

DOING THE DIRTY WORK...Faced with a veritable mountain of burning "slag," workmen last week began the grueling task of extinguishing and removing the coal refuse pile at Lackey which has tainted the air from there to Garrett for well over a year. Green Mountain, Inc., a Charleston, W. Va. firm which was awarded the project by the federal Office of Surface Mining, has employed three Garrett men, all members of the Garrett Volunteer Fire Department, to help a supervisor and workman from Green Mountain to carry through with the company's work strategy which includes displacing smoldering sections of the burning material with bulldozers while directing streams of water to cool the hot material (as shown in photo). After the refuse is sufficiently cooled, it is spread and leveled in adjoining bottomland. The fire department at Garrett has contracted with the company to supply a fire truck and two gasoline-powered pumps for pumping water from Beaver Creek. The O.S.M. contract, which totals $158,000, calls for a layer of topsoil to be spread following leveling of the refuse pile which is expected to be complete in approximately five weeks.

Auditor Says Brackett Helped Create Surplus

Drink Control Administrator Cites Concern

The county should require an entertainment license of any retail beer store where beer is consumed on the premises and the procedure for issuing such a license should be stricter, the newly-appointed alcoholic beverage control administrator told members of the fiscal court in a special meeting last week.

Because the matter was not on the meeting's advertised agenda, the court took no official action but agreed to consider the proposals at its next regular meeting, scheduled for Jan. 21. ABC Administrator Denzil Allen urged passage of an ordinance requiring an entertainment license for any public place where beer is to be consumed, claiming that state law is unclear on this point.

Allen said he was concerned by reports that some drinking spots were open after hours and that minors were sometimes present. The ordinance he

Board in Black As Investment Earnings Grow

Prudent investments by Board of Education Treasurer Ray Brackett helped keep the Floyd school district in the black last year, an auditor told the board last Wednesday.

Confirming a report issued by Brackett in August, Don Wallen, representing Linton and Company, a Pikeville accounting firm, said the school district ended the 1981-'82 fiscal year with a surplus of $465,753. Of that amount, $120,339 represented earnings on investments—twice the earnings of the previous year, Wallen noted.

"If I were a bookie I'd have taken bets there would be no surplus this year," said the accountant, who added that the school administrators' achievement was the more striking in view of continuing cuts in government funding.

Instructional costs, mostly teacher salaries, amounted to little over half the $15.4 million budget—increasing from 47.9 percent of total receipts in 1980-'81 to 51.3 percent last year. For comparison, instructional costs represented 50 percent of total receipts in the Pike county school district last year, Wallen said.

Whereas administrative costs in Pike county represent 2 percent of the school budget, they amount only to 1.5 percent here, the accountant noted.

Activity and lunchroom accounts in individual schools were generally in good shape at the end of the year, Wallen said, though he noted that one school had a $14,000 deficit in its lunchroom fund.

The auditors' report lists a $14,867 deficit in the lunchroom fund at Prestonsburg High School, an accompanying note adding that accounting records at the school "are in a state of complete disarray." The same comment was made by the auditors last year.

The high school here was one of five county schools—the others were Betsy Layne High School, and Auxier, Garrett and Prater grade schools—whose records were "not maintained in accordance with the accounting system recommended by the Kentucky Department of Education," the auditors found.

Four schools—Prestonsburg High School, and Auxier, Martin and Maytown grade schools—apparently operated without a budget and six schools ended the year with deficits in (See Story No. 6, Page 4)

Hospital Physicians Score Temporary Win

For the time being at least, surgeons at Highlands Regional Medical Center may insist that a physician rather than a nurse be available to administer anesthesia if they think a surgical procedure would otherwise be too risky.

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley made that ruling last Thursday in granting a temporary injunction sought by about two dozen staff physicians at Highlands. The physicians had asked that the hospital not be allowed to enforce a contract it entered into with a group of nurse-anesthetists last September which gave to the nurses an exclusive right to provide anesthesia services at the hospital.

Two anesthesiologists—physicians who specialize in anesthesia—challenged the contract in October and asked the court to block it until their case could be heard. Conley turned down that request, arguing that if the physicians won their suit they could receive a monetary compensation for any losses they sustained in the meantime.

However, if a patient were to die because of complications arising from anesthesia administered by a nurse, no money could adequately compensate for the loss, argued J. K. Wells, attorney for the physicians who filed last week's injunction request.

The case had physicians defending their prerogatives—and their traditional dominance—on two fronts.

On the one hand, hospital management is encroaching on the doctors' responsibility to make decisions regarding their patients' medical care, said Dr. William B. Cook, a surgeon at Highlands. About one patient in 20 is likely to have a reaction of some type to anesthesia and an anesthesiologist is better trained than is a nurse-anesthetist to handle complications, he said.

Not having an anesthesiologist to call on "substantially increases the risk" to high-risk patients undergoing surgery, Dr. Cook said. It also violates implicit contracts between physicians and the hospital and physicians and their patients—contracts giving to the doctors the right to decide about treatment—the surgeon argued.

Since all management decisions in a hospital have to do in some way with medical care, the doctors could argue they should run the hospital, countered Highlands' attorney Phillip D. Damron. No contract gives them this right, he argued.

The decision to contract with nurse-anesthetist Floyd Bell and his associates for anesthesia services was not a medical but a business decision, Damron said.

Even before the September, 1982 contract, nurse-anesthetists were in attendance for most surgical procedures at Highlands. In return for exclusive rights at the hospital, the nurses' group guaranteed round-the-clock coverage for anesthesia services—an arrangement the hospital's two anesthesiologists would not agree to—the attorney explained.

If the doctors have their problems with management, moreover, it also became clear that some of them have misgivings about sharing the health care field with other professionals—usually with a level of training that falls somewhere between a nurse's and a doctor's—who are known (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

This Town...That World

The Prestonsburg City Council voted this week to increase the city employment tax. One man's reaction: "Now, if they'll just find us some employment."

THE UNCOMMON COLD

The term, "common cold," ranks pretty high in the misnomer department. Anybody who has one will tell you that. For the sufferer, it's most common and each attack is the worst ever.

Strange that one citizen can have more cold in the head than the entire populace has experienced all winter.

MY SYMPATHY

Friend of mine was looking for his missing hound, the other day, and I was in deep sympathy with him.

For, once upon a time, I lost a hound and I know this is no trivial matter to the dog-owner. This hound of mine had a voice that would have laid Bugle Ann in the shade, and I would, at the slightest opportunity, to this day assure one and all that never has there been his equal.

The dog became missing on a Sunday. The next morning, a cousin accompanied me on a search afoot over a distance of miles, and it was all in vain. The dog was never heard of again by any of us.

One of our first stops, near the mouth of Wilson Creek, was plumb discouraging. The woman of the house was on the front porch, stringing beans, and when I inquired if she had seen a stray dog and started into a detailed description of the dog, she held up a hand and interrupted:

"Young man," said she, "do you know what I think about you two, out on a Monday morning looking for an old hound when you should be at home, working?"

Apparently she didn't expect or want (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

Perry Shootout May End Boleyn's Career

The tragedy-ridden career of Roy Boleyn, 31, former Floyd county man, as a State Police trooper may have come to an end last Tuesday when he was critically wounded during a gunfight on Glomawr Hollow, near Hazard, in which three persons died.

Boleyn was flown the following day from Hazard to Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, where one kidney and his colon were removed. A bullet so damaged his spine that he is expected to be paralyzed.

Boleyn was one of eight officers who went to the home of Tommy Allen Combs, 41, to serve a warrant on Combs, alleged holder of a long police record. In the ensuing shootout—which, officers say, was begun by Combs—three died on the scene: Combs, Perry County Deputy Sheriff Alex Eversole, 41, and Combs' nephew, 14-year-old Wayne Davis. In addition to Boleyn, State Troopers Floyd Hunsaker and Mikey Turnbow, 26, were wounded but not seriously.

Boleyn, said to have been the first officer inside the Combs house, was shot twice in his abdomen. One report said the bullets penetrated a bulletproof vest he wore, but another said the vest worn by Boleyn was lighter than the full vest and did not protect the abdomen.

The wounded trooper is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boleyn, who reside near the Floyd-Knott line on Salt Lick Creek, a few miles from Hueysville.

The following is excerpted from daily newspaper accounts of the shooting and subsequent investigation:

State police said that Combs began shooting from inside his house after troopers yelled at him to come out.

But others, including the mother of the dead youth, Betty Davis, 37, said officers broke into the house without announcement and began firing their guns.

"Nobody had fired until they came in," she said. "They came in shooting."

Gov. John Y. Brown Jr., who flew from Frankfort by helicopter to Lexington, arrived at the hospital about (See Story No. 7, Page 4)

Waste System Default Wanted By Some, Bond Agent Alleges

As they met Thursday to appoint a new commission to oversee the county's troubled solid waste system, members of the fiscal court learned of allegations that unnamed persons want to see the system destroyed.

The charges were contained in a Dec. 12 letter to County Attorney Arnold Turner, Jr. from Joseph S. Reis, the officer in charge of Kentucky bond transactions for Seasongood and Mayer, a Cincinnati securities investment firm. The company floated the 1980 revenue bond issue that financed the county garbage system. Copies of Reis' letter were distributed among members of the fiscal court at a special meeting called to consider the current crisis in the system.

As evidence of what he termed "the skulduggery which has apparently permeated the Floyd County Solid Waste transaction," Reis claimed his firm had "learned through reliable sources that it is the desire of certain people to throw Floyd County Solid Waste into a state of default."

"Also, it has been learned that these same individuals feel that Seasongood and Mayer...would be pushovers and would idly sit by while this scenario evolved... We will under no circumstances permit the system to be operated in receivership, private franchise or otherwise," Reis asserted.

The bond agent does not name those he suspects of wanting to drive the system into receivership.

Quite apart from the benefits of trash removal, Floyd county has compelling reasons to make the present system work, Reis pointed out. The county is liable to make good any failure of Floyd County Solid Waste, Inc. to make payments on its bonds; both AMBAC, the insurer, and the Kentucky Pollution Abatement Authority, issuer of the bonds, would be certain to "take whatever action they could" to see the bonds were paid up; and any failure to do so would destroy the county's reputation in investment circles, the bond agent warned.

If a default seemed imminent, his firm would seek a federal court order to seize equipment and foreclose on the landfill site, Reis said.

To replace the former commissioners, the fiscal court named to the board Robert McAninch, of Prestonsburg, Elmer Campbell, of Allen, Otis Johnson, of Bevinville, Ned Bush, of Harold and, as the nominee of Judge-Executive Lafferty, John Allen, of Prestonsburg. McAninch, who was restored to the board at the bond firm's insistence, will be its chairman, Lafferty indicated.

Also at the insistence of the securities firm, the fiscal court agreed to an independent audit of the solid waste agency's books and—over the objections of John Allen—to meet with Reis later this month, probably at the next regularly scheduled fiscal court meeting on Jan. 21.

In requesting issuance of another $200,000 in bonds to finance the purchase of more equipment, Allen told him some of the present equipment (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

Find Span Here a Bridge Too Weak

When Chuck Akers, Mike Ormerod, Rick Darby and Roy Roberts set out to retrieve a malfunctioning transformer from radio station WPRT's tower across the river from Ball Alley curve here, Saturday afternoon, their only real dread was crossing the "swinging" bridge over the Big Sandy, a span which has been in a rickety condition for about as long as anyone can remember and which has been used in recent years only by a handful of residents of "the far side" of the river.

With Ormerod, station manager, and Akers, a Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad officer handling the dolly which was being used to transport the 380-lb. transformer back to their waiting vehicles parked along Lake Drive, the four men began to breathe more easily as they came to within about 20 feet of the end of their trip. It was just about that time, though, that a 12-ft. section of the bridge, joists and all, fell.

While Darby and Roberts, WPRT employees, managed to cling to the spindly steel cables of the old span, Ormerod and Akers plummeted about 25 feet straight down to the river bank along with the dolly and transformer. Akers, who said he was most concerned with the relationship of the dolly and transformer to his body when the fall began, described the descent as fairly brief, but, he added, "it seemed like I hit forever."

Neither men were badly hurt although both reported a great deal of soreness from the impact. Roberts and Darby, who managed to walk the supporting guy wires back to an apparently safe section of decking on the structure found themselves isolated on the "wrong" side of the void in the bridge's surface and were able to cross only after the Prestonsburg Fire Department arrived and spanned the gap with ladders.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS
By JANE BOND
Health Educator

Cancer of the uterus is the third most deadly form of malignant disease in American women and causes 11,000 deaths yearly. This disease is also one of the most curable of all cancers, so why do so many women die from it each year? These deaths could have been prevented if the cancers had been detected and treatment started in the earliest stages. There is a simple test for cervical cancer; this is the Pap test. This test takes only a few moments of a woman's time and it could save her life.

All women are urged to have regular Pap tests to protect themselves from uterine cancer, but those women age 45 and over are especially urged to have yearly Pap tests since this is the high risk age for the disease.

The Floyd County Health Department is having a Pap clinic on Friday January 14 from 8:30 until 11:30 and from 1 until 2. This clinic is a free service of the Health Department.

A nurse from the health department will be in Harold at Ward's Health Food Store on Tuesday, January 18, from 10 until 2. She will offer T.B. skin tests, urinalyses, anemia screenings, blood pressures, and immunizations (baby shots). This clinic is a free service of the health department and the public is welcome.

One Floyd Permit Ready As Jan. 18 Deadline Near

The first comprehensive permit under permanent surface-mining regulations was issued last Thursday to the Bow Valley Coal Co., of Middlesboro, and one of two more permits expected to be issued soon will be to R & R Processing and Mining, of Prestonsburg.

As these permits were issued, or ready for issuance, the Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement reminded coal operators to apply for permits by Saturday, Jan. 18, or face orders to shut down.

The deputy commissioner of the Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Larry Grasm, said about 750 operations could be shut down after Jan. 18 because their authority to operate under prior permits will expire.

Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Secretary Jackie Swigart said Bow Valley's "conscientious work" in preparing the new permit application shows that coal companies can get the job done under the new, more complex regulations.

The permanent regulations require coal companies to compile and submit "a tremendous amount" of data, compared with past rules, she said. The data concerns such things as surface-water and acid conditions. The goal is to better prevent environmental problems.

A Bow Valley official said it took about 600 man-hours and cost between $20,000 and $25,000 to prepare the application.

The federal government granted Kentucky primary responsibility, or primacy, for regulating surface mining within the state on May 18.

Under federal law, when a state assumes primacy, existing operations must apply for new, permanent-program permits within two months and the state must act on the application within eight months.

Because 7,200 permits existed on May 18, state and federal officials realized the deadlines could not be rigidly applied to enter the coal industry or state regulators in Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 coal-producing state.

Officials decided to require operators of existing mines to file only a short-form transition application by July 18, with the deadline for comprehensive applications delayed to Jan. 18.

Existing operations will not be permitted to continue past Jan. 18 unless they have applied for the new permit.

State government has been allowed one year to process the comprehensive applications. Top priority will be given to "large operations and operations with significant environmental concerns," according to a statement from the Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement Department.

Permit applications for those operations that might finish mining before the application is processed will be handled last, the department said.

Because review of the applications will be spread throughout a year, the department will allow applicants to delay submitting certain technical data until the department is ready to consider the application.

About 3,200 transition applications were received by July 18, indicating that about 4,000 existing permits would expire as of Jan. 18.

It was said that about 3,250 of the 4,000 were for two acres or less and thus not covered by federal law; mined out and in the reclamation phase; or expected to be mined out by Jan. 18.

About 750 other permits are for operations nearly mined out or those already shut down because their coal cannot be mined profitably in the current market, he said.

Such operations can still apply for a new permit but they cannot legally operate after Jan. 18 until the application is processed and the permit issued.

Do Survivors of A Sudden-Death Feel The "Stages of Death"?

