in the future and save on a regular basis. College costs today are at an average of $4,000 for state universities and $7,000 for private ones and they are likely to increase six percent a year. So the sooner you start saving, the better.

Medicare 'B' payments made by persons receiving Social Security benefits are deductible.

True  False

For older persons on a fixed income, H&R Block has the right answer to this and other questions regarding special tax credits and deductions for those taxpayers. If you itemize, the answer is TRUE. Because these payments are simply withheld from benefit checks during the year, they are often overlooked at tax time.

Energy Assist Program Accepting Applications

Frankfort, Ky.—The Department for Human Resources resumed taking applications for the Home Energy Assistance Program Wednesday, Jan. 14.

Last week, in the first two days of program operation, the department's Bureau for Social Insurance received 45,000 requests from low-income households seeking help with winter heating bills. The bureau delayed accepting more applications until those already received could be processed.

Huffman said there is no way to estimate how much longer the program's funds will be available. "We estimate that at least 95 percent of last week's applications will be approved," he said. "If so, almost $10 million is already committed, leaving about $10.9 million for this phase of the program."

The balance of the $24 million allocated to Kentucky by the federal government is earmarked for administration, heating cost assistance to operators of subsidized housing and help to households that face winter fuel emergencies after the regular program funds are exhausted.

Sentencing by Judges Unlikely, Chief Justice Palmore Declares

Chief Justice John Palmore, of the Kentucky Supreme Court, said recently that the chances "are less than ever" that the court will adopt a proposal for sentencing by judges instead of juries.

But he told the interim Committee on Judiciary that the outcome really is not that important anyway.

"It wouldn't bother me if they shot craps to see how many years a fellow got," Palmore said.

The chief justice said his indifference hinges on keeping the parole system, which he indicated is the final determinant of the length of sentences.

The proposal to allow state judges to pass sentence in state courts was made after a two-year study by a judicial subcommittee and was heard last month by the state Supreme Court, which is not expected to decide the issue until summer.

The same proposal has been rejected twice in the past decade.

"I think it would probably be a good change," Palmore told the legislators. But he voted against it previously "because I didn't want to see a conflict with the Legislature," he said, adding that "you won't see a chief justice that has any greater sensitivity to your feelings than I have."

Rules now provide for a jury to set terms for a defendant within limits outlined in a statute passed by the Legislature.

Palmore said it is important for the legislative and judicial branches of government to know the powers of each.

"As long as we have a clear idea of where the fence is that separates your property from ours, we'll be good neighbors," he said.

Palmore said that in any issues between the two branches, plus the executive branch, perhaps the most significant question in any gray area should be "which makes for better government?"

Rep. Louie Guenther, R-Louisville, told Palmore that there seems to be no clear line on whether the Legislature or judicial branch regulates the practice of law in Kentucky.

There is "no question" but that the Supreme Court does so, Palmore said.

Rep. Harry Moberly, D-Richmond, said that since the Kentucky Bar Association is an arm of the Supreme Court, "are we lawyers (in the Legislature) not in conflict?"

"I think not," Palmore said. "I wouldn't worry about it."

For the fifth year members of the Maytown Volunteer Fire Department delivered bags of fruit to the elderly at Christmas. It's always very cold but the membership present on these occasions is near 100%. Fruit is delivered to those who are 65 years of age or older and to shut-ins. "If anyone is missed it is not intentional and the Fire Department would like to be notified of anyone that is missed" said Fire Chief Edward F. Robinson. Funds for the distribution of the fruit is donated by the members during the year and none is taken from the funds donated to the Fire Department by the public. ## 'Monty Python' Comic Stars In 'Taming of the Shrew' on Ket

The third season of "The Shakespeare Plays" premieres on KET on Monday, January 26 at 9 p.m. with "The Taming of the Shrew."

The two and one-half-hour production marks two debuts of interest: It is the first Shakespearean role for a man noted for another brand of comic mayhem, "Monty Python's" John Cleese; and it also marks the first "Shakespeare Play" to be produced and directed by Dr. Jonathan Miller (host of "The Body In Question") who has taken over the reins for seasons three and four of the series.

Miller and Cleese chat about their interpretation of the role in a lively conversation following the program.

Cleese took the role of Petruchio, who tames the terrible Kate and wins her for his wife, "because Jonathan asked me to." He hasn't done Shakespeare before, he says, because "I don't usually like the way it's done—all that declaiming and gesturing. I think it's more important to try to make as much sense as possible out of it, to push the meaning across to a present-day audience even if a little of the beauty of the works has to be sacrificed."

When BBC-TV telecast "The Taming of the Shrew" late in 1980, the production won almost unanimous critical acclaim, for Miller's direction, Sarah Badel's fiery Kate and Cleese's

Petruchio, which one critic praised as "excellent, grave and intelligent...an object lesson in serving Shakespeare to a present-day audience."

"The Taming of the Shrew," one of the Bard's most popular comedies, is set in Renaissance Padua, the ancient Italian city. The action of the comedy centers on the wooing of two sisters, the beautiful Bianca and the shrewish Katherina (Kate). While the former sister is courted by a parade of unlikely suitors, Kate is called on by the determined Petruchio. After a raucous wedding and a hellish honeymoon, Petruchio ultimately wins Kate's love and loyalty.

In addition to the humor provided by the Kate/Petruchio relationship, the play presents an abundance of comic characters and situations ranging from verbal repartee to slapstick.

"The Shakespeare Plays" is presented on KET by WNET/Thirteen, New York. The series, which will eventually bring all 37 of William Shakespeare's dramatic works to public television, is a BBC-TV and Time-Life co-production.

Hermansdorfer To Leave Bench

U. S. District Judge H. David Hermansdorfer, of Ashland, has resigned from the federal bench, effective Feb. 1.

In a resignation letter to President Carter, Hermansdorfer said that his last day in court will be Jan. 31.

Hermansdorfer, 49, has not heard any cases since last month, when he underwent surgery for a slipped disc at Cleveland Clinic. He had been bothered by a painful back problem for more than a year.

In November, 1979, Hermansdorfer announced his intention to resign, but did not step down because of the illness of Judge Bernard T. Moynahan Jr., who suffered a heart attack.

"The combination of events makes this a good time to resign, since Judge Moynahan has recovered and is back at work," he said.

He said last week that since submitting his resignation he has been negotiating with a large Kentucky law firm for a job advising its clients on matters involving federal litigation.

Hermansdorfer was appointed to the bench by President Nixon in 1972. Some critics later implied that Hermansdorfer's hearing of cases involving the coal industry amounted to a conflict of interest because of his financial interest in coal.

Hermansdorfer was one of six men recommended for a seat on the U. S. Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit, but the vacancy went to Boyce Martin, then chief judge of the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Martin Gets a Break

The news coming out of the office of Congressman Carl D. Perkins that the town of Martin will get the federal financing needed for improvements to its water and sewer systems is good news.

Martin has had more than its share of woes. Many of these stem from the repeated floodings the community has suffered. Wherever any other blame lies for its present plight, let it lie.

The important thing for the community now is to encourage its officials to forget past failures and disputes and to turn, instead, to getting the job done.

This community has citizens of enough intelligence and initiative to win out over discouraging circumstances. The talent is there, but it will continue to fail unless cooperation is practised.

Tandy Stratton discovered to his dismay that he now lived in Pike.

Stratton had scant regard for the Pike county seat, but considerable emotional and political ties to Prestonsburg. His grandfather, Solomon, had laid out the city in 1797 and members of the family had held various political offices in Floyd county.

He took his case to Frankfort in 1845 and—in an otherwise unremarkable bill "establishing additional election precincts in Harrison and Crittenden counties, and for other purposes"—managed to have inserted a section providing that "the county line between Floyd and Pike counties be so changed on Ware Creek (sic), as to include the farm of Tandy R. Stratton, on said creek, in Floyd county."

What the bill—and perhaps the legislators who passed it—failed to note was that the Stratton farm was not contiguous with the original Floyd line. The acreage that was now by law a part of Floyd county was still, by geography, an island in a Pike county sea, its nearest boundary half a mile from the Floyd mainland.

Pike authorities remained unmoved by the Frankfort maneuver and once found support for their position in a topographical map drawn by the U. S. Geological Survey, which included the Stratton property in Pike county. In determining jurisdiction over a murder committed near the disputed boundary, a Floyd judge ruled subsequently that "Little Floyd" was indeed a legal entity, an assistant attorney-general rendered the same opinion in 1966, and the Geological Survey is now said also to recognize the fact.

The question of who is responsible to maintain the road there remains as problematic as ever, however, with predictable results. What maintenance is done is done by local residents, at their own expense, they say.

Property was condemned and rights-of-way secured for a new road on Mare Creek in 1964, but nothing materialized. In 1978, residents met with Deputy Highways Commissioner Otto Ingram, State Rep. James "Jitter" Allen, District Four Magistrate Hershel Hamilton, and County Roads Foreman Sam Fitzpatrick, securing a commitment from the officials, residents say, that the road would be blacktopped its entire length.

"They promised 1400 tons of blacktop, the money for it was appropriated, and the county got the money," Julian Scalf claims. "What we got out of it was 40 tons of blacktop, which was used for patching."

Later that year, County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. informed six families who had opposed the county's taking their land for a road that "title of the county has been secured since May 29, 1964 and, based on recent fiscal court action, it is my firm belief that the fiscal court will pursue any and all action as may be necessary to accomplish and control use of the county's right-of-way."

The following year, the Beth Elkhorn Coal Company deeded some 10 acres on Mare Creek to the county for the purpose of building a road. Still nothing happened even though, according to Scalf, "we wore our tonsils out" calling state and county officials.

Unwilling to wait any longer for the realization of official promises, Scalf has rebuilt his home nearer the mouth of Mare Creek. But he has not given up the struggle for a road to serve its upper reaches. The safety of school children is his primary concern, he says, although access to his parents' Bedstead Farm at the head of the hollow is also a matter of more than personal interest, he insists.

Designated a state landmark by the Kentucky Heritage Commission, the Bedstead Farm attracts a steady stream of visitors who should not have to negotiate "the county's forgotten road" in the pursuit of history, Scalf maintains.

The road itself, however, and the political buckpassing that has reduced it to its present state, have arguably earned a place of their own in the county's history.

Dema and Kite, in Knott county. Debris removal at Buckingham, Hi Hat and Printer was effected on Left Beaver Creek, and work on "main" Beaver focused on a location at Martin and in the vicinity of the Stumbo Memorial Park, near Allen. In addition, equipment was transferred to locations near David and at Clark Elementary school for work on Middle Creek, and "spot clearing" was carried out on the Big Sandy at Harold.

Capt. Radebush said the work involved the clearing of "jams" of fallen trees, garbage and other debris "from areas where it was determined the work would do the most good." Trees which appeared likely to fall into the stream later were also felled and removed as a preventive measure, according to the Corps engineer.

"The whole concept is to open up areas to increase water velocity and prevent the stream from backing up into residential or commercial areas," explained Radebush. He stressed the point that the work was designed to effect stream flow only during high water conditions. "The idea is not to change the low water conditions which might adversely affect fish habitat," he pointed out. "There's no reason to upset the stream environment."

Although abnormally dry conditions and low water levels were an advantage to work crews, Capt. Radebush said problems were still frequent. "A number of times, pieces of heavy equipment would bury up almost to the cab and we spent a lot of time getting unstuck," he said. "And it always seemed worse just below a stripmine site."

Thursday night in separate raids conducted by state police officers. Larry J. Branham, 34, was charged with transporting alcoholic beverages after 1296 cans of beer were confiscated. His trial has been set for March 4. The other raid was on the residence of Roy Branham, on whose premises officers reported finding 2494 cans of beer and 117 half-pints of whiskey. He was charged with illegal possession and is under $2000 bond to appear in district court for trial February 5.

Officers involved in the raids were State Detectives Roger L. Castle and Lee Weddington, Trooper Terry Hall and Wheelwright Policeman Edd Meade.

Others booked at the county jail during the past week, charges against them, and arresting officers are as follows:

Virgil Ray Hale, 21, receiving stolen property, by Deputy Sheriff P. Neeley and Wayland policeman N. Thornsbury; John Horne, assault on police officer, public intoxication, resisting arrest, by Prestonsburg policemen L. Woods and J. Wright; Ronald Elliott, theft by deception, by Deputy Sheriff Neeley and Wayland policeman Thornsbury; Owen Jr. Babb, theft, by Deputy Sheriff Neeley and Wayland policeman Thornsbury; John D. "They're ripping the public off."

The court agreed to meet with the TV commission to try to resolve differences that have arisen between the two bodies.

Over Roberts' objection, the court accepted a commission recommendation to approve transfers of Smith TV Cable to Allen Cable TV and of Bartley TV Cable to Licking Valley Cable, Inc.

Re-appointed for two-year terms to the county solid waste commission were Bob McAninch, chairman, Magistrates Ed Caudill and Hershel Hamilton, Charles Clark and John Allen. McAninch, Henry Harris, Jr. and Teresa Fitzpatrick were named to an agency which will consider permit applications for use of the new sanitary landfill at Garth.

