

Board Alters Building List

For Schools; New Hearing Set April 17

A hearing set for last Friday on a Board of Education proposal to alter the Floyd school construction priorities was cancelled Thursday after board members decided to request a different change than the one they had earlier proposed.

A decision in February to move construction of a new grade school at Garrett to the top of the construction agenda drew protests from Prestonsburg-area parents whose planned middle school—next in line for construction, according to the existing agenda—was knocked from the building schedule altogether.

Under a plan put together by the board during an hour-long closed session Wednesday, the 700-student middle school would remain at the top of the list, and a 600-student grade school at Allen would still be listed as second in line. Construction of a school to replace those at Garrett and Wayland would move into third position, while a 12-classroom addition to Betsy Layne Elementary School would remain in fourth place.

The apparent loser under the new proposal would be the single school intended to replace Wheelwright and McDowell high schools, which would drop from third to fifth priority—low enough to prevent its being included among the next round of construction projects.

In justifying the board's proposal, Superintendent Ray Brackett said work on the four grade school projects could begin more or less simultaneously; the projects could all be funded with monies—now expected to be around $12 million, assuming Floyd taxpayers agree to a substantial increase in local taxes—recently voted by the state legislature; and the construction would benefit up to 38 percent of the county's 6834 grade school children.

By postponing construction of a high school on Left Beaver Creek, that project could be better planned—for one thing, the exact location of the proposed highway linking Left and Right Beaver Creeks would be known—and it could be first in line in the next round of construction, Brackett said.

The superintendent also said Left Beaver residents, especially those in the stream's upper reaches, need to be better consulted on their wishes for school construction in that section. Some upper

MCC Greenhouse Gives Workers Sense of Worth

Strawberries, flowers, ferns—practically any growing thing the home gardener could want—are bursting in bloom now at the MCC greenhouse on U.S. 23 near Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Though open year-round, supplying poinsettias for Christmas and mums for Mother's Day, the greenhouse is now entering its busiest season, according to one of its more vocal supporters, Chalmer Howard.

Howard is the Mental Retardation and Developmental Disability Director for Mountain Comprehensive Care's coverage area of Floyd, Johnson, Pike, Martin and Magoffin counties. The greenhouse is what is known as a sheltered workshop for MCC's mentally handicapped clients.

The clients do the lion's share of the work there, everything from planting the seeds, to watering, shelving and transplanting the buds. Howard calls the work "horticultural therapy," and insists it is one of the most effective ways of helping the mentally handicapped.

"You can only make so many pot-holders or ceramic ashtrays," he said, referring to a previous program which gave the clients such tasks to occupy their time. Counsellors determined a more challenging therapy would produce better results.

"If you're making an ashtray and you get tired of it, you can put it down and come back to it anytime and it'll still be there, but with plants you have to give constant attention and care," said Howard.

Furthermore, he said just working with plants has a calming, therapeutic effect. "Take most people who have gardens," he said. "I'll bet 70 percent of them don't do it because they need the

Teachers' Group Looks To Formal Bargaining Soon

This could be the year Floyd teachers bargain formally with the Board of Education for an employment contract, the chairman of a teachers' negotiating group said last week.

Noting that teachers in only 13 Kentucky school districts formally negotiate their contracts, Betsy Layne High School history teacher Eugene Blackburn told his colleagues at a meeting of the Floyd County Education Association Friday, "I'd like this district to be the 14th."

The idea of negotiated contracts got a boost earlier in Friday's four-hour session when Mary Ann Proctor, editor of the Kentucky Education Association News, outlined for Floyd teachers the kinds of problems that could be addressed by a contract.

Proctor said that, while salary and fringe benefits are often perceived to be uppermost in teachers' minds, the most important element in most employment contracts is the grievance procedure, which she described as "a rational method for solving problems."

Blackburn, who is chairman of an FCEA committee which has been negotiating informally with school administrators on working conditions, said he hoped the committee would submit a contract proposal before the end of the current school year. "I hope we will soon

Named by Chamber...

Is Citizen of the Year

Soon to be installed as chairman of the state Chamber of Commerce, Prestonsburg banker Burl Wells Spurlock was named Citizen of the Year by the Prestonsburg-Floyd County Chamber of Commerce at its annual banquet Thursday.

Spurlock, who is president of the First Commonwealth Bank here and chairman of the Highlands Regional Medical Center board, is a former president of the local Chamber and a current member of its board. Now vice-chairman of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, he is scheduled to be installed next month as the state organization's 1986 chairman.

Among his other service activities, Spurlock is secretary of the Prestonsburg Industrial Corporation; a member of the Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center advisory board and the boards of the Big Sandy Regional Airport, Mountain Housing Development Corporation, Leadership Kentucky, and the Industrial Revenue Bond Oversight Committee. He is a member of Kentuckians for Better Transportation, the Kentucky Bankers Association long-range planning committee, and the Southeastern Economic Task Force.

A member of the Prestonsburg High School class of 1957 and a 1964 graduate of the University of Kentucky law school, Spurlock served four terms on the Prestonsburg city council and completed Dr. George Archer's last term as mayor. He was formerly a member of the Prestonsburg Community College advisory board.

Worthy Causes Crowd Calendar

Friday was Arbor Day. This week is, among other things, Kids Safety Week and National Library Week. National Teachers Month is behind us, but April is Fair Housing Month.

Among the observances, a pin oak was planted at Jenny Wiley State Park. Kids are being fingerprinted and educated about safety at various shopping centers. The Department for Libraries and Archives has issued a tabloid history of bookmobiles. And the Governor has issued a renewed call for fair housing opportunities for all.

food. Working with plants makes them feel good."

Though it looks like smooth sailing now, Howard admits MCC's much publicized troubles, such as last year's state investigation of financial irregularities and low morale throughout the program, culminating in the resignation of then-director David Bell, Jr., have clouded the public's perception of the entire operation. He insists that things are back on an even keel now, and will continue to improve.

"A year ago we only had about 20 clients here," he said. "Now we're back to full strength at 43." Howard added that a recent $40,000 grant from the state Division of Mental Retardation had helped the greenhouse regain its footing.

The greenhouse has been in operation since 1973, under the direction of Dave Gillespie, whom Howard credits with doing "a tremendous job." It is one component of a system which seeks to aid mentally handicapped persons through-out their lives.

Mountain Comprehensive Care employs two early-intervention specialists, who deal with children up to five years of age. They hope to hire a third in July. The public school system takes over when the child is six and, after that curriculum is completed, a case manager steps in. Working with the general mentally handicapped population, the case manager connects them with programs, such as the greenhouse, which are deemed appropriate. Howard said these people "run interference" for their clients, "because a lot of parents are unaware of services available or how to acquire them."

MCC also treats people suffering from

UNION WORKERS continued to picket in front of the Appalachian Regional Hospital at McDowell this week as their current contract dispute remained locked in stalemate. Alan Whicker, president of Local 14636 of the United Steel Workers Union, said job security is the unionists' main concern. "(Management wants) to be able to reduce our hours any time they feel it's convenient to them and as many hours as they feel they need. There's no way a union could live under that," he said.

200 May Get Free Hookup On Mud Creek

As a result of state and federal grants, some low-income families on Mud Creek are eligible for assistance in getting city water connected to their homes and elderly residents in that section may be able to get their homes rehabilitated, a spokesman for the Big Sandy Area Development District announced this week.

In connection with the reconstruction of the Mud Creek water system, workers will install a water meter free of charge to families in the water district's service area who do not yet enjoy city water, said Rob Nicholas, ADD water specialist. In addition, the district will connect the home's plumbing to the water meter, he said.

Except for the grants which are funding the free service, tapping on to the water system would cost each household at least $250. The grant money does not cover the cost of water, however; once a family is hooked on to the system, the family will be responsible for its monthly water bill.

If a house does not have indoor plumbing, a freeze-proof spigot will be installed near the house, Nicholas said.

Apart from having to meet income guidelines, a family must also be located near enough to a water main to receive service; and, if the family rents, the owner will have to sign an easement allowing the water district to lay water lines on the property.

As many as 200 families may be eligible for the free tap-ons and priority will be given to the elderly, the handicapped, and the poorest families, Nicholas said.

Mud Creek homeowners who are at least 62 years old may qualify for a housing rehabilitation grant if their home lacks indoor plumbing or an approved sewage system. Under grants awarded by the federal Office of Community Services and the Kentucky Housing Corporation, funds are available to rehabilitate about 20 homes, Nicholas

Auxier Road Residents Sign Against Annexation

Auxier Road residents will apparently get a chance to vote on the proposed annexation of that section by Prestonsburg in the November general election.

The first step toward blocking annexation, presenting signatures of either 50 percent of residents or real property owners there, was accomplished Tuesday, when attorney Ralph Stevens gave petitions to Mayor Ann Latta.

Though he had until April 21 to file the petitions, Stevens said since he already had them, he felt it would be best to turn them in.

A question remains, however, if enough signatures were collected. Listed unofficially at 269, Stevens said he assumed annexation opponents "just got about everybody they could." He said the city would have to check the names against voter registration in the county clerk's office.

Latta conceded the city had a sizable task ahead in verifying the names, making sure all were eligible to sign and that enough signatures had been collected. But she said it would be done.

While the mayor said she still was confident a "silent majority" of Auxier Road residents wished to come into the city, Stevens wouldn't venture a guess on the sentiments of the people there. He said that to this point his only involvement has been to act as courier for the opposition. However, he said, there is a possibility of the group's using his legal services in the future, if Prestonsburg contests the petitions.

Latta said she was surprised neither by the number of signatures on the petition, or that they had been collected this quickly.

"I hope by the time it comes up for a vote a lot of those people change their minds, when they see the benefits of coming into the city," she said.

Latta added that the great majority of responses she has received from Auxier Road residents have been pro-annexation.

"There were concerns," she said,

"like the man who was concerned about his cattle. Once he found out he didn't have to get rid of his cattle, he didn't have any problems with it." Latta asked the city planning and zoning commission at their Monday meeting to check into making sure the annexed area would not be obliged to comply with city ordinances regarding the keeping of livestock.

One name on the petitions which did draw surprise from Latta was that of city councilman Frank Adams. Adams, who operates Adams Auto Parts on the Auxier Road, had earlier voted for the resolution to annex that section.

When asked his position, Adams said he was "100 percent opposed" to the annexation. He listed as reasons what he saw as a duplication of services, an increase of regulations on his business, and the law which is weighted heavily in the favor of cities in annexation proceedings. A majority of 75 percent of registered Auxier Road voters would be needed to stop annexation.

Adams, who said most people along Auxier Road oppose annexation, added

Brackett Backs Teachers; Hager Given Increase

The new school administration's professed concern for teachers surfaced in two issues that came before the Floyd Board of Education last Wednesday.

In the course of discussion about the adoption of textbooks to be used over the next six years, a suggestion that texts recommended by a committee of teachers be bypassed in favor of a cheaper, second choice was rejected on the recommendation of Superintendent Ray Brackett, who said that not to go with the teachers' top choice would be to slight their professional opinion.

A letter normally sent at this time of the year to all non-tenured teachers, advising them that they might not be rehired for the coming year, will be sent this year only to first-year teachers, Brackett explaining that it harms the morale of teachers—the vast majority of whom will keep their jobs in the system next year—to receive the notices.

Textbooks offered by 10 publishing firms in the areas of reading, literature, art, foreign languages, and health were examined by a committee of teachers, who recommended texts in each subject. The books are for use from 1986 through 1992. Total cost of the teachers' top choices was put at $390,128, their second choices at $298,444, prompting Board Chairman Dr. J.D. Adams to note that $91,684 could be saved by going with the cheaper line. "We're talking about two or three buses," the chairman pointed out.

But Brackett said, "These books have been selected by some of our most experienced teachers. They have used their professional judgment. If we go against their judgment, we might as well abolish the committee." On his recommendation, the teachers' top choices were adopted.

CONGRESSMAN CHRIS PERKINS and Senator Wendell Ford joined Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta and other officials at the May Lodge last Thursday to discuss strategies for dealing with proposed federal revenue sharing cuts.

CONTRACTS, BENEFITS, and working conditions were on the minds of these Floyd county teachers, who gathered at May Lodge Friday for the annual meeting of the Floyd County Education Association.

Kentucky Fishing Report

Frankfort, Ky., April 7—Unseasonably warm, dry weather has cleared up the muddy water conditions that hampered fishermen earlier in the season although the lack of rain now looms as a threat to normal springtime fishing patterns. During the past week water surface temperatures climbed into the 60's at most lakes. Fishing has greatly improved and almost summerlike conditions have lured thousands of anglers onto the states' lakes. The spring crappie run is in full bloom at Kentucky Lake, and good catches of white bass, muskie, and largemouth bass were reported during the April 5-6 period covered by this report. The lake-by-lake rundown is as follows:

KENTUCKY: Murky to clear, rising slowly, 4 feet below summer pool, 64 degrees.

BARKLEY: Clear, rising slowly, 3 1/2 feet below summer pool, 67 degrees.

BARREN: Clear, rising slowly, 12 feet below summer pool, 60 degrees.

NOLIN: Clear, rising, 5 feet below summer pool, 65 degrees.

ROUGH RIVER: Clear to murky, stable, 10 feet below summer pool, 62 degrees.

TAYLORSVILLE: Clear to murky, stable, 2 feet below summer pool, 62 degrees.

HERRINGTON: Clear, stable, 9 feet below summer pool, 62 degrees.

GREEN RIVER: Clear, rising slowly, 5 feet below summer pool, 60 degrees.

CUMBERLAND: Clear, stable, 7 feet below summer pool, 58 degrees.

DALE HOLLOW: Clear, stable, 4 feet below summer pool, 58 degrees.

EAST: At Cave Run Lake, bass were being taken by flipping jig and rind combinations and casting spinnerbaits on a slow retrieve.

At Paintsville Lake, crappie were being caught on minnows over brush and stickups in 4-6 feet of water, bluegill on worms around shoreline brush and catfish on worms at heads of coves.

At Laurel River Lake, rainbows were being taken by trolling crankbaits, and bass were hitting jigs fished over rocky points in the upper lake.

At Buckhorn Lake, crappie and white bass were being taken in the tailwaters by casting jigs and still fishing with minnows.

At Grayson Lake, bass were being caught on crankbaits and spinnerbaits during the day, and by jig fishing globs of nightcrawlers at night.

At Dewey Lake, crappie were being taken on minnows fished over stickups and deadfalls in inlet headwaters in 2-4 feet of water, bass on crankbaits and spinnerbaits over points and brush in shallow coves.

At Fishtrap Lake, crappie were being taken on minnows and jigs over brush in 8-12 feet of water and bass on crankbaits, spinnerbaits and jigs on points in 4-8 feet of water.

LAUREL: Clear, stable, 1 foot above summer pool, 62 degrees.

CAVE RUN: Clear to murky, rising slowly, 4 feet below summer pool, 59 degrees.

PAINTSVILLE: Clear, stable, 5 feet below summer pool, 65 degrees.

BUCKHORN: Clear to murky, rising slowly, 20 feet below summer pool, 65 degrees.

GRAYSON: Clear to murky, stable 8 feet below summer pool, 60 degrees.

DEWEY: Clear to murky, rising slowly, 4 feet below summer pool, 64 degrees.

FISHTRAP: Clear to murky, rising slowly, 26 feet below summer pool, 65 degrees.

Bassin' With The Pros...

Spring Motor Care Tips

By TREY FOERSTER

Getting where the fish are means having a reliable motor to take you there and back. You've made a substantial investment in an outboard motor. It makes good sense to protect it with a preventive maintenance program. Here, from the service experts at Outboard Marine Corporation, manufacturer of Johnson and Evinrude outboards, are some important steps to follow in getting your motor ready for the 1986 bassin' season.

"Check the lubricant level in the lower unit. Make sure it's filled to the proper level as specified in the owner's manual. If it's been leaking, the lower seals and gaskets may need replacing. If you didn't drain the geargrease and refill it with the manufacturer's recommended solution when you put it up for winter, do so now.

"Check the spark plugs. Make sure the plugs are gapped to specifications. Check the plug terminal connections and wiring and make sure they are clean, unfrayed and snug-fitting.

"Check the boat's battery. According to David Wharton, member of the Johnson Outboards pro staff, many fishermen don't take care of their batteries.

"They should always be charged up fully after a fishing trip," Wharton suggests. "If your boat is going to sit there for a week, two weeks, three weeks, you should always charge your batteries up and keep them fully charged while they're sitting. A fully charged battery will always keep a lot better."

Be sure to clean the terminal posts and connectors of any corrosion.

"Check the fuel tank. Make sure that the fuel system clamps and fittings are tight and not leaking. Make sure the fuel lines are not cracked from age or wear, and replace them if necessary.