In her book, ON DEATH AND DYING, Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross indicates that the acceptance of any death usually goes through these stages: shock and denial; great anger and trying to place blame; a brief period of bargaining followed by a long and often deep depression; then, hopefully, ultimate acceptance of the facts of life—and death.

Dr. Kubler-Ross further states that the survivors of sudden-death victims must go through the same stages of grief as for survivors of those whose death comes slowly.

Reading about and becoming better acquainted with the stages of grief can provide insights for thoughtful contemplation. Reaching a point of understanding how others have had to cope with similar situations can provide strength and consolation at the time of death of a loved one.

We have quite a few books and lists of others which may assist you in coping with your loss of loved ones. We stand ready to help you as best we can. Remember, your needs are our concerns.

The Solid Waste Crisis

The Times does not attempt to fix the blame for the critical situation faced by the county's solid waste agency. We hear charges that the finances of the waste collection system have been recklessly handled, that the payroll is far too high, that other waste of funds has been committed or at least tolerated.

We do not know. But this we do know:

1. The system cannot continue to operate with only a fraction of those served by it paying the monthly bills on which the system must depend to bear not only current expenses but also amortize outstanding bonds as they become due.

2. We know that this is Floyd county's last hope of a comprehensive, workable garbage collection program, without which the countryside will continue to be a shameful garbage dump and the streams of the county clogged with refuse.

As matters stand, the importance of resorting to the spartan policy of cutting expenses wherever possible and collecting from all, and not only from the public-spirited few who pay voluntarily, becomes obvious. It is not a higher monthly charge to individuals for the collection and disposal of their garbage that is needed. More sensible would be the collection from all at present rates.

was not efficient and that many man-hours were being lost, Reis said. "Unfortunately, this does not explain the fact that 40 to 60 percent of the billings are not being collected," the bond agent observed.

According to Reis, Allen said that if the additional bonds were issued the agency would raise monthly garbage fees and would take delinquents to court and, failing that, the system could be operated by a receiver.

As the county's financial adviser, his firm would not permit the solid waste district to pass into receivership, Reis said, citing the case of the Allen Water District, which did that and "blemished the county's reputation for many years."

Reis said he would recommend to the Bank of Winchester, bond trustees, that Floyd county be given 30 days in which to repay $90,000 drawn from a reserve fund to meet principal and interest payments on the garbage agency's bond debt last November, and that from now on payments be made on a monthly rather than a semi-annual basis.

"Should either of these two conditions not be met, then a seizure and foreclosure of the waste district system's assets is obviously the only solution that we are left with in order to protect the bond holder," Reis warned.

Before it would issue any more bonds, Reis said, his firm would require:

—a complete audit "by a CPA of our selection" of all purchase vouchers for the equipment bought from East Kentucky Mack;

—a CPA audit of the Floyd County Solid Waste operations;

—information concerning the length of time the landfill site was held by the previous owners, the purchase price, the reason for their "refusal to take bonds in lieu of cash" as originally planned; and —information about "any such matters which would cast a light on the reasons for the inability to meet the debt obligation."

The county's solid waste system would not be the only victim, were a default to occur, Reis warned. The fact that AMBAC, insurer of the solid waste bonds, is a subsidiary of MGIC Insurance, insurer of Floyd and Johnson counties' 1982 housing bond issue, briefly put those bonds in jeopardy, he noted.

Issuance of bonds for the new First Commonwealth Bank building here as well as future bond issues for county or school projects would be seriously imperiled by default on the solid waste bonds, he said.

Unless the bonds are brought up to current status, Seasongood and Mayer will have no choice but to notify the bondholder, Allstate Insurance, and the insurer, said Reis, adding, "Needless to say, the reputation of the county will be entirely ruined if we have to take this action."

collectively as mid-level practitioners.

The group includes such health workers as nurse-anesthetists, nurse-practitioners, nurse-midwives, and physician-assistants. While the legal status of mid-level practitioners varies from state to state, their numbers and political pull have steadily increased in the past decade, often over the protests of physicians' groups.

Testifying last Thursday, Dr. Donald V. Bryson said he felt anesthesia should always be administered by an anesthesiologist. The use of nurse-anesthetists at Highlands had "drastically lowered the quality of care" at the hospital, he said.

Moreover, there was "absolutely no improvement in coverage" for anesthesia services since the hospital signed a contract with the nurse-anesthetists, he testified.

Pediatrician Dr. Kamaljeet Vidwan said he had seen a "dramatic decrease" in the number of obstetrical cases handled at Highlands, a fall-off he attributed to public awareness that anesthesiologists were no longer available there.

After a Caesarean section, he has sometimes been called to attend a baby born "sleepy" because of the effects of anesthesia given to the mother by a nurse-anesthetist, Dr. Vidwan said.

If his own wife were the patient involved, he would choose an anesthesiologist to put her to sleep, the pediatrician said in response to a question by Judge Conley. Choosing a nurse-anesthetist for anesthesia would be like choosing a nurse-midwife rather than an obstetrician to deliver the baby, he explained.

The hospital's lawyer and Scott Preston, attorney for nurse-anesthetist Bell, conceded that anesthesia services at the hospital would be enhanced by having an anesthesiologist available and said the hospital was seeking one who would be willing to enter an agreement which provided continuous coverage. In the meantime, the hospital's right to contract with the nurse-anesthetists should be upheld, they contended.

"It's not going to do you any good to have the best expert in the world if he's not there (when you need him)," Preston observed.

In deciding instead for the physicians, Judge Conley was apparently impressed by the consent form signed by patients undergoing surgery at Highlands. The release, which authorizes the surgeon and "whomever he may designate as his assistant" to perform the operation, shows that "the hospital recognizes the doctor should choose" who is to administer anesthesia, the judge concluded.

Council Votes Rate Increase On Worker Tax

Beginning April 1, the city's occupational tax will rise from 1 to 1½ percent as the result of a Prestonsburg City Council decision Monday. The increase is needed "so we'll have some money to run the city on," explained Councilman Paul Phillip Hughes.

Police Chief Jim Curtis reckoned the city might recoup about $6000 a year from motorists who neglect to pay parking fines. Because of lax enforcement, only half of those receiving tickets pay the fine, he said.

Curtis recommended that wheel locks be applied to cars whose owners accumulate tickets without paying them. The locking devices would be applied only after a motorist was given written warning and would be removed only after he or she paid up, according to the police chief's proposal.

The council took no action on the recommendations.

There will be no money for repair of streets or sidewalks in Prestonsburg this year unless the state Division of Disaster and Emergency Services forgives an old $28,000 debt, the council was told. The debt stems from a grant awarded for repair of damage caused by the April, 1977 flood.

Following an audit of the grant, state officials disallowed claims totaling $28,000, arguing that some of the money was not used for repair of flood damage, contractors were hired at rates higher than those allowed under the grant, and that there were no receipts for some reported expenditures. Unless the city pays the money back, it will be deducted from the city's municipal and coal severance tax allotments, state officials have threatened.

Developers of the proposed Holiday Inn on Katy Friend have asked the council to apply for Community Development Block Grant funds to lay water and sewer lines to their project site. The council tabled the request until the annexation of that section has been concluded.

The council received a report from the Floyd County Joint Planning Commission recommending that several sites on North Arnold Avenue be reclassified from residential to commercial but took no action on the proposal pending another public hearing, this one before the council itself, which was set for Jan. 27 at 7 p.m.

The council voted to advertise for a new police cruiser but tabled indefinitely the police chief's request that four police vehicles be maintained rather than three as at present.

their activity funds, in violation of state law.

Wheelwright High School showed a $2660 deficit, the bulk of the debt owed by the boys' basketball fund. Activity funds at Garrett and Allen and general funds at Martin, Osborne and Stumbo were also in the red, although Osborne and Stumbo reported hefty surpluses in their "concessions" funds.

At the request of Sheriff Henry Hale, the board agreed to increase from 2½ to 3 percent the sheriff's commission for collecting school taxes.

Floyd county's representatives in the state legislature will be asked to intercede with the governor in a bid to get a backstop road to serve the new Betsy Layne High School, it was agreed. When there was no response by state officials to a petition bearing 1000 signatures, he wrote to Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr., Supt. E. P. Grigsby, Jr. told the board. An assistant to the Transportation Secretary replied that that department would consider the project only if the state or local board of education put up the $48,000 which the road is expected to cost.

In response to a complaint by Mrs. Christine Kidd that her son's class has insufficient text books, Supt. Grigsby said he was checking into the matter. The boy is a student at McDowell grade school.

At the request of Jean Rosenberg, PTA president there, the board agreed to repair the roof at Clark Elementary School.

Hired by the board were: Tammy Childers Hall, second grade teacher at Harold Elementary School, and Sally Ann Osborne, teacher at Clark School; Georgia M. Lewis, Earlen Conley, William G. Conn, Hope Hall, Sandra K. Osborne, and Coranne Estep, certified substitute teachers; and Ned Hagan Bush, II, Estill Miller, Jane E. Gearheart, Madge Denney, Cecilia Denney, Jane Elizabeth Newsome, Kenneth Wallace, Rebecca Ann Collins, and Melinda G. Hopkins, emergency substitute teachers; Marcella Goble, cook at Betsy Layne High School, and Juanita Conn, cook at McDowell; Bobby D. Whitaker, Donald Osborne, Maxine Kinney, substitute bus drivers; Roberta Kidd, Elva Case, Dwayne Akers, substitute custodians at Betsy Layne High School.

3:45 p.m. Wednesday. Brown and Billy G. Wellman acting state police commissioner, later told reporters at a press conference at the hospital that Boleyn remained in critical condition.

"His spinal cord has been either badly bruised or severed," Brown said. "The next six to eight hours are critical as far as kidney functions and as far as the abdominal wounds."

Brown praised Boleyn, 31, a nine-year veteran of the state police. "This man you have to consider a very courageous hero," Brown said.

He added later: "It would be difficult to have law enforcement in Kentucky east of Lexington without the Kentucky State Police. I think any citizen of the mountains would tell you that."

Trooper Hunsaker, who was shot in both arms, was in good condition in Lexington's Central Baptist Hospital.

Gov. Brown said Boleyn was on the front porch and reached over and apparently got the deputy sheriff's shotgun and shot and killed Combs.

"Otherwise it was very likely that two or three other people would have been killed."

Brown added, "Even the doctor was talking about how brave he (Boleyn) was—not only how he handled the incident, but how he handled the surgery and his treatment" after being wounded.

The ordeal was not the first for Boleyn, a 9-year state police veteran.

On Nov. 24, 1974, Boleyn shot and killed two Floyd county men who reportedly attacked him at Salt Lick when he stopped them for a traffic violation.

According to news accounts of the incident, the trooper shot Phillip Neeley, 27, and Earl Vanderpool, 28, as they tried to take his gun.

Chester Neeley, Phillip Neeley's father, said he went to the Floyd county jury on more than one occasion to seek an indictment against Boleyn. The grand jury heard Neeley's side of the story but did not indict Boleyn, Neeley said.

Boleyn's wife was killed soon afterwards in an auto accident while driving to Prestonsburg for a court hearing on the shootings.

Boleyn was one of the officers dispatched to the scene.

P'burg Community Chorus To Meet Monday Evening

The Prestonsburg Community Chorus will meet Monday, Jan. 17, at Prestonsburg Community College, Room J155, at 7 p.m. At this time the Chorus will begin work on "Requiem by Mozart" which it will perform in May, 1983.

The chorus, which has been in existence 18 years, is composed of lay musicians. Anyone interested in singing good choral literature is eligible and is invited to join the group. According to Gus M. Kalos, director, the chorus will need to add many new voices this semester. Anyone interested in joining the group should attend the first meeting Monday evening. The chorus may be taken for college credit.

Mrs. Fannie Tussey Tuttle, 71, of Garrett, died last Wednesday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital in Martin following a short illness.

Born August 18, 1911 in Knott county, she was a daughter of the late Marion and Cinda Hicks Chaffins.

She is survived by her husband, Jay Tuttle; one son, Eugene Presley, of Versailles; five stepsons, Bill, Harvey, and Doug Tuttle, all of Stroh, Ind.; Isom and Rodney Tuttle, both of Garrett; one daughter, Lisa Tuttle, also of Garrett; five stepdaughters, Edna Mae Tuttle and Nadine Powers, both of Stroh, Ind.; Ruby Newsome, of Grethel, Barbara Bailey, of Salyersville, Cinda Hicks, of Wayland; two sisters, Martha Gibson, of Garrett, and Nancy Jane Combs, of Versailles; two grandchildren, 35 stepgrandchildren, three great-grandchildren and nine step-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church by Regular Baptist ministers, and burial was made in the Chaffins cemetery at Garrett under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

Leonard J. Lafferty

Services were held Dec. 16, for a former Pikeville man, Leonard J. Lafferty, 34, who died due to injuries sustained Dec. 13 in an automobile accident in Kingston, N.Y.

He was born at Martin, Feb. 22, 1948, the son of Joe and Opal Isaac Lafferty. He grew up in Pikeville and was in the Pikeville High School band where he won a music scholarship to Morehead State University which he attended. Mr. Lafferty moved to New York in 1971. He owned and operated his own business, Home Entertainment and Audio Designs, in Kingston.

He was a member of The First Baptist Church in Beaver, W. Va., and was a member of the Uptown Businessmen's Association in Kingston.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his wife, the former Pamela Mattice; two daughters, Melissa and Megan Lafferty and one son, Jonas Lafferty, all at home; one sister, Gladys Ann Lafferty, of Lexington; one brother, James, of Beckley, W. Va.; his maternal grandmother, Anna Isaac, of Martin, and his paternal grandmother, Darcus Lafferty, of Martin.

Joe Bill Ward

Joe Bill Ward, 81, of North Manchester, Ind., formerly of Dry Ridge, died last Saturday at the Wabash County Hospital in Wabash, Ind., following a long illness.

Born May 1, 1901 in Tomahawk, he was a son of the late Ed and Sarah Moore Ward. A retired miner, he was a member of the Dry Ridge Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving him are four daughters, Mrs. Emogene Nordman, of North Manchester, Ind.; Mrs. Alta Howard, in Florida; Mrs. Geneva Hamilton, of Frankfort; Mrs. Rita Faye Hedges, of Dry Ridge; two sons, Donald Lincoln Ward and Eddie Ray Ward, both of Dry Ridge; one stepdaughter, Laura Howard, of Manchester, Ind.; one brother, Ira Ward, of Chillicothe, O.; a sister, Pricie Ward, in Kentucky; 18 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. today (Wednesday) at the Evangel Assembly of God Church in North Manchester by the pastor, Lowell McLane and Ralph Johnson. Burial was made in the Laketon cemetery in Laketon, Indiana under direction of the Bender Funeral Home.

Arvel Bryant

Funeral services for Arvel Bryant, 51, who died at his home at Melvin Monday, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Joppa Regular Baptist Church at Melvin with ministers of the church officiating.

Born March 27, 1931, he was a son of the late B. H. and Betty Little Bryant.

He is survived by two brothers, Roy Bryant, of Springfield, O., and Troy Bryant, of Lexington, and one sister, Mrs. Thelma Newsome, of Eton Rapids, Michigan.

Burial will be made in the Matthew Tackett cemetery at Melvin under direction of the Merion Funeral Chapel.

Emmitt Hamilton

Funeral rites will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday at the Samaria Regular Baptist Church at Teabery for Emmitt Hamilton, 70, of Teabery, who died Monday at the Methodist Hospital in Pikeville following a short illness. Regular Baptist ministers will officiate.

Born February 11, 1912, he was a son of the late German and Mindy Newsome Hamilton and was a retired miner.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice N. Hamilton; three sons, Alonzo Hamilton, of Taylor, Mich., John L. and Jan Marlin Hamilton, both of Teabery; three daughters, Virble Brown, of Allen Park, Mich., Dorothy F. Hamilton, of Lincoln Park, Mich., and Eva Pauline Brown, of Teabery; one brother, John Hamilton, and three sisters, Sarah Hamilton, Sadie Blankenship and Maxie Blankenship, all of Teabery. Ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Burial will be made in the Hamilton cemetery at Teabery under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

Oscar Reynolds

Oscar Reynolds, 70, of Goble-Roberts Addition, Prestonsburg, died Tuesday, January 4, at the Rockcastle County Hospital in Mt. Vernon following a long illness.

