

WHEN A HIGH-PRESSURE GAS LINE RUPTURED, Tuesday afternoon, the narrow road up Arkansas Creek was crowded as disaster and emergency teams rushed to help. Sheriff Henry Hale and deputies kept the road clear for workers and turned back the curious.

Voter Interest Seems Slight In Next Tuesday's Election

By B.A. Heinze

Although the gubernatorial race between Wallace Wilkinson, Democrat, and John Harper, Republican, is the focus of statewide interest in next Tuesday's election, two races for city offices, here and at Wheelwright, may stir more interest in these towns than either Wilkinson or Harper.

Five towns in the county are electing city officials, but only in these two is there any challenge. At Allen, four candidates are running for the four city commissioner offices to be filled; at Wayland though four may be voted, only three are seeking to serve as city commissioners; likewise, at Martin, six candidates seek to fill the six council seats to be voted on. But in Prestonsburg there are almost twice as many candidates for city council as offices open. Of the 15 running for council, only eight will be elected. At Wheelwright, the race for city commissioner is even more hotly contested with 10 running for city commissioner but only four to be chosen.

Locally, these are the only races of interest since both veteran Frank

DeRossett, mentioned in the May primary for Circuit Clerk, and Jerry Patton for Commonwealth's Attorney are both unopposed.

Besides the candidates for governor, these names will appear on the ballot in all 48 precincts of the county.

Lieutenant Governor—Brereton Jones (D), Lawrence R. Webster (R).

Secretary of State—Bremer Ehrler (D), Ronald L. Sanders (R).

Attorney General—Fred Cowan (D), Christopher S. Combs (R).

Auditor of Public Accounts—Bob Babbage (D), Beverly Griffin (R).

State Treasurer—Robert Mead C.P.A. (D), Carol W. Reed (R).

Superintendent of Public Instruction—John Brock (D), Sue Daniel (R).

Commissioner of Agriculture—Ward "Butch" Burnette (D), John Underwood, Jr. (R).

Railroad Commissioner—J. E. Combs (D), G. L. "Dusty" Rhodes (R).

Commonwealth's Attorney—Jerry Patton (D) unopposed.

Circuit Clerk—Frank DeRossett (D), unopposed.

Barring a write-in-vote, these running for city offices at Allen, Martin, and Wayland are, for all practical purposes, elected. At Mouth of Beaver No. 10 and Allen-Dwale No. 44, voters will find the names of George Hall, Jr., Willard Adkins, Vernon Porter, and Elmer Parsons listed as candidates for City Commissioners of Allen. Four are to be voted. Martin's city election is much the same with council members to be elected and six seeking office. They are Raymond Griffith for mayor, and L. A. Maggard, Earrit Hayes, Denzil Halbert, John L. Maddox, and E. P. Grigsby, Sr., councilmen. These appear on John Possum No. 13 and Martin No. 19 ballots. Wayland No. 18 voters will find only three seeking the office of city commissioner although there are four openings. These are Dan Juett, Mack Stewart, and Hobart Webb, Sr.

The situation is different, though, in both Prestonsburg and Wheelwright. Ten candidates are seeking the four city commissioner jobs to be filled at Wheelwright. They are Jerry Tackett, Dennis Harris, Larry Joe (Julius) (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

Four Men Are Injured As Gas Line Ruptures

By B.A. Heinze

Four people were injured, one critically, when a 20-inch high pressure gas line of Columbia Gas Company exploded at the head of Arkansas Creek near Martin, Tuesday afternoon.

Details of the explosion which occurred around 3 o'clock remained sketchy Tuesday evening, but Paul Chaffins, Disaster and Emergency Services director, said those injured were replacing sections of the line when it appeared that it was pulled apart at one of the seams. Other reports are that a backhoe struck the line, rupturing it.

Gas could be smelled at the mouth of the hollow some three miles distant from the site of the explosion, and for a time it was feared that residents of the area would have to be evacuated.

Members of the DES, the Floyd County and Left Beaver Emergency and Rescue squads, Sheriff's department, and others were called to the scene. Calls were sent out by DES officers for ambulances, medical supplies and technicians, and the injured were brought down from the hilltop site in about 20 minutes and taken to Our Lady of the Way Hospital for emergency treatment.

One of the injured, Wayne Boyd, of Dana, is a Columbia Gas employee, and the other three are employees of a Belpre, Ohio pipeline company under contract to replace the gas line. All of the men were said to have suffered shrapnel-like facial wounds and trauma from the force of the blast.

One of the men, William E. West, of Belpre, O., reported in critical condition, is said to have been thrown approximately 300 feet by the force of the rupture. He was flown by Skyline helicopter to Cabell-Huntington Hospital. Wayne Boyd and Scott Varner, of Parkersburg, W. Va., though less seriously injured, were taken by ambulance to a Lexington hospital, and Henry Meadows, of Point Pleasant, W. Va., is a patient at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin.

THIS HALLOWE'EN COUPLE look a little overstuffed, or maybe they're just disgusted because the Cards lost the Series.

Forest Fires Blaze Over Large Acreage Wasting Timberland

By B.A. Heinze

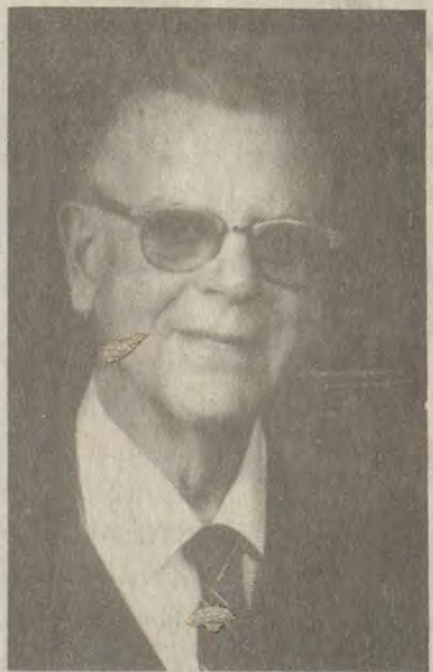

The dreaded and seemingly inevitable forest fire season became a reality this weekend with a reported 250 acres burning with a considerable loss in timber and wildlife cover.

One fire on Middle Creek was thought to have been extinguished during the weekend flared up again, Monday.

Information as to the location and extent of this and other fires in the county was not available from the Forestry Division office here either Monday or Tuesday. A spokesman for the Job Corps Center, here, said, however, that crews of students who are trained in forest firefighting, had been "in and out all weekend."

Tuesday's rainfall may have slowed the spread of the fires, but unless more follows, was not sufficient to be an effective deterrent.

Dr. Hall Is Victim

Dr. Palmer L. Hall, 77, of Morehead, a native of Floyd county, died Friday at Saint Clair Medical Center in Morehead following a long illness.

A retired education professor and assistant dean of graduate studies at Morehead State University, he joined MSU in 1957 and retired in 1975.

Born at McDowell, he was a son of the late James E. (Polk) and Minda Moore Hall. He was a graduate of Caney High School in Knott county, where, even before graduation he was a teacher. He received degrees from Caney Junior College (now Alice Lloyd College) at Pippa Passes, Tusculum College in Greenville, Tenn., and the University of Kentucky.

The Allen Park Is Place That Keeps Getting Better

By Tim Sizemore

There's something for everyone at the Allen Park, is the message of Floyd county Judge Executive John M. Stumbo, as he surveys park improvements initiated during his term of office.

The park, located on the Allen-Martin road, has been the scene of a progressive building program during the last few years and the Judge-Executive sees no limit to its potential. "I am proud to be involved in the work at Allen, and I feel that it is the best community park in Eastern Kentucky," he said this week.

The Judge, with an eye to the future, feels that besides providing excellent recreational facilities for Floyd counties, it will be attractive to industries interested in locating here. "The first two things a company asks about the area," Stumbo says, "concern the school system and recreational facilities." He says the park will be a definite plus for companies considering locating in the county.

The park consists of six new tennis courts, Little League and high school baseball fields, a swimming pool, a 3/10 of a mile jogging trail and a convention center to accommodate meetings or family reunions.

The achievement which is the judge's favorite is the refurbishing of a nine-hole golf course. The old course which had grown up in bushes and was poorly drained has been completely renovated. Now it's just a matter of waiting for the grass to grow.

The golf course is now equipped with an in-ground sprinkler system to keep the new grass greens well irrigated, and tile has been laid for proper drainage of the fairways.

Judge Stumbo said that people in the community have donated their time and services unselfishly toward improving the golf course and park grounds. Without their help the project would be far from realization. "In most cases if I needed something, I just had to pick up the phone and ask," he said, adding that most services were performed at no charge.

Area Development Grants and a $30,000 matching grant from the Department of Land and Water, helped finance a number of the improvements, but Judge Stumbo points out that many of the grants have been matched with in-kind services donated by the public. The golfers, themselves, have chipped in and plan to raise $6,000 of matching money.

"Gene Ball from the University of Kentucky Agricultural Extension office has been an invaluable help in planning the fertilization and grass seeding for the new golf course," the Judge said. "Without his sound advice the project would have been much more difficult." Stumbo related that Ball had taken soil samples and had recommended liming and fertilization as a first step toward a green and healthy turf.

Judge-Executive Stumbo hopes that he will be able to further improve the facilities of the park in the future. He has several innovative projects in mind as the money becomes available, among them a 100x50-foot concert shed for musical events or family reunions.

When you're in the Allen vicinity, Judge Stumbo extends an open invitation to visit the park, enjoy its facilities, and see the accomplishments of which he is justly proud.

Trick or Treat Night Set For Towns, County

Trick or Treat has been designated here and countywide to be from 6 to 8 p.m., Saturday, October 31, with no one over the age of 12 permitted to wear a mask of any kind, according to separate announcements from Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo and Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta. Youngsters at Martin, Wayland, and Wheelwright will observe Trick or Treat on Friday, October 30, with hours set from 6 to 8 at Martin, 5 to 8 at Wayland, and from 6 to 9 at Wheelwright, with the same restriction placed on the wearing of masks.

We Erred—We're Sorry

The assessment set by the fiscal court is not 4% above last year's as was reported in The Times last week. We regret the error, but it helps maintain our record of being wrong in all our reports of tax rates given in recent months.

Youngsters May Be Safer On Trick Or Treat Night

By B.A. Heinze

Ghosties and goblins and things that go bump in the night will be abroad this Halloween weekend. The greater part of these will be children 12 or under who are engaged in Trick or Treat. The unaccounted for part of these are, well, unaccounted for. Who knows?

Trick or Treat hours and nights designated in different communities and countywide are listed separately.

Most hospitals are offering to examine and X-ray any questionable or suspicious 'treats' given children.

In Prestonsburg, members of the fire department have volunteered to patrol major intersections, Saturday night, to help children cross them safely. Fire Chief Tom Blackburn said children are urged to cross at those intersections where a firefighter will be on hand to help them. These are located at Arnold Avenue and the Mountain Parkway,

Mays Branch and U.S. 23, and the following North Lake Drive intersections: Richmond Street, Graham, Court, Branham, Patton and Music streets, Mountain Parkway, and at the high school intersection.

"These are the ones that have the most traffic and that we feel are potentially the most dangerous," Blackburn said. He added, however, that if any group of parents feels other intersections should be covered, they should call him.

With the help of the fire department, Mayor Ann Latta said, "This will free the police department to do more patrol work, and help everyone have a safer and happier Halloween."

McDowell High's Computer System Is In High Gear

By Tim Sizemore

"We're ready for the 21st century," Gary Frazier, principal of McDowell High School, says proudly as he looks at the school's state of the arts computer system.

The system, one of the most up-to-date on the market, includes an IBM personal computer, a printer that types out needed data in seconds, and a scanner which can be used to locate records or grade multiple choice tests.

Frazier credits community support and a financially committed boosters club to the program's continued success. Much of the computers more than $13,000 cost, he said, came from sales at the school vending machines, and Frazier feels that the investment is well worth it.

Beyond freeing the principal and counselor from many mundane chores, it also serves to increase attendance by calling absent students' homes until a parent or guardian returns a message as to the absentees whereabouts. Mr. Frazier says that his school has achieved the highest attendance scores in the county for the past two years, and he believes that the computer system has made a positive contribution in decreasing student absenteeism. "If the computer receives no answer at a student's home," he says "it will continue to call until 10 p.m."

Daniel Branson, principal at Allen Grade School, presented Frankie Blackburn, sixth grader, with a bicycle for perfect attendance during the first month of school. In support of good attendance in our schools, Wal-Mart of Prestonsburg, gave a 10% discount.

Len Bias' Mother To Speak in L'ville

Lonise Bias, mother of deceased college basketball superstar Len Bias, was the featured speaker at the dedication of the Brooklawn Transitional Living Center in Louisville. The Transitional Living Center, located at 2107 Goldsmith Lane, was dedicated Sunday, October 25 at 3:30 p.m.

Len Bias died as the result of a cocaine overdose shortly after being chosen as the first round draft pick of the Boston Celtics. Since the death of her son, Lonise Bias has traveled extensively, addressing high school and college students, illuminating the harsh realities of drug and alcohol abuse. However, Bias' message is one of hope and concern, stressing that strong family relationships are the primary deterrents to substance abuse. She feels that the tragic death of her son can serve to focus attention on the problem of chemical abuse among young people.

The Brooklawn Transitional Living Center is an extension of Brooklawn, Inc., a not for profit organization dedicated to helping the victims of chemical and alcohol abuse. The Transitional Living Center will provide after-care treatment to those young people who have completed a substance abuse program but are still in need of an exceptionally supportive environment. Local Student Inducted Into EKU Honorary Melissa Johnson, of Betsy Layne, has been inducted into the Eastern Kentucky University chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary society for students in teacher education.

Fifty students from EKU have been inducted this semester, university officials announced this week.

The students, initiated Sept. 23, join a society with more than 325 chapters across the United States and six chapters in Kentucky.

Dr. Glynn Creamer, faculty counselor for Kappa Delta Pi, said the EKU students who join must have a 3.0 grade point average on a four-point scale, and be juniors majoring in teacher education.

"These are all excellent students whom we expect to become leaders in their profession in coming years," Creamer said.

The society works to support excellence in scholarship, high personal standards, improvement in teacher preparation, distinction in achievement and contributions to education.

Eastern Kentucky University at Richmond is a comprehensive regional university serving more than 13,000 students with a diversity of programs in its nine colleges and graduate school.

JACKIE EDFORD OWENS
MAGISTRATE, DIST. 2

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

The Floyd County Times stated that I voted against the Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance. I sure did and I'm glad of it. My wife went to pick up my agenda Thursday for the Friday meeting. The agenda has got everything that we would be voting on Friday, but it was not ready on Thursday afternoon. When I arrived early on Friday morning, my agenda still wasn't ready. When I did receive my agenda—minutes before the meeting—it had on it, the second one down, the "Resolution on Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance". When I asked for the paperwork and rules this ordinance would impose on the people of Floyd County, I was reached 19 pages (and I mean long pages) of new rules and regulations that may not allow people to build onto existing houses or businesses if you are in the flood plain. There are so many rules and regulations in these 19 pages that I can't even attempt to tell you how bad it is. I asked the other three magistrates if they had been given a copy of this and THEY ALL SAID NO. I asked the other three magistrates right at the Fiscal Court Meeting before we voted if they had ever read anything inside these 19 pages and THEY ALL SAID NO again. Yet, DeRossett voted for it, Caudill voted for it, and Tackett voted for it, without even knowing what they were voting on, people of Floyd County. I VOTED AGAINST IT. I want to know what's being put on the people BEFORE I VOTE. People, I'm going to give the Floyd County Times a copy of these 19 pages and ask them if they will put this in the Letter to the Editor. People, you're going to have to live under these laws. I would like for you to see them one time.

Also the Floyd County Times stated that the Floyd Fiscal Court passed a tax increase raising it up to 17.7% on real property. That's right—the Floyd Fiscal Court did—But I NEVER. I VOTED NO. Magistrates DeRossett, Caudill, and Tackett voted yes to raise the tax rate. I also voted NO last year when they raised your taxes.

To clear the air about Mrs. Collins of Shop Fork and the rock that is overhanging in the road. She did ask me to try to remove this rock in the spring that had been there for 30 or 40 years or since the road was built. At that time the compressor was broke down. She wanted to get some equipment in to do some work around their house. They decided to unload the equipment on the highway and tram it up the hollow (which is a blacktopped road). Some people called and reported them for this, but I never said a word because I couldn't get the rock out of their way. Everything was fine until last week when their house burned and the fire truck couldn't get up the hollow because of the overhanging rock. This left her, her disabled husband, and five kids without a home. I told her then I would check on the compressor and see where it was at. It was being used in a funeral in another district. I told her that the Fiscal Court would be hiring two men for Dist. 2 Friday to replace the two who went to better paying jobs, and I would start them out Monday morning with a jackhammer on the rock. I put three men on this job. We drilled 25 holes and done what I said I would do.

It takes time to get anything done. you just can't make it happen.

IBR

COPYRIGHT 1987 KVMA
Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association

You'd think that a virus capable of behaving in several different ways would be restricted to the pages of science fiction.

Not so. Just look in the backyard. It's alive and well in Kentucky and operating under the name of Infectious Bovine Rhinotracheitis (IBR).

IBR was first identified in the early 1950s and the herpesvirus which causes it was first isolated in 1956 in Colorado. The particular herpesvirus which causes IBR infects only cattle. Research based on reports of the disease, isolation of the virus and serologic surveys indicate that IBR is probably spread worldwide.

IBR affects cattle of all ages and breeds and both sexes. First thought to be an upper respiratory disease, it is now known to produce at least five different syndromes.

When the respiratory tract is involved, it causes high fever, loss of appetite and severe depression, along with severe inflammation of the windpipe and mucous membrane.

The same virus may cause mild to severe inflammation of the eyes, usually manifested in excessive tears and cloudy discharge.

An infection of the reproductive tract is yet another manifestation of the virus, causing inflammation and discharge. This may also affect bulls.

A fourth manifestation is encephalitis, a brain inflammation, which appears to be infrequent in the United States but which has caused considerable loss of cattle in Europe.

IBR is capable of infecting unborn calves at all stages of pregnancy and causing abortion.

Recovered animals seem to have a long-term immunity to the respiratory form of the disease and immunity is transferred to the calf by nursing colostrum from the immune dam.

Both modified live virus and killed virus vaccines are available. Your veterinarian is qualified to diagnose IBR and recommend the appropriate vaccine or treatment as needed. As with most diseases, IBR is more successfully and more economically prevented than it is treated.

Your veterinarian can give you facts and figures, as well as tell you how prevalent it is in your area.

Keeneland Pony Club Open to Young Riders

Keeneland Pony Club was host of the JumpStart Horse Trials, October 10 and 11, at the Kentucky Horse Park. Seventy riders competed in dressage and stadium jumping, Saturday, and rode cross country courses, Sunday. The trials included competitions on the starter, novice and training levels. Each level was divided into junior and senior divisions for riders under 18 and adult riders.

Keeneland Pony Club is affiliated with the U.S. Pony Club. This organization is dedicated to teaching riding, mounted sports and the care of horses and ponies. Pony Clubbers vary from beginning to very advanced riders under 21. The Keeneland Pony Club is located in Lexington, but it has members from a number of other places in Kentucky including, at this time, members from Hazard and Prestonsburg.

WHAT'S IT LIKE NOT TO BE ABLE TO READ? Those attending a recent Floyd County Literacy Awareness luncheon, here, were given a pretty good idea of it when Sr. Mary Gervase and Thom Webb, members of the Literacy Council, held up a sign printed in Russian.

Seminar Held For Retiring Teachers

The annual Pre-Retirement Seminar for retiring teachers was conducted Friday, October 23, at Prestonsburg Community College. M.L. Archer, of the Kentucky Retired Teachers' Association, was assisted by Russell Boyd, of Paintsville, in coordinating the program. Registering the guests and serving doughnuts and coffee were Mrs. Norma S. Stepp, president of the B.S.R.T., Mrs. Danese Amburgey, president of the F.C.R.T., and Mrs. Docia R. Woods, publicity director for these organizations.

The program opened with a film entitled "Ready or Not," after which Mr. Archer presented Mike Auxier, who for several years was an employee of the Retired Teachers' office, in Frankfort. He brought an in-depth report on matters retiring teachers need to know. This was followed by a film on "Financial Planning," and discussions by Mr. Archer on "Health and Insurance," and "Membership and Organizations."

Attending this seminar were M. L. Archer, Russell Boyd, Mike Auxier, Danese Amburgey, Norma S. Stepp, Docia B. Woods, and the following who represented their counties: Nancy Sue Dingus, John Maddox, Marie Reynolds, Kalman N. Franko, Cinda L. Justice, Doris A. Robinson, and Adrian Bentley, Floyd county; Norman Miller, Enos Browning, Carlis Butcher, Nava LeMaster, Pauline S. Blevins, Boone Blevins, Howard Wallen, Emma Lou Isaac, Ruby D. VanHoose, and Luther Wright, Johnson county; Arson Justice, Margaret Justice, Waila Mae Duncan, Ruth C. Scott, Emalene Steele, Opal Mullins, Shurida Hall, and James Bartley, Pike county, and Billye Jo Harris, Martin county.

After graduation, he returned to McDowell in the mid-30s to teach the consolidated 12 grades and also served as principal. He then received a degree from the University of Kentucky Law School, and from 1946 to 1952 was superintendent of the Floyd county school system. Following this, Dr. Hall was a dean at the West Virginia Institute of Technology.