"In the South, very few people winterize their boat like they do in the North," notes David Wharton. "Lots of boaters in the southern states put their boats up in a stall and let them sit there from November until January. If they're doing this, they should at least fill their fuel tanks totally full. Putting a boat up with an empty tank or partially filled tank is an invitation for condensation to form in the tank as it warms up, gets cold and warms up again. When February rolls around and fishing season starts, they're going to have lots of trouble with water in their gas!"

If you didn't add fuel conditioner before storage, you'd better clean the fuel pump filter before adding fresh fuel. Most outboard fuel filters are designed for easy cleaning, but be sure to check your owner's manual before you do-it-yourself. Add a good fuel conditioner, like OMC's 2+4 Fuel Conditioner, before filling the tank to help absorb any moisture that may have accumulated during storage.

OMC's 2+4 Conditioner also can be used during the regular fishing season to keep the carburetor clean, to reduce moisture in the fuel system and to minimize plug fouling. Make sure the fuel conditioner you choose is for marine use. Some automotive additives and conditioners can damage your outboard.

"Check the propeller. Check the prop for dings, dents and bends that can cut performance. If it's too far gone for minor home repair take it to a prop shop or be ready to invest in a new one. Stainless steel props offer much greater durability than aluminum propellers.

"Check the paint job of the motor. Your motor is in a lot of water. It stands to reason that any paint chips or flaking ought to be repaired to prevent corrosion. Most manufacturers offer factory-matched colors in easy-to-use spray cans. Take care not to paint over the water intake screen or the sacrificial zinc anodes.

Most professional and amateur bass tournaments require all entrants to wear an approved personal flotation device whenever the outboard motor is running. It's a good idea to wear a PFD whenever you're on the water, and now Johnson and Evinrude dealers have made that a little easier with a new PFD designed just for bass fishermen. The arm holes are generously cut for ease of movement, and the side laces are adjustable to help keep you cool in any weather. The vests are available in Johnson and Evinrude colors to match your favorite brand.

Have any questions you'd like a bass pro to answer? Jot it down and mail it to "Bassin' with the Pros" at this newspaper. Answers to your questions will appear in a future column.

Down but Not Out...

Revenue Sharing Gets Short Term Reprieve

"What would you be willing to trade to keep revenue sharing?" was the question posed by U.S. Senator Wendell Ford to a group of city and county officials from the Big Sandy Area Development District, last Thursday at May Lodge.

The group was there at the request of the ADD's task force on revenue sharing, which is seeking ways to cope in the face of the almost certain cuts.

Though no one had an answer to Ford's question, all had similar worries stemming from the cuts, and none were embarrassed to ask Ford and Congressman Chris Perkins, also on hand, to do everything in their power to extend the revenue sharing program.

Salyersville Mayor Calvin Prater said that, though his town only receives $40,000 yearly in revenue sharing, if those funds are cut "I lose police and fire protection. I can't even keep the streets clean." Prater added that "if President Reagan came down, I'd show him where I use that money."

Pike county Judge-Executive Paul Patton said losing revenue sharing would mean cutting out things such as his county's senior citizen program, animal shelter and recreational programs. "We're not dealing with luxury services, we're dealing with the most basic services a government is supposed to provide," he said.

Big Sandy ADD Executive Director Roger Recktenwald said removing any component of a budget would have a "ripple effect" throughout a unit of government. More importantly, he said, municipalities in eastern Kentucky are just now beginning to "pull themselves up." The revenue sharing cuts threaten that progress, he said.

"Ten years ago, Judge Patton wouldn't have been able to talk about a recreation program in his county. It's the same in Martin county where they have parks now. We're talking about quality of life. That's what makes it nice to live somewhere," Recktenwald said.

Most of the officials agreed they had spread the revenue sharing money around various programs, making it all the more difficult to decide where to tighten belts.

Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta, serving as chairman of the ADD task force, said Prestonsburg uses a sizable portion of its revenue sharing funds to make payments on a fire truck.

Both Ford and Perkins said they were in favor of keeping alive the program, begun during Richard Nixon's presidency, though neither held out much hope past the short-term.

Perkins said that "Six months ago, it looked like revenue sharing was a dead issue, but now there are a lot of congressmen on both sides of the aisle for it." He said odds favored an extension of six months, maybe a year. "After that, it doesn't look good."

This comes as welcome relief to city and county governments faced now with a Reagan proposal to rescind this year's fourth quarter payments, which would result in a loss of about $2.5 million in the five-county area.

The hope of an extension may be traced in part to the lobbying efforts of local officials. Floyd county Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo did his part by presenting a resolution signed by himself and the judges-executive from Pike, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties, saying that the Big Sandy ADD fully supports the reauthorization of revenue sharing, and further urging both the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives to vote for such reauthorization.

When the Mountain Laurel blooms in the Cumberlands, representatives of Kentucky's college will gather to compete for the title of Mountain Laurel Festival Queen.

Kimberly Johnson, daughter of Jo C. Johnson, of Ivel, will be a queen candidate at the 1986 Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival at Pineville.

Miss Johnson, a sophomore at Alice Lloyd College, is majoring in pharmacy. Her activities and hobbies include dancing, playing the flute, and sewing. She will be escorted by Coy Samons during the festival.

The one chosen queen will reign over a pageant of grand balls, concerts, a gala parade, and a variety of exhibits. The natural amphitheater in Pine Mountain State Resort Park provides the setting for the her coronation.

Merritt retired from Newport News Shipbuilding after 32 years of service.

Estimated Tax Due Soon

The first installment of 1986 estimated federal income tax payments by individuals should be made by April 15, 1986, the Internal Revenue Service said. This does not apply to farmers who expect to receive at least two thirds of their 1986 gross income from farming.

Generally, taxpayers who will owe additional tax of $500 or more in 1986, and the total amount of income tax that will be withheld from 1986 income will be less than 80% of the tax shown on the 1986 tax return, must file and pay estimated federal income tax. Estimated tax is filed on Form 1040-ES.

Some individuals who receive Social Security payments or Tier 1 railroad retirement benefits, and have substantial amounts of other income may find that they have to pay tax on a portion of their Social Security benefits. These individuals may also need to file and pay estimated tax as a result of taxation of their Social Security benefits.

The Form 1040-ES package, containing instructions, an estimated tax worksheet and four payment-vouchers, will be sent to those taxpayers who filed estimated tax last year. Taxpayers who did not file estimated taxes in 1985 must obtain Form 1040-ES from the IRS.

The IRS has a free Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax", which provides information about paying estimated tax as well as information on the new law requiring tax on some Social Security and Tier 1 railroad retirement benefits.

Taxpayers may order Form 1040-ES and Publication 505 by writing the IRS Forms Distribution Center, P.O. Box 6900, Florence, Ky. 41042. The handy order blank in the federal tax package may be used to order these documents.

Gov. Pleased With Firefighting Effort

Following an aerial tour of forest fires in eastern Kentucky, Gov. Martha Layne Collins today said she was confident the Commonwealth is doing everything possible to control the spread of fires in the region.

"We now have more than 900 firefighters from the state Division of Forestry and six National Guard helicopter crews battling fires in the eastern part of the state," Gov. Collins said, "and they're doing a tremendous job with little rest."

She met with firefighters at their base camp in Pineville and then observed their efforts from a helicopter.

Her aerial tour came one day after the governor, citing dry and windy conditions which increase the chance for further fires, issued a ban on travel through forests in 40 counties in eastern Kentucky. She also placed an additional 175 Army National Guardsmen on alert for possible fire-fighting duty.

A ban on open burning was already in effect for the region.

The governor noted that 100 new fires were being reported each day. "As governor, I am requesting that all Kentuckians do what they can to prevent any further outbreaks," she said. "These fires are a tremendous economic loss," she said, "and they scar our countryside as well."

The governor was accompanied on the aerial tour by Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Secretary Charlotte Baldwin and Adjutant General Billy Wellman. "We ask for the public's cooperation in restricting nonessential travel," Wellman said. "If everyone is especially careful in the coming days, we'll bring these fires under control and prevent their spread."

Say Emotional Ills May Run In Families

Researchers at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences have added more evidence to the theory that some emotional disorders may run in families.

The researchers came to that conclusion in a pilot study published in the December, 1985, issue of the American Journal of Psychiatry. The study found that more than 70 percent of the parents, siblings, aunts or uncles of depressed or anxious children suffered from depression or alcoholism themselves.

Richard Livingston, M.D., assistant professor of psychiatry at the university, and his colleagues studied families of 12 children suffering from anxiety disorders and 11 children suffering from depression. All children had been hospitalized between July 1, 1983, and July 1, 1984.

A social worker and a psychiatrist obtained information from about 69 relatives of the youngsters diagnosed as suffering from anxiety disorders and 58 relatives of those suffering from depression. The information was reviewed by two other psychiatrists who determined whether mental illness affected the families. They found a total of 92 diagnoses among 127 relatives; nearly 70 percent of the relatives received a diagnosis.

"Affective illness and alcoholism were extremely common in both groups," the researchers write. "These children with overanxious disorder, separation anxiety disorder and major depressive episode have family history in which affective illness and alcoholism are very common and in which other disorders are less frequent. This suggests the possibility of a familial association of these disorders."

stream residents, he said, are known to have misgivings about busing their children—or having them drive—over the tortuous road leading toward McDowell. "We've never really gotten a pulse on the feeling of the Wheelwright community," he said.

Because the new proposal differs substantially from that proposed in February, an attorney for the state Department of Education advised Floyd officials that the hearing scheduled for Friday should be cancelled and another advertised. The new hearing is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. on Thursday, April 17, in the Prestonsburg Elementary School auditorium.

drug and alcohol dependencies and emotional problems.

The greenhouse, which is chiefly self-supporting through revenue from plant sales, pays each of the clients an hourly wage based upon their productivity. If someone is capable of producing one-half as much as a non-handicapped person, they are accordingly paid one-half of the minimum wage. Paychecks come twice monthly, and clients also receive five paid vacation days per year, as well as all legal holidays. Such an atmosphere helps produce feelings of normalcy, said Howard.

"They don't think of themselves as clients," he said. "They think of themselves as greenhouse workers."

One problem the greenhouse has had in the past has been resolved. The 4 p.m. closing time has been extended till 7 p.m. through June. Also, Saturdays, the facility will be open from 8 a.m. till 4 p.m., to better accommodate those people whose work schedule made visits difficult.

For more information, call the greenhouse at 886-6815.

said. Preference will be given to the most needy, he added.

For both the tap-on and rehab programs, the annual income limits are as follows: $6850 for a single-person household; $7850 for a two-person family; $8800 for a three-person family; $9800 for four persons; $10,600 for five persons; $11,350 for six persons; $12,150 for seven persons; and $12,950 for eight.

People wishing to apply for assistance under the programs should come in person to the Mud Creek Clinic at Grethel between 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., Monday through Saturday, from next Monday, April 14, through Saturday, April 26. They will be asked to show their income—a copy of an income tax form, government check or payroll check will help.

Anyone wanting more information may call Margie Bryant at the Big Sandy ADD, 886-2374. If long distance, call collect.

Dr. Halbert Retains Membership In AAFP

Dr. Allan D. Halbert, of Martin, has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The Academy was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education. Because of their broad training, family physicians have the "know how" to treat approximately 90 percent of all human illnesses.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of continuing education. Besides maintaining continuing education standards for its members, the Academy strives to increase the number of family physicians available to serve the public in the future.

Its continuing education program also provides a major basis of eligibility for Academy members seeking recertification in the specialty of family practice.

Ten Years Ago

(April 7, 1976)

At least two sources this week challenged the accuracy of the "lead" paragraph in Kyle Vance's Courier-Journal story last week which read: "Floyd county's only two public garbage dumps are open, smoldering, stinking and infested with rats"... Chief of Police Ralph Thornsbury said Tuesday that use of radar equipment, which began last week-end, has resulted in citations to less than a dozen drivers, but that it had already had an appreciable effect on speeding. The Floyd County Board of Education at its meeting last Saturday authorized Supt. Charles Clark to advertise that the board will pay a $2,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of making bomb threats. Mr. and Mrs. Miley Prater, of David, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary, Sunday, March 21. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Dickie) Hall, a son, Richard Ashley, February 28 at Pikeville Methodist Hospital. There died: James Risner, 56, of David, Thursday, March 25, at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Dick Branham, 83, of the Water Gap section of Bull Creek, April 4 at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Andy Hall, 87, at his home at Topmost, Monday; Mrs. Sarah Alice Lafferty, 77, of Water Gap, March 30 at St. Joseph Hospital, Lexington.

Twenty Years Ago

(April 7, 1966)

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced plans this week to provide a new postoffice at West Prestonsburg. Jack Leslie Marson, who was captured by FBI, county and state officers at Lancer recently, was identified Monday by a Maryland bank manager as the man who helped up his bank March 4 and robbed it of $18,423. Willie Conn, 41-year-old miner, was instantly killed Saturday when he was caught beneath a slatefall in an abandoned mine near his home at Martin. Bootlegging, its effects and the means of combatting it were stressed Monday morning by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley in his instructions to the newly empanelled grand jury. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Randall Lee Hager, a son Randall Lee, II, March 31 at the Appalachian Regional Hospital, Pikeville. Married: Miss Patricia A. Greene, of East Point, and Richard K. Sampson, of Columbia, Mo., February 26 at the First Methodist Church, here; Miss Flora Catherine Thacker, of Orlando, Fla., and Earsel Goble, of Dwale, last Friday in Clintwood, Va.; Miss Judith Ann Titus, of Oakes, North Dakota, and Julian Emerson Stephens, of Wichita Falls, Texas, formerly of Prestonsburg. There died: Herbert G. Salisbury, Sr., 67, of Prestonsburg, Wednesday at Mary Chiles Hospital, Mt. Sterling; David Chaffins, 59, of Wayland, Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital, Huntington; George Washington Lyons, 75, of Lowmansville, Saturday at the Pikeville Appalachian Regional Hospital; Camel Boyd, 87, Sunday at his home at Dana; Bennie Parsons, 44, formerly of Floyd county, April 2 in an auto accident near Bellevue, O.; Robert Andrew Davis, 92, of Price, last Wednesday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital; Miss Lydia Napier, 62, of Knotley Hollow, March 26 at the Prestonsburg General Hospital.

Thirty Years Ago

(April 5, 1956)

All of U.S. 23 from Prestonsburg to Pikeville was advertised this week for blacktop surfacing. Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill and Sheriff Gorman Collins have jointly announced plans to pin down on pin-ball machines in this county. The Stumbo Memorial Hospital near Lackey will close its doors April 15, it was announced. Jarvis Allen, Prestonsburg attorney and former Floyd County Clerk, this week was named Floyd county campaign chairman for U. S. Senator Earle C. Clements. John G. Heinze was named president of the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Jaycees' recent election of officers. He succeeds Russell May. Two of Kentucky's all-time athletic greats—Wayland's net genius, "King Kelly" Coleman and Prestonsburg's all-around athlete, Lowell Hughes—have been named to the Courier-Journal's 1956 all-state basketball team. The eighth fire to break out in Prestonsburg and vicinity within the last six weeks caused slight damage Saturday night in Court street buildings occupied by Young's Shoe Shop, Napier's Barber Shop and Castle's Jewelry. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Day, a son, Carl, II, March 31 at the Prestonsburg General Hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Osborn, a daughter, Janet Leigh, March 17 at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin. There died: Mrs. Marie Minks Archer, 41, of Prestonsburg, Wednesday at the Prestonsburg General Hospital; Wiley M. Whitaker, 55, formerly of Floyd county, March 25 at his home at Silver Lake, Indiana; Mrs. Angie Alley Rorrer, 71, of Lancer, Saturday at the Prestonsburg General Hospital; Mrs. Polly Martin, 77, last Saturday at her home at Craynor; John C. Babb, 77, of Martin, Monday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital; Dave Hubbard, 68, of Knotley Hollow, last Wednesday, at his home.

Forty Years Ago

(April 4, 1946)

A deal said to involve an outlay of more than $1 million by which the Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, will acquire 10,700 acres of coal land and 577 acres of surface of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation was approved Tuesday by Circuit Judge Fields at Whitesburg. Mrs. Sylvia Helen Parsons, 21, of Betsy Layne, was shot and killed, and her husband Homer Parsons, 42, seriously wounded, Tuesday night at the Parsons's Service Station near Betsy Layne. The number of licensed whiskey dealers in Floyd county jumped Friday to 36 as the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board at Frankfort issued licenses to six new dealers, causing County Judge Alex L. Davidson to express his concern over the excessive number of whiskey dealers in this county, and to point out that he had not approved any of the new licenses. Installation of parking meters in Prestonsburg was seen this week as a possibility within the next few months after the City Council Monday night had discussed their purchase. O. B. Hinton, Pikeville attorney, and four associates have purchased from the Consolidation Coal Company, the entire community of Van Lear for approximately $300,000. Everett Robinson, 34, was killed Friday when the trolley pole of his motor caught his neck on a curve inside the Stephens Elkhorn Coal Company mine at Manton. Married: Miss Bernice Boyd and Mr. Lloyd Miller, both of Prestonsburg, March 27; Miss Phyllis Alexander, Of Elyria, O., and Lt. Alvin Reed, of Drift, March 9, at Elyria. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Tackett, of Allen, a son, Edward Gene, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, April 1; to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frazier, of Allen, a daughter, Betty Ann, at home, Sunday. There died: W. H. (Bill Buck) Howard, of Fabens, Texas, formerly of Prestonsburg, Friday at home; Mrs. Amanda Combs Hicks, 71, at home at Garrett. Sunday: Preston Woods, 79, at home on Cow Creek, last Wednesday.

