

Wilkinson Wins by Landslide In Democratic Sweep of State

By B.A. Heinze

Wallace Wilkinson, who pulled off a surprise primary defeat of John Young Brown, Jr., yesterday attained the victory he had promised over John Harper. With a light vote reported in most parts of the state, the entire Democratic slate of candidates was elected with a reported 50% or less of registered voters casting their ballot.

In Floyd county the voting totals were unofficially as follows:

Governor—Wallace G. Wilkinson (D) 6,834; John Harper (R) 1,315.

Lieutenant Governor—Brereton Jones (D) 6,229; Lawrence R. Webster (R) 1,255.

Secretary of State—Bremer Ehrler (D) 5,848; Ronald L. Sanders (R) 1,059.

Light Vote Over State Is Talled

Attorney General—Fred Cowan (D) 6,047; Christopher S. Combs (R) 1,062.
Auditor of Public Accounts—Bob Babbage (D) 6,113; Beverly Griffin (R) 948.
State Treasurer—Robert Mead C.P.A. (D) 5,981; Carol W. Reed (R) 1,090.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—John Brock (D) 6,407; Sue Daniel (R) 829.

Commissioner of Agriculture—Ward "Butch" Burnette (D) 5,951; John Underwood, Jr. (R) 996.

Railroad Commissioner—J. E. Combs (D) 6,053; G. L. "Dusty" Rhodes (R) 940.

Commonwealth's Attorney—Jerry Patton (D) unopposed 6,524.

Circuit Clerk—Frank DeRossett (D) unopposed 6,582.

Write-in votes were recorded for James R. Allen, David Hereford, John Young Brown, Jr., Grady Stumbo, Oliver North with one each.

The city council race in Prestonsburg results are as follows:

*Charles G. Hale, 533; Henry Lewis Mayo, 161; *William R. (Bill) Callihan, 563; *Jim Yates, 581; *Adrian Blackburn, 576; Gary D. Brown, 500; *Paul E. Joseph, 665; Douglas Howes, 477; Thomas (Rube) Tackett, 475; *William O. Goebel, III, 549; Timothy R. Hites, 361; Linzie Hale, 208; *Danny H. Hamilton, 602; Robert (Pig) Goodman, 378; *Michael D. Vance, 502. The top eight denoted by asterisk will serve as councilmen here for the next two years.

At Wheelwright, the vote for City Commissioners was as follows:

Jerry Tackett, 111; Dennis Harris, 158; Larry Joe (Julius) Mullins, 165; Dennis Holbrook, 164; Delmas R. Johnson, 89; Bobby R. Terry, 16; Oval Pack, 153; Glen Thornsberry, 107; Elva Wnek, 70; Alfred Rhea, 109.

Elected were Dennis Holbrook, Dennis Harris, Larry Joe (Julius) Mullins, and Oval Pack.

THINGS WERE QUIET AND VOTERS FEW at most polling places in the county yesterday. Even two city races failed to bring out a heavy vote.

Three Jailed For Roadblock On Left Beaver

By Tim Sizemore

Hallowe'en revelry got out of hand last Friday night when several Wheelwright men decided to set up a roadblock at Bypro.

Darren Green and Jackie Hall were charged with disorderly conduct, and Ronnie Branham for carrying a concealed deadly weapon after they blocked the main road and proceeded to stop motorists and harass them. Among those stopped was a Sheldon Clark bus returning from a ballgame.

Deputies Randy Johnson and Harold Johnson were called and the men placed under arrest. Johnson said that one of the men had allegedly caused damage to a nearby structure.

In the meantime, the deputies received a call about a disturbance on Branham's Creek, and they contacted the State Police who took the three into custody.

Each of the men were jailed and later released on bond.

THE WINNAH! WALLACE WILKINSON was here last Thursday to meet and mix with those attending a rally held at the high school.

Stumbo Says Chances Are Good To Alter Worker's Comp Bill

By Tim Sizemore

About 50 independent coal operators attended a meeting here, Monday night, to discuss with state representatives Greg Stumbo, of Floyd county, Clayton Little and Herbie Deskins, of Pike county, and Bill Strong, of Perry county, the new Workman's Compensation bill passed by the legislature in special session, recently.

The meeting, held at the Holiday Inn, here, was sponsored by the Knott-Letcher-Perry Independent Coal Operators Association to consider ways of changing the recently enacted law and of coming up with viable alternative plans.

Under House Bill 1 production costs will rise about 50¢ per ton on underground coal, and small operators say that it will put them out of business. Speaking of the special session of the legislature, Representative Stumbo said it was the roughest session he has yet attended, adding that the majority of legislators are hostile to the coal industry. Under the present bill as many as 300 independent operators would have to shut down, he said, while the big operators such as MapCo and Peabody would feel hardly any effect. The small operator is being unfairly taxed, he said, because small business leaders around the state are convinced that we are villains who have not paid our fair share.

Actually, he said, the coal industry which brings in revenue of $500,000 a day is by far Kentucky's largest industry and should be treated with respect.

Representative Clayton Little, of Pike county, says that the operators need to "tell us what we need to do" and says that solidarity and cooperation is needed among small operators. Rep. Stumbo told the gathering that if there was to be a "glimmer of hope, we need the support of the small coal operators."

Explaining the workings of the new bill, Stumbo said that workers who could show functional impairment could continue to work and receive 425 weeks of benefits. He says that the bill actually pays people to continue working.

He plans to present an alternative to House Bill 1 in the January session of the legislature, by proposing that the coal industry pay a straight maximum ceiling rate of 40¢ per ton of coal mined. He says that this proposal would not only take (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

Bubblegum Bandit Takes Charity Cash, Machine

By Tim Sizemore

It was a sticky situation at the Floyd county Courthouse last Thursday when a bubblegum machine was reported missing from the hallway near the county court clerk's office.

Harry Bergland, who assists his wife in the operation of the Harold Vending Company, reported the gumball machine missing to Sheriff's Deputy George Hale.

Janitors at the courthouse told Bergland that Friday before last, a well dressed man who appeared to be in his early 50's, entered the building and removed the gumball machine after unlocking it with a key. The stranger then proceeded to leave with the change in a box and the machine under his arm.

The culprit, who was well-dressed, left in an old yellow BMW with a black fender that he had parked in the space for handicapped in front of the courthouse.

The janitors saw no reason for suspicion because of the man's air of authority, and the crime was not discovered until last Thursday when Bergland came to pick up the money, which he estimated at $20.00.

Bergland says that all he wants is his machine back, which costs $600. He said it's like taking candy from a baby, because the money is for the Cancer Society and other charities.

Bergland can't understand why anyone would steal a red, white and blue gumball machine, "It just doesn't make sense," he says.

Deputy George Hale says that he is going to stick to the trail until the bubblegum bandit is brought to justice.

Hueysville Tipple Given State's Conditional Nod

By Tim Sizemore

Despite opposition of Hueysville residents to the reopening of a tipple in their midst, state officials have given their conditional approval to the C.C. Craft heirs to resume operation of their dormant processing plant.

The State Department for Surface Mining, Reclamation and Enforcement has ruled that the permit application of Glen Craft, of Springfield, is technically correct, despite a history of violations and community opposition.

Rondal Hayes, Church of Christ minister who assists with the new church at Hueysville, says that "One group of citizens must abide by the law, but another group can do as they please." His wife, Irene Hayes, active in the fight against the tipple, believes that it is just another example of the state's calousness toward a community when big money is involved.

The tipple, which is situated in the middle of the small community, has caused many problems in the past. Among those are excessive coal dust which at times has shrouded the town in a black fog, traffic congestion caused by coal trucks lining up to unload, and noise which at times is unbearable according to Talmadge Allen, whose home is nearby.

The tipple may reopen because of a 1984 ruling by a Federal judge which stated that the 1977 Federal Strip Mine Law applies to processing plants as well as mines and that a tipple can operate because of "pre-existing rights."

Mrs. Hayes counters this argument by pointing out that the facility had only been a coal loading ramp at the time the law was passed and that the coal processing plant had been installed without obtaining a proper permit. Therefore she said that the plant should not be said to have pre-existing rights.

Hayes points out that it would be unbearable to the small community if the plant were to reopen. She said that the mess and noise would ruin property values and destroy all the residents had worked for in a cloud of black dust.

Hazardous Waste Watch Committee Is Named Here

By Tim Sizemore

A local committee has been established under the Super Fund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986, to inform the public about hazardous waste being stored or transported through their area.

The Kentucky Emergency Response Commission has set up local 15-member committees in each of the 120 counties to deal with hazardous waste being stored or transported through their respective counties.

The committees, besides being aware of hazardous materials being transported or stored, also must plan escape routes in the event of an emergency.

TUESDAY NIGHT FOREST FIRES were uncomfortably close and burning intensely in woodlands surrounding Prestonsburg. City firemen joined in the effort to contain one fire which threatened several homes in the West Prestonsburg area.

Outdoor Burning Banned As Forest Fires Spread

By B.A. Heinze

Forest rangers and firefighters were out all weekend battling the nine fires threatening hundreds of acres of the county's woodlands, and although the continued dry weather plus an unusual warm spell has done little to allay fears of continued fire, these burning this weekend had all been 'contained' except one in the Toler Creek area, Monday.

A new fire spotted by an observation plane was reported burning behind the Prater school, and the fire on Toler Creek was said to be burning over an area of 25 acres, more or less, Monday morning.

At Wayland, a fire which spread into that area from Knott county had burned over about 75 acres, and fires were under control at both Hi Hat and Martin, Friday, as was the one on Middle Creek.

District Ranger Joe Ferguson explained that contained means that although the fire is not out, it is being kept within a certain area and is not expected to spread.

Two of six National Guard helicopters, equipped with water buckets, were assigned to the Prestonsburg forestry district during the weekend and continued their flights Tuesday. Two helicopters each were also assigned to the Hazard and Pineville districts.

Outdoor burning has been banned in Floyd county as it has in 32 other Eastern Kentucky counties. The total ban was imposed here, effective Friday, at the request of the Division of Forestry and will continue until the forest fire danger is considered past, usually in December. Fines range from $50 to $500 for ban violations.

Although outdoor burning contributes to the number of forest fires, most are of unknown origin which in most cases means they have been deliberately set, according to a forestry spokesman.

Despite drought conditions which are worse in the central part of the state, most of the forest fires reported have been in Eastern Kentucky's wooded hills. And this week, the helicopters continued to dump water, and forest rangers and volunteers were growing weary with their continued vigil.

Joy Ride Takes Two To Detention Center

By B.A. Heinze

A joy ride from Abbott Creek to Greenup wound up without much joy for two juveniles, two car owners, and the manager of a convenience mart at Paintsville.

It all started Thursday evening when two youths, students at Prestonsburg High School, 'borrowed' a car on Abbott Creek. They noticed the tank was low on gas and filled up at the SuperAmerica in Paintsville. The only problem there was that they forgot to pay. The two, one from David, the other from Auxier, had no problem until they reached Greenup where the car broke down. Thereupon, the two 'borrowed' another car, a '77 Chevy Nova belonging to Patsy Wallen, RIVERVIEW MANOR administrator Charlotte Slone (left) and director of nursing, Rita Rambler, display the 1987 Facility of the Year trophy awarded them by the KAHCF.

Riverview Manor here, received the 1987 Eastern District and State Facility of the Year Award at the Kentucky Association of Health Care Facilities (KAHCF) Annual Awards Banquet October 27, at The Galt East in Louisville. Charlotte Slone is administrator of the 121-bed facility, which was selected over 18 other competing nursing homes throughout Kentucky. Professionals outside the nursing home industry judged the competing facilities based on the quality of staff, patient care, physical plant/grounds upkeep and documented facility goals and objectives.

"Our Association is proud to have Charlotte and her staff representing Kentucky's nursing home industry during the upcoming year," said KAHCF President Mary Ousley. "They are truly committed to the teamwork approach in meeting the physical, mental, social and spiritual needs of their patients at Riverview Manor."

KAHCF is the trade association which represents 232 licensed proprietary and nonproprietary nursing homes in Kentucky.

NAR Reports Resales Continue To Rise

The national sales rate of previously-owned homes rose marginally from August to September, with residential real estate activity apparently unhampered by the rise in mortgage interest rates during that month, according to analysts for the National Association of Realtors.

The association's monthly resale report showed that the seasonally adjusted annual sales rate of existing single-family homes was 3.45 million units in September, rising 1.2 percent from the rate of 3.41 million units recorded in August. The report includes resales of detached homes and town homes.

"It looks as though we are seeing buying activity similar to that of late spring, only on a smaller scale. When interest rates start heading up, the procrastinators tend to make their purchases," said NAR President William M. Moore.

According to mortgage market surveys from the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp., the average commitment rate for fixed-rate, 30-year mortgages was 10.63 percent during the first week in September. By the end of the month, that rate had risen to 11.18 percent.

"The slight increase in the resale rate last month shows a market seemingly unaffected by the rise in rates. We expect that in October, sales of existing homes will be down, as the effect of September's higher rates is felt," Dr. John A. Tuccillo, NAR's chief economist, said. A slack-off of buying by people either priced out of the market or by those postponing purchases often shows up as a slightly delayed reaction to higher mortgage rates.

However, he said the recent drop in stock market prices likely will have the immediate effect of causing some stock investors to switch to bond market investments, resulting in a temporary lowering of interest rates. "The current fall in interest rates, which has resulted from the stock market plunge, should provide a stimulus for home sales and housing starts during the fourth quarter of the year," Tuccillo said. The U.S. Department of Commerce reported last week that housing starts rose 4.4 percent from August to September to an annual pace of 1.67 million units.

We were provided with so much love and care from admission to discharge. We were made to feel as if we were the only patients in the hospital and at no time did this feeling ever slightly subside. It was a special place in my heart that always be a special place in my heart. The most medical professional that I have ever met very basically, "she is the best at what she does and you can count on her." After delivery, I let her know that I "loved" her and since I do not speak in English, I truly (and myself) by the Central Baptist Hospital.

The major part of any hospital experience is the nursing care. Whether you are in Intensive Care, OB/GYN, Outpatient Surgery, Oncology, Pediatrics, Cardiac Care or General Medical/Surgical, the professionalism, understanding, compassion and devotion of our Central Baptist nurses will make all the difference to your stay. ### Mrs. Maud Hatcher on 100th Birthday

Mrs. W. T. (Maud) Hatcher, of Hindman, formerly of Lackey, recently observed her 100th birthday.

GFWC/KFWC Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club president, Mrs. Louise West, and four of her club members went to Hindman, recently, to attend the open house honoring Mrs. W. T. (Maud) Hatcher on her 100th birthday. Mrs. Hatcher is one of two remaining charter members of the club.

Mrs. Hatcher, affectionately known to her friends and sister club members as "Granny," is wellknown throughout the area for her beautiful quilts which have been on display in many cities, including our nation's capital. For many of her 61 years as a club member she was the leader in the making of quilts for the club to sell to raise funds for its various community projects. Her industry and faithfulness, as well as her always pleasant disposition, were a constant inspiration to the other club members.

Mrs. Hatcher's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Tom (Lassia) Hatcher, visiting from Florida, herself a former club member, and Mrs. Beckham (Virginia) Combs, the elder Mrs. Hatcher's daughter with whom she resides in Hindman, served cake and coffee to the club members, Mrs. Lula Coburn, Mrs. Marie Mullins, Mrs. Maxine Martin, Mrs. Libby Martin, and Mrs. West.

Homeowners Urged...

Have Furnace, Chimney Checked By Contractor

Government safety experts are cautioning homeowners to have home central heating systems inspected this fall, even though the heat has already been turned on.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, consumers should rely on a qualified heating contractor to check the system. Regardless of the age of your system, electrical and mechanical components, including valves, thermostat controls and automatic safety switches, should be inspected. Special attention should be paid to heavy soot buildup in the furnace or its venting system.

While venting systems are not always examined during routine servicing, consumers should ask the contractor to inspect the flue and chimney. Blockages can be caused by mortar and other materials loosening from chimney walls, bird nests or other debris. Chimneys and flues should be clear at all times so exhaust gases, including carbon monoxide (CO), are properly vented outside the home. Flue and flue connections should be checked for a tight, secure fitting, and for signs of rust or corrosion which could allow exhaust gases to spill into the house.

CPSC said carbon monoxide exposure in the home is of special concern. Consumers exposed to harmful levels of CO often show symptoms similar to having flu-like illnesses, including dizziness, fatigue, headaches, irregular breathing and nausea. Exposure to continued high levels of carbon monoxide could be fatal. CPSC estimates that some 200 deaths occur each year from carbon monoxide associated with gas heating equipment.

Homeowners who have recently converted their heating system from oil to gas also were cautioned by CPSC to have the chimney inspected. After converting to gas, soot and debris which may have accumulated over the years on chimney walls may loosen and fall; if enough falls, it could block the exhaust and cause a buildup of dangerous levels of exhaust fumes in the house. If the heating contractor finds soot in the flue, a chimney sweep should be called to clean the chimney and flue each fall until no more soot is detected.

If you plan on converting from oil to gas heat, have the chimney inspected when the new furnace is installed, and annually thereafter.

Winn-Dixie Joins Fight Against Drugs

Deciding to take a major role in the fight against drug abuse, Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), has produced a 14-minute VHS video tape entitled "The Right Choice," according to A. Dano Davis, president of Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc. The tape will be available to the public free of charge through all 1,273 stores in the Winn-Dixie chain.

Contents of the tape realistically portray today's peer pressure to experiment with illegal drugs placed on our nation's youth, especially children 9-12 years old. It makes one important point: "Just Say No." The tape reinforces the familiar national theme of the same name currently championed by first lady Nancy Reagan.

Winn-Dixie was responsible for producing the tape, and will make copies of it available to the public through all of its stores.

The tape also will be distributed free to school systems and library systems in every community in which the retailer is located.

The video tape may be purchased or rented from the National Audio Visual Center, 8700 Edgeworth Drive, Capitol Heights, Maryland, 20743-3701—Phone (301) 763-1850—by those who are not in areas serviced by Winn-Dixie.

Financial Consultant

Midland National Life Insurance Company, of Sioux Falls, S.D., has announced that Larry D. Newman, CLU, Regional Sales Director for the State of Kentucky, has earned the Chartered Financial Consultant (ChFC) diploma and designation from The American College, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

The ChFC program provides professionals with the knowledge, skills and credentials needed to serve clients' financial planning needs. The program provides knowledge of the financial services business environment and the financial planning process, as well as understanding of such subjects as tax planning, economics, financial statement analysis, insurance, investments, real estate, wealth accumulation, and estate and gift tax planning.

Candidates for ChFC certification must complete a prescribed program of study and examinations, and fulfill stringent experience and ethical requirements.

Newman is regional sales director for Midland National Life Insurance Company, president-elect of The Lexington Association of Life Underwriters and a regional director for the Kentucky Association of Life Underwriters.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Newman, of Grethel.

of Wurland, and started the return trip home.