Through financial and moral support, Dr. Hall helped many of his family to attain university degrees. After his retirement from Morehead, his family and friends established a scholarship fund in his name. The Palmer L. Hall Living Endowment at Alice Lloyd College was created to aid direct descendants of James Emory Hall, or other deserving students from Floyd county.

Dr. Hall was a member of the Morehead United Methodist Church, Morehead Men's Club, Morehead Investor's Club, and the Long Rifle Club. In 1986, he received the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award from Alice Lloyd College. During World War II, he served in the army and was held prisoner of war.

He is survived by his wife, Oval Bingham Hall; one daughter, Pamalea Hall Laphis, of Versailles; two brothers, M. J. Hall, of Lexington; and Butler Hall, of Fincastle, O.; six sisters, Draxie Hopson, of Auxier, Maudie Hall, of Raceland, Maxie Hall, of Tucson, Ariz., Myrtle Hall, of Greenup, Velma Crum, of South Webster, O., and Sylvia Newman, of Hi Hat; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at the Morehead United Methodist Church by the Rev. David Hilton and the Rev. Harold Tatman. Burial was made in the Lee cemetery at Morehead.

Memorial contributions to the Palmer L. Hall Living Endowment at Alice Lloyd College were suggested.

Job Corps Helps Put Arthritis Drive Over

The Carl D. Perkins Job Corp braved the drizzling rain and low temperature, Saturday, Oct. 3, to break the record, raising $1,713.46 for the Arthritis Foundation—an all time high!

Miss Blanche Finney, Arthritis Job Corps chairperson and dorm supervisor, and Edna Higginbotham, group life manager, announce that the student body of the Carl D. Perkins Job Corp Center sponsored a recent and most successful road block for the Kentucky Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. Miss Burieta Gearhart, Floyd county chairperson, said that the 1987 goal of $1,300 was exceeded by $413.76. Burieta reported that the Victory March Residential Door-to-Door Campaign is continuing throughout October to help reach the county goal of $2,092.

Proceeds from the Victory March/Road Block will go toward the overall Arthritis Program of education, treatment and research. There are over 7,300 people in Floyd county who suffer with arthritis and who may be assisted with the services.

Miss Gearhart urges all cities and towns in Floyd county to add their support in bringing about or exceeding the county's goal.

The Druthers and the Prestonsburg Kentucky Fried Chicken, in Prestonsburg sponsored the Victory March/Road Block for Floyd county.

Bits and Pieces

HALLOWE'EN

It's called All Hallows Eve and Hallowe'en, a time when the wind seems to speak in spectral tones; when even the enlightened seek the lighted path; when everyday friendly objects take on a hostile mien.

This is the time for warlocks and witches to gather; the time when black cats are suspect. It's the time for mischief; the time of witchery, a magic time.

It's Hallowe'en.

HURRY, HURRY—

A few precious days are left of our golden autumn. This year we have had more gold and bronze, with bursts of orange. But there are flaming crimsons here and there and many beautiful deep burgundys. The rare lavender haze is missing, but our hills, though past their prime, are still a kaleidoscope of color.

Too soon it will be gone as November comes gusting in, and the leaves tumble down. But now, it's still to be enjoyed.

So, hurry, hurry.

Frazier is also proud of the fact that the new computer has made ledger books, files and scheduling problems virtually a thing of the past. Just scheduling classes for students formerly took two employees working all summer, but now with the schools new system a student can receive a schedule or schedule change within seconds, he said.

The system allows the principal and teachers to monitor student behavior problems and work toward solutions. The information is used only when the student is in school and does not become a part of the permanent record. The principal says that the system helps to provide uniform discipline and gives the teacher an insight into student attitudes. Above all these advantages, Frazier places the fact that the computer allows him more time to spend with the students and being accessible to the student body is the number one objective on his list. "After all," he says, "a principal's main concern should be the students."

Teacher Conference Set At College Here

Floyd County teachers will receive a day of in-service credit for attending the second conference of Eastern Kentucky Council of Teachers of English Saturday, October 31, at Prestonsburg Community College, from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Eastern Kentucky teachers have been invited to hear the speakers and to join EKCTE, whose goal is to promote language arts in Kentucky.

Speakers include Dr. Gene Young, Dr. Gregory Horsky, Drs. Markham and Edna Shack, and Dr. Barbara Russell from Morehead State University; and Dr. Deborah Core from Eastern Kentucky University. Talks are directed toward all grades from kindergarten to 12th and college.

Speakers from PCC include Dr. Alice Adams, Dr. Dorothy Carlson, Sandra Robertson, Kathy Stewart, and Monnette Sturgill, president of EKCTE, Hope Bennin, and Diana Crawford, from Belfry High School.

Those attending have been asked to bring a sack lunch. Drinks and dessert will be provided. There is no charge for attending, but a small membership fee will be charged.

Darkroom Class To Start At PCC

A class in darkroom techniques for amateur photographers who want to develop and print their own photographs will begin Oct. 31 at Prestonsburg Community College.

The first class will meet at 1 p.m. in Room 115 of the Pike Building on campus. Subsequent classes will meet at 10 a.m., Nov. 21, Dec. 5 and 12. Teresa Hernandez is the instructor.

The class, according to Hernandez will provide an introduction to basic black and white film developing. Participants will learn to work with different types of films and papers to meet their individual interests and needs.

For more information, call PCC's Office of Continuing Education and Community Service, 886-3863, ext. 215.

Names Corrected

In last week's edition of The Times, the name of Rachel P. Gardner's daughter, was incorrectly listed as Luna Gardner. Mrs. Gardner's daughter is Una Gardner, of Prestonsburg. Also Mrs. Gardner was buried in the Blankenbecler cemetery in Glamorgan, Virginia, not the Blankenship cemetery as listed.

Local Firms Successful In Bids Before Council

By Kurt Pickering

Prestonsburg City Council went the local route in awarding bids on both a fire truck and a motor fuel contract, heard a presentation on a pool of self-insuring Kentucky cities and honored several people including former Mayor Harold Cooley in its last pre-election meeting, Monday.

In each of the bid items, the local bid was slightly higher than the out-of-town proposal, but in both cases Council cited reasons other than just the local slant.

The first was on a new fire truck, with an $88,659 bid from Worldwide Equipment winning out over an $84,998 bid from Allegheny Equipment of Ona, W. Va. Councilman Thomas J. Tackett first voiced the opinion that the higher bid was the better one, reviewing the bids as he said, "It looks to me like this Worldwide has more material in it." Tackett explained his statement by pointing out, for instance, that one area in the Worldwide bid that showed 5/16ths of an inch thick was 3/16ths in the Allegheny bid. In another area, he pointed out that the Worldwide bid showed stainless steel while the Allegheny bid simply said "steel."

Steve Johnson, of Worldwide, told Council, "We took your specifications word for word. Everything in our bid matches your specifications right down the line." Johnson also pointed out that the difference between the two bids would amount to about $150 a year over a 20-year period. "Also," he said, "we are a local concern, and we can service it better."

Tim Duncan, of Allegheny, said, "We took exception to some of your specs, because we felt that what we offered would accomplish what we thought you were wanting to do." He added, "That's the way we build trucks"—that the firm does not start from the ground up on every bid.

Councilman William O. Goebel, III, made the formal motion to accept the Worldwide bid. Margie N. Osborne seconded, and a roll call vote ended unanimously.

Goebel offered condolences to Duncan, referring to good working relationships in the past and suggesting that there would be more in the future. But when Goebel mentioned the local angle, Duncan snapped, "Local business, right. I have a question. Should I bid again on another fire truck?" Greeted with a chorus of yesses from the bench, he asked, "What if I'm low bid again?" and left.

The other bid dealt with motor fuels for city vehicles. That one came down to Pelphrey Supply, the Chevron jobber out of Paintsville, and Action Petroleum of Prestonsburg. Pelphrey bid 67.83 cents a gallon on gasoline and 62.51 cents per gallon of diesel, eight to 10 cents lower than Action's 77.9 for gas and 70.8 for diesel.

Councilman William R. Callihan took the lead in arguing for Action, pointing out past experience that "If you've got bad roads, Pelphrey won't deliver it to you." Fire Chief Tombo Blackburn also spoke for Action.

Councilman Adrian Blackburn moved to accept the Action bid, Callihan seconded, and the voice vote was unanimous.

Three other subjects involving the fire department also came before council.

First, Blackburn said that firemen have volunteered to man Prestonsburg's worst intersections during trick or treat Saturday night. Blackburn said they hope to cover all the intersections on Lake Drive from Richmond down to Prestonsburg High School, as well as Arnold Avenue at the Mountain Parkway and the entrances to Green Acres off US 23.

City Manager James then asked and received permission to ask the state to add to its grant to complete a fire training tower being built in Cliff. And third, Certificates of Appreciation were presented to 10 people for their work in sponsoring a special fire prevention program for area schoolchildren during Fire Prevention Week, October 4-10. The certificates went to Mary Davis, Sandy Stiltner, Larry and Charlotte Adams, Tommy Hereford, Mike Wells, John P. Hunt, Tommy Cooley, Rex Cecil and Don Hall.

Another honor was passed unanimously after an apparently unexpected motion from Councilman Thomas J. Tackett. When the agenda reached "Other New Business," Tackett sought and received a confirmation that the new bridge at Goble-Roberts, dedicated and opened recently, had not been named. "Then I'd like to make a motion that we name it for a man who served as Mayor of this City for many years, Harold Cooley." The motion passed with little discussion and no dissent.

Robert Vaughan of Alexander and Alexander briefed Council on a new insurance option brought about by the Kentucky Municipal League. Known as the Kentucky Municipal Risk Management Association, the idea is to form cities into a pool to insure themselves rather than use a conventional insurance. Vaughan said the program was designed to answer the two biggest problems facing cities looking for insurance today: such insurance is often unavailable, and what is available is often unaffordable. As an example, Vaughan cited the leap in Prestonsburg's premiums in the last three years—from $27,180 to $52,730 to $86,335.

Vaughan said the KML plan has now signed 54 Kentucky cities, several comparable in size to Prestonsburg, including nearby Paintsville.

Through reinsurance, the limit of any one claim becomes $300,000. But with a pool of less than $1.5 million, five claims of that size would wipe that pool out. Asked about that, Vaughan conceded that was true but added that "no trace of a judgment in excess of $100,000 (has ever been found) against any city in the state of Kentucky" except Louisville and Lexington.

Vaughan also said, "Contrary to what our detractors say, this idea works. There are organizations like this operating in 25 states now, and operating successfully."

No action was planned or taken on the issue; bids on insurance are not due to be opened until next month.

In response to rising complaints about increasing traffic on Prestonsburg's non-thoroughfare streets, Mayor Ann Latta announced formation of a Safe Streets Committee, a 27-member panel that the mayor said "will try to meet in a couple of weeks" to look for solutions. Latta, apparently in response to an earlier suggestion, said speed bumps are not an option because they are illegal. The mayor made it clear that public input on this problem is needed.

"The committee is not limited to this list of names. Anybody else that wants to be on it is certainly welcome to come and take part."

The side-street traffic discussion led to an appeal from Councilman Goebel to do something about youngsters using mopeds, motor scooters and motor bikes on streets. Councilman Tackett responded with a motion to fine anyone riding such a piece of equipment without wearing a helmet $10. It was decided that would have to be in the form of an ordinance, so Tackett amended his motion to direct City Attorney Larry Brown to draft an ordinance for future council action.

Council also:—encouraged a project to build a boat ramp at the Municipal Parking area near the Playhouse Restaurant. The ramp, intended for rescue purposes but to be available for public use, was approved by a previous council but never acted upon;

—authorized James to hire a limited number of "seasonal" employees to take advantage of whatever good-weather days remain in order to continue work on the new garage at Cliff, when the weather permits, and despite vacations, holiday time off and seasonal workload such as putting up the city's Christmas decorations the part-timers hired will likely come from the ranks of laid-off firemen;

—gave first reading to a $323,000 bond ordinance enabling the city to acquire the Prater Creek Water District. Having passed on first reading, the measure will be up for final passage at the next council session. It is simply an enabling ordinance in that council had previously made the decision to acquire the Prater Creek Water District.

—authorized payment of expenses for Mayor Latta to attend the National League of Cities annual convention, to be held this year in Las Vegas. In bringing the matter up, Latta said she has found such conventions extremely enlightening, but she had planned to skip this one because of the expense until she was asked to serve on a panel involving press relations.

Council members present were Blackburn, Dr. Gary D. Brown, Callihan, Goebel, Osborne and Tackett; absent were Frank A. Adams and Harry Ray Porter.

The next session of council will be Monday, November 9. New council members elected next Tuesday will not take office until January.

Warick Sentenced In Bank Robbery

Gary Warick, of Prestonsburg, has been sentenced to five years in prison for the burglary, June 24, of Citizens Bank of Pikeville. U.S. District Judge Eugene E. Siler, Jr., also ordered him to pay the bank $2,514 for damage to the bank and for cash not recovered.

Warick, 20, was originally accused of entering the bank, prying open cash drawers and taking around $1,200 in coins the night of June 24. He pleaded guilty to entering a federally insured bank with intent to commit larceny.

Sentence was passed in London, October 19.

Board Takes Action On Hi Hat Property

By Tim Sizemore

A special Board of Education meeting was held last Thursday night to take up the question of litigation holding up the acquisition of the Michell-Meade property for the new Left Beaver High school at Hi Hat.

In order to instigate a condemnation action on the property, the Superintendents brother-in-law, John David Preston, a partner in the law firm of Perry and Preston, of Paintsville, was hired by the board to take legal steps to acquire the site.

The measures were taken by the board to expedite the purchase of the property and settle acquisition problems.

The next board meeting will be Wednesday, November 4.

Words of Advice On Trick or Treating
Drivers and homeowners should spend as much time getting ready for Halloween as do trick or treaters, says Dr. Steve Ward, president of the Kentucky Optometric Foundation.
According to Dr. Ward, advance work by adults can make Halloween safer for children.
Drivers should use the weekend before Halloween to check headlight adjustment, inspect wiper blades and replace worn ones. The morning of October 31, they should take time to wash the windshield, headlights and mirrors and to check mirror adjustments.
When on the road on Halloween night, drivers should reduce speed; keep their eyes moving to spot youngsters and movement to their sides, avoid wearing sunglasses or deeply tinted eyewear and if glasses have been prescribed for driving, be certain to wear them.
Homeowners, Dr. Ward said, should insect yards in advance and fill holes, repair steps and tighten any loose railings. Before darkness on Halloween night, they should clear yards of lawn and garden equipment, toys or any other objects a child might trip over. At dusk, yardlights and porchlights should be turned on to light the way for trick or treaters.
Parents should decorate children's costumes with retro-reflective tape, which optometric studies show is the only material safely visible to drivers even at excessive speeds. They should also use nonallergic makeup instead of masks so the child's view is not blocked.
Children, Dr. Ward said, should walk on sidewalks or in yards, not in the street; look carefully before crossing a street; cross at a corner with a street light, if possible and carry a battery-operated light or lantern so they can see more safely and so that others can see them safely.

LETTERS to the Editor
Letters from readers do not necessarily reflect the view of the Floyd County Times. All such letters are subject to editing. Letters should not exceed 350 words in length and all must bear the signature and complete mailing address of the writer.

"Champions Against Drugs"
I challenge more citizens to become involved in this organization which has been instituted by our governor. Whether there is an alcohol or other drug problem in your family.
If we are interested in our children, we all need to do more to encourage them to live a drug-free life. Too many of our children are destroying their lives by the abuse of alcohol and other drugs.
Please get in touch with Mountain Comprehensive Health services (telephone number 886-8572) and get more information as to when and where these meetings are held.

Mountain Roots
I praised God on that day.
On October 14, I was doing a sing-along at the U.S. Soldiers and Airmen's Home, with banjo, guitar, and an omnichord (made in Japan). I rotated the music to reduce boredom.
Among our last songs we sang together was My Old Kentucky Home, with the guitar.
A very elderly gentleman arose from his seat at the conclusion of the sing-along, and slowly tottered over to my location.
His words were, "you are from Kentucky! I can't see much anymore and my hearing is about gone. My name is Eric Simon, and I am from Prestonsburg, Kentucky."
Mailing address for Mr. Simon's Kentucky friends—Eric Simon, Ward: Fordwood 2, King Health Center, USS&H, Wash. D.C. 20317.
I praised God that day, because I knew that two more mountain roots were joined in love and affection, so often practiced in our mountains of Kentucky.
There's something about mountains. Our Lord and Savior cherished them, also.

Post-Breast Cancer Program Is Slated
The Thursday Breast Cancer Support Group, McDowell Cancer Network, and The American Cancer Society Reach to Recovery are sponsoring a one-day program entitled, "After Breast Cancer Woman to Woman II: A Seminar for Women Who Have Had Breast Cancer." The seminar will be held Saturday, November 14, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Holiday Inn North, 1950 Newtown Pike, Lexington.
The seminar will include a lunch and fashion show at 12 noon and special exhibits will be available throughout the day. Shelley Hill-Grant, a wellknown fashion model who is a former breast cancer patient, will deliver the keynote address. Seminar topics will include medical issues, nutrition and exercise, and image and appearance. A special session, "For Men Only," is planned for husbands and friends of breast cancer patients.
For more information, contact the McDowell Cancer Network at (606) 233-6541. Outside Lexington, call 1-800-4-CANCER.

Project 21 Group Meets Here, Tuesday
A statewide meeting of Project 21 took place Tuesday afternoon at the Prestonsburg Holiday Inn, and six other locations around the state via statewide satellite transmission, from Frankfort.
The Prestonsburg meeting was hosted by Burl Wells Spurlock, local banker and civic leader.
Project 21 was initiated by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce to address the state's economic and educational outlook by the year 2000.

FLOYD COUNTY HEALTH NEWS

By JANE BOND

Cervical cancer can be one of the most curable of all cancers, yet this type cancer kills approximately 11,000 women each year. There is a simple test which can determine if cervical cancer is present. This is the pap test, which takes only a few moments of a woman's time and could possibly save her life.

The Floyd County Health Department is having a Pap clinic Wednesday, November 11, from 8-3. This clinic is a free service of the Health Department and is open to women of all ages; however, these women age 45 and over are especially urged to take advantage of this free service since this is the high risk age for cervical cancer.

Women will also be taught self-breast examination at this time. No appointment is necessary.

Family planning clinics for the month of November are as follows: Wednesday, November 4, at 8 a.m.; Monday, November 9, at 12 p.m.; Monday, November 16, at 12 p.m. and Friday, November 13, at 12 p.m. No appointment is needed for these clinics, but for more information, call 886-2788.

A nurse from the Health Department will be in Wayland Friday, November 13, from 10-2. She will be at the Methodist Church in Wayland. She will offer T.B. skin tests, urinalyses, blood pressures, anemia screening and immunizations. This clinic is a free service of the Health Department and is open to the public.

V.F.W. Post 5839 Auxiliary News

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the V.F.W. Post 5839 was held Friday, October 16. Mary Lou Horn, senior vice-president, presided in absence of president Christa Akers, who was attending the V.F.W. Fall Conference, in Owensboro.

The opening prayer was given by chaplain, Carol Wells, minutes and treasurers report were read by Sarah Chaffin, secretary-treasurer.

Members present were urged to call former members to get reinstated and to encourage present members to renew their 1988 dues as soon as possible. Also a drive for new membership was stressed.

A pot luck supper was enjoyed before the meeting, jointly with the V.F.W. members. Auxiliary members present included, Mary Lou Horn, Carol Wells, Genevieve Wells, Lora Wells, Sarah Chaffin, Alberta Baldrige, Zella Mae Tackett, Millie Mills, and Betty Keathley.

The Ladies Auxiliary express their thanks to everyone who contributed in any way to the success of our concession stands.

The next auxiliary meeting will be held November 20.

These Children Need A Home

This attractive foursome will keep any family on the ball. Now in four separate foster homes, they look forward to being together in an adoptive home. The oldest, George (b/8-20-73) is a loving, affectionate child who craves attention and seeks to please others. He is a willing worker but needs encouragement in the areas of hygiene and dress. At school he functions in the educably mentally handicapped range. His interests are football, basketball, bowling, bike riding, and popular sports.

Christy Jo (B/8-16-77) is a bright, active, outgoing child with a smile that lights up her whole face. She has had corrective surgery for cleft palate and will require extensive orthodontic work in the future. Christy seeks attention and can be a behavior problem. She is in the normal range of intelligence and is in regular second grade.

Jimmie Jo (B/2-20-80) is a delightful young lady. She loves to sing and dance and has a vivid imagination. Jimmie Jo is in kindergarten and is described as a "good role model" for other children. She does have some basic skill delays and future testing may be indicated.

Shannon Lee (B/8-18-81) is the baby of the family and has a beaming personality. He is a loving, protective child who sounds much older than his years belie. He enjoys tv, music, and has expressed an interest in karate and guitar lessons. He, too, is in kindergarten and has had difficulty with task completion due to adjustments he has had to make.

These children need a family who will provide them with love, stability, and realistic expectations. Are you that family? If so contact your local Social Services Office at 886-8192 or the Special Needs Adoption Program toll free at 1-800-432-9346.

Special Olympics Meet Slated in Paintsville

Kentucky Special Olympics will be hosting an organizational meeting for coaches, families, and volunteers who are interested in the growth and development of Special Olympics in Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, and Pike counties. This meeting will be held Tuesday, November 10, at 7 p.m. in the library of Central Elementary in Paintsville. This is a very important meeting for the entire area and Special Olympics.

At this meeting, individuals will be sought who are interested in the positions of Area Coordinator, Area Training Director, and Area Family Coordinator. These positions must be filled in order for Special Olympics to continue in Area 11.

Each individual will be trained in the specific position they choose and will be given assistance throughout the year by Kentucky Special Olympics.

