

Brackett To Plea Garrett's Need Of New School

Ironically, while Superintendent Ray Brackett was the target of criticism by many Garrett parents for his refusal in January to recommend that Garrett be moved to the top of the school district's building priorities, it will be Brackett who will be arguing the case for Garrett on behalf of the Board of Education at a hearing scheduled next month by the state Department of Education.

Moreover, while Brackett was again taken to task by a Garrett spokesman at a Board of Education meeting, Tuesday last week, the new superintendent was mending his fences this week, explaining to Garrett parents on Monday the procedures to be followed at the upcoming hearing and listening to their case for rebuilding the flood-ravaged school.

The hearing is scheduled for 6 p.m. Friday, April 4, in Prestonsburg, and will be chaired by Dr. Dan Branham, who was briefly in charge of Martin county schools and is now deputy state schools superintendent.

Brackett said he will speak at the hearing for the board majority which voted last month to ask for state approval of a plan to bring construction of a new Garrett school up from ninth position to the top of the building agenda. Board members James A. Duff, Ray

NEWLY-APPOINTED leader of Floyd schools, Ray Brackett, left, accepted the congratulations Thursday of Rodney Moore, spokesman for a Garrett citizens' group which has been sharply critical of Brackett and which backed former Supt. E.P. Grigsby, Jr. for the superintendent's post made vacant when Grigsby stepped down under state pressure last August. Moore later said Brackett would have his support. Still later, Brackett said "both sides felt good" about a meeting he had with the Garrett group Monday.

By 4-1 Vote; Asks Unity Of Purpose

Well before the formal vote was taken Thursday, insiders knew enough to have a cake inscribed "Congratulations, Ray" and to mix the punch for a victory party in the Board of Education's central office building. For most, however, the 4-1 vote for Ray Brackett at the board's special meeting in the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria was the first evidence they had that, after months of intense and sometimes bitter lobbying by supporters, it was the acting superintendent and not former Supt. E.P. Grigsby, Jr. who had the votes it would take to step in as permanent superintendent of Floyd schools.

The vote came after a brief description by board vice-chairman James A. Duff of the rural Ohio school district a board delegation visited on Wednesday—a summary of the district that made no mention of its superintendent, Bill M. Stephan, who was proposed by a University of Kentucky consultant as a good choice for superintendent here—and a 20-minute executive session that excluded all but the five board members and state monitor Pete Royle.

On a call for nominations by Chairman Dr. James D. Adams when the board returned to open session, Duff proposed Brackett, spelling out the terms of his contract: to begin immediately and run through the end of June, 1988, when Grigsby's term would have expired, and to pay $48,000 annually. In addition, Brackett would retain his $2400-a-year job as board secretary.

Although the nomination required no second, board member Fred Newsome endorsed Brackett, who also got the support of the chairman and of Ray "Shag" Campbell, a longtime friend and political ally of Grigsby. Only Dr. Mary Hall, who objected bitterly to the state intervention last year that brought Grigsby down, stood by the former superintendent to the end. "I am opposed," she said emphatically, when the vote for Brackett was taken. At the close of the meeting, she and Grigsby quickly left together, although Grigsby returned later to offer his congratulations to his successor.

After a brief acceptance speech—he promised a longer statement of goals at the April board meeting—Brackett

Insurance Available To Endangered Homes

Fiscal Court Votes To Join State Program

If you have built your home or business over abandoned mine workings and fear the ground may later subside, insurance will now be available as the result of a Floyd Fiscal Court decision last Thursday.

The court opted to participate in a program being administered by the state Department of Insurance, which is using a $3 million federal grant to set up a fund to insure properties that could not receive coverage under conventional policies.

Fifty-six coal counties are eligible to benefit from the fund but individual homeowners could not have participated unless the county agreed as a whole to join the program. According to information sent to the court by Thomas D. Laferty, Jr., former Floyd county clerk and now principal assistant to Insurance Commissioner Gil McCarty, problems of coal mine subsidence have become more severe in recent years. The problem occurs when pillars of coal left to support the roof of a mine erode and collapse, or else sink into clay mine floors softened by water over a long period of time.

Every insurance company operating in the county will offer subsidence insurance under the plan, which is expected to be in effect by July. Homeowners will pay up to $22 annually for $50,000 coverage; owners of businesses will pay up to $38 for the same coverage. Claims will be paid by the local insurer, who will then be reimbursed out of the state fund.

Federal funds are intended to be used only to begin the program, which should become self-supporting in a few years, the Department of Insurance release said.

County road crews were brought up to a little over half strength with the hiring of 10 workers; another eight workers could be hired in April if funds are available, it was said. Hired were heavy equipment operators Ray Hill, Clyde Burke, Freddie Daniels, Lenvil Campbell, William M. Wells and Bernard Martin, and truck drivers Donnie Gearheart, Bill Ray Newsome, Norman Hall and Greg Cooley. Donnie F. Combs, hired last month as a heavy equipment operator, was reclassified as a truck driver. Equipment operators are paid at an hourly rate of $6.89, truck drivers at $5.81.

Constable Morgan Joseph, citing the recent decision to hire two county detectives at $400 a month, asked the court to pay the four county constables at the same rate and to include them in the county employees health and life insurance plans. Constables receive only $127.50 a month and must furnish their own car, uniforms and weapons, he said. The constables were invited to make their case before hearings scheduled

Plan To Replace Old Bridge At Goble-Roberts

The process of getting started on replacing the old swinging bridge connecting the Goble-Roberts addition with KY 1428 took one step forward—and a half-step back this week.

According to City Administrator David Evans, the last step remaining before negotiations could begin on buying the property needed for the new bridge was an appraisal of that property. The city commissioned local realtor Dixon Nunnery to conduct the appraisals, which he did, giving them to Evans last week.

Evans was preparing to begin negotiations with the property owners when he received word from the state Monday that the appraisals were not detailed enough, thus requiring that work be done over.

The set-back is considered minor, and the city has already contacted most of the property owners involved, who have been co-operative.

"They've been real friendly," Evans said. "Everybody realized the value of the bridge, what it means to Goble-Roberts."

The two-lane cement-and-steel structure will span almost 600 feet across the Big Sandy, replacing a swinging bridge which, though closed now and a hazard almost ready to fall on its own, was once the only way in and out of that section.

Evans said the city was taking care of the land acquisition at the state's request.

"It's to facilitate acquisition," he said. (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

W'wright Officials In Bitter Dispute

When a "reform" slate he backed won all but one of the seats on Wheelwright city council last year, Don Daniels, then board chairman of the city's utilities system, thought his troubles with the council were over.

In fact, the worst was yet to come. Daniels, his three colleagues on the utilities commission, and his staff, including field superintendent Jackie Bentley, quit earlier this month rather than work under a proposed city ordinance they found intolerable.

The ordinance, which has had two readings but has yet to be advertised as required by law, would strengthen council control over the relatively independent commission, reducing its members' terms in office from six years to one year and having them serve at the pleasure of the council.

For council members Glen Thornsberry, Dennis Holbrook and Dennis Harris, the change is necessary if the city is to demand accountability of the utilities commission, which they accuse of loose financial practices and arrogance. Thornsberry, 29, who had Daniels as a high school football coach and who enjoyed his support at the polls last November, concedes he has not lived up to his mentor's expectations. But "as a coach he taught us to do the right thing, and we want to do the right thing for the city," he said.

The right thing, according to Thornsberry, is for the council to "see where the money's going, to put it back into the system, back into the town, so we can be proud of it again."

Thornsberry spoke bitterly last week of being turned down last December when he asked for a breakdown of $4000 listed under miscellaneous in the utility system's monthly financial statement. "They told me to contact their attorney," the councilman said, adding "We're supposed to have this information. We shouldn't have to go through their lawyer."

The council majority also questioned payments to Bartley, the system's superintendent, who they said was being paid at an hourly rate of $19, and asked for a breakdown of $2500 in expenditures listed as "casual labor." An audit of the utility system's books has been commissioned by the city and was scheduled to begin Friday, Thornsberry said.

Daniels, who is principal at Allen Central High School, said Friday that the utilities system published an audit annually in the three years he headed the board and he defended his fiscal management of the system as "outstanding." When he took on the job at the request of former Mayor Elmer Ferguson, Daniels said, the city's water system was plagued with outages, gas wells were untended, raw sewage ran down Main Street, security at the water and sewage treatment plants was non-existent, and the whole system was deep in debt.

Holy Week Services To Begin, Monday

Holy Week services, beginning Monday, March 24, at the First United Methodist Church, here, will again be sponsored by the Prestonsburg-Floyd County Ministerial Association. Beginning at noon each day, Monday through Friday, services will focus on the "Seven Last Words of Christ." Following each service, a simple luncheon will be served by the Prestonsburg Council of Local Church Women with food provided by women of the various churches.

Monday the speaker will be the Rev. Jennings West, of Lancer Baptist Church, and Elma Jessen will provide special music. Tuesday's speaker will be Hugh Adams, St. James Episcopal Church, with music by Ron and Pat Chaffins. Wednesday, the Rev. Steve Hopkins, of the First Baptist Church, will speak, and Paul and Linda Smith will sing.

Thursday's message will be brought by the Rev. James Doughton, of Community United Methodist Church, and special music will be provided by Ronna Yeager on the flute. On Good Friday, the Rev. Timothy Jessen, of the First Presbyterian Church, will speak, with a trio from the host church singing.

The annual Easter sunrise service sponsored by the Association will be held again this year at Jenny Wiley State Park, at 7 a.m., March 30. The service will be in the amphitheatre if weather permits, or moved inside to the May Lodge. The Prestonsburg High School Honor Choir will sing.

The public is invited to participate in these community services.

Tel-Com Plans KCTV Takeover

KCTV, Floyd county's only television station, will probably be changing hands soon.

Owner Keith Caudill confirmed Monday that a deal is in the works, according to which Tel-Com, Inc. would assume control of the station sometime in early April.

The deal has been under negotiation for several months. Caudill said he had received a number of letters from Tel-Com during that time proposing the take-over. It finally boiled down to the present deal being the least costly to Caudill.

"I've got a big investment in equipment," he said. "I stood to lose a lot more if this went to court." But, "I'm not going to make any money," he added.

Caudill said the cable company offered to let him stay in 800 homes, but such a proposal was not financially feasible.

In the three years that Caudill has been operating KCTV, the station has regularly broadcast Floyd Fiscal Court meetings, high school sports, and public affairs talk shows, as well as such off-beat programming as road-trips to pick up pianos for Caudill's other business, Pikeville Music.

Mostly though, the station has broadcast a lot of bulletin boards carrying public service messages and programming notices.

Caudill said Channel 5's programming will probably change a good deal, simply because Tel-Com has more money to put into the station. He said the proposed deal includes his retaining a Monday evening show, and that Tel-Com has ap-

A DELICATE BALANCE

There are some relatively common side effects of antibiotics. They stem from the fact that while antibiotics battle infection, friendly bacteria may be eliminated as well. For example, if antibiotics are taken for more than a few days, useful bacteria in the intestines that help break down food can be killed off, resulting in diarrhea. Most likely to cause this discomfort are broad-spectrum antibiotics such as tetracycline whose ability to knock out many types of bacteria is sometimes helpful. Taking antibiotics with food may prevent this upset. However, some foods slow down the effect of several antibiotic varieties. To help in finding a tolerable balance between side effects and effectiveness, consult your doctor or pharmacist.

The "Drug Store with a Difference" in this community is COOLEY APOTHECARY. In other words we are ready with professional advice when you need it. We also offer everyday low prices on prescriptions plus we maintain complete patient profiles which allows us to check for drug interactions and for possible side effects. #### WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The KFWC/GFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club met last Thursday evening at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center with Mrs. Rebecca Rasnick, vice president, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Sharon Sparr. The devotion was given by Miss Christine Spradlin, who discussed "Divine Justice." Mrs. Clare Day led the group in the Club Collect. Mrs. Kathryn Poe gave a report of the last meeting, and Mrs. Susie Poe gave the financial report. Mrs. Rasnick announced that the KFWC annual convention will be held in Lexington, April 16-19.

A letter concerning a possible donation for uniforms for the Prestonsburg High School Band was read, and a decision about this matter will be made at the club's next meeting. The Miss Floyd County pageant was also discussed.

It was announced by Mrs. Carl Woods, publicity chairman, that a press book for the club, to be displayed during the forthcoming state meeting, had been submitted, and that news and pictures had been sent to the Kentucky Club-woman magazine.

A nominating committee to select officers for the club year, 1986-87 was announced as follows: Mesdames Elizabeth Ramey, Barbara Dawson, Dolly Pettrey, Dorothy Stover, and Susie Poe. The list of prospective officers is to be submitted during the club's April meeting.

It was decided that a donation for the late Mrs. Margaret Alley, sister of one of the club's members, Mrs. Julia Curtis, will be made in Mrs. Alley's memory to the First United Methodist Church, of which she had long been a member.

The hostesses were Mesdames Garland Godsey, James Donahoe, Russell May, E.L. Bierman, and Ronald Johnson. Since the theme of the meeting was international affairs, members brought food representing the various nations, which was enjoyed by Rebecca Rasnick, Clare Day, Kathryn Poe, Elizabeth Ramey, Barbara Dawson, Wonnell Godsey, Mabel Donahoe, Christine Spradlin, Dolly Pettrey, Myrtle Allen, Dorothy Osborne, and Dorothy Stover.

The club's next meeting will be Thursday evening, April 3, at 7:30, with Mesdames Phyllis Herrick, Lucille Nunery, Sally Goebel, Dorothy Burke, and Miss Christine Spradlin as hostesses. The topic will be "Arts and Crafts," with Mrs. Ava Lee Allen, leader.

UK Board Confirms New Tuition Rates

Undergraduate students at the University of Kentucky will pay tuition and fees of $666 a semester beginning this fall.

The Executive Committee of the UK Board of Trustees today (March 4) confirmed the raise in tuition rates set by the Kentucky Council on Higher Education. Student fees rise $3.75 to $38.75 and the $25 health fee remains the same—both are included in the per-semester tuition of $666.

From the student fee, $4.75 is for Student Government Association use in providing the association's services to the campus.

Tuition and fees for undergraduate students at UK for the current school year are $614 per semester.

By state law, the Council on Higher Education sets tuition for the state universities. The new tuition rates are designed to bring UK's fees closer to its benchmark institutions—schools outside the state similar to UK in size and scope.

Tuition and fees for undergraduate students from outside the state were raised from $1,759 per semester this year to $1,906 per semester effective next fall.

Semester fees for resident graduate students will be $726 compared to $672 for the current school year. Non-resident graduate students will pay $2,086. Non-residents this year paid $1,931.

Increased tuition rates were also confirmed for law, medical, dental and pharmacy students.

Students at the Lexington Community College, one of UK's 13 community colleges, will pay the same per-semester fees as students on the Lexington campus.

Tuition and fees charged to students at UK's other community colleges will be $270—up from the current rate of $260. Non-resident students at the community colleges will pay $810 per semester—up from the current year's $780.

Pastor And Wife Honored

Reverend John Woods, Pastor of Fitzpatrick First Baptist Church, and his wife, Ethel, were recently honored by members of their congregation in celebration of their wedding anniversary and birthdays. They enjoyed a tiered cake decorated by Lorraine Bailey and were presented with a framed print by Russell May.

Retired Teachers Meet At May Lodge, March 6

Members of the Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association held a luncheon meeting at May Lodge last Thursday, beginning at 10 a.m. Mrs. Danese Amburgey, president, presided and silent prayer was observed for two late retired teachers, Mrs. Nora Scaif, and Everett Patton.

Miss Linda Stephens introduced Dr. Quentin Scholtz, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, whose topic was "Reflections." The Rev. Scholtz told of the influence teachers had had on his life. Several members of the Prestonsburg High School's Honor Choir, directed by Miss Elizabeth Frazier, presented a musical program.

Woodrow Allen, chairman of legislation, gave a report on matters of importance to retired teachers, and Elmer G. Martin, chairman of insurance, furnished valuable information on this topic. Mrs. Grace Conley, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following list of officers for the year, 1986-87: president, Mrs. Danese Amburgey; first vice president, Miss Ruby Akers; second vice president, Mrs. Carlos Haywood; secretary, Mrs. Sarah Laven, and treasurers, Mrs. Goldia Williams and Mrs. Ethel Ratliff. These officers were elected by acclamation.

Mrs. Amburgey named alternates and delegates to attend the K.R.T.A. meeting, in Louisville, on April 9. So named were delegates, Miss Ruby Akers, Mrs. Edith Hopkins, and Mrs. Alice Martin, and alternates, Mrs. Norma S. Stepp, and Mrs. May K. Roberts.

The president appointed the following committee to revise the F.C.R.T. by-laws: Ethel Ratliff, Elsie Stephens, and Annis Clark.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Big Sandy Retired Teachers would be held at May Lodge, April 23, at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Eva H. Hale spoke to the group on the "55 Alive" program a Drivers' Safety workshop held here by her and her husband, Harmison Hale, each year, in connection with the A.A.R.P. organization. This year's program is to be held May 8-9. Mrs. Hale also told of the free income tax reports available for senior citizens, which are also sponsored by the A.A.R.P.

John Allen, Supervisor of the local Social Security office, gave an informative discussion on matters of importance to retired persons, and gave out helpful literature to those in attendance.

Following the meeting, a luncheon was enjoyed at the lodge. Present for Thursday's events were: guests, Rev. Quentin Schultz, and John Allen, and members, Danese Amburgey, Ruby Akers, Imogene Caldwell, Norma S. Stepp, Mildred Salisbury, Mabel Allen, Woodrow Allen, Eva Hale, Roszella Lewis, Ethel Ratliff, Grace Conley, Geneva Bailey, Jean Wells, Eileen Martin, Elmer G. Martin, Pearl Smith, Elsie Stephens, Linda J. Stephens, Alice Martin, Velva Hall, Bessie R. Conley, Annis Clark, Bill Martin, Dorothy Martin, and Edith Hopkins.