Born November 7, 1912 at Ligon, he was a son of the late Jeff and Matilda Hamilton Reynolds and was a retired iron worker and miner. He was first married to Lizzie Tackett, and after her death in 1938, he later married Oma Branham, who survives him. He had been a member of the Goble-Roberts Free Will Baptist Church for 15 years.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by six sons, James C. Reynolds, of Goble-Roberts Addition, Omer Reynolds, of West Palm Beach, Fla., Vernon Reynolds, of Riverview, Mich., Miles Jefferson Reynolds, of Wyandotte, Mich., Kenneth Darrell Reynolds, of Riverview, Mich., and Minis Newsome, of Taylor, Mich.; four daughters, Mrs. Wanda Lou Patierno, and Mrs. Geneva Wright, both of Belleville, Mich.; Mrs. Dolly Ralph, of Carlisle, Mich.; and Mrs. Thelma Louise Clark, of Harold; four brothers, Homer Reynolds, of Catteltsburg, Bill Reynolds, of Taylor, Mich., Calvin Reynolds, of Jack's Creek, and Gaylord Reynolds, of Dayton, O.; six sisters, Mrs. Monie Dameron, of Wyandotte, Mich., Mrs. Maudie Meade and Mrs. Ruby Akers, both of Dayton, O.; Mrs. Vern Murray, of Whitehouse, Mrs. Madge Spurgeon, of Paintsville, and Mrs. John Whitt, of Canton, O.; 33 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m. last Friday in the chapel of the Floyd Funeral Home by the Revs. Jack Derossett, Kenneth Ray Daniels, and Bill Campbell. Burial was made in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel.

GOSPEL SING SCHEDULED AT MAYTOWN METHODIST

The Maytown Methodist Church will sponsor a Gospel Sing featuring the True Believers and the Maytown Methodist Trio on Saturday, January 15, at 7 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend.

IN APPRECIATION

The family of Minnie Tackett thanks the good friends and neighbors for all the love and consideration they gave us in recent days. We especially want to thank Dr. Mary Hall, who doctored our beloved mother for many years and we deeply appreciate Dr. Hall's associates and the nursing staff and hospital personnel for their care and kindness. She leaves behind her loving husband of 58 years.

THE FAMILY

Minnie Vance Tackett

Mrs. Minnie Vance Tackett, 76, of McDowell, died last Wednesday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital following a long illness.

Born October 10, 1907, she was the daughter of the late Monroe and Lettie Turner Vance. She had been a member of the Old Regular Baptist Church for 19 years. Her husband of 58 years, Marion Tackett, survives.

Other survivors include five sons, Linvil Roe, Junior, and Roy Tackett, all of McDowell, Walk L. Tackett, of Eastern, and Wade Tackett, of Printer; six daughters, Mary Patton, of Glendale, Ariz.; Irene Tackett, of Printer, Helen Hall, Columbia Mullins, and Verlie Mae Tackett, all of McDowell, Gail Robinson, of Minnie; one half-sister, Marie Stumbo, of McDowell; 43 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Friday at the Pilgrim Rest Regular Baptist Church at Price, and burial was made in the Lucy Hall cemetery at McDowell under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Morris Thornsburg who passed away Jan. 9, 1980.

Three years have gone by, dad, since God called you away, but you left fond memories in our hearts to stay.

When the children come to visit, they miss your sweet voice, saying, "let's take a cup of coffee and go to the back porch."

You would sit there for hours telling how times used to be, chewing your tobacco and watching your bees.

Dad, you are our loss, but you are heavens gain, and one day I'll join you to part never again.

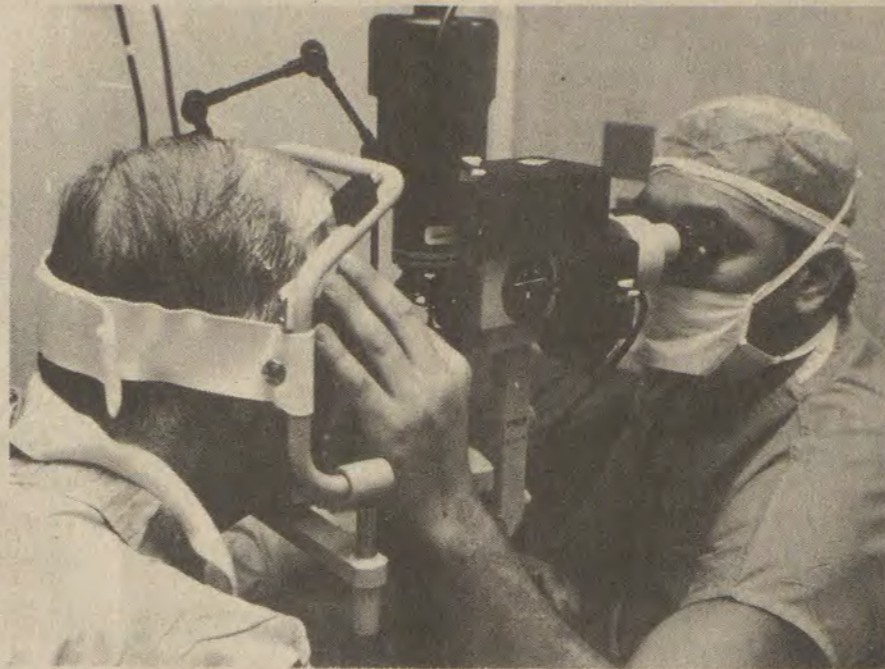

When Heavens gates open, I can almost hear you say, "come on in, Mary we're together to stay."

For there in God's kingdom no good-bys are known. Yes, Morris, you've just gone on ahead to be there to welcome me home.

SADLY MISSED BY WIFE, MARY THORNSBURY AND CHILDREN

Laser Eye Surgery at Highlands Said First at East Ky. Hospital

Dr. Micheal Minix performs the new laser surgery to treat glaucoma patient Tom Pitman of Paintsville.

By AMY E. CONN

Tom Pitman, of Paintsville, was seated before a machine in the Highlands Regional Medical Center operating room. It flashed a bright green light into his eyes. He felt no pain, and 15 minutes later the procedure was finished and he went home.

Mr. Pitman was the first patient at Highlands Regional to receive laser surgery for glaucoma. After two treatments, the glaucoma problem has been controlled. Dr. Micheal Minix, the ophthalmologist who performed the surgery, explained, "Glaucoma causes pressure on the eye. With laser surgery, we can create new openings in an angle of the eye to drain the excess fluid. This lets off the pressure and preserves vision. One or more laser treatments are used, depending on the severity of the condition."

The Argon Laser 900, the newest model of its type, is used by Dr. Minix at Highlands. Argon is a rare gas that is electrically charged. Through this process it produces high energy light that is used to treat infections of the retina, abnormal blood vessels, bleeding, inflammations, retinal holes, and glaucoma.

The use of lasers in surgery dates back to the late 60's, though such use has recently been expanded. Just last year the glaucoma treatment was developed. It is also successfully used for diabetic eye disorders to preserve central vision. Highlands Regional is the first hospital in Eastern Kentucky to offer this service.

Previously, surgery and one week's hospital stay were necessary to treat glaucoma. Current laser technology has simplified treatment greatly. It is done on an outpatient basis which saves the patient a lot of money. The success rate of the new laser surgery is high and complications are minimal.

There are some symptoms of eye disorders to be aware of, according to Dr. Minix who has offices in Prestonsburg and Paintsville. Painful and/or red eyes and sudden change of vision are typical indications. Many times no obvious symptoms are displayed, but the disorders are found in routine eye exams, he said.

Ella M. Geuvremont

Mrs. Ella M. Jones Geuvremont, 48, of Cincinnati, O., formerly of Bypro, died last Saturday at Jewish Hospital in Cincinnati following a prolonged illness.

Born October 25, 1934, she was a daughter of Mrs. Rhoda Tackett Jones, of Bypro, and the late Willie Jones. She was a member of the Northern New Home Old Regular Baptist Church.

In addition to her mother, she is survived by her husband, Norman Geuvremont; three sons, James, Steven, and Danny Geuvremont, all of Cincinnati; two daughters, Mrs. Henrietta Moody, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Glenda West, of Detroit, Mich.; three brothers, Hershel Jones, of Garrett, Randall Jones, of Clarksville, Ind., and Billie Ray Jones, of Bypro; one sister, Beulah Patrick, of Wheelwright, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. today (Wednesday) at the home of her mother at Bypro by ministers of the Regular Baptist Church, and burial will be made in the Buckingham cemetery under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Frank Shell express their appreciation to all who sent food, flowers and the words of comfort during our bereavement. We thank the ministers, Carter Funeral Home and any who expressed sympathy in any way.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to everyone who provided food, flowers or offered sympathy in any way during the recent death of our loved one, Jennie Dillon. We would like to offer a special thanks to the Highland Regional Medical Center, the Floyd Funeral Home and also to Dave Campbell and Dianne Porter for the beautiful hymns, also to the Rev. Green Boyd.

NIECES AND NEPHEWS

Identity Sought

(Composite drawing of suspect)

Authorities are seeking the identity and whereabouts of a man who on Dec. 29 gained entry to a Paintsville home and at Knifepoint forced the lone woman occupant to submit to sodomy and robbery. Entry was effected, Paintsville Chief of Police Ross Spears said, by telling the woman he was looking for a house to buy and had been sent there by a local realtor. The assailant, it was said, has been known on other occasions to employ the same tactics in getting inside a dwelling, and in each case sexual assault is attempted or committed.

The suspect is described by police as about 25 years of age, 5-10 to 6 feet tall, with black hair and mustache. When last seen he was wearing a black leather jacket and blue levis.

Any authentic information should be reported to Chief of Police Spears (call, collect, 606-789-4221) or State Detective Kenneth Deboard (606-789-7311).

Conducts Family Heritage Day

Family Heritage Day, held recently at Martin Grade School, brought together students, teachers and various community groups in numerous and varied activities in what is expected to become an annual event at the school. In the above photo, Ruby Mayo's fifth grade, working as a "family" group, made this classroom quilt, with each child contributing a square. Chances were then sold to members of the class and Elizabeth Likens came out the lucky winner. In photo below, members of the senior citizens' organization share their craft skills by demonstrating wreath making in Mrs. Ora Mae Allen's class.

Unique Medicine Is Blood Gift

By PAT PHILLIPS

January is National Volunteer Blood Donor Month, and President Reagan is encouraging "every American to join in this expression of concern by offering the gift of blood." President Reagan, who himself required transfusions after an assassination attempt in March, 1981, pointed out that "there is no alternate source for most blood products. When the ill and injured need transfusion, only another human being can provide this unique medicine."

Surveys show that less than 5% of Americans eligible to give blood actually do so. More than 30,000 pints of blood are used nationwide every day. If everyone who is eligible to do so would give just once a year, the blood needs for that year would be assured.

The Central Kentucky Blood Center provides 38 hospitals in 43 counties with 160 pints of blood every day. The lifeline of all blood centers is the volunteer donor who gives his or her most valuable resource so that others may live. CKBC's local donor facility is the Prestonsburg Donor Station in the City Building. If you are interested in becoming part of a life saving experience, call 886-1557 for more information.

In 1982 there were 1,258 pints of blood donated at the Donor Station, an increase of 170 units over 1981. CKBC and the Prestonsburg Donor Station are proud to join with President Reagan in supporting National Blood Donor Month and salute those donors who came forward to give so that others might live. Every tomorrow needs blood donors today.

CARD OF THANKS

The brothers and sisters of Zelma Anderson would like to extend our sincere thanks to our friends, neighbors and relatives for the sympathy and concern shown us during our time of sorrow. A special thanks to all our brothers and sisters in Christ who have supported us with their love and prayers during the 140 days of grievous waiting to find the whereabouts of our sister. We would also like to extend our thanks to the First Baptist Church of McDowell, its members and minister for their love and supporting prayers, during this time.

We would like to thank the co-workers of Mary Anderson, Sarah King, and Rose Floyd who went with us day after day and showed us their courteous care and words of encouragement during this time, and to the Hall Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service. We would like to say thank you, cousin Johnny.

THE ANDERSON FAMILY

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Jesse L. Lafferty, Sr., wishes to thank all who helped in any way upon the passing of their loved one.

We deeply appreciate the flowers and food, Dr. J.D. Adams and nurses at Highlands Regional Medical Center, and the Carter Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

Nature Trails...

By RUFUS REED

The Mayapple ripens its sweet, juicy fruit in July. It is a tasty fruit and many seek it for eating. Some call it the "wild lemon," but they are sweet, not sour. All you students of plants should never call Mayapple "The Mandrake Plant." Mandrakes grow in Europe and Asia and are not closely related to Mayapple. They are in the Nightshade Family, but Mayapple is in the Barberry Family.

The Mayapple is one of our most beautiful and useful plants. In early spring, it sends up two large, umbrella-like leaves, and soon from the forks of the leaves there appears a single white flower with six petals, nodding over from the forks of the leaves.

As a fine medical plant, Mayapple has no equal. Its roots are always in strong demand on the herb markets. From the roots is made a medicine for liver troubles, which is superior to all others. Mayapple is also used to make the best cathartic known. A lot of old people use it regularly for its cathartic value. Medicine made from Mayapple roots is also recognized as a good remedy for yellow jaundice.

Every spring the root diggers take a heavy toll of this beautiful, wild flower.

It grows in large patches in rich bottoms along streams. I have such large bottoms filled with Mayapple completely wiped out by the root diggers to get their roots for the herb market.

Nature has provided herbs for most all the ills of mankind, but it takes a lot of study and experiment to know when and how to use them properly. It seems nature produced Mayapple to make a special medicine for the liver. The genus name of Mayapple is Podophyllum, meaning "foot-leaf; the leaf is the size of a human foot. The species name is Peltatum, a shield, from the way its large leaves shield it from the sun.

McDowell Students Slate Fund Raiser

A group of McDowell High School students is sponsoring a Cut-A-Thon at McDowell High School Wednesday, January 19, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. as a fund-raising project to defray expenses of a week's study in Washington, D.C., in early spring.

Four area hair stylists, Rita Allen and Liz Hamilton, of His & Her's Styling Salon, Minnie, Claudette Hall from the Red Carpet Salon, Wheelwright, and Delores Tackett, of Haircuts Unlimited, Price, are donating their services for this project.

If you need a hair cut or just want to help this group of students, call 377-6640 for an appointment or walk in and one of the stylists will give you immediate attention.

Stephens Branch Home Burns

Although Martin Volunteer firemen responded quickly to a call alerting them to a fire on Stephens Branch, Tuesday morning, by the time they arrived, the house, a single-story frame structure, was engulfed in flame and a plume of black smoke shot skyward. The house was reportedly owned by Greg Tackett, of Beaver, and rented to Alice Ousley who was said to have moved into the residence only a week ago. The house was valued at about $30,000.

Paintsville Man Frees Hostages After 8 Hours

By JIM WARREN

(In the Lexington Herald Leader)

A Paintsville man released his stepdaughter and two of his wife's grandchildren early Saturday morning and surrendered to police after holding the youngsters hostage for more than eight hours.

No injuries were reported, although police said several shots were fired during the siege.

Ellis Crum, 54, was being held in the Johnson county jail, charged with three counts of wanton endangerment after surrendering to a squad of state troopers, sheriff's deputies and Paintsville city police officers that had surrounded the residence.

Officers said the incident apparently stemmed from a quarrel between Crum and his wife. The woman reportedly told police that Crum pulled a gun on her and ordered her to leave the house, telling her he was keeping the children with him.

The children were identified by police as Crum's 14-year-old stepdaughter and two of his wife's grandchildren, ages 6 and 8.

