Wilkinson Wins Nomination In Surprise Defeat of Brown

In a surprisingly decisive victory, Wallace Wilkinson has defeated front runner, John Young Brown, for the Democratic nomination for governor. The Lexington contractor called throughout his campaign for a lottery to finance the state's educational programs, rather than higher taxes which he charged his opponents would force on the people of the state. The only candidate for the nomination for governor who flatly opposed the lottery was Grady Stumbo.

Brown conceded to Wilkinson in an appearance with his wife, Phyllis George, around 10 p.m., last night (Tuesday) when he trailed by 17,000 votes.

DeRossett, Patton Win Local Races

Wilkinson, a self-made Lexington businessman, is reported to have used his own money to finance his $4,000,000 campaign.

Unofficial tallies give Brereton Jones the nomination for Lt. Governor, and Fred Cowan that of Attorney General.

Eastern Kentucky lost its opportunity for another governor from this section with Grady Stumbo trailing, though Floyd and surrounding counties gave him solid support.

On the county scene, veteran Frank DeRossett won his race for another term as Circuit Court Clerk over opponent David Hereford, and challenger Jerry Patton defeated incumbent James R. Allen for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney.

Voting tallies for the county were held up by one precinct which did not report its vote until around 9:30 Tuesday evening.

Absentee ballots are still not counted, but though unofficial, results seem decisive enough to bar the chance of any reversal.

The official tabulation will be printed in next week's issue of The Times.

VOTER TURNOUT WAS LIGHT even with a governor to elect and two county offices at stake. Morning hours saw the greatest number at precincts where most stopped to speak to neighbors and all collected a number of campaign cards.

MCC Program Lands Work

Mountain Comprehensive Care's sheltered employment program has just received a contract with Blue Ribbon Pen and Pencil Company in Georgetown to assemble 200,000 ball point pens a month for a six-month period.

According to Chalmer Howard, the mental retardation director at Mountain Comprehensive Care, the work will be divided between its three sheltered workshops in Auxier, Salyersville, and Pikeville. The director said the pens will be put together in assembly line fashion and mean additional work for about 125 clients in the three centers.

The sheltered workshop program provides meaningful work for mentally retarded or developmentally disabled people, and the contract comes at a good time of the year for the Auxier program which employs about 45 clients in horticultural work. Because of the extreme heat in the greenhouses during the summer months, the amount of work is limited and the workers have more free time for supplemental activities. "It will be an excellent indoor activity during the hot summer months," Howard said.

The pens have seven individual parts and assembling them will require simple to fairly complex skills. Therefore, the work will be accessible to lower functioning clients, Howard said, and it is also well-suited to the non-ambulatory individuals.

Howard considers the contract a needed boost to the program and another example of how the clients can be productively occupied. He believes the therapeutic value of the work far outweighs the income brought in.

MEMORIAL DAY was a quiet one here. Most, like Charlie Ferguson, spent the day at home, or visiting with friends, and nearly all displayed the flag.

Discussion, Dissension Mark Future Building Plans Meet

By Ron Marstin

With plans for four new Floyd schools on the drawing boards, the attention at two public meetings here last week shifted to the question of which building projects should be next.

Although state education officials and Floyd Board of Education members have some unresolved differences of opinion, there was agreement that the top five new projects—all of which could be funded under next year's allocation by the state School Facilities Construction Commission—should include a new grade school at Betsy Layne and a high school in Prestonsburg. Renovation of Allen Central High School and Prestonsburg Elementary School also appeared on everybody's list.

An expansion of Betsy Layne High School—a project ranked as second priority by a state team which recently concluded a survey of all Floyd school facilities—was squeezed out of the top five by Floyd board members in favor of a new grade school on Prater Creek.

The Floyd officials' inclusion of the Prater Creek school, which was urged by board member Ray "Shag" Campbell, of Banner, reflects in part a difference between state and local officials about whether Floyd should follow state and national trends toward construction of middle schools for the county's, sixth-, seventh-, and eighth graders.

The state priorities, presented by Dr. Gene Wright, director of the Department of Education's building and grounds division, include:

—a complete renovation of Allen Central High School, to include industrial education classrooms and a chorus/band area;

—an addition at Betsy Layne High School of six classrooms for vocational agriculture and industrial education;

—renovation of the 1940 building at Prestonsburg Elementary to provide 16 standard classrooms, a physical education facility, and restrooms;

—demolition of the 1948 building at Betsy Layne Elementary and construction of a new building to house 21 classrooms, an administrative suite, library, and restrooms; and —construction of a new 800-student high school at Prestonsburg.

The local school board's list gives pride of place to the Betsy Layne grade school project; proposes a new 400-student elementary school on Prater Creek; includes the Prestonsburg Elementary and Allen Central High School renovations; rounds out the top five with the new Prestonsburg High School; and appends the Betsy Layne High School addition as a sixth project.

Board Chairman Dr. J. D. Adams and Assistant Superintendent Ron Hager begged their colleagues to follow a state recommendation and extend to the whole county the middle school concept already accepted for Prestonsburg, where a middle school is scheduled for construction this year. A majority on the board rejected the proposal, however, for fear it would mean the loss of too many neighborhood schools.

The question arose last Wednesday in the course of a discussion by the local board of the state School Facilities Survey, which periodically ranks in urgency future capital outlays. The following day, state and local officials again argued for their differing lists of priorities before an independent hearing officer, who will make his own recommendations to the state Board of Education. Thursday's hearing also solicited input from half a dozen parent and citizen groups.

The state Department of Education proposal calls for restructuring Floyd schools according to a K5-3-4 plan—that

May Lodge Will Celebrate 25th Anniversary, Saturday

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the lodge that brought "resort" status to Jenny Wiley State Park, and park employees are planning a birthday bash to celebrate the occasion, Saturday, May 30.

"It's a big party for everyone," explained recreation director Gail Brahier, noting that state parks are supported by state taxes and are for the benefit of citizens as well as tourists. It will be the first birthday party held for Jenny Wiley, so attendance predictions are hard to make. But Brahier is expecting quite a few people.

"Thousands!" she smiled. "Really, literally."

Headlining the entertainment will be a free concert by Billy Joe Royal, a country singer whose concert here last year was rained out, disappointing several thousand fans. The local Full House Band will play the warm-up set, and the Bottom of the Barrel Bunch, an old-fashioned string band, will provide music to square dance by with Clarence Hensen, of Stanton, calling the steps.

A formal ceremony also will take place in the midst of song and dance, officially dedicating the lodge to Andrew Jackson May, the Prestonsburg lawyer and Congressman whose name it has carried since 1962. June Hudson, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Parks, will be on hand to unveil the plaque and portrait of May that will hang in the lodge's lobby. Hudson also will be presented with a special quilt, whose patches depict many local and state scenes and symbols, handmade by the First United Methodist Sewing Circle, of Prestonsburg. The quilt will be displayed at the lodge following the ceremony.

C.B. Latta, Prestonsburg attorney and former state senator, who is a grandson of Mr. May, and his wife, Mayor Ann R. Latta, will attend the dedication ceremonies. State Representative Greg Stumbo is also expected to be present.

Earlier in the day, children 10 and younger can join in a variety of competitive events including a water-balloon toss and a big wheel race. An egg hunt will be held for the smallest fry, aged two and under. Balloons, coupons, and prizes will be handed out by Smokey the Bear and Super Chicken, the mascot of Lee's Famous Recipe Fried Chicken.

All the events will be held at the Dewey Dam recreation area, where a stage will be set up for the evening concert and ceremony. The Kentucky Riflemen will be there all day to display their pioneer campsites, dress and tools, and food and drinks will be sold by the Cow Creek Volunteer Fire Department, with proceeds going to benefit the firefighters.

Brahier doesn't claim to be a meteorologist, but she is confident about the weather prediction for this particular Saturday in May. "There's no rain date," she said. "It's not going to rain."

Back in 1962, when the lodge cost only $775,000 to build and the price tag for all of the park's improvements—including the lodge, cottages, golf course and the road from the lodge to the dam—was less than $2 million, Gov. Bert T. Combs had a gentle jest for critics who charged that the Mountain

Two Suspected in Robberies Nabbed After Dramatic Chase

A high-speed chase through Floyd county Thursday afternoon ended in the capture in Pikeville of two South Carolina men. The pair allegedly robbed and beat elderly residents in Morgan, Magoffin, and Knott counties before their capture by state police.

John Pearson, 24, and John O'Hara, 30, were stopped when trooper Kenneth Frost rammied the suspects' pickup truck with his cruiser, forcing it into a guardrail on U.S. 23. The chase, which began on new KY 80 near Martin at 2:50 p.m., ended in front of the Captain D's Restaurant, at the southern end of Pikeville, about 20 minutes later.

Frost, who is also public information officer at the Pikeville state police post, said the men were posing as home improvement repairmen to gain entry into the homes of elderly residents. He said the suspects then robbed and pistol-whipped their victims.

Pearson and O'Hara face numerous charges, including several counts of assault, robbery, burglary, wanton endangerment, theft, and traffic violations, Frost said. They are being held in Pike County Jail.

Bill Boyd, a dispatcher at the Morehead state police post, said two men assaulted and robbed Curtis Keeton, 61, who lives on KY 172 about 10 miles west of West Liberty, at 11 a.m. Thursday.

At 1:30 p.m., the suspects allegedly attacked and robbed Lola Shepherd, 74, of Gunlock in Magoffin county. She was admitted to Highlands Regional Medical Center with face and arm injuries.

At 2:30 p.m., Clyde and Annis Bowling, both in their 70s, were robbed and beaten at their home at Innon Branch on new KY 80 near the Knott-Floyd line.

At 2:50 p.m., a state trooper spotted O'Hara's gray pickup on new KY 80 near Martin. O'Hara fled, turning south onto U.S. 23 and driving at nearly 90 mph toward Pikeville, Frost said.

Several state police officers attempted unsuccessfully to stop O'Hara with moving road blocks. The fugitive struck a cruiser driven by Lt. Paul Maynard at Buckley's Creek, near the Pikeville state police post, and later collided with a Pikeville city police car, Frost said.

In Pikeville, a city patrolman on foot tried to stop the truck, "but they tried to run him down," Frost said. O'Hara then passed a school bus unloading children and struck another vehicle before Frost stopped him.

Two Are Wounded In Midnite Fray

By Joe Porter

A shooting occurred at about midnight Saturday at Hardee's Restaurant on Highway 23, here, when a security guard's revolver accidentally discharged and wounded two bystanders.

According to Officer Mike Meade, of the Prestonsburg Police, Virgil Butcher, of Williamsport, a guard employed by Collins Security, was working inside the restaurant when a fight broke out between four individuals. Butcher attempted to break up the fight, and when he drew his .22 revolver, the weapon discharged one round into the floor.

Carter Will Address Centre Commencement

Former President Jimmy Carter will be the speaker Sunday, May 31, at the 164th Commencement of Centre College. About 180 graduating seniors—a record for Centre—will receive bachelor's degrees during the commencement ceremony at 3:30 p.m. EDT in Newlin Hall, Norton Center for the Arts.

All seats in Newlin Hall have been reserved for the graduating seniors' families and their guests. Limited seating is still available in Weisiger Theatre, also in the Norton Center, where a closed-circuit telecast will be provided. For information about tickets, call Mona Wyatt, director of alumni affairs, at (606) 236-0980.

Carter will be accompanied on his visit by his wife, Rosalynn. He will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Two people will be given the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters. The recipients will be James H. Evans, of New York City, a Louisville native and 1943 Centre graduate, retired chairman of the Union Pacific Corporation, and a life trustee and past chairman of the Centre College Board of Trustees, and Thomas D. Clark, of Lexington, a professor emeritus of history at the University of Kentucky noted for his writings about Kentucky, the South and frontier America.

Commencement day activities will begin with the baccalaureate service at 11 a.m., also in Newlin Hall of the Norton Center.

Helen Carey, O.S.B., Catholic chaplain and adjunct professor of religion at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington, Illinois, will deliver the sermon. Carey was a member of the Centre faculty from 1970 to 1980. She rose to the rank of professor of philosophy and assisted with campus ministry.

Carter, 62, was president from 1977 to 1981. He is now University Distinguished Professor at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. He is active in the work of the Carter Presidential Library in Atlanta. The center includes the Jimmy Carter Library, the Carter Center of Emory University, Global 2000 and the Carter-Menil Foundation.

Carter was the first Southerner elected president since Reconstruction. Accomplishments during his term included the Camp David accords and the Egyptian-Israeli treaty; the Panama Canal treaties; negotiation of the SALT II treaty with the Soviet Union; establishment of diplomatic relations with the People's Republic of China; a comprehensive energy program; major educational programs and major environmental protection legislation.

He was governor of Georgia from 1971 to 1975 and previously served as a Georgia state senator and chairman of the Sumter County (Ga.) school board. He is the author of Why Not the Best? (1975); Keeping Faith;

Muffins For Father's Day

To help kids make Father's Day extra special, here's a simple recipe for golden muffins made with raisins and yogurt. While Sears home economists designed this as a do-it-yourself project, younger children may require a little assistance.

Start by gathering these accessories: a 12-cup muffin pan, standard measuring cup, mixing utensils, two mixing bowls and measuring spoons.

RAISIN-YOGURT MUFFINS

- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cup plain yogurt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1-1/3 cups sifted flour
- 1/3 cup dark or light raisins

Instructions: Heat oven to 450 F. Grease 12 muffin cups or use paper liners. In one mixing bowl, cream together until light and fluffy 4 tablespoons of softened butter or margarine, 3/4 cup of sugar and 1/4 teaspoon of salt. In the other bowl, beat 2 eggs and blend in 3/4 cup of plain yogurt, 1/2 teaspoon of baking soda and 1-1/3 cups of sifted flour. Add this to the sugar and butter mixture and stir only to blend. The batter will be slightly lumpy. Add the raisins during the last few strokes.

Fill the muffin cup two-thirds full and bake at 450 F for 15 minutes. After baking, remove the muffins from the pan and serve with butter.

Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Eden were honored with a party given by their daughter, Mrs. Pat Wiggins, of St. Augustine, Fla., on their 50th wedding anniversary, April 19.

A celebration planned in their honor at their home in Martin was cancelled because of their son's illness. Mr. and Mrs. Eden extend their apologies to all the friends whom they did not have time to call about the cancellation.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Following are representative questions answered daily by VA Counselors. Full information is available at any VA Office.

Q.—I receive VA compensation benefits. I am now retired and living on a limited income, can I also receive a VA pension?

A.—You cannot receive both VA compensation benefits and a VA pension. You may elect to receive a pension, if you qualify, and the pension would in fact be greater than the compensation benefit.

Q.—I am a veteran with a service-connected disability rate at 50 percent. I have received an injury which is not service-connected, but which will require a prosthetic appliance. Will the VA supply this needed appliance?

A.—Yes. Any veteran with a service-connected disability of 50 percent or more may be provided with necessary prosthetic appliance for any medical condition.

Q.—Can a female veteran claim her husband as a dependant?

A.—Yes. When receiving compensation, pension or education benefits from the VA, the female veteran may claim her husband as a dependant.

Q.—Does a general discharge from military service qualify me for benefits from the VA?

A.—Yes. Honorable and general discharges qualify veterans for benefits, unless other statutory bars to entitlement exist.

Q.—I am a Vietnam veteran and I am rated 10 percent for a service-connected disability. Am I subject to the eligibility assessment procedures?

A.—No. The following veterans are exempt from the eligibility assessment procedures: service-connected veterans, former prisoners of war, veterans exposed to certain herbicides while serving in Vietnam and to ionizing radiation in connection with atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons and in the occupation of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, veterans receiving a VA pension, veterans of World War I, the Spanish-American War and the Mexican Border period, and veterans eligible for Medicaid.

Q.—Can I prevent an overpayment from occurring in my education benefits?

A.—To prevent an overpayment from occurring in your educational benefits, you should immediately contact the Veterans Administration if you should terminate your training, have a change in your training time, or lose a dependent that you have been receiving additional benefits for.

State Beauty Contestant

Amy Elizabeth Brock, 15, daughter of Mike and Carolyn Thomas Brock, of Harlan, was a state contestant in the 1987 Miss Kentucky Teen U.S.A. pageant held May 23 in Louisville. The pageant is the official state finals for the Miss Teen U.S.A. pageant, where state winners will compete for more than $1,000 in cash and prizes. Contestants are judged on beauty, poise, personality, and appearance in swimsuits and formals.

Brock was named Harlan County Teen 1987. Her hobbies include Musettes, track, writing, and church activities.

Arson Suspected As Home Damaged by Second Blaze

By Joe Porter

Ben Ferguson, who lives on Third Avenue, here, is having a hard time keeping his home safe. In a 30-day period, two fires have ravaged his house.

On April 18, a fire caused by a faulty kitchen exhaust fan did extensive damage to the first and second floors of the house. Then a second fire, May 18—started by an arsonist—burned a large hole in the second story hallway floor.

According to fire investigator Larry Adams the first fire started when the exhaust fan over the stove locked up and overheated. The fire spread quickly from kitchen area to the other rooms and up the staircase. When the Prestonsburg fire department arrived on the scene, the fire had been burning for a half hour. At the time the Ferguson family was away.

As part of his investigation, Adams, took the fan's motor back to the fire station and took it apart. There he discovered that the "heat source was internal." The combustion was the result of the wiring and bushings overheating.

At the time of the second fire, Ferguson, who is now living in a backyard trailer, was out in back of the house with his son when he first saw the fire burning on the second floor. He responded immediately by going through a back window and dousing the fire with a garden hose. "It wasn't much more than a marshmallow fire," Ferguson said. The fire department came on the scene minutes after they were called and added more water to take care of the smoldering.

Ferguson did not see anyone enter or leave the house prior to the fire, but after examining the burn pattern and extent of damage to the floor, Adams believes the fire was started with an accelerant. "I'm going to wait for lab results, but I'm treating it as an arson case," Adams said. "I'll interview people and try to piece the parts of the puzzle together. Something might come up."

The Fergusons have lived in the house for 13 years, and prior to the first fire, Ferguson told Adams the fan motor had been sticking. Adams said the fire could have been prevented by better maintenance on the fan, or by having turned it off after using the stove.

"That's the first thing I do before leaving my house," Adams said. "I make sure all the appliances are off. It's a safeguard against a fire."

LETTERS To the Editor

The views expressed here are those of the writer, and not necessarily those of this newspaper. No unsigned contributions will be published.

Give Us A Break

Aw, come on, Magistrate Jackie Edford Owens Dist. 2, Floyd county, Hueysville, Ky. Why not give a sister county a break as John M. Stumbo says? After all, we the people of Knott county, who live on the head of Right Beaver, Caney Creek, Jones' Fork and Rock Fork, our garbage, if not picked up, would come on down Right Beaver to your hometown Hueysville. And besides, most people who live at the head of Right Beaver, and other places also are related, and most all are Democrats. That should make a difference. I want to say to County Judge John M. Stumbo, "thanks for helping a poorer county than Floyd Co. and if I was a citizen of Floyd county I would vote for you." And we all want to get behind and support Grady Stumbo for Governor. He is a native son of Floyd county and now makes his home in Knott county.
Getting back to relatives of Knott county and Floyd county, Magistrate Owens, you must be related to the Owens' who live on the head of Caney Creek? Floyd Co. Judge Stumbo says Floyd county won't have to hire any additional help for Knott county garbage. So give us a break please. Floyd county is wealthier than Knott county. You all have more level land than we do, the northern and eastern part of Floyd county being on the Sandy River.

Stop Drunk Drivers

I would like to know (and I'm sure I'm not the only one who would) what is being done to stop drunk drivers in Floyd Co.? It seems to me people would be trying to find out. The policemen of Floyd Co. seem to be worried more about someone driving 5 miles over the speed limit than they are about drunk drivers.
Of all the candidates running for office in May, none have mentioned this issue. I think I would be more worried about stopping drunk drivers than saving a tax dollar! What good will it do to worry about taxes if there's no one around to pay them. Think about it.
If anyone has an answer to this question—I'd like to hear it!

Poor Judgment

On Friday, May 8, 1987, the Kentucky VICA State Olympics were held in Owensboro, Ky. Tim Pinson, a Belfry Area Vocational Center student competed in the welding contest after winning first place in the Regional Skill Olympics in Paintsville, Ky. on April 3. In our opinion, Tim proved himself to be the best in competition, but due to a technicality he was denied the first place title and the chance to compete on the national level. (The reason given was that if only one student out of 25-30 secondary and post-secondary could do a perfect weld there must be a defect in the materials used.) Tim's weld was the only one that didn't crack or break when tested but the judges decided to give all students the same score regardless of the condition of their weld. Many of these broke completely into two pieces. Mr. Shafter Bailey, KY State VICA Director, agreed to these proceedings, thus giving Tim the same score as all the other contestants. Later during the contest, Tim was doing the MIG weld portion of the contest, when the machine broke down. The judges were informed of this and assured Tim that this would be taken into consideration. He was not allowed to do another weld although another machine was available. During scoring one judge did not give any consideration at all, giving Tim a 5 out of a possible 40 pts. even after assurances that this would not affect his score at all. Because of these things, we feel that Tim was deprived of first place and the chance to compete in the National Skill Olympics. Although our students in Eastern Ky. do not have all of the advantages of students in other parts of the state, we feel that they are just as talented and deserving. We feel that Tim has proven this without a shadow of a doubt. Those of you who have not met Tim have missed a rare pleasure. He is a very special young man, who works very hard and with sincere dedication. These proceedings have made a lasting impression upon him that will be hard to overcome. The VICA organization is an excellent institution which tries to instill leadership and healthy, competition in all of it's members. VICA stands for patriotism, knowledge, technology, industrial society and youth, but the most important element of VICA is the individual. We feel that this element was missing when this decision was made. We sincerely hope that this doesn't make all students lose faith in VICA due to what we feel was poor judgment on the part of some of the deciding parties. Many students competing with Tim expressed this feeling and we certainly agree. We will continue to support VICA and urge student participation with the hope that our voicing of our opinion will somehow prevent a recurrence of this in future contests.

