WITH GRAVEL LAID on this new railroad crossing at Cliff, C. and O. railroad and state highway officials are now feuding, neighbors say, about who is responsible for paving it. In the meantime, warning lights have been erected but are not operating, pending the installation of boom gates. Overlapping responsibility between the Transportation Cabinet's rail division and the Kentucky Railroad Commission, of which he is chairman, has resulted in unsafe grade crossings and other public hazards, Jimmy "Gabe" Turner claims in a spate of recent press releases.

Choosing School Chief Piques Forum Interest

Floyd schools, which have had an unenviable year overall, had a good night Monday.

Nearly 100 persons gathered at Allen Central High School to say in small measure what they think is wrong with the schools and in large measure what they think can be done about it.

It was the first anniversary of the "town forums" on education organized statewide last November by the Prichard Committee, and the first annual meeting of the Floyd County Education Forum (FCEF), the group that emerged from Floyd county's successful forum.

Like the crowd of 350 who gathered at Allen Central a year ago, Monday's crowd mixed parents and professional educators in about equal numbers. And, again like the original forum, the anniversary meeting was high on academic goals and bullish about Floyd's chances of attaining them.

Oddly enough, the item that received top billing on what publicity handouts called a "celebration agenda" received relatively short shrift at the meeting. James A. Duff, Right Beaver Creek's representative on the Board of Education, was scheduled to address the questions, "Who will our superintendent be?" and "How will this person be selected?"

Charles Collins, of Prestonsburg, recalled that FCEF still awaited a board response to its proposal that an eight-member citizen committee help in the screening process for the new superintendent. And, from the audience floor, Karen Marcum gave the question a sharper edge: "Would you consider (former superintendent) Grigsby for the job?" she asked.

Board member Duff wasted no words in his reply. He could say nothing about the selection of a superintendent until after the board met on December 4 with a UK consultant it hired recently to advise them on the matter. If Grigsby would be considered like any other applicant's, Duff said.

Less reluctant to talk were student representatives of the five county high schools, who soon convinced the audience that it is not only parents who worry about the quality of the schools. Prestonsburg senior Lee Ann Bottoms, flush with excitement from the five-week Governor's Scholars Program she participated in this summer, repeatedly assailed school administrators for not making students aware of that and similar programs that are available to Floyd students.

Eric Lawson, of McDowell, plugged the KET Scholastic Challenge series that three Floyd high schools entered this year and proposed a countywide academic competition. Allen Central's Greta Mullins thought career days could be used to show students the "real world" benefit of the courses they were taking. Duran Hall, of Betsy Layne, urged the creation of student governments in all county high schools. Chris Holbrook, of Wheelwright, proposed in-house suspensions as a way of disciplining students without loss of state funds, which are tied to average daily attendance.

Patrick Allen, Prestonsburg senior, asked for a wider choice of subjects and for the co-curricular clubs and activities that can help students develop leadership skills. "I hope Floyd county will strive to make its students academically superior," he said.

Charles Collins, a member of FCEF's steering committee, explained the organization's failure to support the (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

Lewis Offers Plea In Wife's Slaying

Under a plea bargain worked out between attorneys, a Mare Creek man accused of murdering his estranged wife last February will apparently receive a 15-year sentence upon pleading guilty to first-degree manslaughter.

Randall Lewis, 31, reportedly confessed to shooting Veneda Boyd Lewis, 25, in a parking lot behind the Cosmic Cowboy, a Betsy Layne bar, at around 11:20 a.m. on Feb. 19. A cocktail waitress at a Pikeville restaurant, Mrs. Lewis had been separated from her husband, a county school bus driver, since the previous August and had filed for divorce in September. Her spare frame—she stood five feet tall and weighed 100 pounds—was riddled with 14 bullets from a .22-caliber semi-automatic rifle.

Lewis was scheduled to stand trial Monday on a murder charge; the plea arrangement was worked out Friday. Circuit Judge Hollie Conley ordered the parole officer to prepare a pre-sentence report and said sentencing would be carried out "shortly after Christmas."

Several witnesses said that, on the morning of the shooting, Lewis was playing pool at the Cosmic Cowboy, when he left briefly in his van and then returned. When his wife drew alongside in another car and got out, Lewis shot her in the stomach, back and head and then threw his weapon to the pavement, shattering the stock, witnesses said.

According to a state pathologist's report, Lewis first shot his wife as she faced him; when she turned away to flee, he shot her several times in the back and, after she had fallen, more shots struck the back of her head.

Defense attorney Greg Stumbo had indicated his client would plead insanity and another attorney familiar with the case speculated that the number of shots fired would lend credence to defense claims that Lewis was acting under extreme emotional duress.

Conviction on a murder charge would have carried a sentence of from 20 years to life imprisonment; the penalty for first-degree or voluntary manslaughter ranges from 10 to 20 years. If the judge accepts the Commonwealth's recommendation of a 15-year sentence, Lewis will be eligible for parole in three years.

One factor that figured in the plea agreement, said Commonwealth's Attorney James Allen, was the reluctance of the victim's parents to prosecute the case. Mrs. Lewis was the daughter of Jerry J. Boyd and Credie Watson Boyd, of Harold. Conviction of Lewis on a murder charge may also have been made more difficult had the defense dwelt on his wife's reputed infidelities, the prosecutor suggested.

Lewis is the son of former Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis and was himself a deputy sheriff for a time. The Lewises were married in 1975 and had two children, a 10-year-old daughter and a five-year-old son.

Draws Year's Term On 4th DUI Charge

A bench warrant was issued in Floyd District Court last Wednesday for Fred Mynhier, 39, of Martin, who failed to appear in court to answer his fourth drunk driving charge this year. Tried in his absence, the defendant was sentenced to a year in jail and ordered to pay $1207 in fine, fees and court costs.

According to court records, Mynhier has not showed up for four out of five court appearances scheduled since July last year. And, while he has been hit with steadily increasing fines and jail terms, he has apparently served little if any time and has paid only a fraction of his fines.

Prior to last week's conviction, Mynhier was convicted on Sept. 16 of drunk driving, driving on a suspended license, and having no registration of insurance. He was sentenced to 60 days and fined $1057, of which $500 was recovered when his bond was forfeited. A similar sentence was imposed on August 14, when Mynhier was convicted on identical charges, but was never carried out. A DUI conviction on March 5 brought two days' of public service and a $207 fine. A similar charge in July last year, when Mynhier was reported to have been arrested with a blood alcohol reading of .31 percent, apparently resulted in a conviction but no sentence.

Others convicted this week of drunk driving were Terry W. Crisp, 33, of Wayland, one week's jail, $557 in fine and costs; R.S. Bartley, of Virgie, two days' public service, $207; Billy Music, 44, of Auxier, seven days, $557; Hugh E.

ALLEN CENTRAL High School senior Greta Mullins, left, gave her views on ways to improve Floyd county schools at Monday night's meeting of the Floyd County Education Forum. Awaiting their turn to speak are Duran Hall, representing Betsy Layne High School, Eric Lawson, of McDowell High School, and Chris Holbrook, of Wheelwright High.

Battered Spouse Law "Lowers Murder Rate"

A 1984 law designed to make it easier for battered women to get police protection is working so well here it has almost certainly contributed to a drop in the county's murder rate, Public Defender Gary Johnson asserted this week.

Not everyone is happy with the new law. Certainly not the abusive husband, who can be turned out of his own home on a simple petition sworn out by a woman who claims he is beating her. And some police reportedly feel frustrated by the number of women who swear out a warrant but fail to "follow through" on it.

But while an accused husband may find himself locked up in the county jail—as Michael Lee Fannin found to his surprise this weekend—the new law is not designed primarily to jail abusive husbands, Johnson said, but to give abused women a quick and effective means to protect themselves.

Prior to the streamlined 1984 law, a woman could swear out an assault warrant against her husband but there was no way she could be protected from him during the cumbersome and lengthy court procedure that followed. Police officers were powerless to arrest a man merely on a wife's complaint, unless the officer actually saw an assault in progress. For most women, the only alternative—often it was an impracticable alternative—was to flee the home.

Under the new law, when a woman claims she is being beaten, the district court judge may issue an order—known as a domestic violence emergency protective order—requiring that the alleged wifebeater immediately leave the home, pending a hearing to be held within three days. At the hearing, the court assesses the merits of the complaint and whether the accused husband may safely be permitted to go home.

"The law is not punitive," the public defender explained. "The man doesn't go to jail unless he's in contempt"—that is, unless he violates the order to stay away from home. But neither is that a weakness in the law, he said. "The woman doesn't normally want to see him put away; usually she only wants to be left alone."

Jurors Support Couple's Claim On Sofa Damage

A Cow Creek couple who claimed that a Paintsville furniture store sold them a shoddy piece of goods and then lied about it convinced a district court jury here last week that they should not have to pay any but a fraction of the purchase price.

Phillip and Peggy Ratliff bought a $1500 sofa on sale last October at B. and L. Furniture, paying $200 down. They balked at making payments on the $1300 balance, however, when they noticed the sofa beginning to fall apart. Seams parted, buttons popped off, and the fabric showed rapid wear, they claimed.

Not only that but, in an apparent bid to evade responsibility for the defects, a copy of the bill of sale produced by the store carried an "as is" endorsement which did not appear on the copy given to the buyers. The Ratliffs claimed the disclaimer was added sometime after the sale and they sought punitive damages on that account.

District Judge Harold Stumbo declined to let the question of punitive damages go to the jury, apparently believing that B. and L. had not intentionally tried to defraud the buyers. The furniture dealers had claimed the "as is" did not appear on the carbon copy simply because the sales agent did not bear down hard enough when filling out the slip.

Commissioner Claims Railroads Hazardous

How safe are the state's railroads? Not safe enough and becoming worse, according to Jimmy P. Turner, who is chairman of the three-member state Railroad Commission. And a major reason for the deterioration, he charges, is that the governor and the state attorney-general are doing their best to squeeze his agency out of business.

Turner, a native of Drift, is fighting back with lawsuits and a media blitz that has seen a stream of news releases issue from the commission's Frankfort office in recent weeks.

Three suits are pending in Franklin Circuit Court, as Turner tries to fend off what he calls "the continued attempt by the office of the governor and the office of the attorney-general to restrain the performance of duties of this commission."

Among other things, he has been denied reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses since July and, by persuading Finance Secretary Gordon Duke to cut off financial support, the governor has prevented the railroad agency from securing the legal counsel it needs, Turner said in a recent press release.

A spokesperson for Attorney General David L. Armstrong implied this week that Turner is making a mountain out of a molehill. The only thing at issue, said

Vicki Dennis, director of public information in the attorney-general's office, is a personal service contract for legal services that Turner wished to give to an outside attorney and that the attorney-general feels his office is able to handle.

In yet another news release, the railroad commissioner charged that a 1974 reorganization designed to coordinate activities of the railroad commission and the Department of Transportation has been used to hamstring the commission and subordinate the agency to the Transportation Cabinet's rail division.

"In the past 10 years there has not been one (Transportation Cabinet) project coordinated with the Kentucky Railroad Commission. Not one employee from the rail section of DOT has worked with this office on a single item," said Turner. "The purpose of the law was to increase efficiency, avoid overlapping services and to coordinate activities between the agencies. The purpose of the law has been defeated."

A spokesperson for the office of Governor Martha Layne Collins said it makes little sense for Turner to complain that he is short of money when he is spending what he has on "frivolous litigation." The governor's position is that "this is (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

Hamiltons Ask Venue Change

In a motion filed this week in Floyd Circuit Court, Sterling and Olga Hamilton seek a change of venue for their $1 million damages suit against Master Commissioner Marshall Davidson.

The Teaberry coal operator says he intends to call Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, with whom he once had a business relationship, as a witness in the case.

As a further reason for moving the trial, the Hamiltons note that Davidson works "under the jurisdiction and direction" of Judge Conley.

By ART LANDER, JR.
Taylorsville Lake is a study in productivity. Since its impoundment in May of 1983, the 3,065-acre reservoir in Spencer, Anderson and Nelson counties has been found to support more than 700 pounds of fish per surface acre of water. That's a higher carrying capacity than any other major lake in the state!

Anglers have been reporting excellent catches of bass and bluegill, and population samples conducted by biologists of the Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources—both cove rotenone studies and electrofishing—have substantiated the presence of large numbers of crappie and forage such as gizzard shad and crayfish, as well as lesser numbers of bullhead and channel catfish.

The standing crop of adult bass in Taylorsville Lake is amazingly high. This is a direct result of the large numbers of fry, fingerlings and sub-adult bass which were stocked in the lake in the spring of 1983. Today, bass of more than 12 inches in length are abundant in the lake. The estimate of 20 pounds per acre of adult bass is far and above that of any other impoundment in Kentucky. By comparison, consider the total pounds per acre of all spotted and largemouth bass (from fry to trophy lunkers) in some of the state's best fishing waters: Barren River Lake, 11.1; Herrington Lake, 21.0 and Lake Barkley, 10.0. These lakes are about 1/3 less productive overall than Taylorsville, with carrying capacities close to 473 pounds per acre.