The incident began about 9 p.m. Friday at Crum's small frame home on Broadway Street, officers said. Paintsville police said they received a call that Crum was holding three children at gunpoint inside the house.

Two patrolmen went to investigate, and when they tried to talk the man into releasing the children he fired at them at least twice with a .22-caliber rifle, police said.

Nine people were evacuated from three nearby homes, and Kentucky Power Co. was asked to turn off electrical power to the houses because the area was brightly illuminated by electric lights, police said.

A special response team of troopers, patrolmen and Johnson county sheriff's deputies began surrounding the house about 9:45 p.m., police said.

Crum fired "four or five" shots at the officers, but no one was hit, said Johnson County Sheriff Cecil Cyrus. Officers did not return the fire, fearing that the children might be hit, he said. Cyrus said police also decided against using tear gas because the youngsters were still in the house.

Crum released the 14-year-old girl shortly before midnight but kept the other children inside with him, police said.

The standoff continued until about 5:20 a.m. Saturday when Crum surrendered and walked out the front door of the house with his hands up, police said.

Crum is a native of Johnson county and has lived in the area all his life, according to the sheriff's department.

HOLIDAY GUESTS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace had as their guests on Christmas day, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wells, Jr., of Paintsville, and on the following Monday, Dr. and Mrs. Gabriel R. Wallace, of Huntsville, Ala., who spent two days with them.

Provides New Emergency Service

A helicopter of Jewish Hospital's SkyCare, of Louisville, the first hospital-based ambulance service in the Kentucky-Southern Indiana area, landed at Martin Monday as an official introduction of the unique service to Martin area residents and Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

Although one critically injured patient from the area was reportedly saved by the aerial service in recent months, Monday's appearance marked a more formal demonstration of the availability of SkyCare.

The service provides rapid transportation for critically injured persons from an accident site to the most appropriate hospital or hospital of choice, and emergency transport for critically ill patients for one medical facility to another. It serves an area within a 150-mile radius of Louisville and the aircraft, which carries a crew of three (pilot, nurse and paramedic) and will accommodate one patient.

No public funds or tax dollars are used to support SkyCare. As with regular ground ambulances, the fees are covered by the patients and/or their insurance carriers. A lift-off fee of $100 is charged, plus $4.50 for each nautical mile from the time the helicopter leaves Jewish Hospital until it returns there, regardless of the patient's destination.

The SkyCare "chopper" would use the Martin ballfield as a landing field and city police and fire units would provide landing lights in after dark touch-downs it was said.

Gunfire Halts Concert; Floyd Countian Named

While an estimated 500 persons listened to Bluegrass music being played in a benefit concert at Marlowe's Country Palace in Pike county Sunday afternoon, gunfire broke out, leaving one man dead and a woman slightly wounded.

Dead at the scene was Gary Dean Keene, 31, of Shelbyana, of .38-caliber bullet wounds in his back and arm. Delores Smith was hit above the knee by a stray bullet but was not seriously hurt.

Joe Hopkins, 48, of Harold, was later jailed at Pikeville, charged with murder and first-degree assault, but was released Monday under bonds totalling $45,000. Cash representing one-tenth of the property bond asked, or $4500, was posted.

A spokesman for the Pikeville post, Kentucky State Police, said Monday that the investigation of the shooting had not established the cause. State Detective George Bailey is investigating the case.

Although the nightclub was filled by a near-capacity crowd, comparatively few witnessed the shooting after the first shot was fired. Most, one of those present said, were on the floor. One youth told of seeing two men running across the room, angling toward each other. One, he said, skidded into a chair, which collapsed, and he fell. The shooting followed. Another witness said after the first two shots were fired there was a momentary pause, then three more.

Bruce Ritz, manager of the nightclub, said Marlowe Tackett Enterprises, Inc., owners of the building, had granted use of the building for the concert. Proceeds were to help the family of Curly Lambert, well-known musician, who died of cancer Oct. 22.

PC Sets Jan. 22 For Coal Prep Workshop

The fourteenth in a series of Coal Preparation Workshops at Pikeville College will be held Saturday, January 22, in the Armington Science Center. Registration with coffee and donuts starts at 8:00 a.m. The workshop begins at 8:25 a.m. and adjourns at 12:15 p.m.

Operation of the Barvoy heavy media vessel will be presented by Dave Ferris, sales representative of J.O. Livily Company, Beckley, West Virginia. Also, heavy vessels and magnetite recovery will be discussed by Leo M. Haanskrof, president of The Daniels Company, Bluefield, West Virginia.

This workshop is to provide current information for plant operators, foremen, and others that have an interest or responsibilities in coal preparation. The Central Appalachian Coal Prep Society and Pikeville College Coal Center sponsor these programs.

For additional information contact Jim Daniels, Pikeville College, at (606) 432-9362 or Gary Spears at McCoy Elkhorn (606) 835-2022.

In Moore Death, Court Holds Hall Guilty of Manslaughter

A Circuit Court jury yesterday (Tuesday) found Price Hall, 39, of McDowell, guilty of first-degree manslaughter in the shooting death last summer of Ed Ray "Panhandle" Moore, 53, and recommended that he serve a 10-year pen term.

Hall was also convicted of assault "under extreme emotional disturbance" in the shooting of Moore's two sons, James, 28, and Ricky, 22. The jury fixed a one year sentence on each count and recommended that all three terms be concurrent.

The verdicts came after more than three hours of deliberation at the end of 1½ days of testimony before Circuit Judge Hollie Conley. They represent the least charges on which Hall could have been convicted under the court's instructions and the least penalties which the law provides.

From the beginning of the trial, the essential facts of the case were not in question. Witnesses testified that Moore and Hall, once fast friends, had had a falling-out some months previously and that they exchanged angry words outside a McDowell grocery store where Hall had gone to buy a sandwich around 11 a.m. last June 14.

The men left the scene separately but met again about 10 minutes later on a stretch of roadway at the mouth of Frasure's Creek, Moore now accompanied by his sons in a pickup, Hall already standing by his pickup about 90 feet away.

Scarcely had the Moores come to a halt when shots rang out, the elder Moore fell dead and the sons, hit by gunfire, fled the scene.

As prosecution witnesses told the story, Hall, with three loaded weapons and a large stock of ammunition in the cab of his truck, lay in wait for the Moores, bent on settling his feud with them. He opened fire without provocation, felling the father, shooting at the sons as they fled, and then pumping more rounds into the elder Moore's inert body, they said.

Two witnesses told of Hall's then waving above his head the gun he had used last and asking aloud, "Are there any more of them?"

In asking for a murder conviction, Prosecutor James Allen urged the jury to "show that we will not tolerate someone taking the law into his own hands."

"Let the word go out that we are not going to tolerate someone shooting someone down in cold blood," he said. Public Defender Ned Pillersdorf, representing Hall, thought the jury should be sending out a different message. "Panhandle" Moore was a well-known bully whom Hall, a simple and unassuming character, had every reason to fear. When the three men approached him—all tall figures, the sons stockily-built as well—Hall believed he would be killed and shot the men in self-defense, Pillersdorf argued.

"For the sake of people who have to put up with assault by thugs," the jury should find his client not guilty on all counts, the defense attorney said. Hall's action had cut the crime rate in McDowell and allowed people there to go about without fear, he argued.

"Let other bullies know what we think," Pillersdorf urged the jury.

Linville Mosley, of East McDowell, testifying for the prosecution, said that, about a month before the shooting, Hall had threatened him and Ed Moore. "He said we were nothing but a bunch of back-stabbers and he was going to kill us," Mosley said.

Cross-examined by Pillersdorf, Mosley admitted he drinks "24 hours a day, seven days a week."

William "Buggy" Stumbo, of McDowell, said he was repairing a truck nearby when he heard shots, looked up, and saw Moore fall and Hall shooting at the sons "any which way they ran."

Hall then walked up to Moore "as he was laying there" and shot him 10 or 12 times in the back of the head, Stumbo said.

Woman, 62, Hurt Son-in-Law Held

Lowell T. "Tommy" Carroll, of Betsy Layne, faces a first degree assault charge following an incident last Wednesday in which he allegedly ran over his mother-in-law with the pickup truck he was driving.

Della Tucker, 61, of Beaver, was taken to McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital suffering multiple fractures of the pelvis, a fractured rib, and a "nearly amputated" ear, witnesses said.

According to unconfirmed reports, Carroll and his wife Kathleen, who is Mrs. Tucker's daughter, went to the Tucker home on Reynolds Branch of Mud Creek to take away Mrs. Carroll's 4½-year-old son, whom Mrs. Tucker has been raising.

Mrs. Tucker reportedly tried to stop the couple as they drove away with the child, shooting at the truck tires and holding on to the door of the truck. Carroll drove away, dragging Mrs. Tucker some distance before the truck ran over her, it was alleged.

Carroll was held in the Floyd county jail in lieu of a $5000 cash bond until Monday, when the bond was reduced to $500 and he was released. Arraignment has been set in Floyd district court on Feb. 2.

testified. "I couldn't count the shots, he was shooting so fast," he said.

State Detective Keith Scott said he had recovered from Hall's truck a 12-gauge shotgun, a .270-caliber high-powered rifle, a .30-caliber carbine and a large quantity of ammunition. Three spent shotgun cartridges, four spent rifle shells and 34 spent carbine shells were recovered from the area, he said.

Scott described the carbine as a semi-automatic weapon which "fires as fast as you pull the trigger." By taping two ammunition clips together, as Hall was said to have done, "you could fire 40 rounds in a very short time," the officer testified.

There was no evidence that the Moores were carrying guns, Scott said. Deputy Coroner Glenn Frazier testified, however, that a knife with two 9-inch blades was recovered from the elder Moore's pocket.

Frazier said Ed Moore had been shot 10-12 times, including five times in the head.

Bearded and burly, Hall appeared in court wearing a red plaid shirt and blue overalls. Testifying in his own behalf, he said he saw Ricky Moore, who was standing in the bed of the Moores' pickup, "bearing down" on him with a .22-caliber pistol. He saw the flash of gunfire and heard shots before he went for his own weapon, Hall said.

Holland Hurley, who was working with a railroad crew nearby, said he heard a softer report, "like a pistol shot," before the louder shots from Hall's weapon. Under questioning by the defense attorney, eye-witnesses "Buggy" Stumbo and Mitchell E. Ward conceded they did not see the Moores arrive on the scene and Stumbo said he did not know who fired the first shot.

Ricky Moore denied he was armed.

A number of defense witnesses testified that Ed Moore was given to violence. William David Martin, of McDowell, said he saw Moore assault two men at a fundraiser for Terry Bentley, who was a candidate for District 3 magistrate in 1981.

Eugene and Donald Howell, said to have been supporters of incumbent Magistrate Ed Caudill, were leaving the fundraising pig-roast when Moore shot the tires on their vehicle, beating one of the men about the head with a pistol and cutting the other with a knife, according to court testimony.

Hall said Moore once planned to ambush and kill police officers he suspected were about to raid his moonshine still and then to burn their bodies. Moore had threatened "Green Boy" Tackett with a knife, bragged that he once shot a man in Michigan, vandalized a mine, and had 10-12 cases of dynamite stashed away, Hall said.

(The reference to a vandalized mine referred to the Ray-Mac mine, between Grethel and McDowell, where equipment was damaged by a dynamite blast during an industrial dispute last February, Hall's attorney later confirmed.)

"I knew he was setting me up to kill me," Hall said of Moore.

State Detective Ernest Dudleson, who took Hall into custody after the shooting, said Hall told him, "They were coming to get me. I got them first."

Road Fund Seen, Picketing Ends

Two coal operators will contribute to a fund to maintain the road at the head of Little Mud Creek, according to an agreement worked out between the operators and some area residents.

The arrangement comes at the end of a month-long standoff between the operators and homeowners who complained that coal traffic had so damaged the unpaved road they could not drive their cars over it.

The residents picketed the road and were last month restrained by circuit court order from blocking traffic, the suit filed by Floyd fiscal court naming Ballard Williams and "others unknown" as defendants.

Further complaints that the pickets were obstructing traffic led to the present agreement, according to which the fiscal court consented to lay 1500 tons of stone and gravel on the road. A citizens' committee will be organized to set up a fund to maintain the road, and coal operators Emmitt Lawson and Kenneth Allen will contribute to it.

Lawson will give to the fund about six cents for every ton of coal hauled and Allen about three cents a ton. As long as the agreement is being honored, the residents agree to take down their picket line.

ENTERTAIN TO OPEN HOUSE

Following the Old Christmas party held at May Lodge Sunday afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Salisbury, III, held an open house at their home on Central Avenue. Among their guests were their aunts, Mrs. Maude Mayo, Mrs. Ethel Cross, Mrs. Judy Clark, and Mrs. Edith F. James; their cousins, Mrs. Bill Goebel, Jr., and Mrs. Jack Hyden, and friends, Miss Betty Rowland, Mrs. Ann Latta, Mrs. Zella Archer, and Dr. Harry Bickel. Dr. Bickel, who has been named Kentucky champion banjo picker, entertained the group with several selections.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Klein D. Stumbo, of McDowell, Kentucky, announce the engagement of their daughter, Michele Rene, to Steven E. Romans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Romans of West Columbia, South Carolina. A March wedding is planned.

Suspects Jailed After Trooper's Father Is Slain

Two days after the body of a state trooper's father was found early last Wednesday night at Van Lear, a male suspect was arrested in Canada and a woman wanted in connection with the slaying was apprehended in North Dakota.

The victim, 77-year-old Hollie Tucker, was the father of Phillip Tucker, of Little Paint Creek in this county, who is public information officer at the Pikeville State Police post. The elderly man, who lived alone in a mobile home, was stabbed repeatedly and had been beaten about the head.

State Police said Richard Church, 19, reportedly a resident of Johnson county, was being held by authorities in Winnipeg, Canada, awaiting extradition to Johnson county on a first-degree robbery charge. At the same time they reported that Sandra Lee Couch, 22, said to be from California, was being held in Rolette county, N.D., pending extradition on charges of murder and first-degree robbery.

Miss Couch, officers said, was arrested Saturday while driving the victim's pickup truck.

Bryan Fraley, Johnson county coroner, said preliminary autopsy results indicated Tucker may have been dead since late last Monday night or early Tuesday morning. A knife was found at the scene, one report said.

Good News Report

By THOMAS W. PAUKEN
Director of ACTION

When Angela Porretta of Annandale, Virginia, retired from her job with the U.S. Government five years ago, she was looking forward, not to a life of ease, but to a new career. "I wanted to try something different," she says. That something different was to first become a volunteer at the Fairfax County Hospital. Assigned a certain floor for duty each week, Angela prefers the seventh floor where patients who have undergone eye surgery are located. She can relate to them easily because she, too, has endured operations on both eyes. Yet, with the aid of special glasses, she is able to manage well enough. "It is a great deal of satisfaction to me," she acknowledges, "when through my own experience I can give patients confidence and hope." However, on whatever floor she serves, her duties are beneficial to both patients and nurses alike, her presence and personality generating their own kind of warmth.

Not long after she became a hospital volunteer, Angela decided to expand her activities and she volunteered next to spend a day every week with a Head Start program. Presently she is engaged with her fifth class of pre-school children. There are eighteen of them along with the teacher and her aide. "Little ones who wrap themselves around my heart," she says. "I can't begin to measure my joy, to see these wonderful children. When the class starts in September they're so frightened, so shy and unsure. Many are refugees and don't speak English, and then by June to compare the beautiful transformation that has taken place, like butterflies coming out of a cocoon. I laugh, play, sing with them, and when I say goodbye I cry a little."

But that is not the end of Angela Porretta's volunteer work. There is a new program in Fairfax County, and she had the distinction of being its first volunteer. This is the Annandale Elderly Day Care Center, where Angela, at 66, is considered a youngster in caring for those who are in their 80s and 90s. She helps them in their activities, their crafts, their many interests, and when necessary, even their correspondence.

