240 Union Workers Out After Parley On Contract Fails

Union employees at Highlands Regional Medical Center are on strike. The workers, members of District 1199, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, voted Monday night to walk out at midnight, Tuesday, after rejecting the hospital's final contract offer.

The decision to strike was said to have been carried by 239 votes to 1.

Despite the intervention of federal and state mediators, both sides are reported to be far from agreement on a number of issues, including wages, sick leave, vacations, seniority rights, and the formation of a patient care committee.

The union was willing to go to binding arbitration to resolve the wage and other issues but hospital administrators rejected the offer, according to Larry Daniels, a medical technologist at Highlands and president of the union chapter there.

The hospital's wage offer, which would have increased by 40 cents this year the hourly rate of workers presently earning $3.35, did not measure up to the "substantial wage increase" being sought by the union, Daniels said.

Meanwhile, supervisory personnel were being organized Tuesday to take the place of striking employees, and a private security force was hired to supplement the hospital's regular security staff.

Decision Stalls Highlands Plan For Expansion

A certificate permitting Highlands Hospital to expand should be "set aside and held for naught," according to a recent ruling by special judge Oscar Sammons in Johnson circuit court.

Owners of the Paintsville Hospital filed suit against Highlands and the state Need and Licensure Board 16 months ago, asking the court to vacate a licensure board decision granting Highlands a certificate of need which would permit it to expand its present facility by 47 beds.

At the time, Paintsville Hospital was also seeking a certificate of need, to replace the 72-bed hospital there with a new building containing the same number of beds.

In granting Highlands' request before considering Paintsville's application, the licensure board failed to give Paintsville a fair hearing, the complainants charged. The Paintsville hospital was subsequently denied a certificate of need.

Russell Dean, assistant administrator at Highlands, said this week the hospital is seeking a clarification of Judge Sammons' decision. Both hospitals' certificate-of-need requests might need to be reconsidered jointly by the licensure board as a result of the ruling.

Sammons was assigned to hear the case after Johnson Circuit Judge J. B. Hazelrigg stepped down on account of his having served as chairman of a committee which had lobbied vigorously on behalf of the Paintsville Hospital certificate-of-need application.

Annexation Decision May Be Up to Voters

If moral conviction alone could have done it, Chuck Jarrell would have turned the Prestonsburg city council singlehandedly from its avowed purpose of annexing Mays Branch.

"I am asking you not to pass this (annexation) ordinance," Jarrell, 20, pleaded repeatedly before the council Monday night. His family farms on Mays Branch and would be unable to pay the taxes if the property were incorporated in the city, he said.

A state law requiring the opposition of 75 percent of an area's voters for an annexation bid to be defeated runs counter to the principle of majority rule, Jarrell argued. "It's not right," he contended.

The law is the law, replied several council members. A request to annex

This Town...That World

The Spring strain is the only fever that depends on the temperature of the weather, not that of the body, and I may "take down," any day now.

Found on the desk this week was one of those snuff ads, which reads, "A pinch is all it takes," and a note from some wag which read: "Alben Barkley, III, wants to know if you can work this into a campaign ad for him."

TAKE YOUR PICK

Maybe we all should be scientists and forget our worries about politics, the weather, the economy and such trivial matters, and turn to weightier topics. Dinosaurs, for example.

At hand is a story recounting the ramblings of scientists into the field of conjecture about why the giant reptiles took leave of Planet Earth. Such whimsy! have a few samples:

—Dinosaurs were either too stupid or too inflexible to survive. Perhaps they were outsmarted by tiny mammals which stole their eggs; or...

—Dinosaur eggshells grew so thin that the eggs broke before they could hatch, or, the shells grew so thick the dino babies couldn't break out; or...

—Flowering plants which appeared in the middle of the dinosaurs' reign contained alkaloids which poisoned the dinosaurs; or...

—These plants lacked the oily substance which acted as laxatives, and the dinosaurs died of constipation.

THE OFFICE WE MISSED

I am reminded by one of our older readers that we've had announcements for every office in sight except what our correspondent says is the most important of all—poke warden. On the other hand, I am reminded by Cecil Webb that if we'll leave the matter rest till we get the other offices filled, we might hold our paper and mailing costs down. All of which leaves me in a quandary—whatever that is. We may call a special election.

Lenna was in this morning but I failed to rise to his bait when he gave with some views that would normally draw sharp dissent. I agreed in absent-minded fashion with all he said and he arose to remark that "You're too busy to carry on a decent conversation—I'll just take my trade elsewhere," and stumped out in a huff.

the area has been made of the council by some property owners there, and an ordinance to that effect is being prepared for a council vote, it was said.

If at least half the area's landowners request it, the issue must be placed on the ballot at the next general election—a prospect that appears likely in view of opposition already voiced to the proposal. In that event, however, three-quarters of the voters must reject it before the measure is defeated.

In his experience, opposition to annexation invariably cools after a time, when residents of the annexed area realize that the benefits—such as city services and reduced fire insurance premiums—outweigh the costs, argued Councilman Paul Phillip Hughes.

2 Students Held In School Blast

Two juveniles charged in connection with the bomb blast which damaged Prestonsburg high school and injured one student last Wednesday, are to be released today (Wednesday) to the custody of their parents.

A detention hearing for the two 17-year-old students, who were arrested Friday by State Police Detective Danny Stumbo and KSP Arson Investigator James Barry McKenzie, was conducted Monday in district court with the court's decision being made to hold the two at the juvenile detention center here until Wednesday. Although the Commonwealth filed a motion to transfer the case to the Floyd county circuit court where the defendants would be tried as adults, District Judge Harold Stumbo did not enter a formal judgement on the motion Monday.

County Attorney Arnold Turner said there is a possibility that "two or three more" may be charged in connection with the incident.

The blast, which originated in a boys restroom on the first floor of the school, occurred shortly before 8:30 a.m., ripping a 3-by-3-foot hole in the wall separating the restroom from an agriculture classroom and blowing chunks of debris through a smaller cleft from the bathroom into the main hallway of the school.

Jeff Cochran, a 14-year-old freshman who said he was inside the bathroom combing his hair at the time of the explosion, was floored by the blast and taken to Highlands Regional Medical Center where he was treated for shock and released the following day. "We had just rung a bell for homeroom," according to PHS Principal Bobby Wells. "If it had been 10 minutes later we could have had some casualties."

State Police Detective Stumbo, one of several state police investigators who were called to the scene from the Pikeville and Morehead KSP posts along with a federal Tobacco, Alcohol and Firearms investigator and local authorities, said the explosive was probably dynamite—"a water gel type of dynamite, maybe as much as a stick." A length of dynamite fuse was found following the blast, although final results from state police lab tests were not yet available as of Monday, Stumbo stressed.

The explosive was set in a corner of the restroom beside a toilet and the bulk of the damage from the blast occurred (See Story No. 2, Page 4)

REPORTS OF SNOW in measurable accumulation over a wide section of the county Monday morning seemed unbelievable to residents in the Prestonsburg vicinity who saw nary a flake. The sight of a snow-covered coal train heading downriver told the tale, though, as some areas on the Beaver Creeks received as much as two inches before daybreak, causing schools to be closed for the day.

$4.2 Million Job Set To Begin in 60 Days, Utilities Supt. Says

Work on expansion of the Prestonsburg water plant and extension of the system deep into the southern end of the county are expected to begin within the next 60 days, Bill H. Howard, superintendent of the municipally owned utilities system here, said Monday.

Assurance that the construction program is only weeks away from the work stage came last Thursday night when directors of the Sandy Valley Water District voted to buy from Prestonsburg a minimum of 3,000,000 gallons of water per month for the next 40 years at the price charged to water-purchasers outside the city limits.

The Prestonsburg Utilities Commission followed that action Monday by accepting recommendations of Bell Engineers, Lexington, on the acceptance of bids already received on the work. The overall program plans enlargement of the water plant here, doubling its capacity to 3 million gallons a day; installation of two steel storage tanks of 750,000 and 310,000 gallons; 12-inch mains in Prestonsburg from the water plant to the present reservoir site overlooking the city; eight-inch mains from the Columbia Fuel pipeyard, near Sugar Loaf, to New Allen, and, finally, mains of the same size from New Allen to the mouth of Mare Creek.

In addition to expansion through new construction, the Prestonsburg system has recently acquired two water districts, the new Water Gap-Bull Creek and Abbott-Little Paint, and is in the process of adding the Parkway water district which serves the Middle Creek section from the Clark school to Rough and Tough.

The construction projects, divided (See Story No. 6, Page 4)

Public Concern May Be Gauged At Meet Today

Bob Good

Attendance at a May Lodge meeting set for today (Wednesday) may be a measure of public concern about the problem of drug and alcohol abuse here, a worker in the field said this week.

"A school (drug education) program will work only if there is community involvement," said Bob Good, director of Chanhassan Programs, Inc., an alcohol treatment program operated out of the McDowell Hospital. "This workshop might show what the level of public concern really is."

Speakers at the workshop, which is being sponsored by the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, are expected to include an expert in the formation of citizen drug awareness committees and a state human resources department official.

Prosecutor's Motion Asks Bail Be Denied Two in Niemi Death

Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen filed separate motions Monday, asking Circuit Judge Hollie Conley to deny Denver Patrick and James Noel pretrial release under bond "or any other condition."

The two men are in jail here, charged with murder and arson in the death of James Niemi last October at Wayland.

Allen's motion argues that the defendants are not bailable under Kentucky statute and Section 16 of the state constitution because death is a possible punishment for the offense with which they are charged.

The separate indictments against the two allege the capital offense of murder. Conviction under that charge would carry the death penalty, it was said.

Noel had no legal counsel as of Monday. Patrick is represented by Rick Burmeister, of the Public Defender's office.

Tentative Pact Lifts Fear of Mine Strike

A tentative agreement between the United Mine Workers and the bituminous coal industry was reached in Washington early Monday morning, allaying fears of a long and economy-damaging strike, but within hours there was talk that the rank-and-file union membership may reject the proposal.

The UMWA bargaining council was meeting in Washington Tuesday to review the tentative agreement, and if approved the contract will next go to the union membership for a vote which would either accept or reject it.

Even UMWA acceptance of the pact is not expected to forestall a temporary work stoppage, since the miners traditionally refuse to work without a contract, and the balloting by union membership on the new agreement cannot be completed before the Thursday midnight deadline.

Meanwhile, trouble was developing in the coal trucking industry, with gun-fire reported in nearby counties. One man was wounded in Lawrence county last week, allegedly by a shot fired from a truck, and a driver was wounded in his foot by a rifle bullet Monday, near Inez.

State Police Detective Keith Scott, who investigated the Martin county shooting, said a convoy of five trucks was in low gear, ascending Inez Hill on KY 40, en route from the L. T. Ruth Coal Co. to Belfry Monday afternoon when snipers from the nearby hillside began firing. Several trucks were hit by high-power rifle bullets and Clyde Castle, of Tomahawk, was wounded. Scott said nobody had been arrested as of Tuesday morning.

The trouble between truckdrivers apparently stems from an attempt by a group of drivers to organize—possibly form a coal-haulers' association—and the unwillingness of independent drivers to join the movement.

Negotiations toward a new coal contract had broken off last week, but negotiators resumed their talks at 1:45 a.m. Monday and emerged about five hours later with the announcement of agreement.

In addition to giving miners a 36 percent increase in wages and benefits over three years, the new agreement also:

—Continues the way of financing pension plans.

Automobile Rental

If you are running through airports or leaving the driving to someone else, you should know that all car rental companies are not the same, says Attorney General Steven L. Beshear.

It is convenient to have a car only when you need it, pay for its use only when you have it, and be able to select a car from a wide variety of sizes, makes and models. These are some of the reasons that are making rental cars a popular mode of transportation.

"The auto rental field provides many options for the consumer and you may become confused. Rent-a-car rates are based on several factors. In general, smaller cars rent at lower rates, while larger cars and special vehicles rent at higher rates," says Beshear.

Car rental companies rent cars for so much per day and so much per mile, or there are set rates per day that include a specific number of "free" miles. Some companies offer both plans, while other companies offer just one of them.

It is important to compare the rates of different plans offered by each company, Beshear advises. Consider how long you will want the car and the approximate number of miles you plan to drive.

Rentals by the week usually offer a reduction in per day cost. There are further reductions for monthly rentals. When you are making cost comparisons, make sure you are comparing similar types of cars, comparable insurance coverage and other personal considerations including drop-off privileges. Be cautious of a rental company that advertises a rate that seems unrealistically low. Ask the representative to work out the estimated costs for your particular trip under the various plans offered, says the attorney general.

The majority of auto rental companies charge for insurance. The $5-a-day charge covers liability and waives the deductible. When examining insurance, check the stated dollar amount of coverage, whether the coverage is afforded by the standard policy, and what it costs to get the insurance coverage you want. Reputable companies will have no hesitancy about giving you all of these details.

"For your protection, read and understand everything printed on the contract," Beshear says. "Check the back of the contract, for this is usually where the conditions and limitations are stated. Also, become familiar with the insurance limits and coverage included in the rental rate."

If you have questions or a complaint concerning car rental, please write to the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, 209 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

HEARING AIDS

It has been only a few years ago that hearing aid salesmen sold their products door-to-door. Hearing aids are not sold door-to-door in Kentucky anymore,—at least not legally!

In 1976, Kentucky's lawmakers passed what has become known as the best hearing aid law in the United States. Not only does the law forbid home solicitations by sellers of these devices, but it also allows the buyer of a hearing aid 30 days to cancel the sale for a full refund, if not satisfied.

Another section of the hearing aid law states it is unlawful "to sell a hearing aid to any person unless within the preceding 90 days that person has been examined by and received a written, signed and dated approval for a hearing aid from a duly licensed physician." This section has since been preempted by federal statute.

"Although this section of the original law is no longer in effect, it is still extremely important that a person considering a hearing aid purchase be examined by a physician or audiologist," said Attorney General Steven L. Beshear.

There are multiple causes of hearing loss, and these vary from person to person, the attorney general noted. Quite often the problem is a temporary one that can be treated medically. Extensive exposure to high-volume noise, bacterial infection and excessive wax build-up are all potential causes of a loss of hearing, but they are not the only ones, he added.

The aging process can affect one's sense of hearing, too, but don't fool yourself by saying you're too young, either, Beshear said.

In any case, if you are having difficulty hearing, consult a physician or audiologist. Many times it will not be anything serious, even a common cold can cause a hearing loss.

If you would like more information concerning Kentucky's hearing aid law, contact the Office of the Attorney General, Division of Consumer Protection, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

BWARE OF TOXIC ART MATERIALS
 Many visual arts materials, especially those used during painting, decoupage, ceramics, jewelry making, crafts and sculpture may be hazardous to your health if proper precautions are not taken.

Elderly persons and pregnant women are highly susceptible to the effects of these toxic substances. Also, the effects of toxic chemicals found in art materials compound the problems of those already suffering from chronic illness.

Care should be taken when handling toxic art substances as many of them can cause skin rashes, hives, swelling and other skin problems.

Organic solvents used to dissolve or thin oil, waxes and varnishes and to clean brushes, rollers and hands may be absorbed by the lungs and the skin. Use with maximum ventilation to prevent nausea or drowsiness, breathing difficulties and faintness, which are caused by these chemicals.

Do not smoke in a work area where these art materials are used since toxic chemicals are highly flammable. Also, do not eat or drink in the work area. Adequate ventilation is imperative as pollution of the atmosphere increases the possibility of harmful effects. Chemicals can find their way into uncovered food dishes, and residue materials often contaminate surfaces of tables and chairs.

Full-strength chemicals, such as those used when making jewelry and working with ceramics, lacquers and paint thinners, can produce painful burns on hands and arms. Chemicals of any type can be very hazardous to the eyes; so caution should be taken when pouring and mixing acid cleaners and solvents.

Additional tips for handling toxic art materials are taken from Michael McCann's new book, Artist Beware.