"One of the main challenges to the fishery manager is to manipulate fish populations to create desirable size fish," said Pete Pfeiffer, Director of the fisheries division, adding that "it isn't always easy because the more species of fish there are in a body of water, the more complex the management becomes."

"Even though the fisheries outlook at Taylorsville Lake seems bright, there could be problems in the future," explained Gerry Buynak, the department's bass biologist. "We have about 225 pounds per acre of small crappie in the lake, and there are indications of interspecific competition," he explained. Buynak said that the small bass and crappie may be competing for the same food source. Cove rotenone and electrofishing samples have shown fewer numbers of small bass in the lake than biologists expected, and there's enough concern to warrant the stocking of 30,000 4 to 5-inch bass in the lake in the fall of 1986. Just this summer, 5,000 4 to 5-inch bass, which were hatchery surplus fish, were stocked in Taylorsville Lake.

Buynak said that the potential problem is based on the fact that very numerous and slow growing crappie are competing with the small bass for a limited supply of small forage fish, zooplankton, and macroinvertebrates, which serve as their main food source until they reach intermediate size. "We're considering stocking threadfin shad as a source of small prey for the small crappie and bass, but the uncertain availability of threadfin shad, and their poor survival in shallow lakes that freeze over during hard winters, makes the proposition risky as best," Buynak said. He added that apparently the larger bass in the lake aren't feeding at all on small crappie, but are gorging themselves on 4-to-6-inch gizzard shad and crayfish.

Karate is an ancient oriental method of self-defense. Although the term, "karate," means "empty" "hand", karate makes use of both the hands and feet to defend against attack.

Misconceptions and myths about karate are widespread. It is a myth that karate teaches kids to be mean. It is a myth that a six-month course in karate can enable someone to defend himself against all opponents for the rest of his life.

Karate is universal in its appeal to people of all nationalities, and it has something for each sex and each age level.

Philosophically, karate is a paradox. By means of deadly techniques, karate teaches you to be gentle, to avoid violence, to love peace and harmony.

This oriental martial art offers each person a way to develop latent abilities to test himself to the limit: physically, mentally and spiritually. Whether you practice karate for a lifetime or just for a short time, there are benefits to be gained in health, self-confidence...eliminate school bullies, decrease the chances of abduction. Karate could save your life.

The trial last Friday of Michael Fannin was the exception that proves the rule. For one thing, he was the first defendant to be charged under the new law with violating an emergency protective order. For another, the gas company worker was ordered to spend the weekend in jail.

Fannin, 36, was held in contempt of court after his estranged wife, Prestonsburg schoolteacher Dannelle Fannin, 30, testified that he had called her on the phone last Tuesday and entered the couple's North Central Avenue home after first disconnecting the telephone wires. Fannin was arrested on a drunk driving charge later the same night.

Fannin said he regretted returning to the home and readily accepted District Court Judge Harold J. Stumbo's warning that he not repeat the offense. But Assistant County Attorney Dan Rowland urged that the defendant not be let off with a mere warning. "He needs to experience the power of this court," the prosecutor contended. Stumbo ordered Fannin held in jail until Sunday morning.

"There's a simple story in this," the judge instructed the defendant. "If a woman doesn't want you around, don't go around. That's what leads people to kill each other sometimes."

Fannin was not represented by an attorney at Friday's hearing, but Public Defender Johnson later agreed there was merit in the district judge's remark. The main advantage of the emergency protective orders issued under the new law, he said, is that "they provide a great way to defuse potentially dangerous acts of violence."

"I don't recall a single spousal killing" since promulgation of the new law, he said. "In the five years prior to the law, I can recall half a dozen situations where an abused woman ended up shooting her husband in self-defense."

not a serious issue," said Barbara Hadley Smith, deputy press secretary to the governor. Previous court rulings have held that the state railroad commission is receiving all the funds to which it is entitled, she said.

Some of the commission's critics say that, if the effect of the 1974 reorganization has been to diminish the railroad agency's standing, that is not necessarily bad. A funding level that was appropriate when many passengers traveled by rail in this state would not be appropriate today, some argue, when passenger service has long since been discontinued.

But the public is still at risk, insists Turner, who charges that safety is threatened because the railroads are being left to regulate themselves and to conduct their own investigations into accidents. There is an "obvious attempt in Frankfort" to block the railroad commission's efforts to compel railroads to maintain safe grade crossings and to notify the public of shipments of hazardous waste, he said.

The diversion of monies to the Transportation Cabinet's railroad branch is denying funds that could be used by the Railroad Commission to protect consumers from excessive utility bills by setting fair tariffs, part of its statutory function, the commission chairman said. Of $320,000 appropriated by the General Assembly for rail regulation, the state Railroad Commission received only $79,800 this fiscal year, with the remainder going to the Transportation Cabinet's rail division, Turner said.

"It seems crazy to have two separate agencies getting funds from the taxpayers of Kentucky when one agency can do the job," he continued. "As far as I can tell, the rail division has no statutory duties and no one really knows what they do."

The Kentucky Railroad Commission hopes to introduce legislation in the General Assembly next year to eliminate the overlap of the two agencies and to see that the commission is adequately funded to oversee the safety of railroad tracks, Turner said. "This commission has never been given funds to regulate and inspect rail safety in Kentucky. As consequence, the public is suffering," the railroad commissioner said. "The railroads in Kentucky can do as they please."

Board of Education's abortive effort to levy a 28-cent school tax this year—a failure that incensed board member Duff, who went out on a limb in support of the tax and felt he could count on help from reform-minded citizens.

For one thing, Collins said, FCEF members were themselves in two minds about the tax. And the board failed to give any convincing explanation of how it intended to use the extra revenue, he added. "People are tired of seeing tax increases used to cover up inefficiencies," he said.

As if to show there were no hard feelings, it was Acting Superintendent Ray Brackett who later moved to elevate the FCEF's 22-member steering committee—Charles Collins among them—to the status of a formal board of directors.

Moreover, the participation of Brackett and of board members Duff and Ray "Shag" Campbell in the meeting was all the more remarkable in view of the recent announcement by a key FCEF organizer that she plans to compete with Campbell next year for his seat on the county board.

Dolores Smith, a partner in the R. and S. Truck Body Company at Allen, confirmed Monday that she intends to run against the veteran board member, who is considered by some to be the most powerful figure in local school politics.

In order to protect the neutrality of FCEF, which has made a point of being uninvolved in partisan politics, Mrs. Smith resigned her membership on the group's steering committee and did not seek nomination to its board of directors.

Five members of the Prichard Committee—formerly known as the Prichard Committee for Academic Excellence—praised what they saw as a high level of enthusiasm here for educational reform. One of them, Pamela Papka Sexton, remarked, "In Fayette county, we'd be absolutely delighted to have this kind of turnout."

Five members of the six-member jury panel did find, however, that the Ratliffs had been damaged and held that, in addition to their $200 downpayment, they should only be required to pay another $150 on the sofa.

Karen Alfano, an attorney with the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund who represented the Ratliffs, who were the defendants in the case, filed a counterclaim on their behalf, alleging that the sale of the sofa violated federal truth-in-lending laws. Her clients received inadequate information about the way their monthly payments were computed and no information about their billing rights, she claimed. Judge Stumbo has yet to make a ruling on the claims.

Ten Years Ago

(November 19, 1975)

Awaited by Floyd and six other coal-producing counties is a promised Court of Appeals ruling on the controversy involving coal severance tax rebates. If it wasn't a genuine UFO, it nevertheless remains an unidentified flying object, this glowing, iridescent sphere which hung in the western skies Sunday night and held center-stage for a dozen known viewers in Allen and Cow Creek and possibly many more who are yet to report. The Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection has ordered the Sterling Hamilton Coal Co. to show cause why its permit to strip mine 67 acres in this county should not be revoked. Two Floyd county 4-H members will represent Kentucky in the National 4-H Poultry Judging contest in Louisville this weekend. They are Phillip Gibson and Grady Stephens. Nineteen-year-old Delmar Greer, of Martin, who was injured Oct. 26 in the wreck of an auto in which he was a passenger, died Saturday at Highlands Regional Medical Center. Homecoming 1975 for Betsy Layne High School will be held Saturday, November 29 when the Bobcats will play Morgan County, it was announced this week by Russell M. Frazier, principal. Eastern Kentucky University's 1975 fall enrollment of 1,490 cadets, the nation's largest Reserve Officers Training Corps brigade, includes three cadets from Floyd county: John R. Ferguson and Paula A. Goble, both of Prestonsburg, and Samuel R. Lewis, of Wheelwright. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Frank Caldwell, a son, Bill Chad, November 2 at Highlands Regional Medical Center; to Mr. and Mrs. Troy A. Calhoun, a daughter, Rebecca Ann, November 5 at Highlands Regional Medical Center. An area at the rear of the new postoffice building was selected this week by a representative of the Public Housing Administration as the site of the second complex of low-rent public housing units planned at Martin. Mrs. Helen B. Wells, Floyd county CAP director, said Monday that Congressman Carl Perkins notified her, late last week, that Floyd county has been approved for a $20,000 federal grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity to conduct a Planned Parenthood Program. Miss Barbara Robinson, 18, of Cow Creek, was instantly killed Monday morning when struck by an automobile on U.S. 23 at the old Winchester mining camp, seven miles south of here. Fear of parrot fever caused health authorities this week to call for laboratory help in determining the cause of a parrot's death at Auxier. Prestonsburg's new fire truck in gleaming white instead of the traditional red has brought three neighboring fire departments to study its modernity and to watch the Prestonsburg fire department in practise work. Three Floyd county natives died in as many auto accidents over the week-end. Dead are: Cecil Paul Smith, 45, formerly of Prestonsburg, killed Saturday in a crash near Jacksonville, Fla.; Lillian L. Haywood, 36, of Wayland, killed Friday at Montgomery, Alabama; Delzie Tackett, 26, of Melvin, who died Saturday of injuries sustained the preceding Wednesday in a wreck near McDowell. Pikeville and Harlan high schools supplied the gridiron talent at last Friday night's Big Sandy Bowl game in Paintsville, but Prestonsburg supplied the beauty as Miss Helen Jo Howard, of Allen, was named 1955 Bowl Queen. Two playgrounds are proposed for Prestonsburg by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. One will be located at the corner of Arnold Avenue and Graham Street and the other is located on North Lake Drive beside the residence of Otis Cooley. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. The total of 10,144 votes polled in the Floyd county Sheriff's race, the most hotly contested countywide campaign of the November 6 election, represented approximately 50 per cent of the county's total registration, a review of tabulated precinct returns shows. Dr. A. J. Davidson last week sold to Alex Cantrell, of Allen, approximately 20 acres of land on the east side of the river at Allen, in the proximity of the stock market, and Mr. Cantrell in turn sold about 15 acres of the tract to Town Hall, of Prestonsburg, and the remainder to John Hobson and Troy Hall, retaining a small acreage for a home. Opening of the sale of double-barred Tuberculosis Christmas seals was announced by Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, general chairman this week. Lt. Joe Taylor Hyden, of the Marine Corps, was employed Tuesday by the Prestonsburg Board of Education as athletic coach here, it was announced Wednesday. Prestonsburg's Blackcats in the black and gold overcame the powerful Van Lear Bank Mules in the Cats' annual Homecoming game, 15 to 12. The Blackcats beat Van Lear in spite of the absence of team standouts Jim Dotson and the Archer brothers, Bill Tom and "Ott". Emery Slone, Maytown merchant and restaurant-owner was shot to death Saturday as he sat beside his wife in his truck parked in front of Sadie's Place at Knotley Hollow. Payroll of the Elkhorn Coal Corporation at Garrett as of October 26, was reported to have been the largest since the boom days of 1917. In his successful bid for governor of Kentucky, A. B. ### Says Animal Shelter Conditions Satisfactory

I am writing in regard to the article published in last week's edition concerning the Wildlife Federation's animal shelter. The article was written by Mr. and Mrs. Charles David Barber.

I also am concerned about the animals' welfare. Today I decided to visit the shelter. Although it was 9:30 a.m., the man in charge, Mr. Curt Hughes, allowed me to visit the animals and see for myself the condition of the animals and their cages. The dogs have water bowls and "also food bowls." The food was not "piled upon the floor" and each dog did have "both food and water." "I found none to be doing without." The cats were all in one room, "but the room did have partitions." The cats were not being fed dry cat food, I agree kittens can not survive on dry food. Instead I found that the cat food was mixed with cream, "that they can survive on." Each and every animal appeared to be in "good health and spirit." The cages are cleaned each and every day.

It is a must that we have this shelter. I feel that if we take a closer look we will find it improving more each day. I would like to thank Mr. Hughes for his help and information on the shelter.

Hospital Criticized Over Nurse's Firing

A former nurse at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital claims in a suit filed in Floyd Circuit Court this week that she was fired after filing a grievance under the terms of her union contract with the hospital.