Friday morning one was apprehended near the Piggly Wiggly store, here, by Captain Dickie Campbell and Patrolman Jim Mullins, of the Prestonsburg Police Department. Later, the other was taken into custody, and the case was turned over to the State Police who are also investigating a prior complaint involving the two, who are being held in the Juvenile Detention Center.

Both, no doubt, have time there to reflect on the dangers of life in the fast lane.

Pikeville College Hosts Coal Industry Workshop

Number 32 in a series of Coal Preparation Workshops will be held at Pikeville College's Armington Science Center, Saturday, November 7. Registration starts at 8 a.m., and the sessions will begin at 8:25 a.m., with adjournment about noon.

John T. Cantwell, of John T. Cantwell Limited, Cincinnati, Ohio, will present a program on "Computer Modeling Simulation Prep Plant Process," and Shannon Gallion, of Nalco Chemical Company, Jenkins, will discuss the Automated Floc System.

These workshops are for persons interested in coal preparation and are sponsored by the Central Appalachian Coal Preparation Society and Pikeville College. For additional information, call Ben Ward, Pikeville College, at 606-432-9362; Jim Cavis, Buckhorn Equipment Company, at 606-439-5871; Gary Spears, McCoy Elkhorn, at 606-835-2022; or Bill Strang, Westmoreland Coal Company, at 703-523-4000.

BOTH THE DRIVER and a passenger escaped from this wreckage with their lives. Members of the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad were called to the scene just past the turnoff to Garrett on Rt. 80, Thursday morning. Captain Chuck Akers said this was the longest and most difficult task the squad has ever had in getting someone out of a vehicle. The driver, Oliver Smith, was extricated by cutting the top from the Volkswagen. Both Smith and an unidentified passenger, though hospitalized, are expected to recover.

Ten Years Ago

(November 2, 1977)

A $2.8 million housing project was officially approved in Louisville last Thursday at a meeting of local housing officials, the Housing and Urban Development Administration (HUD) and the contractor. Work will begin on the 80-unit Highland Terrace for housing of the elderly and handicapped, soon. Voters of the county next Tuesday will elect a full slate of county officials and decide if they do or do not want a convention called to revise or amend the present state constitution. Help for elderly, handicapped and low-income families whose homes were damaged by last April's flood is being offered by a new agency established here. Martin county filed its case for a KY 40 corridor at a meeting in Frankfort last week with Kentucky and West Virginia highway officials and neighboring counties at the same time filed their preferences, each urging the route to connect with US 23 to their advantage. Ceremonies held Saturday morning at the Floyd County Juvenile Detention Center-Courthouse Annex here marked the official dedication of the new structure, the second such facility of its type in Southeastern Kentucky. There died: Linzie Crum, 77, of Wayland, Wednesday dead on arrival at Our Lady of the Way Hospital; Mrs. Viola Allen Haywood, 50, formerly of West Prestonsburg, Thursday in a Gainesville, Florida hospital; Mrs. Hazel D. Kirk, 69, formerly of Emma, Saturday, October 22, St. Joseph's Hospital, Louisville; Mrs. Rosie Endicott Woods, 66, of Woods Branch, Cow Creek, Tuesday, October 25, at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Edgar Boyd, 78, formerly of Floyd county, last Thursday at his Pritchard, W. Va., home; Mrs. Della Johnson Smith, 60, of Weeksbury, Tuesday October 25, at Methodist Hospital in Pikeville; Emmitt Howell, 51, of Teaberry, Friday at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital; Arthur (Ott) Campbell, 64, of Water Gap, Saturday at Mountain Manor Nursing Home; Sam Crider, 56, of Stratton Branch, Monday at his home; Hardy Kelley, 72, of Otway, Ohio, Tuesday, October 25, in Cincinnati, Ohio VA Hospital.

Twenty Years Ago

(November 2, 1967)

John T. Hill, engineer for the Mud Creek Water District, said Monday the district will submit its application for construction grant and loan to the EDA in about two weeks. The Floyd County Comprehensive Health Program is moving ahead of the anticipated date of actually starting to give service to the residents of the county, Dr. R. L. Hall, medical director, said this week. Addition of two permanent structures to the Prestonsburg Community College as a part of long-range campus development will be begun early next year, it was said. Rights to natural gas service in the Town of Allen, New Allen and Dwale were settled Monday by agreed order in circuit court here. Married: Miss Barbara Jean Williams, of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Dan E. Bingham, of Ypsilanti, Mich., Oct. 14 at Ann Arbor; Miss Linda Carol Slone, of Wayland, and Larry Gene Ward, Sept. 23 at Paintsville. There died: Columbus Henry (Pid) Lynch, 86, last Thursday at Betsy Layne; Mrs. Abbie Borders, 55, of Wayland, Monday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional hospital; Charley Bentley, 61, formerly of Floyd county, Tuesday at Columbus, Ohio; Will Hunt, 69, Saturday at his home at Ivel; Mrs. Rose M. Butler, 80, of Ironton, O., Monday in Lawrence county, Ohio; Mrs. Usdie Younce, 82, Monday at her home at Melvin; F. G. McGuire, 83, of Cedar Bluff, Va., formerly of Prestonsburg, Tuesday at Richlands, Virginia.

Thirty Years Ago

(October 31, 1957)

The state of Kentucky this week assumed control of all operations at Dewey Lake except the dam itself. A third pipeline blast was reported Wednesday night in the Turkey Creek section, near Maytown, and is apparently related to a strike which presently affects Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Co. operations. Modernization of United Fuel Gas Company's Beaver Creek compressor station near Maytown, is approximately 75 per cent complete. Prestonsburg high and grade schools were closed Wednesday and the scheduled Halloween Carnival postponed due to the Asian flu epidemic. Floyd county's need for doctors is one of the worst in the state a recent survey has determined. The third polio case reported from one section of Mud Creek and the fourth reported in the county in the last few weeks was brought to the Crippled Children's Clinic here, Tuesday. Floyd county's longest and perhaps most hectic political campaign will be climaxed next Tuesday writing its finish with their ballots at the 62 voting precincts of the county. "The coal business is bad right now," one large Floyd county operator said this week after noting that prices and demand had been skidding for the past six weeks. There died: John W. Weddington, 30, of Banner, Saturday in the wreck of a gravel truck he was driving between Manton and Martin; Lee Fitzpatrick, 80, Wednesday at his home on Middle Creek; Claude S. Hill, 64, of Kilbuck, O., formerly of Betsy Layne, Oct. 22 in Millersburg, O.; Lee Moore, 83, at the home of his son-in-law at Mousie; Luke Prater, 74, Saturday at Pikeville; Mrs. Arzella Scalf, 79, formerly of Mare Creek, Tuesday at her home at Pikeville; John Grover Snyder, 62, formerly of Prestonsburg, Friday at a Huntington, W. Va. hospital; Charlie Brown, 50, formerly of Betsy Layne, Oct. 16 in Ohio; Mrs. Laura J. Layne, 68, of Harold, Monday at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville; Mrs. Louise H. Ferrell, 66, of Harold, Monday at Pikeville.

Forty Years Ago

(October 30, 1947)

Bodies of 6,200 American servicemen, the first to be returned to home soil from European burial grounds, arrived Monday in New York harbor, and among these were five Floyd countians who died in the European theatre of war. They were: T-5 Thomas S. Bales, of Martin; S-Sgt. Russell Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hale, of Myrtle; Pfc. Ray V. Lawson, son of Mill Lawson, of Garrett; Pvt. Alvin Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Nelson, of Dwale; Pvt. Clarence Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Perry, of Harold. The first major school building contract to be awarded by the Floyd County Board of Education since the outbreak of World War II was let Saturday for the construction of an eight-classroom school at Weeksbury. Nick Hall, 40-year-old Wheelwright miner, was struck and critically wounded by two of four revolver bullets said to have been fired at him early this morning (Thursday) by another miner while Hall was bathing in the Inland Steel Company bathhouse. A new cola drink will be produced here by the section's newest bottling firm, the POKER-COLA Bottling Co., it is announced by Former Congressman John Young Brown and his brother, Eugene Brown. The Floyd County Federation of Teachers was organized Thursday night, last week, at Martin with the names of 46 teachers on the application for charter. Both his legs severed by the wheels of a coal train at Drift early Friday night, Eli Prater, 39-year-old Drift miner, died Sunday at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Obie Crisp, of Allen, a daughter, October 21 at the Prestonsburg General hospital. There died: Delzie Slone, 60, Oct. 21 at his home at Wheelwright Junction; Olin Fields, 35, of Water Gap, Sunday at Huntington, W. Va.; Juanita McPeck, 21 months, of Wheelwright, October 23; John Patton, 70, formerly of West Prestonsburg, October 20 at his home at Riverton, Ky.; Mrs. Lydia Brown Bryant Hall, 59, of Jonancy, Ky., Floyd county native, last Thursday at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville.

Fifty Years Ago

(October 28, 1937)

One of the largest judgments for damages ever rendered by a Floyd circuit court jury was handed down here Wednesday morning when damages in the amount of $20,000 were assessed in the case of W. P. Hays, administrator of the estate of his son, Audry Hays vs. the C. & O. Railway Company. Audry Hays was killed by a passenger train near Clear Creek two years ago. Max Crowley, of St. Paul, Minn., suffered a gunshot wound in the head when his auto came under pistol fire as he tried to leave a Betsy Layne restaurant; in another shooting on the county's roads this week, a car being driven by Dr. J. E. Allen, of Langley, was fired upon and struck by three bullets. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harmon, of Wayland, were injured Monday afternoon when their automobile collided with a State Highway Department truck near Stanton. Rufus Chaffins, 33, Garrett miner, suffered serious head and chest injuries Monday night in a slatefall at mine 27 at Garrett. The Club Rustique will make its formal opening Friday night. Music for the occasion will be by Jimmy Rachel and his 14-piece orchestra with famed vocalist, George "Lazy Bones" Bacon. Morris Bland, former Betsy Layne man, was shot and killed at Paintsville, Saturday night. Luther Harris, of Brandy Keg, and Eddie Lee Derossett, of Little Paint, were injured this week when the car in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck parked on Mayo Trail here. There died: Mrs. Irvin Hicks, 30, of Garrett, Monday; Beverly Porter, 44, at home at Dewey, Saturday; Mrs. Mary Lafferty Jarrell, 68, at Martin; James Tussey, 75, of Martin, last Thursday at the home of his daughter.

FIREFIGHTERS WERE GROWING WEARY as forestland continued to burn this week, and the hot, dry weather showed no sign of a break.

Installation Flaw Said Cause of Gas Line Blast

By B.A. Heinze

The rupture of a high pressure gas line at the head of Arkansas Creek last Tuesday afternoon is said to have resulted from a fault in installation when the line was laid 56 years ago.

Although the line had been used since 1931, the coupling holding two sections of pipe together was not connected tightly to one section. It is thought that the weight of soil on the pipeline had held it together. No leak had been detected near than a half-mile from the point of Tuesday's explosion.

Coupling is no longer used today in pipeline construction. Instead, sections of pipe are welded together.

Three construction workers for the L.A. Pipeline Construction Company, of Belpre, O., and an inspector for Columbia Gas were hospitalized by injuries from rock and other debris hurled by the force of the explosion. They are Scott Varney, 38, backhoe operator from Parkersburg, W. Va. who was thrown some 60 feet by the blast. He and Juan Boyd, 47, of Dana, Columbia Gas inspector, were reported in fair condition at U.K. Med Center in Lexington. William West, 26, of Belpre, O., was said in good condition at Cabell-Huntington Hospital where he was treated, and Henry Meadows, 29, of Gallipolis, O., was taken from Our Lady of the Way Hospital to a Gallipolis hospital.

Investigators are still weighing physical evidence and have conducted interviews with the injured men in an effort to determine exactly what happened. They agree, however that a flaw in the coupling is the most likely cause, and that when soil was removed from around the sections, it allowed the pipe to come loose with the resultant blast.

Reed Recognized For Outstanding Work

Agnes Reed, an employee of SuperAmerica here has been recognized for outstanding performance concerning the company's Customer Service Awareness Program according to R. J. Maxwell, senior vice president and general manager of SuperAmerica's Southern Division.

Candidates are observed and evaluated with respect to friendly attitude, appearance, professionalism, efficiency, use of intercom and telephone etiquette.

For her commitment to service excellence, Reed received a certificate of appreciation, a letter of commendation and a special "Service Attitude" award.

THREE FOR LIFE

There are three important tests recommended by the American Cancer Society to help detect cancer of the colon and rectum at an early, highly-curable stage: the stool blood test, the digital rectal exam and proctosigmoidoscopy. Ask your physician about all three simple, lifesaving procedures.

Five

Matthew Douglas Harvey celebrated his fifth birthday with a Halloween party, given by his parents, Douglas A. and Carolyn Harvey, at their home at Garrett, Oct. 18. Cake and ice cream were served to his grandparents, Dave and Leila Harvey, of Garrett, and Willard and Annie Ritchie, of Lackey. Others present were Press Ritchie, Gene Decorsey, Gina Hall, Brett and Eric, Dianne Owens, Donnie Ray and Rhonda, Kimberly Brown, Dusty, Misty, and Kevin, Edith Mae Click, and Trista, Chris and Brandon Childers. Matthew received many nice gifts, including a pony presented to him by his parents.

Far From Harmless

I understand that harmless pranks will go on during Halloween; but Friday night October 30, I ran upon a prank that is far from harmless. Around 12 midnight out in front of the Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center, a group of kids in a red car stopped and wrote a bunch of graffiti in the road. They wrote the word NIGER several times. Now I don't know if they were referring to the country in Africa or trying in vain to write some racial slurs about the young men who are training here at Carl D. Perkins—the same young men who are called upon to work day and night fighting fires all through Eastern Kentucky, the same young men who are called upon to help business or private citizens during a flood, the same young men who use their training they are getting here at Carl D. Perkins to build several facilities throughout the area at absolutely no cost in labor.

Now there is the part of the Halloween pranks that is harmful; the group of kids don't even know enough to spell correctly the racial slur they intended to write, and I think this is a sorry indictment to our school system.

Passes Bar Exam

Stephen Craig Boyd has successfully completed his bar examination and was sworn in as a licensed attorney by the Kentucky Supreme Court last Friday. Mr. Boyd is a graduate of the University of Louisville School of Law. He obtained his Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Kentucky University and an associate degree from Prestonsburg Community College. He is a graduate of Betsy Layne High School.

Mr. Boyd is currently with Kelly and Albers in Louisville and also has a private practice in both Louisville and Prestonsburg.

He is the son of Marvin and Julia Boyd, of Banner.

In Support of Bork

I'm bitterly disappointed that a handful of liberal "special-interest" groups were able to keep one of the greatest legal minds of our time off of the Supreme Court. The Senate has claimed a historic role for itself—we may not be able to pick the nominee, but we can sure shoot them down. I anticipate that by early next week President Reagan will nominate someone who is younger than Judge Bork and just as conservative, though perhaps not as widely published. I hope we will give this nominee more respect than we gave Judge Bork.

As for Judge Bork, I hope he will stay on the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, the second most important court in the country and prove his detractors wrong. As a Supreme Court Justice, I am certain that he would have ranked up there with the very best.

MITCH MCCONNELL
U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C.

Boost Local Economy

I would like to compliment the Prestonsburg city council on their recent decision to purchase the new fire truck and fuel from local business. Even though their bids were a little higher, at least our tax money was left at home instead of being sent to other counties and states. This is a practice that should have been going on for a long time.

I would hope that our county government would also do the same thing in the future. I would also hope that local citizens and other companies would do the same thing. We need to keep our money at home instead of spending it in Lexington or Huntington or other large shopping areas. Your local businesses and friends need your help during the slowed down economy. Shopping at home by local business and professional people and individuals could give our local economy an overnight boost if we all bought all we could at home first. Enticement sales in other towns are just that, enticement, not really bargains. You can find the same products at home for the same prices or even less.

If you want to give the area a "Quick Fix," try shopping at home this year with local hometown folks.

HUCK FRANCIS
Prestonsburg, Ky.

Commends Stumbo

This is a letter of commendation to Representative Greg Stumbo. The small coal operators and the coal miners of Eastern Kentucky are very fortunate to have Representative Greg Stumbo in Frankfort. During the Governors call of the so-called "extra-ordinary session," Representative Stumbo worked hard to defeat HB 1, which may prove to be devastating to the small coal operator as well as reduce benefits to the local coal miner.

However, due to his efforts and eloquent presentation of new ideas and concepts he has laid out a foundation that can be built upon in the future.

Representative Stumbo is a good legislator who realizes the importance of coal in Eastern Kentucky and therefore deserves the support of his constituents.

Seminar Set To Address Educational Improvement

University of Kentucky Special Programs, The Prichard Committee for Academic Excellence and Roberts & Kay, Inc., will conduct a seminar November 17 at the Lexington Marriott Resort for Kentuckians interested in improving the quality of education in the Commonwealth.

Education: A Bridge to the Future is a one-day seminar for citizens who are interested in becoming involved and for those currently engaged in the improvement of education—kindergarten through college.

Featured speakers David P. Roselle, Thomas D. Clark and John Brock will share a university president's view, an historian's perspective and a superintendent's observation of education in Kentucky.

In workshops, participants will gain insight into current trends in education, study underlying factors in Kentucky's current educational situation, obtain organizational skills that can be applied to local organizations and meet people from across the Commonwealth who are interested in improving our educational system.

The registration fee includes luncheon and breaks, three major speakers and choice of two workshops. Deadline for registration is November 12.

Registration will be handled by UK Social Programs. For information, call Special Programs at (606) 257-3929 or, toll free in Kentucky, 1-800-432-0963, extension 3929.

Artists, Students Meet at Workshop

Russell May discussed his approach to art with students at a recent workshop and illustrated points of technique in landscape painting, for which the local artist is wellknown.

Approximately 200 Floyd county students participated in the student art workshop held October 13 at Jenny Wiley State Park. Sponsored by the Floyd County Education Forum's School Community Partnership committee and the Floyd County School system, this was the second of three workshops, all examples of what can be done when schools and communities work together for education.

Other guest artists who contributed their time to work with the students were Gary Akers, who uses the mediums of watercolor and egg tempera; Kim Browning, student at Berea College, who demonstrated broomcraft; Sharon Berger and Doreen Martin, of David Appalachian Crafts, who demonstrated corn shuck crafts and quilting; Tammy Geisert, of Geisert Graphics, of Jenkins; Sam Nelson, photographer, Nelson Studios; Tim Sizemore, folk artist whose work has been displayed at the Smithsonian, and Tom Whitaker, Magoffin county artist and art instructor at Prestonsburg Community College.

The next workshop will be on writing for seventh and eighth grade students scheduled November 23.

REWARD

To Whom It May Concern...

I am missing a set of scaffolds that belonged to my late husband, Michael Robinette. They were last seen at Betsy Layne Bottom, near the school.