As Angela puts it, "I spend my time on Wednesday with the sick, on Thursday with my children, and on Friday with the elderly, and it's all so rewarding. Friday also gives me a chance to learn and know what becoming elderly is all about."

In this last area, she was offered a full time staff position, but she turned it down because it would have meant giving up her day with the children, and that she would not do.

And so every week, Angela Porretta looks forward to her three days of widespread involvement. "I feel that I'm part of a wonderful plan," she says. "I get so much in return. I've found a new life in volunteering. I think anyone who is able could find it, too."

First Place Winners

Officers Elected For Historical Confederation

The Historical Confederation of Kentucky, an alliance of Kentucky's heritage organizations, recently elected new officers and regional chairmen for 1983-84. Eight chairmen, a president, vice president, and treasurer were selected to serve on the confederation's executive committee.

Pat Wolcott, president of the Owen County Historical Society was elected president and succeeds Cecil E. Goode, past president of the South Central Kentucky Historical and Genealogical Society. The confederation's new vice president, Stephanie Christenson, was formerly executive director of the Blue Grass Trust for Historic Preservation and now serves on the board of Bluegrass Places, Inc. Mrs. Missy Childress will perform the duties of treasurer replacing Debbie Reynolds, of the Filson Club.

The confederation's regional chairmen help organize workshops for those interested in preserving Kentucky's heritage. They also assist in recruiting new members. Elected were: Richard O'Malley, Louisville Historical League; Ellen McLeod, Western Kentucky Genealogical Society; Don Barlow, Boone County Public Library; Dr. Thomas Riley, Christian County Historical Society; Edna Milliken, Department for Libraries and Archives; Dr. John Kleber, Morehead State University; Mrs. Howard M. Jones, South Central Kentucky Historical and Genealogical Society, and Betty Jo Lykins, Magoffin County Historical Society.

The confederation is a non-profit, educational organization. Its purpose is to increase communication and cooperation among Kentucky's 300-plus history organizations.

Leslie Is Candidate

Confirming speculation that he is a serious candidate and mounting a campaign, Prestonsburg physician Larry Leslie has announced that he is running for the seat of State Senator from the 25th senatorial district.

A Democrat, Leslie is seeking his party's nomination in the May primary. A portion of the city of Prestonsburg, northern Floyd county and Johnson, Lawrence and Boyd counties now comprise the recently restructured district. The seat was formerly held by Lowell Hughes, of Ashland, who is not seeking re-election.

Leslie, a Prestonsburg native, is the son of Mrs. Alta Hall Leslie and the late Dr. Edward B. Leslie. He is chairman of the Floyd County Housing Board and a member of the board of Alice Lloyd College, a former Prestonsburg city councilman and a past chairman of the Democratic party in this county.

Documentary Probes Unsolved Murders

A public television documentary airing Monday, January 24, at 8 p.m. on KET, raises new questions about the 1979 murder of five anti-Ku Klux Klan demonstrators in North Carolina. The hour-program, "88 Seconds in Greensboro," is part of the new public TV documentary series, "Frontline," anchored by NBC News Correspondent Jessica Savitch.

Although arrests were made in connection with the 1979 killings of Communist Workers Party members at an anti-Klan demonstration in Greensboro, North Carolina, those charged were acquitted. A federal grand jury continues to deliberate the case.

"88 Seconds in Greensboro" is the first report to date to use footage from all four TV stations which had cameras at the anti-Klan rally. In addition, reporter James Reston, Jr., presents an exclusive interview with Ed Dawson, the man whom police paid to infiltrate the Klan and who ended up playing a questionable role in the Klan/Nazi attack on the Communist Workers Party protesters.

The documentary uncovers a sequence of events which formed a provocative pattern leading up to the killings and raises questions about the widespread use of covert police informers and controls over their activities. "88 Seconds in Greensboro" was produced by Network Features Productions.

INSTALL OFFICERS

The regular meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge was held last Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Virginia Goble, noble grand, presiding.

The first order of business was the installation of officers for the coming year, with Mrs. Sue Moore, deputy president of District 4, in charge. She was assisted by Mrs. Hope Whitten, deputy warden, Mrs. Theckley Short, deputy treasurer, Mrs. Norma Stepp, deputy secretary, Mrs. Maman Leslie, deputy chaplain, and Mrs. Mabel Jean LeMaster, deputy marshal.

The following elective officers were installed: Mrs. Alicia Adkins, noble grand; Miss Kelly Sue Moore, vice-grand; Mrs. Mabel Jean LeMaster, secretary, and Mrs. Violetta Wright, treasurer. Appointive officers escorted to their respective stations were Mrs. Rebecca Bingham, conductor; Mrs. Jean Hickman, warden; Mrs. Helen Ormerod, chaplain; Mrs. Otelia Smiley, right supporter to the noble grand; Mrs. Blanche Kinsley, left supporter to the noble grand; Mrs. Sue Moore, right supporter to the vice grand; Mrs. Nancy Duff, left supporter to the vice grand; Miss Diana Kaye Blankenship, color bearer; Mrs. Venelia Rinehart, musician; Miss Ella Jane Castle, inside guardian; Mrs. Verlie Joseph, outside guardian, and Mrs. Nola Stepp, assistant chaplain.

At the conclusion of the installation, Mrs. Virginia Goble, retiring noble grand, was presented, on behalf of the officers of the past year, a corsage, a certificate and jewel, a gift from the lodge designating her as a fully qualified past noble grand. She expressed her thanks to her officers and to the entire membership for all the cooperation and help she had received during her tenure of office. Mrs. Goble then presented each of her officers a gift.

The new noble grand, Mrs. Alicia Adkins, conducted the remainder of the business session. Members who were ill or in distress were named, and cards were signed to be mailed to them. Miss Janet Whitten was named degree captain for the ensuing year. The semi-annual report was read, the penny drill was taken, and "happy birthday" was extended to Mrs. Sue Moore and Mrs. Nancy Duff.

Preceding the meeting, refreshments were served in the dining room by the retiring noble grand, Mrs. Virginia Goble to Virginia Goble, Alicia Adkins, Violetta Wright, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Venelia Rinehart, Theckley Short, Norma Stepp, Maman Leslie, Kelly Sue Moore, Dorothy Osborne, Paulena Owens, Rebecca Bingham, Verlie Joseph, Jean Hickman, Nola Stepp, Deloris Kendrick, Patsy Leslie, Blanche Kinsley, Otelia Smiley, Diana Kaye Blankenship, Helen Ormerod, Sue Moore, Nancy Duff, Ella Jane Castle, Lorena Wallen, Sally B. Goble, Mary Zemo, Hope Whitten, Ethel A. Hall, Marlene Webb, Janice Puckett and Deva Sue Wood.

The next regular meeting will be Jan. 18 at 7 p.m., at the I.O.O.F. Hall.

CHURCHWOMEN TO MEET

There will be a called meeting of the Local Church women, Friday morning at 10:30, at the Riverview Manor Nursing Home, with the president, Mrs. Eleanor Robinson, as hostess. The purpose of this meeting is to make plans, in coordination with the Prestonsburg Ministerial Association, for the possible organization of a food pantry and clothing center to help persons of this area who may be in need. All members are urged to attend.

Miss McDowell, Mr. Calhoun Wed

Miss Judi McDowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDowell, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Mike Calhoun, son of Mrs. Ruth Calhoun, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. James Calhoun, of Paintsville, were united in marriage at 7 p.m. November 13 at the Community Methodist Church here.

The Rev. Taylor Biggs performed the double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with brass birdcages holding cranberry and white mums, candelabra with white candles and candlelit with hurricane lamps at each pew.

Nuptial selections were played by Mrs. Kathryn Frazier. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full satin gown with low neck and back line and chapel train with the bodice and puffed sleeves consisting of pearl-beaded, re-embroidered alencon lace and a halo of white baby roses surrounded by baby's breath. She carried a silk cascade of white rosebuds and baby's breath.

Mrs. Betty Ann Calhoun, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Leigh Ann Stanley, Mrs. Debbie Woods, Miss Angela Goble, Miss Paula Porter, Mrs. Tim (Jacki) Mitchell, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Brian (Jenny) Hager, also a sister of the bride. All attendants wore burgandy gowns and carried a single white carnation tipped in burgandy.

Mr. Jim Calhoun served his brother as best man. Mr. Woody Branham, Mr. Paul Stephens, Mr. George Hale, Mr. Carson Warrix, Mr. Don Hughes and Mr. John McDowell, brother of the bride, served as ushers. The ringbearer was Mr. Matthew Thomas, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Jim Thomas, of Pikeville.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at The Pines, Jenny Wiley State Park. The three-tiered cake was decorated with burgandy and white miniature carnations with a flowing water fountain. Mrs. James Alfred Brumagen, of Mt. Olivet Ky., served the cake. Miss Angela Goble presided at the punch table. Assisting with the reception were Miss Pam Spears and Mrs. Caramel Spears. Mrs. Ron Cooley was the wedding director. Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun are residing in Prestonsburg.

Ky. State Police Are Seeking Applicants

The Kentucky State Police will start accepting applications on Jan. 24 for a new trooper cadet class, scheduled to begin training in June.

Cut-off date for obtaining the applications will be Feb. 5.

The new class will be the third to enter the KSP Academy since a three-year-long freeze on trooper hiring was lifted less than a year ago. Since the lifting of that ban, a class of 37 was graduated last September and another class of 24, in training now, will graduate next March 11.

Enrollment for this latest class is expected to be about 50-60 cadets, and state police are hoping that it will include a representative number of minorities and females. State Police Commissioner Billy G. Wellman said that a minority recruitment team is already being organized with that specific purpose in mind.

The almost back-to-back recruiting effort which has been underway since last spring has been aimed at bringing trooper manpower back up to its authorized strength of 1,005. Currently, the force number is 930.

Interested applicants are being encouraged to contact the nearest state police post, the driver testing stations at Louisville or Lexington and by calling the officer in charge of the recruiting program, Capt. Tommy C. Fields, at (502) 564-6614. Fields said that anyone whose name appeared on a prior eligibility list will also be required to re-apply and go through the testing process again.

Minimum qualifications for application are as follows:

*Must be between 21 and 30 years of age, a resident of Kentucky and have valid Kentucky driver's license.

*Must be at least 5 feet 6 inches in height, with weight proportionate to height, and be free of any speech defect or marked physical deformities.

*Must have vision not less than 20/50 in each eye without glasses, and correctable with glasses to 20/20 and not be color blind.

*Must be a high school graduate or have an equivalent education.

*And must be of good moral character. A conviction for any felony or other crimes or moral turpitude will act as immediate bar to acceptance.

Every applicant will also be required to undergo a rigid physical examination, submit to a thorough background investigation and pass both a written examination and oral interview.

Fields said that those expected will spend 18 weeks undergoing an intensive training and weeding-out program at the academy before being appointed as probationary troopers. While attending the academy, a cadet is paid $951 a month. Upon graduation and appointment to probationary trooper status, his pay is immediately jumped to $1,155 a month.

Prestonsburg Grade School emerged last week as county basketball champions by defeating Prater Grade School in an exciting double-overtime contest, 47-44, in the annual county-wide tourney for elementary school teams.

P'burg earned the right to play Prater for the championship by defeating Martin, 53-47 in semi-final action. Leading scorers for Prestonsburg were Brian Wallace 17, James Allen 14, Mike Ousley 6, David Martin 2 and David Spradlin 2. For the Martin Purple Flash, top scorers included R. Ousley 23, M. Perkins 9, D. Conn 7, R. Click 6 and R. Hunter 4.

In the Prestonsburg-Prater game top scoring honors went to Brian Wallace with 28. Collins had 6, Mike Ousley 5, James Allen 4, Brent Music 2, and David Spradlin 2. Prater's scorers included S. Bailey 14, R. Nichols 8, V. Jarrell 8, R. Wallen 10, and B. Akers 4.

The 'Cats completed an outstanding season with 19 wins and two losses. Prestonsburg also captured the Team Free Throw Trophy and B-team Cheerleader Trophy.

Stumbo Girls, Prestonsburg Boys Floyd Grade School Champs

The Stumbo Lady Mustangs won the Floyd county elementary girls' basketball championship Friday night at the D.W. Howard Gymnasium in Betsy Layne by defeating the Allen Eaglettes in the final game. In first-round action Allen had defeated Wayland, and Stumbo had defeated Melvin.

Stumbo won the team free throw trophy while the individual free throw trophy was won by Shondella Burchett, from Allen. The Prestonsburg cheerleaders won the first place trophy and Clark cheerleaders were runners-up.

The all-tournament team was composed of the following players:

Stumbo—Tresa Newman, Stephanie Hall, Sandy Hamilton, Sandy Flanery, Tracey Hall; Allen—Leslie Osborne, Lisa Woods, Shondella Burchett; Melvin—April Reeves, Donna Newsome; Wayland—Ronda Fraley, Pam Hicks.

The Prestonsburg Blackcats won the boys' elementary championship by defeating the Prater Cougars, 47-44, in double overtime. In first round action Prater defeated Osborne, and Prestonsburg defeated Martin.

The team free throw was captured by Prestonsburg, and Brian Wallace from Prestonsburg won the individual free throw trophy with a perfect 9 for 9.

The first place cheerleader trophy was won by Wayland, and McDowell was runnerup.

The all-tournament boys' team was composed of the following:

Second Birthday

Terry Joe Owens, son of Shawna and Terry Owens, of Prestonsburg, celebrated his second birthday with a party at home Sunday. Terry was monitored his first year as a potential victim of sudden infant death syndrome.

Reclamation Jobs On Hazard Meet Agenda

Public meetings on the state's second annual grant application package of specific reclamation projects for Kentucky will be held in mid-January in Hazard and Madisonville, officials of the state Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet have announced.

The meetings have been scheduled to receive public comment on the package before its submission to the federal Office of Surface Mining.

Part of a program developed by the Division of Abandoned Lands to reclaim Kentucky's abandoned mined lands and to control or abate the adverse effects of past coal-mining activities, the package includes proposed reclamation projects throughout the coal-producing regions of the state.

Funds for the program will be made available in grants from the U.S. Department of the Interior's Office of Surface Mining. Revenue for these grants comes from fees collected from Kentucky coal operators by the federal government on each ton of coal produced in Kentucky.

The meetings will be held as follows: Jan. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Kentucky River Area Development Office on Perry County Park Road in Hazard; Jan. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Auditorium of the Madisonville Community College in Madisonville.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend the meetings, division personnel said.

For additional information on the meetings or the application package, contact the Division of Abandoned Lands, 618 Teton Trail, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or telephone (502) 564-2141.

Amvets Sponsor Santa Visit

Approximately 200 children got a chance to meet Santa, during Christmas at Martin, when his appearance there was sponsored by Post 27 Amvets and auxiliary, of Martin. Each of the youngsters received fruit, nuts, a bag of candy and toy from St. Nick.

Exercise with No Sweat

Carolyn Childers and Sherry Shepherd are pictured with E.M.S. equipment.

E.M.S.—No, it's not a federal agency, nor is it some dread disease. It stands for Electronic Muscle Stimulation, and it may just be the easiest form of "exercise," yet devised.

The technique, which involves inducing subtle muscle contractions through application of a low voltage electrical current, requires nothing of the flab-conscious client more strenuous than stretching out on a padded table. And, it works.

Sherry and Randy Shepherd, Carolyn and Terry Childers, who have invested in the sophisticated (and expensive) E.M.S. equipment, are often met by the reaction, "It sounds too good to be true." They agree, but they also stress that it is true.

"Treatments" include a series of 45 minute sessions, which, when concentrated on the abdominal section, according to Randy Shepherd, are the equivalent of 1,000 sit-ups. Electrical contacts can be placed on any point of the body for "spot" reducing, he stressed.

Although their business, "The Ultimate Image," just south of Allen, has been open only a week, the results of the E.M.S., according to the proprietors, have been impressive. One Dwale woman lost two inches from her waist the first session, and another, who stopped by while the interview for this story was in progress, said she lost a total of four inches from different areas of her body at the first session.