Fifty Years Ago

(April 3, 1936)

Guyless Allen, 52, of Middle Creek, was shot and fatally wounded Friday, following a dispute over a small strip of land. Akro Castle, 39 years old, of Middle Creek, was instantly killed Friday night when caught beneath a slatefall in the Wells-Elkhorn Coal Company's mine No. 6 at West Garrett. Funds for reforestation and the prevention of soil erosion are available as a result of a provision in the substitute bill for the AAA. Congressman A. J. May announced this week. Roy Davis, 23, of Jenny's Creek, Johnson county, was instantly killed Saturday night when the auto in which he was a passenger collided with a Sandy Valley Grocery Company truck on the Mayo Trail approximately five miles from here. Will Rogers, Wheelwright miner, is in the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville, in critical condition as the result of a knife wound sustained Saturday afternoon. Work was begun Wednesday by Henderson Neely, contractor toward the construction of a bus station on the Mayo Trail, near the courthouse, for Sparks Brothers Bus Company D. F. Morgan, of Wheelwright, was instantly killed Thursday morning by a slatefall in the mines of the Inland Steel Company at Wheelwright. There died: John Slope, 13, of Wayland, at the Paintsville General Hospital. Friday: Ex-Magistrate J. J. Reffitt, 53, Saturday night at his home on Middle Creek; William W. Cecil, 92 years old, Thursday at the home of his son at Tram; Juanita Turner, 12, of Rock Fork, near Garrett, Tuesday.

Bits and Pieces

WE REMEMBER, WE REMEMBER

The smell of printer's ink, the rumbling of the old flatbed press, and later what then seemed to us the fastest of printing processes, the Goss Comet, are now just memories from the past—and a pretty good indication of being in the newspaper business a good while. Gone, too, are old friends and co-workers, H.L. "Printer" Goble, my dad, Norman Allen, and now, Neal Allen.

When the thunder rolls, I like to think perhaps the three are up there plying their trade, spreading the good news from one end of heaven to the other.

A GARDENER'S FANTASY

This is the first year since moving out of an apartment about 30 years ago that I haven't ordered too many plants from too many nurseries scattered about the country. And my fancy turns to the exotic when looking at summer's bounty from a February vantage point. Among the petunias and marigolds, I can see a Peruvian lily, or, my most recurring fantasy, a southern gardenia scenting the summer air.

For five years now I've planted one each spring only to see it suffer a wintry death. But I'm still convinced that it can be done.

In my case, the sweet smell of success will be gardenia scented.

A FREUDIAN SLIP?

A recent headline we ran gave at least one reader a good laugh. And best of all, he or she has given us one, too.

The story from the Reader's Digest on myths that threaten marriages was headed "Martial Myths That Can Sabotage Wedded Bliss."

The note we received said: "Even though some marriages may resemble wars in certain respects, I'm sure that was not the message you intended to convey. Sincerely, F. Teel"

Lost Days Miff Parent, Prompt Board Petition

Because of days out of session, his six-year-old kindergartener will have been in school only one day a week for the past four weeks, an exasperated parent told members of the Floyd Board of Education last Wednesday.

The Rev. Tim Jessen referred to days off on the last three Fridays and the two days—Thursday and Friday—that school will be out this week. For kindergartener students, who meet only two or three days a week in any case, the interruptions are especially unfortunate, he said.

Moreover, the erratic close of the school year makes summer planning difficult for families, said Jessen, who asked if the school year could not have a uniform and predictable closing date.

Noting that the state legislature had recently rejected a proposal to further specify opening and closing dates for the schools, Superintendent Ray Brackett said later that "it would be okay if you could control all the elements." Failing that, early starts and late endings are the only way Floyd schools can meet the statutory requirement of 175 days of instruction, he said.

The scope of the problem was illustrated by a board decision Wednesday to petition the state Department of Education to "forgive" 14 Floyd schools for days missed this year, in order to allow all schools to close on the same date. As it is, closing date ranges from June 10 in some schools to as late as June 24 at Garrett.

Schools that have missed days for reasons other than bad weather include Garrett Elementary, shut down for nine days in August on account of structural damage; Allen Central High School, down five days for lack of water; Maytown Elementary, closed four days for lack of water; Prestonsburg and Betsy Layne High schools and Allen, Auxier, Bonanza, Clark, Betsy Layne, Harold and Prater grade schools, closed two days on account of contaminated water; Wheelwright High School, closed two days for lack of water; and Wayland Elementary, down one day for the same reason.

The days missed will have to be made up unless they are forgiven. The 18 snow days missed by all schools this year will necessarily be made up, since "calamity days" are considered only after at least 20 days have been missed on account of bad weather.

In regard to days missed in recent weeks, Brackett said that three of them were set aside by statute for meetings of teachers' professional associations—last Friday for the Floyd County Education Association and Thursday and Friday of this week for the Kentucky Education Association—and that the other two days coincided with the boys' and girls' state basketball tournament. (An FCEA spokesman said later that, while the KEA days are inserted in the calendar by statute, that is not true of local associations, most of which meet on evenings or weekends).

In another citizen complaint to the Board of Education this week, Peggy L. Tackett said her eight-year-old daughter and several other children at McDowell grade school had been approached and grabbed by a man while they were on their way to board the afternoon school bus. She asked that a security guard be hired for the children's protection.

The first national black labor organization, the Colored National Labor Union, was created in 1869, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Roberts Faces Felony Counts In Pike Court

Former Floyd magistrate Kenneth Roberts went on trial in Pike Circuit Court yesterday (Tuesday), the prosecutor charging he used county employees and materials to do work on his own home and other personal projects, used a county credit card to help finance a hunting trip, and was in possession of a check on which the original payee's signature was forged.

According to the eight felony charges outlined by Assistant Attorney-General Barbara Whaley, Roberts used a county work crew between 1977 and 1979 to dig the footer on a house he was having built for himself on Stonecreek Creek and to remodel a former hardware store and a barn he owned in Hueysville.

In 1982, the former magistrate, who lost a bid for re-election last May, obtained and endorsed with his own name a county check made out to Max Horn on which Horn's signature was forged, the prosecutor alleged. In the same year, he used a county credit card to run up about $500 in restaurant and gasoline bills while on a hunting trip to Wyoming, she said.

In cross-examining prosecution witnesses who testified yesterday, including state Det. James Henderson and former county road worker Chester Neeley, of Hueysville, Roberts' attorney, Phillip Damron, suggested that Neeley was cooperating with state police in order to win leniency for his son, Cisco, an inmate in the state reformatory, and that he was not in fact an employee of the county but of a federal program at the time he was said to have done private work for Roberts.

Damron also noted that Neeley last fall repudiated a statement he gave several years ago to state police investigators, claiming he had been coerced into making the earlier statement, which implicated Roberts.

Henderson and Neeley both denied that Neeley's testimony against Roberts had been solicited in exchange for parole for Cisco Neeley. "I do not have that authority and I would not exercise it if I had it," the state detective said. But Henderson admitted that, long after he had taken the elder Neeley's statement, he had persuaded a state trooper not to press certain misdemeanor charges still pending against Neeley's son. The charges were subsequently dropped.

The reason, Henderson said, was that dismissal of the misdemeanors would permit Cisco Neeley to be transferred to a prison farm. The senior Neeley had expressed fears for his son's safety if, as a result of the father's testimony, Roberts ended up with Cisco Neeley in the state reformatory near LaGrange, the detective explained.

Chester Neeley conceded that he had signed an affidavit last fall detailing problems members of his family had had with state police and alleging that an earlier statement he had given to state investigators had been coerced by threats and promises relating to his jailed son. But he signed the affidavit only because an ally of Roberts paid him $1500 and arranged to have his road graded, Neeley said.

Luther Vanderpool showed up at his house with a prepared statement, a grader and bundles of five-dollar bills secured with rubber bands, Neeley said. He received the money and had his road repaired in return for his signing the affidavit, which he never read, he said.

In testimony yesterday, Neeley repeated what he had first told police—namely, that he and Dolvin Ratliff, another county worker, dug the footer for the house Roberts was building to replace one that had burned down; that, off and on over a period of several months, he and up to half a dozen other county workers had renovated for Roberts a former hardware store and a barn, which had also burned; and that lumber for the work was routinely picked up from a county storage depot in the old Bosco schoolhouse.

Three rooms were built in the former hardware store for Roberts to play poker in, Neeley said.

Testimony in the case, which was moved to Pike county at the request of the prosecution and is being presided over by Pike Circuit Judge Will T. Scott, is scheduled to resume at 9 a.m. today (Wednesday).

that he was surprised when Latta pursued annexation.

"She asked for a vote on it if we would consider annexation, and I voted 'yes' that we would consider it," he said. "The next thing you knew it was going to be on the ballot."

Adams said he didn't think Prestonsburg was in a good position financially for annexation, with the proposed federal revenue sharing cuts, Prestonsburg stands to lose about $112,000 per year.

Latta has said the move would bring in over $90,000 to Prestonsburg yearly, after certain first year expenditures to put city services in place.

Pageant Winner

Brittany Keela Taylor, three-year-old daughter of Butch and Beata Taylor won first place in the Little Miss Easter Pageant at Garrett last Saturday night. She also won Miss Photogenic and Most Beautiful.

Her grandparents are Vernon and Mearl Clark, of Harold and Roberta Taylor, of Prestonsburg.

Dewey Lake Near Its Summer Level

The Army Corps of Engineers' Huntington District has begun raising its lakes up to their summer recreation levels.

The lakes, located in West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Virginia, are lowered in the fall to increase storage capacity during the period when floods are most probable in this region.

They are raised in the spring, by reducing outflow, to create a larger water surface for summertime recreation.

If near normal rainfall occurs, most of the lakes will reach summer levels by April 15. Drought conditions or heavy storms could affect the rate of filling.

In Kentucky, Dewey Lake will rise five feet, Grayson 8, and Fishtrap 32. Paintsville's Lake's level normally does not vary.

Health Council Meeting Set

The Big Sandy Health Council will be meeting at May Lodge on Monday, April 21 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Director of the Division of State Health Planning, Greg Lawther, will be the guest speaker. The agenda includes the discussion of Well-Fest '86, Certificate of Need proposals for Big Sandy, and the analysis of Long Term Care/Diagnostic-Related Groups survey conducted by the Council. For more information contact your local health planner of the Big Sandy Area Development District office in Prestonsburg or call 886-9402.

Service Workers Benefit From Minimum Wage Hike

Gov. Martha Layne Collins has signed a bill into law that will make an estimated quarter of a million Kentucky workers eligible for increased wages. The bill, which will go into effect July 1, raises Kentucky's minimum wage from $2.60 an hour to $3.35, bringing it into alignment with the federal minimum wage.

Service industry workers in Kentucky's hotel, motel, restaurant, and retail industries will be the principal beneficiaries of the new wage provision. Labor Cabinet analysts estimate that more than three-fifths of the state's minimum wage earners are women and an estimated 28 percent are heads of households. At present, an employee working full-time (40 hours per week) for Kentucky's minimum wage earns approximately $5,200 a year, less than the state's poverty level for an individual.

"This legislation will give thousands of Kentucky families an important foothold in their battle against poverty," said Gov. Collins. "Many young children will enjoy a better quality of life, and, now that there is a viable alternative, we can anticipate seeing a number of welfare recipients choose gainful employment over the entrapment of dependency."

At present, only nine states are without minimum wage provisions. Of the remaining 41 states with a minimum wage, only eight have lower wage standards than Kentucky while 33 have higher ones.

"This legislation will produce positive economic results for all Kentuckians, raising the standard of living for the working poor and lowering the taxpayers' burden for public welfare programs," said Wells. "Since every new dollar is expected to roll over at least two and a half times and be subject to taxation each time, state and local governments and the people they serve will benefit, as well as the very industries that face increased costs."

The new minimum wage will affect Kentucky employers who gross from $95,000 to $362,500 a year. Those who gross less than $95,000 a year will remain exempt.

Workers who have questions about whether they qualify for the new minimum wage should contact the Labor Cabinet's Division of Wage and Hour Standards at (502) 564-2784.

Simpson-Compton To Wed

Minnie Simpson, of McDowell, announces the forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Beth Simpson to Leonard Compton, son of Charles and Janet Compton, of Grethel.

Miss Simpson is a 1985 graduate of McDowell High School and is currently employed at Rite-Aid Pharmacy in Prestonsburg. Mr. Compton is a senior at Betsy Layne High School.

The wedding will be solemnized at 11 a.m., April 19, at the First Baptist Church, McDowell.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS

A nurse from the Health Department will be in Wayland, Monday, at the Methodist Church from 10-2. She will offer T.B. skin tests, urinalyses, blood pressures, anemia screening, and immunizations. This clinic is a free service of the health department and is open to the public.

There will be a free pap clinic at the health department Thursday, April 10 from 8:30 until 11:30 and from 1:00 until 2:00.

Family Planning Clinics will be held April 9, 14, and 16.

It's official: the United States has had some crazy winter weather in recent years. In the past eight years, government meteorologists say three winters have been much colder than normal and three have been much warmer—a phenomenon not likely to recur for 1,000 years, reports International Wildlife magazine.

Wins Giant Bunny

David Harris, three-year-old son of Paul and Terri Harris, of Prestonsburg, won a giant Bugs Bunny at the Easter Egg Hunt at Archer Park, Saturday, March 29.

He is the grandson of William and Betty Hall, of Prestonsburg and Jeanette Harris, of Martin.

The event was sponsored by Druther's of Prestonsburg.

Birth Certificate Important To Have

While ordering a birth certificate by mail in Kentucky takes about half the time it used to, folks shouldn't delay requesting certificates for summer activities and fall school registration.

Omar Greeman, register of vital statistics in the Department for Health Services, advises that now is the time to order birth certificates if you need to prove your age for some activity this summer or early fall.

Among activities that require birth certificates are getting a passport for international travel, signing up for some athletic leagues and participating in Little League tournaments (opposing teams can challenge the age and eligibility of any tournament player), and preregistering for kindergarten and first-grade.

Every day the state Vital Statistics office receives about 850 requests for copies of birth certificates; this number usually increases during the spring and summer. A new computer system has quickened the response time.

"Right now it's taking us about 10 days to process requests," said Greeman. "With time for mailing, it'll take about two weeks for someone to receive a copy of a certificate. Before the new computer system, it could take four weeks or longer."

But even a short delay is frustrating to a 16-year-old applying for a driving permit. "A certified copy of the person's birth certificate is required for a driving permit," he said. "It's tough when a teenager has to wait for the mail from Frankfort before the permit can be issued."

Greeman advises everyone to get a certified copy of his or her birth certificate. Other activities that require a certificate are retiring, getting a Social Security card, obtaining certain kinds of employment and enrolling in some pension plans.

"Sooner or later you'll need a birth certificate," Greeman said, "so it isn't a bad idea to have one on hand."

Birth certificates cost $5 each. To get a certified copy of a birth certificate registered in Kentucky, complete and mail an order form (available at health departments) or write to the Vital Statistics Office, Cabinet for Human Resources, 275 E. Main St., Frankfort, Ky. 40621-0001. Include a check or money order for each copy ordered and supply the following information: full name as it would appear on the certificate, mother's maiden name, date of birth and county of birth.

Specify whether you want a certified photocopy or a wallet-size plastic card. Both are valid proof of age, but the photocopy supplies more information.

Copies can be ordered by telephone and charged to the caller's Visa or MasterCard account. Telephone orders cost an extra $5. To order by telephone, call (502) 564-4212.

Copies can be ordered in person at the Vital Statistics office. The wait is usually about one hour.