For further information, call toll-free, 1-800-633-7403.

Johnson Rescue Squad Is Given New Vehicle

The Johnson County Rescue Squad has a new vehicle thanks to a grant from Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center, of Paintsville.

Paul B. Hall Administrator Debbie Trimble Meadows presented the keys to a re-conditioned carry-all to Bob Dixon, of the Johnson County Rescue Squad. The hospital's contribution to the all-volunteer, non-profit rescue and emergency organization made the purchase of the vehicle possible, Dixon said.

90 Years Young

Mrs. Earl A. Stumbo, of Prestonsburg, was honored recently at her home on Court Street with a party celebrating her 90th birthday. "Baby Annie," as she is affectionately known by her many friends and relatives, is the only child of Dan and Kate Branham Harmon and was born October 7, 1887.

Hosting the event were her daughter and son-in-law, Kathryn and Chalmer H. Frazier, her grandchildren, Kay Anne and Steve Wilborn, of Shelbyville, Elizabeth Frazier, of Prestonsburg, and Bill and Lisa Frazier, of Ashland, and her great-grandchildren, Lynon Frazier, of Prestonsburg, Christopher Wilborn, of Shelbyville, and Corlie Frazier, of Ashland.

The many friends and relatives who called during the afternoon were served punch and cake by Mesdames Edna Carol Greenwade, Dorothy Wells, Vera Ford, Elizabeth Ramey, Armita Snavley, and Nancy Webb.

The honoree was the recipient of many remembrances.

Honored on Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. Palmer L. Hall, formerly of Prestonsburg, now of Morehead, observed their 47th wedding anniversary, September 20. They were honored at their home with a surprise reception given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lapish, and family, Chris, Ryan, McGee, and Minda Beth, of Versailles.

The color scheme of white, silver, green, and pink was carried out. The house was decorated with white bells, tied with green and pink ribbons, and the serving table was covered with a white, lace cloth, and had for its centerpiece, a bouquet of mixed fall flowers, intertwined with greenery. On either side of the centerpiece, silver candelabra held tall, white candles.

The Halls' four grandchildren helped to serve decorated cake, punch, and other refreshments to the honored couple, their family, and more than 50 persons from the Morehead United Methodist Church, Morehead State University, neighbors, and other friends attending.

Dr. Hall is a former teacher and principal of this county, and for a number of years, served as superintendent of Floyd county schools. Mrs. Hall taught music in the Martin and Prestonsburg schools. Before retiring from Morehead State University, Mrs. Hall taught music at Breckinridge Training School, and Dr. Hall was Director of the Graduate School, at M.S.U.

KIWANIANNES NAME OFFICERS

Prestonsburg Kiwanians held their monthly luncheon meeting at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Thursday, October 22, with Mrs. Jane Bond, president, in charge, and Mrs. Barbara Dawson giving the secretary-treasurer's reports. Prior to the luncheon, the Kiwanian Grace was recited.

Mrs. Jane Bond, outgoing president, expressed her appreciation to members of the club for their cooperation during her tenure of office. On behalf of the group, Mrs. Barbara Dawson presented Mrs. Bond with a necklace.

It was announced that the officers and committees of the year 1987-88 would be, President, Mrs. Barbara Dawson; Vice President, Mrs. Dorothy Osborne; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Jane Bond; Publicity, Mrs. Docia B. Woods; and Telephone, Mesdames May K. Roberts and Dixie Webb.

Mrs. Dawson presided during the latter part of the meeting.

Mrs. Jane Wallace, friend of Mrs. Zella Archer, who will be moving soon to Somerset, presented, to her on the club's behalf, a book entitled, "Because We're Friends." Mrs. Archer expressed her appreciation for the years she had enjoyed being a Kiwanian. Mrs. Florence Ison, another close friend of Mrs. Archer's, was recognized.

Dates for this Kiwanian Club meetings will be included on the forthcoming Woman's Club Birthday Calendar. It was decided that a monetary gift would be made to the First United Methodist Church, in memory of Mrs. Sally Goebel. A "get-well" card, to be sent to Mrs. Thelma D. Wallen, was signed.

Members were reminded of the Heart Clinic, which they help to sponsor, to be held at the Floyd County Health Department, November 3. Mesdames Myrtle Allen and Garnett Fairchild are scheduled to help.

Mrs. Dawson appointed Mesdames Jane Bond, Garnett Fairchild, and herself to serve on the program committee.

It was decided that, due to the holidays, the next meeting would be November 19, and that the December meeting would be at the home of Mrs. Dawson, December 17, with members to bring their favorite covered-dishes. In lieu of the exchange of gifts, a donation is to be made to the Hospice program. Mrs. Lucy Regan gave the devotional.

Present were Mesdames Barbara Dawson, Jane Bond, Dorothy Osborne, Lucy Regan, Zella Archer, Florence Ison, Jane Wallace, Minerva Cooley, Dixie Webb, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Hope Whitten, Garnett Fairchild, Ada Meade, Mary Margaret Webb, Myrtle Allen, and Margaret Collins.

INSTALLS OFFICERS

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 was held Tuesday evening, October 20, at the O.O.F. Hall, with Mabel Jean LeMaster, Noble Grand, presided at the opening of the session and introduced the guest.

The District Deputy President of District 4, Wilma Castle, presided as the installing officer, assisted by Ada Mollette and Mary Zemo, for the installation of the officers for the 1987-1988 year.

The following members were installed: Teresa Maynard, noble grand; Lorena Wallen, vice grand; Beverly M. Hackworth, secretary; Maman Leslie, treasurer; Mabel Jean LeMaster, jr. past noble grand; Nancy Duff, warden; Sue Moore, conductor; Paulena Owens, right supporter to noble grand; Norma Stepp, right supporter to vice grand; Margaret Baldrige, left supporter to vice grand; Dotty Lafferty, outside guardian; Jewel Bayes, chaplain; Venelia Rinehart, musician; Sue Wells, color bearer.

November 17 was set as tentative date for initiation, with practice sessions scheduled for November 3 and November 10, at 7 p.m. at the hall.

Beverly Hackworth was presented a certificate for perfect attendance for the past year.

Mable Jean LeMaster presented each officer with a token of appreciation.

Effie Hopkins was presented a gift for being a 25 year member and Teresa Maynard, noble grand, presented Mable Jean LeMaster, a gift on behalf of the jr. past noble grand's officers.

Refreshments were served to: Teresa Maynard, Lorena Wallen, Beverly Hackworth, Maman Leslie, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Nancy Duff, Sue Moore, Paulena Owens, Norma Stepp, Margaret Baldrige, Dotty Lafferty, Jewel Bayes, Venelia Rinehart, Sue Wells, Cindy Hackworth, Effie Hopkins, Orela Smiley, Hope Whitten, Pauline Crisp, Mary Zemo, Violeta Wright, Dorothy Osborne and guests, Wilma Castle, and Ada Mollette.

The next meeting will be November 3, at 7 p.m.

Barnett-Kendrick Exchange Vows

Miss Kathy Barnett and Mr. Ricky Joe Kendrick, were united in holy matrimony, July 18, at the Pleasant Home Baptist Church, Water Gap. Solemnizing the candlelight double-ring ceremony was Reverend Mark Tackett.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Barnett, of Water Gap, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kendrick, also of Water Gap.

Miss Barnett's traditional white taffeta gown featured a pearl beaded v-neck bodice, sweetheart neckline and 20 foot cathedral train. The veil was of pearl edged net attached to a beaded taffeta headpiece.

The bride's bouquet was sweetheart roses, steffanotis and baby's breath surrounded by camellia leaves.

Mona Rice, maid of honor, wore a floor-length peach taffeta gown. Matching attendants were Traci Burke, Missy Schoolcraft, Deitra Shepherd, Teresa Wells and Christi Hall. The flowergirls were Ashley Stanley and Rhiannon Hedrick.

Groomsmen included Ritchie Schoolcraft, Brad Hughes, Bobby Hackworth, Richard Hamilton and Jason Kendrick. Brian Holbrook served as best man.

Nuptial music was provided by Lisa Lafferty, pianist, and vocalists, Ron and Mary Lynn Wright.

Presiding over the guest register were Miss Beverly Osborne and Miss Kim Osborne.

The reception, held at the Holiday Inn, featured a cake created for the newlyweds by Fanny Goble. Nuts, mints and punch were also served.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple traveled cross-country to their new home in Cheyenne, Wyoming where Mr. Kendrick is a military policeman in the U.S. Air Force.

BLUE BIRDS CLUB TO MEET, SUNDAY

Sunday, November 1, will be the Blue Birds of Happiness Club meeting at Adah Chapter NO. 24, beginning with lunch at 1:30 p.m., and followed by the Worthy Grand Matron's meeting held by Mrs. Maxine Bierman, deputy grand matron of District 5. All members of the Blue Birds' Club are urged to attend. Mrs. Sue Wells, worthy grand matron, adds that those wishing to join may do so at that time.

SOUTH PRESTONSBURG HOME MAKERS

The South Prestonsburg Homemakers' Club met October 19 at the home of Mrs. Lois Ball. The devotional was given by Mrs. Joyce Allen. Following the business session, conducted by Mrs. Karen Colvin, president, the program, "Dressing Your Bathroom," was presented by Mrs. Frances Pitts.

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mary Lou Horn.

The hostess, Mrs. Ball, served refreshments to Mesdames Joyce Allen, Frances Pitts, Karen Colvin, Carlos Haywood, and Theckley Short.

REVIVAL BEGINS SUNDAY

A revival will begin at the Community United Methodist Church, Sunday, November 1, at 11 a.m. The speaker for the first service will be H. C. (Huck) Francis, local businessman. James LeMaster, chaplain of the Pikeville Methodist Hospital, will be the speaker at 7 p.m., that day. The evangelist, Bob Hoots, will continue the revival, which is scheduled for November 2-4. Paul Smith, choir director, has planned special music for each night. The Rev. Ron Masters and the congregation cordially invite the public to attend.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club will meet Thursday evening, November 5, at 7:30 at the First United Methodist Church. Hostesses will be Miss Christine Spradlin, Mesdames L. B. Fairchild, Garland Godsey, Ora Bussey, and Tom O. McGuire. Mrs. Boots Adams, president, asks that members of the executive board meet there at 7 p.m.

Mediterranean Lands Explored on KET Series

Join host David Attenborough as he explores the lush and fertile lands, the deserts, and waters of the Mediterranean region in a new series, "The First Eden," when it premieres Tuesday, November 3 at 8 p.m. on KET.

"The Making of the Garden," the premiere episode follows the creation of the Mediterranean Sea as well as the evolution of the plants and animals that populated the area. Attenborough describes how, beginning with the Ice Age, different animals—martins, lizards, porcupines, and flamingos—made their way from Africa to the northern Mediterranean shores just as many do today, seeking more temperate climates in the summer. In a similar way, tens of thousands of years ago, man journeyed through the eastern end of the Mediterranean, through Egypt, Israel, and the Middle East, into the eastern end of Europe.

In November 10 presentation, "The Gods Enslaved," Attenborough looks at man's earliest relationship with nature through cave drawings scientists have discovered in southern Spain. In "The Wastes of War," set for November 17, Attenborough travels to the western ends of the Mediterranean where man began to build cities during the late periods of the Roman Empire.

The final episode, "Strangers in the Garden," looks at the Mediterranean today. Oil tankers are just one of the many examples of the destructive impact of industrialization. So is tourism, which is turning the coastal waters of the Mediterranean into a sewage dump.

"The First Eden," which is closed captioned for the hearing impaired, is a British Broadcasting Corporation production and is presented on public television by WQED/Pittsburgh.

D.A.R. HOMECOMING MEET SCHEDULED OCT. 29-30

Mrs. Virginia S. Goble, state organizing secretary, and chapter registrar of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, encourages members and friends to attend the annual homecoming meeting, at Duncan Tavern in Paris, October 29-30. She also encourages them to bring with them anything such as jewelry, clothing, and other items for the sales tables, the proceeds of which are to be used toward the upkeep of Duncan Tavern.

HONORED FOR ATTENDANCE

Mrs. Beverly Hackworth, secretary of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31, received a certificate of merit for perfect attendance during the year at the local lodge. This award was presented during the Grand Master's banquet, Monday evening, and Wednesday afternoon, during the Rebekah Assembly Essson, Mrs. Frances Fraley, president, read a poem from the booklet which had been compiled by Mrs. Venelia Rinehart, and presented to Mrs. Fraley when she visited Miriam Rebekah Lodge.

Senior Adult Retreat Held at First Baptist

A Senior Adult Retreat was held at the First Baptist Church, (Irene Cole Memorial), Tuesday morning, October 20. Registering the guests was Mrs. Alice G. Buchanan. The Rev. Steve Hopkins led in prayer, and welcomed the guests. Following the general assembly, interest conference were conducted. In charge of these groups, and the topics discussed were: Jack Palmer, Sunday School; Jim Cordell, and Rex Scholar and Music; John Lepper, Programming; and D. M. Aldridge, Prayer, all from the Kentucky Baptist Convention. The church's pastor, the Rev. Steve Hopkins, coordinated the program. Thirty persons were present. These included the Rev. Hopkins, Mrs. L. R. Johnson, Delmas Saunders, Eva and Harmison Hale, Ray and Margaret Collins, Mrs. Docia B. Woods, Mrs. Betty Kalos, Mrs. Alice G. Buchanan, Mrs. Goldia Williams, Mrs. Dixie Neeley, and Miss Burieta Gearhart.

Hymns were sung during the program, and Rex Scholar rendered a saxophone solo. The meeting was dismissed by the Lord's Prayer, said in unison.

P.C.C. Library, Source Of Facts or Pleasure

By: Trisha Morris, Librarian
The Prestonsburg Community College Library is the first page to a kaleidoscope of information sources. From newspapers, magazines, microforms, maps and special collections to its main circulating collection, the library serves the academic students and faculty of the community college as well as the residents of its five-county jurisdiction. It is conveniently open to all users from 8-8, Mon.-Thur., 8-4:30, Fri., and 10-2, Saturday.

One of the many resources the library has to offer is a central place to find the local newspapers for seven communities plus the daily Lexington Herald-Leader, the Louisville Courier Journal, the New York Times and the Wall Street Journal. The library collects each newspaper for one month, but, many subjects can be researched by making use of the community and New York Times newspapers on microfilm.

The P.C.C. Library is constantly adding titles to its collection. The following are some short reviews of some recent acquisitions:

Horse Sense and Humor in Kentucky
By: Eslie Asbury
(259pp The Thoroughbred Press)

Mr. Asbury, a born and bred Kentuckian, takes the reader on a trip through the myriad field of humor. His is a jaunt into a light subject rather than a plow through a footnoted scholarly endeavor—but, since the subject is the elusive realm of humor, it almost seems "Ok." Humor, he says, "like the fragrance of a rose, is indefinable," and then, for the remainder of the book, he happily scampers after the elusiveness of his subject by breaking it down to its specifics.

Kentucky humor he calls crude, simple and prone to exaggeration; English humor is understatement and satire; Religious humor; Ancestor humor; Blue Grass Humor and on and on. He rambles on about the wit of President Lincoln, the mama jokes of Governor "Happy" Chandler and the intelligent humor of journalist Joe Palmer. Inevitably, like a preacher preaching a sermon, Mr. Asbury becomes entranced with his subject and this book is best read in small doses. But, its inclusiveness makes it a book worth peeking into.

Kentucky: A Pictorial History
By: J. Winston Coleman, Jr.
(Univ. of Kentucky Press)

As you turn the pages of this book you pictorially turn the years of Kentucky history—from the Shawnee, Cherokee and Chicksaw Indian tribes of an early Kentucky through the pioneer, the wars, the coal mines and all that has made Kentucky the state that it is. One sees two centuries of history depicted in 620 photographs, paintings and drawings. Here are the derby winners, the sports figures, the politicians, the parks and the rivers, but, most of all here are the people of Kentucky.

Kentucky's Governors 1792-1985
Edited by: Lowell H. Harrison
(217pp Univ. Press of Kentucky)

From Isaac Shelby in 1792 to Martha Layne Collins in 1987, this volume presents a brief biographical sketch of each governor with emphasis on their administration years. Each sketch has been written by a scholar with particular knowledge of the governor and the times. To make the book more historically valuable, Dr. Thomas D. Clark, one of the Commonwealth's best known historians, has added an essay tracing the development of the governor's office through the state's four constitutions.

An Open Letter To The Citizens Of Wheelwright—From Jack Bartley

Many of you have asked what I'm going to do about all the nasty little letters and gossip being spread around town about me the last two years. Well, I will not put myself down on the same level or belittle myself to answer some of the most stupid statements I've ever heard a group of politicians make. I will say, I have been cleared of all charges by the Special Investigation Division of the State Police and I do have a 1.1 million dollar Federal Law Suit against three of the present City council members, which is set for trial on January 24, 1988.

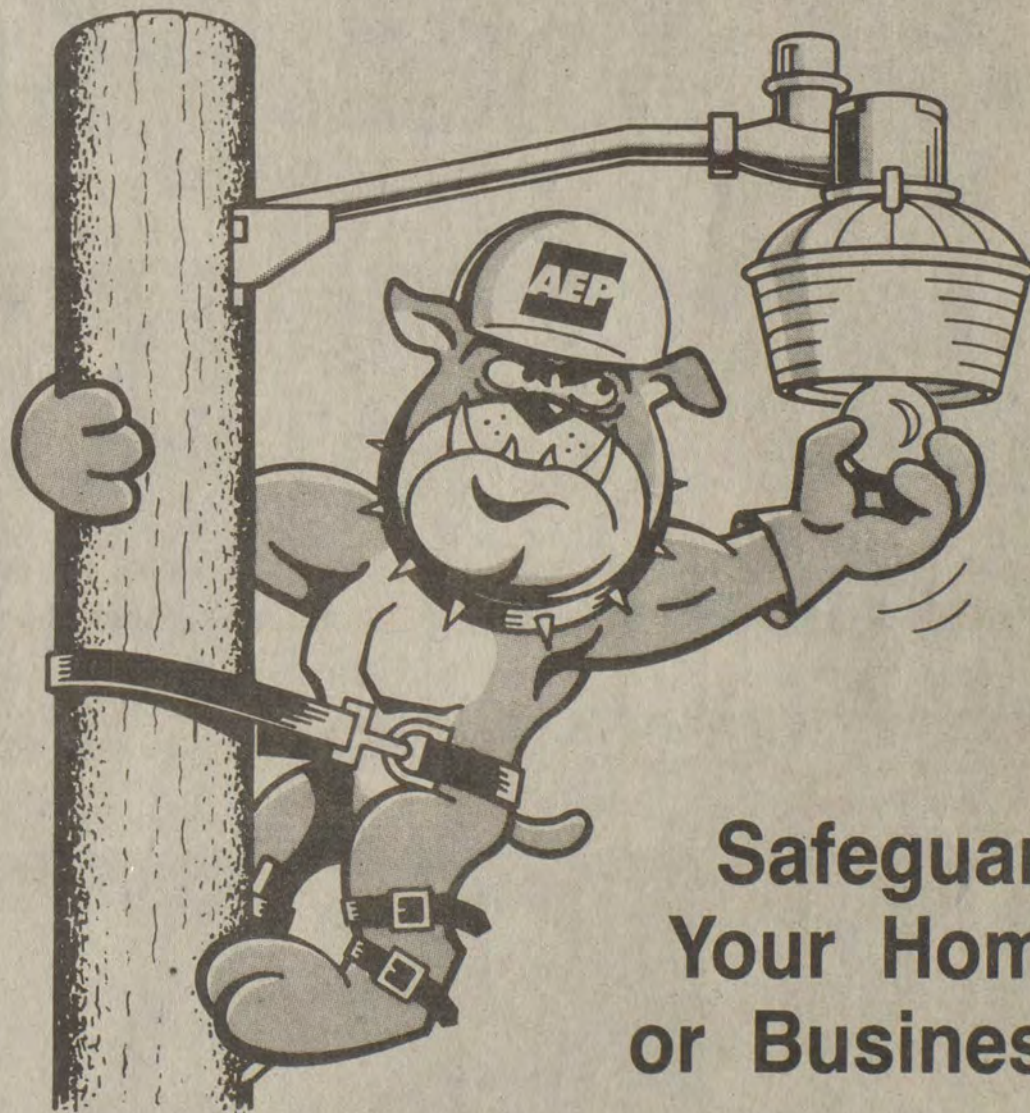

In my opinion, the Wheelwright City Commissioners failed to give you, the people, credit for having enough intelligence to see that all this is just a smoke screen to cover the fact that other people are in the race for City Commissioner, too. They hope that by constantly harrassing me, you would forget about anyone but them running for City Commission.

I wish to say I am not a candidate for office, nor would I ever consider running against the many years of experience and service that you have received from the candidates Alfred Rhea, Elva Wnek, Delmas Johnson, Oval Pack and Jerry Tackett.

Please remember to vote on Nov. 3rd because one vote can be the difference in whether or not you have a voice in the way your town is operated in the future, and above all, after the election, you should put aside all differences and pull together for the good of your town.

Carbon Monoxide Is Cold Weather Danger

As the weather cools down and activities move indoors, houses are closed up and furnaces turned on. As a result, people may be overcome by carbon monoxide gas (CO). Leaks in vent pipes and passages from hot water heaters and furnaces may release carbon monoxide into living areas. Driving in a closed car with a faulty muffler may trap dangerous levels of carbon monoxide causing poisoning.

Carbon monoxide gas is colorless and odorless, making it especially dangerous. The symptoms of CO poisoning include headache, dizziness and drowsiness. In severe cases, victims can lose consciousness, and if treatment is not started, death may result. Children are especially susceptible to this kind of poisoning, and may become ill before adults.

