

IF NEITHER LOCAL residents nor the county school bus could any longer drive their road, neither would the gravel trucks they accuse of tearing it up, a group of Shortwood residents vowed last week. On a picket line last Thursday were, from left, Millie Delpont, Ellen Sellards, and Joanne Belcher. The women took their protest to the Floyd Fiscal Court on Friday and, on Monday, continued to picket the county courthouse. They said they intended to again bar the Shortwood road to Adams Construction Co. trucks today (Wednesday) and may seek a court order enjoining the company from using the road. "We're going to stop them one way or another," Mrs. Sellards said.

Civic Groups Ask Cleanup Aid of Court

Representatives of nine civic organizations were among the unusually large crowd that packed the fiscal courtroom Friday—a crowd already swollen by students from Wheelwright High School, on hand to see the workings of county government—and they urged the magistrates to make a concerted effort to have trash and debris cleaned from the countryside.

"We don't have to travel to Vermont to see scenery. We have it here," said Dorothy Osborne, "but we are inundated with people who are breaking the law but are not prosecuted." Groups represented at the meeting included women's clubs from the Prestonsburg, Drift, Allen, Wheelwright, Lackey, Garrett and Wayland areas, the Prestonsburg Kiwanians, the Miriam Rebekah Lodge, county homemakers' clubs, and the American Association of Retired Persons.

Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo said scofflaws were hard to catch without assistance from the public. "They're like thieves," he said. "When the ecology officer is around, they're not."

Acting Schools Superintendent Ray Brackett made a bid for part of the $1 million which came to the county recently in a windfall gas severance tax. With $150,000, he could have roofs repaired at the Clark, Betsy Layne and Osborne grade schools and at Allen Central High

Many Complain, Pickets March As Court Meets

As large and as hostile a crowd as has been seen at Floyd Fiscal Court in many years pressed into the court's narrow meeting room Friday and the subject on most people's minds was the state of the county roads.

Always a lively issue as freezing weather plays havoc with the roads, anger over bone-shaking potholes and axle-deep mud appears to have been fanned the last two years by a cost-cutting decision to lay off most of the county's road workers for the three winter months on grounds that the weather makes road maintenance almost impossible during that period.

Delegations from Shortwood, Rough and Tough, Calf Creek, Conley Fork and Sugarloaf hammered the court with complaints of children forced to walk to school in the mud, of damage done to vehicles, of broken election promises. "I don't see why we have to come down and beg you guys," one Rough and Tough resident thundered. "Why can't you get some kind of (road maintenance) program going?"

Ellen Sellards, who lives on a dirt road connecting Banner and Allen and known as the Shortwood road, vowed that no trucks would run on the road until it is repaired. Mrs. Sellards and a group of neighbors blocked the road Thursday, claiming that gravel trucks operated by Adams Construction Company—which uses the Shortwood road for access whenever a low-water crossing over the Big Sandy is covered—have torn it up. "Those trucks are going to have to run over us first," Mrs. Sellards said. "If you want to take us to jail, take us to jail." The group continued its protest with a picket line outside the courthouse Monday.

Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo said the reduced county crew was working as hard as it could to keep up with the roads and that priority was given to those—25 at last count—that have deteriorated to the point that school buses cannot negotiate them. "We're trying to work on them as fast as we can. That's all we can do," he said.

As far as bridge construction is concerned, the good news was the authorization of an advertisement for bids for widening a bridge serving the Clark Elementary School and for replacement

Stores Remain Open At Shopping Center

Engineer Reports Highwall Unstable, Asks Monitoring

Existing stores will be allowed to continue operations but extensive reclamation of highwalls on the north and south perimeters of Prestonsburg Village must be undertaken before construction on the new shopping complex is allowed to proceed, Prestonsburg City Council decided Monday.

The council decision came in response to an engineer's finding that "both highwalls are currently unstable and pose significant hazards" to people in the vicinity. Neither wall was constructed according to design specifications, reported Martin B. Feamster, who also acknowledged "some potential for a catastrophic failure" of the south wall bordering the Wal-Mart and Winn-Dixie stores.

The council accepted the engineer's recommendation that the newly-opened department store and supermarket be allowed to continue operating and that the highwall behind them be monitored for any movement that might signal an impending failure. Feamster suggested that the south wall be monitored weekly until after the spring thaw and then every two weeks until the wall is reconstructed. Reclamation should be completed by November, he said.

Until work begins on the reconstruction, barricades should be erected to prevent access to the area behind the stores, power lines should be relocated to another area, the benches and base of the highwall should be cleared of loose rock, and a limestone wall, 20 feet wide and seven feet high, should be built behind the stores along their entire length, the engineer said. The council accepted the first three recommendations but voted against construction of the protective wall on the advice of Code Enforcement Officer Paul Chaffins, who said it would impede the movement of fire and other emergency vehicles.

The engineer concurred in an earlier decision by city officials to order a halt to the construction of stores on the northern side of the development site. "We can see no alternative to reconstructing the entire north wall and any such construction is very likely to damage that part of the buildings now existing," the report said. The council accepted Feamster's recommendation to barricade the area and ban further construction until the highwall is reclaimed. No completion date for the work was set, the engineer saying that should be negotiated between the city and the developer.

Serenity House Ordered To Move

Big Sandy Serenity House, a haven for recovered substance abusers attempting to get back on their feet, will soon have to move from its present location here.

According to Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta, the house, on the corner of Half and Hager Streets, is in a section not zoned for such an enterprise. She also cited complaints from Serenity House's neighbors as a reason for directing the group to find new quarters.

Latta said she discussed the matter informally with Serenity House's Betty Christian several weeks ago, telling her then the group would have to move. The mayor later directed City Attorney Larry Brown to send a letter to the board of directors, advising them of the city's position.

In the letter, dated February 18, Brown advised Serenity House not to accept any more residents, to get those out who are now there, and to close their doors within 30 days.

The letter further says the group needs to acquire a city license. According to Latta, they are only now in the process of obtaining a license from the state Cabinet for Human Resources.

If the organization so desired, a zoning variance could be applied for, but City Administrator David Evans said the present quarters are probably too small for the program to continue there. Evans noted Serenity House provided a beneficial service, with the city's only qualm being their present location.

Board Sets Special Meeting

The Floyd Board of Education will meet in special session this (Wednesday) evening at 6 p.m., Acting Superintendent Ray Brackett announced Monday. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the merits of the four candidates for superintendent who have recently been interviewed, he said.

Named Ass't Chief, Potter's No Rookie

Prestonsburg has a new assistant police chief, and he's hardly a rookie. After serving on the force since 1949, Bill Potter knows as much about law enforcement here as anyone.

A man can see a lot of changes in 37 years, and Captain Potter has seen his share, both in the city and the police department. In both cases, he finds the changes beneficial.

"We've got better streets, a bigger fire department than when I started," he said. "The town's expanded; we've built a lot of new buildings." And the police force has changed a lot, too.

"When I started, you didn't have to go to school. You didn't have to have a high school diploma. Now they send you to school at Eastern." There are other improvements made since Potter became an officer.

"From 1948 through 1958 or '59 we only had one police car, and it didn't have a radio," he said. "Once you got away from the station, that was it." Potter says better training for officers and the equipping of cruisers with two-way radios have resulted in a more efficient police force.

But for all the apparent changes here, Potter says people haven't changed much. "I think people in general are about the same," he said. "They've always come and told me things. I've had people I've arrested come and tell me things leading to arrests of others."

Potter also confessed to a rapport with young people, saying that he and wife

Myrtle Jo often entertain young folk at their home. This feeling for youth serves him well in one facet of his duties, as crossing guard at the grade school some afternoons. Though Potter takes such duty seriously, he handles more difficult assignments as well.

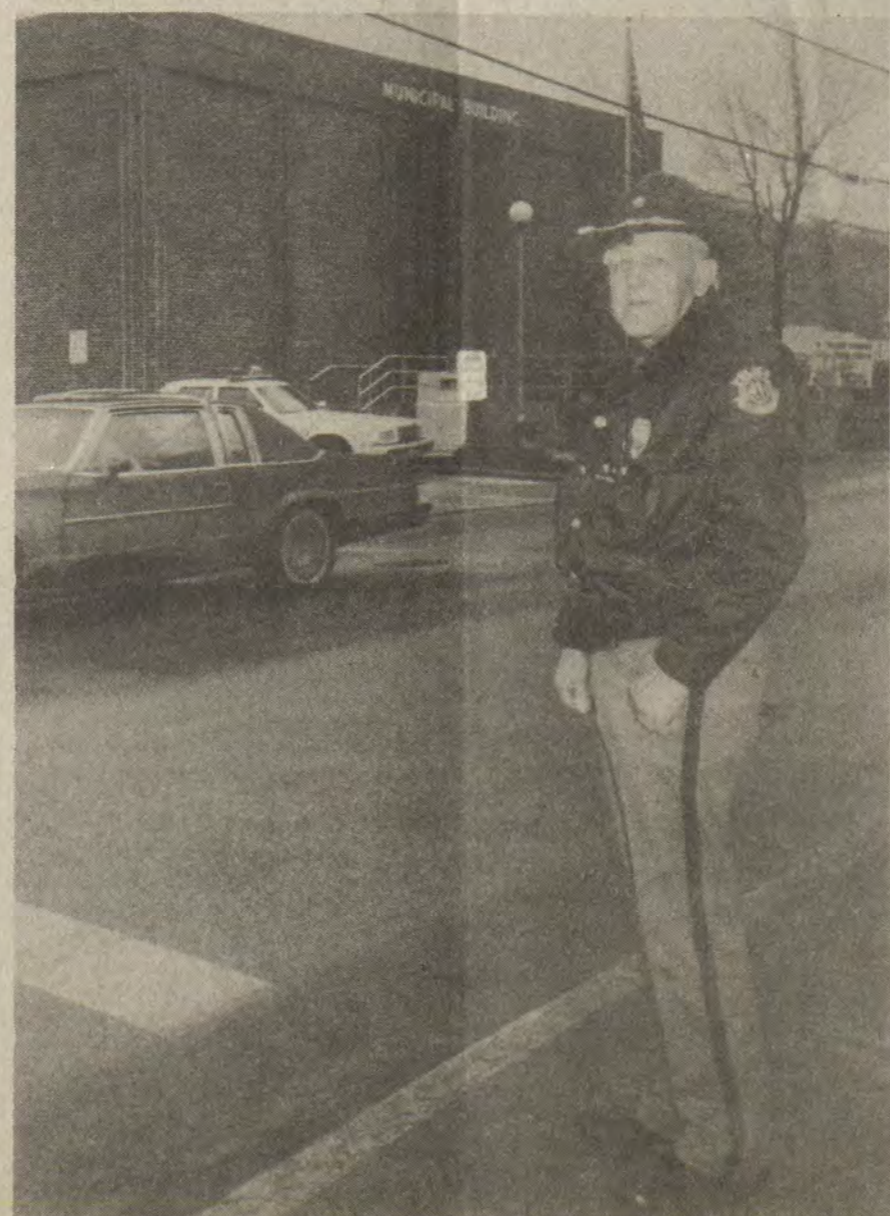

City Councilman Bobby Ranier, at one time a police officer here, said that whenever a potentially dangerous call came in, Potter always wanted to respond first. "Bill would radio, '501, this is 502. Stay where you are. Let me go in first,'" said Ranier, who told of an instance when Potter's ingenuity solved a crime and perhaps saved a life.

"Bill was questioning a boy suspected of stealing a prescription medication," said Ranier. "Bill said to him, 'I'm not accusing you of stealing it, but if you did and you took it, you'll be dead in 30 minutes.'" Ranier said the suspect immediately—and literally—"spilled his guts."

Potter said the story was true and that a doctor had told him the drug was potentially deadly.

But the police officer won't volunteer much in the way of stories about his exploits. He said the most dangerous thing that ever happened to him was having shots fired in his direction during a domestic dispute. He also admits to having his nose broken a few times, but adds, "That's not too dangerous. I guess."

STILL ON THE JOB AFTER 37 YEARS, Captain Bill Potter was recently appointed assistant Prestonsburg police chief.

Coal Operators Oppose Unmined Minerals Tax

Floyd coal operators had a chance Saturday to tell a key state legislator what they think of a bill currently under consideration that would restore the property tax on unmined coal. Their opposition to the measure, which they said would cripple east Kentucky's contract miners, appeared unanimous.

House Majority Floor Leader Greg Stumbo said the meeting he organized in the courthouse here Saturday afternoon was intended to elicit the other side of a discussion initiated several weeks ago at a meeting sponsored by the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition. The KFTC is a leading proponent of the unmined minerals tax, which the group says would raise needed revenue for county services and schools.

In sharp contrast to the tax advocates, who cited figures showing an increasingly productive coal industry well able to pay the relatively small levy envisaged under the bill, many of the 60 coal operators and mineral owners at the weekend meeting painted a picture of idle mines, a highly competitive market, and paper-thin profits. Moreover, the proposed tax would not be borne by the large absentee mineral owners targeted by its proponents but by local operators who lease the coal they mine, several speakers insisted.

Before he decides whether or not to support the tax, Stumbo said, he intends to poll 20,000 constituents and to seek an attorney-general's opinion on the constitutionality of a clause in the bill that would exempt small mineral owners from paying the levy. The unmined minerals tax bill (House Bill 503) was filed by Pike county Rep. Clayton Little and has been assigned to the House Appropriations and Revenue Committee. A hearing on the bill has yet to be scheduled.

"The market is not out there. No matter how cheap you bid, someone will bid under you," said Arnold Turner, Sr., an owner of the Joseph Mining Company, in arguing that coal operators can afford no additional business costs. "We've always run a good mine but we're going to have to go down the drain if they keep on us," he said.

"You don't tax an industry that's in trouble," added insurance agent Julius Martin. "It's idiotic for us to be here talking to our legislator about taxing our only industry. If it was the tobacco industry they'd lynch him." To reports that coal production is up, Martin replied that profits are down and that coal operators' financial risks have increased. "There have been a lot of Chapter 11 (bankruptcy) cases," he said.

Inmates Vow Hunger Strike

Five inmates at the Floyd county jail vowed to begin a hunger strike Monday to protest food restrictions at the jail but it was not clear this week if they had made good on their pledge. Jailer Lawrence Hale said Monday that he was unaware of any inmates refusing to eat. He turned down a reporter's request to interview the prisoners, however.

In a recent letter to The Times, Robert Hale, of Martin, a spokesman for disgruntled inmates, said their dissatisfaction with prison fare came to a head last Saturday night, when Jailer Hale barred a deputy from distributing candy bars and instant coffee that had been brought to the jail by some inmates' families. The issue is important, the inmate spokesman said, because "a lot of us can't eat the slop here, so we really looked forward to the smuggling in of candy bars" and because jail inmates are served only one cup of coffee a day. "I'm tired of being treated like a dog," he wrote.

MEMBERS OF THE Prestonsburg High School Beta Club presented Hospice of Big Sandy, Inc. director Chris Conley a check for $100, Monday, challenging other clubs and organizations to do the same. The club raised money collecting fifty-cent donations which gave the donor a chance at a ceramic Cabbage Patch doll. Conley, who hadn't been informed beforehand of the donation, said she was delighted.