Seek Host Families For Foreign Students

Host families are being sought for 25 high school students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Ecuador, Australia and Japan for the school year 1987-88 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August 1987, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June 1988. The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host Families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

AISE is also seeking American high school students, age 15 through 17, who would like to spend a high school year in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, France, Spain or Australia or participate in a five-week summer host family stay throughout Western Europe.

Families interested in this program should telephone toll free: 1-800-SIBLING.

Ferdinand Marcos' Fortune

How did Ferdinand Marcos turn a yearly salary of $5,700 into a personal fortune that may be worth as much as $10 billion.

"In Search of the Marcos Millions," a "Frontline" documentary airing Thursday, May 28 at 9:00 on KET, traces Marcos' corrupt career as president of the Philippines. The program also reveals the secret story of the Marcos fortune. Filmed in the Philippines, Switzerland and the United States, "Frontline" interviews Marcos in exile in Honolulu.

Emmy award-winning producers William Cran and Stephanie Tepper obtained several hours of videotape shot by Marcos' own camera crews and obtained financial records, many in Marcos' own hand, which document the looting of a nation and the creation of what may be among the biggest private fortunes in the world.

Based on documents obtained by "Frontline," Marcos' hidden wealth is at least $2,113,260,000; but some sources in Switzerland and the United States estimate Marcos' true worth at $5 billion to $10 billion. The secret of the Marcos fortune began to unravel February 25, 1986, when a United States military helicopter snatched Ferdinand and Imelda Marcos away from the Presidential Palace where they lived for 20 years.

That night, thousands of Manila's poorest, chanting "Cory! Cory! Cory!", swarmed over the iron fence of the Malacanang Palace and found French perfume, caviar, empty jewelry boxes, hundreds of designer dresses and three thousand pairs of women's shoes. Each pair would cost the average Filipino a year's salary.

The Marcoses deny everything despite evidence: court documents, financial records, congressional hearings and confessions of accomplices. Producer Stephanie Tepper says: "The way the Marcoses hid their wealth in Western banks is a symptomatic of the way in which much Third World wealth is syphoned off."

"For decades, dozens of oligarchs and dictators have been suspected of playing this game," says Producer Bill Cran. "We in the West just shrug at this Third World corruption, but it is our own banks and economies that are the ultimate beneficiaries."

Parkway, then under construction, would lead to nowhere.

"May I welcome you to the land of 'nowhere,'" he told gathered dignitaries at the lodge's opening on Sept. 22, 1962. "I take the position that, even though we do live in the land of 'nowhere,' our children and our people are entitled to park and recreational facilities equal to those in other parts of the state and the country—no better—but no worse."

Combs also praised May, who died in 1959, for his unstinting efforts to obtain federal funds to construct Dewey Dam. "He had almost a fanatical belief in the future of eastern Kentucky," the governor said. "He was almost as much a part of these rugged hills as are the trees which cast their shadows upon us this afternoon."

Construction of the dam was completed in 1949, after three years of strike-plagued work, at a cost of more than $6.2 million. Officials expected that land-condemnation proceedings would delay filling of the lake for at least a year longer, but eager local boaters and anglers treated them to hurry the impoundment, and the gates of the dam were closed on May 15, 1950.

Michelle Hale, 16, of Cliff, was hit in the foot, and Billy Crider, 23, of West Prestonsburg, was hit in the leg with bullet fragments. Both were treated at Highlands Regional Medical Center and released.

A spokesman for Collins Security said at the time of the incident, two boys and a girl were beating up one boy, and Butcher drew his weapon to stop them and show them he meant business, when the gun accidentally went off.

Prestonsburg Police have confiscated the .22 revolver. To date, no charges have been brought against anyone.

Tackett Held in Ohio On Car Theft Charge

By Joe Porter

"He'll turn up. He'll do something else," predicted deputy sheriff Roy Blackburn after Julian D. Tackett escaped from custody March 25. And sure enough, Tackett was arrested May 18 in Jackson, Ohio and charged with car theft.

Tackett, who is 18 and from Salyersville, had been temporarily released from the Floyd county jail and was being escorted by Blackburn from a doctor's office when the escape occurred. Prestonsburg police took part in the search with the sheriff's department, but the youth got away.

According to the sheriff's office, Tackett was arrested with his cousin driving a car that had been stolen from Urbana, Ohio. When police arrested him Tackett gave his name as James David and a different date of birth, yet officers found out about Tackett's criminal activity here from the cousin, who was trying to "take the heat off himself."

Tackett has a history of car thefts and escapes from authorities. On August 13, 1986, Tackett escaped from the Floyd County Juvenile Detention Center with three other youths when they overpowered a male staff member and robbed a female worker of her money and car. In the two weeks following that breakout, he stole two more cars.

"He would have just been getting out of jail now if he hadn't escaped," said deputy sheriff George Hale. "Now he might end up in the Ohio State pen."

When Ohio authorities finish with him, Tackett's problems are far from over. The Kentucky State Police have two burglary charges pending against him, and Sheriff Henry Hale said that he has teletyped word to Ohio authorities that he wants him held for extradition.

"We're going to indict him to the grand jury," Hale said.

"I told you," Blackburn said to the Sheriff. "Didn't I tell you he would show up."

VISITS FAMILY HERE

Mrs. Susan Roberts, of Lexington, was here recently for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Carter, and other members of her family. Later in the week, her son, Alan Roberts, came here to spend a few days with the family. Mrs. Roberts is a teacher in the Cardinal Elementary School in Lexington, and Alan is a student at the University of Kentucky, there.

Bits and Pieces

A DAY OF REMEMBRANCE

The official Memorial Day is past, but the traditional observance still held by many will be this coming Sunday. In either case, it is not a time I think of as a holiday. It is rather a time for most of us to remember with some formality and ceremony those who are no longer with us. We remember with sadness, because they are absent. We remember with joy, because they were a part of our lives. And always, we remember.

SOMETHING NICE

After my last report of an affliction known in some circles as 'black thumb' from which I suffer intermittently, Jane Wallace brought me some Chinese Lantern plants whose growth she had done everything possible to insure, giving me not only healthy plants but a measure of good, rich soil.

Gardeners hold a common superstition that you must not thank the giver, but I can say that it was an extremely nice gift, Jane.

Then, my good neighbor, Flo Homes, called to ask if my trouble was moles. That's about the only pest I haven't blamed for my failures, but for those who have them, it seems castor beans will repel the little monsters.

Now, I can thank Flo for that tip. Thanks, Flo.

DAYS OF GLORY

Youngsters are looking forward to that last day of school, so why, suddenly, should I remember my first foray into the world of formal education?

I attended a one-room school on Salyers Branch of Salt Lick. It will probably come as no surprise that few of my memories are of anything scholastic—and through no fault of the school or the teacher.

I remember learning to make daisy chains on the school yard at recess; I remember reading about the ant who traveled to Jerusalem—that is scholastic, sort of, isn't it? I remember a boy with black hair and black eyes, and I don't remember his name; I remember we took our lunch, and it wasn't sandwiches; it was fried chicken, country ham, and biscuits. We kept our milk in a well, and it was still nice and cold at lunch time. I remember that we sometimes walked with the teacher down the creek from school. Once I said "Darn it," and did I ever get a shocked lecture.

But the peak of my scholastic career came the day that we had a terrific storm. Salyers Branch was in flood, cutting off the school, stranding us. Then, my granddad rode up to ford the creek, and take me home.

It was a moment of pure glory.

RECOVERING FROM FALL

Miss Maurine Mayo is improving nicely at her home following hospitalization at the Highlands Regional Medical Center, where she was treated following a fall at her home, recently. Coming here to be with their aunt were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall, of Nashville, Tennessee.

TO PRESENT CONCERT

Ron Wright will be in concert at the Katy Friend Free Will Baptist Church, Saturday night, May 30, at 7 o'clock. Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited to attend.

Rotarians Polled Here. Say Women Welcome

By Louise Houghton

If members of the Prestonsburg Rotary Club had their way, they would be welcoming women Rotarians into the group today. That was the verdict in a recent poll of the all-male club's 26 members, according to president Henry Lewis Mayo.

"Without a doubt, every member of our club would accept women," he said.

However, in spite of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling in early May that states may force their Rotary clubs to admit women, no changes are imminent in the local organization. That's because the Supreme Court ruling applies only in states that have passed comprehensive laws prohibiting sex discrimination in public accommodations, and Kentucky's law is too narrowly drawn to make the ruling applicable here. So, for the time being, the local club will continue to abide by the rules of Rotary International, which requires clubs to exclude women.

"We have no choice," Mayo said, adding that the international organization could rescind the charter of a local club that violated its by-laws.

Mayo admitted that he has mixed feelings about opening Rotary membership to women. On the one hand, he believes having women in a club—any club—tends to make the men pay more attention to their appearance and behavior. Instead of coming to meetings unshaven and disheveled, the men will be "polished and shined when they come," he said. "It just kinda dresses up everything."

On the other hand, he said, admitting women would "break down the tradition" of the 82-year-old organization. It would change the image of the club and take away the privacy enjoyed by

In District Court

Sentenced in Floyd District Court, following guilty pleas or verdicts, were: Paul Wallace, 37, Hippo, drunk driving (DUI), second offense, 30 days in jail and $707.50 in fine and court cost; William S. Newsome, 31, Pikeville, drunk driving and possession of marijuana, ten days in jail and fined $507.50; Troy Ward, 37, Prestonsburg, drunk driving and attempt to elude, 30 days in jail and fined $707.50; Duane Prater, 29, Hueysville, drunk driving, fined $157.50 and two days public service; Ricky D. Conley, 31, Lackey, drunk driving, fined $357.50; Johnny Smith, Jr., 34, Virgie, drunk driving, possession of marijuana, fined $357.50 and two days public service; Anita Tackett, 24, Beaver, drunk driving, fined $157.50 and two days public service; Randy Tackett, 31, Harold, drunk driving, second offense, 15 days in jail and fined $557.50; Michael Mullins, 39, Pikeville, drunk driving, $357.50; Donald J. Spears, 49, Harold, drunk driving, fined $157.50 and two days public service; David W. Ratliff, 28, Harold, drunk driving, fined $157.50 and two days public service.

"Not Your Average Russian" Profiled June 17 On KET

The voice of the Soviet Union? A treacherous propagandist? A missionary of peace? A powerful weapon in the Soviets' public relations arsenal?

Who is Soviet spokesman and journalist Vladimir Pozner, the unofficial voice and face of the Soviet Union in the West? Find out when KET premieres "Not Your Average Russian (The Pozner File)" Wednesday, June 17 at 8:30 p.m.

Narrated by National Public Radio's Alex Chadwick, the program follows Pozner on his first return visit to the United States in 38 years. Born in Paris in 1934 to a Russian father and a French mother, Pozner was raised until the age of 14 in New York City.

The program shows Pozner on his first visit to the United States in 38 years. It follows Pozner as he visits the Manhattan grade school he attended and appears on "Donahue," with morning talk show host and author Phil Donahue.

At a time when the Soviets are showing increasing sophistication in their global public relations efforts, Pozner is becoming a key figure. For millions of Americans, he is the new face and voice of the Soviet Union. A commentator for Radio Moscow, Pozner has appeared on American television on ABC News' "Nightline" as well as in friendly combat before an audience of eight million on "Donahue."

Woven throughout the program is analysis and commentary from Soviet experts and media observers who know Pozner and disagree on what Americans should make of him. Marshall Goldman of Harvard University's Russian Research Center has studied the Soviet Union and Pozner. Goldman advises Americans to ask if we "would buy a car from that man? He has a line that he's trying to peddle," claims Goldman.

"Not Your Average Russian" is presented by WGBH/Boston.

HERE FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Stepp and their grandson, John Stepp, had as their houseguest for two weeks recently, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joyce Stepp, of Niceville Florida. While here, she also spent some time visiting with other relatives and friends.

members when they get together with others of the same sex.

"I don't see any men getting involved in women's clubs," he noted.

Although the recent Supreme Court decision was hailed as a "major breakthrough" for sexual equality, having "tremendous" symbolic importance, business women here expressed only a modest interest in its impact.

"I think it's great," said realtor Frances Cooley, but added that she had never thought about joining Rotary. If the club accepted women, she said, "I probably would give it some consideration," but it's not high on her list of priorities.

"I hadn't really thought about it," echoed Rhonda Blackburn, owner of a Stanville advertising agency. But if the organization decided to admit women, she said, "I'd be interested in knowing more about it."

The Rotary Club here was formed just over a year ago, according to Mayo. Its biggest activity has been to run the concession stand at Jenny Wiley theater, a profitable venture that enabled the club to make a commitment to contribute $10,000 over the next five years to Rotary International to help pay for immunizations in underdeveloped countries around the world. The group also has awarded scholarships to local students and helped a family whose home was destroyed by fire, he said.

The Supreme Court ruling involved a Rotary chapter in California which was ousted from the international organization after it admitted three women. The chapter must be reinstated, the court ruled, and California Rotary clubs must abide by that state's law banning discrimination based on race, sex, religion or national origin.

Mayo, Prestonsburg High School faculty representative Patricia Elliott, Prestonsburg Industrial Corporation spokesman Burl W. Spurlock, and Mayor Ann Latta.

Maytown PTO president Jean Hicks asked for a renovation of Maytown Elementary School and sharply opposed a plan, accepted by both state and local school officials, to consolidate Maytown and Martin grade schools.

"Our children are now known by their first name and we want it to stay that way," Hicks said. "We don't want them to become a number instead of a name."

Citing concerns for pupil safety, Betsy Layne Elementary PTO president Sheila Ortega argued for keeping that school's building project at the top of the priorities list, as it is in the local board's version.

Some 200 of Betsy Layne grade school's 525 students are in mobile classrooms and are forced to brave the elements in order to go to the bathroom, library, office, or special education classes, Ortega said. Ceiling tiles are missing and electrical wires are visible in the main school building; moreover, the school is so designed as to make security a major worry, she said.

After its top five projects are completed, the state construction plan lists, in order:

—consolidation of Martin and Maytown schools into a new elementary school to be built on KY 80, south of Martin;

—conversion of the existing Prestonsburg High school building into a central administrative office for the district, with facilities for alternative education, a media center, and an in-service facility;

—construction of a middle school for Melvin, Osborne and McDowell students;

—construction of a middle school for Stumbo, Harold, Betsy Layne, Prater Creek and Spruce Pine students;

—construction of a middle school near Allen Central High School for Garrett, Martin, Maytown, and Wayland students;

—construction of physical education facilities at Stumbo, Osborne and Clark schools; and —construction of a warehouse on the old Allen Elementary School site to house the district's maintenance, custodial, and food distribution services.

After its top six projects, the Floyd Board of Education would build the consolidated Martin-Maytown school, a new McDowell Elementary School, and a new Harold Elementary School; convert the old Prestonsburg High School building into a central office; construct a new Melvin Elementary School; build physical education facilities at Stumbo, Osborne and Clark schools; and construct a warehouse on the old Allen Elementary School site.

There's a lot to be said for being over forty

A message to our customers on our fortieth birthday

The Walter P. Walters Agency has just celebrated its fortieth birthday. And there's a lot to be said for being over forty.

There's the know-how we've gained from four challenging decades of serving and growing with our community. After forty years, you can be sure our recommendations are based on fact, backed by experience, and inspired by a genuine desire to provide you with superior service.

... a business doesn't serve its customers, its people do

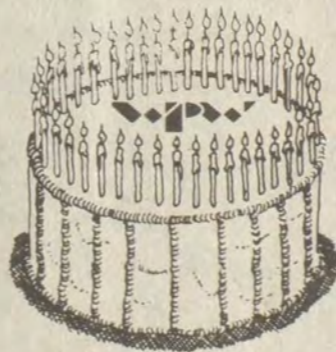

You see, in our early years we learned the secret to success and growth. That is simply that a business doesn't serve its customers, its people do. The Walter P. Walters Agency gets its energy and lifeblood from the people who work here. Good people. Responsible people. People who dedicate themselves to earning your trust and confidence.

The on-going training programs we participate in are among the best in the industry, so we can assure you a full understanding of up-to-the-minute changes in insurance legislation and financial planning opportunities. In an industry where changes and confusion are common, people who know what they're talking about are becoming increasingly rare. Our people do know what they're talking about and you can depend on them to protect your interest with every opportunity.

No one offers you more ways to help protect your business and property than the Walter P. Walters Agency

With all the recent changes in insurance legislation, it is more important than ever to actually compare policies — to study the fine print, to know what the differences are and search out the greater value. No one offers you more ways to help protect your business and property than the Walter P. Walters Agency.

We have access to a remarkable number of insurance companies offering a broad range of coverage. When a customer asks for a quote, we work it, we shop it, we dig a little deeper. Then we know the options we're offering you are the best.

You are our most important asset

And that brings us to the most crucial fact of all. One we've known from the beginning. That is simply that you, our customer, are our most important asset. It is you and others like yourself who have taken us from a tiny little two-person agency to the thriving company we are today.

Walter P. Walters, our founder, has admonished each of us to remember that customers will stay where they're well treated. It is our sincere desire that you are served so well by our people that we can keep your business which we value so highly.

You can be sure, as we take our forty years of tradition into the future, that our standards are the same as always. The highest. We appreciate your business and will always strive to earn your confidence and continued patronage.

Named "Best of Class"

Clarizza Singayao, senior at Mountain Christian Academy, was one of several honorees at a "Best of the Class" taping session by WSAZ on May 5. She and the other students had their pictures taken, were treated to lunch and a tour at the Huntington Museum of Arts, and attended a taping session of "PM Magazine."

She is the daughter of Dr. Ruben and Clarita Singayao, of Minnie, and plans to attend the University of Kentucky after graduation from the local academy.

OFFICERS of the Garth Vocational Industrial Club recently won first place in opening and closing ceremonies at the Regional Skill Olympics at Mayo State Vocational School. In addition, Dwayne Osborne was first in mine maintenance, David Sexton first in auto mechanics, James Ross third in welding, and Chris Sammons third in machine shop.

Young Authors Winners

Winners in the "Young Author's Program" in the third grade at Prestonsburg Elementary School are Danny Hall, II, in the Illustrated Book Category, Leah Anne Daniels in the Poetry Book Category, and Leslie Johnson (not pictured) in the Skills Book Category. Hall is taught by Mrs. Hale, and Misses Daniels and Johnson are taught by Mrs. Collins.

ATTEND OPPENHEIMER REUNION

Descendants of the late Charles Oppenheimer (1865-1942) held their annual family reunion with dinner on the grounds at the homes of Mrs. Marjorie O. Holbrook and Charles (Mose) Oppenheimer, on Tick Ridge near Olive Hill, Sunday, May 24, and visited the family cemetery at Lawton, in the afternoon. Mr. Oppenheimer and his family moved from Carter county to Prestonsburg in 1914, where they became prominent members of the community and active members of the United Methodist Church. Mr. Oppenheimer was widely known as a successful merchant.

Over 50 family members, from Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Florida, and Ohio attended Sunday's event. Present from this area were Mrs. Ruth Worland, Mrs. Phyllis Ranier, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Haywood, all of Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip A. Haywood, and daughters, Melissa and Jacquelyn, of Belfry; Miss Rebecca Haywood, of Falmouth; and Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Colmenares, and children, Joshua and Alexandra, of Lexington.

Health Dept. To Watch Pool, Spa Facilities

Local health departments on June 1 will begin regular inspection and monitoring of more than 2,000 public swimming pools, water slides, beaches, hot tubs and whirlpool baths in the state according to Earl Compton, administrator of Floyd County Health Department. "These inspections apply to all pool and spa facilities except those in private single-family residences," said Compton. "Among the sites we'll be visiting are pools and other bathing-related facilities open to the general public and those in apartment complexes, clubs, motels, hotels and other sites.

During inspections at least twice a year, we will be checking factors that affect public health, including water quality, sanitation safety, lifeguard certification and first aid availability," he said. "In addition to full inspections every year, these bathing-related facilities will be monitored monthly," said Compton. "We're trying to insure that pools are clean and safe for all Kentuckians as well as visitors to the Commonwealth."

P'burg Receives Funding For Survey of Buildings

By Joe Porter

Mayor Ann R. Latta has announced that the city of Prestonsburg has received a $3,500 federal grant to make a historical and architectural survey of its downtown buildings.

The survey and planning grant was applied for through the Kentucky Heritage Council, and the total project cost is $5,000 of which the city will provide $1,500 as its share in the form of office space, telephone, and clerical services.

Mayor Latta said the $3500 will be used to hire a consultant—an architect or a person with a degree in historical preservation—to study the buildings and then write a nomination for a National Historic District status. The consultant must be selected from a list of 13 approved consultants that the Mayor has received.

"We have an interesting collection of early 20th century buildings," Mayor Latta said and mentioned the Hobbs and Richmond buildings as examples of buildings with a lot of historic significance. The Mayor hopes the distinction of being a National Historic District will help call attention to the area and be something to build tourism around.

The survey should be completed by September 30 of this year, and in the following year, the city will learn if its nomination is accepted. Once the downtown is designated a historic district it will be placed on the National Register and property owners will then be eligible for tax credits and other assistance. The distinction will also protect the buildings from demolition.

The Main Street Program's Board of Directors will meet at City Hall tomorrow (Thursday) at 7 p.m. to discuss finding a replacement for Rhondetta Goble, the part-time manager of the Main Street Program, who has resigned to attend law school.

MEMORIAL WEEKEND GUESTS

Mrs. T.J. Leake, of East Point, had as her guests during Memorial Day weekend, members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Lowe and children, Branden, Josh, and Kate, all of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spradlin, and daughter, Jennifer, of Versailles. Sunday, the family group was entertained with a cookout, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Ramey at her home on May's Branch Road.

Three Years Old

Elizabeth Ann Crider, daughter of Dwight and Karen Crider, of Abbott Road in Prestonsburg, celebrated her third birthday, April 17, with friends and family members. She received many gifts and a "Bugs Bunny" cake was served to her guests. Present were her sister, Melissa, her parents and grandparents, and friends, Bradley, Crystal, Betty, Brian, Rhonda, Jackie and Tina.

