

New Project Will Add To Housing Units Here

This 40-unit apartment complex, tailored to the needs of middle-income renters, is being constructed on U.S. 23, a few miles north of here. Julia M. May, developer of the project, said it is being financed by a $1.3 million loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

To be known as Regency Park, the complex will consist of eight one-bedroom, four three-bedroom, and 28 two-bedroom apartments and is scheduled for completion by early November.

Ms. May, who is executive-director of Prestonsburg Housing Authority and managing agent for the Church Housing Association, was awarded the FmHA loan as a private developer. She is also owner of the nearby 'n' Go market and Big Mama's liquor store.

Apartments in the new complex will rent for $215, $235 and $255, depending on size, and rent for 16 of the units will be eligible for federal subsidy, Mrs. May said.

The project was designed by Ross and Associates and is being built by R.A. Williams Construction Co., both Lexington firms.

This Town...That World

COINCIDENCE

Last week, at the very time this column was palavering about parking meters, Salyersville's city council was voting to remove the heads of all parking meters there till next January 1. It will be interesting to see the effect of this move.

TO BEAT THE HEAT

Fall is exactly a month ahead, and sometimes it seems it's already in the air. The leaves on our water birch are sifting down, there are reports of Canada geese stopping by at downstate lakes and ponds, and soon, I boldly predict, will begin the predictions about how severe the coming winter will be.

These and the nearness of frost and biting winds are matters we might consider when we exercise the privilege of complaining about the heat, humidity and other current discomforts.

A WALK TO SCHOOL

The following purports to be a note from a 10-year-old boy after he had walked five blocks to school, a trip usually made with his mother or father by auto:

"Mom, let me do it again. I don't hear or see anything ridin to school in a car. They got birds over on Fourth, too. They was jaybirds and black birds and red birds and Mom I saw a blue bird too. When we drive I never see them on Fourth or enny place else after we leave the house.

"I saw a little rabbit and a tarpin. And a big dog was tied to a tree in a yard and he was howlin and I wanted to turn him loose. He wasn't a bad dog I know and oughta been let run and play. How would you like bein tied to a tree.

"Mom, I seen the sky too and it was all blue where the clouds wasn't, but the clouds was pretty too. And the trees and

Bookmobile Said Back on the Road

After some months of disrupted service, the Floyd County Library bookmobile is back on the road, Librarian Carolyn Traum announced this week.

The mobile library, which covers the entire county every two weeks, has a new driver, Terry Manuel, and a completely different collection of books, Mrs. Traum said.

The service includes "station stops"—at senior citizen centers, for example—where collections of books are left for borrowing, and even individual house calls for the homebound.

The bookmobile schedule is being revised and will be published later.

Result Could Be Fewer Teachers Kept by Board

Estimating ahead of time how many students will enroll in the county schools is at best a tricky art. Although, as Floyd school planners are discovering this week, a miscalculation can ease some problems even as it exacerbates others.

The fact that the overall school population is down in Floyd county, for example, is causing administrators to wonder if they will be able to keep on all the teachers hired for the 1984-'85 academic year.

On the other hand, it means that fears of overcrowding—and of running afoul of new laws limiting class size—have slackened in some schools.

Betsy Layne High School, the only one of the county's five high schools to show an increase in enrollment this year, has an opposite set of problems. No embarrassing surplus of teachers there—a geometry class, for one, is still without a teacher. And the school's ninth grade is bursting at the seams.

Parents with children in high school, moreover, are facing this year some feisty and unaccustomed bills for textbooks.

Superintendent E.P. Grigsby, Jr. said teachers were hired in anticipation of a student enrollment of 10,000 this year. At the end of the first week of classes, only 9535 students were on the books and, while more are likely to register over the next week or two, the 465-student gap will not be closed easily, Grigsby conceded.

Only eight of the county's 21 grade schools show increased enrollments this year—one of them Clark Elementary, where overcrowding has been a problem for some years. Harold, another crowd-

Most Attending Meet Back CHA Managers

It may have been, as Carter Hamilton insisted, that those hurt most by management practices at Highland Heights, an apartment complex operated by a consortium of churches in the Goble-Roberts Addition, have already been driven out.

Whatever the reason, most of those who attended a meeting Monday night between Church Housing Association (CHA) trustees and their Highland Heights tenants appeared to be firmly behind the housing project managers.

Nowhere was the difference among tenants sharper than in their opinion of maintenance man Alex Johnson. Hamil-

Party Chairmen Select Perkins For House Seat

As expected, State Rep. Chris Perkins, of Hindman, was nominated Friday by unanimous vote of Seventh district Democratic party chairmen to run for the U.S. House seat left vacant by the recent death of his father, Congressman Carl D. Perkins.

The younger Perkins was nominated to run in a special election to fill the remainder of his father's unexpired term and in the regular election for the full two-year term. Both elections will be held on the regular election date, Nov. 6.

Following his nomination, Perkins resigned as the nominee for another term as state representative from the 92nd district. He announced that he would resign the seat which he now holds as state representative, "if and when I'm elected" to the seat in the Congress.

Special Prosecutor Named For Election Finance Probe

If Dr. Grady Stumbo and two supporters who loaned him money during his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor are to be prosecuted for alleged state election law violation, it will be by a special prosecutor.

After two Eastern Kentucky commonwealth attorneys had declined the task, Attorney General David Armstrong appointed Thomas J. Smith, III, commonwealth's attorney for Clark and Madison counties, to handle the case.

Armstrong first sent the case to Afton J. Smith, Knott circuit court's prosecutor, but Smith declined the appointment, saying he was too sick to handle it. Later, Commonwealth's Attorney James R. Allen, of Prestonsburg, was named but he refused on the grounds of personal conflict.

ton and Maggie Robinson, who earlier this year organized the Highland Heights Tenants' Association as a means of addressing their grievances, repeated well-publicized charges that Johnson invaded tenants' privacy by entering their apartments without permission.

But they appeared to be a small minority in an audience of more than 50 tenants. Several other speakers praised Johnson as a diligent caretaker, sometimes to applause from a large part of the audience.

In addition to charges that the janitor spied on and "harassed" them, Hamilton and Robinson demanded that managers try to settle problems amicably before writing "nasty" letters to tenants; that they provide fire escapes for all second-floor apartments; account for money left by tenants on deposit, and post a list of scheduled maintenance charges and other fees.

As evidence of the kind of notice they found offensive, the aggrieved tenants cited a letter sent by project manager Joyce Ratliff to an elderly couple last December, informing them that neighbors had complained of noisy parties in their apartment. In a written statement, Mrs. Artie Crider, 57, said she suffers from arthritis and her 70-year-old husband, Norman, is disabled. They are "in no shape to be having parties," she told the trustees.

CHA Managing Agent Julia May said letters are usually sent to tenants only after a number of complaints have been received and are intended to give tenants an opportunity to reply to the complaint or to correct the situation.

While a schedule of charges is already on display at the CHA office, she would mail a copy to all tenants in the 75-unit project, Mrs. May said.

Doctor To Keep Health Care Job Till Next Year

A 73-year-old doctor who was fired in June because his practice of medicine was considered out of date can keep his job for another year, according to a settlement worked out last week.

Dr. Thomas L. Boneta sued his employer, Big Sandy Health Care, Inc., after he was fired. He was being discriminated against on account of his age and the fact that he was born in Spain, he said.

Ellis G. Buchanan, executive-director of the federally-subsidized health agency, cited "differences in philosophy" of health care as the reason Boneta was terminated.

Berry, New Director At Job Corps Center After Torrey Quits

The Singer Company announced last week that, effective next Monday, Kermit Berry will become the new center director of the Prestonsburg Job Corps.

Mr. Berry is transferring from the Clements Job Corps Center at Morganfield, Ky., where he has been director of training for the last three years.

He will succeed Gerald Torrey as Job Corps Center director here. Mr. Torrey, who has served as director of the Prestonsburg center since December, 1983, has resigned and will be entering private business, it was said.

Berry has extensive experience with the Job Corps, mainly at the director level. He holds the A.B.S. degree and an M.S. degree in education from Murray State University. He and his family will move here from Providence, Kentucky.

GETTING READY FOR RESURFACING of Court Street ran into considerable work for the Prestonsburg Utilities system and some disruption of traffic and business this week. The preparatory work included raising valve boxes and repairing sink holes, with excavation probing down several feet to water lines beneath the street.

Again on KY 7...

Neeley in Brush with the Law

Kentucky Route 7 at Hueysville—the Salt Lick road—seems woven into Cisco Neeley's fate.

Neeley, 30, of Salt Lick, ran a state police roadblock there last Wednesday, wrecked when police gave chase, and found himself facing various new charges and the revocation of his parole.

It was on the same road that Neeley's car collided head-on with another, killing a pregnant woman in February, 1977. And on the same road he again collided, killing a man, on Christmas Day, 1979.

State Trooper James Stephens is reported to have flagged down Neeley's 1973 Chevrolet Nova during the course of a routine traffic check on KY 7 around 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. The driver took off at high speed, was pursued by Stephens, lost control of his vehicle and wrecked, according to a police report.

In complaints filed in Floyd district court, Stephens said Neeley punched and kicked him as he made the arrest. State Police Sgt. Delmar Adkins, who transported the prisoner to the county jail, said Neeley punched him also.

Neeley was booked on charges of drunk driving (he refused to submit to a Breathalyzer test), resisting arrest, attempting to elude police, wanton endangerment, driving without a license, and two counts of assault. He was also ordered to be held as a parole violator.

According to court records, Neeley was released from the Bell County Forestry Camp at Pineville last November after serving about 5½ years of a 15-year prison sentence for manslaughter and reckless homicide convictions.

Indicted for manslaughter in the 1977 death of Mrs. Loletta Howard, Neeley was tried on the charge three times. His first conviction and an eight-year sentence were overturned by the Kentucky Supreme Court because a prosecutor's reference to Mrs. Howard's pregnancy was held improper. A second conviction in 1980—which brought a 10-year sentence—was likewise reversed because of the prosecutor's reference to his character. He was convicted by a third jury, which also recommended a 10-year prison term, in 1982.

While free on appeal in the Howard case, Neeley was again indicted for manslaughter in the 1979 death of Gary D. Metcalf. He pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of reckless homicide and was given a five-year sentence.

Coal Company Is Again Named In Court Action

Two coal firms were named defendants in suits filed here recently, one of them for the fifth time in the past four months.

Floyd Circuit Judge Hollie Conley last Wednesday ordered the sheriff to attach a computer, typewriters and desks in the Maple Avenue offices of the Katron Coal Company to guarantee payment of $3500 in rent which the property owner says is past due.

Douglas L. Brown said he leased the building last October to Katron—the firm is owned by Peter and Loretta Neal—for $1000 a month. He has received no rent since May 15, he said.

Last month, M. and M. Extraction Co., of Langley, said Katron still owed it $5913 for coal bought in January. In June, the Remine Coal Co., of Wheelwright, said the Neals owed $26,134 for coal purchased in March. J. Logan Griffith, an attorney for Katron, has said a fraud charge leveled at his clients stemmed from a misunderstanding and that the debt has since been repaid.

Two Jailed Here In Store Holdup

Two men were arrested in Salyersville yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon and charged with first degree robbery, following the armed hold-up Friday of a Middle Creek store.

State Police Det. Danny Stumbo said Bobby Cole, 22, and Jay Toddie Gibson, 18, are accused of the robbery, in which about $500 in cash was reported taken from Jenny's Place, a grocery, beer outlet and gas station owned by Avalene Ousley on the Mountain Parkway, about six miles west of Prestonsburg.

Ann Rowland, a clerk at the store, said she was working alone inside when a man wearing a "werewolf" mask and armed with a handgun entered the store shortly after 9 a.m., and forced her to empty the cash register and a file box. He then fled on foot, she said.

Stumbo said Gibson is believed to have been the masked intruder, while Cole is thought to have driven a getaway car parked some distance from the crime scene.

The men are from Magoffin county but have been living recently at the Cliffside housing project here. A search of an apartment there by Det. Stumbo and Prestonsburg city police yielded a stolen HBO box, gloves and other items.

Cole will also be charged with receiving stolen property and obscuring the identity of a machine, said Prestonsburg Police Det. Mike Ormerod.

ADDRESSING MEETING of Church Housing Association trustees and their Highland Heights tenants Monday, Maggie Robinson, a tenant in the Goble-Roberts housing project, read from a letter outlining her grievances against project managers. About 50 tenants, most of them apparently sympathetic to the management, attended the meeting, which was held in the annex of the Freewill Baptist Church there.

Coburn-Thurman Vows Said

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coburn, of San Lorenzo, Calif., announce the marriage of their daughter, Tamberlyn, to Mr. Roger Lee Thurman, of Concord, Calif. on Saturday, July 21.

The garden wedding vows were exchanged at the Victorian Century House in Pleasanton, Calif. with the Rev. Nicholas Wittmayer officiating.

Miss Coburn's dress was styled by "Suzette of California." The fabric was satin with lace overlay. The off-shoulder look was outlined with large white satin roses. Her veil of sheer lace was adorned with baby white satin roses. She selected white orchids for her bouquet with baby breath and greenery complementing it.

Miss Debra Curto, of Napa, Calif. served as maid of honor. Mrs. Jan Nolan, Mrs. Dena Millard, and Mrs. Jackie Jarvis served as bridesmaids.

Mr. Ray Binkley was chosen as Mr. Thurman's best man. Serving as ushers were Mr. Pert Binkley, Mr. Rick Gallart and Mr. Tony Coburn, brother of the bride.

After a short honeymoon to Las Vegas, Nevada, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman will make their home in Concord, Calif. Mr. Thurman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lige Thurman, of Norwalk, Calif. Mrs. Thurman is the granddaughter of Lillia Mae Price, of Prestonsburg.

1984 Essay Contest To Focus on Trees

"Trees in My Community" will be the subject of the 1984 Conservation Essay Contest and the 1984 Jim Claypool Conservation Poster Contest sponsored by The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times.

The annual competitions, open to all Kentucky elementary and high school students, may be the largest conservation-oriented contests for school children in the United States. In 1983 more than 40,000 essays were written on "Soil Erosion in My Community." More than 46,000 posters were made on the subject.

The essay contest is in its 41st year. This will be the 12th year for the poster contest which is open to students in grades one through six. In it, students are asked to make original posters with the subject of the competition as the theme of the posters. Awards of $175 in U.S. Savings Bonds will be awarded to three state winners by the two Louisville daily newspapers. Winners in 121 Conservation Districts will receive plaques.

In the essay contest, students in grades 7 through 12 are asked to write essays of no more than 1,000 words. The top award winners—121 district winners and three state winners—will receive $6,850 in savings bonds from the Louisville newspapers.

Co-sponsors of the contests, along with The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times are the Kentucky Association of Conservation Districts and the Kentucky Department of Education. The 1984 competition will begin in September. Detailed information and reference material for the two contests will be sent to principals of all schools in Kentucky at that time.

New Surgical Method Aid to Spinal Repair

Paralysis! That frightening thought raced through the young man's mind as the EMS ambulance sped toward Norton Hospital that March morning. A vertebra pressed against his spinal canal; bone chips were scattered along is spinal column.

What he didn't know was that an orthopaedic conference at the NKC hospitals was about to pay off for him.

Dr. John R. Johnson and the NKC hospitals' spine surgery team, were able to perform a "Dunn's procedure" on the accident victim to remove the broken bone and stabilize the spinal column.

"The instrumentation," said Dr. Johnson, "allows surgeons to remove a segment of the spine, reconstruct that segment, and restabilize the spine in a single operation. And that means a shorter hospital stay for the patient, about two weeks instead of four to six."

In addition to sparing him the necessity of undergoing a second surgery, the procedure afforded the patient much greater movement and flexibility.

Before the development of the Dunn surgical procedure, a patient with a fractured vertebra and marked stenosis, or crowding of the spinal canal, would undergo surgery to remove any bone chips along the spinal column, and to push the broken vertebra away from the spinal canal. Two weeks later during a second operation, rods would be attached to the vertebra to stabilize the spinal column.

With the Dunn procedure, "we can do the surgery exactly where the pathology is, in the front of the spine, and have immediate stability," Dr. Johnson emphasized.

Dr. Harold Dunn, chairman of the department of orthopedics, University of Utah, introduced the procedure during the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons' meeting held at the NKC hospitals last year. When Dunn's instrumentation for the procedure became available early this year, he offered it first to the Norton and Kosair

Children's hospitals' spine team of doctors Kenton D. Leatherman, Richard T. Holt, and Johnson.

Major advantages of the Dunn instrumentation include stronger rods for rotation stability, and the fact that rods are fused to one vertebra level above and below the injury or correction. Traditionally, the rods would be fused two or three levels above and below the unstable vertebra, leaving the patient with a very stiff spine. The Dunn instrumentation allows the patient greater spine flexibility after surgery.