- Remove all articles from tables to be used.
- Cover work surfaces with a non-porous covering, such as plastic.
- Confine the use of spray lacquers, paint thinners and items with hazardous warnings on the label to a room away from the general food service area, away from open flame and where maximum ventilation is available. Use a spray booth when using lacquers.

Ten Years Ago

(March 25, 1971)

A fire last Tuesday damaged a section of the historic Garfield Place, Prestonsburg home of Mrs. Claude P. Stephens. Students from the nearby grade school pitched in to help remove the many antiques and items of historic interest from within the structure. Bids on construction of a five-story, 32-unit housing facility for the elderly at Martin have for the second time been rejected as too high. McDowell high school's Daredevils upheld the prestige of 15th Kentucky basketball in strong fashion at last week's Kentucky state high school tournament which was won for the second year in a row by Male of Louisville. The Floyd county team missed a place in the semi-finals by an eyelash in its overtime game against Anderson county. Coffee was $1.49 a can, rump roast, $.89 a pound, and Martha White was $.49 for a 5-lb. bag in grocery ads this week. Damron, 47, of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of Weeksbury, Tuesday; John (Spider) Dillon, 68, of Water Gap, Saturday.

Twenty Years Ago

(March 23, 1961)

U. S. Department of Agriculture representatives from Washington and Atlanta met here last Thursday morning with Floyd officials to do preliminary planning for the food stamp program which will be introduced in Floyd, one of seven pilot counties designated in the United States to try out the relief system. The first sales meeting of the Black Star Coal Corporation since its purchase early this year by George E. Evans, Jr., Estill coal operator, was held at the Wise Restaurant here, Monday and Tuesday. Of the 165 cases docketed for trial at the April term of the Floyd circuit court, 56 accuse defendants of child desertion and in 32 others the charge is either breaking and entering or grand larceny. From the Extension Service fashion notes—"What's the fashion picture in shoes: Pointed toes are still the most popular style." An enrollment of 252 in weekend classes, including 73 from Floyd county, was announced today by Pikeville College. There died: Tommy Jones, Bevinville native, in an auto accident in Lexington, Saturday. Ira Fouts, 42, at his home at Melvin, Tuesday; John P. Clifton, 45, Monday, en route to a Martin hospital; William Floyd Ratliff, 56, Saturday at his home at Ivel; Mrs. Ella S. Layne, 69, formerly of Justell, in Clermont, Fla., Sunday; John D. Clark, 79, Floyd county native, Friday at his home in Maysville; Edgar Green Elkens, 60, Monday of a heart attack near his home at East Point; Mrs. Mildred S. Parker, 31, Friday, at her home in Wheelwright.

Thirty Years Ago

(March 22, 1951)

The Prestonsburg City Council learned at its meeting Monday night that it has no power to control the make-up or actions of the city's water and gas commission. The coal slump hit Floyd county this week with such force that upwards of 400 mine employes are out of work. The Plan Song Chanters and their director, Edith Fitzpatrick James, have again been invited to attend the annual National Folk Festival to be held in Kriel Auditorium Opera House, St. Louis, Mo. Thirty-seven Floyd county draft registrants will leave here April 3 for induction into the armed forces. Telegrams received Wednesday afternoon by The Times and county officials from Congressman Carl D. Perkins and Senators Clements and Underwood announced that the Communities Facilities Service, Housing and Home Finance Agency, has approved an advance loan of $36,000 for planning in connection with the Floyd County War Memorial Hospital. Appearing at the Martin Theatre Friday, were Lonzo and Oscar, stars of the Grand Ole Opry. At the Abigail Theatre in Prestonsburg James Stewart was appearing in "Harvey". There died: Mrs. Bertha May Allen, wife of Dr. J. H. Allen, Monday at her home at Maytown; Edward Lands, 69, last Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ted Meadows, at Manton; Mrs. Lucy Bates, 65, at a Martin hospital, Saturday.

Forty Years Ago

(March 20, 1941)

Peaceful evacuation by 108 mine families of property of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation at Wayland, Garrett and Sizemore Branch was under way this week after writs of forcible entry and detainer had been executed by Deputy Sheriffs Tom James and W. B. Boyd. Calls received Wednesday for 54 men from this county for military service may, for the first time since the Selective Service system was instituted last year, necessitate the sending of draftees early next month, it was held here. The school building at Ligon, scene of last summer's gun battle in which two men attending a United Mine Workers' meeting were killed, Saturday morning was a battleground again as the local union met—but guns were not used in this latest affray. Chairs were swung in this fight, and a 40-year-old Beaver miner was severely injured. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones, Jr., of Prestonsburg, a son, March 13. There died: Samuel Stephens, 80, Sunday at his home on Bull Creek; John S. Layne, 68, of Betsy Layne, Sunday at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

Dr. Thomas J. Gleaton, Jr., an associate professor in the Georgia State University school of education, heads a national organization known as P.R.I.D.E. (Parents' Resource Institute for Drug Education), and some hope his visit will strengthen, and lead to a possible amalgamation of, citizen groups recently formed here and in Pike and Martin counties.

Rusty Williams, regional coordinator of the DHR substance abuse branch, will discuss the curriculum guide for drug education, prepared by the state education department's division of program development and expected to be the focus of renewed attention in Floyd schools next year.

Good and others have stressed the importance of getting an early start with drug education. "To be effective, any program has to be started well before drug use begins," he said. The state's curriculum guide assumes that drug education will begin in kindergarten.

Encouraging children to be responsible for their own decisions in the face of peer pressure can be effective, Good said, as long as the habit is learned before peer pressure becomes the dominant psychological force in the youngster's life.

In addition, he says, the community itself needs to offer more definitive guidelines as to what constitutes socially acceptable use of mind-altering drugs. As long as high levels of drug and alcohol use are tolerated in adult society generally, lectures to the young will be unconvincing, he predicted.

The workshop is set to run from 10 a.m. today (Wednesday) until 2 p.m.

For The Older Citizens

I received the shock of my life yesterday evening (March 19) when the television newscast told the entire country that President Reagan plans to eliminate the agency that funds the Senior Citizens Center across the width and breadth of this land.

While I share the President's desire to reduce the scope of ravenous inflation that is destroying the ability of Senior citizens on fixed income to provide the necessities of life, the elimination of the Senior Citizens Centers will force many older people to experience indignities and deprivation. What the President hopes to give to the older citizens with his right hand in reduced inflation, he snatches away from them with his left hand in his elimination of the Senior Citizen Centers.

For the older citizens, particularly those hundreds of thousands who live alone, the Senior Citizens Program can be the following:

1. The difference between a wholesome and dietary correct noonday meal on one hand, or cold luncheon meat sandwich on the other.
2. The difference between a wholesome day of fellowship, recreation and participation in handicrafts in contrast to a day of idle loneliness behind the locked doors of a small apartment or home.
3. The difference between being able to visit cultural and historical places of interest or the absence of such opportunities.
4. The difference between living out the declining years of one's life with some degree of dignity or being forced to go on the welfare rolls.

The vast majority of the older people who frequent the Senior Citizens Centers are from that broad strata of working people who have made this country great. They are people striving to make ends meet on Social Security income supplemented in some instances by small pensions and diminishing life savings. These are the same people who gave so freely during their productive years to the cultural, religious and civic life of their communities. What a travesty of justice to deprive them the privilege of a small bit of substance and happiness in their last years!

Simple But Complicated

It's so simple but has been made complicated. It has been twisted, stretched, lied about, and thrown into the midst of controversy. What is it? One simple statement says, "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the U. S. or any State on account of sex."

This sentence, in addition to two others which give Congress the authority to enforce the law and a deadline under which to implement it, is known as the Equal Rights Amendment.

During Women's History Week, Alice Paul should be recognized as the woman who authored this amendment. Little must she have realized back in 1923, when it was first introduced into Congress, that the idea would take decades just to get out of Senate Committees.

Today, with the rapid rise in the rate of inflation, the ERA is becoming an economic issue. On a national average, women make 59% of what men make in comparable jobs, and the gap between income of men and women is widening. With the rising need of the two-income family, women are being forced to work outside the home. What family can afford or should be satisfied with one wage-earner achieving only 59% of her income potential?

The time is now to re-evaluate what we have been told about the Equal Rights Amendment, and to realize what we are losing without it.

Present for the occasion were the honoree, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Frasure, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Justice, and sons, Josh and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Clark and daughter, Misty, Joy and Shana Bush, Matthew Hays, Megain Justice, Margo Branham and Hattie Cluck, all of Betsy Layne, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Osborne, of Prestonsburg. The Harmon Family

In response to the article in last week's paper concerning the descendants of the Aquilla Harmon family there is a mistake. It was Henry Harmon (not Robert) who married Susan Spradlin. Henry and Susan were my grandparents. Their children were:

(1) Patrick, married Kate Frazier. Their children were Grace, who married Otis Conley; Ivory, died unmarried; Albert; Virginia, married Wayne Music.

(2) Rebecca, married Lewis Baldrige; children—Eddie, married Pearl Conley, Harmon—, Arthur, married Irene Cromwell.

(3) Hettie, married Dave Miller; children—Lucy, married Paris Conley; Susan, married Harry Baldrige, Anna, married Carol Keck.

(4) Jimmie, married Nannie Minix; children—Jim Henry, died unmarried; Bennie, married Edna Hackworth; Leona, married Raymond Buck; Bill, married Maxie Fairchild; Leonard; Clyde, married Anna Lee Hackworth; Susan, married Ernest Hackworth; Edith, married Dewey Hackworth.

(5) Martha, married Lewis Baldrige; children—Cecil Lewis, married Pauline Blackburn; Thelma Ruth, married Hobert Davis; Orville, married Emogene Blackburn.

(6) Colista (my mother), married Lenna A. Conley; children—Ruby, married Ellis Osborne, Susan, married Aaron Akers, Margaret, married John Calder, Maxine, married Joseph Osborne, Estella Ruth, married Walter B. Fletcher.

If anyone has the lineage of any of the rest of Aquilla Harmon's family I would appreciate it if they would send it to me.

Surprised By Governor

I have written Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr. the following letter by way of comment on his attitude toward higher education in Kentucky:

After reading this morning's edition (Tuesday, March 3) of The Courier Journal I find myself amazed, confused and a little angry. I am also somewhat surprised to find Kentucky's chief executive officer engaged in the demeaning exercise of name calling with respect to Kentucky's higher education community—"the state's biggest cry baby."

Your entire attitude on this matter leads me to believe that you are not as concerned about the "cry babies" of higher education as you are with striking out against Edward Pritchard, Jr. and former Governor Bert T. Combs for publicly opposing further budget cuts in higher education. I would like to point out that Bert T. Combs was one of the finest governors Kentucky has ever had and you would do well by seeking his advice on some of the delicate matters currently facing Kentucky.

Furthermore, I don't really understand what position you expect higher education to take. You first said that "the universities need to be open and flexible", and then you said that "each school excel in certain programs by specializing in two or three areas of expertise" (open and flexible do not coordinate with highly structured and specialized). You then acknowledged that it would be difficult for the universities to give up any existing programs. In addition, your comment that "higher education was just asking for more money instead of addressing the issue" is absolutely ridiculous. On the contrary, Kentucky's higher education community should be complimented on its overall effectiveness and quality programming based upon the budget on which it operates.

It seems to me that you fail to realize that a college or university is more than just classrooms and teachers. The college must be the nucleus of all learning for the area it serves. With expanded programs in adult and continuing education the college campus has literally become a community center. What concerns me most is 'how much longer can our institutions continue to provide quality education on just adequate to less than adequate budgets?'

On Removal Of Commandments

Due to the Supreme Court's ruling, the Garrett Grade School was forced to remove the display of the Ten Commandments from our classrooms. The merchants of Garrett are at this time displaying the Ten Commandments for the school on the premise that, if a reversal of this decision should occur, and hopefully it will, the school will once again gain possession of the plaques and display them in our classrooms.

The teachers, students, community and principal were very saddened by the Supreme Court's decision, but we must follow the laws of our land, regardless of how we feel toward the law.

Virgil Webb petitioned the council for assistance in restoring bus drivers for senior citizens using the Archer Park center. Two bus drivers will be lost to the center as a result of the Reagan administration's elimination of part of the CETA program, he said.

The council postponed until next meeting a decision on the request, pending a study of the costs involved in continuing the positions with city funds.

Councilman Hughes advised Webb to bring his request before the fiscal court, also. "The city certainly can't afford to continue both drivers; the county should also participate," Hughes said.

The city's taxi drivers are seeking a change in the ordinance requiring them to apply annually for renewal of their taxi permits, City Manager David Evans told the council. Applications should be required only of new drivers, they contend.

Concern was expressed, however, about how to ensure that drivers had an annual physical exam and were free of felony convictions, as required by the ordinance, if the annual re-applications were not required. A decision on the matter was postponed until the next council meeting.

The state highways department has regraded road shoulders in sections of Lake Drive north and south of the city, and yet intends to widen the road at its intersection with U. S. 23, and to correct a drainage problem in front of the old Fun Place premises, Councilman Estill Lee Carter reported.

A request, forwarded on the city's behalf by Rep. Greg Stumbo, for a more prominent entrance to Jenny Wiley State Park at Lancer, has been referred by the highways department to the state parks department, it was said.

In other business, the council voted, on a motion of Councilman Hughes, to give $500 to the Prestonsburg Little League; agreed to ask Kentucky Power Co. to replace all the city lights with the brighter, sodium vapor lights recently installed downtown; hired Patricia May, of the Goble Roberts Addition, as janitor, and dismissed the city's mechanic and agreed to advertise for his replacement.

Murray Guard, Inc. is said to specialize in policing strike situations.

Threats of reprisals against non-striking workers and of damage to hospital property had been reported, said Mason Sexton, chief of security at the hospital. Some members of the Prestonsburg police and fire departments are also said to have received threats if they should respond to calls from the hospital.

KENTUCKY COAL TESTS

Extensive testing has shown Kentucky coal to be excellent feedstock for H-Coal liquefaction to high-grade fuels, according to state Energy Secretary William B. Sturgill.

Sturgill announced the results of recent tests conducted at the H-Coal Process Development Unit in Trenton, N. J., and at the Kentucky Center for Energy Research Laboratory in Lexington.

"Analysis of the naphtha, light fuel oil and heavy oil showed the liquefaction coal has an abundance of the kind of hydrocarbons desirable for further refining into transportation fuels," Sturgill said.

The extensive tests and analysis performed at our laboratory will go far toward ensuring a market for Kentucky coals in our emerging multibillion-dollar synfuel industry," Sturgill said.

The census of hospital patients is down from its usual level of "90-95 percent" occupancy to "about 50 percent," Asst. Administrator Russell Dean said. The hospital intends to stay open and has qualified staff to take care of emergencies and seriously ill patients in all departments, he said.

Visiting hours at the hospital are unchanged, but the hospital administration is requesting that only immediate families of patients visit during the strike, Dean said.

Of the hospital's 453 employees, 284—including technicians, licensed practical nurses, and service and maintenance workers—belong to the union.

Three years ago, the union ratified a contract within hours of a strike deadline.

Relief Plans Readied by DHR In Case of Long Coal Strike

(Although the coal strike has apparently been averted, the following article outlines preparations which were made in the event of such a walk-out. Ed.)

Responding to Sen. Benny Ray Bailey's expressed concern about unemployment among coal miners who may strike, Dr. Grady Stumbo, secretary of the Department for Human Resources, has assigned additional DHR food stamp workers to eastern Kentucky to handle increased demands for food stamps.

Forty-five eligibility and clerical workers have been temporarily assigned to the 10-county area in the eastern coalfields, Stumbo said last Thursday. Additional staff members will also be assigned to assist counties in western Kentucky affected by the strike as well.

Department officials estimate that 16,735 eastern Kentucky miners live in Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties. Of that number, 50 percent are represented by the United Mine Workers. "Based on our data from the 1978 miners' strike, we anticipate that approximately 7,000 people in those counties will apply for food stamps if the strike takes place," Stumbo said.