A door prize, furnished by the "Add a Touch" Flower Shop, of Martin, was awarded to Mrs. Danese Amburgey.

The next meeting is scheduled for May.

Extension Agent Honored

Jayne Pitts, Floyd County Extension agent for home economics, received the Meritorious Service Award from the Kentucky chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, the national Extension honorary fraternity. The award, presented at the chapter's annual meeting March 14 in Lexington, recognizes innovative programming efforts and overall accomplishments in Extension work. Pitts joined the UK College of Agriculture's Cooperative Extension Service in 1958.

The Phonothon '86 ran from Feb. 23 to March 13.

Police Officers Complete Training

Captains Bill Potter, William Campbell and Woodrow Lafferty, of the Prestonsburg Police Department recently completed 40 hours of law enforcement training at the Kentucky Law Enforcement Training Center, located on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond.

The 40 hour course included instruction in dealing with family violence and domestic confrontations. Also, a review of legislation enacted by the 1986 legislature relating to criminal justice as well as recent state and federal court decisions was provided.

According to Police Chief Stan Fletcher, five Prestonsburg Officers have completed 40 hours of training this year. Sgt. Gerald Clark and Patrolman Jeff Stumbo were recently certified in the use of police radar. In order to be recognized as a professional law enforcement agency by the Kentucky Justice Cabinet, all Prestonsburg Police Officers must complete a 400 hour basic police course and maintain at least 40 hours of continuous training each year.

"Shag" Campbell, and Dr. Mary Hall endorsed the proposal; Fred Newsome and board chairman Dr. J.D. Adams, who has a special interest in keeping construction of a Prestonsburg middle school at the head of the agenda, opposed the change.

Last Tuesday's board meeting, held at Wheelwright High School as part of a policy of shifting board meetings around the district, drew a warning for principals from Asst. Supt. Ron Hager about counting recreational excursions as school activities, a practice that earned criticism from state education authorities two years ago.

Hager explained that only those students who are on field trips which are part of a planned instructional program may be counted as present. Students attending a state basketball tournament as spectators or away on class trips of a recreational nature must be listed as absentees, he said.

Any rise in the absentee rate could result in staffing cuts next year, the assistant superintendent noted, since funds for staffing are allocated on a basis of average daily attendance. Hager also said board policy needs to be more specific in its definition of what constitutes an educational excursion.

A committee of school administrators will conduct the required annual review of the school discipline code, Supt. Brackett told the board, whose chairman, Dr. J.D. Adams, insisted that the board be given an opportunity to review the proposed code. Brackett explained later that the present code's provisions for suspending students has led to inequities which the board is anxious to avoid.

Brackett also said he expects to name E.P. Grigsby, Jr. as the usual hearing officer to arbitrate disputes arising from disciplinary actions. "This is not something the superintendent should have to do," said Brackett. "We need to have someone who is completely familiar with the code."

Approved by the board was a committee of principals and teachers which will make recommendations concerning school reports and grading, in accordance with the district's three-year master educational improvement plan. Taken under advisement was a proposal of the Floyd County Education Forum that a committee be authorized to plan two parent-teacher conferences each year.

Asst. Supt. Hager reported that 669 parents showed up for a district-wide "open day" at the schools at the end of February. The attendance by parents represented a "significant increase" over last year's, when only 183 parents turned out, he said.

The board voted to apply for a $10,000 state grant to establish a kindergarten at Osborne Elementary School next year for handicapped children. The grant would allow 15 kindergarten teachers to be trained in identifying handicaps in young children.

A 16-year-old Betsy Layne High School student accused of lighting a fire last month in the ceiling of the school gym was expelled by order of the board on a recommendation of the school principal.

Hired were: Danise Amburgey, remediation teacher at Allen Elementary; Denise Ray Hopkins, remediation teacher at Clark Elementary; Linda Tincher, remediation teacher at Prestonsburg Elementary; Neil Watson, remediation teacher at Wayland Elementary; and Ruth Jones, remediation teacher at Osborne Elementary.

THIRD SON BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bingham and sons, Carl Edward and Jeffrey, of Prestonsburg, announce the birth of their son and brother, Joshua Lee, Sunday, March 9, at the Highlands Regional Medical Center. Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Maxine Bierman and the late E.L. Bierman, of North Front Avenue. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bingham, of the Auxier Road.

Most people think that heart disease only happens in the elderly. Yet, according to the American Heart Association, each year almost 200,000 Americans die from heart and blood vessel diseases before age 65.

Ten Years Ago

(March 17, 1976)

Only 13 patients remained in the strike-threatened Highlands Medical Center here Tuesday afternoon as preparations continued for its closing at 11 p.m. Sunday. Within a period of two days last week a Letcher county mine claimed the lives of 26 men, two of whom were residents of Floyd county. Results of the 15th Region basketball tournament still under way here became conclusive enough Monday night to guarantee one thing—and that is, Floyd county will have a team in the state tournament next week. Railroad Commissioner Jimmy Gabe Turner said this week that he is hopeful his request that the Department of Transportation install warning signals at the railroad crossings at McDowell and Lackey will be approved and acted on soon. Maggie Kaye Branham, Prestonsburg High School senior, has been selected for the scholarship given each year by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, it was announced. Dammer (Peg) Gayheart, 66, of Price, was dead on arrival at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital at 2 a.m. Saturday, victim of injuries sustained when a car in which he was a passenger left the road and struck a sheer rock wall near the Price tippie on Left Beaver Creek. Sheriff's deputies poured over 400 cases of illegal booze, confiscated during liquor raids over the past six months, down a drain in front of the Floyd County Courthouse. Monday. Married: Miss Cathy Lynn Whitaker, of the Middle Creek Road, and Carl Christopher Perkins, of Hindman, November 8 at the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church. There died: Mrs. Hannah Tackett, 90, of Beaver, Tuesday, March 9, at Methodist Hospital, Pikeville; Mrs. Bell Dory Hill, 85, of Melvin, Sunday at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital; Mrs. Alice Nance, 56, of Prestonsburg, Monday at Louisa Community Hospital; Ella Rea Layne Harmon, 53, at her home in Helena, Montana; Pearl Clemons, 62, of Bevensville, March 9 at UK Medical Center; Mrs. Easter Jones Daniels, 79, of McDowell, last Saturday at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital; Elizabeth Dingus Osborne, 72, Saturday at the home at Langley of a nephew; Mrs. Alice Meade, 81, of Abbott Creek, Saturday morning at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

Studies of routes which US 23 may follow from Prestonsburg to Allen seem to favor Route A—the route extending US 23 via the Mountain Parkway from Prestonsburg to Katy Friend fork of Middle Creek, up that valley to cross the mountain to Bull Creek and on to Allen. The Kentucky Division of Forestry announced this week that an all-out campaign against forest fire law violations has been launched this week. Less than a week after he had allegedly robbed a Baltimore, Md., bank of $17,000, Jack Leslie Marson, 27, was prisoner here and most of the loot was in the hands of officers. Orders for strawberry plants in this county have reached the 90,000 mark, according to Gene Ball, chairman of the Floyd County Extension Service. James D. Stephens, a former Army officer from Prestonsburg, picketed the Pentagon in Washington Monday, dressed in his uniform, that of a lieutenant colonel, in an attempt to get a hearing on his complaint that he has been deprived of his benefits as a veteran. McDowell high school's Daredevils had a spot in the state basketball tournament at Freedom Hall, Louisville, this week for the first time in the history of the school. They beat John's Creek Saturday night, 75-64. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Estill Bayes Branham, of the Auxier road, a daughter, March 12 at the Beaver Valley Hospital. Married: Miss Tommie Sue Harvey and Mr. George Thomas Fitzpatrick, February 28 at Columbus, Ohio. There died: Coet Handshoe, 55, of Hueysville, Thursday at the Paintsville Hospital; Mrs. Mona Smith, 57, March 11 at her home at Garrett; Mrs. James Campbell, 64, Tuesday at her home at Endicott.

"King Kelly" Coleman set a new state basketball tournament record Wednesday night with 50 points as Wayland defeated Shelbyville in the opening game of the meet, 87 to 76. A second Eastern Kentucky man-made lake to be three times the size of Dewey Lake will be created by the Buckhorn dam across the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River, just above the village of Buckhorn. Sheriff Gorman Collins said this week that chicken-fighting, a sport that has developed outside the law is on its way out in Floyd county. The Floyd fiscal court this week petitioned the State Revenue Department to make an equalization of the county's property assessments, with the state bearing most of the cost. The Wayland Wasps won the regional basketball tournament at Pikeville by defeating the Pikeville Panthers 96 to 90. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Hansford May, a son, Ralph Thomas, March 4 at Louisville. There died: Mrs. Rhoda Ollie Tackett, 75, Tuesday at her home at Craynor; David C. Stephens, 79, native Floyd county, March 7 at his home at Tampa, Fla.; James Elias Kidd, 83, Wednesday at the home of a son at Harold; Thomas Jefferson Lewis, 87, Monday at his home at Ivel; Morgan Stumbo, 79, Wednesday at his Price residence; Mrs. Farinda Spears, 79, Floyd native, last Thursday at Methodist Hospital, Pikeville.

John Wright, 57, a native of the Pitts Fork section of Middle Creek, his wife, Mrs. Parrot Trusty Wright, 66, and 60-year-old William "Bill Buck" Robinson, formerly of Martin, were killed by shotgun blasts, Sunday afternoon, on the Wrights' farm near Ironton, Ohio. Cause of the triple slaying was a dispute with a neighbor over a property line. Two Floyd county children, Nancy Sue Short, 6 years old, and her sister, Norma, 3, were burned to death Tuesday night when their grandparents' home on the head of Stone Coal Creek was destroyed by fire. Inez won the regional tournament here last Saturday night, defeating Cumberland 40-23. Mrs. Belle Howard, 67, of Ashland, was seriously injured Sunday when struck by a hit-run driver as she was crossing the bridge between Prestonsburg and West Prestonsburg. Married: Miss Grace Rowe, of Prestonsburg, and Cpl. Charles Woody, of Estill, March 9 at the home of the bride's parents in Prestonsburg; Miss Janelle Irene Dotson and Mr. Walk Carver, of Martin, Saturday; Miss Myrtle Irene Stanley, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Orville Ousley, of Martin, March 7; Miss Melissa Isaac, of Orkney, and Mr. Newell Casey, of Vandalia, Ill., February 28 at Plano, Illinois. Born: to Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Justice, of Martin, a daughter, Sheila Ann, March 7 at the Beaver Valley Hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Robinson, of Dinwood, a son. There died: Mrs. Mary Hyde Ward, 61, at home in Prestonsburg, Saturday; Troy Burchett, 21, at home at "Seng Factory" near here, March 5; Adam Bayes, 46, at his home at Brainard, Wednesday; Frank Roark, 82, of Stone Coal Creek, Sunday, at Jonah Lafferty's home at Garrett; Adam Patton, 45, of Lackey, Sunday, at the Paintsville Hospital; Arthur McCoy, 29, of Wheelwright, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin, Sunday.

Fifty Years Ago

(March 13, 1936)

Edgar Aldridge, alias Tom Ledford, 25 years old, alleged auto thief and fugitive from the FBI, was shot and critically wounded as he resisted arrest by federal agents, Sunday night, at a miner's home at Drift. Plans whereby Eastern Kentucky may richly profit from the growing of strawberries were laid this week at a meeting in Paintsville of farmers and county farm agents from four Big Sandy counties. Martin Tackett, 21, of Mud Creek, was killed by a pistol shot Sunday afternoon at Harold. Joan May, two years old, of Brandy Keg, drowned late Saturday afternoon in Johns Creek, near the home of her grandfather, Walker Spears. A revolver bullet wound in his head sustained last Christmas Day at Wayland resulted Monday night in the death at the Paintsville General Hospital of Guy Hall, 16-year-old McDowell youth. James Morell, Sr., and his son, James Morell, Jr., last week sold to B. F. and A. B. Combs, of Prestonsburg, their business property on First avenue here. There died: Mrs. Anna May Richmond, 51, of Prestonsburg, Saturday at St. Mary's Hospital, Huntington; Mrs. Harold McPeck, Saturday at home at Garrett; Mrs. M. C. Lowe, 40, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin, Sunday night.

Moreover, the city and its utilities commission were under federal orders to clean up the system and faced a $1000-a-day penalty if they failed to do so, Daniels said.

Since then, the utilities chairman said, the water system has been renovated with the help of a $695,000 grant, the sewage treatment plant has been made operational, new gas wells have been drilled, federal and state inspectors have been placated, the system is solvent—and utility bills were cut last year by 10 percent. "Yet they say we're wasting money," Daniels said incredulously. "They sure have a poor argument."

The root of the city council's current feud with the commission is not accounting but politics, said Daniels, who insisted he only took the job after he got a guarantee that the council would not play politics with the utilities system and that he backed Thornsberry and Harris last year "on the understanding they would leave the utilities system alone."

The system's financial records have been open to the council, whose members have ordinarily shown no interest in inspecting them, said Daniels. When Thornsberry's request to see the records was turned down in December, Thornsberry was not yet sworn in as a council member and the utilities staff was busy preparing the month's billings, Daniels said.

Field Superintendent Bartley's salary actually worked out at around $12.34 an hour, a bargain when you consider that he is fully certified and furnished his own truck and tools, Daniels said.

The kind of control demanded by the city's new ordinance would involve endless bookkeeping, would make commissioners vulnerable to political pressures, and would threaten the continuity needed for long-range planning, Daniels said. Speaking of the proposed one-year term of office, he said, "What can you do in a year? Why, it takes longer than that to get a grant."

One reason the council wants to take control of the commission, its former chairman said, is to siphon money from the system in order to finance other city projects. "They wanted us to pay for the renovation of city hall," even as they refused to pay city hall's utility bills and even now are withholding payment of utility bills for the city library, he said.

Another reason is that some persons would like to mine within the city limits, said Daniels, who noted that the utilities commission opposed an application by former councilman Joe Stewart for a permit to begin an auger operation in the city.

Thornsberry, an unemployed cutting machine operator, strenuously denied charges that his conflict with the commission had anything to do with a desire to mine coal in the city. "I have no intention of doing that. It ain't going to happen. I'm not for mining in the city limits of Wheelwright any more than you'd be for mining in downtown Prestonsburg," he said.

Both sides traded charges of sabotage last week as problems cropped up in the town's water and sewage systems, and the city's two police officers were accused by each side of turning a blind eye to criminal activity sparked by the dispute. Soon after the utilities commissioners and staff resigned, Thornsberry said, a six-inch water main on Golf Course Hollow was ruptured, apparently with a concrete block, and another line was broken at Bypro; a $2500 pump was found missing from the mine from which the city draws its water; raw sewage was deliberately discharged from the sewage treatment plant; a tire was punctured on councilman Dennis Harris' car; and city police officers Danny Bates and Jim Perry were allegedly tolerating the mischief.

Asked whether he knew who was responsible for vandalizing the system, Thornsberry replied, "I'm not naming individuals, but we ain't dumb."

For his part, Daniels said there was nothing suspicious about the two line ruptures; that the mine pump, while broken, is not missing; that Thornsberry and Harris were themselves found hiding in the vicinity of the sewage treatment plant when sewage was discharged into the nearby creek; and that the two city police officers had harassed former superintendent Bartley, telling him he was not welcome in town.

Both sides in the dispute claim public support. A recent demonstration by citizens who protested the council's squeeze on the utilities commission was orchestrated by the commission, said Thornsberry. "Ninety percent of the people know what's going on," said the councilman, who added that he is counting on public cooperation "to catch the rats in the creek who are busting our lines and stealing our pumps."

But Daniels, who said he had nothing to do with the public protest, predicted that Wheelwright citizens will reject a "power hungry" council. For his own part, he said, "I'm through until those three (Thornsberry, Holbrook and Harris) are removed and we get a council in there that's willing to work with the utilities commission and they work on city problems, of which they've got plenty."

The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, as amended, prohibits discrimination on the basis of age against any person between the ages of 40 and 70. There is no upper age limit with respect to employment in the Federal Government. The law applies to all public employers, private employers of 20 or more employees, employment agencies serving covered employers, and labor unions of more than 25 members, according to "A Working Woman's Guide to Her Job Rights," published by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

proached him about helping as a consultant during the transition process. As for that, Caudill said he would "keep his options open."

During his stewardship of Channel 5, Caudill said he took great pride in airing locally-produced programming. He said the idea of local people getting a chance to be on television helped make KCTV important.

"I think most people watched it because it was unique," he said. "We weren't out there saying we were like WSAZ or WYMT. That would be silly."

An example of such unique programming is the musical show KCTV is presently running on Monday nights. What makes the show special is that it's live music being played by a live band.

"People call in and ask the band to play something, and we try to play it," he said. "We've been doing it to get people used to watching Monday nights. It's live music, call-in request—probably a TV first." Caudill said he might consider continuing that format for his Monday night show.

Though he said he couldn't speak for Tel-Com, Caudill predicted Channel 5 would change under the new ownership. "It probably will never be done the same," he said, adding, "I think a lot of people enjoyed it. Rarely ever did we get negative comments."

He said he saw KCTV as a type of trailblazer in local television. "I think it was a TV experiment," he said. "I don't know of anywhere in the country that approached it like we did. Other stations did it, but they tried to be like real TV. We took a totally different angle. We were laid-back; people didn't expect much. It was a totally different approach to TV."