That March accident victim, and a 47-year-old patient with a spine malformation were the first Kentuckiana beneficiaries of the procedure. Both returned home to recuperate in a brace and expect to resume most of their regular routine within the year, Dr. Johnson said.

Becomes Bride of Mr. Souleyrette

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Elizabeth Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee Anderson, Austin, Texas, and Mr. Reginald Roy Souleyrette, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Roy Souleyrette, also of Austin, was solemnized at 6:30 p.m., August 4, at Hillcrest Baptist Church, Austin.

The groom is the grandson of Mrs. Alma Souleyrette, of Wheelwright.

The Rev. James Tisdell officiated at the candlelight ceremony. Traditional wedding music was provided by Betty Sampler, organist, Barbara Anderson, pianist, and Paul and Bill Anderson, vocalists.

The bride chose a gown designed by Jim Hjelm for galina of New York. The fitted bodice of imported alencon lace and satin had a high neckline, long, tapered sleeves and dropped waistline forming a point in front. The cathedral-length train of satin fell from soft gathers at the waist and was edged with re-embroidery Alencon lace along the hem line. A Juliet cap of matching Alencon lace held her cathedral length veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of bridal roses, gardenias, baby's breath and English ivy.

The maid of honor was Kathy Anderson, of Austin, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Teri Anderson, of Austin, sister of the bride, Peggy Patterson, Lexington, Ky, Joetta Smith, Austin and Patty Trumble, Houston, Texas. They wore identical floor-length gowns of seaform tafetta with fitted bodice, scoop neckline and bouffant sleeves banded at the elbow. They carried cascades of gardenias and bridal roses. Karen Anderson, niece of the bride was flower girl.

Jeffrey Souleyrette served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were John Roessel, Pete Panos and Mike Canga, of Austin, and Troy Stephan, of Dallas. Ushers were Anthony Ortega, Robert Sims and Billy Wendland, of Austin. Douglas Souleyrette, brother of the groom, served as ringbearer.

The reception was held at the Abbey in Austin, the guest book was attended by Carl Lynn Anderson.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Texas with a bachelor of science degree in nursing. The bridegroom is a senior civil engineering student at the University of Texas. He is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity and Chi Epsilon and Tau Beta Pi honor fraternities. He is employed with the Materials and Tests Division of the Texas Highway Department. After a wedding trip to Maui, Hawaii they will live in Austin.

Correction

An assertion that Goble Roberts residents deserve a bridge as much as Cliff residents deserve a road was attributed to the wrong person in a report on the Prestonsburg city council meeting in last week's edition of The Times. The remark was made by Councilman Bobby Watson.

Dotson Pentecostal To Present Play

The Dotson Pentecostal Assembly Sunday School department will present the play entitled "Heaven," at 8 p.m., Sunday, August 26. Pastor Richard Shepherd will also be dedicating the new Sunday School facilities this same evening.

Refreshments will be served immediately after the play, and Sunday School Superintendent Ellis Stevens extends a welcome to all to attend. The church is located on the Mountain Parkway behind the flea market.

Helping Your Child Get A Good Start In School

For grade school children, the beginning of a new school year is a very special and exciting time.

There is a new teacher and a new classroom. Even the other children look different because they have grown over the summer months. It's important that parents help their children get a good start on the new school year. Here are some suggestions from Growing Up, the child development newsletter for school-age children.

HOME-SCHOOL RELATIONS
It is a good idea to meet your child's teacher early in the school year. That way you establish some common ground whenever your child talks about this very important person. This is also a good idea whenever a child transfers to a new school.

Meeting the teacher may not require a formal appointment—just a casual introduction, maybe before or after school, at an "open house," or PTA meeting.

At the beginning of the school year, it is particularly important that parents be available at home when their child is doing homework. A word of encouragement or a helping hand will help the child bridge the gap to a new and unfamiliar world.

SUPPLIES AND CLOTHES
Delay some purchases of supplies and clothes until after the school year is underway. The teacher may require a composition book, for example, with lines that are less widely spaced than the one you bought. Or there may be a special type of pen or pencil that your child is required to have. It is better to wait and get the right kind.

There may also be special clothes that your child wants to wear. She will want to fit in with the rest of the children so she may insist on helping select her clothes. This is a good time for parents to help a child learn how to make wise decisions about selecting new clothes. For example, will the color match what she already has, will she outgrow it in two months, is the price reasonable?

Middle Creek Fire Dept. Answers Call at Ivyton

The Middle Creek Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call early Sunday morning, August 5, when an unoccupied dwelling was reported burning near Ivyton. Firefighters from Station No. 1 were at the scene within minutes, and shortly afterward, personnel from Station No. 2 arrived.

New equipment has been purchased, and Loretta Stephens, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, recently presented a check for $500 to the fire department to help pay for it.

All residents of Katy Friend, Spurlock, Left Fork of Middle Creek, and Rt. 114 or the Mountain Parkway on the right fork of Middle Creek including the Ivyton area of Magoffin county may call the department at 886-9290.

TO MEET AUGUST 28

The Prestonsburg Breastfeeding Support Group will hold its regular monthly meeting on August 28 at the home of Mary Neeley at 10:30 a.m. All expectant and nursing mothers are invited to attend. There is no charge. For more information, call 886-8786.

The Problem Remains Unsolved

The Times, as well as many others, appreciates the interest and involvement of many people in the recent Dewey Lake cleanup effort. Recognition by the Department of Parks of the problem there and the state funds supplied at the urging of Rep. Gregory D. Stumbo, plus the work of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, have resulted in the elimination of a "holy mess."

Yet, without discounting the importance of work already done, we cannot hail this as a solution to the Dewey Lake problem. A seasonal cleanup there is not unlike a janitor struggling to keep his floors dry while the roof is leaking.

Next year's cleanup is already funded. But after 1985 will be the same spring flooding and the same debris-strewn shorelines.

Some years ago, Dean Murray, Dewey Reservoir manager for the Corps of Engineers, suggested that a boom be constructed in the headwaters of the lake to catch the refuse floating downstream from the scores of homes and businesses located on Johns Creek and its tributaries farther upstream.

This suggestion was rejected—why, we do not know. Certainly it would be easier to remove the tons of trash accumulating at a boom than to scour miles of shoreline for the unsightly mess. And surely the cost of such a device to protect the lake itself would be much cheaper than the current cleanup cost of $60,000 a year.

flowers and stuff. I saw people and some of them wanted to know if you knew I was walkin by myself. One man was cutting grass in a yard and he stopped and grinned at me and said wasn't it awful hot but I didn't think it was. The wind was blowing a little and it felt so good it wasn't hot at all but I was swettin before I got to school and the wind felt so good and cool.

"Can I walk to school again Mom?"
"People are real nice Mom. One man stopped his car and asked me if I wanted to ride but I didn't. I remembered you made me promise I wouldn't ever ever get in a car with a stranger."

"At last, I've become well-known in this town," the man sorrowfully remarked. His face reflected his unhappiness.

"Why so glum about it?" he was asked.

"Because I'm known so well now that I can't get a check cashed anywhere around."

DATELINE: MARCH 27, 1925

Mattie B. Sutphin, of Lexington, has sent me a copy of the "Friday Night Weekly" of March 27, 1925 which she found in the effects of her late father, B.C. (Bev) Hollifield. This newsletter was a "house organ" of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club of that day, and the late J.C. Hopkins wrote the one at hand. You may have to be older than you'd like to admit to be interested in it, but, young as I am, I found several items of interest. I excerpt the following:

"Prestonsburg has a wholesale grocery and feed store...long talked of and agitated by this club. William Dingus says that only a few more shares of stock are to be sold. Now where is the bottling works? The bakery is moving off nicely.

"The new Electric Shoe Shop with new machinery since the fire is back in business on Court Street and is adding a shoe shine parlor. Mr. Walters, the proprietor, was much discouraged after the fire with no insurance, but a few kind words of encouragement and offers of aid changed his view and he is here to stick.

"Howard Brothers of Magoffin county have established a Ford agency...A new saddle and harness shop on Main Street—another thing we never had...Engineers are here today to make a final location of the Mayo Trail of the two contested routes to Beaver Creek... Colonel Mayo has embarked in the drug business with Henry Hughes...one of the most progressive drug stores in Eastern Kentucky.

"Miss Mary Ford, our beautiful and accomplished musician, was seen driving a Ford on the streets Thursday and today... Another business we forgot to mention: Doc Bowling's Art Shop and couch emporium... a hospital for the repair of chairs, desks, Ford radiators and dolls. This is in the rear of George Sizemore's Pressing Emporium. We also forgot to mention John Hensley's cleaning and pressing establishment in the rear of Bill Buck's Restaurant... The Hensley Concert Band is practicing again, and you know that you ought to pledge something, every one of you, monthly for the preservation of this band..."

Almost 60 years ago. Remember?

Triple Elkhorn Mining Co. claimed in May that Katron owed them $2620 for coal wash-off bought in January and February. John W. Mann, who also represents Katron, denied the claim.

In April, the Winston Ford Company sued the Neals for $45,365 said to be owing for coal purchased in accordance with an oral agreement reached on June 20, 1983. Katron attorneys deny there was any such agreement and argue that, in any case, it would not be enforceable under Kentucky law.

In another suit filed in Floyd Circuit Court last week, Turner Elkhorn Mining Company claims that Morris Isaac owes them $23,000 for coal mined by the Pine Tree Coal Co., for which Isaac is agent, last summer.

According to the suit, Turner Elkhorn licensed Isaac to mine some of its coal reserves on Muddy Branch of Beaver Creek, near Martin, for a royalty fee of $2 per ton. Pine Tree Coal mined 15,000 tons there between July 1 and Sept. 30, 1983, but paid Turner Elkhorn only $7000 of the $30,000 generated in royalties, the suit alleges.

Isaac is chairman of the Floyd County Democratic Party executive committee.

(Suits filed in court present only one side of the issue in dispute.)

Perkins also announced he would not figure in the decision to name his successor in the state office. That issue became a "hot potato" last week when the Democratic chairman in Knott county, Sidney Adams, indicated he might appoint himself to the state legislative post and, soon thereafter, the Knott County Democratic Executive Committee voted to oust Adams as chairman. (Legal opinion is that a successor to Rep. Perkins must be named by committee.)

Perkins, 30, is opposed by Aubrey Russell, Ashland Republican, for the regular two-year term in Congress. Republican leaders have indicated that Russell also will be named the party nominee to oppose Perkins in the special election to fill the vacancy.

WILLIAMS REUNION

The Harrison Williams family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Millie Hackworth, Sunday, July 8.

The youngest present was six-month-old Mandy Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Wright, of Sabana, Ohio, great-great-neice of Mrs. Hackworth, who was the oldest attending.

The reunion for next year will be held at Mrs. Hackworth's on July 14.

There were approximately 75 attending from Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

ed school, has fewer enrolled than at the corresponding time last year, perhaps as a result of a recent Board of Education policy limiting enrollment to students in the immediate area.

Grigsby said two portable classrooms have been ordered, one of which will be located at Clark. The other could be used at Harold except that there is no room to put it, the superintendent said.

While some junior high grades will still have problems meeting state law on class size—the new law sets a maximum of 29 pupils per class in kindergarten through grade three, and 31 in grades four through 12—that problem will generally be less acute on account of the lowered enrollment. At Betsy Layne, however, they will be seeking state permission to go to the absolute limit of 35 in some classes, Principal Russell M. Frazier indicated.

Frazier acknowledged, too, that new textbook fees levied in the county's high schools this year have resulted in "a lot of unhappy people." Because of a decision by the state legislature not to appropriate funds for textbooks, the onus of buying books has fallen on local school districts, which then must seek to recoup the purchase price through individual student fees.

Floyd high schools are charging a $4 annual rental fee—the maximum allowed by law—for each textbook. In addition, students may be charged from $5 to $15 or more per course for laboratory fees and class materials.

Betsy Layne Principal Frazier noted that, with many students liable for fees of $30 or more, families with two or more children in high school can be hit hard. "I've had a lot of calls and I can understand why," he said. Assistant Superintendent Ray Brackett said the legislature made no provision for students whose parents cannot afford the fees and said such losses are inevitably absorbed by the schools.

Listed are enrollment figures in Floyd schools—excluding kindergarten classes—as of last Friday. The figures in brackets refer to the enrollment on the corresponding day last year.

Bonanza 50 (63); Daniels Creek 21 (20); Drift 24 (26); Home Branch 36 (31); Prater Creek 176 (177); Spruce Pine 64 (59); Allen 309 (369); Allen Central 556 (576); Auxier 132 (145); Betsy Layne grade school 404 (441); Betsy Layne high school 726 (701); Clark 599 (574); Garrett 384 (406); Harold 376 (382); J.M. Safety and Health Training Series Set Here September 14

As part of an ongoing effort to increase Kentucky labor and management's awareness of state occupational safety and health requirements, the Division of Education and Training is offering a series of training sessions in Prestonsburg. This training begins Sept. 11 and continues through Sept. 14 at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

This training is open to the public and free of charge. It is being co-hosted by the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce.

The schedule for classes follows: Tuesday, Sept. 11—Ky. O.S.H. Program Operations, Policies and Procedures, 8:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m.; Asbestos Occupational Health Hazard, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

September 12—Hearing Conservation Amendment, 8:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m.; Welding, Cutting and Brazing, 1 p.m.-4 p.m.; Proper Manual Lifting Techniques, 6 p.m.-8 p.m.

September 13—Fire Protection and Means of Egress, 8:30 a.m.-12 noon; Powered Hand Tool Safety, 1 p.m.-4 p.m.

September 14—Powered Industrial Truck Safety, 8:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m.

For additional information, or to pre-register by phone, call the Division of Education and Training at (502) 564-6895.

In a special program at the First National Bank, Pikeville, Secretary of Labor John Calhoun Wells will conduct a roundtable discussion for all persons interested in occupational safety and health, and related issues. An overview of the operations, policies and procedures of the Kentucky Occupational Safety and Health Program will also be presented.

VISIT PARENTS, HERE

Capt. and Mrs. Russell Wiley and children, Kristian Denise, Kelly Erin, Ryan Russell and Amy Beth, have been visiting their parents, Mabel Wiley, of the Goble-Roberts Addition, Pauline Williamson, of Martin, and Willie Goodman, of the Right Beaver area. For the past three years they had been residing at Alconbury A.F.B. in Cambridgeshire, England, and are now residing at Camp Hill A.F.B., Utah.

Deposits are routinely returned to tenants when they cancel their lease, project officials said, although deductions are made to cover the cost of repairing any damage. Fire escapes for second-floor apartments are not required by state law and would be too expensive to install, said Doug McFarland, senior loan specialist with the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the federal agency which provides financial backing for the 14-year-old project.

Letters written by at least nine tenants and former tenants have been circulated, complaining of the maintenance man's allegedly intrusive behavior. But only three of the complainants—Hamilton, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Crider—spoke up at Monday's meeting, and board members apparently concluded there was no justification for the charges against him.

"As far as we're concerned, Alex Johnson is doing a very commendable job. I think he's flying like a balloon," said trustee Hardin Short. "As far as I'm concerned, he's with us for a long time."

The troubles which led to the formation of the tenants' association all began with the failure of a couple of tenants to discipline their children, opined Bill Williamson. "If they corrected their kids when they first started riding motor-cycles up and down, 'popping wheelies,' we would not be here (at the meeting)," he said.

Mrs. Edna Grace Holton, another tenant, said the problems arose when some, initially grateful for an apartment at Highland Heights, came to take the project for granted. "I've been here since '77 and I wouldn't live anywhere else. I've had no trouble," she said, adding, "If you respect your neighbor, they'll respect you."

Care's board of trustees, said he has been advised by Boneta's attorney that the physician is willing to accept an offer proposed by the trustees last Thursday. Under the settlement, Boneta will be able to keep his job until June, 1985.

Boneta reportedly rejected an earlier suggestion that he voluntarily retire in six months. Turner declined to say whether the trustees were unanimous in making the new offer of whether they acted on, or in spite of, the recommendation of the executive-director. Buchanan declined to make any comment on the deal.

Based in Prestonsburg, Big Sandy Health Care operates the Mud Creek Clinic at Grethel and the Magoffin County Clinic at Salsersville. A general practitioner, Boneta works primarily at the Magoffin clinic.

HONORS FAMILY

Miss Alice Slone, founder and director of Cordia Community School, Cordia, Ky., was hostess for a reception and dinner at her home, August 5, honoring the family of her late brother, James Courtney Slone. Those so honored were his widow, Mrs. Charlotte Slone, their daughter, Mrs. Janet Marie Leming and son and daughter, Jeremy and Lee Ann, all of Greenville, Tenn.; their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Courtney Slone, Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kennon Slone, and their daughter, Miss Courtney Elizabeth Slone, all of Lynn Haven, Florida. Other family members in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Devert Owens and son, Devert Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Worley Sloan, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Slone and daughters, Misses Mary Rhoda and Jeanne Slone, of Hazard; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Madden, their daughter, Mrs. Jet Marie Gayheart, and her children, Misses Eanne, Ryan Elizabeth, Autumn and Casey, of Pippa Passes; Mr. and Mrs. Ancil Campbell, of Mousie; Miss Katherine Gayheart, Mr. and Mrs. Keller Whitaker and granddaughters, Misses Kelli and Alicia Kelly, of Cordia; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everidge, of Barefoot Bay, Fla.; and from Floyd county, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Watson and daughter, Miss Heather Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Owens and grandsons, Nat and Walter, Mrs. Alice Martin, and Mrs. Leona Fouts.