Should the strike continue past mid-April, he expects that figure to double. "If the coal industry in eastern Kentucky is idle, layoffs in related industries, like railroads and trucking, are possible," Stumbo said.

Human Resources staff began preparing for the possibility of a UMW strike early this year. Besides additional staff assigned to Kentucky's coal counties, two temporary office sites have been procured in Phelps and Belfry in Pike county. Motel rooms to accommodate temporary staff members who do not live within commuting distance have also been reserved.

The current contract between United Mine Workers and coal operators expires March 27 at 12:01 a.m. Several thousand miners nationwide have already walked off their jobs and have already received their last paychecks, Stumbo noted. "Those people receiving their last paychecks in March are potentially eligible for food stamps as of April 1," he said.

Additional Human Resources workers are expected to arrive at their temporary job sites April 1 to speed up the food stamp application process and help staff in eastern Kentucky handle the increased workload.

During the last UMW strike, lasting from December, 1977 through March, 1978, 54 additional food stamp workers assigned to help staffs in 34 counties statewide processed a total of 13,139 applications, approving 11,183 and denying 1,308.

Our Fragile Earth

By DR. JERRY HOWELL
Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences
Morehead State University

Some interesting news items were recently summarized by Environment magazine and Environmental Action, a periodical published by a foundation of the same name.

According to Dr. Eugene Morton of the Smithsonian Institution, fewer songbirds are singing in North America now than in past years. Studies show there are now fewer warblers, kingbirds, vireos, tanagers, peewees, and other perching songbirds visiting our continent during the summer. Morton believes the decline is clearly correlated with the increasing destruction of Central American and northern South American forests. These forests are being cut down at a rate of one to two percent a year and the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations has estimated that the decline in forested land in these areas has been about 35 percent since 1955. Songbirds breeding in North America and wintering in the subtropics have also experienced population declines, according to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service; the populations of many species have been decreasing steadily since 1968. These facts support Morton's beliefs.

A non-polluting wood burning stove, which extracts gas from wood and then burns the gas, is being developed by Norwegian researchers. The object is to develop a new combustion system that produces an intense flame even when a stove is burning very small quantities of wood.

Wind damaged almost twice as much land in the Great Plains last winter and spring as it did the previous year. Of the five million acres reportedly damaged, 95 percent was cropland and four percent rangeland. Major erosional causes were low levels of protective residue, excessive tillage, loose topsoil caused by freezing and thawing, and large areas left unseeded because of drought.

Although Lake Erie has had its share of problems in recent years, it has a healthy new image. Its beaches are open and recreational industries associated with the lake are booming. A reduction in pollution from the lake's tributaries, coupled with a rise in the lake's water level and modern sewage treatment facilities, have made for cleaner water near the shore. However, the lake still suffers ecologically offshore because many contaminants are still found in the lake's bottom silt, rising toxicity from acid rain is creating problems, and farm runoff still poses a threat.

A University of California at Santa Cruz professor has found there may be a lot more radiation than the government has claimed leaking from 47,000 barrels of radioactive waste dumped 35 miles off San Francisco Bay between 1946 and 1965. The government has always contended there was no damage, but Dr. W. Jackson Davis found that the barrels are leaking some high level radioactive waste. In addition, radioactivity has been discovered in fish taken from the water.

Memories At 86

Now 86 years old and living in Ypsilanti, Mich., Mrs. Bessie D. Compton likes to recall the days when she lived in Floyd and other Big Sandy valley counties.

She was married Aug. 20, 1914 at Alonzo, near Emma, to the late Thomas Lee Compton, who spent most of his life as a coal machine operator on the left and right forks of Beaver Creek.

Her memories include life in many Kentucky mining camps, the many years she and her family lived at Dwale and her childhood spent at White House when she and other members of her family looked forward to the coming of the next steamboat with their cargos which often included passengers, some coming to visit relatives, others just having a pleasure trip.

Mrs. Compton was of a family of 12, and she is the mother of 11. Her father was William M. Daniel, a general mine foreman for 40 years and also a music teacher in many of the mining camps where he worked. He loved music and taught without charge.

Mrs. Compton also points out that in her girlhood days she worked in a Prestonsburg hotel and that among her fondest memories are those of shopping in the stores, of "the wonderful people who lived in Prestonsburg," how pretty the place looked to her back then, and the kindness of many people to her.

Ferrell Is Police Academy Graduate

The state Justice Department's Bureau of Training has now trained more than 3,000 Kentucky police officers at the bureau's police basic training academy in Richmond.

Prestonsburg policeman Randy Dale Ferrell was among the academy's recent graduates.

To date, 3,070 police officers from throughout the state have completed the basic training. Successful completion of the course qualifies the officers for a salary supplement from the state.

The 10-week basic course involves physical and academic programs that prepare officers for law enforcement work. A wide range of subjects are studied by the officers, including criminal law, accident and criminal investigation, social services, first aid, firearms and management of human conflict.

John Hiten, staff supervisor of the law enforcement services section of the Justice Department, was the guest speaker at the graduation.

Gains Accreditation

Louisa Community Hospital has been awarded a two-year accreditation by the American Association of Blood Banks (AABB).

Accreditation follows an intensive on-site inspection by specially trained representatives of the Association, and establishes that the level of medical, technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the rigorous standards set by the AABB. By successfully meeting those requirements, Louisa Community Hospital can join more than 2,000 similar facilities across the United States that have earned the Accreditation rating and recognition.

IN APPRECIATION

The family of Jeff Cochran would like to thank everyone who helped him in any way after the explosion of Prestonsburg High School last Wednesday, March 18.

We also thank the emergency room and hospital staff at Highlands Regional Hospital for everything they did for him.

Jeff is very important to us and all the phone calls and the people who came to the emergency room and their offers of help, helped us to get through a very difficult time after such a tragic incident.

We thank you for all the love and kindness and especially your prayers.

Heart Chapter Appeals To Floyd Candidates

Deloris Dingus, vice-president of the Floyd County Chapter, American Heart Association, said this week that the local chapter is challenging all political candidates in Floyd county to contribute to this year's Heart Fund Drive.

"Our goal for this year is $6,000," Mrs. Dingus commented, "and unless we get some help from a variety of sources, we won't be able to realize this goal."

"We hope that all candidates currently running will respond to this worthy cause," she commented.

Tax deductible contributions may be sent to P. O. Box 231, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653.

Flea Market Set

Prestonsburg High School band boosters will conduct a flea market and bake sale, Friday, April 3, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., in the high school cafeteria. Proceeds will go toward sending the band to Nashville.

Pike Coal Firm Awarded Grant

Anita Coal Co., of Pikeville, has been awarded a $31,113 grant from the Small Operators Assistance Program, known as SOAP.

The grant, announced by Jackie Swigart, secretary of the state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, is from a federally funded program designed to help small coal operators gather data required for permit applications.

Grant funds provide for the gathering of background data on ground and surface waters, stream life and geological strata in the areas to be mined. Grant payments are made directly to the engineering firms selected to gather the environmental data, program manager Bob Trimble said.

Work on the Floyd county site near the Big Sandy will be done by Prasad Engineering firm of Whitesburg.

Kentucky coal operators mining 100,000 tons or less of coal a year are eligible for assistance under the program, Trimble said. Operators can apply for program aid if they apply for permits under the permanent regulatory program for surface mining, he added.

"The small coal operator is vital to the coal industry and to Kentucky's economy," he said. "Our program is designed to help ease their financial burden and help them keep going strong in the upcoming years."

Trimble estimates SOAP services save the average small coal operator between $20,000 and $35,000.

SOAP has provided more than $2.5 million in services to Kentucky coal operators since its establishment in October 1979.

Further information can be obtained by writing SOAP, Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, Third Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or calling (502-564-2356.)

HRMC Begins New Chaplain Program

Plans for the "Chaplain on Call" program at Highlands Regional Medical Center got underway recently as local ministers and hospital staff met to set up guidelines. The program will provide non-denominational chaplains for spiritual counseling at the hospital. The chaplains will be available by patient request on a 24-hour basis.

Thomas Schuler, chaplain program consultant with the Appalachian Regional Hospitals was present to work with the nursing staff and ministers in coordinating the program. An experienced hospital chaplain, Schuler explained to the nurses how they could best use the Chaplain on Call program to benefit their patients and themselves.

Schuler stated that patients and their families don't have to be committed to any church to use the chaplain program. It is designed to offer help during a stressful period.

NOTICE is hereby given that petition has been made upon the Floyd Fiscal court to close a portion of the road at Cracker Bottom in front of Sanford Ousley home. Any person having objections to the closing of said county road should make said objections to the office of Bill Wells, County Judge/Executive on or before April 8, 1981 at 9 a.m. 3-18-21.

Clauson Custody Fight Ends, Children Returned to Father

Donald R. Clauson has won his court battle of 18 months for the custody of his children, Tina, 7, Angela, 8, and Paul, 10.

One round of the long custody fight between him and his ex-wife, Phyllis, was fought—and lost by Clauson—in court here.

He claimed that his ex-wife had arranged the snatching of his children from his home in Fort Wayne, Ind., after which they were brought to this county. Both parties to the action claimed the other was an unfit parent.

Clauson had won an Indiana court decision, early on, holding that he was entitled to custody of the children. The Dekalb county circuit court upheld that decision. But the Floyd court decision complicated the matter, and it was not until the Kentucky Court of Appeals ruled in his favor that Clauson's favored position with the Indiana courts meant much to him.

As recently as two weeks ago the Indiana man was still on the firing line. His former wife surrendered in January to Allen county (Ind.) police and was booked on a criminal confinement charge. A hearing has been scheduled for her in Ft. Wayne this month.

She lost custody this month when her plea for a reversal of the original Indiana court decision was denied.

Winner after months of frustration, hundreds of miles of travel between Indiana and Kentucky and $5000 in legal and travel expenses, and happy to have his children home, Clauson yet says it's "a hollow victory," pointing to all the suffering on both sides.

Clauson, who has remarried and has a stepson in addition to the three children that are now returned home, says he is looking forward to building a new life.

"I'm a wiser man now. You learn a lot about yourself, about how much you can take, how much pressure you can withstand, how much you can forgive. I'm just glad it's over."

Medical Grant Bids Now Being Accepted

The Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund is in the process of accepting applications from Kentucky residents who have been accepted to study at one of the state's two medical universities.

The Fund provides $4,000 loans per year to recipients who are willing to practice in rural Kentucky for one year for each loan they receive. Special forgiveness of loans is available to those recipients who provide practice in critical service areas for each year they receive a loan.

The fund is the oldest and most successful in the nation. In its 34 years, it has loaned in excess of 2.3 million dollars and has located more than 450 physicians in rural Kentucky. Sixty percent of the recipients are still practicing in rural or critical areas of the state and another 16% are still practicing in metropolitan areas. Recipients may select from a list of 85 counties as their practice site.

Any individual interested in applying for a scholarship is requested to contact the RKMSF office at KMA headquarters at 3532 Ephraim McDowell, Louisville, KY 40205, or call Joseph Witherington, Jr. at 459-9790. The deadline for applications is April 15.

Easter Seal Telethon Scheduled March 28-29

Cliff Road Work Strategy Argued At Public Meet

Eminent domain—the right of government to take private property "for the good of the community"—is rarely exercised without pain, as many made clear during a public hearing last (Tuesday) night on the design of a new road proposed for Cliff.

The Sam George family, whose home lies in the path of the proposed road, has long voiced its opposition to the project. They, their attorney, and supporters argued at the hearing that money for the new road would be better spent upgrading the existing road.

Others argued, however, that the construction, now almost complete, of a 94-unit housing complex at Cliff and the proposed development of an industrial park there necessitated the construction of a new road.

The existing road, they pointed out, is narrow, tortuous, and dangerous, crossing the railroad track in two places.

The 40 or more who spoke at the hearing appeared about evenly divided on the merits of the road project.

Get Your Lawn Ready

The nice, spring-like weather that had been running ahead of the calendar also caused lawns to begin greening up.

This is a signal to lawn owners to start thinking about what they need to be doing to ensure a strong, healthy and beautiful lawn on through the summer, said A.J. Powell, Extension turf specialist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"If it's necessary, start seeding as soon as possible to achieve a good stand of grass," said the specialist. Also, it's important to have a good soil-seed contact to assure proper germination.

"If it's necessary, use a roto-tiller to break up the soil," added Powell. The two most common types of lawn grasses used in lawns in Kentucky are bluegrass and tall fescue. Bluegrass may require some tillage of the soil and seedbed preparation to get a good lawn established. Fescue seed, however, can be "sprinkled on top of the ground and raked into the soil," Powell said.

Powell advised using pre-emergence herbicides to kill crabgrass, the major weed problem in Kentucky lawns. Apply chemicals at proper rates in late March or early April.

Broadleaf weeds also are a problem in lawns. "Broadleaves such as dandelions, plantains, clover and chickweed can be controlled by using 2-4, D, mixed in various combinations," said Powell.

To get good weed control, he said that broadleaf weed killers should only be applied at temperatures above 60°F.

As soon as your lawn starts growing, go ahead and mow it. "Mow early in the spring to even up the lawn and to get rid of dead leaf tips," suggested Powell. He recommended mowing at a height of 2 to 2½ inches.

Hospital Hosts Clergy

Our Lady of the Way Hospital hosted the ministers of Floyd county in learning about the pastoral ministries of the Martin hospital and in suggesting policies for more involvement of area ministers.

The group of eight area ministers met March 17 and were welcomed by Robert R. Rigel, administrator. He explained the hospital's philosophy of family-centered care and wholistic patient care. Then Sister Marie Gangwish, pastoral care director, and Rev. Dan Heintzelman, pastor at the Spurlock Independent Baptist church, shared their daily experiences of working as chaplains in the hospital. The policies of the pastoral care department were distributed and commented upon by the ministers attending. Emphasis was centered around the religious comfort of the patients and the role of ministers in providing this comfort.

After this presentation, the regular business meeting of the Floyd County Ministerial Association was conducted with the following ministers in attendance: Rev. Taylor Biggs, Community United Methodist Church, Prestonsburg; Rev. Tim Jessen, Drift and Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church; Rev. Dean Pack, First Baptist Church, Prestonsburg; Rev. Bob Holton, Seventh Day Adventist, Prestonsburg; Rev. Jim Ryan, Floyd County Catholic Church; Rev. Levon Clem, Salisbury and Maytown Methodist Church; Rev. Charles Elswich, First Methodist Church, Martin; Rev. Moultrie McIntosh, St. James Episcopal Church, Prestonsburg.

The meeting ended with a presentation by Bob Good of the Chanhassen Alcoholic and Drug Rehabilitation Center at McDowell Hospital.

The Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA) was signed by the President in 1973, according to a U. S. Department of Labor publication, "Important Events in American Labor History."

TIME TO CHANGE

Written by
Marty Ponis

We cannot turn from reality we must face it every minute of the day. In getting high we can postpone it, but in doing this we are traveling Satan's way. It's funny how he can lead you and make you think it's all right today, but really he is a hunter and you are the prey.
I know there is many other evils and it is getting worse every day. Some people do not go to church, others forget to pray.
When we all have but one creator and he is watching from above.
But yet we share in evil when we should show him our love.
And now is not too late to start, we need to spread his word.
For our time is near when God will descend from Heaven as graceful as a bird.

IN MEMORIAM

This poem is dedicated with love and respect to the memory of Ervin Isaac, who passed away February 23, 1981 at his home in Wheelwright, from his wife and 11 children.

MEMORY OF DADDY

He would sit on the porch with a coffee cup in his hand. Light up a cigarette that he rolled from a Prince Albert can.

He would look down the road as if something might have changed. He was the Legend of the Hollow and Daddy was his name.

Yes, he was the Legend of the Hollow, and oh, he knew it well. He was the Master of his Mountains, and oh, the stories he used to tell.

Daddy told me stories about the Hollow, of how it was long ago. How he used to travel by horses, and how he dug the Mountains for coal.