Tel-Com owner Paul Gearheart declined comment on the proposed takeover.

received the congratulations of wellwishers, including some members of a Garrett group who had actively campaigned for Grigsby in recent months and whose spokesman was openly critical of Brackett as recently as the board meeting at Wheelwright High School two days earlier.

Rodney Moore acknowledged later that his group, which felt Brackett had failed to support their bid to have construction of a new school at Garrett moved to the top of the district's building priorities, was disappointed in the choice but added that the new superintendent will have his support. "I'm hoping the whole county will support him. We're all hoping for that," said Moore. "Division is not good for us."

The same sentiment was expressed by Joyce Everly, leader of a citizens' group whose highly-publicized call for the resignation of Grigsby and the entire board in the summer of 1983 led to an extensive state probe of the Floyd school district and, ultimately, to Grigsby's resignation last August. Everly gave guarded endorsement to the board's choice of Brackett and said she hopes for a new unity in the district.

"The whole focus has been on the superintendent, and that was a large part of the problem, but we need to remember that the board approved everything (Grigsby) recommended," Mrs. Everly warned, adding, "We'll see in six months if this (choice of Brackett) was a good decision."

In contrast to the "atmosphere of fear" that she said prevailed under the former administration, Brackett has shown "more openness" and "people feel free to express their opinion," said Mrs. Everly, who predicted an increased willingness on the part of the community to support the schools financially. "All they have to do is show they're fiscally responsible and people will be willing to pay," she said.

For McDowell Principal Gary Frazier, better relations with state education authorities have been one of the chief benefits of Brackett's brief tenure. In contrast to last year, when "I was audited so often I kept my financial records sitting in a box on my desk, this year has been most refreshing," Frazier said, adding, "It's nice not to be constantly under the gun."

For his part, Brackett took time on his first full day as superintendent to meet Friday with central office staff. "Set yourselves a goal; don't be satisfied to keep doing things the way you've always done them," he said he told them. Brackett said he has a "high level of expectation" of those who work for him, and added, "I expect people to expect a lot of me."

The new superintendent, who did not hide his chagrin at being omitted from the list of five candidates recommended by UK consultant Dr. Charles Faber, said he felt confident of wide support in the county, especially since a random telephone poll of 400 persons contacted by some of his backers "during the campaign" indicated that he was the overwhelming choice for superintendent in all five educational divisions.

In an interview Friday, Brackett spoke of "putting the past behind us." For the time being at least, that appears to be a widespread aspiration. "I just hope and pray everybody is going to start working together," is the way Mrs. Everly put it. "The fighting's gone on long enough."

Kindergarten Rule Is Now Statewide

When the doors to local public schools open this fall for the 1986-87 school year, all the children entering the first grade in Kentucky will be kindergarten graduates.

The prerequisite of kindergarten for entry into the first grade was ordered by the 1984 General Assembly.

To comply with that law, Senate Bill 26, Kentucky's educational system has made the changes necessary to offer high-quality kindergarten programs in every local school district, Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said.

She noted that a 17-member advisory council, the Kindergarten Advisory Committee, had advised the Department of Education on implementation of the statewide kindergarten program.

The committee was headed by Dr. Ann Bardwell, vice chairwoman of the State Board of Education, and included teachers, administrators, educational consultants and parent representatives.

All of Kentucky's 180 local school districts now have operating kindergarten programs, McDonald said.

A kindergarten status report submitted to the State Board of Education says 82 operate half-day kindergarten programs, 71 operate alternate-day programs, 22 offer a combination of these two programs, and five provide daily, full-day kindergarten programs.

Information compiled by the Department of Education shows that 49,962 children, or 83.8 percent of those eligible for kindergarten, were enrolled in public kindergartens in the fall of 1985. An additional 9,588 children, or 16.1 percent, were in private institutions, the report says.

"As we work to improve Kentucky's educational system, the role that a good kindergarten program can play is becoming more and more apparent," McDonald said.

"As the kindergarten graduates of the 1985-86 school year pass through the system, we will begin to see the difference that this kind of beginning can make in their ability to grasp concepts more quickly and reach higher levels of academic achievement."

Raise Funds For Breast Cancer Center

Louise King, LPN at Highlands Regional Medical Center, discusses the need for a Breast Cancer Center in this area.

Fund raising for the Breast Cancer Screening and Diagnostic Center at Highlands Regional is gathering momentum, according to Carol Blevins, Public Information Officer.

"The women's clubs of Johnson County and employees of Highlands Regional are the primary supporters of the breast center so far," said Blevins. Susan Martin, Director of Development at HRMC, added, "HRMC employees have given $4,750 in addition to the $10,000 donated initially and I hope the donations will continue. My personal goal is to see the original $10,000 matched."

"We're working hard to contact all the women's organizations in the area. We would like for every woman in this area to have a part in the establishment of this center," said Blevins.

Louise King, an LPN at HRMC, has joined the breast center campaign by contributing both time and money to the establishment of the center. Mrs. King has spoken to the Prestonsburg Kiwanians and the Oil Springs Homemakers about the need for the facility in this area.

For more information about the breast cancer center or fund raising activities, please call Carol Blevins or Pat Willis at 886-8511 or 789-6548.

Will These Creatures Survive?

The Endangered Species Act, enacted in 1973, was a landmark bill when passed, providing the first real protection for America's plant and animal species. But 13 years after its enactment, how well are endangered and threatened species doing?

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service officially lists 392 species as "endangered" or "threatened" in the United States. Here's a look at just 10 of those species:

CALIFORNIA CONDOR: An estimated 26 survive, 21 in captivity and five in a Southern California canyon. Conservationists are fighting the federal government's plan to capture the wild condors and breed them in captivity, fearing the plan would open the condor's mountainous preserve to development and erase the bird's last slim hope of surviving in the wild.

DUSKY SEASIDE SPARROW: Just two males are known to be living, both in a Florida breeding facility. Experiments conducted to "back-cross" breed the males with females from a closely related sub-species have shown some success. A male and a female bird, progeny of the second back-cross breeding, are considered 88 percent pure dusky seaside sparrow. Breeding will continue this year.

KAUAI O'O: Only a single adult male has been observed since 1981, but more may exist on the Hawaiian island of Kauai.

PUERTO RICAN PARROT: An estimated 20 of the birds survive in the wild, living in a remote highland forest on the island.

WYOMING TOAD: A 1984 survey found approximately 30 males in a mile-square area of Albany County, Wyo.

PERDIDO KEY BEACH MOUSE: A single population of about 26 lives on an island off the Alabama-Florida border.

RED WOLF: Some 60 survive in captivity in U.S. zoos, but none is known to exist in the wild.

BLACK FOOTED FERRET: An estimated 128 are living in the wild in one site in Metete, Wyo. Additionally, six are in captivity, brought in from the wild by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Wyoming Game and Fish Department. But the population in the wild apparently has been decreasing, having been hit hard by a bout of distemper last year.

GRIZZLY BEAR: Denizens of northwest Montana and Yellowstone National Park, an estimated 600-1,000 live in the wild in the lower 48 states. Listed as "threatened" by the federal government, these massive animals are dwindling as they confront habitat loss and man's encroachment on their territory. Grizzlies need lots of room to roam; some have been known to travel as much as 670 miles a year in search of food.

FLORIDA PANTHER: Only about 30 survive in the Big Cypress Swamp area of southern Florida. The animals live in danger of accidents with automobiles traveling the highway that crosses their habitat.

Scholarship Deadline

Junior and senior class high school students who are interested in applying for $1,000 college scholarships should request applications by May 15, 1986, from Educational Communications Scholarship Foundation, 721 N. McKinley Road, Lake Forest, Illinois 60045. To receive an application, students should send a note stating their name, address, city, state and zip code, approximate grade point average and year of graduation. Fifty award winners will be selected on the basis of academic performance, involvement in extracurricular activities and need for financial aid.

Wins Award

Miss Tina Davis, a student at Prestonsburg High School, was named a United States National Award winner in History and Government. She was nominated for this award by Aileen Brown, history teacher at the school.

Miss Davis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis, of Dwale. Her grandparents are Mrs. Stella Davis, of Dwale, and Mr. and Mrs. Willie K. Stumbo, of Drift.

Miss England In Dance Concerts

Mahoney England, of Prestonsburg, performed in the Interlochen Arts Academy dance concerts Feb. 28 and March 1 in Corson Auditorium, Interlochen, Michigan.

The concert included an arrangement of the classic ballet, "The Firebird," choreographed by Elizabeth Wistrich plus "Red, Hot and Blues," choreographed by Joe Orlando as a tribute to Duke Ellington and "Flight," a modern dance piece choreographed by Betsy Dickie Romer.

A dancer at Interlochen participates in an intensive program of technique classes and rehearsals as well as a demanding academic schedule.

Interlochen graduates have gone on to perform with such companies as the Martha Graham Dance Company, the Boston Ballet, Joffrey II, Twyla Tharp Dance and various regional ballet companies throughout the United States.

Students take classes in both ballet and modern dance and have the opportunity to study the art of choreography. Three major concerts are presented each year.

Miss England is the daughter of Nancy C. Salisbury, Prestonsburg.

MAYTOWN NEWS

Our sympathy to the family of Vernon Justice of Stanton, who passed away recently following an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Bernice Arnett is a patient at Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

Mrs. Hazel Patton underwent major surgery at Highlands Regional Medical Center last week.

Miss Pamela Hagans, teenage daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Honky Brown received minor injuries in an automobile accident at Turkey Creek.

Mrs. Donna Gray and Hope were in Lexington recently at the training league of the Boys Pro-Basketball Team.

Miss Bridgett Bentley, bride-elect of Stephen Halbert, was honored with a household shower Saturday, March 8th, at the Maytown United Methodist Church. The recreation room was decorated with tiny umbrellas and wedding bells. She received many useful gifts. Hostesses for the occasion were Edna Click, Billie Goble, Ruby Halbert, Louise King, Diann May, Joann Osborne, Pauline Ousley, Marie Patrick, Shirley Rice, Joyce Salisbury, Judy Stewart, and Dot Tiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb, Katina and Marc, of Springfield, Ohio, were the weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Webb, here, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Howard, of Prestonsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Acie Hayden, of Paintsville, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy E. Webb. They accompanied them to South Point, Ohio, Saturday, March 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Earrest Hayes spent several days last week at Franklin, Ky. where they attended the funeral of their brother-in-law, Herman Copeland.

PLANNING

ALIMONY AND CHILD SUPPORT

Proper planning is necessary to insure the best tax treatment for divorce payments from one spouse to another.

Normally, alimony is deductible on the income tax return of the payor and is taxable as income to the recipient. Structure your agreement to provide the most advantageous tax treatment to both parties.

Some basic rules for alimony treatment:

1. Payments must be made in cash, either directly to the recipient or to some third party on behalf of the recipient.
2. Payments must be required under a written decree of divorce, separation, etc.
3. The payments must terminate upon the death of the recipient.
4. There are special requirements on the duration of the payments based on the amount of money and the fluctuations in the payment amount from year to year.

The new regulations contain a very serious tax trap in reference to "terminating payment in the event of death." The divorce instrument must specify that there is no money, substitute payment, or property settlement due upon the death of the recipient. To the extent such continued payments after death are required, there will be no deduction allowed for the money paid during the lifetime of the recipient. This provision is effective for agreements written after 1984.

Agreements written prior to 1985 had to specifically state that a portion of the payment was for child support; otherwise, the entire amount was deemed to be alimony. This was true even though the amount of payment might fluctuate with contingencies concerning the children such as completing school, getting married, or reaching a certain age. For agreements entered into after 1984, any adjustment in the payments due to a change in the child's status will cause the payments to be treated as child support.

Training Program Is Set To Benefit Jobless Miners

Gov. Martha Layne Collins recently announced a special job training project for unemployed coal miners in Eastern and Western Kentucky.

The project, which begins April 1 under the auspices of the Cabinet for Human Resources, is open to Kentucky coal miners who have been laid off within the last three years and who have not been able to find suitable employment.

It will offer assistance to miners in obtaining vocational education, on-the-job training and remedial education for earning a General Equivalency Diploma, as well as help in a number of other areas. In some cases, limited money will be available to assist a miner to move to an area where he has located a job.

Gov. Collins said the program is designed to build on a miner's existing abilities. "By the very nature of their work, miners have often mastered a number of skills," she said. "These include carpentry, welding, and repairing sophisticated equipment—all of which are skills that can be used in all kinds of jobs. With this program, we hope to assist more miners find ways to take fuller advantage of their existing skills to find other work."

"Many coal miners have been committed to earning their living in the mines. Now, because of the coal economy, they are forced to look at other professions. We're available to help them find that other job," said Human Resources Secretary Al Austin. "These people who have proven work records. In addition to their skills, they offer employers dependability and dedication."

Miners eligible for the program, which will be funded with an $800,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Labor, can apply at existing or new dislocated worker centers in Corbin, Harlan, Hazard, Henderson, Madisonville, Middlesboro, Pikeville and Prestonsburg.

Employment Services Commissioner James Daniels said, "These eight centers will accept applications from and will recruit miners laid off as far back as 1983. If a miner lost his job through a cutback or mine closing and hasn't been able to find an adequate job, he or she is qualified to apply."

Daniels said four new dislocated worker centers will be established in the department's local offices in Harlan, Hazard, Prestonsburg and Pikeville. Special services will be added at existing centers in Henderson, Madisonville, Corbin and Middlesboro.

Daniels said coal miner operators who anticipate shutdowns or layoffs may secure immediate services for their employees by getting in touch with one of the department's local offices.

The department will add a Quick Response Team worker specializing in serving unemployed coal miners when the team responds to large mining layoffs.

Imagination Emphasized In Children's Series

The only limits will be imagination and creativity for elementary school-age children as they make a weekly pilgrimage to "The Secret City." Children are invited to explore the art of drawing in this new series, "The Secret City," which premieres Sunday, April 6, at 11:00 a.m. on KET.

Guided by series host Commander Mark (Mark Kistler), viewers will learn the fundamentals of drawing by following seven "magic words." "Anyone can draw," according to Commander Mark. "There are certain steps that you can take; follow these steps and you can draw," he said.

Although "The Secret City" is geared toward viewers in the 6 to 12-year-old group, viewers of all ages who are interested in drawing will want to tune in the program.

Kistler's drawing philosophy has been put into action by more than a quarter of a million California children. At the age of 9, "The Secret City" host began studying with Disney artist Bruce McIntyre. When he was 14 years old, Kistler began producing unique stationery items and greeting cards. His career has expanded during the last four years, and his teaching now includes elementary schools throughout California.

"The Secret City" offers children an opportunity to create their own world of fun, fantasy, and adventure. Commander Mark, regular characters—the humanoid Zebtron, Cindy the Dragon, and MetaMan—and guests encourage children to participate in "The Secret City" club.

"The Secret City" is produced by The Children's Video Associates in cooperation with Maryland Public Television.

Mrs. Mertice Reed celebrated her 85th birthday, March 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irish Cooley, of Hippo. She received many gifts, cards, and telephone calls.

Mrs. Reed, a widow of Ruben Reed, has five children, Kelly B. Reed, of Plymouth, Ohio; Goble Reed, of Hindman, Mae Bailey, of Hippo, Ina Hensley, of Langley, and Mrs. Freda Cooley, of Hippo, with whom she resides. She has 10 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Jenny Wiley Theatre Schedules Auditions

Jenny Wiley Theatre will hold auditions for its 1986 summer season, Sunday, April 6, at Prestonsburg Community College from 2-5 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Artistic Director Dan Delafield and Productions Director Christopher Catt are looking for men and women ages 17 and up to fill roles in Shenandoah, Oliver! and Sweet Charity. They are also looking for boys who can sing, ages 8-13, to fill roles in Oliver!

Delafield suggests that those interested in auditioning should prepare a one-minute song and one-minute monologue. Boys auditioning for Oliver! should prepare a short song. An accompanist will be provided.

Jenny Wiley's 22nd season opens June 11. Rehearsals begin June 2. For further audition information, call (after March 24) 606-886-9274.

Task Force To Study Ways To Gain Funds

Prestonsburg has a new task force designed to study the effect of federal Revenue Sharing cuts here and find ways to make up for the loss of approximately $112,000 which the city now receives annually.

Mayor Ann Latta announced the task force's formation at last week's city council meeting. The group will look at the city's financial situation for at least the next 18 months, with the possibility of continuing on if necessary.

Latta said the two major sources of revenue the task force will look to are a hotel-motel tax and annexation. The hotel-motel tax would be earmarked by law for parks and recreation, necessitating, said the mayor, the formation of a new board to oversee those funds. Such a tax in Paintsville nets that community about $30,000 per year, she said. Annexation of the Auxier Road area north of the city would bring in about $92,000 per year after certain first year expenditures, including the construction of a fire sub-station there.

Another proposed annexation, that of the "outer loop" area along U.S. 23 from the city limits at Prestonsburg Village, down to and including the Lancer-Watergap Road, is also expected to be potentially lucrative to the city, though compilation of figures on such a move have not been completed. Latta said that section was projected to be a growth area.

She said the Holiday Inn now under construction along U.S. 23 there will probably petition to come into the city after construction is completed, regardless of annexation proceedings.

If enough additional revenue cannot be found to make up for the revenue sharing cuts, said Latta, the city might be faced with reducing or eliminating some services. Services that could be in danger include out-of-town fire subscriptions and garbage pick-up.

Fire subscription rates now amount to only $2 per month. Latta said the city will have to look at the possibility of either raising that fee or possibly doing away with the service altogether. The question of ending the fire subscription program has been quietly discussed around city hall for several months.

In regard to garbage pick-up, Latta said the city wouldn't consider stopping the service, though pick-ups might be made less often in the future. One measure the city has already done to lower cost in this area is stopping the free pick-up of materials discarded by commercial contractors.