The late James Courtney Slone, was a member of the faculty at Caney Creek Community Center (now Alice Lloyd College) and taught at Garrett High School and in Greenville, Tennessee.

Judge Orders Halt On Tye Bend Project

A federal judge in Pikeville ordered the Army Corps of Engineers to halt its Tye Bend flood-control project near Barbourville until he can hear arguments in a dispute over the construction contract. U.S. District Judge Eugene E. Siler, Jr. granted a temporary restraining order sought by Jasper Iron and Metal Co. of London, an unsuccessful bidder on the project and scheduled a hearing Aug. 27 on the company's request for an injunction. The corps broke ground Aug. 11 for the project, designed to reduce Cumberland River flooding in the area. Jasper Iron and Metal is appealing the award of the construction contract to Melco-Greer Inc., also of London, and is seeking to halt the project until the appeal to the corps is resolved. Both companies are owned by members of the Greer family in London.

Desirae Anjelica Tackett celebrated her second birthday July 16 with a clown party presented by Bo Bo and Bashful the clowns. The party was given at her home by her parents, Namon and Irene Tackett, of Craynor.

Those attending were her sister, Tina, B.J. McKinney, Rozalyn Hamilton, April and Brad McKinney, Chuck, Brad and Kristy Danielle McKinney, Kevin Hamilton, Chad, Stewart, Russell Lee and Dusty Hall, Heather Evans, Kent Evans, Devon Blankenship, Pamela McKinney, Penny Tackett, Chasity, Benji and Brook Mahan, Renee, Davy, and Derek Salisbury, Tiffany Hunt, Tammy McKinney, Coleen and Phillip Dwight Hall, Brandon and Jerrold Huff, Carmel Ray Tackett, Mickey and Nicholas McKinney, Tina Lee Reynolds, Jonathan Hall, Tera Tackett and Jeremy Sanders.

Her grandparents are Narvin and Edna Hall, of Craynor, and Phyllis Tackett, of Boldman, and the late Asa Tackett.

At one time or another, beavers have probably changed almost every watershed on North America, reports National Wildlife magazine. For example, a 1960 excavation down to bedrock revealed the area now called Boston Common was created by busy beavers.

Cooperative Cleanup Of Toxic Waste Sites

By JAY D. BLAIR
Executive Vice President
National Wildlife Federation
The National Wildlife Federation recently participated in a bold experiment that may finally help to wrestle America's chronic toxic waste problem into submission.

We joined with the Conservation Foundation, the Chemical Manufacturers Association, and other corporations and conservationists in announcing the creation of Clean Sites, Inc. (CSI), a non-profit corporation that will encourage the companies that generate and dump wastes to clean up their sites voluntarily.

While this purpose appears perfectly laudable, CSI is not without its critics. One environmentalist describes it as "A Trojan Horse" that will lull environmental watchdogs to sleep while enabling rogue companies to evade their liabilities and responsibilities. Others say it will subvert current efforts to reauthorize Superfund, the federal program developed to clean up toxic dumpsites.

I disagree. While risk is inherent in any collaborative effort between historical adversaries, there is an equal or greater risk in not going the extra mile to solve tough resource problems. Any new approach entails a risk. However, the dilemma of toxic wastes is so entrenched, so intractable, and so resistant to normal methods of resolution that the gamble in this case seems well worth the taking.

A quick glance at the history of Superfund proves the point: in the three years since the fund was created, the government has cleaned up only six of the nation's 546 most dangerous sites. Meanwhile, as many as 15,000 sites around the country still await preliminary evaluation. Thus, while the government's procedures grind slowly, time marches on and problems compound.

CSI breaks new ground. It supplements Superfund by enlisting the entrepreneurial zeal, the proven expertise, and the enlightened self-interest of America's private sector. It does what the government can't do—it provides a forum in which all companies responsible for the cleanup of a particular site can come together and, through the use of "peer pressure" and the scientific expertise available to CSI, develop a plan for fast and thorough cleanup. The responsible parties (not CSI) then negotiate collectively with EPA and, on approval of the plan, proceed with the cleanup.

As the ultimate sanction EPA may use Superfund money to supplement private contributions, complete the cleanup job with these funds and then sue the holdouts for triple damages. CSI plans to target 20 waste sites in its first year and eventually take on as many as 60 per year.

CSI may fail. Companies may not come forward and accept their cleanup responsibilities regardless of their incentives provided by CSI. EPA could reject cleanup plans CSI helped develop if they do not meet EPA standards. Communities near toxic dumpsites may reject even the best cleanup plan if they distrust CSI's procedures. But we must try.

I think conservationists and environmentalists should applaud this first step onto unknown terrain, this preliminary effort to break old molds and new ground. We have the absolute duty, I believe, to help this innovative undertaking work. This may mean adopting the "strict uncle" approach of pushing CSI hard to be all it can be while withholding judgment until the passage of time has tested the concept. Our health—and the well-being of our environment—may depend on it.

Barnacle shells adhere to virtually any surface not poisonous or mucus-covered. They even stick to Teflon, says National Wildlife magazine. About the only deterrent ships can use to keep barnacles off their hulls is highly toxic copper or tin-based paints. Even with this protection, most saltwater vessels must be hauled and scraped every year or two.

'Learn Your Way Out of Prison' Suggested

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger told the American Bar Association, recently that we should consider making all vocational and educational programs mandatory, with credit against the sentence for educational progress, so no prisoner leaves without at least being able to read, write, do basic arithmetic and have a marketable skill. Sort of a "learn your way out of prison" program. Occasionally, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at our (prison) library, I devote about two hours of my personal time teaching two or three young men how to read and write. These young men thirst to learn to read and write, and they realize if they don't accomplish this goal now, their life, once released, will again be a life of crime. Two weeks ago, one of the men learned how to write "Dear Mom," and he proceeded to write his first letter "ever" to his mother. It consisted of only a few words; however, to be a part of his accomplishment was the only reward I needed.

When considering that all else has failed, and that many prisoners do leave our penal system still unable to read, write, and to do basic arithmetic, and having no marketable skill whatsoever, I feel that a "learn your way out of prison" program is a sensible idea.

Governor Collins is so high on improving the standard of education taught our many young people in and throughout our state...and, although only a suggestion, it is my belief her efforts and educational endeavor would be best used, beginning within our prison system. Considering the present crime rate and the overcrowded prison crisis we now face, this would be money well spent.

On the Loss of Perkins

Carl D. Perkins was one of the finest men of eastern Kentucky. He was for the poor people in the eastern Kentucky Coal Mining district, and he helped people get their Black Lung pensions, and I was just ready to call on him to get a letter to fill out on my silicosis of the lungs when he died.

I hope his son Chris can fill his dad's footsteps.

There are a lot of us who express our sorrow at his passing.

The people in Knott county, Floyd county and Perry county wish for Chris to win the election. Mr. Perkins was a hard-working man, and the poor people put him in office.

Dewey Lake Cleanup Result; 270 Tons of Trash Removed

The Dewey Lake cleanup, in which 36 community groups participated earlier this month and which resulted in 270 tons of trash being removed from the lake shoreline, is not over and forgotten.

The Parks Department has employed students to continue work on the cleanup effort for the next several weeks, and promotional campaign later in the year to discourage littering is planned.

A combination of nature's fury and man's carelessness had combined to dump plastic jugs, old tires, even refrigerators on the banks of Dewey Lake last spring during flooding.

During a two-week period that ended Sunday, Aug. 12, groups from Floyd and Pike counties scoured the banks of the otherwise scenic lake to haul away tons of debris.

According to Fran Curci, commissioner of the Department of Parks in the state Tourism Cabinet, the cleanup effort greatly benefits Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, which is located around the lake.

"The lake had really become unsightly because of the debris," Curci said. "We didn't have the manpower or money to clear all the trash, so this community program filled a great need. We really appreciate what these community groups have done."

The Parks Department held a picnic for the several hundred participants on the Sunday the drive ended. "It was our way of saying 'thanks' to all the people who pitched in to help," Curci said.

The project was financed by a $120,000 grant from the 1984 General Assembly. The bill's main sponsor, Rep. Greg Stumbo of Prestonsburg, served as chairman of the 12-person committee that began planning the program in July.

The money enabled the committee to pay each group $500 for their work. The organizations divided the west side of the lake into half-mile-long, 22-foot-wide tracts, and each group cleared one tract. The debris was either trucked out or shipped on a barge.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will clear the east side of the lake.

Funds remaining from the $20,000 total will finance more cleaning up next summer.

Agency Represents All Working Women

The Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor is the one Federal agency that represents all working women "from the teenager who needs training to the female corporate executive suffering a discrimination problem," director of the bureau, Dr. Lenora Cole Alexander, told a House subcommittee.

She said that since she took over in 1981, the bureau's activities have ranged from promoting training opportunities for economically disadvantaged women to getting more women into corporate management positions.

The bureau also encourages employer-supported child care services, develops career planning strategies for teenagers, conducts research on socio-economic issues affecting women, and keeps the public informed on these and other matters, Dr. Alexander pointed out in testimony before the House Government Operations Committee's Subcommittee on Manpower and Housing.

"The Women's Bureau has addressed issues affecting wage-earning women for more than 60 years, changing focus to keep in step with the times," Dr. Alexander said. "For the last few years, the bureau has been directing its efforts towards broadening the base of women's groups it serves. While not excluding groups of women served in the past, the bureau has provided the leadership necessary to more effectively reach all categories of working women."

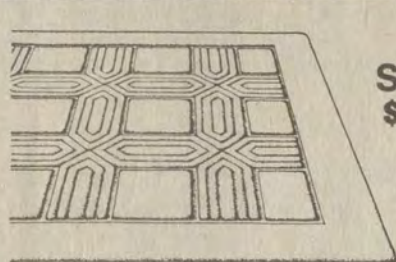

Beneficiaries of the bureau's efforts, the director said, include older women; low-income women; women in need of reemployment or upward mobility; teenage women who require more technical skills to compete in today's job market; rural women; minority women; women in or seeking nontraditional jobs; homemakers displaced because of widowhood, separation, or divorce; women offenders, business-owners and entrepreneurs, and corporate women.

How The Ky. Highlands Folk Festival Began

Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James, founder of the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival, is a Prestonsburg native who left the hills to study music and pursue a career as a singer. She began her formal musical training at Roanoke Institute and continued her studies at the Peabody Conservatory and the Cincinnati Conservatory. She sang with the Baltimore Symphony and toured with the Chautauqua Companies. Her love for the mountains was strong, however, and soon it prompted her to return to Eastern Kentucky. Then her lifelong study of traditional or "folk" music began. She has since stated many times that her studies served to heighten her appreciation of the beauty and dignity of the mountain musical heritage.

During the WPA days, Mrs. James and her sister, the late Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, founded the Kentucky Mountain Crafts and Folksong Center, Inc. Mrs. Johns concentrated on training programs and marketing for crafts while Mrs. James began collecting folksongs. Mrs. James put many songs which had never before been written down into musical notation, and documented their relationship to Gregorian Chant. These songs are preserved today in the Library of Congress.

Mrs. James directed several groups which performed at the National Folk Festival, and was honored with that festival's Burl Ives Award. Sarah Gertrude Knott, founder of the national festival, worked with Mrs. James on what they conceived as a regional festival, and so the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival was born.

Soon, the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival will celebrate its 20th anniversary. It is unique among other festivals which abound in the southeast during the fall as it adheres to the original intentions of Edith James—to celebrate and perpetuate the beauty of our mountain cultural heritage.

Scenes from last year's Kentucky Highland Folk Festival. All of these pictured will be returning for the 19th annual festival to be held September 7-9 at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park.

ORAL CANCER
Q. Is oral cancer a common form of this disease?
A. Oral cancer accounts for approximately 4 percent of all cancer in this country. If caught early, the disease may not disfigure the victim nor interfere with normal mouth function; with delay and neglect, it can ultimately cause death.

Since oral cancer causes no pain, a patient may not notice its symptoms, but a dentist (or doctor) can check for it in the soft tissues—lips, tongue, gums, roof and floor of the mouth. A whitish or red patch, a sore that refuses to heal, any swelling, repeated bleeding, or a numbness or loss of feeling can all be signs of cancer. If any occur, see your dentist immediately.

Surplus Food To Be Given Away, Thurs.

On Thursday, August 23, the Big Sandy Area Community Action Program will be giving out commodities to qualified low-income people in Floyd county.

Applications will be taken and commodities given out at the following locations: CAP Office, Stumbo Park, Allen; Senior Citizens Center, Wheelwright; and also at the Mud Creek Clinic, Grethel.

Distribution will start at 8:00 a.m. and will continue until all commodities are given out. Applicants must show identification that shows a valid Social Security number.

Persons unable to pick up commodities can authorize another person to be their representative. The representative will need to show a signed, dated statement by the intended recipient which authorizes the representative to pick up their commodities. The authorized representative will also need to have one form of identification for the recipient such as driver's license, medical card, social security card, etc.

The elderly and handicapped persons will have priority.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Big Sandy CAP Office at Allen, Kentucky (606) 874-2965.

Barkley Memorabilia Saved, Though Home Is Sold at Auction

The Paducah home of the late Alben W. Barkley, vice president and long a state and national political figure, has passed from his family to private ownership, but Whitehaven, Kentucky's unique welcome center on I-24 in Paducah, has acquired Barkley memorabilia.

Two of Barkley's desks and his vice presidential nameplate will be displayed on the second floor of the restored mansion.

Barkley was a congressman, U.S. senator and served as Vice President of the United States from 1949 to 1953. A native of Graves county, Barkley spent most of his life in Paducah.

The furniture was donated to the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet for display in Whitehaven by Growth, Inc., a non-profit organization.

Growth Inc. purchased $50,000 of the former vice president's memorabilia earlier this summer when Barkley's estate was sold at auction. Money for the purchases came from donations by people interested in keeping Barkley's memorabilia in the Paducah area.

The group donated the furniture to Whitehaven to keep it in the Paducah area on display for area residents and tourists.

State Transportation Secretary Floyd G. Poore signed an agreement with Growth, Inc., which permits the return of the items to Growth if the mansion is no longer used as a welcome center.

All other donations to furnish the welcome center have become the property of the state.

"The Transportation Cabinet restored Whitehaven to preserve a piece of Paducah's and the state's architectural heritage for Kentuckians and visitors to our state," said Poore. "We are extremely pleased to be able to display Alben Barkley's items in the mansion. It shows Kentucky's rich heritage and our concern for preserving that heritage."

Whitehaven is located off I-24 on U.S. 45 in Paducah.

The state Transportation Cabinet recently received a national preservation award for restoring Whitehaven for use as an interstate welcome center. Since the center was opened last summer, thousands of visitors have stopped there and toured the mansion.

Named Vice-President At Pikeville College

Pikeville College has announced the selection of a new vice president of academic affairs. Dr. A. Pery Whitmore, a native of Northeast, New York, comes to the College from Urbana College, Urbana, Ohio, where he served as president from 1981 until 1983. Dr. Whitmore holds the Ph.D. degree in English Literature from the University of Colorado, and is listed in the Directory of American Scholars.

Dr. Whitmore brings to Pikeville College the administrative dimension of having worked with a college (Urbana) that faced many of the same challenges facing Pikeville College...budget problems, shrinking enrollment, and inflationary pressures. He projected an optimistic tone when he talked about the College. "You know, it is such a good feeling to be a part of an institution that knows what it is about, and to feel that you can contribute to its future. I am absolutely delighted."

Pikeville College has now made two appointments in recent months of individuals who have presidential experience. Sr. Catherine Mahady, vice president of administration and business affairs, served previously as president of St. Catherine's College in Kentucky.

MARTIN NEWS

Arietta Machowicz, of Hollywood, Fla., spent a three-week vacation here with her sister, Vernie Messinger, of Pageant Hills, and visited other members of her family. She also spent some time with her friend, Edith Sizemore, in Paintsville and with her brother Preston Collins attended the funeral at Hindman of Congressman Carl D. Perkins.

Howard and Lorraine Butcher, of Chopmansville, W. Va., spent the past week-end at the home of Vernie Messinger, visiting with their old friend, Arietta Machowicz. Her brother, Preston Collins, and wife accompanied her to the Blue Grass Airport in Lexington on her return home.

Friends on Pageant Hill are very sorry to hear of the serious illness of Ballard Stephens.