Daddy told me about the Ghost of the Hollow, and how the Mountains were filled with panthers and bear. And as Daddy told me the stories it was if I too was there.

He told me the story of a "Beautiful Girl" whom he had chosen for his wife, and in return she gave him eleven children, the joy of their life.

I'm going to miss you and the stories, Daddy, and the talks we always had. For you truly were a Legned, the best thing that 'ole Hollow ever had. (Written by his daughter, CAROL ISAAC TEUBERT)

DIES IN COVINGTON

Mrs. Homer Crider, formerly of Prestonsburg, died at the Catholic Nursing Home, near Covington, recently. Mrs. Crider was the mother of Mrs. Joe Wheeler Jarrell, who formerly resided here, and now lives in Louisa. Mr. Crider preceded his wife in death.

CARD OF THANKS

We the family of Waverly Eugene King, of Toler Creek, wish to express our deep appreciation to the many friends and relatives for their thoughtfulness and assistance during the recent passing of our dear loved one. We are grateful to the officiating ministers and to the Justice and Baker Funeral Home for their comfort and help in our time of sorrow. We especially want to extend our appreciation to the DAV for their outstanding tribute.

ROADS WERE TREACHEROUS during the morning hours Friday, following several hours of freezing rain and snow. Many East Point area residents reluctant to brave the hazardous Abbott Mountain route to Prestonsburg took the longer (but less hilly) way along 1428 to Hager Hill and on to U. S. 23. But no route was very safe at the time, as witness this pickup truck which skidded while rounding a curve near Music's Rollerland at East Point, and overturned into a ditch. Luckily, the driver, Mrs. Guy Preston, Jr., of Bear Hollow, East Point, escaped injury and the truck was not badly damaged.

VISITS PARENTS HERE

Miss Mary Ann LeMaster, a student at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, spent a part of her spring vacation visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LeMaster, and other relatives here.

HOLLAND B. HURLEY
DEMOCRAT
OF
FLOYD COUNTY

Help Return County Government to the People

Vote for a man who will understand our young people. They need a friend as a sheriff. I want to be a true friend to all, working together, making our county a better and safer place to live in. It takes honest people to elect an honest man.

This past weekend, a store was robbed at McDowell. This makes six or seven times it was broken into. This is one of the many reasons people want a change—as you can see by this Floyd County crime figure reported for 1979 and 1980.

| | 1979 | 1980 |
|------------|------|------|
| Murder | 2 | 1 |
| Rape | 5 | 7 |
| Robbery | 4 | 8 |
| Assault | 65 | 45 |
| Burglary | 203 | 269 |
| Auto Theft | 81 | 92 |

As you can see, only murder and assault went down. All this can be improved, if they are arrested and brought to trial. The next move will have to be for our Judges. They will need to deal more firmly with these criminals. Working together, I believe we can lower the crime rate we now have.

Thank you,

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
 FEDERAL ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION
 Continental Hydro Corporation
 Project No. 3938-000

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PRELIMINARY PERMIT

(February 24, 1981)
 Take notice that Continental Hydro Corporation (Applicant) filed on January 7, 1981, an application for preliminary permit (pursuant to the Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. para. 791(a) - 825 (r)) for proposed Project No. 3938 to be known as Dewey Lake Dam located on Johns Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky. The application is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection. Correspondence with the Applicant should be directed to: Mr. A. Gail Staker, Continental Hydro Corporation, 141 Milk Street, Suite 1143, Boston, Massachusetts 02109. Any person who wishes to file a response to this notice should read the entire notice and must comply with the requirements specified for the particular kind of response that person wishes to file.

Project Description—The proposed project would utilize the existing U. S. Army Corps of Engineers' Dewey Lake Dam and Reservoir and would consist of: (1) a powerhouse having an installed generating capacity between 2,000 KW and 2,500 KW; (2) a new penstock approximately 650-feet long; (3) new transmission lines; and (4) appurtenant works. The Applicant estimates that the average annual energy output would be between 4,500,000 kWh and 5,500,000 kWh.

Purpose of Project—Project energy would be sold to local public utilities and/or industries.

Proposed Scope and Cost of Studies under Permit—Applicant seeks issuance of a preliminary permit for a period of three years, during which time Applicant would investigate project design alternatives, financial feasibility, environmental effects of project construction and operation, and project power potential. Depending upon the outcome of the studies, the Applicant would decide whether to proceed with an application for FERC license. Applicant estimates the cost of studies under the permit to be $45,000.

Purpose of Preliminary Permit—A preliminary permit does not authorize construction. A permit, issued, gives the permittee, during the term of the permit, the right of priority of application for license while the Permittee undertakes the necessary studies and examinations to determine the engineering, economic, and environmental feasibility of the proposed project, the market for power, and all other information necessary for inclusion in an application for a license.

Agency Comments—Federal, State, and local agencies that receive this notice through direct mailing from the Commission are invited to submit comments on the described application for preliminary permit. (A copy of the application may be obtained directly from the Applicant.) Comments should be confined to substantive issues relevant to the issuance of a permit and consistent with the purpose of a permit as described in this notice. No other formal request for comments will be made. If an agency does not file comments within the time set below, it will be presumed to have no comments.

Competing Applications—Anyone desiring to file a competing application must submit to the Commission, on or before April 24, 1981, either the competing application itself or a notice of intent to file a competing application. Submission of a timely notice of intent allows an interested person to file the competing application no later than June 23, 1981. A notice of intent must conform with the requirements of 18 C.F.R. para. 4.33 (b) and (c) (1980). A competing application must conform with the requirements of 18 C.F.R. para 4.33 (a) and (d) (1980).

Comments, Protests, or Petitions to Intervene—Anyone desiring to be heard or to make any protests about this application should file a petition to intervene or a protest with the Commission, in accordance with the requirements of its Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 C.F.R. para 1.8 or para 1.10 (1980). Comments not in the nature of a protest may also be submitted by conforming to the procedures specified in para. 1.10 for protests. In determining the appropriate action to take, the Commission will consider all protests or other comments filed, but a person who merely files a protest or comments does not become a party to the proceeding. To become a party, or to participate in any hearing, a person must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules. Any comments, protest, or petition to intervene must be received on or before April 24, 1981.

Filing and Service of Responsive Documents—Any comments, notices of intent, competing applications, protests, or petitions to intervene must bear in all capital letters the title "COMMENTS", "NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE COMPETING APPLICATION", "PROTEST", or "PETITION TO INTERVENE," as applicable. Any of these filings must also state that it is made in response to this notice of application for preliminary permit for Project No. 3938. Any comments, notices of intent, competing applications, protests, or petitions to intervene must be filed by providing the original and those copies required by the Commission's regulations to: Kenneth F. Plumb, Secretary, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426. An additional copy must be sent to: Fred E. Springer, Chief, Applications Branch, Division of Hydropower Licensing, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Room 208, 400 First Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20426. State May Borrow $1.10 Million To Pay Unemployment Benefits

Kentucky may have to borrow as much as $110 million in federal funds by the end of the year to help pay unemployment benefits to out-of-work Kentuckians.

Rick Crawford, director of the department's division of unemployment insurance, told the interim joint committee on Labor and Industry recently that the state will have to pay out as much as $300 million in unemployment insurance benefits in 1981. He added, however, that no more than $194 million in taxes will be collected from the state's more than 41,000 employers to supply the unemployment benefit trust fund, which now has a balance of $10 million.

Crawford told the panel "1980 was the worst year of unemployment in the history of Kentucky."

Crawford said his department will begin notifying state employers by mail Feb. 25 of the increase in federal unemployment tax rates that went into effect Jan. 1.

Employers with low layoff records who paid $30 per employee in unemployment taxes in 1980 will have to pay a minimum of $78 per employee this year under the increased rates, Crawford said.

Employers with a high rate of layoffs who last year paid a maximum of $90 per employee in unemployment taxes will have that raised to $402, he said.

Rates between the minimum and maximum are formulated by statute, Crawford said.

If Kentucky does not repay the federal loan within two years, Crawford said, state employers will be charged an additional tax rate each year to repay the loan. Kentucky employers now pay 0.7 percent of an employee's first $6,000 in salary into the federal fund. If Kentucky does not repay its loan by Jan. 1, 1983, employers will have that rate raised by 0.3 percent each year for five years until the federal loan is repaid, Crawford said.

Gets High School Diploma at 78

Getting a high school diploma is often an exciting time for people who have waited through most of their teen years but when someone waits 78 years everyone around feels the glow.

Mrs. Lucy Butcher Parker, who celebrated her 78th birthday Sunday, passed her GED test at Morehead State University's Test and Evaluation Center with flying colors.

This makes Mrs. Parker one of the oldest persons, if not the oldest, in the state ever to receive a high school diploma.

The Johnson county native who spent most of her life in Rowan county held two teaching certificates 61 years ago before beginning her career as a housewife and mother. She became the mother of nine children, of whom four are still living. She has 25 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

"I just wanted to prove to myself I could do it," she smiled when asked why she was going after her diploma now.

"If it (diploma) looks to suit me, I'll frame it and put it on the wall below my 'Grandmother of the Year' award," she said, proudly, referring to a plaque given her a couple of years ago by one of her grandsons.

"I don't plan to go back to work," she said, noting that she already had plenty to do.

Mrs. Parker keeps busy quilting, crocheting, making cushions and other handmade items. She may also do a little gardening this spring, she said.

She even gets called upon for recipes such as apple pickles and "spizzerintum" (baloney, tomatoes and macaroni).

Honored Posthumously

The late Dr. Warren C. Lappin, who served Morehead State University longer than any other person, was honored posthumously last Thursday with MSU's 1981 Founders Day Award for University Service.

Accepting on behalf of her husband was Mrs. Ruth Lappin, of Morehead.

Dr. Lappin, who died in 1975, served 48 years on MSU's faculty, including 31 years as the University's chief academic officer. At the time of his retirement in 1971, he was vice-president for academic affairs and dean of the faculty. He was elevated to vice-president in 1966, becoming the first person to hold that office. He had been dean of the faculty since 1940.

Dr. Lappin's career at MSU included two stints as acting president. Lappin Hall, which houses the School of Sciences and Mathematics, was named in his honor.

Two members of his family continue to serve MSU. His daughter, Mary Ella Wells, is the assistant registrar and a grandson, Jim Wells, is the sports information director. Mrs. Wells is the widow of Milford (Toodles) Wells.

Stolen Explosives Pose Problem

Gerald C. Benedict, special agent in charge of the Louisville district of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms (ATF) released figures last week which indicate a growing problem in the coal-producing counties of Kentucky.

In 1978, 1,850 pounds of explosives were reported stolen throughout the state. This figure grew to 6,790 pounds in 1979. During 1980, more than 27,330 pounds were stolen or reported missing, and ATF special agents in Kentucky recovered almost 30,000 pounds. A considerable amount of the recovered explosives had never been reported to ATF as missing or stolen. These figures place Kentucky in the dubious distinction of being one of the top three states for reported stolen explosives.

Since investigations in other parts of the country have shown that Kentucky may be a source for criminal misuse of explosives and because of the growing incidence of theft, Mr. Benedict said that ATF special agents in Kentucky will place additional emphasis on the enforcement of federal storage requirements. Many times it has been shown that failure to follow the Treasury Department's storage regulations has made it all too easy for thieves to gain access to legitimately-owned explosive material. The safe and proper storage of explosives is the responsibility of the owner and user of the explosives.

ATF will be placing added emphasis on enforcing the various storage requirements as written by Congress and the Secretary of the Treasury as they pertain to security of explosives. In the event that a willful violation occurs which indicates both negligence and a disregard for public safety, the investigation will be referred to the United States Attorney's office for appropriate action.

Thefts of explosives should be reported to the nearest ATF office. There are offices located in Ashland, Bowling Green, Lexington, London, Louisville and Paducah. In addition, explosives users may report thefts by utilizing toll-free telephone number 1-800-424-9555.

AG. Dept. In Pest Control Crackdown

The Kentucky Department of Agriculture is beginning a crackdown on fly-by-night and unlicensed pest control operators, according to state Agriculture Commissioner Alben W. Barkley, II.

The crackdown is aimed primarily at operators in termite extermination, said Don Lamar of the Department's pesticides division.

The problem with operators is greater now because spring is the time of termite swarms, Lamar said. "Also, economic times like these bring such operators out of the woodwork."

These operators often offer a free inspection and then carry a piece of rotten wood under the house with them. Then, when they have "proven" there are termites, they offer to exterminate them at a special price.

This special price is often not so special, Lamar said, especially since there may not have been any termites at all. Sometimes termites are there, but unlicensed operators do a job below standards.

People can protect themselves from fraud by insisting on seeing an identification card before the person inspects the house or does any work. "If they don't have a card, don't let them do anything," Lamar said.

The homeowner should write down the person's name and company as listed on the card, Lamar said. Then, while the operator is checking the house, the homeowner should call the company to make sure the person listed on the card really works there.

"I don't want hard times made any harder by these unlicensed operators," Barkley said. "My department is attacking this problem, and I have put as many people as I can onto it. Anyone who needs more information or assistance can call our pesticides division at (502) 564-7274."

One of the many myths surrounding dieting is the notion that some foods, such as boiled eggs or grapefruit, burn up calories.

NEW STATE SKI RESORT

The Kentucky Development Finance Authority has agreed to help finance a major ski resort at General Butler State Resort Park near Carrollton.

In a recent meeting, the authority voted to issue $3 million in industrial revenue bonds for the project.

The resort will be operated by a private firm, Northbank Ski Management Inc. It is the first time private funds have been invested in a state park. Northbank will contribute $325,000 toward financing the resort. Revenue from the resort will be used to pay off the bonds.

The resort is expected to be open for business next winter.

In other business, the authority agreed to guarantee $2 million in industrial revenue bonds for Beaver Dam Industries. The company plans to buy an idle textile plant in Beaver Dam and begin making non-woven textile fabrics. The plant formerly was operated by Stearns and Foster Co. until it was shut down in 1979.

TO THE VOTERS IN DISTRICT 1

For the past few weeks I have been over the roads and up the hollows, talking to the people of District 1 about the sorry conditions of the roads. I hear the cry of our people for help. They tell me of the promises that were never kept from the past elections. Some of our roads are still in 18th century. This is the 20th century. I do not think there is any excuse for the condition of some of our county roads today. It's time for the roads to be improved, for the safety of the school children who have to ride over them to get to school. I hope you had the opportunity to see the conditions of our roads on Channel 57, Hazard, this past Saturday, March 7. I hope to show you more of our road conditions on Channel 13 in the next few weeks, and interview some of our citizens so you can hear their views. So watch for time and Channel in the Floyd County Times.

If you would like to talk with me and explain your needs, you can call me any time—phone 874-9192. I will be glad to talk with you on the phone or visit with you at your home.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. DEMOCRAT:
 I am Elmer Rice, of Banner, Kentucky, and I am a candidate for re-election as your County Surveyor. During the past four years it has been my pleasure to serve each and every one of you in that capacity. I was instrumental in the construction of the new park at Allen, having worked there as Supervisor for approximately twenty (20) months. I ask each of you for your vote; but more importantly, I ask that even if you cannot support me, that you do go to the polls on election day and exercise your right to choose elected officials.
 I am as clean as a hound's tooth, and I have no axes to grind. I appreciate your past support, and I would appreciate your continued support.

 Rumors have been started that I live in District 3 and am running ago.

 When I bought my house in 1977
 I went to the clerk's office and checked the District boundary
 map to make sure I was in District 2, along with three other officials and two secretaries. I am in District 2.
 I am running again, and would like to ask for the voters' support

Scholarship Recipient

Anna Branham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Branham, of Clyde, O., has been named recipient of the $6,000 Whirlpool Foundation Scholarship. Miss Branham will attend Ohio State University where she plans to major in industrial engineering. She is the granddaughter of Troy L. Branham and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newman, all of Grethel.