Beta Club Boosts Hospital Hygiene

Orange sale profits became teddy bears for hospitalized children when Allen Central High School students presented Our Lady of the Way Hospital with a check for its Scrubby Bear program February 19.

The Scrubby Bear program promotes infection control and teaches hand-washing techniques at the hospital. A "Scrubby Bear" is presented to hospitalized children who sign an agreement promising to frequently wash their hands and remind hospital staff to do the same.

Proceeds from a fruit sale sponsored by the Allen Central Beta Club bought sound equipment and contributed to the Six Flags project for Allen Central High School. A donation was sent to Louisville's Kosair Children's Hospital, a charity supported by Beta Clubs nationwide, for the construction of a new wing. Money has also been set aside for a Beta Club trip to either New York or Virginia Beach. But it was an article in a local newspaper about Our Lady of the Way's Scrubby Bear program, said Rita Osborne, co-sponsor of the club, that prompted the group to think about putting money into local community projects.

F.C.R.T. TO MEET

Floyd County Retired Teachers are reminded by Mrs. Danese Amburgey, president of F.C.R.T., of the luncheon-meeting, to be held Thursday, March 6, at 10 a.m., at May Lodge. This takes the place of the program and luncheon scheduled for February, which were cancelled because of bad weather. Mrs. Amburgey invites all retired teachers to attend.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Julia Harrington and Mrs. Wanda Rodebaugh were the dinner guests, Wednesday, of Mrs. Eunice Spradlin, at her home, honoring Mrs. Rodebaugh on her birthday. Mrs. Rodebaugh was the recipient of many greetings, cards and telephone calls in celebration of her birthday observance.

World Day of Prayer

By ELMA JESSEN,
Prestonsburg Council
Of Church Women

World Day of Prayer has been celebrated by women from around the world for 99 years. The year 1987 will mark its centennial observance. The Day of Prayer, which began in the United States, has now spread worldwide and acts as a catalyst for women to come together in continuing relationships of prayer and action for peace. The theme this year is "Choose Life," calling women and men to consider the prayerful choices to be made if peace is ever to be achieved. The challenge to all of us is to make decisions and take actions that will begin to change the injustice and inequities that cause suffering in the world.

World Day of Prayer has been celebrated on the first Friday in Lent, more recently on the first Friday in March, and locally will be observed on Sunday, March 2. In cooperation with the Ministerial Association, local women's groups will be supporting the "Day of Prayer for Peace and Unity," which will be held at Community United Methodist Church.

In addition to prayers for peace and Christian unity, local organizations which encourage us to "choose life" and the way of peace will be highlighted. The Prestonsburg Council of Local Church Women encourages participation in the community observance, as well as your private prayers for peace, unity, and harmony in our world. During this month before Easter, let us choose life and peace.

State Police Net Six From County On Drug Charges

A sweep by Kentucky State Police officers early Tuesday morning resulted in the arrest of 16 persons on drug charges in Floyd and Pike counties. Warrants have been issued for but not yet served on another 19 persons, according to a state police spokesman.

The arrests are the result of an undercover operation that began in the Post 9 area last August, said Trooper Kenneth Frost. Charges filed include trafficking in LSD, cocaine, and marijuana.

Of those arrested, six were from this county. They are: Curtis Ray Salisbury, 35, of Drift, charged with two counts of trafficking in marijuana; Bertha Mulkey, 60, of Stanville, trafficking in marijuana; Steven M. McCutcheon, 19, of Betsy Layne, trafficking in marijuana; Joyce Smith Jacobs, 43, of Wayland, three counts of trafficking in marijuana; Ronnie Harold Neeley, 25, of Prestonsburg, trafficking in marijuana; and Stacey Hamilton, 39, of McDowell, trafficking in LSD.

JENNY WILEY FEST BOARD TO MEET

Mrs. Maxine Bierman, director of the Jenny Wiley Festival, announces a board meeting to be held Thursday afternoon, February 27, at 4 o'clock. Members and other interested persons are urged to attend.

DAY HOMEMAKERS TO MEET

The Prestonsburg Day Homemakers will meet Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Judy Kittle, president, urges all members to attend, and extends an invitation to prospective members.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Gardez H. (Sammy) May wishes to thank all who helped in any way upon the passing of their loved one. We appreciate the flowers, food, beautiful songs and comforting words given by Robert Hurt and other ministers. Special thanks are extended to the Disabled American Veterans for their touching tribute and the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

Country Greats Salute on KET

Today's most popular country music stars gather for a musical salute to two legends of country music, the late Mother Maybelle Carter and the late Marty Robbins, on "A Tribute to Country Greatness," airing Tuesday, March 4, at 9:30 p.m. on KET.

Co-hosted by Glen Campbell and Minnie Pearl, "A Tribute to Country Greatness" features performances by Lee Greenwood, Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys, Ricky Skaggs, The Whites, Tammy Wynette, and Ronny Robbins.

Film clips of both Carter and Robbins in individual performances add an historical perspective to the program.

Campbell showcases the songs which won him several Grammy Awards in a medley of "Gentle on My Mind," "By the Time I Get to Phoenix," and "Southern Nights." Pearl opens with a raucous "How-dee" and lends her own brand of humor to the evening's performance, a talent that has made her the only comedy star honored in the Country Music Hall of Fame.

Ronny Robbins, son of the late legendary singer Marty Robbins, sings a medley of his father's tunes, including "Tonight Carmen," "Ribbon of Darkness," and "Devil Woman."

"A Tribute to Country Greatness" is a co-production of Genesis Entertainment and the Arkansas Educational Television Network.

REBEKAH LODGE MEETS

The members of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 held their regular meeting Tuesday, February 18, with Mrs. Sue Moore, Noble Grand, presiding. Those who were ill and those in need of sympathy were recorded, and cards, to be mailed to them, were signed.

It was announced that March 8 will be the Odd Fellows' district meeting, and the noble grand asked that members plan dinner for them.

March 15, the Rebekahs of District 4 will meet at the Paintsville Recreation Center. Miriam Lodge has been asked to plan memorial services for members who passed away during 1985.

The Finance Committee for 1986 was elected as follows: Mesdames Hope Whitten, Dorothy Osborne, and Virginia S. Goble. Mrs. Whitten was selected as degree captain.

It was agreed that (as many of them as could) would attend a fiscal court meeting, and ask officials to clean up the roads and highways of Floyd County of all trash and debris.

The Lodge Deputy, Mrs. Hope Whitten, conducted a study on the order. This was in the form of a "quiz" game which was entertaining and a good learning experience.

All lodges have been requested by the Sovereign Grand Lodge and by the Kentucky Rebekah Assembly to join in helping to raise funds for the Arthritis Foundation. Members will be raising funds for this cause during March. It was also decided that a monetary contribution to the Kentucky Educational Foundation would be made.

The birthday of Schuyler Colfax, founder of the Rebekah Degree, will be celebrated during the next meeting night, with a program in his honor. Refreshments will be served at 6:30 p.m., and the Noble Grand asked members to bring items for a shower for the lodge's kitchen.

Present were Mesdames Sue Moore, Loretta Akers, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Venelia Rinehart, Paulena Owens, Hope Whitten, Pauline Crisp, Sue Wells, Doty Lafferty, Myrtle Allen, Dorothy Osborne, Norma Stepp, Virginia Goble, and Miss Kelly Sue Moore.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, March 4, at 7 p.m., at the I.O.O.F. building.

Arson Suspected In School Fire

A small fire that broke out Monday in the ceiling of the Betsy Layne High School gymnasium was apparently set deliberately, Principal Russell Frazier said later. A student or students are suspected of inserting some paper between the ceiling tile and the insulation above it and then lighting it, he said.

The fire, which broke out around 12:30 p.m., was quickly extinguished and did little damage. State Arson Investigator J.B. McKenzie is investigating the incident.

he said. "It just brings up hard feelings."

Potter will retire in a couple of years, leaving the force to a younger generation of officers. One of these men, Detective Sgt. Mike Ormerod, said Potter was an inspiration.

"Anybody that's spent as much time in one area in one job as Bill has, knows not just the area, but also the people; knows how the people are," said Ormerod. "People in any job get burnt-out after a while, but Bill's not like that. I guess Bill's got as much zest for law enforcement now as the day he started."

Ormerod isn't alone in those sentiments. Chief Stan Fletcher, who recommended Potter be made assistant chief, called him "a credit to the force."

"He's an outstanding police officer," said Fletcher. "He loves his job. He follows orders and has never asked why something is asked of him. He just goes ahead and does it."

of one on Mink Branch of Mud Creek. But Arthur Blackburn, of Buffalo Creek, said the lack of a bridge on his hollow might force him to move out. A drainage culvert installed by the county after the bridge was damaged last year cannot handle the waters of Buffalo Creek, which have covered his garden and are threatening his home, he said.

Freddie Goble, district bridge engineer with the Pikeville office of the state Transportation Cabinet, reminded county officials that the Glo bridge and one on Parsons Branch of Mud Creek have also been condemned, although the state has no current plans to close them. Judge Stumbo said a local coal company has offered to assist in building the Parsons Branch bridge and that the state is trying to locate a prefabricated bridge suitable to replace the one at Glo.

Signing the letter in addition to Hale were Michael Burchett, Tyrone L. Hammond III, Otto Honaker, and James Porter. They planned to continue their hunger strike, they wrote, "until something is done about the living conditions here at the jail."

Jailer Hale insisted the protest would bring about no change in prison rules. Records are kept of all food served at the jail and it exceeds state requirements, he said, noting by way of example that, while the state requires that one hot meal be served daily, the county jail here serves three. Local health department officials have previously ascertained that the jail diet is nutritious and they are welcome to visit the jail at any time, he said.

The practice of families' bringing in food from outside was discontinued about two years ago, the jailer said, because food parcels were sometimes used to conceal drugs and weapons, uneaten food attracted vermin, and wrappers sometimes clogged jailhouse commodes. Inmates with instant coffee sometimes lit fires in their cells to brew it, he said.

Hale acknowledged that some jails provide a commissary as a way around the contraband problem but said, "you still have problems, even with a commissary; I'm not going to fool with it."

Inmate Hale, who is serving a 3½-month term for receiving stolen property and is awaiting trial on a charge of striking an Ashland man on the head with a baseball bat, complained last month that he was beaten with a black-jack by Deputy Jailer Larry Campbell and hospitalized for six days with head wounds. Jailer Hale said he was satisfied that Campbell used only necessary force to subdue the inmate who, he charged, attempted to wrest from the deputy the keys to the cellblock. Campbell later swore out a warrant for the inmate, charging him with menacing and attempted escape.

Latta said she thought the Serenity House was "a good concept."

"They're well intentioned people, and they're trying to do good," she said. "But they just don't follow procedures." A meeting Monday at City Hall between Latta and Serenity House board members was said to have brought the matter closer to a mutually acceptable solution, though both sides declined to comment for the record on what the next step would be.

Every year 150,000 Americans are victims of severe scald burns.

School, he said. But Stumbo held out no hope to the schools chief, explaining that the windfall was needed to take care of the county roads. "If they can't get to school, they can't be educated," the judge noted.

Right Beaver Magistrate Jackie Owens failed to have two recently-hired county detectives struck from the payroll, his motion to that effect lapsing for want of a second. Owens last month questioned the competence of Joe Boling and Quentin Henry Scott and suggested Scott might have a criminal record. County Attorney David Barber confirmed that the men lacked police training and that Scott, 34, was charged in 1974 with trafficking in marijuana and in 1982 with robbery but said both charges were dismissed.

John Earl Hunt, standing in for Ned Pillersdorf, founder of the Dewey Dam Dog and Cat Protection Society, read to the court an agreement by which Curtis Hughes, president of the East Kentucky Wildlife Federation, will relinquish control of the county animal shelter when his management contract expires in June. Members of each organization also agreed to refrain from making derogatory public comments about the other. According to the statement read by Hunt, the animal lovers' organization is prepared to replace Hughes as manager of the shelter.

Garrett firefighter Terry Triplett, representing the newly-organized Floyd County Firefighters Association, asked that the rural fire departments be included in the county's fleet owners insurance program, that they be linked with the county radio system, and that they be given a place to operate a training center. Judge Stumbo said he saw no objection to the insurance plan and that a two-acre tract at the mouth of Gas Fork could be made available for a training facility. But inclusion in the county's radio network would need to be negotiated with Everett Akers, owner of the radio tower, the judge said.

An easement agreement was signed to allow the Prater Creek Water District to lay water lines where necessary on the county right of way. Construction of the $1.1 million water system is expected to begin this spring.

In other business, Stumbo was authorized to advertise for bids on playground equipment for mini-parks on Mud Creek and Left Beaver Creek; applicants for retail beer, wine and liquor licenses were put on notice that their premises must meet fire and building codes; and a decision was made to advertise the closing of a road that once connected Big Branch of Abbott Creek with Happy Hollow of Middle Creek and of a section of old U.S. 23 at the Justell bridge.

An advertisement for bids on a track end-loader drew offers from four firms, with prices ranging from $52,655 to $83,539; Kentucky Machinery, Inc. offered the low bid but a decision on purchase was postponed until the end-loaders could be demonstrated.

The court voted to deposit in the general fund a check for $5502 received from attorney Phillip Damron on behalf of Anthony Castle. The money represents restitution of county funds ordered by Pike Circuit Court following Castle's recent plea of guilt to a theft charge.

The court voted to hire Donnie F. Combs as a heavy equipment operator at an hourly rate of $6.89, a decision that drew a protest and a threat of legal action from Earlas Hall, a laid-off county employee.

In the Feb. 18 report, Feamster noted that old mine workings have collapsed in the hillsides bordering the development, numerous vertical cracks are visible in the exposed highwalls, individual large rocks have broken free, and a fault line has developed about 80 feet back from the edge of the southern cliff face.

"We believe it to be in everyone's best interest if the businesses (Wal-Mart and Winn-Dixie) can continue to operate, both in the immediate future and while the actual construction involved in reworking the walls is under way," said Feamster, who is a partner in Mason, Barrows and Feamster, Inc., a Hager Hill firm of engineers and land surveyors. Code Enforcement Officer Chaffins, who initially drew attention to alleged hazards at the development site, said he felt supported by the engineer's report and the council's action and agreed with the decision allowing existing stores to stay open while reclamation work proceeds. "They're good for the economy of the city but we still have to make it safe for the public," he said.

ATTENDS CHURCH

Mrs. Jane Wallace, who has been ill, was able to attend church last Sunday morning, and following services, she and her husband, Robert Wallace, joined their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, of Paintsville, a former classmate of theirs at Berea College, Dr. Beecher L. Scutchfield, of Martin, and Dr. Scutchfield's sister, Mrs. Evelyn Warrick, of Water Gap, for lunch at Jerry's Restaurant.