Operation of the planned countywide trash collection system awaits approval of the new landfill site by the state and the release of federal funds, said to have been already approved by authorities. In the meantime, the fiscal court decided to lease for another year property belonging to Reva Martin, of Drift, for use as a temporary landfill site.

Betsy Lambert, of Prestonsburg, was re-appointed to a two-year term on the Floyd County Community Development and Urban Renewal Board, and Raymond Meade, of McDowell, was appointed to the board of the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District, replacing Jim Reed, who resigned.

The state Department of Transportation will be asked to deed to the county property opened up by the construction of KY 80, at Warco, the intended site of a 68-unit public housing project. The price of the tract has been set at $171,000, to be supplied by the Department for Housing and Urban Development unless the highways department can be persuaded to give it gratis to the county. If the purchase price could be saved on this transaction, County Planner Dick Leslie explained this week, the county would stand a better chance of getting HUD-financed housing developments in other sections of the county.

Residents of the Glo Trailer Park, Glo Hollow and Estill Bottom successfully petitioned the court to order National Mines to reopen a road there. The petitioners said the road is necessary to provide access to their properties in the event high water closes a bridge serving the area.

Some residents of the Tom Martin road, at West Garrett, came to the defense of Lakewood Coal Sales, cited for road damage last month when the fiscal court placed a 10-ton weight limit on the road. After reading a statement from local residents who said the coal company adequately maintained the road and they did not want the road closed to trucking, the court decided to remove the weight limit, Magistrate Roberts dissenting.

Dora Kidd, of Tram, again complained of road damage caused there by a blocked drain, said to be the responsibility of the C. and O. railroad, and Richard Ousley, of Blue River, again complained of road damage there said to have been caused by South Central Bell employees.

Machinery Sales, of Allen, was awarded the bid for a backhoe, for $16,950. A slightly lower bid by Brandeis Machinery, of Stanville, was said to have been rejected on account of doubts about whether parts would be available for the machine, a line being discontinued by the manufacturer.

A bid by Anthony Castle, on an obsolete county truck, was accompanied by a bill for service on the truck. Since the bid price and the bill were for the same amount—$825—Castle said he would accept the truck as settlement of the bill. After some discussion of the propriety of the transaction, it was approved by the court.

MAYTOWN NEWS

Mrs. Rebecca Salisbury, Stockdale, Ohio, came here Monday for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb. She was accompanied here by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Salisbury, of Beaver, Ohio, who returned home Monday.

Friends here regret to learn of the death of Mark Reed of Lexington. He and his family are former residents of Langley.

The senior class of the Maytown United Methodist Church enjoyed an outing at the Star Burst Skating Rink at Auxier, Sunday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Patton.

Miss Rebecca Linn Stewart, of Westchester, Ohio, spent the weekend in Martin visiting her brother, Tom Stewart, and family and friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinkston, of Ashland, were guests at morning services at the Maytown United Methodist Church where he conducted services in the absence of Rev. Clem. Evening services were conducted by Rev. Elswick, of Martin.

Mrs. Shirley Stewart, of Westchester, Ohio, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stewart and Cara Loraine at Martin and relatives here.

Sympathy is extended to relatives of Buck Allen, of Eastern, who died last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Halbert and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Halbert, Jr. attended the Kentucky-Mississippi ball game in Lexington last Wednesday.

Lyman Branham is a patient at Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stewart and Cara Loraine, Mrs. Shirley Stewart and Miss Beckie Stewart visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb and Mrs. Rebecca Salisbury, Sunday afternoon.

have battled a run of little news that amounts to much. The digging has been hard.

Monday afternoon, late, the youngest member of our news staff saw what appeared to be news breaking right under his nose, so to speak. Driving past the Fountain Korner Drug, he glanced toward the windows and noted a "foggy" appearance within. Stopping by, he approached the entrance and saw what appeared to be smoke, went to the window and peered inside. There was no visible blaze but the place was filled with smoke. He took a closer look, then hurried to the fire station a block away to report what he saw—a building full of smoke.

Then he dashed back to this office for his camera while sirens wailed and Fire Department, Rescue Squad and police vehicles roared in.

Returning to the scene of the "fire," our man found Johnny Burke, one of the owners of the drugstore, standing outside, head in hands. To get inside, firemen had smashed the front door.

The smoke was caused by a bug-killer "bomb" that had been activated at the closing of the store for the day.

"They made me an honorary member of the Fire Department, but my helmet isn't shaped like the others," our reporter reports. "It's kinda tall and cone-shaped."

WHO WERE THE CONQUERORS?

There are nature-lovers who, for lack of learning, are not naturalists. And there are naturalists who, for the lack of caring, are not nature-lovers.

Rufus M. Reed, whose "Nature Trails" column for years graced these pages, belongs to neither category. His great store of nature lore is the result of his love of nature, for all living things. He's the genuine article.

Now well into his 80s, Mr. Reed has recently published a new book, "Conquerors of the Dark Hills," which deals with the early settlers' struggle to live among and conquer the hills of his native Martin county.

It is a saga of struggle for survival. It tells of the clearing of "newgrounds" for crops, the plowing and planting and harvesting, the old life of community cooperation in houseraising, logrollings and corn-hoings; of a day when mere trails served as roads; of one-room log schools; of a time when cash was almost non-existent, and the economy depended upon barter; years of endless warfare with an unfriendly environment.

Then, Mr. Reed writes, came new conquerors—those who came for the rich coal resources of this unyielding land. For some of these he has praise, but for those who came to strip-mine in the days before there were any regulations to curb them he has no encomiums.

In their way, conquerors all—those who swung the axe and followed the bull-tongue plow, lived the hard life and refused to quit; and those who came with modern machinery to claim in a few short years more of the wealth of the hills than all the generations of those who settled the land. The conquering done, the author now questions the victory. Both naturalist and nature-lover, he concludes his work with these paragraphs:

"There is no telling how long this great boom (the coal boom) will last or what the conditions will be when it is over."

"I sometimes wonder about this: Say, when the coal is gone from these hills and when the timber supply is exhausted, and when the soil is washed down into the streams, how will the people live then? They may be forced to live under hard conditions worse than those faced by the old settlers who worked hard and were the true conquerors of the hills."

(Conquerors of the Dark Hills, $6.95, may be procured from Rufus M. Reed, Lovely, Ky.)

East Ky. Power To Get Billion

Congressman Carl D. Perkins announced last week that East Kentucky Power Cooperative will receive a $1,011,352,000 loan guarantee from the Rural Electrification Administration to construct a 650-megawatt, coal-fired steam generating unit which will include about 195 miles of transmission lines.

The unit will provide power to Rural Electric Coops in Floyd, Bath, Bracken, Breathitt, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Greenup, Johnson, Letcher, Lewis, Magoffin, Mason, Menifee, Montgomery, Morgan, Nicholas, Powell, Rowan, Wolfe, Casey, Clinton, Clay, Estill, Garrard, Green, Jackson, Knox, Laurel, Lee, Lincoln, Madison, McCreary, Metcalfe, Owsley, Pulaski, Russell, Wayne, Whitley, Boyle, Clark, Fayette, Franklin, Grant, Harrison, Henry, Mercer, Owen, Pendleton, Scott, Shelby, Anderson, Barren, Haradin, Hart, Lurie, Marion, Nelson, Boone, Campbell, Carroll, Gallatin, Kenton, Jessamine and Trimble counties.

"The construction of this facility will provide power for future growth in Eastern Kentucky," Congressman Perkins said. "It will also provide an additional market for Eastern Kentucky coal."

The plant will be constructed on the Kentucky River in Clark county.

Clean Air Bill Is Prime Issue

The National Wildlife Federation has joined a nationwide campaign to press Congress for passage of a strong and fair federal Clean Air Act in 1981. With the Clean Air Act of 1970 up for Congressional renewal and some industries pressing for relaxation of air quality standards they criticize as too costly, many conservationists see the fight for renewal of the landmark anti-pollution law as the most important environmental battle they will face next year.

NWF, the nation's largest citizens' conservation group, is joining a coalition of conservation, labor, consumer, and civic groups "to help make the public more aware of the harmful effects of air pollution on man and wildlife and of the benefits of the clean air law under which we have made so much progress in the past decade," said Thomas L. Kimball, executive vice president of the Federation.

"While industries complain that they cannot afford to comply with clean air regulations, they fail to mention how much consumers have to pay to repair air pollution damage," he said. "The Council on Environmental Quality has found that while Americans spent $16 billion to comply with federal clean air standards in 1978, they saved $21 billion in health and property expenditures."

Kimball cited acid rain—precipitation turned acidic by emissions of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxide—as one of the most pressing air pollution problems. "Acid rain has killed all the fish in half the high-altitude lakes in upstate New York and 140 Ontario lakes, and threatens to ruin thousands of lakes in some of our most famous parks and wilderness areas," he explained. "And damage from acid rain causes million dollar losses for the fishing and tourism industries. Our present federal Clean Air Act must be strengthened to address this critical and expensive problem."

Aside from the obvious harm air pollution has on human health, Kimball pointed out that a recent U. S. fish and Wildlife Service study found evidence of air pollution's ill effects on wildlife.

The NWF hopes to work with the National Clean Air Coalition and industry and the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to find ways to improve Clean Air regulations, Kimball emphasized. "We think EPA has shown itself to be very flexible in working with industry," he said, "and so are we."

The NWF will be working with its grassroots affiliates in all 50 states to emphasize the importance of a strong and fair Clean Air Act, Kimball said. "There's no question that deterioration of air quality in many cities has been halted. The clean air campaign wants to insure that this progress continues and that everyone understands that an effective Clean Air Act is a must for the 1980's."

Recent public opinion polls, Kimball said, show that the American people "still want the protection of anti-pollution laws even though some segments of industry have tried to portray them as costly and unworkable." Kimball cited a 1980 survey by the University of Chicago's National Opinion Research Center in which 50 per cent of the respondents said that "too little" money was spent on environmental problems and only 15 per cent thought the amount spent was "too much."

Kimball cited another national survey, conducted this year by Resources for the Future, in which a plurality of respondents thought environmental protection was too important to consider its cost. Presented with three alternatives, a startling 42 per cent chose the one which read: "Protecting the environment is so important that requirements and standards cannot be too high, and continuing improvement must be made regardless of cost."

Other national groups that have joined the clean air campaign include the American Lung Association, Environmental Policy Center, Friends of the Earth, League of Women Voters, National Audubon Society, National Parks and Conservation Association, Natural Resources Defense Council, Sierra Club, and United Steelworkers.

McDowell Scores 17th Win

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON and TOMMIE LYNN MAY

The McDowell Daredevils won their 16th and 17th games last week against only three losses all season. Last Tuesday night at the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse, the Devils ran into some unexpected trouble from the improving and young Blackcats of Coach Ronnie Robinson. McDowell won the game, 56 to 53, but only after an overtime. Friday night at McDowell, the Daredevils defeated Allen Central, 71 to 68.

Coach Johnny Martin's Allen Central Rebels also lost last Tuesday night at Wheelwright, 60 to 54. Prestonsburg also lost its second game of the week Friday night at Virgie. The seventh rated Eagles downed the Blackcats, 90 to 40. The Betsy Layne Bobcats played only one game last week, winning over the visiting Pikeville Panthers, 80 to 64.

In the Prestonsburg-McDowell game Joe Marson led the Cats' attack with 20 points, Freshman Kelly Cecil and Jack Wells each had 8 and John Gillium fired in 13 points. Pete Grigsby and Stewart Osborne connected for 14 points each for McDowell, and teammate Frank Johnson had 12 points.

In the Allen Central game, the host team, McDowell trailed at halftime, 36 to 32. The Daredevils were led in scoring by Stewart Osborne with 23, Pete Grigsby had 18, Chester Newsome added 13 points, while sophomore center, Jimmy Turner, had 10. Allen Central was led in scoring by Randy Conley with 23, Bruce Mullins and Tim Lawson connected for 12 points each. In Betsy Layne's win over Pikeville four Bobcats hit in double figures. Dwight Newsome had 22, Jimmy Hall 19, Dwayne Lykins 18, and Johnny Little 11. Pikeville was led in scoring by Jimmy Branham with 23 points.

Tuesday night at Wheelwright Gilford Hall led the attack for the Trojans with 22 points as the Trojans defeated Allen Central 60 to 54. Randy Conley connected for 20 points, and Bruce Mullins had 16 for the losing Rebels.

The Allen Central Rebelettes rolled to their 21st win Friday night, defeating the McDowell Daredevilletes, 67 to 30. The Rebelettes are now the only undefeated team in the 15th region. Belfry's Lady Pirates lost their first game of the season in an overtime to Paris by a score of 58 to 54 in the UK Lady Kat Tournament at Lexington. Sheldon Clark won its first game of the tourney, defeating Lexington Bryan Station, 60 to 50, but lost the second game to Corbin, 71 to 55, then won the consolation game, defeating Paris, 60 to 58.

The Rebelettes won three games last week, winning over the Wheelwright Lady Trojans, 70 to 32, Knott Central, 58 to 47, and the McDowell Daredevilletes, 67 to 30.

On Thursday the Wheelwright Lady Trojans lost to the Whitesburg Yellow Jackets, 73 to 36. The Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats won their 14th game of the season over the Virgie Lady Eagles, 44-43 on a last-second shot by Kris Lawson.