Ten inches of snow fell in parts of New England on June 6, 1816, beginning the year in which there was no summer.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS
Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble

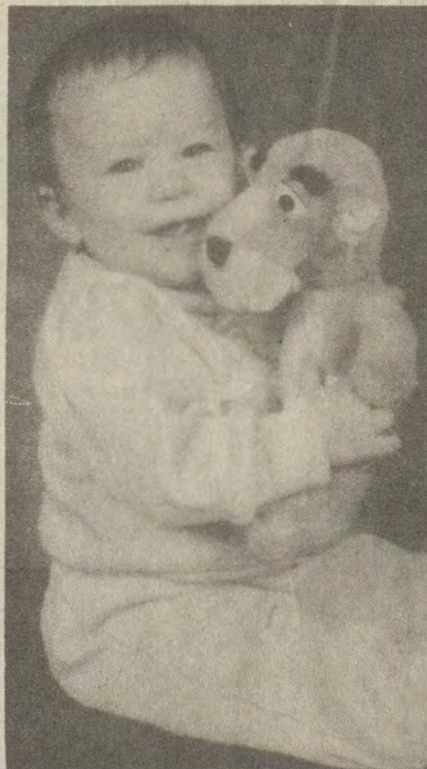

- (1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals...call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

AUSTRALIAN GOLD RUSH, SETTING FOR KET DRAMA

The best in television productions from "down under" continues on "Theatre Australia" when "Rush," a 13-part, historical drama premieres Sunday, April 27, at 9 p.m. on KET. Set in 1860's Australian Gold Rush country in New South Wales, "Rush" depicts the conflicts and tragedies of the residents of Turon Springs as they attempt to make a place for themselves in the new colony.

Great Eastern Mine, owned by the ruthless Captain Richard Farrar, is the very reason for the existence of Turon Springs. The strong-willed, independent miners are at conflict with the "robber baron" character of Farrar.

Farrar hires Robert McKellar to protect the Great Eastern Mining Company's property. McKellar is an ex-British Army officer. He has been sent to the penal colony after killing a man in a duel.

McKellar's task of preserving law and order is assisted by Emile Bizard, who by outward appearances is a French sailor who has deserted. McKellar's attentions also are held by a romantic interest.

"Rush" has received several awards from Australian television organizations. It is presented on KET through Lionheart Television International, Inc.

To Play In Exhibition Game Here

KENNY "SKY" WALKER, ROGER HARDEN, AND LEROY "BABY MAGIC" BYRD, U.K.'s 1986 seniors will be playing an exhibition basketball game at the Prestonsburg High School gym at 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 11. University of Kentucky's consensus All-American Kenny Walker will lead Kentucky seniors Roger Harden and Leroy Byrd against a team of former U.K. greats, such as Jack Givens, Dicky Beal, Jim Lemaster, Larry Stamper, Derek Hord, Max Casey, Louis Dampier, Jim Master and others. As in past games, the emphasis will be on offense where many of the games resulted in both teams scoring over a hundred points each.

There is a limited number of autograph session tickets which includes a seat in a reserved section of the gym. The autograph session by the three seniors will be from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. This will be Eastern Kentucky's last chance to see the likes of these players who won 32 games this season and only lost four. In addition, there is very little doubt that Kenny Walker will be selected by the National Basketball Association (NBA) in the first draft—possibly as high as one of the first three choices.

The game is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Prestonsburg.

Summer Program To Prepare Students For Admission Tests

Minority undergraduate students and those from rural areas of Kentucky can receive training at U of L this summer to prepare for medical or dental school admission tests.

Students in the program will attend math, chemistry, biology and physics classes on Belknap Campus from June 1 to July 3. They also will learn test-taking strategies. A practice test will give them an idea of what to expect in the admission exams.

The program is aimed at increasing the number of minority and rural students who apply to medical and dental schools, said program director Michael Byrne.

The Professional Education Preparation Program of the Council on Higher Education is funding the training for college juniors and seniors from rural areas. Special state funding earmarked for desegregation efforts will finance minority undergraduate training, Byrne said.

Coupled with the state's desegregation efforts in higher education is U of L's urban mission directive, said Byrne, adding that most of the minority participants attend U of L.

The training program began four years ago to encourage rural students to attend professional schools in hopes that they would return to rural areas where physicians and dentists are needed.

The application deadline for this summer's program is April 23. For more information, call Byrne at (502) 588-7159.

Test Dates Slated For Floyd Students

Parents should take special care to see their children are in school April 18 and May 2 and that they come well rested and fed, Assistant Schools Superintendent Ronald L. Hager said this week. For that is when all Floyd students will undergo the Kentucky Essential Skills Test (KEST) and students in grades three, five, seven and 10 will be given the Test of Cognitive Skills (TCS) as well.

The state-mandated KEST measures achievement in reading, math, spelling, writing, and library skills. The TCS measures learning abilities such as verbal memory, reasoning, analogies and sequencing. Results of the tests should be known by late July or early August and will be available to parents, Hager said.

While students should understand that the tests are important, they should not be so emphasized as to make the children anxious, the school official cautioned.

April Health Tips:

Patients Can Guard Themselves Against Unnecessary Radiation

Radiology's importance in diagnosing, treating and preventing health problems is quite evident. Not so obvious are the accompanying (and reducible) risks of overexposure.

Radiation can kill or change cells. While cells can repair themselves, some serious consequences of mutated (changed) cells are cancer, sterility and birth defects.

Modern radiographic technology has improved the x-ray process to reduce patient and technologist exposure to unnecessary radiation.

Despite these technological advances, some key types of radiation protection depend somewhat on the patient.

One way to protect yourself and your children from unnecessary radiation exposure is by requesting shields. These shields protect persons' reproductive systems and prevent sterility and birth defects.

Most radiology departments post signs warning females who are pregnant, or who suspect they are pregnant, to inform the technologist so their unborn children can be shielded.

ams and protect both your body and pocketbook. Records are especially important when you have changed doctors or are seeking a second opinion.

Radiology exists to enhance your health. Protection is a responsibility you share with health care professionals. So don't be afraid to request a shield or discuss your radiographic record.

Brown Motel Wins Breather As Zoning Change Is Denied

Brown's Motor Court got somewhat of a lease on life Monday night, as the Prestonsburg Planning and Zoning Commission voted unanimously to recommend the city council deny a zoning change which would result in the motel being torn down and replaced by a two-story office building.

The old building on N. Arnold Avenue was purchased recently by Branham and Baker Coal Company, who requested a zone change from residential to light commercial, so they could erect the new building.

According to Frank Fitzpatrick, commission chairman, the change would be for that lot only, not affecting other property on Arnold Avenue. He said that, though Brown's was a commercial enterprise, it had been "grandfathered" in when the neighborhood was zoned R-3. For another business to go in, a change to C-2 would be necessary.

At a public hearing held about a month ago, Branham and Baker representatives, along with 20-30 Arnold Ave. residents, made their feelings concerning the change known to the commission. Monday's meeting was primarily for the commission to decide what its recommendation would be. However, one Arnold Ave. resident showed up to express his opposition to commercial zoning.

Harry Burke said he hadn't gone to the first meeting, but admitted he had heard many of his neighbors had not opposed the change. If that were true, he said,

"they ought to have their heads examined."

Randall Burchett, an architect who is also a member of the planning and zoning commission, attended but did not take part in Monday's meeting. He disqualified himself because his firm is designing the proposed office building, creating a conflict of interest.

Burchett said that, at the public hearing, the residents were at first somewhat opposed to the change but, after hearing Branham and Baker's case and seeing the building's design plans, most had changed their minds.

To the question of what changes the neighborhood might expect with construction of the office building, Burchett said increased traffic flow seemed to be one of the biggest.

In making the recommendation to disallow the zoning change, Fitzpatrick stressed the commission had weighed both sides of the issue.

"We've tried to be very thorough in making the decision we've reached this evening," he said, pointing out that the panel had already had about a month to examine the question. Fitzpatrick said the decision was based on five reasons: the change would be spot-zoning; it would constitute a non-conforming usage; it would be a detriment to the residential neighborhood; it would conflict with the commission's recently developed comprehensive plan; and it would set a "dangerous precedent."

City council members Margie Osborne and Bill Callihan attended the meeting, as did City Administrator David Evans and Mayor Ann Latta. The council is expected to decide the matter at its next meeting, Monday night.

1040/1040A Filers Can Get Extension

Taxpayers who file Form 1040 or 1040A can request an automatic four-month extension of time to file their federal income tax returns, according to the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS stresses that the extension to file tax returns is not an extension of time to pay.

To obtain the four-month extension beyond April 15, 1986, taxpayers must complete Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return", and forward it to the service center processing returns for their area. Kentucky residents file federal tax returns at the Cincinnati Service Center, Cincinnati, Ohio 45999. Form 4868 must be filed on or before April 15, 1986.

On Form 4868, taxpayers should make a tentative estimate of the year's taxes and submit any balance due with the form. If the unpaid tax is more than 10 percent of the total tax, a penalty is assessed for late payment unless the taxpayer can show reasonable cause for not paying the tax when due. The penalty is one-half of one percent per month on the unpaid balance, up to a maximum of 25 percent. Interest is also assessed on any unpaid balance.

Taxpayers who wish to take an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) deduction for 1985 must make their IRS contributions by April 15, 1986, whether or not they have been granted an extension to file, the IRS said.

Taxpayers filing Form 1040EZ, or those requesting the IRS to compute their tax, are not eligible for an automatic extension.

Anyone who has specific questions regarding estimated federal tax payments may call the IRS toll free at 1-800-424-1040.

Attend Farewell Services at First Baptist

Following the last dinner-meeting and farewell services in the annex building of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial), March 12, this picture of the group who attended was made on the steps there. Tearing down of this building is now underway.

Other than these members of the congregation of this church, the present pastor, the Rev. Steve Hopkins and his wife are shown, standing on the left in the front row, and next to them are the Rev. Ira McMillan former pastor of the church, and Mrs. McMillan.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

Members of the executive board of the KFWC/GFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club met Thursday evening, April 3, at the Floyd County Library to discuss matters to be brought before the club later that evening. Plans were made for the installation dinner to be held at the club's Arts and Crafts Center at Archer Park, May 1, at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Sharon Sparr, president, presided at the board meeting, and at the regular meeting. Mrs. Dorothy Osborne gave the devotions and led the group in the Lord's Prayer. Due to the absence, of the secretary, Mrs. Kathryn Poe, no secretary's report was given. Mrs. Susie Poe reported on the club's financial status.

The annual KFWC Convention will be held at the Radisson Hotel in Lexington, April 16-19, and members are urged to attend. Mrs. Sparr, in cooperation with the Prestonsburg Jr. Woman's Club, discussed a program entitled "School-Community Partnership Resource," and distributed forms to be filled out by interested organizations.

Mrs. Roberta Davidson reported that the club's annual scholarship to Prestonsburg Community College had been awarded to Miss Melissa Ann Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison W. Horn.

Mrs. Sparr presented a list of the officers chosen by the club's nominating committee to serve during the forthcoming year. These are Mrs. Susie Poe, president; Mrs. Rebecca Rasnick, first vice president; Mrs. Clare Day, second vice president; Mrs. Sharon Sparr, third vice president; Mrs. Kathryn Poe, secretary, and Mrs. Debbie Hall, treasurer. They were elected by acclamation, and will be installed during the May meeting. Officers, publicity and membership chairmen constitute the executive board.

Mrs. Susie Poe and Mrs. Sharon Sparr presented a program on ceramics, and demonstrated examples of this art.

Miss Christine Spradlin and Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey were co-hostesses, and served a dessert course and coffee to Mesdames Sharon Sparr, Susie Poe, Armita Snavelly, Garnett Fairchild, Ava Lee Allen, Elizabeth Ramey, Judy Kittle, Myrtle Allen, Dorothy Osborne, Barbara Dawson, Dorothy Harris, Roberta Davidson, Dorothy Burke, and Debra C. Hall.

The next meeting will be the installation dinner with members of the clubs executive board, Mesdames Sharon Sparr, Rebecca Rasnick, Claire Day, Dorothy Stover, Kathryn Poe, Susie Poe, Elizabeth Ramey, Armita Snavelly, and Docia B. Woods, as hostesses. Each member is asked to bring a covered dish.

MCA Library Observes National Library Week

Local children's author Lola Mosley will be at the Mountain Christian Academy Saturday, April 12, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. to autograph her newly-published book, The Lonely Sidewalk. Mrs. Mosley, of Minnie, is the wife of Ballard Mosley and the mother of three teenagers. The author is a nurse at McDowell Appalachian Hospital and writes in her spare time.

Autographing of Mrs. Mosley's book will be in the academy library. This event, according to Mrs. Traum, librarian, is part of a month-long celebration of National Book Month and a climax for National Library Week, April 6-12. Other events for National Library Week include a reading slumber party for grades K through six, Friday April 11 and a book fair Friday, April 11 and Saturday, April 12. The public is invited to meet Mrs. Mosley and attend the book fair.

An Easter bunny cake and a clown cake was served to guests Jeremy Stevens, Heather, Brandy and Stacey Stevens, Donna and Sabrina Stevens, Wayne and Jason Stevens, Lisa and Joseph Stevens.

He is also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ranel D. Hall, of New Boston, Mich., and the great-grandson of Mrs. Gracie Sturgill, of Betsy Layne.

Activities Planned Will Boost School Attendance

Floyd county will participate in Kentucky School Attendance Month, a statewide competition to increase pupil attendance during the month of April.

Governor Martha Layne Collins, in conjunction with Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald and the Kentucky Association of School Administrators, proclaimed Attendance Month to emphasize the importance of pupils being in school and to identify strategies school districts can use to improve school attendance.

Floyd county plans to use the following strategies to improve school attendance during this special month. There will be a special recognition ceremony in each school for all students with 100% attendance for the month. Stick-on badges announcing "perfect attendance" will be provided for perfect attenders to wear the following month. Competition among schools in the district will be encouraged. One trophy will be awarded to the school in each category that has the best percentage of attendance for the School Attendance Month. Schools will be considered in these categories for the competition: (1) rural schools, (2) consolidated elementary schools, (3) high schools. Schools winning trophies will be publicized.

Following the competition, an awards ceremony will be held at the State Capitol for all school districts that achieve excellence in school attendance for the month. Criteria will be the percent of students in class and the percent of improvement in attendance.

Students in kindergarten through twelfth grade will receive an official certificate for perfect attendance signed by the governor and state superintendent. Schools that record 99 percent or 100 percent attendance for the month will also receive a special award.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Callie Hale Scott wishes to thank all the beautiful people that helped us in our time of sorrow. Thanks for the flowers, food, and money that was given. A special thanks to the Regular Baptist ministers and to those who prepared the grave. We appreciate it very much. Also a special thanks to Hall Funeral Home for its considerate and kind service.

THE SCOTT FAMILY 11.

D.A.R. MEETS

Tuesday afternoon, March 18, at 3:30, the John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center, with Mrs. Frances Brackett, regent, presiding. The ritualistic service was conducted by Mrs. Opal S. May, chaplain, and the flag salute was led by Mrs. Edith James. Mrs. Olga Preston led the group in the reading of the "American Creed."

Chapter events were reported by Mrs. J.G. Stepp. Mrs. Olga Preston told the group that all accounts pertaining to the D.A.R. had been paid, and that a donation had been sent to the Veterans' Memorial Plaque Fund, in memory of Emmitt Preston, Jr., given by Mrs. Frances Brackett, on behalf of the John Graham Chapter.

Mrs. James B. Goble gave the National Defense program and read the President General's Message.

Two prospective members, Miss Jane Ann Kendrick, daughter of Mrs. Mae S. Kendrick, and Mrs. Jim (Norma Sue) Simpson, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Spears, were welcomed.

One of the chapter's members, Mrs. Edith James, was honored with a surprise birthday party at Highland Terrace following a recent planning session for the forthcoming Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival.

Regent, Mrs. Brackett, appointed the following to serve on the nominating committee to select officers for the coming year: Mesdames Virginia S. Goble, Olga Preston, Norma Stepp, Margaret Spradlin, and Mae Kendrick.

The chapter is making plans for a grave-marking dedication, to be held at Block House Bottom in Johnson County for Mrs. Sarah Auxier Brown, Saturday, May 3, at 1 p.m. Other details will be announced at a later date.

Mrs. Brackett expressed her appreciation to everyone for their assistance, in preparation for the state meeting, and gave special thanks to the art instructor, Carlos Neeley and students of Prestonsburg High School.

Co-hostesses for this event were Mrs. Margaret Spradlin and Miss Maurine Mayo.

The guests were Miss Lee Ann Bottoms, her mother, Mrs. Jenny Bottoms, her grandmother, Mrs. Fred Meece, Mrs. Doccia B. Woods, Mrs. Jim Simpson, Miss Jane Ann Kendrick. Members present were Mesdames Margaret Spradlin, Olga Preston, Frances Brackett, Virginia S. Goble, Norma S. Stepp, Sally Goebel, Edith James, Mae S. Kendrick, and Opal S. May.