Prevention is the key to avoiding carbon monoxide poisoning. Have your furnaces, stoves and space heaters checked by a qualified specialist before you turn them on for the season. If you have any reason to believe that you have the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning, contact your local utility company, and thoroughly air out your house. Depending upon how severe your symptoms are, you may need emergency treatment. The Kentucky Regional Poison Center of Kosair Children's Hospital is available 24 hours a day to answer questions relating to the symptoms of CO poisoning. The toll-free number in Kentucky is 1-800-722-5725, in Metro Louisville, 589-8222.

The Hourly Earnings Index (HEI) was 174.7 (1977=100) in September, seasonally adjusted, an increase of 0.3 percent from August. For the 12 months ended in September, the increase was 2.9 percent. The HEI excludes the effects of two types of changes unrelated to underlying wage rate movements—fluctuations in manufacturing overtime and interindustry employment shifts. In dollars of constant purchasing power, the HEI decreased 1.6 percent during the 12-month period ended in August.

WKU Prexy Supported In Education Stand

Calling his remarks courageous, and complimenting him for his stand in support of education, Western Kentucky University's Board of Regents recently commended WKU President Kern Alexander for his comments as an expert witness in the trial of a lawsuit challenging the quality of the state's public school system.

"As a board we appreciate Dr. Alexander's stand on education in Kentucky," said Regents Chairman Joe Iracane of Owensboro. "It took a lot of courage and we are behind his efforts in this field."

Appearing as an expert witness on behalf of the Council for Better Education, a group of 66 relatively poor school districts in Kentucky, Dr. Alexander testified that the state should raise the money to improve elementary and secondary education even if it means less for higher education.

"Higher education in Kentucky cannot be successful without adequate funding for an elementary and secondary system," he said. "If you did not fund higher education at all, it would be better to take those resources and fund an adequate elementary and secondary system before we go off and try to add on to a system that doesn't have a foundation."

It really is a matter of putting first things first," said Judge John Palmore, a member of the WKU board. "We find ourselves really, unwittingly sometimes, in competition with the needs of the common schools."

Judge Palmore offered a formal commendation for the WKU president for his stand and the Board unanimously approved the measure.

"For those of us who support and try to promote education in Kentucky, it cannot be segmented into various interest groups; it's all one interest from elementary and secondary to higher education," said Regent Patsy Judd. "It all works together and we all need to support it."

Dr. Alexander also received the appreciation of the superintendents of the West Kentucky Educational Cooperative who said it took "courage on your part to state publicly that if a choice must be made on funding, it is better to spend more money on elementary and secondary education than on higher education."

The suit alleges that children in poorer districts generally have lower paid teachers, inferior facilities, fewer instructional resources and higher dropout rates.

"There is a feeling of unity as far as education is concerned," said Iracane. "I think Dr. Alexander has taken a great step in providing this unity between the elementary and secondary schools and higher education by his comments and his stand on this particular issue, and we commend him for it."

Divers To Inspect R.D. Bailey Lake

A crew of 16 Army divers arrived at R.D. Bailey Lake October 26 to conduct a routine inspection of the upstream concrete face of the dam. The divers, from Fort Eustis, Va., will spend approximately two weeks inspecting the underwater sections.

Since R.D. Bailey Dam is the only one of its kind built by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, due to its random rock-filled center lined by concrete on the upstream face, officials continually monitor the concrete face portion. The inspection is another step in this monitoring process and is in no way questioning the stability of the dam.

During this two-week period, the Guyandotte Point Boat Ramp also will be closed. Due to the project staff's concern over the increasing difficulty to launch boats at the ramp, the Corps of Engineers has contracted for the removal of accumulated sediment, a result of years of flooding. The contractor will use a dragline to remove the sediment.

The boat ramp will be reopened, and will continue to be open year round, as soon as the work is completed. The work should be completed no later than November 9.

...Public Notice...

The Floyd County School District, Department of Special Education, has recently prepared an application for the use of federal funds for the education of handicapped children in the Floyd County School District. This application specifies that a free and appropriate public education will be provided to all handicapped children ages three through five who are residents of the Floyd County School District. P.L. 99-457 provides priorities for the expenditure of funds. First priority is given to those children who are not being given any educational services. P.L. 99-457 also requires that the school district plan for the implementation of identification, location, evaluation and appropriate educational placement of all pre-school handicapped children. Guaranteed procedural safeguards for handicapped children and their parents in decisions regarding educational programs and confidentiality of files of those children identified as being handicapped will continue to be instituted. This application will be on file in the Office of the Superintendent of Floyd County Schools for a period of two (2) weeks beginning October 23, 1987 and ending November 6, 1987. Any interested persons may review copies of the application and make comments concerning the application to Ogie M. Slone of the Floyd County School District. Consideration will be given to all comments prior to the submission of the final copy of the application to the Department of Education.

PUMPKIN TIME

It's easy to like pumpkins. Their bright autumn colors, their variety of shapes and sizes, and their many culinary and non-culinary uses make them a fall favorite around the country. Pumpkins were the dietary staple of early English settlers in America and were credited with keeping them from starving during their first winters.

Pumpkins can also be nutritionally important today. They are an excellent source of vitamin A in the form of beta-carotene, a nutrient that has been associated with lower cancer risk.

While we in the U.S. tend to view the pumpkin as the basis for a variety of desserts, such as the traditional pie and many other types of baked goods, in many countries pumpkin plays an important role as a vegetable, often being used in casseroles.

When selecting a pumpkin for cooking, look for one well-matured, with a rich orange color. Avoid pumpkins that are broken, cracked, excessively scarred for showing signs of soft rot. Smaller pumpkins tend to be better for cooking, offering a finer texture.

To prepare a fresh pumpkin for use in baked goods (or the special treat described below), halve or quarter the pumpkin and cut off the rind. Remove the seeds and stringy portions and cut the pumpkin flesh into 1 1/2 to 2 inch pieces. Steaming the pumpkin for 15 to 20 minutes, covered, over one inch of boiling water is a cooking method with protects many of the pumpkin's nutrients.

You can also boil the pumpkin in a large pot of water for 8 to 12 minutes. And microwaving is another fast cooking method which helps preserve nutrients. Place the pumpkin in a covered dish, do not add water, and microwave on high for about 8 minutes.

A five-pound pumpkin will yield about 5 cups of cooked pumpkin. You may also use canned pumpkin puree, which is nutritionally equal to fresh pumpkin. But be aware that canned pumpkin pie filling, as opposed to canned puree, will usually have sweeteners added, and thus extra calories. Any extra pumpkin, whether from a can or cooked as described above, can easily be frozen and stored for up to six months.

SPICED PUMPKIN FROZEN YOGURT

This recipe is for pumpkin lovers who yearn for something different and lower in fat. The traditional spicy-yet-sweet flavor of this refreshing dessert might make it a new holiday tradition in your house.

- 2 cups plain lowfat yogurt
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 1 cup pumpkin puree (canned or fresh)
- 1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 1/2 tsp. nutmeg, preferably freshly grated

Pour all ingredients into the canister of an ice cream maker and freeze according to manufacturer's directions. If you store this in a freezer, you may want to soften it for 10 minutes in the refrigerator before serving.

If you don't have an ice cream maker, this recipe can be made by pouring the mixture into a covered shallow pan, placing it in the freezer, and stirring every half hour until frozen. It will yield a slightly different, but still delicious, texture.

This will yield 6 servings, each with 1 gram of fat and about 146 calories.

Corn Ethanol Fuel Plants Major Economic Factors

The presence of ethanol plants in and near Kentucky has a "tremendously positive effect on the earnings of corn farmers in the vicinity of those plants," according to Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner David Boswell.

Boswell cites the annual use of 8 million bushels of corn at the Kentucky Agricultural Energy Corporation plant at Franklin, Ky., and the consumption of 26 million bushels of the Ashland Oil Company's South Point ethanol plant in Southern Ohio on the Kentucky border.

"In fact," says Boswell, "the direct impact on the pricing and the sale of corn in and near the environs of these two plants alone amounts to $69 million annually."

"This combined demand of 34 million bushels of corn from Kentucky and Kentucky area farmers represents income of $60 million at 1987 prices that would otherwise not be there for them," the Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner said. "This is corn that, without the plants, would not have been sold in the Ohio Valley."

Further, he points out that in addition to providing a direct market for the Kentucky and Ohio corn grown near the plants, the mere presence of the ethanol production operations means another 15 cents to 25 cents per bushel to farmers selling their corn into and through normal marketing channels. "The price of corn sold by farmers in those areas is elevated because of those continuous, high-demand, at-home markets in the form of ethanol production facilities," said the Commissioner.

"Therefore, we're talking about an added $1.5 to $2.5 million in increased value of other corn sold in the Mammoth Cave area of Kentucky and an estimated $4 million in added value in the South Point-Ashland region," concluded Commissioner Boswell. "That's another $9 million for our farmers because the plants are there."

A layer of paper toweling in the vegetable compartment of your refrigerator will absorb excess moisture.

Child Care Workshop Slated Here, Oct. 29

The University of Kentucky College of Home Economics in cooperation with the Kentucky Department of Education will conduct a workshop on school-age child care from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Oct. 29 at Jenny Wiley State Park, here. "School-age child care is important in Kentucky," said Kim Townley, director of the UK Early Childhood Laboratory. "We need more programs for latch-key children and appropriate programs that are not extensions of the school day," she said.

Rich Scofield, a national authority in the field of school-age child care, will conduct the workshop. Scofield is the founder and publisher of "School Age Notes."

The workshop is tailor-made for participants who sent in their registration forms earlier in October.

FLEAS

COPYRIGHT 1987 KVMA

Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association August and September are generally regarded as the two worst months of the year for flea infestation...

A successful attack on fleas must take place on several levels simultaneously, and an understanding of the life cycle of the flea helps you plan a strategy to eliminate them from your immediate environment.

Common dog and cat fleas are now known to transmit disease to humans, but these fleas can and sometimes do feed on human blood...

Adult fleas move around by jumping, and can jump long distances from furniture or draperies or wherever to an animal host.

Fleas can survive up to two months off a host without a blood meal. When attached to a host they feed voraciously, but digest very little...

Feeding stimulates egg-laying while the flea is on the host, and adult fleas lay several hundred eggs during their lifetime.

The larvae hatch and feed on the flea dirt, then pupate and emerge as adult fleas—all in a three week cycle.

Getting rid of the fleas require killing all the adults on the animal and in that environment, as well as the larvae.

Your veterinarian is kept up-to-date on the most effective insecticides for use against fleas, both on the animal and in the environment.

Flea control is one of those areas in which your veterinarian helps make life more pleasant for humans as well as for animals.

The overall winner of the competition was Family, Mutual Savings and Loan of Somerset, who had a 75% participation and won a personal computer and Kings Island tickets for all employees.

Christmas Craft Market Underway At Morehead

Christmas carols in October? It's not too early for Pete McNeill, coordinator of special projects in Morehead State University's Office of Regional Development Services, and others involved in a new project—a Christmas Craft Market.

Work has been under way for several months for the Christmas Craft Market, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 7, from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Laughlin Health Building.

Approximately 100 vendors, primarily Kentucky craftsmen, are expected to participate in the market, an outgrowth of MSU's successful Appalachian Celebration Arts and Crafts Market. Also scheduled to be present are artisans from Ohio and Tennessee.

The event is sponsored by ORDS in an effort to provide a market for the high quality arts and crafts produced in Eastern Kentucky and nearby areas, according to McNeill. Assisting ORDS is Georgia Sammons of MSU's Small Business Development Center.

"We have wanted to try this for the past two or three years and this year we got the green light to go ahead," McNeill said.

"MSU wants to promote the economic aspect of arts and crafts as well as the artistic and aesthetic factors. This will be an excellent place to shop for Christmas," he added.

Bluegrass and country music will be provided for the shoppers throughout the day. Lisa Lally will coordinate the music program.

Morehead Annual Audit Reveals Discrepancy

Morehead State University Foundation President Terry S. Jacobs recently reported that the annual audit of the Foundation's financial records has revealed apparent unauthorized disbursements of funds.

"All necessary and proper steps are being taken to determine the full extent of the problem and appropriate action is being initiated to reimburse the Foundation," Mr. Jacobs stated.

The Foundation's auditors are continuing to review the financial records of the non-profit corporation which was formed in 1979. Governed by a 21-member Board of Trustees, the MSU Foundation was established to receive and administer private gifts on behalf of Morehead State University but is a separate entity.

"Because of these apparent irregularities in the handling of Foundation funds, Executive Vice President Elmer D. Anderson has been dismissed from his position and David Bolt, a member of the Board of Trustees, has been named acting executive vice president," Mr. Jacobs added.

He also stated that the Foundation's legal counsel has been in contact with the Rowan County Commonwealth's Attorney's office.

Morehead State University President C. Nelson Grote released the following statement in response to the disclosure. "The University administration has been promptly and fully informed by the leadership of the MSU Foundation about this unfortunate situation. Although the Foundation is a non-profit corporation and not a part of the University, it performs a vital function and is very important to our future. We have the utmost confidence in the outstanding volunteers who serve on the Foundation's Board of Trustees to resolve the problems in a timely and responsible manner."

Al Smith To Host Election Analysis

Tune in to KET for detailed analysis of election results from the eight statewide races. Al Smith hosts "Campaign '87: Election Night" Tuesday, November 3, at 10 p.m. on KET.

Joining veteran journalist Smith are former Republican Governor Louie B. Nunn and one-time gubernatorial Democratic contender Terry McBrayer. They offer comments and theories on race results.

Also tune in to KET beginning at 7 p.m. for up-to-the-minute results on the statewide offices. These results will be based on timely information furnished by the Secretary of State's office. Race results will appear during breaks between regular evening programming.

"Proclaim Liberty!"

Restitution For Japanese-Americans

The most decorated division in the history of the American Army was the 442nd in World War II. One of their citations read: "They pressed on, in the face of an enemy cruel and resourceful, until they fell from wounds or exhaustion. Although surrounded, in the tide of battle, they never once turned or retreated. Many of their commanders termed them the finest assault troops they had ever led."

Their badge carried the proud rallying-cry: "Go for broke!" When Allied forces took the heights of Monte Cassino, with the heavy guns of the German Wehrmacht pointing straight down the hill at them, they successfully carried the assault on the 6th attempt.

They were Japanese-Americans. Back in the States the Japanese-Americans had been subjected to one of the cruelest and most unjust mistreatments of any ethnic group in the history of the republic. Following Pearl Harbor, in spite of the informed advice of the FBI and intelligence analysts to the effect that their loyalty was dependable, over 100,000 Japanese-Americans were thrown into concentration camps as "aliens." Racists smeared their names. Scavengers stole their farms and homes. They suddenly found themselves without any of the Constitutional guarantees to which even rapists and murderers are entitled.

Restitution is due for the honor of all Americans.

The Wells Family Annual Reunion

Descendants of Richard Wells and Susanna Hutchison Wells met at Johnson Central High School, Saturday, September 5-6. Saturday's activities included a tour of the grave sites of Richard Wells, and three of his children, George E. Wells, Dr. William Green Wells, and Agnes Wells Auxier.

Members traveled from at least 10 states to attend Sunday's activities which were held from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Fellowship was enjoyed by everyone, including a basket dinner.

The association offered members the opportunity to purchase, "The Wells Family Cookbook," shirts, pamphlets of information on the family history, and copies of old pictures of the family members.

The family is grateful to Tom Haynish for building the P.A. system so everyone was able to hear this year.

Phillip Wells, chairperson for family photography, not only had a photographer to take the family group picture, but he and Tom Haynish both did video of the activities.

Pat Williams, president, presided and presented certificates of appreciation to the following persons for their outstanding work done; Doloris Booth, Donnie Wells, Patti Volota, Bobby Wells and Phillip Wells.

The Burgess family provided special music and singing for the group. Everyone enjoyed the clogging performed by Mary W. Rider, and Margie Wells and daughters.

The nomination committee presented the following officers and they were elected by the group for the year of 1987-1988. President, Pat Williams; Vice President, Patti Volota; Secretary, Wanda Wells; Treasurer, Mary W. Walton; Parliamentary, Bobby Wells; Chaplain, James Wells; Serving Committee Chairperson, Dolores Booth; Historian Committee, John B. Wells, III, Charles C. Wells, Bobby Wells. Nomination Committee, Phillip Wells, Chairperson, Clara Preston, Manford Walton. Activity Committee, Woodrow Allen, Chairperson, Carol Skaggs, Darlene Clark Burgess. Ex Officio Member, John B. Wells, III, Past President. Board Members are: Beulah Keel, Mable Allen, Randall Wells, Lloyd Wells, Ramona Wells Newman, Paula Wells, Clayton Wells, Lyman Porter, Pauline Gaza, Dolores Booth, Virginia Edgel, Andrew Wells, George E. Wells, Elizabeth Hillman, Moses Wells, Peter Wells, John Wells, Nancy Webb, William G. Wells, Agnes Auxier, Mary Butcher, Roseanna Spears.

The following members were present, and many were there who did not register.

Flat Blackcats Out Of Playoffs Following District Loss Friday

The Prestonsburg Blackcats may look back on their 1987 hopes for a playoff appearance and remember October 23 as the date that hope ended.

And remember with a, 'what if.' What if they hadn't committed four turnovers? What if they hadn't surrendered several big plays? What if they had possibly better prepared themselves?

Now it's only hindsight and speculation, but one thing is certain, the Prestonsburg Blackcats, with their 31-8 loss to district foe Morgan County, Friday night, let their final chance at post-season play slip away.

"We were flat," Prestonsburg coach Chuke Williams said after the loss at Morgan County. "They just wanted it more than we did."

What the Cougars apparently wanted more was a trip to the playoffs, something they locked up with their 23-point win.

Before the game began, Morgan County was in a second place tie with Whitesburg, slightly ahead of the Blackcats. With a win Prestonsburg could have kept their slim hopes alive.

But then came the roar that told the total tale.

With the Cougars leading 24-8 late in the game, the news came that Leslie County, the district's champion, had just defeated Whitesburg, 36-8. The news met obvious approval in West Liberty.

Morgan County celebrated with an additional touchdown, capping off a near perfect night by throwing some salt on Blackcat wounds.

Enjoy Playing Games But Protect Sight

You wouldn't play baseball without a bat, and you wouldn't play racquetball without a racquet. But the Kentucky Society to Prevent Blindness says thousands of amateur and professional athletes are playing all kinds of sports without the most important piece of equipment by far: eye protectors.

"The eye, exposed and fragile, was not designed to withstand the forces of most sports," says Dr. Paul Vinger, a leading authority on sports eye injuries with the Harvard Medical School and chairperson of the National Society to Prevent Blindness Sports Eye Safety Committee.

A tennis ball traveling at 50 to 80 miles an hour, a racquetball hurtling through the air at 100 miles an hour, an elbow or a thumb jabbed into the eye—all can inflict serious and permanent vision loss to weekend and professional athletes alike.

To combat the growing epidemic of sports eye injuries, the Kentucky Society to Prevent Blindness is launching an intensive public and professional education effort. At issue are the 35,000 sports-related eye injuries treated in hospital emergency rooms across the country each year. Many of them required long hospital stays and some left their victims sitting on the bench with permanent vision damage.

Those victims include celebrities like boxer Sugar Ray Leonard, former Boston Red Sox star Tony Conigliaro and Barry Ashbee, defenseman for the Philadelphia Flyers, all forced to deal with serious eye injuries.

But serious eye injuries are even more prevalent among amateur athletes because they are more often out of shape, lack the proper coaching and equipment and boast more enthusiasm than skill. In fact, the most vulnerable age group is young adults 15 to 24, who account for more than one-third of sports and recreation eye injuries.

Here are some statistics you won't see on the sports scoreboard:

*Most eyes are injured in baseball or basketball, accounting for more than one-third of sports and recreational eye injuries.

*Most baseball injuries occur in children 5 to 14, accounting for 20 percent of their eye injuries.

*For young adults 15 to 24, basketball accounted for 25 percent of their sports eye injuries.

*For adults 25 to 64, racquet sports accounted for nearly 20 percent of their sports eyes injuries.

But the Society says most eye injuries can be prevented with proper eye safety practices and appropriate eye protection that meets the standard set by the American Society for Testing and Materials. Everyday eyeglasses, lenses, less eye guards and contact lenses provide absolutely no eye protection.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Los Angeles Lakers has been wearing eye protection for 10 years. "Am I going to continue to wear the goggles?" he says. "Of course, I'm down to my last pair of eyeballs."

The Cougars scored on a 50-yard fumble return for touchdown on a 44-yard pass, and a 17-yard touchdown pass. They scored 17 points on Prestonsburg mistakes, taking advantage of every opportunity.

"Those interceptions, those fumbles, it was a combination of a whole lot of things," Williams said. "I just thought we would get a better effort tonight. We just didn't execute like we should have. That was the big thing."

Prestonsburg committed four turnovers, two on interceptions, and two via the fumble route. Morgan County scored 10 points following two turnovers, and added another after a high snap on a punt.

With 6:37 remaining in the first quarter, Prestonsburg committed their first turnover of the game when Morgan County recovered a fumble on the Blackcat 41.

The Cougars moved to the Prestonsburg nine-yard line, but were turned back by two illegal motion penalties and had to settle for a Brian Goforth 35-yard field goal.

After getting the football back, Prestonsburg again found success on the ground, but it was when they took their offensive show to the air that they found difficulty.

The Blackcats, on three successive running plays, moved the football from their own 29-yard line to the 44. But then the air attack was shot down.