Owners of the operation are certified for E.M.S. and contend that the technique is safe. They stress that the machine is F.D.A.-approved and the E.M.S. is used by medical physical therapy units and scores of athletic programs. Utilizing only 18 volts (in the form of two 9-volt batteries), risk of shock is eliminated and Randy Shepherd said the current penetrates only to the muscle layer. "If anyone comes in with doubts about the safety of the technique, we encourage them to first satisfy themselves by talking with their doctor," Shepherd said.

Shepherd emphasized that E.M.S. is used only for toning of the muscles, although another similar machine is available for building muscle bulk and strength. "It's not meant to be a replacement for physical activity as far as cardio-pulmonary benefits are concerned," he said.

The Ultimate Image also boasts a sun-tanning booth which Shepherd describes as "one of the most advanced in the world." Tanning by means of ultraviolet "A" type rays, damaging frequencies as are found in sunlight are eliminated, according to Shepherd, so that tanning is accomplished without burning and usual skin cancer risks.

(Another business, due to open soon, which will utilize a similar type of E.M.S. equipment and program, is "The Home of Body Tone," to be located in Prestonsburg and operated by Billie H. Elswick.)

Letters to the Editor

The views expressed here are those of the writers, and not necessarily those of this newspaper. No unsigned contributions will be published.

'A Slap in the Face'

After reading the writings in this week's Floyd County Times about, "One man's View of Kentucky," it hurt a lot worse than a slap in the face. This man doesn't know what he is talking about. My husband was a minister and for many years we went everywhere to homes with sickness and death, to the very poor and the very wealthy, and I have never seen any finer people. Their homes were filled with friends and neighbors, come to help in any way they could. These people have worked hard. They surely don't need to be discouraged by this person.

We have pure country air, I have never heard of anyone having to roll up their window because they pass through, unless it is this person doing all the writing about the people and the eastern part of Kentucky. We would be better off if people like that would stay away. We have only had a garbage haul the last few years; we are all proud, like the lady in Lexington said. If they can't give an encouraging word or helping hand to people they think need them, they should learn to keep their mouths shut.

Kentucky is a beautiful state, she has plenty of everything to give if people will just take the time to find out. Some day, some of these who make fun of what they call twisted people, may be glad to come live in Kentucky and just shake the hand of some of them. These people of Eastern Kentucky, are hard-working honest and kind people, they don't come any finer.

I love to read, but this kind of writing I don't like. So thank God I don't have to read it. If that was the only way I had to make a living, writing untrue things that try to destroy places, I'd give up. If you can't say something good, it is better to say nothing. I could not get this off my mind until I wrote it down. This is a free country—thank God for that!

HOLIDAY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Turner entertained through the holidays in their home in Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil O. Turner and James Shelton, of Lexington, and Mr. and Mrs. Justin Turner, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Asks Correction

There was a mistake in the name of my child in the Jan. 5 edition of your paper. She's listed under the Allen Majorettes as Crystie Reynolds. Her name is Kristi Nelson. My name is Tommy Nelson; her mother has remarried, and her name is Suzanne Reynolds. I would appreciate your putting a correction to this effect in next week's paper.

Protests Law

This is written in protest of an outrageous state law that has caused the writer and some others much grief.

The law deals with the incorporation of an unincorporated area into a municipality in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The gist of the law is that only 25% of the registered voters may decide for the rest of the voters if incorporation is to be. I assert constitutional guarantees due are not honored in a rightness as should be of laws. I used to hope that one man had one vote. If he does, a minority of voters ought not decide an election in the United States of America, as it was in Kentucky when an incorporation election took place on November 20, 1981. A rural area of May Branch where I have a home was incorporated into the town of Prestonsburg. Eighteen voted not to be incorporated and 7 voted yes to be incorporated. The high and mighty received their wish; the votes of the majority did not. Does this promote domestic tranquility?

ARE WINNERS AGAIN! Cheerleading has become a source of much pride at Wayland Elementary and that point was proven again as the Wayland Boys' Varsity Cheerleaders won the Floyd county grade school cheerleading competition for the fifth year in a row. The Wayland girls have a total of nine county wins out of the last 11 years. The 1982-83 squad also added two more trophies during the year by winning in the two invitational tournaments in which they competed during the regular season. The squad will graduate five of their members who will go on to Allen Central High School. ### Allen Central Girls Win 2 of 3

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON AND TOMMIE LYNN LAYNE

The Allen Central Rebelettes upped their record to 10 and 7, winning two of three games last week while the Wheelwright Lady Trojans lost to Johnson Central.

Rebelettes traveled Tuesday night to the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse and won over the Betsy Layne Bobcats, 62 to 55. The Rebelettes led by only three points at halftime, with the score at 30 to 27, but outscored the Lady Bobcats in the second half, 32 to 28. Kim Shepherd took scoring honors for the night with 22 points, while teammates Belinda Click connected for 20 and Lisa Greene added 10. The Lady Bobcats were led in scoring by Lela Layne with 15 points, while teammate Chris Gross connected for 10 and Kim Tackett added 9.

Friday night, the Rebelettes traveled to the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse and won over the Lady Blackcats, 63 to 38. Again, Kim Shepherd took scoring honors for the night, pumping in 18 points, while teammate Lisa Greene added 16. The Lady Blackcats were led in scoring by Lucrecia Reed with 14 points, while Jeanna McKenzie added 10.

Saturday night, the Rebelettes traveled to Monticello and lost a barn-burner, 54 to 53. The Rebelettes led at a halftime, 30 to 25, but trailed at the end of the third quarter, 46 to 40. Monticello outscored the Rebelettes in the second half, 29 to 23. Once again, Kim Shepherd scored 75 points in the three games last week. Teammate Belinda Click scored 8 points.

Last Wednesday night the Wheelwright Lady Trojans lost to the Johnson Central Lady Golden Eagles, 65 to 57. Mia Jones connected for 18 points, while Missy Justice added 14 points for the Lady Trojans.

The first collective bargaining agreement in the U.S. was obtained in 1795 by Philadelphia printers, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Bobcats and Blackcats Win

By C. "OLLIE" ROBINSON AND TOMMIE LYNN LAYNE

The Betsy Layne Bobcats won three of four games played last week, including two of three games played in the Greenup County Holiday Tourney. The Prestonsburg Blackcats picked up two wins last week, while Allen Central, McDowell and Wheelwright suffered losses.

The Bobcats played four consecutive nights last week, opening with a win over the visiting Allen Central Rebels, 76 to 62. The Bobcats were led in scoring by Marty Meade with 24 points, followed by Levi Hamilton with 16, and Coy Samons with 11. Lester Newsome also pumped in 11 points. The Rebels were led in scoring by Tim Lawson with 23, while Rick Conn connected for 14 points.

Wednesday night, the Bobcats played in the Greenup County Holiday Tournament and won over highly regarded Rowan County by 63 to 58. Again the big gun for the Bobcats was senior forward, Marty Meade with 24 points. Dwight Newsome came up with his best night of the season, firing in 19 points. The Vikings of Rowan County were led by Holbrook with 22 points.

Friday night, the Bobcats kept up their torrid pace by defeating West Carter, 77 to 65. Marty Meade fired in 30 points, Levi Hamilton connected for 13, while Dwight Newsome had 12. Coy Samons had a good night on the boards and scored 11 points.

In the championship game Saturday night, the Bobcats lost to the host team, 85 to 75. The Bobcats lost the game at the free throw line. The Cats outscored the Lions by two field goals. Fouling out for the Bobcats was high scoring Martin Meade, Levi Hamilton, and Lester Newsome. Marty Meade finished out the night with 19 points. Dwight Newsome had 16, and Levi Hamilton connected for 12. This was the second time this season Betsy Layne has lost to much taller Greenup County and in each game the Bobcats have outscored the Lions from the field but lost at the free throw line.

During the tournament Martin Meade scored 74 points, grabbed off 45 rebounds and made 25 of 28 from the free throw line. Meade scored 98 points in four games last week.

On Tuesday night the Prestonsburg Blackcats defeated the Wheelwright

Trojans, 63 to 58. Kelly Cecil had one of his best nights, firing in 27 points and hauling down 13 rebounds. Sophomore Marty Mixin connected for 14 points.

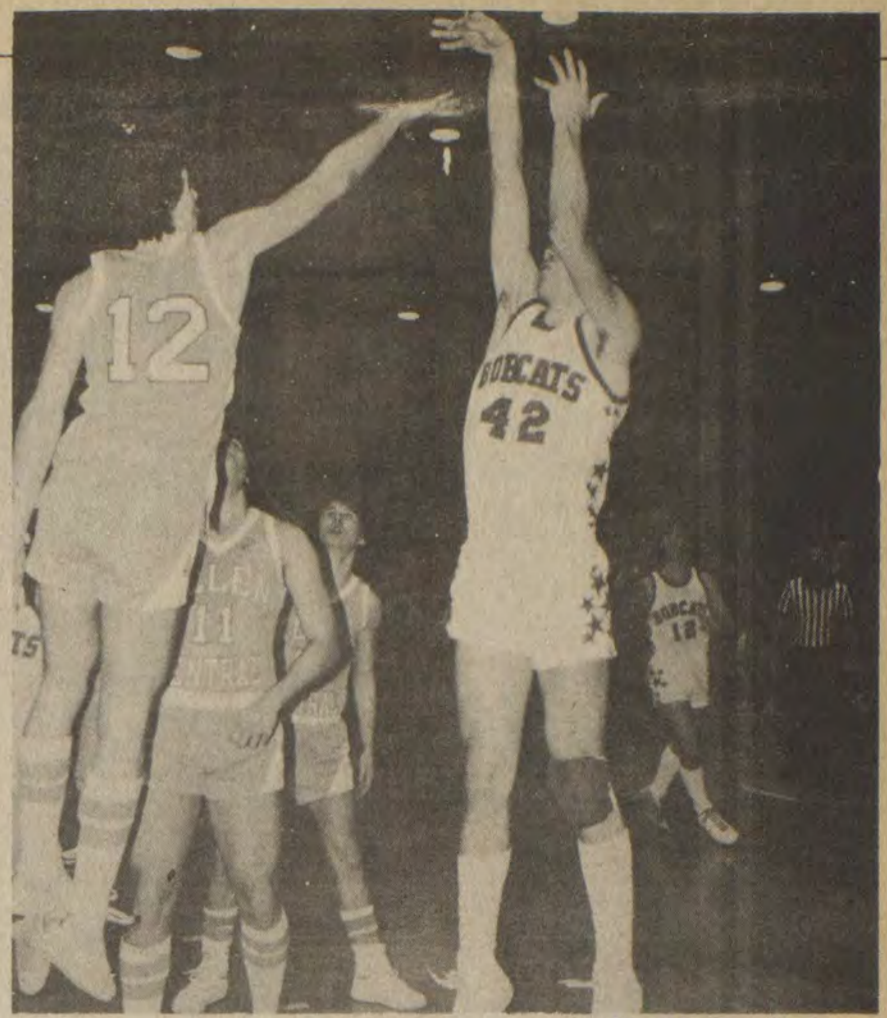

Friday night, the Blackcats won over Allen Central, 63 to 57. Tony Whitaker took scoring honors for the night with 28 points, while teammates Kelly Cecil pumped in 14 points and Kenny Music had 7. The Rebels were led in scoring by Tim Lawson with 22 points, while Dale Pack connected for 14 and Craig Hall pumped in 11 points. The Blackcats led at halftime, 33 to 30, and were 44 to 43 going into the fourth quarter. They outscored the Rebels in the fourth quarter, 18 to 14 winning the game, 63 to 57.

The McDowell Daredevils are improving with each game. They lost three games last week but two of the three were close. On Thursday night the Daredevils lost to the visiting Virgie Eagles, 70 to 60. Gerald Osborne took scoring honors for the night, connecting for 29 points, while teammate Tommy Newsome pumped in 26 points for the Eagles. The Daredevils were led in scoring by Tim Newsome with 25 points, while teammate David Tuttle had 16.

Friday night, the Daredevils traveled to Mullins and lost to the Tigers, 68 to 48. K. Harris and T. Harris took scoring honors for the night, each connecting for 19 points each. Anderson pumped in 17 points to lead the Tigers to their win. McDowell was led in scoring by Mike Mitchell with 13, while teammate Robin Tackett connected for 11.

Saturday night, the Daredevils lost to the highly regarded Maysville Bulldogs by the score of 60 to 50. Tim Newsome led the Daredevil attack with 19 points, while teammate Jeff Stumbo connected for 14 and David Tuttle pumped in 10.

The Wheelwright Trojans lost two games last week, losing to Prestonsburg, 63 to 58, and to Jenkins, 69 to 60. Mike Williams took scoring honors with 17, David Hall had 11, and Tim Cole connected for 12 points. The Trojans will play tonight (Wednesday) in the Paintsville Invitational. The Trojans will face the host team, Paintsville. Earlier in the season, Wheelwright defeated Paintsville.

Family History Interest Grows

Genealogy is one of the fastest growing hobbies in the nation today. A recent survey taken by the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives showed that researchers are coming to Kentucky from all over the nation and spending an average of five days in the state specifically for the purpose of studying their family history.

The number of people using the department's research facilities in the newly constructed building in Frankfort from July to December 1982 was nearly double that of the same six-month period in 1981.

Further data from the department's survey showed that of first-time visitors to the research facilities, 45 percent were from out-of-state. Eighty-six percent gave research as the main purpose of their visit, and of those, 90 percent were researching their family history. They planned to stay three days in Frankfort and five in Kentucky.

Celebrate 70th Wedding Anniversary

Lee and Lizzie Alley, of Grethel, were honored on their 70th wedding anniversary Sunday, December 19, with a surprise buffet dinner at their home.

Their four children, Mrs. Ernest Newman, of Grethel, Mrs. Gilbert Bolton, of Melvindale, Michigan, Edward Alley, of Ecorse, Michigan, and Orris Alley, of Grethel, were present for the happy occasion. They have 11 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, and one great-great grandson.

Other relatives and friends celebrating with the Alleys were Ernest, Dexter, Judy Elizabeth Newman and Irene N. Sherwood; Gustava Alley; Hillard, Sylvania, Hillard Jr. and Ernest Brian Newman; Carmel, Dorothy and Jennifer Newman; Randy, Karen and Jonathan Conn; Robert R. Alley; Berry and Lexie Akers; Daniel and Norma Akers; Anna Keathley and Joyce K. Caldwell; Rosa, Hubert and Lou Ellen Hall; Carl, Laura, Hugh Winston and Eugene Akers; Keith, Kay, Craig and Jody Akers; Lee and Verdie Akers; Ronald D. and Glenna J. Allen; Fonzo, Martha, Mary Francis and Justin Akers; Creed Martin; Lloyd Ray; John W. Hamilton, Jr.; Morris Newsome; Shadrick and Arietta Hall; Foster, Gladys and Paul E. Mitchell; Troy L. Ellis and Branham; Ocie Hamilton; Ron and Christine Crisp; Virginia Mae Akers Case; Nickie Carolyn Akers Hall; and Emma Tackett.

The beautiful, three-tiered anniversary cake was baked by Mrs. Hillard Newman. The happy couple received many beautiful gifts and telephone calls from relatives and friends.

RE-ELECT SENATOR BENNY RAY BAILEY

For the past three years, I have been honored to serve as your Kentucky State Senator. During this period, I have made every effort to stay in contact with you, solicit your views on matters affecting our area, and see that our area is represented in all areas of state government. We have accomplished many things, there is much left to be done.

Since my election, I have distributed many thousands of informational newsletters to the voters of Senate District 29 and encouraged them to contact me with their views. In December, 1982, I mailed my annual newsletter to the voters and announced my intention to seek re-election. To date, we have received over 1,500 replies of encouragement and support from Floyd, Knott, Martin and Perry county residents. Throughout my first term as your state senator, I have received many thousand items of correspondence from the people of District 29. This input from the people has always guided my actions and will continue to do so. I encourage each of you to stay in contact with me with your ideas on how we can make state government more responsive to the people.