Though the city's financial road looks somewhat rocky, Latta said there were some avenues the city would not take even for fiscal security. She said she would not consider employee layoffs or raising the occupational tax. She said she hoped also the city would not have

MISS HIGNITE, MR. HARPER WED
Miss Barbara Wayne Hignite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frost, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. David Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. David Harper, of Orangeville, S.C., were married February 8 in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church, here, with Dr. Quentin Scholtz, pastor, officiating at the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, and is presently employed with Lederle Laboratories.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Georgia, and received his Master's degree from Harvard University. He is employed in advertising, public relations, and marketing.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Hope Harper Weber, sister of the groom.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the May Lodge lounge at Jenny Wiley State Park with Mesdames Pete Howard, Harvey Gunnels, Jack Frost Wells, and Jack Hyden, hostesses.

The lounge was decorated with rosebuds of coral and ivory with touches of baby's breath. The wedding cake was also accented with rosebuds. The room was filled to capacity, and the bride introduced her husband to relatives and friends assembled.

The bride was attired in an imported dress of pleated ivory silk, accented by pearls and orchids, and carried an ivory and pale coral lace bouquet.

Following the cutting of the cake, she took the traditional dance with her father. The guests, who presented the couple with many lovely gifts, enjoyed listening to instrumental music by The Whited Family.

Following a honeymoon to Washington, D.C., the couple will reside in Augusta, Georgia.

to consider ending donations made to the senior citizens center at Archer Park or the animal shelter at West Prestonsburg.

One task force member has a special interest, she said, in seeing that no layoffs occur. Thomas Tackett, the city council's representative on the planning group, has said repeatedly that he would oppose any layoff of city employees unless it was absolutely necessary.

The city is operating on what Latta says is a fairly small staff as it is, particularly in the police and fire departments.

"We have just enough firemen right now to maintain our class 4 rating for fire insurance purposes," she said, "and just enough police officers to cover the shifts."

With 65 city employees, Latta said the ratio of city workers to citizens is about one employee for every 61 citizens.

Latta said she tried to find a balanced cross-section of knowledgeable representatives to serve on the task force. In addition to Tackett, she has named Burl Wells Spurlock, H.D. Fitzpatrick, Jr. and Dixon Nunnery, representing the First Commonwealth Bank, the Bank Josephine and United Federal Savings and Loan, respectively; C.J. McNally, chairman of the City Utilities Commission; businessmen Estill Lee Carter and Boyd Thompson; Bill Bottoms, CPA; and Mrs. Becky Short, a homemaker, to the group.

City Administrator David Evans and Steve Allen, of Allen, England and Hensley, the city's auditing firm, will serve as ex-officio and staff members, providing information to the task force.

Latta said there is a movement in Washington to extend the Revenue Sharing Program, though such action is by no means certain. A letter she received from a group calling itself the Revenue Sharing Advisory Service of Washington indicated 159 members of the U.S. House of Representatives now support an extension.

But even if an extension is granted, Latta said she has heard no report of any move to make revenue sharing permanent.

"The cut-off has been proposed for a long time," she said, "but everybody thought they were joking. Nobody thinks they're joking now."

Latta was recently appointed to a regional revenue sharing task force by the Big Sandy Area Development District. She said she will try to coordinate the two.

ATTEND FUNERAL SERVICES

Several members of Miriam Rebekah Lodge 31 attended the funeral of Mrs. Lenora Pope at Jones-Preston Funeral Home at Paintsville, Saturday, March 15, and on Thursday evening they held the funeral ceremony requested by her family. Those taking part in this service were Mesdames, Sue Moore, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Jean Hickman, Hope Whitten, Otela Smiley, Mary Zemo, Lorena Wallen, Violetta Wright, Loretta Akers, Dotty Lafferty, and Miss Kelly Sue Moore. Also attending the funeral were Mrs. Clara Harris and John N. Burchett.

Taxpayers Can Check Fed. Refund Status

After March 15 taxpayers in Kentucky may call the toll free number 1-800-554-4477 and check on the status of their federal tax refund.

Callers should have available a copy of their tax return since the first social security number on the tax return, the filing status and the exact amount of the refund must be known. Taxpayers must follow the recorded instructions once the call has been made.

Service from push-button phones will be available Monday through Friday from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. EST. For rotary dial phones the service will be available during regular office hours, generally 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

P-burg Police Selected For Survey Study

A project designed to keep statistics on the state's criminal justice system has tagged the Prestonsburg Police Department as one of only 14 agencies set to participate in its survey.

The survey is being conducted jointly by the University of Louisville's Statistical Analysis Center and Kentucky Attorney General David Armstrong, as part of Armstrong's much publicized campaign for victims' rights.

According to Police Chief Stan Fletcher, the participating agencies will follow an offender from arrest through prosecution, trying to locate weak points in the system.

"It'll be examining the judicial system," said Fletcher, "showing how cases are taken through the process. They're concerned more with the conviction and prosecution of the cases. They want to know if the judicial system is working, if there's a problem area they can correct."

Fletcher said the other 13 statistic-gathering centers would include both police departments and County and Commonwealth Attorneys. Though he hasn't yet heard where the others will be—only 4 have been selected so far—the police chief said Prestonsburg might be the only such program in the eastern part of the state.

Records kept will help law enforcement agencies throughout the state, but Fletcher said there will be positive effects felt close to home, as well.

"This will help us down the road," said Fletcher. "If we have a case we're having a problem with, we can go back and locate the problem area, look at the judicial system and the courts. Then we can go to the attorney general's office and say that we've got a problem."

Fletcher said that participation in the program might also lead to state grants for his department.

"There will be some grants becoming available later on this year for statistical analysis, things like that, for departments participating in this. I don't know what all of them are yet, but at least we're one step closer," he said.

The Prestonsburg police department was asked to participate, said Fletcher, because it was already keeping statistics in many of the areas to be studied. Keeping such statistics has been a priority for his department for some time, he added.

"We're being recognized as doing the best we can," he said. "What we're trying to do is bring a big-time agency to Prestonsburg. We want to show we can provide the same types of service a city like Louisville can."

Fletcher said one function of the study will be to "get everyone centralized and working together, instead of law enforcement agencies just doing their jobs and forgetting about the case. It's the same with the attorneys and the court system."

A similar study completed last year by U of L and the Attorney General's office charted child abuse and neglect, profiled persistent felony offenders in the state's prisons, examined the aftermath of criminal victimization, compiled a data inventory of Kentucky's criminal justice agencies, and detailed the needs and uses of such statistics.

Fletcher said that at present, only he and Detective Sgt. Mike Ormerod were participating in the local survey, but as time passes, the entire force will be contributing. He said that since the department was already geared toward compiling statistics, it would not be very time-consuming to participate.

"Once we get started, it probably won't take more than 10 hours a week," he said.

Some Taxpayers Overlook Credit For Elderly

The Internal Revenue Service has said many taxpayers entitled to the special credit for the elderly may not be claiming it.

A survey last month of early returns received at one IRS service center showed that many people entitled to the credit failed to claim it by completing and attaching Schedule R to the Form 1040 they filed.

The credit is available to some low-income taxpayers over age 65 and certain disabled people under 65 who retired with taxable disability payments. Taxpayers over 65 need not be disabled to claim the credit, IRS pointed out. However, the credit is generally not available to taxpayers with income high enough that social security benefits are includible in income.

The IRS suggested that taxpayers who believe they may qualify for the credit should check the instructions for Schedule R or contact an IRS office for taxpayer assistance. IRS will complete the Schedule R for taxpayers if they follow the instructions included in the Form 1040 package.

For more information, taxpayers should get Publication 554, Tax Benefits for Older Americans. This publication can be obtained by writing the IRS at P.O. Box 6900, Florence, Ky. 41042. Taxpayers may get answers to questions on this subject by calling the IRS toll free number 1-800-424-1040.

Americans are a nature-loving people. Nearly 80 million Americans—50 percent of the adult population—observe, feed, photograph or identify wild animals. Approximately 26 million other Americans maintain bird feeders and another 28 million have taken trips primarily to enjoy wildlife.

Medicare Open Enrollment

People who failed to sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare when they were first eligible, or who dropped out, may enroll now through March 31 at any Social Security office. Coverage begins July 1.
 Medicare hospital and medical insurance is available to almost everyone at age 65, to disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to Social Security disability benefits for at least 24 months, and to most people with permanent kidney failure. Nine out of 10 eligible people are enrolled.
 Medicare's medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance which is funded by part of the Social Security taxes paid by employers, employees, and self-employed people. Medical insurance helps pay doctor's bills and other medical expenses not covered by hospital insurance. It is funded by individual monthly premiums paid by those who enroll and by Federal general revenues. The basic premium is $15.50 a month for 1986. In general, the basic monthly premium is increased by 10 percent for each year a person could have had medical insurance but did not.
 It should be noted that people do not have to retire to get Medicare coverage. On approaching 65, people who want the coverage but wish to continue working may sign up at any Social Security office and have their coverage begin with the month they reach 65.
 For more information on enrolling in Medicare's medical insurance, give us a call. The number is listed in your local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Tornado Danger And What To Do

Tornado activity in Kentucky has caused a number of deaths and injuries over the years. The relative uncertainty about long-term prediction of tornadoes makes adequate warning difficult. Kentuckians, however, should always remember that March, April, and May are the months noted for severe storms, particularly tornadoes.
 "It's important to be aware of the signs of tornado-producing weather," says Floyd County Disaster and Emergency Service Coordinator, Paul Chaffins. "Although they can occur at any time of day or night, tornadoes are most frequent between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.," Mr. Chaffins says.
 The tornado is frequently, though not always preceded by southerly winds, darkened skies, rain, hail, lightning, and thunder. During thunderstorms, watch for clouds that seem to be rotating from a central point and descending toward the ground. Sometimes obscured by rain or darkness, the only sign of their approach may be the roar tornadoes produce, which is similar to that of a freight train or low-flying jet.
 Tornadoes vary greatly in size, intensity, and appearance. Velocity of the air can range from less than 100 mph to more than 300 mph. But regardless of the wind speed, any tornado has the potential to injure or kill.
 Because tornadoes may appear with little notice, it's important to review what you know about taking cover if a watch or warning is issued.
 *A tornado watch is issued by the National Weather Service when conditions are favorable for the development of tornadoes.
 *When a watch is issued, be alert for signs of threatening weather particularly from the southwest and decide where you would go if a severe storm developed.
 *Clear the area of any objects that might be blown away. If at home, clear the lawn of outdoor furniture and trash cans, and any other items that might become deadly weapons.
 *Listen to radio, television, or NOAA Weather Radio for further information.
 *A tornado warning means that a funnel has actually been sighted. Take action immediately.
 *In homes and small buildings, the basement or the interior part of the lowest level is the safest place to go. Closets, bathrooms, or interior halls provide the best protection. Cover your head with hands and arms.
 *Stay away from windows, doors, and outside walls.
 *In schools, factories, or other public facilities; go to pre-designated shelters.
 *Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums or other structures with free-span roofs.
 *In mobile homes, seek shelter in another structure if possible. Should you be in any type recreational vehicle, move to a place of safety in another structure.
 *If outdoors, a ditch or other low-lying area is best. Lie flat in the ditch, ravine, or culvert and cover your head with your hands and arms.
 *If the tornado is approaching you while seeking a place of shelter, move out of the direct path of the tornado to your immediate right or left. Do not try to outrun a tornado.

Mining Injury Rates Decrease During 1985

WASHINGTON—Accidental injury rates for all types of mining in the United States decreased last year, compared to the rates for 1984, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA).
 David A. Zegeer, assistant secretary of labor for mine safety and health, reported that rates which measure the number of hours worked in both the coal and metal and nonmetal (non-coal) industries declined from 1984 to 1985.
 MSHA earlier had reported that both the coal mining and the metal and nonmetal fatality totals for last year were the lowest annual number of deaths ever reported in each industry.
 "The downward trend in both the number of deaths and the injury rates is an achievement of which everyone in the American mining community can be proud," said Zegeer. "This indicates that a great many people have been down in the trenches, working every day to make mining safer."
 Zegeer added, "in spite of the encouraging numbers last year, tragic and avoidable accidents still are occurring, and we at MSHA are urging everyone in the industry to re-double his or her efforts to bring injury rates down even further."
 Preliminary data compiled by MSHA show that the rate of fatal injuries in coal mining in 1985 was .04 per 200,000 employee-hours, down from .07 in 1984. Sixty seven coal miners died in work-related accidents in 1985, compared to 126 fatalities during 1984.
 The rate for nonfatal injuries in coal mining in 1985 was 6.17, a decline from 6.81 in 1984. The rate for all types of injuries in coal mining dropped from 6.87 in 1984 to 6.21 last year.
 Coal miners worked a total of 351.9 million employee-hours in 1985, a decrease from 376.6 million employee-hours reported in 1984. Average employment also dropped from 208,160 coal miners in 1984 to 195,298 in 1985. Coal production decreased from 883.8 million tons in 1984 to 854.4 million tons in 1985.

Over the Years, Together

When they lived here, they liked to get together. Now, 25 years later and several hundred miles away, they still feel the same way. Above are, from left, seated, Ella Morrison and Jane Harris. Standing are James Morrison, Larry Harris, Judy and Vernon Garrett.

Although it was not planned, the three couples married within nine days of each other shortly before Valentine's Day, 1961. The Harrises on February 2; the Morrisons, February 4, and the Garretts, February 11.

Shortly afterward, they all moved to Ypsilanti, Michigan to seek employment, and now the Garretts and Harrises live across the street from each other, and the Morrisons are less than a mile away.

Recently, they all celebrated their silver anniversaries at a surprise party given by their children.

The Harrises and Garretts are from Prestonsburg and the Morrisons are from Paintsville. Larry Harris, son of Irvin and Margaret Harris, is a self-employed drywall contractor, and his wife, Jane, works part-time for Astro Maintenance Co. They have three children, Terry Morningstar, of Belleville, Mich., Kimberly Harris, at home, and Marla Harris, in the Air Force at Valdosta, Georgia.

Mrs. Harris and Vernon Garrett, who are brother and sister, are children of Mrs. Shirley Garrett, formerly of Cow Creek, now of Ypsilanti, and the late John Lee Garrett. The Garretts have three children, Carolyn, Debby, and Vernon, Jr., all at home. Mr. Garrett is employed at General Motors Buick-Oldsmobile-Cadillac Group Willow Run Assembly Plant, and his wife works at Perfect Optics in Ann Arbor, Mich.

James Morrison is employed by Detroit Diesel, and his wife is a supervisor for Astro Cleaning Company. They have two children, James, of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Pamela Tincher, of Belleville, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Conn joined the couples and their families for the anniversary celebration which was attended by more than 100 friends and relatives.

Holy Week Activities At St. Martha Church

Fr. Ralph Beiting, pastor of St. Martha Catholic church, has announced the following schedule for Holy Week:

Palm Sunday (March 23)—Palms will be blessed in an outdoor ceremony; procession will lead to the church, where Mass will be celebrated. Music will be provided by the parish choir and the Coleman Sisters. An open house will be held for visitors. Services begin at 11 a.m.

Holy Thursday—Services begin at 6 p.m. with a Seder supper. Bishop Kendrick Williams, auxiliary bishop of Covington, will be present at the supper and will be celebrant of the Mass which follows at 7:30 p.m.

Good Friday—Participants will gather at the intersection of KY 1428 and KY 3, from where a large wooden cross will be carried to the church. Solemn services begin at 3 p.m.

Holy Saturday—Services begin at 7:30 p.m. with the blessing of the new fire and the Easter Candle, followed by baptisms and the celebration of the Mass. Music will be presented by the parish choir and special gospel groups from the area. Everyone is invited to attend any or all of the services.

BREASTFEEDING GROUP TO MEET

There will be a meeting of all interested women wanting to share information on breastfeeding at Prestonsburg Community College building MC-A1, March 25 at 10:30 a.m. There are no fees, just good information and conversation. Children are welcome. For more information, call Mary at 886-8088.

Bobcats Fall To Paintsville In 15th Region Boys' Tourney

After edging out Virgie in three overtimes Friday night, a weary Betsy Layne went down by 11 points to Paintsville in the finals of the 15th Region boys' finals at Belfry on Saturday. Paintsville, winning its second straight regional crown, is scheduled to meet Hopkinsville today (Wednesday) in the first round of the state championship.

With 1:17 left on the clock, Betsy Layne drew within four points of their opponents, 50-46, but Paintsville then converted nine of 11 free throws to clinch a 59-48 victory.

The semi-finals saw Betsy Layne beat Virgie, 78-76, and Paintsville trounce Phelps, 93-71. After the final outcome, both Betsy Layne and Paintsville stood at 29-4 for the season.

Named to the all-tournament team were Duran Hall and Brett Meade, of Betsy Layne, David Hall, of Wheelwright, John Pelphrey, Mike Minix, and Joey Couch, of Paintsville, Billy Rowe and Ronnie Rowe, of Virgie, Brian Charles and Pete Maynard, of Phelps, and Rod Runyon and Dwayne Yates, of Belfry.

Individual scoring:
Paintsville (59)—Pelphrey 21; Adkins 13, Minix 12, Couch 10, Baldwin 3.
Betsy Layne (48)—Mitchell 14, Meade 12, Hall 9, Parsons 9, Stumbo 4.
Paintsville 10 13 16 20—59
Betsy Layne 10 10 15 13—48

Trout Fishing Real In East Kentucky

By FRED HALL, President, Kentucky Mountain Chapter, Of Trout Unlimited

Quality trout fishing in Eastern Kentucky would seem as remote as catching a musky in Dewey Lake 20 years ago. As we well know, a musky lake Dewey was not, but these two generalizations are not so far-fetched when considering the present as opposed to the past. Dewey gave up the state record tiger musky and I am sure my fishing partner, Phil Paige, has the fresh-water-stream record for brown trout in Kentucky.