Lisa Hall, of Melvin, filed a complaint on September 15, claiming that her pay had been cut unilaterally from $8.80 to $5.90 an hour and that she had been "verbally harassed" by hospital administrators.

Following the filing of her grievance, Administrator Edward Collins told her to "look for another job, because he was getting tired of this nitpicking," Miss Hall claims in her suit. She was fired on October 25.

Plaintiff seeks reinstatement, compensation for lost wages, a purging of all negative references from her file, and punitive damages. Her suit was filed by attorneys Ned Pillersdorf and Dan Rowland. Like all civil suits, it represents only the plaintiff's version of the issues in dispute.

Shoplifters Face Warning Of Increased Surveillance

Shoplifters in Prestonsburg should think twice before plying their trade here, as city police are boosting coverage of the downtown business district.

In what he described as an effort to make his department more visible, Police Chief Stan Fletcher told members of the Downtown Businesses Association that officers would be concentrating on keeping crime down in the shopping area, both with more uniformed police officers patrolling and plain clothes officers circulating around the stores.

The new program will go into effect next week, in an attempt to alleviate the shoplifting problems associated with the holiday season, but Fletcher said the added protection would continue indefinitely.

"We're going to keep this program going," he said after the meeting. "But it will be more intense during the holidays. Afterwards, we'll work it according to our manpower." The police chief said his department

Question

On Nov. 12 1985, I was driving through Allen, Kentucky. The bridge that crosses the Big Sandy at Allen is clearly marked, "weight limit 15 tons." I was following two large coal trucks whose loads were stacked 18 inches to 2 feet above the tops of their beds. Both trucks proceeded to cross the bridge.

This brought to mind another occasion when my neighbor was hauling fill dirt for filling in his yard. He had the misfortune to spill some of this dirt, no more than 50 to 100 pounds, upon the surface of the highway. Upon seeing this, a state safety person with threat of citation made him take a broom and sweep the dirt from the asphalt.

Now this same road is very often covered with mud and/or dirt for some two to three miles, carried there by the coal trucks from their coal-haul road, and nothing done about it until the entire community spends several days or sometimes weeks complaining.

I realize that coal operators do provide many jobs, and I am thankful for that; but does that give them the right to deprive the rest of us of decent roads and bridges over which to travel?

My question: Are coal operators and haulers governed by a different set of laws than the other citizens of this county?

On Drinking Alcohol

Is drinking alcohol a sin? Some say, yes—some say, no. Drunkenness is forbidden by the Bible. If you take a drink and cause a weaker person to follow suit—that's another story.

Many of us recall an old Mountain Church Proverb—the first drink is a sin, because it causes a second, third, fourth drink etc.

Each person has to make his or her own decision relative to alcohol.

would implement a number of new programs in the next few months, which he hopes will discourage criminal activity here. Among them are a training program for bank employees, designed to teach them how to react in the event of a robbery, and special classes for home owners to help make their valuables more secure.

Another program the police will participate in is the nationwide "Operation C.A.R.E.—the acronym stands for "combined accident reduction effort"—on Friday, Dec. 13.

"Friday the 13th will be an unlucky day for anybody caught driving under the influence," said Fletcher.

The program will include a number of road checks at various points within the city. Nationally, the goal is to completely eliminate DUI-related fatalities that day.

Fletcher said occasional road checks would become routine in the city, "in an effort to get drunks off the road in Prestonsburg." A publicity campaign will be mounted for the same purpose, he said.

The Danger of Chimney Fires

No one told the first-time homeowners their house chimney hadn't been cleaned in three years. They blamed the backdrafting and smoking fires they built on the fact that they were novices. Then, one evening while sitting in front of the fireplace, they heard a distant hissing noise, then the roaring sound of air being sucked up the chimney. A passing neighbor told them sparks were flying out of their chimney and onto the roof.

Their house was on fire. Improperly maintained chimneys cause 40,000 fires each year in the United States, says Larry Piercy, energy specialist with the UK's Cooperative Extension Service.

Many of these are caused by creosote, he said. Creosote is produced when wood burns. It is highly flammable. Once ignited, creosote can burn at temperatures over 2000 degrees. The strong upward draft caused by fire can lift burning creosote out of the chimney and on to the roof. The intense heat can create a risk of fire spreading to the framework of the house.

"Inspecting your chimney regularly for creosote deposits and cleaning it when needed is the best prevention against chimney fires," said Piercy.

Should a chimney fire occur, however, he offers this advice.

"First, call the fire department," he said. "Then get everyone out of the house, pronto. Then, if possible, cut off air to the fireplace or woodstove, but do not close fireplace dampers as this will force smoke into the house."

Piercy said that special flares for extinguishing chimney fires or a fire extinguisher can be used to get the fire under control, but they are not always effective. Water should never be used because sudden cooling may damage a chimney or stove. Water could be sprayed on the roof to protect it from sparks.

Mountain Inspiration

By GLENN MOLLETTE

If given the opportunity to choose between rain or sunshine, we most often would say sunshine. We like sunny days. A blue sky, autumn leaves and 65 degree temperatures are nice. They help us to feel at ease and to be relaxed.

But rainy days are never to be discounted. Rain makes the flowers grow. Rain is normally a blessing to the farmer dependent on a fruitful crop.

The Christian life relates to the seasons, sun and rain. Some days are just nice, stable, quiet days with the Lord. Yet other days may bring the fierce winds of life. On these days it may seem like nothing is going right. The children are sick, work is stressful, an unexpected bill comes through the mail and so on. Days such as these can be cloudy. Yet, behind every cloud the sun is shining.

Jesus, the son of God is ever present. Even the darkest days cannot hide his radiance. While Jesus and his disciples were together on the sea of Galilee a great storm arose and the waves began to toss the ship and the disciples were afraid. Jesus was in the "hinder part of the ship," and in fear they awoke saying, "Master, carest thou not that we perish?" Jesus then arose and "rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, 'Peace, be still.' And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm." (Mark 4:37-39)

Peace, serenity and a state of calmness are welcomed feelings in most every life. Jesus is the one who can provide a peace that often even amazes those who are closest to him. Even his disciples said, "What manner of man is this, that even the wind and sea obey him?" Today, why not let Jesus calm those undesirable winds?

Hospice Struggles to Survive On "Less than a Shoestring"

For Chris Conley, the service they offer is so essential it is intolerable to think it could just disappear. "The people who began it are not going to let it collapse," she insists. "Somehow we'll figure out a way to keep it going."

Oma Spradlin, 72-year-old Abbott Creek woman and a victim of cancer, is depending on it. "I don't know what I'd do without them," she said this week.

And yet, with its first full year in operation just completed, Hospice of Big Sandy, Inc. is still barely getting by on a budget its executive-director described as "something less than a shoestring."

Hospice of Big Sandy, a state-licensed chapter of a national organization imported to this country from Great Britain about 15 years ago, provides what must be among the most demanding of human services—helping people die.

Typically, people come to the organization when they or a member of their family have been diagnosed by a doctor as terminally ill. Using a network of trained volunteers—nurses, ministers, social workers, housewives, physicians—Hospice offers support designed to help the patient and family work through the crisis with all the hope and dignity they can muster.

For Hospice workers, dying with dignity does not mean covering up death's terrors or inevitability with a veneer of cheery optimism. On the contrary, volunteers are chosen for their ability to facilitate the grieving process through which dying patients and their relatives must pass.

In the Hospice philosophy, that difficult passage is generally best negotiated at home—for most people, the most supportive environment they'll ever know—rather than in hospital, where simple human care may easily be lost amid the high-tech gadgetry of modern medicine.

"It gives people an opportunity to face their last days in their home, surrounded by the people and things they've always drawn comfort from," Mrs. Conley explained.

Oma Spradlin, who spent much of her life in hospitals—she was a cafeteria worker for 14 years at Highlands Regional Medical Center and, before that, at Prestonsburg General Hospital—knows where she wants to end her days. "As long as I stay here, I want to stay in my home," she said.

Home, she explained, is where children, grandchildren, friends and neighbors "can come and go any time they want to."

For Hospice, assisting a dying patient and the family means "allowing death to be the natural process it was intended to be," Mrs. Conley said. "We aim for as simple and unencumbered a death as possible." Even patients in severe pain can be given relief without the "elaborate regimens" of the typical hospital, she said, adding, "Most Hospice patients have a gentle, natural death without the trauma associated with a lot of machinery."

Although the medical and hospital establishments have traditionally been associated with a model of tenacious terminal care—complete with monitors, IVs, respirators and the so-called "heroic measures" for sustaining life—physicians and hospital managers here have been supportive of Hospice, providing supplies, expertise and meeting space, Mrs. Conley said. Nor is the partnership novel: while most Hospice chapters are now free-standing institutions, the organization began as a special ward in a London hospital and some hospitals—St. Clare's in Morehead, for example—still sponsor a chapter of their own.

Hospice of Big Sandy's board of directors includes personnel from Floyd's three hospitals—including surgeons William B. Cook of Highlands and Gan Maddiwar of Our Lady of the Way; Our Lady of the Way's administrator, Sister Monica Justinger, and chaplain, Sister Marie Gangwish; and nurse Mary Anderson, of the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital. Other registered nurses on the board are Drema Osborne, Dena Patton, Jenny Bottoms and Clara Garrett. Completing the panel are pastors Jim Doughton and Tim Jessen, its chairman; former cancer patients Curt Tussey and Garnet Fairchild; pharmacist Jim Cash and accountant Bill Bottoms.

Hospice, its director argues, "should be as integral a part of a community's health organization as is the hospital or the doctor or dentist's office." But—unlike other health care providers, who typically charge fees for their services—Hospice chapters have traditionally been supported by voluntary contributions and many even shun "third party" payments by insurance companies and Medicare.

Hospice of Big Sandy, which served 30 patients and their families in its first year, has depended entirely on donations, which are not providing the funds needed for the group to operate at its full potential—or even to survive much longer—its director said. In a "best of all possible worlds" projection, she said the organization could well use $87,000 annually and a staff of four. As it is, contributions are sufficient to support only two part-time staffers—Mrs. Conley and Sister Margaret Jacobs, a registered nurse who is the group's patient care coordinator.

A more reliable funding avenue could be opened up if Hospice of Big Sandy

Cancer Society Offers Holiday Help To Ex-Smokers

Millions of people are expected to try not to smoke during the Great American Smokeout. Many of them will make it through the day, November 21, without taking a single puff. For these, there's no time like the present to quit permanently.

These smokers face quite a challenge, though—the upcoming holiday season, complete with temptations to overindulge along with all kinds of stresses and pressures that might lure new ex-smokers back to cigarettes. But the American Cancer Society, which sponsors the annual Smokeout, stands ready to help prospective quitters with a free brochure, "How to Stay Quit through the Holidays."

The brochure offers hints on how new ex-smokers can overcome daily obstacles, avoid party jitters that could lead to a return to cigarettes, cope with crowds, and deal with smoking friends and relatives who might try to force the quitter back into their fold. Tips on avoiding weight gain, despite the tendency to binge during the holidays, are also included.

According to Robert Herrick, D.M.D., president of the Floyd County Chapter, new ex-smokers should view Thanksgiving as a special holiday. "Thanksgiving falls exactly one week after the Smokeout," he said. "On Thanksgiving, those who quit on the day of the Smokeout will be celebrating a full week away from tobacco."

The brochure can be obtained by writing to: the American Cancer Society, Room 218, Hopkins Bldg., Pikeville, Ky. 41501, or by calling 606-437-9503.

Miss Mullins, Majorette With UK Marching Band

Bonnie Mullins, a University of Kentucky sophomore from Stanville, is a majorette with the 1985 UK marching band which includes 276 musicians and auxiliary members.

Band members practice an average of six hours a week, plus two hours before each home football game. Members also attended a summer camp the week prior to the start of the fall semester.

While playing in the marching band requires a great deal of time and practice, band members reap several benefits from their participation including increasing their musical proficiency, social activities, and a sense of family.

There are about two and one-half times as many cattle in Argentina as there are people.

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

Women of the Community United Methodist Church met Nov. 12, with Mrs. Drema Osborne, president, in charge. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. June Cooley. Mrs. Esther Ward gave a report on the last meeting and the financial report. "Getwell" cards were sent to members who were shut-ins. Prayer partners were revealed, and names of new prayer partners were drawn for the coming year. Names were also drawn of children of foster homes and of persons in mini-homes, so that Christmas gifts may be given to them. It was also decided that gifts would be furnished for members who are shut-ins. It was voted to give $500 for the church building fund.

Mrs. Frances Cooley gave the devotions, and read a poem entitled, "Thank You, God, for Everything."

Mesdames Drema Osborne and June Cooley served refreshments to Mesdames Esther Ward, Terry Allen, Jean Burke, Ernestine Collins, Linda Smith, Jessie Burke, Rianna Burke, Anna Jean Howell, Leslie Burke, Sue Spradlin, Beth Johnson, Josephine Herald, Chris Simpson, Sandy Howell, and Debbie Burke.

