

1 Dead, Six Hurt As Boats Crash

Probe Continues After Collision On Dewey Lake

A Paintsville man was drowned and the lives of six others endangered when two boats collided on Dewey Lake last Sunday afternoon.

Robert Clayton (Gunny) Montgomery, 23, was the victim of the boating accident which took place in the area near the Clark Branch arm of the reservoir, approximately two miles upstream from the Jenny Wiley Boat Dock.

All eight occupants of the two boats were thrown into the water and the seven survivors were taken to the Highlands Medical Center. Most seriously hurt was Mrs. Connie Young Montgomery, wife of the victim, who was transferred to a Lexington hospital when it was feared she had suffered a concussion. She was permitted to leave that hospital Monday, however, and return home.

Collision of the two boats—one powered by a 115-horsepower motor and the other by a motor of 140 horsepower—occurred at about 3 p.m. The boat in which Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery and Miss Elizabeth Stacey were passengers was operated by Billy Branham, of Paintsville, son of the owner of the craft. The second boat was operated by Allen Howell, of McDowell, who had with him his wife, Lana Marie, and their daughter, Rachel.

Coroner Roger Nelson said he was told by Johnny Brashear, water safety officer for the Kentucky State Police, that Branham apparently was running his boat downstream on his side of the lake at the time of the collision with the oncoming Howell boat. Most of those involved wore life jackets, but Montgomery did not.

Montgomery, however, was a strong swimmer and a former part-time lifeguard, and it is believed he was knocked unconscious by the impact. The side of the boat he occupied was ripped out. Severe damage resulted to the side and bottom of the second boat.

Prater Cr. Need Of Water Cited

The recently-formed Prater Creek Water Committee has called on the state Public Service Commission for authority to make application for the founding of the Prater Creek Water District.

In its application to PSC the committee pointed out that the water district, if established, would provide "critical" needed potable water "to approximately 350 households initially, with a growth potential of 100% in the following five years."

Members of the committee are Ervin Akers, Benjamin Akers, Don Wallen, Clinton Akers and James Click.

They pointed out to PSC the "dramatic increase in mining" in the area and the near-doubling of the community's population, coupled with the generally poor ground water quality and the effect of increased mining on water availability, "demands that we take action immediately to develop a comprehensive public water service system."

The fact that the Prestonsburg Utilities Commission already has an eight-inch water transmission line passing the mouth of Prater Creek also was cited. The Prater Creek group proposes to buy water from this system after completing its distribution lines. It also was indicated that future acquisition of the distribution system by Prestonsburg would be possible.

Wallen Slaying Trial Begins Tuesday in Circuit Court Here

A Circuit Court jury here began yesterday (Tuesday) to hear evidence in the murder trial of Otis Lee Wallen, 43, who is accused of the shotgun slaying of his neighbor, Paul Edward Mullins, on Town Branch in February last year.

In his opening statement, Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen told the jury the evidence would show the two men had been drinking together the day of the shooting, had separated briefly, and that Wallen again met Mullins around 7:30 p.m. and shot him in the abdomen without provocation.

BAREFOOT DAY

May 1, May Day, is more than a mere date on the calendar.

The maypole still exists and children skipped around it, this May Day, as they have for years beyond our ken. In Russia the usual display of armed might featured May Day. And at Churchill Downs this year the Kentucky Derby was run on May 1.

Another important event at one time traditionally belonged to the day, and, since it hasn't affected me for several years now, I wonder if it's still a part of life in these parts. May 1, you see, was at one time official Barefoot Day, the day when mothers turned the young 'uns out, at last, to go barefoot.

Youngsters still shed their shoes—mainly, around swimming pools—but they know nothing of the joy of going barefoot in the country, of walking a dirt road deep in dust, of dust whooshing up between tender toes.

Time is not only the great healer; it also is the great romanticizer. We, young and old, now howl our heads off about our unsurfaced roads, but an old wagon trail, rough, dusty, its pall of dust hanging over and clinging to everything, looks mighty good, viewed through the rose-tinted glasses of time.

Woman on Way To Church Dies In 2-Car Crash

An East Point woman, traveling the Left Beaver Creek road (KY 122) last Thursday night to the church where the body of her uncle lay in state, was killed and the driver of a second vehicle seriously injured in a collision at McDowell.

State Trooper Terry Hall, who investigated the accident, said Parcelle Collins, 39, was killed after the car she was driving was struck by a pickup truck driven by Barry Moore, 21, of Minnie. Trooper Hall said the pickup, heading north (toward Martin), rounded a curve and apparently swerved into the opposite lane of traffic and in the path of the Collins car. The accident occurred at about 9:20, it was said.

Moore suffered a broken leg and internal injuries, it was reported, and remains in serious condition at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital. A passenger in the pickup, Luther Keenes, of Minnie, was treated and released from the hospital. Mrs. Collins' daughter, Reanota Robinson, 21, and two of Mrs. Robinson's children, nine-month-old Robert and Mindy, 3, were also injured in the crash and

Union Drops Plan For Poll of Nurses

A scheduled election by Highlands Hospital nurses to decide if they wanted union representation has been cancelled.

The election, which was to have been conducted for the hospital's registered nurses, by the National Labor Relations Board last Thursday, was called off at the request of officials of District 1199, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees.

According to a letter to the nurses from the union's business agent, the cancellation was sought because "it was apparent at this point in time that a majority of registered nurses at HRMC do not want to have an organization for purposes of collective bargaining."

The NLRB approved the union's decision to withdraw the election petition.

Turner Says Assault Should Be Charged

When drunk drivers cause accidents that result in injury they should be charged with assault, Floyd County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. recommended in a letter to law enforcement officers last week.

In his April 28 letter to Capt. Morgan Elkins, of the state police post in Pikeville, and to Floyd County Sheriff Henry C. Hale, Turner said his office has been "looking for a more effective way of dealing with (drunk drivers) under the current law."

Because of the failure of the proposed "slammer bill" in the recent legislative session, the imposition of a fine is generally the only punishment that can be meted out to first offenders convicted of driving under the influence (DUI), Turner noted. However, when a drunk driver causes an accident in which someone is injured, the driver should be charged not only with DUI but also with assault in the third degree, he said.

A conviction on the assault charge would carry a possible $500 fine and one-year pen term.

Turner said he believed "an immediate impact could be felt" by use of the assault charge, indicating that his office has already begun to try to have the charge added where it seems justified.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson said this week that the sheriff's department "concur 100 percent" with the county attorney. "Drunk drivers should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law," he said. State Police Captain Elkins is away on vacation and could not be reached for comment on the proposal.

Turner's proposal coincided with the announcement last week of a grant

Effective Date Of Higher Rates Set October 1

Prestonsburg gas users and all others affected by the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company's proposed rate increase may have won at least temporary relief from the threat of doubled gas bills.

The temporary victory came last week when the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) sustained the motion filed by the Prestonsburg Gas Consumers Association April 19, protesting the proposed 116% rate increase and asking that its effective date be delayed.

Barkley J. Sturgill, attorney for the gas consumers here, said FERC last week delayed effective date of the increase till October 1. The raise was originally scheduled to take effect May 1.

In the meantime, Sturgill said, it is hoped that full-scale hearings will be held before the FERC in Washington, with consumers trying to prove their contention that the rate jump is not justified.

"It's a complex case, and we'll be breaking new ground, but a hearing would give us a chance," the attorney said. While a public hearing is being sought the FERC itself has appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court the Fifth Circuit Court opinion in the Louisiana case which opened the way for the big increase, in the first place.

Bill H. Howard, superintendent of the Prestonsburg Utilities Commission's gas and water systems, said he could not say that the delay order by FERC will mean that increased rates set by the commission to meet the new rates imposed by Kentucky West Virginia will be delayed till Oct. 1.

"What we must first learn," he said, "is this: Will the new rates be retroactive if, after Oct. 1, the rate increase is upheld?"

Damage by Vandals Estimated at $6,950

Vandals struck the Ken Isaacs dealership here early Monday morning, damaging a van and 10 cars.

Prestonsburg policeman Gregory Hall, who is investigating the incident, said the autos had been scratched, apparently with a sharp metal instrument, and that tires on the vehicles were slashed or punctured. Seven of the damaged cars were "brand new." The incident is thought to have occurred between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m. The scratch marks cut through dew that had settled on the cars earlier that night, Hall noted.

Ken Isaacs, proprietor, estimated damage at $6,950. Several suspects are being questioned, it was said.

Federal Report Blames Blasts On Illegal Mining Practices

Many illegal mining practices helped cause the explosions that killed seven men in a Mink Branch mine in January and eight in a mine near Topmost the month before, according to government reports issued last Friday.

Soon after the disasters, Kentucky Mines and Minerals Commissioner Willard Stanley cited sloppy mining practices at the sites, drawing an angry response from some of the victims' families. Last week's findings by the U.S. Mine Safety and Health Administration reinforce his assessment, however.

According to the MSHA report, four factors contributed to the January 20 blast at the R.F.H. No. 1 mine at Craynor: the absence or inadequate use of water, ventilation curtains, rock dust and cleanups.

Miners are required to use water or rock dust to settle highly-volatile coal dust and to clean up accumulations of the dust. Ventilation curtains should be used to help remove coal dust suspended in the blasting area.

Although it was not listed as a contributing factor, investigators said they found a number of charged and unstemmed blasting holes in the R.F.H. mine with 4.8 to 7.2 pounds of explosives in each one. Moreover, explosives were improperly stored there, they said.

Federal regulations permit a maximum of three pounds of explosives in the blasting holes and require the use of at least 24 inches of incombustible stemming material, which is designed to confine the blast to the holes.

Contributing to the blast at the Adkins Coal Co. mine in Knott county on December 7, according to the MSHA report, were six factors: blasting holes were packed with about six pounds of explosives; stemming was not used; neither water nor rock dust was applied to the coal dust; coal dust was allowed to accumulate in depths from one to four inches; and ventilation curtains were not used.

As in the case of the R.F.H. mine, investigators said storage requirements for explosives were not adhered to at the Adkins mine. Citations for the alleged violations there were issued in March, most of which are being contested by the coal company.

Tests from samples of clothing, hats and lunch buckets used by the Adkins miners indicated that the temperature reached 553 degrees in the area of the explosion. Nor did the dead miners receive any help from their self-rescue devices. All died of carbon monoxide poisoning and in seven instances the device was either still on the victim's belt or near the body. In the eighth case, the device was found away from the body with its top off, investigators concluding that it was blown there by the explosion.

Five of the R.F.H. victims died of carbon monoxide poisoning and two from the force of the explosion. Except in one instance, where it was not clear whether the device had been used or not, the miners' self-rescue devices had not been used.

Smoking materials, including cigarette butts, were found in both mines, contrary to regulations, but investigators said they did not consider smoking a factor in either accident.