Retired From Army

Sfc. Lloyd H. Hall, native of Teaberry, has recently completed 20 years service with the army. He has served in Vietnam, Okinawa, with several tours of duty in Germany, Korea, Taiwan, and South America. A specialist in missile firing, he was in charge of training special groups of enlisted men in this field.

The son of Mrs. Beatrice Hall, of Teaberry, and the late Frank Hall, he and his family are now residing at Teaberry.

Attends Carter Farewell

Robert McAninch, professor of government at Prestonsburg Community College, was invited by President and Mrs. Carter to attend their farewell reception in the East Room of the White House last Wednesday. The President and the First Lady attended the reception of about 150 Carter supporters.

"I told the President he still had a role to play in American politics," said McAninch, "but it was awfully sad when the band played Auld Lang Syne. It goes without saying that it is a great honor to speak with the president of the United States in his own house."

This is the second time in fourteen months that McAninch has been invited to the White House, the last time for a briefing on the SALT II treaty.

Young Cats Starting To Claw

By KENNY RICE

Coach Donnie Williams has one junior, two sophomores, seven freshmen, one eighth grader and one seventh grader on his Betsy Layne varsity.

He also has one of the five best teams in the 15th Region, second only to Allen Central in the county, and the potential talent to have a dynasty over the next three years in this area.

Sophomores Lela Layne and Sheila Johnson are in their second season as starters. Junior Lecia Mulkey starts opposite Layne in the backcourt for a second season and freshmen Kim Tackett and Cassandra Keathley alternate at the forward spot beside of Johnson.

Layne began the season on a hot streak, averaging over 20 points through the Kats first five games. Her average has cooled to 13 points an outing and Johnson has raised her output to 14 points per contest. Mulkey averages 9 a game, Tackett 6 and Keathley 5.

"We don't have a lot of scoring so we have to count on our defense," Williams adds, "The girls realize if they don't play defense they can't beat the stronger teams."

Betsy Layne held Allen Central to 32 points in the finals of the Betsy Layne Invitational in November but lost on a last second shot. Two weeks later in the Pre-Season Tournament, Allen Central beat the Lady Kats by 30 points. This roller coaster play has been the trademark of the young Kats again this season, but Williams knows it is all part of growing up.

"We are not consistent against Allen Central. In our tournament we had no trouble with their press but against them in the Pre-Season it tore us apart. The girls play very aggressive but they are so young they sometimes lack the intensity to win against the good teams. But the future looks bright."

Indeed it does. In a 20 point win at Johnson Central, eighth grader Gwen Newsome came off the bench to score 17 points. Freshman Christina Grose came off the bench at McDowell to score 9 points, grab 7 rebounds and block 7 shots in the Kats victory. She is recuperating from a shoulder injury and is expected to join the team again within a month. Freshman Malisa Layne, Christina Lawson and Wendy Kaylor start on an unbeaten junior varsity team. Betsy Layne's jayvees have lost only one game in two seasons.

The Lady Kats have road games at Allen Central this Friday, and in February at Sheldon Clark and Belfry. Among the Kats' wins this season are road victories over Millard and Williamson, W. Va.

In an early season setback to Sheldon Clark, the Lady Kats missed 23 free throws yet lost by just 5 points. More growing pains.

Grigsby, Garland Meet Ex-Teammates

What has happened to Geri Grigsby, now that she has left the University of Kentucky?

She and another Lady Kat, Sharon Garland, both transferred to Western Kentucky State university, Bowling Green, where she is a regular at a guard position. At Western she apparently is getting a better chance at displaying the scoring ability which made her a high school All-American while she was playing for McDowell High School.

In the recent game between the UK Kittens and Western's Lady Hilltoppers, the former UK players, Grigsby and Garland, almost had the satisfaction of leading their team to victory over the UK girls. Western led, most of the first half, but finally lost to the Kittens, 77 to 70.

Grigsby had eight points and seven assists in this game.

In the Jan. 29 81-80 victory of Western over Murray State Grigsby had five points and nine assists, meanwhile holding Murray's leading scorer to a below-par game.

THANKS BUSINESSMEN

The Marion Rebekah Lodge wishes to express its sincere appreciation to the businessmen and merchants in the county who contributed door prizes and other items which helped greatly in making the district Christmas party held here such a success.

PCC To Offer Seniors Introduction to Law

The office of Community Service-Continuing Education at Prestonsburg Community College is offering a law course for high school seniors (and interested adults) who would like to know more about the principles and practices of law. The class will be taught in Room 115 of the Pike Technology Building, 6:30-8:30 on Thursday evenings, beginning, February 5 and continuing through March 26.

The lawyer who will teach the class is Murray B. Frazee, Jr., who is presently a VISTA volunteer living in David. Mr. Frazee, who is "retired," is a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and of George Washington University where he received the J.D. degree with honors and American University where he received the M. A. degree in international relations.

Mr. Frazee developed the course from an idea he got from the practice of law during which he talked to many young people (and older ones, too) who had some very bizarre ideas about law.

He felt that at the 12th grade level would be a good place to start. In the Gettysburg, Pa. school system, 12th grade social studies were taught in four elective 9-week "mini-courses," so his course, entitled, "Law for the High School Senior," was offered and he ended up, because of the demand, teaching it four times every year to almost every senior in the school.

"I mention a lot of subjects in the course," Frazee says, "but spend a considerable amount of time on the following: The court system and how it works, crimes, criminal law, criminal procedure; domestic relations, including divorce, annulment, separation, adoption, support; civil wrongs, including negligence; banking law, corporations, wills and intestacy, and a lot of other things get a deep bow along the way. There is no textbook. Although it was devised with the 18-year-old in mind, it would be suitable for any adult.

For more information contact Prestonsburg Community College at 886-3863 extension 215.

Power Usage Sets Record, Jan. 12th

For the second time in eight days this month Kentucky Power Company's customers set a new demand record for electricity, the utility reported last week.

On Monday, Jan. 12, a new winter peak of 972,000 kilowatts was set which eclipsed the record set the previous Monday of 967,000 kilowatts. The new mark represents a 5.1% increase over the previous high of 922,000 kilowatts set in January last year.

Robert E. Matthews, president, said, "This new high was set on a day when the temperatures were 10-15 degrees warmer than the previous Monday which points out although weather is a big factor in increasing usage for residential customers, the industrial load necessary to keep people working apparently was the major reason for this new peak."

Kentucky Power's generating capability at its Big Sandy Plant is 1,060,000 kilowatts. The company is attempting to acquire new generating facilities for its customers. Matthews said the company's 10-year load forecast calls for an annual peak load growth of 5.5- and "it is very likely our customers usage will surpass that prediction before the winter is over."

He encouraged residential customers to contact the company to inquire about energy management programs which could help offset the higher electric bills which will result from the higher usage this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wills

The staff and management of the Paintsville Hospital recently honored Alma Wills, LPN, on her 70th birthday and after 51 years of dedicated service. A native of Pike county, she entered RN nurse training at the Paintsville Hospital and received two years of professional nurse's training. She married Charles Wills in 1930, and they have three children, Charles Edward, Jr., Jack Douglas and William Thomas Wills.

On her birthday Mrs. Wills spoke of the big change in nursing since the 1920s. She said when she first started work at Paintsville she worked the night shift and in addition to taking care of patients, fired the furnace, swept floors, mopped them if they needed to be mopped and was always allowed to cook one meal for the nurses at night. "Of course," she added, "we worked 12-hour shifts and didn't need to do a lot of paper work like we do today; we just waited on the patients and got them well. There wasn't any penicillin and antibiotics like we have today. If a patient got pneumonia, we gave them what medicine that was available at that time and aspirin to keep their fever down. If their heart got too fast, we gave them a few drops of digitalis in water—and did a lot of praying if a patient was very bad off."

She gives the impression that if she had her life to live over she would not have wanted to change it very much. She works part-time now at the hospital and says she enjoys every minute of it.

The party was a complete surprise to Mrs. Wills. She received a gold bracelet with a charm inscribed, "50 years service," and a check for $50 from hospital management. She also received many gifts from her fellow-workers. Mayor James Trimble presented her with a key to the city.

In 1915, the LaFollette Seaman's Act was approved, regulating conditions of employment for maritime workers, according to a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor, "Important Events In American Labor History".

Consumer Alert

Christmas bills are coming in, inflation has hit your wallet and loans are more difficult to obtain. Many Kentuckians will have difficulty facing financial responsibilities this month. But no matter how much a consumer owes or how hard it is for a merchant to collect, certain debt collection procedures are illegal and should be reported to the attorney general's consumer protection division, says Attorney General Steven Beshear.

The federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act covers personal, family and household debts such as money owed for a car, charge accounts, medical expenses, furniture and cosmetics. A debt collector is anyone, other than the creditor or an attorney, who regularly collects debts for others.

"Under federal law, a debt collector may contact you in person, by mail, by telephone or by telegram but it cannot be at an inconvenient time unless you agree. They may not contact you at work if they know your employer does not allow them to call," said Beshear. "You may stop a debt collector from contacting you by telling the collector to cease communications. This should be done in writing, and I suggest you send the letter by certified or registered mail so you can be sure they receive it. However, you may be subject to legal action by the creditor if you refuse to pay a legitimate debt."

Beshear says consumers should contact his office for a free copy of the pamphlet "You have a Right to Stop Unfair Debt Collection Practices in Kentucky." If you would like a copy write: Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

For more information on debt collection practices, contact: Jeanie Owen-Miller, Division of Consumer Protection, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, (502) 564-2200.

To file a complaint call 1-800-432-9257 (toll free) to request a complaint form.

City Deeds Fire Trucks To County

Prestonsburg Mayor Harold Cooley, left, turns over to Floyd Judge-Executive Bill Wells copy of an agreement deeding two city fire trucks to the county for a dollar apiece.

Both trucks, a 1955 Ford and a 1962 Chevrolet, have recently been restored and will now be maintained by the county, according to the agreement. The Ford is to be garaged and operated by the Prestonsburg Fire Department, as a backup for the city and for use in the county, especially in the first magisterial district. The Chevrolet will be operated by the Mud Creek Fire Department and garaged there.

Mother's Conviction Is Upheld

The Kentucky Court of Appeals last week upheld the reckless-homicide conviction of a Lexington woman in the glue-sniffing death of her son.

Rebecca Hettich is the mother of Eric Amburgey, who died in June 1979 after inhaling toxic fumes from a plastic bag containing glue and spray paint, a practice called "huffing."

The 10-year-old boy's body was found in a wooded area behind his Liberty Arms Apartments home.

(The victim was the son of Ronald Amburgey, formerly of Martin.)

Mrs. Hettich said that she had not decided whether to appeal the case to the Kentucky Supreme Court. That court could decide whether it wants to review the case.

"I'm not surprised by the decision," she said, "but I'm not bitter about it."

The 33-year-old English instructor at the University of Kentucky was arrested several days after her son's death and charged with endangering the welfare of a minor. The charge was later changed to reckless homicide, a Class D felony punishable by one to five years in prison.

The charges centered on allegations that the woman did not look for her son after he left their apartment on the night he died. She did not call police until the next morning.

Mrs. Hettich's first trial in Fayette circuit court ended in a mistrial after the jury failed to reach a verdict. She was convicted in a second trial and sentenced to one year in prison but later was placed on three years' probation.

Mrs. Hettich testified at the trials that Eric had gone to watch television at a neighbor's apartment and hadn't returned home on time. She said she was concerned about him but decided to look for him immediately because he knew what time he was supposed to be home.

She fell asleep while waiting for him and didn't call police until the next morning, she said. After searching the area around the apartment complex, Mrs. Hettich found the body in the wooded area. A plastic bag covered the boy's face, and a tube of rubber cement was found in his pocket.

A key witness for the prosecution was Kenneth Brewer, a playmate of the victim, who testified that he told Mrs. Hettich the day he disappeared that Eric was huffing paint and that she made no attempt to stop her son.

Mrs. Hettich denied ever having such a conversation with Brewer.

A key issue in the appeal was Brewer's testimony in the second trial. He left the courthouse during the trial and didn't return to the stand. Circuit Judge N. Mitchell Meade then let a police officer read Brewer's testimony from the first trial.

Mrs. Hettich contended that this violated her constitutional right to cross-examine the witness.

But, the three-judge Court of Appeals panel said it could not determine whether the testimony was prejudicial to Mrs. Hettich, since no transcript was kept.

Defendant's attorney Capillo said he would probably file a petition with the Court of Appeals, asking the judges to reconsider their ruling.

BETSY LAYNE COMMUNITY NEWS

Former Postmaster, A. M. Boyd, who has been ill for several weeks is again a patient in the Pikeville Methodist Hospital. His several children have been home, assisting Eulerene and Fred Conn with his care.

Jack Branham, Jr., who had heart bypass surgery in Lexington a few weeks ago, returned there the past week for a check-up which was reported by his family as being good.

The Betsy Layne Fire Dept. responded to a call and helped the Coal Run Dept. in saving parts of the Carmel Clark Service Station and a real estate and coin-collecting business in the Wells Addition last Sunday morning.

Water could not be had from the hydrant in the lower section, according to the report of those helping the Betsy Layne Dept., and they had to return to get their truck with the tank holding 3200 gallons of water. Otherwise, the fire might have spread to wider areas.