In memory of a faithful member, Mrs. Margaret P. Alley, the Daughters closed the meeting by saying the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Jehovah's Witnesses Assembly Scheduled For April 19-20

The Allen Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses received notice of their upcoming Circuit Assembly to be held at the Raleigh County Armory, April 19 and 20 in Beckley, West Virginia.

The theme for this two-day assembly is, "Love for the Worldwide Brotherhood." The keynote address on Saturday morning will be given by Mr. James Hinderer. His subject will be, "Development of a Global Brotherhood." Mr. Hinderer, a traveling minister of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society; will also present the public talk Sunday at 2 p.m. entitled, "A Worldwide Brotherhood Saved From Calamity." Each day the program begins at 10 a.m. and concludes at 4 p.m. Saturday morning's program features a baptism talk for those who plan to be immersed.

Delegates from Eastern Kentucky, Southwest Virginia and Southern West Virginia will attend the two-day seminar. The public is invited and no collection is taken.

Plan Health Festival

The Big Sandy ADD Health Council and other agencies are planning a Spring Festival to promote health. Plans include information/activity booths, arts and crafts, live entertainment, concessions and a film festival. Well-Fest '86 will be held at Jenny Wiley amphitheater on May 17 from 12:00-6:00 p.m. In order to reserve an exhibit space, groups are invited to send a representative to the next steering committee meeting scheduled for April 17, at 9:00 at the Area Development District office.

The two 1,350 foot towers of the World Trade Center in New York City occupy only two acres, but can accommodate 130,000 people.

U.S.A.A. Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Leslie Ann Harris has been named a United States National Award winner in History and Government.

Miss Harris, who attends Prestonsburg High School was nominated for this National Award by Miss Aleene Brown, a history teacher at the school. Her biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

She is the daughter of Robert M. and Charlotte Harris and the granddaughter of Hazel Arnett, of Prestonsburg and Calvin F. Reese, of Lexington.

Nutrition And Cancer: A Common Sense Approach

Extensive research is under way to evaluate and clarify the role diet and nutrition play in the development of cancer. At this point, no direct cause-and-effect relationship has been proved, though statistics show that some foods may increase or decrease the risks for certain types of cancer. Evidence indicates that people might reduce their cancer risk by observing the following recommendations:

1. Avoid obesity.
2. Cut down on total fat intake.
3. Eat more high fiber foods such as whole grain cereals, fruits and vegetables.
4. Include foods rich in vitamins A and C in your daily diet.
5. Include cruciferous vegetables in your diet.
6. Eat moderately of salt-cured, smoked and nitrate-cured foods.
7. Keep alcohol consumption moderate, if you do drink.

For more information on cancer and nutrition it is advised that you consult your physician. Also, information may be obtained from the American Cancer Society at 1-800-4-CANCER. The members of the Big Sandy Health Council are working together for your health.

K Mart Stores Offer Game On Child Safety

K mart stores throughout the country will be the first retailers to carry "The Child Awareness Game," a new game endorsed by the non-profit Adam Walsh Child Resource Center and John and Reve Walsh. K mart Corporation announced today, April is National Child Safety Awareness Month.

This is also the first such game to be endorsed by John and Reve Walsh, parents of 6-year-old Adam Walsh whose abduction and murder was chronicled in the TV-special, "Adam."

"This game has two important features: First, it teaches personal safety in a positive, non-threatening way. Second, it educates parents on how to build open lines of communications with their children," said John Walsh. "We're not just dealing with abduction here—we're teaching children to recognize their rights in relation to adults that they know," he noted.

One dollar per sale of each game will be donated to the Adam Walsh Child Resource Center, a non-profit organization founded by John and Reve Walsh, dedicated to making America safer for children. The Adam Walsh Center is a primary source of information for parents who want to know how to better protect their own children and how to help bring about positive changes for all children.

The object of the game is to travel around the board answering questions correctly to earn the letters that spell "Child Awareness." Questions involve hypothetical situations to which the child must provide the "correct" (safe) course of action.

"We feel a strong commitment to the communities we serve," said Samuel G. Leftwich, vice chairman of K mart Corporation. "We hope to create enough awareness so that parents will take the game home and play it with their children to teach them good personal safety habits," he explained.

Last May, K mart launched its own "Lost Child" program which involved carrying the photographs of missing children in more than 20.5 million photo processing bags.

K mart's Lost Child Program enjoyed the support of the Washington-based National Center for Missing and Exploited Children as well as John and Reve Walsh.

John Walsh, who has spent the past five years changing laws and policies regarding child abductions and molestations, believes "The Child Awareness Game" is an effective way to educate children on a delicate subject.

"The key to reducing heinous crimes is through education," said Walsh. "Our society has an obligation to protect and educate our children without frightening them," he said.

"The Child Awareness Game," is designed to accommodate four to six players ages 4-12. "The 301 possible questions place children in a variety of potentially dangerous situations that require quick thinking," said Walsh. "Children are supposed to learn a pattern of behavior through repetition. The questions were developed from child safety information already available to the public," he added.

Roades-Linville To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Roades of Winchester announce the engagement of their daughter, April Leigh, to Douglas R. Linville, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Linville, of Morristown, Indiana.

Mr. Linville is a 1986 graduate of Anderson College, Anderson, Indiana. Miss Roades, who will graduate from Anderson in 1987, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Bingham.

The marriage will be solemnized August 16, at Winchester.

Winter Aid Donations Up

Kentucky Power Company customers increased their donations to the Winter-Care Energy Fund for the third consecutive year during the 1984-85 winter, according to the agency's just-released annual report. Kentucky Power is one of 23 utility companies statewide participating in the WinterCare Program.

WinterCare was created in 1983 to provide assistance to utility customers having difficulty paying their winter heating bills. Although the winter season is over, there are still many low income families with unpaid winter utility bills, and participants, including Kentucky Power, hope donations will be even higher this year.

For this reason, donations are still being accepted and can easily be included with the customer's electric bill payment. All customer donations collected by Kentucky Power are sent directly to the WinterCare agency located in Lexington, and distributed according to need by local Community Action Agencies. None of the funds collected are applied to administrative costs.

Kentucky Power also encourages any customers who are having difficulty making electric bill payments to contact their local Kentucky Power offices for assistance. Special payment arrangements can be made.

Blame Leaders For Death Of Landowner Rights Bill

Legislation which would have required a common courtesy notice to be given to affected landowners before oil drilling activity could begin was denied a vote in the closing days of the Kentucky General Assembly.

The measure was killed when House Speaker Don Blandford and Majority Floor Leader Greg Stumbo refused to allow the bill to be brought up for a vote, according to the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition.

"It seems incredible that we let one or two legislators have almost total control over whether a bill is going to be brought up for a vote," remarked Mary Jane Adams, a Leslie county resident who has experienced damage from oil company activities. "But that's what goes on in Frankfort and why a lot of good bills are killed."

The surprise defeat of the legislation came despite the fact that the House had approved a more stringent version of the same bill a few days before. That original bill, House Bill 809, passed the House by a 73-10 vote on March 24 but was not given a chance to be heard in the Senate. That's when Rep. Jim Maggard, the bill's sponsor, attached a watered-down version of HB 809 to a Senate bill before the House. Maggard said he was hoping the Senate would then get a chance to vote on his bill when the amended legislation was returned to that chamber for concurrence.

The Senate bill with the proposed amendment was posted on the House Orders of the Day for March 27 and 28, but Rep. Stumbo simply skipped over it and refused to give the legislation a fair hearing, the KFTC said.

Sid Neal, a lobbyist for the oil industry, later acknowledged that he had asked House leaders not to call up the bill, according to the citizens' group.

"There are hundreds of landowners all over Kentucky affected by oil drilling who would have benefitted from this legislation," Adams said. "But because a lobbyist from the oil industry expresses a wish, our legislators fall in line to comply."

Adams had previously testified before a House committee on behalf of the KFTC in support of HB 809.

Fanny Mendelssohn, the older sister of Felix, was also an accomplished composer, but most of her works are still in manuscript, and only one has ever been recorded.

Traveling Libraries 99 Years On The Road

In celebration of National Library Week, the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives has released a commemorative publication on the history of the state's bookmobile program.

"Kentucky Bookmobiles: A Century in the Making," traces developments in the growth of the program which began as a local women's club traveling book project in 1887. The project was expanded and supported by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs until 1910, when the Federation persuaded the General Assembly to form a Kentucky Library Commission. Since that time, Kentucky's traveling library has grown to become the largest bookmobile fleet in the nation, providing extended library services with 110 bookmobiles in rural areas across the state.

"Today, as in the past, the bookmobile continues to be a link to the outside world for many rural Kentuckians," stated James A. Nelson, Commissioner of the Department for Libraries and Archives. According to state statistics, the average bookmobile travels 5,500 miles per year. Statewide, Kentucky's bookmobiles circulate more than three million library materials annually, a figure representing 20 percent of all materials circulated by the Commonwealth's public libraries each year.

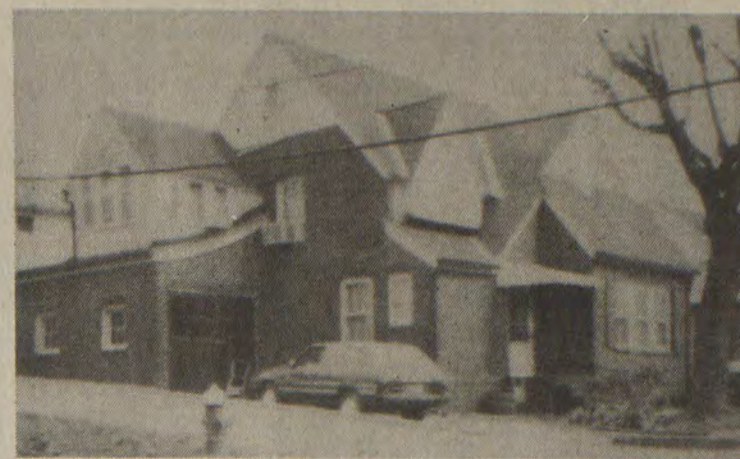

The tabloid publication features photographs depicting various events in the history of the bookmobile program, including the two photos reproduced here. A copy of "Kentucky Bookmobiles: A Century in the Making" is available for reference purposes in all public libraries.

They May Be Young But They're Still Wild

Each spring, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources receives numerous requests to take over the care of young animals which people have taken from the wild in the mistaken belief that they were abandoned. Once the animals start growing they are no longer cute and cuddly and seem to suddenly become wild animals which their keepers can no longer handle.

At this time these "good samaritans" find they not only possess an unmanageable wild creature, but that they are in possible violation of the law for keeping wildlife without a permit.

A worse problem is finding out too late the reason the "orphan" didn't scamper off when first approached is because it has rabies or some other disease. This is more common than most people realize, and too often they find out the hard way.

In truth, most of the "orphaned" animals found in the spring woods are not orphans at all. Their parents have gone off in search of food, or are hiding nearby until the human intruders leave. So if you find a young animal in the woods, do it and yourself, a favor and leave it alone, and avoid any wild animal that does not show a normal fear of humans or which is acting sick or unusual.

Entering the Okefenokee — 'The Realm of the Alligator'

By Peter Meade

Preppies, take note: Your beloved shirt symbol, the alligator, is a lot less pleasant in its true domain than it is on the front of your Izod shirt.

Alligator and child

The unique Okefenokee Swamp, on the border of Florida and Georgia, is center stage for "The Realm of the Alligator," this season's fourth and final new National Geographic special, which will air Wednesday, April 16, on PBS. The 700-square-mile swamp is no day at the beach. Yet this dank, dark watery wasteland, where islands of floating peat sail ominously about, is what the preppy mascot calls home.

It is in this unsure and uncertain backdrop that biologist/filmmaker John Paling and alligator expert Kent Vliet filmed the hour-long program, which is narrated by Pernel Roberts ("Trapper John, M.D.").

While alligators are shown at their treacherous best — ruthlessly jawing their prey and trashing them to death with their powerful jaws — a gentler side also comes to light. The animals are loving parents, Vliet says, as is obvious during a scene showing an alligator gently caressing its young.

The steely-eyed alligator is definitely the star of this beautifully filmed special, but it is by no means the only inhabitant of the fascinating Okefenokee swamp.

Not all of the swamp's dangers lurk in the water. Two particularly memorable scenes depict carnivorous plants gobbling their helpless insect lunches and a woodpecker using a little-known chemical defense to ward off a corn snake which attempts to assault its nest.

The alligators are filmed at startling close range, and Vliet, who has spent the past six years studying these creatures, has even learned to swim alongside his subjects. This is a feat that even a Mark Spitz wouldn't attempt, but Vliet claims that alligator attacks on humans are "extremely rare."

"Alligators are really quite different from what most people think," Vliet says.

For those viewers who have never given much thought to alligators, except as fodder for handbags or shoes, "The Realm of the Alligator" leaves plenty of food for thought.

THE MONEY PIT (PG-Universal) Starring Tom Hanks, Shelley Long, Alexander Godunov. ★ ★ 1/2 ★

By J.T. YURKO

The great American dream is to own a nice house in the suburbs, raise 2.4 children and live long enough to tear up the mortgage.

Of course, that home may not turn out to be the place of quiet domesticity that its owners hoped for. It can turn into a second master. Mowing the lawn, fixing the toilet and painting that white picket fence can become a never-ending list of weekend chores — or a never-ending series of bills from those who really know how to do such things.

But Tom Hanks and Shelley Long are not exactly your basic suburban couple. He's a tax consultant for several rock groups. She's a violinist with the symphony orchestra and the ex-wife of the orchestra's brilliant but egotistical director (Alexander Godunov). Although unmarried, they decide to buy a mansion being sold at a bargain price by a woman whose husband is being deported because the authorities found out he used to be Hitler's pool man.

Does this sound a bit far-fetched? It fetches even farther. Everyone is a caricature — a cartoon exaggeration of real life. So too are the events that transpire. Upon first viewing, the house appears to be in order, yet the moment after the mortgage is signed the house self-destructs in a manner similar to that of "Poltergeist."

The front door collapses when Hanks and Miss Long walk in, the stairs tumble like dominoes under the gentlest of footsteps, and the plumbing spews forth an unholy slime. Not to be outdone, the electrical system turns into a July 4 fireworks display.

The sight gags are performed with supreme technical artistry, but they don't always result in the laugh riots they are meant to induce. The Three Stooges managed to get a lot more mileage out of destroying a domicile.

Hanks and Miss Long are both likeable, and Hanks does very well with the physically involved role, but director Richard Benjamin and screenwriter David Gilker walk an uneasy line between tender love story and all-out farce.

Laurel and Hardy were far more adept at slapstick, and to paraphrase the title of a 1948 Cary Grant film, Mr. Blandings built a better dreamhouse.

FAME

George Lindsey was eager to 'Return to Mayberry'

By Lynn Hoogenboom

George Lindsey, who played Goober Pyle on "The Andy Griffith Show" and its successful sequel, "Mayberry, R.F.D.," will once again be playing the lovable dimwit in the NBC movie "Return to Mayberry," which airs Sunday, April 13.

George Lindsey

Of course, Lindsey doesn't consider Goober a dimwit. "Goober wasn't book-bright," he says, "but he had a Ph.D in common sense. And he probably had the biggest heart in town."

What will Goober be doing in the movie? "Well, the same thing he did when I did the series," Lindsey immediately responds. "Nothing."

That answer speaks volumes. Nothing terribly exciting ever happened in Mayberry, yet "The Andy Griffith Show" was one of the most popular television shows ever produced, and Lindsey doesn't have any trouble explaining why.

"It all starts with the writing," he says. "Our scripts were marvelous, and you have to give Griffith a lot of credit, because he's one of the best script constructionists in the business. You brought your acting up to his level, which was awful high. And we liked the characters."

"I cannot wait till this thing comes on," he adds. "I'm just as excited as I can be about it. I think I was ready two days early before we were supposed to go. My wife said, 'My God, what's the matter with you? You're acting like you're going to school the first time.'"

Lindsey has been a regular on the popular syndicated show "Hee Haw" ever since the abrupt cancellation of "Mayberry R.F.D." in 1971, but he would love to return to a network series. "I'm the only one, I guess, who would like to get a series out of this," he says.

"Of course, we were all excited about working with Ronnie (Ron Howard) after all his success," he adds. Lindsey makes no claim, however, that he spotted an emerging director way back then.

"I don't think anyone in the world can look at a 9-year-old boy and say, 'Hey, you're going to be a great director,'" says Lindsey. "None of us knew. If I had known that, Goober would have been Opie's best friend."

HRMC Lab Week

Highlands Regional Medical Center's Lab Director, Don Hicks, explains how complete blood counts are done to a group of Girl Scouts.

An often hidden segment of the health care profession will take a bow next week during National Medical Laboratory Week, April 13-19. This event salutes the important work of medical laboratory professionals, who comprise the health care community's third largest segment, trailing only doctors and nurses.