Termite Season Is Here

Some swarming insects which homeowners are noticing with the onset of warmer weather may simply be nuisances, but others could signal a serious problem.

"As the weather gets warmer, more and more overwintering insects are stirring into activity," said Dr. R.A. Scheibner, Extension entomologist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Some insects, such as ants, may emerge in large enough numbers to be a nuisance around the house, but many of these kinds will disperse in a short while and the problem will be over for the year, he adds. This is not the case with termites.

Scheibner says termites and some ants began swarming in March and are continuing to swarm. Termites, or white ants, resemble true ants in general appearance, but the two can be distinguished by comparing features such as antennae, wing length, and eyes.

"Insecticide sprays will kill a lot of these swarming pests, but for termites, that is treating only the symptom and not the problem," warns the specialist. The problem is the parent colony which continues to survive no matter how many termite swarms are killed.

"Swarming termites are only the surplus members of a colony that may be established in the home," he said. Termites, like ants, are social insects that live in colonies which may contain thousands of individuals. Workers and soldiers are wingless termites which stay within the colony. Winged termites are mature males and females that are seen when they swarm from the nest at certain times of the year.

Most swarming occurs in early spring in Kentucky, according to Scheibner.

"Termites cause millions of dollars of damage to structural wood of buildings each year," he said, adding, "so there is good reason to want protection from them."

The strategy for protecting buildings from termites is to put a soil insecticide barrier between the building and the termites' nest. Termites make their nests and feed on wood in the soil, but they also make mud shelter tubes to reach wood above ground.

Scheibner points out that termites feeding on wood above ground must return to the soil periodically to keep from drying out and dying.

"The treatment does not necessarily have to kill the colony, but it has to form a continuous barrier that the termites cannot get around. Any small gap in the protective barrier may allow termites to pass and continue business as usual in the building," said the specialist.

In most cases, according to Scheibner, it is too difficult for homeowners to apply satisfactory termite protection themselves. "Do-it-yourself termite control work is not only laborious, but it often is not done thoroughly enough," he said. For that reason, he advises using the services of a professional pest control operator, especially for complex jobs such as houses.

The entomologist has some advice for those planning to hire out termite control work:

—Make sure the person is a licensed professional. "Occasionally fly-by-night operators will solicit jobs door-to-door, do a sloppy control job and then they can't be reached if you have a complaint."

—Check with the Better Business Bureau before signing a contract or paying out any money.

—Get job estimates from two or three companies to compare prices and guarantees.

A publication on termites and their control is available from county Extension offices.

IS A FUNERAL NECESSARY?

Death is one of the most difficult losses we can experience—especially the death of a family member or spouse.

The wake and funeral services can be "tools" that help us accept the fact of death and permanent separation as a real thing. The wake becomes a time of consolation to those who have experienced the loss—a time for friends to SHARE their grief.

The funeral helps us remember the life of the lost one. It provides strength for the family and friends and communicates to all those attending that this life is now permanently separated from ours.

It is my experience that some who do not attend the funeral of a loved and close one suffer more afterwards. The funeral can become the first stepping stone to the rebuilding of our own lives without the presence of the deceased.

Call us if you'd like more helpful information and booklets on the subject of funerals.

AN OPEN LETTER

The following letter was received from a former "Wet Perry County" Circuit Judge. He knows whereof he speaks.

Don A. Ward

Attorney at Law

Barbourville, Kentucky 40906

(606) 546-8373

Huey Darby
Rt. 1
Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653

Dear Sir:

I have been informed that you are among the persons who are opposing the legal sale of alcoholic beverages in Floyd County, which question will be voted on by the voters of the County soon.

I lived in a "wet" County, Perry County, for many years prior to the expiration of my term as Circuit Judge there in 1976, after which time I moved to this County, Knox County, which is a "dry" County. I might say that I much prefer living in a "dry" County than living in a "wet" County. Not that the people of this County are any better than the people of Perry County, but such is the effect of the use of alcoholic beverages on people, that the meaner nature is brought out rather than the sweeter nature.

As everyone knows the use of alcoholic beverages by people cause an increase in auto accidents and wrecks on the highways, an increase in violent crimes and an increase in broken homes. It was heart breaking to me to have to consider the many court cases in Perry County during the twelve years I was Judge there, which were caused by the use and effects of alcoholic beverages.

The legal sale of alcoholic beverages does indeed help the financial condition of a few persons. However, the cost of controlling the legal sale of alcoholic beverages and the financial loss to the families who are deprived of the earnings of one or more weak individuals in the family who use alcoholic beverages, to whom the family looks to for support, far outweighs the financial benefit to the few.

Success to you and your fellow workers in defeating the legal sale of alcoholic beverages in your County.

Yours,

Don A. Ward

CANCER Answerline

American Cancer Society

Question: Do young people get bladder cancer?

ANSWERline: Cancer of the bladder may occur at any age, but it occurs most frequently in persons aged 50 to 70. Four out of five bladder patients are men. The incidence of bladder cancer for white males is twice that of black males.

Question: What are the symptoms of bladder cancer?

ANSWERline: Blood in the urine is the most important and often the first sign. It usually appears suddenly and without pain. Blood may be present in the stream throughout voiding, or may appear only at the end of a clean stream. Repeated appearance of blood in the urine is the single most characteristic symptom of bladder cancer. It is usually painless but at times may be accompanied by some discomfort and increased frequency of urination. Sometimes blood clots may form, causing painful muscle spasms in the bladder. Bloody urine however, does not always mean cancer. Other conditions, such as infection, benign tumors, or bladder stones, may be responsible. It is imperative that you consult your doctor in the event of bloody urine or any other unusual urinary condition.

Question: What are the symptoms of thyroid cancer?

ANSWERline: A lump or mass in the neck is usually discovered first. Any noticeable lump should be examined by a physician, particularly if it begins to increase in size. In most cases there are no signs or symptoms of thyroid cancer. However, there may be a swelling of one side of the neck near the "Adam's Apple" and, if a malignancy has been present for some time, there may be a history of persistent hoarseness or difficulty in swallowing.

Question: Do men get thyroid cancer?

ANSWERline: Thyroid cancer occurs almost twice as frequently in women as in men, and more frequently in whites than in blacks. It also occurs more frequently in the older age groups.

Question: Does difficulty in swallowing indicate cancer?

ANSWERline: Difficulty in swallowing may be an early symptom of cancer of the gullet or esophagus. Weight loss is also a symptom of this cancer. There should be no delay in reporting such signs and symptoms to one's physician. This is very important since there is a period when extensive local spread takes place before metastasis or spread to other organs via the blood and lymph system.

Question: Is the cause of esophageal cancer known?

ANSWERline: It is unknown although certain environmental factors have been linked to it. The disease has been found to occur more frequently among city dwellers than among persons living in rural areas. Smoking cigarettes, cigars and pipes along with the consumption of alcohol have also been linked to esophageal cancer. Case histories have shown that the majority of persons who develop this type of cancer have a history of heavy drinking, heavy smoking or both.

Question: What are the signs of cancer of the ovary?

ANSWERline: Ovarian cancer is often "silent," showing no obvious signs or symptoms until late in its development. The most common sign is an enlarged abdomen caused by the collection of fluid. Sometimes there is abnormal vaginal bleeding. In women over 40, vague digestive disturbances (stomach discomfort, gas, distension) which persist and cannot be explained by other causes may indicate the need for thorough checkup for ovarian cancer. These symptoms are, of course, most often no cause for concern. However, what would be a normally enlarged ovary in a premenopausal woman could be cause for concern in a woman after menopause.

Question: What is Hodgkin's disease and what are its signs?

ANSWERline: It is a cancer of the lymphatic system, and was named after Thomas Hodgkin, an English physician who first described it in 1832. About 56 percent of the cases of Hodgkin's disease occur between the ages of 20-40; less than 10 percent before the age of 10 and less than 10 percent after 60. More than 7,000 Americans develop it each year; about 2,600 die from it annually. The most common sign of Hodgkin's disease is a swollen lymph gland, usually in the neck, less often in an armpit or the groin. Infection or a disease other than cancer can cause a lymph gland to become enlarged but if the condition lasts three weeks or longer, it should be checked by a physician. Other early signs may include persistent fatigue, back or abdominal pain, weight loss, fever, itching, night sweats, nausea or vomiting. Again, all these signs may be caused by other diseases but should be checked by one's physician.

Mother's Day

Mother's Day is a tribute to all mothers. The way, we would like to say "Thanks" to you, Mom, is through this poem.

You were there when we were first born.
You were there when we opened our eyes.
You watched us grow from children into adults.
You always prepared our favorite pies.
You coached us along our way.
You taught us right from wrong and good from bad.
You also made us laugh when we were sad.
You helped all of us through high school and three of us through college; one of us is still going.
So, with your help we have all gained great knowledge.
So through this poem we are trying to say,
Mom, We Love You and Happy Mother's Day.

TV Campaigns Subject Of 'Media Probes'

"Political Spots," the next edition of public television's "Media Probes" series, offers a primer to the techniques used by today's political media makers. Included in the half-hour program, which airs Wednesday, May 19 at 8 p.m. are spots from the 1980 campaign of Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr.

Mark Shields, once a media maker for candidates and now a political columnist for The Washington Post, hosts the half-hour program which samples spots from across the country and introduces two of the nation's hottest media consultants Bob Goodman and Bob Squier.

Goodman, who has produced spots for more than 75 political candidates, illustrates the state-of-the-art in slick, political television advertising. Squier, videotaped at his Washington townhouse office during the frantic last day of the 1980 election campaign, shows spots from some of his most successful campaigns—including that of Kentucky's Governor John Y. Brown, Jr.

"Political Spots" also explores the impact of polls on the election process, the vicious "attack spot" which can sometimes backfire and political memorabilia from pre-television days.

The Dewey Lake Problem

Whatever the circumstances of the tragedy which claimed the life of a young man on Dewey Lake last Sunday afternoon, the seeds of tragedy were sown there long ago when no horsepower limit was set for motors driving boats on the impoundment.

Dewey Lake may have 20 miles of slack-water, but no more than ten miles attract high-speed craft. The lake is narrow, winding, and these few miles of boating area accommodate on occasion as many as fifty boats, some of which are operated at cautious speeds but many of which defy the dangers of water and ignore the safety of others in reckless abandon.

It is ridiculous to open such limited space as Dewey Lake is to boats hurled along by motors, both outboard and inboard, of as high as 150-horsepower.

But boaters have invested heavily in such craft. To banish them from the impoundment would be a stiff penalty for them to pay.

That leaves the situation up to official regulations, the setting of areas for water skiing and high-speed boat operation, the protection of other areas from such boats and the enforcement of sensible rules for boat operation—and no quibbling.