Tim Trusty, on a first and 10 play, threw an incomplete pass, then hit Derrick Johnson with a short completion. Johnson wheeled to complete the popular hook-and-trailer play, but when he pitched back to Johnny Ray Harris, the trailer, someone else was in the way.

As if he had been inside the Prestonsburg huddle, Joey Barker, Morgan County defensive back, anticipated the pitch, interrupted the proceedings, forced a fumble, and returned the football 50 yards for the score.

The Blackcats had committed two turnovers in less than one quarter, and Morgan County had a 10-point lead, all coming after turnovers.

"They laid it down for us, and we couldn't pick it up," Williams said of an early Morgan County fumble that the Blackcats failed to recover. "After that it was all downhill."

Morgan County, on their first drive, fumbled deep in their own territory, but the Blackcats couldn't recover the loose pigskin, allowing Cougar offensive lineman Bryan Goforth to pick it up and turn a near disaster into a 10-yard gain.

First came the turnovers, then a high snap from center that set up a late first half touchdown.

With 2:57 remaining in the first half, the Blackcats took over on the Morgan County 38-yard line, but after three pass plays turned up only three yards,

Sturgill Leads Bobcats To Season's Second Win

M.C. Napier gave Betsy Layne coach Vince Tucker an early scare, but Todd Sturgill accounted for two touchdowns as the Bobcats erased an early deficit to defeat the Navajos 19-17 Friday night.

Betsy Layne, on their first defensive play of the night, was burned with a 60 yard touchdown pass to fall behind early at M.C. Napier.

"They ran a flea-flicker the first time they got the ball, for about 60 yards, and as a coach you say, 'oh no, here we go again' but our kids did a good job of not getting down," Tucker said.

Betsy Layne responded with a touchdown drive of their own. The Bobcats, on their next possession, marched to paydirt when quarterback Todd Sturgill and wide receiver Stacy Hall hooked up for a six yard scoring toss.

Sturgill ran for one more touchdown on a two yard run and the other came on the pass from six yards out, as the Bobcats scored all their points in the first half.

Dwight Jarrell added a field goal to the Betsy Layne scoring effort. "It was the first time this year that we've played four quarters of almost perfect football," Tucker said. "You are always going to have some mistakes, but we played a real good football game."

"It was the best we've played all year," Tucker continued. "If we would have played this way all year we would have definitely won more games."

As Betsy Layne was busy rolling up 19 points in the first half, M.C. Napier was also enjoying offensive success, scoring all their points in the first two quarters also. Fortunately for the Bobcats, they won the first half scoring battle, and claimed their second victory of the season. Their record is now 2-6.

"We did pretty much what we had always done," Tucker said. "The kids

Prestonsburg was forced to punt.

The football was snapped high, and when the play came to a halt, Morgan County claimed possession on the 39-yard line.

With only seconds showing on the clock, Jamie Easterling, sophomore quarterback, connected with Reggie Easterling for a 17-yard touchdown pass, giving Morgan County a 24-0 halftime advantage.

Making a second half challenge wasn't easy either.

Prestonsburg, although they had their chances, never solved the Morgan County defense, and even though they received a solid defensive effort themselves, the Blackcat offense struggled.

Late in the third quarter, Kevin Dotson recovered a Cougar fumble on the 41 that eventually led to a Tim Trusty 38-yard touchdown run.

Dotson, with 3:10 left in the third quarter, fell on the loose pigskin. The Blackcats then put together a 59-yard drive that was capped off by Trusty's run.

The junior quarterback ran for 60 yards on only five carries.

Following the touchdown run, Trusty hit Danny Hamilton with a two-point conversion pass that trimmed the deficit to 16 points.

Then things really started looking brighter. Blackcat fans started thinking comeback, especially after Jimmy Joe Crace's fumble recovery.

Crace, from his linebacking spot, scooped up a fumble Morgan County made on their first play from scrimmage following the Blackcat score, giving Prestonsburg possession on the Cougar 45-yard line.

Johnny Ray Harris, Prestonsburg's leading rusher with 69 yards, moved the Blackcats down to the 41, but a quarterback sack pushed them back.

Trusty rebounded, hit his big tight end Danny Hamilton for a seven-yard gain, but the play came on fourth and eight.

Prestonsburg was forced to surrender the football on downs, and in all reality the game as well. Only nine minutes remained, and Morgan County wiped five of those off with a 64-yard, 11 play touchdown drive.

The Blackcats then joined Morgan County in running the clock out.

With the win, Morgan County improved to 5-5 on the season, but more importantly for them 4-1 against district competition. The Cougars, with their district record, earned a post-season berth.

The Blackcats, with the loss, dropped to 5-4 on the year, and will be trying to salvage a winning season this Friday at home.

"We want to try and have a winning season," Williams said of his team's home game against M.C. Napier. "With a win we could go six and four."

A major improvement over last season's 1-8 final record.

just wanted it more this time. We really put it together over there."

"They had the biggest backfield that we had seen this year, and they had a little back that could fly. I thought we were in trouble again, but we pretty much stopped their running game. They had to pass, and we pretty much stopped that too."

The 19 points scored represented one of Betsy Layne's best offensive outputs of the year, and the 17 points given up was one of the best defensive efforts since the season opening shutout against Fleming-Neon.

"The first half was pretty much an offensive battle, and the second half was defense," Tucker said. "When you win by only two you have to play good enough defense to keep the other team from getting close because a field goal will beat you."

Tucker finally got that kind of defensive effort, and his offense may have found the missing link that prevented it from living up to pre-season billing. As a result, the Bobcats broke a six game losing streak.

The win also represented the Bobcats first against district competition.

Betsy Layne, 2-6 on the season, will close out their football year this Friday night with a home contest scheduled against Lawrence County.

The game has also been designated as Senior Night to honor those Bobcats who are playing in their final season, and final high school football game.

"Hopefully the seniors will realize that this will be their final football game for Betsy Layne, and decide that they are going to give a real good effort," Tucker said. "Hopefully we can go 3-6."

BLOCKING ASSIGNMENTS: Danny Hamilton, (89) Kevin Dotson, (35) and Johnny Ray Harris, (21) display their blocking technique in Friday's game against Morgan County.

Rebels Lose Season's Last Game 29-6 To Cardinals Friday Night

The 1987 football season has been a disappointing one of sorts for Allen Central High School, and Friday night the Rebels closed out the season on another down note, falling 29-6 to Sheldon Clark.

The Rebels, already stricken by dismissals and players AWOL, went into their battle with Sheldon Clark another member short, and struggled offensively while losing their eighth game of the season.

The Rebels played their final two games without three starters who were injured or off the team.

"Three years under his belt, and a good leader. You just don't replace that," head coach Donnie Daniels said, mentioning the effects the absence of Darren Conn had on Allen Central's squad.

The senior quarterback, a three-year starter, suffered an injured knee last Saturday against Fairview, and as a result was unavailable to Allen Central, Friday night.

Without Conn calling the signals, the Rebels' offense struggled. It struggled through a scoreless first quarter, first half, and through the first three quarters.

Not until only six minutes remained on the game clock did Allen Central find the end zone when Stewart Halbert scored on the 'Bear play' that equalled a four-yard run.

"We got good play from the people we put in there, but we were a little bit confused, because we had a lot of people playing out of position," Daniels said. "We were kind of limited in what we could do offensively."

Allen Central's defense, also missing Conn who served as a starting defensive back, held Sheldon Clark scoreless through the first 12-minute period, but the Cardinal offense found its way to pay dirt in the second frame, scoring twice to take a 16-0 halftime lead.

Sheldon Clark outscored the Rebels 13-6 in the second half to pull out the 23-point victory.

With the loss, Allen Central, playing in their season finale, finished the year at 2-8, better than last year's winless performance, but less than Daniels had hoped for.

"I would have wanted the season to go better as far as wins go, especially for the seniors," Daniels said. They started football here, and I wanted to give them a winning season before they left."

Three years ago Don Daniels, Allen Central principal and now assistant head coach, started the Rebel football program, mainly with the seniors who will now say goodbye to the program.

Through a junior varsity season that wasn't exactly picture perfect, and a first-year varsity campaign that saw Allen Central lose eight straight games, the Rebels continued to build toward a football tradition.

That work paid off this season. Allen Central won their first varsity game, defeating Jenkins in the season opener and then calmed their second victory by beating Daniels former school, Wheelwright.

Although those two victories were all Allen Central have to their credit, Daniels says the season represented more than wins and losses.

"I think it has been a successful season," Daniels said. "I don't think the eight losses should put a damper on it. We did a lot of good things."

"I've got a lot of JV players that got varsity action this year," Daniels continued. "That should help us a lot next year."

Allen Central, in their second year of varsity action, established two firsts this season. The Rebels won their first varsity game ever, that coming over

Jenkins, and their first ever district game.

They play in a tough district, but Daniels expects his Rebels to soon challenge against that tough competition.

Next season may be a bit too quick to expect accomplishments such as those, but Daniels is already looking forward to bigger football things in 1988.

"We've got about 18 to 20 kids coming back that we can count on, that we really know will be back," the coach said. "The big thing is that we need to get our eighth graders excited about football this spring. If we can do that then we will start playing people more competitively."

This past year wasn't exactly what Donnie Daniels wanted for himself, his younger Rebels, or graduating football seniors, but he admits that the season could have been better.

That is, where wins and losses are concerned.

"There were three games we should have won that we didn't. 'If we could have won those three then we would have finished at least at 500.'"

Also, with wins over Jenkins and Wheelwright, two teams in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference, the Rebels have an opportunity to finish high in the EKMC.

Allen Central is a member of the conference for the first time this season. The EKMC also features Whitesburg, Fleming Neon, and Elkhorn City.

Fast Starting Trojans Slowed In Second Half

It was the beginning of what could have been a good thing, but what starts out nice sometimes ends up nasty.

Just ask the Wheelwright Trojans.

They were off to one of their best starts of the 1987 season, but somewhere between the end of the first half, and the beginning of the second, Wheelwright's strong start weakened.

The Trojans opened up a 17-6 first quarter lead, and held a five-point advantage at halftime, but ended up on the short end of a 46-25 score, Friday night at home, against Johnson Central.

Wheelwright, a team known early in the season for having a stingy defense and even stingier offense, experienced a complete role reversal.

But in the end it ended as most Trojan games have this season—with a loss.

Early in the season Wheelwright had enjoying consistently strong defensive showings, but never managed to give it any offensive support.

Friday night the Trojans were supermen on offense, but not so super on defense, and when the scoring show closed, Wheelwright's defense never, allowing Johnson Central 26 second half points and a come-from-behind victory.

Playing without fullback Doug Little, out with an injury, the Trojans still managed to move the football on the ground and through the air.

With just over 10 minutes remaining in the first quarter, Wheelwright took a 3-0 lead on a field goal, and minutes later stretched their advantage to 9-0 when Bobby Hood connected with Steve Cole for a 45-yard touchdown pass.

The Trojans scored two more times in the first half, but failed to keep Johnson Central out of the end zone, something Wheelwright usually does with authority.

"We played well on offense, but our defense didn't do the job," Roger Johnson, Wheelwright head coach, said. "We're like a Jekyll and Hyde team. I don't know what to expect."

After the Golden Eagles cut the deficit to 9-6, Wheelwright again struck with a big scoring play. This time running back Vic Cotton rambled 68 yards for the touchdown.

Not to be out offensed, Johnson Central retaliated with two unanswered scores of their own, taking a 20-17 lead, but just as quickly as they did, Wheelwright came back again.

Handy Jackson, just before halftime, dashed eight yards for the go-ahead score, giving the Trojans the five-point halftime advantage.

If the game had ended there, Trojan fans would have been happy. After all they had seen more offense than in just about all of Wheelwright's previous games, and their team was leading.

It did end for Wheelwright. They failed to score in the second half, but Johnson Central didn't. The Golden Eagles rapidly erased the Trojan lead and went on to hand Wheelwright their ninth loss of the season.

"They just came out in the second half and shut us down," Johnson said. "I think it came from us playing so many kids who go both ways."

Wheelwright rolled up a total of 245 yards in the first half, and only 79 in the final two quarters.

"We've got kids out there that are playing 48 minutes a ball game, and that wears you down," Johnson said. "It's not that they're not in shape. It's just hard to play a whole ball game, and Friday night was a physical game."

"We've got about nine kids who are out there the whole time. They dress 60 kids, and probably play 20 of those. The Trojans also have had problems with injuries this season, cutting their already slim roster even further."

And again Friday night the injury bug Bit Wheelwright. In the fourth quarter, Handy Jackson, junior tailback and starting defensive back, suffered a bruised kidney. He will not play in Friday's season finale, and it is not known whether Little will play either.

The Trojans will close out the season this week with a home game against Sheldon Clark.

"It could give us something to carry over until next season," Johnson said of a final victory. "Seven of our 11 players we started on offense will be back next year, and the offense played well against Johnson Central."

"If we could pull out a win this week maybe it would give us something to build on for next year."

The opening kickoff is set for 8 p.m.

SHORT SPORTS

Eastern Kentucky University and Western Kentucky continued to roll, and the University of Kentucky continued to struggle as college football entered its stretch run this past weekend.

Eastern got over 300 yards on the ground in whipping Youngstown State, 14-7, in an Ohio Valley Conference game Saturday.

The win improved Eastern, the nation's 16th ranked Division IAA school, to 5-2 overall, and 2-1 in the OVC. The Colonels, tied for second place, will play conference foe Austin Peay, Saturday, at Hanger Field in Richmond.

NFL News And Notes

On a day when the National Football League was as unpredictable as the stock exchange, and offense proved to be the order of the day, the Washington Redskins won a football game the old fashioned way, with defense and ball control.

Around the NFL, Sunday, remarkable comebacks were a rule rather than a rarity as the league welcomed back its regular players.

After three weeks of replacement teams, both fans and players were anxious to get re-acquainted, and players said hello with a big offensive bang.

A total of 628 points were scored Sunday, more than in either week one or week two of the season, and 129 points higher than any replacement Sunday.

The game average for weeks one and two were just over 42. Week seven produced a much higher average, 10 points higher, plus more total points while playing one less game.

The Denver and Minnesota game scheduled for the Metrodome was moved to Monday night.

Not everyone was in the mood to score points in bunches though. The Washington Redskins believe in defense, and against New York they won that way.

The Redskins recorded a total of seven sacks in defeating the New York Jets 17-16 in RFK Stadium. Washington also held Jets explosive tailback Freeman McNeil to only 16 yards rushing.

With the win Washington, 5-1, maintained their lead in the NFC East while the Jets, although they lost, remained in a tie for first in the AFC East.

But everybody is in a tie for the lead in the AFC East.

In a division that was supposed to rank supreme in the AFC, expectations have been thrown out the window, and pre-season ratings have been turned upside down.

After Sunday's games, four of the five teams were 3-3, with Miami, at 2-4, serving as the division's door mat.

The Dolphins led Buffalo, 21-0, Sunday, but Bills quarterback Jim Kelly threw for 361 yards and two touchdowns, and Rob Riddick scored three times as Buffalo downed Miami, 34-31, in overtime at Joe Robbie Stadium.

Dan Marino, Miami's famed quarterback, threw for four touchdowns in leading the Dolphins to the huge early advantage, but Buffalo kicker Scott Norwood nailed a 28-yard field goal in overtime to give his team the victory.

The Indianapolis Colts, not to be denied their offensive part, rolled up 30 points against the New England defense and further jammed the division's top spot by defeating the Patriots, 30-16.

That might change some this week when the Colts and Jets play in New York, Sunday. Buffalo will be home against Washington, Miami plays Pittsburgh, and New England takes on the LA Raiders.

One survivor of the group may find itself on top.

Now let's talk points.

The highest scoring game of the day came in the Astrodome where Warren Moon hit Curtis Duncan with a touchdown pass with only seconds left to give Houston a 37-33 victory over Atlanta.

And how about the one they played in the Silverdome?

Green Bay took a 31-7 lead over homestanding Detroit in the first half, then surrendered that lead, but scored late to beat the Lions, 34-33.

The Packers-Lions game featured two comebacks, but neither may have been as impressive as what the Chicago Bears accomplished.

Trailing 20-0 and in jeopardy of slipping into a first place tie with Tampa Bay, the Bears, behind returning quarterback Jim McMahon, rallied to hang a 27-26 loss on the Buccaneers.

McMahon, injured most of the season last year, and without a down of experience this season, came on to throw one touchdown pass and run for another as Chicago kept distance between themselves and Tampa Bay.

And Pittsburgh's comeback wasn't exactly shabby, even though it just happened to be against the Cincinnati Bengals.

The Bengals have lost three games this season after leading late in the game, and Pittsburgh repeated history, Sunday.

Cincinnati led the Steelers, 20-10, in the fourth quarter, but Pittsburgh scored 13 consecutive points to pull out the 23-20 victory and keep pace with Houston and Cleveland in the AFC Central.

The Browns defeated Los Angeles on Monday Night Football, and find themselves tied with two teams for the AFC Central lead.

Cleveland got an early field goal, and later on in the second quarter, Kevin Mack rambled 16 yards for a touchdown as the Browns went up 10-0 early and held on for the 30-17 victory.

With the loss LA dropped to 1-5 and possibly out of the NFC West race.

San Francisco, the division leader, held off New Orleans despite Reuben Mayes' 144 yards. The Saints kicked five field goals, but Joe Montana countered that with three touchdown passes to give the 49ers the 24-22 win. With it San Francisco improved to 5-1.

The 49ers can pile on the final few shovels of dirt on LA this week. The two teams play in Los Angeles.

And then there are the San Diego Chargers.

Chosen by many to bring up the rear in the AFC West, the Chargers were given three replacement victories, thumped Kansas City, 42-21, Sunday, and found themselves on top of their division.

Veteran quarterback Dan Fouts threw for two touchdowns and surprisingly ran for another to lead the Charge.

But Seattle and Denver are not on the trail.

The Saw Hawks humbled Los Angeles, Sunday, in the Coliseum with a 35-13 victory over the Raiders. Seattle will play at home against Minnesota this week while San Diego hooks up with Cleveland.

The Vikings are coming off a Monday night victory that saw them defeat Denver, 34-27, and remain within two games of the Chicago Bears in the NFC Central. Minnesota is 3-0 with their regular players, and 0-3 with replacements.

Denver, on the other hand, fell to third place in the AFC West, one game and a half behind San Diego. The Broncos also lost the services of running back Gerald Wilhite, who suffered a lower leg fracture.

The New York Giants, Super Bowl champions last season, earned their first victory of the year by defeating St. Louis, 30-7, Sunday.

The Giants will play in Dallas this Monday night. The Cowboys are coming off a 17-point loss to Philadelphia. Both New York and Dallas are trying to stay afloat in the NFC East.

Another game carrying playoff influence this Sunday will be Houston playing in Cincinnati. The Oilers are currently tied for first in the AFC Central while the Bengals are at the bottom looking up at three teams, two games out.

The 28 teams of the NFL combined for a total of 734 points. That represented the second highest output ever for a single week, missing setting a new scoring record by 27 points.

DEFENSIVE EFFORT: The Prestonsburg defense combines to stop Morgan County running back Joey Barker Friday night.

27-0 loss to Western Kentucky, last week. Quarterback Jeff Cesarone passed for one touchdown and ran for another to lead the Hilltoppers to their fifth win of the season.

Western, 5-2 and nationally ranked, will take their show on the road, playing Division 1AA power Georgia Southern this Saturday.

This weekend wasn't quite as nice for the University of Kentucky. The Wildcats, after leading 14-0 early, struggled in the second half against a stronger Georgia team, and eventually lost 17-14.

With the loss, the 'Cats fell to 5-3, and 1-2 in the SEC. They will be in action this Saturday night against Virginia Tech. Kentucky is currently in the midst of a two-game losing streak.

The Louisville Cardinals mounted a 21-point scoring outburst in the second quarter, built a 24-3 halftime lead, and defeated the Akron Zips, 31-10, Saturday. The Cardinals will play this Saturday night in Oklahoma against Tulsa. Game time is 7.

In small college action number nine Georgetown upended number 19 Cumberland, 34-24, in Division 11 action.

With the win Georgetown improved to 6-1 while Cumberland fell to 5-2.

Union College was expected to be alongside Cumberland and Georgetown in the top 20 poll, but that didn't materialize, and Saturday the Bulldogs lost their fifth game of the season, 49-13, to West Virginia Wesleyan.

You have home field advantage, and then you have the Metrodome.

The home of the Minnesota Twins has been the hot topic of major league baseball, or more accurately, the success Minnesota has enjoyed at home has been the major league's hottest conversation piece.

The Twins had the best home record of anyone in the major leagues and defeated the Detroit Tigers twice in the Metrodome during the American League playoffs.

It was only fitting that they win their first ever World Series at home before a record crowd of 55,376.

It was also a nice final paragraph in (Continued on Next Page)

Area Runners Compete In Two States Same Day

The Second Annual Millard Mustang Classic was held Saturday, October 24, at Millard. The 3.1 mile race attracted 58 entrants. Robert Wright, of Flat Gap, won the race in 16:18, while his brother, Jeff, held off Rick Roberts, of Allen, for second in 16:42. Roberts, coming back from a knee injury, finished third in 16:44.

Pam Wright, of Pikeville, held off Joyce Cantrell, of Flat Gap, to win the women's division in 21:42, to Cantrell's 21:53 second place finish. Gina Damron, of Pikeville, was third overall.

One race for the day was not enough, as some runners traveled from Millard to another 3.1 mile race in Grundy, Virginia, three hours later. Robert Wright won his second race of the day in 16:31, as he pulled away from Rick Roberts who finished second in 17:14. Wright becomes only the third Johnson county to win two races in two states within 24 hours. Frank Stanley and Rick Roberts are the other two runners who have accomplished this.