Promises, Promises...

Company Says It Will Upgrade City's Ailing Cable Services

Prestonsburg's long-simmering wrangle with Consolidated Communications, the company which provides television-cable service to the city, may finally be coming to an end, if promises made at a meeting last Tuesday are accepted by the city—and kept by the cable company.

Consolidated Communications' representatives Hugh Buckner and Marty Crawford met for over an hour with Mayor Harold Cooley, City Manager David Evans, City Attorney Larry Brown, and council members Bobby Ranier and Eunice Shepherd, as well as with a number of newly elected council members and Mayor-elect Ann Latta.

Buckner freely admitted that Prestonsburg's system isn't good, but pledged it would be upgraded within months, with customers enjoying both better reception and a 30-channel capacity. The system currently provides 14 channels.

The improved system would include three tiers of service, the most basic being a 12-channel package, similar to the present basic set-up. These channels are tentatively scheduled to be WSAZ, WCHS and WOWK, the West Virginia based NBC, CBS and ABC affiliates Prestonsburg has been receiving for decades; WTBS, the Atlanta "Superstation"; CNN, the 24-hour all-news network; ACTS, providing family entertainment coupled with religious programming; CBN, the Christian Broadcast Network; WGN, the 24-hour independent station from Chicago; WYMT, the new CBS affiliate in Hazard; WVAH, an independent West Virginia station with emphasis on sports, news and movies; ESPN, the 24-hour sports network; and KET, the Kentucky Educational Television network.

For an additional fee, four more stations would be provided. These include The Nashville Network, specializing in country and western music; MTV, a rock music station; USA, providing 24-hour sports, children's and women's programming; and Nickleodeon, a network designed to entertain and educate children and young teens.

A separate fee would be charged for each of the channels in the next tier.

These premium channels include Home Box Office, Cinemax, The Movie Channel, The Disney Channel, Showtime and The Playboy Channel. All of these channels specialize in movies and other features.

Buckner said the Playboy channel would not be promoted in any way by his company, but would be available to those subscribers who requested it. He said subscribers would be provided upon request a device to lock out any number of channels at a given time—to control, for example, the viewing habits of their children.

Another optional service, provided for an additional charge, would be cable radio, with an 18-channel capacity.

To effect the proposed changes, which necessitates the replacement of most of the equipment now in service here, the cable company estimates having to spend about $472,000. Buckner admitted it was the customers who would pay for the upgrading, but assured the city officials such payments would not be required up front.

Rather, a rate increase of $2.99 per month for basic service would go into effect as soon as the renovation is completed.

The new system would be similar to the company's set-up in Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., which recently underwent similar renovation. In fact, it's because the Pt. Pleasant renovation has been done that Prestonsburg is finally going to be upgraded. According to Buckner, Consolidated Communication's agreement with the bank which financed their buying of several cable systems specified that no major work could be done on other systems until work on the largest of the group—Pt. Pleasant's—had been completed.

Buckner also responded to a question from Evans concerning the company's apparent lack of interest in responding to subscriber complaints. A new office, which the company is now looking for, and an additional employee here should make responses much more quick and efficient, said Buckner.

Both Evans and Councilman Bobby Ranier voiced support of the cable company's proposals, but Cooley told Buckner a decision would not be made until January, when the newly elected city council takes office.

If the city decides to accept the plan, work here should begin soon thereafter and be completed about five months after its inception. The renovation in other parts of the county would take several months longer to complete.

HALL THANKS VOTERS

Sufficient words cannot be found to express my humble feelings to those who voted for or supported me in any way during my campaign for magistrate. Each of you know that you did not owe me for any political favors, your vote was not bought or stolen, your job was not threatened, and not one promise was made; yet you believed in me enough to go cast that vote. This is true democracy, and I can only say "THANK YOU" and promise I will never betray that trust.

Again Many, Many Thanks!!!

CAGING A REDHOUND, are Blackcat defenders, Brent Hackworth, No. 18, Jim Crace, No. 60, and Trent Nairn, No. 65, on a kick-off return in Friday's championship game against the undefeated Corbin Redhounds. The 'Cats defensive unit held the usually explosive Redhound offense to only 34 rushing yards... The Blackcats next gridiron foe will be the Throughbreds of Newport Central Catholic, Saturday night.

'Cats Defeat Corbin Gain Regional Crown

There was an uncanny calmness among the Prestonsburg Blackcat football team as they went through their pregame drills prior to Friday's regional championship game with the undefeated Corbin Redhounds.

The last encounter between these two squads was in 1982 when the Redhounds came to Prestonsburg and defeated the Blackcats 28-0, on their way to the state title that year.

"In my four years of coaching this is the biggest game I have ever been in," commented head coach Charles "Chuke" Williams in a pregame interview. "Corbin has to be the best defensive team I have seen in many years, while offensively they have an excellent power-oriented running game that is supplemented by a lot of depth."

Starting all seniors, the majority of whom were involved in the last Prestonsburg and Corbin matchup as freshman, Williams said, "I hope that their maturity and the high intensity that they have shown this week in practice will come to the surface in tonight's game."

The game began with the 'Cats receiving the opening kick-off on their own 29-yard line. John Goble, the squad's impressive signal-caller, opened the series with a quick pass to Shag Branham for a six-yard gain. Two running plays that followed netted the 'Cats their first first-down of the game and placed them on their 41-yard line.

Unable to move the ball any further on the next three plays from scrimmage, Goble had to punt the ball away. Goble's punt carried to the Corbin 18-yard line, where the Redhounds took over.

On Corbin's second play from scrimmage, needing only four yards for a first down, the Redhound ball carrier was dropped for a two-yard loss by Keith Slone and Shag Branham.

No one suspected at this early stage of the game, that this would be an omen of things to come for the Redhounds, as Blackcat defenders would charge into the Corbin backfield throughout the contest, stalling many would-be scoring drives.

After a 48-yard punt, Prestonsburg began their second drive from their 31-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Wendell Burke, who was recovering from a severe case of the flu, took a pitch from Goble, ran around left end for a 17 yard pick-up. On the next play, B.D. Nunnery knifed his way through the Corbin defensive line and into Redhound territory, all the way to the home team's 43-yard line.

After a sack of Goble by the blitzing Redhounds, followed by a screen pass that resulted in a five-yard loss, the 'Cats again were forced into a punting situation with 5:42 left in the first quarter.

Standing on his 45-yard line, Goble faked the punt and ran through the shocked Corbin defenders to the five-yard line. This was the first time this year that Coach Williams had attempted a fake punt, a play that he called quite often during the 1984 season. Three plays later, following the lead blocking of fullback Ronnie Slone, Burke scampered in from the eight yard line for the first score of the night. Brent Hackworth's extra-point kick was good and the 'Cats, who were considered by many as the underdogs, were ahead 7-0 with 3:42 left in the first quarter.

Corbin's next offensive series was stymied with authority by the Blackcat defense. On two separate plays, Donnie Ray and Chris Snodgrass caught Redhound runners behind the line of scrimmage.

After exchanging punts, the 'Cats wound up with excellent field position starting from their 43-yard line.

With 8:03 left to play in the second quarter, on the first play of the 'Cats offensive series, Wendell Burke, taking advantage of a large hole in the Redhound defense, courtesy of teammates Donnie Ray and Keith Slone, ran for 57 yards and the 'Cats second touchdown of the game. An unsuccessful extra-point kick left the score at 13-0 with 7:52 remaining before halftime.

Neither team was able to put any more points on the board during the remaining minutes before intermission, as both teams mounted small but uneventful drives.

To the amazement of all, the smaller but quicker Blackcat defense had held the highly potent Redhound runners to only 11 yards rushing during the half of play, and sacked the Corbin quarterback four times. Prestonsburg was able to gain 130 yards on the ground and was able to hold off the pass rush of Corbin, allowing Goble to be sacked only once.

Corbin received the kick-off to begin the final half of play, but Prestonsburg's B.D. Nunnery leveled the Corbin ball carrier with a crunching tackle, causing a fumble that Nunnery fell on at the Redhound 24-yard line. The 'Cats were again knocking at the door of the state's most highly-ranked team, hoping to increase their lead.

Prestonsburg lined up in the "wishbone" formation for their first offensive try. Ronnie Slone, the hard-driving fullback, who has been used many times during the season on short yardage situations, found some running room up the middle for a two-yard gain. Nunnery then tried the right side, and gained five yards. Goble tried to run the ball himself on third down but was stopped cold at the line of scrimmage and knocked back for a yard loss.

Faced with fourth down and four yards to go, Goble called time out. Would Coach Williams elect for the field goal or would he take a gamble and try to pick up the needed yardage and a first down?

Knowing the offensive ability of Corbin and that he needed all the points he could muster, Williams decided to go for the first down. "John (Goble) said that they could make it, so I told him to go for it," added Williams after the game.

With 10:02 showing on the clock, Wendell Burke again ran behind Slone and Ray, as he had done all night, and picked up the needed yardage. A measurement by the officials showed that the 'Cats gained the needed yardage by less than five inches.

The drive was capped off when Goble faked to Slone, then Burke who was running to the right side of the line, but kept the ball himself and ran left for a 13 yard touchdown. Shag Branham ran for the two point conversion, dragging Redhounds with him into the endzone, giving the 'Cats a 19-0 lead with 9:36 left in the third quarter.

Prestonsburg's tough defensive play set up the next Blackcat score less than a minute later.

The Redhounds started their first series at their 25 yard line. On the first play Keith Slone, with help from Mike Lyons, sacked the Corbin quarterback, Jackson. Visibly shaken, the Redhound play caller attempted a pass on second down that was nearly intercepted by Shag Branham.

Trying to pass again on third down, Jackson tried for a pass over the middle but was intercepted by Goble, who dashed unmolested 25 yards for a Blackcat score. The kick by Hackworth was unsuccessful. The Blackcats were ahead at the 9:41 mark 27-0.

During the remainder of the third quarter and first minutes of the fourth, neither team could find the endzone. It wasn't until the 8:53 mark of the final stanza that the Redhounds finally put some points on the board and ended the hopes of a Blackcat shutout.

Corbin topped an eight-play, 64-yard drive with a diving catch in the corner of the end-zone for their only score. The extra-point conversion was stopped by the 'Cats. Neither team scored during the remaining minutes and the game ended with the final score of 27-6.

In 1980 the Kentucky High School Athletic Association reorganized the state's football regions into the current districts and sub-districts. Since that reorganization, no team from District 2, the one in which Prestonsburg is placed, has been able to win the regional championship. Teams representing Corbin, Somerset or Middlesboro, from District 1, have dominated.

After his team's loss on Friday, Corbin Coach Cotton Adams remarked, "It will take an awfully good team to beat Prestonsburg."

The 'Cats will travel to Newport on Saturday for a 7:00 p.m. contest with the defending state champions from Newport Central Catholic High School. The winner of the game will play for the state Class AA title on Friday, November 29, in Louisville.

The Dropout

By JAMES A. BROOKS
(Dropout Prevention teacher at Betsy Layne High School)

Education is a process of living, not a preparation for living. Henry David Thoreau said in 1840, "The end of education is the end of life."

And there our children sit, a few seconds of learning for every hour of waiting for a bell to ring, if only their waiting could be neutral. The teacher is over-worked in an exacting and exhausting business. The teacher is tired from 50 minutes of "classroom control." What a job this is we give our teachers! Do not blame them if they fail to educate or change their students. The teachers are our slaves, condemned to perpetuate the very system that victimizes them.

If education is a process that cause changes in every aspect of one's being, then what today's educators are called upon to do may be many things, but it is not education.

As previously stated, teachers may wish for neutral moments; however, instead of neutral there are negative learning periods that go on. Some pupils learn to daydream, how to cheat, create petty deceptions and distractions that drive the teachers to anger. All this goes on in all schools and some colleges. A visitor from another planet might conclude that our schools are hellbent on creating a generation of joyless drudges in a society of leisure. As parents we seem to have created a generation that is homeless, seeking pleasure first, without interest in getting ahead, without moral and spiritual support at home. This is the generation we are sending to our schools and saying, "Here they are, change them, educate them, instill in them a joyful reform of the present moment from neutral to reality and usefulness."

There surely is an answer or alternative to this "Dropout," generation. The answer, like the beginning, begins at home. As parents, ask yourself some penetrating questions:

Do I have basic respect for myself as a person of value—a human being with human weaknesses and strength? Do I respect my child as a person of value, a human being with human weaknesses and strengths? Do I listen to my children, really listen with the third ear—my heart? Am I a friend and confidant to my child? Do I communicate with my child? Can I accept the changes in my child as they grow—changes in social behavior, changes in personality, changes in style of dress, changes in friends. This is not easy but be honest with yourself.