If anyone has any information on the whereabouts of them contact:

What Good Is A Dead Tree? Plenty For Forest Wildlife

Woodlot owners should not clean all the dead and decaying trees from their woodlands, according to a University of Kentucky College of Agriculture forestry specialist.

Often owners decide to give their forested land a "winter manicure" by removing the dead and dying trees for firewood, said Fred Servello. The cleanup not only improves the looks of the surroundings, it also can eliminate potential sources of tree diseases or insects.

However, too much of a good thing can damage the ecology.

"More than 100 species of wildlife in the southeast use dead trees or decaying logs as nesting sites, foraging areas or protective cover," Servello said. "Birds like the downy woodpecker, pileated woodpecker, common flicker and bluebird all require dead trees for nesting."

In fact, Servello said more than 50 species of American birds nest in cavities of dead or deteriorating trees which foresters refer to as "snags."

"We have learned from research that removing all the snags from a forested area will reduce populations of cavity-nesting birds by 50 percent," he said. "Those birds play a big part in maintaining the environmental balance and may play a big role in long-term suppression of insect outbreaks."

For example, the brown creeper methodically circles tree trunks from the bottom up seeking insects. Woodpeckers look for insects and larvae beneath the bark. Barn owls, squirrels and raccoons—not to say the occasional black bear—rest in these snags and feed on the grub worms and larva there. After falling over, the dead log becomes home for a whole host of wildlife, including 32 different amphibians such as salamanders.

Ron Hunt, an infielder who played with various National League teams holds the record for getting hit by pitched balls.

"So while removing dead trees and logs may seem like a harmless winter chore," Servello said, "it will have a substantial impact on the lives of many forest animals. Biologists recommend leaving at least two snag trees per acre in forested areas for nesting birds."

Births Are Listed At Paul B. Hall RMC

—Don't Miss It!

THESE ARE SOME OF THE STUDENTS who attended the two-day writers workshop held at Jenny Wiley State Park during the Highlands Folk Festival. The opportunity to talk with and learn from a panel of noted poets, writers, and playwrights was made possible through the generosity of John Hall, owner of Hall Funeral Home, who paid all expenses for two students—one boy and one girl—from each of the county's high schools.

Some schools students in addition to those whose expenses were paid by Mr. Hall.

ANNUAL HAY RIDE, WEINER ROAST HOSTED BY AUSTINS

The Rev. Clifford Austin, pastor of the Highland Avenue Free Will Baptist Church, and Mrs. Austin, held their annual wiener roast and hay ride for church members, Saturday evening, October 24, with approximately 50 attending. Following these events, a period of fellowship was enjoyed.

IN RESPONSE TO LAST WEEK'S STATEMENT IN THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES BY DISTRICT NO. 2 MAGISTRATE:

The Flood Plain Ordinance that Mr. Owens referred to in his article in last week's paper was the revision of the present flood ordinance which was adopted on September 5, 1984. The National Flood Insurance Program requires, as a condition of continued eligibility for participation, that the ordinance be revised in accordance with updated laws and regulations of the Federal Emergency Management Agency. Floyd County Attorney David A. Barber reviewed the revision and advised the Court that if Floyd County did not amend its regulations to comply with the NFIP then Floyd County would be suspended from the program. If this revision had not been passed, home owners could not buy flood insurance on their homes, the Federal Government would not give assistance to Floyd County in the future should another flood occur.

Mr. Owens also stated that he voted against a 4% tax increase. There was no tax increase. The Floyd County Times, in last week's paper, admitted an error was made in reporting this to the public. Gene Stinchcomb, State Local Finance Officer, sent Floyd County the permissible Ad Valorem Tax Revenue for 1987-1988 stating that, "I hereby certify the following local Ad Valorem tax rates and revenue for Floyd County." We accepted the lowest rate but had the option to raise it 4%, which we did not do.

Mr. Owens is always stating what he voted against. Here is a list he has Failed to brag about:

- Making the $2,000.00 contributions last year to each fire department in Floyd County, four are in his district, Wayland, Garrett, Maytown and Allen—OWENS VOTES NO!
- Floyd County checks for $4,000.00 to each Senior Citizens Center—OWENS VOTED NO!
- Paying the bills for Blacktop on these roads in District No. 2, Cracker Bottom—OWENS VOTES NO!
Henry's Branch—OWENS VOTES NO!
West Garrett Road—OWENS VOTES NO!
Estill Road—OWENS VOTES NO!
Martin Branch Road—OWENS VOTES NO!
City of Wayland—OWENS VOTES NO!
Steels Creek—OWENS VOTES NO!
- Most of the limestone placed on Dirt Roads in District No. 2—OWENS VOTES NO!
- Paying for fire hydrants now being placed in Floyd County—OWENS VOTES NO!
- Paying the successful bidder for the fire hydrants and the contractors to install the fire hydrants throughout Floyd County—OWENS VOTES NO!

We voted to help all our County people as a whole not in one Magisterial District only. We stand for better roads, fresh tap water, better fire protection for safety as well as lower homeowners insurance, help for our Senior Citizens as well as recreation for our young.

IF WE THREE MAGISTRATES HAD NOT VOTED YES ON THE ABOVE SERVICES, WHAT CONDITION WOULD DISTRICT NO. 2 BE IN TODAY?

The First Turkey Can Be Traumatic

Cooking a turkey for the first time can be threatening to a holiday host or hostess. Deciding whether to buy a fresh or frozen one, self-basted or prestuffed one or a 10-pound or 24-pound bird can bring on a case of jitters. But with a few guidelines, turkey can be easy to prepare.

Sue Burrier, foods and nutrition specialist with the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service, explained what consumers need to look for when buying a turkey.

First of all, make sure it has been inspected and labeled with a USDA sticker. Check for a grade mark, too. Look for a Grade A turkey, which indicates the bird is meaty and is free from pinfeathers, bruises and cuts and tears on the breast and legs.

All turkeys are young, usually four to six months of age. Sex designation of hen or tom is optional on the label, and is an indication of size rather than the tenderness of a turkey.

When you go to the store to buy one, you'll have to decide whether to buy fresh or frozen. Burrier said there is no significant difference in quality between the two but if you don't want a large turkey taking up space in your refrigerator for four or five days while it thaws, you may want to order a fresh bird ahead of time and pick it up one to two days before you'll be cooking it.

Because so many customers buy convenience foods, many grocery stores sell prestuffed fresh or frozen birds.

"If a prestuffed turkey is frozen, keep it in the freezer until you are ready to cook it," stressed Burrier. "Do not thaw the bird because bacteria could develop in the stuffing while the turkey thaws."

Fresh, raw turkey can pose even more problems than frozen ones because both raw turkey and stuffing ingredients are highly perishable. Burrier said the USDA does not recommend the purchase of whole, stuffed fresh poultry.

If you're looking for convenience, consider stuffed and ready-to-cook items like boneless turkey breasts or chicken breasts as quick alternatives. Carefully follow the "best if used by" dating and directions on preparation to ensure food safety and quality.

Precooked turkeys also are available but they should be served immediately after heating or they may develop an "off" or "warmed-over" flavor when reheated.

After you decide the type of turkey you want to buy, you'll need to decide on size. Figure on one pound of turkey per person. If the turkey is prestuffed, allow 1 1/4 pounds per person.

Once you get a turkey home, the kitchen counter is not the best place to thaw it because room temperatures fall within the danger zone of 60 and 125 degrees F. Those temperatures promote active growth of bacteria. Cooking does not destroy all bacteria and some food poisoning organisms produce toxins that withstand heat.

The safest way to thaw a turkey is in the refrigerator. Place the turkey in its original wrap on a tray or in a pan to catch moisture that accumulates as it thaws. For an 8- to 12-pound turkey, thaw 1 to 2 days. For a 12- to 16-pound turkey, thaw 2 to 3 days. For one that is 16 to 20 pounds, thaw 3 to 4 days. For one that is 20 to 24 pounds, thaw 4 to 5 days.

If it's the day before you plan to serve your turkey and you just remembered that it's still sitting in the freezer, don't panic. Check the wrapping to make sure there are no rips and simply place the bird in its unopened bag in the sink or in a large container and cover it with cold water. If the wrapping is torn, place the turkey in another plastic bag, close securely, and then place in water. You will need to change the water about every 30 minutes.

When thawing a turkey in water, allow 4 to 6 hours for one that is 8 to 12 pounds. For one that is 12 to 16 pounds, allow 6 to 9 hours. For one that is 16 to 20 pounds allow 9 to 11 hours and for one that is 20 to 24 pounds, allow 11 to 12 hours.

A turkey can be thawed in a microwave oven but since microwave ovens vary in what they accommodate, check the manufacturer's instructions for the size turkey that will fit in your oven, the minutes per pound and the power level to use for thawing.

Burrier recommended using either the refrigerator or the water thawing method instead of the microwave. In the microwave, the turkey may cook in spots.

Once your turkey has thawed, it requires little preparation before cooking. Remove the neck and the giblets from the body cavity. Wash the inside and outside of the turkey and the giblets in cold water and drain well. To prevent the spread of bacteria, wash your hands, utensils and sink after they have come in contact with the raw turkey.

Once the turkey is thawed it can be cooked by roasting in the oven, microwaving, or it can be placed on a rotisserie or grilled.

NUTRITION FOR PETS

COPYRIGHT 1987 KVMA
Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association

Both humans and animals are increasingly more healthy because of the increased knowledge of proper nutrition that has lately become available. Special diets have become vital parts of the treatment of certain conditions in humans. Significant advances have been made in veterinary nutrition as well.

There are special needs associated with the treatment of anemia, debilitation, fever, tissue healing and repair of broken bones—and there are special diets to assist.

For example, a debilitated (run-down) animal needs a higher calorie diet with better quality proteins for maximum support of tissue repair and immune stimulation than does a normally healthy animal.

Fever increases the rate of metabolism, and therefore the need for energy, and special diets have been developed for this need.

Animals with heart disease will live longer and have less trouble on a restricted sodium diet, as do humans. Research has provided the information to create such a diet.

A diet restricted in protein and phosphorus has been developed for animals with kidney disease.

Treatment of diarrhea, liver disease and pancreatic disease is frequently more successful if the animal is placed on a highly digestible, low residue diet.

A restricted protein and mineral diet is recommended for dogs with bladder stones, while a restricted calorie, high-fiber diet has been developed to treat obesity.

Animals develop allergies to foods as do humans, and various hypoallergenic diets have been developed for this need. For cats with certain bladder problems, a diet restricted in magnesium intake has been developed.

Your veterinarian is trained in nutritional needs of pets as well as medical and pharmaceutical disciplines, and is especially adept in prescribing these diets designed to help overcome specific problems. He can help you understand how the diet works and how you will have to administer it.

If you're one of those persons who feeds table scraps or specially prepared treats along with commercial preparations, your veterinarian can help you determine what is acceptable and what to avoid. He or she can also recommend various commercially prepared special diet foods.

Kentucky Open Records Open Meetings Laws

By Attorney General David L. Armstrong

One of the fundamental rights of Americans is the right to know about the workings of their government. Our nation was founded on the principle that government is the servant of the people. In Kentucky, the "right to know" of our citizens is protected through the Open Meetings Law. This assures your access to many public meetings of public agencies. The laws are designed to protect all Kentuckians, including members of the press, writers, scholars and representatives of other groups.

The Open Meetings Law was enacted by the General Assembly during the 1974 session and became law June 21, 1984. The law defines "meeting" as all gatherings of all kinds by public agencies, regardless of location, whether the meeting is a regular or special one. As a general rule, the law refers to all meetings where a quorum of the public body is present and public business is discussed.

Specifically, the law requires that the minutes of each meeting be recorded promptly and made available for public inspection no later than immediately following the next public meeting. Closed or executive sessions are exempt from this provision.

The law also specifies that all meeting schedules of public agencies be established by ordinance, resolution, etc., and made available to the public. These meetings should be held at specific times and places convenient to the public.

You are not required to identify yourself at an open meeting. In addition, all agencies are required to permit new coverage of such meetings. In cases where it is determined that the public agency did not substantially comply with the law, any formal action taken (including rules, resolutions, regulations and ordinances) will be voidable by a court of competent jurisdiction.

There are 11 basic exceptions to this law including discussions of proposed or pending litigation against or on behalf of the public agency; discussions which might lead to the appointment, discipline or dismissal of an individual employee, member or student; meetings between public agencies and industrial prospects.

The Open Meeting Law was designed for the benefit of all citizens. It is vital that Kentuckians get involved in our system.

Kentucky Fishing Report

Frankfort, Ky., October 26—Fishing activity over the October 24-25 weekend was light to moderate statewide. Several different species were reported caught under the windy, mild conditions, which indicates fishing continues to be good this fall. The lake-by-lake rundown, as reported by conservation officers or creel clerks at each lake:

KENTUCKY: Creel Clerk Buddy Boyd reports that black bass were hitting spinnerbaits over tree tops and woody structure 3-5 feet deep; catfish were hitting nightcrawlers and minnows off submerged creek banks 15-18 feet deep; clear, stable at four feet below summer pool and 58 degrees.

BARKLEY: Creel Clerk Norman Brantley reports that white bass were hitting slab spoons and jigs along sand bars and trees 10 feet deep; catfish were taking cut bait, chicken livers and minnows over old river banks 25-35 feet deep; clear, stable at four feet below summer pool and 60 degrees.

BARREN RIVER: Creel Clerk Ralph Shipley reports that black bass were hitting crankbaits and spinnerbaits around heavy cover in the backs of coves 3-10 feet deep; crappie were hitting minnows over creek channel stump rows and brush piles 10-15 feet deep; clear, falling, seven feet below summer pool and 63 degrees.

NOLIN: Conservation Officer James Shipp reports that crappie were hitting minnows over submerged cover about 6-8 feet deep; black bass were hitting crankbaits off shallow points in 6-12 feet of water; clear, rising, one-half feet below summer pool and 63 degrees.

ROUGH RIVER: Conservation Officer Harold Belt reports that crappie were hitting minnows over brush and cover 6-12 feet deep; black bass were hitting crankbaits off rocky points and along stump rows 6-12 feet deep; clear, falling, five feet below summer pool and 65 degrees.

TAYLORSVILLE: Creel Clerk Bruce Raine reports that black bass were taking spinnerbaits along secondary tree lines and over stick ups 1-3 feet deep; bluegill were hitting worms and crickets over stick ups 6-8 feet deep; clear to murky, stable at four feet below summer pool and 61 degrees.

HERRINGTON: Chimney Rock Marina Owner Don Strong reports that bluegill were hitting crickets and red worms off steep banks 12-15 feet deep; black bass were active on spinners and grubs over shallow woody cover 3-6 feet deep; low water level is preventing launching at some ramps; clear, falling, 26 feet below summer pool and 63 degrees.

GREEN RIVER: Creel Clerk John Williams reports that crappie were taking minnows over submerged cover in 4-8 feet of water; black bass were hitting spinnerbaits over stick ups 1-6 feet deep; clear, stable at one foot below summer pool and 58 degrees.

CUMBERLAND: Conservation Officer Mike Bowman reports that striped bass were hitting jigs off rocky points and along creek channels 20-40 feet deep; black bass were hitting buzzbaits and spinnerbaits along stump rows and off rocky points 1-5 feet deep; clear, falling, 29 feet below summer pool and 67 degrees.

DALE HOLLOW: Conservation Officer Marvin Edwards reports that black bass were hitting top water lures off shallow banks; bluegill were hitting red worms and crickets over submerged cover 6-10 feet deep; clear, falling, three feet below summer pool and 65 degrees.

LAUREL: Conservation Officer Kenneth Mobley reports that trout were hitting worms, cheese and corn at night over main lake drop offs about 20 feet deep; bluegill were hitting crickets over submerged cover 8-15 feet deep; clear, stable, 14 feet below summer pool and 63 degrees.

CAVE RUN: Creel Clerk Sonny Kearns reports that muskie were hitting crankbaits and jerkbaits off points with cover 1-12 feet deep; black bass were hitting crankbaits and jigs over standing timber 1-10 feet deep; clear, falling, four feet below summer pool and 58 degrees.

PAINTSVILLE: Conservation Officer Jeff Preston reports that black bass were hitting crankbaits off rocky points 1-10 feet deep; trout were hitting red

Dallas Editor To Be Marshall Speaker

Burl Osborne, president and editor of The Dallas Morning News, will speak at Marshall University Friday, Nov. 6. His topic will be The Future of Newspapers and is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Memorial Student Center. The event is free and open to the public.

A Boyd county, native and a 1960 graduate of Marshall, Osborne is the last of four distinguished MU alumni invited to return to the campus as speakers during the university's year-long Sesquicentennial observance. Chairman Sam Clagg said. Previous speakers were Major General Albin Wheeler; Marvin Stone, deputy director of the U.S. Information Agency and former editor of U.S. News & World Report, and comedian Soupy Sales.

Osborne was recruited in 1980 to become executive editor of The Dallas Morning News and led the newspaper to victory in what Time Magazine called "a Texas-style shootout" with the rival Dallas Times Herald. Before joining the "old-fashioned newspaper war" in Dallas, Osborne had been managing editor of the Associated Press, responsible for AP's worldwide newsgathering operations.

He joined AP in 1960 as a correspondent in Bluefield, W. Va. He became an editor-reporter in Charleston in 1962 and in 1964 moved to Spokane, Washington where he had news responsibility covering parts of three states. He became news editor for Colorado and Wyoming in 1967 and transferred to Louisville in 1970 to oversee AP's news, administrative and business activities in Kentucky. Osborne was promoted to chief of the AP Ohio Bureau in 1972 and became assistant chief of the AP Washington Bureau, the news service's largest news operation, in 1974. He was promoted to the position of managing editor, based in New York City, in 1977.

Prior to joining AP, he was a reporter for the Ashland (Ky.) Daily Independent and for WHTN-TV (now WOWK-TV) in Huntington. A 1955 graduate of Boyd County High School, he holds a bachelor's degree in journalism from Marshall with a minor in mathematics and a master's degree in business from Long Island University. He is a graduate of the Harvard Business School Advanced Management Program.

Osborne will be honored at a public reception in Memorial Student Center immediately after his address, Clagg said. The address will be presented in the Morris Room and the reception will be held in the nearby Shawkey Room.

Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Blake and Carol Woods, of Allen, Kentucky, and Mr. Herman Wallen announce the marriage of their son, Pfc. James R. Wallen, of Allen, to Miss Robin A. Rainwater, of Fountain, Colorado, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don and Dena Rainwater, of Loveland, Colorado.

Vows were exchanged at Fountain Valley Baptist Church, October 18, and a reception was held at the Fountain Volunteer Fire Station No. 2 in Colorado.

The bride wore a white floor-length taffeta dress with a blue open weave hat with blue netting. Her bouquet was entirely of sweetheart roses.

The maid of honor wore a blue floor-length dress with a bouquet of carnations and sweetheart roses.

Pfc. and Mrs. James Wallen are now visiting relatives in Allen. A family reception was held at the home of Mrs. Carol Webb one evening last week.