Among those who spent the Christmas vacation at home with their families were Lynett Hill, from Pikeville College, and Paula Layne and Stacy Conn from Morehead State University.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Myers had with them Dec. 30 for a visit their sons and wives, Dr. and Mrs. Curtis Myers and Dr. and Mrs. Mark Myers.

Mrs. Nettie Akers is making her home with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Akers. Another son, Bill Akers, and family are living in the house vacated by Mrs. Akers.

Bert Stratton is a patient at the Methodist Hospital where he has been for several weeks after a fall that resulted in a broken hip. Members of his family are with him.

Mrs. O. E. Stanley has been quite ill with flu for several days but is improving.

Rev. and Mrs. Cohen Campbell had as guests through Christmas their daughter, Freida, and son, Jimmy, his wife Ruby and daughter, Candice.

Mrs. Elizabeth Spears surprised her niece, Mrs. Billie Jean Osborne, with a birthday dinner, Sunday, Jan. 4. Guests included Mrs. Eliza Blackburn, Dean Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spears and James George.

Mrs. Elizabeth Spears entertained the United Methodist Women, Friday evening, with 14 members in attendance.

Mrs. Emma Grace Hartley went to Indiana to spend Christmas with the families of her daughters, Donna and Maria. Since she and several of them had flu, she did not return home till after New Year's.

The Betsy Layne United Methodist Women have begun their sewing. They will meet Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the home of Kathryn Blackburn.

Betty and Joe Bartley have moved back to this area. He will attend Prestonsburg Community College, and his wife will be nursing at the Methodist Hospital. They were attending Eastern Kentucky University but have moved here to be near their family after the death of Mrs. Bartley's father.

Mrs. O.K. Damron and Pearl Woods are patients at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville. Avanel Stephens has returned home after a few days as a patient there.

Willie Lawson is a patient at the Lexington V.A. Hospital. His family from Betsy Layne visited him there recently.

Train Derails At Martin Yard

An engine and four cars of a Chessie System coal train derailed during the early morning hours, Tuesday at Martin, it was reported.

The loaded cars and engine, travelling north, derailed in the vicinity of the Martin yard and although the tracks were blocked for a time, the derailed cars had been righted and the tracks cleared by 10 a.m., Tuesday. No injuries were reported.

First Birthday

Austin William Clenon Lumpkins, son of Debbie and Dennis Lumpkins, celebrated his first birthday Saturday, January 17, with a party at his home. A clown cake and ice cream were served to Chris and Chet Lumpkins, maternal grandparents, Chester and Beatrice Porter; Brenda Nelson, Mrs. Rita Porter, Brad Porter, Donna Snodgrass, Chesa Conn, Amy Snodgrass, Mrs. Frances Crisp, Stacy Reed and Clyde Beverly. Austin thanked his guests for the many lovely gifts.

Lincoln, President—and Poet

Abraham Lincoln's Feb. 12 birthday is only two days away from Valentine's Day. The man born so near the annual day of sweethearts was in love more than once as a young man, and history has indicated he dearly loved his wife Mary Todd Lincoln.

But the man who was born in a log cabin in Hardin county, now Larue county, was truly in love with Kentucky and Indiana.

Born in 1809 and destined to become the 16th president of the United States, Lincoln took on no city ways when he moved into the White House. He may have acquired a few extra table manners to please Mary Todd or purchased a new top hat or shirt to comply with her wishes, but it is said he never changed his way of talking. A member of the audience who heard Lincoln speak at Gettysburg reported it was obvious his birthplace was Kentucky because he retained his habit of skipping over r's as was done in the part of Kentucky where he grew up.

Lincoln loved Kentucky and Kentucky people, but he also loved his childhood home in Indiana, where members of his family were buried.

After being away from Indiana for 15 years, Lincoln made a return trip to see the part of the state that he himself termed "as unpoetical as any spot on earth." He was so taken with memories during the trip that he wrote a poem about his visit.

A yellowed clipping from The Courier-Journal explains Jay Johnson, writer for the Fred Waring Radio Show, was searching for material in a New York library and found the Lincoln poem. Bill Ladd, columnist for the Louisville newspaper, said Johnson also composed a musical score for the poem.

My childhood home I see again
And sadden with the view,
And still, as memory crowds my brain,
There's pleasure in it, too.

'Near twenty years have passed away
Since here I bid farewell
To woods and fields and scenes of play
And playmates loved so well.

Where many were but few remain
Of old familiar things
But seeing them, to mind again
The lost and absent brings.

The friends I left that parting day
How changed as time has sped.
Young childhood grown, strong manhood gray,
And half of all are dead.

I hear the loved survivors tell
How naught from death could save
Till ev'ry spot a grave.

I range the fields with pensive tread
And pace the hollow rooms,
And feel companion of the dead;
I'm living in the tombs.

Of memory, thou midway world
'Twixt earth a paradise
Where things decayed and loved ones lost
In dreamy shadows rise.

And freed from all that's earthly vile
Seem hallowed, pure and bright
Like scenes in some enchanted isle
All bathed in liquid light.

All dusky mountains please the eye
When twilight chases day
As bugle notes that passing by
In distance fades away.

As leaving some grand waterfall
We, lingering, list its roar
So memory will hallow all
We've known, but know no more.
ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Cronkite To Head Wildlife Campaign

Walter Cronkite, the dean of American network TV newscasters, has been named chairman of National Wildlife Week, to be observed from March 15 through 21 this year.

"We Care About Oceans" will be the theme of the 44th annual observance of the week, first proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938 and sponsored each year since by the National Wildlife Federation.

Cronkite, who has anchored the CBS Evening News since 1962 and in numerous polls has been voted the nation's most trusted and admired broadcast journalist, succeeds actor Robert Redford as chairman of the annual effort to rally public support for programs to enhance the nation's wildlife population. Redford has served as chairman since 1977.

Under present network plans, Cronkite will anchor his last Evening News show for CBS on March 13, and thus his Wildlife Week chairmanship, starting March 15, will be the first "job" that he undertakes after presiding for 18 years over the country's top-rated TV news show. As a part of that job he will narrate the National Wildlife Federation's 1981 radio and TV public service announcements, or "spots," calling for protection of the world's oceans from pollution and other manmade hazards.

Those "spots" will appear on radio and TV beginning Sunday, March 15, the first day of Wildlife Week. Cronkite was named Wildlife Week chairman in recognition of his long-standing interest in conservation problems and, in particular, because of his "obvious love of the sea," said Dr. Fred R. Scroggin, president of the National Wildlife Federation. Cronkite often sails his 42-foot yawl, the Wyntje, along the Atlantic Coast when he is not broadcasting.

"Walter Cronkite has demonstrated his concern for our environment in his broadcasts for two decades," said Dr.

Scroggin, a Dry Ridge, Ky., physician. "He has alerted millions of Americans to environmental issues through the medium of television. When you add to that his great interest in the sea, there is no one who could deliver a message about the importance of our oceans more convincingly.

"He is a great educator as well as a distinguished journalist. We are delighted that he has agreed to chair our 1981 observance of Wildlife Week."

In accepting the chairmanship, Cronkite said he was "honored to serve such a worthy cause—addressing an environmental problem that is sometimes overlooked because it is so big."

"We should all care about our oceans, no matter where we live," said Cronkite, "because we all share the gifts of the seas around us. They are important not only for such recreational purposes as sailing and swimming, but we need them for our food, water, and oxygen supplies. When we foul our oceans with oil, chemicals, and other wastes we disturb a delicate web of life on which every creature depends, from the tiniest minnow to man himself. They are a priceless resource that we must protect."

Cronkite has won virtually every prize that broadcast journalism can bestow, including the coveted Peabody and Emmy Awards. Among them was a Sidney Hillman Foundation Award in 1971 for his "Can the World Be Saved?" series of reports on ecological problems. Other memorable Cronkite reports on environmental subjects were "Energy: Facts, Fears, and the Future" in 1977 and "Danger at Three-Mile Island" and "The Earth Revisited: An Environmental Update," both in 1979.

Cronkite has three times been voted among the top "ten most influential decision makers in America" in U. S. News and World Report surveys and in a 1974 Phillips-Sindinger survey easily won the title of "most trusted and most objective TV newscaster" in America.

Although he will no longer be anchoring his news show after March 13, Cronkite will not disappear from the TV screen. In addition to his "We Care About Oceans" TV spots, he is working on a science magazine show called "Universe" for CBS and on a series called "Why in the World," aimed at high school audiences, for educational TV.

Known affectionately as "Old Ironpants" to his friends and as "Uncle Walter" to millions of TV viewers, Cronkite lives in a town house on New York's East Side and spends his summer vacations—when he is not cruising aboard the Wyntje—at Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

The Wyntje, which he bought in California and shipped east, is named after a Dutch woman who married an ancestor named Krankheyt in New Amsterdam (now New York) in 1642—thus becoming the first woman to marry a Cronkite in what is now the U. S.

The sleek Wyntje was designed to sleep ten passengers and crew, "but actually," says Cronkite, "it really only sleeps nine, because if ten people ever get aboard her, I'm getting off."

Born in St. Joseph, Mo., on November 4, 1916, the son of a dentist, Cronkite studied journalism at the University of Texas before going to work for the Houston Post. A year later he joined the United Press (now United Press International) for an 11-year stint that included an assignment to London during World War II and a postwar hitch in Moscow.

The late Edward R. Murrow tried to lure him away from the UP to CBS during his London assignment, but Cronkite resisted the offer until 1950. He covered his first national political convention in 1952 and anchored the "CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite" for the first time on April 16, 1962, when the show was allotted just 15 minutes on the network.

Now he is so well known that in Sweden they have coined a word, "cronkiter." It means anchorman.

We express a special thanks to the Carter Funeral Home for its efficient services, the members of the Cold Springs Regular Baptist Church, the ministers, Woodie Pack, Halbart Holbrook, and Bee Johnson for their comforting words and beautiful singing, and to all who sent flowers and food.

Frankfort, Ky.—Transportation Secretary Frank Metts has appointed Sandra Pullen as director of the Department of Transportation's driver licensing division.

Pullen, 32, will replace F. E. Hodges, who has served as director since 1972. The appointment became effective, Jan. 16.

The division is responsible for licensing the state's 2.1 million drivers through the circuit court clerks. The division operates under a $3 million budget with 105 employees.

Named Social Director

Mrs. Mary Jo Lapointe has accepted the position of social director at the Highland Terrace Apartments here.

Mrs. Lapointe is the daughter of Mrs. Luther Shivel, of Prestonsburg, and the late Mr. Shivel. After graduating from Prestonsburg High School, she attended a private art school in Nashville, Tennessee, later graduated from the Central Academy of Commercial Art in Cincinnati, received her B. A. degree from Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, and her Master's degree from the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, N.M. Mrs. Lapointe was a member of the Collegiate Pinnacle, at Eastern, and of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society in education, and Kappa Pi, a national honorary in art. She has held positions at the Gibson Art Center, Cincinnati, and as a member of school faculties in Titusville, Fla., a U. S. government school at Ft. Stewart, Ga. and Los Lunas, New Mexico, and for ten years was a teacher in the Clark Elementary School.

Blood Donors Needed

The beginning of 1981 has been an especially difficult time for the blood supply in this area. Influenza has taken its toll, leaving many people ineligible to donate. Transfusions are increasing on a daily basis, making it difficult to keep the blood supply at a safe level.

All healthy individuals are urgently needed to help rebuild the blood supply so that any crisis requiring the use of blood can be met.

"The only way to insure that blood will be available should you or a loved one need it, is to donate each time an opportunity arises," a Central Kentucky Blood Center representative pointed out this week.

The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club is asking all healthy Floyd countians to "roll up their sleeves and give" during the week of January 26 at the Prestonsburg Station of the Central Kentucky Blood Center, located on the second floor of the Municipal Building here.

The Center is open Tuesdays, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Thursdays, 12 noon to 8 p.m.; Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Family members included Sandra Halfhill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halfhill, Jr., and daughter, Heather Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Halfhill, Sr., and son, Mike.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Sue G. Martin was hostess at her home January 13 to a dinner, honoring her father, James Y. (Sonny) Goble, on his birthday. Enjoying the occasion were the honoree, Mr. Goble, Mrs. Goble, Paula and Carl Ousley, Mrs. Jane Bond and children, Holly and Aaron, and the hostess. Following the dinner and the opening of gifts by Mr. Goble, decorated birthday cake, made by the Gobles' granddaughter, Mrs. Paula Sue Ousley, was served with other refreshments. During the day Mr. Goble received birthday greetings from his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beavers, formerly of Prestonsburg, now of Frankfort, Indiana.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN MEET

Members of the Floyd County Republican Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Eva Collins, January 12, with the club's president, Mrs. T. A. Combs, presiding. Mrs. Betty Keathley Hall, vice-chairman of the Floyd county Republican party, gave a resume of the Club's last meeting.

Plans were made for a Victory Celebration, to be held at Radio Station WDOC here, Friday evening, January 30, at 8 o'clock. This program will include a speaker and music, and refreshments will be served. Invitations to Republican men and women are being extended. The president appointed the following members to serve on the invitation committee: Mrs. Georgann Wells, Mrs. Duna Combs, Mrs. Eva Collins, and Mrs. Docia B. Woods. Republican women are being asked to furnish cookies for this event.