"For years, we've been a somewhat invisible profession," says Don Hicks, Lab Director at Highlands Regional Medical Center, "and yet the medical laboratory professional is vital in diagnosing and treating illness."

This year's theme—Stellar Performers You Can Count On—ties in Halley's Comet with the reliability of laboratory professionals. Attending physicians depend upon laboratory test results to confirm the diagnosis and prescribe appropriate treatment.

"The lab is a popular stop during a hospital tour," said E. Carol Blevins, HRMC Public Information Officer, "Even children have had contact with a medical lab for blood tests and throat cultures."

To schedule a tour of the hospital for your class or club, contact Carol Blevins at 886-8511 or 789-6548.

William C. (Neal) Allen

William C. (Neal) Allen, 71, of West Prestonsburg, died Sunday at the Veterans Hospital in Lexington where he had earlier been flown from Highlands Regional Medical Center, here. He had been in failing health for some years and, at the time of his death, was a resident of Riverview Manor Nursing Home.

Mr. Allen was a valued member of the old Floyd County Times staff, working in the composing room for 27 years until his retirement in the late '60's.

He was a son of the late Grover and Josie Jensen Allen, born April 15, 1914 at Maysville. His wife, Minerva Stephens Allen, preceded him in death in June, 1979. He was a veteran of World War II, a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 18.

He is survived by a foster daughter, Mrs. Joan Gibson, of West Prestonsburg; a half-brother, Ted Cox, and half-sister, Alma Franklin, both of Cincinnati, O.; three nephews, Houston and Frank Stephens, both of West Prestonsburg, William Stephens, of Stratford, New Jersey, and one grandson, David Gibson.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the chapel of the Floyd Funeral Home with the Rev. Wade Martin Hughes officiating. Burial will be made in the Sally Stephens cemetery at West Prestonsburg.

Kate Adams

Funeral services for Kate Adams, 88, of Prestonsburg, who died Monday at the Mountain Manor Nursing Home, are incomplete at this time.

Mrs. Adams was born January 1, 1898 in Magoffin county, and was a daughter of the late Steve and Betty Miller Patrick. She was preceded in death by her husband, Stevie Adams.

Burial will be made in the Richmond cemetery, Prestonsburg, under direction of the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home.

Obituaries

Mrs. Althea Bradley

Mrs. Althea Bradley, 81, of St. Paul, Va., formerly of Prestonsburg, died Saturday at Holston Valley Medical Center in Kingsport, Tennessee.

She and her husband, the late Wayne Bradley, lived here in the 1940's where she was an active member of the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Bradley had also owned and managed a women's apparel shop here.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Sharon Perkins, of St. Paul, Virginia.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the St. Paul United Methodist Church of which she was a member, and burial was made here, Tuesday afternoon, in the Mayo cemetery.

Edna Bentley Belcher

Edna Bentley Belcher, 77, of Garrett, died Tuesday, April 1, at her residence following a long illness.

Born August 9, 1908 in Johnson county, a daughter of the late Alex and Myrtle Camute Craft, she was a member of the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church at Garrett. She was twice married, first to Richard Bentley, who preceded her in death, and later to Francis Belcher, who is also deceased.

Surviving are three sons, Adrian Bentley, of Hueysville, Conrad and Marvin Bentley, both of Wayland; two daughters, Rella Chapman, of Garrett, Velma Hoch, of Chicago Ill.; a half-sister, Betty Lou Riley, of Maryland, 12 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren, and two step-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at 10 a.m. at the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church with Regular Baptist ministers officiating. Burial was made in the Bentley cemetery at Garrett, under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

Lenvil Conn

Lenvil (Arch) Conn, 43, of Arkansas Creek, died Monday at his residence following an extended illness.

He was born January 8, 1943 and was the son of Dakota Crum Conn, of Martin, and the late John B. Conn. A disabled miner, formerly employed by the Arkansas Enterprise Coal Company, he was a member of the U.M.W.A., Local No. 1373, Printer.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by three brothers, Venis and Dennis Conn, both of Martin, and Randall Conn, of Prestonsburg; five sisters, Kathleen Crum, Ivelene Conn, Maxine Lafferty and Rethel Conn, all of Martin, and Talma Beasley, of Taylorsville.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at his residence with Woodrow Crum and Bobby Dean Crum officiating. Burial will be made in the Conn family cemetery under direction of the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home.

Visitation may be made at anytime today (Wednesday) at his residence on Arkansas Creek.

Willie Boyd

Willie Boyd, 91, of Dana, died Friday at the Mountain Manor Nursing Home in Pikeville, following a long illness.

Born March 22, 1895 at Dana, a son of the late Thomas Jefferson (T.J.) and Mary Adkins Boyd, he was a retired merchant and farmer. He was a member of the Little Salem Regular Baptist Church at Dana, for 10 years and was preceded in death by his wife, Doris Jarrell Boyd.

He is survived by three sons, Jerry and Everett Boyd, both of Grundy, Va., and Billy Boyd, of Greeneville, Tenn.; four daughters, Lora Conn, of Dana, Mary Dealie Bentley, of Banner, Melba Mercer, of Raven, Va., Nancy Clevinger, of Rowe, Va.; one sister, Emma Bailey, of Lancer; 15 grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren, and 11 great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at the Little Salem Regular Baptist Church at Dana with Regular Baptist ministers officiating. Burial was made in the Fred Conn cemetery, there, under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

James Crum, Jr.

James Crum, Jr., 60, of Prestonsburg, died Monday at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington.

A son of the late James Crum, Sr. and Alice Woods Crum, he was born June 9, 1925 at Banner. A retired mechanic, he was employed 23 years at the Hughes Motor Company and six years with Music-Carter-Hughes, here. He also operated a service station here, and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sue Goble Crum; a son, James Crum III, of Betsy Layne; three brothers, Frank and Cornial Crum, both of Union Lake, Mich.; Cecil Crum, of Banner; and a sister, Margie Reynolds, also of Banner.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Floyd Funeral Home with Henry Crider and Birkey Lewis officiating. Burial will be made in the Richmond cemetery under direction of the Floyd Funeral Home.

Will Help Teachers Aid Troubled Teens

Special training programs to help educators and others detect troubled youths will be offered in five Kentucky areas with high rates of teen-age suicides in recent years, Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald announced.

One of the training sessions will be at May Lodge on April 4.

The Department of Education and the Division of Mental Health in the Cabinet for Human Resources will co-sponsor the training sessions on "Responding to Troubled Youth" to prepare regional training teams, she said.

The regional teams will then be available upon request to offer training for school faculties, parents and community groups. The training teams will include mental health professionals and school personnel from each school district in the region.

"The Kentucky Department of Education recognizes that when a child is troubled—for whatever reason—that child is less able to learn," McDonald said.

"This training will give teachers the information they need to detect problems in students and identify resources that are available to help them."

Participants will include school counselors, teachers or administrators and mental health professionals from the various regions.

The regions were selected for training on the basis of reported data during the past five years on attempted and completed suicides, McDonald said.

The training for regional trainers will be conducted by Jim Batts and Dianne Caines of the Department of Education's Division of Student Services and Vicki Hayes of the Division of Mental Health.

The first wagon train arrived in California in 1841.

Express Appreciation

The family of Delbert O. Sloan would like to extend their appreciation to all the friends and loved ones who helped comfort them during their time of sorrow. Thanks to all who sent flowers or food, and to all who participated in the services in any way. We especially want to thank the ministers, Larry Keene, Kaminski Robinson, and Kenneth Salmons. A special thank you to the W.M.U. of the Immanuel Baptist Church for the delicious meal served to the family after the services. Also, we were grateful to the Hall Funeral Home for being so kind.

Church Group Hears Talk On Skills of Parenting

The First Presbyterian Women's Group of Prestonsburg heard a program last week on child abuse. Twelve members were present as Hugh and Alice Adams discussed what the new Parents Anonymous chapter is doing in this area to prevent child abuse and promote rewarding family relationships.

The program focused on what Parents Anonymous does for its members. PA is a self-help group where parents share equal responsibility for dealing with problems. The Adamses, co-sponsors, stressed a three-pronged approach: providing a warm and caring substitute family, dealing with problems on a do-it-now basis, and educating members on improving parenting skills. Some problems the group has discussed include temper tantrums, small children getting up at night, and disciplining by reward instead of punishment.

The Prestonsburg Chapter of Parents Anonymous, which began meeting in February, sponsored by PCC, also put certain problems before the women's group. One is rural transportation, how to obtain rides for members in outlying areas. Another is recruiting volunteers for the free childcare provided during weekly meetings. The chapter has a small number of dedicated volunteers but needs additional help. The phone number of the local sponsors is 874-9874.

Lively discussion followed the program led by members Mary Lou Layne and Rose Price. Refreshments were served by hostess Mrs. Rainley White.

President Drema Miller and Secretary/Treasurer Jane Bond discussed monthly business of the group which, like other Presbyterian committees, promotes community social services. A project this month is co-sponsoring the Food Pantry for senior citizens, together with the women of St. Martha's Catholic Church. First Presbyterian Women meet every first Tuesday at 7:30.

CANCER INFORMATION SERVICE 1-800-4-CANCER

Q—I am a widow of a veteran. Prior to my husband's death we planned to adopt a child who was supported by and lived with us. My husband died before we were able to do this. I receive Dependency Indemnity Compensation. Can I claim this child as a dependent?

A—A child living in the veteran's household at the time of his death, who is adopted by the surviving spouse within two years after the veteran's death, can be established as a dependent of the veteran.

Q—If I send original documents to the VA will they return them?

A—Yes. The VA will make a copy and return the original to you. Please identify the document as an original and request its return. Please include your VA claim number with any correspondence.

Q—I was released from active duty in 1970. My entitlement to education benefits expired. Will my home loan entitlement also expire?

A—No. Your home loan entitlement is good until you decide to use it.

TRIBUTE

By WILMAY

It was about 1927 that my husband answered a knock on our door one afternoon to admit and introduce a childhood friend of his who soon became one of the best known, most influential, and most admired men in this area. His name was Norman Allen. He was starting with his own paper that was later chosen the most outstanding county paper in the state. On the day of his visit Mr. Allen invited me to write for it. As time passed I learned a lot from him and was deeply indebted to him for encouragement and for correcting my mistakes. A young person once privileged to work in the Times office said Mr. Allen was like a father to him.

The editor and I had our last conversation not long before the tragic accident. I'm glad now to have told him he was the dean of Eastern Kentucky correspondents, in my estimation, for we are inclined to wait until it's too late to express appreciation. I meant he was chief or head of contemporary journalists, but he smiled and said, "Only from the standpoint of age." Modesty was one of his many virtues.

Through succeeding years, the Times won many friends. Among its unique features was its editor's beloved column, THIS TOWN THAT WORLD. Though not syndicated, it had staying power, and is engraved on the hearts of numerous readers. The clever wit, variety of keen observations, and memoirs of its writer provided topics that few could choose enough appropriate adjectives to describe it adequately. Like Mr. Allen's editorials the column displayed a depth of thought and a vocabulary worthy of a Ph.D. in his sincere down-to-earth way that held wide appeal. There was nothing phony about its originator.

The column came from a bottomless reservoir of ancient and current lore, cherished memories of yesteryear, plus intermittent jokes and comments from some modern sage. Its author, an avid reader with a quick and brilliant intellect, was a walking dictionary. His column was a treat to old folks who—like its creator—could adapt and accept parts of the new mores while retaining much of the old way of life that is essential, praiseworthy and good, but now almost alien to millions in current hectic lifestyles. It was informative and enjoyable, bringing laughter and tears to heart and soul. The down-to-earth quality that characterized its columnist portrayed his love of country, Eastern Kentucky, home, family, friends, nature, etc.

Someone remarked that if Mr. Allen had a shortcoming as a writer it was an occasional tendency to be soft on controversial issues. The IF is gigantic in size, for the truth is he hit the major disputations head on, and never missed a target. A good example was the editorial he wrote urging Governor Collins not to continue toll collections on the Mountain Parkway. He won! It was a typical sample of his coming to the defense of this section he loved so dearly.

Quite often time did not permit his writing on some subjects. Emergencies occur frequently in all news offices, consuming time, thought, attention, making some reasonable editorial impossible, for lack of space. Another cause of Mr. Allen's inimitable style was that he was innately kind and genteel. This was more apparent after he became a Christian several decades ago, falling in love with the Lord's work, faithfully serving not only as deacon in his church—Irene Cole or First Baptist of Prestonsburg—but teaching the Men's Bible Class a long while. At the funeral home last week one who came under his tutelage commented on his marked ability as a Bible instructor. In addition, he served on the Executive Board of the WESTERN RECORDER, the voice of Kentucky Baptists, for one or more terms, a distinct honor. Friends recall his prompt generosity to worthy causes, usually unsolicited, his thoughtfulness in not charging churches for publicity space for long, long years until the continuing influx of new churches necessitated same. The paper carried his unmistakable stamp, with a homey quality that we of our beloved pictureque hills appreciate.

Throughout life Mr. Allen remained deeply interested in education and progress. He had great faith in the future of our section, stood ready any time to lend a helping hand gladly, always doing everything in his power to inspire would-be or budding writers. To say he will be missed so keenly that it's doubtful anyone can ever completely fill his shoes may prove to be the understatement of the year.

WITH A WILL—THERE'S A WAY

If you own anything—a car, house, savings account, anything with monetary value—you should have a will.

With a will, you save your loved ones considerable time and money in the handling of your estate. Further, you are assured that your estate will not be executed by strangers, but by people you know and trust.

How do you make a will? First, see your lawyer. It's not all that expensive for most estate planning. He has the forms, knows the requirements of the state, and probably enough of your personal affairs to help in preparing for future management of your estate.

You may change your will whenever and however you wish. The important thing is to get started and to do it right away.

You may also include provision for funeral arrangements as part of the will. We can provide counseling without obligation, on this aspect of your will, but only this particular aspect.

We welcome your questions and comments—privately or publicly through this column.

Delayed Retirement Credits Available

People in the Big Sandy area nearing retirement age should know that a decision to delay retirement could result in increased future Social Security benefits. Jim Kelly, district director for the Big Sandy area, said recently. A worker will receive an increase in Social Security benefits of 3 percent for each year—or one-fourth percent for each month—from 65 to 70 that he or she does not get benefits because of work. Starting for workers who reach 65 in 1990, the delayed retirement credit will be increased gradually until it reaches 8 percent. In addition the person who works beyond age 65 may have their benefit recomputed to include their additional earnings, Kelly said. More information about delayed retirement credits can be obtained at the Big Sandy Area Social Security Office, located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. The telephone number is listed in your local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

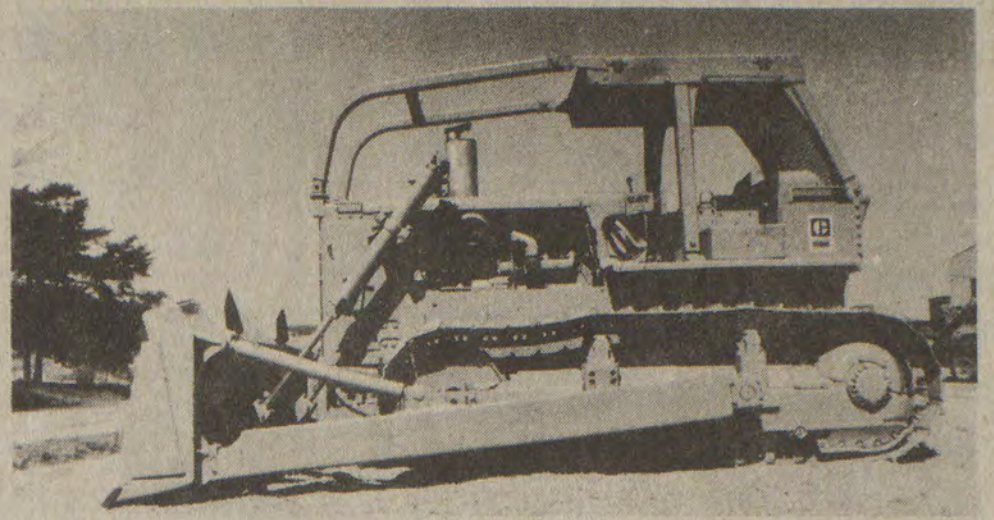

The average American dinner has been estimated to last 20 minutes.

Wheelwright Art Students Visit MSU

(MSU photo by Ray Bradley) Nearly 700 art students from 24 area high schools recently attended Art Day hosted by Morehead State University's Department of Art. The students spent the day touring the Claypool-Young Art Building and enjoying the many exhibits and demonstrations. Four Wheelwright High School students appreciated a unique exhibit. These students were, from left, Gina Johnson, Charlie Martin, Gary McCoy, and Tyra Newman.