Summer Registration At EKU Opens June 8

Registration for the 1987 summer term at Eastern Kentucky University will open Monday, June 8, University officials said this week.

Summer classes begin the next day (Tuesday, June 9) and run through July 31.

James L. Grigsby, director of admission at EKU, also reminded continuing EKU students to register earlier if at all possible. Continuing students who have not registered should contact their advisors prior to registration.

"We expect to have many new and non-traditional students signing up for summer courses this year," Grigsby said. "Everyone in the admissions office is working to make the registration process as quick and simple as possible.

University officials said summer term provides a chance for new and continuing students to get a head start on coursework. And it provides a time for students who are not seeking degrees to take courses for professional development or just for fun.

In addition to credit courses, EKU offers a selection of not-for-credit special interest courses each term.

EKU will offer more than 700 regular courses and more than 60 workshops or short courses this summer.

Grigsby said new students should begin the registration process at the EKU Admissions Office, Jones Building 203. Continuing students should begin their registration process with the Registrar, Coates Building, lower level.

For more information about registration or summer term at EKU, please contact the EKU Division of Admissions at (606) 622-2106.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF BLASTING SCHEDULE

Pursuant to 405 KAR 16:120E, Section 3, of the Permanent Program Permit Regulations, the public is hereby notified that Sarah Coal Company, Inc. 9111 Cross park Drive Suite 475, Knoxville, Tn. 37915, will conduct blasting operations on a 301.46 acre Permit 898-0171 located in Floyd and Pike counties. Operations will be conducted on Increment No. 1 and No. 2, which is located 0.9 mile east of Weeksbury, Kentucky, latitude 37° 19' 15", longitude 82° 40' 14". The surface where blasting will occur is owned by Collins Mayo Collieries.

Blasting will occur each day, Monday through Saturday. No more than four (4) hours of blasting will take place in any one day. The hours of blasting are 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

In the event of dangerous weather conditions, or in the event of equipment failure, or to protect employee safety, blasting may occur at times different from those listed above. In that event, all residents living within one half mile of the blasting area will be notified orally, warnings will be sounded, and if necessary, access roads will be barricaded.

Five (5) minutes prior to blasting, a warning signal of three (3) long blasts on an air horn will be given. After detonation and inspection, an all-clear signal consisting of four (4) short blasts on the same horn will be given. These signals will be audible up to a distance of one-half mile from the blast site. 1t.

Summer Jobs Program

Bill W. May, Executive Director for the Big Sandy Community Action Program, is pleased to announce that the agency will be operating a Summer Youth Employment Program in the counties of Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike.

The program will serve economically disadvantaged youths, ages 16 through 21, who are high school graduates, college students, vocational school students and high school dropouts who are planning to return to school in the fall.

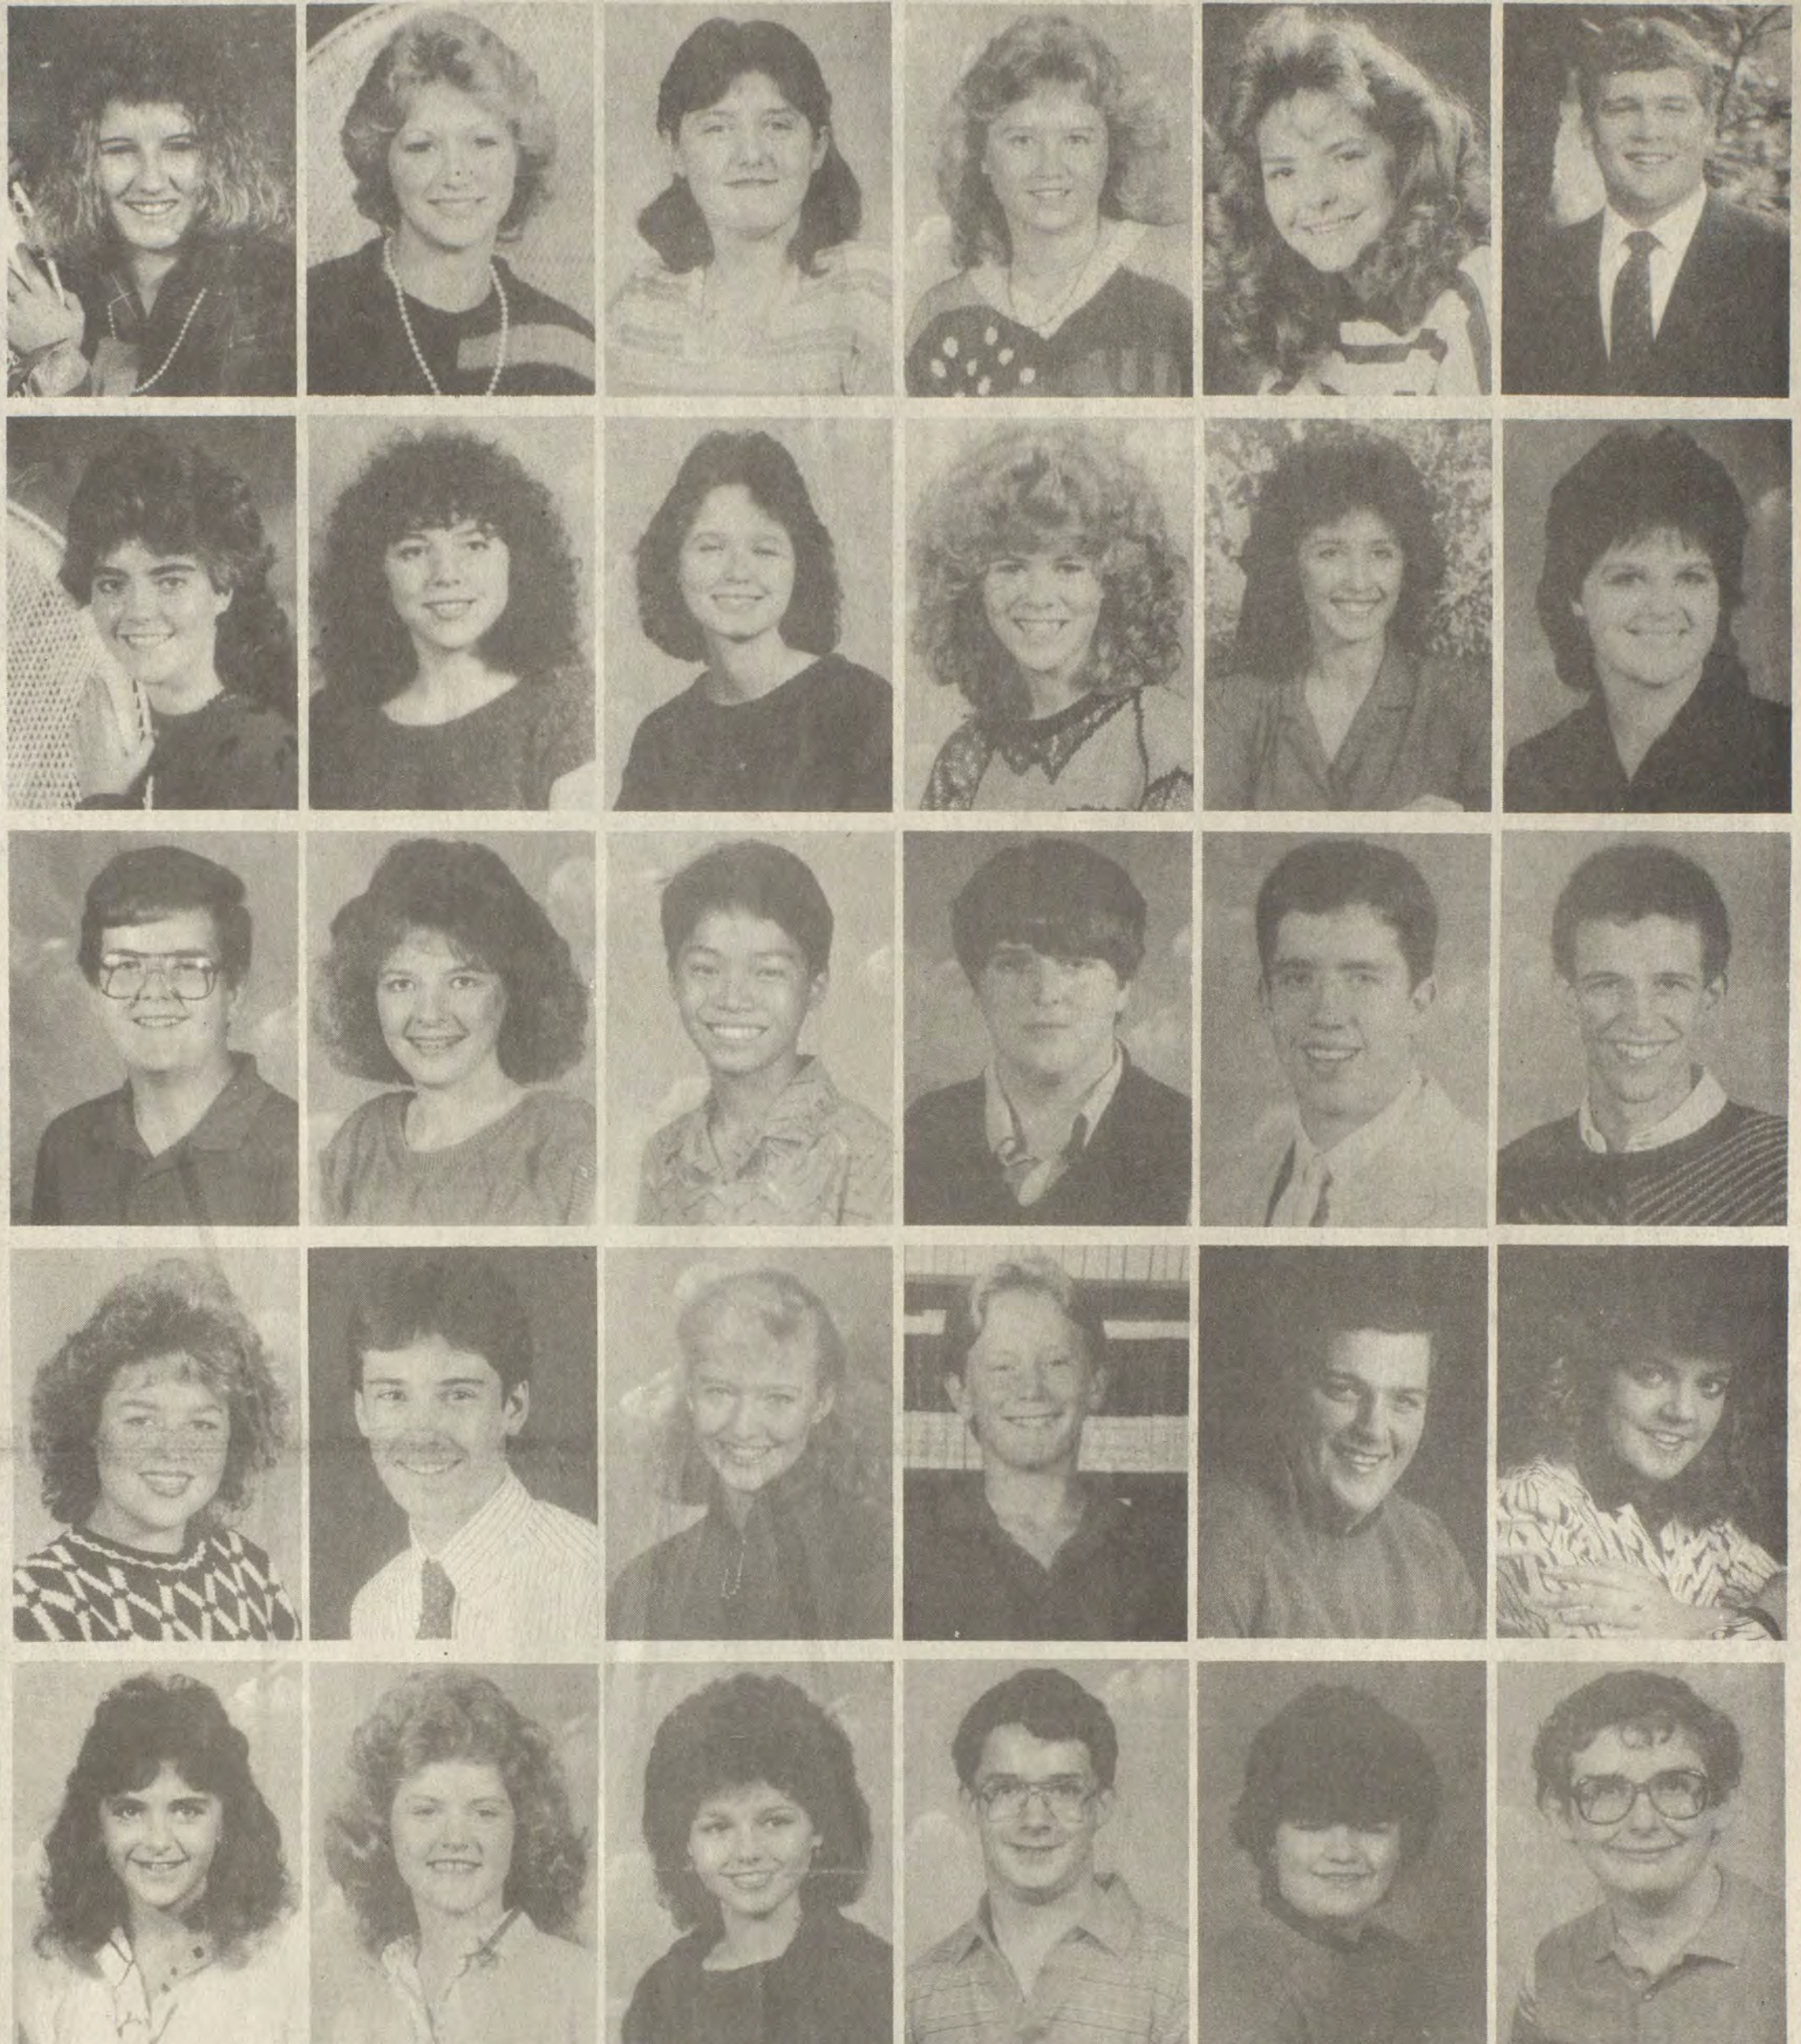

The program is being funded by the Eastern KY Concentrated Employment Program of Hazard, Ky. The program will run for 5 weeks, beginning on June 29 and ending on July 31, 1987, and will pay $3.35 per hour for 40 hours per week.

To be considered for this program, an applicant must meet all eligibility criteria and be certified as eligible by the KY Dept. for Employment Services. Documentation of proof of age, family size, and family income will be required prior to certification. In addition, all applicants must have a valid social security card and all male applicants 18 and older must provide proof of military registration.

Applications are now being taken Monday through Friday, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the local Community Action Program office. In Floyd county, the office is located at Allen Park in Allen, Ky. Applications are also being taken at the KY Dept. for Employment Services Office on North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky., Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

One-third of all accidents on Swedish roads are caused by collisions with large wildlife, especially moose, according to a study by Swedish physicians. International Wildlife magazine reports that the doctors calculated that one in every 10 Swedes who drives more than 12,500 miles a year will collide with a moose during his lifetime.

To be Honored at Academic Banquet

★ Cancer Hopeline

QUESTION: What causes breast cancer?

ANSWER: Although the cause or causes of breast cancer are still not known, it is important to know what does not cause breast cancer. A bump or blow to the breast will not cause cancer. In a large survey conducted by the National Cancer Institute it was revealed that many people believed that bumping and bruising caused breast cancer. This is definitely not true. A bump may bring attention to a breast lump that was already present, but it does not cause breast cancer.

Breast feeding does not cause breast cancer nor does it protect against it. Fondling or caressing does not cause breast cancer either. Breast cancer is not contagious.

Unfortunately, little is known about how to prevent breast cancer except, perhaps, a low fat diet may help.

A woman's strongest defense against breast cancer is early detection. Every woman should examine her own breasts once a month. In addition, women over age 50, or women over forty who have a family history of breast cancer should have a yearly mammogram. Of course, any woman with a symptom or who has had breast cancer should also have a mammogram.

David School Speaker

Rodney C. Bussey, vice president for Alumni Relations and Development at Berea College, spoke to the 1987 David School graduates during graduation ceremonies held in the school's gym, Wednesday, May 20.

It was sort of a homecoming for Mr. Bussey, who grew up and attended school in David and Prestonsburg. He is also a graduate of Berea College and received his M.A. in Student Personnel from Eastern Kentucky University. He has been at Berea since 1975.

Mr. Bussey reflected on his experiences as a child growing up in David. Through his stories and thoughts it was obvious that he knew the area and situations that a lot of the David School's students are in.

"Even those who seem to have lost, are still not losers, because they have at least tried. The only real losers are those who fail to make an effort," said Mr. Bussey during his address.

MUCOUS MEMBRANES

Mucous membranes fall into a gray area. They are not hidden inside the body, nor are they exposed, skinlike, to the elements. They do, however, serve as a junction between those internal body elements that are hidden and the tougher skin which is exposed. Mucous membranes can be found at all of the body openings. It is a moist surface that must be kept moist. The problems that can occur in mucous membranes are such that special treatment may be required when difficulties arise. Because the mucous membranes are the way they are, it is similar to dealing with internal bodily organs. These delicate tissues can be easily irritated and inflamed in which case a doctor should be consulted.

COOLEY APOTHECARY is your local pharmacy where a registered pharmacist is always on duty to fill your prescription requirements quickly and accurately. Our pharmacy is well known throughout this area as truly the "Drug Store with a Difference". Take advantage of our everyday low prices here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Flannery Continues Prestonsburg, Union Football Connection

Darrin Flannery, Prestonsburg High School senior, continued the flow of football players from Prestonsburg to Union College when the Blackcat receiver signed a letter of intent to play for the Barbourville school, last Friday.

"We're always looking for people who can catch the football," Union College head football coach said. "He is a kid that has only played one year so he is just starting to develop his football talents."

"Darrin has some talents that I think we can develop even further," Ross continued. "I understand that he made some big catches at crucial times for them, and that's the kind of player we like. We like players with that type of ability, and we can take it from there."

In his last season in a Blackcat football uniform, Flannery caught 49 passes for a total of 827 yards.

"I appreciate Coach Williams giving me the chance to play," Flannery said yesterday. "He put me in there, and I just did my best."

Flannery, a 5'10", 160-pound receiver, had two games where he totaled 200 or more yards, and turned his ability up a notch after Steve Hyden became Prestonsburg's starting quarterback. "He put it out there where I could catch it, and without him I don't think I would be going to Union College to play football," Flannery said of Hyden.

At Union College, which is coming off their most successful season ever, Flannery joins former Blackcats Pete Greene and Donnie Ray. According to the most recent Prestonsburg signee, this should make the transition easier.

"I think that will help me a lot. I know somebody there, and that should help me get over the jitters of being away from home."

"Prestonsburg must be a pretty darn good school," John Ross said. "Those two boys, Pete and Donnie, never made below a C, and that is sometimes tough when you have to split your study time between the books and football."

Darrin Flannery shouldn't have any trouble making the grade in either the classroom or on the gridiron.

His football talents were made obvious to everyone who saw him perform this past season, but at Union College Flannery will also receive an academic scholarship.

At Prestonsburg Flannery played both sides of the line, but says he prefers offense to defense, feeling that his receiving ability is his strongest asset.

This fits in perfectly with John Ross's plans. "We're going to look at him at split end," Ross revealed. "We'll have a chance to give him a good look in camp."

Union College has built their football program mostly on eastern Kentucky talent. Ross said that last year was a good recruiting season, but his year was even better.

"It's been a tremendous year for us. We've had two of the best recruiting classes back to back that you can have on this level. We're right on schedule, and it will pay off on down the line."

"We were probably a little late on Darrin, but we got caught up in the rigors of recruiting. I had talked to Coach Williams a couple times about Darrin. We found out recently that he was interested in Union College so we came down and signed him."

"Chuke thinks he can make the grade, and I value his opinion."

With Flannery's commitment to Union, he represents the seventh Blackcat football player to have signed a letter of intent in the past two seasons.

"I feel pretty good about it," Flannery said. "I hope I can play, and contribute to the team."

Flannery said that to prepare himself for college football he is running five miles a day, and plans to pump some iron this summer.

Griffith Four Hits Paintsville But Blackcats Eliminated Anyway

Joey Griffith, Prestonsburg left-hander, limited the Paintsville Tigers to four hits Friday evening, but Prestonsburg was eliminated from the regional tournament, anyway, falling 4-1 to the Tigers.

In the complete game performance, Griffith allowed only three earned runs while striking out two Paintsville hitters, but did walk 10 Tigers, eventually the result of all four runs.

"We out-hit them. We out-defensed them, but they out-walked us," Russell Shepherd said. "Joey couldn't find the strike zone because the umpire wouldn't give him anything."

"He called one pitch a ball and I asked him where it was," Shepherd continued. "He said high. He called the next pitch a ball. It was this much lower than the first one." The Blackcat coach measured off about six inches with his hands. "I asked him where that one was and he said low. How can you pitch to a strike zone like that?"

Both Shepherd and Griffith repeatedly complained during the game about ball and strike calls.

"Tim Trusty, Blackcat catcher, came to me after an inning and said 'Coach I don't like to complain but three of those pitches he called balls were right down the middle.'"

Umpire Andrew Joyce didn't call many strikes with Griffith on the mound. Regardless of where Griffith was missing the strike zone, or wasn't getting his just due, balls called were what led to the ending of Prestonsburg's 1987 baseball season.

In the first inning, Griffith, finishing the season at 3-4, walked Paintsville leadoff hitter Jarred Gray. One out later, Mike Minix reached on an error. With Gray on third, and Minix at second, John Pelphrey drilled a single into left-field to score both runners.

Hits were scarce for the Tigers, a strong offensive team. Pelphrey's lone double in the fourth inning was the only other clean hit Paintsville could get off Griffith through the first five innings.

It was the sixth frame, though, that the defending regional champs did more damage. After Griffith walked the bases loaded, Gray, facing a two-strike pitch, drove home Billy Blair and Tucker Howard with one of three Tiger singles.