Horror Story . . . Taxdollar Waste

Senator Charles H. Percy (Ill.)...I am reintroducing (S.591) a bill to increase the efficiency of Government-wide efforts to collect debts owed the United States, to require the Office of Management and Budget to establish regulations for reporting on debts owed the United States...cosponsored by Senator Sasser (Tenn.).

"New reports, which surfaced at a hearing Senator Sasser and I held last November on this issue, showed that losses resulting from mismanagement and the absence of basic collection tools were much higher than we ever dreamed—$16 billion according to Office of Management and Budget (OBM) officials..."

"In view of these enormous losses, and the mandate we received last November from the American taxpayers to balance the budget, I am sure that my colleagues will agree that sweeping legislative reforms are urgently needed."

"For example, when the General Accounting Office (GAO) asked Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to report on the portion of its $3.7 billion multifamily housing loan program that was delinquent, HUD responded that they had little interest in knowing how much was delinquent and had no system for determining total delinquencies...GAO found an incredible $500 million past due..."

"The Department of Education stopped collections entirely in 1976 to shift employees elsewhere. As a result, the default rate skyrocketed from about $7 million in 1976 to $24 million last year..."

"The VA reported that of 285,000 new debt claims handled in the first 7 months of 1980, nearly 49,000 debtors about 17 percent, moved and did not leave forwarding addresses..."

"The Justice Department, contrary to the Comptroller General's opinion, has ruled that any credit bureau which receives data from a Federal agency must abide by the special requirements of the Privacy Act in handling the data. Credit Bureaus already governed by the Fair Credit Reporting Act will not accept Federal records under these conditions..." (Debt Collection Act of 1981 would correct this ruling).

Senator Jim Sasser (Tenn.)...I urge each and every one of you to join Senator Percy and me in working for quick passage of the Debt Collection Act of 1981..."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Congressmen continued to shovel out tax dollars as bad debt losses mounted.

Aware of the "Horror story", David Stockman, new head of the Office of Management and Budget is unlikely to be impressed by the pleas of special interest groups who want to continue to do business as usual. As the President has stated, "There are no more feathers on the goose to pluck."

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE FUND Proposed Use Hearing

A public hearing will be held by Floyd County at the Courthouse Annex Conference Room in Prestonsburg, Ky. on April 17, 1981 at the hour of 2 p.m. for the purpose of obtaining written and oral comments of citizens regarding possible uses for the County's Local Government Economic Assistance Fund. The County currently has $36,574.82 in unappropriated funds in its Local Government Assistance Fund allocation.

All interested persons and organizations in Floyd county are invited to the public hearing to submit oral and written comments on the possible use for these funds.

Any persons (especially senior citizens) who cannot submit written comments or attend the public hearing but wish to submit comments should call the Office of the County Judge-Executive by April 17, 1981, so that the county may make arrangements to secure their comments.

97th Birthday

Relatives and friends gathered March 1 at the home of Mae Flanery on Buck's Branch, to honor Mrs. Sarah Gray DeRossett on her 97th birthday. Mrs. DeRossett has six living children, including Mrs. Mae Flanery, Elizabeth Flanery, Josephine Robinson, and Bascom DeRossett, all of Floyd county, and Joann Weldon, of Frankfort. She also has six grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren. Mrs. DeRossett received a number of telephone calls from well-wishers and was presented with a variety of gifts.

LEAVES HOSPITAL
Henry Hackworth, who was a patient at the Highlands Regional Medical Center, is now showing some improvement at his home on the Abbott road.

Churches Plan Amphitheatre Sunrise Service

Dr. Harold Dorsey, former pastor of the First United Methodist Church here, now of Lexington, will deliver the message at the Easter sunrise service which the Floyd County Ministerial Association this year plans to hold at the Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheatre.

In recent years, services sponsored by the association have rotated among local churches, but since Easter comes late this year, (April 19) chances are improved for a beautiful outdoor service at 7 p.m. which is close to the time the sun can first be seen above the surrounding mountains. In case of inclement weather, however, the alternate site for the service will be nearby May Lodge.

A special feature of the service this year will be singing by the Prestonsburg High School Choir and instrumental performances by members of the high school band.

The public is invited to share in this community celebration of Easter, as well as the noonday services which will be held each day during Holy Week, Monday through Friday, at the First Baptist Church. A pastor of one of the participating churches will speak each day, and, following the service, luncheon will be served by members of the local Council of Church Women.

HOMEMAKERS MEET
The Abbott Homemakers met Tuesday night, March 10, at the church annex building, with the president, Mrs. Sharon Sparr, presiding. Mrs. Muriel Hill gave the devotionals. The lesson was on "Decorating Your House with Plants." Mrs. Frances Pitts showed slides on how to care for and decorate with plants. Members signed a "get-well" card to be sent to a member, Mrs. Alta Hall, who has been sick for several months. The hostesses, Mrs. Janet Cotterill and Mrs. Sharon Sparr, served meat pie and soft drinks to Mesdames Cynthia Frasure, Eukie Merritt, Grace Conley, Ruby Frasure, Frances Pitts, Helen Neeley, and Muriel Hill, and little Misses Jane Howard, and LaDonna Frasure. The next meeting will be at the same location, April 18, at 7 p.m.

Missions Schedule At Maytown Baptist

Bob Varney, pastor of First Baptist Church of Maytown, announces the following itinerary for missionaries who will speak in the church this week:
—March 26, Mrs. Margaret Lasley of Louisville, director of Weekday Ministries, Baptist Fellowship Center, with the Home Mission Board of Atlanta since 1969.

—Friday, March 27, Dr. Louis McCall, professor at Clear Creek Baptist Bible School, former missionary to Thailand and Guam. Dr. McCall, who has spoken in the Maytown Church before, was professor of Religious Education at Boyce Bible School, Louisville. He will show slides of the work in Guam and Thailand.

—Saturday night, Rev. Lornie Turner, foreign missionary on furlough from Zambia, Africa. He was born in Harlan, Ky., has pastored several churches in the state, is a graduate of Campbellsville College.

—Sunday March 29, at 11 a.m. Rev. Floyd Butts, of Auburn, Neb., home missionary, who spent 20 years in the army, started a mission in Bamberg, Germany, has held pastorates in four states.

—Sunday evening, Rev. James Leo Jones, currently associational missionary of Williamsburg, Kentucky. He, too, is an alumnus of Campbellsville College.

Evening services will start at 7 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear all these speakers. Hostesses and hosts for the guests will pick them up in Allen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Short. The conference is part of the Bold Mission Thrust campaign, launched in recent years by Southern Baptists to help see that every individual in the U. S. hears the gospel.

WILBURN H. FISHER
SUN., MON. & TUES.; MARCH 29-31
Evangelist Wilburn H. Fisher, of Atlanta, Ga. will be the guest musician and speaker at the First Assembly of God this Sun., Mon., and Tuesday, March 29-31, according to the pastor, Lorie Vannucci.
Wilburn is a gospel guitarist and singer as well as song composer and an in-depth teacher and preacher of the word of God.
As a young man growing up in western Kentucky he longed for a career in the entertainment field but during this time his life seemed empty and void of meaning. Then he found the reality he had longed for in Jesus Christ.
That was more than 28 years ago. Since then he has traveled many thousands of miles preaching in churches and auditoriums throughout the United States.
Evangelist Fisher calls himself a revivalist for he feels that he has an end time message to the church. He has been instrumental in writing approximately 95 gospel songs, some of which have been recorded by nationally-known artists. He has been seen on nationwide television and has recorded six long-play albums.
Wilburn is married. He and his wife, Virginia have three children that are all involved in Christian work also.
The pastor, Lorie Vannucci, would like to extend a cordial invitation to everyone to come and be blessed by the dynamic ministry of Evangelist Fisher.

Hearing Can Wait— State Tourney Won't

A hearing to decide if a county superintendent of schools shall, or shall not, continue to hold office is an important matter, but when the county has a team playing in the state high school basketball tournament the fortunes of that team apparently take precedence over the fate of the individual.

The Knott school board's hearing of charges lodged against Supt. of Schools Melvin Wicker by Dr. Gene Watts, a member of the board, began Friday, March 13, continued through Saturday and the following Monday and Tuesday night, then recessed. The basketball tournament in Lexington began the next day.

Knott Central High School's Patriots lost in the state tournament after a highly creditable showing, but not for other lack of support from the folks back home (individuals, including candidates for office, and business firms bought more than eight pages of advertising in last week's Troublesome Creek Times to urge the Patriots on).

On the hearing itself The Troublesome Creek Times reports: Attorneys for the school board, Eugene Goss and Alva Hollan, Jr., called approximately twenty witnesses in presenting their case against Wicker. Wicker's attorney has summoned approximately fifty witnesses.

The hearing is closed to the public, but is not a secret hearing according to Wicker's attorney, Daniel Hall, of Hazard. Hall said he wished to avoid a show atmosphere in the hearing.

For witnesses, the prosecution has called Roger Thornberry, John Henry Hall, Ivy Mullins, Jim Francis, Earl Jacobs, Dave Russell, Charles Tidwell, Pervis Jacobs, Mary Amburgey, John Hall, Vesper Singleton, Vernon Smith, Brady Stone, Russell Sue Smith, Nancy Terry, Sam Smith, R. B. Singleton, Mary Stewart, Bill Triplett, Clark Pratt and G. L. Mellott and Mr. Adams from the Mellott and Adams accounting firm in Hazard.

The board's witnesses ended their testimony on Monday and Wicker's witnesses were called also at that time.

Superintendent Wicker faces dismissal if four board members vote to do so.

The seven charges accuse Wicker of fiscal irresponsibility in that he has been unable to prepare and have approved by the state Board of Education a budget for the 1980-81 school year, and that his budget policies have resulted in a projected budget deficit for 1980 of $563,205.24.

He is charged with violating the Administrative Rules of the Knott County Board and authorizing payment without prior approval of $36,000 to attorney Daniel Hall for services not yet performed, and payment of a Middle School lunchroom obligation incurred by him while principal without prior approval.

Wicker is charged with being in-subordinate during a closed session meeting on January 17 and with threatening board members.

Other charges include his failure to provide administrative leadership and consequently allowing the grounds of the Middle School area to deteriorate, his failure to work properly with principals or supervisory staff and indiscriminately dismissing and transferring personnel in such a manner causing disruption of the county educational program.

The charges also claim that he used his office as superintendent to coerce those working under him to support certain candidates during the November school board election.

Wicker has denied the charges and called them political in nature.

First Birthday

Seek Guest House for Hospital Patient's Kin

LEXINGTON—Two women and a man carefully climbed the narrow stairs, turned at a landing and threaded their way through musty wall paper, hanging in two-foot strips from the damp walls. As they reached the upper level, the trio discussed the renovation possibilities of the two story, gabled house.

The group, Mary Frank Ewalt, Joyce Delabar, and Stuart Euster, all of Lexington, comprised part of a site selection committee searching for a house that Lexington Hospital Hospitality House could restore and use as a guest house for relatives of seriously ill persons in any of Lexington's five full-service hospitals.

The house, if chosen, could become a home away from home for persons from outside Fayette County who could only pay a small fee and for those who could not. It would provide a sleeping room, restrooms, and kitchen facilities.

Mrs. Ewalt, one of several founders of the non-profit organization, knows from experience how difficult and costly it can be finding room and board while a relative is hospitalized away from home for a long time. Nine years ago, she spent nine weeks in Lexington away from her home which was then in Bowling Green, while her husband was hospitalized. During that time, she came to realize that almost 75 people a night visiting patients in the University of Kentucky Medical Center (UKMC) were trying to grab what little rest they could on couches and chairs in the lounge areas. For the five full-service hospitals, the estimate was nearly 200 people per night who needed an inexpensive place to rest.

At the time of the hospital's enlargement, Mrs. Ewalt was beginning her research paper for a Master of Arts degree at Lexington Theological Seminary. Her emphasis of study was in social ethics which allowed her to research the situation and to use it as the subject of her thesis. That research led her into trying to help those homeless relatives who could not afford to stay in nearby motels.

Her studies showed that 9,600 patients were admitted to UKMC alone between July 1, 1979 and June 30, 1980. They came from 49 Kentucky counties of which 32 had a county-wide median family income of $5,000 or less. It also showed that UKMC and the University of Louisville Medical Center were the two acute care centers in the state and therefore, attracted large numbers of patients from across the Commonwealth.

Being a native of eastern Kentucky where her grandfather owned a clay mine near Morehead, Mrs. Ewalt was aware of the motivations of rural people and their attitudes toward the seriously ill.

"In a culture where individuals seldom reach great heights of recognition, one of the tests of one's greatness lies in the way in which one cares for the sick," she wrote in her research paper.

"When a person gets sick enough to venture 'all the way' to Lexington," she states, "at least one family member will be with them at all times if possible."

That attitude of service to sick relatives has led the site selection committee to look for a house in southcentral Lexington within walking distance of UKMC or on a direct bus line. It will also be necessary for the house to have direct phone lines to the hospitals so that the relatives can be within a moment's notice or they will be hesitant to use the facility.

In her thesis, Mrs. Ewalt recalls meeting in a hospital a young pregnant wife of a seriously ill patient. The wife, she felt, was exemplary of why Hospital Hospitality House was needed. She was sleeping only moments a day in the lounge areas because she could not afford a motel room and because she didn't want to leave the hospital. She was eating snacks and probably not receiving the nutrition she and her unborn baby needed. Her husband was hospitalized for six weeks after which she was near exhaustion.

During the summer of 1980, Mrs. Ewalt, Elizabeth Hartsfield, and Gwen Shaw Mangus, the latter two also of Lexington, formed a non-profit organization and started studying similar guest houses around the U. S.

One that was studied was in Nashville, operated by a church group that had found the need to be greater than it had first calculated. The results of this further research served to reinforce the committee's determination to establish a hospitality house in Lexington.

The non-profit organization was officially chartered December 11, 1980, and progress is coming quickly. A board of directors is being formed, comprised of local business people, representatives of civic groups, and the directors of the five Lexington hospitals involved.

The facility is now in the planning stages and hopefully will be in existence by mid-summer. Armed with a few pledges of financial support, labor and materials, the organization is hurriedly trying to bring the facility into being.

"The future is looking bright," states Mrs. Delabar. "We should be in operation this summer but we still need help from anyone wishing to donate materials or money."

As soon as the Lexington Hospitality House was incorporated, donations began to arrive. Two organizations active in the project have been the Altrusa Club and Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity at UK.

"A man from Somerset, who was here while his wife was in a Lexington hospital, gave up $100 when he heard what we were trying to do. I think that's where most of our support will come from—from people who have been there," Mrs. Delabar continued.

For more information about the Lexington Hospital Hospitality House, write P. O. Box 1516, Lexington, KY 40591.

Seek Sponsors For Summer Food Program

The Kentucky Department of Education is seeking sponsors to operate the 1981 summer food programs in Kentucky.

"People tend to think only of the children in cities and forget the nutritional needs of children in rural areas," said Cooper Whitt, director of the division of school food services. "We would like to see many responses from interested organizations in the rural areas of Kentucky."

The summer food program provides free, nutritious meals to children in needy areas during school vacations that last longer than three weeks. In most areas the program runs from May through September. Eligible children include those through age 18 and certain handicapped students over 18.

Sponsors can be reimbursed for program operating and administrative expense up to the current rates of reimbursement. Administrative costs may include expenses related to planning, organizing and supervising the food service.

Rural sponsors or sponsors preparing meals on site will receive additional administrative money and will be allowed to claim expenses for transporting children in rural areas to designated rural sites.

According to Whitt, sponsors may be public or private, non-profit, non-residential organizations serving areas where at least one-third of the children are eligible for free or reduced-price school lunches. Residential summer camps whose enrollment includes needy children also may act as program sponsors.

Sponsors may include city government agencies, county and municipal school systems, recreation departments, churches and social service organizations.

Sponsors must be non-profit organizations who can show that they are financially and administratively capable of operating the program. Sponsors must agree to ensure that children eat their meals at designated sites, and the meals must meet department nutritional guidelines.