Becky Meadows, of Grundy, defended her title once again with a 23:53 victory in the women's division. The race was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Grundy.

The Prestonsburg High School Marching Blackcats will be participating in the KMEA State Competition October 31, 1987 in Louisville, Kentucky. Only Bands that have earned a Superior in a KMEA Marching Competition have the honor of being part of this State-wide competition.

The band is under the direction of Mr. Wayne Bishop; Field Commander, Julie Newberry; Majorette Captain is Christy Cooley, and Marc Jones, Percussion Leader. Majorette sponsor is Boots Adams; Flag sponsors are Holly Leach and Janet Tackett.

The Sporting Times

High school football is winding down to a playoff finish, college football is just beginning to enter its interesting conference schedules, and the National Football League just last Sunday welcomed back its regular players.

But does this mean anything in Kentucky?

Football what? Yea, football in Kentucky.

Football may be in season for most of the nation, but in the Bluegrass state it's always basketball season. Football will soon be gone, and it is already forgotten.

And with good reason. Just like those who always dream of the grass being greener on the other side of the fence, fans across Kentucky so dearly want a winner to support, and college football certainly can't give that.

They want greener results. Nobody wants to follow a loser, and this along with the magic of the round ball sport in the state has fans foaming at the mouth, drooling in anticipation of the upcoming season.

And regardless of who you support, this may be the year your favorite team flies high.

Strong recruiting classes have both Eddie Sutton and Denny Crum foaming just a bit. That is a big change from last season, where Crum fumed more than foamed.

The Louisville Cardinals is a team accustomed to winning 20 games or more a season, but that wasn't the case in the 1986-87 campaign.

Guard play proved to be a sore spot last season as the Cardinals, following their national championship in 1986, suffered through an 18-14 year.

Crum and his assistants set out during the off season to solve Louisville's problems, and they came back with two possible answers; guards LaBradford Smith and Jerome Harmon.

Both Smith, who averaged over 26 points a game as a high school senior, and Harmon are rated in the top 10 as far as freshman recruits are concerned.

The problem is that Louisville didn't find a true point guard, something they need desperately. But Denny Crum is a coach who wins with superior physical abilities.

He had rather his players out-run and out-jump and out-play the opponent than beat them in a half court game.

This year he may be able to do that. With all-American candidate Pervis Ellison in the pivot, and with leading scorer Herbert Crook and seven-foot-one Felton Spencer back, the Cardinals will be strong underneath.

The growth of Smith and Harmon will be critical, but most basketball people are banking on the freshman pair to make an immediate impact. That's why Louisville has been ranked in the top 10 by most pre-season publications.

The Kentucky Wildcats also suffered a down year last year, finishing at 18-11, and third place in the South Eastern Conference.

That is all expected to change. UK enjoyed the best recruiting year of any in the nation, which is expected to bring respectability, if not domination, back to the Bluegrass state.

Who is the top new face Kentucky has coming in?

No. It isn't 6'11" center LeRon Ellis. It isn't six-foot-eight forward Johnathon Davis, nor is it top guard prospect Eric Manuel.

The top new face isn't a new face at all. It is merely a re-acquaintance between a missing warrior and his loving fans.

Winston Bennett has been a fan favorite since he first came to the University of Kentucky. His all-out hustle, and fiery play established this 6'7", 210-pound forward as one of the more physical players in the SEC.

Wildcat fans are only glad he plays for them, and they are glad he is back.

If an injury can ever be considered as a blessing then Bennett's injury was. Just before his senior season began, the Louisville native suffered a severe knee injury, and sat last year out.

But now he's back. Bennett is apparently healthy now, and just in time. Although the 'Cats recruited several big players, they suffer inside from a lack of experience and a lack of talent.

Winston Bennett is expected to change all of that. Kentucky returns possibly the best backcourt in the nation. Rex Chapman was named to the first team all-freshman squad last year, and Ed Davender proved to be a perfect point guard in the UK scheme of things.

For an additional punch, Eddie Sutton can call on Derrick Miller, the team's best shooter, to nail a three-pointer.

The Wildcats need a strong season from Bennett, and they need Richard Madison to finally live up to his high school billing. If this happens, Kentucky may be in for a final four treat. If it doesn't, fans may have to start saying wait 'till next season sooner that anyone wants.

Both Louisville and UK are rated in the top 10, but both will be relying strongly on incoming freshmen. The talent is there, in both experience and youth, but if either hope for a March visit to Kansas City their freshmen will have to quickly become sophomores.

The talent is on hand though. Unlike last season, the basketball crown in Kentucky again rests in Lexington and Louisville, or somewhere in between, but not where it was last season.

Down on the hill, Western Kentucky proved to be the state's best basketball squad, but the Hilltoppers are running a distant third now.

Western recorded a 29-9 record last year, but four seniors are gone. The Hilltoppers are certainly facing a rebuilding process, and it may take more than this year.

Morehead State University lost their best player, possibly of all-time, and now will have to rely on quickness and outside shooting.

Bob McCann, one of the nation's top rebounders, will not be around to give his size and ability, and now the tallest experienced player Morehead State has is 6'7" guard Kevin Simpson.

The Eagles could be in trouble. Eastern Kentucky University returns four starters, and could very well capture an Ohio Valley Conference title, but they will first have to deny Murray State.

Murray State registered a 13-15 record last year, but return the leading scorer in Kentucky's Division 1 level. Jeff Martin, a 6'6" forward, scored over 21 points a game last year.

Guard Don Mann also returns, and with him comes a 15.6 point per game average.

Eastern lost only one starter from a team that won 19 games, and finished second in the OVC. The Colonels return Jeff McGill, a guard that averaged over 15 points a game, and a pair of 6'7" forwards, Tyrone Howard and Lewis Spence, both who scored over 10 points a game last year.

The OVC promises to be an exciting conference this season, but basketball power in the state, and possibly in the nation, lies along the Kentucky River, in downtown Lexington and Louisville.

It all begins in one month as players, coaches, and fans take a renewed hope into a new season.

It may all crash to the ground, or it may fly high. While it does, fan support will once again reach a fever pitch.

As we make the transition from the gridiron to the court, watch for college and professional previews, plus special features on former Floyd County basketball players.

a story that has interested all of America, the success story of the Twins playing in Minnesota.

They also became the only team to ever win a world championship in baseball without winning a single game on the road. Minnesota lost all three games played in St. Louis, but trailing three games to two, the Twins won the final two games to earn the World Series title.

Minnesota defeated the Cardinals, 4-2, Sunday night to earn that crown. They were 61-25 at home during the regular season, and 6-0 in post-season action.

In the first game between the National Basketball Association and the Soviet Union, the Milwaukee Bucks showed Russia what it means to be real basketball players, defeating the Russian team, 127-100, Sunday afternoon.

The Bucks, expected to challenge for a national title this year, took a 67-36 halftime lead, and rolled to their second victory in the international round robin tournament.

Milwaukee had earlier defeated a team from Italy, 123-111. The Italian team featured former NBA all-star Bob McAdoo, and another American refugee Ricky Brown.

The Cincinnati Reds announced yesterday that they will not pick up the option on Ron Oesters contract, and will give him his unconditional release.

Oester, long-time Reds starting second baseman, suffered a severe knee injury this past season. The Reds say he is now too big a risk to sign again.

Oester is expected to be invited to spring training by the Reds in 1988.

Also, Cincinnati hired Lee May to replace Billy DeMars as third base coach and hitting instructor.

J.R. Ried, North Carolina all-freshman center in 1986-87, and teammate Steve Bucknell were served legal notices yesterday.

Both Ried and Bucknell have been rumored of assaulting a North Carolina student.

The Tar Heels are rated as one of the nation's top college basketball teams, and Ried, an all-American pre-season choice, is expected to be an important part of the team.

Bassin' With the Pros...

Creek Channel Keys.

Most bass sportsmen fish a few rivers or creeks on occasion—just like they do lakes and reservoirs! Some of the best areas on any creek or river are channel structure. Finding the key to this type of structure could give you an edge on limiting out for the day.

Ken Cook, Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff member, considers himself a creek channel expert and this week, he shares a bit of his professional expertise with us.

"As far as channel-type structure, I think of drop-off channel structure as the primary key to good fall and winter fishing because that's the area that bait-fish tend to migrate to in winter," Cook emphasizes. "Bass have told me over the years that they like to be around drop-offs and channels instead of concave structure in the fall and winter and into the spring. They use the channel edges as migration routes to move to and from shallow waters. And that's where it pays to fish."

Of course, every rule has an exception. "An exception to the channel key is summertime," Cook continues, "when bass tend to relate to convex structure more often. Then you find them around the edge of a river channel or creek channel. The edges of most channels have a little hump or ridge, and bass will associate with that hump more than they will a drop-off. They also like humps, points and things that stick up from the bottom."

Depth, of course, is another key to any channel fishing situation. "In the wintertime," Cook explains, "I'll be fishing a channel drop-off 40-foot on top and 60-foot in the channel with a jugging spoon. But in the early spring or early fall—or even in the late fall—you'd be fishing a channel edge that would be two feet on the top and dropping to 25 feet in the channel. So here you're fishing a totally different bait because of the depth of the bass."

"Generally when you're fishing channel drop-offs," instructs Cook, "you're fishing something that will come to the edge of the drop-off and jump over the edge of the lip, like a creek bait that stays at six feet deep or a crank bait that runs down to 10 feet. You cast up to the top of the lip and crank it down until it hits the bottom and dig-dig, dig-dig-dig, until it plunges over the side. Then bang! You get a bite."

"You can throw a spinnerbait up into shallow water around stumps or logs and reel it over by the edge of a stump by a drop-off, and that's when it gets hit."

Tackett's Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Tackett, of Drift, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a surprise dinner given by their children at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thornsberry, of Martin, August 29.

They were married in Pike county, August 28, 1937, by the late Elder Gilliam Roberts. Mrs. Tackett is the former Georgina York.

Family members and friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thornsberry, Shannon, Margarita and Marietta, Mrs. Otha Thornsberry, Earl York, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Thornsberry and Chris, Andy Dye and Jack Crum, all of Martin; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tackett, Kimberly and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tackett and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tackett and Ashley, all of Marion, O., Diana Faye Tackett, of Pikeville, James Tackett and Kyle, of Drift, Carolyn T. Belcher and Steven, Phillip Blackburn, Mrs. Martha Music, Jeremy and Jamie, all of Paintsville; Mr. and Mrs. James H. York, of Grayson; Mrs. Emma England and Dickey Tackett, of Price; and James Pratt, of Hindman.

The couple are the parents of seven children and ten grandchildren all of whom attended except one granddaughter, Jeanie B. O'Bryan, of Laurel, Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Tackett express their appreciation to everyone who participated in their golden celebration. They received many beautiful gifts and cards and a card from President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan.

School Boards In Region Hold Annual Meet, Oct. 19

The Eastern Kentucky South Region of the Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA) held a regional meeting in Paintsville, Oct. 19 at the Carriage House Motor Hotel.

Attending from the Floyd county School System were Supt. Ray Brackett, Ray Campbell, Fred Newsome, Dr. Mary Hall, and assistant Supt. Russell M. Frazier.

School board members and superintendents from Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties and Paintsville and Pikeville independent districts were invited to attend.

The focus of the meeting was discussion of the KSBA legislative program for the 1988 General Session and the development of a legislative network of school board members.

Speakers included Dr. Warren Proudfoot, KSBA president and chairman of the Rowan County Board of Education, and David Keller, KSBA executive director. Hosting the meeting was Regaid Smith, member of the Pikeville Board of Education, who serves as regional chairman for the Eastern Kentucky South Region, and John Waddell, superintendent of Pikeville Schools, who serves as secretary for the region.

To Compete on Scholastic Challenge

Mountain Christian Academy academic team members who will compete in the KET Scholastic Challenge when it begins its sixth season, November 1, are, from left, Tricia Rivera, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Francisco Rivera, of Prestonsburg; faculty advisor, Lanita J. Harville; Jenny Caudill, captain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Caudill, of Drift; host Bill Myers; and Slade Stumbo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stumbo, of McDowell. Alternates are Rubi Singayao, Alelei Singayao, and Anne Snyder.

What chemical elements make up hydrogen cyanide? What's a fjord, a fetch, a fault and a floe? Academic teams from 117 high schools answer questions like those on "KET Scholastic Challenge," now in its sixth season on KET. Airing Sundays at 1 p.m., "Scholastic Challenge" is a high-energy, quick-recall game designed to promote interest in education in Kentucky. "The academic competition craze is stronger than ever in Kentucky and this year's version of 'KET Scholastic Challenge' will be right there again showing our viewers teams from large schools, small schools, urban schools and rural schools," said Sally Jackson, producer of the series. "These games will be exciting because Kentucky students are sharper than ever and KET is proud to show them all to Kentucky." Each hour-long program consists of two games, with three high school teams competing per game. Each game has five rounds of questions in the areas of English, history, math and science; one round is devoted entirely to questions about Kentucky. Bill Myers returns for his third year as host of "KET Scholastic Challenge." A veteran of more than 30 years broadcasting experience, Myers is formerly an anchor man and weather forecaster in the Cincinnati area. By May, the 117-team field will narrow to one, and the championship team will receive $500; two runner-up teams will receive $250 each. The money is donated by the Friends of KET and goes to the libraries of the winning schools. Other teams competing in the November 1 broadcast are Lewis County High School, Green County High School, Kentucky Country Day School, Fredrick Fraize High School, and Fulton City High School.

Mother And Daughter Celebrate Birthdays

He has been associated with the project since 1974, serving as personnel and business development manager, general manager/executive director, vice president, and executive vice president.

Jaeger joined the project as senior director of administration in September 1986. He is responsible for the project's personnel, maintenance accounting and purchasing departments.

Kentucky Law... in Plain Language
Financial Exploitation of The Elderly

By DAVID L. ARMSTRONG
Senior Citizens, after many years of hard work, look forward to retirement. Unfortunately, unscrupulous people turn these golden years into troublesome times for many of our senior citizens by taking advantage of them.

All too often, many of our senior citizens fall prey to "pigeon drop" schemes, repair scams, greedy relatives, excessive insurance plans and bogus health remedies. Financial exploitation of the elderly is a common issue throughout Kentucky and is an issue that needs to be dealt with.

The Kentucky General Assembly realized the serious nature of financial exploitation of our senior citizens and the need for laws to protect our elderly from this crime. In recent years, laws have been passed to prevent financial exploitation.

For example, a person who fails a legal obligation to dispose of property or money belonging to an elderly person can be charged with Theft by Failure to make Required Disposition of Property. One who intentionally diverts services for the elderly for his own use, can be charged with Theft of Services. If someone creates or enforces a false impression as to law and cause an elderly person to suffer a monetary loss because of the deception, they can be charged with Theft by Deception.

The Kentucky General Assembly also recognized that some adults are unable to manage their own affairs or protect themselves from exploitation. Therefore, in 1980 a series of laws were passed to establish a system of protective services for all adults unable to protect themselves. Any caretaker who exploits an adult by improperly using government funds designed for the adult's care, can be charged with a felony offense.

A primary objective of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) is to foster affirmative action and the elimination of discrimination from the workplace of federal contractors, and to obtain redress for victims of discrimination. According to the Labor Department's annual report for fiscal 1986, OFCCP completed 5,152 compliance reviews during FY 1986. The contractors reviewed employed a total of 2.9 million employees.

Further, any person who reports such exploitation may be protected from civil/criminal liability if such report is made in good faith.

Kentucky's senior citizens deserve protection from greedy unscrupulous people. Working together with law enforcement, advocate groups and citizens, we can offer senior citizens those golden years that they so deserve.

Food Prices Fall For Third Month

Retail food prices in Kentucky dropped for the third consecutive month in September, according to Kentucky Farm Bureau's marketbasket survey.

September's index for the 40-item marketbasket stood at $63.07, down .6 of 1 percent from the August level and some 3.4 percent below this year's price peak recorded in June.

Beef prices led the decline in the index for the second month in a row, with the five cents surveyed costing about 3 percent less in September. The two-month decline in beef prices since July totals nearly 9 percent.

Also down in the September survey were dairy products, off 1.2 percent, grain-based foods, down a point, and fruits and vegetables, off just .6 of percentage point.

Bucking the downward trend were pork, with prices 1.2 percent above the August tally, and poultry/eggs, up 4 percent.

UPS AND DOWNS

Food prices were down only slightly in September, but a variety of individual marketbasket items tallied substantial price declines.

Among them:

Pot roast fell 26 cents, selling for $1.53
—Bacon, down 17 cents a pound package, averaged $2.13

—Chicken breasts, at $1.45 a pound, were off 16 cents from last month
—American cheese dropped 17 cents, at $2.10 a pound

—Idaho potatoes, in the 10-pound bag, were selling for $2.44, down 34 cents

A similar variety of foods showed noticeable price increases on the latest survey. Pork chops and cut-up fryers both were 13 cents higher, and spare ribs were up a dime. Eggs cost more as well. The large size jumped 8 cents a dozen to 76 cents average.

The price of salads was higher. A head of iceberg lettuce cost $1.02, up 9 cents over August, and tomatoes were 19 cents higher, at 88 cents a pound.

ANALYSIS

The relative movement of pork and beef prices over the past 90 days, says Kentucky Farm Bureau market analyst Jeff Hall, points up some of the contradictions in the food marketing chain.

Since early June peaks, live animal prices for beef cattle have fallen about 3 percent, while hog prices, under the pressure of increasing supplies, are better than 12 percent lower.

At the retail meat counter, however, the figures are almost reversed. Pork cuts in the marketbasket survey have actually increased in price 2 percent since June, while beef steaks, roasts and hamburger are 11 percent lower in price, on average.

Wholesalers and retailers have been actively discounting beef over the past couple of months, according to Hall, attempting to limit the per-pound price gap between popular pork and beef cuts.

"It's their way of keeping both types of meats moving, at the same time that they're maintaining their profit margin overall," Hall said. "Eventually they'll have to get pork prices down, but according to the September figures, they were at least two months slow in passing on lower pork prices to consumers."

LOCAL AVERAGES

Greenup had the lowest local marketbasket average in September and Hazard was at the high end of the scale. Overall, volunteers working through Kentucky Farm Bureau Women canvassed retail food prices in 17 Kentucky communities.

FOCUS ON PORK

The September marketbasket survey results gave both producers and consumers of pork reason to be unhappy.

While hog growers are currently receiving 12 percent less for their animals than they were in early summer, shoppers were actually paying slightly more for their chops, sausage and other items than they were three months ago.

That difference—between raw product cost and retail price—is sometimes called the marketing spread.

USDA says that a hog producer typically receives about 46 percent of the money consumers spend on pork. The agency computes that a pound of pork, averaging all cuts from the lowest to highest price, costs around $1.78 at the meat counter.

Of that price, farmers receive about 82 cents.

The actual price breakdown looks like this:

Farm, 82¢; slaughter/processor, 25¢; intercity transportation, 3.5¢; warehousing and store delivery, 11.7¢; cutting and merchandising, 55.8¢; total—$1.78.

The world's most dangerous bird is the cassowary of Australia and New Guinea. A kick from its powerful hind legs can cripple or even kill a person.

CITY EMPLOYEES...

"Our city employees need a system of job security. Qualified professionals deserve a Plan of Protected Service as a reward for long hours and unselfish commitment to serve and protect.

CAMPAIGN CLOSING STATEMENT

As this campaign now draws to a close I would like to share with you some of my reasons for choosing to become involved in city government. I have always believed in our electoral system. I believe that a candidate should present more than a name and a face to the voters. He should openly present his qualifications as well as his stance on the important issues. I believe that qualified people have a democratic responsibility to offer themselves for public service. I further believe that the government most important to the people is that government which is closest to them.

My campaign has reflected these beliefs. I have advertised my qualifications as well as my ideas about issues which now face our city. My door-to-door visits with you have continued this focus as well as a study of the issues important to city residents.

I am involved because I want to serve you, my community, in that unit of government which is closest to us all, our city council.

Victims' Services Directory Being Distributed in State

A comprehensive collection of victim service programs in Kentucky is being distributed throughout the Commonwealth by the Office of Attorney General's Victims' Advocacy Division, Attorney General Armstrong said today. The directory contains a list, by regions, of 440 agencies who have programs and services specifically for victims of crime.

According to Armstrong this year's edition has nearly eight times the number of listings in the original 1980 edition. "This dramatic increase is partially due to the fact that, for the first time, hospitals and Kentucky Department for Social Services offices have been included as victim service agencies," Armstrong said. "In addition, we continue to observe the creation and expansion of programs designed to assist victims of crime directly."

The statewide directory, which was developed by the Victims' Assistance Network Advisory board, list the name, location, phone number, and service provided by agencies where victims can turn for help. The board was formed by the Attorney General in 1986 to evaluate crime victims' services in the state.

"The criminal justice system has made great strides in assisting victims since the passage of the Victims' Bill of Rights," Armstrong said. "The board's goal is to take this one step further by assisting victims with information about where they can locate the type of service necessary for their particular situation."

For more information concerning the directory, contact the Attorney General's Victims' Advocacy Division, U.S. 127 Building Annex, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, (502) 564-5900.

How To Detect Cancer

Detecting cancer, like any other detective work, requires clues. Sometimes these clues are obvious enough to be picked up by the cancer patient himself. Sometimes they are so subtle that they can be spotted only by certain kinds of medical examinations or tests.