Paintsville loaded the bases again in the seventh inning on a Frank Osborne single and two walks, but Griffith worked himself out of trouble with a popup of Howard and a strike out against designated hitter, Ray Wells.

"He's a good pitcher," Mike Minix, Paintsville's leading hitter, said of Griffith. "He moved the ball in and out. He had good breaking stuff, and when he came with it, a good fastball."

"I understand he pitched the day before so he's really toughened for them. It's hard to pitch two days in a row like that."

Minix came into the regional tournament hitting .500, but struggled against Griffith, as did the entire Paintsville team. "I think it was a combination of both," the Tiger shortstop said of his team's difficulty at the plate. "We definitely didn't hit the ball well, but like I said, he's a tough pitcher."

Griffith's performance may have been deserving of a different outcome, but the junior southpaw didn't receive much help from his teammates offensively.

Prestonsburg banged out a total of eight hits, two each off the bats of Johnny Ray Harris and Thomas Nairn, but the Blackcats stranded nine runners. Three of those died at third after getting there with less than two out.

Harris had the Blackcats going early, leading the game off with a double and advancing to third on a throwing error but Prestonsburg couldn't find a way to get Harris home.

The Blackcats saw another scoring opportunity pass them by in the second inning when Tim Trusty coaxed a leadoff walk off Paintsville starter Keith Adkins, stole second, and one out later advanced to third on a Thomas Nairn single.

Prestonsburg's lone run came in the third inning, thanks to another error on Tiger rightfielder Jarred Gray. After Harris struck out leading off, Carig Tucker singled. Brian Wallace followed with another single, and when Gray had trouble fielding Wallace's hit, Tucker scored from first base.

The Blackcats, although they had runners on in each of the next three innings, couldn't manage any more runs as Adkins slammed the door in the final frame, retiring the Blackcats in order to even his record at 3-3, send Prestons-burg home, and put his team in the regional tournament's championship game.

The Blackcats, at one point, 1-7, finished the year with an 11-18 record, and advanced to the regional tourney's semifinal round.

"We got better the farther we went," Shepherd said. "We improved a lot since the first part of the season, and even today we played good baseball."

"I think we came a lot farther, and did a lot more than most people expected us to. This was a tough loss to take, but I'm looking forward to next year now."

With the win, Paintsville, 21-9, advanced to the regional finals where they have been for as long as non-Tiger baseball fans care to remember. Last year the Tigers defeated Johnson Central to claim a 15th region title. This year they faced Betsy Layne. (see story this page)

The Sporting Times

It's that time again, time to hand out some awards to those who have worked toward bettering athletics in Floyd county.

This time we are recognizing our baseball people, those dedicated folks that did their job, and just a bit more.

Maybe they deserve more than what we will give 'em in the lines that follow, but I really don't think they worked hard just to be recognized or rewarded. Some people are simply committed to their work.

Now, nobody expects our awards to make anybody's day, but we just want to let you know that we realize what has been done, and that we appreciate you. Kind of like what David Letterman does for his viewers with Late Night's viewer mail segment.

CLASSY COACH AWARD: Baseball is a game designed for coach and umpire to exchange bad breath levels and contrasting opinions, but Donnie Daniels rarely took part in these encounters. He handled his players with care and patience, and took a non-disciplined Allen Central baseball team and turned it into a legitimate contender. Daniels ran a tight ship. He rarely argued, and more importantly, didn't allow his players to.

CLASSY TEAM AWARD: Of course this one has to go to Allen Central. How often do you see players behave in the fashion their coach does? In this case it's okay. Allen Central won with style, and they lost with style, and they always worked hard, just like their coach.

FAN SUPPORT AWARD: Basketball has long been the big sport at Betsy Layne High School, but in the past three years baseball has caught up, if not surpassed the round ball sport. Bobcat fans have responded with great crowd support. Game in and game out, they consistently outnumbered fans of their opposition, and everyone always knew the Betsy Layne crowd. Sometimes they were loud, sometimes they were harsh, but all times they were supportive.

FAN OF THE YEAR AWARD: I've seen him at every McDowell baseball game, cheering for all it's worth, but he did so much more behind the scene.

Gary Frazier is my fan of the year in a runaway choice, and could very well be my Man of the Year in high school sports, but we're not giving that award away. Frazier gives McDowell athletics his utmost attention, and shares equally with baseball. Many times he calls area colleges in an attempt to assist McDowell graduates and underclassmen. Frazier is, as George Hall said, hard to beat. I only wish more people in high positions would take an interest in the young people rather than themselves and a better position that they can obtain.

COACH OF THE YEAR AWARD: With the great season Betsy Layne has enjoyed Junior Newsome would be the logical choice, but Newsome hasn't done it by himself. Assistants Tim Rice and Keith Henry have played an important role in keeping Bobcat baseball moving forward. Newsome has the final say, but before the head man speaks, Rice and Henry have some valuable hints to voice.

SENIOR PLAYER OF THE YEAR AWARD: This is a tough one to decide. No one player clearly dominated the performance of another, but three seniors came to the front as high school stars. Prestonsburg second baseman Brian Wallace finished the season with close to a .500 batting average, while McDowell's Brian Hall was impressive both at the plate, and in the field. Both of these players are college prospects, but possibly the best of the lot is Betsy Layne's Bud Newsome. On the mound Newsome is unequalled. At first, he is smooth, and at the plate, he hits the baseball hard. Newsome should enjoy a great post high school career. He is certainly talented enough.

UNDERCLASSMAN OF THE YEAR: Oh goodness! How do I get myself into these positions? The young talent in this county is booming with both quality and quantity. Johnny Ray Harris may be the best lead off hitter in Eastern Kentucky. Joey Griffith is great defensively, at the plate and on the mound. Mike McQuate can hit with anybody, and Duran Newsome may develop into one of the best players in the region. These guys, along with many others, make 57th district baseball a no-miss situation next year, but the one player that stands out in my mind is Betsy Layne junior Dwight Jarrell. In his first year as a Bobcat, Jarrell provided his team with an outstanding leadoff hitter, and steady defense in center field. Jarrell has great speed, and a great arm, two abilities critical for any great baseball player. Jarrell's future may be better than the ole chap that has to wear shades.

INTENSITY AWARD: Allen Central basketball coach Johnny Martin renamed this award as the mad man award, but this isn't my intention for it. Going a bit crazy may be one of the criterias, though. With that we'll hand this one out to Tim Rice. Rice is a fine baseball man, and a fine man, but he has a temper, and a fire that has gotten him into trouble on occasion. Some people may have formed their own opinions, but being emotional, and expressing it

BEATING THE THROW: Prestonsburg's Tim Trusty goes in with a head first slide to beat the tag of Paintsville shortstop Mike Minix. Trusty recorded a stolen base, but the Bobcats lost.

Paintsville Out Hits Betsy Layne Defends Regional Tournament Title

Betsy Layne hit him hard early, and they hit him hard late, but during the middle innings John Pelphrey was close to perfect.

The Bobcats scored two runs on three hits in the first inning, and added two more on four hits in the seventh, but Pelphrey shut Betsy Layne bats down in between those two scoring frames as the Paintsville Tigers defeated the Bobcats, 7-4, in the regional tournament's championship game.

Betsy Layne took an early lead Saturday afternoon, scoring two runs in the top of the first inning. With one out, Duran Newsome, Bud Newsome, and Todd Sturgill put together consecutive hits with Sturgill's single plating Duran Newsome.

Brad Hall collected an RBI also, grounding out to second as Bud Newsome crossed the plate. Barry Hamilton singled with two out in the second, but, along with another Bud Newsome hit in the fifth, was the only offensive action the Bobcats could instigate through the five innings.

"We went up there and quit being aggressive," Junior Newsome explained. "We were taking that first pitch, and getting behind in the count. Pelphrey is a control pitcher, and when you get behind with him, he can make it 'tough on a hitter.'"

"We picked it up a bit in the last inning, but it was too little too late for us," Newsome said. "Of course we made the first out at third base, which you never should do."

Betsy Layne did wake their bats up in the seventh inning, scoring two more runs, but by that time Paintsville had scored enough to be comfortable.

In the final frame for the Bobcats, Barry Hamilton, a sophomore second baseman, led off with a single. Dwight Jarrell, junior centerfielder, jumped all over a first pitch John Pelphrey fastball, with a line drive to the left centerfield wall.

Duran Newsome, sophomore shortstop, then scored both Hamilton and Jarrell with a double, but when Newsome tried to stretch his two-base hit into a triple, he was thrown out at third. The first Betsy Layne out of the inning.

Bud Newsome kept the Bobcat rally going with his third hit off Pelphrey. Todd Sturgill reached on a fielder's choice, but with Newsome at third and Sturgill at second, Brad Hall struck out, and Kevin Spurlock grounded out as Paintsville defended their regional title.

"We don't have anything to be ashamed of," Newsome said of his team's play. "We had one of the best years ever at Betsy Layne, and we came farther than any other Betsy Layne team has."

Last season, the Bobcats were eliminated in the regional tournament by the Paintsville Tigers. This year the two teams met once again, but one game later in the tournament. In 1986 the Tigers upended Betsy Layne in the semifinal round. This year the Bobcats advanced all the way to the championship game.

Once again Paintsville was between the Bobcats and a regional tournament baseball title. With some heavy hitting and clutch pitching, the Tigers again denied Betsy Layne of their first such title.

Centerfielder Todd Burchell led a 10-hit Paintsville attack, collecting a single, and double while scoring two runs as the Tigers found success against Bobcat lefthander Bud Newsome.

The Tigers, after one out, scored four runs in the first inning and added single runs in the third, fourth, and fifth in support of starting pitcher John Pelphrey.

Newsome, finishing his final season at 4-4, struck out four and walked four with a hit batsman in his six innings of work.

Pelphrey, with the win, improves to 7-1 on the year. The Tiger senior worked seven innings, giving up four earned runs on nine hits, walking three and striking out seven.

The big righthander struggled at times against Betsy Layne, a team with a collective .360 batting average. The Bobcats banged out a total of nine hits, three of those belonging to Bud Newsome. Duran Newsome and Barry Hamilton had two hits each.

Seven of those nine team hits came in the first and seventh innings, with Betsy Layne having difficulty in the other five frames.

"It always takes him a long time to get started," Paintsville assistant coach Bill Mike Runyon said of Pelphrey's early difficulty. "Then I think his legs may have gotten tired in that last inning."

Pelphrey, going into the seventh inning, had thrown 92 pitches.

With the win, Paintsville, 22-9, advances to the sectional tournament to be held at Pikeville beginning Thursday evening.

Betsy Layne ends their most successful season ever at 26-11. Although Junior Newsome and his players wanted it to last at least one more game, the coach says Bobcat baseball may be down but not out.

"We've got a great bunch of kids here. They're real easy to coach. We've got only two seniors, only one who plays regularly, so Betsy Layne's baseball future is bright."

Tryouts for Floyd county's Senior Babe Ruth baseball team will be conducted this Sunday at 5 p.m. at Allen Park.

The team will consist of young people from the ages of 16 but under 19. Players trying out must be from inside the boundaries of Floyd county.

The tryout this Sunday will be the only such tryout. This year's team will carry 18 players, with new uniforms and equipment made available by area businessmen and merchants.

More than 20 games will be played during the summer with a statewide tournament ending play in mid-July. All players interested in continuing their baseball careers this summer must report to Allen Park, Sunday evening at 5.

Five county players were named to last week's all-regional tournament team, following the championship game Saturday afternoon.

For their sparkling mound performances, Prestonsburg's talented underclassmen duo of Joey Griffith and Todd Justice were chosen. Justice had a homerun to add to his credit.

Bud Newsome, six for 11 at the plate, was named to the all-tournament team along with Betsy Layne teammates Todd Sturgill, five for 10, and Dwight Jarrell, five for 12.

Rounding out the squad were Paintsville's Mike Minix and Frank Osborne, along with Virgie's Claudie Tackett, Robbie Simpson, of Pikeville, and

Errors, Timely Bats Keys As Betsy Layne Advances

Sheldon Clark shortstop Mike Cain committed four errors in the first two innings, leading to six Betsy Layne unearned runs, as the Bobcats defeated Sheldon Clark, 17-16, in the 15th regional tournament's opening round Thursday afternoon.

Cain received a repeated early test, and failed on all three occasions.

Dwight Jarrell, Betsy Layne's leadoff hitter, was the first to challenge the Cardinal shortstop, and came out on top when he reached safety on an error.

Duran Newsome repeated the same, and with the same results, an E-6.

With the first two hitters on, Bud Newsome cashed in on the opportunity, drilling an RBI single that plated Jarrell. Duran Newsome later scored when Cain committed his third error of the opening inning, this time of the throwing variety.

Todd Sturgill singled, designated hitter Brad Hall reached on a fielder's choice, and after back-to-back strikeouts, Sheldon Clark starter and loser Scott Crum surrendered a bases-loaded walk to Matt Conn, forcing in Bud Newsome with Betsy Layne's third run of the inning.

In the second inning, Crum struck out Dwight Jarrell leading off the inning, but for the second time in as many at bats, Duran Newsome reached on a Mike Cain error. Bud Newsome relived first inning history also, lining his second of four singles on the day.

With Sheldon Clark rightfielder Jerry Bowen trying to nail Duran Newsome at third, Bud Newsome eased into second base.

Sturgill, three for four at the plate, picked up two of his three RBIs with a single that brought home both Newsomes. Sturgill later scored, himself, on an error, this time on second baseman Kent Preese, who mishandled a Kevin Spurlock ground ball.

"We did what we wanted to do," Betsy Layne coach Junior Newsome said. "We knew coming in that Sheldon Clark had a good hitting club, but we jumped out on them and they never really got back in it."

After scoring the six unearned runs, Betsy Layne really got their bats warmed up. Six hits, four walks, three Cardinal errors, and two innings later the Bobcats had built their lead to 15-0.

Junior Newsome mentioned the fact that Sheldon Clark never challenged after the big Bobcat lead, and one early reason was starting pitcher Randall Spurlock.

Spurlock, 6-4 with the win, held the Cardinals scoreless through the first four innings, although the senior righthander gave up four hits and a walk during that stretch.

Sheldon Clark loaded the bases in the second inning on two singles and a walk, but with two out Spurlock retired Scott Crum on a bouncer back to the mound, getting himself and his team out of a tough situation.

In the third inning, Sheldon Clark once again went to work at the plate, but what started out as a defensive disappointment was turned into an impressive display of strong armed ability.

After Kent Preese reached on a Duran Newsome error, Ralph Endicott followed with a single off Spurlock. Endicott then strayed too far off first, and was sent back to the dugout as catcher Todd Sturgill picked him off first.

Brad Bowen, on a 1-2 pitch, grounded to third baseman Kevin Spurlock. While Spurlock was busy throwing Bowen out at first, Kent Preese broke toward third. First baseman Bud Newsome made Preese's move a mistake by gunning him down at third with Spurlock, who recorded an assist and a putout on the same play, applying the tag.

"We played pretty good defense," Newsome said. "We made those two errors, but they didn't really hurt us. That double play really helped."

"With the help of his defense, Randall Spurlock retired Sheldon Clark in order the following inning on three ground balls but ran into a blister and trouble in the fifth inning.

The Cardinals, getting hits but failing to score, finally put together a string of safe shots, scoring four runs in the fifth on four hits and a walk.

"Randall developed a blister on his foot that prevented him from following through the way he should, but Brad came in to do a fine job for us," Newsome explained.

Spurlock said after the game that the blister affected his performance late, along with a bit of fatigue. These two factors possibly figured in his late inning difficulty, giving up all six Sheldon Clark runs in his final two innings of work, but Brad Hall came in to pitch a perfect seventh inning.

Hall, a junior righthander, retired Chester McCoy, grounder to short, Barry Preese, pop-up, and Jerry Bowen, strikeout, to lock up a Betsy Layne win, their 25th of the season.

LOOKING THINGS OVER: Joey Griffith watches a pitch go by during regional tournament action. Griffith didn't have a great tournament offensively, but pitched probably the best game of the entire event.

Babe Ruth Baseball News

Harold continued to keep their number one ranking alive this past week while Prestonsburg applied pressure with some big wins in Babe Ruth action.

Monday Harold defeated the Martin Cardinals, 15-4, invoking the 10-run mercy rule after five innings of play. Danny Page slammed an over-the-fence home run for Martin to help starting pitcher John Newsome pick up a win.

Henry Webb was the starter and loser for the Cardinals, needing relief help from Brian Hughes. Harold scored their 15 runs on eight hits, while Martin scored four runs on six hits.

Tuesday evening Wheelwright defeated Lackey, but no stats were available.

Betsy Layne, Wednesday evening, once again invoked the mercy rule by winning over McDowell 22-7. Betsy Layne starter Keith Mulky got the win with relief help from Brian Osborne, who came in to work in the fourth inning.

Saturday afternoon, Wheelwright handed the Martin Cardinals their second loss of the week, this time downing Martin, 17-6. Kevin Issacs hit two inside the park homeruns, while Bobby Hood batted out a triple for Wheelwright. Brad Compton picked up the win.

Prestonsburg kept the pressure on Harold by defeating the Martin Piranhas, 15-1. Brian Meadows went all the way on the mound for Prestonsburg, picking up the win. Prestonsburg's double play combination of Bill Tom Compton, John Webb, and Jason Story turned impressive 6-4-3 double plays in support of Brian Meadows.

The Martin Piranhas again fell victim, this time by the score of 20-0 to Harold. Keith Hall threw a no-hitter for Harold while allowing only three Piranhas to reach base on walks.

Johnathan Newsome went four-for-four at the plate while Danny Page had singled.

FCA Names Baldrige 'Coach of the Year'

Morehead State head football coach Bill Baldrige was named the College Coach of the Year in Kentucky by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes during the FCA's banquet in Lexington, last week.

Baldrige, the 1986 OVC Coach of the Year, was honored along with two other MSU graduates.

Donna Murphy, MSU's all-time leading women's basketball scorer, was named women's Coach of the Year in Kentucky; while MSU graduate Ray Graham, the head coach at Harrison county, was named High School Coach of the Year.

Approximately 700 people attended with former NBA star Pete Paravich acting as guest speaker.

three hits in as many plate appearances.

Adam Gearheart and Chris Bias collected three hits each, while Brian Kidd added two hits. Chris Newsome, Harold first baseman, turned in two defensive gems to protect Keith Hall's no-hitter.

Mickey Parsons suffered the loss for the Piranhas. Parsons started but needed relief help from Stu Robinson in the third inning.

doesn't take away from the individual's abilities. Be cool Tim, but keep the fires burnin'.

QUOTE OF THE YEAR: This wasn't really a quote, maybe just a saying, but still it has a place here. Allen Central's Robbie Click, from the on deck circle, told his friends that he was in a slump. "I've been in a slump for two years, though," Click said. If he was in a slump, he came out of it in a hurry, ending the season with some longball power, and several good offensive showings.

UMPIRE OF THE YEAR: Oscar Rice is a good umpire, one of the best I've seen this year, but he takes too much flack from players and coaches. Oscar Rice is now available for regional tournament work, so next season maybe we should give him some consideration. Rice is a good umpire but if he doesn't leave me alone about that Knott County school, he may never get another supportive remark here.

There you have it. Those people who deserve it just got it. Covering baseball this year has been a pleasure for me, and for one reason—the players.

The season was a complete success, but baseball isn't over yet. This summer county players age 16 through 18 will get a chance to express their talents on a senior Babe Ruth team.

Tryouts are set for this Sunday at 5 at Allen Park. 'Gone fishin' ain't no excuse. Anyone wishing to play must be at the tryouts, Sunday.

About 300 years ago, some people believed that migratory birds spent their winters on the moon.

SHORT SPORTS

Elkhorn City's Mike Bowlen were also chosen. Paintsville pitcher-second baseman John Pelphey was awarded with the tournament's Most Valuable Player trophy.

On a no balls-two strike pitch Bud Newsome came with one of his many off-speed pitches. Pikeville designated hitter Kevin Arnold brought his aluminum around, but connected on nothing but air.

The little Betsy Layne lefthander had rolled up another strikeout. Most fans in attendance just thought it was another strikeout in many strikeouts for Newsome, but then came the public address announcer. "That was Bud Newsome's 300th career high school strikeout."

Entering the regional tournament, Newsome needed three strikeouts to reach this lofty figure, and when Junior Newsome went to his ace in the sixth inning against Pikeville, the pride of Betsy Layne High School soon went after it.

Newsome struggled with his control early, walking the first batter he faced with the bases loaded. Forcing in the go ahead run must have given him more incentive.

Newsome preceded to mow down Brian Mahan, and Robbie Simpson on four pitches each. The Bobcats scored two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to reclaim their one-run lead, and rode to victory on the left arm of Bud Newsome.

On three pitches, Newsome struck out Arnold, got Robbie Wright to pop up on the first pitch, then struck out Bucky Brennan on three pitches, earning his fourth win of the year, and putting Betsy Layne in the regional tournament finals for the first time ever.

Momma Niekro, wherever she is, must be proud of her baby boys.

Phil and Joe, the knuckle ball Niekros, have tied a record that any brothers would like to have a share of.

Last Saturday night Joe Niekro took the mound for the New York Yankees. When he left the mound, Niekro had a lead. The Yankees went on to win the game, Niekro was credited with the victory, and he and brother, Phil, can say that they are as good a brother combination that has ever pitched in the major leagues.

Joe Niekro's victory, Saturday, lifted their combined win total to 529, exactly what Gaylord and Jim Perry had totalled during their remarkable careers.

The Perry brothers had long been kings of the brother combination, but ageless Phil, and aging Joe have continued their careers much longer than anyone thought they would.

At a combined age of around 80, the Niekros continue to throw the knuckle ball with uncanny effectiveness.

Following in the footsteps of their father is a dream that many young males hope to accomplish, but rarely does it work out in quite this fashion.

Auto racing may be a different story. This past Sunday Al Unser, Jr., not only is following his father's auto racing footsteps, but is eating his smoke also. Unser, Jr., followed his father across the finish line at the Indianapolis 500, but three cars behind Al Unser, Sr. The elder Unser captured his fourth Indy title, while his son ended the race in the fourth position.