It's paradoxical. Our use of alcohol, drugs and even tobacco is a form of escape through sedation. We worry about the young and their use of drugs, which are used for mind-expansion. We can steer them from their drugs if we stop living as if we preferred sedation. We must wake up and live in today's changing world instead of trying to sleep in the past, even the immediate past.

Parents have a 24-hour-a-day job. The job does not end at the end of the eight-hour day. The child is not in a controlled environment all these 24 hours. The parent must, along with the teacher, instill such values in the child that deep-rooted character values will prove immune to drop-out tendencies.

We, parents and teachers alike, must operate on faith, aware that, as Henry David Thoreau said in 1842, "If a man does not keep pace with his companions perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him keep step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away."

You should insulate your hot water heater if it is located in a room that isn't used for living.

New Specialty Occupies HRMC Doctors' Suite

"An Otolaryngologist, you say?" Yes, the practice of otolaryngology is the latest to take up residence in the Physicians' Office Suite at Highlands Regional Medical Center. However, Drs. Ernest Behnke and Charles Watson are more commonly known as an ENT, or a physician who specializes in the diseases of the ear, nose and throat.

Thursday, November 7, was the first day for office hours in the Physicians' Office Suite, and they will continue to have office hours in this location every Thursday.

Drs. Behnke and Watson's main office is located in Ashland. Appointments for office hours in this area can be made by calling the Physicians' Office Suite at HRMC, at 886-8511, ext. 580, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

AMPLE PARKING

Six Flags Over Allen Central

Six Flags Over Allen Central, a mini-park on the grounds of Allen Central High School was dedicated in cooperation with Allen Central students, faculty, and administration and many people from the Allen Central area.

The park consists of an elliptical garden area within an 18 by 30-foot Rebel flag constructed on the ground. It is made of concrete crosswalks, painted blue, representing the Confederate flag, with large stars impressed into them and painted white. Each star has a 5x10-inch marble plaque imbedded into it, and each plaque has cut into it the names of the homeroom teachers and the grade which they teach.

The red of the flag is in red pumice stone. White marble chips were used to outline the red pumice. In the center of the flag stands a 26-foot flag pole holding the American flag and the Kentucky state flag. At each of the four corners of the Rebel flag stands a flag pole holding Confederate flags. Spotlights have been installed to shine on all six flags at night.

A large marble plaque bearing the name of the park and the date of dedication is imbedded into the ground within the large Rebel flag. It was contributed by the Hindman Monument Co. and developed by Ray Osborne, of Eastern.

Not only did the students contribute toward the cost of this project but many contributed by working on it. All of the students were very helpful in many ways but the following were especially helpful: Billy Cobb, Jeff Hughes, Steve Hughes, Darren Conn, Robbie Click, Anthony Redrick, Joey Robinson, Deren Hall, John Wholford, Kelly Nickels, Roger Horne, Ron Hunter, Marie Martin, and Roger Bevins, Dwayne Lafferty, Doug Cooley, Raymond Ousley, Carmel Davis, Mike Bentley, Paul Baker, Brian Allen, Scotty Wright, Jamie Cobb, Paul Rice, David Little, Aaron Kidd, Brian Handshoe, Mike McKinney, Ronnie Ousley, Robert Martin, John Hicks, Marty Gibson, Steven Blevins, and many other people whose names were not recorded.

Although the cost of this project was shared by individual classes, groups, individuals, and business places of the school community, there were some special people. They are: Don Daniels, principal at Allen Central, all A.C.H.S. students, all A.C.H.S. faculty and administration, Mrs. Carolita O'Quinn and her art dept., Mrs. Sexton and Miss Dingus and their home ec. dept., Mrs. Thompson and the music dept., Mrs. Osborne and the journalism dept., Mrs. Osborne and Miss Murphy and the Beta Club, Mrs. Osborne and her classes, Miss Murphy and her classes, Rondell Prater and his son, Chris. Curt Moore and his classes, Lowell L. Martin and his classes, Lowell Conley and Conley TV and staff, especially Donnie, Freddie Mullins and M&M Welding, especially Greg Mullins and Carl Cooley, Mrs. Charlotte Moore, Mrs. Margurite Harmon, Mr. Bentley, Mrs. Mullins, Teacher publicity committee (Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. O'Quinn, Mrs. Watson, Mack Martin, Jerry Fultz), Teacher Reception Committee (Mrs. Bradley, Miss Dingus, Mrs. Sexton, Mrs. O'Quinn, Mrs. Osborne, and the Home ec. dept.), janitorial staff (Charles Martin, Ricky Hancock, Lay Gayheart, Bronley Williams, and Mrs. Kathy Prater.), Jackie Edford Owens, Birchell Duff, Ray Osborne, Bat's Wholesale Auto Parts, Jan's Florist, First Guaranty National Bank, Triangle Market—Olin Elliott, Mrs. Helen Flannery, Hall Funeral Home, Big Sandy Insurance Co., Bentley's Tack and Feed Store, Clinton Terry, Hershell Jones, Randy Martin, and Carla Robinson Boyd, Calvin Gray and Woodsmen of the World.

A very special thanks to Randy Martin of Randy Martin Construction Co. of Langley (alumnus of Allen Central) for his dedication, mind, and heart, to this work. He contributed his equipment and much-needed time to this cause. The same goes for Hershel Jones, Garrett, (carpenter) who put much time and heart into this project, also. Without people giving, projects like this one would not get started.

Mr. Daniels contributed quality and ideas to this project by helping to finance and by making many helpful suggestions. Without Mr. Daniels' attitude and moral support, we may have never got this project completed.

The ceremony of dedication was on Oct. 18, 1985. A reception was held in the front foyer of the school at 1 p.m. for all guests. At 2 p.m., the outside ceremonies began. Prayer was offered by Allen Central student Peggy Shepherd. Homeroom teachers were then asked by master of ceremonies Lowell L. Martin to stand on the 19 stars, and, of course, their appropriate marble slab.

The homeroom teachers were joined by the Student Council members. Student council is sponsored by the following: Miss Patricia Murphy, Miss Patricia Watson and Jerry Fultz. The Senior representatives are Pam Baldrige, Angie Barnette, Duke Martin, Kenton Martin, Sandy Ferrell, John Gibson, Rodney Stevens, Peggy Shepherd. The Junior representatives are Dee Dee Moore, Melanie Patton, Libby Gibson, Tonya Horne, Rhonda Fraley, Gregory Devers, Tammy Scott, and Danny Slone. The Sophomore representatives are Jeff Hughes, Randy Hansford, Loretta Sexton, Norm Thornsberry, Darlene Fultz, Lisa Daniels, Kyle Newman, David Moore, Robbie Click, Heather Bailey, Teddy Burchett, and Della Huff. The Freshmen representatives are Ginger Halbert, Stephanie Wallen, Rady Martin, Valerie Mosely, Billy Brown, Charles Bentley, Susan Scott, Rebecca Rice, Marty Gibson, and Todd Duff.

Lowell L. Martin was then presented a 2x3 ft. marble plaque by Miss Valerie Morris, journalism class representative, for being the developer of the "Beautification of Allen Central High School." This plaque read, "To Mr. Lowell L. Martin, in appreciation to his dedication of the beautification of A.C.H.S. Faculty and Student Body, 1985-1986."

The DAV 128 from Garrett, Ky., Eacil Hicks, commander, was in charge of the American flag raising ceremonies. Mr. Hicks read a salute to the flag. Then a 21-gun salute was presented by DAV 128 under the direction of Larry Shipley. Navy officer assisted the DAV to hoist the American flag. The Allen Central Band, under the masterful direction of Mrs. Marcia Thompson, band director, played the National Anthem. After this flag raising, the Kentucky flag was hoisted as the band played "My Old Kentucky Home."

The American flag was donated by Carl "Chris" Perkins. It was presented by Judge John M. Stumbo, Senator Benny Ray Bailey and Marcella Bailey. The Kentucky flag was donated by Greg Stumbo and Jim Rose, who also presented it at the ceremony. The four Rebel flags were donated by James Duff, Ray Campbell, Ray Brackett and James Adams. They were presented by Ronald Hager, Harry Wallace, Mrs. Carla Boyd, James Duff.

Various clubs and other extra-curricular organizations and other student body representatives were called out to stand at the four Rebel flags. Those students were as follows: Rebel flag 1, Rebel basketball player, Mike McKinney, Lady Rebel basketball player, Terina Hall, 4-H Club, Marie Martin, Pep Club—Rodney Stevens, Art Club—Paul Rice; Rebel flag No. 2, Football player—Robbie Click, Cross Country Team—Roger Horne, Beta Club—Greta Mullins, FHA—Dawna Shepherd, Music Club—Pam Baldrige, Rebel flag No. 3, Baseball player—Larry Hodge, Rebel Cheerleader—CaSandra Slone, Lady Rebel Cheerleader—Jill McKinney, Math Club—Duke Martin, Flag Girl—Marie Martin, Rebel flag No. 4, Band—Louis Hairston, Majorettes—Beverly Martin, Speech Club—Sean Ousley, Drama Club—Jamie Wilks, Chorus—Pam Jenkins.

After the American flag raising, Mrs. Thompson presented an Allen Central group consisting of Pam Baldrige, Amy Mayo, Garry Samons, Tommy Slone, and Danny Slone. Pam and Amy sang Lee Greenwood's "God Bless the USA." The others were their backup.

As the A.C. band played the school song, the four Rebel flags were raised. Also, the band played "Dixie" and concluded with "New York, New York."

During the ceremonies, a list of the Floyd countians killed in Vietnam was read in honor of the Red, White, and Blue Day, Oct. 19.

Also, Kelly Nickles, a student at Allen Central, talked about the Six Flags project and Red, White, and Blue Day.

As you drive by Allen Central or as you enter or leave the campus you can see Allen Central's contribution to the American spirit that is so important to us all.

An expression of thanks from all at Allen Central to everyone who made this possible.

Thank you.

SORE THROAT MEDICATIONS

Sore throats are a symptom of many different illnesses such as flu, strep throat, viral pharyngitis and infectious mononucleosis. Most often, the pain from a sore throat is mild. It is more of a nuisance than a real danger to the person who is ill. This kind of sore throat often can be aided by over-the-counter products such as aspirin and lozenges. It must be emphasized, however, that these treatments are designed to provide relief from the symptoms, that is, the pain. They do not constitute the definitive care that is needed should one have a bacterial infection such as a strep throat. It is only a doctor who can prescribe the antibiotics needed to treat strep throat.

Pharmacists at COOLEY APOTHECARY are pledged to further and maintain the highest ethical standards of our profession so first call your doctor and then have him call us. We look forward to meeting the complete pharmaceutical needs of every member of your family. Everyday low prices are available on prescriptions plus we maintain complete patient profiles. For accurate, sound and safe advice you will find us located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-4.

HANDY HINT:
Gargling only helps to relieve the discomfort of sore throat temporarily.

So. States Sets Videoconference

Southern States Cooperative will take its 62nd annual stockholders meeting to its membership across its five-state territory with a "videoconference" program today (Nov. 20). Traditionally, all delegates have come to Richmond, Va. for a session that has extended over parts of two days.

By means of broadcast signals beamed to satellites and relayed back to earth the program, originating in Richmond, Va., will be viewed by members and guests at 10 locations. They will see the meeting on large projection television screens and each location receiving the signal will be in direct audio contact by telephone lines to the Richmond meeting.

Southern States will be the first cooperative in the U.S. to videoconference an annual stockholders meeting.

The 10 sites receiving the videoconference will be:

Jenny Wiley State Park in Prestonsburg, the Salisbury Civic Center, Salisbury, Md.; the Hilton Inn, Pikeville, Md.; the Bowling Green Country Club, Front Royal, Va.; the Hilton Inn, Lynchburg, Va.; the Holiday Inn, Wytheville, Va.; Marriott's Griffin Gate Resort, Lexington, Ky.; the Executive Inn, Owensboro, Ky.; the Ramada Inn, Morgantown, W. Va., and the Charleston House/Holiday Inn, Charleston, W. Va.

The videoconference is set to go on the air at 10:30 a.m. and to go off the air at 2 p.m. There will be an off-the-air lunch break between 11:45 a.m. and 1:15 p.m., and local awards will be presented at each location after conclusion of the videoconference.

A Gift from the Gifted

Christmas is a time of giving! Have you thought about giving Christmas gifts yet?

One inexpensive, yet priceless, gift that you can give an adult is the gift of Reading.

Have you ever thought of what it would be like not to be able to read a Christmas card or to be able to read to your children, or grandchildren?

By spending only 10 to 12 hours learning how to teach an adult to read, you will be giving them the best gift ever, at no cost but your time.

If you are an adult who cannot read, you can receive help by calling 285-5111 and say that you are interested in the Reading program for adults. Your call will be returned as soon as possible.

If you would like to teach an adult, you can also call 285-5111.

If no answer, call 874-9526 between 9 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Directory Assistance Now Offers Addresses

South Central Bell customers in Kentucky can now get more information when they call Directory Assistance.