The state of Kentucky has cut back on its state police force, and water safety personnel is limited. It is a poor time to reduce any possible precaution or defense against tragedy.

LUCKY GAL

I see by the public prints that Ann Landers is accused of recycling some of her columns that are 15 years old or older and getting good money from her syndicate for these "rewrites." I would follow suit if I could find anything in this column that would bear recycling.

INCIDENTALLY...

Coincidentally, the May 19 concert appearance here of the U.S. Army Field Band and Soldiers' Chorus is the birthday of Emery Clark, father of Lt. Col. William E. Clark, commander-conductor of the band. The elder Clark is expected to celebrate the occasion by being here. We learn of this coincidence through Jimmy Goble, of our staff, who happened to know of it because May 19 is his birthday, too.

designed to help curb drunk driving in 40 Kentucky counties, including Floyd, that have a high rate of alcohol-related traffic accidents. The $350,775 National Highway Traffic Safety Administration grant will be used to pay state troopers overtime to detect and arrest drunk drivers in the 40-county area, said Kentucky State Police Commissioner Marion D. Campbell.

Campbell said extensive research was conducted by police to pinpoint counties with an unusually high rate of traffic accidents involving drinking drivers. The counties selected for increased enforcement account for about two-thirds of all drink-related accidents investigated by state police. In the Big Sandy area, Johnson, Pike and Magoffin are also included among the problem counties.

Commissioner Campbell said the number of alcohol-related accidents increased by 13 percent in 1980 compared to the previous three-year average. This increase occurred, even though total accidents decreased by 14 percent.

The state Public Service Commission has filed as intervenor in the gas rate action initiated by consumers here. The City Utilities Commission has not.

Putting Things In Perspective

While perusing the April 21 issue of the Floyd Co. Times, I came across the latest happenings in the District Court. And with not a little trepidation I saw, among others, these convictions with resulting penalties: (1) several cases of "drunk"—$10 fine; (2) disorderly conduct—$1; (3) spilling coal on highway—$15; (4) speeding—$40, all but $20 suspended, and referred to state traffic school; (5) speeding (several cases)—$21; (6) overweight truck—$60, all but $15 suspended; (7) no insurance—$50, suspended; (8) passing on double line—referred to state traffic school; (9) coon hunting in restricted area—$20, suspended. And then I saw "fishing without license"—$15. I eagerly read on anticipating, breathlessly, to see "suspended"—but alas, such was not the case. Looking back on the other violations I could easily ascertain, with the exception of the coon hunters, the life-threatening situations that could arise from the actions of the guilty parties. Even the "no insurance" could lead to much financial distress to an innocent victim.

Yet, these conviction penalties were suspended, amended, made lower or only slightly higher than the "no fishing license" penalty.

Baffled, I began to search my mind for judicial equity; for justice tempered with mercy and compassion, but to no avail. True, the individual broke the law and the arresting officer was only doing his sworn duty.

But I, in my restricted avenue of thinking, surmised that at the very least the conviction could be amended to "worm-drowning" (which in my case I could be found guilty nolo contendere) and all but 50 cents suspended. At the very harshest the felon could be referred to a copy of Izaak Walton's "The Compleat Angler" for required reading and hopeful consequent penitence. But no such lenience! Why, even the coon hunters and disorderly conduct were met with less disdain.

Finally, in my not-so-infinite wisdom, the reasoning of these dispositions became crystal clear. We must make examples of these scoundrels! And after much soul-searching and attempting to be fair and impartial without casting (no pun intended) aspersions, I see what must be done. We must purge our river banks, creek banks, ponds and spillways of these menaces to society; these mostly hard-working cads who seek pleasure and solace in the cool quietness of a tranquil stream under the shade of a willow tree; those uncaring usurpers who have the brazen audacity to partake of, yea, even rape nature's gifts without proper remuneration to the state's coffers for that privilege.

We must show these blatant law-breakers once and for all those acts of rebellion will not be tolerated; that they will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law if caught and convicted.

We must instill in these incorrigible rascals that crime does not pay, that justice will be meted. And that as a result all citizenry will live in a state of peace and happiness, secure in the knowledge that all's right with the world.

And we, the people, will have no fear of our personal safety when driving to and from our places of business and pleasure or walking the streets, because we will know that the true criminal element has been ostracized from our midst.

Accused Slayer Of Pike Woman Jailed in Knott

A Pike county man accused of beating to death 51-year-old Rebecca Kate Ratliff at Pikeville April 27 was held in jail here two days last week but was returned to Pikeville for preliminary hearing and later transferred to the Knott county jail.

The accused man, Dennis Thacker, is not being kept in the Pike county jail because, it was said, a brother and a son of the victim are employed at the jail.

District Judge Richard Elswick asked bond of $50,000 for Thacker's release, pending grand jury action. The bond was not executed.

Pike Coroner Brafford Hall termed the cause of death a "fist beating." Mrs. Ratliff was found in her upstairs apartment at 212 Elm Street. State Police Detective Donnie Jack Phipps said at the district court hearing for Thacker last Friday that the woman had bruises on her face, stomach, arms and legs.

Officers were notified by a telephone caller that the woman's body had been found and Coroner Hall later was quoted as saying that Thacker apparently was the caller. Thacker was in his apartment on the first floor of the building occupied by the couple when police arrived. Detective Phipps said the two, who operated a small soft drinks and candy store, had been living together.

Mrs. Ratliff was the widow of Otis Ratliff, who died in 1970.

One report received here says that a third boat, which was racing in circles nearby, may have figured in the tragedy, the other boats colliding in their operators' efforts to avoid the circling craft. This boat left the scene and its operator had not been identified as of Tuesday morning, it was said.

Investigation of the tragedy by Brashear and others continued this week.

The body of Montgomery was recovered by the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad at 6:50 p.m. Abrasions on his back were the most visible physical injuries attributed directly to the crash, Coroner Nelson said. Mrs. Montgomery did not learn of her husband's death till Monday.

The victim, a son of Eldon and Carol Howard Montgomery, of Paintsville, was employed as an engineer by the firm of Mason, Barrows & Feamster. He was a 1977 graduate of Paintsville High School, where he lettered in both football and baseball, and of Georgetown College.

His funeral will be conducted at 2 p.m. today (Wednesday) from the chapel of the Jones-Preston Funeral Home, Paintsville, and burial will be made in Highland Memorial Park, Staffordsville.

PHS Tennis Team Wins Two, Looks Toward Regional Tourney

A trip to Salyersville last Wednesday resulted in a shut-out win for the Prestonsburg High School tennis team. Coach Lois Crum's team completely dominated the Magoffin squad by not even allowing them to take one match. Prestonsburg's men won all six singles matches handily, followed by three straight doubles victories. The final score for the meet was Prestonsburg, 9; Magoffin County, 0.

Scores for the meet were:
Singles—D. Adams vs. J. King, 8-0; B. Hamilton vs. D. Howard, 8-0; T. George vs. N. Wages, 8-0; T. Johnson vs. D. Trusty, 8-4; D. Spradlin vs. A. Salyer, 8-0.

Doubles—Adams-George vs. King-Howard, 8-0; Ousley-Johnson vs. Miller-Rife, 6-1; Hamilton-Spradlin vs. Trusty-Salyer, 8-1.

The Prestonsburg team travelled to Paintsville last Thursday and scored a big win over the Paintsville High School team by winning eight of nine matches. The six singles matches were taken by Prestonsburg with only one loss. These were followed by three straight doubles wins. Two juniors, Todd Johnson and Jeff Cook, looked very good in the meet, according to Coach Crum, with Cook scoring several aces in both his singles and doubles matches. Mrs. Crum hopes her team, which now appears to be very strong, will continue to improve with the regional tournament less than three weeks away.

Scores for the Prestonsburg—Paintsville meet were:

Singles—D. Adams vs. P. Martin, 4-8; T. George vs. D. Green, 8-1; B. Hamilton vs. K. Hall, 8-0; T. Johnson vs. K. Conley, 8-1; J. Cook vs. J. Combs, 8-1; D. Spradlin vs. M. Stone, 8-0.

Doubles—Adams-George vs. Martin-Green, 8-4; Hamilton-Johnson vs. Hall-Conley, 8-1; Cook-Ousley vs. Combs-Dyer, 8-0.

DON'T EAT THAT RECORD!

It's hard to tell how many potential state or even world record fish are filleted and eaten every year, or how many are turned over to taxidermists before positive identification can be made.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, the official keeper of record fishes caught from Kentucky waters, is forced to disqualify several possible records every year because the fisherman acted a little too hastily, either in cleaning his catch or in having the mounting process started.

This is particularly true with species which resemble each other closely. The only sure way to determine whether a fish is a largemouth bass or a Kentucky bass, for example, is by an examination by a trained biologist of certain internal organs.

The situation gets even more cloudy when you consider the number of hybrid fish swimming around in Kentucky waters. Some of these, like the tiger musky (a muskellunge-northern pike cross) or the hybrid striper (rockfish x white bass) are "man-made" crosses, deliberately hybridized in hatcheries. But hybrids also occur naturally—the bluegill-green sunfish cross is a common one—so it takes a professional fisheries scientist to make a positive identification of many species.

If you do catch a fish you think might be a record, keep the fish whole—don't dress it in any way and if you give the fish to a taxidermist, instruct him not to do anything to it until he has your ok.

Then get in touch with the Fish and Wildlife Department for further instructions. It's very likely that the fish will have to be examined by a biologist before it can be considered for a record.

The other major requirement is that the fish be weighed on a scale certified legal for trade. Such scales can be found at grocery stores, meat markets or similar establishments and bear a certificate of inspection from the Kentucky Department of Agriculture. Get the signatures of three persons who witness the weighing and you're all set.

In many ways, your chances of getting on a world record list are better than making the state record roll, since state lists are kept only for the biggest fish of each species. World records are kept for different line classes, so a fish that won't qualify for a state record could still get you on a world record list if the line used to land the fish was the right size.

The official keeper of world record fresh-and salt-water fish is the International Game Fish Association, 3000 East Las Olas Boulevard, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. 33316. A $15 membership will bring you an annually updated list of all world records. For a list of state record fish, or for information about state records, write the Division of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, No. 1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Help Yourself Now: Advice From Al-Anon

Don't wait for the alcoholic to seek help before you take action on your own behalf. Anyone who is close to an alcoholic is under constant emotional strain and needs help. Nothing will give you greater relief than the understanding and warm-hearted help you will find in an Al-anon Family Group.

The Al-anon Family Groups, Al-anon and Alateen are wives, husbands, children and other relatives and friends of alcoholics. If there's a group near you, you're in luck. The members are compassionate, well-informed and have first-hand knowledge of problems just like yours.