It was decided that officers of the club who served during the past year will continue in their offices for the coming year. These officers are Mrs. T. A. Combs, president; Mrs. Georgann Wells, vice-president, and Mrs. Eva Collins, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Combs appointed Mrs. Carl Woods as publicity chairman. Other committees will be chosen soon. It was announced that Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Wells would attend the Inauguration of President Ronald Reagan. The importance of getting more young people to take part in Republican party activities was discussed. At the close of the meeting, the hostess, Mrs. Collins served refreshments.

Rickey Davis, who was injured in a fall from a Prestonsburg fire truck a few weeks ago, continues to show improvement at the Cabell-Huntington Hospital, Huntington, W. Va. His mother, Sylvia Helen Davis, who has been with him, returned home recently due to becoming ill with the flu, and his grandmother, Lucille Davis, who had also been there with him, has been spending a few days of rest here. With him during his mother's and grandmother's time spent here has been his aunt, Betty Francis.

Presbyterian Church Plans Homecoming

The First Presbyterian Church has announced a Church Homecoming for the weekend of June 5-7. Plans for the homecoming were announced during the annual congregational meeting of the church on Sunday night, January 18. The homecoming will coincide with the 15th anniversary of the dedication of the church's sanctuary at the north edge of town and the celebration of the festival of Pentecost in the church year. It will also mark the conclusion of the "Year of Renewal and Outreach" which features special activities from May 1980 until June of this year. Several of those activities were highlighted during the church's annual business session.

The church is inviting former pastors to return, and would like to enlist the help of the community in contacting former members and friends of the congregation. Further information may be obtained from the pastor, the Rev. Timothy Jensen, or from James E. Goble, chairman of the committee planning the event.

In other business, the congregation elected John Everly and John Leake to serve as elders, James Y. Goble and William Kendrick to serve as deacons for three-year terms. Martha Leake was elected a deacon to serve a partial term. The meeting followed a sandwich supper planned by the Women's Association of the Church.

In a special action, Ruling Elder Rainley (Snow) White was recognized as senior elder and elected "Elder Emeritus," in honor of his many years of faithful service to the Session and congregation.

VISITS IN LEXINGTON

To Observe Golden Wedding

The Rev. Ollie Joseph and his wife, Sylvia Jones Joseph, former residents of this county, now of South Bend, Ind., will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary, Jan. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph were married Jan. 31, 1931 at Garrett, where they lived while he was employed as a miner till they moved to South Bend in 1950. Both were then employed there by Notre Dame University and are now retired. They have three children—John, of Chicago, Oma Jean and Jable, of South Bend; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Jervis-Hale Vows Solemnized

Miss Kathie Jervis and Mr. Preston Hale were united in marriage, January 16 by the Rev. Leven Burchett, at his home on Abbott Creek.

Miss Jervis is a daughter of Audrey Burchett and step-daughter of Samuel Burchett, of Hippo, and Mr. Hale is a son of Irene and Lenburg Hale, of Gunlock, and an employee of S. & H. Manufacturing Co., of Hueysville. The couple now resides at Hippo.

Public Interest Groups Support Environmentalist Sued by Co.

Six conservation, consumer, and civic groups have gone to the aid of a West Virginia environmentalist and two organizations he heads, all of which have been sued for libel by the DLM Coal Company of Upshur county, W. Va. The case marks the first time a corporation has sued an environmental group for libel.

The National Wildlife Federation, the West Virginia Wildlife Federation (an NWF affiliate), the American Civil Liberties Union, Consumers Union, the League of Women Voters of the U. S., and the Natural Resources Defense Council have filed a "friend-of-the-court" brief in the Supreme Court of Appeals at Charleston, W. Va., asking the court to dismiss DLM's libel suit on the grounds that it would violate the defendants' rights to free speech.

A judgement against them would also "impose liability on the defendants for exercising their First Amendment rights to petition the government for redress of grievances," according to the brief filed by intervening groups.

DLM filed its suit last July against Rick Webb and two central West Virginia environmental groups he heads, Braxton Environmental Action Programs and Mountain Stream Monitors (MSM). DLM is seeking $200,000 in damages for the publication of an MSM newsletter and for contacts Webb had with the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the Department of Interior's Office of Surface Mining (OSM).

The MSM newsletter, called "Confluence," contained an editorial with a map captioned "Strip mining on the Buckhannon River watershed has destroyed over seven miles of native brook trout streams and jeopardized the entire river." The DLM lawsuit says this sentence is libelous.

Webb's letter to the OSM requested that an inspection of DLM's property be made to determine whether the company had violated the Surface Mining Act. Webb also asked EPA to investigate whether DLM was in compliance with the Clear Water Act. Because of resulting investigations and inspections by federal officials, DLM claims it was injured by having to spend time notifying its stockholders and the Securities and Exchange Commission that the company was the focus of an "environmental proceeding."

In reading "Confluence," says the brief, "it is impossible to discern even any sharp criticism of the coal industry generally, much less any direct attack of any particular individual or company...Instead, in considered and moderate language, the editorial expresses hope as to the future responsibility of West Virginia mine operators."

"If the editorial in 'Confluence' is considered to be libelous, then all publications which discuss issues of public and political interest—including daily newspapers—will have to censor themselves," said Norman Dean, attorney for the National Wildlife Federation.

Concerning Webb's letters to EPA and OSM, the brief notes that the Surface Mining Act authorizes any citizen to provide information to OSM concerning possible violations of the regulations and to request an investigation. And under the Clear Water Act, any interested party may submit information to the EPA in order to initiate enforcement proceedings.

"If the DLM suit is allowed to go to trial," Dean emphasized, "then public-interest groups everywhere—in fact, all concerned citizens—will be put on notice that when they try to participate in the government's regulatory processes, or whenever they publicly advocate positions on nationally or regionally important issues, they risk being involved in potentially lengthy and expensive libel suits."

Edward C. Miller, 63, died January 14 in Adrian, Mich. He was born March 4, 1917 in West Prestonsburg, the son of German and Eliza Prater Miller.

He had worked 27 years as a fireman for Kewaunee Manufacturing, in Adrian, before retiring in 1974. He attended the New Testament Church, Adrian.

He is survived by his wife, Cora Miller; two daughters, Patricia Morris and Connie Morgan, both of Adrian; three sisters, Molly Bays and Ruth Price, of Prestonsburg, and Lucy Humphreys, of Leslie, Mich.; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, January 17, at the Braun Bros. Funeral Home, Adrian, with Rev. Jean Vargo officiating, and burial was in the Lemawee Hills Memorial Park, Adrian.

Chad Haywood

Chad Haywood, 68, of Paducah, formerly of this county, died Wednesday, December 17 at Western Baptist Hospital.

Mr. Haywood was a retired Holiday Inn manager and was a member of the Wayland Methodist Church.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Haywood; three sons, C. B. Haywood, of Lenexa, Kansas, Charles Haywood, of Battle Creek, Mich., and Chad Haywood, of Kalamazoo, Mich.; one stepson, John Receiver, of Fairview Heights, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. Diane Faltermeier, of Shawnee, Kansas, and Mrs. Cathy Pryon, of Battle Creek, Mich.; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Margaret Kovacic and Mrs. Judith Plummer, both of Fairview Heights, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Helen Maggard, of Leburn, and Mrs. Ruth Hicks, of Prestonsburg, and 21 grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted December 20 at the Lindsey Funeral Home in Paducah with the Revs. James Moreland and Dossie Wheatley officiating. Burial was made in the Bethel cemetery.

Marie Spears Hall

Mrs. Marie Spears Hall, 53, of Martin, died yesterday (Tuesday) at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington following an extended illness.

Born November 8, 1927, in Johnson county, she was a daughter of the late Joseph and Maggie Spears, and the wife of the late George W. Hall. She was a member of the Community United Methodist Church, Prestonsburg.

Survivors include a son, Ken Hall, of Prestonsburg; a sister, Thelma Caldwell, of Weeksbury; four brothers, William Spears, of Boonescamp, Johnny Spears, of Pikeville, Walter and Elmer Spears, both of Weeksbury, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at noon, at the Merion Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Taylor L. Biggs officiating. Burial will follow in the Wash Hall cemetery at Weeksbury. Visitation will be at the funeral home.

IN APPRECIATION

The family of Stewart Howard would like to express its appreciation and thanks to the friends and relatives who came to us in our hour of grief, the nurses and Dr. Sundaram at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, the nurses and doctors at the University Medical Center. Our thanks for the beautiful flowers and many offers of sympathy and help.

Thanks to the ministers of the United Baptist Church, Brothers Chester Lucas, Bethel Bolen, Sterlin Bolen, George Vanderpool, Willie Sparkman and Scott Howard for their comforting words. Our special thanks for prayers and offers of help from our friends. Thanks to the singers for special songs. We pray the Lord will bless you all.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Four Rivers Mining Company, P. O. Box 122, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653 intends to file an application for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 2.5 acres located southwest of Blue River in Floyd county. The proposed operation is approximately 5 miles west of State Route 404's junction with Buckeye Branch Road, and located south of Buckeye Branch, latitude 37d. 36' 52", longitude 83d. 51' 22". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by: Osie Slone (heirs). A brief description of the kind of mining activity proposed is: Surface Disturbance for Underground Mining. The application will be filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Prestonsburg Area Office, South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Persons wishing to file written objections and/or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. A copy of the newspaper clipping must be attached to the written objection. The objection or request for a hearing will reference application number 036-5126. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2), and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 30 CFR 715.13 (d) (10) and KRS 350 that the proposed post mining land use does not constitute a change from the pre-mining land use. Public comment regarding a proposed change in land use may be submitted to the address listed above.

Wishes For the New Year

Since this is the first month of the New Year, and we are beginning the first year in our new building, we would like to send our many friends greetings for the New Year and restate for them our continuing policy of service to the public.

Our first consideration is to the family—their wishes, their desires, their convenience. It has always been our main purpose to help ease the burdens of the family in sorrow—friends helping friends.

Our new building is for you, the families we serve, and your friends. Our visitation rooms are for your use, at no extra charge, when you choose to use them, as is the use of our chapel.

We are conveniently located in the heart of downtown Prestonsburg, within easy walking distance of most locations. For those who must drive, we have ample parking space and access to several parking lots within a few minutes walk from us.

If you have any questions, come see us. We are always ready to help.

Democratic Candidate
For
SHERIFF OF FLOYD COUNTY

"A Good Union Man"

TO ALL FLOYD COUNTIANS:

I, Holland B. Hurley, am a candidate on the Democratic ticket for Sheriff of Floyd County. I am a member of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees Union. I am assistant general chairman, and represent all the men on the Big Sandy District. I also am a former member of the United Mine Workers Union.

If elected Sheriff of this county, I will work close with Captain Morgan Elkins, of the Kentucky State Police, Post Nine of Pikeville, and I will work with our judges. Law and order must come first.

There won't be dope pushers, and bootleggers backing me. I will be obligated only to the people for whom I work—you, the voters.

This is my second time "running" for Sheriff. I was flooded the last time and didn't get to see many people.

If elected, I will instruct all deputies to respect people, and to be in uniform, and be a public servant.

We have a nice county. But we need to fine people who are dumping their garbage on our highways, and on people's land. And we must do something about this drug problem. So if you will give me a chance, I'll do the rest. I will help all churches and schools. There will be deputies at ballgames and any other meetings where they are requested. I'll have deputies who are picked by districts. We will have meetings and put law where it's needed. Please help elect me; talk to your friends. If elected I will work for YOU. I won't be a puppet for crime. I will be for law and order.

Thank you.

Brothers Celebrate Birthdays

NICHOLAS NEWSOME

CHRIS NEWSOME

Nicholas and Chris Newsome, sons of Tim and Roma Newsome, of Harold, celebrated their birthdays Saturday, January 3, at the Burger Queen in Prestonsburg. Nicholas is three years old and Chris is eight.

They received many nice gifts for which they expressed their appreciation to the following guests:

Ray and Georgia Akers, Sharon, Jason, and Myra Akers, Dean, Jeannie, Heather, and Wesley Nelson, Mike Cecil, Mildred and David Roberts, Donna, Alan, and Rachel Williams, Ralph and Rene Slone, Adam and Heather Gearheart.

Autopsy Says Ohio Man Died of Exposure

(From The Lexington Herald, Jan. 16)

An Ohio man who was lost for two weeks after walking away from a camp in the Red River Gorge died of exposure, preliminary autopsy results showed yesterday.

The body of Robert Fisher, 19, of Cleve, Ohio, was found Wednesday at the base of Chimney Top Rock, a stony spire that is a well-known landmark in the gorge. After leaving the camp early on Jan. 1, he apparently wandered around the area, barefoot and half-frozen, for a day or more in bitterly cold weather before dying.

Wolfe County Coroner John Shackelford said preliminary results from the autopsy, performed by the Hamilton County, Ohio, coroner, showed that the man had suffered a broken pelvis and other injuries but that exposure was the probable cause of death.

"He apparently had fallen, but from no great height, because footprints were found," Shackelford said. "But he could not have gone far."