Clues we can spot

Change in bowel or bladder habits
A sore that does not heal
Unusual bleeding or discharge
Thickening or a lump in the breast or elsewhere
Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing
Obvious change in size or color of a wart or mole
Nagging cough or hoarseness
For information on any cancer-related subject call the Cancer Information Service 1-800-4-CANCER.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Dakota Crum Conn wishes to thank the following for their help during our time of great sorrow:

Family, relatives, friends, Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Hindman Nursing Home, Riverview Manor Nursing Home, Highlands Regional Hospital, Pikeville Nursing Home, Pikeville Methodist Hospital, Church of God preachers and singers and the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home.

Forgive us if in any way we seemed unkind. Our appreciation is more than can be expressed.

Thank you,
CONN FAMILY

★ Cancer Hopeline

QUESTION: I am a high school health teacher. I've been hearing and reading a lot lately about chewing tobacco and snuff, and how it may cause cancer. It seems as though many of my students use snuff. Other than teaching them about the dangers of this, are there any particular symptoms I can teach them to be aware of?

ANSWER: The symptoms of oral (mouth) cancer may include a lump or thickening, a sore that doesn't heal, or the presence of white patches (leukoplakia) in the mouth. These signs may occur inside the mouth, on the lips, cheek or tongue, and sometimes on the face or neck. These symptoms can be easily detected during an oral exam by the dentist, doctor, or by the person himself. A complete oral exam includes several steps.

FACE: Look for any changes in the color of your skin, as well as any lumps or sores. Press lightly against the outside of the cheeks for lumps or any areas of tenderness. If glasses are worn it is important to examine the areas where they may rub or cause irritation.

NECK: Use finger tips to feel for any lumps or areas of tenderness.

ROOF OF MOUTH: With the mouth open wide, check the roof for any lumps, sores, areas of discoloration or white patches.

TONGUE: Check the top of the tongue, the underside of the tongue, and the sides of the tongue for any of the symptoms mentioned above.

INNER CHEEKS: Check for lumps, sores, white patches and other discolored areas.

LIPS: Both lips should be examined on the outside and inside. Look for any of the signs mentioned. Feel for any lumps.

Regular exams can help detect cancers of the mouth early, while the chances for cure are best. Since snuff and chewing tobacco play a role in the development of these cancer, mouth self-exam is particularly important for people who use these substances. Regular exams by a dentist or doctor, as well as good oral hygiene are also very important.

Burley Auctions To Open Nov. 23 For 15 Sale Days

The Burley Auction Warehouse Association announces that 1987 sales of burley tobacco will begin across the eight-state burley belt November 23, according to Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner, David E. Boswell. Auctions will carry on for three days up through Wednesday, Nov. 25, where upon a Thanksgiving break will be observed until Monday, Nov. 30.

Sales will be held on Monday-through-Thursday, four-day-week basis through Thursday, December 17. The Christmas holiday break will then be observed with post-holiday sales beginning Monday, January 4.

Commissioner Boswell says auctions will then be held at the four-day week pace throughout Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia, Indiana, Ohio, and Missouri until the burley on hand is sold. Last year, Kentucky burley was sold in 204 auction warehouses in the Commonwealth's 29 markets.

The Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner says warehouse operators are looking for producers to bring about 325 million pounds of burley to Kentucky markets this year. Last year, only 287 million pounds was sold, the lowest amount since 1943, and a decline of 27 percent from 1985.

"We expect this year's crop to be generally good quality burley and are optimistic that the prices will exceed the $156.80 per hundred-weight Kentucky farmers received last year," Commissioner Boswell said. He noted last year's crop was valued at $450 million, the lowest since 1973.

Meantime, the USDA has established a repeat of last year's $148.80 support price for the 1987-88 sales.

Huge Draft Horses To Show Again

When the 14th Annual North American International Livestock Exposition (NAILE) comes to the Kentucky Fair & Exposition Center (KFEC) November 7-20, the giants of the equine world, draft horses, will once again be showcased.

Shown by classes, Belgian and Percheron draft horses weighing as much as 2,000 pounds are always a favorite of the crowds which gather to watch them parade at the NAILE. Both halter and hitch competitions are featured during the Draft Horse Show. Hitch events include Mens and Ladies Carts, Farm Team, Two-, Four- and Six-Horse Hitches and Junior Driving Team Events.

Harold Workman, Executive Director of the NAILE, said the Draft Horse Show is indeed popular. "The Draft Horse Show is staged on a weekend," he said, "to give more people an opportunity to see these magnificent horses in action. Many people who enjoy the show wouldn't have a chance if it was held during the week. Now they can come to the Fairgrounds and really enjoy the Draft Horse Show." The Draft Horse Show, included with regular NAILE admission, will be held Saturday, November 14 at 8:00 a.m. in the Fairgrounds East Hall; and the Hitch classes Sunday, November 15, at 4:00 p.m. in the Coliseum.

The NAILE is the largest, all-breed, purebred livestock show in the world. Six major divisions of livestock are showcased at the KFEC for two weeks every November, including: beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, swine, quarter horses and draft horses. The NAILE, sponsored by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, is expected to attract more than 14,500 livestock entries from nearly every state in the U.S. and from Canada, this year.

Junior Youth Assembly Slated October 29-31

On October 29, approximately 700 students in grades 6-9 and sponsors will attend the 28th Junior Kentucky Youth Assembly at the Ramada Inn in Louisville and at the Capitol in Frankfort. Registration is at 2 p.m., Thursday.

Delegates from across the state will debate self-authored pieces of legislation, have an opportunity to run for elected office, argue Supreme Court cases, and represent their schools in various other government-related capacities.

Students will serve as lobbyists, press, and cabinet members, while others seek the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House, Secretary of State, and Attorney General.

On October 30, delegates will arrive at the Capitol at 8:45 a.m. to debate bills favored by committees in House and Senate sessions. Model Supreme Court will begin at the same time in the Capitol annex.

One highlight of this year's Junior KYA will be a Joint Resolution sponsored by Thomas Jefferson Middle School, in commemoration of the two hundredth year of the constitution of the United States. The resolution directs the posting of the Bill of Rights in the classroom of all public schools.

Following Frankfort's activities, students will return to the Ramada Inn in Louisville where the Governor's Banquet will be held at 6 p.m. in Belle Hall.

The conference will conclude Saturday morning, October 31, with the announcement of next year's conference officers.

Clark and Prestonsburg Elementaries will be represented at the assembly.

PALLBEARERS LISTED

Active pallbearers for the funeral of Sally Goebel were John Gordon Goble, Jimmy Thomas, Henry Lewis Mayo, Darrel Leslie, Bennett Leslie, John Paul Leslie, Harry Burke and Tommy Hale.

Honorary pallbearers were J.Y. "Sonny" Goble, J.B. Herald, Mike Harris, Bradis Goble and James B. Goble.

Running Club To Rev Up Here November 2 at PCC

An organizational meeting for a Running Club for area runners and would-be runners is set for Monday, Nov. 2, at 6 p.m. in Room 148 of the Johnson Building at Prestonsburg Community College.

The club, sponsored by PCC's Office of Continuing Education and Community Service, is open to all area residents who are interested in the physical exercise of running.

Hassan Saffari, a PCC faculty member with six years of running experience, will lead the organizational meeting. The purpose of the club, said Saffari, is to provide fellowship for runners and to share tips on safe and healthful running.

For information, call 886-3863, ext. 215.

Grote Will Be Inaugurated
As MSU President, Friday

Three governors of the Commonwealth of Kentucky will take part in the inauguration of Dr. C. Nelson Grote as Morehead State University's 11th president, Friday, October 30.

The inauguration ceremony will commence at 2 p.m. in Button Auditorium with a reception to follow at the president's home.

Gov. Martha Layne Collins, bringing greetings to the president from the citizens of the Commonwealth, will lead the official delegation of representatives from other institutions, learned societies, federal and state government and student organizations.

Former Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, who chaired the presidential search committee, will bring greetings to the president from that body. Breathitt also is vice chairman of MSU's Board of Regents.

Former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, the board chairman, will present Dr. Grote with the presidential medallion, symbolic of his authority as MSU's chief executive officer. Assisting with the investiture will be Leona Schafer, of Pana, Ill., Dr. Grote's first through third grade teacher.

The featured speaker will be Dr. Glenn Terrell, Washington State University president emeritus and a close friend and associate of Dr. Grote during his six years as chief executive officer for the Community Colleges of Spokane, Wash.

Dr. Terrell, who earned his doctorate at the University of Iowa, is a native of Florida and began his academic career on the psychology faculty at Florida

State University. He later moved to the University of Colorado, where he headed the Department of Psychology. In 1963, he was named dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle campus, where he also served as dean of faculties. In 1967 Dr. Terrell became president of WSU, Washington's land grant university, and retired from there in 1985.

Other participants in the ceremony will be Dr. Stephen Taylor, acting vice president for academic affairs, who will welcome the guests; Dr. John R. Duncan, professor of education and former faculty regent, who will preside; Dr. Adron Doran, president emeritus, who will deliver the inaugural prayer, and Dr. Roy Roberson, former minister of the Morehead First Christian Church, who will give the benediction.

Other inaugural activities will include a private luncheon for the official delegates at 11:45 a.m. and the inaugural dinner at 7 p.m. in the University Center. The ceremony, reception and dinner will be open to the public. Dinner tickets will be available if purchased or reserved in advance. Tickets may also be purchased after noon, Oct. 29, or at the door.

Reservations may be made by calling (606) 783-2097 or 783-2688. Tickets may be purchased on campus at the cashier's windows in the Howell-McDowell Administration Building and the University Center information desk.

Dr. Grote, who assumed the MSU presidency, July 1, began his career in higher education administration here in 1960 as an associate professor and chair of the then-Division of Applied Arts. A member of the graduate faculty, he later attained full professor rank and became dean of the College of Applied Sciences and Technology.

The 59 year-old Illinois native left the University in 1971 to become president of Schoolcraft College, Livonia, Mich. In 1981 he became head of the Community Colleges of Spokane.

Furnace Repairs:

Beware of Phony Furnace Inspectors

By Attorney General
DAVID L. ARMSTRONG

With cold weather approaching, it is a good time to have your furnace inspected, cleaned and repaired if necessary. It is also a good time for phony furnace inspectors to approach Kentucky's consumers. No Kentuckian is free from the possibility of being approached by these phony inspectors, but there are preventive methods consumers can follow to prevent being a victim of this type of fraud.

Be cautious of anyone who offers you a free inspection of your furnace, particularly when door-to-door selling techniques are used. Before letting anyone take your furnace apart for an inspection or cleaning be sure that he is qualified to do so and that the charge for the inspection includes reassembling the furnace.

Never take an inspector's word that he is qualified. Investigate every home improvement firm that you deal with. It is a good idea to investigate inspectors in advance. In an emergency, such as an explosion, there is no time to investigate. Checking ahead of time can prevent the possibility that an inspector might use scare tactics to get a contract signed too quickly. Both the Consumer Protection Division and the Better Business Bureau keep reputation reports on fraudulent firms.

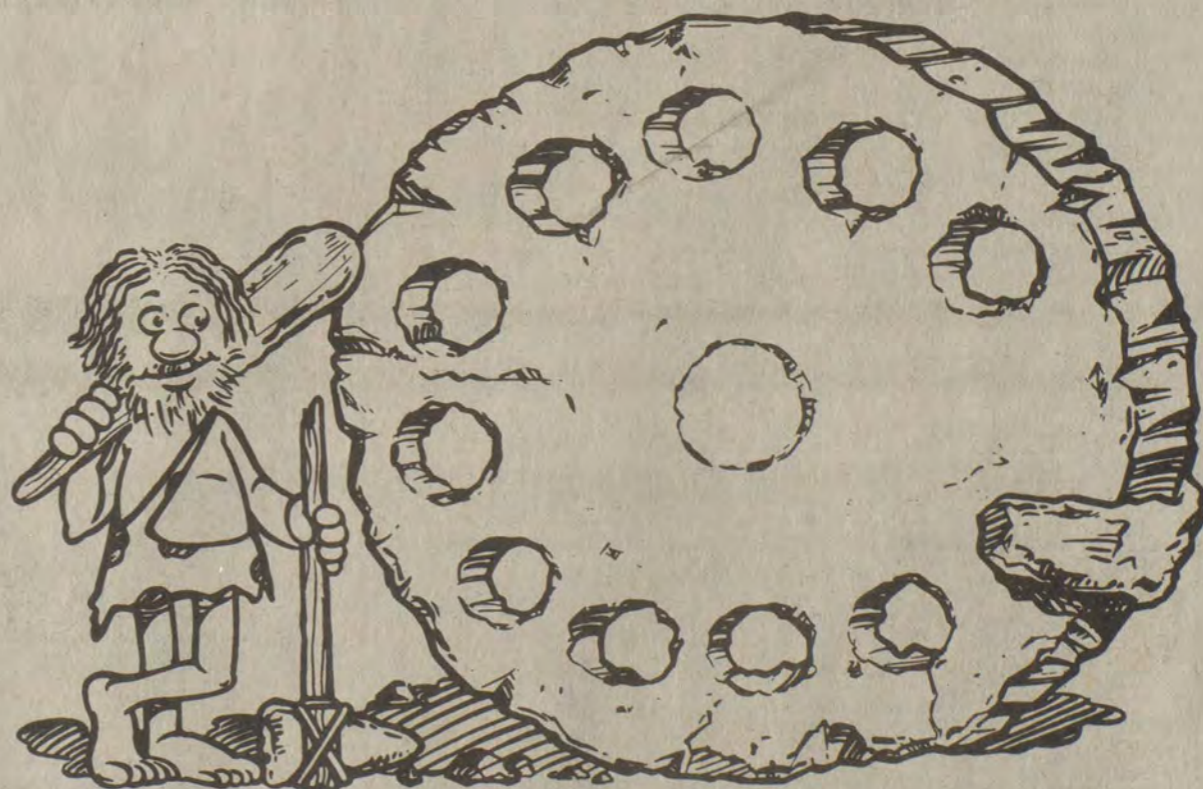

During the inspection, watch carefully. Some inspectors may try to switch parts of the furnace being inspected with broken parts. If the inspector recommends a new furnace, get a second opinion and obtain written estimates or competitive bids on replacements or major repair work. Always get a guarantee or warranty in writing.

There are many reputable firms, but as with many home improvement services, there are fraudulent firms. Consumers, who are cautious of free offers and take the time to investigate the firms reputation, should be free of becoming a victim of this fraudulent scheme.

For further information or for filing a complaint please contact my Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601 or call the toll-free Consumer Hotline 1-800-432-9257.

Kentucky employers who owe taxes to the Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund may have their state income tax refunds intercepted. In one and one-half years, more than $200,000 in delinquent taxes has been collected by this method.

Mountain Spirit Award Winners Are Announced

Grady Stumbo, of Hindman; Loyal Jones, of Berea College; Carol Stumbo, of McDowell; David Lollis, of Lexington, and Arnold Turner, Jr., of Allen, are winners of the first Mountain Spirit Awards, the Christian Appalachian Project has announced.

The Mountain Spirit Awards were created by the Christian Appalachian Project to recognize individuals who have made significant contributions to the betterment of Appalachia and its people in the areas of economic advancement, education, health care, spirituality, and promotion of understanding of Appalachia and its people.

The recipients will be presented original ceramic works of art during ceremonies at Boone Tavern in Berea, October 30 at 7 p.m. The ceremonies will also mark the 30th anniversary of the Christian Appalachian Project's beginnings.

Dr. W. Grady Stumbo is being recognized for his achievements in improving the delivery of health care to the people of rural Appalachia. His East Kentucky Health Services Center provides medical services to 35,000 people a year, and as a family doctor, he delivers medical care in the home, the hospital, and the nursing home.

Stumbo served as secretary for the Kentucky Cabinet for Human Resources, 1979-1982, and was a gubernatorial candidate in 1983 and 1987.

Loyal Jones is being recognized for his teaching, scholarship, and organizational work which are committed to enlightening others about mountain people and helping native mountaineers "feel a greater sense of pride and respect for their own heritage," said Ronald Eller, director of the University of Kentucky's Appalachian Center.

Jones is director of Berea College's Appalachian Center. As director, he annually organizes and produces the Traditional Music Festival and the Festival of Appalachian Humor. He recently edited a book on Laughter in Appalachia, and he has written widely on mountain culture and religion. He also helped organize some of the first formal classes in Appalachia.

Carol Stumbo is being recognized in the area of education for her commitment to and innovation in teaching English. Her work has been directed toward improving the quality of her students' education, relations between school and community, and her own understanding of the region.

She is a teacher at Wheelwright High School where she directs the writing, editing, and publication of "Mantrip," a magazine produced by the students of Wheelwright High School. Articles are based mostly on oral histories collected from members of the Wheelwright community. Work on the magazine has helped students on their language skills, produce a history of Wheelwright, strengthen intergenerational bonds, and enhance student and community pride.

David Lollis is being recognized in the area of economic advancement for making a non-profit Appalachian agency a national model in facilitating construction of low income housing.

He is the executive director of the Federation of Appalachian Housing Enterprises (FAHE) in Berea, Kentucky, which provides affordable warm, dry houses for low-income families. FAHE stresses home ownership and repair.

Arnold Turner, Jr., is receiving the award for spiritual enrichment. As a Christian layman, he actively addresses a pressing social issue of abortion and teenage pregnancy and devotes himself wholeheartedly to the task of evangelization.

An attorney in Prestonsburg, Turner was a popular Floyd county politician. He discontinued his political ambitions when he became a Christian five years ago and has directed his time since toward bringing together Christians from various religious persuasions and putting his faith into practice by funding Alternatives, Inc.

Alternatives is a crisis pregnancy center that helps women find ways to handle unwanted pregnancies other than abortion. It provides education and prenatal and post-natal counseling. Some adoptions have been arranged, and many women have been enabled to keep their babies through this service.

October 1987 marks the 30th year after Reverend Ralph Beiting first acquired land on Lake Herrington in Garrard county for the purpose of conducting summer camps. The camp was incorporated as Cliffview Lodge.

The first camp, built by volunteers, was held in 1958. As the camps grew, children from Garrard, Madison, Rockcastle, and Jackson counties attended.

Six years later the Christian Appalachian Project was incorporated. Thirty years later it has over 60 programs which affect the lives of people in 40 counties of eastern Kentucky.

The tiny Philippine bamboo bat roosts in the hollow joints of bamboo stems. According to National Wildlife magazine, its flat head helps it gain access and, once inside, suction pads on thumbs and feet enable it to hold on.

ABSOLUTE AUCTION 285 ACRES SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31—2:00 P.M.

We have been instructed to sell on the above date and time this large boundary of land located on the right hand fork of Cane Creek and taking in a large portion of Hedger hollow, being approximately 200 acres in Powell County and 85 acres in Menifee County. So far as is known, all mineral rights are intact and will be conveyed. A coal reserve estimate dated July 3, 1980 projects a seam of coal running from 17" to 24". This large tract of land located on the right hand fork of Cane Creek Road is in one of Powell County's better neighborhoods and has excellent accessibility, being about 15 minutes drive from Stanton, Kentucky and Exit 22 of the Mt. Parkway. There is a lot of this land that could be cleared and put into some cultivation and could be developed into woodland home sites. Seldom does the public get a chance to buy a boundary of land of this size with the accessibility that is offered here, being approximately one-hour drive from Metro Lexington via I-64 and the Mt. Parkway, East Hwy. #15 from Stanton to Roslyn, then left over the Mt. Parkway, turn right on Cane Creek Road. We invite your inspection. Look it over and be at the auction. Developers, look this over!

For further information call the selling agent.

TERMS: $10,000.00 deposit, balance on passing of Deed. Complete terms announced at auction time.

PHS Homecoming Court Members

One of the six members of this year's Prestonsburg High School Homecoming court will be crowned at Friday night's football game with M. C. Napier, here. Members of the court are, from left in top row, Meredith L. Click, daughter of William B. and Deborah Click; Traci E. Hayes, daughter of Pete and Teresa Hayes; Angela L. Leslie, daughter of Jerry and DeAnna Leslie. In lower row, from left, are Lara Lea Leslie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ron Leslie; Tania Shepherd, daughter of Calvin and Dora Shepherd, and Carolyn M. Short, daughter of Larry and Judy Short.

Festivities will include presentation of the court to the Prestonsburg High School student body during a pep rally, Thursday afternoon, which will be followed by a parade through town at 4 p.m.

Bill Moyers Explores Iran-Contra Hearings

How far has the executive branch of our government gone beyond the boundaries of Constitutional checks and balances? In a 90-minute documentary essay, veteran journalist Bill Moyers explores the revelations in the Iran-Contra hearings concerning covert actions and secrecy in government—both justified by those involved in the name of national security.

"Moyers: The Secret Government...The Constitution In Crisis" airs Wednesday, November 4 at 9 p.m. on KET.

Looking for the roots of the current controversy, Moyers finds that many Americans have charted a growing tendency over the past 40 years for the Executive Branch to operate beyond the boundaries of Constitutional checks and balances.

Moyers asks if this makes the Rule of Law a permanent casualty of the Cold War, adding: "The hearings have prompted many tough questions that test the relevance of the Constitution today."

"Moyers: The Secret Government...The Constitution In Crisis" is produced by Alvin H. Perlmutter, Inc., Public Affairs Television, Inc., and WNET/New York.

Campbellville College To Hold Fall Preview

Campbellville College will hold Fall Preview Day '87, Saturday, Nov. 7. Fall Preview Day is for prospective students to visit the college and allows them to get acquainted with the faculty, staff and students.

Activities will begin in the auditorium of the newly renovated Alumni Building at 9:30 a.m. Tours of the campus and an opportunity to discuss options with members of the faculty will be given from 10 to 11:30 a.m. There will also be seminars for parents during this time on student life, financial aid and success for freshmen.