Conversations with people who share your problems will convince you emotionally, as your other investigations may have convinced you intellectually, that the alcoholic is sick and not sinful. Sharing this knowledge can help you begin your own recovery.

Al-anon in this area meets Wednesdays at 10 a.m. at St. James Parish Hall, Fridays at 8 p.m. at McDowell Hospital CPI unit, and Saturdays at 8 p.m. at the Floyd County Library. Alateen meets Saturdays at 8 p.m. at the library.

Two Years Old

Timothy Ferguson celebrated his second birthday recently with a party given by his mother, Jackie Ferguson, at their home in Dwale. He and his guests enjoyed a Mickey Mouse cake and he received many gifts. Guests were Beth and Mitchell Jarrell, Debbie and Monroe Jarrell, his maternal grandmother, Elvia Scott, and his uncle, Dwayne Scott, of West Prestonsburg.

Mountain Manor Seeks Volunteers

National Nursing Home Week, May 9-15, is a period of emphasizing the important services rendered by long-term care facilities everywhere. Mountain Manor of Prestonsburg, in administering to its residents needs, depends to a significant extent on its volunteer program.

In addition to the volunteer work at Mountain Manor, the facility also promotes a program designed to help those residents without families—"Adopt A Resident."

Anyone interested in volunteering in any way at Mountain Manor, as a group or individual, is asked to contact Irene Wallen, activities director, or Becky Capelli, social worker, at 886-2378.

The United States is "the Saudi Arabia of food," says the May Reader's Digest. With control over 37 percent of the world's exportable grain—the United States sold roughly $46 billion worth of food abroad last year. America alone has a larger monopoly over food exports than all the OPEC nations combined have over oil exports.

Martin's Bestway Instant Winners

Instant winners in the Super Grocery Giveaway at Martin's Bestway Market at McDowell were Virginia Hall, of Hi Hat, and Johnnie Mosley, of McDowell, who were both $20 winners on April 14.

Mother's Day

You taught me to laugh and not to be ashamed to cry.
 You taught me to tell the truth and never a lie.
 You taught me fondness is not the same as love,
 You taught me about Hell below and Heaven above.
 You taught me not to be cruel—always be kind,
 You taught me to listen to my heart as well as my mind.
 You taught me that everyone deserves some respect,
 You taught me to forgive then forget.
 You taught me to be unselfish, to always care,
 And that for a friend I should always be there.
 You taught me to look for beauty in all that I see.
 And everyone has beauty no matter who or what they may be.
 You taught me to pray instead of curse.
 You taught me to appreciate my life because things could be worse.
 You taught me to take but, more importantly, to give,
 You taught me all of these things so that I could live.
 You're as special as special can be,
 Because you're the one who gave birth to me!

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY!
 Love from Ava, Jackie, Melissa, and Linda

Lowell Thomas

Upstaged Reagan

In the May Readers Digest, Vice president George Bush, in a personal profile of Lowell Thomas, recalls how, during a meeting last year in Washington, the globe-hopping veteran broadcaster upstaged the President of the United States. "In April 1981, Lowell visited me at the White House. After our meeting, he had to wait in the lobby while his car was being brought up. Just then, the Archbishop of Canterbury and two dozen Anglican primates from all over the world came surging through the door. Catching sight of Lowell, they lost interest in their meeting with President Reagan and me and swarmed around him like excited schoolboys, shaking his hand and asking where on earth he was going next."

The presence of a pet may make you happier, healthier and longer-lived, according to the May Reader's Digest. A study of coronary patients by the University of Pennsylvania revealed that pet ownership was a strong indicator of survival—surpassing even human relationships.

String Bands and Balloons!

The Reel World String Band, (pictured above) nationally-known female group, played in concert, April 26, for the student body of Osborne Elementary and taught traditional songs and dances to fourth and fifth grade classes. Their appearance at the school was part of the county's artist-in-the-schools program. Another visiting artist was Joanne Hofelich who demonstrated the fine art of construction and flying of decorative hot-air balloons to Auxier Elementary students, April 13 and 14. In photo, students man paraphernalia used in inflating the fanciful balloons.

A birthday dinner was enjoyed by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Friends and other relatives visited and called her. Her surprise caller was her doctor from Pikeville, Dr. Hambley. She is the widow of the Rev. Guest Artists Visit Floyd Schools

The month of April has seen several guest artists in elementary schools of the county, brought here by invitation of Gwen Heffner, Floyd county's artist-in-the-schools.

On April 6 and 7 guest potter Mike Imes did a two-day workshop at Maytown Elementary, working with the seventh and eighth grade students of Patty Webb and Ronald Patton. Imes demonstrated his pottery building techniques, showed slides, and taught students and teachers how to form similar shapes in clay. He also gave an evening workshop at Prestonsburg Community College for the beginning and advanced pottery classes as well as the potters guild members. Imes lives and works at New Haven, in Nelson county, and makes his pottery by hand without use of a potter's wheel.

Sculptor Joanne Hofelich, of Burkesville, visited on April 13 and 14 at Auxier Elementary. Miss Hofelich taught the students of Jack Music and Earl Thompson how to design and build hot air balloons from tissue paper and rubber cement. Five balloons were launched at noon on April 14 to the delight of the school body. Miss Joanne Hofelich is a sculptor who works in a variety of materials, building and casting her forms. She is also an artist-in-the-schools in Cumberland county.

The Reel World String Band of Lexington visited Osborne Elementary, April 26. This five-member all-woman band played traditional, oldtime music in a concert for the student body, then taught songs and dances to the fourth grade students of Ralph Little and Mrs. Georgie Newman and the fifth grade students of Mrs. Ruth Jones and Mrs. Judy Gibson. The band has just returned to Kentucky from a California tour with the Osbourne Brothers. The fiddler in the band is former Floyd countyman Karen Jones.

This program, sponsored by the Floyd County Board of Education, is an effort to bring artists and the arts directly to students to enrich their knowledge, ability, and appreciation of the arts. The Artist-in-the-Schools program is made possible by a grant from the Kentucky Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Methaqualone Tablets Deadlier than Heroin

Deadlier than heroin, say some authorities, are methaqualone tablets. Quaaludes, or "ludes" as the kids call them, are causing more deaths from overdose, accident and suicide than "speed," LSD, "angel dust" and heroin. The May Reader's Digest reveals that last year young Americans consumed about a billion tablets averaging $6 each, making this a $6-billion-a-year black market business.

Army Field Band, Soldiers' Chorus Here, May 19

—U.S. Army photograph

The Army Field Band and Soldiers' Chorus in concert at Constitution Hall, Washington, D.C.

The United States Army Field Band will continue its long history of free public performances when it appears in concert at the Prestonsburg High School Fieldhouse Wednesday, May 19 at 8 p.m.

The Field Band's performance, open to the public without charge, will be sponsored by The Floyd County Times and the Music Department of Prestonsburg Community College.

The Army Field Band, where conductor, Lt. Col. W.E. Clark, is a native of Prestonsburg, is the official touring musical organization sponsored by the United States Army. In more than a quarter of a century, the Field Band has traveled more than two million miles in the United States, Europe, the Far East, Central America, and Canada, performing before millions of people. Not the typical martial band, the Field Band's concerts include compositions of famous composers, popular melodies and the stirring strains of fine band music.

The Field Band was created in 1946 as the United States Army Ground Forces Band by an order from General Jacob L. Devers, who wanted a band that would "carry into the grass roots of our country the story of our magnificent army, its glorious traditions and achievements and that great symbol of American manhood—the ground soldiers."

General Devers' creation of the Army Ground Forces Band ultimately led to the change in name of the Band when, in 1950, the Band was re-named the United States Army Field Band, and declared the official touring musical representative of the United States Army.

The Field Band's early years included performances at the Royal Festival Hall in London, Luxembourg Gardens, Paris; the Olympic Stadium in Berlin; and in Austria, Belgium and France.

By 1954, the Field Band had performed in all 48 states after its completion of a tour in the Rocky Mountain states.

The Field Band's concerts in Washington, D.C., have included special performances for the King and Queen of Greece, the President of Ireland; and NATO foreign ministers. In addition, the Band has performed in five Presidential inaugural parades.

NAMED TO DEAN'S LIST

Ira Joe Tussey, of Prestonsburg, has been named to the Dean's list for the winter quarter at Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Va. To be eligible for this honor, a student must achieve at least a 3.4 scholastic standing.

Mr. Tussey, who is majoring in mining engineering, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Tussey, of David.

Questions the Right Of P.H.S. Principal

Does the principal of P.H.S. have the right to tell a loved and respected teacher of 20 years experience to take a leave of absence or he will get a permanent leave for her? Does he have the right to bring personal feelings into a professional job when it affects a woman who done a good job for many years? Does he have the right to threaten her with replacement when she is doing her job?

Should not a man in this position be more concerned with the nurture of our children and helping them to get along and grow rather than showing them his lack of control and his inability to handle his temper? Should a principal show this lack of control only with female parents, teachers and all the students in his care. We look at this as being a bully and question this attitude.

Is a principal not responsible to the parents of the children he is in control of for seven hours out of every day? Is he not hired by the people, we the parents, vote into the offices of the School Board?

A principal should set guidelines and rules that can be applied and be flexible enough to teach a child, not cause them ill feelings about leadership over into adulthood. This is not a military establishment. This is a "School" where children go to learn and grow into productive adults, not bitter resentful people. The old saying "you can't put an adult's head on a child's shoulders," seems to be forgotten at this time. Should an unwritten rule be brought out of the woodwork to punish two young ladies concerning a social function, such as a Senior Prom, then applied to four young men who were sent home from their senior trip when a parent questioned his actions; then applied to the entire school as far as any student who has been suspended this year? This punishment should not apply to outside social functions where children and parents have already gone to great expense but be handled during school hours. Is not a suspension from school, being sent home from your senior trip or private punishment from parents enough? How many times must these children be punished for one mistake? Unfair or over-punishments bring on rebellion and hard feelings.

We all live by rules and so should our children, but within reasonable guidelines. When a principal refuses to talk with concerned parents, teachers, students and people, it is time to question his ability to do his job!

Aviation Pioneers Earhart and Cochran

On May 20-21, 1932, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to make a nonstop, solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean.

In 1961 Jacqueline Cochran posed in front of her Northrop T-38 after setting eight major speed records. At the time of her death in 1980, Cochran held more speed, altitude and distance records than any pilot, male or female, in aviation history.

By RITA C. BOBOWSKI
Smithsonian News Service

On May 20, 1932, five years to the day after Charles Lindbergh's transatlantic flight in "The Spirit of St. Louis," a slender, girlish-looking woman climbed into the cockpit of a bright red Lockheed Vega and set off, alone, from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. Overcoming fatigue, bad weather and a terrifying 3,000-foot drop through the clouds when the aircraft "iced up," the pilot landed safely on the coast of Ireland 15 hours and 18 minutes later.