This fish, without a doubt, was stocked by the most enthusiastic efforts of the Huntington Chapter of Trout Unlimited about five years ago. So quality trout fishing in Eastern Kentucky is as real as musky fishing in Dewey Lake.

Our State Department of Fish and Wildlife also perceive this goal as a reality as is evidenced by their concentrated efforts in studying and evaluating streams throughout Kentucky. Their prime objective is to find streams that display very minimal amounts of pollution, a favorable maximum temperature in the summer months, and a sustained oxygen supply as well as favorable food chains. There are other technical characteristics that the fisheries biologist look for also, but are too sophisticated for us lay-fishermen to understand.

This energetic interest in trout by our Fish & Wildlife people didn't just happen out of the blue. Believe it or not, the fishermen throughout Kentucky are chiefly responsible for this sudden interest in quality trout fishing. A survey done in 1982, using the Kentucky Happy Hunting Ground Magazine to sample our fishing public, revealed some interesting attitudes throughout our Commonwealth, particularly in Eastern Kentucky.

"14% of the respondents purchased a trout stamp in 1982, with the eastern region (28%) more than doubling the sales of each of the other 2 regions (Central & Western). The majority (62%) of trout anglers did not favor publicizing trout stocking dates, 73% of the trout anglers favored an increase in the trout stamp cost, if necessary, to maintain the trout hatchery in Kentucky, 74% of these anglers favored the development of trout populations in remote areas."

The Department of Fish and Wildlife

has restructured its entire program so as to be in tune with the state's sportsmen. With their proven desire to satisfy fishermen and hunters throughout our state, I think we are profoundly obligated to devote our every effort to co-operate with our fish and wildlife people.

Let me take this opportunity to suggest five effortless ways to help develop and maintain quality stream fishing in Eastern Kentucky. (1) Cooperate with the Department of Fish and Wildlife by obeying laws, using resources made available by the Department, or inviting Department personnel to address local groups. (2) Promote good conservation practices. (3) Take a kid fishing or hunting. (4) Don't litter. (5) Join a sportsman's organization. For more information about Trout Unlimited, call me at 377-2993.

Union College Signs 3 From Betsy Layne Hi

Union College's Coach John Ross says, "We'll take all the kids we can get from the mountains," and he apparently means it. In addition to Prestonsburg Blackcat Donnie Ray, three Betsy Layne Bobcats have been signed to play for Union at Barbourville. They are Bobby Jones, Darwin Kidd, and Chad Collins.

All three are "good, tough kids...hard-nosed competitors," according to Ross. Jones, 6'-1", 240-pound center, is being looked at as a potential offensive center or long snapper; Kidd, 5'-7", 190-pounds, may be used as a fullback or blocker, and Chad Collins, 6'-1", 160 pounds, is in the running as a wide receiver.

Three From County On All-Tourney Team

Three Floyd countians landed berths on the Regional All-Tournament team. They are Brett Meade and Duran Hall, both members of the Betsy Layne Bobcats, who lost to Paintsville in the championship game, Saturday night, and Wheelwright Trojan player, David Hall, who chalked up 30 points in the opening game against Phelps. The Trojans lost by only two points in overtime.

Other members of the All-Tournament team are Rod Runyon and Dwayne Yates, both of Belfry; John Pelphrey, Joey Couch, and Mike Minix, all of Paintsville; Connie "DoDo" Rowe and Billy Rowe, of Virgie; Brian Charles and Pete Maynard, of Phelps.

Phelps won the team free throw, and Lonnie Rowe, of Virgie, and Chris Stratton, of Pikeville, tied for the individual free throw award. Pikeville's cheerleading squad won the top award with Belfry the runner-up.

Copies of Prior Tax Returns Available

Taxpayers who have not retained copies of prior year tax returns can either request photocopies of previously filed returns or transcripts of tax account information, according to the Internal Revenue Service. Either request can be made on Form 4506, "Request for Copy of Tax Form or Tax Account Information".

The charge for photocopies of prior year returns is $4.25 per return. Alternatively, transcripts of tax account information will be provided for $2.25 per tax year. The tax account information includes type of return filed, marital status, tax shown on return, adjusted gross income, taxable income, self-employment tax and number of exemptions.

Full payment must accompany all orders. Taxpayers should allow at least 45 days for delivery when requesting photocopies of prior year returns, and at least 30 days when requesting tax account information. Allow at least 10 weeks' processing time after the original return is filed before requesting a copy or other information.

Bald Eagles Nesting In Western Kentucky

For the first time since 1949, bald eagles have built a nest in Kentucky. Biologists recently discovered the nest on the Ballard Wildlife Management Area in Western Kentucky and the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has closed the area surrounding the nest to all public access.

The eagles have constructed a nest, consisting of a platform of sticks approximately four to five feet in diameter, in a tree 60-70 feet off the ground. The birds are currently engaging in what biologists call "housekeeping duties," activities which normally precede egg laying.

The entire Ballard wildlife area is a waterfowl refuge and is normally closed to the public until March 15. This has allowed the eagles to work unmolested up to now. To make sure the birds remain undisturbed, a large area surrounding the nest in the central portion of the 8,000-acre management area in Ballard County will remain closed to the public. The closed area will be clearly marked with signs, wildlife officials say.

"Nest building, egg laying and incubation are all critical periods. This makes it necessary to eliminate all human activities near the nest," according to John MacGregor, the wildlife biologist in charge of Kentucky's nongame wildlife program. "It's important that the public recognize the significance of this event and cooperate by staying away from the nesting area until the eagles are fledged, probably sometime in July.

A portion of Turner Landing Road will be closed, but access to the Turner Landing boat ramp will still be available by a short detour, fish and wildlife officials say. Popular fishing or camping spots on the wildlife area will not be affected by the closure.

The Ballard Wildlife Management Area is owned and operated by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and is an important wintering ground for bald eagles from the upper midwest. As many as 120 eagles spend at least part of the winter there but until now none have remained to nest.

The last known eagle nest in Kentucky was built in 1949 at Swan Pond, which is about eight miles south of the current nest site. Bald eagles, like many other birds of prey, were seriously affected by pesticide poisoning in the environment, but stricter controls in recent years are helping populations recover.

An endangered species, the bald eagle is protected from harassment or harm by state and federal laws.

Kentucky Fishing Report

Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources
Frankfort, Ky., March 17—Heavy rains throughout much of the state during the past week and warm daytime temperatures have combined to produce rapidly improving fishing conditions for mid-March, although in some cases wind and muddy water hampered anglers.

A few of Kentucky's lakes have surface temperatures well into the 50's and higher than normal lake levels. Some anglers feel that there's a good possibility of an early spring. Good catches of crappie, muskie, rockfish and rainbow trout were reported during the March 15-16 period covered by this report. The lake-by-lake rundown, as reported by conservation officers and creel clerks at each lake, follows:

KENTUCKY: Clear to murky to muddy, stable, two and one half feet below summer pool, 54 degrees.

BARKLEY: Muddy to murky, falling slowly, three feet below summer pool, 55 degrees.

BARREN: Muddy to murky, rising, 18 feet below summer pool, 55 degrees.

NOLIN: Clear to muddy, rising, 15 feet below summer pool, 49 degrees.

ROUGH RIVER: Muddy to murky, rising slowly, seven feet below summer pool, 50 degrees.

TAYLORSVILLE: Muddy, falling, two feet above summer pool, 48 degrees.

HERRINGTON: Murky, falling slightly, five feet below summer pool, 52 degrees.

GREEN RIVER: Murky, falling, six feet below summer pool, 51 degrees.

CUMBERLAND: Clear to murky, rising slowly, 10 feet below summer pool, 50 degrees.

DALE HOLLOW: Clear, rising, five feet below summer pool, 49 degrees.

LAUREL: Clear to murky, stable at summer pool, 50 degrees.

CAVE RUN: Murky, falling, four feet below summer pool, 48 degrees.

PAINTSVILLE: Clear to murky, rising slowly, five feet below summer pool, 48 degrees.

BUCKHORN: Murky to muddy, stable, 30 feet below summer pool, 47 degrees.

GRAYSON: Murky to muddy, stable, eight feet below summer pool, 48 degrees.

DEWEY: Murky to muddy, stable, five feet below summer pool, 50 degrees.

FISHTRAP: Muddy, stable, 30 feet below summer pool, 51 degrees.

WEST: Light fishing activity was reported at Kentucky Lake. Crappie were being caught on tube jigs and minnows in 8-12 feet of water from stump rows and brush piles along secondary creek channels. Bass were being taken on crankbaits and jigs (tipped with grubs/plastic worm tails) off rocky points. At Lake Barkley, light fishing activity for crappie with jigs around brushpiles and fish attractors, and for bass on crankbaits off rip-rap and rocky points.

WEST CENTRAL: At Barren River Lake heavy angler activity was reported in the tailwaters for crappie and white bass. In the lake, bass were being caught on crankbaits off rock bluffs.

CENTRAL: At Lake Cumberland, rockfish were being caught casting white doll fly and twister tail combinations. Bass were taken jigging live nightcrawlers and minnows, and casting spinnerbaits and jigs.

EAST: At Paintsville Lake, rainbow trout were being caught by trolling shad-colored crankbaits and spinners. At Laurel River Lake, rainbows were being taken by trolling shallow running crankbaits, and bass were hitting jigs in the upper lake. Excellent catches of muskie, crappie and white bass were being taken in Buckhorn Lake tailwaters. At Dewey Lake, bass were being caught on crankbaits and by jigging live nightcrawlers. Also, a few muskie were being taken on large minnows and by casting big crankbaits, with crappie hitting minnows fished over deadfalls in inlet headwaters.

Girls Lose Two, Floyd Hopes Gone

Floyd county's two hopes for a berth in the state girls' basketball tournament were dashed at Sheldon Clark gym Monday night, when Betsy Layne lost to Johnson Central by four points and Allen Central went down to Belfry by seven in the semifinal round.

Fouls near the end may have cost Betsy Layne a win in a game in which they led most of the way. The final score was Johnson Central 62, Betsy Layne 58. In the other match, Belfry, 61, defeated Allen Central, 54.

Allen Central last week defeated Dorton and Betsy Layne defeated Phelps to win a place in the semifinal round. Belfry and Johnson Central were to meet last (Tuesday) night to decide the regional crown.

Why flirt with a heart attack? The American Heart Association says there are some things you can control to reduce your risk: stop smoking, control high blood pressure, eat a diet lower in fats and cholesterol, keep your weight normal and get regular exercise.

Miner Electrocuted In Weeksbury Mine

A 36-year-old father of four died by electrocution Tuesday morning in a Weeksbury mine when he came into contact with live wires at an electrical substation.

Phillip Roger Hamilton, of Hunter, was co-owner of the H and G Coal Company mine, where he was making electrical repairs when he died instantly, at 9 a.m. He was pulled from the fatal wires by a co-worker, Kenneth Little. Floyd Coroner Roger Nelson pronounced the victim dead at the accident scene.

Hamilton was born on September 21, 1949, the son of Dexter and Ruth Reynolds Hamilton, of Beaver, both of whom survive. He is also survived by his wife, Joy Jones Hamilton; three daughters, Jodi Hamilton and Leigh Ann Hamilton, both at home, and Monica Hamilton, of Beaver; a son, Toby Hamilton, at home; and five sisters, Lovetta Tackett, Loretta Wintrode, Sherry Hall, Terri Daniels, and Deedra Daniels, all of Beaver.

Funeral services will be held Friday at the Ligon Community Freewill Baptist Church, with ministers of the church officiating. Burial will follow in the family cemetery at Beaver under direction of Hall Funeral Home. Visiting will be at the church after 2 p.m. today (Wednesday).

Born on Abbott Creek, August 28, 1905, she was the daughter of Mollie Stanley Conley and Richard Lee Conley. She was first married to Walter Mohle, of New York City, and they resided in Huntington, W. Va. After Mr. Mohle's death, she married Robert Frazier, a Floyd county native, and they resided in Silver Lake, Indiana.

She is survived by two sons, Walter Lee Mohle, of Chicago, and Charles Ray Mohle, of Evansville, Indiana; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Hudson, of Silver Lake; one brother, Wamie Conley, of Wabash, Indiana, and eight grandchildren.

Her funeral was held at the Strong Funeral Home, in Silver Lake, Ind. with the Rev. Jim Robbins officiating. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery, there.

Looking Ahead With Sadness

By DOCIA WOODS

It has long been aptly said that "everything changes," and perhaps, at no time during recent local events has this been more vividly depicted than on Wednesday evening, March 12, when approximately 100 members of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial), and their families gathered to bid farewell to the church's annex building.

(Erected in 1948, to replace the one on the corner of Court Street and Lake Drive which was destroyed by fire in 1942, where the Fountain Korner now stands, this building was dedicated in 1948 and served as the church's sanctuary until the erection of the new church next door to it, which was dedicated in 1972).

Since that time, it has been used primarily for Sunday School classes, and church activities, including many suppers for the enjoyment of the church family and others.

Now, under the church's "Together We Build" program, this building is soon to be replaced by one that will more adequately serve the needs of the growing membership there.

Wednesday's activities at the Church Annex, as it has been referred to these past 14 years, were begun with what some of the members like to call their "last supper," there, and was followed by the singing of familiar hymns, Christian fellowship, and a period of reminiscing.

Led by the Rev. Ira McMillen, who served as the pastor there from 1953-62, fond memories of born-again experiences, baptisms, weddings, "Outreach" planning, and many other happenings were shared with the congregation by Rev. and Mrs. McMillen; the church's present pastor, the Rev. Steve Hopkins, and Mrs. Hopkins; Ruby Garrett, Bill Pettrey, R.V. May, Clifford Latta, Patsy Evans, Norcie Burchett, Alice G. Buchanan, Eva Allen Hale, Helen Vickers, Gary Vickers, Peggy Carter, Estill Lee Carter, Dee Dee Callis, Jay Callis, Roberta Frazier, Burieta Gearhart, Patty Minns, and Sandra Bellamy.

Feelings of sadness, mixed with anticipation seemed prevalent, as persons there appeared to become more aware of one of life's realities: That regardless of pleasant memories, there eventually comes a time when, like everything else in this world when the Good Lord has given us, "the old order changeth."

Pictures of the entire group were made on the front steps of the building, by Miss Paula Goble, before the group bade "adieu" and departed for their homes.

Although the number of women business owners is on the rise, women still own only a small portion of the businesses in the United States. According to the most recent data from the Bureau of the Census, women owned over 700,000 firms in 1977—representing 7 percent of all businesses. A survey of women-owned businesses revealed that 94 percent were owned by white women, almost 4 percent by black women, and nearly 3 percent by women of Hispanic origin, according to "Women Business Owners," a fact sheet issued by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

CAN FUNERAL DECISIONS BE MADE WISELY UNDER STRESS?

Not always—which is why we recommend planning your own funeral.

Caught up in grief and stress, some people may be emotionally unable to cope with making funeral arrangements effectively. They may be tempted to proceed with more costly arrangements than they should. It should be noted that the psychological value of the funeral has no relationship to its costs.

Planning such arrangements may eliminate the possibility of such over-spending. Planning can be accomplished in advance of need, in an atmosphere uncharged with the emotionally distressing circumstances of bereavement. For details of planning funerals, call us—or stop by for literature.

Your questions and comments on this and other subjects are welcome—in private or publicly through this column.

PRETTY IN PINK (PG-13-Paramount) Starring Molly Ringwald, Harry Dean Stanton, Andrew McCarthy ★★ 1/2 ★

By J.T. YURKO

In the 1930s and early '40s, Judy Garland was the quintessential teenager. Along with Mickey Rooney, she geewhizzed her way toward adulthood with the help of "songs, wonderful songs" and musical revues that would put Joseph Papp to shame.

The '50s and early '60s were represented by three different kinds of teenagers: sappy ones in the "Gidget" movies, silly rock 'n' rollers in Frankie Avalon/Annette Funicello beach romps, and serious angst-ridden teens.

The late '60s and early '70s gave rise to the radical teen. The '80s may have found a collective voice in members of the "Brat Pack," a collection of performers who come together in various arrangements to give voice to adolescent angst, '80s style. Emilio Estevez, Andrew McCarthy, and half a dozen others form the male side of the picture, but the quintessential female teen of the '80s is Molly Ringwald. This red-haired, singularly unrespectable waif has become the unofficial embodiment of what it's like to grow up in the '80s in a trio of films — "Sixteen Candles," "The Breakfast Club" and now "Pretty in Pink," all with scripts by John Hughes.

"Pretty in Pink" is neither the best nor the worst of the bunch. Miss Ringwald is most engaging, Hughes keeps the dialogue quick and hip, and the final message is safely accurate, if not inspired.

Miss Ringwald plays Andie Walsh, a girl from the poor side of town who attends a school dominated by people from the wealthier side. She's ostracized for not having the "right" parents or clothes or car, but she's a scrapper and manages to get along quite well. The problem comes when she has to decide between the gorgeous rich kid (Andrew McCarthy) or the devoted but poor "Duckie" (Jon Cryer).

"Pretty in Pink" is directed by former MTV director Howard Deutch, and the music is non-stop, reaffirming a notion that started with Judy and Mickey: Growing up is tough, so it's best to do it with music.

Latest Talking Heads clip is good, but falls short

By Barton Weiss

The latest Talking Heads video, "The Lady Don't Mind," was directed by avant-garde filmmaker Jim Jarmuch ("Stranger Than Paradise").

It's a New Yorkish black-and-white clip with selected additions of color to draw our attention to specific objects within the frame that have symbolic meanings. Jarmuch's shots linger on screen a bit longer than the shots in most videos, but not uncomfortably so.

It's a nice clip, but Talking Heads clips have always been ground-breakers, so when one of theirs is merely good, we tend to be a bit disappointed.