Hazel Collins is a patient in Highlands Regional Hospital; Prestonsburg.

Vernon Bryant and family, of Ohio, have been visiting his step-father, Tilden Collins at Drift.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Marvin McKinney wishes to express their appreciation and thanks to all who sent food and flowers during this time of sorrow. Thanks to Rev. Fugate for his words of comfort and to the Hall Funeral Home for its kind and courteous service.

Retired Teachers in Recent Meeting

Thirty members of the Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association were present when Mrs. Norma S. Stepp (fifth from right, front row), who had served as association president since August, 1979, conducted her last meeting, Thursday, August 9, at May Lodge. From left: front row—Elsie Mae Stephens, Bessie R. Conley, Nancy P. Webb, Sarah Laven, Ruby Akers, Nora S. Stepp, Opal S. May, Virginia S. Goble, Zella Archer, Grace Conley; second row—Grace Sutherland, May K. Roberts, Alice Harris, Danise Amburgy, Lucy C. Regan, Alma Lowe, Ethel Ratliff, Mildred R. Hall, Sherrill Frazier, Lonzo Lafferty, and Oma Elkins; third row—Elmer G. Martin, Rhoda M. Howard, Linda J. Stephens, Mildred S. Salisbury, Clem Martin, Goldia S. Williams, Hugo E. Miller, Carmel Akers.

Mrs. Danese Amburgy was installed as president at the meeting. Mrs. James B. Goble served as the installation officer. Also installed were: Miss Ruby Akers, first vice-president; Mrs. Carlos Haywood, second vice-president (in absentia); Mrs. Sarah Laven, secretary; Mrs. Rhoda Howard, treasurer, and Mrs. Docia B. Woods, publicity director (in absentia).

Mrs. Norma S. Stepp, outgoing president, was commended by Mrs. Grace Sutherland, speaking on behalf of the group, for five years of outstanding service. Mrs. Sutherland, in the group's behalf, presented Mrs. Stepp with a framed print by local Kentucky Heritage artist Russell May. Mrs. May K. Roberts introduced the Rev. Lowell Langefield, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, here, who used as his devotional theme a passage from Ephesians.

The president appointed a committee, composed of Sherrill Frazier, Grace Sutherland, Elmer Martin, Elsie Stephens and Lucy Regan to study the feasibility of establishing a scholarship to be sponsored by this group.

Jack Freed, president of the Jenny Wiley Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons (A.A.R.P.), outlined some of the service projects sponsored by the chapter, including a health fair, book show and a refresher driving course for persons past the age of 55. The F.C.R.T. members approved a contribution of $50 toward expenses of the health fair, which is to be held at Prestonsburg High School, Sept. 29, and at McDowell High School, Oct. 20.

Present, in addition to those in the photograph, were the Rev. Lowell Langefield, Jack R. Freed, Mrs. Lonzo Lafferty, Raymond B. Turner, Arnold Lowe, and Audie Elkins, as guests, and a member, Lady M. Laven Turner.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

Miss Akers, Mr. Addis Wed

The marriage of Miss Rolanda Akers and Mr. Larry Addis was solemnized by the Rev. Roy Tinchler in a formal candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church of McDowell, Friday evening, June 22.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Akers, of Printer, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Akers, of Louisa, Ky. Mr. Addis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Addis, of McDowell.

Preceding the ceremony, selections of wedding music were presented by Libby Hall, pianist, and Joan Chaffins, soloist.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of candlelight white taffeta styled with off-the-shoulder mufin sleeves and fitted bodice adorned with Schiffl embroidery and pearls. Her cathedral length train fell from the waistline into layers of silk floss venise lace. She wore a matching hat of Schiffl embroidery and pearls. She carried a cascading bridal bouquet of pink and white silk sweetheart roses, white gardenias, and lily of the valley secured with pearl streamers.

Mrs. Rita Henson, of Drift, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Gayle Wells, of Prestonsburg, Anna Allen and Bonita Compton, both of Martin. Mr. Charles Vance was best man, and groomsmen were Dana Moore and Sammy Adams, both of Price, and Allan Howell, of McDowell.

Ringbearer was Master Shane Akers, nephew of the bride, flower girls were Miss Crystal Dawn Akers and Miss Jessica Wraye Akers, nieces of the bride. Erica Turner, of McDowell, presided at the guest register.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church with Sandra Duff, Debi Warrens, Altonete Bentley and Karen Turner assisting.

After a wedding trip to the Smokey Mountains and Myrtle Beach, S.C., the couple are residing at McDowell.

Idle Insurance Claims Said at 10-year Low

The percentage of unemployed Kentuckians claiming unemployment insurance benefits is at a 10-year low, according to Cabinet for Human Resources figures. It may be at its lowest level since the unemployment compensation program began in 1939, cabinet officials say.

"In 1975, which was a recession year, the estimated number of unemployed Kentuckians averaged 105,000," said state labor market analyst Ed Blackwell. State unemployment insurance figures show an average of 72 percent of these people claimed benefits each week.

During the first half of 1984, the state's unemployment estimate averaged 173,000 while the percentage of these receiving unemployment insurance benefits dropped to 30.4 percent.

"Kentucky's annual average unemployment has been climbing since 1977," Blackwell said. "The percentage of unemployed who have been claiming unemployment insurance benefits has fluctuated during that time."

Meanwhile, the number of people who exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits in 1980 was almost double the 1979 figure, according to data compiled by the cabinet's Division of Unemployment Insurance. The figure has remained high since the 1980 jump.

Blackwell said, "In spite of the fact that employment is at an all-time high, our surveys of Kentucky employers show we have not regained thousands of jobs lost during the recession that began during the last three months of 1979."

He said, "Many people who have exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits are competing for jobs with new and reentrants to the labor force and those unemployed who worked in jobs not covered by unemployment insurance. People in these four categories make up about 70 percent of the unemployed today."

He added, "The main problem is we have people trained for jobs that no longer exist. This is a major obstacle in reducing unemployment."

The latest employment figures available—for June, 1984—show 27,600 more people were working in services jobs, 5,800 more were in trade positions and 2,900 more were employed in finance, insurance and real estate than the average for these same jobs in 1979. But there were 40,500 fewer manufacturing jobs in June than the average for 1979, Blackwell said. There were 11,900 fewer coal mining jobs, 10,700 fewer in government, including education, 10,500 fewer construction jobs and 6,200 fewer positions in transportation, communication and public utilities in June than the average for 1979, he added.

Monthly employment surveys conducted by the Department for Employment Services do not show an employee's work history. "In the areas showing employment growth, we don't know how many of the additional employees are people who had exhausted their unemployment benefits before returning to work. We don't know how many may have worked in well-paying jobs, in manufacturing, for example, been laid off, and accepted entry level positions at lower wages in other types of jobs, simply in order to work," Blackwell said. "We don't know how many unemployed Kentuckians need job retraining in order to return to work."

He added, "We do know that during the first six months of this year, on the average, there were about 120,000 unemployed Kentuckians who weren't receiving unemployment insurance benefits while they were looking for work."

Born August 13, 1914, he was a son of the late Winston and Vada Thacker Sparkman. He was a member of the Hindman Baptist Church and was a veteran of World War II, having served in the Navy.

He is survived by his wife, Marie Sparkman; two daughters, Mrs. Earnestine Mallory and Mrs. Geraldine Jensen, both of Knox, Ind.; two brothers, Gordon and Byron Sparkman, both of Larkslane; eight children and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 Sunday afternoon at the Mousie Baptist Church by the Revs. Archie Everedge, J.S. Bell, and Clyde Wicker, Jr. Burial was made in the Sparkman cemetery at Larkslane under direction of the Hindman Funeral Home.

Herman Harrison Lykins

Graveside services will be conducted at 10 a.m. today (Wednesday) at the Hereford cemetery at Cliff for Herman Harrison Lykins, 88, of Glasgow, who died Sunday at the Homewood Health Center in Glasgow. The officiating minister will be Dr. Lowell Langfeld.

Born December 30, 1895 at Cliff, Mr. Lykins was the son of Isaac Newton and Mary Hatcher Lykins. He was a retired miner.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Emma L. Woods, of Glasgow, and several nieces and nephews.

Corrie ten Boom Film To Be Shown, Sunday

A special showing of the new World Wide Pictures release, "Jesus is Victor," is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 26, at the First Baptist Church here. The showing, which is open to the public free of charge, will begin at 7 p.m.

"Jesus is Victor" is a personal and intimate portrait of Corrie ten Boom, a Dutch Christian who, until she was silenced by a stroke in 1978 at the age of 86, traveled the globe telling of her experiences in Nazi-occupied Holland during World War II. She and her family were responsible for saving the lives of hundreds of Jews through their work with the underground.

Miss ten Boom's experiences have been related in a number of best-selling books, as well as through World Wide's award-winning theatrical release, "The Hiding Place."

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Ballard Sealf would like to express their thanks to all who helped during the passing of our loved one. Thanks to all who sent food, flowers, prayers and words of comfort during this time of sorrow. Thanks to the ministers for their kind and comforting words and to the Hall Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

You've put a lot into your home...Now let it pay you back!

OUR HOME EQUITY LOAN MAKES IT EASY!

Like most of us, your home is probably your most valuable asset, with a value that continues to grow with each passing year. It's probably worth much more today than what you paid for it—because of the improvements you've made and the continual increase in property values. The difference between what you owe on your home and its appraised value is your equity, and that can represent a lot of money!

Now with a Bank Josephine Home Equity Loan, you can turn your equity into cash—to finance home improvements, consolidate bills, purchase a second home, start your own business—the sky's your limit! All your dreams and future plans are within your reach NOW. Your equity and your good name are all the collateral you'll need.

Talk with one of our loan counselors today. We'll be happy to help you. You've invested a lot in your home. Now let it pay you back!

Spend Week at Camp Webb

Twenty-eight Floyd county fifth and sixth graders spent last week at Camp Webb, one of three conservation education camps operated by the Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources. The campers, all of whom have participated in the conservation education program in their individual schools, spent the week swimming, boating and fishing. They received instruction in boating safety and safe gun-handling.

Floyd youngsters attending the camp during the week were Lisa A. Akers, Zelena K. Beatty, Rebecca L. Burchett, Vada R. Collins, Ernestine L. Cooper, Melissa K. Dillon, Michelle L. Depoy, Elma M. Frasure, Sarah J. Gayheart, Lora L. Goble, Debbie R. Griffey, Melissa M. Hall, Lanora Harless, Lenora L. Howard, Crystal L. Lawson, Jacie Mitchell, Michelle D. Mullins, Edie R. Camping In Bear Country? Here's How To Prepare Camping in bear country? Expect the unexpected, because bears are predictably unpredictable, says National Wildlife magazine.

Knowing about bears in bear country could make the difference between an outdoor adventure and a tragedy, according to the bimonthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation.

"Few back country campers have ever seen a bear. Far fewer have been injured by one," says Stephen Herrero, a wildlife biologist with the University of Calgary.

However, after conferring with National Park Service officials and experienced campers, Herrero and others have made some sharp conclusions about how campers can avoid problems with the wild creatures.

As one biologist succinctly stated: "There are no absolute formulas because the characteristics of individual bears vary as much as do the characteristics of individual people."

- Always remain calm—running or shouting could encourage an attack.
- Retrace your path on the trail each time the bear retreats, slowly making your way toward a tree sufficiently big enough to carry your weight, and fall enough to be out of reach from below.

- If an attack seems unavoidable, and there is no tree in sight, playing opossum—by lying limply on the ground as if you were dead—could save your life. Others have also advised kneeling on the ground with your head between your knees and clasping your hands behind your neck—forming a tight, well-protected ball while shielding your face, neck and chest areas.

- Hikers should never travel alone. Some even recommend hiking in groups of six or more.

- Familiarity with an area and selection of a proper campsite are also important. Game trails should be avoided, since bears often use them at night.

- Keep a clean campsite—no hungry bear can pass up leftover scraps. If there are fishermen in your party, make sure that they prepare their catches at least 100 yards away, and that they store their clothes in airtight sacks in order to prevent the escape of enticing odors of fresh fish.

Senior Golfers To Play in Lexington

The top five money leaders of the 1984 Senior PGA Tour will be in Lexington, Labor Day weekend, to compete in the second annual Citizens Union Senior Golf Classic.

Don January, Miller Barber, Arnold Palmer, Orville Moody and Billy Casper head the list of Senior PGA Tour regulars who will make up the 52-player field for the August 29-September 3 classic at Griffin Gate golf course.

The group also features such legends as former Lexingtonian and Masters champion Gay Brewer; Sam Snead, owner of 84 PGA tour victories; Australian Peter Thomson; four time Canadian PGA winner Al Balding; and Doug Sanders, one of the Senior Tour's most popular and entertaining players.

Forty-one exempt professionals, 32 of whom played in the 1983 tournament, have already committed to the $175,000 Classic. They are: Al Balding; Jerry Barber; Miller Barber; George Bayer; Al Besselink; Tommy Bolt; Gay Brewer; Billy Casper; Jim Cochran; Bill Collins; Pete Cooper; Gardner Dickinson; Bob Erickson; Mike Fetick; Jack Fleck; Doug Ford; Rod Funst; Ed Furgol; Marty Furgol; Freddie Haas; Paul Harney; Fred Hawkins; Lionel Hebert; Don January; Howie Johnson; Bill Johnston; Ted Kroll; Billy Maxwell; Orville Moody; Kel Nagle; Tom Nieporte; Arnold Palmer; Johnny Palmer; Mason Rudolph; Doug Sanders; Charlie Sifford; Dan Sikes; Sam Snead; Art Silvestrone; Peter Thomson; Bert Weaver.

The deadline for exempt players to sign up for the tournament is August 26. If any slots remain, non-exempt professionals will play a qualifying round to determine who will complete the field.

In addition, 200 amateurs will join the pros on Friday and Saturday for a 36-hole event, with the professionals' scores being included in their final totals.

Advance tickets are available at all Citizens Union Bank locations, Lexington city golf courses and at Griffin Gate. During the Classic, tickets will be on sale at the tournament site.

River Yields $1,000 Bass

By EMILY MORSE
Somewhere in Nebraska is a Kentucky fisherman who is $1,000 richer—and doesn't know it.

Kenny Doyle, Salem, caught a tagged largemouth bass from the Ohio River, June 9. Before leaving for Nebraska to work on a pipeline construction crew, he returned the tag to the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Since Doyle moves around on his job, he currently has no forwarding address. But when he does call home, he'll get a pleasant surprise—his tagged fish netted him $1,000.

This fish is part of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' tagging program in the Ohio River. It offers cash rewards ranging from $1 to $1,000 for certain fish caught. Fisheries biologist Ralph Jackson uses the tags to study fish movement, age and growth rates. Jackson said fish are usually caught a couple of weeks after they are tagged and usually in the same area. However, one fish caught traveled 24 1/2 miles in three days.

Kenny Doyle caught his one pound, seven ounce largemouth bass from the Crooked Creek embayment of the Ohio three days after it was tagged there. On the day he caught the fish, he had been having trouble with his trolling motor. His friend that he always fishes with, Jerry Wilson, pulled his boat for him.

This bass was one of 30 caught that day by Doyle, Wilson, Tom Gannon and Debbie Rector. All four friends have caught a tagged fish each this spring and have jokingly agreed to split the cash rewards, saying they would probably each receive a dollar. "We never dreamed of $1,000," said Wilson, principal of the Livingston County Middle School and winner of a $1 reward. He will try to forward the good news to Doyle.

Gay sitcom on Showtime

By Amanda Bruce

What's the best way to react to a family member's homosexuality? Send the guilty party to be "cured" at an encounter group, or so believe the Waters brothers.

That's what happens in the "Lizards Ain't Snakes" episode of "Brothers," airing Aug. 26 and 28 on Showtime. After Cliff's negative experience at a gay bar, brothers Joe and Lou think they can set him straight again.

"Brothers" is the first TV sitcom to look homosexuality in the eye and come out laughing. The show doesn't skirt the issue or tap dance around the subject with coy asides. It's blunt, to the point and funny.

But it doesn't belabor the subject either. The other brothers get a chance to shine, too. On Aug. 30, in the "Mindless Passion" episode, it's Joe's turn in the spotlight as he tries in vain to end his affair with a married woman. Ex-"Lou Grant" reporter Robert Walden is Joe; Brandon Maggart is the dumb, lovable, older brother Lou and Paul Regina is Cliff, the gay brother.

If the antics of the Waters brothers are too silly for you, tune in to the Paul Mazursky-directed "Tempest," airing Aug. 26 and 29 on The Movie Channel. Sort of a comedy, sort of an allegory, sort of a takeoff on Shakespeare, if nothing else, "Tempest" is strange. John Cassavetes stars as a successful architect who leaves wife and home to frolic on a Greek island with his daughter and lover. Susan Sarandon, Raoul Julia and Gena Rowlands also star but the best performance comes from young Molly Ringwald as the daughter. She has a natural acting style, a sweetness and a charm that makes her appealing. But what are those goats doing flying through the air to the tune of "New York, New York"?