The summer food program began in 1969 to encourage the health and well-being of needy children by extending food assistance into the summer months.

For more information, potential sponsors in Kentucky should contact Pauline Johnson, Division of School Food Services, 17th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 or phone (502) 564-4390.

Roadside Theater Company of Whitesburg, is on the road again, taking their tales of mountain life as far away as Atlanta, Birmingham, Nashville, and Charlottesville, Virginia, as well as throughout Kentucky, during March, April, May and June.

A Floyd county visit has been set for May 30 when the company will perform here. The company, which includes Frankie Taylor, Gary Slemp, Don Baker, Ron Short, Angelyn DeBord Tom Bledsoe, Dudley Cocke and Donna Porterfield, all from mountain communities in Kentucky and Virginia, was founded in 1974.

'We realized that conventional theater seldom came to the back hollows, farm communities and mining camps which made up so much of the Southern Appalachians,' Porterfield said. 'But what we did have was a strong theatrical heritage in our music, church services and storytelling. It seemed that our heritage was being eroded and forgotten, rather than made new.'

On tour, Roadside will perform 'Mountain Tales,' a collection of traditional mountain stories; 'Red Fox/Second Hangin',' about the infamous M. B. 'Doc' Taylor, known in the mountains as the Red Fox, who was accused of murder, pursued, captured, tried and hanged; and 'Brother Jack,' again a collection of tales and songs which takes its name from one of the stories about a coal miner who gave his beloved wife a parrot named Brother Jack.

According to Porterfield, the parrot tale was handed down from a mountain woman, Polly Johnson, who was born during the Civil War and who died in 1947. The Roadside Theater heard her stories through recordings made by WPA during the 1930's.

The three productions feature only three performers each. And the stories are simply done. 'We can play anywhere,' Porterfield said. 'We don't use a stage, costumes or set, so we are very mobile.' Roadside has performed in churches and schools as well as in such well-known theaters as the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and the Manhattan Theater Club, both in New York City.

CONCERNING THE CONSTRUCTION OF A COAL TIPPLE TO BE LOCATED ON ROUTE 80 AT HUEYSVILLE, KENTUCKY

Sierra Coal Company has applied to the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection for a permit to construct a coal tipple to be located on Route 80 at Hueysville, Kentucky.

The application proposes the construction of facilities for receiving, crushing, screening, conveying, and stockpiling coal, and facilities for loading coal railcars. Air pollution control measures proposed by the application include the use of enclosures and wet suppression using high pressure fogging nozzles.

The proposed construction is subject to Standards of Performance for New Stationary Sources and Kentucky Air Pollution Control Regulations for New Source Review of Fugitive Dust Operations. The use of the control technology proposed is considered sufficient to assure that the construction will comply with the requirements of Regulations 401 KAR 59:155 and 401 KAR 63:010. Therefore, a preliminary determination has been made to grant the permit to construct.

Since the Department concluded that the proposed construction would comply with all air pollution control regulation, a preliminary determination to issue a construction permit was made by the Department and a public notice of that preliminary determination was advertised in this newspaper on February 4, 1981. The notice informed the public of the locations where the preliminary determination could be inspected and advised the public that written comments received during the comment period described by the notice would be considered in the Department's final determination to grant or deny a permit to construct.

No written comments were received and the Department has now made a final determination to grant a permit to construct. This final determination is available for public inspection for 30 days following the date of this notice at the following locations:

The FBI Score on Bombings

Bombings in the United States and its territories occurred with nearly the same frequency in 1980 as in 1979, according to preliminary figures released recently by FBI Director William H. Webster. The 1,221 attacks reported in 1980 exceeded the previous year's total by one incident.

Explosives were used in 821 of the incidents reported during 1980, and firebombs were the devices utilized in 400. As a result of the attacks, 34 persons were killed and 154 were injured. Damage to property has been estimated at over $12.3 million.

Marriage Vows Said

Margie Vance Jones, of Columbus, O., formerly of McDowell, was married February 14 to Robert Herman Davis, of Columbus.

The bride is a daughter of the late Jesse and Jane Vance, of McDowell; the groom is a son of Herman and Ruth Davison, of Johnstown, O.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the Columbus Primitive Baptist Church, the Rev. Ruford Howell, formerly of East McDowell, officiating.

The couple will reside at 431 Forest St., Columbus, O.

Geographically, 37 percent of the incidents occurred in the Western region of the nation. The Southern and North Central regions each reported 26 percent of the attacks, and states in the Northeastern region recorded 10 percent. The remaining 1 percent occurred in Puerto Rico.

The most frequent targets of bombings last year were residences, accounting for 31 percent of the incidents. Twenty percent of the attacks were directed at commercial operations, and 19 percent at vehicles. A variety of other targets comprised the remaining 30 percent.

The 34 fatalities resulting from bombings in 1980 represented a 55 percent increase from 1979's total of 22. Nearly half (16) of those killed by bombs that year were themselves perpetrators of the crimes. Fifteen persons who lost their lives were the intended victims, and three were innocent bystanders.

Of the 154 persons injured by bombs, 73 were innocent bystanders, 47 were perpetrators, 31 were intended victims, two were law enforcement officers, and one was a fireman. Fewer personal injuries occurred in 1980 than during the year before, when 173 individuals were hurt.

TAX REFUND CONTRIBUTION

"Do something Wild," the Kentucky Nature Preserves Commission advised and many Kentuckians did.

Commission Director Dan Harker reports he has received enthusiastic responses from across the state for the new tax refund contribution program. "Many citizens have told us they feel this is a convenient means of making a tax-deductible contribution to help preserve our wildlife and natural habitats," he said.

Donations to help support the preservation of non-game wildlife and to purchase and maintain natural areas within Kentucky can be made by designating a portion, or all, of your income tax refund, Harker explains.

"If every citizen gave even one dollar to help preserve Kentucky's natural heritage, the Fish and Wildlife Department would end up with $425,000 for non-game species protection programs and we would have $425,000 to use in purchasing and maintaining natural areas for the enjoyment of all Kentuckians," Harker says.

Advance to State Competition

The Prestonsburg High School Girls Varsity Cheerleaders were chosen Best Girls Varsity Cheerleading Squad in the 15th region last Saturday at Johnson Central High School. The competition is sponsored by KAPOS (Kentucky Association Pep Organization Sponsors).

The girls were first chosen as first place winners in the 58th district and then advanced on to the region-at-large competition. There they competed against all winners and runners up of each district in the 15th region.

The girls were judged on personal appearance, floor cheers, sideline chants, pom pom routines, sportsmanship and pep. Along with being chosen as winners of the 15th region crown they were chosen as the squad with the best floor cheers. This squad was also chosen as first place winner in the Pre-season tournament and the Betsy Layne Invitational tournament this season.

The Prestonsburg High cheerleaders will now advance on to the State-at-large competition in Richmond, Kentucky, Saturday March 28.

How Sweet It Was!

By KENNY RICE

It was pure storybook. Simon Kenton, an unranked team from the only region in the state that had not produced a state champion, wins the Sweet Sixteen in its very first try.

This was a Sweet Sixteen where the unexpected became the expected. Mason County, another unranked club from a lightly regarded region, upset top-ranked Bryan Station on the way to the finals.

Two Cinderellas meeting for the crown on Saturday night at Rupp Arena. No one could lose in the game. Both teams had captured the hearts of the fans. Mason County had a slight edge in rooting from the world record crowd of 21,300, but their 70-63 loss did not diminish their exciting performance throughout the tournament.

No one lost Saturday night, and the winner was Kentucky high school basketball. The Sweet Sixteen of '81 was filled with emotion, it was the epitome of basketball enjoyment. This Sweet Sixteen was unpredictable, well-supported and one of the best in recent years.

"Having Mason County and Simon Kenton in the finals is the best thing to happen to this tournament," McDowell Coach David Turner echoed the thoughts of thousands of fans as he stood in the lobby of the hotel that raises its prices just before the first Sweet Sixteen fan enters the door.

"This tournament was just great, it took the championship away from the big, powerful schools. This year the tournament got out of the city and to the people of the state," French Campbell, of Banner, noted. "The crowds were super and the basketball was very entertaining."

Ray "Shag" Campbell, another veteran of state tourney watching, said, "This tournament reminds me of 1976 when Edmonson County won it all. Both teams in the finals had to fight all the way to get there and they had the support of the fans because everyone knew this was great for basketball. Both teams were crowd favorites. I think Mason was more so, because of their win over Bryan Station, a team most people thought would just about walk through the tournament."

The Sweet Sixteen may be back in Lexington for a while, or at least another year. It is hard to imagine moving the tournament to Louisville when the smallest crowd at a session was over 11,000 and when the final drew more this year than Louisville did in almost three combined.

Lexington is willing to support the tournament. The traffic control this year was much better than in 1979. The only negative point about a Lexington Sweet Sixteen is the monopoly the Hyatt Regency has on hotel accommodations within walking distance to the arena. Their soaring price scale for the tourney and a lack of service after one gets in the room, will change when the new 300-plus-room hotel is completed, just across the street from Rupp.

TOURNEY NOTES

Virgie's showing was impressive and two of their players, Todd May and Rodney Rowe, made the all-tournament team and drew the attention of several college scouts.

Virgie was the first team in 10 years from the 15th Region to get past the first round. The last 15th region team to achieve this was McDowell. Coach Pete Grigsby's team beat Middleboro in the first round and lost to the Jimmy Dan Connor, Anderson County team in overtime of the quarterfinals in 1971.

Bill Hall, of Paintsville, called the championship game of the Sweet Sixteen. Another fine referee who called two championship games in three years at the tourney, Harry Burke was at the tourney. He says he is content in his retirement from refereeing, which is a loss for the game of basketball.

Another ex-ref who always was in position to make the call, Tommy Hall, of Ivel, was at the tourney and he is still in shape to be on top of the play.

Floyd county probably supports the tournament better than any county in the state. If every county backed the Sweet Sixteen like Floyd, there would be 20 or 30 thousand per tournament. Everywhere I went I saw someone from this county.

When Mason County upset Bryan Station, Maytown's 1969 upset of topranked Clark County immediately came to mind.

Ollie Robinson told so many funny stories in the lobby of the Hyatt that the hotel has hired him to entertain three nights a week, but Ollie wanted more money, so....

Stumbo Girls Floyd County Champs

The John M. Stumbo Lady Mustangs have proven unequivocally that they are Floyd county's best by winning the Floyd County Grade School Championship. The Stumbo team, coached by Paul David Tackett, won the title of Floyd County Champions by defeating a fine Garrett team.

The 8th grade members of the team have just completed an outstanding grade school career that culminated in the tournament win. The girls have been fortunate in being members of a winning team throughout their grade school years. They have been an excellent group of dedicated girls willing to put forth the extra effort necessary to become a championship team.

The Stumbo first five consists of eighth graders Lisa Mitchett, starting guard, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mitchell. Lisa has been a member of the team since the fourth grade, has earned five individual trophies, and was the season's high point scorer for the Mustangs. Deana Rogers, starting guard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Azzie Rogers, has been a member of the team for three years and has earned four individual trophies. While being a scoring threat, she also adds speed and defense to the team. Pauletta Hall, starting forward, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall and has been a member of the team for five years and has won 12 individual trophies. Pauletta is well-known for her shooting and assists. Debbie Hall, starting center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hall, has been a member of the team for three years and has earned four individual trophies. Debbie is a good shooter and has developed into a very aggressive rebounder. Lavonne Akers, starting forward, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Akers, Lavonne has played only one year but contributed greatly in the latter part of the season with rebounding and the ability to score.

During the three years these girls have participated at John M. Stumbo Elementary the Mustangs have won the Sectional Tournament three times and have taken the number one spot in 14 separate tournaments. Tournament wins this year include the Martin Invitational, the Inez Invitational, the District IV Tournament and the Floyd County Tournament. In each of the above tournaments the Mustangs have won the free-throw trophy. The Floyd County Tournament free-throw trophy was won by shooting 100% from the free-throw line during the first game.

As a result of the leadership of their coach and the spirit and dedication of a fine group of girls, the Lady Mustangs have never experienced a losing season. During the past six years they have a record of 85 wins—17 losses and have twice been Floyd County Champs. The team record this year was 18-2, among the best records held at Stumbo Elementary.

Bryant Seriously Hurt In Auto Collision Here

Bobby Bryant, 43, of East Point, remained in serious condition this week in a Lexington hospital as a result of injuries sustained in a hit-and-run accident here, March 15.

According to Prestonsburg Police Chief Keith Lawson, the accident occurred on the Ball Alley curve at about 9:15 p.m. as Bryant travelled north. Bryant's car was allegedly "sideswiped" by a southbound vehicle driven by Joann Crider Hunt, 42, of Stratton Branch, near Dewey Lake.

Mrs. Hunt was arrested later that night at her home by Prestonsburg Policeman John Wright and charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Bryant may have been paralyzed as a result of injuries sustained in the accident, it was said.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of John Short Burchett acknowledges with deepest gratitude the kindness of so many upon the death of their loved one. We would especially thank those who sent flowers and food; the Riverview Manor Nursing Home staff for its kindness, Dr. Adams for his care, the ministers, Abe Vanderpool, Henry Crider and Virgil Hunt for their comforting words and the Floyd Funeral Home for its efficient services.

Allen Central Loses Regional

By C. OLLIE ROBINSON and TOMMIE LYNN MAY

The Allen Central Rebelettes were upset by the Sheldon Clark Lady Cardinals last Tuesday night at Belfry by the score of 76 to 72 in an overtime. The Rebelettes went into the semi-final game with a 33 and 1 record. Sheldon Clark took an early 16 to 10 lead, but in the second quarter the Rebelettes fared a little better and trailed at half-time, 32 to 27. In the third quarter the Lady Cardinals went on a couple of scoring sprees and led by as many as 10 points, but in the closing minutes the Rebelettes connected on four free throws and trailed by six points, 54 to 48. In the fourth quarter the Rebelettes continued to cut the lead as "Bucky" Hall connected on a free throw and Kim Shepherd crammed a rebound back in and the Rebelettes trailed, 54 to 52, with 5½ minutes remaining.

Then Kim Shepherd scored and it was 56-all, score. The game was tied again at 64-all. Senior guard Kristi Frye hit on both ends of freeshots and Allen Central got the lead at 70 to 69, but Sheldon Clark then scored six points and led, 76 to 70. Della Scarberry sank one at the buzzer for the Rebelettes but Sheldon Clark won, 76 to 72.

Lori Mills led her team in scoring with 22 points. Angie Fields had 19, Jamie Sizemore 11 and Betty Crum 10.

For Allen Central sophomore Kim Shepherd connected for 22 points. Bucky Hall had 21 and Kristi Frye 18. With the win Sheldon Clark moved into the championship game and defeated the Belfry Lady Pirates, 76 to 50. The Lady Cardinals will play in the girls' state tournament in the Lower Bracket and will play Webster County from the second region tomorrow (Thursday) at EKU Gym at Richmond.

Selected to the all-regional tournament were Kristi Frye, Kim Shepherd and Trena Hensley, all from Allen Central; Lecia Mulkey, from Betsy Layne; Pam Evans, Angie Fields, and Lori Mills, from Sheldon Clark; Tessa Blackburn, Tammy Dearfield and Janice Towles, all from Belfry; Karen Pelphrey, of Johnson Central, and Colletta Jarrell, from Virgie.