A question that is frequently asked of me is, "Will your support of Dr. Grady Stumbo for governor hurt your chances of re-election? Won't the mayor of Louisville or the lady from Versailles and their supporters encourage someone to run against you?" My answer is simply that it is my job as your state senator to work for the best interest of East Kentucky. I think all East Kentuckians will agree that our area benefits when we have a governor who has strong ties to East Kentucky. Not only is Grady Stumbo the best candidate, the fact that he is one of us makes my support for him even stronger. If I supported the mayor of Louisville or the lady from Versailles against a native Floyd county man, I don't think I would be acting in the best interest of our area. I will continue to actively support Grady Stumbo for governor and ask all my friends to join me in this important campaign.

During the next five months, I will be in contact with every voter in the District to ask for your support. My actions and my votes as your senator are public records and I will be reporting these to you. I will conduct my campaign as I have in the past; presenting the issues to the people, asking for their input and relying on your judgement.

Together, we have accomplished a great deal in three short years. Together we will continue to build a better East Kentucky for us and for our children. I have appreciated your past support and look forward to your continuing support in the future. I will keep in touch.

State Employees Honored For New Money-Saving Ideas

Twelve state employees received cash awards and certificates of recognition for their money-saving ideas in a ceremony held in the Capitol rotunda, Jan. 4.

Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr. made the presentations on behalf of the Kentucky Employees Suggestion System, an incentive program created to reward employees who find ways to save money through efficiency and safety measures at work.

Six of the 12 award winning suggestions dealt with improving administrative efficiency through redesign, consolidation, or re-use of state-used forms; one saved time and money by improving verification methods in child support welfare; another reduced postage and supply costs by using smaller and lighter weight envelopes. Using an existing computer report because the means for producing information essential to another federally required report—and reduced the time for compiling it by 50 percent.

Other money-savers included purchasing a sewing machine to repair patients' damaged clothing at the Kentucky Correctional Psychiatric Center in LaGrange; distribution of generic cigarettes rather than brand-name products at the same facility; and safety and efficiency modifications to trucks used for highway maintenance in the Department of Highways.

Awards made accounted for savings of $13,675.00 over a period of one year and amounted to $2,700.00 in cash payment to the winning employees.

Those receiving awards were Betty M. Chilton, Turners Station; Ollie F. Collins, Pikeville; David R. Dougherty, Bowling Green; Genevieve T. Dykes, Hodgenville; William F. Kegerreis, Elizabethtown; Laura J. Moser, Elizabethtown (in absentia); Christine Noblitt, Frankfort; Lois Raymer, Frankfort; Anna R. Rogers, Frankfort; David M. Smith, Smithfield; Hager Whitaker, Hallie; and Barbara F. White, Frankfort.

Cash awards are paid by the agency-realizing the savings and amount to ten percent of the documented or estimated savings for the first year, not to exceed $2500.00. Awards of $100 or $250 may be given for ideas that are adopted but for which tangible savings cannot be documented.

ROCK ON

By Ethlie Ann Vare

REVIEWS

Golden Earring — "Cut" (21 Records) — Not many bands make one immortal radio standard and then disappear for eight years, only to come back with yet another FM classic. But the Dutch band Golden Earring have done just that, first with "Radar Love" and now with the throbbing, visceral "Twilight Zone."

Lene Lovich — "No Man's Land" (Stiff/Epic) — Lene Lovich sounds like Roxy Music's Brian Ferry crossed with a parakeet. Her warped warbling, combined with a steady dance beat and unusual lyrical approach, is certainly an acquired taste. But, like asparagus, it's one worth acquiring. Standout cut on this new album is "Blue Hotel."

Yoko Ono — "It's Alright" (Polydor) — Yoko Ono says she wants to be accepted as a performing artist, not as John Lennon's widow. And then she releases a record featuring the ghost of Lennon on the cover and a debut single titled "My Man." Does not compute.

Various Artists — "The Beat" (K-Tel) — They may have a negative reputation, but K-Tel has done a great service by releasing this compilation of accessible, commercial new wave pop. You could retitile the record "A New Music Primer"; it features selections by Haircut 100, Flock of Seagulls, Kim Wilde, Bow Wow Wow, the Waitresses and more.

Grace Jones — "Living My Life" (Island) — It is easy to dismiss Grace Jones as a mannequin and jet-set darling, a poseur of no substance. One listen to her vibrant baritone voice banishes such impressions. With the sterling rhythm section of Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare and the writing talents of Barry Reynolds behind her, the multilingual and androgynous Miss Jones emerges as a potent funk act with charm and... grace.

Grace Jones

Thomas Dolby — "The Golden Age of Wireless" (Harvest) — Dolby sounds rather like late David Bowie or early Gary Numan, but is more life-affirming than either. Strong synthesizer sounds and distinctive vocals. In all, an intelligent and well-crafted record.

Squeeze — "Singles 45 and Under" (A & M); The Jam — "The Bitterest Pill" (Polydor) — Both these excellent British pop bands have recently broken up, partly because of their lack of success in America. Wouldn't it be a terrible irony if their respective swan songs became their first U.S. hits?

The Squeeze LP is a best-of collection, featuring selections from five previous albums and one new tune tacked on. The Jam offering is only an EP, with five songs — two of them ("War" and "Fever") are oldies by other artists. The Jam is a wonderful band, and to better appreciate them you should check out the "Absolute Beginners" EP or "The Gift."

Miss Frasure, Mr. Akers Wed

Miss Paula Frasure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Frasure, of Harold, Ky., and Mr. Ricky Akers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Akers, of Grethel, Ky., were united in marriage by Pastor Robert Mayton in a ceremony solemnized at 5 p.m. at the Immanuel Baptist Church of Mullins, Kentucky.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Pam Akers was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Melinda Vanover, Deonna Tackett, Teresa Frasure, Anna Jo Frasure, and Rebecca Mayton.

Mr. Rick Bevins was best man, and ushers were Joe Vanover, Mark Frasure, Kelly Akers, and Melvin Frasure.

Flower girl was Miss Julie Howell and ringbearer was Bradley Akers. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Ruth Thompson, and wedding photographers were Mr. Ronnie Allen and Mr. Anthony Clark.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

When a pharmaceutical company develops a new drug, it is usually patented and given a brand or trade name. The company then is given exclusive rights to the drug for seventeen years. After this period of exclusivity has expired, other drug companies are allowed to manufacture the drug under other brand names or under the drug's generic or common name. In most cases, the cost of the generic drug is lower than the branded item. In most states, with doctor approval, pharmacists are permitted to dispense a generic drug instead of the branded product. However, be aware that not all multi-source drugs are "therapeutically equivalent", meaning that they have the same effect on the body.

At COOLEY APOTHECARY we want to remind you that your Pharmacist is your Physician's consultant and source of information about many of the newest drugs available. We want you to feel free to ask us questions about your medication, because that's one of the reasons we're here. For the best in personal and professional service, see us at #2 Town Center Bldg. Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30; Sat. 9-4. 886-8106. VISA and Mastercharge accepted.

HANDY HINT:

The FDA publishes lists of drugs which can be safely distributed for another.

Pavarotti Heard In Mozart's 'Idomeneo'

Opera star Luciano Pavarotti makes history at the Metropolitan Opera House Wednesday, January 26, in the first performance of Mozart's "Idomeneo" at the Met. The opera, now 201 years old, airs on "Live From the Met" at 8 p.m. on KET.

Based on Greek legend, the opera is the story of Idomeneo's (Pavarotti) return from the Trojan War to his island kingdom of Crete. During his journey, Neptune, god of the sea, rescues him from a shipwreck after he vows to sacrifice the first person he meets upon his return home. Tragically, that person is his son, Idamante (Frederica von Stade). When Idomeneo refuses to make the sacrifice, Neptune sends a sea monster to destroy the island. Ileana Cotrubas joins Pavarotti and von Stade as Ilia, Idamante's bride. The program will carry English subtitles.

"Live From the Met" is produced by the Metropolitan Opera Association.

MAYTOWN NEWS

Celebrating Christmas Day with dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Combs were Paul and Debbie Combs, home from the University of Kentucky, Angela and Andrea, home from school in Vermont, Shawn and William, and Mrs. Octavia Combs, grandmother, and son, La Mar.

Mrs. T. A. Combs and son Shawn were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Barney, of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

On the way back from Vermont, Mrs. T. A. Combs and Shawn, Angela and Andrea visited with Mrs. Combs' brother, Alex Verich, and Mrs. Verich in Warren, Ohio.

Enjoying the Putney School Christmas concert were Mrs. T. A. Combs, Shawn and Angela. Andrea Combs sang in the chorus which included a program of English and Spanish Christmas carols as well as two string and piano selections by the school orchestra.

Anniversary Honorees

Elmer and Eileen Martin, longtime residents of Grethel, were honored December 27 with a 25th wedding anniversary celebration.

The program, which was held at the Grethel Baptist Church apartment, included a poem written by Miss Ruby Rhodes and Miss Eleanor Acker and read by Miss Acker. Rev. Reevis Clark presented a slide presentation. The poem and slides included highlights of their life story. Miss Marjorie MacMillan, living in Liberia, West Africa, sent a cassette tape including memories of their courtship. Rev. Elmer Francisco, the minister who performed their wedding ceremony had them repeat their vows as a special part of the program.

Following the program, refreshments were provided by members and friends of Grethel Baptist Church. A six-tier anniversary cake, made by Miss Sharon Francisco and matching the wedding colors, was served following the opening of gifts.

Out-of-town guests included former Pastor and Mrs. Fred Anspaugh, of Silva, Mo.; former Pastor and Mrs. Elmer Francisco, of Hornell, N.Y.; Rev. and Mrs. Reevis Clark, of Cornettsville, Ky.; Sharon, Sylvia, and Ricky Francisco, of Mayking; Mrs. Pearl Smith, Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Mary Lou Rhodes, Washington, D.C.; Miss Ruby Rhodes, Richmond, Va.; Miss Eva Lodgaard and Miss Alma Hubert, of Topmost; Mrs. Madge Caudill, of Hindman; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones, Kevin, Emily and Benjamin, of Milwaukee, Wis. The celebration was planned and organized by their daughter, Ruth Martin, who now resides at Mayking, Ky., and is a member of The Mayking Christian School faculty.

Mr. Martin recently retired from Floyd school system employment, and Mrs. Martin is working, part-time, at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville.

New Tax Laws To Help

Recent tax law changes will have some effect on 1982 tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The changes are:
 —Gain on Sale of Principal Residence: Taxpayers can exclude up to $125,000 of gain from the sale of their principal residences after July 20, 1981, if they were age 55 or over and met certain other tests.

—Charitable Contributions: Persons making charitable contributions are entitled to take a deduction of 25 percent of the contributions up to a maximum of $25 ($12.50 for anyone married filing separately) even if they do not itemize.

—Working Couples: When both spouses work and file a joint return for 1982, they can deduct five percent, but not more than $1,500, of the qualified earned income of the spouse with the lesser earnings.

—Child and Dependent Care Credit: The maximum credit for 1982 can be as much as $720 for one qualifying individual and $1,440 for two or more. These amounts decrease as adjusted gross income goes above $10,000.

—IRA's: Taxpayers are allowed a $2,000 deduction for contributions to an Individual Retirement Arrangement, even if they are covered by an employer's pension plan.

—Certain Reinvested Dividends from Public Utility Companies: Generally taxpayers can now exclude up to $750 ($1,500 on a joint return) of the dividends received under the qualified reinvestment plan of public utilities such as gas and electric companies.

—Disaster Losses: Taxpayers who experience a disaster loss in federally declared disaster areas in 1983 may elect to deduct their losses on 1983 tax returns or in the prior year. Either way, they will have to reduce each loss not only by $100 but the sum of these losses by 10 percent of their adjusted gross income, as well.

—Reduced Tax Rate: The rate for all brackets has been reduced for 1982. However, no additional computation is necessary because the reduction has already been built into the tax table and the tax rate schedules.

—Unemployment Benefits: Taxpayers who received unemployment benefits in 1982 must generally add that amount to all other income. Single taxpayers subtract $12,000 from the combined amount and married couples filing joint returns subtract $18,000. The lesser of one half of the remainder or the amount of the unemployment benefits is added to income.

—Exclusion for Qualified Interest from All-Savers Certificates: Those who invested in All-Savers Certificates are entitled to a lifetime exclusion from gross income of up to $1,000 ($2,000 if married filing a joint return) of qualifying interest from certificates.

IRS noted that other changes in the law will affect such things as medical deductions but these other changes will have no bearing on 1982 returns.

Additional information on these topics appears in the instructions which come with the tax package, and in the free IRS Publication 553, "Highlights of 1982 Tax Changes," available by using the handy order form in the tax package. You may also order Publication 553 by writing IRS Forms Distribution Center, P.O. Box 636, Florence, Kentucky 41042.

Heart Attack Victims Are Sought For Study

If you have suffered a heart attack... A unique opportunity is available to eligible persons nationwide to participate in a program supported by the National Institutes of Health.

The hyperlipidemia-atherosclerosis study is designed to explore the possibility of reversing the disease (atherosclerosis) which causes life threatening heart attacks. You or someone you know may be eligible. Participants must: be age 29 through 64; have had only one heart attack in their lifetime (suffered within the past four and a half years); be free of stroke; be free of diabetes; and not have had heart surgery.

Transportation and lodging for participants and an interested family member are free of cost.

The East Coast Center (Maine to Florida) is located in Philadelphia, PA. If you are interested, you are urged to contact the Hyperlipidemia Study. Call, toll-free, 1-800-345-1057. The study works closely with each person's private physician.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Clara Samons Conn would express thanks to all who helped during the passing of their loved one. Thanks to all who sent food, flowers and words of comfort during this time of sorrow. Thanks to the ministers for their kind words and to the Hall Funeral Home for its kind service. It.

Wins Auxier Award

Wally McMaster, left, of Paintsville, was the winner of a color television set given by the Auxier Community Development Club, December 24. James "Dee" Caudill, right, president of the club, presented him the TV.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Della Hall wishes to express their appreciation and thanks to all our neighbors and friends who helped during the death of our loved one. A special thanks for the beautiful flowers and to the Regular Baptist ministers for their comforting words. Also, the thoughtful and courteous service of Hall Funeral Home.

Contracts Let For Work To Add Lanes To U.S. 23

Bizzack Brothers Construction Corp. of Frankfort has received a $16.8 million contract to build additional lanes on U.S. 23 from U.S. 460 north of Paintsville to the Johnson-Lawrence county line.

Elmo Greer & Associates, G&G Construction Co. and G&G Coal and Energy Corp. received a joint $11.2 million contract to add two lanes to U.S. 23 from the Johnson-Lawrence county line to near the Shannon Branch road in Lawrence county.

The projects are part of a plan to make U.S. 23 four lanes from Paintsville to Ashland.

Work is scheduled to begin next spring and be finished in the summer of 1984.

America Goes Crazy Over Quilts

Americans are going crazy over American quilts, both old and new in a kaleidoscopic variety of dazzling patterns. Residents of Patrick County, N.C., work on a traditional design. The Smithsonian's collection at the National Museum of American History includes the three pictured quilts.

By DAVID M. MAXFIELD
(Smithsonian News Service)

It's a crazy thing about quilts. They're warm—and yet they're "hot." They're perfectly at home in bed—or showing off on the wall.

From the Blue Ridge Mountains to, yes, the Hawaiian Islands, where hand-stitched quilts sport a tropical look of floral design and color, interest in—and affection for—the American quilt is as boundless as the variety of kaleidoscopic patterns that now dazzle countless aficionados and quilters alike.

The American quilt, moreover, has become the Cinderella of the art world, rising in the past few years from its humble patchwork roots to places of prestige in prominent museums and art galleries. What was once considered a functional homespun craft is now often looked upon as something more, the fabric equivalent of fine paintings. "A number of modern artists are choosing quiltmaking as a medium of expression," Doris Bowman, specialist for the Smithsonian's 300-piece quilt collection, says. "It's amazing how many beautiful quilts are being made."