Al Unser, Jr., may be content in following in his father's footsteps, but Kyle Petty doesn't want to settle with following his father anywhere.

In the World Stock Car 600, also Sunday, Kyle Petty took top honors, while his father Richard Petty was forced to settle with the fourth position.

Justice, Griffith Shutout Powers Prestonsburg Past Pike County Foe

Good pitching stops good hitting. This baseball cliché has been used probably since Abner Doubleday had his first vision of a stick and ball sport.

More times than not it has been proven as fact rather than opinion, and last Wednesday a pair of Blackcat hurlers combined to refuel the age old idea.

Southpaw sophomore Todd Justice and southpaw junior Joey Griffith put together a shutout effort against Johns Creek. Justice added a solo homerun offensively, as Prestonsburg upset the Bearcats 3-0 in the first round of this year's 15th regional tournament.

Justice, possessing all abilities required of a successful pitcher except control, combined his total game on the mound until running into trouble in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Leading 3-0, the Prestonsburg starter surrendered a lead off hit then hit the next Bearcat batter to find himself in trouble. Justice, who worked five innings plus, striking out four and walking only one, surrendered only four hits, all singles, in picking up the win.

Justice did hit two Johns Creek batters, the last leading to his exit from the mound. With two runners on, and no outs in the bottom of the sixth, Russell Shepherd brought his pitching ace, Joey Griffith, in to bring a halt to Bearcat bats.

And Griffith responded in a classic fashion—with some help from his defense.

Griffith induced the first hitter he faced to ground into a 5-3 double play, started by third baseman Steve Wells.

Wells, a benchwarmer earlier in the season, turned his second double play of the day, and in the exact fashion. After the game Shepherd said Wells has played probably the best game of his life, but the Blackcat third baseman had also enjoyed an impressive district tournament.

He had just put Griffith and Prestonsburg in a much more comforting position, but the Blackcat reliever proceeded to surrender back-to-back walks, loading the bases with two out. Griffith, eyeing his first save of the year, then struck out Colin Cox to end the Bearcat threat.

In the bottom of the seventh, Griffith, starting an inning for the first time, retired Johns Creek in order, a ground out, a strike out, and a Jim Frazier diving catch of a line drive to left field.

Frazier's defensive play ended the game, securing a Prestonsburg win, and denying a repeat of last season when the Blackcats were eliminated in the first round by Johnson Central.

Pitching proved to be the key this time around. Justice and Griffith not only combined to shut the hard hitting Bearcats out, they also collected a total of six strikeouts, and did not give up an extra base hit.

Johns Creek, ending the season at 22-16, won the 59th district, mostly on their offensive ability. In one district game the Bearcats scored 14 runs, and in two previous games with Prestonsburg they had averaged eight runs per contest.

Johns Creek came into the tournament as one of the region's top hitting teams. Pitching appeared to be their question mark, but the Bearcats suffered a complete turnaround.

They collected only four hits, not enough to support a strong pitching performance from starter Colin Cox, and reliever Mark Branham.

Cox gave up the three Blackcat runs, two of which were earned, on six hits. Prestonsburg broke open the scoreless contest in the second inning when Joey Griffith reached Cox for a single, stole second, and rode home as Tim Trusty singled.

Not until the fourth inning could the Blackcats dent the plate again. With two outs, Todd Justice helped himself with a homerun over the right centerfield fence. First baseman Thomas Nairn followed with a single and later scored when Jim Frazier drilled a single to right that escaped Damen Muncy's glove, rolling past the rightfielder allowing Nairn to score.

The Blackcats didn't score again, but they had already done enough damage offensively to advance to the regional tournament's second round.

With the win the Blackcats earned the right to face Paintsville, Friday night. The Tigers advanced by defeating Virgie, 17-11, in Wednesday's second contest. (see related story)

Special Olympics Winner

Daniel J. Moore, senior at Betsy Layne High School, recently competed in the Area II Special Olympics at Johnson Central High School. He was awarded first place ribbon for the softball throw in his division and was awarded a ribbon for finishing in a tie for first place in the 50-meter run in his division. Moore now qualified for the State Special Olympics to be held in Bowling Green, in June.

Doug Henley Named Ohio River Biologist

By NORM MINCH
Doug Henley, of Frankfort, was named the Ohio River biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, May 1.

Henley, who formerly worked in the southern fisheries district for the Iowa Department of Natural Resources, will be investigating and studying several aspects of the Ohio River fisheries. Emphasis will be placed on the sport fishes in these waters and ways to increase the amount of sportfishing done in the Ohio River.

Starting June 1, Henley will begin gill netting and electrofishing in the Greenup Pool, then from the Cannelton tailwater to beyond Lock 53 near Paducah. Information on the fish populations, relative abundance and species composition in these areas will be recorded for research in the development of management strategies.

In working to manage the fisheries available in the river, Henley will also be working in conjunction with other state fisheries personnel to coordinate strategies to benefit all the states bordered by the 664-mile river.

The Ohio River has traditionally been an excellent source of commercial fishing opportunities, especially for catfish and freshwater drum. However, Henley pointed out there are seasonal fisheries for rockfish, sauger, black bass and white bass that provide good fishing opportunities at about any time of the year.

Fishing below locks and dams is particularly productive for rockfish, sauger and white bass, while the several thousand acres of backwater provide superb habitat for largemouth bass and other species.

As many Ohio River fishermen are aware, there are some spots on the river that are difficult to reach, or require a long boat ride from the closest launching site. Henley feels that more access to the Ohio River will stimulate more interest in this waterway for both fishing and other recreational boating activities.

Last year, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' Division of Engineering constructed two ramps on the Ohio River at Ogden Landing in Ballard County and at Clark's River in McCracken county. In 1987, three more ramps are planned in Boyd, Carroll and Crittenden counties, according to Benjie Maffet, director of the engineering division for the department.

Money used to construct these ramps comes primarily from federal Wallop-Breaux funds. Wallop-Breaux money, collected through a tax on fishing and boating gear, is used to promote sportfishing by such means as the construction of boat ramps or acquisition of fishing waters.

"As this program progresses and leases are worked out with counties or individuals, we hope to eventually install ramps at all the locations which at present have limited access to the river," said Maffet.

The Ohio River covers approximately 170,000 surface acres, which Henley feels is an underutilized resource by fishermen. "With more access and a continuance of our management plans, I think anglers will find the Ohio has a lot more to offer than they might realize," said Henley.

In addition to work on the Ohio River, Henley will be involved with several other major river systems throughout the state and many streams. "Kentucky has great potential to expand fishing opportunities with so many 'inland' waterways statewide," said Henley, "and the whole intent of fisheries' management is to unlock this potential for the angler."

Bassin' With The Pros...

Spring Tackle Care Tips

Before you hit the water for the first day of the new season, you should make sure your equipment is as ready for bass action as you are. Spring is the time of year that most anglers inspect their tackle—that is, if they inspect it at all. 'Tis the season to check over your rods, reels, line, lures and tackleboxes. With the costs of these items going up each year, proper maintenance can keep these tools productive for many, many years.

Tackleboxes—Completely empty the boxes and sort the contents according to types of tackle. Once the box is empty, remove any rust left by the lures and any film residue. I use an old toothbrush and a mild dishsoap for this job. Rinse the box thoroughly, blot it dry, and then let it air dry. I complete the cleaning process with an inspection of the box's hardware—handles, latches, etc.

Sharpen hooks—This is probably one of the most important areas overlooked by most anglers. A good, sharp hook will catch more fish. There are two types of hooks, the straight-point and curved-point. Each is sharpened differently. The straight-point hook is sharpened with a file at three different angles to make a triangular-shaped cutting edge. The curved-point hook is attacked with a rounded hone, which sharpens the two sides of the hook. If you can't eye the sharpness of the cutting edges, here's a test that my father taught me: drag the hook across your thumbnail. If the hook sticks to your nail while you are applying little or no pressure, then the hook is sharp.

Plugs—Polish your plugs with a damp cloth. Eliminate any rust on the hooks and put the original shape back into them with a needlenosed pliers. Check the lips, hook hangers, propellers and blades.

Spinnerbaits—Check all the metal parts for the slightest sign of rust. I touch up any lead heads that show chipping. I look at the skirts and replace those that have seen better days. I wash each lure with a damp rag and wipe dry.

Spinners—Check all the metal parts for that nasty rust and remove it wherever it occurs. Inspect the clevises and blades for effortless motion. Then, give the spinners a quick coating of demounting oil.

Jigs—Check the lead heads for chipping and repaint them if necessary. Also, look over the skirts for wear, tear and discoloration. Re-tie the skirts out of bucktail of FisHair.

Soft plastics—I keep all my soft plastic lures in a separate tacklebox, or transfer a few of my favorite plastic worms to baby food jars for leak-proof storage. The soft plastic lure contains plasticizer, an oily substance that gives the plastic its pliability. The plasticizer can leak with age or heat and can damage other lures stored nearby. If your soft plastic "springs a leak," be sure to scour the affected compartment and discard the pieces struck by the "oil spill."

Line—if you remember that the only thing between you and a trophy bass is your line, you might start taking a lot more interest in its condition. Cut off about five feet of line after every two or three hours of fishing. Remove any portion of line that shows nicks or abrasions.

Rods—Wash your rods with a dishsoap solution and wipe them dry. Inspect the blanks, handles, guides, tips, and wrapping for wear. If there is something wrong, don't hesitate to take the rod to a qualified repair shop for the necessary improvement.

Reels—All reels need to be periodically oiled and greased according to the manufacturer's instructions. As a rule of thumb, I take my reels to a repair shop every year for their "spring tuneup"—much like I take my car in for its checkup. I have the shop check parts for wear, repair or replace parts necessary, oil and grease the reels and put on new line. With the proper care and maintenance, reels should last you many years.

Spring Buzz Bait Use

In the spring of the year, one of the deadliest bass fishing lures is a buzz bait.

Buzz baits are available in two basic categories: safety-pin type or in-line type. Examples for the former are the Clacker, Buzz King, Pistol Pete, Rocker Buzz, Weed Eater, Chatter Buzz, Pro Buzz 3, T's Shaker, and Paddle Whacker. Brands conforming to the latter type include the Hobo, Floyd's Buzzer, Sputterbuzz, Lundahl Buzz Spoon, Musky Hawk, Herb's Dilly, Skitter-Buzz, Uncle Buck's, and Sputterfuss. These lures feature either a double- or triple-winged propeller. The safety-pin type resembles a spinnerbait while the other type resembles a standard spinner.

The buzz bait works half in and half out of the water and its blade or blades give off a gurgling sound on the surface. These lures are very deadly in shallows, murky waters and weedy flats. Some pros tip buzzbaits with plastic worms for additional action. The most favorite weights are between 1/4- and 5/8-ounce.

"I like to use a smaller buzz like the 1/8-ounce size or maybe a quarter-ounce," stresses Linda England, Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member. "I like to use the smaller bait in the springtime because I don't feel that the fish are quite as active or stable as they are later on in the year. It seems that the smaller buzz baits draw them up better."

One benefit to using a buzz bait is the amount of area it can cover in a small amount of time. Some anglers use buzz baits to locate fish, then go in for the sure catch with a worm. This is because buzz baits are seen by many anglers as a low percentage lure for successful catches.

"One thing that many, many people do wrong in fishing buzz baits is that they miss a lot of strikes or lose a lot of fish," England said. "If they can't slow that lure down, that's one thing that the fisherman has more control over than anything else to help him catch more fish."

"As with any top-water lure, it (buzz bait) goes across the surface," continues England. "The fish has to locate it, get a fix on it, plan his attack, and then come after it. A lot of times when you're running those baits real fast, the fish might not have a chance to get a good angle on it. I think that's why a lot of people miss strikes on them. The fish just doesn't have enough time to prepare itself. If you slow that buzz bait down while still keeping it on the surface, you'll catch more fish."

One tip that several pros are eager to reveal is the use of trailer hook, sometimes called a stinger hook. This device rides in piggy-back fashion on the end hook and can be attached to that primary hook by an eyelet or a connecting tube. This trailer is used when fish tend to strike at the lure but regularly miss it. The trailer gives an added piece of insurance to the angler for success. It is important that these hooks are as sharp as possible to insure more catches.

"I usually put a trailer hook on with surgical tubing so it rides upright the same way that the main hook does," instructs Linda England.

As Linda England stressed, lure speed is a critical factor. You should reel in steadily enough to maintain the lure on the surface. Make sure those blades are lifting the lure, and for further lift try a double or twin blade model. The rod tip should be held high at 10 or 11 o'clock so the line will be on the surface and you can set the hook at a moment's notice. Hold the rod too high and you won't be able to effectively hook the fish.

There's a little secret I've used for tuning the blades on the buzz bait. Experiment a little in bending the blades while riding in a car—yes, I said a car! Stick the bait outside the window and see how easily the blades move and how fast. Try and get the blades to move fast with smooth action and your bait has been properly tuned!

Another trick some anglers use is to bend the blade so that it just minimally knocks the shaft, which adds a bit more noise to the lure. Make sure that you don't bend the blade to the point where it affects the spinning speed of the blade or the action of the lure.

Owners of Johnson® and Evinrude® electric positioning motors might like to try OMC's new weedless propeller for those motors.

Rose Holds Closed Door Meeting Sunday Cincinnati Breaks Losing Streak Monday

Pete Rose, Cincinnati manager, held a closed door meeting with his Reds' players Sunday, and then Cincinnati promptly broke a four-game losing streak by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 Monday afternoon.

Less than two weeks ago the Reds were in first place in the National League's Western Division. They were 10 games above the .500 mark, and were leading the league in team batting average.

Hard times fell upon Cincinnati. Their already undependable starting pitchers struggled even more. Eric Davis and Buddy Bell suffered injuries, and the Reds' hitting dropped from first to fourth in the National League.

As a result San Francisco played their way into first place, taking advantage of a Cincinnati stretch that saw the Reds drop eight of nine games.

After Bill Gullickson beat Chicago last Wednesday to break one four-game tailspin, the Reds proceeded to drop the final game against Chicago, then lose a three-game series at home against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Sunday's 7-2 defeat at the hands of the Pirates was the final straw that broke Pete Rose's non-meeting back. Rose has said before that he doesn't like to call team meetings because it means the team is playing bad baseball.

Sunday evening the Cincinnati manager called for a meeting.

Before Monday's game Rose said he told his players that baseball was supposed to be fun, but he didn't think any of his players had had fun these past two weeks.

In a pre-game radio interview Rose said, "it isn't any one player that I'm upset with. It's a team thing."

"It isn't all pitching. In some games, we haven't hit the ball well, and in some games, we haven't played good defense."

"It's just a rut that a team gets into. You're going to have these kinds of ruts during the course of a 162-game season."

Rose also made it clear that he didn't want his team to destroy in May what they had built up in April. Rose wants baseball to be fun, and if winning is fun then everyone in Cincinnati enjoyed themselves Monday.

The last time the Reds won was last Wednesday. Then Bill Gullickson took on the Chicago Cubs and Mike Maddux. The only Cincinnati starter with a winning record, Gullickson turned in a complete game performance, his second of the year, and the second for the Reds as a team.

The Cincinnati righthander received long ball support from Nick Esasky, Barry Larkin, and Dave Parker to claim his fifth win of the season.

Gullickson is known as a hot weather pitcher, historically doing his most effective work during July and August, but Gully, as they call him in Cincinnati, has enjoyed success early in 1987.

Monday afternoon in Riverfront Stadium the Reds, against Mike Maddux, once again came out in a full show of support for their starting pitcher. Cincinnati scored two runs in the first, and three more in the second, one on Nick Esasky's second homerun of the season, to defeat Chicago 5-4.

Bill Gullickson, 6-2, worked six innings, giving up three runs on six hits while striking out four to record his second win in less than a week.

Righthanded reliever Ron Robinson pitched the seventh, and eighth innings, giving up in Andre Dawson homerun, before John Franco threw a scoreless ninth to record his eighth save of the year.

Cincinnati never trailed in the game, but after the Cubs loaded the bases with one out in the ninth inning, needed a clutch defensive play from Esasky to hang on.

With the bases jammed in that final frame, pinch hitter Manny Trillo bounced a ground ball to second baseman Ron Oester. Oester flipped to second for the force, but shortstop Barry Larkin threw low to first with the relay.

Esasky dug the low throw out, saving Larkin from committing his second error of the game, and preserving the Reds' a victory.

With the win Cincinnati, 24-20, kept pace with San Francisco, who now leads the Reds in the Western Division.

Tonight the Reds will wrap up their three-game series with Chicago, sending veteran Jerry Reuss to the mound in hopes of a better outing than the lefty has had since his recent callup. Pitching, although Pete Rose says it isn't the only reason as to why Cincinnati has been losing, continues to be a major problem area. Mario Soto is back on the disabled list, and Tom Browning, 4-6, may be optioned out soon.

Trade talks are still surrounding the Reds, and the names other teams are mentioning most are Kurt Stillwell and Barry Larkin. Stillwell, hitting .317 with 17 RBIs, is a benchwarmer, while Larkin .220, who Stillwell was benched for, is playing every day.

Many say Ron Oester, .231 with one homerun and 14 RBIs, may soon hit the pine permanently with Larkin moving over to second and Stillwell assuming fulltime duties at shortstop.

The Reds have several players, including Larkin, Paul O'Neal, and Tracy Jones to talk trade with. Pete Rose said "there isn't any use in having good players if they aren't producing," and maybe there isn't any use in having good players if their talents are wasted watching others play.

One pitcher rumored to interest Cincinnati is Frank Tanana, once an outstanding talent, but who's prime is long past.

Hilltopper Basketball Camp Dates Are Set

Bowling Green, Ky.—The 1987 Hilltopper basketball camps will be held in three separate sessions on the Western Kentucky University campus, beginning in June.

Hilltopper Coach Murray Arnold and the WKU staff, along with guest lecturers and coaches from the college and NBA ranks, will conduct the first camp for individual campers aged 8-18 during the week of June 7-11.

Two team camp sessions will be held in Western's beautiful Diddle Arena. The first team camp is slated for June 14-18, and will be geared to varsity high school teams.

A week-long session running from July 26-30 will be for junior high teams.

Registration for each session will be held on the opening day of each camp, from 1:00-4:00 p.m. (CDT). For applications and fee information, contact camp director Robbie Laing at the Hilltopper Basketball Office, E.A. Diddle Arena, Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, Ky. 42101 (Telephone: (502) 745-2131).

Frazier Signs Contract With Kansas City Chiefs

Morehead State linebacker Randy Frazier (6-4, 235, Sr.) signed a two-year free agent contract with the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs last week.

Frazier was MSU's fifth leading tackler last season despite missing two games because of injuries. The Whitesburg High School graduate finished with 66 tackles, five pass deflections and one fumble recovery in 1986.

Frazier becomes the second Eagle from MSU's (7-4) 1986 team to sign an NFL contract. Billy Poe signed a two-year pact with Tampa Bay three weeks ago.

Frazier will report to camp in Kansas City, Missouri on July 6.

Twirl Queen

Anzie J. Samons, 14, won the title of Miss East Kentucky Twirl Queen in her age category at competition held May 16 at Betsy Layne. She received a banner, crown and trophy, and also received trophies for placing first in modeling, solo performance, best appearance and best performance.

She is a freshman at Betsy Layne High School, where she is a member of the majorette squad. She is the daughter of Dan and Ada Samons, of Banner.

Boaters Told Of New Safety Rules

The Kentucky Water Patrol would like to remind boaters of the responsibilities of safe boating and point out new regulations which should be noted by both novice and experienced boaters.

First, make sure your boat has the safety equipment required by law. All boats are required to have a personal flotation device aboard for each passenger. Beginning this year, all boats powered by any type of combustible petroleum product, including all outboard engines, must also carry a fire extinguisher. Each boat must also be properly numbered and carry a valid 1987 Kentucky registration. Running lights must also be used if a boat is operated after dark. For more complete information on the specific requirements, based on boat size, contact the Kentucky Water Patrol at 800-828-BOAT or ask your local water patrol officer.

The Kentucky Water Patrol is an agency of the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet dedicated to the safety and protection of the boating public. Water patrol programs are supported by boat registration fees paid by Kentucky boaters. Water patrol officers teach boating safety classes as well as patrol the commonwealth's waterways to perform boat safety checks and ensure that boating laws are followed.

Girls' Auxiliary On Picnic Party

The Girls' Auxiliary of the Baptist Church gave a picnic Saturday, October 1, on Abbott Mountain. Quite a crowd of girls walked down the Mayo Trail and across the new bridge at Cliff to Abbott. Each carried a well-filled basket of good things to eat.

THE PRESIDENT

The Prestonsburg Hardware and Supply Company has sold out to other parties, who will occupy the same building.

NOTICE

All parties owing the Prestonsburg Hardware and Supply Company will please call and settle at once. Failing to do so, their accounts will be put out for collection.

Lewis Wells, of Auxier, spent Monday in Prestonsburg.

BRIEF TOPICS

Every forty-one seconds someone is either killed or injured in highway accidents in the United States. During the five years ending with 1927 the staggering total of approximately 3,446,370 persons were reported injured and 114,879 killed in traffic calamities, most of which were avoidable.

More than 3,500 coal miners in sub-district 10 returned to work when the whistles blew again Monday in Marion, Ill., after six months silence. More miners will return to work each day and by the end of the week it is expected that at least 9,000 of the 10,000 miners in Williamson county will be back at work.

That President Coolidge is definitely out of the Presidential race was accepted formally Monday at a conference between Chairman William M. Butler and more than a dozen members of the Republican national committee.

The President's famous "I do not choose to run" statement was accepted as final and irrevocable by the influential G. O. P. leaders after talking with Butler, who spent Sunday night at the White House and early Monday conferred with Mr. Coolidge, his close personal and political friend.

One hundred and eight school ma'ams at Hazel Park, Mich., Monday struck a blow for the freedom of the kneecaps.

They marched into their class-rooms minus the ankle-length smocks ordained by the board of education to protect the morals of scholars, who, they feared, might develop wrong ideas from the instep-to-kneecap exposure of femals limbs.