After returning to Colorado for a short while, the newly married couple will be residing in Germany where Pfc. Wallen is currently stationed.

Hale Decries Lack of Funds, Cut Services

By Tim Sizemore
Sheriff Henry C. Hale attributes lack of funds as the cause of a layoff of personnel and deputies.

Hale says that he no longer has the money to operate his office properly and sees no hope of relief until January or February. The reason for the lack of funds stems from extra expenses incurred by his office for the maintenance of vehicles, and also, for the first time his office must pay more than $12,000 into the Social Security Fund, according to Hale, who says that money allotted to them by the settlement of taxes and excess fees is not nearly enough to offset expenses. In the past, he says he has been forced to borrow money from the state in order to continue operation.

The Sheriff's Department will rely on a skeleton staff until the first of the year with two deputies remaining on the payroll to answer calls and respond to emergencies. Many calls, Hale says, will have to be handled by the state police, but warrants will continue to be served and one deputy will remain in the office to answer calls.

Sheriff Hale, who expects no redress from the fiscal court, added "How do they expect me to enforce the law?"

'It's Easier To Face the Crowd'

By Laura Burchett of Paintsville

They were cliches I have heard all my life "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder" and "Beauty is only skin deep". But these cliches did not hide the lopsided look of my face, the droop above my right eye. While I was adept at hiding the problem from others, I knew that it was there.

Earlier this year, as I faced my last year at Paintsville High, I began thinking about the future, toward a career in modeling or business. But my self image and my confidence in my own ability to plan for the future was undermined every time I looked in the mirror. That's why it was so important to me to find out if I could be helped with plastic surgery.

It was July when I read that a plastic surgeon had just joined the staff at Highlands Regional Medical Center in Prestonsburg, just 12 miles away. My mother made an appointment with the surgeon to see what could be done to correct my eye.

The day I met Dr. Bradford C. Roberg, the excitement almost outweighed my anxiety. By taking the time to explain what he would do and what I could expect I left his office looking forward to the surgery instead of dreading it.

He told me that like most plastic surgery patients, I'd be treated as a so-called outpatient—coming in on the day of my surgery and going home again the same day. He told me exactly how an incision would be made across the top of my forehead just inside my hairline and how my whole forehead above my right eye would be lifted. A small tuck of excess skin would be removed and the incision then clipped back together. The wound would not show too much and the final scar would be almost invisible—a fact that later proved true. But he also told me that in some rare cases there can be complications and that results can be less than ideal. He tells that to all his patients so that they understand the risks. And he knew the risks were also unsettling. So, even though Dr. Roberg had spent a lot of time with me during the appointment, he had me come back in two weeks to make sure I still wanted to have the surgery. While I was in his office at Highlands Medical Offices, they were able to schedule my surgery and pre-register me for a Friday when I had a day off from school.

By pre-registering, the paperwork was out of the way and I was able to go directly to the Outpatient Surgery Department the morning of the surgery. I spent a half hour there changing clothes, talking to the doctor and then had an IV (intravenous line) inserted and was given the pre-op medication I had requested. I was taken to surgery about 7:30 a.m., and I found out that the nurses behind the masks were just as friendly as those in the pre-op department. They not only made sure I was comfortable, but talked to me until I fell asleep.

The next thing I knew I was in the recovery room and my nurse was telling me the surgery was over. When I complained of being cold and thirsty she wrapped me in blankets and made sure I had all the 7-UP I wanted. I can remember Dr. Roberg coming into the recovery room several times to check on me. He asked me how I felt and told me everything went well.

When the nurse felt I was awake enough, she told my daddy he could take me home. Their timing was great. It was a little after noon and I was already settled on the couch by the time my favorite soap opera came on at 12:30. After watching the soaps I ate an orange, took a nap and then described my operation to my friends who dropped by that evening.

The very next morning, I had a 10 o'clock follow-up appointment with Dr. Roberg and had a hearty breakfast before leaving home. When Dr. Roberg took the pressure dressing off my head, I was relieved to see all my hair still there and surprised to see how many little braids he had made to protect it. While I was there he said the words I wanted to hear: "You may wear makeup and wash your hair." That afternoon, I made a last minute appointment at the beauty shop. My new hairdo hid the incision and the skin clips. Any puffiness around my eyes was hidden by my makeup. By 7:30 in the evening I was ready for my date.

I went to school on Monday, and while only my closest friends knew about the surgery, everyone noticed the results. The weekend made a big difference and I didn't have to make a long trip to Lexington, Louisville or Cincinnati or go into huge hospital full of strangers. It wasn't just the results that were pleasing, but the experience itself. Relaxed, easy and close to home.

My surgery has taught me that there is no reason to settle for less when you can have more. The surgery not only improved the outer person but the inner person as well. I now have the confidence to face the crowd, the camera and the future.

Silver Sheild Publ. Has Repaid $6,000

Attorney General David L. Armstrong has announced that $6,000 in restitution was paid by Silver Sheild Publishing Co. and Sterling LeMaster to consumers who bought advertising in their publications. The payment was part of an Agreed Judgement Order which was filed in Fayette Circuit Court.

According to Armstrong the $6,000 was distributed to 18 individuals and businesses who paid for advertising in the defendants' publications. "Consumers bought the advertising under the false pretense that the proceeds would benefit organizations such as the state and local police, local firefighters, a 'police reserve association, mine safety association and other charitable purposes," he said. The list of publications included Silver Sheild, Kentucky Firefighter and various calendars.

The lawsuit seeking the refunds was filed in 1983 and an agreed permanent injunction was entered in August of 1986.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

For Alternatives, Inc.

ALTERNATIVES is 3 years old!

Three years ago Christians in the Big Sandy Valley banded together to form a center to provide alternatives to abortion. Since then, the ministry has grown and helped countless women facing crisis pregnancies and provided opportunities for life for their babies.

If you are interested in sharing in the ministry, we invite you to come to Alternatives, Inc.'s 3rd birthday celebration. Meet our new Director, Rita Mounts. Share vision and directions for the future. See how you can volunteer your services to help the unborn, and encourage women in difficult circumstances to choose life!

"...I have set before you life and death, blessings and curses. Now choose life, so that you and your children may live, and that you may love the Lord your God, listen to his voice, and hold fast to Him. (Deut. 30: 19-20)."

When: Thursday, November 5, 7-9 p.m.

Democratic Contenders Debates Air on KET

Two debates featuring Democratic presidential candidates air the week of November 2-November 9 on KET. On Thursday, November 5, KET airs "Election '88: Presidential Candidates Debate #1" at 11:30/10:30 p.m. CT. Sponsored by the non-partisan Iowa State Education Association, the debate looks at educational issues. Dean Borg moderates this debate from the studio of Iowa Public Television.

Candidates slated to participate include: former Arizona Governor Bruce Babbitt; Massachusetts Governor Michael S. Dukakis; Rep. Richard Gephardt (D-Missouri); the Rev. Jesse Jackson; and Sen. Paul Simon (D-Illinois). Participation by Sen. Albert Gore Jr. (D-Tennessee) is uncertain.

"Election '88: Presidential Candidates Debate #2," is sponsored by the Sierra Club of Iowa and the Iowa Wildlife Federation. Focusing on environmental issues, it also will be moderated by Borg and originate from the Iowa Public Television studio. In this debate all declared Democratic candidates for president will participate, except Simon. "Opportunity and Obligation: Democrats Debate Social Policy" is presented by WYES/New Orleans. The two-part "Election '88: Presidential Candidates Debate" is presented by Iowa Public Television.

Gold Star Mothers Honored

Chapter 18 Disabled American Veterans and Unit 18 Auxiliary of Auxier, held their annual Gold Star Mother's dinner, Sunday, October 25, at Prestonsburg High School cafeteria.

Guest speakers, Arthur Pope, World War I veteran, and Cassie J. Allen, veteran of World War II, were introduced by Chapter Commander Millard J. Hughes.

A large decorated cake was baked in honor of the mothers, who were introduced by Auxiliary Commander Mabel Hackworth.

Job Corps Commence

Kentucky House Majority Floor Leader Greg Stumbo served as commencement speaker last week when six men graduated from the Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center.

Stumbo, Floyd county native and the state House's youngest majority floor leader, told the six graduates and the commencement audience that they should be proud of what they have accomplished.

Stumbo said he can remember growing up in an eastern Kentucky that was isolated from the rest of the world. "Many people were surprised that we eat with a knife and a fork and that we actually wear shoes," Stumbo said. Tying that experience in to the Job Corps, Stumbo added, "It's not where you start, it's where you finish."

Job Corps graduates should be extremely proud of what they are involved in and what they are accomplishing, Stumbo said. "What you have done and what you will do...will benefit you for the rest of your lives."

Stumbo pointed out that many people say we are losing jobs to foreign markets, because our work force is not skilled and lacks the incentive to better itself, but he said, "Those sooth-sayers should come to Prestonsburg, and see young men and women at the Job Corps striving to better themselves."

Diplomas were conferred on Anthony Cotton, of Kingston, N.C., Franklin Martin, of Edison, Ga., Lee Leach, of Orangeburg, S.C., Curtis Jordan, of Mobile, Ala., Ervin Roberson, of Louisville, and David Hengstebeck, of McDowell, affectionately known by Corpsmembers as "Grandpa." Hengstebeck is the 60-year-old who recently earned a GED through study at the Center.

PRATER CREEK HOMEMAKERS

The Prater Creek Homemakers held their regular monthly meeting, October 26, in the school lunchroom. In the absence of the president Willena Campbell, the meeting was called to order by secretary-treasurer, Loretta Conn.

Mrs. Pitts gave the lesson on "Decorating your Bathroom." She had many towels and accessories on display. She also asked members to make angels and bring to the next meeting for decorating the Christmas tree at May Lodge.

Pecans were again sold to members at this meeting for the benefit of the Ovarian Cancer Fund.

Hostesses serving refreshments were Sandra Roberts, Glenna Childers, Loretta Conn and Debbie Tackett to members Destaphine Boyd, Sonja Ratliff, Mona Boyd and Frances Pitts. The club welcomes back former members, Doris Akers and Emodel Boyd.

The next regular meeting will be November 23, at 7 p.m. in the school lunchroom. Hostesses will be Belle Jones, Wanda Hall, Toda Tackett and Mary Samons.

LOST AND FOUND

In the tropical forests of eastern Brazil, a biologist recently rediscovered an unusual animal known as the thimble porcupine. The species was previously feared extinct because scientists had not seen it for 30 years. According to International Wildlife magazine, the animal is of particular interest because it appears to lie somewhere between the porcupine family and spiny rats.

The first known sewing needles were made of bone and they are over 30 thousand years old.

All had attended the services. Mrs. Sloan served refreshments.

Edwards, Shepherd Vows Exchanged

The wedding vows of Miss Bobbi Jean Shepherd and Mr. Lloyd R. Edwards were exchanged on September 12, 1987 at 6 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church here in Prestonsburg. The bride's brother, Reverend Oakie L. Shepherd, and Dr. Harold W. Dorsey, of Lexington, solemnized the ceremony.

The bride's floor-length dress was of white satin with long lace sleeves. She also wore a white hat with a semi-cathedral train attached to it. Her bouquet was of red and white roses.

The matron of honor, Leah Franklin, wore a floor-length amethyst dress with fuchsia gloves and shoes. Her bouquet was of amethyst, fuchsia, royal, and red roses. Debbie Blackburn, first attendant, wore a fuchsia colored dress of the same design with amethyst gloves and shoes and carried a single amethyst colored rose. Brenda Cole, second attendant, wore a royal blue dress contrasting with her red gloves, shoes and single rose. Donna Roope the fourth attendant wore a red dress with royal accessories.

The bride's niece, Ragan Shepherd, was junior bridesmaid and her dress was amethyst and accessories, fuchsia. The flower girl, Jamie Cole, cousin of the groom, wore a fuchsia dress with amethyst accessories.

The groom's best man was his son, Dr. Robert Edwards, of Carrboro, North Carolina, and ushers were Mike Castle, Fred James and Orville Nance. The ringbearer was the bride's nephew, Brice Shepherd.

Music was provided by Susan E. Compton, of Martin, pianist, and Dan Cromer, of Louisville, soloist.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Columbus Shepherd, chose for her daughter's wedding a two-piece silver-blue, brocade dress trimmed with ecru lace. The brother of the bride, Roger Shepherd, gave the bride away.

The reception was held at the Holiday Inn where sandwiches and hors d'oeuvres were served in addition to the four-tiered wedding cake and chocolate groom's cake.

The bride's out-of-town guests included her older brother, Gary Shepherd, his wife, Delores and their two children, Jonathan and Kevin, all of Xenia, Ohio, and Linda Robinson, of Louisville.

The groom's out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lafferty, Mrs. Richard Ousley, Danny and Judy, of Franklin, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Edwards, of Middletown, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Edwards, of Sullivan, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nance, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Nance and Missy, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sikora, Debbi, Judy, Lori and children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shiffeld, all of Wellington, Ohio; Mrs. Louise Davis and Frank, of Churchill, Tennessee; Mrs. Sandra Buyington, of Kingsport, Tennessee; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Vanhoose, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Paris Blankenship, of Wayland; Mrs. Martha Ousley, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hutchinson, of Estill; Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Cole, Jamie and Josh, of Pikeville; Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Edwards, of Carrboro, North Carolina, and Mrs. Debbie Hayburn and Nicki, of Tram.

After a wedding trip to Daytona Beach, Florida, the couple resides at Prestonsburg.

ATTEND CHURCH MEET

Attending the Johnson County Free Will Baptist Church Conference at the Baker's Branch Free Will Baptist Church at Tutor Key, last weekend, were Mrs. Danise Amburgey and Mrs. Eileen Baldrige.

Honor Breast Center Volunteers at HRMC

The Breast Center Volunteers from Floyd, Johnson and Magoffin counties at Highlands Regional Medical Center were honored with an appreciation brunch for their many hours of service.

Clarence Traum, administrator, and Russell Briggs, associate administrator, welcomed them on behalf of HRMC. Both expressed their appreciation for the support and time given by the volunteers who assist in the reception area of the Breast Center by greeting patients, answering phone calls, and distributing breast cancer-related materials.

One former patient in the Breast Center commented about the volunteers, "I like to stop in and just say 'hello', because the ladies are so nice to you and care so much about you."

Susan Martin, administrative assistant at Highlands, said, "The volunteers have been an integral part of the Breast Center from the very beginning. I attribute much of the success of the Center to these special ladies and the caring attitude they show to all of the patients."

The volunteer program has been in existence since April. Those interested in volunteering some of their time to helping in the fight against breast cancer, may contact Susan V. Martin at HRMC, 886-8511 or 789-6548, ext. 104.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 836-5038 (Major RV #1)

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that H.J. & R. Coal Company, Inc., P.O. Box 3428, Pikeville, Kentucky 41501, has filed a major revision to their underground mining operation. The proposed operation will affect a surface disturbance of 62.7 acres and will underlie an additional 689.0 acres located 2 miles north of Drift in Floyd county. No additional surface or underground acres are being added.

The proposed operation is approximately 0.2 miles west from KY 122's junction with Martin Branch Road and located 0.1 miles west of Martin Branch. The latitude is 37° 29' 48". The longitude is 82° 45' 50".

The proposed operation is located on the Wayland & Martin U.S.G.S. 7-1/2 minute quadrangle maps. The surface area to be disturbed is owned by Minnie Martin Heirs, T.E. Martin Heirs, Nancy Martin Heirs, Pussie Martin Heirs, and Lilla Martin Heirs. The operation will underlie land owned by Josie Martin Heirs, T.E. Martin Heirs, Nancy Martin Heirs, Minnie Martin Heirs, Frank Martin, Mousie Martin Heirs, Pussie Martin Heirs, Turner Elkhorn Mining, William R. Little, Georgeann & Henry Lee, Bernard & Genevieve Howell, Ernest & Mae Turner, and Garland and Nora Hicks. A variance for delay in contemporaneous reclamation in connection with a combined surface and underground mining operation is being requested.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow, U.S. 127 South, Frankfort, Ky. 40601. 10-21-3t.

During the 1985 program year, 3.8 million persons were placed in jobs or obtained one after receiving services from the federal-state public employment service, according to the annual report of the U.S. Department of Labor. 10-28-3tpd.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT 87-CI-499

The First Guaranty National Bank Plaintiff VS: NOTICE OF SALE Clifford Ousley and Rita A. Ousley Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the September 8 term, 1987, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 12 day of November, 1987, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of three (3) months, the following described property, to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being on the waters of Left Beaver Creek, Floyd County, Kentucky, being the same property conveyed Clifford Ousley and Rita Ousley, by deed dated September 27, 1985 from Betty Cooper and John Cooper, recorded in Deed Book 295, page 181, Floyd County Clerk's Office, being more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a stake near the roadway leading up Frozen or Barn Branch; thence with said stake a distance of 100 feet to another stake; thence with said stake in an eastern direction a distance of 100 feet to the righthand branch of Frozen branch; thence with said righthand branch of Frozen Branch a northern direction to an ash tree a distance of 78 feet; thence with said ash tree a distance of 100 feet in a western direction to the place of beginning.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $9,165.76 accrued interest of $549.46 and interest thereon at 12% annually from the 8 day of September, 1987 until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale. For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms. Given under my hand, this 26 day of October, 1987.

MARSHALL DAVIDSON, Master Commissioner 10-28-3t.

Foster Parents Unite To Lobby for Children

Kentucky's 2,600 foster families will have a new voice in Frankfort as soon as next January if plans are successful to revitalize the State Foster Parents Association.

Organizational meetings began during the October observance of Foster Parent Month in Kentucky between representatives of 13 local foster parent associations and staff of the state Department for Social Services, according to Commissioner Anna Grace Day.

"This is a tried and true approach to assure that foster parents stay involved in strengthening Kentucky's foster care system," said Day. "No one could ever speak more effectively or knowledgeably about Kentucky's foster homes than the volunteer parents who live, work, teach and love our children. "By joining together, foster parents can have a stronger position to advocate for support, stability and change, within this agency itself as well as with legislators and the general public."

Officials of the National Foster Parent Association are working with Kentucky planners on development of objectives for the organization, by-laws and committee structure. A mid-January goal has been set for a formal organizational meeting with the election of officers to represent foster parents throughout the state.

Day said one of the most important aspects of the State Foster Parent Association will be to assist the Department for Social Services in its on-going recruitment campaign for new foster homes.

Kentucky currently has more than 2,900 foster children and certain regions of the state have a critical need for additional homes.

Makes President's Council

Darrell L. Patton, of Prestonsburg, has qualified as a member of the 1987 President's Council of the New York Life Insurance Company, according to Donald K. Ross, Chairman of the Company. Members rank in the top 12% of New York Life's 9,000 agents in the United States and Canada, based on 1986-87 sales performance.

As a President's Council member, Patton and his wife, Jayne, and sons, Ray and Brandon, attended a 4-day educational conference at the Hotel Intercontinental at Hilton Head Island, S.C. Patton is associated with the Lexington General Office and makes his home in Prestonsburg.