Our Yesterdays

Ten Years Ago

(February 25, 1976)

Barely more than a week ago the David Community Development Council was organized, and by Saturday morning, a community clean-up, the first of some 40 projects planned by the group, was begun. The Goble Roberts Addition mini-park was a major topic of discussion at Thursday night's Prestonsburg city council meeting as council members reviewed a map of the proposed park and made final plans for its preparation. The Central Wholesale Company, a branch of the Williams Wholesale Grocery Co., Paintsville, this week ended a 36 year stay in Prestonsburg, with the last of the stock being loaded onto trucks and moved to the main Paintsville store Monday. Prestonsburg kept up its habit of late of winning one and losing one during a week's basketball play by losing Friday night to the Paintsville Tigers, 74-61, and winning Saturday night over Phelps, 65-46. Information received by the Sheriff's office Saturday led to the recovery of a cache of illegal booze the same day on a hillside near Wheelwright. Representatives James "Jiffer" Allen and State Senator Jim Hammond last week presented legislative citations to the City of Prestonsburg for having been selected an All-Kentucky City for the second time. It was first selected in 1968. Crime prevention was under discussion at last Monday evening's meeting of the Lackey-Garrett Wayland Woman's Club with Floyd county's public defender Dan Rowland the speaker. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Arnett, a son, Scottie Dwayne, Feb. 15. Married: Miss Connie Elizabeth Coleman, of Pikeville, and Mr. Dan E. Hall, of Stanville, Dec. 23 at the Immanuel Baptist Mission, Pikeville. There died: John H. (Jack) Vincent, 77, of Wayland, Tuesday at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital. Abbie Branham Warrick, 68, of Jane Brown Branch, Auxier Road, Monday at Highlands Regional Medical Center. Myrtle Elizabeth Moore, Feb. 8 at an Oklahoma City, Okla. nursing home. Mrs. Evelyn Johns Salisbury, 71, for 18 years librarian at Prestonsburg Elementary School, found dead in bed at her home here Tuesday morning; Jobe Haywood, 76, of Middlecreek, Monday at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Osc. Hensley, 60, formerly of Melvin, Wednesday in Springfield, Ohio; Burnell L. Coburn, 63, of Garrett, Sunday at the Paintsville Hospital.

Twenty Years Ago

(February 24, 1966)

Plans for a $1,500,000 major highway project to link Inez and Prestonsburg were announced this week by Governor Edward T. Breathitt and Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward. Possibly as much as 100 acres may be planted in cucumbers this spring to meet the demands of a pickle manufacturer, it was said this week. Tax Commissioner Clive Akers, 51, of Drift, died Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital, Huntington, W. Va., in the first year of his sixth term of office. A federal prisoner, Charles S. Wilson, fled from the Floyd county jail here Tuesday afternoon, stole the automobile of George Cecil Brown, abandoned the car in Salyersville, and transferred to another. He was re-arrested by state police late that night at West Liberty. There died: Herman Hall, 45, of Orkney, Monday at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin; Aaron Bradley, 56, Tuesday at the home of a brother at Estill; Pete Mills, 63, of Wayland, Saturday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital; Will Patrick, 66, of Tram, Friday at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville; Ezra Newsome, of Teaberry, Thursday at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville; Lewis Bolen, 95, Saturday at his home on Rock Fork at Garrett; Mrs. Rina Marshall, 65, of Water Gap, Tuesday at the Prestonsburg General Hospital.

Thirty Years Ago

(February 23, 1956)

The McDowell Memorial Hospital will open for patient care on Monday, February 28, it was announced this week. Mayor Harry Sandige instructed the supervisors of the Prestonsburg Youth Center this week to discontinue use of the second floor room in the Municipal building here for the center. Two months work will be required to restore roads and bridges washed out in this county by last week's flooded streams. County Judge Henry Stumbo said here Tuesday. "Town Center," the new shopping area on North Lake Drive, has been completed and several firms are preparing to move in by March 1. The homes of Bill Marsillett and Theodore Holbrook were destroyed by fire at West Prestonsburg, Tuesday. Fox dens on Abbott Creek were being gassed this week under the direction of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources in an effort to destroy the rabid animals. Married: Miss Katherine Jean Shepherd, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Douglas Sample, of Rochester, N.Y., February 18 in Rochester. There died: Mrs. Myra Hamilton, 76, Wednesday at her home at Honaker; Mrs. Lizzie Hill, 83, of Martin, Wednesday of last week at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin; Mrs. Callie Prater, 74, of Water Gap, last Saturday at the home of a daughter; Mrs. Marv F. Jenkins, 78, of Garrett, Monday at the Stumbo Memorial Hospital, Lackey; Mrs. Lizzie Hall, 83, of Lackey, Saturday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin; Willie Sizemore, 60, of McDowell, last Saturday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin; Tony Shepherd, last Friday at his home on the Open Fork of Middle Creek.

Forty Years Ago

(February 21, 1946)

The City Council of Prestonsburg voted unanimously Monday to act as fiscal agent for the City Board of Education in its plan to amortize the $44,000 to help pay cost of construction of the grade school building here a few years ago and to provide an additional $40,000 to help on the high school grounds and the later building of a gymnasium. W. J. Slone, 72 years old, was stabbed and killed almost instantly, Tuesday night, at his home at Estill. As state and federal engineers surveyed possible routes to the site of the Dewey dam Monday, Floyd and Johnson county officials and citizens vied with each other in laying claim to the more practicable road. Prestonsburg's undefeated independent basketball team defeated Elk Horn City Saturday night in the finals of the Big Sandy independent tourney to win the section's net championship for teams outside scholastic circles. Married: Darwin Lafferty and Miss Dottie Dimpel Burchett, of Emma, February 2; Miss Bertha Marie Walters, of Dover, Ohio and Mr. Earl D. Lafferty, of Siloam, Kentucky, December 29 at Dover; Miss Louise F. Scutchfield, of Wheelwright, and Pvt. Frederick Munson, of Lancer, February 16, at Prestonsburg; Miss Betty Jo Ludwig and Mr. Leonard Tackett, both of Melvin, January 29; Miss Wanda Peters, and Mr. Burns Jarrell, this week at Paintsville. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Francis, a son, William Gordon, at Colorado Springs, Colorado. There died: Mrs. Amanda Gearheart Martin, 82, at her home on Salf Lick Creek, Friday; Grover Cleveland Adkins, 48, of Manton, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Friday; Mrs. Bonnie Saunders Golden, 24, of Betsy Layne, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Tuesday; Mrs. Cordelia Reynolds, 67, at the home of a granddaughter at Bevinville, Friday; Della Mae Collins, two years old, of Hi Hat, Thursday at the Beaver Valley Hospital; Vivian Branham, four months old, at home at Printer, Saturday.

Fifty Years Ago

Earl Heath, 35 years old, of Garrett, died at the Beaver Valley Hospital Wednesday morning of a gunshot wound received Sunday afternoon during a gun battle at Garrett. Also wounded in the shooting were Hene Terry, 33, of Garrett, who was shot through the jaw, and Calloway Mimix, 21, who was grazed across the back. Lonnie Calhoun, of West Prestonsburg, was struck and killed by an auto at West Union, Ohio, February 16. Miss Opal Mae Banks, 17, was seriously wounded Sunday afternoon by an accidental shot from a revolver near her parents' home at Brandy Keg. Charles Spivey was struck and instantly killed by a freight train early Saturday morning near his home at Harold. James Hammond, of Paintsville, state commander of the American Legion, last Thursday was named superintendent of the state reformatory at Frankfort. Floyd county's Citizens' Military Training Corps quota this year is 13. Carl H. Corbin, county CMC chairman, announced last week Trainees this year will be at Fort Benjamin Harrison. There died: Mrs. Winnie Estelle Linkous, 29, of Wheelwright, at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville, Wednesday; Billie Dowell Smith, three years old, of Tram, February 9; Mrs. Nan Hayes, 72, at the home of a son at Garrett, February 12; James Allen, 88, at his home on Little Paint, Tuesday; Jack Bennett, of Betsy Layne, last week.

While supporters of a tax on unmined coal point out that a large percentage of it is owned by a few out-of-state corporations who make no contribution to local communities in return for their royalty income, the point was made repeatedly that taxes levied on mineral owners would be passed on to the small local operators who actually mine the coal.

Arnold Turner, Jr.—who explained that Joseph Mining Co., which he owns with his father and three sisters, has about 900 acres of coal under lease from the Elk Horn Coal Corp.—said that, according to most leases, the lessee is responsible for paying any taxes. "Elk Horn won't pay a dime (of the proposed tax). We will," he said.

Nor could smaller operators pass the added cost on to utility companies or other consumers, said Ralph Elkins, of the Beaver Valley Coal Co. and Sizemore Mining Corp. "Unless you've got a contract with an escalator clause, they'll just cut you off," said Elkins. "You can't pass anything along now."

Industry consultant Joe Jacobs cited Department of Mines and Minerals figures to show that most Floyd coal companies are "small mom and pop operations." Of the county's 123 deep mines, 117 employ fewer than 20 workers; of the 106 surface mines, 91 employ fewer than 20, he said.

In response to a claim by Prestonsburg attorney John Rosenberg that the law prohibits mineral owners from passing on a property tax to their lessees, Knott-Letcher-Perry Coal Association representative Bill Curry said owners would pass on the tax surreptitiously. "They won't tell you they're passing it on, but it will be reflected in the price they offer the contract miner," he said.

Other operators said that to tax coal in the ground would require setting a value on property whose worth is unknown and that, in any case, fluctuates with market conditions. "There is so much coal that could be classed as merchantable and you could pay taxes on it for 10 or 15 years before it's determined that it can't be mined under (contemporary) conditions," said Ross Anderson, land administrator for Coal Mac, Inc.

"If the seams can't be mined, if I don't get anything out of it, would it be fair to me as an owner (to pay a tax on unmined coal)?" asked Lucille Newsome, of Branham's Creek, owner of around 800 coal acres.

While operators generally agreed that coal jobs will be lost inevitably with the increased mechanization of the industry, some said the jobs would be lost faster if any new tax is levied. "Maybe they want them out of business," said Ralph Elkins, "but if they go out in Floyd county there are going to be a heck of a lot of people on the unemployment rolls."

Churches Schedule Worship Service For Peace, Unity

The first Lenten event planned by the Prestonsburg/Floyd County Ministerial Association will be held this Sunday, March 2, at 7 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church. Called a "Day of Prayer for Peace and Unity," the special community worship service will combine several emphases and concerns. World Day of Prayer has long been observed early in March as a day of prayer for peace by women around the world. Kentucky churches have been asked this year to highlight the paper by church leaders entitled "Bearers of Peace with Justice: An Invitation to Kentucky People of Faith." And the local churches also wish to emphasize the need for Christian unity as we approach the holiest period of the Christian year—the celebration of Holy Week and Easter.

Clergymen from several area churches will participate in the special prayer service, and a combined choir composed of members from the churches in the community will sing under the direction of Gus Kalos. Speaking at the service will be Father Ralph Beiting of St. Martha Catholic Church, who will focus on the concern for peace and Pastor James Adams of the Emma Methodist Church, who will speak on Christian unity. It is also hoped that portions of the Kentucky church leaders' statement on peace will be read or available at the service.

Another feature of the Day of Prayer will be displays by a variety of community groups whose work relates to the bringing of peace and unity in the face of troubling problems and issues of our day. It is hoped that the displays will demonstrate some of the varied ways that persons in the community can themselves serve the cause of peace and unity by contributing their time, talents, and resources. Any group interested in being represented by a display is asked to contact the Rev. Timothy Jessen, Presbyterian Church, or the Rev. James Doughton, pastor of the host church, in order that display space will be available.

Following the service there will be a time of fellowship and refreshments under the leadership of the Prestonsburg Council of Local Churchwomen. Mrs. Eileen Burchett is president of the council this year, which has sponsored World Day of Prayer observances here in the past.

In addition to this special prayer service, the Ministerial Association will also sponsor daily Holy Week services at noon each day, March 24-28. The Easter dawn service will again be held at Jenny Wiley State Park on March 30th—with location either at May Lodge or the amphitheatre depending on the weather.

The public is cordially invited to support all these services.

Calls For Investigation

I am appalled at publicized reports about the jailing of a Floyd county school bus driver, Levi Hamilton, charged with driving a school bus while drunk—25% blood alcohol content according to police.

I'm reminded, and very sadly so, of the 1958 Floyd county school bus tragedy, where 26 children and their driver were killed when their bus plunged into the rain-swollen waters of the Big Sandy River. (Believe me! I'm definitely not implying that alcohol played any role in that 1958 accident, but the point is: It was a bus accident.) I personally was attending Prestonsburg High School at that time, riding a school bus via another route. Many of these kids were my classmates. I am now a parent, having children riding a Floyd county school bus. We do not need another school bus tragedy!

This recent conduct of a school bus driver demands a thorough investigation. Our precious children are in the balance.

We, as parents, must be assured by the Board of Education that the drivers of our children are above reproach!

Can the Board escape responsibility for the Hamilton incident? Someone (coaches, chaperones, or board members) reportedly allowed a legally intoxicated individual behind the steering wheel of that bus—a bus bound along a dangerous highway (U.S. 23, north of Allen), along the Big Sandy River, which on Monday, 2/17/86, was rain-swollen. How could it be that no one on that bus noticed anything "unusual about the conduct of the driver" when he reportedly had a blood alcohol content of 25%, failed several sobriety tests, and provoked a truck driver to report him to the state police because of his abusive CB language?

Further, reportedly, the driver had just delivered children home from John M. Stumbo School. Was he drinking, or drunk, while on the previous run that day?

I strongly urge a thorough investigation of this incident by the local Board of Education and report to the public; or lacking that, an investigation by the State Board of Education.

In Support of Grigsby

I served in the Korean War and I lost an eye. I have seen by first hand experience what the Communist Party has done and still trying to take over the Free World. The Communist Party represents approximately 10% of the Russian people—a minority. It appears to me that a certain minority group is trying to take over Floyd County government and the school system.

Why do we even give credibility to these people? The Floyd County Board of Education is elected by the majority of the people of Floyd County. A democracy such as ours in the U.S. is governed and operated by the majority of its people. Long live our Democracy and our Free World.

As for me I am a strong supporter of the people of Floyd County and the Board of Education. Also, I urge everyone to support Pete Grigsby, Jr., for superintendent. We have a good school system and competent Board Members. Mr. Grigsby is experienced and a proven leader. He is also a product of the Floyd County School System, a native Floyd Countian, and had dedicated his life for education of our children. Let's all support him and urge him back to the office.

Backs Toxic Waste Bill

Kentucky House Bill 615 in the Natural Resource and Environment Committee is a badly needed piece of legislation. As most of us are aware, the Environmental Protection Agency has fallen way behind in its recognition of hazardous chemicals. At the time of the Bophal disaster, MIC's were not on the EPA's list of hazardous substances. The fact is that the EPA bureaucracy cannot keep up with the overwhelming flood of new toxic substances being created daily by the chemical industries. H.B. 615 sets up an honor system for new plants to list in the permit application any substances that it knows to be potentially harmful to men, women and children. It also would hold an irresponsible company more accountable if it failed to do so. Over the past few years, the EPA has repeatedly demonstrated its shortcomings and to continue to rely on its findings will leave the public unprotected. It's time for the states to close the gap on the EPA's list and the thousands of new substances being produced.

102 Years Old

Mrs. Mollie Patrick recently observed her 102nd birthday at Mountain Manor Nursing Home, here, where she, with other residents, family, friends, and staff members enjoyed cake and punch. She was congratulated on being the oldest resident and received flowers, gifts and cards, among them one from President and Mrs. Reagan.

Mrs. Patrick, who is from Salyersville, has a son and a daughter. Although her sight is failing, she enjoys looking at magazines, comes to the nursing home lobby for activities and enjoys church on Sundays and music and singing.