The gloss is off

Remember that great A-Ha video ("Take on Me"), where a comic-book character came to life? That clip made A-Ha a household name, and pioneered the use of pencil-drawn animation with realistic movement. That method is called rotoscoping, and it was so successful that it has since become a video cliché.

In the group's new video, "Train of Thought," an otherwise poetic vision becomes boring.

"Crossover" woes

Most of us got our first glance at Ruben Blades in a three-shot with John Oates and Lou Reed in the "Sun City" video. But he's been a big name in Salsa music for years.

He has starred in and written the music for a film called "Crossover Dreams," which chronicles the attempted crossover of a Salsa performer into the mainstream musical world. He also has released a video, "Good for Baby," which is a confusing mishmash of images from the film. It would be nice to say that Blades' vocal performance saves the clip, but it doesn't.

With videos like this, it's going to take a long time to crossover.

A real message

Aside from we-are-the-charitable clips, there have been very few videos with messages. Coil tries to reverse that trend.

The band has taken the Soft Cell classic "Tainted Love," slowed it down, and made a video that shows the agony of AIDS — to both the victim and his lover.

This is one of the hardest hitting and most depressing clips ever. All proceeds from the project are going to AIDS research. But will MTV have the guts to run it?

Home-video front

Speaking of social commentary, a home-video collection of peace-oriented clips has been released under the title of "Greenpeace Non-Toxic Video Hits." Included are Peter Gabriel's "Shock the Monkey," Tears for Fears "Mad World," Madness's "On the Wings of a Dove," Thomas Dolby's "Dissidents," George Harrison's "Save the World" and 16 others. It's an hour of good video for less than $30.

MAYTOWN NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Justice, of Plymouth, Ohio, were here, recently, to attend the funeral of his cousin, Vernon Justice, of Stanton, formerly of Eastern. Mr. and Mrs. Justice also visited Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bailey at their home on Wilson Creek.

Mrs. Minnie Howell was hostess at an old-time dinner last Monday at her home. Enjoying the occasion were Mrs. Gypsie Stephens, Lewis and Emma Collins, Shanna Howell, Mrs. Bertha Click, Edgel Hayes, Mrs. Goldia Salyers, Lula Martin, Marcella Bailey and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dillman and sons, of Middleboro, were here Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Bridgett Bentley to Mr. Stephen Halbert at the Maytown United Methodist Church. They also visited her father, Thomas Patrick, and Mrs. Patrick.

Our sympathy to the family of Claude (Cud) Halbert who passed away last Wednesday morning at his home in Martin. Mr. Halbert grew up in Maytown and has many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy E. Webb spent the weekend in Nashville, Tenn. They returned home Sunday evening.

Our sympathy to relatives of Perry Prater who passed away last Wednesday. Mr. Prater is wellknown for his work with the Floyd county school system.

Mrs. Mildred Osborne, of Hindman, attended the Bentley-Halbert wedding Saturday and visited with old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley Lumpkins and Mrs. Edna Greenslate, of South Shore, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Patton and also attended the Bentley-Halbert Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvel Petty, of Huntington, visited her family at Eastern last week and also attended the Perry Prater funeral.

James E. Allen and Ralph Patton attended the Water Well Association meeting at Slade, last week.

Jimmy L. Allen accompanied his son, Barron, to the Shriners Hospital in Lexington, Tuesday, for a checkup.

PREPARE FOR REVIVAL

NUMB ARMS, LEGS
Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble

(1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals...call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS

By JANE BOND Health Educator

Responding to the continuing rise in reports of contaminated food and drug products in the state, Gov. Martha Layne Collins today authorized the Ky. State Police and the Cabinet for Human Resources to pool all available resources to investigate cases of tampering and/or false reporting of consumable products sold in Kentucky.

State Police Commissioner Morgan Elkins and Human Resources Secretary Al Austin said in a joint statement that the two agencies would cooperate fully in both manpower for investigation and laboratory analysis on any case in which a food or drug has been accidentally or willfully altered.

"I can't emphasize too fully that this action must not dissuade any citizen from reporting to the proper authorities any food drug, or other product about which they have reason to believe there is some danger to another consumer," said Collins. "At the same time, the state police and state health officials must take all steps necessary to make certain that their investigations are truly cases of potential danger and not instances of false reporting."

Elkins said that each report will continue to be investigated thoroughly with all means at the disposal of the state police.

"We will investigate each report," he said. "However, with the additional manhours and costs involved, we will be alert to the possibility that someone may deliberately be placing items in food containers or simply making a false report for public attention."

According to Cabinet for Human Resources Records, more than two dozen reports of contaminated food and/or drug items have been made to police or public health officials since February 20.

Austin said a check the U.S. Food and drug administration in Nashville, Tenn., indicated a very high number of allegedly contaminated food or drug items being reported in Kentucky specifically the Louisville Metro area.

"Obviously the news reports of a potential danger have helped to heighten public awareness and have made the consumer more careful," said Austin. "From our conversations with the FDA and other officials we also know of similar situations which may have resulted the false reports and deliberate tampering of consumable items. We are, therefore urging the public to be cautious."

Austin and Elkins urged anyone purchasing a food or drug product and suspecting that either the container or the contents have been tampered with to retain both the container and the product and immediately contact local enforcement authorities or the local health department.

Making a false report of a crime to authorities is a class A misdemeanor, while conviction or tampering with food or drug products is a class D Felony in Kentucky and could also involve Federal Charges.

Cervical cancer is the most curable of all cancers, yet this type of cancer kills approximately 11,000 women each year. These deaths could possibly have been avoided if those 11,000 women had had Pap tests to detect the cancer in its earliest stages.

The Floyd County Health Department is having a Pap clinic on Thursday March 27 from 8:30 until 11:30 and from 1:00 until 2:00. This clinic is a free service of the Health Department and is open to women of all ages, however those women age 45 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this free service since this is the high risk age for cervical cancer. No appointment is needed for this clinic.

National Poison Prevention Week

Highlands Regional Medical Center is observing National Poison Prevention Week by giving away one-dose bottles of Ipecac syrup and information about poison prevention and treatment.

Ipecac syrup is recommended to induce vomiting in many types of poisoning. Free bottles of Ipecac can be obtained by visiting the HRMC Pharmacy between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. during this week (March 17-21). There will be a one bottle per family limit. If the supply runs low, rain checks will be issued.

HRMC Pharmacist, Steve Albert, cautions, "If a child has swallowed a poisonous substance the first step is to call a poison control center or your family physician for treatment advice. Doing this quickly can alleviate potential tragedy, as the first few minutes are the most important."

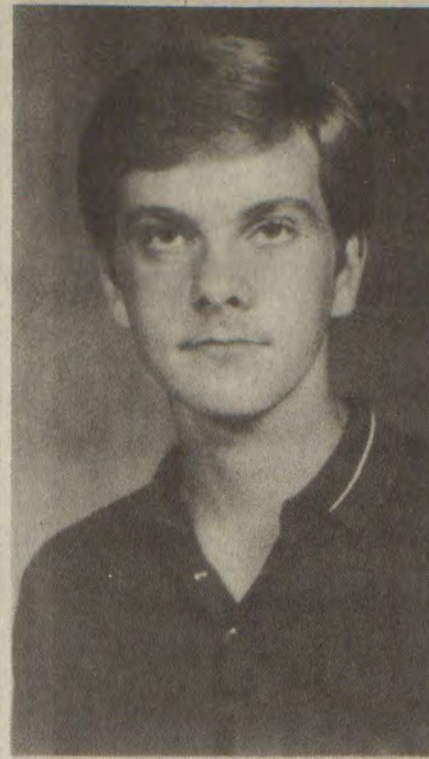

Highlands Regional is one of 400 Poison Control Centers in the United States. Together with the Kentucky Poison Control Center at Norton Kosair Hospital, HRMC helps protect the citizens of Eastern Kentucky. The telephone of Highlands' Poison Control Center is 886-8511 or 789-6548, ext. 173. The number for the Kentucky Poison Control Center is 1-800-722-5725.

Cake Decorating Class Begins March 25 at PCC

Prestonsburg Community College will present a cake decorating class beginning Tuesday, March 25. The class will meet from 6-8 p.m. Two experts in cake decorating, Noma Crisp and Diana Osborne, will teach skills such as eye-catching borders, rose design and using color schemes for effect.

For more information about the course, call Juanita Ratliff at 886-3863, ext. 215.

Named USAA Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that David Joe Wallen has been named a United States National Award winner in History and Government. He was nominated for this award by his history teacher, Miss Aileen Brown.

A student at Prestonsburg High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wallen, of Little Paint. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wallen, of Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Compton, of Prestonsburg.

Builds Winning Bridge

Mark Sellards, a junior at the Kentucky School for the Deaf, won first place in a bridge-building contest held in conjunction with Engineers Day at the University of Louisville and the University of Kentucky.

Engineers Day is designed to introduce high school students to the engineering professions and to allow high school and college students to demonstrate their engineering skills.

In the bridge-building contest, students were required to construct a model bridge using a limited amount of balsa wood, within certain design and size specifications. Sellards' bridge weighed only 3 1/2 ounces but supported a load of 410 lbs.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sellards, of Betsy Layne.

Mountain Inspiration

By GLENN MOLLETTE
A Christian's commitment and service has never been based on convenience, but rather commitment. Setting the alarm clock to get up early on Sunday morning for Bible study may not be convenient. It is a matter that requires commitment. The outreach program of a church seems to be the most difficult program in which to enlist support. Tuesday nights or Saturday nights will always find something else going on that will take precedence. Yet, outreach or visitation has never been convenient; it is a matter of commitment.

Our day is characterized by rushed lifestyles and crammed calendars. On the weekly appointment book there seems to be little time for God and the church.

A person surely cannot scatter himself in ten directions and hope to ever really accomplish anything. Therefore, a person has to decide what is important and what will bring the greatest return and rewards for his investment of time.

Vocational, school, and civic activities will always require a huge chunk of time. And a Christian in the midst of these activities can never disregard his relationship with the Lord, but use every opportunity to be a voice and a light for Christ.

But what about the Lord's Day? What about Sunday School, the worship services and prayer meeting? These simply require a space on your weekly calendar that will remind you by saying, "you're supposed to be there." This commitment involves when the time comes to go, you get up and go.

When Jesus called Matthew "he arose and followed him." (Matthew 9:9). Some are not physically able to get up and be faithful to their church. However, multitudes are and when it is convenient they do arise.

Charles Luther wrote, "Must I go, and empty handed, thus my dear redeemer meet, not one day of service give him, lay no trophy at his feet? Must I go, and empty handed? Must I meet my Saviour so? Not one soul with which to greet Him: must I empty handed go?"

A total of 7,000 kinds of plants have been grown or collected as food throughout history. Of these, 20 plant species supply 90 percent of the world's food and just three—wheat, maize and rice—supply more than half. Scientists believe tens of thousands of still-to-be-tried species are edible, perhaps superior to those already on our dinner plates.

Today is the first day of the rest of your life.

Give blood,

so it can be the first day of somebody else's, too.

Pike College Expands Scholarships

Pikeville College is expanding its scholarship offerings by the addition of two new "residential" scholarships; the "2 plus 2" Residential Scholarship, and the Pikeville College Residential Scholarship.

To be considered for the "2 plus 2" Residential Scholarship, the student must have a minimum 3.0 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale); have completed an associate degree at a regionally accredited community college or university; and must be planning to live in a Pikeville College dormitory.

In contrast to the transfer scholarship, the Pikeville College Residential Scholarship is for entering freshmen. Applicants must have a minimum 3.0 grade point average (4.0 scale) or a 275 total GED score; an 18 ACT composite score or 770 SAT combined Math/English score; and must plan to live in a campus dormitory.

Although these scholarships are for different "types" of students, they do share similar characteristics. The award in both cases is up to $1850 per year. This amount includes up to $1,000 in tuition assistance and up to $850 in room costs.

Both scholarships are renewable, the "2 plus 2" for two years and the Pikeville College Residential for four years, provided at least a 3.0 grade point average is maintained and general college scholarship requirements are met.

Also, both scholarships have financial aid filing requirements as part of the application process. Specifically, any student interested in consideration for either the "2 plus 2" or the Pikeville College Residential must file the Kentucky Financial Aid Form (KFAF) prior to the April 1 priority filing date. Out-of-state students may file either the KFAF or their particular state's equivalent form. In addition, to apply for the scholarships, the Pikeville College Application for Financial Assistance must be received in the financial aid office no later than May 1, 1986.

The scholarship deadline for both residential scholarships is May 1. All other Pikeville College academic scholarships have an April 1 deadline.

For more information, or scholarship application forms, contact the Admissions Office at 432-9322 or the Financial Aid Office at 432-9382.

The patterns and bright streaks of color that decorate flowers are not only for human eyes, but serve as road maps to guide insects to nectar and pollen. Bees seem most attracted to violet, blue, yellow and pink flowers while butterflies are most interested in red, blue, purple and yellow.

INVITATION TO LEASE OFFICE SPACE

The Finance & Administration Cabinet of Kentucky desires to lease approximately 550 net square feet of office space to be located in Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Parking for 2 vehicles must accompany the space. Space must be available for occupancy on or before June 15, 1986.

Responses may be made by any person in writing on or before 10:00 a.m., Monday, March 31, 1986. You need only to designate the type and location of the property owner, and the date of availability of the property for lease. Lease requisition number PR-3236 should be clearly marked on the outside envelope of each proposal submitted to Room 171, New Capitol Annex, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

All responses received will be publicly opened and read at the above designated time. You will be notified by a representative of the Leasing Branch so that an appointment can be made to inspect the proposed facility.

Property must be approved by the office of the State Fire Marshal, meet OSHA and handicapped accessibility specifications, as well as existing applicable building codes. For any additional information, contact Jim Butler of the Leasing Branch by phoning (502) 564-2416.

Sacrifice, Support For Programs, Enhance Hunting, Fishing Sports

By DOUG HENSLEY,
7th Dist. Fish &
Wildlife Commissioner

For the most part, eastern Kentucky sportsmen will not see many changes in the hunting and fishing sports for 1986. That's right, squirrel season is still set to open on the third Saturday in August. For the life of me, I cannot understand why we would want to kill lactating female squirrels and leave young squirrels to starve in the nest.

A survey was taken by our conservation officers during the 1985 squirrel season and we found that 75% of the lactating females taken were taken during the first two weeks of squirrel season. A motion made to open squirrel season on Labor Day weekend was defeated, so nothing changes.

On another controversial issue the Fish and Wildlife Commission agreed to table, until a later date, possible changes in the coon hunting regulations. It has been the wish of many coon hunters, especially in eastern Kentucky, that the Department consider a coon stocking program. Also, along with this stocking program, many coon hunters would like to see parts of the coon dog training season closed, so that not only coons but other species of wildlife could prosper and be undisturbed during their period of gestation. I believe this closure of the coon dog training season during the months of wildlife gestation would be a very important step to increasing our wildlife populations in eastern Kentucky. If this closure happens, the coon hunters would deserve a big thank you from all sportsmen for their sacrifice. This will provide not only a better opportunity for the coon hunters, but also for all other hunters.

I firmly believe that this would bring our sportsmen closer together, and would enhance the opportunity of our sportsmen to overcome all the anti-hunting groups that exist today.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife is in the process of expanding all areas within each division; by hiring new people and establishing new programs for the enhancement of our fish and wildlife resources. All of these changes and improvements cost money.

Because the Department of Fish and Wildlife is self-supporting and depends on hunting and fishing license receipts for the bulk of its financing, the Commission voted to slightly increase the resident hunting and fishing licenses and tags for 1987. Also, the Commission voted to have a substantial increase in our non-resident license. I believe this was a necessary step to take, in order to continue the progress we're making in addressing all the needs of our Kentucky sportsmen.

Believe me, a lot of needed programs are becoming a reality; and I truly believe that not only eastern Kentucky, but the entire Commonwealth will see positive results toward the enhancement of all hunting and fishing sports in the future.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Fish and Wildlife Commission, on behalf of the sportsmen of the Seventh District, for their continuing support of the deer stocking program in eastern Kentucky. Starting this year 1200 deer will be stocked in Knox, Perry and Letcher counties. Clay county has already been completed, with 500 deer being stocked in only one year.

We owe a lot of thanks to Charlie Wilkens and all the boys at Ballard County Wildlife Management Area for their tremendous effort and hard work in trapping the deer. We also owe our deepest gratitude to Buck Walker, who has trucked a lot of miles transporting the deer. Also, thanks are in order to John Phillips, our deer biologist, Gary McLain, and his dart team, who spent a lot of cold nights in areas across the state obtaining deer for eastern Kentucky.

As you can see, a lot of people are working extremely hard to see that our eastern Kentucky sportsmen can enjoy deer hunting a little closer to home.

While we are on the subject of deer hunting, the 1986 season should be a very productive one. In only 10 years our hunting season has gone from 3,500 to over 30,000 deer taken. In the Seventh District we have gone from 140 deer taken in 1976 to 687 deer taken last year. I believe we will continue to see our deer herds increase, as long as we continue to trap over-populated areas for deer, control poaching, provide habitat, and last, but certainly not least, win control over wild and stray dog problems.

Deer hunters, remember, be sure to check the deer hunting regulations, because several changes were made, and several counties are closed due to the stocking program. With the exception of the West Kentucky W.M.A., all other management area deer hunts will be held on December 6th and 7th by draw only.

The statewide deer gun season will begin on Nov. 8th and will be regulated according to the zones. A special muzzle-loading season will be on December 6th and 7th in the 10-day gun season counties.

The Red Bird W.M.A. and Dewey Lake W.M.A. will enjoy the entire month of October for bow hunting, bucks only. Other changes on Red Bird and Dewey Lake W.M.A. include a September squirrel season, shot guns only, and small game season beginning on December 8th and running through December 31st.