Woody Herman Band To Be In Louisville

A quiet downbeat and "Blue Flame" floats into Whitney Hall, Kentucky Center for the Arts in Louisville, Nov. 16, followed by Duke Ellington's "It Don't Mean A Thing If It Ain't Got That Swing" and everybody's favorite "Woodchoppers Ball." Except for the fact that Woody himself is not at the helm, the band is intact, led by Frank Tiberi, sax player and 19-year veteran of the Herman organization, and featuring "Mr. Clarinet" Buddy DeFranco as Woody's stand-in.

Woodrow Charles Herman died last Thursday, and due to the unscrupulous ethics of his manager over the years, at the age of 74 has lain bedridden and $1.6 million in debt to the IRS. This unpayable tax debt was the reason Woody's home of 40 years was sold by the IRS, forcing him to pay rent to remain there. The news of the ailing musicians' plight brought floods of support, from law firms donating their services, Los Angeles radio stations sponsoring fund-raising drives and most prominently, the National Association of Jazz Educators "We Care Woody" campaign. This massive effort includes the "We Care Kit," comprised of five ways to help: 1. direct contributions from the public (over $100,000 has been raised at this writing); 2. House Resolution #3274 sponsored by John Conyers, of Michigan, calling for assistance with Woody's debt and dubbing him a National Treasure; 3. Petitions for Congressional support for Woody Herman, asking that he be remembered with dignity; 4. The mass distribution and sale of "I'm One of Woody's Kids" T-shirts; 5) and of course, booking the Young Thundering Herd for concerts. "The outpouring of support has been so gratifying," reports Tom Cassidy, of the Thomas Cassidy Agency in Chicago, Woody's agent and long-time friend, "and benefit concerts and tributes are going on somewhere in the country almost every night. The money being raised from these benefit shows is going directly to Woody to help defray his staggering medical expenses, and after he's gone, the money will go to a fund being set up in his name to help future ailing musicians and to provide scholarships for young student musicians. Woody wouldn't have it any other way!"

Special guest clarinetist Buddy DeFranco, who has been featured in most of the tributes to Woody, has the unprecedented distinction of winning 20 Downbeat Magazine Awards, nine Metronome Magazine Awards and many more accolades and awards as the number one jazz clarinetist in the country. Lists of his recordings cover four pages, and he has made both concert and recording appearances with such stars as Billie Holiday, Nat Cole, Charlie Parker, Dizzy Gillespie, Stan Getz, Nelson Riddle, Billy Eckstine and appeared on the Steve Allen Show, The Mike Douglas Show, The Merv Griffin Show and Johnny Carson's Tonight Show.

Due to the overwhelming popularity last month of the Big Band Chat, this nostalgic look at the era in which big bands blossomed and thrived (beginning at 7:30 p.m.) has been moved to Whitney Hall. Hosted by Louisville's Ted Fleischaker, nationally syndicated host of the radio show Big Bandstand (heard locally on WXVW AM 1450), this pre-show event will feature the original music of the era as well as informal banter with the bandleader or featured soloist.

Dinner before the Big Band concert is in the Mary Anderson Room by reservation only at 6 p.m.; call 502-562-0183. Tickets for the Woody Herman Orchestra are on sale for $12.50 or $9.50. Please call 502-584-7777 or toll free in Kentucky, 1-(800)-448-7777 for reservations.

Seasons Changed, Grade School Handbook Adopted

If you don't like things as they are, then change them.

That is the attitude the Floyd County School Board, and Pete Grigsby, Jr., took recently when they decided to revamp the county athletic program.

With difficulties arising due to grade school sports running concurrently with high school sports, the board decided to make needed adjustments.

With Grigsby and local school officials working together, a new program proposal was drawn up, and the school board adopted it before school began this fall.

Although the changes were obvious, one stands alone as the more drastic, and possibly the most effective.

"The biggest change is that basketball, which is going on right now, starts right after school and football has been moved to the spring," Grigsby said. "This way it is a much better program, or at least we think it is."

The grade school final tournament will be held during the third week of December now. In the past it was held in March, a time when high school basketball was reaching its peak.

"The congestion, the use of the gyms and the buses, it just caused a mess," Grigsby said. "You had grade school sports running at the same time as high school sports. Parents, if they had a child in high school and grade school, were out four or five nights a week."

The basketball season on the grade school level began on September 15, and will come to an end just before Christmas with the final county championship tournament.

The football season will be held next spring. Prestonsburg Grade School, by virtue of special permission from the school board, played football this fall.

In addition to changing the seasons, the board also adopted a grade school handbook that will serve as an official guideline for the athletic program.

"My job is to re-shape high school and grade school sports, and when the board told me to do this, I jumped on it," Grigsby said. "I'd always wanted to do something like this. It is the first time we've ever had a handbook for grade school sports."

The Handbook, adopted August, 1987, is a complete guideline to athletic policies governing grade school athletics. It covers areas of interest from general objectives of the athletic program to scheduling, and on through safety procedures for athletes.

According to the handbook, the athletic program of the Floyd County Public Schools is considered an integral part of the educational curriculum. Athletics serve as a method of development of the individual. We believe the student should be developed physically as well as mentally. Participants should learn and develop good sportsmanship characteristics and to learn to play by the rules and respect authority.

The handbook will serve as an authority to the grade schools, in a similar fashion that the coaches serve as an authority to the players.

The handbook has current rule changes along with all guidelines that every grade school's athletic teams must follow.

It also explains the duties of the coach, their requirements to become coaches, and what they should convey to the players.

Also, the hiring of officials, and a special first aid precaution section is included.

"It isn't just mine, and mine alone," Grigsby said. "A lot of people put a lot of work into the handbook to try and make it work."

Although the handbook is the official guideline for Floyd County grade school athletics, Grigsby feels that the schedule change is the biggest highlight to the program.

In the past, basketball started in the grade schools at about the same time as did high school basketball, and the grade school tournament was held during the peak of high school basketball.

Now the grade school season must be over in December, with the final tournament being concluded before December 25.

Football, which normally concluded at about this time of the year, will now begin April 1, and run through May 25.

Girls and boys track and field will also be held in the spring.

The handbook lists the general objectives of the grade school athletic program as: providing opportunities for students to participate in competitive sports; to provide skilled instruction in all phases of the athletic program; to provide officiating quality; to provide well-fitting and appropriate equipment; and to provide facilities for the various authorized sports and athletic activities.

Other objectives include: the selection of activities which are appropriate to the students' current needs and interests; to teach positive experiences and decision making processes; to provide participants with a respect for recreation and athletic sports and skills; and to live a more wholesome, and productive life as adults by learning how to compete in a democratic society.

It is the purpose of the handbook to provide rules that will assist in carrying out these objectives.

Big Play Early Not Enough For Trojans To Survive Final Game

With four minutes and 18 seconds gone in Friday night's game Wheelwright struck.

Like vivid lightning on a darkened night, the Trojans brightened the sky with a quick strike that produced a score, and brought instant cheers from the scattering of fans that dotted the Brackett Field bleachers.

After recovering a Sheldon Clark fumble on the Cardinal 35-yard line, Wheelwright went to the air. Trojan freshman quarterback Stevie Johnson lobbed a pass over the Cardinal linebackers, and into the qualified arms of end Steve Cole.

Cole, a senior receiver, cut to the left sideline, and outran the Sheldon Clark defensive secondary to the end zone. Johnson then found his senior target again for the two-point conversion.

Wheelwright eight, Sheldon Clark zero.

"Hey, be ready with the chains," the Sheldon Clark coaching staff told the chain gang. "We go without a huddle after kickoffs."

The sideline personnel was ready, and Sheldon Clark was ready, but somewhere between covering the kickoff, and setting up defensively, the Trojans forgot something.

What they forgot was to cover Cardinal tailback Steve Younk.

Younk, split out as a wide receiver, ran under a Chris Lockwood pass, hauled the football in and waltzed on into the end zone for Sheldon Clark's first score.

No defender was within 20 yards of Younk when he caught the pass, and the Trojans were even further away when he raced on to paydirt.

Sheldon Clark, despite having trouble with turnovers and penalties, scored quickly and repeatedly while Wheelwright struggled offensively.

The first Trojan touchdown proved to be their last touchdown as Sheldon Clark handed them a season ending 36-8 loss.

Wheelwright ended the season at 1-10.

The Cardinals, in the first half, consistently burned a young Wheelwright defense with big plays in building a big early advantage.

"That was inexperience showing through," Trojan head coach Roger Johnson said. "They were going with the flow, and watching the ball instead of reading their blocks."

Wheelwright, devastated by injuries, dressed only 17 players for the game, six of which were starters when this season began.

"We played basically six freshmen on defense," Johnson said. For most of the game, we had three freshmen linebackers, three freshmen defensive backs, and a freshman nose guard."

Sheldon Clark took advantage of the Trojans youth and inexperience, scoring twice on long pass plays, and a five-yard run.

After the Cardinals hit for the 65-yard pass from Lockwood to Younk, which Johnson said was an illegal play, they added touchdowns on a five-yard Lockwood run with 1:16 remaining in the first quarter.

Sheldon Clark had earlier in the drive ran for an apparent touchdown when Younk rambled 45 yards to paydirt, but it was called back on a holding penalty.

Lockwood's later run capped off a 91-yard drive that took nine plays.

Leading 14-8 after the two-point conversion, Sheldon Clark, with 9:07 left in the first half, mounted another impressive drive, moving from their own two-yard line for a score.

The Cardinals covered the 98-yard distance in seven plays, capped off by a Lockwood 21-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Jimmy Christian.

Earlier in the drive, Younk had another touchdown called back after he ran 52 yards for an apparent score. Once again though, the Cardinals were guilty of holding.

Wheelwright, operating with only one starting member of their regular backfield, did have one final opportunity to turn the tide in the first half but a fumble spoiled that chance.

Garnis Caudill, on the kickoff after Christian's touchdown reception, returned the football to the Sheldon Clark 35-yard line.

After two Caudill runs, the Trojans found themselves on the enemy 28, but on the next play Sheldon Clark recovered a fumble, snuffing out Wheelwright's scoring opportunity.

The Cardinal defense continued to shut down Wheelwright through the final 29 minutes to record the 28-point victory.

"They had a pretty good team," Johnson said of Sheldon Clark. "They were better than we thought they would be."

The season ended on a disappointing note for Wheelwright, but that came as no surprise. The whole season has been disappointing.

But not all was a total loss. "We played a lot of young people," Johnson said. "They played as freshman and got a lot of varsity experience. That should help us somewhere down the line."

Wheelwright lost 10 games this season, and had only 15 available bodies remaining after Friday night's game.

But most of those 15, and some of the injured, will be back next season. The Trojans lose only seven starters from this year's squad.

THROUGH THE MIDDLE: Vic Cotton, the lone Wheelwright backfield starter, breaks tackles on this run up the middle against Sheldon Clark Friday. The Trojans lost 36-8.

Prestonsburg Dumps M.C. Napier To Finish With Winning Season

The M.C. Napier Navajos came to town Friday night with only a 2-6 record. Not exactly impressive, but Chuke Williams knew they were better than their record might have indicated.

"They look real good on film," the Blackcat head football coach said Friday. "They've got a big fullback that goes about 220 pounds, and they've got a little kid back there that can fly."

Although Prestonsburg had no chance at post season action, Williams was quick to point out the importance hanging in the balance of Friday's game.

With a win, the Blackcats could have finished with a 6-4 winning season. With a loss, the Blackcats could have finished with an average season record of 5-5.

Through two quarters the game took on exactly the appearance Williams had talked about earlier Friday.

At the half, Prestonsburg held a slim five-point lead. M.C. Napier had proved their capabilities on the football field, but the Blackcats were up, and on their way to a winning season finish.

Then came the second half, and what a second half it was for Prestonsburg. The Blackcat defense forced two turnovers, and the offense converted those to nine points.

And that was only in the third quarter. Prestonsburg, on the strength of a Brent Hackworth field goal, and a Johnny Ray Harris touchdown run, bolted out to a 21-7 lead after three periods, and cruised to a 28-13 victory.

M.C. Napier ran only five plays in the third quarter, and two of those were fumbles that wound up as turnovers.

"We pretty much dominated the game," Chuke Williams, Blackcat coach said. "They scored that one touchdown and went up 7-6, but after that we had things our way."

After Johnny Ray Harris opened Prestonsburg scoring with a one-yard first quarter touchdown run, M.C. Napier took a short-lived lead when quarterback Robbie Dixon hooked up with George Harold for a touchdown pass.

The Navajos kicked the extra point to take the one-point advantage, but the Blackcats didn't stay down for long.

Just before halftime, Prestonsburg mounted a 13-play drive that covered 66 yards, and took the lead when quarterback Tim Trusty dived in from one-yard out, giving the Blackcats a 12-7 halftime advantage.

Then Prestonsburg really heated up. After recovering an M.C. Napier fumble deep in Navajo territory, the Blackcats received a Brent Hackworth field goal.

On their next possession, M.C. Napier turned the football over again, this time on their 44 where Jimmy Joe Crace pounced on the loose pigskin.

From that spot on the field, the Blackcats marched to the five-yard line on 10 plays then scored the touchdown on a Harris five-yard scoring run.

Prestonsburg took advantage of those mistakes, building a 21-7 lead with only 21 seconds remaining in the third quarter, and put the game out of reach soon after as Brent Hackworth, replacing injured quarterback Tim Trusty, scored a touchdown on a two-yard run.

M.C. Napier added a late score on a long run, but the damage had already been done, and the Blackcats had earned their sixth win of the season, plus a winning season.

"It's always good to win," Williams said. "When you win that last one, it makes the winter a lot better, and gives the kids something to look forward to next season. When you lose that last game it stays with you until next year. It was a nice win for us, and I think it will carry over to next season in a positive way."

Especially the way Prestonsburg won, by dominating.

"I don't have any official numbers, but we probably kept the football three-fourths of the time," Williams pointed out. "Timmy had a sore shoulder so we didn't throw much. We just kept the football on the ground and ground it out."

Prestonsburg had another opportunity to score, but Williams said instead of running up the score they opted to run the clock out.

After getting the football deep in their own territory, M.C. Napier scored on a 90-yard run, setting the final margin at 28-13.

Prestonsburg, dominated one year ago when they finished with a 1-8 record, wound up this football year with an impressive victory and an impressive 6-4 record.

The Blackcats, already looking forward to next August, will return 16 of their 22 regular starting positions but that alone doesn't necessarily add up to a successful year.

"You never know," Williams said. "We'll have a lot of experience coming back, but we have to get quicker and physically strong enough to handle people. That is the main thing."

Williams hopes the final victory will give the returning players added incentive to work just a bit harder toward reaching those physical goals.

SHORT SPORTS

The University of Kentucky and Eastern Kentucky University claimed timely wins this week but Morehead State and Western suffered in college football action.

The Wildcats, still entertaining thoughts of a possible bowl bid, defeated Virginia Tech, 14-7, at Commonwealth Stadium, Saturday night.

With the win, Kentucky improved to 5-3, but will play Vanderbilt on the road and finish the season against Florida and Tennessee.

Eastern, keeping their national ranking and Ohio Valley Conference hopes alive, thumped OVC foe Austin Peay, 50-7, at home.

The Colonels are now 6-2 overall, and tied for first place in the OVC. Both Eastern and Youngstown are 3-1 in conference play.

Eastern plays this week in Cookeville, Tennessee, where they will meet Tennessee Tech, 2-2 in the OVC, and 4-3 overall.

Hot on the Colonels heels is conference challenger Murray State. The Racers defeated Morehead State, 53-15, last Saturday at home. Murray is 2-1 in conference play, and will meet Youngstown State this week.

Morehead, 1-6 overall, will play at home this weekend against Middle Tennessee. The Blue Raiders are 2-1 in conference play.

Western Kentucky, ranked eighth in Division IAA last week, dropped their third game of the season Saturday, 23-20 to Georgia Southern.

The Hilltoppers did have a 10-0 lead early in the game.

In small college action Georgetown continued their winning ways, improving their record to 7-1 with a 31-9 over Indianapolis College. Georgetown is currently ranked seventh in the nation in NAIA Division 2.

Cumberland College continued to enjoy a successful season Saturday by whipping Union 50-19.

High school coaches opposed it, sometimes even hated, but this 1987-88 high school basketball season, they

The Sporting Times

If it's true that time flies when you're having fun then we must be having a ball.

It seems like only yesterday that we were busy putting together pre-season packages on each county football team.

Now it's all over. Except for the crying of course.

This fall failed to produce the quality of football most people expected. Only Prestonsburg even remotely resembled a successful team, but having the unexpected become reality is what makes high school sports the interesting spectacle it is.

Wheelwright was being touted as a district contender, and maybe, just maybe, if they had beaten Fairview on the scoreboard like they did on the field the total outcome would have been a bit more satisfying.

But all records aside, the Trojans brought out a trio of names that could once again have Roger Johnson expecting a playoff spot come next August.

Doug Little will be leaving after this year, but with people like Vic Cotton, a junior fullback, Handy Jackson, the quickest halfback in the area, and sophomore quarterback Bobby Hood, the Trojans will bring back possibly the best ever backfield at Wheelwright. Benny McKay won't exactly hurt either.

The Trojans suffered this year, literally. They limped through the season with a swarm of injuries, but even so, after the first seven games they had actually scored more total points than had their opponents.

Being outscored by 24 points in six losses eventually produced a letdown of sorts in the head of Left Beaver. The Trojans were then bombarded.

Wheelwright wasn't the only team to let themselves down, though.

NFL News And Notes

Never before has an Indianapolis-San Diego football matchup carried playoff importance, especially after seven games, but when the two teams hook up in Indianapolis this Sunday more than avoiding falling further behind will be on the agenda.

Since the Colts vacated the Baltimore area they have been spending most of their time in the AFC East, and playing their last games of the season for a first round choice rather than a playoff spot.

Not this year. Indianapolis defeated the New York Jets, 19-14, Sunday, to move into a first place tie with New England.

Sitting atop of the division is an unfamiliar seat for the Colts, but they may soon become accustomed to the position. Saturday afternoon the Colts acquired Eric Dickerson, recognized as the best running back in the NFL, from the LA Rams.

In obtaining Dickerson, Indianapolis sent the rights for Cornelius Bennett, a highly rated linebacker, to Buffalo for running back Greg Bell, two number one draft choices, and one second.

The Colts then put together three of their future draft choices, next year's first and second and the 1989 second choice, and Owen Gill, another running back, and shipped everything out to Los Angeles.

Dickerson, former NFL rushing leader, arrived in time for Indianapolis's game with the Jets, but added little to the victory.

Possibly feeling as if his work may go to someone else, Albert Bentley rushed for over 140 yards as the Colts improved to 4-3 on the season.

Dickerson ran 10 times for 38 yards and caught one pass for 28 more in limited playing time.