Not as strange but very controversial is Bernardo Bertolucci's "Last Tango in Paris," airing Aug. 30 on The Movie Channel. Marlon Brando plays an older man who shares an apartment and a love affair with the young and pretty Maria Schneider. The explicit love scenes and raw language kept tongues wagging for months after this 1972 film appeared.

SEEING TROUBLE

PURPLE RAIN. (R-Warner Bros.) Starring Prince, Apollonia Kotero and Morris Day. ★

By J.T. YURKO

When Elvis Presley was first becoming a major recording star, he was also beginning his career in films. He starred in a string of vastly forgettable movies, some featuring his songs, some not, but all were very much in the mainstream of Hollywood movies.

Then along came "A Hard Day's Night" and "Help," with the Beatles playing the Beatles. The Fab Four's movies are still among the best in the "rock movie" genre.

Now, in "Purple Rain," rock star Prince plays himself in an autobiographical story that's a long way from the forced conventions of an Elvis Presley movie and light years away from the giddy joy of "A Hard Day's Night."

This is not to say that "Purple Rain" is a good movie. For all its conscious attempts at breaking conventions in terms of both style and substance, "Purple Rain" is actually a highly cliched film in the mold of Hollywood musical romances. What's more frightening is that despite its self-described "radical" format, it is still a boring film.

Prince plays "the Kid," a struggling nightclub musician who lives in the basement of his home with Mom and Dad. Keys to his Dad's character can be found in such nauseatingly profound lines as "If only you'd understand me," spoken just after he's finished beating up Mom for the upteenth time. "The Kid" falls in love with a girl from the bar, loses the girl to a rival group, and gradually wins the girl back, at the same time discovering much about himself.

This is radical cinema? Just about all of Prince's backup group play themselves in the film. That is either gritty, personal realism or outright friendly nepotism, depending on your point of view.

The soundtrack to the film is already the top-selling album in the country. Like most musicals, the music in the film is designed to support the story and enhance the drama, but this drama needs a whole lot more support than even these vastly successful songs.

GOOD NEWS REPORT

In the Johnstown area of Pennsylvania, people have the habit of helping each other. They've had enough floods there to stimulate the kind of community spirit that remains after the waters subside. You see the results in many ways, for example, the two story dwelling named "Mom's House," in the Brownstone section of Johnstown.

Mom's House began as an idea of Peg Luksik—one which she developed with her husband, Jim. President of the local chapter of Citizens Concerned for Human Life (CCHL), and, like her husband, a former teacher, Peg was troubled by a school problem that had nothing to do with classroom learning. It had to do with teenage pregnancies and what they could mean to the student in question—at best, loss of an education, at worst, abortion. Peg wanted to prevent both, and she proposed to her CCHL board a program which she thought would do just that. She believed that if the new mother—lacking parental support—were able to have her baby properly taken care of during the day, she would be far less inclined to go the abortion route and could be encouraged to continue her education. Implementation of such a plan would, of course, require widespread community support plus the time and energy of many volunteers.

The CCHL Board, all in favor of the plan, rallied its forces. Peg described the needs to 7,000 members, via the agency's newsletter. The word was spread and response was swift and supportive. The most immediate and necessary item—a dwelling—was donated by the Catholic diocese. Formerly St. Michael's Convent, it was promptly renamed Mom's House.

At the same time, a host of community volunteer agencies stepped forward to offer their services, supplying furnishings, food, care for the babies and counseling to the young mothers. Two hospitals provided medical support. The school district stepped in to help the foster grandparents volunteered to aid both mothers and babies. With such a spontaneous and widespread outpouring, Peg Luksik's idea for Mom's House became a reality last September.

Today, its staff of 25 volunteers is caring for 11 very small residents. They are also counseling and tutoring some of the mothers who have found the return to school difficult. (One mother, however, is enrolled in a job training program, another is attending business college and a third is going to art school.)

The cost of establishing and maintaining Mom's House has been shared by the community, not one penny provided by state or federal money. The center's fame has spread from the Greater Johnstown area to the White House, the President having mentioned its success in a recent address. Inquiries have come from all over the country, as well as Canada, asking for details on putting together the same kind of facility. As Peg Luksik and her staff can tell them, Mom's House becomes everybody's house when the whole community pitches in.

Growing Child

HELPING THE GIFTED CHILD GET THE MOST OUT OF SCHOOL LIFE

When highly gifted children go to school, their talents often are neither understood nor given support, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

Parents of highly gifted children should be aware that schools of education do not generally prepare teachers to recognize, understand, or teach gifted children. A child who is more advanced than the others in the class will still be expected to do the same work as the others. If he finds it boring and doesn't finish it, many teachers may criticize rather than give special assignments to challenge advanced skills.

If the gifted child tries to carry out an assignment in a creative or unusual way, he may be criticized for not doing it "the right way." Many gifted children thus earn the label of "trouble maker." Their discouragement can cause them to give up trying, which is a great loss to them and to society.

Exceptionally gifted children often are neglected when funds are given to programs for exceptional children in the schools. Few schools have programs for gifted children at all. Many people feel great compassion for children who are physically or intellectually handicapped, and educational programs for these children almost always receive funding over programs for gifted children.

People usually feel that gifted children can "take care of themselves" and become indignant at the thought of spending money on special programs for them. But highly gifted children are handicapped in a society that stresses conformity, and they need special attention to develop their talents.

So how can parents help? Give the child a chance to develop his special talents. Notice the things he does well, and spend some time sharing them with him. At the same time, remember that he is still a child. Be understanding of his behaviors that are not as advanced as some of the other things he can do.

Talk with him about how he feels about himself and help him to appreciate his special gifts without feeling he's set apart from other children. Try not to compare your child with his brothers or sisters or any other children. They are all special in their own unique ways.

Help your child understand that other people will not always appreciate and understand his special talents. Listen to his feelings about other people's reactions to him. This is particularly important when he goes to school. Try to find, or develop with other parents, an educational program that will give your child a chance to develop his special talents.

Help your child understand and meet the expectations of the teachers in his regular classes when he goes to school. At the same time, talk with his teachers about giving him appropriate special assignments to keep him interested and challenged in the areas of his special gifts.

Most of all, be on your child's side. Help him feel good about himself as someone who can get along with others and do whatever he sets his mind to doing.

Materials, information, and resources on gifted children can be obtained by contacting the National Association for Gifted Children (8080 Springvalley Drive, Cincinnati, Ohio 45236); the Council for Exceptional Children (1920 Association Drive, Reston, Virginia 22091); and the American Association for Gifted Children (15 Gramercy Park, New York, New York 10003).

The soda fountain was invented by an American, John Matthews, in 1832.

Celebrates Birthday

Charla Ann Hall celebrated her eighth birthday June 5 at the Wayland lunchroom. Many friends and relatives came to help celebrate. The theme of the party was Michael Jackson. She received many gifts. She is the daughter of Carole Hall, of Wayland, and the late Chalmers Hall. The maternal grandparents are Phyllis and Lowell (Buck) Martin, of Wayland, and Etta Lester Hobles, Sr., of North Manchester, Indiana. She is the paternal granddaughter of Mary Hall Middleton, of Wayland, and the late Glenna Hall.

Pageant Winner

Kristie Tackett, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tackett, Rt. 1, Sturgis, Ky., participated in the Tiny Dixie Darling preliminary held at the Ramada Inn in Madisonville, Saturday, July 28.

Kristie placed second alternate in her age division and also won best dressed in her age division. She received two trophies. She also participated in the Little Miss America Sweetheart preliminary held in Harrisburg, Ill., where she modeled and placed first runner-up in beauty competition and won bathing suit, best dressed, and disco in the Pro-Am Modeling. She received two trophies and the crown.

Kristie is the granddaughter of Mrs. Edith Riggs, Union town, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tackett, of Beaver.

MAYTOWN

The sale held last Saturday was a success, receipts amounting to $127.25.

Because the collection was "picked over," naturally by noon, it was decided to open at noon hereafter.

Several out-of-town ladies were present. Among them were Mesdames Dave Cooley and Slagle, of Glo; Edw. Stumbo, of Martin; J. W. Stapleton, and Miss Beth May, of Allen.

CHRISTMAS TREE

On Thursday evening at seven o'clock, Dec. 22, the school will have its annual Christmas tree in the auditorium.

Santa Claus will be present and his bag will be full. We wish to express particular appreciation to our friend, Mrs. Alice S. G. Lloyd, for the large number of toys she is sending us.

Miss Callihan and Mrs. Arnett are in charge of decorations, so we expect nothing short of the best.

Donations not exceeding $1.00 are being solicited from patrons to help pay for these, especially the electrical equipment necessary to the beauty of the tree.

To date, the following have contributed: Edgar May, $1; Rev. O. P. Smith, $1; N. C. Boughton, $1; H. N. Cooley, $1; H. Borders, 50 cents; W. H. Stewart, 50 cents; G. A. May, Sr., 50 cents; G. E. May, 50 cents; Frank May, 50 cents; Ed Sutton, 50 cents.

A committee has been appointed to take care of these decorations, so that they may be used again.

HONOR ROLL

Third month 2-A and no failures students of fourth and fifth grades appear below in order of rank. So many in the fourth grade, practically one-half of the class attained the mark this month that Mrs. May has announced the standard is raised to 3-A's for next time.

4th—Ben Baker, Jr., Emma Risner, Ed Sutton, Jr., Nayoma Allen, Jo Eyvredge, Vernie Osborne, Hurl Hayes, Carl Lamar Combs, James Turner, Lucille May, Clarence Hayes, Charles Stapleton, Bernard Baldridge, James Webb, Ray Gayhart, Charles Patton. 5th—Harriet Allen, John Marshall, Stanton Allen, Edna Webb, T. O. Combs, Leah Dyer, William Ward.

"DEESTRICK SKULE"

On Friday afternoon at three o'clock, the fourth and fifth grades will give a play portraying the old-fashioned school in the chapel, the entire room participating. Playlet is in four acts, "Going to School," "Books," "Noon Hour," and "Company."

Admission fee is 5 cents for school children, 10 cents for adults. Tickets are on sale this week. Proceeds will be used for playground equipment after purchasing a new picture or two for the room.

Much fun and many hearty laughs are anticipated by those planning to attend.

DECLAMATION CONTEST

Seven girls are being coached by Mrs. Edgar May this week on "The Wound of a Soldier" for our first "try-out" Thursday in the declamation contest, at which time a committee of judges composed of Prof. Boughton, Miss Callihan, Mrs. May, Mrs. B. W. Baker, and Mrs. Edward Stumbo will select the two best. These two will then begin work on another poem for the final.

Girls entering the contest are: Shirley, Christie and Effie Allen, Bola Turner, Gradis Flanary, Marie Amburgy, and Lexie Allen.

DEBATING TEAM

These young people are quite fortunate in having the assistance of Miss Juliette Callahan, head of our English department, as coach. Miss Callahan's scholastic qualifications are indeed high. She had two years in Ward-Belmont, Nashville; one in the University of Illinois and received her degree from Kentucky State last spring.

CUPID!

As a climax to this week's news, what could be more fitting than the announcement that our much-beloved Miss Virginia Hemingway who hails from Michigan though Georgetown, Ky., lays a strong claim on this fair, young lady will become the bride of Mr. Carl Dickerson during the holidays, date to be announced later.

We wish much happiness for them and hope the bride will continue to make Maytown her home.

TRAM

SON BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Caldwell are the proud parents of a nine and one-half pound boy, born November 26. He has been named James Robert in honor of his grandparents. Mrs. Stanley was formerly Edith Stanley, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. May Stanley.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CELEBRATES

The Sunday School of Tram celebrated its first birthday Sunday, Dec. 3. One year ago it was organized by Rev. F. R. McAllister. Our Sunday School has not missed a Sunday being held. The superintendent, A. F. Conley, has not missed a single day since it was organized. He and his wife, as well as many others, have been converted, and I believe Sunday School led them to Jesus. Rev. McAllister has been a great help to our community, and we appreciate his work very much.

SMITH-OSBORN

On Saturday evening, Nov. 19, at the home of the bride, Miss Cinda Smith was united in marriage to Mr. Elza Osborn. This wedding was not much of a surprise to us, for we had been expecting it for some time. We extend our heartiest congratulations to the couple for a happy, prosperous life.

PERSONALS

Mrs. B. M. Spurluck spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. May Stanley. Mrs. Ray Stilton and children, Paul and Freddie Lee, of Wolfpit, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Layne. Mrs. Stilton has been in very ill health for some time.

ORDINANCE, CITY OF PRESTONSBURG

At a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky, held in and for said city, at the City Hall in the I. O. O. F. Building, on Monday, November 21, 1927.

PRESENT: Ballard Branham, Councilman B. M. Spurluck, Councilman C. W. May, Councilman M. J. Leete, Councilman

The mayor being absent and unable to attend this meeting, upon motion of M. J. Leete, seconded by C. W. May, and carried unanimously, B. M. Spurluck, a member of the Council, was appointed mayor protem to preside at this meeting, and thereupon he took his seat as such and called the meeting to order.

Upon motion of M. J. Leete, seconded by C. W. May, and carried unanimously by votes of all members of the council present, the following ordinance was adopted:

An ordinance requiring residents to clean up premises and providing dumping ground for all trash, garbage, debris, etc.

Section 1. All owners of property and residents residing within the corporate limits of the City of Prestonsburg are required immediately and within five (5) days after publication of this Ordinance to clean up the premises where they reside, and to place same in a sanitary condition.

Section 2. No trash, garbage, debris, and things of this character are to be dumped over the river bank, or at any place otherwise than as herein specified. No trash or garbage or debris shall be burned within the city limits except as the dumping place hereby established.

Section 3. At the intersection of Broadway Avenue and Dingus Street, in the upper end of the Garfield Addition to the city is hereby made a public dumping ground for all trash, garbage and debris, same to be dumped in the low place at the intersection of said streets.

Section 4. Any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction therefor, be fined the sum of $5.00 for the first offense, and the sum of $10.00 for each succeeding offense.

Section 5. All ordinances or parts of ordinance in conflict with this ordinance hereby repealed.

B. M. SPURLUCK, Mayor, pro Tem.

Attest: W. C. Goble, City Clerk.

The foregoing ordinance was adopted at the special instance and request of Dr. Rice of the City Health Department, and is adopted as a public health measure, and will be strictly enforced in all particulars. The citizens and residents are asked to cooperate with the council and health department in order that the city may be made sanitary and free from contagious and dangerous diseases.

GARFIELD IN FLOYD

rains rendered even small mountain streams impassable at times and difficult at all times for the passing of wagons.

Garfield centered his forces at Louisa and started his advance movement from that point December 23, 1861. His army consisted of his own regiment (42nd Ohio) Col. Cranor's regiment (40th Ohio) 1st Ohio cavalry squadron, six companies of the 2nd Virginia cavalry, 14th Kentucky (Col. L. T. Moore), 22nd Kentucky (Col. D. W. Lindsay) and 300 1st Kentucky cavalry under Col. Letcher, in all about 3,000 effectives. The county roads being practically impassable, the wagons were taken to pieces and conveyed on steamboats to carry troops and supplies.

On January 6, Garfield arrived near Paintsville. Marshall had first cast up breastworks in the narrows just above the present C. & O. station at Paintsville, but later chose and fortified a position on the crest of Hager Hill, a mile to the southwest. Fearing advance by flank movement on his left and rear, Marshall fell back to the forks of Middle Creek, and Garfield moved to this new front on the 10th of January. Skirmishing began at 11 a. m., and the engagement continued until dark, both sides claiming a victory, and both withdrawing from the field of battle. Marshall taking his force to Virginia and Garfield to Paintsville and later to Pikeville, and on March 16 his force of 750 attacked a battalion of Virginia militia occupying Pound Gap and drove them away and burned the log huts built for winter quarters.

The battle casualties at Middle Creek were not great, Garfield's report showing two killed and 25 wounded, and Marshall reported 11 killed and 15 wounded.

That occupation of Eastern Kentucky was considered important to the cause of each belligerent and was achieved by the Federal forces as a triumph which resulted in promotion of Garfield, who took oath of office as brigadier-general in what is now known as the Bowles home in Pikeville. The highest stage ever known in Big Sandy waters was in the winter of 1862. Garfield's campaign could not have been conducted in these wintry months without the transportation afforded by "Sandy" steamboats, the flagboat and admiralship so to speak being the "Sandy Valley," a boat of great speed, owned by Judge Arch Borders, and of which Captain H. Davis was the efficient and chief pilot.

General Garfield, while yet at Pikeville, was ordered to report to General Buell, who had gone to the relief of General Grant at Pittsburgh Landing, so-called by the Confederates of Shiloh, as designated by the Federals. He arrived there April 7, 1862, in time to take part in the second day's contest.