Shackelford said there was no indication of foul play.

Shackelford said that the time of death had not been pinpointed but that it probably occurred on Jan. 3 or 4.

The dead man's father, Melvin Fisher, said Thursday that local authorities had not provided enough help in searching for his son and that his life might have been saved if officials had done more.

Members and friends of the Fisher family spent 11 days looking for the man and were nearby when some local people found the body Wednesday afternoon.

Meanwhile, Kentucky State Police were trying to find out why the three men and one woman who were camping with Fisher returned to Ohio immediately after reporting him missing.

Authorities also were puzzled over why Fisher never sought help from various people who saw him on Jan. 2.

Another question concerned an anonymous call to Forest Ranger Don Fig on Jan. 9 from a man who gave a location in the gorge where he said Fisher could be found.

Fig said that searchers checked that location but found nothing. He said he considered it a "crank call."

The other campers were tentatively identified as Denny Daies, Gerald Freeman, Larry Wheeler and Nicki Brickner, all of the Cincinnati area.

Bonnie Halsey, 18, who manages a grocery store at Nada in the gorge, said that one of the campers, whom she identified as Daies, acted strangely when he reported Fisher missing at the store about 7:30 a.m. Jan. 2.

"He came into the store and walked around and bought a few things, and he kept acting real nervous," she said. Miss Halsey said Daies went outside the store, then came back inside and said, "By the way, how do you report a missing person?"

She said it is not unusual for campers to become lost in the gorge—an area of wooded hills, rocky cliffs and streams studded with giant boulders—and that the reports often are made at her store. But she said that when people report campers missing, they are usually excited and offer large amounts of information.

Miss Halsey said that the woman camper came to the door of the store but did not come inside and that she did not see the other campers.

According to Miss Halsey, Daies said that there had been an argument among the campers about midnight on Jan. 1 and that Fisher, complaining it was too cold, walked away, saying he was returning home.

Miss Halsey said that she and a girlfriend then called the county dispatch office and reported Fisher missing, giving directions to the campsite provided by Daies.

But she said that the location Daies gave was wrong and that he apparently did not know the area.

She said Daies left immediately afterward, saying that the campers were returning to Ohio.

According to Miss Halsey, searchers later located the campsite, where they found Fisher's boots, one in a small stream and the other on a bank.

She said forest rangers made two searches on the afternoon of Jan. 2 but found nothing.

But Miss Halsey said several people reported seeing Fisher or his bloody footprints that afternoon along a gravel road that goes to Chimney Top Rock.

One of those who saw Fisher was Reed Brewer, of Campton, who was hunting in the area with his son on Jan. 2. Brewer said that he and his son saw Fisher on the roadside as they were driving home. He said there were two cars behind him that also passed the man.

Brewer said he did not approach Fisher because "I didn't know who he was or what he might do. The best thing I could think to do was go home and call the sheriff."

Brewer said he reported the sighting to the Wolfe county Sheriff's office.

Personalized Tags Tell Lifestyles, Loyalties

More than 3,000 Kentuckians made the decision this year to spend $25 for a personalized license plate. Since the cost is twice that of regular tags, many wonder why they bother.

The answer is prestige, according to Fred Pentecost of the state vehicle licensing division.

Just as the choice of clothes, car and lifestyle reflect the person, the choice of a personalized license plate represents individual tastes of the vehicle's owner.

A specialized plate gives the public a glimpse at the person behind the wheel. Are they into religion, sports, music? Look to that blue and white tag for the answer.

The only limits that the Department of Transportation puts upon creative Kentuckians wanting specialized plates prohibit obscene plates and three-letter, three-number combination plates, Pentecost said. The three-letter, three-number combinations are too similar to regular plates.

With six slots to fill and endless combinations, Kentuckians are free to express themselves. And they do, he said.

Probably the largest category of specialized tags in Kentucky reflect ownership. They are name tags showing last names, first names or initials of the vehicle's owner, such as LEROY, GREG H and JPH.

Sport plates are another popular category. At least 26 different personalized plates around the state support the University of Kentucky Wildcats. A few favorites are IAM4UK, LUV UK, UK NCAA, and CATFAN. Of course university of Louisville fans are right in there fighting with UOFL-1, ULNCAA, CARDS, and 80NCAA.

Other sports fans throughout the state display tags such as N DAME and TRANSY.

Local NOW Chapter Plans Directory

As more women are seeking alternatives to traditional roles, the need for specialized services for them becomes apparent. Big Sandy NOW is in the process of compiling a woman's service directory to be published within the next year.

This directory will provide information and a guide to services available to citizens in the Big Sandy area, focusing on the needs of women. The Woman's Guide to these services is intended to raise our awareness of the resources available in our own community.

If your club, organization, business, church, or you, as an individual, offer or know of any such services, please write Big Sandy NOW, P. O. Box 185, Paintsville, Kentucky 41240, or call Judy Bussey, at 297-3843 (evenings only) or Broadora Plummer at 789-8599 anytime.

A few drivers like to be identified by the kind of beer they drink. Tags labeled STROHS and PABST will adorn the vehicles of two beer-drinking Kentuckians in 1981.

Another very large category of tags is the group that identifies the vehicle instead of the driver. They range from very specific tags like 56VET, 52MGTD and DATSUN to more general descriptions of the vehicle such as IMPORT, HOTROD and STOLEN.

There are plates that express a musical preference—THE WHO, AC-DC, ZAPPA and plates that display a preference for their favorite radio station—WXXQ-1, WTCW, WWKK.

Some simply pass along a greeting to other drivers—HELLO and HIYALL.

Another more subtle way people choose to identify themselves in specialized plates is by occupation, personality or some other facet of their character. You will find TV MAN, XJUDGE, EX POW, THE KID and MONSTER in this category.

Hobby plates are an extension of this category. Messages from two Kentuckians proclaim I HUNT and WE SKI.

Religious plates give messages such as TRY GOD, I PRAY and JESUS.

Pride in where a person lives results in plates like LUAVUL and HAZARD. One Kentuckian seemed indecisive. NOYES-1 will be displayed on that vehicle.

Others seemed to have personal meanings not immediately apparent for their plates—B-FLAT, L-P GAS and AVPCO2.

Of course, politics are included and the political plate that may sum up 1981 the best said simply REAGAN.

All personalized plates will expire the end of the year. New applications must be made before Sept. 1, Pentecost said.

The department used to send out notices each July that it was time to renew personalized plates. But in an economy move the letters were not sent this year and will not be sent in the future, he said.

Get instant relief for your pocketbook with our Equal Payment Plan.

Winter is here. And with its chilling winds comes the most expensive time of the year. Bills from the holidays, snow tires, cold and flu expenses, taxes—the list is long.

And winter is also the highest electric usage period for most of our customers. That means higher energy bills come right along with everything else.

To help ease the overall winter drain on the pocketbook, Kentucky Power is offering "instant relief" for customers with good bill-paying records. It's called the Equal Payment Plan (EPP). By going on EPP now, qualified customers can defer part of each winter electric bill to spring and fall when usage is less.

Here is how it works — If for example, your current bill is $150 but your average bill (based on last year's usage) is $75 per month for a year, you would have to pay only the $75 when you go on EPP. Over the first 11 months you would pay $75 per month. (If there is any difference between your estimated and actual usage, we'll make an adjustment in your monthly EPP amount after six months.) On the 12th month, we'll settle up any differences.

EPP is that simple. You pay less than what you actually use during these heavy-use periods, then pay the company back (with no interest) during the low usage months.

EPP is of most benefit to heating and air conditioning customers whose bills fluctuate seasonally, but the program is available to all residential customers.

If the idea of leveling off your electric bills sounds good to you, come in or call your nearest Kentucky Power office. We have an EPP specialist waiting to talk to you.

We give it our best.

Pharmacy Footnotes

by HAROLD COOLEY

It is always a good idea to have some basic first aid equipment around the house for small accidents and medical care that does not require immediate professional attention. The most basic home first aid kit should contain adhesive bandages, a roll bandage, sterile gauze pads, adhesive tape, scissors, elastic bandages, tweezers, an ice bag, a hot water bottle or electric heating pad, a rectal and an oral thermometer, enema equipment, and electric vaporizer and a first aid manual.

We maintain an up-to-date supply of first aid and home health care products to fill your needs... when you need them. We have been in this area for over five years, providing high quality service. See us for your prescription needs. We want to be YOUR pharmacist. There is always a registered pharmacist on duty to serve you. COOLEY APOTHECARY, INC., 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. ## ANNOUNCES A NEW NAME FOR TOWN & COUNTRY FORD

OWNERSHIP REMAINS THE SAME ONLY A CHANGE IN NAME!!

Please read why:

Just when you were getting used to calling the Ford dealership Town & Country Ford, Lincoln, Mercury, here I go and change it again. Let me explain:

When I purchased the dealership some time ago, it was called B & D Motor Company. I held a meeting with my managers and advertising agent and we all agreed on the new name Town & Country. But since our plans were and are to serve the entire Eastern Kentucky market from our Floyd County location, the actual name was Eastern Kentucky Town & Country Ford, Lincoln, Mercury. However, we simply used the trade name of Town & Country Ford, Lincoln, Mercury.

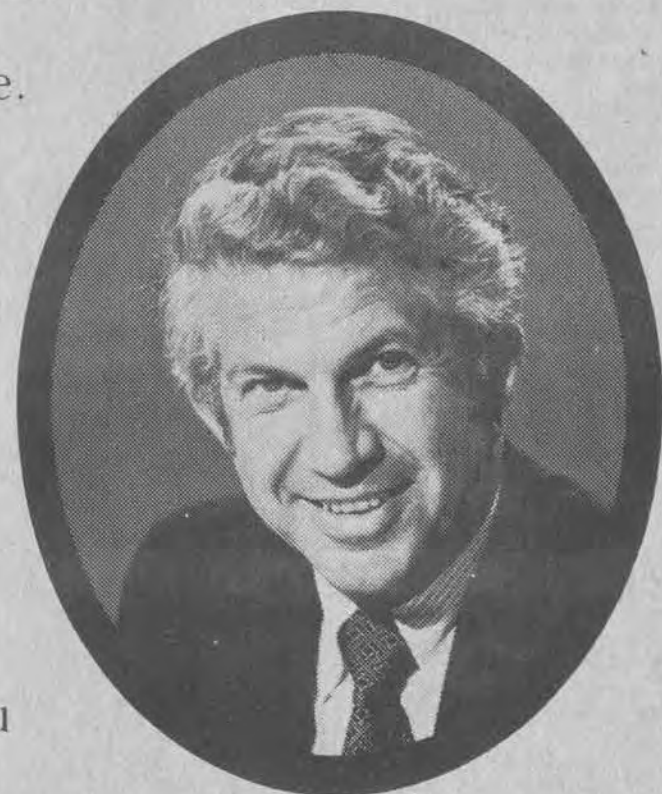

But sometimes mistakes are made. A few months ago I discovered that a Ford dealer in Louisville was also using the name Town & Country Ford. Obviously this had been overlooked when we began to use the name.

So to avoid any confusion and to give our dealership its own identity I'm changing the name from Town & Country Ford, Lincoln, Mercury to Ol' Don Jacobs Ford, Lincoln, Mercury. I'm also adding my name to our Eastern Kentucky Honda dealership. It will now be known as Ol' Don Jacobs Eastern Kentucky Honda.

Now I guess people put their names on their businesses for a lot of different reasons. I've added my name to these two dealerships to let you know that I will be personally directing the activities of each one. I want these two automobile dealerships to be an asset to the Floyd County and Eastern Kentucky area. We are working hard to make them a good place for you to do business and a good place for our employees to work. I am pleased and excited to place my name and reputation on the line to see that they are.

I have great pride in the reputation we have built at Ol' Don Jacobs Oldsmobile/Honda in Lexington. Our customers and friends know that we are fair, honest and interested in the satisfaction of each customer. Ol' Don Jacobs Ford, Lincoln, Mercury and Ol' Don Jacobs Eastern Kentucky Honda will be run the same way. When you visit you'll notice the difference. You'll sense a new attitude of helpfulness and appreciation for your business. Should you have a problem we'll tend to it fast and with a smile. As our customer you're the most important asset we have and we intend to treat you like the very special person you are.

I appreciate your past patronage and am grateful for the opportunity of being a part of this fine community and look forward to providing you with the best automobile service and the most helpful sales staff you'll find anywhere.

Stumbo Unveils Medicaid Cuts; Committee To Meet Here

Human Resources Secretary Grady Stumbo unveiled a plan last week to keep the state's Medicaid program within its budget while continuing to provide core medical services to some 330,000 Kentuckians on medical assistance rolls.

"We're trying to put Medicaid in line with what the department can afford to spend," Stumbo told a legislative subcommittee on Medicaid. Increases in the number of Kentuckians receiving Medicaid benefits and the number of services covered by the program, coupled with inflationary costs, have triggered a 22 percent increase this year under the current medical assistance program. "At this rate, we're looking at a $100 million deficit by the end of this biennium, he explained.

"The funds allocated by the legislature allow for only a 13 percent growth in Medicaid this year," Stumbo said. He hopes to keep the state's Medicaid costs within the 13 percent growth allocation by altering the reimbursement mechanism for medical services provided.