San Diego, the surprise team of all professional football, held onto their lead in the AFC West by defeating Cleveland 27-24 in overtime.

The Chargers, 6-1, currently hold a one-game lead over Seattle, who got three touchdown passes from Dave Kraig to upend Minnesota 28-17 in the Kingdom, Sunday.

By virtue of San Diego's win over the Browns, Houston, another surprise team, moved into sole possession of their division.

All three, Houston, Indianapolis, and San Diego, were pre-season picks to bring up the rear in the three AFC divisions.

Surprise! Surprise! The Oilers trailed by 15 points in the fourth quarter to the Bengals in Cincinnati, but being behind to Cincinnati is a comfortable position.

In the first three quarters, Cincinnati is 6-1. In the fourth quarter, they have lost four games.

Houston become number four, Sunday. Trailing 29-14 in the fourth quarter, the Oilers scored 17 unanswered points to pull out their fifth win of the season.

The Oilers and Chargers, two of the surprise triplets, are alone as division leaders, but the Colts are currently sharing their lofty position.

New England, the pre-season choice to win the AFC East, is also 4-3 and tied with Indianapolis. The Patriots survived their latest challenge, but the casualties may be harder to live through.

New England quarterback Tony Eason was knocked out of the game Sunday with the Raiders. Eason suffered a separated shoulder and will miss six games.

But Steve Grogan is on hand. Recognized as the best backup quarterback in the NFL, Grogan has repeatedly came off the bench to rally New England.

He did Sunday, but the Patriots need some help from Los Angeles. After missing a field goal in the game's final seconds, New England was given new life with an offside call on L.A. Tony Franklin then nailed 29-yarder for the 26-23 victory.

As close as the AFC is, the biggest lead of any team is one game, the NFC is as reversely wide open.

The Chicago Bears barely held their lead two Sundays ago, coming from behind to defeat Tampa Bay and again this past week the Bears managed to get by with another win.

Twice Chicago overcame 14-point deficits to finally defeat Kansas City, 31-28. The Chiefs' Bill McKinney threw for four touchdowns, but Jim McMahon threw Willie Gault with a 38-yard touchdown pass late in the game to put the Bears up for good.

McMahon connected on 23 of 34 passing attempts for just under 300 yards and three touchdowns. He is now 24-0 as a starting quarterback over the past three seasons.

Tampa Bay managed to stay within two games of the Bears by defeating Green Bay, 23-17. The Bucs' 4-3 record represents their best start since 1981.

In the NFC West, San Francisco had no problems with Los Angeles, handing the Rams their sixth loss of the season.

Oh, but next season. Los Angeles, 1-6 and all but out of the playoffs, will probably turn this season into a Jim Everett developing project, and hope that one of their three number one picks will provide immediate help.

New Orleans, meanwhile, kept their playoff hopes alive with a 38-0 whipping of Atlanta. Dalton Hilliard, the other member of the Saints' backfield, scored twice to pace New Orleans.

And how about those Cowboys? Down by 10 points in the second half, Dallas rallied to record a 33-24 victory over the New York Giants Monday night.

First came a Roger Ruzek field goal that cut the Giants lead to 24-17. Then Ed Jones tipped a Phil Simms pass that ended up in the arm of Jim Jeffcoat. He then ended up 28 yards later in the end zone, and all of a sudden the score was tied.

Ruzek, in the fourth quarter, added a trio of field goals for the final margin of difference.

The Giants will be playing at home this week against New England. A loss for either team would be devastating, but even worse for New York. The Giants may be without Simms, who suffered strained knee ligaments against Dallas Monday night.

Another game that wasn't supposed to carry a two-way playoff interest is Sunday's affair in San Francisco between Houston and the 49ers.

Cleveland has an easy game in Atlanta, and could be facing a golden opportunity to catch the Oilers.

Seattle, another team hoping to climb the divisional championship hill, will take on the NY Jets in New York Monday night.

THE SPORTING TIMES

Betsy Layne was expected to have their best year ever, but somewhere between the 8-0 opening game win over Fleming-Neon, and last week's defeat of M.C. Napier, the Bobcats suffered a tailspin.

The tailspin turned into a doughnut, and Betsy Layne football went around in circles for a stretch of about six games.

Likened to Denny Crum's Louisville Cardinals, Betsy Layne played a tough schedule.

Crum argues that his Cardinal team played a tough schedule last season and should have been invited to the NCAA tournament. "We could have scheduled 10 patsies and finished with a 28-4 record, but that wouldn't have made us a better team just because we had a better record," Crum said last week in an interview with WLW talk show host Bob Trumpy.

Crum may have been right, but trade Belfry for Jenkins and M.C. Napier for Mountain Manor and the Bobcats are probably 4-4 instead of 2-6 after the M.C. Napier game.

Or how about the one that got away? Betsy Layne's game with MMI, an almost assured win, was cancelled. Hey, maybe these Bobcats aren't so bad after all.

Oops. They did lose to Elkhorn City. The season wasn't an easy one for the players, and even worse for first year coach Vince Tucker. It's never easy to coach 50 football players by yourself.

Nobody likes a loser. Or that's what they say.

Throw that out the window. Neither Wheelwright nor Betsy Layne fans gave up on their players. But then again, anybody who has the toughness and courage to butt heads on a cold, rainy night can't exactly be called a loser.

That brings us to Prestonsburg. The Blackcats made a remarkable recovery from last year's 1-8 record, but are fans happy here?

No way. For some strange reason Blackcat supporters were expecting a return to dominance. For no strange reason, they didn't get it.

Prestonsburg was small, and Prestonsburg was young. Next year you may expect it. Tim Trusty will be back. So will his entire offensive line, and Aaron Flannery and Kevin Dotson should help ease the pain of losing Jimmy Joe Grace and Johnny Ray Harris.

This was not the year for the Blackcat, but here's betting that next season will be.

That is, if all is left alone. The players are certainly the ones to be congratulated, but the Prestonsburg coaching staff, headed up by Chuke Williams, did a job that should not be overlooked.

Licking River can produce good Musky fishing for serious anglers. This was demonstrated by Johnny Endicott, of Endicott, on right, with his October 11 catch. The Kentucky Silver Musky taken on a rapala crankbait, was 38 inches long and weighed 14 pounds.

won't have to deal with it. The dreaded 'seat belt rule.'

For two seasons high school coaches were forced to remain on and in their seats while the game was in progress, but this season a coaches' box will permit the head coach to stand as long as he remains within the limits of the box.

The rules committee of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association's Board of Controls voted Wednesday to lift the seat belt rule, and adopt the coaches' box, which will be 26 feet long and three feet wide.

Only the head coach will be permitted to stand in the box, and he may leave the area only to confer with official scorers, or after being summoned by the officials.

The coaches' box is only one change players, coaches, and fans will be exposed to when the high school season opens early next month.

The three-point line is the most talked about, and anticipated, but changes in timeouts are also expected to change the game.

In years past, it normally took a couple buzzers, and some officials' whistles to encourage a team to break huddle following a time out.

Not anymore. With the new rule, officials will place the basketball in play after a 60-second time out is up and begin their count.

Teams have five seconds to inbound the ball, and 10 seconds to shoot a free throw. If they do not break from their time out and be on the floor after 60 seconds, they may have even less time.

The World Boxing Council gave the go-ahead for Larry Holmes and Mike Tyson to square off in the squared circle come January of 1988.

Holmes announced last month that he would like a title shot at Tyson, but until last Wednesday it was unknown if the WBC would sanction the fight.

Holmes, 38, hasn't fought in 1 1/2 years. His last effort was a loss to Michael Spinks in an International Boxing Federation title fight.

The New York Knicks, trying to find a replacement for high scoring forward Bernard King, last week traded rookie Ron Moore, and a 1988 second round draft choice to Detroit for Sidney Green, King, injured the last two seasons is now with the Washington Bullets. He signed Sunday for 2.2 million dollars for two years.

Green, a six-foot, nine forward, has averaged just over 22 points per game during his four year NBC career.

Moore, a small college player, scored at a 27 point per game clip at West Virginia Tech last year.

Bassin Buddies Hold First Annual Classic

The Bassin Buddies held their First Annual Classic at Lake Guntersville, Alabama.

The club's top ranked members traveled 500 miles to do battle with the Bass of the South. The battle turned out to be a war. On October 24 and 25 the club brought 147 fish to the scales. Most of the fish were caught on "Rattle-Traps" cranked near grass beds on the main lake.

The top three spots were separated by only a few ounces. The final weights were Greg Bryant, 25 lbs. 11 oz.; Dean Blair, 24 lbs. 11 oz.; Alan Sublett, 24 lbs. 5 oz.; Dean Salyers, 20 lbs. 4 oz.; J.R. Frisby, 17 lbs. 5 oz.; Larry Frisby, 14 lbs. 7 oz. and Joe Arms, 10 lbs.

Betsy Layne Beta Club Expresses Thanks

Thanks to the generous support of area businesses and local residents, last year the Betsy Layne High School Beta Club was able to take an educational tour of Eastern Virginia and Washington, D.C. The Beta Club would like to express their thanks to all those who donated to this worthy cause. Donors include:

Hunting Safely During Deer Season

There is nothing more important in hunting than being a safe, conscientious hunter, particularly during the deer season.

The popularity of deer hunting has increased rapidly in recent years, following the unprecedented growth of the state's deer population.

Actually, hunting is among our safest sports, but last year there were more accidents than usual in Kentucky.

Deer Season Opens Nov. 14 In Most Zones

The 1987 gun season for deer will open November 14 in zones 1-7 and close in all zones, November 23.

Zone 8 will open Nov. 19 and Zone 9 will open Nov. 21. Zone 10 counties are closed to all deer hunting.

The 1987 season will be the first in Kentucky history that will allow hunters to harvest two deer with a gun in some open counties.

There are several possible ways to harvest two deer with a gun besides hunting only in zones 1-3 or on other special areas.

In Zone 1 counties, hunters can harvest bucks or does all 10 days of the season.

In zone 4-9 counties, hunters may harvest two deer, but only one can be taken by gun.

The Kentucky deer population is estimated at over 295,000, and the harvest estimate for the 1987 season across the commonwealth is 60,000 deer.

Some counties, primarily in the western and northcentral parts of the state, have reported a significant amount of crop depredation due to large deer herds.

Another major change for the upcoming season is that legal cartridges for rifles and handguns have been standardized by case length.

Rifles must be .240 caliber or larger and cartridges must have a minimum case length of 1-11/16 inches.

A magazine capacity limit of eight rounds applies when using semi-automatic rifles, pump action rifles and shotguns.

reported, seven of which were fatal. Big game hunters were involved in only 10 of these accidents, and eight of the 27 total were non-firearm related.

Over the past seven years, there have been approximately 15 reported hunting related accidents per year.

Although the law requires deer hunters to wear a hunter orange garment (vest, coat, coverall, hat or cap) during the gun season, exercising common sense and good judgement when handling a firearm is something only the hunter can control.

The excitement of coming face to face with a big buck is enough to cause anyone to forget to be safe, yet it is no excuse for taking an unsafe shot.

Always remove the cartridge from the chamber when climbing into a tree stand and use a rope tied to the stock of the unloaded gun to pull it up into the stand.

The most common type of hunting accident is a self-inflicted wound caused by mishandling firearms.

"Crunching leaves and crackling branches from behind trees and bushes do not constitute a deer and do not warrant a spray of gunfire.

Bassin' With the Pros...

Fall Turnover

Although some Southerners believe that a fall "turnover" of a lake is only something that happens up North, all thermoclined lakes do "turn over."

What fall turnover is all about is a shut-off period for fish activity on a particular lake. Cold surface water "settles" downward while deep warmer waters rise.

"In a shallow water lakefall turnover can cause problems," states Guido Hibdon, Johnson Pro Staff member based in Missouri.

According to Hibdon, you have to fish a given body of water a lot to be able to detect the tell-tale signs of the turnover.

It's a slow process but you can detect it by the foamy substance or other matter that comes loose from the bottom.

It should be also noted that not all lakes with a thermocline turnover at the same exact time.

Fishing clubs and other groups can get free-loan fishing films from Solona Studios, the film distribution office at Outboard Marine Corporation.

New Chaplain at Our Lady Extends Comfort, Support

"The first thing you meet is a handshake," says Franciscan Sister Charlene Young of her encounters with patients at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin. "People are really gracious."

Young, who became Our Lady of the Way Hospital's chaplain, August 18, spends most of each day visiting the hospital's patients. She's found the introductions easier than she expected and credits the hospital's previous chaplains and the faith of the patients she serves. "People know what I'm here for," she says. "They really make me feel welcome."

A "normal" day for Young begins about 8:30 a.m. with morning prayers. Shortly thereafter she begins making rounds.

"I want to give the best of the day to the people," explains Young. "I try to visit each patient daily... I value working with people, especially the sick and dying... I try to be a support and comfort to them."

Support and comfort take many forms. Young says she tries to be with patients "for whatever they need." Sometimes she just listens as patients confide psychological, spiritual, or emotional needs. Frequently she prays with patients.

Young hands out pamphlets with Biblical verses and arranges the use of a tape recorder for patients interested in listening to taped Biblical passages. Young's "support" doesn't necessarily

Mrs. Teresa Maynard was installed as Noble Grand of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 at the meeting held October 20 at the I.O.O.F. Hall. Mrs. Maynard asked each member to attend all meetings and also presented her officers with an address book and telephone directory to encourage them to contact those who are ill. Mrs. Maynard was presented a gift by her officers.

The world "bonanza" was originally Spanish meaning "fair weather at sea." It found its way into English through the miners on the Pacific coast who applied it to a very rich body of ore in a mine.

ly end with a patient's discharge from the hospital. Some patients receive follow-up phone calls from her after they return to their homes.

Although patient visiting is the priority and requires the majority of Young's day, her role embraces many other duties.

Young frequently offers the same "support and comfort" to patients' families, especially when the patient is critically injured or dying. She assists hospital employees by complementing the care they give with her services. She plans, leads and coordinates religious services in the hospital; leads morning and evening prayers; and responds to the spiritual needs and concerns of hospital staff. As a member of the Ethics Committee, she helps develop and implement hospital policies and procedures consistent with Catholic Christian morality. Through her participation in the Discharge Planning Committee, Young works with other health care professionals to arrange for continuity of care when patients leave the hospital. She also supervises volunteer chaplains.

Young's hours are, by job description, "demanding, unpredictable and emotionally fatiguing." Reverend Joseph Muench, of St. Martha Church, Prestonsburg, and Rev. Dan Heintzelman, of Spurlock Bible Church, Martin, help to guarantee some respite by each taking calls for her one weekend per month.

Young summarizes her work with the theme she chose for the October 25-31 celebration of Pastoral Care Week, "Being with is as important as doing for..."

"My work is as important as (that of other health care professionals) because it completes and links all the other care..." explains Young. "Together we provide for the total care of the patient...and the people (patients) agree because of the faith they have."

Sister Young is an experienced administrator with clinical pastoral education from St. John's Hospital in Springfield, In. and Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio. She left an administrative position of the Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Francis of Penance and Charity in Tiffin, Ohio to become Our Lady of the Way Hospital's chaplain.

LUNCHEON GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Earrit Hayes had as their luncheon guests at their home at Martin, recently, Mr. and Mrs. George Billips, Jr., of Rolling Hills, California, and Mrs. Della Baldrige, of Martin, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hayes, of Medford, Oregon. While here, the Billips and Mrs. Hayes also spent some time visiting with other friends and relatives.

PROCLAMATION

County of Floyd
Whereas: The Kentucky Division of Forestry of the Commonwealth has notified the Floyd County Judge Executive that an extraordinary forest fire hazard does exist according to the national fire danger rating system.

Therefore: I, John M. Stumbo, County Judge Executive of Floyd County do proclaim that such conditions exist.

Therefore: No person shall lite or maintain an open fire at any location in Floyd County while this proclamation is in effect. Any person violating this section shall be subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $100 dollars for each subsequent offense of this ordinance, pursuant to the authority of KRS 149.401 and Floyd County ordinance.

Therefore: This proclamation is made effective Oct. 30, at 12:00 noon 1987, and will remain in full force until notice is given by the Floyd County Judge Executive.

Literacy Programs Required For Some Who Get Food Stamps

Able-bodied food stamp recipients in the Lexington, Louisville and Newport areas must now choose between pursuing a high school equivalency diploma (GED), attending adult literacy classes or entering a job search program if they wish to continue to receive the coupons.

Under federal mandate, Kentucky's Department for Social Insurance and other state food stamp agencies are implementing the policies to directly link food stamp recipients with programs that can enhance their employability.

Social Insurance Commissioner Mike Robinson said the requirements of the Food Stamp Employment and Training Program apply only to recipients who are required to register for and actively seek employment. Participants must either attend education courses for a minimum of four months or be involved in an independent job search effort coordinated by the department.

"Earlier this year we began applying the job search requirement to eligible clients in Campbell, Daviess, Fayette, Jefferson and Kenton counties," he said. "The GED/Literacy option started in July in Daviess and Kenton counties and now it's available in Fayette, Jefferson and Campbell counties as well."

The five counties were chosen because they are home to more than one-fourth (approximately 111,000) of Kentucky's population receiving food stamps. An estimated 24,000 recipients in those counties must meet the new guidelines.

"Almost half of Kentucky's adults over 25 don't have a high school diploma or a GED, and one of every seven Kentuckians is illiterate," Robinson said. "We believe those figures may be even higher among food stamp recipients. Both illiteracy and lack of a high school education are impediments to employment."

"Each participant who chooses the job search option must make at least 24 job contacts within an eight-week period," he said.

Robinson noted that the average person who enrolls in the GED courses progresses about one grade level for every 75 hours spent in the classroom.

"Each participant must attend class a minimum of six to nine hours per week in pursuit of a GED or 12 hours a month in an adult literacy course," he said. "If, after four months, there is a need to continue studying for a GED, the person may voluntarily remain in the program."

Food stamp recipients in both the job search or education components receive $25 per month if expenses are incurred while searching for work or attending classes. Anyone voluntarily staying in the program after completing the initial requirements will be eligible to continue receiving the stipend.

"In today's world, a high school education is almost essential when looking for employment," said Robinson. "This program will not only give food stamp recipients a much-needed educational boost, but also will assist them in finding a job—helping them help themselves."

FINANCIAL BOARD TO MEET

The Financial Institutions Board will meet Nov. 18 at the Lexington offices of the Kentucky Finance Co., Inc., Kincaid Towers, 22nd floor, Room B, at 10 a.m. EST. Proposed legislation will be presented to the board for review and consideration, according to Chairman Thomas B. Miller.

50th Anniversary

James and Virginia Castle, of Eastern, were honored by their children with a 50th wedding anniversary party, October 10. Many of their friends and relatives were there to help the couple celebrate.

Berea College Students Make Mt. Spirit Awards

Students and a former student of Berea College's department of ceramics designed and crafted the awards that were given to recipients of the Mountain Spirit award during ceremonies Friday, October 30, at Boone Tavern in Berea.