General Marshall was then about 50 years of age, a graduate of West Point, winning distinction for courage at Buena Vista in the Mexican War; was a member of Congress from the Louisville District for four terms, and minister to China under President Fillmore. As lawyer he had no superior and few equals. He was famous as an orator and possessed the remarkable talents of the Marshall family for eloquence and power in the forum. Personally he was not adapted to mountain warfare, owing to his great size, being over six feet in height, and weighing well over 300 pounds, despite the fact of a ribald boast of his soldiers in singing,

"Humphrey Marshall, he's our boss, Big as hell, and brave as a hoss."

He later resigned from the Confederate army believing he had been ill-treated by President Davis in not receiving support which he deserved and the necessities his command required. He practiced law at Louisville after the close of the war, and until death was ranked by fellow-members of the bar and judges as the greatest among the great lawyers of the Louisville bar.

I would not be justified in writing further respecting the career of General Garfield after leaving Eastern Kentucky. His high and honorable achievements, military and civil, are embodied in the history of our own times.

New Geology Publication Shows Groundwater Data

The Kentucky Geological Survey at the University of Kentucky has released a new publication showing the subsurface geology of four or five counties at a time in columns which provide data on groundwater in the areas.

The geologic information was extracted from the deepest wells in each of the counties and oil and gas drill-hole records.

Special Publication 10 contains 19 stratigraphic columnar sections and 57 cross sections with the subsurface geological information, says state geologist Donald C. Haney.

In addition to showing stratigraphic units from the surface to the greatest depth for which information is available, each columnar section also depicts general rock types and shows thickness of units.

The geologic cross sections, which use information from the deepest wells drilled in each area, are constructed using sea-level datum. In addition to showing the general structural configuration, these cross sections also indicate lithologic variations from one area to another. The rock types encountered in each well are shown by the use of graphic symbols.

The information used to prepare these cross sections and stratigraphic columns was compiled from oil and gas drill-hole records, published and unpublished reports, and other data available from various government and individual sources.

The primary objective of the project was to provide data on the concentration of dissolved solids in groundwater throughout Kentucky, and many of the wells used in the cross sections show these concentrations at various depths.

Copies of Special Publication 10, "Geologic Cross Sections and Columnar Sections for Kentucky," may be ordered from: Publication Sales, Kentucky Geological Survey, 311 Breckinridge Hall, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40506-0056. Cost per copy is $15, plus $2.25 packaging and shipping and 75 cents state sales tax.

Cable T.V. Signal Thieves Put On Notice

The Floyd County Cable TV Association announces today the beginning of a concentrated effort to locate and prosecute, to the full extent of the law, all cable TV thieves in their local cable system.

The association stated that they are now in possession of the new State of the Art Electronic Detection gear that will enable them to quickly pinpoint all unlawful hookups on the cable systems, once they begin the procedure the first of September.

The group said they decided to conduct the search when it became evident that there were hundreds of these illegal hookups within their systems.

The association said that in many cases illegal hookups created electronic problems within their systems that affect the signal quality to paying subscribers and they are determined to provide the best service possible to their paying customers by eliminating the illegals.

The group also said, since the Association's main interest and business is providing cable TV signals to paying customers, and not the prosecution of those persons involved in an illegal hookup, that to all persons who call their cable company's office before the search begins, to request a legal hookup to the cable service, no questions will be asked and no embarrassing comments will be made by their personnel.

The association urges those of you who are hooked up illegally to call! If not, be prepared to face the embarrassing and, very probably, costly consequences! The decision is yours.

The operators also request that customers who have extra sets connected to their systems and are not being billed, please contact your local cable company.

Fort Boonesborough...

Tools Show Pioneer Ingenuity

By JEFF LEWIS
If you thought exhibits on "frontier tools" were limited to spinning wheels and bull-tongued plows, guess again. The many intriguing exhibits at Fort Boonesborough—a faithful reconstruction of the outpost built in the 1790s by the most famed Kentuckian of all, Daniel Boone—prove that the ingenuity of frontier technology played an important role in the first settlement of Kentucky.

Many are familiar with the song, "Salty Dog." Few know of the corkscrew-like tool which bears this name, hammered out of iron by the first settlers of Kentucky and employed to remove cuts of salted meat from their packing without disturbing the salt—the frontier equivalent of zip-lock.

The pioneers were expert at getting gravity to perform for them some of the services that electricity performs for us today. Fort Boonesborough's colonial kitchen displays a working "jack-split," a contraption of pulleys and weights that was able to turn a piece of meat over and over before a crackling fire for varying lengths of time, depending upon the position of the weight-timer. A show of hands, please—how many knew the settlers had rotisserie broilers?

Boonesborough's resident spinners demonstrated to a group of visitors how a flick of the wrist keeps woolen thread popping off the end of the metal spindle of the "walking wheel," providing the "twist" that winds the fibers and keeps them holding together. After spinning, the thread is measured onto a four-armed wheel called a "weasel." A rotating gear trips a piece of wood which makes an audible "pop" when the skein is finished. Children sitting nearby watching their mothers spin would wait for the weasel to pop which led eventually to the writing of the children's song, "Pop, Goes the Weasel."

Despite these labor-saving and cunning sleight-of-hand devices, some exhibits testify to the physical hardships of life at Fort Boonesborough—a wooden neck-yoke hanging on the wall of the fort's tool shed is not made for four-legged, but for two-legged beasts of burden. All water was carried in buckets suspended from either end of the neck-yoke and was carried mostly by women. And after such exertions, the fort's residents worked up a more than hearty appetite. You'll see, in the kitchen, a bread pan more than three feet long!

The finest Kentucky quilts, hooked and woven rugs, and handmade chairs are offered in the fort's gift shop. For those with a few days to spend in Daniel Boone's playground, there's a modern RV campground right by the fort; planned activities for kids and campers complement the lazy-day charm of Boonesborough Beach and Pavilion, right on the Kentucky River.

The Daniel Boone Museum at the fort provides a brief but accurate overview of the life and times of Kentucky's discoverer. But if you prefer your history "in motion," take the river cruise on the "Rebecca Boone" (modeled after an 1800's paddle steamer). "Cap'n Mike" (John Hosemann, long-time river rat) will regale you with yarns spun around such characters of legend as keelboater Mike Fink, river pilot Mark Twain, and old Dan'l himself, as he tells the story of river navigation in Kentucky since Boone's time.

Fort Boonesborough is six miles east of I-75, on KY-388 in Madison county, just off KY-627. Take Exit No. 95.

To Wed, September 15

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parsons, of Allen, Ky., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kimberley Ann, to Mr. Daniel Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, of Washington Courthouse, Ohio. A September 15 wedding is planned.

New Film Examines Child Care Programs

A variety of employer-supported child care programs and services are examined in a new film, "The Business of Caring," produced by the U.S. Department of Labor's Women's Bureau.

"The 1980s are a time of rapid social change with more and more mothers of children under the age of six entering the labor market," Women's Bureau Director Lenora Cole Alexander said in announcing the film's availability.

"At the same time, traditional arrangements to fill child care needs of working parents are vanishing from the American scene. Parents must look elsewhere for care of their young children.

"This film illustrates how a number of private employers have filled the gap and selected a particular service to match the needs and resources of their company, their employees, and their community," she said.

The 23-minute, color videotape features employers as diverse as a telephone company, a retail store chain, a high tech firm, and a manufacturer.

Methods they have selected to help working parents cope with their dual roles range from a day care center at the workplace, to a voucher system, to flexible personnel policies, to information and referral programs.

"The Business of Caring" is available on loan in ¾" videocassette format from the national office of the Women's Bureau (200 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Room S3305, Washington, D.C. 20210) and from the Bureau's regional office (Regional Administrator, Women's Bureau, 1371 Peachtree St., N.E., Room 323, Atlanta, Ga., 30367).

Mine Permits Issued

The division of permits of the state Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement issued 244 mining permits during the month of July, including 31 in this county.

The permits issued included 65 original permits, 46 revision permits, 125 transition permits, two succession permits and six amendment permits. Of the 244 permits issued, 11 were for haul roads, five for preparation plants and refuse areas, 98 for surface mining operations and 130 for underground mining operators.

Permitting activities for July authorized the disturbance of 50,994.05 new acres of land and resulted in the collection of $277,055 in fees.

Electric Thermal Storage.
Electric Thermal Storage, ETS, a very efficient whole-house heating system that works in a unique way. It stores enough heat at night to heat your home for the rest of the day.
Because ETS uses electricity at night, when the cost of electricity is less, ETS customers qualify for special rates. So you'll get lower electric rates for heating. And for all other electricity you use at night. What's more, the same lower rates apply all weekend.
ETS not only heats your home, it also heats your water. Individual room heaters are available, too.

Add-On Electric Heat Pump.
Another very modern option to save energy, and money.
An Add-On Electric Heat Pump works with your existing furnace — no matter what kind of fuel it uses — to heat your home more efficiently all winter long.
In summer, it's a central air conditioner, cooling and dehumidifying your home.
So an Add-On Electric Heat Pump can actually work year round for you and save you money on your winter heating costs.

Add-On Resistance Heating.
Another add-on option. Your third way to save energy and money.
Add-On Resistance Heating is simply an electric element that's slipped into the duct of your furnace. It takes over for your furnace on weeknights and weekends when the cost of electricity is less. And, as an Add-On Resistance Heating customer, you pay special lower rates for nighttime heating — as well as all other electricity you use during those same hours.
For a low initial investment, Add-On Resistance Heating can be a real comfort to your nighttime heating costs.

The most massive single edition of a newspaper was the Sunday, Oct. 17, 1965, New York Times. It had 15 sections, a total of 946 pages and weighed 7 1/2 pounds.

The idea for jet propulsion apparently dates back at least to the first century A.D. when Hero of Alexandria, Egypt, is said to have built an engine called an aeolipile.

Outstanding Teacher

Mrs. Doris Lawson, Business and Office instructor at the Garth Area Vocational Education Center, was recently chosen by the Regional Advisory Council as the Outstanding Vocational Teacher in Region XI. She has taught at the Garth center for the past 10 years and was selected because of her outstanding and continued efforts on behalf of her students and her school.

Mrs. Lawson will be honored at a Vocational Education Recognition and Awards Luncheon to be held in the Assembly Ballroom of the Capital Plaza Hotel in Frankfort.

To Conduct Workshop Here On Discipline

Dr. Azalia Francis, noted authority of a system of classroom management and discipline known as "Assertive Discipline," will conduct a workshop for Eastern Kentucky teachers on "Assertive Discipline—and Beyond," Saturday, August 25, in the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria, from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Dr. Francis is experienced in both elementary and secondary education in the public schools and in higher education. She currently is a professor at the University of North Alabama.

Sponsored by the Eastern Kentucky Education Association, this workshop meets the requirements of the Kentucky State Department of Education for in-service training for teachers. Local school systems may wish to designate the workshop as flexible or alternative in-service and give their teachers credit for participating. The workshop is open to all members of EKEA and there is no admission charge.

Pre-registration is not necessary, but would be appreciated. Members may pre-register by calling 606-886-6367.

NAMED PC COUNSELOR

Diana Compton, of Robinson Creek, is now a counselor with special services at Pikeville College. She will work with students on personal, academic and social counseling. INTRODUCING

The Landing

In the early 1900's, the riverboat would steam into town. At the sound of the whistle and the calliope, all Prestonsburg would gather at the Upper Landing to see what news, goods, or travelers had come up the Big Sandy.

At this same location, the carefree charm of a bygone era is recalled today at "The Landing," the new name for Prestonsburg's foremost address...at an affordable price.

WHAT IS INCLUDED IN A MEMORIAL SERVICE?
A memorial service, which is scheduled some time after the burial or cremation of the deceased, is an opportunity for the friends of the deceased to express their support and sympathy to the family of the deceased. The casket is not present. This service may include inspirational reading, religious selections, hymns, musical selections and tributes to the deceased. Personal, fraternal and religious tributes to the deceased may properly be included, as well as music which may provide comfort to those who attend. The memorial service is of the deceased and for those who live on. It is held at your church, our funeral home or even in your own home. It provides an alternate time for relatives, friends, and associates to express their personal thoughts and support. Our services include helping you make all the necessary arrangements for the disposition of the body of the deceased as well as for the memorial service. If you have other questions, feel free to call.

ORDINANCE

The Following Ordinance will be read for consideration and passage for County Wide effect at the Fiscal Court Meeting to be held Friday, August 24, 1984, at the hour of 10:00 A.M. in the Floyd County Courthouse Annex Conference Room.

FLOOD DAMAGE PREVENTION ORDINANCE Floyd County, Kentucky

ARTICLE 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 100 Statutory Authorization. Chapter 100 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes gives local government units the authority to adopt regulations to promote the public health, safety, and general welfare of its citizenry. Therefore, the Floyd County Fiscal Court of Floyd County, Kentucky does ordain as follows:

Section 110 Single Title. This Ordinance shall be known and cited as the "Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance of Floyd County, Kentucky" hereinafter referred to as "this Ordinance."

Section 120 Purposes. This Ordinance is enacted to minimize losses due to flood conditions in specific areas set forth herein by regulating development activities which are dangerous to public health, safety and property.

Section 130 Compliance. No structure or part thereof shall hereafter be erected, placed, moved, reconstructed, extended or altered; nor shall dredging, filling, grading, paving, excavation or similar activities be undertaken except in compliance with this Ordinance.

Section 140 Lands Affected. This Ordinance shall apply to all areas of special flood hazard located within Floyd County, Kentucky as identified by the Federal Emergency Management Agency in its Flood Insurance Study dated March 5, 1984, and any revisions thereto which are adopted by reference and made a part of this Ordinance.

Section 150 Interpretation. In interpreting and applying this Ordinance, the provisions contained herein shall be construed as the minimum requirements for the purposes set forth. Wherever there is a discrepancy between the minimum standards set forth in this Ordinance and those of any other lawfully adopted rules, regulations, ordinance or resolutions, the most restrictive or highest standards shall apply.

Section 160 Effect on Previous Ordinances. Ordinances relating to flood damage prevention that exist at the time of passage of this Ordinance, are superseded or amended only as expressly set forth herein. Furthermore, this Ordinance shall be interpreted so that the tenure of existing administrative officials and boards shall not be interrupted.

Section 170 Disclaimer of Liability.

Flood protection required by this Ordinance is considered reasonable for regulatory purposes and does not imply that land outside the areas of special flood hazard or activities permitted within such areas will be free from flooding or flood damages. No liability on the part of Floyd County, Kentucky or of any officer or employee thereof shall be created as a result of any administrative decision lawfully made under this Ordinance.

Section 180 Severability. If any court of competent jurisdiction shall declare any part of this Ordinance invalid, such ruling shall not affect other provisions of this Ordinance not specifically included in said ruling.

ARTICLE 2. DEFINITIONS

Section 200 General. Terms not specifically defined in this Ordinance but defined in the latest edition of the Kentucky Building Code shall be construed as defined therein. Where terms are not so defined, they shall be interpreted to give them the meaning they have in common usage and to give this Ordinance its most reasonable application.

Section 210 Definitions.

210.1 - Areas of Shallow Flooding. Areas of Special Flood Hazard designated as AO Zones on the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM).

210.2 - Areas of Special Flood Hazard. All land within a community that is subject to a one percent or greater chance of flooding in any given year. This area includes all areas designated A on the Flood Hazard Boundary Map (FHBM); and all unnumbered A Zones, Zones A-1 through A-30, and Zone A99 on the FIRM, and all areas of shallow flooding as defined above, and the designated floodway.

210.3 Base Flood. The "100 year" flood having a one (1) percent chance of being equalled or exceeded in any given year.

210.4 - Development. Any man-made change to structure(s) or land including but not limited to erection, reconstruction, alteration, filling, grading, mining, drilling, excavation, paving, dumping or dredging operations.

210.5 - Existing Mobile Home Park. A park or subdivision consisting of a parcel (or contiguous parcels) of land divided into two or more mobile home lots for rent or sale for which the construction of facilities for servicing the lot on which the mobile home is to be affixed (including at a minimum, the installation of utilities, either final site grading or the pouring of concrete pads, and the construction of streets) is completed before the effective date of this Ordinance.

210.6 - Expansion to an Existing Mobile Home Park. The preparation of additional sites by the construction of facilities for servicing the lots on which the mobile homes are to be affixed (including the installation of utilities, final site grading or pouring of concrete pads, or the construction of streets). Any expansion is considered "new construction."

210.7 - Flood or Flooding. A general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry land areas from the overflow of inland or tidal waters; or, the unusual and rapid accumulation of runoff of surface waters from any source.

210.8 - Flood Boundary-Floodway Map (FB-FM). Map issued by the Federal Emergency Management Agency for use during the Regular Phase of the National Flood Insurance Program which is the primary regulatory map to be used by a community with designated floodways. The Flood Boundary-Floodway Map illustrates the flood plain and floodway boundaries; and, in conjunction with the flood profiles and Floodway Data Table in the Flood Insurance Study, indicates the base flood elevations along different flood plain cross-sections.