It is my belief that we should provide every opportunity possible for our sportsmen on our management areas, when we can do so without hurting the resource.

The Seventh District received a complete turkey stocking in Martin county and a partial stocking in Magoffin county this year. Magoffin county will be completed when the rest of the turkeys become available. There are several other areas in the Seventh, including the Fish Trap W.M.A., that will receive turkeys in the future. By the way, turkey season will begin April 16th in the open counties. Be sure to check the regulations.

Well, so much for hunting; it's spring and I would imagine a lot of our sportsmen are getting fishing fever.

Our fisheries division is always looking for opportunities to enhance the fishing in our beautiful eastern Kentucky lakes. For instance, this spring we'll be stocking tread-fin shad on Buckhorn Lake. We feel it is necessary to provide these kinds of shad so muskies can feed on them instead of the bass, and bass can feed on the shad to increase their size. A possible fertilization program may be in order for the future.

Our trout stocking program will begin in April, and I know a lot of eastern Kentuckians are looking forward to that, especially the kids.

For the most part, our eastern Kentucky lakes are something to be proud of, and we need to really protect and promote our lakes for our future generations.

Sportsmen, in closing, I would like to tell you that I really believe in the Department of Fish and Wildlife. I think that our future looks bright for hunting and fishing in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. However, all sportsmen, no matter what his sport, must be dedicated to the preservation of our Fish and Wildlife Resources. We must support the League of Kentucky Sportsmen, our own Fish and Game Clubs, our Conservation Education Programs, but most of all, we must be willing to sacrifice a little, so that we and our future generations can enjoy fishin' and huntin' in Kentucky.

Sportsmen, if you have any comments or suggestions, please write Doug Hensley, P.O. Box 775, Hazard, Ky. 41701.

FLOYD COUNTY AWARDED FEDERAL FUNDS FOR EMERGENCY FOOD, SHELTER PROGRAMS.

Floyd County has been chosen to receive $22,288.00 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.

The selection was made by a National Board made up of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). United Way of America will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent. The Board was charged to distribute $20 million appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the county.

A Local Board made up of Floyd County Judge/Executive John M. Stumbo, Janet Tackett, Eula Hall, John Woods and Cohen Campbell will determine how the funds awarded to Floyd County are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area. The Local Board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program. Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local governmental or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must: 1) be non profit, 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, 3) practice non-discrimination, 4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they should have a voluntary board. Qualifying organizations are urged to apply.

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting: Janet Tackett, Office of the Floyd County Judge/Executive, at 606-886-9193, or at the Courthouse Annex Building, Suite 109, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Grass Carp To Find Home In Kentucky

Grass carp (Ctenopharyngodon idella), highly valued as a biological control for water weeds because they are an alternative to periodic applications of toxic herbicides, may soon be legally imported, possessed and propagated in Kentucky.

The Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission voted during its December 13, 1985, quarterly meeting to establish a permit process allowing landowners to import genetically altered, sterile, "triploid" grass carp into Kentucky and place them in ponds and small lakes for aquatic vegetation control. The fertile "diploid" grass carp may be possessed for propagation only by certified licensed fish propagators.

The permit process will be administered under the Division of Fisheries' technical guidance program. Upon the recommendation of a district fishery biologist, landowners will be able to purchase sterile "triploid" fish for use in their ponds provided that approved spillway control devices are erected if needed so that the fish can't escape.

Landowners will be provided with a list of certified suppliers of adult fish, which sell for about $7-10 each and should be stocked at a rate of about 12 per acre. Under the strict guidelines of the program, only certified licensed fish propagators who operate approved hatchery facilities will be able to purchase and possess the fertile "diploid" grass carp.

A native of the far east, mainly China, Russia, and Japan, the grass carp can grow to a weight of a hundred pounds and can live to be over 15 years old, although after five years of age their growth rate and effectiveness at controlling aquatic vegetation slows considerably. Grass carp grow rapidly and eat mainly rooted vegetation, trimming back the tender shoots.

Study results have shown that grass carp have definite food preferences. They are effective at controlling spinyleaf naiad, musk grass, curly leaf pond weed and hydrilla. Grass carp must be stocked at the proper rate to totally eliminate the nuisance vegetation, otherwise effective control of the vegetation will not be achieved.

The exotic fish species was first introduced into the U.S. in 1963 by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service when it was stocked in a lake near Stuttgart, Arkansas. Today, grass carp can be found in most states between the Appalachians and Rocky Mountains. Rivers are the grass carp's preferred habitat although they seem to adapt well to standing bodies of water.

The new program is designed to check the spread of fertile fish in the wild by maintaining control over introductions of the exotic fish and to reduce the use of harmful chemical herbicides by utilizing grass carp as a biological control of nuisance aquatic vegetation in ponds and small lakes.

Pond owners who would like to obtain grass carp should contact the Division of Fisheries, Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, No. 1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, or telephone (502) 564-3596.

Paintsville Lake Down For Oil Well Sealing

The Army Corps of Engineers has temporarily lowered Paintsville Lake in Eastern Kentucky to permit access to one of two old wells that will be plugged within the next few days.

The lake was lowered five feet to allow special well-plugging equipment to reach an abandoned oil well, located on old Mine Fork Road near the mouth of Big Mine Fork.

The Corps' Huntington District office awarded a $16,111 contract to Skip Cantrell of Staffordsville for the permanent sealing of both wells. Work was to begin Mar. 12 and be completed within two weeks, weather permitting.

The top of the oil well casing, a few inches above the normal level of the lake, was covered years ago when Mine Fork Road was paved. It was not discovered during the Corps' earlier program throughout the lake area in which 94 oil or gas wells were plugged.

It was found in 1985 when the lake was slightly higher than normal and a small amount of oil was observed seeping. Since then, a metal drum surrounding the casing has prevented oil from reaching the lake.

The second well, a non-producing gas well, is on high ground away from the lake near the former site of the Relief Post Office in Morgan County.

The oil well casing will be emptied, and both wells will be pumped full of cement, according to Kentucky requirements.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Leno Isaacs, of Teaberry, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Jill Denette to Frank Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, of Beaver.

The marriage will be solemnized March 29, at 2 p.m. at the Church of God of Prophecy, Hi Hat. The gracious custom of open wedding will be observed.

Cancer Show On WKYT

Cancer Prevention will be discussed on a live call-in program on WKYT/Channel 27, tonight (Wednesday), from 8-9 p.m. Specialists in nutrition and oncology will discuss and answer called-in questions about how diet relates to cancer and other aspects of cancer prevention.

Ask the Doctor: Cancer Prevention will be co-hosted by Joseph Bark, M.D., and Ken Kurtz, vice president of Channel 27 news. They will be joined by a panel of physicians.

According to the National Cancer Institute (NCI), an estimated 35% of all cancer deaths are related to diet. Some of these deaths can be prevented through changes in the diet.

NCI has published a booklet, Diet, Nutrition and Cancer Prevention, which contains food information and suggested menus. Viewers can obtain a free copy by calling the Kentucky Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER.

CITY ORDINANCE NO. 1986-001

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CITY ORDINANCE 1979-001 AND CITY ORDINANCE 1981-005 RELATING TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A CITY UTILITIES COMMISSION TO DIRECT THE ACQUISITION AND/OR DEVELOPMENT, MANAGEMENT, CONTROL, AND OPERATION OF A WATER SYSTEM AND A WASTE WATER SYSTEM, AS WELL AS A NATURAL GAS SYSTEM FOR THE CITY OF WHEELWRIGHT, KENTUCKY.

WHEREAS, the city of Wheelwright, by Ordinance 1979-001, provided for the establishment of a City Utilities Commission; and

WHEREAS, by Ordinance 1981-005, said Ordinance was amended in certain of its provisions; and

WHEREAS, the city of Wheelwright now desires to amend both of said Ordinances as to certain specific provisions;

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to the authority vested in the legislative body of the city of Wheelwright, Kentucky, in KRS 83A.060, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF WHEELWRIGHT, KENTUCKY, AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1, paragraph 1, is hereby amended to read as follows:

There is hereby created a "City Utilities Commission" (hereinafter referred to as the Commission). Said Commission shall consist of five (5) persons, no one of whom is related within the second degree to the Mayor or to any member of the City Commission of the City of Wheelwright.

Section 2, paragraph 2, shall be amended to read as follows:

The members of the Commission shall be appointed by the members of the City Commission, and shall serve at the pleasure of the City Commission. Any member or members of the City Commission may be removed at any time at the sole discretion of the members of the City Commission, by a majority vote of the City Commission authorizing such removal. Unless a member of the Commission is removed by a majority vote of the City Commission, the term of a Commissioner shall be for one (1) year from the date he or she is appointed to the Commission.

Within 30 days preceding the expiration of any Commissioner's term, the Commission may prepare a list of persons proposed to fill the subsequent vacancy, and these names shall be submitted to the City Commission at a regular or specially called meeting. The City Commission may, but is not compelled to, choose an appointee from the list proposed by the Commission by majority vote. However, the City Commission shall not be limited to those persons proposed by the Commission, and may appoint, at their discretion, any person or persons qualified under the terms of this Ordinance to sit as a Commissioner on the City Utilities Commission.

Section 3, paragraph 1, is amended to read as follows:

All Commissioners shall qualify as such by accepting their appointment, and by executing a bond with a surety to be approved by the City Commission in the penal sum of not less than $5,000.00, said bond to be conditioned upon their faithful performance of their duties.

Section 3, paragraph 2, is hereby deleted from the Ordinance.

Section 4, paragraph 1 and 2, shall remain unchanged and shall read as follows:

All Commissioners shall continue in office until their successors have been appointed and qualified. Any Commissioner shall be eligible for reappointment upon the expiration of his term. Any Commissioner failing to attend three (3) consecutive meetings without cause acceptable to and approved by the Commission shall be automatically removed from office and the vacancy shall be filled by the City Commission as hereinabove set forth.

Section 3, paragraph 3, is hereby deleted.

Section 4, paragraph 4, shall remain unchanged, and shall read as follows:

If any Commissioner shall become a candidate for or be elected or appointed to any public office of the City or shall move his place of residence from the service area of the Wheelwright Utility Systems, the Commissioner shall automatically vacate his or her membership from the Commission, with a successor to then be appointed by the City Commission in conformity with this Ordinance.

Section 4, paragraph 5, is deleted from the Ordinance.

Section 5, paragraphs 1, 2, and 3, shall remain unchanged, and shall read as follows:

A majority of the Commissioners shall constitute a quorum at any meeting. At the first meeting of the Commission, and annually thereafter, it shall organize by designating one of its members as Chairman and another member as Secretary. The Chairman shall preside at all meetings when present, and shall call special meetings on his own motion or when requested to do so by two (2) other Utility Commissioners. The Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings which shall be available for inspection by any interested person.

Said Commission shall adopt rules and by-laws for the time and place of its meetings and the conduct thereof.

Section 6 of the Ordinance is hereby amended to read as follows:

The Commission shall have the full, complete, and exclusive control of the acquisition and/or development, as well as the management and operation, of the subject Utility Systems, and shall employ, fix the compensation of, and have the power to discharge all employees of said Utility System including but not limited to any and all consultants. No public office holder shall be eligible for employment by the Commission in any capacity.

No employee of the Utility Commission, nor any person contracting for any services or materials with the Utility Commission, shall be related by blood or marriage to any member of the Utility Commission, nor to the Mayor or any member of the City Commission, unless the City Commission, by majority vote, waives this provision.

Upon the acquisition and/or development of the Utility Systems involved herein, the Commission shall have the full and complete control of the financial activities of the Utility Systems, subject to the provisions hereafter noted, and shall be responsible and under a duty to keep accurate records of disbursements and receipts involving said systems. No expense may be incurred or any disbursement made on account of any Utility System without the prior written approval of the Commission.

All purchases of services or materials, shall be governed by the Model Procurement Code, said code being found in KRS Chapter 45A. It shall be the duty and responsibility of all Commission members to familiarize himself or herself with the provisions of the Model Procurement Code. No purchase of services or materials made contrary to the provisions of the Model Procurement Code shall be binding upon the Utilities Commission, and the Utilities Commission shall not pay any person or entity for services or materials provided in violation of the Model Procurement Code.

Upon acquisition and/or development of the subject Utility Systems, the Commission shall have the full and complete control over the maintenance, operations, and extension of the systems, and shall provide sufficient reserves funds to insure that the systems are kept in good working order, and to provide against emergencies which may arise.

So long as any bonds issued on behalf of the Utilities Commission, or loan or any other indebtedness incurred to acquire and/or development the Utility Systems remains outstanding, the Commission shall take all necessary action to insure strict compliance with each and every term, condition, and covenant of the Ordinance under which said bonds, loans, or other indebtedness was authorized, issued, sold or secured.

The Commission shall see that adequate and proper schedules of rate for services are at all times in effect. Said rates shall be so fixed as to provide funds adequate to make all payments provided for in any Revenue Bond Ordinance and others as appropriate to operate said system, to properly maintain them, to make all necessary and proper replacements, and to provide an adequate fund for depreciation.

The Commission shall institute a proper procedure to insure the regular and prompt payment of the rates as provided for. The Commission shall see that all accounts due the Utility Systems are collected promptly, and shall promptly discontinue service whenever any such account remains unpaid.

The Commission shall accept nothing in payment of consumers' account except cash or check.

The Commission shall report to the City Commissioners once each month, said report to be in the hands of the City Commission no later than the 5th of each month. Said report shall include, but not be limited to, a full accounting of all expenditures and receipts of the Utility Commission's funds, shall contain a copy of the minutes of any meetings held of the Utilities Commission, and shall contain a general journal breakdown of receipts and expenditures for the preceding month.

Section 7 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The offices of the City Utilities Commission shall be in the same building as the offices of the City Commissioner's.

The person or persons selected by the City Commission to serve as the City Attorney shall also serve as the general counsel for the Utilities Commission.

Section 8. A Section 8 of the Ordinance shall be added as follows, said Section 8 formerly being Section 7 of the Ordinance.

This ordinance is enacted to insure and protect the citizens of the city of Wheelwright to be serviced by the public Utilities Systems, and any holder of revenue loans, or other indentures, of the city of Wheelwright and the terms and conditions of same are for the benefit of said citizens and debtors alike, and may not be altered, amended, nor changed unless copies of such proposed changes shall be published at least once a week for four (4) successive weeks prior to the introduction thereof at any meeting of the Board of Trustees of the city of Wheelwright.

The hereinabove Ordinance of the city of Wheelwright was duly approved and passed on the 8th day of March, 1986.

ORDINANCE NO. 7-86

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG ESTABLISHING AN AGREEMENT SYSTEM FOR AMBULANCE SERVICES DOING BUSINESS WITH THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG PURSUANT TO KRS 65.710.

WHEREAS: The City Council of the City of Prestonsburg is desirous of establishing a rate schedule for ambulance services doing business in the city limits of Prestonsburg, where the ambulance is directed to be sent to a scene by the Prestonsburg Police and Fire Department; and

WHEREAS: The City wants to make a rate uniform for all persons where the City has called for an ambulance, in the City limits, NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: That the City of Prestonsburg adopt the following Ambulance Service Agreement:

AMBULANCE SERVICE AGREEMENT

THIS AMBULANCE SERVICE AGREEMENT, made and entered into this day of 1986, by and between the CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, a municipal corporation, hereinafter referred to as party of the first part, and _____, an ambulance service duly licensed and authorized to do business in the Commonwealth of Kentucky pursuant to the relevant Kentucky Revised Statutes, hereinafter referred to as party of the second part.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the party of the first part desires to fulfill its obligations regarding the public health, safety and welfare of the citizens of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, by providing reputable ambulance services to its residents; and

WHEREAS, the party of the second part desires to provide said services as hereinafter specified; and

WHEREAS, KRS 65.710 authorizes the party of the first part to contract with private persons, partnerships, or corporations for providing ambulance services to its citizens;

NOW, THEREFORE, that for and in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set out, and in further consideration of the employment of the party of the second part, the party of the second part agrees to provide ambulance services to the party of the first part consistent with the requirements of KRS 65.710, subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. The terms of this Ambulance Service Agreement are not exclusive, as any person, partnership or corporation desiring to provide ambulance services within the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, shall be required to execute a written agreement for the provision of said services, subject to the approval of a majority of the City Council of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

2. The term of this Agreement shall not exceed one (1) year from the date of execution, and may be renewed annually in the sole discretion of the party of the first part.

3. The party of the second part agrees that at least one (1) person on each ambulance run shall possess a currently valid emergency medical technician certificate, a copy of which shall be provided to the party of the first part.

4. The party of the second part further agrees that at least two (2) trained persons, one (1) driver and one (1) attendant, shall be carried on each ambulance dispatched for each ambulance call which is covered under the terms and conditions of this Service Agreement.

5. The party of the second part covenants that all vehicles used by them in the provision of ambulance services shall comply with vehicle and equipment regulations issued by the Kentucky Department for Human Resources.

6. The party of the first part shall place the name of the party of the second part on a rotation roster which shall be maintained by the Prestonsburg Fire Department Dispatcher. The dispatcher, when responding to requests for ambulance services, shall call, in turn, each service as listed in alphabetical order. The party of the first part agrees to make available for inspection the aforesaid roster in the office of the Prestonsburg Fire Department Dispatcher.

7. It is further mutually agreed by and between the parties that the citizens of Prestonsburg, Kentucky have the right to request a specific ambulance service, and in such event, the dispatcher shall call the service requested, regardless of its position on the aforementioned rotation roster.

8. The party of the second part agrees to indemnify and save harmless the party of the first part for any and all damage claims for injury to persons or property during the term of this Agreement, or any extension thereof.