The Public Service Commission November 1 approved the new service, which provides callers on request with complete mailing addresses, including Zip Codes of South Central Bell customers in Kentucky.

The commission also approved continuing the current three-call monthly allowance on local Directory Assistance for residence customers and eliminating the call allowance for business customers.

"This added service, available at the regular Directory Assistance rate, should be valuable to customers who need a quick way to find mailing addresses with ZIP codes, especially when preparing Christmas cards," said Art Willett, manager for Bell.

The information is not available about customers who have requested that their telephone numbers be excluded from both the telephone directory and Directory Assistance.

Another feature of the improved Directory Assistance Service is the ability to provide information based on a telephone number, according to Willett.

"The caller can call Directory Assistance and give the operator a telephone number, and the operator can provide the name and mailing address of the customer at that number," Willett said.

Milkweeds and Monarchs—The Butterfly Connection

The question of whether milkweeds are weeds or wildflowers needn't bother anyone. Who cares what they're called—when they do so much for one's property.

Milkweeds attract moths and butterflies—as few other groups of plants can. Sun-loving milkweeds add vibrant color, sturdy structure and delightful fragrance to a midsummer garden. They even—if you have a taste for wild eating—provide flower buds, fruit pods and stems as food.

From early June through early September, a great variety of butterflies and moths are attracted to a number of milkweed species. Butterflies of all types—from small skippers to the largest swallowtails—seek out milkweed nectar, which the plants produce copiously.

Throughout most of North America, milkweed is the monarch butterfly caterpillar's sole source of food, as well as its nurseries and means of protection from enemies: Adult monarchs may feed on the nectar. They lay their eggs on the plants. When the young hatch, their entire food supply is at hand in milkweed leaves. As protection, a chemical in milkweed's milky sap, ingested by the young, makes both caterpillar and mature butterfly toxic and distasteful to birds—which helps maintain butterfly populations against natural predation.

In the southeast and southcentral states, milkweeds attract queens—butterflies that are closely related to monarchs—and provide the same food and protection.

The sweet milkweed scent that draws so many butterflies and moths adds a delightful surprise to a garden—the pleasant daytime aroma changing at dusk to a wonderful fragrance that's likely to bring in many moths.

Most milkweeds thrive in well-drained soil that gets plenty of sun. The poke milkweed, however, grows in fairly damp soils, often in deep woodland shade, and the swamp milkweed likes plenty of water—as long as there's sunlight as well. Some kinds of milkweed for your garden follow:

Common milkweed Asclepias syriaca. Pale or reddish pink or pearl-colored flowers. The plant probably produces the most stems in the shortest time. It may spread—like a weed—but it's pretty.

Butterfly weed A. tuberosa, sometimes called "pride of the meadow." A valued perennial wildflower and the prettiest of the milkweeds. Native orange forms are wide ranging but, yellows and reds may also be found. It grows from a stout central root and will not spread, except by seed.

Red milkweeds A. rubra and curasavica. These are red and yellow types found along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Swamp milkweed A. incarnata. This one is dusky-pink, a slow spreader and highly attractive to numbers of butterflies, including virtually all of the swallowtails.

Garden centers and mail order firms carry some milkweeds. Other kinds are hard to find and are, perhaps, best acquired in the field. Identify the plants during their summer bloom; in late fall harvest the seeds. Hold the seeds over winter, outdoors or in your refrigerator; in early spring start the seeds outdoors, lightly covering them with good light soil. Then sit back and watch the progression: flowers, caterpillars, butterflies—all in a colorful garden.

For more information about wildlife around your home, contact the National Wildlife Federation, Dept. BN, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036-2266.

WAYLAND

HOSTS INTER-CLUB DINNER
The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club entertained with an inter-club dinner on Monday, Oct. 21, at the Masonic Lodge dining hall at Wayland. Mrs. Angie Banks, Seventh district governor, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on "Membership," pointing out that the best way to get new members is to "ask them". She also advised that in order to acquire the much-needed younger members it is sometimes necessary to make it more convenient for them, such as setting meeting times at hours suitable for their schedules.

Mrs. Banks also gave details of an upcoming European tour, which should be an inducement to new members, she pointed out. She advised that a colored brochure would be out sometime in December concerning the tour.

Prior to the dinner Mrs. Marsella Bradley gave the devotions. Those attending were the honored guest, Mrs. John Banks, Myra, Ky.; from Drift, Doris Lawson, Mildred Salisbury, Beth Ward, Lynn Stumbo, Celia Little, Anna Sue Stumbo, Tanya Shelton, and Ruby Akers, former Seventh district governor; from Wheelwright, Alma Souleyrette and Betty Mullins; and from the Wayland club, Marie C. Mullins, Marsella Bradley, Lula Coburn, Jo Ann Hall, Joyce P. Stevens, Avanelle Wells, Georgia Stapleton, Elizabeth M. Duff, Louise West, Maxine P. Martin, LaFaye Hughes, Blanche Bamer, and Libby Martin.

The next regular club meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 18, at the home of Mrs. Louise West, Hueysville.

J.T. Spillman has been moved to Morehead, Ky. He would greatly appreciate any cards and letters. His address: J.T. Spillman, C/O Essie White, Star Route-Box 197-C, Clearfield, Ky. 40313.

Belfry took first place team honors in the oral quick recall competition with a total of 17 points. Johns Creek took second place with 12 points; Pikeville was third with 8 points and Prestonsburg placed fourth with 5 points. Individual honors went to Rebecca Ward of Johns Creek in first place; Scott Loudermelt of Belfry and Jeff Akers of Pikeville tied for second and Greg Bentley of Virgie came in fourth.

EKAC Commissioner Layne Tackett said, "Our first conference-wide competition was a tremendous success. We are generating enthusiasm for academics and recognition for students who excel in academics that was not there before. Johns Creek High School has taken the lead in the race for the overall Conference championship and the coveted EKAC—First National Bank of Pikeville 'Cup of Excellence' award. Other schools will be trying to close the gap or take the lead in this race when the second Conference meet is held on Saturday, December 7, at Pikeville High School." "The public is invited and encouraged to attend and give moral support to the students and school of their respective areas," Tackett said.

Right Now, People You Know Are Poisoning Themselves.

Worst Of All, They Don't Know How To Stop.

The drugs and alcohol consumed by substance abusers poison both their minds and their bodies. Over time, the disease of addiction creates illness. And sometimes death.

Why then, is it so hard for that person to seek out help?

A symptom of the disease is denial.

Most substance abusers won't admit to themselves, let alone someone else, that a problem even exists. That's why helping them seek treatment can be slow and painful.

The Center for Chemical Independence. A program that works.

Our program helps chemically dependent adults find the road to recovery by helping them break with addiction and become self-reliant. Our program educates patients about the nature and effects of their disease while improving their physical condition. Patients learn about the recovery process through individual, group and family therapy. This helps to equip them with the resources necessary to live happy, healthy and chemically independent lives.

We'd like to help.

Please feel free to call us for information or advice. We're here 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Simply call the Center for Chemical Independence at (606) 278-3436 (or toll free at 1-800-432-4755). We'll help you any way we can to help the people who need helping.

U.S. Agency Recognizes Efforts of Gov. Collins

Martha Layne Collins has been honored by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for her efforts in the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

Governor Collins was the only governor signed out for the award presented last week to one person from each state during the Seventh National Conference on Child Abuse and Neglect in Chicago. Anna Grace Day, Kentucky's commissioner of social services, accepted the award on the governor's behalf.

The U.S. Administration for Children, Youth and Families cited Governor Collins for "averting a crisis in child welfare services" in Kentucky in 1984-85.

Governor Collins appointed a commission in November of 1984 to review child welfare services and institute reforms. The commission's work was completed with the support of the governor when the 1985 special session of the General Assembly appropriated the $8.3 million requested by Governor Collins to finance improvements in facilities and child welfare personnel training.

Although the female-male earnings ratio varies considerably among occupational groups, women's earnings rarely approach men's, even in the same occupational group, except in jobs with narrowly defined skill levels in the same establishment, according to "Earnings Difference Between Women and Men Workers," a fact sheet issued by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

CARD OF THANKS
The family of Alberta Dearing would like to express their thanks to all who helped during the passing of their loved one. Thanks to all who sent food, flowers, prayers, and words of comfort during this time of sorrow. Thanks to the First Baptist Church at Mousie all their kindness, the ministers, J.S. Bell, Clyde Wicker and Jimmy Baker for their words of kindness and the Hall Funeral Home for its kind and courteous service.

November's Crop Report Shows Unchanged Forecast

Despite recent wet weather and the delays it has caused to the 1985 harvest, the Nov. 1 crop report shows Kentucky's production remains very good, said Agriculture Commissioner David E. Boswell last week.

"The production forecasts for the state's major crops are unchanged from last month," the Commissioner added. "The rains and wet fields have hampered our harvest; however, the delays have not been as severe or as widespread as last fall. We are still expecting good things from this year's crops."

Corn harvest was 82 percent complete by Nov. 10, 2 percent behind normal; while soybean harvest was 45 percent complete, well behind the average of 69 percent.

Kentucky's corn for grain production is forecast at a record high 159.1 million bushels, up 4 percent from the previous record set in 1982 and up 9 percent from last year.

Yield is expected to average 102 bushels per acre. Last year, yield averaged 100 bushels. The record is 103 bushels in 1982.

Acres harvested for grain is up 7 percent from last year to 1.6 million.

Nationally, corn production is forecast at a record 8.72 billion bushels, compared to 8.6 billion last month and 7.7 billion last year.

Yield, at 116.6 bushels, is up from 106.6 bushels last year and the previous record of 113.2 set in 1982.

Soybean production in Kentucky is expected to total 39.4 million bushels, down 7 percent from last year. Yield, at 32 bushels per acre, is up three bushels from 1984. Harvested acreage is down 16 percent to 1.2 million.

Kentucky's burley tobacco production is forecast at 401.5 million pounds, down 18 percent from last year. The derived yield of 2,334 pounds is almost the same as last year, but harvested acreage is down 18 percent.

Past Tax Return Info Available From I.R.S.

Taxpayers who have not retained copies of prior year tax returns can either request photocopies of previously filed returns or transcripts of tax account information, according to the Internal Revenue Service. Either request can be made on Form 4506, "Request for Copy of Tax Form or Tax Account Information."

The charge for photocopies of prior year returns is $4.25 per return. Alternatively, transcripts of tax account information will be provided for $2.25 per tax year. The tax account information includes type of return filed, marital status, tax shown on return, adjusted gross income, taxable income, self-employment tax and number of exemptions.

Full payment must accompany all orders. Taxpayers should allow at least 45 days for delivery when requesting photocopies of prior year returns, and at least 30 days when requesting tax account information. Allow at least six weeks processing time after the original return is filed before requesting a copy or other information.

To order Form 4506, taxpayers can write the IRS Forms Distribution Center, P.O. Box 6900, Florence, Kentucky 41042, or call the toll free number 1-800-424-1040.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS
 Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble

(1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals...call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Store Owners Sue To Retain Liquor Permits

Nine liquor store owners from Nicholas and Magoffin counties filed three lawsuits in federal court in Lexington, seeking to overturn a recent Kentucky Supreme Court ruling that nullified wet-dry elections in their counties.

The store owners also want an injunction that would prohibit the state Alcohol Beverage Control board from suspending their licenses on Nov. 25, as planned.

The suits, filed in U.S. District Court, are the latest in the continuing saga surrounding wet-dry elections in Nicholas and Magoffin counties.

The story dates to September 1981, when residents of the 3rd magisterial district of Magoffin county, which includes Salyersville, voted to allow the sale of alcoholic beverages in the district. The rest of the county remained dry.

A similar election was held April 16, 1983, in four Nicholas county precincts, and two of the precincts voted to go wet.

After the elections, 12 liquor licenses were issued in Magoffin county and nine in Nicholas county.

But last July 3, the Kentucky Supreme Court ruled that the Magoffin county election had violated a state law governing wet-dry elections.

Based on that ruling, a circuit judge in Nicholas county voided the other local option election.

In its ruling, the Supreme Court said state law prevented a precinct from voting itself wet if the county in which the precinct was located previously had voted to be dry.

In their lawsuits, the liquor store owners contend that the state law, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, violates their constitutional right to equal protection under the law.

As a result of the high court's ruling, the state ABC last month notified the holders of liquor licenses in Magoffin and Nicholas counties that their licenses would be suspended.

The motion for the preliminary injunction to halt the suspension will be heard at 2 p.m. today (Wednesday), by U.S. District Judge G. Wix Unthank in Pikeville.

Among the plaintiffs in the suits are Barry Owens, who runs a liquor store in Royalton; Meridith Holbrook, who operates H&R Liquors in Salyersville; and Don Bailey, who operates Parkway Bar and Lounge in Salyersville.

There were several non-liquor store owners among the plaintiffs.