Jobless Rate Up

Unemployment rates in 113 Kentucky counties were higher in January than in December, while in seven counties rates declined, according to figures released today by the Cabinet for Human Resources.

Ninety-eight counties reported rates of 10 percent or above, compared to 77 in December and 987 in January 1985.

In 58 counties jobless rates were higher in January than they were a year ago, while in another 58 they were lower and in four they were the same as in January 1985.

The county unemployment figures reflected the statewide increase from a revised 9.5 percent in December to a preliminary 11.6 percent in January. Nationally unemployment stood at 6.7 percent for the third month in a row. The comparable state and national rates are not seasonally adjusted.

State labor market analyst Ed Blackwell said many job losses in the state were temporary and seasonal. "We saw a reduction in trade jobs following the holiday shopping season and a temporary shutdown at automobile manufacturing plants. And we had normal weather-related declines in agricultural and construction jobs," he said.

In the Big Sandy district the jobless rate rose from a revised 13.0 percent in December to a preliminary 16.5 percent in January. All five counties reported rates above 10 percent, ranging from 15.2 percent in Pike county to 24.7 percent in Johnson county. The rate in Floyd county was 15.5 percent.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

AT WHAT PRICE

Money will always be a secondary consideration when one needs medication. However, if it is one's habit to just quietly watch while the physician writes a prescription, one may spend more for drugs than is necessary. The physician may have no choice about what to prescribe. Sometimes, only one drug will do. However, the doctor often has the option to choose from among several medications. For example, there are dozens of drugs that lower blood pressure. They provide roughly the same result but differ greatly in price. Studies have shown that many doctors do not consider the cost of medications. As a result, do not be shy about asking whether the least-expensive drug that will work has been prescribed.

Here at COOLEY APOTHECARY we anticipate the drug and medicinal needs of this community and keep in stock hundreds of drugs and medications for immediate availability. Although the majority of modern drug preparations are prepared by large manufacturers, our pharmacist continues to compound on special orders from physicians. Complete patient profiles are maintained here at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-4.

HANDY HINT:
Approximately four thousand drugs are now available as generics.

PCC Courses Cover Mine Safety, Flowers, Finances

Prestonsburg Community College is preparing to begin six continuing education classes. Program Evaluation will begin Monday, April 7. The course has two separate classes that meet each Monday and Friday. One begins from 1-4 p.m. and the other from 6-9 p.m. The course focuses on the evaluation of techniques used to determine the effectiveness of mining and industrial safety programs.

On Tuesday, April 8, State and Federal Mining Laws will begin. Two sections are taught each Tuesday and Thursday: 1-4 p.m. and 6-9 p.m. The course presents a global approach to the 1977 MSHA and the Commonwealth laws/regulations.

Wildflower Pilgrimage is a naturalist exploration which will last three consecutive days. It will start Thursday, April 24 and last through Monday, April 26. A minimal fee covers transportation and lodging in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Trail hikes, motorcades and photographic tours are scheduled in the Great Smokey Mountains National Park.

Beginning Darkroom Techniques begins on Tuesday, April 22. The course is designed for the amateur photographer.

On April 23, Financial Planning II will begin. The course covers wills and trusts, estate taxes, and gift taxes.

Information about the classes may be obtained from Mrs. Juanita Ratliff at 886-3863, extension 215.

Wins Art Honors

Kathy Keen, a freshman at Allen Central High School, recently won honors in the regional show of the Kentucky Art Education Association. She was selected as one of the winners for her pastel drawing.

The exhibit was held at Morehead State University in the Claypool-Young Art Building. This is an annual exhibition project supported by the Kentucky Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts. The work was judged by a jury consisting of faculty and student members of the Art Department and a local artist. The works selected for state competition will go to Frankfort.

Stanton Bentley, Mark Caudill, John Collins, Tony Gearheart, Jeff Hughes and Sandy Slone also had work shown in the display.

The entries were submitted by Mrs. Caralita O'Quinn, art instructor at Allen Central.

Miss Keen is the daughter of Ernest and Roxie Keen, of Wayland.

Portraits In Pastel

Portraits in pastel will be on display at the Prestonsburg Community College Library, April 10-14. Artist-Instructor Sam McKinney lauded the enthusiasm and progress of students during a recent four-week course.

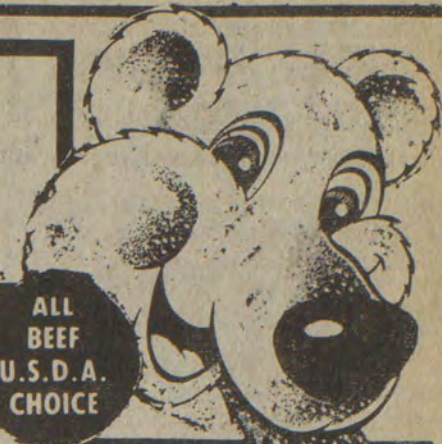

Students participating in the class are Carol Daniels and Carol Martin, of Prestonsburg, Marita Cain and Pam Oldfield, of Morgan county, Rossalene Cox, from Inez, Sandi Cooley, Deanie Francis, Justine Hickman, Virginia Smith, Joann West, and Barbara Derossett, from Pike county, Peggy Wells, from Paintsville, Patricia Franzier and Tom J. Whitaker, from Magoffin county.

A reception with artists present will be held April 10 from 6-8 p.m. The public is invited.

Some Households Will Get Sneak Preview Of Questions To Be Asked in 1990 Census

A select 48,000 households across America—including some in this area—will get a "sneak preview" this week of the questions the Commerce Department's Census Bureau is thinking about asking in the 1990 Census of Population and Housing.

The households, picked to represent a scientific sample of the entire population, will receive their preview census questionnaires through the mail at the end of March, just as most households will in 1990.

Eight different questionnaires will be used in what the Census Bureau calls its National Content Survey. Recipients of the 1986 questionnaires are asked to answer all questions and mail the completed forms back to the Census Bureau in postage-paid envelopes on April 1 or as soon thereafter as possible.

Most questions are similar to the ones asked in previous censuses: age, race, sex, marital status, income, education, type of housing unit, type of heating fuel used, value of the home or average monthly rent paid, and so on. These basic questions also will be asked in 1990.

But some questions are new and, if survey results warrant, could be reported to members of Congress in 1987 and 1988 for inclusion on the 1990 census questionnaire. The new topics include:

- More detailed questions for persons who are disabled or who have health problems that limit their ability to work and perform other activities. Types of health impairments, such as heart disease, blindness, or absence of limbs, also are being asked.

- The addition of "solar" to the possible answers to a question about types of fuel used to heat a home.

- A question on the number of smoke detectors in a home.

- More detailed questions about education such as highest college degree received and in what field; and whether vocational training has been received and in what field.

- Whether a person receives pension income and what type and amount.

- The number and type of motor vehicles used by members of a household and the total annual mileage driven.

- Queries about any second jobs held by members of the households.

Most new questions appear only on the long form, which contains about 65 questions, while the short form contains only 20 questions. (The long form includes the same basic questions asked on the short form.)

Many of the new questions were suggested to the Census Bureau during 65 local public meetings conducted across the nation during 1984-85. At least one public meeting was held in each state and more than 5,000 persons participated. They represented a wide variety of census information users in state and local governments, community organizations, nonprofit groups, and businesses of every sort.

In addition, a federal government interagency committee submits ideas for questions based on their program and legislative needs. Nearly every question asked by the Census Bureau serves an information need identified by Congress.

"This survey is a key activity in preparing for the 1990 census," said John G. Keane, director of the Census Bureau, in a message to households receiving the 1986 test questionnaires. "To...do our job well, we need your help in determining what to ask in the 1990 census."

"The census is more than just a count of the population," Keane continued. "It is a chance for us to take stock of ourselves as a people and successfully meet future local and national challenges. The 1990 census will be your personal and national bridge to the 21st century."

The federal census law (Title 13 of the U.S. Code) requires those receiving the content survey questionnaire to answer the questions. Those who fail to mail back the census forms will receive a second questionnaire and, if necessary, will be contacted in person later by census takers who will conduct interviews to complete the questionnaires.

Individual's answers to census questions are confidential by law. Only statistical totals, combined from answers of all respondents, are used. Census Bureau employees, who will analyze the results of the 1986 National Content Test, are sworn to keep personal information secret or face fines or imprisonment for any violation. The Census Bureau has a long tradition of maintaining the confidentiality of personal information given to it by the American people.

The primary purpose of the decennial census is stated in Article I, Section 2 of the U.S. Constitution: a tabulation of the population every 10 years so that seats in the House of Representatives can be divided fairly among the states based on population and the principle of "one person-one vote." Local and state governments also use census numbers to draw other election districts.

Decennial census facts are used by business people, neighborhood leaders, teachers, government planners at every level, and anyone who needs to understand what's happening to Americans and their housing.

Billions of dollars are distributed annually by federal and state governments to counties and municipalities based on census information.

The Census Bureau began planning the 1990 census in 1983. Evaluations of 1980 census operations preceded actual local censuses. Designed to evaluate new procedures and equipment for use in 1990, local censuses were conducted in Tampa, Fla., and Jersey City, N.J., in 1985; are now under way in Central Los Angeles County, Calif., and East Central Mississippi; and will be held in North Central North Dakota next year. In 1988, a census dress rehearsal will be conducted as a final check of methods and machinery selected for use nationwide in 1990.

Census Day 1990 will be April 1. It will mark the 200th year since the first decennial census in 1790 when George Washington was president. Thomas Jefferson, then secretary of state, was the first census director.

A population of 3.9 million was reported in the first census. The 1990 census is expected to show a population of 250 million. The current population is approximately 240.3 million.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT 85-CI-826

The Bank Josephine...Pliffs. VS: NOTICE OF SALE Ray Jones & Bobbie Jones.....Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the February 18 term, 1986, in the above-styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 10 day of April, 1986, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of sixty (60) days the following described property, to-wit:

That certain tract of land, lying and being situated on the waters of Abner Fork of Left Beaver Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky, and being the same land conveyed defendants by deed of Raymond and Thelma Jones on July 12, 1983, as recorded in Deed Book 277, page 248 in the office of the Floyd County Clerk, described more particularly as follows, viz:

Beginning at Raymond Jones line and wire fence; thence to a culvert; thence around the hill to Raymond Jones line; thence up the hill to the State Highway line; thence down with the State Highway right of way to culvert at the beginning, so as to include all land in said boundary, containing one-half (1/2) acre, more or less.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $21,145.55 with interest thereon at 12% annually from the 18 day of February, 1986 until satisfied and accrued interest of $2913.66 and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 24 day of March, 1986. MARSHALL DAVIDSON, Master Commissioner 3-26-31.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 836-0106 Amendment No. 1. In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Long Fork Coal Corporation, Box 310, West Prestonsburg, Ky. 41668 (606) 886-1418 has filed an application for an amendment to a surface and underground coal mining operation. The original permit was 157.0 acres. This amendment adds 47.10 acres of surface mining and 21.0 acres of auger and underground mining, for a new total permitted area of 225.10 acres. The proposed operation is located 1.0 mile northwest of Galveston in Floyd county.

The proposed operation is approximately .25 mile north of KY 979's junction with Red Morg Branch Road, and located .25 mile east of Mud Creek. The latitude is 37° 26' 06". The longitude is 82° 38' 17".

The surface area is owned by Levi Tackett, Holly Conley, et al., Emmitt Howell, Della Hamilton Heirs, Chester Blankenship, Mona Hall, Ralph Moore and G.B. Spears. The operation will also underlie land owned by Levi Tackett, Holly Conley, et al., Emmitt Howell, Della Hamilton Heirs, Ralph Moore, Chester Blankenship, Mona Hall and G.B. Spears. The proposed operation is located on the McDowell USGS 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The operation will use the contour stripping, augering and deep mining methods of mining.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 3-26-31.

NOTICE OF EXPERIMENTAL PRACTICE

Pursuant to Permit 436-9000 Rev. In accordance with Provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Bailey Mining Company, HC 72, Box 195, Price, Kentucky 41636, has filed an application for an experimental revegetation practice. This experimental practice will affect a surface area of 6.35 acres, and is located 1 mile south of Weeksbury, Floyd County, Kentucky.

The site of the proposed experimental practice is approximately 3 miles south from the junction of Highway 122 with Highway 466, and is 0.12 mile east of Beaver Creek. The latitude is 37° 18' 23" and the longitude is 82° 42' 02". The site is located on the Wheelwright USGS 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface is owned by Collins Mayo Collieries.

The post mining land use for the disturbed area will be hay field and pasture land.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Office, South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Written comments, objections, and requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 3-19-31.

This is the final advertisement of this application; all comments, objections and/or request for a permit conference must be received within thirty (30) days of today's date. 11.

BID NOTICE

The Floyd County Board of Education will receive sealed bids until May 2, 1986 for Athletic supplies and equipment for all elementary and high schools.

Interested suppliers must contact each individual school Principal to receive a listing of desired equipment. Bid lists are to be obtained from school Principals and bid proposals are to be mailed to individual school principals.

The Floyd County Board of Education reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bid quotations. s/RAY BRACKETT, Superintendent Floyd County Schools 4-9-31.

True or false? Husbands and wives should do everything together. According to the April Reader's Digest, that's one of many marital myths that can easily unravel a marriage. Couples should actually spend 20 or 25 percent of their time apart to permit individual growth and privacy.

PUBLIC NOTICE

County Road Aid Proposed Use Hearing A public hearing will be held by Floyd County at the Courthouse Annex on April 16, 1986 at 9:30 a.m. for the purpose of obtaining written and oral comments of citizens regarding possible uses of the County Road Aid funds. The County currently has $30,000.00 in carry-over funds from fiscal year 1985-1986 and estimates it will receive $657,155.00 during fiscal year 1986-1987, for a total of $687,155.00.

All interested persons and organizations in Floyd County are invited to the public hearing to submit oral or written comments on possible uses of the County Road Aid funds. Any person (s), especially senior citizens, who cannot submit written comments or attend the public hearing but wish to submit comments, should call the office of the County Judge/Executive by April 15, 1986 so that the County may make arrangements to secure their comments.

FLOYD COUNTY FISCAL COURT John M. Stumbo County Judge Executive 4-9-21.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application No. 836-0162 Amendment No. 1 (1) In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Branham & Baker Coal Co., Inc., 328 North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653, has filed an application for a permit for a surface coal mining and reclamation operation of approximately 36.5 acres located 3 1/4 miles north of Hippo in Floyd county.

(2) The proposed operation is approximately 0.75 miles south from St. Rt. 850 junction with Pitts Fork County Road and located 0.2 miles south of Pitts Fork of Left Fork of Middle Creek. The latitude is 37° 33' 03". The longitude is 82° 51' 30". The surface area is owned by Maurice Allen & Lawrence Howard.

(3) The proposed operation is located on the Martin U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The operation will use the mountaintop removal method of mining. The application also includes a proposed land use change from the steep slope forest land pre-mining land use to a gentle & flat slope forest land postmining land use on Maurice Allen & Lawrence Howard Tracts.

(4) The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, 6th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. 4-9-31.

Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Bridget Conn has been named a United States National Award winner in History and Government.

She was nominated for this award by Aileen Brown, a history teacher at Prestonsburg High School where she is a junior.

Miss Conn is the daughter of Roy and Patsy Conn, of Endicott. Her grandparents are Jerlen Jervis, of Endicott, and the late Curtis Jervis and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Conn, of Martin.

"Little People" Are Losers In Legislature, Says KFTC

Small landowners, residents of mineral-producing counties and people interested in fair taxation and clean water were the losers in the 1986 General Assembly because of manipulations by a handful of legislators.

That's the analysis of the recently-concluded state legislature offered by members of the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition. The statewide citizens coalition of 1,300 members said at a Frankfort press conference that House Majority Floor Leader Greg Stumbo and Speaker of the House Don Blandford led the attack against legislation designed to help "little people."

"The 1986 legislative session should be remembered by the citizens of Kentucky as one of the most pro-industry, anti-people ever held," said KFTC Chairperson Sidney Cornett. "Some House members were earning their campaign money by cleverly sabotaging or watering down several bills actively supported by KFTC and thousands across the state."

Specific bills mentioned by the Perry county resident included House Bill 503 which would have protected small landowners from paying a court-ordered tax on unmined minerals, House Bill 809 which would have given surface owners the right to receive notification before oil or gas drilling activities commenced on their land, House Bill 511 which would have given local governments control over the siting of hazardous waste facilities in their county, and House Bill 655 which would have allowed taxpayers to challenge unfairly low property assessments of other landowners in their county.

Coalition members noted that these bills and others were not simply defeated since many were approved by the original committee they were assigned to. But at some point in the legislative process they were killed by being denied a fair hearing and vote. House leaders had a hand in the demise of each of these bills.