There's also international attention to quilts made in the U.S.A. "You can go to London, Paris, Tokyo, Milan—all have shops selling American quilts," Robert Bishop, director of the Museum of American Folk Art in New York City, reports. "They're used in contemporary living as art; they rarely get to bed."

At home, the American craving for both antique and contemporary quilts, the latter based on traditional patterns or stunning, innovative designs, has created a crowded calendar of fairs, craft shows, gallery exhibitions and workshops across the nation. A quilting seminar offered last spring by the Smithsonian Institution was deluged by hundreds of applications, according to Nancy Starr, manager of the Smithsonian's Selected Studies Program. Reservations to tour the quilt collection at the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History are running up to three months in advance.

Quilt sales in country shops, city boutiques and auction houses, supplemented by sales of publications and quilting supplies, ring up a reported $50 million to $100 million annual business. At Made in America or Manhattan's posh Madison Avenue, pieced, solid and applique quilts dating back to 1845 sell briskly at prices starting at $300 and climbing to $4,000. Owner Margie Dyer cites equal interest among men and women, and about as many customers buy quilts for decorative purposes as for cozy comfort.

In Athens, Ohio, Quilt National '83 is set for June 5-July 5. The National, organized by the Dairy Barn Southeastern Ohio Cultural Arts Center, Inc., is a juried exhibition of contemporary quilts, requiring that entries be "original, not a copy of traditional designs," though "original interpretations" of old patterns are acceptable.

"Contemporary work has just taken off," National organizer Pam Parker reports. Last year, entrants came from 36 states and five foreign nations, and, while most of the participants are relatively young, the older generation also is taking up the new approaches. "I've been quilting for 60 years," one woman told Parker, "but this is the first time I've ever been treated like an artist."

Not all quilt enthusiasts are turned on by the same things by any means, a factor that accounts for quilting's large, diverse following. "People look at quilts in two ways," Bishop says.

There are those who are interested in the graphic design of the material and relate to art world images, particularly modern geometric abstractions, minimal, op and even pop, all of which, ironically, the Amish quilters of Pennsylvania anticipated a century earlier in their boldly dramatic designs.

A second group, usually older women, likes to look at quilts from the perspective of craftsmanship. "They are concerned with such things as the number of stitches per square inch," Bishop explains. "There's not much crossover between these two groups."

What is going on here? Why quilts? Apparently, it was a New York museum exhibition, the Whitney's 1971 show of quilts, that triggered the quilt mania. The show focused on the visual look of pieced quilts, recognizing the patterns as part of the American design tradition. "The art world realized that quilts were art," Dyer says.

Tradition and today's interest in handmade items seem to be other major factors. Quilts are tangible, useful and handsome links to both past and future generations. "We Americans are now taking pride in our own art forms," suggests Polly Brooks, a partner in Appalachian Spring, a shop in Washington, D.C. Brooks recalls that, when her store opened its doors in 1968, "you couldn't have sold a quilt to a man for his office for anything." Now, she says, they are being snapped by doctors, lawyers and architects as office art. "They do give warmth and texture to a room," she says.

Appalachian Spring, like other stores, sells traditional quilts made by rural women from around the nation. "We find that these ladies create fine quilts as long as they are left to themselves," Brooks says. "There's no joy for them when we dictate, and we had to stop that. When I open a shipment, I don't know what is coming out."

But the quilts that are part of the old rural lifestyle are fast disappearing, along with that way of living. "The quilt is going to evolve into something different," Brooks is convinced.

In some ways, they already have. Quilts have been, and still are, just simple "fabric sandwiches" composed of a top layer, an inner filling and a bottom layer, all quilted or stitched together to keep the filling from shifting. But contemporary quilts resemble older patterns about as much as cars of the 1980s look like carriages.

Pursuant to Application Number 836-0013

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that: Coal Mac, Incorporated, P.O. Box 2822, Pikeville, Ky. 41501, has filed an application for a permit for a surface coal mining and reclamation operation of approximately 47.73 acres located 2 miles south of Grethel in Floyd county. The proposed operation is approximately 1000 ft. west from State Route 1929's junction with State Route 979 and located ¼ mile north of Hamilton Branch of Mud Creek. The latitude is 37° 27' 52". The longitude is 82° 39' 30". The surface area is owned by Anthony Akers, Dennis Jones, Denzil and Forrest Hall, Charles Howell, Denzil Hall, Eric Frasure Estate.

The proposed operation is located on the McDowell U.S.G.S 7½ minute quadrangle map. The operation will use the contour strip method of mining.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, and/or request for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Some of the ways to do business with us are changing.

But we're still as close as your phone.

The telephone industry is changing—reorganizing. That means more options for you. And some changes in the way you do business with us. If you've done business with us lately, you may have gone to one of our retail outlets. Now, if you need help with phone service, call us first.

Call a South Central Bell service representative if you want to:

- order new phone service.
- change your existing service.
- disconnect your service.
- ask a question about your bill.
- exchange or return sets purchased or leased from South Central Bell. (We cannot exchange or take back sets purchased or leased from other suppliers.)

Call South Central Bell's repair service if you have trouble with your service or with a phone set that is leased from South Central Bell. (For service or repair of phone sets that you own—whether they came from South Central Bell or another supplier—you should follow the warranty instructions or other maintenance arrangement made at the time of purchase.)

You'll find the phone numbers for your service representative and repair service in the front of the South Central Bell phone book. When you call us, in many cases we'll be able to complete your business or solve your problem while you're on the phone. In other cases, we may offer to mail equipment or parts to you. Or you may be referred to a phone company service center to complete your transaction. If so, we'll tell you where the nearest one is and when it's open.

Some things won't change. During 1983 South Central Bell will still provide you with dependable local and long distance phone service. We'll continue to be responsible for phones that residence and business customers now lease from us. And we'll continue to lease telephones (and to sell some selected phones) as long as they're available from inventory. (With regulatory approval, we do plan to offer single-line residence and business customers the option of buying telephones that are now leased from us.)

There'll be more changes in the telephone industry in the coming year or so as South Central Bell and other Bell operating companies are separated from AT&T and reorganized into regional companies. This change in organization, to take place in 1984, will affect significantly how you get and use telecommunications services.

But no matter how things change, South Central Bell is committed to seeing that certain things remain the same. We'll still have good, dependable people and the same goal: providing you with the best, most advanced telephone service at reasonable rates.

We'll keep you informed. But in the meantime, if you have any questions about the changes in the industry or about how to do business with us now, call 1 800 555-5000, toll free, 10 a.m.-11 p.m., Central Time, Monday through Friday. Or write for a free brochure, "Let's Talk About Change."

America Goes Crazy...

Pattern names, often as colorful as the quilts themselves, reveal the changes. Pine Tree, Old Maid's Ramble, Pickle Dish and Hearts and Gizzards belong to an earlier age, while Litho Quilt, Rythmetron and #1 re-sound of today. The modern designs, the Smithsonian's Nancy Starr says, are "gaspingly beautiful" in their paradoxical use of "painful color combinations."

"Though there still is strong interest in traditional quilting, modern technology has caught up with the form," says Lloyd Herman, director of the Smithsonian's Renwick Gallery, a national showcase for design, crafts and decorative arts. Artists have turned to such non-traditional quilting materials as plastic, beads, laminated mylar, paper and, in at least one case, gum wrappers! Rubber stamps, photo copy machines and silk-screens—all are being used now for printing both traditional and newer quilt materials. But one "quilt" made of stained glass was rejected last year by Quilt National. "We didn't want to handle it," Pam Parker laughs.

Like so many other aspects of American life, American quilts are subjects of controversy. Debate simmers over whether there have been and are strong regional differences in the quilt world and whether earlier Americans realized that their handiwork had artistic value.

One viewpoint, held by Margie Dyer and others, suggests that, for all practical purposes, there was little difference in quilts made in one part of the country and another. After all, Dyer says, as settlers moved across the country in the 19th century, quilt patterns traveled with them, creating the fabric version of the old melting pot idea. "Amish quilts do look different," she concedes, "but an applique quilt made in upper New York state looks similar to those created in southern Illinois. Pine Tree patterns are similar in Maine, New York and the West."

Polly Brooks feels that geographical variances were once quite distinct, but that was long before the age of jet travel and push-button phoning. Very elaborate, fancy quilts were made in Colonial times along the southern Atlantic Coast, she explains, because women there had access to imported fabrics arriving at seacoast ports. In Ohio and other interior areas, the settlers had to make do with scraps, and their quilts were more haphazard.

Were earlier generations aware that they were turning out something of artistic value? One school holds that theirs was a native approach, basically utilitarian. But the noted quilt authority Jonathan Holstein feels the early craftswomen knew exactly what they were creating: "Always it was planned and, with rare exceptions, planned completely." And Bishop thinks these women did view their quilts as works of art. "These often were the only beautiful things in a house. It was grim and dingy, dark and cold. Quilts were a spot of beauty."

(The exhibition, "Kentucky Quilts," sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service, will be on view from Nov. 26, 1983 to Jan. 1, 1984 at Huntington Galleries, Huntington, W. Va. A quilting seminar will be offered by the Smithsonian Institution, May 15-20. For information write Selected Studies Program, A&I 1190A, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560, or call (202) 357-2475.)

Customers shopping for antique quilts, one New York City store owner reports, are quick to ask how they should be cared for and cleaned.

The problem is that no two antique quilts are alike. What is best for one quilt is not automatically best for another. Some quilts should be cleaned while others are best left alone. What to do?

The Smithsonian's Division of Textiles has published a set of instructions covering the care of antique cotton, linen and silk quilts. These detailed instructions, which discuss fabric identification, cleaning methods and storage directions, may be obtained by writing: Division of Textiles, National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560.

Randy Moore, who plays the role of Ludmore in "Kentucky Woman" is a third generation miner with a graduate engineering degree from the University of Kentucky. As Ludmore it is his responsibility to frisk Maggie Telford (Cheryl Ladd) for cigarettes and matches before she enters the mine.

Prater Creek Homemakers Meet, December 20

The Prater Creek Homemakers held their annual Christmas party in the school lunchroom, December 20. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were furnished by all members. A short business meeting was held and county dues were collected for the following year.

Drawing was held for the "Star of Bethlehem," quilt made by the homemakers. The winner was Mike Henson, of Auxier.

Members enjoying the party were Debbie Tackett, Wanda Hall, Sandra Roberts, Belle Jones, Loretta Conn, Toda Tackett, Darlene Walker, Jo Akers, Pauline Akers, Ellen Campbell, Sereda Brown, Maggie Conn, Willena Campbell, Laura Feamster, Destaphine Boyd, Mona Boyd, Nell Samons, Gail Taylor, Agnes Kidd, Lucille Akers, agent Frances Pitts and guest Lisa Jones, Sylvia Hall, Angie Hall and Katrina Davis.

On December 11, members of the club visited Jenny Wiley nursing home. Members making the trip were Loretta Conn, Willena Campbell.

Next meeting will be January 24, at 7 p.m.

Pastor Given "Friendship Quilt"

Children from the Catholic parishes of St. Juliana, Martin, St. Theodore, Prestonsburg, and St. Luke, Salyersville, presented their pastor, Father Ralph Beiting, with a red and white "friendship quilt" at Christmas.

Each of the 57 children decorated a block of the quilt with a Christmas design and his or her name. Some added messages.

Most of the blocks were decorated with stenciled "liquid embroidery." However, at least three of the children stitched their designs with embroidery floss or metallic thread and some used layered and stuffed felt cutouts as well.

Three kings bearing the names of the children symbolized the three churches in three blocks at the quilt's center.

Mrs. Lou Ann Hutchinson pieced the blocks and bound the edges of the quilt. Pat Gallagher, religious education coordinator, initiated the project.

St. Jude Sponsors Bike-a-Thon To Raise Research Funds

The Central Regional Office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has announced that Mrs. Lois Collins has agreed to chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon in Estill, and Drift.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and provides total medical care to over 4,200 patients.

Winter Critical for Wildlife

Ever hear the country song called "If We Make It Through December"? This could well be the theme song for many wildlife species, but only if we add January, February and some of March to the title.

In the natural scheme of things, winter and early spring are critical times for wildlife. The abundance or scarcity of a species may well depend upon how many individuals make it through winter.

Under even the best of conditions, population fluctuations can be surprisingly great. Research has shown that on the average, only 20 percent of the quail which hatch one spring will make it to the next breeding season.

This 80 percent loss (or annual mortality, as wildlife biologists call it) is due to a number of factors, but the greatest losses generally occur in winter, when chilling cold increases the need for food at the very time that food is most scarce. Deep, longlasting snows can further compound the problems by burying foods that would otherwise be available.

But the relatively few quail that do make it through the winter are enough to repopulate the species, so that by the following winter there is again a surplus of birds—many more than the habitat can support. So the annual cycle repeats itself, year after year, with many more individuals produced than can possibly survive.

This annual mortality rate is the same whether the quail are hunted or not. A controlled hunting season allows hunters to take a portion of this surplus population before nature does and the net result is the same—a 20 percent survival rate.

We've used quail as an example because research figures are readily available on this bird. But the same general population cycle (with different percentages) holds true for all species, game or non-game. A good index of the degree of annual mortality is the species' birth rate. A large number of offspring indicates a low survival rate and a high annual mortality. That's why rabbits, the favorite prey species of just about every predator, reproduce like—well, like rabbits.

The key to abundant wildlife populations is allowing more individuals to make it through the periods of high population loss. A great deal of wildlife research and management is devoted to discovering the "limiting factors" on wildlife populations and correcting them. Sometimes this limiting factor is food, sometimes shelter or, particularly in arid regions, water.

So wildlife management, in many cases, is actually habitat management, the changing of environmental conditions to allow more individuals to survive the critical phase of the yearly cycle.

Floyd Countians Join In Helping Pay Debt Of Brown Campaign

Gov. John Y. Brown Jr. received $10,100 in assistance from eight Northeastern Kentucky residents in an August fundraiser to clear the red ink out of the books on his 1979 gubernatorial campaign.

The largest contribution by an area resident was $2,000 given by Barkley J. Sturgill, a Prestonsburg attorney. Ed Ousley, Prestonsburg businessman, gave $1,000, the report states.

A campaign-financing report filed with the Kentucky Registry of Election Finance showed that two Ashland Oil Inc. executives, board chairman and chief executive officer John R. Hall and vice chairman Robert T. McCowan, each contributed $1,000 at the fundraiser, that helped trim Brown's campaign debt from $335,000 to $145,000.

But the contributions by Hall and McCowan were not as high as those given by Ronnie G. Dunnigan, an Ashland businessman, and Carson Elswick, an Ashland builder, each of whom gave $1,500, and Ashland banker G.B. Johnson Jr., who contributed $1,100.

Ashland contractor E.B. Lowman was listed as giving $1,100.

Mills Accepts Plaque At Dedication Ceremony

Kentucky Secretary of State Frances Jones Mills was presented recently in ceremonies in Frankfort with a framed and inscribed collage honoring the memory of the late Col. Harland Sanders. The presentation, which took place during the unveiling of the bust of the famous founder of Kentucky Fried Chicken in the foyer of the Capitol Building, was made to Secretary Mills by members of the Sanders family in appreciation for her long friendship and association with "The Colonel."

Secretary Mills later explained her association with the legendary Kentuckian.

"We were from the same area of the state, and became very close friends. He was a friend of my father, Dr. Will Jones, who had treated his entire family. For me, The Colonel became a symbol of good luck. He signed my filing papers each time I ran for office, and he was with me at every important point of my career. He was a marvelous man who served as an inspiration for everyone who knew about him. For those of us who were fortunate enough to know him personally, he was a sheer delight. I am touched to receive this beautiful reminder of him from the wife and children who loved him so much."

The collage is now hanging in a place of honor in Secretary of State Mills' office in the Capitol.