XI. STUDENT SEARCHES

School officials have the right to search pupils or their property if the official(s) have reasonable suspicion that the pupil may be in possession of something that violates school rules or endangers others, is justified at its inception, and is reasonably related in scope to the circumstances which justified it in the first place. The purpose of searching pupils, their belongings, lockers, desks, or automobiles is to protect the property and safety of others and/or to maintain the ongoing educational process of the school. Pupils have the protection, as do all citizens, against unreasonable search and seizure of their property. Searches will be used when other techniques to remedy the situation have been exhausted, or when there is an immediate danger to life or safety.

1. A pupil will only be searched when there is reasonable suspicion that the pupil is concealing evidence of an illegal act or school violation.

4. A general inspection of school properties such as lockers, desks, etc., may be conducted on a regular basis. During these inspections, items which are school property may be collected.
5. All items which have been seized will be turned over to proper authorities or returned to the true owner, depending on the situation.
6. The pupil shall have the opportunity to be present when a search of personal possessions is to be conducted unless:
  - a. The pupil is absent from school.
  - b. School authorities decide that the pupil's presence could endanger his/her health and safety.

XII. CRIMINAL VIOLATIONS

Students are accountable to their school in their role as students as well as to the law in their capacity as citizens. Serious violations of the criminal laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky and of the federal government apply to the conduct of all persons on school property.

Due to the seriousness of certain offenses and their likelihood to create a serious risk of harm to school personnel, students, and/or school property, students committing these offenses, after due process, are to be suspended from school, pending a hearing before the local Board of Education in accordance with KRS. 158.150.
- B. School personnel are to report these offenses to the appropriate law enforcement agency and assist these agencies in investigating and prosecuting the offender.

How to predict your electric bill in an unpredictable world.

Your electric bill is different every month because it varies with the changing seasons. Usually it's up in the winter, down in spring, up again in the summer and down again in the fall. But the weather is even more unpredictable with cold fronts and heat waves coming and going all year round.

The Equal Payment Plan can make your electric bill predictable. With it, you pay the same amount every month. You know in advance what your monthly payment will be and your bill won't change with the seasons.

Your monthly bill is based on your average yearly usage. Your account is reviewed every six months to make sure that your budget payment is still as close as possible to your average use. At the end of the twelfth month, you'll receive a settle-up bill or a credit.

If taking the surprise out of your electric bill sounds like a good idea, give us a call. We'll take it from there.

If you have someone on your gift list who is always difficult to buy for... or if someone you care about is having trouble making ends meet... or if you'd like to join in helping others in need this holiday season, a Columbia Gas energy gift certificate can be a welcome answer.

As an individual gift, you purchase a certificate in any amount you choose for $10 or more in the name of the Columbia Gas customer who will receive it. ### HOW SHOULD I PROVIDE FOR MY PET?

We would like to address a question in this column which concerns many people, though it isn't dealt with very often. What is the best way to provide for one's pet after one dies? We hope this information will be of help to those of you who have animals you love and want to see cared for.

The simplest method is to give your pet and, if necessary, sufficient funds to take care of it during the pet's life to a reliable friend who wants the pet.

You can also set up a trust for the lifetime of the trustee (not the pet) by which you leave a certain amount of money for the support of the animal. A third method is to direct your executor to arrange for the care and maintenance of your pet after your death, leaving sufficient funds to do so.

We suggest you ask your lawyer about this and other legal matters concerning your will. We welcome all your questions through this column.

WinterCare Plan Again in Effect

Last winter, 2,021 families representing 6,725 individuals received help with their utility bills as a result of the WinterCare Energy Fund.

According to Jack Burch, of Lexington, president of the state WinterCare Program: "There was a total of $212,044.75 raised during the 1984-85 WinterCare Campaign. The families that were helped had an average income of $3,646 per year. The average payment amount was $105." Burch went on to say: "Eighty-five percent of those families helped had one child under 10 years of age. Twenty-five percent had disabled persons, and fourteen percent of the families had an elderly person living in the home."

During this winter season, Kentucky Power Company will once again be participating in the statewide WinterCare Program. This campaign was created to provide assistance to utility customers having difficulty paying winter heating bills. Kentucky Power sends all customer donations directly to WinterCare, where it is distributed to the local Community Action offices. None of the customer's donations go toward administrative costs.

Applications for WinterCare assistance are taken by the local Community Action Agencies, which also make the determination of need. According to Jim Glenn, Northeast Kentucky Community Action director located in Olive Hill: "Only the truly needy families receive WinterCare assistance. Unfortunately, there isn't enough money to go around. Every year my staff has to say no to so many deserving applicants."

Robert E. Matthews, Kentucky Power president, said: "Those of us who have jobs know that even in hard times we can keep food on our tables and pay our utility bills, but many people in our service area are constantly faced with that choice and some can't do either." Matthews indicated that his company is making giving as convenient as possible by allowing its customers to add the amount of their gift to their electric bill payment. A receipt will be issued for all donations. He said that this program began with November billings.

Persons who think they might qualify for WinterCare assistance should contact the local Community Action office in their area.

Matthews continued: "Kentucky Power has specially trained employees to assist customers having problems paying their electric bill. The important thing is for our customers to contact us immediately if they are experiencing difficulty making payment."

Anyone having any questions regarding the WinterCare Program may call the nearest Kentucky Power office.

One year ago...

On Saturday, November 17, 1984, ground was broken for the new First Commonwealth Bank building on Arnold Avenue in Prestonsburg.

A large crowd of Floyd County residents and bank employees watched as local officials, the bank's Board of Directors and others involved in the construction of the bank building participated in the ground breaking ceremonies.

The next time you are near Arnold Avenue, just look at how much progress is being made on the construction of the new bank building. Compare the bank today with the photo conversion above and you can see just how much progress has taken place in a year's time.

First Commonwealth Bank anticipates moving into the new headquarters by mid-1986.

Paintsville Lake Marina Dedication Slated Friday

The Kentucky Department of Parks in the Tourism Cabinet last week announced that the dedication of the Rocky Knob Marina at the Paintsville Lake recreation facility will be held Nov. 22.

Ceremonies will begin at 1:30 p.m., with U.S. Representative Chris Perkins the featured speaker. Tourism Cabinet Secretary Wendell Combs and State Parks Commissioner June Hudson will also take part in the program. Many state and local officials from the area also are expected to be present for the official opening of this newest addition to the state parks system.

The Paintsville Lake facility was developed as a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers flood mitigation and recreation resource facility. The Kentucky Department of Parks has leased this facility from the Corps and will provide administrative and maintenance control of the area. The Rocky Knob Marina was developed under a private sector license agreement between the Department of Parks and the Rocky Knob Associates, Inc. as a concessionaire agreement.

Green River Lake, Muskie Haven?

By ART LANDER, JR.

In the last eight years or so, anglers have come to think of Cave Run Lake as the state's only impoundment that offers a high quality muskie fishery. But that situation might change soon. Green River Lake appears to be on the verge of producing numerous legal-size muskie.

Recent population samples taken by electrofishing show that large numbers of fish just below the 30-inch minimum size limit are present in the lake. Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources biologist Benjamin T. Kinman, who coordinates the Predator Fish Evaluation Study, characterized the muskie fishery at Green River Lake as "ready to explode."

In one day last month an electrofishing crew shocked up 96 muskies, 33 of which were captured. "Of those 33 boated, all were released and 28 were tagged so that we can make some growth comparisons and track their movement in the lake," Kinman explained, adding that "20 of the 28 muskie tagged were between 24 and 31 inches in length, with 13 of the fish close to or just over the legal size length."

In recent years the muskie fishery at Green River Lake has been growing steadily, boosted by continued stockings that date back to 1977, although biologists will admit that the six-inch muskie that were placed in the lake between 1977 and 1981 didn't fare too well. "We originally tried to establish both silver muskie and the hybrid 'tiger' muskie in the lake, but it didn't work. The problem was the fish we stocked were too small. They just didn't survive well. Starting in 1982 the muskie were raised up to 9-12 inches in brooder ponds at the hatchery before stocking, and we've had much better success since then," Kinman said.

In August of this year, 8,512 muskie were stocked in Green River Lake. That's a stocking rate of more than one fish per surface acre of water, the largest stocking class so far. By comparison, consider that in 1982, only 1,500 12-inch muskies were released in the lake. As for growth rates, Kinman said it takes just over three years for a nine-inch fish to reach minimum legal size.

The rationale behind stocking the lake has always been to restore the fishery that was destroyed when the river was impounded. Muskies are native to the Green River basin, and biologists developed the fishery in the lake to utilize available habitat (mainly standing timber) with a goal of establishing trophy individuals and realizing an annual harvest of one pound of muskie per acre, or 10% of the lake's total harvest.

Kinman said that Green River Lake meets all of the criteria for establishing a muskie fishery: 1) spawns of muskie occurred in the river drainage, 2) cool water habitat is present, 3) the lake has good headwater tributaries, and lastly, adequate cover (standing timber) is available. As for competition with other species, Kinman said "the lake has a tremendous forage base and we feel that the competition for food will not hurt the bass fishery. The size structure of the bass fishery has remained the same since the muskie stockings have accelerated." Kinman said at the present time that most of the muskies caught are being taken incidentally by bass anglers because there is an overlap in preferred habitat.

New Theories Explored

Einstein dreamed of finding a single equation that would account for every fundamental process in nature, from spinning atoms to wheeling galaxies. Today, in their exploration of subatomic particles—the smallest objects known—scientists are turning up clues to the origin and evolution of the entire universe, postulating theories that promise to realize Einstein's dream.

"The Creation of the Universe," to be aired on KET Wednesday, November 20, at 9:00 p.m., presents this exciting scientific story. Hosted and written by award-winning science journalist Timothy Ferris, the program identifies and explains some of the most challenging ideas and theories in contemporary science, including the new unified theories and a theory that the universe could have appeared spontaneously—out of a perfect vacuum.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Grover C. Conn

Born Nov. 13, 1940

You brought a smile to our faces,
By just being you.
You knew just how to cheer us up,
Whenever we were blue.
You brightened our days with your laughter,
And shared with us your love.
Your goodness and kind warm heart,
Will be blessed in Heaven above.
Even though you were taken from us,
Before we were ready to let you go.
We thank God for the time we had you,
And grew to love you so.
You were the sunshine of our lives,
The love we felt in our hearts,
And our loving happy memories of you,
Will never never part.

(Poem by Missy Burkett)

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Thomas Wyndell Hall, who departed this life Wednesday, Oct. 2, 1985, age 44 years 5 months and 17 days. It's only a grave that needs our care, And the one we love lies buried there. The call was sudden, the shock severe, We never thought such grief was near. The pain of parting, such a sad goodbye Shall remain with us until we die. We will not forget him, now that he is gone, His gentle ways and loving smile still linger on

He is gone but not forgotten,
Never will his memory fade;
Our loving hearts will ever linger
Around the grave where he is laid.

So sadly missed by his mother, sister and brothers—the family of Tommy Hall.

IN MEMORIAM

of Ervin Hamilton, who died Oct. 24, 1985.

God took way the foundation of the light and the man, but the light still shines and the memories still linger.

The light shines bright in all our minds, our hearts and dreams. The light that time will never dim, the man that we all will never forget.

From the family
(The following is a letter written to Mrs. Hamilton upon the death of Mr. Hamilton.)

Dear Mrs. Hamilton:
Please accept my condolences and sympathy in this time of grief for you and your family.

I was indeed saddened to hear of Ervin's death. However, I do feel that he lived several years longer than I thought was possible in view of his chronic debilitating illness.

I must say that he was one of the true gentlemen of our times. He always seemed to try extremely hard and had a tremendous will to overcome his severe illness. He seemed to enjoy everyone that he met and left a great impression upon them. I do hope that you and your family can adjust to this loss of such a loved one and I do pray the Lord's blessing upon you and your family.

With deepest sympathy,
RONALD D. HAMILTON, M.D.,
F.A.C.P.

Hospital Reorganizes To Contain Expenses

Internal reorganization will contain costs at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, according to the hospital's administrator, Sister Monica Justinger.

"Basically we have the same people," she explained, "but by consolidating our efforts and clarifying our responsibilities we've avoided hiring another person to compensate for the loss of our assistant administrator."

The shift removed some departments from Sister Monica's direct supervision but added public relations to it.

Sister Pat Saul, who was the hospital's outreach services director, has become associate administrator. She is now responsible for all fiscal services as well as outreach services.

Annette Vannucci assumed the position of controller and will continue to manage the hospital's business office. Responsibilities of the hospital's personnel director, Margaret Hoover, were further defined to include risk management and communications.

Susan Stewart continues her responsibilities as nursing director. The reorganization became effective November 4.

D.A.R. CHAPTER MEETS

John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 7 p.m. at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center, with the regent, Mrs. Ray Brackett, presiding. Mrs. Carl Horn, chaplain-protem, conducted the ritualistic service. Mrs. May S. Kendrick led the group in the salute to the American flag. The American's creed was presented by Mrs. Sally H. Goebel, and Mrs. Ray Collins read the President General's Message.