From 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., there will be a luncheon in the College Dining Hall for parents and prospective students. The various organizations on campus will have booths set up during this time to present the different activities available. The luncheon is free.

After the luncheon, those who wish may attend the football game at 1:30 p.m. Free tickets will be given to those who attend Fall Preview Day '87. Campbellville College will be playing Kentucky Wesleyan College at the Campbellville High School football field.

Philip Hanna, director of admissions at Campbellville College, said, "For a young person coming to Campbellville College, this is the day to be on campus. The college is the day to open up opportunities we have here. They are most welcome."

Free accommodations will be provided on campus. For reservations or more information contact the admissions office at (502) 465-8158, ext. 218, 219 or 220. Collect calls will be accepted.

October 31st requires combined responsibility on the part of motorists and pedestrians alike. Parents should encourage their ghosts and goblins to follow safe walking behaviors and send them out on their trip through the neighborhood with a flashlight and costumes embellished with retroreflective tape. Motorists should follow safe driving practices, limiting driving speed to no more than 15 miles per hour in residential neighborhoods between 5 and 9 p.m. Be extra careful pulling into or backing out of driveways or when making a right turn on red. Remember that a youngster's Halloween thoughts are on having fun, not on pedestrian safety, cautions Blue Grass AAA. Help make October 31st an enjoyable and safe holiday for everyone.

ARIES Week of Nov. 1-7, 1987
 (March 21-April 20)
 Much of what occurs at the start of the week takes place behind the scenes. The outcome is a strong interest in money matters.

TAURUS
 (April 21-May 20)
 Remain poised and alert to several late-breaking developments, especially as they affect you personally.

GEMINI
 (May 21-June 20)
 There are those who do not have your best interests at heart. Ferret them out during this challenging week, particularly at work.

CANCER
 (June 21-July 22)
 Friends and close associates pull you in different directions. You may feel obligated. However, it's vital that you take care of your needs first.

LEO
 (July 23-Aug. 22)
 Measure out assignments - this includes the ones that you give to yourself. Money and special schemes are an integral part of this week.

VIRGO
 (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 See to it that you keep up to date regarding details, as well as other related material.

LIBRA
 (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
 The object is to get your way, and no one understands this better than you do. Money is woven through these efforts.

SCORPIO
 (Oct. 23-Nov. 22)
 Stay in touch with those who are important to you — personally and professionally.

SAGITTARIUS
 (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
 Being of service to someone else could invade your existence at this time. For that reason, you must make your motives understood.

CAPRICORN
 (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
 The end result is what you're most concerned about during this exciting week. Love and security are at the core of the activity.

AQUARIUS
 (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
 Take care that you do not allow your temper to get in the way of your logic. It could affect home-related conditions now.

PISCES
 (Feb. 19-March 20)
 The center of the stage is available and saying the right words could get you what you want. Consider all the possibilities.

Workers Are Sought For Kenya Mission

Carlos Anderson, assistant professor of social work at Campbellsville College, is seeking a group of people to do mission work in Mombasa, Kenya in May 1988.

Anderson said he encourages pastors, lay persons, song leaders—anyone interested in witnessing—to go on the guided tour May 4-15, 1988. Doctors, dentists and nurses are asked to work in clinics.

Anderson said those going will be witnessing in the area of evangelism in a region-wide effort. There will be opportunities for witnessing in the neighborhoods, street meetings, revival services, preaching and singing in the churches.

There will also be a Game Park Safari during the Partnership Evangelism Crusade, plus extension to other cities can be arranged.

The Mombasa Crusade is an approved program of the Partnership Evangelism division of the Southern Baptist Convention Mission Board. Dr. Wayne Dehoney is the crusade organizer and Jerolyn Morrison is the coordinator. Arrangements are by Bibleland/Heritage Travel.

Anderson said the cost of the 12-day crusade tour includes the air fare, the two-day game safari, all lodging in Kenya and all meals while in Kenya except one dinner on your own. There are some other miscellaneous fees.

Mombasa, the famous Fort Jesus of the Portuguese, was the "jumping off" place to the interior of Africa during the Colonial era. More than 35 new churches and meeting places have been started in Mombasa in the last 18 months. The Foreign Mission Board of the SBC, the SBC Mission of Mombasa and the Kenyan Baptist Churches are inviting 50 preachers along with mission support teams for the crusade.

For more information about the tour, contact Anderson at (502) 465-8158, extension 279 at Campbellsville College or at home at (502) 465-2745.

Campbellsville College, affiliated with the Kentucky Baptist Convention, offers 25 academic majors and 26 minor programs. The College is a private, four-year liberal arts college located in central Kentucky.

Historic Ky. Photos To Be Shown, Nov. 6

"Old Images—New Exposures," an exhibit featuring photographs selected from the collections of the Kentucky Historical Society, opens Friday, November 6, at the Old Capitol Galleries in Frankfort.

Modern prints produced from vintage negatives form the basis for the show, which is produced jointly by the society's Kentucky History Museum and the KHS Library. According to KHS photo archivist Mary Winter, "Our library's photographic holdings are gaining recognition as an important resource in the research and publishing communities. This exhibit will extend to the general public a rare opportunity to reexamine Kentucky life during the first half of this century."

Much of the display will highlight prints made from the Wolff, Gretter, Cusick, and Hill collection of studio negatives. Approximately 30,000 negatives survive from this studio, which operated in Frankfort from 1897 to 1958. These negatives, along with thousands of images comprising 35 photographic collections, are preserved in the library as historic documents which enrich understanding of the past. Winter, along with museum curator Catherine Zwyer and staff photographer Nathan Prichard, have perused each of these collections in preparation for this exhibition. Over 100 images documenting Kentucky history have been chosen for display. Although the photographs in the show would not generally be considered "fine art prints," many should provide esthetic appeal as well as historical insight.

Prints made from the studio negatives, emphasizing the first three decades of this century, dominate the show, yet a variety of photographic processes and formats are represented. Haunting daguerreotypes dating from the 1840s, Civil War portraits, and Victorian family albums share the spotlight. Focus on images from across the commonwealth is provided. In addition to charming studio portraits, visitors will see glimpses of agricultural, distilling (legal and otherwise), education, health services, business and advertising, the home-front war effort, labor, recreation, and home life in early 20th century Kentucky. Information concerning preservation of vintage images, including do-it-yourself pitfalls, is also provided.

The exhibit opening on November 6 coincides with the annual meeting of the Kentucky Historical Society. Winter will provide opening comments at 2 p.m. followed by a reception in the gallery. The exhibit will remain open through January 1988. Hours are from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and 1 p.m.-5 p.m., Sunday. The Old Capitol Galleries are located in the Old Capitol on the public square in Frankfort at Broadway and Lewis Streets.

The most long-lived animal is the giant tortoise of the Galapagos Islands. Specimens have been estimated to be as old as 190 years.

PAUL E. JOSEPH
 FOR
PRESTONSBURG CITY COUNCIL
 TO THE CITIZENS OF PRESTONSBURG:

I would like to take time to discuss a few things I have done for the city of Prestonsburg when I was an elected City Council member 1974 through 1975.

REMEMBER:

- When the mini-park was opened in Goble Roberts, Paul Joseph was there.
- When the property of the Fire Department was purchased, Paul Joseph was there.
- When the street sweeper was purchased for the city, Paul Joseph was there.
- When the first sidewalks were poured in West Prestonsburg, Paul Joseph was there.
- When the Senior Citizens cried out for help when they needed hand rails to get up and down the steps, Paul Joseph was there.
- When the alley behind Music-Carter-Hughes was closed and then reopened for a new exit for the city of Prestonsburg, Paul Joseph was there.
- When the fire department salaries were increased, Paul Joseph was there.

When elected on Nov. 3rd, 1987, I will be there for you, the people, and the city of Prestonsburg. Thank you for your support. #7 on ballot.

IN THIS WEEK

The word on 'Buntz': These guys are ugly

By Paul Elie

Take one look at Norman Buntz and Sid ("The Snitch" Thurston of "Beverly Hills Buntz," and you can't help but think: These guys are ugly.

Dennis Franz

The "Hill Street Blues" spinoff, which premieres Thursday, Nov. 5 on NBC, moves the sleazeball Buntz (Dennis Franz) from Hill Street to Rodeo Drive, where he hopes to run his own detective agency. Sid (Peter Jurasik), a sometime informant and would-be entrepreneur, tags along.

But while the locale has been changed, the looks remain the same: polyester slacks, screaming doubleknit blazers and, for Sid, enough Vitalis to grease the entire cast of "Crime Story."

"That's the character—a bunch of odd pieces that don't exactly fit," Franz says. "Even the name. Norman Buntz! When I heard it, I thought, 'Ugh!'"

Franz, 43, first played Buntz on "Hill Street" two seasons ago. The clothes were an afterthought, a way for producers Jeffrey Lewis and David Milch to distinguish Buntz from "Bad Sal" Benedetto, a character played by Franz earlier in the series. "Benedetto was into leathers," Franz remembers.

The clothes also reflect the bond between Buntz and Sid. On "Hill Street," Buntz was the lowlife of the force—but Sid regarded him as a figure of authority. Now, both of them are down and out in Beverly Hills.

"Buntz has always been the responsible character, really," Franz says. "He's been exasperated with Sid's carryings-on, but he's just turned his back on it. But he's not carrying the badge anymore."

Unlike "Hill Street," which seemed to relish its reputation as the most earnest show on television, "Buntz" will mix drama and comedy. "We get drama from Buntz's work with private investigations, and then balance that with Sid's shenanigans," Franz says.

The "designated hitter" format may cripple the show at first. But it has its advantages. Airing on Thursdays, "Buntz" will be watched by TV's largest audience. And airing once a month, the series can be fine-tuned before it finds a regular spot on the NBC schedule.

After the pilot was completed in August, for example, Lewis and Milch decided to film it over again, eliminating one role and recasting another.

"Our reaction to the original pilot was, 'We like it, but it's not a home run,'" Franz says. "Now I think we've hit a home run."

HAB REVIEW

Comic Joy Behar draws on her Brooklyn roots

By Denise Gorga

Comedian Joy Behar grew up in the 1950s in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, where statues of Madonnas and pink flamingos flank each other on front lawns, neighbors scream across alleyways in Italian and Yiddish and children play Johnny on the Pony on the rough concrete.

Joy Behar

Back then she was Josephine Occhiuto. "Where would I be going with that?" she says of her maiden name. "O-c-c-h-i-u-t-o. I'd spend all my time spelling it for people." Time is one commodity Behar has little of these days. Four years after she was fired from her secretarial job at "Good Morning America" for incessant joke-mongering, she is a fixture at New York stand-up clubs. And since September, she has hosted Lifetime's "Way Off Broadway." The one-hour, six-nights-a-week program walks the line between variety and talk, -although it has such talk-show staples as a band and a nondescript couch. Its format is, to use Behar's word, "evolving." "It's an awesome responsibility," she says of her hosting duties. "Wait - I shouldn't say awesome. Awesome is when the Virgin Mary appears on your terrace. It's ... complicated. That's better. Complicated."

For Behar, being a woman only compounds the problem.

"Traditionally, men think that women are less funny than men are," she explains between drags on a cigarette. "I think it's difficult to be a woman in this society in any capacity - especially when you're in a position of power. And when you think about it, there's nothing more powerful than standing up alone with a microphone."

While she may have left Brooklyn behind, she draws on her ethnic background and a sprawling cartel of marinara-making relatives for new material. "I'm only one generation from banging laundry on rocks in Calabria," she jokes.

Her roots have also played a more direct role in her success. Ever since Behar uttered her first pasta fagioli, the Occhiuto family cultivated her natural comic talent.

"They paid so much attention to me, they actually gave birthday parties for my dolls," she laughs. "I was a little queen. I was programmed for this."

ASK TONI

How long ago did Cloris Leachman play Phyllis?

By Toni Reinhold

How old is Cloris Leachman? It seems to me that not too long ago she was appearing on "The Mary Tyler Moore Show." But my husband says that it was many years ago. - S.A., Asheville, N.C.

Cloris Leachman

Born on April 4, 1926 in Des Moines, Iowa, Leachman is 61. It was 17 years ago that she created the role of landlady Phyllis Lindstrom on "The Mary Tyler Moore Show." The series aired from 1970 to 1977, but Leachman left after the 1974-75 season to star in the spinoff "Phyllis," which aired from September 1975 to August 1977. Also a film star, she won a Best Supporting Actress Oscar in 1971 for her performance in "The Last Picture Show." She now plays Beverly Ann on the NBC sitcom "The Facts of Life."

We're having an argument. I say that Gilda Radner and Gene Wilder are married, but my mother says they aren't. Who's right? - L.L., Grand Rapids, Mich.
 Wilder and Radner, who co-starred in the feature film "Haunted Honeymoon" (1986), were married on Sept. 18, 1984, in the French village of St. Paul de Vence.

Who played Chevy Chase's wife in the movie "National Lampoon's Vacation"? - T.M., McLeansville, N.C.

This 1983 film featured Beverly D'Angelo as all-too-American mom Ellen Griswold.

Where can I write to get a photo of the actress who plays Patti on "My Sister Sam"? - R.N., Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, Canada

Write to Rebecca Schaeffer in care of "My Sister Sam," Warner Brothers Television, 4000 Warner Blvd., Burbank, CA 91595.

What is the title of the motion picture that starred James Caan as a ghost and Sally Field as his widow? - W.A., Ridley Park, Pa.

Caan and Field co-starred in "Kiss Me Goodbye" (1982), a remake of the Brazilian film "Dona Flor and Her Two Husbands." Jeff Bridges and Paul Dooley also starred.

Who first played the role of Noele Keaton on "All My Children"? - S.L.T., Lynchburg, Va.

The character of Noele was created by Rosalind Ingledew.

Marie Cheatham models 'GH' role on her mother

By Marie Michaels

Marie Cheatham, who plays Lucy Coe's (Lynn Herring) wacky Aunt Charlene on "General Hospital," says the character is based on a real-life relative: her mother.

Marie Cheatham

The role came about as the result of a conversation between Cheatham and "GH" head writer Anne Marcus. "I was bemoaning my childhood and talking about my mother," she remembers. Her recollections so impressed Marcus that she was asked to join "GH" last October.

"Charlene is patterned after the women of my mother's era," she explains. "They were very colorful."

Her mother isn't a typical role model, though. A pilot of Cherokee, Choc-taw and Creek Indian descent, she flew rescue missions during World War II. She was killed while on a mission to Mexico.

"Mom was married 7 times before I was 12," Cheatham says. "She was adamant about having an education, so she educated herself and saw to it that I was educated."

A native of Oklahoma City, Okla., Cheatham grew up in Oklahoma and Texas. She began to study acting when she was in high school, and continued her studies at Baylor University in Texas.

After graduating in 1965, she moved to Los Angeles, where she made her soap-opera debut as Marie Horton on "Days of Our Lives." She stayed with "Days" until 1973, when she moved east to New York City to create the role of Stephanie Wyatt on "Search for Tomorrow." Though she initially signed a one-year contract, she remained with "Search" for 11 seasons before moving back to California in 1984.

Since then she has appeared in the feature film "Soul Man" (1986) and the upcoming "Beetle Juice." "I'm beginning to establish myself out here as a comedian," she says.

Does she expect to play Charlene for several seasons?

"Soap characters modulate - they change like people do in real life," Cheatham says. "I hope that Charlene is popular, because she's full of life, a wonderful character to play."

"I'm grateful that Anne had the good grace to call me in," she adds. "I can't remember a time in my life when I've been this happy with what I'm doing."

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the September 8, 1987 term in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 5th day of November, 1987, at 10:00 a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash on the day of sale, or ten percent (10%) of the purchase price with a bond bearing interest at the legal rate with sufficient surety, and to be paid within ten (10) days of the date of sale, the following described property, to-wit:

That certain tract of land conveyed the Floyd County Board of Education by A. F. Prater on April 1, 1913, as recorded in Deed Book 36, page 428 on April 1, 1913, containing the following provision: "It is understood that the above described parcel of land is conveyed for school purposes and when it is no longer used as such same reverts to party of first part." That condition has now been fulfilled and the property has reverted to the heirs of A. F. Prater, deceased intestate, the present defendants.

The property, so reverted, is described more particularly as follows:

"Being a certain tract or parcel of land lying in Floyd County, Kentucky, on Middle Creek containing 1/2 acre, more or less, and bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at the mouth of Pitts Fork of Middle Creek and running up same to corner of fence at back of school house and with fence around school house land a straight line to Middle Creek, thence up same to beginning."

This property is sold, subject to any lien or claim of Floyd County, Kentucky for property taxes for the current year and is further subject to any and all public easements of record or which may be located on the grounds and to any restrictions of record.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall include the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms. Given under my hand, this 16 day of October, 1987.

MARSHALL DAVIDSON, Master Commissioner 10-21-3t.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 436-8006

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Island Creek Coal Company, (P.O. Box 840, US 119, Holden, West Virginia 25625) has filed an amendment to an application for a permit for an existing preparation plant coal processing facility. The current operation affects a surface disturbance of 38.02 acres located 1.4 miles east of Printer in Floyd county. The proposed amendment involves adding 9.0 acres of resulting in a total permit area of 47.02 acres.

The proposed operation is approximately 1.4 miles southeast of State Route 122 junction with Route 2030 and located 0.04 miles northeast of Spurlock Creek. Latitude 37° 31' 25" and longitude 82° 43' 30". The proposed operation is located on the Harold USGS 7.5 minute quadrangle map.

The surface of the area is owned by Elk Horn Coal Corporation and the Keathley Heirs. A brief description of the amendment involves raising the height of the embankment and the pool elevation of the impoundment. The area will affect an area within 100 feet of public road Route 2030. The operation will not involve relocation of the public road.

The application has been filed at the Bureau of Surface Mining and Reclamation and Enforcement for public inspection at the Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653-1397.

Written comments, objections, and/or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, Bureau of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, #2 Hudson Hollow, US 127 South, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, within 30 days of the final weekly advertisement. The written comments, objections, or requests for a conference must reference the above permit application number. * 10-7-3t.

This is the final advertisement of this application; all comments, objections and/or requests for a permit conference must be received within thirty (30) days of today's date. 1t.

THE FAMILY 1t.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory Of Jim Lee Smith, Oct. 23, 1986.

Dear Daddy,
You are sadly missed. You suffered so much. But daddy I know you are not in pain any more.
If wishes could come true and bring you back, the way you were before you become so sick, you would have already been here with me. There is not a day goes by that I don't cry or think of you. But daddy, you are in God's hands now and I hope to meet you again some day. You are not forgotten in my mind and heart.

In loving memory, your daughter, MARGIE BENTLEY 1t.

BSF & CEA Group Holds Annual Meeting Here

Area professionals and members attending the annual meeting of the Big Sandy Family and Childbirth Education Association, Saturday evening, October 17, at Prestonsburg Community College enjoyed a striking display of the organization's educational resources. Video and slide presentations at the close of the meeting complemented posters, charts, books, and pamphlets on subjects ranging from cesarean birth to parenting. After a dessert buffet members heard presentations detailing the accomplishments of the BSF-CEA in its nine years of supporting prenatal and parenting education. The group discussion which followed focused on the BSF-CEA's priorities for the coming year.

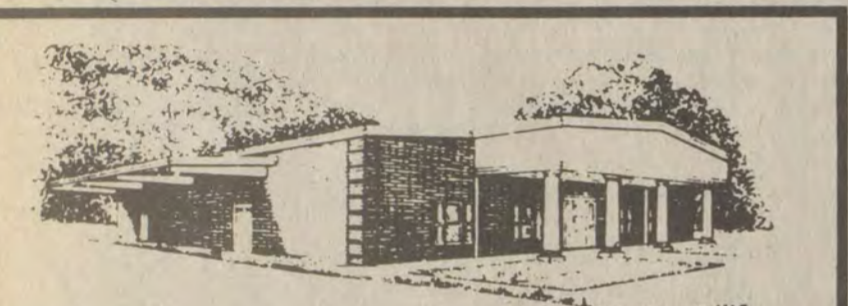

Working toward increased acceptance of support persons at cesarean births emerged as the number one goal for 1987-88. A second priority identified by the group was the need for continued education about and support of breastfeeding. The group agreed that these goals could be met by continuing existing classes and support programs and by making teachers available for additional presentations to nurses and other health care professionals.

The meeting concluded with viewings of the slide presentation "Cesarean: A Special Birth" and the video "Postpartum: A Bittersweet Experience," two recently purchased teaching resources. Both were critiqued by the viewers, who found them to be excellent.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Claude Leslie wishes to express their appreciation to all those who offered their love and support during our time of grief. We extend special thanks to the DAV Chapter 18 of Auxier and to the Christ United Methodist Church of Allen, along with those who sent flowers, food or contributions to the Christ United Methodist Church. To all those who remembered us in our time of sorrow, your thoughtfulness and support will not be forgotten.

One simple decision now can help your family avoid some tough ones later.

No matter how careful you are, life doesn't always go according to your plans. That's why more people are prearranging their funerals with our Sunset Security™ Plan than ever before.

Think about it. Prearrangement makes things easier for both you and your family — because by preplanning a funeral, you can help them avoid difficult decisions at a time of grief. Prearrangement is also a good hedge against inflation, because funeral costs can be taken care of in advance, at today's prices.

It's easy, too! All you have to do is call us, make an appointment to talk about the Sunset Security™ Plan, and we'll help you prepare a free Personal Record Guide. We'll even come out to see you at home! Together we can work out all the details in about an hour. Sunset Security™ It's a small decision that can make a big difference — for you and your family.