Construction, Mine Equipment Auction Slated in Pike Co.

The largest construction and mining equipment sale ever held in Eastern Kentucky is planned for April 14 and 15 in Pike county, according to Bill Gibson, president of Action Properties Corporation, organizer of the sale.

The sale will be by consignment and will be an absolute auction with consignments expected to include almost every type of construction and mining equipment being brought from over Kentucky and other surrounding states.

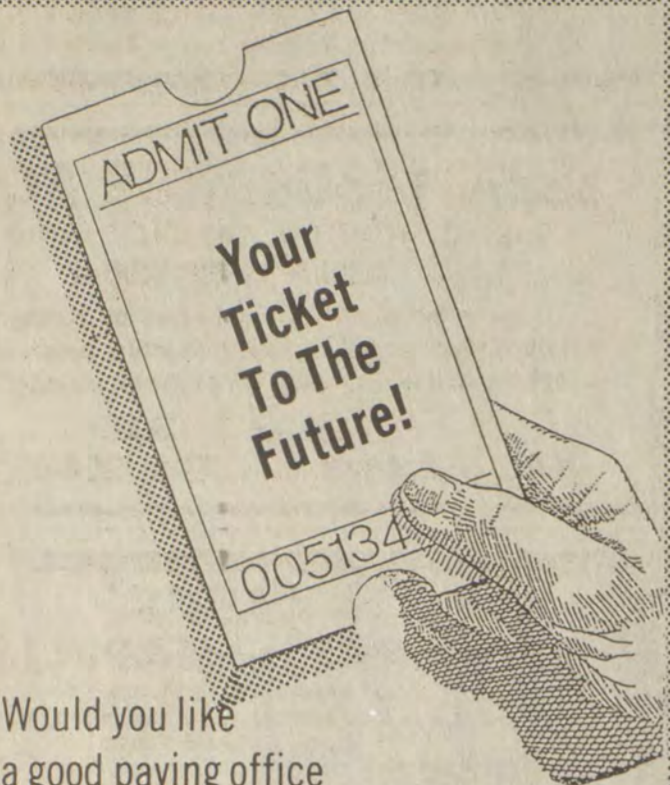

The auction will be held on a large tract of land directly across from the Action Properties office, 8 miles north of Pikeville on U.S. Highway 23.

Gibson said he had often wondered why equipment buyers and sellers from the coal fields had found it necessary to travel to such far away places as Louisville, Chicago, the Carolinas and even Florida to attend a large sale, when it would be much more economical and convenient to have a sale closer to home.

"After the tremendous success we had in January with the Big Sandy Electric sale which attracted an estimated 1500 people from 3 states, with sale proceeds of over half a million dollars," Gibson said, "we realized a well-organized sale held here in the heart of the coal fields is not only feasible, it is needed and will produce a positive effect on the area economy."

Although work on organizing the sale has just begun, several banks, construction and mining firms and individuals have already made commitments to consign equipment including mining machinery, trucks, and excavation equipment to the sale. Anyone interested in participating in the sale should contact Action Properties Corporation by mail at 1708 North Mayo Trail, Pikeville, Kentucky 41501 or by calling (606) 432-8181. In order to have items included in the sale catalog, consignments should be made by March 7.

ALLEN WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET
The Allen Woman's Club will meet Tuesday, March 4, at 7 p.m. at the Allen Convention Center. All area women are urged to attend.

Fourth Birthday

Scottie Douglas Samons, son of Doug and Sherry Samons, of Paintsville, celebrated his fourth birthday, February 6, with a Sesame Street party featuring a Big Bird cake.

Scottie received many nice gifts from family and friends. He is the grandson of Walker and Olive Preece, of Martin county and Mary Samons, of Martin.

COW CREEK NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Aken and daughters from Indiana have been visiting friends and relatives here.

Our neighbors, James Gearheart and Woodrow Jarrell, who have been hospitalized for several days, are now recuperating at home.

Tim and Kim Scott and Scotty, of Garrett, spent a few days visiting her grandmother Mrs. Edith Burchett.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Harris visited his father, J.E. Harris and Mrs. Harris on Sunday. Mr. Harris is slowly improving from a heart attack.

We are saddened to have lost another of our neighbors, Mrs. Lockie Blackburn, to death. Her family has the sympathy of all of us.

Mrs. Imogene Caldwell and Mrs. Danese Amburgey and others visited in Frankfort last Thursday. They enjoyed "Pie Day" with our representatives and discussed some of the problems confronting older citizens. They also toured the capital building and the senate chambers.

Mrs. Edith Burchett and Mrs. Ellen Holbrook were at the Mountain Christian Academy in Martin Friday. Lorni Holbrook was a participant in a play giving a synopsis of the presidents' lives for President's Day.

Mrs. Laura Belle Herald is still slowly improving at home but is not able to be out yet.

The Cow Creek Volunteer Fire Dept. has responded to two fires recently.

Hensley Appeals DUI Conviction

An attorney for a 29-year-old Prestonsburg man filed an appeal this week against the man's conviction last month on a drunk driving charge.

Jerry A. Patton filed a brief with the state Court of Appeals on behalf of Charles R. Hensley, who was convicted in a January 21 jury trial and ordered to pay $420 in fine and costs.

Hensley was arrested in the early hours of October 2, 1984 by Prestonsburg Police Capt. Darrell Conley, who said he recorded a blood alcohol content of .21 percent. Originally convicted in his absence and ordered to pay $507, Hensley successfully petitioned for a new trial, saying he missed his first scheduled appearance because of a mix-up.

In the second trial, District Judge Harold Stumbo overruled a defense motion to suppress introduction of the Breathalyzer test as evidence. Patton claimed the BA readout had been altered.

Six From County Graduate From MSU

Morehead State University's winter graduates included six Floyd county residents who completed degree requirements during the 1985 Fall semester.

Graduating were Kimberly L. Bentley, Langley, BS.; Donna E. Durham, Covington, A.M.E.; Patrick S. Gallagher, Kirtland, B.M.E.; Kathryn L. Gore, Prestonsburg, AB.; Jacqueline S. McKinney, Melvin, A.M.E.; Linda T. Wright, Prestonsburg, MA.

Police Investigate Burglary, Car Theft

Two felonies were investigated by Prestonsburg city police last week, one a burglary and the other a car theft.

According to Detective Sgt. Mike Ormerod, the burglary, which occurred sometime between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m. Thursday, was at the home of Playhouse Restaurant owner Bill Ray Collins on Central Avenue.

Taken from the house were a videocassette recorder, two video tapes and a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson pistol. Ormerod said all of the items were taken from the living room of the house, and apparently the burglar or burglars didn't venture farther into the residence of stay very long.

"It looked like something scared them off," he said, adding that a neighbor came home around 7 p.m. and his headlights shining in the window might have accounted for the quick exit.

The investigation is centering on two sets of footprints found around Collins' home. One set appears to have been made by a small tennis shoe, while the other appears to be from a workboot. Police theorize that perhaps the burglary was made by an adult using a child to see if anyone was home by knocking at the door.

Ormerod said at present there are no suspects, but cautioned people to be on the lookout for such activity.

In the other case, Ruby Ann Watkins, 18, of Salyersville, has been charged with theft by unlawful taking in connection with the Friday morning theft of an automobile owned by Prestonsburg Elementary School teacher Elizabeth Bingham.

Ormerod alleged the suspect took the 1978 Monte Carlo from where it was parked on a street near the grade school, went joyriding and picked up three girls along the way.

Miss Watkins and the juveniles were apprehended by police in West Prestonsburg. While Watkins was charged in the incident, a class D felony carrying a sentence of one to five years in prison, charges against two of the juveniles were dropped, with the third being directed to seek counseling.

Miss Watkins was lodged in the Floyd county jail, with bond set at $5,000.

Campbell To Perform At Nashville, Mar. 7

John Anthony Campbell, of Mousie, will perform an original composition at the Music Row Club, Nashville, Tennessee, March 7. He was chosen for this honor by the Sue Brewer Fund Showcase of The Songwriters Guild Foundation. His performance and musical composition will be reviewed by some of the top music professionals in Nashville.

City Supports Middle School

Prestonsburg's city council passed a unanimous resolution Monday night in support of the construction of a middle school here.

The middle school, for several years in the top spot on the state's building priorities list for Floyd county, was recently removed from the top three spots by the county school board in favor of a new building at Garrett Elementary. The Garrett project was moved up to number-one. The county board's action, however, must be approved by the state before the change is official.

Both Mayor Ann Latta and Councilman Thomas Tackett, longtime principal of Prestonsburg Elementary, spoke strongly in favor of the middle school proposal.

Latta cited the length of time the school has been on the priorities list—it was put there in 1971—while Tackett told of overcrowding, structural problems and the threat of fire at his school.

Tackett listed loose window panes as potentially hazardous in the event of a fire, with pressure from such a blaze bursting them and allowing outside air to feed the flames. While he didn't propose the middle school would solve all of the grade school's problems, he said it would certainly help to have fewer children there.

In his firmness about building needs here, Tackett did not deny the needs of the other county schools. He referred to a suggestion he had made previously to the county school board regarding appointing a superintendent willing to lead the county in obtaining a $90 million bond issue to finance the seven most pressing building needs.

In voting to approve the resolution, council further decided to make their feelings known at a public meeting to be scheduled here later by state education authorities.

There was less harmony in a 6-2 approval of a citizen's request to close two city streets. The split vote, a rarity in council meetings, was precipitated by council members Margie Osborne and Harry Ray Porter's apparent reluctance for council to part with city property. The remainder of the council, however, accepted Frank Fitzpatrick's claim on the streets.

Acting on behalf of the Richmond estate, Fitzpatrick first asked for closure of the road directly behind the Richmond Cemetery on S. Lake Drive. He claimed that what maintenance had been done on that street in recent years had been done by the cemetery, and they were asking it to be closed to better control its use and upkeep. The other street,

Animal Shelter Agreement Made

The cloud of dissension hovering over the Floyd County Animal Shelter seems this week well on the way to a clearing trend as Curtis Hughes, present manager, and the Dewey Dam Dog and Cat Protection Society announced that they had reached an agreement.

Mr. Hughes, on his part, has agreed that the Eastern Kentucky Wildlife Federation, of which he is president, will not seek to run the shelter after the expiration of the current contract with the county, and the society has agreed to cease making public statements concerning the operation of the shelter.

Ned Pillersdorf, president of the society, said its members remain willing to operate the shelter.

Student/Faculty Games Slated Here, Thursday

The Prestonsburg Jr. Beta Club will sponsor two student/faculty basketball games, Thursday, February 27, at 6:30 p.m. in the Prestonsburg Elementary School gymnasium.

Team members include the following: Girls' Team: Jennifer Combs, Missy Hall, Sabrina Hall, Bridget Newsom, Missy Newsome, Crissy Lawson, Beverly Orsborn, Coach-Gaye Hatfield.

Women's Team: Mrs. Allen, Mrs. D. Collins, Mrs. P. Collins, Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Fannin, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Hammonds, Ms. Powell, Mrs. Rice, Coach-Mary Scutchfield.

Boys' Team: Craig Blackburn, Joe Burchett, Brian Carter, Kevin Colvin, Craig Collins, Paul Horn, Timmy Martin, Brian Stewart, Jason Vanderpool.

Men's Team: Mr. Clark, Mr. Collins, Mr. Dingus, Mr. Goodman, Mr. Hunt, Mr. Martin.

Proceeds from the game will go to support numerous school and community Junior Beta Club projects.

Veterans Counselor Here

Mr. Jack D. Clark, field veterans benefit counselor of the Kentucky Center for Veterans Affairs will be in Prestonsburg, March 5 at the national guard armory from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m.

Clark will assist veterans, their families, dependents, or beneficiaries in the presentation, proof, and establishment of all claims, privileges, rights and other benefits which they may have under federal, state, or local laws. The service is free.

As a state employee, Clark does not represent the Veterans Administration. However, he can advise and assist with any claim you may wish to file with the VA.

in a West Prestonsburg hollow, goes through property owned by the Fitzpatrick family. Fitzpatrick argued that the road simply ends on the property and he wanted it closed to keep trespassers out.

Fitzpatrick agreed reluctantly with a recent council decision requiring persons requesting a road closure to pay the legal fees involved. Such action costs about $300.

Councilman Bobby Ranier floated a suggestion the city honor his nephew, Harry Hale Ranier, for being owner of one of the most successful NASCAR racing teams in the United States. Council tabled the motion for future consideration.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the November term 1985 and February term, 1986, in the above-styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 13 day of March, 1986, at 10:30 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being on the waters of Toms Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky, and being the same land conveyed Robert and Lavada Damron by deed of July 1, 1942 from Annie and Stonewall Neeley, as recorded in Deed Book 119, page 47 in the Floyd County Clerk's Office on July 6, 1942, and being more particularly described as follows, viz:

Beginning on Lot No. 4 of Tract No. 2 of the Hill land situated on Toms Creek right hand fork. Beginning at X on a rock in Branch a corner to Lots Nos. 2 and 3; thence down the branch S 79 30 W 183 feet to a stake witnessed by a beech bearing S 59 W 25 feet S 70 W 200 feet to a beech; thence crossing the creek and up the drain with Morgan Layne line N 13 E 514 feet to a stake in a Drain N 2 E 142 feet to a stake N 9 30 W 232 feet to a chestnut on the point; thence up with the point N 79 45 E 13 feet to a black oak, N 47 E 300 feet N 36 45 E, 900 feet to a chestnut oak on a ridge S 69 E 139 feet S 73 E 377 feet to a stake in Mud Lick Gap S 34 W 475 feet S 42 W 190 feet S 3130 W 358 feet to a beech S 55 W 105, S 18 W 18725 feet to a hickory on a point S 39 30 W 15-7 feet to a beech on a point S 56 30 W 187 feet to the beginning.

This property is being sold to settle the estates of Robert & Lavada Damron.

The amount of money to be raised by this shall include the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this day of February, 1986.

MARSHALL DAVIDSON,
Master Commissioner

Spencer Tracy Tribute

An affectionate film tribute to one of Hollywood's most memorable actors, "The Spencer Tracy Legacy: A Tribute by Katharine Hepburn" will be aired on Saturday, March 15, at 10:00 p.m. during KET's TeleFund '86.

A man who influenced an entire generation of actors, Spencer Tracy approached his craft pragmatically; his philosophy on acting is probably best summed up by his oft-quoted advice, "learn the lines and don't bump into the furniture."

Katharine Hepburn, Tracy's co-star and close friend for 25 years, traces the actor's career from his classes at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York, through his early Broadway roles, up to and including his Hollywood years. In the process, the special retrospective gives viewers the unprecedented opportunity to hear Miss Hepburn's own perspective on Spencer Tracy, a man, she says, "who found acting easy and life difficult."

In addition to highlighting some of Tracy's best known film roles, the program features recollections and observations by friends and colleagues who knew and worked with Tracy, including actors Elizabeth Taylor, Burt Reynolds, Mickey Rooney, Robert Wagner, and Richard Widmark, as well as producers and directors such as Stanley Kramer, John Sturgis, and Joseph Mankiewicz.

ANNIE ALLEN W.M.U. TO MEET

Mrs. Patty Minns, president of the Annie Allen W.M.U., announces that Mrs. Ruby Garrett will be hostess to this group Monday evening, March 3, at 7 o'clock at her home and she urges all members to attend.