"Our system is supposed to allow the public to participate in the democratic process, but this has been circumvented by the legislature giving a few individuals enough power to kill bills simply because they don't like them," Cornett continued. "This is a most dangerous situation and one in which every citizen should be worried about."

"Who's lobbying for the people? Who's looking out for the widow when some coal company is stripping her home away? I saw that nobody is looking out for her in the legislature," Cornett stated. "By contrast, a bill to protect Ashland Oil went through the House and the Senate and was signed by the Governor in record time."

Celebrates Third Birthday

Kayla Renee Ward celebrated her third birthday, March 15, at her home at Martin. She enjoyed a Rainbow Brite party and received many nice gifts from family and friends.

She is the daughter of Ronda and Bobby Ward, of Martin and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wells, of Auxier, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Meade, of Prestonsburg, Ernestine Ward, of Martin and the late Bobby H. Ward.

USDA SIGNUP EXTENDED

Signup for the 1986 wheat, feed grain, cotton and rice programs will be extended for two weeks through April 25, Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng announced recently.

The original cutoff date was April 11, but Lyng said the extension was being made to give producers more time to consider recent program changes.

Gardening Begins Now For Vegetables

It's time for home gardeners to sharpen up their shears and towel off their trowels, planting time is here!

"Several vegetables are suitable for spring planting in late March or early April. Some vegetables can be started in the garden from seeds, but other should be started from transplants," said Mary Whitt, home horticulturist with the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service.

Early spring is the best time to plant salad crops such as young beet greens, Bibb and leaf lettuce, endive, Chinese Cabbage, onions, spinach and radishes.

Vegetables in the cabbage family can be planted now. Broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, and cauliflower. Chinese cabbage and kohlrabi should be transplanted. Swiss chard can be seeded. A light frost in late April will not hurt them.

This is the time to get the root crops in, too. Beets, carrots, turnips and potatoes are in this group.

Crops grown for greens, such as collards, kale, mustard, turnips and Swiss chard, can be planted now, as can English peas and edible-podded peas.

For more information on getting your spring garden underway, stop by the Floyd County Extension Office located in the Floyd County Courthouse Annex Building or phone 886-2668 for a copy of Gardening in Kentucky.

As we all know, a nocturnal animal is one that is active at night. But what is a day-active animal called? Dinural, says International Wildlife magazine.

Class on Handling Hazardous Materials

For local fire, police, EMT, rescue squads, and other emergency personnel: the greatest fear in responding to a train derailment is the involvement of hazardous materials. They never know when they will arrive at a scene and find car load after car load of dangerous, toxic substances on the ground or in the air. Advance knowledge on how to handle these situations can lessen the danger to the people involved. Kentucky Disaster and Emergency Service and the Chessie System, concerned about the welfare of the public and the emergency responders, together are attempting to insure the safety of those who respond to these problems.

The Kentucky Disaster and Emergency Services, in cooperation with the Chessie System Railroad, will be conducting a class on Emergency Response to Train Derailments Involving Hazardous Materials.

All emergency response agencies are welcome and encouraged to attend. EMT's, and fire service personnel will be able to receive hours toward their recertifications. Gene Karchesky, instructor, is a hazardous materials specialist for the Chessie System.

The class will last approximately four hours and will be held at Prestonsburg Community College in Pike Auditorium, April 12. Registration will begin at 8 a.m., and class begins at 9 a.m.

Because of space limitations, the class must be restricted to emergency response personnel.

For further information, call the KyDES Area 9 Office at 886-9157.

Bassin' With The Pros...

Spring Tackle Care Tips

By TREY FORESTER

Over the many years I've been fishing, I often have found myself in a situation where I've asked, "Now how would a pro handle this?" "Bassin' with the Pros" is a new column that will feature professional bass fishermen providing the answers to many of the questions I've asked, and I hope to many of your questions as well. The column also will offer tips on fishing equipment and its proper use and care to help all of us catch more bass.

Before you hit the water for the first day of the new season, you should make sure your equipment is as ready for bass action as you are. Spring is the time of year that most anglers inspect their tackle—that is, if they inspect it at all. 'Tis the season to check over your rods, reels, line, lures and tackleboxes. With the costs of these items going up each year, proper maintenance can keep these tools productive for many, many years.

Here's the basic "spring workout" that I take my gear through.

*Tackleboxes—Completely empty the boxes and sort the contents according to types of tackle. Once the box is empty, remove any rust left by the lures and any film residue. I use an old toothbrush and a mild dishsoap for this job. Rinse the box thoroughly, blot it dry, and then let it air dry. I complete the cleaning process with an inspection of the box's hardware—handles, latches, etc.

*Sharpen hooks—This is probably one of the most important areas overlooked by most anglers. A good, sharp hook will catch more fish. There are two types of hooks, the straight-point and curved-point. Each is sharpened differently. The straight-point hook is sharpened with a file at three different angles to make a triangular-shaped cutting edge. The curved-point hook is attacked with a rounded hone, which sharpens the two sides of the hook. If you can't eye the sharpness of the cutting edges, here's a test that my father taught me: drag the hook across your thumbnail. If the hook sticks into your nail while you are applying little or no pressure, then the hook is sharp.

*Plugs—Polish your plugs with a damp cloth. Eliminate any rust on the hooks and put the original shape back into them with a needlenosed pliers. Check the lips, hook hangers, propellers and blades.

*Spinnerbaits—Check all the metal parts for the slightest sign of rust. I touch up any lead heads that show chipping. I look at the skirts and replace those that have seen better days. I wash each lure with a damp rag and wipe dry.

*Spinners—Check all the metal parts for that nasty rust and remove it wherever it occurs. Inspect the clevises and blades for effortless operation. Then, give the spinners a quick coating of demosteirizing oil.

*Jigs—Check the lead heads for chipping and repaint them if necessary. Also, look over the skirts for wear, tear and discoloration. Re-tie the skirts out of bucktail or FisHair.

*Soft plastics—I keep all my soft plastic lures in a separate tacklebox, or transfer a few of my favorite plastic worms to baby food jars for leak-proof storage. The soft plastic lure contains plasticizer, an oily substance that gives the plastic its pliability. The plasticizer can leak with age or heat and can damage other lures stored nearby. If your soft plastic "springs a leak," be sure to scour the affected compartment and discard the pieces struck by the "oil spill."

*Line—If you remember that the only thing between you and a trophy bass is your line, you might start taking a lot more interest in its condition. Cut off about five feet of line after every two or three hours of fishing. Remove any portion of line that shows nicks or abrasions.

*Rods—Wash your rods with a dishsoap solution and wipe them dry. Inspect the blanks, handles, guides, tips, and wrapping or wear. If there is something wrong, don't hesitate to take the rod to a qualified repair shop for the necessary improvement.

*Reels—All reels need to be periodically oiled and greased according to the manufacturer's instructions. As a rule of thumb, I take my reels to a repair shop every year for their "spring tuneup"—much like I take my car in for its checkup. I have the shop check parts for wear, repair or replace parts necessary, oil and grease the reels and put on new line. With the proper care and maintenance, reels should last you many, many years.

Have any questions you'd like a bass pro to answer? Jot it down and mail it to "Bassin' with the Pros" at this newspaper.

We've engineered dependability into every central air conditioning system we make.

When you buy a central air conditioning system, you want dependability and freedom from worry. You want a system that's tough enough to stand up to anything summer can dish out.

To insure that our systems give you the dependability you're looking for, we engineer it into them. And, before any Heil product goes to market, we put it through one of the toughest product testing labs in the country—our own. If it doesn't measure up, it never leaves the drawing board.

For the most economical system to the super-advanced, energy-efficient Hermitage Elite air conditioning system, Heil is the choice for proven dependability.

TO: THE PEOPLE OF THE 95TH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT: A LEGISLATIVE REPORT

I want to say "Thank You" for giving me the opportunity to serve you for the next two years as your State Representative. It has been hectic in Frankfort during these past three months, but I feel when you see the results you will agree the effort has been well spent.

The 1986-88 Legislative Package provides the following for Floyd County:

- Over 12 million dollars for NEW school construction
- A new building at Prestonsburg Community College
- A new Severence Tax formula which will guarantee a return in excess of $1,000,000.00 (one million dollars) each year to our county
- Over $100,000,000.00 (one hundred million dollars) in Road and Bridge Construction contained in the six year road plan
- An overweight Coal-Truck Bill expected to generate in excess of $10,000,000.00 (ten million dollars) to repair roads in Coal Producing Counties
- Over $500,000.00 (five hundred thousand) new dollars each year to County and City Government for Road Repair

The list goes on with increased benefits for retired teachers, new power equalization money and active teacher salary supplements to improve our educational system and a 5% per year raise for state employees.

As Majority Floor Leader in the House, I am proud to report these substantial accomplishments to you and to say that for this session I feel Eastern Kentucky did its share. I would also like to give the results of the questionnaire which was mailed out—nearly 1,000 responses were received.

The Poll Revealed:

1. Eighty-six percent of those polled were for the "State Lottery," 7% were against it, and 4% were undecided.
2. Fifty-seven percent of those polled were for the "Bottle Bill," 33% were opposed to it, and 10% were undecided.
3. Eighty-six percent of those polled supported the Public Ballot on the "Superintendent" issue, 15% were for Appointment By The Governor, and 4% were undecided about the issue.
4. Thirty-eight percent of those polled were for the "Unmined Minerals Tax," 40% were opposed to it, and 22% were undecided.
5. Eighty percent of those polled said "Yes" to the "Per-Ton Usage Fee," 15% said "No," and 5% were undecided.
6. Forty-one percent of those polled wanted stricter "Regulations on the Coal Industry," 49% felt it was adequate as is, and 9% had no definite opinion.
7. Forty-three percent answering the poll supported a "Sales Tax" increase, 51% were against it, and 6% were undecided.
8. Forty-five percent responding answered "Yes" to "Tax Increase," 44% said "No," and 11% were undecided.
9. Thirty-one percent of those polled felt that the number of the state's "Nursing Home" beds adequately meet the needs of Kentuckians, 57% felt there needed to be more, and 12% had no definite opinion.

Who's This Mother Hubbard?...

Real Estate Jargon Needs Translation

Every trade or profession has its own jargon—words and phrases that insiders understand but are a foreign language to most others. It's hard enough to learn the meaning of words used by one profession, but those buying, renting, insuring, remodeling or building a home will have to translate lawyerspeak, builderspeak, bankspeak and real-estatespeak, into something they can understand.

They will encounter modern-day Tower of Babel. What is most frustrating is that the real estate person, lender, builder and architect are all speaking English but they give familiar words meanings that have no relation to what we would expect.

For instance, if a "kicker" conjures up a vision of a soccer player or a goal post with a football sailing through, that is not what it means when the person using the term is a landlord or lender. To these people it means an extra charge in addition to the rent or principal and interest. For instance if a store is rented for $1,000 a month, the landlord may ask for a "kicker" of three percent extra for all the business you do over $30,000 for the month. A lender for an income property might add a "kicker" that gives him a portion of all rents over a certain dollar amount.

Boiler plate does not refer to the walls of your furnace when you are dealing with those involved in law or real estate. Boiler plate is the pre-printed form that contains most standard clauses of the type of contract, lease or mortgage that you will be asked to sign. Before you sign the boiler plate contract, the names of those involved and other specific details will be added.

When the landlord wants an escalator, he isn't asking for a moving stairway to take him to the second floor. He means that he has inserted an escalator in the lease that will raise the rent at intervals during your tenancy.

Bridge financing is for people who will never own a roadway over a river. It is an interim loan until a longer term loan is provided. For instance, a person selling one house and buying another may need to borrow money for a down payment and closing on his new home, if his former dwelling has not yet been sold and paid for. Or a builder may need construction money until he sells a house. Lintels are not used for soup. Lintels are beams over open spaces in your walls, such as doors, windows or fire-places. They spread the weight from above over a longer span and decrease the pressure on the door or window frame.

Neither Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac are college friends of your husband. Fannie Mae is the nickname of Federal National Mortgage Association and Freddie Mac is Federal Home Loan Mortgage Association. Both buy mortgages from lenders so that they have money to relend to other people wanting mortgages.

Points are not the tips of arrows and spears, although they too can hurt. To a lender or a borrower, points are a percentage of the amount to be borrowed that is paid to the lender to increase his profit. Each point is one percent. For instance four points on a $50,000 mortgage would be four percent of $50,000 which is $2,000. This is in addition to whatever interest is being charged.

Although you might suspect that a party wall is a place to lean during conversation at a cocktail party, to a builder it is the common wall between two buildings.

Ante to a lawyer is not money put in a pot during a poker game. Ante is simply Latin for "before". This is one of many cases in which lawyers use unfamiliar Latin words and phrases in place of familiar English words. Cynics have suspected that it is to force you to go to a lawyer to decipher contracts prepared by another lawyer.

To help people translate this sometimes incomprehensible jargon, the Consumer Education Research Center, a national non-profit organization, has just compiled a dictionary of words and phrases you need to know to rent, buy, lease, insure or mortgage property. Homeowners and Renters Guide to the Language of Real Estate, Banking, Law and Building can be ordered from CERC, 439 Clark Street, South Orange, N.J. 07079.

There are literally hundreds of common English words which don't mean the same things to these professionals as they do to you and me. For instance, a balloon to a lender is not for celebrating. And when it comes due, a balloon usually does not make a borrower joyful. A balloon is a final payment on a loan that is much larger than regular payments. In order to keep their commitment to a short period, a bank may arrange a five year loan calling for 59 payments of $800 and a last payment of $60,000. The borrower is expected to renegotiate another mortgage for the $60,000 with the banker or another lender. Many times this is due when mortgage money is tight or the borrower's credit rating has been tarnished and the balloon cannot be refinanced. Result? Another home for the sheriff to sell at the auction.

If you find a bird dog at your door, don't call the ASPCA. She is a canvasser trying to get "leads," which could result in real estate listings or home improvement sales.

A shoe to an architect or builder is a moulding used at the bottom of the baseboard and a heel is part of a vertical framing member which rests closest to the floor. If you need strings, those are the side pieces that support the steps. Tendons are the materials used to reinforce concrete, such as cable or wire. Oh yes, a sole owner of property might have bought it on a shoe string (little money down).

A kite winder won't help you keep that high flier in the air. To a builder or architect, a kite winder is those few steps that take you around the curve in a stairway.

You may think that Mother Hubbard is a woman, a dress or a cupboard. Not in the mortgage business. To them, Mother Hubbard is a clause in a loan agreement that allows the lender, in the case of default, to foreclose not only on the mortgage but on any other collateralized loan they own.

A builder keeps a light in the window, sometimes six lights. A light is one section of glass in the window sash. A weep hole isn't where you cry when the mortgage payment comes due, it's a hole in the siding that permits moisture to leave the home. Prescription in lawyer language is acquiring a property through adverse possession. A parcel is a piece of property.

Don't be upset if your daughter has a few studs in her room. You do to. Those are the 2x4s that go from the floor to the ceiling inside the walls. Don't call the navy about the sub base outside your home. Sub base is the gravel or stone under your driveway or patio.

Robert L. Berko, executive director of CERC says that if there is to be a "meeting of the minds" (definition in the book) between you and any or all of the above professions, you must know what they are saying. This book will translate their insider's jargon into English.

Like the VCR Ban Scare of 5 Years Ago—More Smoke Than Fire - But It Makes Good Scary Newspaper Copy!

Questions To Ask Yourself

1. Why have some of the larger cable companies (i.e. Cox Cable Comp., Rated No. 4 nationwide, etc.) recently spent millions on home satellite equipment to sell to home owners if everything is going to be scrambled?
2. Why are the major electronics manufacturers (i.e. RCA, Zenith, Kenwood, Panasonic, etc.) spending millions to produce quality satellite products if the skies are going black?
3. Why are the national retail chains (i.e. Sears, Radio Shack, Curtis Mathis, etc.) committing to millions of dollars of satellite equipment for their stores if you won't be able to watch anything on it?
4. Why have RCA, Hughes and Western Union spent hundreds of millions in the last 4 months to shuttle launch new satellites if only a select audience will be able to see the programs?

THE ANSWER IS OBVIOUS!!

They feel they are going to make money.

5. Why do you read and see so much anti-dish propaganda from cable and news sources?

THIS ANSWER IS ALSO OBVIOUS

Of the 50,000 - 70,000 dish sales per month, 21% - 33% are in cable areas, which results in lost revenue for both the cable company and some cities where they get percentages of revenue.

What is the future to all this:

1. Advertisers create free TV - Corporations are not going to stop advertising.
2. More new free channels going on air than scrambling.
3. Equipment is getting fancier and prices will probably increase with features.
4. Cable companies will become a major urban retailer of satellite equipment.
5. Major retailers and large independent dealers will also survive the transition of satellite systems going big business.