The first recipients of the awards were David Lollis for economic advancement, Carol Stumbo for education, Dr. W. Grady Stumbo for health care, Arnold Turner, Jr., for spiritual enrichment, and Loyal Jones for promotion of Understanding of Appalachia and its people.

The ceramics department at Berea College serves a dual purpose, according to Ben Culbertson, a senior from Lexington. It teaches students, who produce ceramic ware for the College's craft industry, the basic principles of ceramics, and as a branch of the Art department.

The Mountain Spirit Award was created by the Christian Appalachian Project to recognize individuals who have made significant contributions to the betterment of Appalachia and its people in the areas of economic advancement, education, health care, spirituality, and promotion of Appalachia and its people. These areas are important to the region and the Christian Appalachian Project, which has nearly 60 programs that address problems in them.

She attends the McDowell Junior High School.

Statewide Poster Essay Contests Date Extended

State officials have extended the deadlines until Dec. 1 for the statewide poster and essay contests being conducted for Kentucky grade, middle and high school students on the theme, "New Madrid: It's Your Fault."

The extensions were granted at the request of several local school systems, which were asking for more time. The previous deadline was Nov. 1.

Prizes will be announced by Dec. 15 for entries judged first, second and third in each category.

Grade and middle school students are eligible for the poster contest. High school students are eligible for competition in the essay contest, according to Ms. Susan Olson, earthquake coordinator for the State Division of Disaster and Emergency Services.

The essays can be up to five pages in length, she said, and preferably typewritten and double-spaced.

Further information can be obtained from Olson at the Kentucky Division of Disaster and Emergency Services, Boone National Guard Center, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or by telephone at (502) 564-8628.

The theme of the contests refers to the New Madrid fault, or seismic zone, that lies adjacent to the western part of the state.

The most recent earthquake tremor felt there, which registered 3.8 on the Richter scale, was Wednesday, Oct. 14. It was centered just south of Paducah and was strong enough to be felt in five counties of western Kentucky.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of John Henry Akers who passed away Nov. 8, 1986.

Dear Brother,
One year has gone by
Since God took you away
You will never be forgotten
For in our hearts you will always stay
Michael John he misses his dad
And dear brother as does his mom.
Dad and mom and all the family
Cannot believe you are gone.
For every tear that we shall cry
Means only that we love you so.
Oh! God how we miss John Henry.
We hated to see him go.
So keep him safe in Heaven.
Soon we shall meet again,
No more the circle shall be broken,
Only then our hearts will mend.

Written by your broken hearted sister,
Patsy

Giardina Now Working On Best-Seller Sequel

Denise Giardina, author of best-seller, Storming Heaven, and Floyd county's writer in residence, was the guest at an English writing course at Prestonsburg Community College, Thursday evening. The class, led by Carolyn Turner, was given the inside information that the author is working on a sequel to Storming Heaven.

The writer, whose mother thought "she would never finish anything," is hard at work on not only a sequel to Storming Heaven but an historical account of the coal era of West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky.

Giardina's advice to the class was: "Read a lot; don't be afraid to be yourself and take risks in your writings. And always write to please yourself."

She closed the meeting by autographing copies of her second book and promising to bring a copy of her out-of-print first work, Good King Harry, to the P.C.C. Library.

ARH Elects Officers At Lexington Meeting

The Trustees of Appalachian Regional Healthcare, Inc., elected officers and two new Board members at their annual meeting Friday, October 30, in Lexington.

Chairman of the ARH Board Vernon J. Cole, president of Guaranty Deposit Bank in Cumberland, and executive vice president of the Harlan National Bank, was re-elected chairman of the not-for-profit corporation. William E. Cotter, Jr., former president of National Mines Corporation, was elected vice chairman. F.B. Amburgey, assistant to the president, controller, and secretary of the National Bank of Logan (West Virginia), was re-elected treasurer, and Mary Anne Furrow, former director of Christian Education for Presbyterian Churches in Perry county, was re-elected secretary.

John B. Stephenson, Ph.D., and David A. Zegeer were elected to the ARH Board's class of 1990. Stephenson is president of Berea College. Prior to his 1984 appointment at Berea, Stephenson served as special assistant to the chancellor and director of the Appalachian Center at the University of Kentucky. He continues to hold an adjunct professorship in the Department of Sociology at U.K.

David Zegeer is a mining consultant and former assistant secretary of labor, United States Mine Safety and Health Administration. He was a member of the ARH Board of Trustees from 1964 to 1983, and served as chairman from 1976 to 1978.

Trustees re-elected to three-year terms included: Reverend Ronald Byars, Ph.D.; James F. Bushnell; Tom Connelly, Jr., Ed.D.; Mildred Mitchell-Bateman, M.D.; Helen Sliagar, R.N.; and John Sprague, M.D.

ARH is a not-for-profit health care system with hospitals, primary care centers and other related facilities and services in Hazard, Whitesburg, Harlan, Middlesboro, West Liberty, McDowell, and South Williamson, in Kentucky; Beckley, Man, and Broadus in West Virginia; and Wise, Virginia.

Life Hurts.

We were never promised that life wouldn't hurt.

But God gives us ways to deal with the pain—whether it's spiritual, emotional or physical. We may not be able to make the pain go away, but with God's help, we can find ways to live with it. If you're hurting, come see us. We're United Methodists.

Take a Sensible Look At Your Health Cost

Hospital bills are difficult to understand despite the itemized billings provided by today's computers.

That's because no bill can contain the numerous details included in health care charges. Neither can this article.

But let's make some sense of your bill by making cents of each dollar you're charged for hospital services.

Today's bills are usually divided into seven categories: room and board, laboratory, medical and surgical supplies, pharmacy, radiology, emergency room and respiratory therapy. Surgery patients may have additional categories for anesthesia and operating room. Obstetrical patients may have delivery room and nursery charges.

The average patient stay is about four and a half days. The average charge for that stay is approximately $2500. Of course, length of stay and charges can vary greatly according to the person's medical condition. But most health care dollars are spent pretty much the same way.

Of each dollar spent, 36 cents pays for room and board. Quite a price for meals and sheets? Yes, it is. But in a hospital, meals and sheets aren't all you get. Room and board revenues also pay utilities, fund employees' salaries and benefits, purchase and maintain equipment and furniture, and finance construction costs.

The next biggest part of each dollar, 27 cents, is spent on laboratory tests. These charges do not cover the salaries of the laboratory personnel who work in the lab. They simply pay for the tests themselves.

Medical and surgical supplies eat up fifteen cents of your health care dollar. This may seem expensive, but disposable supplies, important for infection control, are not cheap. This category includes things like diapers, bed pads, IV tubes, sitz baths, batteries for equipment, suction bottles, enemas, soap, ice bags, catheters, face masks and gloves.

Ten cents of your health care dollar are spent on pharmaceuticals, medicines which you may take in pill, capsule, liquid and intravenous (IV) fluid forms.

The average patient spends six cents of their health care dollar on x-rays and two cents on respiratory therapy. The emergency room fee, which includes a charge for the attending physician's services, usually only claims about four cents of each dollar a patient spends on hospital services.

Bill categories are often more inclusive than they seem. For instance, a mother who delivered naturally in a birthing room and who had her baby "room-in" with her is often upset by charges for delivery room and nursery fees. What she doesn't understand is the costs of the birthing bed are comparable to those of the delivery room because the same staff, supplies and equipment are required. Likewise, a baby kept in the room with the mother will still need the same supplies, nursing checkups and baths as the child in the nursery.

Computerized billings can help us understand what we pay for hospital services only when we understand what their categories include. The descriptions given in this article may not fit every hospital's bill, but they are a clue to the numerous services and supplies which are oftentimes unseen parts of the health care we receive.

If you have questions about your hospital bill, contact the financial services department of the hospital and ask for an explanation before you assume you've been billed incorrectly. Many times the explanations are quite simple and helpful.

Workers in the financial services department can also explain why your insurance didn't pay what the movie star who sold it to you promised. That advice can help you purchase coverage for your next hospitalization which will pay more or all of your next health care bill.

If there is a mistake in your bill, the financial services worker is in a position to correct it.

The sense of your hospital bill lies in the services and supplies too numerous to itemize. Detailing them would make your bill longer and higher.

If you have questions about this article or would like a free copy, please contact Annette Vannucci, Controller, Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Box 910, Martin, Ky. 41649 or call 285-5181.

CARD OF THANKS

My husband and I thank you for the consolation you gave us during this trying time. We further wish to thank all of our friends and relatives and neighbors for the flowers and food for their family of Jason Douglas McCauley.

We also wish to thank all the pallbearers, Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home, the Joppa Regular Baptist Church and their ministers for the wonderful sermons. Thank you all.

BLUEGRASS REAL ESTATE NEWS

August 1987
GRAYHAWK TRACE TOWNHOMES
BEST VALUE IN LEXINGTON

Priced $10,000 below VA/FHA appraisals

Lexington—Based on location, amenities, overall appearance, and price, Grayhawk Trace Townhomes in the Lansdowne/Shadeland East area are the best value in Lexington.

developed by Philip Dixon & Sons of Huntington, W.V., an excellent location, optional garages or basements, and exteriors that are virtually maintenance-free.

Replaces, garden patios, optional garages or basements, and exteriors that are virtually maintenance-free.

News that can save you money and enhance the quality of your life

Grayhawk Trace Townhomes are priced at $10,000 below their VA/FHA appraised value. This makes them the best real estate value in Lexington, says Tom Lambuth, president of The Lambuth Group, Realtors.

Located in the prestigious Lansdowne/Shadeland East area, Grayhawk Trace Townhomes offer 1,360 s.f. of beautifully-designed living space with 2 or 3 bedrooms, walk-in closets, 2 1/2 or 3 baths, fireplaces, garden patios, kitchens filled with G.E. appliances, optional garages or basements, and exteriors that are virtually maintenance free.

"But the best news," says Lambuth, "is that these townhomes, which are located in a stable neighborhood where homes are considered to be a good investment, are priced from only $79,500." See for yourself why Grayhawk Trace Townhomes are called the "best value in Lexington." Visit furnished models, open daily from 1 to 6 p.m., at the corner of Turkeyfoot Road and Grayhawk.

KFTC Members Set Goals For Coming Year at Meet

"Only Kentuckians can save Kentucky; no one else will care enough," Patty Wallace told members of the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition who gathered in Hazard earlier this month for the group's annual membership meeting.

KFTC members adopted a platform of goals at the meeting stating the issues they care about and plan to address in 1988 in order to save their land and natural resources from destruction and improve life in Kentucky.

Protecting the rights of surface owners, promoting the reduction and recycling of hazardous wastes, removing the property tax exemption enjoyed by owners of unmined coal and supporting reforms in the legislative process so that decisions are made publicly and democratically were among the highlights of the platform adopted by the membership.

In a statement of purpose accompanying the list of goals, KFTC members said that the organization is interested in promoting citizen involvement in local community groups as a means to increase public participation in the decisions made by public officials. The organization also encourages proper and prudent of land, minerals, water, and other natural resources.

KFTC's goals are set each year by its members. The 1988 platform was developed after meetings in more than a dozen counties to hear the ideas and concerns of local KFTC members.

In addition to adopting their platform, KFTC members heard several guest speakers during the annual membership meeting.

Dave Maggard, of Leslie county, shared some of his 10 years of research in land and mineral deed fraud in eastern Kentucky, including examples of deeds being recorded by county clerks before they were in office, "Xs" showing up on deeds in place of the signature of people who were known to be able to write and deeds being written to companies which never existed.

He related a story about deed books from one county courthouse supposedly being sent to Louisville for new binding. "They never got new covers put on them, but they got new pages put in them."

"I could tell you stories on and on" said Maggard, estimating that as much as 90 percent of the minerals severed from the land in eastern Kentucky were taken by "pure fraud and nothing else."

A summary of KFTC's Legislative Democracy Project was given by John Burgess of Floyd county. KFTC members have researched legislative rules and procedures in other states to find ways to make the Kentucky General Assembly more democratic. Burgess asked for support of these changes in order that justice and democracy can find their place in Kentucky government.

"Every year, I'd like to see one little step up the mountain so that one day we can have a government that is 'by the people and for the people.'"

Minister Randy Wilson, of Leslie county, told KFTC members that it is they who are called to see that justice prevails in our society.

After the speeches, Rep. Clayton Little, of Pike county, a primary sponsor of unmined minerals tax legislation and the 1984 broad form deed law, was presented with a "Gutsy Legislator" award by KFTC.

"I really want to thank you for the things you're doing," Little told KFTC members. "What I've heard this morning is the gospel."

The veteran legislator talked of the day in 1973 when his family's land was broad-formed.

"The thing that bothered me most is that I saw my father's chin quiver when he was told he could not protect what he owned. I made a commitment that I would not rest until I saw this injustice undone."

Little said he would not give up the fight to end the abuses of the broad form deed. "I make you one promise, to put the broad form deed on as a constitutional amendment, so that no judge and no dollar can declare it invalid."

Also at the meeting, officers for the coming year were chosen. Mary Jane Adams, of Leslie county, was elected as chairperson for a second term. Denise Giardina, of Floyd county, was re-elected as secretary-treasurer, and Lawrence countian Patty Wallace was elected vice-chairperson.

They will join representatives of Fayette, Floyd, Harlan, Jefferson, Knott, Laurel, Lawrence, Leslie, Letcher, Martin, Morgan, Perry and Pike counties on the KFTC Steering Committee.

More information about the Kentucky Fair Tax Coalition is available by writing to KFTC, P.O. Box 864, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Demand For Coal Expected To Rise

Energy experts are predicting the probability of a rapid rise in the national demand for coal.

The increased demand will be brought about by economic growth in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions of the country, as well as a decline in the nuclear power industry, according to energy analysts who met in Pittsburgh, recently.

"The coal industry provides probably the most indigenous, plentiful supply of energy," said Robert Bigelow, vice-president of the New England Electric System, in an Associated Press story about the Pittsburgh conference.

"The future of the nuclear industry is pretty uncertain," Bigelow added. "All we need is another Chernobyl."

To prepare for the increased demand, clear air technologies must be implemented for the safer burning of coal and large power plants must be built closer to areas in which the coal is mined to allow for the shipping of electricity rather than the shipping of coal to areas of increased need, according to George White, a researcher at the University of Pittsburgh.

Several utility officials said that their companies were buying electricity generated by hydroelectric power plants in Canada. This power is cheaper for utilities near the Canadian border, and much less damaging to the environment to produce.

An easy way to ice cupcakes is to place a small piece of chocolate on the top when the cupcake is still hot, and spread the chocolate as it melts.

Week of Nov. 8-14, 1987

ARIES (March 21-April 20) Concentrate on what must be done within your home environment. In itself, this proves to be no small task this week.

TAURUS (April 21-May 20) Allow all forms of communication to carry you through an extremely active week. Your base of operations is also involved by mid-week.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The money question runs the risk of remaining just that — a question! Do whatever is called for to activate this subject.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're able to gain the attention of those in power. Know this and be ready to go on stage at any given time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) After what seems like an endless round of delays and false starts, you're finally able to get a new endeavor under way.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Strike out for what you want over the next seven days. Do not allow anyone, or anything, to get in your way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Keep your place in line, even though others are not as easy to work with as usual. This means that someone wants what you have.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Ferret out the ways in which to advance your personal aims. This will prove to be far more exciting than you think.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Work on financial concerns before you plunge into the near future. After all, you must rebuild that power base of yours.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Revise whatever must be revised, so that you can get on with money matters. Your judgment is certain to be brought into play now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) This is one week in which you must apply your skill at talking to everyone. It should be done to help promote your position at work.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Your private life is threaded throughout the week, and in a way that has a direct bearing on your general environment. Go slowly.

★ Cancer Hopeline

QUESTION: My roommate is talking about quitting smoking again. She has quit a couple of times before but always went back to it again after a month or two. I love her dearly but I hate the smell of smoke in our apartment. How can I urge her to quit and help her stay off for good?

ANSWER: It's great that you want to help your friend quit smoking. The support and concern of friends and family can provide a vital boost in a successful attempt to quit smoking.

Although you can't make your friend stop smoking, you can provide the understanding and caring that will enhance her confidence in her ability to quit. Remind her of all the advantages of being a nonsmoker—better health, fresher smelling hair and clothes, more money to spend. Assure her that her past attempts to quit were good practice and most people don't quit for good on their first, second, or even third try, but if they keep trying, they will succeed. Tell her you believe she can make it this time.

Since no two people are the same, what may be helpful to one person may be annoying to another. Ask your friend what you can do to help. Be alert to her moods and feelings. She may prefer to be alone at one time and need more time with you at another. Be prepared for ups and downs over the next few months and try to be patient if she is irritable. Most of the withdrawal effects pass within two to four weeks after quitting.

The following is a list of "Do's and Don'ts" to help a person trying to quit smoking:

- *Don't criticize, nag or preach.
  - *Don't bring up past failures.
  - *Do understand that quitting smoking is difficult.
  - *Do tell her how glad you are that she is quitting.
  - *Do offer praise and rewards.
  - *Do tell her that you believe she will succeed.
  - *Do let her know she can call the Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER for support or a referral to a stop smoking program.
- For more information on quitting smoking, call the Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER or write McDowell Cancer Network, 800 Rose Street, Lexington, Ky. 40536. The Cancer Information Service is a program of the Kentucky Cancer Information Service.

Diabetes is Topic On 'Healthy Ways'

Diabetes affects 5% of all Americans. To date, no cure has been found for this common disease. It can, however, be controlled by several means: diet, diet plus pills which help lower blood sugar; and diet and insulin injections.

The diabetic assumes most of the responsibility for day-to-day treatment of this disease. Knowledge about diabetes will encourage and help a diabetic to keep the disease under control.

This week's 'Healthy Ways' program features a film on diabetes. It will air Thursday, November 5, at 7 p.m. on WPRG-TV, Channel 5, Tel-Com Cable System.

BECOMING TOO LAX

Unless directed by a doctor, laxatives should not be used for longer than one week. Laxatives are not designed for long-term use. Chronic overuse of harsh stimulant laxatives can lead to a lazy colon and constipation. A chronic laxative user may be unable to have a bowel movement without taking a laxative. Excessive use of some laxatives can also result in serious diarrhea, liver disease, and electrolyte imbalance. If a person self-medicates with a laxative longer than one week and there has been no improvement in his condition, he should consult his doctor. In addition, he should seek to increase his fiber intake, liquid consumption, and exercise.

COOLEY APOTHECARY can provide you and your family with your total prescription needs as well as any over-the-counter remedies you require. A Story of Pillaging of Land Its People, and Their Rights

Storming Heaven
Reviewed by Trisha Morris, Librarian,
Prestonsburg Community College

In 1810 the Marcums settled in West Virginia on a little creek later named Marcums Branch. In 1890 the Richmond and Western Railroad, telling the Marcums and their neighbors that they held the deed to their land, forced them to sign away their mineral rights for a promise that they could then stay on the property. In 1892 the railroad leased these mineral rights to the American Coal Company. With a ruling that mineral owners had precedence over surface owners, the sheriff of Justice county evicted the Marcums, the Lloyds and all their neighbors. Thus began the 30-year epic which exploded into the battle of Blair Mountain where 10,000 miners battled coal owner troops and the U.S. Army for the privilege of free speech, an honest weight, and the right to organize.