As the first woman to make a nonstop, solo crossing of the Atlantic, Amelia Earhart was greeted with wild acclaim and feted on two continents. Later that year, in August, Earhart became the first woman to fly solo from coast to coast, reaching Newark from Los Angeles in just over 19 hours.

Fifty years after her history-making flights, Earhart's plane is exhibited in the Smithsonian's National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C., as a testament to her courage and dedication. Not only did she prove that women could be proficient professional pilots, the world's most celebrated female pilot also helped focus public attention on aviation as an up-and-coming method of transportation.

Though the 1930s marked the heyday of Earhart, that decade also featured the rise of another aviatrix, Jacqueline Cochran, who, though never achieving Earhart's public recognition, also advanced the cause of women in aviation.

"Jacqueline Cochran and Amelia Earhart were good friends and even something of rivals," Claudia Oakes, assistant curator at the National Air and Space Museum and the historian behind a new exhibit on Jacqueline Cochran, says. "But they were two very different women out for two very different causes. Earhart was out to promote aviation. Jackie was out to set records."

Amelia Earhart was born in 1898 in Atchison, Kan., the daughter of a railroad man. Her family traveled a great deal when she was a girl, and Amelia grew up with a broader perspective and greater independence than many of her peers. Her first brush with aviation came in 1918 in Toronto, where, serving as a Red Cross nurse's aide, she met many wounded wartime fliers. She obtained her pilot's license two years later.

It was while she was a social worker in Boston's Denison House that she was offered the chance to become the first woman to fly, as a passenger, across the Atlantic. Her thrill over the 1929 crossing was dampened only by her discontent at not having piloted any of the journey. She resolved to redeem herself with a later solo crossing.

Earhart's glamour was somehow enhanced by her disappearance over the Pacific in 1937 while attempting a round-the-world flight. Since then, however, controversy surrounding her talents as a pilot has surfaced from time to time.

"Was she a good pilot?" Oakes muses. "Maybe she was and maybe she wasn't. But one fact cannot be disputed: She made those flights. Flying from Hawaii to the U.S. mainland in 1935, which she was the first person, male or female, to do, was dangerous and tricky. Once you got going, there was no place to land. Amelia had to know what she was doing in order to survive."

If Earhart's flying skills have been questioned by some, her contributions to aviation are not. "Besides acting as (Continued on Following Page)

Aviation Pioneers . . .

a role model for thousands of young women," Oakes says. "Amelia also promoted aviation as an industry. People at that time just did not think of flying as transportation. Amelia wrote articles encouraging husbands to fly on business trips and urging women to fly with their husbands. Because she was who she was, people listened."

Her 1937 disappearance stunned the world. A massive sea-air search covering 265,000 square miles of ocean was conducted, but to no avail. Both Earhart and her navigator Fred Noonan were officially proclaimed lost at sea.

"Amelia Earhart was an American heroine," Oakes maintains. "She had great charisma, warmth, a sense of ingenuousness. The American people had to take her to heart. They felt they had lost a personal friend—and the public mourning was great."

Jacqueline Cochran's personality was cut from a different mold. "Cochran was ambitious, determined to succeed," Oakes says. "But then she had to be. She was in a field dominated by men."

Her drive and ambition are perhaps more understandable, however, when seen against the stark backdrop of her childhood. Raised in poverty by foster parents from the time she was a baby, Cochran claimed to have worked ever since she could remember. She learned to read by watching signs painted on the sides of freight cars.

As she recalled in her autobiography, THE STARS AT NOON, "Until I was eight years old, I had no shoes. My bed was usually a pallet on the floor and sometimes just the floor. . . . My dresses in the first seven years of my life were usually made from cast-off flour sacks. That was my life in the sawmill towns of northern Florida when I should have had toys and been getting schooling. It was bleak and bitter and harsh. But it taught me independence and the necessity of fending for myself."

Says Oakes, "She had one burning desire—to get out of there."

After landing a series of jobs as a nurse and a beautician, Cochran was hired by the Saks Fifth Avenue hairdresser, Antoine, in New York City. In 1934, armed with some business experience, she started what later became a highly-successful company, Jacqueline Cochran Cosmetics.

Cochran had taken flying lessons two years earlier (earning her license in three weeks) in anticipation of using airplanes to promote her fledgling cosmetics business. But once she started flying, there was little that could hold her back.

In 1938, racing against both male and female pilots, Cochran won the prestigious Bendix Trophy, completing the course from Los Angeles to Cleveland in just over 8 hours, 10 minutes. That same year, she was named the outstanding female pilot of 1937, winning the first of 14 Harmon Trophies she would hold during her lifetime.

"But by 1939," Oakes continues, "the war clouds were looming. Jackie wanted to organize women pilots to do utility flying, to free the men to fly in combat. In 1940, she tried to sell the U.S. Army Air Forces on the idea."

Cochran received permission to fly to England to observe women pilots in the newly-formed British Air Transport Auxiliary. To call attention to her cause, she asked to ferry a bomber across the ocean.

"But a group of male pilots objected," Oakes says, "and a compromise was worked out. Jackie was able to pilot the bomber but had to relinquish the controls to her male copilot on take-off and landing. Imagine—here was one of the world's most celebrated pilots!"

In 1943, the United States decided to organize its own women pilots program, the Women Airforce Service Pilots (better known as WASPs) and, not surprisingly, Cochran became its director.

After the war, Cochran resumed racing, setting many more records. In 1953, she entered the jet age, becoming the first woman to fly faster than the speed of sound. When she died in 1980, she held more speed, distance and altitude records than any pilot, male or female, in aviation history—an achievement still unsurpassed today.

Yet despite her records and undeniable talents as a pilot, Jackie Cochran never became a household word.

"Cochran was well-respected, but not well-liked," Oakes explains. "She never sought the camaraderie of the other women pilots and remained a loner. If she had been lost at sea instead of Earhart, there would not have been the same public outpouring of grief."

"But this is by no means a condemnation," she says. "Cochran set out to make a name for herself, and in doing so, she—like Earhart—carried all women along with her."

While they had very different personalities and styles, unquestionably, both Cochran and Earhart felt at home in the sky. Reflecting on her life, Cochran wrote nearly 30 years ago: "Earth-bound souls know only that underside of the atmosphere in which they live. . . . But go higher up—above the dust and water vapor—and the sky turns dark and up high enough one can see the stars at noon. I have."

Since 1980, the number of children with working mothers has grown by 6.2 million despite a 6.6 million decline in the total population of persons under 18.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mrs. Janie Harris, who passed away May 4, 1970:

A MOTHER'S LOVE

A Mother's love is something that no one can explain. It is made of deep devotion and of sacrifice and pain. It is endless and unselfish and enduring come what may For nothing can destroy it or take that love away...

It is patient and forgiving when all others are forsaking. And it never fails or falters even though the heart is breaking... It believes beyond believing when the world around condemns.

And it glows with all the beauty of the rarest, brightest gems... It is far beyond defining, it defies all explanation.

And it still remains a secret like the mysteries of creation... A many-splendored miracle man cannot understand.

And another wondrous evidence of God's tender guiding hand. Her daughters: ANNA MAE HARRIS, VENELIA RINEHART, AGNES BAUERS

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Hazel Lester Kirk on Mother's Day, who passed away Oct. 22, 1977. She is sadly missed by her children, grandchild and great-grandchild.

In Memory of Mother

Mother: Dear Mother, we miss you today. It seems so long since Jesus called you away. We miss your presence, your loving embrace, the kindness and love that showed in your smiling face. Mother, we miss your love to us all, when we're grown up and even when we're small. For Mother's love there's none on earth can compare. But I know, Mom, you're happy there.

As you walk through gates of heaven so bright and fair, and walk with Jesus up the golden stairs, you'll sing a song none other can sing, with praises and thanks to our eternal King. They tell me it's beautiful, our home up there. Someday we'll see you and climb the golden stairs. So, Mother, be looking for us to come home. We'll sing in the choir with you around the white throne.

Runners and Lovers

Are Happy Omens

Novelist John Cheever writes in the May Readers Digest that though the world may look dismal to some, to him there remain reasons for optimism. Chief among them is the fact that lovers—and runners—can still be found in all corners of the globe. "For years," says Cheever, "lovers seemed to me to be proof that the world would go on. Now marathon runners, gathering by thousands in cities all over the world to pursue the horizons of fatigue and self-esteem, contribute equally to hopefulness. They both—lover and runner—mean to celebrate the good news."

FLOYD FISCAL COURT GETS BEHIND STATE ROAD COM.

ACTION WILL BE TAKEN ON ROAD BUILDING AT ONCE.

At a meeting of the Floyd Fiscal Court last Monday, the order of recent date referring the route to popular vote was rescinded, much to the delight of those who are in favor of progress, and now Floyd will get behind the State Highway Commission, with the controversy ended and every barrier removed.

A bridge at Cliff and the contract from there to town giving us an outlet and a bridge at Allen, getting all ready to the Trail will very likely be some of the early steps in the letting of contracts and getting the work going. It seems fortunate indeed that this matter has been definitely settled at this time for at least two reasons: First so that no local candidate for office could make an appeal to the uninformed voters of the county on the theory that he would use his influence to carry the road the voters' way.

The vote of the Magistrates on the following resolution and passed last Monday, June 15, 1925, was as follows: For the order and resolution: W. J. Vaughan, John W. Harris, A. J. Hamilton, Jr., T. B. Akers.

Whereas, the Floyd Fiscal Court and State Highway Commission of Kentucky have been delayed in the construction of the Mayo Trail through Floyd County;

FLOYD FISCAL COURT RESOLUTION

Resolved, That the Floyd Fiscal Court and State Highway Commission of Kentucky be authorized to take the necessary steps to complete said Trail through Floyd County as soon as possible, and we hereby pledge to said Highway Commission, the hearty co-operation and assistance of this Court, and invite them to communicate with us at any time and start at once the work of constructing the said Mayo Trail through the entire County of Floyd to the Pike County line.

SPECIAL JUNE TERM JUNE 15, 1925

Whereas, this said Court did, on May 18, 1925, enter an order, as follows: FLOYD COUNTY FISCAL COURT, May 18, 1925.

Whereas, there is a contention among citizens and taxpayers of Floyd County, Kentucky, as to the best location of the Mayo Trail Highway, south of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to or opposite the town of Dwaile, Kentucky;

Resolved, That the Floyd Fiscal Court be authorized to take the necessary steps to complete said Trail through Floyd County as soon as possible, and we hereby pledge to said Highway Commission, the hearty co-operation and assistance of this Court, and invite them to communicate with us at any time and start at once the work of constructing the said Mayo Trail through the entire County of Floyd to the Pike County line.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

One of the most beautiful showers ever given in our little city was the one given by Mrs. Mary D. Allen and Mrs. B. F. Combs at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Combs, on Second street Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 until 4:30 p. m. in honor of Mrs. Clifford B. Latta, nee Miss Olga Hager May, beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. May.