The department hopes to cut $46.3 million in Medicaid expenditures by the end of the 1983 fiscal year. Stumbo projected a $44 million saving in the five quarters remaining in this biennium.

Human Resources staff spent more than seven months working on a cost-containment plan, after the 1980 General Assembly mandated the state's Medicaid expenses be kept at a 13 percent annual growth rate. "I feel we've come up with a plan that is client-oriented and is aimed at protecting them and keeping their medical options open," Stumbo said.

The Medicaid program cost $302.6 million in 1980. Sixty-eight percent of the cost is paid with federal funds.

Outlining spending, benefits and some regulatory changes, Stumbo highlighted the cost-containment proposals.

—Inpatient hospital services: Stumbo set 60 percent as the minimum occupancy factor at Kentucky's 125 acute care hospitals. The number of Medicaid-paid hospital days will be reduced from 21 to 10 days per admission. Surgical procedures for Medicaid recipients will require a second opinion to ensure the medical necessity of hospital admission. Reimbursement for weekend hospital admissions and for a standard battery of lab tests are eliminated. "These things will save us about $14 million," Stumbo said.

—Physician services: Stumbo recommended the reimbursement rate for inpatient services be limited to 60 percent of the allowable cost over $50, 10 percent less than the current 70 percent rate. Reimbursable comprehensive medical examinations will be limited to one per year rather than two per year. An estimated $1.9 million will be saved from these changes, Stumbo said.

—Pharmacy services: "For the first time in Kentucky I am changing the benefit package," Stumbo said. The list of drugs provided under medical assistance will be revised. Also, Medicaid patients will be asked to pay 50 cents per prescription, for the first time in Kentucky's history.

—Transportation services: The number of trips to be reimbursed by Medicaid will be reduced and reimbursement will only be offered when other means of transportation are unavailable.

—Vision services: Replacements of eyeglass frames will be limited to two replacements per year.

—Skilled nursing and intermediate nursing care: Medicaid payments for skilled nursing and intermediate care patients will be divided into two parts, one covering nursing and dietary ser-VICES and the other to include all other costs, allowing more liberal reimbursements for direct patient care. To control the growth of the nursing home industry, Medicaid will only reimburse 80 percent of certified intermediate care beds in each Kentucky nursing home.

Human Resources staff consulted with medical and pharmacy professionals in drawing up the plan, which Stumbo hopes will go into effect April 1. A 60-day period has been set aside to receive public comments on the proposed changes. A meeting for this purpose will be held in Prestonsburg, February 23.

MURDER ON THE ORIENT EXPRESS

On the famous Orient Express, a beautiful heiress is murdered, her incredible string of pearls stolen. To complicate matters, everyone aboard had a motive. Only super sleuth Hercule Poirot can solve the crime in Agatha Christie's mystery suspense thriller, "Murder on the Orient Express," airing SUNDAY, JANUARY 25 on The ABC Sunday Night Movie.

Albert Finney (right) received an Oscar nomination as Best Actor for his role as the indefatigable sleuth Hercule Poirot, pictured here interrogating Anthony Perkins as Vanessa Redgrave, Sean Connery and Ingrid Bergman (background) look on.

Deputy Birdie Hawkins (Brian Kerwin, right) is persuaded by Sheriff Lobo to go undercover as a male model to investigate the deaths of magazine centerfold subjects, in 'Macho Man,' the TUESDAY, JANUARY 27, comedy episode of NBC-TV's 'Lobo.' Anne Bloom (left) plays a photographer for the magazine.

Birdie is embarrassed at first when shapely policewomen Peaches and Brandy, impersonating models, are assigned to work with him. But out of loyalty to one of the victims, he agrees to become 'Mr. April.'

Miss Maryland Finalist

Miss Susan Nanette Breeding has been selected as a finalist in the 1981 Miss Maryland-USA Beauty Pageant scheduled for January, 1981. Approximately 70 young women from Maryland will compete for the State Title.

Susan is presently a student at the University of Maryland where she is majoring in computer science.

Her parents are John and Violet Breeding, Bowie, Md., and her grandparents are Bert and Fannie Newman, East McDowell, and the late Martha Breeding, of Southgate, Michigan.

Berea Student Work Program Meets Challenge of Inflation

With inflation expected to continue upward in 1981, colleges and universities across the nation might take a lesson from Kentucky's Berea College.

The private, liberal arts college, known nationally for its student labor program, has a tradition of giving students responsible jobs to accomplish, and involving students in major building renovation projects also is saving money.

Diane Settle, administrative assistant for Berea's physical plant operation, reports that last year's student renovation of the 55-year-old Rogers Dormitory produced such good results that the college decided to put students in charge of upgrading Kentucky Hall, which was built in 1917.

"With a renovation project probably taking place each year for the next several years, student labor seems to be the most efficient tool for cutting expenses," she says.

This past September, the 13-member Kentucky Dorm student crew began plastering, painting, laying carpet, insulating steam pipes, installing light fixtures and doing other repair work to the three-story, brick structure located near the edge of Berea's campus.

The renovation team includes three student supervisors who prepare work schedules, order supplies and oversee the other student workers. When the students are unsure about a particular task, Miss Settle, who is monitoring the project, arranges for a demonstration by a professional craftsman.

When improvements to Kentucky Hall are completed next spring, Berea College will have saved approximately $30,000, the same amount saved by involving students on the Rogers Dormitory renovation in 1979.

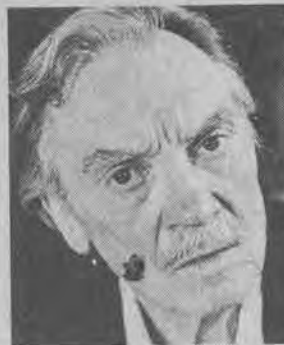

But quality is not being sacrificed for economy. Since most of the students working on the project have had experience in construction work, Miss Settle believes the finished project "will be as good as if done by a professional." The student work is being checked closely by employees of the college's physical plant.

The two dormitory projects are not the only major undertakings in which Berea students have been involved. Miss Settle, a 1975 graduate of the college, was one of several students who renovated the campus snack bar in the summer of 1971. Phelps Stokes Chapel, which houses classrooms and a 1,500-seat auditorium, was built entirely by students in 1905.

Students also helped in the construction of the Edwards and Trades buildings in the early 1900's and dug the foundation for the addition to the Frost Building in 1937.

Instead of paying tuition, all Berea students work 10 to 15 hours a week in the on-campus labor program. The college admits only students who have limited financial resources but are willing to work for a college education. Eighty per cent of the 1500 students enrolled at Berea are from the Appalachian region.

QUESTION:
"I turn my thermostat down, but our gas bill still goes up. How come?"

ANSWER:
"Most of the increase comes right from the well—the higher prices Columbia has to pay."

Most of Columbia's natural gas supplies do not begin as ours, but must be purchased. And since passage of the 1978 Natural Gas Policy Act, which allows gradual lifting of wellhead price controls to encourage gas exploration, the price Columbia pays for gas has been steadily increasing.

Added to that are the rising costs of maintaining and improving pipelines, storage facilities and services.

So rates have been going up. However, at Columbia we're doing all we can to hold down costs. We're investing in more efficient equipment and streamlining operations. Bi-monthly estimated bills are one savings you're probably familiar with.

In short, we're cutting where we can to keep your gas bill increases to a minimum.

And though your gas bill may be higher than you or we would like to see it, natural gas still costs you less than other energy forms.

For ideas on ways to make natural gas work even more efficiently for you, ask for our free pamphlet, "The Everyday Energy Saver's Guide".

COLUMBIA GAS
Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Conal Coal Company, Inc., of Rt. 6, Box 11-G, Manchester, Kentucky, intends to file an application for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 2.00 acres located north of Hueysville in Floyd county. The proposed operation is approximately 1/2 mile south of State Route 80's junction with State Route 850, and located west of Right Beaver Creek, latitude 37d. 30' 52", longitude 82d. 50' 27". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by: Morton Allen Heirs. A brief description of the kind of mining activity proposed is a construction permit involving two acres or less. The application will be filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Prestonsburg Area Office, South Lake Dirve, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Persons wishing to file written objections and/or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. A copy of the newspaper clipping must be attached to the written objection. The objection or request for a hearing will reference application number 036-0035. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2), and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Notice is hereby provided pursuant to 30 CFR 715.13 (d) (10) and KRS 350 that the proposed post mining land use does constitute a change from the pre-mining land use. Public comment regarding a proposed change in land use may be submitted to the address listed above.

Abbott Development Club Holds Meet

The Abbott Development Club met Thursday evening at the church annex. The pledge to the flag was led by Grace Conley and prayer was given by Alex Holbrook. The club president, Delmas Saunders, introduced Dick Leslie, county planner, who told the members how they may obtain grants for improvements in the community. Questions were also directed to Mr. Leslie regarding a district commission being appointed to investigate the possibility of a sewer system.

The members were divided into small groups and discussed the priorities of the club and listed these priorities in the order they would prefer for them to be pursued.

The committee for road improvement reported that it had been unable to make the necessary contacts prior to the meeting. Mr. Saunders, John Sparr, Kenneth De Rossett, Peggy Fraley and Bill Merical were appointed to the committee to check on a sewer system. A committee to pursue improvements for the Bonanza school ground will be Curt Holbrook, Al Fraley, Johnny Clark and Billy Frasure. Appointed to the phone committee were Grace Conley, Phyllis Shepherd and J.P. Hill. The refreshment committee chairwoman is Ethel Ratliff.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Edna Saunders and Sharon Sparr to Billy Frasure, Peggy Fraley, Dick Leslie, Tom Hereford, Al Fraley, Grace Conley, Patsy Brown, Connie Frasure, Ethel Ratliff, Phyllis Shepherd, John Sparr, Eukie Merritt, Kenneth DeRossett, J. P. Hill, John F. Brown, Bill Campbell, Curtis Holbrook, Alex Holbrook, Billy Merritt, Bill Merical, Delmas Saunders and John M. Howard.

If you lose your tax and income records in a fire... and it happens to hundreds of people every day... you could get burned bad when tax-time comes around. Protect these valuable records in a Sentry Fire Safe. It's tax deductible. Sentry Insulated Safes carry Underwriters' Laboratories labels. They've proven their ability to safeguard records against fire and explosion.

With tax time coming soon, get Sentry protection now!

Open Mon. thru Fri., 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sat., 7:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Sunday, 1-5 p.m.

Future of Strip Mining In U.S. Hinges on High Court Decision

Arguing the U. S. Supreme Court is expected to hand down late this winter or early spring may determine the future of strip mining in the United States.

The court will rule on the legality of key provisions of the 1977 Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act which two federal district court judges—in Indianapolis, Indiana, and Abingdon, Virginia—have already held unconstitutional.

Five environmental groups—the National Wildlife Federation, the Appalachian Coalition, the Council of Southern Mountains, Save Our Cumberland Mountains, and the Tug Valley Recovery Center—have filed a "friend-of-the-court" brief urging the Supreme Court to overturn the lower court decisions.

"It took many years of hearings and debates before Congress passed and the President signed the Surface Mining Act," said Norman Dean, attorney for the National Wildlife Federation. "The Act represents a careful balance between the need for protection of our land and the production of coal."

Dean pointed out that the law was passed because the state governments failed to control surface mining. "Uncontrolled strip mining resulted in unreclaimed lands, water pollution, erosion, floods, and destruction of fish and wildlife habitat. The present challenge to the act could be crippling," he said.

The coal industry has contended that surface mining regulations are burdensome and too expensive. In addition, many coal-producing states would prefer to regulate surface mining themselves.

Last January, a federal district court in Virginia ruled unconstitutional a section of the Surface Mining Act requiring that mined land, including steep slopes, be returned to its approximate original contour after it is mined. Five months later the Indiana court invalidated another section of the Act which permits mining on prime farmland only it can be demonstrated that the land will be just as productive after it is mined as it was in its pre-mined condition.

These two different court decisions "strike at the very heart of the Surface Mining Act and make the achievement of its public purpose impossible," say the environmental groups in their friend-of-the-court brief. "Congress has determined that coal production was to be directed into areas where reclamation was possible and discouraged or prohibited in areas where it wasn't," says the brief. The two district court decisions would "turn this Congressional purpose on its head by rendering the government powerless to halt mining in exactly those most sensitive environments Congress meant to protect."

"We're hoping that a Supreme court reversal of the lower court decisions will put an end to the reluctance of the coal industry and coal-producing states to comply with surface mining regulations," Dean explained. "We can get the coal we need without destroying the land."

One of the major medical breakthroughs of this century is the use of laser-beam surgery, the January Reader's Digest reports. Operating time is often reduced by 50 percent as surgeons vaporize tumors located deep in the body, clot intestinal hemorrhages, repair torn retinas and remove unsightly birthmarks.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE Pursuant to Application Number 236-5028

1. In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Ensol Coal Co., Inc.; Mine No. 1 intends to file an application for the surface disturbance mining of approximately 2.46 acres located southeast of Teaberry in Floyd County. The proposed operation is approximately 1.75 miles east of State Route KY 979 up Andys Branch of Tinker Fork of Big Mud Creek, latitude 37d. 24' 45", longitude 82d. 37', 39". The surface of the area to be mined is owned by: Sterling Hamilton; Teaberry, Kentucky. A brief description of the kind of mining activity proposed is: Amendment to existing permit (Deep Mining). The application will be filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Prestonsburg Area Office, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Persons wishing to file written objections and/or request a formal administrative hearing in regard to the above described surface mine should notify the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection within 30 days of the date of this notice. The written objection must have attached a copy of the newspaper clipping, and reference the above application number. Such objection or request must be in accordance with KRS 224.081 (2), and must be forwarded to the Director of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 1t.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN...