Denise Giardina, in "Storming Heaven," has related a passionate story of the abuse of civil rights and the pillaging of the land when the coal companies ruled West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky. Interwoven in that tragic time she has also told a beautiful story of people. "Storming Heaven" is the story of Rondal Lloyd, his family, his friends, and Carrie Bishop, the woman who couldn't help loving him.

The story begins with the birth of Rondal Lloyd. His mother signed the railroad's paper before he was born; his father, bringing his family back to Winco W. Va. to mine the land which once was theirs, takes Rondal into the mines when he is only 10 years old. There Rondal sees his father's mining buddy crushed to death, his father killed in a gas explosion and an union organizer thrown, alive, into a blazing furnace. And, he sees the ignorance which sends the children into the graves of the mines instead of to school. Rondal, spurred on by his friends, becomes one of the moving forces which was the bloody beginnings of the United Mine Workers Union. The story moves from West Virginia to Eastern Kentucky to Colorado and back again.

Ms. Giardina has captured the nature of the Appalachian people. Woven through her story is the strong sense of place, the importance of kin, the draw of the hills and the independent spirit of the people.

"Storming Heaven" is a well-told story touching all the emotions. The story of the miners and their pitiful struggle for organization and a better life is the impetus of the story, but, beyond that theme is the story of family ties, camaraderie and love. The baseball narrative in chapter twelve will thrill any sports fan, and the tender story of Carrie Bishop's love for two men will make a romantic weep.

The American Coal Company, The Richmond and Western Railroad, the Baldwin Felts Guards and the truly heroic and desperate struggle of the miners and their families during the early 20th century—these are real—the Marcums, the Lloyds, the Bishops and all the names are fiction. But, these characters, in a true story, will be remembered long after reading "Storming Heaven" by Denise Giardina.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I am attending college full time under the GI Bill. If I reduce my status to part-time, do I need to notify the VA?

A.—Yes. Any change in your education training time, dependents or address should be reported to the VA immediately.

Q.—Is there a time limit for applying for VA compensation?

A.—There is no time limit, however, the date of application is a factor in establishing the effective date of payment. It may also be more difficult to establish entitlement if a claim is filed long after the disability was incurred.

Q.—I am a Korean Conflict veteran and I am filing for a service-connected disability rating. If I am rated service-connected, am I eligible for VA life insurance?

A.—Any veteran who served after April 25, 1951, who is awarded a service-connected disability is eligible for Service-Disabled Veterans Insurance. You must file for this insurance within one year of the award of the disability rating.

Ants can be frozen for long periods without harm. Many spend the winter inside logs and stumps, coated with ice crystals.

Special deliveries on 'Garry Shandling's Show'

By Denise Gorga

It's Garry Shandling, and he's back for a second season on Showtime. And if the second installment of "It's Garry Shandling's Show" is any indication, Shandling is going to keep on smashing the fourth wall and grinning his way through his deliveries.

Garry Shandling

"No Baby, No Show," which airs Wednesday, Nov. 11, promises a special delivery. As usual, the Shandling domicile features a coterie of co-stars: nosy Leonard Smith (Paul Willson), Shandling's ever-so-platonic girlfriend Nancy (Molly Cheek) and the Schumaker clan - papa Pete (Michael Tucci), son Grant (Scott Nemes) and pregnant mom Jackie (Bernadette Birkett).

In between Jackie's contractions, which would do any Lamaze couch proud, Garry exhorts her to demonstrate the miracle of birth within the allotted half-hour. Once again, Shandling lambasts the medium that accommodates him, gently ribbing all the would-be Geraldo Riveras who try to produce the oxymoronic TV phenomenon of spontaneity on cue. Not to worry - before Baby Boy Schumaker makes his cable debut, we meet Tom Petty, Susan Anton and Doc Severinsen.

• On Saturday, Nov. 14, the comic ranks will turn out for another laughfest to benefit the homeless. Following last year's "Comic Relief," HBO airs "Comic Relief '87," live from the Universal Amphitheatre in Los Angeles. "Where there's laughter, there's hope," the slogan goes. Slated to donate their chuckles to charity are Billy Crystal, Bob Goldthwait, Tracey Ullman, Robin Williams, Paul Reiser, Martin Short, Harry Anderson, Paul Rodriguez and Steven Wright. Proceeds will be distributed to organizations in 23 cities.

• Showtime debuts two feature films this week. "Mona Lisa" (Nov. 14) stars Bob Hoskins as a mobster's driver who winds up ushering a hooker (Cathy Tyson) around town. "The Men's Club" (Nov. 8, 13) is a psychological study of that most insidious male-bonding ritual - the locker-room chat. Here, the setting gives rise to an evening of shared fantasies and revelations, culminating in a visit to a bordello. Roy Scheider, Harvey Keitel, Frank Langella and Stockard Channing star.

(CC) Cliff and his father pay a visit to a special friend (Eileen Heckart) of Rudy's. (Postponed from an earlier date). (In Stereo)

8 6 13 4 Sledge Hammer! (CC) A terrifying phone caller threatens a radio personality's life. (In Stereo)

22 5 Upstairs, Downstairs

33 11 Adams Chronicles (CC). Part 7 of 13. (R)

57 2 Tour of Duty (CC) Racial conflicts on the battlefield result in Pvt. Johnson being charged with the murder of a bigoted white soldier. (60 min.)

8:05 17 MOVIE: 'North By Northwest' A Madison Avenue advertising man is mistaken for a CIA agent. Cary Grant, Eva Marie Saint, James Mason. 1959.

8:30 3 3 Different World (CC) Rudy chooses Whitley as a role model when she spends a weekend visiting Denise. (In Stereo)

8 6 13 4 MOVIE: 'A View to a Kill' (CC) James Bond hunts a maniacal genius attempting to take over the world. Roger Moore, Christopher Walken, Tanya Roberts. 1985. (In Stereo)

9:00 3 3 Cheers (CC) Norm paints Rebecca's office and apartment to pay off his overextended bar tab. (In Stereo)

22 5 Ring of Truth (CC) (60 min.) Part 3 of 6.

33 11 Mystery!: Dorothy L. Sayers' Lord Peter Wimsey (CC) The police intensify their search for witnesses who might have seen the gigolo die. (60 min.) Part 3 of 4.

57 2 Wiseguy Sonny's upcoming marriage to a gangster's daughter is viewed as an excuse to engage in a bloody gang war. (Part 1 of 2). (60 min.) Part 1 of 2.

9:30 3 3 Beverly Hills Buntz (CC) Comedy-drama. Dennis Franz ("Hill Street Blues") stars as California-based private eye Norman Buntz who, along with his old pal, Sid the Snitch, gets involved in a case. (In Stereo)

10:00 3 3 L.A. Law (CC) Van Owen unexpectedly meets up with Kuzak's ex-wife; a buxom bailiff comes on to Brackman. (60 min.) (In Stereo)

IN THIS WEEK

Bisset was intimidated by 'Napoleon and Josephine'

By Paul Elie

"Napoleon and Josephine: A Love Story," which airs this week on ABC, marks the miniseries debut of another feature-film star. Jacqueline Bisset, best known for her roles in the movies "Day for Night" (1973) and "Murder on the Orient Express" (1974), plays aristocrat Josephine Beauharnais, the wife of French military leader Napoleon Bonaparte, played by Armand Assante ("Stranger in My Bed," the miniseries "Rage of Angels"). The miniseries airs Tuesday, Nov. 10, Wednesday, Nov. 11 and Thursday, Nov. 12.

Jacqueline Bisset

"I wasn't really looking to do a TV project -- I was looking to do something for the screen," Bisset says. "But when this came along I said, 'Oh, that looks interesting -- let me have a look at it.' And as I read it I found it more and more interesting." The miniseries will focus on Napoleon's romantic exploits, rather than his military career. "It's a love story rather than a battle story," Bisset says. Josephine will be por-tayed as the energy behind the emperor. "She is a very attractive character," Bisset says. "Not particularly beautiful, but tremendously intuitive, gifted with a psychological soft touch. She's also quite frivolous at times." Bisset, 43, hasn't appeared in a feature film since "Under the Volcano" in 1984. Lately she has worked in television, appearing in the TV movies "Anna Karenina" (1985) and "Choices" (1986).

At first she was intimidated by the demands of a six-hour miniseries.

"I was quite appalled at first," she says. "It's like doing three scripts at once. One has to calm one's brain or one's liable to panic."

Executive producer David Wolper, who produced the miniseries "Roots" (1977) and "The Thorn Birds" (1983), favors sprawling, excessive projects. "Napoleon and Josephine" was filmed in France, England and Morocco.

"We filmed the second half first, so I never felt that I was ready," Bisset says. "I was always afraid that if they changed the schedule I wouldn't be prepared. But by the time I got in front of the camera I was, even if I didn't feel that way."

She feels that TV currently offers her better roles than the cinema.

"There are many, many films that I could do," she claims. "But nothing I've read lately offers me real excitement -- a tingling, like gooseflesh, that makes me want to turn the page."

ASK TONI

Richard Dean Anderson hoped to play pro hockey

By Toni Reinhold

I'd like some information about Richard Dean Anderson. Is he the same actor who played Dr. Jeff Webber on "General Hospital"? - C.F., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Richard Dean Anderson

Anderson, the star of ABC's "MacGyver," was born in Minneapolis, Minn. An avid sportsman, his hopes of becoming a professional hockey player were dashed when he broke both arms while playing varsity hockey during high school. (Still, he now plays on the celebrity all-star hockey team at National Hockey League games and charity events.) He worked as a department-store salesman, with stage companies and at a theme park before he got his big break - the role of Dr. Jeff Webber on "General Hospital," which he played from 1976 to 1981. He was a regular in the CBS series "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" (1982-83) and "Emerald Point N.A.S." (1983-84) before landing the "MacGyver" lead role in 1985.

Did Pearl Bailey ever have her own TV show? I seem to recall that she did, but my sister says no. - T.H., Harrisburg, Pa.

You're right, T.H. Bailey did host her own variety series, "The Pearl Bailey Show," which aired from January to May 1971. Joining Pearl Mae were the Allan Davies Singers, the Robert Sidney Dancers and Louis Bellson and his orchestra.

The singer in the new McDonald's "Mac Tonight" commercial reminds me of Bobby Darin. Is he Darin's son? - D.A., Mt. Vernon, Ill.

The McDonald's Corp. won't identify its new personality, who they call simply "Mac Tonight." The singer does sound like the late, great Darin when he belts out the commercial lyrics to the tune of Darin's hit "Mack the Knife." But the company says he is not related to Darin - he is a complete unknown.

Who supplies the voice of Garfield the cat on the CBS specials? - B.P., Pearl River, N.Y.

The feline star of the "Garfield" TV specials is given voice by Lorenzo Music.

(Send your letters to Ask Toni, United Feature Syndicate, 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, N.Y. 10166. Due to the large volume of mail, personal replies cannot be given.)

John Loprieno wishes Cord would get tough

By Marie Michaels

The old adage that success is a matter of being in the right place at the right time certainly applies to John Loprieno, who portrays Cord Roberts on "One Life to Live."

John Loprieno

Loprieno's first daytime role came to him in 1985, just six months after he graduated from the University of Minnesota with a master's degree in acting.

"I was very lucky," he says. "I was living in Chicago when I auditioned for and got the role of Danny Walton on 'Search for Tomorrow.'"

He left the show just a few months before it was canceled in 1986, but got another break later that year when he auditioned for "One Life to Live."

"I came in to audition for the role of Richard Abbott," he remembers. "They were looking for a blond, blue-eyed guy, so I knew I couldn't do the role. But I met with the casting director (Mary Jo Slater) anyway, and she told me that the writers had told her earlier that morning to be on the lookout for an actor who could play part Mexican. She thought of me."

Since Cord is Loprieno's first "nice guy" role, he's taking a lot of ribbing from his college acting colleagues.

"My friends are getting a kick out of the fact that I'm playing this super-good guy, because I've always played the villain," he says. "In college I was always the child molester or the criminal."

Cord's personality was suggested early on by his discovery that Clint Buchanan (Clint Ritchie) was his father, and by the resulting tension between him and his ex-wife, Tina Roberts (Andrea Evans).

"I like playing Cord," he says. "The writers have done a wonderful job in giving me interesting things to do with him. And in the next few months I've got even more interesting things coming up," he adds in a conspiratorial tone of voice.

Still, Loprieno wishes the character would get tough.

"I'd like to give Cord more of an edge," he says. "He's so naive. He's had the wool pulled over his eyes by just about everyone in his life, from his mother (the now-deceased Maria Roberts, played by Barbara Luna) to Tina. I'd like to see him earn Tina's respect so she won't want to walk all over him anymore."

Steps Will Remain As PC Looks Ahead

Pikeville College will keep its 99 steps tying the hilltop campus to downtown Pikeville, but problems of accessibility will be solved with the installation of elevators in Record Memorial Building, a parking structure spanning two streets, and a series of ramps, bridges and walkways, according to a comprehensive campus development plan to be presented to its trustees this week.

Over 300 students, alumni and friends of Pikeville College saw architectural drawings of the master plan at the annual Founders' Day Convocation last Thursday. President William H. Owens called the plan "an attainable dream" for the future of the College. Illustrating his comments with slides showing the present campus buildings and diagrams prepared by Chrisman, Miller, Woodford and Associates, Lexington, President Owens reviewed each project for an attentive audience.

The highest priority would be given to providing adequate space for expanded library holdings and study space for a large number of commuting students, Owens said. For this purpose the college hopes to acquire the abandoned hospital property adjacent to the campus, raze the oldest part of the building and renovate the newest wing to house a modern Learning Resource Center. The College has a six-month option to buy the property from the Pikeville Methodist Hospital.

Renovation projects for existing buildings on campus would answer the need for more efficient use of space for academic programs, administrative offices, student activities and public programs. The most extensive remodeling would be the interior of Derriana Hall, closed for the past five years. The facade of this historic building would be preserved while the interior would be completely rebuilt to house dining facilities and a student center.

The Administration Building would undergo minor changes for more efficient use of space, with some rooms on the second floor now used for administrative offices being restored to classrooms.

The Record Memorial Building would house all of the College's fine arts departments with the floor below auditorium level providing space for set construction and dressing rooms for public performances.

The Founders' Day audience was especially receptive to that part of the plan addressing the need for improved accessibility and more adequate parking space.

A three-level structure between Wickham Memorial Hall and Page Hall would provide parking spaces for 210 vehicles and bridge the streets which now isolate Page Hall from the rest of the main campus.

Finally, the master plan provides landscaped greenspace at the main entrance, on the side of the campus facing Elm Street and in the open space gained from the demolition of the old section of the hospital.

Joanthon Hiers, chairman of the College's Board of Trustees, commented briefly on Board plans for a three-year capital funds campaign to increase the endowment, provide funds for current operations, and fund the first phase of the capital improvement project. The final year of the campaign will coincide with the college's centennial year in 1989-90.

Garth AVEC-FBLA Officers Attend October Workshop

The following officers attended a workshop at Pikeville College, October 1. Presidents, Mary Conley and Polly Mullins; vice presidents, Michelle Crager and Deanna Bradley; secretaries, Robin Castle and Tammy Wallen; treasurers, Thelma Frasure and Beth Cochran; historian, Loretta Shelton; parliamentarian, Jennifer Bradford, and Mrs. Doris Lawson, adviser.

The workshop was sponsored by the FBLA Regional Officers. The officers attended special interest sessions which gave them an opportunity to learn how to be better business leaders.

Darla Castle provided transportation for attending the meet.

Little Miss Harvest

Lora Susanne Chaffins, eight-year-old daughter of Philip and Joan Chaffins, of McDowell, was crowned Little Miss Harvest of 1987 held recently at John M. Stumbo Elementary School.

She was presented a crown, a trophy and a gift of jewelry for winning the evening wear competition.

A third grade student of Mrs. Karen Pack at McDowell Elementary, she is the granddaughter of the late Dave and Minta Chaffins, of Wayland, and Arnold Turner, of McDowell, and the late Annette Turner.

The largest seeds in the world are the nuts of the coco-de-mer or double coconut palm, of the Seychelles, an island group in the Indian Ocean. A nut may weigh up to 35 pounds.

It's out of this world—a nebula, that is. These masses of glowing gas, millions of miles across, are visible from 900,000 light years away. Each is as large as an entire galaxy like our own.

“ONE GREAT TRUCK LEADS TO ANOTHER...AND ANOTHER...AND ANOTHER.”

Too much of a good thing can be wonderful.

Which is exactly why demanding drivers who've discovered the new 1988 full-size Sierra Pickup from GMC Truck tend to come back for more...in the shapes of other advanced vehicles from GMC Truck.

Of course, the Sierra is a tough act to follow. With its standard V-6 or optional V-8 power and a long list of standard features, including electronic fuel injection on all gas engines and a rear-wheel anti-lock brake system (operates only in the two-wheel-drive mode on 4 X 4s),

Sierra is the truck that sets the standard as the ultimate pickup from GMC Truck.

SPORT TRUCKS THAT LOVE THE OUTDOORS.

Our S-15 Pickup sets equally high standards in the sport-size pickup arena. It's more than just a little pickup—it's a lot of fun, thanks to available niceties like fuel-injected V-6 power, sporty five-speed manual, bucket seats with comfortable leather seating surfaces, plus the carrying capacity that only a pickup can offer. It's ready to work hard—and play hard—'cause it's a pickup from GMC Truck.

Then there's the S-15 Jimmy, a sport utility that's at home everywhere you are, thanks to styling that combines sporty looks with luxurious versatility. The lines are clean, the handling is crisp, and the 4 X 4 model lets your fun begin where the pavement ends.

VERY GRAND TOURING.

You'd have to look awfully hard to find a limousine capable of transporting up to eight passengers (with available seating) or as much as 151.8 cu ft of cargo in plush surroundings. Or you could just take a look at our Safari Van, with the newly available Touring Package.

Inside, you'll find all the comforts of a fine car, plus all the room and carrying capacity of a fine van from GMC Truck. Luxurious velour upholstery, convenient storage pockets and compartments, rich carpeting and much more are available to make any trip in Safari a very grand tour indeed. And thanks to fuel-injected V-6 power and independent front suspension, it's as much fun to drive as to ride in.

A WORD OF WARNING.

For a look at these great entries in the luxury transportation field, buckle up and visit your GMC Truck dealer. But before you go, be warned.

Once you've found out just how much one GMC truck can offer, you may well discover that one just won't be enough. Which is good for us.

And even better for you.

See your dealer for the terms and conditions of this limited powertrain warranty.