Recommended by the Court that the State Highway Commission proceed at once to grade and drain the road from North limits of Prestonsburg, Ky., to Cliff, Ky., with money belonging to Floyd County, now in their hands remaining from the one hundred thousand dollars heretofore appropriated by this Court for Mayo Trail, and that said Commission apply for Federal aid to meet said one hundred thousand dollars heretofore appropriated, and which aid when gotten, be at once used to construct the bridge at Albion Creek across Big Sandy river, and that when State funds are available next year, that an equal amount be put up and for which, an equal amount of Federal aid be applied for and used upon said Mayo Trail in Floyd County, Ky., and that a copy of these resolutions be certified to State Highway Commission.

Now, upon reconsideration of said order, it is now ordered by the Court that said order be, and the same is now hereby set aside and held for naught, and in lieu thereof, it is now ordered by the Court that $40,000 of unsold Mayo Trail County bonds be sold and that the proceeds thereof be placed in bank to the credit of the State Highway Commission of Kentucky, to be used by it in the construction of the Mayo Trail through Floyd County, and Ed Hill is hereby appointed this court's commissioner, and ordered and directed to forthwith sell said bonds, and apply the proceeds thereof, as herein indicated, and he will, as soon as he can conveniently do so, notify the said State Highway Commission of this action, and of the sale of said bonds, and deposit of said funds.

E. J. HARRIS WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR SHERIFF

In withdrawing from the race for Sheriff, I want to thank my friends for the encouragement, favors and all kindness shown me, as well as the support pronounced me.

My reason for doing this is that I have a cousin, Henry C. Harris, candidate for County Court Clerk, whom I found to have a number of relatives and friends ready and strongly supporting him, and I feel that he is going to win the nomination for this office and I decided to withdraw and support him.

Yours sincerely, E. J. HARRIS.

WATER

Give baby all he will take, between feedings. Do not give water for three-fourths of an hour before feeding time. Give baby cool boiled water.

CLOTHING. In hot weather a diaper and thin shirt are enough. If very hot leave off the shirt. Dress the baby according to the temperature. Do not use enough clothes to make the baby perspire. Use white clothes.

BATHING. Bathe the baby once a day. In hot weather give the baby a cool sponge bath two or three times a day. If he has prickly heat include baking soda and cornstarch in the bath water (1 teaspoon of baking soda and 1 dessert spoon of cornstarch to 1 quart of water). Clean hands and face help keep the food clean.

SLEEPING. Have the baby sleep out of doors as much as possible, protecting him from the direct sun and extreme heat. Do not use heavy materials, as curtains, etc., to cover or shade the baby. They exclude air. Protect him from flies by covering carriage or crib with white mosquito netting. Do not pile on extra covering unless the weather turns cold—the baby's covers should be no warmer than yours.

MAN ENTERS OLD HOME; IS SHOT

Neighbor, in Excitement, Falls Off Roof On Younger Brother.

Charleston, W. Va., June 17.—Wallace Sayre, 22 years old, student, returned home early this morning from Marshall College, Huntington, and entered his home at 1219 Seventh avenue with a pass key. Merittine, Alfred Sayre, wealthy contractor, had moved from the house Monday and R. W. Harvey and family had moved in.

As young Sayre prepared to retire in one of the rooms, Harvey was awakened, and thinking Sayre was a burglar, shot him four times in the legs and hips.

Ernest Anderson, next door neighbor, hearing the commotion, climbed out on the porch roof of his home and called for the police. In the excitement he fell from the roof and landed on his young brother. The elder Anderson broke both arms, while the younger suffered a broken leg.

Young Sayre is expected to recover.

PINE WOMAN LOSES SUIT BY CREDITORS

Frankfort, Ky., June 17.—For a wife who took the land on the faith of which a bankrupt husband was allowed to create debts would be manifestly unfair to creditors, the Court of Appeals ruled today in affirming a judgment of the Pike Circuit Court.

Mrs. Myrtle Phillips bought property in 1916. A remote vendor's lien was discovered, and a suit was brought to foreclose. At a Commissioner's sale, Mrs. Phillips' husband bought the land and it was put in his name.

Later Phillips became bankrupt, and Mrs. Phillips sought to have the land transferred to her, so as to be safe from creditors, since she had paid for it out of her personal funds. C. C. Bowles and other creditors successfully contested the suit.

THEODORE BURCHETT IS KILLED AT PORTSMOUTH

Theodore Burchett formerly of this county was killed resisting arrest at Portsmouth on June 9, 1925. He was raised on Johns Creek, but moved to Ohio about two years ago. He was about 46 years of age and is survived by his mother, widow and four children. His body was brought to his old home for burial. Funeral by Rev. W. H. Horn.

Last Friday evening the Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. J. D. Harfins at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colonel Mag.

JOHN GRAHAM CHAPTER D. A. R. IS ORGANIZED

Last Friday, June 12, 1925, under the guidance of State Regent, Mrs. Eugene H. Ray of Louisville, the John Graham Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was organized here.

Mrs. Ray was assisted by Mrs. J. G. Johns of Winchester who is well known and widely related here.

The organization took place at the home of Mrs. Jo M. Davidson on Court street where a delightful noon plate luncheon was served not only to the distinguished guests but to all the ladies interested in the organization.

Fourteen members were enrolled with applications for four others, whose papers were not yet complete. One of the most interesting features of the day was the display of relics consisting of diaries, pictures, silver and china, and old Bibles yellow with age and curiously preserved by many generations in chests, drawers and sacred places for a hundred and fifty years. The name "John Graham" was chosen in honor of one of Floyd's pioneer citizens and from whom several of the members of the chapter are descended.

At the close of the organization prayer was offered and "The Glory" solemnly all taking part. A stanza of "My Old Kentucky Home" was enthusiastically sung.

The following are the charter members:

- Mrs. Geo. P. Archer, Mrs. W. R. Callahan, Mrs. Jo M. Davidson, Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Grace Ford, Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, Mrs. Charles Humphrey, Mrs. Will H. Layne, Mrs. C. Y. Ligon, Miss Sallie G. Ligon, Mrs. A. J. May, Miss Marjorie Mayo, Mrs. Homer Salsbury, Mrs. O. W. Van Pelten, Mrs. Elizabeth Wells.

The following visitors were present: Mrs. Jno. Scott Miller, Mrs. E. H. Sowards of Pikeville, Mrs. Evan Thomas of Chincoteila, W. Va., who are members of the Pikeville Chapter.

National Art Magazine To Feature Work of Akers, Native Floyd Man

Gary Akers

His egg tempera, "The Ferns," to be featured in magazine.

The work of a Floyd county artist will be featured in the June number of a national art magazine to demonstrate how a single theme or locale may be effectively used as subject matter by an artist over a long period of time.

The six-page article, to appear in AMERICAN ARTIST MAGAZINE, will feature Gary Akers, a native of Grethel, who now resides at Union, Ky. in his restored log cabin (circa 1850). AMERICAN ARTIST is the largest art magazine published. Its article about the Floyd countian will be titled, "Gary Akers: Paintings from the Borders Brothers Farm."

Akers, whose professional training included a Master's degree in art from Morehead State University; has been a professional artist the last seven years. He received in 1976 an international grant from the Greenshields Foundation, Montreal, Canada, and it was this award which enabled the artist to devote a full year to study a favorite medium, egg tempera.

This year his painting, "Woodrow's Room," was selected by the jury of Awards for inclusion in the American Watercolor Society's 115th annual traveling exhibition. Mr. Akers is also listed in "Who's Who in American Art." He has produced 16 limited edition prints in numbers of 300 or more, along with hundreds of sketches, watercolors and a large number of egg temperas. He has placed more than 15,000 of his works in the hands of collectors, and through trade publications and dealers his work is sold in all 50 states.

Campgrounds Open For the '82 Season

Campgrounds operated by the Army Corps of Engineers' Huntington district have opened for the summer season, but some of the Corps lakes had not reached their seasonal levels as of April 30.

The lakes are lowered in varying depths in the fall to provide additional storage space for potential flood runoff. The Corps raises them again in the spring for recreation use. The rates of rise depend on rainfall, and April was relatively dry. The present conditions at the several reservoirs:

DEWEY LAKE, at summer level. A fee of $6 for the German camping area. (The state-operated Goble Branch Camp area is also open.)

GRAYSON LAKE, at summer level. State operates campground.

FISHTRAP LAKE, seven feet low. Grapevine campground is free.

JOHN W. FLANNAGAN LAKE (Va.), nine feet low. A $5 fee each for the Upper Twin and Cranesnest areas, and a $4 fee for the Lower twin area.

NORTH FORK OF POUND LAKE (Va.), five feet low. A $5 fee for the Cane Patch campground. Effective October 1, recreation facilities at North Fork will be operated by the U.S. Forest Service. The Corps of Engineers will continue to operate the dam for flood control.

HRMC Recognizes Nurses

National Nurses' Day has been designated by Congress as May 6. The "outstanding services" of the 132 registered and licensed practice nurses at Highlands Regional Medical Center were recognized this week by Clarence Traum, hospital administrator.

Many of the HRMC nurses have specialized training in various aspects of medicine such as critical care, emergency, surgery, and cardiac rehabilitation. The Medical Center's philosophy toward continuing education gives employees the opportunity to stay current in their fields, a hospital spokesman said.

"Total abstinence is easier than perfect moderation."

No, no, no,

has become

Yes, yes, yes!

For the past several months, we've had to say "No, no, no" when customers asked if we had many Hondas in stock. But the "No, no, no" days are over and the "Yes, yes, yes" days are here!

If you visit our lot during the next few days, you'll find an outstanding selection of Hondas, especially the popular Accords and LX models.

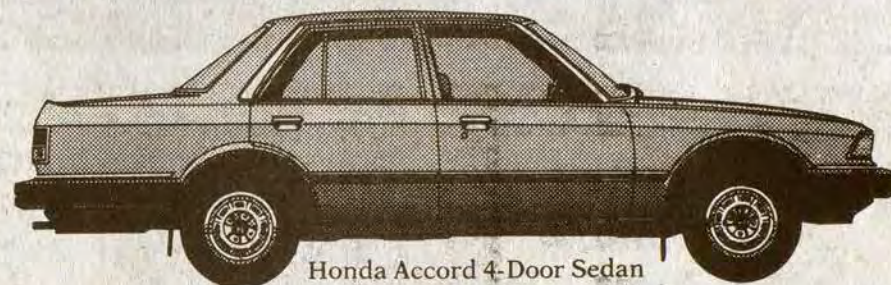

So, if you've been waiting to buy a Honda or simply wish to test-drive one, come on in. The Hondas are here, but probably not for long.