With the short skirted cohorts standing fast, the next move was up to the board of education which will meet tonight. Three members—a majority—declared they stood by their opinion that brief garments were out of place in the classroom.

Women in four counties of Virginia which hold an annual fair will have an opportunity to test their powers of attracting husbands in a husband-calling contest at the fair at Suffolk on October 12.

Any woman between the ages of 16 and 40 is eligible for the contest which will be judged by three "well seasoned" married men.

Each contestant can call "husband" three times, according to the rules of the contest, and the calls can be made in the contestant's own natural manner, endearing, cajoling, entreating or commanding, while with the call smiles, tears, or frowns may be used.

The performance is to be judged on clearness of voice, strength of voice, originality, sincerity of purpose and appearance of contestant.

Mutiny in several army units in Mexico City has brought the Mexican government, under President Plutarco Elias Calles, face to face with a revolutionary movement, mutterings of which have been heard from time to time of late.

From Mexico City came word that three companies of the 20, comprising the Mexico City garrison, had marched out at midnight and taken the field. Their destination was believed to be Puebla.

Cleveland's parkways were laid open to spooning husbands and wives last week by a jury which awarded Mrs. Lillie Mack, 23, $3,000 damages suffered when she and her husband were arrested for petting in their auto.

In her suit for $15,000 damages, Mrs. Mack said she and her husband were arrested by a policeman for petting in public and forced to spend a night in jail. The ignominy of being falsely arrested, she said, was worth the damages.

The jury's verdict reduced the original amount asked in Mrs. Mack's petition to $3,000. The jury held that a husband and wife have the privilege of "spooning" wherever and whenever they please.

Carter Tiffany, vice-president of the Reynolds Airways, Inc., paid a hurried visit to Washington September 27, to inspect the passport records of the state department to determine if Richard J. Reynolds, missing young millionaire, had sailed for Europe. It was not stated whether Tiffany was permitted to see the records, which ordinarily are regarded as confidential.

He was later found on an excursion trip.

Robert Dale Holmes, 19 years old, Centre College student and football player, died September 27 from injuries suffered when struck Sunday afternoon by an automobile on the Lexington pike near the Country Club. An emergency operation Monday night by Dr. W. O. Bullock, Lexington, failed. Holmes never regained consciousness after struck.

The United States Supreme Court met Monday for its annual labor of hearing and ruling on 1,000 to 1,500 appeals.

After the court was summoned to order by the court crier, hearing or arguments started.

DANA

By reason of recent rains and warm weather, late crops are making splendid progress.

Miss Verlia Conn, daughter of Minis Conn, has been seriously ill with typhoid, but is some better. All are hopeful that she will recover soon.

Church services were conducted at the New Salem church Saturday, October 1, and was attended a quite a crowd. The Revs. Cola Conn and J. W. Akers preached.

Our schools are progressing nicely with W. B. Boyd and Hayden Howell as teachers.

The funeral of A. M. Layne's wife was attended to on Sunday, October 2, at Betsy Layne, there being a large crowd present. Services were opened by Rev. J. W. Akers, with the Rev. Hays Maynard, of Zebulon, Ky., following. His text was an the Resurrection.

Wesley Boyd, who has been seriously ill for some time, is no better.

I. L. Clark, Union Civil War veteran, is holding up mighty well. His age is about eighty-five years. His faithful companion, who is very near his age, is as well as could be expected.

FORMER RESIDENT OF EAST KENTUCKY DIES

A news story re-printed in the Paintsville Herald from the Wenatchee (Wash.) Daily World tells of the death in that city of Mrs. Charles M. Rice, a former resident of eastern Kentucky. The account of Mrs. Rice's death follows:

Injuries he received a week ago in a automobile accident caused the death last night of Mrs. Minnie L. Rice, wife of Charles M. Rice, 106 North Mission. Meningitis developed several days after the accident as the result of a skull injury, according to the attending physician.

Mrs. Rice, her husband and daughter were coming to Wenatchee from Omak, where they had been living and ran into one of the viaducts near Entiat, the mother and daughter both being injured, the latter slightly. Mr. Rice was not hurt. Mrs. Rice was rushed to St. Anthony's hospital here.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Bert, of Wenatchee, and Bruce, of Seattle; four daughters, Bessie Rice of Salem, Ore., Mrs. Belle Lake, of Seattle, Stella and Mary Rice, of Wenatchee; seven brothers, Dr. J. F. May, of West Virginia; F. D. May, of Los Angeles; C. N. and W. J. May, of Ohio; M. M. May, of Seattle, and R. E. May, of Tacoma; two sisters, Mrs. Laura Hollis, of Portland, and Mrs. Stella Fields, of Kentucky, and her mother, Mrs. Amanda May, Tacoma.

The deceased was a member of the Baptist Church and the Royal Neighbors Lodge here. The funeral will take place Friday at 10 a. m., from the Jones and Jones chapel, the Rev. D. McMasters conducting the service. Burial will be in Wenatchee cemetery.

FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

WILLIAM DINGUS

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 31st JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY, COMPOSED OF FLOYD AND KNOTT COUNTIES:

In pressing my candidacy for the Office of Commonwealth's Attorney, I want it understood that I am seeking this position not only for my own interest but that I may be able to serve my country better and be better able to help my friends, and to aid other worthy projects that should be maintained and supported for the common good of our Judicial District.

I was born at the forks of Beaver, near Dinwood, and have lived here in Floyd County with you all my life. I was raised a farmer boy; know all the trials and troubles incident to the former boy's life; was a school teacher for ten years and know the school teacher's joys and troubles; was in the goods business for ten years at Goodice, Ky., then moved to Prestonsburg. I was elected twice as Senator of the 33rd Senatorial District of Kentucky. I took a law course and was examined by Judge Lewis and Hazelrig, Judges of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, and admitted to the bar in 1894, and have been in the study and practice of law from that time to the present, thirty-three years. I am a member of the Baptist Church, having joined with the Philadelphia Regular Baptist in 1890, and am a member of the Baptist Church now at Prestonsburg, Ky. I was elected County Attorney of Floyd County, November, 1917, and took the oath of office on January, 1918 and served four years.

This is perhaps the last time I will call on my friends to vote for me and I now hope and believe you will come enthusiastically to my aid and that I will be elected as your Commonwealth's Attorney.

I have spent all my life to and for my country, trying to make it a better place in which to live. Help me, so that I can help you more.

I need the office and you need my work in the courts of our district. You help me and I can help you more. I have been in politics heretofore and I never have found so many people for me as there are for me at this time.

Good friends, keep the good work going on and I will serve you as Commonwealth's Attorney.

—Political Adv.

Your obedient servant,

William Dingus

MOVE TO ASHLAND

Rev. J. D. Bell and family moved this week to Ashland, where Reverend Bell assumes the pastorate of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Rev. Bell and family will be pleasantly remembered here, where he has been pastor of the M. E. Church, South.

Dr. Alex L. Hill returned Saturday from Louisville, after spending several days last week in that city.

Death of Martin Man Under Investigation

The death last Wednesday of 20-year-old Robert Anthony Keathley, Jr., of Martin, remains unexplained this week, pending autopsy and toxicology reports, according to Deputy Coroner Glenn Frazier.

Keathley's body was found on the living-room floor at the Martin home of his grandmother, Virginia Keathley, around 6 a.m. Thursday.

Preliminary results from an autopsy revealed no wounds or serious disease; a complete report, including the findings of toxicology tests, is expected later this week, Frazier said.

A student at Morehead State University, Keathley had been home for several weeks and stayed "off and on" with his grandmothers, Frazier said.

Born March 6, 1967 at Morehead, Keathley was the son of Robert Anthony Keathley, Sr., of Martin, and Charlotte Meade Keathley, of East Point. Besides his parents and paternal grandmother, he is survived by a sister, Kisson Elizabeth Keathley, of East Point; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Conn, of Hippo; and a step-grandfather, Curtis Conn, of Hippo.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, May 23, at 2 p.m. at the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home chapel, with the Rev. Ed Doer officiating, and burial followed in the Cooley cemetery at Hippo, under the direction of the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home.

A retired miner, he was a son of the late Roland and Mary Stevens Adkins, born December 21, 1917 on Toler's Creek. He was an Army veteran of World War II and a member of the Tom's Creek Free Will Baptist Church at Ivel.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Opal Lewis Adkins; two sons, Willis and James Ed Adkins, both of Stanville; three daughters, Norma Jean Justice and Mona Daniels, both of Pikeville, Joann Lafferty, of Caledonia, O.; two brothers, Robert Adkins, of Tazewell, Va., and Tom Adkins, in Florida; two sisters, Kate Perkins, of Clyde, O., Carla Steffey, also of Tazewell, Va.; 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Tom's Creek Free Will Baptist Church with the Rev. James Harmon and the Rev. Virgil Hunt officiating. Burial was made in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel under direction of the Floyd Funeral Home.

Military graveside rites were conducted by the D.A.V., Chapter 18, Auxier.

In Loving Memory Of Goldie Pitts

Who passed away Feb. 12, 1987. Born May 27, 1912.

I cannot say, and I will not say That she is dead—she is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since she lingers there And you—O you, who the wildest yearn For the old time stop and glad return, Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here; Think of her still as the same, I say: She is not dead—she is just away!

Rondall E. (John) Lynch

Rondall E. (John) Lynch, 61, of Sand Fork, West Virginia, formerly of Floyd county, died Sunday at the Lewis A. Johnson VA Medical Center in Clarksburg, W. Va., following an extended illness.

He was a son of the late Alva C. and Ida Killingsworth Lynch, and was born December 23, 1925 in Gilmer county, West Virginia. A retired mine mechanic, he had worked in Kentucky and West Virginia for the past 30 years. He served under General Patton as a bow gunner in the Fifth Tank Battalion, 16th Armored Division, during World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Zora Montgomery Lynch; a son, Albert E. (John) Lynch, of Ashland; two daughters, Susan L. Faulkner, of Princeton, W. Va., Peggy A. Engle, also of Ashland; a brother, Dale Lynch, of Marshallville; a sister, Mary Louise James, of Lockney, W. Va., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted today (Wednesday) at 10 a.m. at the Spurgeon-Ellyson Mortuary, Inc. Glenville, W. Va. with the Rev. Robert Anderson officiating. Burial will be made in the Sand Fork cemetery.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of My Family

"Together in death, As they were in life." Luther Allen, Helen Hart Allen Rev. G.B. Allen, Eliza Allen Arnold Allen, Ruth Lunsford Allen Earl Allen, Lillian Kirck Allen George E. Hart, Anna Hart John Field, E.W. Meade No further away than a picture, a smile or remembered phrase, our loved ones live on in memory...so close in so many ways, for how often does a sunset bring favorite thoughts to mind of moments that our loved ones shared in days now left behind. How often has a flower or crystal autumn sky brought golden recollections of happy days gone by. Yes, memory has a magic way of keeping loved ones near...ever close in mind and heart are the ones we hold most dear.

BETTY ALLEN FRANCIS 11.

IN MEMORY

Vina Patton Hale Hatfield, May 26, 1986, and Tandy Hale, August 29, 1971

Mother, it has been a year since God called you home to be with Him and daddy. You are sadly missed by your girls, Lucy and Edna, and grandchildren, great-grandchildren, family and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS

From the depth of my heart I would like to offer my thanks to the many good friends, relatives, and neighbors who were so kind and helpful to us when Amos was sick for so long, and recently passed away. The doctors and nurses at the Highlands Regional Medical Center showed thoughtfulness for us during the stay there; many wonderful people brought food to our home, and flowers for his funeral. The Carter Funeral Home were kind and helpful to me, and I appreciated the ministers and singers who held his funeral services and a special thanks to the pallbearers. There is nothing in this world that begins to compare with losing a person's life's partner, but the blessed thoughts, kindnesses, and helpfulness from so many people made my burden lighter. I thank everyone who helped us in any way, and hope—as I know he would, that God will bless you always.

The property described in parcels 1 and 2 above shall be sold subject to ad valorem taxes presently due and owing and hereafter accruing on the property which the purchaser shall assume and agree to pay; easements and restrictions of record in the Floyd County Court Clerk's Office; any assessments for public improvements against the mortgaged property, and rights of the owners to use for road purposes so much of the subject property as may lie in any roadway; the rights of Wal-Mart Stores and Winn-Dixie Store, Inc., Louisville, Kentucky, as tenants in possession under existing leases and subject further to rights of ingress and egress in favor of the owner of the adjoining property covered by the mortgage of The Bank Josephine of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

The purchaser shall pay One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) down payment at the time of the sale with the balance of the purchase price due and payable in cash within sixty (60) days. The purchaser shall execute a bond for the unpaid purchase price with good surety approved by the Special Commissioner, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale until paid, which bond shall have the same force and effect as a Judgment secured by a lien on the mortgaged premises until fully paid.

The construction materials described in parcel 3 will be sold on the following terms and conditions:

(a) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of ten percent (10%) of bid price down in cash at the time of sale.

(b) The balance of the purchase price shall be on a credit of sixty (60) days at the rate of twelve percent (12%) from the date of sale until paid.

(c) The property is sold without any representation as to the condition or quantity of the construction materials.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale is the sum of Two Hundred Eighty-Seven Thousand Nine Hundred Twelve Dollars and Eighty-Four Cents ($287,912.84), plus interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from February 15, 1984, until paid: Forty-Four Thousand Five Hundred Seventy-Five Dollars and Eighty-Six Cents ($44,575.86), plus interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from September 25, 1984, until paid: Ten Million Eighty-Eight Thousand Seven Hundred Twenty-Seven Dollars and Seventy-Five Cents ($10,088,727.75), plus interest at the rate of eleven percent (11%) per annum from November 11, 1985, to January 22, 1986, then at thirteen (13%) per annum from January 23, 1986, to May 14, 1987, and thereafter at twelve percent (12%) per annum until paid; the sum of Fifty-Three Thousand Six Hundred Sixty-Seven Dollars and Ninety Cents ($53,667.90), plus interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from December 14, 1985, until paid; the sum of Eight Hundred Ninety-Eight Dollars and Forty-Two Cents ($898.42), plus interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from January 8, 1986, until paid; the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred Thirty-Nine Dollars and One Cent ($2,539.01), plus Five Dollars ($5.00), plus interest at the rate of Eight-Three Cents (.83) per day from January 29, 1986, until paid; the sum of Forty-Three Thousand Five Hundred Ninety-Six Dollars and Five Cents ($43,596.05), plus interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from May 5, 1986, until paid; the sum of Twelve Thousand Five Hundred Fifty-Three Dollars and Fifty-One Cents ($12,553.51), plus Two Dollars Seventy-Five Cents ($2.75) per day from January 31, 1986, until paid; the sum of Fifty Two Thousand Twenty-Eight Dollars ($52,028.00), plus Eleven Dollars and Forty Cents ($11.40) per day from January 22, 1986, until paid; the sum of Twenty-Four Thousand Five Hundred Eight-Eight Dollars and Twenty-Four Cents ($24,588.24), plus interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from December 14, 1985, until paid; the sum of Forty One Thousand Six Hundred Fifty Dollars ($41,650.00), plus interest at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from August 2, 1986, until paid; and the court costs for these consolidated cases, including the cost of advertising this sale, and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand this 22nd day of May, 1987.

GRASS TETANY

COPYRIGHT 1987 KVMA
 Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association

Tetany means simply spasms of the muscles, the grass is added to indicate that the condition is brought about by grazing on lush but nutritionally deficient pasture and spring is the time it usually is seen in cattle and sheep.

Problem is, by the time it reaches the tetany stage it may be too late.

Technical name for the condition is hypomagnesemia, and it means a deficiency of magnesium levels in the blood. It is seen most commonly in adult cattle and sheep, especially those which are lactating heavily and are grazing on lush pastures, though it may occur under other conditions.

The disease occurs in two stages: the development of the hypomagnesemia and then the triggering of the clinical conditions. The rate of onset of the hypomagnesemia varies upon the degree of deficiency of magnesium in the diet, and is usually as result of limited absorption of magnesium because it is in low levels in lush pasture while nitrogen and potassium are found in high levels in grass. Various supplements can be used

School Contest Winners

Ella Mae and Stephanie Calhoun, students at Bonanza School, won first-place prizes in the school's essay and poster contest. They received $25 each. They are the daughters of Leonard and Francis Poe, of Abbott. Their teacher is Mrs. Schuster.

If No-Till Is Best Way To Farm Why Doesn't Everybody Do It?

Farmers who plant their soybeans, corn or wheat by the no-till method swear by it. It's easier. Faster. Just as productive as conventional methods. University of Kentucky College of Agriculture research has shown that no-till planting has less erosion than all other types of planting.

So why isn't everybody planting by the no-till method? "That's a good question," said David Ditsch, UK Extension soil specialist. "Some of it is tradition," he said. "The farmer's father and grandfather and maybe his great grandfather plowed the land. It worked well enough for them. Why change?"

Ditsch added, "Another reason could be that the cost for chemical weed control is higher. But research shows that increased cost is offset by fuel savings, time and equipment costs. You can use smaller tractors, and you don't need all that extra equipment."

Farmers also tend to watch carefully other farmers' failures, he said. For example, if one farmer in a community tried the new method, and it failed for one reason or another, farmers in that community might just write off the method. In no-till farming, a small slit is made in the ground for the seed and then covered up instead of turning over the entire field by plowing.

"No-till does take a different kind of management," Ditsch said. "You have to keep your eyes on it. Timing is more critical."

Many farmers like to plant as early as possible, he said, but that's not always the best practice for no-till. No-till land is cooler than plowed lands, because breaking up the soil allows it to warm faster. Because seeds will not germinate until the soil gets to the proper temperature, it sometimes is better to plant under the no-till method a week or two later than conventional planting dates.

Ditsch said he does expect more and more farmers to begin using no-till methods.

"You can get it done twice as fast so you can plant twice as much," he said, "and the yield per acre will be just as good or better."

There's another reason why many farmers will almost be forced to adopt no-tilling methods, Ditsch said.

The new Farm Bill requires grain producers to show how they are using soil conservation practices in order to participate in federal support programs.

"No-till is the best way," Ditsch said. "Since about 80 percent of Kentucky row crop land is highly erodible, it may be the only system some farmers can use and stay in compliance with provisions of the Farm Bill."

Hookups Removed From Pine Mountain Sites

Individual electrical hookups has been removed from the campground at Pine Mountain State Resort Park in Pineville.

Due to safety hazards associated with the existing electrical system, and the prohibitive costs involved in the replacement of the system, the Kentucky Department of Parks has designated this campground to offer camping with limited facilities.

Showers and restrooms are still available for use by guests. The rate for this camping season will be $7 per night per campsite.

Pine Mountain State Resort Park is located on U.S. 25E.

Subject Announced For Essay, Poster Contest

Soil Conservation in My Community will be the subject of the 1987 Conservation Essay Contest and the 1987 Jim Claypool Conservation Poster Contest sponsored by The Courier-Journal.

The annual competitions, open to all Kentucky elementary and high school students, may be the largest conservation-oriented contests for school children in the United States. In 1986 over 36,500 essays were written on "Fish and Wildlife Habitat: Our Responsibilities, Today and Tomorrow". Almost 66,000 posters were made on the subject.

The essay contest is in its 44th year, over 1.5 million essays have been written by students on various conservation subjects since its inception. This will be the 15th year for the poster contest which is open to students in grades one through six. In it, students are asked to make original posters with the subject of the competition as the theme of the posters.

In the essay contest, students in grades seven through twelve are asked to write essays of no more than 1,000 words.

The top award winners—121 district winners and three state winners in each contest—will receive $6,850 in savings bonds from The Courier-Journal. These top winners will also receive plaques.

Co-sponsors of the contest, along with The Courier-Journal, are the Kentucky Association of Conservation Districts and the Kentucky Department of Education. The 1987 competition will begin in September. Detailed information and reference material for the two contests will be sent to principals of all schools in Kentucky at that time.

Honor Society Listing

The Society of Distinguished American High School Students announced last week that 34 students from Prestonsburg High School have been selected as members in its honor society for 1987.

The students' sponsor, Frances Brackett, was presented with The Society's National Appreciation Award for "devotion to the development and encouragement of student leaders."

Membership in the 19-year-old Society is designed to be a national honor and incentive for top performance among high school students. To be accepted, candidates must excel in academics, extracurricular or civic activities.

Old Is New In Kentucky...

Boom Times In Historic Towns

By BOB BAIRD

To many visitors to Kentucky, the charms of the Bluegrass State lie, waiting to be discovered, in its many historic homes, shrines and historic villages.

And with burgeoning interest in things historic and nostalgic, "new" historic villages are emerging on the scene, reviving interest in the people and places of the first state on the western frontier. Old is new in Kentucky.

The historic-site tradition is strong in Kentucky. Who could forget the charm and serenity of the Shaker Village at Pleasant Hill near Harrodsburg, with its clean, uncluttered lines and its tempting home-cooked aromas wafting from its Trustees' Office Inn?

What visitor to Kentucky doesn't want to stop by My Old Kentucky Home in Bardstown and pay homage to Stephen Foster, or sample the sponobread and regional fare at Boone Tavern in Berea?

Abraham Lincoln Birthplace National Historic Site near Hodgenville still packs them in, drawing history-minded visitors interested in seeing where the sixteenth President was born. Old Fort Harrod State Park at Harrodsburg gives visitors a good idea of the blockhouses and cabins built at Kentucky's first permanent settlement.

History and architecture buffs still marvel at Thomas Jefferson's design at Farmington in Louisville and Gideon Shryock's Old State Capitol in Frankfort. And it's always fun to wander and explore the historic districts of Louisville, Lexington, Frankfort, Paducah, Covington and Maysville.

Borrowing the best ingredients from Kentucky's successful recipe for historic sites and villages, the Bardstown and London communities have embarked on historic-village projects of their own, launching rustic re-creations of life on the Kentucky frontier, where the architecture and artifacts of bygone eras are brought together in picturesque settings.