LOCAL CHURCH WOMEN MEET

Local Church Women met Friday morning, February 21, at the First Presbyterian Church with the president, Mrs. Eileen Burchett, presiding. Mrs. Mary Lou Layne gave the devotions, the theme of which was "Reach out and touch someone," and opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Zella Archer gave a report on the December meeting, and Mrs. Dot Marshall reported on the group's financial status. It was decided to donate $75 to the Prestonsburg Ministerial Association toward their efforts in aiding needy transient persons. Mrs. Jean Burke tendered her resignation as chairman of the nominating committee, and Mrs. Mabel Donahoe was appointed to succeed her. Other members of this committee are Mesdames Mabel Jean LeMaster and Lucy Regan. The slate of officers for the coming year is to be presented during the June meeting.

It was announced that letters of invitation to attend the meetings and enter into the activities of this organization would be sent to representatives of the various churches of this area by the secretary, Mrs. Zella Archer. The need for funds by the Big Sandy Hospice was discussed, and the worth of this program to persons in need of their services was stressed. Donations were made to a person in need, who was presented by Rev. Tim Jessen. The Rev. Jessen discussed the "Day of Prayer for Peace and Unity" to be held Sunday, March 2, at 7 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church. It was also announced that Holy Week services will be held at the First United Methodist Church from Monday, March 24, through Friday, March 28. Mrs. Eileen Burchett, president of the Local Church Women, will serve as chairman of the women's participation in these services.

Refreshments were served by members of the host church, and those attending were Mesdames Eileen Burchett, Elma Jessen, Zella Archer, Dot Marshall, Mary Lou Layne, Docia B. Woods, Mabel Donahoe, Lucy Regan, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Jean Burke, Garnett Fairchild, and Drema Miller, and guest, the Rev. Timothy Jessen. The meeting was dismissed with prayer.

ATTEND FRANKFORT MEET

Danese Amburgey, president, Ruby Akers, first vice president, Imogene Caldwell and Shirley Vanderpool, members of the Floyd County Teachers' Association, represented this organization at the "Apple Pie Day" activities in Frankfort, Thursday, February 20. This was sponsored by the Kentucky Combined Committee on Aging, and was held at the State Capital. They were the guests of the Senate and House of Representatives during the regular sessions and attended a Committee session on issues concerning long-term health care facilities for the aging, and appropriations in the budget for retired teachers. Speaking and answering questions for the group were Senators David K. Karem, of Louisville and Benny Ray Bailey, of Hindman. Representative Greg Stumbo, of Prestonsburg, Thomas Burch, of Louisville, and Joe Clark, of Boyle County.

The F.C.R.T. representatives also met with Dr. J.M. Dodson, and Ted Crosthwaite from the office of the K.R.T.A. Association.

Before returning home, they spent some time touring Frankfort and spent the night in Lexington, where they enjoyed shopping the following day.

WEEKEND GUESTS

The Rev. Taylor Biggs, former pastor of the Community United Methodist Church, here, now retired and living in South Shore, accompanied by Mrs. Biggs, spent the weekend here where they were the houseguests of Mrs. Jean Burke. While here, Rev. Biggs performed the Rorrer-Van Dine wedding ceremony.

KIWANIANNES TO MEET

Prestonsburg Kiwanians are reminded by their President, Mrs. Jane Bond, that, due to repairs being made at May Lodge, their luncheon-meetings will be held at the Highlands Regional Hospital cafeteria Thursday, February 27, beginning at 12:30. She urges all members to be present.

LUNCHEON GUESTS

Miss Kay Akers had as her luncheon guests, last Sunday, Fay and Butch Smith, formerly of Floyd county, now of Lexington. With her, they attended Sunday evening services at the Lancer Baptist Church.

LANCER W.M.U. MEETS

Members of the W.M.U. of the Lancer Baptist Church met Tuesday, February 18. Lucy Waddle presented the Prayer Calendar, and each member was given a specific prayer request, responding with a sentence prayer. Arlene West gave a brief history of Valentine's Day, and read from Solomon, chapters one and two. Each member was presented a red paper heart, containing an appropriated Scripture verse, to read. Plans were made to observe the Week of Prayer for Home Missions.

The tables were decorated in the Valentine motif, with a large Valentine box as the focal point of one table. Refreshments, prepared by the W.M.U. members were served to Arlene West, Kay Akers, Pam Wilson, Rhonda Burchett, Shelia Elliott, Betty Wilson, Gloria Sizemore, Linda Burchett, Lucy Waddell, and guests, Tammy Sizemore and Rhonda Gail Burchett.

IN NEW YORK STATE

Dr. June Buchanan, of Pippa Passes, who represented Alice Lloyd College as parade marshal of the Jenny Wiley Festival here, is spending the winter in her home state of New York.

RETURNS FROM VISIT

Mrs. May K. Roberts has returned to her home here after spending several days with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Baird, III, and their daughters in Pikeville. Mrs. Roberts, who has been ill, is now showing improvement.

HOUSEGUESTS HERE

Houseguests of Mrs. Rebecca Rasnick and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettrey, during the weekend, were Mrs. Rasnick's daughter, Mrs. Joy Harris, her son, Frank, and daughter, Becky, of Lexington. They attended services at the First Baptist Church here, Sunday morning. Also visiting from Garrett was Rudolph Spencer.

ILL AT HOME, HERE

John Rodebaugh has been ill at his home on Westminster Street.

OUR APOLOGIES

An item in last week's edition should have listed Mrs. Marty Hicks and Mrs. Cliff Latta, Jr., as attending the National Conference of Juvenile Justice, in New Orleans. The Times regrets the typographical error.

ENTERTAINS TO DINNER

Mrs. Curt Homes was hostess to a dinner party at the Plantation Motel, recently, honoring her daughter, Mrs. J. Clifford Todd, of Simpsonville, who was here for a visit with her. Enjoying this occasion were the honoree Mrs. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Francis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gordon Francis, and the hostess, Mrs. Homes.

BAPTISMAL SERVICES

Baptismal services were held at the Irene Cole Memorial (First) Baptist Church, during services there Sunday morning for Mrs. Elizabeth Venters and John Stewart.

Floyd Co. Girls Champs

The Wayland girls cheerleaders added another trophy to their already perfect season by bringing home the first place overall county trophy presented them February 8, at the Wheelwright gymnasium. This brought the girls total winnings to five first place wins for the 1985-86 season. The girls are, from left to right, in front: Charla Hall, Amy Patton, Tara Branham, captain, Jaime Webb, captain. In second row are Chrissy Stapleton, mascot. From left in third row are Rebecca Martin, Misty Hall, April Couch, Jill Stapleton, Jamie Fultz, captain. The girls' sponsor is Bonnie Bentley Clark.

Tourney Drawings To Be Aired on KET

KET will provide live coverage of the 1986 State High School Basketball Tournament drawings from KET Network Center in Lexington, Friday, February 21, at 2 p.m.

Louisville Courier Journal sports columnist Earl Cox will host the program. Guests will include Jim Rains, head coach of the girls' basketball program at Whitley County High School, Corbin, and Bobby Keith, head boys basketball coach at Clay County High School, Manchester.

Rains, at the helm of Whitley County's girls' program, emerged victorious in the 1985 state championship. Last year, Keith coached Clay County to the runner-up position in the boys' tournament.

The drawings will determine pairings in the first round of this year's competition. The boys' tournament will be held March 19-22 at Rupp Arena in Lexington. Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, will be the site for the girl's tournament.

Drawings for the 1986 Sweet Sixteen will be held under the supervision of Kentucky High School Athletic Association Commissioner Tom Mills. The program is a KET production.

KET Telefund Set March 1-16

TeleFund, KET's major annual fundraising campaign, will be conducted this year March 1-16. Monies raised during TeleFund '86 will be used to support production and acquisition of KET's evening and weekend programming, and more than 2,500 volunteers throughout the state will be involved in various aspects of the campaign.

The Friends of KET, the network's membership and volunteer organization, will be organizing localized telephone "call-outs" in more than 95 counties to recruit new Friends of KET in Kentucky.

Statewide volunteers will be making up the studio phone banks to receive pledges from viewers during the on-air program breaks, and the KET Friends' Board of Directors will kick off the 1986 TeleFund phone banks on March 1.

Card of Thanks

The family of Truman Tackett would like to express its deep and lasting appreciation to all who were so kind to us upon our recent bereavement. We would thank all who sent food or flowers, relatives and friends who offered words of sympathy during our sorrow, all who by word or deed sought to help. We thank the Joppa Church and its ministers, the pallbearers, the Garrett D.A.V. who performed the military services, and the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home for its kind and efficient services.

Not Just "Unemployment Office"...

DES Matches Applicants, Jobs

An unemployed factory worker. A homemaker looking for a job. A high school dropout who has had several short-term, low-paying jobs. An employer seeking reliable workers. A company that wants to expand its work force. A business that wants to retrain some employees.

What do they have in common? All can receive help from the Kentucky Department for Employment Services, which has 26 full-time and 79 part-time offices across the state.

"We're more than just the 'unemployment office,'" said James Daniels, the department's commissioner. "Staff in our local offices offer direct help to people filing unemployment insurance claims, people looking for jobs and employers looking for workers. They match applicants with available jobs. And there is no fee for any of our services."

In 1985, 278,114 Kentuckians sought the department's help in finding work. Of these, 76,743 were placed in jobs. Another 8,229 were placed in training programs.

"Generally, when people are out of work they are under a great deal of stress," said Harry Dickerson, the department's director of field services. "Receiving unemployment insurance benefits provides some relief. But certainly these people would prefer to be working."

An average 36,219 Kentuckians sought UI benefits each week during 1985. "Many of these were laid off for a short time and expected to be called back to work," Dickerson said. "But others were laid off indefinitely because employers cut back production or shut down completely. Staff in our local offices help some people in this group find a job without much difficulty. However, others have skills that have become obsolete. Field Service staff are able to place some of them in training programs."

Many of the department's clients are new or re-entrants into the labor market. "A number of these applicants may need training to develop a new skill or hone existing ones," Dickerson said. "And applicants who lack a high school diploma have a handicap in the work place. They may be referred to GED programs in addition to job interviews or training programs."

Dickerson noted that local office staff also help people who are working, such as people who have part-time jobs and want to work full time and people who don't fully use their skills in the jobs they have.

"We interview applicants, give them aptitude tests when necessary and review their qualifications before we refer them to employers for interviews."

he said. "It's important for an applicant, our staff and an employer to know what an applicant's interests and skills are before an appointment is made for a job interview. This saves time for the applicant and the employer. And people are more likely to remain in a job longer if it's in a field in which they have a keen interest."

Meanwhile, staff in the department's local offices work with employers to determine what types of jobs are available and what kind of education and work history an applicant needs to qualify for a particular job.

"Our staff made more than 23,000 on-site visits with Kentucky employers last year," Dickerson said. "In addition, they spent a tremendous amount of time contacting employers by phone."

"We provide employers with an immediate source of manpower," he said. "Our services can be particularly valuable to small employers that don't have a personnel office. Also, it saves time to have staff available in the same office to answer employers' questions about unemployment insurance."

Since 1980, 52 children have been treated at Kosair Children's Hospital in Jefferson County for tap water scaldings. Twelve of these were in 1984.

GS Cookie Sale Now In Progress

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale, sponsored by the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council, is now in progress. Floyd county area Girl Scouts hope to sell 8,500 boxes before the sale ends March 15.

In addition to raising money for troop activities, local Girl Scouts are selling to earn various incentives. Depending on the number of boxes sold, girls can earn a path, T-shirt, hat or stuffed animal. They can also earn Cookie Dough which is a credit to help them pay for resident camp, day camp, and other program events.

Customers who placed orders in January should have their cookies delivered soon. Those who were not able to order their cookies can still purchase boxes by calling 874-9372 or 452-4229.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Cecil Newsome, who died February 14, 1985.

Many times, daddy we've needed you, Many times we've cried, If love alone could have saved you, You never would have died.

If all this world was ours to give, We would give it, yes, and more, To see you coming up the steps And walking through the door.

To hear your voice and see your smile, To sit and talk with you awhile, To be with you the same old way, Would be a sweet and joyful day.

A heart of gold stopped beating Two smiling eyes closed to rest, God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best.

Daddy, you always live in our hearts, and on our mind.

Your loving memory will be with us for all time.

Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren.

A Tribute To Truman Tackett

Born December 11, 1924. Died February 8, 1986.

Truman will be remembered by his family as a loving husband, father, grandfather, brother, and relative. He will be remembered as a family leader; one his family could call on at any time of the night or day. He was there, ready to help, during any crisis or problem that arose.

But Truman will also be remembered by his countless friends and acquaintances; His friends from his ball playing days will remember Truman as a good softball pitcher and player, a man you wanted on your team.

Those who knew Truman in the political arena, while not always agreeing with his choice of candidates, knew he was a hard worker and fought well for those he supported. They knew Truman realized that "good government" comes about by those who take an active part and are willing to work for their beliefs and ideals.

Truman will be remembered by the schools in our area. While his children attended Weeksbury Grade School, he could always be counted on to work at fund raising functions and to help in any way possible. He continued this practice at Melvin Grade School where his grandchildren became students. He, also, aided his daughter and son-in-law in their work with the Boy Scouts of America.

For those who have lost loved ones and had to endure the pain of a funeral, Truman, as long as he was able, could always be counted on to be there and offer support and comfort.

Truman will also be remembered by the many who called upon him to take them to a doctor, to help them with a legal problem, or to run an errand of some kind for them. He will be remembered by his neighbors for his jolly smile and his willingness to work with others for the benefit of all.

Truman will be missed by the community. He could always be counted on to support community activities and projects. He helped with the Community Christmas Treat by raising funds and getting donations.

Finally, Truman will be remembered for his courage. Even when faced with the dreaded killer "cancer", He didn't quit fighting.

All of us are not born to be famous or perhaps to achieve great things but all of us, like Truman, can take "Small Steps".

Do not despair, that you cannot change The World in a day or two. Instead, just give your very best In the little things you do. Then you will find in days to come When taken all together, These little steps did change and make The world a little better.

Written for the family by Peggy Bradford.

David Albert Sanders

David Albert Sanders, 70, of Ypsilanti, Michigan, formerly of Floyd county, died February 12 following an extended illness.

The son of the late Emma and Burl P. Sanders, he was born January 16, 1916 and was a retired miner.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elsie Marie Allen Sanders; two sons, Richard Douglas Sanders, of Ypsilanti, Mich., David Ralph Sanders, of Romulus, Mich.; two daughters, Eloise Martin, of Ypsilanti, Mich., Carolyn Gilliam, of Ypsilanti, Mich.; six sisters, Ora Layne, Beatrice Fairbanks, Lillie Mae Wheeler, Mary Etta Bryant, and Patricia Hobbs, and three brothers, Burl Sanders, Jr., Lloyd Sanders, and Harold Sanders, all of Chatanooga, Tenn.; 11 grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted February 15 at the Wagner-Stark Funeral Home, Ypsilanti, Michigan with the Rev. Rod Evans officiating. Burial was made in Knollwood Memorial Park at Canton, Michigan.

Pallbearers were David and Barry Markan, Bob Martin, Rickey and Teddy Sanders, Kerner Gilliam, and Keith Thompson.