210.9 - Flood Hazard Boundary Map (FHBM). Community map issued by the Federal Emergency Management Agency for use during the Emergency Phase of the National Flood Insurance Program on which areas of Special Flood Hazard are designated as unnumbered "A" Zones.

210.10 - Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). Map issued by the Federal Emergency Management Agency for use during the Regular Phase of the National Flood Insurance Program which delineates areas of Special Flood Hazard, premium risk zones applicable to the community, and base flood elevations.

210.11 - Flood Insurance Study. Report provided by the Federal Emergency Management Agency containing flood profiles of the community, the Flood Boundary-Floodway Map (FB-FM) and/or the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) and the water surface elevations of the base flood.

210.12 - Flood Plain. All areas of special flood hazard defined above, including the "Floodway".

210.13 - Floodway. FEMA designated channel and adjacent land areas of a watercourse that must be reserved to convey the base flood without cumulatively increasing the water surface elevation more than one (1) foot.

210.14 - Floor. The top surface of an enclosed area in a building (including basement), i.e., - top of slab in concrete slab construction or top of wood flooring in wood frame construction. The term does not include the floor of a garage used solely for parking vehicles.

210.15 - Highest Adjacent Grade. The highest natural elevation of the ground surface, prior to construction, next to the proposed walls of a structure.

210.16 - Local Administrator. The local official to whom the county or city government has delegated the responsibility for the administration of the Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance.

210.17 - Mobile Home. A structure, transportable in one or more sections, which is built on a permanent chassis and designed to be used with or without a permanent foundation when connected to the required utilities. It does not include recreational vehicles or travel trailers.

210.18 - New Construction. Structures for which the "start of construction" commenced on or after the effective date of this Ordinance.

210.19 - New Mobile Home Park. A park or subdivision consisting of a parcel (or contiguous parcels) of land divided into two or more mobile home lots for rent or sale for which the construction of facilities for servicing the lot on which the mobile home is to be affixed (including at a minimum, the installation of utilities, final site grading or pouring of concrete pads, and the construction of streets) is completed on or after the effective date of this Ordinance.

210.20 - Start of Construction. The first placement of permanent construction materials (other than a mobile home) such as pouring of slabs or footings or any work beyond the excavation stage including relocation of the structure. Permanent construction does not include the installation of streets or walkways; nor does it include excavation for a basement or foundations, or the erection of temporary forms; nor does it include the installation of accessory buildings, such as garages or sheds not occupied as dwelling units.

For mobile homes, that are not within a mobile home park, "start of construction" means the affixing of the mobile home to its permanent site. For mobile homes that are within a mobile home park, "start of construction" is the date on which the construction of facilities for servicing the site on which the mobile home is to be affixed (including, at a minimum, the construction of streets, final site grading or pouring of concrete pads, installation of utilities, and street construction) is completed.

210.21 - Structure. A walled and roofed building that is principally above ground, a mobile home, a gas or liquid storage tank, or any other man-made facilities.

210.22 - Substantial Improvement. Any repair, reconstruction, or improvement of a structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds fifty percent of the market value of the structure, as determined by the Local Administrator either (1) before the improvement or repair is started, or (2) if the structure has been damaged and is being restored, before the damage occurred. For the purposes of this definition "substantial improvement" is considered to occur when the first alteration of any wall, ceiling, floor, or other structural part of the building commences, whether or not that alteration affects the external dimensions of the structure. The term does not, include any project required to improve a structure to comply with existing state or local health, sanitary, or safety code specifications which are necessary to assure safe living conditions.

210.23 - Variance. A grant of relief to a person from the requirements of this ordinance which permits construction in a manner otherwise prohibited by this Ordinance where specific enforcement would result in unnecessary hardship.

ARTICLE 3. PROVISIONS FOR FLOOD HAZARD REDUCTION

Section 300 General Standards. In all areas of special flood hazard, including areas with or without base flood elevations, the following standards shall apply:

300.1 - Where elevations can be established in accordance with Section 410.4, new construction or substantial improvements of structures shall be elevated or floodproofed to or above the base flood elevation.

300.2 - All new construction and substantial improvements shall be anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement, and shall be constructed with materials and utility equipment resistant to flood damage using methods and practices that minimize flood damage.

300.3 - All new and replacement water supply systems shall be designed to minimize or eliminate infiltration of flood waters into the system.

300.4 - All new and replacement sanitary sewage systems shall be designed to minimize or eliminate infiltration of flood waters into the systems and discharges from the systems into flood waters.

300.5 - On-site waste disposal systems shall be located and constructed to avoid impairment to them or contamination from them during flooding.

300.6 - All mobile homes shall be anchored to resist flotation, collapse or lateral movement by providing over-the-top and frame ties to ground anchors. Specific requirements shall be that:

300.61 - over-the-top ties be provided at each end of the mobile home, with one additional tie per side at an intermediate location on mobile homes of less than fifty (50) feet, and one (1) additional tie per side for mobile homes of fifty (50) feet or more;

300.62 - frame ties be provided at each corner of the home with four (4) additional ties per side at intermediate points for mobile homes less than fifty (50) feet long and one (1) additional tie per side for mobile homes of fifty (50) feet or more;

300.63 - each component of the anchoring system shall be capable of carrying a force of 4,800 pounds; and 300.64 - any additions to the mobile home will be similarly anchored.

300.7 - Subdivision Proposals.

300.71 - All subdivision proposals shall be consistent with the need to minimize flood damage;

300.72 - All subdivision proposals shall have public utilities and facilities such as sewer, gas, electric, and water systems located and constructed to minimize flood damage;

300.73 - All subdivision proposals shall have adequate drainage provided to reduce exposure to flood damage; and,

300.74 - Base flood elevation data shall be provided for subdivision proposals and other proposed development projects which contain at least 50 lots or 5 acres (whichever is less).

Section 310 Specific Standards. In all areas of special flood hazard, where base flood elevations have been provided or may be obtained in accordance with Section 410.4, the following specific standards are required:

310.1 - Residential Construction. All new construction, including placement of mobile homes, or substantial improvement of any residential structure shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above the base flood elevation.

310.2 - Non-Residential Construction. All new construction or substantial improvement of any commercial, industrial or other non-residential structure shall have either the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above the level of the base flood elevation; or, together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities, shall:

310.21 - be floodproofed so that below the base flood level the structure is watertight with walls substantially impermeable to the passage of water;

310.22 - have structural components capable of resisting hydrostatic and hydrodynamic loads and effects of buoyancy; and

310.23 - be certified by a registered professional engineer or architect that the standards of this subsection are satisfied. Such certifications shall be provided to the official set forth in Section 410 of this Ordinance.

310.3 - Mobile Homes. For new mobile home parks; for expansions to existing mobile homes where the improvement of the streets, utilities and pads equals or exceeds 50 percent of value of the streets, utilities and pads before the improvement has commenced; and for mobile homes not placed in a mobile home park the following standards shall apply:

310.31 - stands or lots are elevated on compacted fill or on pilings so that the lowest floor of the mobile home will be at or above the base flood level;

310.32 - adequate surface drainage and access to facilitate mobile home removal are provided; and

310.33 - in the instance of elevation on pilings, lots are large enough to permit steps; piling foundations are placed in stable soil no more than ten (10) feet apart; and reinforcement is provided for pilings more than six (6) feet above the ground level.

310.4 - Areas of Shallow Flooding. The following provisions apply within all designated areas of Shallow Flooding (AO Zones only):

310.41 - All new construction and substantial improvement of any residential structure shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above the depth number specified on the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) in feet, above the highest adjacent grade. If no depth number is specified, the lowest floor, including basement, shall be elevated at least two (2) feet above the highest adjacent grade.

310.42 - All new construction and substantial improvements of non-residential structures shall:

310.421 - have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above the depth number specified on the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM), in feet, above the highest adjacent grade. If no depth number is specified, the lowest floor, including basement, shall be elevated at least two (2) feet above the highest adjacent grade, or,

310.422 - together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities be completely floodproofed to or above the level so that any space below that level is watertight with walls substantially impermeable to the passage of water and with structural components having the capability of resisting hydrostatic and hydrodynamic loads and effects of buoyancy.

310.5 - Floodways. The following provisions apply within all designated floodways:

310.51 - All development and encroachments, including fill, shall be prohibited unless certification by a registered professional engineer or architect is provided demonstrating that encroachments shall not result in any increase in flood levels during occurrence of the base flood discharge.

310.52 - Mobile homes shall be prohibited from all floodway areas with the exception of existing mobile home parks.

310.53 - All development in the floodway that is allowed under the provisions stated above shall comply with all other applicable provisions of Article 3.

ARTICLE 4. ADMINISTRATION

Section 400 Permits Required. No development activity shall be started prior to the issuance of a Development Permit; further, no land or structure thus developed shall be used or occupied in whole or in part prior to the issuance of a Certificate of Compliance, all in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 410 Local Administrator.

The (Flood Plain Administrator), hereinafter referred to as the "Local Administrator", is hereby appointed to administer and implement the provisions of this Ordinance. The Local Administrator shall be specifically empowered and directed to:

410.1 - Review all Development Permit applications, perform inspection duties, and grant or deny Development Permits and Certificates of Compliance in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

410.2 - Investigate alleged violations of this Ordinance, and institute appropriate action or proceedings to prevent unlawful development activity in areas of Special Flood Hazard and to restrain, correct or abate such violation.

410.3 - Interpret, where necessary, the exact boundary location of areas of Special Flood Hazard.

410.4 - Where base flood elevation data has not been provided, in accordance with Section 140, the Local Administrator shall obtain, review and reasonably utilize any base flood elevation data available from a Federal, State, or other source in order to administer the provisions of Section 310 of this Ordinance.

410.5 - Advise permit applicants that additional federal and state permits may be required, and specify that copies of such permits be provided by the applicant and maintained on file with the Development Permit application.

410.6 - Notify adjacent communities and the Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet, Division of Water prior to any alteration or relocation of a watercourse, and submit written evidence of said notification to the Federal Emergency Management Agency Regional Office in Atlanta, Georgia.

410.7 - Maintain and make available for public inspection all applications and records pertaining to the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 420 Permit Issuance Procedures.

420.1 - Application for Development Permit and Certificate of Compliance shall identify the proposed type and location of development activity and other pertinent information that may be requested by the Local Administrator. The application shall be signed by the applicant and shall contain a clause which gives consent to the Local Administrator to make reasonable inspections to enforce the provisions of this Ordinance without first obtaining a search warrant.

420.2 - Upon receipt of the application the Local Administrator will, within a reasonable time, determine the applicability of provisions of this Ordinance. Where proposed development is not located in an Area of Special Flood Hazard, or where the Local Administrator determines that the proposed development will not adversely affect the flood storage capacity of the flood plain nor conflict with the other purposes of this Ordinance, the Local Administrator may issue a Development Permit and Certificate of Compliance.

420.3 - Where it is determined that proposed development is located in an Area of Special Flood Hazard, all activities shall comply with applicable Provisions for Flood Hazard Reduction as specified in Article 3. Prior to the initiation of construction of any such development, the applicant shall submit proposed measures for compliance to the Local Administrator. Information to be submitted for all development activities includes:

420.31 - A statement of techniques to be employed to anchor structures, and to verify use of flood resistant materials and construction practices.

420.32 - Plans showing that all new and replacement potable water supply and sewage systems shall be constructed to minimize flood damage and hazards to public health.

420.33 - Plans for subdivision proposals in accord with the provisions of this Ordinance. For subdivisions with 50 lots or 5 acres, whichever is least, the developer shall provide base flood elevations if they are not available.

420.34 - Plans showing extent of any watercourse or landform alteration.

420.35 - Sketch plan which illustrates all development activities, including lot dimensions, of all existing and proposed structures, all existing lakes and watercourses on or near the site, wells, and septic systems as applicable.

420.4 - Where base flood elevations are available, the applicant shall provide the following information as applicable to the proposed development activity:

420.41 - Elevation in relation to mean sea level of proposed lowest floor, including basement, of all structures.

420.42 - Elevation in relation to mean sea level to which any non-residential structure will be floodproofed.

420.43 - Certificate from a registered professional engineer or architect that non-residential floodproofed structure(s) will meet the requirements of Section 310.2 of this Ordinance.

420.5 - For development activities in a designated Floodway, the applicant shall provide a certificate from a registered professional engineer that the proposed activity shall not result in any increase in the height of the base flood in accordance with Section 310.51 of this Ordinance.

420.6 - Upon receipt of required information, the Local Administrator will within a reasonable time review the proposed development for compliance with this Ordinance. Where it is determined that proposed measures are adequate to meet the requirements of this Ordinance the Local Administrator will issue a Development Permit. The Development Permit shall be posted by the applicant in a conspicuous place on the premises, in plain view from a public road, during the course of the work until completion. A development permit under which no work is commenced within six (6) months after issuance shall expire and a new development permit shall be secured before work is started.

Where it is determined that the proposed measures are not adequate to meet the requirements of this Ordinance, the Local Administrator will deny a Development Permit. Said denial will be in writing and will be accompanied by a written finding of fact specifying the reason for denial. Upon receipt of a denial of a Development Permit, the applicant will be given a reasonable opportunity to revise and resubmit the application or to appeal the determination as provided for by this Ordinance.

420.7 - For development activity which includes structures, and in areas where base flood elevations are available, the applicant shall submit to the Local Administrator a certification prepared by a registered land surveyor or licensed professional engineer of the as-built elevation in relation to mean sea level of the lowest floor, floodproofed elevation or horizontal structural members of the lowest floor, as applicable. This certification shall be provided within 21 calendar days of the issue date of the Development Permit, and prior to the use or occupancy of said development. All work performed prior to this submittal shall be at the risk of the applicant.

420.8 - The Local Administrator, or his duly authorized representative, will review the certified elevations within a reasonable time and all work performed for compliance with the requirements of Article 3. Deficiencies identified shall be immediately corrected by the applicant and evidence of such correction shall be submitted to the Local Administrator prior to the continuance of work. Failure to provide certified elevations as required by this Ordinance or failure to correct deficiencies shall be cause to issue a stop-work order for the project, revoke the Development Permit, and deny a Certificate of Compliance when a stop work order is issued. The Local Administrator shall inform the Applicant in writing of the specific steps that shall be taken in order to have the permit reissued. It shall be unlawful to continue any work authorized by a permit after revocation of that permit and until the permit is reissued.

Upon submittal of certified elevations and/or determination by the Local Administrator that the development meets all of the applicable requirements of this Ordinance, the Local Administrator shall issue a Certificate of Compliance.

Section 430 Penalties. Knowing violations of or willfull failure to comply with any provision of this Ordinance, including violation of conditions established in connection with grants of variance, shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $ 500.00 or imprisonment for not more than 30 days, or both. Any person thus convicted shall also pay all court costs and expenses involved in the case. Each day said violation continues shall be considered as a separate offense.

ARTICLE 5. BOARD OF APPEALS

Section 500 Establishment.

A Board of Appeals, hereinafter referred to as the "Board", is hereby established consisting of three members, established by Floyd County Judge/Executive, at least one of whom shall have knowledge and skill in reading plans and building specifications. The Board shall hear and decide upon allegations of error in any requirement, decision or determination made by the Local Administrator in the enforcement of this Ordinance.

Section 510 Appeals. Any person aggrieved by the decision of the Local Administrator may appeal such decision to the Board. Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time by filing with the Local Administrator and with the Board a written notice specifying the grounds for the appeal. The Local Administrator shall immediately transmit to the Board all documents constituting a record of the action appealed.

Section 515 Manner of Appeal. The appeal of the Local Administrator's decision shall be in writing and shall set forth in detail the aggrieved parties' complaint. The Board of Appeals shall give of the appeal to all affected parties and shall, within fifteen days of the filing of said appeal, hold a public hearing on said appeal. Notice of said hearing shall be published in accordance with KRS 231.040. A record shall be made of all proceedings.

Section 520 Variances. Variances from the requirements of this Ordinance may be granted by the Board only upon demonstration of good cause, determination that strict application of the terms of this Ordinance will impose exceptional hardship upon the applicant, and assurance that granting of a variance is in harmony with the general purposes of this Ordinance. Variances shall only be granted upon a determination that the variance does not exceed the minimum action necessary, considering the flood hazard, to grant relief. No variance may be issued for construction in a designated floodway which would result in any increase in flood levels during the base flood discharge.

In passing upon such appeals, the Board shall consider all technical evaluations all relevant factors, all standards specified in other sections of this Ordinance, and:

520.1 - the danger that materials may be swept onto other lands and injure other persons or property;

520.2 - the danger to life and property due to flooding or erosion damage;

520.3 - the susceptibility of the proposed facility and its contents to flood damage, and the effect of such damage on the individual owner;

520.4 - the importance of the services provided by the proposed facility to the community;

520.5 - the need for the facility to be located at a waterfront location where applicable;

520.6 - the availability of alternative locations for the proposed use that are not subject to flooding or erosion damage.