Assembling historic structures from various locations and reconstructing remnants of Kentucky's colorful past, these "living history museums" seek to offer quaint samplings of pioneer life. These range from reconstructed log dwellings and a roadside tavern from early days along the Wilderness Road, to vestiges of early settlement in and around one of Kentucky's oldest towns, Bardstown.

Dedication of Old Bardstown Village, Bardstown's newest attraction, is now history, one might say—the preservation project that took this central Kentucky town by storm last summer. The village is scheduled to re-open for its second season May 16, with an expanded toy soldier collection and a new museum devoted to Indian and early settler artifacts.

The village offers visitors a walk through history past 11 old-time structures, almost all Nelson County landmarks, and some, reconstructed from lumber salvaged from historic structures.

The village had been under discussion the past decade as a way of bolstering tourism in this already tourism-strong grand old town.

"For some time we had been talking about giving Bardstown an attraction to give visitors who come to see 'The Stephen Foster Story' a reason to stay an extra day," said Dr. Henry Spalding, a Bardstown physician who led the community-wide effort to build the village.

"I think the people here realize that we have history and that tourists are interested in history," he said.

Occupying a picturesque setting along the city's Town Creek, the village is just across U.S. 150 from the entrance to the J. Dan Talbot Amphitheatre where "America's favorite outdoor musical" is staged. The village site is historic in itself, situated just below the creekside bluff where Bardstown had its earliest beginnings. Founded around 1780, the settlement was first called "Salem," later renamed after early settler William Bard.

A prominent landmark in Bardstown's earliest days was Brown's Mill, a gristmill with overshot wheel built in 1798. Memory of that mill is preserved by a similar mill moved on-site from eastern Kentucky, which serves as a central focus of the village. Situated in millrace fashion along the creek, the Old Mill with its turning waterwheel is just a short distance from where Brown's Mill once stood.

"Mills have a following all their own," said Sandi Nipp, manager of Old Bardstown Village, who said 5,000 visitors passed through the village during its first three months of operation last summer after opening with great fanfare July 4.

At the entrance to the village is Village Hall, housed in the former municipal waterworks building, which features a Civil War museum and toy soldier museum. An expanded display this spring is expected to showcase a 15,000-piece collection of miniature soldiers on parade, donated by Bardstown resident Dale Van Ormer. (With Stone Castle Museum, another Bardstown toy soldier museum, the city boasts two such collections, unique for a city of 8,000.) The Civil War collection includes an impressive array of weapons, uniforms and musical instruments—some say as good a collection as can be found anywhere.

Also to be found in the village are a working moonshine "still house" where "home brew" is made daily during the regular season; a blacksmith shop, wheelwright shop, weaver's shop and broommaker/candlemaker's shop. Craft demonstrations are offered daily during the visitor season. A "market house" offers native Kentucky arts and crafts for sale. Eventually, the village is to encompass 20 buildings, Spalding said.

In similar fashion, hopes are riding high on Wilderness Road Village, a pioneer-village "theme park" under development near London, to adjoin Levi Jackson Wilderness Road State Park. The village is to consist of a dozen craft shops where working craftspeople are to demonstrate various facets of pioneer life, such as sorghum making, open-pit barbecuing, etc.

The crafts shops, housed in historic log cabins transplanted from various locations in the London area, are to be integrated with the existing Mountain Life Museum, a compound of log cabins replicating pioneer life, already a major attraction at the state park.

The theme park is to include reconstruction of Freeman Tavern, an historic roadhouse that was a welcomed stop along the well-traveled Wilderness Road into frontier Kentucky. The restaurant, offering traditional fare, is expected to open sometime this summer, said Ken Harvey, executive director of the London-Laurel County Tourism Commission. The remainder of the village is slated for fall completion, he said.

The project, under discussion since 1982, is expected to be ready in time for 1988 tourists.

History comes alive at Kentucky's living history museums. And recent variations on the theme make for an especially alluring scene.

Audubon Beach Closed For Summer Season

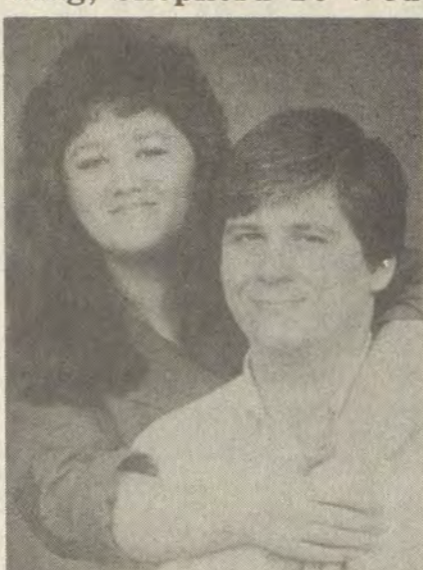

The beach at John James Audubon State Park in Henderson will not open for the 1987 summer season, announced June Hudson, commissioner of parks.

"The vegetation and organic matter in the lake at Audubon are creating problems. We are closing the beach while we try to correct these problems," said Mrs. Hudson.

The lake at Audubon has been stocked with grass carp, a species that eats several kinds of vegetation and algae.

Audubon State Park, located south of Evansville, Ind., features a museum that houses a collection of prints by renowned artist and naturalist John James Audubon. A nine-hole golf course, woodland cottages, a nature center, hiking trails and picnic areas are popular with visitors to the park.

King, Shepherd To Wed

The marriage of Bonita Lynn King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas King, and Timothy Ray Shepherd, son of Ethel Shepherd Hunt and the late Riley Shepherd, Jr., will be performed at the Maytown First Baptist Church in Langley on May 30 at 1 p.m. A reception will follow at the church.

Webb Is Selected For Governor's School Of Arts

Elaine Webb, 17, a junior at Pikeville High School, was recently selected as one of the 120 students who will attend the first Governor's School for the Arts, to be held July 5-26 in Louisville. Webb, who will study drama, was chosen from more than 1,100 students statewide after a series of auditions and interviews with a panel of judges representing her artistic discipline.

She is the daughter of Paula Hampton, of Dana, and Roger Webb, of Prestonsburg. An honor roll student, she is carrying a full academic load focusing on accelerated classes, and also participates in Speech and Drama Club, Future Homemakers of America, and Pep Club. She is class secretary and works on the yearbook staff.

Webb has performed in several acting roles, and also enjoys working behind the scenes on writing and directing. She plans to attend college, majoring in drama, and later to enter law school or study professional drama.

The Kentucky Governor's School for the Arts was founded last year by Governor Martha Layne Collins and the Kentucky General Assembly. Its goal is to develop the artistic skills and creativity of the state's talented youths by providing them with an opportunity to study with outstanding artists and teachers. The residential program will be held at Bellarmine College in Louisville, and some classes and activities will be held at the Kentucky Center for the Arts.

Water Patrol Advises Boaters To Play It Safe, Avoid Injury

The Kentucky Water Patrol would like to help boaters avoid accidents this summer and offers the following tips for a safe summer.

First, never overload your boat. Check the capacity plate on the boat to compare its weight and passenger limits with the number of passengers. When the boat is underway, make sure the passengers are in safe, protected positions. Kentucky boating safety laws require that passengers not ride on an enclosed bow or outside of the protective railings of a boat. It is also illegal to ride on the sides, back or engine cover of a boat, the back of the seats, or any other obviously dangerous location.

Second, avoid collisions by properly operating the boat. Collisions with other boats are often caused by the lack of knowledge of the rules of the road. Basically, a boat on your right has the right of way. On narrow waterways, boats should keep to the right of mid-channel similar to driving a car on the highway.

Third, alcohol and boating don't mix. The United States Coast Guard estimates that over 50 percent of fatal boating accidents are alcohol related. Boaters need to be more aware of the dangerous effects alcohol has on their judgement and reaction time.

A person's sense of balance is one of the first things affected when consuming alcoholic beverages. Over half of all boating fatalities occur when someone simply falls overboard.

A boater's vision is also affected by alcohol which diminishes the ability to see clearly. Blurred vision greatly increases chances for an accident. As the amount of alcohol consumed increases, the ability to coordinate arms and legs is also reduced. An alcohol impaired boater may find it difficult to even swim.

Most of all, alcohol affects your judgment and often causes some people to take risks they would never consider when sober. Knowing the effects of alcohol can prevent boating accidents.

The Kentucky Water Patrol is an agency of the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet dedicated to the safety and protection of the boating public. Water patrol programs are supported by boat registration fees paid by Kentucky boaters. Water patrol officers teach boating safety classes as well as patrol the commonwealth's waterways to perform boat safety checks and ensure that boating laws are followed.

If you see a water patrol officer, ask him for a courtesy boat safety check to make certain you have the required safety equipment. The water patrol officer is there to serve and protect; he's your friend on the water.

Will Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Howell, formerly of Harold, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at a reception Saturday, May 30, 4-8 p.m. at the Betsy Layne Free Will Baptist Church dining hall. An open invitation is extended to all their friends and relatives and guests are asked to omit gifts.

Betsy Layne Club Tops Blood Drive

Betsy Layne High School adviser Janet Akers and president Joey Cecil display a plaque presented recently by the Central Kentucky Blood Center. The Betsy Layne club had most participation of all five county high school Beta Clubs, which collectively contributed 202 pints of blood in a May 4-5 drive.

Hospital Offers Free Blood Pressure Clinic

Our Lady of the Way Hospital will sponsor a free blood pressure clinic at the Martin Post Office on Thursday, May 28 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. as part of its annual National High Blood Pressure Month observance.

"Free blood pressure checks are available every day in our emergency room," said Naewana Nickles, R.N. "But by sponsoring a clinic in the community, we hope to increase awareness of the dangers of high blood pressure. We also want to motivate hypertensive individuals to lower their pressures through medication and nonpharmacological treatments such as exercise, diet, weight loss, and reducing sodium intake."

Nickles said that free materials on hypertension and its treatment would be available to booth visitors.

Hypertension is a problem for one of every four Americans—58 million in all! High blood pressure is the leading cause of stroke in this country. If left uncontrolled, high blood pressure can also lead to heart attack, kidney disease and death. Although there is no cure, hypertensive persons can control their condition through daily treatment and can lead normal, healthy lives.

April Jobless Rate Drops 1.5 Percent

Kentucky recorded its first single-digit jobless rate for 1987 with a preliminary April figure of 9.6 percent. The 1.5 percent drop from a revised March rate of 11.1 percent is the largest month-to-month decline in more than two years, according to figures released recently by the Cabinet for Human Resources.

The last time Kentucky recorded a decline in the monthly unemployment rate of 1.5 percent or greater was from February to March 1985, when the rate fell from 11.9 percent to 10.1 percent.

At the national level, unemployment decreased from 6.9 percent in March to 6.2 percent in April.

"Warm temperatures gave our economy a boost as tourism-related and agricultural jobs registered big increases," said state labor market analyst Ed Blackwell.

The federal estimate of Kentuckians working was 1,514,700 in April, the highest level this year. That figure is an increase of 26,300 over the March report of 1,488,400 but is 2,900 below last April's 1,517,600.

An estimated 160,400 Kentuckians were unemployed, down 26,300 from March but up 4,500 from April 1986, when 155,900 were out of work. The state jobless rate last April was 9.3 percent.

"We gained 5,900 service jobs over March, mostly in recreation and lodging. And many of the 3,600 additional trade jobs were in restaurants and supermarkets," Blackwell said. "With good spring planting weather during most of April, we added 4,500 farm jobs. That brings to 9,200 the number of agricultural jobs picked up within the last two months."

The Department for Employment Services' monthly survey of employers showed 1,200 more jobs in construction, 1,100 in state and local government, and 500 each in finance, insurance and real estate and transportation, communications and utilities.

Manufacturing jobs were down by 1,500, mostly in the tobacco, food and textile production areas. However, Blackwell noted the 255,000 jobs in this category remain above the 1986 monthly average of 253,200 manufacturing jobs.

The April labor force estimate remained at the March level of 1,675,100, but was 1,600 higher than in April 1986, when it was 1,673,500. The civilian labor force includes non-military people who are working and unemployed people who actively are seeking jobs. It does not include anyone who is unemployed but has not looked for a job for four weeks.

Unemployment statistics are based on estimates and are compiled to measure employment trends rather than to actually count people working.

Students Finish Survey Of Ky. Energy Sources

Over 100 young energy students and their energy partners have completed a nine-month study of energy resources in Kentucky, utilization of energy, and state and national energy issues.

The Kentucky Energy Cabinet will honor these students and their partners at its first Partners In Energy Education Conference to be held at the Holiday Inn North in Lexington May 28. Students will give presentations on their energy partnerships' goals and successes.

This was a joint venture between the Energy Cabinet and the Kentucky Department of Education. Wheelwright High School was among the participating schools, whose energy partners include energy producers, utilities, commercial and industrial service providers, and state and federal energy agencies.

MARQUEE

ISHTAR (PG-13-Columbia) Starring Dustin Hoffman, Warren Beatty. ★★

By J.T. YURKO

On the road to Morocco are two down-on-their-luck songwriters, played by mega-stars Dustin Hoffman and Warren Beatty in "Ishtar." A lot of sand, a lot of bad songs, a few well-armed revolutionaries and one corrupt ruler later, the two are still singing. We wish they weren't.

During the first half-hour of this turgid comedy, director/writer Elaine May goes out of her way to show how awful these two songwriters are. She succeeds all too well: The songs are sung out of tune and their lyrics would get gonged on "The Gong Show." In an effort to get work, the hapless songwriters take up their agent's offer to try their material "out of town," and you can't get much farther out of town than Ishtar in the deserts of northern Africa.

In northern Africa, the songwriting saga turns into "Spies Like Us," with Beatty and Hoffman caught up in a pending revolution. There are obligatory chases, language gags and plenty of lost-in-the-desert jokes, but none of them work with any degree of success. This film is a series of unrelated gags, and its few funny moments arise from a clever line or two, not from the situation.

In a curious piece of casting against type, Hoffman plays the smooth ladies' man while Beatty plays the nerd with a bad self-image. Beatty and Hoffman do their best not to look uncomfortable in their singing roles. They only half succeed, and the magic of a Beatty/Hoffman pairing never comes to fruition. Faring better is Charles Grodin as the smooth-talking CIA snake who almost gets more laughs than the dynamic duo.

Were it not for a blind camel and some of May's awful lyrics, the film would have very few laughs indeed. The songwriting gags have some potential, and Bing Crosby and Bob Hope got plenty of laughs out of a camel, but even Beatty and Hoffman cannot help this turkey.

MOVIE NOSTALGIA

By Evan Levine

Words like "zany" were probably invented for movies like "What's New, Pussycat?" Clive Donner directed this 1965 paean to silliness, which revolves around the problems of a womanizing fashion-magazine director (Peter O'Toole), who has one eye on the ladies and both feet on the couch of a psychiatrist (Peter Sellers) who's far crazier than he is. The flimsy plot, about O'Toole's efforts to stay faithful to his perky girlfriend (Romy Schneider) and away from the scantily clad temptresses who keep landing in his path, is merely an excuse for a series of slapstick gags. Barely zippered parachutists drop into speeding convertibles, large women in Wagnerian outfits run wild through the streets trumpeting arias, and drunken lovesick revelers croon serenades outside Paris apartment buildings in the middle of the night. People drink cocktails frequently, pass out frequently and take everything in the best possible humor. All of this madcap behavior culminates in a series of room-switching, closet-hiding, sped-up stunts in a country hotel, with a great deal of giggling and shrieking, and a very funny, very pointless gag in which everyone is forced to zoom around in very small cars at very high speeds. Amid all the merriment is the acting debut of Woody Allen (who also scripted the movie), in a forerunner of the angst-ridden, nervous, neurotic intellectual he would later play to perfection in movies such as "Annie Hall." In a jaunty beret and with a lovelorn expression, he moons after O'Toole's girlfriend, with only a hint of the metaphysical worries that would infuse his later films. Question: Who sang the hit title song? Who wrote it?

Answer: Tom Jones; Burt Bacharach and Hal David.

Shirley Jones gets chance to show dramatic ability

By Evan Levine

She raised five TV children and served as a surrogate mother to a whole generation as the sitcom mom with a twist: She not only cooked and cleaned — she sang in a hip pop band.

Shirley Jones

Shirley Jones has plenty of other credits, of course, including an Oscar for "Elmer Gantry," but she achieved true pop-culture stature as the leader of TV's crooning "Partridge Family." This week, she turns to a much more serious kind of nurturing role. She stars as a woman who learns that her husband has Alzheimer's disease in "There Were Times, Dear," airing Wednesday, June 3, on PBS. (Check local listings.)

"It's important for the public to see that Alzheimer's doesn't just affect the victim, but the family as well," says Jones. In the special, Jones portrays a woman whose husband has always taken care of everything. With the onset of the disease, she has to undertake all the family responsibilities.

"Before I took the role, I really didn't know enough about Alzheimer's," admits Jones. "To prepare for the part, I read as much as I could about it, and I talked to families of the victims, as well as to friends whose parents had the disease."

Following the show, most stations will broadcast "...I Hope It's Not Alzheimer's," a half-hour program in which experts discuss problems associated with Alzheimer's disease and possible solutions. "It was an education for me," adds the actress. "It was also an extremely well-written role. I'd worked with (co-star) Len Cariou before (in a TV movie called "Who'll Save the Children?"), so we didn't have to go through a routine of getting to know each other. We already knew we worked well together."

Jones, who currently spends most of her time singing with symphony orchestras, has a new TV series in the works. But she hopes she'll always have time to do projects like "There Were Times, Dear."

Jones is a staunch believer in TV's ability to teach. "The public needs to be educated about Alzheimer's disease. And the power of TV is very strong. Just look at "The Partridge Family." "

MOLLY DODD

Blair Brown plays a divorced woman trying to lead a meaningful life in NBC's "The Days and Nights of Molly Dodd," which airs THURSDAY, JUNE 4. Allyn Ann McLerie co-stars as her mother.

SOAP BEAN

Behrens was in the right place at the right time

By Marie Michaels

"My memory of wanting to be an actor is vague," confesses Sam Behrens, who parlayed a five-day stint as Jake Meyer on "General Hospital" into a four-year role. "At one time, I remember wanting to be a doctor, but I was always entertaining my family." Instead of being a doctor, he went on to play a doctor, Dr. Adam Cohen on "Ryan's Hope," before moving on to "General Hospital."

Sam Behrens

When Behrens joined "General Hospital," the soap had recently lost a couple of heartthrobs, so he certainly stepped in at the right time. One of those heartthrobs was Douglas Sheehan, who played Joe Kelly on "General Hospital" and went on to play Ben Gibson on "Knots Landing." The other was Rick Springfield, who played Noah Drake. When Behrens is asked how he came to portray Jake, he laughs. "It was my brilliance, my talent," he replies. "It was a combination of enormous talent and being in the right place at the right time that led to a contract."

But portraying Jake hasn't always been easy. There was a long dry spell in which Jake simply disappeared into the background. "It's difficult when you're not on the show a lot," says Behrens. "I'm not in this just to pay the rent. I want to work. I think a lot of people believe that it would be wonderful not to work, but when Jake wasn't on the show, it was terrible. Not working is almost as bad as working with bad material."

It must have been even rougher since Behrens is accustomed to working long hours. Before he joined "General Hospital," he simultaneously appeared on "Ryan's Hope," took acting classes and appeared nightly in the hit Broadway musical "Grease."

But Behrens used his time off constructively.

"I took up hobbies during the time that I wasn't on the show," he says. "I learned to fly airplanes. Flying is a very concentrated hobby. Everything else in your mind disappears when you're flying."

His new hobby could even make him bi-coastal. Behrens has plans to fly solo to New York City (from California) this summer.

Taking A Case To Small Claims Court

By Attorney General Dave Armstrong
If you have a dispute involving money or personal property valued at $1,000 or less (exclusive of interest and court costs), you may file a claim with the Small Claims Division of District Court. The Small Claims Division is located in each Kentucky county. Anyone can file a claim or defend himself or herself without an attorney, although you can employ an attorney to handle your case if you wish.
Of course, it is advisable before filing a suit to contact the other party and try to resolve the dispute out of court. If settlement is reached, put all the terms of your agreement in writing and have it signed by both you and the other party.
In Small Claims Court, the two parties involved in the dispute go to court at the assigned time and tell their side of the story to the judge. The judge makes a decision based on the law governing the facts presented. No jury is present.
There is a statute of limitation concerning the time period for filing a suit which varies with the type of claim. After this period, a person cannot file suit, so if you file suit in Small Claims Court, do so immediately.

You can file your small claims complaint in the county where the person you are suing lives or does business or in the county where the transaction took place. You will be charged a filing fee at the time of filing. You must also pay for sending a copy of your claim to the defendant by certified mail or by the sheriff. (These are considered court costs, and if you win your small claims case, you may ask the judge to award these to you in addition to the amount you receive for your claim.)
Remember, the maximum amount of money for which you can sue is $1,000. Even if your claim is for more than that amount, you can choose to sue for only $1,000 rather than go through trial in another court. The amount of your claim should include both the actual amount of damage due and any extra expenses you paid because of the damage. You must be able to prove the amount of damages you are suing for.
You may appeal a decision made in Small Claims Court, but it is advisable to seek legal assistance because appeals are complicated and you want to be sure you have grounds for an appeal. You must file your notice of appeal within 10 days of the date of Small Claims judgment.
My office has developed a brochure about Small Claims Court which is available in your local county clerk's office. You may also write my Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 or call the Consumer Hotline at 1-800-432-9257.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph and Brida Caudill, of Topmost, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Tamatha Gwen, to Guy E. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgel and Glenna Brown, of Garrett, and grandson of Serge and Mary Daniels, of Garrett.
The wedding will be performed May 30 at 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul and Vivian Vanderpool, Stone Coal Road, Garrett. An outdoor wedding is planned and the custom of open invitation will be observed. A reception will follow at the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church luncheon, at Baptist Bottom, Garrett.

Vet. Representative Here

Jack D. Clark, a representative of the Kentucky Center for Veterans Affairs, will be at the National Guard Armory on Wednesday, June 3, to assist veterans and their families in making benefit claims. Office hours will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Who's Who Listing

Jill Anne Coburn, daughter of Mrs. Jeanette Coburn Hall and student at Morehead State University, has been selected as one of the country's outstanding campus leaders by the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges editorial staff.