Ruth Hancock

Ruth Hancock, 70, of Cincinnati, Ohio, died Sunday, Feb. 16, at Providence Hospital, Cincinnati.

She was born in Van Lear, Aug. 1, 1915, the daughter of the late Alex and Myrtle Curnett Craft. She was a retired nurse's aide and member of Church of God at Wayland, and of the Rebecca Lodge.

Survivors include her husband, Floyd Hancock; a son, Phillip Hancock, of Cincinnati, Ohio; a daughter, Wanda Hancock, of Cincinnati; a sister, Edna Bentley, of Garrett; a half sister, Betty Lou Riley, in Maryland; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, Feb. 18, at 2 p.m. at the chapel of Somerset Undertaking Company in Somerset, and burial was made in Sloans Valley cemetery, there.

Irene Woodall Spradlin

Irene Woodall Spradlin, formerly of Wayland, died at her home in Louisville, Jan. 10, after a long illness.

She was born Dec. 23, 1910 at Science Hill. Her husband, Thomas J. Spradlin, preceded her in death.

She is survived by two daughters, Bertie Spradlin Herbert, of Louisville, and Betty S. Spradlin, of Shepherdsville. Four grandchildren also survive.

She was a charter member of the Okolona Christian Church where services were conducted on Jan. 12. Burial was made in Hebron cemetery.

Malcolm Prater

Malcolm Prater, 89, of Rough and Tough, died Saturday at the Mt. Manor Nursing Home, Pikeville, following an extended illness.

Born September 13, 1896 at Bonanza, a son of the late Thomas and Rebecca Milan Prater, he was a retired farmer. Twice married, first to Nealous Patrick Prater, who preceded him in death, he later married Sarah Allen Prater, of Riverview Manor Nursing Home, Prestonsburg. He was a member of the United Baptist Church.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sons, Dallas Prater, of Prestonsburg, and Warnie Prater, of Salyersville.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the Floyd Funeral Home chapel with Bro. Wallace Calhoun officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery on Middle Creek Road.

NOTICE OF PERMIT CONFERENCE

Pursuant to Application Number 858-0062

In accordance with the provisions of 405 KAR 8:010 Section 11, notice is hereby given that a permit conference is scheduled for Wednesday, March 12, 1986 at 10:00 a.m. at the Prestonsburg Office for the Department for Surface Mining, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653, concerning the above application filed by Saarcar Coal, Inc., P.O. box 6100, Huntington, West Virginia 25770. The application is for a permit for a surface coal mining and reclamation operation approximately 1/2 mile north of Van Lear in Johnson county.

The proposed operation is approximately 2.3 miles east of KY 302 junction with KY 1107 and located 1/2 mile north of Miller's Creek. The latitude is 37°46'50". The longitude is 82°44'10". A FAIR FOR FLOYD COUNTY

The Floyd county fair is an event belonging to all of the county and to no one town or section thereof. And, this being true, it is the duty of Floyd countians to take that pride in the fair which would incite them to make of it an occasion which will compare favorably with that to be conducted this year in any county of Eastern Kentucky.

Less than a month intervenes between this date and the opening of the fair here. Immediate action must be taken, if the fair is to be the success which it deserves to be. A definite program remains to be worked out; funds to cover all expenses must be raised; the interest of those having exhibits must be secured—the task which must be done is no small one.

Procrastination will effect none of these things—will tend only to make of the entire event a hastily-arranged affair, roughly conceived and unsatisfactory withal. Immediate action and conscientious effort will achieve what should be the aim of all—a fair of which Floyd county may be proud.

"DON QUIXOTE" MODERNIZED

Filed for the screen, the many and unsuccessful attempts to span the ocean by air would make a modernized version of Don Quixote that would almost be recognizable as such.

Don Quixote fought and shivered his fair lance in the spirit of chivalry. He was Chivalry itself. It mattered not whether the cause great or small, he promptly gave his attention to it. He was brave, excessively so, but he charged a windmill, it will be remembered; therefore, charged in vain.

As brave were the fliers who have gone to their deaths in the sea. Theirs was the spirit of the age—to conquer. But they defied something too great for them, therefore defied for naught.

Only now are officials awakening to the true import of the disasters which have resulted from these foolhardy attempts to conquer the ocean-barrier by air. They have now realized that trans-Atlantic air passage is a thing of the future, not of the present.

They now know that the tragic parody on Don Quixote has gone far enough.

J. M. Richie, of Illinois, was the guest of relatives here Tuesday, leaving Wednesday morning for his home, accompanied by his father, T. J. Richie, who will spend the winter there. James P. Francis and family, of Martin, were guests recently of Mr. Francis' brother, H. C. Francis, and family, while here they purchased their fall and winter supply of merchandise.

FRIGIDAIRE saves average of $105.36 a year over ice refrigeration

Amazing facts reported by FRIGIDAIRE users Low cost of operation an achievement of FRIGIDAIRE engineering

MANY still regard electric refrigeration as expensive. To prove that this is not true of Frigidaire, we sought the opinion of some 10,000 users.

Saves $105.36 per Year

The answers were startling. They indicated savings even greater than we anticipated. According to carefully tabulated records, an average of $105.36 per year—over and above all operating costs! These amazing economies are due to two things: (1) No ice bills. (2) No food waste.

A Scientific Achievement

Frigidaire represents years of research and development on the part of Frigidaire Engineers, and the Research Department of General Motors—the largest organization of electrical, chemical and mechanical engineers in the world. In Frigidaire modern science has incorporated elements that the exterior of the cabinet can't reveal.

New, Low Prices

To the wealth of evidence in favor of Frigidaire, add the new, low prices—the lowest in Frigidaire history. A complete model with Duco-finished enamel-lined steel cabinet—all ready to attach and operate from any convenient electric outlet—for the amazing price of only $180 f.o.b. Dayton.

Few Dollars Puts It in Your Home

Frigidaire is used each day in the year. The whole family enjoys it. And it pays for itself with the money it saves, as proved by the signed reports of users. Visit our display room and see the new models. A small deposit puts one in your home. Then pay a little each month under liberal General Motors terms. Come in today.

HENRY PORTER DEALER ALLEN, KENTUCKY

FRIGIDAIRE PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

C. B. Wheeler

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 31st JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY, COMPOSED OF FLOYD AND KNOTT COUNTIES:

I take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of Circuit Judge which many of you already know. It may seem rather early to start a campaign through the newspapers, as the election is two months off. My reasons for doing so are, First: I made no primary campaign for the nomination and it was therefore unnecessary for me to advertise my primary candidacy, and for this reason my ideas as to the judgeship have not been placed before the people who have a right to know the kind of a judge I will be when elected. Second: I want to fasten upon the minds of the voters, and especially those who oppose me, the fact that I am a candidate so there will be no further necessity of any time being lost in circulating the worn-out propaganda that "he will not run." In my declaration as a candidate in the primary I made affidavit that if nominated I would not withdraw. That one thing settles that question definitely. Aside from that reason I am in the race to win; am going to be elected by a large majority and expect to battle every inch of the way from now till victory is complete. I make this statement now to allay the anxiety of those who hope I will quit.

In regard to the first proposition stated, namely, my ideas of the judgeship. As stated, the people who elect a judge and whose servant he is or should be, have a right to know the kind of judge they are voting for before they vote. Their homes, their property, their lives and their liberty are all at stake. The future of the country as a home for our children when they are grown up and we have passed away is involved. Whether civilization progresses or retrogrades, or whether we have made our country better or worse by having lived in it is involved.

The circuit judges of Kentucky have more power over the people and more to do with their welfare, comfort and security than all the other officers of the state combined. The circuit court is in each county, at each man's door, with power to regulate his conduct toward his fellow man and to decide controversies between citizens over property rights, many of which decisions can not be appealed to a higher court. Therefore, the happiness and prosperity of the people depend largely upon their circuit judge.

It is clear then that one elected and serving in this position should be well qualified to perform the duties of the office. Now, what are those qualifications? I take it, the people are interested to know whether the candidates seeking their votes are qualified. This question is not new. In old times the people were oppressed by pettifoggers, shysters and venal judges who prostituted their high office. Christ in one of His parables made use of the example of an unjust judge, an official moved by personal consideration in the performance of his official duties, as an illustration to point one of his morals. The Greeks and Romans were alive to this failure to measure up to high standards on the part of judges. Horace, a Roman, vigorously asserted that a CORRUPT JUDGE IS NOT QUALIFIED TO INQUIRE INTO THE TRUTH. Finally Magna Charta of England dealt specifically with reforms demanded in the judicial administration and provided that no judges should be chosen who are not learned in the law AND DISPOSED DULY TO OBSERVE IT.

Now what are the characteristics of a good judge? Socrates says they are four-fold. He contended that a judge "Must hear courteously; answer wisely; consider orderly; decide impartially." Rufus Choate in his analysis of the best judge, said: "He must be profoundly learned in all the learning of the law and must know how to use that learning; he must be a man not merely upright; not merely honest and well-intentioned—but a man who will not respect persons in judgment."

As to the integrity and impartiality of judges he further said: "He shall not respect persons in judgment. He shall know nothing about the parties; everything about the case. He shall do everything for justice; nothing for himself; he should look only to the balances and decide the case in favor of the side of the weight of the evidence though the preponderance may be so slight that the quivering of the balance is barely discernible."

These are my ideals of a good judge. If I am elected I will strive with all the ability and power I possess to make that kind of a judge. No one coming into my court, rich or poor, man or woman, shall have cause to feel that I have not given them a fair trial and courteous treatment.

As to my qualifications, I have devoted my whole life to the study and practice of the law. I am 57 years old and have practiced law 36 years. The question of qualification is for the people to decide, as is also the question of the kind of judge they want. My claim to support is based solely upon my qualification to do the duties of the office. No other question can effect their performance. Politics has no place in this race nor in the work of the judge after election. No one will say that the politics of a litigant should be inquired into or considered in the trial of any case and therefore no political party or person could be benefited by the politics of the judge. Besides, the law expressly provides that the judges shall be taken out of politics, so that the only question is who will best serve the people as judge.

I will see as many of you as possible before the election, but hope this message will reach you all. I will greatly appreciate your support and promise that I will always strive to do justice to all and that you shall not have cause to regret supporting me.

—Political Adv.

MRS. SPRADLIN HOSTESS TO GRAHAM CHAPTER

Mrs. S. L. Spradlin was hostess to the September meeting of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, vice-regent, presided in the absence of Mrs. G. P. Archer, regent. After the regular business session, a delightful program was rendered.

Mrs. E. P. Arnold, as leader, read a very interesting paper on "The Revolution in the South," which was followed by an entertaining reading by Mrs. C. S. ...

The program was brought to a close by the charming rendition of a series of songs by Miss Edith Fitzpatrick.

NOTICE OF RECEIVING BIDS

Notice is hereby given that the Street Committee of the Board of Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, will, until noon, Monday, September 19, 1927, receive bids for the improvement by paving with concrete, curbing and guttering and installing the incidental sewers necessary there-to and thereunder of the following streets and ways in said city.

FLOYD STREET from the western end of bridge across Big Sandy river to and including the railway crossing in said street.

SECOND AVENUE from the northern end of the bridge across Trimble Branch in said avenue to the northern corporate limits of the city.

SEVENTH STREET from Second Avenue to eastern corporate limits of the city.

BROADWAY AVENUE from Court street to the northern corporate limits of the city.

FRIEND STREET (sewering only) from Broadway Avenue to Highland Avenue and up Trimble Branch, if desired.

This work is to be done and performed in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with the city clerk, which may be inspected and a copy furnished any prospective bidder.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank of Kentucky for at least five (5%) of the estimated amount of the work to be done. All this work will be constructed according to grades furnished by the city engineer, and bids must be sealed and filed with the city clerk. Each bid must be endorsed "Street Paving and Improvement Bid", and directed to W. C. Goble, City Clerk. The certified check accompanying each bid will be immediately returned after opening to unsuccessful bidder, and to the successful bidder when he enters into contract for the said work.

Done by order of the City Council, in regular meeting, on September 5, 1927.

C. W. MAY, Chairman Street Committee.

A Sunday (or Monday) with 'George' is time well spent

By Amanda Bruce

A two-and-a-half-hour musical based on a 19th Century painting? It doesn't sound too palatable, but "Sunday in the Park with George" drew accolades from the public and the critics. It won a Pulitzer Prize, two Tony Awards, a Grammy Award, the Drama Critic's Circle Award, the Outer Critic's Award and eight Drama Desk Awards.

Bernadette Peters

Though some viewers have complained that it's too long, too slow and too static, "Sunday in the Park with George," which airs on Showtime March 3 and 8, stealthily draws viewers into its long-ago world — and into the mind of its inspiration, artist Georges Seurat, who lived from 1859 to 1891.

Seurat's greatest painting, "A Sunday Afternoon on the Island of Grand Jatte," is the centerpiece of the play. It serves both as its backdrop and as the focal point around which the plot spins.

The plot is fictionalized, of course. Little is known about what went on in the mind and heart of Seurat, but composer/lyricist Stephen Sondheim and director James Lapine do a good job of sketching in believable details.

Mandy Patinkin stars as George and Bernadette Peters plays his lover, Dot. Their dramatic performances are strong and enticing, and their voices are beautiful. Try to sit through it. It's well worth the effort.

For the would-be scientists, the Arts & Entertainment Network presents "Horizons: The Sunspot Mystery," which premieres March 5.

Those not interested in science will consider it a bit dry, but it contains a good deal of interesting information. This show informs viewers, for example, that the cyclical blemishes on the sun's surface, sunspots, may cause major changes back here on earth, like drought and famine. Scientists have been investigating this possibility for decades, but there's still much to learn.

March is a winner month for movies! Stay tuned for Madonna and Rosanna Arquette in "Desperately Seeking Susan," Woody Allen's "The Purple Rose of Cairo," Sam Waterston in "The Killing Fields" and the Academy Award-winning "Amadeus." Details next week!

DYNASTY

Although they are bitter rivals, Alexis (Joan Collins, r.) and Blake (John Forsythe, top right) find themselves sharing the same problem — the arrival of siblings who create additional turmoil in their lives. On ABC's "Dynasty," Blake's brother Ben (Christopher Cazenove) returns from years in the Australian Outback and reveals a secret that only he and his brother share. And Alexis's sister Carress (Kate O'Mara) is seeking revenge on her sister. The series airs WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5.

MARQUEE

F/X (R-Orion) Starring Bryan Brown, Brian Dennehy, Diane Venora ★ ★ ★

By J.T. YURKO

In Hollywood, there's a popular notion that producers will refuse to listen to any story idea that cannot be described in one sentence. Assuming that's true, "F/X" must have fit the bill to perfection.

A movie special-effects expert is hired to stage a phony assassination, but ends up being double-crossed and framed for the murder by the government witness-protection agency that hired him.

That's it, folks. Neat and precise. Of course, just because the premise fits into one sentence doesn't necessarily mean that the film will be a smash at the box office. The proof is in the making, and a great recipe doesn't always make a great meal.