Mrs. Norma S. Stepp reported on recent D.A.R. events. Dues were collected by Mrs. J. Frank Preston, who also gave the financial report. Programs for the Service of Remembrance Ceremony for a deceased member, Mrs. Kitty Salisbury Sandige, were distributed by Mrs. Martha Jo Crisp. The chaplain, Mrs. Eleanor Horn, conducted the service by reading a Biblical passage and offering prayer. The eulogy was given by Mrs. J.G. Stepp, chapter secretary. The regent, Mrs. Ray Brackett, gave the Call to Remembrance. The program closed with all the D.A.R. members, led by the chaplain, reciting the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Following the memorial service, the regent presented Mrs. Sally H. Goebel a D.A.R. pin for her many years of service to the chapter.

Mrs. Brackett asked members to bring to the December meeting books and towels for veterans' hospitals.

She also reported that she had received notification from D.A.R. headquarters, in Washington, D.C., that this Chapter was being asked to send the book, "Annals of Floyd County," by Charles Wells for the national D.A.R. library.

It was announced that Mrs. Edith James will be in charge of the D.A.R. Christmas program.

The hostesses, Mesdames J. Frank Preston and Eleanor Horn, served refreshments to Mesdames Frances Brackett, Edith James, Norma S. Stepp, Mae S. Kendrick, Martha Jo Crisp, Margaret Collins, and Sally Goebel.

What is the U.S. summit trump? From Gorbachev's reaction, it must be Star Wars, which may be the chief instrument bringing our adversaries to the negotiating table. Perhaps, if for no other reason, Star War plans should continue, regardless of opposition anywhere.

Might some of the resistance to it here be initiated through propaganda that attacks everything we want? Russia only makes treaties advantageous to her, and has broken many. We have tolerated such for decades, keeping our part of bargains, while the U.S.S.R. subtly spread her tentacles over the world, largely by stirring up strife inside a nation, with disregard for human rights. Thousands of refugees who have fled the Iron Curtain to our haven of peace prove this. How many leave our "Lace Curtain" to go there? The Soviets now have a foothold in numerous lands and domination in others.

Come what may, the Communists will hardly relinquish their design to conquer the world. Its origin is attributed to Peter the Great, Star of the country early in the 18th century. While America was freeing her territories Russia has constantly increased her "catch," and blamed international problems on us, besides. Instead of heeding the advice of J. Edgar Hoover in his "Masters of Deceit," most of our leaders in the top echelons of government, have, until recently, trusted the enemy and disarmed unilaterally at an alarming rate. That may help explain the President's refusal to yield on Star Wars, or his pleas for increases in defense, even at the cost of losing votes for some who value social programs above national security and self-preservation.

After all, strength is the only language that impresses our antagonists. Valuable as high tech, a military arsenal, etc. are, America has another trump worth infinitely more, one that Russia lacks, something most of her citizenry scorn, something as free as air, that far surpasses all the nuclear power or high tech ever devised. It's prayer. The outcome of the Geneva Conference could be determined by the way we pull its bell-rope. Charles Spurgeon said, "He who wins with Heaven is the man who grasps the prayer bell-rope boldly and pulls continuously with all his might."

Enthusiasts say we are to pray without ceasing. That means maintain an attitude of prayer. Time and again battles have been won by prayer. More blessings are the result of kneeling than the world can conceive. Some ask why God commands us to pray since he can send blessings without help. He does it to show his love, to fellowship, hear our requests, guide us, help us mature, teach us to lean on him, show us that prayer influences behavior, hear us seek forgiveness, and make us eligible for the abundant life he offers. He has rules that govern his answers to prayer. These include believing (faith), keeping the line to Heaven open, by asking forgiveness daily, and by obedience to him, the acid criterion of all. When told to sacrifice Isaac, Abraham obeyed without question, and God rewarded him. God tests all of us. He often closes one door and opens another.

Our presidents and many of our best military geniuses were men of ardent prayer. One veteran said there are no atheists in fox holes. Stonewall Jackson of the Confederate Army in the Civil War prayed about the minutest details of life. God hears SOS prayers. How can one join his battalions? One can become a prayer "warrior" the same way he becomes a gifted musician, an Olympic champ, or Teacher of the Year, simply by hard work, for practice makes perfect. The disciples said, "Lord, teach us to pray." When asked what comes first in prayer Kagawa, outstanding Methodist layman of Japan, replied, "Surrender," which is another word for obedience. Is America obeying God today?

When one compares the time Christians spend on pleasure, TV-ing, etc. with that devoted to prayer, family altars, and worship is the current moral status in our great land any surprise? Why not make prayer our chief trump, along with faith in God?

Winter Alert: Dry Season Danger Season in Mines

It happens every year. Like death and taxes, it's a certainty in Kentucky's underground coal mines. That is the "dry season," according to state Mines and Minerals Commissioner Willard Stanley.

Stanley said that he encourages people in the coal industry to take every precaution necessary for the prevention of mine fires and explosions. "These accidents can result in great tragedies with far reaching effects," the Commissioner said. "History has proven that, and it can repeat itself if certain preventive measures are not taken."

Melvin H. Wilson, secretary of the Public Protection and Regulation Cabinet, which houses the Department of Mines and Minerals, reminds those in the coal industry that tragedies have occurred in past "dry seasons."

"If a grim reminder of the past can save a life in the future, then let me jog your memory about the tragedies of December, 1981 and January, 1982 when 15 men were killed on two separate occasions only 54 days apart by violent coal dust explosions, Wilson said. "These two accidents alone accounted for 22 percent and 18 percent of the total fatalities for 1981 and 1982, respectively."

Stanley added that there are three basic elements which must exist for an explosion to occur and cited a few of the ways to prevent it. These elements are: a gas (methane) and coal dust, oxygen and a source of ignition such as smoking articles; an electric arc or other types of open lights or flames.

"In order to avert an explosion, we must eliminate the source of fuel and the source of the ignition by keeping our mines well rock dusted to a minimum of 65 percent of incombustible material, which will make the mines less volatile," the Commissioner continued. "If methane is present, then this should be increased by 1 percent for each .1 percent of methane. Mining personnel must also remove and prevent all accumulations of coal dust, maintain equipment permissibility, keep up mine ventilation, enforce smoking article rules and regulations and refrain from the misuse of explosives."

Stanley and Wilson reiterated that caution and safe mining techniques are the key. "These are just a few of the preventive steps that should already be established work habits within the mining systems," noted Wilson. "Unfortunately these habits are not ingrained in all of us. Our state mine inspectors will be working closely to prevent these problems, as always."

For more information on the "dry season" in the mines, contact the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals in Lexington at (606) 257-8818 or one of the Department's district offices in Pikeville, Martin, Harlan, Hazard, London or Madisonville.

Winter Flood Tips

Flooding can occur as a result of winter storms in this area, and the federal government's National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) has offered some suggestions on steps that can be taken now to lessen the impact of flooding.

1. Purchase flood insurance. Homeowners' insurance policies do not cover losses due to flooding, but the coverage is available from the NFIP. There is normally a five-day waiting period before a policy become effective, so it does no good to purchase the coverage when the water is rising.

2. Make a list of all personal property, including furniture, clothing, and valuables. Take both interior and exterior photographs and keep the list and the photographs in a secure location such as a safety deposit box. The inventory list and photographs will be useful in filing an insurance claim.

3. Be prepared to take protective measures, such as sandbagging, if time and safety permit. The cost of such measures may be reimbursable under the flood insurance policy in certain flood situations.

NFIP is administered by the Federal Insurance Administration, part of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

In addition to these insurance-related preparatory steps, FEMA offers the following flood safety tips:

1. Learn the safest route from home and work places to high ground. Knowledge of these routes will provide an extra margin of safety if a hurried evacuation is necessary, especially at night.

2. Never attempt to drive through water over a road. The flooding may have eroded the road or washed out bridges or culverts.

3. Keep battery-powered radio, flashlight, and emergency cooking equipment in good working order in anticipation of all emergencies.

4. If caught in a building by suddenly rising waters, move to the second floor and, if necessary, to the roof. Then wait for help.

GRETHEL HOMEMAKERS NEWS

The Grethel Homemakers met November 4 at the Grethel Baptist Church Annex with president Arietta Hall presiding.

Mrs. Frances Pitts taught the lesson on gift wrapping basics and bow making. Shadow quilted Christmas place-mats were displayed and a king-size quilt made by Brenda Hall was admired by the gathering.

The Jenny Wiley Lodge Tree, Christmas Ornament workshop will be held tomorrow (Thursday). The next meeting, the annual Christmas nibble party, will be held December 2. Each homemaker should bring a Christmas food, the recipe, and a homemade Christmas gift to display.

TO LIVE AND DIE IN L.A. (R-MGM/UA) Starring William L. Peterson, William Baebe, John Pankow. ★ ★

By J.T. YURKO

In a William Friedkin police drama, the chase is the thing. Cars chase cars, cars chase subway trains, cars chase anything that moves.

In "To Live and Die in L.A.," Friedkin turns his lens on the underside of Los Angeles. A CIA agent and his partner are investigating a counterfeiting ring when the partner gets killed. And as Bogie told us in "The Maltese Falcon," when your partner gets killed you're supposed to do something about it.

The younger agent sets out to track down the killers. Nothing, however, is ever said about bringing them to justice. This agent, apparently, would rather do it his way.

Friedkin goes to even greater lengths in "To Live and Die in L.A." than he did in "The French Connection" to blur the differences between the good guys and the bad guys. Agents and villains alike are presented as bumbling, ineffectual kids playing sordid adult games. The agents cannot make a simple arrest in an airport without a 10-minute

VIDEO SCENE

'Sun City': First video worthy of a worthy cause

By Barton Weiss

Finally, there's a cast-of-thousands video that doesn't suffer from the line-the-stars-up-in-the-studio-and-film-'em syndrome. And what a video. "Sun City," from Artists United Against Apartheid (under the driving force of Steve Van Zandt), isn't just another video for a worthy cause. It's also a great music video.

The clip, under the direction of Kevin Godley, Lol Creme and Jonathan Demme, opens with a mock travelogue, then moves on to shots of the participating stars, who appear in small groups. The camera pans from one group to another, and this footage is interspersed with footage of political figures like Martin Luther King and Nelson Mandela.

When the stars mass together in New York City's Washington Square Park, shots of groups of stars are intercut with footage showing the protesting masses against apartheid, and a real sense of unity develops. The message — that in unity there is joy as well as strength — is most effective.

But the best part of the "Sun City" video is the seamless mix, both on camera and in the music, of black and white performers (who have too often been placed in separate musical categories and had their music played on completely different radio stations). Music can be a positive influence.

Something missing

ZZ Top's "Sleeping Bag" has been eagerly awaited, but the finished product is bound to disappoint all but the most die-hard fans. "Sleeping Bag" has all the characters from from the group's highly successful "Eliminator" videos, but none of the character.

High tech

Mick Jagger's "Hard Woman" inhabits a computer-animated world, where both Mick and the hard woman are color-outlined figures. Unfortunately, the moves of the animated Mick aren't nearly as sexy as the moves of the real one.

Low tech

John Cougar Mellencamp's "Small Town" consists of home movies and snap-shots of small-town America — and a few black-and-white performance shots of John. This clip isn't particularly profound, but it is at the forefront of the discover-America wave of video and music.

Train terrain

REM's "Driver 8" originally consisted of nothing but shots of trains. Then the record company complained that the band wasn't even in the clip, so a few shots of the band were added. And what's the band doing in the shots? Why watching films of trains, naturally.

COMET HALLEY

"Comet Halley" follows scientists and members of the International Halley Watch, history's largest coordinated astronomical effort, as they prepare for the 1986 return of Halley's Comet, airing TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26 on PBS.

Movie Nostalgia

By Denise Flaim

Peppered with melodrama and sustained by an international cast, Murray Burnett and Joan Alison's unpublished play "Everybody Comes to Rick's" was transformed into "Casablanca" in 1942. And, true to the original title, everybody did eventually become at least a temporary denizen of Rick's. Even Ingrid Bergman.

Despite its romanticized locale and a slew of memorable lines ("I remember every detail. The Germans wore gray. You wore blue."), "Casablanca" was fortune's child. The film's unintentional, albeit timely, release before the Casablanca Conference of Roosevelt and Churchill in January 1943 and the impromptu insertion of Dooley Wilson and "As Time Goes By" earned Rick and company a maelstrom of public regard.

In fact, "Casablanca" so endeared itself to American audiences that it garnered 1943 Academy Awards for Best Film, Best Director and Best Screenplay and was dubbed a classic by later generations. Yet the cast of "Casablanca" boasts only two Americans: Humphrey Bogart as Rick, the cynical saloonkeeper; and Wilson as Sam, the piano player.

Question: Another Hollywood couple almost usurped Bogart's and Miss Bergman's "Casablanca" roles. Who were they?

Answer: Ronald Reagan and Ann Sheridan