520.7 - the availability of safe access to the property during flooding conditions for ordinary and emergency vehicles;

520.8 - the expected heights, velocity, duration, rate of rise, and sediment transport of the flood waters and the effects of wave action, if applicable, expected at the site;

520.9 - the costs of providing governmental services during and after flood conditions including maintenance and repair of public utilities and facilities such as sewer, gas, electrical, and water systems, and streets and bridges; and,

520.10 - the compatibility of the proposed use with existing and anticipated development and approved comprehensive and/or flood plain management plans.

Section 530 Exercise of Powers. Based on the factors listed above, and the purpose of this Ordinance, the Board may reverse, affirm, or modify, in whole or in part, the decisions of the Local Administrator.

Every variance granted or denied by the Board shall be accompanied by a written finding of fact based on testimony and evidence, and shall specify the reason for granting or denying the variance within a reasonable period of time.

Any applicant to whom a variance is granted shall also be given written notice specifying, if available, the base flood elevations and the elevation to which the activity may be built or placed and stating that the cost of flood insurance will be commensurate with the increased risk resulting from the reduced lowest floor elevation. Furthermore, the board may attach such conditions to granting of a variance as it deems necessary to further the intent of this Ordinance.

The Local Administrator shall maintain records of all appeal actions for public inspection and shall, upon written request, report variances to the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet.

Section 540 Judicial Review. Appeals may be made from all orders of the Board. Such appeals shall be made within thirty (30) days from the rendition of such order to the Floyd Circuit Court. The judicial review shall be limited to whether the decision is arbitrary or capricious and shall be limited to the record upon which the Board of Appeals based its determination.

Any public comments should be directed to the Floyd County Judge/Executive's Office in the Floyd County Courthouse Annex, Prestonsburg, Kentucky between the hours of 8:30 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., Monday thru Friday.

The Fiscal Court hereby certifies that the Ordinance is true and accurate and written in a way calculated to inform the public of its contents.

Four Stages Of Drug Dependency

By GEORGE R. ROSS, Ph.D.
Chemical dependency is a disease of attitudes that lead to emotional and physiological disorders and a deterioration of the spirit. The disease of chemical dependency has four distinct stages: initial usage, problem usage, psychological addiction and physiological addiction. Although reversible, the disease left untreated is usually fatal.

The first stage of chemical dependency is initial usage. Usually after a few exposures to a drug such as alcohol or marijuana, a young person learns that "a way to alter his emotional or feeling state is to use the drug." Although no immediate harm will usually accompany first time use of many drugs, the beginning stages are set for the disease to worsen.

Stage two of the disease, problem usage, is often difficult to detect by the user or an outside observer, especially in the case of marijuana usage. With the continued usage of the drug, the young person's selftalk gradually changes from "a way to feel better" to "a good way to feel better." Subtle changes begin to occur in the youth's performance. School performance may begin. Athletic performance may drop a notch. The youth usually begins to be more secretive about his activities. Sudden and unusual outbursts begin occurring. Feelings of guilt and depression occur more frequently. More importantly, the youth as a result of drug usage begins violating a set of well-learned, ethical, value-related legal standards. Simply stated, the youth's capability to be responsible diminishes. Subsequently, the seeds are firmly established for the disease to become more acute. Further compounding the problem is the reinforcement and encouragement of a peer group who themselves are engaging in dishonest activity and deceptive behavior.

Stage three of the disease becomes much more obvious to the outside observer and more actively denied by the youthful abuser. At the psychological addictive stage, the young person is now firmly convinced that the "only way to effectively cope" is to get high. In addition, the young person reportedly practices a self-talk of deception that openly denies the drug usage while casting blame and responsibility on parents, teachers, coaches and others for current irresponsible behaviors. At this stage, a self-defeating network of attitudes is firmly entrenched and in some cases irreversible. Suicidal ideations are also often present. Ability to care for and sustain oneself is greatly diminished. Psychologically, the youth could be accurately described as a walking psychotic with a reality orientation. Spiritually, bankruptcy has occurred.

Stage four of the disease is physiological dependency. At this stage the person's body has come to depend on the drug in order to maintain equilibrium or homeostasis. The disease has progressed from an emotional disease to a disease of the body. The body actually craves the drug at this point. Irreversible damage to important body organs can occur. Further emotional and spiritual deterioration elapses. The youth at this stage exists, but no longer lives.

Sergeant Cribb Returns

Sergeant Cribb continues to travel around Victor England in a hansom cab as he pursues the solution to five crimes. These "Mystery!" programs begin Saturday, September 15, at 10:00 p.m. on KET.

On September 15, Cribb's first reprise case, "The Last Trumpet," is literally his largest, since it revolves around Jumbo, the famous six-ton elephant that P.T. Barnum imported from England to the U.S. Then on September 22, Sergeant Cribb goes to church to look into the mysterious death of a tenor in "The Choir that Wouldn't Sing," and on September 29, he takes off for Brighton on a murder case that surfaces when a human hand is found in a seaside aquarium tank filled with alligators in "Mad Hatter's Holiday."

Having efficiently unravelled that mystery, the indefatigable Cribb finds himself (October 6) at a reunion in a school where murder has become part of the syllabus in "Murder Old Boy," and finally on October 13, he gets an "Invitation to a Dynamite Party" — an invitation he can't refuse.

Receives Martin Kiwanis Scholarship

Miss Elizabeth Halbert, 1984 graduate of Allen Central High School, is shown above with Martin Kiwanis Club officers, Edford Clark, secretary-treasurer, Aaron Akers, president, and Sherrill Frazier, president-elect, when she was awarded the club's college scholarship. The presentation was made at the club's ladies' night meeting, recently.

In addition to her outstanding academic record all four years of high school, Miss Halbert was valedictorian of her senior class and was a band member and cheerleader for three years.

The Rev. Stephen Hopkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Prestonsburg, was guest speaker. Visitors included Mrs. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Vickers, Rev. Timothy Jessen, and Clyde George.

★ CANCER HOPELINE ★

Q. My mother is being treated for cancer. She has become so depressed that we're all worried more about her state of mind than her illness right now. Are there any specific causes for the depression that we might not be aware of? What can we do for her?

A. Many cancer patients are depressed at various times during their illness and treatment. Cancer specialists and psychiatrists have studied this problem. They believe depression is caused by a variety of circumstances in a cancer patient's life.

Some of these circumstances are physical problems brought about by the disease and treatment, such as pain or discomfort, difficulty sleeping, loss of appetite, loss of strength and energy. These physical problems often can be corrected or improved with medication or an adjustment in the treatment. As the patient feels better the depression will improve.

Other types of depression may have more emotional causes. The patient may feel that he or she has become a burden on the family because they're not able to contribute as much at home and are costing the family money and time. Patients who have lost a body part due to surgery to treat the disease, may have a difficult time adjusting to their new body image.

Most cancer patients feel they have lost contact with some of their friends as a result of the disease. All of these emotional complications can cause the patient to feel depressed.

Families who are aware of the special stresses cancer and its treatment place on patients can help. By keeping the normal channels of communication open and encouraging patients to be open and honest about their feelings, families can work to prevent the emotional withdrawal of the patient and the feelings of isolation that cause depression. Patients should be encouraged to tell their doctors about any physical problems they are having.

A booklet called "Taking Time," published by the National Cancer Institute, offers other suggestions for ways families can help cancer patients cope with their disease and the alterations it causes in their lives. For a free copy of "Taking Time," call the Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER or write the McDowell Cancer Network, 915 South Limestone Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40536.

With Columbia's Budget Payment Plan, your gas bill won't change with the seasons.

You can take the surprises out of next winter's heat bills with the Columbia Gas Budget Payment Plan. With the plan, your monthly natural gas bills will be averaged out over 12 months. So you'll pay a manageable amount each month—even when the temperature drops.

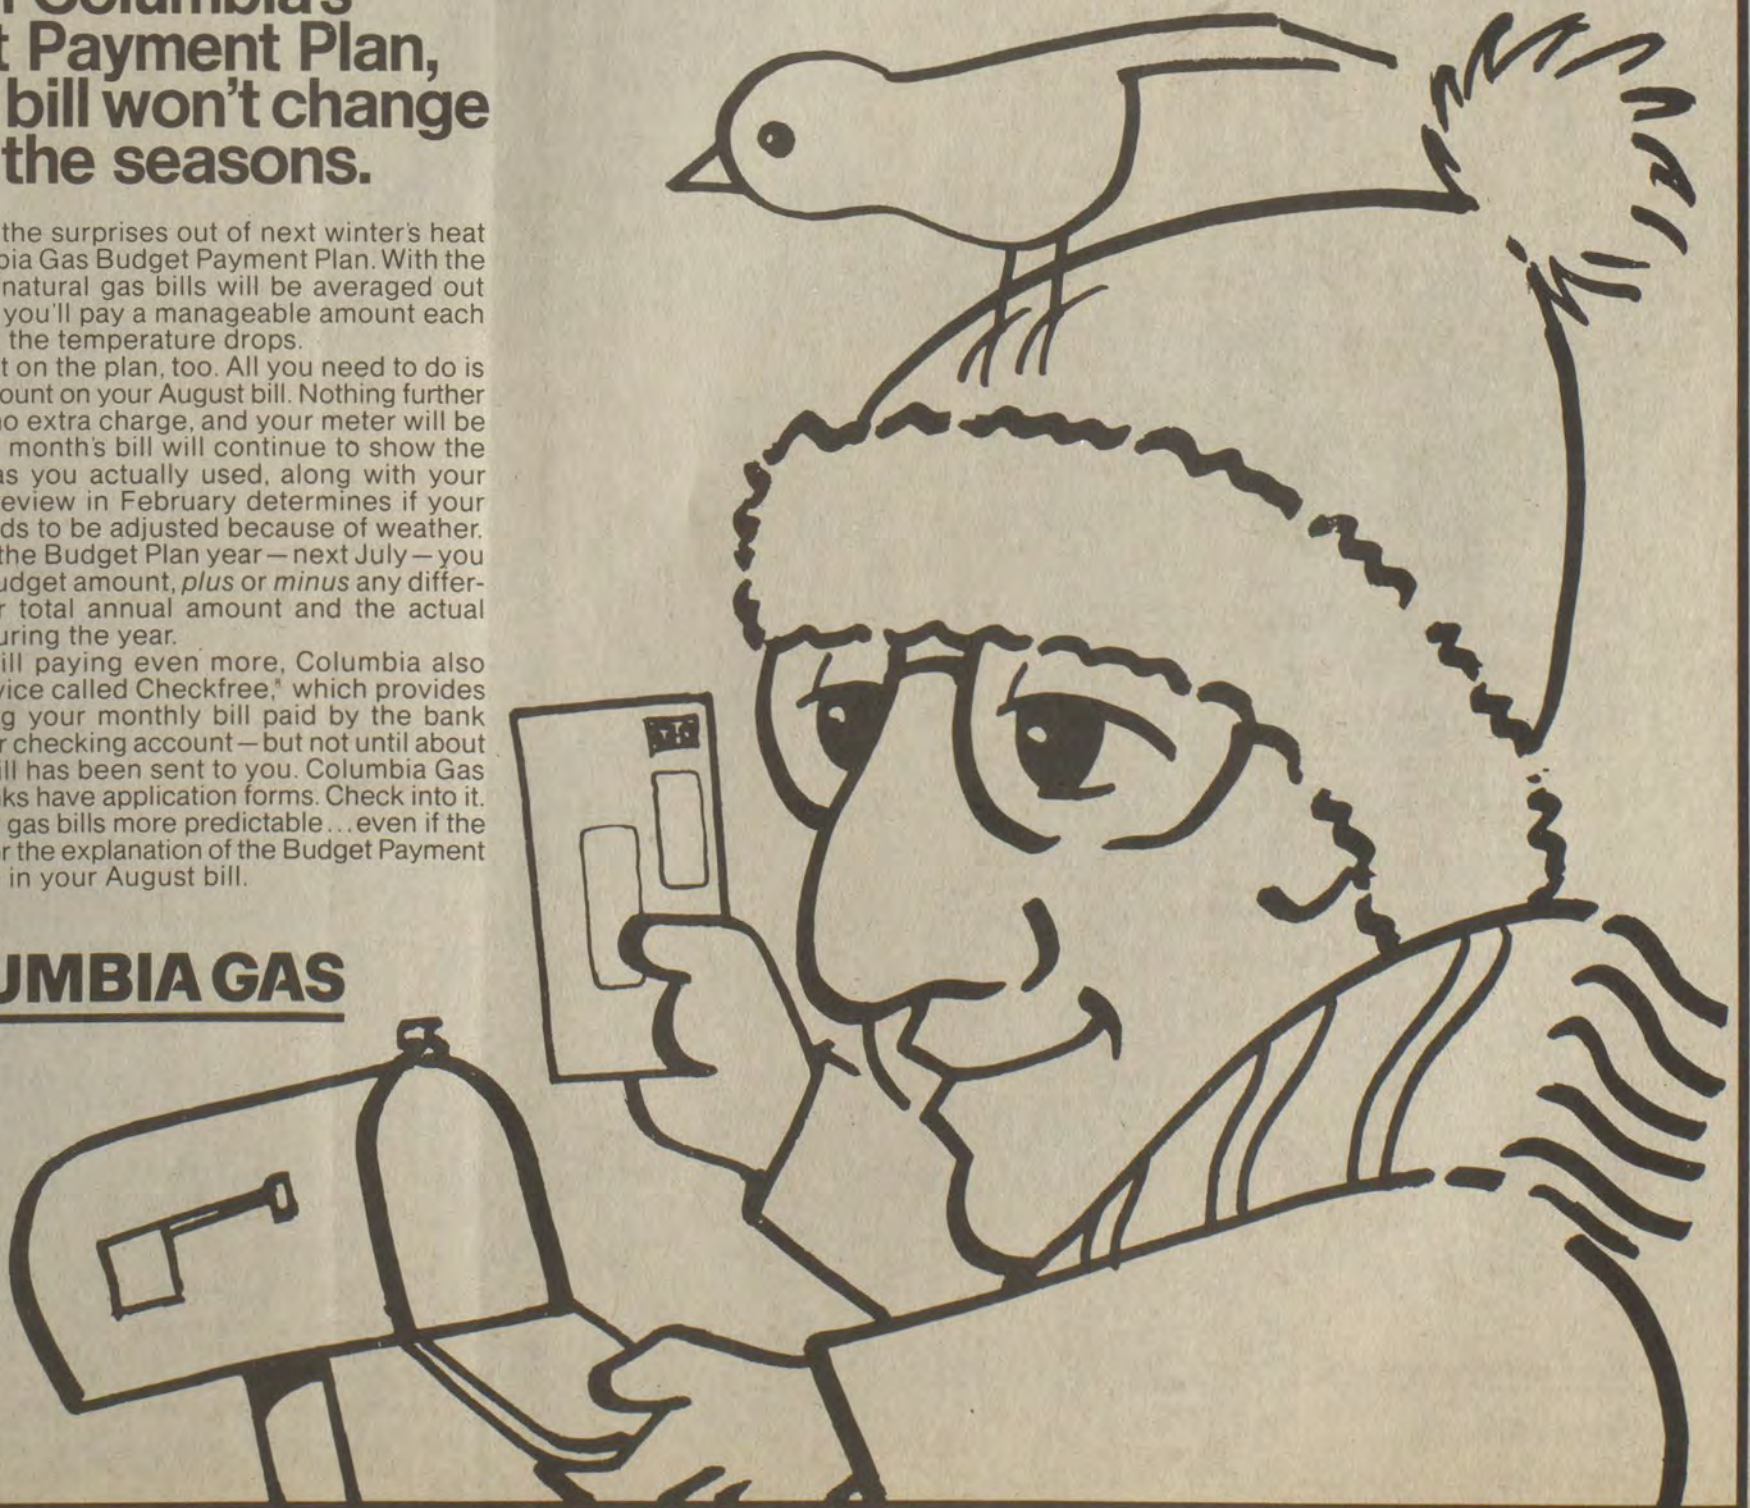

It's easy to get on the plan, too. All you need to do is pay the "Budget" amount on your August bill. Nothing further is needed. There's no extra charge, and your meter will be read as usual. Each month's bill will continue to show the exact amount of gas you actually used, along with your budget amount. A review in February determines if your budget amount needs to be adjusted because of weather.

At the end of the Budget Plan year—next July—you will be billed your budget amount, plus or minus any difference between your total annual amount and the actual amount you used during the year.

To simplify bill paying even more, Columbia also suggests a new service called Checkfree,* which provides the option of having your monthly bill paid by the bank where you have your checking account—but not until about ten days after the bill has been sent to you. Columbia Gas offices and most banks have application forms. Check into it.

So make your gas bills more predictable... even if the weather isn't. Look for the explanation of the Budget Payment Plan and Checkfree in your August bill.