Time to have people come up to you, pat you on the back, call you cousin and shake your hand.

Do you want the job done, or do you want a lot of promises never meant to be kept, only made to get votes for people who don't know you after the election? Vote for a man who knows you before and after the election.

Our small communities are only recognized during a campaign. Promises are made only to get officials elected to offices, then forgotten. Our communities are in desperate need of help: road repair and drainage, also sewage treatment systems such as Dwale, Allen, David, Auxier and many others in our district. One man can not do this job alone. It will take the help of all concerned voting people in our District 1 to get the ball rolling.

I have worked on my own without help or funds from the county to keep your garbage picked up. I am not always on time. But I get the job done. I travel the county roads every day and know where they need repairs worst. So you see I know you now and will know you when you elect me.

I am the son of Tommie and Alice Prater Slone, of Prestonsburg. I am married to Launa Carol Lafferty, daughter of Dennis and Angie Fannin Lafferty of Endicott, Ky., and granddaughter of John Fannin and Virgie Burchett Fannin, of Endicott, and Homer Lafferty and Lida Goble Collins. We have two sons at home, Kevin and Shawn.

Metts Says State Depends Too Much on Federal Help

The state Department of Transportation has become entirely too dependent on federal dollars for its highway construction program. Transportation Secretary Frank Metts told the Kentuckians for Better Transportation at their annual conference.

As a result, Kentucky has no state road construction program of its own, he said. "It's never been a highway road program—it's always been an administrative, planning and maintenance program and the matching portion that the federal government gives us," Metts said.

Metts said the 13 months he has been in office have been spent "putting the house in order." During that time, the implementation of sound business practices has saved the department $60 million, he claims.

"There was $60 million spent in 1979 that won't be sent in 1981. I had hopes of having a $60 million state road program," he added.

But funding cutbacks amounting to $176 million intervened, he said.

Metts said he will continue to look for funding sources and seek ways to eliminate waste in the Department of Transportation. Competition for tax dollars will be worse than ever, he said, offering little hope that the department's financial difficulties could be alleviated by the state General Fund.

Wood And Coal Stove Safety Precautions

The use or misuse of wood and coal burning stoves will result in an estimated 14,000 to 17,000 residential fires and 115 to 150 deaths this year, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

First, back to the beginning. Improper installations of the stoves account for the majority of the fires. If the consumer installed the stove himself and never had it inspected, it would be worth the trouble to check the installation against manufacturer's instructions and local building codes.

Primarily, improper installations involve the following problem areas:

-clearance between the stove and combustibles.

-installation of the chimney connector where it passes through a combustible wall, including the appropriate "thimble" or collar to protect the wall.

-inappropriate chimney connectors and chimneys for the kind of stove that is used.

Improper operation of the stove, in a variety of ways, is the next factor causing fires and injuries. These incidents include:

-placing combustibles, such as a chair, to close to the stove.

-placing flammable liquids too close to the stove.

-the use of flammable liquids to kindle a fire.

-overloading of the stove leading to operation beyond design limits.

-the ignition of fabrics during loading, unloading, cleaning or use of the stove.

-contact burns received from hot surfaces of the stove.

Finally, the wood or coal stove can't be installed and forgotten. Lack of maintenance closely follows as the third cause of fires relating to this heat source.

Annual inspection of the stove for cracks and the chimney for creosote deposits is the absolute minimum maintenance requirement. Even more frequent inspections of the chimney are highly recommended.

Creosote is a dark, sticky, tar-like substance that collects in the chimney. The creosote can catch fire and burn violently throughout the chimney sometimes catching a house on fire.

Any time the chimney shows excessive soot and creosote build-up, the chimney should be cleaned. Contact CPSC, a local wood stove dealer or local cooperative Extension Service for detailed information on procedures to clean the chimney.

For additional written information contact CPSC at 1330 West Peachtree Street, NW, Atlanta, Georgia 30309 or phone (404) 881-2231.

January Fuel Gauge

Kentucky motorists should have no problem finding gasoline, but they will be paying more for it, according to the Blue Grass AAA January Fuel Gauge Report.

The average price of gasoline in Kentucky rose four cents a gallon at full-service pumps in January over December and three and one-half cents at self-service station, AAA says.

The average prices at full-service pumps are $1.29 for regular, $1.36 for premium, $1.33 for no-lead, and $1.25 for diesel. Self-service prices are $1.21 for regular, $1.28 for premium and $1.29 for no lead.

The AAA survey of stations along the state's major highways also shows that 54 percent will be open past 8 p.m. on weekdays; 67 percent will be open past 6 p.m. on Saturdays and 59 percent will be open on Sundays.

Some claim lower back pains are really misplaced tension headaches. But the December Reader's Digest points out that obesity puts tremendous pressure on the spine. Ten pounds of extra weight on the abdomen equals 100 pounds of stress at the disc, one authority states.

50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Harris, of Columbus, O., formerly of Prestonsburg, were honored with a luncheon at the Olde Summit Town Restaurant in Columbus on January 4 in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris, the former Irene Roark, were married December 24, 1930 in Prestonsburg by the Rev. Jesse Merle Helm. Mrs. Roark is the daughter of the late Rev. James and Myrtle Roark, and Mr. Harris is the son of the late Malcolm and Rosa Harris.

Mr. Harris is now retired after being associated with the Wm. S. Moore Co., Inc., for 28 years as store manager.

Phone Tax Unchanged

If you were looking for a small tax cut on your telephone bill this month, you will not find it. President Carter has signed legislation to hold the telephone excise tax at two percent rather than reduce it to the expected one percent at the end of 1980.

According to Mac Starnes, South Central Bell district manager, that will keep the excise tax at its present two percent level through 1981. Under this legislation, the tax will drop to one percent for 1982.

"By freezing the tax the federal government will receive some $358 million in revenues it would not have realized if the tax had dropped to one percent," he said.

From the mid-1950s until 1972, the excise tax was 10 percent on most local and long-distance calls. In 1973 and each year thereafter, the rate has been reduced one percentage point as part of a plan to phase it out entirely.

EKHSRA Receives $183,000 Grant

East Kentucky Health Systems Agency has received a $183,000 grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission for health resources development in Eastern Kentucky.

The grant provides additional staff for the agency in order to plan and develop needed primary health-care services for the state's 49 Appalachian counties, said Wilburn Pratt, commissioner of the state Department for Local Government. The department administers commission funds in Kentucky.

The project is in its fourth year of funding. The budget period is from Oct. 1, 1980 through Sept. 30, 1981. Local sources contributed $62,000 toward the project for 1980-81, bringing the total to $245,000.

The Department for Local Government administers an annual Appalachian Regional Commission allocation of more than $10 million for Eastern Kentucky development projects.

Frankfort, Ky.—Ending a year-long search, Department for Human Resources Secretary Grady Stumbo has named Suzanne Turner as commissioner of the Bureau for Social Services.

Turner, a former special assistant in the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services, will begin work Jan. 26 at an annual salary of $41,500.

YFU Scholarships To Europe Available For U. S. Students

Youth for Understanding International Student Exchange (YFU) has just announced the availability of additional scholarships for American high school students for year exchange programs, and new scholarships funded by the Finnish government for students going to Finland for the summer.

"If you are a high school student who dreams of visiting another country, this is your chance of a lifetime," reports Susan Greene, director of the United States Program. "We are seeking students open to adventure, with good academic backgrounds, who want to spend a year living in countries such as Germany, Sweden, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark, France or Norway. Each of the 500 students sent abroad in July and August for a year will live with carefully selected families, attend school, and learn a new language and culture. These countries offer unlimited opportunities for personal and academic growth, as most students mature and gain independence. Some can qualify for advanced college language credit as a result of the exchange experience. These scholarships will make this opportunity available to more American teenagers."

For more information on year or summer scholarships, or on hosting an international student, please write: U. S. Programs Department, Youth for Understanding, 3501 Newark Street, NW, Washington, DC 20016, or call toll-free, 800/424-3691.

Says Half of Nursing Homes Lose on Medicare Patients

A crisis situation is developing that threatens the quality and availability of care for Kentucky's elderly citizens, according to representatives of the state's nursing home industry.

David Wren, president of the Kentucky Association of Health Care Facilities (KAHCF), told listeners at news conferences in Corbin, Lexington, Covington and Ashland this week that "half of the facilities are losing money on patients supported by Medicaid." Wren said that unless the Kentucky Department for Human Resources increases the present $27 per patient per day reimbursement plan, quality care will be increasingly difficult to provide.

Meanwhile, John Snyder, immediate past president of the KAHCF, was visiting Paducah, Owensboro and Henderson with the same message.

"Let's give some perspective to that $27," said Wren. "Let's compare it to the $60 per patient per day that Kentucky spends to run its own two intermediate care facilities. Or let's compare it to $34.09 a day, the average that Kentucky taxpayers pay to house two convicted felons in a state prison."

The Association officials took the occasion to report that the KAHCF is taking action to help avoid the crisis.

It has instituted numerous cost-effective programs, such as association-wide group insurance, so that members can help stretch Medicaid dollars. They said that KAHCF members have held Kentucky Medicaid cost increases to less than four percent, excluding inflation.

"We also want to make every effort toward self-improvement," said Wren. "We have designated 1981 the year of peer review." He said that during the next 12 months all KAHCF members will be asked to undergo a peer review by committees made up of a licensed administrator, registered nurse and dietitian and qualified activities director. The committees will be responsible for conducting thorough studies of the level of care, administration and programs of each of the KAHCF facilities.

"We want to take the leadership in ensuring quality care," he said, adding that state government must also make some reasonable effort toward that goal.

Wren said that about eight of every 10 intermediate care patients are assisted by Medicaid and that the $27 reimbursement figure hasn't budged in two years. It has been frozen by the Kentucky Department for Human Resources.

Wren, who also is the administrator of a nursing facility in Louisville, said that $32.97 is the proper Medicaid reimbursement level. That figure is based on a formula that was set when Kentucky established its current Medicaid program. It is the same formula that set $27 as the reimbursement level two years ago.

The Medicaid program is one of shared costs. For every dollar that Kentucky contributes, the federal government puts up two.

Death And Dying Are TV Series Subject

The new six-part bioethics series, "Hard Choices," explores the moral and ethical issues surrounding death in "Death and Dying," the fifth episode of the series. Hosted by Dr. Willard Gaylin, President of Hastings Center; The Institute of Society, Ethics and Life Sciences, "Death and Dying" will air on KET Friday, January 30, 1981 at 9:00 p.m.

Are the rights of dying people different from those of the living? Is there any justification for concealing medical facts from someone who is dying? When does a physician's responsibility to preserve life end? When can a physician slacken his efforts to keep a patient alive and allow the inevitable to occur? When is a patient considered dead? "Death and Dying" examines these questions and takes a look at hospices, a new medical care concept which merges quality hospital care with a pleasant and comforting homelike atmosphere for terminally ill patients.

Gaylin concludes, "...the growing hospice movement, the increasing public debate over the rights of the terminally ill and the popularity of books on the subject of death and dying are substantial evidence that a once taboo subject has, in the 1980's, become a matter of concern for each of us."

"Death and Dying" is a production of KCTS/Seattle.

United Federal Savings & Loan Association explains the NOW account.

What you should know about our NOW-checking account, available January 2, 1981

Recently, we have been informing you about how NOW-checking accounts will work. Now we will inform you how NOW-checking will work at United Federal Savings and Loan Association. This way you may compare it to where you're currently doing your checking. We are sure if you compare, you will be a regular United Federal customer just like many of your friends.

What is a NOW-checking account? A NOW-checking account is simply a checking account that earns interest.

When will NOW accounts be available? NOW-checking accounts are effective by law December 31, 1980. NOW-checking accounts will be available at United Federal as of January 2, 1981.

Who qualifies? Only individuals, sole proprietorships, or a non-profit corporation qualifies by law to earn interest on their checking accounts.

How to qualify for a NOW-checking account at United Federal? All you have to do is maintain a balance in your NOW-checking account at United Federal of at least $300.00 and we will pay you interest at the annual rate of 5.25% compounded daily. If your account drops below the minimum balance, you will be charged a $5 service charge for that month only and receive no interest.

Why you should have your Now-checking account at United Federal? There are many reasons why, but just to mention a few:

1. A low minimum balance.
2. An itemized monthly statement sent to you.
3. Write as many checks per month as you wish, with no additional charges.
4. We pay the maximum interest rate allowed by law.

For more information about NOW-checking accounts, savings accounts, or any other savings and loan service, stop by any of our offices and talk with our staff. We want you to know more about your financial opportunities. The more you know, the more likely you are to have your savings and NOW-checking accounts with us.