WHY HORSES?

- Why is the horse business outperforming more traditional businesses?
- Why have prices of Thoroughbred and Standardbred yearlings attained levels undreamed of just a few years ago?
- Why are major banks actively seeking customers for loans to buy breeding stock and yearlings?
- Why does the IRS give tax benefits to owners of race horses, broodmares and stallions?

Nature Trails...

By RUFUS REED

The Wild Flower Believed To Portray Christ's Passion

In the latter part of 1500, the Jesuit fathers carried on missionary work in the Americas. They were zealous in spreading the Gospel of Christ; not only were they dedicated missionaries, they were teachers and close students of nature. They saw the Creator's handiwork in beautiful wild flowers and in the manifold works of His creation. In observing the purple passion flower, they made the amazing discovery that in its various flower parts it portrayed Christ's passion—his trial and subsequent crucifixion. They often used this wild flower to illumine their sermons on Passion Week. They were the first to name this flower the Purple Passionflower.

It is truly remarkable the way this wild flower portrays Christ's passion. Here in this wild flower one sees the deeper mysteries of nature. Our Creator is the Divine Author of nature and uses nature to convey to man some of the truths of the Gospel.

In this there is seen a purple corona, which the devout Jesuits believed was a symbol of the crown placed on the head of Christ at his trial. In the flower there are five blunt stamens deep in the throat of the corolla, and the Jesuits believed these were symbols of the blunt nails in use when they nailed Christ to the cross. The vine of the flower has long tendrils coiled like a whip; the Jesuits believed these were a symbol of the whip used to lash Christ's body. Each of the large leaves has three parts, believed to represent the Holy Trinity. The flower has a sweet fragrance—a symbol of the sweetness and goodness and innocence of Christ.

The purple passion flower is found in most Southern states and is common in Central America, where the Jesuits carried on their missionary work. The flower bears pods called passion fruit.

Children call them "maypops," and delight in eating them when they turn slightly yellow on the vine.

In some tropical countries, the passion fruit is grown extensively and the juice is used to make punch.

The purple passion flower may be found in open, sunny places, trailing over shrubbery by means of its grasping tendrils. This wild flower is indeed a remarkable creation of nature.

'Kentucky Journal' Takes On A New Look

KET's weeknightly public affairs series "Kentucky Journal" is changing its format beginning Tuesday, May 4, according to Milli Fazey, the program's new producer.

"Kentucky Journal," normally seen Monday through Thursday at 7:30 p.m., begins airing one night a week—on Tuesdays only—beginning May 4. The air time will remain the same.

"Basically we hope to follow the same line as the earlier 'Journal' programs," says Fazey, "examining a single issue in-depth and interviewing personalities in the area. We hope to add a few different touches in the types of topics that are chosen for the program. There are also plans for an occasional call-in when we feel the issue warrants it."

Barbara Sutherland, KET's public affairs associate producer, will join Fazey on the program to round out the new "Journal" team.

The first program in the new format on Tuesday, May 4, will feature columnist Jon Ed Pearce who has just completed a biography of Col. Sanders. Future programs will include interviews with the four candidates in the Democratic primary and a feature on small-town symphony orchestras.

COMMITMENT IS CONVENTION THEME

The theme for the recent Alpha Gamma Convention was "Commitment: Cornerstone of The Future." Mrs. Delphia Hicks, state secretary, Mrs. Barbara Conley, president TAU chapter, Miss Ruby Akers, president-elect, and Mrs. Judy Carter, recipient of a 1000 scholarship attended the convention, which was, held April 23-25 at Spings Motel, Lexington.

Honored by Church

Annie C. Houghton, of Auxier was honored recently at a church picnic held by the Prestonsburg Seventh-Day Adventist Church. In addition to volleyball, horseshoes, and frisbee contests, everyone gathered to sing "Happy Birthday," and to share birthday cake and homemade ice cream. The church presented her with a gift to express their love and appreciation for her.

"Grandma" Houghton will be 90 on May 3. Born in Gloucester, Mass. in 1892, she had lived in New England, Texas, Bermuda, and North Carolina, before moving to Auxier in 1980. Friends in North Carolina are planning a celebration there on Monday.

She enjoys walking, church activities, baking bread, and seeing her checkbook balance. To quote from her birthday cake, she's "Going for 100!"

Garrett Senior Wins Poetry, Art Contests

Patricia Martin, of Garrett, a senior of Allen Central High School, is the winner of the Lackey-Garret. Wayland Woman's Club poetry contest. She also won first place in the drawing category (pastels) in the Seventh district art contest held at Hazard last month. Her poem follows:

Because I Live
 Because I live,
 You die.
 Because I laugh,
 You cry.
 Because I'm outspoken,
 You're withdrawn.
 Because I'm strong,
 You're weak.
 And because you bend to my commands,
 And because you never fight to make me go away,
 I continue to destroy a part of you each day.
 I am anger, self-pity, hatred....
 And I laugh at your weakness,
 And I'll laugh at your destruction,
 Because you let me live....
 And let yourself die.

PUBLIC NOTICE TO OWNERS OF RENTAL HOUSING

The Floyd County Housing Authority is administering a Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Program in Floyd County using funds provided by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Under this program, owners will rehabilitate rental units which are now substandard or have major building systems or components requiring repair or replacement. The cost of this work, which must total at least $1000 per unit, may be financed by a local lending institution, by the owner, or by any other source available to the owner. The agency does not make rehabilitation loans or grants, but will assist owners to obtain financing.

After required rehabilitation work has been completed, the agency and the owner will execute a contract which establishes a rent for the unit(s) that will cover rehabilitation costs, meet monthly operating expenses, and allow a reasonable profit on the owner's investment. For a fifteen year period, the owner will rent the rehabilitated unit(s) to eligible lower income tenants, who will pay approximately 25 percent of their income toward the rent. The agency will pay the remainder of the rent directly to the owner. The initial occupant of a rehabilitated unit may be the owner's present eligible tenant. After rehabilitation the rent (including utilities) cannot exceed the following Maximum Rents:

BEDROOM SIZE
206	244	282	319

The agency's current funds will allow rehabilitation of 35 units of rental housing as follows:

1 BR	2 BR	3 BR	4 BR
8	18	7	2

No unit will be assisted which results in the permanent displacement of current tenant.

Proposals from owners will be received by the Housing Authority until further notice.

Owners who wish to submit a proposal must obtain an application form from:

Floyd County Housing Authority
 Housing Office
 Green Acres
 Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653

Alcoholism...
The Growing Threat

By DEL DYAR, DIRECTOR,
McDowell C.P.I. Unit

A rather common statement I hear being made by people regarding someone's alcohol use goes something like this... "Well, Daddy drinks but only on weekends. He starts maybe on Friday evening and sobers up Sunday night, but I don't think he's an alcoholic."

When discussing "Daddy's" behavior while he's drinking I hear of fights, fear in the family, shame and very often violence. What I am hearing is alcoholism.

There are many definitions of alcoholism—most are wordy and complex. I like the definition given by Alcoholics Anonymous which says, "If you drink and have problems and continue to drink you're alcoholic."

Alcoholism is present in a person long before he or she becomes a daily drinker or a binge drinker. Alcoholism is born psychologically when the victim continues to use alcohol in spite of objections from others or in a manner displeasing to themselves.

In early-stage alcoholism, the individual will look forward to drinking, will manipulate his or her time and others' time so he or she can drink; will attempt to hide or conceal his or her drinking by outright denial of actual drinking or amounts consumed; may drink alone; will tend to excuse or rationalize their drinking; and will display a change in personality.

That alcohol is gaining an important place in the victim's life there is no doubt.

By the time the individual enters the terminal stage, alcohol and it's rewards are prominent, even dominant, in the alcoholic's area of needs.

Alcoholism happens when a person develops a sick, love relationship with alcohol. The love in this case is dependent; the alcoholic depends on alcohol to do for him what he cannot do for himself.

Alcohol lowers the inhibitions, therefore thinking and behavior become carefree or bizarre as a result of change in feelings. Alcohol does give one feelings of greater self esteem. The behavior accompanying these feelings might be bragging, reckless driving, grandiose lying, infidelity, getting into fights, ending up in jail, or always having to be right in cases of dispute.

After the alcohol wears off, the drinker, recalling recent escapades, usually feels embarrassed, even stupid. He may or may not apologize for errant alcoholic behavior; however, the remorse is most often there.

Scholarship Winner

Ramona "Bucky" Hall was the recipient of an art scholarship from Pikeville College. She was first place winner among the entries. The scholarship will be worth $4,000 over a four year period and will be applied to her tuition at Pikeville College.

Miss Hall entered ten works in various media to the scholarships committee. They included pencil, pastels, oil pastels, water color, and acrylics. The entry was submitted by Mrs. Caralita O'Quinn, of Allen Central High School.

Ramona is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hall, of Martin. She is a senior at Allen Central and is enrolled as an Art II student.

For Utilities, Farmer Prescribes Tighter Management, Conservation

Public-owned utilities, such as rural electric cooperatives, need to pursue competitive pricing. And, the utilities, the state and consumers need to undertake more serious conservation and management efforts to cope with the rising cost of electricity, says Tracy Farmer, secretary of Public Protection and Regulation.

Farmer recently made these recommendations in a discussion with the Kentucky Association of Electric Cooperatives.

Those deciding the fate of energy use and costs are like business partners sitting on a board of directors, he said. And, all the partners must "identify common concerns" and must "develop a strategy to handle energy and economic demands."

Planning utility development and energy use has changed dramatically over the last 10 years. Farmer cited reduced rates of growth in demand, higher construction and labor costs, and regular rate increases as the causes behind industry changes.

"Today, we're all little guys, monitoring electricity and trying to make ends meet," the secretary said. "The natural reaction of utilities and consumers is to blame somebody else for the hardships. But no one person or group is to blame."

"If there is a single culprit, it is the weak economy which has created the harsh business realities of the 1980s. Therefore, the state must answer both constituents and still encourage competition, conservation and management."

Decrease in demand for electricity has made competitive prices for the fuel more crucial than ever, the secretary said. He pointed out that, ironically, this decrease has been brought on by more conservation, slow-down in industrial expansion, and customer use of different types of fuel, such as wood, gas and coal.

To face the financial crunch resulting from less electricity use, the association "must offer comparable prices" with other fuel suppliers in the "world market."

"Kentucky not only competes with other states, but with other countries—Japan, Taiwan, Korea and Mexico," Farmer added. "This is not to say that the majority of our industry or competitive problems are with utilities. Not at all. Similar problems rest with other businesses."

The secretary also asked for aggressive conservation measures and load-management techniques.

"An aggressive conservation program counts on the utility to consider conservation as important as an investment in a new generating plant," he said.