Boone's Brother Officiated At First Kentucky Wedding

This wedding season, hundreds of couples will get married in churches across the state. The first couple to get married in Kentucky made their vows in August, 1776, and explorer Squire Boone officiated.

Boone ventured into Kentucky in 1769, looking for his older brother, the legendary Daniel Boone. Squire, a Baptist preacher, stumbled across Daniel's camp and the two wintered together in the wilderness, exploring some of the new frontier before returning to their respective homes in North Carolina.

Daniel came back to Kentucky in 1775 and built a fort along the Kentucky River at a place now called Boonesboro. After its completion, he and Squire moved their families to the fort and settled permanently. Other explorers joined them and the settlement grew.

In July, 1776, three young women, including a daughter of Daniel Boone, canoed out onto the Kentucky River.

Although the women were still in sight of the fort, Indians attacked and carried them away. Settlers pursued the Indians and within a day rescued the women.

Three weeks later Elizabeth Callaway, one of the women captured by the Indians, married Samuel Henderson, one of her rescuers. The two became the first couple married in Kentucky, and Squire had the honors.

In 1779, Squire moved his family to Louisville, and built a cabin at the mouth of Bear Grass Creek. He delivered the first recorded sermon in Louisville, and later became the first Baptist to preach in Meade county, when he spoke at a hunters' camp.

Squire Boone died in 1815 at the age of 70, in Harrison county, Ind., across the Ohio River from Brandenburg.

Prepare your child for KINDERGARTEN

State law requires that children must attend Kindergarten before entering 1st grade.

Children 5 years old before October 1, 1987 are eligible for Kindergarten. Screening for Kindergarten readiness will be held on Closing Day at your school.

Parents are to pick up packets containing entrance requirements at this time.

See your Principal for Closing Date and designated area.

Reunion After 44 Years

Determined effort and "lasting friendship" led to an unexpected reunion, this spring, when Frances Fields Crisp, of Martin, received a telephone call from the babysitter she had last seen in Craigsville, Va., in 1943. Then 14 years old, Virginia Ellinger Morris, now married and living in Michigan, had cared for Crisp's two older daughters, aged 4 and 6, while their widowed mother worked in a nearby factory.

Morris located her former employer by contacting her sister, a beautician who still lives in Craigsville, and having her ask her customers if anyone knew the whereabouts of the former Frances Fields. One of those customers proved to be Mrs. Crisp's widowed sister-in-law, who provided her current address.

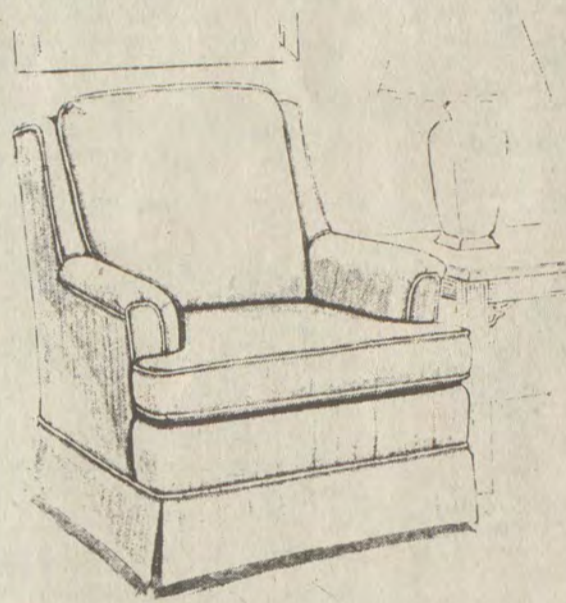

Morris has visited here twice with her husband since placing that long-distance phone call in March, renewing her friendship with Frances Crisp and her two older daughters, Phyllis Fields Centers and Patricia Fields Shepherd, both married now and living in Martin. She also brought old photographs, including the one above which shows Crisp, left, and Ellinger in 1942 or 1943.

Mrs. Crisp said that Russell Morris, Virginia's husband, was especially curious to meet her because she had written the girl's love letters to him.

Crisp also has a third daughter, Janet Rose Howard, living in Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.

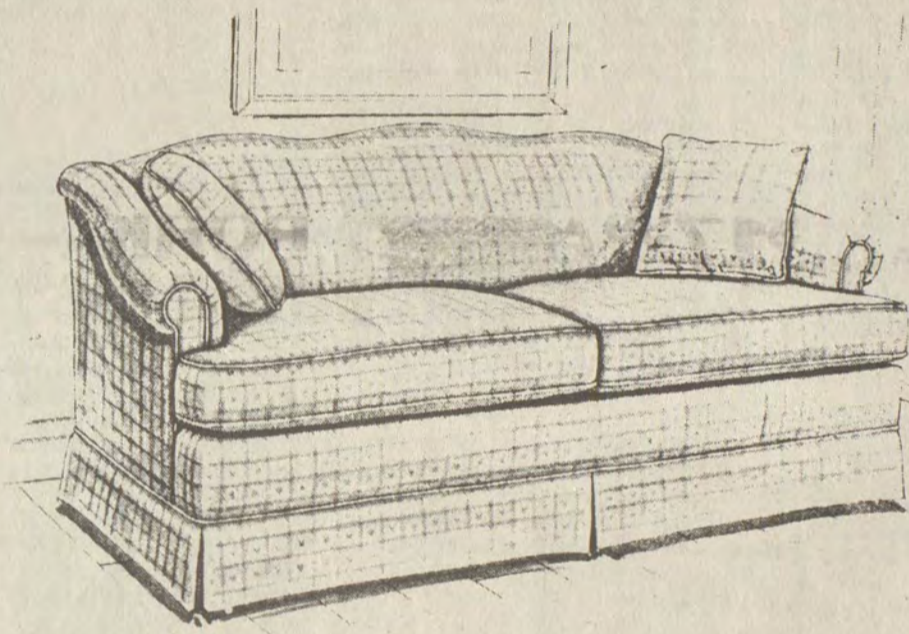

The number of women employed in executive, administrative and managerial positions jumped almost 12 percent during 1985, while employment of female machine operators, assemblers and inspectors dropped 3.7 percent, according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

State Offers Grants For School Latchkey Programs

The Kentucky Department of Education has $25,000 to award to local school districts seeking to start or expand before-school and after-school care for school-age children.

"We know that school officials and teachers share our concern for the large numbers of youngsters home alone after school—those who have been called 'latchkey' children," Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said in announcing the Dependent Care Grant Program.

"We also know that women work because they must if their families are going to survive," McDonald continued. "Unlike the old days, the extended family has disappeared and many mothers or fathers are raising children alone."

The solution, she said, is to provide supervised care and worthwhile activities for the children, ideally at or near the child's school.

Dependent Care grants are intended for schools—or for private agencies operating programs with a school district—that need small amounts of money to start or expand care before and after school.

The funds the Department of Education is allocating are part of $4.78 million in federal funds made available nationally through the new Dependent Care Grants Program. Estimates of the number of latchkey children range from 2 to 5 million across the nation. Children from age 5 to 13 are included in the statistics.

Grant application forms are being mailed to all school districts, and school officials may contact the Office of Instruction at (502) 564-3010 for more information.

Chameleons Provide Clues

American chameleons are providing clues to the origin of the Caribbean islands. According to National Wildlife magazine, these tropical lizards have been around since the first islands were formed. By studying the tiny creatures, scientists have concluded that many of the islands are far older than previously thought, dating back as far as 100 million years. They also believe the lizards weren't washed ashore from elsewhere, as has been suggested, but were descended from common ancestors that were present when the islands spread apart from larger land masses.

Engagement Announced

Teresa J. Buess, of Arcadia, O., and Mark A. Line, of Findlay, O., plan to be married July 25 at St. Andrew's United Methodist Church in Findlay. She is the daughter of Donald E. and Allene Buess, of Arcadia, and the granddaughter of Henry J. and Lucy Whitaker Hackworth, of Bonanza, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Don Buess, of Kenton, O. He is the son of Arthur and Doris Line, of Arlington, O.

The bride-elect is an accounting secretary at Whirlpool Corp. She is a 1978 graduate of Findlay High School and is attending Findlay College, studying for certification as a Certified Professional Secretary.

The groom-elect is corporate facility engineer at Cooper Tire and Rubber Co. He graduated from Arlington High School in 1975 and received a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from Ohio State University in 1980. He also received a master of business administration degree from Bowling Green State University in 1986.

She is the daughter of Sandra and Orvil Nelson, of Volga. Her maternal grandparents are Ruby and Adolph Richter, of Garrett, and her maternal great-grandmother is Rhoda Napier, of Riverview Manor Nursing Home. Paternal grandparents are Arvil and Virginia Nelson, of Prestonsburg, and paternal great-grandmother is Martha Nelson, of Prestonsburg.

Let The Picnic Season Begin!

From the American Institute for Cancer Research
Memorial Day usually marks the first major occasion of the season for family and friends to enjoy that favorite warm weather get-together—the picnic. Picnics are an all-American pastime, outings as simple or extravagant as you wish to make them.

Eating outdoors, however, doesn't mean you have to throw your nutritional good sense to the wind. Here are some healthful suggestions you'll want to consider:

*Pack some healthy appetizers—fresh fruit, or raw vegetables such as carrot sticks, celery, broccoli, mushrooms or cauliflower

*For cold meats, choose cold roasted turkey or chicken instead of high fat ham, salami or other cold cuts

*If cheese is on your menu, bring lowfat versions of your favorites

*Include a fruit and/or vegetable salad, but avoid mayonnaise or other high fat dressings

*Use whole-grain breads, muffins and rolls

*For dessert, fresh fruits of the season are a natural, sweet ending to a sumptuous meal

For some healthful tips on barbecues and outdoor cooking, write for the free Outdoor Cooking booklet. Send a stamped, self-addressed, business-sized envelope to American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. OCC, Washington, D.C. 20069.

The following recipes provide some lowfat ideas for preparing picnic favorites:

LOWFAT POTATO SALAD

A one-cup serving of most traditional potato salads may have as much fat as six parts of margarine, but this recipe offers old fashioned flavor with much less fat and calories. Or use the idea here in your favorite potato salad recipe: just cut the usual amount of mayonnaise in half, use plain yogurt for the remainder, and add lemon juice.

- 4 medium boiling potatoes
- 3 scallions
- 1 1/2 tsp dried parsley
- 2 tbsp mayonnaise
- 3 tbsp plain lowfat yogurt
- 1-1 1/2 tsp Dijon mustard (or to taste)
- Dash of salt
- 1/2-1 tsp lemon juice

Boil unpeeled potatoes until just tender but firm (about 15-20 minutes). Meanwhile, stir together in a small bowl parsley, mayonnaise, yogurt, mustard, salt and lemon juice.

When potatoes are done, cool under cold water, peel, and cut into bite-size chunks. Stir together with scallions and dressing while still warm. Cool until serving time.

This recipe will produce about 4 servings of one cup. Each will contain about 125 calories and 6 grams of fat.

BARBECUED CHICKEN

Whether baked in the oven or cooked on the grill, chicken prepared with this mild, tasty barbeque sauce is sure to be a favorite for a great summer meal.

- 1 3-lb broiler chicken, in serving pieces, skin removed
- 1/2 cup red wine vinegar
- 2 tbsp Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/4 cup catsup
- 1/2 tsp pepper
- 1 1/4 tsp dry mustard
- 1 tsp paprika
- 1 dash Tabasco sauce
- 1/2 cup onion, thinly sliced

If planning to barbecue the chicken on a grill, parboil the pieces, prior to marinating by simmering them in one inch of water, covered, for 15-20 minutes. (If planning to bake in oven, this is not necessary.)

In 13" x 9" x 2" baking dish, mix together all ingredients except chicken and onion. Stir in onion. Drain chicken and place in single layer in baking dish. Spoon sauce over chicken, cover and marinate in refrigerator at least 30 minutes, preferably overnight.

If baking in an oven, place in 350 degree oven and bake, covered, for 45 minutes or until chicken is tender. Occasionally spoon marinade over chicken.

If grilling, drain the marinade from the chicken and cook on a grill using the marinade for a basting sauce.

This will yield 4 servings, each with 7 grams of fat and 256 calories.

("Good Food/Good Health" is provided by the American Institute for Cancer Research, Washington, D.C. 20069. Recipes are reviewed by Karen Collins, M.S., R.D.)

Spurlock Term Ends, Smith Named To Board

Burl Spurlock, president of First Commonwealth Bank in Prestonsburg, was honored last week for his service over the past year as chairman of the board of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Spurlock was honored at the Kentucky Chamber's annual Directors Banquet in Owensboro. East Fischer, of Western Kentucky Gas in Owensboro, succeeds spurlock as chairman of the board.

In addition, William Smith, president of R & S Truck Body Company in Allen, was one of 19 new directors of the Kentucky Chamber who began three-year terms.

"It's been a great year," said spurlock. "I'm proud of what we accomplished, especially for the record growth in member firms. We gained about 25 percent more members in the last year. That shows the Kentucky Chamber's momentum."

Parental Concerns Part Of KET Summer Lineup

Parenting is one of the toughest jobs people ever face. It leaves many adults unsure and frustrated.

This summer KET will feature six series focusing on the concerns faced by parents of young children: discipline, fear, preparing for school, nutrition, individuality, responsibility, stepparents and others.

An hour is devoted each day during the KET Summer Daytime Schedule to programs for parents and child care providers. The programs air Monday through Friday beginning at 1:30 p.m. and start June 8.

When "Footsteps" premiered on KET in 1978, it was called "an achievement for educational television" and "a tremendous educational experience for parents of all ages...and for children also." The program was praised by educators, parents and community leaders. It features families from varying economic and ethnic backgrounds coping with problems common to many parents. (Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 1:30/12:30 p.m. CT).

"Prime Time For Parents" is for parents, future parents, professionals and anyone who cares about children. The series features parents talking to parents, "grown-ups" kids talking about their parents in spontaneous discussion, and dramatizations of parents and children interacting. "Self Worth in Children and Parents" and "Parents Are Human Too" are two of the 10 program topics featured. (Mondays at 2:00 p.m.).

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

85-CI-856 The First Commonwealth Bank of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, Plaintiff VS: NOTICE OF SALE Gary and Evelyn Debbie Allen; The Administrator of the Small Business Administration, an Agency of the Government of the United States of America; Edwin Meece and Floyd County, Kentucky, Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the April 28 term, 1987, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 11 day of June, 1987, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of three (3) months, the following described property, to-wit:

BEING the same property conveyed to Gary and Evelyn Debbie Allen by Warranty Deed from the Most Reverend William A. Hughes, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Covington, Kentucky, dated October 20, 1982, and said deed is recorded in the office of the Floyd County Clerk, Floyd County, Kentucky, in Deed Book 272, page 259, and the property being more particularly described as follows:

BEING lots numbers 9 and 10 in Block NO. "I" in New Martin Addition to Town of Martin in Floyd County Clerk's Office Book 62, page 223, as shown on map filed as #424 on October 9, 1922, based on survey of Townsel Combs, Engineer, Langley, Ky. on October 7, 1922, having approximate frontage of 25 feet each and depth of 100 feet.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $45,613.07, accrued interest of $3280.39 and interest thereon at 12% annually from the 28 day of April, 1987 until satisfied, and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 22 day of May, 1987. MARSHALL DAVIDSON, Master Commissioner. 5-27-3t.

Week of May 31-June 6, 1987

ARIES (March 21-April 20) Important news may be delayed at work. Concentrate on areas where you can exercise some control.

TAURUS (April 21-May 20) Mental restrictions are lifted. Proceed with confidence in creative and artistic matters.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You may feel rather put upon at work. This could simply be circumstantial. Do not take the situation personally.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You are in charge of your life. Associates will be cooperative and supportive. This is a good time to make an important decision.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Domestic relationships are stressed. You will discover that family members can offer sympathy and support.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Financial obligations may require your immediate attention. Do not put things off or the situation will interfere with other areas of your life.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Make preparations for a spontaneous celebration. Take this time to enjoy yourself and participate in social activities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Break away from stale ideas and expand your mental abilities. Attend a class or lecture that will stimulate a new way of thinking.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Social disappointments may leave you feeling lonely and restless. Focus your energy on career matters.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Maintain a low profile at work. Do not draw attention to yourself or be controversial.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You need a change of scenery. Plan to visit friends and relatives who live at a distance.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) A well-meaning friend could interfere with some domestic issues. Be tactful, yet cautious in offering information.

Honored At 90 Years

A birthday dinner was given on May 3 for Cal King, celebrating his 90th birthday. The occasion took place in the yard of Rebecca King and Marcelline Freeman.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Manns, of Churubusco, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Watson Combs, of Viper; Mr. and Mrs. Richard King, of Butler, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter, of Stanville; Minnie Graham, of Winchester; Elise Stamper, of Cynthia; Sheila and Kim Stamper, of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Troy King, of Phelps; Carol Stanley, of Bypro; Mr. and Mrs. Gale Moore, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Burke; Mr. and Mrs. Clem Stambaugh; Mr. and Mrs. Bill King, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold King, of Morehead; Mae B. Martin; Elder and Mrs. Richard Crisp, of Banner; Ora Reynolds; Boyd and Onda Lee Halbrook; Juanita Hager Fraley; Inez Livingston; Kim Rose; Rosalie and Amanda Rose; and Charley Crace.

Cal King received many gifts, as well as cards from President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan and U.S. Rep. Carl C. Perkins. After the birthday dinner, a decorated cake was served by Rebecca King.

While visiting here for the birthday celebration, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Moore, of Richmond, also visited Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Freeman. Mrs. Moore is the granddaughter of Cal King. Gale Moore made videotapes of the birthday party.

Graduate From U of L

Two from Floyd were among some 1400 graduates to receive degrees during the University of Louisville's 1987 commencement on Sunday, May 17.

Receiving juris doctor degrees were Stephen Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Boyd, of Banner, and Charla McNally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. McNally, of Trimble Branch.

McNally, a graduate of Prestonsburg High School, has a bachelor of arts from the University of Kentucky; Boyd is a 1977 graduate of Betsy Layne High School.

Plan Would Remove Children From Jails

A plan to remove children from adult jails in Kentucky has been approved by Gov. Martha Layne Collins. Under the proposal from the Kentucky Juvenile Justice Commission $600,000 in federal funds will be spent on innovative programs to provide alternatives to jailing juveniles, particularly minor offenders and runaways, Collins noted.

"The commission has done an excellent job of outlining ways to conform with the new Juvenile Code that I supported in the 1986 General Assembly. It is important that children in trouble be quickly placed in supportive surroundings rather than in jails where they may be led into worse trouble," Collins asserted.

The commission, headed by state Justice Secretary Norma Miller, also noted that children held in local jails are at risk for injury from other inmates and suicide attempts.

Under the proposal: $410,000 would be spent on establishing regional detention centers and alternatives to jail such as temporary group homes, runaway programs, home detention and temporary foster homes.

$100,000 would hire additional people to work with local communities on these alternative programs.

$25,000 would fund a conference of local officials and juvenile justice experts to work on solutions to jailing children.

COMPLETES COURSE

Pvt. Michael E. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Hall, of Teaberry, has completed a combat engineer course at the U.S. Army Training Center at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He is a 1983 graduate of Betsy Layne High School.

Monogamy in The Animal Kingdom

Monogamy may seem admirable to Western traditionalists, but in the animal kingdom a long-term relationship with a member of the opposite sex is uncommon. According to National Wildlife magazine, a bimonthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation, only three or four percent of all mammal species practice monogamy. Moreover, laboratory experiments are showing that many monogamous mammals will cheat on their partners, given the opportunity.

Coyotes, wolves, and most other members of the dog family are monogamous, and so are many rodents, including the beaver, muskrat, and a few species of moles. Other mammals on the list include some primates, shrews, bats, antelope, and others. Mammal species that practice monogamy are greatly outnumbered by monogamous birds, but mammals tend to practice a more rigorous form of loyalty. Many birds, especially small ones like sparrows, remain attached to their mates only for a season. Monogamous mammals, however, usually mate for life.

Considering the evolutionary advantages of having multiple sex partners, scientists are interested in why animals become monogamous. Sometimes the answer appears to involve territory. Elephant shrews, for example, pair up to defend their food supply, driving out all other male and female rivals. Before long, the sole remaining male and female learn to tolerate each other in what one expert calls "monogamy by default."

The costs of motherhood may also help explain an unusual phenomenon found mostly among monogamous mammals: fathers that care for their young. Few males will help rear young whose paternity is in question. But if a male knows he is definitely the father, he is more willing to invest in the offspring.

Some researchers, however, question whether monogamous species form truly exclusive relationships. Captive wolves, coyotes, and monogamous monkeys do not hesitate to engage in what biologists delicately call "extra pair copulations." In the wild, the chance of such engagements is limited, either because no other potential mates are available, or because a jealous mate is close at hand. "It's enforced monogamy, as compared to true monogamy," says ethologist Fred Harrington of Canada's Mount Saint Vincent University. "If a wolf or coyote gets the opportunity to fool around, it will."

If the grounds for monogamy are shaky among wild animals, among humans they were virtually unknown until recently. Patricia Wright, an anthropologist with Duke University's Primate Center, observes that 87 percent of the human cultures on this planet are not monogamous. "And if you look at the traits common among monogamous mammals," she says, "people just don't fit the mold." Devra Kleiman, assistant director for research at the National Zoo, concludes that monogamy is just a "cultural overlay" peculiar to Western society. She says that "we have an apparently monogamous system with behavioral correlates more appropriate to polygamy."

To at least one researcher, however, humans would be well advised to emulate some of their wild cousins. Ron Tilson, a biologist with the Minnesota Zoo, notes, "Monogamous mammals never get tired of each other, they never fight, there's no such thing as desertion. Somehow, we haven't evolved the right social attributes yet to keep the male and female in that kind of harmony."

Raise Funds For Play Equipment

New playground equipment was installed at Wayland Elementary during April. The students raised funds to purchase a merry-go-round and sliding board, according to Principal Gwen Harmon.