The Prestonsburg Blackcat cheerleaders for the girls were selected as the best cheerleaders of the 15th region and will represent this region at the state tournament in Richmond. Members of the cheerleading squad are Paula Spencer, Doris Click, Mary Porter, Johnnie Harris, Rachel Allen, Stephanie Branham, Gina Little, Laura Hereford, Ramona McKinney, and Denise Ousley. Early Road Work on Salt Lick

This old picture of Ellis Conley was taken back in 1936 when the "new" road up Salt Lick Creek, near Hueysville, was being built. Conley is pictured with his mule team, consisting of Barney and Gyp, guiding a slip scraper along the route during construction. The photo was made in the area of the "Yankee" Jack Allen place. Figure barely visible at right is believed to be Fair Hicks, leader of the work. Photo was submitted by Ellis's son, John B. Conley, now of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Kentucky Horse Park Wins Travel Award

The Kentucky Horse Park has been named a second place winner in the 1981 Silver Otter awards, presented by the Guild of Travel Writers in England, for the best and most imaginative travel concept discovered this year by one of its members. The park was nominated by Arthur Eperon, an English travel writer and Guild member who visited Kentucky and the Horse Park last October with a group of British journalists as part of a promotional tour sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Tourism and British Caledonian Airlines.

Eperon, author of "Traveler's France," which spent five weeks on the British best sellers list, said that members of the Guild were asked to look for tourism attractions, projects, or points of interest that are "exceptional contributions" to international tourism.

Rusty Chevront, Horse Park director, said winning the award means a great deal to the park. "We are, of course, very pleased that Mr. Eperon was so impressed with the park that he nominated us. And to place second (to the new Covent Garden in London) is a real honor. We talked with the English journalists during their tour last fall and found them very cordial. We think it's great that they thought enough of us to nominate the park."

Sherman Briscoe, deputy director of the U. S. Travel Service Field Office in London, accepted the award on behalf of the Kentucky Horse Park during the ceremony in London. Briscoe cited Kentucky's pioneering efforts in international tourism development.

The Kentucky Horse Park is on Iron Works Pike at Lexington, near Interstate 75. More information about the park may be obtained by writing Kentucky Horse Park, P. O. Box 11892, Iron Works Pike, Lexington, KY 40511.

HOW TO PRUNE GRAPES

Next summer's grape yield and fruit quality will depend a lot on the pruning vines get this winter—a job that can be done any time during a warm spell or thaw in late February or early March.

Pruning has more effect on grapes than any other practice.

If the vine is not pruned enough it will bear too large a crop and become weakened. Too little pruning year after year results in a relatively unproductive vine that produces low-quality fruit.

Balanced pruning is needed to produce large crops of high-quality fruit and to maintain vines in a healthy condition. You want to achieve a balance between the number of buds and amount of vine.

For balanced pruning of American varieties, follow the general rule of 30 plus 10. This means that 30 buds are left on the vine to balance the first pound of annual wood pruned, and 10 more buds are left for each additional pound of prunings removed.

For French-American hybrids, which tend to over-bear and need to be pruned more, the general rule is 20 plus 10. Leave 20 buds for the first pound of prunings and 10 more buds for each additional pound of wood removed.

Actually weigh the prunings from the first few vines. After you have some experience, you should be able to prune simply by estimating the amount of wood to be removed.

Many systems are used for training grape vines, such as the 4-cane Kniffin, umbrella Kniffin and others. However, balanced pruning should be practiced regardless of the training system.

Best time to prune grapes is in late winter or early spring when there is little chance for more severe cold weather. Pruning any time now during a warm spell or winter thaw in late February or early March.

Don't prune while the wood is frozen because frozen canes are brittle, and working them can damage the vines.

If you don't get the job done by mid-March, it's better to prune late than not at all. There is no evidence that bleeding of sap is harmful when vines are pruned in late spring, but it is best to avoid it by pruning earlier.

The second or third year after grapes are planted, the cutting back of canes should be saved leaving 4 to 6 buds each. Train the canes along the wires in the 4-cane Kniffin system. With the umbrella Kniffin system, canes from the upper part of the vine should be brought up over the top wire, bent down sharply and tied down to the bottom wire. Be sure to leave spurs near the base of the canes for next year's growth.

The fourth year, follow the balanced pruning procedure.

Clusters of grapes develop directly on the fruiting shoots that grow out from the buds left on canes that grew the previous year. For this reason, it is important at pruning time to leave the proper number of buds or nodes to produce the desired yield of grapes.

Most of the American bunch grape varieties—such as Concord and Niagara—bear best when the longer canes are left at pruning time. These vines are most productive when pruned to the 4-cane Kniffin system or umbrella Kniffin system, both of which save long canes at pruning time.

Most french hybrid varieties have their most fruitful buds at the base of year-old canes. Therefore they are usually spur-pruned, cutting back all canes that are retained so that 2 to 4 buds or nodes are left on each cane.

For more information on growing grapes, contact your county Extension office.

START SPRING PEST CONTROL WITH OIL SPRAYS

Homeowners whose trees and plants were plagued by insects during last year's growing season can get a good start on pest control now with dormant oil sprays.

Oil sprays are highly effective insecticides when used properly; otherwise they can cause more harm than good.

Oil sprays are insecticides which contain petroleum as the principle active ingredient. They are known as dormant oils. Volck oils, summer oils or superior oils. Some can be used safely only when plants are dormant—thus the name—while others can be used when plants are in foliage.

Dormant sprays are very effective in fall or early spring for control of scale insects, aphid eggs, European red mites and eriophyid mites that overwinter on fruit trees and ornamentals. Oil sprays are not effective, however, on two-spotted spider mites that hibernate in ground litter.

Oil sprays kill primarily by putting a suffocating layer over insects on trees and plants. They kill pests at all stages of development, so timing of the spray to coincide with a vulnerable stage of the pest is not as critical as it is with summer insecticide sprays.

Sometimes the dormant spray is so effective that summer insecticides are not needed. And since the insecticides do not remain on the plant, they do not harm beneficial insects that come to the plant later in the season.

But oil sprays can poison plants under certain conditions so homeowners must use them cautiously.

Oil sprays should not be used during or within 24 hours of freezing temperatures. Dormant sprays must be used only when the plant is strictly dormant, or the spray may scald new twigs. A small tree or plant with severe chemical burns may not recover.

Summer oils can be used after plants and trees start to bud. For summer spraying, oils should not be used when temperatures are above 90 degrees or when plants are drought-stressed.

Homeowners should not use oil sprays 30 days before or after sulphur treatments. Oil sprays are not compatible with a number of insecticides and fungicides; if they are mixed they can poison plants and clog spray equipment.

Some oil-sensitive plants—blue spruce, certain maples and several ornamentals—should never be treated with oil sprays. They can be injured even if all other precautions are taken. Other plants are sensitive only under certain weather conditions.

To avoid costly mistakes, homeowners should read product labels carefully. Labels list when a particular oil spray can be used safely and on which plants and trees.

Oil sprays should be applied with a low-pressure sprayer, a two-gallon size, in a coarse spray over the entire tree to the point of run-off.

Oil spray users should take care not to spray buildings or cars, as oils will cause spotting, and not to contaminate animals or wildlife. Oils are biodegradable, and are less toxic to humans and wildlife than are most other insecticides.

Ask Volunteers For Flash Flood Warning System

The water won't be any lower because of their efforts, but the National Weather Service and the National Flash Flood Program are hoping that residents in this area and other parts of Kentucky who are endangered by seasonal flash floods may at least have as much advance warning at these times as possible.

Three automated rain gauges have already been installed in this county, and four more are scheduled to be installed this spring. In addition, the federal government is presently in the process of giving the state a computerized communications system for flood information exchange. The state, in turn, will distribute the equipment to this and other counties.

Volunteer observers are now being sought to man the manual weather observation system which will complement the network of automated rain gauges planned for this county. In addition, a volunteer is also needed to act as coordinator of the warning system. The coordinator's duties will include supervision of the manual observation system as well as working closely with the National Weather Service and with personnel in the Civil Defense organization of the county. This work might appeal to a retired person, but anyone who is interested is urged to apply.

Rain gauges and training for all volunteers will be furnished by the National Weather Service, and those who are interested may call 1-800-292-5588, toll free, or may write to Joe Guinan, National Weather Service, P. O. Box 21256, Louisville, Ky. 40221.

In 1978, about 60 percent of the black and Hispanic families maintained by women with children were living below the poverty level compared with only 34 percent of white families, according to "Perspectives on Working Women: A Databook," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Manage Natural Resources Here

The board is made up of local people and is charged with responsibility for managing all the county's natural resources. If you have a problem managing your land, contact the Conservation District. Trained professional soil conservationists are on hand to help. The office is located with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Prestonsburg.

Saving Energy in the Home

Energy Management Assistance Program Eastern Kentucky University

Energy in the kitchen, laundry and bath is often consumed unnecessarily. It is in these household operations where waste is often found, and where you can save considerable amounts of energy and reduce family expenses.

In the kitchen you can save energy by:

Using cold water rather than hot to operate your food disposal. This saves energy needed to heat the water and also helps solidify grease which can be ground up and washed away.

Never boiling water in an open pan. Water boils faster in a covered pan.

Keeping range-top burners and reflectors clean to reflect heat better.

Matching the size of the pan to the heating element. More heat will get to the pan; less heat will be lost to surrounding air.

Using the oven to cook as many portions at one time as you can.

Use the dishwasher sparingly. The average dishwasher uses 14 gallons of hot water per load. If every dishwasher user in the country cuts out just one load a week, the equivalent of about 9,000 barrels of oil each day could be saved.

Scrape dishes before loading them in the washer. Pre-rinse dishes in cold water.

Make sure that your dishwasher is full but not overloaded.

Let your dishes air dry. After the final rinse, turn off the dishwasher and open the door.

To conserve energy with your refrigerator/freezer, follow these energy saving tips:

Don't keep your refrigerator or freezer too cold. The temperature in your refrigerator should be set at 38-40 degrees and the freezer about 5 degrees.

Regularly defrost manual-defrost

Next "Mystery!" May Be Odds-ON Favorite

Once a champion jockey, private detective Sid Halley (portrayed by Mike Gwilym) is now intent on outmaneuvering racetrack swindlers, crooks and thugs who refuse to play by the rules in "The Racing Game," part of the "Mystery!" series airing Tuesdays at 10 p.m. on KET.

In the premiere episode, "Needle," on March 31, Sid is hired by a nervous horse trainer to keep an eye on his horse Top Boy, a favored contender in an upcoming feature race. Sid puts a guard on the stables, but the security man ends up unconscious in the hospital. Drug tests on the horse prove negative, yet an empty, used hypodermic is Sid's only clue to what has occurred.

In the April 7 episode, "Horses For Courses," Sid is joined by his loyal sidekick Chico Barnes (played by Mick Ford) in an investigation of a scheme to defraud racetrack bookmakers that involves bribery, double cross and murder. Next on April 14, Sid and Chico try to crack the case of a missing celebrity horse on "Horsenap," but quickly discover a cash ransom isn't the reason behind this crime.

"The Racing Game," a presentation of WGBH, Boston, is based on the fiction of Dick Francis. Francis, a former British champion steeplechase jockey turned racing columnist for the Sunday Express, has written 18 detective novels about racing.

"The Racing Game" is repeated Saturday at 10 p.m.

Scientists Study Secrets of Long Life

By David Williamson

The 101-year-old man complained to his doctor about a pain in his left leg.

"Well," said the physician, "what can you expect at your age?"

"But doctor, my right leg is also 101, and it doesn't hurt a bit," the man replied.

Like that patient's sore leg, the physical and mental problems of the very old are often dismissed as simply the infirmities of age, says Dr. Erdman Palmore, professor of medical sociology at Duke University Medical Center.

But the very old deserve closer attention for a number of reasons, Palmore says.

"First of all, they are members of a kind of elite group—the survivors who have outlived their life expectancy, and so by definition, they are superior individuals," he says. "On the other hand, disability tends to increase rapidly within that age group, and the very old require a disproportionately large share of the medical and service resources of this country."

Palmore and two of his colleagues, Drs. Hsioh-Shan Wang and John Nowlin, are beginning a five-year study of the very old in an effort to learn more about them in illness and health.

The research, supported by a

$555,000 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, will compare the factors that have led to mental illness among the "old-old" with factors contributing to mental well being.

The project also will examine the effects of mental illness and normal aging on the physical, mental and social processes of growing old.

A third goal is to try to determine how potentially helpful family and social supports vary depending on the nature and duration of mental disorders.

"By studying long-lived individuals, we should be able to learn something useful about survival," Palmore says. "We also hope to learn how to provide better medical and psychiatric services for those who need them and perhaps how to offer preventive services more efficiently for those who are not yet disabled."

The study will evaluate some 300-400 men and women over the ages of 72 and 78, respectively.

"The ultimate goal is to save money by reducing the need for medical, psychiatric and institutional care," he says. "We plan to disseminate the information we develop as widely as possible through government and private agencies concerned with prevention and treatment of psychiatric problems."

The volunteers will be Durham County residents who participated in a "Community Survey of the Aged" that the Aging Center's Older Americans Resources and Services (OARS) program sponsored in 1972. That survey recorded information on mental and physical health, families, lifestyles and interaction with the community.

Each participant will receive a free, comprehensive physical examination and at least two annual follow-up exams. Among the tests will be an electrocardiogram, a urinalysis, an audiogram to test hearing and a blood sample analysis.

There also will be a five-part psychiatric evaluation of the volunteers and interviews with members of their families.

"Those who lack adequate social support from family and friends are believed to be at the highest risk of mental illness, institutionalization and death," Palmore says. "We want to discover if that is true and to learn how to increase social support."

The sociologist says that surprisingly, very old people almost never go to outpatient clinics or to private psychiatrists for mental health problems. Instead, they or their families let these problems grow until the person must be hospitalized.

"We don't know why this is, but we suspect it may be from fear, ignorance or the mistaken idea that a certain amount of senility is normal in later life," he explains. "We feel the term senility should be scrapped because it is only applied to people over age 65."

"Our point is that with younger people, a problem is not considered hopeless until everything has been tried, whereas with old people there is often the belief that nothing can be done," Palmore says. "We often find that in so-called 'hopeless' cases, much can be done to arrest or even reverse mental illness among the aged."

The new research is the third major study of aging to be undertaken at Duke since the Aging Center was established in 1955. Dr. Ewald W. Busse, now dean of medical and allied health education at Duke, designed the first two.

The initial study, which lasted 23 years, followed the general physical, mental and social processes of aging among 270 Durham citizens who were between 60 and 94 when the work began.

Chattanooga Is New Mecca For Railroad Attractions

The National Model Railroad Association has selected Chattanooga as the site of its world headquarters and museum. Chattanooga won out in competition among a dozen cities seeking to be the location of the AMRA headquarters.

Robert Elmore, President of the Chattanooga Area Convention & Visitors Bureau says the headquarters location near the Tennessee Valley Railroad Museum adds an important new "train-buff" attraction for the 12 million people who visit Chattanooga annually. "Chattanooga," he says, "is a city that is not only rich in railroad history, but today probably has more railroad tourist attractions than any other community in the country."

Here you can re-capture the flavor of an era, when railroading was in its heyday, by visiting some of these major railroad attractions:

TENNESSEE VALLEY RAILROAD MUSEUM—An authentic 1920's train depot, reconstructed from abandoned depots throughout the Southeast, just dedicated and opened to the public in March, 1980, is the newest addition to their facilities. Visitors can take a 45-minute trip through a 960' long Civil War tunnel on a steam powered passenger train and examine an impressive collection of railroad equipment from the "Golden Age of Steam."

CHATTANOOGA CHOO-CHOO COMPLEX—Visitors can dine in the restored turn-of-the-century Southern Railroad Terminal Station, sleep aboard a Victorian-style decorated parlor car and ride around the complex, which contains many 1900 era shops and restaurants, on a 1918 trolley car.

WORLD'S LARGEST HO GAUGE MODEL RAILROAD—This working display, located at the Choo-Choo Complex, features more than 3,000 feet of track and is a scale model of Chattanooga, at the height of the railroad era.

INCLINE RAILWAY—The world's steepest and safest incline reaches a grade of 72.7 percent, where you can ride straight up the side of historic Lookout Mountain.

Ground-breaking on the National Model Railroad Association's Headquarters and Museum, designed on a railroad depot motif, will be in late summer. The new building, expected to open in 1981, will hold administrative offices, a museum about the development of model railroads and a reference library and archives on railroading.