He also included consumers and the state in the conservation efforts. Consumers have to limit electricity use, Farmer continued, and the Public Service Commission has to be careful not to overregulate either group.

The secretary noted that improved management means finding ways to control electricity use during peak demand, and effective load-management techniques need to be considered to resolve the problem.

"The real test of our managerial ability will be our ingenuity in discovering and implementing new ways of doing business," Farmer said.

"While this is no time for conducting business as usual, this is the time for finding innovative solutions to sensitive financial concerns shared by all—solutions offered by competition, conservation and management."

The Public Service Commission is one of 13 agencies in the state Public Protection and Regulation Cabinet.

IS YOUR INSURANCE AGENT LOCKED INTO ONE COMPANY?

There are 2 ways to buy insurance. You can buy your insurance from a one-company agent. But he's locked into only those policies that his company sells. So his hands are tied.

Or you can buy your insurance from an Independent Insurance Agent... the more-than-one-company agent. You see, your Big "I" Independent Agent doesn't work for one company. He represents several. So he's free to give you an independent opinion and advise you on the best coverage at the best price. And that goes for homeowners, automobile, business, life and health insurance.

Before you reach a verdict about insurance, see your Big "I" Independent Insurance Agent... the more-than-one-company agent. Do it today.

Brown Proclaims This Older Americans Month

Citing the years of service and contributions to the state's well-being, Gov. John Y. Brown Jr. has proclaimed May 1982 Older Americans Month in Kentucky.

In the proclamation it is noted that more than 569,000 older Kentuckians live in the state.

"The older Kentuckian has given years of service and contributed to the welfare and well-being of all segments of this state," Gov. Brown said in making the designation.

The theme of the national observance of Older Americans Month is "Aging Together." "This calls attention to the need to promote closer linkages among the generations of young, middle-aged and older Americans," the governor said.

Woman: Club Sponsors Community-Wide Meet On Crime Prevention

In its continuing effort to make the public aware of crime prevention, the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club held a community-wide meeting last Monday evening at the Wayland United Methodist Church.

To clubmembers and a fair attendance of area residents Trooper Phillip Tucker, of the Crime Prevention Division of Kentucky State Police, supplied literature, showed slides and gave instructions in "Home Security". After illustrating the use of the electric engraving instrument which is furnished free by the Kentucky State Police, he left several engravers to be passed out among those interested in taking part in the free "Operation Identification" program being sponsored by the Kentucky State Police. He also left Crime Check stickers to be placed in a visible location on the front of each residence whose owner has identified his valuables in the manner prescribed by Trooper Tucker.

This program, according to the speaker, has proved 80% effective in the deterrence of break-ins.

Mrs. Otto Martin, club president, said that any who did not attend the meeting and is interested in participating in this free program in crime prevention, he or she should call the Kentucky State Police headquarters in Pikeville and ask for Trooper Tucker in the Crime Prevention Division. He will furnish the forms, the engravers and the stickers to go on your residence.

Trooper Tucker will be glad, it was said, to conduct for other groups a program similar to the one given at Wayland.

★ CONSUMER ALERT ★

"Paper Pirates" "Be on the lookout for 'Paper Pirates' who try to sell office supplies to Kentucky businesses by misrepresenting themselves as the company's regular supplier." That is the warning being given by Attorney General Steven L. Beshear due to a recent outbreak of illegal activity by these so-called Paper Pirates. Non-profit organizations and government agencies are often the targets of this scheme. In addition to claiming to be the regular supplier, these fraudulent solicitors sometimes claim to be with an affiliate agency that "received a surplus" on its last order. When doing this, they will casually drop familiar names of executives, officers, and authorities of the affiliate.

All solicitations are made by telephone, and it appears that prior calls are made to determine paper brands and the types of copiers used. When they call, they try to put pressure on the agency to make an immediate decision. Often, they contend that they must deliver the goods right away due to overflow problems at their warehouse. When the products are delivered, they are usually inferior and can even cause damage to equipment. In addition, the solicitors often charge for more than was ordered.

Attorney General Beshear offers this advice: "If you suspect that you or your business has received solicitations from 'Paper Pirates', contact my Consumer Protection Division. We need your assistance in keeping these businesses out of Kentucky."

You can write to the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division at 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or call the toll-free Consumer Hotline: 1-800-432-9257.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS
By JANE BOND
Health Educator

May is National High Blood Pressure month. This is a good time for us to realize just how serious high blood pressure really is. It causes or contributes to thousands of deaths each year. Many people think that you can tell if you have high blood pressure by the way you feel. This is not the case, a person must have his blood pressure checked to know if he has high blood pressure.

The Floyd County Health Department is having blood pressure screenings throughout the county during the month of May in observance of High Blood Pressure Month. Screenings will be Wednesday May 5 at the Velocity Market in Betsy Layne; Friday May 7 at the Highland Plaza parking lot in front of Herrin-Johnson; Monday May 10 at the Wheelwright IGA; Friday May 14 at the parking lot at Hall's Pharmacy in Martin. These screenings are free to the public and everyone is urged to have his blood pressure checked during the month of May.

A nurse from the Health Department will be in Wayland at the Methodist Church on Monday May 10, from 10:00 until 2:00. She will offer T.B. skin tests, urinalyses, blood pressures, anemia screenings and immunizations. This clinic is a free service of the health department and the public is welcome.

The Health Department will be offering emergency services only on Tuesday May 11 in the afternoon and all day on Wednesday May 12, due to the staff's attending the Regional Conference in Lexington. Regular services will resume Thursday May 13.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

The family of Richard and Phyllis Martin would like to take this opportunity to thank the nursing staff at McDowell ARH Hospital. A special thanks to nurses Mary Poole, Donna Cole; doctors, Vicher, Rivera, Singayao and The Left Beaver Rescue Squad for their extra special personal care given to Kathy Martin, Perry Hall Jr., Ricky and Karen Akers; the victims of a near fatal car accident at McDowell. Many thanks to all our family and friends for their many prayers and kindness during this ordeal.

HRMC Wins PR Award

Highlands Regional Medical Center has won an award in the 1982 "Run for the Winners Circle" Annual Kentucky Hospital Association/Kentucky Society for Hospital Public Relations Awards Contest. The entry was submitted by Amy E. Conn, the hospital's public relations director, in the annual awards program which is designed to honor outstanding public relations programs produced by hospitals in Kentucky.

The award will be presented at the Annual Public Relations Awards Luncheon on May 4, 1982, held in conjunction with the Kentucky Hospital Association 53rd Annual Convention May 3-5, at the Galt House in Louisville, by Kaye Lasater, Director of Public Relations of the North Carolina Hospital Association, who judged the contest along with the North Carolina Society for Hospital Public Relations.

Alice Lloyd President Extols Late Supt. Clark at Banquet

Members of the Floyd County Chapter, Alice Lloyd College Alumni Association, held their annual banquet at May Lodge last Friday evening, with Mrs. Sarah Laven, president, presiding.

Dr. Jerry Davis, Alice Lloyd president, pointing to highlights at Alice Lloyd College, said that the first senior class since the school became a four-year college, will be graduating Saturday, May 8, when Grady Nutt, minister-television personality, will give the baccalaureate sermon at 10 a.m., and Ralph Edwards, who in 1955 featured the school on his "This Is Your Life" television program, will deliver the commencement address at 1 p.m. Listing the names of graduating seniors whose homes are in Floyd county, he said this county sends the highest number of high school graduates to A.L.C.

Dr. Davis spoke of the help and inspiration the late Charles Clark, an Alice Lloyd alumnus, who served for several years as superintendent of Floyd county schools, had been to him and to the school. A moment of silent prayer was observed for Mr. Clark and for the late Mrs. Rilda Watson, who served faithfully in many capacities at the college for many years.

President Davis presented Dr. June Buchanan, president of Caney Creek Community Center, referring to her as "Miss Caney Creek," and adding that she is "an inspiration to everyone there." "Miss June," who for many years was assistant to Mrs. Alice Lloyd, founder of the famed Knott county school, responded, "In case any of you alumni members wish to tell stories about 'Caney,' just remember, I can tell bigger stories about you."

It was announced during the evening that several writers are expected to be on the A.L.C. campus during commencement week to collect information, for possible publication, about the life and works of Dr. Buchanan.

President Davis was accompanied to this banquet-meeting by Mrs. Davis. Other dignitaries from the college were Dr. Buchanan, Dean Wallace Campbell, director of Development, Fred Mullinax and Mrs. Mullinax, and Miss Sally Slone, director of Alumni Affairs, all of whom made brief remarks. Willis Ray Hall, of Martin, A.L.C. Alumnus, gave a discussion on "What Caney Means to Me."

Elected president for the ensuing year was Mrs. Anna Sue Moore, and re-elected were John Leake, vice-president, and Mrs. Alma Lowe, secretary-treasurer.

Alumni and their guests at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Allen, Mr. and Mrs. William Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Laven, Mrs. Edith M. Hopkins, Mrs. Nelle Montgomery, Mrs. Anna Sue Stumbo, Marcus Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Martin, Mrs. Mildred Whitaker, Mrs. Myrtle Allen, Miss Ruby Akers, Mrs. Osie M. Slone, Mrs. Opal S. May, Mr. and Mrs. Tom O. McGuire, Mrs. Docia Woods, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Pitts, Willis Ray Hall, Hollie Conley, Shelby Draughn and Everett Akers.

Honored on Birthday

Elza Neeley, of the Goble-Roberts Addition, celebrated his 82nd birthday with a dinner given by his children at the home of Lloyd and Amanda Hall on May 2.

Attending the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Elza Neeley, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Neeley, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Neeley, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pack, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spradlin and Angela, Mr. and Mrs. John Hardwick and Nathan, Ricki Neeley, Petty Thompson, Lloyd Keith Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Hall and Debbie.

After dinner, a decorated birthday cake was served and gifts were presented to Mr. Neeley.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

While nausea is a fairly common complaint, its causes can often be manifold. Internal diseases, pregnancy, motion, stomach irritation and mental upset can all cause nausea. For this reason it is necessary to isolate the cause of the nausea before attempting to select a medication to combat it. A drug that works to prevent the nausea of motion sickness will be of little value to an irritated stomach. When talking to your pharmacist or physician, be sure to emphasize the origin of your discomfort if you can. This will be a great aid in prescribing an antinausea drug which is classified by the part of the body it affects.

We all can occasionally suffer from nausea, but if your symptoms persist or worsen, then it's best to consult a physician or mention the problem to your pharmacist. At COOLEY APOTHECARY we care about you and your health. That's what we're here for and we pride ourselves on our personal and professional service. Third Party payments always welcome. We're located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg. Open Mon.-Fri. from 9-5:30 and Sat. 9-5. 886-8106