9. The party of the first part shall establish a reasonable rate schedule to be charged by the party of the second part, consistent with services rendered. The rate schedule shall be the same as approved by the State Department of Human Resources for ambulance services as filed. Each ambulance service shall furnish a copy of the approved rate schedule to the City, to be in effect during the term of the contract period, subject to revision on an annual basis.

10. The party of the first part and the party of the second part agree to the fairness of this Ambulance Service Agreement, and that the same is not unconscionable.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have hereunto set their hands as of the day and year first above written.

ORDINANCE NO. 6-86

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG ESTABLISHING AN AGREEMENT SYSTEM FOR WRECKER SERVICES DOING BUSINESS WITHIN THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG AND ESTABLISHING SET RATES FOR WRECKER SERVICES.

WHEREAS: The City Council of the City of Prestonsburg is desirous of establishing a rate schedule for wrecker services doing business in the city limits of Prestonsburg, where the vehicles have been directed to be towed by the Prestonsburg Police or Fire Department.

WHEREAS: The City wants to make a rate uniform for all persons where the City has called for the use of a wrecker service in the City limit, NOW, THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: That the City of Prestonsburg adopt the following Wrecker Service Agreement:

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this day of 1986, by and between the CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, INC., hereinafter referred to as party of the first part, and a wrecker service, authorized to do business in the city of Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky, hereinafter referred to as party of the second part.

WHEREAS, the party of the first part desires to offer efficient wrecker/tow-in service at reasonable rates to those whose vehicles have been directed to be towed by the Prestonsburg Police or Fire Department for whatever reason; and

WHEREAS, the party of the second part does hereby desire to provide the aforesaid services to the party of the first part, and does hereby agree and obligate itself to perform the requested wrecker services at the direction of the Prestonsburg Police or Fire Department;

NOW, THEREFORE, that for and in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set out, and subject to the conditions herein, the parties mutually agree as follows:

1. That each wrecker service which has signed a similar agreement with the party of the first part will be placed on a "rotation roster", listed in alphabetical order. The foregoing roster will be maintained in the office of the dispatcher of the Prestonsburg Fire Department, whose job it will be to dispatch the appropriate wrecker service.

2. The Prestonsburg dispatcher will call each wrecker service, in turn, from the roster until the list is completed, at which time the dispatcher will begin the list anew with the first service so listed. The roster shall show the date, time and reason for contacting the respective wrecker service, and the name of the service which was called. The roster shall also include when a contracting wrecker service was called and was unable to respond. The party of the first part shall furnish a copy of the roster monthly, on or before the 15th day of the succeeding month, to each service which has signed this Agreement.

3. The party of the second part agrees that it will provide wrecker service on a 24 hour basis, and that it will respond promptly to any and every call by the dispatcher, unless extenuating circumstances prevail, which will be reported by the dispatcher and recorded on the roster. The dispatcher shall then make a call to the next contracting wrecker service listed on the roster. All vehicles will be towed to the wrecker service place of business.

4. The party of the second part further agrees that the fees for towing and storage (if required) will at no time exceed the following limits:

- (a) For towing in passenger vehicles and trucks up to one ton: $25.00;
- (b) For storage: $3.00 per day per vehicle.

5. The parties further mutually agree and understand that the owner of a vehicle to be towed has the right to specify a towing service of his or her choice, and that the dispatcher shall contact that service and record it on the roster as a time for use of said service.

6. The party of the second part agrees to indemnify and save harmless the party of the first part for any and all damage claims arising from the use of the subject wrecker service for any injuries to property or persons. The party of the second part agrees to carry insurance sufficient to protect the party of the first part from all claims for damages or injuries as hereinabove stated. The foregoing insurance shall also cover the vehicle being towed or stored, and shall insure the contents thereof.

7. It is mutually agreed and understood that this Agreement may be cancelled or terminated by the party of the second part, upon giving thirty (30) days advance written notice to the Clerk, City of Prestonsburg, Municipal Building, Prestonsburg, Kentucky. This Agreement may also be terminated by the party of the first part by giving thirty (30) days advance written notice of its intent to so terminate. Failure to comply with any of the provisions set out in this Agreement shall constitute a cause for cancellation by the party of the first part, and said failure shall be identified in any written notice of intent to cancel.

8. As a valuable consideration to the execution of this Agreement, the party of the first part agrees to limit the use of wrecker services to those businesses located within five (5) highway miles of the Municipal Building located on North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have hereunto set their hands, as of the day and year first above written.

FLOYD COUNTY AWARDED FEDERAL FUNDS FOR EMERGENCY FOOD, SHELTER PROGRAMS.

Floyd County has been chosen to receive $7,258.00 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.

The selection was made by a National Board made up of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). United Way of America will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent. The Board was charged to distribute $20 million appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country.

A Local Board made up of Floyd County Judge/Executive John M. Stumbo, Janet Tackett, Eula Hall, John Woods and Cohen Campbell will determine how the funds awarded to Floyd County are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area. The Local Board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program. Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local governmental or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must: 1) be non profit, 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, 3) practice non-discrimination, 4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they should have a voluntary board. Qualifying organizations are urged to apply.

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting: Janet Tackett, Office of the Floyd County Judge/Executive, at 606-886-9193, or at the Courthouse Annex Building, Suite 109, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

...About Your Social Security

Whenever a family member dies, one of the survivors should inquire to see if Social Security benefits may be payable on that person's record. Jim Kelly, district director for the Big Sandy area, said recently.

It is important to apply promptly because, in some cases, benefits cannot be paid for months before the month of application. This pertains to widows and widowers who wish to start benefits before they reach 65.

If the worker has enough credit for work covered by Social Security, benefits can be paid to:
 —Unmarried children under 18; 18-19 if full-time secondary students; over 18 if disabled before 22.
 —A mother or father caring for a child under 16 or disabled.

—A widow or widower 60 or older.
 —A disabled widow or widower 50-60.
 —A dependent parent 62 or older.

A surviving divorced spouse can also receive benefits as an aged or disabled survivor if the marriage lasted 10 years or more. This time limit does not apply to a divorced spouse caring for an eligible child under 16 or who is disabled.

In addition, there is a $255 lump-sum death payment that can be made to an eligible widow or widower, or if none, to an entitled surviving child. Funeral homes in the Big Sandy Area do an excellent job of promptly notifying Social Security when someone dies. This is a valuable service to the public because this helps us get their claims processed faster, Kelly said.

When applying you must have certain proofs available including the worker's Social Security card or a record of the number, proof of age for applicants, proof of marriage for widows and widowers, children's birth certificates; proof of the worker's death; Forms W-2 for the previous 2 years or self-employment tax returns; and proof of military service if applicable.

For more information about Social Security survivor benefits, call the Big Sandy Area Social Security office, located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville.

Winner, Runnerup of Spelling Bee

Stephen Damron, eighth grade student at the W.D. Osborne Elementary School at Bypro, and Darnella Bradley, seventh grader at Maytown Elementary School, are winner and runnerup, respectively, of the Herald-Dispatch Spelling Bee held recently at Allen Elementary.

Damron, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Atha Damron, of Weeksbury, whose teacher is Tommy Gibson, and Miss Bradley, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Bradley, of Eastern, whose teacher is Patricia Webb, will compete in the Spell-Down to be held April 5 on the Marshall University campus in Huntington. The annual spelling bee, directed by Anna Sue Stumbo, supervisor, Floyd County Schools, saw keen competition from representatives of 13 other schools. Their names and schools are the following:

Michelle Depoy, Allen Elementary; Tanis Kidd, Betsy Layne; Jennifer Gray, Clark; Jennifer Howell, Bonanza; Sandy Slone, Drift; Tonya Goble, Garrett; Brian White, Harold; Ann Castle, Martin; Beth Jones, McDowell; Shawn Hughes, Prater; Dustin Haley, Prestonsburg; Susan Harrison, Spruce Pine; Brian Newman, Stumbo.

Philip Dingus, department of pupil personnel, retired, was pronouncer for the bee, and Betty Flannery, teacher at Allen Elementary, was statistician. Allen teachers, Debra Rollins and Patricia Branson, and Pat Barnette, Clark Elementary teacher, were judges.

Cookbook Now Available To Lower Cancer Risk

An exciting new cookbook of recipes that meet the Dietary Guidelines for Lower Cancer Risk is now available from the American Institute for Cancer Research (AICR), a national, non-profit organization which focuses on cancer prevention through diet and nutrition.

Published to meet the growing demand for menus and recipes that emphasize healthy eating, the AICR cookbook, An Ounce of Prevention, provides more than 75 recipes for a variety of dishes from appetizers to soups, entrees to desserts. Each recipe has been tested and analyzed to meet the guidelines established by the National Academy of Sciences in its 1983 landmark report, Diet, Nutrition and Cancer.

Copies of An Ounce of Prevention, winter volume, are available for a $6 donation, which includes shipping and handling. Copies may be ordered by sending a check or money order for six dollars, payable to "AICR", to American Institute for Cancer Research, AICR Cookbook, Dept. CBI, Washington, D.C. 20069.

Alcohol Offenders May See Local Court

Businesses breaking alcoholic beverage local ordinances or regulations could face local officials instead of the Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Department. State Rep. Terry Mann, D-Newport, introduced House Bill 188 in the Kentucky General Assembly, which changes the location of appeals by alcoholic beverage licensees of license suspensions or revocations for violating local ordinances from Franklin Circuit Court to the circuit court where the licensed establishment is located. Mann stated that persons involved in such cases should not have to be inconvenienced by traveling to Frankfort when such matters are more appropriately decided at the local level. The bill was favorably passed out of the House Business Organizations and Professions Committee. House Bill 188 now seeks the approval of House Members.

Free Trees For Spring

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving ten free shade trees to people who join the nonprofit Foundation during March.

A Sugar Maple, Weeping Willow, Red Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, Silver Maple, Tuliptree, European Mountainash, and Red Maple tree will be given as part of the Foundation's campaign to encourage tree planting.

These trees were selected because they provide flowers, berries and nuts, in addition to shade and beauty, according to John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director.

The Foundation will give the ten free trees to members contributing $10 during March. The six-to-twelve inch trees will be shipped this spring between March 1 and May 31 when conditions are right for planting. They will be sent with enclosed planting instructions, and are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free by the Foundation.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to TEN SHADE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by March 31, 1986.

USAA Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Nathan L. Dale has been named a United States National Award winner in history & government.

Nathan, who attends Prestonsburg High School was nominated for this National Award by Miss Aleene Brown, history teacher at the school. His biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Nathan is the son of Mike and Patty Dale. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dale, of Cincinnati, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. John Hoersting, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Endangered Species Act—
What Has It Accomplished?

The meals we eat, the clothing we wear, and the medicines we take were probably derived from wild species. Although humans have always benefited from the diversity of plants and animals surrounding us, we haven't always protected them.

In 1973, the federal government gave formal protection to America's plant and animal diversity with enactment of the Endangered Species Act, one of the earliest and most influential pieces of environmental legislation.

Although only 392 species are listed by the federal government as "endangered" or "threatened" in the United States—out of more than 4,000 that conservationists believe are truly in danger of extinction—the act has clearly made the nation aware of the dangers man poses to wildlife.

"There are species around today that would not have survived if the Endangered Species Act had not forced federal agencies to consider the impacts of allowing development to proceed," noted Lynn Greenwalt, National Wildlife Federation vice president for resources conservation.

"The law has made 'endangered species' a household word," Greenwalt observed.

Indeed, the act has made individuals and institutions change their operations to give creatures a degree of real protection they might not otherwise have had. Managers of public forests in the Southeast, for example, now provide for the habitat needs of endangered red-cockaded woodpeckers by preserving stands of "old-growth" pines.

Special refuges have been established for a number of endangered creatures. One of the most recent—the 11,000-acre Ash Meadows Refuge on the Nevada-California border—harbors no fewer than 26 species of animals and plants found nowhere else on Earth.

The Endangered Species Act clearly is making a difference in the populations of wildlife that were once teetering on the brink of extinction.

Less than 15 years ago, the eastern peregrine falcon, a victim of the ravages of DDT, had been completely wiped out in its United States range. Today, an estimated 135 birds are flying the skies from Virginia to Maine. That number includes 40 adult breeding pairs.

The return of the peregrine is one of the nation's most successful efforts to restore an imperiled species. But it could not have taken place without the funding and protection afforded by the Endangered species Act. In the past decade, more than 1,500 young peregrines have been bred in captivity and released in the wild.

As a result, the number of peregrines is slowly growing. In Wyoming and Montana, young peregrines were reared in the wild in 1984 for the first time in years. Along the Atlantic Coast between New Jersey and Virginia, an estimated 21 pairs are now established. And within the next few years, scientists hope to have 50-60 producing pairs throughout the East.

The peregrine falcon is not the only success story. The endangered Kirtland's warbler was well on its way to extinction only a few years ago.

The rare bird, with its bright yellow breast and blue-gray back, nests only in the northern portion of Michigan's Lower Peninsula—and only in young stands of jack pines.

In the past, such trees grew in the wake of forest fires. But with improved fire control programs, the uniformly-sized pine stands dwindled—and so did the warblers. State officials began to remedy the situation through controlled burns in the birds' habitat.

But in the 1960s, the Kirtland's nesting grounds were invaded by hordes of cowbirds, which deposited their eggs in warbler nests. The warblers' productivity plunged, and the annual count of singing males dropped from about 500 to less than 200 within one decade.

In recent years, biologists—operating largely with federal funds—have trapped more than 40,000 cowbirds and virtually ended their menace. Although the Kirtland's population has not yet begun to rise, the species has a fighting chance for recovery.

Perhaps more than anything, the Endangered Species Act has put the nation on record as fighting for species that were once considered "terminal."

"It's quite clear that if you lose the California condor or another species, that is not in itself going to bring about a collapse of our environmental systems," conceded Stanford University biologist Paul Enrlieh. "But these species are symbols. If you start letting the symbols go, then you're essentially tossing in the sponge on saving the planet for our children."

Donations Made To HRMC Breast Cancer Center

The Homemakers Clubs of Johnson county have a head start on other women's groups in donating to the Breast Cancer Screening and Diagnostic Center at Highlands Regional Medical Center, according to Carol Blevins, Public Information Officer at HRMC. In their February meeting, the King Addition Homemakers challenged all the other Homemaker Clubs in Johnson County to donate one dollar per member to the Breast Cancer Center. Mrs. Mary Richmond made the challenge. Mrs. Wanda Price, President of the River Day Homemakers, reported that her club had already met the challenge by donating 100% before the challenge was issued.

"Mrs. Richmond's challenge was prompted by a statistic we presented at our very first meeting for club presidents," said Blevins. Based on some demographic data, we determined that there are approximately 100,000 women in the area the Breast Cancer Center will serve. If each of these women would donate one dollar, we would have more than the $92,000 needed to found the Center."

Pat Willis, Marketing Representative at HRMC, feels the problem is in reaching these women. "We've tried to contact all the women's organizations in Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin, Pike, Knott, and Morgan counties. We sent letters to nearly 100 club presidents in these counties and we have been invited to speak before several, but we would like to see more widespread support. This isn't just a Johnson county or a Floyd county project, it's a woman's project."

"There are some facts about breast cancer that women cannot afford to ignore," said Willis, who is also a Registered Nurse. "Until this year it was the number one killer of women now, because of the number of women who smoke, lung cancer is number one with breast cancer second. Even though it's no longer the most frequent cause of death among women, one of every 11 women will get breast cancer in her lifetime. A regular program of breast-self-exam combined with regular mammograms (x-rays of the breast) after age 40 is the only way to effectively combat this disease."

The Breast Cancer Center at Highlands will provide the latest in mammography, education about breast cancer and emotional support for the breast cancer patient. It will be the only one of its kind in this area.

"We don't think any woman should have to leave the support of her family if she is diagnosed with breast cancer," said Blevins. "Being with family, friends, and experienced professionals, who are also your neighbors, should make the experience a little easier."

For more information about the Breast Cancer Screening and Diagnostic Center or how to get involved with fund raising, call Carol Blevins or Pat Willis at Highlands Regional Medical Center 886-8511 or 789-6548.

...about your Social Security

Changes In Your Income Under SSI

By JIM KELLY
Social Security District Director
For the Big Sandy Area
Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments are based in part on financial need; therefore, any person getting SSI whose income changes should notify Social Security without delay, Jim Kelly, District Director for the Big Sandy Area, said recently.

A married person should also report any change in the income of his or her spouse, Kelly said. In addition, if a child under 18 gets SSI and lives with his or her parents, changes in the parents' income must be reported.

Persons who receive Social Security benefits as well as SSI payments do not have to report a Social Security benefit increase; any necessary adjustment in the SSI payment as the result of such an increase will be made automatically. However, any change in a spouse's Social Security checks should be reported, Kelly said.

Questions about SSI payments should be directed to the Big Sandy Social Security office, located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. The telephone number is listed in your local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

60th Anniversary

I.B. and Bessie Tuttle, of McDowell, celebrated their 60th anniversary, February 27. A dinner was given in their honor by their children and grandchildren. The couple have nine children, 39 grandchildren, 39 great-grandchildren, and 3 great-great-grandchildren.

Deceased May Need To File Taxes, Too

A taxpayer's death does not necessarily mean that a federal income tax return is no longer required in his or her name, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

If the taxpayer died before filing a 1985 tax return, his or her spouse or personal representative must file and sign a return for the decedent if a return is required. A personal representative can be an executor, administrator or anyone with legal responsibility to take care of the decedent's affairs. If a return is not required, but the taxpayer had tax withheld, a return should be filed to obtain a refund.

If the surviving spouse did not remarry before December 31, 1985, a joint return can be filed. Also, joint returns for 1985 and 1986 can be filed if the taxpayer died in 1986 before filing a 1985 return.