Members of the public may obtain brochures, free of charge, on these attractions by writing to "Chattanooga Train Buff Brochures," Suite 2100, 733 Third Avenue, New York, New York 10017.

Auto Tips For Summer

Everything about a summer vacation costs more this year, but the wise traveler will not yield to the temptation to scrimp on car care in an effort to stretch funds for meals, lodging and entertainment. Delays and frustrations en route to the vacation site are only two possible results of such misguided economy; a far more serious consideration is the jeopardy in which passenger safety is placed if needed maintenance is postponed and recommended equipment neglected.

All the car's systems should receive a thorough inspection at least a week before departure, advises the Better Business Bureau, paying particular attention to:

Brakes. Is the lining thick enough to last the duration of the trip?

Transmission. Is the fluid level correct?

Tires. Are treads wearing evenly? Are there any cracks or cuts in the treads or sidewalls?

Lights. Do all operate, including signals? Are headlights focused?

Shock absorbers and suspension. Is any leakage apparent from the shocks?

Wheel alignment and balance. Does the car vibrate at highway speeds?

Engine. Will elapsed mileage necessitate an oil change, filter change, or lubrication during the trip?

Cooling system. Are hoses and fittings leak and crack-free? Are fanbelts tight and in good condition? Do the thermostat and water pump work properly?

A vehicle that will be towing a trailer in mountainous or desert areas will benefit from a separate transmission cooler and in very heavy use conditions, an engine oil cooler.

Car Trouble Away From Home?

• Call a repair dealer or garage, preferably one that sells or is otherwise familiar with your make of car.

• If the car must be towed, don't necessarily take the first truck that shows up, and don't be talked into having the car towed to a repair shop recommended by the tow-truck operator. Some unscrupulous towing companies monitor police radio calls, go to the scene of disabled cars, and make their money from kickbacks paid by repair dealers whom they recommend to the car owners.

• If the garage suggests that the car needs major repairs, try to put them off if possible until the car can be taken home.

• If at all possible, stay with the car and watch what the mechanic does.

Tram Bridge Plans Submitted for Approval

Plans for the Tram bridge have been submitted by the state Department of Transportation for approval of the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard. The two-lane fixed highway bridge would replace an existing substandard one-lane bridge now located a short distance downstream which would be removed once the new bridge is constructed.

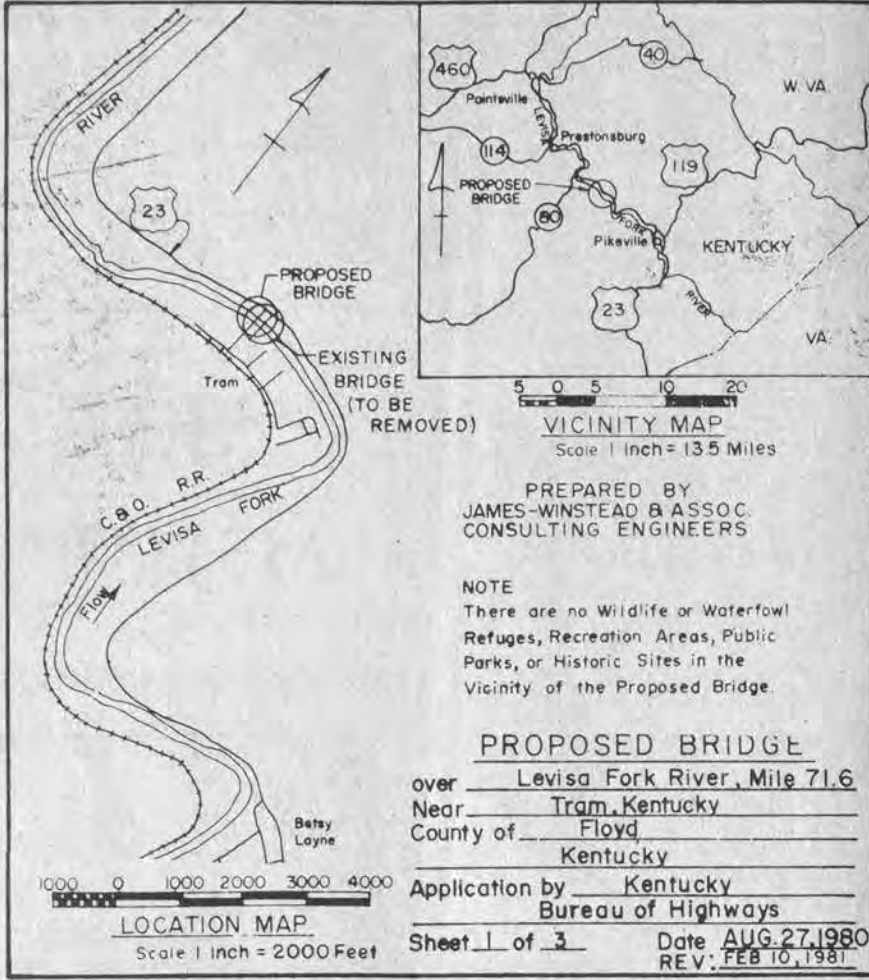

In addition to the new bridge, plans provide for construction of a temporary, low level bridge to accommodate heavy construction equipment. The construction of the low level bridge will be at the option of the successful bidder for the contract.

The permanent two-lane bridge plans provide the following clearances for navigation:

Horizontal clearance as measured at right angles to the flow of the river at water stages will be 100 feet. Minimum vertical clearance for the mid-100 feet of the channel span above elevation 612.0 feet, low water, will be 42.7 feet. The minimum low steel will be located about 7.4 feet below the 1957 highwater level.

The project will require approximately 1,360 cubic yards of temporary fill in the base flood plain, and it is said that no excavation will be required.

The accompanying map shows the location of both the old and the proposed bridge.

Civilians To Replace Troopers As Examiners

The Kentucky State Police is completing plans to replace the 72 trooper-examiners who are now performing driver testing and to hire civilians in their stead.

The first of the new civilian examiners who will be included in a class of about 25 are expected to begin their training sometime within the next 60 days under a plan which calls for a gradual phasing-in process which will result in all of the 72 troopers being replaced in driver testing by the first of next year.

Civilians will be hired, trained and supervised on the job by Kentucky State Police troopers.

The plan requires that every new civilian examiner successfully complete a period of formal training of about two to three weeks' duration at the Kentucky State Police Academy before being sent into the field. Once in the field, the new examiners will be required to work at least two weeks under the supervision of a trooper before going out on their own.

Job qualifications are still under discussion, but it is believed that each applicant will be required to have a good driving record and have no disabilities which might impair their ability to administer on-the-road driving examinations. The proposed starting salary for the positions is approximately $950 per month.

Pharmacy Footnotes

by HAROLD COOLEY

It is estimated that the common cold costs America more than $5 billion a year in expended wages and medical expenses. Americans spend approximately $660 million a year on cold and cough remedies. Researchers are really not sure which ones work, except from personal experience, because doctors are really not quite sure what causes colds. Symptoms are better known than causes or cures. Scientists do know that they can be caused by one of about 100 viruses and the number keeps growing.

Here at COOLEY APOTHECARY, we carry a good selection of non-prescription health items including cold and cough remedies and home first aid supplies. We are your one-stop pharmacy, small enough to know you and large enough to serve you. We want to be your pharmacist. Have your physician call in your next prescription, and we will have it ready for you, with no waiting. We're at 2 Town Center Bldg. 886-8166. Mon.-Fri., 9-5:30, Sat., 9-5.

Information on how to complete a Federal tax return is available at local libraries on audio cassette tapes prepared by the Internal Revenue Service. The tapes allow individuals to listen to step-by-step instructions on how to prepare IRS Form 1040A and Form 1040, as well as Schedules A and B while working on their return.

Local public library branches usually offer the free tapes through the traditional book loan procedure. This procedure permits interested taxpayers to use the cassettes at the library or to take them home if they have access to a standard cassette tape player.

To make the best use of the tapes, users should have their tax forms and instructions available to work on while playing the tape. If needed, forms and instructions can be obtained by using the order blank in their tax package or by calling IRS at 584-1361 in Louisville, 628-0055 in Covington, 255-2333 in Lexington, or 1-800-428-9100 elsewhere in Kentucky (toll-free).

Wolfe county was named for Nathaniel Wolfe, 1810-1865, a native of Virginia and reported to be the first graduate of the University of Virginia.

★ KENTUCKY AFIELD ★

By JOHN WILSON
 That April 15 tax deadline is creeping closer every day, so those of us who put things off until the last minute are going to have to get busy soon.

But in the rush to get your returns in the mail before the deadline, don't overlook line 20 on your Kentucky income tax return. This line gives you the opportunity to contribute a portion of your refund to wildlife.

The money donated from these refunds will be divided equally between the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and the Nature Preserves Commission. The money is to be used only for non-game wildlife—those species not sought by hunters.

The fish and wildlife department's share goes into a special "non-game wildlife fund" and will be earmarked for research and management of non-game species. The Nature Preserves Commission will use its share in its program to acquire and protect significant natural areas.

The contributions will reduce your refund by the amount you contribute, but may be deducted from next year's taxes the same as any other charitable contribution.

Because almost all funding for wildlife programs has come from sportsmen (through the sale of hunting and fishing licenses) most of the attention has been devoted to game species.

Sportsmen's dollars have financed the development of scientific wildlife research and management, disciplines which did not exist 50 years ago.

Today we have the techniques for doing effective research and management on non-game species. What is lacking more than anything else is money. With inflation eating into governmental as well as private budgets, it's impossible for sportsmen to continue to finance all the wildlife work and habitat acquisition that needs to be done.

So we are asking for donations from the rest of Kentuckians (at least those who get state income tax refunds). Kentucky has a wonderful diversity of wildlife, one which you can help preserve for future generations by giving a little of your tax refund.

So don't overlook line 20—and if you have your taxes prepared by someone else, be sure to tell the preparer you want to "do something wild" by contributing to this worthwhile cause.

Floyd Extension Agents Recognized

John Sparks, Jack Friar and Frances Pitts, Floyd county extension agents, have received the second place Activities Award for developing a home gardening program.

The award, presented by the Kentucky Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, The National Extension Honorary Fraternity, cited the trio for special efforts with low income families in a home gardening and food preservation program as income supplement.

The enrollment of 384 families during the past four years has resulted in development of a farmers' market for produce and provided vegetables for 30 4-H youth to prepare for a vegetable judging program held at Quicksand.

Another home grown food program for 4-H youth included the windowsill garden project in which 72 youth participated. This activity was designed for those not having enough space for a home garden.

The award was presented at the annual meeting of the fraternity on the UK campus in Lexington.

To Wed June 20

Larry and Betty Baldrige Schuster, of Abbott Creek, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Kelley Joanne Lindsay, to Keith Allen Daniels, son of Jon and Carol Daniels, of Kingston, Washington. A June 20th wedding is planned in Seattle, Washington.

Miss Lindsay is a senior at Prestonsburg High School and a part-time student at Prestonsburg Community College. Mr. Daniels is currently employed at Kingston Lumber Company in Kingston, Washington.

After the wedding and a reception in Seattle, the couple will leave for a two-week honeymoon on the Oregon coast. They will reside in Kingston, Washington.

Dollhouses Shown At Original Home

The Cornelia Vanderbilt Whitney Dollhouses will go on display to the public April 24, 25 and 26 in their original home at the C. V. Whitney Farm, Bryan Station Road.

Four dollhouses make up the famous collection, each one an exact replica of a real building on the C. V. Whitney thoroughbred horse farm on the Paris Pike in Lexington. Included are the main house, guest house, Roman atrium and art studio.

The dollhouses were the project of Mrs. C. V. Whitney, her daughter Cornelia, and a group of workmen at the farm who meticulously handcrafted the buildings and many items of miniature furnishings. They were constructed over a seven-year period.

Caretaker Jouett Redmon, also a talented artist, was in charge of the dollhouse workers.

The main house is a reproduction of Maple Hill, the 200-year-old farmhouse that was saved from an advanced state of destruction by Mrs. Whitney, who oversaw its restoration.

The Maple Hill dollhouse is faithful to the smallest detail. There are miniature books in the library, oil paintings done by hand on linen, parquet flooring, and handmade sterling silver mint julep cups on a silver tray.

The facade of the house can be lifted automatically to give viewers a close look at room interiors.

All four structures were built on a scale of one inch equals one foot. This makes the main house approximately six by eight feet, and over three feet high. The dollhouses will be viewed in the building in which they were originally assembled.

The dollhouses have been on display in such cities as New York, Chicago, Nashville, Louisville, Jacksonville, Palm Beach, Saratoga Springs, and Lexington, raising over one-half million dollars for charity.

Though the C. V. Whitney Farm will be their permanent home, the dollhouses will be put on special display on April 24, 25 and 26 for the benefit of the Ephraim McDowell Cancer Center.

For Mrs. Whitney, the dollhouse project was the stimulus for a book she wrote which traces the history of the families who lived at Maple Hill. Entitled "Cornelia Vanderbilt Whitney's Dollhouse," the book also describes in considerable detail the furnishings of the dollhouse. It is now in its third printing.

Alice Lloyd Art Show Opens Today

Alice Lloyd College will open its Second Annual Art Exhibition on Tuesday evening, March 31, with a reception for the public at 6:30 in the Red Bud Gallery of the June Buchanan Alumni Center.

This year 233 artists from 42 states submitted 650 items to the competition, and the juror, Mr. David Routon, Associate Professor of Art at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, chose 52 artists for the show.

Professor Routon said he believed his final choices constituted a strong exhibition, communicating the creative values with which American artists are approaching aesthetic situations.

The Red Bud Gallery is open from 12-3 p.m. Monday through Friday, and the Second Annual will be on view until April 24.

JOB OPENINGS NOTICE

The Prestonsburg Park Commission is now taking job applications for the following positions:

Swimming pool manager, swimming pool instructors, full and part-time lifeguards. All applicants must have a current advanced lifesaving certificate. Applications are available at Archer Park Office. Deadline for applications, April 15, 1981.

Annette O'Toole (left) plays country music star Tammy Wynette (right) in 'Stand By Your Man,' a new motion picture-for-television based on Miss Wynette's autobiography, to be presented on 'The CBS Tuesday Night Movies,' TUESDAY, MARCH 31.

Miss Wynette began life in the rural South, worked in the cotton fields as a small child, survived recurrent illness, shock therapy and four disastrous marriages and raised four daughters while fighting for the break that led, finally, to her steady climb to the top of the music charts and an enduring place as a First Lady of country music.

Tim McIntire is seen as country music star George Jones, Miss Wynette's childhood idol who later became her husband.

Dolly Parton's sore throat forced her to cancel the final week of her smash engagement at the Riviera Hotel, but she sees it as a "very positive thing." Unable to speak when she awoke, she was ordered to keep absolutely quiet for two weeks until the full extent of her illness could be determined. The Riviera immediately called in Rich Little and Buddy Greco to complete the engagement.

Minutes before she checked out of the hotel, Dolly scribbled a note to Entertainment Director 'Tony' Zoppi. "I'm sorry to have to leave the show this early," she wrote. "It's a very positive thing and I just got caught with my throat already down from too much work and planning. I will be in good shape next time and we will kill this town. It will be fine—I promise."

MY FATHER, THE CIRCUS KING

Gunther Gebel-Williams, superstar of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, teaches son Buffy, 10, how to ride the giraffe, Dickie, for a new circus act in the non-fiction Project Peacock special, 'My Father, the Circus King,' THURSDAY, APRIL 2 on NBC-TV.

The program follows the father-and-son team through the daily life of the Circus. Segments depict Circus audiences cheering Buffy as he rides Roman-post style on a pair of elephants under the watchful eye of his father; grueling practice sessions with skittish new animals; and, in serene contrast, quiet moments backstage in the family trailer with wife and mother Sigrid and lovely Tina, 17, Buffy's sister.