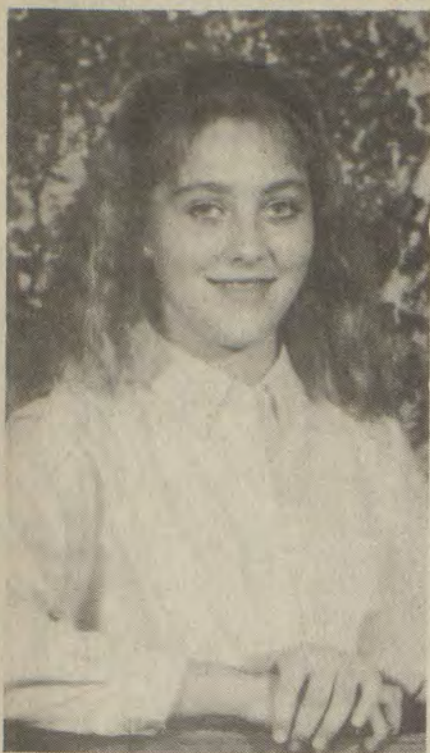

"F/X," however, is a sumptuous bit of murder, mystery and mayhem, spiced with plot twists, sprinkled lightly with bits of humor, and topped off with a rich surprise ending. From concept to completion, "F/X" is great escapist fare.

Bryan Brown is the star of the film, and his Australian accent quickly reminds you of his past films, most notably "Breaker Morant." He's the special-effects expert, and his apartment is littered with a motley collection of everything from fake corpses to outer-space creatures. Like one of Alfred Hitchcock's wrongly accused heroes, Brown is forced to make dozens of daring escapes — both from the cops and from the bad guys.

Brian Dennehy, the alien leader in "Cocoon," plays a cop who skirts the rules in order to catch the bad guy. Even though he doesn't enter the film until well past the halfway mark, he brings his usual solid acting abilities to the role of a hard-boiled cop and delivers it fresh.

This is the first script by the team of Robert T. Megginson and Gregory Fleeman. If future scripts are as good as this one, the pair should have no trouble convincing producers to buy their future projects. By then, of course, they won't have to worry about that one sentence description. They will only have to show the producers the line at the bottom of the page called "box-office receipts." That line should be considerable.

Martin Spelling Champ, Runnerup

Ann Castle

Anna Crum

Martin Elementary eighth-grader Ann Castle, 13-year-old daughter of Roy and Rose Castle, of Martin, who was runner-up in the 1985 contest, proved that persistence can be rewarding as she came back this year to win the title of spelling champion over 11 other students.

Round after round of words were spelled until the number of participants narrowed to three. Fourth grader Tracy Dingus, daughter of Bobby and Micky Dingus, of Martin, displayed exceptional spelling skills before she relinquished the match to two older students. The match continued until Anna Crum stumbled on the word "jealous." Ann Castle correctly spelled both "jealous" and "breakdown," the next word on the list, to win the title of 1986 Martin Spelling Champion.

Anna Crum, who is in the sixth grade, is the daughter of David and Nancy Crum, of Martin.

Other contestants, their misspelled words, and the order in which they were eliminated were (1) Greg Prater, 7th grade, "meant"; (2) Betty Castle, 5th grade, "loyal"; (3) Amy Clay, 4th grade, "rude"; (4) Bobby Dingus, 5th grade, "strike"; (5) Byron Prater, 8th grade, "scale"; (6) Jamie Shepherd, 7th grade, "werent"; (7) Verla Morton, 4th grade, "Dec."; (8) Melanie Stokley, 6th grade, "repaid"; (9) Christina Scarberry, 5th grade, "slipped", and (10) Tracy Dingus, 4th grade, "deciding".

The winner will represent the school in the 1986 KEA and Herald-Dispatch Spelling Bees.

The spelling match was conducted by the Martin Special Reading teachers under supervision of Principal William R. Hughes.

KET Explores Beauty Of Natural Wonders

"Kentucky's Natural Heritage" will be aired on KET Wednesday, March 5, during KET's TeleFund '86, at 8 p.m. The three segments of this special program will examine some of Kentucky's unique environments with a wide range of biological and geological characteristics, including naturally-carved sandstone arches, cascading waterfalls, and cypress swamplands.

The first segment will show the Red River Gorge, which is best known for its geological features, including some 100 natural arches which have been carved out over time by the same forces which shaped the Grand Canyon—the erosive powers of water, wind, and weathering. There is a grand diversity of plant life in the Gorge's 26,000 acres; 550 species of plants flourish beneath towering outcrops of sandstone and limestone.

Murphy's Pond, in the lowlands of western Kentucky, is a 280-acre swamp which features the last remaining virgin cypress trees in the state. This biological study area is rich in plant and animal life indigenous to swampland.

Cumberland Falls is shown on the third segment of the program. Known as the Niagara of the South, Cumberland Falls produces the only "moonbow" in the western hemisphere. The program examines the role of fresh water in the global weather cycle, and the interconnectedness of watersheds.

CUSTOM ANTENNA
Martin, Ky. • 285-3984
Across the Creek from GARTH VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Spring is around the corner and the time is right to set your eyes on the stars. Today is the time to check into becoming the proud owner of a satellite antenna for the whole family.

The skies did not go black on January 15 as was exaggerated by the purveyors of gloom and doom. With a satellite antenna you have at your command access to over a billion dollars worth of high technology. The programming is unlimited with news, sports, information, education, religion, and entertainment.

There is so much to receive and so far we have seen only the tip of the iceberg. The future is bright and use of these systems will be limited only by the imagination of man.

Each weeknight those who own a satellite antenna may tune in to T303 Transponder 18-6.2 Audio from 8 p.m. until midnight and listen to or participate on FM America. Here you can keep up with all current topics which are relevant to the satellite owner, such as: scrambling, legal, zoning and important legislation.

Anyone who has questions concerning satellite television please feel free to call and I will do my best to answer them. The best times to call are early morning and evenings.

Chosen For All State

Miss Jamie Rhea Harris was among those chosen recently to represent the Prestonsburg High School at the 1986 All State Chorus to be held February 8, at Lexington. She is the daughter of Ruby and Billie Harris.

Students Honored For High Scores

Ten Prestonsburg High School students received certificates recently in recognition of high scores on a national test of academic skills. The students were among the top 10 percent on standardized tests in English, math, science and social studies administered to ninth and 10th grade students by a national testing group. Participation in the testing is voluntary on the part of schools and students. Prestonsburg High School participates, said guidance counselor Edgar V. Craft, "because we feel this affords an opportunity for good students to gain recognition and helps them gauge their level of academic achievement."

Awarded certificates by Principal Robert May were ninth graders Aaron K. Derossert, daughter of Aaron and Pat Derossert, of Allen; Elizabeth C. Hamm, daughter of Judy and Cecil Hamm, of David; and Tonya Thornsbury, daughter of Verldon and Loretta Thornsbury, of Blue River; and 10th graders Kathleen J. Craft, daughter of Edgar and Phyllis Craft, of Allen; Eric C. Haley, son of Wilma Haley, of Prestonsburg; Thomas E. Horn, son of Harrison and Linda Horn, of Auxier; Martie Lafferty, daughter of Jerry and Anita Lafferty, of Allen; Melissa D. May, daughter of Patricia and Bill May, of Prestonsburg; Michael J. Rosenberg, son of John and Jean Rosenberg, of Prestonsburg; and David L. Spiggle, son of George A. and Nancy E. Spiggle, of Prestonsburg.

Conley In Pageants

Eric Dexter Conley, 2½-year-old son of Dexter and Beverly Conley, of Hueysville, was first runnerup in his category and was chosen most photogenic in the Kentucky's Dream World Preliminary Pageant. He was also first runnerup, Tiny Master at the Garrett second Annual Harvest Pageant, and winner of Cupid 1985 at the Garrett's Sweetheart Pageant.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble

(1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals...call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

E. Ky. Baptists To Hold Leadership Conference

Eastern Kentucky Baptists will meet at the Prestonsburg First Baptist Church on Tuesday, March 4, 1986 to conduct an Area Church Training Leadership Conference.

The individual age group conferences will be conducted by staff and Special Workers from the Kentucky Baptist Convention's Church Training/Special Ministries Department. These persons have recently attended a national Special Workers Training Conference sponsored by the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Age group specialists in adult, youth, children, and preschool training will teach from the new manual, Discipleship Training, which will be released nationally by Baptists in late 1986. Other helpful information for the training and discipling of church members will also be given out.

The meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m.

AWARDS WINNER

The National Secondary Education Council and the United States Achievement Academy have announced that Sean M. Ousley has been named an Academic All-American and a United States National Award winner in English.

Ousley, who attends J.H. Allen Central High School, was nominated for the Academic All-American award by Joyce Watson, teacher, and for the USAA award by Patricia Watson, English teacher at the school. His biography will appear in both the Academic All-American Scholar Directory and the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, both published nationally.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Ousley and the grandson of Audrey Ousley, of Manton, and Mr. and Mrs. Manis Risner, of Martin.

Mining Injuries Decrease in '85

Accidental injury rates for all types of mining in the United States decreased last year, compared to the rates for 1984, according to the Department of Labor's Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA).

David A. Zegeer, assistant secretary of labor for mine safety and health, reported that rates which measure the number of hours worked in both the coal and metal and nonmetal (non-coal) industries declined from 1984 to 1985.

MSHA earlier had reported that both the coal mining and the metal and nonmetal fatality totals for last year were the lowest annual number of deaths ever reported in each industry.

"The downward trend in both the number of deaths and the injury rates is an achievement of which everyone in the American mining community can be proud," said Zegeer. "This indicates that a great many people have been down in the trenches, working every day to make mining safer."

Zegeer added, "in spite of the encouraging numbers last year, tragic and avoidable accidents still are occurring, and we at MSHA are urging everyone in the industry to re-double his or her efforts to bring the injury rates down even further."

Preliminary data compiled by MSHA show that the rate of fatal injuries in coal mining in 1985 was .04 per 200,000 employee-hours, down from .07 in 1984. Sixty seven coal miners died in work-related accidents in 1985, compared to 126 fatalities during 1984.

The rate for nonfatal injuries in coal mining in 1985 was 6.17, a decline from 6.81 in 1984. The rate for all types of injuries in coal mining dropped from 6.87 in 1984 to 6.21 last year.

Coal miners worked a total of 351.9 million employee-hours in 1985, a decrease from 376.6 million employee-hours reported in 1984. Average employment also dropped from 208,160 coal miners in 1984 to 195,298 in 1985. Coal production decreased from 883.8 million tons in 1984 to 854.4 million tons in 1985.

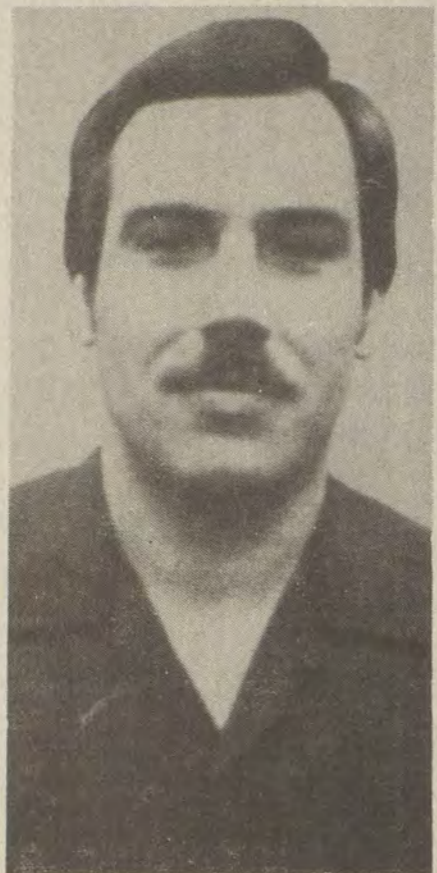

The rate for fatal injuries at metal and nonmetal mines in 1985 was .03, compared with .04 in 1984. Fifty-six metal and nonmetal miners died in work-related accidents in 1985, compared to 80 fatalities in 1984.

The rate for nonfatal injuries in metal and nonmetal mining in 1985 was 4.23, compared to 4.52 for 1984. The rate for all types of injuries was 4.26, compared to 4.56 for all of 1984.

Metal and nonmetal miners compiled a total of 379.9 million employee-hours in 1985, compared to 398.6 million in 1984. The average number of miners employed in these industries decreased, from 219,727 in 1984 to 216,531 in 1985.

Additional data on mining injuries will be published in "Mine Injuries and Worktime Quarterly, January-December 1985," available in the coming months from the Office of Information and Public Affairs, MSHA, 4015 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Va. 22203. Telephone: (703) 235-1452.

Receives Safety Award

With more cars crowding the highways every year, driving 10 years without an accident is quite an achievement.

Wayne Walters of United Parcel Service was recently recognized for such an honor. Walters, who drives out of the Prestonsburg office, was awarded an honor certificate and a gas grill for reaching the milestone.

When asked how he maintained his 10-year record, Walters said, "Safe driving can never be taken lightly; in fact, I always rank it along with excellent service."

Walters began with UPS in 1976. He currently makes deliveries in the Breathitt county area and lives at Emma.

KNOW MORE ABOUT FILING ESTIMATED INCOME TAXES

The average person doesn't need to be a tax specialist. Accountants are here to serve that need; they will see that all the niceties are taken care of so that you pay the least amount of tax under the current law. Nevertheless, you will get more value from your accountant's service if you are better acquainted with general tax concepts.

Many taxpayers are paying unnecessary penalties for underestimating their income taxes. Most people who work for a salary have an adequate amount of taxes paid in through withholding to eliminate "underestimating penalties." Those taxpayers with income not subject to withholding such as rents, royalties, dividends or self-employment business income may need to pay quarterly estimated taxes.

In general, you will not be subject to an underestimating penalty if you have paid in 80% of your taxes due on your current tax return. It's difficult to determine 80% of your tax liability when you don't know your annual income until the year is completed. Therefore, many taxpayers use a second allowable computation for avoiding penalties; this is 100% of the prior year's tax liability. If you pay 100% of last year's tax liability, you will not be penalized for underestimating even if your current year tax liability is larger than that amount.

If you file your tax return and pay the remaining taxes due by January 31, 1986, you are not required to make your fourth quarter estimate which otherwise is due January 15, 1986.

If you receive a penalty notice for underestimating your taxes, do not pay it without a close review. There are three computations available to all taxpayers which may avoid a penalty for underestimating.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT 85-C1-420

United Federal Savings and Loan Association vs: NOTICE OF SALE

A.C. Swiney and Mary Hill Swiney, his wife: Wayne and Ethel Ratliff: The Commonwealth of Kentucky; and Floyd County, Kentucky Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the November 26 term, 1985 and the January 28 term, 1986, in the above-styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 27th day of February, 1986, at 10 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of thirty (30) days the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at a stake in the right-of-way line of Kentucky Highway No. 142; thence running across the bottom to an apple tree; thence continuing in the same direction up the hill to the property line of Stanley Johnson; thence turning to the right and running down the hill with his line to the State Highway right of way; thence turning to the right and running with the State Highway right-of-way line to the stake, corner of beginning.

Excepting and excluding, however, from the foregoing description, that certain tract or parcel of land conveyed by A.C. Swiney and Mary Hill Swiney, et al., to Joe D. Pelphrey and Betty Sue Pelphrey, his wife, by deed dated the 18th day of September, 1976, and recorded in Deed Book 227, page 180, Floyd County Clerk's office, and described as follows:

Beginning 207 feet, more or less, in the center of drain along the road or street, at a metal stake, from the corner of the Claude and Mary Lou Swiney and the Frasure-Hill Corporation on Highway 1427; thence running at near a right angle East and 10 feet back of and near parallel to privacy fence for a distance of 213 feet, more or less, to a metal stake above mentioned (approximately 252 feet west of Stanley Johnson's line) and up the hill with the line of Billy Blair and Marjorie Blair to the top of the ridge; thence left and up the ridge to corner of Claude Swiney and Frasure-Hill Corporation; thence left and down the hill and drain with same lines to point of beginning.

The foregoing A.C. Swiney and Mary Hill Swiney property is also subject to a restrictive covenant, that additional structure will not be built or placed between the property conveyed to the Pelphreys and property lying west of existing home and joining property of Frasure-Hill Corporation. This restriction is described in the foregoing deed from A.C. Swiney and Mary Hill Swiney, his wife, to Joe D. Pelphrey and Betty Sue Pelphrey, recorded in Deed Book 277, page 180, Floyd County Clerk's Office.

Also excepting and excluding from the foregoing description, that certain tract or parcel of land conveyed to Sam Jones and Emma Jones, his wife, by deed dated the 5th day of May, 1967, and recorded in Deed Book 193, page 646, Floyd County Clerk's Office, and described as follows:

Beginning at a corner of the property of Stanley Johnson, in the right of way line of State Highway 1427, thence running west with said State Highway a distance of approximately 256 feet, more or less, to a stake in said right of way line, thence turning at a near right angle and running a straight line across the bottom by the east edge of an underground concrete septic tank belonging to the first parties and parallel with the line of Stanley Johnson, and continuing parallel to the top of the hill to the boundary line of the first parties, said boundary line being the old line of Scott Hill, thence turning at near right angle and running down the ridge with the old Scott Hill line to the line of Stanley Johnson, and thence turning right and continue down the said hill with the Stanley Johnson line and across the bottom to the beginning corner, being a lot or parcel of land 252 feet wide, more or less, being said Stanley Johnson land and the east edge of the septic tank, and extending from the State Highway to the top of the ridge.

Any purchaser, except the plaintiff, shall be required to make a cash deposit of $500.00 at the time of sale.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the several sums of $45,883.88 and $6,231.00 with interest thereon at 12% annually from November 26, 1985 until satisfied and accrued interest of $1,628.00 and $416.00 and the additional sums of $627.77 and $150.52 taxes, plus interest and penalties, and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the lien and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 7th day of February, 1986, MARSHALL DAVIDSON, Master Commissioner 2-12-31

ORDINANCE NO. 2-86

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY ANNEXING AS A PART OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, A TRACT OF LAND IMMEDIATELY ADJACENT TO THE NORTHERN LIMITS OF THE CITY LIMITS OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY.

WHEREAS: The City Council has determined that it is desirable to annex a tract of land adjacent to the northern limits of the City of Prestonsburg along US 23 commonly known as Auxier Road up to the Auxier Bridge, and;

WHEREAS: Many of the City services are in place and are offered to the residents of this area, and;

WHEREAS: The City Council has declared their intention to annex said property at a Regular Meeting held January 27, 1986, NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: That the City Council have the first reading of an ordinance on January 27, 1986 and publish said ordinance according to law, to annex as a part of the City of Prestonsburg a section of land immediately adjacent to the northern limits of the city limits of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, described as follows:

"Beginning at a line in the current corporate limits, said line being at the current northern city limits on US 23 and 460 and going in a northerly direction in the middle of the natural course of the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River, following the river to the bridge crossing into Auxier, Kentucky and following a line parallel to the Auxier Bridge crossing US 23 and KY 460 and turning in a southerly direction along the edge of the highway going behind the property of the Regency Apartments and following a line behind the Highland Regional Medical Center and going around the property of Highland Regional Medical Center and from there following a point 20 feet off of the highway right-of-way to MinCon Supply and going around the back of their property and coming back up to a point 20 feet from the highway and following this route up to Frank Adams Used Auto Parts going around Adams Used Auto Parts property and coming back out to the property of the Plantation Motel and going around the back line of the Plantation Motel and following a line around the bottom of the hill crossing the hill behind the property of Tommy Hyden and continuing across the hill in a line behind the Branham property and coming back out to the highway and following a line 20 feet off of the edge of the highway to a point of two trailers and going around the trailers and coming back out to a point 20 feet from the edge of the highway and following a point to the National Guard Armory, going around the property of the Armory and coming out to the highway to a point 20 feet from the edge of the highway and following a point to the property of Floyd Skeens, going behind the Skeens property and following a line behind the property of Alex Hughes and going southerly behind the two shop complexes and behind the property of Sexton and Isbell following a line behind the property of Arnold Clark and following back out to a line 20 feet from the edge of the highway up to the property of Buster Music, going around the Music property to a point 20 feet from the edge of the highway and following in a southerly direction to connect with the present city limits. A more particular description and map will be filed in the County Court Clerk's Office within sixty (60) days of acceptance into the City of the area described."

SECTION 2: If not less than sixty (60) days after the enactment of this ordinance, if no petition has been received by the Mayor as set out in KRS 81A.420(2), or within sixty (60) days of the certification of election results in which less than seventy-five percent (75%) of the qualified voters in the area oppose annexation, the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky shall enact this ordinance annexing to the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, the property described in Section 1 of this ordinance.

SECTION 3: The City Council of the City of Prestonsburg does hereby declare it desirable to annex the territory described herewithin this ordinance.

SECTION 4: All ordinances, or part of ordinances, in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SECTION 5: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from the date of passage, after publication as required by law and the provisions of this ordinance.

ANN R. LATTA, Mayor ATTEST: SUE WEBB, City Clerk 2-19-21

PUBLIC NOTICE A public notice will be conducted on Thursday, March 6, 1986 at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building. The purpose of this public hearing will be to discuss a request for a zone change by Donn Chickering on his property located at 250 North Arnold Avenue. It is requested that the zone be changed from R-3 to C-2. The Prestonsburg Planning Commission will conduct this hearing. The public is urged to attend this meeting. For further information, please contact the Planning Commission at 886-2335.

FRANK FITZPATRICK, Chairman Prestonsburg Planning Commission 2-5-31

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Permit No. 660-8006

(1) In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that National Mines Corporation, Box 12022, 101 East Vine Street, Lexington, Ky. 40579, has filed an amendment to an existing permit for an underground mining operation. The proposed operation will affect a surface disturbance of 4.99 acres and will underlie an additional 80.0 acres, located one mile west of Raven, in Knott County. The original permit had 185.38 acres with a minor revision of 3.63 acres making a total of 189.01 acres previously permitted. The total acreage after the amendment will be 194.00 acres.

(2) The proposed operation is approximately 2.3 miles southwest from Ky. Rte. 899 junction with Ky. Rte. 7 and located 2.4 miles southwest of Right Fork of Beaver Creek. The latitude is 37 degrees, 24 minutes, 08 seconds. The longitude is 82 degrees, 49 minutes, 41 seconds. ADVERTISE FOR 2 ROAD CLOSINGS

At the February 21, 1986 Floyd County Fiscal Court meeting, the Court voted to advertise for closing the following roads.

1. "The old road that at one time connected Abbott Creek/Big Branch with Middle Creek/Happy Hollow. This road has not been used by the public for thirty (30) years. The road begins and ends on the Fitzpatrick property and that is the portion that the Court is concerned with closing."

2. "The property located at Justell Bridge, Betsy Layne, Ky. on Old US 23 which adjoins the property and runs along parallel in from of the property with the present US 23 to the right-of-way of the present US 23; property owners are Peggy Clark, Lynn Justice, Bebe Conn, Gregory Clark, Teresa Frazier and Stanley Justice. This request is being made as this old road is no longer used by the public. The road is not at present nor has it been maintained by the county since it was abandoned to new US 23."

If anyone has any objections to the closing of the above mentioned roads, please contact any member of the Fiscal Court before the next meeting scheduled for March 13, 1986 at 10:00 a.m. FLOYD COUNTY FISCAL COURT John M. Stumbo County Judge/Executive 2-26-31

USDA Announces New Land Program

The Food Security Act of 1985 provides for Conservation Reserve Programs to begin in 1986. The purpose of this program is to remove from production the nation's most highly eroding cropland. To be eligible, the land must have been cropped in two of the last three years (1981-'85), must be in condition for continued cropping, and be eroding at least twice the rate at which nature can replace the soil. Under CRP, a farmer may sign a 10-year contract to take eligible land out of production and put it into perennial grasses, trees or wildlife plantings. In return, the farmer will receive an annual rental payment (based upon a bid submitted to the CRP "pool"); 1/2 the cost of establishing the cover on the land, and technical assistance from the USDA agencies.

ARC Winter Meeting

Federal Co-Chairman Winifred A. Pizzano, States' Co-Chairman Martha Layne Collins, Governor of Kentucky, and Governors of the other Appalachian States will attend a meeting of the Appalachian Regional Commission February 25 in Washington.

Among items on the agenda are: allocation among the States of the $120 million appropriated for Commission programs for FY1986; discussion of the status of the Appalachian Development Highway System; and a preview of a report detailing the economic status of counties in the Appalachian Region, relative to the rest of the nation.

The meeting, held in conjunction with a meeting of the National Governors Association, will be held in the Columbia Ballroom of the Hyatt Regency Washington at 12 p.m.

Named To PCC Panel

Prestonsburg Community College Director Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr. recently announced the appointment of Paul Douglas Hinkle, president of Walter P. Walters Insurance Agency of Pikeville, to the PCC Advisory Board. PCC, at almost 1400 students, is a community college serving the entire Big Sandy area. Current Board members are from Johnson, Martin, Knott, Pike and Floyd counties. Although 20 years ago Floyd county made up most of the student enrollment, today Floyd students represent 41 percent of the enrollment while Johnson and Pike counties contribute approximately 20 percent each, Martin 8 percent, Magoffin 7 percent, and out-of-area students 3 percent.

Hinkle, appointed to a four-year term on the advisory board by Governor Martha Layne Collins, has a distinguished background and a sincere interest in public education. He graduated from high school in Inez, attended Pikeville College and graduated from Morehead State University with a B.S. in education and an M.S. in school administration. Before joining Walter P. Walters he was a classroom teacher, director of pupil personnel, and a high school principal. Later he spent twelve years on the Pikeville School Board, ten years as chairman. He has also served on the Pikeville College Board of Trustees.

SCHOOL PROPERTY SALE

The Floyd County Board of Education will receive sealed bids until 7 o'clock, March 5, 1986 for the following property:

Subject property consists of approximately three-fourths acre located along Highway 194 and the right fork of Home Branch. The lot is level to rolling and five to ten feet below the grade of Highway 194. There is no zoning for subject property, but it has been used for an elementary school for the Floyd County School System.

Subject property is improved by two frame buildings and a metal trailer. Building number one contains approximately 876 square feet, has wood siding exterior and an asphalt shingle roof. The interior is one large room with two small baths, although there are no fixtures in the building. Interior walls are drywall with a hardwood floor. Other improvements include blackboard and some shelving. Condition of this building is considered to be poor as the roof has leaked, windows are broken, floors are buckled, and the building has been vandalized. Building number two contains approximately 786 square feet, has wood siding and a tin roof. Interior walls are paneled and the floors are hardwood. This building also is in poor condition as vandals have broken windows and torn up the interior in general. Building number three is a metal trailer containing approximately 248 square feet. The roof is asphalt rolled and the interior is vinyl floor and paneled walls.

The minimum acceptable bid is $14,800 (fourteen thousand eight hundred dollars).

The Floyd County Board of Education reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

MEAT is beef high in saturated fat's

NUTRI-FACTS

Beef actually contains considerably less fat than is generally assumed. Three ounces of cooked lean beef contain about nine grams of fat, and less than half of that is saturated. Of all the fat in the U.S. food supply, 36 percent comes from meat and fish. The increase in fat intake in this country has been caused primarily by an increase in use of vegetable fats. Fats and oils now account for 43 percent of the fat in the food supply.

Students Address Weighty Questions

Big means bad. Fast food, snacks from machines, pizzas and pasta—tempting treats like these often lead the average college student to eating binges. But two seniors at Eastern Kentucky University are doing something about it. Nannette Harping and Missy Reynolds conduct a nutrition clinic each Wednesday afternoon at the EKU infirmary to help fellow students control eating problems. Both are dietetics majors and both say the 10 students who attend their clinics enjoy the experience. "The group is very enthusiastic and very talkative," Ms. Harping said. Ms. Harping, of Louisville, worked as a dietician counselor at the Veteran's Administration Medical Center last summer. She said EKU's nutrition clinic is an opportunity to get hands-on experience in her field. Her counseling partner agreed, and said the experience has taught her quite a bit about her major. "Actually we find that many students just don't understand the importance of good nutrition," said Ms. Reynolds. Last summer she worked with the dietician at Pikeville Methodist Hospital. She is a Floyd county native. The clinic teaches students how to prepare healthy snacks, how to maintain weight after losing it, and how to prepare a low-calorie diet on a college student's budget, Ms. Harping said.

Barter Transactions Are Taxable Income

The fair market value of goods or services exchanged through barter, either informally or through barter associations, is considered taxable income according to the Internal Revenue Service. This is consistent with the general rule that all income is taxable unless specifically exempt by law. Barter associations are required to report member transactions to the IRS which will, in turn, check to ensure that members have reported the barter income on their federal income tax returns. One example of a barter exchange is, if a carpenter were to build a dining room table worth $300 for a dentist in exchange for $300 worth of dental work, both would have to include $300 in income because in fact both actually received $300 worth of goods or services. Taxpayers who have not reported barter income should correct their income tax returns by filing Form 1040X, "Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return", for the years involved, the IRS said. Forms are available by calling the IRS toll free 1-800-424-1040, or by writing the IRS Forms Center, P.O. Box 6900, Florence, Kentucky 41042.

Vitamin B-6 For PMS Dangerous To Health

Many women take vitamin B-6 supplements to relieve symptoms of premenstrual syndrome (PMS). A University of Kentucky nutritionist warns that adverse side effects from vitamin B-6 overdose may be worse than the symptoms it seeks to relieve. "Moreover, there is little sound support to prove that B-6 therapy is an effective way to treat PMS," said Dr. Darlene Forester, foods and nutrition specialist with the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service. Forester said some doctors and other health professionals are recommending daily B-6 doses that are hundreds of times greater than the recommended dietary allowance of two milligrams daily. Vitamin B-6 plays a part in the formation of a number of brain chemicals. Since it is water soluble, people have assumed it is excreted in urine and is therefore nontoxic. In fact, too much vitamin B-6 can cause nervous system disorders ranging from numbness of the hands and feet to burning and tingling sensations in the skin. "Some people have even experienced muscle incoordination and impaired walking," said Forester. Research shows that daily intake of 2,000 to 6,000 milligrams is harmful. "But it is becoming clear that even much lower doses can cause problems," she said. In one study Forester mentioned, people experienced nervous system problems after taking 500 milligrams of B-6 daily over periods of eight months to two years. Forester recommends against taking B-6 supplements in general. Most people can get the amount they need simply by eating a variety of food from the dairy, meat, and bread and cereal food groups, she said. People with questions about the adequacy of vitamin B-6 in their diet should consult a registered dietitian.
